Rainfall Continues To Soak South Plains Area Thursday

Deluge Of 3.42 Inches Falls At Tahoka

Lake Overflows Across Road Between O'Donnell And Tahoka; Hail Reported

RAINFALL, ranging upward to 3 1-2 inches, continued to fall on the South Plains yesterday, virtually assuring bountiful cotton, feed, and other row crops.

The weatherman evened the count when Lubbock's rainfall yesterday amounted to no more than a trace and most of the other sections received valuable rains. Tuesday night and Wednesday Lubbock and this immediate vicinity received approximately 1 1-4 inches rain to compare with only showers to half an inch at most other points reporting.

Rainfall here Thursday and last night boosted the three-day total to an estimated 1 1-2 inches, observers said.

Tahoka Gets' 3.42 Inches

Heaviest precipitation was reported at Tahoka where the rainfall registered 3.42 inches. Travelers said a driving rain and a damaging hail fell about 5 miles south of Tahoka. Rains in that section caused a lake in that section to spread across the Tahoka-O'Donnell highway almost blocking traffic. For a time water was running across the highway and over automobile running boards. A vehicle occupied by several persons ran off the road at the lake and water swept over the hood. The car, however, was pulled back onto the road and none of its occupants were injured.

Tahoka reported a slight hail there, but not enough to damage crops. More hail was believed to have fallen east and southeast of there.

Temperatures Hit Toboggan

Maximum temperatures yesterday fell below normals for this season. A maximum reading of 83 degrees at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the main line station of the West Texas Gas company was the lowest there "since spring," observers said. Although records there last night were unobtainable, attaches of the station said the maximum was the lowest in several months. The minimum there, re-

Italians Leading Spanish Drive

(By The Associated Press)

HENDAYE, France, (Spanish Border), Aug. 19. — Italy's Black Arrow division, fighting for Spanish insurgency, pushed through Biscayan hill lands toward the coast and Santander today under the approving eyes of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The insurgent dictator viewed his swiftly moving front that lies below the last important government-held city in northwest Spain. He watched the Italian fighters advance their lines along the Burgos Santander road to a point a few miles east of Torrelavega which is only 11 miles southwest of Santander.

Await Second Column

Now the Italians will await a second insurgent column, advancing on Torrelavega and Santander along the parallel road to the west that runs northward from Reinosa.

This second column reported it was meeting little resistance, but government dispatches disputed this.

The two columns, it was believed, would be united at Torrelavega, then move on Santander together in cooperation with a third, or coastal column, which is moving westward on the remaining Basque stronghold.

PRISONERS ARE RECAPTURED

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Aug. 19. (AP)—Posse men captured tonight two prisoners who sawed their way out of the Grand Junction jail a few hours after their surprise arrest at a desert camp near the Colorado-Utah boundary.

Two members of the posse, Fred Pack and Warren Bush, reported the fugitives, Einar Johansen, 26, and Harry Edwards, 34, surrendered without resistance.

Kansas Man Hacks His Wife And Three Kiddies To Death

(By The Associated Press)

HUTCHINSON, Kas., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Eugene Paul Warner and her three children were found hacked to death today and her husband, taken into custody, was quoted by County Attorney Wesley E. Brown as saying: "I guess I just went haywire."

Warner, a 31-year-old oil company employe, told Brown he struck them with a double-bladed axe and then attempted to take his own life by letting the weapon fall on his head five times.

Arose At 6:30 A. M.

Brown said Warner told him he arose at 6:30 a. m. and walked into his wife's room, killing her and then his 21-months-old daughter, Adeline, who was sleeping with her mother. Then he went into the other bedroom and killed his son Billy, 8, and another daughter, Elizabeth Ann, 3.

"There was no reason," Brown quoted Warner as saying, "my wife and I never quarreled."

Brown related, however, that he had been told by Clyde Yates, a friend of Warner's, that only last Tuesday Mrs. Warner said, in the presence of her husband, that he had threatened to kill her and the three children.

Yates told Brown Warner had made no attempt to deny the accusation.

The county attorney said tonight he was preparing to file first degree murder charges on four counts against the oil worker.

The tragedy was discovered late today when Mr. and Mrs. George Strate called on the Warners. They found Warner in a storeroom of the house. He was dazed and there were five wounds in his head.

Strate, also an oil worker, said Warner told him:

"I guess I went haywire and killed my family this morning."

The Warners, who formerly lived in Seminole, Okla., came here from Hays, Kas.

Warner said he had not been working recently because of sickness.

He was held incommunicado tonight, while a police guard was

Quarrel Will Be Renewed Over Per Capita

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—The quarrel over the amount of the Texas per capita scholastic apportionment for next year porbably will be renewed here tomorrow.

Ghent Sanderford, president of the state board of education, said he had been advised six members of the board, wanting to reconsider the $22 apportionment set several weeks ago had called a meeting.

Sanderford Is Opposed

Sanderford contends the apportionment was decided legally and the time for its consideration has expired. He opposed re-consideration and refused to call a meeting for the purpose.

Members who joined in the call, according to the board president, were Ben F. Tisinger of Dallas, R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, Tom Garard of Tahoka, Jim Strong of Carthage, Dr. J. C. Blair of Kernes, and Irvin McCreary of Temple. Other members, in addition to Sanderford, are D. F. Youngblood of San Antonio and John Laird of Lufkin.

Case Pending At Dallas

Pending in a Dallas district court are injunction proceedings forbidding the state comptroller from certifying the $22 apportionment to the schools, and hearing has been set for Saturday. About a week ago an injunction granted temporarily in San Antonio and prohibiting the board from changing the apportionment was dissolved.

The controversy involves the principle of whether the board of

Connally Supports Aid For Farmers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP) — Senator Tom Connally of Texas declared today "it is a matter of simple justice that the cotton producer who bears the burdens of the protective tariff should receive some benefit payment to offset the tribute the tariff law exacts of him."

He made a radio speech in support of the plan to loan farmers 9 or 10 cents per pound on cotton and pay them a subsidy equal to the difference between that figure and 12 cents.

"The price of cotton is fixed in a world free market where our farmers must compete with growers from other sections of the world," said Connally, "and can not be aided effectively by a protective tariff. However, he pays the protective tariff duty on articles he consumes and the implements with which he farms.

"Since the cotton farmer can receive no benefit from the tariff . . . it is only just and fair that he receive compensation or benefit payment to partially offset tariff burdens placed upon him by the federal government."

Reduction In State Allowable Is Indicated After Hearing

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—The Railroad commission heard testimony today upon which to base an order which will determine whether the state's unprecedented oil output of August will be reduced.

Statements of commissioners and testimony of engineers that pressure was dropping in the vast East Texas field were interpreted by operators as indicative of a cut.

Attack By Chinese Imperils Jap Marines As Drive Is On To Block Sea Entry

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20. (Friday)—Japanese marines fought tenaciously in Shanghai's eastern district early today to keep from being swept into the Whangpoo river by the most impressive Chinese drive of the battle for Shanghai.

The Japanese lines, with masses of infantry surging against them, swayed but held against the Chinese attempt to thrust a disastrous breach through them.

AMERICAN REFUGEES FLEE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20 (Friday) (AP)—Fleeing from embattled Shanghai as Japanese warplanes dived overhead, American refugees streamd down the Whangpoo river today by tender to the liner President Hoover.

Japanese warships bombarded Pootang, across the river from the International settlement, as the third evacuation of Americans swung underway.

It was estimated 1,000 women, children and men in all would be taben by tender to the President Hoover at its anchorage at Woosung, where the Whangpoo empties into the Yangtze river.

Begun Late Thursday

The attack began late yesterday, apparently in an effort to reach the waterfront and prevent the landing of large new forces arriving from Japan.

Telephone messages from British warders remaining at their posts in the jail said it was surrounded by the fighting the whole area was raked by heavy rifle and machine gun fire.

The Ward road jail is the chief prison for the International settlement, has room for some 8,000 prisoners and holds many nationalities. Three of the present inmates are Americans. An effort late yesterday to move them to a safer place failed when E. L. Paupel, United States marshal for China, and a squad of settlement police were turned back by the Chinese-Japanese battle.

One of the American prisoners is a woman, described by United

Two Injured Near Roaring Springs

(Special To The Avalanche)

ROARING SPRINGS, Aug. 19.—Hansel Jackson, Phoenix, Ariz., and his daughter, Jennell, were critically injured in a car wreck a half mile south of here on highway 18, about 6 o'clock this afternoon when the car they were riding in was struck by a car driven by Miss Ethel Carter, a Roaring Springs school teacher.

The two were taken to Traweek hospital, Matador, where it was said tonight they were in a critical condition.

Jackson received a concussion of the brain, a broken right shoulder and back injuries. His daughter had back injuries and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. Jackson had a broken nose and other injuries and Geneva, another daughter, a broken collar bone, broken ear drum and back injuries.

The Jacksons were enroute to Afton to visit an uncle, John Jackson, former Matador ranch foreman and the father of Mrs. Jackson. A. J. Dozier, Miss Carter drove out onto the highway in front of the oncoming car. Her coupe was demolished. Miss Carter escaped serious injuries.

The Jackson car turned over several times without leaving the highway. It was hit on the right fender by the other car.

The injured people were brought here and then taken to Matador.

Bodies Of Fort Worth Couple Taken From Lake Thursday

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19. (AP)—The depths of Eagle Mountain lake today gave up the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Hovey Duringer, but there was no ready answer to the riddle of why the couple had suddenly disappeared from their small boat before a witness' eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Duringer were married in 1935. Court records today disclosed that Duringer's mother filed an annullment suit Aug. 5.

Graves Names His Wife To Black Post

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama appointed his wife, Dixie Bibb Graves, today to succeed Hugo L. Black as senator from Alabama.

The governor announced Mrs. Graves' appointment immediately after Black tendered his resignation from the senate.

Mrs. Graves will serve only temporarily. The governor called a special election for next April 26 to name a senator to fill Black's unexpired term, which ends in January, 1939.

Not To Be Candidate

He said Mrs. Graves would not be a candidate, and that the Alabama constitution barred him from the race.

Graves said that immediately after the primary he would appoint the Democratic nominee to the senate to succeed Mrs. Graves.

Senator John H. Bankhead, who became Alabama's senior senator with Black's resignation, said he would present Mrs Graves' credentials to the senate tomorrow and ask that she be sworn in immediately.

Guards Against Advantage

The governor explained in a formal statement he wished to guard against giving any candidate the advantage of being the incumbent in next year's primary.

"In my judgment," the statement concluded, "Dixie Bibb Graves is in all respects fitted to serve in this ad interim appointment and to carry out the policies above mentioned."

Mrs. Graves, 55 years old, is known in Alabama as an effective campaigner for her husband, although she has never been a candidate. She will be the fourth woman to serve in the senate, all of them

Cotton Subsidy Payments To Be Pushed

Byrnes Is Given Authority To Tack Plan On As Amendment To Last Appropriation Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Authority for a government subsidy to cotton farmers started rolling through congress today.

The senate appropriations committee authorized Senator Byrnes (D-SC) to bring the matter before the senate tomorrow as an amendment to the last big appropriation bill of the present session.

Repitition Of 1935 Program

Byrnes said the amendment would authorize a repetition of the 1935 program. Farmers would get their subsidy early next summer for compliance with next year's proposed crop control program.

Farmers would be given the difference between their selling price per pound and 12 cents. Byrnes said he has a definite agreement with President Roosevelt that he favors the proposal.

Have Assured Action

Senators, in exchange for the president's consent to federal loans and grants on cotton, have assured him that crop control and other legislation will be made the first order of business at the next session of congress.

The president insisted upon the assurance of crop control action to secure the cotton loans, arguing that without it a surplus might accumulate, depress prices and cost the treasury millions.

Approve Tenancy Program

In addition to considering the cotton subsidy, the senate finance committee approved today the $20,000,000 included in the third deficiency bill for starting the administration's farm tenancy program.

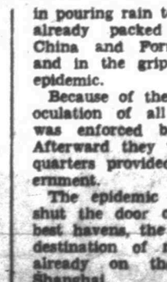

Half of this sum is for farm purchase loans to tenants and half for converting portions of the western "dust bowl" into a huge pasture. The pasture is to be established by government purchase and retirement of "unfit" farm land.

The senate may act on the deficiency bill tomorrow.

Wilkins Starts On Plane Hunt

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Ton flying boat bearing Sir Hubert Wilkins, veteran Arctic explorer, headed into the Northwest today on the first leg of an expedition to search for six Russian transpolar fliers who have been missing since Friday.

WILKINS

Sir Hubert alighted at Toronto harbor and immediately took off for Port Arthur, Ont., the next scheduled stop before the long flight into the Arctic wastes.

The flying boat, the Cuba, was purchased by the Soviet government yesterday and equipped hurriedly for the rescue attempt.

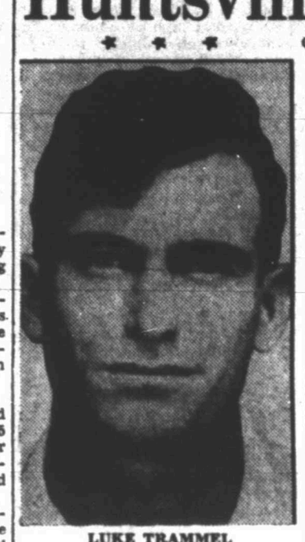

Sir Hubert, commissioned by the Soviet embassy in Washington to direct the expedition, was accompanied by Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Canadian flier who will serve as chief pilot. Russell Rogers, the ship's regular pilot, Raymond Booth, radio operator, and Gerald Brown, mechanic.

Al Cheeseman will join the expedition as co-pilot when the ship reaches Port Arthur. Both he and Hollick-Kenyon have flown over the Arctic with the explorer before.

The expedition planned to set up

Trammel Dies In Huntsville Chair

LUKE TRAMMEL

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 20. (Friday) Luke Trammel was electrocuted in the state prison here early today for the slaying of Guard Felix Smith of Retrieve prison farm a year ago.

Luke was convicted at Angleton July 24, 1936. One-eyed Forest Gibson, Limestone county robber who escaped with Luke on a horse after they killed Smith with his own shotgun, was given 60 years. The third desperado in the escape and a kidnaping foray twice across Texas and into Oklahoma, T. B. Atkinson, ran over a newspaper boy and killed him in Colorado and was captured and held on a murder charge by officers there.

Sentenced To 162 Years

In his few years of crime Luke was three times a convict and was sentenced to 162 years from a dozen counties for murder and assorted crimes. Concurrent sentences cut serving time to 85 years. Several counties, including Erath, where Luke was accused of kidnaping and car theft, dropped charges against the young criminal because of other long terms.

Luke started his criminal career as a burglar in Coleman. Later he spread his activities to include Central and West Texas. With him was his brother, "Doc." Coleman county officers staged an intensive hunt for the brothers in June and July of 1933. They finally cornered them in Coleman July 7, 1933, and Luke surrendered after "Doc" was killed in a gun fight.

Escaped Several Jails

Luke escaped several Texas jails and broke out of prison more than once but he always simplified the search by returning home. Officers learned to watch his home, knowing Luke would return to Coleman if he had a chance.

About a year after "Doc" was killed, Luke was convicted in King county on a burglary charge and assessed two years. Soon after the trial Luke slugged the jailer at Guthrie, escaped and made what he referred to as his prize get-away.

Luke forced a cattle truck driver to give him a ride. Officers approached. Luke cautioned the driver to keep quiet; then he climbed into the back of the truck with the cattle. The officers searched the truck but failed to see Luke sticking to the underside of a cow.

The truck driver verified the

Rangers Sent To Dallas To Keep Order

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—Rangers from all sections of Texas converged on Dallas tonight in accordance with orders of Governor James V. Allred to put a stop to violence in connection with labor troubles there.

Incensed by reports of continued threats against George Baer, official of the United Hatters and Milliners union who was abducted and flogged recently, the governor instructed the public safety department to send 25 men to Dallas and asserted that if more were needed they would be forthcoming.

Garrison To Be In Charge

Capt. Homer Garrison, assistant chief of the safety department, acting in the absence of Col. H. H. Carmichael, director, telephoned Ranger captains throughout the state, ordering them to dispatch as many men as possible without delay. He himself planned to leave for the scene of action and assume command.

Asserting that freedom of speech and the right of public assemblage and discussions would be preserved, Governor Allred sharply denounced what he said were continued threats of voilence in Dallas and declared anyone requesting a body-

Sooner Bank Robbed By Nervous Bandit

PERRY, Okla., Aug. 19. (AP)—A nervous holdup man, who dropped half of his $10,000 loot as he fled, carried out Oklahoma's first daylight bank robbery in two years here today.

State highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and citizen volunteers hunted for the robber in northern Oklahoma tonight. Authorities in southern Kansas also were on the alert.

The only trace was a report by two Ponca City policemen who said they believed the robber drove by them headed northward 30 minutes after the bank raid.

Y. V. Willett, president of the Exchange bank, who talked to the robber in an effort to "calm him down and keep him from shooting someone," estimated the loot lost at $5,000.

Willett said another $5,000, dropped from a paper sack as the robber fled, was found in an alley beside the bank.

The bank president described the robber as about 30 years old.

Witnesses said he drove away alone.

Demos Refuse To Order Bill Out On Floor

Strange Campaign Of 'Passive Resistance' Is Used In Caucus Last Night Of House Group

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — By a strange campaign of "passive resistance," Southerners in the house of representatives buried the administration's wage and hour bill deeper than ever tonight in the files of congress.

Advocates of the labor standards bill called a caucus of Democrats, in an effort to pass a resolution forcing the house rules committee to stop blocking the measure.

Refuse To Answer

But when the roll was called to open the meeting many Southerners —and some others — refused to answer to their names.

"Point of order, no quorum is present," shouted Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.), according to several legislators who were present.

The chair ruled that too few members were present and that the meeting could take no action. Therefore the bill died so far as this session of congress is concerned. Many Southerners had complained that the measure, granting power to a board to fix maximum hours as low as 40 a week and minimum wages as high as 40 cents an hour, was an attempt by Northern states to hamstring the growing industrial might of the South.

One Proposal Is Pushed

One proposal in the labor standards bill was being pushed independently of the measure as a whole, and was not affected by tonight's passive resistance "strike." That is a ban on child labor, which shot through the senate today.

Senators consented unanimously to passage of the measure.

Their action followed a suggestion that the house might agree to a separate child labor prohibition this session, even though the larger bill was blocked.

Carries Same Language

The separate child labor bill carries the same provisions incorporated in the child labor section of the senate-approved wage and hour legislation.

It would prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of goods made by children under 16 years of age and, in the case of hazardous industries, under 18. Merchandise made by children would have to be labeled plainly.

Would Prohibit Shipment

Also, the bill would prohibit the shipment of child-made products into any state in violation of its own laws.

The first prohibition is similar to that which congress enacted in 1916 and the Supreme court killed in 1918. President Roosevelt said recently that it would require a reversal of the old supreme court ruling to become effective.

The second is a new approach, based on a recent decision of the high tribunal that congress has

Governor Urges Salary Change

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. — Governor James V. Allred did some campaigning for the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing restoration of the fee system today during a visit of county officers seeking state aid on their salaries.

He agreed with the visitors that the state owed the counties $640,000 requested but said he would not submit any appropriations to the September-October session of the legislature until new taxes had been imposed.

More Than Appropriated

He said the $640,000 was the amount due for 1936 alone and was "more than the state formerly appropriated to pay all fees under the old fee system."

"The state under the new salary law has appropriated similar amounts," he said, "and this $640,000 is owed in addition to the sums already appropriated.

"The cost of the present compensation system is too great both to the counties and to the state. It cannot be made to operate effectively. Several counties already are in the red in their general fund.

They were named Nancy Lee and Sally Ann.

Nancy Lee was promised a spanking "because she caused all the trouble."

Dreaded Cholera Epidemic Threatening Hongkong; Vaccine Is Rushed There

(By The Associated Press)

HONGKONG, Aug. 19. — Enough vaccine to innoculate 250,000 persons was rushed here tonight by airplane and steamer to combat a cholera epidemic that has caused almost 200 deaths along the south China coast.

The spreading plague created a new peril for thousands of Asiatic, British and other refugees fleeing the war danger in northern China.

The liner Rajputana, carrying the first British refugees from Shanghai, docked here today in pouring rain to find the city already packed with South China and Formosa refugees and in the grip of a cholera epidemic.

Because of the epidemic, inoculation of all new arrivals was enforced before landing. Afterward they were taken to quarters provided by the government.

The epidemic threatened to shut the door of one of the best havens, the Crown colony destination of many refugees already on the seas from Shanghai.

Outbreaks of the disease occurred here and on the mainland at Macao, a Portuguese colony, and at Canton, China, up the Pearl river.

Health officers said the number of cases were increasing at an alarming rate.

There have been 101 deaths in Hongkong in the past two weeks. Eighty-two of 136 reported victims died last week and 19 the week before.

The vaccine was shipped from Singapore, British Straits

Ghent Sanderford, president of the state board of education, said he had been advised six members of the board, wanting to reconsider the $22 apportionment set several weeks ago had called a meeting.

Sanderford Is Opposed

Sanderford contends the apportionment was decided legally and the time for its consideration has expired. He opposed re-consideration and refused to call a meeting for the purpose.

Members who joined in the call, according to the board president, were Ben F. Tisinger of Dallas, R. S. Bowers of Caldwell, Tom Garard of Tahoka, Jim Strong of Carthage, Dr. J. C. Blair of Kernes, and Irvin McCreary of Temple. Other members, in addition to Sanderford, are D. F. Youngblood of San Antonio and John Laird of Lufkin.

Case Pending At Dallas

Pending in a Dallas district court are injunction proceedings forbidding the state comptroller from certifying the $22 apportionment to the schools, and hearing has been set for Saturday. About a week ago an injunction granted temporarily in San Antonio and prohibiting the board from changing the apportionment was dissolved.

The controversy involves the principle of whether the board of

Connally Supports Aid For Farmers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP) — Senator Tom Connally of Texas declared today "it is a matter of simple justice that the cotton producer who bears the burdens of the protective tariff should receive some benefit payment to offset the tribute the tariff law exacts of him."

He made a radio speech in support of the plan to loan farmers 9 or 10 cents per pound on cotton and pay them a subsidy equal to the difference between that figure and 12 cents.

"The price of cotton is fixed in a world free market where our farmers must compete with growers from other sections of the world," said Connally, "and can not be aided effectively by a protective tariff. However, he pays the protective tariff duty on articles he consumes and the implements with which he farms.

"Since the cotton farmer can receive no benefit from the tariff . . . it is only just and fair that he receive compensation or benefit payment to partially offset tariff burdens placed upon him by the federal government."

Reduction In State Allowable Is Indicated After Hearing

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—The Railroad commission heard testimony today upon which to base an order which will determine whether the state's unprecedented oil output of August will be reduced.

Statements of commissioners and testimony of engineers that pressure was dropping in the vast East Texas field were interpreted by operators as indicative of a cut.

Attack By Chinese Imperils Jap Marines As Drive Is On To Block Sea Entry

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20. (Friday)—Japanese marines fought tenaciously in Shanghai's eastern district early today to keep from being swept into the Whangpoo river by the most impressive Chinese drive of the battle for Shanghai.

AMERICAN REFUGEES FLEE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20. (Friday) (AP)—Fleeing from embattled Shanghai as Japanese warplanes dived overhead, American refugees streamd down the Whangpoo river today by tender to the liner President Hoover.

Japanese warships bombarded Pootung, across the river from the International settlement, as the third evacuation of Americans swung underway.

It was estimated 1,000 women, children and men in all would be taken by tender to the President Hoover at its anchorage at Woosung, where the Whangpoo empties into the Yangtze river.

swayed but held against the Chinese attempt to thrust a disastrous breach through them.

Begun Late Thursday

The attack began late yesterday, apparently in an effort to reach the waterfront and prevent the landing of large new forces arriving from Japan.

Telephone messages from British warders remaining at their posts in the jail said it was surrounded by the fighting the whole area was raked by heavy rifle and machine gun fire.

The Ward road jail is the chief prison for the International settlement, has room for some 8,000 prisoners and holds many nationalities. Three of the present inmates are Americans. An effort late yesterday to move them to a safer place failed when E. L. Paupel, United States marshal for China, and a squad of settlement police were turned back by the Chinese-Japanese battle.

One of the American prisoners is a woman, described by United

Two Injured Near Roaring Springs

(Special To The Avalanche)

ROARING SPRINGS, Aug. 19.—Hansel Jackson, Phoenix, Ariz., and his daughter, Jennell, were critically injured in a car wreck a half mile south of here on highway 18, about 6 o'clock this afternoon when the car they were riding in was struck by a car driven by Miss Ethel Carter, a Roaring Springs school teacher.

The two were taken to Traweek hospital, Matador, where it was said tonight they were in a critical condition.

Jackson received a concussion of the brain, a broken right shoulder and back injuries. His daughter had back injuries and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. Jackson had a broken nose and other injuries and Geneva, another daughter, a broken collar bone, broken ear drum and back injuries.

The Jacksons were enroute to Afton to visit an uncle, John Jackson, former Matador ranch foreman and the father of Mrs. Jackson, A. J. Dozier. Miss Carter drove out onto the highway in front of the oncoming car. Her coupe was demolished. Miss Carter escaped serious injuries.

The Jackson car turned over several times without leaving the highway. It was hit on the right fender by the other car.

The injured people were brought here and then taken to Matador.

Bodies Of Fort Worth Couple Taken From Lake Thursday

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19. (AP)—The depths of Eagle Mountain lake today gave up the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Hovey Duringer, but there was no ready answer to the riddle of why the couple had suddenly disappeared from their small boat before a witness' eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Duringer were married in 1935. Court records today disclosed that Duringer's mother filed an annulment suit Aug. 5.

Graves Names His Wife To Black Post

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama appointed his wife, Dixie Bibb Graves, today to succeed Hugo L. Black as senator from Alabama.

The governor announced Mrs. Graves' appointment immediately after Black tendered his resignation from the senate.

Mrs. Graves will serve only temporarily. The governor called a special election for next April 26 to name a senator to fill Black's unexpired term, which ends in January, 1939.

Not To Be Candidate

He said Mrs. Graves would not be a candidate, and that the Alabama constitution barred him from the race.

Graves said that immediately after the primary he would appoint the Democratic nominee to the senate to succeed Mrs. Graves.

Senator John H. Bankhead, who became Alabama's senior senator with Black's resignation, said he would present Mrs Graves' credentials to the senate tomorrow and ask that she be sworn in immediately.

Guards Against Advantage

The governor explained in a formal statement he wished to guard against giving any candidate the advantage of being the incumbent in next year's primary.

"In my judgment," the statement concluded, "'Dixie Bibb Graves is in all respects fitted to serve in this ad interim appointment and to carry out the policies above mentioned."

Mrs. Graves, 55 years old, is known in Alabama as an effective campaigner for her husband, although she has never been a candidate. She will be the fourth woman to serve in the senate, all of them

Rev. Gerald Smith Is Sued For Profits In New Organization

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—The Rev. L. K. Gerald Smith, one-time aide of Huey Long, was sued in supreme court today for an accounting of the profits of his new organization, the "Committee of One Million" formed after the last election to battle radicalism.

The plaintiff was Edward A. Powers, who said he and Smith formed the committee on a partnership basis.

MADE SLIGHT MISTAKE

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn., Aug. 19. (AP)—Benjamin Botoline, of no permanent address, made a mistake when, looking for a place to sleep, he entered the home of Police Chief George Healy. Today he was in the town lockup, while police checked up on his past, before determining his future.

Cotton Subsidy Payments To Be Pushed

Byrnes Is Given Authority To Tack Plan On As Amendment To Last Appropriation Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Authority for a government subsidy to cotton farmers started rolling through congress today.

The senate appropriations committee authorized Senator Byrnes (D-SC) to bring the matter before the senate tomorrow as an amendment to the last big appropriation bill of the present session.

Repitition Of 1935 Program

Byrnes said the amendment would authorize a repetition of the 1935 program. Farmers would get their subsidy early next summer for compliance with next year's proposed crop control program.

Farmers would be given the difference between their selling price per pound and 12 cents. Byrnes said he has a definite agreement with President Roosevelt that he favors the proposal.

Have Assured Action

Senators, in exchange for the president's consent to federal loans and grants on cotton, have assured him that crop control and other legislation will be made the first order of business at the next session of congress.

The president insisted upon the assurance of crop control action to secure the cotton loans, arguing that without it a surplus might accumulate, depress prices and cost the treasury millions.

Approve Tenancy Program

In addition to considering the cotton subsidy, the senate finance committee approved today the $20,000,000 included in the third deficiency bill for starting the administration's farm tenancy program.

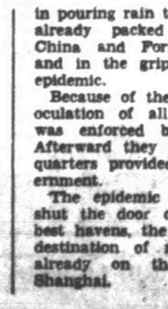

Half of this sum is for farm purchase loans to tenants and half for converting portions of the western "dust bowl" into a huge pasture. The pasture is to be established by government purchase and retirement of "unfit" farm land.

The senate may act on the deficiency bill tomorrow.

Wilkins Starts On Plane Hunt

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Ton flying boat bearing Sir Hubert Wilkins, veteran Arctic explorer, headed into the Northwest today on the first leg of an expedition to search for six Russian transpolar fliers who have been missing since Friday.

WILKINS

Sir Hubert alighted at Toronto harbor and immediately took off for Port Arthur, Ont., the next scheduled stop before the long flight into the Arctic wastes.

The flying boat, the Cuba, was purchased by the Soviet government yesterday and equipped hurriedly for the rescue attempt.

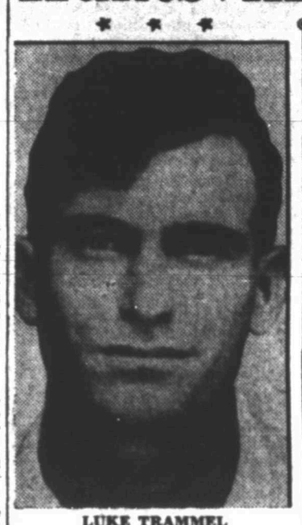

Sir Hubert, commissioned by the Soviet embassy in Washington to direct the expedition, was accompanied by Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Canadian flier who will serve as chief pilot, Russell Rogers, the ship's regular pilot, Raymond Booth, radio operator, and Gerald Brown, mechanic.

Al Cheeseman will join the expedition as co-pilot when the ship reaches Port Arthur. Both he and Hollick-Kenyon have flown over the Arctic with the explorer before.

The expedition planned to set up

Trammel Dies In Huntsville Chair

LUKE TRAMMEL

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 20. (Friday) Luke Trammel was electrocuted in the state prison here early today for the slaying of Guard Felix Smith of Retrieve prison farm a year ago.

Luke was convicted at Angleton July 24, 1936. One-eyed Forest Gibson, Limestone county robber who escaped with Luke on a horse after they killed Smith with his own shotgun, was given 60 years. The third desperado in the escape and a kidnaping foray twice across Texas and into Oklahoma, T. B. Atkinson, ran over a newspaper boy and killed him in Colorado and was captured and held on a murder charge by officers there.

Sentenced To 162 Years

In his few years of crime Luke was three times a convict and was sentenced to 162 years from a dozen counties for murder and assorted crimes. Concurrent sentences cut serving time to 85 years. Several counties, including Erath, where Luke was accused of kidnaping and car theft, dropped charges against the young criminal because of other long terms.

Luke started his criminal career as a burglar in Coleman. Later he spread his activities to include Central and West Texas. With him was his brother, "Doc." Coleman county officers staged an intensive hunt for the brothers in June and July of 1933. They finally cornered them in Coleman July 7, 1933, and Luke surrendered after "Doc" was killed in a gun fight.

Escaped Several Jails

Luke escaped several Texas jails and broke out of prison more than once but he always simplified the search by returning home. Officers learned to watch his home, knowing Luke would return to Coleman if he had a chance.

About a year after "Doc" was killed, Luke was convicted in King county on a burglary charge and assessed two years. Soon after the trial Luke slugged the jailer at Guthrie, escaped and made what he referred to as his prize get-away.

Luke forced a cattle truck driver to give him a ride. Officers approached. Luke cautioned the driver to keep quiet; then he climbed into the back of the truck with the cattle. The officers searched the truck but failed to see Luke sticking to the underside of a cow.

The truck driver verified the

Rangers Sent To Dallas To Keep Order

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—Rangers from all sections of Texas converged on Dallas tonight in accordance with orders of Governor James V. Allred to put a stop to violence in connection with labor troubles there.

Incensed by reports of continued threats against George Baer, official of the United Hatters and Milliners union who was abducted and flogged recently, the governor instructed the public safety department to send 25 men to Dallas and asserted that if more were needed they would be forthcoming.

Garrison To Be In Charge

Capt. Homer Garrison, assistant chief of the safety department, acting in the absence of Col. H. H. Carmichael, director, telephoned Ranger captains throughout the state, ordering them to dispatch as many men as possible without delay. He himself planned to leave for the scene of action and assume command.

Asserting that freedom of speech and the right of public assemblage and discussions would be preserved, Governor Allred sharply denounced what he said were continued threats of voilence in Dallas and declared anyone requesting a body-

Sooner Bank Robbed By Nervous Bandit

PERRY, Okla., Aug. 19. (AP)—A nervous holdup man, who dropped half of his $10,000 loot as he fled, carried out Oklahoma's first daylight bank robbery in two years here today.

State highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and citizen volunteers hunted for the robber in northern Oklahoma tonight. Authorities in southern Kansas also were on the alert.

The only trace was a report by two Ponca City policemen who said they believed the robber drove by them headed northward 30 minutes after the bank raid.

Y. V. Willett, president of the Exchange bank, who talked to the robber in an effort to "calm him down and keep him from shooting someone," estimated the loot lost at $5,000.

Willett said another $5,000, dropped from a paper sack as the robber fled, was found in an alley beside the bank.

The bank president described the robber as about 30 years old.

Witnesses said he drove away alone.

Dreaded Cholera Epidemic Threatening Hongkong; Vaccine Is Rushed There

(By The Associated Press)

HONGKONG, Aug. 19. — Enough vaccine to inoculate 250,000 persons was rushed here tonight by airplane and steamer to combat a cholera epidemic that has caused almost 200 deaths along the south China coast.

The spreading plague created a new peril for thousands of Asiatic, British and other refugees fleeing the war danger in northern China.

The liner Rajputana, carrying the first British refugees from Shanghai, docked here today in pouring rain to find the city already packed with South China and Formosa refugees and in the grip of a cholera epidemic.

Because of the epidemic, inoculation of all new arrivals was enforced before landing. Afterward they were taken to quarters provided by the government.

The epidemic threatened to shut the door of one of the best havens, the Crown colony destination of many refugees already on the seas from Shanghai.

Outbreaks of the disease occurred here and on the mainland at Macao, a Portuguese colony, and at Canton, China, up the Pearl river.

Health officers said the number of cases were increasing at an alarming rate.

There have been 101 deaths in Hangkong in the past two weeks. Eighty-two of 136 reported victims died last week and 19 the week before.

The vaccine was shipped from Singapore, British Straits

Demos Refuse To Order Bill Out On Floor

Strange Campaign Of 'Passive Resistance' Is Used In Caucus Last Night Of House Group

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — By a strange campaign of "passive resistance," Southerners in the house of representatives buried the administration's wage and hour bill deeper than ever tonight in the files of congress.

Advocates of the labor standards bill called a caucus of Democrats, in an effort to pass a resolution forcing the house rules committee to stop blocking the measure.

Refuse To Answer

But when the roll was called to open the meeting many Southerners —and some others — refused to answer to their names.

"Point of order, no quorum is present," shouted Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.), according to several legislators who were present.

The chair ruled that too few members were present and that the meeting could take no action. Therefore the bill died so far as this session of congress is concerned. Many Southerners had complained that the measure, granting power to a board to fix maximum hours as low as 40 a week and minimum wages as high as 40 cents an hour, was an attempt by Northern states to hamstring the growing industrial might of the South.

One Proposal Is Pushed

One proposal in the labor standards bill was being pushed independently of the measure as a whole, and was not affected by tonight's passive resistance "strike." That is a ban on child labor, which shot through the senate today.

Senators consented unanimously to passage of the measure.

Their action followed a suggestion that the house might agree to a separate child labor prohibition this session, even though the larger bill was blocked.

Carries Same Language

The separate child labor bill carries the same provisions incorporated in the child labor section of the senate-approved wage and hour legislation.

It would prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of goods made by children under 16 years of age and, in the case of hazardous industries, under 18. Merchandise made by children would have to be labeled plainly.

Would Prohibit Shipment

Also, the bill would prohibit the shipment of child-made products into any state in violation of its own laws.

The first prohibition is similar to that which congress enacted in 1916 and the Supreme court killed in 1918. President Roosevelt said recently that it would require a reversal of the old supreme court ruling to become effective.

The second is a new approach, based on a recent decision of the high tribunal that congress has

Governor Urges Salary Change

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. — Governor James V. Allred did some campaigning for the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing restoration of the fee system today during a visit of county officers seeking state aid on their salaries.

He agreed with the visitors that the state owed the counties $640,000 requested but said he would not submit any appropriations to the September-October session of the legislature until new taxes had been imposed.

More Than Appropriated

He said the $640,000 was the amount due for 1936 alone and was "more than the state formerly appropriated to pay all fees under the old fee system."

"The state under the new salary law has appropriated similar amounts," he said, "and this $640,000 is owed in addition to the sums already appropriated.

"The cost of the present compensation system is too great both to the counties and to the state. It cannot be made to operate effectively. Several counties already are in the red in their general fund.

Future Spanking Is Promised Twin Who Causes Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19. (AP)—A future spranking was promised smilingly today by young Mrs. Marie Jones to one of her husky twin daughters for causing a comparatively rare Caesarian operation.

Mrs. Jones, 20, gave birth to identical twins, even to their weight of six pounds each. Doctors said the position of one of the babies made the operation necessary.

They were named Nancy Lee and Sally Ann.

Nancy Lee was promised a spanking "because she caused all the trouble."

Mrs. Harry Hart Is Complimented At Afternoon Shower In Grady Knight Home

Bridal Parties Are Numerous

Social calendar for the entire week has been crowded with weddings, announcement parties, showers and teas for brides and similar entertainments for brides-elect. Today and tomorrow will witness a climax of events.

Mrs. Harry Hart, who was Miss Martha Belle Logan before her marriage here August 8, was complimented Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Grady Knight, 2218 Twenty-seventh street.

The house was decorated with bouquets of pink roses.

When the guests and honoree had arrived, little Don Hart and Powell Hinson knocked on the door and, gaining entrance, presented a letter to Mrs. Hart, telling the first move to make in a treasure hunt. The hunt, of course, was the means of her finding her gifts.

Refreshments were served on colored pottery plates on which large fig leaves had been placed as centerpieces. Rosebuds were plate favors. The beverage was rainbow punch.

These Attend

Guests were Mesdames Pebble Talley, Ewald Lamprecht, W. C. Watts, E. I. Brown, Raymond Oldham, Vada Spence, Ed Terrell, Howard Logan, J. L. Hill, W. J. Culp of Pampa, James Logan, Harold Biffle, Sherrill Boyd and Misses Florence Lawson and Edna Brock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart, who arrived here Wednesday from a wedding trip to Colorado, will leave today for Hollis, Okla., where they will visit his family. They will be at home in Clarendon after next week. Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. Culp, and Mr. Culp and their son, Lewis Wayne, also will leave today for their home in Pampa. They have been here since the wedding.

For Mrs. Douglas

Mrs. R. C. Douglas, jr., the former Miss Ruth Elaine Lewis, has been honored with many lovely parties since her marriage earlier in the summer.

Thursday a luncheon was given at high noon at Hotel Lubbock by Mesdames Lorainne D. Bucy and J. B. Jackson. Today from 4:30 until 6 p. m., Mrs. Douglas will be honored at a tea given by Miss Vondelle Prideaux in the new home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Prideaux, 3123 Nineteenth street.

Hostesses for the luncheon presented several pieces of china, in her chosen pattern, to the honoree.

Guests were Misses Virginia Knapp, Mary Thomas, Mary Wilson, Janet Hambright, Prideaux, Josephine Powell, Virginia McLean, Mrs. R. C. Douglas, jr., the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Jack M. Lewis.

For Bride-Elect

Indications are that a popular bride-elect, Miss Mary Geniece Hardberger, will be honored with an unprecedented series of parties between now and September 5 when she will become the bride of Pleas L. Childress of Ozona.

Several interesting events are scheduled for this weekend, as compliments to Miss Hardberger.

Today's Events . .

Cupid Outsmarts Old Man Career, Musician Says

Phil Spitalny has an excellent opportunity to study at first hand that modern-day feminine problem—Marriage vs. Career. This, because he leads an all-woman band.

By PHIL SPITALNY

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Recently one of the young ladies in my orchestra occasioned quite a bit of excitement by breaking the three year no-marriage clause required in my musicians' contracts. Cupid will always compete with Career, I suppose, but it's my belief that, in most cases, it's old man Career who stages a losing battle.

Thus far, the girls in the orchestra don't agree with me, but we shall see. According to our previous agreement, any girl who broke the contract by breaking into matrimony automatically lost her position. Thus she forfeited any further profits in the co-operative band.

Clause Is Severe

But the three years the orchestra has been organized have brought the girls to the conclusion that a no-marriage clause is too severe. Since in almost every other question of policy, we work co-operatively, a group decision made it plain that the girls very strongly favored revoking the anti-marriage clause.

And so I have bowed to the will of the majority. Believe me, they felt quite strongly about it. If I had refused, a certain mutinous look in those usually gentle eyes implied that they would be firm in their determination to give up even the orchestra—if it meant giving up freedom to marry whenever they please.

A Mere Man? Never!

But such strong feeling on this point only convinces me more firmly than ever that I'm right in thinking that nothing can hold the intensity of interest for a woman that her home will command, after her marriage.

In questionnaires they once filled out, only six of the girls signified willingness to give up altogether careers for home making. Even the others, who said they might possibly give up their musical pursuits for a husband, indicated they would only do so for a male paragon, possessing almost super-human qualities.

One youthful player, who is now a sure-enough bride, will make an interesting test case. These are the questions that are uppermost in my mind, now that she has been reinstated:

1. Am I right in thinking that the attention required by husband, home and in-laws becomes increasingly absorbing?

2. What about the fact that all girls in the orchestra must be prepared to go on tour at any time for a period of many weeks, if need be, with very little notice?

"Goin' To Town" At Home

A married man usually works harder at his musical career after marriage, because of his additional marital responsibilities. He usually has less actual outside distraction in his life than before marriage. His emotional power, a factor which cannot be too greatly valued, is likely to be more highly concentrated in his music, since marriage is a stabilizing influence in the otherwise often nomadic existence of the male musician.

The emotional power of a female instrumentalist, on the contrary, is definitely lessened by being divided between her interest in art and her determination to make her marriage a success.

I hope, for all concerned, that our young bride will prove my theory to have many exceptions — but I have my fingers crossed. This is one time when I'd feel better if she does make me change my mind.

Tech Group To Present Play

An uproarious comedy, "Three-Cornered Moon" will be presented at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Senior High school auditorium by students of the speech department of Texas Technological college, as the last number of the summer recreational program.

Many weeks of rehearsal and careful cast selections went into preparation for the play, which will be directed by Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, speech professor.

By Gertrude Tonkonogy, the comedy presents a woman whose husband left a small fortune and a houseful of irresponsible children

Gags and nitwitticisms fly off at all angles, described by a reviewer as a "sort of beautiful inanity that makes the stage groggy now and then with the buzz of a madhouse."

Cast members are Mrs. J. B. Caldwell, James Kimmel, Noel Edgar Thompson, Dorothy Mann, Billy Eads, Mrs. Bryan C. Henderson, Weldon George, Hugh Ayers and Iowsy Claunch.

Long between-act waits will be done away with, since the same scenery will be used throughout.

Admission for persons who do not have summer recreational program tickets will be 35 cents.

Increased Production Reported By Farmer On Terraced Land

HALE CENTER, Aug. 19. (Special) — Improved production of his terraced farm over that of his adjoining unterraced land was reported by J. E. Johnson of the Fieldton community.

Cotton planted on the terraced farm is from four to five inches higher and much heavier fruited than cotton on the unterraced farm, and the plants on the terraced farm withstood July dry weather much better than on the other farm, he said.

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful "cramps" when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he isn't a woman.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife—take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Gift Of $50,000 For Physical Ed Unit At Baylor Made

WACO, Aug. 19. (AP) — President Pat. M. Neff of Baylor university has announced a gift of $50,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Marrs McLean of San Antonio and Beaumont for erection of a new physical education building.

The plant will be known as the Rena Marrs McLean building in honor of McLean's mother, a member of the First Baptist church of Beaumont and actively identified with the Baptist church for more than 50 years.

Besides his oil interest, McLean is identified with numerous civic and educational enterprises. He also owns the Paint Creek ranch near Junction, one of the best stocked hunting preserves in Texas.

The new campus building will be 150 by 200 feet. It will be constructed of brick with an ornamental stone front. A large swimming pool will be built in the plant. The basketball section will seat 3,500.

Five Blocks Of Paving To Be Put Down In Levelland Soon

LEVELLAND, Aug. 19. (Special) Five blocks in the Levelland business district will be paved, H. N. Roberts, Lubbock engineer, recently submitted estimates to the city commission.

The commission had tentatively decided upon Oklahoma rock asphalt. Cost is different in each block, ranging from $1,939.80 to $2,986.54.

TO RECEIVE BIDS

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—The highway department will receive bids Aug. 27 for asphalt seal coating highway 117 in Hansford county from the Hutchinson to the Ochiltree county line, a distance of 18.8 miles.

CERTIFICATE RECEIVED

RALLS, (Special)—Certificates of standarization have been received by R. H. Nowlin, county superintendent, for the following schools: Big Four, Wake, Canyon Valley, Webb, Self County Line, Caprock, Fairview, Cone and Mt. Blanco.

Vocational Aid Funds Boosted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. — The task of training the farmer, mechanic and housewife to do a better job has received a $21,629,000 boost from congress.

Appropriation of this sum for vocational education has more than doubled previous federal allotments. In each of the last three years the appropriation has been about $10,000,000.

All the money will be expended by the states, the federal government merely making allotments on a population basis.

States To Match Funds

Of the total, $7,146,000 appropriated under the continuing Smith-Hughes act of 1917 must be matched dollar-for-dollar by the states. The remainder, appropriated under the George-Deen act of 1936 requires the states to put up 50 cents for each federal dollar.

The enrollment in vocational classes in 1936 was 1,381,701, an increase of 134,178 over 1935.

Some of the uses which the states make of additional federal funds are:

New programs in backward communities, vocational education in the distributive occupations, special classes for untrained, unemployed youth, apprentice training, and retraining for unemployed whose special skills have suffered from long disuse.

Harper Scoggins Is To Teach At Lorenzo High This Year

FLOYDADA, Aug. 19. (Special)—Harper Scoggins, principal of Floydada High school from 1925 to 1930, who taught last year at Mt. Blanco, will be principal at Lorenzo next school year, he said in Floydada this week.

He is to move from his Mt. Blanco farm in the next few days. After leaving here, Scoggins was superintendent at Groom and later taught a Wellington. He moved to Mt. Blanco two years ago.

"Gly-Cas Is The Greatest Ever"

Says Mr. Lambert; Stomach And Kidneys Were Terribly Disordered; Indigestion Was Awful, Could Hardly Walk His Back Pained So—Now Like New

"Too much praise cannot be given a medicine like Gly-Cas," said Mr. Lucian Lambert, Rt. No. 1, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. "For years any kind of food would cause me terrible attacks of indigestion. Gas formed after every meal I ate and bloated me until I could hardly get my breath. My heart would palpitate and I would have nervous and dizzy spells. Then my kidneys became affected and I was disturbed with night risings. I had such pains in my back that I could hardly walk. I lost my strength and energy and was tired and worn-out all of the time. But in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me until I finally began this new Gly Gas—it was wonderful."

"I did not realize any medicine could help me the way this new Gly-Cas did," continued Mr. Lambert. "My kidneys and bowels were regulated, the poisons removed from my system in a most natural manner and I was eating the foods I wished without any ill effects afterwards. Indigestion, gas and bloating have all gone and I now sleep fine, never disturbed and feel like an entirely different person today. Those dizzy and nervous spells have gone, new strength and energy has been given me and I cannot help but marvel at the remarkable change Gly-Cas has brought about in my stubborn cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Increase Of Nearly A Million Dollars Made In County Property Valuations

Hike Double Of Expectations

First cross section survey of new Lubbock county tax rolls indicates an increase of nearly a million dollars in assessed valuations in comparison with last year, according to information given Thursday by H. B. Bryan, chief deputy assessor-collector.

The figure is almost double the gain for which tax officials had expressed "hope" based upon observations as the rolls were prepared several weeks ago.

The prospective gain, Bryan explained, will be due wholly to improvements of permanent nature made in the county during the year, and will place Lubbock county among those top ranking in the state in point of increase. The only additions made to the roll, he added, have been those resulting from improvement, as the same basis of determining valuations in use last year was retained this year.

Ratio Is Outlined

The first positive indication of what valuations may be, Bryan explained, has resulted from a "running" of the first 90 pages of the rendered roll, which shows an increase of approximately $255,000 over last year. The 90 pages, Bryan added, comprise somewhat less than one-third the complete roll, so that if the ratio for the one-third should hold true for the whole, it will mean a gain in valuations ranging from $750,000 to $1,000,000.

While there is no certainty that the ratio will be maintained, Bryan said, there is every reason to suppose that it will be. There also is the possibility that the increase on the remainder of the roll may be greater or less than has been the case thus far. Efforts are being made to have final totals available by Sept. 1, on which date Bryan becomes county assessor-collector to succeed Hurley Carpenter, who has resigned to become operations manager and public relations director with South Plains Coaches. Hugh J. McClellan, present assessing deputy, will be promoted to chief deputy.

First report on the prospective total valuation was made under McClellan's direct supervision to supply information needed by County Auditor J. Y. Boyd in the preparation of budgets for the new fiscal year which began last July 1.

Assessed valuations in the county last year totaled $22,231,186, and the budget and tax rate this year are based on an estimated increase in that figure of only $29,000. Should present indications be born out, valuations will be raised above the $23,000,000 mark to the highest total since the beginning of the depression.

Gov. Allred Proclaims Holidays For School Children Of Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred has added a two-day holiday to the terms of virtually every school pupil in Texas.

He proclaimed a long series of double holidays for visiting historical and educational exhibits at the Greater Texas and Pan-American exposition in Dallas.

Beginning Sept. 9-10, pupils of Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Ellis and Navarro counties will be free of temporary duties and other groups of counties throughout the state will receive similar vacations ending Oct. 29.

Use Of Marihuana Said Greater Menace Than Other Narcotics

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—H. J. Anslinger, federal commissioner of narcotics, said here today that the use of marihuana has become a greater menace than other narcotics.

Anslinger pointed out that his department, heretofore without jurisdiction here marihuana was involved, will have that jurisdiction effective Oct. 1. He said the weed is cultivated in 25 states.

Rail Employes Receive Raise

Salary increases amounting to 40 cents per day will be given to Lubbock railroad men, employes of both the Santa Fe and Fort Worth and Denver, who are not members of the "big four' railroad brotherhoods or employes of the traffic departments, as result of negotiations recently completed.

Fifty-four men will be affected by the increases given Santa Fe employes. A proportionate number on the Denver likewise will have increases. Forty men in train service on the Santa Fe and four in the division freight office do not get an increase, nor do train and traffic employes of the Denver.

Confirmation Not Received

Official confirmation of the increase had not been received Thursday, but local railroad officials said they understood the report was correct.

Leaders of non-operating brotherhoods, including clerks, station employes, track workers and others, negotiated the increase with railroad officials in Chicago at a conference just concluded. It is understood the hike is general to all Class I railroads.

The so-called "big four" brotherhoods, constituting the operating employes in train and switch service, are negotiating an increase. It is understood that they are asking a 20 per cent increase.

Average per man is estimated at $10.40 per month of 26 working days. There will also be an increase for overtime.

Portugal And Czechoslovakia Split Over Munitions Order

LISBON, Aug. 19. (AP) — The authoritarian Portuguese government announced formally today it had severed diplomatic relations with the republic of Czechoslovakia over an unfilled order of machine guns.

At the same time Portugal accused Czechoslovakia of yielding to the "influences and pressure" of an unidentified "third party" in blocking fulfillment of the arms order.

The newspaper Diario de Noticias promptly declared, in interpretation of the move, that Czechoslovakia had received "instructions from an eastern power not to supply arms to a country which was a sure guarantee against a communist Iberian peninsula."

County Clerk Allen Preparing To Distribute Vote Supplies

Preparations for distributing approximately 7,500 ballots along with other election supplies were completed Thursday morning by County Clerk Ed D. Allen, despite the fact that a total vote of 1,500 in Lubbock county in the state amendment election Monday would be surprising to observers.

The number distributed will be in obedience to the law which requires that each voting precinct be supplied with one and one-half times as many ballots as it has registered voters. Estimated registered vote in the county, including poll tax receipts and exemption certificates, is 5,000

The supplies probably will be distributed Friday, Allen said.

Plans For Participation In Convention To Be Discussed

Plans for participation in the state American Legion convention starting Sunday in San Angelo will be discussed at a meeting of members of Allen Bros. post who expect to attend at the hall tonight at 8 o'clock, according to A. C. (Jack) Jackson, post commander.

Plans for Lubbock participation in the state meeting will be made, Jackson said. He asked those not named delegates or alternates but who plan to go to San Angelo to be present.

Jackson announced also that a caucus of the delegation will be held at Cactus hotel, convention headquarters, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Inquiry as to the exact place where the caucus will be held, the commander added, should be made at the hotel desk.

Outbreak Of Disease Among Horses Reported

Losses Running Fifty Per Cent

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19. — A seasonal outbreak of sleeping sickness among horses in the Panhandle, with losses in some instances running is high as 50 per cent, was reported today by Dr. Leon G. Cloud, assistant state veterinarian of the Livestock Sanitary commission.

The greatest area of infection includes farms and ranches between Lubbock and Amarillo, Dr. Cloud said.

The veterinarian estimated there are 150 horses now affected in northwest Texas counties. Last year the disease was reported by inspectors in the vicinity of San Angelo, Big Spring and Vernon, but in no other area in the state has equine encephalomyelitis broken out this summer.

The malady is transmitted from diseased animals by flies and mosquitoes, Dr. Colud said.

The veterinarian said horses treated immediately after becoming ill could be saved in the larger percentage of cases by use of a special serum.

Malady Reaches Alarming Proportions In Area; Several Hundred Horses Affected

Reaching alarming proportions, an outbreak of a disease resembling encephalomyelitis or "sleeping sickness" has striken several hundred South Plains horses, at a conservative estimate, Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, associate professor of animal husbandry and veterinarian at Texas Technological college, said last night.

Approximately 75 farmers have sought aid from Dr. Harbaugh in the last 10 days. They have come from every direction, but the outbreak apparently is greater north of Lubbock.

Are Emaciating Faster

Horses are emaciating faster than those afflicted with "sleeping sickness" and do not react to the same treatment, said Dr. Harbaugh.

In his approximately 11 years experience here, he has not encountered a like disease, he said. According to reports received here, a state veterinarian has visited north of here and was unable to fully analyze the disease.

A chemical change taking place in feed or some parasite on the horses is believed by Dr. Harbaugh to cause the disease, which apparently is non-contagious.

Conducting Experiments

Only simple remedy which farmers can administer is to take horses off cut or pastured sudan, and feed them oats and hay in the lot, said Dr. Harbaugh. Although conducting experiments with drugs, they are not sufficiently advanced to determine their effectiveness, he said. Of 14 horses he has treated, only one died.

Dr. Harbaugh has not recommended vaccination because "we don't know what we are vaccinating for," he said.

A disease in Kansas known as the "Kansas horse disease" may be the same as that which has broken out here. The malady has symptoms similar to "blind staggers," said the veterinarian.

Seven horses owned by a man north of Shallowater have died, according to a report here.

The egg-capsule of the common cockroach resembles a woman's purse.

Mail Service Awaits Fate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Postal officials said today that if congress failed to pass pending legislation this session, plans for trans-Atlantic mail service next year would be disrupted.

They said also that expansion of the domestic air mail system hinged on an unpassed measure.

"If congress fails to pass the pending mileage authorization bill and the foreign air mail measure, we will be both gagged and shackled," Harllee Branch, second assistant postmaster general, informed newsmen.

He said the department had expected to advertise several routes in the near future but could not if the bills were shelved.

The routes included:

San Antonio, Texas, to Houston, Texas.

Brownsbille, Texas, to Houston, Texas, for connecting with planes bound for Mexico, Central and South America.

Former Littlefield Man Writes Of Customs In Venezuela

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 19. (Special) —E. C. Ross, former resident of Littlefield, from Venesuela, South America, writes of customs of the natives. He is constructing houses for oil workers.

"There were no roads or railroads when I came, nothing but a dense forest full of alligators, monkeys and boa-constrictors. The oil camp was built on stilts over the Maracaibo lake. There was no way of transportation except by boat and mule train. The natives wore very little clothing, slept in hammocks in trees and lived on wild fruit.

"Now the oil company is building modern houses for them. Conditions are much better. There are 100 miles of good oiled roads, cars, trucks and machinery of all kinds, radios, club houses and picture shows."

Simple Household Remedies Being Used In Northwest

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 19. (AP)—Farmers and veterinarians, unable to obtain serum and vaccine, fell back on simple household remedies today in an effort to save horses from the worst sleeping sickness disease scourge the Northwest has suffered in years.

The disease has stricken horses on almost 2,000 Minnesota farms. Veterinarians reported farmers in the Dakotas and Nebraska also have suffered unusually severe losses.

Mosquitoes were suspected of spreading the disease, known to medical science as equine encephalomyelitis.

Dr. W. C. Bromaghin of the Minnesota Livestock Sanitary board, said serum and vaccine supply houses have informed him they were piled high with back orders for medicine.

Three Diseases Taking Toll Of Animals In Interior

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP) — Unusually severe outbreaks of three sporadic livestock diseases, government experts said today, are taking a heavy toll this year of cattle, horses and hogs on farms in the nation's interior.

The diseases are anthrax, which has a high mortality rate among cattle and horses, equine sleeping sickness which is fatal to many horses, and swine erysipelas, less fatal, but a serious hog scourge. The trio cause annual losses of millions of dollars to farmers and stockmen, Dr. Louis Guiltner, agriculture department scientist, said, with outbreaks this season above average.

Frank R. McNinch Nominated As Communications Commissioner

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP) — President Roosevelt has nominated Frank R. McNinch of North Carolina to be a member of the Federal Communications commission. McNinch now is chairman of the federal power commission.

The nomination went to the senate soon after the president had named T. A. M. Craven of this city to be a member of the communications commission. Craven now is chief engineer of the commission.

The appointments filled two long pending vacancies in an agency which has been suffering from internal dissension for months.

7-YR. VICTIM OF GASSY STOMACH

Couldn't Sleep; Bowels Were Irregular; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Her.

Mrs. Loretta Foutch, of 1325 Curtis St., Denver, Colo., is publicly endorsing Van-Tage, which is the "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients," now being introduced in this city at the Mark Halsey Drug Store.

Mrs. Foutch

"I had been suffering with stomach gas and sluggish bowels for 7 years," said Mrs. Foutch. "I couldn't eat a thing without having terrible gas pains all through my stomach, and I had attacks of heartburn. The gas pains would torture me so much I couldn't sleep. I was very irregular, too, and had to resort to strong physics. All this suffering made me nervous and irritable. I heard about Van-Tage and decided to try it. I have taken two bottles and I feel like a different person. The gas pains have been wonderfully relieved and I do not have heartburn like I did, and I am very regular for the first time in years. Van-Tage has certainly proved to be all that it is represented to be."

VAN-TAGE helps invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 30 Ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Due to the immense volume in which it sells, Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway. Adv.

Oil Industry Is Talking Of Cut

By ALFRED WALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 19.—Right in the midst of the heaviest consumption season ever known the oil industry got to talking today about the need for reducing the output of crude and refined products.

In general there was a feeling that state allowables for September should be cut back, perhaps even below the bureau of mines recommendation, if the balance of stocks on hand were to be kept within bounds.

Should Produce Less Oil

Oklahoma operators seemed to be agreed that despite the bureau of mines recommendation for 633,000 barrels daily during September, up 200 barrels from August, less oil should be produced during the next month.

Trade talk here was that Kansas operators, too, might go below the bureau's recommendation of 200,900 barrels daily for September.

Most authoritative sources counselled reduction of crude runs to enable the industry to take up the slack as demand deminishes during the next few months.

Fourth Consecutive Record

Sharp notice was taken of the American petroleum institute's estimate of the fourth consecutive new production record, 3,718,000 barrels daily for the week ending Aug. 14, and the bureau of mines report that crude stocks had increased 699,000 barrels during a week's time to a total of 308,250,000.

Crude producers, insistent for the past six months that they should have had a price increase, hoped for a reduced output to strengthen their market.

One authority termed the present situation as "somewhat complex." He spoke of the growing demand for Diesel fuel and burning oils and expressed the opinion the industry might be entering a new cycle which might be called the "Diesel age" following the "Gasoline age."

Prices Remain Unchanged

Prices for all refined products remained unchanged under strong demand.

A vast amount of new field work continued the rule in the Permian basin region of Texas and New Mexico and the new Illinois area but in Oklahoma, Kansas and parts of Texas drilling operations were somewhat sporadic.

The Oil and Gas Journal's compilation showed 614 wells completed in the United States during the week compared to 629 the week before.

Several Schools In Hockley Have Opened Fall Sessions

LEVELLAND, Aug. 19. (Special) Several Hockley county schools have opened their 1937-38 sessions and others will open in the next few weeks.

The county will have approximately 3,200 students next year. The 11 schools employ 108 teachers, said W. E. Fry, county superintendent.

Levelland schools will open Sept. 6, said E. W. Brasch, secretary.

Ropesville school opened Aug. 2. A. E. Krause is superintendent. Sundown and Pettit schools opened Aug. 9, with T. H. Curry and T. O. Petty as respective superintendents. Smyer schools opened Monday, with Charles Lail as superintendent. Other schools will open Aug. 30.

Jimmy Ellis is new superintendent of Anton schools.

Tahoka Future Farmer Boys Have Returned From Camp

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Aug. 19. — Eighteen members of the Tahoka chapter, Future Farmers of America, have returned from a three-day camping trip and a fishing expedition to Christoval.

A school bus was provided by the trustees and superintendent W. G. Barrett, to take the boys to and from the camp grounds. Chester Huddleston, new vocational agriculture teacher, was the sponsor and accompanied the boys.

Members of the chapter now plan to make it an annual affair.

LARGE AMOUNT CANNED

LITTLEFIELD, (Special)—A total of 353 cans and 127 quart jars of vegetables have been canned from the Salvation Army garden here. Littlefield women helped the Salvation army in the canning, and a fall garden will be planted soon.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Attention Stenos! "Sweet Tempered" Typewriter To Make You Wild With Envy; Punch It Hard And It Never Gets Riled

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP) — Invention of a "sweet tempered" typewriter has been announced by Joseph Spiel Vogel of Newark, N. J.

No matter how angry you are when you use it, the machine refuses to get riled.

Punch the keys as hard as you will, but the typewriter keeps putting the letters down on the paper at the same even-tempered, undisturbed pace.

Each Letter The Same

The machine is enough to make a stenographer wild with envy. It taps each letter so that every word is as black as the next one. It pushes the "I" key more lightly than the "W," for if the two fell with equal weight the "I" would be darker than the "W."

The invention prints type similar to that of a printing press.

Instead of giving each letter the same amount of space, as is the case on conventional typewriter keys, the device with the unruffled temper varies the space to suit the size of the letters, as in standard type.

Prints Bold Face

It prints bold face type when the proper control is adjusted.

A complete newspaper, except for headlines, could be produced on the typewriter, Spiel Vogel said, for it automatically spaces the type to bring each line out even at the right as well as at the left margin.

Spiel Vogel said he had obtained permission from the federal government to license prospective manufacturers of the invention.

Spiel Vogel is the man who three years ago invented stretchable paper. If the lines you typed didn't come out even, you could stretch them until they did.

Loan Policies To Remain Same

AMARILLO, Aug. 19. (Special) — The Resettlement administration's loan program during 1937-1938 for the benefit of farmers in the five-state area embraced by Region XII, will be continued very much as it was in the past year, Regional Director L. H. Hauter, announced this week.

"We shall continue to emphasize the making of sound loans," Mr. Hauter said, "because unless we make only those loans which farmers may reasonably expect to repay, we are not placing them in a position where they can be rehabilitated, and thus we would fail to reach our objective."

Care To Be Exercised

Mindful of existing problems in the Southern High Plains Dust Bowl area, Hauter said special care will be taken to extend loans in order to bring about a proper adjustment of land use and the establishmnt of economically sound land units. This is particularly true, he pointed out, in those areas where the moisture and physical conditions of the soil creates a special problem.

Hauter said the Resettlement administration has adopted a policy to withhold loans this fall for wheat production in those areas where insufficient moisture exists at seeding time, or where certain other factors create an added hazard.

To Encourage Land Cover

"For this, or any other agency to loan farmers money with which to seed a crop from which no harvest is likely to result," he said, "will only result in getting the borrowers further in debt. We hope to avoid this. It is also thought inadvisable," he continued, "to encourage the destruction of cover on land in the more seriously wind eroded areas unless there is a reasonable chance to get a good cover crop on the seeded land. Experience in the past several years has shown the wisdom of making crop loans only when conditions are satisfactory for producing a profitable crop. It is a wise policy and we shall continue it in the future."

Hauter called attention to the hundreds of farmers in Region XII who are being rehabilitated largely through loans extended by this federal agency in accordance with farm plans drawn by the county supervisors, who service every county in the region.

Fire Truck Being Constructed In Ralls By Raleigh Keith

RALLS, Aug. 19. (Special)—A fire truck is being constructed in Ralls under supervision of Raleigh Keith, with the same specifications as one constructed by the Lubbock fire department. Chassis and engine of an ambulance are being used.

The truck will have a 200-gallon tank, a booster pump and 100 feet of hose. The truck now used will carry the chemical tank and most of the hose.

Construction of the truck was undertaken upon advice of W. E. Twitty, chief of the Lubbock fire department, which has constructed most of its trucks.

BUILDING AT SEAGRAVES

SEAGRAVES, (Special)—Building permits for the first 15 days of August amounted to $26,975, the city secretary reports. Permits include a $7,000 auditorium for the Methodist church, two apartments, a small hotel of 15 rooms and three commercial houses, besides 15 residences.

Blackfish and porpoise oil have been found to be especially good in lubricating delicate mechanisms.

Tyler's School Children May Be Fingerprinted If Consent Is Given By Their Parents

TYLER, Aug. 19. (AP)—If parents approve, Tyler's 7,000 school children will be fingerprinted when they start to school this fall.

The city safety council proposed and the school board approved such a plan to thwart any possible recurrence of the confusion arising from the New London school explosion this spring. In that tragedy many identifications were difficult to establish.

Superintendent of Schools John Hodges said the plan would go into effect if parents agreed and that he expected little opposition inasmuch as the idea was to protect the children.

The council said the prints would be sent to Washington for permanent filing. The plan contemplates eventual fingerprinting of every person in the city.

Production Of Crude Oil In U. S. Shows Gain During Past Week

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 19. (AP)—Production of crude oil in the United States during the week ending Aug. 14 showed an increase of 41,882 barrels daily to a daily average of 3,710,491 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma registered a decrease of 5,200 barrels daily to an average of 648,925. East Texas had a decrease of 3,226 barrels daily to 475,397. The total state of Texas increased 47,672 to 1,534,239 barrels daily.

Louisiana's production dropped 545 barrels daily to 261,685, California declined 830 barrels daily to 672,300 and Kansas had an increase of 1,000 barrels daily for an average of 206,050.

Eastern states including Michigan had an increase of 565 barrels daily to 168,282.

TO RECHECK COUNTY

SEMINOLE, (Special)—Dr. M. H. Molohan, of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, will have a recheck of Gaines county for tuberculosis in cattle, Cline E. Morris, county agent, has been advised. Work starts Sept. 6. It will be only a spot check, with approximately 600 head to be tested.

DIZZY SPELLS

How To Help The Passing of Women's Most Critical Years —40 to 50

"I suffered from dizziness for years and decided to try Kruschen. Of course I knew it is my age that is the cause of it all. I am 47 but I have been told this and that would help me so I tried all I could but still had the same old dizziness. Now I'm on my 3rd jar of Kruschen and don't get dizzy nearly so often. I used to get so muddled at times. Now I feel different — altogether much clearer. There must be hundreds of women like me. They must stick to Kruschen every morning." Mrs. L. B. N., August 24, 1936.

Kruschen Salts is sold the world over—millions of jars a year. If you want to help avoid headaches, dizziness, smothering spells, weakness, fits of depression—if you want to keep feeling more healthy and happy—up and about your work—take a third teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning.

Take it for 30 days and if not joyfully satisfied get your money back. Adv.

FLORIDA WRAPPER. It's tobacco harvest time down in Dixie, and here's some native produce. First, there's Marian Thompson, pretty Danville, Va., miss, who illustrates how large the celebrated Virginia leaf grows. Only two leaves are required to clothe her attractively and modestly.

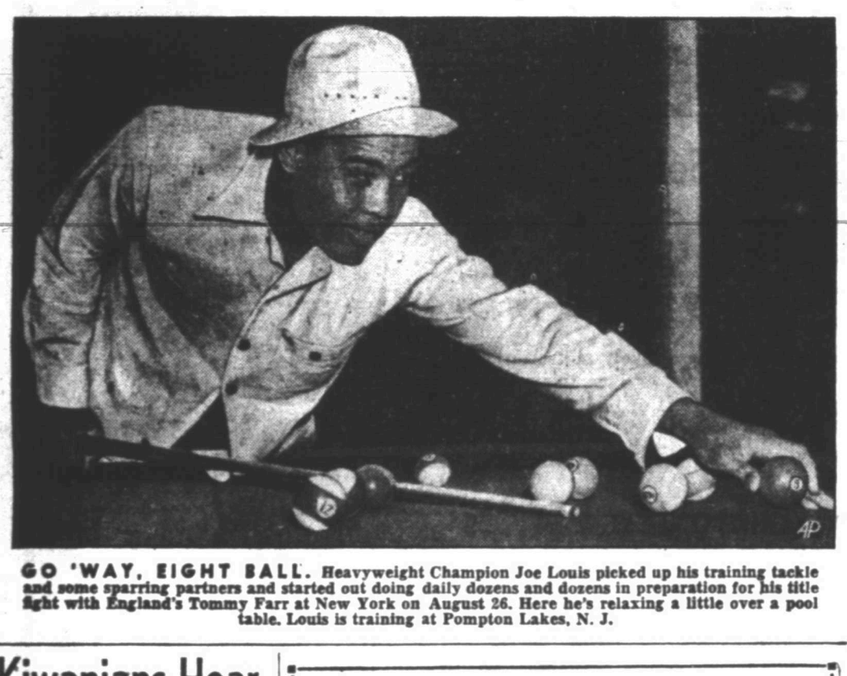

THE GOLDEN WEED. In Georgia and North Florida tobacco markets the first of the 1937 bright leaf tobacco crop sold briskly. "Golden weed" farmers of the two states expected more than $15,000,000 for their crop. Here's an auctioneer (hand upraised) and buyers at the Metter, Ga., market.

HARVEST SCENE. It's a long, back-breaking stretch from the tiny shoots of the seed bed to the cured, marketable "hands" of tobacco leaves. Here, J. D. McLelland, Valdosta, Ga., grower, is doing some post-harvest shopping after trading his "long brown" for some "long green."

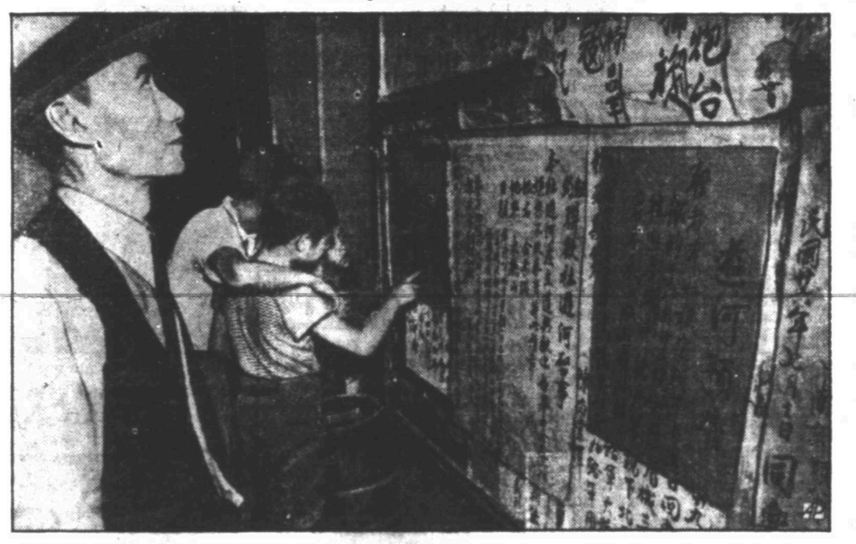

PLANTATION PALS. An interested pickaninny watches N. O. Taylor, 59 and blind for 20 years, as he gathers tobacco at Hartsfield, Ga. Taylor follows his crop from the seed bed to market. He said he could tell by the "feel" when his plants are diseased and when they need to be sprayed.

GO 'WAY, EIGHT BALL. Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis picked up his training tackle and some sparring partners and started out doing daily dozens and dozens in preparation for his title fight with England's Tommy Farr at New York on August 26. Here he's relaxing a little over a pool table. Louis is training at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Relief

"Human futures," and their relations to society, were discussed Thursday noon at the Kiwanis club by Mrs. Viola Perkins, district 17 case worker supervisor, in charge of the program in 24 counties in this part of the state. Joe M. Wilson, county welfare supervisor, was chairman of the program.

President B. Sherrod announced L. E. Davis, A. H. Carnett and Clyde Elkins a committee in charge of arranging a delegation to the Texas-Oklahoma district convention in Fort Worth in October.

Mrs. Lottie Boles Hilton sang two numbers, with Mrs. David S. Martin as her accompanist.

Becoming Social Program

"Our program is rapidly leaving relief and it is also rapidly becoming what it was intended to be, a social program," Mrs. Perkins said in explanation of the work. "I want to say I appreciate what your club here has done to aid the social program, with your Knot Hole gang."

Briefly sketching the relief work in 1932-33, when a local affair was superceded by federal support, she traced the change back to state and local agencies at the beginning of 1936, when, she added, "our responsibility came back to use."

Commodities Distributed

In January, 1936, the study of local situations by case workers was begun as local groups succeeded federal agencies. Between 1932 and the first of 1937, $50,000,000 in federal surplus commodities were distributed in Texas.

Surplus commodities came as a result of purchase by the federal government of food supplies in order to relieve the market and prevent it from falling below a level that enabled producers to break even. She cited purchase of grape fruit from Texas growers that kept the market from dropping too low; the purchase of wheat, cattle and fruits for the same reason.

Budgets Made Up

Case workers, said Mrs. Perkins, make up a budget for families under her supervision, using local food costs and the needs of the particular family. The income of the family is taken into consideration. No families may be sent to CCC camps; families with unemployed certified to the WPA and other assistance given, Mrs. Perkins said of case workers. "Her hardest job is to keep up the morale of her clients," she added.

Young Democrats Leader Terms Reports 'Utterly Ridiculous'

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 19. (AP) — Frank Wickhem of Sioux Falls, S. D., president of the Young Democrats of America, today described as "utterly ridiculous" reports that Paul V. McNutt, U. S. high commissioner to the Philippines, is seeking control of the organization in an effort togain the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940.

McKinney Man Is Killed When Car Strikes Side Of Bridge

PLANO, Aug. 19. (AP) — M. O. Boseman of McKinney was killed today when his automobile struck the side of a concrete bridge at Spring Creek, just south of Plano. Bosman, the operator of a truck line between Dallas and McKinney, was enroute to Dallas. He was alone.

Brownfield Growth Reflected In Gain In School System

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 19. (Special) —The growth of Brownfield is being reflected to a marked degree in its school system, according to M. L. H. Baze, superintendent of schools. It was estimated that approximately 1200 pupils will be enrolled when school opens Sept. 2, as compared with an enrollment of 990 in 1936. Nine additional teachers also will be employed.

Extensive renovation has been effected on desks and furniture during the summer, and clean, shiny desks will be used by pupils when they return to their books after the vacation.

G. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent, recently met with the Brownfield school board and advised the necessity of additional teachers to insure the scholastic status of the high school, stating that crowded conditions in some of the school rooms would lead eventually to suspension of the high school from affiliated rating if allowed to continue. Some teachers in the grades last year had as many as 60 pupils, but, with the new additions, no teacher will have more than 35 or 40 this year, according to Superintendent Baze.

Ralls Ward School Faculty is Complete; Three Are Added

RALLS, Aug. 19. (Special)—The Ralls ward school faculty was completed this week with addition of three teachers: Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Williams, who taught last year at League Four school; and Miss Cairy Bier, who taught at Crosbyton.

Miss Bier will teach fifth grade and public school music.

Miss Catherine Rose has been appointed home economics teacher in Ralls High school, coming here from McAdoo.

Health Nurse Is Employed By Hockley County Commission

LEVELLAND, Aug. 19. (Sepcial) Hockley county commissioners court employed a full-time county health nurse and changed a precinct line at a recent meeting.

The nurse, who will be selected by the state board of health, will begin duties Sept. 1. She will give special attention to pre-natal and post-natal and infant care, afflictions of pre-school and school children, prevention of tuberculosis, and work with crippled children and adult hygiene.

The line separating precincts 1 and 2 was changed so that a line running south along the center of the highway from a turn about two miles south of town reaches the center of the court house.

West Texas Druggists Close Successful Convention Here Thursday

Robert Lee Man Named Leader

Spokesmen for West Texas Pharmaceutical association joined in pronouncing their convention the most successful they have held as they departed for their homes late Thursday after having elected Gerald C. Allen of Robert Lee their new president and selected Big Spring their 1938 convention city.

The choice of Allen, who served the association as vice president last year, was made unanimously at the final business session of the three-day convention at Hilton hotel headquarters just before noon Thursday. He succeeds Joe Bowen of Sweetwater, who was called from the convention before the final session began because of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Bowen, of Colman.

Mrs. Bowen, who suffered from a chronic illness, was the wife of a prominent member of the association. Her death occurred Wednesday night.

Other Officers Named

Other new officers, additional to Allen, are John W. Bryant of Lemesa, advanced from secretary-treasurer to vice president; L. L. Clarke of San Angelo, a member of the board of directors who was chosen secretary-treasurer; and Bert Pinson of Lubbock, Charles Frost of Big Spring and John A. Weeks of Ballinger, members of the board of directors. Weeks' choice was a reelection.

Holdover members of the board are Lee Stinson of Snyder, Frank Meyers of Abilene and Bowen, who serves automatically as immediate past president.

Departure From Precedent

Selection of the next convention city was a depature from precedent, as in the past that has been done by the directors a few weeks in advance of the meeting date. Lubbock was chosen for the annual meeting just closed about two months ago.

Directors, however, were called into session by the new president immediately after adjournment of the convention and invitations then were presented on behalf of Big Spring by Shine Phillips and for Brownwood by Chester Harrison, manager of the chamber of commerce there. Big Spring was announced as a unanimous choice.

Members of the nominating committee were W. R. Fickas of Lubbock, John Smithee of Amarillo and Phillips.

Call For Fair Trade Act

Among resolutions approved at the final business session was one which called upon the governor to submit to the legislature a fair trade practice bill of nature similar to that rejected at the last session.

The resolution warned that unless such a law is passed, the state will face "an alarming situation which may result in Texas becoming the dumping ground for every cut throat type of competition." It contained the further reminder Texas is one of only six states which has not yet adopted a fair trade practice act.

Other resolutions were of routine nature. One expressed condolence to Robert T. Bowen because of his bereavement. Another expressed appreciation to Behrens Drug company of Lubbock and Southwestern Drug company of Amarillo for the luncheons at which they were hosts. A third was an appreciation to Lubbock, local druggists and others for having arranged the highly successful convention. A fourth praised the National Association for Retail Druggists for its activities in behalf of the Tydings-Miller fair trade practice act recently passed by congress.

Last event on the entire convention program was the luncheon at the Hilton at which Behrens Drug company was host.

J. Louis Marsh, sales manager of the company, and Albert T. Clifton, the president, spoke briefly, stating among other things that, "I arrived in Lubbock at 8:30 o'clock one morning to investigate the possibilities of locating here. By 10:30 I had leased a building." Clifton resides in Waco.

Dick Dickerson's orchestra played during the luncheon.

Indian Dancers Are On Way To Chicago For Appearance

LAREDO, Aug. 19. (AP)—Thirty-four Indian dancers of Puebla, Mexico, passed through here today enroute to Chicago where they plan to stage ritual dances in Vernon Park Aug. 23-30.

From Chicago the group, which is conducted by Olonso Sordo Noriega of Mexico City, expect to go to St. Paul, Minn., and then to Washington where they hope to preform before President Roosevelt.

LITTLEFIELD GIN IMPROVED

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 19. (Special)—Raymond Renfro, grocer, and Ross Mayhew, manager of a Las Cruces, N. M., gin and former Littlefield merchant, have purchased the Bayless gin. The equipment will be overhauled and new machinery added.

Renner Is Named To Head Committee

K. M. Renner, head of the department of dairy manufacuers at Texas Technological college, has been appointed chairman of the Agriculture and Livestock committee of the Texas State Manufacturer's association.

Renner received notice of his appointment from Porter A. Whaley, executive vice-president and general manager of the association. He was recommended for the place at the annual meeting of the association in San Antonio in June.

Purpose of the association is to correlate agriculture and industry and to promote use of Texas agricultural and livestock products in Texas industries. Renner said next year the committee of which he is chairman would cooperate with other committees in setting up more rigid standards for Texas products that go into goods manufactured in the state.

Renner's appointment has come as a result of his work in the grading and standardizing of dairy products.

Industries and groups with members on the association's committees are: dairy manufactures, marketing division of the state department of agriculture, citrus fruit growers, ice industry, sheep and goat raisers cotton producers, meat packing industry, vegetable and fruit growers, milling industry, newspapers, extension service of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, state department of vocational agriculture, and the Texas cooperative council.

BECOMES H D AGENT

Miller a 24 by 28 frame apartment; Home Ice Co., a frame and sheet iron ice manufacturing plant, $1,100.

Plants of three different species are worn as "shamrock" on St. Patrick's Day.

Jim Ferguson Lauds New Deal But Is Silent On Ma's Plans

QUITMAN, Aug. 19. (AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson, stood staunchly behind President Roosevelt today but was quiet on his wife's political intentions.

He spoke here yesterday at the Wood County Old Settlers' union, and in a speech he insisted was non-political endorsed New Deal policies, aid for tenant farmers and old-age pensions to persons over 65.

Of the President, Ferguson said "maybe he has made mistakes, but he has done something and I am for him." The Roosevelt administration may have wasted money, he said, but "I had rather see money thrown away than to hear the cry of a single hungry baby or the moan of a grief-stricken mother."

Sherman's favorite war chargers were Lexington and Zam.

Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture; you'd give anything to get relief.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns and Callouses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off. No matter how discouraged you have been, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn—best of all any offensive odor is gone for good. John Halsey Drug will be glad to supply you. Adv.

Plenty Of Plain And Fancy Donkey Riding Is Promised In Donkey Baseball Game Between Lubbock And Crosbyton Lions

"No doubt, there will be plenty of plain and fancy bareback riding," is the promise for spectators who see the donkey baseball game Monday night at Crosbyton when representatives of the Lions club there meet a team representing the Lubbock organization.

The same two teams will meet in a game here, probably at Parris field, Wednesday night with an admission charge of 15 and 25 cents.

Substitutes will be George Langford, Bob Bean, Berl Huffman, Sam Rosenthal, H. P. Bigham, Huddleston Wright, and several others. George R. Bean will be bat boy. Trainer for top donkeys is Dr. R. P. Reeds and trainer for ground donkeys is Dr. F. G. Harbaugh.

"These donkeys are trained for the game and even though the riders may be a bit stupid about the art of baseball, the donkeys (ones that stay on the ground) are expected to pull them through," it was explained. "The troop has been all over sections of West Texas and has been giving top entertainment. Proceeds will be used by the club through its activity fund to aid any worthy cause here.

State Softball Play Opens In Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Aug. 19. (AP)—Opening games in the sixth annual state Texas Amateur Athletic federation softball tournament will be played here tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with San Antonio meeting Hutto and Corpus Christi engaging Fort Worth. At 10:30 o'clock Austin tests San Angelo and Menard plays Wharton.

The afternoon schedule calls for two games at 2 o'clock with Waco scrapping Dallas and Bishop playing Beaumont, while at 3:30 o'clock Houston plays Galveston and Port Arthur mixes with Goose Creek. Two quarter-final games will be played in Port Arthur tomorrow night.

The finals will be played Saturday night. With last year's Four-Square Gassers of Austin eliminated in district play, a new champion will be crowned here during the two-day tourney.

Lubbock Golfers Invited To Play In Dalhart Tournament

Lubbock golfers have been extended an invitation to participate in the annual Country Club Invitation golf tournament at Dalhart Sunday and Monday. Invitations were extended by the tournament committee.

In charge of the contests are: Ralph Waite, tournament chairman, J. T. Mann, Dr. E. U. Johnson, Ed Bishop and Joe Storey. Qualifying scores must be turned in to Waite by 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, it was pointed out.

In addition to usual tournament features, a dance Saturday night has been planned. All persons holding entry tickets will be guests at the dance.

TO HOLD SKEET

Lubbock Skeet and Gun club will conduct a shoot at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, said J. E. Mann, proprietor.

British Girls To Seek Cup

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Seeking their first victory in seven years, the English women's Wightman cup tennis team will take the court at Forest Hills tomorrow afternoon with a lineup that is 50 per cent veteran and 50 per cent recruit.

The six English girls: Kay Stammers, Ruth Mary Hardwick and Margot Lumb, in singles; Freda James, Miss Stammers' doubles partner, and Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram, the No. 2 doubles pair —are hopeful of ending not only the series of U. S. Triumphs in this particular rivalry, but also the 1936 series of American cup captures.

Ranged against the six invaders will be an all-veteran array of four Americans. Heading the defending contingent will be National Champion Alice Marble, with Helen Hull Jacobs, Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan and Mrs. Marporie Gladman Van Ryn as her partners.

The two-way program of five singles and two doubles matches will open tomorrow with two singles and one doubles.

In the fourteen previous series, of which the U. S. Girls have won ten, nine have been decided by scores of 4 matches to 3.

While the invaders, whose team does not include two of Britain's best players, Dorothy Round and Mrs. Phyllis Mudford King, arrived here with an advance rating of underdogs, their showing during practice at Forest Hills has improved their standing considerably.

Pat Murphy Named Big Spring Coach

BIG SPRING, Aug. 19. (AP)—E. E. (Pat) Murphy, assistant coach at Abilene High school, was given a year's contract tonight to direct the football destinies at Big Spring high.

Murphy's contract takes effect Monday, when he will arrive to start fall training. He has 12 years experience, seven in the Oil Belt interscholastic league and helped coach Abilene teams to state championships in 1928 and 1931.

Hero Of Last Year's All-Star Game Assured Of Place Again

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—Big Bob Reynolds, hero of last year's game, was assured a place today in the lineup of the college all stars when they tackle the Chicago Bears here the night of Sept. 6.

Although Reynold's amateur status was clear, his participation in last fall's contest cast a shadow over his eligibility.

James Stewart, director of the game, conferred in Chicago yesterday with George Halas, Bear coach, and relayed the word that Halas had consented to allow Reynolds to play.

The former Stanford tackle blocked a try for touchdown to give the Collegians a 7-6 victory in the Cotton bowl in the 1936 contest.

TEXAS PLAYER DEFEATED

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. (AP)—Alexander Antonio of Linden, N. J., defeated Roy Ribelin of Dallas, Tex., 4 and 3, today in the quarter-finals of the national lefthanded golfers championship at Olympic Fields. Antonio was three up after the first 18 holes but the Texan rallied to square the match at the 27th. His game fell apart then, however, and the New Jersey shotmaker ended the match with a birdie on the 33rd.

Mrs. Dean And Mrs. McAfee In Finals

Gathering momentum at expense of Miss Ruth Bell, who had played only two weeks, but who had surprisingly shot her way into the upper bracket of the championship flight and, in first round play, had beat Mrs. J. R. Farmer, 2 and 1, Mrs. C. L. Dean, leading woman "linksman" hereabouts, went into the finals of Meadowbrook Golf club's annual women's tournament Thursday.

She drove and pitched her way to a 9 and 8 victory.

Into the finals, which will be played today, also marched Mrs. Guy McAfee, whose competitive golf so far as tournament play with Mrs. Dean is concerned is limited to a match in the same bracket last year, when she lost 2 and 1 to this year's medalist.

Mrs. McAfee shot out Mrs. Charles Akey, 1 up 19 holes.

A one-up margin also separated Mrs. Cliff Widener's win over Mrs. V. Smith, in finals of the first flight. Mrs. Widener had won 1-up over Mrs. Bob Crawford, 5 and 4 winner over Mrs. C. L. Dean in the first round.

In championship consolations, Mrs. W. F. Helwig also won by he narrow margin of 1 up 19 holes over Mrs. Farmer, and Miss Nancy Leaverton won over Miss Mildred Boone, 4 and 3.

In first flight consolations, Mrs. C. E. Dean lost 1 up to Mrs. Crawford.

Meet Tonight To Discuss Final Plans For Football Camp Of Westerner Squad

Prospective members of the 1937 Westerner football squad of Lubbock High school are requested to meet tonight at 7:30 at the senior high gymnasium by Coach Weldon Chapman.

Plans for departure of the squad to a training camp will be discussed and the issuance of equipment will follow.

The training camp, scheduled to begin Aug. 23, is to be held at Kerrville instead of at Raton, N. M., as originally planned, Coach Chapman said last night. The change was made due to inadequacy of facilities for the team at Raton, he said.

The team will depart from Lubbock early on the morning of Aug. 23 and return to Lubbock on Sept. 2.

Coach Chapman plans to take approximately 35 boys to the camp which will be conducted at the Westminster Presbyterian encampment near the Kerr county town. Schreiner institute's field will be used for practice sessions.

Little Revision Of Theodore Roosevelt's Famous Motto, "Speak Softly And Carry A Big Stick," Used By Chas. Gehringer

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—A little revision of Theodore Roosevelt's famous "speak softly and carry a big stick" motto explains why Charles Leonard Gehringer, the Detroit Tigers great second baseman, is up there battling for the American league batting leadership.

The "speak softly" part of it comes naturally to Gehringer, who not only speaks softly but speaks seldom. The "big stick" he changed to a "bigger" stick about a month ago with the result he has jammed into the clubbing struggle with the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio and Cecil Travis, Washington's sensational youngster.

Tries Bigger Stick

Although he had been getting his base knocks regularly enough to be up among them most of the season, Gehringer, king of the American league's second basemen and with plenty of supporters who think he is the best in either major league, decided to try a bigger stick. He shifted from a 34-ounce weapon to one scaling 37 ounces, and his average started to mount.

Today, as he calmly prepared to go to work in a doubleheader against the Chicago White Sox, Gehringer topped the league's hitters with a .375 average, better by a point than the .374's of DiMaggio and Travis.

"Yes, I'm going pretty well," he admitted, "but let's not talk about it. Seems like everytime I say anything about hits I quit getting them. That's the way it's been in the past, and it would feel good to keep right on going."

A "parsec," astronomical term, is equal to 3.25 "light years," or about 20,000,000,000,000 miles.

Tommy Farr's Sparring Mate Gets Too Rough With Him

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 19. (AP)—Tommy Farr's workout for his Aug. 26 titular bout with Joe Louis at the Yankee stadium was abruptly terminated after two and a half rounds of boxing today when a left hook, delivered by Sparmate Joe Wagner, ripped an inch-long gash under the British empire champion's right eye.

Though the cut was not considered serious, and Farr wanted to continue, his handlers decided to stop boxing for the day rather than invite serious consequences.

LOUIS SPEEDS UP WORK

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 19 (AP)—Joe Louis speeded up his ring work today in preparation for his heavyweight title bout with Tommy Farr at the Yankee stadium Thursday night.

The champion punished two sparmates, dropping Pal Silvers with a short right, and then boxed two strenuous rounds with the third, George Nicholson.

Italian Battered Unmercifully But Stays With J. H. Lewis

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19. (AP)—John Henry Lewis, king of the light heavies, battered Italo Colonello of Italy, with a hatchet ring for 12 rounds, but had to be content with a decision in an overweight bout at Forbes field tonight.

Lewis weighed 181 1-2 pounds and Colonello 200.

The Italian suffered a terrific beating during the fight but received an ovation from the crowd of more than 7,000 as he left, because of his gameness.

Budge Ends Net Slump To Beat Princeton Prof

(By The Associated Press)

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—The severe slump that has ruined Don Budge's mighty tennis game appeared to be waning today when he led his three closest American rivals, Frank Parker, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant and Bobby Riggs, into the semi-final round of the Newport Casino tournament.

Budge, who showed a let-down earlier this week when resuming singles play after his brilliant Davis cup and European campaigns, appeared to be three quarters out of it when he engaged steady John McDiarmid, the Princeton University instructor, in the quarter finals.

McDiarmid Plays Superbly

He managed to pull out a 10-8, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3 victory over McDiarmid, who played one of the greatest matches of his career.

That hard drill probably prepared Budge for tomorrow's second-last rounder against Grant, the Atlanta mite who also saw Davis cup service. Grant eliminated the last of the two Japanese quarter-finalists, Jiro Lamagishi, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. Several hours before, Parker defeated Fumituru Nakano 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, 8-6.

That international victory sent Parker, who shared the challenge round singles assignments with Budge, into the same bracket with the sensational Riggs, 19-year-old California star now attempting to repeat his 1936 Casino victory.

Riggs Defeats Mako

Riggs defeated Gene Mako, the Davis cup doubles player, 8-6, 6-3, 6-2, in an all-Los Angeles match.

Budge and Mako were the only pair to reach the semi-final round, defeating Norman Bickel and Norbert Burgess of Chicago, 6-2, 6-2.

In the three other doubles matches, McDiarmid and Art Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., defeated the French team of Jacques Brugnon and Yvon Petra 6-3, 6-4; Nakano and his Japanese countryman, Hideo Nishimura, eliminated J. Gil Hall, Orange, N. J., and Robert Kamrath, Austin, Tex., 6-4, 6-8, 6-4, and the unseeded combination of Al Jarvis, Tenafly, N. J., and Gardner Mulloy, Miami, overcame the second seeded team of John Van Ryn, Austin, Tex., and Joe Hunt, Los Angeles, 6-4, 3-6, 10-8.

Belgian Facing Deportation

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Aug. 19.—Bernard Larsen, 28-year-old Belgian who enlisted three times in the United States army, faced a deportation hearing today.

Larsen was jailed yesterday in lieu of $500 bond set after immigration officials said the soldier had used the name of a brother, an American citizen, in enlisting in the army.

Larsen said he came to America from England as a sailor in 1929 and six days later enlisted in the U. S. army. In 1932 he re-enlisted and was sent to Fort Crockett, Texas. In May of this year he was honorably discharged and immediately re-enlisted.

Worried Over New Law

The soldier, who was serving with the 90th attack squadron at Galveston, said he began worrying over a new immigration law after he saw a fellow soldier "kicked out" of the army after 25 years of service. The law requires that soldiers be American citizen.

Larsen said he told his troubles to an officer and was given a third honorable discharge.

"I want to get my citizenship papers," he told the immigration officials. "I want to get this thing straightened out so I can join the army again."

Larsen said an older brother, William, was born in this country while his parents were on a visit. He had used this brother's name.

Miss Doris Leggitt Appointed To Dallas County Agent's Post

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP)—Miss Doris Leggitt, formerly of Wilbarger county, has been appointed Dallas county home demonstration agent, it was announced here today by Miss Jennie Camp, district home demonstration agent. Miss Leggitt, who has been assistant county home demonstration agent several months, is to succeed Mrs. E. W. Strain, formerly Miss Ruth Clark.

In 1846 the Whig candidates in Johnston county (N. C.) demanded that war with Mexico be terminated and that peace be arranged.

West Texas Teachers To Graduate 174 In Exercises Monday

CANYON, Aug. 19. (Special) — One hundred and seventy-four men and women will receive degrees from the West Texas State Teachers college at the summer commencement to be held Monday, August 23.

This is the largest class in the history of the institution. One hundred and three students were graduated at the Spring Commencement bringing the total of 1937 to two hundred and seventy-seven.

Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Lubbock, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon, and Hon. Ed Gossett, prominent lawyer of Wichita Falls, will be the commencement speaker.

The summer class is composed of sixty men and one hundred and fourteen women ranging in age from twenty to sixty-four years, and in teaching experience from no experience to twenty-four years.

Already Have Positions

One hundred and forty-six members of the class already have teaching positions for the 1937-38 year. Two will do graduate work; three have secretarial positions; one is a Home Demonstration Agent; one is in business, and eight are married women not interested in teaching.

Thirteen members of the class from other than Texas; Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, and California being their home towns.

Mrs. Winnie McLaren of Lubbock is in the class.

Hollywood Lure Is Too Strong For Kids; Search Is Started

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 19. (AP)—Two missing girls from out of state were hunted here today on the theory movie glamor had attracted them to Hollywood.

Police were asked to look for Miss Naomi Caldwell, 17, of Royalty, Texas, by her mother, Mrs. Ruth Caldwell.

From Hyde Park, Mass., a peace officer, W. J. Hodgkinson, wrote that his 13-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, had left a note saying she "was going to hitch hike across the continent."

Meanwhile, two boyish runaways, who came here expressly to see Gene Autrey, film cowboy, had their wish satisfied when Autrey visited them at Juvenile hall. The boys, Robert Ray, 19, of Shreveport, La., and Marvin Alvey, 15, of Abilene, Tex., will be sent home by the Travelers' Aid society.

Just Another Item Of Waste

APPROACH of Monday's state constitutional amendment election draws attention to another instance of minor waste which combines with hundreds of others to add enormously and unnecessarily to the cost of government.

Reference is made to the state law which requires that the number of ballots distributed for any election shall be not fewer than one and one-half times as many as the qualified vote in each precinct. Thus, in Lubbock county, 7,500 to 8,000 ballots printed at the taxpayers expense will be distributed, although the most optimistic estimates of the total poll in the county do not run much over 1,000. It may be substantially less than that figure, and Lubbock county can be accepted as more or less typical of the state.

Consequence is that in this particular election, close to a million ballots have been printed which will not be used, which are utterly valualess. They were printed with the knowledge that nearly all would go to waste, yet there was nothing officials could do about printing them except to proceed in the manner prescribed by law.

The same thing is true to lesser degree of every election, including even those which arouse the public to high pitch of excitement. It is an extreme rarity when even one precinct out of the thousands in Texas reports its maximum possible vote. For the state as a whole, the margin between actual and possible vote invariably is several hundred thousand.

Of course, no one would want to cause any shortage of needed ballots, and there should be one ballot for every voter with a proper allowance for spoilage. But it seems that a 10 per cent margin for error would be entirely sufficient. It appears also that it would be no more than good business to empower some responsible agency to take cognizance of requirements when printing orders are placed.

Repeating that the resultant saving would be insignificant in comparison with the total cost of government, yet it undoubtedly would represent a sum which, to any individual or business, would look like real money. And it might be a step toward the shaving of other "trivial" expenses to provide an aggregate savings of genuine value to the taxpayer.

Crop Prospects Are Great

CROP prospects over the South Plains, as a whole, are more encouraging at this season of the year than for several years, if not in a decade.

Cotton acreage is large and the boys who like to guess how much the several counties produce are busy with pencils and reams of papers, figuring out that problem. Only two or three of the cotton men seem willing to put their names to an estimate, like Volney Jennings and Harry Blocker. Most of the rest take theirs out in other ways.

Both men are conservative in estimates. Seldom do they miss their guesses either way and there is a saying down "cotton row" that one can pretty well tie to their figures. Also, the boys back east who sell their supposed information on crop yields to the mills and the "trade" rely on these two men mainly for information.

Grain sorghums look good. Showers of the past few days will bring out the heads and if there is the usual September rainfall, the farmers with feed crops will "go to town."

There'll probably be more livestock fed out this year than at any time in the history of the Plains. Both sheep and cattle will be fed out in large numbers.

All in all, it looks like the South Plains is really "going somewhere." There may be a few slip-ups between now and the middle of October, but even at that, we will be able to know we have been places.

Commissioner John Collier finds there are more Indians than there were. It leaves practically our only Vanishing Americans in Maine and Vermont.

The One-Minute Sermon

And let these my words, wherewith I have made supplication before the Lord, be nigh unto the Lord our God day and night, that he maintain the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Israel at all times, as the matter shall require:

That all the people of the earth may know that the Lord is God, and that there is none else.

Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.—I. Kings, IX, 59 through 60.

Believe It Or Not---By Robert Ripley

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

GUFFA BOATS OF THE TIGRUS

One of the most interesting and intriguing things I have seen on my many visits to Baghdad are the flat- bottomed guffa boats which have plied up and down the Tigris River for thousands of years, transporting both cargo and passengers. Unlike any other boats in the world, they are perfectly round, thus having neither stem nor stern.

The shallow waters of the Tigris necessitated boats of this type thousands of years ago, and they have lasted through the ages, because boat builders could not improve upon their style and construction. Being made of reeds tightly woven together, covered by a thin surface of pitch, the boats are very light in weight and are capable of being loadded full without drawing more than six or eight inches of water.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

BY ESTHER TYLER

SYNOPSIS: Attractive Jude Blinshop is mysteriously shot to death on a wild, stormy night at Farrington Bluff, home of Michael's aunts. Everyone marooned on this island is a suspect; Mike, who talked with Jude alone that night; the Skipper, his tall tweedy younger aunt; Aunt Martha, stout and prudish; Gay Palmer, Mike's red-headed sweetheart; Higgins, the elderly butler; William, the chauffeur; Cook; Annie the maid—even I who am picked to lead our group investigation. As we search the house, finding Aunt Martha's room in bloody chaos, the Skipper faints.

Chapter 18

Could William—?

I think I helped William carry the Skipper into Gay's room, but I'm not sure. I distinctly remember pouring out a liberal dose of mouth wash, and being prevented by main force from administering it to her.

It went on for eternities. When it was finally stilled, the Skipper was sitting up. M. Farrington lay sobbing in a big chair, supported by both Michael and Higgins. William stood at the door, his arm around Annie and a stern eye upon Cook who was seated ignomiously upon the floor at his feet, her eyes staring into space. I stood by the bed, holding up Gay who seemed on the point of falling. No one spoke for a long time. Then William in a hushed voice:

"I think, sir, that this just about does up our searching party."

I said in a voice intended to be steady. "We are all absolutely safe here as long as we stay together. We have a revolver. That bathroom door can be bolted. The windows are out of reach from the ground and there is absolutely no danger. William and I are going to leave you here for a few moments while we look around. You can lock the door the minute we go. And don't unlock it until we tell you to!"

"No!" cried Annie. "Oh, please—"

But William turned to the door. "Let's go!" he said.

Michael never could take orders. "Look here,' he exploded. "I'm not staying here while you do the dirty work. What do you think I am? I brought you here, and I'll take the risks. You and William stay where you belodg."

M. Farrington's voice rose in horror. "James—don't think of allowing it. He's weak! He has fever! He—"

"He's staying right here," I said bluntly.

"The hell I am! I'm—"

"Shut up!" I snapped. "Any more out of you and I'll push your face in. Someone has to stay with the women. They're your responsibility. See to it, for once."

I didn't give him time to answer. I strode out the door with William at my heels. We could hear a click on the other side as someone shot the bolt home.

One room remained to be searched on the west end of the hall—Jude Blinshop's. Before that door I hesitated. It was quiet. All the mad excitement oozed out of me. The one reality of the whole wild, gruesome nightmare—Jude was dead. I would have given something just to lean against that door and blubber like a two-year-old.

William spoke softly in my ear. "I'll go in, sir, if you'd rather not."

"Thanks," I mumbled. "I'd rather watch the hall."

I'm afraid I didn't notice for several minutes whether or not the room was occupied. A low lamp burned beside the bed. The figure under the sheet was very still. William's cough in the hall finally roused me. I didn't move the sheet. The memory of that disfigured face was too strong. It took a definite effort to stir myself to the point of crossing to the closet and making sure it was empty. Looking under the furniture was a little worse. I closed Jude's door behind me very softly.

We Lock The Rooms

That finishes this end of the hall, William."

"Yes, sir. It might be a lot easier if we could lock up these rooms that we're sure of. Shut the—the—him out!"

I liked the idea. On the inside of the three doors, we found keys, and we locked them all. I pocketed the keys.

The Farrington hall is perfectly straight and rather wide. On the north side, just beyond the head of the stairs, was my room, and, next to it, Michael's. Opposite them a swinging door opened into the narrow corridor of the servants' quarters. My room was just as I had left it. Standing in the hall, I sent William through into Michael's.

"All right here, sir," he said from the door. A swift glance over his shoulder varified the statement.

We were not confronted with a serious problem. In order to search the servants' quarters properly without risking the approach of someone from downstairs, we had to cover two staircases and two corridors, the smaller one running at direct right angles to the main one. There seemed nothing for it but to station one person at the junction of the two halls and let the other search. It left a very definite risk for the sentry, should his eye be even momentarily distracted from either staircase. It also involved a complete mutual trust on the part of the searches. William, I knew, had his suspicions of me, and suddenly I began to distrust him.

"I'll match you for position," I said.

"I'd rather keep watch, if you don't mind, sir."

Immediately I jumped to a rash conclusion. "No," I decided. "You know the ground better. You hunt and I'll watch here."

I think some inkling of my idea dawned upon him, for he eyed me queerly. "If you say so, sir, I'd rather look myself, if I was you."

I shook my head vigorously.

His only comment was, "Well—Higgins' room," and he opened the door on the right.

The sensation of waiting before was nothing to these new ones. I tried to keep my eye on the hall with its grim staircase—on the dim narrow corridor at my elbow with its three closed doors and dark flight of stairs— on the faint splotch of light that was the open doorway of Higgins' room. I could see one end of a small iron bed and beyond it a small clothes press. I could hear footprints. Once I thought, I heard something else from the direction of the back stairs, but either I was mistaken or it was not repeated.

"All in order, sir."

"Try the next one."

He vanished across the hall. Slowly an idea was beginning to dawn on me. William! William could have brained Annie, dashed upstairs and smeared soap on his face, shaved off half of it, heard Cook stirring, dashed down the stairs, and—

"Nothing here."

"Whose room is it?"

"Annie's."

"All right, Go ahead."

He walked in the next room on the left. "This is Cook's," he said, disappearing into it.

Inching Down The Corridor

Could it be that I was on a wild goose chase, searching the house with the murderer for the murderer? William could have smashed Christopher before he brained Cook. The animal might have been stunned and unable to crawl down to us at first. William had been upstairs. He would have had ample time to—

"O.K." His voice coming at me suddenly out of the darkness reminded me that I had almost relaxed my vigil. William's own room remained. It was at the end of the corridor and on the opposite side from where I stood. I thought I should be able to see quite clearly when the door was opened.

"Good," I said, striving to make my voice sound natural "Go ahead."

If anything was on his conscience as he opened the door, he didn't show it. He pushed it open confidently and switched on a light. As much as I could see of it, his room was the exact replica of Higgins'. Same bed and tiny closet. Small stand by the bed. I could see no further. If William was the murderer, he might be up to almost anything beyond my range of sight.

There was, I admit, no sense in my action. I gave one hasty look up and down the main hall and threw caution to the winds. Very quietly I let the swinging door between the passages go. Then slowly, inch by inch, I edged myself down the corridor in the direction of the beam of light coming from his room. I kept my back well against the wall in which his door stood. Almost it seemed that the man would hear my breathing. Just outside the beam of light, I halted. I could see most of the room, but no William.

A disconcerting thought struck me. After all, should my bright idea be entirely wrong and William find me not only deserting my post but also sneaking down a dark corridor toward a spot to which I myself had sent him, my position might need a lot of explaining.

He certainly didn't consider me above suspicion in the first place. He had heard me order the others to keep their door locked until I told them to open it. He had watched me lock every door upstairs and pocket the keys. His case would be rather better than mine, if he ever had reason to present one. Nevertheless I drew a deep breath and stepped into the beam of light.

Crouching in the doorway stood William, his face a mask of rage and hate. He held a golf club in his hand, and as I sprang at him roaring, "You dirty devil!" darkness descended over me like a tent.

I find myself bound and gagged when I come to, tomorrow.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ira Bennett

HEADS of departments and special agencies have obeyed the President by putting in "reserve" ten per cent of the appropriations allotted to them, but conditions make it impossible to save all that money. It amounts to $400,000,000 or more.

Already the hint goes out that the "reserve" will be drawn upon to meet routine requirements, but only with the approval of the budget director. Since the law requires operations and Congress has furnished the money for them, the operations will go on.

But aside from this, it is contrary to federal nature to turn unused money back to the Treasury. Officials fear loss of their jobs unless they can prove that the jobs are necessary. This can be done only by energetic action and expansion—and so saving goes out the window.

Here and there a show of economy will be made, totalling a few millions, but new spending vastly offsets this tiny trimming.

SWELLING: Occasionally a voice on the majority side remonstrates against increasing the debt deficit, but Congress as a whole seems to have abandoned hope of holding down appropriations. Items like the $525,000,000 housing program help to boost this year's totals to more than $9,000,000,000.

The Treasury deficit increased $100,000,000 in the first 40 days of the new fiscal year—from July 1 to August 9.

Proposed increased appropriations and authorizations during the remaining days of the session relate mostly to crop loans. Despite disagreement as to details, members of both parties favor protection of farmers against disastrous price slumps, regardless of the drain upon the Treasury.

One of the objections raised against the wages-and-hours bill is that it will set up another expensive bureaucracy. If passed during this session, an item may be included in the mopping-up deficiency bill to provide for first year's operation of the Labor Standards board and its staff.

OPERATIONS: Members of Congress committees have a sort of "committee loyalty" that gives them driving force, even when they represent majority and minority parties. Both houses are inclined to follow leadership of their committees. Chairmen of committees acquire special influence on the floor.

When committees clash, the sparks fly. In the House the Rules committee serves as a great flywheel, or governor, to prevent committee collisions. When the Rules committee is stymied the legislative machine stalls. That's what happened when a majority of the Rules members voted down a move to report out the wages-and-hours bill.

The opposition represented two forces—one that stood against the bill, and another that blocked the legislation in order to force consideration of a farm bill. But Chairman Jones of the Agriculture committee told members that a farm bill can't be ready before next session. So the blockers of the wages-and-hours bill lost strength.

BLOCKING: At the critical stage it was apparent that the blockaders would succeed in shelving the wages-and-hours bill until next session. Administration pressure was immediately applied. It was exerted in various forms not visible to the naked eye. But Charlie West, White House lobbyist, was distinctly visible as he flitted in and out of important offices. But to no avail.

Members privately agreed that the nomination of Senator Black intensified opposition efforts to block the wages-and-hours bill. All that had been said about packing the Supreme court with men who place New Deal laws above the Constitution was said over again. Southern members fearful of federal regulation of labor conditions in that section were most active in helping to tie up the regulatory measure.

VETERANS: One of the biggest items of expenditure is that providing for Army and Navy preparedness. The total for the two services will run above $1,000,000,000 for this session. Counting authorizations and contingent obligations the total will be nearer $1,500,000,000.

Eloquent speeches are made by a small majority in each house against these expenditures, but the overwhelming majority favor them, without regard to partisanship. A sense of possible early need of both Army and Navy pervades Congress. Quite a number of World war veterans are in Congress, and almost without exception they are strong for adequate national defense.

President Roosevelt himself is a World War veteran, if service in naval preparation and operation during war makes one a veteran. His support of bills to strengthen the Army and Navy has been unfailing. The Navy, particularly, feels the stimulus of his interest and sympathy.

Naval officers are not in a position to become familiar with politico-economic questions, and even if they were, they are barred from politics; but to a man they applaud F.D.R. for his support of the Navy.

PROTESTS: Latin-American envoys buzzed like angry bees over the remarkable offer of Secretary Hull to lease American torpedoboats to Brazil. His willingness to treat any other good neighbor the same way didn't appease the diplomats. Some of them think they see deep and dark discriminations in the good neighbor policy.

The Senate has recently ratified Pan-American treaties which call for cooperation in peace moves, nonintervention, consultation in case of outside aggression, and so on. Some of the Latin-Americans, notably the Argentine spokesmen, regard the torpedoboat move as a contradiction of these treaties. They also suggest that the building up of Brazil's naval force, slight as it may be, is likely to stir neighboring countries to strengthen their forces. They ask how far the United States intends to go in promoting the armament of Latin-America.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee wonder what is behind Secretary Hull's move. More may be heard of it despite the "postponement" brought about by the Argentinian protest.

Houston Youth Released After Aiding Officers Trap Gunman

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 19. (AP)—After helping officers set the trap that resulted in he suicide-death of Lawrence Rea, Texas outlaw, Rudolph Smedley, 26-year-old son of a prominent Houston family, was at liberty today, Constable S. M. Meeks said here.

Smedley was arrested in Houston in connection with the holdup here of the San Antonio Public Service company wherein three bandits obtained $1,700 at the point of guns.

Rea, accused of leading in this holdup, killed himself Monday when cornered in a Houston hideout.

Constable Meeks said it was Smedley who went with officers to Houston and helped trap Rea through a series of telephone calls. A man identified as Rea had fled from Austin after a farmer was killed Sunday.

Gov. E. W. Marland's Latest Oil Venture In Texas Is Dry Hole

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 19. (AP)—Governor E. W. Marland, once the captain of a mighty oil empire, has struck a dry hole in one of his latest ventures to recoup his lost millions, an associate said today.

Howard B. Drake, the governor's campaign manager and an associate in the oil business, said the Marland-Drake Oil company had abandoned a test in King county, Texas, after drilling to 4,350 feet.

Drake said signs of an oil structure had been found in another test near Stamford, Tex., which is shut down at 2,284 feet.

Yet another test will be spudded in Pecos county, Texas, within three weeks, Drake said.

TARZAN'S QUEST No. 35

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The witch-doctor crept closer and slashed Tarzan's bonds. "Now you may go home, Kavuru." "You are a wise man," said the Jungle Lord. Gupingu grunted approval as Tarzan continued artfully: "One of your wisdom probably knows where the Kavuru live.

"I know," the witch-doctor declared proudly, anxious to exhibit his knowledge; "you Kavuru live to the north, beyond a barren country, by a high mountain that stands alone in the center of a plain. To reach it, one follows an old elephant trail.'

Tarzan was inwardly pleased. He had gained the information he desired—the location of the Grand Kavuru tribe. Now he was ready to brave the unknown perils of that mysterious land—if he could pass safely through he village of his captors.

"Where are the weapons which the warriors took from me when I was captured?" he demanded. "In the hut of Udalo, the chief," Gupingu answered: "but on cannot get them. Udalo's fiercest guard sleeps just inside the doorway." "I will try!" Tarzan said grimly.

WAR CLOUDS DARKEN MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—Darker war clouds over the Far East and a break in domestic commodities helped to weaken the underpinning of today's stock market.

With steels and motors under pressure from the start, leading issues finished the day with losses of 1 to 3 points generally.

The decline was accomplished on light volume, and "thinness" of the market was evidenced by the fact some issues gave up a point or more between sales.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .9 of a point at 68.3. Transfers totaled 762,540 compared with 701,990 yesterday.

Contributing to the wavering sentiment among traders, brokers said, was the expectation that congress, while adjourning this week or early next, will be called together again in November for the purpose of passing measures, many not to the liking of Wall Street, which have been shelved in the present session.

Possible war losses for some oil companies operating in the Orient tended to depress this group. In addition record crude production at home was thought to have inspired a more careful attitude toward these shares.

aJpanese loans were again knocked down sharply in the bond department but rallied moderately before the finish. Domestic bonds were uneven. The principal foreign currencies were narrow.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19. (AP)—Cotton prices dropped below 10 cents a pound today for the first time in four years.

The precipitous decline started after issuance Aug. 8 of the official government estimate of a 15,593,000 bale crop this year, which exceeded expectations by a half million bales.

The decline was particularly sharp on the market here yesterday and today, new season's lows being set each day. The crop during the two days was $2.20 a bale on active months.

On the estimated crop, that decline will cost the cotton farmer more than $32,000,000 unless the government steps in with a 9 or 10 cents a pound loan and a 2 or 3 cents a pound subsidy.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 19. (AP)—Cotton eased below 10 cents today under heavier selling from domestic and foreign sources as the trade discounted the possibility of a loan of 9 cents on cotton.

December declined from 10.07 to 9.91 and closed at the low, with final prices 15 to 23 points net lower.

The market opened 6 to 9 points lower in sympathy with declines at Liverpool and under foreign selling. Selling became more general as sotp orders were uncovered and hedging also increased in the late trading. Prices showed little rallying power, with demand representing trade buying and covering limited to a scale down.

Southern correspondents of a commission house estimated that crop prospects had declined 600,000 bales to 14,000,000 bales from August 1 to 16. There had been a little foreign covering when prices first went below 10 cents, but orders from abroad predominated on the selling side. October, December and January went into the nine-cent column.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 9.94 cents a pound; average for the past thirty days 11.03 cents a pound.

Educational Board

education has a right to set the apportionment before the state automatic tax fixes the ad valorem tax rate for school purposes. After the education board had decided on $22 for the apportionment, the tax board lowered the tax rate from the current 20 cents on the $100 valuation to seven cents.

The comptroller's department has estimated the seven-cent rate would sustain an apportionment of about $20 which would be $1 more than that for this year.

Sino-Japanese War

States authorities as Mrs. Margaret Florence Evers, formerly of San Francisoc, Cal, awaiting trial on charges of transporting narcotics.

Chinese said their advance had thrust a dangerous breach into the Japanese lines, held for more than a week by marines along the northern fringe of the eastern—Japanese-held—district of the International settlement.

Neutral experts agreed that should the Chinese reach the river—Shanghai's highway to the sea and the avenue by which reinforcements and munitions must reach the Japanese—the position of the latter would become extremely precarious.

Estimate 100,000 In Action

Chinese forces actually in action around Shanghai were estimated at more than 100,000 men. The Japanese engaged in the land battle were believed to be outnumbered by more than four to one.

The Chinse drive came from the direction of Kiangwan, in the northeast, and an etreme advance of four miles at one point was claimed.

The eastern district battle was the climax to a seventh day of Shanghai conflict, which saw troops newly come from Japan rushed from transports into action.

On Greatly Extended Front

Japanese dispositions indicated the battle for Shanghai shortly would be fought on a greatly extended front, with their own forces swelled to many times the 7,000 marines who began the fight a week ago.

Seven troopships disgorged men and munitions at Japanese wharves on the north bank of the Whangpoo today. Sixteen more were reported standing off the mouth of the Whangpoo, ready to try a landing at Liuho, 17 miles northwest of here, under cover of darkness and the guns of the battle fleet.

There were authoritative indications the Japanese high command would try to put expeditions ashore at other points along the coast to flank the Chinese out of their defense of Shanghai.

Fifty Japanese warships, including four battleships and at least one aircraft carrier, lay between Shanghai and the sea prepared to cover the army's landing or carry war on the navy's own account.

With a spreading war all about it, Shanghai became a place of growing peril to its American and other foreign residents. The evacuation of foreign women and children continued as rapidly as shipping was available, with 1,400 British women and children running the war gauntlet down the Yangtze to the liner Empress of Asia.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 19. (AP)—Wheat values collapsed 4 1-8 cents a bushel in Chicago today, and reached a new bottom price record for the season.

Greatly enlarged arrivals of domestic spring wheat northwest, more than triple the quantity a year ago, together with assertions that European importers are turning to Russia for supplies, did much to put the market under pressure. Many stop-loss orders to sell were forced into execution by the downward sweep of prices, which were adversely influenced also by suggestions that there is still a chance for a big wheat crop in Argentina.

September wheat led the downturn here, dropping to $1.06⅞, where it was off 23 cents from the season's high recorded a little more than a month ago.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 2⅞-3⅛ cents under yesterday's finish, Sept. $1.07-107¼, Dec. $1.09-109¼, May $1.11-1.11¼, corn 1⅛-1⅞ down, Sept. 98-98¼, Dec. 65⅞-66, May 66⅞-67, oats unchanged to ⅝ off, Dec. 29¼, and rye showing ½ to 1 cent setback, Dec. 77½. The provisions outcome was 12 to 30 cents tumble.

power to ban shipment of prison-made goods into a state in violation of its laws.

Prior to the Democratic house caucus on the wage-hour issue tonight, some representatives said the fate of a crop control pledge sought by President Roosevelt also might be bound up in that meeting.

They said there was talk that some advocates of wage and hour regulation might prevent the house from making the crop control promise unless action on labor standards, at least next session, were assured similarly.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee said leaders had asked him not to seek a house promise of general farm legislation next session until after the caucus.

Passes Tax Loopholes Bill

In its rush toward adjournment, the senate not only approved child labor legislation but as quickly passed the administration's bill to close tax law loopholes.

The measure, which some authorities said would save the government $100,000,000 a year, already had received house approval.

It is designed to check the use of personal holding companies, foreign corporations, multiple trusts and incorporation of personal talents to avoid income tax liability.

Glass Reminds Of Spending

Congress received a reminder of its spending proclivities from Senator Glass (D-Va.), a leading advocate of economy in government. He produced figures showing that appropriations this year will total approximately $9,389,488,893. He said that would be $1,290,089,000 more than last year, exclusive of the 1936 soldiers' bonus.

Nothing daunted, the senate appropriations committee boosted the session's last big appropriation bill to $150,000,000.

It added to the items which the house had placed in the measure $50,000,000 for benefit payments to sugar producers.

Approves Maritime Spending

The senate group also approved authority for the maritime commission to enter into $150,000,000 of of ship-building contracts, instead of the $75,000,000 worth the house favored. This was simply an authorization, however, and was not included in the total of cash appropriated.

As sent to the senate floor for action tomorrow, the appropriation bill included $20,000,000 for farm purchase loans to tenants and for purchase and retirement of "unit" farm land in the western dust bowl.

Other Developments Listed

Other capital developments included:

Senate and house conferees reached an agreement on sugar control legislation which President Roosevelt has threatened to veto on the grounds of discrimination against Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The agreement provides that existing limitations on refining in those islands shall be lifted March 1, 1940.

The house voted to insist on its amendments to the $526,000,000 housing bill and appointed a committee to work out a compromise with the senate.

Opens Way For Congressmen

The governor's choice of an election date opens the way for Alabama congressmen to seek the senate vacancy without resigning from the house. Five were considered likely candidates — Lister Hill of Montgomery, Frank W. Boykin, of Mobile, Henry B. Steagall of Ozark, Joe Starnes of Guntersville, and Sam Hobbs of Selma.

Alabamians explained the April 26 election would be only a formality, because nomination by the Democratic party in that state is tantamount to election.

Confers With McIntyre

The governor arrived here last night with Mrs. Graves to clear the way for her appointment. He conferred at length this morning with Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary to the president.

Senators said efforts were made today by some persons to dissuade him from naming his wife. It was generally understood, however, the appointee would be sworn in without any strenuous objection in the senate.

Black Receives Commission

Black resigned from the senate within a few hours after receiving from President Roosevelt his commission as a justice.

"In tendering my resignation as senator," he said in a letter to Graves, "I wish to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to the people of Alabama for the great honor they conferred upon me in selecting me as one of their representatives in the United States senate.

"I have endeavored to show that appreciation by giving to them and to the people of our country the best service of which I was capable. As an associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States I shall do my very best to merit a continuation of the confidence of the people. . . ."

County Range Program Group Is To Convene On Saturday

County range program committee is to meet Saturday in the county agent's office to sign forms and submit them to the state board, it was announced yesterday.

Nine ranchers, with 6,954 acres involved, are to comply with the program this year. Several others had expected to cooperate but they have not sent in their forms, it was explained.

The county forage acreage requirement has been announced as 6 acres.

Wichita county is $80,000 in the red."

Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Jefferson, Bexar, McClennan, Wichita, Collin and Panola were among the counties represented at the conference.

Not To Recommend Unit

Allred earlier had told another delegation that he would not recommend an appropriation for a new state office building until tax bills had been enacted.

He asserted at his press conference that the lawmakers could dispose of taxation and state regulation of public utilities at one special session but added that whether they would was a quite different matter.

Questioned about the possibility of soil conservation legislation at the fall session, the governor said he had not "heard any hue and cry on that subject."

Aged Cincinnati Woman Dies After Eating Hahn Cream

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19. (AP)—Mrs. Ollie Luella Koehler, 79, died late today in a hospital where she had been ill since. Acting Detective Chief Patrick Hayes said her sister informed him, she ate ice cream served to her by Mrs. Anna Hahn, 31. Mrs. Hahn is under indictment in what Prosecutor Dudley Miller Outcalt has termed "the biggest mass murder in this country."

Assistant Prosecutor Loyal Martin immediately asked Coroner Frank M. Coppock to conduct a post-morten examination.

Marriage Of Former Mexican Leader And Teacher Revealed

EL PASO, Aug. 19. (AP)—The marriage of General Nicholas Rodriguez, exiled leader of the Mexican "Gold Shirts," and Emelia Herron, El Paso school teacher, came to light here Wednesday.

They were secretly married in Medina county, Texas, a few weeks ago. The bride admitted the ceremony today, but refused to divulge where it took place in Medina county or other details.

Mrs. Rodriguez is the daughter of R. E. A. Herron, an El Paso pioneer here in the early days before rail heads had been pushed this far west.

NEW EMPLOYES HERE

corded at 6 o'clock that morning, was 67 degrees.

Maximum was two degrees lower at the Lubbock Municipal airport, the official reading there being 81 degrees. At 6:30 in the afternoon the mercury at the airport had dropped to 75.5 degrees.

Reports late last night to the Avalanche were:

Quiet Rain At Crosbyton

A quiet rain, estimated at 1 1-2 inches fell at Crosbyton bringing the three-day total to about 1 3-4 inches. A similar estimate was made of moisture at Wake near Crosbyton.

Amherst and Peacock received a half to three-quarters of an inch. Spur's precipitation was "just a sprinkle" in the afternoon for the first moisture there.

Rain still was falling at midnight at Post and had been for nearly three hours, it was reported. An estimated half-inch fell after showers Wednesday.

"Cinches" Crops At Lamesa

"Cinching crops in the immediate vicinity of Lamesa, a slow, steady five-hour rain, amounting to half an inch, was reported. An inch and a half Thursday morning was Brownfield's estimate. Rain fell from early morning until noon. At midnight skies had cleared.

On the heels of showers Tuesday night and Wednesday, an added half-inch fell yesterday morning at Seagraves. First rain this week at Levelland, estimated at a half-inch, also fell yesterday morning.

"A drizzle since 4:30 this afternoon amounting to possibly a quarter-inch" was the report from Sudan late last night. An eighth to a quarter had fallen at Littlefield. At 11 p. m. it still was raining. Olton's half-inch came Wednesday night with a sprinkle Thursday. Showers fell at Plainview and last night it "still was misting."

A quiet but heavy shower at Floydada was estimated at half an inch. It was Floyd's first precipitation. Ralls received a half to three-quarters. Roaring Springs and O'Donnell each reported half an inch.

A hail storm, stripping cotton west of Rotan, accompanied a half-inch rain there, according to Associated Press reports last night. Other precipitation in that section was: Abilene, 1.27 inches; Haskell, half-inch; Leuders, 2 inches; and showers at Snyder, Stamford, Trent, Anson, Roby, Ballinger, Winters, and Bronte.

Reports of rains in the San Angelo area were: spotted showers from Ballinger to Rankin with a heavy rain at Rankin. Precipitation was reported at Big Lake, Blackwell, Carlsbad, Texon, Sterling City, McCamey, and Robert Lee.

guard could have one.

"Has Got To Stop"

"This business of beating and kidnaping has got to stop," he said.

A few days ago the governor offered a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons implicated in the kidnaping, tarring and feathering of a Socialist organizer, Herbert Harris. This action and the institution of an investigation by undercover men of the safety department followed protests from the American Civil Liberties union as to violence in Dallas.

Had Issued Warning

At the time the governor warned that if local officials were unable to find guilty persons and to protect against future outbreaks of violence the state would step in.

In Dallas Sheriff R. A. (Smoot) Schmid and Chief of Police R. L. Jones promised full cooperation with the state officers.

Albert Sidney Johnson, chairman of the public safety commission, who lives in Dallas, confirmed that safety department operatives had been investigating the assaults on Baer and Harris and added that "some really valuable information" had been obtained.

Police were informed by Mrs. Baer that a man giving the name of "Jackson" telephoned her, warning her husband "to keep away from the boys in the picket line." Baer was reported to be still in a hospital where he was taken following a severe beating by a group of men August 9.

Trinity Survey Is Authorized

WASHINGTON, August 19 — Senator Sheppard (D-Tex) announced today he had been advised by army engineers the flood control survey of the Trinity river had been authorized.

Sheppard said he had received the following statement from Major General E. M. Markham, chief of engineers:

"I am happy to advise you that the flood control survey of the Trinity river has been authorized, will be undertaken without any avoidable delay, and will be prosecuted to the development comprehensively of all the facts and figures having a bearing upon the matter."

'Amarillo Night' Is Staged At Borden's School Of The Air

Thursday night was "Amarillo night" on Borden's Radio School of the Air from the stage of the Palace theater.

The group of entertainers, ranging from a six year old blues singer to a stuttering mimic, was brought from the Paramount theater in Amarillo by Joe Williams, recording artist.

Ten-year-old Ada Marie Davis tapped and sang "Ducky Wuck" to the music of Dick Dickerson and his orchestra. "Paramount Serenaders," played two accordians, a clarinet, and a guitar. Brothers at home and on the stage, John and Bob Malett played "Balboa." Young Tabby Sue Walker went into contortions in an acrobatic dance during the program.

Imitations Are Given

"Stuttering Sam," known as "the answer to a maiden's prayer," and who in civil life is Cecil Hunter, entertained with falsetto notes of a prima donna. Getting away from opera, Hunter who is a member of the staff of KGNC in Amarillo, did popular imitations of a steel guitar at work. "Sam" did his first stage work with Rufe Davis, star in "Mountain Music." Williams sang, "Because My Baby Says It's So."

"Little Buckeroo" was sung by Gibb and Floy Howard, brother and sister of the Potter county city. Bobby Baker, young clarinetist, "put the swing" in "Twelfth Street Rag." Soon to be given a screen test in Hollywood, six-year-old Estell Mae Murphy, one of the youngest blues singers in the southwest preceded the evening's finale with a rendition of "Saint Louis Blues."

All members of the program appeared in the finale of "I'll See You In My Dreams." The entire staff are members of the Amarillo theater's Kiddie Stage and Radio Stock company. They appear each Saturday morning over KGNC at 10:50.

The Dickerson orchestra played during the program and Bruce Collier, KFYO announcer, announced the program. Next week's show with feature "The Three Queens of Harmony," and other guest entertainers from Midland.

Resettlement Officials To Gather Sunday In College Station For Conference On Improving Service To Texas Farmers

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (Special) — Rural Rehabilitation workers of the Resettlement administration in Texas, numbering several hundred, will gather at College Station Sunday to begin a week's conference on methods of improving services which they are now rendering to more than 30,000 Texas farm families.

Organized into small committees, the workers will get together Sunday afternoon to study specific problems, and prepare reports which will be discussed later before the entire body. County supervisors throughout the state have already received a long list of questions for preliminary study.

To Discuss Living Standards

Standards of living which shall be set up for borrowers opens one broad field of discussion. In previous years, plans have not covered such items as essential clothing, household equipment and insurance. Clothing has been provided largely through non-repayable grants and distribution of "surplus commodities" from the relief administration. In other cases, loan funds set up for something else have been diverted to buy such necessities. Supervisors have been asked to suggest means by which these diversions, and need for grants and surplus commodities may be reduced to a minimum.

A subject that has to do with the temperament and traditional independence of the American farmer is opened with the question: "To what extent are supervisors responsible for seeing that feed, food and money crops are produced according to plans outlined?" It is noted that many families neglect their gardens until all field crops have been planted and cultivated. Workers are asked to outline methods of convincing the family of the importance of giving first consideration to the garden.

To Talk Lease Relationships

Landlord-tenant relationships, and the extent to which tenants financed by RA should be encouraged to make improvements on their property, is another subject of special interest. This will cover means of obtaining a lease for longer than one year, and when such a lease is made, assurance to the landlord that the tenant will be financed for the longer period.

The conference will be under general leadership of Paul V. Maris, acting for the regional director of RA; C. M. Evans, assistant regional director; and V. R. Smitham, state director of rural rehabilitation. This is the first time that the annual rural rehabilitation conference has been held at College Station, that location being chosen in order to facilitate cooperation with the A. and M. College agencies. Dr. T. O. Walton, president of the college, and members of his staff, will address the gathering at various times during the sessions, which will last through Friday.

The largest marble factory in the United States is able to turn out more than a million marbles a day.

C. M. Evans, assistant director of the Resettlement administration in Texas and Oklahoma, and V. R. Smitham, state director of rural rehabilitation, will lead discussion among several hundred rural rehabilitation workers who gather Sunday for week's conference at College Station.
