Hospital will not raise taxes

For the second year in a row the board members of the Mitchell County Hospital District have opted to pass on raising the tax rate and it will remain at .2975.

By using the identical tax rate as last year, the Hospital will not receive as much tax revenue as it did last year because of the decline in the tax roll.

Hospital administrator Wendell Alford said that he was pleased with the budget process and that it is a budget that can work.

"I am pleased that we are able to go two years in a row without even having to raise the tax level to the effective tax rate," Alford said.

Mike Burt, County Tax Assessor/Collector, met with the hospital board to explain the 1991 effective tax rate for the hospital district.

Burt noted that the 1991 effective tax rate for the hospital district is .302. This rate is that which would provide the same tax funding as the previous year with a smaller tax roll to get the money from.

The board was also informed that the tax rate could be raised 3 percent, to .3111, without having to hold a public hearing on the increase.

The rollback rate of .3267 was also presented to the board members at the meeting. This amount which is 8 percent above last year's tax rate is the amount at which taxpayers could hold a rollback election.

The hospital board members took little time in deciding that they did not want to raise taxes and elected to freeze the current rate level at that of the preceding year.

The rate of .2975 with a collection rate of 97 percent will bring in a tax revenue of approximately $1.47 million dollars compared to $1.54 the preceding year with the same tax rate.

Due to the almost across the board 5 percent depreciation drop in Mitchell County values that was noted by Burt, the taxpayer will pay less tax to the hospital district this year than he did last year with the same tax rate.

The budgets for the Mitchell County Hospital and for Valley Fair Lodge were approved at the meeting preceding the boards approval of the tax rate.

Alford presented board members with a hospital budget of $2,858,400 that was prepared taking into account this year's actual performance.

Revenues for the next year are expected to be approximately $2.5 million.

Alford noted that the Commissioners work through light agenda

A discussion and certification of an audit on the District Attorney's forfeiture account, the approval of a high bid on property not sold at the Sheriff's sale and the approval of bills were the only items needing the commissioners' attention at Tuesday's called meeting of the Mitchell County Commissioners' Court.

Commissioners' approved the bank reconciliation type audit on District Attorney Frank Conard's forfeiture account as presented by County Auditor George Griffith.

Griffith told the commissioners that the audit was an annual review on the account which must be certified by the Court.

Funds in the account were described as being money and property that have been taken from individuals who have been arrested and been forced to forfeit the assets by court order.

A copy of the certified audit will be sent to the Attorney General and to the Governor.

The court also approved a recommendation of Tax Collector Mike Burt to accept the high bid of Emmett Banks, Jr. for property that was not sold at the Sheriff's sale.

The property must also be approved by the other taxing entities before the transaction can be completed and the property put back on the tax roll.

The only other action taken by commissioners was the approval of CLOTHES OF THE DAY: Ryan and Erin Stuckey, center, are the center of attention as they donned historic attire for the style show and luncheon held last Saturday at the Heart of West Texas Museum. Parents of the fashionable duo are Greg and Keress Stuckey.

Museum fashion show entertains 76 guests

The Heart of West Texas Museum and Rowe's were co-hosts of a very successful fashion show and luncheon on Saturday, in the upstairs banquet hall of the Museum.

Over 76 guests attended the affair, which featured individually decorated tables, specialty dishes from yesterday and today, and the newest fashions from Rowe's as well as fashions from the Museum's collection of period pieces.

Virginia Fuller welcomed the guests and made several announcements of interest, including the fact that the Heart of West Texas Museum has been chosen to be honored by the Texas State Historical Commission as the perfect example of what a museum is capable of achieving. The Museum will be thus honored at the Commission's annual meeting in April in Houston.

Mrs. Fuller then called for the introduction of the many out-of-town visitors who attended the event. Several of those visitors were former residents of Mitchell County, returning to enjoy the style show and luncheon, and to help show support for the Museum.

She also introduced Neita Broadus, who wore a lovely ribbon knit suit which had been made 50 years ago. Sue McCauley served as narrator for the fashion show itself. Sissy Merritt, Armoria Lee, Ryan Stuckey and Erin Stuckey modeled the period pieces, demonstrating the skill of Museum volunteers at the restoration and cleaning of those items. The plum colored silk bustled walking dress, the ochre corduroy riding outfit, the black velvet Lord Fauntleroy suit and the white lace Sunday dress with pink sash worn by the models looked as fresh and new as the day they were first worn, so many years ago.

New fashions from Rowe's were modeled by Ms. Lee, along with Fanny Fay Feaster, Connie Neff, Lovess Curlee, Crystal Dempsey, Myrtle Stewart, and Gloria Peppers.

At the conclusion of the fashion show and luncheon, Mrs. Fuller offered special thanks to Gene Rowe and Debbie Massingill, of Rowe's as well as to Acting Directors Elizabeth Connell and Louise Decovic and the other Museum Board members and workers for volunteering their time and their talents to make the event such a success.

A door prize of a complete outfit from Rowe's was awarded to Nancy Price Neal of Kerrville, a former resident of Colorado City.

New golf coach appointed

A new golf coach was appointed for the Colorado High School golf program, appraisers were appointed for the Texas Teachers Appraisal System and a bid for property was approved before trustees began deliberations in a budget workshop at Monday's called meeting of the Colorado Independent School District.

Lang Martin, a math teacher at Colorado High School, was appointed to fill the vacancy as coach of the golf program at the high school.

The recommendation of Martin as the golf coach was presented to the board by High School principal James McSwain.

McSwain said that Martin is an accomplished golfer, that he had been active with golf programs in Coleman and that Martin had taught his children the skills to play the game.

It was noted that Martin lacked previous experience as a golf coach, but that he possessed a command of the required fundamentals and had the desire to make the program work.

Board members were told that approximately twenty golfers are on the team which meet after school hours.

The vacancy in the golf program was created with the resignation of Walt Staats. His resignation as coach of the golf program was accepted by school board trustees at Monday's meeting.

Trustees at the meeting also accepted the recommendation of Superintendent Don Nimmo that first appraisers for the Texas Teacher Appraisal System (TTAS) be approved.

Those approved as teacher appraisers by the school board were Superintendent Nimmo; Colorado High School Principal, James McSwain; Colorado Middle School Principal, Jim McLean; Hutchinson Elementary Principal, Bobby Lemons; Kelley Elementary Principal, Juan Espinoza; and Colorado Middle School Assistant Principal, Mark Merrell.

School board trustees also approved a recommendation from County Tax Collector Mike Burt that a bid be accepted for property with past due taxes. The other taxing entities will also have to approve the sale of the property before the transaction can be completed and the property put back on the tax roll.

Associates approved by hospital

Board members of the Mitchell County Hospital District approved appointments, heard reports, renewed a lease with the Texas Department of Health and gave high regards to the response of the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department at Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting.

Dr. Allen Anderson a surgeon from San Angelo was approved as an associate on the Mitchell County Hospital medical staff by the board.

Hospital administrator Wendell Alford made the recommendation to the board and noted that he had been in San Angelo for 16 years as a specialist in the field of ear, nose and throat surgery.

Alford told the board that Dr. Anderson will begin coming to the hospital on September 3 and that he is planning to come once a month at first, then more often based on the need.

Also approved was Stacy Boone, a physician assistant, who is affiliated with Allied Health Professions out of Lubbock. She has been coming to Mitchell County Hospital once a month and will continue to work on that basis in an attempt to help work on charts that are required to get the funding process of patients

Responsive group attends public hearing

A positive response was given by 25 community leaders concerning the application for a grant which would fund a focus survey for economic development in Mitchell County at a public hearing held last Saturday.

The public hearing was called after plans to apply for the federal grant were decided upon last Thursday by members of the board of economic development as they met with the State Senator Temple Dickson's 'strike force' team.

City manager Buddy Foster traveled to Austin this past Friday with Artis Gaither of Sweetwater to gather more information on the application process from the Department of Commerce.

It was noted that the goals of the meeting were twofold: (1) to determine if Colorado City wants to apply for the grant, and (2) to determine what to spend the money for if they should be awarded a grant.

Those in attendance expressed support of applying for the federal grant in the amount of $40,000.

The local entities will be required to fund 15 percent of any grant: $6000 of local funds would be required if approved for a $40,000 grant for a focus study.

The possibilities of a grant studying economic development, tourism and a business district in Mitchell County was discussed by those in attendance at the meeting.

If approved for a grant to fund the focus survey, the information is calculations for next years budget were made by figuring a patient stay of 8 days in the hospital, which was described by board members as a reasonable figure to work with and expect.

Marsha Rickard, administrator of Valley Fair Lodge, presented an expenditures budget to the board of $988,281 with an estimated revenue side of $905,600 which represented a deficit budget of $82,681.

Rickard told the board that the budget had been calculated with her knowledge of the expenditures, taking three years budget/actual expenses to look at, and by knowing what changes would be mandated to take place in the upcoming year at the lodge.

She noted six areas in which major increases would be required to keep the lodge up to standards required and caused increased amounts of money to be budgeted: licensed nurses, a social consultant, dietary funding, laundry service, employee health and life insurance benefits and public liability insurance.

It was noted that the budget had been prepared with a proposed 5 percent pay increase for employees of the lodge.

The board approved the Lodge's budget after deleting the recommended pay raise and put it as an item that they would look into at a later date.

Stenholm visits all district

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-TX) has just completed visits to all 35 counties in the 17th Congressional District.

Stenholm has been in each county at least once since January. The district measures 31,905 square miles.

"The size of the district requires that extra effort to get around to all the counties," said Stenholm. "Communication is the life-blood of our system of government and the best way for me to do my job is to meet with my constituents face-to-face, as often as possible."

Most of Stenholm's visits consisted of town hall meetings, breakfast and dinner appearances, speeches to school children and service organizations, and stops at Senior Citizen Centers.

Stenholm has made 150 different appearances since the beginning of the year.

In other action, school board trustees made their second pass through a 138 page budget proposal as they work to approve a 'temporary' budget.

Supt Nimmo reminded the trustees that the budget they were reviewing was an expenditure side budget and that they would have to come back once the revenue side of the accounting could be determined.

Trustees worked through the budget package, item by item, and discussed a wide range of budget items such as: salaries, state mandates, mandated benefits packages, insurance increases, classroom technology and utilities.

Trustees will resume budget deliberations at a 7 a.m. meeting to be held at the Villa Inn on Friday, with hopes of approving a 'temporary' expenditure side budget. It is expected that amendments will have to be made to any type of expenditure side budget when the revenue side becomes available.

School board president Dwayne Harris and trustees Larry Blasingame, Yolanda Molina, Anita Biggers, Floyd Lee Ritchey, Kathy Bassham and Dr. Billy Bruce Bridgford were all in attendance at the called meeting.

Several of those cases, perfectly adapted for their new function, have already been put to use housing displays, and the remaining cases will be filled prior to the Museum's grand opening, scheduled for September 28.

Museum volunteers were delighted with the success of the luncheon and fashion show. According to L.B. Elliott, Museum Board Chairman, who spoke briefly after the event, there will be many more such functions sponsored by the Museum for the community's enjoyment.

Workman's comp system addressed

The ailing workers compensation system has been addressed by a bill which Representatives Rob Junell and David Counts worked on together to seek the passage of.

Counts termed the package a 'great bill' which serves as a clean-up measure for the insurance package passed under House Bill 2 by the Texas Legislature.

Counts noted the hard work put forth by Junell in fighting for the approval of the bill which begins to take action against the problems of workers compensation.

"We can assure you that workers' compensation has generated more concern among small, medium and large businesses across the state than any other single issue over the past two years. Texas is losing jobs because of this problem," said Larry Milner, president of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Milner said that, "the bill addresses the deepening crisis in the workers' compensation insurance market through the creation of a competitive state fund and a partial deregulation of insurance company premium rates."

"The state is at serious risk of losing its private workers' compensation insurance market."

"The assigned risk pool (facility) deficits have grown at an alarming rate in the last several months."

"These deficits may not be recouped by insurers through the premiums charged to policyholders because assessments to cover the deficits are not an allowable expense. At the same time, an increasing number of employers are going without coverage for themselves or their employees," Milner said.

The following is a brief summary of the worker's compensation provisions of House Bill 62 which is the result of a combined effort of Representative's Junell and Counts.

-Creates Texas Workers' Compensation Insurance State Fund. Specifically the Fund will become operational in 1992 but is required to accept all risks on January 1, 1994, subject to safety and premium requirements. The Fund will sunset September 1, 1995, unless renewed by the Legislature.

-The Workers' Compensation Insurance Facility (assigned risk pool) is phased out and may not write any insurance as of January 1, 1994.

-Initially, a $5 million appropriation is made to the State Fund which is money loaned from State Board of Insurance to State Fund. The State Fund must repay the State Board of Insurance $5 million at 8 percent per year out of proceeds of bonds issued.

-State Fund capitalized by sale of bonds issued by Texas Public Finance Authority on behalf of Fund. The bonds are an obligation of the State Fund only and do not pledge the faith, credit or taxing authority of the state. The bonds will say they do not constitute a legal or moral obligation of the state. The debt service on the bonds is paid for by a maintenance tax surcharge assessed against self-insurers, all insurers writing workers' compensation insurance in the state and the State Fund itself. Insurers' obligations on the bonds continue even if they leave Texas market.

-Money in the State Fund may not be used or appropriated for any other purpose. No affiliates or subsidiaries are allowed, and only comp may be written.

-State Fund subject to all provisions of Insurance Code and to the jurisdiction of Commissioner of Insurance and State Board of Insurance in same manner as private carriers.

-State Fund shall pay premium taxes, maintenance taxes and maintenance tax surcharge established under Article 5.76, but it is granted a tax credit equal to two percent of the gross premium written.

-State Fund is not a member nor is it protected by Property and Casualty Insurance Guaranty Act nor is it subject to assessment.

-State Fund governed by Board of Directors composed of nine members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. To be eligible as a Board member, a person must be a policyholder of the Fund or an officer or employee of a policyholder. The State Fund will adopt Plan of Operation which is subject to approval by the State Board of Insurance.

-The Board of the Fund shall propose rates to be charged by the Fund. The rates must be sufficient to pay all claims in full, meet expenses of operation of Fund and maintain a reasonable surplus.

-The State Fund may adopt accident prevention rules for the prevention of injuries to employees of its policyholders. The Fund may require policyholders or applicants to implement accident prevention measures, and if they fail or refuse, the Fund may cancel a policy or deny an application for insurance. Until the Fund is operational, the Facility may adopt injury prevention requirements designed to increase worker safety.

-Sets up competitive rating system for workers' compensation insurance phased in beginning March 1, 1992, or 60 days after Fund writes first policy. Insurers must file all rates, supplemental rating information with Department of Insurance. Such rate is deemed approved unless the Department finds it does not meet the rate standards set forth.

-For any policy written on or after March 1, 1992 or the 60th day after the date of issuance of the first insurance policy by the State Fund, rates for policies with an estimated premium less than $100,000 may not be more than 15 percent greater than premium rates promulgated by the State Board of Insurance for 1991. Rates for policies with $100,000 or greater premium are filed with the State Board of Insurance beginning the same date. For policies issued after July 1, 1993, the rate for small policies may not be more than 30 percent greater than rates for 1991. This expires January 1, 1994. After January 1, 1994, all rates are file and use including the Funds.

-Procedures available for aggrieved party and Office of Public Insurance Counsel to request a hearing.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

After arriving in Colorado, Texas, in January of 1883, Dr. Preston Chiles Coleman soon became the town's leading citizen.

In 1890, he became president of the Colorado school board and he held that position for 16 years.

In 1895 he was elected president of the Texas Medical Association. During the early 1900's, Dr. Coleman served as President of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. (He led that organization for 23 consecutive years).

He was a longtime regent of Austin College, in Sherman. Dr. Coleman was also a religious man and he became an elder of the Presbyterian church at the age of 18.

When Colorado City bid for a Methodist college in 1906, Dr. Coleman served on the committee which put the package together, although unsuccessfully.

In July of 1922, the Colorado School District was in hot water financially. Property values totaled just 2 and a half million dollars, not enough to generate revenue for a full nine months of schooling.

On July 5, 1922, a mass meeting was held to discuss what to do about the shortfall. Once again the leadership of Dr. Coleman would save the day, or in this case, public education in Colorado City.

"The records will show that I have paid more money into school funds of Mitchell County than any other citizen," he told the crowd.

"I have never complained about taxes and in case it be necessary to carry on the schools here, I call upon the school board to double my present valuation of property or increase it three times, if necessary."

The growth in expenditures was blamed on large increases in scholastics, necessitating the employment of additional teachers the previous year. This, together with the high prices paid for school supplies, had reportedly almost bankrupted the school district.

The following month the school district voted to raise valuations to approximately 4 million dollars. Only a few property owners appeared before the Board of Equalization to protest.

Once again local taxpayers followed the lead of Dr. Coleman and the 1922 school year went off without any financial difficulties.

During that same year, Dr. Coleman became the catalyst to bring a college to West Texas. For years he had worked to get communities in this area to unite in such an effort.

"We went to every town," his granddaughter, Eleanor Wheeler remembers.

"He was one of the most perfect extemporaneous speakers I've ever known."

Naturally Dr. Coleman would have liked to get the college located in Colorado City.

"At one time he almost had it over, because the senator from Pecos was kinda pulling for it (Colorado City) too. But that didn't take forth," Mrs. Wheeler said.

Her recollection is that Dr. Coleman felt either Sweetwater or Big Spring would be a suitable location, "although he tried everything" to get it in Colorado City.

The big push for a West Texas school of higher learning came in 1923. Dr. Coleman was elected chairman of a committee to get legislation introduced to create a college for West Texas.

With the help of State Senator W.T. Bledsoe of Lubbock, the legislature gave its approval to the school.

Dr. Coleman's role in the project ended on February 16, 1923, when the bill was signed into law. For his work, the Colorado City physician was presented one of the pens used by Governor Pat Neff to sign the bill which brought Texas Tech into being.

Of course, still to be determined was where the college would be located. And there were dozens of towns scrambling for the prize.

Logic would dictate that if a Lubbock senator introduced the legislation, and Bledsoe did, then it was safe to assume that Lubbock had an advantage to land the school.

Once again, Mrs. Wheeler; "I know this is authentic: The chambers of commerce (from West Texas) met in Sweetwater. After granddaddy made his speech about how much West Texas needed a college, old Senator Bledsoe got up and said, 'alright, Dr. Coleman. We'll have it, if it's located in Lubbock.'"

Mrs. Wheeler says her grandfather didn't even consider Lubbock a part of West Texas. ("Even Pecos would have been better"). But, for the sake of West Texas children who were being deprived of a college education, Dr. Coleman acquiesced.

On August 10, 1923, the official announcement was made that Texas Tech would be located in Lubbock.

Dr. Coleman was among the first to wire his congratulations to Lubbock officials.

On the day groundbreaking ceremonies were held, Dr. Coleman was one of the featured speakers. For his leadership in bringing a college to West Texas, he was introduced as "the father of Texas Tech."

Next week, the final installment on Dr. Coleman; a man who rode trains free, and refused to fly in an airplane.

Proof of responsibility needed to obtain license

AUSTIN--Beginning September 1, Texans will be required to show proof of financial responsibility before they can get a driver license, renew a license or have their motor vehicle inspected, according to DPS Director Col. Joe E. Milner.

"This may seem like an inconvenience to law-abiding Texans, but in the long run, this new law should help protect all motorists by increasing the number of persons who have the legally-required auto liability insurance," Milner said.

Also effective September 1, the fine for not having liability insurance will be increased from $75 to $175 - $350. Repeat offenders will have to pay $350 to 41,000 and face the possibility of having their vehicle impounded for 180 days.

The new law also requires a person to have proof of financial responsibility before obtaining vehicle license plates, which are made available through the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Texas livestock brands must be re-registered by February

All livestock brands in Texas expire on August 31.

Within six months from that date - and every 10 years thereafter - everyone in Mitchell County who wishes to retain a brand must re-register it at the County Clerk's Office.

Re-registering will be conducted from September 3 through the end of February 1992 in the office of County Clerk Joan Beach.

If brands are not re-registered within the six month period, they become void in the owner's name and will be open to anyone desiring to record the brand in his or her name.

Anyone interested in retaining a brand is encouraged to do so. Current ownership of livestock is not necessary to re-register a brand.

Can Your Child See Well Enough To Learn??

When your children enter school this fall, about 80% of what they learn will come through sight. Yet 4 out of 10 children have vision problems that can inhibit school achievement. Most vision problems cannot be detected by the familiar eye chart test for 20/20 vision. Help make your child's future crystal clear.

Does Your Child...

- Avoid close work?
- Hold reading material too close?
- Show excessive head movement while reading?
- Lose his place while reading?
- Rub eyes frequently?
- Make reversals while reading?
- Often have headaches?
- Uses a finger to maintain his place while reading?

If so, we recommend having your child's vision tested.

NEW COAT: Work on the seal coating operations - such as the work being shown at 17th Street - on the major thoroughfares is nearing completion, city officials report.

3 'new' rules affect C-City football

Three 'new' football rules will be in effect at Colorado City Wolves games this year, said Coach Tom Ramsey.

The three rules involve fumbles, kick-offs and the guard-around play. The new ruling on fumbles affects only 4th down plays. The new guideline is that the ball can only be advanced on a 4th down fumble by the person who dropped the ball, Ramsey said.

Concerning kick-offs: if the ball is kicked out of bounds, the receiving team has three options. The first is to have the kicking team re-kick after being assessed a five yard penalty; the second option is to take possession at the spot that the ball went out of bounds; and the third option is to take possession of the ball on the 30 yard line.

Ramsey noted that he foresees spectators seeing a lot of teams taking the third option which will allow them to start their offense on the 30 yard line.

A new rule also affects the use of the guard-around, otherwise known as the 'fumblerooski' play.

The rule change makes it mandatory for the guard being used in the play to report to the officials before the play can be used.

Ramsey noted that because of the new ruling concerning fumbles, the play cannot be used on 4th down since the play involves a quarterback leaving the ball for the guard who goes the opposite way from the flow of the play.

Five local Cub Scouts graduate to Boy Scouts

A graduation was held recently with five cub scouts receiving their Arrow of Light, the highest award in Cub Scouting and the only recognition they can carry into Boy Scouting.

Those five boys were Bubba Limones, Brian Arocha, Larry

Garrett, Johnathon Castro and Micah Brannan. Three of these boys, Limones, Brannan and Castro, were inducted into Boy Scouting. Welcoming the boys were Corey Carlock, Ryan Costabile and Zane Graham.

County unemployment runs about average with state figures

Unemployment figures for July indicate a rate for Mitchell County of 6.7 percent, nearly identical to the statewide unemployment rate of 6.8 percent and the nationwide rate of 6.7 percent for the same period.

"We are not happy about this report," said Texas Employment Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers.

"The state's economic outlook took another jolt today," she said as the Texas Employment Commission released the unemployment statistics.

"We are recording a statewide rate of 6.8 percent and that is within one tenth of a percent of the highest rate thus far for 1991," Nabers said.

The ranks of the unemployed swelled by 72,000 in the 30-day period, and that pushed the rate far above the 6.1 percent recorded last month.

"Compared to the 6.3 percent of one year ago, the statistics are discouraging," Nabers said.

Mitchell County was listed in the report as having a civilian labor force of 3,774 people with 3,523 of them employed and 251 or 6.7 percent unemployed.

The July report lists a spectrum of rates for those counties which surround Mitchell County.

Borden County with a civilian labor force (CLF) of 431 people has an unemployment rate of 12.5 percent; Scurry County had a CLF of 11,779 and an unemployment rate of 11.3 percent; Nolan County had a CLF of 8,023 with a rate of 6.6; Fisher's County CLF of 2,381 had a rate of 5.5; Howard County's CLF of 14,886 had a rate of 5.2; Sterling County's CLF of 895 had a rate of 4.2; Coke County's CLF of 1,763 had a rate of 2.8; and Glasscock County's CLF of 1,343 had a rate of 1.6.

There was a CLF of 8,737,600 for the state of Texas in July with 595,700 unemployed for a rate of 6.8 percent.

For a nation as a whole, there was a CLF of 127,327,000 with 8,576,000 or 6.7 percent of those unemployed in the July report.

Wolves prepare for '91 season

Coach Tom Ramsey talked about the Colorado City Wolves football program and the upcoming season at the regular noon meeting of the Colorado City Kiwanis Club.

"Some of the sportswriters have picked us at the bottom of the district," Ramsey said. "But that just means we have our work laid out for us."

Ramsey said that he has been impressed with the defense so far this year and that the offense will catch on fire as they work together.

Ramsey said that the scrimmage held last Friday in Winters went pretty well, but that a scrimmage is often not a good judge of a team.

It does give us an idea of weaknesses that we need to work on, he said.

The first unit kept Winters from scoring, Ramsey said.

He noted that the offensive line averages 188 pounds, up from the past several years. The defensive forcing unit averages 165 pounds.

The Wolves will be seeing three new coaches at teams on the schedule this year.

The first new coach the Wolves will face will be at the first week of the season when Ballinger will come to town.

Glen Jones is the new coach at Ballinger and he is expected to add a few new wrinkles to the system.

Crane has been picked to win the district and a dog-fight is slated to sort out the rest of the placings.

The Colorado City Wolves will play their last scrimmage this Friday night against Coahoma at Wolf Stadium.

LORAIN PERSONALS

...BY LOIS PHILLIPS

Well, by the time you read this, school will have been in business for most of the first week. I hope everyone is happy and things are going well. I would like to get up there soon and meet the new teachers. I don't think we have many new ones and we hope they like being here. Work hard kids, on everything you do for your own good. You will be happier, whether it is in the classroom or on a ball field, and especially on your behavior, then we can have a real good year.

Welcome to our school, new teachers and students. We would like you to be happy here and find your place in our community.

I noticed where the Sports Boosters Club met to elect officers for a new year. I don't know all of them at this time but I know George Lee Jr. will be the president and I also know that he and his wife, Faye, will work hard at the job and make the club a success again this year. Our school needs all the help it can get. Let's all pitch in and help a little.

I guess most of you have been reading about tax problems, law suits, transferred students. Our school officials, the school board and tax committee have their work cut out for them and we will back you in every way we can.

Renee Rogers, of Garland, and her sons spent the weekend with her parents, Royce and Neysa Beights. The younger daughter, Tracy Biles, her husband and lovely daughter were also visiting. They live in Lubbock.

Hass Compton of San Angelo came to Loraine to visit her aunt Nannie Hallmark who lives at the nursing home.

Her sister, Audry Beights of Loraine, visited Nanny also. Audry's husband, Ira Beights, is not doing so well with all his problems I don't think. Hello to Slat, hope you can soon be better.

Thanks Neysa Beights for being so nice. We enjoyed eating and visiting with you last Saturday. You are a favorite with us, but then you are Lula's daughter.

Well, my down note for today is we have water problems since yesterday. They dug up one leaky pipe only to find there was another. On top of that, the guys knocked a hole in the sewer pipe and had to patch that. Now, I am not complaining, I am just thankful we have a Joe and an Edward to take care of that chore. On top of that, it rained on them while they were digging up the first pipe. Thanks to you two guys and councilman, Roy Price, for getting rid of the problem so quickly. We were never out of water which is a blessing in itself.

Recently, Gordon Allbright of Odessa and two of his children spent the night with their grandmother Syble Walker. Brad and Mandy are the two who came to Loraine. Brad was in a track meet in Arlington. Gordon's wife, Mary, and the other daughter, Elizabeth, met them in Dallas for a mini vacation in the Metroplex area before going home to Odessa.

Jean and Troy Kegans of Arlington along with sons and wives Rusty and Brenda and Lindsay and Brent, visited their mother and grandmother Syble Walker before going to Red River, NM for a week.

We were out and about last Saturday. We went to the drug store then here and there winding up at DQ where we met this nice couple from Pilot Point of Texas. They were on their way to their nephew's graduation from college.

They had finished eating and were outside as we drove up. The man came up and asked how much rain we had last week. He was a middle-aged farmer and they were

Sr. citizens enjoy active August

The Senior Citizens of Loraine have enjoyed this month very much. The group who visited Europe brought back a beautiful jigsaw puzzle of Holland. There are also puzzles with dogs, and churches that are entertaining the group. Joan Merket and Dorothea and Paul Hunter enjoy shooting pool.

We had some young visitors this month: Darlene's granddaughter, Andrea, who is ten years old; Joan's, Amanda, who is fifteen. George Oliver stopped by to visit also.

The chicken pot pie that we had last week was great and the fresh vegetables, tomatoes and squash were delicious.

The following people had birthdays this month, so Happy Birthday to them:

interesting to visit with. He wanted to know the best way to Lubbock. We visited quite a while with them also being joined by others. They are C.J. and Marie Henzey.

Saw Clay and Shirley Graham eating out. Also the Roy Rankins, Lela Bowlin had been to the drug store to fill prescriptions. Said she might as well eat before she came home.

Also saw Charles Bowen and two of his grandsons from Lubbock. Their ladies had gone to Abilene so grandad job was to get the boys whatever kind of burger they wanted from DQ.

Saw Tonya McMillan, her husband and kids buying meat at Jr.'s market. He has very good meat you know.

Most of you will remember Tonya as T.J. Hazel Ruth Blair granddaughter. In fact she still lives here. Her family brought Billie Ruth Tarte's house just across the street from the hospital. They seem to enjoy it here and we are glad to have them.

Saw LaRue Powell and one of her sons also eating. I remembered him growing up as the smaller one of twins, but mom said this one was the tallest. Can't believe it.

Also Mamie Mary was on the shopping scene as was Dorothy Johnson and her dog. She left it in the car but it spoke to us anyway.

Ran into Jane Andrews. She looks good. I hope she is doing as well.

Those nice city water guys have finished and gone. Thanks guys.

Recently Kyle and Susan Hall of Birmingham visited his grandmother, Chrystene Hall and Iris Preston. Kyle spent 13 summers with the J.C. Halls and he had a lot of reminiscing to do.

Iris Preston, Chrystene Hall attended the graduation and luncheon when Susan Preston received her certification.

Dr. Terry accompanied by daughter, Liz Peoples of Sweetwater, were present. Other family members included the David Terry's from Austin and Pat Terry of Dallas.

Those attending the luncheon and style show held at the Heart of the West Texas Museum on Saturday were Wanza Graham, Margaret Brame, Eva Wells, Julia Green, Dorothy Johnson, Iris Preston, and Chrystene Hall. Marilyn Tartt and Sally Compton directed tours.

Iris Preston left Monday morning to visit the Charles Atchisons at Canyon Lake. She visited the Harole Prestons in Brownwood.

HOME ECONOMICS HAPPENINGS

...BYDANA DAVENPORT

While proving that "you are what you eat" may be difficult, 4-H members in the food and nutrition program can certainly gain a better understanding of nutritious foods that can contribute to healthful living.

The food and nutrition program is one of the most popular projects among 4-H members, says Dana Davenport, County Extension Agent-HE with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Specific objectives of the 4-H food and nutrition program are to:

-Learn the importance of including foods from each of the basic food groups in the daily diet.
-Understand the principles of nutrition as they relate to health, physical fitness and appearance.

-Learn about the wide variety of foods which may be included in the diet.

-Understand the scientific principles of nutrition.
-Acquire and demonstrate skills in planning, purchasing, preparing and serving tasty, attractive and nutritious meals and snacks.

The food and nutrition program gives them an opportunity to gain life long learning experiences regarding a nutritious diet. In addition, 4-H members who excel in the program can qualify for a number of awards. Kraft General Foods provides county medals of honor, an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Congress for each state winner, and six scholarships at the national level.

Additional information about the 4-H food and nutrition program is available at the Mitchell County Extension Office in the Courthouse Annex or by phone 728-3111.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To whom it may concern:

In concern for public interest, I would like some questions answered relating to a break-in at the City's Airport.

Information was brought to my attention by credible sources that two Colorado City police officers have committed a break-in at the Airport's newly remodeled Pilot's Lounge.

If this incident did occur, I think a reply to the following questions by the City's governing body would be appropriate:

-Were the two police officers involved in the break-in Officer Mike Cayce and Officer Charles Rice?

-If they were involved, were criminal charges filed?

-If not, why? If they were involved and no criminal charges were filed, what constitutes a crime where police officers should be "above the law?"

-If these officers were involved in the alleged violation of a criminal law, why are they still on active duty?

-Did Officer George Oliver know these officers to be drinking or intoxicated the night or morning of the break-in?

-If this incident did occur, was some kind of a "deal" struck to keep this information from the public?

It is the expectations of the citizens of this and any other community that police officers be examples to our children and protectors of our property.

It is my hope that this alleged incident did not occur, but if it did happen, that it should not be condoned or "handled under the table" by the city's governing body.

I am naturally sensitive to this type of situation, as I was accused of being too hard on my employees.

Unfortunately, this type of incident is the alternative.

Bobby Sparks
Former Chief of Police
Rt. 3, Box 179
Colorado City

Editor's note: It has been and will continue to be the policy of this paper to allow any person or persons, mentioned in the "Letter" to the Editor, to be given the chance to respond. Following is the response from the police officers.

To the editor:

During the early morning hours of Monday, July 8, 1991, Charles Rice and Mike Cayce were at the City Airport. We had gotten our truck stuck in the loose sand at the south end of the runway.

We walked to the pilots' lounge in order to use the phone to call for assistance. We attempted to open the door; however, the electronic lock was not functioning properly. We decided to force the window open; this resulted in the window being damaged.

At 8:15 a.m., that same morning, we reported the incident to our superiors at the Police Department. Our reports were comprehensive and candid.

George Oliver did not have any prior knowledge of the incident at the City Airport.

On July 19, 1991, we received letters of reprimand from the Police Department. The letters stated in part, "Any further misconduct...will result in termination."

We have been honest in admitting our mistakes and we have apologized to the Police Department. We have made full restitution to the City.

We welcome the opportunity to publicly apologize to the citizens of Colorado City. We promise that we will never be involved in a similar incident.

Charles Rice,
Mike Cayce

31 fatalities estimated

AUSTIN--The Texas Department of Public Safety estimates that as many as 31 persons could lose their lives on the state's roadways during the upcoming 78-hour Labor Day holiday period.

"Labor Day is the last holiday of summer and we want them to be around for future holidays," said DPS Assistant Director Lt. Colonel James R. Wilson. "The way to have a safe Labor day on the roadway is to avoid drinking and driving, drive inside the speed limits and wear your safety belt."

Last year, 33 persons died during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday, with late-reported deaths and deaths due to injuries bringing the final count to 40. Of those deaths, 25 (63 per cent) were attributed to either excessive speed or DWI, Wilson said.

This year's Labor Day period, designated by the National Safety Council, is from 6 p.m. Friday, August 30 to midnight Monday, September 2.

One of the violations Troopers will be keeping an eye out for is failure to wear a safety belt or use a child restraint. Last year, of the 32 fatalities in which seat belts could have made a difference, 88 per cent of those killed were not restrained, according to the DPS Statistical Services Section.

completed.

The board also gave approval to Alford to attempt to negotiate a contract with a physician's assistant (P.A.) on a one year contract. The benefits of having a P.A. on the hospital staff include the ability for the hospital to seek classification as a rural health facility.

Among the reports presented to the board members included: a housekeeping consultant report, the hospital administrators report, the lodge report, the medical staff report, the ambulance report and the closed-door quality assurance report.

Bob Golden of San Saba, who has been retained as a consultant for the hospitals housekeeping services, described the condition of the facility as being generally dirty.

He took the board members for a tour of the facility to show them some of the problems and that some efforts had been done to work with the housekeeping employees to direct their efforts towards more productive use of their efforts.

Golden told the board of what he was considering to be the problems, some of which could be effectively eliminated with a little effort and the use of a time management plan which would make more effective use of the housekeeping staffs time and work.

Alford presented the administrator's report and noted that the average census for the month of July was 6.8 patients per day. He noted that when this year was compared to last, the number of hospital patient days was down.

Board members discussed that several reasons for the number being down could include fewer admissions or shorter hospital stays, or both.

Marsha Rickard presented the Valley Fair Lodge report to the board. She noted that the lodge was still having minor changeover problems with the laundry service that it had begun using in June.

One of the issues that was presented to the board was the loss of patients clothing which had been presented to board members at the last meeting. It was noted that steps had been taken, and that improvement was being seen in the area, but that a problem did still exist.

The medical staff report was presented to the board by Dr. Royce McAnally who noted that there had been 36 admissions and 34 discharges in the month of July at the hospital.

He also noted that 10 surgeries had been performed at the hospital and that 21 persons had been transferred from the hospital.

Jay Craddock presented the ambulance board report. He noted that the ambulance had made 415 runs last year, 248 of which were local runs. That averaged out to 1.14 runs per day for the ambulance.

Craddock also said that the ambulance had responded to 36 calls in the month of July and that 20 of these runs were local. The average number of runs for the month of July was 1.16 per day.

He also noted that Janet Free has taken the position as interim director of the ambulance service.

The board members also agreed to renew a contract with the Texas Department of Health for the space they use at the unit, 505 Chestnut, with the exception that the hospital had the right to terminate the lease if the hospital should need the space.

The board then took time to praise the efforts of the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department for the emergency responses, in cases where they have gone above and beyond the call of duty, that they have provided recently.
