Tahoka Man Charged After Alleged Threat

A 38-year-old Tahoka man posted $5,000 bond on felony charges of aggravated assault this week after he was accused of threatening a 21-year-old Tahoka man with a shotgun early Sunday morning, March 11, on a parking lot in the city.

Charged was Joe Calvillo, 1701 N. 6th, in the incident which reportedly followed an argument by the two men at a party at a S. 5th St. residence. Tahoka police made the arrest, and bond was set by Justice of the Peace H.W. Edwards.

Jailed during the week were one person on a Dept. of Public Safety traffic warrant, and one for aggravated assault.

Police and sheriff's units also assisted firemen in three fires during the week. Tahoka Volunteer Firemen answered alarms to a grass fire south of West Point Gin, on property owned by Math Bartley, to a fire at a house owned by Gladys Jones south of the Sunshine Inn in Tahoka, and a barn burned at the Sammy Andrews residence northwest of West Point. The fire in Tahoka was attributed to an electrical short, and damage was confined to smoke effects.

There will be baseball sign-ups Sunday, March 25, from 2-4 p.m. and Wednesday, March 28, from 6:30-8 p.m. at the Community Center. There will be a $15 entry fee.

ONE WOULD THINK that the people at the Education Service Center in Lubbock would be smart enough to know better, but they mailed out some stuff for publication in which their releases and announcement are in all capital letters, which is hard to read, and which any potential reader, including editors, usually quits reading after a few paragraphs for that reason. ARMED SERVICES RELEASES USUALLY ARE SENT OUT THAT WAY AND HAVE BEEN FOR YEARS, BUT NOBODY EXPECTS WRITERS OF MATERIAL FROM GOVERNMENT AGENCIES TO KNOW MUCH. AS YOU CAN SEE HERE, CAPITAL LETTERS ARE HARD ON THE EYES EXCEPT WHEN THEY ARE LIMITED TO JUST A FEW WORDS AT A TIME, AS IN MOST NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING. ARMED SERVICES PEOPLE USE ALL CAPITALS BECAUSE THEY HAVE NO IDEA WHICH WORDS ARE SUPPOSED TO BE CAPITALIZED, AND BESIDES, IT IS THE MILITARY WAY.

TWO TEENAGERS were leaving a theater. One of them turned to the other and said: "The way I understand it, an adult film is about grown-ups acting childish."

Traffic Deaths Decline In State During 1989

Traffic deaths in Texas decreased by 1 percent in 1989 compared with 1988, a reduction in part caused by a substantial decrease in the number of motorcycle deaths in the state.

A total of 3,361 traffic deaths were reported in Texas in 1989, a decrease of 34 deaths from the 3,395 fatalities on Texas streets and highways the year before. Motorcycle traffic deaths dropped 18 percent, from 295 in 1988 to 243 in 1989.

"Texas had a slight increase in the number of traffic deaths in 1988, but the overall trend for the last decade has been downward," DPS Director Col. Joe Milner said. "I am very pleased to see that 1988's increase apparently was not the beginning of a sustained upturn in traffic deaths in Texas."

Milner also mentioned that there were no fatal traffic accidents reported in the state on June 13, 1989. "The last time this occurred in Texas was Jan. 5, 1977. We would like to have at least two deathless traffic days this year," he added.

According to data gathered by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, a record of 159,679 billion vehicle miles were traveled in Texas last year. Based on that data, the DPS has calculated a death rate of 2.1 deaths per 100 million miles driven in Texas—the lowest death rate ever recorded in Texas.

"When you consider that in 1935, when traffic records were first kept on a statewide basis, the death rate was 16.6 with far fewer miles driven, Texas is a vastly safer place for the motorist than it has ever been," Milner said. "This is the result of heads up traffic law enforcement, the declining social acceptance of drinking and driving, and progressive legislation, such as the safety belt law and the recently-passed law requiring motorcyclists to wear helmets," Milner said.

These developments are supported by 1989 data, which shows 1,306 alcohol related fatalities in 1989 (a 4.2 percent drop from 1988); a 3.7 percent decrease in traffic deaths in rural areas, and an 11 percent decrease in deaths on rural interstates.

Palma said that in 1989, 66 percent of the motorcyclists killed were not wearing a helmet, compared with 78 percent the year before.

T-Bar Golf Course Built 35 Years Ago

By BRIAN MAYES

Texas Tech Journalism Student

It's been almost 35 years since T-Bar Country Club was completed and open to members in Tahoka and the surrounding area, and local golfers are still slicing, hooking and generally having a good time at the well-groomed nine-hole course laid out by citizens who envisioned it as a good recreational spot and an asset to the community.

The golf course was just a dream to the people of Tahoka and the surrounding cities until the owner of the T-Bar Ranch gave Lynn County the land to build the course through a deed in 1955. This land helped the townfolks fulfill their fantasy. There were, however, requirements for the county to get the 130 acres of land needed. In addition to using the land for a golf course, there would have to be designated areas on the acreage for the Boy Scouts, a gun-range and a small airport. The building of the course would also have to start within one year.

One of the original founders Joe Edwin "Red" Brown, says there were problems during the original planning of the golf course. The donors of the land did not want alcohol allowed on the premises. But after some negotiations, a deal was reached that allowed the members of the county club to bring alcohol onto the course for personal consumption, but there would be no selling of liquor, beer or wine in the property.

The construction of the golf course was achieved entirely through the help of volunteers from Tahoka and town nearby. According to Brown, some volunteers were assigned to prepare putting greens while others were in charge of putting together the fairways. In the original development of the course, Brown says the people working on the golf course would "put poles where the greens were going to be."

All the work on the course was done with tools and equipment from townspeople. In fact, Brown says he is "still in the dog house for losing all the rakes and hoes" during the building of the course.

After the work and development of the course was finished in late 1955, 50 people joined the club. They paid $100 required as the initial joining fee, and would continue to pay only $8 a month in dues.

The costs of joining the club are somewhat higher today. The initial fee to join is presently $200, and the monthly dues are $30. For those who have a golf cart, the fee increases to $35 monthly.

The number of members in the country club has increased two and a half times since the golf course opened, from 50 to 125. Of the original 50 members, Harry Lee Short, the president of the country club and one of the original group, says 10 are still active, and of all the present members, about 80 percent are actively involved.

As in most small-town country clubs, there have been some interesting events occur. These include battling rattlesnakes and fishing golfers out of the artificial concrete water hazards.

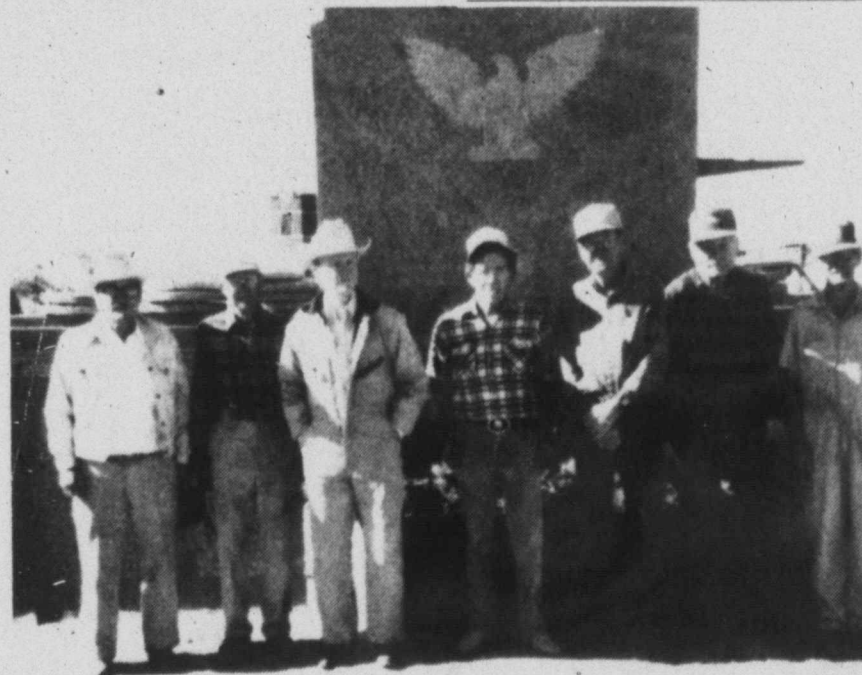

The club has several golf tournaments and bridge tournaments a year, including some "open" events for non-members. During the spring and summer, a "play day" mixed scramble is held on Thursday evenings.

From the original planners and members, there is a sense of dedication and there is feeling of friendship throughout the club. It is a type of dedication and camaraderie that one might find around a fraternity house.

MRS. DEREK HOLDEN (nee Karol Keenan)
Couple Exchange Wedding Vows

Karol Keenan of Lubbock and Derek Holden of Wilson exchanged marriage vows at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, March 17, 1990 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wilson.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaFontaine of Burbank, Calif.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Holden of Colleyville, Texas and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nolley.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Albert Wuensch, uncle of the groom, of New Braunfels.

The church was decorated with black and white pew bows with calla lilies. White candles with black and white wreath arrangements were in the windows and along the sanctuary.

The bride selected a lovely white taffeta gown created by the designers of Alfred Angelo Bridal Fashions. The gown featured a Sabrina neckline and full length fitted sleeves. The bodice of the gown was richly adorned with white Venise lace encrusted with pearls and white iridescent sequins. The back of the bodice was fashioned with a deep V interest. The basque waistline allowed the full ballgown skirt to fall gracefully as it swept into a chapel length train.

Susan Sapyta of Voorhees, New Jersey, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaid were Shannon Lee of Manfield, Texas, Jill and Dawn Holden, sisters of the groom, of Colleyville.

The attendants wore full-length white taffeta and rich black velvet gowns with bodice done in velvet with deep V-interest in back and a ballgown skirt done in taffeta and adorned with a tapered peplum. They carried silk calla lilies with black and white bows.

Greg Smith of Sunray, Tx., served as best man. Groomsman were Keith Miller of Benbrook, Tx., Ed Donaho and Curtis Gickhorn, both of Wilson.

Ushers were Chris Wuensch of San Francisco, Calif. and Shawn Wilson of Wolforth.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at St. Joseph's Catholic Hall in Slaton, Tx. The hall was decorated with black and white streamers and balloons. The table was decorated with a black tablecloth covered with a white lace tablecloth and a black and white centerpiece with candelabra.

Servers were Sally Matchett, Connie Donald, Karen Swan, Amber Parker and Kellie Gafford.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Monterey High School. She graduated from Texas Tech University in 1985 and received her Bachelor's degree in Secondary Education. She is employed at Frenship I.S.D. in Wolforth.

The groom graduated from Grapevine High School in 1978 and from Texas Tech in 1983. He received his Bachelor's degree in 1983

NOTICE OF TARIFF CHANGE TO CENTRANET® SERVICE

GTE Southwest Incorporated gives notice of its proposed tariff changes to CentraNet® service, which is a Central Office-based service that provides PBX-type features to multi-line business customers and is currently being offered in all company wire centers where such facilities exist to provide the service.

The Public Utility Commission of Texas approved a generic tariff for CentraNet® service up to 100 lines in Docket No. 7652. The proposed tariff revision would establish specific rates for CentraNet® service involving 101 to 400 lines. Other proposed revisions involve the rate applicable to changes, additions, or deletions to the data bases and a new rate is proposed for additional trunks.

The names of the three CentraNet® packages have changed from Standard, Premium, and Deluxe to CentraNet® 1000, CentraNet® 2000, and CentraNet® 3000, respectively. Direct Call Pickup has been added to the three CentraNet® packages while Multiple Call Park and Shared Speed Call 30 have been added to CentraNet® 2000, and Speed Call 30 and Call Forward Busy/No Answer Split have been added to CentraNet® 3000. Flexible Night Answer and Automatic Route Selection also have been added as new optional features.

The proposed changes and new service offerings have been assigned Docket No. 9251, and pursuant to Section 43(d) of the Public Utility Regulatory Act will become effective June 23, 1990. Rates for service will be applicable to customers who subscribe to the service as well as existing customers. Therefore, there will be no effect on any other rates of the company. The company's gross annual revenues will increase by approximately $399,600, or less than one percent annually.

The proposed rates are on file with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, and are available for public inspection at the offices of GTE Southwest Incorporated. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission. The deadline to intervene in this docket is 3:00 p.m., April 9, 1990.

A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas, 78757. More Dietary Recommendations Related To Fat And Salt

More dietary recommendations support the theme "Enjoy the Taste of Eating Right" of the 1990 Nutrition Month, according to Mrs. Annis Godfrey, Lynn County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A recent National Research Council (NRC) report, Diet and Health: Implications for Reducing Chronic Disease Risk, based on a 3-year study of 5,000 scientific documents by its Food and Nutrition Board, National Academy of Sciences recommendations and the Surgeon General's Report on Diet and Health have similar recommendations.

Basically, they recommend eating less salt, fat and cholesterol. The NRC report advised people on the quantities of specific foods they should include in their diets. Their dietary recommendations relating to fat and salt are:

- *Reduce total fat intake to 30 percent or less of calories.
- *Reduce saturated fatty acid intake to less than 10 percent of calories.
- *Reduce intake of cholesterol to less than 300 milligrams daily.
- *Limit total daily intake of salt to 6 grams or less.

The Surgeon General's Report on Diet and Health also recommends increasing the consumption of complex carbohydrates, including vegetables, legumes, fruits and whole-grains cereals. It recommends against the use of dietary supplements such as fiber, vitamins and calcium.

The NRC report found very strong evidence for a link between diet and atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease and hypertension; the evidence was somewhat less strong for a link between diet and several forms of cancer.

All farmers are encouraged to attend a Cotton Production and Spray Calibration Clinic at the Precinct 1 barn in Wilson on March 27, beginning at 9 a.m. This will be an excellent morning of educational subjects pertaining to cotton weed control, new cotton varieties, herbicide incorporation, spraying calibration, setting up your spraying for cotton insects, and a pesticide applicator update. Speakers on these subjects will be Dr. James Supak, Dr. Jim Leser, Dr. Brent Bean, Tony Pardo, Craig Forbis and Brett Cypert.

After the morning session there will be a free meal that is sponsored by various chemical companies and ag. businesses. After lunch, the Extension personnel will help farmers calibrate their spray rigs if they wish. A reminder to all farmers is that this educational event will qualify for 2 credit hours on their private applicators license. If you have any questions, please call Brett Cypert at the Extension office, 998-4650.

Sales Tax Rebates Up

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that sales tax rebates to Texas cities are up almost 5 percent so far this year as compared to last year.

The March rebate checks sent to cities today totaled $69 million, an increase of nearly 13 percent over last March's payments.

"The increase for the first three months of the year is right in line with our forecast of 5 to 6 percent growth in taxable sales for this year," Bullock said.

Payments to counties totaled $7.3 million this month, compared to $5.9 million last March. The 23 percent jump over last March's payments is partly due to the increased number of counties collecting sales tax now, Bullock said.

In O'Donnell, net payment this period was $658.38; comparable payment prior year was $667.99 a -1.44 percent change; 1990 payments $3,511.66; 1989 payments $3,932.49, a -10.70 percent change. In Wilson, 1990 payments to date was $1,550.64; 1989 payments to date $894.58 a 73.34 percent change; In Tahoka, net payment this period was $6,312.75; comparable payment prior year was $3,749.40 a 68.37 percent change; 1990 payments to date $15,408.36; 1989 payments to date $16,721.63, a -7.85 percent change.

BESIDE THEMSELVES-This strange-looking photograph was taken by Lynn County News ace photographer Dalton Wood, who managed a double exposure on a camera which supposedly cannot do that. It's the Wilson third and fourth grade classes of Mrs. Shelly Livingston and Mrs. Patty Hamilton, some of whom are recognizable, and some of whom are in there twice, visiting the Pioneer Museum in Tahoka.

Wilson News

The Wilson I.S.D. school board met Monday, March 12, 1990 in the elementary board room. The board approved the textbook committee's recommendation as presented for approval by the superintendent. Due to an increase in the price of milk and from the school suppliers, the board voted to increase the price of extra milk to 25 cents, effective April 1. They approved the band trip to the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo in April. Band Director Jack Woody made an appeal for the purchase of software and hardware for his use in the band department which the board approved. In other action, the board approved Local Policy Update (Local) dealing with student absences.

After considerable discussion, the board tabled until the next meeting the adoption of a calendar for the 1990-91 school year. They approved the purchase of five computers, a sewing machine, and a plasma arc cutter for the vocational departments. These will be paid for with federal vocational monies.

After coming out of executive session, the board re-employed all current teachers for the 1990-91 term and extended the superintendent's contract for one year through the 1991-92 school year.

As of Friday, March 16, two more candidates had filed for places on the ballot in the school board election. Candidates for the one-year unexpired term are Melissa Hernandez, a senior student at Wilson High School; Doug Savell, an employee of Sears; and David Rhode, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Three candidates are also seeking the two three-year term positions. These candidates are John Fields, David Wied and Bobby Lee.

Students and teachers will return to school Monday, March 26, after Spring Break.

Wilson High School will be traveling to Smyer for the Zone One-Act Play contest, Tuesday, March 27. They will present their play, "The Little Match Girl." It is directed by Judy Womack, English teacher.

A FINAL WORD ON POISON PREVENTION

Preventing accidental poisoning has been our goal this March as it has been designated Poison Prevention Month. Here is our final list of suggestions of things you can do at home.

- Do not take medicine from an unlabeled bottle; transparent tape protects the label.
- Date all drug supplies when you buy them.
- Use a prescription drug only for the patient for whom the physician ordered it.
- Weed out the left-overs regularly from your medicine chest - especially any prescription drug that your physician ordered for a particular illness.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice that it has filed an application requesting the PUC to declare Southwestern Bell's intrastate Billing and Collection market subject to significant competition and to authorize the following form of pricing flexibility: detariffing of the rates, terms and conditions of the Billing and Collection services now offered in Section 8 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff. Approval of the application as filed would result in all tariff sheets in Section 8 (Billing and Collection) of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff being cancelled, and the service thereafter being provided on a contract basis. Through this application, using procedures established by P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27, Southwestern Bell seeks to obtain uniformity of rates, rules and regulations for intrastate and interstate Billing and Collection services.

Approval of this application would remove all rates, terms and conditions applicable to billing and collection from Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff. Intrastate billing and collection service would continue to be subject to PUC regulatory oversight only to the extent that (1) Southwestern Bell would be required to maintain current price lists at the Commission for the service, and (2) the revenues or losses from the service would be subject to the regulatory treatment specified in P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27(p). Further, under procedures established by P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27, the PUC's General Counsel, the Public Utility Counsel or any affected person could seek a subsequent review of the rates, terms and conditions of this service.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings, or who would like further information, should call or contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, (512) 458-0100. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Information Office at (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

The PUC has assigned this matter to Docket No. 9224. A prehearing conference will be held on April 19, 1990, at 9:00 a.m. at the Commission's offices at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard in Austin, Texas. The deadline for filing motions to intervene is April 26, 1990.

ASPIRIN or ACETAMINOPHEN

While aspirin often causes gastric pain, even ulceration, acetaminophen does not. Acetaminophen does not thin the blood, thus is no threat of hemorrhages in the brain, etc. However, aspirin is effective in relief of arthritis-acetaminophen is not. For feverish children, acetaminophen is preferred, as aspirin may cause Reye's syndrome. Our pharmacist can suggest which drug is best for you.

Thank you,
citizens of Lynn County, for your votes
of support in the Democratic Primary.
I will do my best to uphold your confidence in me as your County Treasurer.
