"For Thirty-Two Years A Builder In Collingsworth County"

VOLUME XXXIII | Wellington, Collingsworth County, Texas, Thursday, December 4, 1941 | NUMBER 21

Christmas Lights Give Festive Air To City

Christmas lights on the courthouse square went up Tuesday and Wednesday, giving the town the festive holiday appearance for which it has won recognition during the last two years through the lower Panhandle.

Sponsoring the lighting project this year is the Rotary Club, while the city and other organizations are co-operating in the work.

The same lighting plan that was used last year is being used this time—the revolving star above the courthouse, and long streamers of colored lights extending from the courthouse cornice to the light posts at the edge of the lawn.

At the same time these lights were being put up, local stores also began their holiday decorations, featuring in their display windows Christmas goods and holiday materials. Many will decorate the awnings of their buildings as well as the interior.

First businesses to turn on their outside lighting decorations this year were the Pruden Drug and Lion's Auto Store.

Decoration of homes throughout the town was expected to start late this week or next week. These decorations in the past have been compared to those seen only in cities and towns much larger than Wellington.

Many homes will feature new and original ideas this year. Others will used those decorations already proved suitable to the location. Still others will depend on the traditional Christmas decorations.

"It doesn't matter whether the house is large or small, or whether the decorations are simple or elaborate. It's the fact that all the homes are decorated that counts," it was pointed out.

Members of the Rotary Committee for Christmas decorations include Sandy Parsons, Jr., Lee Fortenberry, Pink Sullivan, Dr. E.

Garments Shipped By Red Cross

Shipment of approximately 175 sweaters, along with shawls, layettes and skirts, was made by the local chapter of the Red Cross Monday, Mrs. J. W. Harper, production chairman, has announced.

The remainder of the quota will be shipped January 15.

"We greatly appreciate the help that the women of the county have given. It is through their co-operation that this county ranks so high in its production work," she said.

Mrs. Harper also announced that the Red Cross sewing room will be closed for several weeks, until further announcement is made.

Any women finishing sweaters during this time have been requested to leave their garments at the county library with Miss Katherine Boverie, or with Mrs. Harper at her home.

Four Youths Arrested After Station Entered

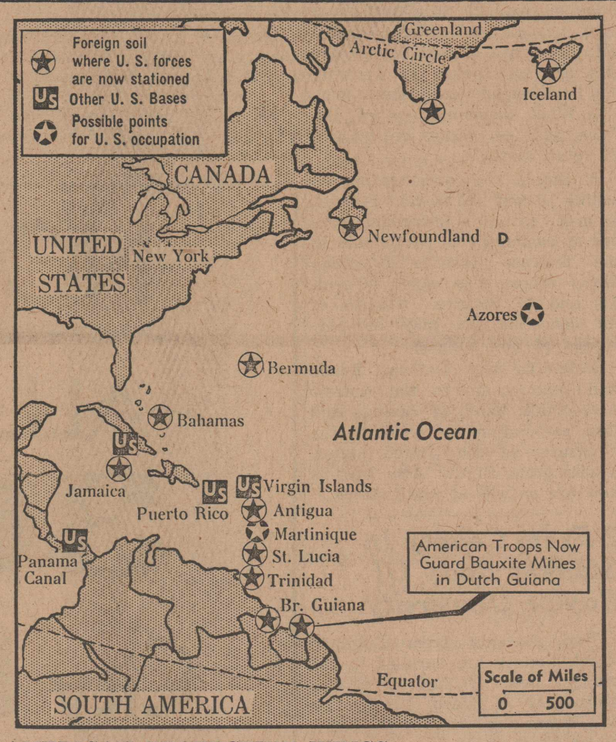

Four out-of-town youths were arrested recently and charged with burglarizing the Gulf Filling Station at the end of Eighth Street, Sheriff Paul Bell said today.

The group was seen by Whitie Edmondson, nightwatchman, at the compress, and A. B. Cooper nightwatchman at the Co-op Gin. One of the boys was taken by them, and the other three by local officers.

The four will appear before the grand jury when it is called into session next week, Sheriff Bell said.

Nothing was taken from the local station, but the sheriff said he had been notified that the group had been suspected of breaking into a station at Memphis, and that several articles were taken.

Two of the boys gave Memphis as their home. Another told officers he was from Perryton, and the fourth claimed Alabama as his home.

Prison Terms Given Two By Court Last Week

Norwood, Lelia Lake Play Friday

In what is predicted to be one of the best cage games of the early season, the Samnorwood Eagles will meet Lelia Lake Friday night, December 5, at the Norwood gymnasium.

Both boys' and girls' teams will play.

Coaching the visiting team is LeRoy Daniels, coach and superintendent of the Lelia Lake schools. McDaniels is a former teacher at Samnorwood, and his team is expected to be one of the best brought here for high school competition.

The Norwood boys and girls won a double header from the Kelton teams Thursday night, November 27, at Kelton. The girls were winners by a score of 34 to 17, while the boys took their game by three points.

Dry Weather Lessons Applied By County Farmers

Visiting over the county recently, Mr. Zorns checked on the number of trench silos already filled and found that 78 silos have been filled. This number was for 51 farmers, and represents approximately 10,000 tons of feed.

"There's probably some others that we failed to find during the trip over the county, too," the county agent said.

"Several farmers told me that they had feed to spoil because they didn't have trench silos to put it in after the spell of wet weather we had earlier in the fall. Had the silos been ready, the feed could have been thrown in then and saved," Mr. Zorns added.

Sentences of five years in prison were given Ancel Johnson and Bob McCoy, charged with the robbery of Ernest Scott, by the district court late last week. A hung jury had resulted earlier in the case of Roy White, charged with Johnson and McCoy.

No other cases have been disposed of during the last week, J. McBroome, district clerk, said Wednesday morning. The trial of Tron Ford, charged with rape, was set for Tuesday, but court was recessed, and the case will open Thursday morning. A special venire of 100 men was called for the case.

The grand jury will be called back in session next week, John Deaver, district attorney, said. This is the third time for the grand jury to assemble this term of court.

Such an occurrence is most unusual, since one session is generally sufficient to care for such matters, Mr. Deaver said.

Civil cases will be tried next week, Mr. McBroome said today, and the jury for that week will be called.

Tax suits are scheduled for later in the term.

Cub Scouts Collect Paper

A campaign to salvage old newspapers and magazines is now under way by Wellington's three Cub Scout Dens.

After collecting a truck-load of papers and magazines, the boys will sell these, and money derived will be used to pay their cubbing dues. Drives of this type are under way in various towns of the area by Scouts and Cubs, as a means of helping in national defense.

Between 1200 and 1500 pounds of paper has been collected already, Rev. J. E. Kirby, Cubmaster, said Tuesday.

Quail Hunting Begins; Abra Preserve Closed

Quail hunters of the county this week unpacked their hunting equipment in anticipation of one of the best seasons this section has known in the last 15 years.

The season, which opened Dec. 1, will continue through January 16.

At the same time it was announced, however, that the Abra Game Preserve, taking in a large number of farms and ranches in the northwestern part of the county, will be closed to hunters this season.

It was pointed out by landowners of that section that an effort is being made to get wildlife in that area well established, and that it was generally felt that closing the season this year would not only prove a benefit for the present, but that it will be of definite help in future years.

A number of other farms and ranches, some included in other game preserves and some not, have also been posted, and all hunters have been requested to co-operate with these farmers in the preservation of game.

That local hunters will experience little difficulty in shooting their limit of quails has been predicted. Good cover in many parts of the county this year has been partially responsible for the unusually large number of birds.

Red Cross Roll Call Donations Near $750 Mark

Contributions to the Red Cross Roll Call Drive in this county neared the $750 mark, and reports from several communities have not been completed, Miss Katherine Boverie, Red Cross treasurer, said Tuesday evening.

The total received through Tuesday was $741.09.

The total received through Tuesday was $741.09.

Although the drive officially closed Monday, both Miss Boverie and Dewey Ellis, roll call chairman, appealed to those persons who have not made a contribution, and who wish to do so, to bring their membership money to Miss Boverie at the County Library.

"Our drive has brought the largest number of memberships this county has had in many years, but we feel that there are others who would like to give, and that these contributions would bring the county enrollment up to the quota of $900 set," Mr. Ellis said.

"The Red Cross and every one working with it are grateful for the support of the people of the county. It is a generosity of spirit that is found in only a few other places," he continued.

Contributors were again reminded that only 50 cents of every membership goes to the national Red Cross headquarters. The remander stays in Wellington to go toward Red Cross help in this county.

Rev. G. T. Palmer Preaches Dec. 7

Rev. G. T. Palmer, district superintendent of the Methodist Church for the Clarendon District, will speak at the evening hour at the Methodist Church here Sunday, December 7, Rev. J. E. Kirby, pastor has announced.

Immediately following the service, the first quarterly conference of the church will be held.

Rev. Palmer is already well known among members of the church, having served this district as its superintendent for several years.

The Sunday evening service will begin at 7 o'clock, Rev. Kirby said.

Surfacing Of Highway 52 Begins Monday, Dec. 15

RINGING THE VICTORY BELL
at West Texas State College was completed in spite of cold weather and scanty clothing. The bell is rung each time the Buffalo athletes are victorious. On this occasion, it was far into the night when word reached Canyon, but Ed White of Wellington, left, Ben Carter and Vaughan Vandergriff rang the bell just the same.

Surfacing of Highway 52 from Wellington east to the Oklahoma state line, is due to begin Monday, December 15, Judge C. C. Bishop, county judge, said early this week.

At the same time it was announced by H. T. Cunningham, resident engineer for the state highway department, that the contract for the surfacing of the Wellington-Quail highway will be let early in January, 1942, as soon as surveying and other preliminary preparations are completed.

Completion of these two projects will give, with the exception of a few miles from Quail to the Donley County line, the long-sought east-to-west highway through Collingsworth County. This road, it is believed both here and at other points through the Panhandle, will serve as a second and slightly shorter paved route from Amarillo to Oklahoma City, now connected only by U. S. Highway 66.

Surfacing of Highway 52 is by a state-sponsored WPA project, Judge Bishop pointed out. Mr. Cunningham will serve as engineer for the state highway department. Supervisors and engineers for the WPA have not been announced.

Work on this stretch will likely begin at the east end, Mr. Cunningham said, since it is believed that this will be the most convenient for farmers living along the road. Traffic will travel along the bar ditches for a part of the distance between Wellington and the state line, while along other sections, detours will be marked out.

The road bed for the surfacing was prepared under an improvement project approximately two years ago. To this will be applied a 22-foot double asphalt top, over a gravel base. This type of road is known generally as a blacktop.

While the work on this road will likely prove of some inconvenience to farmers hauling cotton to town, Judge Bishop stated that opening of this project has been delayed from September 15 to December 15, and that it was believed inadvisable to postpone it any longer, in view of the demand now being made by defense projects for government funds.

Approximately 90 men will be used on this road.

The surfacing of the Wellington-Quail road will be a straight contract job, Mr. Cunningham pointed out, and will be let by the highway department some time during early January.

Relative to the changing of the route of this highway, making it to come along the north side of the town section, Judge Bishop

"Rapid progress has been shown during recent months, and we feel that an effective program has been worked out to continue this work."

Before returning here they disposed of their ranching interests. They have not made definite plans for the future.

Final Rites For Mrs. N. B. Blevins Spoken Monday

Mrs. N. B. Blevins, 71-year-old Wellington woman, died Sunday morning, November 30, at 8:12 o'clock in a local hospital after a lengthy illness. On October 10, she broke her hip in a fall at her home, and was still suffering from this injury when she became critically ill a few few days before her death.

Funeral rites were conducted from the Methodist Church in Wellington at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, with Rev. J. E. Kirby, pastor, in charge. Assisting were Rev. Hadley Hall, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, and Elder E. J. Norman of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Pallbearers were John Forbis, John McWhirter, Jim Dixon, Eugene Nipp, T. W. Beck and Mugg Beck. Hymns included "Angel Band," and Abide With Me." Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Blevins, with her husband, came to Wellington two years ago, and although she had been in ill health for much of the time since moving here, she had made many friends here who loved her, and admired her for her patience and kindliness, and her other traits of character.

A native of Texas County, Missouri, Mrs. Blevins was before her marriage Miss Martha Clarenda Dent. She was born February 23, 1870, and at the time of her death she was 71 years, 9 months and 7 days of age.

After coming to Texas, she lived near Dublin and later at Loving and Seymour. Before coming to Wellington, the family resided in Shamrock.

Mrs. Blevins became a member of the Free Will Baptist Church near Dublin in 1893 and remained with that church until it was disbanded. She then united with the Methodist Church, and was a member of the local congregation at the time of her death.

Mrs. Blevins is survived by her husband, N. B. Blevins; nine children, twelve grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. The children are E. A. Blevins of Graham, G. M. Blevins of Megargel, A. W. Blevins of Odessa, Mrs. P. A. Dickerson of Snyder, L. N. Blevins of St. Paul, Minn., L. D. Blevins of Pratt, Kansas, N. A. Blevins of Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. Harris Hunter of Clovis, New Mexico, and Mrs. C. E. Tindall of Shamrock.

Funds Approved For Tech Study

LUBBOCK.—Grants for study of oil well cores; of sandstorm electricity and static electricity; for survey of building materials, such as clay, in this region; for transcription of records from the Matador ranch; and for further study of barley acclimated to West Texas have been approved at Texas Technological College. The research is made possible by a $25,000 appropriation for research work in 13 fields at the last session of the Texas legislature.

The study of oil well cores will be conducted jointly by the chemistry and geology departments. Sandstorm electricity and static electricity will be investigated under the combined supervision of heads of electrical engineering, textile engineering, and physics.

The history and geology departments at Tech will work together on making a survey of building materials in West Texas and also on further paleontological research. Records from the Matador ranch will be transcribed under direction of Dr. W. C. Holden of the history department.

Continuation of study for determining the best varieties of barley for this section will be conducted in the agronomy department of the division of agriculture.

All allotments for research have not been made, according to Dr. R. C. Goodwin, committee chairman. The grant from the legislature provided $25,000 a year for two years.

Promotion from private to private first class in the United States Marine Corps is the record of Harold Wayne Brown, 18-year-old son of Mrs. Georgia Pearl Brown, 1700 South Pierce Street, Amarillo. Brown, who is also a grandson of Mrs. M. T. Moody of Rolla, is a former Wellington resident.

He is a former student of Amarillo High School and was enlisted in the Marine Corps through the recruiting station at Amarillo in April, 1941. He completed his recruit training at the recruit depot, San Diego, Calif., and was transferred to the Marine barracks at Bremerton, Washington. Later he was assigned to duty at his present station on Bainbridge Island in Puget Sound.

While he was in training, Brown qualified as a sharpshooter with the military rifle and pistol, and as an expert with the bayonet.

Ten New Motor Vehicles Listed During November

Ten new motor vehicles were registered in the office of Howard Riggs, county tax assessor and collector, during November, the records of that office show.

While this number is smaller than for most months this year, it is larger than that listed for October, when only seven vehicles were listed.

Of the November group, six were passenger cars, while two were commercial trucks and two were farm trucks.

The passenger car licenses went to E. C. Pease, Plymouth Sedan; W. R. Breeding, Chevrolet Master Town Sedan; Clair Lawrence, Chevrolet Coupe; Ralph Stowell, Plymouth Special 4-Door Sedan; Fred Patterson, Chevrolet Town sedan; J. F. Coleman, Plymouth Coach deluxe.

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha A. Cole, 82, the mother of Mrs. H. M. Dowdy of Rolla, were held Thursday afternoon, November 27, from the Methodist Church in Quail. In charge of the services were Rev. J. R. Plant of Acme, former pastor of the church, and Rev. H. R. Bennett, the present pastor.

Mrs. Cole died Tuesday afternoon, November 25, at the home of her daughter. She had been in ill health for the last year, but she became seriously ill only on the preceding Friday,

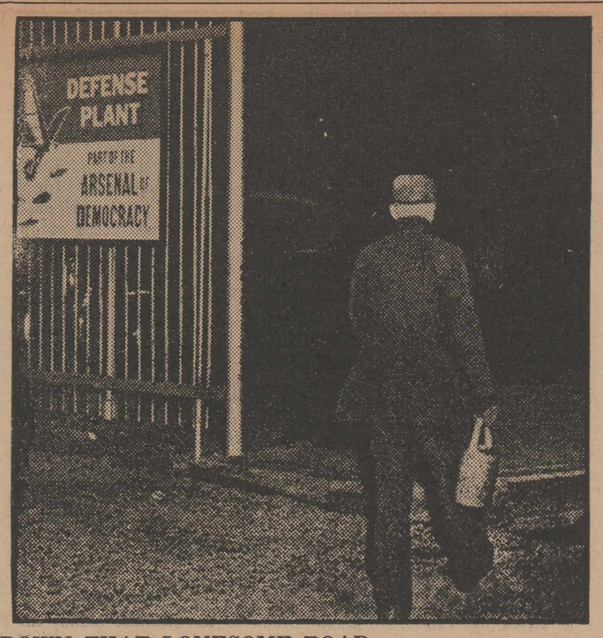

Pallbearers for the service were Ben Farmer, Ernest Pierce, Bill Ewing, Noble Childers, Bill Whitley, and Glenn Lewis. Flower bearers were Nell Trew, Carrie Jo Hawkins, Jean Kelly and Evelyn Jo Farmer. Hymns included "Farther Along," "Where We'll Never Grow Old," and "Sweet Bye and Bye." Interment was in the Quail cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Cole had made her home in this county for the last seven years. Preceding that, her entire life was spent in Benton County, Tenn., her birthplace. Mrs. Cole, born Martha Angie McDaniel, was born July 1, 1859, the daughter of Alce and Martha Pitts McDaniel, both of whom were born in Tennessee, and were members of pioneer families of that state.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Cole was 82 years, four months, and 24 days of age.

She became a member of the Presbyterian Church at Pleasant Ridge, Tenn., while still a girl, and since that time—for more than 60 years—her membership was held in that same church. She was active in church and community life, and after coming to Texas, despite her age, she took a keen interest in the welfare of her community.

Surviving Mrs. Cole are three children, Mrs. Dowdy, J. W. Gray of Dove Creek, Colo., and Willard Gray of Big Sandy, Tenn., eleven grandchildren, and two great grandchildren. Her husband, W. W. Cole, preceded her in death nine years ago.

Widely Known Retired Farmer Dies Friday

F. M. Neeley, widely known retired farmer of the Quail area, died Friday, November 28, at midnight. He had been a resident of this county for the last 18 years.

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday afternoon from the Primitive Baptist Church in Wellington. In charge of the services were Elder E. J. Norman of Wellington and Elder F. M. Griffin of Memphis.

Pallbearers were grandsons: Zelibia Neeley, Omer Neeley, Lonnie Neeley, Jessie White, Ben Hill, Ezra Goldsberry, John Neeley, Arthur White, Revis Parker, and Leonard Parker. Hymns included "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Prospect."

Interment was in the Quail cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

A native of Alabama, Francis Marion Neeley was born June 10, 1856, and at the time of his death he was 85 years, 5 months and 18 days of age. He was the son of John and Levina Smith Neeley, both of whom came to Alabama from North Carolina.

His boyhood was spent in Alabama, and when he was about 20 years of age, he moved to Georgia. There he was married to Miss Mary McDow. Approximately 57 years ago, they, with their family, moved to Texas, settling at Honey Grove, where they made their home until they came to this county.

For 63 years Mr. Neeley had been a faithful member of the Baptist Church, and for many years served as deacon.

During the time he had lived in Collingsworth County, he had gathered a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, who admired and loved him.

Mrs. Neeley preceded him in death in September, 1940.

Surviving Mr. Neeley are two sons and two daughters, Jasper Neeley of Quail, Newt Neeley of Honey Grove, Mrs. Nettie Goldsberry of Sulphur, Okla., and Mrs. Nannie Hill of Wynewood, Okla. Fifty-two grandchildren, 31 great grandchildren, and five great-great grandchildren also survive.

I have been a little surprised at the number of farmers who have stopped me to offer congratulations on my recent article on the AAA in 1942. More significant is the fact that more tenant farmers have expressed agreement than have land owners. Not a single farmer has stopped me to say that I was wrong while over a hundred have stopped me to agree. For your information, in case you did not read the first article, the gist of my comment was that the division of payment in 1942 would tend to move additional renters from the land.

"Uncle Billy," W. E. Holmes came in to renew his paper this week. He has been a constant reader of The Wellington Leader since it was founded in 1909. He has known his good times and his bad times. I suspect that he made something of a sacrifice to dig up his money to pay his subscription promptly on the date it expired, but I can tell you it warms the heart of an editor to hear the kind of approval expressed by such a fine old gentleman as "Uncle Billy" when he renewed his paper.

Cecil Craven brought in a story that rivals our recent wolf tale that Oran Starkey gave us for the truth. Cecil says that he found four orphan kittens. He also has a white Spitz female dog. The kittens started nursing the dog. Although she had no milk she offered no objection. Since the dog was giving no milk, Cecil and his wife had to feed the kittens with a spoon to keep them alive. However, the dog mated, lost her pups in a short time, and immediately started giving milk for the kittens. This is what Cecil told me. I forgot to get an affidavit.

I had a pleasant conversation with Allen Harp over a cup of coffee Wednesday morning. Mr. Harp was wondering if Congressman Worley will be able to ride the fence and play both ends against the middle in Washington as Mr. Harp thinks he did in Austin where Mr. Harp knew him quite well as a fellow member of the Legislature. I am wondering myself.

* * *

Regardless of what some of you people in Collingsworth may think of Allen Harp, I might say in fairness to him that he voted her straight while he was in Austin, If he was agin it; he was agin it. If he was for it; he was for it. Having checked his record enough to satisfy myself, I believe I can tell you that he did not vote for a bill on one hearing in order to please a minority and then vote against it on the important roll call. Furthermore he did not try to kill bills in committee and then make speeches for them publicly. In short his representation of the people was forthright and sincere according to his lights.

Here is information that was encouraging to me: Joe Beard, who works as a farm hand, came in the office and said: "Another month of work like I have had and I intend to try to buy a house and lot." Joe has money saved from his work in the wheat harvest last summer as well as more from pulling bolls and heading maize this fall. Joe may be an old fashioned American, but I admire him.

It is with regret that I learned this week that Guy Beasley has been confined to the hospital with the flu. The same was true of I. O. Ruby who has been out of his store for over a week. However, there is one comforting fact to be noted. Due to advances in medicine cases that often ran into pneumonia and other complications are now halted in a few days. Sulphathiazole, etc., cure the original ailment quickly, but the patients tell me that recovering from the medicine is not pleasant. Don't ever take any of these medicines without a doctor watching you all the time. They are a boon to humanity, but they are not to be trusted in the hands of a layman.

The lights are going up in Wellington this week and the gins are running. If I could find it, I would dig out my old editorial on "The Beauty of Wellington on a Fall Morning." Although the world is at war, it is the first time I have felt like reprinting the old editorial in years.

U. S. Wheat Twice Foreign Price

COLLEGE STATION. — Texas wheat farmers selling wheat protected by the AAA wheat program are receiving approximately twice as much as growers in other major wheat producing countries, P. C. Colgin, commodity loan supervisor of the state AAA, has announced.

The average farm price of wheat in Texas is about $1.05 and the average farm price in the United States is about 90 cents, he said.

The average price received by Canadian growers is about 47 cents (U. S. money) while Australian growers have been receiving 51 cents per bushel. Returns to Argentina growers are from 42 to 45 cents per bushel.

Marketing quotas on wheat, acreage allotments, the loan program and import embargoes account for the price United States' farmers are receiving, Colgin said in pointing out that this year is the first time in history that domestic wheat prices have exceeded foreign wheat prices by more than the tariff without threats of large imports.

The import embargo applied last May is not only stopping imports but making the price spread possible, the AAA official said.

"So attractive is our wheat price now that Canadians—if there were no embargo restrictions — could ship their wheat to a United States port of entry, pay the duty of 42 cents a bushel, and still have a margin of 15 cents per bushel over Canadian prices," Colgin said.

This indicates the price of wheat in the United States is approximately 57 cents a bushel higher than foreign wheat, but the difference in the average price and 57 cents is what farmers would be receiving if there were no farm program to protect the U. S. price, he said.

Texas Has More Sheep Than Cattle

AUSTIN.—Texas, traditionally the home of the booted and spurred cowboy, actually raises more sheep than cattle, a report of the livestock industry in the state by Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald shows.

Leading all types of livestock production in the state, sheep reported totaled 8,447,809 head. Cattle are second with 6,281,537, including 1,146,766 milk cows, the commissioner said. Hogs rank third with 1,513,912.

The four leading sheep-producing counties, in the order of their rank, include: Val Verde County, 510,980; Crockett County, 390,280; Tom Green, 338,422; Pecos County, 328,032.

Leaders in the production of cattle, all types, include: Harris County, 106,437; Webb County, 73,277; Victoria County, 67,961; Brazoria County, 63,915; total for state, 6,281,537.

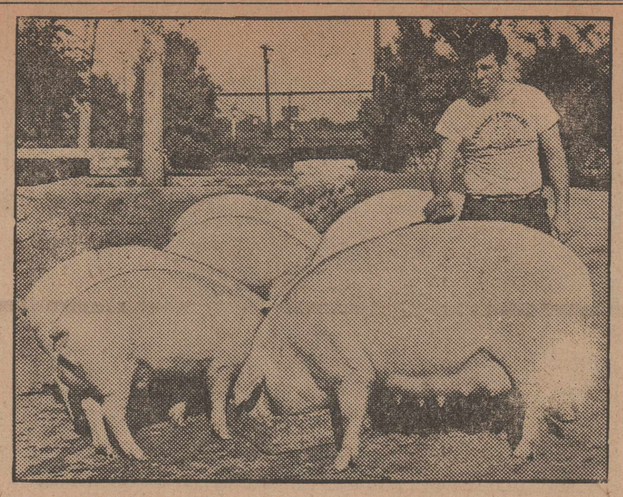

Already Fabricated Homes Available For All Seen In Future

DALLAS.—Pre-fabricated houses which will be available to nearly everyone was predicted for America following the war and its depression by Frank D. Hall, president of the National of Residential Appraisers.

Speaking to the Dallas real estate board, the New York man said defense housing projects and government-sponsored experiments of pre-fabricated houses had started a boom which would make home ownership within the reach of nearly all people.

No More Grass Fires

WYOMING, O.—After raking the leaves into a pile, Junior won't have the fun of burning them any more because the city fathers here recently banned the practice and decided to use a "vacuum cleaner." City employes drive by with a specially constructed vacuum machine on a truck and "suck up" piles of leaves left by residential rakers.

Belated Tribute Paid Girl Reporter Of Immortal Gettysburg Address

HANOVER, Pa.—Reward finally came for the girl reporter who gained a unique place among journalists of her time by acclaiming Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address as a remarkable speech.

Three days before the seventy-eighth anniversary of the Civil War President's immortal words, townspeople unveiled an eight-foot shaft on the Mount Olivet Community Cemetery grave of Mary Shaw Leader. It bore her likeness along with this inscription:

"Her first-hand report of Lincoln's Gettysburg address bore witness to its greatness. In her account for the Hanover Spectator she garnered Lincoln's words from his own lips. She helped the world to long remember. Her fellow townsmen pay this belated tribute to her courage, enterprise and forthright that we may never forget."

Mary Shaw Leader walked fifteen miles to Gettysburg through wintry weather to report the President's talk Nov. 19, 1863. She carried his full three-minute text in the weekly Hanover newspaper while most journalists gave their space to Principal Speaker Edward Everett's flowery oration of nearly two hours or merely announced that Lincoln also spoke.

Miss Leader died in 1913 during the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the Battle of Gettysburg to which she was uninvited. Her grave was unmarked until Job Printer William Anthony originated the idea of erecting a monument in remembrance of her courteous treatment while he was an apprentice of the newspaper where she worked. Townspeople subscribed $402 for the memorial.

Some 600 persons—many of them knew Miss Leader—saw the pioneer newspaperwoman's 15-year-old nephew, Wirt Crapster, Taneytown, Md., draw an American flag from the shaft after exercises which followed closely the Gettysburg program she covered nearly four score years ago.

W. T. Scott, Dodson Pioneer, Dies Thursday

W. T. Scott, prominent pioneer farmer of the Dodson vicinity, died at his farm home south of that town Thursday afternoon, November 27, at 5 o'clock. He had been ill for approximately a month.

One of the eariest settlers of that area, he had lived in the southeastern Panhandle for 32 years.

Funeral rites were held from the Church of Christ in Dodson Saturday afternoon, November 29, with Minister Van Bonneau in charge, assisted by Minister Alva Johnson. Friends from many walks of life, some of whom had known him for much of the time he had lived in this section, gathered to pay final tribute, filling the church to capacity.

Pallbearers for the service were grandsons, Paul Scott, Harold Mack Scott, Hardy Scott, LeRoy Scott, Lloyd Scott, and Winfred Scott. Honorary pallbearers were Lucian Clark, J. A. Lewis, Lowell Savage, Dewey Malone, Blake Lyde, Gilbert Hunt, Horace Weaver, J. C. Howell, and Jack Davis. Flower bearers were Mrs. Lloyd Mills, Mrs. O. H. Hodel, Mrs. Oris Hudson, Mrs. Blake Lyde, Mrs. Lowell Savage, Ruby Hodel, Dorothy Stephens, Norma Copeland, Jo McKinney, and Minnie Bell Scott.

Highly regarded as a neighbor and friend, Mr. Scott had gained a wide circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the lower Panhandle and southwestern Oklahoma. He had worked toward the development of that area, and had watched it grow into a prosperous agricultural section.

A native Texan, Willie Tarleton Scott was born at Fort Worth, July 24, 1872, and at the time of his death he was 69 years, 4 months, and 3 days of age.

Mr. Scott was married to Miss Ella Hanna on November 25, 1894. To this union six children were born, five of whom survive.

He had been a member of the Church of Christ since 1903, and was active in the church and its work.

Surviving Mr. Scott are his widow, Mrs. W. T. Scott of Dodson, and five children, Miss Josephine Scott of Wichita Falls, Miss Gladys Scott of Dodson, Fred Scott of El Paso, Clarence Scott of Dodson, and Eugene Scott of Santa Anna, Calif.

Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Irene Holtzclaw of Altus, seven grandchildren, and three great grandchildren.

In paying tribute to Mr. Scott, Minister Bonneau stated: "In Mr. Scott's passing his family loses a beloved father and husband, the Church of Christ loses a faithful member, and our community loses a good citizen."

Interment was in the Dodson Cemetery with the Coley Funeral Home of Hollis in charge.

Attorney Talks On Monroe Doctrine

Judge R. H. Cocke, local attorney, explained the meaning of the Monroe Doctrine and its place in the present day world when he spoke briefly before the Rotary Club Tuesday, December 2.

In his introductory remarks, B. A. Zorns, who was in charge of the program, poitned out that it was 118 years ago Tuesday, the day of the meeting, that the Monroe Doctrine was instituted.

Judge Cocke traced the history of the Doctrine, and the factors underlying its issuance. He quoted from its text and pointed out that a redeclaration of parts of the Doctrine have been made by the United States government in recent months.

"Our stand is that the Nazi form of government is repugnant to the best interest of this country," Judge Cocke said.

Mr. Saied was expected to return the latter part of this week.

Save Food — It's Patriotic

Homemakers have responded wholeheartedly to patriotic appeals for being frugal with aluminum, tin cans, and other household equipment made of materials needed for the national defense.

They can make an equally great contribution by stopping food wastes, says Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent. Today, home and family thrift is a basic step in the nation-wide movement to conserve all of this country's food resources, she says.

One of the best ways to stop waste of food is planning. . . long time planning of production of food on the farm, planning for storage arrangements in the home, careful planning of meals for a week or several days rather than for one day at a time, and planning for food buying.

Wise shoppers not only take a list to the grocery store, but they also can stop waste by studying labels on packaged products and knowing government grades. Miss Erisman also urges homemakers to be "scale checkers." It's thrifty, she says, to make sure the butcher puts in all the fat trimmings with cuts of meat for these can be used in cooking.

There is also plenty of opportunity for waste in the cooking and serving of food. Many homemakers peel potatoes improperly. Many throw away the outside leaves of lettuce or cabbage as a matter of habit. And there is waste in lemons or oranges only partially squeezed and in carelessly scraped mixing bowls.

Directly or indirectly poor cooking is responsible for lots of food waste. For example, when meat is improperly cooked at too high temperatures, it shrinks more than is necessary, which means fewer servings per pound.

Editorial

The kind of fighting which is being witnessed in Libya probably would cause a 19th century military strategist to tear his hair in rage. It departs from many of rules which, until relatively recent times, were given an almost Biblical weight by commanding officers. Under those rules an attacking army must move as integrated force; its lines of communication with its bases must be maintained; each unit must keep in touch with the units on its flanks; and so on.

In the Libyan fighting a column of tanks may dash deep into the enemy's position, paying little attention to its flanks or its communications. It risks being cut off and wiped out, but its mission is theoretically important enough in the scheme of battle to justify such risks. Such tactics are not, of course, peculiar to the Libyan fighting. They have figured in most of the blitzkreiging that the Germans have done. They are conducted in blithe disregard of the old textbooks.

This kind of fighting was first witnessed on a large scale in the spring and summer of 1918 when the Germans were making their last desperate drives in France. Ludendorff is credited with having originated it. It was known then as the infiltration plan, with German contingents driving deep into the Allied positions, paying little attention to flanks or communications and then uniting with other spearhead forces, when possible, to form a new front. Although the tank did not figure in the plan, it proved very successful for a while. If Germany had adopted it earlier in the war, it might have brought about a vast difference.

Some observers have compared it to old-style Indian fighting, in which much depended upon the individual or on small groups of individuals, and where the premium was on alertness, initiative and resourcefulness. There are many points of similarity; enough to suggest that it is not new, after all, but merely a modern adaptation of methods employed long before tanks and planes entered the military picture.—Wichita Daily Times.

• More Than Lip Service

That the United States is giving Great Britain more than "lip service" in the battle against the Axis dictators is attested to be the fact that the estimated tax burden for the current year in this country is $168 per capita as compared to $165 per capita in Great Britain. Both nations have extended themselves in preparing for an all-out campaign against the totalitarians next year. When newly assessed taxes go into force next year, the per capita tax burden in the United States will be $180 as compared to a British total of $173 per capita.—Aug H. Olson in The Coleman Democrat-Voice.

• The Younger Generation

When you start enumerating hog breeders in this section of the Southwest, you won't get very far down the list before you will be including a number of the younger generation of farmers. For much of the hog improvement work in the Panhandle-Plains area is being done by boys these days. Many FFA chapters are not only building up their own stock but are making available to farmers in their area some purebred boars.—Raymond Holbrook in The Amarillo News.

• Farm Income Vs. Farm Prosperity

The fact that farm income for 1941 will reach the highest total in many years, is being widely publicized. However that doesn't mean that all is well with agriculture. The farmer's costs of labor, materials and taxes are also reaching record levels.—Van W. Stewart in the Ochiltree County Herald.

The fact that an R.A.F. flier wears Texas-made cowboy boots, as recently reported, shouldn't be surprising to those who have taken note of the footwear of some of the Sheppard Field cadets. Washington Week

By RALPH HERBERT

All is successful on the egg front. That is the good news from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The daily egg here is commonplace. In Britain it is a luxury.

●

To fill British demand as well as domestic needs, Secretary Wickard set as the American goal the production of four billion dozen eggs, and indications are that this goal will be attained.

●

Egg production on October 1 was nearly 10 per cent larger than on the same date last year. With favorable weather, good production will continue. The number of layers now on farms is more than 5 per cent larger than last year. During 1942 the number of layers is expected to increase by 10 per cent over last year.

●

During the months of January-September, farm production of eggs has been consistently larger than it was in the years 1930-1939. Production of dried eggs in recent months has been more than 10 times larger than a year earlier. Most of this output was purchased by the Department of Agriculture for export under the lend-lease act.

●

During the first three weeks of October more than nine million pounds of dried eggs were purchased. Total purchased so far this year is over 27 million pounds.

●

Net withdrawal of frozen eggs from storage in September was larger than in September last year, but stocks on Oct. 1 were by far the largest on record on that date. In fact, total holdings were about 33 per cent bigger.

There is no danger that farmers engaged in egg production, will be victimized by low prices, owing to over-production. The Department of Agriculture, acting under statutes that give it this power, has announced it will support egg prices over the period ending June 30, 1943, at levels that will be remunerative to the farmers.

It's just one holiday right after another, and as several local merchants took advantage of business closed on Thanksgiving to start decorating for Christmas, I SAW

A familiar quartet of the younger set home from college—the Anderson twins, Jean and Louise, of Tech, and Patricia Sullivan and Frances Stevenson of Texas State College for Women. . . Mrs. Mollie Kelso, visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Jimmy and Gladys Kelso, and of course, the granddaughter, Mary Beth.

●

Mrs. L. C. Hill, Jr., and Mrs. M. M. Kern sewing Red Cross labels in the sweaters and shawls that were sent off by the local chapter this week. . . Ruth Gholson looking up the legal description of some land in the county clerk's office.

●

Heard: That the fountain pen Ross Wilkerson carries—and the one he signs draft notices with—is the one given him when he left Wellington for army training during World War I. It was used by his buddies to write letters home when he was in camp. . . Heard again: that some of the members of the Drug Store Cowboys Association, whoever that might be, went out to rope a calf the other day, and roped it so completely that they broke its leg.

●

Mrs. Leo Huckaby, who lives near Lutie and who has a fine looking flock of chickens, saying she raised them from just a few hens this year. She already is getting eggs from her pullets. . . Mrs. Claude Simpson, also of Lutie, in town with her new son. "Of course, we're awfully proud of him," she said.

●

J. W. Chapman wondering if The Leader was going to continue to get enough newsprint to print the paper. It will. . . Mrs. Margarete McCampbell rolling Thesis' bicycle down the sidewalk.

●

Comment on The Leader: Mrs. E. L. King saying that because she needed so many things this fall, she almost didn't subscribe to The Leader again, but her girls wouldn't let her do that. "The only day we don't complain about the mile and a half to the mail box is on the day The Leader is due," she said. . . Mrs. B. L. Atkinson saying her family could not do without The Leader.

●

Mrs. J. L. Cummings remarking that she came to this county 39 years ago on November 27—it was Thanksgiving Day that year too. She says she enjoys The Leader so much because she is alone now, and it is a means of hearing from many of her old friends.

●

W. C. Johnson saying that he will be moving four miles east of town after January 1, where he has bought a place. He has lived at Quail for more than 20 years, and Mrs. Johnson has lived there for 36 years.

●

J. C. Darrow saying that hegari feeds are preferred by hogs, cattle and other stock, that it keeps longer when stacked properly, and that even after a year the juice can still be squeezed out of it. If it's planted at the right time, it's a sure crop, he believes.

●

More crop comment: S. A. Welch, who lives near Dodson, saying that it looked like the poorer the land, the better the crop this year. Some of the land that in the past years hasn't been very productive, has fine crops this time.

●

W. H. Gray saying lots of people tried to spell his name with an e, but he just told them that didn't spell anything.

J. E. Farris Of Dodson Is Buried Friday

J. E. Farris, prominent farmer of the Dodson area, died at his home at 9 o'clock Wednesday night, November 26. He had been a resident of that section for the last quarter of a century.

Final rites were conducted from the Methodist Church at Dodson Friday afternoon, by Rev. Don Culbertson of Follett, a former pastor at Dodson. Friends from throughout the southern and eastern part of the county, and from several adjoining counties gathered to pay tribute, filling the church to capacity.

Pallbearers for the funeral were W. F. Vaughan, Dewey Malone, Aaron Welch, Rufie Jameson, J. C. Howell and Ed Bennett. Honorary pallbearers were Arthur Lewis, W. W. Carter, W. C. Robinson, Z. McKinney, C. C. Camp, and Frank Ford.

Flower bearers were Mrs. Hugh Painter, Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mrs. W. C. Roberson, Mrs. Merlyn Carter, Mrs. Luther Rollings, Mrs. Tom Birchfield, Mrs. Leon White, Mrs. Viola Jameson and Mrs. Mattie Sims. Hymns included "Precious Memories," sung by Mr. and Mrs. Orval Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. Mid Lewis, and "Nearer My God to Thee" and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," by the choir.

Interment was in the Dodson Cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home of Wellington in charge.

Mr. Farris was a native of Tennessee, where he was born Jan. 26, 1869, the son of Elonzo and Laura Ann Darby Farris. He was at the time of his death 72 years and 10 months of age.

When about six years of age, Mr. Farris moved with his parents to Alabama, where they lived for several years before moving to Texas.

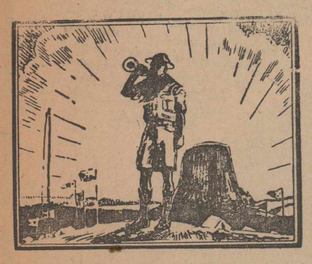

Since coming to the Dodson vicinity to make his home, Mr. Farris had gained a place of respect among his neighbors and associates, and by the character of his nature had made a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Farris had taken much interest in the schools and had served as a trustee about 1922.

On May 23, 1890, Mr. Farris was married to Miss Nancy Missouri McCain, who survives him.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, having been converted in 1901 at Kennedale.

Surviving Mr. Farris, in addition to his widow, are six children, Mrs. B. T. Webb, Julien J. Farris and Olan R. Farris of Dodson, Mrs. Frank White of Altus, Okla., Curtis C. Farris of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. E. O. Tudor of Fort Worth. One son, W. E. Farris, died in 1918.

Approximately 20 boys and seven parents were present.

Many Activities In 1941 HD Work

Progress of the Home Demonstration Clubs of the county during the last year was reviewed this week by Miss Rose Erisman, home demonstration agent.

"The year just ending has been a successful one for the clubs of Collingsworth County," she said. "The number of clubs and membership in these clubs has increased, and the clubs have been active in all the district and state activities. We have sent delegates to the District Home Demonstration Association in Pampa, to the State Home Demonstration Association in Beaumont, and seven delegates to the Farmer's Short Course at College Station."

These clubs, it was pointed out, carried away top honors at the County Fair, and the Houselog Club's booth rated excellent at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. A marked improvement in the yards of the farm homes due to yard improvement demonstrations carried out by the club members has been noted.

During the year 1,004 evergreen shrubs were planted and are now living, 829 shade trees were planted, 15 lawns were levelled and sodded, and 142 club members drew yard plan charts by which they will follow to completion the yard improvement demonstrations.

Activities of the home food supply demonstrators has resulted in the canning of 53,202 quarts of fruits and vegetables, the storing of 7,315 pounds of vegetables, fruits and meats. These have been stored fresh, cured or dried. In addition, 6,926 pounds of fruits, meats and vegetables were stored in frozen food lockers.

In addition to the preservation of these foods, 142 club families filled a balanced preservation budget and this same number improved food preparation practices through demonstrations given by the home demonstration agent.

"Table service has been improved in the homes," Miss Erisman reported. "Pressure cookers have been tested to prevent food poisoning and the loss of food through spoilage.

"There is still a lot of work to be done in Collingsworth County concerning the nutrition of our population, both rural and urban. The rural families are realizing the importance of a balanced diet, and much has been done this year toward creating an appreciation for more wholesome and balanced diets," the demonstration agent pointed out.

The 1941 food demonstrations have been given on meat; 1942 foods work will concern whole grain cereals—their preservation, preparation, and place in the diet. A continuation of "County-Wide Nutrition" on a larger scale will be promoted through the home demonstration agent's office.

Another phase of activity during 1941 has been the making of 432 cotton mattresses and 350 cotton comforts for low-income families. This brought the total number of mattresses made in the county under this program of the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Department of Agriculture to 1,217.

"It is far from 'all work and no play' with club members and their families," Miss Erisman said. "They have had their fun along with their work. There have been picnics, encampments, all-day meetings and parties this year, and to add to these next year, the members will have a County Recreation Association in which the entire family will take part. The meetings will take place in a different community on the fourth Friday night of each month, and every club member and her family will join together for an evening of fun and frolic.

"As the close of the year draws near, the Collingsworth County Home Demonstration Club members are looking forward to an even more active year in 1942. They realize there is much to be done for national defense in their own homes; they realize that a nation can be no stronger than its people; and its people can be no stronger than the homes from which they come—they are making their contribution toward the defense of their country," Miss Erisman concluded.

Phases Of Tax Exemptions Are Pointed Out

DALLAS.—That precious little lambkins born this year is going to mean more in dollars and cents when income-tax paying time comes around than ever before.

Assistant Collector of Internal Revenue S. L. Mayo explains:

"In the past, if a child was born to a couple, credit for a dependent was figured on a split basis for a part of the year.

"The same basis was used where the taxpayers' marital status changes. Under the new act (applicable in 1942), if a child is born even on Dec. 31, the last day of the tax paying year, the credits will apply for the whole year.

This means that formerly if a babe was born Oct. 1, the exemption was for three months—October, November, December—or a quarter of a year and a quarter of the total of exemption, $400.

Now the exemption is for the whole year regardless of when the child is born.

Income tax forms will begin to go out in the mails Jan. 5, which will be the first official notice to many thousands that they will be required to make returns on the income for 1941. Employers paying social security taxes will be sent about Dec. 15 information on new provisions of the income tax law and asking their aid in distributing tax forms to new tax payers.

Lowering the exemptions granted both single and married persons and an increase in income of individuals in the lower brackets will be responsible for the large gains in the number of tax payers, Mayo said. The exemption for single persons has been cut from $800 to $750 and for married persons from $2,000 to $1,500.

"For the first time in the history of federal tax laws, the personal exemptions granted put no premium on marriage. A man and wife living together are granted exactly the same exemptions they would have separately if single, the exemptions being $750 for single persons and $1,500 for married."

Mayo said that the income tax office has not yet completed its plans for collecting the automobile use tax of $5 a year. He said there also is a boat use tax, amounting to $5 a year for boats over 16 feet long and up to 28 feet. From 28 to 50 feet, the tax is $10.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee were in Amarillo during the Thanksgiving holidays to visit with Mr. Lee's mother.

Should the proposed change be carried out, it will mean the moving of a number of houses and outbuildings, the judge said.

Old Sailing Ships Refitted

PORTLAND. — When lumber cargo rates jump from $12 to $80 a thousand board feet, any hull will sail if she can get a crew. And she usually can, with warzone pay in the neighborhood of $275 a month for each man.

So it is that the four-master Marie, formerly the gambling ship Tango, formerly the Mary Dollar, will be in the Columbia River soon under a press of sail to take a couple of million board feet or so for South Africa.

She is one of four West Coast windjammers to hoist anchor from semi-retirement and spread canvas for one more fling in cargo lanes.

Engine-driven ships forced her out of trade years ago. She became a gambling barge off Southern California, but law enforcement eventually relegated her to idleness.

The Marie, now being converted at San Diego, is the second gambling ship to go respectable under the lure of war cargo rates.

The old Rex, which did a fat gambling business off San Pedro before the war, is being re-rigged as a schooner. She has been renamed the Star of Scotland and will be carrying cargo to South Africa too, loading soon at Grays Harbor, Wash.

Four County Men Work On Texas-Chicago Pipeline

Four Collingsworth County men, now working at Washington, Ia., are employed on the $13,000,000 pipeline extending from the oil fields of Moore County Texas, up through Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, and into Chicago, where it will supply fuel for vital defense industries.

Writing from Iowa, Herman Childress enclosed clippings and pictures from the Des Moines Register telling of the work of the pipeline crews, now laying pipe at the rate of a mile a day.

The pipe, Childress pointed out, is made of quarter inch steel, guaranteed to carry gas for 50 years.

Concerning the county, he added: "It's just liable to snow one day and then get colder than blazes the next."

2 Arrested On Liquor Charges

Twenty-one pints of liquor were confiscated by local officers Tuesday morning in a raid on a Wellington service station.

The operator of the station and his wife were arrested and two charges were filed against each, Sheriff Paul Bell said. Three of the charges involved the sale of liquor, the fourth, the possession of liquor.

Assisting Sheriff Bell were Deputy Chester Gunter and Chief of Police G. N. Scruggs.

Those charged are now being held in the county jail, the sheriff said.

The case will be tried in the February term of county court, W. M. Tucker, county attorney, said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Boyles and Billy Braboy, all of Tulia, were guests Thanksgiving Day through the week end of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McCaskill.
