Society Quits The Straight And Narrow Silhouette And Begins To Display Waistlines In Evening Wear

Mrs. Reginald Hisco—Mrs. Craigie McKay and Mrs. Casimir deRham—Miss Rosalie Coe

By BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Sept. 14.—Society is forsaking the straight and narrow when it comes to clothes, at any rate.

I have remarked how sports suits have been sneaking in a lot of fullness under the guise of novelty pleats of this sort or that. And there have been many of them indeed in a speck at the waist, though a faintest seam might say it is merely to show off a stately belt of broad skin or buckles.

Bold Fullness

But new evening gowns worn by smart fashionists show that fullness just grows bolder after the sun goes down and flares here and there or is gathered in to form a waist line that, while it may not be so small as grandmothers' was, is at least a bona fide waist line. The straight silhouette has just faded out of vogue's picture.

These smart gowns have been seen here at dinners, dances, at the "Hampton Follies" and especially at a dinner given recently for Miss Rogers, the ex-Comptess of Spain, whose engagement, you are told, is quite the talk of Southampton.

Laurel, velvet, chiffon, gold and silver lace and embroidery and quantities of brilliant gleam and sparkle under the bright lights of night life. Glittering effects in sequins, polka-dots, ribbons and beads are positively dazzling, especially when shining from a white-chiffon gown.

Jaded green velvet in the new modernized transparent variety, formed the happiest alliance in the world with silver chiffon cloth to fashion a stunning evening gown for Mrs. Reginald H. Hisco, the other evening. The skirt had a very full panel inserted on its right side that not only gave charming fullness but insinuated the new unobtrusive neckline in a novel way. The bodice was slashed to show a tiny vest of green velvet and across the back it flowed gracefully.

Another wrap not easily forgotten was one I saw on Mrs. Craigie McKay. Of vivid blue transparent velvet, its bloom and glistering high lights gave it a flutrous character well suited to the clear-cut beauty of its wearer's features.

It sponsored all of Dame Fashion's newest dictates, it seemed to me. The diagonal closing, loose chiffon's sleeves, down-in-the-back hem line and generous fullness were all there. In addition it had positively the most beautiful collar I ever seen, a high Elizabethan collar of corded velvet, with feathers across the back for a soft frame for the head.

Mrs. Minnie Pullen President Dorcas S. S. Class

Members of the Dorcas class of the First Baptist church selected officers for another year at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the class room. Barclay; second vice president, Mrs. Ida Couch; third vice president, Mrs. S. K. Eymann; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Cowan; assistant teacher, Mrs. G. M. James.

Mrs. D. H. Mansell Hostess To Social Club Tuesday

Meeting with Mrs. D. H. Mansell, 1609 Avenue M, members of the Jolly Doves club yesterday afternoon received Mrs. A. H. Travis, a former member, back to the organization. This was the first meeting in several weeks and the vice-president, Mrs. G. E. McPherson, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. C. Levens, who is ill, while some business was transacted.

Forty-two games were played and the hostess passed refreshments to Mesdames Travis, A. L. Hawkins, Lela Ashford, J. G. Biddle, F. K. Mitchell, R. L. Good, E. G. White, A. E. Herring, G. W. English, J. M. Bishop, W. H. Trejo and Paul Parker, of Parsons, Kans.

Mrs. Nail, Oklahoma, Honored Yesterday At Party

Mrs. W. J. Duncan, 1702 Avenue Q, was hostess yesterday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock to members of the Viola Lowery class of the First Christian church complimentary to her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. C. Nail, of Moore, Okla. She was assisted in directing the entertainment of the afternoon by Mrs. Walter P. Jennings and Mrs. C. E. Young.

Contests were participated in and in a spelling match, Mrs. Fred Ross was winner. The home was beautiful with an abundance of summer flowers. Those who attended were Mesdames G. P. Kuykendall, W. N. Lemmon, J. P. Tom, Hattie O'Hair, Walter P. Jennings, H. D. Phillips, Harry Hall, R. R. Eakin, James R. Robinson, D. N. Leaverton, Fred Rea, Louis Kittrell, L. W. Squires, Clyde F. PIRATES TAKE THREE GAME LEAD AS GIANTS AND CARDS DIVIDE

YANKEES CINCH JUNIOR LEAGUE BY DOUBLE WIN

EIGHTH INNING RALLY OF CUBS IS SHORT AND ROBINS WIN

(By The Associated Press)

Pennant chances of the Pittsburgh Pirates looked better today than at any time since the club climbed to the top of the National League ladder during the recent road slump of the Chicago Cubs. The Corsairs now occupy the crow's nest with three full games to spare and if the result of yesterday's Giant-Cardinals double header is any real indication of what is to follow during the seven game series in the Mound City, Donie Bush's club may have a pretty fair margin to work on by the time the Giants reach Pittsburgh.

Win Two Yesterday

Hard, timely hitting and good pitching brought Pittsburgh home to victory in two games yesterday against the Boston Braves. Lee Meadows pitched the leaders to a 6-1 victory in the opener. The Pirates routed their pitching nemesis, Kent Greenfield, after four innings. Vic Aldridge hurled the Cubs to a 5-4 victory in the second game his mates bunching their hits in the fourth and fifth innings for all their runs.

Sherdel outpawped the Giants into submission in the first game at St. Louis, the Red Birds getting a 5-2 verdict. Larry Benton laced six innings and was succeeded by Bill Walker, Denver southpaw.

Giants Win Second

The Giants, having been knocked out of second place in the standing, came back for a 12-6 win in the afternoon. Terry, Jackson and Harper hit home runs off Vic Keen, who had succeeded Jess Haines on the mound. Haines was greeted with a five run assault in the first inning and pitched for five more in the fourth. St. Louis rallied in the eighth and ninth but Douthitt grounded out with the bases loaded in the final ninth.

Brooklyn set back the Chicago Cubs in the series opener 6-5. The Robins bunched hits off Blake in the early inning and the Cubs rallied in the eighth for four runs, but were stopped short by McWeeney. Brooklyn right hander, The Cubs are now five games out of first place.

Cincinnati disposed of Philadelphia 5-2. The Quakers scored all their runs in the ninth, when Kolb had to be rushed to the mound to stop the attack that had started on Rixey.

Athletics Swamp Sox

While the Yankees were clinching the American League pennant the Philadelphia Athletics were swamping Chicago's White Sox, 15-5. Ty Cobb collected four of the Athletics' 19 safe hits. Seven runs in the eighth inning assured the Mackmen of their victory.

Washington gathered in both ends of a double header against Detroit, 3-2 and 5-3. Braxton and Lisenbee were the winning pitchers.

The Boston Red Sox came from behind in each game of a double header against the St. Louis Browns and snared a double victory 5-4 and 3-2. The first contest went 13 innings. Carlyle's triple and Shaner's double scored the winning runs. A squeeze play in the eighth of the second game, engineered by Tobin and Todd, broke a 2-2 deadlock.

Yankees Win To Cinch Flag Fifth Time Since 1918

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—For the fifth time since Miller Huggins became manager in 1918, the New York Yankees have captured the American League baseball championship. When the team defeated Cleveland yesterday in both games of a double header it clinched the pennant.

Babe Ruth hit his fifty first home run of the season in the first contest and his fifty second in the windup. The Yanks won by 5-3 scores in each game.

15 Games Yet to Play

New York has fifteen games left on the schedule. If the team lost all of these while the Philadelphia Athletics, now in seventh place, won all of their remaining 17 games, the Yankees still would finish the season six points ahead of the Mackmen.

Some of the keenest students of baseball believe the Yanks are the greatest all around team the game has ever known. It tops the American League in team batting and was only one point behind the Chicago White Sox, leaders in team fielding in the last official averages. The Yankees have hit 145 home runs to date, five more than the previous high mark established in 1884 by the Chicago Nationals.

This War Vet Has A Brand New Idea! He's Returning All Stolen Souvenirs

Lieut. Col. Cook, busy cataloging the war souvenirs he intends to return to their German owners

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Lieut. Col. George Crouse Cook already has been decorated for conspicuous service as a fighter in the world war. After his present pilgrimage abroad he may be due a medal for conspicuous service to international peace and friendship.

The colonel is returning to Germany with some 500 war souvenirs—iron crosses, epaulettes, identity checks, belts, beer steins, rifles, helmets, label plates from dugouts—all the typical trophies which world war veterans brought home. He is going to return them to the owners, if they can be found.

"During the war," he explained, "I had much to do with transporting prisoners, and was in an excellent position to annex souvenirs. However, I kept the names of men who contributed to my collection. "Lately it has occurred to me that many of those men are living and that it would please them to have again the articles I possess. "There are 12 bags of them in all. I have ceased to feel any pride in having them. They don't belong to me."

Narcotic Found In Hypo Syringe In Mystery Probe

(By Associated Press)

ENID, Okla., Sept. 14.—Presence of a narcotic drug in hypodermic syringe found near the hospital room in which Mary Jane Bailey, 18 year old minister's daughter, died, was reported today by Dr. W. H. Bailey, Oklahoma City pathologist, to Dan Mitchell, Garfield county attorney.

The drug is used as a sedative. The report of the pathologist was of a preliminary nature. Dr. Mitchell told Mitchell that his report on the condition of the girl's viscera probably would be ready today or tonight. Mitchell said today that he would prosecute Mary Atkinson, trained nurse who attended the Bailey girl before her death, if poison was found in the syringe, regardless of the report on her viscera, since the instrument was unlike any used in the hospital and similar to three other syringes found in the nurse's possession.

GREAT BRITAIN POLO PLAYERS ARE AMBITIOUS

THEY WILL TRY HARD TO WIN CUP FROM AMERICANS

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—September brings international polo play. It is Great Britain versus the United States. Will America retain the cup or will the English invaders carry it away with them?

Now the average fan knows little if anything about polo and the home team's prospects. But whether it's parched or parachute jumping, if the merry old Stars and Stripes are interested he wants to plug along for a win.

Here then is the low down, with everything all doped out for you by a chap who knows his mallets. That chap is Billy Rocap, attendant at all international matches for the last 14 years, not only in this country but also in England, where he was presented to royalty and recognized as an expert.

Rocap, incidentally, will officiate this season's matches at Meadowbrook, September 5 to 10, and consequently has to maintain a discreet attitude in his size-up of the game.

Great Britain, according to Rocap, is "shooting the words" in this year's invasion.

"British sportsmen," explains Rocap, "have been chafing over their defeat of 1924. They scoured the kingdom for the best ponies and succeeded in locating a valuable stable in India. Ponies, you know, are fully 70 per cent of the game. Now they are all set for a desperate attack."

"This will be the sixth meeting between the two teams. The cup was first won by England in 1886. It was regained by America in 1909, carried overseas once more in 1914, brought home in 1921 and ably defended in 1924.

"The game itself is more than 2,000 years old. It dates back even to Confucius. Tibetan riders knew it and, all down through the ages, polo supreme stands for superior horsemanship.

"It was not until 1921 that the little game pony came into his own. A perfect thoroughbred must instinctively follow the ball, turn at break-neck speed. A nudge of the knee and a pony at racing speed must pivot on the ball with all the dash of a figure skater.

"There will be one million dollars worth of horseflesh on the field at Meadowbrook when the stars assemble their stables. "The outstanding player? Why, Devereux Milburn is rated as the best of all time, I believe. He was born in 1881 and began playing polo in Buffalo in 1895. While a student at Oxford he played in England in 1902-1903. While at Harvard he played in '04-'05-'06. He has been a prominent American player for the last 18 years and was a member of the first U. S. team to win the international cup in 1909 and every team since that time. He is a ten goal man.

"Polo is the costliest game in the world. It probably costs each player $100,000 a year to indulge in the sport. It is unlikely it will ever come within the reach of the masses but, nevertheless, it is packed full of all the punch, skill and speed that make it a great gallery sport.

"It is distinctively for amateurs. There are no professional players or teams. And don't be a victim of the current impression that it is a 'soft' sport for the idle rich. "It is a real he-man's game. Unless you've got courage, skill, mental alertness and unusual horsemanship, stay off a polo pony."

MADISON, Wis.—"Druggless" drug stores are legal in Wisconsin, but must not be called such, the attorney general has ruled. It is lawful, he held, for a store not handling drugs to use the word "drugs" on window and awnings but a Fond du Lac store called itself a "Druggless Drug Store," and that he held is illegal.

ALABAMA CREW TO OFFER HARD FIGHT ON GRID

SOUTHWESTERN GROUP HARD AT WORK ON CRIMSON DEFENSE

(By Associated Press)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 14.—Southern conference gridiron members are hard at work creating defenses against the strong crimson tide of the University of Alabama as the 1927 football season nears.

All of which means that the tide for the first time in four years will meet formidable resistance instead of easily flopping its way to championship glory.

Leaders of the defense are Coach Fred McMillan, and possibly Georgia Tech and Virginia Tech as the principal bulwarks.

Serious Proportions

Already the threat of Louisiana State and Tennessee is assuming serious proportions. The Bayou States, under Mike Robinson, a coach of the Yellow Jackets in the south, will return their 1926 line almost intact with Tennessee, Alabama's chief challenger. All last season, will have had all its squad with the exception of Harkness and Jones, two linemen.

This does not mean, however, that Alabama is being outcoached out. The Tuscaloosa institution, led by Freddie Pickard, also received many nominations for all-American tackle last year, is conceded to have the material on hand for a line equally as strong as that which checked all opposition in the south in addition to Stanford in the Tournament of Roses.

As for backfield men the Tide-men will field Archie Taylor and Tubert (Red) Brown, two of the most versatile offensive players in the country. In replacing such stars as Winslett, Holmes, Caldwell, Barnes and Wilson the Tide, taking merely call attention to the success of last year after having lost Hubert, Gillis, Johnny Mack Brown and Conpton at the end of the previous season. Coach Wallace Wade has some likely candidates for the gaps.

Tennessee university does not appear on the Tide's schedules and it will be a test of comparative strength as demonstrated in their showings against opponents should each win all their games. Each meets Georgia, Vanderbilt and Tennessee.

Alabama, however, also meets Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Mississippi A. and M., Florida and Kentucky, any one of whom may make or break them for the season. Especially is this true in regard to Georgia Tech, almost always a dangerous opponent to Wade's team, whose game comes early this year.

Two other traditional opponents, however, go Tech and Alabama one better. Virginia and Georgia will meet in the opening game of the season. The strength of those two teams, University of Mississippi, Washington and Lee, Tulane, North Carolina and Kentucky does not appear on the Tide's schedules and it will be a test of comparative strength as demonstrated in their showings against opponents should each win all their games. Each meets Georgia, Vanderbilt and Tennessee.

Blows To Sharkey's Stomach Caused Jack Dempsey's Greatest Knock-Outs

Defeat Of Boston Lithuanian Boxer

The debatable knockout of Jack Dempsey's career—that is the one he gained over Jack Sharkey in July, 1927, in the confabulous victory that gave him his glowing chance at the title now worn by Gene Tunney but which he held for so many years.

Regardless of opinions expressed, the bout stands in the records as a knockout for Dempsey.

It came in the seventh round, 45 seconds after it had been under way.

The blows that ended Sharkey's march to a bout with Gene Tunney for the title were four blows to the stomach and a terrific right to the jaw.

Sharkey stood three of the blows at his stomach many claim were foul. He appealed to Referee O'Sullivan but his appeal only brought forth a nod to keep fighting. With this approval from the referee that his blows to the stomach had been fair, Dempsey rocked his right to Sharkey's jaw and out he went. Dempsey himself carried the rocky Bostonite to his corner.

The other rounds, like the blow to Sharkey's stomach, are much in doubt. Many writers agree.

But foul or no foul blows, the fight stands as a knockout for Jack Dempsey, and he will meet Gene Tunney for the title he lost to Tunney, just one year ago at Philadelphia. The fight will be held at Soldiers' Stadium, Chicago, September 22.

Mexico To Deport Wrestling Referee

EL PASO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Carpenter Morgan, widely known in the southwest as a fight and wrestling referee and announcer, was ordered deported from Mexico Tuesday according to Miguel Eshken, chief of the Federal immigration service.

The action of the Mexican government, Lincoln said, followed an altercation in El Paso in which Morgan is said to have attacked a Mexican resident.

POLO NO GAME FOR POOR MAN FIGURES SHOW

IT'S NO SPORT BUT A REAL LUXURY FOR WEALTHY ONLY

BY JIMMY POWERS
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—For the benefit of those unfortunate not born with a silver spoon in their mouth, a "Hot Kitz" is being given to explain the dubious parlance of polo.

We say "dubious" because polo actually is not a sport. It's a luxury. It's origin is lost in the mists of time. It costs the average player the nifty sum of $100,000 a year.

Polo is a combination of golf, hockey, croquet, basketball and polo-madness. It requires skillful horsemanship, scientific stroking, ability to judge pace and accurate marksmanship in the fly.

It's origin is lost in the mists of time. The Persians played it before the Christian era and even India and Afghanistan have made their contribution to its progress. The ancient Chinese knew it and everywhere it stood for superiority horse-ranching.

It's played on a field 300 feet long, 45 feet wide, with goal posts 24 feet apart in the middle of either end. American fields, however, have board fences about their English fields do not.

There are four men to a side, designated No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 and No. 4. Each is mounted and carries a mallet 48 to 55 inches long, weighing about two pounds. Americans, ever lovers and admirers of the mallet, use a mallet.

True, it is tough for one team to score a touchdown after a sustained offensive netting a gain of 70 or 80 yards, only to have the opposition a few minutes later even the count by having one of their players pick up a loose ball after a fumble and run 90 yards for a touchdown.

The first touchdown was scored because of a marked superiority in play while the second one was simply a break in luck or better, possibly, the result of wide-awake football.

Never, Never Again

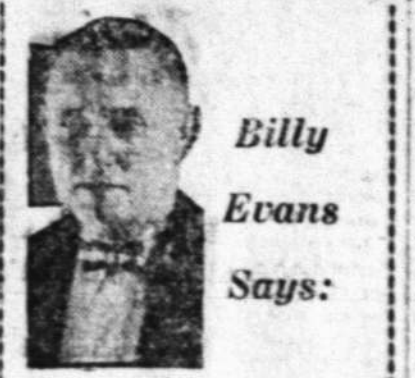

LET us set the stage for a play that no longer can take place on the gridiron, unless the rule-makers later decide to revert back to the old rule.

The score is 13-7 against the team with the ball in its possession. It decides to kick and the punter gets away a spiral that carries to the 25-yard line of the team in the lead.

Just as the player handling the ball picks it out of the air, he is tackled hard and the ball bounces out of his hands. An alert player of the trailing team, following the play closely, recovers the fumble and runs 25 yards for a touchdown. The score is tied. In a few seconds a fumble has changed the entire complexion of the play.

No longer can such a thing happen. The above recital is just an air castle of the old days. When the ball is fumbled on the 25-yard line it becomes dead at the point of recovery and cannot be advanced beyond that spot.

Removal of the penalty for a fumble takes away the premium on hard, yet clean football. When you take the gamble out of the game, you kill the thrills.

Billy Evans Says:

New Grid Rules

OF the six changes made in the football rules, I am inclined to think one only will have a direct play.

The placing of the goal posts 10 yards farther back, the limiting of the middle conference to 25 seconds and a time limit of 20 seconds on bringing the ball into play, as well as the one second pause in all shift plays, won't eliminate any of the many thrills on which football thrives.

Most of all, chances simply mean extra work for the officials. With the unpleasant possibility that they may be more penalties inflicted, it is to be hoped not, as the stopping of play to levy a penalty has been overworked in the past.

Football fans like to see the players advance the ball rather than a parade of the officials with the ball tucked under the referee's arm.

Real Thrill Missing

THE one chance that I do not favor is the one related to fumbled punts, handing the ball dead at the point of recovery or fumble rather than a loose ball.

This reform has taken one of the big thrills out of the game by eliminating the element of gamble.

Mustangs Meet Missouri Eleven In Hard Contest

SEPT. 14 TO THE JOURNAL

DALLAS, Sept. 14.—When the S. M. U. Mustangs meet the University of Missouri eleven here Oct. 22, they'll go up against a team composed pretty much as it was last year, and coached by practically the same men who had the excellent Missouri outfit in hand during 1925.

18 Lettermen Return

Evidence from Missouri head-coaches is that, no less than 18 of last year's letter-men will be back with the Columbia aggregation this season, including Captain Pfannkuch, fullback; Bert Clark, All-Valley halfback; Desmond, Tuttle and Rosenheim, all lettermen in the backfield; Tate and Brown, ends; with Glenn Smith and Morgan, regular centers; Bob Miller and Drumm, guards; Will Smith and Limes, tackles; and Gibson, a 1925 tackle and letterman.

In the Missouri conference training does not open until Sept. 15, so the Mustangs, who began training Saturday, will have had the making of five days' edge in that respect. It's worth noting, in addition to the regulars mentioned, the Missouri coaches will have the pick of some fifty last year's freshmen and members of the reserve squad from which to recruit the 1927 eleven, and the choice should have been pretty well made by the date of the S. M. U. game.

Non-Conference Game

The game with S. M. U. is one of three non-conference contests on the Missouri list. The others are Northwestern at Chicago and West Virginia at Columbia, and the negotiating agreement applies to all. The Columbian won last year's contest from West Virginia, 27 to 6, and S. M. U. held them to a 7-7 tie.

The Columbia coaching staff includes Gwynn Henry, Jack Crangle, Harry Lansing and Stankowski, in charge of freshmen, and Bill Falten, trainer.

OFFERS PRINTED FELT

VIENNA, (AP)—Some of the newest felt hats shown here are printed in jungle effects. The Zebra stripes, snake scale, and cowdy stripes predominate. The hats are extremely light in weight and have a glossy silk finish.

Some of the winter hats have patterns burned on velour. The designs are in long nap, standing out in relief.

The slinger, carry a better market than the English. The ball weighs eight ounces.

It requires six years' playing to season a rider and four year's playing to season a horse. The ponies, you may possibly note, learn more quickly.

The average stable consists of eight thoroughbreds although most owners carry even more. J. S. Phillips, for instance, has a "string" of 45, valued at a quarter of a million dollars. The average cost per pony ranges from $5,000 to $10,000.

The ponies are mostly fillies or gradings. Fillies predominate because of their better dispositions and intelligence.

Plays are figured and planned as in basketball with fast backs "feeding" the ball forward to expert shot. Ability to stop "on top of the ball" as in football counts. A crack pony is adept at this, keeping up stride for stride, pivoting, veering, dashing in and out of position.

Speed and skill, of course, count for the most.

NATIONAL AIR RACE PLANNED ACROSS NATION

SEPTEMBER 9 SET AS DATE FOR DERBY OF LONG DREAMS

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A dream that had its inception back in 1915 will be realized this month when a caravan of airplanes starts westward from New York in the first National Air Derby on September 19.

Before the event is concluded on Sept. 21 the racing planes will have spanned the continent, from Roosevelt Field, L. I., to the finish line in Spokane, Wash.

Plans Abandoned

Tentative plans for an air derby, proposed 11 years ago, had to be abandoned when many of the military planes that would have been the midship of the contest were required on the Mexican border. The situation was little changed in the next year, and in 1917 came the war. Last year saw the onset of the Philadelphia sesquicentennial race of commercial airplanes. It is not dependent upon the entries of military planes. In fact, the two classes into which the event is divided permits only of the entry of machines of the commercial type.

Different Classes

Class A is for large planes capable of carrying two passengers besides the pilot. Class B is for smaller planes capable of carrying one passenger besides the pilot. The conditions of the flight are made to conform as far as possible to the conditions of commercial navigation.

At about the same time another event, the Pacific Coast Air Derby, will start a group of planes whirling northward from San Francisco to Spokane. This race is also for commercial planes and is similarly divided into two classes.

Prizes aggregating $25,000 are offered by the National Air Derby association in the trans-continental flights. Prizes of $5,000 will go to the leading planes in the West coast contests.

Weather may play its share in determining the starting time of the flight, but the trans-continental Class B race, which will require three days, is scheduled to begin in the early morning of Sept. 19.

On the first day five-minute stops will be made at Bellefonte, Pa., Cleveland and Dayton, Ohio. The first night will be passed at Chicago. Calls will be made on the second day at St. Paul, Minn., and at Fargo and Bismarck, N. D. The second night will be spent at Glendive, Montana. In the final day stops will be made at Billings and Helena, Montana, and the finish will be at the Spokane airport.

Two Days Required

The large planes will require only two days, taking off early in the morning from Roosevelt Field on Sept. 20. They will cover the distance in seven hops. Five minute calls will be made at Cleveland and Chicago and the night will be passed at the Spokane airport.

The following morning they will push on to Aberdeen, S. D., and Miles City and Butte, Montana, the only places to be visited before the race ends in Spokane.

Tractor Is Groomed Bridgegroom Active

OLD A. & M. TRADITION

(By Associated Press)
COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 14.—It fell to Lieutenant R. D. Powell, instructor of field artillery on the staff of commissioned officers at A. and M. college here, to dress down a motor tractor with a curragroom when he arrived at the college with his bride to take up his duties.

Army custom has it that a newly married field officer when he comes to an army post is met with a field artillery caisson or wagon and the bride is given a seat in the vehicle while her husband dresses down the horses drawing it with a curragroom.

Tractor Used as Horse

In this instance, however, it was decided to use a tractor to draw the caisson instead of horses. Military officers at the college now know that Lieutenant Powell can use a curragroom on a tractor as well as on a horse. They saw him do it and they say that he did it well.

Mrs. Powell was Miss Henkle of Donville, Ill. She and Lieutenant Powell were married in June. After the tractor had been carried, in accordance with an old army custom, the couple were given a ride around the campus on the motor drawn caisson and then honored with a reception at the residence of Major and Mrs. John E. Sloan in College Park.

Another 'Ruth-Gehrig' Combination! Their 'Homers' Are Parachute Leaps

Like plummet until a few hundred feet from the ground, then permit the air to fill with air and break his descent.

The chutes we use are standard equipment for all naval aviators. They were developed after several years' research. These standard parachutes may be used by government pilots and should apply to any, including those being used by civilians.

What To Do First
After jumping, I have learned a few of the first things to do to look up as soon as the parachute opens. For instance, the ground lines are twisted, they must be straightened by pulling a metal ring fixed in the harness. This permits a pilot to pull out the service chute.

But the operator should remember, and this applies to all civilians who may need a chute some day, not to pull the ring until he has fallen clear of the plane.

EDITOR'S NOTE: At the North Island Naval Air Station, San Diego, are two men who are known to their fellows in the air service as "the Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of Parachute Jumping." One of them, Sergt. Archie Atherton, has made 35 parachute jumps from airplanes...

BY SERGT. ARCHIE ATHERTON
Famous Marine Corps Parachute Jumper
If you want to feel thrill, jump from an airplane speeding 90 miles an hour a half-mile above the ground. I've done it 35 times!

Not all the honor belongs to me, however. Bill Dodson runs me a close second in betting his life against a lot of silk and a few shroud lines that he will reach the earth safely.

Parachutes are safe. Their fall-utes are so infrequent as to be almost negligible. Negligible from the point of view of statistics, that is. For the jumper one failure is enough. But I have tried it nearly two-score times and still am able to write about them.

France Finds The Yanks Are Changed Some Fat, Some Gray But Still Sing

stirs old memories, both with the legionnaires and the French people in the music of the convention. The boys are singing the old songs, such as "Over There," "Smiles," "Katie," "Parlez Vous" and the familiar thing about being in the army now and not getting rich.

The American Legion convention promises to go over to big that British veterans now want to organize their own pilgrimage to France. They wish they had thought of the idea first.

A group of British veterans here appealed to the Paris Daily Mail for support of a British Legion pageant in this country, and the Mail has wholeheartedly endorsed the plan.

To Rekindle the Flame of Remembrance "Our men who saw mud and blood of Flanders, together with their relatives and descendants, should refresh the wartime spirit of comradeship and sacrifice by making a pious pilgrimage, with a great march in Paris," writes a former "Contemptible."

The Daily Mail recalls with a suggestion of jealousy that "Frenchmen have not forgotten that the British and French fought through the war from start to finish. When the call came to the British they moved at once without hesitating or making excuses."

SEVEN HELD IN FREIGHT CRASH WITH TROLLEY

31 HURT, TWO MAY BE FATALLY AT GRADE CROSSING

(By The Associated Press) WEEHAWKEN, N. J., Sept. 14 (AP)—Seven men were held today in jail aggregating $50,000 because of a collision at a grade crossing between a freight engine and a trolley car in which thirty-one persons were injured, two perhaps fatally.

Those arrested after the crash during the rush hour last evening were the crew of the locomotive, the railroad trolleyman and the operator of the one-man trolley.

Mechanism Fails The trolleyman said the mechanism of the crossing gates failed to work. A switchman, whose duty it was to derailed the trolley if there was not a clear track ahead, was missing immediately after the accident.

Reports from hospitals indicated that only six of the injured were believed to be seriously hurt, although rescuers marvelled that any of the forty passengers came out of the car alive.

Catches Rear of Car The trolley waited until one freight train passed. The gates were raised and the trolley proceeded.

Midway of the four tracks the motorman sped up but the locomotive caught the rear of the trolley and scattered its wreckage along the tracks. Passengers with broken legs and arms were entangled in the wreckage which was carried fifteen feet by the locomotive before it stopped.

Houston Ticked That U. S. Cruiser Named After City

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Sept. 14.—Houston seems to be immensely tickled that a United States cruiser is about to be named for the city.

Members of the committee of which Thomas H. Ball, former congressman, is chairman has adopted resolutions thanking everybody who contributed to the project which reached a successful termination when Curtis Wilbur, secretary of the navy, on a recent visit to Houston, announced that one of the projected cruisers would be named "The Houston."

Campaign Extensive It developed at the committee meeting that the campaign to name the cruiser had been extensive. It appears that 78 white and 23 negro organizations had passed resolutions favoring the project and that 156 telegrams had been sent and 1,800 letters written by school children and 400 more by boy scouts urging it.

Resolutions, also were passed by the city councils of Houston and suburban cities, the League of Texas Municipalities, the Fort commission, Chamber of Commerce and Houston naval reservists.

The campaign message reaches into high places. It was supported by Congressman Harry Wurzbach of San Antonio, the Tennessee congressional delegation, Congressman Hall of Illinois, Senator Royal Copeland of New York, Chairman Hale of the naval committee, Judge Edwin E. Parker, Governor Dan Moody, the state adjutant general, Mayor Oscar Holcombe and the county commissions.

Children's Letters Aid But, it developed, when Secretary Wilbur was here that letters from the school children were the greatest force in making a decision.

As a testimonial of appreciation the commission took steps to popularize the sale of photographs of the historic frigate, "Old Ironsides," and to make it the largest of any city in the south. Proceeds of the sale are to go toward restoration of the famous ship of the American naval line of long ago.

The next step, it was announced, is the purchase at the proper time of a silver service for the new cruiser Houston. It will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000 and will be presented in accordance with promise.

STORM TOLL

(Continued From Page 1) and seven hundred houses destroyed in Kumamoto prefecture, island of Kyushu, in consequence of yesterday's typhoon and tidal wave, reports to the Japanese home office stated today. In Fukuoka, Nagasaki and Kanagawa prefectures, there were few casualties but numerous houses were injured and damaged. The tail of the typhoon struck Tokyo this morning. Several thousand houses in the low-lying sections were flooded. Thirty children were injured when the roof of a school house was blown off. Worst of Storm West The worst of the storm apparently struck the western part of the island, centering around Ariake Bay. Two hundred and seventy persons are reported to have been killed or drowned in the small town of Kojima, near Nagasaki, and numerous others are missing in small villages destroyed by the waters. Kumamoto suffered severely, with many reported drowned or missing. Nagasaki's streets and houses are flooded, and a large number of fishing boats still are to be heard from. The railway and telegraph lines are affected, consequently there is little authentic information.

Egg Collection Is Pride Of Benedict

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Dr. H. Y. Benedict, new president of the Texas University, in one sense is the biggest egg man in town. He has two large cans full of eggs of various kinds, it was brought to light when his latest acquisition—the egg of a water petrel from the other side of Atlantic—was announced.

Among his collections is a hawk egg which he found on a Texas prairie when he was around six years old. When the president finished the university along in 1893 about the same time R. A. Thompson, state highway engineer, took his degree—he presented the choicest of his specimens to the institution but he has rebuilt quite a respectable collection since then.

General Motors To Ask Charter Change

DOVER, Del., Sept. 14 (AP)—An amendment to the charter of the General Motors corporation, abolishing ten million shares of no par value stock and authorizing of thirty million shares of common stock with a par value of $25 a share was filed this afternoon at the office of the secretary of state. The amendment does not change the preferred stock.

Cotton Prices Jump $3 In New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Cotton prices soared more than $3 a bale in late dealings on the New York cotton exchange today on a bullish government cotton consumption report, carrying the gain to $6.50 a bale above the low quotations yesterday.

Houston Banks On Its Biscuit Eater

HOUSTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Houstonians are ready to lay odds on Fire Commissioner Alie Anderson, local biscuit eating champion, when he meets Colonel S. E. Moss, 272 pound water commissioner of Dallas at the state fair in October in a biscuit eating contest between the two cities.

"The idea of eating biscuits before a crowd of one billion makes me nervous," Anderson said. "But I am confident it will be Colonel Moss' downfall, not mine."

Mayor Oscar Holcombe was preparing a set of rules for the contest which will be forwarded Wednesday to Dallas. ONE COW, 10 TONS MILK DURNHAM, N. M.—Belle Lunde Korrdyke, a 12-year Holstein cow of the University of New Hampshire herd, yielded more than 10 tons of milk during the year just completed. On three milkings a day, Belle gave exactly 20,416 pounds of milk and 631 pounds of butter fat.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The old army ain't what it used to be, many a hard-boiled top sergeant complained sorrowfully during the war. Today the French people who saw the American troops during the war are repeating the observation of the old top sergeant as they welcome the American Legion.

For the boys have changed. They are ten years older. This comes as something of a shock to French friends. The shock is not unpleasant, however. It is only that the boys are soberer in bearing, more subdued in conduct. They have grown up and developed. Many a familiar athletic figure is now portly; youthful faces have become lined with the cares of civilian life, and many heads are graying.

Still Merry, But More Dignified Ten years ago the Americans came in high spirits and exuded optimism which greatly cheered a people tired from suffering and hardship. They laughed and played a great deal; they worked hard but usually broke into song over it. The French were fascinated by the youthful spirit of the A. E. F.

The second A. E. F. has brought men still able to be merry, but they no longer are youngsters. They come with cordial friendship and a dignity becoming of their years.

Even Americans who stayed over here to work after the war find their old-time buddies greatly changed. They look and act differently in civilian clothes. To many such friends it seems a shame that the ten years had to gather about them, and it is taking them a little time to get used to the changed conditions.

Staunch in Their Good Will But just as the old top sergeant soon found the new army of ten years ago develop into an efficient fighting machine, the French today, after getting acquainted again, are finding the legionnaires quite as staunch in good will, and more matter in their appreciation of French life.

Trail Drivers To Unveil Memorial For Their Leader

(By Associated Press)
 SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 14.—Old trail drivers of Texas today will unveil a massive memorial to Amasa Clark, pioneer freighter, in the new national cemetery on the Austin road north of here.
 Clark recently died at the age of 87 years. He was one of the earliest freighters in Texas and at one time was in charge of the government's camel herd near here.
 The monument is a massive Red granite boulder upon which three inscriptions will be placed. The first of arms of Clark's old infant-organization occupies one, a simple inscription another and a relief of Clark's profile set against a background of Tarplay as near Bandera. The boulder itself was taken from Clark's own rugged hills.
 Members of the Pioneer Freighters' association collected the funds for the monument. Col. J. C. McArthur, Chief of Staff of the Second Division will be in charge of the ceremonies.

Snuff Dippers On Increase Over U. S.

AUSTIN.—The tribe of the snuff dippers is on the increase in the United States, if statistics mean anything.
 On the other hand, the number of cigar smokers are decreasing, otherwise they are not smoking so much.
 Fred B. Parsons, chief deputy internal revenue collector, has received federal figures showing that snuff dippers in the United States dipped 38,151,993 boxes in 1926 as compared to 22,746,741 in 1914, with 1926 being the banner year.
 Some 7,000,000,000 cigars sold in 1926 represent more than a 1,000,000,000 decrease from the 1914 figures.
 Cigarettes had an enormous increase during the period going from 36,900,000,000 in 1914 to 92,000,000,000 up to this year.

Jack Lockwill, the Lion Tamer

Now ordinarily Jack would have turned the lion over to Saunders without a word, and have felt relieved to get rid of his charge. But what Delano had told him about the man, added to the fact that Saunders was advancing threateningly, aroused the spirited boy. "So you're the trickster who doped Delano in order to get his place!" he cried, lifting the whip. "Stand back!"

(Creator of Frank Merriwell)

"You wouldn't dare strike me with that whip!" said Saunders. "Woudn't I?" returned Jack, smiling grimly. "I dared stop this lion with it, only a short time ago."

"You'll pay for this!" snarled the angry man. "Go back to the circus," said the boy. "I'll deliver old Lao there. As a lion tamer, you don't look good to me."

Jack had no trouble about taking the lion back to the circus, where the creature was easily driven into the cage from which it had escaped. When Savier Costello, proprietor of the show, heard what the boy had done, he complimented him. "It took nerve, young fellow," he said. "But look out for 'Red' Saunders," warned Mademoiselle Carnille, the equestrienne. (To Be Continued)

Thought For Today
Behold, we count them happy which endure.—James 6:11.

I have often endeavored to notice the fortitude with which women endure the most overwhelming reverses of fortune.—Irving.

Dark Places
We pride ourselves this is a civilized era—in spite of the great war.

And yet there are in human beings dark places of the heart that make one shudder for the race. Fundamentally, man is not so far removed from the shadow-bearing cave man as he likes to think.

Near the little village of Unchar in Slovakia there dwells a Texan woman. She is a harmless old thing with her sunken eyes, her toothless mouth, her shriveled skin, and her bird-like claws.

That the local peasantry did not think so, they suspected her. They feared her. She was a whisper of evil. Stories were told that she was seen having colloquies with the devil.

So one night they raided the hut of this poor old creature, dragged her to the forest and tied her to a tree, piled rubbish and hay around her and set fire to it. She was a witch, and there is only one way to get rid of witches—burn them.

Some of the most interesting of these strange passages of a bustling party of most civilized men saved her from a horrible death.

The tollgate ages we have laboring trying to make the human race a humane race!

OIL AND THE DAIRYMAN

Statistics show that the oil industry, like farming, has been suffering from over-production. Its profit processes in refining have been making each gallon of crude oil give up more gasoline and petroleum products than ever before.

Thousands of independent oil producers might be allowed to thousands of small dairy herd owners. If through over-production of milk the profits of the dairy industry were destroyed, what could be done? It would be practically impossible to get the farmers to shut out part of the flow of milk.

This could be accomplished only by destroying the milk after it was produced, or destroying the cow.

The oil operator who owns the oil land is a lot like the farmer who owns the cow—he must "milk" the soil of oil just as the farmer milks the cow, unless by a pre-emptive course among the cow owners.

The big price-making companies can hold the prices about where they want them, and there is not much chance for them to get away.

The big oil companies can force the prices down when they want to, and they do. When they want to make big profits, it is easy enough for them to force the prices down on the little fellows, who are helpless and have to take just what they can get for their crude.

WATCH FIRE HAZARDS
Fire hazards should be watched more closely now than ever before by the people of Midland. With the erection of many new buildings, such hazards should be reduced to the minimum.

PARIS (AP)—Child mannequins are displaying styles for boys and girls as the latest stunt in the world of dress.

WARNING TO MILK MEN
There is criticism as to the effect that some of our town people who are milking their own cows and selling milk are more or less careless regarding cleanliness. Also complaint that all bottles are not capped properly.

The bottles must have a cap or top, showing the grade of milk so the customer may know what grade of milk is getting. If the grade of milk is not shown on cap as grade A or grade B the customer does not have the legal assurance that milk is sanitary. Buyer should demand that milk be graded and grade shown in every cap.

The public is invited to co-operate and report violations so as to aid in control of diseases.

REDFERN GIVES ONLY NEWS OF BRAZIL FLIGHT

STRANGE NOTES TAKEN FROM SEA FURNISH ONLY CLUE YET

(By Associated Press) NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 14.—By a strange twist of fate the only definite news of Paul R. Redfern, Brunswick to Brazil flier, since he took off from Glynn Isle beach, Brunswick, Ga., has come from the flier himself.

Seeking out the Norwegian steamer Christian Krogh near the Venezuelan coast on the afternoon of August 26, following his hop-off from Brunswick on the preceding day, Redfern, apparently lost, dropped three notes inquiring the direction and distance to the nearest land. This was given to him and he flew off. There have been no definite reports of him since.

Fished Out of Sea The notes, in round card board containers, were fished out of the sea by W. T. Notwest, fireman, who jumped overboard to obtain them.

"Please point ship toward nearest land," read the first note. Redfern circled the ship then and dropped another.

"Point ship toward nearest land and wave one time for each 100 miles distance."

Third Note Dropped The aviator circled again and dropped the third note.

"Point ship to nearest land and wave flag or handkerchief once for each 100 miles. Redfern. Thanks."

Captain I. A. Ramre, master of the Christian Krogh, said he pointed the vessel in the direction of Venezuela, 145 miles away, and waved his flag twice. The monoplane flew toward land, he said. From all the ships' officers could see the engine of the airplane was working well. They declared Redfern spent nearly 20 minutes circling about the vessel.

Airplane Sighted On the following afternoon natives in the Orinoco river delta section of Venezuela reported seeing an airplane pass over, traveling southeast at a high altitude.

Bankers of the flight, gathered that while island points and ships along the route were presumably looking out for the monoplane, the only definite news should come in notes from Redfern himself to the ship.

The Christian Krogh, although equipped with wireless, did not report the meeting until it put into Kingston, Jamaica. The report has spurred search for Redfern. His backers believe he landed somewhere in the wilds shortly after reaching land in South America.

FRANCE OPENS ARC FOR VETS AT CONVENTION

HISTORIC PORTALS TO SWING BACK THIRD TIME IN HISTORY

(By Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 14.—For the third time in history, men from a foreign land will march on Sept. 19 through the historic portals of the Arc de Triomphe, France's monument to the military exploits of her revolutionary and Napoleonic troops.

Some 20,000 members of the American Legion, come from the United States to hold their ninth annual convention among world war scenes, will tramp through the arch in the procession of veterans which is a high point of each annual reunion.

Chains To Be Loosed The huge chains which surround the arch will be unloosed for the Legion parade for the first time since 1918, and for the second time in more than half a century, by permission of French officials. The invading Germans marched under the arch in 1870, and the allied armies at the conclusion of the world war in 1918 on their victory parade through Paris.

Striding through the huge arch the American veterans will parade up the Champs Elysees to the Place de la Concorde, scene of the execution of Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI in revolutionary days, studded with fountains and with the famous obelisk from the Egyptian temple at Luxor. Thence they will march through the Rue Royale to the Avenue de la Opera, on to the Isle de la Cite and into the shadows of the Cathedral of Notre Dame, there to disband.

Iowa Corn Song The Iowa corn song will resound along the avenues. The rhythmic beat of the artillery march will echo again along the streets where it has not been heard for a decade.

Probably some trooper will strike up "Maiden." But there will be a deeper note, a more solemn chord, in the procession than in the annual parades of other reunions, at Philadelphia, Omaha, St. Paul. Already the years are dimming the scenes of '17 and most of the paraders will be marching through the streets of Paris for the last time.

CONGRATULATORY TELEGRAM NEW YORK.—More telegrams of congratulation and well wishes are sent by Jewish people than any other group in the United States, the Western Union Telegraph Co. has found out, in compiling a record of messages of a non-business nature.
