F. R. FRIEND REFUSES CITY CASH Plan Organization Of A. A. A. In Lubbock

AUTO MEN FAVOR FOUNDING LOCAL BRANCH OF CLUB

Plans were laid and initial steps taken, in the organization of the South Plains Auto Club at a meeting of approximately two dozen interested Lubbock citizens Tuesday in the offices of the chamber of commerce. W. Looney and S. A. Price, representatives of the American Automobile Association were present and explained the benefits to be derived from the organization, and all present voted favoring the movement.

It is estimated the workings of the organization, Mr. Looney said that 22 clubs have recently been organized in Texas, making a total of thirty in the state, and he predicted that by the end of this year, the Texas membership will number more than 20,000.

The club will be affiliated with both the Texas State Automobile Association and the American Automobile Association, and members will share in all privileges extended by both associations which are very numerous. The national organization now has 325 clubs and a membership of more than 80,000.

To the end that the work of organizing might be brought to an early end, a committee composed of George Lendon, W. W. Roy, J. W. W. Hill, Alex. McDonald, Joe N. Nisler, and E. Sherrill will work with Messrs. Looney and Price.

The club will be organized on Wednesday morning to extend until Friday night, by which time it is believed that the roster will number at least 200.

It is necessary to secure 100 members before the A. A. A. will grant a charter to a club here. The membership fee will be $5 per year for the 100 charter members, the first year, all additional members will be charged $7, and after the first year, every member will pay $7.

The benefits to be derived from membership in the organization are numerous, including free road service, free legal advice regarding anything in connection with the automobile, free reliable road information, and an emblem that will be furnished every member by the national association. The club designates one garage as representing the association, and any member in distress with his car may call upon this station without charge; it also names a club attorney, and establishes central headquarters for road information.

Is Far-Reaching

The national association is one of the most far-reaching in the United States, according to Mr. Price, and during its 24 years of existence, has built a reputation for services that is national in scope. Through its subsidiary organizations, has always led the fight in various states against discriminatory legislation, took the lead in the fight on the British rubber monopoly, causing a reduction in price of raw rubber by more than one-half, and in Texas has fought the three-cent tax on its advocated by the national headquarters. The plan of the organization is to embrace eight or ten counties surrounding Lubbock, and a big membership is expected.

Crowds Surround Morgue Where Body Of Valentino Awaits The Arrival Of Brother From Italy

Denies 'Wild Party' With Rudy

Marian Benda, who before her introduction to Rudolph Valentino, dead film star, was an obscure Ziegfeld Revue chorine, and who accompanied him on the evening before he was taken ill, denies that she and Valentino indulged in a "wild party" on the eve of his operation for appendicitis. She also denies that the famous actor was engaged to wed Polly Neerl, cinema "rampole" and says he told her that he never marry again until his professional career was ended. Incidentally, Miss Benda, in the past six weeks, has jumped from a chorus obscurity to a Broadway celebrity, due to her friendship with Valentino.

Dead Sheik Would Not Have Married Pola, New Flame Says

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A number of persons, including three women and three policemen, were injured this afternoon in a panic among the thousands of persons standing in the rain at 65th street and Broadway in front of a funeral church waiting to view the body of Rudolph Valentino.

Frightened when mounted policemen endeavored to drive the surging crowd away from the plate glass windows in the Broadway entrance to the parlors, the crowd rushed against one of the windows and it crashed.

Three policemen were cut by the glass. Two women were cut by the crowd as they rushed through the opening. One woman's foot was crushed under the hoofs of one of the mounted policemen's horses, and several others fainted.

Garrett Receives Plans On Part Of Hardsurface Road

Plans on approximately four and one-half miles of dirt and drainage construction work on the south end of the Lubbock-Slaton hardsurface road project in Lubbock county have been received at the offices of B. K. Jarrett, Resident Engineer of the county, from the State Highway Department. Many corrections will be made as suggested by the state department, the plans will be inked, and in the next few days will be sent back to Austin for final approval of the body.

This project, which was not included under the contract let several weeks ago to Fred F. Holt, extends from the south city limits of Lubbock to the county line. The Holt contract covered only that portion of the highway from the city limits of Lubbock to the north city limits of Slaton.

Work Is Progressing

Work is progressing nicely on the project now under construction, Mr. Jarrett said Tuesday. About one mile of the construction work has been completed, and approximately two more miles are now being finished up. About half of the concrete structures have been poured, this phase of the work being carried on independent of the work on the dump. It includes culverts, and all necessary adjacent structures. Work on all phases of the program is continuing at a rapid clip, but the weather of the past few days has somewhat interrupted plans of the contractor in delaying work to a certain extent.

Don't Blame Him

(By the Associated Press)

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 24.—When a 12 year old girl shows her knees in "indecent exposure?" Patrolman S. J. Kahl saw a pair of white knees in nature's garb, the skirt inches above the hose. He arrested the owner of the exposed parts on a charge of "indecent exposure," but the young lady turned out to be, not a woman, but only a girl of 12. Kahl was indefinitely suspended for "incompetency."

He says at most the charge against him should be a mistake in judgment, since one can't tell how old they are now days.

OFFER TO REPAY HIM FOR USE OF LAND NOT TAKEN

EX-MAYOR PRAISED WHEN COMMITTEE REPORTS; GIVES CITY WATER

Rumors of official irregularities in city affairs, current here for some time in connection with the land grant of ex-Mayor F. R. Friend to the City of Lubbock over a year ago, were definitively ended Tuesday morning in a called meeting of the City Commission when the report of a special investigating committee was read and approved, and an answer filed by the ex-Mayor and given approval by the Commission.

The investigating committee, consisting of W. E. Risser, Mayor of Plainview; John J. Ford, Mayor of Sweetwater; and Jeff D. Bartlett, city manager of Amarillo, filed a written report with the Commission stating that they found the damages to the Friend land and offer by the beneficiary received thereby, and recommended that the city pay to Mr. Friend $25,000 in cash.

Will Not Accept Money

Mr. Friend, in his answer, said that he does not want the city to pay him anything, that he will not accept the money, and if the Commission will accept it, he will tender the original grant as a donation to the city. The answer of Mr. Friend was accepted and approved by the Commission, and a resolution of thanks for his actions in the matter was adopted, unanimously, with retiring Commissioner R. W. Blair acting Mayor in the absence from the city of Mayor Parrish. The case arose out of a contract entered into by the city and Mr. Friend, then Mayor, whereby Mr. Friend granted to the city approximately two acres and a half out of the Friend tract northwest of the city, lying due north and adjacent to the eastern boundary of the Tech College property, for the purpose of securing additional water supply for municipal purposes. The grant was made gratis to the city, but the Commission felt that in justice to Mr. Friend, they should extend the utility lines to serve two houses on the property, and such was done in addition to bringing the lines to the city mains through a portion of the property not included in the grant.

Blair Makes Statement

"We felt that under circumstances then prevalent, that this was our only chance to secure additional water supply for the city, and in addition to other portions of the city and adjacent thereto, and could not find the needed supply," R. W. Blair, member of the Commission said following the meeting. And as a result of this, the supply of water on the tract has been practically exhausted, he continued.

As a result of rumors in connection with the grant, some criticism has been

Texas Political Candidates Ready For Fast Drive Down Home Stretch

(By the Associated Press)

Candidates for Texas state offices in next Saturday's run-off primary were tightening traces Tuesday for the final heat of Texas' unprecedented political chariot race.

Attorney General Dan Moody assembled his cohorts for a whirlwind swing toward Saturday's goal. He personally carried his fight to the larger centers while a battery of 35 Moody speakers were stamping the state at large during the remainder of the week.

Fergusons Inactive

Something new in Ferguson campaigning has caused much guessing among voters, in that Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, and her husband, James E. Ferguson, are not undertaking an active speaking schedule in the run-off gubernatorial campaign against Moody. Nevertheless, campaign pronouncements from the Ferguson camp have been unremitting in ardor and militant in tone and the woman Governor has declared she hopes to win the race on the Ku Klux Klan issue, reinforced by charges of campaign fraud in her opponent's camp.

Governor Ferguson on Monday issued a student charging that Moody supporters were planning to move the Texas prison system to Moody's home county, Williamson. In his address at (TURN TO PAGE EIGHT PLEASE)

Mexican Troops On Watch Along Border

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 24.—Mexican troops are massed along the border from Laredo to Brownsville and are ready to capture any rebellious elements who may attempt a coup. General J. Andrew Almazan, chief of the Mexican seventh corps area, said here today.

"I will be greatly delighted if rebel hands succeed in crossing into Mexico," the general said.

"We know the territory thoroughly and can dispose of the bands in an effective manner. Besides, I am getting fat and I want to get into the saddle again. We thought that the Panama Canal would cross between Laredo and Brownsville and I was getting ready for them as we knew of the attempted coup all along."

Gasoline Shows An Improvement, Said

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The average motor gasoline marketed in the United States this summer has equalled in quality that sampled in any of the previous surveys conducted by chemists of the bureau of mines, the commerce department reported today.

The motor fuel was found apparently more volatile.

The Woman's Daily Editorial

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

FAMILY IS NOW LOST IN SHUFFLE What is the matter with families? Is the family spirit passing? Are we turning into a nation of hermits? Is everybody specializing so intensely in his own life that he has no time left for either community- or family- or group living of any sort? Old Home Week wasn't such a bad thing. The clan spirit of Scotland, the county loyalty of Ireland, the tribal traditions of the Indians, seem to have left no progeny in this land of the free. Now on top of that one cannot fail to observe the slow disintegration of family bonds. Brothers marry and scatter; sisters also seek careers and take up their abode separately and away from home in order to have a greater freedom for their special development. It is not given to the observer to judge whether or not this is as it should be, but we cannot help feeling that true patriotism has its foundation and sustenance first and foremost in a love of place. Mothers are not to blame, if anyone is to blame at all. Most mothers are anxious to do what is best not only for their children but for the community. I minimized a bit to believe that men are patriotic because they have a more deeply rooted love of—first, the family as a unit, next, the community in which they live. And what is love of country but love of community? I have read with interest the history of the Murray family in a recent magazine. They live in a Pennsylvania town. There are twenty-four in all, counting some, daughters, and in-laws. They are a unit. The children have been educated and come back; all have a hand in a very successful merchandising business. It is unique and unusual to read of such a family. There may be a precious item to preserve here. Mrs. Murray says she does her disciplining before her children are a year old. After that they are companions. The home is their club. From the time they are able to talk, they have a common bond.

Miss Ouita Terrell is hostess at tea for Miss Potts. Miss Ouita Terrell was hostess at a tea Monday afternoon at her home, 517 15th Street, complimenting Miss Ima Mae Potts, who leaves soon for Dallas, where she will attend school. The girls gathered at 3:30 o'clock and spent the afternoon in chatting and dancing. At a quiet moment in the afternoon, Little Lorraine Terrell gave Miss Potts an umbrella and asked her to open it. She found a beautiful variety of handkerchiefs given to her by her friends. Mrs. J. A. The girls gathered at 3:30 o'clock and spent the afternoon in chatting and dancing. At a quiet moment in the afternoon, Little Lorraine Terrell gave Miss Potts an umbrella and asked her to open it. She found a beautiful variety of handkerchiefs given to her by her friends. Mrs. J. A. Hodges and Mrs. Terrell served sandwiches, potato chips, olives and lemon tea to the following: Misses Ima Mae Potts, Georgia Clay, of Hereford, Estelle Carruth, Ernestine Holton, Peggy Whip, Corine Overstreet, Corinne Bathif, Edith Moore, Lola Love and the hostess, Ouita Terrell. Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Inmon and children, Evelyn and Tom, are visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Inmon, 1622 Main street. They are leaving Wednesday for points in Central and South Texas, before returning to their home in Washington, D. C.

Taking a Shot at the Title

Miss Aloha Porter, of Venice, Calif., is "Miss California" for 1926, and will compete in the national tournament at Atlantic City. She shows her getting out her bow and arrows—competing with Cupid, or just taking a shot at the title?

Miss Eunice Doyle is Delightful Slumber Party Hostess

Miss Eunice Doyle, 2000 Main street, entertained a group of friends with a delightful slumber party Monday evening at her home. The group attended a picture show and a lunch at a local cafe in the early evening and enjoyed a watermelon feast after midnight. Guests were Misses Mamie Calley, Nila Cook, Margaret Calley, Allie Patterson, Bernice Pray, Mary Bowles, Ruby Parrish and Marguerite Doyle.

Mary Helm Auxiliary in a Business Session

Members of the Mary Helm auxiliary of the First Methodist church met in business session Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Rufus Rush, president, led the devotional. A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions of regret for the death of Mrs. Horace Nickels last week. Mesdames H. W. Richardson, Hub Jones and R. S. Williams were appointed. Books were distributed for the Bible study which is to begin in September. No meeting will be held next week as the church women's federation will meet in the afternoon.

Visitors From Out of Town Given Picnic At Vickers' Home

Mrs. L. S. Mast and Mrs. J. E. Vickers entertained with a picnic Saturday evening on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Vickers' home, 1908 13th street, with several out-of-town visitors as honor guests. Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Boerner of Huntington Park, Calif.; C. L. Griffin and family, of San Angelo; William Peck of Concordia, Kans.; John Jarrott and family. All of these visitors from other cities formerly lived in Lubbock.

Society Personals

Miss Dorothy Lomax has returned to Lubbock from her home in Waco and will resume her work as teacher in the schools this fall. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Holzhauser and family, 2392 15th street, expect to leave Wednesday for Levelland where they will make their home. John Simpson, of Albuquerque, N. M., is spending several days here with his mother, Mrs. C. P. Simpson, and his sister, Mrs. Walter Clark, and family. Mrs. J. K. Shipman and daughter, Miss Clarice Shipman, and son, Louis Shipman, and Miss Hattie Marie Harris, of Abilene, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sanders, 1519 Avenue O. Mrs. Shipman is Mrs. Sanders' mother.

Benson and Miss Ruth Horn.

Mississippi Woman Kills Four Babies

LAUREL, Miss., Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Scott Allen, aged 38, killed her four children, aged 8 months to 3 years at their home near Moss, Jasper county today. Insanity over religion is given as the cause. Mr. Allen was absent from home at the time.

Veteran Editor of A. P. Death Victim

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24 (AP)—A. A. Silverman, 45, for ten years night editor of the Associated Press in Cleveland, died today. He was taken ill last Thursday with a heart attack. He came to Cleveland from Louisville. He was born in Miles City, Mont., and is survived by his widow and two children. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

WOULD BUILD BRIDGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Authority to construct a twelve mile extension from Hot Springs in a north-westerly direction in Arkansas was asked of the interstate commerce commission today by the Missouri Pacific railroad. The branch is designed to serve 25,000 acres of virgin timber lands.

ESCAPED SHEIK RECAPTURED

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—A dispatch from Constantinople reports that Abdul Kadir Bey, who recently was condemned to death in connection with an anti-Kemalist plot, has been captured while seeking safety across the Bulgarian border. He is now on the way to Angora, where he will be put to death.

Ohio Demos Frame State-Wide Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 24 (AP)—The platform of the direct primary and enactment of a law preventing lawyers who are members of the general assembly from practicing before state commissions, were two of the principal planks in the platform of the Ohio democratic party as presented to the state convention here today. The platform contained a stinging attack on the present public utilities commission membership. "Warned the party" against the strongest outpouring of money in behalf of republican candidates at the forthcoming election ever known in the history of Ohio.

Osage Jury Thought Hopelessly Wedged

GUTHRIE, Okla., Aug. 24 (AP)—With the jury in the case of W. K. Hale and John Ramsey, charged with slaying Henry Roan, Osage Indian, still out after 36 hours of actual deliberation, a deadlock seemed almost certain today. The case went to the jury at 3:15 p. m., Friday after four weeks of testimony. Just when the jury will be called back into the court room should it fail to agree, is a matter which Judge John H. Cotterill must decide. He has in some cases, held juries until they deliberated as long as 72 hours, attorneys say, believing that they might reach a verdict and avert a new trial.

The Beauty Doctor

CONDITION—Too much soft, flabby flesh about the waist and abdomen. DIAGNOSIS—This is generally a indication that you are taking on weight, as this is one of the first symptoms of obesity. CORRECT—It by diet and exercise. TREATMENT—Lie flat on your back, and with your knees perfectly stiff, raise one leg until it makes a right angle with your body. Repeat several times, then exercise the other leg, then alternate, as rapidly as you can. Then raise both legs at once. This will build up your abdominal muscles so they become firm and hard.

CANTON MAYOR STARTS DRIVE FOR CLEAN UP

(By The Associated Press.) CANTON, Ohio, Aug. 24.—The ax which yesterday cut down three of Canton's official heads has not yet been sheathed and Mayor S. M. Swarts may be expected to wield it still further within the next few days. Last night the mayor dismissed Chief of Police S. A. Lengel. Yesterday afternoon he "fired" Price Jansen and John Burris, two of the three members of the civil service commission. The deposed chief has right of redress before the new civil service commission, comprised of George Melbourne and Charles Flory, appointed by the mayor yesterday, and James Allardice, another Swarts appointee, who has previously voted to oust Lengel. Jansen and Burris at a hearing against the chief last spring voted for reinstatement. Members of the police force other than Lengel are understood to be in line for the preferment of charges at an early date. Mellett Case is Cause. The dismissals are either the outgrowth of or have been influenced by the investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, and the inquiry into the alleged liquor conspiracy from which the murder plot is believed to have been the outgrowth. Mellett editorially had vigorously attacked Lengel and had followed with attacks on Jansen and Burris when they failed to vote for the chief's removal. Lengel was suspended 30 days ago by Mayor Swarts when he developed the police inquiry into the Mellett murder mystery, then eight days old, had failed. Among the charges preferred against Lengel last night was one that he "bungled" the murder investigation. Lengel is expected to carry his fight to the commission and endeavor to show that members of the police department did not receive cooperation from the Mellett family at the time of the murder. Police department records show that the officers were not called until half an hour after the shooting occurred. Other charges against Lengel are that he has been derelict in his duties, particularly in having countenanced bootleg activities and in having maintained a too intimate contact between the underworld and the police department.

RIOTS FOLLOW SCHOOL CONTESTS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24 (AP)—One federal soldier was killed and three students and one traffic policeman were injured when several thousand students started a riot at inter-school athletic contests in the Mexico City stadium Sunday. Keen rivalry between the opposing groups of high school and college youths developed into a free for all fight during which stones were thrown. Federal troops were called and fired into the air. This led to some of the spectators opening fire with their pistols. The soldier was killed by a bullet. One student received a bullet wound in the leg while others were bruised by stones.

No Balls In Juneau So Games Cancelled

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 24 (AP)—What no baseballs? After it was learned this was a fact all games scheduled for Juneau this week were postponed. There is not a new ball in town. Several games ordered from Seattle are expected within a week. All the old ones were taken to Ketchikan last Friday by the Juneau team which plays there for the championship of Southeastern Alaska.

MAX CAREY AIDS ROBINS TO PUSH BUCS FROM LEAD

CARDS PERCH ON TOP OF LADDER; YANKS BEAT SPOKE SPEAKER

St. Louis perched on top of the National League ladder today. After struggling for two weeks to oust the Pirates, Hornsby's men sat back and watched Brooklyn turn the trick for them. The Pirates' old field boss, Max Carey, contributed to their downfall. Playing as an anti-Pirate for the first time in 17 years, he enabled Brooklyn to take the first game of a double header, 7 to 3. He made two hits, walked once and scored two runs. He failed to appear in the second game. Pirates Win Night Cap. Although the Pirates unlimbered their heavy artillery and won the second game, 10 to 2, the damage had been done and the idle Cardinals looked through the rain at visions of their first pennant. The Cincinnati Reds added another crown to the McGraw aggregation, enjoying a six to three lead in the ninth. The Reds came to life and tied the game, then in the tenth hammered home the winning mark on Walker's single, a pass, and Pipp's double. The Reds today were half a game behind the leaders. Yanks Beat Cleveland. The Yankees stretched their lead to 10 games in the American League, nosing out Cleveland, 3 to 2. Marberry's relief act failed for Washington against St. Louis when he uncorked a wild throw in the eighth inning that paved the way for four enemy runs. A four run deadlock turned into an 8 to 4 St. Louis victory. The Athletics took their second straight from Chicago, 4 to 1. A rookie flamed brilliantly in the Athletic outfield, Alex Metzler, cutting off three runs by a snappy catch. The Tigers snuffed under the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 1. Three Boston twirlers went down.

Pitching Star Emil Levsen

One of the pitching sensations of the American League this season has been Emil "Dutch" Levsen of the Cleveland Indians. Levsen, next to George Uhle, has been the most dependable gunner on the Speaker staff. Recently he turned in seven straight victories, no mean feat for a youngster working his first season as a regular. Levsen is a right hander and within another year or two should rank with the leading hurlers of the circuit.

Billy Evans Says DEARTH OF PROSPECTS

Why the dearth of big league prospects in the minors? None of the experts on the national pastime seem able to account for the scarcity of high class raw material. Met Jack Slattery in Chicago the other day. Jack, once a big leaguer himself, now doubles in brass as far as baseball is concerned. Until the close of the college year he is Coach Jack Slattery of Boston college, the professor of baseball at that institution. Immediately upon the finish of the "Red Sox" season, he dons a disguise and takes up the duties of baseball sleuth for the Boston Nationals. Jack is rated one of the best scouts in the business and his observations on the baseball situation are of interest. Material Not There. "The material just doesn't seem to be there," was Slattery's answer to my query as to how many future stars he had dug up. "There are more minor leagues than ever, making a greater supply but the players with big league possibilities are few and far between. This is particularly true of pitching. The lively ball appears to have taken a lot of glory out of the position of pitcher. That condition is very striking in the colleges. Getting likely pitching material in the colleges and then developing it is quite a task. College athletes prefer playing a position in which it is a pretty good bet they will stick the nine innings. The pitcher is in danger of being dickered at any time. With perhaps father, mother, sister and sweetheart sitting in the grandstand, no collegian wants to be yanked out, disgraced in the way he puts it, before a big crowd. It is easy to appreciate the situation Slattery has put and it also explains the scarcity of college pitching to a certain extent. Pirates Have Claim. "Have you looked over many minor leaguers you would be willing to bank on making good?" I asked him. "Not over a half dozen," replied Slattery, "and when I started to talk business with the club on which they played, I found that in most cases the Pittsburgh club had a string on them. Apparently the Pittsburgh club has a pretty good developing system. Most of the players on whom I learned they had strings, looked as if they were read prospects but were a year or two away from the big league standard. Pittsburgh believes in preparing for the future. Rhodes Looks Better. I was rather interested in what Slattery had to say about "Choppy" Rhodes and Roland Locke, two former Nebraska university stars who are now performing in the Western league. "I think Rhodes is a better prospect than Locke," said Slattery. "This fellow Rhodes, who was a great half-back, looks to have the makings of quite a pitcher. He is with John Collins, former American leaguer, now managing Des Moines. That's fortunate for him as Collins is a smart baseball man and will help him. I saw him work a game in which he showed plenty of stuff but also it is apparent that he has much to learn about pitching. Very green." See Pirate Victory. Slattery feels positive that Pittsburgh will win in the National League. He regards it as much the best club in either circuit. Pittsburgh should repeat in the National and ought to defeat New York, who appear to be certain champions in the American. Only a wild batting spree by the Yanks would give them the edge. "The Pirates have speed, a batting punch, a good defense and better than the average pitching. This fellow Warner has been a great help to the Pittsburgh team. He has stepped right into the outfield and made good in every department. He's the winning player type." The Pirates to win a pennant and world series is Slattery's hope.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

Gertrude Ederle is first woman to make non-stop paddle across English channel, with or without that school girl's complexion. She personally conveyed full set of aquatic arms and legs from borderland of France to outlying rim of England. By tumbling through international moisture two hours faster than best record made by man she gave the chastity of older generation an awful clout back of the acoustics. She made an unkempt tramp of the moralist who is always gabbling about how the modern generation is fading away to a thin, gray shadow.

Mr. O'Goofy, incidentally, things he can explain why so many Americans are in the channels this summer he says it's the one place where they can feel sure they won't be mobbed by a gang of noisy Frenchmen. Until Miss Ederle succeeded it was thought the channel swim was impossible for any woman. But even with that out of the way there still remain a number of impossibilities for woman, including: (1) Ability to be on time for an appointment. (2) Refusal to bet on any horse whose jockey is not gaudily dressed. (3) Unwillingness to agree with the mate that Valentino is a ham. (4) Unwillingness to agree with the mate on anything.

What made the American girl's performance all the more remarkable was that she was forced to swim within hearing distance of a phonograph all the way across.

When the Prince of Wales heard Gertrude had landed safely on the English shore he is said to have remarked: "Ask the lady if I may have the next Charleston."

In view of the lack of esteem which some of the boys seem to hold or sur on the other side these days, it's surprising Miss Ederle wasn't arrested for trespassing.

And it may come to pass that some navigation company will see her for steamer and state room charges.

Things Worth Knowing In Sport

Harry Hooper, cast adrift by the Chicago White Sox last winter, had a most illustrious career while in the big leagues. Hooper came up with the Boston Red Sox in 1899 and finished with the White Sox last year. During his major league regime, which covered a period of 17 seasons, Hooper ranked as one of the greatest outfielders in the game. He was a member of that famous garden, Iro composed of Hooper, Speaker, and Lewis, which favored for the Red Sox a dozen years or so ago. Hooper was a feared batter, likely to come through when most needed. He had his best year in 1924 when he hit 323 in 126 games.

DIAMOND DISPUTES DECIDED By BILLY EVANS

Mrs. Dempsey says she never wants to see her husband fight. Well, we aren't sure even now that any of us ever will. "I'm too smart for Dempsey," avers Mr. Tunney. "We'll grant him one thing, he was certainly too smart for the boxing commission."

Local Legionnaires 'Snap Into It' And Lay Plans For Banner Fall In Session Monday Night To Give Play

Allen Brothers Post of the American Legion will have a big delegation at the annual state convention at Amarillo September 3 and 5. It was decided at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Post Monday night in the basement of the Ledger building. About twenty of those present last night indicated their intention of going to the convention and several others are known to be making plans to attend. An effort will be made to have at least fifty make the trip. Just what means of transportation will be employed has not yet been decided, and a committee consisting of J. A. Raley, Chas. Whitacre, E. E. Gober, and Chas. Hadfield was named to arrange for this. It was suggested that the delegation use a box car to call to mind experiences in "Frog Land", and the suggestion was given hearty response, but such was discouraged by railroad officials due to the heavy freight movement and the increased hazard to lives of the personnel of the delegation. It is probable that the delegation will use either trucks or buses.

Westerners To Have Grid Camp

The Westerners, defenders of grid honors for the Lubbock High School, will spend a strenuous week in training camp to begin Monday, August 30, according to Coach Von Tungenla, who will put the boys through their paces. The camp will be held at the Silver Falls Lake, west of Crosbyton, and will begin formally with a meeting of all prospective entrants, of whom 24, on 40 will be expected, to be held at the High School 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday morning, August 28, at which time uniforms will be distributed, and program of the camp made clear, and the deposit fee of $8 will be paid by each entrant to help in taking care of expenses of the trip.

The trip to the camp will begin at 7 o'clock Monday morning, August 30. All entrants will be responsible for their own transportation; but Coach Von Tungenla stated today that what ever help possible in arranging transportation would be given at the meeting Saturday morning. Each entrant will bring his own bedroll and other accessories.

The training camp will last one week return to be made the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 4.

Pollard's Promise Rapped by Allred

James V. Allred spoke here today in the interest of his candidacy for Attorney General. He compared the promises made by the Ferguson to the promises made by his opponent, and said that neither of them had ever been known to keep a political promise. He said that Jim Ferguson was one of the strictest politicians of modern times and knew his friends, and whom to support for Attorney General, because he might need a friend in the Attorney General's office himself sometime in the near future. Mr. Allred also said that he believed in enforcing all the law against everybody, that he would not be a proxy for the Ferguson or any other combination, but would be free in exercising the duties of his office in the interest of all the people.

TIME TO GIVE

Associated Press dispatches from Plainview yesterday told of the Panhandle's answer to the report of Assistant Highway Engineer Dock Rainey, which explained the awful climatic conditions of Northwest Texas.

It's about time the Panhandle and all West Texas in fact, came into their own defense and corrected, intelligently, some of the mis-statements which are frequently made about it. Mr. Rainey may be said to be right, evidently did not misrepresent the Panhandle's climatic conditions. From all appearances he did it to alibi for the condition of the state highways, giving as a reason for their roughness the fact that the range of climatic conditions made their efficient upkeep a mighty hard task.

Perhaps Mr. Rainey was right. Maying the climate in the Panhandle is a waste of good roads but regardless of that he should have had his temperature figures more clearly in mind when he quoted his statistics. Every one in a while someone breaks out with a story of weather conditions in the Panhandle and Plains region which rejects upon the territory as a whole and which are generally exaggerated. In the past, the Panhandle-Plains region—secure in its own intimate knowledge of existing conditions—has continued to turn the other cheek for additional slaps.

It's time now to see if it's not better to give than to receive. Plainview's campaign to tell the world the truth about weather conditions on the Plains and in the Panhandle is a worthy one and one deserving of the cooperation of everyone residing in this vast empire.

MR. VALENTINO

Rudolph Valentino died yesterday and when the last breath of life passed from his body the screen and motion picture lovers of America were robbed of one of the silver sheet's greatest artists and most colorful players.

There were many things made public concerning Mr. Valentino's private life which certainly can be attacked and criticized. In fact, no one has ever heard of the shriek of filmdom being held up as a model for American boys to follow. All the knockers say of Mr. Valentino and his personal mode of living may be true and deserving of criticism—but from a professional standpoint Mr. Valentino and his record can and do defy the world's assaults.

For Rudolph Valentino was an artist in his line—an actor who had reached the top of the ladder through sheer artistic ability—and in spite of the waves of criticism which were swept down upon him he continued to hold the professional esteem of close students of the movie world.

From a professional standpoint motion pictures need more actors like Mr. Valentino. To see his name in connection with a film release was to know that it was mechanically perfect and that the plot was one worthy of filming. His work was of a decidedly better class and certainly never smack-ed of the "ham" actor—that scourge which has become more and more pronounced in this age of hurry-up productions.

Not because his personal life can be held up for praise but because his professional standing was of the best, the movie-loving people of America will pause to honor the French-Italian idol of the cinema. His passing may not leave a gaping hole in the hearts of the millions but it will at least leave a gaping hole in the ranks of the cinema's true artists.

And because he was an artist in his line—a leader in his profession—the passing of Mr. Valentino is to be sincerely regretted.

Senator Jim Reed of Missouri and Senator David Reed of Pennsylvania have discovered that they are cousins and not such distant ones at that. Possibly this helps to explain why they disagree so thoroughly about almost everything.—Auburn Citizen.

Hal Cochran's Daily Poem

JUST LIKE KIDS

"Say, mom, I'm hungry as I'm be. Aw, kin I have some jam? The kids er eatin', all but me. I'm hungry, too, I am." So mother stops the shakin' with a piece of bread that's fine. Then Willie starts in poutin', "Sister's twice as big as mine."

"Hey, pop, I need a dollar, 'cause I'm steppin' out tonight." Then pop starts in to holler, "Is that sorta spendin' right? Why, where's that big allowance that I give you every week?" And then he answers son's request. He's easy, so to speak.

Well, folks, look o'er my bonnet. Don't you think it's kinda nice? There's flowers and ribbon on it, and I got it just half price. "Course, grown-up sister's talkin'. With pop's change account she's game. The bill starts father balkin', but he pays it just the same. It's funny how the children always pester mom and dad. Their real appreciation doesn't come until they're grown-up—until they're either mom or pop to children of their own.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—It happened shortly after the noon hour just about half a block from the stock exchange in the Wall street belt.

The narrow sidewalks overflowed with scurrying humanity. Only a fraction of the Wall Streeters ever use a sidewalk anyway. They walk in the streets like plodders on a country road. And, with mechanical regularity, the whole world seems to hit Broadway or Seventh avenue at the same moment.

At noon or at night it is always the same: a great river of humans flowing and swerving until they meet the impact of cross traffic. Then turmoil and chaos.

Upon this noon hour it was the same. Sweating, crossing cops were going through their frantic and futile warnings. Jaywalkers were taking their chances alone and in groups. Autos, trucks, postoffice vans loaded with mail, yelling wagons rushing to the mint, acres of people, all scrambled together at a couple of corners.

Suddenly the great parade was halted. As if some signal that threw into paralysis the whole scheme of locomotion. As usual the traffic officer had whistled his warning. But this time it was heeded! Not a wheel turned, and along the slim sidewalks the crowds congested, their eyes fastened upon the street.

An alley cat had come slinking out from behind the postoffice building at City Hall Square and furiously made her way to the pavement and started across. She was carrying in her mouth a wee ball of black fur.

And the great tide of traffic, that hesitates neither for man or machine, had come to a dead stop before this slinking symbol of motherhood.

Speaking of cats, the New York sidewalk breed is about the mangiest, meanest, most predatory collection to be found anywhere on the globe. They thrive in particular in the alleys and byways of Greenwich Village, where safety may be found in Bark's cellars and handy ashcans.

Hot weather brings them out, as magicians bring rabbits from hats. They spring from the most unexpected places in amazing numbers. By way of diversion a party of strollers kept count upon a recent warm evening and found 46 within half a block, scattered over window ledges, doorways and pavements.

I know an artist in the Village whose studio is upon the ground floor. He has had to build an anti-cat screen on each window to keep them out of his room. For weeks he would waken in the small hours to find them prowling and yowling all over his bedroom.

His device, it seemed to me, was quite ingenious. It consisted of putting netting over a section of his French windows. When the windows open the netting stretches taut, forming a basket net unlike that used in basketball. Does a cat venture to attempt entrance it is invariably caught in the trap. The cat's fate thereafter is nobody's business.

The cat problem, according to a humane officer with whom I talked, is largely blameable to the nomadic nature of Village dwellers. A cat, adopted, kept and made a pet for a time, and then the family moves. Rarely is the cat taken along. It is abandoned and lives to haunt the neighborhood.

Some of the most predatory of the gutter cats, I am told, are ex-pets of persons who have moved on, leaving the animals to work out its own destiny.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

MITCHELL MAY RENEW FIGHT AGAINST AVIATION POLICY

By CHARLES P. STEWART, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Not much has been heard lately from Col. "Billy" Mitchell, aviator, but there's liable to be, shortly.

When the National Aeronautic association meets in Philadelphia Sept. 4-11, a drive is to be launched to make Col. "Billy" the organization's president.

He was a cynic. He stood gazing at an exhibition of local art labeled, "Art Objects."

The Hidden Meaning. Kikeriki, Vienna! The theatre managers met.

She Stands By. "How is it," inquired a young bride of an older married friend, "that you always manage to have such delicious meat?"

Team Work. "How is it," inquired a young bride of an older married friend, "that you always manage to have such delicious meat?"

Now, as we all know, Colonel Mitchell holds that navies are obsolete and armies nearly so—that military aviation is everything these times.

We also know that orthodox army and navy men dissent from this judgment and that the colonel was driven out of the service, not, perhaps, for his opinions, but for the way in which he expressed them.

After his enforced retirement, Mitchell tried to keep up his fight but was not very successful. He was a good leader but he lacked an organized following. Maybe here's where he gets it.

The National Aeronautic association's motto is "America First in the Air," which speaks for itself. It was formed in Detroit in 1912. Its first president was Howard E. Coffin, who served on President Coolidge's aircraft board. Its second was Fred B. Patterson of the National Cash Register Company. Godfrey L. Cabot, Boston manufacturer and aviation expert, the third, is just finishing his second term.

The association opened up with a flourish of trumpets, but its enthusiasm waned presently. Of late it's hardly been heard from.

This doesn't necessarily mean that there isn't plenty of enthusiasm in the work and file of its membership.

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

GROUND SQUIRREL TYPICAL FLAG

Thirteen Stripes

BY ARTHUR N. PACK

President American Nature Assn.

In the early years of our republic when the people of the federated colonies had just begun to explore the western country and to find out in an imperfect way the vast extent of their territory they found among other strange and new birds and animals this little ground squirrel. Strange to say, it had thirteen stripes, which were taken to represent the thirteen colonies and between these stripes were rows of white spots on a dark ground, typifying the stars of our flag.

So some people sometimes called it the Federation squirrel, and naturalists named it Spermophilus tridecemlineatus, the thirteen-lined spermophile or "seed-lover." The generic name was given the group in allusion to their favorite food, the seeds of plants.

But as the country was settled up, this liking of the nutritious seeds of plants caused its undoing. When the fields of wheat and oats came to occupy the prairie country, our striped friend recognized and welcomed a new and delicious food. He seized upon it eagerly, and the affection for the little animal gave way to one of hatred. He was hunted and trapped, and poisoned, and finally, noxious gases were used in his destruction.

This animal is one of the seven sleepers going into hibernation early and sleeping all winter. The young are born in spring, in warm nests of grass deep in the burrows. Besides their stock diet of grasses and seeds, the little animals consume great quantities of insects, and some meadow mice, animals even more generally harmful and itself.

Helpful Health Hints

MR. CITY DWELLER, BEWARE THE IVY

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN, Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

The vacation season gets people out of doors into the woods and the un-cleared spaces.

There the city dweller wanders rashly about paying little attention to un-accommodated hazards just as the visitor from the country on his jaunt into the metropolis is likely to cross diagonally in the middle of the block.

A peculiarly unpleasant experience for any one is the painful irritation and itching that are the accompaniment of exposure to the sapbroken leaves or branches of poison ivy, oak or sumac.

Never wait for the applause unless you can give an encore.

One in 10 Susceptible. The susceptibility to poison of this type or resistance to it seems to run in families. About one person in eight is especially sensitive. The thickness of the skin seems to have something to do with it and, perhaps for this reason, animals are not likely to be affected.

If a person is particularly sensitive he can prevent much of his trouble by covering exposed portions of his skin with a solution of iron chloride, 1 percent in a half and half mixture of alcohol and water, either before or immediately after going into a district known to contain poison ivy, oak, or sumac. The iron chloride has the power of neutralizing the poison.

Best Treatment. According to J. B. McNair who has given special study to this poison, the best general treatment for the condition is the same as that which might be given to a superficial burn of the skin.

The parts affected are first bathed with the solution mentioned to overcome the poison; the skin is then dried and melted paraffin painted over it as a means of protecting the part concerned from the air or any other contact. A thin sheet of cotton is then laid over the melted paraffin and then more paraffin painted on the cotton. This makes a light, firm, and clean protective covering.

Scientists working in various research laboratories have attempted to develop anti-toxins for the poisonous sap of the ivy, oak and sumac, but thus far none of these have been established as successful in any considerable number of cases.

GUARANTEED CURES

A few people seem to be naturally insensitive to these substances but the majority respond to contact with the painful symptoms enumerated and sensitive people are so sensitive that they need have only the slightest indirect contact before responding with serious inflammation of the skin.

STICKERS ON AUTOMOBILES

Many complaints have reached the Sun recently of stickers of various nature being placed on parked cars without the consent of the owner.

It would be remembered that an automobile is private property of the owner, just the same as his house. One would not stick a large sign on a house without the consent of the owner, and if he should there certainly would be trouble.

It is not an uncommon occurrence in Corsicana now following the parking of your car in the business section for a short time to return and find the windshield and rear glass so completely covered with stickers of various nature that vision is almost impossible when you start to drive.

Any obstruction on the windshield of a car increases the accident hazard and in this day of heavy traffic there should be nothing to interfere with a clear vision.

Regardless of the danger attached to placing stickers on the windshield, there are a large number of people who resent having them placed there. However, if the car owner wants to place stickers on his car, that is his business.

We are speaking in behalf of those who do not want them and who have not hesitated to say so.—Corsicana Sun.

POISON ORDERED TO FIGHT PESTS

Lubbock County Planters Are "On The Job" In War On Cotton Leaf Worms

Lubbock farmers ordered 29,000 pounds of calcium arsenate as poison for the leaf worm now infesting cotton crops in this section, at a meeting in the county court house Monday afternoon with L. O. Harford presiding. R. E. Overstreet, farm bureau official, met with the group advising with them as to methods of extermination for the pest. About 300 farmers were present.

A leaf worm was displayed at the meeting with stalks of cotton that have been damaged by the pest. Some cotton showed results of having been infested with the boll worm and the regular Army worm, also.

Methods Explained

With men coming from all sections of the South Plains asking for poison, it was stated that one of the best methods of extermination is to sack the poison in canvas, tie it to a long stick and extend it from the saddle with a horseback rider shaking the poison over the cotton plants. A carload of poison is enroute to Lubbock from Pittsburg, Calif., and is expected here daily. A local tank in cleaning the shipment. It was stated that the cotton crop can be saved if the pests are poisoned now. Mr. Overstreet said that cotton will be worth from 20 to 25 cents if the crop is saved and that the price has gone up $4.50 a bale in the government reports during the week-end following reports of the raids of the worm in Texas.

The men watched an insect machine demonstrated by Jed Rix yesterday afternoon on the Kelly farm southwest of Lubbock.

$45,000,000 Asked In New York Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—A suit for $45,000,000 damages was started in federal court Monday by George D. Haskell, of Springfield, Mass., president and director of the Bausch Machine and Tool company, against the Aluminum company of America and others under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Haskell alleges he was damaged $15,000,000 through a conspiracy entered into by officers and directors of the Aluminum company of America with the late James B. Duke, to whom he had confided his own plans for aluminum industry development. He asked three times the amount of his actual losses under the provisions of the anti-trust law.

LAREDO, Tex. Aug. 24 (AP)—After being disseminated of all kodak views and films taken while in Mexico City, eighty more of the two hundred American teachers who have been attending the summer school of the Mexico University, arrived here Monday morning and proceeded to their homes in various states of this country. The pictures were taken from the teachers by the Mexican authorities in Nueva Laredo on grounds that they were not permitted to be taken out of Mexico.

BLAIR IS FETED BY CIVIC CLUBS

"City Builder" Who Leaves To Make Home In Dallas, Is Honored Here

Civic boards, of which R. W. Blair is a member, were held at a banquet given Monday evening in the Coffee Room of the new Hotel Lubbock. Mr. Blair is leaving Thursday for Dallas to make his home and talks made during the evening paid tribute to his services to Lubbock during the three years he has lived here. Members of the board of directors of the Board of City Development, the City Commission, the South Plains Fair association and the directors of the operating committee of the hotel and the building committee were in attendance.

Slaton is Toastmaster

With O. L. Slaton as toastmaster, members of the various groups were introduced and told of the work of Mr. Blair here, wishing him success in future undertakings. Walter Posey represented the City Commission in expressing gratitude for the work of Mr. Blair. Judge E. L. Ritt spoke in behalf of the hotel building committee, Walter Myrick, Jr., president of the fair board, talked and J. O. Jones represented the City Commission in a short review of Mr. Blair's work there. Roscoe Wilson talked on his work with the Board of City Development. In closing, Mr. Slaton paid tribute to Mr. Blair, expressing regret that Lubbock must lose such a citizen.

District Court Now In Its Second Week

District Court resumed its labors Monday morning opening the second week of the regular August term with a heavy docket facing it for disposition. The case of Cicero Smith Lambert Co. vs. Fred W. Roemer was called to trial this morning. District Judge Clark M. Mullan presided.

Jurors from out of the city who were here Monday morning for service this week were: A. L. Tudor, Slaton; R. A. Burton, Shallowater; G. A. Guthrie, Slaton; J. P. Boyd, Slaton; G. C. Allen, Malak; Bert Hastings, Slaton; C. A. Bruner, Slaton; Leo Kitten, Slaton; J. F. Stjennett, Idalou; E. N. Twaddle, Slaton; A. K. Coconaugher, Idalou; A. C. Sedgwick, Shallowater; C. Z. ### Medical Student Is Held In Death Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 24 (AP)—A sophomore student in the medical school at Western Reserve university was being questioned today about the death of Dorothy Kirk, 21, who police believe was a victim of drugs given her for experimental purposes.

The detectives found half a bushel basket full of drugs under the student's bed, some were of the most deadly poisons, they assert.

"From what we have already learned, I would say he has the same slant on life as Loeb and Leopold," one of the detectives declared. "We believe we can lead him to make vital admissions involving the case."

Scouts To Explore Famous Ghost Cave

South Plains boy scouts at the Post Memorial encampment are to explore the famous Ghost Canyon tonight, leaving camp late in the evening and returning just before day. Legendary history tells of many weird happenings in the canyon, this giving it the name of Ghost Canyon. The group of boys expect to explore Cooper's canyon tomorrow.

Reports from Lubbock persons who have visited the encampment and in letters from the boys are favorable. All are having a fine time and receiving much benefit from the encampment. They expect to return to Lubbock Friday.

VANITY CASE

By Carolyn Wells
G. & J. HANCOCK

"You can't, anyway, Emma," broke in Mrs. Pierce. "You're ever-lastingly gossiping around on your betters. Don't you say a word now, about their affairs!"

"On the contrary, Mrs. Pierce," Mott said sternly, "Emma must tell anything she knows. It is a serious matter to hold back information from the law and unless, Emma, you want to get yourself arrested, you'd better come across with whatever you know. But, mind now, nothing that you don't know. We don't want surmises or guesswork."

"Emma knows little about what goes on in the house," Carter said, with an air of superior knowledge. "She is only a waitress—I am the ladies' maid."

"Your turn will come," the detective assured her. "Emma is talking now. Go on, Emma, tell me everything you know of the flirtations of Miss Moore. If she was not attracted by Mr. Inman, was she by any one else?"

"Well, sir, she and the master—they was friends like."

"Yes? And how do you know?"

"Well, now and again, I'd sort of see them stoppin' in corners like, and he'd kiss her, or pat her arm—oh, you know sir!"

Emma blushed deeply and Mott said, very gravely, "Yes, I know. Now did you often see scenes of this sort?"

"No, sir, not so often."

"When was the last time, for instance?"

"The night Mrs. Heath died, sir. That evening after dinner, I was putting away the silver in the sideboard, and the dining room windows open on the terrace, and I couldn't help seeing, just outside, was Mr. Heath and Miss Bunny, and him holdin' her in his arms and kissin' her."

"You are certain, Emma?" Mott did not smile or show surprise.

"Yes, sir, certain."

"That will do. Let no one present mention any word of this conversation. As I told you the inquiries of a detective in a case like this are necessary, and are lawful. If any one of you repeats a word of what you are now hearing you will be promptly and duly punished."

Mott's manner carried even more threatening hints than his words, and the whole crowd was properly impressed.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Cotton Markets

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. (P)-A good deal of realizing in the cotton market early today after yesterday's big advance, was absorbed on comparatively moderate net backs, as the dips appeared to bring in a broadening demand from both trade and speculative sources.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 2 points, active months showing net losses of about one to nine points in the first few minutes. December ended off to 17.55c and March to 17.55c, but the market turned firmer after the initial profit taking had been absorbed.

Except for realizing, selling was restricted by the unsettled weather outlook while the bullish sentiment created by yesterday's crop figures remained very much in evidence, and the market was seven to eight points net higher at the end of the first hour. December selling at 17.77c, new high ground for the movement.

The market continued firm after mid-session on the issuance of a storm warning stating that the disturbance in the Gulf will probably reach the coast somewhere between Burwood, La., and Galveston, Texas. The storm was considered as of considerable intensity, but limited radius. During the early afternoon the market eased off on realizing declining 20 points from the highs with October trading down to 17.75.

The early advance extended to 17.82c for December, or 13 points net higher and 17.44c points above the recent low level. Evidently this price attracted more realizing and there may have been some local selling for reaction on conditions of some 15 or 16 points from the best in the forenoon. Buying on the weather and crop news continues, however, and the market was steady at midday, December holding around 17.73c or about 1 to 4 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24. (P)-The opening in the cotton market was firm with first trades showing gains of 2 to 10 points. The advance which was helped by reports of a tropical storm in the Gulf of Mexico, continued after the start until October traded to 17.85c, December to 17.81c and January to 17.75c or 10 to 13 points above the previous close. Prices soon eased off as the New York market failed to rally in keeping with the local market.

At the end of the first hour active months were 2 points above the lows with the market steady.

The market after making new lows at 17.44c for October and 17.6c for December rallied on the barometer lines of the map, indicating that the storm in the Gulf was heading for the Louisiana and Texas coast. October and December both traded as high as 17.95c and January at 17.9c or 26 to 32 points above the lows.

The market sold up to 17.97c for December or 25 to 29 points net higher in the early afternoon on reports of rain at many stations in Texas and Oklahoma and indications that the tropical storm might reach the Gulf coast late tonight or early tomorrow. More realizing was encountered as prices approached the 18 cent level, however, and the market was easier around 2 o'clock, prices showing reactions of 10 to 12 points from the best.

The Last Call on Men's Summer Suits

Think back over past seasons—how the weather in September and October made light suits very much more comfortable than the heavier weights—then too a suit purchased now in these weights gives you an ideal one to start next season. Men's styles are much the same, year in and year out, you know.

Just Two Prices

All remaining summer suits are grouped into just two lots. There are very desirable patterns and colors also and while the size scale is somewhat broken there are still most all sizes. An investment in one of these light weight suits is not only an economical move but also a very sensible one.

All regular values to $30 suits now— All regular $32.50 and upwards—

OFFER TO REPAY HIM FOR USE OF LAND NOT TAKEN

hurling, both at the Commission and at Mr. Friend, Mr. Blair said, and in an effort to bring the situation to a head the investigating committee was selected. The report, it was admitted, did not meet with the entire approval of the Commission, except from the fact that Mr. Friend's answer cleared up the whole situation.

Report Given in Full
The report of the committee, and the answer of Mr. Friend is given herewith in full, so that the public may be informed on the situation:

August 21, 1926.
"Report of the committee consisting of W. E. Risser, Mayor of Plainview, John J. Ford, Mayor of Sweetwater, and Jeff D. Bartlett, City Manager of Amarillo, heretofore appointed by the City Commission of the city of Lubbock to investigate and recommend adjustment of differences between City of Lubbock and F. R. Friend, growing out of the location and operation of city wells on F. R. Friend land.

"The committee finds and decides that the damages to the F. R. Friend land are offset by the benefits received thereby.

"The committee further finds and decides that F. R. Friend should convey to the City of Lubbock as a site for each well as now located, a tract 300 feet square and give the city the right of way for water, sewer and electric lines over in operation.

"The committee further finds and decides that the City of Lubbock should pay the said F. R. Friend Twenty-Five Thousand ($25,000) Dollars in cash for the aforesaid land, well site and right-of-way.

"It being in the mind and the purpose of the committee that the above consideration gives the city the right to all the water under the one hundred and twenty (120) acres of land owned by F. R. Friend.

Signed
John J. Ford,
Jeff D. Bartlett."

August 24, 1926.
"To the Honorable Mayor and City Commissioners, Lubbock, Texas.

Gentlemen: I am advised that by unanimous action you recently appointed an out-of-town committee to determine the value to the city of the property and rights owned by me to the city for a water supply, while I was Mayor and about which transaction there has been more or less talk and criticism.

"I am further advised that this committee, after a thorough investigation of the properties in question, the general situation as regards Lubbock's water supply, and the condition surrounding it is transmittal recommendation that the city pay me twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars for said property and rights.

"Gentlemen, I appreciated your action in this matter, and I appreciate the action of the committee in putting a true value on the property, but I didn't ask or want the city to pay me anything like the true value of this land in the first place, and if you will accept the original grant as a donation, I hereby tender it to you gratis.

Respectfully yours,
F. R. Friend."

Resolution Passed
WHEREAS, in 1924 there was a shortage of water in Lubbock and found that the only available adequate supply of water that could be found was on the land adjoining Lubbock on the northwest, said land being owned by F. R. Friend, then Mayor, and

WHEREAS, F. R. Friend at that time granted the city permission to dig two wells on his land and lay water mains across said property, and decided land for said purposes to the City of Lubbock, and

WHEREAS, later, this transaction was criticized and questioned to such an extent that the Mayor and Commissioners unanimously voted to appoint an out of town committee consisting of Messrs. W. E. Risser, Mayor of Plainview, John J. Ford, Mayor of Sweetwater and Jeff D. Bartlett, City Manager of Amarillo, to determine the value of said grant from F. R. Friend to the City, and

WHEREAS, said committee has recommended that the City pay the said F. R. Friend the sum of $25,000.00 for the property and rights heretofore decided to the City, and

WHEREAS, F. R. Friend has refused to accept said sum and has again tendered said property and rights to the city gratis.

NOV THEREFORE, Be it Resolved by the City Commission in meeting assembled that said property and rights be accepted on behalf of the citizenship of Lubbock as tendered, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED That the Commission for itself, and on behalf of the citizenship tender to Mr. Friend a vote of thanks and appreciation not only for the property and rights so acquired, but also for his civic patriotism and magnanimity.

Unanimously adopted, this 24th day of August, 1926.

EXCHANGE PLANS NEXT MEETING IN NEW HOTEL

The Exchange Club of Lubbock, unable to secure entertainment in the new Lubbock Hotel due to the hurry and bustle attendant upon putting the parlor to its opening in the next few days, held a very interesting meeting Tuesday at noon at the Tech Cafe.

Plans were made for a meeting on next Tuesday, regular meeting date, in the new Hotel that will be used henceforth, a special program will be arranged, and the membership is looking eagerly forward to an exceptionally good meeting.

Among other things discussed at the meeting Tuesday was institution of the "kitty" charity system in the club—something that so far as can be learned here, has never been used. By this means the club would distribute in nickels and dimes each month a sum limited only by the number of members attending the meetings. No final decision, however, was made in the matter.

The club heard a continuation of discussion of problems in the Philippine Islands by Dr. W. N. Lemmon, who spent several years on the Islands with the U. S. medical service. Dr. Lemmon's talk today touched on the sugar question on the Islands, and was heartily enjoyed by those in attendance.

An appeal is going out from Vaughn C. Wilson, President of the club, that every member attend the meeting next Tuesday, and in line with his comments on the future for the club here, he said that he had the pleasure the past week of representing the national organization in conferring a charter on the Exchange club at Amarillo, another live unit in West Texas.

sharply.

"He was not engaged to marry Miss Negri," said Miss Benda. "You'll notice that all the statements have come from her. He never denied any of them because he was too fine. He did think a great deal of her."

"We had a discussion on marriage recently, and he told me that he would not marry again until he was ready to give up his career. Then he would settle down to domestic life."

"Wild Party" Denied
As for rumors that they had been to a "wild party" the night before Valentino went to the hospital, Miss Benda said:

"We went to Texas Guinan's and had a marvelous time dancing and when we were there a while Rudolph told me he wanted to get out. We left and he took me home and then left me."

Valentino died of septic poisoning that entered his heart and lungs. Internal disorders which brought about his death began six weeks ago, his physicians explained.

Brother Enroute Here
The star's brother, Alberto Guglielmi, is on the way from Italy to give orders as to the disposal of the body and his attorney and friend, Michael Komana, is coming from Chicago to take charge of his estate.

One estimate is that Valentino left an estate of $750,000. Joseph M. Schenck, head of the United Artists Film corporation, said Valentino had spent nearly every cent of $1,000,000 he made last year under his contract, or $200,000 and one-fourth of the gross receipts from his pictures. Reports that his life was insured for $1,000,000 in favor of Mr. Schenck were declared erroneous; he was insured for $200,000 in favor of the company.

Valentino's first big picture, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," brought in $6,000,000, and his most popular picture, "The Sheik," was viewed by 125,000,000 people throughout the world.

H. T. McKnight, of Dallas, representative of the Olds Motor Works, is in Lubbock for a short time, having accompanied C. H. Elliott, of the Elliott Oldsmobile Co., of this city, home from Dallas. Mr. Elliott says that West Texas looks better than all other parts of the state.

ATHENS, Aug. 24. (AP) — Admiral Comdouritis has decided to resume the presidency until the new elections can be held. This is regarded by all classes as an important step toward the improvement of the domestic situation.

Houston Monday evening. Moody called attention to the Governor's statement and said:

"This statement is attributed to the Governor, though as usual it is Jim Ferguson talking. He says that I am a party to a scheme to move the penitentiary system to Williamson county. I want to say two things in reply to that: First—the first time I ever heard of such a plan, the first time I have seen such a suggestion anywhere was when I read the Ferguson statement in the paper. Second—I don't know of a place in any part of Williamson county where they could put the penitentiary without raising protest from the people of Williamson county. The whole thing is just another of Jim Ferguson's campaign misrepresentations.

Jim Ferguson does not know how to bow to the will of the people. He is a tyrant in victory and a whiner in defeat."

This evening Mr. Ferguson is scheduled to speak at Galveston. Moody will speak this evening at Gilmer, at 7 o'clock, and in the evening at Tyler.

Attorney Work Hard
The race for attorney general waxed warmer as the primary draws near. Both Claude Pollard, of Houston, and his opponent, James V. Alfred of Wichita Falls are carrying on intensive speaking campaigns. Pollard was high man in the first primary.

In the only other state office a issue, state treasurer, W. Gregory Hatcher, incumbent, and J. R. Ball are the contestants. Mr. Hatcher is making an active speaking campaign.
