ROLL OUT THOSE LAZY, CRAZY, HAZY DAYS OF SUMMER

Willie Don Pennon dives off the high board at Marian Airpark Pool Tuesday, June 19. Summer officially begins Thursday, June 21.

20-Team Softball Tourney Slated Here Friday-Sunday

On a second effort Wellington Softball League is watching the skies and hoping for good weather to host its annual invitational tournament Friday evening through Sunday evening, June 22 to 24, according to Wendell Smith, president.

The original tournament was rained out June 8 through 10.

Twenty teams are again entered, although a few changes have been made, Smith said. Again, a large number of strong teams will provide the action. This number is all that Marian Airpark facilities can accommodate, and altogether, there will be 36 hours of softball action for southeast Panhandle-southwestern Oklahoma fans.

Again, it's all free. Play will start at 7:00 p.m. Friday and games will continue on the hours with the last one starting at 2:00 a.m.

Saturday will be the big tournament day, 20 continuous hours. The first game will be at 8:00 a.m. and there will be no letup until the last game which starts at 5:00 a.m. Sunday.

The semi-finals will start at 1:00 p.m. Sunday and the winners bracket finals start at 5:00.

The championship game will begin at 8:00 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded the first through fourth place teams, with individual trophies going to first and second place teams. The most valuable tournament player will be named. Altogether between 300 and 350 players will take part in the tournament, and hundreds of fans are expected to converge on the town.

First round games are:

1. Childress My-T-Burger and Merchants, 7:00 p.m. Friday.
2. Watkins Wizzards from Childress and Wellington Co-op 8:00.
3. Wellington My-T-Burger and Riggs of Clarendon 9:00.
4. Southwestern Rail and BPOE of Amarillo 10:00.
5. Jazz of Memphis and Wheels of Childress 11:00.
6. Hatch Dry Goods and Terry's Electric of McLean, 12:00 midnight.
7. Amarillo Clippers and Dusters of Clarendon, 1:00 a.m.
8. Jackers of Amarillo and No Names of Childress 2:00 a.m.

At 8:00 a.m. Saturday, the winner of Game 1 will meet the Amarillo Aircraft. The Winner of Game 4 will meet Berger at 9:00; at 10:00 Der Weinerschnitzel of Amarillo will play the winner of Game 5; and at 11:00, Martin Seed, winner of the first half of the Wellington League play, will meet the winner of game 8.

Considered probably the strongest teams in the tournament are Der Weinerschnitzel, Wheels, Martin

Seed, Co-op and Southwestern Rail.

All plans made for the first tournament will be followed, said Smith.

Wheat Yield and Price Still High

It doesn't happen this way often.

The crop is good and the price is up, Collingsworth County wheat farmers are harvesting one of the best, if not THE best, wheat crop in the county's history and market prices fluctuated between $3.90 and $4.00 per bushel at press time Wednesday morning.

"It's as good a wheat crop as we've ever had," Jones Singley at Singley Mill & Elevator, said Wednesday. "It might not be better than the '47 crop, but it's just as good."

"Most fields are averaging over 25 bushels per acre and several 40-bushel fields have been cut and that's a good yield for this country," Glenn Warrick at Warrick's, Inc. said.

"The railroads have given us very little satisfaction," Warrick said of the need for local elevator operators to have railroad cars in which to ship the bumper crop. "But we're putting some milo on the ground in order to have room for wheat inside, and we still have room so far."

Estimates are that as much as half of the county's wheat crop had been cut by mid-week.

Long Illness Takes Life of Etha Pruden

Mrs. Fleet (Etha) Pruden, a Wellington business woman for more than 45 years, died at her home about 1:30 p.m. Sunday, June 17, after a long illness.

She and her husband had come to Wellington in 1932 from Chillicothe, to establish Pruden Drug. In spite of the depression years that were already beginning, they continued to expand the business to serve the needs of the area. She worked with her husband until her health failed.

Mrs. Pruden helped to establish and for many years was a member of Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club. She served as its second president.

Over a period of years, through the depression years and World War II, and into the period of prosperity, Mrs. Pruden and her husband employed high school boys and girls--until Wellington drug stores no longer had soda fountains. Because she had a good education, she encouraged these young people to attend college, then helped them generously toward their goals. Such acts were seldom known except by the student and benefactors. Some credit their success to this start.

Mrs. Pruden was the former Etha Marie Kelley, born November 8, 1906, at Eldorado, Oklahoma. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kelley.

She was graduated in 1926 from Oklahoma College for Women, now Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts at Chickasha, with a degree in English.

She and Mr. Pruden were married May 1, 1926, at Lawton.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, June 19, at 2:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church, of which she was a member. The Rev. Howard

City May Face Budget Deficit For 1979-80, Council Learns

Wellington City Council Monday night faced the possibility of a deficit in next year's budget, since revenues as they are forecast at present are almost $50,000 short of probable expenditures.

City Manager Glen Taylor presented figures for each department of the city's operation. He emphasized that his was not a proposed budget. It is an idea of what the council can expect when it gets down to work on the budget.

Estimated receipts for the year beginning July 1 were $465,840, but the estimated expenses were approximately $513,000, a deficit of $47,000.

The council will hold a work meeting on a budget later.

Dorothy McGill, manager of Cablecom, requested an increase of customer rates 50 cents per month, to $8.50.

At the same time, Cablecom will add two new channels to its Wellington system: Chanel 17 WTCG, Atlanta, Ga., an all night station, and Nickelodeon a children's satellite network.

Also, a new emergency alert system will be installed, Mrs. McGill said.

The council approved the rate increase on a motion by Wayne Cudd and second by Tom Wilkins.

The council then passed a motion waiving House Bill 1060, passed by the last session of the Legislature, which would eliminate the ad valorem taxes on cars. The bill also carries the provision that taxing entities may waive HB 1060.

This measure passed with Councilman Wayne Cudd voting against the motion, bringing out, among other objections that he believed it was inequitable.

The percentage of cars in Wellington the city is able to get on the tax roll and the amount of personal property tax collected on them was discussed, and it was agreed that there is no way of knowing accurately how many cars there are in the city and who owns them.

The council then passed a motion to reconsider its action and table the vote for further study. Councilman Willie Gragon voted against this measure, voting for it were Councilmen Tom Wilkins, Cudd, Lyndon Crelia and Ralph Owens.

For the first time, hospital insurance will cover all regular employees of the city, 14 at National Guard Goes to Summer Camps Sat.

Wellington's National Guard unit, Support Company of the 2nd battalion, 142 Infantry, will leave for summer camp Saturday, June 23, but for the first time in its history here, men will be in two locations. This is a unit of the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard.

The 4.2 mortar men go to Ft. Hood, the traditional summer camp location. Those in the Red Eye Missile group will be at Ft. Bliss.

M/Sgt. Vernon Day, administrative supply technician will accompany the men to Ft. Hood, but it is tentatively scheduled for a trip to Ft. Bliss later.

The advanced detachment, with Day as their commander, left Wednesday evening, June 20, with all equipment. This includes the supply room, personnel records and weaponry. The remainder of the troops will arrive Saturday and go directly into training.

As the Red Eye Missile is a new program, men in that detachment will have two full weeks of classroom work. They hope to be able to fire one of the missiles.

Day explained that the Red Eye is an anti-aircraft weapon. A heat-seeking missile, it finds and locks onto an enemy plane, to destroy it.

It is shoulder fired by a crew of two men. A section has a 12 personnel total.

Men in the 4.2 mortar platoon will spend the first week in the field on a mortar range, firing live rounds.

Those from the Wellington Guard will join those other units to make up the whole platoon to be support for the infantry.

During the last week they will be involved with a tactical problem and also train on communications equipment.

They will take the Army test to see how well qualified all our people are. They will be tested on their job as mortarmen," said Day. They will receive training in the CBR (a chemical school).

"All the people will go through a gas chamber wearing gas masks and they will also have training on 50-calibre machine guns," Day continued.

The men will return from the field Friday, July 6, and receive a critique by the Battalion Commander, Col. William E. Murphy of Lubbock.

"A number of our people have been recommended for individual awards," Day explained. "Our unit is still one of the top units in the state. We just can't stress that enough, we're so proud of it."

Not only is the unit at full strength, it is 7 men over.

"Most of these give up their vacations to attend summer

Susan B. Anthony Dollar to Go in Circulation on July 2

Smaller than a 50 cent piece but a little larger than a quarter, the new Susan B. Anthony Dollar Coin will go in general circulation in Wellington and throughout the country on Monday, July 2.

"We encourage our customers to use them," said Jack Neeley, vice president, Wellington State Bank in discussing the new coin.

The Anthony dollar is a copper-nickel clad coin, as are all U.S. coins valued at 10 cents or greater. This gives superior surface wear—an estimated 15 years for each coin.

Because of the unique electrical resistivity and density of the laminate, it is difficult to counterfeit or slug. It will, in effect, serve as a substitute for the Eisenhower dollar and for the $1 bill, which lasts only about 18 months in circulation.

The obverse of the Anthony dollar has a profile of Susan B. Anthony, an early crusader for equal rights for women and a pioneer in the drive to win for women the right to vote.

This is the first time that a portrait of an American woman rather than a symbolic woman has appeared on a circulating U.S. coin, Neeley pointed out.

The reverse has a symbolic eagle of Apollo 11 landing on the moon. The Apollo 11 was christened The Eagle and landed on the moon at Tranquility Base, June 20, 1969.

The design originally appeared on the Eisenhower dollar coin. Neeley pointed out the advantages of the new coin:

It is quick to identify, for besides the portrait of Miss Anthony, the unique 11-sided inner border on both sides is also easy to see.

It is easy to insert in vending machines, and easy to use in direct purchases.

Unlike bills, coins won't stick together when new and tear when old. They are easy to separate by size, bills being all the same size and requiring time to sort. Teller verification time is reduced, as is counterfeit possibility.

Neeley explained that with the introduction of the new coin, the Eisenhower dollar and the dollar bill will eventually be removed from circulation.

Bills in the amount of 12 and up will remain in circulation.

The coins are being minted in Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco and distributed by the Federal Reserve Banks.

The Mint began production in December in order to accumulate the inventory of 500 million coins prior to their release to local banks. Production will continue after release at the rate of 80 million per month.

and new civil and criminal charges.

County Judge Bob Watson said West was originally charged with a traffic violation, speeding, which was filed in justice of the peace court. The case was appealed to county court.

After West and his attorney, White, failed to appear for the last docket call, about two months ago, a judgement nisi was filed, starting the procedures for forfeiture of the $200 bond against him and his attorney.

An alias capias was issued on the speeding charge and an additional $200 cash bond set on this offense. White's motion to dismiss the original civil suit had been denied.

After the two failed to appear at the docket call Tuesday, June 19, a default judgement was issued in the civil case. A warrant will be issued for the arrest of the defendant charging him with failure to appear and an additional civil case will be filed for bond forfeiture of the second bond, Judge Watson said.

In two other civil cases, Larry Evans of Childress, attorney had asked for and received a continuance in these cases.

present. The insurance will be carried through the Texas Municipal League, and both employees and their families will be covered. Cost to the city will be $1,223.88 per month. Wilkins moved that this amount be included in next year's budget and Gragon seconded.

Only one bid in the amount of $5,200, was received on the airport hanger the city had advertised for sale, and this was rejected.

Mrs. H.H. Bowen, who represented the city at a staff meeting of the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services in Amarillo Thursday, June 14, reported on its request for Panhandle towns to share in its funding, as federal grant money has expired.

Wellington is requested to pay $720, based on the number of ambulance runs made last year.

Amarillo Hospital District will give $50,000 and the United Way, Amarillo, will give $30,000. PEMS still needs $43,000 from the different entities of the Panhandle.

Council members agreed that it would abide by any decision made by the Volunteer ambulance service in its meeting Thursday, June 21.

Mayor Bill Hatch told the council that the small granddaughter of Jack Phipps, while visiting here, was hit on the forehead by a BB pellet, which barely missed one eye. He pointed out shooting BB guns or .22 calibre rifles is forbidden by city ordinance.

Larson Director of Bands Near Houston

Jamie Larson, director of Wellington bands for two years, has been elected assistant band director of Willowridge High School, a new school of the Fort Bend Independent School District.

He, his wife Kay and their small son, Jay, will move to Houston Monday, June 25.

Willowridge is in a consolidated school district of about 5 towns in one of the fastest growing areas of Houston—and of the United States. An estimated 1,000 new families move into that part of Houston each month. The school will be finished during this summer.

Larson will be the assistant to Band Director Gutierrez. He will assist with the marching band and the first concert band. Additionally, he will have the second band as his own.

There will be approximately 100 in the band the first year, and in three years it is anticipated the band will level off with 350 students.

With only freshmen, sophomores and juniors enrolled for the 1979-80 year, Willowridge will be a AAA school. After the addition of the senior class next year, it will become a AAAA school within two years, Larson said. Its maximum enrollment will be between 2,000 and 3,000.

During his two years as head of Wellington School bands, Larson directed the band to first division ratings in the marching contest and a number of his students individually received first division ratings.

Five from That Skyrocket Band went to state solo and ensemble competition. Twelve were named to the all-regional band.

Larson organized the summer community band in 1978. Last year he spearheaded plans for the successful Skyrocket Band 50th anniversary banquet, and this year he revived the regional Greenbelt Honor Band.

The band participated in the Texas Tech Invitational Marching Contest the West Texas State University Homecoming Parade and Half Time Show and WTSU Band Day.

The Junior High band received first division ratings at the Phillips Band Contest in both concert and sight reading.

"I feel the band has become a meaningful part of the school and the students lives.

Co-operation, teamwork, patience, dedication and honesty have been the things I tried to emphasize so the students may become good citizens as well as good musicians.

"And I'm going to miss people in Wellington," he added.

Another band director who grew up in Wellington, Victor Williams, will be a director in the same school system, with the beginning of this school year. He will be at Missouri City Junior High, the junior high school that feeds young musicians into Willowridge.

Williams, has been a band director in Austin many years.

Now that summer is near, remember to clean or replace air conditioner filters recommends Pat Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

FFA Members Go to Electric Workshop

Ed Campbell and Tony Maxwell, high school members of Future Farmers of America of Wellington, have been selected to attend Southwestern Public Service Company's 17th Annual Farm Electrification Workshop.

More than 100 FFA members and leaders will attend the workshop to be held June 18, 19 and 20 at the Episcopal Conference Center in Amarillo.

The FFA members from Texas and New Mexico, will be competing for five trips to the National FFA Convention at Kansas City, Missouri, late this summer. Thirteen hours of instruction will be offered in each of three subjects, farm motors, farm wiring and electric controls. Two students from each of the wiring and motor courses and one from the controls course will be selected as outstanding students and will receive the trips to Kansas City for their accomplishment. Alternates in each course will be selected in case the winner is unable to attend the convention. Each student finishing the course in which he is enrolled will be awarded a certificate.

Heading the staff of instructors at the workshop are Ken Pollard, Texas A & M Agricultural Engineering Department - Electric Controls; Frank Kennedy, Vega, and Don Ham, Dalhart - Farm Motors; Bobby Browning, Texline, and Truman Kidwell, Childress - Farm Wiring.

The program for the conference was coordinated by Jay Eudy, Vocational Agriculture Area 1 supervisor; Sam Thomas, SPS agriculture development manager; and SPS power sales engineer Glenn Bickel, who will moderate the general sessions.

Beginning when they reached four, women of the Saras-Djinges tribe had their lips stretched with wooden discs. Eventually lips became big enough to accommodate 14-inch soup plates.

Witnesses to Meet June 21-24

SHAMROCK--The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York has announced a series of over 90 "Living Hope" district conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses for the summer of 1979.

Paul L. Treka, speaking for the religious group in Shamrock, which also serves Wellington, said 950,000 delegates are anticipated at the meeting scheduled for over 60 cities in the continental United States.

Treka said over 40 persons will represent Shamrock and Wellington at a four-day meeting planned for the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum, June 21-24.

The spokesman said the sessions are planned for all age groups, are free and open to the public.

Regional Welfare Board Meets Here

The Panhandle Regional Child Welfare Board met at the Cherokee Inn Thursday, June 14, with 25 representatives from member counties attending.

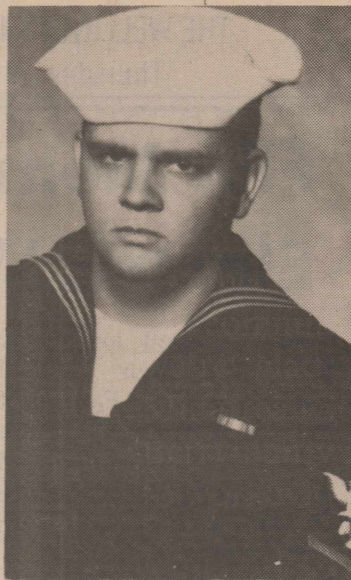

This is one of the few times the meeting has been held outside of Amarillo, according to Judge Zook Thomas, who is on the regional board. Meetings are held quarterly.

Thomas explained that a county's membership in the regional board entitles it to reimbursement from state funding for child welfare care it would not otherwise receive. This includes paying for care of abandoned children, children in foster homes and for other expenses.

Collingsworth has been a member of the board about a year. Judge Thomas, Mrs. Charlene Poteet and Mrs. Vern Barton are county board representatives on the regional board with voting power.

Other county board members are Mrs. Margaret Vines, The Rev. Tom Thomson, Mrs. Ida B. Outley, Bill Spillman, and Bob Copeland.

"Summer Is I-Cumen In" is the earliest known piece of harmonized secular vocal music, probably composed in 1240.

PAT THOMAS

Pat Thomas Leaves On Navy Sea Duty

Fireman Pat Thomas, U.S. Navy, left May 30 for duty in the Far East, his mother, Mrs. Virginia Thomas said this week. He will return to San Diego, Calif., on December 19.

Thomas is stationed aboard the U.S.S. Chicago, a guided missile cruiser.

The first non-stop-Atlantic flight was made by Sir John Alcock and Sir Arthur Whitten Brown in 1919. Brown repeatedly had to climb on the wings to hack off thickening ice.

Commissioners Let Contract For Scraper

Collingsworth Commissioners has awarded a contract for a used scraper to West Texas Equipment Company of Amarillo on a low bid of $11,500, County Judge Bob Watson said following the meeting Monday, June 11.

In the same meeting, the court rejected 5 bids submitted on a new truck and will consider this purchase at a later date.

With growing interest in the county library, the commissioners heard a representative of the Amarillo Library discuss the advantages of membership in the Texas Panhandle Library Systems for new members of the court.

She went into some detail of the direct advantages for the people of the county by making available to them through the loan program any books in the Amarillo Public Library, as well as those available from the state library.

Cute Skunk Kitten No Pet for Family

In the coming year a few Texans will find or buy a cute skunk kitten and decide to have the animal de-sected and made into a family pet. They may find that their veterinarian will strongly advise against the skunk as a pet and will probably refuse to de-scent the animal. The veterinarian knows that his unsuspecting clients may be taking a live "time bomb" into their homes.

Skunks are extremely susceptible to rabies. There were 323 laboratory confirmed cases of skunk rabies in Texas from January 1 through August 31, 1978. Skunks accounted for 80 percent of all of the positive cases of rabies diagnosed in Texas. People cannot protect their pet skunk from this disease as they can a dog, cat or other domestic animal. Many people do not realize that there is no rabies vaccine approved for any wild animal, including skunks. Skunks that have been pets and isolated from the wild for as much as 18 months have been known to develop rabies. In other words, this animal can incubate the rabies virus for an extremely long time. Skunks are also dangerous since they tend to bite and then hold on tenaciously, and in the case of a rabid skunk it would assure that the victim would receive a large amount of rabies virus in the wound.

A survey has shown that 21 percent of pet skunks bite members of the family and 58 percent will bite a non-family member. Skunks are also extremely dangerous carriers of rabies since they can excrete the rabies virus in their saliva for periods of time up to 18 days before death and as long as 8 days before they show clinical symptoms!

In September of 1978 the Texas Department of Health found that a skunk kitten trapped and raised in Texas then purchased by an Arizona family became rabid. Over 20 people in Arizona took the post-exposure rabies vaccinations and over 120 skunks that had been in possible contact with the first skunk had to be traced to notify their owners of the possible exposure to rabies. The investigation revealed that skunks from Texas had been shipped not only to cities within the state, but also to Arizona, Missouri, Michigan and Mexico City. Fortunately most of the possibly infected skunks were found and humanely destroyed and no cases of human rabies resulted.

The traditional pets, which are more domesticated, make better pets and can be protected against rabies, thus affording greater protection for the animals' owners against this deadly virus. The Texas Department of Health strongly advises everyone against having pets which are exotic and/or wild animals. When in doubt about the type of animal to be a family pet, persons should contact their veterinarian or the Texas Department of Health, Box 968 West Texas University Station, Canyon, TX 79015 (Telephone 806-655-7151, Ext. 38).

I went to Lubbock last week and noticed most of the farmers needed to replant their cotton due to the heavy rains.

We have been lucky in the Dodson area. Most of our cotton is looking good. Some of the farmers have been hoeing this week.

When I was in Lubbock I attended the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. This convention was the 59th convention. This organization contributed $20,000 to the M.D. Anderson Foundation for the purpose of research.

Everyone has been real busy this week. The ladies are canning cucumbers, squash, beans, potatoes, beets, greens, onions, cherries and apricots are in season.

The men are busy with wheat harvest. According to Judy Naylor, bookkeeper at the Dodson Farmers' Co-op, the Co-op has received 184,065 bushels of wheat as of Saturday, June 16. She reports that the average yield is about 30 bushels per acre. Some of the farmers are making 42 bushels per acre, while some are reporting only 20. Wheat is a good price this year. The Co-op paid $3.92 per bushel as of Sunday, June 17.

Cut Flowers Can Last Longer Says Home Extension Agent

Making cut flowers look good for the longest possible time is a challenge!

However, there are a number of things the homemaker can do to help give longer life to cut flowers, whether homegrown or from the florist, according to Jean Chandler, extension agent, homemaking.

Here are ten of them:
--Make certain the container is washed clean with soap and water before using.

--Cut stems at a slant, using a sharp knife or shears.

--Before cutting, select flowers that are not fully open; avoid cutting old flowers.

--Remove foliage from the lower third of the stem; also remove all broken and bruised parts of the stem.

--Cut flowers in early morning or late afternoon.

--Wash flowers and foliage to remove dirt, sprays or dusts if possible.

--Store cut flowers in a cool area or refrigerate until arranged.

--On receiving bulk flowers from the florist, cut about one inch off the stem ends.

--Do not place the arrangement in direct sun, near gas fires or oil burners.

--Whenever possible, place

Spend a quiet evening at home without electricity... and see just how quiet it really is.

Forget about watching TV or listening to the stereo. How about reading a good book — that's a great idea if you do it before dark or if you plan on using Abe Lincoln's lighting, the fireplace.

Nobody has to tell you how important electricity is in your life. It surrounds you daily, lighting the way, entertaining you and making life more comfortable.

And that's the way it should be, but we at West Texas Utilities hope you'll use electricity wisely and efficiently. Make sure your home is properly insulated and weatherized, turn off unnecessary lights and appliances, and above all, watch that thermostat setting. These things not only conserve valuable energy, they can help to lower your monthly bills. And that's important now and in the future.

Laetrile

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled this week that the federal Food and Drug Administration can prohibit the interstate movement of laetrile, a substance derived from apricot pits.

Many people believe that laetrile is effective in curing the many diseases we know collectively as cancer, despite all scientific evidence to the contrary.

Neither the American Medical Association nor the FDA thinks that laetrile does anybody any good in fighting cancer.

(And we should mention here that although there is no known cure-all, several treatments, including surgery, radiation therapy and chemical therapy, and combinations of treatments have proved successful in treating certain types of cancer.)

It is the duty of the FDA and the medical community to tell cancer victims that there is no scientific basis for the claims of laetrile proponents.

But after they have done that, we think the government should butt out, especially in cases that physicians have described as terminal--cases in which doctors have done all they know to do for a patient.

If at that point the patient decides to take treatment in his own hands and use laetrile, or any other substance for that matter, then that is his business and not the business of the government.

It may be, as critics of laetrile say, that those who claim the drug is effective offer false hope to desperate patients. But in this situation, those claims are something that must be decided by the patient himself. The individual, not the government, should have ultimate control over his body and what goes into it.

In this case, the government is dead wrong.

John Wayne

The Duke is dead!
John Wayne died Monday night in Los Angeles and the entire nation mourned his death.

The Duke was a special star of yours truly. We would attempt to see every one of his movies and still enjoy them again and again on the boob tube.

John Wayne was a special person to us. He was one star which we had met personally and he measured up in real life just like one of the characters he played in the movies.

We shall never forget the time when we were in the Marines and a bunch of us were going on liberty out of Camp Pendleton and we had a flat tire along Highway 101.

Back in those days things were a bit tougher than today, and the car in which about seven of us were riding didn't have a spare.

Cars zipped right on by us as we stood there trying to hitch a ride into town to get the flat tire fixed and as the sun set we were beginning to wonder if we would have to roll the tire to town when a big purple Cadillac convertible rolled to a stop.

We couldn't believe our eyes...the big man just eased out of the car and drawled...“Having some trouble there, Marines?”

It was none other than the big guy himself, John Wayne!

We all stood there speechless for a few moments, unable to believe our eyes as he helped us load up the tire, took a couple to town to fix the tire, then brought them back to the car a little later.

After we got the car fixed up the Duke, as he told us to call him, invited us all over to Del Mar for a visit.

Well, the visit lasted until the wee hours of the morning and we had a blast.

Some of the guys later visited him at his home, we were unlucky enough to get shipped out soon afterward, but we shall never forget that night as long as we live.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Spring traditionally is tornado time in Texas, and the recent tragic storm that hit Wichita Falls, Vernon, and surrounding areas is another entry on the list of major disasters endured by Texans.

While the disaster itself is bad enough, sometimes the aftermath of cleaning up and rebuilding is equally trying.

Many consumer decisions and transactions are needed to get back to normal in such circumstances, and most of them cost large amounts of cash or require heavy use of credit.

Our Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division attorneys warn that consumers who find themselves in such situations should use extreme caution before making major rebuilding or home repair commitments.

Most builders and contractors are honest, reliable, and trustworthy, and in such difficult circumstances will try to be as fair as possible with consumers who may also be their friends and neighbors.

But many times accounts of a major disaster will bring an influx of itinerants—often from out-of-state—who are determined to make a fast buck at the expense of others.

These opportunists may fail to deliver what they promise, or will supply shoddy goods or services, then leave town—and leave a consumer with no recourse when problems develop. Many such itinerants travel from one disaster to another to take advantage of folks and are never around to stand behind the work they do.

Our lawyers urge individuals who are trying to rebuild after a disaster to follow these precautions in dealing with builders or contractors:

1. Deal only with companies or individuals with a good reputation—ideally, one that can be checked through family or friends who have used them.
2. If at all possible, get three estimates on any work that's needed. Be cautious of any estimate that's out of line with the others.
3. Get any agreement in writing, including any promises that have been made to you. Get the total price in writing, along with the starting and completion dates, get the contract signed, and get a copy of it.

4. Many contractors or builders will ask for a down payment or an advance, in order to buy materials. This is a frequent practice, but you should never pay the full amount in advance. Money should be paid for work as it is done.

You should remember that Texas' Home Solicitation Transaction Act allows you to cancel any contract with a builder or contractor for more than $25 that was entered into as a result of a door-to-door solicitation, if you notify the seller within three days.

And remember, too, that many state and federal agencies are ready to assist if you have been hit by a natural disaster. If you have any question about disaster-related problems, they can help. And for consumer problems, consult our Attorney General's Office in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, or McAllen. Both our main office in Austin and our regional offices give priority attention to complaints from areas hit by major natural disasters.

The school was concluded with a picnic in Ellison Park Friday at noon, and the commencement and family night Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

Teachers at Living Text Workshop

Four Wellington teachers are participating in the Living Textbook Workshop being held this week in Amarillo. Participating are Mrs. Walter Camp, Mrs. Lynn Carter, Mrs. J.I. Morgan and Miss Lennie Morgan.

In a tour of the Amarillo-Globe News Plant, James L. Whyte, vice president and general manager, told the group that most newspapers are now owned by large chains. A newspaper is basically no different from any other private enterprise, he said.

Newspapers are protected by the First Amendment rights, he said. This means the newspaper is free to publish what it wants, but at the same time the freedom is accompanied by the responsibility to be held accountable for what it does publish.

Jerry Huff, executive editor, explained the differences between publicity, propaganda and news.

Publicity is letting people know "What you want them to know," he said. Propaganda is giving a particular side of the story, and news is events and information that are timely, truthful and interesting.

Dr. B.J. Stamps, superintendent of Amarillo schools, told the teachers that newspapers are useful tools in interesting their students in reading.

Lakes Crowded, Safety Important

LUBBOCK--Summer temperatures and leisure time means most area lakes are crowded with water enthusiasts and the chances for water-related accidents have increased, also.

The most dangerous encounter can be the meeting of a moving boat with a submerged skier or swimmer in the water.

The Lubbock regional law enforcement office has already received a report of injury to a skier that fell in front of a boat. The resulting injury was not fatal, but painful.

The P&WD recommends that boaters and skiers follow these rules:

--Have two persons in boat, one to run it and watch the water ahead, and one to watch the skier and relay information to the skipper.

--Stay clear of swimmers. --Don't tow skier in heavily traveled or restricted waters such as swimming areas, narrow winding channels, and areas containing docks, floats, bouys, and anchored boats.

--Make sure the skier is wearing an approved PFD (personal flotation device). If they fall, approach them from the downwind side.

--Stop motor or throw it in neutral before taking skier on board.

--Use a boarding ladder. Be careful not to swamp boat.

Pondowners Should Plan Fish in 1980

LUBBOCK--Recent runoff from heavy rains has filled many of the farm/ranch ponds, tanks, and playa lakes in northwest Texas. Most of these lakes were either dry or had little water and no fish.

For those Texas pondowners who applied for fish last year from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the rains came at the right time as the fish were delivered this month.

--Know the water skiing signals as this is the only communication between the skier and boat operator.

Pondowners wanting state fish to stock next spring can write the P&WD for an application next month. Since the state hatcheries operate on a year-to-year basis, normally fish cannot be applied for and received in the same year.

Pondowners wanting fish to stock this summer can obtain a list of commercial fish farmers from the P&WD. These fish producers sell fish in several sizes for stocking lakes.

For a new 1980 P&WD fish application and/or a list of fish farmers, write the P&WD, Hatchery Coordinator, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744.

Deadline Set For Mailing Odd Size Cards

What's socially acceptable today may not be well received in the future. It may be oh, so proper, but is it mailable?

That's what consumers should determine before purchasing those tiny little invitations, RSVP's, birth announcements, thank you notes and similar items which may not be mailable after July 15.

As of that date, the Postal Service will begin enforcing letter mail-size standards, to reduce mail handling costs and eliminate one of the main causes of damaged or delayed mail.

Under the new regulation, letters and cards less than 3 1/2 by 5 inches will not be accepted for mailing.

Extra large envelopes--more than 6 1/8 by 11 1/2 inches--will incur a 7 cents surcharge, if they weigh one ounce or less.

Those tiny envelopes create jams in mail processing machinery, damaging not only the small piece, but often other mail as well.

And the larger envelopes--those subject to the surcharge--cannot be processed by machine, but must be handled manually, at considerably higher cost.

For about three years the Postal Service has been working with envelope manufacturers and stationers to help them adapt to the new standards. Most of them long ago stopped production of the undersized items.

Use a tender touch when selecting fresh fruits and vegetables, suggests Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In the long run, the consumer pays for bruising and damage, she explains.

More frequent use of portable appliances in place of major appliances will save consumers money--and reduce energy use, predicts Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. She reported that almost half of the respondents to a recent survey by the Consumer Research Center, The Texas A&M University System, indicated they were not taking advantage of portable appliances.

Money raised during the campaign will be used to continue the work of the non-governmental association which fights mental illness and promotes mental health.

Formal wear sales experienced a 50 percent increase from 1976-78, reports Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
