Gandhi Arrested, Released by Court

NEW DELHI, India (AP) - Indira Gandhi was brought to court on corruption charges today after a night in police custody, but Magistrate R. Dayal said there were "no reasonable grounds" for her detention and freed her.

The government said collections of evidence against Mrs. Gandhi would continue and she would be brought to trial. But it gave no indication when the trial might take place, and her sudden arrest and swift release were likely to prove a sizable boost to her attempt at a political comeback.

JACK CARROTHERS

Friona Industries President Dies; Services Pending

Jack Carrothers, 52, president and chairman of the board of Friona Industries was dead on arrival Monday at Parmer County Hospital, Friona.

He died of an apparent heart attack. Services are pending with Smith & Co. Funeral Home.

A native of California and a graduate of Oregon State University, Mr. Carrothers came to Friona in 1962 from Colorado to become manager of Friona Feedyards, Inc.

He was a founding member of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association and served as its first president from 1967 to 1968. Later, he became a member of the board of directors of the American Cattlemen's Association and the National Livestock and Meat Board.

Mr. Carrothers moved to Hereford from Friona in 1967 and resided at 119 N. Texas at the time of his death. A veteran of World War II, he was a Methodist.

Survivors include the widow, Betty; three sons, Bob and Steve, both of Dallas, and Billy of Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. Cathy Poarch of Austin; two sisters, Mrs. Harriet Charles of Provo, Utah and Mrs. R.L. Waldie of Coronado, Calif.; a step-father, R.W. Baird of Coronado, Calif.; and two grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorial donations to the American Heart Association.

Police used tear gas and clubs on demonstrators for and against the 59-year-old former prime minister outside the courthouse. Gas fumes drifted into the packed courtroom as competing chants of "Shame, shame, shame, Indira Gandhi" and "Long live Indira Gandhi" drowned out some of the lawyers' arguments.

Mrs. Gandhi rejected an offer of bail when she was arrested Monday night and did not request bail in court. Her lawyer, Frank Anthony, told the magistrate the charges against her were "vague, utterly fatuous, trumped up and political." He charged that her arrest had been ordered personally by Prime Minister Morarji Desai.

Attorneys for the government asked the court to take jurisdiction of Mrs. Gandhi, saying they had brought her before Dayal in accordance with the legal requirement that anyone arrested without a court order be produced in court within 24 hours.

The magistrate ordered her freed with no restrictions on her movements.

Mrs. Gandhi was escorted from the courtroom by her son Sanjay, who also is under investigation, and chanting supporters. Followed by a police car, they drove to her New Delhi home. There she told a cheering crowd her freedom did not matter, the important things were the country and the unheeded grievances of the people.

City OKs Zoning Requests

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

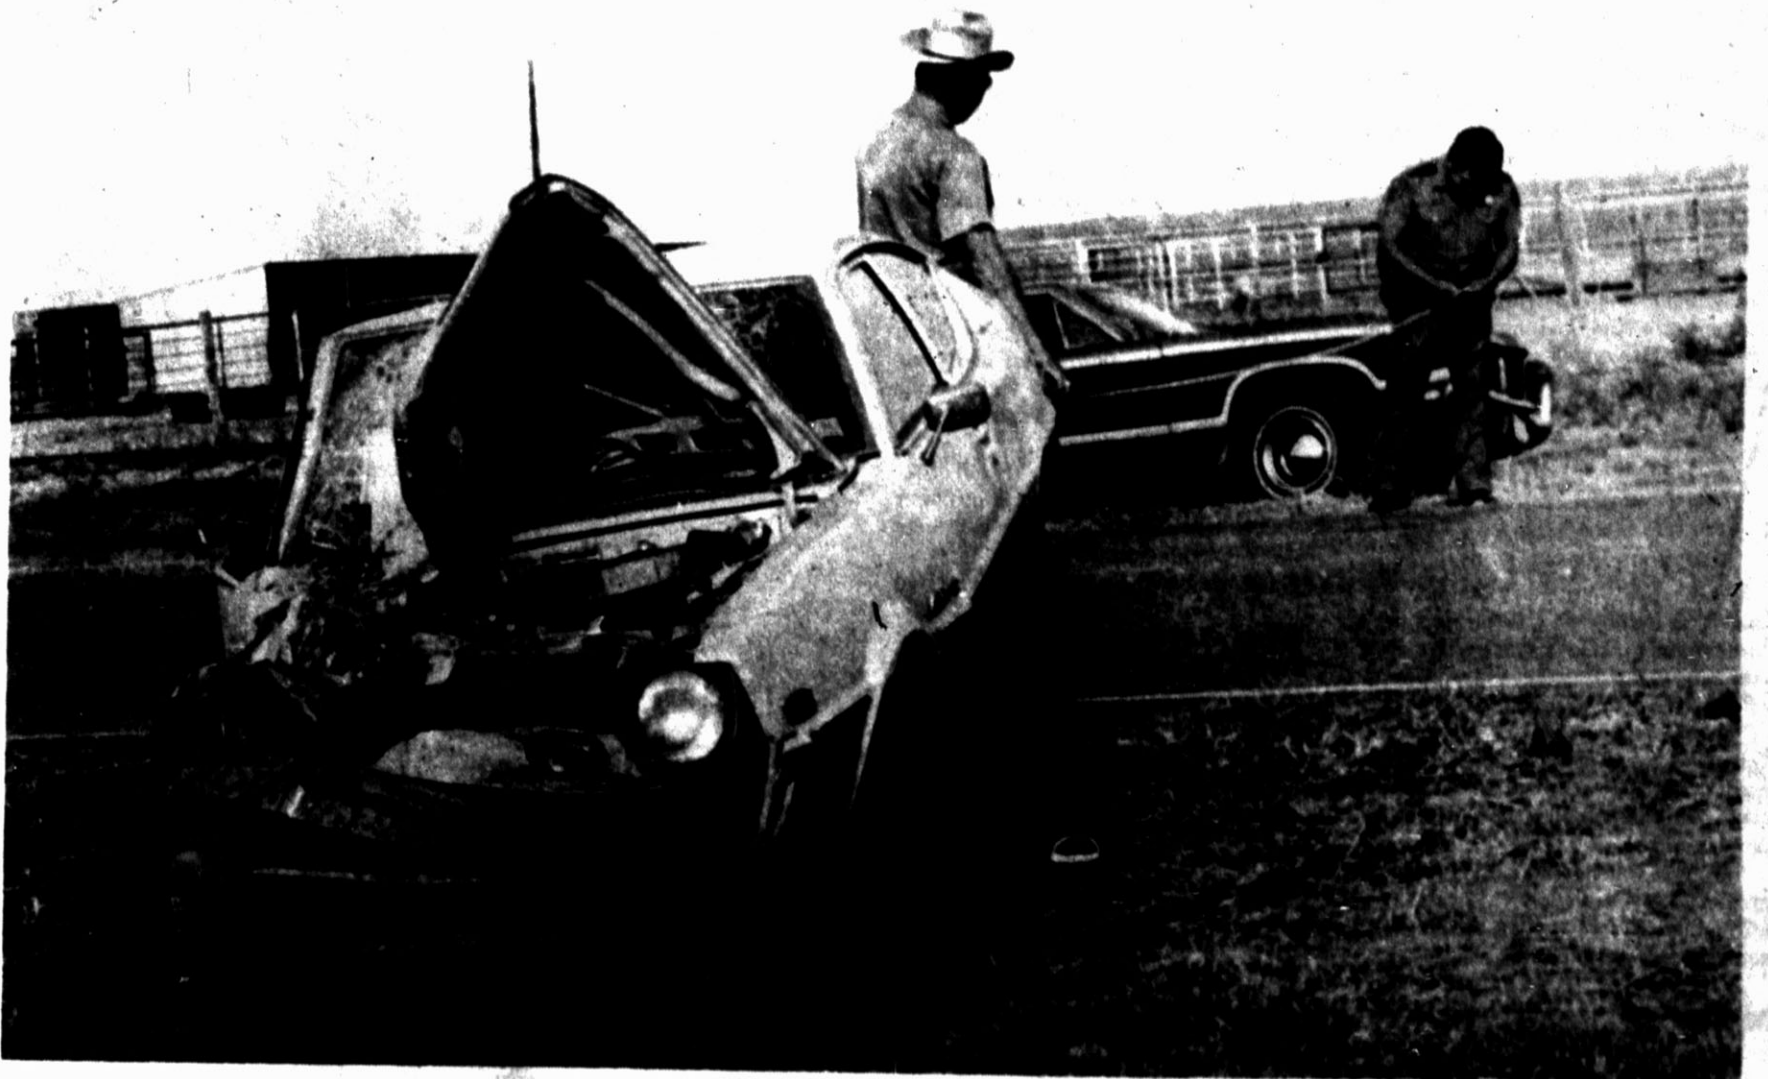

It took Hereford city commissioners just 36 minutes to approve two zoning change requests, a dedication deed and an ordinance involving the city's electrical power, to reject a proposal to buy land and to study plans for the addition to the community center.

Commissioners in a quick Monday night meeting at City Hall approved a petition for annexation from the West Community Church, which has constructed a building on 1.84 acres at 15th and Whittier.

The church then filed for a zoning change—from an "A" single family zone to "B" two family. Commissioners approved the request after the zoning board had given its okay.

A zoning change request by Randy and Karen Arnold also was approved by the city commission. The Arnolds plan to construct a barn and corral for horses in

2 Injured in Wreck

The Department of Public Safety is still investigating an accident involving two cars at 4:45 p.m. Monday on FM Road 2943 three miles north of Southwest Feed Yards. The accident put two teenagers, Jeff Smith of Hereford and Jimmy Keirn Golden of Wildorado, in the hospital after the 1976 Plymouth driven by uninjured Miguel Angel Barrera of Hereford in which they were passengers tried to pass a green Ford station wagon and the vehicles collided. Smith was listed in fair condition today at Deaf Smith General Hospital, while Golden was treated and released. Measuring the road during the investigation of the accident Friday are game warden Chuck Cooper, left, and DPS Trooper Paul Hernandez. The station wagon is in the background. Russians To Discuss Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) - A delegation of Soviet trade officials is scheduled to meet here this week to talk about the five-year agreement under which Russia is supposed to buy annual quantities of U.S. grain.

But Agriculture Department sources say the meeting, scheduled to begin with informal talks Wednesday and then proceed on an official footing Thursday, will be routine and "not necessarily indicative" of the Soviet Union's changing its U.S. grain-buying patterns.

The meeting was scheduled under the five-year agreement which calls for semi-annual consultations between U.S.

and Soviet officials.

However, there have been rumors that the Soviet Union may want to modify the pact, signed Oct. 20, 1975, or even abandon it altogether. An aide to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said Monday that "no indication" of either possibility has been forthcoming from the Russians.

Another possibility which has circulated the past week is that the Soviet Union may want to buy even more U.S. grain this year than the basic agreement calls for. This also was discounted by other USDA officials Monday.

The long-term grain agreement was worked out two years ago committing the Soviet Union to buy at least six million metric tons of U.S. wheat and corn annually - approximately half and half - over a five-year period, beginning with deliveries Oct. 1, 1976.

During the first year of the pact which has just ended, Russia bought about six million tons, the minimum specified. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds. For 1977-78, the second year of the agreement, the Soviets so far have bought about 2.3 million tons of wheat and corn combined, meaning at least 3.7 million still are to be ordered under terms of the pact.

The agreement, besides setting a minimum of six million tons that Russia is committed to buy each year, also says that up to eight million tons annually can be purchased without further ado if Moscow decides on larger imports and U.S. grain supplies are in excess of 225 million tons.

No problem is foreseen on the U.S. supply situation, however. Counting stockpiles already on hand plus the 1977 harvests, the total wheat and feed grain supply of the United States for 1977-78 is estimated at about 313.8 million tons, up from 286.9 million last season.

Further, if the Soviet Union chooses it can buy more than eight million tons of (See WHEAT, Page 2)

JOSEPH A. SCHULTE

Joseph Shulte Dies in Accident; Funeral Today

Joseph A. Schulte, 56, was killed Saturday night in a one-vehicle accident southeast of Hereford.

Schulte was found in his truck on a private road after it apparently struck a pile of railroad ties and caught fire. Judge Sam Morgan ruled the death accidental.

Services for the 31-year resident of Hereford were held this morning in St. Anthony's Catholic Church with the Rev. Bernard McGorry, pastor, officiating. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery under direction of Smith & Co. Funeral Home.

Mr. Schulte was born July 28, 1921 in Nazareth and was a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. He was a farmer and resided near Friona community.

He is survived by the widow, Edna; two daughters, Patricia Ann Maul of Corpus Christi, and Sherri Birkenfeld of Lubbock; four sons, George Robert and Michael, both of Wichita Falls, Conrad of North Glenn, Colo. and Gerald of Odessa; three brothers, Albert, Eddie and Clarence, all of Nazareth; three sisters, Mrs. Rose Hindman of Nazareth, Mrs. Elizabeth Britting of Amarillo and Mrs. Theresa Wills of Groom; and nine grandchildren.

The Branding Iron

Judge Morgan Proud of County's Achievements

By KEITH RIBNICK
Brand Staff Writer

If there ever was a man proud of the many recent accomplishments of his county, Deaf Smith County Judge Sam Morgan would be him.

Though only in office for three years, Morgan is quick to point out the county's achievements during his tenure.

"The county is in the best financial condition it has ever been in, as far as I know," Morgan said. "We're in excellent shape."

"We have changed our fiscal year from the regular calendar year to a year which starts on Oct. 1 and ends on Sept. 30 of the following year. This way...the funds are spent the same year the taxes are collected in the county."

"We are gradually paying back the county's bonded indebtedness. Our current bonded indebtedness is approximately $235,000."

"We have just ended a fiscal year and have successfully lived within our budget. We will have a county surplus for the coming year of about $100,000."

"We have spent approximately $200,000 for our county jail to meet the new state jail standards...which it does beautifully."

"In this new jail, we have a 24-hour surveillance system for the inmates. This helps insure no one in our jail has his rights violated. I know if I had a 17 or 18-year old boy in jail, I'd want to insure his rights are protected."

"Within the past three years, the federal funds for the underprivileged in Deaf Smith County have gone from $65,000 up to in excess of $300,000. I feel it's my duty as county judge to make sure we get our share of federal funds for the underprivileged...after all, we pay our federal taxes."

"The Brand reported a couple of months ago that Deaf Smith County got back 75 percent of the money we give to the federal government through taxes. To me, this indicates something..."

If it seems that Morgan is unusually concerned about the welfare of Deaf Smith County, he is. A 20-year resident of the Hereford area, Morgan often refers to his "feeling" for Deaf Smith County and his love of local people.

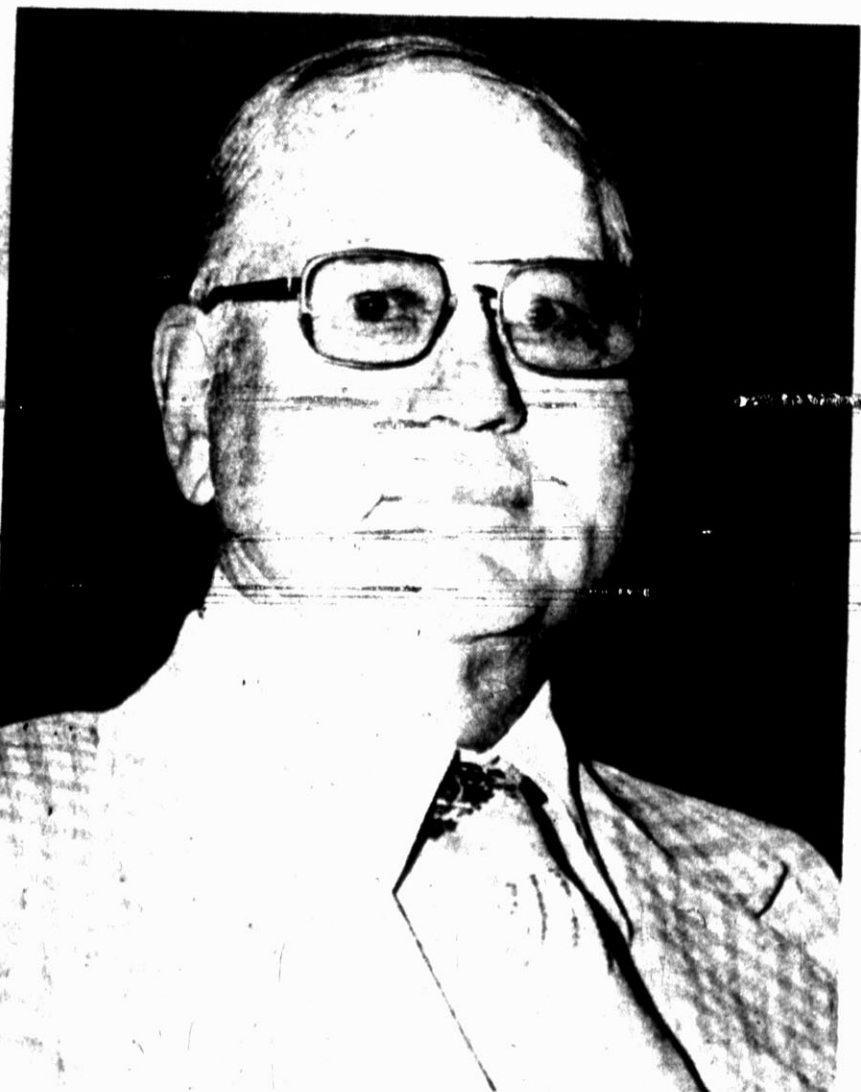

Morgan started out in life as a downstate banker. He was president of the Citizen's State Bank of Roby for several years prior to the outbreak of World War II.

During the mid-century conflict, Morgan served in the Navy in the classification department. Stationed throughout the Pacific, Morgan spent much of his time in California and took extension courses in psychology from the University of Southern California.

After the war, Morgan went back to Roby and taught GI Vocational classes in Agriculture at the county vocational school. In 1951, he went to work for the local Rural Electric Co-operative in Roby.

Morgan eventually came to Hereford through his Rural Electrical Co-operative

Arms Race Concerns Those at Conference

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The Belgrade conference on East-West relations opened here today with warnings from host country Yugoslavia and U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim that a rapidly spreading arms race is jeopardizing progress toward détente.

The 35 nations that met in Helsinki in 1975 to sign an agreement on peace and security convened here to assess the application of that agreement on fields ranging from human rights to notification of military maneuvers by NATO and Warsaw Pact nations.

In a message to the conferees, President Tito of Yugoslavia deplored "hesitations" in applying the agreements and "the continuation of the armament race which not only deepens differences but threatens to race out of control."

Mother Testifies In TV Insanity Trial

MIAMI (AP)—Ronny Zamora, the television murder trial defendant, liked the Superman show so much as a child that he asked permission to leap from a window, the boy's testified.

"He was just crazy about Superman," Yolanda Zamora testified Monday. "He would wrap a towel around his neck and ask my husband to open the window so he could jump out."

"To him, watching television was the greatest thing in the world. It was like a gift to him. The way he learned English, actually, was watching TV."

Mrs. Zamora was the major witness as defense lawyer Ellis Rubin began trying to prove that a decade of viewing televised violence left Zamora, 15, unable to tell right from wrong. The mother's testimony was to continue today.

Algerians Hold Japanese Hijackers

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—The Algerian government held five Japanese Red Army hijackers, their $6 million ransom and six comrades today while their last freed hostages waited to complete their journey interrupted by the hijacking of a Japanese airliner six days ago.

The terrorists freed the 12 passengers and seven crew members and walked out of the hijacked Japan Air Lines DC8 jet with their hands up about two hours after it landed here Monday, ending a 5,000-mile journey without loss of life.

Officials said the hostages, who stepped off the aircraft ahead of the terrorists, were relaxed and smiled as they boarded an airport bus to hotels in Algiers. A Japanese spokesman said they were "in very good condition."

Police Report

Hereford police Sunday investigated the theft of some flower pots and some pumpkins in a somewhat anticlimactic ending to a busy weekend for law enforcement authorities.

George Warner, 201 N. Texas, reported the theft of $15 worth of flower pots at 4:09 p.m. Sunday. The pots were taken from his front porch.

The Hereford Fruit Market reported missing pumpkins valued at $25 at 7 p.m. Sunday. Somebody stole the pumpkins off a truck.

Mrs. Peggy Johnson, 709 Stanton, told police Saturday that somebody entered a bathroom window at her residence and stole two piggy banks sometime between Tuesday, Sept. 26, and Saturday.

There was a total of $10 in the banks. Three juveniles and an adult, Jose Davila, 17, of 212 Fuller, were arrested Saturday in connection with the theft of four wheel rims from the back of a pickup parked at the bowling alley Friday night.

The four were charged with felony theft. Joe Brown and Bud McCendon were arresting officers.

Allsup's Convenience Store, 15th and Ave. H., told police at 9:33 p.m. Saturday that somebody put $2.00 worth of gas in their car from the self-service pump and left without paying.

Sonsman Trucking Co., 1105 E. 1st, reported two thefts Sunday—one at 8:43 a.m. Sunday and the other at 6:29 p.m. Citizen's band radios, two antennas and an aluminum battery cover were taken in the two incidents, with the total value placed at $245.

Two juveniles were arrested Sunday night after allegedly stealing a 1975 Pontiac Grand Prix, owned by Adolpho Rocha of 408 Harrah, from the Playhouse Skating Rink on W. Highway 60.

Jane Sandoval, 406 Ave. I, was victim of a shooting Saturday night. Her husband, Andy Sandoval, reportedly shot Mrs. Sandoval in the shoulder then tried to shoot himself, according to police.

Police arrested Sandoval and charged him with attempted murder. His wife has been released from Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Vicki Stuart Sunday reported the theft of a wallet containing $250 in cash from her room (78) at the Holiday Motor Motel.

Police discovered the door of a new pickup was kicked at Pratt Chevrolet early today. Police also investigated some vandalism early today after somebody tried to drive a car through the wall at Nif-T Food at 618 Ave. K, knocking groceries off a counter.

Weather

West Texas—Mostly cloudy with scattered showers and a few thunderstorms tonight. Showers and thunderstorms heavier and more numerous southwest. Decreasing cloudiness Wednesday with widely scattered showers mainly east. Lows tonight 52 to 64.

Scenes from Bank's Grand Opening Sunday

Hereford State Bank held the formal grand opening of its new banking house Sunday afternoon, with an estimated 3,000 people attending the event. In the top photo, children were presented "piggy banks" and had one minute to put as many pennies as they could in their bank. Serving as the timer, center, was Debbie Gonzales. The second photo gives an overall view of the packed crowd in the bank lobby. Bank president Marian Vander Zee and one of the vice presidents, Craig Smith, can be seen chatting with open house guests in the next photo. The bottom photo shows one of the displays which drew much attention. All of the U.S. currency except the $100,000 bill were displayed in this case. Registration continues through Friday in the bank's "Millionaire-for-a-Day" door-prize promotion.

HISD Board Meets Today

The Hereford Independent School District board of trustees will meet in special session at 7 p.m. today in the administration building to discuss the health insurance program for HISD employees and to consider expulsion of a student.

Consideration of the students' expulsion will be done in closed session.

Education Costs Regulated

CANYON (AP)—Texas' commissioner of higher education said Monday that despite rising costs "higher education is not out of control. It can police itself and is doing so."

Dr. Kenneth Ashworth addressed the annual conference of Texas Deans of Business.

"Small classes are being eliminated or held to a bare minimum. Faculty workloads are being evaluated and abuses eliminated," he said.

He also commented on the fact that more graduates are being produced than some fields can handle. "It is not a fair measurement of the value of a college education," he said, "to judge whether or not graduates—immediately upon graduation—enter professions directly related to their degrees."

"We have to remember that the average American works in seven different jobs in three different careers during his or her working lifetime. To judge the appropriateness of a degree program to the first job a graduate takes would be like using the score at the end of the first inning as the final score for a ballgame."

The legislature, it was noted, appropriated 28 per cent more state funds for higher education in 1977-78 than in the previous biennium.

WATER HEATERS AND ENERGY LEAKS

LOMBARD, Ill. (AP)—A waste of gas and a significant increase in home fuel bills is blamed on some water heaters by the Water Quality Association. The heaters, it is charged, are rendered inefficient because of lime deposits caused by hard water.

"When a heater is encrusted by hard water scale, it's like trying to heat a kettle with a firebrick under it," says Richard Weickart, technical director of the association.

"Instead of heat going into the water, it goes up the flue, and flue temperatures may rise 150 degrees. The only cure is to clean the heater tank with chemical products designed for the purpose, or install a water softener of sufficient capacity to prevent the formation of the scale," Weickart adds.

Wheat

U.S. wheat and corn in a year but, in this case, is committed by the agreement to engage in further discussions with U.S. officials.

All grain sales to the Soviet Union in recent years have been for cash and have been by private U.S. export companies. The agreement, however, is a government-to-government understanding of how much grain can be sold within certain limits.

A reason for speculation that the Soviets might want to change the pact has been that they have harvested bumper crops of wheat and other grain in 1976 and 1977.

But last week USDA reported that the 1977 Russian harvest, while still estimated as the third largest on record at some 215 million tons, is not as large as had been believed and that the Soviet Union probably will have to import more grain in the coming year than earlier thought.

The department said that some 13 million tons of foreign grain from all sources may have to be imported by the Soviets in 1977-78, up sharply from an earlier forecast of nine million tons.

This, in turn, has triggered other speculation that Russia may want to exceed six million tons of wheat and corn in the second year of the agreement or, conceivably, buy more than the tentative bid of eight million.

All of these possibilities are highly speculative but are not discounted out of hand because of the inherent secrecy associated with U.S. export firms' dealings with the Soviet Union.

Commission

the northeast part of town just off Ave. K. The zoning board had previously approved the request.

Southwestern Public Service was given final approval to continue providing electrical power to Hereford after commissioners read the franchise charter for the third time.

The charter, according to a city ordinance, must be read three times to allow SPS to provide electricity.

The old franchise has expired after 50 years.

Commissioners also agreed to adopt an ordinance separating the franchise from a rate codification ordinance. The rates were included in the old franchise and the only way a rate change could be incorporated was for the commission to amend the ordinance.

Separating the rates from the franchise creates two separate ordinances which simplifies the procedure.

Commissioners approved a dedication deed of the Chaparral Addition between La Plata and 15th and Greenwood and Kingwood.

The commission decided to refuse an offer from the Jackson Estate to buy a one-acre lot on Kibbe St.

Plans for the community center addition were studied by the commission after an Andrews architect had sent them to City Manager Dudley Bayne.

The proposed addition will cover 6,952 square feet and including a ballroom and dining facilities, which can accommodate 400 persons.

The architect, Tommy Huckabee, has estimated that the addition will cost approximately $30 per square foot.

Ghandi

"Has the overnment come into power to arrest me or to solve people's problems?" she asked.

Rioting by the rival crowds of several thousand outside the Parliament Street courthouse lasted nearly an hour and brought activity in neighboring offices and banks to a standstill.

Cars, motor scooters and windows were damaged by rocks thrown by the demonstrators.

The police used tear gas and clubs on another crowd of stone-throwing supporters of Mrs. Gandhi outside the home of Prime Minister Desai.

Mrs. Gandhi was charged with conspiring with others to award an oil drilling contract to a French firm that had bid $13.4 million more than an American competitor, and with pressuring firms to provide 104 jeeps for her Congress party's unsuccessful election campaign last spring.

Four of her former cabinet ministers, three industrialists and other former officials and secretaries were arrested in a nationwide sweep by the Central Bureau of Investigation.

ACA Will Sponsor Farm Line Tomorrow

Area farmers will have an opportunity to make their plight known to a panel of top-level national news media representatives over the Agriculture Council of America's "Farm Line."

The line will be in operation tomorrow between noon and 4 p.m. E.D.T. with a total of 12 WATS lines available to individuals anywhere in the country.

The toll-free number is 800-424-9881.

Business, economic and consumer reporters from throughout the nation have been invited to participate on the panel.

The group includes representatives for the networks, wire services, major metropolitan dailies and leading magazines.

ACA Chairman Dale Hendricks, a dairy farmer from Bloomfield, Iowa, explained, "With more and more attention being focused on food-related news, we want to give the people who report this a chance to hear what's happening on the local level where food production begins."

This month's Farm Line represents the first effort by the ACA to exclusively involve media members answering the phones. Congressmen, administration officials and consumer and industry leaders have manned the phones in earlier programs.

The idea for the all-media panel was developed at the first meeting of the ACA Media Council.

The group of 100 leading farm broadcasters, editors and publishers advises ACA on program content and effectiveness.

One of its major Projects is to improve the exchange of information between farm and urban media.

Kitchens Misses Two; Wins Weekly Contest

HHS quarterback Kelly Kitchens missed only two games on last week's Brand Football Contest, and as one would expect one of his errors was the Hereford loss to Amarillo High. Kitchens claimed the first prize of $25 in the contest by virtue of his tie breaker guess after Wendell Burdine also missed just two games.

Kitchens' other miss was El Paso Riverside's 25-22 win over Tascosa. Burdine missed out by picking West Texas and Michigan State in their losses to Texas Arlington and Notre Dame respectively.

Kitchens guessed 31 on the tie breaker game of Minnesota and Green Bay in NFL play. The Vikings won that contest 19-7 to make the tie breaker number 26. Burdine's guess was 55, which earned him the second-place money of $15.

Taking third place in the contest was Earl Stagner, who missed three games. Stagner erred in picking West Texas and Tascosa in addition to tabbing Tulsa in its 38-26 loss to Wichita State. Stagner's tie breaker guess of 37 won him the money over Jimmie Bridges and Mrs. Ewald Berend, who also missed three games. Bridges' tie breaker guess was 55, while Mrs. Berend was closer with a guess of 48.

Twenty other entrants missed four games on the contest to finish just out of the money.

Yank Pitching Hurting

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Yankees go into the American League playoffs against Kansas City Wednesday, technically one player short of the 25-man limit. But actually, the East Division champions have far fewer usable men than the 24 their roster lists.

Included among the Yankees eligibles are pitchers Ken Holtzman, Catfish Hunter and Ken Clay, none of whom are likely to see any meaningful action.

Holtzman has pitched only once since Aug. 13 and appeared in only 18 games all season. His lone appearance in the last seven weeks was in a mop-up role during a 19-3 loss to Toronto on Sept. 10. That same game marked the last appearance of Hunter, who is suffering from what the Yankees call a hernia and is questionable at best after going more than three weeks without work. Clay, a rookie, has been used in just 20 games, almost exclusively in mop-up situations to save more important pitchers for later games.

Remove those three and the shrinking Yankee roster dips to 21. But that includes infielder Mickey Klutts, who played all year at Syracuse of the International League and is eligible for the playoffs only by a quirk. Klutts was called up to the Yankees when third baseman Graig Nettles injured a knee and the rookie happened to be with the parent club on Aug. 31, the date post-season rosters are frozen. His New York appearances this season comprise a total of just five games.

Then there are two other infielders, both with the club all season, who have been used most sparingly. Fred Stanley, 1st year's regular shortstop, has appeared in 44 games as a backup for bucky Dent this season. He has a total of 12 hits - two of them in the final game of the regular season.

With the Yankees already short a man because of the mid-September sale of Carlos May to California, the club petitioned AL President Lee MacPhail for permission to fill the roster vacancy. MacPhail rejected the request and Yankees owner George Steinbrenner and President Gabe Paul charged that he was pressured into refusing to allow New York to add a 25th player.

Nobody is enjoying the Yankee roster wrangle more than Royals' Manager Whitey Herzog, who made his last trip to New York under duress. That was in late August when KC had to make a one-day stopover at Yankee Stadium to make up a game that was postponed in late July. The Royals argued that the game should never have been postponed originally and was called by the Yankees because New York was experiencing pitching problems and needed a day off.

Stoerner Trio Cops Leo Club Tourney

The trio of Curtis Stoerner, Chris King, and Joe Emanuel claimed first place in the Leo Club Florida Scramble Golf Tournament held at the Pitman Municipal Course here Saturday afternoon. The trio won out over nine other threesomes to claim the top spot with a five-under par 66.

Runners-up to the winners were Charles Skinner, Buddie Evans, and Servio Gamez, and the team of Tommy Bowling, James Gentry, and Rocky Lee. The two teams split second and third place money after finishing with scores of 67.

The tournament was a function of the Leo Club, which is sponsored by the local Lions Club. Below is a complete list of the results.

1. Stoerner, King, Emanuel-66; 2-(TIE) Skinner, Evans, Gamez, and Bowling, Gentry, Lee-67; Kenny Hagar, Speedy Nieman, Paul Hubbard-68; 5-Ed Line, John Thames, Roland Hairgrove-70; 6-(TIE)-Bobby Weaver, Danny Boyer, John Hagar and Charles Hinton, Tom Hamlett, Richard Dalvia-71; 8-(TIE) Dicky Dyer, Jerry Smith, Bob Nigh, and Kirk Owsley, Gary Moore, Brian Hamlett-73; 10-Sid Shawn, Lenny Petree, Keith Hansen, 79.

Local PPK Contest Held

Six local youths have qualified for the Zone Punt, Pass, and Kick competition after claiming age-group titles in local competition here Sunday. The Annual PPK competition is sponsored nationwide by the Ford Motor Company, and was handled on the local scene by the Orval Watson dealership.

Hereford competition was held Sunday afternoon at the Northwest Elementary School ground. The six local winners will compete in the Zone competition at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, October 15 in Amarillo.

Winners by age group were: 8-Keith Herrera, 124½; 9-Rodney Torres, 10-Toby Torres, Jr.; 11-Jeffrey Streun; 12-Rickie McCracken; 13-Don Delozier.

The local winners will compete in the Zone competition, one of 366 such gatherings across the nation. The Zone winners will advance to District competition, which leads to Area, Division, and National competition.

Below is a list of the top three finishers in each age group of the Hereford competition, along with point totals for each player.

8-1. Herrera, 124½; 2. Derrell Page, 109½; 3. Brian Townsend, 106½.

9-1. Torres, 188½; 2. Keith Anderson, 173½; 3. Kevin Polk. No point total listed.

10-1. Torres, 179½; 2. Bobby Martinez, 177; 3. Lee Brockman, 170.

11-1. Streun, 216½; 2. Eric Walterscheid, 204½; 3. Mike Scott, 203.

12-1. McCracken, 262; 2. Mickey Stengel, 254½; 3. Gary Long, 251½.

13-1. Delozier, 321; 2. Steve George, 254; 3. Frankie Garcia, 238½.

Shipp Steams To Tie With Nieman

Joyce Shipp crawled into a tie for first place on the "Fearless Forecasters" panel with Brand publisher Speedy Nieman this week after posting a 23-3 mark in the latest edition of the contest. Shipp's record was also the best put together by any of the panelists to date this season.

Both Shipp and Nieman have 99-31 records after five weeks of prognosticating the outcome of grid contests. Brand sports editor Bob Nigh is a distant third with a 90-40 mark. Craig Nieman is currently fourth on the panel with an 87-43 record, while Brand editor Paul Sims is fifth with an 82-42 mark.

The consensus column pulled ahead of Nigh after last week. The panel as a whole posted a 21-5 record to give the consensus column a 91-39 record.

Percentage-wise the leaders have been correct .762 percent of the time, while Nigh has a .692 mark. The consensus column is hitting the right mark exactly 70 percent of the time, while the younger Nieman and Sims have .670 and .631 marks respectively.

Shipp missed only the Tascosa loss to El Paso Riverside, the Hart loss to Friona, and the West Texas loss to Texas Arlington last week. The elder Nieman got the Hart-Friona winner right, but erred in tabbing Tascosa, Texas A&M, West Texas and Tulsa.

The Tascosa and West Texas losses were the only ones the panel as a whole missed, and Shipp was the sole panelist to correctly pick Wichita State in its 38-26 win over Tulsa.

Hall of Fame pitcher Lefty Grove on two occasions during his career fanned the side on just nine pitched balls.

Speedy Scot of the United States returned the smallest win price in the history of the Roosevelt International. In 1964, he paid $2.70 for each $2 ticket.

Only once have a father and son both won the Roosevelt International Trot. Speedy Scot won in 1964 and his son, Speedy Crown, scored in 1972.

Steelers, Jets Still Undefeated

The Cowboys and Bears saw undefeated seasons go by the board Saturday in NFL Division play in the YMCA boys' flag football league, but the Steelers and Jets kept their unbeaten strings alive in the AFL to run their marks to 3-0.

The Cowboys fell to the Falcons 17-15 Saturday, while the Packers rolled to a 31-20 win over the Bears. Other NFL division results saw the Lions whitewash the Rams 18-0, and the Saints waylay the Cardinals 22-12.

In AFL action the Steelers blitzed the Raiders 33-12 to remain unbeaten, while the Jets did likewise in a 6-0 squeaker over the Colts. Other AFL division play had the Dolphins shade the Bengals 13-12, and the Oilers get by the Chargers 12-6.

Current NFL standings have five teams tied for first place with 2-1 marks. Included in the group are the Cowboys, Bears, Falcons, Saints, and Lions. The Packers at 1-2 and the Cardinals and Rams at 0-2-1 round out the league.

The Steelers and Jets top the AFL with 3-0 marks, while the Dolphins are one game back at 2-1. The Chargers, Raiders Oilers, and Colts are all 1-2, while the Bengals round out the list at 0-3.

NFL games this week have the Cowboys and Lions meeting at 8 a.m.; the Bears and Falcons clashing at 9 a.m.; the Saints testing the Rams at 10 a.m.; and the Cardinals meeting the Packers at 11 a.m. in the NFL.

AFL games have the Steelers-Chargers contest at 1 p.m.; the Bengals and Raiders trying each other at 2 p.m.; the Colts testing the Oilers at 3 p.m.; and the Jets meeting the Dolphins at 4 p.m.

Men Need Players

YMCA director Claude Huard has issued an appeal for any interested men who wish to play in the Y's mens' flag football league to contact him at once. One of the eight teams in the league had to forfeit its game Sunday due to only a few players showing up.

"We need some more men to play in the league to get this team back to playing strength," Huard said. "Maybe we can still get some men to play who waited too long to sign up originally."

In games played Sunday Toters swamped the Cowpunchers 26-6, Beacon Bad Company dealt the Midnight Cowboys a 31-24 loss, and the Printer's Devils closed out the day by beating the Farmers 21-12. The Giants lost to Sante Fe by a 6-0 count after having to forfeit.

After two weeks Bad Company and Sante Fe lead the league with 2-0 marks. Toters and the Printer's Devils are one-half game back at 1-0-1. The Cowpunchers are now 1-1, while the Giants, Farmers, and Midnight Cowboys all stand 0-2.

Next Sunday's schedule has the Giants, numbers permitting, playing the Beacon Bad Company at 1 p.m.; the Printer's Devils meeting the Cowpunchers at 2 p.m.; Toters playing Sante Fe at 3 p.m.; and the Midnight Cowboys testing the Farmers at 4 p.m.

Clifton Star Of Kings And Queens

Iris Clifton rolled 72 pins over her average to be named the star of the week in the Kings and Queens bowling league this week. Top individual performances were turned in by Jim Noland (601) and Diana Britten (497) in the series category, while L.J. Clark (215) had the mens' high game, and Stella Varner (181) topped the women.

Anthony's owns the team lead this week after winning four games last week. The leaders have a 11½-4½ record, one game ahead of Anderson Sales, which stands at 10½-5½. Electrical Specialist, McDowell Pharmacy, Troy's Sweet Shop, and Vance Hall are tied for third place with 10-6 marks.

The Brooklyn Dodgers of pro football are now defunct but they have two men in the Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio - Ace Parker and Bruiser Kinard.

Trojans Move Into Top

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Southern Cal is sitting in the driver's seat for a national championship, says Coach John Robinson, but the road to No. 1 is filled with hurdles and holes.

"All we have to do to win the national championship is go undefeated," he notes with some apprehension, then adds: "Of course if we go undefeated, we'll deserve to win the national championship."

Robinson isn't talking through his field cap. The nation's No. 1 team will need some muscle to stay in that position, considering the remaining games on the schedule.

Moved into the top spot in The Associated Press' weekly poll Monday, the Trojans have a formidable schedule the rest of the way and will continue their tough timetable toward the national championship against Alabama this Saturday.

"It'll be difficult," says Robinson, "and it should be exciting. But we do have the confidence. That's one thing that we always have here at Southern Cal, and it doesn't matter what position we are in the polls."

Actually, I don't think poll position means that much to us at this time of the season. It doesn't change our goal, which is just to win the next game as it comes. We don't get motivated by ranking — we're able to motivate ourselves."

After Alabama, the Trojans will face several other strong teams toward the end of the season, including Notre Dame and Pac-8 rivals California and UCLA.

The Trojans just came off a pretty big game — for them — a 31-7 victory over a tough Washington State team, and the impressive decision was the reason they were made No. 1 in the poll by the nationwide panel of 60 sports writers and broadcasters.

They replaced Oklahoma, which fell to second despite a 24-9 triumph over Kansas. Michigan, a 41-3 victor over Texas A&M, held third place in a third three-way race for No. 1. The top three teams are separated by a mere total of 56 points — 1,106 for Southern Cal; 1,052 for Oklahoma and 1,048 for Michigan.

The rest of the Top Ten included: Ohio State; Texas; Colorado; Alabama and Arkansas in a tie for seventh;

Nebraska and Penn State. Notre Dame was No. 11, followed by Texas A&M; Brigham Young; California; Pitt; Kentucky; Texas Tech; Louisiana State;

Wisconsin and Florida.

Raider Comeback Impresses Madden

By DOUG TUCKER
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — John Madden wrapped his meaty hand around a soft drink can, sighed, and declared that his Oakland Raiders had just shown the world why they are the reigning champions of professional football.

"It's because of things like this that we are champions, being able to handle adversity, whether it's self-inflicted or not," said the Oakland coach.

Stunned by three Mike Livingston touchdowns passes in the second quarter Monday night, Madden's Raiders went to halftime trailing the winless Chiefs, but rolled to a 37-28 victory before a nationwide television audience that had to be impressed by their pose, precision and grace under pressure.

Madden was impressed. "At halftime, we came in, talked it over and came out in the second half and took it back," he said. "We got it back under control. One of the reasons we're champions is games like tonight."

Fred Biletnikoff fired rookie cornerback Gary Green on a 21-yard touchdown pass late in the first quarter, and by the time Errol Mann booted a 42-yard field goal in the first minute of the second quarter the rout many experts had predicted seemed to be taking shape.

Then Livingston, who was booed mercilessly by Chiefs fans the week before, tossed touchdown passes of 48 and 2 yards to tight end Walter White, then, 29 seconds after White's second score, teamed with Henry Marshall on a 42-yard scoring play.

The Raiders recovered in time for Mann to hit a 34-yard three-pointer with 1:02 remaining, but rookie running back Tony Reed, who totaled 102 yards, darted and weaved for 59 to the Oakland six as time expired.

The Raiders re-established their dominance in the third quarter with chilling efficiency.

A 69-yard march in 12 plays with the second half kickoff, capped by Pete Banaszak's one-yard plunge, made it 21-20.

Staring again from their 30, the Raiders needed just three plays, highlighted by Ken Stabler's 26-yard pass to Dave Casper and Clarence Davis' 37-yard touchdown run, to regain the lead, 27-21.

The next scoring drive covered 47 yards in four plays, with Davis again taking it in from the 2.

The Raiders had swept 186 yards for three touchdowns in 12 minutes, seven seconds. The Chiefs had never gotten closer than the Raider 31, and they were defeated.

"They're the world champions," said Coach Paul Wiggin of the Chiefs. "They are an outstanding football team. We just couldn't stop them."

The Chiefs added a fourth-quarter touchdown on Lawrence Williams' 15-yard run on a reverse, and Mann, who is 7-for-8 this year, got to kick one more 22-yarder.

Madden snorted when it was suggested that the Raiders may have been overconfident. "Hell, no," he said. "We just gave 'em a little life and they took advantage, that's all."

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Joe Morgan of the Pawtucket Red Sox was selected International League Manager of the Year Monday in a vote of league sports writers and broadcasters.

The Red Sox, unlike their American League parent club in Boston, won the pennant.

Named to the IL All-Star team were first baseman Terry Crowley of the Rochester Red Wings, the league leader in home runs with 30; second baseman Mike Edwards of the Columbus Clippers; shortstop Greg Pryor of the Syracuse Chiefs; third baseman Ted Cox of Pawtucket; outfielders Larry Harlow of Rochester, Joe Cannon of the Charleston Charlies, and Darryl Jones of Syracuse; catcher Dale Murphy of the Richmond Braves, the IL leader in runs batted in with 89; right-handed pitcher Larry McCall of Syracuse and left-hander Mickey Mahler of Richmond.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County Criminal Court judge has released Pedro Borbon on his own recognizance after the Cincinnati Reds relief pitcher appeared in court on charges of assault and aggravated assault.

The hearing on the matter was continued until Friday by Judge Robert Blackmore.

Borbon was arrested Monday at the Greater Cincinnati Airport and waived extradition. His arrest stems from an alleged incident at a local night-spot early Monday morning.

John Mabrey of Cincinnati claims in an affidavit that Borbon grabbed him around the throat and began shouting, "I'll kill you."

Phils Enter Series Minus Gary Maddox

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies will go with 23 game winner Steve Carlton and the Los Angeles Dodgers with 20 game victor Tommy John, but the big news at the National League playoffs today was the Phillies' loss of star center fielder Garry Maddox.

The Phillies' prospects of winning their first NL pennant since 1950 took a sharp drop when team physician Dr. Philip Marone said Maddox probably would miss the first two in the best-of-five game series with the Dodgers.

Maddox, who hit .293 and finished the regular season with a 14-game hitting streak, sustained a contusion of the left kneecap, which caused fluid to build up on a joint, limiting the outfielders' ability to walk, let alone run.

Maddox, referred to in Philadelphia as the Phillies' secretary of defense, might not even be able to play Friday when the series shifts to Philadelphia for game No. 3.

If Maddox doesn't play — and Phillies Manager Danny Ozark insisted on the use of the word "if" — Bake McBride will move from right to center field, and either Jerry Martin or Jay Johnstone probably can pick up Maddox' lost offense, but even the accomplished McBride can't cover center field like the injured star.

And if the Maddox problem wasn't enough, the Phillies had another gripe after Monday's workout. They protested to league officials the condition of the dirt in front of home plate, contending it was raked for John's style of pitching.

Phillies' officials and the umpires assigned to the series will meet at the Stadium at 2 p.m. PDT to inspect the playing surface. John's slow stuff, which induces batters to hit into the dirt, is the Phillies' concern.

The Dodgers, who won the West Division by 10 games over runnerup Cincinnati, were 6½-5 favorites over the East champion Phillies, winner by five games over Pittsburgh.

The matchup of Carlton against John featured two of the leading candidates for the Cy Young Award as the league's best pitcher.

John, whose operation-scarred left elbow looks like a map of the Los Angeles freeway system, posted a 20-7 record with a 2.78 ERA. He started 31 games, completed 11. Against the Phillies he was 1-1 with a 3.00 ERA.

Carlton went 23-10, compiled a 2.64 ERA, and completed 17 of 36 games started. He was 1-1 against Los Angeles, with a 2.40 ERA. Carlton, previously a pigeon for base runners, developed a new move this season that resulted in 22 pickoffs.

Both teams have power, with four Dodgers hitting 30 or more home runs — Steve Garvey (33), Reggie Smith (32), Ron Cey (30) and Dusty Baker (30). The Phillies' Greg Luzinski slammed 39 and Mike Schmidt 38, with six others in double figures. The Phillies appear to have an edge in speed, defense and bullpen. The Dodgers have deeper starting pitching.

The teams split 12 regular-season games with identical 2-4 home and away records. Overall that's about the way they stack up for the playoffs. The loss of Maddox could give the Dodgers the edge.

ATLANTA (AP) — Veteran defenseman Ab Demarco and rookie right wing Bryan Hill were cut Monday by the Atlanta Flames of the National Hockey League.

Demarco, who was with the Los Angeles Kings last season, was being given a tryout. Hill, Atlanta's No. 3 draft choice, was sent to the Flames' Central Hockey League farm team at Tulsa.

Texas Had Ups And Downs

By GREG THOMPSON
Associated Press Writer

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The 1977 Texas Rangers had more victories, fans, home runs and pennant hopes than ever before. They also set records for most managers, on-the-field ambushes, fistfights and angry words.

Internal warfare was declared during spring training in Florida when disgruntled infielder Lenny Randle bushwhacked Frank Lucchesi, punching and kicking the first of the Rangers' four 1977 managers.

"When Lenny Randle punched Frank, it made me think I was back in Oakland again," said relief pitcher Paul Lindblad, who came to Texas from baseball's original Cook-o's Nest, the Oakland A's. "Then I remembered that even the A's never punched a manager."

Not to be left out, pudgy Ranger owner Brad Corbett later cold-cocked a Cleveland fan who called him "fatso."

That was before an angry Corbett proclaimed some of his players "dogs on the field and dogs off the field" and bitterly announced at midseason that he would sell the team.

Meanwhile, Lucchesi, who had exchanged angry words with executive vice president Eddie Robinson, was fired June 22. He learned about it from a reporter.

Enter Eddie Stanky that afternoon to manage a 10-8 victory in Minnesota. Exit a "homesick" Eddie Stanky the next morning.

On June 23, bewildered Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch accepted the lineup card from Connie Ryan, the third different Ranger manager in a four-game series.

"This is getting to be like a Barnum & Bailey three-ring circus," one player said at the time. "Who do you suppose will be here today?"

Then Baltimore Coach Bill Hunter arrived to reverse the fortunes of the team crowded with high-salaried talent from Corbett's off-season free agent purchases.

This team had a great deal of talent, but it was confused," Hunter said Sunday before Texas edged Oakland 8-7 for a team-record 94 victories. "I think they were really just looking for a little leadership. I just happened to be the fellow who arrived on the scene."

Under Hunter, the Rangers reeled off 31 victories in one 40 game stretch and grabbed the American League West lead for one day on Aug. 18 only to fade during a scathing win streak by champion Kansas City.

They drew more than 1,250,000 fans for the first time, won seven straight doubleheaders, recorded their first triple play, captured 10 extra-inning games in a row and shattered team records in all but one offensive category.

"These guys played under three different managers in a week and then Brad made the comment about selling the club," said Hunter, who installed pre-game clinics on fundamentals. "We tried some things that worked, started winning and got a little confidence, that's all."

"It's been an outstanding year, even if you don't consider all the stuff we went through," said pitcher Doyle Alexander, a free agent acquisition along with Bert Campaneris. "Three months ago, we'd have been happy with 94 victories."

"Bill got here at the right time and helped straighten everybody out," added Alexander. "It was hard to gain much confidence under a manager if you didn't know whether he was going to be here next week or not."

"I think Brad was trying to shake some ballplayers up when he said he was going to sell," said Lindblad; another of Corbett's off-season additions. "That was a big factor, since Brad had been so good to us."

Corbett made no further noises about selling the team. Randle, upset over losing his second base job to rookie Bump Wills, was convicted of misdemeanor charges in a Florida court, fined $10,000 by the Rangers, suspended for 30 days and promptly dispatched to the New York Mets.

Lucchesi, now a Ranger scout, has a $200,000 damage suit pending against Randle. Wills, meanwhile, hit .287 as a Ranger regular.

But the Ranger sideshows did surface periodically under Hunter. Alexander and Toby Harrah grumbled publicly in August about some of Hunter's methods, contributing to an "attitude problem" that Hunter said caused the team to slump in September.

Lucchesi, a frequent press box visitor, was struck in the head by a foul ball during one late-season game.

And dum appearance on a game. Stanky made his first Arlington Stadium appearance on a night when all four 1977 Ranger managers were in the stadium — Stanky, Ryan and Hunter on the field and Luccastro. It's bebox.

Stanky promptly collapsed of heat prostration. It's been that kind of year.

CARLA WEST
...bound for Chicago

Carla West Wins State 4-H Honor

COLLEGE STATION (Spl) — Carla West, a Deaf Smith County 4-H'er, cut no corners to become the state winner in the 4-H Clothing Program.

Carla, with five years of experience in her clothing project, will receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30, announce 4-H officials at Texas A&M University. The trip will be sponsored by Coats & Clark, Inc., which will also provide six educational scholarships of $1,000 each at the national level. Carla's award-winning record book will be entered in the national competition.

Carla, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. West of R.T. 4. She is a five-year member of the Argen Draper 4-H Club and is a sophomore at Hereford High School.

She has served as both a judge and a winner in clothing events on the county and district level. But she feels one of her biggest accomplishments was to be a winner at the district 4-H dress revue. She has also been a county and district winner in 4-H food show competition and received the county clothing award the past two years.

Carla has entered outstanding record books in clothing at the county and district level for the past three years and was selected as a state contestant last year. She estimates her clothing project has helped her save more than $840 in clothing costs over the past five years.

The fashion conscious 4-H'er has also served as a junior leader for clothing projects and has written and presented fashion trend programs in her community.

Carla's other 4-H interests include foods, electricity and home environment. She is a teen leader delegate to the county and district 4-H councils.

Auxiliary To Sponsor Halloween Dance Oct. 22

Hereford Fire Dept. Auxiliary held their monthly meeting recently. Twelve members were present.

It was voted that the group sponsor a Camp Fire group.

Final plans were made for the dance that the group will be sponsoring to benefit the Fire Dept. The dance will carry out the theme of Halloween and will take place from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 22 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Tickets will sell for $10 per couple and can be purchased from any auxiliary member.

Also discussed was the Rape Crisis Clinic which was sponsored by the group. Over 80 people attended the clinic that taught how to prevent rape and enlightened those who attended about the people who commit rape. It was urged that those who have been involved in a rape case need to report it and write the Rape Crisis Center at Rape Crisis and Sexual Abuse Service 618 S. Polk, Amarillo Tex. 79101, or phone 373-8022.

Breeding Accepted By PS Psi Chi

CANYON — Leslie Breeding, a senior at West Texas State University, was recently initiated into Psi Chi, a national honor society in psychology.

Breeding resides with his wife, Jenni, at 3800 S. Tyler in Amarillo.

A 1973 graduate of Hereford High School, Leslie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Breeding of 635 Avenue H in Hereford.

Psi Chi was organized in 1928 to recognize scholarship in the field of psychology. The chapter at WTSU was formerly established in 1971.

Pompey the Great, a Roman general, was said to have sponsored five days of circus games in 55 B.C. that ended with the deaths of 500 lions and 20 elephants at the hands of gladiators.

Ann Landers Alcoholic Intake Differs

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you tell me what is wrong with a man who comes home dead drunk at least twice a week? He makes it to the door, then collapses and is unable to walk or talk. I know he is an alcoholic. What I can't figure out is how in the world he can get into such a state of drunkenness on three eight-ounce glasses of BEER!

How is it possible for such a small amount of alcohol to change an intelligent, good-looking, 50-year-old man into an immobilized, drooling, mindless wreck? I'd appreciate an answer. — His wife

DEAR WIFE: Some people can get bent out of shape on less than what your husband drinks, while others can put away a fifth of bourbon and scarcely show it. It all depends on the individual's threshold of tolerance — and obviously, your husband's is if very low.

DEAR ANN: My wife and I have been married for 12 years. I have a good job, we have a nice home and three lovely children.

Trudy is a wonderful woman — a full-time homemaker and mother. I work nights. I came home early a couple of times last week (didn't feel well) and found a man in my house. When I asked Trudy what he was doing there, she said he was just driving by and stopped in to say hello. When I asked her how long this had been going on, she replied, "About six years."

Trudy says the reason she didn't tell me about his visits was because she didn't want to upset me. Now that I know, I am deeply hurt that she lived with this secret for so long. The man involved is a friend we used to spend weekends with. He is also married.

I'd like your opinion on this matter. — New Discovery

DEAR NEW: Now that Trudy knows you don't approve of her entertaining a man while you are at work, that should be the end of it. If she doesn't go along, some joint counseling is in order. (Maybe HIS wife should be included.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You said, "Show me a person who is repeatedly taken advantage of and I will show you someone who allows people to kick him around."

Yes, Ann, we do allow inconsiderate clods to kick us around. We are so concerned with being nice and friendly and polite — treating folks the way we'd like to be treated — that we are incapable of protecting ourselves against the heavies.

I am 31 years of age. When I was 20 I hated myself for letting people walk all over me. I tried to improve and, thankfully, I did. Some — but not enough.

You say we allow ourselves to be taken advantage of. You are right. But we already know that. Tell us how not to let it happen. How can we be tactful, say what we are thinking without hurting anyone's feelings — even though they may have insulted us? If you can solve this problem you will have done a lot of good for many. — N.C.

DEAR N.C.: The meek may inherit the earth but they sure get dumped on a lot. Why do you feel you must be tactful when people insult you? I suggest counseling. (Yes — again.) Find out who you are and then you will learn how to deal with others. And don't tell me you can't afford a psychiatrist. There are mental health clinics all over to help you get your head together. Look in the phone book.

Newcomers Invited To Party

All newcomers to Hereford are invited to attend the Birthday Celebration for the Hereford Newcomers Club at 8 o'clock p.m. Saturday, Oct. 8th at the Community Center.

Newcomers club has been organized in the community for nine years.

Cake and ice cream will be served at the couples party.

All members and past members are urged to attend.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Linda Kirkpatrick at 364-6320 or Kay Lucas at 364-5710.

Rose Display Featured At Flower Show

During the annual flower show held Friday by Hereford Garden Club, Mrs. R.L. Wilson provided an educational exhibit on roses.

The special display included samples of fertilizer, soil, tools, catalogues and literature of the Rose Society, of which Mrs. Wilson is a member. The local rosarian won five blue ribbons for her rose specimens entered in Friday's show, which took place in the H.R. Cocanougher home.

Post-Nuptial Festivities

Mrs. Gordon Gearn, center, received a wedding shower Friday afternoon in the Harlan VanderZee home. The honoree is shown here with her mother Mrs. Ray Frye, left, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Kenny Gearn. The recent bride is the former Shawn Frye.

A post-nuptial shower honored Mrs. Gordon Paul Gearn, nee Shawn Frye, Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Harlan VanderZee, 132 Liveoak.

The couple was married Sept. 9 in Hereford and is making their home at Dawn.

Mrs. VanderZee welcomed guests at the door with the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Ray Frye and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Kenny Gearn.

Mrs. Ken Gearn Jr. invited guests to sign the registry and gifts were displayed in the game room. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Frye's cousins, Mrs. Marshall Ingram and her daughter Marsha of Hinton, Okla.

Assorted sandwiches and confections were served to guests from a table appointed with a cut-glass punch bowl, silver coffee service, silver and crystal. Covering the serving table were an ecru lace cloth and matching skirt.

Spring blossoms with baby-breath encircled pink tapers inside crystal hurricane globes at either end of these serving table. At the table's center, a pair of Lalique crystal birds enhanced the motif.

A pink slipper brimming with pastel flowers accented the registration table. Rainbow-colored corsages trimmed in

by increasing electric bills? Part of the explanation is:
RIISING FUEL COSTS!

19. Army at 20. Villanova

The tremendous jump in the cost of fuel needed to produce electricity accounts for a large part of higher electric bills. Users of fuel turned to less expensive forms of energy when oil prices began to rise a few years ago. The demand for the less expensive types of fuels increased, and so did the cost. Now oil fuels are expensive. It appears the cost of fuel will continue rising and this will cause the cost of electricity your Cooperative purchases to increase.

Animal Acupuncture Tried by Veterinarian

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Dr. Paul Schmaltz gave up conventional veterinary practice to try his hand at animal acupuncture.

He said he is one of a few doctors in the country practicing the ancient Chinese art on racehorses. His star patient, a quarterhorse filly named Hot Idea, took the $330,000 top prize in the million-dollar 1977 All American Futurity.

Schmaltz said conventional methods of treating the filly's chipped ankle would have left her in a cast for six months, cutting her out of what is billed as the world's richest horse race. With acupuncture, though, he said, the chip was gone in six weeks.

Schmaltz says he treated Hot Idea with 11 acupuncture needles inserted about 2½ inches deep along her right foreleg and shoulder. The needles were connected to electrode wires sending a pulsating current into her leg.

The filly, injured in June, was back on the Ruidoso Downs track in August for the All American trials.

"Acupuncture is perfect for racehorses. It can be used to relieve pain and give horses more energy right up to post time," he said.

'54 Packard Request Found in Oregon

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) — If you can remember the Packard, you might also remember the Packard Request. In 1954, the automaker built the classic-grilled dream car to boost sales. The one-and-only model of The Request seemed to pass into oblivion along with the Packard company name.

It was last on public view at the 1955 Chicago Auto Show. It turns out that the Request wasn't in oblivion after all. It was in Portland, Ore. Three people discovered it rusting and refurbished it with visions of a wide-open nostalgia market dancing in their heads.

Larry Dopps happened to discover the rusting chassis in a back yard two years ago.

"It was a real mess inside and out, although the low mileage 14,000 miles engine was perfect internally," said Dopps. "Accidents had demolished the grill, one of the special front bumpers and the fiberglass hood."

Highway 60 Smash-Up

Some young people who wanted to see Atty. Gen. John Hill campaign for governor Friday afternoon at the Hereford Municipal Airport suffered a slight delay when the car in which they were riding, a Grand Torino driven by Frank Madrigal, lost a wheel then was rammed from behind by a diesel truck. The car spun around and the truck collided with the front end. A law enforcement officer at the scene told The Brand, "Those kids were unbelievably lucky." The east-bound lane of Highway 60 was blocked to traffic for several minutes. (Brand photo by Paul Sims)

'Star Toys' To Hit Market

DALLAS (AP) — The Force is with you, but you 'droids are still on the assembly line and Christmas is closing fast. What to do?

That was the problem faced by Kenner Products which earlier this year acquired a "galaxy-wide" license to market toys modeled after the futuristic film phenomenon, "Star Wars."

The rights were "a considerable investment," said Bernie Loomis, Kenner's president.

But without enough time to begin production, Kenner decided to try a new marketing concept: a Christmas gift certificate package.

It contains a Star Wars display stand, stickers, club membership card and postage-paid mail-order card for a quartet of Star Wars action figures — Luke Skywalker, Princess Leia Organa, Chewbacca the Wookiee and the robot R2-D2, named "Artoo Detoo" for trademark purposes.

Also planned are the android, or "droid." See Threepio, bad guy Darth Vader, space pilot Han Solo, and other characters from the movie.

The package was introduced at the Fall toy show here, with Kenner salesmen claiming fantastic acceptance.

"I've sold out my allotment," said salesman Gerry Dougherty. "Buyers are taking anything with the 'Star Wars' name on it."

In addition to the packages, Kenner also displayed board game, "Escape from Death Star," jigsaw puzzles and a battery-powered toothbrush, that Dougherty admitted was a re-labeled "Bionic" brush from the toymaker's "Six Million Dollar Man" line.

The big push, though, was on the action figures, which are about 4 inches tall, and won't be shipped until February, 1978, with some deliveries possibly not until June.

"It's the be-the-first-on-your-block appeal," Dougherty said. "Kids will want the real 'Star Wars' item, even if they have to wait."

But the wait is meaning a cash bonanza for rival manufacturers with star toys already on the shelves.

"I wouldn't buy my children a piece of paper and then have them hang around the mailbox for the next few months," one Dallas mother said. "Can you imagine their faces on Christmas morning when they unwrap an envelope?"

Apparently toy stores are aware of that sentiment and are snapping up similar items from firms such as Ideal Toy Corp., which has a "Star Team" line of figures including "The dastardly Knight of Darkness," "Robot Zeroid" and "Zem 21."

Other toymakers are offering similar items, based on "Star Trek" and "Buck Rogers" themes and even the NASA space shuttle Enterprise.

"Children don't really care whether they get the officially-licensed product or not," said a shop owner from Beaumont, Tex. "A robot is a robot."

Unless, of course, it's a movie star, like R2-D2, Dougherty said. And Kenner hopes that will make all the difference in the galaxy.

Senators Don't Think Alike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alan Cranston is worried that some Californians think they're being shortchanged in the Senate because their two senators often vote on opposite sides of issues.

The Constitution guarantees Californians two senators. It says nothing about whether they agree with each other. There's no question that Cranston, a liberal Democrat, and S. I. Hayakawa, a conservative Republican, often disagree.

"I keep hearing we cancel each other out," said Cranston. The phrase "cancel each other out," bothers him because it implies that California ends up without a say on many issues.

Now, Cranston has come up with some statistics.

So far this year, he and Hayakawa have both been recorded on 306 roll calls. On 168 of those votes, 55 per cent, they disagreed. On the other 45 percent they voted alike.

Cranston also noted that when they disagreed, he was on the winning side 71 percent of the time.

"I'd just like to make the point, we don't cancel each other out," said Cranston. "One or the other view prevails."

Cranston also noted that he and Hayakawa have been on the same side, more often than he thought they would.

Does this mean Cranston is becoming more conservative?

"Maybe, Senator Hayakawa is getting more liberal," he said. "I don't know."

Only the bad guys filibuster. According to the dictionary, a filibuster is the tactic of using long speeches and introducing irrelevant issues as a means of obstructing legislation.

For that reason, when a filibuster is imminent, senators begin talking about the possibility of "extended debate."

The start of the debate on the natural gas bill was one of those rare occasions when a couple of senators ignored the usual euphemisms and called a filibuster a filibuster.

Said Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska: "I do have the slight perception of the aroma of a filibuster, not that that is a bad aroma, but it is something that is coming into my senses. I hope I am wrong."

Responded Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark.: "I have detected since I have been in the Senate the last 2½ years that filibusters only have an odor if you happen to be on the other side. And they smell quite differently to one who happens to be opposed to a measure that is about to go through."

It can't be too much longer before every member of the House of Representatives will also be a member of one or more special interest "caucuses."

There's the Black Caucus, the Women's Caucus and the Hispanic Caucus. Also the Rural Caucus and the Blue Collar Caucus.

The latest is the Steel Caucus composed of House members whose districts have ties to the steel industry.

Seventy members of Congress showed up at the first meeting of the Steel Caucus and elected Rep. Charlie Carney, D-Ohio, chairman.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., decided he had a great idea for saving energy and reducing air pollution: take away the free parking now enjoyed by Congressional employees.

The result would be to encourage car pooling and use of mass transit. It also would cut down on traffic congestion and air pollution.

"Energy efficiency begins at home," said Percy. "The place to spearhead the national energy conservation effort is right here in Washington."

Stirring words. But when Percy outlined his proposal at a meeting of his staff, he recalls "It was the first time I've ever been booed by my staff."

His fellow senators weren't much friendlier. They rejected the Percy proposal by a vote of 56 to 26.

ROUGH RIDERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energy-conscious motorists are learning that bad roads increase their driving costs.

The average U.S. motorist pays an extra $100 a year in fuel, tire wear and front-end repairs because of rough roads, says The Road Information Program (TRIP).

Three-fourths of that is wasted gasoline caused by stops and slow-downs for potholes and rough, broken pavement.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer

Scrub sticky vinyl

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—I would like to know if anyone has a remedy that will clean vinyl furniture that has become sticky. — MRS. C.L.
DEAR MRS. C.L.—I am sure we will be hearing from some of our generous readers who have had this same problem. Such furniture should be wiped off with an untreated cloth and if you have been using one with oil or polish that caused the stickiness. I would wash with mild soap and then dry carefully. If there is ground-in dirt, you might try a laundry detergent and a brush that is neither too stiff nor too soft. Rinse well and dry thoroughly with a soft cloth. There is a commercial cleaner for vinyl fabrics. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—When I buy ground meat I remove it from the wrapper, put in a freezer bag and flatten it into a thick slab, put the store label that gives the weight on the freezer bag and then freeze. This saves space in the freezer compartment and thaws faster than a big mound of meat.
 Also, I sew an inside pocket with that new sticky type closing inside all my coats so when I must carry a larger amount of money than usual it is tucked away and would not be lost or stolen if something happened to my purse. — MRS. A.C.H.
DEAR POLLY—In an answer to Peggy you suggested that she use peanut or vegetable oil on her cutting board and I was told by an expert in the cooking field that one should only use mineral oil on a bread board as it does not become as rancid as vegetable oil, etc. It works. — Jackie.

DEAR POLLY—In regard to the question asked by Peggy concerning the care of her cutting board, you suggested using peanut or vegetable oil. I think that might be steering her to a class-A tummy ache. If hers is the butcher type block like mine it should be scrubbed with hot soapy water and rinsed well after each use, since cutting boards are excellent breeding grounds for germs. If she wants to oil it after she has scrubbed and rinsed it, that is OK. But do ask her to scrub it first. — MRS. D.H.S.

DEAR MRS. D.H.S. and Peggy—The advice I gave Peggy was given me by an installer of such boards when he was putting in a new one for me. The use of the bleach suggested for cleaning would serve as a disinfectant. Mineral oil is good to use for oiling I know, and there are often two or three or more good answers to the same question. Even experts sometimes disagree as to what is best to use in certain cases. Just scrubbing and no oiling would certainly cause one to have a dry board. Do remember that no matter what type oil one uses the excess is wiped completely away. — POLLY.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—My husband had a heart bypass operation. They told us one artery was completely blocked, two were partially blocked. They only did the one artery that was completely blocked and never explained why they didn't do all three.
 Also I would like to know if there is cholesterol in veal liver?
DEAR READER—A limited amount of obstruction of an artery does not decrease the blood flow through it. As long as 70 per cent of the opening is still there the fatty cholesterol deposits won't make that much difference. There is a critical level of blockage that starts causing problems. The doctors probably felt on the basis of what they could see at the operation that a bypass around the partially blocked arteries would not significantly improve your husband's circulation to the heart.
 You can improve his condition though by helping him eliminate or avoid obesity and having him on the proper diet. If he smokes he should stop.

(G) Total—3,700 and 3,500.

Many factors affect arteries

The success of many bypass operations depends on what kind of program a person follows after surgery. If the person persists in eating the wrong foods, being obese and smoking, the end result is not so good.
 Yes, veal liver contains cholesterol, about 300 milligrams in a 100 gram (three and a half ounce) portion of raw liver. That small serving alone will take up all the allowed cholesterol for the whole diet for one day. All forms of liver are moderately high in cholesterol content.
 To help you with a diet plan I am sending you the Health Letter number 1-3, Diet, Preventing Atherosclerosis. It will give you the general principles you need to follow.  The amount of lubricating oil that is discarded annually totals some one billion gallons—that would fill a tank 90 feet across and one mile high.

Supreme Court Rules Gays May Be Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court Monday let stand rulings by state courts in Washington that homosexuals are "immoral" and may be fired from their jobs because of their sexual preference.

The nation's highest court refused to hear the appeal of a Tacoma, Wash., high school social studies teacher fired after nearly 13 years on the job because he acknowledged being a homosexual.

Civil liberties attorneys representing James Gaylor had hoped his case would be used as a vehicle by the court to break new legal ground. The court has not dealt with the rights of homosexuals since 1967.

Gaylor taught at Tacoma's Wilson High School until 1972, when school officials learned of his homosexuality. Although no misconduct involving other faculty members or students was alleged, Gaylor was fired for violating the school district's rule against immorality.

"They came up with the idea that since I hadn't denied any illegal conduct, I can be presumed to have engaged in it," Gaylor told The Associated Press in an interview earlier this year. "I was discharged for status. I was never even asked if I engaged in improper conduct, and no one suggested that I had."

School officials disagree, saying they had "sufficient cause" to fire Gaylor on the assumption of his homosexual acts. His continued employment would impair the school's learning atmosphere, they said.

Attorneys for Gaylor claimed that the school district's action deprived Gaylor of his constitutional rights to privacy, liberty, freedom of expression and equal protection under the law.

Federal laws and past court interpretations of the Constitution make it illegal to discriminate against a person because of race, religion, sex, age, color and nationality. Sexual preference, however, is given no special protection.

In other rulings today, the Supreme Court:

Upheld the death penalty convictions of Marcus Wayne Chenault, convicted killer of Martin Luther King Jr.'s mother, and of Nebraska mass murderer Erwin Charles Simants.

Refused to review a lower court racial desegregation order requiring the busing of students throughout 11 school districts in the Wilmington, Del., area.

The Supreme Court has not considered gay rights since the justices in 1967 ruled that aliens found to be homosexuals could be deported as persons "afflicted with a psychopathic personality."

Some states and cities, however, have passed laws barring discrimination against homosexuals, many of whom prefer to be called gays, in employment, housing and public accommodations.

Lee Sez
"They sell better with a Family Homes sign out front."

Gaylor, 39 and a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University, managed to keep his sexual preference closeted during a teaching career that won the praise of those officials who fired him.

But a former Wilson High student told the school's vice principal in 1972 that he suspected Gaylor of being a homosexual. Gaylor did not deny the allegation when confronted with it.

The court also turned down the appeal of homosexual John Gish, who claimed the Paramus, N.Y., Board of Education violated his constitutional rights when it ordered him to undergo a psychiatric examination after he became president of the New Jersey Gay Activist Alliance in 1972.

Amtrak Train Kills 10 Persons - 7 Children

PLANT CITY, Fla. (AP) - "I did everything in my power to stop it, but there just wasn't enough time," says the engineer of an Amtrak passenger train that slammed broadside into a pickup truck and killed 10 persons, seven of them children.

Florida Highway patrolmen at the scene of the Sunday night accident said there were no survivors in the camperbacked truck.

None of the 40 passengers in the train was injured.

Troopers said they thought the victims were migrant workers. They said it may be a day or so before firm identifications are made.

Early reports indicated that two adults were in the cab and one adult and seven children, ages 1-10, were in a camper perched atop the truck bed. The camper was wrenched off and crushed almost beyond recognition.

Most every fast food restaurant in Chicago has a sign out front: 'HIRING' or 'WAITERS WANTED' or 'IMMEDIATE EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY'.

Yet the government continues to pay 82,417 Chicagoans for not working.

If Congress will abolish the mandatory retirement age, many of those unfilled jobs will provide extra income for the able elderly.

Without waiting for the federal government to act, some states are proceeding to abolish mandatory retirement at 65: California, Alaska, Maine.

Paul Harvey News

Prospects for Delaying Retirement

Since the advent of Social Security in the 1930s it has been the custom and has become the law—that every worker should have to stop work at age 65.

Most unions and most businesses like it like that. Yet for those who want to keep working, the idea of forced retirement is a violation of their rights.

George Sherman, personnel director for Midland-Ross in Cleveland, says, "Mandatory retirement is a terrible waste of human resources. Some of our best, most experienced people are forced out."

His company makes exceptions to the sixty-five-and-out rule.

Nonetheless, most corporations want employees to retire at 65 or sooner and they fear that legally to protect the employee's job past that age would make it difficult for an employer to dismiss an inefficient worker.

CBS finds that it is having to relax its mandatory retirement rule in its Steinway unit because there are not enough younger piano makers.

The Wall Street Journal's survey on this subject revealed that many industries are enforcing retirement as 65 "with exceptions."

A Roper survey reveals that two-thirds of working Americans want to retire early, however, when Roper asked people closest to retirement, those sixty and older, only one-third wanted early retirement.

Roper analysts infer from their findings that what most workers really want is the freedom to make the retirement decision for themselves.

The sense of the Congress now seems to favor some modification of the mandatory retirement laws.

The results will be economically significant: Would reduce the burden on overburdened Social Security.

Would add to the economic power of people in their sixties.

Would require companies which want to encourage earlier retirement to fatten their pensions.

One of the factors encouraging elderly workers to keep working is inflation. What might have been a comfortable retirement income ten years ago no longer is.

And there is still a "joy in working" for some persons—a fulfillment of the need to be needed—a reason to get up in the morning—which many younger persons have not yet experienced.

Deposit-Term Insurance Ripped

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A Dallas life insurance agent said Monday that people who sell so-called deposit-term life insurance "market the sizzle and not the steak."

Stephen A. Casey, chairman of the legislative committee of the Dallas Association of Life Underwriters, urged the State Insurance Board to outlaw such policies.

Representatives of the firms that market such policies were to have their say later.

Deposit-term insurance is a 10-year policy, with the first year premium double that which will be paid for each of the remaining years. The policyholder gets double his deposit back at the end of the 10 years, but if he drops the coverage before then, he gets nothing.

Casey said deposit-term salesmen attack the life insurance industry and state insurance regulators when they make their sales pitch.

"Much of this material is erroneous, contains statistics taken out of context and is polluted with statements that cannot be substantiated in fact," Casey said.

He also said deposit-term salesmen encourage prospects not to discuss the deposit-term proposal with the customer's former agent.

"It is our contention that the deposit is not put up for the benefit of the insured, but that this deposit enables the insurance company to pay commissions of 200 per cent or higher to its agents," Casey said.

The life underwriters also submitted a written statement from Herbert Denenberg, former Pennsylvania insurance commissioner, who said he outlawed deposit-term policies in that state.

Denenberg's statement said deposit-term is in a "tradition of competition by confusion" that he frequently observes in the life insurance industry.

He said the term deposit was misleading because it implies that money is being handed over for protection and for the accumulation of interest.

"In fact, the deposit is subject to substantial or total forfeiture if the policy is discontinued before its full term. It is not a true deposit but one subject to instant evaporation and forfeiture," Denenberg said.

HIGH MAGNIFICATION WASHINGTON (AP) - A million books stored on a single sheet of paper? A movie of uranium atoms in motion? Both are possible with the new electron microscope which can magnify an object (or reduce it) 20 million times.

The best optical microscopes, limited by the wavelength of light, magnify no more than 2,000 times and the implications of the new microscope are enormous, says National Geographic.

The microscope will enable biologists to spot normal cells changing into cancerous cells and to identify genes that cause hereditary diseases.

Perhaps the most unexpected benefit of the electron microscope is demagnifying, says Geographic. The tiny silicon wafers which contain intricate circuits for high-speed computers can be produced on a large scale, then ultra-miniaturized by photography through the microscope in reverse, the magazine says.

per cent of presently estimated proved reserves but only 11 per cent of remaining undiscovered gas resources.

The study's projections made use of two gas pricing scenarios, one involving a natural gas price of $20 a barrel crude oil equivalent and the other a medium price of $14.

Under the $20 price, it was estimated world gas production could rise to about 77 exajoules by 1985 and to about 143 by the year 2000.

"At these production rates, 4.4 per cent per year through 2000, it is estimated production would peak shortly after the year 2000 and decline to about 125 exajoules by 2020," the study said.

Under a medium $14 gas pricing crude oil equivalent, production capability between now and 2020 was estimated to be lower than under the $20 scenario, although only slightly lower until after the year 2000.

"The small difference in production capability between the two scenarios until after the year 2000 is because prices in the range of $20 a barrel are not yet expected to be required in order to produce the more easily recoverable resources," the study said.

Production capability is expected to peak in only two regions, North America and Western Europe, prior to the year 2000.

It was said the production capability of Western Europe could increase significantly into the early 1990s as a result of production from currently producing fields and new production from the developing North Sea fields.

"Continuing exploration in offshore areas, including the Irish Sea and Celtic Sea areas, gives rise to the expectation of significant new discoveries," the study said.

Russia and Eastern Europe were said to hold almost 30 per cent of the world's natural gas resource potential.

"Although production in this region may be less a function of price and more a function of plan, the increased production in recent years corresponding to the sudden rise in world energy prices, gives cause to believe production in the USSR will continue to respond to world energy price levels," the study said.

Air Force To Boot Gay Sarge

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) - An Air Force sergeant says the Air Force has told him he will be discharged against his will because he is a homosexual.

Sgt. Robert McKee, 24, a native of Long Beach, Calif., and a veteran of more than four years in the Air Force stationed at nearby Carswell Air Force Base, said a four-officer board reviewed his case after he told his commanding officer he was a homosexual. He said the board told him he would get an honorable discharge within the next two weeks.

"I just got tired of hiding it; I thought it would be better to be out in the open," said McKee, a television equipment repairman whose job involved the maintenance and repair of Carswell's closed circuit television system.

McKee said he revealed his homosexuality seven months ago to his commanding officer, Lt. Col. Clyde Pitcher.

Pitcher said Sunday he could not comment on the case because of his role in it and because there might be future litigation.

McKee said that at no time during the examination by the special four-officer board was his ability to do his questioned.

McKee said he will accept the Air Force's decision and will not take the case to civilian courts.

When 13,200 London buildings were destroyed by the Great Fire in 1666, Holland provided England with aid. The grateful King Charles II in turn gave Holland the right to sell goods to Britain once a year, duty-free.

Today, Dutch ships still pay an annual call to London with cargoes of tax-exempt goods, according to National Geographic.
