THIRTEEN CONVICTS ESCAPE IN PRISON OUTBREAK

DRUG ADDICTS GO ON MUTINY IN CALIFORNIA

REINFORCEMENTS WITH SHOT GUNS HALT TROUBLE TODAY

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—A riot by inmates of the Spadra State Narcotic hospital near here today resulted in the escape of thirteen men. The outbreak was quelled only after authorities reinforced by a squad of Deputy Sheriffs threatened the mob with sawed off shot guns.

The inmates used improved rams to smash doors and knock bars and fire gratings from windows. Three men were held as being part of the band of ringleaders. They were Charles E. Rivers, 42; William Graham, 60, and Bobby Hall, 39.

No One Hurt

No one was hurt in the struggling and order was restored when authorities advanced with shotguns and tear gas bombs and warned the inmates they would attack if the rioters refuse to surrender.

Reports from the hospital said several scores of men figured in the outbreak and that it began about midnight, apparently at a given signal.

Groups of inmates manned clumsily constructed rams and rushed doors, breaking them down. Others used similar battering pieces on protected windows.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 5.—Three firemen were killed and ten persons injured here today by falling walls of a burning drug store in a residential district.

The firemen were killed when an explosion occurred as a hose was being dragged into the structure. Phil Hahn, a nearby resident who discovered the fire, said the floor of the store appeared saturated with oil.

The dead firemen were Frank Loncar, Roy Rutherford and John Moore. Captain Emmett Fitzgerald, at the nozzle of the hose, was dragged to safety by his comrades after he was caught and imprisoned by falling timbers.

Those injured, none believed seriously, were firemen and persons watching the blaze at Sixty-Ninth street and Prospect Avenue.

Tong Guns Bark Throughout U. S.

NATIONAL OUTBREAK IS FEARED AGAIN; TWO ARE KILLED

CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (AP) — Tong guns blazed in Chicago yesterday and the echo, heard in Chinese sections all over the United States, brought out apprehensive police details attempting to stop spread of the dread fued.

Chicago's Chinatown was thrown into confusion when a Hip Sing Tongman, Yee Sun, was shot and killed in a crowded street and again last night when Kar Leong Wong was shot and probably fatally wounded. Police were informed Wong was a member of the On Leong Tong and were working on the theory his shooting was in retaliation for the slaying of Sun.

"Telegraph" Working

The mysterious "grapevine telegraph" through which Tong members were informed of happenings in other cities evidently was functioning well for police in other cities reported streets in Chinatowns deserted and tense and uneasy spirits prevailing.

Two shots were fired at Chinese in Boston yesterday, and although the trouble was believed to have been the result of a gambling quarrel, scores of plainclothesmen were stationed in the Chinese section and sightseers kept out.

Joe Tuck, member of the On Leong, was arrested upon the identification of a Hip Singer, Ding Wing, who said he saw the Yee shooting, but police doubted he was the actual slayer.

Nine Chinese were held by police today in connection with the Wong shooting.

Leaders Protected

Soon after the disturbances started, Frank Moy, president of the On Leong organization, and Lee Loy, acting head of the Hip Sings, appeared at the detective bureau and asked help in preventing further trouble. At their own requests they were both given detective escorts.

Both Tong leaders admitted the war was on and said they feared a repetition of the bitter warfare that claimed more than 70 lives in the nationwide Tong war of 1925.

The recent troubles are believed to have started in New York when three members quit the On Leong Tong and joined the Hip Sings in violation of an agreement between the tongs. After the protest by the On Leongs, the three men were dropped from membership in the Hip Sings.

NEWEST WRINKLE, AVOID WRINKLES

BY MABEL DUKE
For NEA Service

Probably woman's greatest bugaboo is wrinkles!

Those hated fine lines that appear so insidiously and soon become furrows are often unnecessary.

It is often carelessness rather than age that brings them on, in the opinion of Esther Ralston. Sometimes they appear on the faces of quite young people. No woman under 40 should tolerate these beauty-marring lines that can be easily prevented. Because preventing is easier than curing, even school girls should give a thought to their future beauty and attempt to prevent the first fine lines.

ESTHER RALSTON

Beware of the Squint

"Squinting and frowning are the greatest causes for wrinkles bringing them on the forehead and around the eyes," Miss Ralston said. "Also, because a squint is usually accompanied by a tenseness of the muscles around the mouth, lines may soon appear there, too.

"Frowning is a habit that should be broken at once. Worry often brings frowns but when you become fretful just think of the crow's feet that are waiting for just such opportunities as these to make them welcome!

It May Be Eyestrain

"To remedy squinting, first consult an oculist to find if it is caused by eyestrain. If not, prevent that malady by wearing glasses, delicately smoked, when driving, working in the brilliant sunshine or at the seashore. Never read while riding or lying down.

"When fine lines begin to trace themselves across the youth of your skin, massage night and morning with a good muscle oil to keep them from becoming deep furrows and perhaps eliminate them entirely. After applying the oil, tap the face gently with the finger tips for five minutes. Crook the fingers as though you were playing the piano; instead of the piano, however, play easily upon the muscles of the face."

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

I know it's vacation time, but I would like to call a parents' meeting, just the same. Or, failing that, couldn't some of you fathers on vacation take just a minute or so, while waiting for the fish to bite, or walking over the links, or when just loafing on a lovely moonlight night, to think of your youngsters who are just growing into manhood and womanhood?

Mothers don't have much time to fish or golf and assuredly none in which to loaf, but they can do the thinking while they are darning the family hose or doing some other needed job that does not require undivided attention.

Why do so many of you forbid your children who are in their teens to have friends of the opposite sex? You were interested in the girls long before that, you fathers. And you mothers know how young you were when you first began to be conscious of certain young males whose gaze made you blush and tremble, perhaps.

Why think it unnatural and wrong for your boys and girls to feel that way? They can't help it, you know. Nature makes them so. Goodness, if they weren't healthily interested in one another you'd have real cause for worry. They wouldn't be normal. You should take such youngsters to a psychologist or psychiatrist. They need attention. Read over this letter and tell me who needs punishment most, the girl who wrote the letter or her strict father?

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am 17 years old and have three more years in school. My father is very strict and unreasonable. He doesn't allow me to talk to boys or date with them. Virginia, is it right for me to slip around and meet boys away from the house?

"I have met one boy several times. I have known him for a number of years and he doesn't want me to stay with my cruel father. I used to love this boy dearly, but my father punished me so severely that I hate to see him for fear of my punishment. This boy wants me to leave with him. I want my education and I also want my freedom, or the freedom that a girl of my age should have.

"I have many friends, both boys and girls, but my father quarrels with me if a girl drops in to see me. Would you please tell me whether it would be best for me to go with him or stay here? Sometimes I think if I should leave it might change my father and he wouldn't be so hard on the younger children. GREENEYES."

"P. S.—Don't you think a father or mother who is so strict cause a boy or girl to do many things which are wrong that they wouldn't do if they were not under such strict parents? I do things wrong but it seems as though I have to slip around. Please try to help me."

"I'll answer your postscript first. Yes, I do think boys and girls are more likely to go wrong if the parents are too strict. It is natural for a person to lie to avoid punishment, and that first deceit may lead to many underhand actions. All of which could be avoided if there were perfect love and confidence between parents and children.

You have my sympathy, dear, but I am afraid running away with the boy friend wouldn't solve your problem. You might find you had jumped "out of the frying pan into the fire." You are too young to marry, and might find you didn't love the boy and that you were not suited and your life would be ruined.

I advise you to finish your schooling. That will mean so much to you in years to come. Recognize that your father's power over your actions is only a matter of a few years. In spite of his strictness he is providing for you and giving you a chance for an education. Then try to play fair with him. Do what you know is right and work hard to finish your schooling, and don't let any set of circumstances beat you. Give up the boy friends now, if necessary, and cheer yourself up with the thought of many good times coming.

BANJO EYES: Bring the talk around to friendships. Ask him if he believes men and women can be just good friends without love entering in. Properly handled, this should bring out what you want to know.

Paris Says Knees To Be Hidden This Fall

BY HAZEL REAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Men are to have the privilege next winter of paying for women's expensive silk stockings and then paying again to cover up the stockings with even more expensive long skirts, and when Paris says long it means long.

In the Rue De La Paix and its environs, where foreign buyers and gathered, for new styles, "long" skirts will mean touching the toes and dragging the floor for evening wear and somewhere between the knees and ankles for day time.

Professional buyers who advocated long skirted, high waisted models by the dozens, seem to think there is no doubt women will wear them.

PETERSBURG SCHOOL GETS AFFILIATION

STATE DEPARTMENT'S REPORT ALLOWS 1ST CLASS SCHOOL

PETERSBURG, Aug. 5. (Special)—A report has just been received here from the State Department of Education that the Petersburg high school is now a fully affiliated first-class high school, having had seven credits and the past year's work has gained nine more, making a total of sixteen, one more than is required by the state department of education for college entrance. The entire sixteen credits being won in the past two years as the school had no credits at the beginning of the 1927-26 term.

Superintendent J. D. Wester came here two years ago and made his plans to get the school affiliated in three years, but he surprised himself as well as the entire community by accomplishing the work in two years.

Besides being able to boast of a full affiliation, Petersburg has a fine high school building, wonderfully equipped in every way and one of the best libraries that can be found in a high school.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

'Course all the Tinymites were glad that Scouty was a real brave lad. He'd captured Mister Lion, and he wasn't scared at all. The growling beast got quite a scare when Scouty's rope sailed through the air. And now the beast was locked up tight, and this pleased one and all.

As all the Tinies stood around wee Scouty said, "Well, you have found that I'm a pretty smart young lad. You'd best cheer me again." And so they did. Then Coppy said, "Don't let your act go to your head. Most anyone is apt to do a brave stunt now and then."

"Oh, do you think so?" Scouty snapped. "You're trapped. Name anything you want to and I'll do it best of all. We'll have a contest, here and now. I trust it won't end in a row. I'd even run a foot race but I fear that you would fall."

This argument amused the rest, and Clowny said. "I think it best that you two lads be quiet. We don't want to see a fight. Of course, if there's some good fair race that you have around this place, we'll all be glad to watch you 'cause 'twill be a funny sight."

Just then the circus boss came near and said. "Just see what I have here. A couple dandy chariots, and dogs to pull them ,too. If you two as must race for fun, this is the way it can be one. You each can have a chariot, an now it's up to you."

Brave Scouty cried. "That's all we need." and Coppy thereupon agreed. "We'll race around the circus track to see who's best." said he So each one took a little cart and soon were all set for the start. Then Clowny shouted "Go". It was as thrilling as could be.

"LIFER" SEES MODERN MARVELS

Seventy-One-Year Old Prisoner Is Taken Out For First Time In 53 Years; Takes First-Car Ride

(By Associated Press)

BRIDGEWATER, Mass., Aug. 5.—Fifty three years ago a boy of seventeen who had murdered younger children entered the Charlestown state prison to expiate his crimes by a life in solitary confinement.

Thursday, Jesse H. Pomeroy, a grizzled old man of 71, was moved from behind the grim walls that had for more than a half century been his home to the state farm here, a vast expanse of fertile land on which the several hundred inmates raise garden crops.

Takes First Car Ride

Pomeroy arrived here in an automobile, his first motor vehicle ride, and during the trip his eyes were held by wonder and his tongue almost speechless as he realized with what speed a world, hidden from him by prison walls, had moved in 53 years.

Massachusetts' historic "lifer" was surprised and disappointed by the virtual absence of horses from the highways. At the state farm tractors have all but displaced horses and a lengthy explanation was necessary.

Sees Airplane Take Off

Near Brockton the automobile paused long enough at an airport for him to witness for the first time the take-off of an airplane. He was so amazed he was unable to question his guards.

At another point a string of freight cars held his attention and an explanation was necessary before he could comprehend their use. The gates lowered at a railroad crossing, which halted the machines in one town through which they passed, impressed Pomeroy as one of the greatest improvements he had seen. A string of high tension power lines, on their skeleton poles completely baffled the aged prisoner.

Pomeroy's removal to the state farm was directed because of his physical condition.

What Would You Say?

As a great admirer of Bill McKechnie we don't know whether to rejoice or commiserate with him over his return from exile.

It must be said to his credit that he is a game guy. He took his rap last fall and didn't say a word.

His reward for winning the pennant last year—or as his bosses might put it, his punishment for losing four straight games in the world series—was banishment to the Rochester farm of the St. Louis club.

He took it like a soldier and wished Billy Southworth well when Bill was moved in from Rochester to succeed him.

Southworth stepped into a tough spot and McKechnie is coming back into a tougher spot. The champion Cards are floundering all over the league and McKechnie faces the danger of being burned in the chair if he doesn't get the club up there.

Bill Can Soldier Also

Southworth, in going back to Rochester, proved himself a good soldier. But he always has been that kind of a fellow.

Last winter when he was appointed manager of the Cards he was told that he was a sucker for taking the job and that it was the toughest spot in baseball. Bill just laughed.

"They're all tough spots in baseball," he said. "There's no future in soft jobs. I am in baseball as a profession and there is only one place for a professional baseball player. That place is in the major leagues. I'm young yet and I think I can play ball for several more years and I naturally want to be in the majors. If I can't make the grade I'll go back."

Fat Boy Makes Good

One of the important men in the drive of the Philadelphia Athletics for the pennant is Bill Shores, a pitcher who was almost fired out of the training camp. Let Bill Dooly of the Philadelphia Record tell the story. Here it is:

The biggest surprise that has tickled Connie Mack's pennant humor this season, by Connie's own admission, is Pitcher Bill Shores, who remains to star in the role of fairy prince where he was expected a few short weeks ago to start a one-way journey almost any moment to where the cows are mooing and the potato bugs are cooing.

For Bill Shores, the sensational rookie whose five wins and other victories saved just about represent the gap that keeps this pennant race from going Siamese, was not picked to be another country boy who would make good in the big city.

Connie Mack couldn't "see" Shores down in the training camp in the spring. It was kind of an optical illusion, for Bill was so stout that when he stood on the main stem of Fort Meyers he hit the rest of the town.

But that was the reason Connie couldn't see him. He was too rubicund to enter into Mr. Mack's picture of what a pennant ensemble should look like.

If you'd have told the tall tutor that Shores was a fairy prince in disguise he'd probably have thought you were standing in the sun too much.

But you live and learn even at Connie's age. The peerless pilot exercised his usual patience with Shores. It pained him to look at Bill's corpulence, to think of all that weight, crushing down the poor little clovers in Shibe park, but he delayed the signing of the walking papers.

Today Mr. Mack is glad he wasn't hasty. He has changed his mind about Shore's figure. You can get philosophical about almost anything.

So it isn't hard for Connie to see the bright side of a round rookie who seems destined to provide the Athletics with the extra pitching the Mackmen need to win their first pennant in 15 years.

The writer talked to the mahout of the White Elephants about Shores after Bill blanked the St. Louis Browns.

"Shores is a great pitcher," said Connie, "and the funny thing is that when we were training down south I never expected him to be any use to us. I didn't even consider him.

"You know he looked so fat and overweight when he reported. When I saw him I was really disgusted, for I had looked forward to Bill joining us this year a lot lighter than he was last season.

"But he is just one of those fellows who is naturally heavy. If he wasn't natural he'd surely have worked a lot of it off by now, because he does work hard. He's conscientious, too, about working out every day.

"Shores has given me the biggest surprise of the year. He's broken into a pitching staff that I didn't think any pitcher could break into coming from the minors."

FINAL PLAY FEATURED BY BRILLIANCY

LARGE GALLERY SEES MATCH; WINS ON 35TH HOLE

A large gallery of spectators were held spellbound Sunday as Lubbock's two leading golfers, Bob Peck and Grady Higginbotham, waged a brilliant battle over the rugged Country club course for the annual city open golf championship.

Putting Old Man Par in the background, Peck more than matched the uncanny play of Higginbotham and won out on the 35th hole, 2 up and 1 to go.

"Hig" Has Difficulties

Taking the lead earlier in the day when Higginbotham encountered numerous difficulties, Peck was leading his opponent throughout the match. The winner's consistent performance forced Higginbotham to fight an uphill battle to the last hole. On two occasions Peck held a five hole advantage, only to see the Tech mentor climb back up with a dogged determination.

At the end of the morning round, Peck was leading 2 up. The last 18 holes found both golfers driving and putting like demons, overshadowing their play in the morning decidedly. Peck and Higginbotham both turned in six birdies in the final round, five of which were halved. In spite of the comeback staged by Higginbotham, Peck forged ahead at one stage of the afternoon round to gain a five hole advantage.

Thirteenth Is Jinx

Peck's approach to the 13th carried far to the left and landed in a deep canyon. Two attempts failed to bring the ball out and he drove back down the fairway 100 yards to approach the cup with a beautiful iron shot that landed inches from the pin. Hig's drive had bounced within ten yards of the green.

After taking the 13th, Higginbotham placed his iron shot to number 14 on the green while Peck again went off into the wilds. Taking this hole, the underdog narrowed Peck's margin to two holes. Fighting to overcome the slender advantage held by Peck, Higginbotham halved 15 and 16, but missed his 10-foot put on number 17 and the match was over.

Campbell Wins Second

Other final results; Campbell defeated Felty for the championship of the second flight, 12 and 11. Roberds was hard put to put down English on the 36th hole, 1 up. Swartz defeated Acton, 4 and 2, for the championship of the 4th flight, and edmission downed Jennings 5 and 4, for the consolation title.

Winners of the four flights are to be awarded loving cups, it was announced by the tournament committee. Other prizes will be given to the runner-up in each flight and the consolation winner.

For winning the championship, Peck will receive the following prizes donated by local merchants: Pair of pajamas, McWhorter-Roberds. $5 cleaning and pressing, Lubbock Tailoring Co., 10 Jumboes, City Drug No. 2. Two tickets, Lyric Theater. Necktie, W. O. Sheely Clothing Store. Auto wash and lubrication, Logan Service Station. Half-dozen golf balls, Montgomery Ward. "Service All" Williams Service Station. 3 sets of passes, Palace Theater. Free meal Our Cafeteria.

INTER-CITY PLAY PLANNED

LOCALS MAY JOURNEY TO PLAINVIEW FOR MATCH SUNDAY

Plans are under way today to send a ten-men golf team to Plainview next Sunday for an inter-city match with the newly organized Lenaware Municipal club.

Although negotiations for the match have not been completed, Ross McWhorter, captain of the Lubbock team, said that the match was fairly certain to be played.

The new municipal course in Plainview is an 18-hole affair, located on the outskirts of the city, and offers an ideal site for a tournament.

Walter Sykes is president of the Lenaware club.

NATIONAL OPEN DRAWS BIG FIELD

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—If mere members counted it would be an easy prediction that some Californian would walk off with victory in the National amateur golf champion ship at Del Monte, Calif., September 2 to 9. Of the huge field of 162 starters, the pacific coast has supplied 70, 57 from California.

The east, south and middle west are comparatively sparsely represented, with Bobby Jones, four-time winner of the title as the leading light.

Five British entries, three Canadains and one from Hawaii make up the foreign contingent. The present British amateur champion, Cyril Tolly, heads the delegation from England while Ross Somerville, holder of the Canadian title, leads the players from the north. Francis H. I. Brown represents Hawaii.

Prospects Bright For Slaton Tigers

SLATON, Aug. 5. (Special)—Better prospects than were enjoyed a year ago will face the Slaton high school Tigers when they begin the 1929 football season. Last year, the team boasted only two lettermen at the season's opening, while there will be six or seven of them on Coach Paul W. Wright's outfit this season. The team lost only one game last year.

Four Night Games On Grid Schedule

DECATUR, Ill., Aug. 5 (AP)—James Millikin University football team will play four games at night this fall. The Charleston, Eureka and St. Viator contests will be played under lights at Decatur, while Millikin will inaugurate night football at Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind.

MACK KNOWS WHERE, WHEN, HOW, UPON WHOM TO SPEND

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 5—If those hot Philadelphia Athletics, who have set the American league afire with their scorching speed, suffer a sudden chill in the toes and come a cropper before the pennant grind ends, Connie Mack, their leader, may find small comfort in the fact that he has one title safely stowed away.

The Athletics' boss seems to have a full copyright, mechanics lien and second mortgage on the checkbook championship of the junior circuit.

Ruppert Once Claimant

This title was once possessed by Colonel Jake Ruppert of the second place Yanks. The colonel in early days of Yankee success gave a three-ring exhibition of passing out the greenbacks for baseball ability. Starting with $125,000 to Boston for Babe Ruth, the good colonel soon developed writer's cramp signing drafts on his checking account. He bought and was paid back in full by six championships and enormous crowds.

Since then, however, Mack has made the colonel look like a handcuffed Scotchman in a poorhouse.

Connie began peeling off the yellow-backs by parting with $100,600 for Lefty Grove.

Only A Starter

This was only a starter. He gave $50,000 and players for George Earnshaw, $75,000 for Sammy Hale, $50,000 for Max Bishop and approximately like sums for Al Simmons, Joe Boley and Mickey Cochrane.

All in all the boys now rushing pennant-ward for the glory of the Quaker City set the tall tutor back about half a million. And this doesn't count the money tossed away on salaries for Tris Speaker, Ty Cobb and Zach Wheat, who proved of little worth to the otherwise young ball club. Noteworthy also is the $100,000 spent for Paul Strand, a deal which proved just too bad.

Turned Deafer

When Connie Mack began to build this club of his he turned a deaf ear to the gibes of those who thought he was shooting a sizeable fortune up the chimney. No one then believed even a billion dollar ball club could ever top the Yankees. However, it begins to look as though the elongated leader knew what he was doing.

The Athletics are bringing back in bunches by means of gate receipts the treasure it took to gather them all into the same style uniforms. And when one pennant and perhaps several others in the offing, the rash bull movement which Connie launched in the baseball ivory market may not only return his principle but a handsome dividend.

Isn't Funny

Those Athletics cost a sight of money but so did the current Yanks, and the Chicago Cubs are far from a two-bit outfit, yet Connie Mack has his boys so far out in front of the New Yorks and their six hapless companions that it isn't even funny. Incidentally, those costly Cubs haven't shone the class of the Mackmen, the Chicagoans, good as they are, still being engaged in a desperate fight to prove their right to ride the crest of the National league.

You've just got to give Mr. Mack extra credit aside from his baseball brains and his courage. He not only knows how to spend money but when, where and upon whom.

BUFF-SPORT GAME IS REAL

SCORING FEATURES IN CONTEST; SPUDS ARE STILL LEADING

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Old-timers and some moderns who are prone to mourn the passing of "inside" baseball and its supplanting by the rough-and-ready slugging game would have derived a thrill from the final game of the Houston-Shreveport series yesterday in the Louisiana city.

The Buffs finally squeezed out with a 4 to 2 verdict after ten torrid innings, giving the down-staters the big end of the series, but the manner in which Gene Bailey's comparatively light hitting club went about scoring the deciding tallies was the thing.

Pepper Martin Causes

Pepper Martin, the league's premier speedster, singled to start the ball rolling. Then Roy Moore drew a stroll. Arter that the pair proceeded to steal three sacks in such a hurry that Pitcher Thompson fell easy prey to another single that completed his downfall.

Martin swiped three sacks during the afternoon.

Two out of three from the Sports enabled the Bisons to stay on the heels of the Wichita Falls Spudders, who shaded the Waco Cubs, 6 to 5, in their closer.

Indians Lose Again

The San Antonio Indians dropped their eleventh in a row when Lil Stoner held them to four hits and downed them, 3 to 2, in the Fort Worth final.

After winning two straight from Dallas, Beaumont wilted before Whitey Glazner's curves in the last game and went down, 8 to 1.

Intersectional strife for the last three days, was a different story from the preceding series in the north. The southern outfits displayed more potency, winning three out of the four series. But for San Antonio's rout at Fort Worth the north countrymen would have been made to look very poorly.

Today's new deal finds Beaumont at Wichita Falls, Waco at Dallas, San Antonio at Shreveport, and Houston at Fort Worth.

LOCAL BALL CLUBS LOSE TWO GAMES

LOBOES DOWN HUBBERS AS TAHOKA DEFEATS ADVERTISERS

Playing minus the services of their regular pitcher, the Lubbock Hubbers were outslugged by the Lamesa Loboes on the latter's diamond Sunday afternoon by the score of 10 to 6.

McWhorter hurled steadily for the Loboes while Red Gaither and Raymond Ater attempted to fill the role of hurlers for Lubbock. Gaither gave way to Ater in the sixth after the Loboes had counted eight times.

Four Homers Hit

Four home runs were included in the onslaught staged by the Loboes, all of which came with men on the paths. Hill hit twice for the circuit while Gus White and Vaughn connected once.

Orville Brothers, Lubbock left fielder, hit the first ball pitched over the left field fence for a home run.

The Hubbers collected nine hits off the offerings of McWhorter, but were unable to match the batting attack staged by the Loboes.

Lamesa comes here next Sunday for a return encounter with the locals. Lefty Fenken, who carried the pitching burden for the Hubbers in the Amarillo tournament, is slated to hurl against the invading nine.

NICHLAUS BESTS LOCALS AT TAHOKA

The Lubbock Advertisers, made their first appearance of the season at Tahoka Sunday and encountered a brand of pitching that sent them home with the small end of a 5-0 decision.

The Nichlaus, Amarillo mound ace hurled shutout baseball, keeping the 11 Lubbock hits well scattered and bearing down effectively in the pinches.

Fourth Inning Bad

For three innings, Hinson turned back the Tahoka threat, but in the fourth was greeted with a two-run spree. Tahoka followed with one in the fifth, one in the sixth and another in the eighth.

Pitcher Parr, of Pampa, took over the mound for the Advertisers in the eighth and displayed a fast ball that Tahoka was unable to fathom. Although the winners garnered but 12 hits in their 5-0 triumph, the base hits were delivered when hits meant runs.

CHICAGO CLUB TO INCREASE STAKES

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A profit of more than $800,000 on its 29-day season at Arlington Park will enable the American National Jockey club to increase its stakes and purses to $600,000 next summer.

The club conducted the meeting on a non-profit basis, and when the large earnings were revealed, plans for 1930 were launched for the most ambitious program ever offered by any racing organization.

The American classic, worth $60,000 in added money this year, will be enriched substantially, possibly to $100,000 while the Arlington handicap, a $20,000 race this year, probably will be increased to $50,000 making it the richest all-age stake in the country.

WINS HIS FIRST

Here's a record of some sort set by Ray Moss, Brooklyn pitcher. The hefty hurler from Tennessee has just won his first full-length ball game in four seasons with the Dodgers. The Cincinnati Reds were the victims. Moss has won other games for Brooklyn, but none in which he went the full nine innings.

BRUINS AND MACKS BOTH FAR AHEAD

CUBS ARE 6½ GAMES IN LEAD NOW; MACKS HAVE 11½

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The week-end fighting along the major league front was all in favor of the two leading teams.

With the Pirates rained out on Saturday and idle yesterday, the Cubs turned back the Brooklyn Robins in two games and stretched the Chicago lead to six and one-half games. The Mackmen played a bruising 8 to 8 tie with the Browns Saturday and took their ease yesterday while the Yanks were dividing a pair with the industrious Indians. This left the margin of the Mackmen at eleven and one-half games, just where it was forty-eight hours ago, but with the important difference that one game of the lead was transferred from the relatively non-essential won column to the vital line of figures detailing games lost. The Yankees now have lost ten games more than the flying Macks, who are moving at a gait which might possibly level that 23-year-old record of 116 games won by the Cubs of Frank Chance.

Yanks-Tribe Split

Some 55,000 turned out on the Sabbath to see the Yankees send off their current jinx team, the Cleveland Indians. The champions hit hard behind old Tom Zachary in the opener to win 12 to 0, but a general pitching blow-up in the second clash saw the Indians score by 14 to 6.

Ed Morris held the recumbent White Sox to two small hits to win for Boston by 8 to 0. The Detroit Tigers closed out the American League program by winning a rough doubleheader from the Senators at Washington, 10 to 5 and 13 to 11.

The mad dash of the Cubs continued when Uncle Wilbert Robinson dared to expose a left-hander. William Watson Clark, to the fire of the Bruins. Clark succumbed by 6 to 4 when Charlie Grimm, the only left-handed swinger on the McCarthy club, connected for a single with men on second and third in the seventh.

St. Louis blanked the Boston Braves by a score of 5 to 0.

Jakie May subjugated the hard-swinging Phillies to win by 7 to 1 at Cincinnati in the remaining National League contest.

"KEED" TO SHOW HIS GRATITUDE

Chocolate Keeps Promise Good To Soldiers For Aiding Him In Starting Career; Fights There Wednesday

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Gratitude in a prize fighter has come to be such a rare trait that the case of Kid Chocolate is almost too good to be true.

A little more than a year ago the flashing Cuban "Keed", one of the cleverest bits of fighting machinery the modern ring has produced, drifted into New York with his manager broke and in need of immediate action. They visited every fight club without even landing a preliminary match.

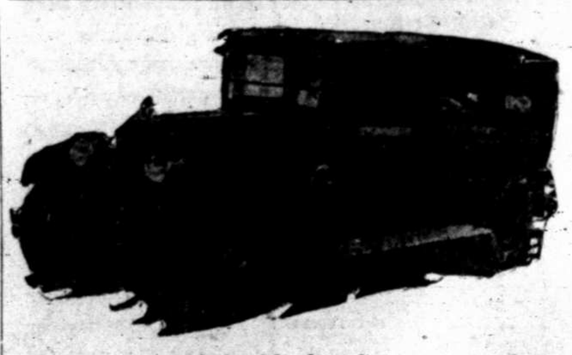

Went to Camp

Discouraged, the tall negro boy went out to the soldiers' camp at Mitchell Field where once a week the lesser lights of the leather tossing industry battle for coffee and cake money at a tiny fight club and got his first chance there.

From the first moment Chocolate lifted his hands in action, he was a sensation. The Cuban youngster, only 19 years old, is a perfect boxer with the technique of the old masters, a stiff puncher with either hand and an engaging ring personality. Within a few weeks every New York promoter wanted his services.

Within the year Chocolate bounded up the fistic trail through the bantam and featherweight divisions until promoters are pleased to set his night's wages around $15,000.

But Chocolate has never forgotten the days when only the doors of the Mitchell Field club were open to him. He promised to come back whenever the match-maker there wanted him. This week he will keep his promise. For a few hundred dollars he will box Tommy Lorenzo ten rounds for the soldiers Wednesday night.

To serve all mankind with that degree of satisfaction which will retain his friendship and good will, is the aim of each individual of this establishment.

Four Robbers Nab Payroll of $7,100

BRADLEY BEACH, N. J., Aug. 5 (AP)—Four robbers Saturday waylaid George Danielson, 65, bank messenger, shot him down and escaped in an automobile with a pay roll of $7,100.

A reward of $2,000 for the capture of the robbers was offered—$1,000 by the Monmouth clearing house, $500 by the borough of Bradley Beach and $500 by Harold Steiner, of Steiner and Sons, Inc., who complained that a statute which prohibited the payment of his workers by check was responsible for the slaying and robbery.

TEXAS GRAIN MARKETS SET NEW RECORDS

WEST TEXAS WHEAT IS FACTOR; TOTAL IS OVER $25,000,000

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5—The Fort Worth grain market made a new record for itself in July—so big a record that the actual figures on grain receipts for that month are not yet available.

According to Chief Federal Grain Inspector V. L. Night, more than 14,200 cars of grain were inspected at this market in the month.

"But we have not been able to make any compilation showing how many cars of wheat were included," said Nigh Saturday, "although we know that more than 90 per cent of the grain received was wheat."

This means that shippers in Fort Worth's trade territory received during July more than $25,500,000 for wheat, a large part of which was clear profit on the 1929 crop.

DALLAS ELEVATORS HAVE RECORD VOLUME

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—A record breaking volume of business for Dallas grain elevators, which involved more than 4,500,000 bushels of wheat valued at $7,000,000, during June and July was caused by unusually heavy wheat crops in West Texas and relatively light production in Canada and South America, O. A. Grubb, federal grain inspector and manager of the Dallas Grain Exchange, announced today.

The output here now amount to 50,000 bushels daily, he said, and 3,000,000 bushels are in storage. Dallas flour mills, particularly, have benefitted from the situation, Mr. Grubb added.

British Flag Floats Over Valley Forge

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Aug. (AP)—With the British flag displayed for the first time in history at Valley Forge chaped today, U. S. Cenator Thomas of Oklahoma told several hundred representatives of the British War Veterans of America that "the acres where Washington's army suffered in the winter of 1777 belong not to the people of one state alone, but to those of the entire nation and of the world."

The visit of the British veterans was a part of the week's program commemorating the beginning of World War 15 years ago.

Veteran Prospector Claimed By Death

EL PASO, Aug., 5 (AP)—P. A. Graham, 80, veteran prospector, toppled off a stool in a local grocery store here Saturday ending a colorful career which for 65 years had taken him into the innermost parts of the mountains of the Southwest and Northern Mexico.

It was a strange trick of chance that allowed death to overtake Graham in the grocery store, the contents of which on many a previous occasion would have been of incalcuable worth to him as a hungry gold seeker.

He was married when he was 60 years old, and was the father of five children, the youngest of whom is six.

POWERFUL EQUIPMENT WON TROY

—A Wooden Horse was Sufficient

Power was expressed in different terms during the time of Helen of Troy. A large wooden horse was sufficient in itself to capture an entire city. A few pounds of gunpowder would have destroyed the horse. A small electric motor would have moved it more easily than a hundred men. Electric lights would no doubt have greatly aided the fifty men who were in the horse, and who captured the city. Yes, the old wooden horse of Troy would have modern conveniences were it constructed today.—The same modern conveniences now enjoyed by hundreds of happy homes throughout Lubbock and the Great South Plains.

Thought For Today

But he forsook the counsel which the old men gave him, and took counsel with the young men that were brought up with him that stood before him.—II. Chronicles 10:8.

Nature is full of freaks, and now puts an old head on young shoulders and then a young heart beating under four-score years.—Emerson.

The Easy Way

Things have to be spectacular to arouse our sympathies. We can't see hardship or distress unless they send up rockets for us.

A few days ago a homeless middle-aged New Yorker tried to kill himself by inhaling gas. He did not quite succeed; somebody found him and hurried him off to a hospital, and for hour after hour oxygen was pumped into his lungs to keep him alive. His case aroused great interest; strangers sent money and offered to help him in any way they could. For a short time it looked as if all of New York were chiefly interested in keeping one unknown derelict from dying.

Now that sort of thing is all very encouraging, to be sure. But it is very unfortunate that we don't get busy until it is almost too late. A man can walk the streets, hungry and penniless, for days without getting a helping hand. It is only when he tries to end his life and does something that plops him on to the front pages that we wake up and try to do something for him.

Yet the ounce of prevention is still worth more the pound of cure, just as it always has been. The only trouble is that the pound of cure is easier to apply.

Several years ago a young reporter in a mid-western city stumbled onto a family that was on the verge of actual starvation. A mother and three small, ragged children were huddled around a stove in a barren house. Their last stick of wood was in the fire; there was not a bite to eat in the place. The husband and father, it developed, was a World War veteran. He had not been able to get steady work since being demobilized, had gone nearly frantic over his inability to provide for his family, and had finally snatched a purse on the street. Arrested, he was then in jail awaiting trial.

The reporter got a photographer, and the family's plight was broadcast to all the city. Things happened at once. A lawyer donated his services to help the veteran out of his difficulties with the law. Other people contributed money, food, and fuel to the family. Half a dozen business firms offered the veteran a job. Everything was smoothed over, and the family was snatched from the brink of tragedy.

Now that was very encouraging and all that—just as New York eagerness to bring back life to a would-be suicide has been encouraging. But why don't we dig below the surface of things and remove the causes of such tragedies.

Why don't we realize for instance that such tragedies as that of the war veteran are the inevitable aftermath of all wars? Why don't we realize that our present social and economic system will always toss stragglers by the wayside?

Why? Well, thinking is too much trouble. We might step on the toes of a few of our pet prejudices. The pound of cure is the easier thing to apply.

An Old Tradition

It is extremely interesting to read that the United States Lines are planning to build two huge new ocean liners, each of them larger than the Leviathan. What makes it interesting chiefly is the fact that these big ships will be built in America and will fly the American flag.

Before the Civil War American ship builders and owners were in the forefront of the ocean transportation field. The speedy clippers turned out at New York and Boston were as good as any afloat and were extremely good investments.

Then our ocean commerce dwindled; and it has been many years since any large-scale building for the trans-Atlantic trade has been done in this country. The present move of the United States Lines is merely a return to the old tradition.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says it's better not to mention your own faults; plenty of other folks are willing to do it for you.

The Lubbock Kiwanis club is going after the 1930 conference of the Texas-Oklahoma district, Kiwanis International, and if its campaign is unsuccessful it won't be the members fault. The local clubmen are going after the gathering in a business-like, systematic way and are to be given all the aid the balance of Lubbock can lend them.

As an assisting move to the Kiwanians, members of the Lubbock Rotary and Lions clubs will accompany the local Kiwanis delegation to Tulsa in September and help them induce Oklahoma and Texas boosters to choose Lubbock for the 1930 session. That's an indication of the Lubbock spirit and bids well not only for the 1930 Kiwanis meet but for the future of Lubbock as a whole.

The Plainsman was talking to C. F. Drexel, president of the new Lions club here the other day, and the Lions plan to put their shoulders to the wheel of progress and co-operate with the older Kiwanis and Rotary clubs for the benefit of the community. The Lions, Mr. Drexel declares, will of course operate as a separate civic unit but when campaigns of various kinds come up they plan to join forces with the other two organizations just as the Kiwanians and Rotarians have been doing here for a good many years.

Probably you have never noticed it, but Lubbock is different from average cities in that its civic clubs have always worked in co-operation, one with the other, instead of competing or fostering rivalry. In the past, when a big job has had to be done, Rotarians and Kiwanians have joined forces to put it across and now that the Lions are roaring among us a third unit has been added to the progress parade.

In other places The Plainsman might name, intense rivalry between civic clubs has thwarted their real purpose. Friends have been turned against friends and progress in general has suffered—all because of INANE jealousy. The Hub of the Plains is exceedingly fortunate in having an opposite condition and will undoubtedly profit thereby.

When the Lubbock Rotary club was host of the 41st district conference here last year the Kiwanis club was right in the big middle of work which faced the Rotarians in competition with the meeting. Kiwanis cars sided Rotary cars with 'Hop In, Visiting Rotarians' signs on them and full page advertisements in the Avalanche and Journal, signed by the Kiwanis club of Lubbock, welcomed the visitors to the city. 'Open Sesame' for Rotarians held sway with Kiwanians and in a great measure they helped make the convention a big success.

Members of the Rotary club haven't forgotten the help they received from their brother club and intend to do their best in reciprocating. The 1930 Kiwanis meeting will be a big thing for the city and The Plainsman, for one, thinks Lubbock generally should back up the campaign.

Coast Guard Officials Vexed Because Their Dry Duties Are The Only Ones Accorded Publicity, Dutcher Finds

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Coast Guard continues to complain that the roving spotlight of publicity always favors its activities against rum-runners instead of its ancient and honorable work of life-saving and other maritime aid.

This does not square exactly with a common opinion in Washington that the Coast Guard boys are about the best little press-agents in town.

But even if the Guard's long-standing complaint be true, it is perfectly natural. No one need be surprised if newspapers give much space to incidents where the Coast Guardsmen shoot up yachting parties or kill more or less innocent citizens. It is invariably a matter of interest when an organization formed for rescue and life-saving has to shoot at people. Just think what a lot of publicity the Red Cross would get if it started drowning disaster refugees instead of saving them!

The Coast Guard can't be blamed for its shootings as an organization. Its officers admit they don't like the added prohibition part of their jobs. But they can't help themselves and whenever there's a policy of shooting some shots are likely to land in the wrong place.

All of which should deter no one from chronicling that reports recently reaching Coast Guard headquarters here in a single week showed that the guardsmen had rescued 420 persons. This 420 is a record likely to stand for a long time. It represents more persons than the Coast Guard is likely to shoot if it continues to help enforce prohibition for the next hundred years.

The record was helped by bad storm along the Pacific Coast, in which several vessels with from 20 to 40 persons aboard required the services of the Coast Guard, including the steamer Laura and the schooner Harwood.

In the same period, the record shows, the Coast Guard rendered other major assistance to 313 persons and miscellaneous assistance to 240 others.

Major assistance involved the saving of life or property. Cases of miscellaneous assistance performed through the year include warning vessels standing into danger, various services to shipping and boating, furnishing fuel, food and water to distressed vessels, succoring the shipwrecked, medical and surgical aid, assistance at neighborhood fires and fires in buildings or wharves along the shore line, fighting forest fires, asistance at floods, dragging waters for bodies, burial of bodies cast up by the sea, sheltering wayfarers overtaken by storm or misfortune, restoring lost children to parents, co-operating in maintaining local order, recovering lost and stolen property, protecting wrecked property, acting as emergency pilots, transporting the mails pulling automobiles out of deep sand and ever so many other things.

The iceberg patrol, consisting of the Coast Guard cutters Tampa and Modoc, is still out in the Atlantic, guarding passenger liners from berg area in the last part of March.

Continued presence of icebergs close to the steamship lanes is considered a phenomenon. During the last two years the dangerous area has been free of floating ice by the last of June. The explanation of the persistence of the bergs this year is that the Labrador current, which carries them, has not been forced back as usual by the Gulf Stream. The Coast Guard does not attempt to explain the Gulf Stream's failure

SAN FRANCISCO STILL HAS ITS OLD-TIME CHINATOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—San Francisco's world-famous Chinatown has, like all Gaul, divided itself into three parts.

In Spofford Alley, the Chinatown that was still lives.

In Waverly Place, Chinatown wavers between the old and the new.

In Grant Avenue, where Chinatown once was, has grown up a strange hybrid, which has something of China, something of America, something of Coney Island and a great deal that is as conglomerate as the tourists that throng it.

In Spofford Alley, when night has fallen, all of the mystery and eerie suggestion lingers. Dark doorways lead into darked passageways and into the den-like cubby-holes which breathe of the sinister. To be sure the imagination leads the way, and upon arriving at candlelit destination one is likely to come upon two quiet looking Orientals playing at Chinese dominoes.

Here is a place where the imagination wants to believe the worst. It wants to discover hop dens and melodramatic scenes; all the influences of cheap novels, read in childhood, and moving pictures seen in adolescence, come elaping out of the darkness as the police guard sees you through.

And memory tells you of strange things that have happened, and which instinct tells you can happen again.

And here in Spofford Alley, the lights are diffused by huge ornate lanterns. Nowhere can one find such inhospitable impersonality. Often the Chinese, upon whose secret lives you intrude, do not so much as flatter you with an upward glance. It is the Chinatown that was—the Chinatown that has been interpreted only by the Occidental minds, which can never quite orient themselves to the scenes and the people.

In Waverly Place, the street widens. From a balcony above come the screeching tunes of a Chinese musician. At a counter sits an old fellow inking figures on lottery tickets.

The fronts have not yet been affected by the inroads of modern architecture. This is the Grant Avenue of a dozen years ago—a conglomerate mass of tea and herb shops, of eating places which the tourists have not invaded, of little stores whose windows are decorated with dried abalone and sea horse, of reed braclets and cups—and still, with a suggestion of electric lights presaging the changing times.

When, upon the brow of the Jackson Street hill, a small army of Chinese newsboys attack you with "Wuxtry! Wuxtry!"—

When at such a spot you see the indolent peddlers of lichee nuts leave their stand and patter over to buy a Chinese paper—

When your ears hear a Chinese headline called off in the most raucous newsboy tone—

Well, you're likely to realize, as I did, that the district has changed slightly.

For Grant Avenue, then, has "gone native." It has been Americanized to the Nth degree. Its store fronts have been furbelowed and gargoyled into a Coney-Islandish idea of what a Chinatown should be. The windows are decorated for the quick tourist trade. The architecture and the bright lights suggest prosperity and quick turn-over. The prices in the chop suey resorts have risen to greet the visiting "drop-ins".

But, praise be, there is still Spofford Alley with blinking lights and eerie suggestion. The Chinatown that was, still is — but you have to look for it.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

DR. PETERS ADVISES AGAINST TAKING OFF FAT BY UNSCIENTIFIC MEANS

The Hollywood 18-Day Reducing Diet

"A famous movie star had to reduce rapidly. She went to the Mayo clinic, and one of the famous brothers gave her a safe list of reducing menus for 18 days. Naturally, she paid a great amount for this, but now she is giving it freely to the public. All the Hollywood actresses who needed to, have also used this famous diet very successfully."

So run many newspaper articles, followed by the "famous" list. And evidently the whole population (all but my followers, who are in the know!) are indiscriminately following them. Read on!

The Hollywood 18-day reducing diet did NOT originate at the Mayo clinic. How do I know? Well I had so many inquiries asking if it did originate at Mayo's, that I wired. This is the answer I got:

"DOCTOR S. F. ADAMS."

My friend, Dr. Adams, is a member of the permanent staff of the Mayo clinic.

This isn't the first time a freak reduction diet has been credited to the Mayo clinic. A few years ago the tomato and hard boiled egg reducing diet in vogue was also falsely attributed to the clinic.

I can't emphasize often enough that I do not advise any freak diets for reducing. This so-called Hollywood diet undoubtedly will reduce, because the day's calories do not average more than 800 or 900 a day, some of the days being as low as 700 C. Without a careful analysis, I would say this diet isn't a dangerous one for a few days, for it seems to take care of the protein and gives goodly amounts of vegetables and fruits and some starchy food. But there is no milk allowed, nor butter or cream, so it would be deficient in the vitamin A. In the foundation diet that I advise, I include the equivalent of two glasses of skim milk a day (for its calcium as well as for its complete protein) and if some butter or cream or whole milk is not taken, the I advise you to use one teaspoonful of cod liver oil (35C.) or 2 to 4 cod liver oil tablets (no calories).

Aside from the fact that freak diets may be, and usually are, greatly unbalanced, may lower the resistance greatly to infections, and bring on deficiency diseases, are monotonous and inconvenient, a great objection to them is that they do not teach reducers anything about dietetics. A knowledge of dietetics is very important, because the one who is inclined to put on weight must always watch his diet and he should do so intelligently. On freak diets, you may reduce your weight (and your health), but you are reducing blindly, and the moment you finish with the diet and go back to your former habits (for you can't stay on these monotonous diets for the rest of your life), you are going to gain again.

The really normal eating instinct would cause one to keep normal weight, and eating so that weight is gained shows that abnormal eating habits have been acquired. After a proper reduction diet has been carried on for some time, one that allows the consumption of all foods in moderation, the normal habits of eating are re-established. That's one of the real values of a scientific reducing diet.

We have a pamphlet on losing and gaining weight, which outlines a very full, varied foundation diet. (See column rules for obtaining this pamphlet.) And we advise you to have a check-up by a modern, competent physician before reducing or taking any strenuous exercise.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters can not diagnose, nor give personal advice. If she considers your questions of general interest, they will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each; for the pamphlets on "Reducing and Gaining", "The Kidney and Its Excretions" and the "Hygiene of Women," 10 cents in coin (for each) and fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. (These charges are to cover the cost of printing and handling.) Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

Who's Who and Timely Views

DISARMAMENT SEEN AS NECESSARILY SLOW

By LOUIS LUDLOW, Congressman from Indiana

(Louis Leon Ludlow was born in Fayette county, Indiana, June 24, 1873. After graduating from high school he joined the Indianapolis Sun as a reporter. He went from there to the Indianapolis Sentinel and then to the Indianapolis Press. In 1901 he became Washington correspondent for the Sentinel. From 1903 to 1913 he was Washington correspondent fo rthe Star League of Indiana, then for the Columbus (O.) Dispatch and the Ohio State Jounral. He was president of the National Press club and has written three books on journalism and politics. He was elected to congress from the seventh Indiana district last November. He is a Democrat.)

Progress in any negotiations leading to another conference on the limitation of naval armaments, necessarily will be slow.

Louis Ludlow

It is the aim to profit by experience and not call another conference until the preliminary work has been done thoroughly and the time if ripe.

The war fever has abated. The rule of force is giving way to the rule of reason. Only lately has progress become definite and clearly ascertainable.

After the close of such a rampage of desctruction as convulsed civilizantion a decade ago, it is not to be expected that the maddened world will immediately settle down to peaceful relations, and we have had ten jumpy years since hostilities ended.

The history of the post-war period shows that within three years after the signing of the treaty of Versailles a dozen wars were going on in different parts of the world. This was the hangover of a cosmic fury that had no precedent and no parallel in its malevolent proportions.

But all of the while the factors that make for sanity and peace have been at work. The scales have been falling off of the mass vision.

The sons of men in every land are seeing with ever increasing clearness that war for war's sake is insufferably foolish; that, speaking by and large, war is a game in which even the winner is a loser, as in the last and greatest of all wars when nobody really won. And out of this mass consciousness has been born a determination, now crystallizing into action, that war shall be outlawed from international relations.

For the people everywhere around the globe are inexpressibly weary of war. They are weary of its anguish of its cataclysm of woes, of its unspeakable terrors, of the pain it puts in the hearts of mothers, and they are weary of the crushing cost of armaments that it saddles on the backs of toiling taxpayers, a cost which Secretary of State Stimson recently said "is mounting with every fresh discovery in warfare."

PROGRAM FOR W. T. C. C. WORK UNTIL EL PASO CONVENTION IS EXPLAINED BY ADVISORY BOARD; AID IS SOUGHT

(Special To The Journal)

STAMFORD, Aug. 5.—The meeting of the advisory board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Fort Worth was attended by members of the staff as well. The meeting was held in the Fort Worth office and was attended by R. W. Haynie, Joe A. Wheat and Roy Nichols. The statement which was issued at the close of the meeting follows:

At the conclusion of the first meeting of the advisory committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce since the resignation of former manager, Homer D. Wade, held at the Fort Worth office of the organization July 29-30, it was the judgment of the advisory committee that a statement should be issued outlining the policies to be followed between now and the time of the El Paso convention. The meeting was attended by A. M. Bourland, president-manager; R. W. Haynie of Abilene, Joe A. Wheat of Seymour and Ray H. Nichols of Vernon. Clifford B. Jones of Spur, the other member of the advisory committee, could not be present on account of being out of the state on a vacation.

Recommendations made

1. It is our purpose to make effective the recommendations and resolutions adopted at the meeting of the directors in Coleman July 16, 1929. These recommendation included:

(a) A study of the organization structure by a committee composed of Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls; R. L. Penick, Stamford, and O. P. Thrane, Snyder, which committee is instructed to study the organization set-up and make such recommendations as it may deem wise at the El Paso convention, October 23, 24 and 25.

(b) A program of advertising and publicity to sell West Texas to the world, placing particular emphasis upon agricultural resources, dairying, poultry raising, beef feeding, et cetera.

2. The organization as it now exists is expected to continue to function and that there is not now any expectation of any need for expansion in the personnel of the staff.

Shipp to Aid

3. The Vernon Chamber of Commerce has loaned the services of its secretary-manager, Grady Shipp, without cost to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, as personal assistant to the president-manager. Mr. Shipp is not now, has not been in the past and will not be in the future an applicant for any office in connection with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is simply serving as personal assistant to the president-manager, and continues his service with the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, and as soon as the term of office with the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, and as soon as the term of office of the president-manager expires Mr. Shipp will continue to devote his time exclusively to his position at Vernon.

It is further stated that neither Mr. Bourland, nor any member of the advisory committee attending the Fort Worth meeting has any inclination to suggest who may be selected at the El Paso convention for the position of general manager. Our sole purpose in undertaking the obligations imposed upon the committee by the directors at Abilene, June 20, 1929, is to continue the work of the organization and have its affairs in the most splendid condition possible at the time of the El Paso convention, and to this purpose the advisory committe have pledged themselves to call upon the friends of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to render every assistance to bring about this purpose in order that at the El Paso convention the organization will present a record of achievement equal to any year's work in the past and enjoy the most wonderful convention of all time.

4. It is to be our policy to work with and through the local chambers of commerce throughout West Texas and we earnestly solicit the active and hearted support of the secretaries and other officials of the local chambers of commerce.

In killing time we often murder opportunities.

BULLISH PRICE TENDENCIES HIT STOCK MARKET

ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH ON OPEN TODAY

MOTORS IN DEMAND AS NEWS IS LOOKED FOR FROM SHARES

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Bullish price tendencies prevailed at the opening of today's stock market. Radio opened 2 1-8 points higher and initial gains of about a point each were recorded by International Telephone and American Locomotive. American Can, Nash Motors, St. Paul Common and Studebaker, improved fractionally. Atlantic Refining dropped a point.

Despite the many cautionary advice sent out over the week-end as a result of the establishment of new high records in federal reserve and New York stock exchange member loans last week, bullish enthusiasm was undimmed. Several blocks of 5,000 to 10,000 shares changed hands at the opening, with the early demand centering in the public utility, copper and motor shares.

Motors In Demand

Rumors of a big motor market this week looked as though they might be confirmed when General Motors, Packard, Chrysler and Hudson were eagerly bid for, and marked up a point or so on the first few minutes of trading. Auburn Auto jumped 6 1-2 points. Apparently the announcement of price cuts by Packard and Studebaker last week caused no serious concern.

Brooklyn Union Gas was one of the early leaders in the public utility group, jumping 6 points to a new high record at 241. Pacific Lighting and International Telephone also moved into new high ground.

Westinghouse Is Up

Westinghouse Electric was again brisk demand, quickly running up 4 points to another new top at 233 1-4. General Electric fell back 2 1-4 points.

United Aircraft was marked up 3 1-2 points on the announcement of the acquisition of the Stearman C. Radio-Keith-Orpheum issues, in which a new pool is reported to have been organized, were turned over in large volume at advancing prices.

"IT HAS CERTAINLY PROVEN A BLESSING"

Snyder, Tex., Farmer's Wife Gives Orgatone Praise—"I'm Now In Perfect Health," She Says

Among the many Texas people who have expressed their hearty and sincere approval of Orgatone after putting the medicine to practical tests and deriving convincing results from it, none are more genuinely enthusiastic than Mrs. Virgil Coabart, of Snyder, Texas, living on rural route No. 1, while in Bowens Drug Store for more Orgatone.

"I certainly do give Orgatone credit for my great improvement," she continued, "for it has helped me over a nervous, run-down condition that has honestly been with me for three years, and the last year I had been going from bad to worse until I simply felt like I had no life left in me at all. I got to where I couldn't do my work.

'My stomach just seemed to go back on me entirely, for almost everything I tried to eat would ferment and form sour gas and give me a puffed up miserable feeling that sometimes I felt as if I couldn't get my breath.

"I couldn't sleep at all well at night and I became so badly run down I was simply not equal to anything and nearly had to give up trying to do my work. My kidneys and liver were much troubled and I had intense pains in my stomach nearly all the time. I was constipated and had severe headaches all the time.

"I have just taken one bottle of this Orgatone and can say positively that I have never felt better or stronger in all my life. I've gained in strength and energy and all my troubles have completely left me. I feel just as if I was made over again.

'My food agrees with me perfectly and I'm not bothered with gas or nervousness in the least. I sleep just fine and my liver and kidney troubles are gone, and nothing ever bothers me in the least. If there's any reason to believe I'm not in perfect health I don't know what it is. I want to recommend Orgatone to my friends for it has surely proven a blessing to me."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store, who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

COTTON OPENS HIGHER TODAY

ADVANCE IS FROM 7 TO 9 POINTS; GAIN IS LOST, HOWEVER

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5. (AP)—Cotton prices opened higher today under a moderate demand stimulated by continued dry weather in the belt. First grades showed advances of 7 to 9 points and in the absence of Liverpool cables, that market remaining closed in continuation of the "bank clerks holiday," prices here continued steady for a time after the start. Later, however, further liquidation in advance of the government report entered he market and the early gain was soon lost. October sold down to 18.78. December 18.98 and January 19.02, or 11 to 13 points down from the highs and 4 to 5 points below Saturday's close.

LOSSES PREDOMINANT ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 5 points on buying promoted by reports of continued hot weather in the southwest, but the demand was limited and prices soon weakened under realizing or liquidation.

October contracts sold off from 19.04 to 18.88 and March from 19.45 to 19.32 by the end of the first half hour, making net declines of about 6 to 10 points.

A private report was published placing the condition of the crop at 70.0 per cent and the indicated yield at 15,378,000 bales, which was very closely in line with the average of the private reports published last week.

Owing to the holiday there were no cables from Liverpool where the market will reopen for business tomorrow.

The market eased off to 18.82 for October and 19.96 for March later in the morning or about 14 to 15 points net lower. There was enough buying at these figures to absorb the immediate offerings and cause rallies of a few points.

At midday trading was quiet, with the active months showing net declines of 6 to 12 points.

Two more private crop reports were issued, one of the making the condition 69.5 and the indicated yield at 15,390,000 bales.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. Jan. 19.13; March 19.34; May 19.40—asked; Oct. 18.90; Dec. 19.11.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady. Oct. 19.02; Dec. 19.29; Jan. 19.26; March 19.43; May 19.59.

GRAIN PRICES GO TUMBLING TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Big arrivals of wheat at Omaha and Chicago tumbled prices headlong downward today, with belated rains in Canada adding impetus. Receipts of wheat at Omaha today totaled 1,100 cars and in Chicago 876 cars.

Opening 1 1-4 to 3c lower, wheat afterward showed a decided further drop. Corn and oats were also weak, with corn starting 3-8 to 1 1-2 off and subsequently continuing to fall. Provisions held steady.

INTERESTING CAMPAIGN IS INDICATED IN 1930 GOVERNOR'S RACE

PARTY STATUS IN QUANDARY; NINE IN RACE

ACTION OF DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE AWAITED IN TEXAS

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 5. (AP)—Whether the gubernatorial campaign next year will be one of those usual orderly (if mudslinging) oratorical affairs with a big field of candidates actively on the hustings with little slew dope to spread, or a rough and tumble scramble with people's feelings being hurt right and left, all depends.

It depends on the attitude of the state democratic Executive committee, the same body which last fall very emphatically broadcast to all who could read and hear that those who left the party of their fathers to vote for Herbert Hoover for president could count on being excommunicated as far as the 1930 Democratic primaries were concerned.

Issues Statements

Dave Wilcox, chairman of the committee and close personal friend of Governor Dan Moody, backed by virtually every member of the committee, issued several statements during the closing days of the national campaign when some of the otherwise "regular" Democrats were going down the line—not so much for Hoover as against Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, the democratic nominee—warning bolters what to expect in the future.

Following this up, an effort was made by members of the 41st legislature to pass a law frankly barring from the 1930 democratic primaries all those who voted for Hoover last November. It passed the senate, but the House membership turned it down.

Bill Vetoed

A compromise bill giving the party managers authority to proscribe voters who failed to remain regular was passed by both houses, but Governor Moody vetoed it.

With the matter standing as it is, it seems reasonably certain that the party managers will either stand pat and carry out their intentions to bar from the primaries the Democrats who voted for Hoover, or else gracefully resigns and permit a new regime to assume charge that will forget about the Hoover debacle and start over again.

Should the present executive committee carry out its threats of last fall, Senator Tom Love of Dallas, candidate for governor on an anti-Tammany platform, is certain to be the center of the greatest political storm that ever broke over Texas.

Another Ticket?

It is likely he would fight the committee order to a standstill, as it were, and losing, would lead another bolt from the party, himself heading an independent ticket. Some observers believe he foresees this development and chooses such a course, beliving that he could lead from the party a sufficient number of democrats who, with the republicans, would elect him governor in the general election.

Some politicians are opposed to any radical action on the part of the state executive committee. They are advising against any rash procedure, believing that if Love is left alone he will run his course and fall far short of making any progress in his alleged effort to stir up animosity which caused the hard inter-party feelings of the last presidential election. They argue that any action to bar sinning democrats would be water over Love's wheel, whereas if the last unpleasantness were left dormant his "anti-Tammany" campaign would fall flat.

Candidates Many

In this connection it might be interesting to count noses again. The governor's race is attracting new timber every day. The list now stands:

Oscar F. Holcombe of Houston; Miss Katie Daffan of Ennis; T. N. Mauritz of Ganado; Charlton Brain of Mineral Wells, and E. G. Senter, Senator Thomas B. Love, Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, W. Gregory Hatcher and Col. W. E. Easterwood, jr., all of Dallas.

Here is the waiting list:

Clarence E. Gilmore of Wills Point, chairman of the Railroad commission; R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the highway commission; Claude Pollard of Houston, attorney general; Robert Lee Bobbitt, of Laredo, former Speaker of the House of representatives; Sam Houston Terrell, of Austin, State Comptroller; James Young, of Kaufman, former congressman, and State Senator Walter Woodward, of Coleman.

Eight in and seven thinking about it! It may be a record field of entrants.

operative marketing associations, leaving 92 per cent out of reach of the board."

Two former Lieutenant Governors of Texas, Lynch P. Davidson of Houston and T. W. (Whit) Davidson, of Dallas, were among the other speakers.

Need Stabilization

Fred David, former state agricultural commissioner, discussed the effect of continued good prices, declaring that by stabilizing the price of cotton and providing more money for the farmers their living conditions would be improved greatly and that there would be able to decrease the amount of acreage now planted in cotton.

"All agencies except the producer who have anything to do with cotton are in a position to establish prices on this commodity," he said. "It is a challenge to the cotton farmer of the south to co-operate in the orderly selling of his crop and he must see that he gets more for the crop than it takes to produce same."

Election of officers was to be held late today.

BISHOP CANNON

who, he said had declared in the Richmond auditorium:

"I was using my humble efforts in the interest of prohibition when Dr. Cannon was the paid agent of the anti-saloon league."

Fights Pro-law Violation

"I denounced this effort to belittle and besmirch my prohibition activities as absolutely false, and replied in the same Richmond auditorium that I had never received one dollar in my life for services as a prohibition worker for forty years, and that during the state-wide fight, while I was campaigning the state from one end to the other and giving practically every bit of my time without any compensation, Senator Glass was contenting himself with one or two speeches and some editorials. Although I demanded a retraction of this falsehood Senator Glass has never had the fairness or the manliness to make that retraction."

Charging efforts at political intimidation" against him, he asked:

Concerted Effort

"Is not this a concerted desperate effort of Rankism to destroy my influence with the people of Virginia in the approaching election? Will the people of Virginia approve or disapprove of these attacks upon my reputation and influence by these political assassins?"

The answer is described as a "statement by Bishop James Cannon, Jr., concerning the various publications which have been made concerning him by 'wet' and Roman Catholic and other newspapers throughout the country," and its extent is explained with the assertion:

"No article of ordinary length could answer the continuous sweep the slanderous attacks made, not only upon specific acts, but upon a manner of life and a record extending over forty years."

It begins with a series of quotations from denominational and secular newspapers, and goes on to say that "since June 28, 1928, when I signed the call for the Southern Democratic friends of prohibition to meet in Asheville, North Carolina, on July 19th, to take steps to defeat the wet Tammany candidate Alfred E. Smith, I have been the subject of constant attack by the 'wet' secular and Roman Catholic press."

The attempt at "political intimidation" on the basis of his stock market transactions, he declared, was begun during the 1928 campaign but was discontinued for seven months, until his activities in the current Virginia campaign began.

"I am being continually attacked as using my Episcopal office for purely political purposes," he said. "This statement is flatly false. I have never desired, nor have I ever had political control of Virginia. I have as the representative of the moral forces of the state, insisted upon the passage of certain legislation, and in the selection of officers who favor and maintain that legislation, but I have never at any time interfered in any matters pertaining to purely political activities."

GRAF ZEPPELIN

tournament and recounted with laughter how they had "kidded themselves in the face of the rule against smoking" by carrying procelain cigarettes which they "lit" with electric flashlights.

The eighteen passengers, including two women, showed no signs of weariness and said they had enjoyed perfect comfort. Soon after they had been passed by customs and immigration agents they left for New York in a special train.

The Graf could have landed a couple of hours sooner but for a gusty wind of about 40 mile velocity. The dirigible first flogted over the field here just at sunset amidst prolonged cheers from the crowd at the field, estimated at 100,000. The Graf dipped for a landing but on radio advice from the field rose and turned its shining blunt nose toward New York, which it circled before returning for a night landing.

Swung to Stub Mast

After the passengers had been discharged the great Zeppelin was left swinging in the starlight at the nation's stub mast and with one-third of the crew of two score aboard.

At midnight the wind had died to a brisk breeze and the dirigible was walked to the hangar where it was snugly berthed beside its little sister, the Navy dirigible Los Angeles, and two baby airships that cuddled under the Los Angeles' flanks.

Immediate preparations were made to start refueling the Graf and replenishing her supply of nitrogen, so that she might leave on her return journey to Friedrichshafen Wednesday night. From there the ship will fly to Tokyo, thence to the west coast of the United States, and so back to Lakehurst. This girdle of the globe completed, the ship will fly back to its home port across the Atlantic, bringing its total Atlantic crossings to five.

The Graf Zeppelin was escorted from beyond the Jersey coast line to Lakehurst by a half dozen planes, most of them news picture planes, and from one of which a description was broadcast over nationwide radio hookup and reporters telephoned stories about the Graf's arrival as her destination direct to their offices by radio and land telephone connection.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE BACKS AIRSHIPS

LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 5 (AP)—Dr. Leisler Kiep, manager of the Hamburg-American line, a passenger on the Graf Zeppelin, today announced that Hamburg-American line "has decided to put its whole organization behind the project of building airships."

Dr. Kiep said the performance of the Graf Zeppelin "proves that other ships could be built with stronger engines so that trans-Atlantic trips could be made with great regularity and speed."

"We are convinced that a new means of travel will make for more travel and we believe that any shortening of the distance between the United States and Europe means a step forward toward the peace and progress of the world," he said.

Dr. Kiep expressed great enthusiasm over every feature of the trip and said the flight was "exceptionally placid."

WELLS DESCRIBES GRAF'S ARRIVAL

Spencer A. Wells, of this city, who is now attending market in New York, relates arrival of the Graf Zeppelin in the following telegram received today by The Daily Journal:

"Arrival of Graf Zeppelin was an unusual sight from roof of the hotel. After reports of expected arrival from 12:30 p. m., all of us had about lost hope when the big ship appeared just at dusk. Search lights from the city made a silver creation out of the Zeppelin as it moved up Broadway and turned west to Lakehurst. It all seemed so normal as it sailed over Manhattan that it was hard to realize that arrival marked completion of a trans-Atlantic voyage."

FOREST FIRES

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5 (AP)—Heavy rainfall over the week-end has brought relief to the fire swept forest areas in Manitoba. Most of the fires, in the northeastern and northwestern sections of the province, were under control today after an all day rain Saturday and Sunday.

CRANDON, Wis., Aug. 5 (AP)—Five major forest fires, which raged in Oconto and Forest counties last week, were under control today. In their place, however, had sprung up a series of new and smaller fires, a few of which were characterized as "very dangerous." The new conflagrations are in the vicinity of Silver lake and along the Peshtigo river.

No one was hurt in the collision. Mr. Hatch, who had driven Saturday night and Sunday morning without sleep, fell asleep at the wheel and his car was on the wrong side of the road, according to Mr. Keller. The Hatch car catapulted after the crash.

Pumping Wasn't Water, Dry Agents Discover

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 5 (AP)—B. G. Gunn was just puttering around his pigpen, as any good stockman will. But on top of the Kansas City Orient Railway shops, half a mile away, sat two policemen with their eyes glued to field glasses.

The long range view proved so much better than two days of visits that today Gunn puttered about the jail. The officers saw Gunn pumping something from the ground, and what came from the spigot was not water, but alcohol, buried in the ground under the pump, was a tank.

TEXAS IS DOING MUCH TOWARD GAME PRESERVATION; 68 PRESERVES OVER STATE ARE BEING MAINTAINED NOW

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 5—In an effort to save what portion of wild game life there remains within its borders from destruction, Texas since 1925 has established 68 preserves totalling 3,203,042 acres, where deer, prairie chicken and wild turkey are protected by game wardens operating under a state game, fish and Oyster department.

Records in the office of Will J. Tucker, state game, fish and oyster commissioner, reveal that the preserves are scattered over 66 counties in practically all sections of the state.

Taken First in 1925

First step toward the protection of wild game was taken by the legislature in 1925 when the Boyd-Hubby bill was enacted. Under its provisions, 10 per cent of any area in counties might be placed in a game preserve through agreement between the owner and the state for a period of not less than 10 years nor more than 25 years. Game on the preserve at the time is acquired by the state, other animals are added for propogation purposes and tresspassing signs are placed at all entrances.

The law became effective on Sept. 1, 1925, and on that date the first preserve was given the state. It included 26,000 acres, surrounded by wolf-proof fence, in Taylor county. Jackrabbits were practically the only game left on the ranch at that time, but the state stocked the area with 26 deer and smaller game immediately.

Largest on Ranch

The largest game preserve located on the King ranch in Jim Wells, Brooks, Jim Hogg, Starr, Hidalgo and Willacy counties, totals 4-14,-314 acres and is almost as large as the state of Rhode Island.

Four thousand antelope are now being protected on preserves near Amarillo and Presidio and Brewster counties, and 200 mountain sheep are making a last desperate stand in the high peaks of the Guadalupe Mountains, Tucker said.

About 50 black bear may be found in the high cliffs of the Davis Mountains in the almost impenerable portion of the Big Bend section of Southwest Texas.

To throw a further safeguard around blacktail deer, which may be found in remote sections west of the Pecos river, the legislature passed a law in February prohibiting the killing of any of the animals.

One of the ranches of Congressman Claude Hudspeth of El Paso has been made a game preserve, and here may be found thousands of bob white and Mexican quail.

Protected from hunters, the fast disappearing animals still have another foe to combat—the preying wolves, lions and bobcats. These predatory animals soon learn where game preserves are located, and constant efforts of trappers are necessary to safeguard wild game from destruction.

July Is Dry Month, Don Jones Reports

A maximum temperature of 101 degrees and a minimum of 54 were recorded during July at the Texas agricultural experiment station, three miles east of this city, according to D. L. Jones, superintendent.

Precipitation for the month was only .20 of an inch, while the normal precipitation for the month is 2.29, showing a departure of 2.09 inches from normalcy. Moisture from January 1 to July 31 aggregated 10.96 inches, .16 of an inch above normal.

"While rainfall for the year is still slightly above normal," said Mr. Jones, "we have not had an effective rain since June 1. Other dry July months have been recorded as follows: July 1913, .40; 1916, .36; 1918, .53.

There were 16 clear days, 10 partly cloudy days and five cloudy days during the month.

MANCHESTER, Eng. Aug. 5 (AP)—The Lancashire textile stoppage entered its second week today apparently no nearer solution than last Monday when 500,000 workers remained away from the mills in protest at an enforced wake reduction of 12 1-2 per cent.

Although they lost about $5,000,000 in wages last week the strikers apparently have not begun to worry about their situation. Manchester restaurants, movies and amusements places, were filled yesterday with strikers seemingly carefree and happy.
