AMERICAN FLIERS ARRIVE IN LABRADOR

U. S. Warships Rushed to Shanghai to Protect Americans From Attack

GUNBOAT AND 3 DESTROYERS ORDERED ABROAD

Opposing Chinese Forces Fail To Agree Upon Armistice

FOREIGN POWERS ACT

Name Commander For War Vessels Now In Harbor

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Three destroyers have been ordered to Shanghai and the gunboat Sacramento to Amoy, China, as a precautionary measure, by Admiral Thomas Washington, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet.

CHINESE LEADERS FAIL TO STOP WAR.

By The Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 31.—Conferences among leaders of the opposing Chinese factions had failed today to affect an armistice. Commercial and financial interests of Shanghai were endeavoring to induce both sides to agree to designate a neutral zone surrounding Shanghai, to be immune from military operations.

Troop concentration in the Quainsin and Soo Chow district is continuing and in the inrush of refugees to Shanghai goes on increasingly.

Rear Admiral David Murray Anderson, commander of the British patrol, has been designated commander of all foreign war craft in Shanghai harbor. They number ten.

Woo Sung, a suburb of Shanghai, and the vicinity of the basin at the mouth of the Yangtsee river, were undisturbed today, although the Chinese gunboats serving the Chekiang forces were despatched to Liuhu, where the Nanking fleet expected an attack by the supported Fukien naval forces.

Kiangsu troops are covering a line stretching through Soo Chow, Liuhu, Bingwan Yhansi and Quainsin.

Rear Admiral Charles B. McVay, commanding the American Asiatic squadron, said he was not ordering any more warcraft to Shanghai. He considered the foreign fleet now assembled adequate to deal with the situation.

WHEELER LEAVES FOR CAMPAIGN IN EAST

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Senator Wheeler, of Montana, left Washington tonight for Boston, where at a noon rally tomorrow on the famous Common, he will launch his campaign as the vice-presidential candidate on the LaFollette ticket. Later in the day he plans to discuss campaign issues in a radio address and tomorrow night will deliver a speech in Worchester, Mass.

During the week Mr. Wheeler expects to make an appeal for votes in Portland, Maine; Manchester, N. H.; Province, R. I.; New Haven, Conn., and other New England cities, delivering three or more addresses a day as he swings through five of the New England states.

GERMANY WILL PAY BIG SUM TOMORROW

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Owen D. Young, of New York, agent general for reparations payments, has informed the German treasury that his office will be prepared on Tuesday to receive the first 20,000,000 gold marks as called for under the London agreement. Mr. Young's office will be opened in Berlin tomorrow, although he himself will not leave Paris until Wednesday.

Coolidge To Deliver Short Labor Day Talk

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—President Coolidge will receive a delegation of labor representatives at the White House tomorrow and will briefly address his Labor Day callers.

The meeting, White House officials said today, was arranged on short notice at the request of the prospective visitors, all of whose names, it was added, are not known.

THE WEATHER

OKLAHOMA: Monday unsettled, probably local thundershowers; Tuesday partly cloudy.

EAST AND WEST TEXAS: Monday and Tuesday partly cloudy, with scattered thundershowers.

STORM WARNING

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31. — The weather bureau today issued the following advisory storm warning:

"Tropical storms by winds, hurricane force, central about 150 miles northeast Turks Islands, moving northwestward about 10 miles an hour. The storm center will probably reach seventy fifth meridian Tuesday. Caution—advise all vessels bound for regions east of Bahamas."

HIS DAY.

WICHITA TAKES HOLIDAY TODAY

Labor Day Picnic At Scotland Park Will Be Big Feature

This Monday is Labor day and all stores, the banks, the majority of the offices at the court house and other establishments in the city will grant a one-day holiday to their employes. The city council will hold session Monday night, the newspapers and undertakers will have no rest, but with these and a few more exceptions the business of Wichita Falls will halt for one day.

Labor Unions Picnic

Scotland Park will attract a large number of the citizens. Several hundred persons representing 33 trade unions of the city will assemble at the park and hold an all-day picnic. The merchants have been invited to also attend the picnic which is being given by the organized labor of Wichita Falls.

A basket dinner will be served at the park and all the families have been urged to brink a basket full of food to the picnic.

Parade Abandoned

It was decided to discontinue the float parade this year, due to the large cost and the rush that the merchants are undergoing prior to fall shopping. At a recent meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association it was voted to have all the stores closed for the one day.

A large number of member of Faith Lodge will assemble at the Municipal Golf club Monday afternoon and evening and enjoy a program and a basket supper.

Many families will be out of the city attending the district convention of the Kiwanians at Lawton, Oklahoma. It is thought that approximately 60 local men, many with their families, will be in Lawton on Labor Day.

TEXAS AUTHOR FORMS PUBLISHING CONCERN

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 30.—The future writings of a Texas author are contracted to a corporation as part payment of its capital stock, in the first charter of its kind ever granted in Texas. Charter of the Texas Historical Publishing Co., of Houston accepts the copyright and manuscrip of numerous historical works by Sam Houston Dixon, together with his agreement to deliver all his writings for ten years to the corporation, as $60,000 toward the total capital stock of $100,000. Included in the transfer are copyrights to "Romance and Tragedy of Texas History," "The Men Who Made Texas Free," and manuscript of several other completed works, including "The Gazetteer and Guide of Texas." Incorporators with the author are S Hayne Dixon and J. Elmer Sieber.

LANING DIES IN ST. LOUIS

Local Oil Operator Is Taken By Death After Operation

R. A. Laning, one of the oldest and best known of Wichita Falls oil operators, died yesterday morning at 6:30 at St. Johns hospital in St. Louis, following an operation for appendicitis in which peritonitis had set in.

The body was removed to Terra Haute, Indiana, last night where funeral arrangements are being withheld pending the arrival overland from St. Louis of Mrs. Laning, and of Dave Monniger, partner of the deceased man.

Mr. Laning has been prominently connected with oil development of the Wichita district for the last several years, and with his partner, Dave Monniger, held extensive interests in Archer county, Burkburnett, south Electra field, and in the Panhandle.

Unknown Persons Fire On Non-Union Miners

By The Associated Press.

WILBURTON, Okla., Aug. 31. — Unknown persons fired upon guards at the Kali-Inla coal mine at Cambria, near here, last night, but none of the men were injured, according to a report to Sheriff Parr. The Kali-Inla mine which has been closed several months, was reopened Friday with non-union miners.

GUARDSMEN ORDERED OUT.

McALISTER, Okla., Aug. 31. — Eight infantrymen and an officer of the Oklahoma national guard left here this afternoon for Cambria, a mining setlement in Latimer county.

The detachment from the headquarters company of the 180th infantry in charge of Captain Stanley Niswander, received its orders from Adjutant General Baird H. Markham, who has gone to Cambria, it was said.

RUMORS ROCK BLOODY HERRIN AFTER BATTLE

Flaming Cross Sends Out Call to Klansmen But Few Appear

RESIDENTS TERRIFIED

Believe Members of Hooded Order Mobilizing For Fatal Attack

BULLETIN.

By The Associated Press.

HARRISBURGH, Illinois, Aug. 31.—Nine men, all alleged members of the ku klux klan, were brought to the Salina county jail this evening from Herrin where they had been arrested on charges of murder in connection with yesterday's disturbances there during which six men were killed and another probably fatally wounded.

They are: John Smith, owner of the garage, where yesterday's shooting started; Harold Crain, a Herrin policeman; Charles Benham. Harry Herrin, said to have been injured yesterday; Thomas Thornton, Sam Childress, Clarence Wyatt, John Whiteside, former crony of S. Glenn Young, and garage owner of Marion; Gordon Smith; Carl Nelson, head of the Herrin ku klux klan, and John Crompton.

By The Associated Press.

HERRIN, Ill., Aug. 31.—Although dusk ended an uneventful and quiet Sabbath, coming of night brought unrest to Herrin and Williamson county.

Rumors of the gathering of ku klux klansmen throughout the county were rife but hard to confirm. The only definite information having come from Hurst, seven miles west of here.

Few Drawn by Cross

A huge fiery cross was planted in a field there surrounded by what was said to be klan paraphernalia. There was a noticeable absence of klansmen, however, but the field was surrounded by scattered groups of apparently interested farmers.

Teh militia paid no heed to the rumors and took no unusual precautions.

Adjutant General Carlos E. Black, who motored here from Springfield tonight said he expected no further outbreak and hoped to have the troops out of the county by Thursday.

List of Dead Unchanged

The list of dead as the result of yesterday's shooting affray still remains at six. Herman Phemister, at first thought to have been fatally wounded and given up for dead, regained consciousness this afternoon and now the attending physicians hold some hope for his recovery. Residents here are plainly worried over what the night may bring.

Previously, and until S. Glenn Young, paid klan raider and leader left these parts, the ku klux klan, residents say, were in control of the county. Lately, however, the control has switched to the anti-klansmen. And yesterday the antis scored heavily when three alleged klansmen were killed and only one anti died.

Believe Klan Mobilizing

Residents do not hesitate to believe that the klansmen are mobilizing as they are of the opinion that the klansmen will make a spirited effort to get revenge.

Herrin is not without law enforcement, however, though split by factional disputes between the klan and anti-klan government exists, but it is of dual nature.

A divided vote of mayor and the city aldermen has brought into existence two sets of police to patrol the streets.

The incumbent chief of police is Harry Walker, an acknowledged klansman and performs his duties from his guarded office in the city hall, John Ford, also chief of police, has voluntarily withdrawn from the execution of that office, though he still stoutly maintains his right to the office.

Pocketknife Proves no Defense For Bullfighter at Nocona; Gored

NOCONA, Aug. 31.—In an encounter with a Jersey bull the frist of the week, Joe Stephens a farmer residing near here, came out second best.

While Stephens was walking and driving the animal, it suddenly turned, knocking him down and began to use him in a very rough way for a few minutes. Seemingly tired, the bull rested a while. Again he attacked Stephens and pummeled him a while longer, again resting. At the second rest, Stephens accepted this opportunity of getting away from the beast.

In the struggle, Stephens was pierced in the foot with a horn and very badly bruised all over the body. He had no weapon for defence except a pocket knife—but failed to get it in action.

It's Anybody's Fight for Control of State Convention, Observers at Capital Predict on Eve of Meeting

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 31.—Control of the democratic state convention here Tuesday will be in the hands of the Ferguson element by from 100 to 125 votes, James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor, announced upon his arrival here tonight. Mr. Ferguson is a delegate to the convention. His wife is expected to arrive tomorrow.

Klan Also Claims Control

The all-important question of who will control the meeting is still in the realm of speculation. While former Governor Ferguson states his estimates are based on conservative reports from almost all of the counties in the state, members of the ku klux klan, whose candidate, Judge Felix D. Robertson, of Dallas was defeated in the run-off primary, maintain they will be control of the convention with 50 to 100 votes to spare. A number of acknowledged leaders in the party, several whom hold official positions, verified the Ferguson figures. When all the opinions and prognostications have been boiled down, it appears here tonight it is for the present anybody's fight.

"In these democratic days, it certainly would be unusual to thwart the will of the democracy of Texas," said Mr. Ferguson. "The vote in the primary was so decisive, with Mrs. Ferguson receiving 100,000 majority, that it is hardly likely any steps will be taken to defeat that mandate of the people.

Doesn't Expect Fight

"I do not look for any fight in the convention. I believe it will be harmonious. We will control by about 100 to 125 votes. This is a conservative estimate based on actual reports from all over the state."

The state executive committee, of which Frank C. Davis of San Antonio is chairman, meets tomorrow at 10 o'clock to canvass the returns and arrange for a temporary organization for the convention. Mr. Davis said the committee is meeting some difficulties in obtaining official returns from the counties, not more than 150 having been received up to tonight. A sub-committee probably will be appointed to make a complete canvass of the vote later, he said.

Protests Nomination

Mr. Davis had in his pocket a petition from Charles H. Dickerson of San Antonio asking that Mrs. Ferguson be declared ineligible to hold the governorship, because she is a woman. The petition will be considered by the committee tomorrow, Mr. Davis said.

"We are bound to consider any petition that comes before us as a matter of courtesy," he declared. "We probably will advise Mr. Dickerson what we believe can be done."

A larger percentage of committee members is expected than ever has attended an executive committee meeting because of the interest in the pending conflicts.

Austin began to take on a convention aspect tonight. Many delegates were arriving, expecting to spend labor day in the city viewing the sights if convention business does not occupy their time. Many state rangers are strolling along Congress avenue with a sharp eye out for liquor law violations and the city seems to be as dry as Governor Neff announced he intended to make it.

The convention proper is scheduled to open at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the senate chamber at the state capitol. A number of counties failed to hold conventions to elect delegates after the first primary, as a result of which it is estimated about 30 counties will be without representation.

GASOLINE BLAST KILLS LOCAL MAN

Explosion of Tank Car Results Fatally To J. W. Cromeans

J. W. Cromeans, 52, died at the general hospital yesterday afternoon at four o'clock as a result of injuries and burns received in a gasoline explosion at the plant of the Lone Star Tank Car company north of the city at 5:30 yesterday morning. It is not known what caused the explosion, Cromeans, in company with his brother, having been employed in cleaning out a tank car with gasoline. Both had emerged from the car when the gasoline on the inside of the car became ignited in some manner and the explosion resulted.

Both men were thrown from the car to the ground and J. W. Cromeans seriously burned all over his body. An ambulance was called and the burned man rushed to the general hospital where he died.

The body was turned over to the Hines Undertaking company to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements had not been made last night.

Mr. Cromeans was survived by his wife, Mattie Cromeans, 100 West 3rd street, and nine children, six of whom live in Wichita Falls. The names of the children follow: Joe Cromeans, Mrs. Robert James, Mary Cromeans, Mrs. Lora Ashley, two little boys, Cepeth and J. T., Martha Tayor, Douglas, Arizona; Andrew Cromeans, Big Lake, Texas; Mrs. Halley Smith, Goose Creek, Texas.

Prince Spends His First Sunday In Polo and Driving

By The Associated Press.

SYOSSETTE, N. Y., Aug. 31. — The Prince of Wales today passed the first day of his vacation on Long Island in the manner he liked best, that of an English gentleman on a very active holiday. He practiced on the polo grounds for nearly two hours, exercising all of the eight ponies he brought across, and then took a long motor tour of this section of the island.

He expects to take part in a scratch game of polo tomorrow morning, to attend a luncheon party in the afternoon and perhaps to run over to Belmont Park to see Epimard's race against a field of American crack horses, but the exact program, beyond the luncheon, is wholly subject to the last minute whims of his somewhat capricious royal will. When asked on the polo field today what his plans for the remainder of the day were, the future Edward VIII, smiled and replied:

"I have no program. Isn't that nice?"

Bryan Opens Campaign In Northwest Today

By The Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Aug. 31.—With the re-establishment of an acquaintance begun in the early nineties with Charles G. Dawes, his republican opponent, fresh in his mind, Governor Bryan, the democratic nominee for vice-president, left here at six o'clock tonight for Omaha, enroute to Elk Point, S. D., where on Monday he will open the democratic campaign in the northwest with an address on agriculture.

TRIP WITHOUT MISHAP

North Atlantic Ocean Crossed Without Serious Difficulty

By The Associated Press.

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. RICHMOND, Labrador, Aug. 31. — The American army fliers, Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, and Lieutenant Eric Nelson, came over seas today from Greenland to Labrador, closing up another long and perilous gap in their round-the-world flight. They completed the air journey from the old world to the new, speeding across that dangerous and icebound stretch of water from Ivigtut to Ice Tickle, a landlocked bay behind lofty ridges, two miles north of Indian Harbor.

Mechanics Great Help.

With the American pilots were their mechanicians, Lieutenant John Harding, Jr., and Lieutenant P. Arnold, to whose unceasing labors not a little of the success of the flight is due. Ships of the American navy have unceasingly guarded this course across the Strait for many days.

Just five months and fourteen days after beginning their world-girdling tour, the American fliers landed today in the waters of continental North America. They took the air at Ivigtut at 6:29 a. m. eastern standard time, and arrived at Ice Tickle at 1:08 p. m., eastern standard time. They completed the difficult crossing of the North Atlantic, beset with mishaps and delays in the early stages, covering the last stretch of 570 miles —next to the Iceland-Greenland flight the most difficult of the entire Atlantic journey—in six hours and 49 minutes.

They flew in a northwest wind which blew from 20 to 40 miles an hour and speeded their machines at times as high as 126 miles an hour.

Today the American army men brought to a successful termination the first continuous aerial circumnavigation of the earth, including the North American continent, theirs was the first westbound crossing of the Atlantic Ocean by airplane.

Was Shortest Route.

The planes swept in from the ocean like huge gray gulls, and, flying low over the broad expanse of water, circled until they dropped to their bright yellow buoys and floated lightly in the green water under the shelter of lofty ridges of rocks.

This cove was chosen because of the comparatively safe landing conditions it affords and for the additional reason that it is situated on a promontory jutting towards Greenland, providing the shortest route across the arm of the Atlantic which extends northwest into Davis Strait.

On shore near where the planes were moored, were a group of newspaper men and camera men, who had lived on the destroyers here since August 2, a few fisher folk and a detail of sailors from the Lawrence.

The coming of the fliers was signalled to those at Ice Tickle by signal men from the Lawrence stationed on Rodney Mundy Hills close by and then to the wireless station several miles away. Off shore near White Cockade Island was the Lawrence acting as guardship to the planes, after the aviators had picked up through the costal haze the most extreme among the outlying islands.

Davis Leaves On First Swing Over Country

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Turning to the west as the first major battle ground in his campaign to win the presidency, John W. Davis left here late today on a three weeks tour. His first stop will be at Wheeling, W. Va., tomorrow and his farthest objective is Denver, Colorado, where he is to speak September 11.

Accompanied by several close advisers a large personal staff and a group of newspaper correspondents, the democratic standard bearer is traveling for the first time on a special train. His own car has been equipped with an amplifier so that the crowds who gather at the stations along the way to greet him may be able to hear clearly his rear platform speeches.

The first of these speeches is scheduled for early tomorrow at Grafton, W. Va., where the nominee said his first word to the people of his own state when he was enroute to his home at Clarksburg early this month to receive formal notification of his nomination.

Wichita Falls Woman Calls on Her Sex To Stand Up For Political Rights

Special to the Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 31.—Resolutions calling upon the women citizens of Texas to assume the responsibility which is theirs, familiarize themselves more fully with politics, and to take more active interest in political affairs and stand up for their rights, will be drafted by Mrs. E. B. McClure, member of the Wichita Falls delegation to the state convention, to be offered in the convention.

Mrs. McClure, one of the two women delegates in the Wichita county group, is visiting here, and is getting ready to take an active part in the convention. She formerly lived in Austin, going to Wichita Falls about a year ago. Mrs. E. B. Murchison of Wichita Falls is the other woman member of the delegation.

She is a staunch Ferguson delegate and is anti-klan. She is in entire harmony with the Wichita county delegation—that is with the majority which will vote for the county. There are but two persons on the delegation, out of nearly 100 who were named to come to the convention, who are not anti-klan, it was said.

"It is a great honor to Texas to have a woman nominee for governor," Mrs. McClure said today. "That should enter more actively and assume more of the responsibility of the conduct of political affairs and government.

Boost Wichita Falls

Wichita Falls is the financial, commercial and industrial center of one of America's richest sections.

PROGRESSIVE INSTITUTIONS of Wichita Falls

WHERE DO YOU SOW?

IF YOU were sowing for a crop, would you sow in your own field, or in someone's else? Sounds like foolish question doesn't it? But there are a great many people who do sow in the other fellow's field when it comes to buying. Instead of buying from home dealers, or having home folks render them service, they send their money away to firms that they have never seen and folks they never will see.

THE MONEY spent at home yields a crop in building up home business—making it possible for home folks to buy what you have to sell. The money sent elsewhere doesn't do that. It can't, for it never comes back. Patronize the firms represented on this page and you'll be sowing in your own field—and reaping a twofold harvest. Spend your money where it will have a chance to return to you.

Wonderful Opportunities

West Texas offers unlimited opportunities for every line of business. Wichita Falls has proven to be the center of mammoth enterprises in its development.

CITY TEACHERS ASSIGNED POSTS

Few Changes Made In Faculty for Coming Session Here

Approximately 185 instructors and principals will hold positions in the public schools of Wichita Falls, according to a list of teachers issued by J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of the public schools. Practically all the instructors as announced for the coming year have taught in Wichita Falls previously. One change will be the absence of Miss Jennie Splawn who has taught in the local schools for the last five years and has been in charge of the high school annual each year that she has been here. Miss Splawn will study in Chicago this winter. C. P. Mosley, former head coach at Baylor, will be an addition to the faculty.

GLEANINGS FROM THE BOOK OF LIFE BY CLARK KINNAIRD

A Dream Trip to Mars

When you delve into a book it should be an adventure. A book that doesn't afford an adventure for the mind isn't worth reading.

Dreams of An Astronomer, by Camille Flammarion, France's great astronomer, affords adventure that sends the imagination whirling.

In it Flammarion takes his readers on a trip to Mars.

"Thirty-seven million miles from the earth," he begins the account of the martian visit. "It is not very far, astronomically speaking. It is, in fact, quite near, a few paces away.

"The world of Mars is the first station of the solar system, the first planet we meet on leaving the earth to visit the remote regions of the heavens.

"The farther we move away from the earth, the smaller grows the apparent size of our own world. Seen from the Moon, our planet hangs in the sky like an enormous moon, four times the size of our satellite, and 16 times as luminous, for it is isolated in space and reflects the light received from the Sun, as is done by the moon and the various planets of the solar system.

"At the distance of the orbit of Mars, at the time when the planets are in greatest proximity (37 million miles), the earth no longer shows a sensible disc, but is still the biggest and brightest star in the entire heavens. The inhabitants of Mars, therefore, admire us as a brilliant star in the sky, showing aspects similar to those which Venus shows to us. We are their morning and evening star, and no doubt their mythology has erected altars to us."

"When I arrived on that planet," Flammarion writes, as if he had just returned, "it was about mid-day on its central meridian. I noticed two small moons revolving rapidly in their sky, and I alighted the slope of a mountain overlooking a distant sea. The sea was shallow and full of water plants. The panorama reminded me of that which one sees from the terrace of Nice observatory, and I seemed to see a Mediterranean of calm water, of a rather dark bluish-green color. But it was a different element, and I saw that the plants were of a species unknown on earth.

"Airy navies consisting of a sort of bird-fishes glided through the atmosphere, and I soon found the inhabitants of this celestial territory have received by natural evolution the enviable privilege of flying through the air, and that their method of locomotion is particularly aviation. Gravity is feeble on the surface of the planet, and hence the density of beings and objects on that planet is much less than it is with us.

"Engineering science has for centuries reached a high degree of perfection. They have carried out immense works, incomparably superior to those achieved on our planet in the last century, and they have transformed their globe by gigantic operations which earthly astronomers are just beginning to appreciate by means of the telescope.

"One may easily understand, indeed, that world should be more advanced than ours, because it is more ancient chronologically, and because, being smaller than our globe, it has cooled down more rapidly and has run through the phases of organic evolution at a greater rate.

"Its years are nearly twice as long as ours, in the proportion of 365 days to 687. While we count 37 years on earth, the Martian counts only 20, and a man of 70 years on earth is only 40 Martian years old. Its conditon of habitability, its climate and meteorology, its days and nights, are analogous to ours.

"Even from where we are we can observe its continents, its polar snows which also change with the seasons, its humid plains periodically varied by vegetation, its clouds, generally very light, but dense toward the polar regions, its mists in the mornings and especially in the evening, above all, the perpetual changes, incomparably more intense than those of the earth's surface, in a word all those manifestations of an activity greater than that of our own home of the present day."

On August 23 Mars was closer to this earth of ours than it ever will be again in your lifetime. Take a look at it, keeping in mind Flammarion's observations.

Iowa Park Lays Plans For Most Successful Community Fair In Years

EXCELLENT CROP EXHIBITS MADE SURE THIS YEAR

Irrigation of Valley Makes Heavy Yield In All Lines

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Aug. 31.—At the Business Men's luncheon at the Helton hotel, plans for the Community Fair to be held in Iowa Park, September 12 and 13, were discussed, and committee appointments made. It was decided by all present that prospect for a bigger and better fair than ever before was imminent.

Good Crops Raised.

The agricultural exhibits, it was pointed out, would be much better than last year, on account of several crops in the irrigated valley which has been furnished with water for irrigation since early in the summer. The unprecedented yield of wheat and oats also bids fair to make fine showing in the small grain line. Many fields of cotton across the Wichita River to the south will yield one and one-half bales to the acre, experienced cotton raisers say, any many crops are being grown in this irrigated belt, which bids fair to insure prize winners in all lines of agriculture.

In the live stock line of exhibits, many people have already signified their intention of exhibiting their favorites, and competition is expected to be keen among the owners of these entries.

A complete premium list is being arranged, and will cover practically every department that is covered by the large fairs, premiums being offered for exhibits in the ladies' department as well as boys' and girls' club exhibitions.

Site Obtained.

The Iowa Park Motor building, a large building on Yosemite and Cash street has been secured, and floor space for attractive exhibits, as well as booths for local merchants, will be available. It is planned to have the live stock exhibits nearby in the same block, making all departments easily accessible to the many visitors expected.

At the luncheon the following officers and committees were appointed: President, H. T. Danner, Jr.; vice president, S. D. Jacks; secretary and treasurer, N. E. McKinney. Committees, publicity and concessions, Scott Halston, E. C. Knox, Fenton Dale and Wm. Levine; catalogues and premiums, C. E. Birk, J. C. Ralston, W. R. Golden, W. Dixon and A. H. Smith.

ROGERS ELIMINATED AS G.O.P. NOMINEE

By The Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 31.—Harry H. Rogers, of San Antonio, has been eliminated from the list of possible nominees of the republican party of Texas, according to R. B. Creager, national committeeman from Texas.

The Texas constitution makes it mandatory that a candidate for governor live in the state five years prior to the election, Creager said. Rogers has been a resident of Texas since January, 1920.

Among the possible nominees of the party named by Creager are:

Walter Napier, San Antonio; Dr. F. L. Thomson, San Antonio; Judge T. M. Kinnerly, Houston; Henry Zweifel, Fort Worth; Dr. George G. Butte, dean of the law department, University of Texas; Clarence E. Linz, Dallas; and G. N. Harris of Brownwood.

The state executive committee will meet at Dallas, September 5, to nominate a gubernatorial candidate.

Bright Lights Attract Grasshoppers to Munday

Special to The Record News.

MUNDAY, Aug. 31.—Attracted by the bright lights, thousands of grasshoppers swarmed into Munday Sunday night, and the streets and business buildings were covered with them. They were of the large variety, and their presence was puzzling to local bugologists.

Mothers

AND THEIR CHILDREN

Learning to Tell Time.

One Mother Says:

To aid the younger children in learning to tell time I had my older boy cut a clock face from a piece of heavy cardboard. He marked the hours with Roman numerals and attached the hands to the center with a long pin, so that they moved freely about. By asking the children to move the hands to record a certain hour they soon learned to tell the time quickly.

Dorothy Dix

Don't Deprive Your Children of the Pleasure and Privilege of Making Their Way in the World. Early Struggles Build Character as Well as Fortunes.

"His father died when he was a boy, and left him a few million dollars, so he's never done anything but try to spend his income," some one said in speaking of a certain man.

"Poor chap! He has never had any real fun in life. It is horrible to think of a parent being so cruel to his only child!" exclaimed a self-made man, who is at the head of a great commercial organization.

"It isn't any fun to spend money. All the thrill, the excitement, the sport comes in making it," went on the man who had made his own fortune. "Any idiot can spend money, but it takes brains and skill and finesse to make money. Spending money is child's play, but making money is the great game in which you pit all that is in you against your adversary, and in which you match your wits, your shrewdness, your farsightedness, your courage, your stamina, against the world.

"There is nothing of which you can so easily tire as spending money. There is so little we really want. Food, clothes, shelter, a comfortable chair and a good bed. After we have got these, we have got all that money will buy for us. When we have eaten all we want, millions cannot purchase us an appetite for more food, or the digestion to assimilate it. We can wear but one suit of clothes at a time, sit in but one chair, sleep in but one bed. And when we have got these our money is counterfeit so far as getting any more physical comfort is concerned.

Moreover, it is one of the peculiarities of human nature that things are desirable to us just in proportion to the difficulty of obtaining them, and the knowledge that we can buy anything we want, keeps us from wanting things.

"On the other hand, making money is a pastime in which your interest never lags, not because of the money itself, for the dollars soon come to be nothing but counters in the game, but because business is the great adventure, the great romance, and because success in business means achievement and proves a man to himself. When he has been through the battle in which he fought up from the ranks where he was a poor, little, ragged private, to being a captain of industry, he can look himself in the face and know that he was no weakling, but a man.

"Every man who makes a fortune knows all of this, and he knows that nothing his money buys him gives him the pleasure that his work did; knows that nothing the world offers can give him the absorbing interest that his business or profession did in the old days when he was struggling for a start, and when a dollar advance on a barrel of flour, or a new client made his heart sing for joy.

"Our happiest days are those in which we are toiling with might and main to build a foundation under our castles in Spain, not those in which we loll about in the completed edifice, bored stiff because we have nothing to do and nothing to strive for. All parents know this, and the amazing thing is that, knowing this, and loving their children as they do, they are bent and determined to cheat them out of the most interesting and delightful experience in life.

"Furthermore, parents know that, beyond a modest competence, just enough to give them an education and a small start in life, money is a curse to their children. There is no such safeguard against temptation as the lack of the price and a thin pocketbook is a better protection against the wiles of Satan than all the ten commandments.

"Every rich boy is a shining mark for all the vamps in his community, and if he escapes it is nothing less than a miracle of God. Every rich girl is the predestined victim of fortune hunters, and she hasn't one chance in a hundred of marrying a man who loves her for herself, and who will treat her kindly.

"It is the misfortune of the very rich that they cannot save their children from what the movies call 'the blight of gold.' That is the heartbreaking price that the man who makes a big fortune pays for his success, as you will see if you observe how millionaire's sons and daughters nearly always turn out.

"But people in more moderate circumstances could avoid this terrible catastrophe if they would, and that is why it is so pitiful to see fathers and mothers working their fingers to the bone and denying themselves every luxury and comfort to try to pile up a fortune to leave to their children—a fortune that will not only deprive them of the greatest fun in life, but that nine times out of ten will ruin them.

"Why do they wish to deprive their children of the pleasure they had? Why do they cut their children off from the experiences that taught them endurance and patience and grit and self-control, and that made them the kind of men and women they are? Nobody knows, but they do.

"You will hear parents say, 'We don't want our children to go through the struggle we did.' Yet that very struggle developed the strength of character that enabled them to climb to the top of the ladder, and the lack of any necessity to struggle, and thereby to develop the muscles of their souls, will make their children poor, weak, flabby parasites who will collapse just as soon as the prop of father's checkbook is removed.

"So I say again," said the self-made man, "that I pity the man who doesn't have to make his own way in the world. He misses sitting in at the big game, and parents who deprive their children of this privilege and pleasure do them a great wrong."

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lession in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

Throwing aside any moral considerations as to whether it is right or wrong, gambling—say on horses—or marginal speculation by the outsider is a poor investment for the average man because of its by-products.

Gambling or marginal speculation by the outsider is a poor investment for the average man first of all, because the mathematical chances for success are overwhelmingly against him.

Worse than this, however, is the fact that gambling in any form excites and disturbs the average man so much that he is unable to do his regular work and go about his regular business normally or efficiently.

When gambling losses become habitual, as they often do, the worry grows more intense and a man's efficiency drops in proportion. The desire to recoup becomes so strong that a plunge is made—often with disastrous consequences and the former business efficiency of the gambler is broken fo bits.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

Labor Day, September 1, 1924—How to avoid labor troubles—Obey the Golden Rule.

JESUS SAID:—As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them.—St. Luke 6:31.

PRAYER:—Help us, our Father, to do right by thee, and then it will be natural for us to do right by our brothers.

SAYINGS OF C. W. BRYAN.

The democratic party was the first large party to declare for a secretary of labor.

The democratic administration of Woodrow Wilson was the first to have a representative of labor at the president's council table.

The democratic party has led in protecting the wage earner's rights to organize and to bargain collectively.

The democrtic party has been labor's champion in securing the eight-hour day and in obtaining for him protection against the injunction.

Labor is not a commodity. It is human, therefore it must be dealt with humanly.

Lincoln echoed the sentiments of Jefferson when he declared that in case of conflict between the two the man must come before the dollar.

Efficiency and economy in business and government can only be achieved by integrity in thought and in action.

The great masses of the people today are calling for progressive leadership.

The unrest throughout the country is caused by the failure of the government to function for the protection and welfare of the weaker members of society.

Economy at the expense of humanity is illustrated in the (Coolidge) veto of the pension bill and of the soldier's adjusted compensation measure.

Our party will endeavor to secure world disarmament by international agreement.

The farmer needs the high tariff rates reduced so as to enable him to buy in a competitive market at home and remove the restrictions which have injuriously affected the foreign market in which he sells his surplus products.

The farmer needs the support of the federal reserve system as it was intended by the democratic party which framed the bill and he needs relief from the deflation policy of the republican party which is largely responsible for the farmers' distress.

The farmer needs lower railroad and water rates which will benefit both the buyer and seller, national and international.

The farmer needs better and more uniform warehouse laws.

The farmer needs an export marketing corporation or commission so that his small surplus products which is sold in the markets abroad will not establish the price of the whole product that he produces.

The farmer needs the development of our water powers to supply cheaper fertilizer on the farm and to supply power, light and fuel for his service in his home.

The farmer needs legislation to develop co-operative marketing facilities which will increase the price that he receives and reduce the price that the ultimate consumer pays.

FOSTER ON THE ROAD.

W. Z. Foster is the candidate of the national workers party for president of the United States. Foster is a communist and the members of the workers party are communists.

William Z. opened his campaign in Ohio. He denounced both President Coolidge and John W. Davis as agents of Wall street. He said the great steel plants of America must be nationalized by a workers and farmers government and advocated the complete abolishment of the present system of capitalism.

Soviet Russia abolished capitalism, destroyed individualism, abolished interest and repudiated the debts of the country.

Foster should go to Russia. All the communists should go to Russia. A communist is out of place under the flag of the government founded by George Washington.

Did You Know That---

By Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald.
Written Especially for the Record News.

That many Michigan republicans of the conservative type are urging Henry Ford to make the race for the United States against Senator James A. Couzens, Ford's former partner, who is a candidate for re-election but refuses to pledge himself to Coolidge or any of the other presidential candidates.

That the first frosts of the year appeared at Blairstown, N. J., where the thermometer registered 34 degrees in the closing days of August.

That United States Senator Lebarron Bradford Colt of Rhode Island is dead and that a democrat may succeed him as a result of the November election and that Governor William Flynn may be the winner of the toga.

That the gamblers are all predicting a cotton crop of 13,000,000 bales while the government experts are certain that the crop will reach 12,500,000 bales against the 1923 crop of 10,128,000 bales.

That Dustin Farnum, the actor, won a divorce in Reno because his wife refused to leave New York when he entered the movies.

That William James Gallon, the famous criminal lawyer of New York, has been offered $100,000 to defend Ed McCoy. Who was married eight times and is charged by indictment with robbery and murder of the ninth woman he had planned to make his wife.

That Aaron Sapiro, the Napoleon of the cooperative farm marketing movement, in letters to George Brennan and Barney Baruch has pledged his support to John W. Davis.

That the democrats have placed Lincoln Dixon of Indiana in charge of western headquarters and that Boss George Brennan predicts that the democrats will win every office in sight in Illinois in November.

That he says he believes the party nominated the very best man that could possibly have been nominated and as an independent republican he expected to support Mr. Davis without reservation.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYES

By Jean Newton

Business Girls—Take Note

The following fact may be true—I have a sneaky notion that the man who stated it knew what he was talking about.

I overheard a business man say that the girls employed in his office did not take any actual interest in their work—that their jobs were only a means to an end—and the work just something to tide them over until they could get married. That they had no actual ambition to succeed in the business world or advance beyond their present jobs.

We will swallow the unkind criticism hook and bait—those of us whom the shoe fits will wear it—the others, the girls with real business ambition, may leave this meeting.

The girl who has openly let her boss suspect this fact about her has acted very stupidly. In a way she is burning her bridges before she is half over them. Efficient work, attention to suggestions, and immediate obedience to instructions mean more pay—and more pay means nicer clothes—more comforts and a happier state of mind.

To punish the employer who is so critical about this most natural instinct of woman, the girls should camouflage their feelings and keep the husband idea well up their sleeves. Then when the time comes for them to burn their bridges, they can remark—"I'm leaving Mr. Mott, to be married."

The shock will almost knock him over—and he will rush to his partners in wild-eyed disappointment and exclaim: "There was one girl whom I thought was interested in nothing in the world but her business career!"

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

IT IS THE COAT THAT MAKES THE MAN

I am always annoyed with the fellow
Who says, with a toplofty smile,
"You must learn how to dress if you hope for success;
There is nothing that helps you like style.
Give the junkman those shiny old trousers,
Get a tailor to build you a pair.
Folks won't think you are smart till you dress for the part,
You'll be judged by the clothes that you wear."

I hate to be told that apparel
Gives its wearer "that personal note."
I have to be told that a heart of pure gold
Is worth less than a snappy top coat.
I hate to believe that the public—
The great proletariat mass—
Would think more of me if I ever should be Transferred to the cake-eater class.

Are brains to be counted as nothing,
If they function beneath an old hat?
Can't an out-of-style tie be allowed to get by,
If it's worn by a true democrat?
Must men-folks be glasses of fashion,
And mirrors of masculine grace,
'Ere the crowd will admit it considers them fit
To win any prize in the race?

Such talk, as I've told you, annoys me;
I'd be driven to utter despair,
If my time I must spend for long hours on end,
In thinking of what I should wear.
I hate to believe that fine raiment
Is held as an unfailing clue
To a person's real worth on this dull-witted earth,
But I know, just the same, it is true!

POUNDS, SHILLINGS AND PENCE.

Mr. Harry Gordon Selfridge stated, at the Decimal Metric Conference Association, at London the other day, that he was still stumped sometimes in dealing with pounds, shillings and pence. He declared that the government ought to have introduced a decimal currency into the country at tain, where the influence of conservatism is probably stronger than anywhere else in Christendom. In time the metric system will be adopted and the cumbersome pounds, shillings and pence, as well as the system of weights and measures, will be done away with.

No one in his right mind, can declare logically that there is anything to be said in favor of the present way of counting money or registering measures. They are difficult, hard to learn and not easy to practice.

Book-keeping, under such systems, must be a matter of extreme difficulty.

But, as far as that is concerned, the world still clings to its old calendar, which is awkward and irregular, and refuses to adopt a year of thirteen months or some similar system by which the same day of the week would fall upon the same day of the month every year and do away with the calendar.

Having once adopted an irrational method it is difficult to change it. It is hard to change the Chinese and Japanese languages and induce them to adopt an alphabet method.

It is difficult to adopt any reform in spelling and to bring the written word more in conformity with its sounds.

So it is difficult to change the habits of a nation in regard to its currency, its weights and measures.

Only France has succeeded in applying the decimal system rigidly everywhere. The United States has so far only succeeded in its currency.

Great Britain lags behind me she takes pride in her slowness and unwillingness to change anything.

Only time, and the demonstrated advantages of the decimal system will overcome the present means of computation.

Avenue G Paving Before Council

Despite the fact that Monday is Labor Day the city council will meet in regular session Monday evening to take up a number of matters of importance, including final decision whether or not Avenue G will be ordered paved at this time. At the meeting a week ago there appeared before the council a delegation of citizens who urged immediate consideration, but after some discussion the matter was postponed for one week.

The awarding of a contarct for paving one block on Kemp boulevard between Ninth and Tenth streets, will be considered.

MA CARRIES COUNTY ON OFFICIAL COUNT

A majority of 866 votes were cast in Wichita county favoring Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor, according to the official count made by the Wichita County Democratic Executive committee Saturday. All returns were canvassed by the committee and they announced the official results.

Despite the time consumed in the election judges and clerk will receive but one day's pay, it was determined by the committee. If there is any balance in the treasury the funds on hand will be refunded to the candidates pro rata.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN SEA SCOUT TROOP

Much interest is being aroused among many of the boys in Wichita Falls over the recent organization of the Sea Scouf troop. The organization is comparatively young in Wichita Falls and many of the boys have been making inquiries at headquarters as to what method to employ in seeking admittance to the troop. The troop recently bought a new boat which they will use extensively this winter.

OFFICERS HUNT AUTO BORROWED BY WOMAN

Guy Durham reported to police headquarters Sunday night that he was shy a Buick six car that was taken from his garage Saturday afternoon by a young woman, aged about 21 years. Investigation disclosed the fact that she spent Saturday night and Sunday in Vernon, and passed through this city Sunday night about 7 o'clock for Dallas. This fact was discovered by officers and request was sent to points south to look out for the car and occupant and hold for local officers.

Crickets, Harbingers Of Coming Winter, Here

Summer, the torrid old gent, is wobbling on his pins, dispirited, groggy, on the verge of taking flight, and making way for a pleasanter season. For Sunday eve, harbingers of more or less glad tidings for Wichita Falls folk appeared in the city. The advance guard of the little brown army, crickets, forerunners of fall chirping merrily, stormed the fortress as the first omen that old man summer shortly will be wending his way before the onward march of the falling-leaf period, the cooler months.

From now on old Sol is destined to calm down, the temperature becomes more tepid, the days shorter, and the nights longer. It is but a few short weeks until winter will return again on annual visit.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE.

VIRGO.

Today's planetary aspects are excellent until the late afternoon and are fairly good thereafter. It is a very propitious opportunity for initiating any fresh undertaking, and favors aggressive action and forceful methods. Prudence, however, must be exercised, and success can only be accomplished. If aggressiveness and forcefulness are allied with deliberation and careful thought, as risks and speculative deals are doomed to failure. If you are in doubt as to the responsiveness of the other sex, today is a good opportunity to put your fate to the test.

A child born today will, after the usual ailments of early infancy develop normal strength and vigor. Its character will be resolute, its disposition attractive, its mentality exceptionally bright. Every encouragement should be given this child to pursue its studies along those lines for which it shows most inclination, as it will only derive real success in the career for which it is, by its natural gifts and desires fitted. Any balking of its ambition will only yield failure or at best, a mediocre degree of accomplishment.

If today is your birthday, you are painstaking, conscientious and have a very keen sense of your own duties; you, however, lack ideals—the most powerful force known to men, more mighty than armies with banners. Low ideals or none at all, and high station cannot long retain company. You must have ideals unless you are content to drift along aimlessly, ambitionless and ineffectually. Ideals vitalize and energize.

You are, without ideals, sailing without a chart, treading an undefined, unfenced path from which you are constantly in danger of falling or straying. Life, barren of ideals, is as a dark sky is barren of stars.

The difference between you and a person with ideals is the difference between the person who guides his life by what he sees and knows and can touch with his hands, and the person who has enough of the visionary in him to adopt as his guide a dream which has not yet come true and perhaps may never come true. It is a difference between the person who never gets his eyes off material things and the person who is always looking out to the very limits of vision, even when it is realized that the distant country dimly described can never be reached.

If you always walk with your eyes downward so that you can see only the earth beneath your feet, ou have no ideals. If you naturally carry your eyes on your mental horizon, that is as far as you can see at all, so ou now and then catch a glimpse of the sky above, you are guided by ideals.

WILSON GOES TO OPEN COURT AT GRAHAM

Judge H. R. Wilson, presiding over the thirtieth district court, will open the September term of court at Graham Monday morning. A grand jury and petit jury have been ordered to report. District Attorney J. V. Allred will meet with the grand jury and present some important cases for investigation. A heavy docket is announced and in addition to a few criminal cases passed over from the last term there has been set for trial the Herbert Griffin murder case transfered from Archer county, case being set for hearing September 15.

A Lost Lady

WILLA CATHER BY

Sometimes Ivey strode through the rose plat where Capt. Forrester was sitting in the sun—went by without looking at him, as if there were no one there. If he spoke to the captain at all, he did so as if he was addressing some one incapable of understanding anything. "Hullo, captain, ain't you afraid this sun will spoil your complexion?" or "Well, captain, you'll have to get the prayer-meetings to take up this rain question. The drought's damned bad for my wheat."

One morning as Niel was coming up through the grove, he heard laughter by the gate, and there he saw Ivy, with his gun, talking to Mrs. Forrester. She was bareheaded, her skirts blowing in the wind, her arm through the handle of a big tin bucket that rested on the fence beside her. Ivy stood with his hat on his head, but there was in his attitude that unmistakable something which shows that a man is trying to make himself agreeable to a woman.

He was telling her a funny story, probably an improper one, for it brought out her naughtiest laugh, with something nervous and excited in it, as if he were going too far. At the end of the story Ivy himself broke into his farm-hand guffaw. Mrs. Forrester shook her finger at him, and, catching up her pail, ran back into the house. She bent a little with its weight, but Ivy made no effort to carry it for her. He let her trip away with it as if she were a kitchen maid, and that were her business.

Niel emerged from the grove and stopped where the captain sat in the garden. "Good morning, Capt. Forrester. Was that Ivy Peters who just went through here? That fellow hasn't the manners of a pig!" he blurted out.

The captain pointed to Mrs. Forrester's empty chair. "Sit down, Niel, sit down. He drew his handkerchief from his pocket and began polishing his glasses. "No," he said quietly, "he ain't overly polite."

More than if he had complained bitterly, that guarded admission made one feel how much he had been hurt and offended by Ivy's rudeness. There was something very sad in his voice, and helpless. From his equals, respect had always come to him as his due; from fellows like Ivy he had been able to command it—to order them off his place or dismiss them from his.

Niel sat down and smoked a cigar with him.

CHAPTER XVII

One night in the first week in July, a night of glorious moonlight, Niel found himself unable to read, or to stay indoors at all. He walked aimlessly down the wide, empty street, and crossed the first creek by the footbridge. The wide ripe fields, the whole country, seemed like a sleeping garden. One trod the dusty roads softly, not to disturb the deep slumber of the world.

In the Forrester lane the scent of sweet clover hung heavy. It had always grown tall and green here ever since Niel could remember; the Captain would never let it be cut until the weeds were bowed in the fall. The black, plumelike shadows of the poplars fell across the lane and over Ivy Peters' wheat fields. As he walked on, Niel saw a white figure standing on the bridge over the second creek, motionless in the clean moonlight. He hurried forward. Mrs. Forrester was looking down at the water where it flowed bright over the pebbles. He came up beside her. "The Captain is asleep."

"Oh, yes, long ago! He sleeps well, thank heaven! After I tuck him in, I have nothing more to worry about."

They were standing there, talking in low, voices, they heard a heavy door slam in the hill. Mrs. Forrester started and looked back over her shoulder. A man emerged from the shadow of the house and came striding down the driveway. Ivy Petes stepped upon the bridge.

"Good evening," he said to Mrs. Forrester, neither calling her by name nor removing his hat. "I see you have company. I've just been up looking at the old barn, to see if the stalls are fit to put horses in there tomorrow. I'm going to start cutting wheat in the morning, and we'll have to put the horses in your stable at noon. We'd lose time taking them back to town."

"Why, certainly. The horses can go in our barn. I'm sure, Mr. Forrester would have no objecton." She spoke as if he had asked her permission.

"Oh!" Ivy shrugged. "The men will begin down here at six o'clock. I won't get over till about ten, and I have to meet a client at my office at three. Maybe you could give me some lunch, to save time."

His impudence made her smile. "Very well, then; I invite you to lunch. We lunch at one."

"Thanks. It will help me out. As if he had forgotten himself, he lifted his hat, and went down the lane cwinging it in his hand.

Niel stood looking after him. "Why do you allow him to speak to you like that, Mrs. Forrester. If you'll let me, I'll give him a beating and teach him how to speak to you."

"No, no, Niel! Remember, we have to get along with Ivy Peters, we simply have to!" There was a note of anxiety in her voice, and she caught his arm.

"You don't have to take anything from him, or to stand his bad manners. Anybody else would pay you as much for the land as he does."

"But he has a lease for five years, and he could make it very disagreeable for us, don't you see? Besides," she spoke hurriedly, "there's more than that. He's invested a little money for me in Wyoming in land. He gets splendid land from the Indians some way, for next to nothing. Don't tell your uncle; I've no doubt it's crooked. But the judge is like Mr. Forrester; his methods don't work nowadays. He will never get us out of debt, dear man!! He can't get himself out. Ivy Peters is terribly smart, you know. He owns half the town already."

"Not quite," said Niel grimly. "He's got hold of a good deal of property. He'll take advantage of anybody's necessity. You know he's utterly unscrupulous, don't you? Why didn't you let Mr. Delzell, or some of your other old friends, invest your money for you?"

"Oh, it was too little! Only a few hundred dollars I'd saved on the housekeeping. They would put it into something safe, at 6 per cent. I know you don't like Ivy—and he knows it! He's always at his worst before you. He's not so bad as—as his face, for instance!" She laughed nervously. "He honestly wants to help us out of the hole we're in. Coming and going all the time, as he does, he sees everything, and I really think he hates to have me work so hard."

"Next time you have anything to invest, you let me take it to Mr. Dalzell and explain. I'll promise to do as well by you as Ivy Peters can."

Mrs. Forrester took his arm and drew him into the lane. "But, my dear, you know nothing about these business schemes. You're not clever that way—it's one of the things I love you for. I don't admire people who cheat Indians, indeed I don't!" She shook her head vehemently.

"Mrs. Forrester, rascality isn't the only thing that succeeds in business."

"It succeeds faster than anything else, though," she murmured absently. They walked as far as the end of the lane and turned back again. Mrs. Forrester's hand tighened on his arm. She began speaking abruptly. "You see, two years, three years, more of this, and I could still go back to California—and live again. But after that . . . Perhaps people think I've settled down to grow old gracefully, but I've not.

Washington Stops Yankees in Final Tilt, 4-2

RICE DOUBLES IN TENTH WITH SACKS CHOKED

Judge Accounts For One Senator Run With Homer

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Washington won the final game of the season here today, defeating the Yankees 4 to 2 in ten hard fought innings. This gives Washington a lead of more than a full game in the race.

Sam Rice hit a double in the tenth inning with the bases filled, scoring Ruel and Leibold with the winning runs. Bob Meusel made a hard try to catch Rice's drive, holding the ball momentarily, but let it drop.

Washington scored its first run on Leibold's walk, Harris' infield hit, Rice's sacrifice and Goslin's sacrifice fly. Judge's home run was the second Washington tally. New York got a run in the seventh on singles by Schang and Meusel, Ward's fly and Harris' error on Scott's bounder.

The Yankees tied the score in the eighth on Dugan's single and passes to Ruth, Schang and Meusel. Manager Harris and Pitcher Mogridge were put out of the game by Umpire Holmes in the eighth for disputing a decision on a called ball on Babe Ruth.

Tribe Purchases Three-Eye Lefty

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31.—Thirteen is still considered an unlucky number, even in the best circles. But you can't tell Walter Miller, star southpaw of the Terre Haute, Three-Eye league club, that the number is a hoodoo.

Walter was sent in to pitch against the ball murdering Bloomington team of his league a while back and checked the slugging crew by striking out just 13 men. If what followed is ill luck Miller hopes Dame Fortune never smiles on him for a Cleveland scout figuratively met Walter at the clubhouse with a big league contract.

"If I'd known anyone was watching I might have pitched," remarked Walter with a smile.

Miller is called the star of the Three-Eye league. When he was signed by the Indians he had won 15 and lost but five games—a .667 average. This is his first year in professional company. Miller was graduated from Ohio state university two years ago. He went to Terre Haute and late in the season of 1923 was given a trial by the local team there.

Cleveland is said to have paid $5,000 for him. He will join Cleveland when Terre Haute finishes its schedule.

Top O' the Mornin' Stuff

BLONDY CROSS

The Aggie grid machine of 1924 on paper looms as a fairly strong contender for the Southwest conference title. This club in all probability will prove a far better machine than that of 1923 which should have finished higher in the race, and would have but for erratic play by the Farmer safety men.

About 45 athletes will answer the call for early training, Sept. 10. Among this squad will be eight veterans, Captain Miller, backfield; Allison, end; Dansby, guard; Waugh, tackle; Forgason, guard; Irvin, guard; Wilson, backfield; and Pinson, also a back.

It is said Bible will have a host of fairly strong men to chose from in the form of the 1923 company teams, the reserves, and the fresh squad. There are several huge gaps to be filled, but at that, the outlook is better than the Longhorn, T. C. U., Rice, and Oklahoma A. & M. prospects. Baylor and S. M. U. stand out with the strongest array of veterans returning with the Arkansas squad possibly stacking up close to the pair of Texas elevens in tried material with which to build the machine of this year.

Coach Bible is pinning a great deal of his faith on young Dansby brother of the tackle of the 1923 team and a star quarterback of Bryan high school in 1922. For the past several seasons the field general's position has been the vulnerable point in the Aggie armor. Last season Knickerbocker, Rippon, and the Pinson brothers were tried, but these men were none to satisfactory. The fumbling of punts by the Aggie helmsmen in 1923 probably was the direct cause of defeat registered against A. & M. by Rice, S. M. U., and Texas, and thwarted the Farmers in the tie game with Baylor.

The return of Captain Silent Miller will add poise and power to the Aggie backfield. Miller, who was captain in 1923, was out of the game because of a broken arm. Followers of Aggie fortunes believe that he will be one of the conference's stars this season. He loomed brilliantly in 1922 Fay Wilson, sophomore of 1923, will make a great running mate for Miller, and Clem and Bill Pinson will also be available for backfield duty.

The Aggie forward defense has suffered an irretrievable loss in the graduation of Bull Johnson, the courageous captain of 1923. Johnson earned for himself a place in southwest football history which is secure, and although Irwin is a fine lineman, he cannot fill the big brogans of the peerless Bull.

Jack Evans and Puny Wilson, Aggie ends, have played their last game with the Farmers. Allison and Norris from the 1923 reserves are promising wingmen, and may develop under the tutoring of the wily Bible into stars of the first firmament. Bill Bethea is the most highly reputed lineman coming to the varsity from the freshman squad.

Again in 1924 Uncle Sam Presents To World of Tennis His Twin Bills

Nope, It's Not Vaudeville Team But Veterans Bill Johnston and Bill Tilden in Fifth Straight Year

For the fifth consecutive year the United States is prepared to present to the tennis world its Twin Bills. This is neither a vaudeville team nor a vaudeville pair. It is a tennis team.

The Twin Bills consist of Bill Tilden and Bill Johnston, more commonly known to the sporting world as "Big Bill" and "Little Bill."

For five years this team has formed the main part of the Davis Cup team which has upheld America's prestige in the blue ribbon event of the net world.

For a time last spring the combination seemed disrupted. Then the officials of the United States lawn tennis association decided that Tilden's efforts on the typewriter hadn't really hurt his back court play and after passing out some mean remarks invited him to join the cup party again. Bib Bill didn't lose any time getting to the telegraph office with is acceptance.

Announce Their Debut

The two Bills were billed as the feature attraction of the Davis cup matches for the first time in 1920. They made a clean sweep of the series. Both won their singles matches, taking turns at defeating the veteran Norman Brookes and the giant Gerald Patterson, the most formidable players Australia could present.

The two Bills took on the same pair of visitors in the doubles, too, and turned them back as decisively as in the singles.

The following season Japan sent over the challenging team. Ichiya Kumagae and Zenzo Shimizu had turned back their Indian and Australian opponents but proved no match for the American team in the challenge round. The Billy Dou won all the singles matches, each turnink back Kumagae and Smimizu. Watson Washburn and R. N. Williams were chosen to relieve the Bills in the doubles that year and the former pair won handily from the oriental team.

Then Halt Australians

The following fall Tilden and Johnston faced the Australian team again in the cup round. That year Patterson and Anderson formed the opposition in the singles. The two Bills won again. Vincent Richards made his debut in the Davis matches that year and paired with Tilden, turned back Patterson and O'Hara Wood.

The One Bill Slips

Last year the smaller half of the famous skit weakened. Australia sent over Anderson and Hawkes in an effort to bring home the cup. Tilden beat Hawkes in their singles match. Anderson created a furore when he downed the little Johnston. The latter was clearly off form. He committed error after error. Anderson took advantage of these and playing a steady, consistent game, literally led Bill to defeat.

Then Tilden and Williams faced Anderson and Hawkes in the doubles. The gallery was fairly stunned when the Australians played the American defenders of their feet in the first three sets, winning two of them. With Johnston's defeat already registered Australia apparently was on the verge of lifting the cup.

Tilden's play had been off in all three sets. The teams rested before the fourth set and Tilden's reversal of form was apparent the minute the first game started. His magnificent support of Williams enabled the defenders to take both sets and the match.

Little Bill Gets Peeved

The Americans needed a singles match, however, to cinch the series. Johnson met Hawkes. Determined to retrieve his lost laurels Johnson fairly annihilated the Australian, allowing him but three games in the match.

This year Johnston failed to show his old time form in his early play and for a time it seemed probable a new partner would be selected to turn back the invaders in the singles. Then Johnston hit his stride.

So we have with us again the two Bills. And also considerable confidence that they will hold the cup again when they meet the Australia-France match.

Featherweight Limit Should be Restored

If Johnny Dundee really has given up his featherweight crown and left the field open he has given the leading spirits in the boxing game a splendid opportunity to do one thing.

That is to restore the featherweight poundage limit of 122 pounds.

Ever since the declining years of Johnny Kilbane as champion the featherweight class has been a joke, as far as holding to the recognized limit of 122 pounds has been concerned.

Locker Busts Homer But Cats Put Morgan To Rout

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 31.—Another great Sunday for the boys. We can't go out to the ball game any other day. Big Boy finally got off that 50 mark, where he seemed to be stalled up. Jimmie Walkup turned in another sweet game, and the Cats won their one hundredth contest of the season, the score being 7 to 2, and the Spuds lugging the casualty list.

Number 51 came in the second inning. Brown, a left hander of parts, had but just relieved Dick Morgan, Sears was on first, a low inside pitch was golfed like a bullet over the left field pickets.

Two runs scored off Walkup were the result of a home run by Dallas Locker and a double by Pitcher Brown with a man on first.

Neither side scored in the first two frames, both pitchers getting out of holes by hard work.

Atz Six in Second.

Morgan had his first two men on in the second when he walked Edington and Tavener. Bischoff's snappy bunt that was too fast for Morgan to field rolled toward short, Locker covering third and Turgeon second, while the ball was entirely deserted. It was a base hit and the sacks were loaded with nobody out. Walkup popped the three-two ball to White. Calvo drew four straight balls, forcing Edington in.

Pewee scored on a passed ball. Foss fanned, but Sears singled past Turgeon, scoring Bischoff and Calvo. Dick Morgan was pulled and Brown, a left hander, faced Big Boy, who was long overdue for number 51. Two fours; Brown was pitching inside and Big Boy was pulling. He continued to pull on his next swing—the ball being a home run when the bat cracked. Number 51 was a line drive over the left field fence and the crowd was wild. They had come out mostly to see Walkup pitch and to see number 51, and they were satisfied. Sears, being on first, naturally scored ahead of Big Boy. Palmer ended the big inning at six runs when he grounded out. Walkup had an easy third when Smith and Brown fouled out and Bischoff threw Fitz out. Brown also made short work of the Cats, though Bischoff walked.

Dallas Hits it Over.

Locker hits one. After striking out Callaghan in the fourth, Walkup got in the hole on Locker. The third baseman set himself for the fast one he knew he would get, and bumped it over the left field fence. Turgeon fanned again. Metzler also fanned.

Calvo flied to Metzler in the Cats' fourth. Foss grounded out and Sears struck out. Metzler singled to right center. Brown doubled to deep left, scoring Metzler.

Walkup popped to White in the seventh. Calvo singled past Golvin. Foss grounded to Brown, whose throw to second was wide, got away from Turgeon, and Calvo took third. Calvo scored on Sears' long sacrifice fly to right, Kraft walked, Palmer forced Kraft at second.

Edington made a great running catch of Golvin's smash to deep right center. White popped to Kraft and Sears drifted in front of Metzler's line drive.

Edington was out, Brown to Golvin. Tavener grounded out and Bischoff fouled to Locker, the "lucky seventh" being a fast inning.

Smith opened the Spuds' eighth with a single past Tavener. Brown was safe on Foss' error. Fitzgerald popped an infield fly. Callaghan flied to Sears and Locker forced Brown at second. Most of the fan interest in the Cats' eighth centered in whether somebody would get on, so as to bring Kraft up again. But Brown sat down Walkup, Calvo and Foss in a hurry.

"Big Bill" Faces Opportunity of Equaling Record Made By Larned

FOREST HILLS, Aug. 31.—When Big Bill Tilden uncovered his trusty racquets this year to defend his title as national tennis champ he realized he faced the opportunity of equaling the record Larnet set when he held the United States trophy five consecutive years.

Tilden won his first title in 1920 and the following three years retained it. Larned's great record was set between the seasons of 1907 and 1911.

He had won national honors twice however, before starting his run of five championships in a row. Back in 1901 he had dethroned M. D. Whitman, who had stretched his reign to three years. The following season Larned retained the title. Between 1902 and his next successful effort he saw Doherty, Ward, Wright and Clothier win it.

Maurice McLoughlin halted Larned's reign and held the title two years. R. Norris Williams won it in 1914, relinquishing it a year to Bill Johnston and then regained it, only to lose to Bob Murray, who proved a two-time winner. Then started Tilden's regime.

The record of R. D. Sears eclipses even that of Larned, but the former was in his glory back in the '80s. He held the title six consecutive years—from 1881 to 1886 inclusive.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The Brooklyn National league club announced today the purchase of Pitcher Cantrell, of the Fort Worth club, for a player valued at $5,000 and $2,500 in cash. Cantrell has won 20 out of 23 games.

TILDEN RESUMES TITLE DEFENSE

Dope Selects Johnston To Battle Champ Again In Finals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31. William T. Tilden, 2nd, of Philadelphia, gaunt racquet wizard, who has ruled American tennis heights for the past four years has but two more obstacles in his path toward a fifth successive crown.

Tomorrow afternoon on the turf courts of the west side tennis club, the tall title holder will face his former pupil, Vincent Richards now Olympic champion in the first of these tests. They will meet in the semifinals of the championship tournament which has been in progress since last Monday and the victor will play in the final match Tuesday against the winner of the other semi-final match, an international battle between William M. (Little Bill) Johnston, diminutive former champion and the cannonading Australian, Gerald L. Patterson.

Tilden and Johnston, chief rivals for the title over the past five years are favorites to triumph and stage their sixth fight for the crown which this year will carry an official recognition as world's champion.

Tilden who has advanced through four rounds of play with consummate ease, seems to have lost none of his characteristic brilliancy, but Richards if he is able to control his spectacular attack, will make it interesting for the champion. Johnston's performances so far have dispelled any impression that the little Californian has lost any of his old time skill.

Clay Co. Judge Resigns

Special to the Record News.

HENRIETTA, Aug. 31.—County Attorney Vincent Stine has tendered his resignation which has been accepted by the commissioners' court, and Judge J. C. Chesnutt, democratic nominee for the office in the recent primary, has been appointed to fill out Mr. Stine's unexpired term.

Mr. Stine, who has served Clay county as county attorney for the last four years, was the successful candidate for the office of district judge of the 97th judicial district, composed of Clay and Montague counties.

Color Cut-Out

"A-choo!" sneezed Betty, who was up in the attic.

"What are you doing Betty?" called Mrs. Cut-out.

"I'm hunting around in these dusty books for some of Billy's old books that I can use this year. Maybe you've forgotten school begins tomorrow, but I haven't."

"Betty, Betty," called Billy, "come down and see the Labor Day parade with me!" Down hopped Betty, and school hopped out of her mind.

Betty has yellow hair and pink cheeks. She is wearing a white dress with a pink apron and pink socks. Color her, mount her on lightweight cardboard, and cut her out so she can wear all the new dresses for school that you cut for her this week.

"This Is Age of Restlessness," Kay Says In Sunday Bible Talk at Strand

PEACE NEEDED IN WORLD AND PRIVATE LIFE

Christ Exemplifies Content And Peace, Judge Tells His Listeners

A query as to what historians of the future will say about the world today was flung at his hearers Sunday morning by Judge C. Kay in his Bible talk to his men's class at the Strand theatre. A total of 334 were present.

The restlessness and discontent of the present age were touched on by Judge Kay, who contrasted this with the teachings of peace and contentment preached by Christ. Judge Kay's full address is as follows:

My friends, the lesson this morning is about one woman of Samaria at the well. It says there that the Jews had no dealings with the Samaritans. You know, that was a kinsfolk row. The meanest, most difficult mess to fix up is a family row. Now, if you have got some row with your kinsfolk, you go home and fix it, or you are not as big a man as you ought to be.

Little Thought

So, when the Savior asked this woman for a cup of water, she says: "Your people have no dealings with my people and yet you are going to take a drink of water here from me, a Samaritan?" That is just a little topical thought in the lesson. You must get along with your kinsfolk. You must get along at your home. You know, when I am gone from here, I want them to say that I had the happiest home in Wichita Falls, and it will be so, too. Because, I have made it my business to make it so, and you can do it. Now, the way to have a happy home is not to have too many rules and regulations. They want a little freedom in the home. If somebody wants to get a pillow, and lie down on the floor, let them do it. That is the way they do at my house. And, if the boy brings in four or five big, freckled hungry looking boys, feed them. That is the way we do at my house.

Now, this lesson talks about thirst. Of course, the Savior was not talking about water when He spoke about thirst to this woman. He said: "I will give you water so that you will never thirst again." What was He talking about?

The Restless Age

You know, this is the age—you have read about the bronze age, and stone age, and iron age—I sometimes think that some great historian will name this the age of restlessness. That has often happened in the world. They went out to build the Tower of Babel because of their restlessness. About one-third of humanity went out in the desert to live like St. Anthony, because of their restlessness, and it has often happened that humanity has almost wrecked itself because it was restless. I do not know what an historian is going to do to our age. Lord McCauley made his great reputation with his chapter on the state of England in 1865, just writing about them in one year. If you haven't read that, you ought to read it. What is some historian going to say about us? Some fellow that writes up 1924, we will say, in America. He is going to sling some ink around when he strikes the automobile question, isn't he? He is not going to run out of soap when he comes to write about the kind of dancing that they are doing in this country now, and a great many of our evil and shortcomings. He will not get to see that chapter, because the historian can hardly write about the living, but must wait until they are dead.

Truth Justice

Restlessness! Now, I want to say the most important thing that I have ever said to you, and I do not want it to miss you. The Savior undertook to furnish men a method of living, right here in this world. In one chapter, the lesson last Sunday about Nicodemus, was a great doctrine of the church, but the lesson today is a lesson showing you how to live each day. Let us read a little of it. It is more important than anything that I might or could say to you. Here is the philosophy of life: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true," isn't there a world packed into that? "Whatsoever things are honest." Some of these church members loping around telling about getting the best of some fellow in a trade; "I set him afire," he said. You know, if I was going to live that way, I would not want this book in my house. I would not want to be this close to this chapter, as to have it right in my house. "Whatsoever things are pure." Just! Pure! Not pretty nearly pure. Not pretty nearly just. Not as honest as you can be, but honest, just pure! "Whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

The Savior did not say what you would have said, or what I would have said. What would I have said? I would have said: "Get yourself educated, look up the family history, be somebody, join the biggest church in town, dress up." That is what I would have said, and, I think, some of you. But, He overlooked ever one of these things and said: "Be pure, and honest, and just, and fair, and clean, and righteous." Why did he? (When I get that before you I am done, because it is too warm for me to stand here or you to sit where are are). Everyone of these virtues that He is talking about are inside virtues. Right down at the bottom of philosophy, they are inside virtues, because nobody but me knows whether I am living up to them. They belong inside of you. To dress up, to put on a fine front, to speak righteously, to pray aloud, these things are outside things, but the Bible is talking about things that are inside.

You know, there is a little secret in the Bible that some of you may have overlooked. To my mind, it is one of the most important things in the Bible. The Savior says: When you go to pray, go into your closet and shut the door and pray in secret. Now, why did He say that? Because, that would be an inside prayer. Because, no man would ever do that except from an honest motive. He couldn't deceive and wouldn't deceive anybody by making that kind of a prayer, the kind that nobody knows anything about excepting God and he. Now, think about that a little bit. How many of you men will go out and shut the door and talk to God, when God only knows what is going on? How truly it is written that "the Kingdom of Heaven is in the heart."

OLD HOMETOWN STUFF

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Wilson of Wichita Falls who are at present in Kansas City became the parents Sunday of an eight-pound boy.

Sheriff's officers on Sunday morning located a Ford roadster that had been abandoned on the road between this city and Burkburnett, three of the tires stripped from the car. The car was brought into the city and is held by the sheriff's office for identification.

Jannie M. M. Colbert was the only Wichita Falls student at the University of Texas to be awarded a degree at the summer commencement exercises held in Austin Saturday night. The lone Wichita representative was given a teacher's diploma as well as a master and arts degree.

With the exception of the police and fire departments all the employes of the city will be given a holiday Monday, labor day. The corporation court will hold a session as usual, disposing of the accumulation of cases Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday.

Cases will be heard in the county court at law and the eighty-ninth district court for this week, including a number of cases where indictments were returned by the recent grand jury and where the defendants are held in jail not being able to give bond. Assistant District Attorney Robert K. Crain will be in charge of the cases on the part of the state. Misdemeanor cases will be heard in the county court at law.

All the county offices will be closed all day Monday in observance of labor day. There will be no cases tried in any of the courts, they going over until Tuesday and the jury panel will not report until Tuesday morning. The county commissioners' court will meet Tuesday morning instead of on Monday.

A contract has been let by the Wichita Falls Traction company for installation of bitulithic paving in front of the lot formerly occupied by the company and used for car barns.

W. I. Cameron, proprietor of the Cameron cafeteria, has gone to Chicago where he will attend the national convention of restaurant men. While on his trip he will make purchases of modern sanitary machines for use in washing dishes and silverware and other equipment for his cafeteria.

Except for one hour Monday morning the city post office will be closed during labor day. The general delivery window will be open between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning and the city carriers will make one delivery in the morning. Residents on rural routes may call and receive their mail at the general delivery window.

Fire of unknown origin practically destroyed a four-room bungalow together with contents at 508 Mississippi street, property of G. W. Givens, inflicting an approximate loss of about $2,000, partially insured. Mr. Givens was away from home at the time and there was no one in the house when the fire was discovered about 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

Quarter Million In Taxes Collected

Nearly a quarter of a million of dollars was collected in the first six months of the year by County Tax Collector Guy C. Raley, the payment on automobile licenses being one of the big collections. The total of collections running to $2,238,691.38, tabulated as follows:

Insolvent	$ 2,868.37
Poll tax	21,603.75
Current 1923	828,510.48
Redemptions	130,596.67

Bobbed Hair of Wichita Falls Girls Draws Laugh in the Holy Land

American bobbed hair, regard it as you may here, is simply "amusing" in Palestine, according to accounts of two Wichita Falls women now traveling in the Holy Land.

In a letter received recently from Miss Vera Hale and Miss Johnnie Morgan, both of this city, written August 6 at Jerusalem tells of how the two were the center of interest in a large group of American tourists when the party stopped at Shechem, ear Jerusalem, for awhile. A "bunch of water carriers came to get water from a well," it seems, and were duly and comically impressed with the short tresses of the two Texas girls.

The tourists are visiting all the points of interest in the Holy Land and their letter to friends here speaks of stops they have made at Jacobs Well, the Mount of Olives, Nazareth, the Valley of Esdrealon, Mt. Carmel, Jericho, the Garden of Gethsemane and other points of Biblical interest. They told of a swim in the Dead Sea and of dipping water from the Jordan river at the point where Christ was baptised.

TEXAS FAIR HEAD PRAISES T-O

Harry Olmsted Declares Co-Operation Here Is Wonderful

"The Texas-Oklahoma Fair association has one of the largest automobile show rooms in the south, and has a splendid grandstand and race track. The fairgrounds are ideally located and the exposition as a southwestern institution is assured," said H. A. Olmsted, president of the State Fair of Texas, before departing for Dallas Sunday morning.

Mr. Olmsted visited the grounds with C. H. Verschoyle, local oil operator, Friday afternoon. He was impressed with the rapid progress being made by the local exposition, and praised the officials and directors of the association.

"The co-operative spirit shown by the citizens of Wichita Falls and surrounding territory in the coming exposition to be held September 29 to October 5, inclusive, is wonderful. It shows to a great extent the progressiveness of west Texas and southern Oklahoma," Olmsted stated.

Mr. Olmsted assured the local fair officials of the good will and support of the State Fair of Texas.

GALA DAY FOR MUNY GOLFERS SLATED TODAY

Labor Day is to be a gala event at the Municipal club with golf, swimming, horseshoes, tennis, dining, and dancing all to the fore. More than 50 club members are scheduled to register out at noon in a prize flag handicap golf tournament. The same handicaps of the Kruger tourney will prevail in this competition, and trophies to first, second, third, and last in the play will be presented.

Dinner will be served by the club management early in the evening at which stage of the festivities an entertaining program is to be rendered. The Faith Lodge will hold a basket luch picnic on the club lawn. The day is to be topped off with members of both organizations attending a dance in the club ball room.

Radio Detects Insects As They Feed on Leaves

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa. Thanks to the radio, fruit growers will hereafter be able to determine through the sense of hearing whether apples and other fruits are wormy. Dr. C. L. Brain, professor of entomology at Stellenbosch University, has conducted a series of experiments along this line, as a result of which he has drawn the conclusion that worms and bugs can be detected with certainty by radio.

"Guard the child's teeth"

Those tiny teeth are a priceless gift — guard them well!

WRIGLEY'S is a wonderful help to keep teeth clean and sound, for it clears out the crevices, makes the mouth sweet and removes acid conditions from which most people suffer.

A prominent physician says: "It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

WRIGLEY'S is good, not only for the teeth, but for the nerves and appetite and digestion, too.

The whole family should use

WRIGLEY'S
-after every meal

LOCAL MIDDIES HOME ON LEAVE

Recently Return from Practice Cruise To European Ports

Midshipman Myers Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hayes, 1206 Eighteenth street, and Midshipman C. F. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson, 2408 Eighth street, returned to Wichita Falls Sunday afternoon following a year's absence in study at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. The two middies have a 30 day leave and will return about October 1 to resume their work at the academy. Hayes will go back as a third year student and Johnson as a second year man.

Both boys have been back in the United States less than a week, leaving this country in June on the annual midshipman's practice cruise. This year's trip covered 12,000 miles of travel and included stops at London, Paris, Gibraltar, Ponta del Gada, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Weymouth, Brest, the Azores and other points. From these various places the Wichita Falls youths enjoyed sigh-seeing tours through practically all of the European areas of interest.

Hayes was a member of the crew of the U. S. S. Arkansas and Johnson of the U. S. S. Wyoming, the flagship of the Atlantic fleet.

Milk, Ice Fund To Benefit From New Enterprise

H. C. Switzer and M. M. Rochester have opened a new filling station at Sixth and Burnett streets. During this, the opening week, Mr. Switzer and Mr. Rochester will give two cents on every gallon of gasoline they sell to the Record News milk and ice fund.

Mr. Switzer was formerly located at Seventh and Burnett. On the new location they hope build a new 12 by 14 fireproof building, equipped with ladies' rest room and other conveniences for patrons and tourists. The station is equipped with two visible measure pumps.

Mr. Switzer and Mr. Rochester will handle Primrose gasoline, grenses, and oils. Mr. Switzer is also the authorized distributor of maps for the H-5 highway, and will also establish an official tourist information bureau.

RABBIT BREEDERS WILL HOLD MEET TUESDAY

The Rabbit Breeders association of Wichita county will meet Tuesday at 2206 Grant street, at 8 o'clock p. m., the call being issued by J. R. Bechman, president, and William M. Smith, secretary. A short program will be provided by the Smith brothers. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

The special feature of the program is an address by William L. Smith, who will speak on the possibilities of raising rabbits for meat in Wichita Falls. There will be shown the new rabbit fur called the Chinchilla, imported direct from England by Mr. Smith. This is a new rabbit just recently taken up by the fanciers of the United States and is valuable for its fur as well as its meat. Exhibit of rabbits will be shown this year at the fair.

ARMY WORMS INFEST COTTON

Method of Poisoning Is Explained By State Expert

County Agricultural Agent Guy R. Jones announced Saturday afternoon that the cotton army worm, has made its appearance all over Wichita county and the counties adjoining.

"The leaf worms are appearing early this year to inflict serious damage," advises A. P. Swallow, entomologist, extension department of A. and M. college of Texas in a notice sent out to agricultural agents over the state. "It will be advisable in a majority of cases to dust the cotton with powdered arsenate of lead at the rate of four to six pounds an acre, depending upon the size of the plants. The poison should be applied early in the morning while the leaves are still wet with dew, and application should be made by the pole and bag method or the use of one or more machines now on the market. This poison is effective against any leaf eating insects of cotton."

"Arsenate of lime has been used with success as a poisoner for leaf worms. Under no condition should London purple or white arsenic be used as a substitute for poisons recommended, as they will burn the cotton and cause a reduction in the yield."

Miss Ella Merle Mathis will reopen her classes in expression and dancing Monday, Sept. 15. Studios at 1409 Grant Street and 2001 Huff avenue, to accommodate Alamo pupils. Phone 5054.—Adv.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Spread to Hands and Arms. Cuticura Heals.

"My face was covered with pimples which soon spread to my hands and arms. The pimples were hard, red and large, and festered and scaled over. The irritation caused me to scratch and the scratching caused eruptions. My face was so badly disfigured that I was ashamed to go in company. The trouble lasted one year.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. It helped me so I purchased more, and after using two cakes of Soap and about one and a half boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Bernice Smith, Ofahoma, Miss.

Use Cuticura for all toilet purposes.

Samples Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. R, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Try our new Shaving Stick.
