A Christmas Parole From Santa Claus

John Bryant, 62-year-old convict from Kilby prison at Montgomery, Ala., has plenty to smile about for he is one of the 600 Alabama prisoners who were granted two-week Christmas paroles for good behavior. Bryant, a fiddle maker, turned out the guitar-and suitcase which he is taking with him to his home in Cullman, Ala. He is serving a life sentence.

Law Curbing Clemency Power Of Governor To Tie Hands Of Man Who Opposes Death Penalties

By HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Dec. 19—The two-year-old constitutional amendment curbing the clemency power of the governor will have an important new effect next month, that of tying the hands of a chief executive who opposes capital punishment.

It is virtually certain that the "death house" in the Huntsville state penitentiary will keep functioning through the first few months of 1939 despite the inauguration four weeks hence of Governor-Elect W. Lee O'Daniel who does not believe in capital punishment.

Can Grant One Stay

As a consequence of the constitutional amendment voted by the people late in 1936, a governor now can grant only one 30-day stay in death cases without consent of the state pardon board. He is powerless to permit another stay or commute a sentence to life imprisonment except on recommendation of the state pardon board.

The chief executive could ask the legislature to abolish capital punishment but if the lawmakers should grant the request, which appears highly unlikely, the bill probably would not be passed until late April or May and O'Daniel doubtless will face several death penalty cases before then.

First To Come Early

His first decision on an electrocution must be made within 60 hours of his inauguration. Unless the governor intervenes Dan Sims, the only man ever assessed the death penalty in Harris county for robbery with firearms, is due to walk to the chair at 12:01 a. m. January 20. O'Daniel will take office at noon January 17.

Sims, who has served three prison terms, was convicted of a Houston drug store robbery in which Policeman B. F. Roberts was shot in the arm but no one was killed. Sims' two convicted confederates each drew life imprisonment sentences.

Can't Dictate Policies

A governor cannot dictate pardon board policies because he is allowed to name only one of its three members. Others are appointed respectively by the chief justice of the supreme court and the presiding judge of the court of criminal appeals.

The present board is unanimously in favor of capital punishment. Its members feel that imposition of

O'Daniel Pension Plan Draws Young Roosevelt's Opposition

FORT WORTH, Dec. 19. (AP)—Most economists agree that Governor-Elect O'Daniel's pension plan of $30 a month for all over 65 would place an unbearable burden on the state's economic structure, Elliott Roosevelt declared in a radio address tonight.

The president's son, discussing the recommendations Governor Allred has announced he will make to the forthcoming session of the legislature, said the present governor "apparently sees the impossibility, or at least the unfeasibility" of the O'Daniel plan.

France Refuses To Yield Land

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Dec. 19. — Premier Edouard Daladier's government won solid backing in the chamber of deputies today for its pledge to go to war rather than yield to any fascist attempts to partition the French empire.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet put the promise into the parliamentary record with a statement to the chamber that "any attempt of this kind could only lead to armed conflict."

Words Are Cheered

The deputies rose unanimously to cheer his words and adopted immediately afterward the foreign ministry budget for 1939. It was debate on the appropriation which prompted Bonnet's statement. The foreign ministry budget is for 456,000,000 francs ($11,947,200) as compared with 404,000,000 francs ($10,584,000) last year.

Bonnet reaffirmed also France's policies in maintaining a close military union with Britain, seeking friendship with Germany and adhering to a policy of non-intervention in Spain's civil war.

As for Britain Bonnet said that "In case of unprovoked aggression all the forces of France—on land, sea, and in the air—spontaneously and immediately would be utilized for the defense of Great Britain."

He added France expects Britain to do the same for her.

Three Killed In Burning Plane Late Monday

One Charred Body And Parts Of At Least Two More Are Found; Identities Checked

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 19.—A burning airplane crashed in an open field 100 yards south of the limits of Boerne, 30 miles northwest of here, at 10 o'clock tonight, killing at least three men.

One charred body and parts of at least two other bodies were recovered from the debris by Sheriff Edward Bierschwale and his deputies and Justice of the Peace H. L. Davis, jr.

EL PASO, Dec. 19. (AP)—The United States coast guard office at Fort Bliss tonight confirmed the report that a coast guard airplane, piloted by Lt. Perry Lyons, unit commander, left El Paso at 4 p. m. Monday for Houston with three other passengers aboard.

With Lyons were a naval ensign named Pigg, an El Paso coast guardsman named R. H. Germaine and an army enlisted man named Latham.

Was First At Scene

Davis was the first person at the scene of the crash which was less than 100 yards from his home. He said the plane had apparently broken in two when it hit the ground and that burning parts of the plane and bits of bodies were scattered over a two-acre area.

Davis said there was a possibility that a fourth person had met death in the plane.

One of the men had papers in a coat pocket with the name George C. Latham, no address being available. The lining of a coat covering a fragment of one of the bodies bore the name of C. H. Teague.

Aviation fields in and around San Antonio said all army planes had been accounted for.

Might Be Naval Plane

The men in the plane had in their possession United States coast guard attachment cards leading to the assumption that the ship might be a naval plane. One navy uniform was found, half-consumed by fire, in the wreckage.

Papers identifying the plane were not found, Judge Davis said, except for weather reports which seemed to indicate that the plane had come from El Paso.

Appreciation Dinner To Cost $100 A Plate Is Cancelled

Scheduled for Dec. 28 the dinner was called off at the request of O'Daniel, the pastor said in a formal statement.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 19. (AP)—A cargo of Christmas trees helped bring the Canadian steamship Moyra safely into port today.

LOGAN, W. Va., Dec. 19. (AP)—A customer in a state liquor store here spied a package atop a lighted stove and handed it to the clerk in the belief someone had left his purchase.

Inside the package — apparently left by a forgetful miner — was found seven sticks of dynamite.

Fate Of Girl In 1927 May Be Revealed

(Copyright, 1938, By United Press)

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 19.—The fate of Mildred Doran, Michigan school teacher who gambled her life with those of six men, and lost, in the air race to Hawaii 11 years ago may be revealed.

Navy salvage crews attempted to raise the wreckage of a civilian plane, half buried in ocean sand, off the westernmost point of Oahu island.

It was discovered by a Filipino fisherman, diving to recover his nets. He reported the ancient wreckage to naval and army officials who sent out a crash boat.

The spot was 35 miles northwest of Honolulu, 40 yards offshore in 20 feet of water. Using eye goggles divers swam out and examined the wreck. It was wedged between two huge volcanic rocks. Part of the fuselage stuck out from the white sand. Multi-colored tropical fish swam lazily through the tattered yellow silk fabric and the metal skeleton of the framework.

It obviously was an old ship and showed evidence of having been in the water a long time—possibly since 1927 when the Dole $25,000 prize excited a free for all race of pilots who risked their necks to fly here from San Francisco. Two planes of

Girl Pleads To Visit Sisters After Tragedy

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 19—Bereaved Wilma Kennedy, 16-year-old farm lass, came home today pleading to see the young sisters whose skulls were cracked with an ax last week in a rural tragedy that cost her parents their lives.

She arrived at her home near Miles early today, coming from Austin where she and Frank Salazar, young farm laborer who officers said admitted the killings, were found yesterday.

Pleas Are Denied

Wilma's pleas to see her sisters were denied. Hospital authorities explained to the begging girl the children, Faye, 4, and Imogene, 13, were in a critical condition. Wilma went to stay with her uncle, Earl Kennedy, who lives near Miles.

In Austin young Salazar, who admitted he was "drunk on whiskey and beer" when he shot Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kennedy and slugged the two sleeping girls with an ax, calmly lolled in a jail cell awaiting San Angelo officers. He was transferred to a cell away from the stares of the curious today and ate heartily.

Remains In Austin

Officers indicated Salazar would remain in Austin until San Angelo authorities were ready to bring him to trial—in which the state will demand his life. Thus far he has

Japan Protests As U. S. Gives China Credit

Secretary Morgenthau Claims That Question Of Neutrality Is Not Involved In Deal

By IRVING PERLMETER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — The treasury, ignoring strong words of protest from Japan, extended more credits today to China.

While the Japanese foreign minister, Hachiro Arita, was terming "dangerous" a $25,000,000 loan given China last week by the export-import bank, Secretary Morgenthau was renewing for an indefinite period an agreement to lend China undisclosed amounts of dollar exchange.

No Question Of Neutrality

With a bland "who's at war?" Morgenthau asserted that no question of neutrality was involved in the credits to China.

(Japan has not formally declared war.)

The treasury head described the Chinese loans as "credits to a friendly nation" and said any other "friendly nation" except war debt defaulters barred by the Johnson act also could "apply" for loans.

"The door is wide open," he declared with a smile. This was a paraphrase of the "open door" doctrine, which calls for equal commercial opportunity for all nations in China. The Japanese, over the objections of the United States, threaten to revise this doctrine.

No Guarantee Of Grants

After declaring any qualified nation could apply here for loans, Morgenthau added the right to apply was no guarantee all requests would be granted.

The credits granted today are of more technical than commercial importance. China must pay American dollars for American merchandise. It gets most of its dollars by selling silver to the treasury, but sometimes runs short of dollars in the intervals between silver shipments. Today's agreement permits China to borrow dollars from the treasury's stabilization fund on the security of gold which China has on deposit in the federal reserve banks in this country. When China's next silver shipment—they run to $12,000,000 a month—arrives, the silver is sold for dollars, and the dollar exchange loan is repaid.

The gold on deposit here thus acts as a revolving fund to facilitate Chinese payments for American merchandise. Morgenthau declined to say how much gold China had here, but indicated at least some of it was bought from the treasury last year with the proceeds of some silver sales.

Today's announcement was an extension of an arrangement first made on July 9, 1937, a few weeks before the present hostilities in China began.

Six Special Committees Are To Be Chosen Here Today

Six special committees were planned Monday afternoon by the Cotton Bowl arrangements committee at a meeting at the chamber of commerce.

Arch Underwood is chairman of the arrangements committee. Other members are Roy Riddel, George Benson and John Mitchell.

Committeemen probably will be named today, Underwood said. They will care for duties in special phases of arrangements for transporting fans to Dallas and for activities in Dallas.

Committees planned are special train, special bus, motorcade, other towns arrangements, insignia, and Dallas arrangements. The other towns group will organize delegations of South Plains and West Texas and urge their participation in parades in Dallas.

83-Year-Old Is Hot Lubbock Grid Fan

Spry and alert at the age of 83 years, Mrs. Ioway Rodgers, above, is an enthusiastic supporter of Lubbock's highpowered football teams. She likes the game and last Friday was escorted by Ray Giffin of Mountainview, Cal., shown in the picture with her.

Aged Lubbock Woman Keeps Up With Times; Football And Dances Play For Her

By LOIS MARIE DANIEL

THE Lambeth Walk and the other recent steps are no more mystifying to Mrs. Ioway Rodgers, 83, of 2105 Main street than serving up a chicken pot pie or mixing the batter for breakfast biscuits.

An inveterate football fan, counsellor to six children who were left without their father when they were much younger and seeing after a household made up of eight others living there, Mrs. Rodgers manages to keep busy.

She'll Take In That Dance

She is spry and mentally alert. She has been invited to a dance—and plans to go.

She did a few intricate steps.

"I can jig, too," she said, laughingly explaining she was "not infirm" to any extent.

Mrs. Rodgers Friday afternoon attended the Westerner-Masonic Home football game with Ray Giffin of Mountainview, Cal. Up there in row 7, in seat 17, section A, she declined a pillow and settled down to rooting for the Westerners.

She "Whoops It Up"

"They don't like me to yell, though," she said. She explained it was difficult to remember not to whoop it up.

"I have seen games before, but they are all different. That one was good. They sure had a pretty drill." She referred by "drill" to band maneuvers.

She kept her attention fixed on Clifton Hill, end who formerly lived at her residence. She said his number was 31 and that he "made all the tackles to keep the other team from making the touchdown."

"Progression" made her turn her interests toward football. There were boys boarding at her home

Defense Plans Get Attention

Warning From Some Quarters That Budget Balancing Will Be Demanded Being Heard

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — President Roosevelt busied himself today with the preparation of a congressional program which, thus far, emphasizes the bigger naval and military expenditures and proposals for an expansion of the social security system.

In addition, legislation to help the railroads out of their present sorry financial plight and a public health program, directed at increasing the nation's hospital facilities and providing medical care for low-income groups, also had a place upon the chief executive's list.

Defenses Are Discussed

He discussed the defense situation today with Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war; Chairman Edward J. Noble and Robert Hinkley of the civil aeronautics authority, and Aubrey Williams, deputy administrator of WPA. They declined to disclose the details of the conference.

Meanwhile, however, Senator Adams (D-Colo), a powerful member of the senate appropriations committee, asserted that congress should give thought to balancing the budget rather than to any expensive defense program.

Must Save Something

"My impression is that we have been very liberal with the army and navy in the past," he said, "if you give them everything they ask, they will be back to the next congress asking for more. We must save something."

White House officials revealed that the president planned to address a special message to congress on the social security act asking that it be extended to groups not now included.

During the day, Mr. Roosevelt talked over the troubles of the railroads with two key members of a committee which is now preparing a report on the subject for the president. They were Carl Gray, vice chairman of the Union Pacific, and George Harrison, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives association.

Getting Report Together

Harrison told reporters that the committee was hard at work getting the report together and hoped to have it in the president's hands by

Glamor Girl Is Wed To Heir

(By The Associated Press)

PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 19 — Glamorous Gloria Baker and Henry J. (Bob) Topping were married today in a setting of orchids and champagne.

They said their vows under a bell of white roses before an altar of white orchids, carnations and gladioli at the Spanish villa of Mrs. Margaret Emerson, the bride's mother. The Rev. Arthur M. Depew of the First Christian church performed the double ring ceremony.

Leave For Bahamas

After a luncheon and reception for 45 guests the young couple—Mimi is 18 and her husband 24—left for a honeymoon at Cat Cay in the Bahamas, a center for big game fishing. Next month they will go to Honolulu.

The bride was given in marriage by her sportsman half-brother, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. Polo-playing Daniel R. Topping was best man for his brother. Dan Topping's wife, the actress Arline Judge, was among the guests.

Second For Topping

It was the second marriage for Topping, who in three years will come into a $9,000,000 estate left by his maternal grandfather, Daniel Gray Reid, tinplate magnate. Topping was divorced at Bridgeport, Conn., last week by Jane Shadduck, blonde actress and aviatrix.

The bride, heiress to the patent medicine millions of her late grandfather, Capt. Isaac Emerson, made her debut only last year at a $50,000 party on her mother's Long Island estate.

Warehouseman Is Crushed To Death In Freight Elevator

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 19. (AP)—Leslie Clint right, 38, warehouseman for the W. K. Shepperd Co., father of four children, was crushed to death today when caught between a freight elevator and floor at the warehouse.

No one witnessed the tragedy. It was believed Wright was accidentally pushed in between the elevator and floor by a hand truck. A guard gate lowers before the elevator moves and the gate apparently hit the truck which struck Wright. Burial will be in Kenedy tomorrow.

Terrors Of The Table Have Been Tamed To Make It A Blessing For Housewife

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — The agriculture department took time out today to give thanks to folks who've been taming the terrors of the table—developing odorless cabbage, for instance.

The housewife—the authorities say—seldom stops to think that nestling in the bottom of the market basket is a gem produced by inventive genius and not just a hunk of something green.

Just think of what's happened to make eating easier. Within the last few years the country has been provided with:

Seedless oranges.

Cabbages that don't perfume the whole home.

None-splatter eggs.

Non-skid corn on the cob.

Private individuals and corporations develop some of the innovations and the government the others, but whoever does it the agriculture department likes to help popularize them.

United States Trade Expansion Is Carried Into Turkey

Opposition For Germany Seen

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) — The United States carried its trade expansion program into Turkey today, in competition with spreading German economic influence there, and started to explore possibilities of a reciprocal trade agreement with Australia.

The state department announced that a new trade pact just initialed with Turkey is based upon the principles of unconditional most-favored-nation treatment and free foreign exchange, the two American trade weapons in direct contest with Germany's barter and limited exchange policies.

Signed In January

The new American-Turkish agreement probably will be signed formally in January, the state department said. It provides mutual tariff concessions on products yet to be announced. Under the unconditional most-favored-nation clause, the concessions the United States makes in the treaty will be extended to all countries except Germany. The reich will be excluded because, officials say, she discriminates against American trade.

Germany now buys about 20 per cent of Turkey's exports, the United States about 10 per cent, chiefly tobacco. Other Turkish products on which the United States had announced it would consider tariff reductions to Turkey included licorice, filberts and pistache nuts, poppy and canary seeds, oriental and other rugs and meerschaum.

The Australian explorations began with the arrival of Stanley M. Bruce, Australian high commissioner to Great Britain. Bruce, who is en route home from London, stopped off here to discuss "various economic matters."

Dallas Man Is Honored Here By Honorary Tech Fraternity

William H. Jones of Dallas, chairman of the cotton industries committee, Sunday night was recipient of honorary membership in Texas Technological college Kappa chapter of Phi Psi, national honorary textile engineering fraternity.

The ceremony was in Lubbock hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left Monday morning on the return trip to Dallas.

Four students were initiated into the chapter. They were Guion Gregg, Dallas; Charles Stokes, Bonham; James Ray and Theron Lehr, Lubbock.

Tech has the only Phi Psi chapter west of Alabama. Hubbard A. Burow, general manager of Bonham Cotton mills and Brenham Cotton mills, was to be initiated as an honorary member but was in Washington on business. He probably will be initiated in January or February, said M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering.

Those attending the Sunday night dinner and meeting, besides Jones and the four students initiated, were Dr. R. C. Goodwin and Cecil Horne, who are working with Heard on plans for a Tech exhibit at the Cotton Bowl jubilee in Dallas; Heard, C. M. Stanley, jr., and Denz Probasco, of the textile engineering department staff; Harry Patterson, Harold Cockingher, Bob Altman, Harold McDavid, Nell Stewart, Ersel Matthews, Lloyd Jackson, Ralph Coon, John Brooks, Millard Hall, and Rudell Russell, chapter members.

City Troubles Are Ironed Out

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 19.—Financial troubles which have beset the city of Littlefield and which resulted in a case being filed in U. S. district court at Lubbock, were settled at a conference between city officials and Brown-Crummer Investment Co., of Wichita, Kan.

Approval of the plan was given Monday by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson at Lubbock in the case brought by W. J. Meredith and others against the city.

Expires In 1939

The contract expires July 1, 1939, and when signed as of Dec. 10, the transaction was expected to be completed within 90 days, city officials said. The court approval came nine days later.

Under the set-up, city bonds issued from 1925 to 1929, amounting to $276,000 will be exchanged for new paper, to be issued in the amount of approximately $325,000, which covers the old bonds and interest which the city owes but not paid.

The indebtedness extends for a 30-year period, starting in 1940, with interest payable semi-annually. Interest was reduced from 6 per cent for the old bonds to 4½ for the new issue.

Pending Three Years

"This matter," explained W. G. Street, city secretary, "has been pending for nearly three years, since the action of the Brown-Crummer Investment Co., representing the bondholders of over 80 per cent of the outstanding bonds of the city against the city. Since that time the city commission has been working toward this goal.

"This means a saving to the city of approximately $105,000 affected in this way—that the old bonds drew 6 per cent interest, while the new bonds will bear 4½ per cent, and all past due interest under the agreement was reduced 25 per cent."

LISTEN FOLKS

It is almost too obvious for me to say—the last week before Christmas.

If I could tell you truthfully that this might be the last week in which you could buy life insurance, I'd do a rushing business. Of course, I can't tell you that. However, I can tell you that this week is the best week for you to be SURE that you have ENOUGH Life Insurance.

Happy Christmas to you!

When you buy Life Insurance, buy it the WRIGHT way.

Agreement On American Defense Plan Said Near

Compromise Is Being Offered

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 19.—The western hemisphere solidarity and defense project took a big step forward today at the eighth Pan-American conference as the Brazilian delegation completed a compromise draft resolution.

Several of the principal leaders predicted agreement would be reached within a few days.

Appeared Near Split

The delegates appeared to be near a split Saturday on the issues of new world solidarity, with the United States favoring a pronouncement against outside aggression while Argentina, fearful of angering European friends and of any future change in Washington's policy, wanted a resolution which merely used the word aggression.

Both United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the chief Argentine delegate, Isidoro Ruiz Moreno, seemed to be in accord today that the resolution should be stronger than the agreement reached at Buenos Aires in 1936. They hoped to be able shortly to iron out the differences between the Argentine and United States points of view.

Continuation Demanded

(In Washington, acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles stated Monday that the people of the United States "demand a continuation of all that is implied in the good neighbor policy."

(His comment, endorsing Sunday's address in Lima by Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee for president in 1936, was believed intended to end Argentine speculation that the good neighbor policy might end with a change of party in power.)

The agreement at the Buenos Aires inter-American conference provided for consultation simply "in the event the peace of the American republics is menaced."

Draft Goes Further

Today's Brazilian draft, drawn up by former Foreign Minister Afranio Mello Franco, is reported to go further in that the signatories would declare themselves ready to defend the American continent against expansionist plans of other powers and express a readiness to combine immediately in common defense.

Cuba's proposal for mediation in the Spanish war by American republics was killed by a steering committee vote of 18 to 3, only Cuba, Haiti and Mexico approving. The United States was among the delegations voting against it.

Argentina's more moderate proposal simply calling for an end of the Spanish war will be discussed next.

The conference entered its final week with 155 projects to be considered but delegates seemed confident the work would be finished by the end of the week.

No Doubt Will Exist As To The College Attended By Cotton Girl Of The Nation

No one will have any doubts as to what college the Cotton Girl of the Nation is representing when she appears in the lobby of the Adolphus hotel in Dallas during the Cotton Bowl jubilee.

A dress striped with letters forming the words, "Texas Tech Red Raiders," is being made for Miss Opal Hill, senior textile engineering student who recently was designated Cotton Girl of the Nation. The dress is being made by an advanced class in dressmaking under direction of Miss Mabel D. Erwin, head professor of clothing and textiles.

Stripes Are Artistic

The material came from a power loom in the textile engineering building and is like that being cut into strips to be worn as hat and arm bands by Tech supporters at the Cotton Bowl jubilee. A dress length was saved. The stripes are being arranged artistically in the dress.

The dress, sports style, will be worn by Miss Hill when she assists at the Tech exhibit in the lobby of the hotel. She will demonstrate the weaving of the material such as that used in her dress and the hat and arm bands. A power loom from the college will be included in the exhibit.

Miss Hill continues to receive honors in her position as the National Cotton girl. She and M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering at the college, will be guests at a dinner to be given by Herbert Jones, vice president of Postex Cotton mills, for the mills' staff at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night at Lubbock hotel.

Dusters Feared In Plains Area

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The weather bureau said today reports reaching it for the week ended December 10 indicated conditions in parts of the western plains were favorable for "bad dust storms in late winter and spring if high winds occur."

However, heavy rains or snows would make the outlook brighter, the bureau said.

Situation Critical

The weekly review said extreme dryness continued in much of the great plains and in the far southwest "with the situation becoming critical in some sections."

Declaring rain was needed urgently in parts of Nebraska, western Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas except the Panhandle and much of New Mexico, the bureau added:

"Some soil blowing was reported from the western plains, but this is not yet serious.

"However conditions are usually favorable for drifting soil and bad dust storms in the late winter and spring whenever high winds occur unless an abnormally favorable moisture situation develops through rains or snow."

Some Apprehension

The weekly report added the stock situation was causing some apprehension in sections of the western drouth area. Abnormal warmth and little snow cover were favorable for livestock, however.

During the three fall months September, October and November, the report stated, the Texas rainfall was 52 per cent of normal and that in Oklahoma 56 per cent.

In Kansas the winter wheat crop had "lost more or less ground in practically all sections with the late seeded especially poor. Wheat was said to be in fair condition locally in Oklahoma but in general there was some evidence of poor development.

In Texas, outside the Panhandle, dryness was "becoming serious" with much dry planted wheat still ungerminated and many farmers waiting for rain so they could plant seeds.

TWO COTTON GIFTS

WERE getting the Christmas spirit now. Our annual purse memorandum book has arrived, the gift of Guy Victory, former Lubbock resident who now calls Amarillo home. This makes the fourth year that Guy has remembered our liking for the little Cotton Belt route books.

And Opal McMahon came by long enough to leave a cotton boll tied in scarlet and black ribbons and placed in an attractive cellophane wrapping. Cotton Bowl addicts are wearing them in lapels and, while we aren't going to be among those present, we think the favor is unusually attractive.

HONOR TEXAS GIRLS

TWO young Texas artists suddenly have found themselves entrusted with one of the largest and most unique tasks ever attempted by students—the design and construction of stained glass windows and hand-wrought furnishings for a campus chapel at Texas State college for Women. Sammy Tate of Ennis will create the metal fixtures and Beatrice Paschall of Amarillo is working on the windows.

Few original designs have been used for church windows anywhere in Texas, this work usually being left up to craftsmen in large factories. The chapel will be located on a wooded hilltop back of the college.

HOW DO YOU RATE?

OUT of more than 100 women who underwent a test at a recent Christmas fair in London, fewer than 10 were found to have the qualifications of a first-class shopper. The educational psychologist who carried out the tests said there are six rules for efficient Christmas shopping:

1. Make a list under the headings of Who, What and How Much.
2. Cruise round as many shop windows as possible to "get your eye in."
3. Now review and rearrange it under name of shop and department.
4. Don't "wander" or "finger," but go straight to shop assistant, smile and tell her what you want.
5. Take frequent rests with tea, coffee, a cigarette or just your thoughts.
6. Above all, stick to your list like glue and refuse to buy anything that cannot be given to some person on it.

FEW BOUDOIR TRICKS

HERE are a few boudoir tricks that you might find of help during the Christmas parties. When a garter bulge mars the symmetry of a gown use ordinary adhesive tape to hold up your stockings. The tape lies flat.

To preserve a newly-set hairdress, sleep on your back, but with a pillow to either side of your head. Perhaps you won't turn over and crush your set.

Wringing stockings tears the weave. To dry them rapidly, bunch them in a towel and wring it.

Serious Thinking By Farmers Is Said To Be Necessary

Two Proposals Being Offered

ATLANTA, Dec. 19. (AP)—Harry L. Brown, assistant secretary of agriculture, said today "serious thinking" by farmers themselves was necessary if agriculture were to obtain a "fair share of the national income."

In this connection, Brown told southern farm leaders the election of AAA community and county committeemen was of great significance.

"The men selected on these important committees undoubtedly reflect the thinking of the farmers they represent," he told agricultural executives from Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

Offers Two Proposals

I. W. Duggan, southern division director of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, offered two proposals aimed at solution of the cotton growers' problems. One was for financing parity payments through processing taxes and the other for disposal of cotton now held under government loans.

Duggan suggested a processing tax as "the most logical source" for money to be used in making parity payments to growers. He also suggested that a portion of government loan cotton be diverted as payments in kind to producers who would reduce their allotted cotton acreage still further.

Duggan said loan cotton under his plan would be freed for the market at the same rate that additional voluntary reductions are made in the crop.

Homemaking Girls Will Give Party

Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Thompson, and Misses Esther Sorensen, Doris Buchanan, Dorothy Lomax, Agnes True, Grace Ellington, Mayme Alexander, Pauline Hooser and Ruth Ford.

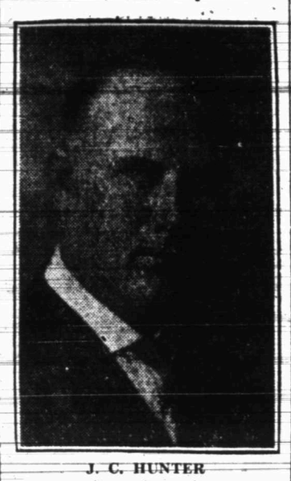

Miss Gertrude Watson, homemaking coordinator for Senior and Junior high schools, is in charge of the tea, while Mrs. Ruby K. Payne's girls are arranging the dress review.

Fourth year girls who planned the tea are Sorena Alexander, Eloise Bonds, Jewel Booker, Nellie Campbell, Estelle Cordell, Lora Mae Dye, Bobbie Nell Elliott, Genevieve Franks, Joy Jackson, Marjorie Lacy, Lonelle Mayfield, Virginia McElroy, Anna Kathryn McNeill, Bernice Paxton, Annie Belle Perkins, Evelyn South, Lona West, and Thelma Wood.

CLASS ENTERTAINED

The young married people's department of the Robertson Sunday school was entertained recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wheeler. Chinese checkers and other games were played, then a toy was presented to each guest from a decorated tree. The hosts were assisted by Mesdames Marvin Aycock and Lillian Crowder. Refreshments were served to 20 guests.

Hunter Chosen As Oil Leader

TULSA, Dec. 19. (AP)—J. C. Hunter of Abilene, Tex., for many years one of the leading independent oil producers in the west central area of Texas was elected president of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association today.

The election occurred at the annual meeting of the board of directors. Announcement was made following a luncheon at the end of the session.

To Succeed Collett

Hunter succeeds J. D. Collett of Fort Worth, who sidestepped overtures for his re-election because of ill health.

The directors decided that hereafter a first vice president of the association as a whole would be elected yearly to serve with the vice president for the different oil-producing states.

Bob Kerr, Oklahoma City, was named to the new post.

The directors created the post of chairman of the board of directors and Collett was given the position

Federal Court Adjourns Here

Federal court for the December term, was adjourned by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, presiding, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon after he had rendered a decision in the case of Elmer L. Thornton and others against Mrs. Gladys Bray as administratrix of the estate of Otho Bray, and others. Special days were set for March 16 and March 20, 1939 when two cases are scheduled for trial before a jury.

The afternoon was taken up with hearing testimony in the Thornton-Bray case. Thornton and Ross Sport testified as to an agreement with the late Otho Bray. They were represented by C. C. Crenshaw and G. W. Dupree. Mrs. Bray was represented by F. D. Wright of Cisco. Kenneth E. Ward of Chickasha, Okla., who claimed a partnership agreement with Bray and others were defendants. Ward appearing and testifying, as did Mrs. Bray, A. L. Duff, jr., of Seminole and Mark Wheeland of Meadow.

Finds For Defendants

Judge Davidson found for the defendants in one mineral deed, dated prior to an agreement made by Bray with Thornton and Sport and dated Jan. 16, 1936, and for the defendants for mineral deeds secured after that date. Crenshaw was instructed to write the findings and submit them to opposing counsel. There was no jury, it having been waived.

A jury at noon reported a verdict for plaintiff on a $3,000 life insurance policy, less amounts charged against it, in the case of Mrs. Samuel L. Rendleman against Kansas City Life Insurance Co. The jury had received the case Saturday noon, but was unable to agree until just before noon Monday. No decision was made in a second suit.

Appears With Bond

J. P. Moore, Jayton, given until Monday noon to complete a bond, appeared with bondsmen and was released until the May term.

T. I. Brown, who had plead guilty to charges of making false statements to secure a loan from the RFC, and conspiracy, and who was to serve 18 months in El Reno on his plea, was told by Judge Davidson he would withhold passing of sentence until May 15, 1939. He was placed under $1,000 bond until opening of the May term of court. Sam Rosenthal and R. C. Ayres were his bondsmen.

Civil case between Sidney Brazeal and George Smith and others, was set for a special term on March 16. All motions were overruled. Case of Wirt G. Bowman Investment Co. against Mrs. Lena Ward was set for March 20.

Decision in the bankruptcy case of R. C. Sawyer was passed for consultation and Judge Davidson asked Attorney Crenshaw to write him a letter setting forth problems in the case.

Leaves With Prisoners

C. E. Luce, deputy U. S. marshal, left Sunday with four men for El Reno, Okla., federal reformatory. They were, Forrest Jewel Kinney, Roy Horace Henry, Morice W. Bell and Clifton W. Miller, all of whom are to serve 13 months in El Reno.

Approval of a refunding agreement by the city of Littlefield and its creditors, by which the city has settled its financial difficulties, was given Monday in U. S. district court by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson. The formal order was entered in the case of W. J. Meredith and others against the city.

Charles C. Crenshaw, of Crenshaw and Dupree, attorneys for Meredith, presented the order to Judge Davidson and explained the settlement. "We have an agreement on all outstanding bonds and past due warrants and coupons not paid out of the sinking fund," said the attorney.

Will Save $100,000

Present bonds and warrants draw 6 per cent interest; the new bonds will draw 4 1-2 per cent. "There are approximately $300,000 in refunding bonds and the saving will be approximately $100,000 over a period of years."

Mayor Pat Boone, City Secretary W. G. Street and City Attorney E. A. Bills were present in the court room when Judge Davidson announced his order. The case, at the request of Crenshaw, will be transferred from the trial calendar, but certain injunction orders will be continued.

In commenting on the agreement reached between the city of Littlefield and bondholders, Judge Davidson complimented the two parties on this decision.

"A contract is more than a scrap of paper," he said, adding that in recent times there seemed to have arisen a tendency even among nations to regard lightly their contracts with other nations.

"I have a very high regard for Finland, he stated, adding that nation was one which regards its debts to the United States as binding. He commented that in one case before him a Finn was given consideration "because he belonged to that nation."

"A contract between a city, as a municipality and a contract between a county, as a municipality," he went on, "is just as binding as between men."

Medical Plans Are Operating

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) — Systems of semi-socialized medicine under which patients will pay the doctor to keep them well are approaching reality in at least six major cities and two states.

A review of medical insurance plans showed today that in New York City, Washington, Kansas City, Mo., Buffalo, N. Y., Detroit, Milwaukee, as well as California and Utah, programs are being formulated under which prospective patients will pay in advance for services of physician, nurse, hospital, laboratory and most other medical needs. The California Medical association approved a plan yesterday.

In addition, the dental society of New York state soon will begin a year of experiment in furnishing dental care on a pre-payment basis.

All the plans are an outgrowth of a three-year controversy within the medical profession on the question of health insurance and the use of tax funds for care of the medically needy.

Texas Tech Is Branded As One Of Most Remarkable Schools

"One of the most remarkable institutions of higher learning in the country today is Texas Technological college at Lubbock, wrote Dale Miller, assistant editor of the Texas Weekly, magazine published in Dallas.

An article entitled "Texas Tech: 13 Years Old and Growing" was published in the Dec. 17 issue of the magazine.

Tech "is remarkable not merely because it has obtained Clifford B. Jones of Spur as its next president, nor because its football team has come through a vigorous schedule undefeated and untied, although both of those circumstances, and especially the former, can be listed emphatically on the credit side of the ledger," Miller wrote. "It is remarkable chiefly for its growth. Only 14 years ago there was not such institution as Texas Tech. Today only 50 of the nation's 648 colleges and universities are larger from the standpoint of enrollment, and only 17 of those 50 are state-supported institutions."

Mrs. Roosevelt Asserts Her Right To Live Private Life Just As She Might See Fit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) —Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt vigorously asserted today the right of a president's wife and children to live their own private lives.

Discussing at her press conference her own acceptance of a place on an insurance company's board of directors, Mrs. Roosevelt put the question up to the people of the United States.

Do they want the children of a president to be the type who do not want to earn their own living? she asked.

And does the nation want a president's wife to give up all of the interests she had built up?

Mrs. Roosevelt said she often had wondered whether the people of the country realized that a president's family must go on with their normal lives while he is in the White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt stressed the fact that no member of the White House family, nor any person in the government, should ever use his or her position to ask for special favors.

Youth Poses As Son Of Veteran Actor And Borrows Money On Name While In Europe

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Donald Crisp, veteran film actor, today authorized attorneys in England to prosecute a young American actor who has been posing as Crisp's son and borrowing money through the deception.

The actor said he had received letters from friends and strangers in England asking him to make good the loans they advanced to the imposter.

Crisp first learned of his activities from Brian Aherne, film star, who recently returned from England. Aherne spoke of having met Crisp's "son" abroad. Crisp told him he did not have a son. Crisp did not intend to take legal action against the youth but when he learned of the borrowed money, he started to prosecute.

Condition of 7-months-old Bobby Dwaine Sumner, son of Charles H. Sumner of 1629-B Seventh street, is improving, physicians at the Plains hospital said Monday night. He is a pneumonia patient.

G. W. Springer, of Sudan, who suffered a broken rib, concussion, and laceration of the scalp when his car overturned Friday, was reported to be in "good" condition Monday night by attendants at West Texas hospital.

A son weighing 7 1-2 pounds was born at 1:42 o'clock Sunday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jones of 1811 Fifth street, it was reported by Stewart & Benson clinic. Birth was at the residence. The infant was named Arron Everett.

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court Sunday ordered Cullen A. Brown in a mandatory injunction to restore his 2-year-old daughter to Oma Faye Brown, mother of the infant, until divorce proceedings that had been instituted in the case are disposed. Application of the mother stated that Brown took the child from a parked automobile in Slaton Saturday and that he had declined to surrender her to the mother or an officer.

Damages of $1,500 for his person and $15 for his spectacles were asked in action filed by A. Schwartz against J. Tyson in 99th district court Monday. Schwartz accused the defendant of conducting an assault on him, which resulted in the damage.

Opal Whisenhunt, 23, posted $750 bond Monday night after he had been charged that morning with burglary Saturday night of the W. B. Bethany filling station at 401 Avenue H. Walter Davies, justice of peace, set the bond. Complaint, signed by Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, and prepared by Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney, charged "certain corporal personal property" was taken. Early Monday "$40.37 in money" had been delivered to Bethany, the sheriff department said. The filling station had been entered through a door, a bar on which had been removed, investigators said.

Condition of Mrs. Matilda Pope- joy, 92, "Lubbock's oldest mother," remained unchanged Monday night, members of the family said. She is seriously ill at the home of a son, John R. Popejoy of 2313 Ninth street. In 1937, Mrs. Popejoy was designated Lubbock's oldest mother and presumably held that distinction on Mother's day this year. Relatives who arrived here over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Popejoy, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brooks and daughter, and J. R. Popejoy, Snyder; Miss Mattie Morgan, Meadow; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Spence, Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Phillips, Idalou.

W. J. McMahan, 8, son of A. K. McMahan, residing at Cotton Center, near Hale Center, was attended at West Texas hospital Monday afternoon for a compound wrist fracture received, according to reports here, when he fell out of a school swing. He was taken to his home after treatment.

Daniel Coleman, 26, negro, was seriously gashed about 11 o'clock when an unknown assailant mysteriously attacked him presumably with a knife on Avenue U between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. Attendants at Lubbock sanitarium, where he was admitted for treatment, said his condition was "fair." He suffered severe cuts on both shoulders. He is a shine boy at a barber shop here. O. E. Rush and Melvin Alvey of the police department investigated.

the five that left Oakland on Aug. 16, 1927, completed the flight. Art Goebel and William Davis, USN, took first prize money. Capt. Paul Schulter won $10,000.

Navy officers were positive the plane was not a military or naval craft. They believed it was a biplane and one of three ill-fated "Dole" ships. But there was possibility it was that of Capt. Charles T. P. Ulm, who with a crew of three was lost somewhere near the island in 1934 on a flight from San Francisco. No trace of the Ulm ship or its crew had been found.

First clues to be brought up from the wreckage were contained in several pieces of wing covering, a tubular wing brace, pieces of fabric and corrugated aluminum. A piece of light alloy also was found. It bore the numbers 28F1013-98 and 11959 or 959.

Miss Doran was a passenger aboard the craft piloted by Augie Pedler and navigated by Lt. Vilas Knope.

The "Golden Eagle" carried John W. Frost and Gordon Scott to their deaths, and the "Spirit of Dallas," flown by Capt. William Q. Erwin and A. H. Eichwaldt, also was lost. It was forced back and took off on Aug. 18.

The "Spirit of Dallas" was the only one equipped with radio, almost an innovation in those days of compass flying and dead reckoning. When 690 miles out from San Francisco, Erwin reported:

"We are in a tailspin."

It was the fullest explanation of the tragedy that befell any of the three ships.

English walnuts were a big problem until recently, when some genius figured out a way to make them explode. Gas is injected into the nuts and then they're sent to market. The consumer can throw away the nut cracker, because all he has to do is expose the nut to heat and—pop! The shell explodes away from the nut.

Convict Voluntarily Back In Prison After Brief Absence

HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 19. (AP) — M. Wharton, 30-year-old convict serving time for robbery, was voluntarily back at Wynne prison farm today after a three-week leave of absence he gave himself.

On Dec. 3, Capt. R. H. Baughn said, Wharton scrambled over a fence and disappeared. He went, "blue and lonely," to see relatives in Mineral Wells. Last night he came back, his brother with him, to surrender. Capt. Baughn said Wharton's record was clear and that he would lose only the time he was absent.

His Love For Parties Puts Him Behind Prison Bars

MAYVILLE, N. Y., Dec. 19. (AP)—Lester A. Miller, 50, a volunteer fireman who liked to attend the parties the Dunkirk fire department put on after each call—false alarms excepted—was sentenced to a year in prison today for arson.

Judge Lee L. Ottaway said Miller set fire to a railroad shed, joined his company in fighting the blaze—and went to the party afterwards.

Legislation Is To Be Offered

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (U.P.) — Sens.-Elect Rogers Kelley of Edinburg and Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo today drafted three important measures to present to the January session of the Texas legislature.

Kelley will offer a new drivers' license bill. Metcalfe proposes a constitutional amendment to require registry of all voters, whether they reside in town or country. The present poll tax law applies only in places over 10,000 population. His other measure will authorize scholarships at the University of Texas for students from each country in the western hemisphere.

Licenses To Expire

Drivers' licenses which were issued free when the licensing system was adopted, will expire April 1, 1939. Kelley's bill provides for three types of licenses to be issued then. The ordinary drivers' license will be issued for two years at a fee of 50 cents a year. Chauffeurs will be distinguished from truck drivers, each paying a different fee.

Metcalfe contemplated also need of establishment of negro technical and professional courses at Prairie View normal school. He thought the requirement outlined by the U. S. supreme court decision on a Missouri case, could be met most economically by offering the negro students their choice of training at Prairie View or acceptance of state aid to attend institutions in other states. The dual plan, he thought, would meet the court requirements and require few additions to the Prairie View staff of instructors.

New Type Steam-Electric Train At 125 Miles An Hour At Demonstration

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 19. (U.P.)—A new type steam-electric locomotive which generates its own electricity today ran at a speed of 125 miles an hour at a demonstration before General Electric officials and railroad men.

The giant of the rail was developed by General Electric and Union Pacific engineers who worked two years to build a practical steam turbine power plant in the locomotive.

Runs At High Speed

When it is put in service on the Union Pacific railroad between Chicago and the west coast, it will be capable of pulling a train of 15 standard pullman cars at speeds up to 125 miles an hour. Engineers claim the locomotive will do twice the work of the conventional engine for each pound of fuel, and make three times the mileage without stops for either fuel or water.

Steam for the boiler is used to make electricity just as is done in any power plant. The electricity then is used to turn the motors geared to the wheels.

To Make No Stops

In warm weather when the steam-car heating plant is not needed, the locomotive can travel from coast to coast without a single stop for water. This is possible because the steam from the boiler after driving the turbine is condensed back into water and used over again.

Each of the two units making up the complete two-cab locomotives is 90 feet long and weighs 265 tons. The 5,000 horsepower will enable the Union Pacific to handle its heaviest standard train equipment over the entire run from Chicago to the west coast without a change of locomotives and without requiring a helper over the grades, engineers declare.

'Mud Muffs'

MUGGINS HAD TROUBLE like this keeping his ears out of his food before Mrs. McCaleb devised the "soup guards."

BUT NOT NOW—the muffs keep his ears up. And outdoors they keep them clear of mud and burrs.

President To Get New Toothbrush

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) —President Roosevelt is going to get a toothbrush, in his Christmas stocking.

Mrs. Roosevelt, the chief stocking-filler at the White House, said today she always puts in toothbrushes and cakes of soap.

The custom started, the first lady told her press conference when the children used to come home from school needing new toothbrushes, and has continued although they all have grown up.

Trip To Amazon Might Solve Problem Of Thinning Hair

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—A trip to the headwaters of the Amazon river might solve the problem of thinning hair.

Richard C. Gill, Washington, D. C., explorer who returned with his wife today from a seven-months search for rare drugs, said none of the natives was bald. He discovered they used root extract on their hair which "seems to be so good as a cosmetic that they can almost grow hair on eggs."

Stockman Dies Of Injuries Received In Auto Crash

TAYLOR, Dec. 19. (AP) — Sam Downing, stockman of Hutto, Tex., died here tonight of injuries received in a three-way crash near here today.

Downing's car collided with one driven by Dr. W. L. Helms, Taylor physician, who was injured painfully.

A third car, driven by E. Beville, San Antonio attorney, crashed with the wreckage as a fourth machine approached from the opposite direction. Beville received bruises.

Former Governor Of Indiana Stricken By Heart Attack

KENTLAND, Ind., Dec. 19 (AP)—Warren T. McCray, 73, former Republican governor of Indiana, died of a heart attack at dinner tonight at his home near here.

McCray, who served three years in federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after conviction on charges of using the mails to defraud, was governor from 1921 to 1924. He was paroled, and in 1930 President Hoover granted him a full pardon.

Arrest In The Torch-Slaying Of Man Is Being Expected

WACO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Sheriff W. B. Mobley said today he expected an arrest shortly in the unexplained torch-slaying Saturday of Will Sells, 54-year-old caretaker on the Jess Wilbanks ranch.

Sells' shot-pierced, burned body was found last night in a three-room cabin on the ranch, 10 miles from here. The cabin had been burned. An autopsy showed his right lung had been punctured by shot from a gun the size of one missing from Sells' home.

Here's One Politician Who Kept His Campaign Promise

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 19 — Carrying out a campaign promise, State Representative Hilliard J. Carwile of Clay county arrived at the state capitol today after a nine-day trip by covered wagon.

Carwile said he told the people he would travel to Montgomery in the humble manner of the pioneers.

The vehicle, drawn by two oxen, meandered up Dexter avenue in the wake of a police escort. On the capitol steps, Carwile made a speech on Alabama's parks and resources.

Boy Rolls Cannon Ball Into Creek; Now He Faces Job

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 19. (AP) —A judge gave Millard E. Dawson, 17, a job today—finding the ornamental cannon ball he rolled from a city park into Brandywine creek.

"I don't care how you get it out of the creek," said Judge John F. Lynn when the boy was arraigned on a disorderly conduct charge, "but I'll give you until Saturday to do it."

Maryland Democrat Dies In Office Of Capitol Physician

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Rep. Stephen W. Gambrill, Laurel, Md., Democrat, died in the office of the capitol physician today after two heart attacks.

The 65-year old Marylander who came to congress in 1924, collapsed in his own office and died soon after Dr. George Calver, physician, had taken him to the physician's office in the capitol.

A Saint John, N. B., ambulance association brigade of six divisions is to be built here around Rover Scout crews and older scouts.

Icy Northeast Winds Sweep Across Europe; Temperatures Hit Record Lows

Forecast Says More Coming

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Icy northeast winds from Siberia laden with snow and sleet struck Europe today from northern Scotland to Southern Greece, sending temperatures tumbling to record lows.

Official forecasts said there was even worse coming.

London temperatures dropped from 42 degrees fahrenheit to 26 in 24 hours, bringing the coldest day in ten years. Snow fell over Scotland and England as far as south London.

Molasses Tanks Burst

Seven thousand tons of molasses cascaded at Zeebrugge, Belgium, from two steel tanks which shrank in the intense cold yesterday until they burst.

The brown tide overturned another tank, containing 150 tons of creosote, and threatened to disrupt operations at a nearby gas works. The mixture of molasses and creosote froze, however, as 200 soldiers were called out to fight it.

A temperature of seven degrees above zero fahrenheit in Paris forced cancellation of a dress rehearsal for anti-air-raid defenses, postponed once by the November 30 general strike and scheduled for tonight.

Temperatures Plunge

In Prague the temperature fell below freezing. Some of the coldest weather was reported from the Carpathian mountain districts of eastern Czecho-Slovakia where the mercury plunged as low as 22 degrees below zero fahrenheit.

Some of the coldest temperatures, 35 to 30 degrees below zero, were reported from the Carpathian mountain district of eastern Czecho-Slovakia. In Prague it was 7 below.

The bitter cold was especially unwelcome in Czecho-Slovakia because the loss of the rich Sudetenland coal fields to Germany has resulted in a coal shortage at present.

In Paris yesterday a low of 14 degrees was registered, but there was no snow. Cafe terraces lighted braziers to keep their customers warm.

Two New Radio Stations Are Planned For Piedras Negras

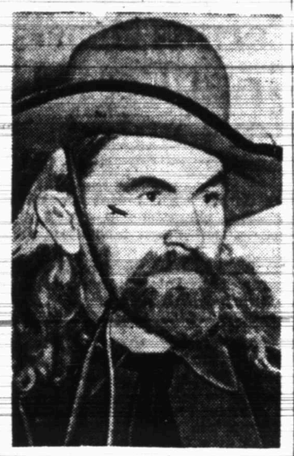

EAGLE PASS, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Two new radio stations will be built in Piedras Negras, Mexico, across the border from here, to take the place of station XEPN, which was destroyed by a mysterious explosion and fire Saturday night, it was said today.

C. M. Bres, Eagle Pass, manager and part owner of the Piedras Negras Broadcasting company, said that he would rebuild the old station. Bres said that the XEPN concession was in his name and that he had applied at Mexico City for a permit to rebuild.

At the same time, W. E. Branch, radio engineer and president of XEPN, said that he had formed a new broadcasting company to put up a powerful station in Piedras Negras.

Veteran Soldier Of Fortune Is Visitor In Lubbock Monday; Thrilling Stories Of Remote Places On Globe Are Recalled

* * *

CAPT. JACK LLOYD

Capt. Jack Lloyd, 70-year-old soldier of fortune, adventurer and veteran of many wars and revolutions, visited several hours in Lubbock Monday.

Known the world over as "Burning Daylight," Captain Lloyd said he had not missed a boom in 55 years. No matter what part of the world booms, he manages to get there.

In Many Countries

In chasing the "end of the rainbow" he has been in 57 countries and almost every remote section in which the white man has traveled.

He can show more than a thousand clippings from leading papers of the world giving the highlights of his colorful life. He plans to head for Florida after visiting other West Texas towns, then will go to New York, where he hopes to take part in the World fair.

When making various trips, Captain Lloyd has written copy for more than 6,000 newspapers and magazines. He has published several papers of his own in wild oil and mining camps of the old days.

Made Trek To Africa

When "little bits of glass" were found on the veldts of the Kimberly, he was one of the first Americans to make the trek to the African country. After tramping through the Lake Pretoria, Kimberly, Veldts and Transvaal countries, getting a few "bits of glass" for himself, he returned to America.

He wrote many interesting articles about the world's greatest diamond rush.

Name a boom camp of the west and the captain will tell you a hair-raising story about it. He recalls such camps as Bisbee, with its famous Brewery Gulch; Tombstone and Boot Hill; Deadwood and Wild Bill Hickok; Abilene and the cow men of the reconstruction days, Dodge City, San Angelo, Fort Worth, Bowie and Amarillo, when hitching racks adjoined the main street.

Memories Of Judge Bean

He recalls memories of Judge Roy Elam Bean of Langtry, when he was the "law west of the Pecos," the days he served under Captain Bill McDonald, and the trail of the Pecos Kid into the Big Bend country, when none other learned the secret of the Kid's old reserve.

In Deadwood during the gold rush, Captain Lloyd was received by Calamity Jane. He praises highly that famous frontier woman.

He recalls the morning Doc McCall shot Wild Bill Hickok and tells of Buffalo Bill's call for volunteers when news of Custer's massacre reached Deadwood.

The adventurer broke into the limelight during the gold rush to Alaska. After the colorful drives and adventures, Jack London wrote Burning Daylight, a descriptive story of the Yukon country.

Ranger is rated by Captain Lloyd as one of the greatest boom towns of all time, in its heyday during the World war.

He has written feature stories from many of the Texas oil fields, describing the crowds for Texas newspapers. He was correspondent for many eastern papers.

He has had his share of military experience. He was with the British in the World war several months, bailed out and was gassed.

Rode With Teddy

He rode with Teddy Roosevelt and the Rough Riders in the Spanish American war, had a three-year turn with Pancho Villa in Mexico, was an executive officer with Sandino, was with Machado in Cuba, was on the staff of Wing Fuchau in North China, and served a full hitch in the French Foreign Legion.

Every Latin American revolution that made page one listed him as a participant, he says.

Dressed in garb of the old west, with hair to his shoulders, Captain Lloyd says he likes to dress that way because it still reminds him of the early days.

He was left an orphan at five years old.

This was his first trip to Lubback in several years. Lubbock, he says, is one of the liveliest towns he has visited, and the best he has visited since leaving Seattle.

Buildings and activity at Texas Technological college especially took his eye.

Answer To Criticism Offered By Artist

SANTA FE, N. M., Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Randall Davey, Santa Fe artist who has been criticized about his mural of Will Rogers in the Claremore, Okla., post office, issued a statement today in defense of his work.

"Whether or not Mr. Harrison (Morton Harrison, chairman of Claremore's Will Rogers memorial commission) who holds some position of some sort in Claremore, and his children, or Mrs. Ida McReynolds, who heads the local study club, like or dislike my mural in the Claremore post office is a matter of complete indifference to me," the artist said.

"I painted what to my mind was a perfectly understandable decoration," he declared. "The objections to my work spring from ignorance and a total lack of aesthetic sophistication.

"Had I employed bathing beauties and crooners, as did the commission which Mr. Harrison heads at the Will Rogers memorial, I believe my work would have been accepted with acclaim."

Influenza Epidemic Being Threatened

BENTSCHEN, Poland, Dec. 19. (U.P.) Officials in charge of a Polish-Jewish refugee camp on the German frontier reported today that an influenza epidemic threatened to develop as a result of a severe cold wave, and that 10 of the refugees had gone mad.

More than 600 of 5,000 refugees, forced across the frontier from Germany due to a recent controversy over passport regulations, were reported ill of influenza and hundreds of others had colds. Two of those who became insane and 10 others have died, the camp executive said.

Fears were expressed by the camp officials that continued cold would cause a wide spread epidemic.

Temporary barracks, including an unfinished mill, a dance hall and a gymnasium, were poorly heated, causing severe suffering from the cold. Crowds of refugees were huddled around fires built in whatever shelter was available, beating their hands together and stomping to keep warm.

All-Time Record For Building Permits Is Near For City

Building permits issued Monday for construction established at $38,600 boosted the year's total nearer the all-time record for Lubbock.

The permits included one for $29,600 for improvements in Mackenzie state park during the year, $6,500 for improvements to Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds and $2,500 for a duplex to be erected for C. C. Leftwich at 807 Avenue O.

Permit total for the year was increased to $3,194,746, an amount exceeded only by the $3,337,306 in new construction authorized in 1929.

Red Raiders And Westerners Prepare To Invade Cotton Bowl Headquarters

Tech Squad Off Tonight; Drill At SMU Field

Texas Tech football training came to the end of the local rope yesterday, and tomorrow afternoon will find the Red Raiders established at the Southern Methodist university gridiron in Dallas where they will wind up rehearsals for their Big Splurge on Jan. 2.

Coach Pete Cawthon tonight will supervise the entraining of 38 football players, two student managers, a trainer and an assistant coach, and the party will head for Dallas. A giant reception is planned for them tomorrow morning in the Cotton Bowl city.

Late next week the St. Mary's College Gaels of California will hit Dallas, and on the following Monday the teams will hit each other in what promises to be a "bowl" game worthy of the name, and before the largest crowd in Cotton Bowl history.

Cawthon named his traveling squad a few weeks ago, and up to last night it hadn't been changed.

The Cotton Bowl Squad

Representing Texas Tech in its greatest bid for gridiron glory and national esteem, will be the following tried and true gridders:

Ends—Prince Scott, Grapevine; George L. Webb, Itasca; E. J. McKnight, Mexia; George Philbrick, Dallas; Jack Wheelis, Mart, and Francis Bingham, Spur.

Tackles—A. B. Murphy, Beaumont; Leonard Latch, Cisco; Bill Davis, Grapevine; Elbert Overton, Reso, N. M.; Lloyd Tallferro, Plainview; J. B. Gilbert, Cameron; Steve Miller, McAdoo, and Durwood Herring, Mineral Wells.

Guards—Dixie White, Lubbock; Holt Waldrep, Slaton; Phil Harmon, Idalou; Primo McCurry, Lubbock; Wilmer Greene, Gainesville, and Forrest "Tex" Jones, Lubbock.

Centers—Rex Williams, Sherman; Frank Guzick, Sherman; Rafe Nabors, Lubbock, and Chester Hemsell, Greenville.

Backs—Elmer Tarbox, Higgins; Milton Hill, Lubbock; Billy Dodd, Sherman; Bobby Holmes, Miami, Okla.; Dudley Akins, Hillsboro; Gene Barnett, Lubbock; C. L. Storrs, Lubbock; Woodrow Ramsey, Chillicothe; Jodie Marek, Temple; Charley Calhoun, Lubbock; Walter Rankin, Colorado; Raymond Flusche, Electra; Tyrus Bain, Mexia, and Ralph Balfanz, Abilene.

Student managers—Harris Cheek, Wink, and Gerald Sprague, Canadian.

Trainer—Lewis Spears, Lubbock.

Coaches—P. W. Cawthon, Dutchy Smith and Berl Huffman.

Line Coach Smith deserted the Tech camp yesterday and drove on to Dallas to make final preparations for the Red Raiders arrival.

Break In New Shirts

Yesterday's final home workout, one of the liveliest of all time, was general and brief. After a long kicking and passing practice, the squad divided for signal practice, running plays for less than an hour.

The Raiders "broke in" new practice jersies yesterday, and will be fully outfitted with them when they drill in Dallas the rest of this week and next week. The new practice jersies are crimson knit, trimmed in black.

New playing uniforms to replace worn or torn ones will be available for the game itself.

Red Raider fans will follow the gridders in special trains, specific departing time of which has not been announced.

Members of the squad were presented with other new "clothes" at the Touchdown Club meeting last night. Red leather and wool jackets, appropriately adorned with the Tech "coat of arms", and presented by business men of Lubbock, went to each player, coach, and manager making the Cotton Bowl trip. J. A. Raley and Jack Parsons made the presentations.

About 400 men attended the meeting, at which motion pictures of part of the 1938 St. Mary's-Santa Clara football game were shown. Coaches, Weldon Chapman and Pete Cawthon were principal speakers.

Two Teams Fail To Appear For Independent Court Contests

Lubbock's Independent court loop started Sunday but was slowed last night when two teams failed to put in appearance at the Auditorium.

A quintet was organized to play the J. C. Penney five and was revamped, 50-26. In the second game the Hub Clothiers were present and a team was organized from the players in the first game to represent Bill and Guess. The Hub quintet won, 30-25. Neither contest counted in the league standings.

LUMBERJACKS WIN

NACOGDOCHES, Dec. 19. (AP)—After trailing at the half, 20-19, the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks came back to down the Kearney, Neb., Teachers 44-30 tonight. Patteson, with 12, and Cook, 11, led the winners' scoring. Johnson led the losers with 8.

The Nebraskans play North Texas Teachers at Denton tomorrow and Wednesday nights before returning home.

GALAPAC WINS

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 19. (AP)—A capacity crowd of more than 10,000 crammed Tropical Park today for the opening of Florida's 26-day winter season and saw Galapac sprint to victory in the $1,200 inaugural.

Bomb Salute To Greet Raiders

(Special To The Avalanche)

DALLAS, Dec. 19.—All Dallas, and possibly its farthest suburbs, will know it when the Texas Tech Red Raiders hit town Wednesday morning, and late sleepers may think it's another H. G. Wells story come true.

An aerial salute with hundreds of bombs bursting in mid-air and resembling a young world war will greet the Red Raiders on their arrival here for final preparations for the Cotton Bowl classic with St. Mary's of California.

Curtis Sanford, vice-president of the Dallas Cotton Bowl association, completed arrangements today for the touching off of the aerial bombs.

A twenty-nine bomb salute will go off as the Raiders arrive at Union terminal.

After receiving an official welcome from Mayor George Sprague, the Tech gridders will climb in special automobiles and be paraded up Main street. During the parade, additional aerial bombs will be touched off enroute. The detonation will be heard for miles around.

The "cotton" motif will be stressed during the parade also. The Red Raiders will be showered with thousands of pounds of cotton confetti as they ride up Main street enroute to Stoneleigh hotel, the Red Raider headquarters.

Beyond a doubt, the Raiders will receive the most enthusiastic and most colorful welcome of any 1938 "bowl" entry.

Mayor Sprague issued an appeal today for "all Dallasites to be at the station and greet the Texas Tech squad when the train pulls in."

In addition to the official greeting party and fans, the colorful Southern Methodist university band and several local high school bands will greet the Red Raiders and head the big parade through the downtown district.

Women Appear On Wrestle Card

Women in the wrestling profession are getting to be a habit—in Lubbock at any rate.

For the second consecutive week Promoter Sled Allen has signed two of the weaker sex to show the men torso twisters how it should be done.

Clara Mortenson, women's wrestling champion of the world, fights Margie Steele in the special event at the Auditorium Wednesday night. The champ won two straight falls over Mildred White last week. The event will be a two out of three fall affair or two hours time limit.

Mortenson Signed Again

Another popular attraction appears on the wrestle card this week. Leo Mortenson, brother to the champion. He made a big hit with the fans last Wednesday against Sailor Watkins by swapping punch for punch. The brown headed boy from New York is about the classiest thing to enter this circuit in several years.

Until his opponent starts the underhand tactics Mortenson fights as cleanly as anyone in the business but he is a strong believer in "hitting 'em back twice as hard as they hit you."

Those are the two main events. There will be no semi-final, the girls match taking its place.

In the curtain raiser Frankie Hill of Kansas City makes his first appearance in a logal ring. Publicity on the mid-west bone bender says he knows the ropes. He will have a good test in Bill Cazzell, his rough opponent. The match is for one fall or 20 minute time limit.

Duke University Team Works Out At Tech Field Thursday

DURHAM, N. C., Dec. 19. (AP)—Duke's football squad took its final heavy home workout today before entraining tomorrow afternoon for Pasadena, Calif., where it meets Southern California Jan. 2 in the Rose bowl game.

Coach Wallace Wade said the squad would have workouts at Pine Bluff, Ark., and Lubbock.

A ditailed description of the process that goes goes into making a newspaper or magazine would require several volumes.

First day sales of the new King George VI stamps amounted to 35,000,000 in England alone.

Chapman Eleven Leaves City Thursday

With more spirit and hustle than has been shown in several weeks Coach Weldon Chapman's state title contenders went through their first workouts for the clash yesterday.

More impressive than anything else about the mighty Westerners was that characteristic calmness and determination that has marked their powerful charge to the championship game.

Coach Chapman plans to bear down in practice today and tomorrow then leave with the squad early Thursday arriving in Cisco for a workout that afternoon.

SPECIAL TRAIN BOOKED

A special Santa Fe train will leave Lubbock at 10 o'clock Sunday night carrying the Lubbock High school band, pep leaders and other students and several hundred townspeople to Dallas for the state championship game between Lubbock and Corpus Christi Monday.

This announcement was made by Santa Fe officials last night, following conferences with high school authorities and business men.

Round trip fair for the special train will be $7.15, it was announced. The train will arrive in Dallas Union terminal at 7:15 o'clock Monday morning. It will depart from the Fair Park at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, remain at Union terminal until 8 o'clock, and arrive in Lubbock at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, allowing Lubbock citizens plenty of time to check in for work Tuesday.

In Dallas Friday

The team will journey to Dallas Friday where they will workout in the Cotton Bowl that afternoon and Saturday. They will have Sunday off.

Perhaps the Westerners do not realize the fact but they are going to face a situation next week unlike any they have clashed with this season.

For the first time they are going to be playing a team that boasts no single star, or two or three aces. The entire Buccaneer eleven plays as a unit—and from a glance at their impressive record since they won their district title they have done a very commendable job.

True, there are "standouts" in the coast championship contenders. There is Emory Nix, quarterback, William Dolan, versatile fullback, and Pat Hall, 202 pound right end. But they do not stand head and shoulders above the rest of the Corpus Christi lineup.

Buc Backs Versatile

In the semi-final game with Temple last Saturday Nix made 71 yards, Dolan added 73 and Kenneth Mathews, right half, accounted for 71. The left half, Jesus Garza made 34 yards himself. That shows the level upon which the Buccaneers play. There is no individual star.

But taking the place of a rampaging one man team is a squad of boys who rival even Masonic Home for playing together. The Bucs have power plus deception. That is a threat to any team, even Lubbock's mighty Westerners!

Instead of being able to center their defense on the passing and receiving of a backfield man and an end and halfback the Lubbocks must find a method to stop four men who can run, block and pass. The line will have its heaviest assignment all season. In fact if there is a team in the state that rivals the Westerners in every department except Captain Walter "Jumbo" Webster it is Corpus Christi.

Bucs High Scoring

In their last four games the coast champions have piled up 144 points to their opponents' 7. That lone touchdown was scored by Temple, last week.

The Lubbocks have amassed 112 points to the oppositions' 38. But Coach Chapman's lads have encountered some of the most finely polished offensive elevens in the Interscholastic league.

For that matter the Westerners are considered one of the best schoolboy grid machines in the South. Corpus Christi is one of the others.

Buccaneers To Bear Down For Contest

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 19. (AP)—Free from injuries and realizing fully that a tough task is still ahead, the Corpus Christi Buccaneers started work today for their Interscholastic state football championship engagement with the Lubbock Westerners in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas next Monday.

Only light work, enough to take out any kinks, was decreed today by Coach Harry Stiteler.

The Buc mentor plans to leave with his squad Wednesday. A workout probably will be held in Austin in the afternoon. On Thursday the Pirates will complete the journey to Dallas.

SOONERS BEAR DOWN

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 19. (AP)—Oklahoma's Sooners buckled down today to their first real gridiron workout since ending their all-victorious clash with unbeaten Tennessee at Miami, Fla., Jan. 2.

Work Of Head-Hunters?

No—it is just Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis in a steam bath at French Lick Springs, Ind. He's training for a fight with John Henry Louis Jan. 27 in Madison Square Garden. Louis watched Lou Nova battle Tonypandy Parr in submission for the decision in their 15 round bout at the Garden last week and said of Nova, "He looked mighty good, mighty good." Nova has been acclaimed as the greatest threat to the Brown Bomber's throne.

Harness Horses Of Interest To Many; Trainers Work Continuously For Race

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—This corner is intrigued by some information brought in by Alden Calkins on the winter activity of harness horses, not including those hitched to plows, milk wagons, or posts in front of the court house.

Calkins, public relations representative for the Trotting Horse club of America, recently returned from Goshen, N. Y.

The Goshen track now, Calkins says, is a bleak scene compared with Hambletonian day, when nearly 40,000 enthusiasts make the village limits bulge. But day after day, in rain and snow and sleet, drivers monotonously trot their horses around the track, warmed by the thought of next year's grand circuit events and the $40,000 Hambletonian purse.

Two Training Ideas

Harness horses race five months during the summer, but constant training during the other seven is necessary to condition them for several miles any given day. The miles are broken into heats and each clocked in 2:04 or thereabouts.

There are two definite schools of thought on northern and southern training locales during the winter. Some horsemen insist the rugged northern winters build bone and muscle and stamina. Others insist northern trainers ruin their horses with too much hardship. It seems to be about a tie, as this year finds the world champion pacer, Billy Direct, training in the hardy climate at Syracuse, N. Y., while the world champion trotter, Greyhound, is taking his winter school work at Seminole Park, Fla.

Riding Is Smooth

The necessity for continuous schooling, Calkins points out, is brought about by the fact that trotting and pacing are unnatural gaits, and if the horses aren't drilled steadily they will revert to a natural running gait, or, if they are smart, walking, as they aren't going anywhere but in circles anyway.

Trotting and pacing were created in the pre-revolutionary area by seekers of greater riding comfort. A galloping horse jolts the daylights out of whatever it is pulling, while a horse with the trotting or pacing gait flows along on an even keel.

There aren't many more comfortable rides than in a gently swaying, 26-pound sulky behind a trotter or pacer which can negotiate a mile in two minutes or better, but it's every man to his own taste. After viewing a few pileups at country fairs, we'll take a good, sturdy velocipede with rubber handle grips.

"Wrong Down" Getchell Named Umpire For Sugar Bowl Tilt

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 19. (AP)—The Mid-Winter Sports association announced tonight that John S. (Wrong Down) Getchell would umpire the Sugar Bowl football game between Carnegie Tech and Texas Christian here Jan. 2.

Getchell refereed the game in which Notre Dame handed Tech its only defeat of the season. The Tartans had the ball near midfield late in the game with a yard to go for first down.

Quarterback Paul Friedlander asked Getchell what down it was and the referee said it was third. A line play failed to gain first down and Getchell gave the ball to Notre Dame. The Irish scored three plays later.

Carnegie Tech requested that Getchell be named an official for the game here.

"We've forgiven and forgotten all about the Notre Dame game," Coach Bill Kern said.

Other officials named for the Sugar Bowl game were: Referee, Abb Curtis, University of Texas; head linesman, Eddie Dyer, Rice; and field judge, W. H. Friesell, jr. Princeton.

"All-Stirs" May Play Blocks Of Granite In Yegg Bowl At Dallas On New Years

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (U.P.)—Add bowl games: (Probable)—Yegg Bowl at Dallas January 1. Texas All-Stirs from Huntsville vs. Eleven-Plus blocks of Granite from Granite Reformatory, Granite, Okla.

Warden Fred Hunt of Granite reformatory today tentatively accepted a bid for his boys to meet the All-Stirs from the Texas State prison.

"It's up to the public affairs committee," he said. "I'm going to put the matter up to them today.

"I hope they'll give us permission to cross the state line into Texas for the game.

"We play to win and we're pretty salty."

The Texas team has been granted permission to come here for the game, which will be staged—if staged — in the Cotton Bowl. It is the first time a prison team ever has been granted permission to play outside the "walls."

Tulsa May Get Stewart Next

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 19. (AP) — It seemed a foregone conclusion tonight that Don Stewart, executive vice-president, would succeed Art Griggs as president of the Tulsa Oilers of the Texas league.

Griggs died today in Los Angeles of Hodgkins' disease at the age of 53. He had been sinking slowly since hope for his recovery was abandoned last week.

Stewart owns a block of stock in the ball club and has been actively in charge of its fiscal affairs. He left here yesterday to be at Griggs' bedside. Griggs always had referred to him as "my partner."

Griggs One Of Two Officials Having Played With Tulsa

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (AP) — Arthur Griggs, president of the Tulsa baseball club, who died in Los Angeles today, was, with the single exception of J. Walter Morris of Shreveport, the club official of the present Texas league with the earliest playing connection with it.

While Morris went from the University of Texas to play with Corsicana in 1902, Griggs did not play in Texas company until 1906 when, fresh from college, he joined the Lake Charles (Louisiana) club of the Class D South Texas league. A year later with the consolidation of the Texas and South Texas loops, Griggs was with San Antonio and in 1908 with San Antonio and Shreveport, finishing with the San Antonio club and helping George (Cap) Leidy win the only pennant the city captured in the Texas league until 1933.

On July 23, 1907, Griggs who was a pitcher as well as an infielder, started for San Antonio in the record shutout game of league history, Austin defeating San Antonio 44-0.

Most of Griggs' playing career after leaving Texas was spent on the Pacific coast although he was briefly in the American and Federal (independent third major) circuits. It was not until he secured the withdrawal of his Tulsa club from the Western league and brought it into the Texas circuit in 1933 that he reappeared in the loop where he had started as a young player 27 years before.

Pirates Top All Letdowns With Rice Second

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP) — Pie Traynor, sitting in the hotel lobby here during the big league baseball convention, sighed gustily and said:

"Nobody knows what starts a thing like that, and after it starts there's not a thing in the world you can do about it except just sit and suffer."

Pie was referring, of course, to the collapse of his Pittsburgh Pirates in the closing weeks of the recent National league race, a collapse that saw them throw away an apparently air-tight lead and blow the pennant to the Chicago Cubs in the last 48 hours.

Pie Leads Poll

Now, 70 sports writers participating in the eighth annual Associated Press poll have agreed with Pie that his plucked Pirates supplies the greatest disappointment of the 1938 sports season, with only the Rice Institute football team offering serious opposition.

Rice, you may recall, was the gridiron colossus that was going to mop up the Southwest conference and then chase some unlucky team right out of the Rose bowl. It had in Ernie Lain a veritable backfield genius who had led the sophomore eleven of the previous year to the Southwest conference title. By winning only four of 10 starts, the Owls easily took runner-up disappointment honors over Max Schmeling, who was belted out in the first round by Champion Joe Louis.

With points awarded on a 3-2-1 basis as each of the participating experts made three choices, Pittsburgh piled up 52 points to 49 for Rice and 29 for Schmeling. The Pirates were first choice of 14 writers, while 15 thought Rice flopped the hardest and 8 voted for Schmeling.

Dizzy Dean Fourth

Fourth in the list was Dizzy Dean, who cost the Cubs $185,000 and then came up with a lame arm. He had 27 1-2 points. By failing to win the National Professional football crown again the Washington Redskins drew 20 points, and the Chicago Cubs had 16 points plastered on them for four-straight defeats by the Yankees in the World Series.

Cleveland's failure to place higher than third in the American league was good for 9 1-2. Al Hostak, the Seattle boy who knocked out Freddie Steele for the middleweight championship and then was beaten half to death by Solly Krieger, attracted 9 points.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Lou Gehrig, veteran Yankee firstbaseman, had 7 apiece. Six points each went to the New York Giants, the West Virginia football team and the U. S. Walker Cup team, which was trimmed by the British side.

Two points: University of Texas football team; Mysterious Montague, the fabulous golfer; Ohio State football team; Nebraska football team; Bob Feller, Cleveland pitcher; the Tony Galento-Harry Thomas fight.

One point: Tony Galento (himself) Bill De Correvont, Northwestern freshman football star, who was reported to have fumbled his studies.

TESTS PROVE that "Zerone" would keep water from freezing solid even at 21½° below zero. You'll never encounter temperatures like that, so you can be sure "Zerone," used in accordance with directions, will protect your car in the coldest weather you'll ever experience.

Materials from which "Zerone" is made are so effective you need comparatively little "Zerone" to achieve protection. That's economy. Properly used, replacements of "Zerone" are little indeed—and that's economy, too.

Tests prove that the mixture of "Zerone" and water passes off engine heat better than water alone. That improves engine performance.

Corpus Boasts Great Record For Contest

(By The Associated Press)

If Corpus Christi wins the state schoolboy championship over Lubbock in Dallas next Monday it will top off one of the greatest records compiled in the 19-year football history of the Interscholastic league.

Corpus Christi has been a Class A member of the league since the football plan was inaugurated in 1920 and during that time has won twelve district championships, been in the quarter-finals ten times, semi-finals five times and the finals twice.

Other than this year Corpus Christi was in the 1934 finals against Amarillo, losing 48-0.

In 1920 the Buccaneers were eliminated by Houston Heights in the semi-finals. Houston went on to tie Cleburne for the state crown.

In 1921 Corpus Christi fell in the quarter-finals before Austin. In 1922 the Bucs were eliminated by Waco in the semi-finals. In 1923 they lost to Beaumont's Royal Purple in the quarter-finals. In 1924 Corpus Christi lost in the bi-district round to Temple. Then followed several lean seasons.

In 1931 Corpus Christi was awarded the district championship after Robstown was ruled ineligible but the Bucs were eliminated in the bi-district round by Harlingen, coached by J. A. (Dutch) Rekorik, now an assistant under Harry Stiteler at Corpus Christi.

In 1932 Corpus Christi was eliminated in the quarter-finals by John Reagan of Houston. In 1933 they lost in the quarter-finals to Port Arthur. In 1934 Amarillo beat the Bucs in the finals and in 1935 Corpus went down before Greenville in the semi-finals. In 1936 Corpus Christi again lost in the quarter-finals to Port Arthur. Last year the Bucs failed to win their district title.

Corpus Christi has been consistent—but this time the Bucs hope this rule will not hold in the finals. They want to be very inconsistent and take the championship from a Panhandle team—something they failed to do the first crack they had at it.

Tickets for the Lubbock-Corpus Christi state championship clash go on sale today at the usual agencies.

Persons reserving tickets for the contest at the Cotton Bowl must pay for them when reserving them. Otherwise no ducats will be held. Two thousand adult tickets and 500 student admissions were sent here for Lubbock fans. Price of the adult tickets are $1 if bought before the game, $1.50 at Dallas. Students' tickets are 50 cents.

BAYLOR LETTERS AWARDED

WACO, Dec. 19. (AP) — Twenty members of the Baylor football team, which placed third in the Southwest conference race, were voted grid letters today by the university's athletic council.

Billy Patterson and Sam Boyd, the team's great passing combination, were the only players to receive a third letter.

Galloping Gaels Chased In By Bad Weather

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE, Calif., Dec. 19. (AP)—Rainy weather chased St. Mary's football players indoors today and brought frowns to Coach Ed Madigan's face. It caused a serious interruption in training preparations for the Dallas Cotton Bowl game with Texas Tech, Jan. 2.

Madigan sent the players through signal drills and calisthentics in the gymnasium, meanwhile bemoaning the fact there were only seven days remaining in which to practice.

"After a month's layoff, we get this kind of weather," he said. "We need practice badly. Some of the boys have colds. Texas Tech rightfully will be the favorite when we play. The odds should be twice as big as they are!"

House Of David To Put On Comic Basketball Here

Bewhiskered gentlemen representing the House of David, professional basketball team, put on their three-ring circus in the Cooper and Whitharral gyms and Sled Allen's Auditorium on successive nights. They play Roosevelt, Cooper, Wilson, and New Home one quarter each and a five minute grand finale with all four teams opposing the Davids at the same time in the Cooper High School Gym on the night of December 23. On the night of December 24 Whitharral, Anton, Spade, and Littlefield will oppose the Davids on the Whitharral court, and the grand finale will again be played.

The Davids will meet an all-star team selected from the City league of Lubbock in Sled Allen's Auditorium on Xmas day at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Advance publicity suggests that the House of David team will put on the funniest basketball exhibition ever seen in these parts, and after the final whistle the cash customers will agree that the bewhiskered individuals have lived up to expectations.

FROGS SCRIMMAGE AGAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 19. (AP)—For the second straight afternoon, the Frogs scrimmaged until it was too dark to see Monday.

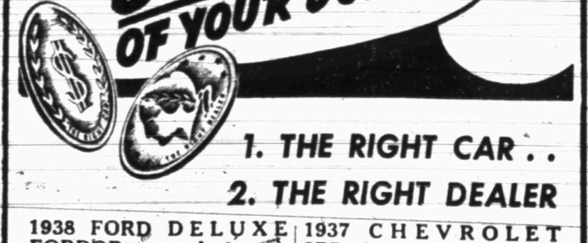

It was one of the most vicious drills of the entire season. The teams traded places on offense and marched up and down the field for more than two hours. At the last, the first team opposed the rugged second team and the brawling was boisterous.

KANSAS BEATS MUSTANGS

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (AP) — Coach Forrest C. (Phog) Allen's Kansas University Jayhawk five defeated Whitey Baccus' Mustangs in a close game tonight, 46 to 40, in the first of two intersectional basketball contests between the clubs.

J. D. (Sniper) Norton, Pony captain, won high scoring honors with 19 points.

Question Of State's Rights To Tax Federal Salaries To Get Court Decision

Disposition Of Al Capone To Be Decided At Conference Planned For This Week

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—United States Attorney William J. Campbell announced today that the disposition of Al Capone, former gang chieftain, would be decided at a conference in Washington "this week or next."

Capone is eligible for release from Alcatraz island prison in San Francisco bay on Jan. 19 figuring time off for good behavior—but he had been suffering from "mental disturbances." He is serving there a 10 year term for income tax evasion and faces an additional year in jail on a misdemeanor count in the same case.

The conference will be attended by members of the dethroned underworld king's family, his attorneys and government officials.

Campbell said federal officials had concluded Capone, a victim of paresis and undergoing treatment at Alcatraz, was "a dangerous man" during certain periods of his illness, about one week out of a month, "lucid" the other three weeks.

America's first insurance company was organized in 1735 at Charleston, S. C. In 1740, a fire destroyed half of Charleston and ruined the company.

High Tribunal To Study Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The question of a state's right to tax the salaries of employes of federal corporations is to be decided by the supreme court.

The high tribunal agreed today to review a case in which the New York supreme court decided that state could not tax the salary of James B. O'Keefe, an attorney for the Home Owners Loan corporation.

Possibilities Studied

A final decision is expected to have an important bearing on recommendations by President Roosevelt that all federal and state salaries and future bond issues be made subject to taxes.

Treasury officials have been studying the possibilities of such a step.

Treasury experts studying the proposals have made preliminary estimates that if the 30 states which have income tax laws could levy on federal salaries they could expect to reap nearly $15,000,000 a year. These experts said the federal government would collect about the same amount in income taxes from state employes.

The federal payroll in the executive branch for the month of June was $128,071,067. The number of employes then was 851,920.

In the New York case, the state supreme court ruled the state could not tax the $2,246 salary O'Keefe received because he was performing a federal function.

Demanded A Refund

O'Keefe already had paid a tax of $57.28 on his income in 1934. The case grew out of his demand for a refund.

The New York state tax commission, appealing for a review, contended the HOLC was an entity separate from the federal government and operated independently in each state.

The high tribunal, handed down no formal opinion today before recessing until Jan. 3.

Attorney General Homer Cummings presented to the court a copy of resolutions praising the late Justice Cardozo.

Aged Woman Fatally Burned During Flames In Home

GREENVILLE, Dec. 19. (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Sarah Truss, 75-year-old invalid who, unable to escape from her blazing home yesterday, was fatally burned.

Mrs. Truss, clutching a telephone in her hands, was found dead in bed when firemen broke into the room. She was alone in the small house when she called police and firemen. Her body was burned from the waist upward.

Firemen dragged her from the room and extinguished the fire. Apparently the bed clothes caught fire from a heating pad.

A son, Curry A. Truss of Greenville, and a brother J. S. Williams, of Cropwell, Ala., survive.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
for you who plan to extend out-of-town Christmas Greetings BY TELEPHONE

The Telephone Company feels that many persons, who have been in the habit of calling out-of-town relatives and friends on Christmas Eve, would really prefer to extend their Christmas greetings on Christmas Day. For this reason, we are glad to call your attention to the fact that, again this year, the low night and Sunday Long Distance rates will be in effect all day Christmas.*

To take care of the increased volume of calls, our switchboards will be "manned" to capacity. Even so, there will likely be periods—especially on Christmas Eve—when it will be impossible to put through calls to a few distant cities with normal speed. If you should be one of those inconvenienced by delay, we ask your indulgence in advance.

Thank you—and a very Merry Christmas.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

* The low night rates will also be in effect all day Monday, Dec. 26; New Year's Day; and Monday, January 2.

We'll Stick With Principle

WHILE it undoubtedly is true that re-legalization of horse race betting and liberalization of Texas liquor laws would bring in large sums in taxes, we do not believe that the overwhelming bulk of Texas' population will endorse either proposal.

In the first place, the people of this state have not reached the point of being willing to sacrifice principles for profit.

In the second place and particularly as to pari-mutuel betting, it would be poor business for business and for the people as a whole.

People of this state have had one experience with horse race betting and that, we believe, was enough for them. They had been told—and apparently had been persuaded—that the legalized pari-mutuel would bring enduring prosperity to Texas. To them were pictured hordes of free-spending tourists who would be here to see the horses run.

Maybe the race meets in some of the larger cities did attract tourists. But they also brought touts, crooks, panhandlers, hangers-on. Possibly much of the betting was done by those who were of such financial affluence that it made no difference to them, whether they won or lost. But the fact remains that merchants were complaining that workers—not to mention housewives and kids still in knee pants—were ignoring their bills and denying themselves the ordinary comforts of life so that they might bet the money on the ponies. Even when they won, the money went back into other bets until inevitably they lost.

We agree that if the ambitious proposals as to old age pension payments in Texas are to be carried out, revenue must be obtained from some source even should promised economies in government be kept. But we do not believe that any such additional revenue should come from a source which is destructive to the morals and the business of the people of the state.

We Have The Evidence Now

IF EVIDENCE were needed that the dictator nations have been waging an effective propaganda campaign in Central and South America against the United States, it has been supplied in the Pan-American conference now in progress in Lima, Peru.

Most of that propagandizing has been during the past year, since the conference of a year ago had demonstrated that the nations of the Americas were in closer harmony than at any previous time in history. It seemed that Uncle Sam had succeeded in overcoming at last most of the antagonism and suspicion with which he had been regarded as a "Colossus of the North" by his sister nations of the Western Hemisphere. They had begun to believe that he did not regard them with covetous eyes.

Since that conference the dictator nations have been insidiously busy. They have pictured us as a grasping nation with designs upon the independence of the weaker nations. They have succeeded to a sufficient extent that Argentina's representatives proposed to include us in a resolution which, in effect, would group the United States with such nations as Germany, Italy and Japan as those against whom our smaller countries must be protected.

Fortunately, few of our sister republics seem to share in Argentina's suspicions. But further propaganda still is certain to be aimed at them. The only thing we can do is to fight fire with fire if America is to stand as a unit against alien aggression.

With Our Contemporaries

"We have found a wonderful man right here in Littlefield," Dave Schein says in the Lamb County Leader. "He is not rich, never distinguished himself by making an after-dinner speech nor carried the ball across the line—yet he deserves a medal from the Institute of Psychology. He is pleased, satisfied, contented."

The One-Minute Sermon

Therefore I say unto you. What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.—Mark 11: 24 through 26.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JUDY ALCOTT — admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

DWIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.

JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.

MARVEL HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

• • •

Yesterday: Over and over in her mind Judy debates whether she loves Jack. Then one night the telephone rings with an urgent message for her father. "What is it?" she cries out.

CHAPTER XIX

Judy knew that she mustn't let go like this. It was probably nothing important. She was imagining things. But into her mind had come the picture of planes flying over a dark sea, and she could hear again Jack Hanley's voice saying, "We had a casualty."

Nothing had happened to him. No. No! Nothing could happen. He was the best flyer in the squadron.

Her mother opened the door, a negligee thrown hastily about her shoulders. "Judy!" she said, drawing the girl inside.

"Father, what is it?" Judy gasped, as he put down the telephone. His face was suddenly flint hard, with narrowed, tired eyes. The lines around his mouth had sprung into prominence. It was as if the quiet man she knew had suddenly slumped under the weight of all the responsibility of his position. He said heavily, "That was Naval Communications. They have picked up a message. I must go at once."

"What message?" Judy asked. "Oh, tell me!"

He said slowly, "We have no information—no complete information."

"Was it the Enterprise?" she begged. "Please tell me! Was it an accident — something about the planes?"

Her mother tried to hush her. "Come, Judy." She led her from the room, back into her own bedroom. She said, "Your father has told you all he knows, can't you see? Don't worry him. He has so much to bear!" In her eyes was the memory of all the other times Admiral Alcott had been waked in the night by a cry of distress. Judy herself remembered vividly the night a merchant-rammed a submarine, and her father had worked days and nights without sleep, getting every vessel under his command to the scene of the tragedy. The Falcon, tugboats, submarines. Divers to go down. Emergency equipment from New London. All of it had been his responsibility. And when, in the end, there had been little they could do in that choppy sea to raise the doomed submarine, her father had been like a man whose heart has died inside him. "Nothing I can do—" he had said. "Nothing". He never once spoke of the men who had died, trapped under the sea. But she knew he had never forgotten. And her mother knew.

• • •

Judy cried wildly, "But if it's the Enterprise, they wouldn't have called Father. Just tell me it's something else! I could stand anything else!"

Through her open window she heard the big car stop with a squeal of brakes. The enlisted man who chauffeured it had lost no time in getting here.

Then the front door slammed. Her father was gone. He would be driven swiftly to the Communications building at the foot of Broadway.

Somehow, someway, she must live through this time. In the morning, she'd know all about it. But she couldn't bear the waiting. She said, "It's like—like that time at Lakehurst—everybody was crying in the commandant's house—"

Her mother said, "It may not be the Enterprise." But she didn't sound very convincing. Judy cried, "You, you know! He told you!"

"Judy, you mustn't carry on like this." Her face was tired, too, and her mouth drooped. "He didn't tell me anything. I—I couldn't ask—"

There was no sleep for Judy that night. She tried to control herself, she tried to remember that if anything had happened at sea, Naval Communications would not call her father. The commander of the battle force would be in charge. But wasn't he on the Pennsylvania? And on the Saratoga was the office of the man directly in charge of plane carriers.

She racked her brains, to remember the name of the officer on the station who worked with the airplane carriers. What officer ashore would be called if it was actually trouble on the Enterprise?

• • •

She was too keyed up, too shaken, to think coherently. Her mother said sharply, "This is silly, Judy! It might be any one of a half more or less routine emergencies, and you know it as well as I!"

But Judy cried, "I tell you, I can feel this. I've been thinking about the Enterprise all night. . . . Like a premonition of disaster."

Her mother said, "Nonsense!" She added, more kindly, "Every flyer's wife in the Navy has premonitions every time her husband takes off. And what do they amount to?"

Every flyer's wife. The words repeated themselves over and over in Judy's mind. She wasn't Jack's wife. Why was she carrying on like this? But he was her friend. Her best friend!

As if her mother's thoughts had followed her own, Mrs. Alcott said softly, " I know Jack is very dear to you. But even if your premonition is right, and the trouble has something to do with the Enterprise, remember there are many men aboard her. Dozens of other flyers. . . . It isn't Jack. It can't be."

The telephone rang again, imperiously. Judy jumped.

"I'll take it," her mother said quietly.

"Hello? Yes, this is Mrs. Alcott." There was a silence. Then her mother's face seemed to gray as it listened, and she said at last, "My dear, I'm so sorry! So sorry! But they can't be sure yet. It may be a mistake. Oh, we'll come at once, my child!"

Mrs. Alcott turned to Judy. "That was Diane Bell. She says the skipper's wife telephoned her. They think—they think—Bill—"

"God!" Judy's nails punched into the soft flesh of her palm. But in the next moment, choking relief flooded her. Little drops of moisture stood on her upper lip. She sobbed, "Not Jack!" over and over, as if even now she was afraid. "Not Jack!"

• • •

Her mother's arm slid around her shoulder. "Darling, you must quiet down. He wouldn't want you to act this way no matter what happened." And then she said, "We must dress quickly. We must get to Diane at once."

Judy put her stockings on in a daze. She took out the first dress her fingers touched as they groped in the closet, and slipped into it, zipping it up while her heart pounded.

Jack was safe. Jack. And in that moment, realization like a high green wave washed over her. All her dread had been for Jack. Never, never had she worried over this way for Dwight. Why—why—could that mean—did it possibly mean that she loved him? She sat down on the bed. This agony that had racked her because she thought he was dearer to her than she had guessed?

"Ready, Judy?"

There was no time to think. She must go to Diane. But the first thing Diane said when she opened the door, "Judy! They said—they said two planes were down. Bill's—and Jack Hanley's."

Amarillo To Stage Cotton Bowl Rally

AMARILLO, Dec. 19. (Special)—J. H. Smith, president of Amarillo Texas Tech association, said a Cotton Bowl rally would be sponsored by the association the night of Dec. 30 at the Amarillo Elks club.

Smith has written to Manuel DeBusk, president of the Dallas branch of the Tech Alumni and Ex-Students association, listing five ways in which the Amarillo group is encouraging attendance of the Jan. 2 Tech-St. Mary's bowl game.

The association has designated an On-To-Cotton-Bowl committee headed by Ward Garrison, Tech graduate. Other members are Vance Johnson, Guy Victory and E. Kancher. The committee represents the Tech association, the Amarillo Globe-News, and the Santa Fe and Fort Worth and Denver railways. "To-date, there has been no official announcement of a special to Dallas, and there probably will not be, but both the Santa Fe railroad and the Fort Worth & Denver railroad are making extensive plans to accommodate anyone who cares to attend the Cotton bowl in Dallas with a very good rate. There will be several private cars from Amarillo and naturally some will go by way of the commercial buses," Smith wrote to DeBusk.

Probably most important among plans promoting bowl attendance is the rally, at which Tech songs will be sung and cheers will be led by a former Tech cheer leader, Bill Stubbs. After the rally, there will be dancing, bridge playing, forty-two, Chinese checkers, pool, and ping-pong. The rally will serve as the annual Christmas and New Years party for the Amarillo ex-students. The general public will be invited.

"The Cotton bowl rally will be one of the biggest events of the holiday season in Amarillo," Smith informed DeBusk. Members of the Amarillo Tech club, comprised of students attending the college from Amarillo, will be special guests.

From now until the game, the Friday luncheons of the association will feature the bowl game in the programs.

Other manners in which the association is promoting the game are through local publicity on Tech and the team, and through correspondence notifying members of plans.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has recently given the first definite indications that he will not seek a third term, no matter what happens to his New Deal party or program in 1940. The reasons are physical rather than political.

In discussing political futures—policies and personalities and possibilities—Mr. Roosevelt assumed an unusually remote attitude, as if these questions did not touch him intimately. To several conferees he said without any prompting: "I have got to get out of here! I'm tired! I can't stand four more years of this battering!" Some listeners made no reply, bowing to a seemingly irrevocable decision. Several suggested that circumstances beyond his control might force him to run again. Only a few thought he was protesting too much and asking encouragement to try it again.

The most disinterested visitors accept unqualifiedly his assertion that the job is wearing him down. Though in excellent health, he does not show the energy and enthusiasm of a few years ago, he does not recuperate so quickly from the strain of recurring crises in the domestic and foreign fields. More and more he delegates to subordinates authority he once retained for himself. Even for such a vibrant man as F.D.R. it's a man-killing job, and he begins to realize it.

DISCLOSURES: The scandal over the Philippine railroad bond issue promises politico-musical comedy revelations worthy of a Broadway presentation. It allegedly involves members of the American Congress and Filipino Legislature, chorus girls, scion of a prominent New York family and a justice of the U. S. Supreme court.

The drama began in 1907 when bonds for construction of an island railroad were issued by the Philippines, which guaranteed the interest but not the principal. The line never paid, and the securities sank from par of 100 to about 11. According to investigators for the S.E.C. and the D. of J., an American clique schemed to bribe the Filipino legislature to enact a law redeeming the bonds at about 70. For that purpose they had to obtain permission from Congress, and they are charged with having entertained several House members in the good old way—with beautiful ladies from the chorus. It is also alleged that, to further their game, they manipulated the securities so that they rose sensationally from 11 to 33. It was this upturn which first aroused S. E. C. suspicions.

Holding 30 bonds, and selling out at the peak of 33, was Justice McReynolds of the Supreme court. He was innocently involved, for he bought the bonds years ago, but D. of J. attaches are chuckling over the disclosure that he kept a judicial eye on the financial page all these years and picked the right moment to get out from under his Philippine investment.

BOOMERANG: Several smart liberals privately pray that Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City beats the rap in the legal battle over his tar-and-feather attitude toward invading C.I.O.-ers. It isn't that they hate Hague any less but that they love their liberties more.

Their lawyers have been tipped off that the only law under which Hague stands a chance of conviction in federal courts may be eventually turned against them. It provides for prosecution of anybody who, "under the cover of a statute, ordinance or custom," suppresses the exercise of civil liberties guaranteed in the Constitution. But if the Supreme court upholds such a catch-all but rarely invoked provision, it means that the federal government could supplant local authorities on any pretense—almost any time it saw fit. It could smash strikes, rout out radicals, harass a liberal local administration. The law was originally enacted after the Civil war to protect negroes in the Southern states, but it is applicable today.

The time may come, in these liberals' opinion, when a reactionary or fascist inclined group may gain control at Washington. For such an administration the anti-Hague statute would supply legal warrant for crushing local or state units of government—and the Mayor's violent enemies don't relish that prospect at all.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORKERS, who know their Latin America laud Secretary of State Cordell Hull for his diplomatic finesse at Lima. In accordance with a prediction made in this column some months ago, he has carefully kept the United States in the background of the move to promote a united Pan-American front against political aggression from Europe or Asia.

Instead he has induced several friendly Latin nations to sponsor various segments of a program to that end. This accomplishes a double purpose. It tickles the pride of the countries thus encouraged to assert leadership—thus increasing their private esteem for Mr. Hull and guaranteeing the sincerity of their cooperation.

It also helps to dispel the effects of anti-U.S. propaganda in the smaller Latin nations. The Germans have been hammering at the idea that the "Pan-American front" is only a Yankee imperialist trick to extend our domination over weaker neighbors. By gracefully playing second fiddle to Argentina, Brazil and Cuba, Mr. Hull deflates this made-in-Germany nightmare.

• • •

OFFSET: Financial circles have been somewhat disturbed by the possibility of more labor trouble in the motor industry as a result of higher wage demands in the Chrysler plants.

The best-posted New York sources, however, are not alarmed. Inside word is that this action was primarily influenced by intra-union politics. Indications are that officials of the United Automobile Workers have no serious expectation of getting the increase—nor of calling a strike if they don't.

The point is that the union is scheduled to hold an election of officers soon. Leaders of the "responsible" wing of the union evidently figured that a demand for higher wages at this time would be helpful in convincing the rank-and-file membership that they are on the job—thus offsetting the clamor of radicals who are trying desperately to keep their grip on the U.A.W. by scoring gains in the union election. Communists and their sympathies have had a picnic in the Auto Workers, but their days of dominance appear to be numbered. The C.I.O. high command is gradually applying effective pressure to squeeze them out, as predicted here.

AUTOS: One of Hitler's most ambitious projects for raising the German standard of living is nearing its first fruition. The "People's Car," an auto manufactured by the German government, is going into production and deliveries will begin some time next year. Meanwhile a sales campaign for the car has been launched among government employes and wage-earners. They are encouraged to sign contracts to purchase the auto on installments of as little as 10 marks a month.

Informed financial men report that the "People's Car" compares roughly to a small American car in size, but will sell at about half the price of our cheapest motor vehicle. It embodies several engineering departures. The engine is at the rear and the baggage space is under what corresponds to the hood.

Originally Hitler called in the private German auto manufacturers and asked them all to submit estimates for the cost of production and sales price of such a car. They did so, but he rejected their figures as far too high for what he had in mind. So the German government went into the automobile business itself. Experts say that the government will take a substantial loss on every car it sells, but there are compensation factors that do not apply to private industry. For instance, a considerable portion of the loss will be recouped in various motor vehicle taxes. Also there are sociological and psychological benefits to the state. It may seem odd that Hitler would permit the use of so much metal for the production of private "luxuries". The answer, according to insiders, is that he views the vast prospective fleet of small private cars as a valuable auxiliary for rapid troop transportation in case of war.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"He's been going to bed without a struggle since I told him Santa Claus was watching."

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, Dec. 19 (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred is going to "school" again. In his office at the capitol and at the mansion, he is "boning" at law studies, harder than he has in a long time.

It's federal law he's studying, and the reason, obviously, is that pretty soon he's going to be a federal judge. Soon after he completes his second term as governor, Jan. 17, he will take the bench of a new federal district court created for South Texas, and thereafter, maybe the remainder of his active life, will preside in federal cases and interpret federal law.

On the hardwood desk in his office rests a big book on federal law, written by United States District Judge William H. Atwell of Dallas, while in a nearby bookcase are similar volumes by other authors.

Ho Hum Department

During the recent political campaign, Gerald C. Mann, attorney-general-elect, said that if elected he would write above the door of his office the words:

"I sacrificed no principles to gain this office, and I'll sacrifice no principle to keep it."

The words were his campaign motto.

A group of his friends has prepared a plaque upon which the words are carved and plan to present it to him soon after he moves to Austin.

• • •

THERE'S a knotty matter of finance which Governor Allred and Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel are going to have to work out.

It involves the fact that they will be governors of Texas on the same day, Jan. 17. Allred will be governor until noon, when O'Daniel will take the oath of office.

The question they will have to get together on is, who will receive the governor's pay for that day.

The governor's salary is $12,000 a year, or, figured on the basis of 365 days, is $32.87 a day.

"I don't know who will get the money," Governor Allred said when asked to throw a little light on the situation.

"But I do know that I need it. Maybe we will split it. I'm willing."

Too Many Littles

"Little" is their name; also "Jack," and because of this confusion sometimes results.

G. H. Little is a state representative from Amarillo. W. A. Little is the director of the old age pension system under the Board of Control. Both are called "Jack."

During a session of the legislature it is not unusual for their mail to be mixed. The Amarillo man may receive a letter starting off like this:

"Say, this month is half over and my pension check still hasn't come. Will you please," et cetera."

Of the pension director will open one dealing with a bill to cattle industry wants.

The outcome of any mixup always is happy, however. The Littles just exchange mail which had gone to the wrong person.

A STORY is making the rounds in Austin of a Railroad commission employe invited in San Antonio to attend a banquet one night for G. A. Jerry Sadler, who will be a member of the commission in January.

The employe accepted a ticket to the dinner from a friend and made arrangements to join the testimonial affair.

On the way through the hotel lobby a little later he saw a newspaper story from Austin listing names of several employes who would be replaced. His name was on the list.

The employe looked up the friend and told him he wouldn't need the ticket.

"But," said the friend, "you just said you would go to the dinner."

"Yes," replied the employe, "but that was before I read this story. I've got other business now."

The head of an important division of the commission, who also has lost his job as a result of new patronage distribution resulting from the defeat of Commissioner C. V. Terrell by Sadler, was asked what he planned to do in the future.

"Why," said he, "I'm thinking of starting a re-settlement project for former employes of the commission."

"Bible Plan" Approved

The "Bible Plan" seems stronger than ever with students at the University of Texas, although the Longhorn football team this season won only one game and lost eight.

A recent poll gave 88.2 per cent of students questioned answering "yes" when asked if they favored continuing the plan.

A year ago found only 66 per cent favoring it.

Another question this year was, "Do you believe the plan will ultimately reach its goal?" A total of 81.9 per cent replied affirmatively.

Under the "Bible Plan" football players who also want a good education are invited to come to the university. Educational advantages of the school are stressed.

If such youths need financial help, they are assisted in finding bona fide jobs. If they receive money, they have to work for it.

TARZAN AND THE FORBIDDEN CITY. No. 14 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the river steamer swished and sloshed against the current, Helen was a helpless captive in her cabin. She glanced out to the crocodile-infested stream. No chance of escape that way, or any other. She was firmly in the power of Atan Thome. . . .

. . . After a night's vain searching, Tarzan, Lavac and Gregory resolved to report to the authorities. Hitherto they had refrained, lest a police net frighten Helen's abductor into killing her. As they made the decision, there came a knock at the door.

Magra entered. She looked straight at Tarzan, whom she believed to be Brian Gregory. "I'll help you find your sister," she said simply. "Where is she?" the men demanded her in chorus. "Atan Thome is taking her to Athair. He sailed for Bonga last night."

"You are Thome's ally," said Tarzan. "Why do you wish to aid us?" "He tricked me; I hate him," Magra replied with a straight face. "I'll go with you and help find him." "Good!" cried Helen's father, never dreaming he was taking a spy into his camp.

RISING STEAM LOST

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Selected stocks whipped up a brisk early rally behind the aircrafts in today's market, but the majority eventually lost rising steam and prices generally finished irregularly lower.

Gains of fractions to 3 or more points were well distributed at the best, with such aviations as Douglas, United, Eastern Airlines, Glenn Martin and Bendix posting new highs for the year. But even the favorites tripped over late profit taking and most emerged with minor plus signs.

Despite the erratic performance of the list recovery sentiment continued fairly strong in Wall street.

Transfers totaled 1,104,640 shares against 1,147,240 Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .2 of a point at 51.2.

U. S. Steel retained part of its morning advance and Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown were each off less than a point in the face of the sharpest drop in this week's estimated steel output since last July. Some thought the recession of 5.9 points, due mainly to holiday and year-end factors was a bit more than been looked for.

Chrysler was only off a shade, but General Motors was in arrears throughout.

Among losers of as much as a point or so were U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Santa Fe, Western Union and Anaconda.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 19. (AP)—Cotton futures rallied in late dealings here today under improved trade demand and a shortage of contracts. Last prices were steady and 4 to 9 points net higher.

For most of the session prices dragged and trading was extremely narrow. Occasional flurries of liquidation and hedge selling met only scale-down buying and the market traded at small net losses until the final hour.

Offerings dried up, however, and local and domestic buying buoyed prices and the close was at the top.

Jan. contracts closed at 8.38-bid, Mch at 8.38, May at 8.20, Jly at 7.92, Oct at 7.64, Dec. at 7.66-bid, Mch. (new) at 7.70-bid, and May (1940) at 7.72-bid.

Spot cotton closed quiet with middling 3 points higher at 8.47. Sales totaled 344 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Cotton rallied late today following early irregularity. March advanced from 8.17 to 8.27 and closed at the high with final prices 5 to 10 points net higher.

The market opened narrowly with the effects of slightly easier Liverpool cables off set by a little price fixing. Fluctuations were confined to a range of 3 or 4 points until the last hour when a moderate demand from the trade and a little Wall street covering found contracts scarce.

Cotton goods were quieter following last week's late spurt. A private estimate of the East Indian crop was reduced by 250,000 bales from a previous estimate and 750,000 bales under last year to a total of 6,450,000 bales of 400 pounds.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—European reports of the worst cold wave experienced in years did much to lift corn and wheat prices about a cent a bushel here today. So, too, did word of an Argentine heat wave.

At the close, Chicago corn futures were ¾ to 1 cent higher compared with Saturday's finish, May 52½@52⅞, July 53⅞@53½, wheat ⅛@¾ up, May 66⅞@66¼, July 66½@66⅝, oats ¼@⅜ advance, rye showing ⅛@1⅛ gain, and provisions 2 cents to 7 cents bulge.

Ickes Reiterates His Refusal To Approve Export Of Helium

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (UP) — Secretary of the Interior Ickes reiterated today his refusal to approve export of helium to Germany.

In his annual report to President Roosevelt, Ickes said that he "was not persuaded that the supply sought was not of military importance" under the terms of the amended helium act.

He disclosed that the government's helium plant at Amarillo, Tex., produced 6,100,000 cubic feet of helium during the 1938 fiscal year, an increase of 1,300,000 cubic feet over the previous year. The gas, he said, is mainly for use by the army and navy in non-rigid airships.

He also renewed his long-standing request that the name of his department be changed to that of the department of conservation.
