Seniors Guests At Banquet On Friday

The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church was host Friday night at a banquet for the 1953 seniors of Post High School in the men's Bible classroom at the church.

The banquet, which is an annual affair, had for its theme this year, "Christian Education Special."

The Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor of the church, was "engineer," and the Rev. I. D. Walker, pastor of Highland Baptist Church in Lubbock, spoke on "Keeping on the Track."

The program also included "Upward Glance," D. C. Arthur, superintendent of schools; "The Old Line," Mrs. Iven Clary, WMU president; "Steam," John Beron, supervisor; music by Hardin-Simmons University girls' trio, and "Clearing the Track," Rev. Shahan.

Mrs. Iwona H. Mayfield was program director.

The menu of ham, peas, macaroni and cheese, seafood salad, celery, hot rolls, tea and cake was served by junior class girls, with faces blacked and dressed as dining-car waiters.

Band Concert Is Set For Next Thursday

The Post High School Band's annual spring concert will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday night, April 23, in the grade school auditorium, Bob Robbins, director, announced.

The 50-piece band will play its concert pieces and other numbers, according to the director. A program will be released for publication in next week's Dispatch.

Admission will be 50 and 25 cents, with proceeds to be used to defray expenses of a band banquet April 28 to be sponsored by the Band Boosters Club. A meeting of parents of band members will immediately follow next Thursday night's concert.

The band and a number of soloists will compete at Plainview May 1-2 in the Texas Interscholastic League music contests.

City Approves Committee's Plans For Re-Mapping And New Street Markers

A comprehensive plan for re-mapping of the City of Post, including renaming of all but two streets, renumbering of blocks and lots and numbering of houses was approved by the City Commission at a regular meeting Monday night.

A map showing the proposed changes was submitted to Mayor T. L. Jones and Commissioners Roy Baker and E. S. Stewart by T. R. Hibbs, local manager of the Southwestern Public Service Company and chairman of a committee appointed by the city to draw up a map of the proposed changes.

Called a plan to bring "order out of confusion" in block, lot and street designation and house-numbering, the project was originally proposed by the Post Lions Club, which is now considering assisting the city in carrying the program to completion by assuming the responsibility of the house numbering.

With the Main Street and Broadway intersection as the hub, members of the committee have numbered the streets running east and west and used the letters of the alphabet to designate those running north and south—the avenues. Only the names of Main Street and Broadway will remain unchanged.

R. H. Tate, city water superintendent and a member of the mapping committee said the group had brought their work down to such a fine point that duplexes, rear apartments and both street sides of houses on corner lots can be numbered correctly.

Other members of the mapping committee are Victor Hudman, Lions Club president; Dick Wood, manager of the West Texas Gas Company; and Commissioner Stewart.

The city map showing the proposed changes will be subject to approval by Garza County, the State of Texas and the Fire Insurance Commission. Hibbs said. Only a penciled drawing of the map was submitted to the City Commission, but blueprints will be made for submission to the other groups.

The Lubbock city traffic engineer was consulted by members of the mapping committee and passed on their final drawing, it was reported. He said he had assisted in re-mapping of two other cities in this area and that he was favorably impressed with the map drawn up by the Post group.

Mayor Jones said Wednesday that the city is ready to follow through with the re-mapping proposed by the group and that he considers it a real mark of progress.

He has authorized the ordering of street markers, more than 100 of which will be needed.

Members of the Lions Club briefly discussed the house numbering part of the project at their meeting Tuesday night, but deferred action until the blueprints of the proposed changes are available.

In other action at Monday night's meeting Mayor Jones and Commissioners Stewart and Baker were sworn in for new terms by City Attorney Joe S. Moss, and air-conditioning of the upper story of the City Hall was discussed.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO PARTICIPATE IN EVENT

Garnolia Is Play Day Host

With winners already determined in softball and volleyball, the annual Garza County Rural School Play Day will be concluded at the Garnolia School Friday with events in declamation, spelling, ready writing, number sense, choral singing and track field events.

In softball competition, Close City won first, Justiceburg, second, and Graham, third. Close City also won in volleyball, with Garnolia second, and Graham third.

Mrs. J. H. House, principal of the Garnolia School, is director of this year's play day. She said all county rural schools are expected to have full states of entrants at all events Friday.

The play day events are to get under way at 9 a. m.

The rural play day was begun several years ago to afford the county's smaller schools with a competitive event of countywide interest. It has increased in size and interest during the intervening years and has grown into one of the most popular events of the school term.

Students of other rural schools in the county will assist Mrs. House in directing Friday's events. Large numbers of patrons are expected to attend from the various school districts.

Last year's play day was held at the Justiceburg school, with Garnolia compiling 369 points for first place honors. Point scores of other schools were: Graham, 242; Close City, 212; Justiceburg, 153; and Grassburg, competing for the first time, 20.

Points are given first, second and third place winners in individual and group events, with the school compiling the greatest number of points being declared the winner.

New Traffic Signal To Be Of Latest Design; Will Include 16 Lights—Four On Each Side

The new traffic signal light to be installed at the Main Street and Broadway intersection by the Texas Highway Department will be of the latest type, with a total of 16 lights, according to city officials.

There will be four lights on each of the four sides of the signal—two red, one amber and one green. One of the red lights will flash just after the amber (caution) signal to bring all traffic to a complete stop. The other red light will be the regular stop signal.

The new type signal light is designed to eliminate "jumping the gun" by some motorists while the caution light is on.

The city recently made formal request for installation of the new signal light following its approval by the highway department. Recommendation that the new signal be installed was made by the Citizens' Traffic Commission.

The present light at the busy intersection signals only "stop" and "go."

Ruling On Tax Case Appeal Is Expected Soon

A ruling on the appeal of Chief Metcalf and others, of a 195th District Court judgment favoring the Post Independent School District, and others, in a suit for delinquent taxes totaling approximately $150,000 is expected within the next three weeks, County Attorney Pat N. Walker told Post school board members at a special meeting of the school board last week.

The case was argued April 7 in the 7th District Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

The judgment being appealed is a summary one handed down by District Judge Louis B. Reed on Dec. 1, 1952.

Plaintiffs in the suit for delinquent taxes besides the Post school district are Garza County and the Southeast Independent School District. The bulk of the delinquent taxes alleged in the suit are due the Post school district, according to the plaintiff's petition. The total sought by the plaintiffs includes taxes for the year 1951, penalty and interest.

The defendants' contention is that the taxes were arbitrarily assessed and that taxes levied on oil property are greatly in excess of those placed on other property.

Arguing the case for the appellant at the hearing in Amarillo was Carl Maxx of Dallas. See TAX CASE, Page 8

School Census Showing Steady Gain In District

The number of school-age children counted in the 1953 school census in the Post district rose to 986 this week, with the report of 19 new scholastics, Supt. D. C. Arthur said Tuesday.

The new count is 969 whites and 27 Negroes, as compared with 950 whites and 27 Negroes reported last week.

There is a large increase this year in the number of six-year-olds, who will be starting to school for the first time next September. Since these scholastics are the ones most likely to be overlooked in the census, extra efforts are being made to see that all are enumerated, the superintendent said.

F. E. Pierce, visiting teacher for the Post school district, is assisting in the census and during the past few days has been checking county birth records for "leads" on six-year olds.

The superintendent reminds patrons that the State apportions $68 to the school district for each scholastic counted in the census, and that there is a likelihood of this per capita apportionment being increased to $80.

"Anyone knowing of a school-age child who has been overlooked in the census is asked to call it to our attention, either by coming in, telephoning or dropping us a postal card," said the superintendent.

Choir To Compete In Contest At Plainview

Post High School's chapel choir, the "Choralteens," will compete Saturday in the Texas Interscholastic League, Region I, choral contest at Plainview.

The "Choralteens," directed by John Christopher, sang Tuesday of this week in a student assembly at Crosbyton High School.

Plans are to complete the Crusade in the shortest possible time, the chairman said.

Red Cross Bloodmobile To Visit Post On May 13

Ralph Kirkpatrick, appointed Tuesday as chairman of the planning committee for the Red Cross bloodmobile's visit to Post on May 13, has called a meeting of committeemen for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 21, at the City Hall.

Lee Bowen, chairman of the Garza County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced Kirkpatrick's appointment to the chairmanship Tuesday afternoon. At the same time, he announced that the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts will co-sponsor the bloodmobile's visit here.

Jan Fitzsimmons, area Red Cross representative, was here Tuesday assisting Bowen in organization plans and will attend the meeting next Tuesday night.

A minimum of 200 donors and 150 pints of blood has been set for this year's visit of the bloodmobile, which is sent here from the North Texas National Defense Blood Center at Fort Worth. The unit will be in the basement of the First Methodist Church from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

The May 13 visit will be the bloodmobile's second to Post. Last year's program here was termed "highly successful" by local sponsors and Red Cross officials.

Dress Revue To Be Held On April 25

The annual Garza County Dress Revue for 4-H Club girls will be held Saturday, April 25, with presentation of awards scheduled for 8 p. m. in the Post Grade School auditorium, Miss Jessie Pearce, county home demonstration agent, announced.

To be held in conjunction with the dress revue are 4-H Club dairy foods contests, both team and individual, electric demonstrations and public speaking contests.

All awards will be presented at the Saturday night event, to which the public is invited.

Cloud-Seeding Is Assured District

Garza and three other counties, Dawson, Lynn and Borden, are assured cloud-seeding through Sept. 15, following action of directors of the West Texas Weather Improvement District at a meeting in Lamesa Monday night.

Attending the meeting from Garza County were John F. Lott, president of the WTVID board, of which he is also a director, and S. D. Lofton, a director.

Garza Pinning Hopes On Its 'Bee' Winner

Howard Jones, Post eighth grader, will square off with champions from 13 other counties at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the 14-county Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee at O. L. Slaton Junior High School auditorium in Lubbock.

Young Jones, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones, won the Garza County Spelling Bee here March 26.

The bee will be open to the public and also will be broadcast over Radio Station KFYO, with the broadcast continuing as long as the Bee lasts.

Contestants will be vying for the regional title and the right to advance to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C.

Other prizes to be awarded include a plaque to each county champion; $20 prize to second place winner; $15 to third place winner; $10 to fourth place winner; $5 to fifth place winner; a 24 volume set of Encyclopaedia Britannica to first place student; a rotating plaque to remain in possession of the regional champion until next year's champion is determined, and a year's free use of the Britannica film library to the school of the winning student.

James King said a group of Falls Jaycees will be at the meeting to lead the discussion on organization of a Jaycee unit here.

Groundwork for the organization was laid here April 2 at a meeting attended by eight Falls Jaycees and seven Post men.

Thursday to Thursday...

By CHARLES DIDWAY

This is to be one of the biggest weeks of the 1952-53 school year for many Garza County students. The annual Rural School Play Day is to be held at Garnolia on Friday, and the following day, Post High School's chapel choir, the "Choralteens," and their director, John Christopher, will be in Plainview for the Texas Interscholastic League choral contests.

Also on Saturday, Garza County's grade school spelling champion, Howard Jones, Post eighth grade student, will be in Lubbock to compete in the regional Spelling Bee. Incidentally, your columnist also may be in Lubbock, since he is sorely tempted to compete in the adult Spelling Bee after having had his hand called on a crack in this column about modern day methods of teaching spelling in the public schools.

Not that anyone got downright sore about what we had written, but the suggestion was there that we were wrong in our assumption that today's average public school student does not attach as much importance to the value of correct spelling as did the student of a score or so years ago. We contend, however, that we were right and, at the same time, disagree with those who say that the "Words of Champions" book contains words which a grade school student isn't supposed to know how to spell.

Our contention along this line is that a good speller is one who knows how to spell words which he may never have to use. If he knows how to spell only those words which he has diligently studied, he is much like the typist who shows speed only on the practice line, "now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." Even if he never has to use such words as "haleyon," "schizophrenia," "tintinnabulation," etc., he is that much of a better speller by knowing how to spell them.

So, we think we'll enter Saturday's adult Spelling Bee at Lubbock. Not that we think we are unbeatable—we once lost a match by leaving an "l" out of "woolly"—but by entering and making a fairly creditable showing, perhaps we can salvage the feelings of the reader who took slight offense at our mild "stare" at today's method, or lack of method, of teaching spelling.

Only two other men in history have had as much written about them as Abraham Lincoln—Christ and Napoleon. And it's a safe bet that neither one of the three had a press agent.

Point of view means a lot in a person's outlook on life, people, attitudes and impressions. For example:

A traveler nearing a city asked a man what the people were like in the city.

"How were they in the city from which you came?"

"A terrible lot," said the traveler derisively. "You will find them the same in the city ahead."

The first traveler had hardly passed when a second stopped and asked the man about the people he saw in the city ahead. Again the old man said, "How were they in the city from which you have just come?"

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week

To Average Americans, Korean Peace Would Mean Loss Of Overtime and Other Extras

NEW YORK CITY—Readers will be interested in remembering that two weeks ago in this column I stated: "Choreville could be a great factor in bringing the Korean War to an end. Therefore, I still believe that 1953 will see a Korean truce unless one of the satellites kicks over the apple cart."

What A Truce Means

A truce merely means cessation of fighting to ascertain if terms for peace can be arranged, but chances for peace are, of course, greatly enhanced by an armistice. If peace should come in Korea, what would it mean to the average American? Perhaps the most immediately important effect would be the loss of overtime and other extras which have come to be considered as fixed wages. Some families are already frantic, especially those with teen-age children, who claim they will be "disgraced" if the car, or television, or fur coat is taken away from them. During a truce these people, at least, will be cautious about future installment commitments.

Peace in Korea does not mean that our rearmament program will be cut down this year. Already too many families are cutting down on meats, dentists and other expenditures which the neighbors do not know about. This explains the record decline in the sale of some commodities, due, in part, to a fear of Korean Peace.

Business Cycles

It certainly seems as if some manufacturers of products now sold on shaky installments will sometime be headed for trouble. As these goods are taken back and repossessed, the stores where they were purchased may buy fewer electrical appliances, furniture and fur coats. If so, this may cause manufacturers to reduce their employees and hence cause some unemployment. But it is a mistake to get frightened about this now.

Just as prosperity rolls up like a snowball when employment is increasing, the snowball quickly melts when unemployment gets under way. We are now in the first stages, with the cutting off of overtime and perhaps one shift. Deflation has already taken the place of in-

NOT ENOUGH ENTRANTS...

With district competition at an end in speech, literary and athletic contests, Post High School cannot be said to have made an enviable showing. The reason, of course, is that the school had entrants in so few events. Deserving credit for having spent hours of practice and having made good showings in their respective events are the one-act play cast, the girls' volleyball team and the boys' tennis team.

The local high school had no chance to make any kind of a showing in the district literary contests held Friday at Brownfield for the simple reason that no one was entered. The same was true of the district track and field meet held Saturday at Lubbock. Track practice got off to a slow start here because of spring football drills.

The Dispatch is not trying to place blame on anyone, either of the student body or faculty, for the "shortage" of entries from the local high school in most of the district contests. It does, however, wish to call attention to the established fact that a high school makes a good showing by being well represented in interscholastic contests, even if its entrants do not carry off a lion's share of the honors.

In our opinion, a high school that is a bona fide member of an interscholastic district should space its activities to cover all branches of competition instead of concentrating its efforts on one or two of the more popular spectator sports. Circumstances, of course, alter cases, but when they do not, we believe the above policy to be the best for a school in its extra-curricular activities.

On the brighter side, there is still to come the Texas Interscholastic League choral and band contests, in which Post High School WILL be well represented.

SETTING A PRECEDENT...

The extraordinary briefing session called by President Eisenhower for the nation's 48 governors could easily turn out to be one of the wisest moves ever made toward national unity in these troubled times.

The meeting, believed to be the first of its kind, comes at a moment in history when the new regime in Russia is embarked on a "peace offensive." It comes also at a time when the new U. S. administration is struggling with the task of resolving conflicting pressures generated by the free world's defense needs, and the attempts to balance the American budget.

The 48 governors, of course, have their own convention every year, at which time they discuss matters of mutual interest, but their "calling in" for May 4 and 5 by the President sets a precedent—a good one, we believe.

"They were fine, generous people," said the traveler. "I was sorry to leave."

"You will find them the same in the city ahead," replied the old man.

Some Saturday two other groups of Post High School members of Club Scout Park 48 and their adult leaders will board a Santa Fe passenger train shortly after 6:30 a. m. for a trip to Stinson and a day's outing with several hundred other South Plains Cubs and their leaders. Two or three hours later a group of local Legionnaires will leave by automobile for Snyder and the spring convention of the 19th District of the American Legion.

I don't know how popular Mammie's hair style will become, but already a lot of men here in Post have Ike's hair-do.

Someone pointed out to me that girls wear sweaters to accentuate the positive and girdles to eliminate the negative.

Know what a demographer is? That's a fellow who specializes in predicting population trends. He sits back with his pencil and slide rule and tries to figure out how many people will be in a given place at a certain year.

During the past few years, demographers have been having their troubles. Seems that back in the thirties their slide rules got stuck. They were figuring that the United States would achieve its full population growth by 1960... a peak of about 157 million... and then our population would level off and remain pretty much the same for years and years.

Now we're just finding out how wrong the demographers were. Our population figures passed the 157-million estimate last July and there seems to be no limit to how big we can grow. Even the most conservative experts say that by the year 2000 there will be 200 million people in this country. Others place the figure as high as 300 million.

As our population expands it will be up to business in this country to provide more and more products and more and more jobs. We'll need at least 20 per cent more of everything. We'll have to produce five-and-a-half billion pounds more meat than we now produce. We'll need 30 billion pounds more milk, and 15 billion extra eggs.

No one can say how many million more baby carriages, cribs and nursing bottles our American mothers will need. Nor how many new houses and automobiles and radios and television sets and air conditioning systems, trains, airplanes, trucks, household appliances and the millions of other commodities which keep us all in meat and drink.

New horizons beckon. Not only will private initiative be encouraged, it will promise greater rewards because our expanding population has an insatiable appetite for the products of our farms and fields, our mines, timberlands and factories.

The wants of tomorrow cannot be measured by the demands of today.

Is there far more Communistic influence in Hawaii than in any state now in the Union? Should the Bricker Amendment providing that the Constitution super-sede treaties be enacted? Should the Fifth Amendment be changed to require answers if treason is involved? Are McCarthy's present critics more effective than those of former years? Will our country be either lost or saved by the action of a 4% or less minority? Are both Communism and Fascism extreme Leftist movements? Should we respond if called upon to stop Communists in Indo-China? Should U. S. sell China Nationalist six destroyers they need to blockade? Would a 10% cut in income tax rates increase the total tax revenue? Should tariffs be abandoned? Are the large foundations helping preserve freedom? Are Conservatives apt to win in a U. S. Senate vote? Should the end of price and wage controls hurt the wage earner? Should security risks be permitted to retire on government pay? Would you favor Ike now in an election over the probable Democratic nominee?

Something To Think About

Nearly every week some well wishing soul comes to The News office with the suggestion that a certain article certainly deserves a spot on the front page. As a matter of fact one page in the paper is just as good as any other page, but no better. When the time comes that the paper has no more intelligent readers than those who scan the front page, and then throw the paper away, we shall either just print a front page edition, or get out of the business entirely. As a matter of record, many readers tell us that the classified page is the best page in the paper. Others refer to the editorial page. Many have referred to our system of scattered club reports throughout the paper, rather than concentrating them on one page. It is every person according to his own taste of course. Some readers like one feature while others like another kind of material. Let us assure you that the weekly issue of The Canyon News may be best described as a house, and every page is a room in that house. We try to have every page well furnished, well lighted... the kind of room you like to stay in and look around. The first page is a front porch or the front room. In short, it is the introduction to the rest of the house. Through it you move to the living room, the dining room, the kitchen... where people spend most of the time. Sometimes some friend will say, "My item didn't make the front page." What of it? Most likely it was on one of the "living room pages" with the folks. That's a good place to be too!—The Canyon News.

Robert Kirk of Littlefield, commander of the 19th District, will preside, and his successor for a two-year term will be chosen at the business session Sunday afternoon.

Ray Niedecken, commander of the American Legion post here, has with a strong group of local Legionnaire committeemen, arranged an outstanding program for Legionnaires and their ladies from the 19th Congressional District. Registration will begin Saturday morning.

A color guard contest will be held at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the post in the district that wins will be presented a set of district colors. High school bands from the district have been invited to attend and will march in a parade with floats from local civic organizations.

Social highlight of the convention will be a dance Saturday evening given by the Snyder Legionnaires in honor of visiting Legionnaires and Auxiliary members.

Sunday morning a joint session of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be held and Department Adjutant Moody will be the principal speaker. A memorial service for the war dead will be held at 11 o'clock and will be in charge of Fred Young of Lubbock, attorney for the Veterans Administration Regional Office at Lubbock.

Following luncheon, the American Legion and Auxiliary will go into separate business sessions. A large attendance from every post in the district is anticipated by Commander Kirk to enjoy the hospitality of Snyder Legionnaires and citizens.

Cotton Producers Are Asked To Study Present Situation Before Planting

Cotton supplies have now reached the point where, if another large crop is produced in 1953, the carry-over could further depress markets and bring back control programs. Garza County cotton producers are, therefore, being urged to study the present situation and plant in accordance with the expected demands for their product.

It appears now, says J. D. Prewitt, associate director for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, that the demand for raw cotton in the United States this season and next will be only slightly less than used last season, however, exports are expected to drop at least 1 1/2 million bales below last season and maybe even lower next season. The carry-over on August 1, 1953, is expected to be, says Prewitt, about 4.3 million bales, which will be 1.5 million bales or 55 percent more cotton than was on hand a year earlier.

Cotton advisory groups have met with Secretary of Agriculture Benson and after careful study and consideration of all factors, the Secretary has asked the nation's cotton producers to make an 18 percent reduction in their 1953 plantings as compared with those for last year.

This reduced acreage should produce between 12 and 12.5 million bales of cotton. Such a crop would meet the estimated domestic and export demands and leave enough surplus to take care of the reserve needs, points out Prewitt.

Prewitt advises Texas cotton producers to think in terms of balancing cotton with other farm crops and pastures. He points out that under the 7-step cotton program, fitting cotton into a balanced farming program is the first recommended step in making production of the fleecy staple more profitable. The present situation, he explains, calls for this balance.

Unusually heavy demands for feed caused primarily by the drought and to some extent by increased livestock numbers, has reduced the amount of feeds and forages to a very low level and the acres left out of cotton this year could be profitably used, says Prewitt, for producing grain and forage for rebuilding the supply of these needed feeds.

Consideration, he adds, should also be given to increased plantings of soil improving crops in the areas where spring and summer planted legumes are adapted. Temporary pastures for livestock or for the production of hay crops might also be used on the diverted acres.

It all adds up, says Prewitt, to this fact: The nation needs only 12 to 12.5 million bales of cotton this year and the shift to other crops will pay in two ways. A smaller 1953 national crop should bring in more net profit and the grain, forage or soil improving crops grown on the diverted acres will help rebuild depleted feed supplies and the soil building crops will aid in keeping future production high.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. J. R. Davis Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Carter of Brownfield.

Commuter Lives In Louisville And Works In New York

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Theodore E. Mueller may not be the nation's No. 1 commuter, but he surely must have a pretty good claim.

"I've traveled more than 3 million miles on the Pennsylvania Railroad alone," Mueller says, "and I don't know how many on other lines." Mueller is president of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp., which has 46 plants throughout the world. He works in Pittsburgh and New York and lives in Louisville, Ky.

A native of Louisville, Mueller went to work for American Radiator in 1904 as an apprentice pattern maker. He became head of the big concern in 1946.

Why doesn't he move to Pittsburgh? Simply because he does not think any home could match his 400-acre Louisville property.

Aerial Spraying Of Mesquite Results Are Generally Good

Aerial spraying, said to be the most popular and practical method for application of chemicals to mesquite-infested Texas rangeland, was carried out on approximately 6,880 acres in Garza County under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to a recent report by Mike E. Custer, secretary of the county Production Marketing Administration.

Payments of $12,040.98 were earned on 27 ranches on which the ACP practice was carried out, according to the report.

During the past two years about a million acres of mesquite-infested Texas rangeland has been sprayed with chemicals. According to A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, results have generally been good.

Recent research findings at the Spur Experiment Station shows that one-half to two-thirds of a pound of low volatile ester 2,4,5-T applied in an emulsion of one gallon of diesel or fuel oil and three gallons of water will give good results. This, says Walker, is a reduction in the amount of the recommended chemical and should cut the per acre application cost.

The condition of the mesquite growth at the time the spray is applied has a strong bearing upon the final results, says the specialist. Generally, he says, the proper time for making the chemical application is from seven to eleven weeks—50 to 60 days—after the mesquite leaves out in the spring. Best kills, he explains, are obtained when soil moisture is good and the mesquites are making a lush growth.

Walker advises against spraying when soil and growth conditions are unfavorable but points out, if a good rain falls during the period recommended for spraying, that a wait of 20 days after the rain will greatly increase the chances for a better kill. This additional time will give the new immature leaves a chance to become fully developed and this in turn means a higher root kill from the spray.

Walker has repeatedly pointed out chemical applications will give control but not eradication of mesquites. Sprayed areas should not be over-grazed and if possible, should be deferred or rested from spraying time until fall. This will give the grass plants a chance to make a seed crop and increase in vigor, says Walker.

Results of other research done by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that post and blackjack oaks may be controlled by spraying. Walker says only trial sprayings are being recommended at this time and aids the ranch operator should figure on increased forage production rather than a complete kill as far-deciding factor in whether to spray.

For spraying sapling oak trees under six feet high, Walker says, one pound of low volatile ester 2,4,5-T applied as an emulsion in three gallons of water and one gallon of diesel or fuel oil is sufficient to treat an acre. For

Judges Selected For Band Contests At Plainview; Post Group Entered

Judges have been selected for the instrumental music contest for Texas Interscholastic League, Region 1, which is to be held in Plainview at the high school auditorium on Saturday, May 2.

The Post High School band, directed by Bob Robbins, and a number of soloists from the band are to compete in the contests.

Judges for the contests for the band concert division will be Col. Earl D. Irons, director of the band and head of the music department at North Texas Agricultural College, Arlington, and R. A. Dossche and Pat Arsets, band directors of high schools in San Antonio.

In sight reading judges are to be Leonard H. Houg from the music department at the University of Oklahoma in Norman. The reed section will be judged by Ralph Mills of Midland and Bill Dean of Odessa. M. J. Newman of West Texas State College, Canyon, and J. W. King, Jr., of Big Spring will be the judges for the brass contest. Twirling and drums will be judged by R. R. Woodward of Decatur.

Plainview was selected as location for the contest because of its proximity to all the schools included in Region 1, and because of the facilities available there. The auditorium is spacious enough to accommodate all the groups, since it seats over 1,300. The stage in the auditorium is large enough to seat the bands without difficulty.

Spell petrochemical the easy way...

P-R-O-G-R-E-S-S

Progress in finding and producing oil is an old story to the oil country. Nearly everybody has heard about the oil industry's day-to-day miracles in exploration and production.

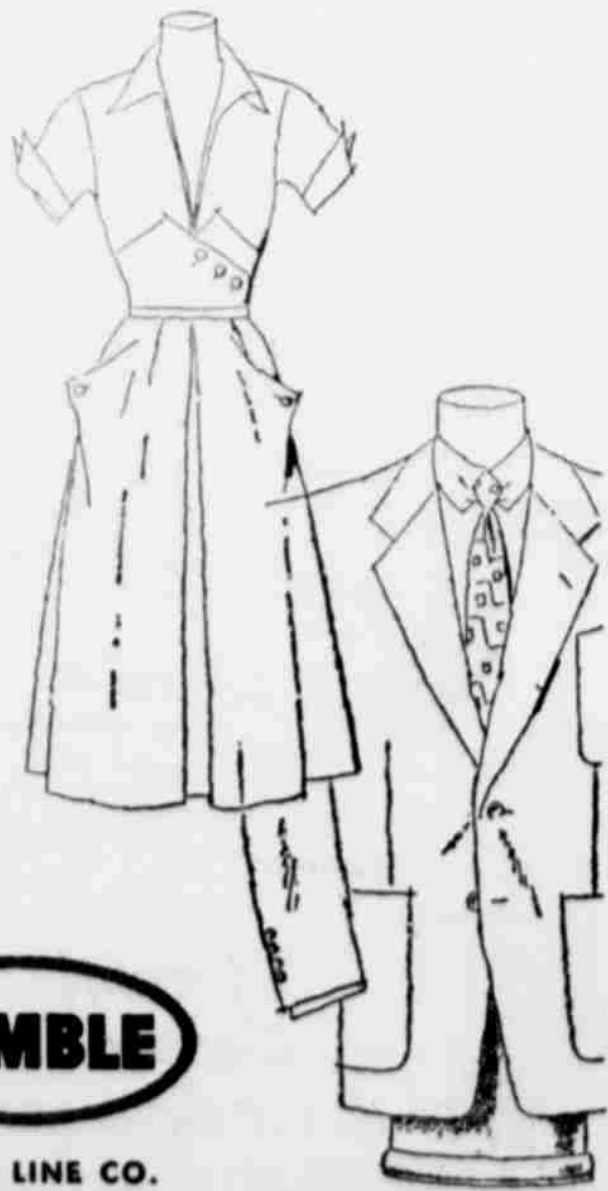

Now we all have a new series of miracles to wonder at—the transformation of petroleum hydrocarbons into chemical products of astonishing variety. These chemicals from petroleum have even added a new word to the American vocabulary—petrochemical.

Progress in the field has been amazing. The capital investment in new industries based on the petrochemicals has mounted to hundreds of millions. The new plants have created thousands of new jobs. And petrochemicals, as an industry, have provided a wider, a more complete, use of the country's oil resources.

Butadiene and butyl for synthetic rubber, toluene for TNT, solvents, aldehydes, and many other petrochemicals—even alcohols—are now produced in oil refineries. For example, the Humble Company, at its Baytown, Texas, refinery, is building facilities to manufacture paraxylene, the raw material for the new fabric called dacron.

The day may come, and very quickly, when you can be clothed from tip to toe in synthetic fabrics derived from petroleum; when petrochemicals provide the rubber for your tires, the plastics for your car's interior fittings, the fabric for the seat covers, the vehicle for body paint and polish.

The petrochemicals spell progress... progress to which the oil industry contributes research, capital, manufacturing facilities and, most importantly, an enterprising spirit.

Reasons Given For Requests To Reduce Cotton Production

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of a series of articles on the situation facing cotton producers in 1953 and the immediate years ahead. The information is being presented by the Extension Service at the request of the Secretary of Agriculture. The aim of the Extension Service is to keep the facts and situation before the producers so they can make their own decisions.)

I am sure you have read in the newspapers or heard over the radio that the Secretary of Agriculture is asking cotton farmers to produce about 12 to 12½ million bales of cotton in 1953.

Why is he asking for a reduction from the 15 million bale crops of 1951 and 1952?

1. The 15 million bale crops of the last two years have supplied our domestic and export markets and in addition have re-built reserves (carryover) from a very low 2 million bales to over 4 million bales.

2. Although our domestic needs for cotton have stabilized at about 9½ million bales, export markets have declined sharply in the last 12 to 18 months so that likely no more than 4 million bales will be exported during the 1952-53 marketing year.

3. These two factors of production and disappearance of cotton have acted to reduce prices by 25 per cent or more. It is felt that a smaller 1953 crop will strengthen cotton prices to farmers.

4. A 1953 crop much in excess of 12½ million bales would almost certainly have a further depressing effect on cotton prices and bring on production controls in 1954 and thereafter. Most cotton farmers do not want to see these results of a large 1953 crop.

What does the Secretary suggest?

1. It is suggested that cotton farmers as a whole plant less than five acres for each six planted in 1952. Some farmers will need to reduce more than the average if the acreage reduction is achieved. It is known that because of unfavorable weather and moisture conditions cotton was not planted or a low acreage was planted on some farms in 1952.

Opening Set For Levelland Hotel

LEVELLAND, April 16 (Sp.)—Levelland residents today were setting the stage for the grand opening of the city's new ultra-modern Hotel Cal Boykin on April 25.

The opening of the two-story, forty-room structure will mark the culmination of community-wide work and planning which has extended over a period of more than four years. The building represents an investment of almost $300,000.

Open house will be held from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. after ribbon-cutting ceremonies are completed. A banquet session, with outstanding speakers and a variety of entertainment, will follow in the evening.

The building of modern design, besides 39 guest rooms reached through a panel glass entranceway, will have a banquet hall seating 225 persons and a modern kitchen and coffee shop to be operated by local restaurateur, Wayne Lewis.

The front of the building, including the coffee shop designed with an attractive stair-step window, is finished in red Roman brick with an overhanging stainless steel awning. The remainder of the building is finished in cream face brick with Roman trim.

Sixteen more rooms may be added to the building without any basic structural changes.

The hotel will be operated by Cal Boykin, who also operates hotels in Midland and Portales. V. J. Hatfield of Amarillo will serve as hotel manager.

Mrs. Charles Didway and sons, Walter and Curtis, of Levelland, spent the weekend here with Charles Didway.

Baseball 'Workout' Set For Thursday

Post will field a baseball team this summer if present plans of a group of players and fans materialize.

Organization of a team has already begun and the first workout is scheduled for Thursday afternoon of this week at the Postex Mill diamond. A game has been tentatively scheduled for Sunday week.

A spokesman for the group said anyone wishing to try out for the team is invited to attend Thursday afternoon's practice session.

Among those who have already indicated interest in fielding a team this year are: Shorty Hester, Louis Mills, Rex King, Prod Williams, Bill Shepherd, Jess Cornell, W. B. Holland, Billy Ramage and Oscar Garner.

To Issue No Excuses For Rural Play Day

Under no circumstances will students of the Post schools be excused to attend the Rural School Play Day at Garnolia Friday, C. D. Lee, high school principal, announced Tuesday.

The principal said that in past years, local students have stayed away from school to attend the play days, but that they did so without official excuses from school officials.

Lee explained that directors of the events, which are for rural school students only, have their hands full during the day with students of the schools participating, and that attendance by groups of non-participating students makes their task a more difficult one.

Post Netters Lose In Conference Playoffs

Post High School's boys' tennis representatives were eliminated early in the Conference 4-A meet at Lubbock Saturday.

Norman Johnson, playing in the singles division, survived the first round by virtue of a bye, but lost to the Slaton entrant in the second round.

The Post doubles combination of Darrell Stone and Pete Hays lost to Tahoka's doubles team in a first round match.

Juniors Present Play In School Assembly

"High School Daze," a one-act comedy, was presented by the Junior class in a Post High School assembly Friday.

Members of the cast were: Velta Carpenter, Joy Martin, Gayle Askins, Charles Chandler, Natalie Tracy, Larry Waldrip, J. C. Shedd and Tommie Williams, announcer.

Girls' Volleyball Team Third In Conference 4-A Playoffs

Post and Tahoka girls' volleyball teams of the south half of Conference 4-A finished third and fourth, respectively, to Levelland and Morton at Levelland Saturday in the playoffs to decide the conference championship.

Levelland defeated Tahoka and Morton downed Post in first round matches. The host Lobos team then won over Morton, 15-6, 15-13, to repeat as conference champions.

Couch N. R. King's Post girls, who were runners-up to Levelland last year, won third place by downing Tahoka, 11-0, 16-15. The match in which Post lost to Morton was close. The local girls won 15-10, then lost 9-15, 14-16.

Earlier in the week, Post had won the south half playoffs at Tahoka by defeating both Tahoka and Slaton. Tahoka then drubbed Slaton to qualify as runner-up for the conference playoffs at Levelland.

Competing on the Post team were Deanie Hill, Mary Jo Williams, Woody Stewart, Pearl Craig, De Elva Lofton, Tommie Williams, Joy Martin, Jeanette Storie, Wyvonne Morris, Velta Carpenter, Frances Craig and Arleta Gary.

According to Coach King, the conference playoffs did not end the season for 4-A girls teams, since an all-district play day is scheduled to be held at Levelland between now and the end of the school year under the direction of Miss Gweneth Liles, Levelland High School physical education instructor.

Coach King said all-day competition will be held in volleyball, basketball, softball and track and field and that he hopes to have entrants from Post in all events. High school girls interested in competing in any of the contests are asked to contact Coach King.

The purpose of the Levelland play day, according to the local coach, will be to interest more girls in such sports as those to be staged during the event, particularly in track and field events, which will include sprints, relays, field events, etc.

Coach King was directing practice sessions for the volleyball team Monday afternoon and said drills would begin soon on other athletic events scheduled for the play day, if sufficient interest is shown.

Post's Junior High Track And Field Teams Make Good Showing At Slaton

Post's eighth and ninth grade track and field teams, with only one week of practice behind them, made surprising showings Friday in a junior high school meet at Slaton.

Post ninth graders scored 22½ points to 37 for Tahoka and 36½ for Slaton. The local eighth graders didn't do so well, but managed to tally 9-3-4 points to Tahoka's 8½ and Slaton's 52-3-4.

It was the first time for any of the Post youngsters to compete in a track and field meet, according to Coach V. F. "Bing" Bingham.

Norman Washburn of Post won the ninth grade broad jump with a leap of 16½ feet. He finished second in the 100-yard dash, third in the 220-yard dash and third in the 440-yard dash.

Other point winners for Post in the ninth grade meet were Harold Gordon, fourth in the 100-yard dash and fourth in the 220-yard dash; Tommy Murry, first in the high jump (4 ft. 10 in.); Ernie Popham, second, and Keys, fourth in the high jump. The relay team won third.

Raymond Gary, Post eighth grader, tied with Stewart of Slaton for first place in the 100-yard dash, clocked at 11.4 seconds. Gary finished third in the broad jump and tied for third in the high jump. Noel White was second in the high jump, fourth in the broad jump, and fourth in the discus throw. The 440-yard relay team finished third.

"On the basis of these boys' performances this season, we should have a fair track team next year and a 'good' one the following year," Bingham said.

Safety Award Winner Says His Closest Brush With Disaster Came In Airplane

Oscar Garner, who recently received an award from the Texas Safety Association for 23 accident-free years of commercial driving, says none of his narrow escapes on the highway equals the brush with death he once had while piloting an airplane.

Garner, owner of the O. C. Garner Appliance Company here, said he quit flying not long after making a forced landing near Spur in 1943. His plane, forced down by a broken propeller onto a railroad track, but he escaped without a scratch.

Garner said the "closest shave" he's had in his many years of driving trucks came last January while he was pulling a big transport just out of Ballinger. As was the case in his near plane accident, Garner also quit after this close one, but not for the same reasons. It just happened to occur near the "end of the line" of his driving activities.

"I logged a hill at a 90-mile clip, a headlight beam hit me square in the eye from the left, or my side of the road," he recalled. "I had to take to the other side of the highway to get away and was well past the parked car when I ground my truck to a halt. I went back and found a Negro in an old model car which he had been trying to drive up the hill with one tire off."

"After warning him against such folly and painting him a word picture of what would have happened if my butane truck had hit his car, I took him back into Ballinger to get someone to help him with his stalled automobile."

Garner said he started commercial driving in South Texas in the late 1930's, hauling gravel in a Model T truck, and later transported gasoline from the east Texas oil fields into the Austin area. He has been in the butane and appliance business here for the past nine years.

Although Garner was singled out for the safety award, he said he wished to give credit to the

Homemaking Student Impressed Trip To Lubbock Utilities Office

Note: The following by Mary Jo Williams, home economics student at High School, describes her trip by homemaking instructor, Mrs. ... to the Southwestern Public Service Company office in Lubbock. Mary Jo's theme received an "A" grade from the homemaking teacher.)
F. H. A. TRIP
By MARY JO WILLIAMS
The things I liked best at the demonstration of electrical appliances in Lubbock were the two modern kitchens and all the extras.

The color schemes were of beautiful origin, but in my own kitchen I would like to have a white trimmed in red. The way the kitchen appliances were arranged were of unique design and would save extreme time and walking space.
The little cabinet next to the electric range and the working table on the other side were a convenience that any woman would be proud to have in her kitchen. Double sinks like the ones illustrated were more convenient than the old time single sink because you can wash your dishes or whatever you're washing in one side and rinse in the other. The moable water hydrant was nice going with the double sinks.
The dish washer was in an easy reach of the double sinks and this makes things easier washing dishes. The washing machine, dryer, and iron are all in a wonderful position because you save time, energy and patience in transferring clothes from the washer to the dryer. Then if you are just washing a few things you can press your linens while others are drying.
The deep freeze was an accommodation that few housewives have the privilege of enjoying.
The little kitchen was of a very cute design. For people who cannot afford a large home, it would serve them without anything further to be desired. The little electric hot plate was very nice and the very thing for a small kitchen, and homemaking lab. The garbage disposal was very nice and it saved a lot of time and trouble. Also the little sink would serve its purpose as well in the kitchen as the big sink would in the larger kitchen.
I enjoyed my trip to Lubbock immensely. The food we were served was very good and in all, the trip left nothing further to be desired.

Walker (above) were among the guests at the "Christian Education Special" banquet given Friday night by members of the Women's Missionary Union in honor of the Post High School senior class. Rev. Walker, who is pastor of the Highland Baptist Church in Lubbock, spoke on the subject, "Keeping on the Track."—(Post Dispatch Photo).

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bevers and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Carmichael visited Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Bevers and family at Hackberry Wednesday. They also visited the Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Reed at Garnolia.
