Korea's Rhee Dies Today In Honolulu

By HARRY MOSKOS

HONOLULU (AP) — Syngman Rhee, a fierce, old Korean patriot whose greatest dream and last wish eluded him, died at Maunalani Hospital in Honolulu today of a stroke.

He was 90, in failing health for at least three years.

The former South Korean president's last wish was "to go home and die," but increasing debility prevented his return.

The founder of the Korean Republic was admitted to Queen's Hospital a month ago today after he began bleeding internally. His condition improved and he was sent back to the nursing home.

Doctors said they had an hour's indication that death was near, giving them time to summon his Austrian - born wife, Francesca, 65, and his adopted son, Rhee In-soo.

Unfulfilled was his life's ambition and dream—unification of Korea as a republic. The mountainous peninsula on Asia's east coast still is divided along the truce line where the bloody Korean War was halted in 1953.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced but they will be held at Korean Christian Church of Honolulu, center of worship for much of Honolulu's small Korean community.

Wilbert Choy, who heads a committee of Korean community officials handling the services, said Rhee will be buried in Seoul, Korea.

On June 21 Rhee was removed from Korean President Chung Hee Park's political purge list. However, Rhee had been invited back to his homeland before but declining health prevented it.

The former "Tiger of Korea" was tamed by age. Once a driving chief executive who defied communism and the United Nations, he became a homesick and tired old man.

A nurse said Rhee was kept alive by a dwindling hope of going home to die.

This hope seemed to be the only strength he had left. His health, his stamina and the power he once wielded faded when student riots toppled him from the presidency.

Rhee was the Korean republic's first president and served in the job 12 years. He had just been re-elected to a fourth term when his government was overthrown. Charges of ballot box stuffing, strongarm influence and trickery were hurled at the white-haired president.

Newly-Arrived Troops Attacked By Viet Cong

Americans Lose Three In Attack

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Troops of the newly arrived U.S. 1st Division were attacked by the Viet Cong for the first time during the night and three Americans were killed, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The spokesman said several more Americans were wounded in the attack that began with a mortar barrage against forward elements of the division's 2nd Brigade outside the Bien Hoa air base 12 miles northeast of Saigon.

The 1st Division troops had arrived in Viet Nam last week. It was the first action in Viet Nam for the "Big Red One" division that made an enviable record in Africa and Europe during World War II.

"I had been through Korea and I thought I was a combat veteran until last night," said Maj. B. McJilton of Fort Worth, Tex. "I had never seen fighting like that before."

Another veteran, Sgt. 1.C. Raymond N. Simmons of Jackson, Tenn., compared the Viet Cong attack to action around the Hurtgen Forest, in Germany, in 1945.

U.S. planes pushed the war deeper into North Viet Nam today, bombing a 10-mile stretch of railroad track starting 15 miles north of Yen Bay and 90 miles northwest of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman announced.

It was the deepest penetration of North Vietnamese territory announced so far. Results of the raid were not reported.

A U.S. Navy jet bomber was shot down over North Viet Nam Sunday a short time after U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara watched it roar off along with 13 others from the catapults of the 7th Fleet carrier Independence, a U.S. spokesman announced.

The spokesman said the two crew members of the A6 Intruder were seen to parachute and land on the ground. He said a search operation for them was abandoned today and it was presumed they were captured.

US Flight Is Protested

PARIS (AP) — The Defense Ministry charged today that a U.S. photo reconnaissance plane flew near the French nuclear complex at Pierrelatte and was on a mission to take "unauthorized pictures."

The nuclear plant there is working on France's first hydrogen bomb.

A statement from the ministry said a protest had been presented at the U.S. Embassy in Paris.

The statement said cameras aboard the plane, an RF101, had taken 175 pictures of the complex Friday.

According to the Defense Ministry, the U.S. plane, which was based at Ramstein, Germany, made four runs over the atomic installation in southeastern France.

The Defense Ministry accused the plane of three violations: flying in a restricted zone, taking photographs without authorization and taking pictures in a restricted zone.

Until today the French maintained official silence on the affair.

According to French news reports, French fighter planes were sent up to chase the U.S. plane out of the area. The Defense Ministry statement supported these reports but not in detail.

American officials said the plane was on a training mission. They said it filed a routine flight plan with French authorities but was "forced to deviate by reason of a thunderstorm from the flight plan previously filed."

US Makes Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials said today "the investigation is continuing" into the alleged flight of an American reconnaissance plane over the Pierrelatte nuclear center in southern France last Friday.

The French government today formally protested the flight over the prohibited zone and said the American RF101 took 175 photographs of the nuclear plant where France's hydrogen bomb reportedly is manufactured.

Final Rites Held For A. Stevenson

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Leaders of the nation and hometown friends heard Adlai E. Stevenson lauded today as a "combination of greatness and goodness" and "the voice of peace and reason for all the peoples of the world."

A community memorial service brought thousands to the Horton Fieldhouse of Illinois State University and about 200 to the funeral in the Unitarian church.

President and Mrs. Johnson, Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey and Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren headed the list of national figures joining the family and close friends in the small, modern styled church.

The Johnsons and their daughter, Luci, flew here from Washington for the funeral.

Dr. Dana McLean Greeley of Boston, president of Unitarian Universalist Association, told the mourners at the church that Stevenson was a universal citizen.

"Statesmen and the common people alike, the world around, have taken him to their hearts, and will mold his memory into their own image of the best life and prophecy of America in the 20th century," Dr. Greeley said.

Mourners in the severely simple chancel of the church and in an ajoining room, included Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, Sen. Paul H. Douglas of Illinois.

Some business houses and stores in Bloomington and adjacent Normal closed during the morning so their employes could attend the community service in the fieldhouse, which was enlarged to accommodate 9,000. The crowd filled about half of the fieldhouse.

Dr. Richard Browne, executive director of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, told the crowd there that his longtime friend Stevenson was "statesman for all the world."

As the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, he said, Stevenson "became not only the spokesman of this country but the voice of peace and reason for all the peoples of the world."

PARADE FLOAT LISTINGS ASKED

Organizations planning to enter floats Wednesday in the Rodeo Parade, have been asked to advise the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible.

The parade has been scheduled for 4 p.m. Wednesday as a prelude to the 29th Annual Scurry County Rodeo. The route of the parade has been mapped, and a listing of floats is needed immediately so that arrangements can be made for the order of the procession.

The first of four rodeo performances will be held Wednesday night at the rodeo grounds on West Thirtieth Street.

Launch Postponed For Sentry Satellites

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The scheduled launching of two Sentry satellites and a tiny pygmy satellite was postponed today because of technical difficulties which delayed the shot beyond the favorable launching time.

The 40-minute window, the time during which the shot could be accomplished in keeping with mission objectives, was extended eight minutes.

The rocket came within less than two minutes of being launched when the shot was called off due to further problems.

Patrols Stalk Tense City

By BILL CRIDER

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Street lights glint on gun barrels as armed men patrol around the homes of Negro leaders in Bogalusa these summer nights.

Cars moving into the Negro sector of this tense city after dark are watched.

The watchful eyes are those of the Deacons of Defense and Justice, whose guns have triggered an uneasy debate among civil rights leaders.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. calls the Negro organization a strategic mistake which may endanger the movement.

"I know our opponents in the South would like us to turn to violence," said King, the civil rights movement's leading advocate of passive resistance. "They know violence and they know how to deal with it."

"Martin Luther King and me have never seen eye to eye," said Charles Sims, 41, the stocky, grizzled, head of the Bogalusa Deacons.

"He has never been to Bogalusa. If we didn't have the Deacons here there is no telling how many killings there would have been."

Sims says that his armed forces do not move out to protect civil rights demonstrators.

"We stand guard here in the Negro quarter," he said. "We are the defensive team. We will never go on the offense. But if the Klan or anybody else comes in here to hit us, I guarantee they will get hit back."

The Deacons were formed last December in Jonesboro, another sensitive civil rights point in Louisiana and home of the state's Ku Klux Klan grand dragon.

Reports are that the Deacons now have 50 chapters in five other states—Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina. This is unconfirmed. Deacons are reluctant to be specific. Leaders say pinpointing other chapters would only subject them to unnecessary trouble.

Ernest Thomas, Jonesboro, regional vice president of the Deacons, said chapters are being formed in areas beset by a strong Klan movement and weak or hostile, law enforcement agencies.

Jones Heads Bank At Weatherford

W. Felix Jones, Executive Vice President of Snyder National Bank for the past two years and currently President of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, has been elected president of the First National Bank in Weatherford.

He will begin his duties as head of the Weatherford bank on Aug. 2.

Jones has been in banking for the past 36 years beginning his career in 1929 with the First National Bank in Fort Worth. He was employed there until January of 1951 when he became Executive Vice President of University State Bank of Fort Worth, a First National affiliate. In 1954 he was elected president of the University State Bank and served in that capacity until 1963. He accepted his present position with Snyder National Bank on June 1, 1963.

Jones is a graduate of the American Institute of Banking and the past president of the Fort Worth Clearing House Association.

He has been particularly active in civic and industrial affairs in Snyder. In addition to serving this year as President of the Chamber of Commerce, he has been on the board of directors of the Scurry County Industrial Corporation. He is a member of the First Methodist Church, is a Mason and is a member of the Snyder Country Club.

W. FELIX JONES

Mr. and Mrs. Jones and their two children, Julie Anne 1 and Greg 14, plan to move to Weatherford immediately.

Jones said it was definitely with mixed emotions that he accepted the position with the Weatherford bank. However, he said he felt that two major factors influenced his decision: "It is a promotion, and it is close to the home where I grew up."

"I know it sounds trite, but I can truthfully say that I have never been associated with finer people than those in Snyder," Jones declared.

Pay-Raise Bill Approval Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was expected to override administration objections and approve today a $1-billion military pay increase bill — double what President Johnson proposed.

The raise would average 10.7 per cent with the biggest share going to enlisted men—including recruits and draftees—and junior officers. Its aim is to attract and keep skilled men in uniform.

There was no organized opposition in sight as the measure carried endorsements from both sides of the aisle. It appeared that the administration's only chance to cut down the measure would be in the Senate, which will take up the bill after the House votes its approval.

The measure was whipped out by the House Armed Services Committee on a 33-1 vote, approved by the Rules Committee and endorsed by the House Republican Policy Committee — despite Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's campaign for the administration bill.

The administration proposed a 4.8 per cent average increase totaling $448 million a year. McNamara said this would be fair to the servicemen and fair "to our taxpayers."

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee didn't agree. The South Carolina Democrat called the administration bill "disgracefully inadequate."

The differences between Rivers and McNamara go more deeply than pay. Since he became chairman in January, Rivers has clashed with McNamara over the authority of Congress to oversee military programs under its constitutional powers to "raise and support armies."

This power struggle was mirrored in the committee's rejection of the administration's proposal that it be given authority to make annual adjustments in military pay subject only to a congressional veto.

This, stormed Rivers, would be a vote of no confidence in Congress. As a compromise, the committee bill calls for the administration to submit an annual military pay review to Congress, with a complete revision of the pay structure to be submitted every four years beginning in January 1967.

Soviets Keep Mum About Destination Of Spacecraft

MOSCOW (AP)—The new unmanned Soviet space traveler was reported functioning perfectly today in its flight to orbit around the sun. Its ultimate destination was still a mystery.

U.S. experts tended to rule out Mars as a target, saying that planet is no longer in a favorable position for another probe from earth.

By 4 a.m., EDT, the official Tass news agency reported, the space craft was 140,430 miles from earth. Tass said further radio communications with the satellite "will be carried out in accordance with the program."

The Soviet space authority announced the spacecraft, named "Automatic Station Zond 3," was launched Sunday on an orbit around the sun. The first announcement said the spacecraft and its scientific gear were "functioning normally" and "preliminary data shows that the trajectory of the automatic station is close to the expected one."

The purpose of the flight, the announcement said, "is to check the station's systems in conditions of prolonged space flight and holding of scientific studies in interplanetary space."

A solar orbit is required for probes of other planets. Such a route was taken by Mariner 4, which now is transmitting pictures of Mars back to earth.

The Russians have tried at least twice without success to probe the red planet. One attempt was made by Zond 2, launched Nov. 30, the day before America's successful Mariner 4. Zond 2 stopped transmitting after several months of flight.

An earlier Mars probe in 1962 also failed. The Soviets launched Zond 1 on April 2, 1964, but its destination was not disclosed and there has never been any disclosure of what it accomplished before it stopped transmitting.

The space authority did not link Zond 2 with Friday's orbiting about the earth of a satellite weighing more than 12 tons. That shot aroused speculation that the Russians were testing a super booster for a manned moon shot.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Is no one to be spared the embarrassment of receiving an invitation to a wedding he cannot attend?

I have been receiving invitations to the weddings of my friends' children for years. Some of them I have attended, but most of them I have not. I have always sent a gift, whether I attended the wedding or not.

Now I am receiving invitations to the weddings of my friends' grandchildren. I am not acquainted with the children, and I have never met the parents. I am not interested in attending the weddings, but I feel obligated to send a gift.

Is there no way to be spared the embarrassment of receiving an invitation to a wedding I cannot attend?

DEAR MOTHER: Invitations to weddings are issued by the bride's parents, and they are sent to people they want to share their happiness. Your name may be on the list because your son or daughter asked that it be included, or because your parents gave the go-ahead. Or it may be a courtesy invitation. In any case, you are under no obligation to send a gift unless you want to.

DEAR ABBY: In your answer to the woman who was angry because her husband's business associates were not invited to the wedding, you neglected to mention the most important reason why not to invite business associates to a wedding. Many of my husband's business acquaintances were here visiting the afternoon and the wife and I were invited to the wedding. Neither received gifts from anyone except the wedding couple who attended the wedding, dinner and reception. They are lovely people and we know they would never come to the wedding without having sent a gift.

DEAR MOTHER: Some people are so gauche as to invite business associates to a wedding, but because I have never met one of them, I hope they might get the impression that we are ordinarily concerned with more than just what.

We had a small wedding for our daughter in a large hotel last month. Many of my husband's business acquaintances were here, including the attorney and his wife, who were the Goodlife weekend guests from Everglade where the wedding couple also attended the wedding dinner and reception. They are lovely people and we know they would never come to the wedding without having sent a gift.

Dish With Oriental Flavor

The Oriental influence has become highly popular in American cookery. Here is a recipe we discovered while visiting Japan. Surprisingly enough it has a great many popular American ingredients in it, too. Actually you may say it combines the best of East and West cookery.

FAR EAST CHIP PIE

Crust

1½ cups crushed potato chips
1-3 cup melted butter
½ tsp. ginger

Combine ingredients, blend carefully, and press into 9" pie plate.

Filling

3 eggs beaten
2 cups milk
1 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. Soy Sauce
1-3 cup bean sprouts
1 cup cooked shrimp, chopped
¼ pound American se chee
¼ pound American cheese, grated

Combine eggs, milk, salt, Soy Sauce and bean sprouts and pour over crust. Scatter shrimp over this and cheese last. Bake at 400 degrees from 30 to 40 minutes. Remove from oven while filling appears soft. Allow to cool 5 to 10 minutes before serving. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Oriental Side Dish

Fry ½ cup almonds in ¼ cup butter until golden brown. Add 1½ cup cooked rice and stir until well heated.

• • •

And here's a sensational chip dip with an Oriental tang to it. It's quick and easy to make.

ORIENTAL CHIP DIP

3 ounces cream cheese (room temperature)
¼ teaspoon onion juice or grated onion
1 tablespoon horseradish

Cream ingredients until thoroughly mixed and soft. Add cream to make a "dunking" consistency. Add onion and horseradish (more or less may be added to suit the taste). Sprinkle the top of spread with flakes as a garnish. Place the bowl of spread in the center of a large attractive platter and surround with potato chips.

Eccentrics Dame Edith Had Known

TAKEN CARE OF. By Edith Sitwell.

The English have a proud tradition of producing eccentrics, respecting them and even feeling rather fond of them. Sometimes it takes an eccentric to know one, especially in the literary world, and Dame Edith had that ability.

This book is billed as an autobiography. But don't take that too literally. It is a disconnected series of essays and reminiscences, completed just before the author's death last year. It does have a roughly chronological tone, but there is no narrative. For the basic biographical data, the reader may look to a brief synopsis at the back of the book.

Dame Edith pretended not to be an eccentric — "I am an eccentric only inasmuch as I do not suffer fools gladly" — but she makes a fine defense of all those fellow creatures "who are not in the least afraid of the crowd," as she obviously was not.

She has omitted all references to friends who were living when she wrote the book, but there are some very earnest tributes to some who preceded her in death. In particular, she presents a very warm portrait of Dylan Thomas, and another of Pavel Tchelitchew. She was pleased at getting along well with Gertrude Stein and admired Sir Edmund Gosse and Aldous Huxley.

But of course she has taken the hide off some of her literary contemporaries — "I have attacked nobody unless they first attacked me" — and is especially nasty about Percy Wyndham Lewis, D. H. Lawrence and F. R. Leavis. Regarding John Galsworthy she felt a sniffy distaste.

In several passages she discusses the techniques of poetry and explains why certain of her lines were written as they were, but there is nothing didactic in these notes.

Mainly this is a bright glimpse into the lively mind of a 20th Century Platagenet character.

At Italian Style Show

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Emilio Pucci today launched what he called "The Gemini IV Look" in high fashion.

The collection, presented at two days of fall and winter fashion showings ended in Florence, was inspired by the walk in space last month by Lt. Col. Edward H. White II.

But without the bubble-domed helmet that went with everything, the Pucci clothes could keep both feet on the ground.

Tubular ring collars were about the only space-suit derived detail on reversible coats and jackets with supple, fluid fit. Clothes were fairly short and some were worn with boots. Reversible jackets went over light wool dresses with waists mostly high.

On the final program in Florence's Pitti Palace today, Fabiani also showed his couture collection. Standouts in it were square - shouldered silhouettes fitted close at the bosom and swinging loose from there. Printed coats swung out from high on the side or back. Sleeveless empire dresses were smooth cut, and often had wrapover skirts.

Iceberg Lettuce Likes A Hearty Dressing

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

LOTS OF folks think nothing tastes so good on iceberg lettuce as a savory, robust dressing — Thousand Island, Russian, Blue Cheese or Roquefort.

For something new in the way of dressings, here's a combination of sour cream, two kinds of semi-soft mild cheese, celery, parsley, sweet pickle and seasonings. When this recipe came our way, we weren't sure about adding that sweet pickle, but trying the dressing with and without it, we vote for the pickle.

Know how to remove the core from a head of icebergs? According to lettuce experts, you whack the head — coreside down — on a drainboard. Then you lift or twist out the core with your fingers. What's against using a sharp knife? Cut edges discolor.

If whacking gives you no pleasure, go ahead and use a knife! When lettuce is cored and cut just before serving, you don't have to worry about discoloration.

But no matter how you choose to remove the core, be sure to rinse the lettuce. Hold the head, core side up, under cold running water. And be absolutely sure to drain it thoroughly.

SUMMER SALAD

1 head iceberg lettuce
½ cup commercial sour cream
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon crumbled thyme
Dash of garlic powder
Salt and white pepper
1 cup diced sharp cheddar cheese
½ cup diced mild white cheese (such as Edam or Jack)
1¼ cups thinly sliced celery
¾ cup sliced sweet pickle
10 slices cucumber
10 half-slices tomato

Core, rinse and drain lettuce. In a mixing bowl stir together the sour cream, parsley, lemon juice, thyme, garlic powder, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper to taste; add the cheese, celery and pickles; mix well. Cut lettuce lengthwise into 8 wedges; arrange wedges on large serving plate in spoke fashion. Fit alternating cucumber and tomato slices between wedges; sprinkle vegetables with salt and pepper. Heap cheese mixture in center. Makes 5 servings.

REFRESHING BUT HEARTY—When iceberg lettuce is given a dressing that is chock-full of cheese, it makes a main-course salad.

Pimientos With Anchovies

1 jar (4 ounces) pimientos
1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons olive oil
¼ teaspoon salt
3 peppercorns
1 small clove garlic, peeled and halved
1 can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets
Chicory or watercress

Drain pimientos. Into a jar that is a little larger than the pimiento jar, turn the vinegar, oil, salt, peppercorns and garlic; beat with a fork to blend. Add pimientos, pressing them down so they are covered with the marinade; cover tightly and refrigerate overnight. At serving time, cross 2 anchovy fillets over each pimiento; garnish with chicory. (Remaining anchovies can be covered tightly, refrigerated and used next day.) Marinade from pimientos may be used over chicory. Makes 4 servings.

Wine Gelatin With Strawberries

1 package fruit-flavored gelatin dessert (pink or red color)
1 cup boiling water
1 cup dry white wine
1 pint strawberries
Whipped cream, if desired

Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water. Add wine and mix well. Turn into 4 half-cup molds; chill. At serving time, unmold and serve with strawberries and, if used, a garnish of whipped cream. Strawberries may be served whole with caps on with superfine sugar for dipping. Makes 4 servings.

Johnson Adept At Keeping Opposition Hardly Audible

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In all the political dreams of his life President Johnson probably never imagined anything like this: dominating the American scene with no real opposition in sight.

Johnson last year and President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 won tremendous election victories and their Democrats, riding their coattails, got overwhelming control of Congress both times.

But Johnson has been shrewder than Roosevelt in the use he made of success and luck, for he had a little better luck than Roosevelt: the Republican party was split in the 1964 election and still is.

Now the divided Republicans are hardly any opposition to him. Even their criticisms are barely audible.

When they do take after him occasionally, as on his handling of the Vietnamese war, it's not because of American involvement but because they want him to bomb harder.

This is a lot different from President Harry S. Truman's experience with the Korean war when, shortly after the United States got into it in 1950, Republicans opened up on him and kept on going.

Since his 1964 election Johnson has carefully done nothing to bristle Democrats or Republicans. In fact, except for a major thrust once in a while, Johnson has been almost benevolent toward Republicans.

He pulls the strings on this Congress, letting nothing interfere with his determination to shove through what he wants. The result: Congress is running up one of its most impressive records.

With Roosevelt it was different. After his great win in 1936, he wrecked any chance for a stunning performance with his Democratic-run Congress by opening war on the Supreme Court.

That highly conservative court had been throwing out one important New Deal program after another. And on Feb. 7, 1937, less than three weeks after the new Congress took over, Roosevelt opened fire.

He sent a bill to the Capitol proposing drastic court reform, the so-called "court-packing" plan. He instantly ran into fierce dissent in all directions, including Democrats.

That 1937 Congress — unlike this one where Johnson keeps the machinery oiled for speed and performance — got tangled up for months over Roosevelt's proposal and then, in July, rejected it.

While Roosevelt lost this battle, he didn't lose the war. The court, apparently rendered self-conscious by the attacks by Roosevelt and others, switched and began upholding New Deal measures.

In May 1937, three months after Roosevelt began the fight, the court upheld the constitutionality of Social Security, one of the most revolutionary and far-reaching of all the New Deal programs.

But in Congress the court brawl and other dissensions so hampered legislation that in August 1937 it quit without having passed any major measure. In short, Roosevelt didn't handle it well at all.

When Roosevelt won the 1936 election by a landslide it was against a progressive but vague Republican, Alfred M. Landon, whose party was left shattered but not split.

But, luckily for Johnson, after his triumph over the highly conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater in 1964, the Republicans were left both shattered and split. And Johnson has taken full advantage of that.

Viet War Reporter Writes Home

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Leaves from a war reporter's notebook:

From the air South Viet Nam looks in many places like a vast cemetery.

When you first fly over the countryside, you notice what at first look like bomb craters or old abandoned wells.

But no one could have dropped that many bombs or abandoned that many wells. What you are seeing are the tombs of some of Asia's unnumbered dead.

Tombs outnumber the rice paddies, where grow in vivid green the white grains that feed the country's living millions.

The tombs cluster by the hundreds in every patch of sandy outworn soil. In smaller numbers, they also stud the fertile rice paddies, as if the clamorous dead were draining the sustenance of the living.

Some of the tombs are new and handsome in gold and blue colors. But most are gray and old and lichen-encrusted, and the dead within them as forgotten as the faded, fallen leaves of a flame tree.

The poet Sara Teasdale wrote of "children's faces looking up, holding wonder like cup."

It is the faces of Vietnamese children that give most encouragement to Americans here. They are so bright-eyed, enthusiastic, and eager to accept change.

In the eyes of the middle-aged and elderly, you are depressed to see sometimes a veiled animosity or at best a dull passivity. Often you have the feeling they don't really see you at all — they are either looking through you or around you, as if you were not there at all.

But the children and the youths see you. They are interested in Americans and this is cheering, even though you may have to face up to the fact that what they are looking for may more often be a cigarette than help to political freedom.

The hardest thing for Americans to get used to over here is Vietnamese money. It is by far the shabbiest paper currency on earth, particularly in small denominations.

The largest bill is the 500-piastre note. This is worth about $7, and they are invariably clean and crisp and neat.

The average Vietnamese worker, who earns from less than 60 up to 85 piastres a day, rarely gets his hands on one. The 100- and 200-piastre notes are usually in pretty good shape, too.

The five, 10- and 20-piastre notes — and particularly the fives — are the financial language of the poor. The five-piastre note is so dirty, frayed, unsanitary and pawed over that you feel you may be contracting a nameless disease every time you accept one in change.

The situation in South Viet Nam is bewildering in many ways to thousands of the American military men stationed here. The customs of the people are so different, the conduct of the war itself is so different, from anything they have known before.

A Junior Editors Quiz About NEWSPAPERS

QUESTION: How can newspapers print the news so quickly?

• • •

ANSWER: The word "new" gives the meaning of news. If we didn't know about what has just happened, we would have little idea of what our world is like. To keep us informed, newspapers get the news to us with truly amazing speed. Because of highly organized news services, such as The Associated Press, world wide reports constantly pour into the papers' newsrooms through special machines (upper right). In addition, the papers have highly trained reporters who check police stations and other places where things of interest are reported or expected to happen. Photographers often accompany them. Stories may be phoned in; film is rushed to the paper to be developed. In some cases, photos are sent right from the scene. Rewrite men and editors put it all together. The stories are set in type and round metal printing plates cast which are fastened to rollers and inked so that they will print on the paper which starts to move across them. Huge rolls of paper unwind through the presses, which can print, cut and fold perhaps 1000 papers a minute. These are rushed by trucks to newsstands and post offices. As a result, you can sit at home and find out the newest things which have been going on in the world around you.

FOR YOU TO DO: The newspaper reading habit is a good one. It keeps your mind bright and alert. Keep reading your newspaper; you will be a more interesting and lively person because of it. 7-19

AAU Swimming Meet To Be This Weekend In Towle Pool

The regional AAU sanctioned swim meet will kickoff at 6 p. m. next Friday in Towle Memorial Park Pool, and will feature the best swimming teams in this area in the two day affair.

Friday night the competition will be limited to the diving events, but on Saturday morning, starting at 9 a.m., the swimming competition will begin.

At the conclusion of the meet, the team with the highest point total of the two days will be recognized as the meet champion. Points will be given according to the place a person finishes. Points will be given to individuals as well as to the team they represent. Medals will be given to the first three places in each event.

Teams will be entered from Abilene to Kermit and from Plainview to San Angelo. The best swimmers in the area will be on hand for the two day meet. Snyder will also enter the stiff competition, and have worked all summer for this particular meet.

Swimming Coach Larry McNair reported that fan participation in Snyder is a necessity in order to get the coveted AAU meet to return. He urges fans to come out at any time Friday night or part of Saturday. The meet will probably run until the late afternoon of Saturday.

In AAU competition, all records are recorded, and it will give all swimmers a goal to shoot for. Records will be recognized at the meet should any standards fall.

Coach McNair said, "It's an honor and a privilege to have the AAU meet in Snyder, and I'm looking for a good turnout from local fans. We'll have the swimmers."

The second game of the series will be played in Colorado City next Thursday night at 8 p.m., and if a third game is necessary, it too will be played in Colorado City. The third game is set for Friday night at the same time.

The loser is eliminated from further competition in the state-wide playoffs.

Snyder Goldjackets To Play Blue Notes

The Snyder Goldjackets will travel to Big Spring for a game tonight at 8 p.m.

They will meet the Big Spring Blue Notes with Gene Allison doing the pitching chores for the Snyder girls. The Goldjackets have a 9-2 record for the season, and will be entering tonight's game with a recent win over Hamby.

$2 Million Mark Passed By Kelso

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kelso, bidding for his sixth straight Horse of the Year title, can take a big step in that direction Saturday and at the same time move within shouting distance of the $2 million mark in money earnings.

The popular 8-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. DuPont's Bohemia Stable is scheduled to make his third start of the year in the $100,000-added Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct.

The 1¼-mile Brooklyn is the major event on this week's thoroughbred racing program, which also includes the $100,000-added Hollywood Juvenile Championship for 2-year-olds at Hollywood Park.

Kelso easily won the Diamond State at Delaware Park July 10 after finishing third in a warm-up sprint. He is only $91,936 short of being the first horse ever to earn $2 million. The Brooklyn winner should take home around $70,000.

Out of last Saturday's races came two definite thoughts: 1, the Horse of the Year title cannot be awarded without giving serious consideration to Native Diver and 2, Tom Rolfe is the best 3-year-old around until results prove otherwise.

Native Diver, known all along as a top flight sprinter, showed he can carry his speed 1¼ miles by scoring a front-running five-length victory in the $162,100 Gold Cup at Hollywood Park.

In posting his 22nd career stakes triumph, all in California, Native Diver caried 127 pounds over the distance in 2:00 1-5 and earned $102,100. Argentine-bred Babington was a surprise second and Hill Rise third.

While Hail to All was faltering in the $82,150 Dwyer at Aqueduct, little Tom Rolfe moved to the head of the class in the 3-year-old division with a 3½ length triumph in the $53,500 Citation at Arlington Pak.

Raymond Guest's colt, winner of the Preakness and a narrow loser to Hail to All in the Belmont Stakes, carried 126 pounds, including Bill Shoemaker, over the mile in 1:36 1-5.

Hail to All displayed his usual stretch kick in the 1¼ miles of the Dwyer but it wasn't enough and he finished third with Staunchness, a $25,000 claim two months ago, beating lightly regarded Duc de Great by four lengths in 2:01 4-5.

Franks Gets Pay Raise With Giants

By RON BERGMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Because of the job being done with Willie Mays and without Orlando Cepeda, owner Horace Stoneham has given Herman Franks a new contract at higher pay to manage the San Francisco Giants through 1966.

Displaying one of his huge cigars in the middle of an even larger smile, Franks signed his new contract on Saturday at Candlestick Park.

Terms were undisclosed. But it was reported the contract calls for a raise from $35,000 to $40,000 a year retroactive to the beginning of this season.

"I think that we are in a very fine position to overtake the leaders," said Stoneham of his third-place club. "And this in spite of a succession of injuries that has made the job most difficult for Herman.

"The way he's handled these setbacks and the way he's handled the case of Willie Mays, who now needs rest, has impressed me very much," added Stoneham about his rookie manager.

Mays has been rested eight times this season at his request and leads the National League in both batting and home runs.

The most prominent injury to the Giants has left them without slugging first baseman Orlando Cepeda. In spring practice he reinjured the right knee operated on last Dec. 7. Cepeda left for the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., shortly before the 50-year-old Franks was rehired.

Littler Wins Canadian; Nicklaus One Stroke Off

TORONTO (AP) — Gene Littler is $20,000 richer today because he made a change in his putting style three weeks ago.

Littler withstood a challenge by Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, over the final nine holes of the 72-hole Canadian Open Golf Championship Saturday to win the title and the $20,000 purse.

Littler, who plays out of Las Vegas, Nev., feels he never could have done it if he hadn't made a slight alteration in his putting at the St. Paul Open three weeks ago.

Littler finished one stroke ahead of Nicklaus by making a four-foot pressure putt on the 18th hole after the two were tied for second place going into the last day.

Littler was four under par with a 66 on the last 18 holes after earlier rounds of 70, 68 and 69. Nicklaus, playing in a three-some ahead of Littler, knew his opponent was a stroke ahead of him and went for a 12-foot birdie putt on the 18th, hoping to tie and force a sudden-death playoff.

But the putt slid past the side of the cup and left Nicklaus in second place with $12,000.

Australian Bruce Devlin, the leader after three rounds, lost his two-stroke margin on the final day by ballooning to a 74 and finished in an eighth-place tie. Devlin had been suffering from a sore left shoulder, a mild throat infection and varicose veins throughout the $100,000 tournament.

Littler and Nicklaus, along with Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., entered the final day's play with three-round scores of 207.

Rudolph finished with a steady 71 for 278 and a share of third place with first-round leader Joe Campbell of Perdido Bay, Fla., tour rookie Homero Blancas of Houston, Tex., Rod Funseth of Spokane, Wash., and Randy Glover of Florence, S.C. All collected $4,760.

But Palmer had a disastrous round, skyrocketing to a 76 for 283 and ended up in 23rd place, and $1,000.

NICKLAUS . . One Off

Ten golfers shot scores below 290 for the four rounds in the last two U.S. Opens.

CINCY SPLITS DOUBLEHEADER

Jim Lefebvre Helps Dodgers Gain Lead

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Lefebvre might not have received a grade at the time, but he certainly deserves an A plus for the bat boy course he took six years ago.

Lefebvre, Los Angeles' rookie second baseman, put his education to good use Sunday as the Dodgers edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 11 innings and increased their National League lead to 1½ games over the Cincinnati Reds.

The 22-year-old switch hitter tied the game with a two-run single in the ninth inning, then lashed a double in the 11th, driving in the winning run.

The performace indicated that Lefebvre is emerging from a slump that saw him bat only .169 in the past month. His two hits Sunday brought his over-all average to .227, still far below his early season showing.

But Lefebvre is carrying out the lesson he learned as visiting team batboy with the Dodgers when he was 16.

"The players talked baseball and worked with me on the field before games," he recalls. "The main thing I learned is that when a good ball player is down, he always bounces back.

"The idea is to stay with it, don't get discouraged and keep hustling. Things will start going for you."

In other NL games, Cincinnati stopped Pittsburgh 8-4 after losing 6-5, Milwaukee swept New York 5-1 and 5-4, Houston defeated San Francisco 5-2 and St. Louis trimmed Philadelphia 3-1.

In the American League, Los Angeles beat Minnesota before bowing 5-4, Kansas City knocked off Chicago 7-5 after losing 3-2 in 10 innings, Boston defeated Cleveland 4-1, Baltimore trimmed Detroit 4-1 and Washington blanked New York 3-0.

The Dodgers trailed the Cubs 3-1 going into the ninth, but they loaded the bases and Lefebvre smacked a two-out single for two runs. Then in the 11th, Bob Hendley walked Wes Parker, and Lefebvre followed with a double to right-center field.

Vada Pinson drove in three runs while Tony Perez and Pete Rose each added a pair, helping Cincinnati's Joey Jay to a victory in his first start in three weeks. Jay brought his record to 7-2 in the nightcap, receiving relief help from Bill McCall in the eighth inning.

The Pirates won the opener with four runs in the eighth. Willie Stargell, who earlier socked his 22nd homer with a man aboard, ignited the rally with a single, Roberto Clemente tied the game 4-4 with a two-run double and Andre Rogers won it with a run-scoring single.

Milwaukee extended its winning streak to six and the Mets' losing streak to eight. Ed Mathews collected his 18th and 19th homers in the first game as Tony Cloninger, 11-8, pitched a six-hitter.

Gene Oliver's two-run homer following Hank Aaron's single in the third inning won the nightcap. The blow helped erase a 3-0 lead the Mets built in the first inning, two of the runs scoring on Bobby Klaus' bases-loaded double.

Nellie Fox triggered a three-run first inning that carried Houston past San Francisco. Fox singled and came around on singles by Lee Maye and Jim Wynn. Maye scored on Rusty Staub's infield grounder, and Ron Brand singled in Wynn.

St. Louis downed Philadelphia on home runs by Lou Brock and Tim McCarver plus a run on a third strike passed ball. Dick Groat singled in the first inning after Brock homered, moved to third as Phil Gagliano singled and raced home when catcher Pat Corrales missed the third strike to Curt Flood.

Bill Holstead Wins Tex.-Okla. Tourney

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Bill Holstead Jr. of Wichita Falls fired a seven-under-par 64 on the third round and coasted in with a 73 to win the Texas-Oklahoma golf tournament Sunday.

He had a two-under-par 282 for 72 holes and edged Ras Allen of Dallas by a stroke. Allen shot 68-74 on the final day.

Suspect Is Killed By Officer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A police officer fatally shot a man Sunday a few feet from the police station here while bringing the man in for questioning.

The victim, Zelma Holly Jr., 41, was killed by a shot fired by officer John Thompson.

Thompson was quoted as saying he was bringing Holly to the police station when he was attacked with a pocket knife.

The officer said he tried to defend himself with a nightstick, then pulled his gun and fired into the ground.

A second shot killed Holley.

The officer received minor stab wounds on the neck and shoulders.

Thompson said he arrested Holly at an east side residence where he had gone to investigate a report of a man posing as a police officer and forcing his way into a house. The officer said he searched the man, found no weapon, and put him in a squad car. The man pulled a knife when they were outside the police station, he said.

Thompson, 34, is an eight-year veteran of the Fort Worth Police Department.

Texas Hero's Funeral Set

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Funeral services are set Monday for Texas' second most decorated serviceman of World War II, Samuel Stanley Graham.

Graham, a retired army colonel, died after a short illness in Brooke Army General Hospital Saturday at the age of 69.

His 20 medals for valor and distinguished service were exceeded among Texans only by movie actor Audie Murphy, who was the nation's most decorated hero of the war.

Graham was a native of Iowa. He came to Huntsville in 1922 after service in World War I and joined the faculty of Sam Houston State College.

He taught in the agricultural department until he was recalled to active duty by the Texas National Guard in 1940.

He is survived by his widow, Erma, and two sons.

Big Spring Pilot Escapes Crash Injury

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Maj. Wallace E. Lowman, 43, of Big Spring, Tex., escaped injury Sunday when he bailed out of his F104 jet before it crashed on the White Sands Missile Range.

The crash occurred while Wallace, a member of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb Air Force Base near Big Spring, was flying a tow-target mission, an Air Force spokesman said.

Water Development Plans High On Texas' Agenda

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Texas possesses 7,500 streams, rivers and tributaries large enough to be named. They provide 80,000 miles of channel. But until recent years, much of the water in these channels flowed uselessly into the Gulf Mexico. This is the first of a five-part series telling what the state is doing to halt the runoff so its citizens can use the water.)

By TOM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN ELECTED John McDonald mayor in 1889 on the issue of building a dam across the Colorado River. The dam was finished May 2, 1893, and it created the first large scale man-made reservoir in Texas.

Today there are 138 major dams built or under construction in the state, each having a storage capacity of at least 5,000 acre-feet of water. The 44 largest reservoirs have a collective surface area of 2,300 square miles, almost twice the area of Rhode Island.

"Water — or the lack of it — is the absolute limiting factor in economic growth and development," says the Texas Water Commission.

Texas has plenty of water. The task is to control it and wisely distribute it.

State officials, led by Gov. John Connally, are on record that river development will be a high-priority goal in coming years. The state works closely with such federal agencies as the Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation.

Officials say the rapid and continuing transformation of Texas from a rural-agricultural economy to urban industrialization makes it imperative that water resources be developed fully.

Texas will have a population of 20 million by the year 2000, they say, and the municipal and industrial use alone of water will climb from the present 2.5 million (m) acre-feet annually to 13 million, almost a six-fold increase.

A water commission report also notes that Texas uses about 13 million acre-feet a year to irrigate seven million acres. But most of this water is pumped from underground sources.

Texas has so much water that 40 million (m) acre-feet (13 trillion gallons) meander east-southeastward to the Gulf of Mexico every year.

There are more than 7,500 named streams, rivers and tributaries in Texas, flowing in 80,000 miles of channel. They range from the full, even flow of dignified "Old South" rivers such as the Sabine and Neches in East Texas to the trickling of the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River in the Panhandle.

River development means the building and maintenance of huge dams. They are expensive. Denison Dam impounding Lake Texoma on the Red River cost $75 million in the early 1940s, for instance. But officials say their value over the years more than pays the cost.

Aside from flood control and storage of water for municipal and industrial use, dams create needed recreational areas. Also, 16 Texas dams generate electric power, with a combined capacity of 370,000 kilowatts.

The massive reservoirs are changing the face of Texas, in addition to enhancing economic development. Toledo Bend Reservoir on the Sabine River, for example, will have a surface area of 291 square miles at full capacity. That's a big lake in anybody's book.

Other extremely large reservoirs existing or under construction are Sam Rayburn on the Angelina, 236 square miles; Lake Texoma on the Red, 225; Texarkana on the Sulphur, 187; Falcon on the Rio Grande, 155; and Amistad on the Rio Grande, 131.

Most of the large dams in Texas are projects of the Corps of Engineers.

The Bureau of Reclamation, on the other hand, builds dams primarly for irrigation with new Lake Meredith at Sanford in the Panhandle a major exception.

Still others are constructed by cities alone or by water authorities. Iron Bridge Dam creating Lake Tawakoni was built by the Sabine River Authority, for example, and the cities of Dallas, Greenville and Terrell have contracts with the authority for high, permanent levees."

Penix said much of downtown Dallas would have been flooded by drought breaking rains in the spring of 1957 had it not been for upstream dams.

A complex of dams on the Colorado River upstream from Austin has long been considered a model.

Austin used to be damaged by periodic flooding before the Lower Colorado River Authority (LCRA) was established in the 1930s and built dams creating Buchanan, Granite Shoals, Marble Falls, Travis and Austin Lakes.

Surges of floodwater from the vast Colorado River basin are impounded today by the large dams and released in a pattern that allows the river to stay within its banks and the reservoirs to maintain near-constant levels.

Solon Is Hospitalized

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — State Rep. W. S. (Bill) Heatly Jr. of Paducah says he expects to be hospitalized here for about five days for what he called minor surgery.

IN THIS CARD FILE in the office of the Allstate Insurance Company here are several hundred Allstate customers, each of whom is important to the Company and to the local agent. Derrell Parrish, shown here looking through the file. Allstate, and Parrish, are extremely proud of their high "retention rate" — which is the best proof that customers are satisfied with the product and the service of the Allstate firm.

"Old" Allstate Customers Are Basis Of Firm's Growth

Once a person decided to enjoy the extra benefits that members of the Allstate family of policy holders enjoy, that person becomes important to the Allstate Company.

Ever since Allstate Insurance started operation in 1931 a customer has been important. In that year they had about 4,000 customers, each of whom had clipped a coupon in the Sears Roebuck catalog.

It wasn't until 1934 that agents were placed in Sears stores to handle the insurance phase of the business, but coupons were still included in the catalogs for several years thereafter.

As a matter of fact, one Allstate customer who is served by the local agent, Derrell Parrish, purchased his insurance through a catalog coupon back in 1938.

He is E. M. Owens of Colorado City, who said last week that through the years the Allstate Company had always been more than fair, and had never given him any reason to consider changing his insurance company.

This is what Allstate wants. New customers are welcome, because it is they whom Allstate can make into "old" customers. And the "old", satisfied customers are the company's best advertisement — it's they who help spread the word of the exceptional service offered by Allstate.

It's this service over the relatively few years of Allstate's existance that has made Allstate Insurance Company one of the leaders in the field. Allstate grew from 327,000 policyholders and a premium volume of $12,030,000 in 1945 to almost 7,000,000 policyholders in 1963 with premiums from the fire and casualty operation alone exceeding $631,000.

Starting with auto insurance only, Allstate has grown into all areas of insurance underwriting, including fire, life, hospitalization, theft, boat commercial, and homeowners insurance.

In addition to his being an agent for these insurance coverages of Allstate Insurance, Parrish is also the local agent for Allstate Enterprises. This is the organization which makes low-cost loans on new and used cars, and also is the parent company of the Allstate Motor Club.

The phenominal growth of the Allstate family is based on many things. Lower cost, of course, is one. But without the extra services of fast, fair claim adjustments, and a tradition of fair dealing Allstate wouldn't have grown as it has.

And further, and of much importance to Allstate, is the fact that by these policies, they're making "old" customers out of almost all of their "new" customers. They like it that way.

Parrish will welcome the opportunity to discuss anyone's insurance needs or program. He may be reached at the Sears store at 608 East Highway, or by calling HI 3-5821.

Stock Market Unimpressed With Flood Of Good News

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A flood of good news is failing to impress the stock market. Nor, for a change, is bad news setting off the usual reflex tremors. The market ended Friday July 16 just about where it was Friday July 9.

The good news would have impressed traders in other days. Rosy reports last week of rising corporate profits, heartening gains in industrial output and the total volume of goods and services, as well as in personal income, went apparently unnoticed.

The news out of Congress was of the same type — new laws that will increase government spending in the future and also the incomes of many citizens and the sales of some companies. There were also promises of still more government pep pills as the economy needs them.

At the same time, gloomy predictions of stepped up involvement of the United States in Viet Nam — with the memories of the Korean War still fresh — didn't cause the nervous reaction on the stock market that a like news item might have in the past.

Is the market blase, or surfeited, or just cautious?

One explanation of the doldrums in Wall Street could be that the good news was mostly about conditions that are past — if only as recently as a month ago. The market knew that the economy was still going ahead. And it had adjusted to the rate of growth proving better than earlier predictions.

Wall Street, and Main Street, knew that more Americans than ever have jobs, so that the total of spending money is higher than ever. Second-quarter profits of some corporations turned out better than the general public may have guessed. But even this steady advance has become old hat to the sophisticated.

The market, along with the public, has lived so long with international troubles that flare up and die down only to be duplicated in new locations that even this kind of bad news may have lost some of its power to shock.

Or perhaps the summer heat and humidity are slowing down stock traders.

Popular stock market averages are now back just about where they were a month ago. That is also the period which this week's government statistics have been describing.

In the middle of June, personal income hit a record annual rate of $523.9 billion dollars, a gain of $3.9 billion in a month, and up $34.6 billion from a year ago, at annual rates.

Wages and salaries accounted for $354.2 billion in June, with the factory payroll at $110.8 billion, both at annual rates, and both above a month earlier and a year ago.

The industrial production index hit a record 141.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average in June, compared with 131.6 a year ago.

The list of corporations reporting increased profits, many setting record highs, grows each day.

But the stock market just took note and dawdled. Few expect it will go on being seemingly indifferent to good news or bad. But which type of news will predominate in the days and weeks ahead, or which will bear most weight, is today's guessing game on Wall Street.

Endorses Teachers' Corp Plan

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell today endorsed President Johnson's proposed national teachers corps, but said it should have some provision for Negro teachers displaced by desegregation.

The President asked Congress Saturday to pass legislation creating such a corps to serve in slums and areas of rural poverty. Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., who introduced the bill in the House Wednesday, predicted passage.

"I don't think we will have any earthly problems," Perkins said. "We are going to pass it." He said he saw little prospect the measure might be crowded off the legislative agenda before Congress adjourns.

Powell, New York Democrat who heads the House Education and Labor Committee, said attention to the problem of a teacher shortage has been long overdue. He called the corps idea "a creative effort."

"However, at the same time, I am hopeful that the Congress in considering this legislation will devote specific attention to an equally serious developing problem: that of the displaced Negro teacher who is being discharged as Southern school districts desegregate," he said in a statement.

The President urged passage of the measure in letters to the presiding officers of the House and Senate.

Johnson also asked support for bills which would provide a program of fellowships to prepare students for teaching careers and help experienced teachers improve their qualifications, and for aid to colleges and universities to provide better education for teachers.

The proposals were basically the same the President outlined in a speech to the National Education Association July 2 in New York City.

The President's bid Saturday for support of the measure came three days before the convening Tuesday of a White House conference on education. About 650 leaders in education, business, labor and government are expected for the gathering to discuss problems of education.

Professor's Services Set

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Funeral services were scheduled for Monday in Bryan for Harley C. Dillingham, who was an electrical engineering professor at Texas A&M for 37 years.

Dillingham, who had been a consultant for the U.S. State Department at an Indonesian university since his retirement from A&M in 1963, died here Saturday. He had returned to College Station Friday.

Dillingham, in addition to his teaching duties, acted as assistant Aggie football coach in the 1920s and 1930s.

He and five classmates broadcast a running account of the 1919 A&M-University of Texas football game using telegrapher's code. It is believed to be among the first wireless reports of a sports event.

Dillingham is survived by his widow, two daughters, a brother and a sister.
