Vanguard III Satellite Hurled Into Orbit

9-Day Crude Flow Slated For October

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission slashed the October oil allowable by 51,536 barrels a day and fixed the statewide allowable for the fourth straight month on a 9-day production pattern.

The daily allowable will be 2,714,862 barrels daily next month.

A majority of the major oil companies recommended an increase which had generally been expected because of the increased demand for oil products during the coming fall and winter months.

Dallas independent oil producer E. L. Wilson, speaking for producers in that area, said he came to the monthly proration hearing believing now was the time to increase the production.

"But after listening to testimony here today I can't see any justification at all for an increase. We should hold the line where it is until the stocks are worked out," he said. "It would be better to absorb a small decrease than to take on an increase."

Chairman Ernest O. Thompson reported the supply of crude oil products is 58,300,000 barrels above the desired level. However, the figures show crude oil alone is nearly 5 million barrels below what the industry has said should be the desired level. Gasoline and distillates are in high excess, he said.

The state's largest oil buying company, Humble Oil Co., nominated an 11-day pattern along with Texaco. Charles Shaver of Houston said for Humble: "We don't believe we can get the oil we need on less than 10 days." He indicated the company would have to buy on nine days a total of 119,000 barrels a day of spot purchases to fill its need of 418,565 barrels a day.

Commissioner William J. Murray told the oil men that Texas is losing its share of the market and is producing less of its reserves than other states. He said a majority of the companies nominated an increase and if the commission did not grant the increase, "They can say we missed our chance to get back our share of the market. On the other hand, if we grant the increase it will be ground up into products and we will have a continually increasing amount of products."

Wilson said he knew of no other way to reduce the excessive stocks without cutting off the source of supply.

Several oil company representatives hedged on their recommendations and despite please from Thompson for a firm nomination for either a 9 or 10 pattern refused the request.

"That's a lot of assistance to this commission," Commissioner Olin Culberson joshed one representative. "We'd like something definite. This is your industry we are required to regulate."

Fred Dever of Shell said "It makes no difference to us" whether 9 or 10 days is ordered. Dave Young of Sinclair nominated 10 days, but, under questioning, said if he were on the commission he "probably would say 9 days."

J. C. Edwards of Texaco and J. G. Coates of Gulf nominated 11 and 10 days respectively but said the nominations "are not recommendations for industry."

"I do not want to presume to speculate on the industry needs. I am here to recommend for Humble's needs and I wouldn't want to usurp your position of power," Shaver said.

Thompson said he would waive that presumption but Shaver replied that "It would be unwise for me to speculate" on a production pattern.

Texas wells will be closed 22 days next month under the order.

Nominations by companies: Indiana 231,000 barrels, Atlantic, 85,470, Magnolia 228,400, Cities Service 89,065, Sun 114,513, Shell 160,900, Texaco 202,000, Sinclair 130,200, Gulf 223,700, Standard of Texas 42,500, Phillips 132,908 and Humble 418,565 barrels.

Rayburn To Shun Gavel

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn says he doesn't want to be chairman of the 1960 Democratic national convention. He wants to be free to do more active politicking.

Rayburn said Thursday he would like to "enjoy one convention" and "be in the meeting rooms and cloakrooms, circulating among the delegates, trying to get them to do what I might want done."

He presided over the preceding three Democratic conventions.

Rayburn, in a recorded radio interview (CBS capitol cloakroom) declined to rank his preferences among possible presidential nominees. But he said his fellow Texan, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, would have his wholehearted support if Johnson should seek the nomination.

Krush Recognizes Few Movie Stars

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will eat squab and quaff California wine with scores of world-famous movie stars Saturday, but he probably will recognize few, if any, of them.

Ironically, one that he might familiarly spot is Johnny Weissmuller. But the onetime screen Tarzan didn't rate an invitation to the plush luncheon at 20th Century-Fox studios.

Until a recent movie cultural exchange, the only American movies shown in the Soviet Union were of prewar vintage with most of them Weissmuller's Tarzan pictures.

Another big favorite among Soviet moviegoers was former child star Deanna Durbin, who now lives near Paris.

A fan mail service reports that Weissmuller is the only actor in town who gets sizable mail from the Soviet Union.

Cary Grant and Bob Hope both reported that they walked the streets of Moscow unrecognized last year.

Hope, along with Gary Cooper, Glenn Ford, Danny Kaye, David Niven, Kim Novak, Gregory Peck, June Allyson, Leslie Caron, Maurice Chevalier, Rita Hayworth and Richard Burton are but some of the names who have accepted.

Zsa Zsa Gabor, who appeared at Hungarian freedom fighters benefits after her native country's shortlived revolution, sent an acceptance.

There were some turndowns by militant anti-Communists in Hollywood such as Ronald Reagan, Ward Bond and Adolphe Menjou.

Bing Crosby also turned down his invitation, but Crosby never attends public functions.

After the luncheon, the Soviet leader will tour the set of the movie "Can Can."

Frank Sinatra will sing "C'Est Magnifique" and then introduce Chevalier, who also will sing.

Khrushchev, a lover of the dance, probably will get a bigger kick out of seeing Shirley MacLaine and Juliet Prowse, two beautiful-legged actresses, lead 16 shapely chorines in the famous "can can" dance.

Soviet Chief Visits Estate Of Roosevelt

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Pushed for time, an anxious Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sped through a whirlwind tour of the Roosevelt Hyde Park estate today and then hurried back toward New York to keep an important speaking date before the United Nations. He was said to be carrying a surprise disarmament proposal for the world organization.

"He enjoyed nothing," commented his hostess at Hyde Park, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. "A man behind him all the time kept whispering 'Seven minutes—seven minutes.'"

Khrushchev, who showed real signs of testiness Thursday night after three rugged days of touring and speaking in the United States, seemed "terribly anxious" about getting to New York in time to deliver his U.N. speech, Mrs. Roosevelt said.

Khrushchev, in his own words, went to Hyde Park "not for pleasure, but to pay homage" to the memory of Roosevelt. But apparently his U.N. date weighed heavily on his mind.

The U.N. speech appeared likely to be a highlight of his United States tour.

The Hyde Park tour started out more than half an hour behind schedule and the lost time cut into Khrushchev's plans for a sightseeing tour, which had promised to be another whirlwind event, in advance of his U.N. appearance.

Khrushchev remained at Hyde Park only 57 minutes in his pilgrimage to the grave of the president who was the Soviet Union's strong wartime ally. Accompanied by his wife, Nina, he laid a wreath of roses on the grave, and then, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, made a quick tour of the Roosevelt ancestral home and the Roosevelt memorial library.

At 12:06 p.m., Khrushchev was back in a limousine for a swift return to New York City. The trip takes a bit more than two hours and he was due at the U.N. at 3 p.m.

Khrushchev lost his temper momentarily Thursday night in the continuing Soviet-American debate over which system will outlast the other.

Premier's Charge Baffles Officials

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials were baffled today by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's charge that the U. S. State Department is hindering exchanges of delegations between the two countries.

Urging an even greater flow of visitors between the nations, Khrushchev told a New York audience Thursday "The State Department has of late become somewhat afraid of this exchange of delegations."

The department itself issued a statement saying Khrushchev has been misinformed.

President Eisenhower told questioners at a news conference that he did not know of anyone in the State Department who wanted to curtail the program. To the contrary, he said, he and his associates want to see it enlarged.

Negotiations have been under way between the department and the Soviet Foreign Office for several months on setting up a new program for the next two years to carry on the swapping of visits by scientific, industrial, educational and other groups which began in 1958.

Formally, the State Department declared the United States "has expressed its desire to increase and broaden exchanges and contacts between the Soviet Union and the United States and it is hoped that the current negotiations will lead to this goal."

Privately, officials were clearly annoyed by Khrushchev's comments, and wondered about their purpose.

Some thought Khrushchev might be trying to win some further concessions in the new program now being negotiated, but no one professed to know what he wanted.

The State Department noted that this country already is ahead of the Soviets in fulfilling the present program. It said this country already has sent all the agreed-on delegations in the fields of education, agriculture and cultural relations, for instance, while the Soviet Union trails by three groups in each category.

Classes in adult education courses at Snyder High School will open here Monday evening.

T. D. Wiman, high school principal, said classes will be held at 7 p.m. Monday and Thursday nights at the high school for 15 weeks.

Tuition is $16 for the period.

Courses are expected to begin in shop, typing and crafts, and more are needed in all the courses, especially typing and crafts.

Eden Suffers Fever Attack

PEWSEY, England, (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden, 62, is suffering from a severe attack of fever, his secretary said today.

A similar attack in 1957 preceded an operation on the former prime minister to correct a bile duct condition.

The secretary told a reporter Eden's doctor would come from London to see him.

He resigned as prime minister in January 1957 on grounds of ill health after the abortive British-French invasion of Suez and was succeeded by Harold Macmillan.

In 1953 Eden underwent an operation in Boston for a gall bladder condition. At that time an artificial bile duct tube was inserted.

The 1957 operation, also in Boston, was to remove the duct after an obstruction developed which caused attacks of fever.

Mao Is Placed Under Control Of Policeman

By NATE POLOWETZKY

TOKYO (AP)—The military reshuffle in Red China places Mao Tze-tung's army under the direct control of a policeman. It may mean a tougher domestic policy.

Some observers here believe the changes had little or nothing to do with Communist China's external affairs.

They speculated the shuffle was connected with army opposition to the revolutionary commune system and the industrial "leap forward" program.

Many parts of the huge economic program have been under the supervision of the military. There had been unconfirmed reports that the soldiers complained of the manpower strains on the army.

In the reshuffle, Marshal Peng Teh-huai was ousted as defense minister and replaced by Marshal Lin Piao, one of Red China's brainiest soldiers.

But perhaps more important was the selection of Lo Jui-ching, police boss, as army chief of staff, replacing Gen. Huang Kocheng.

Although he commands the rank of general, Lo has really been a political commissar in the army. He has carried out many hatchet jobs for Mao Tze-tung to whom he is reported very close.

The changes occurred just after Red China admitted that its economic planning has faltered badly, that many of its boasted production figures were erroneous, and that there is highly placed opposition to the commune system.

100-Pound Load Aloft

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Vanguard III satellite soared into orbit today and revived sagging U.S. prestige in the space exploration field.

The 100-pound satellite was boosted aloft by the last of the Vanguard rockets. The Vanguard, once the scapegoat for American space failures, thus ended its hard luck history on a triumphant note.

The success followed two straight American space flops. Just 14 hours before, a Thor-Able rocket fizzled in an attempt to place a 265-pound navigation satellite in orbit. On Wednesday, a Jupiter missile carrying mice and frogs on a space flight exploded 1,000 feet above its launching pad.

The flops came while Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited this country, basking in the limelight of Sunday's successful Soviet moon strike.

The satellite was the third put up in 11 tries by the Vanguard. It includes the 50-pound payload and the 50-pound third-stage rocket, which remained attached.

Its job was to measure the earth's magnetic field, solar X rays, micrometeorite bombardment and temperatures inside and outside the satellite.

Shaped like an ice cream cone, Vanguard III is made of magnesium and fiberglass. It consists of a 20-inch sphere with a 26-inch tube extending from it. The tube is tapered from 6 to 2½ inches in diameter.

In the tip of the cone is a magnetometer to measure the magnetic field and help locate pockets of dangerous radiation. The information may help man draw a map of the safest route to the moon and other planets.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the successful orbit 2 hours and 50 minutes after launch. It said the new satellite is expected to swing as far out as 2,300 miles in space and as close to the earth as 315 miles. This is very similar to the orbits of Vanguards I and II.

Nine hours after the launching the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced in Washington that radio signals from the satellite were coming in loud and clear.

On the basis of information received so far, NASA said Vanguard III is following a path that takes it 2,329 miles from earth at its most distant point, and 319 miles away at its closest point. The orbit is inclined 33 degrees north and south of the equator.

As it swings down to the low point of its orbit, something equivalent to a downhill slide, it is traveling 18,567 m.p.h. At the top of the orbit, its speed is 12,631 m.p.h.

NASA officials estimated the satellite would remain aloft for 30 to 40 years. They said its radio equipment should operate for about three months.

Vanguard I, the grapefruit-size satellite launched March 17, 1958, is expected to whirl about the earth for 2,000 years.

Vanguard II—the size of a basketball—is expected to stay aloft 200 years.

As to the Vanguard series, Dr. John Hagen, project director, pointed out in Washington that the program originally called for the launching of only one satellite during the International Geophysical Year. Instead the 110-million-dollar program resulted in three successful satellites.

NASA said the new moonlet probably would not be visible to the naked eye and would be hard to pick out in the heavens even with binoculars.

In another development Thursday in the U.S. space program, the rocket plane X15 made its first powered flight at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. Pilot Scott Crossfield rode the stub-winged craft down at 1,400 miles an hour on a 10-minute flight from 38,000 feet. It was launched from a bomber at that height.

It is hoped the X15 will penetrate 100 miles into the sky and hit a top speed of 4,000 m.p.h. later this year.

Strike Fund Due To Get Approval

By NORMAN WALKER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—AFL-CIO unions are expected to approve a fund today of some 25 to 30 million dollars per month to aid striking steelworkers.

The federation's 135 unions were due to commit their full treasuries, plus a pledge of outright grants, to aid the half-million steelworkers in their 66-day strike.

The strike fund is supposed to guarantee that no steel striker or his family goes hungry and that the steel union will have to weaken its demands because of financial shortage.

Already the steel union has been pledged a total of over 2½ million dollars from fellow unions.

Under the proposal due for adoption today every one of the 12½ million AFL-CIO members is being asked to contribute an hour's pay per week to the steel strike.

Should an 80-day court injunction stop the strike temporarily, the union and buildup would accumulate to help a strike later on.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, lashed into the record of the Soviet Union and its Premier, Nikita Khrushchev, in a keynote convention address Thursday.

Meany warned Americans to avoid being fooled by the Soviet leader on his current visit to the United States because of what Meany described as an almost unbroken record of deceit and aggression on the part of the Soviet Union.

It marked the first time since Khrushchev's arrival in this country that a leader of Meany's stature has castigated him and the Soviet record from the Hungarian invasion until present day intrusions into Laos, Tibet and India.

Meany charged that the Soviets under Khrushchev are full of deceit and ready to trigger a devastating war machine. He said Americans should not be fooled by peace protests that will hide actual efforts to spread Communist slavery.

Connally Denies Any Randolph Ouster Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Ed Connally said today talk about ousting the Texas Democratic national committeewoman "is the hallucinations of guilty consciences."

Connally talked to newsmen about reports that a behind-the-scene move will be started at the state meeting at McAllen to oust Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston next year.

"I doubt that her name will even be mentioned at the McAllen meeting tomorrow," he said.

"The SDEC is meeting this week to decide official business and not engage in witch hunting and party strife. We're meeting in the spirit of harmony and intend to keep it that way.

"This whole business of ousting someone is the hallucinations of guilty consciences and brands those who make such statements as ridiculous."

Connally said no action could be taken at the meeting to oust Mrs. Randolph even if a move was underway. He said the national committeewoman is elected at the state convention which will have the word next year on whether she is reelected.

At Washington, Mrs. Randolph said Connally "is not interested in working with the Democratic party nationally but only in fighting honest Democrats in Texas."

Connally answered: "I have worked with the national party in every way possible. This meeting is really purely coincidental (with the meeting of state committee chairman in Washington). I have contributed and raised as much money for the national party as anyone and will continue to do so."

He said he did not arrange the McAllen meeting and planned to attend the session in Washington but cancelled his plans at the last minute. Mrs. Randolph criticized Connally for not attending the Washington Democratic party sessions.

Connally refused to make an official statement to newsmen until he met 10 minutes privately with Gov. Price Daniel. Then he read the handwritten statement.

Connally left immediately for McAllen, and Daniel for Palestine, where he is attending the opening of a factory.

By FRANK N. MANITAS

"I am surprised to find that chairman Ed Connally of the Texas State Democratic Executive is not attending the conference of Democratic state chairmen and vice chairmen in Washington called by the Democratic National Committee.

"This is a most important working conference of party officials interested in the democratic party and the campaign of 1960.

"Chairman Connally called a meeting of the Texas State Democratic Executive Committee in McAllen on the same date of this conference after he had notice of it from the Democratic National Committee.

"I can only surmise that Mr. Connally is not interested in working with the Democratic Party nationally but only in fighting honest Democrats in Texas."

Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas earlier spoke against what he called "back stage scheming to oust Mrs. Randolph as national committeewoman."

There have been reports of a behind-the-scenes move at the McAllen meeting to unseat Mrs. Randolph next year.

She leads the party's liberal faction. The conservatives and middle-of-the-road factions led by Gov. Price Daniel, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn control the party machinery.

Action to oust Mrs. Randolph must be recommended by the June state convention and confirmed by the national convention. The state executive committee lacks power to remove her.

Krush To Wind Up Tour With Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviets Premier Nikita Khrushchev will wind up his American tour with a nationwide television speech a few hours before he takes off for his return trip to the Soviet Union Sept. 27.

A news conference will precede the speech.

Khrushchev's schedule for the last four days of his visit was announced Thursday by the White House. The itinerary for his tour from New York through Los Angeles, San Francisco and the Des Moines, Iowa, area had been announced earlier.

The Premier will spend 42 hours with President Eisenhower at the President's Camp David retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland during Khrushchev's last weekend in the United States. The two are expected to have intensive talks on cold war problems.

The Khrushchev party will fly from Des Moines to Pittsburgh next Wednesday night. The following morning the Premier will visit the Mesta Machinery Co. plant at West Homestead, Pa.

That afternoon he will attend a civic luncheon on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. Hosts will be Pennsylvania's Gov. David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh's Mayor Thomas J. Gallagher and Dr. Edward H. Litchfield, chancellor of the university.

The Khrushchevs will leave Pittsburgh after the luncheon, arriving here Thursday afternoon. They will stay again at the President's guest house here.

Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov will give a big reception for the Khrushchevs early that evening at the Soviet Embassy.

Khrushchev will visit the National Institutes of Health and other points of interest her Friday morning, then leave by car for Camp David.

The weekend talks will continue until noon Sunday, Sept. 27, when Khrushchev will drive back to Washington. He will hold a press conference, then go to the NBC television studio here for his address in the evening.

After a private dinner the party will leave Andrews Air Force Base at 10 p.m. for the trip home.

GM To Hold Line On Its Car Prices

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. is holding the 1959 price line on all its 1960 regular passenger car models.

The corporation announced today factory list prices on its five models — Chevrolet, Buick, Oldsmobile, Cadillac and Pontiac — will not be increased over 1959.

GM's announcement followed earlier reports that all of the auto industry's Big Three — GM, Ford and Chrysler — would hold the 1959 price line.

Ford and Chrysler have yet to announce their 1960 model prices.

Ward's Reports, a trade publication said Thursday a holding of the price line of last year would be the car industry's answer to inflation.

The factory list price is the price of the car as delivered to the dealer. It does not include dealer charges or taxes.

GM list prices range from $2056 for the lowest-priced Chevrolet to $8,950 for top Cadillac luxury car.

The prices showed moderate reductions from 1959 in some instances.

The announced price ranges on the various models (with 1959 ranges in parentheses):

Chevrolet — $2,056 two-door 6-cylinder sedan to $2,739 four-door 8-cylinder sedan ($2,056 to $2,737).

Pontiac — $2,390 sports sedan to $3,175 convertible coupe ($2,399 to $3,184).

Oldsmobile — $2,574 two-door sedan to $3,975 convertible coupe ($2,574 to $3,975).

Buick — $2,300 two-door sedan to $3,895 four-door hard top ($2,500 to $3,895).

Cadillac — $4,475 coupe to $8,950 limousine (not given).

Weak Front In Panhandle

By The Associated Press

A weak cool front stretched across the Texas Panhandle Friday, promising more thundershowers like it touched off in the area Thursday.

Amarillo caught .13 inch of rain and Childress had a trace as the front approached.

Clear skies prevailed over most of Texas, with a few clouds noted over the South Plains and East Texas and along the Gulf Coast.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy and mild weather for all sections of the state through Saturday, with scattered thunderstorms in Northwest and Southwest Texas and occasional thundershowers in East and South Central Texas.

Long range forecasts said more showers can be expected early next week in East and Central Texas. Occasional rainfall also is likely in West Texas.

Questions And Answers Are Published By Soviet Agency

By The Associated Press

The official Soviet news agency Tass Thursday night published questions and answers that followed Premier Nikita Khrushchev's speech Wednesday before the National Press Club in Washington.

The text of his speech had been published and broadcast in Moscow Wednesday but the questions and answers were not reported by Soviet organs at that time.

In a dispatch from Washington, Tass said the first question asked Khrushchev was connected with the personality cult of Stalin and "was of an obviously provocative nature." "This was a considerably condensed version of the actual question."

The agency quoted this Khrushchev reply (somewhat different but of substantially the same meaning as the Soviet translation heard at the press club and on American TV): "I should like to ask those who thought up this question: What aims did they set themselves and what did they want when they were cooking it up? You evidently want to put me into an embarrassing predicament and you are laughing in advance.

"The Russians say—he laughs well who laughs last. Beware, gentlemen who are concocting all kinds of cock and bull stories and enjoying in advance what you think are clever tricks of yours, for you might have to regret your own cookups afterwards.

"I will not fall for provocation and I am not going to reply by unfriendly sallies against the many worthy representatives of the press of the United States of America gathered here. All I can add is that a lie, however, long-legged it may be, will never keep pace with the truth."

The first question asked of Khrushchev actually went like this: "There is a story, perhaps apocryphal — and if apocryphal, perhaps it should now be denied, since it has been published in the West—that at the meeting of the Communist Party Congress during which he delivered his long speech about Mr. Stalin and about the crimes Mr. Stalin had committed in the cult of personality that someone in the audience sent up an unsigned but written question. Mr. Khrushchev paused in the middle of the speech and read the question to the audience:

"What were you doing while Stalin was committing these crimes?" the question asked.

"Mr. Khrushchev noted that the question was unsigned and suggested that perhaps the author would like to arise and identify himself.

"After a brief pause, or a lengthy pause, if you like, no one stood up.

"'Well, comrades,' Mr. Khrushchev said, 'Now you know what I was doing while Stalin was committing these crimes.'

"'And perhaps the chairman would like to comment on that story. If it isn't true, we might just as well forget it for all time.'"

Reds Learn Krush Going To Red China

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet people learned for the first time today that Nikita Khrushchev intends to visit Red China after his American tour.

The disclosure came in Pravda and Izvestia accounts of the Soviet Premier's news conference at the National Press Club in Washington Wednesday.

Khrushchev, in answer to a question told of his impending trip to Peiping for the 10th anniversary of the Chinese Communist revolution.

Neither the Soviet press nor Moscow radio had mentioned the trip before, though it was no secret in the West.

Khrushchev first disclosed his plans to visit Peiping Sept. 29 at a cocktail party in Moscow.

The Soviet Premier's American tour is still the big news at home.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda and the government organ Izvestia both carried front-page headlines this morning quoting Khrushchev that the ice of the cold war is not only cracked but also is breaking up.

Pravda said in an editorial that the "overriding majority of Americans are peaceloving and have given the head of the Soviet government a warm and cordial welcome."

In a New York-dated dispatch, the newspaper said Khrushchev has made an "enormous impression on the American public" and declared: "New York old-timers assert there has been nothing like it in their memory."

The Soviet news agency Tass reported from New York, however, that "some commentaries and newspaper reports have displayed certain irritation and contain calls to the population to show coldness."

Shelter Set By Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization approved today a $300,000 grant to pay for construction of an underground nuclear shelter at a hospital to be built in San Antonio.

The project is the first for which federal funds have been made available to give a hospital protection from atomic warfare. It is to be part of a 20 million dollar, 750-bed Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital on which work is to begin in December.

The two underground floors of the hospital, to be built on a 25-acre tract donated by the San Antonio Medical Foundation, will house all the operating, treatment, X-ray and other working facilities. Patients' rooms will occupy the four floors above ground.

The underground floors of the hospital will be equipped with oxygen and emergency food and machinery so that it could operate independently for 30 days after a nuclear attack.

Commander In Iceland Is Relieved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Gilbert Pritchard has been relieved of his command in Iceland in the wake of an airport incident that raised Icelandic feelings against American forces there.

Pritchard was commander of the air base at Revkjavik where two Icelandic officials were reported to have been forced by guards to lie in mud puddles.

The action was taken at the request of the Icelandic government, an Air Force spokesman said in answer to questions.

Icelandic Ambassador Thor Thors had made a formal protest to the State Department.

He said American guards at the base had forced the two officials at gunpoint to lie in puddles of water for 10 minutes and threatened to shoot if they opened their mouths.

The contention of the guard was that the two officials had entered a restricted area.

Pritchard had been in command for only about two months.

The Air Force spokesman said no new assignment for Pritchard had been decided yet, and no successor appointed.

JIMMY MORGAN—Philosopher of the mail room.

Lot To Be Learned From Summer Job

By VIVIAN BROWN

A SUMMER JOB is an education says Jimmy Morgan, 17, handsome six-footer of Scarborough, N. Y. After a two months stint in the mail room of an "ad" agency, a job he took two days after he graduated from Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Conn., Jimmy feels that the money he earned wasn't important, it was the experience that really counts.

"I met all sorts of people on this job, from race track touts and boozers to bank officers," he says. "It was an adventure from start to finish."

The cast of characters in the mail room included:

The boss. "A very considerate, efficient fellow, terrific under pressure, who knows how to handle his men excellently. He was considerate, and I've decided that should be the first qualification of the perfect boss," Jimmy says.

The porter. . . "He looks like a tough guy but is the kindliest man in the world. He showed me all the ropes, helped me the most and I'm glad I met him."

The fighter. . . "He is the character of the mail room, a man who has his ups and downs, but never stays down. He is always on his way back up the ladder."

From these three, Jimmy learned that you must know people to understand them, and that first impressions aren't always the best.

Jimmy worked two and a half weeks as a mineograph attendant the same length of time as a messenger, an dthree weeks as a helper to the mail room boss.

When Jimmy takes off for Princeton University this fall, he'll have learned a good summer's worth including:

The value of a dollar. . . "It costs a lot to eat in New York City but I finally found a little restaurant where you could get a big bowl of spaghetti for 55 cents, tip 15 cents." (He'll appreciate Mom's good cooking from here in.) Mail room boys don't earn high wages, and must rely on pocketing their transportation money. (You can make up to $8 a week by walking, not riding, and "everybody does it," Jimmy says.)

It pays to make friends. . . "What can you lose being nice to everyone? A summer employe shouldn't try to jeopardize the job of anyone who makes his living at it all the year 'round."

Everybody's Boss. . . "The mail room has more bosses than the entire Ellington Co. Everybody in the mail room wants to tell the boss how to do it."

Discretion. . . "I was careful to maintain secrecy on a lot of things going on in the business. Mailroom boys know everything that is going on in an agency, see all memos correspondence."

Best foot forward. . . "I was chosen to get the president's lunch, and others boys were chosen chosen for important jobs on the basis of how well they could perform or how well they dressed if the assignment involved making a good appearance."

Disadvantages. . . "There is little opportunity for advancement from a mail room, and most employes are just happy to get their pay. The work is exhausting and your are always running around, in and out of air-conditioned buildings, getting fained on, perspiring, getting chilled."

Preparedness. . . "You must be prepared for emergencies, as one day I got caught way down in Wall Street without a subway token and had to borrow money from an ice cream vendor."

Advantages. . . "Time and a half for overtime and $3 for supper money when you have to work overtime."

Myth exploded. . . "Ad agencies are not the glamorous places to work that best sellers make them out to be."

Responsibility. . . "I was frequently entrusted with large sums of money. On one occasion I carried $980 in cash."

Jimmy won't go back to the "ad" agency next summer. He prefers to work on machines to fit in with the applied mathematics he'll be studing at college.

"You have to go to college now to learn how to push buttons," he says.

"I worked as a landscape gardener's assistant last summer and made four times more money as I made this summer, but I didn't learn as much," grins Jimmy.

Girl Snares Groom Right On Schedule

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On a brisk October day a radiant girl and her father went to a New York hotel and were interviewed by John Webber, then the hotel's banquet manager.

They wanted to book a wedding reception for the following June. The girl knew exactly what she wanted: there would be 200 people; there would be hot hors d'oeuvres, filet nignon and champagne throughout; the floral decor would be white. Father wrote a check — $500 — as a deposit and they prepared to leave.

Webber, however, needed one additional bit of information. On the regular hotel form he had noted the name of the bride, the bride's family, the date and location of the wedding ceremony. He now asked the name of the bridegroom.

"I don't know yet," replied the girl calmly, "but we'll let you know in plenty of time — two weeks before the wedding, anyway."

Webber, a suave veteran of hotel management, had some difficulty maintaining his usual noncommittal expression.

Kept Her Bargain

But she did inform him — three weeks in advance, as it turned out — and the wedding reception for 200 went off exactly as planned.

Webber, now owner-manager of The Henry Perkins at Riverhead, Long Island, has become something of a wedding specialist over the years, but the groomless bride remains one of his favorite souvenirs. Another is memory of the rich businessman who tossed a $12,000 hotel wedding and reception for his daughter. As the festivities wound up around 1:30 a.m., Webber — following the custom of the establishment where he was then employed — presented the bill. The father of the bride checked the items and spotted one for $10 at which he balked.

"We argued about that $10 until 5:30 in the morning," recalls Webber grimly. "Then he gave up, reached in his pocket and payed the whole thing with $100 bills."

As banquet manager for the Forest Hills Inn, his job until recently, Webber frequently arranged for as many as 32 weddings and receptions over a single weekend. On one occasion, he successfully scheduled four wedding parties in the grand ballroom in one day with only minutes between the end of one party and the beginning of another.

No Indecision

Generally, says Webber, today's brides seem to know exactly what they want in the way of a wedding. They know how many people they want to attend, what they want in the way of food and drink — and are very sure of themselves when it comes to proper wedding etiquette.

There is a continuing and marked trend toward hotel receptions largely due, he believes, to the shortage of domestic help and because it allows all the wedding participants to enjoy themselves without much responsibility. In addition, he points out, it makes it possible to decide in advance how much one is going to spend.

Careful planning in advance is the secret of a successful wedding, he insists. Wise planners sit down well in advance with a hotel's banquet manager and figure out costs and obtain an estimate. Then two weeks before the event they visit the hotel again, check arrangements, indicate the time the party will arrive, arrange for place cards and escort cards. Two days before the wedding the bride may bring her going-away costume and other wardrobe necessities to be put away for the moment she needs them.

OUR VIEW

Practicing Economy

THE DENISON HERALD:

The National Institute of Governmental Purchasing notes that an increasing number of governmental units are purchasing co-operatively. And the thing can grow because there are signs of substantial savings on many instances.

This illustration is given—twelve cities in Broward Co., Fla., won lower bids on such items as cars, trucks, radios, gasoline, oil and grease by buying together. They have operated under joint purchasing agreements for the last two and a half years.

The three original cities to the agreement — Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood and Pompano Beach—saved nearly $35,000 compared to prices paid on the same items purchased earlier by each city individually.

The Louisville Local Government Buyers Group developed a warehouse from which members could requisition goods. Meetings were held to distribute purchasing information.

Early this year, Alabama's governor ordered all school and charitable institutions of the state to purchase through the state. Savings of between two and three million dollars were estimated by the state finance director.

A survey by the International City Manager's Assn. in 1957 showed 106 cities taking part in joint buying agreements with other governments.

Governmental reform will be made easier under the demonstrated successes such as these. Texans, resisting the breaking down of county precinct lines, ultimately will realign their loyalties before the convincing argument of economy.

Chuck Comiskey Realizes Dream

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Winning of their first American League pennant in 40 years by the Chicago White Sox will climax a long family dream for baseball's youngest executive.

"It's been a long time coming true," admitted Charles A. Comiskey, 33, the club's executive vice president.

"Chuck," also sometimes known as "the Young Roman," is the grandson of "the Old Roman" — the tough and canny original Charles A. Comiskey, cofounder of the American League back in 1900.

Under "the Old Roman" the White Sox won six league titles, the last in 1919, six years before Chuck was born.

"I was 6 when my grandfather died, and don't remember too much about him," said young Comiskey. "But even then I was interested in the game. I've had baseball for breakfast, lunch and dinner all my life."

At 13 he sat on the White Sox bench dressed in a uniform that had "13"—his favorite number—on the back. In high school and college he was an outstanding first baseman.

After a two-year hitch in the Navy during World War II, he took over the reins as president of the Waterloo, Iowa, club for the 1948 season. He also functioned as "ticket seller, turnstile attendant, sweeper-outer and scout."

Late that year he moved up to his present post with the White Sox. He had just turned 23.

Astute Frank Lane was hired as general manager and the two set to work rebuilding the White Sox farm system and swapping players.

"It takes time and patience to build a real team," said Chuck. "Our present team is the result of more than 10 years of hard work and planning.

"I predicted three years ago the New York Yankees were dying at the grass roots — and they were. They used to have good prospects on all their farm clubs, but a few years ago that crop began to die out.

"The reason was simple. The other clubs just became more aggressive at signing up green talent. But they had to overcome a 10-year head start by the Yankees.

"Last year there were 11 young players we wanted, ranging all the way from Canada to Venezuela. We ended up with six of them. A good team is always rebuilding."

Comiskey is proud of the 1959 White Sox club, feels sturdily sure it will go on to win its first World Series since 1917.

How big a role Chuck will play in the future destiny of the White Sox remains to be seen. The Comiskey clan is noted for its internal fussing and fighting.

Last March a syndicate headed by Bill Veeck, one of the greatest showmen in baseball, bought the majority interest in the White Sox from Chuck's sister, Dorothy Rigney.

Chuck retains a 46 per cent interest and his job as executive vice president. The big fellow — he's 6 feet 2, weighs 205 — also has a lot of his grandfather's fighting spirit.

He isn't likely to be satisfied with figurehead title, particularly since he believes he has proved he had the baseball know-how to help put the White Sox at the top. He intends to go right on wearing grandpa's toga.

Land constitutes slightly more than 1 per cent of the total surface of the earth and water composes the other 71 per cent, says a Twentieth Century Fund report.

Krush Putting On Show Of Century

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev is putting on one of the great shows of the 20th century. But how it looks depends on whether you're sitting in the United States or elsewhere.

There's never been anything like this in our time.

Here he is, an ordinary-looking man, not too well educated, a one-time miner who struggled up the ladder from the coal pits to become the boss of one of the most powerful nations in history.

More than that. Despite this country's long hostility to communism and the billions it has poured into defense against the Soviets, the top man in world communism has been invited over.

He gets a 21-gun salute, he stays at the Waldorf-Astoria, he's guest of honor at a White House dinner. And it goes further.

No matter how distasteful he and all he stands for may be to millions in this country, he practically compelled the United States to invite him in the hope that this may be the way to find a peaceful solution to the Berlin dilemma.

Thus it is not hard for Premier Khrushchev to see in himself a symbol of all the backward people and nations who dream of rising out of poverty and ignorance to a place of equality with, or even superiority to, the best on earth.

Whether Americans like it or not the invitation to Khrushchev—meaning the blackjack, Berlin circumstances which brought him here—is frank recognition that the Soviet Union, long despised by some as primitive, is equal to us in power.

His whole performance has been like that of a man who knows he has the Western world puzzled and guessing.

He speaks of himself as the harbinger of peace (but warns of the horror of war if there is no peace); he says the ice of the cold war has begun to crack since his arrival (but he hasn't so far yielded an inch on anything); he remains jolly, the traditional mark of a man of good will (except for sudden flashes of anger at affronts); he bounces around with the enthusiasm of a long-delayed tourist (as well he might, since he's the first head of a Soviet government to come here); and he gives the impression of a man who is going to enjoy himself, whether or not anything comes of his trip at all.

The image of himself which he has been anxious to project to the American people—and to all others, since his words and pictures are being sent everywhere—is that of a man of good will.

But he has also been projecting another picture of himself, which the Americans can like or leave, but which most probably looks good to the whole Communist world and perhaps even to the neutral and backward people too.

He's been friendly, but tough without being unpleasant about it. He's not letting anyone get the notion he's being beguiled or softened by the attention given him as the representative of world communism.

At a Waldorf luncheon Thursday, he put himself in focus: "Who am I, then? Is it that I am a man who when I appear before Communists, I applaud Communists, when I am among American capitalists I applaud them? People might think this is no politician, this is a weather vane."

He has made it clear to people everywhere that he is calmly sure of himself and the ultimate triumph of world communism. For instance: At the National Press Club this week, with the whole nation watching him on TV, Khrushchev very jovially informed the United States in its own capital that communism would in the end drown and bury capitalism.

Lot Of Tourists Lured To America

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Those much publicized tourists — the Khrushchev family flying from coast to coast Saturday—are only a handful of the fast-increasing horde from overseas discovering the United States as a place to see.

An estimated 1,000 other Russians have crossed the Atlantic this year. Only some 250 of these are called tourists and only 165 reported their object as solely pleasure. They contrast with an estimated 13,000 Americans gawking at the Kremlin this year.

The Russians are lost in the estimated half-million Europeans who are making the Atlantic something more than a one-way tourist lane. Six million Canadians are making short or long sorties into the United States this year and around one million Latin Americans.

Visitors to our shores should spend close to one billion dollars this year, officials hope. This would help offset the more than two billion dollars that more than 600,000 Americans are spending in Europe, plus many millions elsewhere.

Many other Russians may share United States but can't get permission or funds to see for themselves. It may be shared by even more Western Europeans who still aren't allowed to take enough of their money out of their country for an American tour.

From being mainly an exporter of tourists, the United States is now becoming an importer of tourists, too.

To encourage the flow one of the big agencies thriving on tourism from whichever direction, American Express, has set up special units in 15 countries to serve as a channel through which foreigners can get information and arrangements for travel in the United States.

U.S. government agencies also are spreading the good word and making a big drive for 1960. A tourist franc, pound, mark or peso is just as welcome here as a dollar is abroad.

Reasons for the increase in travel to these shores, other than for political or business purposes, are varied.

Most immediate may be that several foreign governments have lifted currency restrictions and in-

Youth Denies Story About Hired Slayer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A college student denies he told police that Carole Tregoff tried to hire someone to murder her lover's wife.

Donald Sanford Williams, 23, of Las Vegas, said Thursday: "The police have distorted everything I told them when they questioned me.

"During my discussions with Carole there was never any mention of murder."

He said he would not sign the statement he gave to police.

Williams told police Wednesday that Carole asked him to introduce her to "two rough guys who can take care of somebody."

Police said they interpreted this to mean she wanted them to kill Barbara Jean Finch.

Carole, 22-year-old divorcee, and Dr. Bernard Finch, 41, wealthy West Covina, Calif., surgeon, are charged with murdering his wife. Mrs. Finch, 31, was shot to death outside her home July 18.

Williams said Carole, a long-time friend, approached him about two weeks before Mrs. Finch was killed.

He said he introduced her to William Keachie and Jack Cody and that she later gave him a picture of a woman to deliver to the men. He denied that he identified the picture as that of Mrs. Finch, as police said he had done.

Callas Flies Back To Italy

BILBAO, Spain (AP)—Soprana Maria Callas flew back to Athens today in the private plane of the wealthy Greek who says he loves her "like a sister."

Miss Callas had spent the night aboard the plane here after performing at Coliseo Albia Theater, ending Bilboa's opera season.

The plane that took her to the Greek capital was a 60-passenger skymaster of Olympic Airways, a firm controlled by shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis, who has been named by the singer's husband Giovan Battista Meneghini as the cause of their broken marriage.

Both Miss Callas, 35, and Onassis, 55, who also is married, have denied any romance.

It was Miss Callas' first concert since her announced breakup with 62-year-old Meneghini. Spanish music lovers were divided in their opinion of the performance on leaving the packed theater.

The soprano's next scheduled public engagement is in London next Wednesday.

Graded Choirs Get Started In Church

A graded choir program was begun Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church.

Four choirs totaling about 180 persons met during the evening, and they will continue each Wednesday, except the junior high choir which is to meet on Sundays.

Trustees will consider plans for campaigns to raise money for the college's building program.

WELDONA, Colo. (AP)—Eddie Ray Lisle, 21, waved goodby to his parents at their farm Thursday night and set out in his car for an evening in town.

A few minutes later, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lisle, left to attend church services here.

They came upon the wreckage of a car, skewered on a bridge railing. Inside was the body of their son.

Hummingbird Gets Ride On Airliner

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hummingbird which forgot to migrate is getting an airliner lift from the chilly north to Florida.

Audubon Society officials in Miami have prepared a warm reception for the tiny bird, due today by plane. Its $4 fare was paid by Mrs. Eugenia M. Moody, 75, vice president of the North Woodstock, Vt., Humane Society. The $4 represented shipping charges on the bird and its cage.

Mrs. Moody found the hummingbird half-frozen in Sunday's low temperatures at North Woodstock.

The bird will be released in Coconut Grove, a Miami suburb.

Glatman To Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) —Harvey M. Glatman, who photographed three young models before raping and murdering them on a Southern California desert, goes to a gas chamber death today.

Glatman, 31, made no effort to delay his execution for crimes Superior Court Judge John A. Hewicker called "so revolting there is only one penalty—the death penalty."

After hearing Judge Hewicker's sentence in San Diego Dec. 17, Glatman matter-of-factly told reporters, "It's about what I wanted."

Glatman, a former Los Angeles TV repairman and amateur photographer, was captured when a fourth intended young woman victim fought him off and jumped from his car.

He rejected a jury trial and pleaded guilty before Judge Hewicker to the rape slayings of Ruth Rita Mercado, 24, and Shirley Ann Bridgeford, 24, both Los Angeles models, in San Diego County.

He admitted also raping and strangling Judith Ann Dull, 19, West Hollywood model, in Riverside County.

On the pretext he was photographing them for crime magazines, Glatman bound and gagged his victims. He raped them and then they were slowly strangled.

REJECTING HIS WORD

(Question) "Can one Believe Christ while rejecting His word?" (Answer) The standard of judgement will be "The word which I speak." (John 12:48) Jesus said, "He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I spake, the same shall judge him in the last day." When one rejects any part of God's word as unnecessary he subjects himself to the wrath of God. "The Pharisees and lawyers rejected for themselves the counsel of God, being not baptized of him." (Lk. 7:30) The faith of the Centurion was complimented because he believed strongly enough in Jesus that if he would but "say the word" his servant should be healed. (Matt. 8:8-10) The difference between the wise and foolish builders of Matt. 7:24-28 was one heard and obeyed while the other heard and didn't follow. One cannot expect to reach heaven while ignoring Christ and his word. "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14:6) Acceptable faith obeys the words of Jesus and is saved by His grace. (Acts 5:32) (Tit. 2:11)

French Algerians Seek Army Aid To Block DeGaulle Plan

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP) — Right-wing French settlers today made a bid for army support to block Gen. Charles de Gaulle's plan to put Algeria's future up to a vote that could bring independence from France.

But the right-wingers appeal fell far short of rousing the enthusiasm of last year's May 13 revolt which brought down the Fourth French Republic and paved the way for De Gaulle's return to power.

De Gaulle as president of France has offered Algeria three choices once the five-year rebellion is squashed—independence, full integration with France, or internal autonomy.

But he warned that independence would lead to a throat-cutting civil war in Algeria and eventual Communist dictatorship.

De Gaulle's program brought a favorable response in Allied capitals where the Algerian rebellion has tended to undermine the North Atlantic Alliance.

In Washington, President Eisenhower called the plan a statesmanlike move. Britain welcomed it as "a statement of policy of the highest importance." The West German government saw a "possibility that the tragic Algerian conflict will eventually be solved."

The right-wing settlers sought to catch the army's ear with the tune: "Why fight if sooner or later your victory is to be wasted by popular suffrage?"

While the appeal found some sympathy there is every likelihood that De Gaulle carefully weighed the army's position in advance. He toured the Algerian battlefront to sound out commanders before drafting his program.

Informed sources said some bitterness was felt in the headquarters of Gen. Jacques Massau, the paratroop hero who has vowed to keep Algeria French. But outside the capital of Algiers the army reaction appeared much more restrained.

The Algerian masses appeared apathetic on the surface. Five years of rebellion has made them reluctant to demonstrate their feelings.

Army press censorship held down attempts to touch off inflamatory reaction to the De Gaulle plan, which proposes a referendum four years after pacification of the country.

First Negro Students In Tennessee College

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The first Negro students in Memphis State history join the 4,500 who have registered for opening day classes at the university today.

Police Chief J. C. MacDonald said his force was at full strength to deal with any event. But he expected no trouble.

Eight Negroes were registered at a special session Sept. 10 and advised to avoid the school's social centers for the present.

The admission of Negro students came only after MSU had exhausted every legal maneuver to block integration. Other state-supported colleges in Tennessee were integrated last year.

It will be displayed in New York and other American cities.

SPORTS

Between You And Me

By JERRY JACKSON

ALTHOUGH the racing reason at Ruidoso Downs has just been completed, turf fans need not be in the least dismayed, in that a brand new race track down El Paso way has been scheduled for opening in early October.

Sunland Park is its official title, and its situated just across the border from El Paso in New Mexico.

Great things are seemingly being planned for the opening weekend of Oct 10. One of the foremost names in the business—Johnny Longden—will be on hand Sunday the 11th, to lend big-time atmosphere to the festivities. He is to ride in two of the races that day, including the feature event.

Racing Haphazard But Fascinating

THE PONY pastime is a fascinating one...a haphazard sort of sport, to be sure, but fascinating nevertheless. It can also be a whole lot of fun from the betting angle, if you can afford it. For it's fairly well established that the riches-to-rags yarns far outnumber the vice versas.

(As was said by one many-times loser, "Sure do hope I can manage to break even today, 'cause I really could use the money.")

But it was a distinct pleasure being able to make the trip over to Ruidoso not too many weeks ago and get a firsthand glimpse of just how the whole cockeyed business functioned.

The monsoon season had evidently only recently been completed, for the track was about six inches deep in slippery, slimy mud, and it was amazing that the horses were able to remain upright through it all, along with their compact human packages.

However, this factor eventually proved to be a betting boon, in that the jockeys were required to run successively in the races, and it was fairly evident about how far back they had been finishing in previous races by the amount of goo caked upon their persons. Not foolproof, of course, but a definite aid.

Amateur Can Be Led Astray

HAVING never placed a racing bet, I was all ears and eyeballs in hopes of picking up a few helpful tips as to same, and got to listening to a couple of young ladies sitting behind me, who seemed to know pretty much what was going on.

In the upcoming running they seemed to be very certain of a particular horse winning, so I put two dollars on same to show.

This was a mistake, I soon found out, as the gray nag limped in next to last.

Purely in the interest of furthering my racing knowledge, I turned around and asked the girls just why they had gone along with that steed, and one replied, "Oh, we always bet on the one with the cutest jockey."

Ah, yes, but of such is life.

Ford Leads EP Open

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Doug Ford and his sure-shot putter led the way into the second round of the $20,000 El Paso Open Golf Tournament today.

Ford, 37-year-old pro from Crystal River, Fla., shot a 7-under-par 65 Thursday for a 3-stroke lead in the 72-hole tournament.

Closest to him were semi-retired Iverson Martin of El Paso and Joe Campbell, a youngster from Knoxville, Tenn. Each shot 4-under-par 68s.

At 69 were Houston La Clair, Birmingham, Ala., Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., and Ernie Vossler, Odessa, Tex.

The year's leading money winner, Art Wall Jr., and Dow Finsterwald, winner of the recent Kansas City Open, were far back at 74.

Andrews First Home Foe Of Tigers

BARRY WALKER

EDDIE WATSON

. . .Game captains

A highly-rated herd of Andrews Mustangs will gallop onto the local gridiron tonight to do battle with an eager bunch of Snyder Tigers in the initial home game of the year for the local elegation. Kick-off time has been set for 8 o'clock and a healthy turnout is anticipated for the struggle.

The Tigers will be seeking to slip into the win column, having dropped a defensive-type encounter to Borger last week, 12-0. The Ponies down Seminole 12-8, in their first fling into the young season, and are currently rated fifth among state schoolboy AAA powers.

Mustang Coach Glenn Frazier sports a most impressive record over the past six years in which he has piloted Pony destinies. He has never had a losing season, and has captured three district titles during that span, including the District 2-AAA title this past season. His team is favored to bring home the district bacon this year too.

The Tiger starting offensive lineup will show a slight weight advantage in the backfield, but will give away a few pounds in the line. Snyder's starting line will average approximately 177 as compared to 180 for Andrews, and their backfield will scale out at 157 as against the Mustangs' 152.

Bengal Mentor John Conley, along with Assistants Don Robbins and Horrace Bostick, have revamped the starting offensive lineup to a large degree, and several new faces, along with a few old faces cropping up in new positions, are in evidence.

Defensively, the starting eleven will be basically the same as the unit which started against Borger, the only change being that Marcus Strickland will be playing defensive right halfback in the place of Wayne Berry.

This defensive set-up will have Jim Huffman and Reg Scarborough at tackles, Stanley Woolever and Charles Gladson on the ends, Mike Moffett, Dick Hayes, Eddie Watson, and Jim Robinson as linebackers, Strickland and James Fitzgerald at the halfbacks, and Jesse Crawford at safety.

Physically, the Tigers will enter the fray at near top strength, with Guard David Wiman being the only player on the injured list. He has been slowed down by a shoulder injury, but should be able to see limited action.

B Wins, Frosh Lose

In games reeled off last night in Tiger Stadium, the High School "B" Team and Freshman eleven split two hard-fought contests against Lamesa. The fighting Fish dropped the wild and woolly opener in a scoring marathon, 40-32, whereas the "B" Teamers followed up with a go-ahead, stay-ahead 26-8 win in the nightcap.

The Freshman game was a donnybrook of scoring, with Pat LaFountain being the big gun in Snyder offensive. He opened the fest in the first quarter on a five-yard scoring jaunt, with Halfback Jackie Wasson carrying over the bonus points. Following a touchdown by Lamesa as the quarter was running out, LaFountain carried over again on a two-yard sneak play and carried over for the two-pointer. The Fish held a 16-12 halftime lead.

It was mostly Lamesa in the second half, as the Little Tornados counted on the first play from scrimmage on a 52-yard sprint, and scored two more TD's before Snyder could muster up another scoring drive. This was accomplished on an aerial from Quarterback Dalton Walton to End Malcom Bolger, with LaFountain adding the extra points on an end around. The final counter came as the result of a 71-yard ramble by LaFountain, who added the extra points via end run.

In the "B" Team game, the Snyderites got the jump on the Lamesans, did all their scoring in the first half, and than held on for the remainder of the game. First quarter scoring was initiated by Fullback Bob Pena, who bulled over on a one-yarder. Later in the stanza, Quarterback Steve Free scored on a 19-yard keeper, and Mike Morris ran over the two points.

Morris contributed the last two touchdowns in the second quarter, the first on a two-yard keeper, and later on a 50-yard caper. Neither of the extra point tries were successful, and the score stood 26-0 at the half.

The majority of play in the second half took place between the opposing 20-yard lines, as the Snyder crew was unable to muster up any type of scoring offensive. Lamesa got on the plus side of things in the fourth quarter as the result of a safety, then scored their lone touchdown on a yard long scamper with only 0:51 left in the game.

Bears Down Frogs

In a Pee Wee Pow Wow played at Central Elementary yesterday afternoon, the Bears came out on the long end of the score by 14-6 over the Frogs.

The Frogs scored first on a run by Eddie Greenfield, and were clinging to a 6-0 lead at the half. However, the Bears were not to be denied, as Marvin Mayfield scored on an 50-yard run around left end, followed by Kenneth Dikey's run for the two extra points. Then, in the fourth quarter, Dikey tacked on some insurance as he blasted through the line for 32 yards and the final touchdown.

Junior Highs Win

Snyder Junior High teams continued their winning ways last night in Colorado City, winning the two games played in a handy manner. The Eighth Graders waltzed to a 42-6 triumph, that game being preceded by the Lamar Seventh Graders 28-8 romp over their C-City counterparts.

Featured in the Eighth Grade contest were numerous long runs, the first scoring play being a 25-yard scamper by Gail Potter, who followed up with another first quarter six-pointer, with Eddie Kirby adding the extra points. Second stanza scoring consisted of 25-yard run by Edward Schulz, which set up the 20-0 score at the half.

Third quarter scoring came on a 50-yard ramble by Kirby, with Schultz adding the extras, and a 55-yard jaunt by Jackie Stewart. The final tally was the result of a fourth quarter five-yarder by Schultz, the extra points being run over by Robert Thomas.

Cited as being outstanding in the offensive line for Snyder was Tackle Larry Lee. Another offensive stalwart was Quarterback Jimmy Wilson. In the defensive line, Ronnie Fisk and Tommy Christian looked especially good.

In the Seventh Graders conquest, the locals scored in every quarter in arriving at their 28-8 win. Jay Williamson started things off with a 15-yard run around end for the initial marker, and prior to halftime Drew Bullard added another six by the grace of a 10-yard off tackle slant. Williamson ran over the extra points folloing this second TD.

It was four yards off tackle by J. N. Wall for a third quarter tally, then Drew Bullard skirted end for 25 yards and the final score, followed by Jerry Wilson's successful run for the extra points.

A shutout was averted by C-City, as they scored on the last play of the game.

Veeck Sets New Stunt

CHICAGO (AP) — Promotional wizard Bill Veeck stages his most unnecessary interest - building stunt tonight.

The president of the probable pennant - winning Chicago White Sox has arranged for a Dixieland jazz outfit to perform in Comiskey Park two hours before game time.

But some 40,000 long-suffering Sox fans will pour into the South Side park, lured by something other than jazz.

They're hungering after the South Siders' first American League championship in 40 years, and they can just about taste it.

In fact they believe they will taste it tonight or Saturday, Sunday for sure.

All their heroes need is any combination of Chicago victories and Cleveland losses totaling three and the flag is theirs.

Right-hander Robert J. Shaw, youthful owner of 16 wins and only 6 losses, is Manager Al Lopez' choice to hurl tonight against the Detroit Tigers' Frank Lary (17-10) or Jim Bunning (16-12).

Lopez has said he'll choose between Dick Donovan, Billy Pierce and Barry Latman for pitchers in the next two games.

Lincoln Opens Slate

Carver of Midland will furnish the opposition tomorrow night, as Coach Calvin Edwards' charges embark on their 1959 season. The tussle will take place in Midland, with a starting time of 8 o'clock.

Although the past season was a lean one for the Lincoln lads, they will be bolstered this year by 11 of last year's 15 lettermen. Also, it is still a young team which Coach Edwards has to work with in their second full year of football competition, with only three seniors on the entire squad.

Returning lettermen this year include Ends Randolph Williams and Gene Taylor, Tackle Johnnie Garcia, Guards John Choyce and Mack Taylor, Centers Charlie Archie and Buford Thompson, Quarterback Columbus Crayton, Halfbacks James Choyce and Will Clay, and Fullback A. C. Thompson.

In that Coach Edwards favors a free substitution system emphasizing versatility and the playing of more than one position by each of his team members, the playing positions as listed may vary from starting positions from time to time.

The remainder of the squad is made up of Ends Gerald Davis, John Austin, and Kenneth McClain, Tackles Willie Davis and Eunice Braziel, and Halfbacks Ronnie Green and Roger Huntsman.

Probable starting offensive lineup for this initial outing will have Buford Thompson, a 144 pound eighth grader, at right end, and Gene Taylor, who scales 170 and is a sophomore, at left end. Holding down the right guard position will be 155 pound sophomore John Choyce, with 145 pound freshman Mack Taylor at the left guard slot. Junior Johnnie Garcia will be tending to right tackle chores, tpping the scales at 172, and at left tackle 150 pound junior Will Clay will get the nod. In the middle of the line will be 148 pound senior center Charlie Archie. Quarterbacking duties will be performed by 170 pound Randolph Williams a sophomore. Left half will be manned by senior James Choyce (135) with freshman Joe Phillips (125) running from the right half position. Starting fullback will be 175 pound A. C. Thompson, a senior.

Coach Edwards states that he is expecting a lot of good service and hard running from Fullback Thompson, and also is anticipating great things from Archie, who will be utilized at both center and left end.

Durocher To Quit Radio

By DAVID A. LEHERR

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Leo Durocher, former National League manager who hung up his spikes for a career as a sports announcer, says he plans to forsake the microphone and return to baseball.

"I have been negotiating with a baseball team for some time now," said Durocher Thursday as he arrived in Pittsburgh to announce a "Game of the Week" for the National Broadcasting Co. He added:

"I'm not at liberty to tell you with whom. I can tell you this much. Nothing definite has come from our negotiations so far." Neither did Durocher indicate in what capacity he would return to the national pastime.

Durocher guided both the old New York Giants and the old Brooklyn Dodgers to National League pennants before his retirement from baseball.

NTSC Puts Down H-SU By 46-24

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

ABILENE (AP) — North Texas State, which had one of the nation's top records and won the Missouri Valley Conference championship last season, is better than ever.

The Eagles showed a mighty line, a swift backfield and a rough and ready defense in the clutch Hardin - Simmons, champion of the Border Conference, 46-24.

Terry Parks, Bob Duty, Vernon Cole and two Negro backs who run like rabbits, Abner Hayes and Billy Joe Christle, racked up 319 yards on the ground as the Eagles cashed in on mistakes by the green and inept Hardin - Simmons team and ran about as they pleased under their own power.

Hardin - Simmons cheered a crowd of 11,000 — largest home opener in the school's history — with a fine comeback in the last half that pretty well outplayed relaxing Eagles.

The game was the first of the season in the nation for major college teams and North Texas looked capable of going along with the best of the majors.

Three fumbles by the Cowboys set up North Texas touchdowns.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLOTH

QUESTION: Why do we call cheesecloth by that name?

* * *

ANSWER: Cheesecloth is a thin, open meshed cotton material that is very soft but has considerable strength. It is called cheesecloth because it is sometimes used in making cheese. Cottage cheese, for example, is sometimes made this way: Sour milk is heated over a low flame so that it curds. The curds then are placed in cheesecloth so that as much liquid, or whey, as possible is strained off. Then the cheese is stirred with a steel form, salted lightly and is ready for use. Cheesecloth makes excellent dustcloths and is often used to polish automobiles.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Take some ordinary cottage cheese and put it in a square of cheesecloth. Then squeeze or press it, as the girl in the picture is doing, to see if you can get any moisture out of it.

* *

Nina Khrushchev Attends Theater

By FRANCES LEWINE

NEW YORK (AP) — Nina Khrushchev was the show on Broadway Thursday night.

She went to see "The Music Man." A crowd of some 500 people stood around the Majestic Theater for hours to see the wife of the Soviet Premier.

Robert Preston, star of "The Music Man," said after Mrs. Khrushchev had walked out two minutes before the finale: "She spoiled my good laugh, but I guess norbody in the world has anything against Mrs. Khrushchev."

Mrs. Khrushchev will have her second night in a row on her own when she sees "My Fair Lady" tonight while her husband continues his round of official dinners.

From the tourist in from the West Coast to actresses who risked missing cues in their own nearby show, Mrs. Khrushchev held a fascination.

She apparently was fascinated and entertained herself, despite the fatigue of her whirlwind first two days in the United States.

Seated in the seventh row of the orchestra in a plush red seat second from the aisle, she may not have understood the plot of the musical set in the 1912 era, "but she was laughing right along," Preston said.

A stage manager, watching anxiously for reaction from the famous guest, said Mrs. Khrushchev smiled, laughed and clapped her hands at the show's rollicking hit song "76 Trombones."

At the intermission, the spotlight turned from the stage to Mrs. Khrushchev and her two stepdaughters Rada and Julia, who had come with all the guests from a private dinner given in their honor in the elegant, white-carpeted Waldorf Tower apartment of Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

The Khrushchevs remained in their seats for the 15-minute break, surrounded by security guards.

Few in the audience went into the lobby for the usual refreshments of smoke, preferring to get a glimpse of the Premier's wife.

Asked if she would pose for photographers, Mrs. Khrushchev begged off, saying she was too tired.

Then with a broad smile, she added: "If it were Mr. Khrushchev, he would be agreeable."

Robert Dowling, president of the American National Theater and Academy, who reported the conversation, said she was asked if she were too tired to stay for the remainder of the 2½-hour show.

Rada and Julia answered for her. They said they would all stay.

Mrs. Khrushchev, venturing out on her own in public for the first time, got a taste of what unfavorable crowd reaction, hitherto directed to her husband, is like.

There was applause as she arrived at the theater but also a loud boo.

Ave Harriman Gets Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—A rich capitalist, W. Averell Harriman, got an offer of a job Thursday night from Communist Nikita Khrushchev—all in fun.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev was a guest at a reception given earlier by the former New York governor, who was defeated for re-election by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

When Harriman was in Moscow recently, Khrushchev told a dinner audience, he spoke of being unemployed and having lost his job. Khrushchev said he believed it was Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan who had told Harriman that "if he is in need of a job we could offer him one."

"I told him," Khrushchev said, "I could offer him a job as adviser in good faith, and a dacha, a country house, in Moscow."

Khrushchev was speaking to the New York Economic Club, an organization of business leaders. And he told them that "if any of you want to have a good job in our country, you'll be paid as well and have as good a position as in any corporation in this country."

Funeral Held For Houston Newsman

HOUSTON (AP)—Funeral services were held Thursday for Roderick J. Watts, 55, managing editor of the Houston Chronicle for 11 years.

He died Wednesday of a heart attack.

Rites were conducted by The Rev. David Conrad of Grace Lutheran Church, of which Watts was a member. Burial was in Forest Park Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Annie; a son, Kent, 20; and a daughter, Anne, 17.

11,000-Mile Trip By Bicycle Ends

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Robert Perez has arrived in Columbia—seven worn-out tires and 11,000 miles from Sante Fe, Argentina, where he started his bicycle tour 19 months ago.

Perez, 23, says he pedaled all the way, except for a one-day boat trip around headhunters in Central America. He plans to go on to New York, stopping in Washington "to shake hands with Mr. Eisenhower."

Son Admits Slaying Pair

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police said a 15-year-old boy admitted Thursday night he shot his parents to death three weeks ago "because they were hard on me."

The badly-decomposed bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dycus were found in a locked utility shed behind their home.

Officers said they arrested Phil Dycus in a department store parking lot as he prepared to go to Mexico.

An older son, 18-year-old Wayne Dycus, and the couple's neighbor and landlord, W. G. Thompson, 69, found the bodies after they were attracted by a strong odor.

Wayne told officers they noticed the smell while looking for his parents' luggage in order to see whether they had left town.

The older son and neighbors said the younger boy told them his parents went to California Aug. 28, the day they were killed, to visit a sick relative.

Detective Frank Castillon said the youth signed a four-page statement and calmly re-enacted the shooting for the benefit of police. He was turned over to juvenile authorities and will be charged later today, Castillon said.

Detective Lt. John Garoni quoted the boy as saying he shot his 38-year-old mother, Ruth, with a .22-caliber rifle then waited about a half hour and shot his father as the 42-year-old man came home from his department store job.

Later, the boy told Garoni, he shot his mother a second time "to be sure she was dead."

Twenty-one students were injured in the crash Wednesday.

Token Integration Slated To Expand

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Token integration at Central High School expands today. Three more Negroes are scheduled to begin classes there.

Two Negroes have attended since Aug. 12, the day school opened and the only time any incidents have occurred. Segregationists marched on Central then but were turned back by police and firemen.

The new Negro students — two girls and a boy — were originally assigned to the all-Negro Horace Mann High School but appealed for transfer to Central. The school board voted 4-2 to let them attend the big high school which was the scene of mob violence when integration first was held in 1957.
