Democrats Plan Legislation To Close Loopholes For Big Corporation Taxes

EVEN FLOW OF REVENUE AIM OF NEW BILLS

Technical Phases of Program Remain to Be Worked Out

MILLS MAKES REPLY

Hoover Suggests Merger of Departments for Economy's Sake

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—A balanced tax plan to draw an even flow of revenue into the treasury from sources best able to bear the cost of government and a tariff act to stimulate foreign and domestic trade are the goal of congressional Democrats.

Although there are some differences of opinion among senate and house leaders as to the methods of increasing revenue to meet the prospective $2,000,000,000 treasury deficit, they are in accord on the general idea of making the wealthy carry the biggest load.

Details Unagreed

Speaker Garner said today that neither the Democratic organization nor the party's joint senate-house policy committee had agreed upon the technical phases of the tax program or the tariff proposal. Both are being studied with a view to presenting bills for action within the next two months.

The Texan did disclose that the Democrats expect to increase annual revenues by $200,000,000 without making additional levies. As he outlined it, the plan calls for amendments to existing laws to close the loopholes through which big corporations and individuals of large income evade tax payments.

Tariff Bills Coming

As to the tariff, Garner predicted the Democrats would offer a bill designed to revive commerce with foreign countries, but declined to

Lying Contest Called Off After Quarrels

BURLINGTON, Wis., Dec. 29. (UP)—There'll be no "biggest liar" contest in the police station here this New Year's day, simply because all the biggest liars have fallen out.

Chief of Police Frank Beller called off the contest when he noticed "hard feelings" were developing among the entrants, all of whom are more than 70 years old.

"The liars" met first for a "whopper" session in 1929. Their contest was local in extent, but nation-wide in effect. News stories of their best spellbinders were retold throughout the country.

Gandhi Asks Meaning Of Punitive Measures

BOMBAY, India, Dec. 29. (US)—Mahatma Gandhi today asked Viceroy Lord Willingdon whether his recent harsh measures to stamp out threat of rebellion in India were taken as a means of severing relations with the all-India national congress. He also asked for a personal interview with the viceroy.

Ordinances promulgated for the province of Bengal and the northeast frontier provinces provide penalties ranging from death to exile for treasonous crimes.

Missing Football Player Sought in New York

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29. (UP)—Search for Raymond T. Reeve, former Dartmouth football star, who dropped from sight almost two weeks ago, today turned to the East. George B. Rose and John A. Fleming, friends of Reeve, who head the search for him, said they were convinced he had gone to New York.

Scientists Use Sound-Waves to Destroy Germs in Milk

First Synthetic Vitamin Described Before American Association

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Sterilization of milk by super-sound waves and production in America of the world's first synthetic vitamin were announced to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

The laws of chance, which scientists call entrophy, were shown to be more nearly like the "chances" of every day life than formerly believed.

Milk can be sterilized by sound waves, said Dr. Newton Gaines and Dr. L. A. Chambers of Texas Christian university, as effectively as by pasteurization. The sound waves do not spoil the milk for human use.

Milk is fed upward through an inverted funnel. A hollow tube, aimed at the funnel just below its large end, vibrates at high speed like a tuning fork. It produces sound waves, which resemble a high pitched musical note, and are concentrated in the funnel, somewhat as though a college cheer leader were shouting into the large end of his megaphone. The concentrated sound waves kill 99 per cent of the bacteria in the milk, said Dr. Gaines.

Sound does the killing because it is a form of energy, but just how it kills the bacteria is not yet understood. The tube is vibrated by electrical energy. Dr. Gaines said his device will sterilize any fluid that contains bacteria, and can be operated continuously. Thus milk might be fed into the "sound sterilizer" as fast as it came from the dairy, then sent from there to bottles.

Scientists all over the world have been racing to synthesize vitamins, to produce them by test tubes from a handful of chemicals. Vitamins

Oklahoma Demos Put Up Murray For U. S. Presidential Nomination

State Convention Called for Feb. 20 After Opposition to Governor Wanes Under Plea For Harmony

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 29. (UP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray was presented formally today as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932.

The militant Sage of Tishomingo was given an indirect pledge of support in his boom for the presidency by the Oklahoma Democratic executive committee.

The action was unexpected. Shortly before the committee members met at noon, it was reported an alignment of 11 of the 19 members would vote against the governor's demand that the state Democratic convention be held as early in February as possible.

Convention Set

Pleas of party leaders for harmony to fight the real enemy—"the Republican party"—erased the opposition and Feb. 20, the latest date agreeable to the governor, was selected.

This action permits Murray's name to be entered on the New Hampshire presidential preferential ballot early in March with the action of his home state announced at the state convention. Had the anti-Murray forces delayed the convention, the governor felt he would be embarrassed.

It had been predicted freely in hotel room conferences that Murray's wishes would be ignored at the meeting. Opponents based much of their prediction on the rebuke given Murray when voters two weeks ago refused to pass his tax reform program at a special election.

Vote Unanimous

The vote on the early convention today, however, was unanimous without roll call. It followed an hour and one-half debate in the stuffy, cigar smoke-filled room of National Committeeman Scott Ferris in a downtown office building.

The meeting sparkled with "Murray for president" talk. All delegates professed support of the gov-

FEDERAL AID NEED RECITED

Three Welfare Leaders Give Views

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—Direct federal aid to the unemployed was approved in varying degrees before a senate committee today by three welfare leaders who have cooperated with President Hoover to handle the situation through local charity.

All three agreed there is a desperate shortage of funds to meet the unprecedented relief demands of the jobless. Their views were given in testimony before the senate manufacturers sub-committee, considering appropriation of federal funds.

An outright recommendation for federal appropriations came from Linton B. Swift, executive secretary of the Family Welfare Association of America, who said some states could not meet their relief burdens.

Allen T. Burns, executive director of the association of community chests and councils, who has been working in close cooperation with President Hoover and his relief advisers, testified that aid for the unemployed must come from the federal government, if it is not available elsewhere. Present funds, he said, "are altogether inadequate."

The third member of the trio, Frank Bane, director of the American Association of Public Welfare officials, said federal assistance "of some type" would be beneficial.

Firecrackers Blamed For Death of Hogs

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Dec. 29.—Six fat hogs are dead on the farm of F. A. Burnett, seven miles west of Graham.

And Burnett's grandchildren have been told not to toss big lighted firecrackers into the hog pens again.

The youngsters spent part of their Christmas holiday watching the fattened porkers try to run when the big crackers exploded.

Suddenly six of the biggest died. Farmer Burnett thinks the firecrackers were to blame.

Mexican Gets Death For Oklahoma Holdup

NEWKIRK, Okla., Dec. 29. (UP)—A youthful Mexican, Ignacio Gomez, 20, today was sentenced to death in the electric chair for highway robbery with firearms. He pleaded guilty.

Gomez had been accused of slaying J. A. Armstrong of Ponca City. He confessed to robbing Armstrong, saying he needed money "to finance a wedding." He obtained only $2.55 in loot.

Highway robbery with firearms is a capital offense in Oklahoma.

Oil Men Called for Tariff Session Thursday

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 29. (UP)—Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum association, issued a call today for an open meeting at Tulsa Thursday to discuss the "advantages of a tariff on foreign oil."

Six Bandits Herd Villagers Out Of Homes to Loot Whole Town

PINE RIVER, Minn., Dec. 29. (UP)—The 410 citizens of Pine River were slumbering peacefully in the cold hours before today's dawn. Not a creature was stirring on the snow-covered streets, except six bandits.

They broke into homes, pushed guns in the necks of sleepy citizens, herded them all out into the dark, slugged Constable Ole Houghward when he tried to resist, took charge of the whole village and for two hours looted stores and houses before they whizzed toward Brinard in a large automobile.

"I never saw so many different kinds of guns and holdup men before as the gang that held us up," said Druggist Ben Horrigan. "They broke into my house and then made me and my wife and her sister go to my store where they took about $200 and most of my cigaret stock."

They robbed several homes, adding to their captives as they went, took nearly $200 from the Hill hardware store and slugged the constable when he refused to go with them. A thoughtful member of the sextet revived him by tossing a glass of water in his face.

NEW PARTNER BOOSTS LENZ

Culbertsons' Lead Reduced To 16,320 Points

NEW YORK, (Wednesday), Dec. 30. (UP)—Commander Winfield Liggett, rotund former naval officer, entered the Culbertson-Lenz contract bridge match last night as Sidney Lenz' partner and promptly proved himself to be something of a bridge player.

Commander Liggett, a native of of Virginia, succeeded Oswald Jacoby in the "south" position. Jacoby withdrew from the contest after Monday night's session because he said Lenz criticized his playing too much.

The Lenz-Liggett combination seemed to function much more smoothly than did Lenz and Jacoby. They bid their hands conservatively and, when play for the 15th session ended at 12:50 a. m., had reduced the lead of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson from 16,840 points to 16,320 points.

Play began with the 104th rubber and ended with the 112th. Culbertson has won 63 rubbers to date and Lenz 49.

Fire Destroys Gin at Thalia

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Dec. 29.—Vernon and Crowell fire departments rushed to Thalia, in Foard county, Tuesday afternoon in a vain effort to check flames which completely destroyed the Farmer's gin at a loss of $36,000.

Fire of undetermined origin broke out about 4 o'clock, consuming 20 tons of cottonseed and 25 bales of cotton stored in the gin. The plant was entirely wrecked.

Volunteer fire-fighters combated the increasing flames but the battle was lost before the help from Crowell and Vernon could arrive. The plant and its contents were insured for $18,000.

Marshall and Scales Invited to Court Probe

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Dec. 29.—Ellis county authorities said today that an invitation had been extended to Schuyler Marshall Jr., former Dallas county sheriff, and Herbert Scales, one-time Dallas clubman, to appear before the grand jury in connection with its investigation into the F. & M. bank burglary at Ferris Nov. 17, and the robbery of a hardware store at Red Oak Nov. 21.

Both Marshall and Scales have been charged with burglary in the cases under investigation, along with five other men. Two of the defendants, Roy Thornton and H. W. McBride, were questioned by the jurors. Fred Mace, another defendant, declined to go before the jury.

Glendora, Miss., Levee Under Severe Strain

GLENDORA, Miss., Dec. 29. (AP)—Glendora's 11-mile protection levee groaned today against the Tallahatchie river flood, and at nightfall hundreds of residents and refugees prepared for any eventuality.

Yesterday the weight of the flood of Panola, Quitman and Tallahatchie counties crashed 20 feet of the levee here, sending a sheet of water six feet deep through the business section and the lower residential part of the town.

Hundreds of convicts looped a dike around the break, stopping the flow, and today the water had drained off and merchants reopened their stores.

Escaped Convict Under Oklahoma Death Charge

HUGO, Okla., Dec. 29. (UP)—First degree murder charges were filed today against Nathan Rightsell, escaped convict from the Louisiana penitentiary.

County Attorney O. A. Brewer accused Rightsell in the fatal shooting Dec. 18 of J. V. Buchanan, special Frisco agent. Rightsell, wounded in a shooting affray with Muskogee officers Christmas eve is held at Muskogee.

Aged Texas Inventor Dies In El Paso Home

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 29. (INS)—Melborn B. Bulla, 66, inventor of a device recently adopted by many railroads designed to stop trains which pass automatic signals, was dead here today following an operation for appendicitis. He was a retired Southern Pacific conductor and had been in ill health for two years.

Railroads Give Notice Of Freight Rate Hike

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—The railroads today gave formal notice that increased freight rates would become effective Jan. 4.

The general organization of carriers filed a "master tariff" under which the Interstate Commerce commission will authorize the application of increases through surcharges ranging from 6 cents per ton to 2 cents per 100 pounds.

The commission expects the increases to yield over $100,000,000 a year.

Eye Witnesses Tell Of New York Shooting

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (US)—Four eye witnesses were among the seven men quizzed today by the Hofstadter legislative committee investigating the fatal shooting Monday of George A. Colgan Jr., 37, a witness in the inquiry into the letting of city sand and gravel contracts.

Colgan's assailant, John Ragonetti, 45, of 200 Columbus avenue, Mount Vernon, shot himself in the head and is in critical condition at the Broad street hospital.

HARRIS WINS SUIT AGAINST GAS COMPANY

Jury Awards Wichitan $2.55 in Action to Recover Portion of Bill

OVERCHARGE CITED

Family Out of City, but Gas Bill Was $4.55, Says Harvey Harris

Judge Harvey Harris was awarded a judgment of $2.55 against the Municipal Gas company by a jury which returned its verdict before Judge O. L. Gibbs in justice court Tuesday afternoon, the plaintiff's action having charged the defendant company with having imposed excessive charges for gas consumed by the plantiff between Oct 6 and Nov. 5, 1931.

Judge Harris brought suit for $3 against the gas company on Nov. 30, alleging in his complaint that his bill for gas at his home, 1714 Eleventh street, for the 30-day period had been $4.55.

Plaintiff Only Witness

The plaintiff was the only witness placed on the stand during the trial, which consumed about two hours. He testified that between Oct. 6 and Nov. 5 he and other members of his household were away most of the time, that atmospheric temperatures during that period were particularly high, and that the gas-burning stoves at his home were used very little. Judge Harris declared that a cooking stove, a hot water heater, and a small stove in the servants' quarters were the only gas burning units used during the period in question. He pointed out that the servants' house was occupied by an elderly negro woman who had shown herself careful and economical in her use of gas.

"The gas company is just overcharging me on this bill," Judge Harris said. "I paid it, and they have it that belongs to me."

Questioned at length by Judge A. H. Carrigan, local counsel for the Municipal Gas company, and Judge Marshall Newcomb of Dallas, general counsel for the concern, Judge Harris repeated his contention that his October bill had been at least $3 too high.

"Did you read the gas meter?" he was asked by defense counsel.

"No," replied the witness. "I'm not a meter reader, and don't know how to read them. I've never tried to read the meter."

Meter Reader Absent

Attorneys for the defense argued before the court and jury that the bill was rendered accurately on the basis of the meter reading reported by their employe, who was not present. They set out that Judge Harris' gas bills for the past six months average $3.20 per month. Citing a bill of about $7.93 for the month of November-December, the defense attorneys drew from the witness a statement that he believed colder weather and more constant use had made such a charge reasonable on existing rates.

The jury was out about 10 minutes before returning its verdict, awarding the plaintiff a judgment for $2.55.

Finland Casts Big Vote In Prohibition Test

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Dec. 29. (AP)—Everybody was surprised by the voting today in the consultative referendum on prohibition, for, despite a blizzard, the turnout was better than the most sanguine had expected.

Figures from 32 of the 52 Helsingfors districts indicated about 37 per cent of the voters trudged through the snow to the polls. This was far better than in parliamentary elections.

More men have voted than women. This was especially marked in working class districts.

Beyond the mere number of those casting ballots nothing was available tonight, as the count will not begin before tomorrow midnight.

1,200 Couples Back Out After Marriage Plans

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29. (US)—Twelve hundred Los Angeles couples who applied for marriage licenses during 1931 changed their minds. After filing notices of intention to marry the 1,200 pairs failed to return for the necessary slip of paper.

Apparently the three days given them to think it over was long enough.

Doris Fine and Edgar Nelson Thornton won distinction. On four occasions during the year they filed a notice of intention to marry, but never did obtain a license.

Monument to Honor Former U. S. Ambassador

PARIS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Myron T. Herrick, the late ambassador to France, will have a monument in Paris close to the American embassy.

The municipal council had decided to erect a memorial on the "Place Des Etats-Unis" in the west part of Paris near the Arch of Triumph. The sculpture probably will be a bust and will stand near the Washington, LaFayette and American volunteers' memorials.

Berserk War Veteran Overcome With Tear Gas After Two Hours

CHICAGO, Dec. 29. (UP)—Adam Purecki, 38, fell unconscious tonight from tear-gas bombs tossed into his room by nearly 100 policemen whom he stood off for more than two hours by firing automatic pistols with both hands.

Purecki, a war veteran, suddenly became insane late today. He drove his wife and four small children from their modest home, firing after them as they fled. The terrified woman ran to neighbors, who called officers.

Coaxing Fails

The latter attempted to coax Purecki from his makeshift strong hold on the second floor of his house. That failing they called for reinforcements and began besieging the building with tear gas and bullets.

During the height of the battle, the United Press dialed Purecki's telephone number. The sound of bullets boomed in the receiver while the officer who answered the telephone attempted to tell of the seige.

"We're shooting at him now," said the officer, while the bullets rattled. There was a crash. "Now we're trying to throw in tear bombs through the window," the policeman continued. Another crash, and then two more came in quick succession. The officer put down the phone, with the receiver still off the hook. "I'm going to see what that was," he shouted.

Firing Ceases

The receiver was silent for an instant. Then the bullets began to ping again. There was a muffled scream, a crash, and silence once more. The patrolman picked up the telephone.

"Got him," he said. "He's gassed."

The telephone was in the parlor, almost directly under the bedroom in which Purecki had locked himself. When the police finally battered down the door they found Purecki sprawled on the floor, senseless from the tear gas "pineapples" they had thrown into the room.

Windows were smashed, walls were bullet scarred and the whole upper floor was permeated with the milky-colored gas. Weeping patrolmen took Purecki out on a stretcher. They said they had tried not to shoot him and that the tear gas alone was responsible for his capture.

Mrs. Purecki said her husband had been worrying because he was out of work.

Father Charged With Killing Young Woman

WAYNE, W. Va., Dec. 29. (AP)—From a shallow grave at her farm home near Fort Gay, authorities dug the body of a 26-year-old daughter of Smith Webb, 50, and today sought Webb on a warrant charging him with murder.

At the same time, Earl Burgess, assistant prosecutor of Wayne county, said he would direct exhumation of the body of a man who died at the Webb home five years ago.

Burgess said a post mortem examination revealed Webb's daughter, Maude, died from poisoning Dec. 14. She was buried the following day without a death certificate or burial permit.

15 Rescued After Day Adrift on Rough Sea

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Dec. 29. (AP)—Fifteen men, feared to have been drowned in a shipping disaster off this port, were rescued tonight after spending a day adrift in a howling gale.

Nine were members of the crew of the Finnish steamer Orion, which went aground in a heavy snowstorm. The others were the crew of a lifeboat that rescued them early today.

After rescue of the Orion's crew, the lifeboat was reported lost. It was driven out to sea and the waves beat the small vessel all day.

Accidental Shot Costs Arm of Corsicana Boy

CORSICANA, Texas, Dec. 29. (AP)—Vert Duke Jr., 9, lost his right arm in a hunting accident today. A gun he was using to poke a rabbit from a brush pile exploded accidentally, mangling his hand and arm. Amputation was necessary. He was holding the gun by the barrel and poking at the rabbit with the butt. The accident occurred near Wortham.

JANE ADDAMS BETTER

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 29. (US)—Miss Jane Addams, co-winner of the Nobel peace prize for 1931, is getting along so well that she may leave Johns Hopkins hospital this week, her physician announced today. She was operated upon recently.

ONE VOTE

Rainey Places Limit on Prohibition Ballot In House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—The Democratic house will be allowed one vote and no more this session on the question of prohibition under a plan announced today by Majority Leader Rainey.

The Illinois Democrat said the wet forces would be notified they could not make a roll call on a referendum on the 18th amendment and a ballot on the return of light wines and beer, too.

Simultaneously with this announcement, Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, refused to serve on a senate judiciary subcommittee named to conduct hearings on the dry laws. Ashurst, a prohibitionist, said he had "no time to waste in aiding those who are attempting to weaken or relax" them.

CHINA ORDERS TROOPS FROM BESEIGED CITY

Chinchow Evacuated Under Air and Land Attack On Stronghold

NEW DANGER FEARED

Disorders of Retreating Soldiers Expected at Tientsin

By D. C. BESS
United Press Staff Correspondent

PEIPING, China, Dec. 29.—China surrendered to the Japanese army tonight.

Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang ordered his forces out of Chinchow, last Chinese stronghold in the disputed area, leaving the Japanese in complete control.

The Japanese bombing planes and infantry were striking southward through the Liao river valley, battering down all resistance on the road to Chinchow when the Chinese soldiers began withdrawing toward China proper.

Rich Area Lost

Evacuation of Chinchow removed the last vestige of Chinese control in the richest and most prosperous territory of the young far eastern republic centered at Nanking. Although the Nanking government will continue to claim sovereignty over Manchuria, the Japanese military occupation is now virtually complete and the army of Nippon has a free hand to wipe out so-called bandit forces alleged to be a menace to Japanese interests in the three northeastern provinces.

Marshal Chang declared he ordered withdrawal of his troops to eliminate any pretext of the Japanese for invasion of northern China, but there was considerable anxiety in Tientsin and Peiping as to the eventual outcome of the evacuation.

New Danger Feared

It was pointed out previous withdrawals of Chinese soldiers from Manchuria, through Shanhaikwan and Chinwangtao (where Japan has wide interests) and to Tientsin, had resulted in serious fighting at Tientsin, where hundreds of Americans, British and other foreigners were imperiled.

The possibility of fresh dangers

Grocer Charged With Killing Temple Woman

TEMPLE, Texas, Dec. 29. (AP)—Joe Medford, 45, grocery employe, was charged with murder today in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Fanella Peddycord. Bond was denied.

The sheriff placed a guard over Medford, who is in a hospital suffering from a bullet wound through the left lung.

Mrs. Peddycord was slain at her home Sunday night. Medford, who had known her for the past year, was found wounded at her home. A pistol was in his hand.

Electra Oil Man Hurt In Fall From Rig

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Dec. 29.—G. R. Anderson, of the firm of Morgan & Anderson, Electra oil operators, received painful injuries when he fell with the spudding beam from the mast pole of a rig eight miles northeast of Electra.

He had climbed the rig to direct the work. He was brought to a local hospital and is suffering from a broken left leg, fracture of the right wrist and lacerations of the right arm. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock Tuesday.

Evidence of Arson Found in Fire Here

Evidence of arson was obtained by fire officials late Tuesday night following a blaze in North Wichita that slightly damaged a vacant home.

After the blaze which burned paper from the wall of one room, was extinguished firemen discovered in the house a five-gallon can which had contained kerosene, gasoline or similar fluid. The home ignited with an explosion, it was said.

Gandhi Seeks Meeting With Indian Viceroy

BOMBAY, India, Dec. 29. (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi sought today a meeting with Viceroy Lord Willingdon to get his advice and help in reaching a peaceful understanding on India's troubled situation.

Apparently anxious to avoid a renewal of the conflict with the government over his demand for complete independence for India, the Nationalist leader sent the viceroy a telegram asking for the chance to see him. Lord Willingdon is expected to receive him, because a renewal of the boycott of British goods would paralyze the country's business.

AGREE TO CUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29. (US)—Twelve thousand union shopmen of the Pacific lines of the Southern Pacific, through their committee, today agreed to a 10 per cent reduction in wages.

RAIL UNIONS READY TO TALK

Road Executives Informed Of Workers' Desire

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29. (UP)—Railroad brotherhood chiefs are ready to meet rail executives to discuss the proposed 15 per cent wage reduction and other problems vital to the railroad industry in Chicago on Jan. 14, labor chiefs announced tonight.

After an all-day conference in which officials of 21 unions participated, a telegram was dispatched to Daniel O. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and chairman of the committee of the railroad executives to negotiate salary differences with unions, stating that Jan. 14 had been chosen as the date for the proposed conference by the brotherhoods.

A meeting of the 1500 general chairmen of the railroad unions was called for Jan. 12 in Chicago for the purpose of organizing and preparing for the conference with the executives two days later.

These were the only announcements made after an all-day session behind closed doors.

No indications were given as to what stand the unions will take on the proposed 15 per cent cut in wages or what counter proposals the unions will make. It is generally believed, however, that the brotherhoods will present demands for a six-hour day and a five-day week to relieve unemployment in the rail industry.

D. B. Robertson, president of the Railroad Labor Unions' association, and head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, presided at today's meeting. He refused to make any statement after the conference, as did the other labor heads.

City Joins State in Remitting Penalties on Delinquent Taxes

All city, county, school-district, and state taxpayers in Wichita county are to benefit by the remission of penalties and interest on delinquent taxes paid by Jan. 31 under legislation made effective during the past week.

Following the action of the state legislature in remitting penalties and interests on all state, county and school delinquent taxes paid between Oct. 5, 1931 and Feb. 1, 1932, the city council announced Tuesday through City Manager V. R. Smitham that all delinquent city taxes will be payable in the same manner up to midnight of Jan. 31.

Remission of penalties and interest on delinquent city taxes was made effective from Dec. 29, 1931, to Jan. 31, 1932, inclusive. No interest and penalties paid prior to Dec. 29 will be refunded, it was announced. The council's action, it was explained, was taken to aid citizens in clearing up delinquencies on the tax rolls, and to aid the city in procuring funds for current obligations.

The decision of the city council followed shortly upon the announcement that building and loan com-

DEMOS AIM AT GREAT INCOMES

Party Adopts Strong Tax Program

divulge its probable nature. However, Representative Rainey of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said today it probably would be a reciprocal measure.

He has sponsored such a bill, calling for a lowering of duties to meet those of foreign countries. However, he noted today that many foreign nations have gone off of the gold standard and tariff values have become confused and uncertain, since some countries are operating on inflated currency.

Trio in Agreement

In Democratic quarters the suggestion that the tariff law be revised to make the tariff commission recommend changes in duties to congress instead of to the president has gained support, Rainey said.

Garner, Rainey, and Chairman Collier of the house ways and means committee, are agreed on a plan to increase taxes on big incomes, levy a gift tax, and impose a special estate tax. They are opposed to a general sales tax. They are studying the possible returns of excise, luxury and similar tax proposals.

MILLS ASSAILS BIG INCOME TAX

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—Democratic proposals that the wealthy bear the brunt of increased taxes were assailed as "inadequate" tonight by Undersecretary Mills of the treasury.

Seizing as the target of his criticism a statement by Representative Rainey, floor leader of the house Democratic majority, Mills asserted huge surtaxes would not meet the treasury's needs because the large incomes on which they would be levied have virtually been wiped out.

Rainey's program, with which many Democratic leaders are not in agreement, proposed repeal of the capital stock gains and losses provision of the present tax law and urged making increased taxes payable on income of 1931. He opposed increasing the rate on small incomes and suggested a maximum surtax of 60 per cent. He also proposed a bond issue to cover part of the treasury deficit.

Informed of the Mills statement, Speaker Garner said:

"Nobody has been authorized to speak for the Democratic party on a tax program, and nobody has. There is no complete program yet. Mr. Mills can set up a straw man and knock him down if he wants to, but it's nothing more than a product of his imagination."

HOOVER SUGGESTS MERGING OFFICES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—A general shakeup of the federal government—a wholesale consolidation of its overlapping branches—was set up before the eyes of an absent congress today by President Hoover as a major objective of the present session.

The chief executive named five specific consolidations that would touch almost every arm of the government. Such action at this time, he declared, would be a sharp weapon in the fight to lop off federal expenditures. Here is his program:

Consolidation of all government construction activities under an administrator of public works to serve all departments.

Combination of all merchant marine activities within the department of commerce.

Consolidation of all federal educational efforts under a single head.

Creation of a single bureau to handle all conservation activities.

Consolidation of the public health services.

Addressing newspaper men, the president recalled that he had urged a general consolidation plan upon congress over the last 10 years. At this time, it would save millions, he said.

"The subject is an old one and now that economy absolutely must be the first order in government it is an appropriate time for congress to take up the question and bring it to conclusion," he continued. "Such action would comprise a major accomplishment of the present session of congress."

Murray Presented As U.S. Candidate

ernor's candidacy as "long as he has a chance."

The lank figure of the governor was not seen at any of the caucuses or meetings.

Harmony Plea

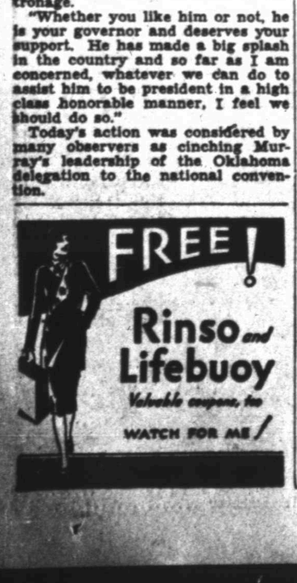

R. M. McCool, chairman of the state Democratic organization, opened the meeting with a plea for harmony.

"Let us away with party fuss. I am anxious to get our own house in order and tell people who brought four-cent cotton, 30-cent wheat and other chaotic conditions."

"For us to quarrel would be the silliest of the silly," Ferris said. "Let's be the enemy of our real enemy, the Republican party. I have not obtained favors from Murray, for that man is dead to patronage.

"Whether you like him or not, he is your governor and deserves your support. He has made a big splash in the country and so far as I am concerned, whatever we can do to assist him to be president in a high class honorable manner, I feel we should do so."

Today's action was considered by many observers as cinching Murray's leadership of the Oklahoma delegation to the national convention.

Law Limiting Mexico Priests To Become Effective Today

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29. (AP)—Secretary of Interior Manuel C. Tellez said tonight the new law allowing only one priest and one church for each 50,000 inhabitants in Mexico City and in Lower California would go into effect tomorrow.

The law would restrict the federal district, which includes Mexico City, to 25 priests officiating in 25 churches, he said, but at the same time, he made public a presidential decree which stated the remainder of the churches now in use—more than 200—could remain open and be used by the people under certain prescribed conditions.

The law would be published tomorrow, he said, and the presidential decree Thursday, the latter signed by President Ortiz Rubio and Secretary Tellez.

The decree, it was explained, was voluntary on the government's part, as all churches are government property in Mexico and it is the function of the government to determine what use shall be made of them.

Mexican states may determine the number of priests required for each and the new law, passed last week by the senate and house of deputies, applied only to the federal district and Lower California.

Fort Worth Gas Company Loses Fight to Prevent Condemnation

FORT WORTH, Dec. 29. (UP)—The Lone Star Gas company lost the first round here today in its fight to prevent the city from condemning its properties as part of the installation of a municipally owned gas distribution system.

Judge Frank P. Culver Jr. threw out of 17th district court the company's request for an injunction to restrain the city from filing a condemnation suit. The request had been on file since July 22, the day citizens voted overwhelmingly for municipal ownership.

The city, however, has not filed condemnation suit. Judge Culver ruled that he could not pass on the gas company request, to which the city entered a general remurrer, until such a suit was filed. His ruling followed arguments on the general demurrer.

City Attorney R. E. Rouer contended in the demurrer that the injunction request was premature and that the city anyhow has the right, under state law, to condemn utilities after voters have approved plans. Gas company attorneys said they would file an amended petition shortly.

JAPAN WINS IN MANCHURIA

Chinese Evacuate Last Stronghold

in the Tientsin and Peiping areas as a result of the expected influx of evacuated troops was not discounted. In this connection, Japan has had warships in readiness along the coast, particularly in the Shanhaikwan area, to cut off the retreat of Chinese soldiers if such action proves advisable, and to aid in protecting Japanese interests in China proper if necessary.

The Japanese, with headquarters at Mukden, pressed a wide offensive against "bandits and irregulars" in the last week. They spread northward from Mukden, bombarding and scattering Chinese forces, and then consolidated their troops for the southward drive which rolled over stubborn Chinese resistance in the Liao river region toward Chinchow, where Chang's regular army of at least 25,000 troops has been concentrated for weeks.

Railroad Is Key

Chinchow, which has been threatened by Japanese bombing planes and once before was the objective of an abortive Japanese offensive, has been the "sore spot" of the Manchurian military operations since the Japanese army occupied the three northeastern provinces and broke up the northern Chinese army at Taitsihar.

After defeating the Chinese in the north, the Japanese immediately charged that Chang's concentrations at Chinchow were a "menace" to Japan's interests, particularly the South Manchurian railroad. Military operations shifted southward. Japan demanded that the Chinese troops withdraw southward to a point within the great wall, but Chang and other Chinese leaders resisted.

Within the last week the new government leaders had indicated their intention to resist the Japanese advance. The veteran Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, emerging today from Shansi province, demanded organization of "efficient troops to deal with the Japanese aggressions." He said he had urged the government to send 100,000 soldiers to defend Chinchow.

Bandits Blamed

The Japanese advance southward has been obtensibly against "bandits," but it has become increasingly evident that Chinchow would be occupied on the grounds the Chinchow military leaders were providing supplies for the outlaw bands. Apparently Chang feared an attack on Chinchow, considered almost certain to result in occupation by Japanese, would lead to invasion of northern China proper by the Nippon troops.

Severe fighting was reported as the Japanese advanced from the Yinkow area at the mouth of the Liao river, southwestward toward Tienchwantai, Kowpangtze and Chinchow. The Chinese headquarters claimed Chinese regular troops and volunteers put up a stiff resistance at Tienchwangtai, after cutting off a section of Japanese troops.

The Japanese bombing planes, however, were effective against the Chinese forces and it was not believed serious resistance could be offered.

The Japanese captured the city of Panshan and hurled back a Chinese force northwest of Hopei. There also was heavy fighting near Tawa station, with Japanese successful in a slow advance.

Clothing Worth $30 Secured by Burglars

Burglars obtained articles valued at more than $30 when they forced an entrance Monday night to the American Loan and Dry Goods company, 715½ Ohio avenue, according to a report to police Tuesday.

The work was believed to have been by boys, as all articles taken were items of boys' clothing, which included two dozen shirts, nine pairs of trousers and six sweaters. Entrance was gained by prying through a rear window. Space opened by the intruders was so small that this also indicated that boys were the burglars.

Council Remits Tax Penalties

panies, individual financiers and representatives of loan departments of insurance companies had pledged financial assistance to local property owners so that the latter may profit from the interest and penalty remission law.

It was pointed out that owners of property in this city can save thousands of dollars by paying up all delinquent taxes by Jan. 31. Representatives of loan companies declared that further loans would be made in order to clear back taxes from property already under loans. All schools will be materially aided by the quick collection of taxes which is expected to result from the new measures, it was shown.

According to Arthur C. Howard, county tax collector, more than $335,000 in state, county and school taxes have been collected by his office during the months of October, November and December. Penalties and interest included in such payments are returnable under the law which recently was declared constitutional.

Non-resident taxpayers in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and Tulsa have been called upon personally during the past week by Mr. Howard, it was learned. Checks for taxes were obtained from each such property owner except one, whose check was promised before Jan. 1.

Newton Baker Won't Be Demo Delegate

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29. (AP)—For the first time in many years, Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, will not be a delegate at the next Democratic national convention.

Mr. Baker announced that decision today, but continued to leave unanswered the question of whether he would be willing to accept the nomination if the convention should want him as the Democratic candidate for president.

Political leaders speculated whether there was any connection between Mr. Baker's unspoken attitude toward a possible nomination and his decision not to be a convention delegate.

Mr. Baker's only comment was that he hopes to go to Europe this summer as he has gone in the last several years.

FAITH LODGE HAS PROGRAM

10th Anniversary of Organization Celebrated

About 250 members and Masonic guests of Faith Lodge No. 1158, A. F. & A. M., celebrated that organization's 10th anniversary at the lodge rooms here Tuesday night. The lodge was chartered Dec. 29, 1921.

A specially prepared program was presented for the entertainment of the scores attending the meeting. Two addresses were made by past potentates of Maskat Shrine temple here, those present indulged in a sing-song, and later witnessed the conferring of a degree by members of Hope chapter Order of DeMolay.

Guests of the lodge during the meeting were Masons of other Wichita Falls Masonic lodges and from lodges at Dallas, Fort Worth, Henrietta, Burkburnett, Electra, Archer City, Olney, Dundee, Petrolia and Iowa Park.

W. D. Cline, member of Faith lodge and first potentate of Maskat temple, was the first to speak after officers opened the lodge in regular form. He spoke on the early history and work of Masonry, and along the lines of education and the development of the public school system.

Ed Peterson, immediate past potentate of Maskat, talked on the Egyptian lodges and their customs.

R. E. Shepherd, a past potentate of Maskat temple, led the assemblage in a group of songs.

P. B. Curd, first elective master of Faith lodge, reported on the financial condition of the lodge here.

Eight candidates were given the DeMolay, or second degree of the Order of DeMolay by members of Hope chapter here. Past master councilors of the DeMolay lodge, Masonic affiliation for boys, formed the degree team. The DeMolay degree is the final before admission to the order and is highly colorful.

Officers of Faith lodge are C. D. Wininger, worshipful master; J. D. Holbrook, senior warden; Ellis Nations, junior warden; George W. L. Spencer, tiler; M. C. Leopold, junior deacon; L. A. Litzenberg, senior deacon; C. O. Simmons, secretary; Pat Simmons, treasurer; Al Ellis, chairman of finance, and Walter H. Caldwell, representative to the grand lodge.

New Auto Found Afire On Burkburnett Road

A fire heavily damaged an automobile on the Burkburnett road, a short distance from the Cashion school, early Tuesday night.

When members of the sheriff's department arrived at the scene they were told that the machine was discovered blazing by a woman motorist driving on the road. She told Deputy Pat Allen that the car was unoccupied.

The machine, practically new, was parked on the highway. Officers said the cap from the gas tank was missing. The blaze was extinguished before the car was destroyed. Officers were attempting to trace the ownership Tuesday night.

Dallas School Board Deaf to Agitation Against Dances

DALLAS, Dec. 29. (INS)—Student dances in public school buildings of the city will continue with the sanction of the school board, it was announced by the board today when it rejected a resolution protesting against the use of school buildings for dances.

The resolution, passed by the Dallas Baptist Pastors association, declared that since the buildings are public property they should not be used for a purpose to which even a minority objected.

In commenting on the dances, the board declared the dances always are well supervised and that mothers of the pupils and members of the parent-teacher association always are represented. They declared they will sanction the dances until a better pastime is found.

SOUND USED TO KILL GERMS

Scientists Hear of First Synthetic Vitamin

have been successfully "isolated," that is, extracted and vitamin D recently has been made by the action of ultra-violet light, but the "first handful of chemicals" discovery was announced today by Dr. Charles E. Bills, and Francis C. McDonald of Mead Johnson & Co., Evansville, Ind.

They produce vitamin D, the rickets preventative, from ergosterol, a plant substance, which ordinarily turns into the vitamin under sunshine, but without using light they obtained it by treating ergosterol with methyl alcohol, ether and ethyl acetate under low temperature and with rigid exclusion of oxygen. Finally they washed the preparation with ammonia.

The resulting vitamin is not as powerful as that obtained from sunshine and ultra-violet light, they stated, but "holds the important position of being the first chemical synthesis of a vitamin" and offers unusual possibilities.

With the ultra-violet method, Dr. Gaines said his laboratory has made the world's most powerful vitamin D, in an apparatus where "the daily capacity is equal to the life's work of 180,000 codfish storing vitamin D."

COMPANY HEAD DENIES FRAUD

Universal Oil Chief Takes Witness Stand

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 29. (AP)—The climax of the defense in the Universal Oil and Gas company mail fraud case came today when S. E. J. Cox, alleged unofficial head of the company, unexpectedly took the witness stand and gave explanations for each action on which the government has directed its fire.

Cox, last of the eight defendants to testify, admitted he wrote promotion literature on which the prosecution bases its allegations of mail fraud, but contended properties of the company, now in receivership, still have enormous potential values.

Explains Brokerage

The promoter, twice convicted and sentenced in similar cases, said he never became a member of the Universal's pre-oranization board, to avoid "continuous blackmail from all directions."

He explained he set up a New York brokerage firm to prevent raids by short-selling brokers, told how the company's deals for oil properties failed to develop as expected because of misrepresentations of others and on account of the general business decline in 1929.

In only a few instances did Cox say he knew nothing of the matter, shifting the responsibility to John F. Ryan, auditor, and J. Garfield Crawford, employes of the company and government witnesses. Most of the other defendants blamed Ryan and Crawford for acts under government fire.

Denies Fire

Only once did Cox show any violence in his answers; when Herbert K. Hyde, district attorney, asked him if he ordered the Quincy Corbett well set afire.

"No," Cox shouted, repeating the denial several times.

Hdye brought out that Cox was still on parole from the federal prison at Leavenworth while he was organizing the Universal company.

On further questioning, Cox said he had been striving to pay back stockholders in his fomer companies.

Shaw's 'Apple Cart' To Play Here at New Low Prices

Wichita Falls is to be offered a first-class play with a cast of headline caliber at popular prices when George Bernard Shaw's "Apple Cart" is presented at the Memorial auditorium on Jan. 11, according to arrangements completed this week by H. C. Cheshire, local booking agent.

Such stage celebrities as Ethel Barrymore and Billie Burke, as well as luminaries in the musical world, have appeared here during the past year before audiences which failed to approach the expected numbers. Theater-goers and patrons of concert music have asserted that deficient attendance has been due to no lack of interest, but to a demand for even lower admission prices than those offered in the past.

Securing the "Apple Cart" for Wichita Falls on an open date between Dallas and Tulsa performances, Mr. Cheshire negotiated with the play's management in an effort to obtain a scale of prices designed to fill the Memorial auditorium for the occasion. As a result, the following admission prices were announced:

Lower floor, first 10 rows, $3; next 15 rows, $1.50; last 10 rows, $1. First and second balconies, adults, $1; school pupils, 50 cents.

"The Apple Cart" crystalizes the salty brilliance of social and political discourse which has made George Bernard Shaw an eminent figure throughout the world. Remarkably active despite his advance years, and possessed of sparkling wit, Shaw is quite as famous as an individual as in the role of playwright. "The Apple Cart" has proven a sensation both in Europe and in the United States for its penetrating play upon modern political and social conditions.

Dr. Einstein Arrives In California Again

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Dec. 29. (AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein, a professor of physics of Berlin, and Frau Einstein arrived in the outer harbor tonight on the liner Portland.

It was just a year ago the famous thinker of the old world came to Pasadena to compare his theories of the universe with the discoveries of new world scientists. He was received with a fanfiare of publicity which continued for most of his stay.

This time he came unhurried, and hoping to have more time for his work when he arrived. The Portland, which came through the Panama canal, picking up bananas at Central American ports, reached here too late to pass quarantine tonight.

GEOLOGISTS END CONCLAVE

Boston Selected for 1932 Convention

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 29. (AP)—The fellows of the Geological Society of America today chose Boston, Mass., as their 1932 meeting place.

Dr. R. A. Daly, of Harvard university, was named president, succeeding Dr. Alfred C. Lane.

Tonight the geologists heard Lane talk on a subject that made even his learned hearers scratch their heads and wonder where a dictionary could be found.

His subject was "eutopotropism"—a word Dr. Lane coined and which he defined as a "sense to find the fit place."

A paper which drew much interest was presented by Dr. Bailey Willis, 75, of Stanford university, who announced his belief continents do not float.

North and South America, he said, at one time, and that not more than 80,000,000 years ago, were separated by sea as much as 1,200 miles across. He declared his statement was fact, but was based on a theory.

WOMAN GEOLOGIST WINS RARE HONOR

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 29. (AP)—Another woman has broken into that select circle that comprises the holy of holies of one of the sciences—the Geological Society of America.

She is Mrs. Mafgaret Fuller Boos, of Bartlesville, Okla., a geologist and the wife of a geologist.

Statistics will show against what odds Mrs. Boos labored to attain the height to which the younger geologists of the United States aspire—fellowship among the "high brows" of geology.

There are approximately 640 fellows of the society. Of these only six are feminine. Only one of the six ever has held office in the organization.

That one was the first woman ever to obtain sanction of the learned ones to participate in their councils. Miss Florence Bascom, who entered the society in 1894, six years after it was organized.

Mrs. Boos and her husband, C. Maynard Boos, who is not a fellow of the society, but who has been a petroleum geologist for many years and now is connected with an oil company in Bartlesville, have prepared a paper on granites of the front range of the Rockies, for presentation at the session of geologists here tomorrow.

Possessor of a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Northwestern university, Mrs. Boos was an instructor in geology there for seven years before moving to Oklahoma with her husband.

JUNIOR C-C PLANS AWARD

Committee on Service to Meet Wednesday

Plans will be made Wednesday to select the young man who has proved of greatest value to Wichita Falls as a city during the past year, Junior chamber of commerce officials announced Tuesday.

The man chosen will be given the distinguished service award, offered by the United States Junior chamber. The national junior chamber offers the award to any city in the nation having a junior chamber affiliated with the United States organization.

Rules for the award stipulate that the receiver of the medal shall be a man of 35 years of age or under. He does not need to be a member of a junior chamber of commerce. It is required that the selection shall be made strictly upon merit of activity in civic enterprises.

Judges to arrange for the selection of Wichita Falls' most valuable young man are J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the senior chamber of commerce; T. J. Waggoner Jr., immediate past president of the junior chamber; Walter Nelson Jr., mayor; Dr. C. W. Stevenson, president of the Wichita County Medical society; C. E. Basham, president of the community chest; Dr. J. B. Nail, president of the Kiwanis club; Dr. G. T. Singleton, president of the Optimist club; L. H. Eestes, president of the Rotary club; Roy J. Mann, president of the Lions club; R. E. Shepherd, president of the Advertising club; and Dr. S. S. McKenney, president of the Ministerial alliance.

This committee will meet Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to make arrangements for the event. The selection will be made on or before Jan. 10. The award will be made Jan. 20.

Much Interest Shown In Annual C. C. Meet

Citizens of neighboring towns are exhibiting much interest in the coming annual meeting of the chamber of commerce here Jan. 8, officials in charge said Tuesday.

Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, general chairman, said that numerous letters have been received to date from residents of the area surrounding Wichita Falls. He expressed the belief that a great many persons from points as far removed as 150 miles would be present for the meeting, which will include a program replete with entertainment.

Members of the Junior chamber of commerce board of directors will act as ushers. Ralph Pond, first vice president, is chairman in charge of the seating arrangements.

Members of Junior C.-C. Plan Program for 1932

Members of the Junior chamber of commerce are exhibiting much interest in daily group meetings toward the formation of the organization's 1932 program of work, Judge Irvin J. Vogel, chairman, said Tuesday.

Work of formulating the program is progressing rapidly, it was said, and probably will be completed by early next week. Many worthwhile suggestions are being obtained from the numerous members who are attending the group meetings. Indications point to a program filled with undertakings of value to Wichita Falls and this section, it was declared.

The junior chamber is following the plan set recently by the senior organization in giving every member an opportunity to participate actively in the formation of the year's program of work.

Many City Licenses To Expire Thursday

Notice was given Tuesday by City Clerk W. E. McBroom that all city licenses to operators of service cars, taxicabs, buses, domino parlors, dance halls and similar enterprises expire at midnight Thursday, and should be renewed before that time.

Other licenses, Mr. McBroom said, such as those issued to peddlers and to produce dealers, expire one year from their respective dates of issuance.

CHECK WRITERS JAILED

Two pleas of guilty to charges of swindling by check were received by Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Tuesday. Each defendant was fined $1 and costs and given one day in the county jail.

Finance Expert Named As U. S. Arms Delegate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (US)—Norman H. Davis of New York, who approved virtually every loan made by this country to Europe, was today named by President Hoover as a member of the American delegation to the Geneva armaments conference to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations next February.

In 1917 Davis was appointed adviser to the secretary of the treasury on foreign loans. When the United States entered the world war, he became financial commissioner in Europe.

He was also the personal financial adviser to President Wilson.

Ban on Military Flying Urged in Arms Parley

LONDON, Dec. 29. (US)—Prof. Gilbert Murray, presiding at the Anglo-French students conference on disarmament, today urged the prohibition of military aviation as the first step toward material security against aeral bombing in future wars. He said:

"We have moral guarantees but no material guarantees against war from the air. France can destroy London and Britain can destroy Paris, but neither can defend its capital. Even the Germans, with no military planes, have enough commercial planes to destroy Paris with bombs. The prohibition of military aviation is the first step toward material security."

Appeals Court Affirms Fine of Wichita Farmer Using Long Trailer

A decision rendered by Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the case of a Wichita county farmer charged in the county court at law with violation of the new state truck laws has been affirmed by the court of criminal appeals, it was learned Monday.

The defendant in the case, tried here several months ago, was charged with having operated a truck and trailer of more than 45-foot over-all length on the state highways.

Declaring his ownership of the truck, and that it was being used to haul farm produce between two farms which he also owned, the defendant claimed exemption.

The state law excepts instruments of husbandry. Judge Vogel ruled that the truck and trailer did not come under such a classification.

RITES SAID FOR HUGH TALLEY

Last Services Held for Former Wichitan

Funeral services for Hugh C. Talley, 27, resident of Wichita Falls until a year ago, were held here Tuesday afternoon from the chapel of the Hines mortuary.

Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated. Burial was in Rosemont. Pallbearers were James A. Bell, W. G. Terry, Jack Counts, S. Parish, Jesse Wood and Jack Choate.

Mr. Talley died Sunday at the home of his father, D. N. Talley, in San Angelo. The elder Mr. Talley was a pioneer citizen here. He removed several years ago to San Angelo. The younger Mr. Talley was employed with a coffee concern here for several years until his removal to San Angelo for his health.

He is survived by his widow; four small children; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Talley; three sisters, Mrs. Paul L. Draper, Mrs. J. S. Sellers and Miss Erline Talley; and a brother, Roy E. Talley, all of San Angelo. He was the son-in-law of Mrs. Mollie Baker and the nephew of Mrs. A. P. Perry, both of Wichita Falls.

MRS. GEORGE F. MASON

Funeral services for Mrs. George F. Mason, 42, who died at a hospital here early Tuesday, will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the chapel of the Hines mortuary. Following the services, at which the Rev. H. R. Dunlap will officiate, the body will be forwarded to Howarden, Iowa, for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason resided here at 715 Warford. Survivors, in addition to Mr. Mason, are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jacobs, Sioux City, Iowa; two brothers, Edward Jacobs of Sioux City, and Ben Jacobs of Howarden, Iowa; and five sisters, Mrs. Ben Morgan, Mrs. Clarence Durham and Mrs. Dovie Mullenburg, all of Howarden, and Mrs. Frank Vogel and Mrs. Charles Wilkinson, both of Sioux City.

MRS. PAUL DOWDY

Funeral services for Mrs. Paul Dowdy, 18, of Charlie, Texas, and her infant daughter, both of whom died at a hospital here Monday, were held Tuesday afternoon from the Church of Christ at Charlie.

The Rev. Thomas Milholland, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was in the Charlie cemetery. The Hines mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Surviving are the husband; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gower, Wichita Falls; and two brothers, Stanley and Wenston Gower, also of Wichita Falls.

LACKEY INFANT

Funeral services for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lackey, 1109 Third street, who died at a hospital here Monday night, will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. from the chapel of the Hines mortuary. Burial will be in Riverside.

Ocean Mail Probe Urged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—Decision by the United States Lines to tie up the Leviathan indefinitely today drew from Chairman Davis of the house merchant marine committee a promise of an investigation of ocean mail contracts and construction loans.

While the Leviathan is out of service, Davis said, the Majestic, owned by the International Merchant Marine but flying the British flag as a White Star liner, will continue to operate.

The Leviathan Christmas day completed her first round trip under the ownership of the Chapman-Dollar-Dawson-I. M. M.-Roosevelt interests and a date for her next sailing has not been set.

The Tennessee Democrat said he would ask the committee to study all mail contracts, adding that the Majestic now has such a "subsidy" and can compete more easily with the Leviathan.

Mail contracts, he asserted, should not be granted to lines operating vessels under foreign flags.

Davis also said he would ask the committee to investigate shipping board construction loans, some of which he contends were not justified.

20 Per Cent Cut in U. S. Salaries Supported

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—A willingness to make a cut of 20 per cent in government salaries was expressed today by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho. He previously had suggested a reduction of 10 per cent.

The Idahoan estimated more than $100,000,000 can be pared from the federal budget next year in that way.

Borah's proposal for a 20 per cent cut fitted in with tentative Democratic plans for salary reductions. The Democrats are considering a proposal for a graduated scale of cuts ranging from 5 per cent on salaries of $1,500 or $2,000 and increasing to 20 per cent on salaries above $10,000.

Death Claims Witness In Seabury Inquiry

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (INS)—Death today had removed a witness from the jurisdiction of the Seabury city investigation.

George A. Colgan Jr., 37, wealthy contractor, was shot and killed by his former partner, John Rangonetti, 45, during an arbitration meeting over their business differences.

Rangonetti then fired a bullet into his head. Removed to Broad street hospital, where he is under arrest, he was reported dying today.

Wichitan Wins Release On Warranf Issued Four Years Ago

Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Tuesday afternoon ordered released a man who had been arrested on a capias profine warrant issued in 1927, and who Tuesday instituted habeas corpus proceedings through his attorney, J. Earl Kuntz.

The defendant was charged with failure to pay a fine imposed on a plea of guilty to a misdemeanor in the county court at law four years ago. He denied ever having been arraigned in a county court, or having entered such a plea of guilty. He has remained in the city during the intervening years, it was said.

CHURCHES TO WELCOME 1932

Ministerial Alliance Gives Plans for Service

Plans for a New Year's watch-service to be held at the First Christian church Thursday night from 11 to 12 o'clock under the auspices of the Wichita Falls Ministerial alliance were completed Tuesday, according to information given The Record News.

All local church congregations and friends are being invited to attend the affair, which will be featured by a 40-minute musical program to be directed by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey, organist and choir director at the First Presbyterian church. The closing 20 minutes of the hour, immediately preceding the advent of 1932 at midnight, will be taken by Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, who will deliver a New Year's sermon.

Claude Simpson, organist of the First Methodist church at Dallas, and a member of the music faculty of the Terrell school in the same city, will be guest artist on Thursday night's musicale. Mr. Simpson is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Claude M. Simpson, who were until a few weeks ago residents of Wichita Falls, Dr. Simpson having been pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church.

Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will preside at the New Year's watch service. The following program has been arranged:

"Dawn," (Sheldon), Mrs. R. E. Strange, organist.

"The Lord Is My Shepherd," (McFarren), Miss Tilla Mae Schaefer, soprano, Mrs. Mahaffey, accompanist.

"Vision," (Rheinberger), and "The Swan," (Saint-Saens), Claude Simpson, organist.

"Rock of Ages," (Johnson), Mrs. C. T. Tully, soprano; Mrs. W. M. Priddy, mezzo-soprano. Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., accompanist.

"Largo," from "Xerxes" (Handel), Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., organist.

Solo (selected), Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes, soprano.

"Grand Offertoire de St. Cecilia" (Edouard Batiste), Mrs. F. R. Collard, organist.

Sermon, Dr. S. S. McKenney.

Five Examined at Tuberculosis Clinic

Symptoms of tuberculosis were found in two of five cases examined Tuesday afternoon at the monthly clinic of the Wichita County Tuberculosis association, according to the report of Miss Mary Quinn, executive secretary.

The five persons examined during the clinic, which was held at the Grace Methodist church, were four adults and one child. A tubercular and skin test was administered to the child, which is daily in contact with the disease. Cases similar to child's are constantly watched by officials of the association to forestall the spread of the disease.

Dr. F. R. Collard conducted the clinic Tuesday, and was assisted by Mrs. M. A. Beckman and Mrs. C. V. Derden, in addition to Miss Quinn. The Wichita County Tuberculosis association holds clinics monthly for persons who are without funds to pay for medical service.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To quickly end stubborn coughs due to colds, it is important to soothe the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2¼ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, saves money, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

LABOR BUREAU SOUGHT HERE

Federal Employment Office Asked for City

Efforts probably will be made within a short time to secure a federal employment bureau here, it was announced Monday following a conference of leaders of several civic organizations with C. W. Woodman, Texas director of the United States employment service.

In the event that an application is made and granted for the branch bureau here, it is expected the federal employment office will be established within three months, it was said. Tentative plans call for the present community bureau being taken over by the federal service.

Matters of labor and employment conditions were discussed at length by those attending the meeting, although the nature of this part of the conference was not made public.

Among those meeting with Mr. Woodman were C. E. Basham, president of the Wichita Falls community chest, and J. R. Calloway, manager of the local employment bureau.

Baby Taken in Open Plane Over Frozen Alaskan Mountains

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Perhaps the coldest aerial jaunt ever taken by an infant was described today in a message from Alaska to American Airways.

Joe Crosson, chief pilot for Alaskan Airways, subsidiary of American, bundled his wife and a 4-month-old child into an open cockpit plane yesterday and flew in 20 below weather from Fairbanks across the Alaskan range to Anchorage, near Cook inlet. It was a journey of about 272 miles.

Crosson, pal of the late Carl Benjamin Eielson, aerial trail breaker in Alaska, is en route to New York to report on operations. His child was born in Alaska.

The message describing the flight came from Warren Oakes, vice president of the American Airways.

WOOD IN DEMAND

More Than 100 Loads Cut From Land Adjoining Disposal Plant

More than 100 wagon loads of wood for fuel has been taken from the land adjoining the city's disposal plant northeast of the city during the past few weeks, according to Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief sanitary inspector.

Dr. Farrell said that at least 20 widows with families have been supplied with this free fuel. Men who operate wagons for the removal of trash have volunteered to haul wood to such places, he said, after it has been cut by various men in excess to their own needs.

Only a permit from Dr. Farrell's office at the Memorial auditorium is required of any resident of this city who wishes to cut and remove wood from the city's supply of growing timber.

NEW CROWELL BANK OPENS

Institution Handles Big Business Tuesday

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Dec. 29.—The Crowell State bank, newly organized to take over the assets and liabilities of the First State bank, which closed here in November, opened its doors for business Tuesday morning.

The bank, capitalized at $25,000, is headed by Dr. R. L. Kincaid, president. Dr. J. M. Hill is vice president; Grady Thacker is cashier; Dr. Hines Clark and G. E. Crews are members of the directing board. Lee Black and Merle Kincaid are assistant cashiers.

Officials of the new institution all served in the First State bank. Ten per cent of the deposits in the closed institution have been paid and the new bank will operate under a system which promises to meet all obligations of the defunct institution.

A long line of depositors filled the new bank today and the deposits reached a total of $22,000, much more than was expected.

Darrow Leaves Birmingham After Dispute Over Negroes' Defense

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 29. (AP)—Clarence Darrow left today for Chicago after failing to reach an agreement with representatives of the International Labor Defense to become associated in defending eight negroes under death sentences for attacking two white girls near Scottsboro, Ala.

He said he would not consider entering the case in any connection with any Communist organization. Similar sentiment was expressed by Arthur Garfield Hays, New York attorney who, with Mr. Darrow was employed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to represent the condemned negroes.

Proposal Declined

Mr. Hays indicated he and Mr. Darrow might be willing to drop their National Association for the Advancement of Colored People connections if representatives of the International Labor Defense would do likewise. Representatives of the latter said this was "impossible."

"We regret that after a long conference, no agreement with Mr. Darrow and Mr. Hays was reached," Lowell Wakefield, representative of the International Labor Defense, said.

"We have no interest greater than saving from the electric chair these eight innocent negro boys. We, the defendants and their parents therefore cannot consider the entrance into this case of any organization such as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People whose leaders are given solely to obstruction and attacks on the defense, not assistance to the defense.

Lawyer Speaks

"With regard to Mr. Darrow and Mr. Hays, we asked them to sever their connection with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in this case and work with us in a united effort to free the Scottsboro boys. We regret that after a long conference no agreement was reached with them on this basis."

G. M. Chamlee, of Chattanooga employed by the International Defense to represent the negroes said:

"The defendants and their parents, together with the International Labor Defense, have retained me as counsel. Although I have several assistants such as my son, G. M. Chamlee Jr., and Messrs. Schwob, Brodsay and Taub of New York, and would welcome the entrance of any reputable attorney on the basis of complete cooperation, I cannot break faith with my clients to the extent of inviting the cooperation of any one who entered the case as the representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. This position is in keeping with the demands of the boys and their parents and next of kin."

NEGRO CHARGED WITH MURDER

Man Accused of Slaying Mother-in-Law

Harrison Derouen, negro, was charged with murder in a complaint filed before Judge R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, Tuesday afternoon in connection with the death of his mother-in-law, Martha Simmons, on Bonner street Sunday night.

Arrested Monday morning by Luke Hart and Noah Daves, city detectives, the defendant had been held in the city jail during an investigation by the police department and District Attorney Sam B. Spence. He and his wife have been living on the Bonner street house which belonged to the slain woman, who had been visiting there Sunday night before she was found suffering from two fractures of the skull resulting apparently from heavy blows.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas is the site of the greatest aviation school in the world—Randolph field, near San Antonio, which the war department has set out to make the "West Point of the Air." To date the government has spent $10,000,000 on it, expects to spend $30,000,000 more.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Miscellaneous items of Texas progress and improvement: Contract for a new $10,000 church has been let and construction begun for the Forest Avenue Baptists, Sherman. Dallas county lets a $65,000 contract for enlarging its jail facilities. Bids are to be opened Jan. 4 on an $80,000 federal building for Texas City. Plans are about ready for seeking bids on a $100,000 addition to the state hospital at San Antonio. Beaumont lets $17,000 contract for storm drainage extensions. Plans have been finally approved for $2,254,000 storm sewer extensions and improvements in Dallas, with contracts to be let for the first section in March and the others in May, October and December following. Grayson county lets contract at $11,131 for a temporary court house in place of the one burned two years ago. Contracts for four school projects costing an aggregate of $156,000 have been let by the San Antonio board of education. Work is continuing on the $350,000 junior high school at Galveston. Beaumont lets contract for $20,000 for rebuilding the recently burned community center. Improvements costing $40,000 are being made on the Robert E. Lee hotel, Laredo. Jasper is to let contracts this week for 27,065 square yards of paving. Mount Pleasant has resumed work on its sewage disposal plant. Work on the new school building at Pettus is about complete.

Just a Couple of New Hoover Jokes

WHATEVER the cause may be there is no doubt that President Hoover is being lampooned more severely than any president in recent years. In course of time most of these so-called jokes reach the public by way of the stage but there are at least two of such recent origin that they have not yet been picked up by the Broadway wits.

Recently two newspaper men were walking down Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington, near Fourteenth street. One of these was what the political orators call "a hard-boiled, hide-bound Republican" and the other might have been referred to as the representative of "a snake-eating Democratic sheet." The Republican glanced down Fourteenth street to where the marble columns of the new department of commerce building were being reared.

"That certainly is a fine building," he said. "Three blocks long and a block wide."

"It certainly is," assented the Democrat.

"Do you know," said the Republican, "I expect that history will record that President Hoover was the greatest secretary of commerce we ever had."

Then he got mad when the Democrat laughed.

Here is another instance. The Republican national committee was meeting in Washington and one of the local papers carried a scare-head across its front page saying, "Fess Wants Republicans to Sell Hoover to the Country." A Republican member of the house, staunch in the faith of his party, stopped by the newsstand carrying a pile of these papers to chat with a friend. He glanced at this heading and remarked:

"Dr. Fess better work fast because I think congress is going to pass a law against short selling at this session."

When the friend laughed the congressman continued, "But if you say I said that I'll deny it."

Women as Artists

C. R. CHATTERTON, the artist whose paintings of Maine's coast scenes recently drew favorable attention in New York, asserts that the trends of American art hereafter will be in the hands of women.

Women, he says, respond to art and concentrate on it better than men do; and, he added, "woman is bringing art into the home and taking care to see that it is good."

In all of this he is probably right; and the encouraging thing about it is that feminine appreciation of art is on a much higher plane than it was a few decades ago. Ever since the civil war women have been more or less the arbiters of things artistic in this country—not as critics, but as the great, inarticulate public whose likes and dislikes subtly determine what style is to be uppermost. In the past their influence has not been entirely good; too often it has led to pretty-pretty things of no artistic significance.

Now the American woman is apt to have a sounder taste than the man. If her influence is to predominate, it may be a good thing for art.

Lawless Liquor Trade

IT IS announced in Chicago that the Congressional Education society is going to conduct a campaign to make people more generally familiar with the fact that the liquor trade consistently and flagrantly violated the law before the passage of the prohibition amendment; and this, both for the dry and wet, is a perfectly sound and sensible campaign.

There is no question at all that the liquor trade brought prohibition on itself. It made itself such an offense that it persuaded millions of citizens that it ought to be suppressed outright, and the fact should be remembered.

Right now there is certainly room for two schools of thought about the success or failure of prohibition. But nothing will be gained by ignoring the manifold problems which the old regime contained. If a new solution to the liquor question is to be found, the lawlessness of the old-time liquor trade must assuredly be taken into account.

Saddling Posterity

THE exceptionally knotty nature of the whole war debts-reparations problem was never better illustrated than by Banker Charles F. Mitchell's testimony before the senate committee the other day.

Mr. Mitchell, you remember, pointed out that no one can expect coming generations of Germans to pay a staggering war debt that they never contracted for. Instead, he said, they would probably indulge in a revolution.

Senator David A. Reed then pointed to an equally obvious truth—that no one can expect coming generations of Americans to pay those debts, either, which is about what they will have to do if the debts and reparations are canceled.

It would be hard to imagine a tougher problem. Neither side is apt to give in, because neither side can give in. The solution of the puzzle is going to take a lot of finding.

The Ghost Love

In her soft arms he knew white ecstasy.
And drank her breath like sacred crimson wine.
Against her breast he never thought of me
Or even dreamed some day I'd call him mine.

He tells me how he loved her—this is why
My heart is heavy now with grief and pain.
I think that it would burst should I but sigh
Like flowers do when they are crushed with rain.

He tells me how he loved her—long ago.
When passionate youth coursed fire thru his soul,
And all the lovely whisperings I know—
She knew—vows like old wine in a gold bowl.

He loved her when the moon was flaming white,
And all the stars were a blue singing flame.
He loved her then—but he loves me tonight!
Although he sometimes—calls me by her name.

"Dear Walter," passionately writes Robert Ripley, who appears in more newspapers than you, you, you, you and me—"I thrive on just such objections as made in your column the other day. In answering I am glad of the opportunity to refute an age-old fallacy which is prevalent in these United States.

"It is not true that a check dated on a holiday is not cashable or not enforceable for that reason. The reverse of it is true. If that little bank in Nebraska chose to keep open on Washington's birthday and to cash checks and put them through their books on that day, there is no authority, either state or federal, that could prevent them from doing so.

"The document which I reproduced is authentic beyond a shadow of a doubt.—Bob Ripley."

Neatly worded reply, Bob—that "if that little bank chose to keep open on Washington's birthday, etc." I can't imagine any bank keeping open on a legal holiday. Particularly these days whether they're legal or not.

Oop!

In her advertisement, Elizabeth Arden announces that during the month of December, she will give 5 per cent on all purchases for the benefit of the unemployment committee.

Maybe that explains where all the money has been going.

Not New, but Clean

"Whatever became of that old gag you used hundreds of columns ago about the guy who said, 'Lend me a nickel, I want to call up a friend,' and a pal said: 'Here's a dime—call all your friends!'?"

"I've read it in dozens of columns in all parts of the country in the last 10 days with the borrower being Hoover and the lender being Mellon!"

Talk Isn't so Cheap

The Association of National Advertisers recently decided to unite, and kill the "fear psychology" that has enveloped the American people. The Ass'n has taken an entire floor in a New York hotel—from where it will utilize every possible means (radio, films, magazines and newspapers, etc.) to rebuild confidence in the nation, the people, etc. Chiefly to erase all talk of any "depression."

It will be handled exactly as propaganda was during the big quarrel and they will invest a mere $300,000,000.

Meaning, we take it, that a lot of swift-talkers will get sugary wages to tell the other fellow not to worry.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE BARREL THAT BURST BUT DIDN'T LEAK—In the winter of 1929 a water barrel at the New Haven Ice and Coal company, New Haven, Ky., froze and a stave burst from the side, but still it did not leak. It had a lime formation around the inside of the barrel, which held it water-tight.

THE HOOVER ANCESTRAL HOME—German genealogical research established the first ancestral home of the president to have been in Switzerland. In the beginning of the 18th century the family took up their abode in the vine-and-fruit-wreathed country of the Rhenish Palatinate. The German ancestral home of the Hoovers, "Huberhof," was in Ellerstadt and was known as "Das Weisse Haus" (White House) from its color.

Many centuries before an ancestor of the president emigrated to America where he changed his name to Hoover, the White House in Ellerstadt housed the presidential ancestors. It would seem as though this significant name foreshadowed for their illustrious offspring his occupancy of the White House in Washington.

SYNOPSIS

Stephen Ashe was the best criminal lawyer in the West until liquor ruined his career. Disapproving of his daughter, Jan's, marriage to Ace Wilfong, notorious but honest gambler, he make a wager with her to discontinue drinking if she will give up Ace. He loses. Jan and Ace are married. Ace adores her and they are very happy together. Then Stephen disappears and Jan is frantic. Stephen realized the worry he was causing Jan and thought it best to go away. He took Ace into his confidence but swore him to secrecy. He did not, however, reveal his destination and the bank which forwards Ace's money to Stephen will not disclose it. Mac, Stephen's bandit man, innocently tells Jan that Ace knew Stephen's plans and she is hurt. Dwight Sutro, an old friend and rejected suitor, calls after an absence of two years abroad. Jan throws her arms around his neck and kisses him just as Ace enters. Ace resents it but says nothing. Later, Jan stuns Gwennie, her jealous sister-in-law, with the statement that even a married woman may amuse herself with an admirer. Instead of telling Ace that she knows of his part in her father's disappearance, she locks the hurt in her heart and it casts a shadow across their love. Ace thinks the change in her is due to Dwight Sutro. Gwennie reads a note from Dwight to Jan.

Gwennie walked through the little passage into Ace's bedroom and dropped the note carelessly upon the ash tray.

CHAPTER XLV

When she had finished reading it for the second time, Gwennie walked quiety through the little passage into Ace Wilfong's bedroom. With steady hands she folded the note so that no alien salutation might warn Ace that this was not meant for him, and dropped it carelessly upon the ash tray by his bed. Jan sometimes came to that ash tray for matches. Surely, if he started to read, even the honor of an Ace Wilfong, that made Jan's open carelessness innocent, would not be proof against such temptation.

Gwennie had her poor, perverted little genius. She knew the thing that would torment and rankle and eat into the heart of a man. And some twist of a brain rendered pliable by much suffering showed her that, for Ace Wilfong, there were worse jealousies than those of the flesh. For there, Ace Wilfong knew he could not hold his own, had as much chance to hold his own as any man. There were worse infidelities for such a man, than those of the body. Mental infidelity, the seeking outside of those things which he had always feared he might not be able to give Jan Ashe, would drive the king of gamblers to worse hells than infidelities of the more common kind. For loving his wife as he loved her, Ace Wilfong knew that love must satisfy, must possess more than the body, or it is not love.

That was why Gwennie's stolen note so completely served her purpose.

The two figures walked closely side by side along the road under the trees—well groomed young man, his head bare and his crisp hair looking lighter in the sunshine, and the girl, hands thrust deep into the pockets of a fuzzy old blue sweater, highly polished brown brogues kicking the gravel this way and that carelessly. The trees were that young and tender green which is one of the swift things of life, for it lasts such a brief time that it seems scarcely to have been at all. And the air was chill and clear and crystal bright. Spring may come languorously in some places, but in San Francisco it comes spicily; it does not drug you; it intoxicates, it stimulates you.

A big, dignified car went by them swiftly, but not swiftly enough, it would appear; for the stout lady within, wrapped in sables, had seen them and began immediately to whimper.

"Oh, Metha," she whispered, "what shall I do?"

"Sit tight," said Metha. In spite of the reassurance of her voice, her face had lost its delicate pink at sight of those two, strolling by the roadside. "Sit tight, mamma. It's all we can do. They are not children any more."

"People do talk so." A fat hand dabbed the faded eyes with a wisp of lace. "They were at the opera last night. And Agatha's mother saw them dining together at the Cliff house. Oh, what a wicked, wicked—"

"Steady, mama," said Metha firmly. "You can't blame Jan for this thing. Dwight has done it deliberately." She hesitated, and then went on determinedly. "You might just as well face it, mama. Something disagreeable is quite likely to happen. I think he is trying to get her to run off to Europe with him and live in a villa on the Riviera or a houseboat on the Nile. God help her if she does!"

She watched her mother's hysterical sobs nervously. But really it was the thought of Ace Wilfong, of his dangerous air, that had driven the color from her face at sight of those two so merrily enjoying the spring morning. She called up the picture of Jan's husband as she had seen him that day long ago lunching with Jan at the Palace, and she wondered how much of this sort of thing he was prepared to stand, even from Jan. For he had impressed her youthful emotionalism as a man of primitive violence, a savage man under that picturesque polish.

But those two were enjoying themselves very much indeed. Quite silly, it would seem, to think of anything dark and dangerous in connection with them, for they behaved exactly like a couple of school children.

"I do not believe in signs," said Dwight Sutro, in a very deep voice, and he leaned over directly beneath the neat "Do Not Pick the Flowers" and broke off a particularly luscious-looking lavender hyacinth and presented it to young Mrs. Wilfong with a bow.

"That's all very well," murmured Mrs. Wilfong sniffing the hyacinth luxuriously, "but there is a gent behind you what do, if I may say so."

And sure enough there was behind him an Irish gardener, starting pointedly at the lavender hyacinth snuggling under the well-known Ashe nose, that nose which nobody would ever call a pretty nose but which nevertheless had an air about it.

"Do you raise these hyacinths?" said Dwight Sutro. "I want to tell you, my good man, that you're a benefactor to your country. I'd like to shake your hand, if you don't mind. A man who can grow hyacinths like that, particularly in the dark of the moon, shouldn't be languishing unheard and blushing unseen; and it is my firm intention to speak to the commissioner of public works about it the next time I am in Constantinople, which will probably be within the next six or seven years, for, without meaning to cast any reflection upon the laws of this great nation, there are some ideas possessed by the Turk that no man in his senses can fail to see are laws of great sensibility and refinement; and it's been a very great pleasure to meet you and the next time you come to Cedar Rapids I hope you and the missus will look us up and let us show you our little city."

"Dwight, you are such a fool," said Jan Wilfong, as they strolled on, leaving the man staring after them.

"It had been said before, but without that delightfully humorous quality which you are kind enough to give it," said Dwight.

Jan stopped under the windmill to stare out at the ocean, and quoted lightly:

"The king said,
'Bother!'
And then he said,
'Oh, deary me!'
The king sobbed,
'Oh, deary me!'
And went back to bed.
'Nobody,'
He whimpered,
'Could call me
A fussy man;
I only want
A little bit
Of butter for My bread.'"

"Is that a gentle hint that you want feeding?" said Dwight sorrowfully.

"I am but a woman," said Jan.

Expert researchers, who can get you any information on any subject, are at your command, without charge to you. A two-cent stamp will bring you a personal answer to any inquiry of fact you may make. Thousands of newspaper readers use this great service. Try it today. Make your inquiry easily read and easily understood, and address the Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How deep is the ice at the South Pole?—L. W.

A.—The thickness of ice near the South Pole is estimated by Croll upon theoretical grounds to be from 12 to 14 miles, but off the coast of Victoria Land the ice is only from 10 to 20 feet high.

Q.—Who is at the head of the bureau of standards?—A. W. L.

A.—The director of the bureau of standards is George K. Burgess.

Q.—Who started the Red Cross Christmas seal?—B. A. T.

A.—Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Del. She designed the first Christmas seal, which was issued by the Delaware chapter American Red Cross.

Q.—When was Babe Ruth recognized as a home run hitter?—A. S.

A.—The Baseball magazine says that is was not until 1919, when he made 29 homers, that Ruth was recognized as unusual in this field. About half of his home runs have been made in New York and half when the team was on the road.

Q.—How many pounds are there in a sack of coffee as it is shipped to this country?—W. D.

A.—The bags usually contain about 132 pounds.

Q.—As an average, how many descendants has an American settler at the tenth generation?—J. N. B.

A.—Greatly differing estimates have been made. Donald L. Jacobus, the New England genealogist, is of the opinion that the total number of descendants of any one colonist of the period from 1620-1640 amounts to over 200,000. J. Gardner Bartlett, from examination of 10,000 families of New England, estimates 78,125 descendants in eight generations.

Q.—In going from Lake Superior to the ocean by way of the St. Lawrence river, what is the difference in elevation?—A. W.

A.—Lake Superior is about 600 feet above sea level. Lake Huron is 21 feet lower than Superior and Lake Erie about 8.5 feet below Huron. Lake Ontario is 326 feet below Erie, of which about 165 feet is represented by the drop at Niagara Falls and the balance by the Niagara gorge. The fall from Lake Ontario to Montreal harbor is about 226 feet and from Montreal harbor to the sea about 20 feet.

Q.—Why is a person who collects or studies coins called a numismatist?—C. N.

A.—The word has a Greek derivation, being composed of two words which mean current coin.

Q.—What part of Louisiana is known as the Teche country?—H. W.

A.—It is the lake or bayou part of the state.

Q.—Who invented Jiu-Jitsu?—B. M. S.

A.—The origin of Jiu-Jitsu is uncertain. It is attributed by some to a Japanese physician who learned the rudiments of the art in China. Others claim that it was in common use in Japan centuries before this time. Most are agreed that Jiu-Jitsu originated in China but that the Japanese have modified it greatly.

Q.—How long has the Jockey club existed?—B. T.

A.—It was incorporated under the laws of the state of New York, on Feb. 8, 1894. The first annual meeting was held Dec. 31, 1894. It now has jurisdiction over all the flat racing in the state of New York. It also ascertains and keeps a record of the pedigrees of horses in the United States. No horse can start in a race at a recognized meeting unless it has been registered and named.

Q.—May the United States grant titles of nobility?—N. S.

A.—Section 9 of article 1 of the constitution says: "No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States." In prerevolutionary days, the Lord Proprietor of Maryland had authority to grant nobiliary titles but no other American authority ever has had or exercised such a right.

SOCIETY NOTES AND CHURCH NEWS

Holiday Season Marked By Series Of Pretty Parties

With the holiday season in Wichita Falls devoted to youth and beauty, lovely girls are entertaining and being entertained in a constant succession of pretty parties. The soberer garbed young men furnish a reliable background at a succession of evening festivities.

Misses Mary Elizabeth and Matilda Donnell were charming hostesses on Monday and Tuesday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Donnell on Tilden, to bevies of pretty girls, when they entertained with two bridge luncheons.

Miss Marjorie Vincent was winner of high score prize Monday and Miss Merrill Strong, low, while on Tuesday, Miss Jane Moore won the high trophy and Miss Lida Lea, low. Small cases of note stationery in dainty pastel colors were used as cut prizes at each table on both occasions.

The pretty green and white motif observed in table covers, scores and tallies was prettily stressed in the tiny tapers burning on each pretty luncheon plate. There were 40 guests Monday and 48 Tuesday.

Informal at Home

Miss Niski Britain was hostess Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Judge and Mrs. A. H. Britain on Garfield, with an informal at home honoring her house guests, Misses Marion Spake and Winifred Mercer of Dallas. The glowing lights and the wide open fires stressed the hospitable air of the spacious rooms.

There was dancing and bridge for those who chose to stay and approximately 150 young people called to meet the charming guests.

Parties to Come

The holiday luncheon and program of the Junior Forum will take place at the Forum clubhouse Wednesday at 12 o'clock. Many members who are home from college will be present on this occasion.

Miss Helen Ramming, a student in Miss Hockaday's school in Dallas, who is visiting Mrs. Chester Wynne at her home in Country Club Estates, will be honoree Wednesday evening at a dance at the Wichita Golf and Country club.

A series of charming showers, luncheons and dinner parties will honor Miss Willette Jarrell, the lovely daughter of Mrs. A. K. Jarrell, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Robert Tucker Roark, was announced at a breakfast Saturday morning. These will continue until just prior to the wedding on Wednesday, Jan. 6.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

This game of bridge is a thing that seems to have come to stay. Messrs. Lenz and Culbertson have probably already drawn the maximum front page space for a battle without bloodshed.

One who began playing when it was merely "bridge whist" often wonders concerning future developments. When we were first introduced to it, the game was one where only the dealer and his partner had the great opportunity. You had to make trumps on your hand or bridge it to your partner, who had a recourse lacking in this day, of being able to make it spades to lose. Spades counted "two" per trick.

Bridge became passe—an utter weakling of a game, when auction came in. Being a person of much leisure and living at that time in a town where being a good bridge player added many stars to a social crown, we studied auction and became in time, something of an expert.

Bids had significance in our life. We played with other enthusiasts by the latest rules, exacting all penalties and keeping relentless score. When we were forced to play at a party and found ourself opposite a person who forgot the trump or could not count 13, we exchanged supercilious uplifts of our brows with the chosen few.

The lightest hearted person we knew—over-visionary and with never a thought for the morrow, was one of the best of bridge players. She never feared to take a chance. Her life and game were approximately the same. Having been taken care of by a loving family whenever she stumped her toe, stumping it at bridge had no terror for her. She went on the principle of "nothing venture, nothing win," and Lady Luck liked her. But she broke no rules of the game of auction at least.

In those days, games were so often significant of the people who played them. The woman who as dummy suggested plays by pushing forward dummy cards after peeping into her neighbors' hands sometimes cheated at life. The woman who played quickly and recklessly and met calamity at the hands of a cooler head, had a post mortem after life's fiasco as well as after that of bridge; she was famous for the latter. There were quiet, thoughtful, splendid players whose lives bore out the suggestion of their games.

Those days are past. Since contract came in, we have been too busy to qualify for the game and we have never yet enjoyed taking part in anything in which we could not interest our companions. Some day we shall make a study of contract. (It will probably end like that essay we were urged to write last year on "The Wise Use of Leisure," which we never had leisure to write.)

This very morning, for instance, we read that Mr. Lenz' partner quit him in a huff because Mr. Lenz questioned a psychic bid. We are all at sea about the meaning of a psychic bid. We attended a series of Culbertson lessons (to report on them) this summer and we kept notes on the back of an official code arranged by Mr. Work. Since that date, contract has been a confused nightmare to us. We are forced to believe that players, to be successful partners, must vibrate on the same plane.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Dec. 29.—The Athletic club, one of the most active clubs of Iowa Park, is planning an interesting meeting for the celebration of the passing of the year. Following a theater party in Wichita Falls, at which members of the clubs will be entertained by their husbands, a watch party will be held at the home of Mrs. Otis Kidwell in Iowa Park, with Mrs. Otis Gay as assistant hostess. It has been the custom of the club since its organization to hold a watch party to greet the old year adieu and welcome the new year in.

Colorado Banker Shot To Death in Office

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Dec. 29. (AP)—Willis V. Sims, 49, banker and civic leader, died today soon after he was found shot through the head in a rear room of the State Savings bank, of which he was president.

Coroner George B. Gilmore pronounced the death suicide. Friends and relatives were unable to ascribe any motive. A small revolver with one empty shell was found by Sims' side when a watchman discovered the dying man early this morning.

A notice on the door said the bank would be closed for the day because of Sims' death.

Our Children

Suppression

"And he races up and down the house yelling at the top of his lungs until I think I shall go mad."

"But why in the world don't you make him stop?" I asked.

"I don't want to suppress him. I hear so much about the evil suppression brings that I'm afraid to make him stop doing anything he wants to do. But I can't go on this way."

I should say not. There is suppression and there is another suppression and the one is good and the other is bad. Children are not born with a perfect set of characteristics. Perhaps once in the history of the race each of the unholy traits of childhood was useful. It might be that once it was a fine thing for a child to be able to shout and yell and race up and down the cave. If that time ever existed it has passed. The trait is no longer useful. It is a decided handicap. The only thing to do is suppress it. Tell the child he is to do his racing and shouting out in the playground and that when he comes into the house he is to be quiet just as everybody else is.

If he insists do a little insisting on your own part. Give him something to do. Find him an occupation and see that he gets at it promptly. Have no fear of injuring his character. You are doing it good. Children's growth needs to be well trimmed or it will choke itself out.

Every good point the child displays must be encouraged. Every bad point he discloses must be suppressed. We begin by showing our disapproval in silence, severe glances, refusal of cooperation. If this does not help we speak openly about the matter. If that does not bring results we act without saying another word.

Parents and teachers are responsible adults. Children are not. It is we to whom they must look for guidance. If we haven't enough common sense, enough faith in our own beliefs to hold the children in time of trouble, what good are we?

We know, we have proved by long experience, that waste of energy is bad for children. We know that bad manners, poor associations, long hours, irregular eating, wilfulness in spending money, greed for pleasure, excess of any kind, is bad for children. Then why not have the courage of our convictions? Why not act on the strength of our knowledge? Why stand aside helplessly wringing our hands while the children go headlong into difficulty?

There is a difference between parental control and parental oppression. Most intelligent people recognized that long ago. There is little danger that much of what ought to be suppressed is going to be permitted to grow like the green bay tree until it chokes out the very life of its victim.

All habit springs from practice. Strength comes by prolonged use of power. It is plain that if we strengthen, by use, the good traits of a child, and weaken by disuse, his poor ones, we do him a great and lasting kindness.

Welfare Reports Feature Legion Auxiliary Meet

Mrs. A. M. Hutchins, vice president, was in charge of the meeting when members of the American Legion auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon at the Memorial auditorium. After reading the minutes, Mrs. Frank Brown, secretary, read several communications which were voted on.

Mrs. R. H. Gregg, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, gave an interesting report of the holiday boxes sent disabled soldiers at San Angelo, and Mrs. L. K. Hotham gave a report from the rummage sale for the benefit of the drum and bugle corps.

Other reports were given as follows: Mrs. Geo. C. Shankle, local welfare work being done for needy families; Mrs. J. V. Leggett, Christmas boxes given; Mrs. Perry F. Wright, cradle roll work and Mrs. Hutchins, membership work.

The auxiliary voted to send a box of clothing to the children of disabled veterans at the home in Kerrville. Mesdames R. L. Williams, H. G. Bridwell, R. G. Wales, A. M. Davenport, J. J. Pistocco were introduced as new members.

State Weddings

EMENHISER-ALLEN

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Dec. 29.—Dr. Lee K. Emenhiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Emenhiser, Frederick, and Miss Mary Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allen, Oklahoma City, were married at the Charles Miles home in Oklahoma City, Dec. 19.

Dr. Emenhiser obtained his degree at Oklahoma university after finishing high school at Frederick, and met his wife while at school there. He is practicing medicine in Oklahoma with Drs. J. B. Eskridge and E. P. Allen.

The young people will be at home at 320 North Robinson, Oklahoma City. They are visiting Mr. Emenhiser's parents during the holidays.

Oklahoman Recovering After Fall Into Well

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Dec. 29.—Homer B. Qualls, deputy county weigher at Davidson, is recovering in a Frederick hospital from injuries he received when he fell in a well.

Qualls received a scalp wound, a broken left shoulder and a dislocated left elbow when he dropped 18 feet to the bottom of the Davidson city well.

Shortly after supper Sunday night Qualls went to the well to cut off the water. The floor of the well house had been removed unknown to Qualls and in the darkness of the building he stepped squarely into the yawning hole.

His cries attracted his brother, Les Qualls, Clarence Keys, and Leonard Hamm, who rescued him. He was given emergency treatment by Dr. R. E. Wilson of Davidson before being brought to the Frederick hospital.

College Students at Electra Honored

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Dec. 28.—The Epworth league of the First Methodist church sponsored a program honoring members of the league who are attending college. Mrs. Edna Bell Furgeson gave a chalk talk and Tracy Bell, president of the league, presided at the meeting. The college students were asked to tell of the activities in the colleges they were attending.

Those making the talks were Turner Lee Hendon, Simmons university, Abilene; Helen Dinsmore, College of Industrial Arts, Denton; Thelma Moss and Roy Curfman, Texas Technological college, Lubbock; Hub White and Ray Johnson, Cameron college, Lawton, Okla.

Man Unable to Find Work Returns to Jail

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 29. (INS)—Unable to find work in accordance with the provisions of parole for wife and child desertion, Floyd L. Moore, 28, prepared today to return to San Francisco and "face the music."

Moore surrendered himself at police headquarters here explaining that he was released on parole in June for 30 days to find work. Unable to find employment during the stipulated period, Moore failed to report back to the San Francisco courts.

ASHURST QUITS PROHI BOARD

Dry Says Senate Hearing Is Big Waste

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—Describing attempts to change the prohibition law as "a ridiculous waste of effort," Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, today withdrew from a senate judiciary subcommittee named to hold hearings on the subject.

In a statement Senator Ashurst said:

"I voted for the eighteenth amendment, for the Volsted law, for the anti-beer bill and for all the appropriations necessary to enforce the same.

Still Sure

"I do not believe I made any mistake in so voting.

"I have no time to waste in aiding those who are attempting to weaken or relax that amendment or those laws. It is a ridiculous waste of effort to attempt to relax or modify the prohibition laws. The people are looking for jobs, not jags."

Another friend of prohibition, Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, was appointed to fill Senator Ashurst's place by Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee.

Senator Black said he presumed he would serve if he was wanted on the committee, "but at the present time it is my opinion that the entire efforts of congress should be to do whatever it can to relieve the terrible conditions of unemployment and not to hear people's personal opinions on the eighteenth amendment."

Lineup Balanced

Chairman Norris pointed out that the change in personnel did not disturb the wet and dry lineup of the subcommittee.

"I named a wet chairman and put a majority of drys on the committee," he said. He listed Chairman Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, and Herbert, Republican, Rhode Island, as the wets and Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho; Walsh, Democrat, Montana, and Black, as the drys.

Norris said taking evidence was to "some extent foolish, but neither side will be satisfied without it."

Parents Hasten to Victim of Amnesia

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 29. (INS)—Apparently a victim of amnesia, Birdie Brock Liberman, 20, missing since February, today awaited the arrival of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Liberman of St. Louis, following her identification by police after being found dazed and helpless in the Tulsa residential district.

The young woman could not recall her name or any particulars about herself when found. Police learned, however, that she had entered a hospital at Claremore last February following an automobile accident in which she sustained head injuries.

The girl's father, a St. Louis merchant, furnished police with a description of his daughter which led to her identification.

Shawnee Suit Names Former City Mayor

SHAWNEE, Okla., Dec. 29. (UP)—Suit to collect $6,000 in allegedly mishandled city funds will be filed by the city of Shawnee against Nesi Wimmer, former mayor, city officials said today.

The officials said the suit would charge the former mayor whose administration closed 18 months ago, of making alleged illegal transfers in city paving district funds to retire bonds. The transfers, officials contended, caused a deficit of several thousand dollars in city funds. Judgment was to be asked for the full amount allegedly transferred.

Filipino Leader in U. S. To Back Independence

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29. (AP)—Desirous of obtaining political freedom for the Philippine Islands, even without economic guarantees from the United States, the insular independence commission headed by Senator Sergio Osmena, acting president of the Philippine senate, arrived here today from Manila en route to Washington to begin its work.

Senator Osmena said he felt the Islands would have little trouble in maintaining themselves politically and economically in the face of existing conditions if the present congress should grant them independence and make no special arrangements for trade with the United States.

The commission issued a statement asserting independence was the only solution of the Filipino immigration problem in America.

Gas Tax Evasion Gets Study in South Dakota

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 29. (AP)—Prevention of gasoline tax evasion was studied here today as representatives of organized petroleum products distributors met with Governor Green and state officials in charge of tax administration.

Appointment of a committee of three to recommend tax law changes was promised by Governor Green. C. W. Shields, chairman of the gas tax evasion committee of organized oil companies, has been recommended by gasoline dealers as their representative on the governor's group. A state official and a representative of the tax paying public will be the other members.

Another problem for discussion is advisability of appointment by State Treasurer A. C. Goodhope of auditors who would check gasoline shipments into South Dakota against tax payments.

Lone World-Cruiser Leaves San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29. (AP)—Capt. Edward Miles and his auxiliary sailing schooner, Sturdy II, started today for New York via the Panama canal to complete a round the world tour. He arrived here several weeks ago from the Orient. He is a Memphis, Tenn., carpenter, who is traveling alone. He built his boat himself.

Miles started from San Francisco Christmas eve but was forced back by a storm.

Negro Condemned for Stealing Shoes Of Sleeping Girl May Get Hearing

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 29. (AP)—The case of John Moore, negro, sentenced to die for first degree burglary because he entered the room of a sleeping girl and stole her shoes, will be laid before Tyre C. Taylor, executive counsel to Governor Gardner.

The negro's attorneys said they confidently expected the governor to grant a commutation of sentence, especially since Judge John H. Harwood had indicated a desire to save the negro from the electric chair, although he was forced to impose that sentence after the jury's first degree verdict.

In North Carolina, burglarious entry into a place where any one is sleeping carries the death penalty, without alternative, upon conviction.

DUAL SUICIDE ATTEMPT FAILS

Fire and Shot Leave Victim Slightly Hurt

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 29. (AP)—Stanley J. Hall, 31-year-old traveling representative of a Chicago bank and member of a well-known Lincoln, Neb., family, was recovering today from a grotesque attempt at suicide.

Hall, graduate of an eastern university, was found unconscious last night with a bullet wound in the back of his head beside his burning automobile.

He blamed discouragement over losing his job and domestic troubles.

His wife, Lucille, to whom he had been married five years, said they were not separated. His father-in-law, Attorney Henry E. Cutler, said Hall was a model youth until a few months ago when he began to drink. Since then, Cutler said, he had been wild and had threatened to take their child, Stanley J. Hall Jr., from his wife.

At the hospital Hall described to police his attempt at suicide. He said he first fired his automobile by lighting gasoline he had poured over the hood. This caused an explosion. Tortured by the flames, he turned his head and fired quickly three times, one of the bullets lodging in his neck.

Frederick Boys To Try Out for Careers in Army

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Dec. 29.—Arrangements for examinations to be held for appointments as cadets to West Point Military academy have been made by J. V. McClintic, congressman, with four local boys scheduled to undergo examination.

Winford Davidson and Henry Manning, Frederick; Hoyt Banks, Tipton, and John P. Clarke, Chattanooga, are the four named by McClintic. A total of 20 Oklahoma youths will enter the competitive examinations with McClintic's sanction.

Davidson is an Oklahoma university student, and Manning is messenger at the Frederick postoffice. Both were graduated from high school at Frederick.

Boys Get Suspended Terms for Fake Holdup

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 29. (AP)—Suspended sentences of five years were pronounced today in the cases of two youths who pleaded guilty yesterday of carrying out a fake holdup by which they obtained $1,000 from the Fidelity National bank.

The youths, Arthur Campbell, 17, former messenger for the bank, and Rex Sweeney, 18, pleaded guilty before George W. Clark, district judge. Acting on recommendation of the bank and its insurance company Judge Clark placed the boys in custody of relatives and ordered the return of $200 they had spent.

Wacoan Being Held by St. Louis Authorities

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 29. (INS)—Ben Thrasher, 25, formerly of Waco, Texas, was being held by St. Louis police today pending word from officials at Waco regarding what disposition is desired.

Thrasher was arrested at his home here early this morning on the request of Joseph Pinto Sr., of Waco. Pinto informed local police from Waco that Thrasher had mysteriously disappeared since Pinto had posted a bond when Thrasher was arrested on a charge of transporting liquor in Waco. Thrasher was reported by local police to have admitted his guilt.

Pickford and Fairbanks Prepare for Visitors

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 29. (INS)—Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, film stars, today prepared to entertain European guests during the Olympic games next summer in Los Angeles by having their home, Pic'-Fair, remodeled.

The Prince of Wales may be one of the guests at their home, Miss Pickford admitted.

Three new guest suites were added to the mansion and the interior was entirely remodeled. The cost was $15,000.

Repairs Made in Doors Of Tillman Courthouse

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Dec. 29.—The heavy outer doors of the Tillman county courthouse are being rehung, so as to make opening of them easier. The doors sagged from their original positions, so that more than the strength of an average woman was required to push them open. This has been their condition for several years, and they are just now being remedied.

PROBE SHOWS PRISON LIQUOR

Leavenworth Break Reveals Conditions

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Dec. 29. (AP)—Investigation of the recent escape of seven convicts from the Leavenworth federal penitentiary has revealed, The Times says, that liquor has been made inside the prison and that prisoners have been found to possess postage stamps and money in violation of the rules.

The liquor was said to have been made in the boiler room from fruits purloined from the kitchen and storehouse, or taken from the mess tables.

Arms Source Probed

Russell Hosler, convicted aviator-bootlegger sentenced from Detroit, was revealed as the prisoner who recently built a glider, purportedly with the intention of soaring to freedom from atop the prison shoe factory. Hosler has been released on the completion of his term. Prison officials admitted the glider had been confiscated but said it was a small model and they doubted it would carry a human passenger.

The investigation into the source of firearms used by the seven convicts in their unsuccessful break for liberty has been resumed with the return to Leavenworth of Hugh Larimer and F. J. Lackey, agents of the department of justice.

Discipline Stricter

Other agents also have been spending considerable time here and in other states tracing the weapons in possession of the convicts, three of whom were killed and four recaptured after taking Warden T. B. White as hostage and wounding him and two other prison officials.

Stricter discipline prevails in line with changes ordered by Sanford Bates, director of federal prisons, who reported his investigation of the prison break disclosed laxity among the guards.

Prisoners are not permitted to congregate in groups in the yard and all trusties detailed outside the walls are searched thoroughly upon leaving and entering.

The investigation also is concerned with the personal conduct of some guards.

Thieves Take Materials At Wichita, Kansas, New Postoffice

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 29. (INS)—Unless thieves stop their systematic method of carrying off building materials, completion of Wichita's new postoffice building is going to be delayed.

Several slabs of marble have been taken from concrete settings, electric light fixtures have been removed from walls, and plumbing supplies spirited away.

Night watchmen, federal inspectors and a police guard have failed to stop the thefts.

Spurned Suitor Kidnaps Dallas Girl After Snub

DALLAS, Dec. 29. (AP)—Miss Anna Mae Williams was kidnaped this afternoon by a youthful admirer, who asserted she had "high toned" him in church and declined his matrimonial pleas.

H. J. Weatherly, manager of the office where the girl was employed, told police the kidnaper forced her to accompany him at the point of a pistol, driving her away in Weatherly's automobile.

"Come on with me. You're going to marry me. You've high-toned me at church long enough," Weatherly quoted the young man as telling the 17-year-old girl as he dragged her from the office.

Weatherly said Miss Williams had been home and was returning to the office when the kidnaper accosted her, following her into the office.

A charge of kidnaping Miss Williams by "threat, force and firearms" was filed against Ray Spauldin. Officers were attempting to trace him.

Treatment With Chemical Rays

Civilized people are becoming sun-conscientious. The fact that newspapers and magazines are devoting so much space to articles describing the ultra-violet rays shows that there is a nation-wide, if not a world-wide, eagerness to learn more concerning this interesting chemical ray which is essential to life. Every year sees an increasing number of people who, during the summer months, take advantage of the healing, healthful effects of the God-given sunlight which is free to all of those who accept it.

During the winter months the healthful effect of the ultra-violet rays becomes less available partly because one does not feel like going out in a bathing suit during cold weather and partly because the ultra-violet rays in the sunlight are less concentrated during the winter months and have less value. This is believed to be one of the reasons why many contagious diseases such as colds and influenza are more prevalent during the winter months.

Science here has come to the rescue and there are now many different types of lamps which will produce a similar healthful ultra-violet light to that found in the natural light of the sun. Some of these lamps are known by various names, such as actinic light lamp, quartz light, Alpine light, Kromire lamp, mercury quartz, and carbon arc lamps, etc. One of our largest electrical manufacturing companies is now making an electric bulb which can be screwed in any ordinary light outlet and will produce ultra-violet rays. With these conveniences offered by modern science it should be possible for everyone to have access to the ultra-violet light even during the winter months.

Sun tan became a fad last summer, and it is to be hoped that this will not be a passing fad but will permanently endure and that the white, pasty, corpse-like complexions which were so popular a generation ago will never be seen again.

As used in a doctor's office the ultra-violet rays have proven of inestimable value. These rays must be given to the patient on the bare skin, and usually both the patient and the nurse wear special glasses to protect the eyes, as a too great intensity of the ray may cause a temporary eye inflammation. The patient may first be exposed to the light for one-half minute to the front and one-half minute to the back of the body. The time of exposure may be increased about one-half minute each day until the patient can take three and one-half minutes of light upon any one surface of the skin. It is never advisable to begin taking the light too long, for any one, who has stayed in the sun until sunburn developed, will realize that, while a fair amount of the ultra-violet is very good, too much becomes painful and even dangerous. It is the same with the artificial ultra-violet light as with the sun's actinic rays. The exposure at first must be carefully regulated.

The treatment with the ultra-violet rays increases the body's resistance in general and also its ability to absorb calcium and to metabolize the fats. It has been used with great success in anemia, tuberculosis, rickets, and many other diseases. When used with intensity upon a local region, the light may be used to remove moles and warts, or to sterilize special surfaces and is available to be used in cavities such as the mouth, nose, and ears. The light may be used in the treatment of inflamed tonsils, or, in fact, any part of the body which it is possible to reach with the rays. The rays do not penetrate deeply and for this reason can only be applied upon the surface of the skin and mucous membranes. They do have an effect upon the blood, however, passing through the surface capillaries, and in this way their healthful action may be conveyed through the entire body.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Nitrogen Foods and Potassium Broth

Question—Mrs. U. Writes: "Please tell me a list of nitrogen foods. For what ailments is potassium used and how is it made?"

Answer—Nitrogen foods are foods which contain protein. Some of the better type of protein foods are: Chicken, rabbit, turkey, lean beef, mutton, fish, eggs, cottage and cream cheese, and gelatin. A potassium broth might be theoretically useful in any ailment caused by lack of potassium in the diet. A broth of this nature would be made by stewing together various vegetables rich in potassium, such as lettuce, kale, tomatoes, celery, rutabagas, water cress, mushrooms, sorrel, cabbage, dandelions, swiss chard, turnips. A lack of potassium is believed to produce a lack of nervous and mental vitality. Potassium assists in forming glycogen in the body, storing fats, and in converting peptones and proteoses.

One Side Larger Than the Other

Question—O. O. writes: "One side of my body seems larger than the other. What would cause this, and what can I do about it?"

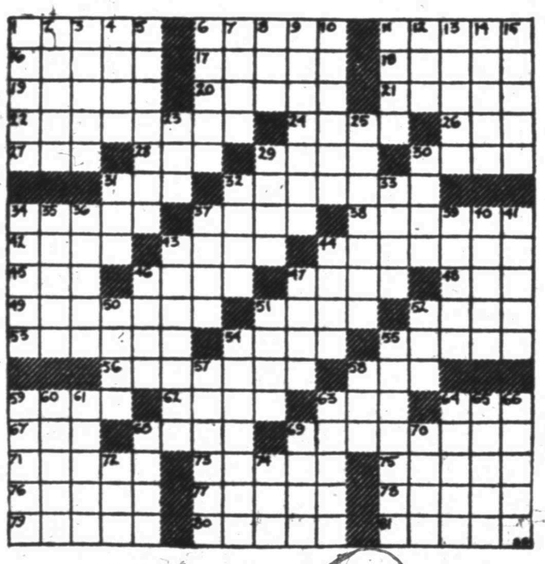

Answer—Exact measurements will show that one side of the body is larger than the other. This may be caused by some nerve affection. There is another theory, believed in by some, that sleeping habitually on one side makes the body larger on thes ide nearest the bed, because the continued pressure interferes with the circulation. In any case, the cure would be through taking well-balanced exercises and doing everything to help the circulation.

COACHES NAME COMMITTEE TO STUDY FOOTBALL DANGERS

The Ambler's Corner

By BILL JENKINS

All the big moguls of football have met in New York to discuss the things that are wrong with football. Headed by their president, Chick Meehan, that was so mercilessly thrown out of New York university because he failed for the first time in quite a few years to put out a winning football team, they decided that football needed no defense. If anybody has a right to think football is over-emphasized, it is Chick Meehan. He came to New York when they had football teams that hardly ever won games, and developed a consistent winner. But soon as he loses a little money and fails to win as many games as usual, he is removed from the football coaching staff.

Coach Lou Little of Columbia university has written to 273 varsity captains of football and uncovered some rather astounding facts. This questionnaire asked if football was over-emphasized as the first question. As to over-emphasis, 179 said there was none, 23 said there was, and 54 said, "in some places." The agitators for less emphasis on football will say that this questionnaire was written to a prejudiced class, but who is more qualified to judge, than captains of varsity squads.

This questionnaire also discovered that time spent on practice and lecture was less than half that spent on a college publication; about two-thirds the time crew requires and much less than lacrosse or dramatics. If the people think that boys spend too much time on other things besides their studies, why don't they try to abolish or modify dramatics the college publications. The only reason that they want to abolish or modify football is because so much money is made in football, and because it arouses so much interest in the student body, while dramatics and other student activities interest only a small portion of the student body. These two things should not be considered a liability, but an asset. Football alone in most colleges earns enough money to support the other sports of the college, and it is much better to have an activity that interests all the students than one that interests only a few.

Another question in the questionnaire was one that asked why this individual played football. Forty-four players played because they loved the game, and 98 played it for educational reasons. Other answers to this question were: "Game builds character," "football is man builder," "preparation for life." Any game that will do all this for a young boy is certainly worth the price. The 46 players killed this year by football is certainly a large number, but give a thought to the number of young boys that play the game every season. Not only the college teams, but thousands of high schools and junior high schools maintain football teams every season.

This meeting will certainly decide to take some action about the great number of fatalities, such as the floating kickoff or the abolishment of the "flying wedge." But football as it is now played is not over-emphasized.

Three sets of twins are on the University of Minnesota's prospective 1932 tennis squad.

MANY CHANGES ARE SUGGESTED

Heisman Would Adopt Open Play Like Rugby

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Football's major problem—almost 50 deaths in 1931—reared up from the sidelines where it had been officially relegated today to force the naming of an investigation committee with orders to study the situation and report back to the Football Coaches association next winter.

Hardly had Burt Ingwersen, reporting on possible rules changes, announced "coaches are well satisfied with the rules as they are" before a storm of suggestions for changes designed to protect players broke loose.

They ranged all the way from John Heisman's suggestions that massed interference be abolished and football be turned into modified English rugby, down to "Pop" Warner's written advice that soft padding and yielding leather helmets be substituted for the protectors he believes "don't defend a player and merely give out punishment."

Thorough Study Ordered

The outcome of it all was the naming of a committee, headed by Dr. Mal Stevens of Yale, new president of the association, to study the causes of the football injuries and deaths that reached a record total last season. The committee was asked to go into the matter as exhaustively as Lou Little and his committee did before reporting today, after a year's study, that football was not over-emphasized.

Ingwersen said discussions with 50 coaches had indicated there might be reasons to consider the possibilities of a higher tee for kickoffs, the restricting of the seven defense linemen to positions between their own 40 and 50-yard lines on kickoffs, clear definition of forward pass interference, a new rule on roughing a forward passer, putting the goal posts back on the goal line to increase field goal, and the advisability of permitting the intercepter of a lateral pass on a kickoff play to run with the ball. He made no specific recommendations.

Diving Dangerous

Ingwersen opened the discussion with the opinion that boys were hurt by diving headlong, in their eagerness, into wedge plays when they were coached to roll under them sideways. Herb McCracken, of Lafayette, said a personal poll of high school superintendents and principals in 19 of the deaths revealed that physical examination beforehand would have shown, as the autopsies, that all were physically unfit to play football.

Heisman then warned the coaches that "aroused public opinion" would wipe out football if next season proved as deadly as 1931. Coaches, he said, were carrying college technique and massed interference into high school ranks not physically capable of that type of play.

He suggested the elimination of linemen, pulled out of the forward wall and thrown ahead of runners on end sweeps, and would compensate for that by permitting the linemen to trail the backs and take backward passes legally.

Warner, who was unable to come here for the meeting from Stanford, prefaced his pertinent suggestions with the observation that "the game is no different, no more dangerous, than in the past, but we could make some changes."

In addition to the election of Dr. Stevens, Yale head coach, as president succeeding John F. "Chick" Meehan, the coaches named Dan McGugin, of Vanderbilt, first vice president, and Dana X. Bible of Nebraska, second vice president. Bill Cowell, of New Hampshire, again was elected secretary-treasurer.

Tulane Meets Trojans in Rose Bowl Game

Rival captains of Tulane and Southern California and the gigantic bowl in which their teams will play in the annual Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's day, are shown above. Tulane, though undefeated this season, enters the game the "underdog" due to the tremendous scores rolled up by Southern California after an opening game setback. Dalrymple, Tulane's All-America end, and Williamson, 198-pound Trojan center, have been outstanding all season.

BURK TEAMS CLASH FRIDAY

Bulldogs and All-Stars to Settle Grudge

The Burkburnett Bulldogs will end their football season New Year's day when they meet the Burkburnett All-Stars in the annual game between these two teams on Wester field. The proceeds of this game will go for a fund to buy sweaters for both teams.

These two teams played two games last year, dividing the games with a score of 6 to 0 in both cases. Each team has shown great improvement over last season, and a fast scrappy game is anticipated.

Judging by advance sales, there will be a record crowd at this contest. It is highly probable that the business houses of the city will close for the occasion.

Both teams will go on the field in the peak of training, and each will be determined to break the deadlock from last season. The All-Stars under the direction of Sikes Smith have had a successful season, as well as the Bulldogs.

The game is called at 2:30 p. m.

Caution May Be Thrown to Winds When Greenies and Trojans Clash

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29. (US)—University of Southern California and Tulane football squads worked frantically today in preparation for the Rose Bowl classic on New Year's day at Pasadena. Frantic is the only definite word one can use in describing the activities.

Indications were that when the Trojans and the Greenies meet on Friday there will be no such thing as caution. The Trojans are preparing to match the speed and passing attack of the New Orleans aggregation with an aerial offensive of their own.

Devise New Plays

Coach Howard Jones was busy today devising new plays. Gus Shaver, best triple-threat back of the Trojans, was working on the throwing end of a passing game and so Jones' concoctions are intended to get Ray Sparling, Garrett Arbelbide and Tom Mallory into the open.

Power plays will be used, of course, to draw in the Tulane defense so that the passes will be workable. But the real threats are scheduled to come through the air.

As for the New Orleans outfit, Coach Bernie Bierman was all activity as he formulated a power threat of his own. His object is to keep the Trojans from concentrating their defense on the aerial game. Tulane's hope centers in passing, with Don Zimmerman rated as the most skilled pigskin tosser in the South.

Backfield Undecided

Bierman has not yet fully decided on his backfield combine. Red Dawson, Zimmerman, Felts and "Wop" Glover have been his selection. Now he debates the possibility of sending in Payne for one of the halfback chores in place of Glover.

Inasmuch as Payne has been listed as the best ball-toter of the season, with the exception of Zimmerman, this would give Tulane a better running attack.

For bone-crushing line plunging the Green wave has Harold Lemmon, one of the hardest hitting fullbacks in the South, while Pat Richardson, sub quarterback, and James Hodgins and George Haik, reserve halfbacks, have proven able to carry on with the ability of the Tulane starters.

All of the Trojans are now back in the fold, having recovered from their colds. Such being the case, Coach Jones indicated today that he will start the same lineup that he did against Georgia.

Heavy rains of the past few days caused considerable concern here, as it was feared the Rose Bowl would not be in condition for Friday's intersectional classic. But clearing skies and warm sunshine, present today, should put the playing field in shape. The weather bureau indicates that the present storm is moving inland and that there is no more rain in sight.

REAGAN SQUAD WORKING HARD

Beck Pushes Green Crew For Coming Games

Coach Beck of Reagan is displaying his intention of having a championship junior high school basket ball team by holding a two-hour workout at the high school every afternoon during the Christmas holidays. There are about 14 boys reporting daily for practice.

Coach Beck is forced to contend with the greenest bunch of boys in many years, but they have shown vast improvement since the beginning of practice. The only player that he has from last season is J. L. Creecy, lanky center. The rest of the team has had very little experience in the cage sport.

The squad has worked on the fundamentals of the game so far this season, but they will begin the finer points of the game in a few days, according to Coach Beck. The boys have not played a game this season, but they will engage at least two junior high school teams next week.

J. L. Creecy is the outstanding player in early practice, but candidates for the other positions are fast rounding into shape. The leading forwards are Raymond Roberts, manager of the championship football team, and Nolan Cordell. The leading candidates for the guard positions are Steve Kennedy and David Asheraft.

Youth of 19 to Captain Harvard Football Team

LORAIN, Ohio, Dec. 29. (AP)—Harvard university next fall will be captained by one of the youngest gridiron leaders in the country. He is Carl Hageman of Lorain, who is 19 years old.

Hageman has distinguished himself by salesmanship and scholarship. He became one of the 200 star salesmen of a publishing company in his elementary school days, and at Ohio Wesleyan university won the scholarship that sent him to Harvard.

In high school he gave up selling for the muscle-building job of coal passing on Great Lakes freighters.

Hageman is the first westerner since Arnold Horween to captain a Crimson eleven, and the first Harvard end since 1901 to be so honored.

Oregon Students Favor New Name for Grid Team

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 29. (AP)—College students have to be changing something.

Being satisfied with their football coach at the University of Oregon this year the students picked on their athletic name "Webfoots." A movement is under way to change to moniker.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears, the grid mentor, has suggested "Pioneers" and "Pioneers" it may be when the next football season arrives.

Texas Net Players Lead Athletes in Classroom

AUSTIN, Dec. 29. (AP)—Tennis players at the University of Texas earn measurably higher grades than athletes participating in other inter-collegiate sports. The average of tennis players is 6.15; basket ball, 5.56; golf, 5.46; track, 5.23; football, 5.03; baseball, 4.99.

The tennis, basket ball and golf players rank above the general scholastic average of 5.35.

Two Main Events On Grapple Card

Promoter Connor will give the wrestling fans of the city a treat New Year's night when he will present a double main event, on which Whitey Grovo will meet Pat O'Brien, and Cowboy Teddy Waters will engage George Ligosky, the bearded Russian.

Whitey Grovo and Pat O'Brien have always been big favorites of the Wichita Falls grapple fans. Cowboy Teddy Waters has fought many times in Wichita Falls and has always been a favorite of the crowd.

George Ligosky is a stranger in this part of the country, but his ferociousness is bound to please the fans. He is a large fellow that wrestles with a full beard. He is a full-blood Russian, and one of the meanest guys that follow the catch-as-catch-can sport.

Besides the double main events, there will be two preliminaries between local wrestlers. Promoter Conner makes the statement that this will be one of the best cards presented in Wichita Falls since he renewed the sport in Wichita Falls.

Cage Coach Concocts Rule to Offset 'Rules'

FAYETTE, Mo., Dec. 29. (AP)—One-point victories in basket ball would be tabooed under a plan suggested by C. A. Clingenpeel, coach at Central college, here for nearly 30 years.

To relieve the official from deciding a close game by his judgment on a foul, Clingenpeel would require victory by at least three points, with the last points made on a field goal and not a free throw. An extra period would be played if necessary.

A team losing by three points "knows it is licked," Clingenpeel contends, whereas the better team often loses on a last minute break under present rules.

The Central coach also has a scheme to do away with the "stalling" game unpopular with customers. Play would continue until one team had scored 30 points instead of for 40 minutes.

Tennis Star Tries Hand At College Court Game

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 29. (AP)—"Lefty" Bryan, who eliminated Patrick Hughes of the English Davis cup team in his three rounds in the national singles play last summer, is preparing for the tennis wars next season.

"Lefty," who has played football and basket ball at Vanderbilt and so missed much needed practice with the racket, stayed out of football this year.

But he is out for the college basket ball team and will resume his tennis play in the spring as soon as the basket ball season is over. Previously spring and fall football play cut short his tennis season.

Albie Booth Shows A Marked Improvement

WALLINGFORD, Conn., Dec. 29. (INS)—Things are looking up a little for little Albie Booth. The Yale football star, stricken with pleurisy and brought to Gaylord farm sanatorium here a month ago at the height of his athletic career, is enjoying the holidays with the prospect that in another month he may be able to leave his cot for a visit to his home in New Haven.

He will, however, be under care of Gaylord farm physicians for at least six months.

ELECTRA FACES ACTIVE WINTER

County Track Meet Features Year's Schedule

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Dec. 29.—A busy schedule awaits the Electra students and teachers after the opening of the schools Jan. 4. The county track meet will be held here this year, and much work will have to be done in preparation for the various events. Mid-term examinations are to be held during January and a number of basket ball and volley ball games in the round robin system will be played during the month.

Beginning Feb. 5 and 6 tournaments will be played. The volley ball and basket ball tournaments are to be played on that date and the winners will meet the round robin winners Feb. 12 to 13 to determine the Wichita county champions. The tournament for the junior basket ball and volley ball games will be held Feb. 12-13. March 19 will be devoted to the tennis tournaments, both girls and boys and will continue through March 20 if necessary. The literary, track, and field events will be held March 25-26.

Directors for the county meet have been announced as follows: General director, Supt. B. M. Dinsmore, Electra; director of debate, Supt. Butler Westerfield, Burkburnett; director of extemporaneous speaking, E. R. Stroud, Electra; director of declamation, Mrs. H. V. Williams, Iowa Park; director of spelling, Miss Ida Lee Falls, Electra; director of athletics, Coach Harvey Stanford, Electra; director of music memory, Helen Hope Carney, Burkburnett; director of storytelling, Miss Ethel Kidwell, Iowa Park; director of art memory, Mrs. W. C. Vaunn, Wichita Falls, route 4; director of arithmetic, Miss Willa Watson, Iowa Park; choral singing, Ruby Price, Electra; rural schools, J. A. Hood.

Electra Tigers Lag in Basket Ball Scoring

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Dec. 29.—In the three practice tilts with teams from neighboring towns this season the Tiger basket ball players have scored 61 points as compared to the 108 points scored by opposing quintets. In the opening game, the Tigers defeated Allendale, 24 to 19. The Vernon Lions swamped the Tigers, 54 to 26, and Monday night the cagers from Harrold downed the Tigers, 30 to 16.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Trading in cotton was slightly more active today with prices ruling moderately higher.

The advance followed trade buying combined with some local or Wall street demand and covering, promoted by firmness in grain and the better ruling of the stock market. March sold up to 6.53 or 13 points net higher and closed at 6.52, with the general market closing very steady at net advances of 12@16 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3@5 points on a renewal of trade demand, which included some buying believed to be for far eastern account.

According to the New York cotton exchange service, world's consumption for November is estimated at 996,000 bales, making 3,913,000 for the first four months of this season comparing with 929,000 bales for November last year and 3,555,000 for the first four months of last season.

Liverpool cables said that trade calling in that market had been supplies by local liquidation and that the demand for cotton goods from India and China was poor. Exports today 71,834, making 3,950,974 so far this season. Port receipts 72,913. U. S. port stocks 4,669,392.

Futures closed very steady, 12 to 16 points higher. Spot steady, middling 6.55.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29. (AP)—While trading in cotton was quiet most of the day, the market became active near the end. Prices were on the upgrade all session, following an unchanged start, owing to an advance in stocks, which caused trade buying and shorts covering. Highs of the day were made at the end, and the market closed steady at the top, showing net advances for the day of 10@12 points.

At the opening, Liverpool cables came in 1 penny point worse than due. Private cables stated the trade called and there was local liquidation.

In late trading March advanced to 6.49, May to 6.67 and July to 6.82 or 10@12 points above the previous close.

Liverpool is due tomorrow 4 penny points up on New Orleans.

Port receipts 64,411; for week 118,109; for season 6,252,415; last season 7,003,680. Exports 66,832; for week 85,191. For season 3,866,656; last season 3,797,680. Port stock 4,712,496. CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Dec. 29. (AP)—Cotton was quiet but steady today and closed at the top. Final prices were 10 to 11 points net higher cables were about as due but sterling was a shade off. American cotton markets opened practically unchanged and first prices at Chicago were from 1 point up to 1 point down. It was said that trade buying especially by the Japanese was sufficient to take care of southern offerings. Exports continued heavy and spot buying basis was high. The revival of demand for dry goods was predicted during January. Light rain fell in east North Carolina and South Texas. Much of the belt was cloudy and temperatures were mild. The forecast was for scattered showers over much of the south.

Stocks Recover Monday's Losses While Bonds Hit New Low Levels

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (US)—Stocks performed better than bonds today. The former recovered their decline of the previous day, while bond prices slipped lower.

United States government issues and treasury obligations were in free supply, all of the issues, with a single exception, reaching new low prices for the present downward movement and some selling at the lowest price since their issuance.

Improvement in stock quotations apparently developed mainly from internal market conditions, probably reflection of an oversold condition incidental to day-to-day short selling. The advance was maintained for several points before meeting opposition from a renewal of offerings, but net gains were retained in the majority of stocks to the close.

The selling of bonds may have been partially in response to nervousness, but the more immediate influence was the further tightening of money rates incidental to year-end factors. Volume of transactions in stocks rose to 2,400,000 shares.

A prime factor in today's recovery was the intimation from Washington that the capital gain and loss tax may be abolished. A good deal of selling has been taking place for the account of people anxious to record their losses before the year end and thereby register the depreciation which has occurred. As a matter of fact, the best-informed people have anticipated for some time substantial alteration, if not abolition of the capital gain-loss tax provisions, and have been desirous of taking all possible depreciation this year.

Such selling undoubtedly has been an important factor in forcing prices down of late, although it can hardly be the sole influence in the decline. Nevertheless, the Washington advices were instrumental, according to brokers, in inducing some lifting of the pressure.

Weakness in bonds gave rise to numerous explanations and the whispered suggestion that the gold standard's abandonment may be the fundamental cause attracted more widespread attention. This theory will receive far wider recognition should the stock market confirm the possibility by maintaining an uptrend, while bond prices continue lower.

That some degree of "inflation," however described, will be witnessed, is now more widely accepted as one of the 1932 prospects. Whether it comes through the enormous government financing program which seems essential in view of the large treasury deficit, or to meet other demands, is secondary to the prime fact that increased credit is likely to be available.

The reconstruction corporation, for example, alone may demand two billions of new issues, in some fashion guaranteed by the government or similarly protected. If the corporation's securities are made eligible for rediscounting at the federal reserve, an enormous expansion in credit will result.

The popular way of describing the possible inflation is to assert "the dollar will be cheapened." But the logical expectation would be to see commodities or stocks, or perhaps both, discount such a possibility by advancing in price.

There is evident some degree of of accumulation in a limited number of shares. The principal incentive for such buying is the hope that with the turn of the year a better feeling will develop and that a "seasonal rise" will be possible. At the same time, even the buyers are conceding that no great fundamental change is evident.

The foreign situation still commands the greatest attention from the banking community.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Cotton goods were quiet today. Percales were firmer. Burlap markets advanced on higher cables from Calcutta. Rayon-wide sale fabrics and crepes continue in steady demand. Wool goods selling is of a filling in character. Silk prints are developing more buying interest.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 29. (AP)—Fair demand continued on the cash grain market. Offerings were light.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered gulf ports, export rate, or group three points, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 58¾@59¾c; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 60¾@61¾c; 14 per cent protein 64¾@65¾c; 15 per cent 68¾@69¾c; 16 per cent 72¾@73¾c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 65@67c; No. 2 kaffir 65@67c.

Basis delivered group one points:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 42@43c; No. 2 white 43@44c; No. 2 yellow 44@46c.

Delivered group three points: Oats No. 3 red 23½@26c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 29. (AP)—Taking fresh courage from cheerful action of the New York stock market, all grains went briskly upward today.

Reports of crop damage by Hessian fly in Illinois and Indiana winter wheat and of persistent unwelcome rains in Argentina tended to promote the advance. Scantiness of domestic receipts of wheat, together with tightening of cash premiums for immediate delivery, acted as an additional bullish factor.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1¼@1⅜c above yesterday's finish; corn, 1¼@1⅝c up; oats, showing ⅝@1⅝c gain, and provisions 5@15c down.

Corn and oats displayed strength at times, though mainly influenced by upswings of wheat. Absence of selling pressure in corn especially was conspicuous and traders with contracts to be fulfilled gave evidence of being harried.

Provisions receded with hog values and because of lard price declines at Liverpool.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Dec. 53⅞c, 57⅛c; May 56@56⅛c, 57⅝@⅝c; July, 55½@⅝c, 56⅞@57c. Corn, May 41c, 42@42⅛c, July 42⅛c, 43⅛c.

COTTON CONSUMPTION

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. (AP)—The New York Cotton Exchange service estimated world consumption of American cotton during November at 996,000 bales against 1,017,000 in October and 929,000 in November of last year. Total consumption in the four months ended Nov. 30, constituting the first third of the season, was 3,913,000 bales against 3,555,000 in the same period a year ago.

COPPER PROSPECTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—The copper industry expects that several weeks—perhaps two months—must elapse before the curtailment agreement can make itself felt. Meanwhile, it is believed December stocks of copper will show a rather substantial increase and that there also will be an increase in January, although there should be a reduction in February. Currently, buying is small both here and abroad.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 29. (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Medium to good fed steers and yearlings made up the bulk of supply and sold at steady to 25c lower levels with a range of $4.50@7.25 taking most of them and a few loads at $7.50@9.75. Three loads of choice long yearlings in Omaha sold up to $10.50. Some activity developed on she stock and values were generally steady to 25c higher. General bulk of short fed heifers cleared at $4.50@6.00, with a few up to $7. Stockers and feeders were in limited supply at about steady prices with $3.50@5 taking the bulk. A few loads turned at $5.25@5.75. Receipts at 11 markets for the week were more than doubled as compared with the same period last week and this has given buyers an opportunity to exert and enforce the bearish trend.

Hog values were generally steady to 10c lower with a top of $4.70 taking best butchers in St. Louis.

Lambs bounded back to higher levels when values were tabulated at steady to 25c in advance to prevailing figures yesterday. A liberal quota of better grade lambs moved at $5.50@6, with others at $5.25 and down. Fat ewes sold up to $2.50 and a few feeders made $4@4.40.

GAS UPHOLDING F. D. R. ESCAPES

Presidential Boom Losing Altitude Fast

By LOUIS SEIBOLD

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (US)—The Roosevelt presidential boom seems to be losing altitude and distance. Its ceiling is much lower than it was before the vocal gas which carried it aloft began escaping.

Three reasons can be advanced to explain the change in the governor's prospects for landing of the Democratic prize: His failure to encourage the organization of widely separated units favoring his nomination is one. His evasion of the prohibition issue is another. The third is his implied acceptance of the support of the Ku Klux element responsible for the defeat of Gov. Al Smith.

These three events have strengthened the control of the nomination by the combination of powerful leaders manifestly determined to prevent Mr. Roosevelt from winning.

Volunteers Thwarted

It is significant that these leaders have stopped the volunteer Roosevelt managers from penetrating their state preserves. Or course, he may break in later on. At present the hostile groups will apparently control more than three-fifths of the thousand odd delegates who will sit in the nominating convention.

Nine-tenths of the friendly gestures to the New York governor have been contributed by the dry delegates. At the same time the volume of support apparently assured Mr. Roosevelt is far and away the most impressive than that of any other prospective contender.

But there is no gainsaying the fact that in order to win he will have to overcome a handicap which at present is seemingly insurmountable. The opposing leaders headed by the Smith-Raskob combination, Frank Hague, the New Jersey boss, and the majority leaders in the eastern and western states will naturally try to hold their forces together with a good prospect of success.

How It Looks

A preliminary check of the Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt forces today warrants the prediction that the governor may secure the delegates from 25 states. These are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. Of these 18 are dry and "anti-Smith states."

In the opposing group which at present may be regarded as anti-Roosevelt are Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Every big bloc of delegates except those representing California, Georgia, Kansas, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Texas and Tennessee are at present placed in the anti-Roosevelt group.

The combination opposed to the New York governor plans to tie up to a long string of "favorite sons" with some queer combinations and prospects. One is Newton D. Baker with Mayor Walker of New York as his running mate. Another contemplates Governor Ritchie of Maryland and Gov. George White of Ohio. The third is Gov. Harry Byrd of Virginia with Governor Roosevelt on the tail of the ticket.

All and any of these combinations are unlikely. Their present value to anti-Roosevelt forces lies in the appeal they would make to local sentiment.

Most of the support verbally proffered the governor is due to his opposition to a wringing wet declaration by his party. Other elements of the support offered him are predicated on the belief that he can carry states lost to Governor Smith because of the latter's religious faith. A third source of friendship to him is inspired by his so-called "progressive" views including regulation of power and utility enterprises.

The fundamental causes for opposition to him are his leaning towards internationalism but more largely his apparent willingness to profit from the misfortunes of his political patron Al Smith.

YOUNG COUNTY LOCATION

The United Producers have staked out location for its No. 4 Larimore test to be drilled 200 feet from the east, and 150 feet from the north line of southwest corner of its 41-acre lease out of the Larimore land in section 2246, T. E. & L. survey, north of Newcastle in Young county.

ARCHER COUNTY WILDCAT

Jack Story and associates No. 1 Langford Investment, located in section 134, J. W. Harris subdivision, Archer county, cored into a sandy lime from 2181 to 2209 feet but failed to show oil. Preparations to take another core from 2209 feet are under way. The test is two miles northwest of Archer City in wildcat territory.

SUNSHINE HILL FAILURE

George Proctor has abandoned as a dry hole at a depth of 1093 feet, his No. 1 George L. Dobie, (Overall) located in D. L. & C. survey, abstract 711, in Wichita county. The test which is also located 400 feet west of the Dingee No. 1 producer in the same survey, producing from an 886-foot pay failed to pick up either the 886 and 1025-foot sands.

CHALK HILL POOL

The Deep Oil & Lindsay No. 3 L. F. Wilson, lease A-5, A. T. N. C. L. survey, block 75, Archer county, drilled out the plug from the sand Tuesday afternoon and is showing for 125 barrels in its present condition on the swab. The test which picked up the pay low from 2251-64 feet is located two locations north of the 5700-foot deep test.

SOUTHWEST OF IOWA PARK

United Producers No. 4 Kemp-Blair, in section 44, W. V. F. L. in southwest Wichita county, is looking for the 1650-foot sand and drilling at 1590 feet.

NORTH OF HARMEL POOL

George Alexander and associates No. 1 J. A. Wood, located in section 2409, T. E. & L. survey, a semi-wildcat test located north of the old Harmel pool in southwest Archer county, is setting pipe to test out the sand from 1335 to 1340 feet.

102. LEGAL NOTICES

NO. 1063

An ordinance amending section 1, 4, 7 and 9 of ordinance No. 558, passed and approved on the 10th day of August, 1926, entitled, "An ordinance defining 'milk' and certain milk products, 'milk producer,' 'pasteurization,' etc., prohibiting the sale of adulterated and misbranded milk and milk products, requiring permits for the sale of milk and milk products, regulating the inspection of dairy farms and milk plants, the testing, grading, labeling, placarding, pasteurization, regrading, distribution, sale and denaturing of milk and milk products, providing for the publishing of milk grades, the construction of future dairies and milk plants, the enforcement of this ordinance, and the fixing of penalties," and declaring an emergency: Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Section 1.—That the first paragraph of item C, section 1 of ordinance No. 558 be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows: (c). Cream. Sweet cream is that portion of milk, rich in milk fat, which rises to the surface of milk on standing or is separated from it by centrifugal force, is fresh and clean, and which contains not less than eighteen per cent (18%) of milk fat, and the acidity of which is not more than twenty per cent (20%) expressed as lactic acid.

Section 2.—That the first paragraph of section 4 of ordinance No. 558, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit: "All bottles, cans, packages and other containers enclosing milk or any milk product defined in this ordinance shall be plainly labeled or marked with: (1) the name of the contents as given in the definitions in this ordinance; (2) the grade of the contents if said contents are graded under the provisions of this ordinance; (3) the word 'pasteurized' if the contents have been pasteurized; (4) the word 'raw' if the contents are raw; (5) the name of the producer or distributor; (6) the percentage of milk fat, if the package or other container incloses adjusted milk."

Section 3.—That item 24 under requirements for grade "A" raw milk of ordinance No. 558, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit: Bottling and Capping: "Milk shall be bottled from a container with a readily cleanable valve, or by means of a bottling machine, approved by the health officer. In case of machine being used, it shall be cleaned and disinfected before each usage. Capping shall be done by machinery approved by the health officer. Hand capping is prohibited. Caps must be purchased in sanitary tubes."

Section 4.—That item 16, section 7, under heading "Grade A Pasteurized Milk," of ordinance No. 558, be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit: (16). "Pasteurization—Pasteurization shall be performed as described in the 'Definition Section' of this ordinance. The time and temperature record charts shall be preserved for a period of three (3) months for the information of the health officer. No milk shall be filtered after it is pasteurized."

Section 5.—That section 9 of ordinance No. 558 be and the same is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows, to-wit: Section 9. Transferring or Dipping Milk. "No milk producer or distributor shall transfer milk or cream from one container to another upon the street or in any vehicle or store or in any other place except a bottling or milk room especially used for that purpose except as may be specially permitted by the health officer in the case of milk being delivered in bulk. The sale of dip milk is hereby expressly prohibited. It shall be unlawful for hotels, soda fountains, restaurants, and similar establishments to sell or serve any milk except in the original container in which it was received from the producer or distributor, provided that this requirement shall not be applied to mixed milk drinks."

Section 6.—The fact that the provisions of the present milk ordinance are not sufficient and allows certain abuses which are dangerous to the health of the citizens, creates an emergency; and the rule requiring the reading of ordinances on three (3) several days is hereby suspended and this ordinance is declared an emergency ordinance; and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

Passed and approved this 28th day of December, A. D., 1931.—Walter Nelson Jr., mayor. Attest: W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

SIZABLE CUTS IN AIR RATES

Two Transcontinental Lines Reduce Fares

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Bringing fares down so more planes can go up was the program to which two transcontinental air lines tuned their 1932 motors today.

United Air Lines, kingpin of the so-called "united group," started the ball rolling by announcing reductions of 10 to 20 per cent on practically all its coast-to-coast and connecting routes, making the fares approximate railroad plus Pullman.

Today Transcontinental-Western Air, linked with the Pennsylvania railroad and members of the so-called "Keys group," of which C. M. Keys is leader, had come right back with drastic slashes of 10 to 26 per cent. The new rates lopped $40 off prices to the west coast and $20 to Chicago.

Unofficially, it was learned American Airways, third great transcontinental system and member of the Aviation corporation group, was considering whether to follow with sizeable reductions. American Airways covers the southern route from Los Angeles to Atlanta, whence passengers are brought to New York on another line.

Behind the scenes is a struggle for air mail which bulks large in the new and fast-growing industry.

Ohio House Built to Honor Mule Goes Down for Modern Structure

BELLAIRE, Ohio, Dec. 29. (AP)—One of the most famous of Ohio river landmarks, "the house that Jack built," is being razed to make way for a modern structure.

The house was erected by Jake Heatherington, a native of England, in 1870 at a cost of $35,000, and named in honor of his mule "Jack." Heatherington attributed his great fortune in eastern Ohio coal mines to the untiring labors of the mule.

When Heatherington dedicated his mansion he assembled the neighbors and in state led the mule up the staircase into the spacious rooms.

Soon after his arrival in this country Heatherington opened a coal mine, bringing a few bushels per day to the surface. With the aid of the mule his production increased until he amassed a large fortune.

The faithful mule was accorded every privilege until his death. A few years ago his master also died.

Chicago Graft Suspect Arrested in California

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 29. (AP)—Timothy L. Connolly, 50, under indictment in Chicago in connection with an alleged sanitary district board graft conspiracy involving $5,000,000, was arrested here today. Connolly said he was willing to return to Chicago.

"There is nothing in these charges that I can't explain satisfactorily," he said.

OUSTER MOVE HITS SHAWNEE

Petitions Attack Regime of City Manager

SHAWNEE, Okla., Dec. 29. (UP)—Petitions seeking to oust the city manager and overthrow the managerial form of government and revert the city government to the first charter under which it operated were being completed for circulation among Shawnee voters today.

The initiative petitions, reported to have been drafted by a group of "disgruntled politicians" and three local attorneys, were distributed to workers in a closed meeting last night. Workers were instructed to obtain the required number of signatures by Wednesday night.

The managerial form of government was voted here 18 months ago by an overwhelming majority. The petitions seek its abolition and would make heads of all city departments elective instead of appointive.

THEY DIDN'T EAT

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa.—A big dinner was planned by the Young People's society in the parlors of the Union church in Green Ridge. But it had to be called off. Thieves broke in just before the dinner and stole 65 chairs, four tables and the china closet containing the church dishes.

THE SIGN OF SERVICE

PARENTS, enter your new 1932 baby in this contest. All that is necessary for you to do is to send the name, address, doctor's report and birth certificate of the baby born after midnight of December 31, 1931, to the Baby Page Editor of The Times and Record News not later than noon, Monday, January 4.

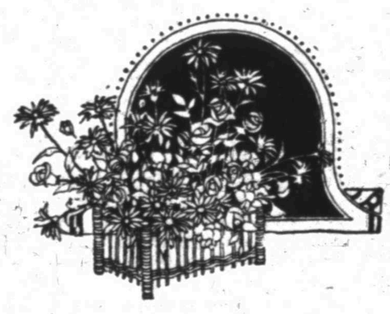

The merchants, advertising on this page, offer to present very useful and interesting gifts to the FIRST WHITE BABY, who is by record the first born 1932 baby in Wichita Falls. Read the ads for further details.

Greetings—
First Baby of 1932!!
