Aged Woman Given Suspended Term For Slaying Husband After Cruelty Tale

Montague Jury Assesses Two-Year Sentence For Killing

PRIVATIONS ARE TOLD

Nomadic Life of Junk Dealer's Wife Recited By Defendant

Special to The Record News.

MONTAGUE, Texas, May 2.—Given liberty by the assessment of a two-year suspended sentence for the alleged murder of her husband at Bowie last February, Mrs. Jennie Hyler, 58, firm of step and her health regained, today left what she termed her first home in 15 years—the Montague county jail.

She left with determination to face life anew written across a face once tight and drawn, and richer by about $20 given her by spectators who had gathered Thursday in district court here to hear her tell from the witness stand her story of the privations of nomadic life.

Mrs. Hyler, the mother of seven children four of whom are now living, was the wife of John Hyler, a wandering junk peddler. Their pursuit of a living had brought them into Texas only recently from Oklahoma. Burdened with lack of clothing or food, Mrs. Hyler said, the life they led was generally fruitless, one of dire poverty.

Cruelty Described

During the first months of this year they passed through Bellevue, Sunset and Nocona, finally arriving at Bowie the early part of February. About 25 witnesses from each of these towns testified of cruelty Mrs. Hyler was subjected to. Mrs. Hyler herself testified of many instances where she had been forced to go hungry after having prepared a scant meal for her husband. On other occasions, she said, the sparse bed covering was denied her, as her husband slept in relative comfort, sheltered from bitter weather.

On the night of Feb. 7, Mrs. Hyler said, she had been beaten unconscious and left in the snow outside the entrance to the tent in which the family was living in East Bowie. Hours later, she said, her husband came from the tent, and assisted her within its enclosure.

The next day, Feb. 8, Mr. Hyer was found dead in the tent, apparently beaten to death with an ax or hatchet. His skull had been pierced twice by some blunt instrument, testimony developed. Mrs. Hyler was arrested the following day in Montague, and subsequently was indicted.

Self Defense Claimed

The trial of the case opened today, with Temple Yarbrough, county attorney, in charge of the prosecution. Mrs. Hyler was represented by Paul Donald and J. S. Jameson, attorneys named by the court. Mrs. Hyler, officials said, wished to enter a plea of guilty to the charge, but was dissuaded from such a course by her attorneys. A plea of not guilty was entered, and the defense alleged self defense.

The jury, chosen earlier in the day, reported after its deliberations that it recommended a two-year suspended sentence.

Mrs. Hyler, it was admitted even by Mr. Yarbrough, the county attorney, attracted much sympathy in the court room. This resulted in R. G. Watson, the county jailer, circulating among the spectators soliciting funds for the woman who had been in his custody since the date of the alleged crime.

Jail First "Home"

Her term in jail had "made" her, according to Mrs. Hyler's statements from the witness stand. She said:

"It was the first place I had been in for 15 years that I could call home. There I found a warm bed, and something to eat."

Mrs. Hyler today presented a different spectacle to witnesses who described her three months ago as being "almost naked, starved, and literally crazed by worry."

Mrs. Hyler left the courtroom after the trial in company with three of her children who had come here for the proceedings. Their destination was not known. They headed for Bowie, it was said.

POLICE CHIEF EXPLAINS 'ROLL'

Bates Accounts for $54,000 Bank Deposit

SAN ANGELO, Texas, May 2. (AP)—Testimony was completed and attorneys' arguments were begun late today in the trial of Carroll Bates, former San Angelo police chief, and 19 others on charges of conspiracy to violate federal prohibition laws.

Bates' lawyers centered their efforts on an explanation of how he got $54,000 which San Angelo bankers had testified Bates deposited in less than three years when he drew a salary of $300 a month as police chief here.

Bates declared the money represented the sale of a farm, gambling winnings, bets won on the world series and the national election. He denied an accusation that he accepted as much as $800 a week from a rum ring as his share of the profits and further weekly sums from Curley Shields for alleged protection of a liquor ring. He denied promising immunity to certain persons accused of being members of the ring.

Bates said his only conversation with W. H. Hutcheson, who had testified he was pay-off man for the "ring" paid Bates each Monday for protection, was when Hutcheson protested against an alleged attempt of city officers to make him leave San Angelo.

A. W. Brown, policeman who served under Bates, corroborated this testimony. Brown denied that he had removed from the police station some liquor taken in a raid.

Arguments were expected to be completed in time for jury to start deliberation tomorrow.

HOUSE VOTES SALARY HIKES

Prison Employes to Get Raise Under Bill

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—Heeding requests to raise salaries of penitentiary guards as a step toward eliminating prison breaks, the house today passed the Turner-Long bill boosting the pay of guards, Stewards, gin managers, dog sergeants and assistant farm managers.

Under the increase, effective Sept. 1, guards will receive $75 instead of $60 monthly. Other prison employes will be paid as follows: stewards $85; gin managers, $85; dog sergeants $90 and assistant farm managers, $125.

The state prison board was vested with authority under an amendment by Representative Pope, of Corpus Christi, to set salaries not to exceed maximum amounts provided in the bill.

Discussion of the bill brought severe criticism of prison management from both Pope and Rep. Geo. C. Purl, Dallas, when Rep. John F. Wallace, Teague, chairman of the house appropriations said the penitentiary budget for the next biennium would total almost $4,000,000. This sum, Wallace explained, will amount to $375, for each of the 4,500 prisoners annually.

SWEETWATER, Texas, May 2. (AP)—Burton Frost of Roscoe was shot and probably mortally wounded tonight as he left the court house here, a few moments after a jury, which tried him for an alleged attack on a five-year-old girl had failed to agree and had been discharged.

Lee Wampler of Roscoe, father of the girl, surrendered immediately after the shooting.

Frost was struck in the chin, neck, back and arm.

The trial had occupied almost the entire week and the jury had been out 15 hours when it reported tonight that it could not agree. Judge Milburn Long asked Frost whether he would be satisfied if the jury was discharged and Frost assented and started down the south stairs of the court house.

According to Sheriff Jesse Lambert, Wampler, who was in the back of the room, left immediately by a door leading to the north steps of the building. A moment later four shots were heard and Sheriff Lambert rushed to the south steps. There he met Wampler who handed him a .38 caliber pistol. Frost lay at the bottom of the steps.

The shooting was one of several sensational incidents which marked the trial. Just before it ended Mrs. Wampler rushed into the court room in an hysterical condition and declared that her life had been threatened by a defense witness. Later, while defense attorneys were discussing Mrs. Wampler's connection with the case she arose from her seat screaming, "I can't stand it any longer. Let me tell something I know."

JAIL INMATES KILLED

Columbus, O., City Prison Wrecked by Storm; Injured Dying

(By The Associated Press)

Approximately 40 persons were killed by storms which swept through the South and Middle West yesterday.

Accompanied by tornado blasts that caused great damage to buildings and crops, storms swept points in 11 states—Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Arkansas.

More than 200 persons were reported injured.

RYE COVE, Va., May 2. (AP)—Sweeping into the Nolichuckey valley, a tornado today levelled the Rye Cove Consolidated school, killed 19 children, injured seven so seriously that physicians did not expect them to recover, and left approximately 100 others less seriously hurt.

The tornado struck about one-half mile down the valley from the school, overturned several buildings, taking the roofs from others before ripping the two-story frame school asunder, and strewing the wreckage several hundred yards. Some of the children were blown a hundred feet from the building while others were buried in the debris.

Twelve dead had been identified tonight and seven other bodies were held. Ambulances summoned from Bristol and Kingsport assisted private automobiles and trucks in taking the seriously injured to Clinchport, ten miles away, where a railway train was converted into a hospital to take the injured to Bristol.

The tornado struck the school building about 1 o'clock Central time just after the children had reentered it from the mid-day recess.

Newspapermen who went to the scene from Kingsport, Tenn., found a scene of great confusion. Bodies of the dead had been removed from the wreckage to nearby houses and the injured were being carried to Clinchport. Parents and friends were running about frantically in search of missing children.

TWO PRISONERS KILLED AT JAIL

The storm virtually demolished the west wall of the "U" shaped cell block and blew out a portion of the east wall. Between the walls and the three tiers of cells was a corridor in which a number of prisoners granted the freedom of the building were quartered when the wall collapsed. These prisoners were caught in the falling debris.

Guard Over Hoover Increased After Note Bearer Forces Way Into Office

WASHINGTON, May 2. (US)—Extraordinary precautions for the protection of President Hoover were adopted by the secret service today following the receipt of threatening letters and the effort of a man to force admittance to the president's office.

After being overpowered by police and secret service operatives, the man gave his name as Clarke C. Brown of Climax, Mich. He was committed to a government institution for observation.

The incident created a flurry among hundreds of visitors who had gathered in and about the executive offices to meet and shake hands with the president. Thursday is one of the regular reception days for those who have letters of introduction to the president.

As they were filing through the front office, Brown attempted to force his way in. He had been in earlier in the day and his actions aroused the suspicions of Richard Jervis, in charge of the White House secret service detail. Two police officers at the door chal-

Dispute Over Gas Main to Bring Halt to Work on Scott Bridge

Refusal of the Northern Texas Utility company to move a gas pipe line crossing Wichita river will force a practically complete shut down of work on the new Scott avenue bridge Friday, according to information in the hands of John P. Marrs, county judge, and J. M. Isbell, county engineer, Thursday afternoon. The line stands in the way of the two middle piers where the work of the contractors is next to be directed, Mr. Isbell explained.

Officials of the company have informed George D. Fairtrace, city manager, who has been seeking the removal of the line, that the organization holds a franchise from the state and that the moving of the line is unnecessary, Judge Marrs explained. On the other hand, W. E. George, former city attorney, reported to the judge that a special act of the legislature several years ago awarded jurisdiction of the river bed to the city of Wichita Falls.

Investigations were under way Thursday afternoon in the office of the county attorney, in confer-

CHEMISTS REVEAL 'SHORT CUT' TO CURE OF MANY DISEASES

INTERNAL USE FOR GERMICIDE

Bacteria Destroying Within Body Is Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 2. (AP)—The chemist's hope of a short cut to curing disease by finding chemicals that may be taken internally to kill bacteria without injuring the patient was given a new slant at the American Chemical society today.

It was in a set of newly formulated rules that show how to calculate accurately the toxic and the germ powers of thousands of germicidal compounds.

Specifics Sought

The rules were presented by Dr. Oliver Kahm of Parke, Davis & company of Detroit, and his assistant, A. L. Rawlins. There are seven of them, all involving chemical formulas, affecting alcohols and phenols. The phenols are a group of compounds of which carbolic acid is a familiar example.

"As yet we have made very little progress in destroying bacteria in the body," Dr. Kahm said. "We have means of destroying them in test tubes and in cultures outside the body, but these methods often are not effective upon a patient.

"The hope in the field of medical chemistry is to find a specific germicide for each one of the bacterial diseases, such as scarlet fever, measles and septicemia. For such ills we now have serums, but as yet no chemical agents that will end the infection. We really depend upon nature to develop its own cure."

The United States department of agriculture's discovery of a means to make one of the calcium salts, reducing the cost of manufacture from around $150 a pound to 50 cents, was disclosed today at the convention here.

Essential Remedies

Calcium salts are among essential remedies in medicine and are used as ingredients of many industries. One of them, taken from gluconic acid, never has been available because of the great expense of making this acid. The department now has found how to produce the acid cheaply, and that there are surprising differences in some of the effects of its hitherto inaccessible salt, as compared with those in common use. The discoveries were made by Horace T. Herrick and Orville E. May of the color and farm waste section of the bureau of chemistry and soils.

The newly developed salt, Mr. Herrick said, is the only one which cannot cause abscess when injected into the veins.

LIMIT ON WAR STOCKS ASKED

Opinions Divided Over Limitation

GENEVA, May 2. (UP)—A sharp division of opinion on a method of limiting stocks of war materials arose among the league of nations today.

The United States insisted it can accept only full publicity as a means of limitation.

Germany, Russia and Sweden demanded direct limitation by fixing the maximum number of guns, machine guns, cannon and tanks which each country is allowed to purchase.

The majority of the commission, headed by Japan, Italy and France, insisted on indirect limitation by limiting the budget of each country for expenditure on war supplies.

Hugh S. Gibson, of the United States, speaking against the budgetary proposal, said:

"The United States is convinced that any effort to limit armaments merely by limiting budgets will not only be impractical and ineffective, but will give no true picture of the armaments of any country, owing to differences in the cost of labor and other factors.

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 2.—Oscar Korn, operator of a chain of theaters throughout Texas, has filed a suit in the 99th district court asking damages of $10,000 against William Hoefs, former partner of Korn in the K. and H. theaters circuit.

The partnership of the two men was dissolved May 10, 1928, the petition states, and it is alleged that the plaintiff purchased the interest of the defendant and that the defendant agreed to buy back the Queen theater in Fort Stockton, Texas. The petition charges that the defendant has refused to execute deeds and transfers to the property and has refused to purchase the Fort Stockton property.

Headquarters for the company was located at Slaton prior to the time when the partnership was dissolved.

LUBBOCK HITS BUILDING PEAK

April Permits Soar Over Highest Record

Special to The Record News

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 2.—April building permits in Lubbock set a high mark for any single month in the history of the building of this little city, when Father Time rang down the final count on the month late yesterday and the total showed up to be $935,675.

This is almost double the amount taken out in any other month and is almost as much as the total for the first three months of this year.

With the closing of the month, the year's total stood at $2,061,293, which is a record for the first four months. With only one-third of the year passed, the total is already two-thirds of the record of 1928, which was the highest to that time of any year in the history of Lubbock, it being, $3,197,644.

Two hotel projects formed a big portion of the month's building record, the 14-story Hilton hotel being for $400,000 and a five-story addition to the six-story Lubbock hitel being $222,050. Six permits for apartment house and duplex buildings totaled $82,520. Forty-three residences were started which will cost $156,825, and a large number of repair jobs, additions and remodeling jobs total $74,280, making the grand total for the month $935,675.

Lubbock has been ranking fifth in the state of Texas, for building and the total for the month of April will give this city an even better hold on that position. Only Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth are leading Lubbock, and the city ranking in sixth place is more than a half million dollars behind the Lubbock total.

BOY COLLEGE PRESIDENT FAILS TO FIND 'JAZZ-AGE' TERRIBLE

HUTCHINS SAYS YOUTH 'OKEH'

President-Elect of Chicago U. Presents Views

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(Copyright, 1929, International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 2.—American colleges have their problems but the effect of the so-called jazz age on students is not one of them.

"Nothing to get excited about," sums up the attitude of Robert Maynard Hutchins, "boy dean" of the Yale law school who, at the age of 30, has been appointed president of the University of Chicago, the sixth largest university in the United States. When he takes charge in Chicago he will be the youngest college president in the country.

"I think the standards and ideals of the rank and file of college boys and girls are as high as they ever have been," Dean Hutchins declared in an exclusive interview today.

Youngsters All Right

"The young people are all right. I'm not at all alarmed over the effect of this so-called jazz age on students. We can bank on our young folk."

A tall, slim, handsome, dark-haired chap, exceedingly popular at Yale, the young college president-elect leaned back in his swivel chair in his office overlooking the campus and smilingly "laughed off" suggestions that perhaps the present day crop of college students were going at too fast a pace.

"Not at all," he said, flicking the ashes from his cigaret. In appearance and demeanor Dean Hutchins is wholly unlike the popular conception of the dignified college prexy.

"A Chicago girl student testified at a recent homicide trial that to be popular with the boys nowadays girls must drink, dance and keep late hours," he was reminded. "How about that?"

"Well," he replied, "I confess I may not be right up on the times. I am 10 years older than that lady. But her idea is untrue as far as my experience has indicated. I think the average co-ed is a pretty level-headed person."

Murder Cases Cited

"How about the two university men who were tried in Atlanta recently in what was described as 'murder for a thrill'?" he was asked. "And also that Leopold-Loeb case in Chicago some years back?"

"That doesn't reflect on college life or university training in the slightest," Dean Hutchins answered. "It may show some significance as to the state of modern society. I think the so-called 'thrill murder' was made big news because it was unusual. You rarely find college men doing anything like that. Anybody else could have killed for a thrill—a reporter, a bank clerk or a laborer."

College suicides was then brought up. This reporter asked the youthful looking dean if over-study, fear of examinations or any other factor was responsible for the wave of student suicides some time back.

"I am not a psychiatrist, but I will say that no feature of college life tends to cause suicides," Dean Hutchins replied. "Suicides are not, of course, confined to colleges. In fact, there is the same increase in the number of suicides among shop girls, bankers, clerks and people in all walks of life. The high pressure that many people live under has something to do with it.

Mental Hygiene

"There has been an important development in mental hygiene dealing with this problem. Yale now has four or five psychiatrists who are attached to the department of university health. Men are referred to them by teachers, deans or by the university physician. Or they go of their own accord. This has been going on for three years and we believe it has brought results. Formerly it was impossible to deal with any students who might have a nervous trouble without sending him out of town."

Asked how he stood on college boys owning their own cars, he said: "I'm not excited about that." Asked if he thought colleges should be more strict with students, he declared:

"No. The tendency is to get away from forcing students to educate themselves against their will. What students need is more educational opportunities and less compulsion."

Dean Hutchins assumes his duties as president of the University of Chicago on July 21. He is married and has one daughter, Frances, three years old. His wife, formerly Miss Maude Pheips McVeigh, is a graduate of the Yale school of fine arts. The "boy dean" himself was graduated from Yale in 1921. He served with the ambulance corps in Italy during the world war and was decorated for bravery.

Heads Uni at 30

Robert Maynard Hutchins, new president of the University of Chicago, is but 30 years old. He came from Yale, where he was dean of the law school.

Cut flowers were used in decorating the church for the occasion. Mrs. Blair opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. R. N. Richardson led in the welcome song. "The Powerful Katrinka," represented by Mrs. C. C. Adams, was next on the program, and the song, "When You and I Were Young Maggie," sung by Mrs. R. R. Ramey and enacted by Mrs. W. M. Austin and Mrs. W. M. Bagwell, came next. Following this, Mrs. C. W. Coffee and Mrs Kate Wolf rendered "Mighty Lak a Rose," in pantomime, and Mrs. E. V. Haltom represented in song and dress, "The Last Rose of Summer." The morning service was closed with prayer by Mrs. H. C. Hill, after which luncheon was served to about 20 members and guests.

Mrs. Crawford presided over the afternoon session and gave the Scripture lesson which was taken from the 24th chapter of Luke. Mrs. A. C. Rippy presided over the business session, in which Mrs. C. C. Adams was elected delegate to the district conference which convenes in Burkburnett May 2, and Mrs. W. C. Martin gave her report of the conference which was held in Wichita Falls April 16-19. Mrs. W. M. Bagwell closed the meeting with prayer.

If Hosiery Fades No Matter How Carefully Washed

Simple Way To Stop Fade and "Soap Eat" Even When Ordinary Laundry Soap Is Used

The problem of washing filmy chiffon hosiery has been finally solved. Delicate color tints that formerly faded—no matter how carefully washed—now come through many washings without perceptible sign of fading or "soap eat." Even when ordinary laundry soaps or powders are used.

Under the new method described here, even faintest pastel colors in fine lingerie or delicately tinted hosiery hold fast, according to recent tests, for as many as 50 washings, without noticeable fade or wear.

The method is very simple: To each tubful of water (or washer filled to the water line) you merely add 2 tablespoons of a preparation called CLIMALENE and use just ONE-FOURTH the quantity of soap you ordinarily use. Then proceed with washing as usual. (For small wash basin, use 1 teaspoonful of CLIMALENE.)

This preparation is used by experts to stop fade and soap eat. It acts by converting hard, or semi-hard water to rain water softness and to dissolve grease and dirt. White clothes, washed this way, never grow yellow—but wash pure white. Delicate colors hold fast. You can easily get it at any grocery store. Two sizes, 10c and 25c. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.

RICH YET WHOLESOME WHEN YOU FRY WITH SNOWDRIFT

Croquettes, doughnuts, fish, French fried potatoes—whoever suggested that fried things were hard to digest? No woman, certainly, who uses Snowdrift. No woman, certainly, who's made anything like these Salmon Croquettes:

SALMON CROQUETTES

6 Tablespoons Snowdrift • 2 Tablespoons Chopped Onion
6 Tablespoons Chopped Green Pepper • 2 Cups Mashed Potato
½ Teaspoon Salt • 1 lb. Salmon (Canned)

Cook the onion and green pepper in the Snowdrift until tender. Mix together with the potato, salmon and salt. Cool. Form into any desired shape. Dip in crumbs, egg, and again in crumbs. Fry in deep Snowdrift (390 degrees F.) until well brown. Drain.

Aren't they good? All richly brown outside and tender and good within—so quickly fried there's been no chance for the hot fat to be absorbed. Then you'll notice there's no smoke in your kitchen—for Snowdrift heats to frying temperature long before it begins to smoke or burn. And it's economical, too . . . for, after straining, it can be used again and again, since it doesn't absorb any frying odors.

Tea at Woman's Forum Clubhouse Features Work by Local Artists

By MRS. L. N. CASON
Record News Society Editor

Local artists were featured in the tea given at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Luther Hoffman acted as hostess and introduced each artist and each responded with a few interesting words.

Emil Herman's work needs no description as he is one of the outstanding artists of the city. Probably one of the loveliest pieces of his work displayed was the misty landscape loaned by Mrs. C. E. Basham.

Voyle Armstrong's work was versatile and vivid. His Ohio river views were particularly attractive and he had an autumn landscape that won attention and also a very beautiful winter landscape.

Mrs. Polly Hoffman, who has done typical West Texas landscapes and made a study of the flowers of this country, had a splendid yucca study and a coreopsis picture that was vividly beautiful. Her flower still lifes were also very decorative.

Miss Ethel Chamberlain's work was exquisite; mostly flower work, one greenhouse picture carried the very atmosphere of the scene. She is very versatile and her black and white work attracted much attention.

Mrs. Mary Lou Sanford makes a specialty of portraits and her Pueblo Indian studies are really very remarkable.

Mrs. Schultz had landscape work that was very broad in scope and effective as to detail in the foreground and lovely in colors.

Miss Lois McGaughey's work showed the influence of the Japanese school and the work of the children whom she has taught shows her a splendid teacher. This exhibit of school children's work is altogether an example of good native ability, supplemented by good training. Much impressionistic work is being taught.

C. R. Hayworth's landscapes, one done in the Country Club Estates and one in the Wichita mountains, show a nice precision and very tender greens.

Miss Alice Welty had some very appealing works of handcraft and showed herself a true craftswoman.

Frieda van Emden, who learned wood carving from a Friesland fisherman, exhibited a spoon rack which is an exact replica of one in the Ryks museum in Amsterdam. There were several specimens of her wood carving that showed infinite patience and skill. She taught this craft to wounded soldiers after the war.

William Ort's "Hoover" and the splendid bust of his brother show a real genius. Few have done such good work with the short time of training.

The exhibit was the first given but will be made an annual affair.

Mrs. G. L. Shapard served punch during the social hour.

Among those present were Mesdames G. L. Shapard, E. W. Nicholson, C. C. Jones Jr., C. R. Yauger, G. T. Buchanan, Carrie E. Wilcox, A. B. Duncan, A. C. Price, C. L. Baum, Ben G. Oneal, Charles Pogenpohl, Mack Thomas, W. K. Niles, Harry M. Smith, Louis H. Gould, L. E. Junell, Emil Herman, O. T. Ailes, J. R. Sheldon, Luther Hoffman, H. O. Cravens, A. W. Wyatt, J. Newton Huff, Orville L. Carrico, J. L. Elkins, R. C. Honea, J. J. Maucini, E. Rateliff, H. B. van Emden, W. W. Silk, T. A. Hicks, Kenneth Bebb, J. V. Howell, H. W. Cantwell, C. E. McCutchen, Walter Campbell, Misses Dorothy Campbell, Maude Norred, Dorothy Detweiler Aurora, Ill., and Emil Herman, Wm. Ort and V. N. Armstrong.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

May day and fishing day and a sandstorm and a norther. We know how women felt about the sand and wind and we wonder what men said.

The larkspur stood staunchly against the wind. We passed the Staley home where the boulevard along the front of the sidewalk was full of its lovely flower. Once we went out in the country in Mississippi just at sunset, and stumbled on a negro woman's front yard blooming like a solid carpet in phlox; until we came to Wichita Falls, we thought it the loveliest color combination we had ever seen. But we believe now that the larkspur is more bewilderingly beautiful in masses than any other colored flower.

In an enlightened age, an enlightened country, the home of religious tolerance and the land of freedom, Mr. Heflin takes every opportunity to attack the Catholic church. To his intolerance, he owes the rebuke of the senate when they refused to criticize the reception given Mr. Heflin at Brockton, Mass. The vote against him was 69 to 14 and we are surprised at the 14.

A few miles outside of New York, at Hartsdale, Westchester county, there is an animal cemetery, originally designed for dogs, but now open to any pets. Plots range from $15 up. One large plot is occupied by a $13,000 mausoleum erected by Mrs. M. F. Walsh, widow of a Mt. Vernon realty broker, over her water spaniels, "Sally," "Toodles," and "Jessie." They are referred to in the inscription, as "My dear, little, true, loving hearts who would lick the hand that had no food to offer."

It seems to us, though groceries are high, that $13,000 would buy quite a bit of dog meat.

We too love dogs; but we love children more.

Though Soviet Russia has not been recognized by our state department American marriages made there stand good. We read just lately of a Chilean who sought a divorce there and received it in 20 minutes at a cost of 15 cents.

The manager of a theater in Budapest was fined lately for having maligned the whole profession of dentists. He had produced a play in which one of the characters said, "In my youth, I had scientific ambitions, but I deteriorated and became a dentist."

On Tuesday, we met a turtle (some one argued that it was a terrapin) crossing Eleventh street. We've been wondering ever since if it reached its detination.

At the last luncheon and "Poet's Day" of the Writers' department of the forum, a new writer gave a group of poems that every hearer really enjoyed. They were not just rhyme; there was soul in each poem. And now we hear that in Kaleidoscope, a National Magazine of Poetry, "After Death" by Fay Yauger, will soon appear.

Woman's Golf Club Holds Regular Meeting

Trying out on archery was the new stunt of the Woman's Golf association of the Country club which met for the regular Thursday game and luncheon.

The luncheon tables were unusually lovely with corn flowers used for decorations. The table glass was in lovely green crystal. Covers were laid for Mesdames John Waggoner, W. P. Bolding, Harold Ruehl, Joe Hatchitt, R. A. King, L. O. Landon, R. L. Hargraves, R. L. Dillard, C. O. Davis, H. F. Weldon, Fred Couper and E. Garonzik.

After the luncheon, the ladies putted and in the contest, Mrs. Fred Couper won the low score and the ball. After members tried their hands at testing the new bows and arrows. No trophy was offered.

The association announced a flag tournament next Thursday. Members will play for the trophy presented by the Kirby Jewelry company.

P.-T. A. at Austin Closes Year's Work With Fine Program

Austin School P.-T. A. held the best meeting of the school year Wednesday, presenting as a farewell program, "Child Health," in keeping with national "Child Health Day." Mrs. R. A. Lincoln, retiring president, presided and Mrs. P. M. Cordell, retiring first vice president, had charge of the program.

The meeting opened by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison, after which Miss Mattilyn Wilson's junior orchestra, which won first prize at the junior chamber of commerce contest held Tuesday in Scotland park, played several numbers. The prize, which was a blue bonnet picture, was on display during the afternoon with the blue ribbon denoting first place. The junior orchestra consists of the following third and fourth grade children, led by Joe Smith: Catherine Cordell, Nettie Maxine Baber, Mary Frances Lincoln, Lula Lee Cooper, Mildred Fox, Douglas Frame, Juanita Hayes, Mary Tom Fuqua, Mabel Louise Johnson, Ruth Thomas, Marjorie Beth Jennings, Mary E. Kolb, Dick Wallis, Evelyn J. Hawkins, Marcella Smith, Zelma Jetter, Margaret Martin, Jeanette Taylor, Nelson Colter, Helen Garner, Frank Harvey, Ralph Hines, Ralph Caldwell, M. L. Davis, Jr., Lester Deaton, Marjorie Cecil, Janeice Taylor, John A. O'Brien, Harold Thoms, Paul Raley, Joy Campbell, O. T. Jones, Frank Caldwell, Alice G. Luther.

A health play called "The Little Gray Microbe," was presented by a group of Austin children under the direction of Miss Winnie Biggerstaff. Those taking part were Helen Garner, Sammy Gilford, Raymond Sand, Dorothy Yarbrough, Frances Gant, Erma Osteen, E. J. Fisher, Billy Neal Powers and Elmo Lewis.

Miss Biggerstaff made an interesting talk on "Proper and Improper Diet," using Austin's two white rats as examples of the result of right and wrong foods.

A business session followed during which final reports were heard from Mesdames W. J. Howard, finance chairman; Bert King, treasurer; J. T. Osteen, health; H. R. Cloughley, publicity; J. L. Fooshee, membership; P. M. Cordell, program chairman, all of whom are retiring officers.

Miss Bessie Stewart, principal of Austin school, made a speech of appreciation to the mothers of the club for their assistance and cooperation at all times.

A rising vote of thanks was enthusiastically given Mrs. R. A. Lincoln, retiring president of the club, for her efficient leadership during the past year.

Formal installation of officers was not held as usual because of the absence, due to illness, of Mrs. R. L. Underwood, president. Mrs. Lincoln introduced formally all other officers who are: Mesdames E. C. deMontel, first vice president; J. G. Clark, second vice president; H. C. Hammond, third vice president; W. E. Timblin, treasurer, and W. R. Bradford, publicity chairman.

Attendance prizes were awarded to the rooms taught by Misses Mary Denny, Lois Woodward, Zoe Liles and Florence Datson Reisen, in which rooms the prizes will remain until after the first meeting in September.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, May 2. (US)—A young wife killed herself last week because she never got to go to night clubs or dances, and she felt cheated. All she had was a good home and some pretty children, tiny ones, who "tied her down." She couldn't wait for them to grow up and then have a good time with them. Her idea of heavenly happiness was evening clothes and flowers and music and dancing and theaters.

Another woman of the same age, living in luxury, decided life was a distinct bore and she had had enough of it. Her reason was that her days were filled with bridge and luncheons and teas and her nights with parties and theaters and she met the same people all the time and got all tired out for nothing. If she stayed at home people would forget her, and if she didn't return their parties they wouldn't invite her. She knew of no substitute for this routine except loneliness.

If only these two could have got together somehow, and talked the whole thing over!

"The trouble with New York," said a lady who doesn't like it, "is that the people who live here think that they have already inherited the earth, so there is no longer any necessity of their being meek."

Constance Bennett, who is divorcing Philip Plant, and who names the settlement as "something like a million," calls her husband dear. He can't deny that she is. Which sounds entirely compatible for a pair divorced on grounds of being incompatible. Perhaps they meant uncombatable.

A Chicago woman demands alimony from her first husband for herself and her second husband. The court refused to help her when she complained that the money stopped when she married again.

She might have asked number one to send over half his neckties and a few of his suits, but she didn't. She's nice that way.

Chicago alderman says that women on bathing beaches are entirely out of control. So if they "just wear something or other," it will be all right.

If they don't like hats they can wear gloves or shoes, and if they don't like any of them, they can get hair nets or half hose. Anything it will most likely be other than something.

We Women

By BETTY BRAINERD

Out of the News

It is a popular belief that those couples are happiest who have identical interests in life.

Well, there is an unusual exception to the rule—if it is a rule.

In New York there is a doctor who for 18 years has been married to a woman who is also a doctor.

For 16 years they have practised medicine at the same address.

They had their separate practises and until two years ago maintained a partnership.

Now, after 18 years of married life, she wants a divorce. The partnership has already been dissolved by court order.

The analogy between marriage and a business partnership is singularly clear in this case.

To have been successful in a business sense it would have had to be a 50-50 proposition. On this score the courts two years ago found in favor of the wife and now she is suing for divorce on the ground that her husband has also been unwilling to make marriage a 50-50 affair.

It seems he was more interested in other things than he was in the one thing in which they presumably were commonly interested.

There is a young man in Massachusetts who likes to read love letters so much that for some time he has been breaking open mail boxes to get his favorite kind of literature.

Recently he was arrested and told all.

When caught by the police he said he stole missives from letter boxes "because I like to read love letters." He had ten especially good specimens of amatory literature on his person.

As interested as I am in the peculiar depravity of a young man who will steal love letters addressed to unknown people, I am even more curious to know if the police sent the letters to the persons to whom they were originally addressed.

And if they did this, what will they do for evidence?

There seems to be a fine point of some sort involved here, but just what it is I don't know. I'd like to know.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

Muscians Club Has Lovely Luncheon and Program at Forum

No more beautiful setting for a musical program and delightful luncheon has been offered than that at the Woman's Forum clubhouse on Thursday when the Musicians club held its annual luncheon there. The stage was a bower of pink roses and masses of them also were used around the rooms.

The tables, covered in pastel shades, had each a center basket, filled with pink roses. Place cards were smart silhouettes of orchestra leaders with batons in their hands and on each place card was a clever verse. The programs were most original in design, being silhouettes in black and white, each of some musical instrument.

A musical program was offered during the luncheon, beginning with a surprise number not mentioned on the program, a group of songs by Honey Boy and Sassafras.

The "Flower Song," from Faust, was sung by Mrs. C. N. Cameron, with Miss Katherine Orr at the piano and the violin obbligato by Mesdames J. E. Hall, Fred Sharp, Edwin Bebb, J. V. C. T. Christensen and Miss Maybelle Bartlett.

Following was a lovely interpretive dance by Elizabeth Gaffield. The Ensemble players delighted the audience next. Mrs. O. B. Keil was at the piano with Mesdames C. E. Nichols, Josette Bonner, A. M. Miller and Bruce Greenwood playing violins.

Mrs. Ben Bell was general chairman for the event and introduced Mrs. Clarence Beavers, the out-going president, who gave a resume of the year's work accomplished by the club. Mrs. Edwin Bebb, 1929-30 president, was next introduced and talked of the club future. Mrs. W. C. Hamilton gave a review of next year's yearbook.

AGE SMITES VANITY HARD

But It Can Survive Wrinkles and Gray Hair

Vanity Can Survive the Shock of the First Gray Hair, of Crow's Feet and a Double Chin, but a Woman's Ego Is Definitely Squashed When She learns that She Looks Old to Others.

Not so long ago the newspapers told the story of a woman who attempted suicide because in going through an old trunk she came across a photograph of herself taken when she was a girl, and the contrast was so great between it and herself that it drove her to desperation. She looked at the picture of this slim, lithe, young creature with starry eyes and curling locks and from it her own reflection in the mirror ,which showed a fat old woman in spectacles and with lanky hair, and she got up and went into the kitchen and reached down the rough-on rats bottle.

A group of women who were—well not flappers—were discussing with sympathy this peculiarly feminine reaction to the shock of seeing oneself as one used to be, for every woman admitted she had had a similar impulse under similar circumstances, and then, with a twisted smile on their lips, they began to tell of that awful moment that comes to every woman when she suddenly realizes how she looks to other people, and that they no longer see her as young and beautiful.

Of course, before that there has been the tragedy of the first gray hair. And one has decided to have facial massages regularly, not that those little lines at the corners of the eyes really show, or because the face has begun to sag, but just because it rests one so. And one has begun that awful nightmare of counting one's calories, but one has deluded oneself with the idea that these were secrets between one and one's soul, and that nobody noticed that one wasn't still sweet and 20.

Then out of the blue the stroke falls. Some tactless hand drops a bomb that shatters all of one's little complacencies, and gives one a closeup of how one looks to the casual observer, and it is a jolt that jars a woman from center to circumference, and she is never the same again.

"I'll never forget how I got my bad news that I looked like an old woman," said one woman. "I am small and I was then thin, so I had what we would now call a boyish figure. True, my hair was turning gray, but I reflected that many people have prematurely white hair, so that didn't really date a person, and as I am still as light on my feet as a child and filled with an intense enjoyment of life, it had positively never occurred to me that anybody could think of me as being old.

Well, my awakening came on a railway journey. In the section opposite mine was a tired and sickly young woman with a man and sickly little baby that fretted and cried continually until the poor mother was at the point of exhaustion. Filled with pity for her I went over and asked her to let me take care of the baby while she freshened herself up and got some luncheon, which she was only too glad to do.

"The boy was contented with me and I kept it for a couple of hours, and at last, restored by food and a nap and a bath, the mother came over to get the child, and wishing to say something real nice and flattering and appreciative to me, she held out her hands to the child and said:

"'Who's got you baby? Has Grandma got you?' "And I pledge you my word that nothing but the grace of God kept me from throwing that baby out of the window. Anyway, I staggered off the train at the end of my destination a broken old woman that the porter had to help off."

"My rude awakening came from an old sweetheart," said another woman. "I hadn't seen John for twenty years. Not since he went away to die of a broken heart when I refused him for the last time, and so when I knew I was to meet him again I dolled myself up in my most becoming clothes, and took off my eyeglasses, and as I took my last peek in my vanity and put another dab of powder on my nose and a fresh line of lipstick, I just knew that I hadn't changed a particle.

"But John had. He was fat and paunchy and bald-headed and triple-chinned, and he took off his spectacles, and put on a stronger pair to give me the once over. And after a bit, giving him the smile that he used to find so irresistible, I said:

"'John, do you think I have changed? Would you have known me anywhere?' To which he replied: 'Lord, yes; you certainly have altered. I never would have known you in the world. Why, when you were a girl you were the prettiest thing I ever saw!'"

"A sister woman dealt the lethal blow to my vanity," said a third woman. "My husband died when I was very young, and I considered myself a fascinating and alluring young widow who might be dangerous to any man's peace of mind. I was staying at a resort hotel at a resort in Europe at which there was a giddy young girl who was much gossiped about. One day she came to me and exclaimed: 'Oh, Mrs. X, how I wish I was like you, so old and plain that no man would ever be attracted to me and nobody would ever think about a man having an affair with me!'"

"It is heaven's mercy to us that we can't see ourselves as others see us," said the fourth woman, "a fact that I had forcibly impressed upon me last summer when I met an old gentleman who, many years before, had visited my home town. He kept asking me if I knew a girl of my own name, whom he had met and whom he described as a young person of ravishing charms. Tickled pink, I exclaimed: 'Why, I am that girl! How wonderful of you to remember me!'

"'Nonsense,' he cried testily, 'not at all. You don't look like her in the least. Why, she was perfectly beautiful and had the loveliest complexion and the most perfect figure I ever saw.' Can you tie that? And I, who pride myself on still being a perfect 38 and have spent a million dollars more or less on keeping the skin you love to touch."

"A young girl gave me my knock-out," said the fifth woman, "and she was such a darling and she was trying so hard to be polite to one she obviously regarded as a Lady Methuselah and to make interesting conversation with an ancient. She said to me: 'Mrs. B., will you please tell me something about the olden times? What did people do in those days? And I was kidding myself that I looked like one of the younger generation myself."

"Isn't it funny," said the first woman, "how we all want to be thought young and how we hate for people to tell us that we look old? Yet no woman ever knows real happiness until after she is 50 years old and doesn't care who knows it."

CLARK'S TRIAL HEARS BANKER

Ardmore Man Testifies As To Loan to Jurist

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 2. (UP)—An Ardmore banker, O. H. Wolverton, was the first witness counsel of J. W. Clark placed on the stand to defend the suspended supreme court justice against 10 charges being considered by the Oklahoma senate impeachment court.

The defense by questioning Wolverton attempted to show the $500 campaign fund contribution collected by Hugh A. Ledbetter, Ardmore attorney now disbarred as a result of the contribution, was deposited to Ledbetter's account and used by him for personal expenses.

Records Produced

That the money supposedly donated by Wirt Franklin, oil operator, to aid in Clark's re-election, never reached Clark will be one of the chief points of the defense, Chief Counsel J. B. Dudley said.

Wolverton produced bank records showing that Ledbetter made a $500 deposit August 11, 1926. Cancelled checks were introduced to show that all this money had been withdrawn in small amounts without any of it going to Clark.

Affidavits stated Ledbetter had no account in any other bank.

The banker on cross-examination said he did not recall of the bank ever having made loans to the attorney during that period. He was directed to send the court a record of any loans made to Ledbetter.

Early Opinion Asked

Cham Jones, Duncan house member, who, as district judge sustained a demurrer in the Franklin-Empire oil case testified he asked Justice Fletcher Riley and Commissioner Diffendaffer if an early opinion would be given in the case.

O. J. Logan, attorney for Murray Gin company, testified he asked Chief Justice Branson if any early opinion could be rendered in the case in the fall of 1928. Branson replied since it was a political year and the justices had been on vacations, the opinion probably would not come down soon, Logan said.

Jones and Logan denied they had accepted or had solicited fees to lobby for an opinion favorable to Franklin.

Jones testified when he asked Riley about the status of the case, Riley replied:

"That is what is wrong with Franklin's case. There has been too damn much intercession in it."

Jones ended his testimony with a statement he did not approach either Riley or Diffendaffer with any ulterior intentions.

W. A. Ledbetter followed Logan on the stand. He testified concerning his brother's disbarment and his efforts to get him reinstated. Hugh A. Ledbetter was disbarred for an affidavit in the H. Bart Martin contempt case which alleged he had paid Justice Clark a campaign contribution while Clark had the Franklin case in which to write an opinion.

'Death Valley Scotty's' Million Dollar Shack

Down in the depths of Death valley, the nation's most desolate and heat-stricken area, 100 artisans are at work on the latest exploit of colorful "Death Valley Scotty"—erection of a million-dollar shack. Scotty says it's "just a winter home for me and my partner, Albert Johnson, millionaire Chicago insurance magnate, and we're splitting the cost 50-50." Scotty's source of wealth has remained a mystery since the days 20 years ago when he first amused the nation with special limited trains and plain and fancy spending. GEMS WORN ON DAINTY BACKS

New Jewelry Craze Sweeps European Resorts

LONDON, May 2. (US)—Jewelry to adorn milady's dainty backbone is the latest fashion craze which is sweeping Belgravia. The craze—marking a complete revolution in jewelry fashions—was wafted in from Le Touquet by the breezes from over the channel. Le Touquet, incidentally, is becoming one of the most fashionable resorts of the northern coast of France.

In the latest fashion freak, diamond necklaces are fastened around the neck in such a way that the long loop or ends hang down the spine between the shoulder blades.

Large diamond brooches studded with rubies, sapphires or emeralds are pinned so that they hold the deep "V" decolletage together at the back, very near the waistline. Also imitation jewelry is being used to edge the back decolletage in many of this season's evening dresses.

The vogue of wearing jewelry backwards is due to the fact that the Paris and London dress designers have concentrated all their attention this season on the backs of women's frocks rather than on the fronts.

SYMPATHY FOR THUGS SCORED

Chicago Prosecutor Says We Are Soft Hearted

CHICAGO, May 2. (UP)—Sympathy for a rat is opportune only when he is in a trap where he will behave and likewise we should feel sorry for criminals only when they are confined in jail cells, State's Attorney John A. Swanson told a gathering of ministers here.

The prosecutor's speech was made in answer to the critics of his five-months' administration of the office he took over on the promise to "wipe out bootlegging, racketeering and crime in Chicago." Too much sympathy for criminals encourage crime, he said.

"Youth," he declared, "is the outstanding contributor to our last 10 years of increasing felony and law defiance. Every man and woman in the country, particularly if they are parents, should ponder that well.

"It is a direct challenge to the American home and to the forces of law and order, for these children are suffering from the lack of a lesson they were never taught at home—respect for authority. Probably 80 per cent of offenders and felons today are under 25 years of age.

Swanson said that too many persons are getting soft-hearted and that their philosophical ideas are encouraging rather than deterring crime. He disagreed with scientists who claim that the criminal is "not bad but sick."

"We as a people are getting soft," he said. "Softness and philosophical, sentimental nonsense often are behind not only law breaking but public condoning of crime after they have been committed.

"Concern for the criminal rather than concern for the society he has defied, clamor for saving him rather than the law; emphasis upon the tragedy of his fate instead of his victim's are common examples of this soft thinking.

"Let us be sorry for criminals, yes. But as we feel sorry for a mad dog. We don't arbitrate with him. We can be sorry for a rat but the trap is the only place he will behave."

Swanson announced that establishment three weeks ago of a felony court had eliminated practice of long delays in trying such cases and predicted that the system would prove effective in his war against crime.

"The system," he explained, "eliminates one bond period, saving money for the innocent defendant and giving the guilty one so much less time and freedom to work for the defeat of justice.

I think I can confidently predict that when this system is perfected the average case will be brought to trial within two weeks of the time the crime is committed."

The KING of FOOD FISH

*PINK Salmon is rich in protein, phosphorous and iodine and is highly recommended by U. S. Government officials for the diet of children and adults.

Deliciously Nutritious and Appetizing—

Tender and flavory, canned PINK Salmon comes to you right from the icy waters of the north Pacific Ocean. Here is the most delicious and nutritious sea food you ever ate—packed and vacuum-cooked so none of the rich, natural oils and delicate flavors of the fresh fish have any chance of being lost. You will notice this freshness every time you open a can.

PINK Salmon is an excellent and economical food. It is richer in protein or muscle and tissue-building elements than most any other food you can mention of anything near equal value—and costing much more to buy. The iodine content of PINK Salmon is also most important, being recommended in the diet of children and adults as a preventive of goiter.

BOGEY OF FINANCIAL CRISIS UNNERVES GERMAN CAPITALISTS

JAPS PREDICT MONEY CRASH

Panic Would Involve U. S., Delegates Say

PARIS, May 2. (UP)—A German financial crisis, which probably would spread to other countries and eventually involve the United States was foreseen today by the Japanese delegates to the conference of reparations experts in the event the current negotiations collapse.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press, Setsuichi Aoki and Baron Matsui said that already German capitalists were seized with "capital fright" at the prospect of a possible collapse of the conference. They said that the amount of capital exported from Germany to Switzerland and London during the past two weeks amounted to more than $100,000,000.

The Japanese experts said that a financial collapse in Germany soon would spread to other countries and eventually would involve the United States.

Rigid Yellow Fever Quarantine Gives Buenos Aires 'Black Eye' From Press

By HARRY E. GOLDFLAM
Universal Service Writer

BUENOS AIRES, May 2.—The recrudescence of yellow fever in Rio de Janeiro is responsible for the wholesale quarantining of every ship which has touched at a Brazilian port, on her arrival at this city.

Out in Buenos Aires roads there is a continual fleet of passenger and cargo ships, some with as many as 200 passengers on board. The health authorities insist on them remaining in the roads for six days.

To amuse the passengers on their enforced vigil dances are organized, sports meetings held, radio programs broadcast. But for the humbler cargo-boats there is nothing but gloom. The hateful little yellow flag remains at the yardarm, and for six long days it must remain there until the medical officers of the port give the ship pratique.

Yellow Fever Spreads

Alarm first spread this year when cases of yellow fever commenced to be reported from Rio De Janeiro. The disease has always been present in some form or other in the Brazilian capital, but this year it is more potent that it has been for some years. The official figures as from Jan. 1 to April 1 gave 193 cases reported. In the month of March there were 97 deaths reported.

With a maximum inoculation period of six days, the authorities decided to place a ban on all ships touching at Rio, that port being four days' sail from Buenos Aires, ships therefore having but two days' quarantine on arrival here, providing they carried Argentine doctors, sent from this port to board the ships at Rio. A few days later cases were reported from Santos, and then reports came through of cases at Para, Victoria, Pernambuco, and from practically every seaport on the Brazilian coast. The local authorities thereupon placed all Brazil in quarantine, both by land and sea, and travellers coming overland through North Argentine are held up for six days as well as those coming through the ports.

Authorities Ridiculed

Meanwhile, not a case has been reported as entering Argentina. The ships fulfill their quarantine period and enter port. The overland travellers are pronounced in sanitary condition and allowed entry. And the local health department finds itself in a quandry, it not knowing how to stop a quarantine that should never have been enforced, and which has drawn condemnation even from such organs as La Prensa, the republic's most powerful and popular newspaper. That paper holds the health authorities up to ridicule, stigmatises the new regulations as out of date and obnoxious, and avers that Argentina has gone back 50 years in her health rules.

The last case of yellow fever reported in this country was in 1872, one year after the epidemic. We have no stagnant water here, little tropical heat and a negligible quantity of mosquitoes. As stated, no case of yellow fever has been found on any ship or in any part of the republic, yet the quarantine restrictions are as stringent as if the plague were here in force.

In the roads cargo-steamers loaded with fruit, principally bananas, are watching their precious freight perish, being denied entry. The fruit is being dumped into the waters of the Plate, and at present we are in the throes of a banana famine.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 2. (UP)—Two warrants charging murders were sworn out here today in connection with the killing of August Bruck, former lieutenant of the ex-rum king, George Remus, who was found shot to death in a room in the Gibson hotel here yesterday.

The warrants were obtained by Bruck's wife, Lottie, of Newport, Ky., and named Joseph Plunkett, son of a former Chicago police captain, and a man known as Edward D. Hall, of Ottawa, Kan.

Bruck was killed in a room rented Monday by Plunkett, and the two, with Hall, are known to have held a conference or party in the room a few hours before the murder.

Eastern Railways Ask Permission To Effect Grain Rate Reductions

WASHINGTON, May 2. (INS)—In anticipation of having to handle an abnormally large grain crop at the next harvest and to move the surplus now on hand, eastern railway presidents and executives at a meeting here today decided to ask the Interstate Commerce commission for authority to make deductions on short notice of five and one half cents a hundred pounds on all rail reshipping rates from Chicago to New York for export.

They will ask reductions between these two points from 22½ cents to 17 cents per hundred, maintaining present relationships to other north Atlantic ports. Reshipping rates from St. Louis to New York would be reduced from 26½ cents per hundred pounds to 20 cents, retaining existing relationships to other north Atlantic ports.

The present tariffs expire by limitation on Sept. 30, 1929.

"My! you look lovely to-night"

SHE knew the compliment to be true—for the last pimple had vanished.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you must realize that the logical cause may come from the blood.

A clear, smooth, velvety skin bespeaks loveliness. Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. Hope, joy, happiness, and even love, may depend on the possession of a clear, unblemished skin.

On the other hand—skin eruptions are outward evidences of the condition within. Authorities state it is an indication that the body's power of resistance to disease and infection is low. Meaning, that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to diseases.

Made from fresh vegetable drugs

S.S.S. is Nature's own tonic for improving the appetite, building strength, and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, by increasing the red-cells of the blood.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

19 CHILDREN DIE IN STORM

Rye Cave, Ky., Shoal Hit By Storm

away it appeared that this report was unfounded.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., REPORTS TWO DEAD

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 2. (U)—Two persons were killed and 10 or 12 injured during a windstorm which struck the outskirts of this city late today.

Mathew Hoeser and an unidentified woman were killed in Jacksonville Heights, a suburb.

Several houses were demolished in Venetia, Jacksonville Heights and other suburbs.

BOY KILLED, OTHERS HURT AT WOODVILLE, FLA.

CULPEPPER, Va., May 2. (U)—One boy was killed and an unknown number of persons injured when a storm demolished the high school building at Woodville, near here, today. The Episcopal church of the town was said to have been blown from its foundation.

MANY HOUSES RAZED BY WIND

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 2. (U)—Dozens of houses were wrecked and an undetermined number of persons injured by a tornado which struck Morgantown early tonight.

Early reports told of no deaths.

The Morgantown Country Club, a $200,000, property almost was demolished. William Fransen, the club steward, suffered slight injuries. Between 30 and 40 persons in the clubhouse escaped. About 20 persons on the golf course when the storm struck escaped by seeking protection behind bunkers and hugging the earth.

Among homes destroyed in Evansdale, a suburb, was the old Dille homstead, one of West Virginia's land marks which has stood since revolutionary days.

From Evansdale, the gale ripped through the industrial district of the city where heavy damage was reported and then crossed the Monongahela river to Riverside, another suburb. Between 15 and 20 houses were reported wrecked at Riverside.

An accurate check of casualties was impossible.

TORNADOES STRIKE SOUTHERN STATES

ATLANTA, Ga., May 2. (UP)—High winds whipped parts of four southern states east of the Mississippi today, roaring out of the west to take lives, destroy property and cause suffering.

Reports from Gate City, Va., said that a score of school children had been trapped in a school house near there and many killed.

In southeastern Alabama a tornado swept Baldwin county and the gulf coast near Pensacola, Fla., at least one life was lost at Oak, Ala., and more than a score were reported injured. A freighter was blown aground in Pensacola harbor.

Near Johnson City, Tenn., the same twister is believed to have struck mountain towns, causing reports of at least two dead, and many injured.

Winds of more than 40 miles an hour velocity swept other parts of the South. At Atlanta, two persons were injured as it swept down signs.

A toll of two dead, eight injured and several missing, as well as a dozen homes destroyed by a severe windstorm at Embreeville, Tenn., and vicinity, 10 miles south of Johnson City at noon today was reported. Milton Cook, 16, was killed and Charles Gossett critically injured at LaFayette, Ga., when they were struck by a tree uprooted by the wind.

Baldwin county, Alabama, east of Mobile, counted at least one person dead when Isreal Nuss of Oak, Ala., a farmer, was killed when a windstorm nearing tornado intensity swept over that section. Mrs. Randell Homcock and her baby, occupants of the house in which Nuss was killed, were injured so seriously that they may die.

Damage to crops and other property in the county was described as extensive. The postoffice at Lillian, Ala., was wrecked, and a residence blown down, trapping five occupants, who were injured. All communication lines to Oak, Bonsecour, Miflin, Perdido Beach, Orange Point and Lillian were blown down. Relief parties were organized at Bay Minette to care for the injured.

Pensacola felt the force of a 56-mile gale, sending the American steamship West Madaket ashore in shallow water. County Judge Robert Stout was rendered unconscious but not seriously hurt when the wind forced his car off a boulevard into the water.

The two fatalities near Johnson City were Mrs. Tilda Storey, 58, and an infant, Benjamin Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Springer, who were badly injured as well as their other three children, Samuel, Floyd and Bessie.

The twister, which followed the course of the Nola Chuckey river south of Embreeville, left the water route at the end of the Cherokee mountain and literally wiped out the settlement known as Cherokee. The homes of more than a score were badly damaged, with many being completely demolished and scattered over the valley for almost a mile. More than a dozen persons received minor injuries.

The Springer family was brought to a hospital at Johnson City where a relief fund was started. Red Cross workers from Johnson City and surrounding communities were rushed to the stricken area.

SNOW BLANKETS MIDDLE WEST

CHICAGO, May 2. (UP)—The four winds swept over the Midwest and Southwest today bringing freakish spring weather conditions in territories untouched by the tornadoes that dealt death and destruction in the old South.

Heavy snow blanketed parts of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana; frigid gales lashed the shores of the Great Lakes and unusual weather prevailed from the Gulf of Mexico to Northern Indiana.

Damage to crops, property and communication lines was beyond estimate.

Residents of Missouri towns took their snow-shovels out of basements to clear the heaviest snowfall ever recorded in the month of May. Four inches of snow fell at St. Louis and six inches at Springfield, Mo. A rise in temperature late in the day turned the snow to slush.

Cherry, peach and apple trees were in bloom and it was believed much of the Missouri fruit crop would be lost.

Factories and other industrial establishments in Wichita Falls, in which more than 20 labor unions are represented by 2,000 employees, held open house all day Thursday for inspection by hundreds of school children and adults in celebration of "Labor and Industries" day.

The Kraft cheese factory, the window glass factory, and others reported large numbers of visitors throughout the day, children being in the majority. Archer City, Henrietta, Fairview, and Clara schools had notified junior chamber of commerce officials here that delegations of students from those places would be here Thursday. No accurate report as to the number from each out-of-town school present could be obtained, but those in charge of various local plants confirmed the report that the delegations had visited many industrial concerns.

Labor Honored

Members of the Trades and Labor council of Wichita Falls distributed more than 2,000 copies of a pamphlet of greetings addressed to the industries of the city, and mailed copies to members of the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce.

ence with Judge Marrs, to determine the exact legal status of the claims of the county and city as well as of the company.

After a consultation with engineers at the bridge, Mr. Isbell reported that the building of a coffer dam, holding back the water and sand for the construction of the pier's foundation is impossible until the line is moved. He said the builders did not dare put in any construction work over the line as it is laid. Meanwhile work was slowed down all day Thursday and will be almost at a standstill Friday, the engineer declared. The line in question makes a bend against the current in mid-river, Mr. Isbell explained, bringing it into conflict with work already well under way on the bridge.

Judge Marrs said Thursday afternoon that officials of the company had formerly agreed to move the line for the sum of $100, but had later refused to sign a contract along such lines.

Efforts were being made Thursday evening to bring company and construction engineers into agreement about the necessity for moving the line in an attempt to avoid any legal dispute, Judge Marrs declared.

President More Closely Guarded

lenged him as he attempted to pass. Jervis and other officers overpowered him.

They found threatening notes to the president. One said that unless the president would do certain things the writer "would clean up the White House quicker than a cat would clean up for a rat." The note was in the same handwriting as a threatening letter the president had received.

This is the second attempt to reach the president since he entered the White House. A few weeks ago a neatly dressed man walked unchallenged by the police guard at the executive mansion and into the dining room, where the president was alone. The president talked with him until guards came in and he was ushered out. This incident resulted in the complete reorganization of the White House police and the transfer of many of the older officers.

As the result of the affair of today the White house intends to greatly reduce or abandon altogether the promiscuous handshaking and reception of a number of people without any particular mission.

Husband and Wife Benefited By Orgatone

"We Both Want to Recommend It. For It Has Been a Blessing to Both of Us," Says Wichita Falls Woman.

"My husband and I both think Orgatone is the greatest medicine there is and do not want to be without it," said Mrs. G. W. Jones, of 1408 Fifth street, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"My husband suffered from kidney and stomach trouble. He had to be very careful of what he ate, and had dizzy and bilious spells, and was just in a run-down condition. I suffered from a bad case of indigestion and had heartburn. I had a very poor appetite, and had to limit my food to just certain things, or I would suffer severely after every meal. I had terrible headaches, and dizzy and bilious spells. I always had a tired, worn-out, lazy feeling, and didn't seem to have the proper strength. I had the 'flu' about Christmas time, and since then my general condition has been very run down. I took all kinds of medicines, and doctors' treatments, but just couldn't seem to gain back my strength.

"Orgatone was recommended by every one so highly, we decided to get a bottle and give it a trial. We have just taken three bottles together, and have certainly improved. My husband, eats anything he wants now, and hasn't a sign of kidney disorders. He sleeps fine, and says he never wants to be without Orgatone. As for me, I'm like a different person. I have more pep and energy of a morning and feel like getting up and going to work. I eat anything now, and don't have a sign of my headaches. We both are relieved of our dizzy and bilious spells, and constipation. We both want to recommend Orgatone, for it has been a blessing in our case."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific kelp treatment and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by Allison's Drug store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.—Adv.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are overstimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

CHARGES AGAINST NICHOLS, HOSTLER AND PRYOR REDUCED

CASES SET IN COURT HERE

Simple Robbery Alleged In Indictments

Robbery with firearms allegations in indictments against Ed Pryor, former Electra constable, and against R. B. Nichols and Fred Hostler, Wichita Falls youths, will be waived by the state in the coming trials and simple robbery charges accepted instead, Sam B. Spence, district attorney, announced Thursday.

Special Venires Eliminated

In waiving the "with firearms" clause in the indictments the state removes the offenses out of the capital punishment classification and makes the calling of special venires in all the trials unnecessary, Mr. Spence explained. The punishment involved in a conviction for robbery calls for a prison term of from 5 to 99 years; while robbery with firearms may be legally punished by death, the district attorney added.

The elimination of the special venires will mean a considerable saving to the state in the cost of summoning from 50 to 150 men in each of the cases, it was explained. Pryor is to be tried for the alleged holdup of J. B. Early, employe of the Jefferson hotel in Electra, last summer. The trial, continued last week because of the illness of Pryor's wife, has been reset for May 27. Nichols and Hostler, accused of the robbery of the Spoonts Drug store last Christmas night, are to be tried next week. Trial of Hostler on another indictment growing out of the same affair, several weeks ago, resulted in an acquittal. Two earlier trials of Nichols ended in hung juries.

Mr. Spence Thursday afternoon confirmed his previous setting of the trials of T. O. Cagle, charged with burglary, and of Mae Hart, indicted for receiving and concealing stolen property, for the week beginning May 20. The cases against Cagle come first on the docket. The date for the trial of C. A. Wright, indicted with Cagle on one count and separately accused in another bill on similar charges, has not been set. A third indictment against him, charging that he is an habitual criminal, is to be sought by the state when the grand jury is recalled next week.

Dockets for May 20

Other cases set for the week of May 20 include:

T. O. Cagle alias Richard Newman, burglary of private residence at night; Jimmie Walker, theft over $50; Douglas Harvill, theft over $50; Mae Hart, receiving and concealing stolen property over $50; Fred Houstler, robbery; R. B. Nichols, robbery; Henry Marshall, disposing of mortgaged property; Sam Williams, E. P. Williams, burglary; Walter Painter, assault to murder; J. T. Reynolds, Lloyd Hooker, possession and transportation of whisky; Neal Gaynor, receiving and concealing stolen property over $50; Tom Shook, et al, bond forfeiture.

ALMAZAN AT AGUA PRIETA

Federal Commander Goes Through Pulpito Pass

BISBEE, Ariz., May 2. (AP)—General Juan Andreu Almazan, with 5,000 federal troops, has arrived at Agua Prieta, Sonora, from Pulpito Pass, said reports received in Bisbee from Douglas, Ariz., this afternoon.

ALAMAZAN REPORTED WHIPPED IN BATTLE

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Mexico, May 2. (AP)—While all the border towns were in federal hands today, reports persisted here that rebel forces under the Indian Generals Marcelo Caravee and Ramon Yucipicio had defeated Federal Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan in northeastern Sonora.

The whereabouts of Gen. Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionary forces, was a mystery. Escobar left Nogales last Sunday, turned up here Tuesday night but vanished a few hours later when several of his generals crossed the border.

General Almazan had been reported within 10 miles of here but a messenger dispatched yesterday to inform him of the surrender of Agua Prieta failed to find him. Federals admitted General Almazan had had several sharp and disastrous engagements with rebels in the Pulpito pass district within the last three days. He had been attempting to cross the Sierra Madre mountains through this pass with forces from Chihuahua.

Both Nogales and Agua Prieta were held by a few federal officers and rebel troops which had switched their allegiance from the rebellion to the established government. Surrender of Nogales to the federals was marked by only one death a revolutionist who was shot when he became too boisterous. His body was left lying in the street for several hours as a warning to other soldiers.

Large numbers of Mexican rebel generals had taken refuge in Douglas or Nogales, Ariz., after receiving visitors' permits from United States immigration officials. Several rebel officers were allowed to leave Agua Prieta unmolested after it had been surrendered yesterday. Two revolutionary leaders, Generals Manuel Acuire and Francisco Leon were prisoners at Nogales and faced trial before a military board. General Lucas Gonzales, commanding officer at Nogales, said federal forces at Cajeme, 350 miles south of here, would soon arrive to take over the town.

School and College News

"The Wichita Falls Zoo" was the subject of an interesting talk by Maurice Cheek, representative of the Lions club, before the semi-weekly junior college-high school general assembly Thursday morning as a part of the observance of "Appreciation Week."

Mr. Cheek described a number of the animals, equipment, and facts of interest concerning the local zoo.

Dean S. H. Rider urged all students to keep up their high standard of work for the remaining three weeks of school, which will officially close the 1928-1929 school year.

Several of the high school and college sixth period classes availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting a number of local business establishments and factories Thursday afternoon as a part of "Appreciation Week." Practically every class in biology, chemistry, and other practical courses visited the factories that would be of most benefit to them in their studies.

A large number of the faculty members made similar visits at the close of school.

Mimeographed sheets bearing the requirements for graduation and other data necessary for the selection of courses for the next semester were distributed Thursday morning in all classes during the half-hour period.

All students will sign up for the studies desired the next semester on Tuesday morning, according to an announcement made Thursday by Dean Rider.

Daily Editorial

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS—to which we don't belong—busy revising its "Hoyle on Warfare," hasn't quite decided to forbid the further use of poison gases.

But the future will at least rest easier because of its decision to outlaw plague as a military weapon.

The very contemplation of employing pestilence against enemy forces sends a shiver of revulsion through printers' ink.

Civilization would be bankrupt of humanity and deserve contempt if the great powers consented to diabolism so abysmal, that man might live from generation to generation, only on the arbitrary sufferance of his governments.

H. G. Wells and the Russians have painted some shuddering canvases for fiction; and history ashamedly recalls brutalities that challenged the existence of Deity. But neither fact nor fancy ever went so far as to enlist such Hessians as bubonic, typhoid, "flu" and scarlet fever to prostrate fellow-nations.

Arsenals already hold too many hellish instruments—science and chemistry aren't yet exonerated from their treasonable services to the last war.

The mere thought that research could consider drilling germ battalions and directing their assaults must evoke general nightmare.

Bayonets, machine guns and shells have a limited destructive capacity.

Phosgene and other lethal vapors strike within bounds and, even when released upon non-combatants, pervade only selected objectives.

Therefore, imagination cannot begin to estimate how widely, and over how many years, deliberately organized infection would spread—polluting air and vegetation—diseasing vermin and food animals—rotting into the very core of races—until the last continent became a charnel-house.

Experience warns us to amend our motto to: "Trust in God and prepare for trouble."

The increased number of amicable divorces in Hollywood lately seems to suggest that separation is a good way to pick up a few good friends.

President Hoover addressed the Associated Press the other day on the importance of law obedience. What has the A. P. been up to now?

Traveling in One Spot

CAPTAIN WILLIAM FROST, who has traveled by water about as many miles as any man alive, has retired and will end his days on a pension.

During his days as a skipper, Captain Frost has traveled upwards of 460,000 miles.

There is a catch to it, however. Captain Frost's command has been a ferry boat in New York harbor—and his huge mileage was run up entirely in trips back and forth between the New York and New Jersey shores. Not once has his craft poked its nose outside to the open sea.

What a difference that makes to us! If this skipper had put his 460,000 miles end to end, so to speak—if he had compiled them by traveling all over the world in a seagoing ship—we would envy him greatly. There, we would say, is a man who has had rich experiences; he has roamed mightily and has gone to distant lands.

But, as it is, we dismiss him with a few words. He has traveled a long distance, but it has all been in one spot. Instead of envying him we feel sorry for him.

There is more to this business of traveling than appears on the surface, however.

What the traveler sees depends largely on what he has to see with. If he has the right kind of eyes he can make a trip on a ferry boat a genuine experience; and if he hasn't, he can travel all the way to Singapore or Capetown and remain totally uninstructed.

People are much alike, wherever you find them. So is scenery. The ocean, after all, is only a great deal of water, sloshing around in a sometimes disconcerting way. A mountain is only a mountain, and a city—be it Pittsburgh or Samarang—is only a collection of houses.

If, in other words, travel means nothing to you but a lot of strange sights, you might as well stay at home—or travel on a ferry boat. For you won't really see anything so terribly startling.

But if you can travel with your mind as well as your body—if you have eyes that can see beneath the surface of things—then travel can enrich you, even if, like Captain Frost, your traveling is all done in one spot.

A street car trip from your home to your place of work can be highly significant, if you can see through the externals. There is a whole unexplored world right at your feet; a world that has marvels in it, dragons and demons and magnificent vistas and breath-taking spectacles, waiting your inspection.

It is the world of every-day human beings, each one of whom has an epic concealed about him.

If you can see that world—and you can, by developing sympathy and understanding—your travel will be fruitful, even if it is confined to ferry boats.

Robert Maynard Hutchins

"OLD MEN for counsel—young men for war" has been put in the discard by the board of trustees of the Chicago university. Robert Maynard Hutchins is the new president of the university. He is the dean of the law school of Yale university, is the youngest president of any major American university, as he was only 30 last January.

Chicago is a fast growing city. There are patriarchs in the land of the living in Chicago who were there when the windy city was a country village. Now it is the second of the American cities and destined in time to be one of the world's centers of wealth and population and progress.

It is the Great Lakes city of the northern hemisphere and its multi-millionaires are backing the gigantic proposal known as the lake to the gulf waterway. It is in the very heart of the richest agricultural country the world has known and as an industrial center it ranks with the most important cities of the continent.

Chicago has more than a small underworld to advertise its growth and wealth and importance, but criminal news is the news that appears to appeal to a vast number of the readers of magazines and newspapers. They dearly love to read of the doings of the rotten apples of the human family. As for the doings of the 95 per cent who are law-abiding and industrious and patriotic—well, let it go at that.

Slipping for a Living

THERE are, in this modern world, many odd ways of earning a living. One of the oldest yet uncovered is that of a Chicago negro, who slipped on a banana peel the other day and landed in jail.

This man, the police learned, had supported himself quite neatly for a number of years by slipping on banana peels. He always had one or more in his pockets; and dropping one on the sidewalk in front of some store or other business place, he would slip on it and then ask damages from the owner of the place for negligence in leaving the peeling on the sidewalk.

He had collected, he admitted, scores of times—sums ranging from $10 to $250. This last time, however, someone saw him put the peeling there—and he drew a jail term.

The effort to live without working does lead men into queer pursuits, sometimes.

Speaker Tells of Labor's Part in Progress of City

Appreciation of Many Institutions Expressed Over KGKO

By ROBERT M'KINLEY

An Address Over Station KGKO

Friends—I know you are the most wonderful people on earth, and I also know you and I live in the most wonderful city under the shining sun, and this is the most wonderful age ever known to man. I come to you bringing a message from the wage workers of Wichita Falls. We adopt the slogan, "I am proud of my job." It matters not what that job may be it is our purpose to apply ourselves and strive to become more and more efficient. Personally speaking, I am not working where I am now employed because I cannot get a job elsewhere; I work there because I like the people I am working for and I love the work I am doing, and it is my ambition to be the best in my line. I may never realize my ambition but I will have the satisfaction of doing my best.

Crisis Past

You will please excuse this personal reference: For 25 years I have been a member of one of the railroad brotherhoods, also holding membership in one of the labor organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. I have watched a wonderful change come about. I have been in meetings and listened to radicals poison the minds of the inexperienced men, and have been howled down when I made an attempt to use conservative reasoning, but I thank God I have lived to see the day when radicalism is crushed. The class of people you deal with today are a thinking, reasoning class of citizenship of which any community may well be proud. It is true there is educational work yet to be done among the rank and file but the crisis is past.

We appreciate our schools and the opportunities afforded us to educate our children. It took years of effort on the part of organized labor to bring about the constitutional amendment and legislation necessary to give the children of scholastic age the benefit of free text books. To those who may accuse us of being selfish we point to the fact that through our legislative efforts the unorganized workers have received greater benefits than we ourselves. We champion laws to protect humanity in general. Industries may no longer employ children of tender age. They must not work women more than 54 hours per week. They must provide safe and sanitary conditions. The railroads have thrown every safeguard around their employes and the traveling public through the legislative efforts of organized labor.

Occasionally we launch a Community Chest campaign to make provisions for the needy. We do not say it boastingly, but it is with pride we refer to the fact that no charitable organization is called upon to minister to our people. Organized labor attends its sick and buries its dead. Society bears no burden. It is because of these facts that people are arriving at a better understanding of our aims and purpose. Our ranks are filled with progressive citizens. We love our homes and our jobs.

We appreciate the friendship of the business people of Wichita Falls. We appreciate the cooperation we receive from the officers of the chamber of commerce. This friendly relationship must be continued, and we assure you it will not be our fault if it should cease.

Pride in Work

I look out on Seventh street and my eyes feast on that beautiful structure correctly named Memorial Auditorium. My heart swells with pride to know that organized craftsmen laid every brick and drove every nail. And previous to that, as will be verified by my good friend Hubert Harrison, organized labor placed its shoulder to the wheel and worked diligently for the bond issue which brought this into a reality. It shows what public spirited citizens can do when they want something.

Appreciation Week! What city can boast a better daily paper, both morning and noon, than this city of ours. And greatest of all things, they are fair. I challenge anybody to show a more fearless editorial than that appearing in the Times recently, wherein a large railroad corporation was taken to task for moving their terminals, bringing hardships on their employes and their families. The writer of that eritorial has a heart in his bosom which beats for humanity. This paper also spoke my sentiments when mention was made of the low standard of living in a cotton mill village. We take the position that an industry unable to pay a wage sufficient to maintain the American standard of living is a liability and not an asset to a community. Widowed mothers and fatherless children are entitled to a fair chance in life, and Wichita Falls will give it to them with the able assistance of our daily press.

Appreciation! Words fail in an expression of appreciation to those public spirited citizens who are building our amusement park at Lake Wichita. It not only furnishes employment for many of our people, but will bring joy and forgetfulness to us in the evenings after the sweltering days have drawn to a close. Recreation for all, both rich and poor.

Pessimists Scarce

I am glad to say I have not seen a pessimist since last Saturday. We have chased them off the street, and let us hope they leave the city or else embrace the faith and be born again. We want boosters and we have no place for knockers.

We appreciate our good roads. Isn't it wonderful to press the starter with our toe and glide out into the country in a few minutes to spend a pleasant day on one of our several lakes.

We appreciate our air ports. Someone in giving the definition of an airplane said: "It is a thing which builds a cyclone and then rides on it like a witch on a broom." Think that over.

We appreciate Jim Galloway and his galloping gang. It is human nature to applaud the winner and scoff at the loser. That is not true sportsmanship. A man needs a friendly slap on the back when the breaks are against him. When the Spudders come home let's show them that we are with them.

We appreciate KGKO and its little army of entertainers. Too much praise cannot be given those who made this broadcasting station possible. Through its marvelous instrumentality we extend to the world an invitation to visit "The City That Faith Built."

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, May 2.—A woman was talking to the writer the other day about where men appear to the best advantage. The opinions of the members of the gathering seemed to differ. Some thought the golf links others at social affairs and others in their offices. I suppose if a man is a good golfer he appears to advantage on the golf course. If he has a fine old Continental grace which permits him to kiss the hands of old ladies with as much enthusiasm as the hands of young women at social gatherings and if, when he bends over to do this he does not give the impression he is going to burst a couple of suspender buttons, he shows up well at tea parties and similar functions.

But, taking it by an large, the average American probably looks best in the background of his office, if he occupies a position of any importance, because there he is keenly interested in what he is doing, and, if he has attained his position through his own efforts, he is thoroughly familiar with his tools as is the master musician with his instrument.

Chick Meehan, the well known and successful coach of the New York university football team has never seen a prize fight. Bob Davis one of the best known writers and magazine editors in America and a great prize fight fan, has never seen a baseball game nor a horse race.

I'd like to be able to add to this interesting information that David Belasco has never been to the theatre, but such a statement can not be founded on facts.

Most newspaper readers remember hardly more than 10 years ago, when the United States was plunged into war and every man with a uniform on was a hero, and every man under 40 without a uniform was a slacker. In those days of Liberty bonds, bands, submarines, transports and German spies, the country was never going to forget its heroes, but recently this writer ran across two of the outstanding heroes of the war in New York both broke, one trying to make a living as a prohibition agent.

Sergeant Mike Donaldson, who had previously been Stanley Ketchell's sparring partner, enlisted the day the war broke out, and for deeds of merit beyond the line of duty, he received the highest possible decoration an American soldier could get, the Congressional Medal of Honor. In addition to this, he received decorations from the French, Montenegrin and other allied nations. He was a hero. Today, as he walks about, he modestly wears the ribbons of these decorations but he is unrecognized as no one has time to bother about his comfort or his future. The war is over and heroes are soon forgotten.

The other man, who is a friend of mine, is Tracy Richardson, probably the best known and greatest soldier of fortune among all that gallant band. He was born in Missouri and fought with Gen. Lee Christmas and in all the Central American and Mexican revolutions where he became expert as a machine gunner. As soon as war started, he enlisted with the "Princess Pats" and made an enviable record, but during his military service he was torn to pieces by shell fire and machine gun bullets, and was finally decorated and discharged by the Canadians as unfit for further duty. He then enlisted as a flier in the American aviation corps where he distinguished himself further.

Recently, he has been acting as a prohibition agent at 10 dollars a day, a job that isn't pleasant for a man with his gallant spirit. Then some bureaucrat made a rule that all prohibition agents must have passed a civil service examination which eliminated Mr. Richardson from that job.

If there was another war, probably Sergeant Donaldson and Tracy Richardson would be among the first to enlist and again they would be heroes, but apparently this country doesn't pay off the heroes in peace time.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MR. SINCLAIR'S FLIGHT

Harry Sinclair, oil magnate, will soon begin to serve a 90-day jail term. He ran out of gas when summoned to testify before a senate committee.

PHILLIPS

The oil man will have to occupy a small cell, sleep in a prison cot and eat prison food. He hasn't seen any chow like that since he was a prospector.

Sinclair started life in his father's drug store. He used to be a soda clerk. Early in life he moved to Independence, Kan., where he played the tuba in McCray's band. But he saw no future. He looked up the statistics and found no tuba player had ever become a millionairre and that only one out of every 400,000 soda water clerks ever made enough money to have places at Great Neck, Newport and Palm Beach.

So he struck out for Oklahoma. There he went rabbit hunting and it was rabbit hunting that set him on the path to riches. On one of the hunts he shot himself through the foot. This satisfied him and his companions that he was not cut out for a successful career as a big rabbit pelt and hassenpfeffer man.

Mr. Sinclair, always a keen man, closed under the head of rabbit hunting and opened under the head of new business. He collected $5,000 in accident insurance, threw away his rabbit gun and set out on the golden trail, with no idea there would be a hoosegow at the end of it.

◆ ◆ ◆

He put the $5,000 in an oil lease and struck a gusher. He was so encouraged by this turn in luck that he wanted to shoot himself in the other foot.

◆ ◆ ◆

From that day to this he has always felt that rabbits were lucky.

◆ ◆ ◆

At any rate he rapidly became an oil king and millionaire lubricating mogul.

◆ ◆ ◆

Everything went well until he met ex-Secretary Fall. He has always contended that he first saw Fall from behind and thought he was another rabbit.

◆ ◆ ◆

◆ ◆ ◆

Teapot Dome was the beginning of his advertising and, while rabbits may have been the cream in his coffee, Secretary Fall was the thumb in his tea.

◆ ◆ ◆

One bad break followed another and now Mr. Sinclair must go to jail for the summer. He will have memories there. There will be times when he will think it would have been better had he never left the drug business. And there will be others when he will think a tuba player's career has it all over an oil man's.

◆ ◆ ◆

And—who knows?—he may regret he ever went rabbit hunting.

NO TACT, NO TACT

Husband (disturbed by his wife's restlessness and pacing the floor): Why on earth don't you go to sleep?
Wife: I can't.
Husband: Why don't you try counting sheep?
Wife: I have, but look what you're doing to make it impossible.
Husband: What am I doing?
Wife: You're walking in my sheep!

The Paris went aground again, it seems. Once more and she may be towed away for violating the no-parking laws.

Dr. Doran, federal prohibition commissioner, is to investigate the grape juice industry in California. Ah, but how about the orange juice industry? The part played by grape juice in the modern house party is nil, but what would it do without the oranges?

SHERIFF FREES BEER MAKER

Man, 75, Promises to Quit Drinking Brew

A 75-year-old man, arrested after the discovery of 26 bottles of beer hidden near his home, was released by Sheriff W. G. Bralley Thursday afternoon upon his solemn promise to be good.

Mr. Bralley found the beer Wednesday, packed in ice and hidden in a buried milk can, within 50 feet of the tent in which the old man makes his solitary home. The prisoner spent the night and most of Thursday in the Wichita county jail. Then he was called into Mr. Bralley's private office for a lecture.

"You're getting old enough to know better," the sheriff told him. "I don't want to send you to the penitentiary, but I must unless you'll promise to behave."

"Never again," voiced the ancient prisoner. "Maybe I've been a little skittish, but I'm going to be a good boy from here out."

Fishing Prize Awards Made

louf, 802 Ohio, took the $5 in merchandise from Thurman's for the largest crappie. Bohner's bass weighed four pounds and five ounces, and was snagged at Lake Kemp with artificial bait. Mallouf's crappie was taken at Lake Wichita on a minnow.

Judge C. M. McFarland, veteran angler, brought in a bass weighing three pounds, 15 and one half ounces, taken with a red and white jointed plug at Lake Kemp, to win $5 in fishing tackle from Montgomery Ward and company. James Stanley Miller, five years old, is undoubtedly the champion angler of the youngsters of the city. He landed a bass weighing three and a half pounds at Diversion lake, and won the minnow bucket offered by the Bailey-Moline Hardware company. Young Miller used a wiggler.

Checks from The Record News will be mailed the cash prize winners today, while a letter of identification awarding the merchandise contributed by various Wichita Falls stores will also be mailed from The Record News office. Each winner will secure his selection on presenting these letters to the merchants joining in the opening day contest.

The fishing season got off with a bad start Wednesday, when high waves marooned scores of persons on the north shore of Diversion lake, and on a small island in a creek leading into the lake, but by Thursday morning all had been rescued.

A party which included Mrs. Allen P. Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dixon, and Miss Helen English, isolated on the north shore, was reached Thursday morning by a rescue party headed by Dr. Terrell, and brought back to Wichita Falls.

Two unusual rescues were effected. Paul Hines and W. C. Cave, storekeeper at the lake, reached J. E. Hall, Hines' fishing companion, after battling high waves for a stretch of nine miles up the lake. Another stranded party of fishermen, marooned on Red island in Cffee creek, was rescued by John Crawford, game warden, and Bud Daniel of Vernon.

Cut a slice from the stem end of each beet (to make the beet flat) and scoop out a portion from the center with a sharp knife. Fill with a mixture of finely chopped celery, cucumber and tomatoes and put in the icebox for an hour or two before serving one or two of the beets on crisp lettuce. Do not discard the scooped out portion, but use on the following day by cutting into small pieces, reheating, and serving with butter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tuberculosis

Question: Mrs. S. S. writes: "For the last three years my husband has been in the hospital suffering from tuberculosis. My little boy was born three weeks before my husband went to the hospital. That was my first knowledge that he had tuberculosis. Now, what chances has my boy? Will he inherit the disease, or how can I care for him so that he will be saved from it?"

Answer: The tendency toward tuberculosis may be inherited, but it is not considered that the disease, itself, can be transmitted in this manner except in very rare cases. If your little boy is fed upon a well balanced diet, allowed plenty of sleep, and perhaps given sun baths, there is not much danger of his contracting this disease. I believe that it is quite easy for one to avoid contracting this disease by the proper hygienic measures.

Salisbury Steak

Question: Mrs. J. C. writes: "I missed your article stating what Salisbury steak was and why it was superior to hamburger, etc. How is it prepared? I am learning much from your column each day."

Answer: Salisbury steak is made by grinding only the red, lean part of round steak after having removed all gristle and fat. This may seem similar to hamburger steak, but it is really more palatable and more easy to digest; it has an entirely different flavor than when the fat is included. Allow three-quarters of a pound for each person served when purchasing the steak. After grinding the meat, press flat into an ungreased cake tin to a depth of about one inch, and place in a hot oven for about five minutes after which time turn down the fire. A tasty addition is made by grinding parsley or spinach with the meat. Do not season until ready to serve, then use only a small amount of salt.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: Where is yo' goin' with that trunk?

MACK: I is quittin' Hollywood where they don't appreciate talent.

MORAN: What's wrong now?

MACK: They took a big talkie of a snuff factory in Holland yesttiday an' I lost my job.

MORAN: How come?

MACK: Th' director 'sez I sneezed louder'n th' star.

MORAN: Does yo' need a director fo' sneezes?

MACK: Yo' does in Hollywood.

MORAN: Kin I get th' job?

MACK: What kind of voice is yo' got?

MORAN: I'm a tenor when I'm eatin' regular.

MORAN: What is we going to do now?

We can positively state that the Hollywood career of the Two Black Crows is over. The only job open for them is the Two Orphans in an Ink Storm.

Zeppelin Back From Vienna 'Courtesy Call'

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 2. (INS)—The Graf Zeppelin landed here at 6:47 o'clock this evening, completing a one-day flight to Vienna.

The big airship carried 26 passengers. She was in the air just 13 hours and 36 minutes. The Vienna flight was a courtesy call on the Austrian capital to repay for the Zeppelin's failure to fly over Vienna on her first Mediterranean-Palestine flight, when adverse weather caused the Zeppelin's commander, Dr. Eckener, to alter his course, omitting Vienna from the intinerary.

SPUDDERS HAND GAME AND SERIES TO BUFFALOES, 7 TO 6

FIVE MISPLAYS HELP HOUSTON

Slow Base-Running Keeps Wichita From Victory

Special to The Record News

HOUSTON, May 2.—The Spudders did everything wrong, except bat, today and the Buffs won the series by taking the third and final game, 7 to 6. Five errors, three by Lapan, and slow base running helped hand the contest to Houston. The Buffs won in the ninth.

Hal Wiltse gave up 13 hits but would have won had his comrades accorded him decent support. The Spudders also hammered Schelberg and Foreman for 13 blows, but wasted several of their knocks.

Wichita Falls slipped down to fourth place, relinquishing third to Shreveport, when the Sports beat Waco. The league race was tightened up with the defeat of the leaders and victory of the two last place clubs.

Every Spudder got a hit today and Turgeon, Fitzgerald, Snyder and Lapan clouted two blows each. Turgeon hammered a double and a triple.

Burrus Hits Homer

Pancho Snyder, Jordan and Burrus were the leaders of the Buff attack. Jordan and Snyder got three hits each, and Burrus clouted a homer and a single. The circuit drive sent home one of his comrades ahead.

Galloway's giveaways made FOUR hits, including a DOUBLE and a TRIPLE and scored ONE run in the first inning. Benton singled and was out stealing. Turgeon tripled to right. Fitzgerald hit to Jordan and Turgeon was trapped between third and home. Fitzgerald going to second. Bennett singled past third, advancing Fitzgerald to third. Snyder's double to left scored Fitzgerald.

Three hits and three errors gave the Buffs four runs in their half. Hock and Jordan singled. Martin grounded to Benton and Hock was safe at home when Lapan dropped the threw; Pete then threw wild in an effort to catch Jordan at third, and Jordan scored and Martin took third when Bennett threw wild back to the infield. Burrus' homer over the right field wall tallied Martin ahead of him.

Spudders Score Four

The Spudders counted four in the second. Lapan singled after one was out. Wiltse beat out an infield hit. Benton walked, filling the bases. Turgeon doubled to left, scoring Lapan and Wiltse. Fitzgerald singled to center, scoring Benton and Turgeon. Foreman replaced Schelberg as the Buff hurler.

Houston scored two in the third. Jordan led off with a triple to right. Benton threw out Martin. Burrus hit to Benton and Jordan was safe at the plate when Lapan dropped the throw. Burrus going to second. Smith singled to left, scoring Burrus.

They were deadlocked until the ninth, when the Buffs won. Snyder beat out an infield hit. Turgeon threw wild on Benson's hit. Snyder going to third. Wiltse fell while going after Foreman's roller, filling the bases. Hock forced Snyder at home, Snyder to Lapan. Jordan singled to center, scoring Benson.

Bantam Crown May Be Decided

LaBarba-Chocolate Winner May Be Recognized

By ED FRAYNE

NEW YORK, May 2. (US)—Acting for publication, Messrs. James A. Farley and William Muldoon glared at Fidel Labarba and Kid Chocolate today and loudly announced that their match would not be recognized as a bantam championship contest.

Privately, they patted both of the young gladiators on the back and told them to make the bantamweight limit of 118 pounds at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 22, and to leave the rest to them.

If the fight is satisfactory and the decision meets with the approval of the majority the winner will be officially labeled as the bantamweight title holder in this state. This much the commissioners were willing to promise, but, of course, it must be kept very confidential.

The fact that the match was approved at 118 pounds speaks for itself. The distance was set at 10 rounds, as Muldoon thought the question of superiority could be clearly decided within that number of rounds.

"Don't worry about the championship," Farley told Labarba, "go ahead and make 118 pounds, and leave the rest to us."

Smith Assists Smith; Makes His Golf Clubs

KANSAS CITY, May 2. (AP)—Horton Smith, youthful Ryder cup team golfer, has a silent partner in Kenneth L. Smith of Kansas City. It is Kenneth who makes Horton's clubs.

The two Smiths are not related. Since last summer, when Kenneth met Horton, the 23-year-old club maker has shaped clubs for the Joplin sensation. Just before Horton left for England for the Ryder cup matches, Kenneth made him a new set of clubs with wood shafts.

French Tennis Player Gains Reinstatement

PARIS, May 2. (AP)—Paul Feret, who turned professional in 1926 and was one of the Pyle-conducted Longlen tennis circus which toured the United States that winter has been reinstated as an amateur by the French Tennis federation.

Since resuming amateur play he has been defeated three times by players who in the old days would have experienced much difficulty in and felt very proud of taking a set from him.

A MALIGNANT jinx seems to have fastened itself to the Spudder first base. Late in the season in 1928, Buck Stanton came tearing into third base at Shreveport. A desperate slide, and he was safe—but they carried him off the field. A strained knee was the cause, and he was kept out of the playoff with the Houston Buffs, which may have cost the Spudders the pennant.

There was the possibility that Stanton would be returned to Wichita Falls this spring by the St. Louis Browns, by whom he was purchased last fall. But the old knee injury sent him to the hospital a few days after the Browns went south for spring training, and only recently has he been again able to don diamond regalia. And it will be a few weeks before he can play.

TO OCCUPY first base, J. Alvin Gardner cast around and purchased Bud Stapleton. With the reporting of the new man it was soon apparent that the uncanny sagacity of Gardner in picking his athletes had not failed him in the case of Stapleton. Never has a Spudder won such instantaneous favor with the fans as did Stapleton. Brilliant fielding and hard and timely hitting was the cause.

Now Stapleton is back home here while his comrades are battling on foreign fields. A broken thumb that will keep him inactive for a couple of weeks is the reason.

IF STAPLETON can get back in the game within a fortnight, the Spudder powers will be greatly relieved. With the pitching staff delivering in recent games the Spudders were set for a drive to the top. Every position was satisfactorily filled. Stapleton's grabbing of all balls hit and thrown in his direction and his clouting were important factors in the success of the Spudders dating from last Sunday's double-header. He will be greatly missed.

JIM GALLOWAY will carry seven pitchers this campaign, and five now are assured of retention. George Payne hurled and won the first nine-inning game he has worked this year in the series opener at Houston to indicate he is nearing his real form. And George in form is a mighty cagey and competent hurler.

Hal Wiltse and Chick Galeria, left-handers, and Cy Smith, the big right-hander, are new chuckers who will be fixtures on the Spudder staff. Milt Steengrafe, ace of the corps last year, has made a wretched start, turning in only one victory and losing three. The Californian will attain his real winning stride soon, however.

Ed Ellis, Ed Taber and Fred Stieley, all southpaws, and Rusty Cromer, the kid right-hander, are contesting for the other two places.

It would seem improbable that four left-handers will be carried, in which event the two Eds and Fred are bidding for one place left for them. Cromer has indicated he is a young hurler of promise but probably needs more experience before he is ready for class A ball. However, there is the possibility that he and one of the three remaining left-handers will be retained.

◇ ◇ ◇

TEXAS LEAGUE clubs must reduce their personnels to 18 men, exclusive of a non-playing manager, such as our Jim, by May 16. The Spudders have 22 athletes on their squad. This includes, in addition to the pitchers named above, the following:

Catchers—Pete Lapan, Jack Crouch and Bob Snyder.

Two catchers, five infielders and four outfielders will be kept on the payroll here. Thus, one of the maskmen and an infielder must be cut adrift, in addition to four chuckers, at reducing time.

Strings doubtless will be kept on all the players who do not stay for the entire season, except possibly in the case of a veteran or two should an experienced player be included in the list of those who are to pastime elsewhere this summer.

Petrolle Robbed Of Fight Decision

Ray Miller Gains Unpopular Verdict at Detroit

When Elmer McClelland, the referee, raised Miller's hand at the finish of the ten rounds, the crowd of 14,000, startled and amazed, cut loose with boos and hisses. The customers in the arena and gallery sections flooded the ring with newspapers and programs.

Schmeling and Paolino Battle To Draw Million Dollar Gate

German and Spanish Heavyweights Greatest Cards Today And Their Charity Show to Go Over Big

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, May 2.—It is estimated that the bout between Herr Max Schmeling of Germany and Senor Paolino Uzcudun of Spain will draw in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Some say more.

Fifty per cent of the profit is to go to the milk fund, one of the greatest of the New York charities.

Now let us show you the wide gap between the probable gate of the Schmeling-Uzcudun affair, and the probable gate of any other match that could be made at this time. It has been quite a spell since any one match has stood out over $600,000 over any other match that could be made in the dear old knocksing game.

Matches that could be made, remember.

Not those wholly impossible matches that pop out of the addled noggin of every crackpot connected with the knocksing game. Anybody can think of Herr Schmeling vs. Willie Harrison Dempsey, of course. And of course it would draw $2,000,000.

But it couldn't be made. Not now. Later, yes. If Herr Max doesn't get his brains knocked out by the old beezark of the basque.

Best Attraction

Anyway, here's a list of matches that could be made, and the probable receipts:

Bout—	Est. Receipts
Schmeling-Paolino	$1,000,000
Schmeling-Sharkey	500,000
Sharkey-Paolino	100,000
Godfrey-Sharkey	300,000
Chocolate-Singer	150,000
Chocolate-Andre Routis	200,000
Ace Hudkins-Rene Devos	200,000
*Joe Dundee-Jackie Fields	100,000
*Loughran-Jim Braddock	150,000
*Walker-Devos	150,000
*Walker-Hudkins	150,000
*Joe Dundee-Jim McLarnin	100,000
*Sammy Mandell-Billy Wallace,	125,000
*Tod Morgan-Tony Canzoneri	100,000

* Title match.

For example, Chocolate and Singer. It wouldn't mean anything outside New York. It wouldn't draw $25,000 anywhere else. On the other Duke, Godfrey and Sharkey would draw more in Philadelphia or Los Angeles than in New York. Joe Dundee and Jackie Fields, an indifferent card here, would go to $125,000 in Los Angeles.

Sammy Mandell and Billy Wallace, for the lightweight title, might pull more in Detroit or Chicago than in New York. Mandell isn't so hot here, title and all. Schmeling and Paolino, a $1,000,000 card here, wouldn't go $150,000 anywhere else in the country, and you can go and get on it.

Gene-Max Would Draw

Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene, couldn't draw a million in this, his old home town, with his title of heavyweight champion of the world at stake.

But the reason Mr. James J. Tunney didn't draw a million in his old home town wasn't Mr. Tunney, but Mr. Tunney's opponent, T. Heeney of New Zealand, hand-picked by Mr. Tunney himself.

Don't think if Mr. Tunney were in there with an opponent such as Herr Max Schmeling, of Germany, that he wouldn't draw. As a matter of fact, a Tunney-Schmeling match would go to $3,000,000 right now.

This Herr Schmeling, who may not be worth $1.80 as a drawing card an hour after he crawls through the ropes to meet Senor Paolino, is at the moment the most powerful of any figure in the knocking game. He is tremendous But something must be said for Senor Paolino as an opponent. He is worth at least $500,000 more to a gate with Schmeling than any other opponent that might be picked for the German, bar Willie Harrison Dempsey and Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene.

PACK ATHLETES IN STATE MEET

Six Coyotes Compete Today at Austin

Six athletes of the Coyote track squad left Thursday morning for Austin, where they are to compete in the state scholastic athletic contests which are scheduled to be held there today and tomorrow. The meet is sponsored by the University Interscholastic league, which is also holding state literary contests this week-end.

Track men from Wichita Falls who journeyed to Austin to represent this district in the meet included Thomas Beaty, Morris Lee, Olin Garrett, Ensign Rexford, Howard Scott and Ross Saye.

Scott and Rexford of the track squad will stop over at Fort Worth on Monday to take part in the state track meet for junior colleges. Estil Sharp also plans to participate in the junior college meet, according to present plans. The three high school contestants are eligible to compete in the college meet this year because of the fact that this year will climax the high school track career for each.

Expenses for the trip to Austin will be provided by the school board, with a rebate that is to be furnished by the association. The athletes will make the trip by automobile, accompanied by J. N. Hall, high school track coach.

Johnson Says Nats Will Go High Soon

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Disappointed but not discouraged at the early failure of his Senators to live up to their glowing promise of the spring, Walter Johnson today hazarded a guess that Washington soon will move out of the American league cellar.

"We are upside down," said the great pitcher, rudely initiated into the lodge of major league managers by seeing his club "freeze up" with the opening of the championship season.

"We are not only turned all around in the league standing but in our whole condition and plans.

"But I am hopeful, for we are really a good ball club and we will soon get going. Of that I am sure."

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, May 2.—We have finally figured out the traffic problem and the future of Commander Byrd's new continent.

Let congress put it aside as a safety zone.

The question of crossing a street is now a serious answer. Your life is no lonrer in your hands. It's in your shoes.

A stroll along the boulevard is now a series of convulsive leaps and bounds with reflex action being the better part of valor.

The hand is quicker than the eye. But don't forget to make your heels very sudden.

If you think that Chicago, New York or Los Angeles has traffic business, you should try to cross Boulevard Hassmann on a bargain Tuesday.

Paris has the same traffic regulations as a three-ring circus. When a taxicab smacks a pedestrian in Paris it knocks him so far that he can use a London bobby as a witness.

A scrambled jay-walker in America has rights. But in France, law and order is a blindfold test. The pedestrian is guilty. You can sue the taxicab but the only thing you will recover is your health.

Not only that, but a pedestrian who is knocked down, rolled over and otherwise syndicated, is subject to fine and referendums.

A Paris taxi does 50 miles an hour on eggshaped wheels and has fenders with claws on them. The French driver steers with his horn. Owing to the heavy demands on his services by loose jay-hoppers he has learned to play Beethoven's beautiful funeral march on his one-tube orchestra.

The same thing is true of London and Berlin. Except that accidents are so numerous that they have taken away the chauffeurs' horns and given them harps.

Madrid is a trifle easier on the migrant tourist. A few lessons enable you to leap across the hoods of cars with all the grace of an epileptic matador.

Many people have succeeded in crossing the streets of Detroit or Pittsburgh on foot. But nobody ever did it in Venice.

There's an Italian town for the curb-loopers. It's the only town in the world where a careless pedestrian needs waterwings and safety zones are islands at low tide.

We left the royal Danelli one dawn to catch the train for Vienna. You have never realized the dangers of joint housekeeping until you have your trunk jiggering in a gondola with Gar Wood at the car.

Banking the corner into the grand canal under the famous Rialto we were sideswiped by a milkwagon at sea. Every milkman in Venice is an admiral. He sunk us with all on board and we want to note that the grand canal did not earn its name because of its fine.

Europe has traffic problems that no American can translate. In all the big towns the taxicabs and trucks run anti-clockwise, and the right of way is through St. Peter's pearly gates.

It is embarrassing to step off the curb and get flattened by a taxi that is coming from the right instead of the left.

We are used to being knocked down from the other side.

SPORTING CELEBRITIES: NO. 4—JOE DUNDEE

He has the system working pat;
The more they nail him on the chin
The oftener they leave him flat,
The more bright gold he gathers in.

He doesn't have to spar with fate
He has no worry and no care;
He says—"Just come in over weight
And you can sock me any where."

They knock him out within two rounds;
They nail him as he tries to dance;
But you can't catch him out of bounds
Because he never takes a chance.

His welter crown is full of rust,
A champion who cannot win;
But when they prove that he's a bust
He shows his beak roll with a grin.

As long as people pay to see
His safely guarded swing and duck,
The answer's not with John Dundee,
But with the suckers who are stuck.

On no less an authority than Red Troutman one of Ohio State's former stars, the Ohio relays at Columbus this week-end will leave more than one record completely wrecked by the quality of the talent assembled. One of the most interesting features will be the performance of Simpson, who was good enough to tie two world's records in a single day not so long ago.

The Conflict

There are two forms of letters, among other types, received in this department.

One is: "Your column would be much more interesting if you'd leave out the golf stuff and write more about baseball. Most of us don't care anything about golf. Why not realize this?"

Another: "Why all this baseball junk in your column? What the average reader wants today is golf, a game played—not watched—by four million Americans. Who plays golf? Business men, ball players, actors, fighters, professional men, young, old, male and female. Any game your reader plays makes much more interesting reading than one he merely watches some one else play."

In the course of a year there ought to be words enough to go around for both games. Possibly too many words.

California Again

It may be possible that some crew will beat California's great eight this season, but there are several hundred better bets around. Especially over the longer route. The pride of the Golden Bears looks about as good as the crew that swept every strip of rowing water from the Pacific to Amsterdam last spring and summer, and that is good enough to beat any crew that isn't a record breaker, with something to spare.

Another Revision

Said Helen Hicks to Horton Smith "What do you get those birdies with?"
"I get 'em with a lot of tricks."
Said Horton Smith to Helen Hicks.

A correspondent wishes to know why it is that American golfers usually win the foursome matches against the British when that is one of the pet pastimes of the British and is seldom played over here. Foursome play seems to be a form of golf that finds American stars nearer their best. Bobby Jones and Chick Evans had a 70 at Hoylake in 1921, which is much better than either did individually. Jess Sweetser and Glenna Collett had a 70 at Fairfield some years ago. Diegel and Espinosa had a 66 at Moortown in the international matches. Why they should play this form of golf so well, playing it so little, might carry several answers, none of which I can think of at the moment.

The two ball clubs that decided to part with the active services of Burleigh Grimes and Sam Gray some years ago as being unfit for winning services would possibly like to call for a reconsideration of their earlier judgments.

Today's Golf Suggestion

The head coming up suddenly wrecks the correct path of the club head and also acts as a check to clubhead speed.

It may be necessary to loosen something at the top of the spinal cord to free the neck and head, but if the operation isn't too drastic it will save a number of strokes. When head, neck and spinal cord are all locked there is nothing to do about the matter except to help the caddie look for a lost ball.

BRAVES RECALL 1914 MEMORIES

Hub Nine Rushed to Top Won Flag 15 Years Ago

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, May 2. (UP)—Memories of the 1914 baseball season are brought back by the present Boston Braves who are out in front in the National league pennant race and fighting for all they are worth.

A few games don't make a season, but if the Braves continue at the present pace, which is unlikely but not too impossible to speculate on, they'll turn the calendar back 15 years.

On July 4, 1914, the Braves were on the bottom, but they came from nowhere to win the National league pennant and the world series from the Philadelphia Athletics in four straight games.

When the present season opened the Braves, made up of a weird mixture of has-beens, cast-offs and unknowns, were generally rated as the worst club in the major leagues. With Judge Emil Fuchs, who has never played professional baseball, as manager, and other experiments being tried all along the line, the Braves looked every inch the leading candidates for the National league cellar.

Convinced Giant Fans

New York fans who saw them take two hard-fought battles from the Giants last week, however, will tell the baseball world that the Braves are no set-ups for anybody's baseball team. The Braves beat the Giants, 4 to 2 and 5 to 4, and stopped two ninth-inning rallies which no weak-hearted tail-end club could possibly have squelched.

Many elements are contributing to the flying start of the Braves, which certainly is the biggest surprise of the early days of the baseball season.

The Braves' board of strategy, composed of three heroes of the famous 1914 team—Johnny Evers, Hank Gowdy and Rabbit Maranville—has imbued the 1929 team with some of the stuff which carried the 1914 team from the cellar to the championship.

Taking their lead from the aged but acting Maranville, every player is apparently giving his greatest efforts to keep up this early season frenzy as long as possible. It is taken for granted in baseball circles that the Braves will crack wide open soon. Meanwhile, the Braves are taking nothing for granted and going right ahead playing winning baseball.

Don't Miss Hornsby

Rogers Hornsby's loss doesn't appear to have hurt the Braves. Quite the contrary when it is considered that Harry Seibold, Percy Lee Jones and Freddy Maguire are playing prominent parts in the Braves spurt. Seibold beat the Giants in his first start, allowing but five hits. Jones has pitched two games, beating Brooklyn, 5 to 3 and dropping an extra-inning game to Dazzy Vance in his first start. Maguire has strengthened the Braves defensively.

Harry Harper, discarded by the Cardinals, is off on a hitting streak and is batting near .400 in the cleanup position. Heinie Mueller, another Card and Giant castoff, is playing right field in place of the injured Lance Richbourg, the best outfielder on the club. Earl Clark is playing capably in center.

George Sisler, who was waived out of the American league last season by Washington, and Lester Bell, the former Cardinal, round out the infield. Both are playing consistently.

Zach Taylor, the former giant, and Pat Collins, Yankee castoff, are the catchers. Taylor knows the National league hitters as well as any catcher in the league.

With Seibold, Jones, Bob Smith, Elmer Hearn and Ed Brandt, who has a three-hit game to his credit over Brooklyn, pitching winning baseball behind the stonewall defense the Braves have thrown up in the early games, Boston's collapse may not come quite as soon as expected.

RECORD ENTRY FOR AUTO RACE

43 Cars Nominated to Run In 500-Mile Grind

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 2. (UP)—Forty-three entries, more cars than have been nominated since before the war, are selected to qualify for the international 500-mile race on May 30, it was announced tonight as the speedway management closed entries.

Late among the entries was an English race car, the Thompson valve special, which will be driven by a Frenchman, Jules Moriceau, making the third foreigner to nominate himself for the international classic.

There will be five Duesenbergs of Indianapolis origin, three of them composing a factory entry and the remainder individual entries, including one made by Tommy Milton, only two time winner of the Indianapolis race. Milton is preparing a Detroit special, which Cliff Durant, multi-millionaire, will drive.

Louis Chiron, European champion, a Frenchman who will pilot a Frenche Delage, Gianfrance Cometti, an Italian who will be seen at the wheel of a French Talbot and Jules Moriceau, a Frenchman who will drive an English car, form the foreign contingent.

Mr. Jinks Is Winner Of British Derby Test

NEW MARKET, Eng., May 2. (AP)—The 2,000 guineas stakes of one mile, early season racing classic which is regarded as a dress rehearsal for the derby, was won today by Major McCalmont's Mr. Jinks by a head from Lord Astor's Craigadour.

This well-matched pair, joint favorites for the derby, led home a field of 20 others, many of which are also entered in the blue ribbon race at Epsom.

Irate French Rugby Fans 'Frame' Referee

PAU, France, May 2. (AP)—Rugby fans have discovered a new Machiavellian trick to get even with the rugby referee who enjoys here a popularity similar to that of the baseball umpire in the United States.

The officials handling the whistle at a recent match between Pau and Biarritz, which Pau won, were severely criticised by the losers' supporters.

Sipping his wine in a cafe after the match, he was approached by automobilists who informed him they were going to Toulouse, his home city, and would gladly give him a lift in their limousines.

SPUDDERS HAND GAME AND SERIES TO BUFFALOES, 7 TO 6

FIVE MISPLAYS HELP HOUSTON

Slow Base-Running Keeps Wichita From Victory

Special to The Record News

HOUSTON, May 2.—The Spudders did everything wrong, except bat, today and the Buffs won the series by taking the third and final game, 7 to 6. Five errors, three by Lapan, and slow base running helped hand the contest to Houston. The Buffs won in the ninth.

Hal Wiltse gave up 13 hits but would have won had his comrades accorded him decent support. The Spudders also hammered Schelberg and Foreman for 13 blows, but wasted several of their knocks.

Wichita Falls slipped down to fourth place, relinquishing third to Shreveport, when the Sports beat Waco. The league race was tightened up with the defeat of the leaders and victory of the two last place clubs.

Every Spudder got a hit today and Turgeon, Fitzgerald, Snyder and Lapan clouted two blows each. Turgeon hammered a double and a triple.

Burrus Hits Homer

Pancho Snyder, Jordan and Burrus were the leaders of the Buff attack. Jordan and Snyder got three hits each, and Burrus clouted a homer and a single. The circuit drive sent home one of his comrades ahead.

Galloway's giveaways made FOUR hits, including a DOUBLE and a TRIPLE and scored ONE run in the first inning. Benton singled and was out stealing. Turgeon tripled to right. Fitzgerald hit to Jordan and Turgeon was trapped between third and home. Fitzgerald going to second. Bennett singled past third, advancing Fitzgerald to third. Snyder's double to left scored Fitzgerald.

Three hits and three errors gave the Buffs four runs in their half. Hock and Jordan singled. Martin grounded to Benton and Hock was safe at home when Lapan dropped the threw; Pete then threw wild in an effort to catch Jordan at third, and Jordan scored and Martin took third when Bennett threw wild back to the infield. Burrus' homer over the right field wall tallied Martin ahead of him.

Spudders Score Four

The Spudders counted four in the second. Lapan singled after one was out. Wiltse beat out an infield hit. Benton walked, filling the bases. Turgeon doubled to left, scoring Lapan and Wiltse. Fitzgerald singled to center, scoring Benton and Turgeon. Foreman replaced Schelberg as the Buff hurler.

Houston scored two in the third. Jordan led off with a triple to right. Benton threw out Martin. Burrus hit to Benton and Jordan was safe at the plate when Lapan dropped the throw. Burrus going to second. Smith singled to left, scoring Burrus.

They were deadlocked until the ninth, when the Buffs won. Snyder beat out an infield hit. Turgeon threw wild on Benson's hit, Snyder going to third. Wiltse fell while going after Foreman's roller, filling the bases. Hock forced Snyder at home, Shyder to Lapan. Jordan singled to center, scoring Benson.

Bantam Crown May Be Decided

LaBarba-Chocolate Winner May Be Recognized

By ED FRAYNE

NEW YORK, May 2. (US)—Acting for publication, Messrs. James A. Farley and William Muldoon glared at Fidel Labarba and Kid Chocolate today and loudly announced that their match would not be recognized as a bantam championship contest.

Privately, they patted both of the young gladiators on the back and told them to make the bantamweight limit of 118 pounds at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 22, and to leave the rest to them.

If the fight is satisfactory and the decision meets with the approval of the majority the winner will be officially labeled as the bantamweight title holder in this state. This much the commissioners were willing to promise, but, of course, it must be kept very confidential.

The fact that the match was approved at 118 pounds speaks for itself. The distance was set at 10 rounds, as Muldoon thought the question of superiority could be clearly decided within that number of rounds.

"Don't worry about the championship," Farley told Labarba, "go ahead and make 118 pounds, and leave the rest to us."

Smith Assists Smith; Makes His Golf Clubs

KANSAS CITY, May 2. (AP)—Horton Smith, youthful Ryder cup team golfer, has a silent partner in Kenneth L. Smith of Kansas City. It is Kenneth who makes Horton's clubs.

The two Smiths are not related. Since last summer, when Kenneth met Horton, the 23-year-old club maker has shaped clubs for the Joplin sensation. Just before Horton left for England for the Ryder cup matches, Kenneth made him a new set of clubs with wood shafts.

French Tennis Player Gains Reinstatement

PARIS, May 2. (AP)—Paul Feret, who turned professional in 1926 and was one of the Pyle-conducted Lenglen tennis circus which toured the United States that winter has been reinstated as an amateur by the French Tennis federation.

Since resuming amateur play he has been defeated three times by players who in the old days would have experienced much difficulty in and felt very proud of taking a set from him.

A MALIGNANT jinx seems to have fastened itself to the Spudder first base. Late in the season in 1928, Buck Stanton came tearing into third base at Shreveport. A desperate slide, and he was safe—but they carried him off the field. A strained knee was the cause, and he was kept out of the playoff with the Houston Buffs, which may have cost the Spudders the pennant.

There was the possibility that Stanton would be returned to Wichita Falls this spring by the St. Louis Browns, by whom he was purchased last fall. But the old knee injury sent him to the hospital a few days after the Browns went south for spring training, and only recently has he been again able to don diamond regalia. And it will be a few weeks before he can play.

TO OCCUPY first base, J. Alvin Gardner cast around and purchased Bud Stapleton. With the reporting of the new man it was soon apparent that the uncanny sagacity of Gardner in picking his athletes had not failed him in the case of Stapleton. Never has a Spudder won such instantaneous favor with the fans as did Stapleton. Brilliant fielding and hard and timely hitting was the cause.

Now Stapleton is back home here while his comrades are battling on foreign fields. A broken thumb that will keep him inactive for a couple of weeks is the reason.

IF STAPLETON can get back in the game within a fortnight, the Spudder powers will be greatly relieved. With the pitching staff delivering in recent games the Spudders were set for a drive to the top. Every position was satisfactorily filled, Stapleton's grabbing of all balls hit and thrown in his direction and his clouting were important factors in the success of the Spudders dating from last Sunday's double-header. He will be greatly missed.

JIM GALLOWAY will carry seven pitchers this campaign, and five now are assured of retention. George Payne hurled and won the first nine-inning game he has worked this year in the series opener at Houston to indicate he is nearing his real form. And George in form is a mighty cagey and competent hurler.

Hal Wiltse and Chick Galeria, left-handers, and Cy Smith, the big right-hander, are new chuckers who will be fixtures on the Spudder staff. Milt Steengrafe, ace of the corps last year, has made a wretched start, turning in only one victory and losing three. The Californian will attain his real winning stride soon, however.

Ed Ellis, Ed Taber and Fred Stieley, all southpaws, and Rusty Cromer, the kid right-hander, are contesting for the other two places.

It would seem improbable that four left-handers will be carried, in which event the two Eds and Fred are bidding for one place left for them. Cromer has indicated he is a young hurler of promise but probably needs more experience before he is ready for class A ball. However, there is the possibility that he and one of the three remaining left-handers will be retained.

TEXAS LEAGUE clubs must reduce their personnels to 18 men, exclusive of a non-playing manager, such as our Jim, by May 16. The Spudders have 22 athletes on their squad. This includes, in addition to the pitchers named above, the following:

Catchers—Pete Lapan, Jack Crouch and Bob Snyder.

Two catchers, five infielders and four outfielders will be kept on the payroll here. Thus, one of the maskmen and an infielder must be cut adrift, in addition to four chuckers, at reducing time.

Strings doubtless will be kept on all the players who do not stay for the entire season, except possibly in the case of a veteran or two should an experienced player be included in the list of those who are to pastime elsewhere this summer.

Petrolle Robbed Of Fight Decision

Ray Miller Gains Unpopular Verdict at Detroit

When Elmer McClelland, the referee, raised Miller's hand at the finish of the ten rounds, the crowd of 14,000, startled and amazed, cut loose with boos and hisses. The customers in the arena and gallery sections flooded the ring with newspapers and programs.

Schmeling and Paolino Battle To Draw Million Dollar Gate

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.)

NEW YORK, May 2.—It is estimated that the bout between Herr Max Schmeling of Germany and Senor Paolino Uzcudun of Spain will draw in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Some say more.

Fifty per cent of the profit is to go to the milk fund, one of the greatest of the New York charities.

Now let us show you the wide gap between the probable gate of the Schmeling-Uzcudun affair, and the probable gate of any other match that could be made at this time. It has been quite a spell since any one match has stood out over $600,000 over any other match that could be made in the dear old knocksing game.

Matches that could be made, remember.

Not those wholly impossible matches that pop out of the addled noggin of every crackpot connected with the knocksing game. Anybody can think of Herr Schmeling vs. Willie Harrison Dempsey, of course. And of course it would draw $2,000,000.

But it couldn't be made. Not now. Later, yes. If Herr Max doesn't get his brains knocked out by the old beezark of the basque.

Best Attraction

Anyway, here's a list of matches that could be made, and the probable receipts:

Bout—	Est. Receipts
Schmeling-Paolino	$1,000,000
Schmeling-Sharkey	500,000
Sharkey-Paolino	100,000
Godfrey-Sharkey	100,000
Chocolate-Singer	150,000
Chocolate-Andre Routis	200,000
Ace Hudkins-Rene Devos	200,000
*Joe Dundee-Jackie Fields	100,000
*Loughran-Jim Braddock	150,000
*Walker-Devos	150,000
*Walker-Hudkins	150,000
*Joe Dundee-Jim McLarnin	100,000
*Sammy Mandell-Billy Wallace	125,000
*Tod Morgan-Tony Canzoneri	100,000

* Title match.

For example, Chocolate and Singer. It wouldn't mean anything outside New York. It wouldn't draw $25,000 anywhere else. On the other Duke, Godfrey and Sharkey would draw more in Philadelphia or Los Angeles than in New York. Joe Dundee and Jackie Fields, an indifferent card here, would go to $125,000 in Los Angeles.

Sammy Mandell and Billy Wallace, for the lightweight title, might pull more in Detroit or Chicago than in New York. Mandell isn't so hot here, title and all. Schmeling and Paolino, a $1,000,000 card here, wouldn't go $150,000 anywhere else in the country, and you can go and get on it.

Gene-Max Would Draw

Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene, couldn't draw a million in this, his old home town, with his title of heavyweight champion of the world at stake.

But the reason Mr. James J. Tunney didn't draw a million in his old home town wasn't Mr. Tunney, but Mr. Tunney's opponent, T. Heeney of New Zealand, hand-picked by Mr. Tunney himself.

Don't think if Mr. Tunney were in there with an opponent such as Herr Max Schmeling, of Germany, that he wouldn't draw. As a matter of fact, a Tunney-Schmeling match would go to $3,000,000 right now.

This Herr Schmeling, who may not be worth $1.80 as a drawing card an hour after he crawls through the ropes to meet Senor Paolino, is at the moment the most powerful of any figure in the knocking game. He is tremendous But something must be said for Senor Paolino as an opponent. He is worth at least $500,000 more to a gate with Schmeling than any other opponent that might be picked for the German, bar Willie Harrison Dempsey and Mr. James J. Tunney, formerly Gene.

PACK ATHLETES IN STATE MEET

Six Coyotes Compete Today at Austin

Six athletes of the Coyote track squad left Thursday morning for Austin, where they are to compete in the state scholastic athletic contests which are scheduled to be held there today and tomorrow. The meet is sponsored by the University Interscholastic league, which is also holding state literary contests this week-end.

Track men from Wichita Falls who journeyed to Austin to represent this district in the meet included Thomas Beaty, Morris Lee, Olin Garrett, Ensign Rexford, Howard Scott and Ross Saye.

Wynona Gregg, winner of the district girls' singles tennis tournament left Wichita Falls Wednesday noon for Austin. Louis Bond, winner of the senior boys district declamation contest, and Dell Hatchitt and Marjorie Vincent, girl debating team, left at the same time to enter in the literary contests.

Scott and Rexford of the track squad will stop over at Fort Worth on Monday to take part in the state track meet for junior colleges. Estil Sharp also plans to participate in the junior college meet, according to present plans. The three high school contestants are eligible to compete in the college meet this year because of the fact that this year will climax the high school track career for each.

Expenses for the trip to Austin will be provided by the school board, with a rebate that is to be furnished by the association. The athletes will make the trip by automobile, accompanied by J. N. Hall, high school track coach.

IF YOU spent all your time in a morris chair you could probably afford to pass up this challenge to a tug-of-war on a HANES SAMSONBAK Union Suit. But doing a man-size job and playing man-size sports you won't. See that belt? Eliminates the one weakness common to union suits in the past. Means that ripping, tearing and sagging at the belt are out for good.

We mean this challenge. Hop around to your dealer's. Grab hold of one end of the SAMSONBAK. He'll grapple the other. Then see if you can rip that belt or pull it away from the rest of the suit. No kid gloves required; no quarter asked. Belt stretches but never breaks. Not a strand of rubber in it.

Notice, too, how the patented belt goes three-quarters of the way around your body — everywhere there's any chance of stretching and pulling when you have it on. Most comfortable union suit ever worn. Guaranteed, every thread, stitch and button. Price $1. Many other styles in HANES Underwear. See them all—particularly the smart new shirts and shorts. Fine quality, low price. P. H. Hanes Knitting Co., Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Johnson Says Nats Will Go High Soon

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Disappointed but not discouraged at the early failure of his Senators to live up to their glowing promise of the spring, Walter Johnson today hazarded a guess that Washington soon will move out of the American league cellar.

"We are upside down," said the great pitcher, rudely initiated into the lodge of major league managers by seeing his club "freeze up" with the opening of the championship season.

"We are not only turned all around in the league standing but in our whole condition and plans.

"But I am hopeful, for we are really a good ball club and we will soon get going. Of that I am sure."

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, May 2.—We have finally figured out the traffic problem and the future of Commander Byrd's new continent.

Let congress put it aside as a safety zone.

The question of crossing a street is now a serious answer. Your life is no longer in your hands. It's in your shoes.

A stroll along the boulevard is now a series of convulsive leaps and bounds with reflex action being the better part of valor.

The hand is quicker than the eye. But don't forget to make your heels very sudden.

If you think that Chicago, New York or Los Angeles has traffic business, you should try to cross Boulevard Hassmann on a bargain Tuesday.

Paris has the same traffic regulations as a three-ring circus. When a taxicab smacks a pedestrian in Paris it knocks him so far that he can use a London bobby as a witness.

A scrambled jay-walker in America has rights. But in France, law and order is a blindfold test. The pedestrian is guilty. You can sue the taxicab but the only thing you will recover is your health.

Not only that, but a pedestrian who is knocked down, rolled over and otherwise syndicated, is subject to fine and referendums.

A Paris taxi does 50 miles an hour on eggshaped wheels and has fenders with claws on them. The French driver steers with his horn. Owing to the heavy demands on his services by loose jay-hoppers he has learned to play Beethoven's beautiful funeral march on his one-tube orchestra.

The same thing is true of London and Berlin. Except that accidents are so numerous that they have taken away the chauffeurs' horns and given them harps.

Madrid is a trifle easier on the vagrant tourist. A few lessons enable you to leap across the hoods of cars with all the grace of an epileptic matador.

Many people have succeeded in crossing the streets of Detroit or Pittsburgh on foot. But nobody ever did it in Venice.

There's an Italian town for the curb-loopers. It's the only town in the world where a careless pedestrian needs waterwings and safety zones are islands at low tide.

We left the royal Danelli one dawn to catch the train for Vienna. You have never realized the dangers of flat housekeeping until you have your trunk jiggering in a gondola with Gar Wood at the car.

Banking the corner into the grand canal under the famous Rialto we were sideswiped by a milk wagon at sea. Every milkman in Venice is an admiral. He sunk us with all on board and we want to state that the grand canal did not earn its name because of its flavor.

Europe has traffic problems that no American can translate. In all the big towns, the taxicabs and trucks run anti-clockwise, and the right of way is through St. Peter's pearly gates.

We are used to being knocked down from the other side.

SPORTING CELEBRITIES: NO. 4—JOE DUNDEE

He has the system working pat;
The more they nail him on the chin
The oftener they leave him flat,
The more bright gold he gathers in.

He doesn't have to spar with fate
He has no worry and no care;
He says—"Just come in over weight
And you can sock me any where."

They knock him out within two rounds;
They nail him as he tries to dance;
But you can't catch him out of bounds
Because he never takes a chance.

His welter crown is full of rust,
A champion who cannot win;
But when they prove that he's a bust
He shows his bank roll with a grin.

As long as people pay to see
His safely guarded swing and duck.
The answer's not with John Dundee,
But with the suckers who are stuck.

On no less an authority than Red Troutman one of Ohio State's former stars, the Ohio relays at Columbus this week-end will leave more than one record completely wrecked by the quality of the talent assembled. One of the most interesting features will be the performance of Simpson, who was good enough to tie two world's records in a single day not so long ago.

The Conflict

There are two forms of letters, among other types, received in this department.

One is: "Your column would be much more interesting if you'd leave out the golf stuff and write more about baseball. Most of us don't care anything about golf. Why not realize this?"

Another: "Why all this baseball junk in your column? What the average reader wants today is golf, a game played—not watched—by four million Americans. Who plays golf? Business men, ball players, actors, fighters, professional men, young, old, male and female. Any game your reader plays makes much more interesting reading than one he merely watches some one else play."

In the course of a year there ought to be words enough to go around for both games. Possibly too many words.

California Again

It may be possible that some crew will beat California's great eight this season, but there are several hundred better bets around. Especially over the longer route. The pride of the Golden Bears looks about as good as the crew that swept every strip of rowing water from the Pacific to Amsterdam last spring and summer, and that is good enough to beat any crew that isn't a record breaker, with something to spare.

Another Revision

A correspondent wishes to know why it is that American golfers usually win the foursome matches against the British when that is one of the pet pastimes of the British and is seldom played over here. Foursome play seems to be a form of golf that finds American stars nearer their best. Bobby Jones and Chick Evans had a 70 at Hoylake in 1921, which is much better than either did individually. Jess Sweetser and Glenna Collett had a 70 at Fairfield some years ago. Diegel and Espinosa had a 66 at Moortown in the international matches. Why they should play this form of golf so well, playing it so little, might carry several answers, none of which I can think of at the moment.

The two ball clubs that decided to part with the active services of Burleigh Grimes and Sam Gray some years ago as being unfit for winning services would possibly like to call for a reconsideration of their earlier judgments.

Today's Golf Suggestion

The head coming up suddenly wrecks the correct path of the club head and also acts as a check to clubhead speed.

It may be necessary to loosen something at the top of the spinal cord to free the neck and head, but if the operation isn't too drastic it will save a number of strokes. When head, neck and spinal cord are all locked there is nothing to do about the matter except to help the caddie look for a lost ball.

BRAVES RECALL 1914 MEMORIES

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, May 2. (UP)—Memories of the 1914 baseball season are brought back by the present Boston Braves who are out in front in the National league pennant race and fighting for all they are worth.

A few games don't make a season, but if the Braves continue at the present pace, which is unlikely but not too impossible to speculate on, they'll turn the calendar back 15 years.

On July 4, 1914, the Braves were on the bottom, but they came from nowhere to win the National league pennant and the world series from the Philadelphia Athletics in four straight games.

When the present season opened the Braves, made up of a weird mixture of has-beens, cast-offs and unknowns, were generally rated as the worst club in the major leagues. With Judge Emil Fuchs, who has never played professional baseball, as manager, and other experiments being tried all along the line, the Braves looked every inch the leading candidates for the National league cellar.

Convinced Giant Fans

New York fans who saw them take two hard-fought battles from the Giants last week, however, will tell the baseball world that the Braves are no set-ups for anybody's baseball team. The Braves beat the Giants, 4 to 2 and 5 to 4, and stopped two ninth-inning rallies which no weak-hearted tail-end club could possibly have squelched.

Many elements are contributing to the flying start of the Braves, which certainly is the biggest surprise of the early days of the baseball season.

The Braves' board of strategy, composed of three heroes of the famous 1914 team—Johnny Evers, Hank Gowdy and Rabbit Maranville—has imbued the 1929 team with some of the stuff which carried the 1914 team from the cellar to the championship.

Taking their lead from the aged but acting Maranville, every player is apparently giving his greatest efforts to keep up this early season frenzy as long as possible. It is taken for granted in baseball circles that the Braves will crack wide open soon. Meanwhile, the Braves are taking nothing for granted and going right ahead playing winning baseball.

Don't Miss Hornsby

Rogers Hornsby's loss doesn't appear to have hurt the Braves. Quite the contrary when it is considered that Harry Seibold, Percy Lee Jones and Freddy Maguire are playing prominent parts in the Braves spurt. Seibold beat the Giants in his first start, allowing but five hits. Jones has pitched two games, beating Brooklyn, 5 to 2 and dropping an extra-inning game to Dazzy Vance in his first start. Maguire has strengthened the Braves defensively.

Harry Harper, discarded by the Cardinals, is off on a hitting streak and is batting near .400 in the cleanup position. Heinie Mueller, another Card and Giant castoff, is playing right field in place of the injured Lance Richbourg, the best outfielder on the club. Earl Clark is playing capably in center.

George Sisler, who was waived out of the American league last season by Washington, and Lester Bell, the former Cardinal, round out the infield. Both are playing consistently.

Zach Taylor, the former giant, and Pat Collins, Yankee castoff, are the catchers. Taylor knows the National league hitters as well as any catcher in the league.

With Seibold, Jones, Bob Smith, Elmer Hearn and Ed Brandt, who has a three-hit game to his credit over Brooklyn, pitching winning baseball behind the stonewall defense the Braves have thrown up in the early games, Boston's collapse may not come quite as soon as expected.

RECORD ENTRY FOR AUTO RACE

43 Cars Nominated to Run In 500-Mile Grind

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 2. (US)—Forty-three entries, more cars than have been nominated since before the war, are selected to qualify for the international 500-mile race on May 30, it was announced tonight as the speedway management closed entries.

Late among the entries was an English race car, the Thompson valve special, which will be driven by a Frenchman, Jules Moriceau, making the third foreigner to nominate himself for the international classic.

There will be five Duesenbergs of Indianapolis origin, three of them composing a factory entry and the remainder individual entries, including one made by Tommy Milton, only two time winner of the Indianapolis race. Milton is preparing a Detroit special, which Cliff Durant, multi-millionaire, will drive.

Louis Chiron, European champion, a Frenchman who will pilot a Frenche Delage, Gianfranco Comotti, an Italian who will be seen at the wheel of a French Talbot and Jules Moriceau, a Frenchman who will drive an English car, forms the foreign contingent.

Mr. Jinks Is Winner Of British Derby Test

NEW MARKET, Eng., May 2. (AP)—The 2,000 guineas stakes of one mile, early season racing classic which is regarded as a dress rehearsal for the derby, was won today by Major McClahont's Mr. Jinks by a head from Lord Astor's Cragadour.

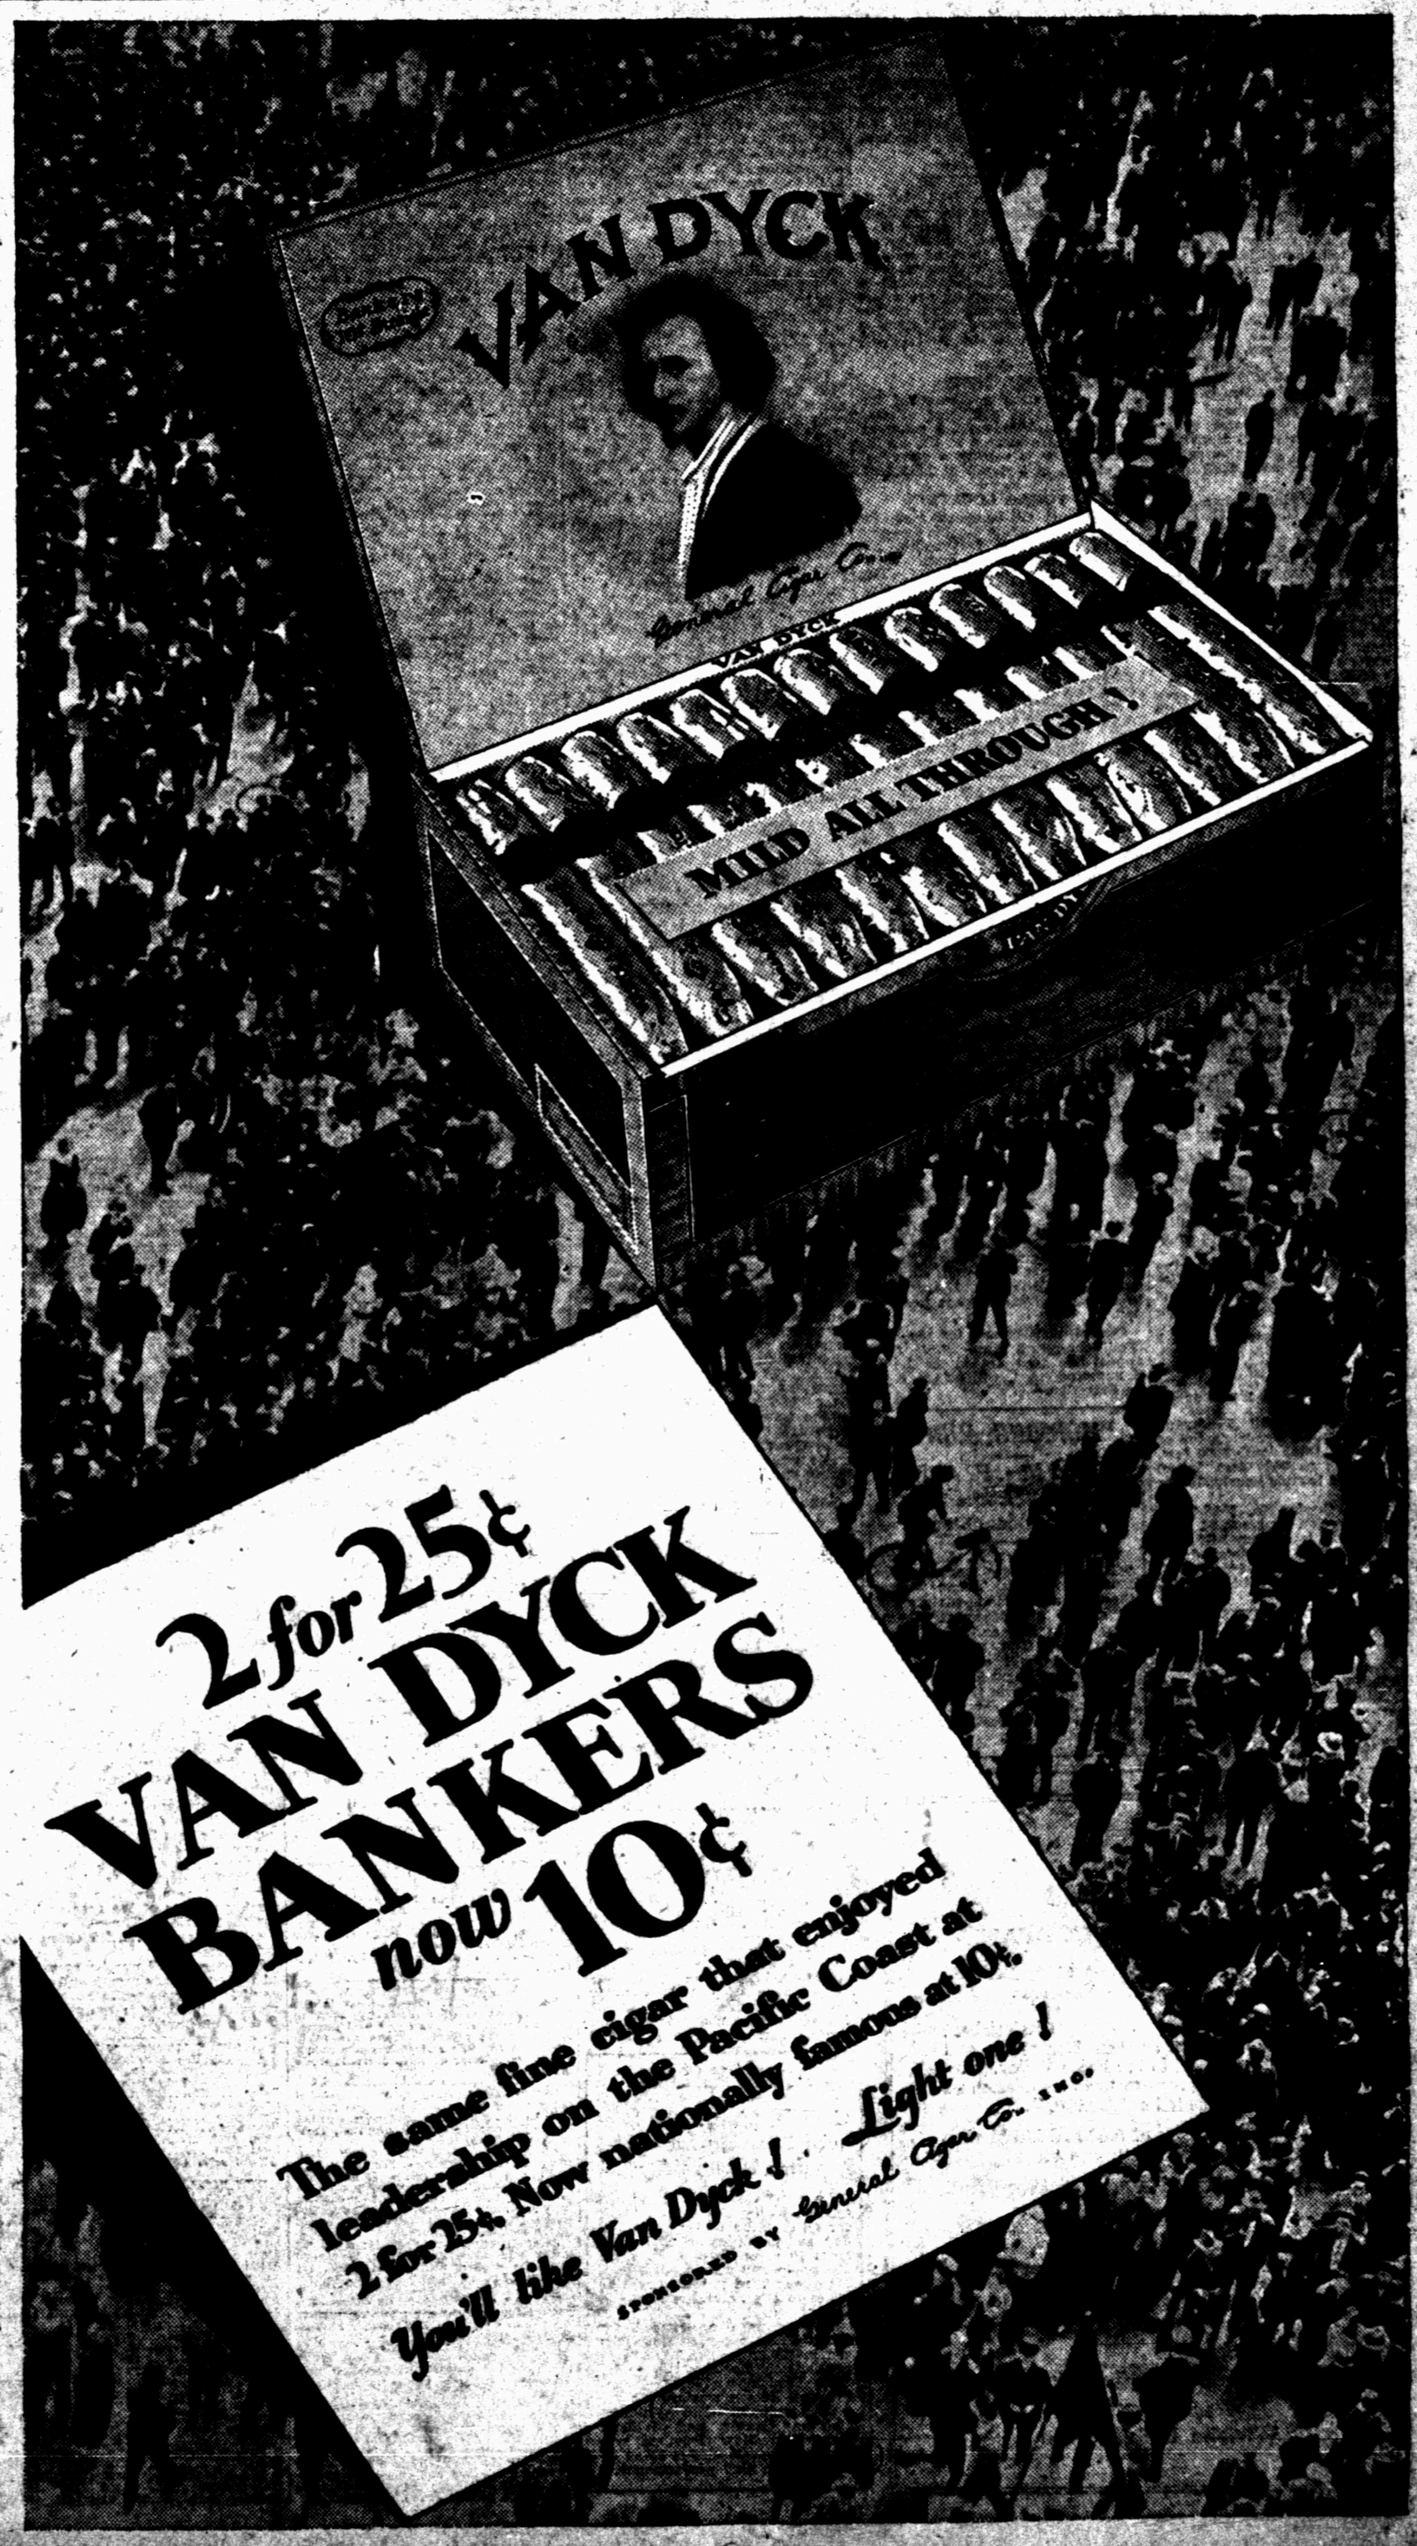

This well-matched pair, joint favorites for the derby, led home a field of 20 others, many of which are also entered in the blue ribbon race at Epsom.

Irate French Rugby Fans 'Frame' Referee

PAU, France, May 2. (AP)—Rugby fans have discovered a new Machiavellian trick to get even with the rugby referee who enjoys here a popularity similar to that of the baseball umpire in the United States.

The officials handling the whistle at a recent match between Pau and Biarritz, which Pau won, was severely criticised by the losers' supporters.

Slipping his wine in a cafe after the match, he was approached by automobilists who informed him they were going to Toulouse, his home city, and would gladly give him a lift in their limousine.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Although rather irregular on a mixed weather outlook, the cotton market was generally higher today in response to relatively firm cables, the prospects for frost in parts of the western and central belts, covering and buying for a rally. After selling up to 18.75 at the start, July reacted to 18.61, recovered to the opening figure, and closed at 18.63, compared with 18.55 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at net advances of 8 to 15 points.

The steady opening was at an advance of 11 to 16 points in response to continued firmness of Liverpool and reports of further rain in eastern and central sections of the belt. The advance met considerable realizing by recent buyers, and some local and commission house selling was apparent on prospects for clearing weather. Prices eased off after the initial demand had been supplied, and the market sold back within 4 or 5 points of yesterday's closing quotations before the end of the morning, with May declining to 19.35 and December to 18.89.

The outlook for clearing weather, however, was accompanied by predictions of frosts in parts of the central and western belts, which seemed to cause some uneasiness and probably some buying at this decline. This was sufficient to steady the market and prices made new highs for the day during the early afternoon, with May selling up to 19.49 and December to 19.03, or 19 to 20 points net higher. The demand then tapered off and later fluctuations were irregular with prices reacting from the best under realizing by recent buyers.

Closing prices were 10 or 12 points off from the best, but the setbacks brought enough buying to give the market a generally steady undertone.

Cable advices from Liverpool reported general buying and covering and said the tone of the market was healthy.

Exports today 44,075, making 7,347,502 so far this season. Port receipts 7,437. U. S. port stocks 1,366,421.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 2. (AP)—Cotton trading developed a slightly firmer trend today and although there were frequent reactions prices at no time dropped to yesterday's closing levels. October contracts after advancing 20 points to 18.72, declined off to 18.65 and closed at 18.69, or 7 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net advances of 7 to 10 points.

Liverpool cables were relatively steady and first trades here showed gains of 17 to 22 points in response. Prices continued to advance, July selling up to 18.73, October 18.82 and December 18.94, or 20 to 22 points above the previous close.

Later, two private acreage estimates showing increases of 3.7 and 4.8 per cent respectively brought out realizing and ring selling with a resulting drop of 15 to 18 points in prices. This loss was recovered after noon.

But a final trading caused July to slip back to 18.56, October 18.65 and December 18.76, or 17 to 18 points below the highs. The market rallied 4 to 7 points at the end on covering and July closed at 18.63 and December 18.80.

Coming Federal Reserve Directors' Meeting Quiets Market Down

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 2. (US)—Nervousness prior to the federal reserve directors' meeting influenced a quieter and somewhat irregular stock market today. Profit taking and short selling was well taken, however, so that the industrials closed slightly higher on the average. Specialties featured again with Johns Manville gaining 6¾, American Radiator-Standard Sanitary over 3, Harvester 4⅝, American International 3⅜, Radio 2⅝ and Postum 2⅜.

Union Carbide slid off 4⅝ points but losses generally were confined to a point or less. Steel, General Motors and other standard industrials held to a very narrow price range but exhibited a good undertone throughout. Coppers were somewhat stronger with Andes enjoying steady demand in advance of over 2 points. Oils and rails remained quiet and ruled somewhat unsteady.

The call rate remained at 10 per cent all day with a goodly supply of funds available. Volume dropped to the 4,000,000 share level.

The old American Radiator stock gives way to the new American Radiator-Standard Sanitary. The same kind of investment absorption pointed to in Radiator over six months ago continues to be witnessed in the new stock. Buying is influenced by expectation that the management will go through with plans for further expansion of activities.

The Radiator-Standard Sanitary controlling interests, it is claimed, have been in negotiation with at least two other companies. The most important affiliation, however, will be with Johns Manville and the recent election of Mr. Wooley of the Radiator company to the Manville board indicates the closing of merger deal in the near future. The combined properties will rank as the General Motors of the building industry and when the further acquisitions planned are carried through, the company will be the largest of its kind in the world.

Insurance and Investment Trust stocks are attracting attention again. American International has been quietly groomed and the absorption is likely to be followed by greater activities in the near future. Those in charge of its operations cashed in big profits on its holdings before the last reaction and since that time have added to income by trading operations as well as from the call money market.

Important interests have recently been buying into Guardian Insurance because of knowledge of increasing earnings. It is expected that the stock will be brought over to the big board in the not distant future. Cutten interests were mentiond again as responsible for the activity in Borg Warner. Chicago advices stated earnings this quarter would establish a new high record.

Highly favorable earnings of U S. Steel has caused added interest in some of the independents which are said to be showing corresponding gain in income. In this connection there has been quiet picking up of gulf states as its sponsors think it is out of line with other steel stocks.

Both Bethlehem and U. S. Steel it is thought, will take special dividend action at the July meetings of directors.

Outstanding strength of Electric Auto Lite reflects expectation of an important announcement within the near future that will necessitate upward revision of estimates as to earnings for the current year. Chicago interests recently active in Carbide were declared to be shifting operations to Harvester.

The reserve statements should give added stimulus to the market tomorrow. Increase of $40,000,000 in loans for the week proved a pleasant surprise as general expectation was that gain of at least $100,000,000 would be shown.

Of course, there is no way of telling how much of the borrowing resulting from new flotations has been camouflaged, but that the reported figure showed such a comparatively small gain will dissipate nervousness for awhile. The report of the stock exchange showing a $29,000,000 decline in borrowings for April was in line with the weekly reports of the reserve bank for that period. The statement of conditions showed little change of importance.

Increase in bill purchases reflected the customary month-end activity of the reserve while government security holdings remained practically unchanged.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 2. (AP)—Trade in the cattle division here today was slow in getting started with buyers inclined to take off on some classes. The supply was liberal with the corresponding day last year but only about half the cattle as were on hand of Thursday of last week.

Steers made up the bulk of the cariot receipts with about 22 loads here for the day. Only a few early sales to bids mostly 25c lower. In the southern division, a load of common steers sold at $9.00 and another load at $10.00, with two loads good north cattle and somewhat on the yearling order sold at $13.00.

No bulls of any consequence offered. The better heavy ones sold around $8.50; common light ones around $7.00.

The supply of slaughter yearlings and heifers light and generally lacked quality. A few packages sold at $13.00 to $14.00 or about steady. The less desirable kind around $12.00.

Cows delayed a little in making a clearance with sales very uneven and a general lower tendency on the fair kind of cows. Bulk of canners and cutters cleared at $5.00 and $6.25, carlots of fairly good cows at $8.25.

Calves strong to 25c higher; carlots at $10.75; and up to $11.50; bulk of the calls around $8.50.

Not so many stocker cattle on hand with no apparent need for an extra supply. Early sales included two loads of plain stocker steers at $8.90 and two loads at $9.85, or in line with the week's decline.

Hogs in the rail division sold at 15c higher; top $10.85; truck hogs 25 to 30c higher and top at $10.00. Bulk of the 175-250 pound butchers at $9.65 to $10.80; packing sows at $8.50 and $9.25.

When Edgar A. Guest said "It takes a heap of living in a house to make a Home" he certainly knew what he was talking about—but even at that some houses just aren't suited to some people and would never be home to them regardless of how long they live there or any number of years of the "Heap of livin'."

A home is a place you enjoy—it suits you—looks like you—because it reflects your ideas. Can you imagine a gay person living in a drab colored house? If they do it's just a house—not a home. Well, YOU know whether or not your house suits YOU—reflects your personality. If you don't feel it's your idea of a home—why don't you find one that does look and feel like you—a House where you are at home?

Advertise yours in our "Real Estate" Classifications—you'll soon find a buyer who will like your house because it's so "homey"—don't you see it will suit them? And then—

Yes, then glance over the many homes advertised in Daily Times-Record News Classified Section—we're quite sure you will find one that you'll want to have a "heap o' livin'" in!

Former Dry Agent Makes Bond On Charges Brought by Woman Here

Charges brought by Mrs. Rickey Ketchum in the United States district court here last December resulted Thursday in the arrest in Fort Worth of William R. Logsdon, former prohibition enforcement agent, on charges of accepting a bribe.

Mrs. Ketchum, called for sentence on a third conviction for possession of whisky, stood before Judge W. H. Atwell in the December term of the United States court, and accused Logsdon, along with another former agent, of taking "protection" money from her. Judge Atwell delayed the passing of sentence while he dictated a letter to the United States district attorney at Fort Worth, including a verbatim record of Mrs. Ketchum's statement. He then sent her to the woman's reformatory at Alderson, West Virginia, for a year and a day.

The indictment against Logsdon, returned in Fort Worth on April 23, charges him with accepting $500 from Mrs. Ketchum, according to Associated Press dispatches. At the time of her statement in open court here Mrs. Ketchum said that she had "paid a lot of money to agents who said the case would never come up." She pleaded not guilty to the third charge brought against her, claiming that the whisky seized by officers had been brought into her rooming house by one of the residents.

Logsdon was arrested by the United States marshal at Fort Worth Thursday. He was released under a $1,500 bond.

Lease Producing Barrel and Half Of Oil Daily Disputed in Suit

A 10 acre oil lease, upon which five wells are alleged to have produced a total of approximately 1½ barrels of oil a day is being contested in the suit of S. B. Wilson and others against Hiram Willis and others before a jury in the 78th district court.

According to evidence developed in the course of testimony for the plaintiff Thursday, Mr. Wilson obtained a lease of the land, belonging to Willis and others, to endure through three years or while it was producing oil. The lease having been declared forfeited for non-production, Wilson is seeking to re-establish it on the grounds that the wells had been pumping and had daily produced at least a quarter of a barrel of oil each before the opening of the litigation.

Trial of the case is expected to continue through Friday. A special order for a jury was granted for the hearing, and the case was tranferred from the 89th to the 78th district court by Judge P. A. Martin Thursday morning.

"Substitute Mothers" Offer Comfort To Youth Held in State School

In answer to the letter of a 12-year-old boy in the state training school at Gatesville, James A. McDonald, county juvenile officer, will go to Electra Friday to ask the boy's mother why his letters have been returned to him unopened, and why no answers have been written.

Meanwhile several women, moved by the boy's appeal for help in locating his mother, and by his plea for letters have offered to become the "substitute mother" which Mr. McDonald said he would supply if the real mother could not be located. These "mothers by correspondence" are ready to offer the boy all the encouragement and comfort possible by long distance, and the juvenile officer is keeping their letters on file.

The boy, who was sent to Gatesville from Electra in June 1928, is just completing his sentence, and has been writing letters to his mother, whom he left in Electra, expecting word of welcome back to his home. The letters have been returned to him unopened, and he has received no news of her.

Prizes Awarded In Pigeon Derby

The $100 in gold offered in the West Texas May Day Pigeon derby sponsored by the Orgatone company was awarded to "Dandy," a racing pigeon belonging to G. W. The winner of the flight also won for its owner a silver cup given by the Baber & Tschabold Jewelry company. A cup given by the Art Jewelry company for the first bird completing a flight of 200 or more miles went to "Herecomes," the property of A. I. Taylor. A. T. Bentley's "Berkley" won the cup offered by the Kirby Jewelry company for a record flight of 150 or more miles, while a fourth cup, donated by the Burgess Jewelry company, was awarded to Mr. Ward's "O Boy," flying from Cisco.

Practically all of the 250 pigeons released in 26 cities of West Texas Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock had reached their cotes here Thursday.

The girl told Mr. Morgan that the man accused had offered to drive her to Electra.

1400 ATTEND PASSION PLAY

Matinee and Evening Presentaticns Today

The lasting interest of men and women in the sacrificial tragedy of Jesus the Nazarene again was testified Thursday night by an attendance of approximately 1,400 people at the second performance of Wichita Falls' three-day season of the Passion Play, presented in the Memorial auditorium here under the auspices of Maskat Temple.

The inclusive and colorful transcript of the gospel records describing the events of Christ's last days, and His resurrection, is presented by a large cast headed by Beresford Lovett as Christus, Maude Fealey as Mary Magdalene, Margaret Fealy as Mary, the Mother of Jesus, and J. W. Bayley as the unfortunate Judas Iscariot.

The school of priests and scribes, traditional and historic foes of the Nazarene, was ably headed by Robert Bennett and Harry Marlin, with voices well modulated to the numerous vindictive demands for vengeance.

The feeling of the production was supported by a large chorus and orchestra, the musical score including many passages of the best-known sacred compositions, concluding with the inspiring "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah." Solos were taken by Miss Dorothy Detweiler's rich dramatic soprano voice.

A matinee performance will be given for children Friday afternoon, and the concluding presentation will begin at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Mr. Bailey will take the exhibit to the state convention of the retail credit men in San Benito May 14, 15 and 16.

Accounts "M" and "C" and all "hot checks" were discussed by the members present.

Brewster Resigns As School Head At Iowa Park

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 2.—R. E. Brewster, superintendent of the Iowa Park schools, today turned in his resignation to the school board effective July 1, it was learned.

Reasons for the action could not be gathered, as Mr. Brewster shortly afterwards left for Austin. Mrs. R. E. Brewster said Thursday night she would not discuss the situation until the return of her husband. Mr. Brewster's plans for the future were not discussed.

Mr. Brewster has been superintendent of schools here for the past four years, coming here from Leonard, Texas, where he had been principal of the high school. He was a native of Grayson county, Texas.

RAIL LEADERS HOLD MEETING

Williamson Formally Named Valley President

The annual stockholders and directors meeting of the Wichita Valley railroad and of the Wichita Falls and Oklahoma road were held in Wichita Falls Thursday. The meetings resulted in no change in the official organization and directorate beyond the formality of electing F. E. Williamson, successor to Hale Holden, president of the roads, and of including Mr. Williamson and S. K. Spann, executive vice president, among the directors.

The local organization was in no way altered, and the routine matters of business were completed in the course of four brief sessions. The directorate of the two roads are practically identical.

DREDGING OF CANAL HALTED

Property Owners Protest City's Program

The city has been forced to abandon its dredging program of the water canal from Lake Wichita to the city because of complaints made by owners of land adjoining the ditch, Dr. A. H. Douglass, general manager of the water department, said Thursday.

Owners were afraid that dredging of the ditch would cause an increase of seepage in the land near, Dr. Douglass said.

Complete dredging of the ditch would have cleaned out a considerable amount of sand and other matter that had collected in it from storm drainage as well as a troublesome growth of moss which hinders the flow of water, Dr. Douglass said.

About one fourth of the dredging program was completed before work ceased while the city will be forced to clean the moss from the remainder of the canal about every two weeks during the summer months to keep the water flowing freely.
