SCRAPE, SCRAPE, SCRAPE

If you had trouble this morning scraping the frost off your car windows you weren't the only one. Performing this service — with a smile — is young David Deck, 9 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Deck, 2207 Nelson. The happy "motorist" is Elaine Deck, David's six year-old sister. All of this happened before school, of course. The shroud of thick fog which covered Pampa Sunday night and Monday is expected to be followed by snow.

Surprise Cold Front Brings Frost to Texas, But No Rain

United Press International
Winter threw another light-weight punch at Texas today in the wake of a sunny, springlike week end.
A cold front that hadn't been expected—at least quite so soon—pushed across the state this morning, bringing freezing temperatures as far southeastward as a Wichita Falls-Abiene line but with little promise of needed moisture.
Temperatures soared to the state's highs of 76 at Childress, Lubbock, Wink and Presidio and to 75 at Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells.

But, by 6 a. m. today the mercury had plummeted to 55 at Lubbock, 53 at Wichita Falls, 54 at Midland and Presidio, while the state's lows were 23 at D'Arhart and 24 at Amarillo.
Temperatures weren't dropping sharply behind the front, however. Readings changed only 11 degrees—from 55 to 44—between 3 a. m. and 7 a. m. at Dallas after the frontal passage.

No rain was reported in the state at daylight except for drizzle at Wichita Falls, although fog was forming a light-glass in the Panhandle.

Other overnight lows up to 6 a. m. included 33 at Abilene, 42 at Lufkin, 43 at El Paso, 44 at Fort Worth, 45 at Beaumont, 46 at Arthur, 48 at Houston, 50 at San Angelo, Victoria and Corpus Christi, 51 at Waco and Galveston, 52 at Dallas, 53 at Texarkana, San Antonio and Laredo and 54 at Austin and Brownsville.

Forecasts said some light rain might be expected in the southern portions of the state as the cloud cover moves in with the front.

Temperatures tonight were expected to drop to between 20 and 30 degrees in the Panhandle and South Plains and between 25 and 35 in north central Texas.

Outlook Is Bright For Hawaii As 50th State

GOP Approval Is Looked For

FIDEL CASTRO ... trials to re-open

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Eisenhower administration was expected to wish "bon voyage" today to a bill which would make the eight sun-kissed Hawaiian islands the 50th state of the union. The outlook for clear sailing through Congress is bright.

proval by Easter, March 29. The stiffest opposition was expected from Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) of the powerful House Rules Committee which temporarily sidetracked action on Alaskan statehood last year. Other Southern lawmakers also were expected to fight against statehood for the Pacific territory.

FRED A. SEATON ... back to Hawaii

A virtual parade of top defense officials trooped to congressional hearings to defend various sections of Eisenhower's $1 billion dollar military budget against Democratic charges that it is too small.

Nation Is Sliced In Half By Jet

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Breakfast at eight in Los Angeles and lunch at noon in New York was a fact today in a nation sliced in half by jet-age passenger service.

The historic American Airlines flight was completed Sunday night from west-to-east in 4 hours and 3 minutes and from east-to-west in 6 hours and 12 minutes, despite fierce head winds on the return leg.

The inauguration of the nation's first transcontinental jet passenger service was made with a sleek, four-jet Boeing 707—a 4-million-dollar plane, nearly half as long as a football field.

The passenger list read like a who's who of the world of entertainment, industry, sports, arts and religion. One hundred and twelve passengers made the flight both ways.

Post Carl Sandburg dedicated the flight to New York before the beginning of its westbound flight.

"We salute the intelligence and the daring of men that has brought this strange and blessed device, now so familiarly known as the passenger jet plane," Sandburg said.

"And don't we all know this is only a beginning and a promise."

Takes Off Late

The eastbound flight began Sunday at the Los Angeles International Airport.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown's wife, Bernice, pressed the button that started the engines.

Roaring aloft 15 minutes late because of confusion of radio messages, the jet swept eastward flying over Las Vegas, Nev., in 37 minutes, dashed over Bryce Canyon, Utah; Denver, Des Moines, Cleveland and Allentown, Pa.

Triumphant Castro Returns From Visit

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY
United Press International
HAVANA (UPI)—Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro returns today from his triumphant Venezuelan visit shortly before the start of Havana's second "war crimes" trial at Cuban army headquarters.

Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes, accused of being one of ex-President Fulgencio Batista's three top hatchet men, goes before an army court this afternoon at army headquarters at Camp Liberty (formerly Camp Columbia).

The third of the trio, Lt. Col. Ricardo Lelis Grau, is to be tried as soon as this trial is over. One, Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, was convicted and condemned to death last week in a public trial at a sports palace.

Before leaving Caracas, Castro said Sosa Blanco — now awaiting the outcome of an appeal — must be executed because "he is one of the worst war criminals."

"If he is not shot," Castro said, "no one else could be executed."

Humberto Sorí Marin, army's judge advocate and chief prosecutor, said today's trial site was switched from the Sports Palace at insistence of the Cuban Sports Commission which said it needed the stadium for scheduled professional boxing and wrestling events.

No More Spectacles
Sorí Marin said the public and press with the exception of radio and television men would be admitted to the rest of the trial. But there will be no such spectacle as last Thursday when an estimated 30,000 jeering persons watched the proceedings.

Meanwhile most of the 300 foreign newsmen invited here last week for the trials and Wednesday's giant rally at government expense were preparing to return home this afternoon. It was not known if Castro would see them before they left.

United Press International correspondents in the provincial capitals reported trials and secret executions were continued. They were accompanied by public rallies in which speakers denounced foreign criticism of "revolutionary justice."

Pope Calls Council Of Church Leaders

First In 89 Years; 1,800 Church Heads Summoned

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
United Press International

POPE JOHN XXIII ... wants unity

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII launched the Roman Catholic world today on a new offensive to win back the Eastern Catholic and Western Protestant churches into the church of Rome.

He called the church's 1,800 cardinals, archbishops, bishop, patriarchs, and other top spiritual leaders to the Vatican for the first ecumenical council in 89 years.

An ecumenical council is the most important meeting of church leaders in Roman Catholic dogma. Only 20 have been held in the history of the church and ecumenical decrees passed with the Pope's approval are considered infallible.

The Pope did not set a date for the council, but Vatican sources said it probably would be held this year. They said several months of intense preparation would be needed before the gathering could take place.

Announces Forthcoming Council
Pope John announced the forthcoming council in a speech to 21 cardinals Sunday during a visit to the Rome Basilica of St. Paul outside the Vatican.

In addition to calling the council, the Pope, as bishop of Rome, summoned a diocesan synod for the city to discuss the "grave problems" and "increasing menaces" to the spiritual life of the faithful.

A summary of his address issued by the Vatican press office said the ecumenical council would aim "not only toward the edification of the Christian people, but likewise wishes to be an invitation to separate communities for the search of unity which so many souls today ardently desire from all points of the earth."

Vatican sources said the Pope's first aim appeared to be a reunion with the Eastern orthodox churches which split off from the Roman Church about 900 years ago.

Anything that will be a step toward unity of churches would be welcome," he said, "but it would have to be recognized that it would be a mutual coming together, not under conditions laid down by one church for all others."

The Rev. Mr. Dahlberg stressed, however, that Protestants will not countenance being looked upon as "separated Christians" returning to the church of Rome.

Metropolitan Anthony Bashir, archbishop of the Syrian Antiochian Orthodox archdiocese here, said the "peoples of the East" were always willing to welcome such moves, providing they are sincere.

But he did not find any reason why the apostolic churches should be divided. Metropolitan Bashir said, "There is only one holy apostolic church. Its differences could be ironed out in ecumenical councils."

The metropolitan said one way of reaching understanding would be to go back to the unity that existed before the great schism of 1054. He said a study should be made of the dogma and doctrine that existed then, and all that has divided Christendom since then should be discarded.

"But when one side wants to rule the other, then I am sure the eastern churches will never take it," he said.

Snow Puts New Burden On Backs Of Flood Victims

United Press International
A snow storm swept out of the Midwest into the East today, bringing new woes to residents of flood devastated sections of Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Up to five inches of snow was expected at Meadville in the hard-hit northwestern Pennsylvania flood region. Three to five inches of snow blanketed western Pennsylvania Sunday, including four inches at Erie, and one to three inches fell in the south portion of the state.

Although floodwaters receded rapidly in Ohio and Pennsylvania after four days of destruction, the new snow hampered utility workers trying to restore power and plug breaks in gas and water lines.

Lesser snowfall amounts hit northern Ohio and rain fell in some southern areas, slowing the efforts of flood victims in their struggle to clean up properties and resume normal living.

Close Mine Hole
Rescue workers at Pittston, Pa., closed a gaping hole in the Susquehanna River through which floodwaters poured into an anthracite mine, trapping 12 miners underground. There was little hope the miners would be found alive.

Damage in the surge of snow storms and floods which began last Tuesday climbed to more (See SNOW, Page 8)

Mothers' March Against Polio Set For Tonight

Thirty seconds of sound will usher in the 1959 Mothers' March Against Polio tonight at 7. Like a well-run parade, the Mother's March will be heralded by the sirens of police patrol cars and, in this case, the fire siren.

Turn on your porch lights, citizens of Pampa. Only tonight will the mothers march. The house-to-house solicitation will be packed into one hour of a chilly January evening. Give $5 and you get a gift certificate for a six-pack of cokes.

You can tell a Marching Mother by the arm band on her sleeve and the MOD receipt that she gives you. "We're not going to miss a block," says Mrs. R. A. Mack, Mothers' marshal.

Mothers will also march against polio tonight in both McLean and Letors.

Tonight the wall of the street will carry to colored town where marching mothers are highly organized. Colored town is conducting its own campaign this year.

The ballooning January campaign hits a new high this week. Everybody wants to get into the act or is already in it. Mrs. Merlie Kenemer of Merlie's Cafe is selling home baked cakes at $1 a slice, that's $1 to the March of Dimes, and get this, $8 a cake. She's already made $135.

J. C. Roberts, an active Lion, will be the official keeper of the goat. Roberts is looking for a goat to do yeoman service in the downtown campaign.

Tickets go on sale Tuesday afternoon for "Around the World in 800," a musical style, s.h.a. "Around the World" will have no goats, but a bevy of dancers and models from Pampa High School and the Beaux Arts Dance Studio.

The teenagers will sell you a ticket for 15 cents, if you're an adult, or 10 cents if you're a student. The show will be staged at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the PHS Auditorium.

Sportsmen, call Mrs. Joe Edwards, MO 5-3312, to put your money on Points for Polio. Pampa will be playing Berger in basketball Friday night and fans are pledging money for every Pampa point. Should be a moneymaker.

Then get ready to cast your contribution in a service club bucket Saturday when Pampa's Fighting Fathers form a city-wide Bucket Brigade. Men from all the service clubs will participate in this ten hour, nine street-corner fight against polio. The newly formed Pampa High School Key Club will have young men on the Malone Pharmacy corner.

The Bucket Brigade will break up at 8 p.m. so that men can count money. At 7:30 p.m. the teenagers will stage their style show and at 9 p.m. the Elks and Moose Clubs will launch all night dances for the March of Dimes. The Elks dance, $2.50 per couple, will be limited to members and guests but the $1.50 per person Moose ball will be open to the public.

PAMPA'S MARCHING MOTHERS

Mrs. R. A. Mack, right and Mrs. B. E. Tidwell get in a little practice solicitation on Mrs. James Lewis, left. The women are shown practicing for a Mothers' March Against Polio, slated for 7 p.m. today.

Alcorn Calls For Revision

Personality Spotlight
United Press International MEADE ALCORN—Republican national chairman, who has called for a far-reaching program to rebuild and remodel the GOP.

Meade Alcorn, once an intercollegiate champion in the low hurdles, hit one last fall that he couldn't clear.

He was chairman of the Republican National Committee and hence the operating boss of the party organization until the GOP suffered one of its worst congressional election defeats.

No one assigned much of the blame to him and no one demanded that he be dumped. So he now is President Eisenhower's agent in the agonizing appraisal which the GOP hopes will lead to a rejuvenation and face-lifting program to show the party how to win again.

A native of Connecticut, he attended Dartmouth College, where he was the champ in the indoor 60-yard low hurdles and a classmate of Nelson A. Rockefeller, now governor of New York. Now a wiry 51, he still looks like a hurdler.

He later was graduated from Yale Law School and, like his father, served as Connecticut State's attorney. He also served in the Legislature and as speaker of the state House of Representatives.

Alcorn has remarried since the death of his first wife and has a daughter, Eileen, attending Colby Junior College.

Elected Republican national committeeman from Connecticut, he was impressive as manager of the 1956 Republican convention at San Francisco.

DEAR ABBY...

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The 15-year-old girl we use as a baby-sitter has been very dependable in the past, but we heard something which disturbs us and we don't know what to do about it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman (divorced) who has been going with a single man (widowed) for six years.

DEAR BOTHERED PARENTS: Talk to the girl about it. If she is keeping company with a boy who has so little character, she needs more guidance than she is getting.

DEAR MABEL: A man who obviously has no respect for a woman's marriage vows is a pretty poor risk for a marriage of his own.

DEAR FORGOTTEN: A wife will "protect" herself against being "forgotten" on special occasions.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are happily married and have a beautiful 6-month-old baby boy.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. C. A.: Get in touch with your local Adoption Agencies. While your motives are noble, your chances for adopting a baby when you are able to have your own are very slim.

CONFIDENTIAL TO KEN: Whether a man winds up with a nest egg or a goose egg depends on the chick he marries.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman (divorced) who has been going with a single man (widowed) for six years.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By STARKEY WHITEHORN

It would seem to me as if there is only one outdoor magazine that would be specifically adapted to outdoor readers in Texas — namely, the "Texas Game and Fish," which is published almost exclusively with Texas hunting and fishing articles...

In the November issue there is a very interesting feature about game calling. Russell Tinsley is the author and he has an interesting story about two veteran game-calling rovers when he narrates about Winston and Murry Burnham...

"Calling wild animals is easier than most people realize. Commercial calls have put animal calling within the realm of anyone's ability. According to the Burnham brothers, the biggest mistake made by most novice callers is to hunt in areas where there are no foxes."

"If you find a spot where you know there are foxes, you've got the battle practically won," Winston said.

The Burnham brothers use camouflage suits so they remain hidden. They crouch near a bush or low-hanging tree where the camouflage clothing will blend with the foliage. Then they start calling, looking intently in all directions. If after 10 or 15 minutes they haven't brought anything up, they change locations.

Wind Most Important

The most important factor to consider is wind. Nothing spooks an animal quicker than a whiff of human odor. Animals usually will approach from down wind so that the direction a caller should approach from is of great importance.

The basic call is one that imitates the cry of a rabbit in distress. This is the most of the predators. But two of the brothers' most successful evolutions have been calls for deer and coons. Strangely, the rabbit-cry call wasn't too successful on coons, and they didn't have much success luring ringtails until they changed to a broken-winged sea gull and imitated its cry.

"We've called coons from a boat on Granite Shoals Lake and had them swim more than 100 feet of water to get to the source of the cry," Murry revealed.

"A fox, despite the tale, told me that he has been called by a rabbit cry. He said that he has been called by a rabbit cry and he has been called by a rabbit cry."

Night Best For Calling

The best time for animal calling is at night, preferably when there is a little or no moon.

"By day a caller must find where animals are denning. But at night they are on the prowl and are much easier to bring within bow-and-arrow range," said Winston.

Use a headlight and stand where you can pivot about, covering lots of open country to pinpoint any approaching game. Keep the beam high and incoming animals won't scare as easily. Even the slightest bit of light on the outer fringe of the beam will reflect an animal's eyes.

"Once you sight the faint glow of eyes, keep the beam high and keep calling. Ease down on the volume once the animal is within range where its eyes will reflect light. If not, a harsh call will scare him off."

"Before you try this night calling, it is best to check with both the landowner and a game warden. Most ranchers and farmers want predators controlled and will gladly tender permission for hunting. The game warden wants to make sure you aren't headlamping deer."

"When calling animals, it is best to remember to be alert. A hungry animal frequently will rush in blindly and wildly, ready to gobble up whatever is doing that weird squalling. No longer are you the hunter, but the hunted."

Cub Manager Is Optimistic

By BOB SCHEFFING
Manager, Chicago Cubs
Written For UPI

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs have first division potential, and we almost made it last year.

I'm not predicting anything for the 1959 season, but I wouldn't be surprised if we're among the first four teams, especially if injuries don't plague our young, but promising pitching staff.

What hurt us last year, when we were going pretty good, only two and one-half games out of the lead on July 15th, was the arm injury to one of our top right-handed pitchers, Moe Drabowsky. He didn't pitch again, and we slid out of the role of pennant challenger into the second division. I'm told he's ready again, but we're bringing him to spring camp early to have a good look at him.

"We've been coming up a little bit each season. We tied with the Cardinals for fifth last year, finished seventh the year before. That's not bad progress on our rebuilding timetable, since three seasons ago the Cubs were last."

We don't have any trades cooking, but that doesn't mean we wouldn't make a deal or two to get a seasoned pitcher to go along with our youngsters. There's only one of the pitching youngsters over 24, and that's Dave Hillman. Drabowsky, Dick Drott, Glen Hobbie, our top winner last year, Bob Anderson, Hillman, Taylor Phillips and Johnny Briggs offer a good group to select the starters from, and we've got Don Euston back for relief.

In Ernie Banks, the Cubs have the National League's Most Valuable Player and top slugger. For my money, he's the best in baseball. He does everything well but because of the way he swings that bat, many fans forget he's a fine fielding shortstop too.

Bobby Thomson, Lee Walls and Walt Moryn certainly came through for us in the outfield last year, each of them hitting more than 20 homers.

Al Dark looks like he's got a lot of baseball left in him at third base. He got in 140 games last year, hit near 300, and did a real job for us.

Tony Taylor, a rookie last year, is back at second base, and Dale Long is at first, supported by Jim Marshall, whom we bought from Baltimore last August.

Catching are Cal Neeman and Sammy Taylor. Last year they traded the catching duties just about evenly, with Taylor, a left-handed hitter, in the lineup against right-handed pitchers. I say all these fellows add up to a potentially tough ball club, because they've proven they can win. If we could have added the first half of the 1957 season to the last half of last season, we'd have a pennant winning percentage.

Holladay Is Panhandle's 1958 Coach Of The Year

AMARILLO — Applause, funny stories and sports celebrities (both past and present) were at a preliminary Sunday night as some 300 persons attended the first annual Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame Banquet.

Towering Joe Fortenberry, a 6-foot-7-inch athlete who captained the U.S. Olympic basketball team in the 1936 Games at Berlin after Ken Greenwald as Amarillo High making all-American as a catcher at West Texas State, was installed as the first member of the Panhandle Hall of Fame. A large picture of Fortenberry and plaques bearing the names of White Deer's Otis Holladay as 1958 Coach of the Year and Amarillo's Bayless Bennett as the Athlete of the Year for '58 will also be hung in the Hall of Fame Room at the Amarillo YMCA, where the Sunday night sports fete was held.

Holladay, moments earlier, presented as the 1958 Football Coach of the Year was caught off guard for the all-sports coach of the year. The coach of the Class A state champion White Deer outfit which roared to a great 14-0 record last autumn, commented upon receiving the award as coach of the year, "My cup runneth over."

He added, "Athletics of all types will help preserve the American way of life."

Willie Bennett, father of the Athlete of the Year, Bayless Bennett who set a state record in the pole vault last spring in Austin to beat the Panhandle's top track man too, received both his sons' awards.

Bennett, Pampa's Bill Brown as Basketball Player of the Year, Amarillo's David Russell as Football Player of the Year and Borger's Elgie Seaman as Golfer of the Year, were tied up with semester final exams in their respective colleges and unable to attend the banquet.

Two of the six honored athletes were present to receive their awards: Rita Durrell of Lakeview U.S. Olympic basketball team in the 1956 Games at Melbourne, Australia, and Amarillo's Sam Peckeba, baseball; Groom's Sheldon (Doc) Bates, track; Shamrock's Kenneth Laycock, golf; and of course, the Panhandle football kingfish, Otis Holladay.

The awards were presented in order by Rick Pedritz, Pampa Daily News managing editor, football, Warren Hasse, KPDM radio of Pampa sportscaster, basketball, R. B. Norman, Amarillo High School principal, baseball; Doug Rains, KFDA-TV sportscaster, golf; Bud Bussard, Amarillo tennis official, tennis; and Eddie Mullins, Amarillo Globe-News sports writer, track.

Upon receiving the Basketball Coach of the Year award, McNeely said, "None of this could have been possible without the help of God." A Deacon in the First Baptist Church, McNeely was in reality the most successful coach record-wise to attend the fete.

Pampa High assistant coach, Terry Culley, received Bill Brown's Cager of the Year award for him.

John Heetland, a district governor for the International Y's Men's Club who sponsored the event, served as emcee of the affair while Buzz Sawyer, president of the Amarillo Y's Men's Club gave the welcoming address. Dinner service was furnished by the Amarillo Air Force Band and vocal selections were rendered by the Pioneer Quartet of Amarillo.

Bill George of Phillips Petroleum Company presented Fortenberry with his awards as the first member of the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame.

Among the celebrities present were: Mr. and Mrs. Knox Kinnard, superintendent of schools in Pampa; Coach Rabe Curfman of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Clay, parents of Pampa's Randall Clay, former Texas U. and New York Giant gridders; Freeman Melton and Jack Riley, superintendent and head coach at McLean respectively; the Sam Christys, B. B. Moores, and Vick Bates' assistant White Deer coaches, and Lewis Martin of Panhandle.

Also, Dee Walker, Amarillo; Frank Kimbrough, Clark, Jarman, Borden Price of West Texas State; Bill Clifton and Pat Peterson, Tascosa; Robin Bennett, Amarillo Sandie baseball coach; John Reddell, Palo Duro football coach; A. I. Bennett, former All-American at Oklahoma Aggies.

Also Bill Davis and Raymond Kaufman, Canyon; Ray Willsey, University of Texas coach; Joe Means, Phillips.

er. Last year, our pitching staff was young and so was Roseboro, but we were pleased with the way he came through. He'll give us a better catching job this year. We know he can hit."

Backing him up will be Joe Pignone, who is a better receiver than Roseboro, but he doesn't have Roseboro's power. Going around our infield, we have plenty of power at first base with Gil Hodges — and Steve Bilko backing him up. Hodges had a bad year last season, although he did have a short left field fence as a target.

Shorter Right Field We are bringing in that long right field fence this season, which is sure to help some of our left-handed power hitters such as Snider, Roseboro and young Norm Larker. Larker, incidentally, will help out at first as well as in the outfield.

At second base, Charlie Neal is a steady influence and has the power, especially at home. He also hits a long ball to right-center. Junior Gilliam will back up Neal at second. We won a couple pennants with Gilliam there.

This year, we'll have practically the same staff, and it should be a pretty good one if everybody is sound. It is a relatively young staff centered around Drysdale, Sandy Koufax, Johnny Podres and Clem Labine. Labine was out with injuries a big last summer. Take him off the staff and it makes a big difference. In the catching department, I'm pretty high on John Roseboro, who has all the tools, equipment, speed and power to make a great catcher.

Pee Wee Cage Practice Starts

Workouts for pee-wee basketball teams begin this week, according to Clifton McNeely, director of the pee-wee program. Workouts will be conducted at each grade school in town, at 6 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, and at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Each player should attend workouts at his own school, McNeely said. He added that students from parochial schools wishing to work out should go to the grade school nearest them.

Schools fielding pee-wee teams are Woodrow Wilson, Baker, Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin, Horace Mann, and Lamar.

Palmer Cops Thunderbird

By HAL WOOD
United Press International

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, the bull-shoothered shot-maker from Latrobe, Pa., is on the greatest iron-hitting spree of his life.

And the result may be that the leading money-winner of 1958 ($45,607.93) is going to blanketed the field again in 1959 as he moves along with a record of $4,631.84 won in the first four tournaments of the season.

Palmer plays in a $7,300 pro-amateur tournament at the El Dorado Country Club near here today and Tuesday and then heads for the $20,000 San Diego Open starting Thursday.

He'll be the favorite in both these events of his play in winning the $15,000 Thunderbird invitational golf tournament here Sunday with one of the great final rounds in PGA history — a closing 42 that caught and passed Jimmy Demaret on the 68th hole.

"I don't remember ever hitting irons as well as I have during the past week," said Palmer after he posted his record-smashing tournament score of 266.

He hit his irons so well that he recorded 10 birdies, a single bogey on the remarkable come-from-behind round. His longest birdie putt was from 20 feet. He had one of 12 and one of 10 and the other seven were from five feet or less.

"That 42 was the lowest I ever had on the tour," he said, adding that he has had many 64s.

The amazing part about the round is that Palmer had two balls hit out of bounds when he took a 70 on the second round.

"I missed only four greens during the whole tournament," he said. "Those two I hit out of bounds, two more in the final round."

Demaret, who fired a fine finishing round of one-under-par 70, finished in second place, picking up $875 compared with the $1500 that Palmer collected. Demaret was tied in the second spot with Ken Venturi, who was paired with Palmer for the final round and shot a great 66.

Blue Chips Down In District 3-4A

The blue chips are on the table this week in the District 3-4A basketball race — and there'll be no opportunity for bluffing.

The loop-leading Pampa Harvesters will meet the third-place and second-place teams of the district, both on the road, in games which should decide the championship one way or another.

The Harvesters travel to Amarillo to meet the Sandies (4-2) Tuesday night. If they get through that one, they'll meet Borger in the Bulldogs' den, Friday for the district title.

Pampa will go into the Borger game with a record of either 7-0 or 6-1. Borger should have a 6-1 mark going into the game, since they are now 5-1 and figure to have little trouble against Tascosa Tuesday.

Borger was the last team to beat the Harvesters. They did it early in the district race last year; at Borger, Pampa won a decisive victory over the Bulldogs, 74-61, early this year in Pampa.

The Harvesters proved last week that they can operate without their playmaker, Charlie Minor, by beating Palo Duro, 57-40, and drubbing Plainview 81-51.

Borger copped easy victories over Lubbock, 72-57, and over Monterey, 57-39. Amarillo played only one game, edging Plainview Tuesday, 56-54.

THE HARVESTERS TRAVEL TO AMARILLO TO MEET THE SANDIES (4-2) TUESDAY NIGHT. IF THEY GET THROUGH THAT ONE, THEY'LL MEET BORGER IN THE BULLDOGS' DEN, FRIDAY FOR THE DISTRICT TITLE.

Pampa will go into the Borger game with a record of either 7-0 or 6-1. Borger should have a 6-1 mark going into the game, since they are now 5-1 and figure to have little trouble against Tascosa Tuesday.

Pampa will go into the Borger game with a record of either 7-0 or 6-1. Borger should have a 6-1 mark going into the game, since they are now 5-1 and figure to have little trouble against Tascosa Tuesday.

Borger was the last team to beat the Harvesters. They did it early in the district race last year; at Borger, Pampa won a decisive victory over the Bulldogs, 74-61, early this year in Pampa.

The Harvesters proved last week that they can operate without their playmaker, Charlie Minor, by beating Palo Duro, 57-40, and drubbing Plainview 81-51.

Borger copped easy victories over Lubbock, 72-57, and over Monterey, 57-39. Amarillo played only one game, edging Plainview Tuesday, 56-54.

THE HARVESTERS TRAVEL TO AMARILLO TO MEET THE SANDIES (4-2) TUESDAY NIGHT. IF THEY GET THROUGH THAT ONE, THEY'LL MEET BORGER IN THE BULLDOGS' DEN, FRIDAY FOR THE DISTRICT TITLE.

Britain Learns Lesson

A note of encouragement is to be discerned in the trade winds from Britain. Socialism, a thirteen-year-old experiment in the British Isles, has been tried in the fires of experimentation and is now found wanting. Reports coming from our cousins across the Atlantic, indicate that there is growing distrust of government ownership and operation of business and industry.

Between 1946 and 1951, the labor bosses in England virtually took over. They proceeded to nationalize the coal, electrical, gas, rail, highway transport, steel cable communications, the Bank of England and civil aviation industries. Of these, only steel was returned to private hands. And of these, only steel shows the kind of results the socialists promised when they committed their whole sale brigandage against private enterprise.

Socialists are always loud in promises. In England the labor bosses promised that with industry nationalized, in a short time these industries would be self-supporting; that government subsidies could soon be discontinued; that working men would cooperate with the government without strikes and labor disputes.

Collectivist Pygmy

So much has been said about socialism and communism in recent years that a myth grows concerning the persons who subscribe to these fallacious political and economic conceptions. The myth is that a communist or a socialist is endowed with superlative intellect; that he is filled with courage and daring; that he is a giant, a fearless object of terror.

We will attempt to show that the opposite is the truth. A communist or a socialist is fundamentally feeble. He is an intellectual pygmy. It cannot be otherwise.

The communist or socialist we will refer to them here as collectivists to include either or both is fundamentally opposed to individualism. The collectivist fancies himself in a world so hostile to his own best interests that he must band together with great numbers on his own side, or suffer ignominiously. Is this the mark of the brave man?

The man of courage goes his own way, confident in his own powers, assured that all others are also individuals and that it is to their advantage as well as his, for each to mind his own business.

No collectivist dares be himself. He is, first of all, a conformist. He must believe that others agree with him. The assurance held by collectivists for centuries is the assurance that individually men cannot succeed; that it takes an organization, and coercion to get what he wants.

As an intellectual, the collectivist invariably comes to grief. This is true because the facts of life are arrayed against him. The collectivist believes that if the world were other than it is, then there would be a "more equitable" distribution of the good things of the world.

But the world is NOT other than it is. And the distribution which

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

More On "Unemployment - By Legal Decree" In the last issue I was quoting from Bettina Bien's article in "The Freeman" magazine showing how minimum wages cause unemployment; that it is even admitted by some labor officials that arbitrarily high wages can cause unemployment.

Not only do arbitrarily unearned high wages cause unemployment, but they confuse the public. They are a denial of the moral law that each and every man must live by the sweat of his own brow. And if wages can be raised by the fiat of law, why not triple them?

Of course, the reason minimum wages have not caused so much unemployment is that wages have been cut by making a dollar buy less and less.

The minute you have minimum wages so that the slow and inefficient cannot produce the minimum wage, then no one can employ him, and in most cases he doesn't have the talents to be self-employed. Then he has to be taken care of by those who can produce more and earn the minimum wage, and thus their real standard of living is lowered because of this fantasy that wages can be legally set and not cause unemployment.

Of course, this violation of the natural law of wages tends to degrade the integrity and character of the individual. If men can get wages by law, then man need not be useful to his fellowman in order to live. It is just a form of chaos and anarchy and can do no good in the long run.

"Priced-Out of the Market" Bettina Bien ends her article in this manner:

"These labor leaders who feared the effects of a legal minimum wage set higher than the Puerto Rican economy warranted, were recognizing a simple economic principle. Goods or services, priced higher than demand justifies, will not find a buyer on a free market. Any retail merchant knows the truth of this statement. Experience with agricultural price supports should have taught our government officials by now the inexorability with which this principle operates. The theory applies in the same way, whether one is dealing with the price of wheat, cotton, butter, or an hour of a man's labor. If the seller will not, or cannot because of law forbids it, adjust his price in accordance with the demand, he faces the prospect of 'unemployment' for his wheat, cotton, butter or labor.

"A seller is entitled to the price a consumer is willing to pay for what he offers. A worker, who is the seller of his own labor, is entitled to the wage an employer is willing to pay. For practical reasons, the employer is usually guided, in deciding how much he can pay, by his estimate of the price consumers will pay for the worker's product. The market price of the worker's contribution will vary with the constantly changing structure of the market. Consequently, any attempt to set the rate by law will sooner or later lead to discrepancies in the pricing system and to distortion of the pattern of production."

"A legal minimum wage rate set lower than the market rate has no significance, aside from the expense of legislating and setting up a bureaucracy for its enforcement."

"Hurting the Weak" "If a minimum wage rate is set higher than the market rate, it hurts the very persons it is designed to help - the lowest producers, and hence the lowest earners. The first to be fired, when a new minimum wage rate is set, are those who cannot contribute enough to the market to cover the cost of their wage. No employer can afford to retain such employees for long, lest his expenses exceed his intake, forcing him out of business. If the law causes an entrepreneur to close

This idea is not only a failure from practical application, it falls apart in theory wherever sound arguments are advanced.

Then, why should there be such a fear of tangling with socialism? Julius Caesar, leading his legions into Gaul, was confronted with the same type of propaganda. His troops trembled and turned pale when skillful exploiters came among them telling them that the Gauls were eight feet tall, strong as wild bulls and with bodies so hard and strong that the Roman short swords would be blunted on contact. Caesar was successful in showing that these stories were nothing but old wives' tales. And when the two forces met in battle, the superiority of Roman arms carried the day repeatedly.

It will be thus if the individualists will take the trouble to analyze the collectivist mind. The collectivist is neither brave nor wise and his schemes of sharing the wealth are a delusion which will inevitably be shattered against the realities of life.

And especially within the last hundred and fifty years, the proof of the merits of individualism has gone a long way toward awakening at least the desire for a cure from the age-old malady. Despite the skillful propaganda of the collectivist, private enterprise, independent initiative, and capitalism advance the standards of living of all persons subscribing to these ideas. And the ranks of the opposition continue to suffer, deprivation, shortages and the worst kind of regimentation.

What we must do is to rid our minds of the myth of the size and power of the collectivist idea.

And the distribution which

Robert Allen Reports:

Reds May Be Hit With Counter Plan

WASHINGTON - A counter plan, as explicit and explosive as Russia's threat to West Berlin, is being deliberated by the U.S., Britain, France and West Germany. Despite Deputy Premier Mikoyan's complaint that he could not evoke proposals from Washington authorities, consultations on this militant plan are underway in the four Western capitals. If they reach an understanding, these discussions will be extended to other NATO allies.

Formulated by Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, a veteran career diplomat whom the President recently decorated, this potentially momentous plan consists of two forceful measures:

West German troops to be moved into Berlin to reinforce the 15,000 U.S., British and French forces there.

Shift West Germany's capital from Bonn to Berlin.

If the West should decide to pursue this counter plan, Murphy would then have the Big Three announce their readiness to hold a formal conference with Russia to settle the whole German problem.

London and Paris views are still being awaited. Initial West German response has been tentatively favorable. Chancellor Adenauer and other Bonn officials have indicated willingness to agree to Murphy's proposals, provided full guarantees are given they will be backed to the hilt by the U.S., Britain and France.

Mayor Willy Brandt strongly approves the Murphy plan. The West Berlin leader is flying here next month to discuss it.

his doors, not only the poorest earners but also all other workers in the enterprise lose their jobs. The whole economy is poorer, as well, for there is less production offered on the market.

"A minimum wage rate which coincides exactly with the market rate does neither 'good' nor 'harm,' so long as the market rate remains the same. But changes are constantly taking place in this world of acting human beings. It is inevitable, therefore, that the wage the market determines must sooner or later depart from a wage set by law, even if the two should happen to coincide temporarily. The legally determined wage, then, will be either below the market, and hence meaningless or above the market, and hence a cause of unemployment."

"Good Intentions Are No Excuse" When the men are dissatisfied with the workings of the market, they sometimes pass laws to try to change the way it functions. Their best intentioned legislation, however, may prove harmful to the very individuals they want to help.

"Modern politicians, who try to legislate high wages, should realize that such laws help cause unemployment among the workers 'covered.' It is a basic economic truth that goods or services priced higher than the market warrants must inevitably remain unemployed. Both Mr. Dobinsky and the Puerto Rican legislators, in opposing the increased minimum wage rate for the island's brassiere makers, were acknowledging a fundamental economic truth."

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK - CUFF NOTES: You get to the office in a light fall of snow, which ends before the elevator gets you to your floor, and find some notes waiting. A distiller is going to give a party because he believes that hidden somewhere in an attic or behind an old trunk or even hanging unappreciated on a wall there is a lost painting by Frederic Remington and the distiller wants to pay $25,000 for it. You wouldn't know...

Over the back of the bar was a vast and primitive oil painting depicting a man dying on the blazing desert as scorpions, rattlesnakes, tarantulas and other lovely creatures crawled and wriggled toward his helpless form. It was stark and vivid and Chapman wanted it. The barkeep said a passing painter, needing some hair of the dog, had painted it 57 years earlier in exchange for $5 worth of rye whiskey, glass by glass, and he felt that $25 would cover everything. Chapman made an arrangement to pick it up on the way back from Lone Pine and Death Valley. Four days later we came back and the saboteur had burned down with everything in it, including the painting. If that was the long missing Remington, which seems unlikely, the distiller can save the cost of a New York party. It is in ashes.

Another note tells you that Chirwa Achee, an Ito tribesman in Nigeria, has written the first authentic, direct, native-written novel which has accuracy of tribal life for its theme. It is called "Thing Fall Apart" and will be published Jan. 23. You look forward to it, being weary of books about Africans by Great White Hunters, visiting novelists and profit tourists. Another note tells you that industrial designer Brooks Stevens has designed a modular construction houseplant, an expandable houseplant on floats with provision for outdoor motor propulsion. The basic craft is 28-feet-long and would be dandy for idle life on relatively still waters. Stevens is a designer of note and you take it that he has put all essentials into his craft, when a messenger arrives with photos of models and you see that he has. He is the man who designed the circular fishing boat at $14,000.

RED LOWDOWN - Russia will begin withdrawing its troops from Berlin in the latter part of March. That's what Central Intelligence Director Allen Dulles told a group of Senate leaders at a briefing. Also that the Soviet is building a large new headquarters for East German forces a few miles north of Berlin. These satellite troops were described by Dulles as well-trained and completely re-equipped with late-model weapons. "Contrary to some reports," the Intelligence chief said, "this 125,000-man army would remain loyal to Soviet in the event of a war. These troops are well paid, excellently maintained, thoroughly indoctrinated, and their morale is good." Asked if the Kremlin is arming its satellites with atomic weapons, Dulles replied, "That is not our information. Everything we've been able to ascertain is that Russia is giving no one atomic arms."

NEXT SPACE SHOTS - Russia will have the chance for another shot at the moon before the U.S. is ready for its next attempt. Anticipated next Soviet moon shot is January 26-27. Deemed a strong reason for that is the convening of the 21st Communist Party Congress in Moscow on January 28. This would be an auspicious occasion for announcing the launching of a second moon missile.

The U.S. is delaying its next moon shot until February 27-28. The Army is then slated to make its second attempt with a JUPITER-REDSTONE missile, which almost succeeded several months ago.

Those are highlights of an Intelligence report submitted to the new House Space Committee, headed by Representative Overton Brooks (D., La.).

Other significant items are: Since last month, the Air Force has been trying to launch a 1,200-lb recoverable satellite at the new Vandenberg, Calif., testing center. A new effort will be attempted shortly. For more than a year Russian scientists have been working on a "satellite-glider" which would not disintegrate on returning. A Soviet technical document dealing with this project states, "It will soon be possible to recover an artificial satellite with all its instruments intact."

Defects in the launch equipment have plagued the Air Force's first recoverable satellite. A THOR intermediate range ballistic missile is being used in this momentous experiment.

Its importance cannot be exaggerated. The country which first recovers a satellite will achieve a space breakthrough of utmost magnitude.

In the U.S., that would be hailed as irrefutable proof of being ahead of Russia in the critical space race - despite the latter's history-making Sputniks and recent moon-satellite.

Ability to recover a globe-girdling satellite would spectacularly demonstrate superiority in guidance system - the crux of truly effective intercontinental ballistic missiles, the so-called "ultimate weapon."

While they are important to the body in all of these ways, large quantities of fat are not needed. If too much is eaten and stored it can be a disadvantage. Furthermore, the starchy foods can be transformed by the body into fat and so make fatty foods less necessary.

Nevertheless, the normal diet should contain some fats. For a person eating a 2,500-calorie diet, for example (which is about average for a reasonably active person), about 50 grams of fat a day might be included. This would be about the equivalent of five pats of butter one inch square and one-half inch thick.

For people doing heavy labor, more fats are usually desirable as they furnish such a good source of energy. A person who is on a diet for obesity and may be taking only 600 to 800 calories a day may be restricted to a fat intake of only 20 to 25 grams daily.

Today, a lot of research is going into study of the fats.

There is also considerable investigation of the part which fats may play in hardening of the arteries, coronary heart disease and the like. But this will have to be the subject of discussion on some future occasion.

The Love of Money, Is The Root of Evil

By HOWARD KERSHNER, L. H. D.

One of the most common but, at the same time, one of the worst of all sins is committed when a man's ego asserts itself to gain its own end at the expense of other fellows. That is what Paul was talking about when he said, "For the love of money is the root of all evil." I Timothy 6:10.

Coveting the possessions of others and organizing methods of taking them legally is prima facie evidence of moral decline and, without doubt, the central cause of the social disintegration now so marked throughout the world.

The ramifications of the welfare state aim up the efforts of the people to enjoy more than they produce by taking something from the production of others. Tyrants rise to power by catering to the cupidity of their people when they set up programs for the dispossessed of some for the benefit of others. Hitler taught the people to hate the Jews so they would approve of seizing their wealth. Various epithets have been leveled in our country such as malefactors of great wealth, floated-bondholders, economic royalists, greedy trusts, monopolists and capitalists, inciting hatred against individuals and groups in order to gain approval of the populace for dispossessing them. Pressure groups obtain wage increases by the coercive power they are able to exercise. Monopolists who take unfair advantages are using coercive power to gain their ends. Rent control is a means of seizing the property of landlords for the benefit of tenants. Featherbedding is a very important and widely practiced method of taking the property of others without giving an adequate return. Tariffs and which has created such excitement and the messenger, a lad just out of college hoping to be a big advertising man, said: "But you couldn't pick Mr. Stevens out if you went to the 'Boat Show'."

And you said: "Son, save your money. Mr. Stevens would be the man in the black Homburg and jet black topcoat riddled with medals who would be eye-dropping on passersby to see (a) if they liked his craft and (b) if they loosed any ideas from improving them." A second messenger arrived just then with news of a new boat engine enamel paint spray which he said "is the latest." So you say, "Just a second, Colonel," and ask the man at the next desk, who is a boat owner from "way back, if this is true." "I've been spraying my engine for five years with enamel from a pressure can," he said. "What's so new?" Dissolved by both cynics, the messengers withdrew.

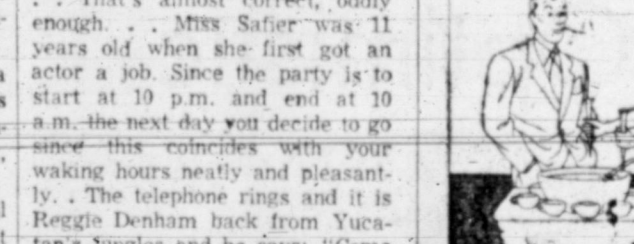

You find an orange and black card roughly the size of Lake Michigan, inviting you to a small but intimate party for "16,300 to celebrate Gloria Saffier's 20th year in show business." And it is from Elaine Stritch who points out that actress agent Saffier went into business when she was 16 years old and had Tom Mix as her first client. "That's almost correct, oddly enough," Miss Saffier was 11 years old when she first got an actor job. Since the party is to start at 10 p.m. and end at 10 a.m. the next day you decide to go since this coincides with your waking hours neatly and pleasantly. The telephone rings and it is Reggie Denham back from Yucca-Tahoe, Nevada, and he says, "Come to dinner. Our plane was almost kidnaped in Mexico by Castro adherents who wanted to fly to Havana in it. It has not been printed." You accept and go over to his house.

Welfare statism, socialism, government intervention, government managed economy, fascism, communism and all the rest are the result of man's ego expressing its defiance of God and His laws in a selfish effort to seize the wealth for one another. This is the Satan force that is tearing our modern world to pieces.

Communists Gather For Party Meeting

MOSCOW (UPI) — The leaders of world Communism assembled here today for the 21st special congress of the Soviet Communist Party which begins Tuesday in the Kremlin. Two U.S. delegates were present for the first time since before World War II.

The non-Russians included Chou En-lai of Red China; Premier Nam Il of North Korea; Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam; Palmiro Togliatti of Italy and Jacques Duclos of France. They were "fraternal delegates" with no voting rights.

The Soviet press listed the Americans as James Jackson and Moses Shield, members of the National Executive Committee. They were able to travel freely to Moscow because of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling permitting them to get passports.

Jackson is one of the Communists whose conviction under the Smith Act was reversed by a U.S. appellate court. Moses Shield apparently is an incorrect translation from the Russians—Communist sources in New York thought the delegate was Morris Childs of Chicago, a former member of the party executive committee.

The chief term on the agenda was Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's new seven-year plan to outstrip the United States in industry and agriculture. He is expected to outline this in an opening speech Tuesday that could run from four to eight hours in length.

The Congress also might hear a report by Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan on his trip to the United States and new castigation of the "anti-party" group of Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Nikolai Bulganin, Georgi Malenkov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov.

SNOW

More than 10 million dollars. Floodwaters forced more than 25,000 persons from their homes and more than 100 persons died in weather-connected accidents.

A United Press International count showed at least 118 persons died in floods, traffic accidents on icy roads, overexertion and tornadoes. Ohio had 19 weather-caused deaths, Wisconsin 17, Michigan 14, Illinois 13, New York 10, Indiana 9, Pennsylvania 8, Kentucky and Kansas 5 each, Iowa 4, Missouri and Oklahoma 3 each, Minnesota, New Mexico and Texas 2 each, and Washington and North Dakota 1 apiece.

Snow amounts ranging from two to 12 inches pushed a cross the northern tier of states from the Rockies to New England Sunday, and a band of freezing rain slicked highways in Missouri and Kansas.

Cold Air Moves East
 A cold air mass following on the heels of the snow sent the mercury plunging to 17 below zero early today at Lone Rock, Wis., and 15 below at Wausau, Wis. Temperature drops of 20 degrees or more were common in the Central Plains, upper Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley and parts of New England.

Snow ranging from six inches to a foot or more ranged through western Nebraska into the mountains of western Wyoming. Two to three inches of new snow made driving hazardous in Chicago and forced a plane carrying President Arturo Frondisi of Argentina to circle the city for an hour before landing at snow-swept Midway Airport.

Cuts Time in Half
 The takeoff was at 12:01 p.m. e.s.t. It was clocked over Idlewild at 4:04 p.m. time; 4 hours and 3 minutes.

The continent-spanning performance was made in half the usual time for DC-8s. In 1954, an American Airlines DC-7 flew from Los Angeles to New York in 6 hours, 10 minutes to set a previous record.

After ceremonies at Idlewild, Capt. Hamilton (Ham) Smith took the controls of the silver jet and, with his 112 passengers, flew back to Los Angeles.

The big craft departed at 5:26 p.m. e.s.t. and arrived at Los Angeles International at 12:47 a.m. e.s.t. in the total time of 6 hours and 22 minutes, according to American Airlines spokesmen.

JET

York began dropping the big 600-mile-an-hour jet down at Allentown and landed at Idlewild International Airport.

Trash Fire Breaks Streak
 A trash barrel and stand caught fire Sunday night at the J. D. Ross home, 334 Sunset Drive, firemen reported today.

The small blaze was the first reported fire in Pampa the past six days and only the second fire here the past 11 days. Ross reported the fire did no damage.

SINGER PAYS ALIMONY
 MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Rock 'n' roll singer Jerry Lee Lewis Friday paid his ex-wife $1,850 in back alimony and child support to clear himself of a possible contempt citation. Lewis was ordered last week to make back payments due his first wife, Jane Mitcham Lewis, 22, of Natchez, Miss.

Bandit And Moll Captured In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Ark. (UPI)—California desperado George Albert Scott, wanted for the murder of a Hollywood film executive, and his 180-pound wrestler girl friend were captured in a motel Sunday after a gun battle with federal and local authorities.

Scott, a former mental patient and San Quentin parolee, had been hunted since Dec. 30 when he was identified as the bandit who killed Kenneth F. Savoy, an executive secretary for the Samuel Goldwyn studio. He was also wanted for armed robberies in Texas.

Some 25 FBI men, city policemen and sheriff's officers surrounded Scott's cabin at the motel Sunday after the FBI received a tip informing them that Scott was hiding out there.

When officers ordered Scott to "come out with your hands up" he answered with a burst of pistol fire.

The authorities then opened up with sub-machine guns, saved off shotguns and pistols, forcing Scott to take cover. Officers also lobbed in tear gas shells.

Motel Manager V. F. Andrew called Scott on the telephone and pleaded with him to give up. Scott apparently laid the phone down and Andrew heard him say to the woman wrestler, Barbara White, 36:

"They've got us surrounded. We might as well commit suicide. Do you want me to shoot you first or would you rather shoot me and then shoot yourself?" Her reply could not be heard.

gales and Detroit appeared before the Senate Banking Committee to tell how much federal money cities needed for housing and urban renewal.

Consider Housing Program
 The committee is considering Eisenhower's housing program, which calls for a six-year $1,800,000,000 urban renewal plan and no new public housing, and more sweeping Democratic proposals which would cost up to 6 billion dollars over 10 years.

In another clash between the President's economy plea and Democratic spending proposals, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said states and communities could not make their airports for the jetliners without great federal help.

Sparkman made the statement in remarks prepared for delivery before a Senate commerce subcommittee which resumed hearings on a bill by Chairman A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) to provide $75 million dollars in federal funds for airport construction over five years.

The President has requested a 200-million, four-year bill which gradually would eliminate federal help for building airports.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Series 100 tandem-powered for big loads and steep grades!

Series 31 Fleetside—round-the-clock delivery specialist!

Series 50 stake shows its stuff on off-the-road jobs!

About everywhere you look you'll find Chevies like that big tandem dump, or that stake and pickup, knuckling down and knocking all the meanness out of rough jobs. No matter how tough the job, there's a Chevy truck cut out to cut it down to size.

You don't have to haul 30-ton loads out of a stone quarry before your job's considered tough. The rough ones come in every weight class.

And right there is where a whole fleet of Task-Force Chevies comes rolling in. As far back as they go, Chevrolet trucks have always been long on stamina and short on downtime. And now, with big tandems in the line along with every kind of model you can name... with the latest '59 ideas built into more might and muscle than ever before... you can bet a Chevy truck will whistle through any size job you've got. Your Chevrolet dealer can zero in on the exact model you need.
