Plainview assistant AD is new coach

Thirty-seven year old Dennis M. Tomlin, currently assistant athletic director and assistant varsity football coach at Plainview High School, was named the new head coach for Snyder High School Thursday.

Tomlin brings to the job some 15 years experience in public schools, the past eight as a member of the same varsity coaching staff under Plainview Head Coach Greg Sherwood.

He joined Sherwood first at the Panhandle school of Spearman, then moved with him in 1977 as part of the varsity staff at Plainview.

During this eight-year period, the football record for this varsity group equals a 64-19 win-loss tally.

The Spearman teams of 1976 and 1977 were district champs both years and finished the two seasons with a 19-3 record.

Upon moving to Plainview, the record for six football seasons has been 45-16 which includes four district championships.

An interview with new Coach Dennis Tomlin by Sports Editor Bill McClellan is included in the SDN Sports Page today.

These four were the first ever in the 75-year history of that school.

While at Plainview as assistant AD, athletic teams have won 12 district championships involving all sports. These include two girls basketball championships, two boys basketball championships and four combined district championships in track and tennis.

Tomlin's other coaching posts have included:

—1975-76: First assistant football coach, defensive coordinator at San Antonio Southwest ISD.

—1973-1975: Defensive secondary offensive coach, head track coach at Stephenville ISD.

—1970-1973: Varsity offensive and defensive line coach, head JV coach, JV boys basketball and head tennis coach at Quanah ISD.

—1969-70: First assistant football offensive and defensive line coach, head junior high coach at Claude ISD.

Among his professional honors, he was selected as a coach for the Texas High School Coaches North All-Stars in 1982. He has also been active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes throughout his career.

His degrees include a bachelor of science in social studies, earned at West Texas State University in 1969; and a masters of education degree in psychology earned at Texas Tech University in 1982.

His wife Margaret has nine years experience as an elementary math teacher. They have two daughters, Deedra, who will be a freshman next fall; and Shelly, who will enter the seventh grade in Snyder.

Lions slate district meet

Some 200 Lions Club members from District 2-T2, comprised of 27 West Texas counties, will be in Snyder Saturday and Sunday for the organization's mid-winter conference.

The Snyder Lions Club, headed by President Dennis Chisum, will host the two-day event. Also an official host is Snyder's C. A. McCown who serves as deputy district governor.

Heading the district delegation of Lions will be 2-T2 Governor Gerald Devault of Lubbock. Another special guest will be Don Buckalew of Conroe, a past-director of Lions International.

Most of the activities will center at the Scurry County Coliseum beginning with registration at 1 p.m. Saturday. From 2-5 p.m. Saturday will be a business session at the Scurry County Coliseum.

At 6:30 p.m. Saturday there will be a reception for Buckalew at the at the Snyder Country Club followed by a 7 p.m. dinner.

On Sunday, registration will continue at 8 a.m. at the Scurry County Coliseum, followed by a church service at 9 a.m. A second business session will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. At 11:30 a.m. Buckalew will be keynote speaker for the concluding luncheon.

Devault, a 1965 graduate of Texas Tech, is owner of Devault's Floral and Gift Shoppe in Lubbock. Buckalew served two years as an International Director, and has 26 years perfect attendance as a Lion. He is an automobile dealer and a director of the Allied Conroe Bank.

The conference will honor the Lions Eye Bank, and the bank's co-medical directors, Dr. David Lamberts and Dr. James

Teachers to gain excused leave

A compromise plan regarding excused teacher absences for "compassionate" reasons was adopted Thursday by the Snyder school board.

The change was prompted by a newly adopted state policy which in effect offered something already promised local teachers — five excused days absent for such "compassionate" reasons as illness or death within their immediate family.

The state has now decreed that Texas teachers may use five days sick leave granted yearly by the state for such reasons. A group of Snyder teachers indicated that this was not necessarily a "plus" locally, however.

State sick leave days may be accrued from year to year. The five compassionate sick leave days offered as local policy may not.

The state's new decree, however, states that the state sick leave days must be used "first." In the case of Snyder teachers, this means if an illness in their family required their absence, they would have to first use their cumulative state sick leave days before being able to take benefit of the "compassionate" leave offered locally.

Under the plan adopted Thursday, Snyder teachers are now granted three additional "personal business" days during the year. This brings the total to five personal business days offered each school year without requiring the teacher to pay for a substitute. This is an excused absence which is not cumulative.

As outlined, if a teacher has used all state sick leave, these personal business days may be used for compassionate leave. This would be in addition to the five excused days for "compassionate

Coach policy outlining trips gains revision

Wording was changed Thursday in a new school policy which would have barred some Snyder coaches from attending coaching schools and clinics occurring during the school week.

A policy outlining excused absences for "professional purposes" was formulated by members of the Athletic Review Committee in an attempt to give junior high and high school principals a reference criteria when granting such requests.

Included in the policy as first written was a stipulation that assistant coaches (not to include varsity football assistant coaches) and junior high coaches could attend one coaching clinic "with no school days missed."

During discussion, it was pointed out this would prohibit assistant basketball and track coaches from attending the annual state tournaments or meets.

To amend this, this wording regarding school days missed was dropped by a unanimous board vote at Thursday's January meeting of the school board.

In other school business, trustees voted to:

—Grant a request submitted by SHS journalism teacher Jo Ann Cotton to extend a leave period for the remainder of the current school year.

—Grant a request submitted by two local teachers to enroll for six semester graduate hours this spring term. Making the requests were Roger Goodwin and Donna Farley.

—Grant a school administration plan which addresses fulfilling compliance requirements related to the district's bilingual program as outlined in a monitoring report recently completed by representatives of the Department of Special Populations, Texas Education Agency and the Office of Civil Rights.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "One of our problems may be that we have too many leaders for the followers available."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, has a friend who lives in Azle who drives about 100 miles to work and back each day. One recent Monday night the fellow fell asleep while watching the Dallas Cowboys football games.

When he awoke, the game was over, so he asked the wife if she knew the outcome.

"Dallas won, 97-84," she said.

"What in the world did I miss?" he exclaimed. Either she was mistaken about the score, he concluded, or else he'd missed the highest-scoring game on record.

But she'd heard the score correctly. Dallas had won, 97-84. The Dallas Mavericks.

Danny Hukel, in the Gatesville Messenger, offered some advice for those who make resolutions at the start of the new year.

"Don't try to change your whole life at once. Come up with specific, realistic goals."

For example, divide your resolutions into small, managable parts. Don't plan to lose 20 pounds, but resolve to lose a pound a week for 20 weeks.

Don't set goals over which you have no control. Instead of vowing to date more, resolve to get out more.

Don't just give up a bad habit, replace it with a good habit.

Sounds like good advice, but our roommate contends that doesn't mean replacing cheeseburgers with hamburgers.

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, says there are two great rules of life. One is general and the other is particular.

The first is that everyone can, in the end, get what he wants if he only tries. That is the general rule.

The particular rule is that every individual, more or less, is an exception to the general rule.

Pair facing felony check charges

Felony charges of forgery by passing worthless checks were filed against two suspects Thursday.

Arrested by investigators with the Scurry County sheriff's office were 24-year-old Greg Early and 26-year-old Cynthia Merritt, both of Big Spring and both former Snyder residents.

They were charged in connection with the passing of checks taken from the Sparkle City Pawn Shop where Early was previously employed.

Merritt was charged with one count of the offense and was released from custody Thursday after posting a $2,500 bond. Early remains in the Scurry County Jail in lieu of felony bonds totaling $9,000.

He is charged with two counts of forgery in Snyder and one count of the same offense in Big Spring. Bond for Early on all three of the felony counts has been set at $3,000 each. In addition to the felony charges, he is being held also in lieu of 15 $500 bonds set in Snyder and Big Spring in connection with 15 misdemeanor counts of issuing bad checks.

U.S. Marines unleashed rockets and mortar fire to repulse a heavy attack today by militiamen on their base in Beirut while U.S. special envoy Donald Rumsfeld, visiting Damascus, met for the first time with Syrian President Hafez Assad.

Union says strike averted

DENVER (AP) — The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union reached tentative contracts with Atlantic Richfield Co. and two other oil firms, averting a strike set for today, the union said.

The agreements, reached Thursday night, reportedly were modeled on one reached earlier this week between OCAW and Gulf Oil Corp. and raised to about 7,900 the number of oil industry workers under proposed contracts.

Rollover occurs Thursday

An Ira woman was admitted to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder Thursday afternoon for treatment of injuries sustained in a one-vehicle traffic accident east of Ira around 1 p.m.

June Strickland was taken to the local hospital by private vehicle. The 1982 Buick she was driving overturned while east bound on Farm Road 1606 about 3.5 miles east of Ira. Damage to the vehicle was extensive.

Strickland was listed in good condition at the hospital Friday morning recovering from multiple cuts and brusies suffered in the mishap.

SACROC appeal is heard

Oral arguments of appeal were offered Thursday related to the 132nd District Court lawsuit involving local lease holders and Chevron U.S.A.'s SACROC Unit.

The suit stems from SACROC's announced intent to cease providing surplus gas from residual gas lines to lease holders living adjacent to the SACROC field.

A decision regarding the appeal is still pending after Thursday's arguments in the 11th Court of Appeals in Eastland.

Hood's contract into '86

Following a request by Superintendent Bill J. Hood, school trustees Thursday waived the annual extension of his contract, which is now in force until June of 1986.

In a brief message addressed to the board, Hood noted, "the superintendent respectfully requests the board not extend the contract. There is sufficient time in the current contract to complete this superintendent's professional career."

At Thursday's meeting of the school board, Hood jokingly noted that administrators should be aware that he is "still the superintendent" until that time, however.

Reunification plan applauded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chinese Premier Zhao Ziyang, greeted by enthusiastic applause from members of the largest Chinese community in the United States, said reunification of Taiwan with the mainland would not mean a "swallowing up" of the island.

Experts said Zhao's detailed description Thursday night of the freedoms Taiwan would retain under reunification could mark a "welcome advance" in bringing the two sides together.

Zhao said Taiwan would not be taxed by Peking and could keep its own armed forces, maintain an independent judiciary and political system and have representation in Peking.

"It will not be a case of the mainland swallowing up Taiwan or vice versa," Zhao told more than 300 Chinese-Americans. "We have proposed that after reunification, Taiwan and the mainland shall be both part of the People's Republic of China, and Taiwan will become a special administrative region.

"This means that Taiwan will enjoy full autonomy and enjoy some exclusive powers that don't exist in other municipalities and autonomous regions" of China, said Zhao, delivering his remarks in Mandarin Chinese which was then translated into English.

Unlike the Autonomous Region of Tibet, which is still under strict Chinese control, Zhao said "the mainland will send no representatives to Taiwan, neither troops nor administrative personnel."

Zhao asked the guests, who were invited by the Chinese Consulate in San Francisco, for suggestions on how reunification could be achieved and urged them to promote it among Chinese leaders in Los Angeles and Seattle. The premier took no questions from the audience, but shook hands with several of those attending as he left the hall at the Fairmont Hotel.

Zhao continues his tour of San Francisco today with a ceremony at City Hall, where he will get the key to the city, and a tour of the Lawrence Hall of Science at the University of California-Berkeley.

He will be guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by Gov. George Deukmejian, then is scheduled to fly to New York on Saturday for a two-day visit before traveling to Canada.

Zhao received the four standing ovations when he talked of the "honor" Taiwan would retain.

Professor Tom Fingar, director of the U.S.-China Relations Program at Stanford University, said that while the speech was "not fundamentally different from previous statements," it represented a "welcome advance" because of the details of freedom Zhao mentioned.

Ling Chi Wang of the University of California's Asian studies department said the speech was "significant" and could lead Chinese-Americans to look more favorably on reunification.

"Chinatown has been divided far too long," Ling said. "This shift will bring the two factions closer together."

Says victim was reaching for weapon

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A ranch foreman, fatally shot by officers who mistook him for a fugitive, failed to heed lawmen's orders and appeared to be reaching for a weapon when he was killed, a police officer testified.

John Wayne Turner told jurors Thursday that he and three other Borger policemen chased a fleeing pickup onto the Four Sixes Ranch on Aug. 11, 1981.

Turner, a former rookie officer in Borger and now a policeman in the Dallas suburb of Balch Springs, said officers ordered James C. Grandstaff, a 31-year-old ranch foreman, out of the truck.

Grandstaff did not obey a single order officers gave him, but turned and walked toward the back of the truck, Turner said.

"He didn't say anything. He just started reaching toward his waistband," Turner said.

Turner said one of the officers yelled, "He's going for a weapon" and all of the policemen opened fire.

Turner's testimony came in federal court, where Grandstaff's widow, Sharon, has filed a $5 million suit against Borger police officers involved in the shooting; Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties; the city of Borger; and a Hutchinson County deputy.

Grandstaff's only words as he lay face down on a caliche roadway were to indicate he wasn't the man police were looking for, Turner said.

Turner testified, as another officer had Wednesday, that officers had mistaken Grandstaff for Oklahoma fugitive Lonnie Cox.

Blood pressure pills

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm taking blood pressure pills, including Inderal and Dyazide. I'm also about 100 pounds overweight. I'm trying to lose weight, but I'm having a hard time. Once you get on high blood pressure pills, do you ever get off?

DEAR READER — Yes, many people on blood pressure medicine eventually get off. A report from last year's scientific sessions of the American Heart Association made this point. As many as half the people who were taking high blood pressure pills did not need to continue after a period of time.

There are many reasons for this. One, of course, is that people change their lifestyle and lose weight. I'm glad to hear you're making an effort to eliminate that excess body fat, because that just may be the ticket to improving your overall health. It may lower your blood pressure enough that you might be able to discontinue the medicine.

I think the most important thing people can do for high blood pressure is to get rid of excess body fat. In my opinion, that's more important than controlling salt intake. A sensible exercise program that includes walking may help you lose weight.

However, I wouldn't want anyone to stop taking medicine without his doctor's permission. Let your doctor decide if you should continue your blood pressure medicine or not.

I'm sending you the Health Letter 15-8, Your Vital Blood Pressure, which will explain to you what is important and what is safe for you. Others who want this issue can send 75-cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read all the fine print on prepared foods because monosodium glutamate affects me. I feel as though I have tight armor around my body. The tenseness may last all day, then suddenly I'm "free" again. I'm sure other people are affected this way and don't realize what's causing their discomfort. Why do they put MSG in so many foods?

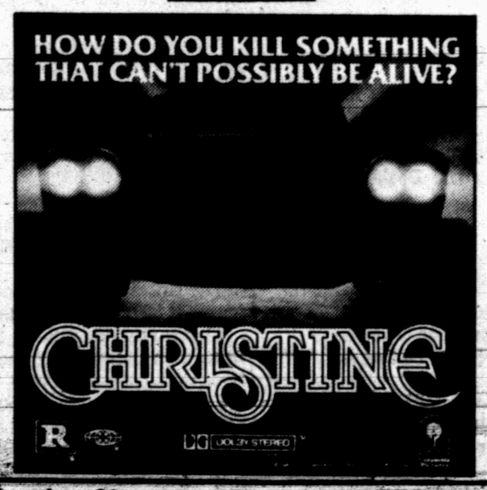

DEAR READER — If MSG affects you, it's wise to avoid it. But I must tell you it's simply a sodium (the same sodium in table salt) and glutamic acid, an amino acid found in many proteins that we eat. It's a perfectly natural product. It has been used by the masses of the world for centuries.

The fact that it affects you does not mean MSG is dangerous or should not be used, any more than tomatoes should be banned because some people have reactions to tomatoes.

Early studies casting doubt on the safety of MSG were not confirmed by later studies. But like any other food, there are some people who are intolerant to it. When that occurs, avoid it, although that is sometimes hard to do.

Jesse Jackson gambled and won.

In the words of the president, "You can't argue with success."

So the White House rolled out the red carpet.

It's easy to exaggerate the significance of any one grand gesture. Neither, however, should this one be minimized.

In the White House rose garden ceremony with the president praising Jackson and Jackson praising the president, other Democrat candidates had to be wondering what hit them!

Jesse Jackson, in less than 100 hours, had catapulted himself to enough political prominence...

Even demonstrated enough diplomatic savvy...

So that when the Democrats convene for their party's July Powwow in San Francisco, he ain't going to be their cloak room janitor!

No handout hushpuppies for Jesse Jackson; he's been to the mountain!

Jesse Jackson is riding high! He compares his dramatic mission to the illuminating experience of the Apostle Paul. He says, "Wonderful things happen on the road to Damascus."

Now his campaign, which could not even qualify for federal matching money, is raising more than enough. In one church the night he returned home from Syria he collected $25,000 in cash and pledges for more than that.

And he's running in all directions! He's attacking abortion, nuclear war and acid rain.

He's demanding more employment of plant workers in Cleveland; he's crusading against labor lockouts and in favor of voting rights enforcement and what he calls an evenhanded foreign policy in the Middle East.

Anybody familiar with Jesse's background knows he cannot presume to expertise on all those subjects — yet he does.

Longtime friends fear his vulnerability once he becomes a bona fide threat and those opposed begin to X-ray his record and the financial records of his PUSH organization.

But he can claim he has graduated from that and if anybody can persuade the public, he can.

His homefolks had wearied of his oratorical style; his alliteration became tiresome, distracting. But a new nationwide audience may be mesmerized by it.

And the Jesse Jackson candidacy is timely.

His fierce independence is a refreshing aberration in the politics of his party. Midst all those look-alike, act-alike, sound-alike custard pie candidates with their rhetoric a generation outdated, longshot Jesse Jackson, at least, is going to make us listen to him.

Blood stains in back seat

RICHMOND, Texas (AP) — Someone with bloody clothing stained the back seat of a car in which Frances Turner claimed she drove alone for help after seeing her husband assaulted in a roadside park, a Texas Ranger has testified.

Mrs. Turner, 40, is charged with capital murder in the 1982 slaying of her husband, Robert. Authorities contend she hired Michael Hunter, 25, to kill Turner.

Mrs. Turner contends she and her 46-year-old husband were driving from Bay City to Houston March 18, 1982, when she stopped to relieve herself in the park. She said as her husband got out of the car, he was attacked by a tall, fat, curly-haired man.

Dear Abby

'Disrupting' a Life Sometimes Saves It

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Recently a problem occurred that I hope never occurs again, but in case it does, I want to know how to handle it.

A friend who lives 300 miles away started writing letters containing threats of suicide. She is divorced with a 6-year-old daughter. I became concerned, so I telephoned her. At first she seemed normal, then she became hysterical and started shouting things that made no sense at all. Among other things she threatened to kill her daughter and then commit suicide. Then she hung up.

I was terribly worried, so I called her back. She went into a rage again, vowing to kill her child and herself. Then she hung up again.

I tried frantically to reach her mother, her brothers and her ex-husband, who live near her, but I could reach no one. Finally I called my neighbor over who urged me to notify the police in my friend's town, so that's what I did.

The police picked her up and she was subsequently hospitalized. She's better now, but she has never forgiven me for "disrupting her life."

My husband says I was wrong to have called the police, but what were my alternatives? I couldn't take a chance on her carrying out her threat. If I had called a minister or psychiatrist, she wouldn't have let them in. How would you have handled it?

GOOD INTENTIONS

DEAR GOOD: Just as you did. It's sometimes necessary to "disrupt" a life in order to save it. I hope your friend comes to realize that you acted in her best interests. In the meantime, don't judge her too harshly. She could still be far from well.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am the grandmother of a very smart, strong-willed, 20-month-old boy who resides in a state in which seat belts for children under 4 years old became mandatory right after the first of the year.

No matter how tightly this child is strapped into his seat belt, he can pull a "Houdini act" and wiggle out of it. I have seen him do it twice, even while he was wearing a bulky winter coat!

He refuses to ride in a car unless he's sitting on someone's lap, and he absolutely will not stay buckled in any kind of seat belt. Spanking, bribing and reasoning have not worked. I am worried sick that his mother will have an accident while trying to force that child to stay buckled up. Please help.

MISSOURI GRANDMOTHER

DEAR GRANDMOTHER: There is an obvious power struggle going on between your daughter and her young son—and the boy is winning. Advise her to consult her local safety council (motor vehicle division) for some helpful suggestions. And if this precocious 20-month-old is already calling the signals, your daughter should take a course in parenting, or the boy will have her jumping through hoops before he's 3.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I recently celebrated an "important" birthday and received many lovely cards.

A friend casually mentioned (on seeing the stack of cards) that I would be very tired by the time I had written thank-you notes for all those cards.

Abby, does a person have to write thank-you notes for cards?

WRITER'S CRAMP

DEAR CRAMP: No one "has to" acknowledge anything. But those with the best manners acknowledge everything—cards included.

Harley Bynum gives program...

Altrurian Daughters meet

The Altrurian Daughters Club met Jan. 11 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Betty Youngkin presiding. Hostesses were Dorothy Dennis and Frances Thompson. Nineteen members were present.

Virginia Clark introduced Harley Bynum, local photographer, who gave a slide presentation on Estes Park, Colo. The scenes were a result of several miles of backpacking through mountain trails.

After graduation from Snyder High School Bynum received a degree in business administration from the University of Alabama in 1964. He is currently self employed and a member of Texas Professional Photographers Association and Professional Photographers of America.

In the past year he has had cover photographs on Drill Bit Magazine published in Midland and Range Finder Magazine, a photography magazine published in Sana Monica, Calif. He has received 12 national awards from Professional Photographers of America.

Examples of his work are found in a book entitled "Wedding-Portrait Photography World" requested by Jack Curtis, well known artist in the photography world.

Bynum's current project is the cover photo for WTC's new catalogue which will feature part of the campus with a rainbow over the school. The idea was conceived by Dr. Ben Brock of Western Texas College.

The next club meeting date is Feb. 8.

Patchwork Club plans programs

The Patchwork Squares Extension Homemakers Club met Jan. 10 in the home of Orene Cummings with 14 members present.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Saundra Evans. Members volunteered for various committees for the year and Sheila Wallace was chosen as the club's nominee for delegate to the District TEHA meeting in Plainview in April. Payment of annual TEHA state dues was authorized.

The women selected programs and hostesses for 1984 and the new yearbooks were filled in. A craft or theme idea was chosen for each month and members knowlegeable in that craft are to bring examples and share their expertise with their fellow members. February's craft will be candlewicking.

Orene Cummings demonstrated the various steps involved in lap quilting. Catherine Johnson, a former member, showed the technique of cathedral window quilting. The ladies viewed examples of Seminole patchwork quilting and chicken scratch embroidery.

Three new members were welcomed by the club. They are Barbara Townsend, Janet Stribling, and Betty Wood. Extension agent, Kathy Roberts, and Ms. Johnson of LaCrosse, Wis., were guests.

The February meeting will be at the home of Frances Loyd and the program will be on MADD and court watching. Interested women are invited to call the president at 573-7371 for more information.

Opening lead ♠3

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

We have to thank North for today's article. He didn't bid three no-trump as he should have, so South wound up at five diamonds.

We also have to thank West. He elected to open his three of clubs instead of the superior lead of the deuce of spades.

East won the club lead with his jack. He knew that West would have led high from three, so that club lead had to be fourth best and South's 10 had to be a singleton. Still there seemed to be no harm in leading a second club, but East saw a danger.

Had he led a second club, declarer would ruff, cash his ace of ♥, play a heart to dummy's jack, ruff another club, lead to dummy's king of hearts, ruff the last club, cash his ace of hearts and throw East in with the diamond king. A complete strip play would have been completed and East would have had to lead from his king of spades up to dummy's A-Q.

All this seemed like a good possibility to East and he came up with an unusual play to prevent it. He led his 10 of hearts right up to dummy's K-J. He reasoned that if his partner held the queen, declarer had no way to go wrong.

That heart lead spoiled the strip play since declarer could not ruff the last club and was down one when the spade finesse lost.

Randall Gray new minister at 37th Street

Randall Gray, minister of the Hermleigh Church of Christ the past 2½ years, Wednesday was named minister of the 37th Street Church of Christ in Snyder.

Gray, 31, will replace Charlie Garner who has accepted a position with a congregation in Winter Garden, Fla. Garner served the Snyder congregation for four years and will be returning to the area where he was reared.

Gray will assume his duties at 37th Street following Garner's last day on Jan. 22.

Gray attended Western Texas College and in 1982 was named outstanding male student. He was a member of the Phi Theta Kappa national honor society and was editor of the WTC student newspaper.

Gray has completed work for his bachelor of science degree in Bible from Abilene Christian University. In addition Gray is a graduate of the White's Ferry Road School of Preaching in West Monroe, La., and the Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock.

The new minister began preaching nine years ago and has been in full-time work since 1977. He preached for the Green Hill Church in Mt. Pleasant while attending school. He worked with the Sheffield church for three years before moving to Hermleigh.

Gray was reared on the mission field. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Gray, were missionaries to South Africa for 14 years.

Gray and his wife, Rebecca, have two daughters. Jennifer is eight and Jessica is six.

Colonial Hill sets banquet

W. E. Thorn will be the speaker for the Praise Banquet of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church to be held at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Snyder High School cafeteria.

Thorn is an after dinner speaker who delivers over 400 talks each year. Five universities have bestowed doctrinal degrees on him. He has served as president of Dallas Baptist College, and as chaplain of Lion's International.

This banquet is a part of the church's annual stewardship program. The theme of this year's program is "Growth in Stewardship."

In Hidalgo County...

Unemployment may increase

McALLEN, Texas (AP) — Unemployment among farmworkers may cause the jobless rate in Hidalgo County to rise from 18.4 percent to 40 percent in the next two months as a result of the freeze which destroyed fruit and vegetable crops, officials say.

And citrus growers predict the high jobless rate may be a fact of Rio Grande Valley life for the next few years.

Thousands of laid off workers began lining up at 5 a.m. Thursday outside the Texas Employment Commission office in McAllen, hoping for special unemployment benefits that became available after President Reagan declared four Valley counties a disaster area Saturday.

Based on the number of people applying for benefits this week, Molly Ramirez, a district supervisor for unemployment insurance who is overseeing the federal program, predicted the high jobless rate.

"We've never had anything like this happen before, so it's hard to say. We had about 19 percent unemployment in McAllen before the freeze. That may now go as high as 40 percent.

"It's about the same in Weslaco and throughout Hidalgo County," she said.

Prior to the disaster declaration, only 50 percent of the unemployed farmworkers in Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy counties were eligible for unemployment benefits. Those previously employed by growers who did not contribute to the state unemployment fund did not qualify for aid.

"A lot of these people who are considered by the law to be self-employed are living day-to-day and hand-to-mouth," Ramirez said.

"Many of them are very desperate because they have been out of work and out of money for going on three weeks," she said.

Ramirez said additional staff was hired to process federal disaster unemployment claims. Offices began processing claims Monday in Weslaco, Edinburg, Rio Grande City and McAllen, and the average wait between filing a claim and receiving a check has been cut from three weeks to 10 days.

About 30,000 families are expected to apply for benefits, which will last about 14 weeks. Costs to the unemployment assistance program could run as high as $10 million, according to White House estimates.

John Kruse, economic analyst for the Texas Employment Commission, said some farmworkers may leave the Valley, take parttime jobs or drop out of the labor force for the next two months. So, future unemployment figures may not reflect actual number of people affected by freeze-related lay offs.

Ramirez said that in addition to farmworkers "we're seeing a lot of workers from related industries, like truckers who haul citrus, canners and nursery workers who are also applying."

The freeze of '83 is expected to affect unemployment figures in Hidalgo County for the next several years.

Growers have say it will take three to five years for damaged trees to get back to full production.

And it will be spring before an accurate estimate can be made of how many trees were destroyed and will never produce again.

Gonzalo Guerra, district director of the federal crop insurance corporation, said the citrus crop next year will be "next to nothing." So work for farm laborers will be scarce.

"I'm of the opinion that there will be no production for the next couple of years," he said.

Methodists slate spiritual seminar

Father Keith Hosey will be leading a Spiritual Life Seminar at Trinity United Methodist Church beginning Friday at 7:30 p.m. Saturday a morning session will begin at 9 a.m. and close at noon. Lunch will be served at the church. The next session will be from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The evening session will be from 7-9:30 p.m.

Sunday, Hosey will meet with the children during the church school hour and will speak at the 10:50 a.m. morning worship service. At 5:30 p.m. he will meet with the YCC (high school youth age). The evening service will be at 7 for everyone.

Monday at 6:30 a.m. breakfast will be served before the session. Those needing to leave before the session is over may do so. Hosey will speak again at 9 a.m.

A nursery will be provided at the Trinity UMC for all meetings except Saturday when the nursery will be at First United Methodist Church and a lunch will need to be sent with each child.

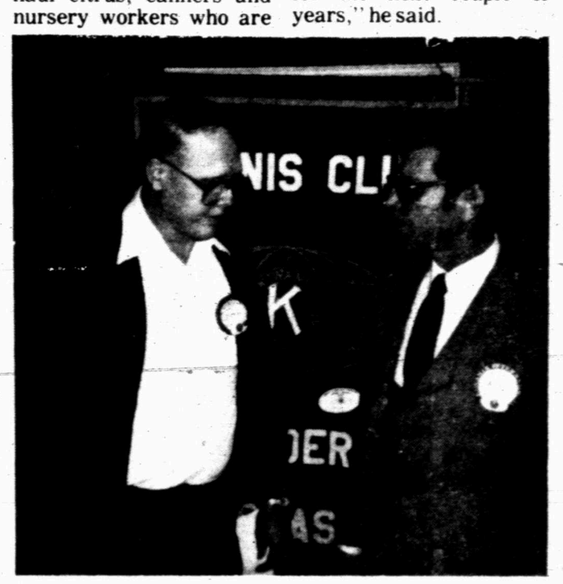

Hosey is director of John XXIII Center, Hartford City, Ind. where he serves as a priest of the diocese of Lafayette, Ind. For 13 years he has been involved in retreats and prayer workshops for clergy and laity.

He serves as a member of the Ecumenical Prayer Team speaking on the need for contemplative prayer for today. He gives priests retreats around the country, involving other priests in order to work as a team.

He was ordained in Rome, Italy in 1956, after having studied theology at the Gregorian University and completed undergraduate work at St. Mary's in Cincinnati, Ohio. He has also been involved in marriage encounter and marriage enrichment programs for the past six years.

Prison print shop may have made documents

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Inmates at a state penitentiary may have used a prison print shop to turn out counterfeit money orders, birth certificates and driver's licenses, and, whoever was responsible did "a pretty good job," a federal official says.

The official, who spoke on condition he not be identified, said authorities don't know how many inmates at the New Mexico State Penitentiary near Santa Fe might have been involved in the alleged counterfeiting.

An investigation by the U.S. Postal Service and the Secret Service now centers on Jessie Sandoval, a 26-year-old recent parolee charged Thursday with passing a counterfeit money order, said Corrections Department spokesman David Roybal and U.S. Attorney William Lutz.

Sources said the money order apparently was produced in the prison print shop. The shop, manned by 210 inmates, has been closed since a search Tuesday but will probably reopen today, Roybal said.

Ken Rommel, special assistant for investigations at the Corrections Department, said, "At this stage I don't think there's that many people involved."

Rommel said a few prisoners have access to the equipment that would have to be used for counterfeiting.

The federal official said other documents, including birth certificates and driver's licenses, apparently had been produced and that the counterfeiting was a "pretty good job" done on an offset press like the one at the prison shop.

"We have very sophisticated printing equipment" at the penitentiary, Rommel said.

Prison officials began an investigation after bogus money orders were found on inmates in November, according to Roybal.

State prison officials would not confirm that the investigation concerned counterfeiting, but a spokesman later said "a reasonable person could conclude that."

Roybal said a search of the Prison Industries building was ordered Tuesday, but he would say only that "a variety of contraband was found." He said one inmate had been confined to segregated quarters since the search began.

Faith Baptist slates movie

Pastor L.W.(Buck) Hatfield of Faith Baptist Church has announced that a special showing of the movie "The Second Coming of Christ" will be held at the church at 7:00 p.m. Sunday evening.

Commentaries by Dr. Bob Gray, Dr. John Rawling, Dr. Greg Dixon and Dr. Curtis Hutson are included in the film, which is characterized as a very dynamic motion picture.

Faith Baptist Church is located at 208 37th Street.

New football coach believes in 'total school program'

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

The hiring of Dennis Tomlin as head football coach brings to Snyder High School a man who feels success is important in all facets of the school system.

Tomlin, 37, has taught football, basketball, track and served as an assistant athletic director in a coaching career which began in 1969.

"I believe in a total school program and in a school the size of Snyder athletes need to be shared and given an opportunity to play any sports they would like to play," said the Plainview assistant coach Thursday evening.

He was contacted at his home only minutes after receiving official word of his hiring by the Snyder school board.

"I would like to say that the thing that attracted me to the job was its standout drama, band and basketball and baseball programs. That is one of the things I'm really excited about. I want all of Snyder's programs to be successful in both academics and athletics. I'd like to see us win championships in every district sport. That would be the greatest thing."

Tomlin's football background includes much work with defensive teams, but he said he did not consider defense his strong point.

"I've worked with offense quite a bit," said the coach, who added at Plainview the offense heavily on the Wing T. "We'll run the Wing T and various formations off the Wing T. Defensively we'll be in an eight-man front."

Tomlin's first priority will be to meet the students.

"I want to get to know as many of the athletes and the student body and let them get to know me."

The new coach will be bringing an assistant with him, but said several of the coaches he had in mind were still in the running for head coaching jobs and it was a wait-and-see situation at the moment.

He hopes to be settled in Snyder soon.

"I don't want to give an exact date because it might be earlier or later than that, but it won't be a very long period. I'm anxious to get started."

Winning streak snapped...

Tyler nips Dusters, 73-70

By BILL McCLELLAN

Coach Joe Cushing might not say his Dusters played their worst game of the season here Thursday night but he'd probably vote it as the one he most like to forget.

The Dusters spotted Tyler's Lady Apaches eight points, overcame that, then gave up their own lead as they tumbled to the nation's No. 10 ranked team, 73-70. The loss ended an 11-game winning streak for Western Texas, now 17-4.

It was eight minutes and four seconds into the game before Clara Campbell scored from underneath to give Western its first field goal. Tyler eventually worked to an 11 point advantage, 27-16, before the Dusters got tracked.

A bucket and a freethrow by Mary Nell Clayton, two charity shots from Renvy Evans and a basket by Liz Grant cut the margin to four points, and WTC eventually trimmed that to one, 36-35 going into intermission.

Western took charge in the early going of the second half. A 10-point spurt put the Dusters in front 50-42 before Lynn Harvey hit for Tyler with 12:06 remaining.

Harvey, a 6-0 freshman from Georgia, was the offensive key for the Apaches much of the second half. She worked inside for 15-second half points, and traded buckets with the Dusters until she got some help from teammate Sheila Bryant with about six minutes left.

As Bryant began to find cracks in WTC's vaunted defense, she and Clara Davis went to work, finally putting Tyler back ahead 63-62 with 3:56 to play. The lead changed hands on the next six buckets, ending when Harvey stuck up a rebound with just over a minute to play.

WTC's Campbell missed a shot that would have given the Dusters the lead with 1:08 to play and Tyler took advantage. Davis pulled down the rebound for the visitors, who converted on Harvey's bucket to make it a 71-68 ballgame.

Western still had a chance. Clayton went to the line with 23 seconds left and bagged two freethrows, 71-70. Tyler tossed the ball back inbounds and got it down the court however, and Havrey scored an insurance bucket to secure the win.

When asked why the Dusters apparently didn't attempt to foul after Tyler had gotten the ball inbounds, Cushing spat, "That's what I'd like to know. Why didn't we? We talked about what we were going to do during the timeout but we didn't do it. We just didn't play well at all tonight. I know we have a better team than that and I know the girls know it," he said.

The Dusters got off track early in the game and except for early in the second half, never really played to their potential. The girls were 14 of 40 from the field in the first half for 35 percent.

"I never expected us to get ourselves in a bind like that. We absolutely got intimidated. It wasn't our best game offensively and I don't know what the crowd thought but from a coaching standpoint I thought defensively we stunk," said Cushing, despite the fact the Dusters held Tyler to 16 points below its scoring average. "We weren't putting any pressure on the ball. We were standing around letting Tyler do what they wanted to do. And they got the baskets when they had to have them. Maybe this is what we needed. Maybe the girls will be mad now for Odessa. It's just that I know we should have won this game."

The Dusters play No. 1 ranked Odessa at 6 o'clock on Monday as the WJCAC season resumes.

Harvey ended the night with 22 points for Tyler while another 6-0 freshman, Bryant, had 20. Clayton led for WTC with 22 points. Campbell scored 21 and Renvy Evans put in 12.

Tyler won the board game by outrebounding the Dusters 42-37. Campbell pulled down 14 boards and had five assists. Rhonda Hoelting also had five assists.

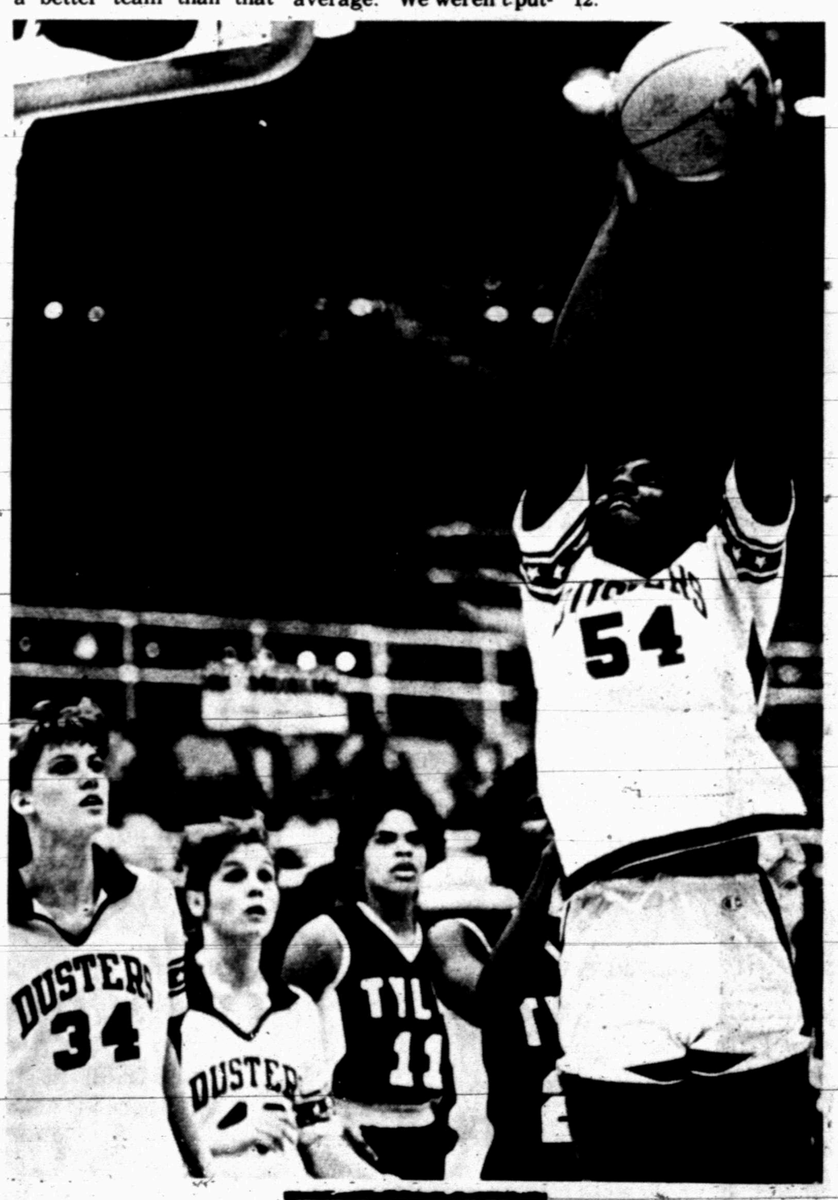

Tyler, ironically the team that last beat WTC before the Dusters' 11-game winning streak, improved its record to 17-2 with the victory.

Tigers host Panthers

Coach Larry Scott's Snyder Tigers hope to break new ground here tonight as they look for their third straight victory.

The Tigers, 6-12, entertain Fort Stockton in Scurry County Coliseum. The game serves as the nightcap for a three-game series here. The show opens at 4:30 with a girls junior varsity game. Coach Ken Housden's varsity girls then take the floor at approximately 6:15, followed by the varsity boys.

A junior varsity boys game will also be held at 4:30 in the high school gym.

Tickets at either site are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Scott's boys come into tonight's game in the thick of the District 2-4A race. At 2-1, the Tigers are tied with Sweetwater, Pecos and Andrews for second place. Lamesa leads the race with a 3-0 mark.

Fort Stockton's boys are 0-3 in conference play, 8-8 on the season.

In the earlier varsity game, Coach Housden hopes to keep a hand in the playoff race. His girls are 2-3 in district play and cannot afford another loss. Fort Stockton's girls are 1-4.

In key contests across the loop this evening, Andrews and Lake View girls, both 5-0, battle in San Angelo, while Lamesa's 3-0 boys host the 2-1 Pecos Eagles. Other contests have Sweetwater at Monahans.

Templeton paces Panther game

Shutting down Fort Stockton's 6-5 Bobby Templeton will be the major task set before Coach Larry Scott's Tigers tonight when they entertain the Panthers at 7:45 in Scurry County Coliseum.

"He averages 23 points a game and I'm sure they'll look to go to him," said Scott, whose Tigers are 2-1 in district play and looking for a third straight victory. "But he's not their only player. He got into foul trouble when they played Monahans last Tuesday and sat out the third quarter and they didn't fold or anything like that."

Fort Stockton lost the game 48-45.

Scott said he expects the Panthers to run a 2-3 zone defense and make the Tigers shoot from outside, allowing Templeton to come away with any rebounds. Fort Stockton likes to fast break on offense. If the break isn't open, said Scott, the Panthers will try to get the ball inside to the big man.

"We have to make sure he doesn't get any rebounds. I'm sure he gets a lot of his points putting rebounds back up. So we have to keep him from getting the ball," said Scott. "Offensively, we have to hit our outside shots or be patient enough to work the ball inside."

Scott said the Tigers are in good physical shape for the game except for 6-1 senior John Murphy, who has an injured finger.

"I expect he'll start but we'll have to wait and see just how much it will bother him," said the coach.

Snyder is 6-12 for the season. Fort Stockton is 8-8 and 0-3 in district play.

Davis looking toward successful second half

A few more victories notwithstanding, Coach Barry Davis is pleased with Western Texas' progress this season except when it stands at the freethrow line.

"We're accomplishing the things we wanted to do except we're still not hitting our freethrows," the coach said Wednesday as his team prepared for the South Plains Classic this weekend. "We've cut back on our turnovers dramatically from last year. We're doing a better job on the boards and we're averaging 11 or 12 steals a game. We're still only shooting about 60 percent from the freethrow line though and that's not good enough. The top teams are teams that make their freethrows. It's one of the most important aspects of the game."

Western begins the second half of the 1983-84 season tonight, going against Wayland Baptist University at 6 in Levelland's South Plains Classic. The Westerners also play Saturday at 6, squaring off against Panhandle State.

Despite a poor team percentage, the Westerners are getting good performances at the line from several players, including sophomore Fred Johnson, who is 29 of 36 for .806. Richie Fells is hitting .706 and Floyd Singleton .680. Except for Anthony Smith, whose 13 of 14 is a fine .929, the rest of the individual percentages drop off quickly. As a team, the Westerners are hitting .631 for the season, but only .576 in conference play.

"It's not just Western Texas. All across the nation, freethrow percentages are down. Some of it might be attributed to the new rule, but I doubt all of it could be," said Davis, who was speaking of the new ruling in which every foul is a two-shot foul in the final two minutes of the game (proyiding a team is in the bonus).

The team field goal percentage is .481.

For the season, the Westerners are handing out only 12.8 turnovers a game; not a minute amount, but far less than the team average of a year ago. They are averaging 29.8 rebounds, 18.7 assists and 11.1 steals.

Fells paces the team in scoring with a 14.9 average. Other top point producers by average are Larry Banks, 12.1; Singleton, 11.3; Johnson, 8.5; Victor Spencer, 6.4; and Robert Mitchell, 6.3.

The board game shapes up this way: Banks averages 6.1, Johnson 5.0, Fells 3.7, Mitchell 2.5 and Spencer 2.3.

Johnson leads in assists with 22 while Chambers' 67 assists - a 5.2 average - is tops in that category.

In Davis' grading system, Banks ranks as the most complete player with 237 points, followed by Fells with 211 and Johnson with 198.

Houston mauls Raiders

LUBBOCK -- Akeem Olajuwon scored 18 points, blocked 10 shots and pulled down a career high 25 rebounds Thursday night to lead the seventh-ranked Houston Cougars to an 88-66 win over the Red Raiders at Lubbock.

It was the fourth straight conference win for the Cougars this season - and their 28th consecutive SWC triumph.

Michael Young burned the Raiders' man-to-man defense for a game-high 21 points. Phil Wallace led Tech with 12 points.

The Cougars improved their season record to 14-2. Tech fell to 8-6 and 2-1.

In another SWC game, Ricky Norton scored a career-high 20 points to give Arkansas a 70-69 win over Southern Methodist in a game played at Fayetteville.

Two free throws by sophomore Scott Rose with 28 seconds left iced the win for the Razorbacks, who upped their record to 12-2 overall and 3-0 in conference action.

Center Jon Koncak scored 20 points to lead the Mustangs, now 13-4 for the season and 1-2 in SWC play.

Fannon takes ASU post

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) - Ken Fannon, track coach at San Angelo Central High School since 1969, has been named men's track and field coach at Angelo State University.

The appointment is effective with the beginning of the spring semester. Fannon replaces Clint Ramsey, who resigned in December.

Boosters to meet Monday

Snyder Girls High School Booster Club will meet Monday at 7 in the high school cafeteria.

Everyone interested in girls high school sports is urged to attend.

Lions sponsor summer camp for handicapped

Summer camp is something every child should be able to experience. However, children with physical handicaps and insulin dependent children with diabetes are not eligible to attend most camps. This is why the Texas Lions Camp for Handicapped Children in Kerrville was created.

In 1949, Lions Clubs across Texas joined together to form this special camp. Since that first year, more than 30,000 children with a variety of disabilities have attended the camp free of charge.

While at camp, the children participate in carefully adapted programs. During the six two-week sessions, two of which are designed for diabetics only, the camp offers swimming, canoeing, archery, tennis, football, baseball, golf, hiking and nature study. Dances, plays, games, picnics, campfires, carnivals and other special activities are also planned.

Lions and Lioness Clubs, other organizations and individuals support the nonprofit camp with money raising projects, donations, memorials, trusts and bequests. Contributions are tax deductions at the highest level allowed by the IRS.

One of the many good things about the camp is the campers learn they are not the only child that is handicapped or diabetic.

The campers stay in one of eight dormitories and are fed in a cafeteria-style dining hall located on more than 500 beautiful acres.

Trained counselors supervise the children 24 hours a day. The Lions Camp emphasizes positive self-image, independence, leadership, creativity, respect for others, responsibility, motivation and friendliness.

Registered nurses are on duty in the camp's modern health center. Physicians and hospital facilities are only four minutes away.

Handicaps that make a camper eligible are deafness or severe hearing loss, blindness or severe visual loss, mutism, skeletal or physical deformity and neuro-muscular loss causing paralysis or partial paralysis. An IQ of 70 or above is required.

From September to May, the camp is used to help blind adults adjust to their handicap and learn necessary skills. This is a one-to-one basic program and most trainees stay about four months. Like the summer camp, the program is free to all participants.

The camp accepts applications for camp sessions year around.

Lionism has rich heritage

The heritage of Texas Lionism is a rich one. The first Lions convention was held in Dallas in 1917, where the foundation for what is now an international organization, was laid. There are presently 15 districts in Texas, but it wasn't always that way.

In October of 1917, some 23 clubs were represented at the Adolphus Hotel--including those from Port Arthur, Houston, Austin, Waco, Fort Worth, Dallas, Paris, Wichita Falls, Beaumont and Abilene. San Antonio and Temple were not present, but are counted today as among the 29 Founders Clubs in the World.

Texas became known as District 2 in Lionism, with Illinois getting the District 1 designation. In 1917, the state had only one district governor for the entire state, and it remained that way for 13 years.

At the 12th state convention in Austin in May of 1930, the delegates voted to divide the state into five sub-districts, to be known as T-E-X-A-S.

District T comprised 71 counties and 91,977 square miles; E had 29 counties and 25,707 square miles; X had 41 counties and 29,961 square miles; A had 58 counties and 70,806 square miles; and S had 55 counties and 48,888 square miles.

The state retained those designations for 13 years before S, in 1943, divided into three districts and in 1947 T was split into two districts. It remained until 1958-59 when T split into three districts. A year later, in 1959-60, six other district were added and T-2 and T-3 were reshaped, giving the present form.

Anton's Glen Jones was the first District Governor of what is now 2-T2. The district is the sixth largest in the state, with 19,680 square miles--and that was before the addition of Paducah to the district.

Snyder, which was chartered in August of 1924, is the oldest club in the district and has sponsored several other clubs, including the Lubbock Club. District 2-T2 has 72 clubs and some 2,800 Lions.

Keynote speaker active Lion

Don A. Buckalew will be the keynote speaker for this weekend's mid-winter conference to be hosted by the Snyder Lions Club.

Buckalew, a Conroe auto dealer, served a two-year term as an International Director of Lions Internationa after his election at the Association's 57th Convention held in San Francisco in 1974.

Past Director Buckalew, with 26 years of perfect attendance, has served as a 100 per cent District Governor, as director of the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children and as chairman of the Camp Improvement Committee for its crippled children's camp in Kerrville. He is now a Life Member of the League.

During his involvement in Lionism, he has received a Master Key, three Extension Awards, nine International President's Awards, and the Ambassador of the Good Will Award, the highest honor in Lionism.

An auto dealer with other business investments, Buckalew is active in community affairs, having served as chairman for his United Way and as president of the board of manager of his county hospital.

He is a director of the Allied Conroe Bank, a vice president of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association, Chairman of the board of the Montgomery County Fair Association and a past president of the board of trustees of the Conroe Independent School District.

Maintaining an active interest in youth, Buckalew has coached little league teams and served as chairman of the county livestock show. He is a graduate of Baylor University. He and his wife, Dale, have four children.

In eye bank...

Life memberships total 210

To date, there are 210 Life Memberships in the Eye Bank. As far as all records available, in the first eight years of the 2-T2 Eye Bank, no more than 30 clubs ever paid sustaining dues in a single year.

Clubs approved a $2 per year per Lion fee that is billed by the Cabinet Secretary in January and July. That hasn't stopped the clubs of the district this year. Some 43 clubs have sent in more than $1,500 in additional sustaining dues of $1 per member.

Included in that group is Anton which sent in 700 percent and New Deal, Plainview Evening and the Redbud DandiLionesses who each sent in 200 percent dues.

Other sustaining dues have been paid by Lockney, Wilson, Jayton, Rotan, Whitharral, Snyder, Crosbyton, Lubbock Hub, Petersburg, Roby, Plains, Lubbock South Plains, O'Donnell, Shallowater, Seagraves, Sundown, Springlake, Sudan, Lorenzo, Idalou, Slaton, Abernathy, Lamesa Mesa, Muleshoe, Snyder Sparkle City, Lubbock Sunrise, Brownfield Evening, Brownfield Evening Lionesses, Seminole Evening, Lubbock Industrial, Lubbock Lip Lipscomb, Seminole, Lubbock Southwest, Littlefield Early Risers, Lubbock Redbud, Lamesa Evening, Rails, Roaring Springs and Cotton Center.

Leader Dog rep visits

Vincent Syracuse, Leader Dog field representative, will be a special guest at this weekend's District 2-T2 mid-winter convention in Snyder.

Syracuse has been associated with the Leader Dog School since 1948 and has trained thousands of dogs and hundreds of students. He is well acquainted with the problems of the blind and is dedicated to improving their mobility.

The philosophy of the Leader Dog School is to foster the best possible growth of self-respect and confidence through conscientious matching of eligible blind people and highly trained dogs.

Leader Dogs for the Blind conducts its affairs in an atmosphere most favorable for the ultimate success of the person seeking its services. Trainees enjoy the carefully planned program of education designed to preserve man's right to travel with safety and comfort.

Syracuse has been a member of the Rochester, Michigan Lions Club since 1952 and boasts 100 percent attendance since that time. He has served in all club offices including president.

Syracuse was a trainer at the school for 18 years and was Director of Training for two years prior to becoming field representative.

Present duties include follow-up service to graduates, interviewing potential candidates for Leader Dog training and speaking to Lions Clubs and other interested groups.

Eye bank gaining momentum

District 2-T2 Lions Eye Bank was organized in May, 1974 by the district's 73 clubs and approximately 2,700 members.

In March 1975, an office and an equipment room were made available at the Texas Tech University School of Medicine clinic located in Thompson Hall. This was due to the efforts of Dr. James Price, a Lubbock ophthalmologist, who is chairman of the school's ophthalmology department and medical director of the Eye Bank.

District 2-T2 Eye Bank became a member of the Eye Bank of America in March, 1975. The directors of the Eye Bank give numerous programs to civic organizations. The Plainview and Levelland Noon Lions manned booths at their health fairs and turned in more than 500 donor cards. The Eye Bank has two films available for programs. Dr. Price has a slide presentation for presentation to numerous clubs. A second slide presentation should be ready for use soon.

The Eye Bank hs processed 127 eyes and has on file 2,741 donor cards. The Eye Bank has 33 Charter Clubs, 127 Life Members, and 61 Sustaining Member Clubs.

The Eye Bank is supported through Sustaining Membership ($1 per member, per year), Life Memberships ($100), White Cane sales of district Lions Clubs and contributions and donations from individuals.

In 1977 the Eye Bank originated the 20-20 Honor Roll. The names of clubs, firms and individuals contributing $500 or more, in a single donation, are engraved on the Honor Roll in the Eye Bank office and a plaque is sent to the contributor. At the present time there are five names on the Honor Roll: Mrs. Rachel Haden, twice; Lubbock Metro Club, twice; and Lubbock Lions Club.

In November, 1977 the Eye Bank co-sponsored a two-day enucleation seminar with Texas Tech University School of Medicine. The seminar was held to train morticians and technicians to do enucleations when medical doctors are not available. Eight attended this seminar, and the response was most favorable. A second one was held in November, 1979. At present, 16 morticians and technicians have completed this course.

In August, 1978, four years after its beginning, the Eye Bank presented a check for $7,900 to the Tech Department of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences Research and Education Fund.

This check was applied to the purchase of a Corneal Endothelial Microscope to be used to assess both the present and future health and thickness of cornea of eyes received by the Eye Bank.

Lions adopt Girlstown

Girlstown USA was founded by Amelia Anthony at Buffalo Gap in March 1949. In July of that same year, Tom Duggan, an attorney from Lubbock, donated 1,425 acres near Whiteface to Anthony and her nine girls. Since that time, Girlstown has expanded to four campuses licensed to serve 144 girls. Applicants who are abused, neglected or potentially delinquent are accepted on a space available and need basis.

District Lions Clubs have been a major source of funding for Girlstown since 1964. Some clubs and individual members have helped since 1949. Clubs now sponsor girls, donate toward operating costs and help by giving labor, gifts-in-kind and sharing their time with residents of Girlstown.

District 2-T2 built a gymnasium with proceeds from the Coaches All American Football game. One zone constructed a classroom and library in the gym. On campus classes are held in this room to provide individual programs for girls who need special help.

After a fire destroyed the original dormitory in 1981, District Lions responded to a challenge to match a gift to help rebuild. Over $70,000 was raised by the District. A beautiful cottage was built as a result of this challenge.

Lions help in many ways. Securing food such as beef, pork and lambs from fat stock shows, hosting special parties such as Halloween and Valentine Day, shopping trips for new clothes and personal items are a special treat.

Clubs invite girls they sponsor to participate in Charter night, awards banquets and special club activities. This gives the girl a feeling of acceptance and fellowship with Lions and their families.

Campuses are located in Whiteface, Borger, Lubbock and Austin. Marshall W. Cooper is the executive director.

District Governor

Gerald Devault of Lubbock will preside over the District 2-T2 Lions conference to be held in Snyder Saturday and Sunday.

Devault was born and reared in Portales, N. M.. He and his wife, Doris, have three children.

Lion Gerald is a 1965 graduate of Texas Tech and is owner of Devault's Floral and Gift Shoppe in Lubbock.

He served as charter president of the Lip Lipscomb Lions Club in 1974-75 and was a 100 per cent president that year. He has been on the District Cabinet every year but one since then.

He has served as Zone Chairman and District Pin Chairman, Deputy District Governor, Deputy District Governor At-Large, District Membership Development Chairman.

During 1983-84, Lion Gerald is serving as secretary-treasurer of the Council of Governors. The Devaults are members of the First Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Son challenges TV evangelist over large estate

WACO, Texas (AP) — A teen-age housekeeper has pleaded innocent to last month's slaying of a 70-year-old woman, whose death and change of wills has pitted her son against television evangelist Jimmy Swaggart in a battle for the estate.

Jacqueline Euna Warren, 19, was arraigned Thursday before State District Judge George Allen, who ordered her returned to McLennan County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Ida Lee Baugh, 70, who had been confined to a wheelchair for the past nine years, was stabbed repeatedly in the face and shoulders with scissors early Dec. 10. She received 400 stitches about the head and shoulders, but died two days later without regaining consciousness, investigators said.

Ms. Warren, who was working as a housekeeper for Mrs. Baugh and her husband, flagged down a motorist early on Dec. 10 outside the Baugh's home on the east edge of McGregor, 20 miles east of Waco.

The housekeeper was arrested a short time after police began their investigation and a charge of aggravated assault was upgraded to murder after Mrs. Baugh died.

Two men had broken into the residence and attacked Mrs. Baugh, Ms. Warren told police. Her husband, Maurice Patrick Baugh, who was hospitalized at the time for a heart ailment, died on Dec. 17, five days after his wife.

Their wills, filed in probate court two days later, left the bulk of their estate to Swaggart Ministries of Baton Rouge, La.

The couple's son, Larry Neale Baugh of Irving, filed challenges earlier this month to their wills, saying they were changed on Nov. 30 after two representatives of Swaggart — Gerald Johnson of Fort Worth and Mario Scorzza of West — visited his parents.

Baugh alleges that his parents' wills were "executed as a result of undue influence exerted ... so as to subvert or overpower" them and that they would not have changed their wills "but for that influence."

He contends in his challenge of the wills that on the same day that Johnson and Scorzza came calling on his parents, they brought Ms. Warren with them and that his mother and father hired the girl as their housekeeper on their recommendation.

Johnson declined to comment. He told The Associated Press he was aware that the will had been challenged, but said any comment would have to come from Swaggart's Baton Rouge headquarters.

Security personnel answered the telephone at Baton Rouge and said no officials were available for comment.

Baugh and his attorney, Tony Duty of Waco, also declined comment.

A copy of Baugh's contest motion was mailed to James M. Suggs Jr., an Irving attorney listed as a representative of Swaggart Ministries. A spokeswoman at his law office said Thursday night that he was gone for the day and could not be reached.

There was no estimate on the amount of the Baugh estate. As changed, the will left everything to Swaggart Ministries except for 25 percent of the cash on hand, not to exceed $25,000, which would go to Larry Baugh, the couple's only child, court records showed.

Baugh asked in his challenge, filed in Waco earlier this month, that his parents be declared as having died without leaving a will.

In addition to the improper influence that he alleges was exerted, Baugh said a notary public was not present when the will was signed by his mother, and one of the witnesses to its signing was not informed that the document he was witnessing was Mrs. Baugh's will.

Craft wins

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — A federal jury today awarded Christine Craft $225,000 in actual damages on her claim that KMBC-TV management made fraudulent promises when hiring her to co-anchor the news.

The ruling came in the retrial of her lawsuit against Metromedia Inc., former owner of the station. In the first trial a jury awarded her $500,000, but that verdict was thrown out by a judge.

Ms. Craft, 39, claimed she accepted the co-anchor job at KMBC-TV after the station's managers told her they were interested in her journalism skills. After she was hired, the management spent much of their energy criticizing her appearance, she alleged.

Ms. Craft grinned and hugged her lawyers after the verdict was read.

The jury still must decide how much, if any, punitive damages Ms. Craft should receive.

"I am pleased," Dennis E. Egan, Ms. Craft's lawyer, said of today's verdict. "Now we go to Round 2."

Ms. Craft had asked for $500,000 in actual damages and $3 million in punitive damages in the civil suit. She was hired as co-anchor in November 1980 and demoted to reporter in August 1981.

The seven-woman, five-man jury heard the case before U.S. District Judge Joseph F. Stevens, who had overturned a fraud ruling in her favor in the original trial in Kansas City.

Federation of teachers seeks stronger program

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, says children should start school earlier, slack up on football, concentrate on "basic" courses and hit the books in high school at least two hours a night.

Rewards for good students might come in the form of scholarships, free hamburgers, movie passes and school trips and the privilege of skipping some final exams, the federation said.

High-achievers also might get out of class to work in community affairs and take courses for college credit, tuition-free, the group suggested.

The federation recommended increasing from 21 to 24 the number of units required for graduation from high school, with more required and fewer "elective" courses and two years of a foreign language.

"We do not believe that excellence should be limited to a few students, but that all Texans should have an education that prepares them for life in a complex technological society," said John Cole, federation president.

"Excellence is a commendable goal, and should be achieved, but not for an elite," he said.

The federation's recommendations were prepared by a task force and made public by Cole at a news conference Thursday.

The federation suggested that the state should switch from optional kindergarten to a full-day, full-year program for children as young as 4.

Cole said the public school curriculum had been weakened over the last 20 years, and an extra unit of science, mathematics and English should be added as well as "life skills" courses such as typing, law, automobile maintenance and parenting. A unit equals two semesters.

The federation said the practice of passing students simply so they can stay up with their age group should be abolished, and the Legislature should make it illegal to pressure a teacher into raising grades or passing a failing student.

"TFT believes that extra-curricular activities are vital to school," the federation said, but it added that "there can be little argument that some activities, of which football may be the most notorious example, have been overemphasized to the detriment of the rest of the school program.

"Athletics should increasingly emphasize 'lifetime sports,' rather than the traditional triad of football, basketball and track. Most students will not continue exercise in a team sport once high school is passed, but all of us need to continue to exercise. A program emphasizing tennis, bowling, swimming, and other 'lifetime sports' would greatly benefit all students."

Athletic budgets should be written to allow girls to participate in physical education on an equal basis with boys, the federation said. A "C" average in all subjects should be the minimum grade for participation in sports and other extra-curricular activities, it said.

Misdemeanor thefts reported, cleared

Snyder police investigated two misdemeanor thefts Thursday evening at Snyder Lanes in the 1900 Block of 35th St.

According to reports, a number of cars parked at the bowling alley had apparently been entered and gone through. Property was noticed missing from two vehicles when the owners returned around 10:30 p.m.

Susanna Johnson reported that a diaper bag and some cassette tapes had been taken from her vehicle and Billy Guynes reported that a record album, a set of crystal coasters and a small figurine had been taken from his car.

No value was estimated for the items missing from the Johnson vehicle but the value of the items taken from the Guynes car was estimated at $59.

Investigators also closed an investigation Thursday into a misdemeanor theft reported Christmas Eve.

An alarm clock thought taken from a room at the Snyder Nursing Center was found and investigators closed the case.

In other action, city officers logged two misdemeanor arrests Thursday evening. One juvenile suspect was arrested for disorderly conduct and one local man was jailed for public intoxication.

Price of the Texas Tech Department of Opthamology, will give presentations. Glen Rasberry of Wolfforth, who has received a corneal transplant through the Lions Eye Bank, will be on hand to give his testimony.

Driverless auto struck

Snyder police were called to investigate a single minor traffic mishap in the city Thursday morning.

According to reports, a 1979 Datsun owned by Diana Lindsey Holder of Rt. 1 Snyder and parked at the Allsup's Convenience Store in the 3900 Block of College Ave. apparently rolled away from its parking place. This resulted in it being struck by a 1982 Oldsmoblie driven by Rex Davidson Fields of 307 24th St.

Damage to both vehicles was listed as minor to moderate.

Obituaries

Copney

CORSICANA--Services for Merdis Copney, 69, of Corsicana are pending here. She died Tuesday in a Corsicana hospital. She was born Aug. 3, 1914 in Waxahachie.

She is survived by her daughter, Sylvia Jean Bradley; three sisters, Imogene Johnson of Snyder, Carrie Belle Banks and Estella Jackson of Corsicana; and a brother, Sylvester Bradley of Alabama.

Davis

Services for Oscar Davis, 86, of 3400 Kerrville were held at 2 p.m. Friday at Bell-Seale Chapel with the Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Snyder Cemetery under direction of Bell-Seale.

He died at 5:25 a.m. Thursday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

He was born June 15, 1897 in Scurry County. He had lived in Snyder for the past 15 years, moving here from Sanderson. He was a World War II veteran.

He was preceded in death by two brothers and one sister.

He is survived by two brothers, Fred Davis of Snyder and Pete Davis of Roswell; a sister, Mrs. Floy Head of Snyder; and several nieces and nephews.

Etheredge

ROTAN--Services for Frank Etheredge, 78, of Waco were held Friday morning at Lakeshore Baptist Church in Waco. Graveside services will be at 4 p.m. Friday at Hobbs Cemetery near Rotan.

He died Wednesday morning at Hillcrest Hospital in Waco. He was born June 29, 1905 in Snyder. He was the brother of Faye Rinker of Snyder and W. Sam of Hermleigh.

Other survivors are his wife, the former Elsie Boyd whom he had married Dec. 24, 1928; a son, Boyd of Amherst; five other brothers, Earnest of Tyler, Bryan of Roby, C. C. of Roscoe, S. L. of Rotan and Bob of Gorman; two other sisters, Edna Ruth Cave of Alpine, Tura Lou Duke of Boswell, Okla. and three grandchildren.

Air Force base cited as example of 'pork barrel'

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — The importance of Goodfellow Air Force Base training programs to the national defense has been challenged and the base included in a list of so-called "pork barrel" programs by a presidential advisory panel, according to published reports.

The President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, also known as the Grace Commission because of its chairman, J. Peter Grace of the multimillion-dollar, multinational conglomerate, W. R. Grace & Sons, has been studying — at President Reagan's request — all aspects of federal operations with a view toward effecting greater governmental efficiencies.

The section released Wednesday related to what the Washington Post describes as monuments "to the multibillion-dollar pork-barrel tradition in which members of Congress obtain and prolong costly and-or questionable projects from Alaska to Maine."

Commission members decided to delete most of the names of the projects and all congressional names from their final draft, but that the newspaper obtained a copy of the original draft.

The Post said the Grace Commission learned that the Air Force had determined a $14 million annual savings could be effected by closing Goodfellow, "but that issue is dead, thanks largely to Sen. John G. Tower, (R-Texas), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Rep. Tom Loeffler (R-Texas) of House Appropriations and Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, (D-Texas)."

In 1978, Goodfellow activity centered around more than 100 courses in military intelligence training offered to Army, Mavy, Air Force and Marine personnel, the San Angelo Standard-Times reported Wednesday. The programs are called cryptology training.

When Goodfellow was put on the closing list in April, 1978, it was one of a $337 million package of military installations and 40 radar sites proposed for closure or realignment, the Standard-Times said.

Compassionate leave altered leave" now offered under local policy.

Guidelines for these five personal business days include "This leave will not be for use on the first day of school in the fall, for the last day of school in the spring, during in-service, for attending meetings of any professional organization, nor for working for any professional organization."

The new policy regarding leave days will not go into effect until next school year.

Other than the five state sick days, the school district also offers five local sick days which are cumulative. These two categories are the only excused absences which may be carried over from year to year.

All trustees attended the meeting to include G.A. Parks Jr., board president, and Trustees Ray Max Grimmett, Mike Reed, J.D. Hinton, J.M. Kayser, Lillie Sullivan and Leslie Butler.

School's calendar okayed for '84-'85

The public school calendar for 1984-85 was adopted Thursday, a schedule which will see local students complete the end of the first semester before the traditional Christmas break.

Two proposed calendars were submitted by school administrators, the basic difference involving when to end the semester. The second would have had it follow the same general schedule in effect this year, with the semester ending in mid-January.

By ending the semester the week before Christmas, school will also start approximately one week earlier next fall and conversely end one week earlier in the spring of 1985.

As approved Thursday, teacher in-service next school year will begin Aug. 13 and students will report Aug. 20. Classes will then end May 17.

Holidays for 1984-85 will be Sept. 3; Nov. 22-23; Dec. 21-Jan. 1; March 11-15; and April 5-8. Teacher in-service (with classes dismissed) include Aug. 13-17; Jan. 2; April 9; and May 18.

HOSPITAL NOTES

DISMISSALS: Vera Casey, Tracy Warren, Glenda Maxey and baby boy, Billie Mathis, Ivo Crabtree, William Sandlin, Vera Moore, Callie Johnson, and Sydnie Hall.

Opal Terrell enjoys work as office aide

Opal Terrell, long time Snyder resident, has been a Green Thumb worker for the past six years. Her present and only assignment since joining the program is as a general office aide in the Department of Human Resources, Financial Aid Office, located in the Senior Center building.

Mrs. Terrell's hours are varied, but she usually works Monday through Thursday and her duties include everything from answering the telephone to filing and helping clients fill out the necessary forms to apply for food stamps and/aid to dependent children.

Persons who are Green Thumb workers must be 55 years of age or older and be of low income. Texas Green Thumb Inc. is sponsored by the Texas Farmers Union.

"This is a very good place to work," Mrs. Terrell said, "Everyone is just real nice."

She became involved with the Green Thumb organization six years ago when she was looking for a job.

Mrs. Terrell has three sons: one lives here, one lives in in the Dallas area and one lives in San Angelo.

CARD OF THANKS 060

THE FAMILY of Miss Velma McMillan takes this time and space to acknowledge all of the expressions of sympathy shown in many many ways during her passing, and for the loving courtesies shown her the past few years while she was a resident at Snyder Nursing Home.
Time & space is limited for us to call names; those are countless. Therefore we ask that you permit us to express ourselves as she always did: "Thank You, Sugar Dolls"

Bernstein knew about condition, newspsper says

DALLAS (AP) — The commissioner of the Texas Health Department knew eight months ago that a cancer-causing pesticide had been detected in Florida's waters, but waited until last week to order tests to determine if Texas has a similar problem, The Dallas Morning News reported today.

In a copyright story, the newspaper reported that Dr. Robert Bernstein said Thursday that he had learned last May, at a meeting in Alexandria, Va., of state health officials, that EDB had contanimated ground water in Florida.

Despite coming under widespread attack by legislators and other officials, Bernstein has defended his action and has criticized Florida's removal of EDB-tainted food from grocery shelves as premature.

"We thought — and still do — that we're on top of it," Bernstein said. "There is no public health menace that we're aware of."

State Sen. Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, has asked for a legislative hearing to investigate the way state officials have handled the EDB problems. The hearing is tentatively scheduled for Jan. 25, said Tony Grigsby, an aide to Uribe.

"I don't think that Texans are served well by the apparent cavalier attitude of the chief physician who is charged with protecting our public health," said Uribe, vice chairman of the Health and Human Resources Committee.

State Rep. Debra Danburg, D-Houston, also expressed displeasure with Bernstein's actions.

"It's my impression that the Health Deparment is not responding," she said. "I'm extremely disappointed with Dr. Bernstein's lack of concern and lack of activity in this area."

Ms. Danburg is vice chairwoman of the Committee on Environmental Affairs.

Bernstein defended his agency's actions, saying that until the federal government sets EDB limits, there is little reason for the Health Department to act.

Tests of the water in Texas cities began Tuesday, almost a month after the state Agriculture Department began testing food to see if it contained ethylene dibromide, or EDB. The chemical has been found in almost a third of the 79 food items tested in Texas.

Health Department officials said they will announce results of their 22 water-sample tests on Friday.

EDB was used extensively as a soil fumigant before the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency banned its use in soil in September because the chemical had tainted groundwater in Florida, Georgia, California and Hawaii.

The pesticide is still used to kill weevils in stored grain and in milling equipment, but the EPA is considering halting its use on grain because the chemical has been found in food in Texas, Florida, California and Ohio.

Writs are restricted

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court has imposed a new rule aimed at reducing the number of motions for new trials filed by "jailhouse lawyers" — prisoners who study law and file their own appeals.

In an 8-4 decision handed down Thursday, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals passed down a new rule under which an inmate is barred from filing a new federal petition for a writ of habeas corpus if a lawyer handled the previous plea.

Seeking a writ of habeas corpus is the way a prisoner goes about getting a court to examine his claim that he didn't get a fair trial or that his conviction was tainted by some legal error.

This ruling came on an appeal by Charlie Jones, serving life in a Texas prison as a habitual criminal. He filed it after U.S. District Judge Robert O'Conor of Houston dismissed his third petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Fifteen claims of error were set forth in the third petition. Seven of them were new; eight had been considered and rejected in Jones' second petition, filed back in 1976.

The 5th circuit ruled that since Jones had the assistance of a lawyer in filing his second petition, he could not try again. His lawyer should have been able to raise any and all claims at that time, the opinion said.

Jones claimed he could not have raised two of the claims earlier because they had not been rejected by state courts. The 5th circuit said the claims should have been included in the federal petition anyway. Then, even if dismissed by the federal judge, they could be raised again when state court action was complete.

In dissent, four judges said the majority seemed to say that in order to file a third petition Jones must first show that the lawyer who helped him file his second petition failed to anticipate every possible claim.

"This was a heavy demand on a prisoner with a fifth-grade education acting on his own," the dissent said.

The four said the 5th circuit has "a deserved reputation for the protection of the rights of the least of those among us" but now it has faltered.
