The Woman's Day

By Allene Summer

Now that it's commencement time, the magazines and papers are filled with the annual confessions of graduates who relate what "higher learning" did not do for them. "Sweet Girl Graduates" by a Frances Warfield is the title of one of these perennial outbursts appearing in a current periodical.

Miss or Mrs. Frances writes in the vein characteristic of this breed of articles: "Let no one think that I learned nothing in college. I learned to use the best brands of canned chicken, sports clothes and cosmetics. I learned to pluck my eyebrow. I learned that Pasteur took all the bugs out of milk, and I learned how to pronounce Niztache's name."

SHE OVERLOOKS
In painting the picture of herself as the average dumbbell sweet girl graduate, Miss or Mrs. Frances Somebody indicates that she did not take a course in logic. Else she would realize that the reaction to her article from the most veritable dumbbell is "well, she learned how to get into print in one of the world's hardest magazines for a writer to crash!" In other words, the lady's very effusion proves that somebody taught her how to think and write clearly and cleverly and that somebody was no doubt the college which she affects to despise.

MORE THAN CHICKEN
After all, despite all the hue and shouting about the utter inanity of a college education, I am convinced that many more young people learned on their college campus both how to live and how to make a living than to use the best brands of, cigars and bottled chicken. Miss or Mrs. Frances seems to believe that sweet girl graduates read Browning, not because they like it, but because they have been told it's the thing to do—that they learn the catch-words of education without knowing what the words really indicate. I believe that more college girls read Browning because they enjoy him that because of her reason.

TOO MUCH KALE
My one argument against college education as it is given today is not that one can't learn, but that one is hampered with a standard of living in the world to lower a standard of living once it has been established. If college faculties would put their feet down a little more firmly on the great universal custom of foolish and almost criminal campus expenditures, such as $100-a-couple term dances, I would be sure that I am that every parent waxes it to his daughter to send her to school.

PAYING PIPER
Many people reason, "Oh, they won't expect to keep up the same pace of spending when they're through. They're young only ones. Let them dance now. They'll have to pay the piper soon enough." The trouble is that it's the hardest thing in the world to lower a standard of living once it has been established. The tendency is to maintain it, come what may, and the crash of disillusion and heartache inevitably comes.

JUNE BRIDES
Speaking of June graduates, we turn to June brides. June brides are rapidly becoming a myth, say ministers and carriage license bureau employees. There are really no more June brides, say they, than brides of any other month. So doth another tradition topple. And I for one shall make no man, I am too pleased at one more evidence that people move with the times and refuse to do a thing for sweet custom's sake only!

Where, Oh, Where Has Tommy Gone!

Tommy was overcome with lethargic and hysterical emotions as the satiating odor of ether made its way into the basement of the Lubbock Sanitarium.

The little fellow could stand it no longer. While the nurses, who had developed a tender affection for him, slept, he crept into the macabre timelessness of cat-populated alley ways. A search for his whereabouts has been to no avail.

Tommy is a gray Persian kitten with an inherent affection for feline charms.

10 Commandments Of Child Training

ALLOW YOUR CHILD SELF EXPRESSION TO A SENSIBLE EXTENT, SAYS MRS. BARTON

By Olive Roberts Barton
That shall allow the self-expression to a sensible extent.

Parents are often confused by the very modern phrase "self-expression." And not knowing what it means they often fall in the error of taking the word at face value, and act accordingly.

"It seems that if we don't allow our children to do as they please," say the parents, "something happens to them when they grow up. They have dreadful things called 'inhibitions' and 'complexes' that make them queer."

So with a wave of the hand they remark, "Go ahead, children. Do as you like. Express yourself. The world is yours."

This is the exact opposite of the "don't system." True, the Johnny Duntz will never be president. Neither will the erroneously counseled "express yourself" child be president. He will as likely as not be a horse-thief or something equally unpleasant.

"Self-expression" in its true sense is a wonderful thing. But like many other good things it has been misunderstood and misinterpreted.

Self-expression was never meant to interfere with discipline. Discipline is as necessary in the making of a child as in the making of a nation. Unless the child is to grow up an obnoxious outcast, the shove-you-off-the-sidewalk variety of citizen, he must be made to acknowledge authority. A few fundamental laws are all that are necessary in the home, but these must be obeyed absolutely and without question.

Self-expression means to give the child a chance to develop his own personality and do his own thinking. Let him choose things for himself as often as possible, the stories he wants to read, the games he wishes to play, and the clothes he wants to put on. Let him help in selecting his clothes when they are new. Allow him to choose his own friends as far as possible. He may bring in some queer ones, but my advice is usually "let him alone."

He'll work it out himself. Don't give your child's life for him until he is a carbon copy of you. Give him a chance to "express himself," as long as it does not interfere with life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness of others!

He need not break dishes and

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sore, paralyzed and lumpy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sears, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water.

Child Run Over By Hit-Run Driver

Victim of hit and run driver, Mrs. L. O. Dwyer, 1317 Avenue E, was painfully bruised when his car was knocked to the pavement on 13th street between Avenue C and L yesterday.

Remains of the child attracted W. L. Howard, employe of the city garage, and he rushed out at his place of business in time to see his victim's car. A Ford coupe increased its speed. Mr. Howard testified that the driver in company with two other young boys of about high school age, was making about 35 miles an hour and that he didn't stop to investigate the possible injury he had caused.

The child was badly bruised about the face and suffered possible internal injuries.

Police are now attempting to locate the driver of the car.

Fifth Step Made In Rail Progress

CHICAGO (AP)—The fifth revolutionary step in the history of American railroads is declared by officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad to be accomplished in the introduction of roller-bearing trains on its lines. The others they enumerate as the hinged wheel, which made possible heavier rails and greater speed; the attachment of wheels to cars on pivoted trucks, permitting long coaches to negotiate curves; the placing of the locomotive boiler in a horizontal position instead of upright, increasing its heating surface; and the airplane airbrake, which gave the engineer control of the cars behind the engine and permitted operation of long trains at high speed. Roller-bearing trains, adopted after long experiment, are provided with streamlined riding surfaces, increasing speed, saving fuel and decreasing friction.

SAFE DANCE NOW BOUGHT FOR THE RUSSIAN YOUTHS
MOSCOW (AP)—Nationalism has been extended in principle to the dance, in a suggestion put forward by the Moscow Council of Physical Culture. In referring to the popularity of the fox-trot and two-step, banned as immoral, the council has considered it unwise for the time being to prohibit dancing by couples. But at the same time there is a possibility that couples change partners in the course of the dance. A special conference has been summoned to go into the subject of "round dances," and to create a new dance, if possible, less wearing upon morals of youthful addicts.

It is not too late to plant cowpeas, soybeans and other hay crops.

We think that no time should be lost in making final plans for the proposed air route for Lubbock. There is no doubt but what the proposed air route from Dallas to Lubbock can be made a great success.

We think that the fact that numerous oil company representatives are now located in Lubbock and to take a chance of a map of the South Plains with the present drilling locations that Lubbock is still the "Hub of the Plains" and, too, the "Hub of the oil activity on the South Plains.

We think that even England is interested in the cotton situation of the South Plains. On July 29 one of the English spinner representatives will visit Lubbock and the South Plains for an inspection of this area.

We think that hard times must be hitting several people in New Orleans. In a recent investigation held by the district attorney of a New Orleans court, it was discovered that it was not uncommon to sell babies in that city.

We think that with Uncle Sam's aviators hopping off from both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts that the Tanks are still displaying their nerve and ability in the air. Of course Lindy was the first to successfully fly across the pond but many more will span the seas in the future.

We think that Lubbock should be ready to care for the increase in the enrollment of students that will enter in Texas Technological College this fall. Preparations are being made for the increase by the college authorities and the citizens should be ready to do their duty.

We think that a half a million of dollars was much to spend for the capture of bandits but Uncle Sam never gives up. In the capture of the De Autremont boys who killed four men and held up the Siskiyou train back in 1923 U. S. spent something like a million dollars.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is in the arrears on bottles and that some home brewer or Lubbock bootlegger is in 120 bottles to the good. The recent peddler jubilee banquet menu consisted of near beer and late Sunday evening five cases of em-pires was missing.

It is reported that the county park has been opened for fishing. The Lubbock county municipal park is one of the best resort spots on the South Plains and affords much pleasure and entertainment to the people of Lubbock and tourists (last visit the park).

It is reported that Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller and Senator A. J. Wicks are already laying plans for the next state election for the governor's race. It won't be long until all candidates both in state and county will be making plans for their candidacy to the different offices.

It is reported that the members of the "All Texas Special" are receiving the hearty recognition throughout the eastern states. The All Texas Goodwill Special is going over big and is thought to be one of the best campaigns the Lone Star has put over for the state.

It is reported that several bids of hardware this spring and summer have died shortly after closing out humerus. Baseball is a game that appears to have chances for but for few injuries yet every thing has it dangers.

It is reported that Levelland will have modern fire fighting equipment within the next few weeks. Two years ago Levelland was but a mere village but it is a part of the great South Plains and has grown to be a real town with modern buildings, schools, churches, and other civic improvements.

Obligations of Citizenship

In ancient times a city was a place where confederated families gathered for a common purpose, that of worship or protection or so on. Today we have the incorporated city with its government, its schools, its churches and myriad other institutions.

There is no pledge of allegiance required of citizens of our towns and cities, but there is an obligation which the acceptance of its police protection, fire protection and other benefits entails.

There is an obligation of the citizen of loyalty to his home city. Steps taken concertedly to develop the industries of one's home city are worthy of his co-operation. If only financial support and personal activity are needed, it is not too much that he should give to the required extent an able best citizen generally gives a little more than is required.

That is what makes him an outstanding citizen. If money is required he does not stand back. There is no means of enforcing the discharge of these obligations. But the prompt discharge of them marks the good citizen.

Right now a matter of concern is the final settlement of the obligations of the railroad committee which has in charge the procurement of the right-of-way for the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains Railway company. Temporary arrangements have been made for the payment of the right-of-way, but that arrangement, we are told has only delayed the day of payment. It is an interest-bearing obligation.

There is not a person in Hale county who will not be in some measure benefitted by the coming of the new railroad. The building of the dump has furnished labor for the people of Hale county and has found its way into circulation. It is new money. The American people are too familiar with the good economic results of new railroads for further enumeration of the good results to Hale county and the other sections of the Plains to be traversed.

Civic Achievements

BY DON E. MOWRY Secretary, The American Community Advertising Association

Creation of city foundations—funds set aside in perpetuity, the income from which is administered for the general public welfare—are valuable semi-official assets to any income from which is administered as a trust by a board of public-spirited citizens who have the welfare of their municipality at heart.

Cleveland, O., was the first city to put over the foundation idea on a large scale. Not many cities have followed Cleveland's lead, and it is surprising that the idea has not been given wider acceptance. That the foundation can be a success in medium-sized cities is proven by Altoona, Pa., which not long ago organized the Altoona Foundation. Altoona is an industrial city with many skilled workers, but little or no centralized wealth. Its foundation is a community saving fund to which any citizen may contribute.

Many citizens are making provision in their wills which will leave the foundation sums of various sizes. Instead of having this money spent at once, the money is invested. The interest and income from the funds is used to help the needy and the rest of them—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl.

Any city with a foundation such as this has an asset it can advertise and boast of to an unlimited degree.

Your Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHBIN

Youths who achieve eminence are characterized not only by high intellectual traits, but also by persistence of motive and effort, confidence in their abilities, and great strength of character.

This conclusion of the psychologist of Stanford university, who studied the characters of 200 eminent men and women of history to determine the factors that make for success, is most significant. The superior young men pursued high ideals, developed significant interests, and created new expressions of scientific and philosophical thought before they had reached the age of manhood.

Among the examples cited to prove this contention is the fact that Milton had written an epic pronounced by an eminent critic as perhaps the most beautiful in the English language, before he was twenty-one years old. Burns had defined his views before he was twenty-five. Freud was chief secretary for Ireland before he was 24. Raphael had painted the Granduca Madonna at 21. Beethoven was appointed chamber musician to the king at 18. Newton had developed his views of light and colors before he was 28. Bacon was chief optical work before he was 28. Montaigne had sketched his "Spirit of Laws" at a similar age, and the Englishman, Jenner, even before 30, had laid out the program that led to his discovery of vaccination for smallpox, a boon to the world.

More Questions!

Oil does not add to the tremendous resources of the Plains will make this section one of the richest in the United States. Below are ten questions having to do with oil development, answers to which will be found on the Classified Ad page.

- 1. When and where was the first oil test in this section? 2. What is the most recent test underway on the Spade Ranch? 3. What is the present depth of the Soles test? 4. What is the depth of the producing Mulliken well? 5. What is the Brownfield well doing? 6. What is the present depth of the Wood-Mirick well west of Shallowater? 7. What additional drilling contracts have been made on the Spade tract just west of Lubbock? 8. How far is the Mulliken lease from Hale Center? 9. Where is the Mingo well and why is it of special interest? 10. What significant feature was observed regarding the holding of leases around the abandoned Yellowhouse well?

Today's Poem

"UP-HILL" Does the road wind up-hill all the way? Yes, to the very end.—By Christina G. Rossetti

"A RED, RED ROSE" O my love's like a red, red rose, That's newly sprung in June. O my love's like the melody, That's sweetly played in tune.

As fair thou art, my bonnie lass, So sweet is my love. And I will love thee still, my love, Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear, Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear, And the rocks melt with the sun, And I will love thee still, my love, While the sands of life shall run. And fare thee weel, my only love! And fare thee weel, my love! And I will come again, my love, Though it were ten thousand miles, away.—By Robert Burns.

SPUDDERS TAKE RAGGED GAME FROM EXPORTERS AS SPORTS BLANKET BUFFS BEARS WIN

(By Associated Press) WICHITA, June 29.—Wichita Falls took a lopsided 15-11 slugfest this afternoon in the first game of the series. Sam Ross was knocked out of the box in the first inning and Buck Freeman who followed him fared no better. Both pitchers, who finished had a chance to win the game, but his support went to pieces behind him. Three errors permitting the winning runs. Wichita Falls, 15: 140 300—15 14 9. Beaumont, 11: 100 200—11 15 2. Pomeroy, Estell and Lamm; Ross, Freeman, Caldera and C. Robertson.

SPORTS BLANKET THE BUFFS
Houston, June 29 (AP)—Manger Tugan Phelps's Shreveport Sports Wednesday finished his Shreveport fashion behind Williamson's classy twirling and blanketed the Buffs, 1-0, in a game that required just one hour and twenty minutes. It was a tough game for Carlton to lose, as the lanky right hander allowed five hits and before his inning was over the Bears had a three run lead to lead the Dallas stars in the opening game of the series here Wednesday, 7 to 4. Tiny Owens relieved McColl only to help the Bear cause, as he pitched a 1-0 game. McColl, Owens, Shuman and Phillips; Harro and Wicks.

BEARS TAKE STEER OPENER
SAN ANTONIO, June 29 (AP)—Alex McColl had a 3-1 lead until the sixth inning when Harry Brown started the attack with a two runner and before his inning was over the Bears had a three run lead to lead the Dallas stars in the opening game of the series here Wednesday, 7 to 4. Tiny Owens relieved McColl only to help the Bear cause, as he pitched a 1-0 game. McColl, Owens, Shuman and Phillips; Harro and Wicks.

Undertakers Take Shylock Game By Score Of 5 To 1

The Undertakers came alive for the first time for many weeks to rally a victory over the Shylocks Tuesday afternoon at the Mexico Park by defeating Judge Raley's money lenders with a score of 5 to 1. Cliffon Harvey, racy enthusiasm, was backed to the full strength of the nine throughout the exhibition and with straight pickling walked from the hill with his first victory as a pitcher in the city loop. Raley's crew were roused both in fielding and base running yesterday and failed to wake up to the point that a game was on.

SENATORS TAKE SECOND FROM ATHLETICS

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, June 29.—The Yankees pushed the Red Sox a little deeper into the cellar here today, making the first of a four game series by 5 to 2. It was the 11th straight defeat for the visitors. Gehrig tied Babe Ruth for the season's home run honors, hitting his 24th in the fifth inning. Ruth was back in the game after a three day layoff and hit a double and three singles. Pipgras, one of the young second string pitchers of the Yanks pitched a strong game yielding only three hits and hit a triple and a single. The score:

Washington Takes Poughkeepsie Race By An Easy Margin

JUNIOR VARSITY REGATTA COURSE POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. June 29 (AP)—For the third straight year the Washington Junior Varsity eight rowed to victory today in the annual three mile regatta of the Poughkeepsie regatta, the final preliminary of the varsity race. Columbia was second a length and a half back with California third. Pennsylvania fourth and Cornell fifth, four full lengths behind the winner.

Strolling Down Sports Lane

The Undertakers finally took a game by defeating Judge Raley's nine with a score of 5 to 1. It is a shame the manner in which some of Raley's players work for the little fellow—it is unnecessary and Raley would be better off without them.

Kingsland Test Is Being Pushed Now
BROWNFIELD, June 29.—Drilling of the Kingsland oil tank on the Brownfield ranch is being actively pursued and rapid progress has been made since the installation of a rotary rig. It was thought that work with a standard type would be resumed at 5,000 feet but it has since been decided to continue with a rotary until the black time is reached. An unusual amount of trouble has been encountered in the way of breaks in machinery, collapsed casing, and cavings, but the owners are determined to complete it to contract depth and very much believe in the event that showings are favorable for oil. The drill is now in the red beds and estimated at about 1,700 feet in depth.

would be running in full operation by June 1, of next year and possibly earlier. If the work continues as it has in the past few weeks, work trains will be run on the line as fast as the rails are laid, he said.

entitled to all the benefits of the line. He especially paid a tribute to the Lubbock chamber of commerce and its railroad committee which has done much in securing the line to the South Plains.
The party will leave this morning for the construction camp south-east of town about three miles where the work on the cut across the Yellow House canyon is under way. From there they will go up the line to Silverton and thence back to Estelina.

Nisley, contractors for the work on the line told an Avalanche representative yesterday afternoon. Mr. Sprague and his son, Ray, are at the camp and supervising the work themselves.
Eighty thousand cubic yards of dirt will be moved in making the cut. Mr. Sprague said, which is probably the largest job after the line gets on the track. Three or four months will find the cut practically completed and a bridge of 253 feet will span the canyon at this point, 50 feet being the greatest height. The cut leading to the canyon will be 2,500 feet.

HAWAII FLIGHT

Byrd kept in almost constant communication with ship and shore by radio. Not only did he write his own progress reports and deliver it back to his starting point as he wrote, but he sent messages to friends and congratulations to fellow aviators.
In a message picked up at Halifax Byrd sent best wishes to the army aviators who today completed the non-stop flight to Hawaii and conveyed a greeting to Floyd Bennett, the original pilot of the America, who is recovering in a hospital from injuries suffered in a test flight when the plane was first built.

Radio Messages Arrive
The message telling of the American position and condition began coming in to Roosevelt Field almost immediately after the takeoff and were still being received at frequent intervals eight hours later as the plane left the Nova Scotia coast and headed out across the ocean.
The first message was received at 6 o'clock in the morning, 22 minutes after the takeoff. It merely reported that "everything going fine" and was signed by George Noville, radio engineer of the party. While Noville was sending out information by radio Byrd was in his cabin poring over charts in his capacity as navigator and studying innumerable instruments which he expected to reveal to him hitherto unknown facts about the elements.

Progress Told
After the first message another came to over Rhode Island at 6:41 and the third from above Massachusetts at 7:22, and so through the day as the great three-motored plane winged along its way. The reports from the plane itself were amplified by those from watchers on shore and ships at sea and together constituted what was believed to be a new record in radio communication achievement.
The America is the first trans-Atlantic plane from which it has been possible to conduct communication with a ship at sea and a shore station. Clarence Chamberlin foresees carrying radio sets.

Unexpected Flight
The flight got under way this morning with a suddenness in striking contrast with the many delays which held up a start during the month and a half the plane had been waiting at Roosevelt Field.
At midnight last night there was an announcement that continuing bad weather made a takeoff impossible for the day. And barely an hour later a counter announcement was made that the hop would be taken at dawn.
Jan's H. Kimball of the weather bureau revealed today that the abrupt change was occasioned by discovery of an error of 0.15 of an inch in a ship's compass off Cape Race. The barometer indicated a low pressure area which led the weather man to advise against a takeoff, but later wireless information showed the barometer to have been at fault and the low pressure area to have cleared up.

AMERICA 1200 MILES ON ITS JOURNEY
ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 29 (Thursday) (AP)—The Pooker monoplane America with Commander Byrd and his crew was going strong at 3:30 a. m. according to a message received here from the Chatham, Mass., station of the Radio Corporation of America, which reported that the automatic signals from the plane could be heard distinctly. It was estimated that the plane was about 1,400 miles from the Chatham station.

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—The French Cable company announced tonight that the trans-Atlantic plane America had been sighted by the Steamer Chalutier, 200 miles east of St. John's, Newfoundland, according to a radio dispatch picked up by the company's station at Saint Pierre, Miquelon.

HALIFAX REPORTS PLANE 200 MILES OUT
HALIFAX, N. S., June 29 (AP)—The Canadian government radio station at Halifax received a message from the station at Cape Race giving the position of the monoplane America at 2:30 a. m. E. D. E. is 200 miles east of St. John's, N. S., the plane's position was given at bearing 77 degrees true north from Cape Race, latitude 48.

FIELD IS PREPARED FOR BYRD ARRIVAL
PARIS, June 29 (AP)—The flying field at Le Bourget field where Captain Charles A. Lindbergh landed last month from New York to start a whirl of aviation achievements that is still in progress, tomorrow is scheduled to be the center for a short time for the American trans-Atlantic aerial feat of the past six weeks. With the expected arrival of Commander Richard E. Byrd in his trans-Atlantic plane America some time tomorrow night and the scheduled visit of Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine about three o'clock this afternoon, the Le Bourget field is preparing for a busy day.

corpse who undoubtedly would have performed the task successfully.
The first question was in regard to food aboard the Pooker plane, and drew a laugh from both Maitland and Hegenberger.
"We had water," explained Maitland. "You see we had ordered some sandwiches and had expected to have some coffee and hot soup in thermos bottles, but when we looked for them, we could not find them. If they were in the plane, we failed to locate them."
Lieutenant John S. Griffith interrupted to say that he had found the food in the plane untouched. Under the plotting board, covered by a tarpaulin, were the sandwiches, coffee and hot soup.
When asked for their general impressions of the long flight, Maitland replied, Hegenberger nodding in concurrence.
"My first and outstanding impression is that it is the starting point toward more general distribution and strengthening of military aviation, and an important step in recognition of our coast defenses."
"I might add right there," said Hegenberger, "that this flight positively was not in the nature of a mere publicity stunt, but a general arrangement possible were made to govern it."
Asked regarding the extent of deviation from their plotted course, Hegenberger, the navigator answered: "We know where we were at all times, or very closely while we were not exactly on the course every minute of the time, we were not very far away from it."

NAVAL PARLEY

would be contingent, under the British plan, upon an agreement concerning the number of 14,000 ton cruisers to be allocated to Great Britain, the United States and Japan.
Refuse Binding Agreement
As the large size cruisers authorized by the Washington treaty would automatically disappear by the adoption of the British project at the period of their retirement and replacement, it is believed that the Americans, who have always insisted upon the necessity of the larger cruisers as best suited to American national requirements, will not tie their hands by an agreement, even if it would on materialize two decades hence.
Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation, today repudiated statements published by a Geneva newspaper, that in a recent conversation with Viscount Ishii of Japan, he yielded "to his stick" after the manner of Roosevelt, and that the interview was a violent one.
My conversations with Viscount Ishii" said Mr. Gibson, "were conducted by complete friendliness. Nothing occurred which could be construed as a threat or a manifestation of hostility."
