

Greyhound to resume full operation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Greyhound strikers grumbled about concessions even after they overwhelmingly voted to end a seven-week strike, as the company vowed to resume full service by Wednesday and Trailways said it will match the larger bus line's new discounts.

"I'm just glad it's over," said Harry Rosenblum, president of the Council of Greyhound Local Unions, a division of the Amalgamated Transit Union. He announced late Monday that the contract was approved 7,404 to 2,596 in nationwide balloting. "I am not happy with it," Rosenblum said. "It was a game of hardball and they played harder ball than we did."

Some returning Greyhound workers said that only financial hardship made them ratify the three-year pact, which included a 7.8 percent cut in wages.

The nation's largest bus line had said it needed the concessions to remain competitive with other carriers and cut-rate airlines.

"We're shocked, disappointed, dismayed," said Rick Ash, a spokesman for local 1205 of the ATU in Boston. "We were out on the street for seven weeks for absolutely nothing. We've been sold out."

Newly hired employees who had been providing limited service during the walkout will continue to work but will be the first laid off once the busy season ends in January, company officials said.

C.S. Robinson of Los Angeles, whose Southern California local includes 1,200 drivers, said the reason for the strong margin of approval in the latest vote was that "time was against us."

"Greyhound would have been very happy to continue with the skeleton crew in January, February and March, when there never is much business anyway," Robinson said in Phoenix.

The tentative pact was approved Dec. 3 in Washington by the 31-member governing council of the ATU's Greyhound locals. Calling for wage cuts of 7.8 percent, a 4 percent employee contribution to the pension plan and other concessions, it was described as an improvement over a company offer the membership rejected late last month by a 96.4 percent "no" vote. Ballots were mailed Dec. 7-8.

About 7,500 union members are bus drivers. Greyhound said they earned $35,744 annually in wages and benefits under the old contract.

The bus company said the pact will save it $160 million over three years.

Full service will mean 2,000 daily runs in all 48 contiguous states, said John W. Teets, Greyhound Corp. chairman.

The firm will offer riders a "one-third off" coupon for travel between Jan. 10 and April 1, he said. Charter discounts and other promotions were also planned.

Trailways, which added bus runs and recalled furloughed workers after the strike began, hopes additional discounts planned for next year "will keep business up to the point that the layoffs will not be necessary," he said.

Q. — What happened to SCAT's cable TV service Monday night?

A. — A sequence of events is blamed for the outage with approximately 80 percent of the cable system off from around 6:15 p.m. until 8:50 p.m. Around 6:15 p.m., a truck's poles became entangled in overhead power lines north of the city. A relay switch for the TESCO lines kicked in and prevented a temporary electrical failure. The power surge caused by this was sufficient to flip a SCAT relay switch located at a main line, however. Cable company officials say the extreme cold caused this relay switch to stick. This in turn caused the temporary loss of cable service.

In Brief

News conference tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan will hold his 21st formal White House news conference tonight, spokesman Larry Speakes announced. The three major commercial television networks will carry it live.

Speakes said Monday the session with reporters will be held at 8 p.m. EST in an auditorium in the Old Executive Office Building next door to the White House. Extensive Christmas decorations in the East Room, customarily used for news conferences, made that location infeasible.

Local

Chamber meets at 4 p.m.

The December meeting for Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors is slated for 4 p.m. Tuesday. Agenda items listed include: a capital equipment update; business development report; leadership program report; and a nomination committee report.

Cotton bales burn at Ira

Two fire department units were dispatched Tuesday around 6:30 a.m. to a cotton bale fire reported at the Ira Gin.

Fire officials say approximately 20 cotton bales were lost. The bales were located on the gin yard and no damage was reported except to the bales.

Mapping plan due meeting

A discussion is due here Tuesday regarding the possible addition of a computer mapping system to be used by both Scurry County Appraisal District and City of Snyder personnel.

Governing board members for both entities are to meet for a discussion session Tuesday at city hall. The meeting is to begin at 5:30 p.m.

Teletype bid accepted

The lone bid of $5,564 was accepted by Scurry County Commissioners Monday to purchase teletype equipment for the county sheriff's office.

The bid was submitted by the RCA Corp. of Arlington.

United Way drive ends

The 1983 United Way campaign drew to a close Tuesday with a final report of $69,289—some $7,000 short of the goal.

The amount of funds raised, however, is the amount collected during the 1982 campaign. United Way President Rex Robinson said budgets for United Way agencies would be trimmed by a prorata share.

Campaign chairman Roy McQueen said he still expects some money to come in over the next few months and noted that some packets have not been returned. However, the amount is still expected to fall short of the goal.

Chamber come and go set

A come and go open house will be conducted Tuesday from 5 until 6 p.m. at the Snyder chamber of commerce office.

All interested individuals are invited to attend and refreshments will be served.

Yule project toys distributed today

The pickup of Christmas toys for needy youngsters here began Tuesday morning and was to continue through the afternoon and again Wednesday morning.

The distribution point is at the Mode O'Day building located on the south side of the courthouse square.

Tuesday's schedule was from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. The toys will be given out Wednesday also from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Project sponsor David Hines said approximately 185 forms requesting the toys had been submitted. He reminded locals that the individual signing these requests is the one responsible for picking up the toys.

It is estimated some 500 county youngsters will benefit from the local Christmas project.

Entities given bank tax paid dating to 1980

By DONNY L. BROWN
SDN Managing Editor

Three years worth of tax payments from two local banks — paid into an escrow account since 1980 pending the outcome of a lawsuit initiated by Dallas-based financial institutions — has now been distributed among Snyder-based taxing entities.

A decision last Oct. 18 by Scurry County Appraisal District board members set the stage for this payment. This decision followed a U.S. Supreme Court ruling in July which addressed how bank stock should be taxed.

This ruling essentially found that "direct governmental securities" owned by banks can't be included as taxable bank assets. In the case of the two Snyder banks, such federal securities primarily involved treasury bills.

The lawsuit — which was initiated by the Dallas-based institutions and later joined into by both West Texas State and Snyder National Bank here — hinged on whether these governmental securities should be counted among the bank's assets for taxing purposes.

The Supreme Court ruling essentially directed that these securities be removed from the assets.

Pending the outcome of the lawsuit, the two local banks had paid some $261,133 in taxes into an escrow account. This is the amount owed using the disputed tax computation formula.

Following the Supreme Court decision — with all T-bills removed from the assets — the bank's tax bill for the period was reduced to approximately $139,000.

Since the disputed tax values involved only Snyder banks, the money deposited into the escrow account has been distributed among Snyder-based taxing entities only.

First National Bank here was not involved in the lawsuit since it was not officially opened when local banks joined the statewide lawsuit.

The exact figures for tax payments received equals $138,759. Broken down into entities, the payment in-

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The amount of gasoline sold through full-service pumps is directly related to the chill factor."

We're just not prepared for cold weather in Texas. Although it occurs most every year, we Texans confidently battle the elements by staying close to the fire.

Even staying indoors can be hazardous, so we found. It all started about bedtime. It was miserable outdoors with snow, sleet and winds causing the chill factor to reach the minus 20 reading at various times.

We moved to put the cat out, only to hear a roar of protests from the rest of the family. It didn't take long to realize we were outnumbered should we call the issue to a vote, and it was too late for a filibuster speech.

We did admit that the cat looked rather cozy on the living room sofa. Had we dozed off the same way in front of the TV, there would have been a wave of snide comments.

We had just dozed off when we felt the cat jump on the bed, and it was too cold to move out of the warm spot. The cat decided it would share the warm spot and we felt it snuggle up against our back. When we failed to return the snuggle, it reached up and bit us on the back of the neck.

Can you imagine trying to explain a hicky on the back of the neck to the Stinson coffee crowd. We leaped out of bed and headed for the door to toss the feline into the elements. Again came a passionate plea, "Just put it in the bathroom and close the door."

The worst injury was yet to come. Some hours later we got up to make a trip to the bathroom and ran head first into a door that is never shut. This time, without comment, the cat went outdoors to brave the elements. The cat did shudder, but we don't know if it was from the cold or from fear.

After all those Christmas purchases, one local explained that "All that I am or ever hope to be, I owe."

Arctic cold spell continues, no relief in sight

From Local, Wire Reports

Snyder and Scurry County remain in the grip of an icy cold spell which produced a low of nine degrees Monday night. The high during the day was 18 degrees while Tuesday morning's 7 a.m. reading was a very chilly 13 degrees.

Holiday shoppers and others continue to bundle up as they go about their business as the current cold spell shows no sign of abating.

One man died and more than 160 automobile wrecks were reported on icy Dallas-area roads as frigid air produced record low temperatures and put fuel company workers on overtime.

Temperatures were expected to warm some today, but snow and ice still was in the forecast for much of North and West Texas.

Lone Star Gas Co. cut off fuel allotments Monday for electric-power generating plants and reduced gas by 75 percent to low-priority industrial customers to meet residential demand, with the official start of winter still two days away. Generating plants switched to other fuels, such as oil.

A 16-inch gas main break in Fort Worth left about 150 homes without fuel for about eight hours this morning, Lone Star spokesman Breck Harris said.

The rupture also forced the utility to ask industrial customers in the Fort Worth and Arlington area to curtail usage until service was rerouted and the early morning residential crunch for gas eased, Harris said.

A 20-year-old Lewisville man died in an accident on Lake Dallas Bridge in Denton about 2:40 a.m. Monday, police said. Severe weather was also blamed for the death of an 8-year-old girl Sunday in Grandview whose house burned after her mother tried to use a stove for heat.

America's heartland shivered into its fourth day of record-breaking cold as a frigid blast from the Arctic sent chills from the Pacific to the Potomac today, stalling cars, bursting pipes, closing schools and causing at least 19 deaths.

With temperatures well below zero across the northern third of the nation, the National Weather Service predicted that scattered snow would add insult to injury from the Rockies to the Great Lakes. But falling flakes were only a sidelight to the main show — a miserably stagnant deep freeze that covered much of the country.

Forty-seven cities reported low temperatures that tied or broke records for the date on Monday, including such cold spots as Eau Claire, Wis., with 31 below, Rochester, Minn., with 33 below, Mason City, Iowa, with 26 below, and Williston, N.D., with 40

Harrison, Wis., took the day's icy trophy with a low of 44 below.

Strong winds made it feel even colder, and the National Weather Service in Bismarck, N.D., warned that the wind chill could plunge to a staggering 70 below zero today.

The cold spell's staying power has some folks wondering if it will ever warm up. Iowans are asking not if there will be a white Christmas, but "if we're going to have a white Fourth of July," said state climatologist Paul Waite.

Extortionist given 100 years in all

HOUSTON (AP) — A man convicted of planting bombs at a refinery as part of $15 million extortion plot argued that he has never been a menace to society and contended his 20-year prison term is punishment, not rehabilitation.

Theodore Duane McKinney, 46, was sentenced to 20 years in prison Monday for his part in a scheme to extort the money from the Gulf Oil Chemical Co. by placing five bombs at a plant east of Houston.

"I don't feel that I am now or have ever been a threat to society," McKinney said.

U.S. District Judge Gabrielle McDonald assessed sentences that totaled 100 years against McKinney, but ruled that the terms would run concurrently with a 20-year sentence on the first count of a federal indictment.

"It's not for rehabilitation," Ms. McDonald said. "It's simply for punishment."

Ms. McDonald pronounced the sentence despite testimony from a clinical psychologist, Dr. Floyd Lee Jennings, who said McKinney would be an excellent candidate for probation.

Jennings said McKinney tended to place far too much trust in his friends. "I regret deeply some of my associations regardless of how unintentional they were," McKinney said.

The psychologist, Jennings, said McKinney was used to life in the West and said it was not unusual that there were several rifles and a shotgun in the trunk of his car when he was arrested.

"And grenades," I assume, are just one step above those usual munitions," prosecutor Ron Woods responded.

McKinney and Michael Worth were arrested Oct. 1 at a Phoenix, Ariz., phone booth. Prosecutors said the two were talking to Gulf officials, giving them information about where to drop the money.

Two grenades were found beneath a cactus near the Arizona location where McKinney and Worth were arrested.

McKinney argued that he was forced to join the scheme because codefendant John McBride threatened to harm his wife.

McKinney was the only one of the five defendants to go to trial.

The other four pleaded guilty to a portion of the 12-count indictment and received sentences ranging from five years' probation to 40 years in prison.

Extortionists threatened to blow up the billion-dollar plant 30 miles east of Houston unless they were paid $15 million in late September 1982.

Five explosives were found at the plant. One exploded harmlessly. The others were defused safely.

Gulf closed the facility for five days, but no other explosives were found.

McBride testified for the government against McKinney as part of his plea bargain arrangement. He denied threatening McKinney's wife.

McKinney, who taught biology from 1973 until 1976 at the University of Texas at San Antonio, had been expected to testify.

But his attorney decided against letting McKinney take the stand when prosecutors said they would introduce pending charges against him in a 1982 gold theft.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please put a few words in your column about the importance of having a will. My father died without leaving one because Mother didn't want to scare him by letting him know that he was sick enough to die.

Of course, Dad wanted Mother to have everything, but after he died, Mother had to go through a lot of fancy footwork to settle his affairs. Having gone through all of this, wouldn't you think she would have her own will drawn up? Well, she hasn't, and she is getting on in years. My sister, who is married to an attorney, called me "greedy and crass" for reminding Mother to have her will drawn up. Mother has asked her attorney son-in-law repeatedly to please get together with her to do it, but he keeps telling her there is no hurry and he's too busy right now. (My sister told me that she and her husband don't have wills either. Can you believe this?)

I am not concerned about my own inheritance, but my mother has a lot in assets, and I don't want to see it lost in taxes. What should I do?

CONCERNED DAUGHTER

DEAR CONCERNED: Tell your mother to give her attorney son-in-law the following message: "If you can't get together with me within the next two weeks, I intend to find an attorney who will." And if he doesn't—she should.

DEAR ABBY: This year I thank God my husband has a steady paycheck coming in and our family will spend the holidays with many loved ones. Our table will be filled with plenty to eat and our children will open many gifts.

I am not unappreciative, just a bit guilt-ridden because I know many families will go hungry and no Santa will visit their kids.

Feeling as I do, I called our parish priest and asked him to find a family we could help during the holidays. He said he knew of a family in desperate need and any help we could provide would be an answer to their prayers.

So my husband and I and our two children are shopping for "our family." Now instead of hearing, "I want," we hear, "Let's get this for them."

Abby, if every fortunate family were to help a family or person in need, it would be a better holiday season for everyone.

G.K.S.

DEAR G.K.S.: Thank you for a great idea.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Jerry and Me" could have been written by me 30 years ago. I was also 15 and madly in love with a 20-year-old man. My parents did everything they could to keep us apart, so I got pregnant on purpose so they would have to let us get married.

I was still 15 when our first child was born, and 17 when we had our second. Six weeks later my husband was sent to Italy with the U.S. Air Force and I was left behind to care for our two babies. Six months later my husband was badly brain damaged in a car accident, and 10 months after that he was killed in another car accident.

At 19 I was a widow with two children, no education and no job skills. I'll spare you the details of those awful years of struggling to survive and make a life for the three of us. Suffice it to say that I became an old lady before I became a woman. Worst of all, I broke my mother's heart. (She died at 55.)

I would like to tell that 15-year-old girl who can't wait to get married: You have a lifetime to be an adult. Once your childhood is gone you can never get it back. The horrors I endured before I turned 21 nearly ruined my life. Listen to Abby. If you are in love, it will last. At 45 I am only beginning to get my life together. I sincerely hope you will not make the same mistake I made. Sign this ...

Police arrest captain

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Police arrested a Salvadoran army captain accused by subordinates of ordering the killing of two American land reform advisers in 1981, the captain's brother says.

Elsewhere in Central America, government troops battled an estimated 2,000 CIA-backed rebels in northern Nicaragua, and four Latin American foreign ministers planned to meet today in Panama City in another effort to bring peace to the troubled region.

The foreign ministers are from Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia and Panama, known as the Contadora group. They have met periodically since last Jan. 1, pressing for demilitarization of Central America and an end to outside involvement in the region's conflicts.

The Contadora group is seeking the withdrawal of several hundred U.S. military advisers from Honduras and El Salvador and several thousand Cuban advisers from Nicaragua.

National police in San Salvador arrested army Capt. Eduardo Alfonso Avila on Monday, brother Julio Enrique Avila told The Associated Press, claiming the arrest was made at the insistence of the FBI. U.S. Embassy and national police sources refused to confirm or deny the report.

The reported arrest was in connection with the murders of American land reform advisers Michael Hammer and Mark Pearlman, who were gunned down along with Rodolfo Viera, the head of El Salvador's land reform agency, on Jan. 3, 1981, in the Sheraton Hotel coffee shop in San Salvador.

National guardsmen Jose Dimas Valle and Santiago Gomez Gonzalez, arrested and still awaiting trial for the murders, have claimed that Avila and national guard Lt. Isidro Lopez Sibrian ordered them to kill the three men.

Avila and Lopez Sibrian previously were arrested briefly, but a court ordered them released in October 1982 for lack of evidence.

The Reagan administration has been pressuring President Alvaro Magana's conservative government to crack down on rightist death squads operating in El Salvador or risk losing millions of dollars in U.S. aid to help it win the stalemated four-year-old war against leftist guerrillas.

At Wit's End

by erma bombeck

Remember the column on the Super Moms who are making life tough for the rest of us?

Well, according to the mail, the overachievers are coming out of the closet waving a white flag (bleached and soft to the touch, of course) of surrender.

Most of them, dazed by years of inhaling too much wax and deodorant, confess they don't know what happened. One day they were wide-eyed brides full of hope and promise and the next thing they knew they were fighting cavities, snapping green beans while calling 15 mothers to chaperone a field trip to a meat-packing plant, and waging a war against ring-around-the-collar.

A reformed Super Mom from New York wrote she never realized how far she had fallen until one day she realized she was working nights, was lunch room mother, reorganizing the school library and ate her lunch from samples in the supermarket as she shopped.

She was almost killed when a crazed mother at an Easter egg hunt which she engineered neary trampled her in an attempt to find the specially marked eggs that won the children a 10-cent harmonica.

She lost the respect of her own mother when she conned her into making 35 paper tassels to go with the cardboard mortar boards for the graduates of a nursery school.

When she became depressed one night, her husband said, "You oughta get out of the house more and keep busy." He volunteered her for the Ladies Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus.

One night she dragged home and discovered her son was hanging around the house with nothing to do, so she opened a teen center to keep him busy. She presided over it every Friday for the next two years.

Finally, she did the only thing she could do to save herself. She sold her car. As she wrote, "If anyone wants me to leave home, they have to bus me."

Other letters didn't have such happy endings. One moter wrote, "I didn't realize what I had become. I was just trying to do my job when my husband left me with three children under 13. It cost me. I've only had three dates in 12 years. My teeth are crooked and I can't afford to have them fixed. I've only had one vacation and that's when I cashed in an old insurance policy that I split with my college-age daughter."

But the best letter was from a woman who wrote, "I'm just a woman who cares about my children and what happens to them. There just aren't enough hours in the day. On the night as I was conceiving our third daughter, I was mentally planning a brunch for 10 people. Am I Super Mom?"

In order to comply with the Federal Communication Commission's (FCC) Computer Inquiry II (CI-II) order and subsequent FCC Orders or rulings, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWB) has filed with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) an Application for transfer of certain assets to American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T), and/or its subsidiaries.

This Application affects the provision of customer premise equipment (CPE) throughout SWB's service area in the state of Texas. Effective with the implementation of this transfer of facilities, which is expected to be on January 1, 1984, CPE equipment previously provided by SWB, under tariff, will be detariffed and as of that date will be offered to customers by AT&T and/or its subsidiaries in accordance with the order in FCC Docket No. 81-893.

The FCC's order also provides that this embedded CPE shall be offered to in-place customers on a sale or lease basis for 24 month transition period. The order further outlines the rates and conditions under which these sale or lease plans may be carried out.

For the purposes of this Application, SWB has filed proposed tariffs with the PUC, anticipated to be effective January 1, 1984, withdrawing its offerings of such customer premise equipment.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Man hopes elf will become famous as Rudolph

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — Julie, 12, and her younger sister Jennifer, 10, stopped giggling for five minutes — long enough to assume the stance of serious recording artists. They readied their voices, waited for their father's cue, and for the 100th time became elves:

"Come on, Pokey! Wake up!"

"Christmas is coming and you gotta get to work, c'mon Pokey! Wake up!"

Several months later, both still can go into their "elf routine" on command. Jennifer was only 3 years old when her father, Billy Feltman of Lufkin, wrote the song and story "Pokey the Lazy Elf" that was later to become a family project in record-making in this East Texas city.

Pokey, whom Feltman refers to as if a family member, was published Dec. 25, 1976 in the Lufkin Daily News. Since then, it has become a popular Christmas tale with area grade school students.

"I heard one first-grade teacher read it to her class and they actually clapped when Pokey pulled through in the end," Feltman said.

Written in the Aesop's fable tradition of a lesson to be learned, the story is of Santa's one lazy elf who would rather sleep than make toys. It has a happy ending when Santa Claus has a heart-to-heart talk with Pokey, telling him some children will not receive gifts this year unless the elf pulls through. In the end, Pokey rallies through the night to get the job done.

But the story behind the making of the record is similar in that the Feltmans really had to work hard to get their project on the market for the 1983 holiday season. The song is, as Feltman describes it, "kind of jazzy, with piano, sleigh bells in the end and elves in the beginning."

"We hadn't planned for the girls' voices; it just happened and I thought, 'Why not get the whole family into the act?'" Feltman said of the ad-libbing style in which they recorded the song.

The elves are played by Feltman's two daughters, the singing is done by Feltman, and his wife Brenda, an elementary school music teacher, plays the recorder on the flip side, a madrigal-style song called Christmas-time.

"I wrote the song first and the story came from that and I can't really remember how the whole thing began," said Feltman, who is primarily a country-western songwriter.

The difficulties in recording the song came in finding a place to record close enough to home. And finally the mountain moved when Crystal Brook Recording Studio opened in Lufkin earlier this year. The Feltmans seized their chance and became one of the first to cut a record in the studio. That, Feltman says, is the only reason it took him seven years to make his first recording.

Feltman estimates it took three weeks to finish the record once they began work on it in October. Currently he is marketing the song in stores locally and in Port Arthur and says it seems to be catching on. It sells for about $1.95.

"I was out at the deer lease last weekend and played my guitar for some kids there, and I think the best experience I had with the song was when they came back the next day and sang it for me," Feltman said.

Feltman has been involved in music since his Port Arthur high school days in the early 1960s, when he temporarily changed his name, performing as "Billy King and the Chessmen." The name change, Feltman said, was necessary to placate his mother, who did not approve of his professional singing at 16 years old. The Chessmen was an eight-piece band of horns, saxophone, drums and Feltman, who said they played mostly soul music of the late 1950s.

Since then, his interests have been in writing mostly country-western songs. Until a little more than a year ago, he performed his songs locally with piano player Ken Poston, who also supplies piano music for "Pokey."

Currently, Feltman is a supervising counselor with the Texas Vocational Rehabilitation Counsel.

"I've written lots of country and western songs that have, I think, potential. I want to record some of those in January," Feltman said.

A great deal of famous songwriters began as part-time musicians and Feltman said that although Pokey is his first recording, he hopes to someday "make it big."

"Ideally, yes; I think that's the hope of every songwriter. It is the American dream. And there's always a chance of that happening if you have something recorded."

"I don't want much, really. Just for Pokey to be as well known as Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer."

Small shuttle blaze did not pose problems

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The small fire that broke out in the rear of the Shuttle Columbia as it returned to Earth Dec. 8 was quickly snuffed and posed no danger to the six-man crew, reports mission commander John Young.

Nor was the crew jeopardized by computer and navigation aid problems in the final hours of the flight, Young told a news conference Monday.

"No, we weren't in any problem," he said. "The people on the ground did a great job keeping us out of trouble."

He said the fire was doused by an automatic safety system and the astronauts didn't even know about it until the day after the landing.

Many questions at the two-hour post-flight conference were directed at the three problems, but the space men preferred to discuss the merits of the European-built spacelab and the 72 science and technology experiments conducted in that $1 billion workshop mounted in Columbia's cargo bay.

Young, who has made six space flights, more than any other man, said he probably won't make another one.

At 53, he said, it's "getting harder and harder" and he is returning to his job as head of the astronaut office at Johnson Space Center.

Young said that as astronaut director he will be kept busy in 1984 with 10 or 11 shuttle flights scheduled and another astronaut selection process to increase the size of the present 77-person astronaut corps.

The four scientists on the flight—West, German Ulf Merbold, Owen Garriott, Byron Lichtenberg and Robert Parker—said a massive amount of science and technology data had been gathered in astronomy, life sciences, atmospheric physics, materials processing and other fields.

It could be weeks or months before many of the results are known, they said.

"We have shown the world that humans can effectively do meaningful science work in space," said Lichtenberg, a biomedical engineer from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Spacelab really proved itself as an orbiting laboratory," said Parker, an astronomer. "The Europeans should be congratulated," said Garriott, an electrical engineer.

Merbold, a physicist from Stuttgart, West Germany, said he was very excited with the scientific results but criticized NASA for not letting the Europeans make greater free use of the spacelab which they built and donated to the American space transportation system.

"The return to Europe should be more," Merbold said. "Spacelab is designed for 50 flights, and NASA's return to Europe is just one half of one mission. The politicians of Europe won't be able to sell (future cooperative space programs with the U.S.) without a greater return."

"For the future," he said, "I would like to see the United States of America and the European Space Agency sign a paper to build a space station. If Europe says it will fund 25 percent, they should get a 25 per cent share of its use."

European experiments will fly on future spacelab missions but they will have to pay NASA's shuttle transportation fee to put them on board.

With Columbia and spacelab working so well, a mission control extended the mission from nine to 10 days.

SCLSA has holiday luncheon

Scurry County Legal Secretaries Assn. met Dec. 12 for a Christmas luncheon in the home of Trudy Wood, manager of Scurry County Abstract Co. Maxie Cain, a new Snyder attorney in the office of Mike Line, was welcomed as a guest.

Also honored was SCLSA secretary Linda Wright as she was presented with gifts during a surprise baby shower after the luncheon.

Plans were made for some members to attend a paralegal seminar in Dallas Jan. 20.

Hula hoop boon

PASADENA, Texas (AP) — "Hula Hoops," which once twirled around millions of waists, helped to launch a widely-used plastic.

Phillips Petroleum says that when the Hula Hoop was introduced in the late 1950s, it was trying to perfect a new plastic. Warehouses were filling up with inventory.

As the hoop's popularity skyrocketed, toy manufacturers desperate for plastic turned to Phillips. Not only were the warehouses emptied, but the plant's entire output for almost six months was sold.

Pass the shrimp

Shrimp is every dieter's delight since it can be prepared in so many low-calorie, interesting ways. Here's one called Easy-Tangy Shrimp that is a mere 155 calories per serving. Ingredients: 1 pound medium shrimp, shelled and deveined; 1 tablespoon oil; 2 tablespoons soy sauce; 2 teaspoons vinegar; 2 tablespoons ketchup; 2 teaspoon sugar; 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger; 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt and 2 scallions with tops, chopped. In a medium-sized skillet saute shrimp in the oil over a low heat for 4 minutes. Then add the rest of the ingredients and stir until completely mixed. Simmer, uncovered, for 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

A freak hand in good hands

Freak hands produce freak results. There is no way to know the correct action, because they don't occur often enough to yield real experience.

We aren't going to try to criticize the bidding of today's hand except to point out that West might well have gone to seven clubs, where he couldn't lose many points. When he passed six spades around to East, we surely can't find any fault with his double of the spade slam.

South took his ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond with dummy's eight of trumps. Then he led the nine of trumps. East ducked and when West showed out, South abandoned trump play to go after hearts.

He led dummy's king and West showed out. The four of hearts came next. East played his nine and South the queen. Another diamond was ruffed high and the five of hearts played. It didn't matter what East did. South could win appropriately and ruff his last diamond with another one of dummy's high trumps.

Now all South had to do was to lead another trump. East got his ace, but South

A good way to use a small amount of leftover pumpkin.
1 cup unbleached all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 cup butter (1/2 of a 1/4-pound stick)
1/2 cup sugar
1 large egg
1/2 cup canned solid-pack pumpkin
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chopped (medium fine) walnuts
On wax paper or in a small bowl thoroughly stir together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg. In a medium bowl cream butter and sugar; beat in egg, then pumpkin, until blended. Add flour mixture and stir until blended. Fold in raisins and walnuts. Drop by level measuring tablespoonsfuls, 2 inches apart, onto buttered cookie sheets. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until bottoms are golden brown — 12 to 15 minutes. Store in a tightly covered container to keep soft. Makes about 3 dozen.

Studley resigns as Oilers coach

HOUSTON (AP) - Chuck Studley, the most recent former Houston Oilers coach, planned a job interview with Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula today and he won't go into town wearing a Halloween mask.

Studley resigned his Oilers position Monday when it became obvious that he would not receive serious consideration as the permanent replacement for Ed Biles, who resigned Oct. 10.

And it didn't take long for Studley to line up a job interview with Shula, who is seeking a new defensive coordinator.

The Oilers finished the season with a 2-14 record but Studley leaves the job with his head high and convinced he did the best he could under dire circumstances.

"They'll know I'm in Miami tomorrow," Studley said Monday after announcing his resignation. "I won't be wearing a Halloween mask. I don't feel badly. I'm disappointed but not depressed and I'm comfortable with my knowledge of football."

Studley took charge of a team that was on its way to a 17-game losing streak. He had to face a confrontation with the team's star running back, Earl Campbell, who asked to be traded.

He had to contend with the criticism of outspoken Oilers linebacker Gregg Bingham.

The Oilers finished 2-8 under Studley and despite the adversity, said he'd do it all over again.

"Sure, it's been very interesting and rewarding," Studley said. "I think I am a better coach because of it. If nothing else, I'll be more aware of what it's like to be a head coach. It can be a lonely job."

"I was used to having camaraderie with the assistant coaches. Now they avoid me like a leper. I'd like to get it back the way it was."

Studley said he drove home from the airport Sunday following a 20-10 loss to Baltimore with Oilers General Manager Ladd Herzog and Studley met Sunday night following the loss to the Colts, Studley said.

"He told me at that time it was not his intention to rehire me as coach," Studley said. "There was talk about me being a candidate for the job but I didn't want to sit around and see how this thing comes out. There might be other positions available."

Studley said he merely wanted to know as soon as possible about his status.

"It was not an ultimatum by any means," he said. "Ladd was driving the car and I didn't want to get him too excited."

Herzog said Studley, along with assistant coaches Kay Dalton, Andy Bourgeois, Vic Rapp, Elijah Pitts, Ralph Staub and Dick Selcer, were free to seek jobs with other clubs.

Offensive line Coach Bill Walsh signed a long term contract last season and will remain with the club, Herzog said, adding that he hoped the new coach would consider defensive backs coach Ken Houston for a job.

SHS cagers resume action this evening

Snyder High School varsity and junior varsity basketball teams return to action this evening, here and on the highway.

Coach Ken Housden's girls travel to Pecos to play their second District 2-4A contest of the season, while Larry Scott's boys entertain non-district foe Midland at Scurry County Coliseum.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students at either site.

Housden's girls are 4-5 for the season and 0-1 in district play after losing their loop opener to highly-touted Andrews last week. In Pecos, the junior varsity game begins at 6; the varsity game at approximately 7:30.

The boys welcome defending Canyon Reef Tournament champion Midland High, a team coached by former SHS mentor Jack Stephenson.

Tipoff is 6:15 for the junior varsity contest. The varsity game will follow immediately. A sophomore game had been scheduled also, but has since been cancelled.

The boys, who do not open district play until Jan. 3, are 3-10 for the season.

Final loss does it...

Packers' Starr fired

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - Nine years of patience with the often lackluster performance of the Green Bay Packers ended abruptly with the firing of coach Bart Starr.

As a record-breaking quarterback in the 1960s, he led the Green Bay Packers to National Football League championships under coach Vince Lombardi. But after taking over in 1974 as coach, he was able to get the club into the playoffs only one season.

"I haven't enjoyed enough victories here, so thus I am being relieved of my duties," Starr, 49, said Monday. "I have no regrets ... I grew up here and became a man as a player."

Club president Robert J. Parins announced Starr's dismissal even before the 45-member board of directors had convened its annual postseason meeting to discuss Starr's contractual future.

He said Starr's immediate coaching staff also was dismissed.

Had the Packers defeated the Chicago Bears Sunday and qualified for the National Football Conference playoffs, "we wouldn't have been here today," Parins told a press conference when asked about the significance of the 23-21 season-ending loss.

Parins said he probably "will make the final decision" on hiring a Starr successor, and that the club had no immediate prospects.

The Packers were 8-8 this season. They finished 8-8 in 1981, their best won-lost record since 1978.

Two more leave Texas ailing cage program

AUSTIN (AP) - Two more Texas Longhorn basketball players have quit the squad, which now includes only eight healthy scholarship players, and five of those are freshmen.

On Monday, senior forward Don Ellis of Detroit and freshman guard Mike Hess of Newport Beach, Calif., two part-time starters, left the team.

Their departure continues a pattern that began after Bob Weltlich was hired as Texas coach in the spring of 1982.

From May 1982 to January 1983, four players quit the Texas team, and Weltlich dismissed another for attitude problems. Weltlich was hired from Mississippi to replace Abe Lemons, who had been fired.

This season's defections started with the loss of senior forward Bill Wendlandt, the team's leading scorer and most valuable player in 1982-83.

Weltlich said he wasn't really surprised when Hess quit.

"I understand what freshmen go through, being away from home for the first time," said Weltlich.

"It's a disappointment," Weltlich said. "I take it personally when anybody leaves. I don't brush these things off lightly, but the decisions these kids make are not decisions I've made for them.

"It's discouraging, very discouraging, but you just keep going on. There's no easy solution to a rebuilding process, no panacea, no cure-all. Everyone has it happen, some more than others. When you're dealing with a lot of young players and you're not experiencing a lot of success in terms of wins and losses, it makes for a difficult situation, he said.

49ers win big...

Cowboys blitzed again, 42-17

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Lawrence Pillers, who administered a killing blow to the Dallas Cowboys' Super Bowl hopes two years ago, drew first blood in another big San Francisco 49ers' victory.

The 49ers' defensive end grabbed a floating ball, knocked from Danny White's hand, for an interception just a minute and a half into the final game of the National Football League season Monday night.

Pillers ran 16 yards to the Dallas 4-yard line and Joe Montana came through with a touchdown pass, the first of his four in the game. The 49ers were on their way to a 42-17 runaway which gave them a record of 10-6 and the National Conference West title.

Candlestick Park was rocking quickly with the cheers of 59,957 fans. The score was 21-3 after one period, with the 49ers adding touchdowns on Dana McLemore's 56-yard punt return and Freddie Solomon's 77-yard dash after taking a flat pass from Montana.

Monday night's triumph, the 49ers' third straight over Dallas, set up the strong possibility of a Cowboys-49ers playoff game at Candlestick on Jan. 1. The Cowboys, 12-4, will be back in the playoffs if they beat the Los Angeles Rams, NFC West runners-up, in next Monday's wild-card game.

White of the Cowboys said, "We're back in the pack now, just another playoff team. We've got to be considered a longshot for the Super Bowl this time."

"We got our tails whipped in front of the whole world," said defensive end Harvey Martin. "No one wants to come out and play on this sorry field again, but there are no excuses. They scored 42 points."

White, who was intercepted three times in the 31-10 loss to Washington last week, allowed two Monday night and he lost two fumbles.

White passed for 277 yards and one TD, and he reached a season total of 3,980 yards before leaving the game. One of his last passes was intercepted by Eric Wright and returned 48 yards for a touchdown which made the score 35-17.

"It's not like they overpowered us. They just took advantage of our mistakes," White said. "There truly is a problem. We've been bad two weeks in a row now."

His touchdown pass, a 13-yarder to Tony Hill in the third period, gave him a club-record 29 this season.

Just as in the loss to Washington, the Cowboys had very little rushing success. Tony Dorsett, held to 24 yards by the Redskins, managed only 32 against the 49ers.

"We're going to have to sit down and talk among ourselves," Dorsett said. "We've got a fine team and a fine record, but if we're going to win the championship we have to take the long way around."

Redskins' Gibbs named AP Coach of the Year

NEW YORK (AP) - Joe Gibbs, who guided the defending Super Bowl champion Washington Redskins back to the top of the National Football League standings in 1983, was named today The Associated Press Coach of the Year for the second successive season.

Gibbs becomes the first coach since Allie Sherman of the 1961-62 New York Giants to win the award outright two years in a row. Don Shula, now with Miami, was Coach of the Year with the Baltimore Colts in 1967 and 1968, sharing the honor with George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams the first year.

"I'm overwhelmed," Gibbs said when told of his selection. "It's a reflection on the whole team." The Redskins, who during the strike-shortened 1982 season shared the NFL's best record with the Los Angeles Raiders, each at 8-1, finished this year alone at the top with a 14-2 record.

Gibbs' record in his three seasons as Washington's head coach is 30-11, including losses in his first five games, in the Redskins 8-8 finish of 1981.

Gibbs received 33 of the 84 votes cast by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters. His closest challengers were Chuck Noll of the Pittsburgh Steelers, who received 14 votes, and John Robinson, the Rams' rookie head coach, with 10.

Others receiving votes were Dan Reeves of the Denver Broncos (6), Chuck Knox of the Seattle Seahawks, and Shula (5 apiece), Frank Kush of the Baltimore Colts (4), Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys and Tom Flores of the Los Angeles Raiders (3 apiece), and Bum Phillips of the New Orleans Saints (1).

Specially trained Doberman needs home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—This Rocky is no fighter. He's described as a "talker" instead.

And his owner, voice coach Tiffany Meier, is looking for a new home for her 3-year-old Doberman pinscher who became a local celebrity after he appeared on a television program, P.M. Magazine, months ago.

Rocky's owner explains that her health has taken a turn for the worse and she can no longer afford to keep him.

She says she taught him to whine-bark the name of a dog food and other things, including "yes" and "I love you."

She also says he can eat soup with a spoon without spilling a drop, and that Rocky is gentle and well-mannered.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dropped uterus normal

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am 40 and had four pregnancies in my 20s. My gynecologist told me my uterus was more than halfway down and that my bladder needed to be put back where it belonged.

My family doctor, who is a surgeon, said he had never lost a patient by removing healthy tissue and didn't want to start with me. He said everything was low, but it was normal.

My real problem is pain, particularly at the end of intercourse. Sometimes I can't sleep that night and am in agony the next day.

My doctor explained that it is my age and that my ovaries are not producing enough hormones. He prefers to wait until after menopause to put me on hormones. He gave me Motrin and it helps, but I hate taking drugs.

Can you give me some advice before my husband of 25 years begins to look for a new bed partner?

DEAR READER — If you want a second opinion, perhaps you should see another gynecologist, since what you have is a gynecological problem. The condition is fairly common, particularly in women who have had multiple pregnancies. The muscles and ligaments in the pelvic area that support the vagina are overstretched during pregnancy and delivery. Since it is a mechanical problem, it usually has to be repaired by surgery. But of course, not everyone requires surgery.

I doubt your pain is associated with a decrease in hormones if you have not gone through menopause yet. Motrin is simply a pain reliever and in some ways is comparable to aspirin. While it may give you relief from pain, it will not cure or correct any of the disorders you may have.

To give you a better understanding of this common problem, I am sending you The Health Letter 14-12, Hysterectomy, Cystocele and Rectocele. It will diagram for you the basic problem of loss of support in these areas. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it, to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — During a recent examination the doctor told me I had left bundle branch block. I take hydrochlorothiazide with orange juice and try to eat a banana daily to compensate for potassium loss.

My blood pressure is controlled at 120 over 80. I'm 64, weigh 196 pounds and am 6 foot 2. What is left bundle branch block? Is this a heart disease? Will it require open heart surgery? Should I be taking some other medicine? I am concerned about taking a diuretic.

DEAR READER — Left bundle branch block merely means that the normal conduction to the left side of your heart is slowed. This can be caused by an inflammation and scarring of the specialized heart fibers to the left side of the heart or by other disorders, including damage from coronary artery disease.

I have seen it in young healthy individuals and I have seen it in the presence of severe heart disease, so you have to assess its significance on the rest of the medical findings.

At your age, you can be certain you have some changes in the arteries to your heart. And taking moderate amounts of a diuretic, such as you are taking, is a good way to control blood pressure. It should not be a problem for you.

No shots reported to police

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — One resident who heard screams and shots in the dead of night says she didn't call police because she was afraid to turn on a light. Other neighbors awakened by the cries also failed to phone authorities.

Seven hours later, when residents went to investigate, they came across a woman's battered body, buried in a freshly dug grave, littered with broken teeth and blood.

Tampa police spokesman John Barker said he didn't think a phone call by anyone who heard the commotion between 2:30 a.m. and 3:30 a.m. Sunday would have saved the victim, identified as 41-year-old Barbara Duclos.

"I think in this case whoever heard what they heard, had they called us right then, I don't think it would have saved (her)," said Barker.

But an earlier call might have led police to her killer, he said Monday, as investigators continued to search for clues.

Police were summoned to the working-class north Tampa neighborhood, made up mostly of single-family homes, around 10 a.m. Sunday after a resident went to investigate and found the shallow grave in a vacant sandy lot.

Ms. Duclos, an unemployed Tampa resident, had been hit in the face, bloodying her cheekbone and right eye, officials said. An ice pick, broken teeth, a partial set of dentures, a bloodied board and a blood-covered white fur jacket were found scattered around the shallow grave.

A car parked nearby, the driver's door ajar, may have belonged to the victim, Capt. Howard Martinez said.

Police said no further details were available, and a spokesman for the Hillsborough County medical examiner refused to release the findings of an autopsy performed Monday.

Helen Antolochick was one of those awakened by the cries.

"I heard a girl scream 'Help' twice," she said. "I heard two shots. I heard a car. They were running that car very loud."

She said she thought about calling police then, but was afraid to call attention to herself by turning on a light, possibly alerting the assailant that she had heard the noise.

Albert Smith said he heard nothing himself, but around 9:30 a.m. Sunday a neighbor told him about the screams and his daughter said she had heard gunshots.

He and his daughter went looking for signs of trouble and found the foot-deep grave.

"There were teeth on the ground and a set of dentures and fresh dirt that looked like a grave," Smith said.

"There was a white jacket with blood all over it and a blue dress, an ice pick, car keys and a 1-by-6 board with blood on it," he said.

"We can tell there was a struggle," said Homicide Maj. A.B. Hatcher. "The ground's all disturbed."

Union Army Gen. William T. Sherman captured Atlanta, Ga., in 1864, during the Civil War.

World War II ended officially Sept. 1, 1945, when Japan surrendered aboard the U.S. battleship Missouri.

Jacques Cartier died in 1557.

Southwestern Bell proposes optional 'measured service'

AUSTIN (AP) — Telephone customers could elect to pay only three-fourths of their flat rate and then be charged for each call they make under a new "measured rates" plan proposed by Southwestern Bell.

Bell submitted the suggestion Monday to the Public Utility Commission, which is also considering the telephone company's request for a record $1.3 billion rate hike.

Telephone company spokesman Dale Johnson said the proposal for measured rates has nothing to do with the rate hike request.

"We're just saying, 'Here's a proposed measured rate plan. Do with it what you want,'" he said.

Customers could elect to retain the current billing system, in which a flat rate is charged with no limit on the amount of local calls.

The telephone company also proposed a $5-a-month "lifeline" service for poor people who are over 65, similar to a service already offered. There would be no charge for the first 25 calls, but calls beyond that would cost eight cents each.

In a related matter Monday, the state-paid lawyer who represents consumers before the PUC, Jim Boyle, said Southwestern Bell should strip "$26 million in salary increases and other fringe benefits for its executives" from its rate hike request.

Contract awarded to fix jail

AUSTIN (AP) — A contract has been approved to design $5 million in repairs to the new Travis County jail, which a lawyer says had 100 serious design faults when completed this spring.

County commissioners have earmarked $1 million for professional services, including a $350,000 architectural fee approved in a contract with a Mississippi firm Monday, money for a financial adviser and funds for a study that the architects conducted on the locking system at the jail.

Austin attorney Roy Minton, who is representing the county in a lawsuit against five firms that designed and built the 271-cell jail, claims that there are more than 100 major design faults in the building, including 20 related to a $1.3 million automatic locking system.

The county is using its old jail in the courthouse while the new jail stands empty.

What does a clean filter have to do with saving money?

There are lots of ways to save money. One is to check the filter in your heating and cooling unit once a month.

The filter is there to collect dust and lint. But when it's dirty, your unit has to work longer and harder to heat and cool your home. And that leads to higher electric bills.

If your filter is permanent, clean it; if it's disposable, replace it. A clean filter can help you save money all year long.

And those other ways to save? You'll find them in "The Unhandy Person's Guide" from Texas Electric. If you need one, call us — or ask for one on the comments portion of your bill.

PLO boarding 5 Greek ships

TRIPOLI, Lebanon (AP) — PLO chairman Yasser Arafat's besieged loyalists today began boarding five Greek passenger ships which, escorted by French warships, steamed into this northern Lebanese port city to carry them to remote Arabs refugees.

The French ships stood guard outside the harbor as the evacuation operation began in a subdued atmosphere shortly before midday.

A few rifle shots were fired in the air as truckloads of the guerrilla loyalists, estimated to total 4,000, began streaming into the harbor for the evacuation from their last stronghold in Lebanon.

But it was a far cry from the tumultuous send-off that Arafat received from his leftist Lebanese allies 489 days ago, when he evacuated Beirut with about 8,000 guerrillas under U.S.-guaranteed safe passage from the Lebanese capital of Beirut, then besieged by Israeli troops.

The Ionia Glory, with the blue United Nations flag fluttering from her mast, was the first of the five Greek ships to enter the harbor, steaming in at 9:30 a.m. (2:30 a.m. EST). It was followed by the Odysseus Elytis, Naxos, Sadorini and Vergina, which was once named the Dan when it was owned by the Israeli Zim ship line.

There was no trace of the Israeli gunboats that harassed the city with six shelling attacks in the past 10 days. The United States on Monday told Israel that it "hopes and expects" the Israeli attacks would stop so the evacuation could get under way.

Lebanon's state radio in Beirut said the Israeli vessels were watching the operation from a distance, but had made no attempt to interfere.

Earlier in the morning, unidentified jets had streaked over the city as the convoy approached the harbor early today after a half-day trip from Cyprus. The planes drew heavy barrages of anti-aircraft fire from positions north of the harbor.

The explosions rattled across the city, sending

Flynn earns 2nd AF honor

Air Force Capt. Michael D. Flynn, son of Emil D. and Jo B. Flynn of 3501 40th St., has been decorated with the second award of the Meritorious Service Medal at Kelly Air Force Base, Texas.

The MSM is awarded specifically for outstanding non-combat meritorious achievement or service to the United States.

Flynn is a logistics officer with the San Antonio Air Logistics Center.

His wife, Laura, is the daughter of George E. and Arlene T. Ecklen of Houston.

He is a graduate of Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos.

Demo party chairmen attend Austin meeting

Gene Bowlin, Scurry County Democratic Party Chairman, was in Austin recently where he met with Democratic party leaders, including Secretary of State John Fainter, Speaker of the House Gib Lewis and State Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle. The meeting was held to discuss plans for the coming election year.

In conjunction with their meeting, the secretary of state sponsored a seminar to explain changes in the election laws of the State residents diving for cover.

A Christian-controlled radio station in Beirut said Palestine Liberation Organization guerrillas fired at the jets because they thought they were Israelis, but stopped when Arafat's command headquarters said the planes were French, sent on routine reconnaissance in

Cotton

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures No. 2 were mostly lower at midday dealings today.

The average prices for strict low middling 1 & 1/16 inch spot cotton advanced 8 points to 72.98 cents a pound Monday for the eight markets, according to the New York Cotton Exchange.

Midday prices were 15 cents a bale higher to $1.15 higher than the previous close. Mar 78.53, May 79.67, Jul 80.40, Oct 78.78, Mar and May.

advance of the evacuation.

But the French Defense Ministry denied in a communiqué issued in Paris that any French planes had flown over Tripoli today.

The loyalists' departure comes a day before the deadline set by Syrian-backed PLO rebels besieging the city. They have accused Arafat of betraying the Palestinian cause by adopting what they feel is too soft an attitude toward Israel.

The dissidents, who had launched a month-long bloody offensive to oust Arafat from northern Lebanon, had threatened to storm the city of half a million inhabitants if he stayed beyond Wednesday.

The French aircraft carrier Clemenceau and destroyer Armand escorted the five Greek ships from Larnaca, Cyprus, and the port was under heavy Lebanese police patrol when the ships arrived.

A half-dozen Lebanese army trucks piled high with suitcases were seen at the harbor as Arafat's second-in-command, Khalil Wazir, also known as Abu Jihad, inspected the evacuation preparations.

The exodus leaves Arafat without armed fighters in any Arab country bordering Israel. He plans to go to his political headquarters in Tunis, while the bulk of loyalist evacuees head for the Red Sea republic of North Yemen.

"We have to face many difficulties, we have to face many problems," Abu Jihad told reporters. "If we have lost a battle it doesn't mean we have lost our struggle. The struggle will continue."

Machines at grocery stores recycle cans

DUNCANVILLE, Texas (AP) — A new machine may make recycling an aluminum can nearly as easy as tossing it out the car window.

Aluminum can collecting, like banking, has become automated. A Kroger grocery store in this Dallas suburb planned to unveil a machine today that will cash in cans in a matter of seconds.

The machine, called "can cashier," is the first of its kind in Texas and the first of five to be placed in the Dallas area this week, says the manufacturer, Can Cashier of Texas.

"Littering has become a problem and we want to make aluminum can collecting so easy and convenient you don't have to have a pickup truck to do it," said Don Benscoter, director of Creative Technology Inc., which he said spent six years developing the machine. "You can use our machine wearing white gloves."

The machine stands about 8 feet tall and is shaped like an 8-pack of cans. To operate it a customer feeds the cans into a small opening, where the cans are picked up by a conveyor, crushed and weighed.

In 24 seconds, the machine gives the customer a cash return based on the current rate of aluminum exchange. "The machines are very simple to operate," Benscoter told the Dallas Morning News.

Only about 10 percent of the aluminum cans being produced are being recycled now, so the developers hope that the new can crushers will bring some new converts to recycling, Benscoter said.

"We are trying to motivate a whole new group of people to start thinking about recycling instead of throwing cans in the garbage," he said.

"This machine is made for the housewife, who can deposit cans on her way to do grocery shopping," Benscoter said. "You can even deposit a can immediately after finishing your drink, if you want."

Four wrecks occur on freezing Monday

Slick streets continue to be reported in Snyder as frigid temperatures persist. The Arctic-like weather was said a factor in four minor accidents reported here Monday.

None involved heavy damage or injuries.

The first mishap was reported in the 1700 Block of 26th St. around 3:49 p.m. Involved vehicles were a 1977 Buick driven by Tate Walter Lockhart of Rt. 3, Snyder; and a 1975 Mercury driven by Doris Mitchell Klutts of 3614 Hill Ave.

Around 4:10 p.m., a light pole located in the 4000 Block of College Ave. was struck by a vehicle driven by Billy Ray Cox of 2100 Huffman Ave. He was driving a 1982 Ford Bronco. A 1983 Chevrolet four-door was struck around 8:02 p.m. as it was legally parked in the 2100 Block of 40th St. The vehicle — owned by Dover Corp. of Tulsa, Okla. — was in collision with a 1978 Chevrolet four-door driven by Kay Guthrie Vansickle of 309 36th St.

A final auto accident was reported here around 9:21 p.m. It also involved one parked vehicle and occurred in the 2900 Block of Ave. C.

According to reports, Susan Lyne Tully of 3606 Jacksboro was in collision with a parked 1973 Ford four-door owned by Jesse Clifton Harrison of 209 30th St. Tully was driving a 1982 Oldsmobile.

Shoppers keeping spending splurge

By The Associated Press

The Christmas shopping season so far has matched all its rave previews, with one official saying the momentum may spill over into 1984, as reports indicated heavy industry is joining in on the benefits of the economic revival.

A survey in the industry journal Metalworking News said 53 percent of the nation's foundries, metal fabricators and other metalworking industries in November reported an increase in orders from the month before.

Also, a steel industry trade group said Monday that U.S. steel production last week rose 1.5 percent from the week before and was 16.3 percent higher than in the corresponding week last year.

Jack Lavery, chief economist at Merrill Lynch & Co., projected the overall economy will grow at a 6 percent annual rate in the current business quarter, after adjusting for inflation. That would give the economy a full-year growth of 3.4 percent, a turnaround from the 1.9 percent decline in 1982.

Lavery also predicted interest rates would hold at, or slightly above, current levels in the next few months. He said interest rates would edge slightly lower late next spring, turning higher at the end of the year and in early 1985.

For now, however, consumer spending is rising rapidly as the economy roars ahead. As the final week of Christmas shopping got under way Monday, merchants were upbeat.

"Without a doubt, this will be the best season on record," said Maurice Segall, president of Zayre Corp.

Monroe Greenstein, who analyzes the retail industry for the New York investment firm Bear, Stearns & Co., said sales through mid-December were up by at least 13 percent for many of the nation's largest retailers, including Sears, Roebuck & Co., the largest.

In other economic developments: —Housing starts for the third quarter ended Sept. 30 were 67 percent higher than in the same period last year, according to F.W. Dodge, a unit of McGraw-Hill Information Systems Co. But the third-quarter construction was ning higher at the end of the year and in early 1985.

Troops protest uniforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soldiers say they're too hot, too heavy, too hard to dry, too hard to keep from wrinkling and just generally sloppy. But the Army is going ahead with the purchase of millions of new camouflage uniforms.

It's already spent nearly $205 million for 6.4 million sets of the new fatigues and, according to a message circulated to major commands last month, "responses from the field" have been "universally unfavorable."

Army officials said Monday they plan to spend $432 million on 13.4 million sets of the 50-50 nylon and cotton blend uniforms, done up in a four-color "woodland pattern."

The objective is to outfit each of the more than 778,000 regular Army soldiers and 670,000 national guardsmen and reservists with at least four sets of uniforms.

Army officials acknowledged they had received complaints about the garb from some of the troops sent to tropical Grenada in October.

But the complaints go back further than that and the Army said the heat problem was under study by its logistics command even before the Grenada invasion.

Because of the objections, a logistics task force has developed plans for a light-weight version of the up only 6 percent from this year's second quarter as "housing momentum slowed," the firm said.

—Striking Greyhound employees overwhelmingly approved a three-year contract ending a seven-week strike against the nation's largest intercity bus carrier. The pact, calling for wage cuts of 7.8 percent and a 4 percent employee contribution to the pension plan, was described as an improvement over the contract rejected last month by more than 96 percent of the union members voting.

—Tymshare Inc. says talks aimed at a takeover of the computer services company by McDonnell Douglas Corp. have broken off. The news sent Tymshare stock tumbling $5.75 to $19.12 1/2 on the New York Stock Exchange.

—Entrepreneur Kirk Kerkorian has made a $665 million offer for all outstanding stock of MGM-UA Entertainment Co. Kerkorian's Tracinda Corp. is MGM-UA's principal shareholder.

Misdemeanor cases cleared

Three incidents of criminal mischief — one reported earlier the same day — were reported cleared by police Monday.

An incident reported around 12:25 p.m. and involving a broken kitchen window at the Janette Brown residence, 506 1/2 27th St., was said cleared by late Monday night.

Prosecution in the case was forwarded to county officials for consideration.

Police report suspects also in two other criminal mischief incidents reported recently.

These include a case reported Saturday by Jack Dupree which occurred at 2004 Ave. O and a second reported Friday at Snyder Lanes.

In the first incident, an 18-year-old suspect was identified and in the second, a 14-year-old juvenile male.

Police report also the arrest of a 28-year-old male Monday, who was charged with possession of narcotic paraphernalia, a misdemeanor charge.
