Residency proof now required

Proof of Texas residency is now required by the Texas Coordinating Board of anyone enrolling at Howard College and claiming to be Texas resident, said Jan Dunagan, registrar at Howard College.

Two documents proving residency are required, she said. Examples include: a Texas high school, college or university transcript showing graduation 12 months prior to enrollment; an employer's statement with date of employment; permanent Texas driver's license showing 12 months residency; voter registration cards; a lease agreement, rent receipts, property tax receipt or property deed; utility bills or cancelled checks.

Students may accomplish this aspect prior to registration by visiting the Admissions Office and speed the registration process.

Call Dunagan at 267-6311, ext. 202 for more information.

Fiscal budget threatens cuts in VA services

From staff and wire reports
 Director Conrad Alexander of the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Big Spring said this morning he will have to "wait and see" the final results of proposed cuts in spending and services at VA hospitals in next year's fiscal budget.

President Ronald Reagan's proposal for fiscal 1988 would decrease the number of people receiving inpatient treatment at VA hospitals, nursing homes and other facilities by 11,583, to 1.4 million, in 1988. The number of out-patient visits would decline by 113,000, to 20.4 million.

The proposed cuts in spending and services drew sharp criticism in Washington from R. Jack Powell, the head of the Paralyzed Veterans of America.

Some veterans could be forced out of the VA medical system as a result of the proposed cuts, Powell said.

"Inadequate financing for the VA health care system represents a gross violation of our nation's commitment to its veterans and will further erode the health care available to the indigent and minorities," he said.

Alexander said he had not yet received details of the proposed cuts from the VA headquarters in Washington. He expects many changes however, before a final budget effective Oct. 1 is adopted by both houses.

This year's $16 million budget is very near last year's amount, Alexander said.

"We're maintaining our present level of services and seeking more veterans to make use of our VA CUTS page 2A

Chamber to give awards at banquet

Tickets are on sale for the annual Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce banquet, scheduled for 7 p.m. Feb. 6 at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Tickets are available at the Chamber for $12.50 each. Jan. 30 is the reservation deadline.

The highlight of the banquet will be the naming of man and woman of the year. Last year's man and woman of the year were Frances Wheat of Wheat Furniture and Owen Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Other awards will be presented, including the Blue Blazers "pat on the back" awards; Ambassador of the year; and agricultural producer of the year.

Plaques will be awarded to the Industrial Foundation president,

Clyde McMahon Jr. and treasurer Glen Fillingim, as well as all members leaving, including Chamber President John Arrick and immediate past president Granville Hahn. Fillingim will continue to serve as treasurer this year.

Other members of the board of directors who will be leaving are Chris Christopher, Troy Fraser, Richard Atkins, Bruce Hogenmiller, and Kathryn Perry, according to Chamber executive vice president LeRoy Tillery. Fraser has been elected 1987 Chamber president.

Michael Broom, who spoke several months ago at a free enterprise presentation at a Chamber quarterly luncheon, will speak again at the banquet. Big Spring businesswoman Johnny Lou Avery will emcee.

Battle of oil bills in 1988 budget begins

WILLIAM GARLAND
 Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Opening shots in the battle to assist the oil industry were fired in Congress in its first day Tuesday, with introduction of several industry-aid bills by Oklahoma's two senators.

Legislation would prop the price of crude oil with an oil import fee and eliminate the windfall profits tax, among other elements.

In a related development, Treasury Secretary James A. Baker told a budget briefing Monday that the Reagan administration would continue its opposition to a petroleum import tariff. Baker noted that the petrochemical industry remains opposed to a fee that sets a price floor.

However, as a more positive sign for the industry, the administration opposed repealing the windfall profits tax as part of the 1988 budget, also released Monday.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, gave a go-ahead to Senator David L. Boren, D-Oklahoma, to hold hearings on two of his bills by the end of January, according to Boren spokesman Brett Wesner.

Separate bills by Boren and Don Nickles, R-Oklahoma, would repeal the windfall tax and impose an import fee. Boren's import bill would impose an $18 per barrel price floor and Nickles' measure would establish a $20 per barrel price.

A third bill by Boren would have several elements, including a hike in the percentage depletion allowance for independent oil and gas operators whenever the price of oil dipped below $20. Currently, the depletion allowance is a 15 percent deduction against income from oil and gas production.

The allowance, available only to independent oil and gas producers, would go as high as 30 percent if the price of oil dipped below $10.

Hearings will be scheduled by the end of the month on Boren's bills to eliminate the windfall tax and the general bill with industry-related provisions, the senator's spokesman said.

Boren's general industry bill also would prevent the closure of some stripper wells, producing less than 10 barrels of oil per day, as a result of low oil prices.

Currently, a stripper well sold from a major oil company to an independent oil producer retains the tax status of the major company, eliminating the availability of the percentage depletion allowance and an exemption for independent producers from the windfall profits tax for stripper wells.

Senator Phil Gramm, R-Texas, plans to introduce by early next week an industry-aid package similar to the one he introduced late last year, according to a Gramm spokesman.

Young hostage keeps cool

GRAPEVINE (AP) — Before being released unharmed, Michael Caruso Jr. just pretended he was playing a game with a friend while a gunman held a pistol on him for eight grueling hours Monday.

"I was just thinking to myself about a game a friend and I play called 'Guns,' but they're fake," said the 10-year-old soccer player.

"(The gunman) was Jay (Michael's friend) and I was me and we were ... just civilians talking."

But it was no game. After hours of negotiations in the Delta Air Lines terminal at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, the boy's captor surrendered, giving up his pistol and his demands to be flown to Egypt.

Charged with aggravated kidnapping and terrorist threats was Solah Kas Abou-Kassem, 26, of Damascus, Syria.

Michael's courage drew admiration and praise from airport officials. But a former teacher said she was not surprised the boy kept his cool.

Reunited with his family, Michael seemed at ease answering reporters' questions at a news conference Tuesday.

His parents, Mike and Cindy Caruso, and his 6-year-old sister, Rosey, appeared relaxed and happy.

While Rosey squirmed on her father's lap, Michael, dressed in jeans and a knit shirt, described the hours spent as a hostage.

During his captivity, he tried to make friends with his abductor but was never afraid of losing his life, Michael said.

"I asked him, 'Do you have any family?'" he said. "I just asked him, 'Why did he come here in the first place? Where do you live? What do you do?'"

"He said he came to make peace," Michael said.

Michael also asked his abductor what was going to happen to him.

If he didn't get a passport, the man said he would shoot himself. He said if he got the passport, the two of them would go to Egypt.

Michael said he wanted to go to Egypt, "but not that way."

The boy said he knew that the passport documents authorities gave the gunman to get him to surrender were fake. "It helps to have a brain," he quipped.

Asked if he thought his captor was crazy, Michael replied, "Very."

New chief

City Manager Mack Wofford, left, speaks with Police Chief Joe Cook, who began his new position with the new year. Cook said he plans to "become thoroughly familiar with the police department before imposing my authority" or making any changes. # Three Monahans police officers shot

MONAHANS (AP)—A gunman, firing shots through the windows and doors of his mobile home, wounded three officers and a teen-ager and held off police for about five hours before he was subdued with tear gas and a concussion grenade Tuesday evening, police said.

W.D. Smith, 59, was in critical condition at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa with a gunshot wound to his back, internal bleeding and tear gas toxicity, said a hospital spokeswoman who would not give her name.

Two officers and the teen were in stable condition at Ward Memorial Hospital in this West Texas city known for its Sand Hills State Park. A third officer was in stable condition in Odessa.

The gunman was apprehended at about 8:45 p.m. when four officers stormed the mobile home and tossed a concussion grenade in the bedroom where he barricaded himself, said Monahans Police Chief David Mills. A concussion grenade stuns its victim, he said.

Mills said the ordeal began when two officers responded to a call about a man who had a gun at his home.

"The officers got there and he opened fire on them," Mills said.

The officers escaped injury in the initial gunfire, but the shots hit a teen-ager who was visiting a friend across the street, he said.

"We had officers surrounding the trailer and the guy started shooting through doors, windows, glass, everything," Mills said.

One of the officers was shot in the face and a second officer who tried to help him also was shot in the face, he said.

After telephone negotiations with the man failed, authorities fired canisters of tear gas into the trailer.

"He returned gunfire after the first two," Mills said. "After the last one he barricaded himself in the back bedroom and that's where the officers found him."

Residents from seven or eight mobile homes in the vicinity were evacuated during the ordeal, and nearby street lamps were shut off, he said.

Monahans Police Sgt. Elis Franco was wounded in the face and eyes and transferred to Odessa for treatment, hospital officials said.

Lt. Dave Watts also was hit in the face and shoulder by shotgun pellets and Sgt. Wayne Poor, was hit in the right leg and left ankle, said Gary Shreze, Ward Memorial hospital spokesman.

Backers were 'Wright from the start'

By ANDREW MANGAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON—About 400 Texans flew to Washington and another 8,000 were on hand in Fort Worth via closed-circuit television to help Rep. Jim Wright celebrate being sworn in as the nation's 48th House Speaker.

Following a unanimous vote by House Democrats, a glowing Wright thanked his colleagues at the Capitol and moved on to a reception in the nearby Cannon Office building where he was greeted by cheers from 800 to 1,000 backers.

As a U.S. Navy six-piece band played "The Eyes of Texas," the new speaker moved triumphantly through the partisan crowd surrounded by photographers and police.

House Speaker and Texan Jim Wright is greeted by Rep. William Broomfield, R-Mich., left, and other legislators as he arrives for the first session of the 100th Congress Tuesday.

Among the guests were dozens of people belonging to a group called "Wright from the Start," who had supported the new speaker in his first race for Congress in 1954, which he won.

"I lived next door to Jim in Weatherford for about nine years," said Ed Maddox, a retired veterinarian from Wright's hometown who was among the oldest of the supporters. "Jim ought to be retired, but he's just getting started."

Maddox and about 200 of Wright's closest supporters were flown from Fort Worth to Dulles International Airport early Tuesday aboard a chartered Boeing 707 at the speaker's expense so they could share the moment with their old friend.

"When you have a friend like that you know you really have a friend for life," said Maddox, who wore a brown, cowboy-style suit, boots and a broad-brimmed cowboy hat.

He was not alone.

Joining the celebrants in Washington via live two-way satellite link from the Round-Up Inn in Fort Worth were approximately 8,000 Wright-backers, who were being hosted by former Rep. Tom Vandergriff.

Vandergriff gushed over the live feed about how Wright would become the shining star of Texas in his new job and recalled the days after World War II when he and Wright were both young mayors of North Texas cities.

Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis and Fort Worth Mayor Bob Bolen praised Wright's tenacity and predicted he will bring only good things to Texas as speaker while the Washington partiers consumed heaping platters of locally prepared Tex-Mex food and pulled cans of beer from ice chests.

"Now the spotlight shines on Fort Worth, Tarrant County and Texas," Boland said to the cheering crowd.

Several gifts were offered to the speaker, including a homemade country pie "that's as Weatherford as Jim Wright is" and a cartoon-style wooden bust of his likeness.

In addressing the gathering, Wright, a fluid public speaker known for linguistic flourishes, was momentarily left speechless, but quickly recovered. "I hope this doesn't mean I'm a blockhead," he quipped.

Also on hand for the party were Sherry Watson, mayor of Wright's hometown of Weatherford, and Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce Chairman John M. Stevenson.

Schools in session; flu affecting some

Representatives from local schools said today that enrollment has changed little, if at all, from enrollment prior to Christmas break, though Forsan Superintendent J.F. Poyner pointed out that the first semester does not end until Jan. 16.

Poyner, who reported that enrollment in Forsan schools may show a slight increase, said most students wouldn't move until after the completion of the first semester. Poyner added, however, that he didn't expect any significant change in enrollment at Forsan.

Big Spring High School Principal Murray Murphy said enrollment was "about the same as when we left." Murray reported there has facilities," Alexander said.

Executive Director Powell criticized the Reagan administration's proposed cutbacks in VA medical care as his organization released a report on the impact of recent policy changes affecting health care for veterans.

"The Reagan administration persists in its efforts to shift its moral and fiscal responsibilities to others, and the VA health care budget is a prime example," Powell said in a statement.

The association's study said that the VA medical system "may not be able to serve a major safety-net function" in providing care to poor veterans who have few alternatives for care.

Witnesses help case

NEW YORK — Newly located witnesses to the racial attack that left a black man dead have helped prosecutors, but a key suspect's statement may have been improperly obtained, according to an official and a published report.

Police, attempting to bolster a case weakened by a surviving victim's refusal to testify, have located some of the 24 people who reported the Dec. 20 attack on three black men, said Tom McCarthy, spokesman for District Attorney John J. Santucci.

After being attacked by a group of whites, one of the blacks was struck and killed by a car as he tried to flee.

McCarthy would not provide details on the new witnesses. Police said 22 of the 24 calls were made by motorists along the highway where 23-year-old Michael Griffith was killed.

McCarthy said he did not believe the witnesses can identify the assailants.

Train siren disabled

CHASE, Md. — A siren in the cab that could have warned a Conrail engineer to slow down had been disabled before he passed working signal lights into the path of an Amtrak passenger train that derailed, killing 15 people, according to authorities and a published report.

The Washington Post, quoting sources close to the investigation, reported in today's editions that a shrill whistle on the Conrail locomotive designed to alert train crews that they have passed slow-down signals had been disabled with "clean, fresh tape."

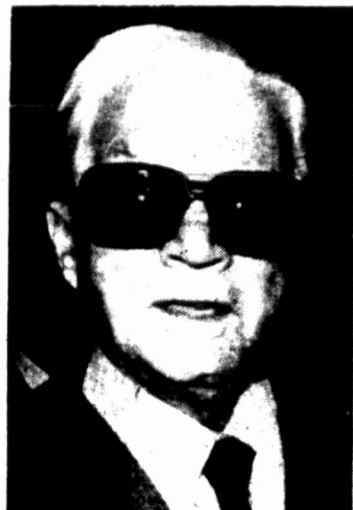

The whistle essentially duplicates the function of the cab signal lights, the newspaper said. Train crew members sometimes silence or muffle the whistle to avoid the annoyance, according to some engineers.

Spy sells to Israelis

WASHINGTON — Admitted spy Jonathan Jay Pollard, using code names and secret meetings, sold thousands of pages of highly sensitive U.S. military documents to a sophisticated Israeli spy ring, the government says.

In a court brief urging a long prison term for the former Navy intelligence analyst, the Justice Department describes an Israeli spy ring that obtained classified descriptions of Soviet missiles, secret satellite photos and information about U.S. intelligence operations.

Pollard, who had access to some of the nation's most closely guarded military secrets, fed his Israeli contacts a steady diet of daily message and cable traffic rich with "details about U.S. snip positions, aircraft stations, tactics and training operations."

A crane winches a blazing car, above, from the scene of a car bomb attack on former Lebanese President Camille Chamoun in Christian East Beirut today. 86-year-old Chamoun, upper left, narrowly escaped death in the fourth attempt on his life. Three of his body guards and a civilian were killed in the blast which was detonated by remote control.

Chamoun escapes assassination attempt

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Former President Camille Chamoun narrowly escaped an assassination attempt today when a car bomb exploded as his motorcade drove by. Police said three bodyguards and a pedestrian were killed and 35 passers-by were wounded.

"God is protecting us," Chamoun, 86, said in a steady voice on Voice of Lebanon radio after being released from a hospital where he was treated for shrapnel wounds on the face and hands. "I believe in the Virgin Mary, whose icon I always wear on my chest. She protects me."

Police said it was the fourth assassination attempt against Chamoun, a Maronite Catholic, since 1968. He was president from 1952-58 and now is finance minister.

A blue Peugeot laden with 165 pounds of explosives was detonated by remote control at 9:30 a.m. as Chamoun's motorcade passed by in Christian east Beirut's Mattahen industrial district, police said.

The force of the blast hurled Chamoun's bulletproof gray Mercedes-Benz about 20 yards off the road, police said.

"But it miraculously landed on its wheels and he survived along with his driver," said one police official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The bodyguards' car took the brunt of the blast, which carved a crater six feet deep and 14 feet wide in the road, the official said. Twenty-six other cars were destroyed, and glass shards littered the road for a 300-yard radius, witnesses said.

There was no immediate claim of responsibility for the bombing. Chamoun was rushed to Hotel Dieu Hospital and was released two hours later.

President Amin Gemayel, also a Christian, drove down from his suburban hilltop government palace in Baabda to the hospital to make certain Chamoun was not in danger. He and Chamoun emerged together from the hospital's main gate.

Inspectors eye hotels

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Fire inspectors today began checking Puerto Rico's largest hotels for safety violations as part of an effort to make sure the catastrophic blaze at the Dupont Plaza Hotel never recurs.

Survivors of the New Year's Eve inferno that killed 96 people have said they had little warning and there seemed to be no evacuation plan. More than 140 people were injured in the fire.

Inspectors were determining the extent of fire precautions at the island's largest hotel, the Caribe Hilton, as well as the Condado Plaza, the Quality Royale and the Ramada Inn. The hotels being checked are among the most familiar to the several million tourists from the U.S. mainland who visit this Caribbean island each year.

Afghan aid must end

MOSCOW — Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze said today in Kabul Soviet troop withdrawal from Afghanistan "is not far off," but that first U.S. support for the guerrillas there from "freedom-loving cowboys" must end.

Shevardnadze and Afghan leader Najibullah said in a joint communique today, after two days of meetings in the Afghan capital, that a timetable for withdrawal of the estimated 115,000 Soviet soldiers in Afghanistan can be decided through indirect, U.N.-sponsored talks between Afghanistan and Pakistan.

Such talks have been going on since 1982. A new session is scheduled in Geneva on Feb. 11. Today's communique, published by the Tass news agency, appeared to mark a softening of the Soviet position. The Kremlin had insisted a timetable for withdrawal could be discussed only between Moscow and Kabul.

Envoy talks to Hussein

AMMAN, Jordan — U.S. envoy Richard Murphy met today with King Hussein as he began his thorny mission of trying to revive the Middle East peace process.

The U.S. assistant secretary of state went to Hussein's Al-Nadwa palace overlooking the city for a luncheon session with the monarch. There was no immediate word on the outcome of the talks, which followed a morning meeting with Prime Minister Zaid Rifai.

Murphy, who is fluent in Arabic and popular in the Middle East, arrived Tuesday night on the first stop of a three-nation tour. He was met at the airport by a ranking Foreign Ministry official rather than by a Cabinet minister.

It was not clear if the level of the reception, correct in protocol terms but lower than in the past, was related to the disclosure of U.S. arms sales to Iran.

Anti-poverty needs ideas

The federal anti-poverty effort is a wasteful jumble of 59 major and 40 minor programs.

The major programs alone cost more than $132 billion a year. It's said that Washington could cut that outlay in half and lift everyone above the poverty level simply by handing the cash directly to poor people.

Recently, White House domestic policy chief Charles Hobbs unveiled proposals that would (1) inject efficiency into the vast program, and (2) attempt to accomplish what existing programs have failed to do: help an underclass unured to poverty and welfare achieve independence.

Pessimists and critics are quick to point out that President Reagan's hope to accomplish with welfare reform what was achieved this year with tax reform doesn't have a chance because of the recent Democratic electoral victory in the Senate and the arms-to-Iran issue.

We believe it would be wrong to sentence welfare reform to a stalemate because there is a strong public constituency in favor of it.

The key to Mr. Hobbs' proposal is to hand over to state and local officials greater discretion on spending antipoverty money. As matter stand, state and local departments are restricted by 6,000 pages of federal laws and regulations.

The federal money would continue to be there, but local officials would be encouraged to experiment in the restructuring of public assistance.

The administration's initiative is prompted by promising welfare reform experiments already operating in several states.

For instance, last year California's Democratic-led Legislature and Republican Gov. George Deukmejian's administration joined forces to enact a workfare program that will be fully implemented in 1990.

The California program, called GAIN for Greater Avenues for Independence, will give recipients a choice of education, work or training programs. They also will be given transportation, childcare and clothing allowances.

Upon completion of training, GAIN participants will be assisted in finding jobs during a certain period. If unsuccessful, they may then be assigned work with public agencies or non-profit private groups.

Critics of such a program say it is somehow demeaning to require the poor to earn their welfare benefits. We disagree. Government has a moral obligation both to recipients and taxpayers to help able-bodied recipients develop the skills required to become part of the work force instead of depending on a payment and social-service system.

A similar program in Massachusetts is expected to save millions of dollars this year.

The Reagan administration's initiative would encourage more such creative approaches to the cumbersome, costly welfare system, and we urge Congress to give it strong consideration.

Today in history

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 7, the seventh day of 1987. There are 358 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Jan. 7, 1789, the first presidential election in the United States was held. Americans voted for electors who, a month later, chose George Washington to be the nation's first president.

On this date: In 1536, Catherine of Aragon, the first wife of England's King Henry VIII, died.

In 1610, the astronomer Galileo sighted four of Jupiter's moons. In 1782, the first commercial bank in the United States, the Bank of North America, opened in Philadelphia.

In 1800, the 13th President of the United States, Millard Fillmore, was born in Summerhill, N.Y.

In 1927, commercial transatlantic telephone service was inaugurated between New York and London.

In 1942, the World War II siege of Bataan started. In 1953, President Harry S. Truman announced in his State of the Union address that the United States had developed a hydrogen bomb.

In 1959, the United States recognized Fidel Castro's new government in Cuba.

In 1980, the Soviet Union vetoed a United Nations Security Council resolution protesting the massive Soviet intervention in Afghanistan.

Ten years ago: President-elect Jimmy Carter and Democratic congressional leaders said they had reached general agreement on a package designed to stimulate the economy.

Five years ago: President Reagan announced he had decided to continue peacetime draft registration, but added that his decision did not foreshadow the return of the draft itself.

Khomeini named world's most dangerous leader

By JACK ANDERSON and DALE VAN ATTA

WASHINGTON — For the second consecutive year, we nominate the messianic mullah of Iran, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, as the world's most dangerous leader.

A year ago, world attention — and American ire — was focused on Libya's Moammar Gadhafi. We fired off a fusillade of nine columns last January, warning that Khomeini, not Gadhafi, was the real threat.

"Khomeini is our public enemy No. 1," we warned. We charged that he was directing an undeclared war against the United States — a low-scale, low-cost, low-risk, underground war against Americans everywhere.

We reported that the ayatollah is training professional terrorists in the deadly arts of assassination, sabotage and subversion. We named the Iranian leaders who are responsible for the killings and kidnappings of Americans. We provided explicit details, including the locations of the most important terrorist nests.

We told how terrorists, acting on instructions from Tehran, had bombed the U.S. Embassy and Marine Corps barracks in Lebanon. We charged that the same terrorists had kidnapped and tortured Americans, particularly CIA official William Buckley, who died from the savage treatment. We described the terrorist headquarters — a former schoolhouse in downtown Baalbek — where these outrages were planned. We cited intercepted messages as an indisputable source of our information.

We charged that terrorists are masquerading as Iranian diplomats, with diplomatic credentials and immunity. No less than Khomeini's ambassador to the Vatican, Ayatollah Khosrow-Shahi, is believed to direct terrorist operations in Western Europe. Finally, we warned that an "underground Iranian network of potential murderers and saboteurs is being built up in this country," with "at least 100 trained Khomeini agents already in place."

To stoke the fires in the bellies of his radical followers, meanwhile, Khomeini keeps up a constant campaigned of defiant gestures, public blackguardings and terrorist attacks, hoping that the United States will continue to be a tolerant punching bag.

Yet he has demonstrated that he's really "afraid of U.S. military wrath," we wrote on Jan. 12. When his provocations start rousing Americans to action, Khomeini quickly seeks to head off the consequences through quiet negotiations. On two occasions, we reported, he "scrambled to end a hostage situation when it became clear that the United States had set military intervention in motion."

But President Reagan followed a pattern of selective prudence, making moves that obviated the need for action. We wrote on Jan. 19 that Khomeini's anti-American animus was "as visible in advance as a sandstorm whirling on a desert horizon." Yet the policymakers in Washington, we complained, seemed to have "a schoolboy's crush" on radicals like Khomeini.

We learned that the White House was making secret overtures to Iran and spoke to the president about our concerns on Feb. 24. We agreed not to publish his reply until the hostages were freed, but we don't think it violated the agreement to say he defended the necessity of appeasing Iran.

Apparently, the president hoped to bolster the "moderates" around Khomeini, neutralize Iran and prevent a dangerous escalation that could jeopardize the Western world's oil supply. He feared Khomeini had created a crescendo that, given one final spark, could ignite a conflagration that would sweep Islamic world.

Still, we remained unconvinced and broke the story of Reagan's secret "tilt toward Iran" on April 28. We reported that "Washington has been quietly conciliatory in the behind-the-scenes negotiations with Iran over the American hostages held by pro-Iranian terrorists" but that "this dramatic, subterranean shift in policy toward Iran goes beyond the fate of the hostages into the realm of global geopolitics." The president is convinced, we reported, "that an effort must be made to establish relations with Ayatollah Khomeini."

Meanwhile, the ayatollah continues to sulk contentiously in his holy city of "Qom. He is a strange protagonist: ancient, cheerless, decrepit, with glowering black eyes and a long, white, patriarchal beard, his face darkened into an angry cast, with a classic condemnatory scowl."

He is a determined religious zealot driven at once by idealism and hatred, a usurper who justifies himself as the avenger of Allah. He has stirred up a mass following at home and craves one throughout Islam.

Thus he remains our candidate as the world's most dangerous leader.

MINI-EDITORIAL: Has Shirley MacLaine been visiting Vermont incognito? Larry Carrara, the celebrated farmer whose cow, Jessica, has had a thing going with a young bull moose for the last two months, reports that a woman who came to look at the dynamic duo suggested that the moose's interest in his odd surroundings had nothing to do with lust for Jessica, but with reincarnation. She said the moose was probably someone close to him, and Carrara said by golly, maybe it was his old granddad, who bought the family farm and died 12 years ago. Said Carrara: "This thing is so crazy I think anything's open for discussion." Ayup.

Guest columnist Comforting lies are in vogue

By DONALD KAUL
They tell you that they like people who speak out, who tell the truth. In school they tell you that, also in business, in politics, too. Scratch a powerful man and you get a recording saying: "I don't like 'yes men.' Give me someone who'll speak his mind every time." Don't believe it, any of it. People enjoy blunt outspokenness only as a spectator sport. When they are on the receiving end of information, they prefer warm, comforting lies. That is true of us as individuals, it is true of us as a nation.

Take the budget deficit, for example. Our national debt is no longer enormous — that was last Tuesday — it is gigantic, and counting. Economists are walking around like Oriental holy men, chanting "Something must be done. Something must be done."

As all but a few crackbrains in the White House agree, we will not be able to bring the federal budget into balance simply by cutting things out of it. It is not politically possible and it's not such a good idea on its merit either. There are a lot of good things in the federal budget. Taxes will have to be raised, that's the consensus. But are politicians talking about raising taxes? Not a bit.

Rep. James C. Wright Jr., the incoming speaker of the House, made the merest suggestion that the next Congress should look toward the mildest of tax rises — a barely noticeable soak-the-rich proposal — and he was booed down by his shocked colleagues. It would be wrong to make rich people pay higher taxes, they said, a breach of faith. The American people wouldn't stand for it.

And the funny thing is, they're probably right. The American people don't want to hear about the deficit and disaster down the road. They want to hear that their taxes are being cut and that everything is going to be all right.

People, whatever they tell pollsters, are generally happy with the way things are going. In last November's election 98 percent of the incumbents who ran for reelection to the House were, indeed, re-elected.

The same thing is true of the "private sector" of the economy; big business. We had a remarkable example of it last month at General Motors.

GM kicked H. Ross Perot off its board of directors and spent $750 million buying him out of his GM stock at an inflated price just to keep him from blurring out the truth from time to time. That was part of the deal; he had to agree to stop criticizing the company's management.

GM executives get a new car to drive every three months, and not just any old new car either. It goes through a special service to ensure roadworthiness. As Perot pointed out, that also ensures that GM executives have no idea of what kind of car their company was turning out for the public. They might try taking a car off the rack occasionally, he said.

The thing is, GM needs H. Ross Perot more than he needs GM. The firm, which once stood astride the automotive world like a colossus, is beginning to look more like a dinosaur in the last stages of extinction. It is being forced to close plants and lay off workers because people don't want to buy its cars. In the last quarter all the other American automakers showed healthy sales increases. GM lost sales.

You would think that in times like that GM executives would be grateful for advice. No, not when the advice is to cut out bonuses.

We are a nation of optimists and, through the years, the trait has served us well. However, there's a fine line between optimism and withdrawal into a rosy unreality that blots out oncoming disaster.

What this country needs is less positive thinking and more thinking.

Toddler's disappearance is eye opener

DEAR READERS: How safe is your child in his or her crib? Well, listen to this:

A 58-year-old California woman was taking her usual early morning walk when she spotted a tiny toddler in his pajamas, crawling, walking and toddling merrily on his way down the sidewalk! She immediately called the police who came at once and took the bright-eyed, happy little adventurer into custody.

It seems that Sean, a 20-month-old youngster, had simply crawled over the side of his crib and escaped to the outside through the doggie door, wandering a half-mile from home.

When his parents awakened at 7:30 a.m. to discover that their child was not in his crib, they searched the house, panicked, then notified the police. Eight patrol cars equipped with bullhorns conducted a street-by-street search in the area of his home, but were unable to locate him.

The parents never dreamed this could happen to them, but it did. Could it happen in your home?

By the way, they have not owned a pet in some time, and you can be sure that the doggie door has been nailed shut!

Now that nature has built more acrobatic and resourceful children, perhaps the manufacturers of baby furniture will build a better crib from which Houdini himself could not escape.

DEAR ABBY: My mother and father were divorced 15 years ago. My father has remarried, my mother has not. I lived with my mother after the divorce, but visited my father, and we remained close.

I have been married for four years. My mother thinks that when I invite her to a party at my home, I should let her know if my father was also invited as she does not want to attend if he will be there. She attended my wedding with no complaints, knowing that my father was going to be there.

It's my house, and my party, and I don't feel I'm obligated to tell my mother who else is coming. Don't you agree?

THEIR SON

DEAR SON: You are not "obligated" to tell your mother who's coming, but since she asks if her ex-husband (whom she clearly does not want to see) will be there, as a kind and considerate host, you should tell her.

(To get Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old," send a check or money order for $2.50 and a long stamped (39 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 47, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054.)

NARVE to install officers

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees (NARVE) will conduct their monthly meeting Jan. 8 at 9:30 a.m. at the Kentwood Older Adult Activity Center.

Fellowship with coffee and pastries will begin the meeting and officers for 1987 will be installed.

Mayor Cotton Mize will be the program speaker and will discuss what 1987 has in store for Big Spring.

Preceding the program, there will be a short business session which will include a legislative report of interest to both federal retirees and federal employees. The public is invited to attend.

Antihistamine helps to control angioedema

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My husband has a peculiar allergy. Periodically, his tongue swells to great size, which makes swallowing difficult. I have rushed him to the hospital time after time. He has had many tests and no cause can be found. He takes Benadryl, which eases the swelling after a time. Now a new problem has arisen. His lips and jaw swell. This has taken three days to subside. Have you heard of this condition, and if so, what causes it? We are at our wit's end. — S.K.

Dr. Donohue

Your husband has angioedema. Leakage of fluid from blood vessels causes it, and allergy often causes the leakage. Your husband belongs to the unfortunate group of people with it in whom no specific trigger can be found. The most common allergens are drugs, foods (shellfish and nuts especially), antibiotics, and even physical things, like cold weather, exercise, or sunlight. In a few people, such hives may be associated with illnesses, like lupus.

People with the problem keep antihistamines (your husband's Benadryl) on hand for the first signs of an episode. And if one antihistamine isn't doing the job, a combination of two different antihistamines sometimes works.

I can be a bit more specific with regard to medicine. The combination of an antihistamine with cimetidine, the ulcer drug, can sometimes abort such reactions.

That might be a surprise, but in addition to its stomach acid-blocking ability, cimetidine is also an antihistamine. This can help in recurring angioedema.

Your husband's case seems extra severe. It looks to be severe enough for you to inquire about getting a special emergency kit to keep at home and to take on trips.

THE BOX IS FOR PEOPLE WHO CARE ABOUT THEIR BUDGET!

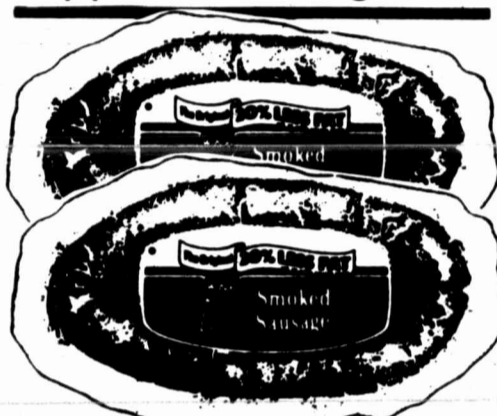

That might sound a bit silly, but it is true. The Box is the sort of store where people who are money conscious go to shop. And a money conscious person is not necessarily poor or rich. They are simply the people who refuse to spend their income without getting as much as possible in return for every dollar spent. Another word for a Box shopper is practical.

The Box takes a very practical approach to groceries. We keep everything — our store, our advertising, our services — as simple and inexpensive as possible. We don't invest in fancy displays or silly come-ons or even in a nice background music system, because it all costs money. And why spend money when you get nothing in return. After all, what do you get for spending money on a gimmicky display for products? What kind of a return do you receive for piped-in music? Or for any of those other things, like giveaways or stamps? The answer is a big fat zero.

If The Box had all those things, two things would happen. First, we would have to charge more. Second, it would make The Box just like all those other supermarkets. And our shoppers wouldn't like that. After all, Box shoppers care about their budgets. They're practical folks. That's why they shop at a practical store — The Box. Shouldn't you be shopping with us, too? Come on in today and get practical!

Customs seizes $16.58 million

McALLEN — U.S. Customs agents in the agency's southwest district seized a record $16.58 million in currency last year and officials say the increase reflects a shift in narcotics trafficking.

The increase from 1985's currency seizures of $14.15 million in the four-state region of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma also represents continued economic turmoil in Mexico, said Customs spokesman Charles Conroy in Houston.

Some of the millions of dollars in "monetary instruments" seized last year is "flight money" from Mexico, Conroy said.

And some of the millions in U.S., Mexican and other foreign currencies taken in 296 arrests last year is drug money, he said.

Conroy said most of the currency, checks, bonds and money orders confiscated by agents in the four states are seized along the Texas-Mexico border.

He said the Rio Grande Valley may be the region's busiest for illegal currency. It also is one of the agency's busiest for illicit drugs.

A shift in drug-trafficking from Florida to the western Gulf Coast has meant a shift "in the money that goes along with it," he said.

Clements: fines may be avoided

AUSTIN — Texas may be able to head off a federal judge's threat to fine the state up to $800,500 a day for failing to carry out prison reforms, says Gov.-elect Bill Clements.

Clements plans to meet Friday with U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice, who this week found the state in contempt of court for failing to complete reforms dating back to 1981.

Justice ruled that unless the improvements were made by March 31, fines would begin April 1. Assistant Attorney General F. Scott McCown said the fines could total up to $24 million a month.

But Clements said through a spokesman Tuesday that he hopes Justice can be persuaded not to levy the fines.

"He believes that Judge Justice wants what everybody else wants, and that is to solve the problem," said Reggie Bashur, Clements' press secretary. "If it is shown clearly and convincingly to the judge that the state is doing everything it can, then he won't levy any fines."

The spokesman said Clements, who will take office Jan. 20, was reviewing Justice's 100-page order Tuesday and would "reserve judgment on the specifics of the citation until after the (Friday) meeting."

The court ordered the reforms — including hiring of more guards and medical personnel — after an inmate sued the Texas Department of Corrections a decade ago over conditions in the nation's second-largest prison system.

Justice's latest ruling against the prisons came a year after inmates' lawyers filed a motion contending that Texas was in contempt of a settlement it agreed to in July 1985.

Town votes against alcohol and store

NOVICE (AP) — The owner of the only grocery store in this West Texas town says she will pursue a goal of selling beer and wine despite a vote against the proposal.

Voters rejected alcohol sales in the town of 200 in a 53-41 vote Tuesday, even though the owner of Novice Grocery and Cattle Company had said she would have to close her doors if they did.

Despite the election loss, Martha Smith said she isn't ready to shut down.

"I'm not going to close my doors immediately," she said. "I've just got to find some way to keep it open. I don't give up on anything."

She said she may try to have another election if she can get another petition.

"I've got to do something because I'm at the point where I have to do something," she said.

Election Judge Laudy Piptard said the issue brought a "heavy turnout" of voters. She said about 110 were registered to vote.

Coleman County commissioners scheduled the election after Ms. Smith complained her store, which caters to many elderly residents, would not survive unless she was allowed to sell beer and wine.

The measure was opposed by members of Novice's three churches — the Church of Christ, the Baptist Church and the Methodist Church. All three paid for an ad placed in the Coleman Chronicle and Democrat-Voice asking Novice residents to vote against beer and wine sales.

"I paid $90 for an ad and let everybody know I was against it, so I'm very happy with the outcome," said David Coffman, minister of Novice's Church of Christ.

Ms. Smith said the ad probably hurt her attempt to get the measure passed.

"We didn't really get out and campaign for the issue," she said.

Because of the economic slump, Ms. Smith said she has been unable to pay her bills. She said closing the store would hurt elderly residents who depend on her to deliver them groceries.

But Coffman said alcohol sales are not the answer.

"I am sorry the girl is having difficulties economically ... but I can't see we can sacrifice to keep the store open."

Novice is about 40 miles south of Abilene.

Simmer a special soup to warm a winter day

By CARLEEN EVERETT
Lifestyle Editor

On a chilly winter day, there's nothing like a steaming bowl of homemade soup to warm you.

Making soup can be creative. Almost any poultry, meat or meaty bones can serve as a starter, and any mix of favorite vegetables can add variety, color and pleasing texture. The flexibility of homemade soup preparation makes it a real favorite with innovative cooks who enjoy trying new flavors and combinations.

Recipe exchange

CREAMY CHEESE SOUP

1 small onion, diced
1 cup grated carrot
1 cup celery thinly sliced
1 tsp. chicken bouillon granules
1 cup hot tap water
4 tsp. butter or margarine
4 tsp. flour
1 tsp. salt
2 cups milk
1 cup (4 oz.) cheddar cheese, shredded

In 2 quart covered casserole combine onion, carrot, celery, bouillon and hot water. Mix together, cover and microwave 8-10 minutes until tender. In 2-quart glass casserole melt butter or margarine for 30 seconds. Stir in flour to make smooth paste, add salt. Gradually stir in milk. Microwave 8-10 minutes, stirring or whisking with wire whisk every 2 minutes until mixture boils and thickens. Add undrained vegetables and cheese. Stir until cheese melts. Reheat if necessary to desired temperature and serve.

Yield: 4 1/2 cup servings.

TRIPLE BEAN CHOWDER

1/2 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
6 tsp. all-purpose flour
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/8 tsp. garlic powder
4 cups milk
1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed chicken broth
1 can (15 1/2 oz.) garbanzo beans,

Saute' onion and celery in butter in large saucepan until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in flour, Worcestershire and seasonings until smooth. Remove from heat and gradually stir in milk and condensed broth. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Add beans and simmer, uncovered for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally.

CREAMY FRENCH ONION SOUP

Onion Soup:
3 tsp. butter
4 cups thinly sliced onions
1 tsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. pepper

3 tsp. all-purpose flour
2 cans (10 1/2-oz. each) beef bouillon, undiluted
1 tsp. cooking sherry
2 1/2 cups milk
Toast Sandwiches:
4 slices Vienna bread, cut 1 1/2 inches thick
Butter
1/4 cup (1 oz.) crumbled blue cheese
4 slices (1-oz. each) mozzarella cheese

For soup, melt butter in heavy saucepan; add onions. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Uncover; stir in sugar and pepper. Cook over medium-high heat until onions are a deep golden brown, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; stir in flour. Add bouillon and sherry, stirring constantly. Simmer, covered for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in milk. Heat to serving temperature. Do not boil.

For cheese toast sandwiches, toast bread on both sides. Butter lightly and sprinkle 1 tsp. blue cheese on each slice toast. Top each with 1 slice mozzarella cheese. Broil until cheese is melted. Serve soup in heated bowls. Top each bowl with one cheese toast sandwich.
Yield: 5 cups

SEAFOOD CHOWDER

3/4 cup chopped green onion with tops
1 tsp. butter
2 cups cubed potatoes
1 lb. halibut filets, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 cup water
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash pepper

1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 cup milk
1 pkg. (8 oz.) frozen cooked and cleaned shrimp defrosted (about 1 3/4 cups)
1/2 tsp. tarragon
1/4 tsp. chervil
1/4 cup chopped parsley
6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled

Saute' onion in butter until lightly browned. Add potatoes, halibut, water, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Cover; simmer 10 to 15 minutes or just until potatoes are tender. Gradually stir in soup, milk, shrimp, tarragon and chervil. Bring to serving temperature over low heat, stirring occasionally. Do not boil. Stir in parsley and crumbled bacon.

SOUPS page 12A

Creamy Chicken-Vegetable Soup is a robust winter warmer that's just right for today's lighter style of eating. Brimming with vegetables and chock-full of chicken, the flavors of this substantial soup are highlighted with the addition of one-of-a-kind Miracle Whip salad dressing.

Soups

MUSHROOM AND ONION SOUP

8 ounces fresh mushrooms, rinsed and patted dry
2 tbsp. butter
1 medium onion, finely diced (1/2 cup)
2 tbsp. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
116 tsp. pepper
10 1/2-oz. can condensed chicken broth, undiluted
1 1/4 cups milk

In a food processor with the coarse shredding disk, coarsely grate mushrooms; or knife-chop coarsely. There should be about 3 cups.

In a medium saucepan melt the butter; add the onion and cook gently, stirring often, until golden brown and tender. Add mushrooms and cook rapidly, stirring often, until wilted — have heat high enough so mushrooms do not give off their liquid. Stir in the flour, salt and pepper. Off heat, gradually stir in the broth and milk, keeping smooth. Over moderate heat, stirring constantly, cook until thickened.

Makes: 3 1/2 cups.

Note: Because this soup is a gray color, you may want to sprinkle servings of it with minced fresh parsley or chives.

CREAMY CHICKEN-VEGETABLE SOUP

12 1/2 to 3-lb broiler-fryer, cut up
2 13 1/2-oz. can chicken broth
1/2 cup chopped celery with leaves
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 bay leaf

2 cups cuped potatoes
1 10-oz. frozen peas
1 cup cubed turnip
1 cup carrot slices
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup Miracle Whip salad dressing
In Dutch oven combine chicken, broth, celery, onions, and bay leaf. Bring to boil; reduce heat. Cover; simmer 45 minutes. Remove chicken from broth; cool. Remove meat from bones; discard bones. Chop meat; reserve. Remove bay leaf. Add vegetables and pepper to broth. Bring to boil; reduce heat.

Cover; simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Stir in chicken and salad dressing; heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Makes: 8 1-cup servings Variation: Omit turnips. Increase potatoes to 2 cups.

1 can (about 16 oz.) mixed vegetables, drained
In saucepan, cook chili powder and cumin in butter a few minutes. Add soup and vegetables. Heat stirring occasionally. Makes about 2 1/2 cups, 3 servings.

2 tomatoes, diced
1/4 cup picante sauce
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 medium green peppers, chopped
2 small cucumbers, diced
Croutons

Combine 1 cup of the broth, onion, lemon juice, oil and salt in food processor or blender; process until smooth. Transfer to large bowl. Add tomato juice, remaining beef broth, celery, tomatoes, picante sauce and pepper; mix well. Chill at least 3 hours. Top each serving with green pepper, cucumber and croutons.
Makes 8 servings, about 12 cups soup.

When time is short, dishes like Hacienda Stew are real winners. Mexican seasonings, chunky sirloin burger soup and mixed vegetables make it happen fast.

Big Spring sweeps Snyder Tigers

Young scores 32; Steers win 73-65

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

Last Saturday night Big Spring guard Charles Young scored just nine points, 11 below his average. He realized after the game he had been swinging his elbow out on his shot. Before Tuesday night's game against Snyder, Young resolved to keep that elbow home.

The elbow must have stayed put. Young nailed 15 of 23 shots from the field, most on long jumpers, to score 32 points in leading the Steers to a 73-65 win over a tough Snyder Tigers team at crowded Steer gym.

"This time out I had a different attitude. My confidence started building and I was feeling good so I just put the ball in the hole," Young said after the game.

"My coach (Boyce Paxton) has been telling me I was dribbling too much, so I started looking more for my teammates. I want them to do good. I want it to be a team effort," he added, with four assists to back it up.

Young put on a show in the first quarter as he hit five of his wristy, left handed jumpers for ten points. He and junior forward Brian Mayfield scored 16 of the Steers' first 18 points as the Steers built a 18-14 lead early in the second quarter.

The Steers' fast break, which was their biggest advantage over the Tigers all night, took off in the second quarter. One 30 second stretch typified the Big Spring's effort.

Late in the second quarter, Cedric Banks grabbed one of his game high 11 offensive rebounds and put it back in. The Tigers tried to fast break, but Banks stole the ball at their end, raced upcourt and fed to Young, who made an incredible layup directly under the goal while sandwiched between two Tiger defenders.

The half ended on a Shawn Shellman buzzer shot to give the Steers a 37-32 lead. Young scored 18 in the half.

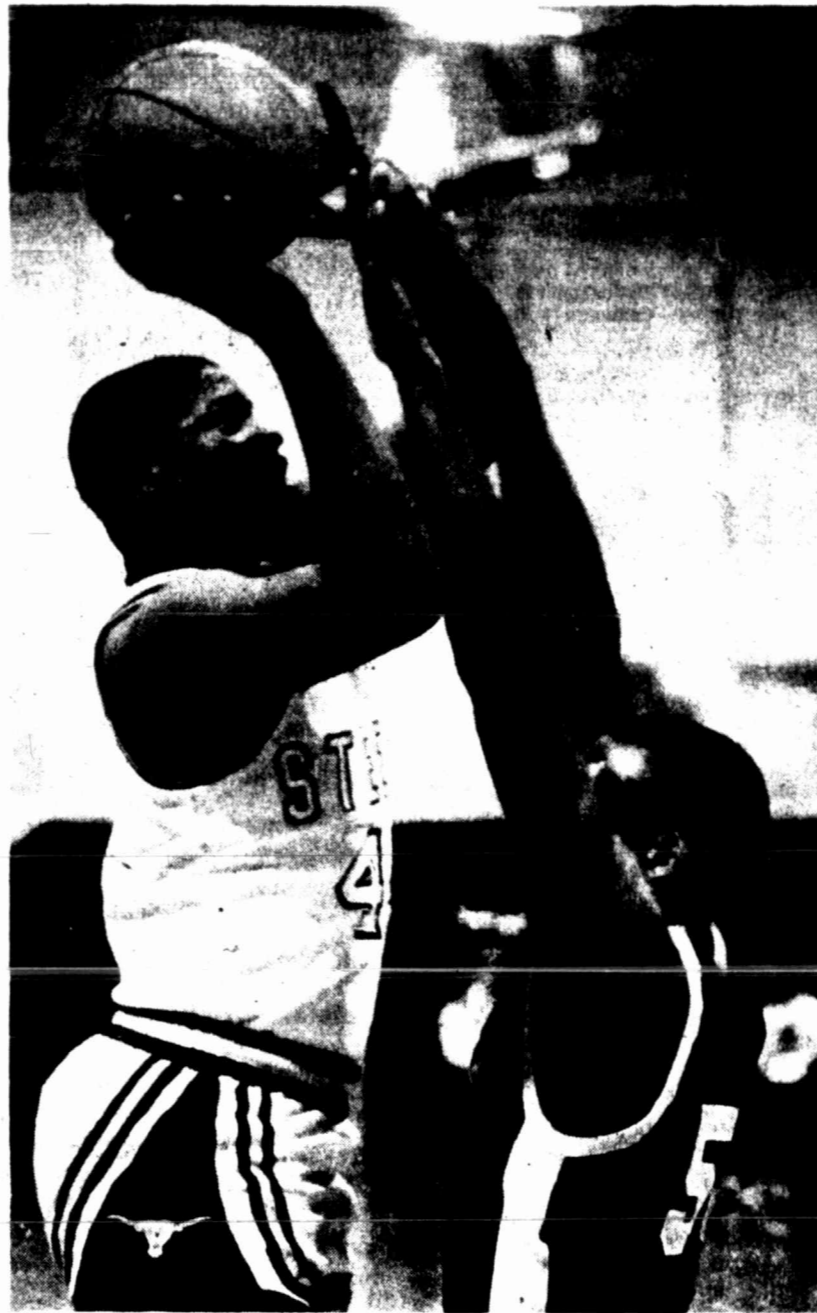

In the third quarter it was more of the same, as Young scored six more and Banks continued his hustling play on both ends to give the Steers a 53-42 lead going into the final stanza. But in the last minute of the quarter, Steers' forward Sidney Parker picked up his fourth foul and Mayfield his third.

Neither Mayfield nor Parker had their best games offensively, but they stayed busy covering Snyder's twin towers, 6-6 Chris Garrett and 6-4 Trey Tippens. Early in the fourth quarter Mayfield looked like a football safety as he blazed to catch a Snyder fast break, blocking the shot but wiping out the Tiger for his fourth foul.

The Tigers cut the Steers' lead to 57-55 at the 4:23 mark, but a cool Young swished a 20-foot jumper for a little Big Spring breathing room. Moments later Mayfield hit a short baseline jumper after leaping over a pack of Tigers.

Banks, again typical of his effort, followed on the next trip down with a rebound and a put in. The hustling senior was fouled on the play, and converted the three-point play to give the Steers a 64-57 lead with 2:23 remaining.

Steers' coach Boyce Paxton was particularly pleased with the play STEERS page 3B

Reserves to rescue; Lady Steers romp

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

SNYDER — With three of his top players out of the game, Big Spring Lady Steers basketball coach C.E. Carmichael got a good chance to test the strength of his bench. His reserves came through like champs as the Lady Steers downed the Snyder Tigers 53-34 Tuesday night in Snyder High School gym.

The Lady Steers were already without starting forward Sheri Myrick, who had knee surgery earlier this week. Carmichael started 5-3 freshman guard Peggy Smith in the 6-1 Myrick's place. Smith responded well against Snyder pressure and the Lady Steers did a good job of running their three-guard offense.

The Lady Steers' troubles mounted when leading scorer Teresa Pruitt fouled out with 5:22 left in the first half and Big Spring leading 18-9. Carmichael called on sophomore forward Kathryn Burrow to take her place.

Burrow played well, that is until she went down with a knee injury with 1:18 left in the third quarter and Big Spring leading 33-25. This time Carmichael called on another sophomore, Kelly Myles, to take her place. Myles filled in well and behind the strong play of junior guards Paige Clawson and Katrina Thompson, Big Spring went on to blow the Tigers out, outscoring them 20-9 in the last quarter.

"When Kathryn (Burrow) went down I thought I might have to put Sheri (Myrick), crutches and all in," laughed Carmichael. "But really, we came back against adversity and handled it like champions. This is as proud as I've ever been of any team I've coached in a long time."

Without Pruitt, the Lady Steers struggled with Snyder for three periods. Big Spring saw a 22-9 lead melt to a 33-25 lead going into the final quarter. That's when Thompson and Clawson took charge.

Clawson was almost one-woman wrecking crew. In the last period alone she scored 11 points, got three steals and dished off two assists. She led all scorers with 22 points.

Thompson killed the Tigers with her sure foul shooting and hard-nosed defense. She sank nine of 12 free throws and finished the game with 17 points, three steals, two assists and seven rebounds.

"Paige (Clawson) took over down the stretch and played great. She and Katrina (Thompson) were the only really experienced ones on the floor and we wanted them to get the ball. But our young players really played well, they didn't get rattled," said Carmichael.

As a team Big Spring shot well from the foul line, sinking 15 of 22 attempts for 68 percent, compared to Snyder's four of 12 for 33 percent.

Sophomore post player Tami Wise turned in a strong game for Big Spring. The six-footer grabbed a game-high 11 rebounds and scored six points.

The Lady Steers are now 16-3 overall and 6-0 in district play. Snyder falls to 10-7 and 2-3 in league play. The Lady Steers will

Wrestling comes to town

Superstars of the Universal Wrestling Federation, America's fastest growing sports entertainment business, are heading for Big Spring for the first UWF event tonight at 7:30 at Howard College Coliseum.

From across the Red River, former four time All American at the University of Oklahoma, Steve "Dr. Death" Williams will face archrival Freebird Terry "Bam Bam" Gordy in the main event grudge bout.

University of Texas-El Paso graduate Chavo Guerrero, a former high school wrestling coach in El Paso and one of the fastest rising stars in pro wrestling today, meets Jack Victory in the square circle and Gary Young takes on Rick Steiner, a former All-American at the University of Michigan.

Co-featured on the card is a Triple Jeopardy match, featuring the popular Fantastics against Mike George and "Dangerous" Art Crews. The first team to score two falls wins the match.

In the first bout, Fantastic Bobby Fulton takes on Crews while Fantastic Tommy Rogers and Mike George lock horns in the second bout. All four wrestlers participate in the third bout, if necessary.

Tickets can be purchased at the coliseum box office. Tickets are $10 for ringside; $7 for adult general admission and $4 for general admission for children, 12 years old and under.

Queens' Quarter

By DON STEVENS
HC Queens coach

The Queens are back from their holiday break and are presently involved in three-a-day workouts, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. This has been a very busy time for me as I have been involved with looking at and spotting possible recruits for next year. The Queens will lose six players this year to graduation and they must be replaced.

The Queens are presently 12 wins, 5 losses in overall play. While this is a respectable record, I feel that it should be much better. Three of the five losses were by margins of two points, and two games by three points. A 15-2 record would be much better than our 12-5 record.

In Conference play we currently stand at 2 wins and 2 losses. Poor and inconsistent play in December cost us dearly.

If tradition means anything, we always come back strong after the holidays and play much stronger down the stretch than early in the season. Hopefully, this year will follow that pattern.

We will get an early test in that respect. This weekend the Queens will be playing in the Odessa College Tournament and in the first game will take the floor against the 7th ranked team in the nation; Central Arizona. Rather than fear this situation, we look forward to it as an opportunity. It's fun and challenging to play great teams. The schedule for this tournament will appear later on the sports page. Conference Outlook: I still consider the conference championship up for grabs between as many as five teams, and we're included in that picture. Great balance, parity in talent, and split wins, will result in a topsy-turvy conference race. Being consistent, which to date has been our problem, will determine the eventual winner.

What lies ahead After the Odessa Tournament this weekend the Queens will have two open dates back-to-back. This means we will have a full week of much-needed work-outs after the tournament before starting conference play again. Our next conference game will be Jan. 19th at South Plains.

Old friends meeting in AFC title game

DENVER (AP) — In 1974, a local real estate salesman whose heart was in football spent countless hours hanging around Denver Broncos defensive coordinator Joe Collier.

They studied game films together, and the student watched Collier put together a defensive game plan, asking astute questions along the way.

"I knew he had a future in coaching if he wanted to get into it," Collier says today. "I don't know how successful (in business) he was that year, because he spent an awful lot of time with me."

The student was Marty Schottenheimer — failed real estate salesman and now the head coach of the Cleveland Browns.

On Sunday, Schottenheimer will put the lessons he learned to work against his old mentor when the Broncos meet the Browns in the AFC championship game in Cleveland.

"He got me started in the coaching business," Schottenheimer says of Collier. "I don't think there's a better defensive coach in the NFL."

Schottenheimer played for Collier when the latter was the head coach of the Buffalo Bills in the 1960s. Collier said Schottenheimer was a good special teams player but "never had the speed" to break into the starting lineup.

Schottenheimer retired from football after being cut by the Baltimore Colts in 1971, and found his way to Denver several years later, dabbling in real estate.

"I used to go to the Broncos offices and watch films with Joe and see how he put the information together," he says. "John Ralston was the head coach then."

"Marty spent a lot of time inside my head," says Collier, who eventually steered his former player to a coaching position with the Denver Broncos head coach Dan Reeves (right) is all smiles as he leaves the playing field with Broncos owner Pat Bowen after Sunday's victory over New England. Much of Denver's success can be credited to defensive coordinator Joe Collier.

Portland Storm of the World Football League.

He moved on to the NFL, coaching New York Giants' linebackers, and later went to Cleveland as defensive coordinator in 1980. He became the Browns' head coach midway through the 1984 season, replacing Sam Rutigliano.

Collier says Schottenheimer has

"all the right attributes you look for in a head coach — very intelligent, good motivator, good poise, pressure doesn't bother him. When he got into coaching, I had a good feeling he was going to be a head coach someday."

Having learned so much from Collier, does Schottenheimer have an advantage on Sunday?

"I think I'm familiar with about everything he does, but he knows I'm familiar with it so there's no advantage," Schottenheimer insists.

The pair have remained friends, talking shop by telephone as recently as "a couple of weeks ago," according to Collier. He doesn't, however, expect a call from Cleveland this week.

NCAA still pondering gridiron playoff plan

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The public is clamoring for it, and the media has rallied behind the cause.

Now, all they have to do is convince NCAA schools that a playoff to determine a major-college football champion is the right way to go.

Two years ago, the Postseason Football Committee took the idea of a football playoff to the member schools, who overwhelmingly rejected it in a straw poll.

Texas Athletic Director DeLoss Dodds, who will head a subcommittee that will reexamine the feasibility of a playoff, said circumstances have changed little since then. "One advantage we'll have this time is we'll know what happened with the Fiesta Bowl."

The intense interest in last week's Fiesta Bowl, which matched top-ranked Miami, Fla., against No. 2 Penn State, prompted the Postseason Football Committee to assign the subcommittee to study the playoff question.

Penn State beat Miami 14-10 in the Fiesta Bowl and was voted the national champion by voters in The Associated Press poll. Major-college football is the only NCAA sport which doesn't use a playoff system to determine a champion.

"In our discussions with the full committee this (Tuesday) morning, all of us felt just because of the interest in the Fiesta Bowl this year, the tremendous ratings and tremendous numbers of people watching ... our committee felt it was our responsibility at least to look into it," Dodds said.

Joining Dodds on the subcommittee will be John Swofford, athletic director at North Carolina; Glen Tuckett, athletic director at Brigham Young; and Carl James, commissioner of the Big Eight Conference.

The subcommittee will present its findings when the full committee meet April 8-10.

Any plan coming out of that committee would, in turn, have to be approved by two-thirds of the full NCAA membership. The earliest such a vote could be taken would be January 1988 during the next NCAA convention. Therefore, the earliest any playoff system could be in place would be January 1989.

"The postseason committee does not have jurisdiction of making decisions. That's left to the Council," said George S. King, Purdue's athletic director and chairman of the Postseason Football Committee.

Fueled by the popularity of the Fiesta Bowl, the idea of a collegiate football playoff has gained support.

"I feel there's a great deal of interest in a playoff from the public's standpoint and, from what I read, the media has an interest in it, too," Dodds said. "Up until this time, the institutions have not. I think it's the responsibility of my committee to come up with a plan just in case the institutions do want it."

One of the biggest proponents of a playoff system is Penn State Coach Joe Paterno.

New players lead Bullets to victory

By The Associated Press
 The Washington Bullets have a new player — Jay Vincent — and a new point guard — John Williams. Vincent, who was acquired by the Bullets in an off-season trade with the Dallas Mavericks, finally made a regular-season appearance in the Washington lineup, which was immediately changed by Coach Kevin Loughery. Williams, a 6-foot-9 rookie, was shifted from forward to point guard in the Bullets' 112-97 victory over Los Angeles Tuesday night, the Clippers' 13th consecutive defeat and 25th in 26 games. "This is what we wanted to accomplish in October," Loughery said of his new lineup. "But because of injuries and several other things, it did not come about." Vincent, who scored 23 points against the Clippers, suffered a ruptured tendon in his right ring finger in the first quarter of Washington's opening exhibition game. Williams scored nine points, grabbed six rebounds and handed out five assists as he saw time at point guard during his 29 minutes. Vincent may be able to take some of the scoring burden off the Malones — Moses and Jeff — either of whom has led the Bullets in scoring in 30 of 31 games this season. Moses Malone led the Bullets with 27 points in 28 minutes, while Jeff Malone had 23 points and seven assists. The Clippers led most of the first quarter but the Bullets went on a 23-8 run that produced a 46-33 lead and the game was over. Knicks 118, Hawks 86 New York's Gerald Wilkins didn't outscore his brother, Dominique, but his team won. The Knicks guard had 19 points, while the Hawks forward had three more, but game was never as close as the brothers' battle after halftime. Wilkins and Patrick Ewing combined to kill the Hawks in third quarter, scoring 11 and 14 points, respectively, as the Knicks broke open a close game. Ewing finished with 31 points as the Knicks won their fifth straight home game for the first time since March 1984. The Hawks had won the two previous meetings between the teams by 14 and 22 points, but the victory by the Knicks was their largest margin and also Atlanta's worst defeat of the season. Bulls 99, Cavaliers 95 Cleveland held Michael Jordan under 30 points for only the fifth time this season, but the Bulls allowed the Cavaliers one field goal in 16 shots over the game's final 8:45. Jordan, who is averaging 37.3 points per game, finished with 27 as the Cavaliers lost their fourth straight. Charles Oakley added 15 points and 18 rebounds for the Bulls, while Paxson had 13 points. Rookie Ron Harper led the Cavaliers with 22. Bucks 124, Nets 112 The Bucks beat the Nets easily but lost guard Paul Pressey with a dislocated right ring finger. Bucks team physician Dr. David Haskell said Pressey would be out of action "a minimum of three weeks." Ricky Pierce scored 27 points and Terry Cummings and Craig Hodges added 24 each for the Bucks, who won their third straight. The Bucks led 61-55 at halftime and opened the third quarter with a 9-2 run. Pierce scored four of the nine points and added eight more during a 16-6 spree that put the Bucks ahead 88-71 with 2:50 remaining in the quarter. Milwaukee led 94-78 going into the fourth quarter and New Jersey never got closer than 11 points, the last time at 116-105. Buck Williams scored 18 points and Orlando Woolridge 16 to lead New Jersey. Pacers 101, Spurs 99 A goaltending call against San Antonio's Artis Gilmore with three seconds remaining gave the Pacers their fourth straight victory. Gilmore was called for interfering with a short jumper by Vern Fleming. Fleming's shot came after San Antonio missed three shots in the previous 30 seconds.

San Antonio Spurs forward Mike Mitchell (34) drives around Indiana Pacers forward Chuck Person (45) in NBA action Tuesday in San Antonio.

Steve Stipanovich led the Pacers with 19 points, while Fleming had 17. San Antonio was led by Mike Mitchell and Johnny Dawkins with 24 points each. Warriors 118, Rockets 100 Eric "Sleepy" Floyd scored 31 points and handed out 11 assists to snap the Rockets' three-game winning streak. Floyd connected on two 3-point field goals and scored three times on 3-point plays. Joe Barry Carroll added 22 points for the Warriors, while Terry Teagle and Chris Mullin, scored 21 and 15 points, respectively. The Warriors outscored the Rockets 13-2 in one stretch during the third period and led 85-72 at the end of the quarter. Houston was led by Lewis Lloyd with 23 points, including 10-for-11 from the field. SuperSonics 138, Suns 108 Tam Chambers' 29 points led four Seattle players over 20 as the SuperSonics registered their highest point total of the season. Seattle, which trailed by 10 points at halftime, outscored the Suns 79-39 in the second half. Xavier McDaniel added 28 points and 12 rebounds for Seattle, while Alton Lister scored a season-high 25 and Dale Ellis added 21.

Phoenix's Walter Davis, who scored 21 points in the first half, was held scoreless in the third period by Seattle's double-teaming defense. He finished with 29. Kings 112, Nuggets 104 Otis Thorpe scored 27 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as Sacramento snapped a five-game losing streak. Denver forward Alex English, who led all scorers with 30, gave the Nuggets, who lost their fourth in a row, their last lead of the game, 103-102, with 1:38 left when he connected on one of two free throws.

'Boz' may be allowed to play

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Brian Bosworth's football career at Oklahoma may not be finished after all.

Bosworth was informed by Coach Barry Switzer on Monday that he should not plan on returning for his final year of eligibility. But Tuesday, Switzer issued a statement that left the door open.

"If Brian does not opt to play pro football, he and I will discuss his possible future participation at a later date," Switzer said.

The turnaround came after Bosworth, a fourth-year junior, issued a lengthy apology in which he said he was "terribly embarrassed" by the concern his actions and remarks had caused university officials.

Repeated efforts to contact Switzer at his home Tuesday night were unsuccessful. However, reached at his office by The Daily Oklahoman, Switzer said Bosworth is "like a whipped dog. He's embarrassed. He regrets it, he knows he's wrong and he didn't realize the consequences."

"He didn't realize anything like this could happen to him," Switzer said. "He doesn't want to leave the University of Oklahoma as an 'expelled' player."

Switzer said Bosworth's apology "wipes the slate clean. I think it's something that can be positive for him and us."

The linebacker's association with Oklahoma depends "on how he handles this from now on," Switzer told the newspaper. "Everybody will be watching him."

What prompted Switzer's initial recommendation that Bosworth not return was the linebacker's actions during the Orange Bowl game last week. Bosworth wore a T-shirt that, using the initials of the NCAA, read "National Communists Against Athletes."

The T-shirt was Bosworth's final say about the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which barred him from playing in the Orange Bowl because he had tested positive for steroid use.

"I know the drug program is in the best interest of the student-athlete and I should have been sensitive to the NCAA," Bosworth said in his apology, issued Monday night.

"... At times I have acted and spoken foolishly and without regard for others," he said. "I would hope that those people I have mentioned and everybody else would accept my sincerest apology."

Switzer said Tuesday he was "very impressed" with Bosworth's apology.

"After further discussion with him, I am completely convinced his statements were sincerely from the heart and that he has experienced much personal remorse over his earlier actions," the coach said in his statement.

"I don't believe he had any idea of the embarrassing position he placed himself, the university or our football team in. It is my hope that Brian can continue to reflect this positive image to all the fans who support him and our program."

"I hope, too, that he and I can continue to communicate in a manner that can serve his and the University of Oklahoma's best interest," Switzer said.

Tom McCurdy, a member of the Oklahoma Board of Regents, said Bosworth's apology "showed a lot of class on his part."

McCurdy said he received 25 to 30 telephone calls Tuesday in support of Switzer's action advising Bosworth to pass up his senior season.

"The Boz" has been in the headlines all season. In a preseason Sports Illustrated article, he talked about learning how to install stray bolts in cars at an Oklahoma City General Motors plant. He later said UCLA played "girls football" after Oklahoma had beaten the Bruins, 38-3.

McCurdy said the T-shirt was "practically the last straw." The regent said he was contacted by former Sooners football players who said if Switzer had not reacted to Bosworth's conduct that the coach "would, in time, lose control of the team."

In his three-sentence statement Monday, Switzer said Bosworth "is one of the greatest players to have ever performed for the Sooners. I am sure his future with the National Football League will parallel if not exceed his career accomplishments at the University of Oklahoma."

of his backcourt.

"When we started I thought the difference was the guards. They've got good big people and we've got pretty good big people, but our guards and our speed allowed us to run by them on the break.

"Old Cedric Banks made some big plays for us. I'm a fan of his. He works hard and he's fun to watch. He makes things happen. Brian played real steady for us too.

"Charles has had one off game and one off practice since I've been here. He's been hitting all year." Paxton said about his sure shooting guard.

Banks finished with 16 points, 14 rebounds and three steals, and led all players in the hustle department.

ment. Young finished with 32 points and four assists, and Mayfield, with a good defensive game, had four blocked shots, three steals, seven rebounds and 13 points. Shellman added eight for the Steers.

Snyder was led by Terry Garza's 26 points and Garrett's 21.

"That was a good team and that was a good win for us. I feel like every game we play from now on is a big one. We have a real big test on Friday (at Lamesa). We'll have a good chance if we just keep our minds on it," Paxton said.

The Steers improved to 4-0 in district and 12-7 overall.

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JAN. 8, 1987

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Implement those new ideas that you have been considering by putting them into detailed and practical execution. Financial plans get successful attention today.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A fine day to get all of your affairs better organized. Proceed without fear and be safe.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make sure to get your health and appearance improved so that you can make your activities more successful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get in touch with successful advisors and gain the knowledge you need to prosper at a personal level.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) You can get good suggestions from your friends today. Utilize them wisely for fine results.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to be more active in business. Go to an influential person for a favor and get it easily.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Your intuition is fine today. You can gain a better attitude that will bring you more success with others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can make sales or purchases with or from those in the same line of work as you. Be happy today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Know what it is that your associates desire and assist them in their needs. You will get reciprocal support.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you persevere in your endeavors, you can make this a profitable and satisfying Thursday.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) The amusements you desire should be practical. Be sure to do something thoughtful for your mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your abode and see how you can make it more attractive. Invite guests in tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be sure to reply to important letters. Be clever in making out statements. Precision is the key today.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will always look on the practical side of any situation. Your child will want to get all the facts before taking on any project. Teach this one to study the motives of others before joining with them. There is musical talent here that will need nurturing.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Business briefs

Deloris Albert, Gail Route Box 252, has become a Tupperware manager and has earned a 1986 Oldsmobile Cutlass Cruiser station wagon.

To become a manager and earn a car, dealers must manage a minimum of four dealers and have $3,000 in sales for four consecutive weeks, she said.

Albert manages nine dealers. She became a part-time dealer in January 1986, and full-time in May, she said.

H&R Block of Big Spring will prepare taxpayers' W-4 forms for them free until Jan. 20, according to a news release from manager Wilma Dobbs.

A W-4 is the Internal Revenue Service form that specifies at what rate an employer should withhold the employee's income taxes from his paycheck.

Customers should bring a copy of their 1985 tax return to the office at 1512 Gregg St., she said.

With the new tax laws, the W-4 form will be four pages instead of two, she said. The Internal Revenue Service requires employees to file a form before Oct. 1, or the employer must withhold the employee's taxes at an IRS-specified rate.

The Raymond Jacksons

Raymond and Clara Jackson, 3609 Calvin, will celebrate their 50th anniversary Jan. 10 at the Hillcrest Baptist Church reception hall at 3 p.m.

Children and grandchildren of the couple are hosting the reception.

Jackson was born in Greenville and Mrs. Jackson, the former Clara Jones, was born in Kosse. The couple met at a skating rink in Lamesa in October 1936. They were married on Jan. 9, 1937 at the First Baptist Church parsonage with Rev. R.E. Day, officiating.

Children of the couple are Mrs. Monroe (Norma) Sunday of Big Spring, Mrs. Jackie (Elaine) Owens of Ackerly and Mrs. Randy (Daphna) Smith of Ackerly.

The couple has eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

During their marriage they have lived in Lamesa, McGregor, Ft. Worth and Lubbock. They've lived in Big Spring since 1955.

THE JACKSONS
...celebrate 50th anniversary

The Jacksons were both employed by the state of Texas for 21 years and have been retired for 10 years.

The couple is a member of the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

When asked to comment about their marriage, they said, "We have had our ups and downs, but our faith in the Lord Jesus has sustained us and blessed in these 50 years."

The couple requests the presence of their friends and relatives, but no gifts, please.

Military

Newly-promoted Army Spec. 4 Gary W. Tibbs, son of Finis W. and Genelle M. Tibbs of 2615 Central Drive, has arrived for duty with the 2nd Armored Division Band, Fort Hood.

Tibbs is a piano player.

Ruben G. Munoz, son of Felipe R. and Maria G. Munoz, 107 E. 22nd St., has been promoted in the United States Army to the rank of private first class.

Munoz is a chemical operations specialist with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Staff Sgt. George E. Thompson, son of Janie Stewart of Gautier, Miss., and George L. Thompson of Moss Point, Miss., has re-enlisted in the United States Air Force at Norton Air Force Base, Calif., for six years.

Thompson is a jet engine mechanic with the 63rd Military Airlift Wing.

His wife, Deborah, is the daughter of Jessye Myles of 804 Pine St.

Army Private Leonardo M. Rico, son of Magdalena G. Montemayor of Colorado City, has completed a combat engineer course at the U.S. Army Training Center in Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

During the course, students were trained in the techniques of road and bridge building, camouflage and demolition. They also received instruction in combat squad tactics as well as in the use of infantry weapons.

Sgt. Kelly D. Rich, son of William R. Rich of Muskogee, Okla., and Bettye L. Rich, 2611 Cindy Lane, has re-enlisted in the U.S. Air Force after being selected for career status.

Assigned at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., Rich was approved for re-enlistment by a board which considered character and performance.

He is a security police team leader with the 88th Missile Security Squadron.

Army National Guard Private Luis A. Ramos, son of Pedro and Josephina Ramos, 1408 Robin, has completed basic training and AIT training at Fort Jackson, S.C., as of Dec. 16.

While in training, Ramos received a Letter of Commendation for Guard Mount performance, and qualified as an Expert in handling both M-16 weaponry and grenades.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

He has been assigned to the Army National Guard in Midland.

Army Sgt. Gary K. Stroder, son of Wanda L. Young of 703 Creighton, and Gerald D. Stroder of Sweeny, has arrived for duty with the 2nd Engineer Battalion, South Korea.

Stroder is a construction equipment repairer.

Navy Seaman David K. Jones, son of Keith and Maxine L. Jones of Route 1, has completed the Basic Yeoman Course.

During the nine-week course at the Naval Technical Training Center Meridian, Miss., Jones received instructions on office organization, English, typing and filing. He also studied correspondence procedures, records preparation, administrative reporting requirements and office management procedures.

No increase in cable TV fees sought

Despite recent deregulation of cable television rates, Big Spring Cable plans no changes in its charges, systems manager Larson Lloyd said.

The Cable Communications Policy Act, which Congress passed last year, went into effect with the new year. It eliminates state and local authorities' power to regulate the rates cable television companies charge customers, Lloyd said. A Cable Television Administration and Marketing Society survey shows that 75 percent of cable companies in the nation plan rate increases with the new law, ranging from slight increases to as much as 30 percent, the Wall Street Journal reported.

The increases average 18.5 percent, the report states.

Big Spring Cable officials decided not to raise rates because of the area's economic troubles and high unemployment, Lloyd said.

"Times are not going real good right now," he said. "The last thing we want to do is hit anyone up with another bite to their budget."

The manager said that programming costs have increased with general inflation, however.

Big Spring Cable's rates begin at $9.50 for basic service, $1 lower than the national average of $10.50, Lloyd said.

BIG SPRING TRAVEL TALK

by Mary Valli

KIDDING AROUND
Airline ticket discounts are generally the rule for children accompanied by an adult. Lap-sitting infants under age two travel at no cost. Children two through eleven years of age who sit in their own seats get twenty-five percent off normal coach fares. Advance-purchase fares and special kid fares may be even less expensive. Unaccompanied children pay adult fares. A fairly standard rule is that children under the age of five are not allowed to fly alone. Children age five through seven may fly alone on nonstop or direct flights. Those eight through twelve years of age may take connecting flights but must be escorted between gates by airline personnel. There may be a slight supplemental charge for this service.
The options, timetables, connections and other points of concern when traveling are complex. At BIG SPRING TRAVEL, 608 Scurry, we are the professionals with the experience and resources to find the most favorable options of all such considerations. For convenience, need and even cost savings, we invite you to come to BIG SPRING TRAVEL for all your travel plans. Tel. 263-0225. Open 8:30-5:30 Mon.-Fri.
— HINT —
Most airlines will only release an unaccompanied child to a person who has been designated by name in advance, and who can show identification.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

MAKE A RESOLUTION — Come by Carroll Coates Auto Sale's roomy office at 1101 West 4th Street for on-the-spot financing when you buy your car, pick-up or motorcycle from their varied stock.

Carroll Coates offers on-the-spot financing

Carroll Coates Auto Sales, 1101 West 4th Street, offers one-stop sales and financing for used cars, pickups and motorcycles.

The firm maintains a finance division, and offers on-the-spot financing with no credit checks and no added-on interest.

"This service has been very successful in the Big Spring market," says A.C. Neighbors, general manager. "We also offer special prices for cash sales."

Neighbors emphasizes that Carroll Coates has been in the car business for about 24 years, and has operated Carroll Coates Auto Sales for about 15 years, five years in the present location.

The firm buys and sells all kinds of vehicles ("just about anything on wheels," the manager says) as well as boats and motorcycles.

"We try to give customers an honest appraisal of the vehicles in our stock. We're looking to build a relationship with customers that will bring us repeat business," says Neighbors. "Satisfied customers are our main concern."

Their business philosophy has been successful; Carroll Coates has opened two car dealerships in San Angelo in the past year.

Local business has been good in spite of the recent downturn in the economy, Neighbors says.

"We're taking a positive attitude and tightening our belts. We're expecting business citywide to improve in the new year ... and we'll be here to provide cars and financing."

Customers can expect to find a varied inventory to choose from.

When you get ready to buy or sell a car or truck, make a leisurely visit to Carroll Coates Auto Sales' roomy sales office at 1101 West 4th Street. Hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Chamber committed to Wall visit

The mobile, half-sized replica of the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial, known as The Wall, will be in Big Spring from Sept. 30-Oct. 6, said Elizabeth Taylor, of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Taylor said the Chamber has committed for the Wall to come to Big Spring, although fundraising is not yet complete. She said $4,000 will be needed to bring the Memorial to Big Spring, and added that "we shouldn't have any trouble raising the money."

Taylor said the Wall will be open to the public 24 hours a day during its exclusive West Texas visit. A location for the Wall has not yet been determined. Because it is 250 ft. in length and six ft. high, she said the Wall will probably be in one of the mall parking lots.

"We're expecting a lot of people to come into town, because we will be the only town in West Texas to have it. It's an opportunity for people in West Texas to see it, and we expect more than 300 people a day," Taylor said.

The Wall is owned and displayed by the Vietnam Combat Veterans, Ltd., of San Jose, California. Taylor said it has toured the country since 1984 and has been a successful attraction.

It is an exact half-scale replica of the original Memorial in Washington, D.C. The names of 58,022 veterans who died in Vietnam are on the Wall.

Anyone wishing to donate to help bring the Wall to Big Spring can do so by sending tax-deductible donations to: The Wall Committee; P.O. Box 2854; Big Spring, Texas 79721.
