Taft Leading Stassen In Ohio Voting

Bitter Words, One Blow Tossed At Meet

Lubbock GOPs Clash In Hectic Session

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

LUBBOCK county Republicans, usually as harmonious as a bride and groom at the altar, completely stole the political spotlight in their county convention Tuesday afternoon in the second floor courtroom of the courthouse by staging one of the stormiest sessions in history which came close to ending in a free-for-all fight.

Tempers flared, angry words were spoken and at least one blow struck in the melee, which probably would have gotten further out of hand but for the presence of two Lubbock county sheriff's deputies, Tom Cannon and Earl Horton.

Two Groups Are Named

As a result two slates of delegates to the Republican state convention were named, one by the "Geo. B. Hopkins forces" headed by John L. Vaughan, long-time Lubbock county GOP leader, and the other by the "R. B. Creager group," headed by M. D. Temple, who has been at odds with Vaughan over Republican affairs in the county for some time.

Vaughan's group, declared favoring an unrestricted delegation, are said pledged for Dewey as the party's presidential nominee while the other group, under Creager's direction, are pledged to support Taft in the first roll calls.

Tuesday's trouble stemmed from discord in several precinct sessions last Saturday in which the two groups clashed over naming of delegates to the county convention. "Rump" precinct sessions were conducted in the precincts and Tuesday's squabble was so inevitable that Vaughan had called for the two deputies to be on hand.

With approximately 40 persons present, including a small group of Texas Tech students majoring in history and government as spectators, the convention was called to order by Vaughan, who made a brief talk at the outset stating that

Demos' Session Here Is Quiet

In a dignified atmosphere punctuated by care to determine that everybody had his say, and relieved by the volume of ayes and noes responsive to voting, Democrats Tuesday afternoon held their Lubbock county convention in the third-floor courtroom of the courthouse.

Four brief resolutions were adopted—one of them amended from the floor—and a list of 21 delegates and their alternates was appointed to the May 25 state convention at Brownwood.

To Back Party Nominee

The resolutions:

1. That Congress be urged to enact, and President Truman be urged to approve, legislation now pending which would recognize and confirm heretofore long-recognized ownership of the states to lands beneath navigable waters within their boundries; and our delegation to the state convention at Brownwood is hereby instructed to support a similar resolution on behalf of the Democratic party of Texas.

2. That delegates from Lubbock county to the state Democratic convention be instructed to work for the nomination of electors who are pledged to support for the office of president and vice-president of the United States, the candidates named by the Democratic party in national convention assembling at Philadelphia July 12.

3. That delegates from Lubbock

Seizure Seen As Rail Talks Break Down

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 4—Federal seizure of the nation's railroads became a possibility tonight after the collapse of mediation efforts to avert a strike called for May 11.

Attempts of Frank Douglass, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation board, to settle the wage dispute between the carriers and three operating brotherhoods broke down today.

Douglass, who said that neither side had budged during five days of conference here, announced he would go to Washington tonight to report to President Truman.

Legislation On Law Books

The President was reported by White House assistants to have been watching the Chicago mediation efforts closely.

General Counsel Francis A. Silver of the Office of Defense Transportation said in Washington that legislation is still on the statute books making it possible for Mr. Truman to order federal operation of the railroads.

The walkout has been set for next Tuesday by unions representing 190,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen. The strike was called a week ago after breakdown of direct negotiations between union and railroad representatives.

Unions Reject Offer

The three unions have demanded a 30 per cent increase in wages and changes in working rules. They have rejected an offer by the carriers of 15½ cents an hour.

Nineteen other railroad unions have accepted the 15½ cent raise. Those unions which have agreed upon the increase were said by railroad officials to represent 90 per cent of the country's railroad employes.

The 15½ cent figure was recommended by a presidential fact-finding board as a basis for settlement of wage demands by the three brotherhoods.

Negotiations Halted

After the final conference with union negotiators today, Douglass said "neither the railroad brotherhoods nor the carriers will budge from their position of a week ago.

"The railroads' position is that they have done everything they can under the National Railway act.

"The labor organizations have insisted all the way through the

Bonus Proposed For Enlistees

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — Rep. Allen (R-Ill) today proposed a substitute for the draft—a program to build up the armed forces by paying a bonus to volunteers.

Allen suggested that men who enlist for a two year period get a bonus of $1,000 or be entitled to the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights. Those who sign up for three years would get $1,500.

Allen, chairman of the House Rules committee and influential in Republican affairs, said a cost comparison between his plan and a draft could not be made.

Cost Estimated

He said the cost of a draft has been estimated all the way from $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 a year. This would include the cost of inducting men, equipment, training, feeding and clothing them.

Allen said his proposed bonus would cost $350,000,000 a year. In addition, of course would be the cost of equipping, training, feeding and clothing the volunteers.

Allen said there would be no selective service organization to support, under his plan, but he was unable to say what the cost of selective service would be under the draft program.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services committee, was critical of the Allen idea.

Chicago Girl Takes 1,448-Mile Flight Playing 'Hookey'

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 4—Eleven-year-old Janet Jones played hookey via airplane.

In a single day's absence from school, she went 1,448 miles to New York and back.

Janet left home—ostensibly for school—yesterday. When she didn't return Monday afternoon, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Jones, notified police.

Around 9 p. m., their telephone rang. It was a New York airline official who was suspicious because no one met the girl. Janet was with him.

The airline sent Janet (who said she had taken $75 of family funds) straight home—by plane.

Arab Warning Is Given UN

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE SUCCESS, May 4—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan told the United Nations today the calamities in Palestine will reach a pinnacle of horror after May 15.

The Trans-Jordan monarch hinted his British-trained Arab legion will attempt to seize and pacify Palestine after the British give up their mandate over the Holy Land in mid-May.

Representatives here of other Arab countries quickly backed up King Abdullah with indirect threats of action by their governments and with attack on what they called Jewish outrages in Palestine.

Several delegates complained the second UN Assembly on Palestine is talking too much and doing nothing about the problem.

The Assembly's political committee finally approved a Cuban plan to throw all proposals on Palestine to a 12-nation subcommittee. The vote was 33 to 7, with 13 abstentions. The United States and Britain favored it; Russia voted against it.

JEWS ANNOUNCE CAPTURE OF STRATEGIC ARAB CITY

TEL AVIV, Palestine, May 4 (AP)—Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish warriors, said today they had captured the strategic Arab city of Yehudia 12 miles east of Tel Aviv after an all night battle with Arab defenders.

Haganah, the regular Jewish militia, declared Lebanese artillery shelled the northern Jewish settlement of Ramat Naftali less than four miles from the Lebanese-Palestine frontier.

Haganah said also that Arab forces were attacking Kfar Etzion, a Jewish strongpoint about 10 miles south of Jerusalem on the Jerusalem-Hebron highway. Haganah claimed that the Trans-Jordan Arab legion, which has forces on police duty for the British in Palestine, had concentrated a large force of men and guns around the virtually isolated settlement.

Senate Test On Oleo Taxes Is Set Today

WASHINGTON, May 4 (INS)—The Senate battled for five hours today over the bill to repeal oleomargarine taxes and then postponed until tomorrow a showdown vote over whether the measure should go to the Agriculture or Finance committees.

The chamber agreed to vote on the question at 12 noon (CST).

The vote will come on an appeal by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark), from a ruling by Senate President Vandenberg (R-Mich) that the House-passed measure should go to the Agriculture committee. Fulbright asked that it be sent to Finance.

He admitted that he might be defeated in his effort to keep the measure out of the hands of the Agriculture committee, which he fears will pigeonhole it. He said:

"The situation looks very bad for the future of the bill."

Home State Gives Solon Good Support

By JACK BELL

COLUMBUS, O., May 5 (Wednesday)—Senator Robert A. Taft held a 14 to 9 lead over Harold E. Stassen early today in their battle for 23 Ohio Republican presidential delegates.

Scattered returns from all sections of the state in yesterday's GOP primary voting gave Taft's candidates the lead in 14 delegate races. He already has been assured of the backing of 30 additional delegates where Stassen did not contest.

Taft Delegate Leads

In a drive for a majority of the 23 at stake in the voting, Taft's candidates led in nine races. Most politicians have said that unless he collects at least 10 delegates his invasion of Ohio will be recorded as something of a failure.

One of the 23 candidate posts involved a statewide race for an at-large delegate. In that contest, Carrington T. Marshall, was falling steadily behind Ed D. Schorr, a Taft candidate. In 1,921 of the state's polling places, Schorr had 50,682 votes and Marshall 45,303.

When Stassen entered only one candidate in that field, Taft was assured of eight votes there. These are included in the total of 30 certain to be for him on first nominating ballot at the Philadelphia convention.

Stassen Ahead In Cities

Stassen put up his fight in the industrial centers, where nine of his candidates were leading in the total of 22 races in 22 districts.

Taft's men were ahead in 13 of the district battles and the one contested at-large race.

Senator John W. Bricker led the field of the eight Taft at-large delegates certain of election. He was paced closely by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. Rep. Clarence Brown, Taft's campaign manager, was next.

In state primary races, former Gov. Frank J. Lausche took a long lead over Ray T. Miller, former Cleveland mayor, in their contest for the Democratic governor nomination.

A Democratic national convention delegation scheduled to support President Truman for the nomination was chosen.

Alabama Demos Split On HST

(By The Associated Press)

Voters in three states besides Ohio went to the polls Tuesday—Alabama, Florida and Indiana. And in one of them, Alabama, Gov. James E. Folsom was trailing in his bid for a delegate post to the Democratic convention.

Alabama returns showed two early trends:

1. An indication that the state's delegation to the Democratic convention may be divided between those favoring and those opposing a walkout should the convention nominate President Truman or indorse his civil rights program.

2. Governor James E. Folsom was not doing so well. The governor, who has proclaimed himself a candidate for the presidential nomination, was trailing five other men seeking places as delegates to the Democratic convention.

Incumbents Lead

In addition, Phillip J. Hamm, indorsed by Folsom, was far behind Senator John J. Sparkman, who is seeking re-election.

Cooler Weather To Continue In Area

Lubbock and the South Plains had unseasonably cool weather yesterday with a high temperature reading of 82 degrees at the Weather bureau station five miles north of the city. Normally the temperature averages a maximum in the nineties at this time of the year.

The high temperature today was predicted at about 86 degrees, but a cool front was expected to move into the area by midafternoon.

Strong southerly winds were forecast for most of today, shifting when and if the front extended to the South Plains. Yesterday the wind reached a velocity peak of 27 miles per hour at 5 p. m. The official forecast was partly cloudy today and Thursday, with little change in temperature.

Pro-Truman Backers Trail Over State As Delegates Are Named

(By The Associated Press)

PRO-JESTER forces, seeking an uninstructed delegation to the national Democratic convention, led in shaping up the party's state meeting on the face of reports received from more than 40 county Democratic conventions Tuesday.

It is in the state convention at Brownwood May 25 that selection of the national delegation will be made.

In the group of counties sending uninstructed delegations to Brownwood, or groups told to work for uninstructed representation in the national meeting were Tarrant, Navarro, Bowie, Fanning, Hill, Smith, Culberson, Walker, Brazos, Anderson, Lamar, Harrison, Rusk, Wilbarger, Kerr, Dawson, Milam, Nacogdoches, Dallam, Grayson, Midland, Hidalgo, Angelina, Brown, Hunt, Bell, Wichita, Orange, Henderson, Webb and Childress.

Harris county, which with about 145 votes will have the largest block in the state convention, is sending a delegation bound under the unit rule to oppose any and all candidates favoring the "so-called Truman civil rights program." Its voting strength was estimated unofficially by its county executive committee chairman, M. L. O. Andrews.

But a fight shaped up for the state convention. Pro-Truman forces want the President endorsed all the way, and they found strength in the makeup of a number of strong delegations, among them that from Dallas, though the Truman issue was not brought to a head in the Dallas convention. Dallas has about 125 votes.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower also goes to the state Democratic meeting with well organized support as a subject for endorsement as a presidential candidate.

The Travis county convention, after a tempestuous, seven-and-a-half hour meeting, sent Ike's name

LUBBOCK'S WATER OUTLOOK MUCH BRIGHTER

City Commission, Assured New Reservoir To Be Ready Soon, Plans Several Wells And Deep Tests

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

PLENTY of water for Lubbock needs this summer was virtually assured Tuesday afternoon at a special city commission meeting at which other actions of history-making potentialities were taken.

Assurances of improvements in the supply needed this summer came from two sources. One was the statement by W. G. McMillan that the 10,000,000-gallon surface reservoir in Northeast Lubbock for which he is contractor should be ready to receive water in about 10 days. The other was the commission's plans to drill three to six new wells northwest of the city in the immediate future.

Together, these sources should add from 14,000,000 to 17,000,000 gallons daily to the supply available this summer. Added to present production, this should provide a margin of 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 gallons a day above any peak needs expected to ocur.

Looking further into the future, and of potentialities impossible to exaggerate, was the commission's decision to sponsor or participate in at least three tests for water sands down to depths of 1,500 feet. They offer the possibility of a permanent solution of the water problems not only of Lubbock, but of the entire South Plains.

"Deep water in sufficient quantities would be more important to Lubbock and the South Plains than an oil field," Mayor W. H. Rodgers commented.

This was a view shared by Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler, jr., and Clarence Whiteside. All joined in approving the deep test program, originally proposed by Hufstedler,

Arousing Will To Live Hardest Job For Warden On 'The Rock'

By CONSTANCE HITCHCOCK
INS Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4 — Arousing the will to live in Alcatraz "lifers" was the toughest problem faced by James A. Johnston in his fifteen years as warden of "The Rock."

White-haired, pinked-cheeked 73-year-old Johnston, whose vigor belies his years, retired as warden of Alcatraz prison in San Francisco bay last Saturday and today gave International News service exclusively some outstanding impressions of his career.

Johnston talked about his experiences at Alcatraz as he assumed his new duties as assistant director of the Federal Bureau of prisons for the Western area with an office in the federal building in San Francisco.

"Remember," said Johnston, "many of those men were serving sentences they could not live out —they faced death in prison.

"They didn't care whether they lived or died. It was the warden's job to make them willing to live and you couldn't do that by waving a magic wand. It was a tough day-to-day problem—the toughest part of my job."

Notorious Gangs Inmates

During Johnston's career as warden the hardened criminals confined at Alcatraz included members of the Al Capone gang, including Capone himself; the Purple gang of Detroit; the Karpis-Barker gang of St. Paul, Minn., kidnapers; the machine-gun Kelley gang; the tri-state gang in the Midwest and the Touhy gang of Chicago.

Before their capture members of these gangs often were rivals "gunning" for each other.

Johnston was asked whether this did not lead to violence when they were thrown together on "The Rock." He explained:

"Yes, they mingled in the prison yard and there were numerous incidents. But a close watch was kept and trouble between them was never allowed to get beyond control. The guards knew what to watch for.

"There were many such hazards that never got into the news."

Just two years ago to the day, the kindly Johnston was facing the greatest danger of his life—the armed revolt of convicts on "The Rock" which ended in the killing of three convicts and two guards and the wounding of fourteen others.

Dungeons Abandoned

"Was that the toughest spot you were ever in?" Johnston was asked.

His eyes twinkling, Johnston replied:

"I think it is safe to assume so."

Johnston revealed that the old and notorious "black holes" of Alcatraz had been abandoned in 1941.

There were dungeons below the surface of the rocky island left from the days when Alcatraz was a Spanish prison. Johnston said they were abandoned when the present "d block," or punitive section, was built in 1941.

In his new job Johnston will act in an advisory capacity to wardens of all federal prisons in the West and will be available for consultation with state, army and navy prison directors. He has already been asked to advise the state department of institutions.

Johnston was succeeded as warden of Alcatraz by 59-year-old Edwin B. Swope, former head of the federal correctional institution for youths at Inglewood, Colorado. Swope said there would be no change in the policies of Johnston.

Goldwyn Says Movie Goers To Benefit From Court Decision

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)—Samuel Goldwyn, veteran movie chief, said today the Supreme court's decision in the government's anti-trust suit against major studios helps assure moviegoers that they can see the pictures they wish.

The high court yesterday sent back to district court, by a 7-1 margin, the question of whether producers should dispose of their theater holdings.

Goldwyn declared:

"The record shows that the major motion picture companies, combining studios and theaters, control at least 70 percent of the first run houses in all cities of 100,000 population or over, and 60 percent in cities between 25,000 and 100,000. To the average motion picture goer, this means that certain companies can dictate what pictures he shall see, and in many large areas of the country can completely eliminate the pictures of other companies and independent producers."

Goldwyn, although an industry pioneer and one of the founders of Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer, the biggest in the business, is now an independent producer.

"For many years," he said, "those of us who have the best interest of the motion picture industry at heart have fought this combination which the Supreme Court yesterday clearly recognized as a monopoly of the majority of first run theaters in the nation."

East Texan Charged With Bank Robbery

HUNTSVILLE, May 4 (AP) — William Carl Sullivan, 24, of Riverside, Texas, was charged here today with robbery with firearms in connection with the stick-up yesterday of the New Waverly State bank.

Sullivan surrendered yesterday to highway patrolmen Elmer Nichols and A. L. Bouldin and told them he understood the sheriff was looking for him.

Earlier, Sheriff Lloyd Farris found the money and a gun in a car. The two persons in the car said they knew nothing about the gun and money. Sullivan later told of trading cars with the man who was driving the automobile, which was in Sullivan's name.

The robber yesterday had forced Bank President K. S. Keeland to put the money in a suitcase the robber carried. He then escaped in an automobile.

Recovered was $1,924, which was within $120 of the amount lost by the bank.

U. S. Forces Completing Huge Air Base In Northern Japan

By FRANK EMERY
INS Staff Correspondent

MISAWA, (Japan), May 4—The Misawa airbase, a nine million dollar project of the U. S. Air Force, is nearing completion today on northern Honshu, Japan's main island.

The gigantic airfield, capable of launching America's heaviest bombers on far-ranging missions has been under construction nearly two years and will be ready for full scale operations early this winter.

It is equipped with extensive communications facilities and has barracks large enough to house 70 thousand persons.

The Air Force decided to build its biggest Japan airbase on northern Honshu instead of on the more northerly island of Hokkaido for strategic reasons. One is that it is ideally located in the event of any emergency requiring evacuation of American personnel from Hokkaido.

During the war the Japanese Navy used Misawa for the training of Kamikaze (suicide) pilots. It was destroyed by American bombing in July 1946 American engineers started from scratch to make it the greatest airbase in Japan.

Concrete and other building supplies and Air Base equipment were carried to the site daily for many weeks on 300 freight cars. For a time sixty percent of Japanese freight cars in use north of Tokyo were attached to trains hauling material to Misawa.

Last summer construction was on a 24-hour schedule, seven days a week, with five thousand Japanese workers under supervision of 200 American soldiers.

Officially the Army refers to Misawa in terms of defense only, but officers point out that its 8,500-foot runway can accommodate B-36 bombers capable of long range flights to Europe, Asia or the United States.

The Air Force at present does not plan to base heavy bombers at Misawa, although it may be used as a bomber base for refueling or emergency landings.

Boy Who 'Fooled' Medical Experts Is Given Book By HST

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 4. (INS)—Little Forest "Nubbins" Hoffman smiled happily today when presented with a story book signed by President Truman.

"Nubbins," who inspired an early Christmas three years ago because it was feared he wouldn't live through the yuletide, was given the book in his Cheyenne home by C. T. Matthews, manager of the American Automobile association's promotion department.

It was in November of 1944 that Nubbins' father asked permission of the city to cut a pine tree in a Cheyenne park to be used as a Christmas tree for the rapidly-failing child.

Touched Off News Stories

That request touched off news stories that swept around the world and brought offers of medical specialists to help him.

Since then, through repeated operations, Nubbins has improved and today he appeared quite well as he sat in Matthews' lap, looking at pictures in "The Enchanted Book" in which President Truman wrote:

"With wishes for early recovery to Forest Hoffman. From Harry Truman, White House, April 28, 1948."

The book was purchased by Matthews for Nubbins and autographed by the President at Matthews' request.

Nubbins will have his seventh birthday in July. Though tiny in size, Nubbins has fooled the experts on three birthdays which they never expected him to celebrate.

Fort Worth Boy Got Idea For Extortion From Comic Book

FORT WORTH, May 4 (U.P.)—Comic books and a bicycle ride were where a boy, 15, "dreamed up" the idea of trying to extort $300 from a middle-aged Fort Worth housewife.

That was the boy's explanation today, following his appearance before a U. S. commissioner where he was charged with attempted extortion.

The youth was picked up in downtown Fort Worth Saturday when he accepted an empty envelope from the housewife. Officers quoted him as admitting he sent a threatening letter to the woman, in which he told her that he would kidnap her daughter, 3

Attorney General To File Brief In Big Spring Election Suit

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—A friend-of-the-court brief will be filed tomorrow by Attorney General Price Daniel in an election contest suit before the state supreme court.

Validity of a state law requiring persons over 60 who live in towns of 10,000 or more population to secure annual renewal of their poll tax exemption certificates before Feb. 1 is being tested in the case.

The attorney general believes such persons have until the date they offered to vote to obtain the exemption certificates if it is required.

The immediate case originated at Big Spring. It is styled Thomas vers i Groble. Lower courts held that voters who had not obtained the certificates were ineligible to vote.

Listen!
The only time you've ever heard a motor give out with that proud, fine-car whisper, was in a car far above Mercury's price class. This 8-cylinder, V-type power plant is designed and built exclusively for the ALL-NEW Mercury.

Beg Pardon— but sitting is important!
This 1949 ALL-NEW Mercury gives you a lullaby ride on just ordinary roads—and even over the worst rut-race. It has all-new spring suspension—a low center of gravity—down-to-earth roadability. And you'll be glad all over about Mercury's new fog-free, leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control."

The touch of your toe proves that this ALL-NEW Mercury has all-new super-brakes. Press the pedal gently. Quickly, surely, you come to a velvety-smooth stop. Just knowing you can count on that kind of safety helps you relax and enjoy the quietest, easiest glide-ride you ever knew.

First look tells you this car is more than a new model, it's the ALL-NEW 1949 Mercury! Longer, lower—with an eager look that's a standing invitation to jump in and take off. Wider, too—with its sturdiness skillfully hidden under a sleek, style-wise, curved-arch silhouette. A choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

Take the wheel, hands!
You don't over-steer a Mercury. You do take curves with more smiling confidence because of Mercury's perfect balance. And you do drive with more safety and comfort on Mercury's new, oversize, super-balloon tires.

You'll be happy, too, with an

ONE MAN'S OPINION

THE old adage that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" certainly doesn't apply to the world-noted scientist, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who is delivering a series of addresses at Texas Technological college. Perhaps the reason is that work is fun to the learned doctor and he puts emphasis on work.

In an interview with an Avalanche-Journal reporter Dr. Millikan said that he enjoys social life with friends. Otherwise knowledge means more to him than entertainment or any form of recreation. Lack of time to play golf as it should be played has caused Dr. Millikan to drop the game, which he formerly enjoyed very much.

AFTER remarking that everyone should be well informed on what is happening in the world today, the scientist was queried about his reading habits. He said he reads two newspapers daily, subscribes to several magazines, chosen carefully for t eir makeup, reads certain columnists' writings and listens to radio programs selected carefully.

The scientist does not read fiction. Observing that many people like to read novels and short stories, he added that he does not find the time for reading that is purely entertaining.

In summing up his advice, we think it could be said that Dr. Millikan evaluates the media through which one can attain knowledge and then choses carefully those things on which he spends his valuable time.

WE marvel at the youthful appearance of this 80-year-old man upon whom numerous honors have been bestowed. Perhaps part of his youthful manner may be attributed to his alertness, his "keeping up" with what is going on in the world, and to his interest in his chosen life's work—science.

In promoting world peace, he places responsibility on each of us as individuals to keep informed on what is going on in the world; in casting our votes against isolationist and pacifistic tendencies, which he describes as "virtually the same thing;" in studying problems and in talking intelligently of world happenings.

FIT THE CRIME

STUDENTS over at the University of New Mexico will argue a number of moot court cases in a mock court as part of their training as embryonic attorneys.

The showing that these fledgling legal eagles make in these schoolroom trials will be reflected in their final grades, says the law dean.

As a New Mexico columnist suggests, if his client gets 20 years at hard labor, the student-lawyer gets an "F" for the term. If he goes free, he gets a passing grade. If his client goes to the chair, the would-be lawyer probably will transfer to the college of pharmacy or maybe electrical engineering.

LOST DEPT.

ALICE QUALIA, 2609 Twenty-fourth, lost her bill fold Monday night, either at the Lubbock Supper club, where the senior class held its annual banquet, or on the way home. It contains her drivers license, pictures of the family and friends of great value to her and naturally she is anxious to get the wallet back.

Mrs. Buster Welch, 3204 Twenty-second, lost a coin purse that contains two little lockets that belong to her small daughters. She thinks that she lost it in the 2200-block College avenue. Any report of its whereabouts will be appreciated.

A mother lost a rose gold wrist watch in down town Lubbock Monday. She was en route to the jewelry store to have the stem mended. The watch is of sentimental value to her, being a gift from her children and she hopes the finder will telephone her at 2-5446.

Miss McAlister Is May Bride

Miss Darlene McAlister, daughter of Mrs. Lena McAlister of 120 Temple Ave., and John McCrummen, son of Mrs. Floyd Hustead of Lubbock were married in a ceremony which took place in the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Jeff D. Welch, Saturday morning. The single ring service was used.

The bride wore a white crepe dress with a red rosebud corsage. Sue McAlister, the bride's attendant, wore a pink dress with white carnations. Fred McCrummen served as best man.

When Mr. and Mrs. McCrummen return May 25 from a wedding trip to Colorado, their home will be at 4142 Twenty-first. The bridegroom is employed by the West Texas Gas company.

Sorority Observes Founders' Day

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority observed Founders' Day and conducted a jewel pin ceremony at a dinner held in Hilton hotel Monday night. Sorority colors of blue and gold were used in decorations.

Women's Clubs Meet Tuesday Afternoon For Programs And Business Sessions

Discussions of the home, music, flowers, books and sewing were featured at Tuesday afternoon meetings of women's clubs. Business sessions were conducted, also.

"Success in marriage should not be left to chance," stated Mrs. R. O. Bennett when she spoke to Lubbock Woman's club Tuesday afternoon on "What Can We Do About Marriage." She advised parents to strive constantly to prepare their children for the "greatest of all careers, marriage."

The second speaker at the meeting which was held at South Plains Music store was Mrs. T. A. Niblack whose subject was "Has the Home Failed the Child." "The home is a school for the parent as well as the child," said the speaker, "and it is up to the mother rather than the club women to see that the home does not fail." Mrs. Niblack explained that a good home does more than anything else to make one happy.

Following a refreshment hour, Mrs. Bennett reported the district federation meeting held in Pampa recently, stating that the club won third place on its yearbook and that Mrs. E. V. Nickell, a member, won first in the poetry contest.

Twenty-one persons attended the afternoon meeting. Mrs. Fred Rea was program director.

Texas Prison System Will Get Additional Funds Immediately

AUSTIN, May 4 (U.P.)—In order to make additional funds immediately available to the Texas prison system, operation of the prison-operated auto license plant will go on a 24-hour basis and delivery to the state will start immediately, it was announced today.

It had been hoped that the state highway department could advance funds against the later delivery of the plates.

However, the state law provides the payment shall be made on delivery.

Alternative Plan Accepted

As a result, members of the prison board, together with O. B. Ellis, general manager of the system, and various state officials, met today in the office of Gov Beauford H. Jester and agreed to the alternative plan.

The governor, not present at the meeting, was represented by William McGill, his executive secretary.

Others attending the session included W. C. Windsor, chairman of the board; Branson Morgan, Jasper, board member; Dewitt Greer, state highway engineer, and representative from the offices of the attorney general and the comptroller general.

Funds To Be Available

Ellis said the license plant, normally operated on one eight hour shift, will immediately go on a 24-hour basis.

For the current 1948 plates, the state highway department paid the prison system $146,447.

An amount equal, or exceeding this, is expected for 1949.

Under the new agreement, funds that would normally become available on delivery of the plates late in 1948 will now become immediately available.

Both Ellis and Windsor said that early payment would see the prison system through its present financial shortage until new state appropriations become available.

Asbury Class Makes Report On Projects

Class projects were reported by Asbury Methodist Awakened Wesleyan class at a breakfast served Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. C. A. Bickley, 1917 Twentieth. Fifty-one members and three guests attended.

Mrs. A. S. Westbrook presided for a business session during which the following was reported:

A box of clothing had been shipped to Poland; $110 had been donated by the class to buy furnishings in the kindergarten department of the new educational building at the church; a committee had been appointed to confer with Woman's Society of Christian Service members on furnishing the church parlor; a committee will see about repairs to the playground equipment at the Milam home; furnishings had been donated to equip the church kitchen.

Mrs. E. L. Gabbard led a devotion from "The Upper Room."

Mrs. T. B. Cowan talked on the Women's Christian Temperance union, received memberships and accepted signatures to the temperance pledge.

Auxiliary Organized By WMS President

A Junior Business Woman's circle, an auxiliary to the First Baptist Women's Missionary society, was organized by Mrs. A. E. Cook, WMS president, at her home Monday night.

Purpose of the organization and duties of officers were given and the following were elected: Mrs. H. E. Presnall, chairman; Miss Mildred Vernon, secretary; chairmen; Mrs. Ed Reed, program and literature; Mis Fern Kelly, stewardship; Miss Cricket Brodgen, community missions; Miss Faye Wells, mission and Bible studies; Miss Esther Davis, benevolence.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Delegates

The American Legion auxiliary elected delegates to the 19th district convention to be held at Plainview May 22-23, at a meeting Monday at Legion hall.

Delegates chosen were Mesdames H. J. Kendrick, president, of the auxiliary, Sid Lowrey, Riley Duff, Floyd Lebow, W. E. Klein, W. H. McGregor, George Berry, and Miss Mae Murfee. Alternates selected were Mesdames May Flynn, J. M. Hall, Marvin McLarty, J. R. Eagan, J. O. Cade, H. J. McCabe, Fred Kincaide, and W. K. Lancaster.

A nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the coming year was also elected. They were Mesdames W. G. Doss, Lebow, and W. M. Slagle. Miss Francis Gibbs was elected to the Bluebonnet girls state, held each year at Austin June 2-8. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Y Gibbs, of Lubbock route 7. The auxiliary made plans for a tea for Gold Star mothers to be held May 16 from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.

All over America... Smokers Report

NO CIGARETTE HANGOVER

when you smoke PHILIP MORRIS!

—because PHILIP MORRIS is DEFINITELY LESS IRRITATING than any other leading brand!

Read What One of America's Top-Ranking Doctors Says About PHILIP MORRIS

"In cases of irritation of the nose or throat, it is my usual practice with my patients who smoke to suggest that they change to PHILIP MORRIS. I inform them that the reason for this advice is that I am convinced that they are less irritating than other cigarettes."

From one of a series of PROFESSIONAL STATEMENTS by EMINENT NOSE and THROAT SPECIALISTS.

If you're tired of "cigarette hangover"—tired of that stale, musty taste in your mouth—that dry, smoked-out feeling in your throat—remember this . . .

All over America scores of smokers who changed to PHILIP MORRIS have written—entirely unsolicited—to tell us they now enjoy a milder smoke, a fresher, cleaner smoke than they've ever known before.

And there's a good reason. Remember: Of all leading cigarettes, PHILIP MORRIS—and only PHILIP MORRIS—is recognized by eminent nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating!

NO OTHER CIGARETTE CAN MAKE THAT STATEMENT!

Truman Begins Major Shakeup In U. S. Diplomatic Assignments

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Truman took the first steps today in what appears to be a major diplomatic realignment involving top posts in France, Poland, Australia, Cuba and elsewhere.

Both career diplomats and political appointees will figure in the various changes.

Mr. Truman nominated Robert Butler, St. Paul banker and presently U. S. envoy to Australia, to succeed R. Henry Norweb as ambassador to Cuba.

New Assignment Expected

The White House announced yesterday that Norweb was being recalled for consultation.

Norweb has over 20 years of experience in important Latin-American posts and is expected to get a new assignment.

There are definite reports also that Jefferson Caffery, U. S. ambassador to France, will return to Washington soon and be replaced by Allen W. Dulles, New York attorney, who quit a promising diplomatic career in 1926 to enter legal practice.

Dulles is a brother of John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign policy adviser and a participant in United Nations affairs.

Other reports in diplomatic circles, however, speculated on the possibility that Caffery might be replaced at Paris by James C. Dunn, currently U. S. ambassador to Italy.

Warsaw Switch Seen

Both Caffery and Dunn are career men with vast backgrounds in the American foreign service. Should impending diplomatic switches affect either, their services undoubtedly would be put to use in posts as important as those now held.

There was further speculation that another switch might involve the post in Poland. Stanton Griffis, financier with West Coast motion picture interests and a variety of holdings elswhere, is the present ambassador to Poland. Recently, it is understood, he has been spending considerable time in Europe outside the "iron curtain," and may not remain long in the Warsaw post.

Purpose of impending realignments was reported to be twofold —placement of political appointees in more physically comfortable capitals as a reward for their services elsewhere, and the spotting of trained career men in politically troublesome world capitals.

An example of the former was the transfer of Butler from Canberra, Australia, to Havana and its proximity to the United States.

Government To Resume Buying Of Eggs To Support Prices

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — The government is re-entering the egg market to support producer prices.

Announcing this action, the Agriculture department said today producer prices in some midwestern markets have dropped below the level at which they must be supported under the law.

The wartime farm price support program directs the department to assure producers a price of not less than 90 per cent of the parity price.

Texas Timber Lands Increase In Value, Congressmen Told

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 4—Business men are appreciating more and more the value of Texas timber lands, says Dooley Dawson, Houston banker.

He was here for a meeting of the American Forestry association. With E. L. Kurth of Lufkin, he serves on the AFA's board of directors.

"There was a time when business men paid little attention to East Texas' forests," said the big, robust Houstonian.

"Now we gladly make loans on such lands, even where they have been cut or burned over if they have been reforested. In 20 years that land will be ready to cut, and in the meantime its value grows steadily."

Timber Situation Stated

He testified before a House agriculture subcommittee in support of a bill by Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine to increase from $9,000,000 to $20,000,000 the annual federal aid to states for forest fire fighting.

Among other things, he told the committee:

There are 76,000,000 acres of timber in Texas, including 11,000,000 acres of commercial stands in 36 counties. There is a need for reforestation on 1,000,000 acres which has been burned or badly cut over with no regard to conservation. Fifty thousand Texans make their livelihood out of the East Texas forests, and there are 954 industries in the state connected with timber. There were 2,846 forest fires in Texas in 1946 and 1947, and the annual loss from fires is $2,000,000.

New Uses Studied

Talking with Pickett about the demand for Texas timber for use other than as lumber, Dawson said large quantities are being consumed in the manufacture of such items as baseball bats and rustic furniture. He said research is being carried on with a view to making composition boarding out of the saw dust which now burns day and night in big piles besides almost every lumber mill in the South.

During the hearing Rep. Olin Teague of College Station submitted a statement supporting Pickett's bill, and quoting views of S. L. Frost of A. and M. college.

As acting director of the Texas Forest service, Frost said the condition of the nation's forests requires:

1. Expanded fire protection; 2. Better timber cutting; 3. Forestation, for timber production and windbreaks; 4. Research to develop better ways of growing and using trees; 5. Education.

Girl Hurdles Legal, Political Barriers To Wed Ex-POW

By TOM AGOSTON
INS Staff Correspondent

WIESBADEN, May 4 — Constance Ludelius, 20-year old blonde of Bloomfield, N. J., was reported tonight to have gotten her man at last.

The Army newspaper Stars and Stripes said that Connie and Karl Klein, 24, former German prisoner of war, were married Thursday in the city registrar's office at Wiesbaden.

Connie met Karl while he was a prisoner in the United States. They fell in love. When Karl was sent back to Germany, Connie followed him by an involved route.

Married British Sailor

The newspaper said she married a British sailor, and went to London. She subsequently divorced the Briton.

Then, traveling to the continent, Connie took a train for Switzerland. She first attracted attention when she dropped off the train in the American occupation zone city of Wiesbaden where Karl lives.

She made it known then that she and Karl would be married as soon as arrangements with occupation authorities could be completed.

Stars and Stripes said Connie got through the legal maze this way:

She obtained a temporary residence permit. She used the permit to get an identity card. Then she used the card to get the waiver required of foreigners before they are allowed to marry in Germany.

More Trouble Ahead

Occupation authorities say, Connie "still has more to face." These officials say that they are not sure the marriage is legal.

The Army newspaper quoted military government officers as declaring they do not believe German officials had any right to issue a waiver without military government approval.

Even if legality of the marriage is ironed out, there still is the baffling tangle of Connie's nationality. Is she an American, British or German citizen.

Presumably she is an American until she renounces her citizenship. But at the same time by British law she is a Briton because of her marriage to the sailor. And under German law Thursday's marriage makes her a German citizen.

Culdesac, Idaho, now shipping center for a farming area, was named a French expression culde-sac, meaning blind alley.

Shearing Of Sheep Begins At College

The shearing of approximately 80 adult sheep of three different breeds including Hampshire, Ramboullette and South Down is taking place on the Texas Technological college farm, R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department has announced.

Samples will be taken from each of the sheep and will be studied in the wool laboratories for shrinkage, strength and fineness. At least three student classes will study the wool as part of their respective courses, Mowery said. A senior class in sheep production and a junior class in wool and mohair production will study the wool through the scouring process, then a junior textile class will study the wool from the scouring process to its use in making fabrics.

Process To Be Completed

In the past the entire fleeces have been scoured by the Texas Agriculture Experiment station near Lubbock but this year the process will be completed in the Texas Tech wool laboratories.

For the 1947 clip, the Hampshire sheep averaged 7.24 pounds of wool each, with a shrinkage of 45.46 per cent; the Ramboullets averaged 15.71 pounds with a shrinkage of 62.45 per cent; and the South Downs averaged 8.03 pounds of wool with 61.7 per cent shrinkage.

"While the Ramboulette wool is more valuable, bringing about $1.30 per pound clean weight, in the grease, due to higher shrinkage, the Hampshire wool brings the highest price even though on a scoured basis it is worth less, bringing approximately $1.10 per pound," Mowery stated.

This year scouring data for all fleeces will be assembled in the Texas Tech wool processing research laboratories to be opened soon.

Veto Powers Of Big Nations Would Be Cut

UN Charter Revision Plans Given Congress

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 4—Blueprints for a new, stronger United Nations—with or without Russia—were laid before Congress today by a group of Republican and Democratic representatives.

They differed in some details but the broad outlines were the same: Let the U. S. take the lead in a move to rebuild UN with the big power veto weakened and the peace-keeping authority of the world organization greatly strengthened.

Tomorrow the House Foreign Affairs committee, holding hearings on UN revision proposals, will hear two "outside" witnesses—Secretary of State Marshall and the chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations Warren Austin.

Marshall To Testify

Marshall and his advisers have avoided committing themselves on the congressional proposals. Hence the secretary's testimony is awaited with unusual interest. Some congressmen expect he will advise against "tampering" with present UN setup at this time, despite the administration's outspoken indignation at Russia's repeated use of the veto.

But some of the congressional revisionists feel that the veto power stands in the way of the UN's working for peace. One of them, Rep. Hays (D-Ark.), told the committee today:

"We want Russia as a participant in an agency for peace, but if Russia defeats every move toward perfecting the UN, we must take steps without her."

Revision Plan Pushed

And Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) said that "if we demonstrate to the Russians quickly that we and the other peoples of the world can, if necessary, get along without them, then there is a good chance we will soon find its possible to get along with them."

Judd, Hays and several other congressmen took it for granted Russia probably would pull out of UN rather than give up the veto power which she has used—in the American view—to hamstring the organization time and again.

Some 30 senators and representatives are pushing UN charter revision. Besides the veto move, most of them favor setting up an international police force to keep the peace and a system of inspection and control of atomic and other weapons.

Latest word about up yonder is that atmospheric temperatures probably rise to about 1830 degrees above zero, Fahrenheit, at 150 miles altitude.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Personality Course To Be Offered Girls At Business College

Appearance and personality play a big part in whether a girl can keep and hold a job, so a personal appearance course will be offered this summer for the first time at Draughon's Business college.

That announcement was made Tuesday afternoon, as plans for the first course of its type at the college were given. A three months' course for students and former students of the college is to open in June.

The ability to do the job is important, but so is a business girl's appearance and her manner of meeting the public, comments of employers have indicated.

Course Plan Given

Mrs. T. H. Brown, instructor in the college, has planned the course, which will include talks by a physician, a psychiatrist, a dentist, oculist or optometrist, and specialists in the following: ready-to-wear and general coordination; foundation garments; shoes; accessories; hair dress and facial grooming; perfumes; and home sewing. A resume and style show is to conclude the three months' course.

Representatives of three pattern companies have been invited to discuss making clothes with students and former students.

Discussion of shoes will include attention to construction, value, what to seek in value, color and heel heights for different occasions. Discussion of accessories will include attention to bags, gloves, hosiery, costume jewelry and construction and appropriateness to costume.

Mrs. Brown obtained the idea for the course from observing importance of appearance and personality in obtaining and holding a job.

Employers' Advice Sought

Employers calling the business college to seek workers sometimes say they want a "pretty girl" to work. Discussing the term, "pretty girl," Mrs. Brown said not many girls are beautiful and the word, "pretty," often refers to grooming and personality.

Letters are being prepared for mailing to private business firms in Lubbock, asking business men to give pointers including things they object to and qualities they like in an employe. If they have a "pet peeve" regarding employes, they are to list that.

The class is to meet five days a week from 10 to 11 a. m. At one meeting each week, a visiting speaker will appear or other special program will be presented.

Most of the other sessions will be given to discussing advice given in the special class meetings.

Lana And Bob Hide In Hotel Love Nest Far From Crowds

By INEZ ROBB
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 4 — Bob Topping and Lana Turner, with traditional newlywed shyness avoided New York's maddening crowd today in a honeymoon suite 24-stories above the sweet spring stretches of Central park.

No telephone messages from the outside world disturbed them in their parlor, bedroom and bath retreat at the swank Savoy-Plaza hotel. The bridegroom had thoughtfully ordered no phone calls be put through to the honeymoon nest.

Neither were they at home to messengers, maids or menials who alternately rang the door bell of their suite or beat upon its door to attract attention. There was a possibility, too, that they had scotted out to one of Topping's country places.

Alone at last in their cliff dwelling high above Central Park—if they really were there—the romantic pair could count the world and MGM well lost for love.

MGM, Miss Turner's Hollywood studio, indignantly denied, through its New York representatives, that it was sending a third party along on the honeymoon.

It is not, said the New York spokesman for MGM, going to try and keep a fast eye out for any possible unfavorable publicity breaks about its star.

"We only had instructions from the coast to lay off and leave her be," said the New York spokesman for MGM. The studio was playing dead and obeying instructions in both fields today.

Tech Varsity Show Broadcasts Planned

The Texas Technological college Varsity Show is taking to the air this week with excerpts of the production scheduled to go on all three radio stations.

Parts of the hilarious comedy will be broadcast on KSEL from 5-5:15 p. m. Wednesday and Friday and from 1:30-2 p. m. on Sunday. Thursday the show will be on KFYO from 9:45-10 p. m. The time of broadcasts on KCBD have not been announced.

Several New Songs Added

Several new songs have been added to the show which features student talent exclusively, bringing the total to 12 songs to be presented for the first time. Music wil be by a 20 piece swing band assembled from all the bands now playing in Lubbock and has been called the finest swing band ever assembled in West Texas.

Other highlights of the show will be a spectacular skating act by Sadie Amerson and Ray Self, a hobo act by Joseph Grimard, a veteran of the eastern vaudeville circuit, and a wedding scene utilizing a stage full of ferns and palms with 150 tall, tapering candelabras.

Tickets for the show have been going at a rapid rate, George Ater, director, said but there are still plenty of reserved seats for all three performances. The tickets are on sale in the Administration building on the campus and at Dunlaps and Hemphill-Wells department stores. The two hour 15 minute show will be presented at the Lubbock High school auditorium beginning at 8:15 p. m. May 10, 11 and 12.

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency Board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

How long will the American public stand for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and abusive use of the right to strike and disregard of the obligation to provide transportation? How long can the American people permit a few dictatorial union leaders to defy the processes provided for peaceful settlement of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that are either fair or lasting. Moreover, a point is often reached when personal interests must be held subordinate to the greater public welfare. That is why the railroads have accepted the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employes, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders — which would increase wages still further — were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more — they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn — in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as the figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to flout the intent and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing railroad strike.

You will be the victim!

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and firemen for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Hubs Blast Oilers, 13-4

Frank Cobo Gets Credit For Win

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

The Hubbers had their batting eyes in focus and Lefty Frank Cobo had his arm warm last night, the combination bringing the home team a deserved 13-4 victory over the Pampa Oilers before a crowd of about 1,000 happy persons at Rosenthal Field.

But it was the stick work of Chick Fowler that brought the oh's and ah's from the crowd, the former Lamesa outfielder smashing two home runs out of the park. These blows accounted for six runs, enough to win the game singlehandedly.

Sullivan Is Ejected

Manager Jackie Sullivan, tired after driving to McKinney after last night's game to see if his parents were all right, was thumbed out of the game in the seventh inning by Umpire Bill Tiemann.

HIT THE ROAD

The Lubbock Hubbers leave today for a four-game road trip, opening tonight in Lamesa for a two-game series with the Loboes. Manager Jackie Sullivan indicated that he would pitch Marvin Alexander, with Don Moore behind the plate.

Sullivan protested too long and too vigorously over an apparently fair hit off the bat of Frank Boothe, the umpire finally giving him a chance to get some needed rest.

Aside from the Hubber hitting, Cobo's pitching and Sullivan's ejection from the game, the victory was routine. It was entertaining enough to keep the crowd until the final out, however, and raised hopes that the Hubbers at last have hit their stride.

Pampa opened the scoring in the second frame, when Tony Range blasted a triple to right centerfield, scoring a moment later or Joe Fortin's single.

Moore Gets Double

Lubbock tied it up in their half of the inning when Virgil Richardson walked and Don Moore drilled a double into left centerfield.

In the fourth, Lubbock went ahead to stay when, with two out, Frank Boothe doubled to left and Frank McAlexander, after taking the count to one and one, lifted one high and handsome over the leftfield screen.

That blow touched off the spark. Four runs came across in the fifth, Cobo leading off with a walk and coming home on Fowler's first fourmaster, a blow that went on a line over the centerfield fence. Sullivan was safe on Harriman's error, but was forced at second by Richardson. Then Moore, Boothe and McAlexander singled successively to chase two more runs across.

Cobo opened the two-run sixth with a single through short and went to second when Al Smith walked. Both runners advanced on Fowler's sacrifice and Richardson brought them in with a hot single to rightfield.

Fowler Hits Homer

Boothe, leading off the seventh, was the cause of a rhubarb at home plate involving Sullivan and Umpire Tiemann. The Lubbock fielder hit a drive that, from the press box, fell inside the foul line fair by a foot. Tiemann called the hit foul and Sullivan came rushing from the dugout, only to return moments later, out of the game. Boothe promptly hit to the same spot and drew life when Jack Riley fumbled the ball for a two-base error.

McAlexander and Charley Scarborugh went down, but Cobo and Smith both walked to load the sacks. Fowler then looked at a ball before lashing into the second pitch for a towering fourmaster that entirely cleared the scoreboard.

Meanwhile, Pampa had collected single runs in the sixth and seventh, Lubbock double plays in each inning choking off Oiler rallies. The Oilers started the ninth with two straight singles and managed to get a run when a Hubber double play attempt went awry.

Dayne Norris Hurls Ralls To 6-2 Win Over Floydada

RALLS, May 4. (Special) — Ralls High's Jackrabbits capitalized on five hits and four Floydada errors to defeat the Whirlwind nine, 6-2, in a District 3-A tilt here today.

The victory gave the Ralls team the championship of one-half of the district and they will play the winner of the Crosbyton-Spur series for the loop crown.

Dayne Norris held the Floydada schoolboys to three hits in notching the mound win.

RED SOX CLIP DETROIT, 6-3

Joost's Homer Gives Athletics Victory Over Cleveland, 8 To 6

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (AP)—Eddie Joost's fourth home run of the season, delivered in the tenth inning with two out and Pete Suder on base, carried the Philadelphia Athletics to an 8-6 victory over the league-leading Cleveland Indians today.

In handing the Indians their first setback in six road games and chalking up their fourth consecutive triumph, the Athletics unloosed a 12-hit attack off five pitchers.

Joost's payoff blow came at the expense of Charlie Wensloff. Sam Chapman also homered for the Mackmen, connecting with a three-run round tripper in the third off Bob Munchief.

The Athletics also used five hurlers with Lou Brissie, who hurled hitless ball the last three innings, getting credit for the victory—his second of the year.

Philadelphia scored a run in the first frame on Elmer Valo's single and the first of two doubles by Ferris Fain. The Indians tied it up, however, in the second on Eddie Robinson's fourth homer of the campaign.

BOSOX EDGE TIGERS

BOSTON, May 4 (INS)—A four-run outburst in the sixth inning pinned Tiger Rookie Art Houtteman with his third straight loss today and the Boston Red Sox beat Detroit 6 to 3 for their third straight victory.

The loosely-played game—there were five errors—opened a long home stand for the Red Sox and enabled them to climb to the .500 mark for the first time this year.

Houtteman, who is only 20 years old, checked the Red Sox with one run for five innings but was clubbed for two singles following a walk, a double by Dom DiMaggio, and a base-clearing triple by Vernon Stephens.

Dave Ferris was the winning pitcher although he was relieved in the seventh.

Thumping Ted Williams got two hits in three at-bats to increase his batting average to .419.

SHEA GETS WIN

NEW YORK, May 4 (INS)—Fat Frank Shea, New York Yankee righthander, held the St. Louis Browns to four hits today and beat them 6 to 1 to start the world champions off on the right foot in the inaugural of a 14-game homestand.

The Browns scored their only run in the fourth inning on Ray Coleman's scratch hit with two out.

The Yanks clipped Nelson Potter for single runs in the first and second innings and then added a three-run "clincher" against reliever Bryan Stephens in the seventh. Joe DiMaggio got a single in this uprising to stretch his hitting streak to ten consecutive games.

Shea, who went the distance and won his first game in three attempts, became the only other Yankee pitcher besides Allie Reynolds to pitch a complete game this year.

NATS, CHISOX TIE

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Washington and the Chicago White Sox battled to a 3-3 tie here tonight in a game called at the end of 5 innings due to rain.

Lamesa Pounds Blue Sox, 15-10

ABILENE, May 4 (Special)—Chris Haskins did everything to win his own game last night, smashing out two home runs and holding the Blue Sox to six hits over six and two-thirds innings, as the Lamesa Loboes knocked the home club out of first place with a 15-10 victory in ten innings.

Haskins drove his first homer out of the park with the bases loaded in the fifth to hand the Loboes a lead and then added another round tripper with two on in the tenth to clinch the game.

Then, with the chips down in the home half of the tenth, Haskins induced Neal to ground out and proceeded to strikeout pinch hitter Zmitrovich and the leadoff batter, Len Glica.

Both Manager George Sturdivant and Wilcox were thumbed out of the game, Sturdivant in the first inning and Wilcox in the ninth.

Cardinals Nose By Brooklyn, 5 To 4

ST. LOUIS, May 4 (INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals edged past the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 4, tonight in the first meeting of the clubs this season before a crowd of 27,768.

The Cardinals stalled off the Dodgers in the last two innings to annex the victory with a home run by Enos Slaughter providing the winning margin.

The Dodgers took a 2-1 lead in the first inning against George Munger while Ralph Branca went on to hold the Cardinals to one hit in the first four rounds. But in the fifth inning pop singles to center field by George Kurowski and Marty Martion along with a wild throw by Spider Jorgenson gave the Cards a run. A double by Del Rice and Al Schoendienst's single put the Redbirds in front before the frame was completed.

Stan Musial hit his third homer of the season with the bases empty in the sixth inning.

Court Rulings Back California Tideland Claims, Lawyer Says

WASHINGTON, May 4 (INS)—William W. Clary, Los Angeles attorney, told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee today that California's claim to the tidelands along her coast was supported by "unbroken history" of court decisions.

Clary testified in behalf of the Moore bill to reverse a Supreme court decision and give to the states the ownership of submerged lands within the three-mile coastal limit and the oil rights in them.

A similar bill already passed by the House is on the Senate calendar and available for passage whenever supporters feel that the time has arrived to call it up.

BROWNSVILLE COPS TITLE

COLLEGE STATION, May 4 (INS)—Brownsville today won the Texas junior college track and field meet, scoring 45 points to run away from the field at Texas A&M college in College Station. Brownsville won five events, tied for a sixth and placed in 11 of the 14 events.

IDALOU NINE WINS

IDALOU, May 4. (Special) — Idalou's Independent nine drubbed the Levine's crew from Lubbock, 13-3, in an exhibition softball tussle here tonight.

PASQUEL ARRIVES

SAN ANTONIO, May 4. (AP) — Jorges Pasquel, presdent of the National Baseball association of Mexico, arrived here today en route to New York and Spain.

Amarillo College Netters Cop Meet Singles Crowns

COLLEGE STATION, May 4. (INS)—Amarillo Junior college today won both the men's and women's singles to add to their runner-up finishes in the doubles of the state Jaycee tennis meet in College Station.

Pat Jackson defended her title by beating Edith Smith, Corpus Christi, in the finals of the woman's singles.

James Saunders dethroned champion Clinton Nettleton, Edinburg, in the men's singles.

Monday night, Corpus Christi swept the doubles. Allen Hardy and Louis Haynie beat John Allen and Richard Hardin, Amarillo, for the men's crown, and Mettie Sims and Mary Jean Adams beat Betty McGee and Sylvia Schreiber, Amarillo, in the women's doubles.

Raider Teams Leave Today

Texas Tech's determined track and field, tennis and golf teams are scheduled to leave at noon today for Tempe, Ariz., where they will battle this weekend for Border conference championship honors against the representatives of eigth other loop members.

The Red Raiders, sparked by a brilliant group of veteran performers, are rated as strong contenders in all three divisions of the meet and are expected to give the defending champion Sun Devils of Arizona State at Tempe their toughest competition. The Sun Devils gained the track and field crown last year by defeating the Raiders and the favored Arizona university Wildcats and boast an improved squad this spring. Arizona university is the defending champion in the tennis division.

Reynolds Tops Sprinters

Heading the 13-man Raider cinder path squad will be Charley Reynolds, the titleholder in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and ace hurdlers Ed Clepper and Charles Pinnell. Clepper won the high hurdles event of the Southwestern Exposition meet earlier this year and is considered the top challenger for the Border conference crown sought by Tempe's Joe Batiste, who set a national high school record in the timber-topping event as a schoolboy performer.

The Tech mile relay quartet, featuring Reynolds, Ernest Hawkins, Costin Bufkin and Joe Wilson, will hold the spotlight as the South Plains crew attempts to defend their championship won in 1947. Other Raider trackmen will include Seth Murphey of Levelland, sprints and weight events; James Mullins, sprints; Edgar Hawkins, Lamesa, distance races; James Cruser, Rockport, distances; Harold Barber, Midland, distances; Ed Wilson, Lubbock, high jump; and Walter Hobgood, Anton, broad jump.

Powerful Net Squad

The strong Raider net team, winner of seven of nine matches this year, will make a strong bid for the title held by the potent Arizona university Wildcats. Lanky A. J. (Jake) Broyles, one of the top netters of the Southwest, will lead the Techsans in the No. 1 singles and will team with Glenn Ivy in the feature doubles bracket. Broyles was runner-up in the conference meet last year.

Carl Schmidt and Joe Wheatley will compete in the lower singles bracket, with Schmidt teaming with Eddie Scudday in the No. 2 doubles duo. All three of the netters are making their first appearance in loop championship play.

The four-man Tech golf team will include E. H. McKinney, who won medalist honors in the '47 competition, Jerry Stoltz, Johnny Trout and E. C. Feagan. The links squad has shown steady improvement in recent weeks and will threaten New Mexico university's supremacy.

The 22-player Tech group, accompanied by Athletic Director Morley Jennings, Dean W. L. Stangel, and Coaches Polk Robison and Maxey McKnight, will spend tonight at Las Cruces, N. M., and arrive in Phoenix Thursday afternoon. Tennis and golf competition will open Friday, with track and field prelims and finals Saturday.

The group will return to Lubbock Sunday, officials said.

Jockey Is Suspended At California Track

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 4. (INS)—Jockey Herbert Lindberg was suspended today by the Bay Meadows race track stewards "for crowding horses" in last Saturday's $50,000 Bay Meadows handicap.

The action substantiated the contention of jockey William Bailey that he was virtually "roughed out" of a sure victory with Shannon II, Australia's great stake horse.

Bailey, outwardly displeased following Mafosta's neck victory over Faucon in the fifty grander, openly accused Lindberg of crowding Shannon.

Bailey stated heatedly that he was "given the works" immediately after the start of the race and again as the field raced around the far turn.

Manager Of Joe Louis Will Complete Plans For Training

BEAR LAKE, Mich., May 4 (INS)—Marshall Miles, manager of world's heavyweight champion Joe Louis, left for Pompton Lakes, N. J., today to complete plans for Louis' pre-Walcott fight training there.

Louis, now conditioning at Bear Lake, Mich., will start sparring drills at Pompton Lakes two weeks hence. His title rematch with Jersey Joe Walcott is June 23.

COACH IS NAMED

CRANE, May 4 (AP)—Bill Haralson has been named head coach of Crane High school football succeeding George Chrane, who resigned. Haralson has been assistant coach for two years. Chrane will remain on the school faculty.

GAME IS SCHEDULED

DICKENS, May 4. (Special) — The Dickens Owls, a semi-pro baseball team, will play a team from Crosbyton here Thursday night, the game to start at 8:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

Westerners To Battle Bulldog Nine Tonight

Lubbock High's undefeated Westerner baseball team, leading the District 1-AA title race with four consecutive triumphs, will clash with the rebounding Plainview Bulldog nine at 8 o'clock tonight at Rosenthal field.

The Plainview nine has lost two tilts in conference play, but has shown rapid improvement in recent weeks and is expected to upset several of the top-ranking teams before the district winner is crowned. The Bulldogs lost a close decision to the Pampa Harvesters early in the season, then were clipped by Amarillo, 9-2 last week.

Coach Pat Pattison will substitute for Fred Taylor tonight, since Taylor is recovering from an appendectomy, and the Westerner mentor is slated to start ace right-hander Denny Davidson on the mound for the local schoolboys. Davidson, one of the best schoolboy hurlers in the state, has chalked up two triumphs this year and has not been defeated. He has appeared in every Lubbock High district tilt, either as a starter or in a relief role.

Howton Will Hurl

Plainview is scheduled to counter with youthful Jackie Howton, who has been fairly successful in checking the most feared hitters in the league. Howton is an inexperienced sophomore, but is fast developing into a stellar pitcher.

Coach Pattison has indicated that he will start the same Westerner lineup that has operated efficiently in recent contests, with Bobby (Rip) Griffin at third base; Jackie Cook, shortstop; Jack Alderson, center field; Charles Galey, second base; Dorrance Guy, first base; Dwight Moore, left field; Royce Jones, right field; and Bill Wylie, catcher.

Griffin Tops Hitters

Griffin is the leading hitter of the squad, with a sensational .500 average through the first four games, but Alderson has a .353.

Tickets for the game will be priced at 30 cents for students and 60 cents for all others, school officials announced last night, and no seats will be reserved.

The District standings:

TEAMS—	W	L	Pct.
LUBBOCK	4	0	1.000

Jewelers Shade Coffeemen, 6-3

Thomas Jewelers turned back the Golden Light nine, 6-3, and Bluebonnet - Sunbeam Laundry nosed out Baldridge Bakery, 1-0, in South Plains Softball League games last night at Jumbo Webster Field.

Jackie Neel won another tgiht victory for the laundrymen, although matched pitch for pitch by Loy Hubbard. Both hurlers threw three-hitters, but a run in the sixth inning spelled victory for the laundrymen in the second game of the night.

Warden Notches Win

Willie Holder and G. W. Warden combined to throw a three-hit job at the Golden Light Coffee team, as the Jewelers won their game. The victors had eight hits, but owed their victory as much to five errors on the part of their opponents as anything else.

Warden, who came in to relieve Holder with the score tied, 3-3, in the fifth inning, became the winning pitcher. He also led the winners attack with a triple and single off Dewey Carr, the victim of errors and wildness on his own part.

A three-run attack in the fifth inning was enough for the Jewelers to win the game, as Warden blanked the losers in the final three frames.

Ralph Earhart Scores

Baldridge came within an ace of winning their game last night, but couldn't push over a run that had gotten into scoring position. Earl Ince, who tripled in the second, was left stranded on base and it was the last time Baldridge was able to threaten.

Bluebonnet won the game in the sixth inning on a long drive to centerfield by Ralph Earhart, Texas Tech football player. Earhart's drive got past Burl Pigg in center garden and allowed the speedy Earhart to make the circuit for the winning run.

Neel Whiffs 13

Neel was in his usual great form, striking out 13 batters, while Hubbard racked up five wako victims.

Two games will be played Thursday night at Jumbo Webster Field, with Baldridge meeting Cloverlake Dairy at 8 p. m. and Golden Light facing Bluebonnet-Sunbeam in the second game.

Smyer Bobcats Shade Levelland, 10 To 9

SMYER, May 4. (Special)—The Smyer Bobcats turned in their second consecutive baseball win this afternoon in a six-inning game with the Levelland Lobos, beating the visitors 10-9.

Bob Allen, Bobcat hurler, scattered Lobo hits nicely and hurled well enough to win, while his mates backed him up with a good attack on W. A. Wise. Several home runs featured the game.

The Bobcats racked up two runs in the first inning to take an early lead, then were held scoreless until the fifth, during which time Levelland came from behind to take a 6-2 lead. A five-run flurry in the fifth by Smyer sent them into a lead they didn't relinquish. Both teams scored trios in the sixth.

The line score:

Cleveland Boxing Group Will Rule On Belloise Bout Today

CLEVELAND, May 4 (INS) — The Cleveland Boxing commission will meet tomorrow to rule on Middleweight Steve Belloise's insistence that he will meet Chuck Hunter again only with an out-of-town referee and no judges.

New Yorker Belloise agreed to meet Cleveland's Hunter May 17 in Cleveland in a 10-round rematch of their much-disputed April 13 meeting. Hunter won that one on a split decision.

That Aristocratic Beach Tone

Only native dyeing can create the cool Caribbean sand tone that makes our Knox "Panquin" so supremely smart. And only Ecuador weavers can produce the fresh-cool open weave of Panama fibre that makes your Knox "Panquin" so completely satisfying.

For Men, Sheer Flattery

No wonder the vogue for the "Cocoanut" straw goes on and on. For this soft loose-woven braid of the Bahamas is brown as a sun-baked beach-lounger outside a cabaña . . . and with Knox master-styling, it's super-smart.

Woven for Connoisseurs

Men who want more than shadowed coolness and pliant comfort in a straw hat, who seek some distinguishing touch, should wear our Knox "Florentine." Here is a consummate fineness of weave, an intriguing pattern, a Knox-styled smartness, in natural-toned fibre, that satisfy all their special requirements.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

There seems to be some confusion in high school ranks concerning the performance records setup under the new "four-way" division of the Texas Interscholastic league track and field meet. A single set of marks were used until this year, since all schoolboys competed in a single bracket at the state meet, but with the separate divisions for Class AA, A, B and "Big City" students this year a new procedure is necessary.

Most school officials have presumed that records would be set in every event of each division at the state meet this weekend, just as the first running of any meet provides the marks for later contestants to shoot at. That was apparently the ruling given by Rodney J. Kidd, Texas Interscholastic league athletic director, but recently stories have been issued by the wire services and the league offices indicating that any new marks will have to be compared with the old records in order to go into the books. If so, the situation is more confused now than it was to start with.

Several weeks ago a telegram requesting a clarification of the ruling was sent to Kidd, who replied immediately that, "Each conference will set own records this year." That was apparently clear — complete new records would be established in Class AA, A and B. Then a few days later a letter from Kidd was received here, in which he stated that, "The purpose of this letter is to confirm my telegram concerning the new meet records. With the setting up of the individual conferences, each conference record will be recognized, and the former meet records will become history."

Certainly that statement is clear enough. Yet we continue to receive stories that "the 200-yard low hurdles record is threatened." It seems that, if the statements by Kidd are clear, the only way the previous marks could be kept on the books would be—as he states—"history" or "all-time records." Anybody want to reserve a nice room at a quiet hospital?

Lubbock baseball fans will be interested in the report that George Schepps, the former president of the Dallas Rebels of the Texas league, may be the next boss of the Buffalo, N. Y., club of the International league. Flem Hall, the capable Fort Worth sports scribe, says that Schepps is anxious to get back into the game and has about $300,000 available from the sale of his share of the Rebels. Paul Richards, a long-time friend of Schepps, is general manager of the Bisons and Lou Jacobs, also a friend and business associate of the Schepps brothers, owns a majority of the Buffalo stock.

Kramer And Riggs To Clash In National Pro Tournament

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Promoter Jack Harris capitulated today to the West Side Tennis club, which announced that the national professional grass court championships wil. be held June 12-20 at Forest Hills with such attractions as Jack Kramer and Bobby Riggs definitely assured.

P. Schuyler Van Bloem, tournament chairman of the West Side club, said the field would be limited to 32 singles players and 16 doubles teams. If entries surpass those figures, places among the unseeded players will be determined by a series of pre-tournament playoffs.

Triumphantly, the club also announced that it had received entries from Australian Dinny Pails and Ecuadorian Pancho Segura. All four are members of Harris' troupe.

Victory For Club

It was a clear-cut victory for the West Side people, who had threatened to throw the professional championships clear off their crowded calendar if Harris insisted on taking Kramer and Riggs to South America on the only dates available for the meet.

Harris, it developed some time ago, planned to move into South America with his touring pros after their 85-match U. S. trek ends May 26.

Riggs Defending Champion

The ensuing squabble lasted some three months, with neither side showing signs of weakening until now.

Today's announcement said Harris had released the players from their contracts long enough to practice and play in the tournament, thus setting the South American tour back three weeks.

Riggs is the defending tournament champion. He beat Don Budge in the 1947 finals for the second straight year. Kramer, however, is now the champion of Rig .

In addition to the four tourists, the club expects entries from Budge, Frank Kovacs, Welby Van Horn and Wayne Sabin, among others.

Clements Tests Detton Tonight

Sled Allen has picked another good pair of matches for a double main event at his wrestling arena tonight and fans are assured of an entertaining evening.

Ray "Big Train" Clements, Lubbock's own claim to wrestling fame, will tangle with Dory Detton of Amarillo in the first main go and Pat O'Dowdy of Weatherford, Okla., will meet Billy Hickson of Knoxville, Tenn., in the second feature. Both matches will be two out of three falls with a one-hour time limit.

In the preliminary bout, Eddie Gideon of Montgomery, Ala., returns to tangle with Olan Boynton of Amarillo in a one-fall, twenty-minute time limit.

Both Grapplers Rugged

Clements and Detton have met before in the ring, with Detton usually winning, but Clements thinks the time has come when Detton will meet his match. Both men like their grappling on the rugged side.

O'Dowdy definitely is a rugged little wrestler and the dirtier the going gets, the more he likes it. Hickson is a rugged grunt and groan artist and this is expected to be one of the best matches in weeks. Neither has thrown the other in two appearances in the Lubbock arena.

Tickets will go on sale at Wylie's Drug store from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and the first match starts at 8:30 p.m.

University Of Houston Netters Sweep Lone Star Meet Honors

HOUSTON, May 4 (AP) — The University of Houston made a clean sweep today of quarterfinal and semi-final rounds of the Lone Star conference tennis meet.

Two Cougar stars, Glen Hewitt, defending conference champion, and Jason Morton, meet in tomorrow's singles championship match, with Hewitt and Morton teaming against teammates Jack Lanham and Don Napier for the doubles crown.

Busby Tops Hitters In SWC; Layne Holds Hurling Lead

DALLAS, May 4 (AP)—James Busby, Texas Christian outfielder, continues to pace the batting in Southwest conference baseball.

Busby has run his average to .595 with 22 hits in 37 trips to the plate. Jack Webb of Texas is second with .538 on seven hits in 13 tries while Cliff Lindloff of Texas A. and M. has clubbed .391 in 46 times at bat.

Bobby Layne of Texas leads the pitchers with a 4-0 record. Bob Fretz of A. and M., Al Nixon of A. and M. and Charley Gorin of Texas each has two wins against no defeats.

Al Hunt of Texas is the run leader with 15. Busby's 22 hits is tops. Chick Zomlefer of Texas leads in doubles with six, Hal Harris of Baylor in triples with three, Stan Hollmig of Texas A. and M. in home runs with three and Tom Hamilton of Texas and Truitt Peachey of Rice are tied for runs batted in with 14 each.

Texas leads in team batting and fielding with averages of .290 and .972 respectively. Texas A. and M. is second with .296 and .947 and Baylor is third with .270 and .940.

Texas has made only 11 errors in 10 games.

President Of Cleveland Nine Undergoes Third Leg Operation

CLEVELAND, May 4 (INS)—Cleveland Indians President Bill Veeck was resting in "good condition" at Cleveland clinic tonight after undergoing another operation on his right leg.

The third amputation on the limb removed another inch, necessitating a six-weeks recuperation period.

Veeck's foot and ankle were crushed while he was with the Marines on Guadalcanal during the war. After two years of unsuccessful treatment, the foot was amputated late in 1946, and a second operation was undertaken subsequently because of an infection.

Sande Is Barred By Jockey Club

NEW YORK, May 4. (INS) — Earle Sande, one-time greatest jockey in America, was suspended for 60 days today by the New York Jockey club.

The action was taken in connection with a charge that a horse owned and trained by Sande won a race in Jamacia on April 21 after having been "stimulated" with a drug.

Must Forfeit Purse

The horse, Big Stage, is one of 12 horses owned and trained by the famous jockey. The Jockey club ruled that Sande must forfeit the winning purse and in addition ordered him denied entrance at all tracks under their jurisdiction.

The stewards' report stated that investigation had revealed the presence of a narcotic and cafeine in a saliva test taken after the race. Sande also is slated to appear before a grand jury on charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

Foreman Is Penalized

Two others, Sande's stable foreman Eugene Donaldson and groom, Francis Booth, were set down for 30 days for their alleged connection with the incident.

Although 49-year-old Sande is to be denied entry at certain tracks, the Jockey club pointed out that in the event he sees fit to sell his stable, he will be permitted to negotiate at New York tracks.

Parks Budget Is Filed By Board

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—The state parks board today submitted to the State Board of Control a request for legislative appropriations, totaling $2,424,974 in the 1949-51 biennium.

The request goes to the board's budget division for consideration and recommendation to the next legislature.

"The proposed budget does not call for what the state parks system should provide, but only what is essential unless it is to deteriorate and lose most of the value of its present properties," said E. B. Camiade, parks board auditor, in a letter to the Board of Control.

Emphasis was placed on the need for funds for rehabilitation and new constructions, and appropriation of $1,352,400 being asked for these purposes.

Park Facilities Needed

The proposed budget also includes a suggested figure of $200,000 each for the proposed Nimitz, Wainwright and Eisenhower parks.

"This $600,000 is an arbitrary figure and actual expenditures will depend on the sites tendered," Camiade observed.

A much desired park feature, he said, is accomodations for group activities. There is a strong demand from the state schools, 4-H clubs, Scout organizations and others for such facilities.

Camiade suggested these facilities should be set up on the basis of providing for groups of 100, requiring cook and mess halls, sanitation facilities and either a barracks or several small-group sleeping quarters.

Six Parks Recommended

Six parks were recommended on a geographical basis as desirable locations for such group activity installations. They are Bastrop, Bonham, Brownwood, Caddo, Cleburne, and Lake Corpus Christi state parks.

The park board's auditor also outlined budget provisions for temporary development of Bentsen park on the Rio Grande and for putting the Port Isabel lighthouse in safe condition.

"The budget omits development of Possum Kingdom parks (east and west) on the scale such a great body of water in the heart of the state warrants but does endeavor to provide more than now is available to the public," Camiade wrote.

Taft Leading

the Republican nomination to succeed himself.

Politicians said Stassen must win 10 or more to keep his primary band wagon going in high gear. By the same token, they said the loss of 10 would seriously damage Taft's personal chance for the nomination.

Because of a complicated ballot—top-heavy with state Republican and Democratic candidates—counting in the 9,385 polling places was expected to be slow in the knock-down presidential battle.

Vote Is Heavy

Active interest in the national contest reached such a peak that Cleveland election officials said voters followed the unusual course there of taking more Republican than Democratic primary ballots.

Taft forces had counted on Cleveland as one of their strongholds, but Stassen followers were just as sure they would break into the lineup in the three congressional districts electing six delegates there.

Voting also was reported heavy in Akron but not up to the expected mark in Youngstown.

The Stassen people claimed strength there in a last-minute check which they said would give them 15 of the 23 delegate races in which they have candidates entered. Stassen publicly has claimed only a majority of 12.

Taft Concedes None

The Taft camp, expecting to salt away 30 delegates without opposition, stuck to its contention that Stassen will get no more than six. Taft himself has refused to concede that any Stassen delegate will win—with the possible exception of Carrington T. Marshall, former supreme court justice. He is the sole Stassen candidate for one of the nine delegates to be elected at large.

Democrats participated heavily in the Ohio primary voting, largely because of interest in a race between former Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Ray T. Miller, former Cleveland mayor, for their party's nomination for governor.

President Truman collected Ohio's 50 Democratic convention nominating votes without contest. That left him in commanding position for the nomination.

In Republican state races, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert apparently won renomination without a serious contest.

Increase In Attendance Noted At Methodist Men's Club

The recent change from luncheons to breakfast sessions has brought an increase in attendance for the Methodist Men's club, today's first morning meeting indicated.

The club now meets at 7 a. m. each Tuesday at Fellowship Hall at the church where coffee and doughnuts are served.

Tuesday's session featured a short talk by Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor, and discussion of plans for expanded work of the club. Clarence Whiteside presided, with invocation by Rev. E. H. Crandall.

Poet Loses Parody And Pen To Thieves

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, May 4 — Thieves broke into a nut shop last Christmas eve, got away with $50 in cash and $50 worth of stamps but overlooked a $1,000 payroll.

Walter E. Weeks, president of the company, wrote a gleeful little poem about it and read it at the office Christmas party.

Last week thieves broke into his car and stole his manuscript of the parody.

Last night they broke into the nut shop again and got his fountain pen.

to the Brownwood convention, after drubbing Governor Beauford Jester's plan for an uninstructed delegation to the national meeting.

On the line with flat endorsements of President Harry Truman for renomination were Potter, Taylor, Howard, Falls, Hutchinson, Coryell, El Paso, Cameron, McLennan, and Tom Green counties.

The Republicans also selected delegates to their state convention—in Corpus Christi May 25. Dallas county Taft and Dewey groups held rival meetings, and named rival delegations. The few other reports available showed about an equal division of delegates instructed for Taft and uninstructed.

There was a spirited fight in Tarrant. Labor leaders formed a coalition to contgol the Dallas county meeting. But the scrap of the day was in the Travis county convention.

Jester Booed

Travis county named U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas as its second choice for a democratic nominee, and President Truman third.

The day-long convention brought on one fight after another, starting with a county executive committee squabble over seating of delegates from precinct 13 in Austin.

A long wrangle on procedure delayed choice of Eisenhower, but the vote indicated overwhelming support for the man who says he is not a candidate for the presidency.

Jester was booed when Everett Looney, Austin attorney, tried to nominate Jerome Sneed, state Democratic executive committeeman from this district, as convention chairman.

Looney identified Sneed as county campaign manager for Jester in 1946, and the booing began. It increased when Looney said, "I don't believe any true Democrat would boo our Democratic governor."

Herman Jones, leader of Texas Roosevelt forces in 1944 at the national convention, was elected chairman by acclamation after Sneed's name was withdrawn. Jones is pro-Eisenhower.

A fight over a list of 161 delegates to the state convention developed when it was learned four negroes had been recommended. The negroes were approved.

to Alabama candidates for presidential electors pledged not to cast ballots for President Truman.

In Florida, first returns in the governorship race gave leads to Dan McCarty, Fort Pierce fruit grower, and Fuller Warren, Jacksonville attorney.

Indiana voters gave broad leads in the early count to incumbent congressmen in their races for renomination—Ray Madden, first district Democrat; House Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck, second district, and Robert A. Grant, third district Republican; George A. Gillie, fourth district Republican; Edward A. Mitchell, eighth district Republican; Earl Wilson, ninth district Republican; Ralph Harvey, tenth district Republican.

Sen. Glen Taylor Fined $50 In Alabama; Jail Term Suspended

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 4 (AP)—Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) was convicted of disorderly conduct tonight, but the case abruptly mushroomed into a question of civil rights violations.

Police court Judge Oliver Hall gave Taylor a profound tongue lashing for introducing the racial issue into the case, and then fined Taylor $50 and costs and sentenced him to 180 days in the city jail.

The jail sentence was suspended and Sen. Taylor placed on probation for six months.

Defense attorneys said immediately afterwards they would appeal the decision.

A motion picture program has been scheduled for the Boys' club, at 2323 Ave. K, tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The feature will be "Texas Renegade," with Tim McCoy. The tenth chapter of a serial "The Clutching Hand," will also be shown as well as a comedy entitled "Robinson Crusoe." Visitors are invited.

The annual Block and Bridle club livestock judging contests will take place all day today beginning at 10 a. m. in the livestock pavilion at Texas Tech. Approximately 65 junior animal husbandry students will take part in the contests. Quinton Williams, Pampa; J. P. Smith, Panhandle; Euel Liner, Lubbock; and Lewis Nance, Post, will judge the contest which officials say will give an indication of who will be strong contenders for the senior livestock judging teams next fall. The winners will be announced at the annual Block and Bridle banquet May 20.

Mrs. Nat G. N. Rodgers, of Tulsa and Oklahoma City, left Lubbock for Oklahoma yesterday after spending several months in the South Plains area gathering material for a short story, it was reported last night. She resided near the Tahoka highway during her period of research work.

Police received reports of two stolen bicycles late yesterday. Billie Gaines, of 2427 Twenty-fifth, reported theft of a Shelby Supreme bike from Roscoe-Wilson school. It was valued at $65. Mrs. Iris Neal, of 1924 Thirteenth, informed officers of the theft of an orange and white bike valued at $25.

City Plans New Wells

who has been a member of the commission less than a month.

McMillan, himself a former member of the commission for six years, told of prospects for early completion of the reservoir as he detailed some of the difficulties encountered in building the project. Material and labor shortages, adverse weather and unexpected mishaps of many kinds have delayed completion of the reservoir, he explained.

"It has been the worst jinx project I have tackled in 23 years of contracting," he remarked, adding he already is "deep in the red" in building it.

The commission deferred action on his request for an extension of time beyond the contract date in which to finish the reservoir. According to the official computation, the structure should have been finished Feb. 4 and McMillan is liable to a penalty of $100 a day—totaling upwards of $8,000—for each working day of delay since then.

Production Not Available

The production for the 11 wells beyond the reservoir is not available for use now, except in small quantity, because all are connected with a main which opens into the structure McMillan is completing. The city now gets about 3,000,000 of the 11,000,000 gallons potential daily production of the wells by piping around the reservoir.

Of the new wells planned northwest of the city, one is to be on a site purchased for $1,000 from W. W. Nelson about five miles from the city limits. The commission expects to obtain about five other sites, or production wells, in that general area, and to start drilling operations on them in the very near future.

Looking to deep test possibilities, the commission approved a $1,000 contribution toward deepening to 1,500 feet a 280-foot well now nearing completion on the F. R. Friend farm about a mile south of Thirty-fourth street on College avenue. This will provide a test southeast of town.

Approves Call For Bids

In addition, the commission authorized the preparation of a call for bids for a 1500-foot test on the 1,200-acre city-owned water field northeast of the city. Other similar tests then may be made northwest and southeast of the city limits.

Members of the commission acknowledged frankly that the deep tests will be a gamble. Opinion is divided as to whether deep water suitable for domestic use can be found anywhere on the South Plains.

"But the cost is so small compared with the benefits resulting from the discovery of deep water we feel the risk is thoroughly justified," Mayor Rodgers said, speaking for the commission.

Water Comes From 150 Feet

Members of the commission pointed out that, at the present time, all of Lubbock's water is obtained from depths of about 150 feet. Many highly regarded engineers and geologists share the opinion that no usable water will be found below that depth.

More encouraging, according to members of the commission, are reports from some of the oil tests made in this area. All have encountered water in large quantities. Most, if not all, of it has been so salty as to be unfit for human use.

However, these tests have been seeking oil, not water. If any did penetrate fresh water sands, that fact almost invariably went unnoticed. The fact that fresh water had been found also would have been concealed by its instant contamination by mineralized fluids from other strata.

Commission Is Encouraged

But a few experiences have been reported to the commission which encourage the hope that fresh water may be found at depths lower than any explored for that purpose thus far.

The commission was told that the log of one oil test northeast of the city shows a water-bearing gravel sand 200 feet thick containing "oceans" of fresh water between 1,100 and 1,300 feet. Logs of wells in other areas show water sands at varying depths from 400 to 1,500 feet. The assumption has been that all this water is salt. But the fact is, according to information to the commission, that no one really knows. No actual test to determine the quality of such water ever has been made.

"Lubbock will make the tests," the mayor promised. "If we do not find good water we at least will have the satisfaction of proving it is not there."

The late Alexander Winton made the first automobile sold commercially in the United States.

county to the state Democratic convention be instructed to work for the selection of delegates to the national Democratic convention from the state of Texas who will be bound by the decisions of that convention and who are pledged to support at the general election in November the candidates for president and vice president nominated by the Democratic party assembled in national convention.

4. That the delegation from Lubbock county to the state convention vote as a unit.

It was the fourth resolution that was modified by floor attention. The resolutions committee had moved for convention adoption of a resolution instructing the Lubbock county delegates to the state convention to vote individually, rather than as a unit.

Delegates Are Named

The roll call vote was 65 to 41. The amended motion was made by James H. Goodman and was generously discussed by several speakers before a five-minute recess was called by Chairman L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman, to allow caucusing of precinct delegates. The caucus motion was made by C. L. Harris. Voice vote approved the first three resolutions.

Delegates elected and alternates—the first name in each series being the delegate and the second his alternate—follow:

H. Howard Hoffman and Tom Gordon; James G. Denton and Grady West; C. L. Harris and Victor H. Lindsey; Clarence K. Whiteside and C. P. Edwards; Elmer V. East and George C. Leftwich; Howard C. Ellis was elected convention chairman when Dr. J. William Davis and Homer D. Grant asked the convention to withdraw their nominations as chairman. J. H. Brewer, secretary of the Democratic county committee, was elected convention secretary on a ticket with Ellis.

Delegates from Saturday's precinct convention were certified to the credentials committee of Wesley Reed, chairman, and Homer D. Grant, Bailey Guess, James H Goodman, O. R. Ratliff, and N. G Casey.

Elmer V. East was chairman of the resolutions committee, which otherwise was composed of James G. Denton, Roy Bass, Howard Hoffman, C. L. Harris, Clarence Whiteside, J. William Davis, and G. V. Pardue.

J. W. Jackson was chairman of the delegations committee, which otherwise was composed of Howard Davison Miss Kathlean Ingram, Mrs. C. B. Luker, T. K. Martin, K. L. Riggs, and E. L. Forrest.

A crowd that comfortably filled the courtroom attended the convention. Several students from Texas Tech, there to observe convention procedure, were recognized by the chairman and asked to introduce themselves.

DICKENS DEMOS TO VOTE AS UNIT AT CONVENTION

DICKENS, May 4 (Special) — Dickens county instructed her delegates to the state Democratic convention at Brownwood to vote as a unit, and approved a pledge of support for party nominees at the national Democratic convention, in action at the county Democratic convention here today.

Delegates to the Brownwood convention are R. R. Wooten as chairman, Oscar Kelly, Will Rose, M. H. Brannon, and H. A. C. Brummett. Alternates are Martin Pope and Mrs. Nona Starcher.

TERRY GROUP TO BACK UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATION

BROWNFIELD, May 4 (Special) —Terry county's Democratic delegation to the state convention at Brownwood are to vote as a unit for an uninstructed Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention, under terms of a resolution approved at the county Democratic convention today.

Today's convention was harmonious throughout, with J. O. Gillham, county chairman, presiding. Delegates elected to the state convention are Dan Davis, O. L. Peterman, Charles Didway, Tom May, Lee O. Allen, and R. M. Kendrick. The latter is a member of the state committee.

Convention alternates are County Judge H. R. Winston, W. B. Tudor, H. M. Pyeatt, Burton G. Hackney, E. G. Akers, and Gillham.

HARMONIOUS MEETING IS CONDUCTED AT LAMESA

LAMESA, May 4 (Special) — Dawson county's Democratic delegates will go to the state Democratic convention in Brownwood May 25 uninstructed, except to vote as a unit, it was decided at the county Democratic convention held here today.

In an uneventful session, Kilmer Corbin was named convention chairman and V. Z. Rogers was elected to serve as secretary.

The group discussed President Truman's proposed civil rights program but no resolutions were placed before the body for action.

Nine delegates were named to the state convention. They are Corbin, Rogers, Karl Cayton, Bob Huff, Mac Wassell, Vernon D. Adcock, J. B. Roberts, Edwin P. Engledon and Ed Dubose.

GERMAN STRIKES CONTINUE

HANNOVER, May 4 (AP)—Strikes against food shortages spread in the British and American zones of Germany today and 81,000 workers may be idle tomorrow. German officials in the British zone rushed to the bizonal economic capital of Frankfurt to discuss the mounting unrest.

GOPs Clash Here

he was striving for an uninstructed delegation to the state convention.

He had no more than called for A. E. Quest, convention secretary, to read the list of accredited delegates when interruptions from the floor began and for the next 30 minutes the turmoil surged with Vaughan banging away with his gavel and ruling opposing delegates off the floor. He banged so hard that he broke his gavel and had to resort to using his cane as a gavel.

Temple, J. E. Vickers, pioneer Lubbock county attorney, and others sought to gain the floor and were ordered down by Vaughan. Then as Vickers approached the chair, Vaughan swung his cane at Vickers and struck him a glancing blow on the arm as the officers intervened and prevented a fistic clash.

Vaughan then called for a credentials committee to report and Frank Swan, a member of the Vaughan group and two others retired to the jury room.

Gordon Treadaway, local attorney who recently joined forces with the Republicans, sought to make a speech but was interrupted by both sides. Finally after more bickering, Treadaway was allowed to say a few words in the interest of harmony but his plea fell on deaf ears and the interruptions started again with as many as six people trying to get the floor at one time.

Mrs. Treadaway joined in the squabble and also tried to talk the convention into a harmonious session to no avail.

By this time, Vaughan instructed Secretary Quest to read the list of accredited delegates to the convention returned by the credentials committee headed by Swan. Quest started reading and the storm broke out anew.

Vaughan then declared the convention adjourned and stepped down from the bench. As he started toward the door, he and Vickers again engaged in a verbal battle and had to be kept apart by the two officers and others present. Vaughan was then escorted from the room and Mrs. Vaughan, Swan, Quest and James M. Lackey also retired.

Upon their retirement, the remaining two dozen or more persons in the room conducted their convention, termed a "rump" session by Vaughan forces.

Mrs. Wright Kerr was elected chairman of the convention and her calm voice seemed to quiet everybody down. In a matter of minutes, another slate of delegates was named to the state convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Temple, Mrs. Kerr and Sam Camp were named as delegates of this group.

Last night Vaughan announced that his delegates were: Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan, Swan and Quest with J. C. Fleming, E. McElroy, Mrs. Swan and Treadaway as alternates.

But the trouble is expected to be started all over again when the two delegations go to Corpus Christi for the state convention on May 25.

WILLKIE'S SON LEADS

RUSHVILLE, Ind., May 4 (INS) —Young Phillip Willkie, son of the late Wendell Willkie Republican presidential candidate made his political debut tonight by leading his opponent more than 4 to 1 for the GOP nomination to the Indiana House of Representatives.

Fines Assessed In Court Here

Three charges of liquor law violation against the same person were dismissed yesterday by county Judge Walter Davies, upon motion of County Attorney John Steele.

The complaints named G. A. Benton, alias C. S. Wilson, 50. Steele's motions to dismiss recited 'lack of evidence' and asked for dismissal 'with prejudice.'

In a fourth complaint naming Wilson, a fine of $100 and costs were assessed, records showed. The law firm of Burks and McNeil appeared for the defendant.

Two Women Fined

Two women were fined on a theft charge as a result of a shoplifting investigation by police. The charge named Gladys Wheeler, 48, and Neva Roach, 26, who were accused of theft of a bolt of cloth valued at $25 from A. H. Maas, of Montgomery Ward and company.

They were fined $25 each and sentenced to a day in jail, after a plea of guilty was entered.

Police still sought to determine whether a large amount of clothing and groceries found in a car driven by the defendants had been stolen. Both were apprehended Monday following a complaint from Furr Food store No. 5, at Seventeenth and Texas Ave., that they had stolen some groceries.

Five convicted felons were removed yesterday from Lubbock county jail and started under custody of state transfer agents on the first leg of the trip to the penitentiary at Huntsville.

Official records listed them as:

Arthur Lowry, 26, sentenced to two years for theft over $50.

Stanley Jones, 22, a negro, four years for robbery.

Robert Eddie Waller, 31, of Morton, five years for forgery

Delbert Phillips, 35, 10 years for theft over $50.

Samuel James Taylor, 42, a Slaton negro, four years for burglary.

J. S. Johnson, 49, pleaded innocent of drunk driving and of abusive language toward arresting police. Bonds of $500 and $100, respectively, were set in county court and in corporation court, officials said.

Negro Is Fined

Police fined a negro $75—$50 for disturbance and $25 for drunkenness—after he had to be removed by force from a negro woman's quarters at Sixteenth and Ave. X.

A 20-year-old youth who lives in 2600-block Thirtieth, tossed a firecracker from a cab Tuesday night in 1000-block Ave. J. It cost him $15.

A group of students were cleared from a cemetery Tuesday, where they said they had gone as pledges of a fraternity. It was 3.36 a. m.

The dodo bird, which could not fly, run fast or defend itself effectively, was easily killed by men with clubs.

Stassen And Dewey Given Most Backing By Young Republicans

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 4—Harold E. Stassen and Governor Thomas E. Dewey run approximately neck and neck in popularity among young Republican voters.

Senator Robert A. Taft has more support from older Republicans than he does from Republicans under 35 years of age.

Those facts are revealed in an analysis of the vote by age groups in the Institute's latest survey of candidates popularity.

Dividing the rank and file of Republican voters into two groups, those 35 years of age or under, and those 36 and over, the poll finds the following standings for the various Republican candidates.

Republicans Only

	Age 21-35	Age 36 & over
Stassen	30%	31%
Dewey	29	29
MacArthur	20	14
Vandenberg	9	10
Taft	7	10
Warren	3	2
Joseph Martin	1	2
No choice	1	2

For all ages combined, the popular standings as reported April 25 were: Stassen 31 percent, Dewey 29 percent, MacArthur 16 percent, Vandenberg 10 percent, Taft 9 percent, Warren 2 percent, Martin 1 percent, and No choice 2 percent.

These findings cover the period April 9 to April 17 and therefore do not reflect any changes of attitudes toward candidates brought about by the Pennsylvania or Ohio primaries.

The poll reveals that women Republicans take almost exactly the same attitude toward the various candidates as men Republicans do. The only notable exception is that General Douglas MacArthur appears to be somewhat more popular with the women of the G.O.P. than with the men.

Outside of that one case, no candidate can claim to have any particularly greater appeal to women in the party than to men.

Republicans Only

	Men	Women
Stassen	31%	31%
Dewey	30	28
MacArthur	13	18
Vandenberg	11	9
Taft	9	9
Warren	2	2
Joseph Martin	2	1
No choice	2	2

Sentiment of the Republican rank and file in the wake of the Pennsylvania and Ohio primaries is being measured in a new survey now in progress.

Congressman Proposes Federal Judgeship For Southern Texas

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — An additional federal judgeship for the Southern district of Texas was proposed today by Rep. Lyle (D-Tex).

He offered a bill which specifically provides that the judge should reside in the southern half of the district, roughly bound by the cities of Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Victoria.

"That section of the state has grown greatly in recent years," Lyle said. "In the interest of the administration of justice it is highly desirable that one of the judges of the district reside there where such heavy dockets have accumulated in recent years."

American Flier Is Killed As B-29 Crashes, 11 Rescued

MUNICH, May 4. (U.P.) — One American flier was burned to death and two others seriously injured late last night when a B-29 superfortress crashed shortly after its takeoff from the Furstenfeldbruck air base.

An American Air Force announcement of the crash said that nine others received minor injuries.

The plane was one of a squadron which recently arrived in Germany on a training mission from the United States. It lost its air speed shortly after raising its landing gear. It crashed back to earth and skidded to a stop before flames broke out.

An air base crash crew rescued 11 of the 12-man crew. The last man was pinned too far inside the wreckage to be saved.

East Texas Business Building Is Destroyed By $25,000 Fire

LUFKIN, May 4 (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the R. A. Stewart building at Huntington, this county, today.

It housed the Stewart drug store and the McMullen beauty shop. Loss was estimated at $25,000.

The Angelina County News, a weekly newspaper in an adjacent building, suffered some loss from smoke and water. The Lufkin fire department sent equipment to fight the flames.

GUN RETURNED

Youngster Decides He's No Delinquent

NEWARK, N. J., May 4 (INS)—Federal District Judge Guy L. Fake is looking for the youngster who stole one of his shotguns last March so he can commend him.

Fake said today that when he went to look over his shotgun collection in the garage at his Rutherford, N. J., home last night he found a note wrapped around one of the weapons.

"I took this shotgun on March 13, and then realized that juvenile delinquency was not for me, so I cleaned the gun and have returned same. Please keep your windows closed hereafter."

Last Rites Held For Retired Brownfield Produce Dealer

BROWNFIELD, May 5. (Special)—Funeral services were held at the Crescent Heights Church of Christ at 4 p. m. Tuesday for S. O. Murray, retired produce man, who died about 5:30 a. m. Monday following a heart attack.

The Elder Joe Chisholm officiated, and burial was in Terry County Memorial cemetery under direction of Brownfield funeral home.

THIS SHEEP WAGGED ITS TAIL—The wreck of a Santa Fe freight train near Ardmore, Okla., killed several hundred head of livestock but this lucky creature wiggled out of the wreckage wagging its tail. The rest of the sheep in this cracked-up cattle car were killed. Thirty-one cars piled up and firemen spent most of the day putting out fires that broke out in eleven cars carrying sulphur. 'Underground Man,' Story Of How T-Men Closed Trap On Capone, Will Be Filmed

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 4—Nina Foch, who was dying on the vine at Columbia before she went East and hit big in "John Loves Mary," returns to Hollywood in a blaze of glory.

What could be sweeter than returning to the scene where she had been an "also ran?".

Nina goes into "Underground Man" with Glenn Ford, who is plenty hit himself these days. The story, produced by Robert Rossen, and directed by Joe Lewis, along documentary lines, is based on the man in the Treasury department who brought Al Capone to justice and saw him sentenced to Alcatraz.

The treatment, I might add, has been approved by the Johnston office which has steadfastly refused to permit any company to film the Capone story, for fear it might have a bad effect on young people.

In New York there have been meetings every day between Charles Einfeld, of Enterprise studio, and Nicholas Schenck, president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. I am reliable informed that Einfield is negotiating to release all of his movies through MGM. The highly successful "Body and Soul" brought about the deal, plus the fact that David Loew is a partner, of Einfeld.

It was David's father, Marcus Loew, who was the first president of Metro-Go'dwyn-Mayer, and the guiding spirit of the organization, so naturally, some of the MGM old-timers feel that David belongs with his father's company.

My heart goes out to both Susan Peters and Richard Quine, who started married life happily, until Susan's accident made things so difficult for both of them. Susan was in town the day after my story that she and Richard had separated.

"Dick has actually been living in the valley for a month," she said, "doing some writing. I think it is better that we separate. He's really a noble guy, but he's entitled to a normal life, which he can't have with me. Many times he's been offered jobs that he couldn't take, because he couldn't leave me or take a chance. I want him to be free to have his own career which has been sadly hampered."

Dick, who doesn't want a divorce, said, "I'm not a hero—I'm just an ordinary, plain guy, and I wish that Susan would feel that we could continue together."

Chit-Chat:

Jean Porter wrote me from London that she and Edward Dmytryk expected to be married last Sunday—so, unless something went amiss, they should be Mr. and Mrs. when you read this.

I can't say they are facing the most cheerful honeymoon in the world. When they return here May 9, Dmytryk heads immediately for Washington where he must stand trial for refusing to answer whether or not he is a Communist. What happens there will probably affect his suit against RKO for dropping him as a director.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

I was always suspicious that the Marilyn Maxwell-Mitchel North engagement was publicity. Now that they announce they have postponed their marriage, I am sure of it.

Eileen Howe, who the New York scribes said was engaged to Macoco, at the Seacombers with Charlie Fay, Alice's brother.

Little did Conrac Hilton, owner of the Hilton hotel chain, know when he went to the Cocambo with Isabelita, that his dinner partner would be asked to sing. Paul Villon, the entertainer, was taken sick, and the lady graciously substituted. Hilton is the ex-husband of the widely publicized Zsa-Zsa Hilton.

Rita Johnson's big moment, Harold Winston, New York business man, flies in to see her Friday. She is verra, verra happy.

Seeing Tyrone Power and Linda Christian together at the Reginald Gardiner Russian Easter party, made me realize this is really a serious attachment—more serious than most people believe.

There were Easter eggs for the 150 guests, and real Russian food. Everyone was there. Mary Lee Fairbanks arrived with the David Nivens (her daughter had been christened a few hours earlier.)

Janet Gaynor, in smart black, with Adrian, Greer Garson, with her mother, had dinner with Wynn Rocamora. Ann Sothern, the Ray Millands, Mrs. Ronald Colman, in a very smart hat, said it was a preview. She and Ronnie leave for England next Monday. They came with Jack Benny, who said he had sinus and was dead tired.

West Texas Gas Company Adds New Lines Throughout Seminole

SEMINOLE, May 4. (Special)—The West Texas Gas company announced the completion of 5,000 feet of additional gas mains in the city of Seminole today.

This, it is reported, is the largest expansion program for any city in this division which is comprised of five cities.

The work was completed under contract by George Tucker, pipeline contractor of Odessa, with Ancil O'Neal of the West Texas Gas company serving as inspecting supervisor.

The project took approximately five days for completion according to O'Neal's report.

Last rites for John C. Dunlap, 15, senior student at Robertson High school, Crosby county, were held at Ralls Monday afternoon. Young Robertson drowned Saturday afternoon in the South Concho river at Christoval while on an outing with a party of basketball players. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Dunlap of Lorenzo route 1.

Condition of Jed Rix of Fort Worth, who suffered a slight paralytic stroke on the left side April 18, is slowly improving, according to a report from Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rix, who returned Friday from a visit to Fort Worth. Jed was taken home from Harris Memorial Methodist hospital on April 25.

Larry Larsen, general manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, said in a talk before the Optimist club luncheon Tuesday noon that the outstanding characteristic of the Hubbers this year was that it is the youngest club in the league. "There'll be plenty of mistakes when you have that factor of youth involved, but I believe the boys are capable of ironing out their mistakes and playing good ball," he said. Prior to Larsen's talk, Roy Finley, director of the Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby, and Warlick Carr, president of the Exchange club, talked briefly on the Derby. M. M. Joiner of Ralls and Miss Mary Kamerdiener of Dallas were out-of-town guests.

Gainesville Beauties Will Perform In Community Circus Scheduled At Lubbock

Girls—blondes, brunettes and redheads—are present in large numbers in the personnel of the Gainesville Community circus which is to be here for four performances Friday and Saturday, matinee and night each day.

Many of the prettiest girls in Gainesville, and they must all be bonafide residents of the northeast Texas city before they can participate in the show, are performers in the famous home town circus, and they participate in a great variety of aerial, acrobatic and equestrienne numbers during the two-hour program.

For instance, 19 grils take part in the spectacular and thrilling aerial ballet, with girls swinging from every point of the compass high in the top of the big tent, and all in unison.

There are girls who walk tight wires, who ride bareback horses, feminine teeterboard acrobats and aerialists, and one feminine clown.

When the Gainesville Community circus was started back in 1930 girls were reluctant to attempt the daredevil feats familiar to circus audiences. But the circus idea really caught on at Gainesville, and as the fame of the show spread, the town turned circus-minded until today there are more girls performing the daring and death-defying feats than men and boys.

Audiences marvel at the Gainesville girls who hang by their teeth high in the big top, dance on tight wires, balance on galloping bareback horses, take part in tumbling and acrobatic acts, walk upside down in the top of the arena, and fly through space on the loop-the-loop trapeze.

Clubs Sponsor Show

Many of these girls are veterans of several seasons whith the circus. Some who started as grade school girls are now high school school and junior college students participating in as many as five different acts. All seem to delight in thrilling their audiences with the reckless feats they do on the ground and aloft.

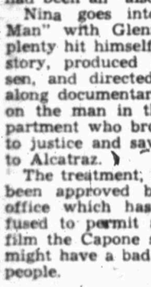

The show is sponsored here jointly by the Lubbock Women's club and the Lions club, with net proceeds from the four performances going into local benefit funds of the two organizations.

Tickets are on sale at the Varsity Book store on College Ave., and in the lobby of the Hilton hotel downtown. Ticket prices are: general admission for children, afternoon or night, 75 cents; adult general admission, afternoon $1.50, and at night $1.80; reserved seats $1.80 for afternoon, and $2.40 at night.

Tour Of Farms In Floyd Set

Eleven Floyd county farms will be visited Thursday by a soil conservation caravan sponsored by the Floyd County Soil District board of supervisors, A. L. Hartzog, county agent, Floydada Lions club, and district soil technicians.

The tour of the outstanding projects in the county by farm operators and businessmen will be highlighted by a barbecue dinner at Lockview farms near Lockney at 12:30 p. m. at which the board of supervisors and the Lockview farms will be hosts.

Special Program Planned

Thursday night a special program will be sponsored at Wester Firld in Floydada by the Lions club for members of the caravan.

The tour will leave the Agriculture building in Floydada at 9:30 a. m., for Lockney At 10 a. m., the caravan will leave the Beacon office in Lockney for trips to five farms.

The first stop will be at the Leslie Ferguson farm where the group will see a mixed grass culture project. Terracing and vetch cover crop will be inspected at the O. D. Russell farm.

The third stop will be at G. F. Weir farm where alfalfa seeded with a barley nurse crop will be shown. Ditch border irrigation will be shown at the S. R. Jones farm, and the final morning stop will be made at the Ben Quebe farm where a wheat variety demonstration will be displayed.

Barbecue Lunch Scheduled

At Lockview farm where the group will be hosts at a barbecue, members of the caravan will be shown vetch oversown with wheat and vetch in grain sorghum stubble.

During the afternoon the tour will visit the Oscar Golden farm where a mixed grass pasture will be inspected. At the Rhea Mitchell farm the group will see controlled grade irrigation, and at the R. C. Mitchell farm bindweed control will be shown.

Growing of knot grass in a lake bed will be displayed at the Clark Harris farm, and a spray irrigation system and mixed grass pasture will be seen at the H. R. Patterson farm.

Members of the committee arranging the tour are Hartzog, Ralph Cogdill, district soil conservationist, Ray S. McEntire, Production Marketing administration officer, H. G. Barber, vocational agriculture teacher, and F. L. Montandon, vocational agriculture teacher.

Members of the board of supervisors are R. G. Dunlap of Cedar, W. F. Ferguson of Starkey, John Belt of Lockney, Cecil Purcell of Quitaque, and W. H. Nelson of Baker.

Dr. Millikan Says Changes In UN Needed

World Police Force Is Urged

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

TWO different groups of thinkers, advocating two entirely different approaches to world peace and security, are present in the world today, the first believing blindly in the theory of pacifism, and the other placing their faith in the less emotional, more realistic method of insuring collective security by means of a well-organized, powerful world police force.

This observation was presented last night by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, professor emeritus of physics at the California Institute of Technology and one of the world's foremost scientists, in a talk in the Recreation hall at Texas Technological college before a small but select group of about 100 persons.

Must Stay On Guard

Speaking on "The Road To Peace," the eminent scientist stated that the extreme pacifists theory of laying down their arms to prevent war is entirely impractical. "Too many of the world's population have not developed beyond the brute stage," he said, "and one gangster can start a war, making it necessary for the rest of the people to fight for survival."

If the United States had joined Britain, France and Russia in opposing the aims of the Kaiser's military machine, World War I might never have happened, he said. Similarly, the refusal of the United States, Russia and Germany to join the League of Nations after the war wrecked the League's progress toward collective world security.

"If there are any shoulders outside of Germany on which the blame for the last war can be placed, it is upon the shoulders of the extreme pacifists of the United States," he stated. Hitler would never have sent the armed might of the new Germany rolling into the Rhineland if he had thought the United States would resist such an invasion by armed resistance, he pointed out.

Police Force Needed

The first efforts known in history to set up a "collective security" were the banding together of primitive families to protect themselves against the depredations of their neighbors, Millikan pointed out. "This fact," he said, "illustrates that an organized world police force is the only sure way of guaranteeing world peace."

COMMANDER URGES APPROVAL

Legion Withdraws Opposition To National Housing Measure

(By International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 4 — The American Legion late today withdrew its long-standing opposition to the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill and gave endorsement to the measure as currently amended.

The Legion's action came through unanimous approval by the group's national executive committee meeting in Indianapolis.

Recommendations for further amendment of the T-E-W bill accompanied the reversal of opinion as the housing measure.

Commander Takes Floor

The action was taken after National Commander James F. O'Neil left the presiding chair to take the floor in dramatic, personal intervention.

O'Neil spoke vigorously on behalf of the report submitted by Walter E. Alessandroni, Philadelphia, chairman of World War II national housing committee of the American Legion.

Chairman Allesandroni reported that the bill, as amended by Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont and passed by the Senate April 22, now provided certain priorities for low-income veterans and thus eliminated the chief ground for Legion opposition.

Allesandroni then recommended that the American Legion, through its national legislative director, present to Congress further amendments to the bill—and incorporate the provisions of the Veterans Homestead act of 1948.

O'Neil Urges Approval

The homestead act of 1948 has been vigorously-sponsored by the Legion.

O'Neil said:

"I have traveled some 83,000 miles since Sept. 1. I have had an opportunity to talk with thousands of veterans about the subject of housing. This is the most urgent issue in the country today, as it reflects upon veterans.

"I don't think we will ever stand

Tech Professor To Head Science Group

LAS VEGAS, N. M., May 4. (Special)—Dr. R. A. Studhalter, head of the department of biology at Texas Technological college in Lubbock, was named president of the Southwest Division of American Association for the Advancement of Science at an annual election of officers here today.

Other officials named include, vice president, Dr. Ernst Antevs of Globe, Ariz.; secretary treasurer, Frank E. E. Germann of the University of Colorado. New members of the executive committee include F. H. Douglas of the Denver Arts Museum, and O. B. Muench of New Mexico Highlands University.

Alpine was chosen as the 1949 meeting place with Sul Ross State Teachers College and MacDonald Observatory co-operating.

The meeting has been held twice in Lubbock.

Others attending the meeting from Texas Tech include Dr. W. M. Craig, professor of chemistry; Dr. Waldo Glock, associate professor of geology, and Dr. R. S. Underwood, professor of mathematics.

Aid Is Rushed Into Section

(By The Associated Press)

McKINNEY, May 4.— With its homeless and injured temporarily sheltered and cared for, McKinney today turned to plans for rebuilding its tornado-wrecked southern residential and mill area.

The death list for McKinney and vicinity remained at three. More than 50 were injured in McKinney and nearby Princeton, and the homeless was placed at 700.

Governor Visits City

One estimate set the property damage at $1,000,000.

Relief workers poured in. The Army, Navy and various relief organizations were on the scene looking after the needed.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester flew in during the day to survey the storm area and arrange any state assistance needed.

Earl Walker, chairman of the Collin County Red Cross, said "everybody pitched in and helped us to get back on our feet."

The Veterans administration hospital here, to which most of the injured were taken, said only one of the victims was in a serious condition. He was Frank Turner, a textile worker.

Plant Almost Demolished

Most of the destruction was concentrated in the vicinity of the Texas Textile mills. The mammoth plant, itself, was practically destroyed.

A. J. Knarr, meteorologist in charge of the Fort Worth Weather bureau, today gave an explanation for the storm. He said a collision between a mass of cold air moving from the northwest and warm moist air moving up from the coast was responsible. The collision of the two currents in this vicinity was just the thing to set a twister in motion.

Tornadic winds also were felt in Montague, Hunt and Hopkins counties, all in the general vicinity of McKinney.

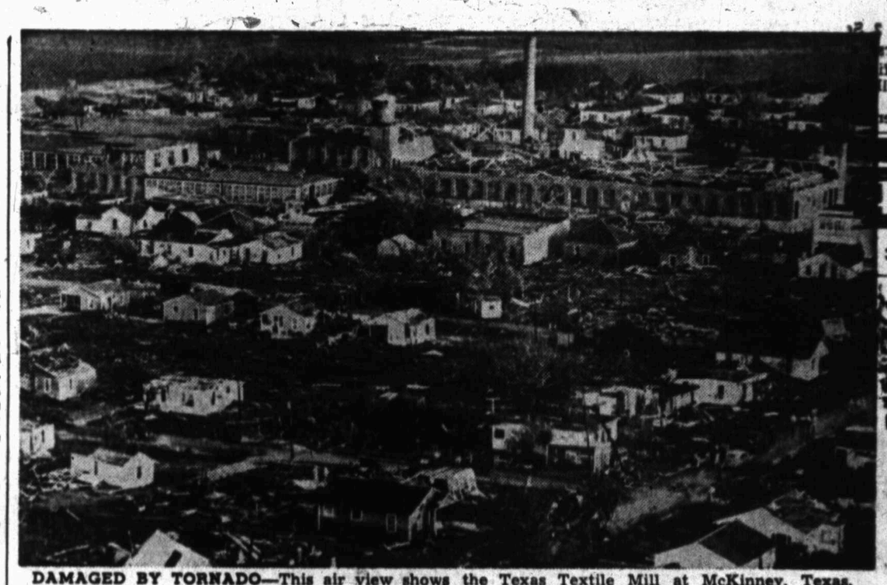

Hidden Ammunition Is Found In Mexico

LAREDO, May 4 (AP) — One person was under arrest today in Nuevo Laredo, across the Rio Grande from here, in connection with the seizure of 101,000 rounds of ammunition.

The cache was found in a private home in Nuevo Laredo yesterday.

Mexican customs inspectors also seized a car which they said was used to transport the ammunition into Mexico from Laredo. It had secret compartments.

The ammunition was of .32, .38, .45 and 305 caliber.

Lamesa Voters Okay Bonds For Projects

LAMESA, May 4. (Special)—Lamesa voters put their stamp of approval today upon a proposal to issue $100,000 in city bonds to be used in the completion of the city's water and sewer system expansion program.

In an exceptionally light vote 156 ballots were cast for the proposal, and 23 votes were cast against the suggested program, Election Judge V. Z. Rogers reported.

The issue, as approved by the voters, will be used to supplement $350,000 in revenue bonds voted last year for the project. Results of the election will be canvassed within the next week by the city commission, and plans for initiating the project will be laid as soon as possible, city officials indicated.

Knife And Fork Club To Hear Colonel Jack Major Tonight

Knife and Fork club members meeting tonight at 7 p. m. at Hotel Lubbock will hear Colonel Jack Major, "the man who makes people laugh," deliver an address on "Taxes, Women and Hogs."

Colonel Major, a native of Paducah, Ky., is a widely traveled professional lecturer and singer-comedian. This will be the last program of the 1947-48 season for the organization, with meetings scheduled for resumption in September.

WARSAW, Poland, May 4 (AP) —A group of Polish scientists announced today an institute for atomic research will be built in Poland within the next 10 months. The announcement said they expect to get machinery from Switzerland.

SERVICE EXPANDED IN CITY

Growth Of Lubbock Is Seen In Sharp Increase In Mail Volume

The volume of mail of Lubbock postoffice has grown by leaps and bounds in keeping with the population of the city.

Major events affecting the city—such as the establishment of Texas Technological college and the opening of two air bases—are reflected in postal receipts, information given by Postmaster Amos H. Howard showed.

Expansion Is Reflected

The expansion of a residential section is reflected in postoffice activities, as the new section is surveyed to determine whether it meets requirements for mail delivery.

In the last three years, mail delivery has been opened on more than 400 additional city blocks.

In 1947, postal receipts for the Lubbock postoffice totaled $519,230.89, which was 2.8 larger than receipts of $182,786.44 ten years earlier and more than five times as large as the total of $90,932.13 in 1927.

Increase For 1948

The receipts for the first quarter of this year were $134,242.10, an increase over the total of $114,970.17 the first quarter in 1947.

If Lubbock residents make more money in a year, they put more money into Uncle Sam's postoffice through purchases of stamps, sending money orders and other postal activities.

"The volume of mail is just like any other business. A good year means a lot for the receipts of the office," said Postmaster Howard.

Figures Are Compared

Looking over records of receipts for each year of the Lubbock postoffice since 1921, the postmaster said the volume in receipts has increased each year over the previous year except in 1946 when receipts of $425,623.49 were less than the 1945 total of $428,059.88. That was attributed to close of the war, a drop in the mail to Lubbock Army Air field and South Plains Army Air field and a decrease in correspondence between Lubbock residents and military men over the world.

A big increase had occurred from 1941 to 1942, with the receipts for those years totaling $267,718.03 and $313,343.63, respectively.

Back in 1924, the year before Texas Technological college opened in the fall of 1945, receipts were $58,371.69; in 1925, they were $76,788.59 and in 1926, $81,090.62.

Local Staff Increased

Lubbock could get along with 11 regular clerks and seven substitutes in 1925, while now there are 55 regular clerks and 16 substitute clerks. The number of carriers has increased from five regular and four substitute carriers in 1925 to 38 regular and 23 substitute carriers at present.

Regular clerks who were listed on the postoffice staff in 1925 and who still are working there are R. F. Adkins, W. C. Barnett, Walter T. Clark and C. H. Peek. Of the substitute clerks at that time, T. R. Cowart and Chas. I. Waller still

Rail Officials Complete Tour

Santa Fe railroad officials departed Lubbock Tuesday afternoon after completing a two-day day industrial tour of the South Plains. Considerable information was collected for presentation to prospective industrialists in Lubbock and the area.

"We have gathered a tremendous amount of valuable information in connection with our industrial survey of West Texas," Arthur A. Dailey, general advertising manager for the Santa Fe, of Chicago said. "It is evident that much thought and work was put in on the information and saved us having to ask a lot of questions. We wanted specific data, not just generalities, and that's what we got here.

Will Distribute Facts

"We did not come out here to tell you what you should offer," Dailey said. "We are students finding out what you already have learned. When we get the necessary information, we'll see that it reaches the right people in our advertising programs in various financial, industrial and trade magazines distributed principally in the East.

Dailey indicated West Texas might logically cash in on decentralization of industry, but that the area should seek only the types of industry best suited for the section.

"Industry is not especially interested in good schools, churches, homes and a fine climate," Dailey said. "They're more interested in water, power, taxes, type of labor, market, etc. The former assets are fine for a community to have and might add some influence on a manufacturer's decision, but the one thing industrialists must know is where a product can be made to put on the market cheaper than a rival.

"We will try to find the industrialist, and you can try to sell him," he added.

Dailey said an outline on the textile research project at Texas Tech conducted by Mark Wood under a project sponsored by the Santa Fe and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce given by Dean R. C. Goodwin and Wood in a meeting Tuesday "was the basis for an excellent report."

Jack O'Kieffe, vice president of the Leo Burnett company, which handles Santa Fe advertising; Jack Emery, director of research for Burnett; and Fred K. Thompson, account executive, all of Chicago, are aiding Dailey in making the survey.

The group was accompanied to Lubbock by D. A. Bandeen, manager, and L. A. Willkie, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; R. H. Deitiker, general freight agent, and Ralph W. Ater, special public relations representative of the Santa Fe, both of Amarillo.

'Religion With Kick' Urged By Salvation Army Commissioner

"Religion with a kick in it," is the antidote outlined by Albert E. Chesham, commissioner of the Southern district of the Salvation Army, for the present disillusioned and confused state of mind of a great many of the people.

In an interview last night at the Hilton hotel, where he is stopping over in his tour of Texas, Commissioner Chesham stated that society is progressing at an ever increasing rate and as a result "the strong are getting stronger and the weak are getting weaker." There has been entirely too much wishful thinking on the part of most people in the past few years and when things do not turn out as planned they are unable to stand up to the situation.

Progressive Leadership Needed

The English born veteran of 41 years of welfare work said that more progressive leadership in our churches and proper training in the home is needed to offset the influences of an ever changing and vastly more complex world. "There is too much prohibiting and not enough providing for youth today, who are more alert and more alive than their predecessors. There are no delinquent children—only delinquent parents," he said.

Chesham is making an inspection tour of the posts and properties of the Southern district of the Salvation Army which is comprised of 15 states, the District of Columbia and the Republic of Mexico. He took over the district, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., four months ago.

Col. Charles Dodd, Texas state commander, is accompanying Chesham on his tour through the state.

Major Decreases In Crude Oil Output Noted In Four States

TULSA, Okla., May 4 (U.P.) — Crude oil production in the U. S. slipped last week to a daily average of 5,429,870 barrels but was still well above last year's production figures, the Oil and Gas journal reported today.

The total decline from the past week was 1,115 barrels daily.

Major decreases were reported from oil fields in Illinois, down 1,600; Kansas down 4,300; Mississippi, 4,900 and Wyoming 1,600. Losses of 500 barrels or less were noted in Kentucky, Michigan, Alabama and Montana.

Gains were recorded in the eastern area (up 2,350) and Oklahoma (up 7,900). Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas, Louisiana, Colorado and California reported gains of less than 700 barrels.

Texas, New Mexico and Nebraska production was unchanged.

Texas Woman Has Italian's Personal Message To Truman

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — A Chico, Tex., woman returned from Italy today with this personal message from a Naples taxi driver to President Truman:

"Tell him in Italy we're going to get rid of our Communists before you do in America."

Mrs. Henry C. Gulledge, wife of an official of the Standard Oil Co. of Egypt, who arrived with her husband aboard the liner Sobieski, said the driver thought she'd have no difficulty delivering his message personally to the President.

TOTAL OF 193 NOW IN CONTEST

Contestants Must File Entries In Soap Box Derby By May 18

Soap Box Derby officials announced Tuesday that May 13 has been set as the deadline for entries in the Avalanche-Journal Chevrolet sponsored event to be staged here July 5. Sixteen additional aspirants for top honors signed Tuesday, bringing total entries to 193.

Registration for the race had been delayed for several days because of a shortage of blanks, but the blanks arrived Monday and there are plenty on hand at Derby headquarters in the showroom of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1902 Texas avenue.

Deadline Is Set

Derby Director Roy Finley announced that May 18 had been set as an absolute deadline and no entries will be accepted after that date.

In the meantime, officials of the Lubbock Exchange club, who are joint sponsors with the Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company in staging of the derby pushed their efforts to secure a sponsor for each boy in the race. A total of 125 sponsors had been signed thus far in the campaign. Three more sponsors were reported today. S. & Q. Clothiers, J. C. Penney Co., and Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches.

Dan Portwood also announced at the Optimist club luncheon Tuesday noon at the Hilton hotel that he would sponsor a car after Finley and Warlick Carr, Exchange club president, had talked on the Derby program.

Steering Wheels Arrive

First shipment of 100 steering wheels from the Village Smithy in Monroe Falls, O., arrived Monday and 100 more sets will be shipped this week. Forty sets of wheels and axles were due to arrive Tuesday and the next 40 boys in line to receive wheels will be called by phone telling them to come and get their certificates.

Two hundred books on "How To Build A Soap Box Derby Racer" will be available for distribution by Friday, Finley said today.

Additional entries in the Derby include:

James Richard Alls, 14, son of Mrs. James F. Alls, route 6; Rayburn Maxwell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben D. Johnson, 4002 Twenty-first; Curtis Eugene Graves, 13, son of J. A. Rites For Sheriff Hancock Set Today

Funeral services for Sheriff Mac Wesley Hancock, 60, of Morton, will be conducted at 11 a. m. today at the First Baptist church in Morton, with Rev. W. C. Wright, pastor, officiating.

The body will lie in state for one hour prior to the beginning of services. At 3 p. m. last rites will be conducted at Hancock school, eight miles north of Lamesa, followed by burial in Hancock cemetery.

Pallbearers for the services will be six uniformed officers of the state highway patrol.

Nevada Resort Operators Told To Halt Crooked Gambling

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 4 (INS)—More than 30 Nevada gambling resort operators were flatly warned today that they must either stamp out crooked gambling — or else.

The warning came from the Nevada State Tax commission which now has the power of a new law to revoke gambling licenses if it is found that any establishment is "not running honestly and peacefully."

William J. Moore, state tax commissioner, told the operators: "You must put square dice and new decks on your tables."

Moore later said that the commission has received many complaints of crooked gambling. He warned the operators that state investigators will keep a close watch on all resorts.

Reagan drove the hen off the nest and moved the kittens outside with their mother.

Police Asked To Aid Hunt For Post Man

Police throughout West Texas were asked yesterday to aid in the search for C. J. Josey, Post business man who disappeared from his home at Post at 5 a. m. Monday without a trace.

C. J. JOSEY

Josey, who had been in the grocery business there about two years, had been ill of a heart ailment in recent months, and members of his family feared he may have had a heart attack after leaving.

He was dressed in a khaki suit, but members of the family said he apparently took with him a brown suit and a pair of gray trousers, any combination of which he may be wearing if still alive.

Josey was 44 years of age. He was described as 6 feet 1 inch tall, weight about 160 to 170 pounds, brown hair, hazel eyes, and sallow complexion due to illness. He was wearing brown shoes, and probably would be wearing glasses. He wore a yellow gold pocket watch with leather band.

The family owned an automobile, but Josey left without it. It was not known which direction he took, or how he was traveling. A sister, Mrs. Ruth Hampton, who lives in Lubbock, said Josey gave no indication to his family that he planned to leave.

Josey has a wife and two children, a girl 7, and a boy 3. The family can be reached at telephone 127-J at Post.

Construction Permit For New American State Bank Issued

A city construction permit for a $35,000 building at 1401 Avenue Q to be occupied by the recently chartered American State bank was issued Tuesday.

Sailor Found Innocent Of Arson In Dance Hall Fire

SAN SABA, May 4 (AP)—William D. Biddy, 22-year-old Lampasas sailor, was found innocent tonight of a charge of arson in a fatal dance hall fire Dec. 25, 1947 at Fredericksburg.

A jury in district court here returned the verdict after a deliberation of 20 minutes. The jury went out at 6:20 p. m. and returned the verdict at 6:40 p. m.

Biddy denied during the trial that he tampered with a butane gas stove at the dance hall shortly before fire broke out.

Four persons perished in the Christmas night blaze.

Body Of Lubbock Vet To Arrive Thursday

The remains of Capt. Ben Atcheson, formerly of Lubbock, are due to arrive here at 7:30 a. m. Thursday at the Santa Fe station. He had lived here all of his life prior to his entry in the armed forces in February, 1940, and was a graduate of Lubbock High school and former Tech student. At the time of his enlistment in the Army, he was employed by the West Texas Gas company.

Capt. Atcheson was killed August 30, 1942, in Dutch Guiana.

Services will be held at the Rix Funeral home chapel at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, with Dr. Jack Lewis officiating. Military services will be held at Lubbock cemetery with the VFW in charge.

Survivors are three brothers, James Atcheson, of 2219 Ninth, Lubbock, Frank, of San Antonio, and Mack, of Jeanette, Pa.; one sister, Mrs. M. J. Aderton, of 3005 Twenty-second, Lubbock; and a paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Atcheson, of Los Angeles, Calif. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atcheson, of Lubbock.

Rep. Johnson May Disclose Intentions In Senate Race

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) may disclose in Texas this week end whether he's going to run for the Senate.

He announced today he plans to leave within the next 24 hours for Austin, but would not say what he will do when he gets there. Aides said he may make a statewide radio broadcast and issue a statement.

Johnson long has been considered a potential candidate for the seat now held by Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex), who has not yet announced whether he will seek reelection. O'Daniel's term expires next Jan. 3.

SUNDAY HAZARDS

Parking At Churches

MOST thoughtful church-goers should and doubtless will heed the appeal from the Lubbock police department, as announced from many pulpits Sunday, to be more careful in observing traffic regulations.

As anyone who has observed can testify, traffic congestion at many churches is extremely serious during regular services on Sundays. It is particularly bad about the time Sunday school lets out.

Many cars are double, and even triple-parked, while waiting for someone in Sunday school. Streets often are so congested for as long as a half-hour or more at a time that fire trucks and ambulances could not get through if an emergency should occur.

Other church-goers are inconsiderate in their parking. They block alleys, street cross-walks and sidewalks. They do not hestitate to park across private driveways. They ignore no-parking signs. They block entrances to hospitals. They are guilty, in short, of actions which not only inconvenience pedestrians, but create most serious dangers of accidents.

Police are attempting to get this problem solved through voluntary cooperation. Most pastors are assisting in this effort.

But police also have warned that, if the condition is not corrected voluntarily, they must start issuing tickets to violators.

That is exactly what they should do.

Progress At Bogota

WHILE it would be premature to attempt to evaluate the results of the Bogota conference, the information available—which is far from complete—indicates it marked definite progress toward a closer relationship among the nations of the Americas.

Even the bloody and destructive rioting which occurred in the Colombian capital during the sessions may serve a constructive purpose. The available evidence seems conclusive that the outbreaks were communist inspired. If they further awaken the American nations to the red danger, and cause them to strengthen safeguards against it, then communism will have lost rather than gained by the disturbances in its struggle to dominate the western world.

It is idle to pretend the conference has solved all the problems of the hemisphere. Frictions between and among several of the American nations continue. Suspicion of and resentment toward the United States probably is as strong as ever in many of the Latin-American nations. It would be pointless to gloss over their disappointment because of their failure to obtain assurances of an out-pouring of U. S. "relief" for them. Some of those nations are not happy over the conference results.

But 21 of the American nations did join in an agreement which promises closer unity of action in the event of a common emergency. Even though they may not see eye to eye about everything, they have strengthened the organization which provides the opportunity to iron out the disagreements arising in the Western Hemisphere.

Much still remains to be done to guarantee the united American front which is desirable. But the Bogota meeting apparently marked further progress toward the sort of solidarity which eventually may be obtained. The conference appears to have been justified by its results.

Do something out of the ordinary and the news reel photographers will beat a path to your door.

Constant Threat

As Long As I Live

XXVIII

SHE thought it was their kindness and consideration she resented most of all. She hated their pleasant smiles and their worried eyes; hated knowing that their smiles were forced for her reassurance and the worry caused by what they considered to be her strange, inexplicable behavior.

She tried to fight it out with herself.

She went over and over it, back and forth, for and against, but it wasn't any good. She didn't get anywhere.

Searching her feelings as honestly as she was able, however, she admitted that it was Rush who had hurt her most. Surely it couldn't be wrong of her to think that Rush, at least, should have believed her.

And while Rush might have placed no credence in her story of the bridge or the wax, surely he should have stopped swice to think about the clock! He knew she permitted no one alse to touch it. Rush was her husband and it didn't make sense that he should prefer to believe Ann mentally ill rather than believe any attempts were being made upon her life.

That was when she began suspecting him. That was when she began to wonder if it was Rush who wanted her to die....

A LITTLE whimper escaped her and Gay, who had been sitting quietly in a chair by the window, came hurrying over to the bed where Ann was lying.

"What is it, Ann?" she said. "Is there anything I can do?"

Gay was her friend. Gay was on her side. She'd proved that on the porch. Gay had ignored the protest in Rush's voice and said, "Perhaps we should call this man in Wyoming."

She must have whimpered again because Gay knelt beside the bed, took Ann's hand in her own.

"Ann —" Her voice was choked with urgency— "Ann, you've got to get hold of yourself. Don't you see, everything you say sounds so —well, so fantastic—to men? Men are realistic—they may pretend not to be but they are. And you don't stand a chance of convincing them unless—"

"What should I do?" Ann whispered and she clutched Gay's cool fingers even tighter. "I can't stand it, Gay. It's—it's going to drive me out of my mind! That's—" She cast a furtive look about her, wet her lips and said—"that's what's so awful, Gay. That's what someone is trying to do! These—these accidents . . ." She raised herself on the pillow, looked straight into Gay's young frightened eyes. "I haven't been sure whether they were supposed to actually kill me or whether they were supposed to—"

And Gay said simply, "We'll find out, Ann. I promise you, we'll find out."

The heady promise of belief from someone — someone who should have been Rush!—the trust she put in Gay's promise to find out the truth, only added to the danger, but she did not stop to think of that. She and Gay plotted during those minutes they were alone, before the others joined them.

And, comforted by Gay's belief, she was better able to face them as they came to her room.

THEY'D agreed, Gay and Ann, that she must make every effort to appear normal, rational; she must pretend that the things she had said to Sheriff Blanding had been part of a mental aberration, that now she'd rested and felt better and wanted to be the first to admit how ridiculous her charges must have sounded. That was the safe way to put the murderer off his guard if only for a little while. And when Sheriff Blanding came again to Tophill, Ann even went so far as to retract the accusations she'd made that afternoon on the porch.

"Well, I'm sure real glad to know you're feeling better," Sam Blanding told her. "Makes me uneasy to go through something like that other afternoon—never know just what to do about something like that."

But he had done one thing. Sam Blanding had tried to get in touch with Mr. J. M. Stark in Cheyenne.

"He was out of town," the sheriff said. "Gone up into the mountains for the week-end. I left word for him to get in touch with me when he gets back." He looked at Rush again. "But of course if Mrs. Bancroft's feeling better I could just as easy cancel the call. . . ."

Ann held her breath and Enos was the one who said so casually, "I don't think I'd cancel it, Sheriff. We might as well find out once and for all if there's any truth to his claim," and Rush nodded in agreement and then their eyes all met again in that peculiar way so that Ann wasn't a bit sure they weren't all just pretending to be trying to talk with Mr. Stark, simply trying to reassure her so she wouldn't worry any more.

She said as much to Gay when they were alone and Gay said, slowly, "I trust Sam Blanding, Ann. He's an innocent soul and I don't think he'd ever be a party to anything out of the way." She darted a quick glance at Ann and said, "Do you mean— Oh, Ann, no! Not Rush!"

And Ann closed her eyes and said wearily, "Gay, I don't know."

Gay said, "Well, of course we could call him ourselves, Ann. Mr. Stark. We can find out for ourselves if he's in the mountains."

All of it so dangerous and neither of them seeing it. Ann forgetting that the murderer so far had played a cool lone hand, that he was unlikely to let his plans go astray simply because two girls were frightened and suspicious.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

"THE Miracle called America!" is the heading of a full-page advertisement which recently appeared in a number of newspapers, and the message of which goes far beyond the advertiser's basic intent—to sell his goods.

BRANDEIS

The subhead of the advertisement said, "Where Princes with Coaches are Commonplace." The picture showed a young fellow standing beside a shining automobile beckoning a young lady, dressed as Cinderella at the ball, to enter.

Cinderella of the ad is coming down the steps of a workingman's cottage. Her father in shirtsleeves is sitting on the porch, smoking his pipe. The mother, in house dress and kitchen apron, is standing, smiling, in the doorway.

But now read the text:

"Think for a moment about the Cinderella story.

"In other lands a daydream of impoverished millions, a wishful way to span the great gulf between Prince and Pauper.

"But in America today only a fairy tale, a fantasy of the past, without personal significance.

"No wonder.

"For here, for the first time in history, every girl has a reasonable expectation that a Detroit Coach-and-Eight will some stand at her door.

"Just one aspect of the second American Revolution of the new 'economic democracy' which now makes America unique among the nations of the world.

But then the advertise- becomes commercial. It attributes all this dreams-come-true miracle to "distribution vision"—held by countless merchants, salesmen, advertising men.

The "Miracle called America" is much more than that.

True, there is much selling, much advertising, much distribution in this country.

But none of that would do a bit of good if Americans were not, above all able and willing to buy all those wonderful things that are part and parcel of almost everyone's life here in America, but that to untold millions in other lands are but fairy tales and dreams and fantasies.

I HAVE never been able to understand why Communism has made any headway in this country.

Go into the average American Communist's home.

You'll find a radio, an electric refrigerator, a vacuum cleaner, a washing machine, oil heat—yes, and that "Detroit Coach-and-Eight" in his garage.

Life in America is almost like a fairy-tale.

Every American girl is a potential Cinderella and every American boy is a potential Prince Charming.

And yet we grumble and complain, and when Prince Charming with his "Detroit Coach-and Eight" arrives we berate him because it isn't Coach-and-Twelve.

Are we tired of fairy tales with happy endings?

TACTICS UNDER FIRE

Utility Men Shocked

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The most flabbergasted group of men around Washington these days are the owners, managers and, large stockholders of the nation's private utilities.

Under especially heavy fire for their open and avowed opposition to extension of T.V.A.'s facilities, they cannot understand why they are pilloried so violently by 'liberals" and public power enthusiasts for having complied with New Deal demands that they strip the secrecy from their anti-T.V.A. operations.

TUCKER

Their predicament is almost comic. They now confess that they sinned grievously against the American public in the "good old days" of holding companies, of stockjogging in their securities and of the Insulls and the Hopsons. They admit begrudgingly that the Roosevelt-inspired war on them had some justification, although they naturally insist that he carried the conflict too far whem he established competing generating and distributing systems through the lavish use of federal funds and tax-free allowances.

Next to the well-fed members of well-stocked clubs" and Wall Street financiers, they felt the lash of F.D.R.'s eloquent tongue and legislative leadership more severely than other private coterie of industrialists in the nation. They were investigated and legislated against for almost two decades. They were "dog-housed" for that period, to use their own description of their plight. The more frank spokesmen concede that they deserved it.

FAVORABLE: Now, detecting a more favorable climate since more conservative Republicans got control of Capitol Hill, they have paraded and pranced out of their involuntary exile. They figure that they have suffered sufficiently for their sins, paid proper penance and deserve better treatment from the customers.

In view of the reception they have received from hostile and unforgiving columnists, commentators and Congressmen, they wonder whether, like the groundhog, they ever should have emerged from the darkness of F.D.R.'s doghouse into the 1948 political sunlight.

ORGANIZED: The first sign of the utilitarians' reawakening came when they organized the National Association of Electric Companies, and opened an elaborate set of offices in the same Connecticut Avenue building that houses the Democratic National Committee, erstwhile Trust Buster Thurman Arnold and former Price Administrator Paul Porter.

Purcell Smith, a Midwest operator, was engaged as head at $65,000 a year and Stephen Walter, a veteran public relations expert, at $50,000. They registered as lobbyists. They appeared publicly before Congresional committees and federal agencies dealing with their problems.

They admitted that they sought to combat undue extension of public power through creation of six or seven regional T.V.A.'s. They have also directed their fight against what they regard as too generous appropriations for activities—reclamation, irrigation—that usually manage to enter into the field of power generation and transmission.

PRIVATE: Only a few weeks ago, the private power interests of the Delta—Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi—inspired formation of a private organization to develop that area's potentialities.

Although denying that they contemplated a "private T.V.A.," the proposed pooling of industrial, agricultural, shipping and hydro-electric facilities closely resembles the Tennessee setup.

But, amidst ballyhoo and barbecues, they signed their compact on a float on the bank of the Mississippi river. They were so unashamed that they invited newspaper correspondents, financial writers, magazine men and photographers from New York and Washington to witness and report the proceedings. Governors and politicians dared to attend.

AFRAID: When it was suggested that they were "putting their neck out," they replied in injured tones:

"Why shouldn't we? We've been in the doghouse long enough! We have cleaned up or been cleaned up by Washington! We have nothing to be ashamed of!"

The point is that, at Washington and elsewhere, the utilities have been afraid to step out until recently. They lobbied and fought for survival, or so it seemed to them, behind closed doors of state legislatures and Congress. Their agents rarely put their names on their office doors or labelled themselves as "public relations consultants." They hardly dared to appear openly on Capitol Hill.

LICKED: The immediate casus belli between the ancient feudists around the Capital is President Truman's proposal for a $4,000,000 appropriation to construct a $54,000,000 steam plant as a T.V.A. auxiliary generator at New Johnsonville, Tenn. Ordinary industrial demands and the prospect of a war are the reasons behind the White House request.

The utilities admittedly oppose the suggestion as a precedent that might mean the government's entrance into nationwide fields of public power. Whereas T.V.A. was supposed to provide for flood control, navigation, water and land conservation, with power generation as a secondary and overflow activity, they maintain that this new scheme depicts T.V.A. as an out-and-out water project. They figure that they are licked if it is approved by Congress.

EMBEDDED: But proponents point out that T.V.A. is now a going concern. It supplies electricity to 1,800 industries, including such essential ones as Alcoa, Reynolds Metal, Monsanto Chemical. It has 800,000 customers as against only 350 in the valley in pre-T.V.A. days. It provides 15,000,000,000 kilowatt hours annually as against 1,500,000,000 in the old days. More than one out of two farms are electrified whereas only one in twenty-eight had such facilities, 15 years ago.

It looks as if the utility boys had slept too long in their "dog-house." The Republican Congress may heed their pleas, but T.V.A. has become so deeply embedded in the valley's economy that it may prove difficult to uproot it or prevent its expansion. Ditto Bonneville, Boulder Dam, Grand Coulee and similar public power projects.

A wolf used to howl. Nowadays he whistles.

A police chief says there are 12 types of drunks. But sometimes we think we have seen all twelve in one.

The depression was that period when a fellow didn't worry about the high cost of living but how he was going to live.

We don't see any difference between spending money and the other kind, as we spend all we get our hands on.

SHOWDOWN SEEN IN SENATE

Utility Regulation Facing Test

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Important decisions are in the making in the Senate branch of your Congress affecting federal policy in regulating utilities, electric and natural gas, which in the end also will affect the consumer.

Natural gas is involved directly in the Rizley-Moore bill, already passed by the House, which would weaken and restrict the authority of the Federal Power Commission in fixing pipe-line rates and otherwise regulating the natural gas industry. This authority was imposed by Congress ten years ago in the 1938 Natural Gas act.

STOKES

Enactment of this proposed law would mean higher prices for the natural gas consumer and the further enrichment, at his expense, of a few big companies that control natural gas. An FPC study estimated that rate increases made possible by this bill would yield some $56,000,000 more yearly to eleven of the biggest gas pipeline companies. That would come out of the consumer's pocketbook and for no sound reason in economics or justice. For profits of the natural gas companies already are quite handsome.

Defeat Is Seen

The Senate Interstate commerce committee is scheduled to vote this week on the Rizley-Moore bill which has been considered since its passage by the House by a subcommittee headed by Senator E. H. Moore (R-Okla.), its Senate sponsor. While the subcommittee voted two to one for the measure, there are good prospects that the measure will be defeated by the full committee of thirteen members. Last session the committee beat the bill by a 6 to 5 vote, with two members not voting.

For what looks like defeat by an even larger margin this time, the consumer probably owes most thanks to the fact that this is a national election year. Republicans, who control the Congress and have supplied all the votes in the committee for the bill, are fearful that its passage now, on the eve of election, would give Democrats a good campaign issue. For President Truman would veto it and this would give him an opportunity to tell the public about this bonanza for the natural gas industry.

There is another issue also coming before the Senate Interstate commerce committee this week that affects basic utility regulatory policy, and is an outgrowth of the natural gas controversy. This has to do with filling a vacancy on the five-man Federal Power commission. A bit of past history is required.

Last session President Truman nominated Burton N. Behling, special assistant to the commission and chief of its natural gas investigation for this vacancy. The nomination was left pending at the end of the session and the President re-submitted it again this session.

Meanwhile, when the Rizley-Moore bill came before Senator Moore's subcommittee, two members of FPC proposed amendments of their own to the Natural Gas act, though previously the commission had approved it as it stands. They were Nelson Lee Smith, chairman, and Harrington Wimberly. Mr. Behling, appearing before the subcommittee to endorse these amendments, said their general effect was about the same as the Rizley-Moore bill. Two other FPC members strenuously opposed the amendments—Leland Olds and Claude N. Draper—thus revealing a split in the regulatory agency.

New Official Nominated

All of this demonstrated very clearly that if Mr. Behling went on the commission it would then divide three-to-two for changes in the basic law which, it was suggested, could be accomplished by the commission, itself, through administrative rulings. This revelation so aroused advocates of effective natural gas regulation that they protested to President Truman and he withdrew the Behling nomination.

To replace it, he submitted recently the name of Thomas C. Buchanan, a lawyer of Beaver, Pa., recognized as a staunch champion of regulation from his ten-year record on the Pennsylvania public utilities commission. In that capacity he participated in many important issues and took part in joint proceedings of the Pennsylvania commission and FPC in the famous Associated Gas and Electric Company case. His utility regulation experience has been broad.

His nomination, which must be confirmed by the Senate, will be the subject of public hearings by the Interstate Commerce committee beginning late this week. As yet the utilities have not indicated what attitude they will take, or whether we may see a major fight in the Senate.

The issue is of considerable long-range interest as regards to federal policy. When he nominated Mr. Buchanan the President also submitted the renomination of Mr. Wimberly, whose term expires in June, and who has stood for a firm policy on electric utility regulation despite his advocacy of changes in the Natural Gas act.

House Committee Takes Action To Obtain Data On Scientist

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 4 — A House committee shaped today another congressional rebuke for President Truman by approving legislation directing the administration to hand over confidential data on atomic scientist Edward U. Condon.

A resolution compelling cabinet officers and the heads of other government agencies to furnish such information to congressional committees upon request was cleared to the floor by the House Rules group.

Early lower chamber action on the legislation is expected and Speaker Martin has predicted its approval by an overwhelming majority.

Warning Given Press

Sponsor of the resolution was Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) who emphasized that confidential information would be for the use of Congress only and that there would be penalties for the unauthorized disclosure of such data.

Hoffman stated that the ban on revealing security information obtained by Congress through the resolution would apply to reporters. Hoffman said:

"If any member of the press wants to snoop around and publish something that is detrimental to the welfare of the country, there is no reason why he should not be punished."

The resolution was an answer to the refusal last month of the Commerce department, acting under Mr. Truman's orders, to give the House Un-American Activities committee data from the FBI files on Condon's loyalty.

Seek Letter From FBI

Committeemen have requested specifically that they be allowed to examine a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover regarding the loyalty of Condon, head of the United States Bureau of Standards.

Condon has been accused by an Un-American Activities subcommittee of being "one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

The noted scientist has vehemently denied the subcommittee charge that he associated with Russian agents and other questionable individuals and has requested a public hearing.

Hoffman's resolution, as approved by the Rules committee provides that a congressional committee by a majority vote may make a request, countersigned by the presiding officer of the Senate or House, for confidential executive department data.

The committee which obtains the information must decide by majority vote what part of the information, if any, shall be made public.

Disclosure of restricted information by committee members, employes or "any other individual" would be a misdemeanor punishable by $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

Hoffman's threatened penalties for reporters covering Capitol Hill encountered opposition from Rep. Brown (R-Ohio), a newspaper publisher. Brown served notice that he would offer an amendment safeguarding newsmen from the penalties.

Brown added that another amendment probably would be offered on the House floor. This amendment, sponsored by Rep. Herter (R-Mass.) would bar removal of records by government officials when they leave office.

Truman Okays Bill To Hike Trainee Ceilings

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — President Truman signed today legislation raising "ceilings" for on-the-job trainees under the GI bill.

The measure will have the effect of boosting monthly subsistence allowance checks for many of the 479,000 veterans in job-training establishments.

Ceilings have been $175 and $200 for a veteran with no dependents and one or more dependents, respectively.

The new ceilings are $210 (with no dependents), $275 (with one) and $290 (with two or more).

This means a single veteran training on the job may in most cases earn up to $145 a month and still draw the full $65, government-paid subsistence allowance. (Heretofore the allowance was cut back as soon as earnings passed $110 a month.)

Veterans with dependents may earn correspondingly more in wages before their $90 allowance is reduced.

Gold Adventure In Dakota Is Story Of Poor Man, Business

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LEAD, S. D. — The story of gold in the Black Hills — and it is the same story everywhere — is summed up in the life of one little man and one giant corporation.

The man was — past tense — "Potato Creek Johnny" Perrett, a bewhiskered old prospector who spent his lifetime searching for gold in chunks and did manage to find the biggest nugget ever turned up in these "magic mountains."

The corporation is — present tense — the Homestake Mining company, which has been looking for gold in specks here since 1877.

The specks paid off better than the nuggets. Potato Creek Johnny lived out his life in hopeful poverty. The Homestake became the largest gold mine in the Western hemisphere. It is still producing.

Business Adventure Began

Potato Creek Johnny was typical of earlier adventures who flocked here by the thousands after the electric news swept America in 1874: "Gold has been found in the Black Hills."

The whitemen paid no heed to government warnings to keep out of the area, which belonged to the Sioux Indians. Mining towns rose, flourished and died in a period of months. Men became wealthy overnight.

As the gold dwindled in the creek beds, the boom died and the adventurers moved on or settled down to workaday jobs.

Then began the period of business adventure in gold mining. A syndicate from San Francisco in 1876 purchased two claims totaling ten acres and began a systematic and scientific mining gamble on the Homestake site.

It took big money, but the syndicate had it.

But a few of the oldtime prospectors stayed on. With a burro for company and a pick, shovel and pan for tools they ranged the hills and creekbeds, caught by a fever that never died — the hope of the "big find," the new El Dorado that always was around the next bend.

Company Not Sorry

The nuggets were few, the specks many. The Homestake sank new shafts, hired more men, installed huge machinery, built its own sawmill and power plant, expanded to 6,000 acres.

As the years bent him down, old Potato Creek Johnny became a Black Hills symbol, a faded picturesque character, familiar to thousands of tourists. A mild, pleasant man less than five feet tall, he had sincerity and pride. Sometimes his friends were hard put to figure a way to get him to take the food he needed.

Johnny died in 1943, and the people of Deadwood buried him in a hillside grave by "Wild Bill" Hickok. The grave overlooks the vast Homestake mine, which provides a livelihood, directly or indirectly, for 30,000 people. It is owned by 13,000 investors, few of whom ever saw raw gold.

The specks taken out of the Homestake amount to more than $480,000,000. The biggest nugget Potato Creek Johnny ever found was worth $139.25.

But he never had any regrets. Neither does the Homestake Mining Co., inc.

SURVEY IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)— The reclamation bill will survey the south Canadian river basin in the Texas Panhandle to decide on water conservation measures, Rep. Worley (D-Tex.) disclosed today. Worley said Secretary of the Interior Krug promised to have reclamation engineers make the survey soon.

Labor Act Panel Slates Hearings

WASHINGTON, May 4. (AP) — With a national railroad strike threatening, congressional hearings aimed at tightening the Taft-Hartley act were set today for May 24.

They were called by Senator Ball (R-Minn), chairman of the "watchdog" committee set up by the Senate and House to check the operations of the 1947 labor law.

That joint committee will take the testimony.

Asks Specific Suggestions

Perhaps significantly, Ball did not question whether the law should be changed to meet the threats of work stoppages in the basic strike-menaced industries. His statement on the matter asked only how the law's provisions should be strengthened.

Ball said the committee isn't interested in broad, general statements for or against the law, but "specific suggestions, preferably related to factural experience, for its improvement."

Ball Lists Problems

He mentioned the railroad strike, set to begin a week from today, in what looked like a broad hint that the committee will discuss bringing rail workers under the Taft-Hartley law. A separate law, the Railroad Labor act, now covers their disputes.

Ball listed several specific problems he expects the committee to take up.

Among these was the provision in the present law requiring an authorization election before a union shop contract. Ball said the National Labor Relations board is "flooded" with petitions for such elections. He questioned whether all forms of compulsory union membership should be eliminated, or whether the requirement for authorization elections should be abolished.

War Bride Prepares To Leave Prison For Journey To Ireland

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 4. (INS)—Irish war bride Bridget Waters left prison today for the first time in 18 months—and like any other woman went shopping in anticipation of her trip to Ireland.

Accompanied by Mrs. Richard Sheehy, the warden's wife, the handsome girl slowly made the rounds of clothing stores outfitting herself and her three-year-old child.

She also visited an appliance store to order household necessities that are scarce abroad.

Expects To Be Free Soon

The red-haired widow expects to be free within a week or 10 days. She is undecided, however, where she will settle following her re-entry into Ireland. She told the warden's wife:

"I don't know whether it will be Ireland or England when I get back. The only thing I know how to do is nursing and as far as I know I'll apply for a nursing position."

In an unexpected action last night, the Nevada State Parole board voted to free Mrs. Waters only if she is deported immediately to Ireland.

Sentenced For Slaying Husband

The state board originally planned to vote on her parole after an absent member had recovered from an operation.

The 27-year-old war bride was originally sentenced to one to five years for manslaughter for the killing of her estranged husband, Frank Waters, jr.

She claimed during the trial that her small pistol unexpectedly went off as Waters attempted to take her baby away from her. He was instantly killed.

Both the district attorney of Clark county and trial Judge A. S. Henderson, who conducted the Waters trial, opposed her request for parole.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

Federal Anti-Trust Suit Threat Is Held Over Aluminum Company

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

PITTSBURGH, May 4.—Having been greatly reduced in relative size in the industry by the policy of the federal government in disposing of war assets, the pace setting Aluminum Company of America recently sought to get out from under the pending anti-trust decree.

The company took the position that the court's objectives had been attained now that Alcoa has 50 per cent of the aluminum ingot capacity of the country, Reynolds 30 per cent and Kaiser 20 per cent, but the Department of Justice evidently wanted to continue to hold the sword of Damocles over the company. Alcoa management says that when the role of scrap and foreign aluminum are given consideration, Alcoa's share of the total volume is nearer 30 per cent than 50 per cent.

The practical effect of freezing uncertainty as to the company's legal status now and hereafter is to make the management somewhat less venturesome in expanding. And the management, believing in the future of the country and the product, wants to continue to develop. Even now in this twilight legal zone, it has an immense building program, but, as I understand it, this is largely to replace obsolescence and wear and tear.

For nearly two hours, I chatted with Roy A. Hunt, president of Alcoa, and his various department heads. While the legal vagaries may be a deterrent to the fullest expression of managerial venturesomeness, I saw evidence of latent initiative and enterprise.

For one thing, Alcoa is using its new rolling mill plant for aluminum sheet and administration building at Davenport, Iowa, as an immense proving ground of the place of aluminum in the construction industry. What is being demonstrated there in the competition of materials and methods of construction constitutes nothing less than a technological revolution. Even now, the building industry is the biggest single consumer of the metal.

While Alcoa has done much of the research and planning, it does not intend to go into the business of making end products for construction, but aims merely to inspire its customers, who buy aluminum from it, as to the possibilities.

Such activity is necessarily directed toward the future, as in the current market aluminum is oversold for present uses. As a matter of fact, the Alcoa management is still resisting the use of aluminum as a temporary substitute for other metals in scarce supply. It is trying to give market priority to permanent uses of the light metal. If the dream of the pioneering minds in the company are to be fulfilled, something more than the present $150,000,000 building program in the company is needed.

The manner in which the federal government designed the type of competitive situation it wanted in aluminum and in alumina has been extraordinary. In order to trim down the relative size of Alcoa, the government sold defense plants to Alcoa's two principal competitors. Such plants were designed by Alcoa engineers and represented the company's know-how, and were manned by personnel selected by Alcoa management. On top of this, Alcoa also agreed to license the competitors to use Alcoa patents.

Without regard to factual data, Alcoa has traditionaly been held up by critics of the enterprise system as a symbol of "monopoly." In this connection, Alcoa's historical role in trying to push aluminum competitively through keeping the price down is evidenced by the anomaly in which scrap, or secondary, aluminum currently commands a price premium over the virgin metal.

Future expansion of the industry is contin_ent not merely on legalistic considerations, but also on provision of additional power facilities. Power shortages in various parts of the country have been setting a ceiling on aluminum production. It has been reported that Alcoa management has been exploring the supplementing of hydro power with power generated from natural gas in the southwest. It appears that a decision is near, and may soon be announced.

There is a growing feeling that private investment in hydro sites is being discouraged by federal power policy. This is especially true as the superior sites have already been exploited. As for other sites, the investment cost is heightened, and the federal policy of recapturing such investments in a maximum of 50 years makes venture capital hesitant.

Alcoa's zest for growth and development, in spite of legal hurdles, was thus summed up by Hunt. "The management believes the future of aluminum is even more promising than it has ever been."

Marshall Attorney Elected Chairman Of Safety Board

VERNON, May 4. (AP)— The board of directors of the Public Safety commission of Texas, at a special meeting in Vernon today, elected George Prendergast, Marshall attorney, to the board chairmanship.

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public safety, said that with the meeting here the four member board is initiating a new policy o' ting in various parts of Texas instead of in Austin as it did formerly.

The two other members of the board are J. Price Maddox, rancher of Colorado City, and H. Hoxie Thompson, a Trinity lunberman.

Central Baptist Revival Will Close With Baptismal Service

A ten-day revival meeting at the Central Baptist church, 1311 Eighteenth, is to close with a baptismal service following tonight's preaching service, it was announced yesterday by Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor.

Rev. T. Sherron Jackson, pastor of East Side Baptist church at Little Rock, has been preaching during the revival. He is to speak at the morning service today on "Preaching Christ," and tonight his subject is "Heaven's Call."

The United States uses about half the timber harvested in the world.

STOCKS HOLD GROUND
NEW YORK, May 4. (AP)—Stocks continued to make headway on a selective basis today although more insistent profit cashing chilled many market leaders.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 67.7. It was the broadest market since the record session of April 23. Of 1,070 issues appearing, 444 rose, 381 fell and 245 were all even.

Central Railroad of N. Y. hit another new 1948 high and ended up 4¼ points at 29½. Major fractions were retained by American Woolen at 51; U. S. Steel 76⅝, Great Northern Railway 47¾, Atlantic Coast line 58¼, Oliver Corp. 30⅝, Du Pont 175½ and Allied Chemical 188.

Down 1 to around 2 points were Twentieth Century-Fox at 21¾, Loew's 17⅛, Paramount Pictures 23¼, Warner Bros. 11¼, Mission Corp. 62½ and Standard Oil (NJ) 78¼.

Bonds were narrow.

Ahead in the curb were Thor Corp., Brown Rubber, Fairchild Engine and Gray Mfg. Losers were Cities Service, International Petroleum, Pantepec and Creole Petroleum. Turnover here was 320,000 shares versus 280,000 yesterday.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, May 4 (AP) — Grain futures were steady to firm in today's session at the board of trade. Prices advanced on mill buying, an increase threat of a rail strike, and a lower estimate of winter wheat production by private sources.

At the finish wheat was 1¼ to 2¼ cents higher than the previous close, May $2.46-46½. Corn was ½ to 2½ higher, May $2.21½-22. Oats were ½ lower to 2¾ higher, May $1.11⅝-½. Soybeans were unchanged to 7 cents higher, May $4.04.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm in fairly active dealings today. Replacement commission house buying, along with short covering and mill buying met only scale up offerings. Traders attributed the advance partly to technical reasons following Monday's sharp sell off.

Washington reports that southern congressmen will press for early house action on the $150,000,000 revolving fund covering cotton and other commodity purchases for Japan, stimulated some buying.

Liquidation in nearby May following the issuance of 44 additional May transferable notices was readily absorbed.

Late afternoon prices were $1.20 to $1.60 a bale higher than the previous close. May 37.85, July 36.47, Oct. 33.83.

are on the staff.

Several carriers who were working 23 years ago are on the staff now. They include, W. E. Caudle and B. B. Rogers, who are carriers, and W. B. Sides, who is a clerk. E. D. Farris and Elmer Potts were substitute carriers in 1925 and now are clerks. C. R. McLaurin and J. M. Norman, who were carriers in 1925, have those positions at present.

Airmail Has Increased

Airmail has increased considerably. There now are about 14 airline flights arriving and leaving the airport daily.

Discussing the frequent extensions of delivery service, Ernest Ohnemus, assistant superintendent of mails, said, "We are busy all the time making extensions." Number of postal routes has increased from eight in 1926 to 45 at present.

Approval has to be obtained from the postoffice department in Washington before even one house in a new territory not previously included in delivery service can be added to delivery routes. Before any new territory can be added for delivery service, 50 per cent of all lots on both sides of the street must be developed, and sidewalks, house numbers and mail receptacles must be available, according to requisites listed. Bus service also must be available for postmen to reach an area. Occasionally, an area will be developed several blocks away from a section already receiving delivery and cannot receive mail delivery because bus service is not available, Ohnemus said.

City Limits No Object

City limits do not determine mail service, he said. Sometimes residents will call into the office and report they are in the city limits and should have mail service. It is possible to live outside the city and obtain service and live in the city without mail delivery. Whether or not mail is delivered depends on whether the requisites listed have been met, thus enabling the postoffice to recommend delivery and await action from Washington.

Supervisors are constantly visiting newly developed areas, making surveys and obtaining information on whether the area meets requirements for delivery service. They do not wait for requests for delivery, when they know of areas which may meet the requirements.

Persons moving into a home in a newly developed section sometimes, put up a house number, give that as their address to receive mail, but fail to receive the mail because the area has not been approved for delivery service, said the postmaster. The mail, sometimes must be returned to the sender. Other residents without delivery service solve the problem by obtaining mail by general delivery, having it sent to business addresses, or having a box at the postoffice.

More Boxes Needed

Not in years, however, has a person been able to walk into the postoffice and obtain a box immediately—unless he happened to be fortunate enough to arrive just after a box had become available. There are far more requests for boxes than the number of boxes available.

Lubbock ranked 12th in Texas cities in postal receipts in February of this year. The postmaster described that month's receipts as about typical of usual rank of the cities in receipts.

In order, the 12 top cities in receipts were: Dallas, $716,181; Houston, $487,755; Fort Worth, $302,404; San Antonio, $278,843; Austin, $131,065; El Paso, $96,302; Waco, $64,677; Corpus Christi, $63,370; Amarillo, $57,784; Galveston, $50,886; Beaumont, $46,638; Lubbock, $45,655.

Receipts do not include cost of money orders or C. O. D. mailing.

Scientist Speaks

minds of a great majority of people today, he said, is whether or not a successful world peace organization is possible in the face of evident Russian opposition.

In answering this question, he quoted the words of Winston Churchill, former prime minister of Great Britain. The substance of the belief of Britain's wartime leader was: Should the peoples of the globe become divided into two worlds, if the part desiring peace remains more powerful and equally vigilant as the hostile faction, there is no reason why a third world war should happen.

Although Russia, through use of the veto, has rendered the present United Nations organization impotent, Millikan said, the attention of a vast majority of the people of the world has been focused on the problem of finding a way to world peace, even to circumventing the veto power if necessary.

Amendment of the present U. N. charter to minimize or abolish the veto power will require the great pressure of American public opinion, he said. Every citizen may do his part in creating this public opinion, thereby making possible delegated power to our U. N. representatives to bring about this end, he stated.

Earlier in the day, Dr. Millikan spoke before a combined representation of about 275 members of the Physics club, the Science club and Sigma XI, honorary research group, in Aggie Memorial auditorium at the college.

Speaking on "Release and Utilization of Atomic Energy," he presented a semi-technical discourse on the theory of atomic energy, its production in nature and by man, and the possibilities of using this energy as a source of power during peace times.

"Only where high costs are no factor can atomic energy be used to any great extent," he indicated. The energy stored by the sun in existing supplies of coal, gas and oil is sufficient for the use of man for at least the next 4,000 years, he said. The use of such fuels in the conventional manner as a source of energy is immeasureably more practical than the complicated, highly expensive methods of producing atomic energy, he said.

The greatest service which the atomic bomb has performed is in providing publicity for the need of a lasting peace in the world, he indicated. "Three hundred years of education could not have brought the realization that the atomic bomb brought—that global war must be abolished if man is to survive on the face of the earth."

Dr. Millikan will present the final lecture in the current series tonight in the Recreation hall at Texas Tech.

before anybody in very good grace if we are willing to accept federal subsidies for ourselves, but indicate we want them denied everybody else.

"I find myself in accord with the report of the housing committee—and I say to you if you delay this report, you're only kidding yourself."

The national executive committee also adopted resolutions backing legislation which would give the House Un-American Activities committee more power to combat subversive action, and supporting anew the UMT proposal.

U. S.-British Action Needed To Avert Continued Palestine War

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Arthur Creech Jones, British colonial secretary, has given the United Nations a vivid picture of what will happen in Palestine in a few days unless a truce can be obtained or a "freeze" enforced.

"War is lurking, ugly, savage and devouring, waiting to defeat the United Nations, to work havoc in the Middle East and bring infinite tragedy to us all," he says.

He advocates a neutral emergency agency to hold the governmental assets of Palestine, to further mediation and act as a central body for the United Nations until a settlement can be reached.

Asks Immediate Action

If something isn't done, he says, "I repeat that 15 May will see no central government in Palestine. And whatever is done by the Jews in declaring their state—or by the Arabs who have told us that they contemplate the creation of a provisional government to assume the responsibility over Palestine—administrative chaos and destruction of important assets will occur."

And then he adds in the same breath:

"Everything possible has been done to prevent this catastrophe."

I wonder.

The British feel they must get out of Palestine if they are to salvage any part of their position on the Middle East, with its strategic possibilities and its oil. But I wonder if some pique at the United States for its two-year-old partition stand isn't at least partly responsible for the British determination to carry out their withdrawal plans willy nilly.

Could Halt Bloodshed

But the British have just demonstrated in the Jerusalem and Jaffa areas that firmness, backed by troops, can stop the fighting. And stopping the fighting, not the permanent solution of the Palestine problem, is the issue of the moment. The Arab league shows no intention of sending its troops into Palestine as long as the British are there.

There is a precedent for British-American co-operation in a somewhat similar situation. When the British announced they would have to pull out of Greece they asked the U. S. to take over, which was done politically and economically, and, partially, militarily. But we asked the British to leave some troops, and they agreed.

If such Anglo-American co-operation could be worked out in Palestine, just to enforce order and keep governmental services running, negotiations might continue in an atmosphere which would lend at least some hope of agreement.

The Creech Jones proposal, leaving the Jews and Arabs practically free to continue their battle over the boundaries of the two areas they now occupy, will hardly do it. No Arab-Jew truce seems possible. It is force which is necessary, and which must be supplied unless his prediction of murderous chaos is to become a fact.

Progressive Party Hires Tulsa Hall But At Double Usual Rate

TULSA, Okla., May 4. (AP)—The new city administration today granted the Progressive party use of Convention hall here May 27 for a speech by Sen. Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, but it'll cost them double the usual $50 rental charge.

Mayor Doy Lundy, who took office this morning, said the fee should be increased to meet the city's expenses in policing the meeting.

Taylor, running mate of third party presidential candidate Henry A. Wallace, arrived in Birmingham, Ala., today to face disorderly conduct charges. He was arrested there Saturday night as he attempted to use the negro entrance to a mixed but segregated meeting he was to address.

The laundry and dry cleaning establishments of the government bring in about $13 million a year.

URANIUM CANNED

Atomic Problem Is Solved By British

LONDON, Wednesday, May 5 (AP) — British atomic scientists have solved the biggest problem holding up development of cheap atomic power for industry, the Daily Express reported today.

The newspapers said scientists have devised a safe means of getting uranium furnaces hot enough to deliver the super-heated steam needed to generate electricity. The Express said this was "an achievement not expected for years, even in America."

The Express science editor, Chapman Pincher, wrote that because of military applications details are secret. He gave this principle:

"Uranium rods that fuel an atom furnace have to be sealed in thin cans to prevent corrosion. Until now only aluminum has proved suitable for this canning process. But it disintegrates long before the furnace gets hot enough. British scientists working at the Didcot atom station have found means of canning uranium which entirely overcomes this difficulty."

Five Dead, 25 Hurt In Arizona Collision

CHANDLER, Ariz., May 4 (AP)—A collision between a loaded bus and a packed passenger car killed six persons and injured 25 others near here last night.

It was the worst traffic accident in Arizona in several years.

Five of the dead, all members of a Coolidge, Ariz., family, were occupants of a light sedan. The sixth was the bus driver.

The dead:

Colman R. Winner, 39, Phoenix, bus driver; Tivis Perry, 35, driver of the passenger car; Mrs. R. L. Carter, 45, sister-in-law of Perry; Mrs. Carter's three daughters, Ruth, 17; Helen, 12, and Sue Ann, 6.

Two other children of Mrs. Carter were pulled from the flaming wreckage. Donald, 10, suffered a crushed chest and was in critical condition. Carmen, 4, was less seriously hurt.

Of the 25 injured bus passengers treated at Williams Air force base, 18 were military personnel. Nine were kept in the hospital but none was believed in critical condition.

Lions Club Nominating Group Makes Report At Luncheon

Lions club members meeting for luncheon Tuesday noon at the Hilton hotel heard an announcement of a nominating committee for next year's officers, a ballot on increased dues for the weekly luncheon, and saw a Tech varsity show preview.

The Varsity show preview was introduced by George Ater. Performers were Miss Jackie Reese, the show's leading lady; Otis Green, who will take the male lead; Paul Green, his brother, accompanist; and Miss Maxine McCollum, dancer. The show is to be held at the high school auditorium next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

The nominating committee of nine, named by club President J. Wm. Davis, is composed of Raymond Burford as chairman, Harry Morris, Dr. Fred Harbaugh, Hurley Carpenter, Bob Harvey, Arnold Maas, Harry Urguett, Lewis Cooper, and Ed Smith.

Davis urged attendance by a large delegation at the district convention at Amarillo next week-end. It has been announced that K. L. Riggs, member of the club here, and deputy district governor, will be nominated as district governor.

Three new members were introduced. They were R. B. Lamberson, Ike White, and Jack Noyes. Dr. Doyle D. Jackson was program chairman. Invocation was by Paul Sherrod.
