Appointment Of Demo As Final Director Puts U. S. Credit Aid Body Ready To Work

Their Job Is Harnessing American Credit's Golden Flow

Here are the seven men who, with Wilson McCarty, Salt Lake City Democrat appointed Friday by President Hoover, compose the board of the Reconstruction Finance corporation which is to direct the golden flow of credit—$500,000,000 from the treasury, $1,500,000,000 from investors—so as to revitalize the nation's economic machinery. Charles G. Dawes (upper center) heads the corporation. Others are (left, top to bottom) Eugene L. Meyer, H. Paul Bestor, Ogden L. Mills, (right, top to bottom) Andrew Mellon, Jesse Jones and Harvey C. Couch.

TEXAS GROUP FORMED

Sterling Names Contact Men To Cooperate With Federal Company

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The directorate of the $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance corporation was completed today with the selection by President Hoover of Wilson McCarthy, of Salt Lake City.

McCarty is a Democrat, as required for the seventh post, and was proposed to the president by members of his party with the endorsement also of Republican leaders. He is a lawyer and also a banker.

Means of "speeding the action of the corporation" were discussed with President Hoover at a White House luncheon conference attended by other officials of the corporation.

Operation Delayed

The board is ready to operate but the three appointed directors confirmed yesterday by the senate—Charles G. Dawes, Harvey C. Couch and Jesse Jones—can not be sworn until next Wednesday. Their papers of commission must wait in the senate three "legislative" days.

During the day, senate Democrats got behind the next piece of emergency legislation—the Glass bill intended to aid depositors of closed banks and revise the banking laws.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the party leader, announced after a meeting of the Democratic steering committee, that the group favored getting to work on this legislation as soon as such modifications as may be necessary are completed.

Conference Called

President Hoover yesterday arranged for Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, author of the measure, and Walcott, Republican, Connecticut, to confer with treasury and federal reserve experts on modifications.

The Democrats also studied the La Follette-Costigan $375,000,000 direct federal aid bill which is opposed by the administration. A committee was named to consider this controversial legislation. Robinson said a motion to recommit the measure would be made if the bill is brought up on Monday.

STERLING NAMES "CONTACT" COMMITTEE

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (UP)—Gov. Ross Sterling tonight appointed a "contact committee" to confer with the federal Reconstruction Finance corporation.

The committee consists of former Gov. Dan Moody and former Postmaster General Albert S. Burleson of Austin; Highway Commissioner Cone Johnson of Tyler; Amon G. Carter, newspaper publisher of Fort Worth; State Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman; State Representative R. M. Hubbard of New Boston, and Reagan Houston, San Antonio business man and Federal Reserve bank official.

The committee will be unofficial, but is for the purpose of giving the corporation information. The governon estimated that Texas will seek $100,000,000, including an outlet for securities held in county depositories.

Student Killed in Automobile Collision

SAPULPA, Okla., Jan. 29. (UP)—Jack Mealey, 18-year-old Tulsa university student, was killed and his college companion, Ed Davis, was injured today when their stripped down auto collided with a machine driven by Thomas Monson, Tulsa negro, 16 miles west of here.

TAX OFFICES WAIT RUSH

Saturday Last Day for Poll And Property Levies

Tax collecting offices for city, school, irrigation, county and state governmental units here prepared Friday for a record-breaking rush of taxpayers Saturday, the last day for payment of delinquent taxes without penalty and interest, and for payment of various current taxes for 1931 and for poll taxes.

Lengthy waiting lines extended all day Friday before each of the windows at the city tax collecting offices in the Memorial auditorium, and at the county tax collector's office at the courthouse. At the city offices, most of the payments were being made to clear delinquent taxes on which penalties and interest have been waived by a legislative relief measure, contingent upon payment before midnight Jan. 31, 1932.

Rules Reviewed

Many also were paying part or all of the 1931 school taxes, despite the fact that more than 25 per cent of the total 1931 roll was paid before Jan. 1 in response to an emergency call by the school board.

Poll tax and automobile license totals mounted rapidly during the day. Not only the central office in the courthouse, but branch offices in Burkburnett, Iowa Park and Electra were crowded throughout the day.

Officials charged with the collection of taxes reviewed again Friday the regulations under which payment of taxes is required this week. Delinquent city taxes must be paid not later than Jan. 31 in order to obtain waiver of penalty and interest. One-fourth of the 1931 school tax must be paid not later than Jan. 31 to avoid the imposition of penalty and interest.

All county and state taxes for 1931 will become delinquent after midnight Sunday, Jan. 31, unless one-half of that tax was paid be-

OLDER BOYS OF TWO DISTRICTS OPEN SESSIONS

Convention Work Starts After Guests Given Rooms in Homes

DISCUSSIONS ARE HELD

Adult Y. M. C. A. Leaders Direct Program for Delegates

Business of the Older Boys' bi-district conference was under way here Friday night after the convention opened during the afternoon with approximately 500 boys from 50 Central and North Texas cities in attendance. Delegates continued to arrive Friday night and by noon Saturday the predicted attendance of 600 is expected to be reached.

Almost from dawn Friday Wichita Falls streets were thronged with beribboned and youthful delegates who, after registering at convention headquarters, the educational building of the First Methodist church, were busy seeking out what the city had in the way of entertainment and material for sight-seers.

Reynolds Calls Order

The first session of the conference opened at 2 p. m. All delegates were assembled in the First Methodist church, where Levi Reynolds, Dalhart, president, called the conference to order.

After an intermission from 5 p. m. to 7 p. m. the second session was called and the conference continued until 9 o'clock, when delegates were at liberty after affairs of the first day.

The second day will begin with the third session Saturday at 8:30 a. m. in the educational building of the First Methodist church.

Preceding the opening of the conference, all delegates were required to register and were assigned to homes of Wichita Falls. Housed

Chinese Leaders Praise Military Forces for Brave Stand

SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 30. (Saturday) (AP)—The vernacular newspapers today printed a proclamation in which 20 Chinese political leaders praised the "magnificent action" of their military forces in opposing the Japanese at Chapei.

Among those signing the proclamation were Sun Fo and Eugene Chen, both of whom resigned recently from the Nanking government because their colleagues would not join in a strong policy against Japan. It was reported the wealthy Sun Fo had given 100,000 Mexican pesos (about $50,000) to be distributed among the Chinese troops who took part in the Chapei battle.

'LIKE BELGIUM' SAYS GIBBONS

Famed Correspondent Tells Of Shanghai Fight

By FLOYD GIBBONS

SHANGHAI, Jan. 30. (Noon Saturday)—Fire raged around the international settlement today as shells from Chinese and Japanese artillery fighting along the Shanghai-Nanking railroad to the north dropped into the concession.

That raises the dickens, because the settlement is already panicky over the Japanese aerial bombing yesterday, the snipers within the barricades and the invasion of the American Presbyterian mission by Japanese marines.

All of America's marines are stationed at strategic points, and 1,000 new Britishers arrived today with fighting kits. They bring the British forces up to 2,500. From my spot on the hotel roof, I can spot the Chinese fighting to the north, and I can see the American marines guarding the barbed-wire fences close by.

Not only China and Japan are mixed up in this mess. Events of the last 18 hours have placed these unwelcome far eastern hostilities on the doorsteps of each and every member of the family of nations.

Time for Caution

Reports and protests and explanations are speeding from Shanghai to the foreign departments of every government in the world. This is a great time to watch your step and keep your powder dry.

For the first time in history a belligerent nation has used the international concession in Shanghai as a military base for offensive operations against China.

Japan has done this, and done it not in concert with or without consideration for any other nation equally interested with her here. She has done it entirely on her own.

The Japanese troops landed from SHANGHAI, Jan. 30. (Saturday) (AP)—Japanese military authorities announced at 9 o'clock this morning that Chinese reinforcements had made it necessary for them to execute a partial withdrawal movement to the east toward the north Szechuen road, which is the base of Japanese operations outside the international settlement.

The cruiser Tatsuta and four destroyers arrived from the Sasebo naval base today and two battalions of marines were landed.

Japanese officials indicated the resumption of bombing was likely at any moment.

A Japanese military spokesman said the Chinese had brought field guns into position in Chapei and had fired a number of shells upon the Japanese headquarters.

INTERNATIONAL SECTION BOMBED

SHANGHAI, Jan. 30. (11:30 a. m., Saturday)—(US)—The international settlement of Shanghai was thrown into a panic today when stray shells from the Sino-Japanese fighting around the North railroad station dropped into the area.

The building of the Japanese newspaper Nichi-Nichi was hit and severely damaged.

Heavy damage was inflicted on the Japanese Buddhist temple from the artillery fire.

The shells fell in the Hongkew district along the northern boundary of the concession.

Chinese gunmen and snipers were active around the Japanese club in the Hongkew area, where many Japanese residents are concentrated.

Owing to the extent of the area, the Japanese police were unable to take effective action to prevent the snipers from shooting from vantage points on roof tops.

One thousand British troops of the Wiltshire regiment arrived today, bringing the British garrison to 2,500 men. The Royal Scots fusiliers, which were to have been relieved, will remain on duty.

BOTH CHINESE AND JAPS MENACE AREA

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, Jan. 30. (Saturday)—Shanghai's international settlement was caught between two grave menaces today as the Sino-Japanese struggle for mastery of the native city raged on without quarter.

The Chinese military command warned that unless foreign authorities employed their influence to halt the tide of Japanese invasion they would turn their guns on the settlement, in which United States marines, along with troops of other nations, have been placed on guard over foreign interests worth millions of dollars.

At the same time it authentically was reported that the Japanese would take over the foreign area with the consent of British Consul-General J. F. Brenan.

Crack Troops Arrive

The Chinese threat of action was made more serious by reports that the crack troops of Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek, former president of China who has returned to place of power in the Nanking government, were arriving from Nanking and were taking up positions here.

The second day and night of Japanese occupation brought a series of dramatic developments. An attempt by civilian authorities to effect an armistice failed. Japanese marines, aided by air bombers, continued their advance in Chapei in the face of stubborn resistance by Chinese soldiers.

U. S. Mission Invaded

An American mission in the international settlement was invaded by the Japanese. The Shanghai wireless station was bombed out of commission. A shell fell in the settlement but no one was hurt.

Bombs, machine guns, and rifles spread death and destruction through the native districts. Illumination and communication facilities were blotted out. Flames devoured what the battling soldiers left. The casualties were listed in the thousands.

Chapei was a theater of war as the Japanese strove to consolidate positions already captured and extend their control over the entire area. At no point did the Chinese offer mass resistance, but they impeded the progress of the invaders by sniping at them from every conceivable vantage point. The issue still was in doubt long after midnight.

Civilians Terrorized

The hours brought terror to the civilian population as the flames, started by Japanese bombs, licked at the ancient, ramshackle structures and filled the tortuous streets and alleys with smoke and firebrands. The people became the targets of the bullets of both sides in the confusion of battle.

A dozen Japanese airplanes wheeled and circled above the beleaguered area, dropping carriers of death that sent up enormous eruptions. Japanese marines stole through the streets in groups, picking off snipers with machine guns. The Chinese called on their knowledge of the city to harrass the enemy at every step with small arms fire. Over all, the conflagration

RITES TODAY FOR PIONEER

Mrs. Lucy C. Dean Succumbs Early Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy C. Dean, 74, wife of C. Dean, pioneer rancher of Clay county, who died at a hospital here Friday morning, will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Henrietta cemetery chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean, as residents of Clay county for 36 years, were widely known in this section. They had maintained their residence since 1896 on the Dean ranch, which was acquired by Mr. Dean at that time.

Their ranch home was situated four miles from Dean, a community named many years ago in their honor. It formerly bore the name of Mabeldean, for a daughter.

Mrs. Dean was a native of Georgia, but came to Texas with her parents when she was 4 years of age. The family settled in Smith county, and Mrs. Dean had since been a resident of this state.

Services Saturday will be conducted by Rev. J. N. Hunt, pastor of the Henrietta Baptist church. Burial will be in the Henrietta cemetery under the direction of the Hines mortuary of Wichita Falls.

Active pallbearers will be C. D. Shamburger, C. J. Shumake, Joseph Stephenson and W. J. Hawthorne of Wichita Falls, George Myers of Jolly and W. C. Heard of Petrolia.

Honorary pallbearers will be T. T. T. Reese, Walter Reid, J. M. Baber, J. M. Gardner, J. M. Henrick, M. M. Russell, Max Shumake, George Fleming, Harry Thornberry, E. Lynn and Jason Walker, Wichita Falls; W. B. Moore of Dean, Lee Precott, Linville, Texas; Rex Doyle, A. C. Culver, Will Doyle and Harvey Bentley of Thornberry; Dr. Arnold and F. T. Webb of Petrolia; and John and Buck Fleming of Charlie.

In addition to the husband, the pioneer ranchwoman is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Carl Shank of Winona, Texas; three sons, R. S. Dean of Tyler, Texas, F. C. Dean of Windsor, Conn., and J. C. Dean of Dean; six grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews of Vernon.

Railroads Turn Down Labor Offer To Take Six and Half Per Cent Cut

Managements Promptly Decline Compromise Proposal and Stand by Original Demand for a 10 Per Cent Wage Reduction

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—A million and a half railroad workers volunteered today to accept 6½ per cent less pay for one year and they were promptly turned down.

The committee of nine railroad president, representing nearly every major road in the country and holding steadfastly to their proposal of a 10 per cent wage reduction, rejected each of four counters made by the brotherhoods and unions in the ninth session of the negotiations of railway wages.

It took the managements only a half hour to decide on the labor proposition and their prompt "no" threw the wage question back to the labor group in more or less of a "take it or leave it" status. The presidents previously had replied to labor's employment stabilization program in a manner that was termed unsatisfactory by the labor leaders.

It was the workers' next move, the presidents having responded fully to their counter proposals and the next joint session in the negotiations between the two groups was subject to the call of the labor delegation.

Restoration Asked

One of the propositions submitted by the brotherhoods would have bound the railroads to pay 100 per cent on the present basic rates for a full year after the year in which a reduction was agreed to. This was given to the presidents as a proposition which would apply to each of the other three proposals and it was the one on which one of the big brotherhoods based its authorization for continued negotiations.

Thieves Take Tires During Stage Show; Suspects Arrested

Police station took on the aspects of a tire exchange here late Friday night as patrons of "Crazy Quilt" sought accessories stolen from their automobiles while parked in the vicinity of Memorial auditorium. Officers stationed at the auditorium during the performance took into custody two men whose automobile was loaded with tires.

Several auto owners whose tires had been stolen recovered their property. However, a number of motorists reported thefts of tires which had not been recovered late Friday night.

Police believe that the arrest of the two men a short distance from the auditorium will lead to the recovery of other articles stolen the same night.

O'Brien Approved as Tariff Board Chairman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Without a record vote, the senate finance committee today approved the nominations of Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Massachusetts Republican, and Ira M. Ornburn, Connecticut Democrat, as chairman and member respectively of the tariff commission.

OKLAHOMA OIL LIMIT REDUCED

Allowable Run Cut Down To 95,000 Barrels

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—An order reducing the allowable production of the Oklahoma City oil field from 120,000 barrels to 95,000 barrels daily effective Feb. 1, was signed today by the state corporation commission.

LONGVIEW, Texas, Jan. 29. (AP)—Possibility of the East Texas oil field being extended nearly three miles to the north was considered likely today when the Cranfill-Reynolds, Rash No. 1, wildcat test well blew in by heads.

Operators immediately mudded in the test until certain legal angles pertaining to title could be cleared. They planned to swab it later and determine the extent of its production.

The well is located in Upshur county 12 miles north of Longview. It was drilled to a depth of 3,729 feet.

Sister to Testify in Philadelphia Death Case

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29. (AP)—Counsel for Miss Rose E. W. Allen sister of Edward H. B. Allen, charged with the killing of her friend, Francis A. Donaldson, third, said today that she would be a neutral witness in her brother's trial.

"I will not testify in favor of either side," she said through her attorney, Elmer A. Schroeder, "but will answer questions and tell the truth only."

Schroeder said he would be at the counsel table when Miss Allen testifies so she may consult him before answering certain questions. The lawyer said he could advise her not to answer any question that she feels might be degrading.

W. C. T. U. Chief Claims F. D. Roosevelt Is Wet

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president of the W. C. T. U., characterizing Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York as a "wet," predicts the South will oppose his presidential aspirations "unless politicians succeed in fooling the southerners."

Returning from a tour of the South, she declared efforts were being made in every southern state to make the prominent Democratic candidate for the presidential nomination appear a prohibitionist.

Wrigley Millions To Go to Wife And Two Children

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (UP)—William K. Wrigley Jr. left nearly all of his estimated $35,000,000 "chewing gum fortune' 'to members of his immediate family, his will revealed today.

The document was accepted for probate by Judge Henry Horner four days after the multi-millionaire gum manufacturer, philanthropist and sportsman died of a heart attack at his Arizona-Biltmore hotel in Phoenix.

Wrigley directed that his widow, his son, Phillip K., and his daughter, Mrs. James R. Offield, be made principal beneficiaries of a trust fund, giving them each an income of $100,000 a year.

Unless Mrs. Wrigley still is livinog then, the trust would be dissolved in 1944, the 50th birthday of his son. The estate thereupon would be divided in 20 parts, 12 going to his son, four to his daughter, two to James R. Offield, his son-in-law, and one each to his grand children, Ada Elizabeth and Wrigley Offield.

Wrigley left his $2,500,000 Chicago Cubs baseball team to his son, who has been president for several years of the chewing gum company.

Wichita Comes Back After Cold Wave

Buffeted by a cold wind that sent the temperature diving 39 degrees within a few hours, Wichita Falls and her neighbors staged a quick come-back Friday.

After hitting 31 degrees before dawn Friday, a jump from the 71 degree maximum of the day before, mercury climbed sturdily up again and stood at 40 at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Similar conditions ruled in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma, with a prediction of warmer and cloudier weather Saturday, becoming unsettled Sunday.

Chicago to Pay Up City Employes Monday

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Police, firemen and all other city employes, unpaid for six weeks, will draw pay Monday for services up to Jan. 1, Mayor Anton J. Cermak said today.

The sum of $1,477,269 will be taken from the aggregate of funds. It will clean up 1931 corporate pay rolls. City employes were paid last Dec. 15.

T. U. BUILDING BIDS OPENED

Bargains Offered in Keen Competition

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (AP)—Bargain bidding developed today for construction of nine buildings to be erected by the University of Texas.

Proposals were opened by the regents and were being tabulated. About 400 contractors were in attendance, the sharp competition making a determination of the best bids a matter for probably long deliberation. Contracts were not be awarded before tomorrow, if then.

Bids indicated that the extensive building program could be financed for an outlay considerably under the estimate of from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000.

Offers to build a library building for $500,000 were received in the face of an estimate this structure would cost around $800,000. Other buildings it is proposed to erect are physics, architecture engineering, student union, auditorium, home economics, geology and men's dormitory.

The lowest combination bid for the general contract of all buildings was $2,410,000, submitted by the R. C. McKee Construction company of El Paso; the lowest combination bid for electrical work was $309,990, by the Graham-Collins company of San Antonio and the lowest bid for plumbing and heating was estimated to be $200,000.

Killer Destroys Six Children and Parents

ELMA, Man., Jan. 29. (AP)—A 55-year-old farmer, his wife and six of their children were stabbed to death as they slept in their home early today.

Two other children of Martin Sipar, the farmer, were critically wounded. The killer set fire to the house before he fled. Police said they were searching for the Sipar hired man, who has been missing since morning, for questioning.

John Sipar, a brother of the slain man, was awakened in the early morning by two nephews, who had been awakened by screams in their home and had run to their uncle's home. John found his brother's home enveloped in flames, but was able to remove the eight bodies and carry the two children to safety.

Four Charged in Hawaiian's Death Are Denied Bond

HONOLULU, Jan. 29. (US)—Judge Albert M. Cristy today in the circuit court refused to bond Mrs. Granville R. Fortescue and the three navy men charged with the "honor slaying" of Joseph Kahahawai, the young Hawaiian, on Jan. 8.

He stated, however, that he would release them if the secretary of the navy would guarantee their appearance in court when wanted. Otherwise he would hold the defendants in bond of $50,000 each. They will not be able to raise that sum, it was said.

The accused have been placed in the custody of the Honolulu police, pending communication with Washington regarding their bonds.

When the defendants were arraigned they reserved their plea until Monday.

Rain and Sleet Fall In Arkansas Flood Area

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 29. (AP)—Heavy rain and sleet fell in the Texarkana area today but weather bureau observers saw little increased danger in the Red river flood situation.

The river stage of 31.6 feet at Fulton, four and one-half feet above the flood stage, was expected to continue for about two days.

The river dropped overnight at Index, reading 25.5 feet today. This was the flood stage mark. Another rise of several inches was reported at Spring Bank, bringing the stage there to 32.6 feet. Spring Bank is south of the junction of the Red and Sulphur rivers.

CHINESE HOLD SHANGHAI LINE

Foreign Officials Observe Fight With Alarm

snapped and crackled, threatening to wipe out the area.

During the holocaust the Shanghai-Nanking railway station, captured and lost by the Japanese, burned to the ground. Japanese headquarters were besieged by the Chinese and they came dangerously near to taking it.

Chinese refugees streaming into the settlement reported that the casualties among the 200,000 people were enormous and that the dead and dying would reach into the thousands.

Eyewitnesses said sickening scenes were observed in first aid stations where the bodies of women, children and babies—riddled with bullets—were brought in.

Nor could any one say that the end was in sight. In the early hours of today small bands of Chinese were retreating foot by foot as the Japanese pressed on.

One group of defenders pushed into the settlement and fired on Japanese defensive troops, but were driven off. Another band attacked a Japanese club close to the boundary and also was thrown back. Reports that additional troops were on the way from Nanking spurred them to frenzied activity.

Commerce Closes

Commercial activity in the settlement and native cities came to a complete standstill. Banks and business houses closed their doors. The Chinese chamber of commerce declared a general strike in protest against Japanese operations. Foreign officials looked on the developments with growing anxiety and their nationals waited with apprehension for what nightfall might bring.

Published reports of an armistice grew out of the efforts of Japanese consular officials and Chinese civil authorities to bring an end to the hostilities. Their work was nullified by military chiefs on both sides who took the position that a truce could not settle the controversy.

"Murder" Charged

Supporting this premise, the Chinese command issued a statement accusing the Japanese of "murdering our people, burning our homes and seeking to create a situation which would give them an excuse for aggression in the Yangtze valley.

"We intend to defend our territory and as long as we have a single man or a single round of ammunition we will oppose these invaders until they are expelled."

American Consul-General Edwin S. Cunningham kept a close watch on the strife throughout the day and night but would not commit himself as to the possible effects on American lives and interests. The U. S. S. Borie arrived from Manila, bringing the number of American fighting vessels in Shanghai waters to 10, and more were on the way.

Japs Obstinate

In spite of the heavy loss in life and property and the danger of grave international complications, the Japanese naval command showed no more disposition than the Chinese to arbitrate the issue, but were intent on pushing matters to a conclusion.

After more than 36 hours had passed since 3,000 Japanese marines landed from a battle fleet in the Whangpo river, the Japanese naval command clung tenaciously to their contention that the Chinese civil authorities must disband all anti-Japanese societies, terminate the boycott against Japanese goods and pay reparations for Japanese produce destroyed.

It was estimated the fire already had caused damage amounting to $5,000,000.

MOSCOW LEAVES DECISION TO CHINA

MOSCOW, Jan. 29. (AP)—Whether Russia will allow Japanese troops to be transported to Harbin over the Chinese Eastern railway—jointly owned by China and Russia—was, in effect, put up to China today.

This decision was communicated to Japanese Ambassador Koki Hirota by Assistant Commissar for Foreign Affairs Karakhan.

The ambassador called on the commissar to explain the Japanese command had found it necessary to avail itself of the Chinese Eastern for a troop movement in connection with "a rebellion of Chinese troops in the region of Harbin." The ambassador declared soldiers were needed to protect Japanese citizens and their property in an area menaced by two conflicting factions of Chinese forces.

M. Hirota said his government had no intention of violating the Chinese Eastern and added that Tokyo was ready to pay an indemnity for use of the line. He had called, he explained, to "avoid any misunderstanding by the Soviet government."

"If the Chinese authorities find it possible to transport Japanese troops toward the Harbin region, the Soviet government, on its side, has no reasons to create obstacles under absolute conditions that the interests of the Chinese Eastern railway will not be violated," the foreign commissar replied.

TOKYO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Grave danger of conflict between Japan and Soviet Russia over the Chinese Eastern railway loomed tonight as the government stood pat on the occupation of Shanghai.

A government statement again assured foreign powers that Japan would not encroach on their interests in the international settlement of Shanghai and was only taking protective action "similar to effective measures taken in these localities by Great Britain and other powers in the past."

The Japanese government will hold officials of the Chinese Eastern railway, jointly owned by Russia and China, responsible for holding up the movement of reinforcements toward Harbin, Manchuria, where two Chinese armies have been battling, official sources revealed.

This ultimatum followed upon information from Consul-General Ohashi at Harbin saying the Russian manager of the railway, acting on instructions from Moscow, had forbidden the sending of Japanese troops over the line from the northern terminus of the south Manchurian railway at Changchun to Harbin.

In the connection, a Rengo News agency dispatch from Changchun reported the Japanese themselves would begin operations on the Changchun-Harbin branch tomorrow to combat the passive resistance of Chinese and Russian trainmen.

The manager of the railway, M. Kunetzoff, was quoted as maintaining that the board of directors had refused to transport Chinese troops on the line during the Nonni river engagement and Japan herself had demanded neutrality in the operation of the road.

A war office spokesman countered that by virtue of the Sino-Russian agreement of 1924 the railroad was purely a commercial concern and the refusal to move Japanese soldiers virtually amounted to lending assistance to the regular Chinese army which is reported to have looted Harbin for several days and to have inflicted numerous casualties on the Japanese and Korean populace.

Floyd Gibbons Points Out Danger To Foreigners in City of Shanghai

warships in the Whangpoo river have marched across the international concession and across the boundary into the Chinese city of Chapei.

Both Chinese and foreign residents of this concession consider this the same as a miniature duplication of the march of the German army across Belgium.

Japanese marines fighting at night in the Chinese city have their military base in the international concession where there are 20,000 American and European men, women and children.

The foreigners in Shanghai consider this action a direct menace to the lives and property of innocent neutrals residing here.

If the Chinese forces of overwhelming numbers resist the Japanese offensive and drive them back, the Japanese will have to retire on their base here, bringing war to the homes of peaceful citizens of other nations.

The roofs of these buildings are grandstand seats of this latest spectacle of man's inhumanity to his brothers. The late afternoon sun was still shining when I stepped on the roof of the 12-storeyed Cathay hotel yesterday.

A half-mile to the north, two large columns of smoke rose skyward while the air was filled with black bits of burnt paper. Two Japanese planes were hovering in the air right above.

An American girl—an absentee from the hotel terrace dance—her eyes blazing with excitement, handed me the binoculars and pointed toward the nearest and largest column of smoke. She said:

"That's the Chinese railroad station.

"I saw a bomb make a direct hit on the roof two hours ago. The whole roof caved in. Flames and smoke rose a hundred feet. It was full of Chinese soldiers. It's useless—it's horrible—it's murder!"

She took the glasses from me and looked, horrified but fascinated, on the burning pyre. Other American women, daintily-clad, watched the war from Shanghai's big, modern skyscrapers.

It's just as though the Jones family, occupying one apartment in a 10-flat building, used their apartment as a base for an attack on the flat building across the street.

Bombs in Foreign Quarter

The occupants of the building successfully resist, and retaliate by carrying the fight back across the street, cleaning out not only the Jones apartment but the flats of the other nine families as well.

The Japanese bombs have been dropping by mistake today within the boundaries of the international concession, endangering the lives of all neutrals, including thousands of Americans. Fortunately, no foreign casualties have been reported, although the Japanese seaplanes with big bombs have been flying over the settlement for two days.

Mark Hanna, a New York boy who made good in a big motion picture way here, beside me on the roof pointed to the other smoke column, explaining:

"That's the plant of the Commercial Press—largest printing establishment in the Orient, with the most valuable library in China.

"A big bomb, a big burst, a big blaze—and $3,000,000 damages.

"That library is the same to China as Louvain was to Belgium."

The sounds of distant explosions reached my ears together with "extra!" cries from newsboys in the street on Nanking road. Southward, the broad surface of the Whangpoo river winds seaward, around a bend dotted with warships and destroyers of all nations.

On its shores are Chinese junks and barges with glaring white eyes painted on the bows and bamboo-ribbed sails of black and orange canvas flapping in the breeze. Smoke pours out of river tugs and dozens of tall factory chimneys.

'CRAZY QUILT' PACKS HOUSE

Wichita Roars Approval Of "Rough Stuff"

By The Record News Critic

All branches of life were represented in a full house at the Memorial auditorium Thursday night to see "Crazy Quilt." There could not be much guess work as to what the country wants right now—laughs. They had them. There was of course, some rough stuff pulled. But the audience even liked that. And there was pulchritude in capital letters.

It was Fanny Brice's show. But the chorus was one of the prettiest ever seen outside of big cities. They put their work through too rapidly for the audience who would liked to have looked longer at young faces atop pretty bodies. Advertisements however, that showed much lack of clothing in the pictures were deceptive. The chorus wore an average amount of clothing except in one scene—the "Million Dollar Baby in a Five and Ten Cent Store," and even in that, the kilts and belts and braissieres were made adequate with gloves.

Dancers Acclaimed

Gomez and Winona were acclaimed by the audience the magnificent dancers they were. In the "Customary Waltz," in the "Merry Month of Maybe," and in the exquisitely shadowed "El Bolero" they were equal to national celebrities.

Phil Baker was particularly strong with a planted "end man" in the audience. There were women who blushed at some of the dialogue they pulled; but men roared. Mr. Baker had a remarkable personal magnetism and he could play the accordion though he could not sing. The audience seemed to bear up well under the more than "soupcon" of vulgarity.

Fannie Brice scored heavily in "Overnight." She is a mistress of the art of syncopated music, but into her "Love Was Young; Love Is Old," she put real feeling. In the burlesque on "Strictly Dishonorable," she and Mr. Baker had the house.

One did not go insanely enthusiastic over other voices than hers. When Miss Allen, Mr. Monroe and Miss Bonnell sang, the audience remarked that they were good looking people. But when the chorus come out in the "Doorstep Baby" song and dance, Fanny Brice had many rivals. The girls and the dolls won their share of hearts.

Comfort for Some

"Ladies of the Evening," made one sigh or groan. They recited in unison such pale pink stuff as "Since Virtue is its own reward, with virtue we are thorugh," and perhaps more questionable lines than that.

But it is not often one has a Fanny Brice. A Phil Baker and a Ted Healy, with a magnificent orchestra and splendid director, come to town. The songs that Fanny Brice sang in the finale will linger long in the memory of Wichita Falls theater goers and her comedy in "The Swan Song and Dance" will comfort many who are ducks instead of swans.

OLDER BOYS OF STATE GATHER

in homes of Wichitans, many delegates were able to attend where otherwise they may have not, due to added expense.

J. N. Sherrill and W. H. Carter, Wichita Falls business men, were in charge of assignments of delegates to homes. Entertainment from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., registration hours, was provided by a committee of welcome, headed by Thomas F. Richardson.

Conference delegates are representatives of Hi-Y clubs and churches of towns in the double district which extends south to Austin, east to Greenville, north to the Oklahoma line, and west to include all of the Panhandle and South Plains. Towns with delegates here include Austin, Waco, Marlin, Temple, Corsicana, Waxahachie, Dallas, Sherman, Denison, Gainesville, Fort Worth, Greenville, Breckenridge, Cisco, Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Lubbock, Plainview, Floydada, Hereford, Canyon, Amarillo, Dalhart, Pampa, Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Quanah, Vernon, Electra, Graham, Paris and Wichita Falls.

Among the most important features of the first day were two "discussion group" meetings, one held after each session.

These discussions were primarily to give boys the opportunity of talking among themselves the aims and ideals of the convention they are attending. The aim, as selected in advance of the conference by the boys themselves, is to answer the convention theme: "What Do God and Christ Expect of an Older Boy?"

Adults Lead

Lead by some 30 adult Y. M. C. A. and church workers in the group discussions, the youthful delegates delved into this subject with free discussion of the activities, ambitions and aims of boys their age. Groups were small to give each and every delegate the opportunity to express his own opinions at length on the subject at hand. Each group consisted of about 20 boys.

Following the opening of the conference by the bididstrict president, Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, made the opening prayer.

Joe Witherspoon, Wichita Falls leader in Hi-Y work, delivered the address of welcome, to which Nelson McElroy of Waco responded.

R. E. Shepherd, Wichita Falls, selected several weeks prior to the convention as song leader, led in songs at both Friday sessions.

He will continue to officiate in this capacity at each session during the conference.

Seven Addresses

Seven addresses were delivered in the two Friday sessions, five during the afternoon, two at the evening session.

Five of the talks were by delegates to the conference. They were Hugh England, Plainview; J. W. Hankins, Childress; Charles Whittington, Amarillo; Beverly Howell, Fort Worth; and Roy Baker, Denison.

The remaining two addresses were by adults interested in the progress of the convention. They were C. G. Fairchild and Herschel Gipson, both of Fort Worth.

All seven speakers adhered closely to the convention theme, although the adult speakers diverged slightly to parallel subjects. Mr. Fairchild inserted into his address the importance of attending summer Y. M. C. A. camp as a means of obtaining valuable training in Hi-Y and church work. Mr. Gipson talked on the knowledge, satisfaction and value obtained from reading books.

Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church here, opened the second, or Friday evening session with prayer.

Good in Charge

Grover C. Good, Dallas, state boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was in general charge of all group conferences held after each session.

Addresses by boys themselves will continue through sessions Saturday and Sunday. Several adult speakers of state-wide repute will address the several assemblages which will be called together in the second and third days of the conference. Among these are Dr. A. B. Cunningham of Texas Technological college; J. H. Henry, executive secretary of the state Y. M. C. A.; Judge Hal Latimore of Fort Worth, and Max Morrison of Tulsa, Okla.

The principal speaker at the chief session Saturday night at the Memorial auditorium will be Harry Hines, Wichita Falls, who will talk on "Utilizing Intangible Power."

Band Concert Tonight

Saturday afternoon will be taken up largely with matters of entertainment which include an automobile tour of the city, conducted by Frank B. Creighton, Wichita Falls Boy Scout executive, and a group of business men; and a Girl Reserves social later at the Junior college.

A band concert by Maskat Temple band, under the direction of Gerald Pond, will form a feature of the Saturday night session. A playlet, "Down to Earth," presented by Girl Reserves of Wichita Falls, also will be a major event of the Safurday evening session.

Conference officers for the next year will be elected at the Saturday afternoon session. These new officers will take office and preside during the final session of the convention Sunday morning. The conference is scheduled to close at 12:15 p. m. Sunday.

Leaders of the discussion groups will assemble at breakfast Sunday morning at 6:30 to make plans for continuance of group discussions after each session of the conference. These leaders include Grady Spruce, C. G. Fairchild, J. Floyd Smith, Windell McClellan, John Green, Pat Henry, Rev. F. A. Crutchfield, Thomas F. Richardson, J. L. Kimble, R. G. Cole, W. C. Davis, Euline Shaw, J. T. Fielder, L. H. Rhodes, Houston Crump, B. M. Hudson, Thurman Harris, Rev. J. D. Pinkston, Floyd M. Lisle, Frank B. Creighton, Irvine E. Jolly, L. A. Woolridge, Lee Hemphill, D. O. Fulton, Lieut. E. A. Muller, George Wheeler, Jack Boyd, H. W. Carter, L. C. Knoblock and J. H. Musick.

First Livestock and Farm Implement Auction Meets With Success Friday

Hundreds of Buyers Attend Sale From Many Counties of North Texas; Transaction Fast

Meeting with success beyond greatest expectations, the livestock auction Friday at Call field, sponsored by the Wichita Valley Development association, will be followed in two weeks with a second sale which is expected will be even more successful.

Probably 500 people were present for the initial sale, according to G. C. McGown, county agent. During the peak of the auction 300 persons were present. From the start of the sale at 11 a. m. until all items had been offered for bids at 4:30 p. m., crowds were arriving and leaving, lending to the scene an air of activity by which it actually was marked.

100 Animals Sold

About 100 head of livestock, including cattle, horses, mules, hogs, and calves were sold at the auction. Other sales made included poultry and various items of farm machinery.

Conservative estimates placed the money turn-over at between $1,000 and $1,500.

Dairy cattle sold up to a top price of $43.50. Pigs sold up to $4, bred gilts up to $14, and calves up to $11. Farm machinery, which included plows, harrows, and various other implements sold well.

All items offered for bids sold well. Sellers received fair returns considering conditions, it was said. Items moved quickly. Bids were made rapidly as sales objects went on the block.

Good Attendance

Sellers and buyers came from various counties surrounding Wichita, including Clay, Archer, Baylor, Wilbarger, Montague and others. Although the weather was raw with a biting cold, attendance was far above expected. Execution of the sale, and its ultimate result, was marked by a success which the sponsors said they would have expected only after several such auctions had been held.

J. R. Ray officiated as auctioneer, while Roy King served as clerk. Both donated their services.

Plans are to be made immediately for the second sale, which will be held at the same place Feb. 12, Mr. McGown said.

A system of rules will be worked out by which the sale can be operated with more smoothness. Efforts will be made to obtain participation from even a larger number of residents of this section. One addition for the next sale, Mr. McGown said will be the erection of a sales ring to keep crowds back from the block in order that all may obtain a clear view of the selling object.

It is understood that a livestock and farm implement auction will be held at regular intervals here in the event that assurance is given that residents of the section surrounding Wichita Falls favor the proposal. The first two sales are held as a means of determining the attitude of participants to the plan. If they come into accord, the Wichita Valley Development association plans to create a permanent institution of the idea. It is hoped that the Wichita valley will develop into a livestock market of considerable more magnitude than in which it is now recognized.

500 ATTEND CHURCH FETE

First Presbyterian Members Gather

Five hundred persons attended a banquet at the First Presbyterian church Friday evening.

Two hundred and fifty new members of the church were given special recognition at the banquet and occupied places of honor.

Members of the Lucy Hansell Guild of the church were hostesses and the elders and trustees and their wives were in a receiving line. Heads of the departments of the Sunday school and teachers were in their rooms in the education building of the church and members were escorted from department to department. At 6:45 all assembled at the banquet tables in the basement of the church. The Sunday school orchestra played during the banquet, a special accordion number was played by Jack Krouse and a skit was presented by the junior department under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Bailey. Mrs. F. T. Cuningham was chairman of the music committee.

Following the banquet a program was given in the auditorium of the church where Mrs. W. M. Priddy sang, and talks welcoming the new members were given by O. R. Hartt, superintendent of the Sunday school; Luke McCrory, president of the men's club; C. W. Beavers of the board of elders; Miss Dorothy Dragon, education director; Mrs. Alf Miller of the Lucy Hansell Guild; Mrs. E. T. Duff of the missionary societies; Lydia Krizzan, Christian Endeavor counsellor and M. Ashley, church secretary.

GIRDLESTONE RITES SUNDAY

Death Claims Wichitan at Age of 65

Funeral services for Horace E. Girdlestone, 65, for 14 years a stonecutter here, who died at a hospital here Friday after a brief illness, will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. from the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector of the church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in Riverside under the direction of the Dalton-Powell Funeral home.

A native of England, Mr. Girdlestone came to America in the '80's, and moved to Wichita Falls in 1918. He had followed the trade of stone cutting during his entire residence here. At the time of his death he held a contract for the preparation of models to be used on the new federal postoffice now under construction here.

Pallbearers at services will be George F. Berley, J. G. Dixon, Merle Waggoner, T. A. Schroeder, Herbert Walker, and Harry J. Naylor.

He is survived by his widow and a stepson, George Rankin of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Girdlestone is a sister of Mrs. H. L. Hunter of Wichita Falls.

deduction for a period of one year, with basic rates to remain as at present," the proposition read, "the railroads agree that they will not undertake to reduce wages for a period of one year after the termination of this agreement."

The other propositions, each of which would have been combined with the first one, read as follows.

"Six and one-half per cent to be deducted form each pay check for a period of one year. Basic rates to remain as at present. This arrangement to terminate automatically 12 months after the plan becomes effective.

Additional Cut

"Six and one-half per cent to be deducted from each pay check for a period of one year. Three and one-half per cent additional to be deducted from each pay check for a period of one year to be repaid in monthly installments during the following year to the individual employes or their heirs.

"Six and one-half per cent to be deducted from each pay check for a period of one year without limitation as to use. Three and one-half per cent additional to be deducted; the resulting funds to be allocated by agreement between the contracting organizations and each individual railroad to provide additional employment or direct relief for furloughed railroad employes."

NARCOTIC ARRESTS

BEAUMONT, Texas, Jan. 29. (AP)—Two negro women were arrested by police here today with 270 grains of morphine in their possession. In their baggage officers found equipment suitable for the administration of narcotic drugs. Papers found indicated they had been to New York and Chicago recently.

Farm Board Chairman Is Final Speaker

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Charles E. Collins of Kit Carson, Colo., was elected president of the American National Livestock association and Ogden, Utah, was selected as the convention city for 1933 today.

Henry G. Boice of Phoenix, Ariz., retiring president, was added to the list of honorary vice presidents, all of whom were re-elected to their honorary offices.

Big Business Assailed

James C. Stone, chairman of the federal farm board, the only speaker at the final day's meeting, scored big business men for their "ignorance of the work of the federal farm board."

Stone declared that just recently he was asked to address the United States Chamber of Commerce. They propounded to him a list of six questions which, Stone said, revealed their lack of knowledge of the functioning of the farm board.

"One of their questions asked when a certain movement was to get started," Stone said. "As a matter of fact the movement had already been accomplished.

"After the government has finally recognized the most important industry, agriculture, it is extremely bad taste to criticise movements to help farmers after the business men have been receiving this same help by the government for many years," Stone said.

"The object of the federal farm board is to place agriculture in a position where the law of supply and demand can act normally."

Other Officers

Other officers named follow:

Charles D. Carey of Cheyenne, Wyo., first vice president, re-elected; George Russell Jr., Elko, Nev.; Hubbard Russell, Los Angeles; J. M. West, Houston, and A. R. Modisett of Rushville, Neb., all re-elected second vice presidents, and T. E. Mitchell of Albert, N. M., elected a vice president, to succeed Collins.

F. E. Mollin of Denver was re-appointed secretary treasurer by the executive board. He will be assisted by Josephine Ripley of Denver. Charles E. Blaine of Phoenix was re-appointed traffic counsel.

Officers Return Pair To Granite Prison

Robert Goldsberry and Hubert Evans, escaped inmates of the Oklahoma state reformatory at Granite, Okla., were returned to that place Friday night by J. D. Counts, reformatory officer, and Deputy Sheriff E. M. Claybough of Mangum.

The two youths were being held here on charges of burglary in connection with an alleged attempt to rob a filling station near Iowa Park Tuesday night. Tunneling out of their cells recently, they walked to Granite, stole a truck, drove part way to Mangum and abandoned the truck by the roadside. Walking into Mangum, they tried several cars before finding one they could start. It was taken into safe-keeping by local officers when the boys were arrested.

Both youths had been committed to the reformatory at Granite on larceny charges.

COUNTY COURT

Two pleas of guilty were received by Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Friday. One defendant was fined $1 and costs on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The second, charged with swindling by check, was fined $1 and costs, and sentenced to serve one day in the Wichita county jail.

A charge of aggravated assault was filed Friday afternoon by County Attorney L. V. Abernathy against a man accused of hitting a woman with a hammer. The weapon struck her hand.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Jan. 29.—R. P. Cato and family recently moved from Iowa Park to a farm which they bought five miles east from Sunset.

A number of people in Sunset and vicinity are ill with the flu. Most of the cases are only light attacks.

E. Murdock has moved from Wichita Falls to Sunset and has taken charge of the operation of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad station here. Mrs. Gypsy Sandefur, the former operator, was transferred to Wichita Falls.

Mrs. J. L. Swaim, a pioneer resident of Union Hill community, five miles southeast from here, has been seriously ill with pneumonia for several days, but is reported to have taken a turn toward recovery.

A terracing demonstration will be conducted, Friday, Feb. 5, on the farm of W. F. Buckner in the vicinity of Park Springs, five miles southwest from here. The terracing will be done under the supervision of Guy Powell, Wise county farm agent.

Several members of the Sunset singing class, and others here, will attend the Northwest Wise county singing convention at Alvord, Sunday afternoon, Jan. 31. The song service will begin at 1 o'clock p. m. Representatives from a large number of singing classes are expected to be in attendance at the convention.

To date, 1,127 bales of the 1931 cotton crop have been ginned at Sunset. Only a few more bales of the last year's crop remain to be ginned here. The 1931 cotton crop here almost doubled the 1930 crop in number of bales, but the cash income from last year's crop was only about a third more than the income from the crop of 1930.

Building-Loan Shareholders Meet

At an adjourned meeting of the shareholders in the Wichita Falls Building and Loan association Friday afternoon a resolution was adopted by the unanimous vote of all present that all notices for withdrawal of money invested in the association be suspended until the next annual meeting of the stockholders on the second Tuesday in December, 1932.

Several hundred stockholders were in attendance, a number being from out of town.

N. H. Martin, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

The resolution also provided that stockholders who had not filed notices of withdrawals would not do so before the next annual meeting.

SEYMOUR SETS C-C BANQUET

Annual Feast to Be Held on March 10

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 29.—Directors of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce met this week and announced that the date for the annual banquet of the body was set for March 10. President F. H. Davis was authorized to appoint the necessary committees, and work on the affair will be started immediately.

The directors also voted to sponsor a "trade at home" campaign, through the columns of the Baylor County Banner.

At the regular semimonthly luncheon of the body this week, Bert King of Wichita Falls was guest. Mr. King was formerly of this place.

The total number of stars is estimated to be between 30,000 and 50,000 millions.

Chevrolet Agents Hold Meet Here

Members of the recently organized North Texas Parts and Service Managers club, composed of parts and service managers of Chevrolet dealers in towns of this district, held their first meeting here Friday night with a banquet at the Kemp hotel.

Representatives of dealers in Bowie, Nocona, Electra, Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Graham, Olney and Wichita Falls were present. B. L. Curry, district Chevrolet representative of Dallas, C. E. Van Vessam, Cisco, district representative of Northwest Texas, and T. A. Brock, factory representative, also were present.

The meeting was presided over by Burl Moye, president of the club and manager of the service department of the Fox Chevrolet company here.

Talks were heard from a number of those present, including Mr. Van Vessam, Mr. Curry, Mr. Brock, and O. R. Bell, parts manager for the Fox Chevrolet company. Mr. Bell spoke of advantages of ownership of Chevrolet service agreements.

The topic of a general discussion was "How We Can Service Chevrolet Owners Most Economically to Render the Greatest Service."

"So you want to be my son-in-law."

"Not at all, Mrs. Jones, but I do want to marry your daughter."—Passing Show.

Relieve Headache And Quiet Nerves In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes, you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B.C." a reliable, pleasant acting remedy.

"B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time.

"B.C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B.C." wherever drugs are sold in 10c and 25c packages.—Adv.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—No one familiar with the traditional reputation of diplomats for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain could observe the tumultuous three years of Mr. Secretary Stimson at the state department and deny him boldness in action.

SECRETARY STIMSON

His surprise note on the Sino-Japanese crisis, if nothing else, would earn him that rating.

And there is a lot more of the same sort in the Stimson diplomatic career.

The Stimson note to Japan and China was a noteworthy document for several reasons.

There was very little diplomatic verbiage about it. Tokyo ought to have understood it on first reading.

As an example of diplomatic ultimatums in the modern, non-saber rattling mode, so to speak, that Stimson note is apt to be long examined among diplomats.

"Ultimatumish"

It was loaded with no threat of war or time element; but short of that it was about as "ultimatumish" as it well could be. And no timid man could have written or sent it.

Mr. Stimson's first dipping as secretary of state into the far eastern mess, however, was perhaps even more startling to diplomats. That was back when the eastern end of that trail of trouble, the Trans-Manchurian railway, was the storm center between China and Russia.

That was Mr. Stimson's first effort to implement the Briand-Kellogg world pact for peace. He called the attention of both countries that they had subscribed to its pledges.

The odd part of it was that the past was not then in effect. Mr. Stimson's appeal to it was a sort of advance showing of its possibilities—a rather bold enterprise for a diplomatic newcomer.

No Warfare

Whether due to Stimson intervention or not, no important Sino-Russian warfare developed.

Dipping still farther back into Stimson diplomatic history, the student will find earlier evidence of that capacity for suddenly cutting loose from restrictions of precedent.

He disclosed it in handling the thorny Nicaraguan problem for President Coolidge.

Stimson gave the battling Nicaraguan factions their choice. They could disarm or be disarmed. And except for Senor Sandino, it worked. It was effective even if not strictly diplomatic in a dictionary sense.

Record News' Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

Years ago women didn't offer to marry for money. They just married men for money, but now they've got to advertise to find out who's got it.

For lack of money, some cities are paying their help in scrip. Trouble is, most people will not believe what they see in the paper.

Memories in Keepsakes

BURIED treasure is usually a cache of gold, silver or precious stones.

But excavators who were preparing a site for a new art museum in Portland, Ore., the other day turned up treasure trove of a different kind—some mouldy old chests that had been buried 50 years ago by members of a high school graduating class beneath a tree that the graduates had planted.

When the chests were opened, a revealing light was thrown on the kind of things, valueless in themselves, that people can prize—especially young people.

There were, for instance, a little blue vase, a tiny cup and saucer, a little locket containing a lock of someone's brown hair, a small model of the ship Constitution, a marble, a miniature horseshoe, a handful of old coins, a newspaper of the year 1882—and so on, through a long list of little trinkets each one of which has its own significance, its own value, when the chest was buried 50 years ago.

It isn't hard to imagine just how gladly the people who buried those things would reclaim them now. After half a century the commonest object can take on deep meaning. That locket with its wisp of hair, for instance; what gawky high school lad, prizing his keepsake from the world's sweetest girl, put it there? And where is he now? Did he marry her—or did each forget the other before two more years had passed?

Most of us, probably, have a secret store of odds and ends of that kind, things that would look very odd and grotesque, if anyone else saw them, but that we ourselves cherish deeply. There is usually a faded dance program or two, a sheaf of crumbling snapshots—containing, always, pictures of one or two people whose very names we have forgotten—an oddly-colored pebble that commemorates some summer day's stroll along a lake, some yellowed theater stubs; and to no one but ourselves would the collection mean anything.

But each of us has to fight his own battle with time, which devours youth and hope; and with our oddments of keepsakes—like those unearthed in Oregon—we keep old memories alive.

Do Tariffs Pay?

COMMENTS made recently by the League of Nations' economic committee on the influence of national tariff walls on the present economic crisis may help to bring the whole tariff question up for renewed study.

The committee remarks that "creditor countries must lower their barriers against imports from the debtor countries or the prospects for recovering their debts will be reduced"; and after pointing out that nation after nation has increased its tariff rates in an attempt to gain better economic conditions, it adds that "the general result . . . is almost inevitably to prolong and seriously to aggravate the crisis."

All of this constitutes a direct challenge to the high-protection school, and it is not the sort of thing that can be answered by stock catch-phrases. If it leads us to a thoroughgoing and dispassionate survey of the merits and demerits of our tariff rates it will be a very good thing.

That Finance Corporation

IT IS quite possible that historians a few years from now will date the beginning of the end of the present depression from the establishment of the Reconstruction corporation.

"Tight money," always a phenomenon of hard times, has seldom been more in evidence than it has in the past year. It has been responsible for a tremendous amount of industrial stagnation. The new credit facilities now made available by the government should go a long way toward restoring normal conditions in business.

Of course, the job can't be done overnight, and it would be foolish to look for a return of prosperity by next month. But there is a pretty general belief that an extremely important step forward has been taken, and that from now on a slow but steady upward tendency will be evident.

Philippine Independence

APPEARANCE before the house insular affairs committee of the Philippine independence mission, whose members pleaded our freedom through a gradual withdrawal of U. S. sovereignty in the islands, puts before congress once more the troublesome and important question of the nation's policy toward those island possessions.

In considering this question, one should never forget, as a starting point, that the nation stands solemnly pledged to give the Filipinos their freedom. The government at Washington promised it to them, and the promise has awaited redemption for a long, long time. According to all the rules of honesty and decency, the question before us is not, ""Shall we set them free?" but "How can we set them free in a way that will be best for all people concerned?"

Lions at Electra Enjoy Program

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 29.—A concert was included on the program at the Lions club luncheon Thursday. E. E. Rogers was in charge of the program and introduced Miss Ruth Smith, director of the high school orchestra. Miss Smith presented Russell Austin and Albert Byrd in trumpet duets with Miss Corrine Reed at the piano and Thomas Williams accompanying at the bass horn. Miss Smith played a special violin selection, accompanied by Miss Reed and Thomas Williams. Thrall and Wichita Sheldon entertained with a piano duet.

Dr. R. R. Ramey, president, was in charge of the business session. L. G. McLaughlin was introduced as a new member, and George Jennings was voted as a member of the club. R. L. Mattingly of Burkburnett was introduced as a visitor. Roy LeBus was selected to represent the Lions on a committee to work with committees from the Rotary club, P.-T. A., American Legion, and others to formulate plans to hold a wrestling match on or about Feb. 20 at the high school. The proceeds will be used for the school lunch fund.

Rev. Clark H. Russell announced that he and E. A. McKelvy, sponsors of the local Hi-Y club would attend the Older Boys conference in Wichita Falls this week-end and planned to take seven members of the club with them. Lion Mattingly made a short talk, and Dr. Ramey was appointed to be in charge of the program for next week.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: I found that letter from RH which tells how both of them would be "eternally grateful" ...Very amusing, considering things ...The boners you discussed in the "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde" and "Hell's Divers," flickers are boners all right, but did you see "Sob Sister" with Linda Watkins and James Dunn?...Well, Linda calls to Jimmy across the court to invite him to breakfast with her...Yet, when Linda consents to visit Jim's apartment during the night—he lives across the hall!...The reason "Brief Moment" pulled down its blinds at the Belasco is that La Larrimore and Le Woolcott refused to take wage shaves, so Guthrie said t. h. with it!...But Jones and Green moved it to the Cort.

That fire at the New Yorker Hotel the other night was not of "unknown origin," as was reported, but because some plastered tenants fell asleep with smokes burning in their mitts...Of course, those responsible were permitted to live—so that some night soon again they may start fires that will wreck lives, property and so forth...Did you hear what happened after the guests left the reception that Danny Wolfe gave the other Sabbath morning?...He's Alison Skipworth's "protege," as they are called...Remind me...Holzman, of George White's office, called: To tell you that Cain's, the theatrical storehouse for shows that fail, will soon open up a dormitory for theatrical producers!

Charlie Gilchrest of the Chicago News reports about you fencing with Bernie, and then adds: "But what spoils a good story is that Walter called Ben via long-distance the other night to plan for the 'war'"...Ooooh, Charlie! You doggone old giver-awayer-you!...Is it true what Ben said? That you have a side-line racket, and buy up all the old phonograph records and whitewash them every year, and peddle them as matzoths?...Johnny Connery called: Marriage, he said, is like the automobile question. Some men want to own a car, others prefer to just taxi around...L. Wahl phoned to tell you that, due to the depression, a lot of politicians will throw their caps into the ring...Wahl also explained why Babe Ruth strenuously objects to having his salary trimmed to $70,000—because he figures that he would be getting less than Hoover—who already has two strikes on him!

Why not suggest this scene to the newsreel editors—Albertina Rasch nibbling on two peeled (raw) carrots in the Lillian Gishy manner as she watches her dancers go through the rehearsal paces...Hy Goldstein thought you could Saturday this line—that genuine Irish lace is made in China...Steve Carruthers called to tell me that James ("Bad Girl") Dunn will be in Philly for the next week or two—He'll get in touch with you on his return.

The Times confirmed that Mail Order house liquidating, as per the tip of two Mondays ago, and it also devoted half a column to the new lamp being built by Westinghouse ...The American, Junnel, World-Telly and other papers played up the tip about the dogs being mysteriously poisoned in the Park Ave. sector...The desk used the secret sealing of Gallaudett and Connie MacKenzie in the final editions yesterday...In fewer words, you had a good week.

Burton Rascoe's in town, I hear, but where to reach him I know not ...That lovely looker's name is Mary O'Neill, an up-stater...The Hartford Police Dept. is a little put out, but someone there has a sensayuma...The Chicago Mayor and the Chicago Chamber of Commerce are That Way about you—but why not? ...Remember how it was denied so many months back when you tipped the Jersey Steneck bank blast?... Well, you should have seen the screaming headlines on the Jersey Observer's front on Jan. 18...Incidentally, the Jan. 20 Stock Market Edition of the same sheet devoted its huge front page line to the planned Stadium there for sports. ...Following your tip of days previous...Pershing Field, it appears, is the scene, and I was wondering if those who dismissed "the rumor" the other morning would plop a blood vessel getting red in the face when they eventually decide that it must be printed in the same columns where they offered a sneer.

They nabbed another phoney getting free theater tickets in the name of dramatic critics and others on newspapers—three years ago hurray!...The accident to Tibbett in "Peter Tibbetson" happens annually to leading men in that show... Happened last year during the cane-on-the-cork continuity and Barrymore suffered abrasions years ago in it...Louie Armstrong's "Lazy River" just arrived, sent it to the hotel...You've lost another constant reader, who had a mania for proving to scoffers that your Things You Never Knew Till Now were all on the up-and-up...On Saturday he tried to prove that a person could live five minutes without breathing, the dope...Mary said she would get you some ties and sox between shows...Leave check for the Colleen who stenoes the mail, and the insurance tariff is due again...Be sure and get up by 8 p. m. and drink some hot milk mixed with honey—it oils the larnyx quickly... "Inside Stuff" (opening number out today) is running a clown photo on Walda...Can you guess what expression will be the battle-cry of the Democrats when they convene in Chicago?...The drunks are using it already instead of "whoopee"... By the way—why don't you take advantage of Dr. Vizetelly's offer of over a year ago?...I mean when he wrote and said for you to send in your version of "whoopee" and he would put it in the dictionary alongside the word? Gosh, I would! —Your Girl Friday.

Frederick Legion Plans Minstrel February 3-4

Special to The Record News

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 29.—The "Hard Times" minstrel show planned by the local American Legion post to gather funds for the benefit of school children needing books and supplies, will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights, Feb. 3 and 4, in the Ramona theater.

Lighting effects and correct acoustics of the building were responsible for the choice of the theater. Dr. W. T. Longwell is directing a large cast for the performance.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE HUMAN ROCK—When Andy Felkins was a child he became a sufferer of ossification, and gradually his entire body turned to stone—bones, muscles and ligaments. His tragic life did not affect his mind. One of his accomplishments was committing the Bible to memory. The picture from which my drawing was made was taken at the Fayette (Alabama) County fair in 1929. He died in 1930 at the age of 48.

THE ROLLICKING RACONTEUR—Dr. A. Leinwand, of Vienna, who curiously enough is a member of a family long associated with the fabrication of yarns (Zwirnfabrikation), told an interested audience at the Alpinisten club in Vienna a series of 600 pointed stories in 6¾ hours, on Sunday, Nov. 6, 1927. The rollicking doctor's goal was narration at the rate of 90 stories within an hour, an attainment with which he is credited in 1923. He exceeded this time by a few minutes only. None of his stories had ever been heard by his audience before.

Love Stands By

CLEO LUCAS
Author of "I, Jerry, Take Thee, Joan"

COPYRIGHT, 1931, CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N, INC.

READ THIS FIRST:

Lois Corbin, a pretty working girl, falls in love with Bruce Durand, who is from one of the wealthiest families in Chicago. Ashamed to let him know where she lives, Lois leaves her family and goes to share an apartment with Arlene and Margaret, two girl friends. Bruce does not meet her to take her down to work, as he has promised, and Lois begins to know the first bitter disappointments of love. Lois worries are over, however, when Margaret stops at her desk and tells her that Bruce had to break his date with her on account of business. He comes to take her to lunch, and before he leaves her he asks her to go out dancing with him the following Saturday. Bruce waits for her each night to take her home. He wants to spend all his time with her, but Lois insists that a girl must have some time to herself. She particularly wants this evening to herself, because she is going to move into Margaret's apartment. She finds that the davenport is much too short for comfortable sleeping, and is just getting homesick when she drops off to sleep.

Lois enjoys the company of the two girls and has great fun getting ready for her date Saturday night with Bruce. She wears a dress that belongs to Arlene. Margaret tells her that she will have lots of pretty clothes since she does not have to give her money at home any longer. Lois does not notice when she and Bruce leave that night that Arlene touches his hand ever so lightly.

Arlene tells Lois that Bruce doesn't think much of her if he doesn't take her out to his country club. Lois is proud to tell her a few days later that he has asked her to go with him to just that place. She is worried about a formal dress, but Margaret tells her she knows of a shop where society people bring their old clothes. They go over there one day and Lois buys a beautiful gown for the dance.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER XI

On Thursday Bruce called Lois in the morning. He seemed terribly happy about something, although he didn't say anything that was unusual.

"We're going out tonight, honey," he said.

Lois said, "Yes?"

"I think you'll want to dress up a little, maybe." There was a note in his voice that reminded Lois of a little boy who is trying to keep a secret from his mother.

Lois said, "Oh, I didn't know you had planned anything special."

Bruce broke into a chuckle.

"Yes, sir," he confided, almost unable to contain himself, "I have planned something special, except I didn't know anything about it until just a little while ago. You see——"

Lois thought something was wrong with the connection. She said, "Hello, hello Bruce."

Bruce responded, "I'm here, Lois."

Lois said, "Oh, I didn't hear you."

Bruce said, "I wasn't saying anything." Then they laughed together.

He continued. "I'll be there to take you home. Then I'll be back after you. After you've dressed.

Lois said; "Is it a surprise?"

Bruce said, "I'll say."

"I know what it is," Margaret said while Lois was getting dressed for the mysterious evening date. "He's bringing his folks to meet you."

Lois had not thought of that, although she had thought about everything else that she could possibly imagine during the day. She hoped that was it. She would like that. That would mean then he wasn't actually ashamed of her. She would know once and for all that he loved her and wanted his folks to know her.

Arlene said: "It probably isn't anything to get excited about," when she found out the reason for all the flurry that Margaret and Lois were in. "I've had fellows tell me that same thing. Just to get me to go out with them. Fellows like to do that."

Arlene always tried to spoil things for Lois, and she generally succeeded fairly well in doing so.

But Margaret came to the rescue: "Bruce isn't like any of your fellows. He doesn't have to spring any surprises to get Lois to go out with him."

Arlene didn't answer, but instead went sulkily over to the arm chair and sat down. She was jealous. Terribly jealous of Lois. She hadn't thought so much about it lately, but now she decided that she simply was going to work and take Bruce away from Lois. She could do it. Of course, she could. It was simple. Lois didn't know anything about handling men. Sat around like a meek little kitten and let Bruce dictate to her. One had to take the reins into her hands herself if she wanted to get anywhere with a man.

Bruce would have tempted any girl when he came to get Lois. He was dressed in a new brown fall suit, with a hat that matched it as closely as if they had both been cut from the same cloth. He was brimming over with pep. Lois couldn't understand it.

Arlene apologized to Bruce for the way she was dressed. He didn't pay much attention to her. When Lois came out of the dressing room he went straight over to her and kissed her. It was the first time he ever had done it in front of the girls. Lois was a little embarrassed about it.

Arlene squirmed when he did this. Maybe she should have been putting herself out a little more all this time. She had let her plans for Bruce slide somewhat while she was entertaining one of the new men who had recently come into their firm. A little thing like this, however, didn't bother her much. Competition didn't mean anything when Arlene really set her cap in earnest for a man.

"Won't you stay a minute, Bruce?" Arlene inquired. "You don't have to run right away, do you?"

Bruce said, "No," and sat down. He pulled out a cigaret and Arlene was up in a minute with the matches and an ash tray she set on the arm of the davenport. Then she sat beside him. She started in on banks for she knew that was what Bruce was interested in. She didn't know much concerning them, but she had a brother who worked in one at home and she had picked up little phrases and tucked them away in the back of her head to pull out when the occasion demanded.

Arlene had learned that if you once get a man talking on the subject which interests him most, there is no stopping him. Also, that if you put in a word now and then yourself, a catchy phrase, here and there, you will have him thinking that you're pretty smart. That is just what Bruce thought about Arlene. He said so when he got outside.

Lois admitted, "Yes, she is." Lois really didn't think that Arlene was as smart as Bruce seemed to think she was, but she didn't desire to appear to be catty. She was beginning to hate Arlene. It seemed that Arlene simply ruined Lois' good disposition every time Lois had to be around her. Lois didn't believe she was jealous of Arlene. Bruce certainly didn't act as though he cared about any one except Lois. Yet there was something there for which she could not quite account.

"She's a pretty girl, too," Bruce added. Lois did not know then that weeks later she was to remember that statement like a sharp lash whipped across her heart.

"Yes," Lois agreed, "she is pretty."

It was not until they were seated at a table at the Edgemore hotel that Lois regained the enthusiasm she had before Arlene had been the subject of conversation. When they were there, among the gay couples,

"The Edgemere hotel is no place ti give away secrets"

where music was meted out with the measured beat of young hearts and romance, Lois asked, "What was the surprise you had for me?" She had been a little disappointed that it had not been his folk, whom she had hoped to meet.

Bruce smiled.

"Don't be anxious, young lady. The Edgemore hotel is no place to give away secrets, you know. There are too many people sitting around listening."

They had dinner and danced. Lois never asked for more than to be in Bruce's arms gliding over the smoothly, polished dance floor to the strains of a moaning, crooning orchestra. It was all the heaven she desired. Many times, when things went wrong at the office, she thought of the times she had been in Bruce's arms dancing, or nestled up against his cheek while they sat together in his yellow roadster near the lake front, and things did not seem half so bad.

After dinner Bruce suggested that they go for a ride. Lois wished he would tell her quickly whatever it was that he had in mind. She was nearly dying with curiosity, but she had made up her mind not to ask him again about it.

He drove up to their favorite spot along the lake. The moon was full and round, like a great yellow spot that had been painted on a dark blue sky. Lois thought she always would remember that evening. It was so perfect for romance, made to order for a couple who were in love.

Bruce took her into his arms.

"Lois," he said, "there are so many things I ought to tell you. That we really should talk about."

Lois had a strangely panicky feeling. She thought perhaps he had heard the truth concerning her family. She didn't know what it was.

"But there's only one thing that I'm going to talk about," he went on, "and that's you."

Still Lois did not know what he meant. He was acting so strangely about everything; so mysterious.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, Director, the Record News Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Why isn't the coffee bean powdered in order to remove the caffeine from it?—W. W. T.

A.—The coffee bean is an extremely resistant substance; it is very tough; it is almost impossible to powder it or disintegrate it by pounding, and hence it is quite impracticable to attempt to grind or reduce to a powder the green coffee bean before extraction. If this could take place the actual labor of extracting the caffeine would be very much decreased, and the degree of extraction increased.

Q.—How long has educational week been observed in the United States?—A. A.

A.—The office of education says that Dec. 5-11, 1920, was the first educational week to be nationally observed. Dr. Claxton was the founder of this movement.

Q.—Does a car use more gas when four passengers are carried than when one accompanies the driver? —J. T.

A.—The heavier the load placed in an automobile the more the motor is taxed and the more fuel is required to pull the load. Therefore, it would take more gasoline for four passengers to ride than for one.

Q.—Could a divorced Roman woman wear the stola?—B. A. R.

A.—This outer garment was worn by the matrons of ancient Rome. By law they were forbidden to wear it, if divorced by their husbands.

Q.—How many children of today get enough milk?—P. N.

A.—At the White House conference on child health it was reported that only 57 per cent of the American children have enough milk each day, 3¼ per cent have none at all, and the other 39½ per cent have far too little.

Q.—In referring to P. G. Wodehouse, what is this author's complete name?—E. C.

A.—Pelham Grenville Wodehouse.

Q.—How much money is given for philanthropic purposes in America yearly?—B. F.

A.—Dr. A. J. Todd of Northwestern university estimates the amount at two and one-half billion dollars. About half of the amount goes for religious purposes; 8 per cent for education; 9.2 per cent for health; personal gifts to individuals, 11.6 per cent; and foreign relief, 9.7 per cent.

The Record News Offers Booklet, George Washington Bicentennial

This booklet tells anew in simple narrative form of the man who lead the revolutionary forces in the war for independence, became the first president of the United States, and died with the enviable distinction that he was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." No matter how much you know about George Washington you will find this booklet interesting and it is an invaluable reference in which to find quickly important facts and dates in his life. It also tells the details of the celebration, to be held this year, of the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth. Illustrations are numerous and unusually interesting.

Fill out and mail this coupon today, enclosing ten cents in coin or stamps to cover cost, handling, and postage.

Can Kidney Stones Be Dissolved?

We do not know exactly what causes the formation of a kidney or bladder stone, yet, once it has started, it probably will grow larger through further deposits laid over it. This is one of the strangest disorders known, where the body allows a solid unyielding substance to be formed, which may become so hard it will scratch glass. There may be one large stone which forms a life-size cast of the inside of the kidney or there may be several small stones present. One cannot determine whether or not a stone is present by any examination that can be made at home. The best plan, if you suspect the presence of a kidney stone, is to go to your doctor for an examination. Kidney stones may cause pain which is easily confused with the pain from gas in the intestines, bladder inflammation and other diseases. In many cases it is possible to see a shadow of the stone with the x-ray, but this test is not always conclusive as some of the stones do not show.

It is entirely possible for the stone to be present for years without causing any noticeable symptoms, or there may be attacks of the most severe pain called renal colic, which may be brought on by jolts and jars. The attack of colic may begin with a chill, later fever as high as 103 degrees is sometimes present. A large stone in some cases will not cause as much extreme distress as smaller stones which, in attempting to pass from the kidney, cause stretching, tearing and wounding by the rough jagged edges passing through the ureter. A good description of the pain was given by Montaigne who wrote, "A sharp and craggy stone that cruelly pricks and tears thee." Blood and pus may be passed, and sweating, nausea and vomiting may be associated with the attacks of colic. An odd thing is that the pain may seem to arise from the other kidney.

"Sand" refers to the very small particles which may cause no trouble. "Gravel" is the next larger size, while the stone is the largest. The causes behind the formation of these calculi seem to be abnormal amounts of various acids, such as uric, oxalic acid, etc., or the presence of albumen, blood or mucus in the kidney, or the transference to the kidney of infectious organisms from elsewhere in the body.

In some districts in England the tendency to the formation of stones is so high that they are known as "stone counties." In some American places the composition of water is such that it is thought to produce kidney stones, although this tendency is not as pronounced as in the English counties. People living where the drinking water is bad would do well to use distilled water.

An operation is usually advised by most text books on the subject of kidney stones, but I have handled many cases of this trouble and have seldom been forced to recommend surgical interference. It has been my experience that in most cases kidney stones may be sufficiently dissolved through a proper fasting and dieting regimen to pass down the ureter. Great pain may be felt while this dissolution takes place and the particles are passing through the small openings, and the sufferer must be patient to stand the terrific cramps and spasms from which there is seldom any escape until the pieces pass out. A fruit juice fast and large quantities of distilled water are always to be recommended as the acid fruit juice seems to have a specific effect in dissolving the alkaline concretions. Patients are advised after recovery to drink large quantities of water, use a non-acid forming diet, and to indulge in more vigorous physical exercise.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ankylosis

Question—V. J. C. writes: "I am suffering from anylosis in the hip. It is on the ball joint that goes into the body. I have had x-rays taken, and all kinds of medicine and rubbing. I have been getting worse for five years, until now I can hardly walk. Some doctors advise an operation by scraping the bone. I am 50 years old."

Answer—It is difficult to advise you about your condition without first having the opportunity of making a personal examination. The treatment I employ is by fasting and dieting to remove the toxins which may have accumulated around the joint. I also advise the application of a deep therapy lamp. This regimen should be continued until all inflammation has subsided after which time osteopathic or other manipulative treatments usually prove advantageous.

Sun-Dried Wholewheat Bread

Question — Miss Vera writes: "Kindly give me your opinion of sun-dried wholewheat bread made by mixing wholewheat flour, almond butter, honey and distilled water into a stiff dough, rolling thin and cutting into wafers which are dried in the sun."

Answer—The combination of almond butter and wholewheat flour can be used but the honey mixed with this might cause some gas. Cereals are not as easily digested when raw as when they are well cooked. Some raw foods are necessary to health, but one obtains the greatest benefit from the green vegetables and the fruits.

Losing Voice

Question—S. writes: "A lady at times loses her voice and after taking a drink of water it returns. What causes this? What is a good diet to correct this?"

Answer—A loss of voice which can be cured by drinking water is doubtless caused through contraction of the throat muscles caused by nervousness. This lady needs an examination by a psychoanalyst as well as a throat specialist. A well balanced diet would be helpful in a general way in overcoming some of the causes of nervousness.

Harvard Students and Physicians Stricken

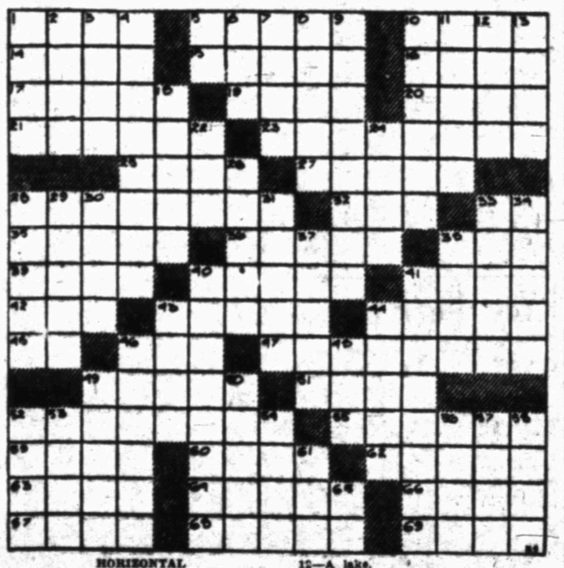

BOSTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—About 50 students and physicians living in Vanderbilt hall of the Harvard Medical school have experienced recently mild cases of what apparently was paratyphoid, it was learned today.

The first 20 of the group fell ill two weeks ago after a fraternity dinner at which Dr. George H. Bigelow, state health commissioner, discussed "Food Poisoning." A few days later 20 more men reported themselves ill.

The food was prepared at the hall and today state health officers planned an examination of kitchen help in the belief that one of the employes may be a typhoid carrier.

All of the students have recovered.

TOONERVILLE TROLLEY By Fontaine Fox

24TH DISTRICT HAS HOT RACE

Howsley Opposes Cunningham for Senate

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—A lively race for the state senate from the 24th district was assured when Representative A. M. Howsley of Albany announced in opposition to the incumbent, Senator Oliver Cunningham of Abilene.

Both are young men; both lawyers, both able debaters; both with records of public service upon which their constituents may judge them. The district is well divided between urban and rural voters and has no geographic advantages for one or the other.

Mr. Cunningham voted against the submission of the highway bond proposal; Mr. Howsley in the house was one of its champions. Howsley, in general, was a supporter of administration measures in the legislature last year; and he was one of the few house members who rose up and denounced the farce of "impeaching" the aged District Judge J. B. Price of having been careless, while cripped and ill, in reviewing the accounts of sheriffs who were awaiting their day in court, and when it was known that the impeachment would not be sustained.

Mr. Howsley, in sending out his announcement for the senate, declared he will hold his campaign to the single issue, "reduction in governmental expenses," rather than the necessary alternative of increased revenues. His platform is based upon his record of fighting for economy measures in the past legislature.

Senator Cunningham has not yet outlined his campaign proposals.

This senatorial district embraces Jones and Shackelford counties, in Howsley's present house district, and Taylor, Scurry, Eastland, Callahan, Fisher, Haskell and Stephens counties.

COMIC QUILT

Quilt making artists of Wichita Falls have a new goal to seek in a cover turned out this week by Miss Mary Deiterman, 2128 Bluff street.

Miss Deiterman has completed a quilt the squares of which reproduce with amazing fidelity most of the comic characters popular with readers of The Record News and Daily Times. On this cover are heads of Major and Mrs. Hoople, the Nebbs, Popeye and Olive Oyl and other characters famous through Record News and Daily Times cartoon pages.

Through Miss Deiterman's courtesy, the quilt has been placed on display at Saul's store, where it may be seen for the next few days. Saul's has shown much interest in the work of quilt makers in this section, and several months ago held a quilt display which attracted hundreds of visitors.

Iowa Park Given Time Extension For City Taxes

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 29.—Iowa Park taxpayers have been officially notified of an extension of time for payment of city taxes from Jan. 31 until March 1. This extra 30 days will be welcomed by many who will take advantage of this extension without penalty. Mayor T. J. Pace said the city needs every available dollar to meet its obligations, and the council felt that this extension of time would help both the city officials and the taxpayers.

OKLAHOMA TO ASK BANK'S AID

Institution Asked to Take $1,000,000 Warrants

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—Oklahoma, with approximately $9,000,000 worth of outstanding nonpayable state warrants, turned to its fiscal agency, the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust company of New York, today for aid.

State Treasurer Ray Weems arranged to ask the Chatham Phenix bank to take $1,000,000 state warrants in addition to about $6,000,000 already taken according to an agreement with the state.

The action, decided on at a conference with Governor Murray and a bankers' committee at the capitol yesterday, followed return by the fiscal agency of about $300,000 in warrants to Oklahoma City and Tulsa banks.

Certain Tulsa and Oklahoma City banks are "playing for" a bond issue, Governor Murray declared. "There is not going to be any bond issue," he added, reiterating his opposition to that means of clearing Oklahoma's huge deficit. He said the state could issue $25,000,000 in warrants without their being discounted and that the Chatham Phenix bank, if necessary, would take that amount.

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Walter Robbins is the champion hard-luck fisherman of these parts. Not that he fails to land a whale or two every time he goes, but whenever he sets out the weather, he says, turns dismal.

Robbins announced Thursday he intended to go fishing at Diversion today with Ed Bristol and Donald McCauley. So Thursday night the cold wave hit.

The cold weather, of course, won't hurt the fishing. But Walter is expecting a rain, snow, or hail storm either today or tomorrow. That's his luck.

The Morning Mail

The Randlett, Okla., Independent basket ball team, per E. R. Etier, who apparently is the team's public relations counsel, fires the following query:

"Dear Rambler: Your corner seems to be an oracle at which all questions pertaining to sports might be answered, so in this moment of dire necessity, we are appealing to Your Omnipotent Highness concerning our burning question:

"What, when, how and the wherefore of the 1932 independent basket ball tournament, if any, to be staged in Wichita Falls this season?

"We, the Randlett Independents, are desirous of entering such an event if there is to be one and also find the limitations and possibilities to be encountered at such an event. And if you have the least helpful information about it, we would be indeed grateful for a little tip.

"Thanking you a lot for this service, we remain,

"Randlett Independents, E. R. Etier, correspondent."

Monsoor, the Rambler wishes to congratulate you on having the fine judgment to bring all your cares and woes to this corner. After years of romance and experience, mostly romance, the Rambler figures he knows a mighty lot, indeed; but more than that, he is actually aflame with desire to help his fellow men, provided they don't try to borrow cash. And so, Monsoor, we grasp pen in claw and send you the following information concerning the independent basket ball tournaments which will be staged in Wichita Falls this season.

We say tournaments, because, Sir, there will be two, and not merely one, as was the case last year. This we have on the authority of Dr. Nat Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, which institution sponsored the tournament last year.

Last year's event proved such a success that it was decided to have two this year. Dates have not been definitely fixed, but the first will be held along about the middle of February and the second about the middle of March.

Both will be invitation tournaments, and the first 16 teams to get their application in will be given berths in the brackets. Last year so many teams applied for admittance that it was necessary to turn some of them down. An entry fee of $5 per team will be charged to defray expenses of the tournaments.

The tournaments, as was the case last year, will be run off on the Floral Heights Presbyterian court, and will be supervised by officials of that church.

And now, Monsoor, may the Randlett corn and cotton crops flourish and bring top prices at the marts of trade, in order that your team may raise the required five simoleons; and further, we wish your goal skinners the best success in the world.

Toothache Dept.

A Crowell basket ball fan dropped in at the Kemp hotel in this city yesterday, filched a couple of sheets of that establishment's stationery and penned the following groan:

"Friend Rambler: Have followed your column quite some time and enjoy it, but have noticed lately you mention every high school basket ball team in this section, except Crowell.

"How come those boys never get any comment from you? You always mention the other teams. The "Big Five" of which you so often speak give me the well-known abdomen laugh.

"Having seen all those teams play it is my honest opinion Crowell can defeat every team in it in one night and throw the Cashion Cats in for appetizers."

The letter is signed "Fair Play."

Monsoor, it is persons like you who are responsible for the current collapse in the economic field. There you are, just hoarding your millions of dollars when you could be buying a nickel newspaper every morning and helping us scribes get a raise in salary. In addition, the nickel newspaper, especially if you purchased this noble sheet, would convince you that the Crowell Wildcats are never overlooked.

The Rambler was very careful to record recently that the Olney Cubs walloped your Wildcats on the night of Jan 12 (I think it was) by the score of 21 to 18. We also recorded that on the night of Jan. 25, at Crowell, the Wildcats thumped the Cubs by the juicy score of 30 to 14.

It is true that we have not indulged in a great deal of editorial comment on the Wildcats. But neither have we rhapsodized symphonically concerning any other team around here. The time for that is after the various cage units have really been under fire and have shown their true stuff.

That time is fast approaching, if indeed it is not already here. And so we will venture the opinion that while Fair Play is right in contending the Wildcats are pretty hot, he leaves us rather cold when he says the Crowell entry can make any other quintet around here look like a bunch of babies skipping the rope.

To get down to the point, we believe our own Wichita Falls Coyotes capable of giving the Crowell lads a good run for their money, or for any other commodity of like value, money being rather scarce these days.

It has been many seasons since we have been so bold as to make such a prediction. But Coach Barry Holton, we believe, has a real team this year. Yes, we believe they can lick the Olney Cubs. Bring 'em on, Albert Acker, bring 'em on!

Tonight our boys go to Electra in quest of a second victory over the Tigers. The Coyotes are doped to win again, and unless they are off their game, they should win handily. They can expect a real scrap—but they can also win if they put up a nip and tuck battle.

The real game comes next Tuesday night, when Vernon plays here. Our lads whipped the Lions at Vernon recently, and if they can win that all-important tussle next Tuesday night here, we will mount the nearest housetop and proclaim to the world that we were, indeed, quite right in our estimate of the Pack.

SARAZEN ONE STROKE BEHIND

Jap Sharpshooter Falters; Turns in 77

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia professional, neglected his celebrated trick shots today long enough to shoot six birdies for a 34-36—70. It was good enough to lead the $2,500 Texas open field at the end of the first 18 of the 72-hole trek.

In 1924 Kirkwood won the Texas open. Today he moved to the front again, but only one stroke ahead of the redoubtable Gene Sarazen, New York professional, who toured the Brackenridge park course in 34-37—71. Sarazen carried a gallery estimated at 1,500 persons.

Tomekichi Miyamoto, open champion of Japan who tied the course record with a 66 and with his partner, Tom Rue of San Antonio, won the amateur-pro event with a 64 for a new course record yesterday was slightly off line with his approach shots today and was seven strokes behind Kirkwood with 39-38—77. He still retained his smooth putting touch and long tee shots.

Chilly Weather Prevails

Competition was in chilly weather. Early starters especially felt the temperature. Sarazen and Kirkwood were late starters along with Harry Cooper of Chicago, who finished in a tie for third place with Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles and Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N. J.

Blazing around the course in par figures, Cooper suffered a couple of penalty strokes on the back nine to ruin his chance for a tie with Kirkwood. After the penalty, he finished with two birdies, taking a two on the 18th hole.

Gus Moreland of Dallas, Texas amateur champion, was an early starter when a stiff gale was blowing across the course. His tee shots strayed and he finished the front nine in 40. On the back nine he shot 35 for a 75.

Hugh Carpenter, Dallas professional, shot the only 73. Carpenter had a chance to tie Kirkwood until the last two holes, but his two fives gave him a 37-36—73.

Plays Despite Fever

At the finish of the initial 18 holes, 59 out of the starting field shot 79 or better. Ralph Guldahl, Detroit professional, who last week won the Arizona open, played with a high fever and against doctor's orders but he made home with a 38-36—74.

Tomorrow the second 18 of the 72 holes will be played and the 64 low shooters will play 36 holes Sunday for first prize money of $600 and 17 smaller money prizes.

Today's 18-hole scores included:

G. W. Shine, Harlingen	38-36—74
Pat O'Brien, Alamo, Texas	37-37—74
Tony Butler, Corpus Christi	37-38—75
Harvey Penick, Austin	37-39—76
Bill Humes, Corpus Christi	38-39—77
Ed Brady, Harlingen	39-38—77
Clarence Hubby, Waco	41-36—77
Dick Metz, Corpus Christi	41-36—77
J. H. Cochran, Orange	40-38—78
Phil Hesler, Wichita Falls	42-40—82

Dizzy Dean Is 'Going Highbrow'

HOUSTON, Jan. 29. (UP)—Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean, colorful Houston pitcher who will be with the St. Louis Cardinals this season, is going in for rhetoric, arithmetic and etiquette in a big way. Dean, adjudged the most valuable player in the Texas league last season, is now in Missouri.

The report that he is going highbrow came today from Andy Anderson, Houston sports editor who wrote Dizzy's life story for him last summer for distribution through a newspaper syndicate. The word came to Anderson from a Houston baseball official who said he actually saw Dean studying a few days ago.

"Well, I knew it was coming," Anderson said. "Dizzy appreciated the story I wrote but indicated before he left here that he was going in for a lot of study so he could write his own yarns.

"'This guy, Gene Tunney,'" said Dizzy, "'was just a prize fighter and he got to be a writer. Also, when I get to mowing them down in the major leagues, these syndicate fellers will all want some dope, and I figure I will save the price of one of those ghost writers.'"

Dean said he was going to brush up on arithmetic so club owners couldn't fool him with contracts and so he could budget his expenses. He has also promised, with his recent bride's help, to rank with the champion dressers in the major leagues.

"Last year," Dizzy told Anderson, "I was just a punk rookie without any rep and no clothes, but watch my smoke this year. Folks will have to look up to the greatest pitcher in the minor leagues, and when I start picking up the right fork at dinner—boy, won't they be fooled?"

Cashion Whips Electrans, 27-25, To Win County Round Robin Title

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 9.—The Cashion Cats, defending Wichita county champions, took a long step in the direction of a second straight county basket ball title here tonight when they defeated the Electra Tigers, 27 to 25 in a torrid battle that gave them the championship of the county round robin tournament.

Whether the Cats are to repeat or not will be decided next Friday and Saturday, when the county tournament proper will be held here. Under existing rules, the winner of the round robin must play the winner of the county tournament for the county title. The Cashionites are heavy favorites to walk through the tournament next week and obviate the necessity of a play-off.

As the score indicates, tonight's game was a close one, lost by the Tigers through no fault of their own. At the half the score was tied 12-all, and through the second canto the lead changed hands time and again. Rutledge, Cashion forward who scored 13 points, was the chief thorn in the side of the Tigers, and his accurate field shots eventually proved too much for the locals.

The Tigers, however, showed much improvement, and the brand of ball they played tonight served as fair warning that the Wichita Falls Coyotes will not be in for an easy evening when they come here to play Saturday night. The Tigers had been doped to lose by a much larger score than tonight's figures.

Foy and McDannald with seven points each were the Tigers' main scorers, while Byrd played a stellar game in breaking up passes.

The score:

TWO DAYS LEFT FOR FISHING

Dispirited Anglers Close Dull Season Sunday

Only a remnant of Wichita Falls' army of anglers, and a dispirited and downcast remnant at that, will set forth Saturday and Sunday to officially close the 1931-32 fishing season, according to reports to The Record News.

The fishermen have two more days to attempt to outsmart the crappie and bass in the three major lakes of the Wichita area. After midnight Sunday, Jan. 31, the three lakes and their tributaries will be closed to all types and kinds of fishing until May 1, the closed period constituting by accurate report the longest three months and the longest 90 days of the year.

With the exception of the fine sport afforded shortly after the opening of the season last spring, the fishing in the three lakes has been far below par. The early fall months failed to produce the fine bass fishing usually found here, although some nice strings were caught. The winter months, usually the prime months of the year for crappie fishing, so far have been almost a blank.

Diversion Lake Best

Reports received by The Record News Friday indicated that Diversion lake is the only "bright" spot on the crappie fishing map at present, and the fishing there isn't anything to get excited about. On Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ebner caught a nice string of the big crappie for which Diversion lake is famous. Mrs. Ebner and three others returned to the lake Thursday and snared 36 fish. O. E. Maer and Don McCauley, two veteran and expert anglers, took only a fair string Thursday after an entire day of hard fishing. Mr. Maer told The Record News that the three persons making up his party caught 21 fish. He expressed the opinion held by most other anglers in this section that the crappie, for some mysterious reason, have not schooled this fall as in past years. Mr. Maer said all of his fish were "singles" and he saw no indications of the large schools usually found after cold weather sets in.

A. C. Ansley, Ollie Presley and Blackie Richardson, three other crack anglers, returned Friday afternoon from Lake Kemp and reported they failed to make a catch. William C. Cave, caretaker and warden at Lake Kemp, told The Record News over the telephone that only a few small crappie were being caught. The water is clear and the road to the lake from Mabelle in fair condition, although rough, Mr. Cave said.

Anglers Seek Cause

Opinion among anglers is pretty well divided as to the cause of the poor crappie fishing this winter. The majority seem to believe that the fish have not schooled, but they have no explanation of why they have failed to do so. Others have expressed fear that the lakes have been "fished out." This theory is somewhat discounted by the Lake Wichita record, where crappie fishing has exhibited the same characteristic this fall as it has at the other lakes. Last year Lake Wichita was praticcally unfished because of the muddy water from floods, but it has afforded little, if any, better fishing this year than have the other two lakes.

Those of an optimistic turn of mind are hoping that the absence of rain for the last week and the cold weather will bring the crappie out in the last two days of the season. Many will have a fling at it Saturday and Sunday, although reports from sporting goods stores and the three lakes indicated that less than half the number that were out on the closing day last year will be found on the lakes this year.

SOUTH BEND COMPANY SHOWS WICHITA BASS

Wichita Falls bass are given publicity in the 1932 catalog of the South Bend Bait company, South Bend, Ind., one of the nation's leading manufacturers of fishing tackle.

The new catalog shows Eugene Nicholson, 2162 Avenue H, with a string of six fine bass taken from Diversion lake. The South Bend catalog is distributed to hundreds of anglers over the nation free of charge. In addition to illustrations of all new and standard lures and tackle, it contains articles written by leading fishing experts of the nation on various methods of bait and fly casting, and other types of fishing.

LEAGUE MEET TODAY

Shreveport's Money Worries Likely to Be Main Topic

HOUSTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—The financial problems facing the Shreveport club probably will be the major discussion of Texas league club owners in their annual schedule meeting here tomorrow.

The club has been in difficulties, but League President Alvin Gardner has been cooperating with President Tom Hickman of Shreveport, and it was generally understood tonight there would be public assurances tomorrow that the Louisiana member would remain in the loop, either through new capital or under the direction of President Hickman.

The owners likewise will adopt the 1932 schedule and consider league sponsorship of a class D league in East Texas, possibly in such towns as Palestine, Tyler, Marshall, Paris and Texarkana.

AIREY REPRESENTS SPUDS AT MEETING

Guy Airey, Spudder secretary, left here early Friday for Houston where he will represent the Wichita Falls club at the scheduled meeting of Texas league club owners.

BUSHY RUSSIAN MEETS SHEIK

Wrestling Bout to Be Held Here Tonight

Russian George Ligosky, the eccentric grappler, will be back on the mat card Saturday night—whiskers and all. The opponent for this week for the big Russian will be Juan Humberto, the clever Mexican sheik, who handed Whitey Grovo his first defeat here in many matches a couple of weeks ago. The matches will be held on Saturday night due to the conflicting date with the show "Crazy Quilt," staged last night.

The sauve and smiling Mexican is one of the fastest workers Bob Connor has brought to Wichita Falls. He keeps continually on the go from start to finish. The Mexican claims that he will pluck even more of the Russian's whiskers than Condell did last week. The rough and ready Russian with his full beard, mean faces and windmill wind up kept the fans in a continual uproar last week and many will welcome Ligosky back.

The match will be supported with a semifinal that should prove to be just as interesting as the main event. Kid Murdock will be back again on this week's card with George Craig, one of the top notchers in the business, as an opponent. Murdock drew his first baptism of fire in the local ring last week when he defeated Otis Clingman, one of the best that Texas has to offer.

In order to give the patrons an opportunity to attend to their Saturday night's shopping, Promoter Connor announced the show will not start until 8:45. There will also be some promising preliminaries on the card.

Crockett Gridders Beat Franklins, 27-13

With King, Crockett halfback, runinng back the opening kickoff of the game 85 yards for a touchdown, the Ben Franklin ward school gridders got off to a bad start yesterday afternoon and took a 27 to 13 drubbing on the Crockett field.

King was the leading scoring threat for the Crocketteers. He made all the touchdowns, while Maxon followed through with line bucks to convert all the extra points. The Ben Franklins made their two touchdowns chiefly with the aid of lateral passes.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—After a slight early decline cotton turned steadier today on continued trade buying and covering stimulated by strength in wheat and a comparative scarcity of contracts after the early offerings had been absorbed.

May, after selling off to 6.77, rallied to 6.87 and closed at 6.84, compared with 6.80 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 4 points higher.

Partial rallies in the stock market as well as the firmness of wheat were contributing factors in the afternoon which carried March up to 6.70 and July to 7.02 or about 4@8 points net higher. The close was a few points off from the best under realizing.

Except for moderate selling at the start, there was little southern pressure in evidence during the day, and local brokers found nothing to indicate any change of importance in the spot situation. General business was compartively quiet.

Houses with Liverpool connections were rather prominent sellers of late months early, which some were inclined to connect with the unsettled labor conditions in Lancashire, but the offerings from that quarter tapered off before the close of the English market.

Liverpool cables reported covering and trade calling in that market and said there was a fair demand for cotton cloths from the British home trade. Exports today 40,582, making 4,835,170 so far this season. Port receipts 47,478. U. S. port stocks 4,696,611.

Futures closed steady, unchanged to 4 points higher. Spot steady; middling, 6.75.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29. (AP)—The cotton market, after opening steady and fairly active on overnight buying orders and gaining 1 to 3 points, soon turned quiet and easier in sympathy with stocks and declined 3 to 5 points from the opening highs. During the afternoon trading became a little more active and prices rallied 8 to 9 points in sympathy with a recovery in stocks and an advance in grain. The market was quieter at the end and eased off 2 to 3 points on realizing, closing quiet and steady at net gains for the day of 4 to 6 points.

The market had a fairly active and steady opening. Liverpool cables came in as due to 2 penny points better than due.

March closed at 6.68, up 6 points net for the day. May at 6.84, up 4 points net and July at 7.00, also up 4 points net.

Port receipts 50,346; for week 285,416; for season 7,507,511; last season 7,535,845; exports 40,582; for week 183,113; for season 4,735,646; last season 4,326,809. Port stock 5,012,973. Last year 4,226,984; combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 207,713; last year 105,380. Spot sales at southern markets 30,183; last year 10,628.

Further Delay in Rail Conference Influences Heaviness of Securities

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—Although able to reduce its extreme losses, the stock market closed heavy today, doubtless discouraged by delays at the Chicago rail conference.

Far eastern affairs found their reflection in offerings of Japanese bonds, a sagging yen and finally, during the final hour, in a bidding up of copper and steel stocks, a move which could easily be attributed to speculative quarters which were anticipating a possible demand for such materials should the Chinese situation take a more serious turn. However, rails had a weak closing and the market generally was inclined to follow them. Net changes averaged into a decline of seven-tenths of a point. Transactions totaling 1,528,855 shares were considerably larger than yesterday's.

At their lows prominent issues showed losses of 1 to 3 points. These were reduced or canceled in the fifth trading hour coincident with a two-cent rally by wheat and the firmer appearance of the metals.

When the month began Wall street believed the railroad wage question would proceed more promptly to a settlement than has been the case. Although delays occasioned by bargaining were expected it was felt the negotiations would move rather quickly and their duration has rather tried the patience of speculative quarters which have governed their market operations by the day to day news from Chicago. In some brokerage houses the question has recently been raised as to how much of a market boon the acceptance of a cut would now prove to be.

Business trends during the first month of the year have failed to stimulate enthusiasm, but the financial community had been well prepared for negative results and so is probably not unduly disappointed. There have been some scattered gains, although these have mostly kept below seasonal standards.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Rapid onset of a sub zero wave, with millions of acres of domestic winter wheat unprotected by snow, startled grain traders today, and prices jumped quickly.

Anxiety about hostilities in Shanghai did much also to hoist grain. Big buying on the part of houses with eastern connections was a feautre of wheat trade at the last.

Wheat closed strong at the day's top level, 2@2¼c above yesterday's finish, corn ⅜@1¼c up, oats ⅝@¾c advanced, and provisions unchanged to 5c down.

Chances that livestock feeding would increase owing to low temperatures had a bullish effect on corn and oats. Furthermore, primary receipts of all grain continued much smaller than a year ago.

Provisions sympathized with downturns in hog values but later were steadier by grain strength.

Closing indemnities: Wheat 59@59¼, 61½@⅝; July 59¼@½, 62@62⅛; Sept. 60⅝, 63⅝. Corn, May 40⅝@¾; 41⅞@42; July 42⅝@¾, 43⅝.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Receipts of cattle at 11 markets totaled around 14,000 which was about 6,000 greater than last Friday. The decrease in arrivals for the week together with a fairly broad outside demand has aided materially in bringing about a gradual 25@50c price advance since Monday on steers and yearlings. General bulk of steers and yearlings sold at $4.50@7.00 with a few loads of mostly good kinds at $7.50@8.75. Supplies of stockers and feeders were practically lacking with prices quoted steady. Most replacement steers sell at $4.00@5.50.

Hogs were considered as steady to 10c lower with most of the decline coming on heavy weight offerings. Chicago and St. Louis scored the day's top of $4.10.

Lambs moved at steady to 25c higher levels with most better grade wooled lambs at $5.75@6.25 and a few loads to outsiders at $6.35@6.50. Medium to good clipped kinds brought $4.50@5.25.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 37,000; 10c lower; top, $4.10; bulk, $3.60@4; heavy, $3.60@3.80; medium, $3.80@4.10; light, $3.75@4.10; light lights, $3.60@4; packing sows, $3@3.40; pigs, $3.10@3.60; holdovers, 8,000.

Cattle—Receipts 3,000; steady; calves 1,000; steady. Beef steers, good and choice, $7.50@10; common and medium $4.50@7.50; yearlings, $6@9.50; butcher cattle, heifers, $3@6.50; cows, $2.75@5; bulls, $3.25@5; calves, $6.50@9.50; feeder steers, $4@5.50; stocker steers, $3.50@5.50; stocker cows and heifers, $3@4.

Sheep—Receipts 22,000; 25c lower.

Lambs—$5.50@6.25; common, $4@5; yearlings, $4@4.75; feeders, $4.50@5; ewes, $1@3.25.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29. (AP)—Cattle—Receipts 900. Calves—Receipts 200; handyweight and weighty steers, $5.50@5.60, respectively; bulk steers, $4.50@5.25; good to choice fat beef cows, $3.50@4.00; yearling heifers to $5.50; beef bulls to $3.50; calves steady to strong; good to choice yearlings to $5.00; fancy veals to $6.00.

Hogs—Receipts 1,400; 5c loss; outsider peak, $4.15; packer top and bulk, $4.05; sows and stags, $3.00.

Sheep—Receipts 200; bulk truckin native lambs 10c higher; top moved up to $5.35 on good to choice offerings; load lots steady at $5.55; top; throwouts, $3@3.50.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Hogs—Receipts 1,300; truck hogs 5c higher; top and bulk good to choice, 175 to 240-pound truck hogs, $4.15.

Cattle—Receipts 1,900. Calves—Receipts 400; market very slow; slaughter cattle weak to lower; market as a whole closing 25c lower on slaughter steers and butcher cows with slaughter yearlings 25 to 50c lower for week; slaughter steers of value to sell around $3.85@5.00; strictly good fat yearlings, $6.00; butcher cows, $2.75; stocker trade poorly tested; slaughter calves slow to lower, bidding under $5.00 on good heavy fat calves.

Sheep—Receipts 5,000; receipts mostly fat lambs; packers bidding 25c lower; good truck lambs up to $5.00, or steady.

WELLINGTON SPUR MAPPED

Route Outlined for Denver Branch to Pampa

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Jan. 29.—Representatives of the Fort Worth and Denver Northern have announced the route of their rails through Wellington and the site of their depot here, after having completed the securing of practically all right of way through the city limits.

The Denver's extension from Childress to Pampa will enter Wellington in block No. 18, crossing Fifteenth street and running in a northwesterly direction after entering the city limits until after crossing Corsicana street. Immediately after crossing Corsicana street, the route will run due north through to Third street where it will again take a northwesterly direction, leaving the city limits on block No. 52 and crossing the Somerville property north of the city.

The Wellington depot will be located on Corsicana street between Eighth and Ninth streets, adjacent to Ninth. This location is three blocks east of the Wellington square. The Denver will build an attractive brick depot, construction upon which will be started just as soon as the rails reach Wellington. The Denver will not build stockyards here within the immediate future, it has been announced. The Katy's stockyards will be used by the Denver temporarily and until negotiations can be completed which will enable the Denver to locate its own yards.

Unless extremely unfavorable weather occurs the rails should reach Wellington not later than April 10 and possibly earlier. The tracks have already been laid from Childress to Red river and construction upon the Red river bridge is practically completed at this time. The laying of rails from the bridge north to Wellington is scheduled to start at once. Workmen will begin construction on the grade through Wellington city limits Feb. 15, it is reported. Practically all the heavy work in connection with the grading along the entire route from Childress through Wellington and Shamrock to Pampa has already been finished.

Jury Debates Issues in $100,000 Damage Suit

Deliberations were begun about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon by a jury before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court in the suit of T. P. Duncan against John Alexander of Denton for $100,000 damages.

Instituted Monday morning, the trial involved the taking of voluminous testimony, and many issues were involved in the court's charge, it was said. Attorneys in the case predicted that no verdict would be reached before Saturday afternoon.

The plaintiff charged fraudulent misrepresentation of fact with reference to a transaction about three years ago in which he bought a controlling interest in the Alliance Milling company at Denton.

STORE SETS SALES RECORD

J. C. Penney Business Nearly Double '31 Record

If business is dull, it hasn't been noticed at the J. C. Penney company store here.

J. F. Lukes, new manager of the concern, said Friday that January business already has exceeded sales for any similar month in the store's history. With the close of the month Saturday business will have exceeded by more than 90 per cent the business of the store in January, 1931, it was declared.

With sales this month running almost twice as much as for last January, Mr. Lukes predicted that the Wichita Falls store will rank first among the J. C. Penney branches in the United States for average gain in business.

Business during January, he said, compares favorably with business during the holiday season. The same number of sales persons used during the Christmas season are now employed at the store here as proof of business unprecedented at the same time of year during the 15 years the J. C. Penney branch has been established in Wichita Falls.

During the holidays 18 additional sales persons were put on the pay roll of the company, to bring the total number of employes to 41. Business has been so active, it was said, that all employes have been required to take care of sales.

Although January in the mercantile trades is a particularly dull month, the J. C. Penney branch here exceeded the 1931 January sales on Jan. 16, this year. More than a 100 per cent gain would have resulted had weather been more favorable for shopping last week, Mr. Lukes added.

Mr. Lukes, the manager, will leave Sunday for a convention of company managers of 10 states to open next week in Dallas.

HAS MOST STAMPS

The world's biggest stamp collection is said to be that of the family of Baron P. von Ferrary, of Paris. This was begun in 1865, and has cost its owner about $2,000,000 up to date.

Oklahoma Man, Fed Through Tube For Three Years, Wins Way to Health

Unusual Operation Performed by Wichita Falls Surgeon Saves Life of Ardmore Resident

How an Ardmore, Okla., man for almost three years has taken nourishment only through a special tube to his stomach, and how the medical and surgical skill of a Wichita Falls physician saved the man's life are told in a recent issue of the Daily Ardmoreite, newspaper of Ardmore, Okla.

Dr. R. L. Hargrave, head of the Hargrave-Walker hospital here, performed the unusual operation and installed the tube after the Ardmore man had consulted some 300 physicians over a long period of years. The man now takes food through the tube without loss of strength, and goes about his daily work without handicap. The complete story, as published in the Daily Ardmoreite, follows:

For almost three years an Ardmore man without serious handicap in physical strength, has received nourishment only through a special tube to his stomach.

M. F. Kinney, 606 Eleventh avenue northwest, wood carver and furniture repairer, cheerfully goes about his daily business with a disability among the rarest in medical annals.

Stricken by a peculiar malady more than 30 years ago, the entrance to his stomach slowly closed until three years ago the passage became entirely blocked. The present arrangement for feeding himself was made following an operation.

First symptoms of the obstruction had been noted when the 64-year-old pioneer moved here from Denison, Texas, in 1890. A piece of meat that would not pass through the esophagus was the first hint of trouble.

Gradually the condition grew worse until he was unable to eat solid foods without great pain and a choky feeling. Physicians diagnosed the malady as either stomach ulcers or cancer.

300 Doctors Consulted

Many doctors were consulted during the 30 years. "I suppose as many as 300 doctors examined me or were consulted," he estimates. Only two of them considered it might be a closing of the passageway not occasioned by either cancer or ulcers.

During a short period several years ago his food was taken through a tube swallowed and forced into the stomach, but the opening became so small and the esophagus above had become enlarged to such proportions that this soon became impossible.

The discovery that food might be taken in this manner was made while Kinney was having a series of examinations with a stomach pump in an effort to determine if the cause was cancer.

Each day the test had failed to register normal, until the last day when he noticed that the tube seemed to go farther than usual. It was normal that time. He tried it and it was successful for a time. During the period his general health improved greatly.

The esophagus above the obstruction had enlarged by efforts to force food through the small opening until its volume was almost a quart. Food eaten normally would soon be vomited.

Underwent Operation

His condition became so acute in the spring of 1929 that no nourishment could be swallowed. While on a visit to Wichita Falls, Texas, a son persuaded him to have an operation, although Kinney had little hope for recovery.

When they placed him on the operation table, July 3, 1929, he had not eaten for six weeks, weighing less than 100 pounds. So low was his physical strength that the physicians feared to use even a local anaesthetic, and he volunteered to have the operation without a deadening of the nerves.

For one hour and 20 minutes he lay on the table while Dr. R. L. Hargrave of Hargrave-Walker sanitarium opened his stomach and examined it. The opening from the esophagus had closed tight and all efforts to open it were futile.

The stomach was found in perfect condition, however. The tube was left as a feeding method. Within four days the patient was being wheeled about the hospital. In 32 days he was back in Ardmore at work.

Physicians who examined him when he left the sanitarium pronounced him in perfect physical condition except for this unusual malady. They estimated his life span could be 20 more years.

Feeding himself is a twofold problem for Kenney. At each meal time he grinds up food and pumps it into his stomach through the tube. Then to satisfy hunger for the taste of food he eats normally but not in a large amount. This food goes into the enlarged esophagus and must soon be expelled.

Jokes About Candy

Joking about his condition, he finds some genuine advantages to feeding himself through a tube. "I can eat all the candy or other food I want to without ill effects since it never gets into my stomach," he points out.

PARKER CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Oil Operator Ordered to Appear Feb. 15

James E. Parker, released three days ago under $3,000 appearance bond on a charge of assault to murder, is to be tried before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court on Feb. 15 for contempt of court, it was announced Friday.

Citation of Parker for contempt was occasioned by his alleged violation of an injunction issued last Sept. 9 by Judge Martin, forbidding Parker to dispose of any property owned in community with his wife, Mrs. LaVina Parker, or to molest her in any way. The order was issued after a divorce suit had been filed by Mrs. Parker. Parker was placed under recognizance bond of $500 for appearance on Feb. 15.

On Jan. 19, Mrs. Parker was shot twice when called to a car parked in front of her home here. Her husband shortly thereafter surrendered to city police. At the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital, Mrs. Parker is said to be convalescing rapidly from her wounds.

A receiver for all of James E. Parker's property was appointed last Tuesday morning by Judge Martin upon application of Mrs. Parker.

There were 1,471 suicides in New York City last year, or nearly twice the number in 1920.

FARM BUREAU SESSION ENDS

El Paso Man Elected New President

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP)—The Texas Farm Bureau Federation elected F. P. Frist of El Paso president and John T. Orr of Dallas vice president today at the closing session of the 12th annual convention.

Delegates then turned to resolutions demanding economic, social and political reforms.

Abolition of the fee system and substitution of a straight salary basis for all county and state officials was demanded in one of the resolutions.

Establishment of eight per cent as the maximum legal interest rate was asked in another resolution.

A third favored adoption of a constitutional amendment providing a tax exemption of $3,000 on all Texas homes.

Taxing incomes, inheritances, intangible assets, severances and evidences of indebtedness, the latter to be paid by holder of the evidences, was urged in another recommendation.

This step was explained "as one means of affording some relief to oppressed agriculture and to encourage farm home ownership."

Submission of a constitutional amendment authorizing graduated income taxes in Texas was asked.

It was charged that appointments to the board of regents of Texas agricultural colleges and other boards having to do with agricultural matters were regarded as political spoils. Consideration to farmers was asked in these appointments.

Policies of the American Farm Bureau Federation were endorsed in full, with special commendation for the stand on the federal marketing act, the taxation tariff and water users problems.

The Interstate Commerce commission was called upon to establish equal domestic rates for articles of similar classifications.

The convention also voted to act upon requests of East Texas tomato growers and Rio Grande citrus growers to organize cooperative marketing organizations for these commodities.

More collective thinking, planning and action was advocated by F. P. Burdick, speaking for the Texas Livestock Marketing association of Fort Worth.

There's real economy in serving Shredded Wheat—and that means more buying power for the family income. There's good health in such a nourishing, wholesome food—and that helps toward greater earnings for the family provider.
Shredded Wheat offers lots of food for the money. It is a complete meal when served with milk, giving you all the essential food elements in balanced form. It is rich in vitamins too, and also provides plenty of bran in a healthful way. Shredded Wheat is just pure whole wheat, steam cooked, shredded and baked, to make it easily digestible and delightfully tasty. No wonder it is so popular these days when you want all you can get for your money!
Serve it tomorrow with hot milk—the whole family will enjoy it.
