PLANS ORGANIZATION OF VOLUNTARY FIRE DEPT. FOR JUNCTION

With the installation of fire plugs in the business and residential section and with the assurance of an abundance of pressure, the thoughts of those connected with the fire department have turned towards methods of utilizing these added facilities, stated City Fire Marshal John M. Hankins in a conference last week.

"This week I am going to visit all the business houses in Junction in an effort to complete an organization of the fire department which will be permanent and satisfactory," continued Mr. Hankins. The plan which Mr. Hankins is working on now is for every business house to furnish the services of one of its younger employees for a short period twice a month in order for the bi-monthly fire drills to become a reality. It is understood that if these drills are faithfully executed twice a month for a period of one year, the fire insurance rate will be cut by fifteen per cent.

This organization will assume the title as Junction Volunteer Fire Department and will be ready for service. At present there are about 35 members of the department but some of these members pay little attention to their connection with the fire department. Mr. Hankins admitted that he had thought of many plans, but the above mentioned one appears to be the most feasible.

In commenting on the work of the fire department for the year closed, Mr. Hankins said that only one place had been completely lost by fire and that was because it was so far removed that too much time was required for the fire truck to reach the scene. All the other fires were brought under control by the work of the department.

In planning for the future, Mr. Hankins said that when Junction could boast of a city hall where the fire department would be located, quarters would be arranged where four men could sleep at the station all the time. The city is planning on adding one thousand feet of hose to the present supply.

Harry J. Patterson Sheriff In Arizona

Mr. H. J. Patterson of Nogales, Arizona, became sheriff of Santa Cruz County with the arrival of the new year. Mr. Patterson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Patterson of Junction, and simultaneously another son of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Frank Patterson became sheriff of Kimble County.

Mr. H. J. Patterson of Nogales served as undersheriff for six years there and left that office for the office he holds today. He has resided in that vicinity for sixteen years, and has been a mining engineer, deputy sheriff, ranger and sheriff.

Mr. Patterson was reared in Junction and is well known to all the citizens who have lived here for some time.

L. R. HODGES NOW WITH WAHL BROS. & SCHRAUB

Mr. L. R. Hodges, who has been district and county clerk for the past four years, is now associated with Wahl Bros. & Schraub as salesman for the Durant cars, both Four and Sixes. They now have demonstration cars and will be in position to supply those wanting the popular Durant cars.

Mr. Hodges, as well as all the members of the firm, are enthusiastic about the new Durants and are confidently expecting to place many of these cars in this territory.

SAFETY ZONES

The boys of the Vocational Agriculture class have placed the "safety zone" markers provided by the P. T. A.

HOW TO ESCAPE FLU

Avoid as far as possible the places where flu germs are most apt to be; crowded cars; public meeting places; warm, stuffy rooms.

Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers, breathe through the nose.

Get lots of rest. Eat plenty of citrus fruits. Keep the bowels open. Take every precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have high resistance against germs.

Above all, avoid catching cold. Any cold may be the forerunner of flu. If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor.

SCHOOL RESUMES WORK ON MONDAY JANUARY 7 AFTER 2 WEEKS RECESS

Regular sessions of the Schreiner High School opened Monday morning after an extension of the holidays because of improper heating facilities in the building. The new grates from San Antonio arrived Saturday afternoon and they were installed Saturday evening. The reason for the delay was because the grates had to be moulded at the foundry since proper sizes were not in stock.

According to building and ground superintendent Baylor the new grates save much wood and labor, besides being more efficient. The furnace was fired Sunday afternoon and the building was sufficiently heated Monday morning for the resumption of school work.

More than twelve new pupils entered the school last Monday morning according to Superintendent H. B. Cowles. Six of these new pupils entered the primary department, which brought the total of primary pupils to fifty. All of these pupils are in one room under the direction of Miss Austin Durst.

To the layman who is unaccustomed to the sight can hardly vision the scene of fifty primary students grouped in one room under the supervision of one instructor. It is nearly an impossibility for one instructor to adequately administer to this amount of primary pupils.

The new division of the sixth grade which was formed recently was merely a temporary aid according to Superintendent Cowles. This section is now crowded to capacity and will necessitate some attention soon.

The new music conservatory which has been partitioned off in one part of the Vocational Agriculture building is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy as soon as the new door is put in. The piano will be moved to the building this week and work will commence presently in the new quarters. This addition will relieve to a certain extent the crowded condition which exists in the school system at present.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE AT METHODIST CHURCH

Presiding Elder Sterling Fisher of San Angelo will be at the First Methodist Church on January 13 (next Sunday) to hold the Quarterly Conference, according to Rev. Milton F. Hill, pastor of the local church. Presiding Elder Fisher will deliver the sermon Sunday morning at the regular church hour, concluded Rev. Hill.

Mr. David Dutton of Brady was in Junction during the past week visiting with his wife, Mrs. Margaret Dutton, who is teaching in the Schreiner High School.

AMERICAN ANGORA GOAT BREEDERS' TO MEET HERE TUESDAY

Annual Meeting to be Held in the Kimble County Court House Before Large Audience

The American Angora Goat Breeders' Association will meet in Junction next Tuesday, (January 15), for their annual meeting. The association together with the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce are planning to have one of the best conventions that have ever been held in the Hill Country. This association has probably helped the goat raisers of this country more than any other organization aiding in this sort of work. The slogan of the Association is: "Eat Chevron, talk and wear mohair everywhere." The members are living up to their slogan.

Some of the most able speakers in the southwest will address the association while the meeting is in session here. The Kimble County Chamber of Commerce in addition to the regular program of the Goat Breeders' Association has planned a banquet for the members which will be served at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday. A show and rodeo will be provided for the visitors at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday night. The luncheon is under the supervision of the Parent-Teachers' Association, and various ranchmen will donate the meat for the occasion, according to reports from the chamber of Commerce executives.

The meeting will be called to order by the Vice-President of the Association at 11:00 o'clock Tuesday morning at which time the secretary-treasurer's report will be read and the directors

Property Loss From Fire Small In 1928

The fire losses in Junction during 1928 totaled less than $1000, according to City Fire Marshal John M. Hankins. The residence of Mrs. Waits was destroyed at a loss of $500. The house was so far out from the fire station that when the truck arrived the house was too near gone to save it. A barn at the Becker Hotel was damaged to the extent of $25. A defective fuse at the house of Bob Ragland resulted in a $150 blaze. A fire at the home of Mrs. S. F. Lawler caused damages amounting to $150.

In comparison with the great fire losses of the years preceding 1928, this notice of a lowered fire loss comes as good news to the citizens of this

FLU EPIDEMIC

The flu has reached the stage of an epidemic in this section. There have been probably five hundred cases in Junction in the past ten days. No deaths have been reported from the flu, but several have been quite ill. There are several homes where every member of the family is ill. Druggists and physicians are busy night and day. It is hoped that relief will come soon.

TAILOR SHOP MOVES

The Quick Service Tailor Shop is moving this week from its old location to the building on Holecamp street formerly occupied by the Skaggs Grocery Company.

Mr. A. P. Boyett, proprietor, stated that this move was being undertaken to provide more room for his work which has outgrown the present quarters. He will install some modern machinery in this new plant.

Mrs. L. E. Dunbar returned Wednesday from Lockert where she visited her father, Mr. E. E. Cochran.

HUNTERS TROUBLES

Approximately $213.00 were paid in Kimble County for fines the past season for violations of the game laws, according to information received from J. B. Stevenson, County Attorney. This sum is small in comparison to the amount collected in adjoining counties, where there were more hunters. Violators of the laws in Kerr County paid approximately $1,600.

There were 16 cases of trespassing, one for hunting without license, one for trapping without a license, one for possession of doves out of season, and one for the possession of a doe. No casualties in Kimble County among hunters were reported this season.

BOOSTERS FOR KIMBLE COUNTY MEET TUESDAY TO DISCUSS PROJECTS

Representatives of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce, the City Council, and Commissioners' Court met in joint session last Tuesday evening in the Directors room of the Junction State Bank for the purpose of discussing needs of the city and methods of realizing these necessities. Sixteen men were present at the meeting which lasted for three hours; and a large number of professions and business interests were represented at the assembly.

Mr. Conrad T. Holecamp, president of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting. At the request of the president every person present related some outstanding needs of the city. Some of the major needs mentioned and discussed included a sewer system, more paved streets, remedy of the crowded school situation, placing street markers and house numbers in proper places, finish link in the O. S. T. and open it up, a real cleanup for the town, a scenic drive to the top of one of the overhanging mountains, improvement of golf course, placing of road markers and cleaning up the dump ground.

Much enthusiasm was demonstrated when the proposition of obtaining a Class "A" landing field for airplanes was mentioned before the assembly. This suggestion received much attention and prospects for the acquisition of a good field are bright.

A spirit of co-operation was shown by those present at the meeting, and the prospects for some real improvements during the year of 1929 seem good. The entire co-operation of the townsfolk will be necessary for the success of any of these improvements.

CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERS CALL SUNDAY

The fire alarm sounded last Sunday night about eight o'clock and the fire department answered a call at the Becker Hotel where a barn was burning behind the hotel. The flames were soon extinguished by the fire department. About $25 damage resulted from the blaze, according to Fire Marshal John M. Hankins.

Mr. J. R. O'Bryan returned Monday from Houston where he and Mrs. O'Bryan spent the holiday season. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Warren of Houston accompanied Mr. O'Bryan home. Mrs. O'Bryan was unable to return home because of injuries received in the automobile wreck.

DANGER OF INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC AT LOCAL SCHOOL IMPROBABLE

"The health situation at the Schreiner High School is not alarming but there is some influenza among the students," stated Superintendent H. B. Cowles this week. "Every time I see a child that looks feverish or is coughing severely or seems indisposed I send that one home because we are unwilling to take any unnecessary risks," continued Mr. Cowles. Every precaution is being taken by the authorities at the high school to keep down an epidemic of the influenza. The buildings are kept as well ventilated as the temperature permits, following instruction to all the teachers to heed especially the conditions of ventilation.

The furnace is being kept at a maximum heat and the rooms throughout the building are comfortable. In the rear of the Vocational Agriculture building there has been established a confectionery and eating room where hot soup and hot drinks are being served to the school children at nominal prices. Miss Ruby Baylor has charge of this room. Superintendent Cowles stated that it would be much better for the children to purchase a bowl of hot soup with their lunch money than it would be to purchase candy.

Superintendent Cowles sent four pupils home Monday morning because they showed symptoms of sickness. Every precaution means possible are being used to curb sickness among the pupils.

Every teacher and assistant at the school are well and at their desks. Only a few students are out because of sickness, and the percentage is so small that no alarm is felt. Mr. Cowles is fighting the dreaded epidemic and is pleased with the degree of success which the efforts are achieving.

National Farm Loan Associations Merge

At the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Junction National Farm Loan Association and the London National Farm Loan Association held here Tuesday in the director's room of the Junction State Bank, a consolidation was effected in which the Junction Association took over the assets of the London Association.

Officers and Directors elected for the ensuing year were: C. W. Atchison, president; Hoy Smith, vice president; W. P. Riley, secretary-treasurer. Directors: C. W. Atchison, Hoy Smith, A. G. Farmer, N. H. Skaggs and Roy Blackburn.

A statement of the Association reflects the good judgement of the farmers and ranchmen of Kimble County in taking advantage of the 5% interest rate charged by the Federal Land Bank of Houston on land loans, and operated through the medium of the Junction National Farm Loan Association, in this and adjoining counties.

After consolidation the Association has 167 members, with loans of $769,861.00. Federal Land Bank stock held by members, $38,505.00. The Association has a surplus of $4,569.39. Cash in General Fund, $100.03, and $2,487.41 set aside by the newly elected board of directors as a dividend on outstanding stock, to be issued and mailed to each borrower.

LONDON LOCALS

Mr. D. G. Adams is the happy possessor of a very sore foot caused by stepping on a nail. Of course Ivy and the children wait on him now—hence the pleasure of it.

W. P. Riley was a pleasant visitor to our town Jan. 1. Mr. Riley elected to start the New Year right.

M. C. Reese was in town on business the 1st. Glad indeed to see Mr. Reese able to be out again.

Misses Icy and Selma Adams returned from Johnson City on the 1st, reporting a good time.

Mr. Jodie Smitherman of Johnson City spent the holidays with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gentry were greeting friends here last week.

We regret to note the death of John W. Pearl recently. Uncle John was one of the old landmarks of this section and was respected by all. One by one these old settlers take their leave and I wonder if the younger generation will carry on better than the old settler did and has. One thing we know, they are better equipped in many ways and the opportunities are just as great and more numerous. These old pioneers will soon all be gone.

Mr. E. I. Cummins now drives a new model Ford. He says once in a while he shoves on the old model brake and this shoots the gas to it and then business reacts and so does he.

It is a pleasure to see R. T. Amberson, L. M. Walton, G. T. May and J. S. Goodman still active physically and mentally. These gentlemen visit us every once in a while and we are always glad for them to come. Bro. E. W. Brewer is afflicted with blindness, otherwise he, too, is healthy and active. All these men are old timers and have the respect and well deserve the respect of all.

W. L. Amaon is again at work after several days confinement to his home by sickness.

Mr. Chas. Bober was in from the ranch the 4th.

Masters Pat Amaon, Buster Smith and Louis Amaon took the writer out for a pleasant ride Sunday evening which was enjoyed by all, especially the writer.

Mr. C. R. Robinson is moving his well drill to Johnson Fork. Mr. Robinson has a good machine and knows how to operate it.

By traveling along the highway out of London we notice some land prepared for another crop, but not near what we expected to see. We suppose the majority have left their lands unplowed for the purpose of grazing. We believe this custom to be a mistake. We believe to have plowed early and turned the vegetation under would have been more beneficial to the land than the pasture was to the live stock.

We are glad to note Leandrew Walton is up and on duty again after several days' illness from lagrippe.

Mr. E. F. Amaon, our neighbor, is improving now and seems to be on the way to recovery after several weeks of confinement to his bed with pneumonia.

We are having quite a deal of trouble with lagrippe (or flu). Nearly everyone has tackled it but none seem disposed to boast over the result.

Bro. Louis Pearl is now a citizen of London community, having recently leased and moved to the John L. Davis place. Bro. Pearl says that he will in the near future leave an appointment to preach for us. We are glad he has decided to do this. Let's all encourage him in this move. To hear Bro. Pearl preach will do you no harm, but might do you a great good.

HEMSTITCHING

Mrs. Joe Turner announces that she has sold her Hemstitching and pleating press to Mrs. E. C. Jordan, who will operate it at her home, telephone 128. Mrs. Jordan is experienced in this line of work and will be glad to have all of Mrs. Turner's customers. Call on her when in need of this line of work.

SEGOVIA SIFTINGS

The flu is raging in our neighborhood since the holidays. Those reported sick with it this week are: Misses Julia Fairchild, Louise Keithley, Louise King, Maurine Rouse, Lena Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis and baby, Mrs. Tiny Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Maxie, J. B. and Johnnie Sellers and Bryan Keithley.

The attendance at school this week is very small on account of the flu.

Those who were in Junction Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fairchild, Miss Naomi Knowles, Messrs. Ben F. Neal, R. R. King, E. R. Keithley, Walter Blackmon, Frank Rembolt and Allen Phelps.

Mrs. W. N. Hatch visited friends in Mountain Home Saturday.

Miss Naomi Knowles spent Sunday with the R. R. King family.

Miss Polly Jones returned to Rocksprings Sunday where she is attending school.

Miss Naomi Knowles and Edward Keithley visited in the Hubbell home at Telegraph Sunday night.

Mrs. A. N. Gilliam has been employed to teach in the Segovia school. She is taking Mrs. Weldon Williams' place who gave up her work on account of illness.

Mr. H. D. Jones was a business visitor to Junction Monday.

Mrs. W. N. Hatch and son, Arlon, made a business trip to Junction Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Bishop returned Monday from Austin where she went to be with her daughter, Mrs. Alton Fleming, who has been ill with the flu.

SYCAMORE SAYINGS

Wednesday morning, January 2, is infested with flu since the holidays.

Lane Hodges' family has all been quite sick with flu, while the baby, Varda, was very low, but is some better at present.

Mr. F. M. Hodges is still wrestling with the flu but is able to be up now.

We understand that Mr. Alfred Miller has the flu in his family.

School opened at the Hull school house Monday.

Miss Evelyn Calhoun returned to her school Saturday after a two weeks visit to homefolks at Blanco.

Five pupils are absent on account of sickness this week.

Jim R. Hodges and wife returned last week from McCamey where they had been to visit his sister, Mrs. Chester Carden, during the holidays.

The pipe line is progressing fast. The blasting continues. Quite a number of men passing daily, and trucks are still hauling pipe.

Mr. Blackstone Smith and Capt. Rieck were business men on the line Tuesday. We surmise Black was hunting a job.

Mr. Melvin Hull and family spent the holidays with relatives at Fredericksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Joy of Blanco were visiting her mother and brothers Monday.

Jim R. Hodges is holding the flu down this week.

We were blessed with a fine shower Tuesday night which will help vegetation.

GOAT BREEDERS' HOLD FIRST MEETING HERE ON OCTOBER 11, 1911

On October 18, 1911, an enthusiastic meeting of goatmen was held in the Court House in Junction for the purpose of organizing a permanent association to be known as the Kimble County Goat Breeders' Association.

This article, which appeared back in 1911, shows that men of this county have long been interested in better goats and have put forth concerted effort to achieve these things.

Today this county has benefited by the efforts of these pioneers in this field. On next Tuesday an association known as the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association, will meet for its annual session in Junction. In just seventeen years interest has grown from a local one to a national one concerning the development of goats in this section.

The officers of this early association which was organized in 1911 were: N. H. Skaggs, president; J. W. Garrett, vice president; F. S. Kountz, secretary; and John F. Reid, treasurer. Ten members were enrolled in this first organization. One of the primary objects of the association was to send a representative of the association to Washington to represent the association before congress.

West Texas Makes Reduction In Rates

The West Texas Utilities Company has issued a notice of a reduction in the rates, according to Mr. W. B. May, local manager. The rates go into effect this month.

The old rates for both residences and commercial lighting were 16c per kilowatt hour for the first 100 kilowatts used and 12½c per kilowatt for all over the first 100.

The steps in the new rate for residences are governed by the number of rooms in the house. Three rooms are considered as the minimum and seven as the maximum. The new rate is 14c per kilowatt for first four kilowatt hours per room, nine cents per kilowatt for the next four, and six cents per kilowatt for all in excess. With this plan the person that uses but little electricity will receive the same advantages which the big consumer will.

The new rate for commercial lighting is 14c per kilowatt hour for the first 30 hours of maximum demand, 10c per kilowatt hour for the next 60 hours of maximum demand, and five cents per hour for all energy used per month in excess of the first ninety hours.

These new rates pertain only to lighting and do not pertain to heating, power for motors, etc., concluded Mr. May.

WHITELEY-THORNTON

Mr. E. M. Whiteley of Junction and Miss Ruby Thornton of Ingram were united in marriage last Saturday at the home of Rev. Tennyson Nixon of Ingram who performed the ceremony. The couple will be at home in Junction.

Mr. Whiteley is an employee of the Hazelwood Laundry and is well known to the people in this section.

Recently a farmer living near Brownwood took a few shots at an airplane with a shot gun because the plane flew rather low over his head. If any of the controls had been damaged the plane probably would have been wrecked. Just a friendly warning to the pilot would have remedied the situation more than likely. Instead the farmer tried to take the matter in his own hands. Impetuosity, hotheadedness and disrespect forthe rights of others cause much trouble. Before you try to bring a man to reckoning, make sure he is conscious that he is wronging you.

LANDING FIELD

One of the proposed measures which the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce is contemplating accomplishing this year is the establishment of a Class "A" landing field for airplanes which will meet government specifications. Along with this undertaking it will be necessary to provide roof signs as air signals throughout the city.This project was the first named in the list which the Chamber of Commerce will attempt to realize during this year, which shows the amount of importance which the organization feels this issue deserves.
In the future, it is possible that Junction will be a stop on an air line from San Antonio to El Paso, and to qualify for such a situation an efficient airport is necessary.Also where emergency calls arise when the space of a few minutes may mean the life or death of some individual, it is well to remember that the airplane holds the record of speed among all the means of locomotion which we use today.
The airplane is the coming means of locomotion and the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce recognizes this fact as it is working for the establishment of a good airport which will serve this territory.

THE COMMUNITY EDITOR

The community newspaper of the small town has not lost its individuality entirely. There are still a few of the old-time editors left who have the courage and will attack public problems and reveal facts to the readers. Just a few remain who value public concern more than they do a large advertising contract.One of these editors is J. L.
Martin of the HEART O' TEX-AS NEWS. Recently through the columns of his paper he openly attacked a public concern which he thought was failing to serve the public as it should. Not in a round about way, but openly and straight-forwardly did he make known the circumstances.The community weekly is essential to the small town; it is a vital part of the small town's existence. Choke the weekly publication to death and the town will suffer. Build the paper bigger and better and the town becomes bigger and better with it. Some argue that the metropolitan dailies will kill the weekly publications, but there was never a falseness statement uttered. There is no conflict because there is no competition.
Each serves its own field and each fills its peculiar needs.
And as long as fearless, truthful editors continue to edit the community paper, it will retain its individuality and power."If I stood on my head all the

LOSS OF TEMPER

It is as undignified to lose one's temper, publicly, as it is to appear in a crowd without being properly clothed. For, in a moment of anger, the mind and soul and heart are revealed —without the dress of civilizaideal.—Ex.

LIFE

A little burst of laughter,
A little snatch of song,
A little hour of struggle
To make the spirit strong.
A little touch of failure,
A little triumph blest,
A little honest labor,
A little of quiet rest.A little thrill of gladness,
A little pang of pain,
A little ray of sunshine,
A little fall of rain,
A little flash of glory,
A little strain of strife—
These well shaken together
Compound the thing called life.

BOY WANTED—AND THE KIND

Wanted—A boy who stands straight, sits straight, acts straight and talks straight. A boy who listens carefully when spoken to, who asks questions when he does not understand and does not ask questions about things that are none of his business.

A boy whose finger nails are not in mourning, whose ears are clean, whose shoes are polished, whose clothes are brushed, whose hair is combed and whose teeth are well cared for.

A boy who moves quickly and makes as little noise as possible.

A boy who whistles in the street but not where he ought to keep still.

A boy who looks cheerful, has a ready smile for everybody, and never sulks.

A boy who is polite to every man and respectful to every woman and girl.

A boy who does not smoke cigarettes and has no desire to learn how.

A boy who never bullies other boys or allows other boys to bully him.

A boy who, when he does not know a thing says, "I do not know" and when he makes a mistake says "I am sorry," and when requested to do a thing says, "I'll try."

A boy who looks you in the eye and tells you the truth every time.

A boy who had rather lose his job, or be expelled from school than to tell a lie or be a cad.

A boy who is more eager to know how to speak good English than talk slang.

A boy who does not want to be "smart" nor in any way attract attention.

A boy who is eager to read good wholesome books.

A boy who is perfectly at ease in the company of respectable girls.

A boy who is not a goody-goody, prig, or a little Pharisee, but just a healthy, happy and full of life boy.

This boy is wanted everywhere. The family wants him, the school wants him, the office wants him, the boys and girls want him, and all creation wants him.—Exchange.

BUS PERMIT SOUGHT FOR NEGROES ONLY

Austin.—Authority to operate a motor bus line exclusively for negro passengers was asked in an application filed with the motor transit division of the railroad commission by F. S. Charlton and Floyd T. Jackson of Tulsa, Ok. Hearing was not set until after the holidays according to Harris Bell of Austin, attorney for the applicants.

This is said to be the first application of its kind ever filed in a southern state. The application is for a line from Houston to Austin and from Austin to San Antonio, two buses to be operated daily each way.

Floyd, who filed the application, said the line later would run from Austin to Dallas.

All employees operating the buses will be negroes, Floyd said, as well as ticket agents at the stations, which are to be maintained exclusively for negroes. There also will be separate rest rooms and cafes provided for the passengers.

According to Floyd, the segregation of whites and negroes on buses is not practical.

"Negroes are clamoring for motor-bus service and we will give it to them if the railroad commission grants us the authority," Floyd said. He said that although bus lines for white passengers are being operated over the routes asked by him, the service which he proposes will in no way compete with the buses for whites.

FIRM SENDS 7,500 LETTERS BY AIR MAIL

A consignment of 7,500 air mail letters, thought to be the largest mail shipment ever made by a single Fort Worth firm, was dispatched Monday by the M System Stores Corporation.

The letters weighed approximately 470 pounds and required $375 in postage. The letters were addressed to independent grocers in 15 Southwestern, Southern and Middle States.

VIOLATORS OF GAME LAWS PAY $1,600 IN FINES

Violators of the State game laws arrested in Kerr County during the 1928 season, which closed on December 31, paid approximately $1,600 to the State and county in fines, according to records in the office of Justice E. H. Turner.

A total of 78 cases, charging various violations of the game laws, have been disposed of and about 15 cases are pending on the docket.

The fines collected represent the largest total ever recorded in any one hunting season.—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

PECAN OIL MAY TAKE PLACE OF CASTOR OIL

At least one physician in Texas, and perhaps the United States, claims to have found a substitute for castor oil, a discovery which should please children and not displease grown-ups. It's pecan oil.

In an address on "New Uses of the Pecan," delivered before the executive committee of the recently organized West Texas Pecan Association at Brady, Dr. J. F. Burt, practicing physician and prominent pecan grower of Junction, stressed the medical value of the pecan. He declared pecan oil has not only as good laxative qualities as other oils, but is also less irritating to take.

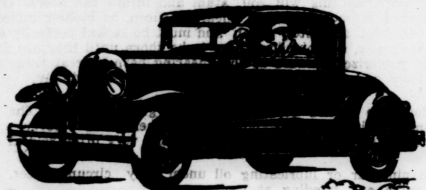

Besides its laxative value, pecan oil, the Junction physician pointed out, has nutritive qualities.—Kerrville Times.

JACK HINTS AT TRYING COMEBACK AS FIGHTER

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 8.—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavy-weight champion, told reporters that a possibility of his entering the ring again depends on a conference he soon is to have with Tex Rickard. Jack and his party, which included Jerry the Greek, his trainer, are on their way to Miami, Fla., where they plan to meet Rickard.

"Don't ask me whether I am going to take another whirl at the game, for I don't know," he said. "It all depends on what comes of the conference with Rickard."

Asked about the report that Rickard said he was through and would not fight again, Jack smiled and said: "Tex always did say more than his prayers."

He admitted he was doing some road work and a little boxing, "just to keep in shape."

Kimble County Second in Mohair Production

Texas is the leading goat and Mohair State in the Union. It has within its confines 1,791,205 of the 3,370,218 goats in the United States and according to the 1925 census produced for the year 1924 6,403,679 pounds of the 8,425,942 pounds of mohair produced in the United States.

But the above facts do not stress the highly localized phase of this industry. The goat raising industry is largely confined to the Edwards Plateau of Southwest Texas, though there is some scattered goat raising throughout the northern portions of the state. Junction is located in this favored section. Edwards Plateau lying south and west of the middle and upper courses of the Colorado River and extending to the Rio Grande on the south and to the Pecos on the West is a broken well-watered area and admirably adapted to goat raising because of the varied vegetation, weed and grass ranges and the ample supply of small timber and underbrush for the browsing goat.

Tracing the history and development of the Angora Goat the ardent admirer of history does not overlook the "black" ancestors from which these fine mohair producers descended. The Angora Goat has been bred up from the common black goat introduced into South Texas by the early Mexicans by the introduction of Angora Rams. Thus ordinary stock has been bred up into valuable stock.

According to the latest table, there is only one county in Texas that produces more mohair than does Kimble County. Edwards County produces more, but Kimble County has a secure hold on second place. According to the latest figures there is no county that reaches within 100,000 pounds of Kimble County. Such figures would convince the most skeptical that Kimble County is naturally a goat raising county and the ranchmen are taking advantage of their opportunities.

LIFE OF "UNCLE" CONRAD BIERSCHWALE

Conrad Bierschwale's life, which came to an end in his seventy-seventh year recently, began at Hanover, Germany, where he was born August 24, 1851. At six months of age he was brought, an infant in arms, to America and his father, Conrad Bierschwale, Sr., settled near Fredericksburg. Here the elder Bierschwale made a livelihood for his family as a miller and his flour and grist mill was among the very first ever to have been operated by the pioneers in Gillespie County. The mill was operated entirely by water power, being a typical old burr mill. At the beginning of the Civil War the family moved from Fredericksburg to Dallas where they operated a mill for the Federal government during the Civil War. And from Dallas the family moved to Springfield, Missouri, where the elder Bierschwale died sometime later, leaving a widow and nine children. The mother with her children returned to Dallas in 1866 where they tarried until the fall of 1867. Then came word from the eldest brother of the family who had lost contact with the family upon entering the Civil War. He had settled on the Guadalupe River 5 miles below the town of Comfort after the war and insisted that the folks in Dallas move to his place and make it their home. During this time young Conrad Bierschwale was growing up. While still a boy in his teens Uncle Conrad enlisted as a Texas Ranger and served under Captain John Sansom in Gillespie County two years. On the seventh day of November, 1871, he was happily married to Miss Bernice Sager, who still survives him, a faithful, loving helpmate until the last—over a period of 57 years. To this happy union was born thirteen children, of whom three died in infancy. One daughter, Mrs. T. F. Huffman, passed away July 21, 1928. Nine children survive. There are twenty grandchildren, one great-grandchild, three brothers and one sister. With the exception of one grandson, who was unable to come, all surviving relatives were present at the funeral. One grandson, David L. Farris, lost his health during the World War and passed away in 1921.

A firm believer of the Christian faith he united with the Baptist church forty-four years ago and was a consistent, active member the remainder of his life. For several years he was a deacon in the Harper Baptist church.

Interment was made in the Harper cemetery Tuesday, December 10, 1928, with Rev. J. A. Dekle officiating. Pall-bearers were B. L. Farris, Arthur Bierschwale, Carrol McDonald, Eddie Bierschwale, Jimmie Bierschwale and Robert Bierschwale.—Harper Herald.

THE RIGHT DIAGNOSIS

While traveling in the Pacific Coast states recently, Herschel S. Hall was taken violently ill, with an attack of acute indigestion.

Hearing there was a Chinese doctor in the town who was highly regarded by the citizens of the locality, Mr. Hall sent for him.

The physician came, felt of the sick man's pulse, inquired briefly as to his sufferings, and then entered upon the following questionnaire:

"You smokee sliaglet?"

"Oh, yes."

"Cigar, too?"

"Yes."

"Pipe maybe, eh?"

"Sometimes."

"You takee h'i dlink sometime—maybe col' pop, col' soda, col' milk shakee, col' linger beer, licy-col' lemonated, col' slider, maybe some hot flea, hot coffee, hot chocolate, lots of sugar and cleam?"

"Sure thing."

"You eattee fast?"

"I got to, doctor—always in a hurry—lots to do, you know."

"You eattee hot biscuit?"

"You bet!"

"You eattee fly ham, fly bacon, fly eggs, hot clakes, lota molass?"

"I'll say I do!"

"You eattee gleasy stuff—some fly, some roast, some boil, some stew, some blake—you mix 'em all uppee same time, eh?"

"Yes."

"You eattee pie?"

"Yes! Everything goes with me. Pie? Pie is my middle name at mealtime, doctor."

"You eattee some pickle, some cheese, some nut, some nice litch clake, some nice cleam—you mixee all uppee inside you same time, eh?"

"Yes, sir—that was the way I was taught to eat at boarding school."

"You dlinkee lice water same time?"

"Of course."

"You chewee up wood tooth-pick fine, eh, at finish?"

"Usually do—sometimes I have to use a match."

AUTO WITH BOOZE AT SHERIFF OFFICE

Big Springs, Texas, Jan. 4.—C. M. Martin parked his automobile in front of the wrong door.

Thursday night Sheriff Slaughter walked from his office and bumped into a car which was standing at the curbing. Curious, he looked into it. Then he started counting, and by the time he had finished he had pointed a finger at 110 pints of alleged liquor.

"Thank you for bringing the liquor and car to such a convenient location," Sheriff Slaughter said to the driver as he arrested him.

Martin was charged with possession of liquor, and late Friday his bond had not been set.

France claimed Texas because of LaSalle's expedition, but in 1762 it was ceded to Spain.

1,111,407 AUTOMOBILES REGISTERED IN TEXAS

There are 24, 592,370 registered vehicles in the United States, an increase of 1,463,055 over a year ago, the annual tabulation made by Motor Magazine from the registry of the various states shows.

Passenger cars showed an increase of 6.2 per cent during the year, numbering 21,468,596. The number of motor trucks is 3,123,774, a gain of 7.2 per cent.

New York state led in the number of vehicles in use with 2,090,815, followed by California, 1,806,224; Ohio, 1,662,000; Pennsylvania, 1,449,400; Illinois, 1,502,976; Michigan, 1,248,080, and Texas, 1,111,407.

The increase of 1,463,055 in all classes of vehicles during 1928 compare with an increase of 1,125,922 recorded during 1927.

"Domestic sales of passenger cars last year approximated 3,075,000," the magazine said, "and the registration increase was only 1,254,000, so it is obvious that more than 1,800,000 of the cars previously in use were scrapped or taken out of service in some other way. Replacements, therefore, now are accounting for about 60 per cent of the total sales."

JOYS OF INDUSTRY

There are two ways of making yourself stand out from the crowd. One is by having a job so big you can go home before the bell rings if you want to.

The other is by finding so much to do that you must stay after the others have gone. The one who enjoys the former once took advantage of the latter.—Henry Ford.

Immigration from the United States to Texas began to trickle in following the Louisiana purchase in 1803.

CLERICAL ERROR BASE FOR ELECTION CONTEST

Fredericksburg, Texas, Jan. 4.—A clerical error was the base for an election contest filed in District Court here by Fred Hahn, whom election tally sheets show was elected as Commissioner of precinct No. 2 of this county, it was said.

A sheet filed with the County Judge, however, gave the election to W. L. Brandon, incumbent, who was certified for the place.

Attorneys for Mr. Hahn said that in the election their client received eighty-six votes, seven more than Mr. Brandon, but when the election clerk made out his report sheet he copied the figure as 68.

The case is to be tried before Judge J. H. McLean during the February term.

RIO GRANDE BRIDGES REPORTED FAVORABLY

Washington, Jan. 4.—The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee Thursday favorably reported to the House four bills authorizing construction of international highway toll bridges over the Rio Grande at San Benito, Donna, Los Indios and Rio Grande City, Texas. The bills were introduced by Representative John N. Garner of the Uvalde district. Maintenance and operation of the bridges, in addition to construction, is authorized in the bills. Construction is authorized subject to approval of Mexican authorities.

POSTAL SAVINGS

Postal savings banks of the country now have deposits of more than $152,000,000. The Postmaster General says that the former feeling of hostility on the part of the banking fraternity has disappeared as the conduct of the postal saving system has been such as to remove the feeling that these banks were competing with private banks. Evidently the postal savings has served to promote the idea of thrift in this country.

DEATH RATES

It is encouraging to know that the death rate per 1000 dropped off nearly one per cent for the year 1927, in which year the rate was 11.4 as compared with 12.2 in 1926.

Suggestions Covering Proper Preparations of Wool and Mohair for the Market

Never shear goats or sheep on the ground or on wagon sheets or on open pens where the wind will blow dirt or dust into wool or mohair. Shearing should be done in a barn, on a board floor, or on a platform not less than six inches above the ground, so as to avoid dirt getting on this platform while the animal is being placed on it for shearing. This platform should have an extending board of from 4 to 6 inches on each of three sides to avoid wool or mohair from falling off. The side of platform opposite from the shearing machine should be left open, making it convenient to sweep same. This platform or floor should be kept clean at all times. The animals should not be dragged through muddy or dirty pens, as this will soil, stain and injure the fleece. Platforms or barn floors should be thoroughly cleaned of mohair before shearing sheep, as mohair mixed with wool is harmful. The Wool and mohair must be kept absolutely clean and must be sacked perfectly dry. Should the animals be wet from rain or morning dew, do not allow them to be shorn until they are dried, thoroughly. Never allow any straw, trash or pulverized manure in the shearing barn. Great care should be taken to avoid double clipping of the fleece and shearers should be instructed accordingly.

Yearling mohair should be sacked separate from the grown mohair. The term "Yearling Mohair" applies only to the second clipping of goats, not to any other kind. Never mix grown mohair with yearling or kid mohair, as it will be subject to discount and very often sold at the grown mohair price.

Do not dip goats in pine tar or lubricating oil under any circumstances. This will stain the mohair, depreciate the value and handling at a discount.

All 12 months wool must be tied, but short wool, such as 6 and 8 months or fall and winter lamb wool, should not be tied. As soon as a 12 months fleece is shorn it should be placed on a table with the flesh side down, spread out, taking care not to separate it. All tags, sweat locks and other dirty parts must be removed from the fleece and put in a separate sack marked "Tags." Large heavy duck locks should be thrown away. Under no circumstances should there be any tags left in the fleeces or packed with the wool, but the tags should be sacked separately and delivered at warehouse with the wool. On a great many of the more carefully managed sheep ranches all sheep are tagged or what is commonly known "crocheted" several months before shearing. This system of tagging not only removes the tags and sweat locks but also eliminates the danger of wool worms, leaving the sheep dry and clean and making it easier for the lambs to suckle. After the 12 months fleece has been carefully tagged it should then be rolled and tied with the flesh side out. To do this, fold over the sides, then commence at the hind quarters, roll the fleece so that the shoulders of the best part of the wool will be on the outside. Then tie the fleece by crossing the string twice. Be sure and use paper fleece twine. Under no circumstances use sisal or what is commonly known binder twine in tying wool or sewing sacks. Cockleburs and grassburs are no greater menace or defect to wool and mohair than sisal twine. All wools tied with sisal twine and all sacks sewed with same or baling wire will have to be discounted.

All inferior or off wools, such as buck and black, wool from dead sheep, trashy wool, also wool from early fall or winter lambs, must be packed separately and the sacks marked accordingly. Full sacks of wool should not weigh over 225 pounds and full sacks of mohair not over 350 pounds. When loading wool or mohair at ranches the sacks should not be rolled on the ground or stained in any manner and should not be loaded on dirty trucks.

In conclusion, if you will carefully study and comply with these requirements, we assure you that it will not be long before the Kerrville wool will regain its popularity. Not many years ago it always sold at a premium. The quality is as good as ever, but it is not properly handled in the shearing barns. The Sonora wool today is keenly sought after by the buyers simply because the growers tag, tie and put up their wool right.

HUDSPETH WILL PRESS CATTLE TICK MEASURE

Washington, Jan. 3.—Representative Claude B. Hudspeth of the El Paso District has returned to Washington and announced his intention of pressing for action of several of his bills, including that for payment of cattle tick claims against the Federal Government, now on the House calendar. Mr. Hudspeth said he would ask that time be set for consideration of these bills by the House this session.

Another bill on which the Texan will seek House action is that granting pensions to soldiers and rangers who fought in the Indian wars and Civil War, regardless of whether their names were entered on the muster rolls of the United States Army. The bill seeks to correct other injustices of the present pension law.

Mr. Hudspeth said representatives of the Texas cattlemen would come to Washington later this month to urge increased tariff on cattle, hides and meats during the hearings of the Ways and Means Committee on tariff revision. Dayton Moses, attorney for the Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, will be one of the witnesses at the hearing, Mr. Hudspeth said.

MEN SURPASS WOMEN

Waco, Texas.—For the first time in years the men in Baylor University have out-ranked the women in scholarship for the fall term of 1928, according to statistics issued from office of Dean W. S. Allen of the university. Of the 227 students making the honor rank of B plus or above in all courses, there were 116 men and 111 women.

Scholarship for the past quarter was higher than for the corresponding term last year; last year there was a percentage of 13.27 of the students making the honor grade, and this year the percentage was 14.7, which is a rise of nearly 1.5.

DISTEMPER OF DOGS CONQUERED

Of vast interest to dog lovers throughout the world is the announcement of "The Field," the great English "country" newspaper, that the work of its distemper research committee has reached the stage where it is possible to say that means have been evolved for absolute prevention of this disease of dogs. Some five years ago, The Field endowed a research establishment, which set to work at once. Distinguished scientists of all classes were called in, and in co-operation with practical veterinarians they developed a vaccine which it is now reported works complete immunization of the animals.

Distemper has been the terror of dog owners, who have endured the agony of helplessness when a beloved pet was stricken. The enterprise of the English paper will furnish cause for worldwide gratitude when the vaccine comes into general distribution. Special measures adopted by the paper assure that within a short time the information gained by the distemper research committee and supplies of the vaccine will be available everywhere.

It is estimated that there are about 20,000,000 chickens on the farms of Texas.

The spirit with which we serve our customers is quite as important as the service itself.

If hens on your farm are not producing profits, the stock is likely at fault. Sell the poor layers, and replace them with good stock.

SIBERIAN COUPLE MARRIED 89 YEARS

Belgrade, Jan. 1.—Demetrius Filienovic and his wife, Zivana, have more than two centuries between them. They are believed to be the oldest living married couple in the world. They were already married and living in the little Serbian village as far back as 1839. Demetrius was then over 21 and his wife a few years younger.

They have lived together for 89 years and have a large number of grandchildren and great grand ones. Both are in fine health and can use all of their faculties. Demetrius owes much for it to his temperance. He has never smoked or taken spirits. From time to time he drinks a good glass of wine, but the last one was over 30 years ago.

PUBLIC SCHOOL CREED

"I believe in the school system of the United States of America as an institution of the people, by the people, for the people; conceived by the founders of this Republic; nurtured for nearly three centuries by our fathers; sustained today by the consent and support of all our citizens. I believe in free universal education, equal opportunities for all our children, which guarantees our democracy within a Republic established upon the principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity. I therefore believe it by duty to the school to love it, to support it morally and materially, to send my child to it, to help my neighbor's child to have the same opportunity, and to defend the schools against all enemies."

THE CAT CAME BACK

F. P. Stevens of Coleman has a home loving cat. Recently he carried the cat to a point more than fifty miles from his home and turned the animal out. Within a period of fourteen days the cat returned home, none the worse for the wear.

17,000 GIRLS ARE SOLD IN CHINA

Pekin, Jan. 4.—The Rev. F. J. Griffith of the Church of England mission at Tatungfu in the Province of Shansi, has reported to the International Famine Relief that more than 17,000 women and girls of the new Province of Suiyan have been sold because of famine destitution.

"Many villages have been stripped of women and girls who were sold into slavery," he reported. "More than 17,000 have passed through the Yenmen Pass, the main highway into inner Shansi, and were sold for approximately $100,000 gold."

Brigands were active, he said, adding to the destitution by capturing a caravan of a thousand camels loaded with rice for the famine-stricken people.

COMPARING TWO RACES

A negro woman asked the lady for whom she cooked to explain to her the meaning of companionate marriages. The lady explained to her Judge Lindsay's new theory, telling her that it meant that the husband or wife could dissolve the marriage relation at any time without going to the trouble of getting a divorce in the prescribed way, and at once could enter into the marriage relation with another. The old negro woman comprehended fully the meaning of the new marriage, and exclaimed: "Fore de Lord, white folks are gettin' more like niggers ever' day!"

THEY ALL FALL

A maiden passed with silken hose, Well suited for display; A spinster puckered up her nose, And turned her head away. The maiden went her way content, The men all stopped to stare; The spinster saw, and then she went And bought herself a pair.

MEXICAN MASONIC BODY CANCELS CHARTERS

The Grand Lodge of the State of Coahuila, Mexico, has cancelled certain charters which it had issued to various lodges in the states of Texas, Arizona and California, and it is considered that this action, of abandoning the territory which it had invaded will result beneficially in the relations between the Grand Lodges of Mexico and those of the United States.

PEANUTS IN TEXAS

The war-time demand for vegetable oils brought the peanut crop into prominence; prior to this time and demand the peanut crop was not important in Texas. In 1928 a crop of 7,117,000 bushels was reported, which far exceeded any crop grown prior to that year. After 1928 the crop fell off heavily, and now 2,000,000 bushels is about an average crop. The principal demand at present is for shelled peanuts, which are used in the production of peanut butter, confections and for roasting. The culture of peanuts is adapted to the sandy soils of the State and fits well into a crop rotation.

VOCAL DETOUR OF NEGRO INEFFECTIVE

Silver Springs, Md., Jan. 1.—Just as he started to deliver a eulogy at the grave of a negro youth here, Rev. F. A. Virgil noticed a white man among the mourners, wearing a star.

Fervently the negro preacher eulogized and prayed. He talked for four hours and 12 minutes without a break. One by one the mourners left, leaving the preacher and the white man alone.

"Mistah, you win," said the preacher finally, and gave himself up to the constable on a charge of passing a phoney check. Thereupon he was led away.

On March 2, 1836 the Texans in convention at Washington declared an independent republic and David G. Burnett was named president.

Louisiana Farm Raises Rats, Frogs and Goats

Rats—bullfrogs—billygoats! That's what is being raised on a 160,000-acre farm in Cameron Parish, La. I started to add alligators to the list, because of the big revenues derived from alligator hides, but the alligators raise themselves in spite of the war of extermination waged against them. Yes, rats, bullfrogs and billygoats are the main crops on the holdings of the Orange-Cameron Land Company, in Cameron Parish, La., owned by H. J. Luther Stark, of Orange, Texas. Plans are under way to harvest $75,000 worth of muskrat hides this winter, while the goat and frog crops, you might say, are just being planted, especially the frogs.

George Raborn is general manager of the Orange-Cameron Land Company and he's a great lover of the big swamps, as well as a believer in the financial possibilities of them. It is Alvey Griffith, champion alligator hunter, however, who has the job of herding the billygoats and bullfrogs. Most of the land held by the Orange-Cameron Land Company is swamp covered with swamp grass, saw grass, bull rush and other plants which grow in marshes and swamps. But in this grass are hundreds, thousands, of muskrat houses whose fur is valued highly, in fact so highly that Mr. Stark has built sixty-two miles of canals through the swamp lands so that the rats may be "farmed." But in the heart of that swamp is an island containing 100 acres that is said to be the richest land in the parish, and it is on this island that the goats are being raised. In the spring twelve were taken down as an experiment, and they did so well that twelve more were transported by means of boats from the inland to the island.

As for frogs, restaurants in Southeast Texas and Southwest Louisiana report that frog legs are about as popular as fried chicken, but where there are hundreds of persons devoted to the poultry business, there isn't anyone raising frogs for a living. Now along the canals dug by the Orange-Cameron Land Company are dumps for the frogs to hop on if they want to get on land, while in the water and marshes and in the canals are insects and everything that a frog would like to feast on. Thus the frog ranch. "I'll plant about 100 dozen frogs this year," explains Griffith, just as a cotton farmer would explain that he meant to plant a hundred acres of cotton. "If they do as well as indications say they will, we'll plant lots more next season." The first twelve dozen taken down in the early summer have done well.

The frogs may be raised along with the rats, since muskrat rats do not eat flesh but feed entirely on the tender roots and stems of swamp plants. But the alligators must fill their stomachs so full and put on enough fat through the summer to tide them over the winter while they are hibernating. Therefore they are not so particular what is on their menu. In fact, some of them ripped open have been found to contain as high as three or four rats with valuable hides. They will also eat frogs, with the result that Mr. Alligator must be exterminated.

But alligator hides are also valuable for making purses, suitcases, and handbags, the price ranging from 40c for those two feet long up to $3.25 for those seven feet long or over. During 1925, five thousand were killed, during 1927, three thousand, while this summer's crop promises to be almost as great.

Most alligators are killed during dry seasons, when the marshes are not entirely covered with water. The hunters can then concentrate on the gator holes. While the entire country is under water, they must be hunted at night by means of a spot light.

Alligators, however, are like timber on fine agricultural land. The timber must be removed in order to cultivate the land, though in removing the timber a revenue is derived from the wood. Now in order to successfully produce muskrat and bullfrogs, it is necessary to remove the alligators, but in killing the alligators, a profit is realized from their hides.

Yes, rats, — bullfrogs — billygoats. That's what the Orange-Cameron Land Company is growing on its 160,000 acres of swamps in Cameron Parish, La. —Clarksville Times.

PAYS TO LIGHT HENS OREGON STUDY SHOWS

A two-year experiment with 860 hens clearly demonstrates the value of electric light to increase egg production and profits, according to a report issued by the Oregon State Agricultural College. Some of the conclusions reached are as follows:

"Returns from lighted flocks were very considerably increased over those from unlighted flocks in all cases during the lighted period.

"The cost of electricity was always small in comparison with the increased returns for winter eggs. Less than 2-5 of an egg per hen per month paid the electricity cost.

"Based upon results obtained, a flock of 400 average pullets would yield an excess profit (in eleven months) of $81.07 over the cost of lighting. This sum would pay 8 per cent interest on a $1,000 investment in electric lines of a lighting plant.

"Best results from the use of lights call for the grading and housing of fowl according to age, development and condition.

"Regularity in lighting is essential to success.

"Twelve to thirteen hours of light per day are recommended for pullets and breeding stock, and thirteen to fourteen hours for old hens or poor stock which is to be forced and then disposed of."

DON'T HAVE TO DRINK TO GET DRUNK

New York, Jan. 4.—You don't have to drink it these days to get drunk. Take for example the case of Mrs. Tessie Zeren-sky, 59 of Brooklyn. She was picked up inebriated on the sidewalk in Wall Street early Friday morning.

"I never drank, your honor," she told Magistrate Simpson later. "Never took a drink in all my life. But I had a bad cold and my doctor prescribed alcohol rubs. The more I rubbed my chest, the dizzier I got and when I finally went out on the street, I could not stand up."

MAN FIRES AT PLANE FLYING LOW OVER FARM

Brownwood.—Firing with a shot gun at an airplane which flew low over his property, a Brownwood farmer left his mark on the wings, fuselage and tail of a craft piloted by E. M. Unruth.

"The farmer feared his cattle and poultry would be scared by the plane and took pot shots as the pilot would soar low each day for a landing on the field a short distance away.

Unruth said he did not know he was being shot at until yesterday, when he glanced down and saw a man aiming at him. The pilot declared if his controls had been damaged, he probably would have crashed with two passengers.

FARM RADIO PROGRAM. WEEK OF JAN. 14 TO 18

Two regularly scheduled reports bearing on the business conditions of farming in every section, and discussions of both economic and production problems of wheat growers and sheep raisers, as well as talks on two side-lines of farming now arousing much interest will come to listeners in the Middle West and South in the course of the current week's program of the United States Department of Agriculture's noon-hour broadcast through 15 stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company.

W. F. Callender, chairman of the Federal crop reporting board, will deliver a summary of the potato stocks report, and Dr. O. C. Stine, in charge of statistical research, will review the monthly Price Situation report. F. G. Ashbrook, in charge of the division of fur resources in the Bureau of Biological Survey will tell what facts recent research of the department has developed as to fur farming as a sideline. Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, will outline progress which has been made and prospects for the future in finding industrial uses for farm products.

The complete program for the week follows:
Monday, Jan. 14—Summary of the potato stocks report, W. F. Callender; and "Some Lessons from the 1928 Potato Crop," J. B. Shepard, statistician for Federal crop reporting board.

Tuesday, Jan. 15—Summary of the Price Situation report, Dr. O. C. Stine; and "Fur Farming as a Sideline," F. G. Ashbrook.

Wednesday, Jan. 16—"The World Wheat Situation in January," Dr. O. C. Stine; and "Wheat Rusts and Their Control," Dr. Harry B. Humphrey, in charge of cereal rust investigations.

Thursday, Jan. 17—"How Does the Lamb Market Look?" H. M. Conway, livestock marketing investigator; and "Preparations for Spring Lambing," D. A. Spencer, in charge of sheep investigations.

Friday, Jan. 18—"Industrial Uses for Farm Products," Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief, Bureau of Chemistry and Soils.

These programs are broadcast at the period 1:15 to 1:30, Eastern Standard Time, or 12:15 to 12:30, Central Standard Time; or 11:15 to 11:30 Mountain Standard Time by the following stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company:

As for frogs, restaurants in Southeast Texas and Southwest Louisiana report that frog legs are about as popular as fried chicken, but where there are hundreds of persons devoted to the poultry business, there isn't anyone raising frogs for a living. Now along the canals dug by the Orange-Cameron Land Company are dumps for the frogs to hop on if they want to get on land, while in the water and marshes and in the canals are insects and everything that a frog would like to feast on. Thus the frog ranch. "I'll plant about 100 dozen frogs this year," explains Griffith, just as a cotton farmer would explain that he meant to plant a hundred acres of cotton. "If they do as well as indications say they will, we'll plant lots more next season." The first twelve dozen taken down in the early summer have done well.

The frogs may be raised along with the rats, since muskrat rats do not eat frog but feed entirely on the tender roots and stems of swamp plants. But the alligators must fill their stomachs so full and put on enough fat through the summer to tide them over the winter while they are hibernating. Therefore they are not so particular what is on their menu. In fact, some of them ripped open have been found to contain as high as three or four rats with valuable hides. They will also eat frogs, with the result that Mr. Alligator must be exterminated.

But alligator hides are also valuable for making purses, suitcases, and handbags, the price ranging from 40c for those two feet long up to $3.25 for those seven feet long or over. During 1925, five thousand were killed, during 1927, three thousand, while this summer's crop promises to be almost as great. Most alligators are killed during dry seasons, when the marshes are not entirely covered with water. The hunters can then concentrate on the "gator holes. While the entire country is under water, they must be hunted at night by means of a spot light.

Alligators, however, are like timber on fine agricultural land. The timber must be removed in order to cultivate the land, though in removing the timber a revenue is derived from the wood. Now in order to successfully produce muskrat rats and bullfrogs, it is necessary to remove the alligators, but in killing the alligators, a profit is realized from their hides.

Yes, rats—bullfrogs—billygoats. That's what the Orange-Cameron Land Company is growing on its 160,000 acres of swamps in Cameron Parish, La.—Clarksville Times.

PAYS TO LIGHT HENS OREGON STUDY SHOWS

A two-year experiment with 860 hens clearly demonstrates the value of electric light to increase egg production and profits, according to a report issued by the Oregon State Agricultural College. Some of the conclusions reached are as follows:

"Returns from lighted flocks were very considerably increased over those from unlighted flocks in all cases during the lighted period.

"The cost of electricity was always small in comparison with the increased returns for winter eggs. Less than 2-5 of an egg per hen per month paid the electricity cost.

"Based upon results obtained, a flock of 400 average pullets would yield an excess profit (in eleven months) of $31.07 over the cost of lighting. This sum would pay 8 per cent interest on a $1,000 investment in electric lines of a lighting plant.

"Best results from the use of lights call for the grading and housing of fowl according to age, development and condition.

"Regularity in lighting is essential to success.

"Twelve to thirteen hours of light per day are recommended for pullets and breeding stock, and thirteen to fourteen hours for old hens or poor stock which is to be forced and then disposed of."

DON'T HAVE TO DRINK TO GET DRUNK

New York, Jan. 4.—You don't have to drink it these days to get drunk. Take for example the case of Mrs. Tessie Zeren-sky, 59 of Brooklyn. She was picked up inebriated on the sidewalk in Wall Street early Friday morning.

"I never drank, your honor," she told Magistrate Simpson later. "Never took a drink in all my life. But I had a bad cold and my doctor prescribed alcohol rubs. The more I rubbed my chest, the dizzier I got and when I finally went out on the street, I could not stand up."

San Antonio was founded in 1718 by the construction of the Mission Alamo.

MAN FIRES AT PLANE FLYING LOW OVER FARM

Brownwood.—Firing with a shot gun at an airplane which flew low over his property, a Brownwood farmer left his mark on the wings, fuselage and tail of a craft piloted by E. M. Unrush.

"The farmer feared his cattle and poultry would be scared by the plane and took pot shots as the pilot would soar low each day for a landing on the field a short distance away.

Unrush said he did not know he was being shot at until yesterday, when he glanced back and saw a man aiming at him. The pilot declared if his controls had been damaged, he probably would have crashed with two passengers.

FARM RADIO PROGRAM. WEEK OF JAN. 14 TO 18

Two regularly scheduled reports bearing on the business conditions of farming in every section, and discussions of both economic and production problems of wheat growers and sheep raisers, as well as talks on two side-lines of farming now arousing much interest will come to listeners in the Middle West and South in the course of the current week's program of the United States Department of Agriculture's noon-hour broadcast through 15 stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company.

W. F. Callender, chairman of the Federal crop reporting board, will deliver a summary of the potato stocks report, and Dr. O. C. Stine, in charge of statistical research, will review the monthly Price Situation report. F. G. Ashbrook, in charge of the division of fur resources in the Bureau of Biological Survey will tell what facts recent research of the department has developed as to fur farming as a sideline. Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, will outline progress which has been made and prospects for the future in finding industrial uses for farm products.

The complete program for the week follows:
Monday, Jan. 14—Summary of the potato stocks report, W. F. Callender; and "Some Lessons from the 1928 Potato Crop," J. B. Shepard, statistician for Federal crop reporting board.

Tuesday, Jan. 15—Summary of the Price Situation report, Dr. O. C. Stine; and "Fur Farming as a Sideline," F. G. Ashbrook.

Wednesday, Jan. 16—"The World Wheat Situation in January," Dr. O. C. Stine; and "Wheat Rusts and Their Control," Dr. Harry B. Humphrey, in charge of cereal rust investigations.

Thursday, Jan. 17—"How Does the Lamb Market Look?" H. M. Conway, livestock marketing investigator; and "Preparations for Spring Lambing," D. A. Spencer, in charge of sheep investigations.

Friday, Jan. 18—"Industrial Uses for Farm Products," Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief, Bureau of Chemistry and Soils.

These programs are broadcast at the period 1:15 to 1:30, Eastern Standard Time, or 12:15 to 12:30, Central Standard Time; or 11:15 to 11:30 Mountain Standard Time by the following stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company:

WRC, Washington; KFKX, Chicago; KDKA, Pittsburgh; KSTP, St. Paul-Minneapolis; WOW, Omaha; KOA, Denver; WDAF, Kansas City; KWK, St. Louis; KVOI, Tulsa; WFAA, Dallas; WQAI, San Antonio; WSB, Atlanta; WMC, Memphis; WSM, Nashville; and WLW, Cincinnati.

SAN ANTONIO INVITES JUNCTION GOLF MEN TO BIG TOURNAMENT

Mr. William Ochse, Chairman of the Trade Extension Department of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Texas Open Golf Tournament which is held in San Antonio every January, has made arrangements with the co-members in charge of the Texas Open, and has secured permission to invite the Merchants and Business men of the great Southwest to San Antonio three days in advance of the Texas Open to participate in a pre-tournament golf play. The winners to be paired with pro's in the Texas Open and to participate in the Amateur prizes given at the Texas Open.

The Texas Open Golf Tournament will be held in San Antonio, Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Brackenridge Park for a purse of $6,000.00 ranging in prizes from $1,500 to $50.

The Trade Extension Department of the Chamber of Commerce is authorized to invite the business men of this city and territory to participate in the Pre-Tournament Golf Play which will be held in San Antonio, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 22nd and 23rd. Participants will have to notify the Trade Extension Department of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce of their desire to enter the Pre-Tournament by letter, wire or phone call not later than Monday, January 21.

The Southwest Texas Merchants and Business men will play an elimination contest in Threesomes on the Willow Springs Course where the 1927 Texas Open was held. The fifteen low scores of the pre-tournament play, amateurs only, will participate for fifteen prizes and in addition the winners of the tournament will be privileged to play in the Texas Open and will be first to be matched with the amateurs and pro's in the Texas Open, which will be held in San Antonio, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 24, 25 and 26.

Junction High School Boys Study Goats

The Vocational Agriculture class of the Junction High School has done a fine work this year under the direction of Mr. A. J. Bierschwale, principal of the high school and director of the vocational agriculture class. Each member of the class is required to pursue some project during the year. Below we are giving a report of the boys who have goats as their projects:

For my project in Vocational Agriculture this year I have ten young Angora does. I am pasturing them with a few of my father's goats in his pasture, paying him at the rate of 98 cents per head. I am doing this to see if it would pay a person to pay pasturage on a flock of goats if he didn't have a pasture.

Up to the present time I haven't fed my goats anything, but through the hardest months I expect to feed them and keep an accurate record of all the expenses and all the time that I put in.

I expect to put in 270 hours of supervised practice work which is required by the State Department of Agriculture.

By next year I intend to have my flock increased in number at least 85%.

Leonard Dunbar.

I have two registered billy kinds for my project in Vocational Agriculture.

They were raised by James Prentice. The sire of one is a South African and the other is sired by Pepper's goat purchased by Mr. Prentice at the Kerrville Fair.

I started out feeding them a handful of oats a day and have increased it to a quart a day and run them on small grain.

Vernon Kirkpatrick.

I have two registered billy kids for my project this year in Agriculture. I bought them from Mr. Prentice. I am keeping an accurate record on the cost of the feed. I have figured it has cost me $14.80 since September 23, 1928. Next spring I am going to take them to the ranch and turn them out till breeding season and then breed them to some good does. I am also going to see how much they shear each time.

Gerald Ragland.

My project for this year in Vocational Agriculture is twenty-five head of Angora goats. I bought these goats when they were kids and raised them with milk and bran. I am intending to build my goats up to a big flock.

I am keeping an accurate record of the goats, including the expenses, the money I get out of them and the time I am working with them.

I am not feeding my goats for the present. I expect to feed them pretty soon. I have sheared them once and they sheared twenty-seven dollars and eighty cents worth of mohair. I have been out four dollars and fifty cents on the goats. I am expecting to put in two hundred and seventy hours work on them this year.

I am expecting to increase my flock seventy-five per cent in number this year.

Wilbur Jeter.

For my project in Agriculture this year I have taken two registered Angora bucks which I got from Mr. Jack Turner September 25, 1928. Since that time I have been feeding them and keeping an accurate record on them. At first I fed them only about a handful of oats each and gradually increased this amount until now I feed them about 1½ pints twice a day. During the past month I have been mixing a little corn with the oats which I find has helped my goats. I always keep alfalfa hay before them all of the time.

Up to date I have done about 72 hours of supervised practice work and have spent about $14.00 for feed and salt.

When the Kimble County Fair is held I intend to take my goats and enter the contest for the blue ribbon.

I intend to sell them next fall, and hope to get about $200 for them.

Carleton Wright.

TEXAN WOULD CHANGE CONSTITUTION TO GET CHRIST IN PREAMBLE

Washington, Jan. 7.—An amendment to the Federal Constitution to include Jesus Christ in the preamble is favored in a petition sent to Senator Sheppard by Representative J. H. Tate of the Presbyterian Church at Fluvanna, Texas, and which was presented to the Senate.

Senator Sheppard at one time introduced a resolution submitting the question to the State. He said that the deity was mentioned in the Declaration of Independence and in most of the State Constitutions.

Deaths from cancer in the United States rose from fourth place in 1926 to second in 1927, yielding first place only to mortality occasioned by diseases of the heart. There were 103,578 deaths last year as compared to 99,833 in the preceding twelve months.

On March 6, four days after the Texas declaration of independence, the Alamo at San Antonio fell and the new born republic lost such able leaders as Travis, Bowie and Cracker.

WEATHER REPORT

Sunday morning, January 6, was one of the coldest mornings of the winter. The thermometer was reported as low as 15 degrees. Hydrants were frozen and some trouble was experienced getting water. By Monday the thermometer had risen and it has not been very cold during the week. About one-third inch rain fell Tuesday night. It is cloudy this (Thursday) morning. A good rain is needed at this time.

Simplicity of cooling system is a feature of the new Ford

A COMPLETE water plant is a part of every automobile as it is a part of every modern city.

The purpose of this water plant is to keep the engine cooled to a temperature that will make it efficient in operation. If it were not for this, the cylinder walls would become overheated and the pistons refuse to operate.

The cooling system of the new Ford is particularly interesting because it is so simple and reliable.

When the radiator is full of water, the engine of the new Ford will not overheat under the hardest driving. Yet the water is so regulated that it will not impair engine operation by running too cold in winter.

The cooling surface of the Ford radiator is large, with four rows of tubes set in staggered position so that each receives the full benefit of the incoming air. The fan is of the airplane propeller type and draws air through the radiator at the rapid rate of 850 cubic feet per minute at 1000 revolutions per minute of the motor.

The hot water around the cylinder head is drawn to the radiator to be cooled by a centrifugal water pump of new design.

The entire cooling system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little attention.

The radiator should be kept full, of course, and drained once each month so that sediment will not collect and retard the free passage of water. In cold weather, a reliable anti-freeze solution should be added.

As owner and manager of this important water plant you should also see that the water pump and fan shaft are properly lubricated and the packing around the pump shaft kept in adjustment.

Hose connections may also need replacement after long service. For these little adjustments, it pays to call on the Ford dealer.

He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to do a thorough, competent job at a fair price.

Your Town

(by Ben H. Moore)

If you want to be found in a first class town—
A town that is up and doing,
You needn't set out to looking about,
The map of the state reviewing,
You're sure of land the same old brand
As the town where you felt so blue!
To knock on the place is not a disgrace
To a living soul—but you!

In the best old town the world around,
The bad stands along with the good;
And back of the rest and all of the rest
Some kind of a citizen stood.
If you want to improve, don't get up and move!
Better tackle the job at hand!
Just buckle right in with a firm-set chin,
And you town will be like you've planned!

J. A. Ward, Prominent Stockman, Dies Here

Mr. J. A. Ward, one of America's best known raisers, judges and exhibitors of goats, died Saturday night at a local hospital after an operation which was performed on December 31. Mr. Ward was about 60 years of age.

Mr. Ward gained international recognition when he shipped registered Angoras to South Africa in exchange for fine animals from that country. He was a prize winner almost annually and often a judge at the State Fair at Dallas and other expositions throughout the State. Mr. Ward owned ranches in three counties.

Mr. Ward was president of the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association which will hold its annual meeting in Junction on January 15.

The body was taken to San Angelo, Texas, where burial rites were performed last Monday.

Surviving are his wife, four sons, John, Stayton, Roy and Rip Ward, and three daughters, Lois, who is married; Edna and Blanche Ward.

TEX RICKARD DIES

Last Sunday death claimed George L. (Tex) Rickard, 59, New York Sports Promoter. He died in a hospital at Miami Beach, Florida, after complications set in after an operation for appendicitis which was performed New Year's night.

Rickard in his earlier years lived in northern Texas. He lived in Henrietta and Archer County for a while.

CURRENT NEWS

A mantle of snow from one-half to three inches covered North Panhandle counties Monday and rain fell in scattered sections.

Twelve hundred and fifty bushels of Acala State certified cotton seed were shipped from Navasota on the last day of 1928 to Shanghai, China, for planting.

Three children were burned to death and another seriously injured near Crowley, La., Tuesday when a cap pistol ignited gasoline in a garage where they were playing.

One of the biggest improvements in store for Kerrville is an airplane landing field which will be ready for use early in 1929. The land already has been acquired, 118 acres, and fund of $5,000 provided for improvements. Both the land and the improvement fund were gifts to the city from L. A. Schreiner, Kerrville banker, and their presentation was formally announced at a chamber of commerce meeting recently.

Certificate of election was issued last Friday by Gov. Dan Moody to Judge McCloskey, Democrat, of San Antonio, as Congressman from the Fourteenth District, the returns as officially certified to the State canvassing board showing that he defeated Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, Texas' only Republican member of Congress, by a majority of 627. The official returns filed with the Secretary of State show that McCloskey received 27,817 votes and Wurzbach 27,190.

41ST LEGISLATURE

With the election of W. S. Barron of Bryan as speaker of the House and Walter C. Woodward of Coleman as president pro-tem of the Senate, the 41st Legislature is ready for work. Governor Moody has delivered his annual message, the various committees have been appointed and the bills are pouring into the hopper. Very little has been done, but it is evident, as in years past, that every movement for legislation will have formidable opposition.

Be just to yourself first; then be just to others.

Read what these leading automobile editors said after seeing and riding in the new Chevrolet Six—

"One of the greatest automobiles I have ever seen. In performance, construction and beauty it is phenomenal. Never saw so much car for the money."
—NORTH BIGGEE
Dallas News

"In appearance, performance and mechanical nicety the new Chevrolet Six presents actual values far beyond its price range."
—HAZEN CONKLIN
New York World

"The new Chevrolet is a triumph for volume production. The car at its price is one of the greatest achievements ever recorded in the automobile industry. Its beauty is a treat; its riding comfort a new delight and its performance a real sensation."
—RAY PRIEST
Detroit Times

"Aside from beauty in body lines and attractiveness in finish, the outstanding feature of the new Chevrolet Six is its powerful and flexible motor. One will have to go far to equal the high performance of this new Chevrolet in general road and traffic use."
—LEON J. PINKSON
San Francisco Chronicle

"In speed and acceleration, the new Chevrolet will more than satisfy the average person. In design, Fisher offers costly car appearance. In short, the new car is by far Chevrolet's outstanding achievement."
—EDWARD M. MILLER

Junction Trade Notes

J. N. Hodges, veteran merchant of Junction, has been confined to his home with influenza and complications since the first of the New Year. His condition showed some improvement Wednesday.

Loeffler Motor Co. starts off the New Year by making extensive interior and exterior improvements at the Ford's place of business.

You can start the day off with a kick by using Lipton's Coffee. Sold by Gann Grocery Company.

Sheriff Frank Patterson, who assumed the sheriff's office January 1st, has since been unable to be around the courthouse on account of influenza. He was reported as convalescent Wednesday, and would likely be at the office Thursday if the weather is favorable.

One of H. H. Farmer's recent resolutions was to lay off chewing tobacco for awhile. At last account he was getting by, and would probably succeed if the chewing gum holds out.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Brown and John Fritz, of London community, marketed superior farm butter and yard eggs through Gann Grocery Company.

Actual work of surfacing Junction's main street appears now to be under way, with the surfacing machine at work on the east end.

A bill to require permits for truck haulers of cattle, sheep and goats, as a means of curbing thefts of such stock by use of trucks, will be introduced in the current Legislature by Representatives James Finlay of McCulloch County.

Junction and Kimble County feel honored in that the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association chose the attractive city of the Llanos for its annual meeting—Tuesday, January 15, 1929. The producers who constitute the goat breeders' association are important factors in the economic life of the United States. It is they who provide the rich and poor with much of their clothing, and supply the upholstery for the millions of automobiles in which they ride to and from their work; it is they who provide the country with its Leg o' Lamb, and chevon, which was the favorite flesh of the Patriots of early Scriptural times. And, members of the association may be interested in knowing that probably 80% of the mohair of the United States is produced within a radius of 150 miles of Junction, and that city is one of the greatest inland wool markets of the world.

Kimble County Angora Goats Prize Winners

At a fair held in Gillespie County in September, the Angora Goats of Mr. William Fairchilds of Kimble County won three first prizes and a second prize on flock exhibition. His yearling billy, yearling nannie and billy kid were first.

The livestock exhibits at this fair were among the best ever exhibited in West Texas and these prizes which were won by Kimble County products are indicative of the class of Angora goats which are being raised in Kimble County.

Mr. Fairchilds has for many years been improving his herd of fine goats and the award of these prizes is an evidence that he has been successful in his attempts.

Such enthusiastic workers with Angora goats as this man is, practically explains why the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association picked Junction as their meeting place for 1929.

The growing speculations as to possible appointments by President-Elect Hoover to the Cabinet and other offices caused Chairman Work of the Republican national committee to issue a formal statement Tuesday night in which he declared that Mr. Hoover had named no one to advise him on nominations.

MR. AND MRS. A. L. MUDGE HOSTS NEW YEAR'S EVE

On New Year's Eve Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mudge were hosts at a bridge supper, honoring their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Molesworth, of Sierra Blanca and Mrs. John Molesworth and Miss Charlotte Molesworth of San Antonio.

Christmas greens and poinsettias provided a holiday atmosphere for the occasion. Baked turkey, cranberries, a variety of vegetables, plum pudding, hard sauce and coffee were served after which a series of bridge games were enjoyed.

Mrs. Guy Wynne received a vanity set for ladies' high score and Mr. Clay Maddux made men's high score, his reward being a deck of cards. Mr. W. P. Riley was presented with a box of fancy card soap for consolation.

At midnight the doors were opened and the year 1929 was ushered in amid "Happy New Year" greetings. "Auld Lang Syne" was sung in memory of the old year. Coffee and fruit cake were served at the close of the evening to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Molesworth of Sierra Blanca, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rieck, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Holkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Secrest, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Maddux, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Riley, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Skaggs of San Antonio, Mrs. John Molesworth and Miss Charlotte Molesworth of San Antonio, Misses Tottle Martin, Eloise Hardeman, Fred Mudge and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mudge.

HEART O' THE HILLS S. S. CLASS MEETING
A most profitable and entertaining evening was spent last Thursday in the Sunday School room of the Methodist church, when the members of the Heart o' the Hills Bible Class held its monthly meeting.

On that occasion dull care was thrown aside and staid business men indulged with much enthusiasm in a series of hilarious games.

Following the games a business session was held with Mr. Ovie Buster, class president, presiding. At the close of the evening sandwiches, tea and coffee were served to Messrs. E. R. Borden, A. B. Hodges, Albert Bierschwald, Ovie Buster, F. L. Randolph, Ramsey Randolph, Forrest Weldon, J. B. Stevenson, E. O. Lowgren, Walter Tinsley, Roy King, Ben Neal, I. W. Myers, W. M. Taylor, Jack Dalton and the teacher of the class, Rev. Milton F. Hill.

MRS. HUBERT HOSTESS TO MERRY WIVES CLUB

Friday afternoon Mrs. H. G. Hubert was hostess to the Merry Wives Club, the Ladies Afternoon Card Club and a number of friends. Bridge provided entertainment for the afternoon. Mrs. L. E. Standifer won the Merry Wives club prize, a pretty vase. The guest prize went to Mrs. Chas. Henderson. A rose colored sugar and creamer was presented to Mrs. Conrad Holkamp who made high score in the Ladies Afternoon Card Club.

Chicken salad on lettuce, wafers, tea and mints were served to about thirty guests.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MOTHER BY MRS. BORDEN

Mrs. E. R. Borden complimented her mother, Mrs. Slaughter, of Denton with a surprise party Friday afternoon, that day being Mrs. Slaughter's birthday.

Social conversation was enjoyed until late in the afternoon when the pretty birthday cake, adorned with lighted pink tapers, was cut and served with hot tea.

Those present were Mesdames Slaughter of Denton, Chris Schraub, S. B. Kindrick, Joe Ramsey, Earl Bowers, Margaret Dutton, Ada Dockery, Misses Mary Willis and Schneider.

School Notes

There was weeping and wailing when school did not begin.

The community has been badly burned out and the new ones did not arrive in time to be fixed before Wednesday. On Monday morning, January 7, most of the students were in their places ready for work.

We are sorry to report that about one-fourth of the high school pupils are absent on account of the flu epidemic. We hope they will soon recover from their illness and be able to attend school again.

Mrs. David Dutton, formerly Miss Margaret Sutton, is still the same jolly teacher she was before she married on New Year's day. We are glad married life has made no change in her disposition.

There are several new pupils in the grades but we have not learned their names.

The transoms over the doors of the grade rooms were fixed during the holidays. They will be a great help in properly ventilating the rooms.

Mid-term examinations will be given in a few days.

Lela McDonald is wearing a diamond on her left hand. She said she did not get it for Christmas. Of course we are too modest to ask her where she got it, but we are wondering.

School took up at twelve-thirty Tuesday and was dismissed at three-thirty on account of the rainy weather.

Emily Belle McCollum and Hurtha Lee McBride, girls out of the third grade, have withdrawn from school. Norma Taylor has withdrawn from the sixth grade and has gone to Brady to school. We are sorry to lose these pupils.

Mr. Cowles advises those who have colds and coughs to stay at home until they are over them. He is trying to protect the well pupils so there will be no more sickness.

The Seniors are all thrilled over the fact that the class rings have been shipped and will arrive in a few days.

MENARD TO SPEND $50,000 FOR CITY STREET PAVING

Menard is planning upon donning new attire for the year 1929.

A bond issue of $50,000 recently was voted for the paving of city streets and work will begin shortly. The election carried seven to one for the improvements.

The bonds will care for the paving from the office of the West Texas Utilities Company and plant to the Sunset Service Station on Main St., and one block south on four intersecting streets to the irrigation ditch.

PLANE SETS RECORD

The "Question Mark," an army plane, established a new mark for all air craft, and broke all previous records for sustained flights. The plane made a perfect landing Monday afternoon after it had remained in the air for 150 hours and 40 minutes. The ship remained in the air continuously for six nights and nearly seven days.

Five men were in the plane and the craft took on fuel and materials in the air from a fueling plane especially designed for such transfers.

The burning in winter of trash or weed growth on terraces and ditch banks and along fence rows will destroy many cotton boll weevils, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The boll weevils pass the winter in the adult stage only. In the fall they fly from the cotton fields into hedges, woods, cornfields, haystacks and sometimes even into farm buildings, and find shelter in any protected place available.

Believe me when I tell you that thrift of time will repay you in after-life; with a usury of profit beyond your most sanguine dreams; and that waste of it will make you dwindle alike in intellectual and moral stature, beyond your darkest reckoning.—W. E. Gladstone.

No man lives without jostling and being jostled; in all ways he has to elbow himself through the world, giving and receiving offense.—Carlyle.

COLLECTION OF TAXES

Inquiries have been received in the State Department as to whether or not a county tax collector who is authorized to collect the taxes of an independent school district can accept the state and county taxes without requiring the taxes paid for independent school district. An opinion of the attorney general is on file in the State Superintendent's office dated April 24, 1913, to the effect that the tax collector is not authorized to receive the state and county taxes without at the same time requiring the payment of the taxes for the independent school district. This opinion is found in the volume of attorney general's opinions 1912-1914, page 648.

FIRST STUDENT TO WORK THROUGH A. & M. DIES

College Station, Jan. 8.—H. Ness, 68, botanist at Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, said to have been the first student to work his way through the college, and a resident of the campus for 48 years, died at his home recently.

Mr. Ness came to this country, from Norway where he was born, when he was a youth.

His job at College Station while he was attending the school paid him 1 cent an hour and he worked five hours a day at it in addition to attending the college.

He spoke five languages and could read seven. His home on the campus boasts one of the most valuable collection of botanical works in the country.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Cornelius, one sister and one brother.

Absolute freedom of the will is essential for accomplishment.
