

Release Of Two Fliers Removes Obstacle, Kennedy Declares

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced with dramatic impact Wednesday night that the Soviet Union has freed two crewmen of a U.S. reconnaissance plane the Soviets shot down over Arctic waters last July 1.

Kennedy calmly made the electrifying disclosure at his first news conference as President. He also announced he was continuing the ban on U.S. espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Kennedy hailed release of the airman as amounting to removal of "a serious obstacle to improvement of Soviet-American relations."

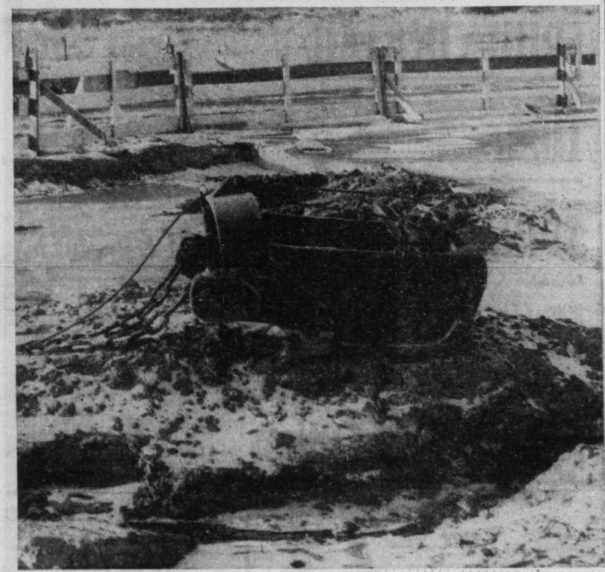

The Soviet government called it a reflection of a serious desire to open a new stage in relations with the United States.

At his news conference, broadcast nationwide on live television and radio, Kennedy was not asked whether the United States or the Soviet Union had taken the initiative toward release of the fliers whose downed plane was an Air Force RB47.

After the conference there were conflicting versions. An official in close touch with Kennedy reported that Soviet Premier Khrushchev first brought up the matter when he called U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson to the Kremlin last Saturday.

At the State Department, however, top officials said they understood that Thompson—acting on instructions from Kennedy—took the initiative regarding release of the airman during that same meeting with Khrushchev.

The questions brought these replies on these topics: Spy Flights—The President said he has ordered continuation of the ban on American espionage flights over Soviet territory.

Ice Storm Moves To East, South Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A bitter, treacherous ice storm that has taken at least 11 lives spread across East, South Central and Southwest Texas Thursday.

In its wake across the northern half of the state were damaged power lines, snarled traffic, glazed highways and streets and numerous schools closed.

Search continued in the San Marcos area for Bobbie Jack McMullin, 14, missing since Tuesday. The mercury dropped to 10 degrees at Amarillo Thursday morning.

Daniel Program In Hands Of Solons

By LEE JONES AUSTIN (AP)—Most of Gov. Price Daniel's legislative program was in the hands of the legislature today.

In Ellis County, south of Dallas, all schools were closed except in Euless, Forrester and Palmer. Although a thin glaze of ice covered highways and streets in East Texas Thursday morning, no roads were closed.

Among major items in Daniel's program now before the legislature are these, most of which probably receive early consideration by legislative committees:

An increase in the maximum loan the Texas Water Development Board can advance to water projects, introduced by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Reps. Sam Collins of Newton and J. W. Buchanan of Dumas.

A uniform narcotics law. An equal rights for women amendment, introduced by Sen. William Moore of Bryan.

A program of medical assistance to the aged under public welfare, by Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillshire, and Reps. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, and Jim Markgraf of Scurry.

Families Of Pair Await Big Reunion

By GEOFFREY GOULD WASHINGTON (AP)—Two American fliers were winging home today from a Soviet prison where they had been held for almost seven months.

The fliers, Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead of Elmira, N.Y., and John R. McKone of Topeka, Kan., will have an ecstatic reunion about 4 p.m. today in Washington with their wives and families.

As an Air Force plane sped them across the Atlantic, another was prepared to whisk both wives from Topeka. The men were based there before their overseas assignment that ended with the shooting down of their RB47 reconnaissance plane by a Soviet fighter last July.

"We never gave up hope," said both Mrs. Olmstead and Mrs. McKone Wednesday night. One was calm, the other fighting tears. "Onnie, I'm so happy," said Mrs. Olmstead to Mrs. McKone weeping. "I'm still completely dry," said Mrs. McKone with a grin.

The two women had gotten the word that their husbands were freed just five minutes before President Kennedy announced in his televised news conference. The President telephoned Mrs. McKone after the conference and she said he told her how happy he was that the fliers had been freed.

There was the same kind of overwhelming joy in Elmira, where Olmstead's parents got the news "like a bombshell out of the blue" as they watched Kennedy on TV.

U.S. Planes Track Portuguese Liner

By SAUL PETT SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Shadowed by a U.S. Navy patrol plane, the captive liner Santa Maria raced toward West Africa today.

U.S. destroyers set out to intercept the fugitive ship but President Kennedy said American officers had not been ordered to board her.

Portuguese rebel leader Henrique Galvao, commanding the seized liner as "occupied" Portuguese territory in his revolt launched on the high seas, boldly announced his destination as Angola, the ancient Portuguese colony on the coast of southwest Africa.

But this could be a ruse to mislead interceptors. The Santa Maria—at last report half-way between Puerto Rico and West Africa and heading on a southeasterly course—still was in a position to swing back toward South America.

Galvao, in a radio talk with the U.S. Naval pilot who tracked him down, refused to turn around and go to San Juan and bluntly told him: "Destination Angola."

But he added: "Will accept conference on board Santa Maria with U.S. authorities or any other than Portuguese or Spanish (Salazar's) close ally."

and their lives are involved," he said, adding that the United States was also concerned because "There are Americans involved" duet boarding operations" but only to accompany the liner.

GUATEMALA (AP)—Control of El Salvador was in doubt today following a revolt by a self-proclaimed anti-Communist military junta and reports that supporters of the previous leftist junta were making a stand.

Troops loyal to the former ruling group were reported dug in at Zapote Fort in San Salvador, strongest military post in the capital and located just across the street from the government palace held by the rebels. But reports filtering across the border said the new junta was negotiating with the armed holdouts.

Details were still sketchy as to the state of the revolt which erupted Wednesday in the smallest of the 21 American republics. A member of the new five-man junta, Antonio Rodriguez Port, broadcast over El Salvador radio that his group had full command over the armed forces. Port said his group had acted because the country faced "very serious danger" from forces of both the extreme right and extreme left.

Santa Maria belonged to a friendly nation. Cmdr. Charles Rainey, spokesman at the Navy search headquarters in San Juan, said the Navy's "Prime consideration now is the safety and welfare of the crew and passengers."

After Krause, flying a PT Neptune, located the Santa Maria, the Navy made arrangements to keep the fugitive ship under constant surveillance. A Brazil-based, long range Constellation was sent out with orders to "track and report position" of the liner.

The U.S. destroyers Damato and Wilson and the British frigate Rothesay were sidelined for refueling after fruitlessly chasing the Santa Maria through the Caribbean.

But two U.S. destroyers on a goodwill tour of West African ports—the Vogelstein and Geary—were ordered out to intercept the runaway and tail her.

A report from Trinidad said the high-speed nuclear submarine Seawolf and the fleet tanker Castleso had been ordered to overtake the Santa Maria.

Defenses were alerted in Portugal's Cape Verde Islands, off the African coast, and in Angola by Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, the dictator Galvao and his men have declared "war" on it. It was obvious they feared the rebel hand would try to spark a rebellion in the territories, where unrest has been rumored periodically.

The frigate Pedro Escobar, armed with 3 inch guns, set out hurriedly from Lisbon "on a special mission" after the runaway liner was finally sighted.

Reports circulated in Lisbon that two of the crewmen of the Santa Maria were in league with the rebels. Salazar's secret police Wednesday questioned officials of the Colonial Navigation Company, owners of the liner.

The Vera Cruz, a sister ship of the Santa Maria owned by the same line, Wednesday night delayed its sailing from Rio de Janeiro. Capt. Ambrose Perreira Ramarello said the refrigeration system broke down and denied the delay had anything to do with the seizure of the Santa Maria.

Addison's Legal Battle Goes On

DALLAS (AP)—The legal battle involving uranium promoter John Milton Addison rumbled through another round Wednesday.

One witness—called by the government—told of donating $10,000 "more or less" and wounding up in a testimonial for Addison.

Another witness—also for the government—was threatened with impeachment by a defense attorney.

Addison and five associates are charged with mail fraud, conspiracy and violations of the Federal Securities Act. Included in the 24-count indictment is a charge that Addison and his associates collected more than $1,500,000 from people throughout the country as "investments" in their uranium and mining operations.

John Halm of Raymondville, a Rio Grande Valley farmer, testified in U.S. District Court that "I gave him $10,000—more or less—I'm not real sure." He said in return he was to get only 10 per cent interest.

"But I was also to get 2 per cent in royalties for each $5,000 I gave in gratitude for my extraordinary friendship," he added on direct examination.

Halm said "John Addison never told me anything that wasn't true."

Defense attorney Lamar Holley earlier threatened to impeach Truman H. Dew, Dallas bus driver.

Paper Draws Praise For Holding Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune has received a White House commendation for not using a 19-hour world scoop it had on the release by the Soviet Union of two American fliers.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said he had told a Herald Tribune reporter Tuesday night that publishing the news would be "harmful to the national interest and inimical to the welfare of the fliers."

He said the reporter, David Wise, agreed to hold off publication. "In doing this," Salinger

Miss Lottie Still Busy With Needle

By RAY KOHN
NEW YORK (AP)—The "seamy" side of life still appeals to fashion-wise Lottie Phump, still busy at her sewing job on the eve of her 90th birthday.

Miss Lottie, as they call her where she works (Bergdorf Goodman), has been busy with the needle since the gaslight era. And she continues to take it all in her stride—a firm stride, too.

Her keen blue eyes combine with her agile fingers to sew that extra-fine seam, as she was doing Wednesday in her employer's workroom.

"She started in 1903—where she is now—as a skirt fitter. A few years later another tailor offered her more money.

"Mama said," the pert seamstress recalls, "if you like it there, stay; money isn't everything. I wanted to be happy in my work, so I stayed."

Marriage did end Miss Lottie's career for a few years. But her husband died and she returned to sewing at the same old stand in 1924.

Thirty-seven years later, she commutes from her home in Bogota, N.J., and that takes some commuting: an interstate bus and then city buses.

Miss Lottie shrugged off comments on how she insisted on coming to work even in weather like the recent snowstorm.

"I've had happy days here," she said, "I wouldn't be here if I didn't."

She answered the question of what she does on week-ends by asking one: "Who's going to clean the house?"

Miss Lottie is a movie fan, and especially likes to take in the shows in Manhattan.

She's seen hundreds of styles come and go, but she had a tart note concerning the present ones:

Future Teachers Club Holds Annual Banquet Here Monday

A New Taylor Novel Makes '61 Lucky Year

IN A SUMMER SEASON. By Elizabeth Taylor.

Kate's husband has died, she has two grown children, and she falls in love with Dermot who is 10 years younger, or not at the top of the heap, nor the bottom, but sort of "on the mezzanine floor," according to this novelist who, more than most, always has a word for it.

They all live in the Thames valley. Windsor is not too far off to see on a clear day, and there is a fantastic ferment in the Kate-Dermot household.

Old Aunt Ethel is forever writing letters about many things but especially those she is least competent to judge: the boy Tom courts almost any courtable girl, but in particular Ignazia, and before the story comes to its grim climax, Araminta; Lou makes silly eyes at the salow young preacher; Mrs. Mencock the cook has picked up deplorable American culinary tricks, like pineapple; Dermot finds it easier to be idle, on Kate's money, than to work whether in town or parttime, growing mushrooms in an old stable; his mother Edwina must have her nose in the mismatched household's affairs, widower Charles, from next door, comes home at the crucial instant when he is most desperately needed.

An arbitrary ending is imposed on this, and to a degree, however carefully it is prepared for, it is an evasion. But we never did read Miss Taylor so much for her endings as for her inimitable goings-on and on. This is full of the familiar irresistible Taylorisms—the sly observation, the cut and thrust of the play of words, the wit. The trouble with the past few literary seasons has been, no new Elizabeth Taylor novel; 1961 is our lucky year.

Altrurian Program Led By Mrs. Bell

The Altrurian Club held a meeting recently at Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Frank H. Butler, hostess.

Mrs. Earl Donaldson gave as the thought for the day, maxims from Benjamin Franklin's profile pen.

The program, directed by Mrs. W. R. Bell, was a symposium under the title "Personalities I Would Like to Meet". Mrs. Bell, in her research on Carl Sandburg, found that the Altrurian Club had made a study of this personality many years ago. She read several of Mr. Sandburg's poems, among them "Nocturn on the Brick Yard", "Chicago", and "Prayers of Steel".

Mrs. J. C. Dordward brought out many of the unusual talents, qualities, and accomplishments of Mrs. E. Lee Ozbrin, National President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Ozbrin, through her cooperation with affairs concerning the national problems of health, education religion, and the international question of peace and friendly relations with neighbor nations, aims to lead the club women to a concern in community, state, nation and the world.

Mrs. J. C. Stinson's personality for review was that of Janet Murrow, wife of Ed Murrow. Mrs. Murrow has been of immeasurable help to her husband in her capacity as critic and has had recognition in her own work with British children during World War II.

Mrs. A. C. Alexander told of Grandmama Moses' life before and after her recognition as an artist. Mrs. Moses, a native of New York State, began painting with crude materials at the age of 80. Her art came from love of depicting beauty and is considered primitive in execution. At the age of 100 Mrs. Moses still paints.

Melba Toast

Thinly sliced rye, white or whole wheat bread will toast to perfection in the broiler of your range. Don't preheat the broiler — put the slices of bread in a cold broiler with the rack lowered as far as possible from the heat. Toast slowly, turning often to keep the edges from curling.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Leo Durocher, aptly dubbed "The Lip," once made the statement that "nice guys finish last" in defense of his bad guy tactics. John Conley is living, breathing proof that Mr. Durocher has been caught off base.

Not that there isn't a niche for the Durochers, the Pierculls, the Bolts, and the Ty Cobbs. For the sporting world is big, wide, and all-encompassing, and there are places for good guys, bad ones, and some who could be classified as "lukewarm."

However, it's been a true pleasure and even a revelation to have been acquainted with one of the finest "good guys" of them all in the person of Coach Conley. He's downright upright.

Coaching isn't an easy profession, but is rather one in which it takes a man long on intellectual fortitude and preferably not inclined to be short on temper in order to become a success in any definition of the word. His life is continually under the critical eye of the general public with its overabundance of arm-chair quarterbacks and "do-better-bodies." Running a team—football or otherwise—is too often complicated by the resurgence of such individuals into the picture, many with the best of intentions.

And that is why it is so enlightening to have been associated with a man of such moral fiber and personal caliber as Conley, who has leaned over backwards time and again in all walks of his life here in the promotion of a harmonious athletic program for the city. It represented a lofty objective and a real challenge for any man to undertake. He assumed the task and handled it in a commendable fashion. But what is more important than anything else he remained a true gentleman and a shining example to those who played under him and coached with him.

Such an assortment of words may sound over-used, and even trivial, but I hope not. For in the case at hand they are based on solid, undeniable facts. His loss will be felt sorely.

No one in fairness could be critical of his decision, as he has only branched out for what should prove to be "greener pastures." He's tackling his new assignment with the same vigor and enthusiasm to which he has lent the Snyder system during his time here, too.

Texas Tech he envisions to be the most "up and coming" school in the southwest, and understandably so.

"Getting into the (Southwest) Conference has made the difference," he stated yesterday. "It seems to me that the last two years Tech has received a lot better reception from the players and fans of West Texas. They've attracted several of those 'blue chip' players in the last few years up there, too, which is the type you must have to win."

"I think it's a good school— as fine as any in the country — and that it offers a good opportunity to my family and me. I regret terribly having to leave Snyder, though. So many people have done so many things for us here." I doubt seriously that there would be any dissenting votes to the statement that "the feeling is mutual."

His efforts have made Snyder a better place to be.

Lamar, Travis In Tournament

Lamar 8th of Snyder, coached by Ace Amos, will help to get things underway this evening at 6:30 against Colorado City in Sweetwater, when the initial firing in the Sweetwater 8th Grade Tournament takes place. Lamar, 5-6 for the campaign, has to its credit a 23-14 conquest of the C. City five, which was the season opener for the locals.

Travis 8th, 4-1 to date and fresh from a come-from-behind 30-27 overtime victory over Big Spring Runnels, will also see action tonight in a first-round, with Sweetwater Reagan furnishing the opposition. The Bill Hartfeldt-mentored Blue Devils have 7:45 as a starting time for that game.

A scheduling error had previously had Lamar 8th holding off until tomorrow night before seeing action, but the corrected slate as listed above was received here this morning. Other tourney entrants include four Abilene schools — Cooper, Lincoln, Jefferson and Franklin.

Norm Larker of the Los Angeles Dodgers drove home 78 runs last season, one more than rookie Frank Howard.

WHO? OR WHOM?

Big Question Mark Faces Local Board

By Jerry Jackson
News Sports Editor

"Mum" is the word. Speculation and rumors are rampant, but nothing of a concrete nature has as yet been formulated as to a possible successor to fill the head coaching and athletic directing shoes here of John Conley, who vacated the post last night after several seasons at the position.

This much is known, however— applications for the vacancy are in abundance. The decision as to the impending appointment now rests in the hands of the local school board.

Speculation as to whether the post will be filled by an elevation from within — tapping a proven reservoir of talent — or recruitment from outside sources currently hangs in the balance.

Both avenues of approach have their pros and cons, but the soundest move would look to be promotion from within, with several coaches already in the system being able and qualified to assume the multitudinous responsibilities required of the job.

Probably the most likely nomi-inee within the Snyder wellspring would be Hurrace Bostick, who has accumulated a wealth of varsity coaching experience over the past decade in his role as Tiger backfield coach. His range of experience over the nine years in that position has branded him as a man of dependability and know-how. In trade terminology, he "knows the ropes."

The calling to duty of a man such as Bostick — or any other of the system's qualified mentors — would tend to minimize the stumbling blocks which crop up in any transition period such as the one which is forthcoming. Incorporating an "outsider" would have the effect of bringing in new policies, with its inevitable "shakeup." Such an upheaval, either of minor or major proportions, could prove to be a detriment or a boon to the system. The impact is not foreseeable.

It all reverts back to the old adage of "not changing horses in the middle of the stream." We're losing a real "thoroughbred" in the person of Conley. But what is important to note is that we've got a whole corral full of "possibilities" here in our own back yard.

Be it Bostick, Shearburn, Stehley, Galford, or any one of a number of junior high mentors — a delving into the local resources would prove to be a solid step in the right direction.

Tigers, Tornados Tangle Tomorrow

Lamesa's Golden Tornados swirl into Tiger Gym tomorrow night in an attempt to maintain their lofty perch atop the District 3-3A standings.

The Tors are defending state champs, and have taken up where they left off by winning their initial three conference tests at the expense of Colorado City, Lake View, and Sweetwater. The Tigers are currently deadlocked for the second rung with Sweetwater, both of whom sport 2-1 family marks.

Just as was the case last season, balance is the primary strength of the Tornados. Their leading scorer — Gene Westmoreland — ranks fourth district-wide in that department with 48 points—16 in each of the games played to date. The fifth and sixth slots are also occupied by Lamesa's Leslie Williams, who has 44, and Bruce Ashton, who may boast of 40 to his credit.

A pair of Sweetwater Mustangs are running 1-2 in district scoring, both averaging over 20 points per game. The top spot is being held by Billy Belue, the big interior man of the team. He has accumulated 67 to his credit, while teammate Ronnie Turnbow is only a scant point away with 66.

Snyder's Weldon Ware, a guard, ranks third with his aggregate of 52, or a 17.3 point-per-game mean. He is also the leading Tiger point producer over the entire season, which has seen Snyder post a 10-3 record. During that 18 game span he has tallied 196 points, which figures out at a 10.9 clip for the campaign.

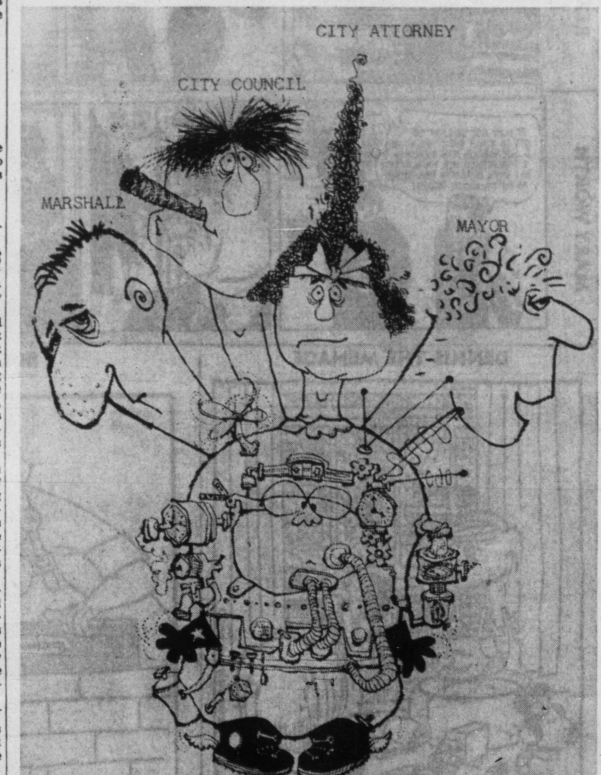

Pooch Hatter has eased into the second slot in Tiger team scoring for the season with 130 points, while other 100-plus performers include Jimmy Don Robinson (119)

Bubba Fleming (116), and Charlie Gladson (113).

Tomorrow night's clash will begin at 8 o'clock and will mark the halfway point in the 3-3A scramble. The Tiger "B" team will be seeking its fourth win in a row at 6:15 against the Tornado "B" in a preliminary scrap. Tim Marcum and Larry McNair are leading local "B" team scorers with 152 and 97 points, respectively, in the 10 games played.

PLAYING THE HOST ROLE—The two-day Snyder 9th Grade Tournament will get underway here tomorrow in the Lamar Gym, with the above group representing several of the principals involved along with the trophies which are to be awarded. lowed by Travis' mentor Bob O'Day and Billy and Jackie Stewart. Travis sees the initial tourney action at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon against Colorado City, followed by Lamar and Big Spring Golind at 5, Post and Stamford at 6:30, and Big Spring Runnels and Sweetwater at 8. (Photo by Jackson)

Union For Non-Unionists Is Needed For Protection

BY INEZ ROBB

There is an old American truism to the effect that "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em."

So I am suggesting today that the great bulk of ordinary non-unionized citizens, who get pushed around, brow-beaten and inconvenienced by labor, whenever it pleases the latter, organize into a big union to protect themselves from those arrogant, public-be-damned union members and their leaders who deem it their inalienable right to flout the public.

Let us, the poor, faceless boobs, organize in force to protect ourselves, the consumers of goods and services that make unions rich and their members prosperous, from such strikes as that of New York's recent railroad truck strike.

A walkout of 660 marine employees of 11 railroads serving New York, in some of the winter's bitterest weather, forced almost 100,000 commuters into New York to reach the city and their bread-and-butter jobs by hook or crook.

No one knows how many other travelers en route to New York were inconvenienced by the stoppage of all New York Central trains into New York City.

The public be damned, indeed. A century ago that was the cry of the rich and the overprivileged, who were whittled down to size for such disregard for the basic rights of ordinary citizens. Now it is the arrogant motto of some not all — unions.

The New York harbor strike was not a strike against the railroads: It was a strike against the public. It was the public that was punished, willy-nilly, because a small union and the railroads could not agree on the size of the tugboat crews to operate railroad tugs in the future.

I believe the whole nation, no—the whole world — should rise to strike in behalf of even one man who is victimized, degraded or abused in his fight to earn his bread. No man should be silent in the face of injustice to his brother.

But where did the injustice lie in the New York harbor strike? The daily wages of the strikers ranged from $19.56 per day for deckhands to $38.98 per day for tug captains — or good, but more than the sums earned by many of the daily commuters who were so sorely pressed in bitter winter weather to get to and from their jobs.

The injustice in this case was suffered by the public, which can seek protection from no source, which has no power to right its grievances and no voice with which to protest.

These transportation strikes against the public are an old story in New York. First, it's the busmen; then the subway workers. Or vice versa. But it is always the public that pays, and pays, and pays in time wasted and dire inconvenience.

So, what if the strike inconvenienced 100,000 daily commuters; what if it meant limited supplies of meat and fresh produce for 8,000,000 New Yorkers? Who cares? Who, getting right down to brass tacks, really cares? No one, at all, except the faceless, defeated public, harried by lack of transportation and harassed by shortages in the market.

When will this nation and the labor movement reach sufficient maturity to prevent punishing strikes against the public? Labor today is in the driver's seat, as management was 30 years ago. History has a horrendous habit of repeating itself, especially when the faceless public decides that it has had enough.

The public, it has been proved, will be damned just so long.

Skelton To Resume Shows Next Month

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Red Skelton, recuperating at home from surgery last November, will resume his television shows late next month, CBS-TV said Wednesday.

Skelton had a diaphragmatic hernia.

The comic is feeling fine, a spokesman for the network said. Marcel Marceau, the famed French mime, visited Skelton at his Bel-Air home and the two mugged and gaged all over the place.

Marceau is taping a Skelton substitute show this Friday and Red told him he might drop in and watch.

Circus Horse Leaps Into Grandstand

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A horse jumped into a crowded grandstand and injured 12 persons slightly during a Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey circus performance in Miami Beach Convention Hall.

The horse was being led out of the ring Wednesday when it sprang up a stairway and jumped into the seats.

Sonya Piana threw herself over her son, William, to protect him and the horse stepped on her back. She was taken to a hospital for examination.

Negro Awed By Success In Opera

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—"The morning after I got here," velvet-voiced Leontyne Price recalls, "I went up to the top of the Empire State Building—and was nearly tempted to go right back home."

"You could see the massiveness of the city, feel the pace of competition—and know how small you were. It seemed impossible to attain a career."

Stilling that panic, Miss Price stayed and studied—with spectacular results for the world of music.

Since first appearing before the public eight years ago, the soprano who began life amid humble circumstances in Laurel, Miss., has soared to international acclaim: Friday night she reaches another milestone in her debut with the Metropolitan Opera.

Miss Price—whose voice has been likened by one critic to "a skylark under the spell of some sort of benign bewitchment"—premieres in the principal feminine role of "Il Trovatore."

Although two other noted Negro women have preceded her in Met assignments — Marian Anderson and Mattiwilda Dobbs—Miss Price arrives with prima donna status in a variety of assignments.

Her appearance of the Met rounds out an impressive cycle of major opera companies, television and concert and recording fields.

"A cold fever breaks over me sometimes when I think how frighteningly fast it has happened," Miss Price says.

"My career has been almost too simple. The only serious difficulty for me has been performing and learning at the same time."

Tall and regal in manner, Miss Price defines her main purpose now as solidifying and extending her talents in musical drama. "I hope for a long operatic career," she says. "It is what I have wanted since first being exposed to opera in school."

Miss Price's major training began in 1948 when a scholarship brought her to the Juilliard School of Music, after B.A. studies at Central State College, Wilberforce, Ohio.

A Laurel banker and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chisholm—in whose home an aunt of Miss Price worked—helped finance her years of study.

Her teacher at Juilliard, Florence Page Kimball, has remained her single mentor ever since. Miss Kimball and her own parents are the great forces to whom she credits her accomplishments.

At least once each year she returns to Laurel, where she was born Feb. 10, 1927, to see her father and mother—James, carpenter, and Kate, who worked as a midwife.

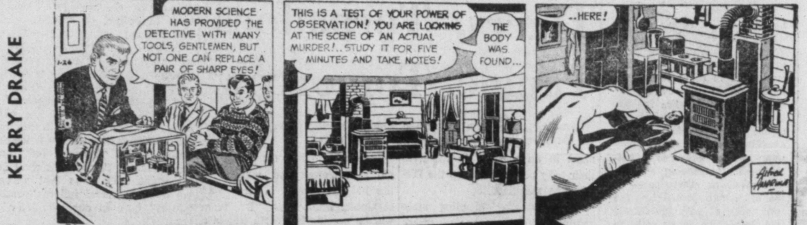

Outwardly Miss Price exhibits none of the evidences of temperamental greatness. But, she says, "even a meek person has temperament and so do I. I guess I am slow to anger—but I do arrive there often."

Three Children Perish In Blaze

RAYMOND, N.H. (AP)—Three children perished Wednesday in flames which destroyed the home of Myron Cate. Their mother and two other children escaped.

Mrs. Cate tried desperately to get back into the house but the dense smoke and flames blocked her.

The victims were identified as Terri Robert, 1; Myra Ann 2; and Ted Fay, 3.

Junior Editors Quiz on PUNISHMENT

QUESTION: How recently was the pillory used?

ANSWER: The pillory was a board with holes which could fit around a person's neck and wrists. It was erected on a wooden post, usually in the public square. The board was split along the middle so that it could be opened up and a person's head and hands thrust into the holes. Then the pillory was locked. Its purpose was to punish persons who had broken a law or a rule of conduct. The American colonists brought this method of punishment with them from England to the New World. In New England women charged with being "common scoldes" were sometimes placed in the pillory. The stocks, a wooden framework through which a prisoner stuck his hands and feet while he sat on a wooden bench, also was used for punishments. The use of the pillory and stocks did not completely disappear until the early 1800s.

FOR YOU TO DO: To get an idea of what being pilloried would be like, see how long you can stand or sit perfectly still.

Kennedy Displays A Serious Manner

BY RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has been in office only six days but the crushing problems and mighty responsibilities of it already have stamped him in manner and appearance. He was a deeply serious man Wednesday in his first presidential news conference. He listened intently with total concentration to the questions. Sometimes, he looked a little wary. Once or twice, a slight frown notched his forehead between his eyes. He spoke more slowly than usual, carefully choosing his words. He smiled only once—whereas, before, a certain jauntiness and sparkling humor invariably appeared when he met the correspondents.

This first news conference also was history's first live-televized presidential question and answer session. President Eisenhower held one in San Francisco prior to the 1956 Republican convention, but it was about politics, not the problems of government.

This fact, however, probably did not account for the deeply thoughtful almost preoccupied air that Kennedy wore.

He had appeared on TV many times, as a senator and a candidate, and deftly fielded questions from reporters. The camera never appeared to awe him.

Nor did he give any sign that he was conscious of a vast TV audience watching him and the radio audience listening to the broadcast from the auditorium in the State Department.

He looked, if anything, even more solemn during the 36½ minutes of the conference than he looked last Friday noon when he took the oath of office.

The President entered the building 15 minutes before the scheduled start of the conference. He waited in a reception room with Pierre Salinger, his press secretary, and Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant to Salinger.

By that time, there were 418 correspondents and cameramen in the auditorium, the guard at the door said.

At 6:01 p.m. Kennedy came through a side door. With his characteristic long stride, and slightly forward stoop, he stepped up to the lectern. The lights pouring down from above were exceedingly bright—and hot.

Hours before, technicians had been adjusting cameras and lights and testing the acoustics in the auditorium. Bill Wilson, a TV consultant, cautioned the reporters to speak up in asking questions. Special microphones were focused on each questioner.

Kennedy appeared only once to have missed part of a question. He quickly demonstrated three qualities.

First, a dramatic sense of timing. He opened the conference with some announcements. But he put the biggest news last, the news that the Soviet Union had released two American flyers who were shot down in the H-47 plane and imprisoned since last July 1. A gasp ran around the room.

Second, the unmistakable ring of authority. It rang in his voice especially when he said, "I have ordered that they (the U-2 reconnaissance plane flights over the Soviet Union) be resumed." And it came again, firmly, when he commented on his first executives in order to send more food to depressed areas.

Third, the quick, nimble mind. Usually, while a reporter was still stating his question, Kennedy began nodding slightly. He grasped the intent of a question and had his answer ready immediately.

He seldom had to reach for a word.

The only time he smiled was when he commented on a feud in the Democratic camp in New York. He said he had asked the Democratic national chairman to "alleviate some of the distress."

At that point, for the smallest fraction of a second, he couldn't restrain a grin.

But through most of the 36½ minutes, he was almost painfully grave. Once he said, "The issue of war and peace is involved, and the survival of perhaps the planet, possibly our system."

When he spoke these words, the five days of the president showed plainly in Kennedy's face.

Man Held In Burglary

LAREDO (AP) — The Secret Service said that Willis Edwin Hirsch, 60, was carrying $7,000 in savings bonds stolen in a Nebraska bank burglary when he was arrested here Wednesday.

Agent-in-charge Luis Benavides said Hirsch also was wanted in Phoenix and St. Louis. Benavides said the bonds found on Hirsch were identified as part of the loot taken Oct. 2, 1955, in a burglary of the Oak Creek Valley Bank at Valparaiso, Neb.

The exact amount was never established, but was believed to be around $100,000, Benavides said.

The agent said Hirsch made a statement admitting having cashed $60,000 worth of bonds prior to his arrest, which came as he entered a Laredo cafe.

U. S. Marshal A. W. Saeger said he holds warrants indicating Hirsch is charged in Phoenix with possession of $5,000 in stolen government bonds and forgers and passing of a pair of $50 government bonds, and is charged in St. Louis with forging and passing a $500 government bond.

Federal records show three men have been convicted in the Nebraska burglary.

French Communists Critical Of Pair

PARIS (AP) — The French Communist party Wednesday night branded two of its prominent members as "opportunists," and reaffirmed its support for Maurice Thorez, party secretary-general.

Marcel Servin, 42, a member of the party's central committee and secretary of party organization since 1954, and Laurent Casanova, 54, member of the central committee and of the political bureau, were said to have differed with Thorez on Algeria.

Missile Fired Successfully

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army has successfully fired a flare-carrying Pershing missile on a 160-mile flight down the Atlantic missile range.

Officials reported the 34-foot rocket Wednesday night achieved all test objectives in marking up its ninth success in 11 launches since the test program began 11 months ago.

The Pershing, which is being developed as a mobile field weapon with a nuclear range of 50 to 700 miles, is scheduled to become operational early next year.

Cameras located at widely scattered ground stations photographed the flare and nose cone of the solid-fuel rocket. Near the top of the 40-mile-high trajectory they flashed brilliantly, one at a time.

Army Finally Wins Operation Coyote

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The long battle between the Army and a coyote is at an end. The coyote is dead, never again to howl at the troops from his hillside lair.

Sgt. I. C. Buford Harrison, a game warden at Redstone Arsenal, had sought the coyote with gun and trap for 18 months but never got him.

The coyote was killed this week by a car as it crossed a road on the arsenal reservation.

Snyder Student Is Selected For Baptist Tour Of Orient

Karen Carpenter, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Carpenter of 223 Thirtieth Street here and junior education and English student at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, has been selected as a member of a 14-voice Texas Baptist student choir that will tour the Orient on a two-month goodwill mission and religious music concert series this summer.

Her father is pastor of the Avenue D Baptist Church here. The choir will sing in Hawaii, Indonesia, Singapore, Thailand, Hong Kong, Formosa, Okinawa, and Japan, leaving the United States on May 26 and returning Aug. 1.

Baptist Student Union organizations in colleges throughout the state will conduct drives this spring to raise the $26,000 needed to finance the tour. Many of the BSU organizations will take up an offering for the summer missions project, and some will hold special work days, washing cars, mowing lawns, and doing odd jobs to help raise the funds.

Christian fellowship and dedicated service, and to create a greater missions awareness for all of the 45,000 Baptist students in Texas. In addition to conducting religious music concerts, the students will divide into evangelistic teams to conduct revival meetings, assist in Vacation Bible Schools, youth camps, and work in the churches of the Baptist missions posts in the Orient.

The 14-voice choir will be directed by Dan Pratt of Baylor University. Louis R. Cobbs, associate in the Texas Baptist division of the choir as tour director. Relations Renewed LONDON (AP) — Britain and the United Arab Republic today formally re-established full diplomatic relations by announcing an exchange of ambassadors. The countries broke relations in 1956 as a result of the British-French invasion of the Suez.

Conviction Is Upheld

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld one conviction of James Taylor Jr. concerning liquor violations and refused to consider a similar appeal because of a technicality. Taylor is presently awaiting under sentence for attempting to bribe an officer in a third liquor offense.

Affirmed by the court was a county court decision of Sept. 7 fining Taylor $300 plus court costs and sentencing him to 45 days in jail for possessing liquor for sale in a dry area. Taylor had pleaded not guilty when arraigned in August but had changed his plea in September and given notice of appeal.

A similar circumstance developed in another case filed Aug. 13, with a fine of $300 plus costs and a 45-day sentence imposed. This case was dismissed by the Court of Criminal Appeals on grounds that the date of the recognizance bond for Taylor was dated prior to the notice of appeal.

The jail terms will run concurrently with the two-year sentence Taylor received last week in 132nd District Court for attempting to bribe Deputy Sheriff Keith Collier in October. The charge of transporting of intoxicating beverages in that instance is still pending.

Meat Import Cut Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp reduction in imports of meat and meat products was proposed today by Sen. Carl Curtis R-Neb. He introduced a bill which would restrict such imports to the 1967 volume and impose a 25 percent ad valorem duty on commodities imported in excess of this level.

"The growth of imports in the last two years has caused a very genuine and general alarm in our livestock feeding areas throughout this land," Curtis said. "We fall to take cognizance of the disruption caused domestic livestock production by the dropping of a boathold of lamb or beef carcasses in a given metropolitan area," Curtis said.

"The impact on price far exceeds the ratio between consumption of the domestic and foreign products."

Spring Signs Show Up In Food Markets

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
First sign of spring showed up this week in food markets when onion and cabbage plants appeared.

Home gardeners will turn to fruit and vegetable counters for fresh produce for several weeks yet. They'll find huge supplies of most items.

Particularly abundant are cabbage, carrots, celery, greens and green onions, iceberg and romaine lettuce, yellow globe onions, red potatoes, tomatoes, purple-top turnips and rutabagas. These rate good-buy mention, the USDA Marketing Service reports.

Among fruits, look for good buys on winesap and Rome beauty apples, avocados, bananas and Texas grapefruit and oranges. Wholesale prices on avocados and peppers are lower than a week ago. Cucumbers are a bit lower.

Much lighter supplies of yellow crookneck squash caused prices on this item to rise sharply. Snap beans are higher.

More red meat, particularly beef, can be expected in coming weeks. Good supplies of pork are available now but may tighten later. Broilers are abundant and budget priced. Dry beans and peanuts, both high in vegetable protein, claim the plentiful tag all February. Supplies of fresh eggs have increased and prices dropped sharply in recent weeks.
