

Class AA Punchers Fall 34-0 to Bronco Eleven

The Mason Punchers blew into Sonora like Hurricane Beulah and left town out of breath after their 34-0 loss to the favored Broncos, Friday, September 22.

The out-weighted and out-fought Puncher offense only once made a serious threat. Mason's passing game began to gain ground late in the second quarter and had moved to the Bronco 30-yard line. An aerial from senior quarterback Wayne Lehmborg was sailed to the Sonora two-yard line into the hands of Bronco defender, J. V. Cook. The defensive maneuver ended the only Mason scoring threat.

MASON GROUND GAME

Mason's ground game was unsuccessful throughout the night. Although the Puncher backfield out-weighted the Bronco backfield, they were able to pick up only 57 yards rushing. Sonora gained a total of 220 yards rushing.

Sonora's first score came at the end of 60-yard drive under the command of sophomore quarterback David Wuest. With a fourth down and one yard needed for a first down, the Broncos decided to play the ball. Wuest carried for the needed yardage on a quarterback sneak.

OFFENSE CLICKS

The offense began clicking on runs by Wuest, Ed Lee Renfro and Mike Gosney, moving the team to the Mason four-yard line.

Senior fullback Gosney ran through Mason's right guard for the score and Wuest's extra point lighted the scoreboard. The touchdown came with 2:10 left in the first quarter.

The second Bronco score was set up by a blocked punt by the quick-witted play of senior center Tim Thorp. The blocked kick gave the Broncos the ball on the Mason 47-yard line.

SANCHEZ RECOVERS

Runs by Renfro and Gosney moved the ball to the Mason 26-yard line. After an exchange of fumbles at the Mason 28-yard line the Broncos moved to the Mason seven-yard line. Manuel Sanchez recovered the drive-saving fumble. Wuest threw an aerial to Renfro at the sideline for the touchdown. Wuest's second conversion was good to give the Broncos a 14-0 lead early in the second quarter.

BRONCOS STRIKE AGAIN

The Broncos struck again on the following kick-off. Wuest's kick was short and the Mason receiver fumbled on the Mason 35-yard line. Mark Jacoby quickly recovered the loose ball.

Quarterback J. V. Cook connected with end Nino Perez on an aerial to the Mason 20. Wuest came back in to the quarterback position and moved the ball to the Mason nine-yard line on a roll-out around right end. Erasmo Lumbrales moved the ball closer to the goal and Renfro rammed through right tackle for the score. Wuest's third conversion attempt failed leaving the score 20-0 at the end of the first half.

The Broncos came back just as strong in the second half by scoring twice in the third quarter.

GREAT SECOND EFFORT

After moving to within 10 yards of the Mason goal, Wuest scored the fourth Sonora touchdown on a great second-effort attempt to score. Wuest was stopped once on a roll-out around right end but came back on a similar play for the score from about seven yards out. He was almost stopped short of the goal by several yards but broke away from a Mason defender to dive into the end zone. His conversion attempt was good to give the Broncos a 27-0 lead.

THE LAST SCORE

The next Bronco drive resulted in the last score of the game. Sonora drove deep into Puncher territory on runs by Wuest and a 15-yard break-away by Lumbrales. On the scoring play, Wuest pitched-out to Gosney, who ran the ball around right end for the score. Wuest scored the last Bronco point on his successful conversion, making the final score 34-0.

Sonora has one win to offset the 33-7 defeat by Ballinger in the season opener, and will play their first conference game Friday, September 29, against Ozona here at 7:30 p.m.

B-TEAM

The Bronco B-team and junior high team will meet Ozona in Ozona Thursday, September 28. Game time is 6 p.m., for the junior high squad followed by the B-team game at 7:30 p.m.

OZONA

Ozona has been picked as one of the best teams in District 8-A, and features an interior line averaging 200 pounds. The top lineman to watch is the twice All-District and last year's All-West Texas tackle, Gary Sutton. Sutton will weight in at 220 and is regarded as a very fine football player by Ozona coach Sam Mosley.

Cecilia A. Johnson, 1967 graduate of Sonora High School and Freshman student at Washington State University, has pledged Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority.

THE FACES OF VICTORY are reflected in the eyes of coach Jerry Hopkins and halfback Ed Lee Renfro (right) as they watch the Bronco defensive team in action. Flutist Lesa Whitehead and other members of the Bronco band (center) strike

Sonora Golf Club Names New Directors, Officers

Members of the Sonora Golf Club have elected new officers and directors for the coming year's activities.

New directors, elected Tuesday, September 12, include E. L. Harrell, Stanley Mayfield, John Bell, John McClelland, Dennie Hays and Francis Archer. They will serve two-year terms.

New officers for the organization were elected in a meeting Wednesday, September 20. Serving as new officers are Clayton Hamilton, president; J. W. Neville, vice president; Doyle Morgan, secretary and Mrs. Pauline Thompson, treasurer. They will serve a one-year term of office.

Out-going president, Lea Roy Aldwell, will continue to assist in the planning of the improvements being made to the golf course.

Do-It-Yourself Car Wash Opens Here

Buster Shroyer has announced the opening of Buster's Car Wash located on Chestnut Street near Crockett. Installation of equipment is complete, and side panels are being added.

Shroyer said that he had seen the installations in other towns on numerous occasions and had been reluctant to give one a trial, but had recently discovered the units gave a quality wash at a bargain price.

Equipment installed at the new car wash includes three coin-operated vending machines. The primary machine, upon deposit of a quarter, gives five minutes of hot, softened wash water sprayed at 500 psi pressure. The customer may select to split the wash time between "detergent" and "rinse", or if the car is really dirty he may want to have five minutes of detergent and five minutes of rinse, explained Shroyer. Other vending machines furnish towels, although Shroyer says the soft water dries without spotting. Another coin machine, for vacuuming, provides for cleaning the inside.

Shroyer said that the car wash machine could also be used for cleaning the motor of cars. He said that once people tried the machine he felt they would be regular customers.

Beulah Bogs Down In Eagle Pass Area

Turbulent weather during the last week caused by Hurricane Beulah dropped an estimated one-half to one inch of rain on Sutton County, Saturday, September 23.

According to E. B. Keng, soil conservation technician, the rains were general throughout the county. The storm, after ravaging the Rio Grande Valley, disintegrated in the Eagle Pass area.

The storm's side effects caused tornadoes, floods and heavy rains in other parts of the state.

CINDERS

By Jim Barnett

While Sonora was untouched by the property-damaging floods and winds of Hurricane Beulah, many fellow Texans were severely hurt.

A plea for assistance has gone out from several local organizations to provide immediate help for those left homeless by the storm.

The Lions Club is accepting donations on the behalf of the state organization to aid the victims.

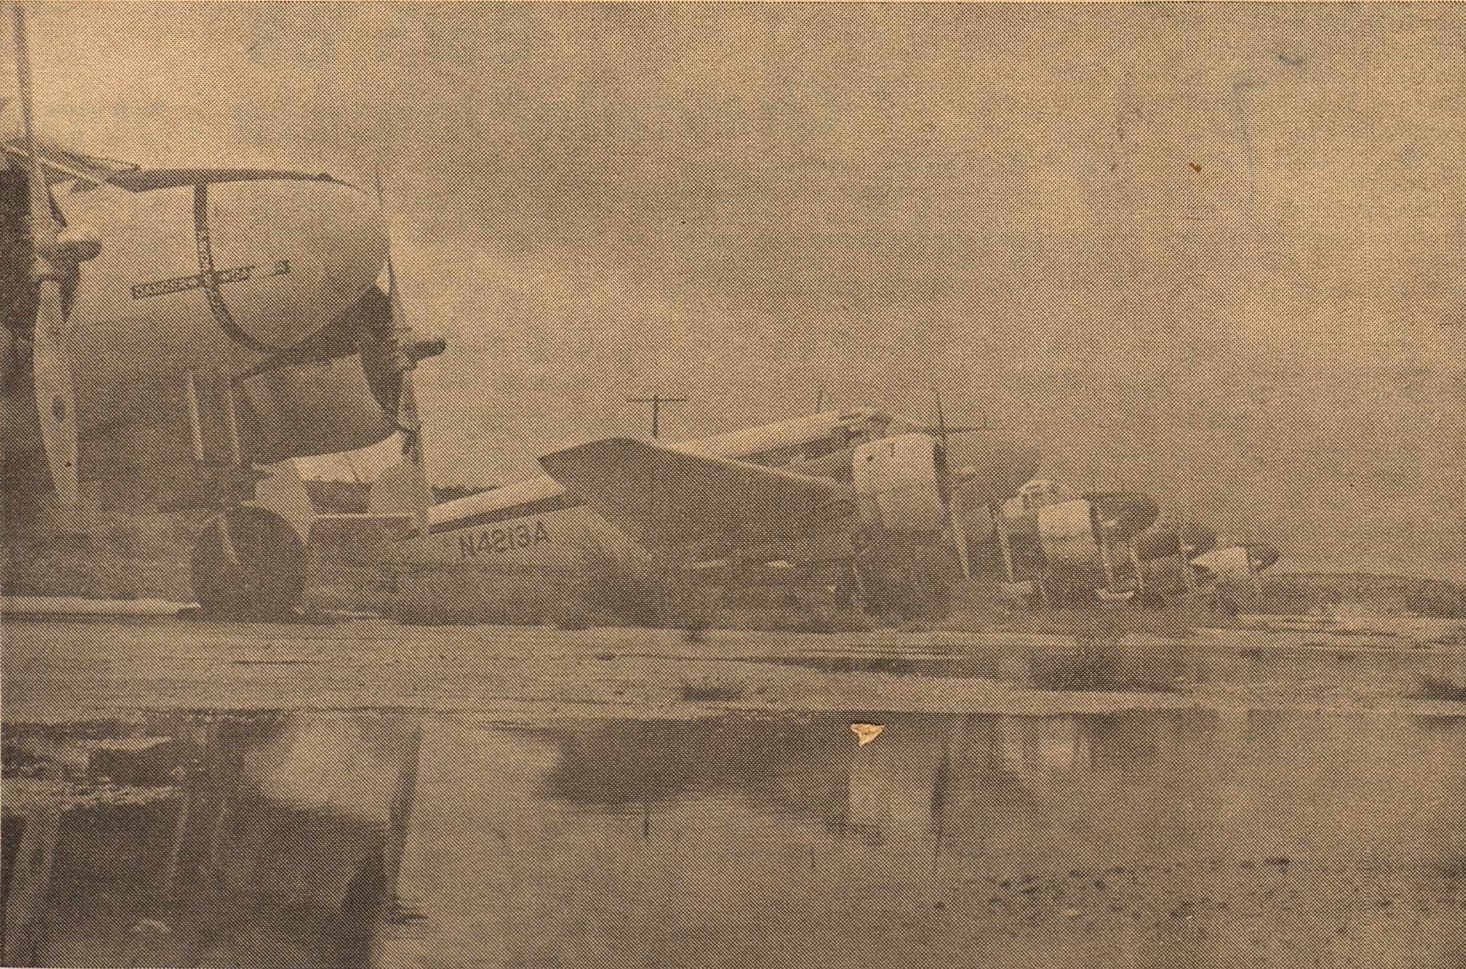

Sonora's Welfare Council, under the direction of the Rev. George Stewart, is accepting donations of clothing, and particularly children's clothing. Donations may be taken to the Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Rodney C. Dowdy said that First Baptist Church will ask for donations in aid of the storm victims also.

The Red Cross and Salvation Army are also aiding the victims of Beulah.

Citizens are urged to do their part in helping their fellow Texans.

The United Christian Youth Fellowship, expanded to include all youth in Sonora churches, and the Ministerial Alliance will sponsor the Halloween offering for the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

HURRICANE BEULAH had little effect on Sonora except for heavy rainfall but these aircraft belonging to the Department of Agriculture's Screwworm Eradication Laboratory in Mission flew here for refuge from the storm. Two of the craft are based here permanently in connection with the eradication program. All of the planes were tied down in the event of the high winds that were expected.

Central Students Elect New Officers

Students at Central Elementary School elected their Student Council officers Friday, September 22, according to Clay Cade, principal.

New council president is Bruce Kerbow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kerbow. His election opponent was Mark Wilkinson.

David Wallace is the new vice president. Molly Sawyer ran against him. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace.

Elected secretary was Mike Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Street. He won in a run-off election against Michelle Rousselot. Others competing for the position included Dan Richardson, Richard Stewart and Roy Lesa Cooper.

Ronda Hopkins won in a run-off election against Alan Harris for the position of treasurer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hopkins. Roy Adkins, Ruth Wallace and Melissa Gibbs also ran for the position.

Election judges included Claire Langford, Wayne Greenhaw, Terry Mathis and Sheila Alexander.

32 Boys Now Entered In Football Contest

Sonora's annual Pass, Punt and Kick contest sponsored by the Ford Motor Company and the Sonora Motor Company locally, has attracted 32 boys to the competition.

According to Joe Hull of Sonora Motor Company, boys eight to 13 are still eligible to register in the contest for prizes ranging from trophies, for winners on the local level, to trips to National Football League games for the national winners.

John Bell, local coordinator for the contest, said the competition will be held Saturday, October 7, at Bronco Stadium beginning at 9 a.m.

Bell said that the contest will test a boy's ability to pass, punt and place-kick a football for distance and accuracy. He said that each boy will compete in his own age group and all of the necessary equipment will be provided.

Bell emphasized that the deadline for registration at the Sonora Motor Company is Friday, October 6.

The 32 boys already entered include Wayne Greenhaw, Mike Greenhaw, Tony Adkins, Robert Pena, Manuel Samaniego, Lindsey Paul Hicks, Clay Hicks, James Michael Carroll, Bobby Simmons and John Webster Elliott.

Also entered are Richard Stewart, Will Wallace, Tryon Fields, Alex Gonzales, Frank Gallegos Jr., Gene Dunn, Bruce Kerbow, David Wallace, Keith Gillespie, Chuck Browne, Paul Browne, Billy Joe Fay, Keith Kniffen and Ladd Turner.

Also Alan Harris, Oscar Galindo, Dan Richardson, John David Cook, Pete Ramirez, Terry Mathis, Randy Hill and Joe Edward Baker.

The Newspaper Story

Most readers know very little about their newspapers. When they do, they are usually impressed. National Newspaper Week, October 8-14, provides a specific time for newspapers to do what they should be doing all year long: telling the newspaper story, that "Newspapers Get Things Done," and that newspapers are neither "dead" nor "vanishing."

Readers take their newspapers for granted and Newspapers, for too long, have taken for granted that readers fully understand the many-faceted role newspapers play not only as news media but as public servants, defenders of freedom, educators, entertainers and, to be sure, as advertising and sales media.

Newspapers, far from dead, are today among America's great "growth" industries. They are far from vanishing, too, with readership up, subscriptions up, valuation up, investment up, and profit up.

Beginning with America's very first one in 1690, newspapers have spoken for the people, defending the rights of individuals against entrenched power and arrogant abuse of office and are fighting to this day to keep doors open wherever and whenever public business is being transacted.

This story needs telling.... over and over again. If newspapers do not tell it, who will?

The Devil's River Philosopher sez: The Vietnamese Barb-Wire Boundary Could Be Tested by His Wild Cows

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River offers a service to the government this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

According to the latest news out of Washington, well maybe it's not news to you but it was to me because it took me several days to find this newspaper under my front steps as I use mostly the back door and went out the front this time because there was a magazine salesman at the back, the United States is going to build a barb-wire fence clear across Viet Nam to keep the Viet Cong from infiltrating into South Viet Nam.

I don't know anything about military tactics like a good many Senators do and as far as I know this idea will work, except that nowhere in the news could I find out what sort of barbwire fence it's going to be, five strands, seven, ten or more, though this of course could be a military secret. Let the Viet Cong find out how high it is when they try to vault it some dark night in their thin pajamas.

However, I do know that before a new fighter plane for example is ordered up on a billion-dollar contract, test pilots give it a thorough going-over in the air.

What I want to know is, what provision is the United States government making to test this fence out? And in case this vital step has been overlooked, I would like to offer my services.

It's not you understand that I want to test the fence out myself, but I've got a cow that I sure can recommend. She is the world's champion fence-breaker, and this is not just my personal opinion, all my neighbors for miles around will vote the same.

If that fence will hold this cow, South Viet Nam will be safe from infiltration. I not only can build a fence to hold her, but none of my neighbors can, and goodness knows they've tried harder than I have. Therefore I wish you would get hold of Secretary of Defense McNamara and tell him that for a reasonable fee, say cost plus 10 per cent, I will rent him this test pilot of a cow.

Let him build a section of his fence around the greenest spot on the White House lawn with maybe one of Lady Bird's flower beds included and I will turn my cow loose and if she can't get through in fifteen minutes, the South Vietnamese are safe.

There's one other thought, though. If the fence turns my cow and by implication she endorses the construction, we'd better get the United Nations to immediately outlaw wire-cutters as an instrument of international warfare.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

This week Sonora's long-time quest for an airport was ended when F. L. McKinney, representing the local airport committee, reached an agreement with Joe F. Berger for a tract of land lying adjacent to the city limits between the Ozona highway and the San Angelo highway.

Widespread rainfall during the night of September 21 marked the official beginning of fall. Though rainfall was very erratic in both intensity and quantity, every ranch received some moisture.

Mrs. Ted Letsinger was hostess to the Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist Church Monday, September 23.

September 26, 1947

Ground was broken last week for the new $25,000 Sonora Laundry being built by Tommy Thorp and Clyde Clemens on land across from the Thorp residence.

Work started Thursday on construction of a power line from the municipal light and power plant to ranch homes owned by B. M. Halbert Jr., Dr. E. M. deBerry and Luther Simmons.

The Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club was hosted by Mrs. L. E. Johnson Jr., in her home. Fall flowers were used in decorations.

October 1, 1937

As far as the news has been able to learn this week, nearly all of Sutton County's 1,521 square miles were blessed with the rain which began falling late Friday afternoon. The rainfall measured 2.09 inches in town.

Sweaters for younger players who come out for football practice despite their ineligibility for the high school team are to be provided by a special fund which will be raised by the Lions Club.

Three thousand lambs, bought from Bob Miers of Del Rio, were received here yesterday by C. T. Jones, acting for Jamie Brooks of Brady.

65 Years Ago

Lewis Mayfield has tired of the ranch and will try his hand at selling goods for Mayer Bros. and Co. Jim Winn and Bud Ridgeway, two young stockmen from Edwards County, were in Sonora Wednesday, trading.

After a delightful visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sim White, Miss Eva Glasscock returned to her home eight miles east of Sonora.

A PARSON'S EYE-VIEW OF SONORA

BY THE REV. ROSS T. WELCH

I salute my brother pastor, the Rev. Rollin Polk of the St. John's Episcopal parish, on the eve of his departure, as being a close-mouthed parson. I spent the day with him on Tuesday before he announced his decision to his vestry on Wednesday, and he never mentioned the move.

Looking back, I realize I must have unintentionally put him in some pretty tight spots during the day when I asked such questions as, "Are you going to continue to help with the task of recording the football games on movie film all year?" I remember now that he fumbled a bit on that one. Seriously, we hate to see the Polks move away. They have endeared themselves to the entire community. In addition to his responsibilities in his own parish ministry, Rollin has been very active in many community projects.

He has served as an officer and active participant in the Ministerial Association, served in a place of leadership with the Boy Scouts, worked with the Chamber of Commerce, heading up the 'Sparkle Plenty' clean town program, and individual projects too numerous to mention.

Betty is a very capable person and her going will leave a lonely place against the sky for her neighbors down on Poplar Street. Peter and Jane are good students and good citizens and will be missed by nicer children.

We wish the Polks well in Beeville, their new parish. They will have something in common with the Doyle Mortons who serve the Methodist church in Beeville.

One Beulah-beclouded day last week we found Tom Davis sitting in his pickup on the highway by the mail box, waiting for a letter from Rodney and fuming because the mail truck was so late. "The postman is due here at 4 o'clock and it is already 4:30," he said.

"Look again," I told him, "it is only 3:30." Are these long cloudy, rainy days starting to get on the ranchers' nerves already?

Our Broncos last Friday night looked more like the team, their fans had been expecting to see—and the score showed it. They still need—and we feel sure they are getting—some hard work in the area of pass defense. The line looked real good, the boys are beginning to gain confidence in their own passing attack, and the entire team seems to be getting the feel for the style of ball they have to play this year. The weather cooperated nicely.

As usual, every opposing team will be pointing to a victory over the Broncos, but we have every confidence they will win district. Come out tomorrow night and help them hang the first district scalp on their belts.

We thought it rather significant that, in spite of a one-sided loss to Ballinger in the opener, every Standard-Times sportscaster picked Sonora over Mason.

The Southwest Conference certainly had a disastrous week end.

Our random shot about the possibility of organizing a Sonora Bowling League seems to have caught fire. Mrs. Ben Perkins, who was a bowling instructor in Houston, has five couples ready to go.

She even put her enthusiasm for bowling into verse form:

"Let's go bowling and have a good time,
You bring your friends and I'll bring mine.

Housewives, come and bring your mates—
Remember the fun you had on dates?

We'll get to Ozona once every week
The recreation is good for even the meek.

Beginners are welcome, even if you've never tried;
Weather's no handicap—it's all inside.

All who are interested call right away—
Let's organize a league from Our Town today."

Her number is 387-2743.

As I have indicated before—never judge the importance of an item by its position in this column: Here is one of extreme importance:

Try to put yourself in the position of one of thousands of South Texas and northern Mexico families who are returning to the sad and soggy remains of what was once their happy home. Some communities report 85 to 90 per cent destruction. All that most families got out with were a few items hastily thrown into their car.

Loss of life was small, we can thank those who risked their lives to discover the path and the severity of the hurricane for that. But the loss in terms of crops and personal property staggers the imagination.

All Beulah did for us was toss some very beneficial rains our way. Only a few refugees made it this far. But we can do something to help. The Good Shepherd Presbyterian church has offered to take any clothing or bedding that you can spare, turn it over to the Salvation Army; and thence it will go directly to the places of great need.

These are our neighbors in distress. Clean out a few closets—some of those clothes you never plan to wear again anyway. You probably have a few blankets and quilts stored away in moth balls, slightly worn but still warm: Rather than keep them around for some outing, let them be the difference for some needy family. Let's get busy and load a couple of trucks.

The emergency is now! What have you done about it? The easiest thing is to do nothing.

World-wide Communion Sunday will be observed in many of the churches October 1. Try to be in your place of worship and join with millions of Christians around the world in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

The ministers of the community and their families will honor the Rollin Polk family in a pre-game pot-luck supper at the Presbyterian Church Friday night at 5:30.

For a long time Universal Bible Sunday has been observed in most churches on the second Sunday in December. This year the American Bible Society has announced National Bible Week as October 15-22 and the World-wide Bible Readings have been set up for Oct. 15 to Nov. 23.

In cooperation with this program, the Sonora Ministerial Alliance will sponsor a Bible display during National Bible Week. New Testaments in either English or Spanish will be given (one to a family as long as they last) to anyone who will promise to read them.

The Bible Way

In order to be a Christian a man must hear the message of Christ and must believe that he is the divine Son of God (Hebrews 11:16, Mark 16:16). Having believed in Jesus he must make the decision to change the course of his life, or repent (Acts 17:30). Having done that, he must heed Jesus' instruction to confess him before men (Matthew 10:32, 33). Finally, as the apostles believed and taught in order to be a Christian a man must be baptized for the remission of his sins (Acts 2:38). When we have done these things, we have merely done what was done in the first century and for generations thereafter by those who knew the will of God most directly and most intimately. Any modification in this method of becoming a Christian is not approved of God. Paul said, "But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed" (Galatians 1:8-9).

When a Christian worships God he must do it in the way prescribed in the inspired Word of God (I John 3:18). When man adds other elements he is adding things which God did not wish to be included in his worship, else he would have included them from the beginning. We believe that in regard to church government and organization we are to follow the divinely given blueprint as found in the New Testament.

We believe, of course, in living clean, upright Christian lives; in accepting and following the leadership of the Holy Spirit, as he guides us through his message—the New Testament. In short, we are saying that we do not believe that men or councils have the authority to modify the doctrines, teachings, or principles which God gave us in his inspired book.

Christians Only

We are attempting to be in truth and in fact just what people were in New Testament times. Christians, members of the church. If Paul were here today and someone would ask him if he were a Protestant, he would not understand the question. Paul never claimed to be a Protestant. He refers to himself in I Corinthians 4:1 as a "minister of Christ," and that is a follower of Christ, a Christian. He sought to persuade Agrippa to be a Christian, nothing more (Acts 26:28-29). The church cannot be called Protestant in the ordinary sense of the word because Protestant churches did not exist in New Testament times. Neither then nor now is the church a party within a party, built around a powerful personality or built upon one passage of scripture to the neglect of others. Paul states the reason why this could not be the case when he condemns the people of Corinth for their party divisions by saying, "Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours; whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death or things to come; all are yours; and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's" (I Corinthians 3:21-23).

The church, as the pillar and ground of the truth, protests just as much against Protestantism as against Catholicism. Christ's prayer was for unity (John 17:20, 21). Religious division is a prevalent cause of infidelity. Division as it is practiced today is a mark of carnality (I Corinthians 3:14). Therefore the church, if it is the church of Christ, cannot succumb to party names, to human ordinances, to a pope, or preach a denominational message. It is impossible for the church to perpetuate a system which necessarily causes and cements division and discord. There are points of similarity between the church which Christ established and modern day Protestantism, but the church is not Protestant. It is the undenominational church of the living God.

As Jesus was neither John the Baptist, Elias, nor Jeremiah, so the Church of Christ is neither Catholic, Protestant, nor Jewish. We are unique and different for we are endeavoring to go all the way back to the original New Testament church.

Former Sonorans Honored at Dinner

Mrs. Sara Allison of Spokane, Washington, was honored with a dinner at the home of Mrs. A. H. Adkins, Monday September 25.

Guests attending were Mmes. Pat Carroll, Bill Cartwright, Tom Nevill, Francis Archer, Arch B. Ory of Eldorado and Bobbie Felts of San Francisco.

Mrs. Allison, the former Sara Ory, lived here several years ago. She and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Felts, have been visiting with family and friends in Texas, before returning to their homes.

BROWN RECLUSE SPIDER

'Sneaky' Spider's Bite More Serious Than That of Long-Faced Black Widow

An innocuous-looking little spider named "The Brown Recluse" has recently been found to be even more dangerous than the long-faced "Black Widow."

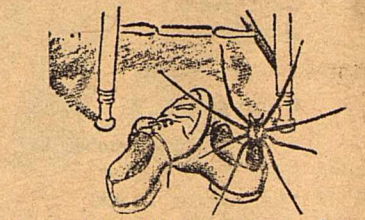

The Brown Recluse has become enough of a health problem—several deaths and a number of serious bites—to become a subject of a research study and a recent report published in the Medical News Section of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The spider tries to steer clear of humans—hence its name—but because it likes to hide in dark recesses of buildings, it comes under inadvertent human assault in bedding, shoes and other places where it seeks daytime refuge.

The Brown Recluse has been found in at least 13 states in the South, Southwest and Midwest, and is thought to be moving into other sections of the country. Because of the spider's tendency to retreat into wadded-up newspapers or blankets or other dark areas in daytime, it easily could be transported north by vacationers to states where it has not yet been seen.

The spider may bite without the victim being aware of it. There is little early pain associated with a bite. Unlike the Black Widow, both males and females can inject venom.

Pain may be felt in two to eight hours, followed by inflammation of the skin, blistering, hemorrhage and ulceration.

Of the Brown Recluse's bite, one researcher told JAMA news:

"Several deaths have been attributed to this spider. Our data indicate a biological poison much more potent than known snake venoms, and probably more toxic than venom from the Black Widow spider." Exactly how the venom acts remains to be determined.

Treatment involves injection of a medication over a period of days and in more serious cases hospitalization.

Mrs. Dowdy Returns From WMU Tour

Mrs. Rodney C. Dowdy has returned from a week tour of Texas cities where she has been with a group of fourteen women of team four and others from various areas of the State, conducting conferences on program planning for the State Women's Missionary Union.

Mrs. Dowdy and her group conducted conferences in McAllen, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Waco and Stephenville. In San Antonio, the group saw a large number of refugees from the valley at the Trinity Baptist Church where they were taken care of after leaving their homes seeking shelter from Hurricane Beulah.

Mrs. Dowdy is a member of the State W.M.U. Convention on the Plans and Policy Commission. She is also secretary of the nominating committee of the State W.M.U. Convention.

Her committee will give reports at Lubbock October 30-31.

Newsprint used by newspapers in 1966 (9 million tons) was up seven percent over the year before, the largest one-year increase on record. Using newsprint consumption as an indicator of volume in the newspaper business, its growth has exceeded the rapid growth of the U.S. economy as a whole since World War II by 211.3 vs. 207.2 (GNP index).

Your Questions on the Draft . . .

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—For the purpose of college student deferments, is a junior college considered an institution of higher learning?

A—Yes, if its credits are acceptable toward granting of a baccalaureate degree by a college, university, or similar institution.

Q—How long can a person be deferred as an undergraduate college student?

A—He can be deferred in Class II-S until he completes the requirements for his baccalaureate degree (if completed within the normal and specified time), until he fails to pursue satisfactorily a full-time course of instruction, or until he reaches age 24, whichever occurs first.

Q—Will men who become fathers after the new Selective Service law become effective (June 30, 1967) be deferred in Class III-A?

A—Every case will have to be considered on an individual basis.

Q—Does the new law make any change on fathers?

A—Yes. Any man classified in Class II-S (college student) after June 30, 1967 can not, under the law, be classified in Class III-A as a father.

Q—Can the college student who received a Class II-S deferment after June 30, 1967, receive a Class III-A deferment for dependency in any manner?

A—Only on the basis of hardship to dependents, and the burden will be on him to prove hardship in the individual case.

Q—I received my bachelor's degree in June. I have been accepted for graduate study in history in September. Will I qualify for II-S deferment?

A—This depends on your draft board's decision. If it defers you, the new regulations permit it to do so for one year only.

Q—I have completed three years of college and have earned 75 percent of the units required for my degree, but my class standing is very low. Can I be deferred for my senior year?

A—Yes. You must be classified in II-S (college student) if you are full time and satisfactory. Class standing doesn't matter any more.

Q—I've heard that the deferment of graduate students in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy, and optometry is now mandatory. Is that right?

A—Yes, if the student is satisfactory in his studies.

Q—Who decides he is satisfactory?

A—The school in which he's enrolled.

Q—Who gets classified in Class I-Y?

A—A man who takes the Armed Forces physical and mental examination and is not found qualified for service, but could be later if Congress declared war or national emergency.
