Completes Training. Wilbert Matthews is here shown as he prepared for graduation from the Air Corps Advanced Flying school at Stockton, California last Friday with a class of 140. He was commissioned second lieutenant after 30 weeks of intense training. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Matthews of Floydada.

W. P. Matthews Commissioned In Air Corps

(Special to the Hesperian)
STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 1.—Aviation Cadet Wilbert P. Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Matthews, Floydada, Texas, is a member of a class of 140 graduated yesterday from the Air Corps Advanced Flying school at Stockton, California.

He will be commissioned a Second lieutenant in the Air Corps reserve, Army of the United States, and will be given the coveted silver wings, symbolic of the aeronautical rating of pilot. With others of his class, he will perform three years active duty in his new rank.

This class is the 7th to be graduated from the school at Stockton field, and will make a total of 919 pilots turned out by this one school since January 1, 1941, for Uncle Sam's rapidly expanding air force.

Before entering the final and advanced course at Stockton Field ten weeks ago, Aviation Cadet Matthews completed twenty weeks of primary and basic training. In the advanced course he was taught to fly the large combat airplanes of the Army Air Corps and acquainted himself with meteorology, radio code, navigation, engineering, signal communication, and other professional and military subjects.

The class is composed of young men from 15 states.

Matthews is a graduate of Floydada high school and of Texas Christian university at Fort Worth, from which he holds a B. S. degree.

Mrs. Covington Succumbs After Heart Attack

Last rites were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Ora Lee Stacey Covington, 69, a resident of Floyd county for the past 34 years. Services were conducted by Rev. L. A. Doyle, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Covington had been ill with the flu for several days and died of a heart attack Monday evening at 1 o'clock at her home, 101 Hallie avenue.

Miss Ora Lee Stacey was married to R. C. Covington June 21, 1894 at Winnboro in Hopkins county, moving to Floyd county in 1907.

Survivors are the husband, five daughters, Mrs. Travis H. Edwards of Olney; Mrs. Raymond Teeple, Mrs. D. W. Pyffe, Mrs. Fred Jones and Mrs. Kyle Glover all of Floydada; two sons, J. C. Covington, of Floydada and P. M. Covington, of Dougherty; two sisters, Mrs. Tom Grady of Quannah and Mrs. Edna Payne of St. Louis, Oklahoma.

Burial services were held at the St. Louis cemetery at 10 o'clock Monday.

Interscholastic Basketball In District 4-A

Reorganization of interscholastic basketball in Floydada and Lockney public schools so that the two schools will play in District 4-A competition for district, bi-district, regional and state honors, is the important news in scholastic athletics of this week.

In the change-up there will be no county interscholastic league basketball for Class A teams and no county play-off. Floyd county school officials said. They attended an organization meeting of District 4-A schools at Matador Wednesday night where the decision was reached to re-organize on the new basis, with state interscholastic league supervision.

The same schools as compose the football league will compose the basketball league, that is Floydada, Lockney, Paducah, Matador, Crosbyton, Ralls and Spur and other districts in the state are being organized in the same way, it was indicated.

B. F. Tunnell, district interscholastic chairman and superintendent of Matador schools, presided at Wednesday night's meeting. Each of the teams in the district will play each other team twice in a double round robin.

The first conference game will be on December 12. The schedule of the Floydada team is given in The Hesperian of this issue on another page.

DENTISTS RETURN FROM NATIONAL CONVENTION

Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Hicks and Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Thacker returned Thursday from Houston where they attended the American Dental society meeting Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Duck Hunters Learn About New Laws

Reports indicate that while duck hunters on the first day of the open season for ducks didn't wing many specimens of the country's wildlife, they did learn a lot about the state and federal regulations concerning migratory fowls.

Charges will be filed either in Justice court here for alleged violations including the killing of prohibited birds, hunting without county license, hunting before sun up and possibly others. A few hunters who got out had bad or good luck, got stuck and didn't get to fire a shot.

At least two deputy game wardens spent Sunday in the county, traveling many miles checking up on the hunters.

'Drive Opens Armistice Day Clark Says

A. B. Clark, chairman of the annual Red Cross Roll call this week announced the personnel of volunteer workers for Floyd county, naming Frank Perkins to have charge of the roll call at Lockney where an organization is being completed to make a canvas of the community.

The period of the drive will last from Armistice day, when the opening guns will be fired in the campaign, to November 30.

With a quota of nearly 1,200 members this year for the county, far exceeding last year's call due to the demands of national defense and the world-wide call for merciful ministrations, the roll call canvass must be more far-reaching this November than before in many years. Following are the campaign directors for the various school communities of the county:

Roll Call for Support of All
In a brief statement this week county chairman Clark said:
"Once again through the Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross the people have the opportunity to identify themselves with its splendid activities. For sixty years in war and peace at home and abroad, it has carried succor to those in distress and has labored to improve health and safety conditions for all our citizens."

"To meet the needs of national defense, the American Red Cross is strengthening and expanding all of its services. It is our privilege as American citizens to do our part in enabling the Red Cross to meet whatever demands the future may bring by our 100 per cent membership support during this year's roll call membership drive."

"An invitation to all our citizens to join the Red Cross as members has been issued, and you are urged to give your support."

Mr. Clark was named roll call chairman at a meeting of the chapter officials in September.

Open House Draws Large Attendance

Approximately 300 guests attended the opening of the new Pitts hospital Wednesday afternoon. Open house was held from 2 until 5:30 o'clock.

Many gifts from business houses and individuals were sent in, in expression of good wishes to the institution. Dr. and Mrs. Donald H. Pitts and nurses Mrs. Wesley Carr and Mrs. Jewel Teague, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Hammonds, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Pitts, received the guests and guided them through the building.

The building has fifteen rooms and is located at the intersection of Houston and Fifth streets on highway 70.

Dr. Pitts, practicing physician in Floyd county since 1938 has a background of wide service in his chosen profession. He was associated with Dr. A. E. Guthrie in the Floydada hospital and clinic from August 27, 1938 until this fall.

Defense Guard Officers. J. C. Gilliam, left, above, was named captain of Company B (Floydada unit) of the Texas Defense guard last week to succeed Dr. D. H. Pitts resigned. At the same time T. P. Collins, center, was "moved up" to the first lieutenant, and Harry Morckel, right, top sergeant, was appointed second lieutenant. Floyd F. Fuqua succeeds to the "right guide" position formerly held by Morckel.

Automobiles Scarce, Better Care For One You Have Is Urged

Service Men Ready As Jack Frost Arrives

Auto owners! How does your car rate for winter driving?

Machines are not so plentiful but so cheap as they were and it behooves every man to take care of the automobile or truck he has, and get the most possible mileage from it.

This is the message from automobile repair houses, from service stations and from replacement parts dealers of Floydada this first week of the winter.

Not only are new and used cars fewer in number also practically every type of accessory and replacement. For instance, batteries are reasonably plentiful now. They may not be later. Dealers do not say they will not be plentiful but they do express doubt. And the same is true of antifreeze. Every man has had experience trying to operate his car in the winter without protection for his engine block and his radiator. It nearly always results in disaster. Dealers now have anti-freeze of various types. They do not know how long they will have.

And so it goes throughout the list of things you need to make your car or truck operate efficiently and successfully.

The Hazards of Winter

Therefore, early cooperation with dealers to get your automobile winterized is the very best policy. Reconditioning now, or a check-up, is the wise thing to do. When winter is due to begin is the time. After you have ruined a good motor is too late.

At best, winter presents many hazards to the motorists. Extreme temperatures, dampness and slippery streets all add to the dangers of winter driving. The elements indicate severe weather when winter sets in. Darkness closes in early the next few months making night driving a necessity. Motorists are urged to drive slowly and avoid all possible chances of accidents.

Check Your Brakes

Extreme temperatures reduce the operating efficiency of any mechanical device. It is wise to see that your engine is protected, insofar as is possible, against cold. Batteries should be kept charged to insure quick starting and to provide for the extra starting that a cold motor causes. Anti-freeze agents too are necessities and should be kept in your radiator.

Brakes should be carefully looked after and tires should not be allowed to become smooth and worn. It is sometimes helpful to keep a little less air in the tires during wet weather so that the tire will have more surface resting on the ground. Proper lubrication is of prime importance. In addition to the oil in the crank case, which should be changed to winter weight to make operations of the car easier.

Floydada merchants are equipped with windshield accessories for better vision and necessary repairs to but put your old equipment in condition. They urge you to check on your oil pumps, fuel and water pumps, and make a thorough check of your car. Winter is almost here. Drive with care and be sure that your car is in condition.

Jeff Williams Has December 4 Date Here

Jeff Williams, Oklahoma humorist popular in the southwest as a speech-making philosopher and humorist, will appear in Floydada under the auspices of the Floydada Rotary club on Thursday night, December 4, it was announced here yesterday by Richard F. Stovall, president of the club.

The Chickasha humorist will be a guest of District Judge Alton B. Chapman on a quail hunt while in this section.

Floydada Rotarians have traveled many miles to hear Mr. Williams speak. They declare he is a second Will Rogers and they want other people in this section to have the opportunity of hearing him. They also anticipate many visitors will be here from other cities and towns of the area.

The program will be held in the auditorium of Floydada High school and proceeds will be used by the club in carrying on their projects in boys' and girls' work in the vicinity. Mr. Stovall said.

District 4-A Honors At Stake When Whirlwinds-Matadors Clash Here Friday Night

They may be wrong but local football fans believe that to all intents and purposes the championship of District 4-A Interscholastic League football, will be settled on Western field under the floodlights when the Whirlwinds of Floydada High school and the Matadors of Matador High school clash Friday night.

Lockney, Paducah and Crosbyton football squads must be reckoned with but the rooters believe that Matador is stronger than Lockney and can win from them, and that Floydada is stronger than either Spur or Crosbyton and can win from both of them. Lockney is still on Matador's schedule and Floydada will play Crosbyton and Spur on the next two successive week-ends.

There ought to be a big crowd here, too, for the game between Floydada and Matador high squads will be one of only two conference clashes in the district. Ralls Jack-rabbits will take on Crosbyton Chiefs on their new home field at the same time, but Lockney, Spur and Paducah all will have open dates.

Young, inexperienced, too The Matador squad is young and

Co. B Anxious To Bring Back Bn. Colors

Company B, Texas Defense guard, is going to try hard to bring back from Childress the new battalion colors for safekeeping in Floydada when they go down on Armistice day for the drill contest called by Major V. H. McClintock.

Bad weather that has hampered the local unit hasn't been any tougher on them than it has on the other companies of the battalion and B company has caught two Sunday afternoons in which to drill, so that they ought to make a good showing at Childress.

Battalion colors were recently financed by communities of the four companies—A, at Childress, B at Floydada, C at Turkey and D at Spur at a cost of some $50, and Major McClintock graciously suggested that since all the companies are helping to finance the purchase custodianship should go to the company making the best record in periodical contests.

Company B expects to have practically its full personnel in the parade and contest in Childress where their first contest will be held on Armistice day—Tuesday of next week, Captain J. C. Gilliam said.

REGIONAL INFORMATION ADVISOR TO BE IN FLOYDADA TODAY

Garford Wilkinson, FSA regional information advisor of Amarillo will be in Floydada today. He plans to take pictures of animal and machinery cooperatives in operation in Floyd county among FSA families.

Mr. Wilkinson also plans to make pictures of farm homes where reconditioning plans are being made through the assistance of the Farm Security administration.

$125,000 Issue Proposed For Precinct One

Machinery for the vote Saturday on the issuance of road bonds in Precinct No. One of Floyd county has been put in motion ready for the opening of the polls at 8 o'clock on November 8.

A bond issue in the sum of $125,000 is at stake and a two-thirds majority will be required for its adoption by the property tax-paying voters of the precinct. Electors will cast their ballots at six boxes. They are:

Precinct No. 1, Southwest Floydada, R. E. Fry, Presiding Judge, E. C. King, Judge, Geo. Finkner, Judge, J. M. Willson, Judge.

Precinct No. 2, Starkey, J. K. Holmes, Presiding Judge, Efford Farrish, Judge.

Precinct No. 3, Allmon, E. E. Foster, Presiding Judge, G. W. de-Cordova, Judge.

Precinct No. 4, Sand Hill, G. C. Collins, Presiding Judge, Walter Knight, Judge, Jim Holmes, Judge Tom McLain, Judge.

Precinct No. 16, Harmony, G. L. Snodgrass, Presiding Judge, M. Carr, Judge.

Precinct No. 22, McCoy, Geo. L. Smith, Presiding Judge, James J. Smith, Jr., Judge.

The proposition as stated on the ballot will be as follows:

"For the issuance of bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof;" and

"Against the issuance of the bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof."

Interest Rate Is Lowered

An interesting development this week is a memorandum of agreement from Dunne-Israel company in which they agree to a reduction of the interest rate on the proposed issue from 3 and 3/4 per cent to 2 1/2 per cent. Competition for the bond issue, should it carry, would prove keen not only from private investors but from the State Department of education, it appears.

Few, if any, forecasts on the outcome of the election have been ventured. Interest is general but road conditions have been unfavorable and there have been no mass meetings or general gatherings at which the matter has been discussed.

CCC Officials Sponsor Dance November 11

Floydada CCC officials are making plans for a party-dance November 11, in observance of Armistice day. The entertainment for the 120 young men of the camp will be held at the mess hall and will feature games, square and round dances and folk dances. Commander U. G. Knight said. A string band will be furnished by CCC boys assisted by other home boys of the county.

"We want to invite the citizens of the town, young and old with a special invitation to the young ladies of the community," Mr. Knight said. There'll be refreshments for all after the entertainment. Persons drinking or drunks will not be admitted, according to officials of the camp.

Guests will be met by guides who will escort them through the camp and to the entertaining rooms, beginning at 7:45.

Floydada High school band has promised to attend and play some patriotic numbers as well as popular airs as a part of the entertainment program, Commander Knight said.

BREEZES PLAY MATADOR WARD SCHOOLERS THIS AFTERNOON HERE

The big event at Andrews Ward school today is the Breeze football game on their home grounds with the ward school team of Matador.

The game will be playing beginning at 3:30. Howard Amick has charge of the Breeze squad.

Turkey Market Quoted At 16c; Sales Slow

Dealers on the south plains opened the turkey market this week at 16 cents for No. 1 young hens and at 14 cents for No. 1 young toms, but until last night there had been practically no sales in Floydada, a check-up revealed.

With a light supply locally turkey raisers had anticipated a higher market and, it was indicated, there is no disposition to sell at the figures quoted.

The Thanksgiving market, it was said, is due to close Saturday night.

EDITORIALS

Whether to hunt ducks or not to hunt them is the question. There are some ducks that fly up with the others it is against the law to shoot. Also if you shoot a jacksnipe, (who would if he knew it?) you are in for it. Also you can't shoot before sun-up nor after 4 o'clock in the afternoon. This certainly stymies the hunter on these open plains lakes. The game warden, if you don't plead guilty at home can take your case to the federal court. (Most of the state game laws are also federal). So, watch your step. Be sure to get a duck stamp and be sure to read up on the rules and regulations. Whether the game preserving enthusiasts are too too or whether the hunters doesn't make a lot of difference right now, and an assortment of indignation isn't a lot of help when you get up before the court.

Watch on frosty mornings for bloat in your cattle if they are running on this rank wheat. Also watch out for poisoning from eating volunteer wheat or other small grain or feed after a heavy frost. The burned stalks and leaves carry a certain amount of poison similar to stunted cane during a drouthy summer. Some veterinarians call it Prussic acid poisoning. You can lose a good cow in a few minutes, whatever the name.

In some towns very good advantage has been taken of WPA labor to pave streets. In one town not so far away nearly 100 blocks have been paved and another 15 block piece of work is now ready. The cost to the property owner on this particular project will be $62.50 per 50-foot front on a residence street. Another town has been doing a lot of paving, too,—and we mean a small city—although they have been about as broke there as the municipality has here for a good many years. No modern small city is a modern small city without paving. And that will be more true as time goes on. Paved streets cost money just like hard-surfaced roads but there is saving and there is economy also in them.

One of the points about the defense program of the Department of Agriculture we believe some of our people missed is this: The powers that be think there ought to be 18 per cent more beef marketed in the United States in the year of 1942, not 18 per cent more raised. Get the distinction. The country is getting an oversupply of cattle, the authorities believe, and they think that many a cattleman who is in debt could very well sell off some of his cattle, get his debts paid and be in better shape for later on, while doing the nation a favor at the same time by making cattle available for the armed forces. This is what was and is being said by the Department of Agriculture, not The Hesperian. None of our business, but we recall, in line with this argument, that a good many people held their cotton after World War I for—was it 40 cents or 50 cents? Anyway, they took nine cents.

Peculiar thing reading back a little in the news. Last fall the ginning season in Floyd county opened up pretty well in September. This year, weather permitting the gins will begin to turn out some cotton in early November. And last year at this time we had a pretty good idea what our crop of cotton was to be that year. This year we still wonder. All in the laps of the gods—principally the rain god.

The Red Cross drive for memberships will begin on November 11. It will find a good many people minus the dollar to join until a little good weather gives them a chance. But our quota—rightfully enough, under the circumstances—has been nearly doubled. It is around 1200 members to be joined up before the close of the month. Do your very best to meet the situation. Respond if you can.

When the United States Congress some years ago adopted and sent to the then president of the United States for approval the law which was termed the "Neutrality Act," it was not in fact such, but an act which notified the world that while no bully was in sight, it was the intention of this country to run from him when and if he did show up. It was a voluntary abrogation of the right to sail the free seas which the country had defended against England, against the Barbary states and had offered to defend against Germany itself when Cleveland was president. This is according to the history books. The Neutrality act itself, serving notice on Hitler or any other brigand by any name, that he could run our ships off the high seas by simply threatening them, is the reason why our ships have been attacked and sunk on high seas, in neutral waters and in waters adjacent to our own coasts. The people who are shedding crocodile tears with the widows and bereaved mothers over their lost sons on the high seas, in the Reuben James and other ships and blaming our present policy with it, ought instead to be blaming those officials who responded to unthoughtful hysteria and tried—like the Chinese—to crawl in a hole and pull it in after them.

Mr. Hitler's diatribe against Mr. Roosevelt last week would have been amusing had it not been so maddening. While he was having his own German boys killed by the thousands in the snow and slush of Russia he quoted practically verbatim words of leading isolationists in America blaming and berating President Roosevelt for the mourning mothers of 74 men and boys lost in the cold waters of Iceland. Mr. Hitler did the Norwegians, the Dutch, the Belgians, the Greeks, the Serbs, the Czechs the same way—and the Russians as well—until he got ready to do them another way.

We do not by any means try to say that President Roosevelt has not made mistakes. Largely, however, his trouble has been one of liking to hear himself talk over the radio. His trouble is that he thinks he makes a good speech and has a well-rounded delivery. So much he has said in public addresses could and should have been left unsaid.

Why France Fell—To tell at once, and with force, what one has on one's heart is a wise policy, for a frank, quick reproach causes less harm than a hostile and brooding discontent. Had the leaders of France been frank with the people... my beloved country would never have fallen—Andre Maurois, French essayist.

"OIL SHORTAGE" BACKFIRES

The so-called "oil shortage" scare on the Eastern seaboard, promoted for reasons hard to understand, has vanished like a morning mist. According to a congressional committee investigation, there is no serious shortage in the foreseeable future.

The productive capacity of the American oil industry is more than adequate to meet today's enormous military demand, as well as the normal civilian demand. A transportation problem was created by the transfer of tankers to Great Britain. That problem is now being met by moving oil by rail, even though the cost to the industry is higher; by the construction of additional pipelines, and, in many cases, by using coal instead of oil in industrial operations.

This country produces more than 60 per cent of all the oil in the world. It produces oils of a quality unequalled elsewhere. That is what private enterprise has done—and all the politically-inspired rumors of "grave shortages" can't hide it. Friendly cooperation with industry as dislocation problems arise, due to defense needs, will do more to solve them than autocratic, punitive action.—Manufacturer's Record.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

The clouds this Monday morning give me a chill, not only of cold, but of fear.

The sun tries to break through every once in a while. Yesterday was so bright with golden sunshine, I went to all the rooms to see if someone did not leave on the lights. The muddy road that I was afraid to try to travel, dried with the wind and the sun acting in partnership. The road to the highway has become a nightmare. Not that I had to travel it, I could stay at home, but Wilma had to make it every day, no matter how bad. Paul went with her and some how the car wallowed and pitched through. A feeling of imprisonment has stayed with me. Most always one can go anywhere any time on the plains. Wish I had thought to call this country a dust bowl so I could get the trip and entertainment offered the lucky or unlucky one, just how one looks at it.

Of course one would not feel good to have people pointing him out that he was guilty of calling this wet, wet land a dust bowl.

Young folks surely do dislike to be called old fashioned or admit that the older generation knew as much, but I see the young men are wearing the heavy fleeced undershirt of other days, but are calling it a "sweat shirt." Well, any way, by whatever name it is known, it has the same qualities of keeping one warm.

Now I am not fussing about the young people not wanting to do like we older ones did, and I admit they know far more than we did. Have not the older ones given their life work to giving their children better school advantages than they had? We are very proud of the young folks today.

The pecan trees are the last of the season's fruit. Pecans fall out of the open hulls most all the time. It is fun to pick them up. The pecan grew from seed my husband planted from a sack he bought at the store. They are beautiful. Tall and spreading graceful branches to the sun and air. Leaves on the trees are falling, but somehow it does not make me sad. All the trees gave freely of their fruits this season. From the time the red cherries enticed the birds to a delicious feast, we have had some kind of fruit ripening. We feel that our labor in caring for the trees has not been in vain and it is not a disappointment to see them prepare for winter this year.

I was getting along pretty well with this column, when Joe Ellis fell off the table and barely missed falling in the fire. When I got him comforted the apple pie began boiling over in the oven, the turnips needed salt and the quince preserves had to be stirred. It is peculiar, but it seems like I cannot think of anything when I have plenty of time and leave this article till the last. Oh, yes, I write it in my mind when I go about my duties. Somehow it is difficult to stop and put it on paper.

Rocks have been coming my way lately. No, they have not been thrown, just been given me for my collection on my fence. Mrs. Will Marr of Ralls, brought such an interesting collection from her visit to the Pacific coast last summer. Mrs. Ruby Jennings of Muleshoe sent three and a jar of white sand she got on her nice trip. It is very pleasant to be remembered by friends.

Yards are ablaze with chrysanthemums. Yellow as sunshine, red as a sunset, white as fluffy snow, pink as a baby's cheek and bronze as a statue. How lovely they are. Never asking for much the whole summer through. Only a small bit of ground in which to grow. Grayish green and almost unseen among the gay summer flowers. How amazed we are to wake up in the fall and see bushes of blossoms all over our place where the summer flowers have faded and died. It seems as if nature gives with a prodigal hand just before she takes all the beauty of summer away. It reminds one of the colors of the sunset just before the dark of night.

Nothing has been so happy on the farm this wet season as the ducks and hogs. They have quacked and grunted their pleasure from the mud where they hunted and snooted for food.

The duck season opened with a bang. After reading the law on shooting ducks in the Hesperian last week, I decided the ducks must have been the lobbyists when the laws were passed. The law is decidedly in their favor. Next year a law will be passed to have to get the permission of the ducks before one shoots. Now I do not want to see the wild life go, but I have seen good feed crops ruined almost overnight and all the farmer was allowed to do was holler "shoo."

THE BAD MAN'S FIRE

I went to see mother of my mother. To entertain me there was none other.

Except one who was once a slave "Now hone," she said, "You better behave. Or de ole bad mans will sho get yo. He haf horns and a long tail, so which he switches roun and roun. Way down neath de groun. Be good or fust thing you know Switched in de fire you go."

I returned to dugout home out west. Where the wind did not take a rest. There was not a brook nor a rill. So water came from tall windmill. Which was a long way off. By cattle watering trough. My mother made some harness. Which fitted on dog like a dress. Then fastened to shaves of small wagon.

As I was the very eldest one To the windmill I went each day. Filled cans with water, dog led the way.

One day ground was so very dry. It burst open, oh my, oh my! I looked down in those big cracks. Then tried to turn the dog's tracks. Oh, doggie, the Bad Mans lives down there.

To go near, don't you ever dare. He tried to obey, good old Rover. But he turned the wagon right over. Water ran down the crack so deep. But I sure didn't weep. Somehow I just laughed a prayer. That water had just put out Bad Man's Fire.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Issue of November 3, 1927)

"All that Floydada lacks being an ideal community in which to make a home is five miles more of pavement," F. L. Davis, pastor of the First Christian church declared yesterday in the course of a conversation in which he pointed out that residents here enjoy every convenience of modern life, except that we are still riding on too many rough—and in wet weather, difficult—streets to travel over.

Guests present in celebration of Corrine Daniels and Ruth Snell's birthday, Monday, Oct. 31, were Mildred Smith, Preston and James Badgett, W. R., Billy, and Evelyn Daniels, Ruth and Billy Snell, Leroy Cates, John Henry Alexander, Lloyd Seward, Mary Katherine and Junior Smith, Buster, Ruth, Junior and Virginia Simpson, Lois and Cleo Smith, Ruth Martin, Jacqueline and Gery Porter, Bobby Gollyhon, Fay Farley and Tolbert Davis.

Little Misses Maxine and Marilyn Fry entertained with a Halloween party at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fry, Friday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock. Fawver Family Here Fifty Years Friday

Come Friday, November 7, and the Fawver family will observe the fiftieth anniversary of their coming to Floyd county.

November 7, 1891, Jno. A. Fawver his wife and their eight children drove on to the section of land east of Floydada which they claimed for their home, moving west from Missouri.

And of the eight children who came here eight survive to see the fiftieth anniversary. However, this is not to say that death did not come to the family throughout the long years, for in the first three months the 44-year-old father of the family died on February 6, 1892, leaving the widow and eight children to pioneer for themselves. His body was the third to be interred in Floydada cemetery.

The surviving widow lived to see all of her children grown and useful citizens, passing to her reward in 1931 at the age of 85 years.

Of the eight surviving children five are still residents of Floyd county, and one of them, George L.

BETH NEWTON A MEMBER FUTURE TEACHERS ORGANIZATION

LUBBOCK, Oct. 29—Beth Newton, senior arts and sciences student at Texas Technological college, recently became a member of Future Teachers of America, national and professional organization. Thirty-two new members were initiated into the organization at a service held in the home of Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, associate professor of education and psychology.

Beth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Newton of Dougherty.

Many Floyd County Baptists To Help Swell Attendance At Baptist General Convention In Abilene Monday Through Friday

Dr. W. R. White is president of H-S-U, and general chairman of Abilene citizens who are arranging plans for the Baptist General Convention of Texas in Abilene November 11-14.

Fawver, still makes his home on the section of land on which he filed when he became of age. This piece of land was patented direct to him the title in him showing only this one transfer. The other four children living here are Mrs. R. H. Willis, Mrs. Nora E. Willis, John A. Fawver, and L. B. Fawver. The three daughters who make their homes elsewhere are Mrs. E. F. Johnson of Vernon, Mrs. J. H. Pruitt of Farmington, New Mexico, and Mrs. Maud Walker of Rotan.

Many messengers from Floyd County Baptist association will attend the Baptist General convention of Texas and help swell the tremendous crowd at Abilene for that important church event beginning Wednesday and the assembly of the annual Baptist Brotherhood convention and the Woman's Missionary union which precede it on Monday and Tuesday.

The First Baptist church of Floydada named its messengers this mid-week and the W. M. U. named their representatives Monday.

Probabilities are that as many as 25 or 50 members of the Floydada church will attend some or all of the sessions Monday through Friday, and every church in the association will likely be represented in this highlight gathering of Baptists from all over the state.

Abilene Baptists and the citizens of Abilene anticipate 3,000 or more visitors during the week, and 4,000 homes are being found to be thrown open to the messengers.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons university, is heading the citizens' committee preparing this week for the meeting and he is among many other notables who will be heard during sessions of the men's brotherhood meeting and the W. M. U. meeting preceding the convention proper that opens Wednesday. Notables who will address sessions of the convention include:

Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas; Dr. Pat M. Neff, Waco; Dr. T. L. Holcomb, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. W. W. Melton, Dallas; Dr. T. J. Watts, Dallas; Dr. L. R. Scarborough; Dr. E. D. Head, Houston; Dr. T. B. Tidwell, Waco; Dr. John W. Rayel, Shawnee, Okla.; Dr. J. B. Lawrence, Atlanta, Ga.; and President White and Mayor Will Hair, Abilene.

Hardin - Simmons university, whose Golden Jubilee will be celebrated during the Convention, is spending $10,000 to remodel and enlarge its auditorium. Total capacity will be 3,000 and another 1,500 can be seated in the gymnasium across the street, where a public address system will bring the program to overflow crowds.

The First Baptist Church, where the Woman's Missionary Union will hold its session November 10 and 11, while the Brotherhood Convention meets in the Hardin-Simmons auditorium, is spending $5,000 remodeling and redecorating its auditorium.

Mrs. Gaines Davis and daughter Dell left Wednesday of last week for Pittsburg and Mt. Pleasant, Texas for a visit in the homes of her mother Mrs. Effie Dean and sister Mrs. Ralph Smith and family. Mr. Davis plans to go for his family Sunday and return by way of Austin.

Mrs. John N. Farris and son John saw the Texas-SMU football game in Dallas last Saturday and visited with their son and brother Kinder, who came up from Houston while there.

Longhorns Taken By Whirlwinds Friday 20 To 0

Floydada High's Whirlwinds bucked and lateraled to a 20 to 0 victory over Lockney Longhorns last Friday afternoon on Lockney Municipal field to stay in the competition with an undefeated and untied record for district games.

The game was played in the deepest mud of the muddest season of years and footing was insecure throughout the game.

First score came in the first quarter on a lateral, Rushing to Morrison on a lateral, Rushing kicked the ball and an assortment of mud for the extra point. Lockney kicked off and the play started on the "Winds" 35-yard line. Rushing carried the ball on a play through the line and an end run to the 35 thence a fake through center and two off tackle plays put the ball on the eight. A penalty for off side, man in motion, lost to the 13 from whence the triple was executed.

Lateral Works Once More
The lateral worked again on the first Whirlwind offensive in the second quarter, which began on the Longhorn 30-yard line. On a fake Rushing went through the line to the 5 yard line, and while his opponents set themselves for another plunge he elected to send Loran around end on another lateral with Morrison the short man.

In the third quarter the "Winds" could not score but set the ball up on the 1-yard line as the whistle blew for Rushing to buck through tackle for the score on the first play in the fourth.

Both sides substituted freely as the boys went out of play to get the mud out of their cleats and to rest from the hard chugging.

Ross and Morrison who took over the ball totting assignments for the "Winds" early in the fourth quarter did well, with Kennamer, Battey and Hinson going into the line and Conner calling the plays.

Lockney's ball toters, Parrack, at quarter, Zimmerman at full and Mitchell at left half, did good jobs but superior power stopped their drives before they could penetrate deep toward pay dirt. McCollum and Byars at the tackle slots took much punishment and looked good. Newman showed up good at end for the Longhorns. The team is going to give somebody strong competition next year for district honors.

Patterson Plays Part Time
Patterson of the Whirlwinds, injured in the Phillips game was back at right end a part of the time during this game. He and Sparks are showing up good in the competition for beginning assignments in end positions.

Farmer's Soil His Defense Factory

Practically every farm in the United States is about to become a defense plant, engaged in producing the foods that are necessary in carrying out the "Food for Freedom" program, points out W. H. Nelson, Chairman of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district.

Already the State Defense board has launched a farm-to-farm production pledge sign-up which is expected to result in attainment of the 1942 goals for more dairy products, increased slaughter of beef, more eggs, more vegetables, and the other foods that are essential to the United States and the nations fighting aggression, Mr. Nelson says.

"In order to reach these goals, every farm must be made an efficient defense plant," Nelson declares. "Manufacturers, in meeting defense goals in the production of airplanes, tanks, shells, ships and the thousands of other things that are vital to the nation's welfare in this emergency, have had to expand and re-tool their plants, speed up production, and operate at the greatest efficiency.

"The farmer's defense plant is his soil. Fortunately, national defense needs and soil conservation needs are identical. The farmer, in performing a patriotic duty of producing the necessary foods, can do so profitably and at the same time increase the value of his land through the use of soil conserving practices," Mr. Nelson points out.

During the coming winter, there are many things the farmer can do to "re-tool" his plant and place it upon an efficient basis, says the chairman of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district.

Things Farmers Can Do
Necessary terraces can be built on row crop land and existing structures can be repaired to conserve moisture and check soil losses next year.

Stock water ponds can be built to insure better distribution of grazing on the range.

Crop stubble and residues can be worked into the surface soil to restore fertility and provide protection from both wind and water erosion.

Feed can be stored in silos or stacks as a reserve against the possibility of another drought period.

Overgrazing of stubble fields can be guarded against so there will be no danger of soil blowing.

Garden sites can be selected and plans made for supplying the necessary water from wells, ponds, or diversion structures.

Better feeding programs for livestock and poultry can be carried out to assist production goals being reached.

Farm machinery repairs can be made to increase the operating efficiency of the farm unit.

"These are only a few of the things that the farmer can do during the winter that will aid in producing the essential foods, conserve the soil, and increase the individual farmer's profits," Mr. Nelson points out.

The heavy rains this year, while causing some crop damage, have resulted in a great amount of moisture being stored in the soil for future crop production, it is pointed out.

"However, we should keep in mind that the danger of recurring drought is always with us, and that every precaution should be taken at all times to conserve the soil and water so the land will be in condition to meet the long-time defense needs of the nation," Mr. Nelson declares.

The Road Bond Issue

Will A Mortgage Be Voted On Your Home Saturday?

THE VOTE on Saturday, November 8th will determine whether or not Commissioners Precinct No. 1 of Floyd County, and all the property owned by people who live in that precinct, will be covered by a tax mortgage to pay $125,000.00 ROAD BOND ISSUE with interest for not over 25 years at 3½%.

This Is What You Will Vote On

The Election call reads and here we copy,

"Whether or not the bonds of said Commissioners Precinct No. 1 shall be issued in an amount not to exceed $125,000.00 bearing interest at a rate not to exceed 3½% per annum" x x x "For the purpose of construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes or in aid thereof throughout Floyd County Commissioners Precinct No. 1, including a farm to market road from highway 207 to the county line toward Petersburg, Texas, and WHETHER OR NOT AD VALOREM TAXES SHALL BE LEVIED annually on all taxable property in Commissioners Precinct No. 1 sufficient to pay the annual interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the bonds at maturity."

THE PLAN IS THAT THE SOUTHWEST PART OF FLOYDADA AND THE SOUTHWEST PART OF THE COUNTY WILL PAY THIS WHOLE BOND ISSUE.

All the property in the Southwest part of Floydada lying West of the alley between Wall Street and Main Street and South of the alley line between Missouri Street and California Street, will, if the bond issue carries, be mortgaged and bound to pay this $125,000.00 and interest.

All the property and land in Commissioners Precinct No. 1 covering the Southwest part of the County will also be mortgaged the same way to pay this bond issue.

THIS BOND ISSUE IF CARRIED WILL BE PAID BY ONE FOURTH OF THE TOWN AND ONE FOURTH OF THE COUNTY.

Town people pay taxes to three taxing bodies now; you pay 1st to CITY OF FLOYDADA, 2nd to INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT, 3rd to STATE AND COUNTY. DO YOU WANT A FOURTH TAX TO PAY EACH YEAR? If the bond issue carries, your Fourth tax to pay will be PRECINCT No. 1 ROAD TAX.

Farmers and owners of rural property now pay State, County and School Taxes; Do you want another Taxing agency the PRECINCT ROAD TAX MAN to assess you and collect from you each year another tax.

A hard surface road into any farm community would be a fine thing; and Cadillac cars and fine homes would be good things too, if we could reasonably pay for them. A vote for this bond issue is not just a vote for the road work, it is a vote for the mortgaging of your home, a tax mortgage.

This New Tax Mortgage Might Cost You Your Home

Go to your court dockets and see how many people have been closed out and homes sold for taxes in the past few years. It is generally conceded that in the coming years the country will be in a terribly distressed condition financially, and taxes will be hard to pay.

FARM TO MARKET HARD SURFACE ROADS IF BUILT SHOULD BE BUILT BY THE STATE WITH GASOLINE TAXES

Since the State has been building highways with gasoline taxes, there is no reason these farm to market roads should not be built the same way. It looks reasonable that we could and should get these roads paid for with gasoline taxes and not by bond issue put on the people.

HOW MUCH AND WHAT ROAD WILL THIS MONEY BUILD?

WHERE WILL THE FEW MILES OF HARD SURFACE ROAD, IF ANY, BE BUILT?

HOW MANY PEOPLE WILL IT MATERIALLY HELP?

WILL THE MONEY BE WASTED?

Under the wording of this bond election all the $125,000.00 might be spent on just a few miles of good hard surface road; it would not build many miles of such a road; or the way the order reads the money might just be wasted, or a large part of it wasted. The order just leaves it up to the Commissioners court and the Commissioner of the Precinct to decide how and where the money is to be spent. If any hard surface road is built, it might be built anywhere in the precinct.

This NEW ROAD TAX if voted on you will not help the value of your land. Buyers will want to buy land that is not in the high tax precinct. In addition to the bond issue the expense of upkeep of all roads built must be paid and that with interest on the $125,000.00 will run the expense high.

WHEN YOU VOTE SCRATCH OUT the Word "For" so that your ballot will read "AGAINST" the bond issue.

Whirlwinds and Matadors Will Vie For Championship Friday Night

District 4A's two perfect standing teams will meet in combat Friday night on Wester Field to decide which is the district superior.

The Floydada and Matador teams are not only the districts top-ranked but also the best matched teams. A fact which promises a rousing 60 minutes of give and take between the Whirlwinds and Matadors.

The Whirlwinds are in excellent condition, and feel confident that they can take all punishment that the Matadors are capable of giving, and can render enough successful offensive plays for a victorious game on their part.

The Floydada team made the Johnny Longhorns lay low as they won a victory of 20-0 over them. They proved their ability both as a strong offensive and powerful defensive team, and are expected to exert equally strong pressure on the "Bull Fighters"; however the score may not be as high.

The Whirlwinds are putting forth effort to prepare for the Matador game.

A good crowd and well filled pockets marked the success of the annual Junior Halloween Carnival last Friday night. The net proceeds were $96.

The many interests of the carnival were headed by the penny board, which held the crowd's attention more than any other thing. Mr. Linder auctioned off various articles that were donated by the merchants and business men of the town.

Other attractions were the zoo, a chicken dinner, booths labeled visit the faculty graveyard, play the 100, the largest woman in the world, a three-headed woman, twenty camels, bingo, ringing money, ringing clothes pins, knocking bottles over and the pie walk.

La Juana Leibfried was given the radio and Randolph Rutledge the five dollar defense stamp.

The crowning event occurred when Nancy Knight, the sophomore candidate was crowned queen of the Junior Halloween carnival.

Nancy Knight Crowned Carnival Queen

Escorted by Jack Martin, president of the sophomore class, Nancy Knight made a striking picture as she walked down the white way amid cheers and applause. She wore a blue tulle gown adorned with a beautiful corsage of pink carnations. Jack was dressed in a dark blue suit.

Margaret Camden wore a peach chiffon gown and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums, her escort was Joe Rushing. Betty Yearwood, candidate of the freshman class, wore a white tulle dress and a pink corsage. She was escorted by Gene Arvine. Nadine Powell wore white and red dotted swiss gown, and a corsage of white carnations. Gene Collins was her escort.

Many Students in Coronation
Frances Keim and La Juana Leibfried, dressed in white satin majorette uniforms, rolled an aisle of white crepe paper from the door of the building to the throne.

Nancy and Jack were then announced and beneath the rays of the spotlight, marched down the white way toward the throne followed by Don Barber, crown bearer. They took their place on the throne, then Mr. Travis placed the crown on the Queen Nancy's head.

The chapter discussed the pest eradication contest, the date of which will be stated in the near future. Points will be given for each rodent killed, and the winner will be given a prize. A committee will be appointed to work out the details of the contest.

Two new officers, Harold Norrell, reporter and Wilton Patterson, secretary, elected to fill vacancies of members who had moved from the community, took their places in the opening and closing ceremony.

The regular meeting date is the second Tuesday night of each month.

MEDAL WILL BE GIVEN FOR THE BEST DRESS IN CLOTHING III

In the clothing department the girls have begun making aprons in Clothing I, general wear dresses in Clothing II, and special occasion dresses in Clothing III. The aprons are being made from white percale trimmed in braided rickrack. The general wear dresses are plain, and are made from spun rayon, sharkskin, alpaca, crepes, and wash silks. They are generally in sports style. The special occasion dresses are made from alpaca and crepes.

The third year girls are working hard to win first place. The best made dress will be awarded a medal by Miss Elliott, the clothing teacher. The girl will also earn a trip to the State rally.

In Foods I the girls are making quick breads, muffins, biscuits, pop overs and waffles.

Because many girls were out of school, the cake contest was not held Friday, but will be held sometime this week. They are now making breads.

Lovelorn Column

Dear Lovelorn:

When a boy goes with a certain girl for a long time and then stops because she does something that he does not like, how is she to let him know she is sorry?

After all, there is such a thing as an apology, and if you are sorry for something you have done—apologize. It won't hurt you. It is silly to let your pride keep you from admitting your mistakes. Be big enough to own up to them and I promise you will never be sorry.

Dear Lovelorn:

How do you know whether a girl likes you or not if she uses the same line on every boy?

Dear Bewildered:

Are you sure you are not just jealous? Probably this girl is just kidding with other boys. Still, if you're afraid you are one of the boys she's kidding, go with other girls and let her worry. Then go with her and when she says something about you going with other girls in a kidding way, let her know that you are never sure of her. Then she'll tell you and seriously too—if you just let her worry enough about losing you.

Dear Lovelorn:

How would you make a girl like you, if she just halfway liked you, for instance, Nancy Knight.

Robert Taller.

Dear Robert Taller:

You don't make a girl like you, it just happens. However, you might like her along, if you get what I mean. Let her know, in a moderate kind of way, that you might like her very much. After all, you can't expect a girl to make all advances. Some boys leave it up to the girls entirely, and it usually works, but you want to win the girl and not have her win you. Try to be nice to her in small ways, and be friendly—not only to her, but to everyone. It seems that Nancy is the friendly type and that she would like her friends to be the same way. Find out what she likes and be just that—after all, that's what you want, isn't it?

Dear Lovelorn Editor:

My boy friend has found out something of my past. He will not tell me what it is. Only that he doesn't like it. What shall I do?

A Brokenhearted Jr.

Dear Brokenhearted Jr.
If you have anything in your past to be ashamed of, tell your boy friend. That is, if he can be trusted and he isn't worth worrying over if he can't. If he likes you at all he'll be willing to forgive and forget if you are serious about wanting forgiveness for it.

If you haven't done anything, don't worry. He's just trying to make you squirm. Let him know that you haven't done anything. He will get over it.

Dear Sir:

Why is it that the freshman boys don't give the senior boys a chance on Florene Cates.

John Doe.

P. E. But Bud Dubois is so small he still gets in.

Dear John Doe:

Girls are just girls and why Florene Cates likes freshmen, I don't know. However, I think she likes seniors too. After all, look at Bud Dubois. Just because she isn't as silly over boys as some girls doesn't prove she dislikes them. Take it from me.

Dear Lovelorn Editor:

A boy asked me for a date. I refused with a good excuse. He won't speak to me now. What shall I do? A Desperate Jr.

Dear Desperate Jr.:

I think patience is your best cue. Let things quiet down and he'll forget all about it. No doubt you'll be on the best of terms in a few days.

Dear Lovelorn:

How do you know whether the boy likes you or not if he never tells you?

My dear, your case is one of the times when a woman's intuition comes in handy. You'll know by the way he acts, and oh, just lots of ways—especially little things he does. Just watch for them and you will know. After all, not every boy is the kind who says things like that. Some just mean for you to take it for granted.
