

Sixteen Banks Robbed Since September 3

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP).—An epidemic of bank robberies is sweeping like a September storm across the American prairies.

Sixteen farm belt banks have been looted at the point of guns since Sept. 3. Some totaling more than $150,000 have been taken. There were four bank holdups yesterday alone.

The robber bands have moved by motorcar and even airplane over the same territory as that "worked" by the James boys half a century ago. From Missouri to the Canadian line they have drawn runs on bank cashiers and poured away with their loot.

Yesterday's bank robberies were at Wesley and Hardy, Iowa; Gifford, Mo., and Hay Springs, Neb.

The Hay Springs robbery gave authorities their first intimation that bank robbers may have resorted to airplanes. A plane landed in a field near that Northwestern Nebraska village yesterday morning, shortly after noon it disappeared. In the interim the First National Bank had been robbed by five men of $14,000.

The robbery was the fourth in Nebraska within a week, with loot totaling $88,500. The greater part of the total loot was taken Wednesday, robbers holding up the Lincoln National Bank and getting away with $75,000.

Mostly the bank robbers have had to content themselves with small sums. Except for the Lincoln, Neb., robbery, the loot has not exceeded $15,000, and mostly it has been greatly under that. The Gifford, Mo., bank robbers yesterday got only $800.

The state of Iowa, dotted with small towns, each with its bank or banks, has been the chief sufferer from the lawless forays. Five bank states within a fortnight: Minnesota and Nebraska each have been visited four times, while single bank holdups have occurred in Missouri, Illinois and North Dakota.

Investigation of the Verth, Minn. State Bank robbery Sept. 3 has brought the arrest of two men and three are held in connection with the holdup of the Kainer, N. D. First National Bank Sept. 13. One man is under arrest for the Central City, Neb., robbery which took place the same day as the Kainer, N. D. holdup.

The Iowa bank robbery loss since Jan. 1 is $84,000 taken in 14 holdups. None of the robbers has been captured. One man was shot down after robbing the Winterset, Iowa, bank.

Iowa public opinion has been roused to the point where a "shoot-to-kill" sentiment has made itself apparent. The Des Moines Register and Tribune today offered a $500 reward to the first person, vigilante, sheriff, deputy or bank employee who shoots and kills a bandit in the act of robbing an Iowa bank. Vigilante organizations, which several years ago were successful in stamping out bank robberies in the state, are being revived to war upon the renewed robber menace.

Hardlay Saw Well Day In Nine Years

gish, my eliminations poor and for 9 years I hadn't seen a well day. Then I started Sargol and it put an end to every one of my troubles. It built me up and strengthened me and I can't express in words how I appreciate what the medicine has done for me.

Woman, 86, Plays With Children; Hip Broke

PRATTVILLE, Ala., Sept. 18 (AP).—Mrs. Ella Herbert, 86, in a hospital here with a broken hip, admits that the playing of football is a bit too rough for one of her years.

Yesterday a group of children was playing in her yard. They decided to play football, but needed one more to complete the team. "Please fill in for us," they pleaded, crouching around her. "Certainly," she would. Anything to please the children.

She lasted until the third quarter. Then a play was run and Mrs. Herbert went down in the scramble for the ball. The hip bone snapped and she didn't get up.

Frank, a 19-year-old Cardinal second baseman, will reach the 2,000-hit mark this year.

Forebodings Of Death Seen In Girls Notes

Girl Pilot Killed In Explosive Crash Secretly Wed

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 18 (AP).—Forebodings of disaster rode with Ruth Alexander, a secret bride, when she met death on a fog-shrouded hillside yesterday at the outset of a projected one-stop transcontinental flight.

One was addressed to her parents requesting a quiet funeral in case of death. The other was to her husband, Robert A. Elliott, reserve naval pilot and her former flying instructor. Together with the letters found in her hotel room was marriage certificate which showed they were married at Yuma, Ariz., June 21.

She wrote: "To my husband, Bob: 'Life is strange, honey. If I have preceded you do not grieve for me, but be content. Finish your work down here and make me proud of you. As I ever will be at your side.'"

"And when you come I will welcome you. Always I will love and wait for you. And, sweetheart, keep my pretty wedding ring always with you. Ruth."

Wedding Ring
A wedding ring, a tiny silver circle set with small diamonds, was in the fier's jewel box in her hotel room here. Nearby were the notes to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blaney, of Irving, Kas.

The fatal flight began at the Agua Caliente, Mexico, airport at 1 a. m. yesterday. Soon after Miss Alexander landed at the Lindbergh Field here for checking reporters gathered around the 24-year-old aviatrix, and to them she remarked:

"If I should crack up, please send me purple pansies, as I like them best."

Although heavy fog was rolling in from the ocean, Miss Alexander believed she could rise above it. She took off at 3:28 a. m. for Wichita, Kas., her only planned stop. In a flight to New York.

She climbed 500 feet above the direction of Point Loma. A few minutes later a terrific crash was heard and when searchers reached the spot four miles north of the airport they found her broken body, with that of her tiny terrier mascot, in the shattered fuselage. Parts of the plane were scattered over a wide area.

Won Wings
The accident ended a flying career which the young woman embarked on with money earned as a waitress and manicurist. She won her coveted wings last year and November 17, the day after she passed the federation aeronautique internationale tests, she established a world's altitude record of 18,000 feet for women in planes of less than 100 horsepower.

Miss Alexander recently flew from Vancouver, B. C., to Agua Caliente, Mexico, in 16 hours, a record non-stop flight for women. She had been divorced from her first husband, Mack Alexander, and the romance with Elliott, her flying instructor, culminated in their marriage. In applying for the license she gave her maiden name of Ruth L. Blaney.

Ensign Elliott was reported to be

Hoover Urges Fire Prevention

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP).—Calling attention to a national fire loss in 1929 of $470,000,000, President Hoover today signed a proclamation designating the week of October 5 as National Fire Prevention Week.

The president asked the country to cooperate actively in the prevention of fires, asserting that the North American continent leads the world in the amount of its annual fire waste, with the total growing steadily.

"Thousands of persons annually die as a result of fires and many additional thousands are injured, 60 per cent of all fatalities from fire taking place in the home," Mr. Hoover said.

At the same time William Butterworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States announced commercial organizations throughout the country have perfected plans for a wider observation of the week.

Cheating In Cattle Charged To Iowans

FAIRFIELD, Iowa, Sept. 19. (AP).—Charges of conspiracy and cheating involving nearly $3,000,000 have been brought against twenty-six men indicted by the Jefferson County grand jury.

The charges set forth that the indicted men imported feeder cattle from southwestern ranges and sold them to Iowa buyers and others as putback native Iowa cattle.

Attorney General Of Missouri Wants Divorce

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 19. (AP).—A divorce suit by Attorney General Shurtleff charging another thing, that his wife had said she no longer loved him, was on file in the Cole county circuit court here today. The petition also charged Mrs. Shurtleff, nee Martha Wells of Nevada, Mo., with income tax evasion and abandonment.

In his brief filed late yesterday the attorney general asked custody of their two daughters, Mary Jane, 11, and Martha, 8.

The Shurtles were married in Dallas, Texas, in 1919, and lived together until last August.

AIRPLANE PAYS FOR SELF ON GEORGIA COTTON FARM

STOCKBRIDGE, Ga. (AP).—Georgia's "FIRE FARMER" is paid with the excitement and offers his testimony that aviation is so and so profitable.

It cost Gordon Bellah a year's crop to become the owner of a plane, but he declares it has paid for itself several times over in the three years he has owned it.

The chief use he has found for the plane is dusting his cotton fields to combat boll weevil and the distribution of fertilizer. Special attachments have been made for these purposes.

This spring the farm plane has been brought into service for delivery of college plants to nearby cities. Young plants are delivered by Mr. Bellah's airplane and must be transported quickly for best results. Bellah says the air for delivery has been enabled to handle a large volume of business from many sections of the state.

FEVERY ENDANGER MISSION WORKERS

CHICAGO (INS).—Missionaries in West Africa are in far greater danger from tropical disease than from any other natives, according to Dr. E. A. Ayers, who has spent 23 years as a mission worker in Liberia and is now a patient in a Southern hospital.

Although various kinds of fever have had run low more than 100 times, Dr. Ayers plans to leave the United States in July to begin his eighth term of service.

"The need for education in Liberia is appalling," Dr. Ayers said recently. "Except for the hospital schools, there is little or no education in the interior. The government is establishing a public school system that eventually will reach all sections, however."

CITY WORKERS GAIN IN YEARLY EARNINGS

CHICAGO (INS).—Average real earnings of city workers showed an increase of 5 per cent for the years 1927 and 1928, and the average worker could have purchased 20 per cent more with his year's wage than in 1914, according to a survey just published by two University of Chicago research experts, Professor Paul H. Douglas and Florence Tye Jean.

However, the report points out the fact that unemployment during the period was sufficient to negative the increase in the real average earnings.

"It is important to state that a certain proportion of the increase in money earnings in an industry does not necessarily mean an increase in advantage to those employed," the study says. "With a continued downward trend in employment, it is legitimately assumed that the less skilled and lowest paid workers are laid off. An average figure representative of the industry will show an increase in money earnings and real earnings, whereas in reality the earnings of those still employed may have remained constant."

PARIS, Sept. 19. (AP).—Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte were officially promoted today for their recent trans-Atlantic flight, but their rankings date from Tuesday.

Coste becomes Captain Dieudonne Coste and Bellonte, who formerly was a sergeant, becomes a second lieutenant. Both are on the aviation reserve.

TOY MODEL TEST SHOWS EFFECT OF STREAM LINES

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP).—The demand for faster automobiles may be answered through stream-lineing lessons learned in aviation.

Tests conducted by University of Michigan students in charge of Felix W. Pawlowski showed the wind resistance of an ordinary motor car is between 110 and 170 pounds, absorbing between 15 and 23 horsepower of the engine, at 50 miles an hour.

Toy models were subjected to the air stream of a wind tunnel for tests. At 100 miles an hour, the resistance and absorbed horsepower were found four times as great.

"Faster cars are resulting from more powerful engines," Pawlowski said in reporting the studies to the Society of Automotive Engineers, "and although gasoline is cheap, the question of reducing motor power through reduction of wind resistance is attracting more attention."

"A perfect stream-lined motor car would have lessened resistance and would not stir up dust clouds in gravel roads, but the exceedingly long streamers would be very objectionable, at least for the already acute parking conditions."

In the place of perfect streamlining, he recommended the rounding of sharp corners and edges and leveling of tops and flanks of car bodies. Edges, set up by the blunt rear ends were found to be reduced by space tires and luggage carriers.

FREE STATE ASSUMES REPUBLICAN BOND ISSUE

DUBLIN, (AP).—The Irish Free State parliament has decided that the money raised by the Republican bonds in Ireland and the United States can be regarded as a national liability and fully paid.

The Free State government is prepared to pay the balance to bondholders, though there is no compulsion to do so, and the liquidation is within the discretion of the minister for finance.

Some speculators in Ireland bought the bonds at a cheap rate, but the government will only pay either the original subscribers or those to whom the bonds may have been transferred for full value. This ruling applies also to America.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the friends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Lawrence, Mass.
Is it your opinion that those marriages are most likely to be successful where the parties have qualities and habits substantially alike, or do you feel that a marriage between persons having opposite qualities is more likely to succeed?

I personally believe that successful marriages depend in part on the acceptance of the same beliefs and opinions, perhaps not in absolutely identical terms, but in substance. Can you imagine a wife devoutly studying the Psalms while her skeptical husband denounces the Psalms and all his works? How much happiness is possible when believers are yoked with unbelievers? One sees the same thing in politics. A rabid Socialist, with utter contempt for a capitalist civilization, will not find much inspiration in a wife who resolutely follows in her conservative father's footsteps. The same reasoning applies to other matters of agreement and disagreement.

Marriage between opposites is more common than real. An aggressive woman has a quiet husband, or a loud-voiced brother prefers a modest wife, or a blue stocking selects an intellectual nonentity. Yet their diversities are on the surface. Beneath there is a sympathetic understanding and on vital matters they have no quarrel. What is their opposition if not a variety which strengthens their basic unity? They cherish in common the ideals and practices they approach from different angles.

impaired, and at the same time I would welcome the light that modern scholarship from any source could shed on my explanation of "Is divine realities?"

I would carefully distinguish between the spirit and the letter, the essentials and the accidents, of religious philosophies. Past theologians I would reserve for the sake of their guidance to former generations, and whatever in them is true I would steadfastly maintain.

I would not exaggerate the contrasts between various ages, nor boast of our own as if it were the golden age of the race. God has always been what He now is. Christ is the same, yesterday, today and forever. The Eternal Love of the Father is as available for us at it was for the Apostles and the early Christians. The Holy Spirit still convicts the human world of righteousness, sin, and a judgment to come.

Thus believing, I would go to the pulpit as God's ambassador of salvation, peace and goodwill, cheerfully accepting the interests and activities of this marvelous epoch, and endeavoring to stimulate the souls of my hearers to love and good works.

Eighty per cent of diseases come through the oral cavity, declared Dr. Brann. "Dentistry and medicine cannot be separated," said he. "We should teach young and old how to care for the teeth."

The Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs joined in a luncheon in the main dining room of the Settles at noon, honoring visitors to the convention. More than two hundred were served in fine style in the beautiful large room. It was the first use by the public of this part of the new Settles hotel.

B. Reagan, Rotary president, presided. Mrs. Bruce Frazier, playing the accompaniment, led singing by the entire assembly. This developed into a singing contest between Kiwanians, Rotarians, Lions and Settles. Mrs. Frazier received hearty cheers for her splendid leadership.

Dr. C. W. Deata, Kiwanis president, and Dr. Charles K. Bivings, Lions president, made announcements. Speakers included E. A. Kelley, Rotarian; Garland A. Woodward, Kiwanian; Rev. D. R. Lindley, Lion. Their remarks ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous, the humorous, comical and serious, provoking much laughter as well as applause.

Among others who spoke at the luncheon were Dr. J. H. Phillips of Nashville, Dr. R. A. Maddox, of Abilene, Dr. Harris of Dallas, Dr. Stoen, Dr. Crutcher of Dallas, Dr. Rogers of Amarillo, and Dr. Field of Fort Worth.

NEW YORK TOO

HAS MANY ANIMALS

NEW YORK (INS)—The Bronx Zoo is the most lightly populated with humans of any area in the city, and the most heavily populated with animals of any place in the civilized parts of the world, according to the zoo's annual report, made public recently.

Two human beings, 563 mammals, 300 reptiles and 1,247 birds dwell on its 62 1/2 acres. The two humans are John Baillie, in charge of the night watchmen, and his wife.

WOMEN STUDENTS RANK HIGH AT CHARTERS

PARIS (INS)—Women students, it appears, rank highest in the classes which are graduated from the French school of Charters. This is where one studies ancient manuscripts and documents and there seems to be something about the study which appeals especially to the ladies. Someone has suggested that, always having been the enemy of dust and disorder, every woman student's messy rooming quarters with great zeal and energy. But, whatever the reason, women are winning a recognized place as skilled paleographers and are making a name for themselves in the large libraries of Paris.

OFFICIAL LEADS MOVE TO SPLIT UP AUSTRALIA

PERTH, Western Australia. (UP)—A campaign for the session of Western Australia from the Commonwealth of Australia has been initiated by the prime minister of the province.

A meeting, attended by the lord mayor of Perth and members of parliament, passed a motion pledging support for the creation of a dominion of Western Australia.

It was pointed out that the dominion of Australia is costing the people of Western Australia $40,000,000 a year which is a tremendous burden for 400,000 inhabitants.

Dress Up Your Egg Dishes And Win A Market Page Prize

$2 Offered For The Most Interesting And Unusual Hens Fruit Recipes

Mesdames Jimmie Mason And J. A. Hambrick Win Weekly Prizes For Best Jam, Preserve, Marmalade And Jelly Recipes

(By The Market Page Editor)
Well, the hens should be laying again. The price of eggs has gone down! Whenever the price goes down your own hens get right to work and flood the market. Typical case of over production!

Anyway they must be used. So The Herald is offering a prize of $2 for the best recipe or set of recipes concerning the lowly hen fruit, sent to this office by Thursday next. The second prize is $1 (worth scribbling a recipe for!)

The winners for the past week are Mrs. Jimmie Mason, first, and Mrs. J. A. Hambrick, second. We wish that we could print all of the recipes submitted by these two women—including the colorful illustrations accompanying Mrs. Mason's—but it would be impossible in our small space.

We will, however, quote as many of the most interesting ones as we can.

MRS. JIMMIE MASON

Big Spring, Min. Jelly

Wash and cut tart apples in quarters. (Use Greenings or other colorless apples.) Put into kettle and almost cover with water. Cook slowly until apples are soft and mushy. Turn into jelly bag and allow juice to drip through. Measure juice. For each cup of juice, allow 2-3 cup sugar. Boil juice rapidly for 5 minutes, add sugar, and continue to boil rapidly. Put a few sprigs of fresh mint into the jelly while cooking and color it a delicate green with vegetable color paste or liquid. When jelly is done, remove from fire, take out mint, skim if necessary, and pour immediately into hot jelly glasses. Cover with thin layer of paraffin. When cold, cover with second layer of paraffin.

Banana Butter

(For Cake Filling and Sandwiches)
3 level cups crushed bananas.
7 level cups (3 lb.) sugar.
Juice of 1 lemon.
1 bottle Certo.

Use mellow ripe bananas. Crush with masher to fine pulp and measure crushed fruit into large kettle. Add sugar and lemon juice, mix well and bring to a boil. At once add Certo, stirring constantly, and bring to a full boil and boil for 1 minute. While boiling, stir constantly over entire bottom of kettle to prevent sticking. Remove from fire, and stir frequently for 5 minutes to cool slightly, which prevents fruit from floating. Then pour quickly and cover at once with hot melted paraffin.

Green Pepper Jam

(A Relish)

2 level cups ground green peppers and juice (see note below.)
6-12 level cups (2-4 lbs.) sugar.
1-12 cups apple vinegar.
1 bottle Certo.

Discard the seeds of, and grind quite fine, about 1 dozen medium-sized green peppers (see note below), putting them through the grinder twice. Drain off some of the juice and pack the cups solid with the ground peppers, using just enough juice to flood the cups level. Discard balance of juice. Bring sugar, peppers and vinegar to a hard boil in a large pan and set aside where it will keep hot for 15 or 20 minutes uncovered, stirring occasionally. Bring again

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

To give an unusually delicious flavor to your summer beverages, add to a base of sweetened lemonade, tart jellies of different varieties, beaten until syrupy. The brightly colored jellies are as valuable for their color effects as they are for the distinctive flavors they impart. Two or three teaspoons to a large glass is about the right proportion.

When hanging recently washed curtains, if you have a trying time running the rod through the hem, put a thimble on the end of the rod. Then you'll have no trouble getting it through, even though the hem is stiff and stuck together. Best of all, you'll eliminate the risk of tearing delicate fabrics.

W. C. Prescotts Are Given Shower

Mmes. Lamar, White And Parks Are Hostesses

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley C. Prescott were honored with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. S. C. Lamar on Nolan street yesterday evening. Mesdames Lamar, Gladys Parks and Leslie White were co-hostesses of the occasion. The shower was given on account of the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Prescott's home was burned some time ago.

A telegram was delivered to Mrs. Prescott by a Western Union delivery boy instructing her the way to find the treasures. Notes in various parts of the house led her to the basket of gifts.

A novelty recipe book was passed around for the women to write a suggestion in and a similar book of household hints was passed to the men.

Games were played by the group and refreshments were served to the following: Miss Lillie Cardwell, Miss Eva Jane Grimes, Miss Flora Belle Williamson, Miss Hazel Bell Brown, Mrs. Willard Smith, Mrs. Maud Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. McGill, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lamar, the honorees and the hostesses.

Lantern Slide Lecture To Be Tonight

Dr. W. O. Talbot To Talk On Oral Hygiene At Baptist Church

Dr. W. O. Talbot will lecture to the public at the Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock on the subject of oral hygiene. His lecture will be both interesting and instructive and he will illustrate his talk with lantern slides.

The doctor is chairman of the state dental society. He has been very active in the same work with the American Dental Association. He is being brought here in connection with the West Texas Dental Society, which meets here soon.

To a full rolling boil and boil for 2 minutes, remove from fire and stir in Certo. Skim and stir repeatedly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire, to cool slightly. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam pan at once with hot melted paraffin. This is a slow setting jam, and sometimes takes a week to come to a full set.

Note: Sweet red peppers may be used in place of green peppers in any proportion, and they give a pleasing color to the jam.

Squash Preserves
This preserves recommendation, once it is tried. However, because of its humble origin, perhaps a little stress needs to be placed on its introduction. The finished product looks and tastes as well as any of the high-priced preserves in the stores. It is a genuine surprise, and the markets have been flooded with squashes.

2 quarts sliced squash.
1 lemon.
1 orange.
1-12 pint sugar.
1 pint water.

Select the larger, tougher, round white squashes. Slice in long slices. Remove the seeds and soak in salted water 4 hours to toughen. Rinse in clear water. Boil sugar and water together to heavy syrup, add allspice tied in cheesecloth bag, drop sliced squash into boiling syrup, a few at a time. When squashes are all added, slice orange and lemon in very thin slices with sharp knife and add to preserves. Cook until transparent. Seal hot.

Send Them Back at Noon Well-Nourished by Milk

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Everywhere we pass the children with their school books! And it comes to us, with a little shock, that summer is almost gone—that the winter-long round of studies is beginning all over again.

For the mothers, too, in homes from which these children come, school days make a decided difference. The family schedule now is regulated by the classroom clock. And many a mother finds that the lunch hour is the most trying time of the entire day.

Particularly annoying is the problem of planning dishes that include generous quantities of milk. Plenty of milk must be in the diet of every growing child, yet many boys and girls quickly tire of drinking it; and mother must use strategy to get this food necessity in the daily menu.

Listed below are a number of recipe and menu suggestions that should prove helpful to any mother who must face the school lunch problem. Try them, and see how delightfully they will serve to keep milk's healthy glow in the children's faces.

Group Meets For First Time

Mrs. J. F. Skalicky Is Installed As New President

Mrs. M. R. Showalter, county health nurse, told the mothers of the North Ward P.-T. A. of the vaccination council and immunization conference to be held at the Federated Club House tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

This was the first meeting of the North Ward P.-T. A. this year under its new officers with Mrs. J. F. Skalicky as president.

Mrs. Leslie Fugge is vice president, Mrs. J. J. Trump secretary and Mrs. Hester Lee treasurer.

The meeting was opened with readings by children from the third grade and songs by children from all of the rooms.

Following Mrs. Showalter's talk came the installation of the new officers.

It was voted by the group to assist Mrs. Showalter in her campaign to provide a new toothbrush for every child in the Big Spring public schools. The North Ward P.-T. A. will buy brushes for every child in its school.

It was decided to have a second meeting on the first Thursday of each month in the different homes. Here the mothers will work on articles to be sold in the P.-T. A. gift shop which will be located at the Bugg grocery store.

It was also decided to put on a membership drive. Mrs. Walter Simmons was appointed chairman with Mrs. Thad Smith and Mrs. P. M. Gray on the committee.

The regular meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held on the third Thursday of each month.

Decline In Meat Prices Is Boon To Housewives

Right now the housewife has an opportunity to purchase meats at the lowest price level in several years. The drought conditions and high prices of feed will bring many meat animals to the market much earlier than is usual. This condition will mean an abundance of meat at most attractive prices.

The especially "good buys" are the cuts other than roasts, steaks and chops, because the demand for these cuts is always great enough to maintain the price level, but such cuts as chuck of beef shoulder of lamb and pork offer a chance for a wide choice.

At this time of year there is no better choice than a pot roast of beef with its good brown gravy and rich flavor.

The new sets are practical too. The nail files are longer and the scissors are finely tempered so those used in beauty salons.

Illness Of Demonstrator Causes An Early Closing

The Herald Cooking School closed today on account of the illness of Mrs. Leona Ruak, the demonstrator. Doctor's orders prevented Mrs. Ruak from continuing with the school.

The dinner recipes, which Mrs. Ruak began yesterday, before she was taken ill, are quoted below:

A B C Dinner
Apples, dried, 1 cup.
Steak, 3 pounds, cut in 2 inch squares and brown.
Crisco, 2 tablespoons.
Celery, chopped, 1 cup.
Stock, 1 cup.
Lemon, 2 or 3 slices.
Onion, 1 tablespoon.

After the steak is browned, pour over it the flavored stock. Reduce heat and cook slowly for 45 minutes. May be served in a noodle ring.

Noodle Rings
Noodles, 2 cups broken and cooked in 6 cups of rapidly boiling water.
Milk, 1-12 cups.
Bread crumbs, 1 cup.
Crisco, 2 tablespoons.
Pimento, 1 cup.
Parsley, 2 tablespoons.
Salt, 1 teaspoon.
Pepper, 1-8 teaspoon.
Eggs, 3.
Heat milk and add bread crumbs, Crisco, seasoning. Beat the eggs slightly and combine with egg mixture. Pour the drained noodles into a well-Criscoed ring mold and pour the liquid over. Place the mold in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes.

Tomato Cheese Salad
Tomato soup, 1 can.
Heat and add 2 tablespoons of grated onion and 3 packages of Philadelphia cream cheese. When cheese is melted pour over 2 tablespoons of gelatine that has been soaked in cold water. When cool add 1 cup of mayonnaise dressing. Mold in rings or freeze in the drawer of the electric refrigerator.

Chicken Breast en Casserole
Mix salt, pepper and poultry seasoning, and rub over the chicken breast. Wrap the chicken in a thin slice of smoked ham, fastening with toothpicks. Saute slightly in three tablespoons of Crisco. Remove the chicken to a casserole, add to the Crisco 1-2 teaspoon of A-1 sauce, one-half teaspoon mustard, 2 tablespoons finely chopped celery, 1 tablespoon green onion and 1 teaspoon of light cream. Bring to a boil and pour over the chicken. Cover tightly and bake at a low degree for an hour or more, depending on the chicken.

Beets Cooked Without Water
Scrub the beets well with small brush and shred. Put in casserole or closely covered pan, add 3 tablespoons of butter, salt, pepper and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Bake in medium oven 30 minutes.

"Where You Learn To Save"

'WONDERFUL,' SAYS MRS. J. E. SIMS

"MY HUSBAND SUFFERED IN YEARS WITH STOMACH-ACIDITY. AGOTANE RELIEVES HIM," SAYS LUBBOCK WOMAN.

"It is certainly wonderful how a few bottles of Agotane restored my husband's health after he had spent many dollars on other medicines that did him no good," said Mrs. J. E. Sims, of 1626 Fifteenth St., Lubbock, Texas.

"For thirteen years," she continued, "he has suffered with a terrible stomach which gave him no end of trouble. He was constantly trying to get relief by taking something or other but just seemed to get steadily worse. The doctors told my husband that he would have to be operated on before he would ever get well. They said he had an ulcer of the stomach. Everything he ate disagreed with him, and he would just be miserable for hours afterward and gas bloated him up so that he could hardly breathe. His nerves were just all to pieces and he was so restless, he could hardly sleep at all at night."

"From the statements that were in the local paper we thought Agotane might help him, and a friend also recommended it and he feels better than he has in the past thirteen years, and he looks like a new man, and he doesn't suffer at all now as he used to. Agotane has done so much for my husband I am glad to recommend it to anyone suffering as he did, and he will continue taking it as long as he can get it and will keep a bottle of it in the house at all times."

Genuine Agotane may be bought in Big Spring at Collins Bros. Store.

ALCOHOL IS SUBSTITUTED FOR GAS AS MOTOR FUEL. RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—Brazil's sugar surplus may be fed to rail-car motor cars as fuel alcohol.

Alterations were made on the motors to consume the alcohol. The fuel consumption was slightly more than with gasoline.

HARD WORKING TIMBER MAN

Tells How He Was Relieved of Blinding Headaches by Taking Black-Draught.

Hopkinsville, Ky.—"I have been a user of Black-Draught for about twenty-four years, and it is about the only medicine I take at all," says Mr. Edgar Gamble, of 114 Fowler Avenue, this city.

"If I have the headache or feel the need of a purgative, I take Black-Draught. It is easy to take and quick to relieve."

"I used to have dull headaches. My eyes would burn and when I would stoop over I seemed to turn blind. This isn't much of a good feeling when one has to work, and I have had to work hard in my time, being a timber man. This work takes me from home a good deal and one never likes to get sick, especially away from home. I found the best way to avoid this was to take an occasional dose of Black-Draught, and keep the system cleansed."

"I tell all it is a splendid, reliable medicine."

Thousands of others have written to tell how many disagreeable symptoms, due to constipation, have gone away after they had taken Black-Draught.

Coulter Named Tariff Official

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Appointment of Dr. John Lee Coulter to the tariff commission added another name to the list of men President Hoover has promoted from the ranks instead of going beyond the government service to fill the key position in his administration.

Three cabinet members are occupying their positions as a result of promotions, and the chief executive has followed at intervals throughout his occupancy of the White House a policy of choosing men with years of experience in the federal service.

Roy L. Stinson, formerly secretary of war under President Taft and in 1928 governor general of the Philippines, was taken from this field to become head of the state department.

In the formation of his cabinet, Mr. Hoover also chose as his attorney general William D. Mitchell, who was then solicitor general, and upon the death of James W. Good, the assistant secretary of war, Patrick J. Hurley was promoted.

In addition to this trio, others have climbed the ladder through appointment by President Hoover, among them his close friend while he was secretary of commerce, Dr. Julius Klein, who was promoted from the direction of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce to be assistant secretary of commerce; Charles D. Mahaffie, long financial director of the interstate commerce commission, who recently succeeded Thomas L. Woodlock as commissioner, and Dr. Coulter, who has been chief economist of the tariff commission.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 19. (AP)—A month's reprieve was granted by Governor Dan Moody today to Luz G. Arco, convicted of murder in Medina county and scheduled to die after midnight. KEEL'S LOST SCALES DUE TO ITS DISC-LIKE MOUTH

PRINCETON, (AP)—Scientists who held that the tools make the man have a supporting argument in eel studies by Professor William Berryman Scott of Princeton.

"Tools" in this scientific sense are mechanisms such as hands.

Dr. Scott, seeking to learn why the lamprey eel has lost its scales, traces the cause to the eel's mouth. "The sucking, disc-like mouth," he says in a report to the American Philosophical Society, "set with rows of horny teeth, is a specialization which no other vertebrates have acquired."

"It is this development which modifies and disguises the life history."

Suit Against Justice Reported Threatened

NEW YORK, Sept. 19. (AP)—The New York World says it has been informed by Dr. Samuel Buchler, a lawyer, that the day before Justice Joseph F. Crater disappeared a woman asked him to start suit against the justice for $100,000 for breach of promise.

The woman, who called herself Lorraine Fay, said she had letters from the justice, but failed to return the next day as she had promised. The information from Buchler came after his attention had been called by the newspaper to a letter it had received from a woman in which he was mentioned in connection with the suit. The writer said she, Mrs. Crater, and others knew the justice's whereabouts and that he had gone west to escape his difficulties.

The day before Justice Crater disappeared he withdrew $5,000 from the bank. The writer says he had to take this money out of the bank to "satisfy the whims of a scoundrel who threatened scandal."

She says she understands the threatened suit was disposed of by payment of $5,000. Meanwhile, the police search for the missing justice, who disappeared on August 6, was extended to Nova Scotia, where a friend quoted the justice as saying he had a cabin "in a little, out-of-the-way place which cannot be reached by telephone."

Worry Caused Ulcer Of Stomach Says Doctor

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 19. (AP)—Worry as a source of ulcer of the stomach, one of the "diseases of a higher civilization" was discussed by Dr. George W. Crile, Cleveland surgeon before the Michigan Medical Society in session here today.

This disease is caused, Dr. Crile believes, by the discharging of millions of tiny "electric batteries" in the lining of the stomach walls. These charged cells may become discharged through worry and nervousness, he declared. "Peptic ulcers," he said, "are undoubtedly caused by hyperacidity and such activity is controlled by the thyroid gland. The activity of the gland in turn is controlled by the nervous system and the adrenals."

Evolution, Dr. Crile said, "has directed its whole attack against the brain of man." He explained that as the race achieved its higher degree of civilization, the brain must pay for its achievement at the cost of the body.

"It may even be a compliment to be able to acquire a peptic ulcer," the surgeon added. "The great genius, the poet and the philosopher are always the most susceptible."

Man Charged In Death Of New Brother-In-Law

HOUSTON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Tony Blamonte Jr., 23, was free on $2,500 bond today following a shooting near Stafford Wednesday afternoon in which Joe Todoro, 26, who married Blamonte's sister a week ago, was slain. The killing occurred at the Blamonte home.

In a statement young Blamonte said he shot Todoro when his brother-in-law brought his bride back home and said that he "didn't want her any longer."

Preliminary hearing for Blamonte will be held Monday before Justice C. D. Myers at Richmond.

Door Slams, Gangster In Court Drops To Floor

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (AP)—Somebody slammed a door in the courtroom today and Danny Stanton, gangster, Capone lieutenant and one of the crime commission's public enemies, dropped to the floor.

Assured the door slamming suggested nothing more dangerous than mere noise, the gangster returned to a belligerent attitude, shook his fist at newspaper photographers, clung to the back of his attorney and demanded a jury trial on charges of vagrancy and disorderly conduct and carrying concealed weapons.

GEORGE CLARK

The David Belasco of today. . . . His famous "clerical garb" is not a clerical garb at all, he says . . . and keeps sample collars in his desk to prove that they button in front.

At his country "workshop" . . . Belasco consults with his stage artists . . . strange little stage worlds are born.

A COUPLE of weeks before his recent seventy-sixth birthday, David Belasco, America's dean of the drama, wandered along the narrow hallways of the building which houses his theater, turned slowly into a doorway and slumped thoughtfully into a chair.

It was one of those staggeringly humid mid-summer Manhattan days, but Belasco had been on the job since 8:30 in the morning. A stranger, unacquainted with the Belasco habits, might have thought him a tired old man. And with good reason. For he had just gone into the last stretch of rehearsing a new show—a nerve-wearing business—and, according to his custom, was making himself a birthday present of a dramatic production at Atlantic City. In addition, two more plays for the 1930 season awaited his attention.

Those associated with the grand old man of the theater could have told you that this was reverie, rather than fatigue. Mopping a large handkerchief over a perspiring brow, he spoke dreamily: "You know, I have an idea that may take me five or ten years to work out completely. It's one of the biggest ideas I've had. One of the biggest things I've ever done." Five to ten years! You start in surprise. That would place him somewhere between the ages of 80 and 90. And the biggest job! But that's characteristic of David Belasco!

His dozen and one varied activities, his sudden appearances here and there, his tireless doctoring of dreams and ideas—all these he carries on day after day because, in spite of everything he has done in the theater, he learns something new every day.

"Never too late to learn something" is part of his credo. They will tell you along Broadway that David Belasco is the greatest character that David Belasco will ever create; the greatest, the most colorful and the most incredible.

The world of reality is not allowed to touch the hem of his severe-looking coat. He puts a tremendous lot of energy and practical effort into his dreams, but will not be bothered by any cold business problems. That's for the business department. Impatiently he waves away those economic problems which might invade his dream-world.

Most people have a notion that Belasco should be rolling in wealth. Has he not had, over a period of years, such vast successes as "The Girl of the Golden West," "The Rose of the Rancho," "The Grand Army Man" and a dozen others?

Scores of his old plays still bring royalties in one form or another.

Yet, Broadway will tell you that slightly more than a year ago, in the seventy-fifth year of his life, Belasco was "all but broke."

THERE were three mortgages on the Belasco theater. He had tossed a fortune into one lavish production, "Mina," a modernistic spectacle, and it had flopped terribly after a few months, losing money every night the curtain rose, but kept alive by tossing in good money after bad.

Now there have been a number of whispers going around that Belasco has been taking a vast interest in the talking pictures. Well—maybe—but let me tell you a little "inside" story.

At the time Belasco had dropped his fortune on "Mina," one of the biggest film producers called upon "the dean." Belasco was told that he could write his own ticket; there was a blank contract lying in front of him and he could fill in the spaces to suit himself; he would have but one picture to make.

There were threatening mortgages on his theater, and he had taken a terrific wallop with "Mina." In the face of which, the white-haired dean, with a magnificent gesture, chucked the picture offer in the basket.

He turned around and produced the lightest sort of a little comedy, "It's a Wise Child." It cost but a few thousand and the overhead was negligible.

Yet when it finally closed after a year's run, it had brought in $930,000, the biggest money attraction his house had ever staged.

That's the way it's been with David Belasco—and with Broadway, as well.

Let me give you a few more "inside" slants at this colorful character.

He is generally associated with a clerical garb; a priestly collar and tie. Yet Belasco makes every effort to puncture this legend. The mention of "clerical" make-up annoyed him so much that he purchased a number of the collars and cravats, such as he regularly wears, and these are to be found in the desk drawers of his advertising manager. When anyone mentions the word "clerical," a demonstration is given to show that the collar is not "clerical," that it buttons in the front and is merely "old fashioned."

TAKE a few side glances at some of the very little known routine habits which occupy his time from early morning until, on certain occasions, late at night.

If you had intimate access to one of Belasco's private offices you would find a vast card index system. Glancing at the cards, you'd find the names and descriptions of thousands of actors and actresses gathered over a period of years. During a theatrical season, Belasco will visit almost every play presented on Broadway.

Wherever he goes, he is attended by a secretary who has seen many years of service and who knows the producer's every peculiarity.

The secretary always has a stenographic notebook, and sits beside Belasco at the theater. Each new actor is carefully surveyed and mentally registered. Between acts some quick work is done.

"Take this, please," Belasco will begin: "Molly Smith, about five feet four and brunet. Should be able to play juveniles in light comedies and shows possibilities of great talent in heavier roles if properly coached. File that under newcomers and check it for future casting."

Thus it goes, week after week, with hundreds of new cards being added to old ones.

Even with all the demands of editing, reading, revising and watching new actors as they come along, this man of 76 works almost incredibly hard on the selections of his cast. It is one of his many prideful boasts that he tries to sift all Broadway through his fingers in the search for definite types.

"The claim that there are no actors in this day is ridiculous," he said. "I've heard producers make this complaint time and time again. The players are here, but many of the managers will not take the time and trouble to find them."

HOWEVER hard may have been the work of a given day, Belasco has one set rule of relaxation. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, whatever he may be doing is summarily dropped. The hour of siesta has arrived. Sometimes he goes immediately to a shower bath and thus relaxes; other times he lies down for a nap.

Those who have been close to him for years credit this restful break in the day as a partial explanation for his seemingly tireless energy. For, once he has ended the "afternoon nap" period, he frequently labors away into the night.

His day's routine, however, starts again about 8:30 the following morning. He goes over the play manuscripts which pile on his desk.

There are the usual routine business matters, but if the dream fever burns high he is off to a workshop which few people even know about. Back in the hills of Westchester County, more than an hour from Broadway, there is an idyllic country place hidden in the trees. It is reached by a roundabout road and once it has been entered the world is completely shut off. There is no way of reaching it by telephone.

This is the hide-away workshop of Belasco, and here it is that he consults with the stage artists. Models that no one knows about are built and destroyed; strange little stage worlds are born here only to die and be reborn.

And whether it be midnight or dinner hour, the day ends at his suite in the Gladstone Hotel.

BOTH the living quarters of the hotel and the "back stage" office have become almost fabulous myths of Broadway. Rare treasures have gone to ornament the most lavish theatrical office imaginable; rare tapestries and rooms within rooms; one of the country's most famous collections of jade; a fireplace filched centuries ago from Italian royalty, for the theft of which three men paid with their lives; chairs and adornments such as only the great museums can boast.

Some day, when he has passed on, the public will probably be amazed at the revelation of what this treasure house contains.

The suggestion that death might be possible is barred in these precincts. That is one topic the white-haired dean will not tolerate.

One motto which ever hangs before him explains this attitude: "I will wait until danger really comes. Then I will meet it face to face."

Belasco . . . puts a tremendous amount of energy and practical effort into his dreams. . . . He supervises the smallest details of the acting and production . . . in all his plays . . . and often completely revises the script.

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

THAT the so-called "western extension" area of the pink worm restricted district may be completely freed from all regulations within a few weeks is now in prospect.

J. M. Del Cinto, state entomologist, a likeable fellow who conferred with a delegation of Big Spring, Lamesa and Ackerly men in Austin, Monday, said a new invention called "gin waste inspection machine," are being attached to gin points in the area. This machine, in initial tests, showed a mistake which it is far more efficient at determining whether there are any pink boll worms in the cotton than any means yet devised.

It is the intention of the state and federal departments of agriculture, if no cotton is found, to discontinue all regulations.

Changes of price discrimination and more money in the hands of the growers, which have been the chief items since the state's cotton industry has received a boost from the state department of agriculture's representatives in the field, that had led to a considerable increase in the price of cotton.

We all remember that Ross Sterling, Democratic nominee for governor in his campaign address here, last month, declared his belief that farmers who have sustained losses because of restrictions placed on them for the purpose of protecting the remainder of the cotton belt from pink bollworm infestation, should be remunerated.

Carl Roundtree, member of the house from Lamesa, who we are sorry to learn, did not seek a second term and Penrose Mitchell of San Antonio, representing this district, both are going to fight hard in the next legislature for an appropriation that will repay at least a heavy majority of the losses.

It will be very opportune if our farmers can receive these cash payments within the next six months. It will mean much at this position at home.

This reminds us of the "Hetty Hensley" column in the West Texas Herald, which recently contained an editorial, reported in this column, and in which West Texas was criticized for seeking payment for losses incurred because of worm restrictions. The West Texas writer, showing typical ignorance of West Texas, declared we had been paid. He was a member of the last legislature, and ought to have known better, but, not having paid much attention to the business of being a legislator, he did not notice that a bill seeking such remuneration was passed, and the appropriation thus authorized voted.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has officially apologized to West Texas for the unfair, unfair, in editorial, reported in this column, and in which West Texas was criticized for seeking payment for losses incurred because of worm restrictions. The West Texas writer, showing typical ignorance of West Texas, declared we had been paid. He was a member of the last legislature, and ought to have known better, but, not having paid much attention to the business of being a legislator, he did not notice that a bill seeking such remuneration was passed, and the appropriation thus authorized voted.

Bank Robbers Suspected In Plane Theft

Papers Left At Airport By Thieves Point To Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 18. (AP)—Eugene P. Gum of the Oklahoma Bankers Association, announced today that thieves who stole an airplane at Elk City, Okla., early this morning left papers and maps at the airport there indicating they may have been the robbers of the Lincoln National Bank and Trust Company at Lincoln, Neb., yesterday.

The craft, a Travelair biplane, was taken from the hangar of W. Dewey Mauk at the Elk City airport at about 5 o'clock this morning. The thieves left a motor car stolen at Lyons, Kas. Previously a plane had been reported stolen at Great Bend, Kas., near Lyons in central Kansas.

All Oklahoma airports were keeping a sharp lookout for the thieves. A plan, answering the description of the Travelair landed at Curtis Wright airport here at 7:30 a. m. today. The lone occupant took off in the direction of Wichita, Kas., after being informed it was too early to purchase gasoline.

Mauk's plane is an open type, ship, painted blue bearing the license number C 8 L O S and the pilot's name.

Gum said Mauk described the papers to him as tracing a route from Lincoln across Kansas to Oklahoma City.

The bankers association secretary said the robbers were believed to have taken off from near Omaha in the plane stolen previously from Great Bend.

Lost of more than $19,000 was reported taken from the bank. The plane stolen from Great Bend earlier in the week was a Swallow biplane, the property of Dale Karsp, airport officials here were notified.

Enterprise Cinches Cup

American Sloop Leads Lipton's Entry over Five Minutes

U. S. S. KANE, OFF AMERICA'S CUP CHAIRS, Sept. 18. (By Radio To The Associated Press)—The American sloop Enterprise today completed a successful day of the historic America's cup when she won the fourth straight race and series four victories to none.

The white-hulled American sloop finished the 30-mile triangular course at 1:50:05, making the run in 3 hours, 10 minutes and 5 seconds.

It was the thirty-seventh time an American boat had beaten the successive British challengers in the 79 years during which the cup has been in competition.

British challengers have won at three times of the forty contests, two of these going to Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV in 1920, when it won the first two races. The other victory was scored by James Ashbury's schooner Lydonia, in 1871, she winning by a narrow margin.

New Hearing On Oil Order Case Is Filed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 18. (AP)—Whether the Oklahoma Corporation Commission acted in violation of the federal constitution in ordering production of oil production may be decided in federal court here September 29 when an interlocutory injunction suit seeking to restrain the commission from enforcing its orders is scheduled for hearing.

The suit was filed in federal court late yesterday by the Champlin Refining Company of Enid, owners of prorated wells in the Oklahoma City and Seminole fields, the state's most prolific pools. It attacks the whole scheme of oil production and alleges major companies have used the corporation commission and oil conservation laws as "instruments for price fixing."

The petition charges state production orders of June 30, July 24, and August 30 of this year were in direct violation of the federal constitution which forbids any state to pass laws depriving persons of property without due process of law, or denying them equal rights under the laws.

A similar suit filed by the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties Company is pending before the Oklahoma supreme court. The Julian suit attacks the production plan and asks a writ of prohibition restraining the corporation commission from enforcing its orders.

Of the approximately three score oil companies cited recently by the corporation commission for alleged violation of production orders, the Julian company was the only one to take direct action until the Shamplin suit was filed.

$165,000,000 Structure Named By Willour For Hoover

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 18. (AP)—The $165,000,000 Boulder, Canyon dam project, for more than 10 years the dream of the arid southwest, today was officially under way. A spike of vada was sledged into a railroad tie by secretary of the Interior, Lyman Willour, started the first numerous construction steps yesterday.

Secretary Willour said to the assembled throng in front of his Colorado river basin states: "I have the honor to name this dam after a great engineer, who really started this greatest project of all time—the Hoover Dam."

The spike driving ceremony marked the start of construction of the 22-mile Union Pacific branch line, which will run from Boulder Junction to the dam site.

Actual work on the dam proper will not start for a year. Dr. Elwood Menzies, head of the reclamation bureau, who will supervise construction, was then ill just before the ceremony.

Ely Cheered By Officials Of Counties

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18. (AP)—Adoption of a plan of financing a connected system of Texas highways that will relieve individual counties of their share of the high way tax burden, and pay (red) road taxes, was contracted by them in the building of state roads through bond issues, was advocated in an address by W. R. Ely, Abilene, a member of the State Highway Commission, before the Association of County Judges and County Commissioners of Texas today.

The Democratic platform plan for the state's highways does not specify the voting of a $350,000,000 bond issue, but does state its opposition to the present antiquated plan of financing our roads and urges the legislature to adopt the bond plan of devise a better one," Ely said. "Personally, I am in favor of the bond issue and feel sure that the legislature will find no better plan for correcting our present situation."

"There is one feature of the bond plan which I am sure many counties have not seen and realized. Adoption of the bond issue would mean the transferring of any existing county bond issue in indebtedness to the state, thus relieving the counties of that burden."

"I have always contended that it is not right to ask home owners and farmers to bear the road building tax burden but that the burden should be placed on the highway traffic."

Ely's remarks were greeted with applause. The convention passed a motion thanking him for his address and endorsing his statements and proposals.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18. (AP)—A train twining northward today through the Mexican cordillera carried Dwight W. Morrow, retiring ambassador, toward his own country, where in November he will stand for election to a senatorial term.

The miles of unending cacti and purple mountain ranges echoed the farewell of the thousands who gathered last night at the Colonia station to see him and Mrs. Morrow off, the farewell of Mexicans to those whom they like and respect. Vaya usted con Dios, señor. "May you go with God."

His three years of service below the Rio Grande ended, Mr. Morrow, who came to Mexico from a partnership in the Morgan banking enterprises, took with him today the official thanks of President Ortiz Rubio and Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada. Both in official pronouncements lauded his work, detailed his accomplishments here, and hoped he would be back again soon.

The fire spread to the timbered sides of the gulch in which the plant was located.

Contract Awarded For Both Branches Of Air Mail Line. To Join Here Or Sweetwater

When contract for carrying air mail over the "Cannon Ball" Southern Transportation route, via Birmingham, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso and Los Angeles, was awarded to the Aviation Corporation (Southern Air Transport) and Southwest Air Fast Express (Safe-way Lines), the award carried with it the contract to carry air mail along the other prong of the southern air mail system, which will lead via New Orleans, Houston and San Antonio to a point on the Dallas-El Paso line.

Southern Air Transport, a part of American Airways, which in turn is a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation, operates the regular passenger line between Dallas and El Paso with division headquarters in Big Spring, the local airport being under lease to the company.

Joint Bid

Safeway Lines, which entered a bid jointly with the Aviation Corporation, has until recently operated between Tulsa and Sweetwater via Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls and Abilene, as well as between Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Dallas.

The San Antonio Express dispatch says:

Announcement by postoffice officials today that the contract for carrying air mail over the Cannon Ball Southern Transcontinental air route has been awarded to the Aviation Corporation of New York, and the Southwest Air Fast Express company of Tulsa, Okla., probably will mean that New Orleans, Houston and San Antonio will be linked up by air with the Pacific coast within the next 30 days.

Contrary to the general belief, the section of the air route now running through these cities is a far west as San Antonio will not require a separate contract as this

Fisher Lads Threaten To Score Twice

Work Of Neal And Line
Improvement Big Spring Features

BY BOBBY CAMPBELL

The Big Spring Steers, heavy and hefty, who will open the 1930 Class A season in District Two next Friday afternoon, are making a good start in the local athletic track Friday afternoon, and came away with the Fisher county representatives having scored a moral victory, if nothing else. The score at the termination of four hot and dusty quarters was 0-0.

Coaches Stevens and Brown, sent their steers off to the track, vying boys and found it wanting. Had the Roby aggregation boasted of a backfield man on an end that could hold a pass when a pass was tossed into outstretched arms, there might be a different story to tell of this 0-0 affair. That ball line, Beene, Roby backfield, was brilliant in his airplane attack. He slunk them far, and accurate to where the waiting gallopers were, but the receivers were much better at waiting than galloping, and time after time the balls flopped aimlessly to the clouded sod.

Roughing
Twice Hambright had a clear field ahead when Roby had the ball down on Big Spring's 15 yard line. Twice Roby shot the skin to the fullback, only to see him drop it after having it. Each time Hambright was only five yards at a minimum from the Steer goal.

In the fourth quarter Roby took the ball down to scoring distance when a 25 yard penalty was assessed Big Spring for touching on the part of Johnson. The penalty was half the distance to the goal line.

Hambright, the betweenst linemen, was tossed out of the fray, slugging.

Big Spring managed to get across seven first downs during the tilt, while Roby was gleaming four. A marked improvement in the line this past week end over last week's performance, was noted. Roby picked up few—previous few—yards through the Steer line.

Outplayed
But despite their futile efforts to crush the forward wall, despite their inability to complete perfectly hurled passes, despite their four first downs during the four quarters, Roby managed things so that their goal was never threatened by the Steers.

The work of Neal at half stood out heads and shoulders above with Steer aggregation. The youth seemed to be the only one, with the exception of Flowers, who could pick up yards when yards were needed most.

The work of Hopper, the shaver head end who is new at this football business, also brought comment from the fans. Hopper failed to develop into an end that the mentors probably think about. A little more experience, and little more under fire, and the wingman should develop into a first class defensive star.

Friday's encounter was played on the new gridiron, which, beneath a broiling sun, was a furnace. Slowly, naturally, the field was evened out as a heavy film of dust formed over it.

Try Field Goal
Roby threatened to put over the winning tally in the third, stalling when they attempted a drop kick from the 25 yard line. The attempt was blocked in the same period after Neal had intercepted Beene's hurl and made a beautiful run. Beene took the ball and fumbled it, Beene recovering on Big Spring's 49 yard line.

There is very little to relate of the game, outside Beene's twisting of the oblong, Neal's offensive game, Flowers' flashes at times, and the work of the Steer line.

It was the final place B encountered before the Steer run smack into the Mineral Wells Mountain at Mineral Wells Friday afternoon to officially open the 1930 season in this tough and unrelenting known as the Oilbelt District.

PASTOR CALLED TO WARD CHURCH

Fifty years ago the late Rev. Godfrey Buchschacher was appointed pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran congregation at Ward, near LaGrange.

Today his grandson, the Rev. Walter G. Buchschacher, 28, of Big Spring, was expecting a call from the church to assume the duties of the pastorate.

It was announced today that the Ward congregation had extended a call to the Big Spring pastor. The call had not arrived at noon today and the Rev. Mr. Buchschacher made no statement in regard to it.

At the present he is pastor of the local Lutheran church and has Midland and Lorraine churches under his supervision.

His grandfather occupied the Ward pulpit for 50 consecutive years. He died August 17, on Sunday morning at the age of 78, a few hours before he would have delivered his Sunday sermon.

The local pastor's father, the Rev. E. Buchschacher is pastor of a Lutheran church at St. Louis.

Montgomery Ward & Company with a successful year in Big Spring to its credit, today observed its first anniversary in the city.

Manager L. A. Hinch Saturday declared the company had repeatedly expressed surprise satisfaction at the showing made by this store.

It is the only one of the Montgomery Ward & Company retail stores in the United States that has won two cash prizes this year in sales competition, and has been outstanding in sales perfection and appearance.

Mr. Hinch has been in charge since January 1, succeeding V. J. Higgins. The store consistently has been one of the leaders in the district, which includes the northern half of Texas and parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma.

"Our policy has always been to employ local people in every position possible," said Mr. Hinch. "A large majority of our employees are local people, who reside in local homes."

This is the 58th year of the Montgomery Ward & Company's history and the fourth year in the retail chain store field. The first retail store was opened in Maryville, Kansas.

C. L. Ettelson, district manager, visited this store Thursday. His district includes 21 stores, with headquarters in Fort Worth.

"You are running a real department store here," Mr. Ettelson told Manager Hinch. "I am particularly impressed with the high type of personnel and splendid appearance of it."

The seasonal decline in sales that is always expected during July and August failed to develop here to the degree expected, said Mr. Hinch. Although those months were not marked by a heavy volume as May and June, the difference lacked considerable of being as great as has been planned for.

Worth, Big Spring, Midland and El Paso, and thence to Los Angeles. The two prongs ultimately will be joined by extending the line from San Antonio to Sweetwater or Big Spring and it is the understanding here that the prong will be only an extension of the main route from Atlanta through Dallas, not requiring an additional contract.

Planes Ready in 30 Days
The contract awarded today requires that planes carrying mail and equipped to carry passengers will be flying from Atlanta west through Monroe, Shreveport and Dallas within the next 30 days. The contractors will receive 40 cents a mile for transporting up to 225 pounds, with an appropriate change in rate in event this poundage is exceeded.

Announcement of the award was not expected until next week, when Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover is to return to Washington. It was decided to make it public today after he talked with Postmaster General Walter F. Brown by long distance telephone from Texas.

The original bid on the southern continental contract was by Halliburton and the Robertson-Craft company, of St. Louis, which is a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation.

Arrested As Vagrants
 A MONG the odd and interesting news items of the day is a dispatch from Chicago remarking that two gangsters have been sent to jail for six months on charges of vagrancy.

The old axioms beloved by our grandfathers get new proof every day. This item, undoubtedly, proves conclusively that there are more ways than one to skin a cat. If you can't send a gangster to jail because he is a dangerous man, a bootlegger, and a murderer, you can at least send him to jail on charges of vagrancy.

However, it really isn't very much to cheer about. The high-powered lawyers retained by the leading gangsters will probably find some way of beating this unexpected setback. In the long run, the law will have to be shelved. This is hardly to be wondered at, since the Chicago underworld's monthly profits are usually estimated high in the millions. It is stretching things a bit to describe a hoodlum as a vagrant.

Thus, while the idea will be appealing to newspaper columnists, it probably will not amount to much as an effective instrument in getting Chicago or any other city under gang rule, and the chief disadvantage comes from the fact that it provides one more striking illustration of the utter inability of America to deal with lawless men.

Every large city in America spends a great deal of money on its police force. In addition it spends money to maintain a prison system, and to keep courts of justice functioning. It has a wealth of laws defining what is illegal and punishing the offender. It has a system of holding such offenders in jail. In other words, it has a good deal of expensive machinery to dispose of lawbreakers.

Yet with all of this machinery,
 the second city in America, cursed with an underworld organization more brazen and defiant than any other in the nation, is reduced to searching two hoodlums for street corners and prosecuting against them for vagrancy, as if they were two harmless Weary Wil-lies picked off a vacant lot behind the railroad yards.

The incident in itself is a discussion editorial. It speaks volumes about the decay of our system of enforcing justice. Properly understood, it tells you that you need to know about the state of law enforcement in American cities.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

The Tennis Title Goes West

IT IS fortunate that Johnny Doe, who has just won the tennis championship of the United States, should also have been the player to defeat Bill Tilden in the semifinals of the national tournament.
 That cleanly-cut victory over the defending champion should help to confirm the Californian's right to his new title in a way that would not have been possible had he been playing in the other bracket.

It must be admitted that the tournament results this year have made it difficult to determine who is the best tennis player in the country at present. Probably many persons would still be inclined to name Bill Tilden, but the evident superiority which he so long enjoyed over all competitors is gone.
 Francis T. Hunter, another veteran and the second ranking player this year, must be counted out; but there is a brilliant group of younger men now in the game, among whom it has been hard to choose.

Johnny Doe, George Lott, John
 Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison, Gregory
 Mangin, Berkeley Bell and Frank Shields all have been showing great promise.

The outcome of the national tournament at Forest Hills indicates that Doe is the best of these younger players. The decision of the ranking committee which placed him third on the list this year immediately behind Tilden and Hun-

 "For five years I was troubled with neuritis and indigestion," said

 Mrs. Alene Tipton, 2311 Broadway, San Antonio. "I used many medicines but none of them helped me like Konojia. The neuritis pains in my arms and chest were almost unbearable. After eating I was sure to suffer the cramping pains of indigestion. My stomach bloated with gas and my heart often palpitated wildly.

"I was about to give up in despair before I found Konojia. I had not completed the first bottle before I began to note an improvement and now, after the third bottle, I have greatly improved in every respect. Neuritis pains have gone entirely. I now eat heartily without any discomfort afterward.
 I gladly endorse this splendid medicine."

Given a real test, in most cases
 over a six to eight week period, Konojia has done for thousands of it did for Mrs. Tipton. "I don't begin with this great medicine today."

Konojia is sold in Big Spring at

ADRENALS

It is estimated that about 10 percent of all children suffer from adrenalitis. These children in some cases are dying, and in others, because of their adrenalitis often suffer other disabilities.

The adrenals are placed at the back of the throat behind the soft palate. They are part of the ring of glands which encircle the throat and serve to regulate the growth and the respiratory functions of the body.

When the adrenals become become large and overgrown, and project sufficiently into the throat to interfere with the path from the nose to the windpipe.

For this reason the child suffers from asthma and usually is obliged to breathe through its mouth.

Enlarged adrenals are a disorder which tends to the child's death.
 Mouth breathing exposes the child to cold and other respiratory diseases.

In normal breathing the air which passes through the nose and into the lungs is filtered, warmed and moistened. Air breathed through the mouth is not properly prepared for the lungs.

The mouth breather usually has a stumped nose, a shortened upper lip, and a cramped upper dental arch. The teeth are irregular, hence proper chewing of food becomes difficult. The child usually appears dull and acts as if half asleep.

Not infrequently disease of the tonsils is associated with enlarged
 adrenals.

Whenever any of these symptoms appear in a child, he should be subjected to an examination, and if the adrenals are found enlarged they should be removed. To delay their removal unnecessarily is to invite further trouble.

FUR DEALERS TO HAVE ARBITRATION COURT

LEIPZIG (INS)—America is well represented at the first international fur congress which opened here recently with delegates from thirty fur producing countries throughout the world. The congress was called to order by Dr.
 Curtius, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Germany. Although the fur trade is the oldest in the world it has never before had a congress to organize its interests. Since the United States is the largest fur producing and consuming country, it is expected to play an important part. The meetings are being held during the International Fur and Hunting Exposition which will be open at Leipzig during the summer.

The first fur congress will discuss twenty questions of pressing interest to the trade. An international court of arbitration is to be formed to act as a court of appeal for questions arising in the widely scattered countries in which furs

 HOLLYWOOD, New Yorkers of 30 years hence may draw down from the dusty shelves where-forgotten movies rest a quaint roll of celluloid dated 1930 and labeled "Just Imagine," and gather en masse to ascertain what prophetic powers, if any, were possessed by the great showmen of our day, the Messrs.
 I. Sylvia, Brown and Henderson.

Should this transpire, that future audience will see on a screen a musical comedy conception, by 1930, prophetic of what their life, customs and dress would be.

ALTON PASSE
 Just how good a picture "Just Imagine" will be remains to be seen but at present it stands out as the most unusual movie idea in Hollywood, one that has not been done before, and that is saying much.

Two or three pictures have looked into the future for their settings, but none on so large a scale as "Just Imagine," which is set in New York in 1930.

Secrecy has surrounded work on the picture, and sets built to scale which picture a vast hangar miles from Hollywood would be used to depict a metropolis where traffic proceeds on many levels, where loads clock at the rate of 250-ton sky-crane, and aerial traffic has supplanted the automobile.

Science has achieved the re-velation of a Brooklynite, (Ed. Ben-det) struck by lightning in 1930.
 Television long since has ceased to be a novelty, and people have instead of names.

There is a marriage tribunal which confers a desired maiden-hood on the most worthy of her suitors, and this supplies the plot.

NOTHING LEFT TO DO?
 The hero (John Garrick), an ocean liner pilot, loves Maureen O'Sullivan, but a newspaper publisher (Kenneth Thomson) wins a tribunal's approval.

Garrick, appealing his case, has four months in which to prove his superiority to Thomson—but what can he do? The feat that Maureen Landenberg, an international hero, in 1927 is just a routine job to him.

Then a scientist offers him an opportunity to be the first to fly to Mars. Of course he does, and gets the girl, after hectic adventures on the strange planet, to which he is accompanied by Frank Albertson (his friend) and Brendel, the stowaway.

"Just Imagine," says its authors, is not intended, of course, as a serious prophecy, but as an entertainment.

The Dancing Silhouette

BY NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN
 Mr. Winslow:
 "Oh, I'll be back and forth." The nurse paused and looked anxiously at Elsa. "I don't like to leave you."

"Alice, you old stupid!" Elsa straightened up as best she could and kissed the nurse warmly. "Go along and don't worry about me.
 I have everything I could possibly want right here."

The servants' wing was attached to the big mansion by a long corridor. Carrying out Mrs. Winslow's ironclad order a dim light was always kept burning there, and in all hallways, throughout the night, for if she had immediate need of her maid at any hour, the servant would not be afraid to come through a lighted house.

It was no such summons which had brought Lucy, the housemaid, creeping along that night, however. It was far after one in the morning, and nothing but dire necessity had gotten the girl out of a warm bed. With stealthy fingers she unlocked the side entrance and crept around the house, the let-tle she wished to mail clutched tightly in one hand. The rural let-tle box was close to the road and Lucy covered the distance with fleet feet; she had arranged with the milkman, a devoted admirer of hers, to take any letter he might see sticking from under the cover of the box.

One of Mrs. Winslow's peculiarities was having the milk left at the entrance to Oaklands instead of placed outside the kitchen door.
 The noise of the milk wagon coming along their driveway had awakened her for three mornings consecutively when they first occupied the mansion and she persuaded her husband to build a small concrete platform and shelter for the milk bottles next the rural trail.

Lucy placed her letter where it would be sure to catch the milk-man's eye, and then with a lighter hand she ran back to the house.

 Instead of sticking to the gravelled path, she cut across the lawn, head down, hugging her coat up around her throat and across her chest.
 Coming from behind a clump of evergreens, she caught sight of a gleam of light on the ground before her and glanced toward the house.

Even as Lucy looked the light grew brighter, and against the yellow shades, which were pulled down on all the windows of the room, appeared a shadow; it grew in size, but as it pivoted this way and that, the horrified girl was unable to decide whether it was man or woman. One moment the silhouette assumed giant proportions, then shrank to normal size; suddenly its movements grew intensified, body and arms whirling in a mad rhythm of motion.

Halt! step by step, Lucy approached the terrace, then the whirling body swung around the arms were out-flung—and she saw beckoning clutching fingers. With a terrified moan, she staggered backward and fled to her bedroom in blind, unreasoning panic and cowered under her bedclothes.

Startling facts regarding the death of Dr. Kane are revealed in tomorrow's chapter.

FIND MASTODON TOOTH IN CATFISH

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (INS)—A mastodon tooth weighing a pound and a half was found in the stomach of an 87 1/2 pound catfish caught in the Ohio River near West Franklin, in Posey County, Indiana.

This story was vouched for today
 by Professor Norman M. Grier of Evansville College to whom the tooth was submitted for identification. The huge catfish was delivered to the L. A. Dameron fish market here where Dan Kaiser, an employee, began skinning and carving it up.

As Kaiser cut the monster cat open he discovered a heavy fold of skin in the stomach region. Moved by curiosity he cut open the fold and the mastodon tooth was revealed. Part of the wall of the stomach had grown around the tooth in such a manner that the entire tooth was inclosed in a pocket by itself.

"Think of the stomach ache that fish must have had," Kaiser reflected.

Professor Grier said the fish might have picked up its strange meal anywhere in this vicinity, as the mastodon remains are not uncommon in the Ohio Valley.

Mill Manager Declares Gins Get Top Price

Del Curto Promises He Will Investigate Report Of Partiality

Manager John F. Hardaway of the Abilene Cotton Oil Company, one of the three oil mills to which gins in the pink bollworm restricted area are allowed to ship cottonseed for crushing purposes, told The Herald via telephone Friday morning that his company had paid and was continuing to pay to gins in the restricted area the same price per ton that is being paid other gins in West Texas.

Almost simultaneously The Herald received a telegraphic message from J. M. Del Curto, state entomologist, saying that he would make a personal investigation of reports published in The Herald last Wednesday, which were that a local ginner had been offered substantially more per ton for cottonseed than designated mills were paying.

Mr. Hardaway's comment on this reported offer was that he believed it was an effort of some central or south Texas mill to make a gesture that would indicate the gins of the restricted area were not being given a fair market.

"The gins in our territory," said Mr. Hardaway, "could not get any more for their cottonseed if they had an open market. The price we're paying them is the same other West Texas gins are getting. True, some cottonseed is bought in Central Texas at slightly higher prices because of the short single haul into Dallas or Fort Worth. We can't compete with that section because of freight rates."

Mr. Del Curto asked The Herald to forward him facts upon which a news story was based, which he said was prepared to do.

Besides the Abilene mill designated plants, insofar as gins in the restricted area are concerned, are located in Colorado and Sweetwater.

Lions Oppose Discontinuing Three Offices

The Lions Club went on record at the regular luncheon today, in opposition to the removal of offices of county health nurse, county home demonstration agent, and county farm agent.

The action followed an address by Mrs. W. C. Rogers of R-Bar urging the club to support the movement to retain the offices, and to oppose petitions asking removal of them.

Mrs. Arsh Phillips and Miss Twila Lomax, school teachers at Stanton, also were guests of the luncheon and made short talks regarding the work.

Mrs. Rogers declared the offices of home demonstration agent and county health nurse were of utmost importance to rural and communities.

The club voted to draw up resolutions asking the officers not be removed and present them to the county commissioners.

Petitions drawn up those opposing the three offices and creation of a county library, have been in circulation for some time.

The club also voted to meet with other service clubs of the city next Friday during the West Texas Dental association two-day session.

Completion Of 15-Story Hotel Due This Week

Pride of the owners and operators of the Settles hotel in the splendor of the plant and the beauty of the furnishings and appointments is shared by every resident of Big Spring who has within the past week inspected the new 15-story building at Third and Rannels streets, erected by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Settles, pioneer local couple.

Dentists Due

The hotel is scheduled to entertain its first guests Friday and Saturday during the West Texas Dental Association's convention, Oct. 6 and 7, the mechanical employees of the Texas & Pacific railway company will have headquarters in the Settles for their annual convention.

Manager F. W. Crow, busy day and night with the thousand and one details attendant to making ready for the dental convention and the formal opening of the hotel, announced Saturday afternoon that the cover charge for the opening dinner-dance in the main ballroom had been changed from $5 to $2.50 per person. He urged those expecting to attend to file their reservations at once at the offices of the hotel, temporarily located in one of the ground floor store spaces on the Rannels street side of the building.

Some idea of the efficient basis upon which it is planned to operate the hotel is afforded by announcement of the list of department heads who will compose Mr. Crow's staff. Aside from eight to ten persons of long experience in special phases of the hotel industry, all employees are being retained from among local people. There will be approximately 45 employees, 37 of them Big Spring residents.

A. C. Scott, chief engineer of the Texas hotel, chief of the hotel, formerly managed by Mr. Crow, will fill that position with the Settles.

R. D. Corley will be catering manager. He comes here from the Gunter hotel in San Antonio.

Mrs. Beattie Taylor, who has been housekeeper at the Settles, Fort Worth, since it was opened here years ago, will be housekeeper here. The entire hotel staff will be on duty Monday and Tuesday.

Tor Grady, from the Thomas Jefferson, Birmingham, Ala., will be chief auditor of the Settles.

Mr. Crow, veteran manager of several of the leading hotels of the southwest, has spent most of his managerial career with the famed Baker group. The Settles Hotel company, organized to operate the Settles hotel, has as its principal stockholders, Ben Baker, younger of the directing heads of the Baker hotels.

Furniture Placed

Three-fourths of the furniture had been placed Saturday afternoon. L. L. Edwards, superintendent of construction for L. V. McCreight & Co., general contractors, and the building was finished with the exception of a few odds and ends.

Draperies were hung on all the windows. The hotel is now ready to receive a full crew at work today to hasten completion of everything for the dentist's convolve Friday and Saturday.

The main ballroom had been finished Saturday, including the floor and final touches to the floor. It is due to secure the proverbial "knock out" upon dinner and dances at the hotel next week and the formal opening.

Mr. Crow said last night organization of a non-denominational men's Bible class to meet at the hotel Sunday morning was nearly completed.

El Paso Man Kills Wife, Son Then Suicides

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 11 (AP)—George W. Cook, 32, business man, shot and killed his wife, fatally wounded his seven year old son, and killed himself here today.

Cook, head of an electrical company, shot his wife to death while she lay asleep in bed and then turned the gun on his little son, George Wilton, who was sleeping with his own body and died almost instantly. His son died two hours after he was wounded.

He used a pistol to shoot his own body with a rifle. Mrs. Cook was shot through her head.

Mrs. Margaret Lowe, with whom the boy was sleeping, was awakened by the first shot fired into his body. She pleaded with Cook not to shoot again, but he fired another bullet.

Betty Jane, 15-month-old adopted daughter, also sleeping with Mrs. Lowe was unharmed.

Mrs. Lowe rushed to Mrs. Cook's room and found her dead. Cook had gone to another room to shoot himself, he said.

Officers said he could not account for the tragedy. Cook had been active in business here for many years. A former wife and two sons reside in Los Angeles, Calif.

Wife Faints As Verdict Is Read After Deliberation Of Hour And Half By Jurors

Servitude in the penitentiary for life was the sentence meted to C. C. Chambers, 43, Big Spring dirt contractor, for the slaying May 3 of Ray Jones, farmer, at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The jury deliberated one and one-half hours before reporting to Judge Fritz R. Smith.

As the verdict was read, the defendant, his wife and a small son were in the courtroom. None of the state prosecutors were present, and none of the relatives of Jones. A fairly large crowd had waited for the verdict to be reached. Sullivan and Sullivan, defense counsel, sat with the defendant.

As Judge Smith read the verdict, Mrs. Chambers fainted and had to be taken to the judge's chambers to be revived.

A doctor was summoned. Mrs. Nina Mae Keifer, 16-year-old daughter of Chambers, was in the courtroom in a few minutes after the verdict was reached.

Will Appeal

Chambers was taken from the room where his wife fainted and sentenced pronounced by Judge Smith. He was ordered remanded to custody of Sheriff Jess Slaughter. Because of the state dental association, an appeal would be filed. Chambers was found guilty on the first ballot. It required six ballots to reach an agreement on his punishment. The county on the first ballot taken as to what his term would be was nine for life sentence and three for death penalty. The agreement was reached on the sixth ballot.

After 30 minutes Chambers left the courtroom, supporting his wife, who was near a state of collapse, and his wife. They were taken to their automobile.

Sabbing "I can't tell daily go," the daughter, who took the stand in defense of her father, both in direct and rebuttal testimony, released her grasp, she fainted and was placed in the car by her young husband.

Chambers was taken to jail by Deputy Sheriff D. D. Dunn.

The verdict brought to an end one of the most sensational murder trials ever held in Howard County. It required nearly five days to hear the testimony of the state and defense. Forty-one out of county witnesses were placed on the stand.

Shooting May 3

Jones was fatally shot as he stood in front of the West Texas National Bank at the intersection of Second and Main Streets. At the time he was shot he was talking to his cousin, Rufus Wills, and Harvey W. Poreh. Chambers surprised immediately after the shooting.

The defense sought to prove that Chambers shot in self-defense, and that Jones had repeatedly threatened and choked Chamber's life. The state contended the shooting was an "out-growth" of a quarrel in McCall County in 1927 over some land.

Mrs. R. B. Jones, widow of the deceased, and Mrs. Loretta Ray, prominent. The court on the last of Birmingham, Ala., mother, had in mourning and with state funds during the summer of 1929.

A large crowd of the entire town attended the Saturday morning session, many sitting upon the floors and overhanging the place reserved for attorneys and officials of the court.

After Mrs. Chambers had been revived, she remained on the bed in the judge's office and cried, "They gave us mife, there is no justice."

Just before his daughter collapsed, Chambers told her that he could be revived, you can come back to see me."

City Officials Comment On Milk Statute

City officials who Tuesday evening passed an ordinance designed to govern production of milk and within the city, have pointed out that they met the wishes of three of the four farmer representatives who appeared before them Tuesday evening, in passing a revised ordinance which allows for sale of ungraded milk.

V. R. Smithman, city manager, said that one of the four farmers, who represented groups of farmers, said he would not favor any kind of milk ordinance. The others, said Mr. Smithman, told the commission that all they wanted was a right to sell their milk, regardless of conditions under which it might be produced.

The ordinance, it is pointed out, allows for sale of ungraded milk and prescribes conditions that must be met before milk may be labeled "Grade A, B or C."

The Herald's attention has been brought to a typographic error appearing in an article of Thursday concerning the milk ordinance, in which it was stated that sour milk samples from each dairy farm otherwise meeting requirements for various grades would be taken to determine the "bacterial count." This should have read "four milk samples."

Mr. Williams, city milk inspector, said November 1st is the date set for allowing those meeting grade requirements to label their milk cans with the grade they measure up to.

No Producer Barred From Selling Here

Grade Specifications Are Listed For Information Of Public

In an effort to fully acquaint the public, both producers and consumers of milk and milk products with the true terms and provisions of the city milk ordinance, which will be enforced after January 1 or thereafter, Jimmy Williams, city sanitation officer, in charge of enforcing it, last night outlined for publication the more important parts of the statute.

Producers of grade milk are outlined. However, it is entirely optional with the dairyman or dairy farmer as to whether his milk is graded.

Mr. Williams pointed out that the ordinance prohibits no one from selling milk. All milk producers or distributors must secure from the health officer a permit to engage in such business, which is issued free of charge on application.

The ordinance contains provisions for classifying fluid milk into three grades, "A", "B", and "C", and also for the sale of ungraded milk, and provides for its sale under its grade label only. The sale of no milk is restricted so long as it is properly labeled with the grade awarded by the health department.

It is left entirely up to the dairyman or dairy farmer, as to whether he has his milk graded. If he does not want any grade, his dairy farm will not be inspected regularly and his milk graded or samples of milk collected except for the purpose of detecting adulteration, and he may continue to sell his milk under a plain label, only the permit number as issued by the health department stamped or printed on the cap, tag, or container. No other marks, stamps or brands are required or permitted on ungraded milk, except the plain cap with the permit number, which is for the purpose of identifying the producer.

The grades of milk are based on the extent of protective and sanitary precautions which are observed in its production and subsequent handling designed to prevent disease infection and to produce a clean and good quality of milk. The milk producer is given credit for these efforts through the grade label which tells the consumer what he has done to make his milk safer and to produce a high quality product. In this manner also the public is officially informed of the quality of the milk offered for sale.

Basal for Grading

Twenty-five items of sanitation control the grading of dairies and this group is the standard for grade "A" raw milk. All of these twenty-five grade control items must be satisfactorily met before grade "A" can be awarded. The milk is then tested in the laboratory for confirmation of the grade.

For grades to be confirmed, the bacterial content as indicated by the laboratory check-up must come within the bacterial limits as specified for the grade received under the control items. The "Standard Milk Control Code" by the United States Public Health Service is the official interpreter of what is satisfactory compliance with these grade control items.

GRADE "A" RAW MILK: Is milk produced upon dairy farms conforming with the twenty-five items of sanitation and the average bacterial count does not exceed 50,000 per cubic centimeter, and which is immediately cooled after milking to a temperature of 50 degrees Fahrenheit and maintained thereat until final delivery.

GRADE "B" RAW MILK: Is milk the average bacterial count of which at no time prior to delivery exceeds 200,000 per cubic centimeter, produced on dairy farms conforming with all the items of sanitation except five, relating to the dairy barn, and which is cooled immediately after milking to 50 degrees or maintained thereat until final delivery.

GRADE "C" RAW MILK: Is milk the average bacterial count of which at no time prior to delivery exceeds one million per cubic centimeter and is produced on dairy farms conforming with all the items of sanitation except seven, relating to the dairy barn, and which is cooled immediately after milking to 50 degrees or maintained thereat until final delivery.

CERTIFIED MILK: Is milk which conforms with the current requirements of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissioners, and produced under the supervision of the Medical Society of Howard County, Texas.

UNGRADED MILK: Is milk produced on dairy farms which are not inspected and graded according to the provisions of the ordinance.

GRADE "A" PASTEURIZED MILK: Is grade "A" or "B" raw milk which has been properly pasteurized in a plant conforming with all the twenty-four sanitary items governing pasteurized milk plants, and in which the average bacterial count does not exceed 50,000 per cubic centimeter, and the milk is immediately cooled after pasteurization to a temperature of 50 degrees or lower and maintained thereat until final delivery.

GRADE "B" PASTEURIZED MILK: Is grade "A" or "B" raw milk which has been properly pasteurized in a plant conforming with all the items of sanitation required for grade "A" pasteurized milk except three items relating to inside painting, lighting and ventilation, and personal cleanliness of employees, and in which the average bacterial count does not exceed 100,000 per cubic centimeter.

GRADE "C" PASTEURIZED MILK: Is milk which does not

Piner Gives His Version Of Milk Meeting

The Herald has received the following statement from Robert T. Piner, relative to conversations at last Tuesday's city commission session in which the city milk ordinance, adopted at that meeting was discussed:

September 11, 1930
Big Spring Herald, City.

Gentlemen:
Your account of the passage of the Milk Ordinance by City Commission, carried in yesterday's paper, quotes me as stating that I was opposed to the Ordinance, the inference being that I was unfavorable to it in its entirety. That part of your statement is incorrect as such is not my feeling and I feel very sorry that I was misunderstood by your reporter. I am not a milk producer, and in justice to the Commission and others concerned, I shall appropriate your making an appropriate correction, either by publication of this letter, or editorially, as you may prefer.

The writer happened to be present at the Commission meeting on an entirely different matter and did not know that this ordinance was to be discussed. Being called upon for an explanation of the intention of the preceding Commission of which he was a member at the time of the passage of the original Milk Ordinance, I made the statement that the Commission of which I was a member had considered the Standard Milk Ordinance among other precautionary measures at the time of a mild outbreak of typhoid in this city. The Standard Milk Ordinance was found to be quite lengthy and detailed measure, and contained a number of provisions which we did not think should be put into effect at that time. After considerable discussion, it was finally decided to postpone the Standard Milk Ordinance and the Standard Milk Ordinance as to provide for A and B grades of milk to be produced under conditions as indicated. It was definitely decided to eliminate such provisions of the Ordinance as would interfere with the small retail dealers, either in the city or in the country. Dairymen have long been encouraged by the business interests here as a legitimate and necessary side line for the farmers. We did not feel like setting up requirements which would be impossible or impractical for the farmers to meet and thereby jeopardize or destroy this vital source of revenue.

Most of the farmer's customers were his friends who were entirely satisfied, from their own personal knowledge, with the way in which the milk was being handled.

The above is what I tried to tell the Commission, speaking hurriedly and without any previous preparation. I also stated that in my judgment these conditions had not changed, and that now was an even poorer time to attempt to enforce such restrictive measures. I did not say that the old Commission was opposed to the Milk Ordinance in its entirety.

Since this meeting, I have talked with other members of the Commission during my time and they advise that my recollection of the circumstances is correct and in accordance with what they recall.

The representatives of the farmers stated they had no objection to: 1. Tubercular tests of their cows. 2. Health certificates for all milk handlers. 3. Registration of all sellers of milk in order that their products might be examined from time to time by the City Health Officers, and if found unfit for use, to be prohibited until the products would pass satisfactory tests.

In view of this attitude it would seem an ordinance could be worked out that would give the consuming public adequate protection, and at the same time permit the farmers who are now selling a good grade of milk to continue doing so.

I feel sure the present commission will be disposed to attempt this if such a result is not accomplished by the Ordinance just passed, which I have not had time to study.

Yours very truly,
ROBERT T. PINER.

Lefty Lyday Twirls, Chapman Drives Across Winning Tally

The south paw of Lefty Lyday, coupled with standing pounding of Bud Cramer's offerings, carried the Merrick and Bristow unit along the crest of victory Sunday afternoon and to a championship of the Oil-belt League.

With Magnolia Petroleum fighting every inch of the way and giving no quarter, the M. & B. aggregation eked out a 7-6 victory to win three out of a five-game series to cap the laurels.

Three times during the tilt, the tally was knotted, and in the last of the ninth, it looked like another reprieve. With two men on the sacks, Roy Lamb made a beautiful catch of Fletcher's drive, shot it to Nesbitt at first to end the game, series, championship.

Lyday twirled the orbit under the moon, spring conditions. Behind his back 10 errors were made. A ball hit to center field was practically as good as out there. Red Merrith in the middle garden, made four errors during the game. And the errors didn't help Lyday's chances to cop by any means. But the sticks came to his rescue and drove in the runs.

Score In First
Merrick and Bristow opened the fray in the first inning after two were away. Nesbitt singled, being advanced by Lamb and scoring on Lyday's single.

Magnolia went into the lead in the same inning when Tate, Merrith and Chapman made errors, allowing Rose to tally. Ferguson scored on Kotten's sacrifice fly to center.

In the third Merrick and Bristow knifed things. Rose having placed on Ferguson's error at third. Nesbitt was walked. Lamb went away. Lyday was walked and Chapman popped out to Ferguson. A walk handed Tate pushed Rose across the slab.

Things rocked along. Magnolia went scoreless in their half of the third. Both teams went away in the fourth, and Merrick and Bristow didn't meet in the first of the fifth.

In the last of that inning, however, two errors and two hits accounted for two runs. The errors were made by Tate and Chapman, the hits by Rainey and Cramer, and the tallies by McGeath and Rainey.

Tied In Seventh
It was the first of the seventh before M. & B. evened matters. Again Cramer faced the big stuff of the M. & B. roster. Nesbitt was walked and Lamb singled. Lyday was walked intentionally. Jeff Chapman selected his rod and clouted out a single to drive Nesbitt and Lamb across to tie the tally 4-4. In the same inning, Magnolia forged ahead two runs.

Field was walked by Lyday, advanced by McGeath's sacrifice, and scored on Ferguson's single. Ferguson tallied when Merrith dropped Rainey's high one.

In the first of the eighth four hits off Cramer ran three runs across for the M. & B. slate. Smith opened the inning with a single, Rose forced out by Merrith. Rose forced out by Merrith. Rose forced out by Merrith.

With two away Lamb doubled to tally Merrith and Chapman singled to score Nesbitt and Lamb. With a one-run lead, they went into the last of the ninth. Two forced outs hurt Magnolia and when Lamb handled Fletcher's offering the championship series was at an end.

Big Spring Body Told Members To Attend I. C. C. Session

BY WENDELL BEDIKCHER
AUSTIN, Sept. 15.—Members of the state railroad commission will attend the interstate commerce commission's hearing on the application of the Texas & Pacific Northern Railway company to build 332 miles of new railroad from Big Spring to Vega, Amarillo and Lubbock, a delegation from towns along the route was told this following a conference with the commission.

Governor Dan Moody received the delegation and assured it that he would ask the attorney general to file with the interstate commerce commission a brief supporting the application. General Bobbitt has pledged his full cooperation.

John P. Slaton of Hereford, was made chairman and spokesman of the delegations in an early morning meeting at a hotel which was attended by Ross Sterling, democratic nominee for governor, who gave assurance of his interest in development of the region the T. & P. N. would serve.

Name Watson
C. T. Watson of Big Spring was made secretary of the delegation. Chairman Neff as well as commissioners Lon Smith and C. V. Terrell said that at least one member would sit in on the hearing and, on the basis of testimony developed, file recommendations with the interstate commerce commission.

It was recalled that this procedure was followed in the Fort Worth and Denver cases at Plainview and in the Southern Pacific application to enter the Rio Grande Valley. In the latter case the state commission recommended the application be granted, and it was, although the I. C. C. examiner filed adverse recommendations.

Governor Moody recalled that as attorney general he filed a brief supporting the Fort Worth and Denver application for its Panhandle extension and that in granting the application his brief was quoted by the interstate commerce commission.

Those representing towns along the proposed rail route were: Big Spring, C. T. Watson, Garland A. Woodward, Wendell Bedikcher, L. S. McDowell, Ray Wilcox, J. E. Key, Kendall, Robert T. Piner, Mayor J. P. Pickle.

To Gather Data
Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt told representatives of towns along the proposed route of the Texas & Pacific Northern Railway this morning that he would assign a member of his staff at once to gather information bearing upon the roads application, filed with the interstate commerce commission.

If when the I. C. C. hearing is called his department has determined that it will be beneficial for it to intervene in order to protect the interests of Texas, it will do so, he said. Following the hearing the attorney general's course would be governed by evidence brought out as to whether the state would file pleadings for or against the T. & P. N. application.

"CONSIDERATION"
AUSTIN, Sept. 15 (AP)—Assurance that the state railroad commission would give "fullest consideration" to the proposed Texas & Pacific Northern railroad from Big Spring to Vega was given a West Texas delegation today.

BY WILL ROGERS

Well all I know is just what I read in the papers. Here about a week or ten days ago we had quite a mess of news happening. But here lately its pretty well bogged down. When those Frenchmen were flying the Ocean and Lindy was receiving 'em, you know that has been quite a Novelty. Think of Lindy meeting somebody instead of being met. But he did a mighty gracious thing, as he always does. When those boys landed he was right there, to give them the glad hand of welcome, and it was real too. For he is for anything that is for the good of aviation whether it is the one doing it or not. Yes sir he and Annie were there.

Well those fellows had a right to make the trip. They were real patriots in the first place, and they had made every known preparation and taken every precaution. The trouble with most of the other trials that have failed, they were by practically unknown Aviators, and they were just taking a chance and figure in many they could make it. You see when those Germans come meandering in here by way of the North Pole and way stations (which by the way was a great trip) why that stirred the French. You let a German do something and even if its wrong the Frenchmen will want to do it him. Now that they have it
