Basically the two sides of the question are as follows:

Persons who believe the office of the school superintendent should be continued say that the county would lose the salaries of the school superintendent and his secretary which amount to over $10,000, and this is state tax money. . . .not county tax money.

Persons who believe the office should be abolished say that the office is unnecessary and that although the tax money comes from the state, it is still tax money. They add that a secretary could take care of the school business for Dougherty and South Plains, working through the county judge's office.

'Cardiac Kids' Challenge Alpine In Quarterfinals

Coach L. G. Wilson's "Cardiac Kids" — the Whirlwinds have been so dubbed after three straight last-period come-from-behind football victories — make a first-ever trip to the state quarterfinal playoffs Friday when they go to Midland to play the Fighting Bucks from Alpine. It's a first-time quarterfinal contest for the Bucks too.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. Friday at Midland Memorial Stadium. Whirlwind fans will sit on the west side. The 'Winds will wear green jerseys.

The Whirlwinds should be in good physical shape for the game, according to a report from Wilson early this week, having suffered no injuries in last Friday's thriller with Childress. The Whirlwind coach said some old injuries, in fact, are healing.

Halfback Jerry Hearon, who played Friday with both ankles heavily taped, should be back near full speed for the Alpine contest, Wilson said, and several other minor hurts to the 'Winds have healed.

Workouts this week were spirited, according to the coaches, but "....the main trouble after an emotional game like last week — like we've had the past three weeks — is to get ready for Alpine. They won't have any trouble getting 'up' for us, since we beat Childress (top-ranked AA team in the state), but we may have a problem getting the boys, and even ourselves — the coaches — and the fans 'fired up' for this one," Wilson commented Tuesday.

And — in some respects — Alpine has as good a team as Childress, the Whirlwind coach stated.

"Physically, they're stronger than Childress," Wilson told the Hesperian, "but they may not be as quick and fast (as the Bobcats), and they probably don't have as much depth."

Wilson described the Bucks as a "real tough, aggressive club," though, and said the 'Winds couldn't let down this week — "There aren't any 'easy ones' this far down the road," he said.

Alpine is primarily a running team, but their passing is "adequate", Wilson told the Hesperian, and they strike with the pass after "lulling you to sleep" with their running game. The Bucks use the play-action pass and occasionally find the defense asleep and a man wide open, the Floydada head coach warned.

The Bucks were on a six-game shutout streak until Lubbock Cooper managed six points against them Friday in the regional matchup, won by Alpine 37-6. The Fighting Bucks have not lost one that counted all year, and stand 9-3 for the season. The losses came to Kermit (10-7) and Pecos (7-2), both triple-A schools and a Class-AA powerhouse, Reagan County (21-0).

They were not scored on in district play, whipping Van Horn (28-0), Canutillo (42-0), Socorro (49-0), Marfa (48-0) and Fabens (52-0). The Bucks own a 38-7 victory over Fort Stockton and a 33-0 win over McCamey, both non-district games.

In the bi-district contest with Coahoma, one of the top teams in the West Texas area, the Bucks won 14-0, and fullback Carl Chandler rushed for 196 yards and scored both touchdowns. The 5-5, 150-pound senior back gives Alpine dangerous power and speed inside, and tailback Chaunie Enciso, a 148-pound sophomore, moves the ball outside for the Bucks.

Chandler has 1,791 yards rushing this season, for a 10-yards-per-carry average, and 16 touchdowns, including four on punt returns and one on a kickoff runback. "He's the guy we gotta stop," was the word from Wilson.

Enciso has "only" 1,089 yards rushing and 66 points, and racked up 149 yards against Cooper last week.

Everyone Interested In Law Enforcement For Both City And County Should Attend Meeting

Law enforcement officials from this state and other outlying states have had their eyes on the city of Quanah, Texas and Hardeman County for some time, to see how their new plan of "centralized law enforcement" is working.

Reports are favorable for the new system that puts city and county law officials under one law enforcement headquarters for the entire county with the sheriff chief officer.

Quanah's sheriff and judge will be in Floydada at the Massie Activity Center Tuesday night, December 12 at 7:30 p.m. to explain the new system to the general public and municipal and law officials of surrounding towns.

Under the central law enforcement plan the sheriff is still an elected official and has the power to hire law enforcement officers for all areas of the county, including the men who would enforce laws in the city limits.

Reports indicate that the new plan gives rural people better law protection also.

Quanah's "law enforcement headquarters" includes radio system that covers entire county, fire protection, jail or "detention center" and ambulance service.

The general public is urged to attend this meeting.

"Spacemobile" To Be In Lockney

Nelson J. Ehrlich

The NASA Space Science Education Project or "Spacemobile" as it is commonly known will be in Lockney Monday, December 11 at 10 a.m.

Nelson J. Ehrlich, Space Science Education Specialist, will present the program for the Lockney School students.

The NASA Space Science Education Project or "Spacemobile", as it has commonly become known during the past nine years, is a national program which is taken directly to students in their schools. Transported in a conventional panel truck, many scale models of launch vehicles, spacecrafts, satellites, electronic equipment, audiovisuals, and other equipment items are used for realistic and understandable demonstrations of many scientific principles and concepts involved in space exploration.

Last year, 7,520 programs were arranged and presented to an audience of more than two million students. Programs are supported regionally from various NASA centers. With four of the mobile unites, the Manned Spacecraft Center conducts programs in an 8-state region of 870,000 square miles or about one-fourth of the land of the United States. It includes the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Colorado and New Mexico. Scheduling of the schools within each state is normally handled by the State Department of Education.

A typical program lasts for about one hour and is presented in the school auditorium to an assembly of several hundred students. Discussions and demonstrations include aeronautical research, propulsion, orbits, probes, space communications, human factors, and manned space flight. Other topics include SKYLAB, NASA's next program to build and fly a prototype space station as an orbital workshop and laboratory for scientific experiments and work, and the Space Shuttle, a reusable spacecraft with landing capabilities much like a conventional spacecraft.

Following the auditorium program, the lecturer is available for classroom visits for further indepth discussion of space topics directly related to specific disciplines or to the special interests of the students.

Lockney Housewife Comments On Christmas

By Gayle Jackson

"Christmas is coming,
Christmas is coming.
What shall we do,
What shall we do?"

Leaders for this children's song usually instruct the children to make up the rest of the verse. Using that as a theme for a series of articles about Lockney's preparations for Christmas, we will look into various homes in and near the community. Future articles will deal with cake, candy, and cookie recipes, and traditions observed every year. We welcome suggestions for the articles.

What Shall we do?"
Make Some Decorations

Mrs. Larry (Jill) Golden and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jerry (Kay) Williams completed this week seven wreaths made of dried okra pods, yucca pods, cotton burrs, pine cones, open cotton bolls, and dried wild flowers and thistles, most of which they gathered from pastures and along the railroad. Each woman kept one for herself, and the rest were used for gifts.

Base of the wreaths are thick styrofoam bases, bought from a florist. Wooden picks with wire on one end were used to secure the dried items to the base.

Mexican Motif

Several Lockney families have made the Mexican or Indian "God's Eye". Sticks of equal length are tied together at cross angles, then bright colors of yarn are wound, one color at a time, either above or below the sticks. The ornament hanger is made from yarn, and pom poms of yarn are placed on each end.

Mrs. Eddie (Cheryl) Teeter and Mrs. Ted (Sally) Carthel and Sally's children, Cathy and Ches have made this year garlands from yarn that add loveliness to their trees. The yarn garland would also be especially appropriate to use with the "God's Eyes".

Yarn Garland

Materials: Bright-red knitting worsted (4 oz. makes an 8-yard garland); red sewing thread; several sheets paper (used notebook paper, etc.)

To make: Fold paper into 1½-inch-wide strips, about 4 sheets thick. Wrap yarn loosely around strip and push loops close together. As you add strips, overlap with previous strip about 1½"; the wrapped yarn will hold the strips together as you work. Using a short stitch, machine-stitch down center. After stitching, tie stitching threads; cut yarn along both edges and tear away paper.

Cookie Lore

Mrs. Buster (Linda) Terrell is a newcomer to Lockney. She and 3-year-old Lisa carry on a tradition of Linda's mother's by making cookies to decorate the Christmas tree. They were busy last week baking and icing cookies cut in traditional shapes. They also made Lisa's favorites — Snoopy, Charlie Brown and Lucy. Linda laughingly remembers that her mother hated to throw away the cookie decorations, so would freeze them, and use them year after year. . . .until one little girl very quietly ate a number of cookies from the backside of the tree. Now, Linda's mother uses only freshly-baked cookies on her tree.

Christian Designs

The Eugene Tannahill family is making for their tree copies of Chrismons, or Christian monograms. Mrs. Tannahill (Patty) has worked three years with the ladies of First United Methodist Church on the same type of decorations. She and her family appreciated the meaning of the church's Chrismons so much that they wanted to duplicate them on a smaller scale for their own tree. Some of the designs are a fish, a crown, various types of crosses, etc.

Hand Painted

Mrs. Norman (Pat) Scott, Mrs. Ted Carthel, and Mrs. Joe Frank (Elsie) Hawkins have hand painted wooden decorations for their trees. Pat ordered wooden hen eggs (normally used to place under hens to encourage productivity), which she painted with faces. Men figures wear straw hats and the ladies have bonnets. Mrs. David (Pat) Frizzell and Mrs. Jack (Lucille) Frizzell also made these ornaments.

Sally and Elsie bought wooden ornaments and painted them. The sets include old-fashioned characters, Santa, elves, etc. Sally's children did theirs several years ago, and now plan to use some for the tree, and to give some away for gifts.

Christmas Fairy

Another newcomer to Lockney, Mrs. James (Shelia) Poole, made a very special Christmas decoration several years ago. Shelia teaches third grade in Floydada, and she has taken her tin can castle there for the children to enjoy. She enchants the children with a story of a Christmas Fairy, who lives in the castle.

Egg Carton Creations

Mrs. Richard (Peggy) Wiley took a common household throwaway, added sequins and old jewelry, and gave her Christmas tree a handsome ornament. The carton is cut to form petals, which are glued and pinned to a styrofoam ball. The Wiley children decorated the "petals" after Peggy cut them out. Peggy added long strings of beads for ornament hangers.

Old Fashioned

Old-fashioned clothes pins, the kind without a spring, have been used by Mrs. Bill (Anita) Bigham to create tree decorations. Anita paints a face on the top of the front of the pin, adds a tiny bit of yarn for the hair, and dresses the pins either in old-fashioned dresses, hats and muffs, or for the men, trousers and top hats. Pipe cleaners are used to form arms for the gay nineties figures. Anita paints the pins the color of the clothing, and tips the end with black to r shoes.

Other tree decorat sibilities are those ma egg shells with a tin cut from Christma inside. An old tradi calls for a bird's nest your tree; these can onto a clothes pin pai color of the tree.

Nineteen members of the Floydada Junior Historians, three parents and the sponsor took a field trip Saturday to West Texas Museum in Lubbock.

Information On Christmas Star Being Sought

Artificial Christmas trees are nothing new on the South Plains. Early day pioneers often nailed together substitute trees and decorated them with ornaments of colored cloth and paper. One such substitute was the old Christmas Star which was used at holiday parties in the old Floyd County Court House. The entire community would turn out for the occasion.

The Floyd County Historical Museum is seeking details about the Christmas Star, and need to know if there are any pioneers who may have attended a Floyd County Christmas Star. If so, you are asked to share those memories with the Museum Association or by writing the Floyd County Hesperian.

Information needed includes the dimensions of the star, was it painted or unpainted. Were there nails or hooks to hold the unwrapped gifts? What type of program was presented and who handed out gifts? Were refreshments served? Let us know if you can recall these early days.

SAW lots of Tulia, Lockney, Olton and Petersburg people at the football game between Floydada and Childress Friday night and I think most were boosting the Whirlwinds as those I saw were seated on Floydada's side of the field. Tulia's coach, Bill Bryant, who was also a spectator, was said to have commented, "You know, it's almost an eery feeling sitting there and watching Floydada pull it out. They won over Childress by the same reason they beat us — it's a matter of confidence and poise the kids have from being involved in a winning program over a period of time. What they did is a great tribute to L. G. Wilson." As a football fan, I'll second that.

Several fans also commented that kind of game is hard on their hearts and I'll agree to that too. It also leaves you speechless because Saturday morning a number of fans were talking like their voice box was in their stomach.

It was indeed a great win and I'm sure in years to come this group of boys will remember they were on the first Whirlwind team to win Regional.

Regardless of your outcome with Alpine in Friday night's game, we know you are the greatest as you have proven. The score with Childress was another win but what impressed me more than anything was just the one penalty against the Winds, and that for only five yards. Your sportsmanship was superb, and you played heads up football.

THE J.S. Hale's house cat took a wild ride Friday and hasn't been seen since. Mr. Hale was leaving his home to come to his office Friday morning and unknown to him, the cat was resting atop his car. He had to make five turns enroute and the bushy tail yellow cat hung on for dear life. The last turn must have been too much for the pet because time Mr. Hale had pulled over in front of Carmack Feed and Seed, the cat was long gone. Only thing, he is a very dear pet to Mrs. Hale and Mr. Hale feels its his fault the cat is missing, so he is still cat hunting.

Please With Punch

The secret ingredient in a good punch is a base of strong tea. The tea gives body to the punch without masking the flavor of the other ingredients. You can use loose tea, teabags or, even easier, instant tea to make the tea base . . . then add the other ingredients—fruit juices, spirits, if desired, and carbonated beverages for sparkle.

Holiday Punch

(Makes about 5 quarts or about forty 4 oz. servings)

- 2½ quarts water
- 18 teabags or 6 tablespoons loose tea
- 3 (6 oz.) cans frozen concentrated fruit juicy red Hawaiian Punch
- ½ cup lemon juice
- Superfine sugar to taste
- 1 (28 oz.) bottle club soda, chilled

Bring water to a full boil. Remove from the heat and immediately add tea. Cover and let stand 5 minutes. Strain and cool. In a large punch bowl combine tea, Hawaiian punch, lemon juice and vodka. Add sugar to taste and stir until sugar is dissolved. Just before serving add club soda and ice cubes. Garnish with lemon and lime slices, topped with halved maraschino cherries.

*If using instant tea, simply mix 6 tablespoons of the powder with 2½ quarts cold water. Stir well to dissolve and add other ingredients.

it's a woman's WHIRL

by MARY LEE THOMPSON

Ask anyone to name the most significant crime against business, and the answer will probably be—theft of materials or embezzlement. But that would be wrong. The biggest crime is stolen time—the time employees waste each year. Actually, it amounts to stealing because they take employers' dollars and give nothing in return. But no one is ever arrested for "taking time," so little is done about it.

As with most thefts, small items are taken first. An employee uses five minutes extra for lunch, leaves a few minutes early for a dinner engagement, comes in a few minutes late when traffic's heavy, and thinks nothing of it.

Unfortunately the employee who steals a few minutes here and there begins to steal more time. He calls in sick to take a three-day weekend, and when he does come in, it's generally not for a real day's work. Truth is, the person who produces little frequently takes the time of productive people to boot.

Tough to believe? Here's an actual example: A large company retained a methods man to check the extent of time-theft. The expert found that during a 30-hour week, the average worker goofed off 8 hours and 38 minutes—29% of each work-week was lost. That seemed so far-fetched that the company ordered a second check.

The recheck found that an average of 10 hours and 8 minutes per worker was going down the drain. This added up to a time theft of 34%. One company executive ruefully commented: "We should have quit while we were ahead."

What causes time-theft? Often an employee wastes time because he sees co-workers wasting it. When a company lets people waste time, employees are apt to feel that it is not very important.

(Practical Hints For The Modern Woman)

By April Rhodes

Get your crochet needles clinking and delight the teen-agers on your Christmas list with crocheted berets and belts.

You'll get a better paint job if first you dip the brush or roller in water and wring or shake out excess.

Make a few Christmas goodies each week and freeze. You'll be rewarded with a more relaxed holiday.

Do your white gloves turn yellow even though you wash them often? The discoloration may be caused by not completely rinsing out all the soap.

If you still enjoy an open fire, pine cones laid on burning logs make an interesting fire pattern.

When installing carpet, be sure you make a stain chart to meet any carpet emergency.

Remember to put out your bird feeders. You'll be rewarded with daily visits from many colorful birds.

Overheated rooms in winter can have a more drying effect on your skin than hot sun. It will take careful creaming every night to keep down dryness.

New Math

A new trend--perhaps in your school involving your children--is stress on mathematics theory rather than the old-fashioned system of learning the multiplication tables, etc.

Just as some, seeking to be progressive, partly ruined a generation of readers by departing from a proved system of learning reading, now some textbooks stress theory and not hard math. One father recently asked all the friends of his fourth-grade daughter at her birthday party how much eight times nine was. No one knew!

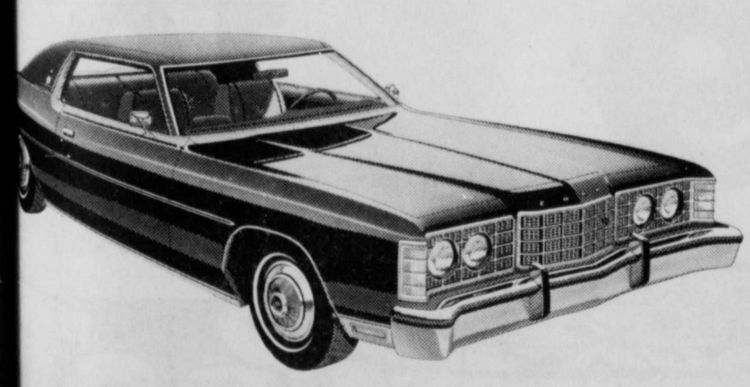

School officials and teachers (and college professors) sometimes accept easy, new methods--requiring less discipline--because the mood, or fad, is against anything hard or traditional; most of the traditional values, however, have survived because they have merit. They helped produce a generation of Americans whose country became, in many ways, the best in the world.

Changes in educational methods should come carefully and slowly, certainly not through premature abdication in favor of untested theories.

If you don't succeed in making a lot of money, you'll probably escape much needless worry in life.

Cotton Harvest On Again

Cotton harvest activities resumed on a limited scale on Thursday and Friday and are increasing daily, according to W. K. Palmer, Officer-in-Charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the USDA.

The USDA cotton classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland classed samples from 64,000 bales during the week ending Friday, December 1. This brought the total classed this season to 198,000. This represents only 10 to 15 percent of this season's expected production.

At this date last year only 96,000 samples of the 1971 crop had been classed.

Grades were about the same as during the previous week. Low Middling (51) was the predominant grade at Lubbock, making up 28 percent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling (41) made up 26 percent, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) 16 percent and Low Middling Light Spotted (52) 8 percent.

Staples were predominantly 30 to 33. Fifteen percent had a staple length of 30, 25 percent stapled 31, 25 percent was 32 and 19 percent was 33. This represented a slight decrease in average staple length.

Micronaire readings are an indication of fiber fineness or maturity. Cotton with micronaire readings of 3.5 tghrough 4.9 is considered in the premium range. Forty-six percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock last week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 18 percent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 26 percent was 3.0 through 3.2, 9 percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 1 percent was 2.6 and below. This represented a decline in micronaire.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the USDA reported brisk trading on the Lubbock market during the week and prices were $5.00 to $10.00 per bale higher.

Most lots traded in the price range of 22 to 25 cents. This amounted to prices of 400 to 700 points over the loan or $20.00 to $35.00 per bale over the loan. The oetter grade, longer staple cotton brought the most over the loan.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were Strict Low Middling (41) staple 31 - 24.05 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling (41) staple 32 - 25.25, Low Middling (51) staple 31 - 22.00, Low Middling (51) staple 32 - 22.95, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31 - 22.75 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 32 - 22.95.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $44 to $54 per ton for their cottonseed at gins. Average price was $48.30.

Nursing Home Happenings

(By Faye Walters)

As we near the Christmas holidays we can feel the excitement among our residents. You never grow too old to enjoy Christmas. We hope all will give thanks to God for the real meaning of Christmas.

We had many visitors this week. Visiting Bessie Pierce was Mrs. Myrtie Brown and Mrs. J. W. Bevers of Portales, N.M.; and Mrs. Donna Smith and son, Steve of Idalou. Mrs. Eubanks' two daughters visited her, Ed Brown's daughter and son visited with him, and Verba Jackson's daughter and Mrs. Kincheloe's daughter visited them.

On December 12 the Girl Scouts will be entertaining our residents with a program at 4 p.m. This will be one of the many groups bringing Christmas program for the enjoyment of our residents. We appreciate this for we know it brings much happiness to them.

Bingo was fun Thursday. Pearl Britton won more games than anyone else. We had 15 players and most of them won at least one game.

We are sorry to report the death of Frank Culpepper. We shall miss him and would like to dedicate the following poem in his memory:

Frank Culpepper was born almost a century ago. He worked hard and long, his life's ambitions to know. While still a young man he fell deeply in love and was blessed with marriage and children from above.

Then he grew old and came to us here, where we all loved him for he was a dear. And as he grew weaker his children stood by, faithful and loving though they knew he would die.

We will all miss him while days turn to years, and all of his children will shed many tears. But we know he has gone to his home in the sky, where we can all meet in the sweet by and by.

We hope next week's happenings will be good ones.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The joint Plains Cotton Growers-Lubbock Cotton Exchange Estimates Committee will meet in Lubbock December 7 to take a final shot at pre-judging the size of the 1972 cotton crop on the High Plains.

Announcement of the meeting comes from committee co-chairmen Joe D. Unfred of PCG and Jimmy Cochran of LCE. Unfred is a cotton producer from New Home and Cochran is a Lubbock FOB merchant.

The estimate made by the committee a month ago set production prospects for the 25-county High Plains area covered by PCG at 1,989,000 bales. Acreage is currently guessed at almost 2.5 million, which places the areawide per-acre yield estimate at about 383 pounds. The committee meets soon after the first of each month and compiles a county-by-county estimate in 480 pound net weight bales.

The November figures will be reviewed and possibly revised by the PCG-LCE committee December 7, taking into consideration latest crop reports from producers, merchants, ginners, County Agricultural Agents, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service personnel, agronomists and other industry people who watch the crop closely throughout the season.

As of December 1 only about 200,000 bales, some 10 percent of the area crop, had been ginned. Most of the crop was ready for harvest by the middle of November, but rain and snow since that date have kept the harvest from gaining momentum.

"But even this 10 percent is beginning to give us an indication of per-acre yields in various localities," said Unfred, "and we have mailed questionnaires to every ginner in the 25 counties to get the best and latest available information for our December 7 meeting."

Each ginner was asked to supply PCG with the county or counties in which his gin territory is located, the number of bales he expects to gin, the estimated average per-acre yield of his customers, the acreage in his territory which will not be harvested and other pertinent facts.

"It is important to producers and the entire industry that production estimates be as accurate as possible," Unfred said, "and without a systematic, joint industry approach such as this there would be a profusion of crop estimates from different groups and different individuals, most of them based on fragmented facts and personal opinions."

In addition to Unfred, members of the committee from the PCG Board are Gerald Hanson of Stanton, A. Dean Harmon of Tulia and Lloyd Miller of Morton. The LCE half of the committee is made up of Cochran, Don Mitchell, R. G. Sharp and Watson Carlock, all of Lubbock. PCG president Ray Joe Riley of Hart and LCE president Jeri Booth of Lubbock also serve on the committee as ex-officio members.

The Winningest Lion

The Nittany Lion is the Penn State mascot. And, when James R. Schaude, a 21-year old industrial engineering major, from Pittsburgh, dons the furry outfit, his teams somehow can't lose.

As "second string" lion last winter he was called off the bench to serve at three basketball games, and Penn State won them all.

When the football season opened, Jim was still the alternate. He took over as the head lion just before the Iowa game and five wins followed.

In comparison to King James version, we quote one passage from Heb. 11:1:

King James — "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

The Living Bible — "What is faith? It is the confident assurance that something we want is going to happen. It is the certainty that what we hope for is waiting for us, even though we cannot see it up ahead."

TOTAL PERFORMANCE FEATURES

Working registers clear automatically. Just flip the "on" switch, and UniCom 1000P and 1010P are ready to go, with all working registers clear and "C" printed on the tape.

Grand Totals. You can work individual problems and accumulate them in a grand total memory register.

Automatic retention of last item. This means you always have instant access to it for any mathematical function. In addition/subtraction, you can immediately correct an entry merely by touching the minus or plus keys!

Automatic Constants. Second factors in multiplication and division are automatically established as constants, eliminating manual re-entries and chances for error.

Buffered Keyboard. Enables UniCom 1000P and 1010P to keep pace with even the fastest operator.

Overflow Safety. UniCom 1000P and 1010P actually tell you, in writing, when capacity is exceeded! "OVERFLOW" prints on the tape. Keyboard locks and red light is turned on.

"Non-Add" Key. Lets you date, number or otherwise code figurework on the tape without affecting the accumulator.

Automatic Decimal System. 10-column capacity coupled with advanced float in/fixed out decimal system, gives you plenty of capacity for practically any problem—in some problems as much as 20-column mechanical printers or rotary calculators.

Automatic Tape Feed. Touch a button and the tape feeds itself.

Automatic Chaining. Lets you work mixed calculations (2 × 3 ÷ 4) in one continuous flow, without necessity of obtaining intermediate answers.
