Things were too hectic around here at the time it was going on to take time out and comment on it, but the tempo hopefully is settling down to normal around the newspaper plant this week. Last week, a rather large electric motor which furnishes power for the Snyder Daily News Press went on the blink — a brand new one, it was. We are indebted to the press crew of the Lamesa Press-Reporter for printing our issues of last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday while arrangements were being made to get a new motor to Snyder from Chicago.

The Lamesa Press-Reporter has the only other offset press in this general area capable of handling our press run and they handled it smoothly despite heavy demands on their facilities.

While all of this was going on, the teachers convention and Ritz-Craft contract signing also were taking place, making it a busy week from every angle.

Borger celebrated "All-America Day" yesterday, an event made possible when it was named one of this year's All-America Cities by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine. Thus, Snyder's term as an All-America City officially comes to an end this week, along with the other 10 who were named for that honor last year.

Ran across a review of common cold remedies the other day. Some, of course, have only legendary benefits to offer.

Such things as garlic capsules, poultices of hot mashed onions on the chest, beer laced with hot camphor, hot lemonade laced with brandy and other home concoctions apparently still have their fans. However, it was noted that officially, physicians still say that the best way to make colds more tolerable is to rest, take aspirin, and drink fruit juices and other liquids.

Nobody has offered a sure cure, however.

ON US CASUALTIES DISCLOSURES IN LAOS

Nixon Orders Policy Change

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid congressional charges he is dodging demands for disclosure of U.S.-Laotian involvement, President Nixon has ordered the public release of American casualties and air losses as they occur in the Southeast Asian country.

In announcing the policy change Monday night, the White House disclosed six civilians were killed in Laos last year as the result of hostile enemy action.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the administration will immediately "inform the American public about all military aircraft losses and military air personnel casualties in Laos once search-and-rescue missions are completed."

Ziegler said this is the same policy followed on Vietnam losses. In the past, casualties in Laos have been lumped with those of Southeast Asia as a whole.

Of the six civilians, all described as having support rather than active military roles, three were killed by ambush, one was shot as he was piloting a helicopter, and two were killed by what the White House called possible hostile fire.

Three worked for International Voluntary Services, described as a Peace Corps type organization, and three for Air America, an airlifter of supplies, equipment and people.

Both organizations were under contract with the Agency for International Development, the State Department said.

Meanwhile, the Los Angeles Times reported in today's editions that CIA agents posing as members of the agency are involved in military operations in Laos.

The Times' story from Jack Foisie in Vientiane estimated the number of CIA agents at several hundred. The newspaper said their activities include recruiting and training progovernment guerrillas, detecting enemy troop movements, and acting as ground controllers for aircraft.

The White House confirmed Sunday that Joseph K. Bush Jr., an Army captain, was killed in Laos Feb. 10, 1969, in an exchange of fire with North Vietnamese commandos. The administration said his death did not occur in combat action.

At Temple, Tex., the widow and parents of Bush said the government never tried to keep secret the location of the 25-year-old captain's death.

Carol Bush, 24, said she had known "all along where Joe was. And when he was killed, the government made no attempt, so far as I know, to keep it quiet that he had been killed in Laos."

His father, Joseph K. Bush Sr., said his son had written several letters telling of his activities in Laos and never hinted of any government restrictions.

Ziegler said casualties of U.S. personnel in Laos resulting from hostile enemy actions will be reported. This includes advisers, trainers and logistical support people.

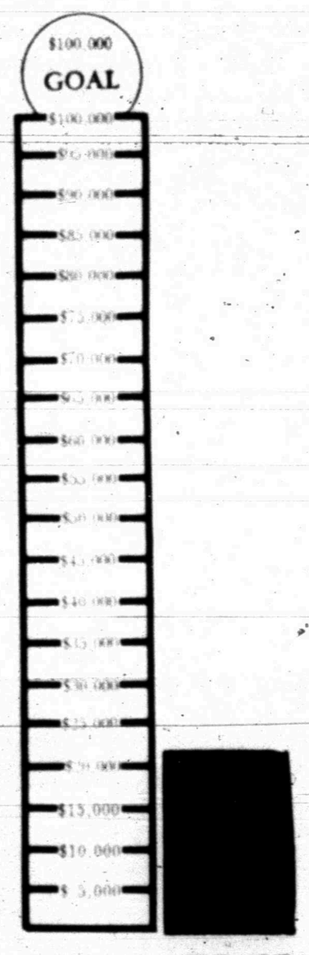

The White House kept a tight lid of secrecy, however, on how much money the U.S. is spending in Laos.

INDIANS EVICTED FROM ARMY POST— Military police marched Indian prisoners to waiting trucks after they arrested demonstrators who tried to lay claim to Ft. Lawton in Seattle. More than 70 were taken into custody and then released without charge after the group invaded the 1,100-acre Army post yesterday to try to seize part of it for an Indian and Alaska native culture center. The Army is expected to declare most of the post surplus next month. (AP Wirephoto)

Five Killed In US 'Copter Crash

By WILLIS JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A big U.S. Marine helicopter loaded with lumber and ammunition crashed and caught fire as it was taking off today, and the charred bodies of five Marines were pulled from the wreckage.

Five other Marines aboard the craft were injured.

Witnesses said the helicopter tilted on its side about 15 feet off the ground and crashed into the wire around the helipad at the headquarters of the 1st Marine Division's 1st Regiment, three miles west of Da Nang.

The helicopter was loaded with supplies for observation posts on mountaintops around the headquarters base. The lumber was for bunker frames.

The crash touched off ammunition aboard the craft, and flares and bullets flew about the area. MPs kept spectators away as Marine firemen extinguished the flames.

Investigators were studying the possibility that the big twin-rotor helicopter was overloaded.

Little ground action was reported across South Vietnam.

Sixteen U.S. Marines were reported wounded by North Vietnamese who hurled hand grenades into two night defensive positions about five miles apart southeast of Da Nang. The Marines said they killed at least one of the attackers.

The U.S. Command said American Division helicopter gunships killed five enemy soldiers in Quang Ngai Province, 107 miles southeast of Da Nang.

Today was the first day for the new U.S. policy of announcing air losses in Laos, but no planes were reported lost. U.S. headquarters refused to say how many had been lost previously, but President Nixon said last week about 400 have been lost since 1964.

The U. S. Command said five other Americans were wounded when two Army helicopters were shot down and destroyed in Phuoc Long Province Sunday and Monday. The losses announced today brought the number of helicopters reported lost to 3,444 since Jan. 1, 1961.

Ft. Lawton Closed To Civilians

SEATTLE (AP) — Military authorities have closed Ft. Lawton to civilians in anticipation of further demonstrations by Indians who want to reclaim the land for their people.

Indian groups who claim the ground under an 1865 treaty planned to demonstrate at Seattle's federal courthouse today, then go to the fort for further picketing.

In weekend demonstration 85 persons, including actress Jane Fonda, were arrested at Ft. Lawton and Ft. Lewis, the parent Army installation 35 miles south of Seattle.

Ft. Lawton is soon to be declared surplus by the federal government. Seattle wants it for a park. The Indians say that under the 1865 treaty, they have a right to federal property declared surplus.

Panel Heads For C of C Appointed

Chairmen of standing committees of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce for the current year were announced by Max von Roeder, president, at the Chamber directors meeting this morning at Ballard's Cafe.

The new committee heads include Von Kliebrink agriculture committee; Arel Faver, community development; Bill Dryden, trade promotion; Mel Gilbert, internal affairs; H. F. Clark, future direction; Herbert Reed, athletic committee; Carl Whitfield and Shelby Coker, co-chairmen of special projects committee; J. D. James, membership committee.

The Chamber board also heard more reports on the annual banquet held Jan. 30, and on other activities of the organization.

Also, it was announced that a series of community dinners will be sponsored by the agriculture and trade promotion committees rather than one big "agri-business" banquet. The first community dinner will be held at Fluvanna, with the date to be set later. Martin Jarrell will serve as chairman for the Fluvanna dinner.

Brown's Associate Is Blast Victim

BEL AIR, Md. (AP) — State police today tentatively identified one of two men blasted to death by an explosion in their car as Ralph Featherstone, friend and civil rights associate of H. Rap Brown, on trial here on charges of arson and inciting to riot.

The blast, attributed by police to an explosive device, killed the man tentatively identified as Featherstone, 31, and another unidentified Negro on U.S. Highway 1 Monday night about a mile south of this community of 5,000.

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland said a National Guard unit had been placed on standby alert. Mandel also said that the FBI was entering the case, and that all state police tactical units had been alerted.

A state police officer said the second victim's wallet contained identification cards bearing three or four different names.

The victim is definitely not Rap Brown, he declared.

State Police Col. Thomas Smith said investigators believed the explosive device was being transported by the people in the car, which was virtually blown to bits. It was pointed in the direction of Baltimore, 25 miles away.

Smith said there was "possibly" a connection with the Brown trial, which began earlier in the day in the Harford County Circuit Court.

Featherstone, born in Washington, D.C., was elected program director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee—SNCC—in May 1967, when Brown replaced Stokely Carmichael as national chairman.

William M. Kunstler, a defense counsel at the recent Chicago riot trial who is representing Brown, described Featherstone as a "friend of long standing" of his client.

Smith said police found some "highly controversial" literature in the car, but declined to elaborate.

Kunstler said he called Mrs. Brown in New York after the explosion and was told Brown had departed for Bel Air, where his presence was not required at the trial opening today.

"If you can't stop Rap, stop him," Kunstler said he told Mrs. Brown. "Keep him out of Bel Air."

Smith said, "The position of the explosive device indicates that it was being transported. It appears that it was possibly on the passenger's side."

Told of the police statement, Kunstler replied: "That's their story."

Brown's trial is on charges of arson and inciting others to riot and commit arson in connection with racial strife in Cambridge, Md., in 1967. It began Monday.

The trial was moved from Cambridge to Bel Air on a change of venue.

Kunstler has asked Judge Harry E. Dyer for a shift back to Cambridge, in Dorchester County, on the grounds that Brown could not get a fair trial here.

Brown has been free on $10,000 bail.

He also has been out on bail on a federal charge of transporting a gun across state lines for which he was sentenced to five years in 1969. He is appealing the case.

Brown is the author of a book "Die, Nigger, Die" which came out in a paperback edition Monday.

Jr. College Preparing To Sell Bonds

Scurry County Junior College Trustees last night employed a firm of attorneys to handle legal work associated with issuing bonds and purchased some office equipment for the college.

The Dallas firm of McCall, Parkhurst and Horton has been retained to handle the issuance of the $3¼-million in bonds.

After tabulating bids, the board purchased $5,807.14 in desks, tables, filing cabinets, etc., from Bud's Office Supply, and $2,941.89 in chairs and other office furniture from Stephens Office Supply.

M. L. Broman, president of the junior college board, was authorized to attend the governor's conference on technical and vocational education March 23-24 in Austin.

The college district's 35-member advisory board in vocational and technical education will meet at 7:30 p.m. March 17 in the Snyder Savings and Loan Community Room. Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of the college, will be here to meet with the advisory committee. Next meeting of the junior college board has been set for March 18 at 1 p.m., at which time architects are due to meet with the board.

Letters To Editor

To The Daily News:

Clarence W. Hall, in an article titled "Poison in Print and How to Get Rid of It," in the Reader's Digest, said few evils in American life provide cause for more widespread alarm than the flood of obscene literature currently engulfing U. S. communities. Operated by shady interpreneures, the smut industry is approaching an estimated two-billion-dollar-a-year volume, rapidly turning this country into the pornographic capital of the world.

Why? one answer is public apathy, another is timidity.

Says Charles H. Keating Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, founder of a fast-growing organization called Citizens for Decent Literature (CDL), "Fearing a phony cry of censorship, we have been jeered into a national sheepishness about taking action against this evil. Lick that timidity and you've gone a long way toward licking the problem."

Keating said, "Blacklist, boycott, even book-burnings is not the way." We have a law and we have enforcement officers. Let them know we're behind them.

In the Roth vs. U. S. Case in 1957 the definition of obscene was if "to the average person, applying contemporary community standards, the dominant theme taken as a whole appeals to prurient interest. In the Ginzburg decision (Ginzburg convicted by a Federal court in Philadelphia) the Supreme Court went a step further, bringing into clear focus a principle long recognized by fighters for decency: the material itself need not be the only consideration. How the material is advertised and promoted for sale to the public can be considered if the obvious purpose of the publisher or seller is to appeal to lustful interest, he can be held accountable.

Last Sept. 27, a U. S. District Court in California declared certain "nudie" magazines and peep show films sold and displayed by a Los Angeles defendant were "patently offensive and utterly without redeeming social importance," and "the court concludes as a matter of law that the exhibits are clearly, unequivically and incontrovertibly obscene because they come within the reasonable purview of both the federal judicial definition of obscenity and hard core pornography (Roth vs. U. S. Mishkin vs. New York, Ginzburg vs. U. S.)."

Is Snyder an average community?

Winter Returns To Texas Areas

Texans savored an advance taste of spring for a couple of days, and then winter came whooshing back on a sharp norther today.

By early morning the dry cold front had driven as far south as a line from Texarkana to Austin and Del Rio and westward into the Big Bend country.

Temperatures dropped below freezing again in the Panhandle-Plains sector while readings in deep South Texas still held in the 60s.

Light freezing rain or sleet was predicted by tonight in the upper Panhandle, and it was expected to turn into light snow by Wednesday. Scattered showers or light rain were forecast in all other parts of the state.

The Panhandle was promised temperatures as low as 22 degrees tonight. Readings from the 30s to 50s were in prospect for other sections.

Simple Eye Test Suggested

NEW YORK (AP) — Eye doctors have suggested a simple test for persons who fear they may have damaged their eyes by watching Saturday's sun eclipse without adequate protection.

The retina or screen of the eye could have been damaged by direct exposure to the sun's rays without the watcher feeling pain, the doctors said.

Such damage could leave a permanent blind spot if cells were burned severely enough.

The test was described by Dr. Aaron Safir, an associate professor of opthalmology at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine and chief of opthalmology at Elmhurst Hospital:

Cover one eye. With the other, stare at some evenly illuminated bright surface, such as a white shirt or a white wall or even the sky, except where the sun is.

You may have a retina burn if you see a dark spot exactly where you want to look. A greater likelihood of injury is indicated if the dark spot moves when you switch your gaze.

After testing both eyes, persons seeing a dark spot are advised to see a physician. Damage generally occurs in only one eye.

Few cases of eye-burns have been reported to hospitals in major cities thus far, an Associated Press survey showed.

Following the 1963 eclipse, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness found 247 cases of retinal burns, However, that eclipse was total only in Maine and part of Alaska. It plans another survey this time when the total eclipse occurred in a more populated area.

Pleas Are Entered In County Court

John Ferrell Tuttle was handed a 3-day jail term and a $100 fine plus court costs in county court Monday after he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. The offense occurred Sunday.

Also this week in county court, charges of driving while intoxicated were filed against Jessie Bernice Fish and Frank Joe Trojcak. Two charges of aggravated assault were filed against Gene Barnes and a charge of giving a check with insufficient funds was lodged against Charles Holland. Pleas have not been entered in any of these cases.

Barnes was released after posting $250 bond on each charge against him. The others either have not been apprehended or are being held in lieu of bond.

Last week in county court, Paul Contreras, was charged with three violations of check laws. He is still at large.

Prayer Urged For Priests

ROME (AP) — Pope Paul VI urged Roman Catholics Sunday to "pray for priests, for their sanctity, faithfulness and total and exclusive dedication to your service."

Would-Be Hijackers Kill Selves

BERLIN (AP) — Two armed hijackers, apparently seeking to reach the West, failed in an attempt to divert an East German domestic airliner today and committed suicide as the plane landed, the official East German news agency ADN reported.

ADN did not identify the two, referring to them only as "armed bandits." It said the pair tried with the use of weapons "to make the regularly scheduled Berlin-Leipzig flight of an Interflug airliner change course."

The agency did not say the plane actually landed in Leipzig. That city, about 115 miles southwest of Berlin, is now winding up its annual spring fair. Most planes to and from Berlin have been carrying fair visitors or exhibitors, many of them foreigners.

It was believed the first time that hijackers killed themselves inside an aircraft when their attempt to take over an airliner failed.

Jaycees Are In Session

Reports on activities highlighted Monday's meeting of Snyder Jaycees at the Little Mexico Cafe.

Herb Reed, campaign manager for Mickey Nunley, candidate for state president, reported on the Longview District Conference which he and Nunley attended over the weekend. David Burkett reported that the fourth annual Jaycee Radio Day has been set for March 21 on KSNY. Darrell Rains urged that Jaycees begin selling ads immediately. Paul Graves reported on the playoff basketball game between Lubbock Monterey and Abilene High School, which the Jaycees helped sponsor.

New member kits were given to Jimmy Farmer and Dave Pickett. Jerry Stewart of Midland, was a guest at the meeting. David Lunsford, president of the club, presided while Eddie Peterson gave the invocation and Bill Nixon led the creed.

Nab Suspect In Burglary

City Police believe they have cleared a safe-cracking job with the arrest of James J. White, suspect in the burglary of the L&L Service Station, 3812 Avenue S, the night of March 2.

Chief of Police Stephen Clark said White was arrested March 5 by Detective Captain Bobby Goodwin and Detective Les Wilkerson. Officers obtained a statement. He was charged with burglary in Justice of the Peace Jimmy Billingsley's Court and was released on $2,000 bond.

The amount of money taken in the burglary was $553, according to officers, who said there was forced entry into the building.

THURSDAY IS 58TH BIRTHDAY

Girl Scout Week Underway

Girl Scouts are celebrating the 58th anniversary of that organization this week.

It was on March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Ga., that Juliette Gordon Low organized the first troop.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is a member of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, a federation of the Girl Guide and Girl Scout organizations in 81 countries of the free world. The World Bureau is located in London, England.

Membership is open to all girls from seven through 17 years who accept the Girl Scout Promise and Laws. Membership dues are $1 per year.

Purpose of Girl Scouts is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service so that they may become happy and resourceful citizens.

Adults who subscribe to the Promise and Laws of Girl Scouts serve as leaders or program consultants, or as members of boards of directors, finance committees, camp committees, troop committees or in other positions of voluntary leadership.

Nearly 600 adults in the West Texas Girl Scout Council have committed themselves to the young way of life.

For these troop leaders, Scouting means discovering. Depending on the age and interests of their troop members, leaders discover what a tree can be (a squirrel's hotel, robin's hatchery or concert stage, opossum's nursery) or how to run a day camp for handicapped children. The range of Scouting activities, for leaders, for service team members, for board members as well as for girls, is kaleidoscopic.

All Girl Scout volunteers — those who help run the council as well as those who lead troops — discover people from everywhere, engaged in all kinds of work. There's the television station manager who helps with publicity. And the broadcasters and journalists who print stories of troop activities and service projects, council news, or train our Senior Girl Scouts to be "commentators" and "reporters" when they attend national events. There are bank managers who help the council plan the budgets, organize the fund-raising campaigns, finance camps.

Hundreds of other adults, from artists to zoologists, serve as "program consultants" visiting troops or bringing girls into their offices, laboratories, studios, to explore their particular worlds.

Commitment to the young way of life means giving a lot in time, thought and effort. But the rewards are intangible - and immeasurable. What kind of adults are in Girl Scouting and what's in it for them? The comment of a 19-year-old secretary working in the office of a recent national Girl Scout conference suggests the answer.

"When they told me I'd be working with a Girl Scout Conference," she said, "I expected a bunch of little old ladies in long skirts. But wow! What a bunch of swingers!"

West Texas Council Sets PR Services Workshop

The West Texas Girl Scout Council is hostessing a Public Relations Services Workshop, March 11-12, at the Starlight Motel in Abilene.

P. R. representatives, both staff and volunteers, from nine Girl Scout Councils in the West Texas and Southwest Oklahoma areas will be attending the two-day sessions.

"We are expecting from 50 to 60 people," said Miss Beth Nowotny, executive director of the West Texas Council.

The focus of the event will be helps for council services in the area of council-agency relationships, resources, public affairs and organizations relationships.

Conducting the "learning opportunity" are Miss Lonah Watt, Public Affairs Specialist, and Mrs. Kirby Webster, Materials Resource Coordinator, from the Region V, National Branch Girl Scout Office, in Kansas City, Missouri.

The workshop will begin at 10 a.m. Wednesday and close at 2:30 p.m. Thursday with an evening session on Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The following Girl Scout councils are expected to attend: Amarillo, Caprock in Lubbock, El Camino in San Angelo, Heart of Texas in Brownwood, NorCenTex in Wichita Falls, Permian Basin in Odessa, Quivira in Pampa, Southwest Oklahoma in Hobart, and West Texas in Abilene.

CHOCKFUL OF RICE PUDDING

2 cups cooked rice
1-3rd cup raisins
2 large eggs
½ cup sugar
2 cups milk, scalded
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

In a buttered 1½-quart glass loaf dish (8⅝ by 4½ by 2¾ inches), with a fork, mix the rice and raisins. In a small mixing bowl beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites. Stir in the sugar, then the scalded milk, salt and vanilla. Pour over rice-raisins; sprinkle with nutmeg.

Place loaf dish in a small roasting pan (13 by 9 by 2 inches). To the pan add enough very hot tap water—about two quarts—to come up high. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a small metal spatula, inserted about one inch from side, comes out clean or with only a few shreds of custard on it—one to one and a quarter hours. Serve warm or chilled with "pour" cream. Makes six servings. Raisins sink to bottom.

Mincemeat Turnovers

MINCEMEAT TURNOVERS

1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
2 cups unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring 1½ cups (about) drained prepared commercial mincemeat, from a jar

Have butter and cheese at room temperature; in a medium bowl blend with a spoon; gradually blend in flour. Turn out on transparent plastic wrap and shape into a flat rectangle; wrap and chill.

Cut dough in half. Roll out one half at a time on a floured pastry cloth with a floured stocknet-covered rolling pin to a 12-inch square; cut into nine, 4-inch squares.

Put two tablespoons of the mincemeat off center on each square; fold over to make a triangle; press edges with fork tines to seal well. Prick tops in several places. Place well apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Brush tops with a little milk. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until golden-brown—about 25 minutes. Serve hot or reheat. Makes one and a half dozen turnovers.

'Little' Banks Have Motives In Lowering Interest Rate

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost every day some "little" bank somewhere in the United States lowers its prime interedst rate and thereby draws to itself the attention of thousands or millions of people.

Their reasons are various: concern for the economy of their area, a slowdown of their business, the desire to lead, a need to express their independence of larger banks, and simply publicity, for what it's worth.

With interest rates sky high, and with almost every rate change on the upside during the past year, millions of brokers, borrowers, economists, bankers, government officials were looking desperately for a reversal.

Whatever its motives, "little" Lincoln National Bank—its deposits total only $42,617,419—has drawn more attention to itself than any other bank of its size by being the first to announce a lower rate.

Some little banks have been the first in their areas to lower this, the basic lending rate for the best customers. Lincoln led the nation, however; nobody can top that, and so the benefits pour in.

What are they? Well, to begin with, new business. "Calls and telegrams came in from all over the country," said Norman Denny, president.

"One company called from Chicago with a $100,000 account because of a gutsy act," he said. The word "gutsy" is one that apparently has appeal to the 5 foot 1 Denny.

He was animated by his brilliant coup and the results. The stock market, for example, rocketed upward on the news, an amazing demonstration of clout for so small a bank. "We call it the Lincoln market," said Denny.

"Here's a telegram from Des Plaines, Ill. I don't even know where it is. They say they're going to keep their reserves with us," Denny continued, and he offered the view that if people wanted to park their money with it it was okay.

Local recognition and deposits also came to Lincoln. The night after the bank dropped its rate to 8 per cent from 8.5, said Denny, "I walked into a restaurant and four people came over and told me they were opening accounts."

Denny wanted it understood: "They came from four different tables. Not four people from one table."

Another benefit, he felt, was to all Philadelphia. "It augers well," he said, "that we don't wait to get the word from the big brothers in New York. Philadelphia has a provincial reputation to live down."

But seemingly as meaningful as any result was the thrust into the future that the simple announcement gave Lincoln. "We intend to grow," he said, and you could tell he meant it. The announcement was going to put Lincoln well ahead of schedule.

"We ranked 8,100 in deposits among the nation's banks at one time and now we're about 1,165," he said. Even a bit better. As of Dec. 31, American Banker newspaper ranked Lincoln 1,158 and credited it with a gain of 189 positions in one year.

"We've passed 7,000 banks in size," said Denny, his enthusiasm evident. "We'd like to crack the first 1,000 by the end of this year." Unusual talk for a banker? Perhaps, but Lincoln is an unusual bank.

Although Denny admits to being in his mid-40s, he insists that his staff is the youngest of any bank in Philadelphia. Most of the senior officers are in their late 30s, he said. The bank itself is only five years old.

This is the very type of bank you might expect to move into such a ripe situation. Any bank could have done it, for everyone in the banking business knew that rates would have to fall sometime during the year.

Junior Editors Quiz on EYEGLASSES

QUESTION: How do glasses help toward better vision?

* * *

ANSWER: In the little picture, you are looking at two cross-sections of the human eye. The light comes into the eyeball through a lens, shown at the bottom. Light rays from what is seen are bent toward each other by the lens and throw a bright little picture on the back of the eyeball, where there is a light-sensitive area called the retina. The picture, falling on the retina, is passed by the optic nerve into the person's brain. If a person has a defectively-shaped eyeball, the light rays may not be able to come together sharply, or focus, on the retina. The dotted line in picture (A) shows where the image is focusing, and you can see this in front of the retina, not on it. To the person with such an eye, things will look blurred. When he puts on the right glasses (B), he can see everything sharply. The curving lenses have changed the direction of light rays passing into the eyeball, and the image is now focussed on the retina, where it is supposed to be. Eyeglasses, perfected in the 1700's, have proved to be one of man's most useful inventions.

Manhattan In Need Of A Facelift

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan ain't what it used to be.

The glamor borough of Little Old New York, once the mecca of the nation's talent and a magnet for anybody looking for a good time, is slowly losing its charm and its population, too.

It is hard to knock a town you've loved. It's like telling a wife or an old sweetheart that she's fading fast and ought to do something about it quick.

But Manhattan certainly does need a trip to the beauty parlor and some kind of postgraduate course in how to improve her personality. She needs a facelift and a heartlift. For, to more and more of her admirers, visitors or dwellers, the fun of being in her comapny is hardly worth the trouble that goes with it.

Here are some of the reasons why:

Getting to work on time has become any day's major achievement. The subway and the suburban railroads appear to be vying in a contest to determine which can charge passengers the most and give the least.

It is as difficult to get a cab during the rush hours as it is to get a stagecoach or a ride by horseback, forms of transportation which vanished from here some decades back. You don't tell a cab driver where to go—you beg him.

The only thing higher than the new skyscraper apartments and business buildings going up is the sky-high rents they charge for occupancy. That's why many people and business firms are moving away. Manhattan is threatened with becoming a place where only the very rich and the crowded poor can afford to live. The middle class is fleeing.

An atmosphere of fear palls the city even more than its polluted air. A fellow never knows when he wakes up in the morning whether he'll be mugged, bugged or slugged before nightfall. Losing faith in both doorknobs and the police, many people are buying dogs to protect them. Night life has fallen off, and one reason is simply that many folks feel it is too dangerous to go about the city after dark.

The streets are filthy dirty, and so is the conversation you hear while walking them. Hercules, who cleaned the famed Augean stables, would have a tougher task here, but at least Mayor John V. Lindsay might try to hire him.

It is easier for a child to get heroin here than to get an education. The school system is a perpetual battleground for contentious parents, teachers and bureaucratic educators. The student remains an innocent bystander—and not always innocent himself.

Practically every food worth eating, every cultural event worth seeing, is still here—but how many guys can afford to spend $50 or more in an evening taking his girl out to a good meal and a second-rate musical?

Well, if Manhattan is all that bad, why doesn't a fellow just pick up stakes and move elsewhere? The problem is, where in America can you find another city that isn't as bad as Manhattan—or rapidly getting to be?

Christine's Husband Suing For Divorce

LONDON (AP) — The husband of Christine Keeler, the party girl whose affairs shook the Conservative government in 1963, is suing her for divorce.

James Levermore, 28, said he was charging desertion. He and Miss Keeler, also 28, were married in 1965 and separated a few months later. They have a son.

Miss Keeler's romancing with War Minister John D. Profumo while carrying on a simultaneous affair with a Soviet diplomat led to Profumo's resignation.

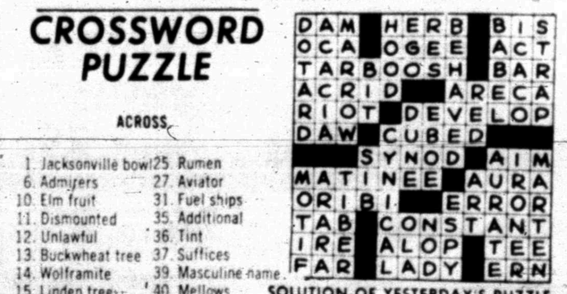

When the U.S. Army most recently polled soldiers' food preferences, milk ranked No. 1, even outranking steak.

Midland Man On Latest Casualty List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of 23 men killed in action are on the latest casualty list from the war in Vietnam.

Included are two Texans: Army WO 1 James E. Burton Jr., husband of Mrs. Brenda J. Burton, Star Route B, Box 76, Midland; Spec. 4 Michael W. Bow, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Bow Jr., Box 433, Whitewright.

Eloy Benitez Reaches Golden Gloves Finals

Eloy Benitez, former Snyder schoolboy, was eliminated in the finals of the state Golden Gloves Tournament last night in Fort Worth. He lost a three-round decision to Joe Louis Valdez of Houston.

Valdez, a veteran of the state gloves but never a champion, took light welterweight honors with the decision. Eloy's brother, Martin Benitez, Jr., represented the Lubbock team, but was eliminated in the first bouts last week.

Sledgehammer Nick Wells repeated as state heavyweight champion and two national titlists won return trips Monday night in the Texas Golden Gloves tournament.

Fort Worth swept team title honors but as host club gave up the trophy to runner-up Houston. Fort Worth had 22 points to Houston's 16.

Wells, of Fort Worth, stopped big Tommie Powell of Tyler in the heavyweight finale and thus will lead the 10-man Texas team into the national tournament March 16-19 at Las Vegas.

Wells, 210, cut down the 233-pound Tyler swinger twice in the opening moments of the first round and when he trapped him in a vicious assault on the ropes the referee stopped the fight. Only 59 seconds had elapsed.

Counting his regional fights, Wells, a McMurry College football player, has stopped six straight opponents in the first round.

The two defending national champions to repeat as state titlists were flyweight Tony Moreno of San Antonio and featherweight James Busceme of Beaumont.

Both rapped out semi-finals triumphs earlier in the evening before returning to wrap things up against Dallas foes. Moreno outpointed James Martinez and Busceme decisioned Hector Pena in the finals.

A record crowd of 10,578 overflowed Will Rogers Coliseum to view the finals, pushing the four-day attendance total to 36,061—also a record.

The other champions crowned Monday night were:

Light heavyweight—Sam Hatton, Fort Worth.

Middleweight—Gregory Arendondo, Amarillo.

Light middleweight—Frank Castillo, Houston.

Welterweight—Melvin Dennis, Houston.

Light welterweight—Joe Louis Valdez, Houston.

Lightweight—Roy Barrientes, Fort Worth.

Bantamweight—Gary Swinney, Tyler.

The welter triumph by Dennis was among the most spectacular as he unseated defending champion Tommy von Hatten of Fort Worth in a fierce duel.

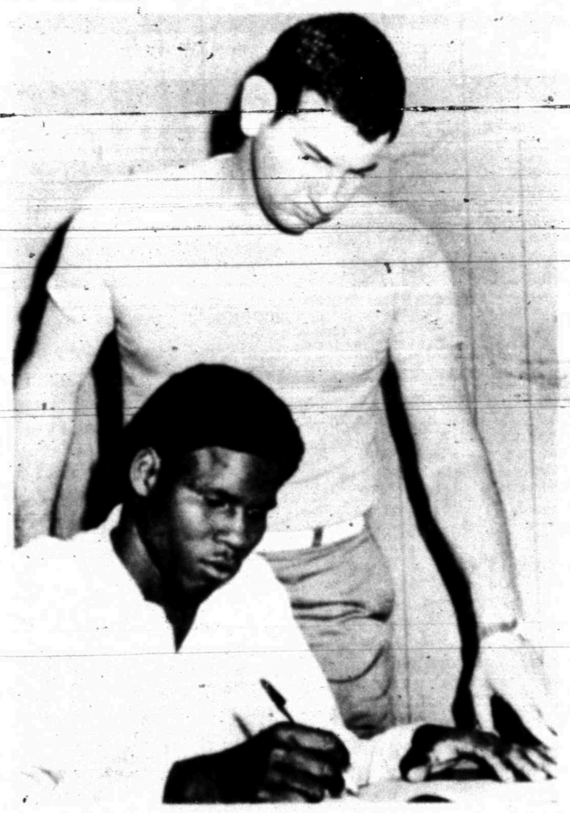

Hatton's victory was also something of an upset. The short, stout Fort Worth fighter took a close decision over Victor Rodriguez of San Antonio.

Arrendondo registered one of the most resounding verdicts, flooring Billy Jones of Fort Worth four times before the fight was stopped in the third round.

Castillo, riding three knockout victories into the finals, was taken the distance before outpointing Paul Stephens of Fort Worth.

Barrientes, a runner-up last year in the lightweight division, won it this time around with a decision over Houston's Joe Santos.

SIGNS APPLICATION — Eddie Ray McClain, an All-District football selection from Snyder High School, signs a pre-enrollment application to attend Howard Payne College in Brownwood. Looking on is James Cameron, head football coach at HPC, who said the Tiger star "was generally considered to be one of the finest running backs in West Texas during the first half of last season." McClain did not play the last half due to a fractured leg. Mc Clain is the second fullback from the SHS squad to sign with HPC. Steve Pierce had signed earlier.

Rupp Pleased With Final High Ranking

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky's Adolph Rupp has learned to take winning in stride during his 40 seasons as the Wildcat basketball mentor.

But Rupp, who has led his teams to an amazing 835-176 record, has an added incentive when the Wildcats face Notre Dame in the first round of the NCAA Mideast Region tournament in Columbus, Ohio Thursday night.

The Wildcats, who finished the regular season with a 25-1 mark, were named Monday as the nation's No. 1 team in the final Associated Press weekly major college basketball poll.

"Naturally we're delighted at the confidence that the final ballots placed in the University of Kentucky," Rupp said.

"We realize that UCLA is an outstanding team and that many other teams in the country could have been placed in the same position as we are — that is the mythical national champions."

For Kentucky, it was the sixth time in the final poll's top position. The Wildcats, who drew 18 first place votes and 512 points, were No. 1 in 1949, 1951, 1952, 1954 and 1966.

UCLA lost last week to Southern California and ended up in second place with three first place votes and 440 points. The Bruins were the top-ranked team last year and most of this season.

UCLA, which also topped the poll in 1964 and 1967, ended its regular season at 24-2 and captured the Pacific-8 Conference. Kentucky wrapped up its third consecutive Southeastern Conference crown to gain its 18th NCAA berth.

The No. 1 ranking may be frosting on the cake, but for Rupp, the season is far from over.

"I realize that the NCAA has not been decided and maybe we will have a chance to represent our area in the final game," he said.

Kentucky's first obstacle will not be an easy one. The Wildcats edged Notre Dame 102-100 at Louisville on Dec. 27 as the Irish's high-scoring Austin Carr blistered the nets for 42 points. Carr broke the NCAA tournament record against Ohio University last Saturday with 61 points.

Rupp noted, "I realize that Notre Dame is much improved over the time we beat them, and there is no doubt that Iowa and Jacksonville also are strong. In fact, I think the Mideast Region is the strongest of the bunch."

The winners of the Kentucky-Notre Dame and Jacksonville-Iowa games will meet for the Mideast Region championship.

Rounding out the top-ten in the final poll, in order, were St. Bonaventure, Jacksonville, New Mexico State, South Carolina, Iowa, Marquette, Notre Dame and North Carolina State.

The Bonnies finished with 432 points—just eight behind UCLA. Jacksonville had three first place votes and New Mexico State and Iowa one each.

Votes are tabulated on the basis of 20 for first place, 18 for second, etc.

Big Spring Girls Win

Travis' girls had a hard time here yesterday, dropping three matches to Big Spring volleyball teams.

The 7th grade was beaten by Runnels 8th B 15-3, 15-2. Retha Davis was high point girl for the locals with three points.

The 8th grade dropped a 15-12, 15-9 decision to Runnels 8th A. Debra Collins scored seven points for Travis.

Big Spring Gold defeated Travis 9th 15-2, 15-10. Sharon Johns tallied seven points for the local girls.

Next Thursday, the Travis teams will go to Big Spring to meet Goliad in a program that begins at 5:30 p.m. There will be three matches.

Baseball Tilt Is Postponed

The baseball contest scheduled here today between Snyder's Tigers and Abilene Cooper's Cougars has been postponed, according to Coach Speedy Moffett of Snyder.

He said the game was called off on account of the cold.

"Neither one of us wanted to risk injury to our pitchers," he said.

The Tigers will meet Monahans at 1 p.m. Saturday in their next outing. The tournament in which they were scheduled to compete at San Angelo last weekend also was canceled.

Centers Stand Tall In Valley

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two giant centers and veteran Coach Maury John of Drake's NCAA tournament-bound Bulldogs were honored today by The Associated Press as the Missouri Valley Conference's bests in 1970.

Jim Ard, the muscular 6-9 center of Cincinnati's Bearcats who are headed for the National Invitational Tournament, was selected the Valley's player-of-the-year in a vote of the league's nine coaches and 18 newsmen from all conference cities.

Dana Lewis, Tulsa's 6-10 giant center, was picked as the Valley's sophomore-of-the-year.

And, John repeated as Valley coach-of-the-year. The vote again was close for John, but not as close as last year when he had to share the award with Tulsa's Ken Hayes.

Ard, from Markham, Ill., was the Valley's sophomore of the year two years ago and was named either to the all-Valley first or second teams in each of his three seasons at Cincinnati.

The top conference rebounder and among the league's top scorers in 1970, Ard led in the balloting for all-Valley first team honors. He beat out North Texas' Joe Hamilton for the player-of-the-year award, with Louisville's Mike Grosso third.

Lewis, from Newark, N.J., was redshirted in 1968-69 to give him time to mature, and mature he did this season. He was in the top five in the conference in both scoring and rebounding as he helped Tulsa to a fifth-place finish.

Lewis won the sophomore award handily, with Jim Price and Henry Bacon, both of Louisville, in a close fight for second but both far back.

John edged Cincinnati's Tay Baker for the coaching honor, with Louisville's John Dromo a close third and Dan Spika of North Texas State and Joe Polk of St. Louis also drawing votes.

John lost four starters from his 1969 team which surprised everybody by claiming third in the nation. He came up with some of the finest transfers in the nation, however, to rebuild the Bulldogs into another Midwest power this season.

Named to the AP's all-Valley first team were Ard, Hamilton, Grosso, Greg Carney of Wichita State and Al Williams of Drake.

Selected to the second team were Lewis and Ron Carson of Tulsa, Jeff Halliburton of Drake, Joe Wiley of St. Louis and Don Ogletree of Cincinnati. Price just missed making the second team.

Johnson Improving

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — With get well wishes pouring in from all over the world, former President Lyndon B. Johnson B. Johnson continues to progress after suffering chest pains a week ago, his army doctors say.

A brief medical bulletin reported that Johnson's physicians were "satisfied with his continued progress Monday."

He rested well Sunday night following "more mild physical activity Sunday," Monday's advisory said. An aide said this consisted of walking around his seventh floor room at the Army's Brooke General Hospital.

Johnson, 61, who was stricken by a heart attack in 1955, entered Brooke March 2 with chest pains which doctors blamed on hardening of the coronary arteries.

Doctors said there were no signs that he has suffered a heart attack this time. Their medical reports indicate his chest pains have subsided.

Get-well cards, letters, telegrams, even packages have been streaming into the hospital by the thousands from all 50 states and from throughout the world, an aide said.

Monday's load of good tidings included letters from as far away as Hong Kong and Austaalia, and from Nebraska, Wisconsin and Maryland.

Johnson's Austin office is receiving more stacks of mail.

The former president also has been swamped with flowers—so many that at one point he askd his daughter, Luci Nugent, to distribute them to other patients.

One of the letters received Monday had this message:

"1. America needs you.

"2. The world needs you.

"3. Your speedy recovery is mandatory."

It was signed, "Members of the campus, University of California, Berkeley, Calif."

Mine Detector Used To Find Manholes

HARLEM, Ga. (AP) — Members of the Army's 864th Explosive Ordnance Detachment at Ft. Gordon, Ga. were rushed to Harlem recently — to find the town manholes.

A contractor resurfaced the streets five years ago and neglected to mark the 25 manholes and main water valves. And the city water superintendent left and took the only set of plans.

After years of trying to cope with the problem, Mayor Hugh Groves called in the Army. Two bomb disposal experts were trudged up and down the streets locating the manhole covers with a mine detector.

One Escapee Is Captured By Trooper

ALBANY, Tex. (AP)—A Texas Highway Patrol trooper captured one of three escapees from the Oklahoma County jail near this West Texas town Monday night after stopping his auto for a routine investigation.

Trooper Jerry Tucker said he noticed Ronald Eugene Hainey, 22, and his brother, Tommy Ray Hainey, 23, because "they wouldn't look at at me.

"They looked like they had done something," the trooper said.

Ronald Eugene Hainey and two other prisoners broke out of the Oklahoma County jail Monday morning by kicking through a wall and jumping out a window.

Still at large today were Gary Wendell Fryar, 30, of Dallas, who was convicted of robbing the Vian State bank in 1967, and Tommy Ray Higdon, 23, also of Dallas, who was awaiting transfer to the state prison at McAlester on a 10-year burglary Conviction.

Higdon was awaiting trial on a charge of robbing a bank at Terral last November.

Fryar had been serving his term at the federal prison in Leavenworth, Kan., but was brought to Oklahoma City to face bogus check charges.

Vicar Assaulted By Eroticism

ST. IVES, England (AP) — The Rev. Malcolm Dams went into the Golden Scissors Salon for a haircut but found himself "assaulted by eroticism." He abandoned the barber and dashed off a complaint in his parish magazine.

When the vicar entered the barber shop, he saw a full-length photo on the wall of a naked girl. And miniskirted girls had replaced the previous white-jacketed male assistants.

"Is it being broadminded to accept being assaulted by eroticism everywhere we look?" the 37-year-old father of three wrote. "It is a sad thing that eroticism has to be used to get someone to have a haircut."

Alex Leich, boss of the Golden Scissors, said the picture was put up for a bit of fun and had been disposed of in a lottery among the customers. But another pinup will take its place.

"The picture was in good taste," he said, adding: "Evil is in tht eye of the beholder."

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • • •

Q— Since I'm not sure what my income will be this year, can I use 1969 figures for my estimated tax?

A — Yes, one method that can be used to make an estimated tax deduction is to base it on last year's income and expense figures. Make any adjustment you think necessary in these figures when you file the declaration.

Should your income situation change after filing, make the required adjustment when you make the next installment payment. The change can be made on the estimated tax worksheet you used to figure your original declaration.

If you received a package of pre-addressed estimated tax vouchers in the mail, use one to make each quarterly payment. This will assure proper crediting of your payments. If you need to file an estimated tax declaration and did not receive the Form 1040ES package by mail, the forms can be obtained at your local IRS office.

Q — I sold some shares of stock I inherited from my grandfather. How do I report this?

A — Report any gain or loss on Schedule D. Generally, the gain or loss will be the difference between proceeds of the sale and the fair market value of the stock at the date of decedent's death.

For your convenience, a copy of Schedule D and instructions were included in the 1040 tax package mailed out this year.

Q — Is a company pension taxable?

A — If the company paid the entire cost, the pension usually will be fully taxable when you receive the payments. If you contributed to the cost of the pension, then only a portion is taxable.

If the employee's total contributions are recovered within three years after he receives his first persion payment, no tax has to be paid on the pension until the employee's total contributions are recovered. If the employee's contributions will not be recovered within that time, a portion of the pension will be taxable each year.

This is explained in greater detail in the instructions accompanying Schedule E which is part of the 1040 tax package.

Q — Do you need all my W-2's? I had several part-time jobs last year in addition to my regular one.

A — Yes, a W-2 from each employer should be attached to the back of your tax return. A missing W-2 was a major reason for delayed refuads last year. If you cannot get all your W-2 forms, report all your income and attach a statement explaining how you computed any tax withheld for which you claim credit, but for which you have no Form W-2.

Attach copy B of each W-2 to your return. The other copies are for state income tax returns where required and for your records.

Q — I was charged a prepayment penalty when I paid off my mortgage. Can I deduct this?

A — Yes, this is deductible as interest if you itemize.

Q — My friend said I had to add the surcharge to what the tax table showed I owed. Is that right?

A — Yes, the tax tables show the regular income tax and to this amount should be added the income tax surcharge. You should use the tax surcharge tables on page T-1 of the Form 1040 package to determine your surcharge.

The tax tables are for taxpayers with incomes under $5,000 who don't itemize. IRS will also figure the tax due for these taxpayers in most situations.

Q — I moved last year to take a new job. Can I deduct my costs of moving from one city to another?

A — Under certain conditions, certain moving costs are deductible. You can qualify for this deduction if you move to take a new job or for another job with the same employer. You may take this deduction even if you do not itemize your deductions.

Conditions under which moving costs are deductible are covered on page E-2 of the 1040 instructions.

Court Refuses To Enter Texas Scrap

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court has refused to enter a Northeast Texas scrap involving the right of a legislator to run for associate justice of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals.

The court denied a motion by supporters of W. C. Hancock for a court order preventing Rep. C. L. Ray of Marshall from seeking the post.

Hancock and Ray are opponents.

Hancock's backers went to the court Monday morning with a request that it order the State Democratic Executive Committee not to certify Ray as a candidate.

They contended Ray was ineligible because he was in the legislature when it voted last year to raise the salaries of court of civil appeals judges. They claimed Ray's house term, which ends Jan. 1, overlapped that of an appeals judge.

Jane Fonda Plans Tour To Support Antiwar Servicemen

SEATTLE (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda, repulsed along with a band of Indians in a raid on an Army fort, says she now plans a cross-country tour in support of servicemen who are antiwar.

Referring bitterly to her weekend arrest at Ft. Lewis, Miss Fonda told a news conference Monday:

"Bob Hope was greeted differently by the local branch of the military-industrial complex. But then I had not come to glamorize war or to urge young men on to fight."

Miss Fonda, 32, was detained for three hours at Ft. Lewis Sunday after joining several hundred Indians earlier in an attempt to take over land in Seattle's Ft. Lawton to set up an Indian educational and cultural center. About 85 persons were arrested at the two bases.

"I hear from the GIs that we need a GI bill of rights, and from the Indians that we need an Indian bill of rights," said Miss Fonda.

"We've got a bill of rights. Why isn't it being put through?"

Her remarks were punctuated by war whoops from demonstrating Indians.

"Anyone who comes onto a base to speak out of concern for the GIs, their opposition to the war and their fight for democratic rights—is banned," she said.

"In this country, the only way a minority can get anything done is to make a little noise."

Miss Fonda said she planned to visit Army, Navy and Marine bases across the country as well as coffee house hangouts for the antiwar servicemen.

Asked whether she would be willing to go to jail to protest what she considered ill treatment of servicemen or Indians, Miss Fonda said, "I'm very naive about my legal rights. I could go to jail and if I didn't have a child and a family, I might."

She is married to movie producer Roger Vadim and they have a young daughter.

Miss Fonda said she intends to return to Ft. Lewis despite an order to stay away. Disregarding the order could cost her a $500 fine or six months in jail.

She said she also is considering suing the base commander for false arrest.

Is she 'nuts' to go along?

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: John and I have been married for 17 years. We have 3 children. Three years ago John became involved with Lynn, my best friend, but I didn't find out about it until 2 months ago when Lynn's husband caught them. He left her and filed for divorce so she may get my husband yet.

This isn't John's first affair, but I have always forgiven him and taken him back. He has moved in with Lynn, and now he tells me he is too involved to break up. He says he never dreamed she would give up her husband and children for him. (What "give up?" Her husband caught her, moved out and took their 3 children to his mother's.)

Now John says he will have to do what will bother his conscience less. He says Lynn threatens to do away with herself if he leaves her because now she has nothing to live for. John says I am a stronger woman and wouldn't do anything foolish, but Lynn might. In the meantime John is living with her, Lynn has MY husband, and I am trying to raise 2 teen-aged children without a father. Am I nuts to go along with this?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Nuts? No. Gullible, yes.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, a lady complained because at the home of her gentleman friend, toothpicks were passed around the table after dinner.

Believe it or not, this is a very old European custom. I remember that in my parents' home, after a formal dinner, the maid would pass a tray containing finger bowls and toothpicks. However, the proper way to use a toothpick was to pick the teeth with one hand, using the other hand to "shield" the mouth so that the actual act of teeth-picking was not exposed to view.

BORN IN GERMANY

DEAR BORN: Thank you for your informative letter. The finger bowls may stay. But the toothpicks have GOT to go!

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a young woman who has worn eyeglasses ever since I've known her. I never thought they detracted from her appearance. In fact, I thought her glasses were rather handsome.

Suddenly, my girl appeared without her glasses. I was shocked, but not particularly pleased, as I had become accustomed to seeing her in glasses, and she didn't look like herself without them.

She told me she had been fitted for contact lenses, and she seemed so thrilled about it, I told her quite frankly that if she had discussed it with me first I would have told her to stay with her glasses.

Now I am wondering, for whom is she wearing contact lenses? Surely not for me! Should I put her to the test, and ask her to choose between me and the contact lenses?

PREFERS SPECS

DEAR PREFERS: Perhaps she is pleasing only herself, which is her privilege. Having told her that you prefer eyeglasses to contact lenses, drop it. If you insist that she make a choice between you and the contact lenses, she will need neither contact lenses nor glasses to see the handwriting on the wall.

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with a girl calling a boy on the telephone? My mother says it's wrong, but she can't give me a good reason. If you want to know about a homework assignment or something like that, what is wrong with it?

NANCI

DEAR NANCI: Girls shouldn't call boys because the boy might get the idea that she is chasing him, which is the last thing a girl wants a boy to think—especially if she is. If a girl wants to know about a homework assignment or something like that, she'd be wise to call another girl.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Twiggy Retiring

LONDON (AP) — Twiggy, the 91-pound hairdresser's assistant who became a $2,500-a-week fashion model, is retiring from modeling at the age of 20.

"Once you get bored with something it shows," said Twiggy, whose real name is Lesley Hornby. She intends to learn to be a movie actress.

"I couldn't do a big, sexy role," she said. "It's got to be something nice."

When Twiggy made her debut in 1966, her gawky, flat-chested long-legged figure was the perfect hanger for Britain's mini-skirted dolly look. Now curves are coming back so Twiggy's getting out.

She won't starve in retirement. She is a director in five companies selling Twiggy products and has an interest in a photographic and printing business. And she still has Justin de Villeneuve, the 31-year-old photographer who promoted her into success.

Pantex Strike Continues

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — There was no end in sight today of a strike at Pantex Ordnance which has idled about 1,500 employes, the most ever affected by a walkout in Amarillo.

The Metal Trades Council, which has been the bargaining agent for Pantex employes since 1952, called the strike at 12:01 a.m. Monday when the contract expired.

The MTC represents about 880 of the 1,500 persons on the Pantex payroll.

John Drummond, plant manager, said 50 per cent of the employes who usually work the day shift reported for work Monday, but said he did not know at what capacity the plant would be able to operate.

L. F. Cranfill, president of the MTC which represents 12 unions, said the union bargain committee submitted last-minute proposals in an effort to avoid the strike but that both were rejected.

Drummond said management "stand ready to negotiate at any time."

Both company and union officials said Monday no further negotiations had been scheduled.

Cranfill said the unions are demanding a change in job definitions and automatic cost-of-living increases.

Captain's Kin Denies Any Coverup Of Lao Situation

By JIM BRIGANCE
Associated Press Writer

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — Even as debate rages in the nation's capitol over American involvement in Laos, the widow and parents of an Army captain killed there last year denied Monday the government has attempted any coverup of the Laotian situation.

Mrs. Carol Bush, 24, widow of Capt. Joseph Bush, categorically denied that her husband's letters or government pressure attempted to blackout information regarding American participation in Laos.

The White House confirmed publicly Sunday that Bush, a 25-year old military attache at Moung Soui, Laos, had been killed during a North Vietnamese commando raid on his quarters Feb. 10, 1969.

Mrs. Bush said her husband and a sergeant were the only two American military men at Moung Soui.

"I knew all along where Joe was and what he was doing," she said. "He wrote and said it was alright to talk about where he was."

The significance of Bush's death apparently missed the eye of many since brief details were printed in a routine Feb. 13, 1969 obituary in a Temple newspaper, specifically naming Moung Soui, Laos as the place where Bush died.

Bush's daughter, two-year old Robin, was born a week before the captain left for duty in Bangkok, Thailand with the Thai Royal Artillery in April 1968. In June, he was moved to Laos.

He never saw his wife or daughter again.

"We're afraid a political issue may be made of his death and we don't want that," said Joe Bush Sr. "Joe knew what the situation was over there and he had decided to make the Army a career."

"I have been tempted to call President Nixon and ask what we can do to prevent this thing from becoming an issue. My son felt very strongly about what he was doing and we're very proud of him," said the soldier's mother.

"We believed in what he was doing because he believed in it so strongly," said the widow.

"We are not bitter about his death," said the elder Bush, a furniture store employe with five other children, two of them veterans. "He was fighting for his country."

A letter to the widow quoted witnesses as saying Bush was killed and the American sergeant wounded during an attack on their quarters in which commandos burned down the building and threw grenades.

Pictures of Bush in Laos show him wearing a sidearm.

"You can see he was armed while he was there," she said.

A gravemarker supplied by by the government is inscribed that Bush was killed in Vietnam.

"I am inclined to think it was just a mistake," said the elder Bush, "because Joe was never in Vietnam and that certainly wasn't where he died. We want it changed."

The widow said she has contacted government authorities to have the grave marker properly inscribed.

Bush was a 1966 graduate of Texas A&M University, described as a "distinguished military student" and a man who had a "great love for the Army."

He was a winner of the Bronze and Silver Stars and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

"I have never been contacted by anyone from the government regarding Joe's service in Laos and we're keeping quiet. So far as I know there's been no coverup attempt. It's been right out in the open. Joe wrote home about it and it was in the paper," said the widow.

He was one of the greatest people that ever lived," she added. "He could have been transferred out of there but he wasn't that kind."

Bush was author of a poem to be read at his funeral.

"In it he said, 'I'll fight and I'll die still as I live. My small life to my country I'll give. Come and fight me and you will see. Why America today has liberty.'"
