1957 BUDGET IN OFFING

Community Chest Committee To Meet, Hear Reports on Tuesday

The Budget and Admissions Committee of Terry County Community Chest will meet Tuesday to hear reports from each of the participating organizations.

Groups which took part last year in the Chest campaign here were the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, USO, Goodfellow Fund, YMCA, Crippled Children's Fund, Salvation Army, Cancer Society and Heart Fund.

If there are any organizations which feel they should be included in this year's Community Chest, committeemen suggest calling Mrs. O. D. Kennedy at 4587, or Curtis Sterling at 2188.

Other comitteemen are the Rev. Ralph O'Dell, Carl Golden, Lal Copeland, Jack Hamilton, Mrs. John Cadenhead, J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, John J. Kendrick and Mrs. Lee Bartlett.

Terry County Community Chest for 1956 was $21,470, and some $20,00 was pledged and collected for this year, Mrs. Kennedy reported. It is estimated by the committee that the budget will be about the same for 1957.

Terry Site Has Devonian Flow

A fourth interval, the Devonian, has indicated production at Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 1 Waters, central Terry County wildcat.

Tool was open five hours and 35 minutes to investigate the Devonian section between 12,785-12,797 feet. Water blanket surfaced in one hour and oil and gas-cut drilling mud flowed in one hour and 40 minutes. Well was cleaned to the pits for 75 minutes.

Flow to tanks the first 30 minutes yielded 13½ barrels of fluid, being 10 per cent mud, 20 per cent water and 70 per cent oil. Second 30-minute flow was gauged at 9.45 barrels of fluid, shakeout at 10 per cent mud, 10 per cent water and 80 per cent oil.

During the second hour, prospect flowed 2.70 barrels of fluid, being 13 per cent water, five per cent mud and 82 per cent oil. Well died in third hour and operator was unable to reverse out recovery. Tool was being pulled at last report.

Project, which also has found oil in the Spraberry, Strawn and Fusselman, situates 1,750 feet from north and 900 feet from west lines of Section 118, Block D-11, C&MMR Survey, 8½ miles southwest of Gomez. It is 3 miles west of production in the Southeast Corocco Field.

ALERTNESS PAYS — On Tuesday morning, Policeman Dennis Waldrip, forefront, studied mug shots in a "wanted" bulletin at Brownfield Police Department. On Tuesday night, Waldrip, on a routine check at a small carnival set up near the city limits, found himself looking into the face of a man, which face also was in the "wanted" bulletin. Working with his companion, Roswell Bartley, Waldrip did some fast checking —and made the arrest. The man with the "face" was wanted by Pecos authorities for questioning on a charge of assault with intent to commit rape. (Staff Photo)

Policeman's Tenacious Memory of Mug Pictures Proves Undoing of Suspect

Photographs and red traffic lights—they have tripped many a person operating outside the law.

It was a photograph on a "wanted" bulletin which proved the undoing here this week of 29-year-old Harold Judson Howard, alias Bill William Baker.

Here's the story:

Dennis Waldrip was one of three radio dispatchers until Tuesday at Brownfield Police Department.

It was Tuesday that Chief of Police Nolan Lassiter decided to make a temporary patrolman of Waldrip, and it was Tuesday that a sheaf of "wanted" bulletins arrived at the station.

Mug Shots Studied

Waldrip studied the mug shots on the bulletins, donned his uniform and, with Patrolman Roswell Bartley, went on duty that night.

During a routine check of Victory Expositions, small carnival operating at the southwest edge of Brownfield, Waldrip "thought" he recognized a face belonging to a concession stand operator.

After close surveillance and a talk with the carnival manager, new patrolman Waldrip tied the face to the mug shot on a bulletin—the man was wanted by Pecos authorities on suspicion of assault with intent to rape.

At this point, the story becomes routine, as it is with most police cases. An arrest was made, confirmation of identification was made by fingerprints, and Pecos authorities notified.

Dennis Waldrip is now a full-time policeman.

Five Brownfield school students narrowly escaped injury Wednesday noon when the car in which they were riding flipped over and came to rest on its topside at the intersection of Cardwell and D streets.

Investigating police determined that the car was unable to make a turn and went out of control.

Driver and occupants were examined for injuries and released immediately from Treadaway-Daniell Hospital. In its careening path, the car, driven by Bonnie Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tucker of 505 North Fifth, scraped a car driven by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barrett of 905 East Reppto. Police still were investigating the mishap today.

Brownfield police dispatchers this week ended a four-day communications school at Seminole. They were Dennis Waldrip, Larry Beauchamp and Mickey Newbill. Instructors were Bill Williams, chief operator of the Lubbock Police Department, and Maurice Cole, chief dispatcher at Abilene.

Bond of $250 was set this week for L. H. Hubbard of Brownfield, after his plea of innocence to charge of illegal possession of liquor. He had been arrested by Brownfield police.

Lang To Head Demo Campaign in Terry

Leonard M. Lang of Brownfield was appointed chairman of the Democratic organization in Terry County at a recent meeting of 28th Senatorial Demos held in Lubbock.

Among those speaking to more than 200 persons attending were Senator-elect Preston Smith, State Rep. Waggoner Carr and Representative-elect W. N. (Doc) Blanchard, all of Lubbock.

Mrs. Hub Jones and Bob Dennis, state executive committeemen of Lubbock, presided and outlined campaign procedures.

Lang, elected Terry County Democratic chairman last July, will lead the political activities here for Democrats who seek the election of Adlai Stevenson on Nov. 6.

Voters Approve Bond Issuance

Brownfield residents definitely want their power-light plant and water system enlarged and improved.

The go-ahead sign was given last Tuesday, when voters approved by a 7 to 1 majority to spend at least $770,000 on the two projects.

Approved was the sale of $500,000 worth of bonds for P&L improvement, and $270,000 in bonds for water system expansion.

Voting in City Hall went like this; $500,000 bond issue —145 for, 20 against; $270,000 bond issue—143 for, 20 against.

City Manager Eunice Jones explained this morning that "the groundwork is laid and the work will get under way —after sale of the bonds."

The bond sale is expected to be swift because of the "A" rating with which the City of Brownfield is credited. For cities of its size, Brownfield is considered to be in excellent financial condition by bond buyers, said Jones.

Favorable Aid Seen for City Airport's Use

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter sheds some light on current efforts of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce to improve and enlarge facilities at the airport east of the city. It is addressed to U. S. Cong. George Mahon and is signed by L. C. Elliott, regional administrator of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.)

Dear Cong. Mahon:

In compliance with your request by letter dated Sept. 20, 1956, I am pleased to supply the following information regarding the request of the City of Brownfield, Texas, for federal aid in improving their airport.

Several Brownfield women were in Lubbock Tuesday to hear Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, first women to serve in the President's cabinet, speak in behalf of the Republican party.

—n-v—

Speaking of politics reminds me of a story I heard the other days.

Seems there were two small Negro boys hitchhiking. A Republican stopping to give them a ride asked if they were Republicans. One boy replied quickly that they were Democrats.

As the man was getting ready to leave the boys stranded, the other youth spoke out with, "No suh, boss, we were just kidding. We're both Republicans." They rated the ride.

A short distance down the road, the trio came upon a patch of watermelons, the gentleman suggesting they stop and eat one. As they began eating, one of the Negro boys said to the other, "Here we are, just been Republicans for 15 minutes, and now we're eating up the farmer's profit."

"Telerama of Fall" Attracts Huge Crowd to Party House Flower Show

FLOWERS, GIRLS, FLOWERS — Who won't agree that the two impish faces peering out of the mums aren't prettier than the flowers. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackstock, who farm 3 miles north of Gomez. The pictures were taken immediately prior to Mrs. Blackstock's cutting most of the flowers for showing today at the "Telerama of Fall," third annual flower show of the Brownfield Garden Club. The event was held in The Party House. Largest of the pink "spider" mums was measured 9½ inches across. Mrs. Blackstock has been growing the chrysanthemums for 14 years, and she gives much credit for her success to Mrs. Clarence Lewis, another reputable mum grower. Marie is the taller daughter, and she's 5 years old. Her sister is Billie, 4. Mrs. Blackstock has some 40 blue ribbons which her flowers have gained for her in previous showings. (Staff Photos)

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
Barnyard "WHOOdonit"
The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens ... and should be shot.
Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.
The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!
From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say ... and be thankful we live where that's possible.

Terry Site Has Devonian Flow

A fourth interval, the Devonian, has indicated production at Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 1 Waters, central Terry County wildcat.

Tool was open five hours and 35 minutes to investigate the Devonian section between 12,785-12,797 feet. Water blanket surfaced in one hour and oil and gas-cut drilling mud flowed in one hour and 40 minutes. Well was cleaned to the pits for 75 minutes.

Flow to tanks the first 30 minutes yielded 13½ barrels of fluid, being 10 per cent mud, 20 per cent water and 70 per cent oil. Second 30-minute flow was gauged at 9.45 barrels of fluid, shakeout at 10 per cent mud, 10 per cent water and 80 per cent oil.

During the second hour, prospect flowed 2.70 barrels of fluid, being 13 per cent water, five per cent mud and 82 per cent oil. Well died in third hour and operator was unable to reverse out recovery. Tool was being pulled at last report.

Here's the story:

Dennis Waldrip was one of three radio dispatchers until Tuesday at Brownfield Police Department.

It was Tuesday that Chief of Police Nolan Lassiter decided to make a temporary patrolman of Waldrip, and it was Tuesday that a sheaf of "wanted" bulletins arrived at the station.

Mug Shots Studied

Waldrip studied the mug shots on the bulletins, donned his uniform and, with Patrolman Roswell Bartley, went on duty that night.

During a routine check of Victory Expositions, small carnival operating at the southwest edge of Brownfield, Waldrip "thought" he recognized a face belonging to a concession stand operator.

After close surveillance and a talk with the carnival manager, new patrolman Waldrip tied the face to the mug shot on a bulletin—the man was wanted by Pecos authorities on suspicion of assault with intent to rape.

At this point, the story becomes routine, as it is with most police cases. An arrest was made, confirmation of identification was made by fingerprints, and Pecos authorities notified.

Dennis Waldrip is now a full-time policeman.

Five Brownfield school students narrowly escaped injury Wednesday noon when the car in which they were riding flipped over and came to rest on its topside at the intersection of Cardwell and D streets.

Investigating police determined that the car was unable to make a turn and went out of control.

Driver and occupants were examined for injuries and released immediately from Treadaway-Daniell Hospital. In its careening path, the car, driven by Bonnie Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tucker of 505 North Fifth, scraped a car driven by the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barrett of 905 East Reppto. Police still were investigating the mishap today.

Brownfield police dispatchers this week ended a four-day communications school at Seminole. They were Dennis Waldrip, Larry Beauchamp and Mickey Newbill. Instructors were Bill Williams, chief operator of the Lubbock Police Department, and Maurice Cole, chief dispatcher at Abilene.

Bond of $250 was set this week for L. H. Hubbard of Brownfield, after his plea of innocence to charge of illegal possession of liquor. He had been arrested by Brownfield police.

Voters Approve Bond Issuance

Brownfield residents definitely want their power-light plant and water system enlarged and improved.

The go-ahead sign was given last Tuesday, when voters approved by a 7 to 1 majority to spend at least $770,000 on the two projects.

Approved was the sale of $500,000 worth of bonds for P&L improvement, and $270,000 in bonds for water system expansion.

Voting in City Hall went like this: $500,000 bond issue—145 for, 20 against; $270,000 bond issue—143 for, 20 against.

City Manager Eunice Jones explained this morning that "the groundwork is laid and the work will get under way—after sale of the bonds."

The bond sale is expected to be swift because of the "A" rating with which the City of Brownfield is credited. For cities of its size, Brownfield is considered to be in excellent financial condition by bond buyers, said Jones.

Favorable Aid Seen for City Airport's Use

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter sheds some light on current efforts of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce to improve and enlarge facilities at the airport east of the city. It is addressed to U. S. Cong. George Mahon and is signed by L. C. Elliott, regional administrator of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.)

Dear Cong. Mahon:

In compliance with your request by letter dated Sept. 20, 1956, I am pleased to supply the following information regarding the request of the City of Brownfield, Texas, for federal aid in improving their airport.

The City of Brownfield is included in the 1956 National Airport Plan as requiring an airport to serve the needs of civil air transporation other than air carrier, i. e., agricultural, commerical, industrial, executive, charter, corporate small irregular carrier.

Several Brownfield women were in Lubbock Tuesday to hear Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, first women to serve in the President's cabinet, speak in behalf of the Republican party.

—n-v—

Speaking of politics reminds me of a story I heard the other days.

Seems there were two small Negro boys hitchhiking. A Republican stopping to give them a ride asked if they were Republicans. One boy replied quickly that they were Democrats.

As the man was getting ready to leave the boys stranded, the other youth spoke out with, "No suh, boss, we were just kidding. We're both Republicans." They rated the ride.

A short distance down the road, the trio came upon a patch of watermelons, the gentleman suggesting they stop and eat one. As they began eating, one of the Negro boys said to the other, "Here we are, just been Republicans for 15 minutes, and now we're eating up the farmer's profit."

Yoakum County ginning to date counts 13,094 bales.

Relatives of Local Woman Die In Plane Crash at Midland

Five members of one family, all related to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter of 504 East Broadway, were killed Wednesday afternoon when an Air Force jet plane collided with the family's private plane over Midland.

"Telerama of Fall" Attracts Huge Crowd to Party House Flower Show

FLOWERS, GIRLS, FLOWERS — Who won't agree that the two impish faces peering out of the mums aren't prettier than the flowers. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackstock, who farm 3 miles north of Gomez. The pictures were taken immediately prior to Mrs. Blackstock's cutting most of the flowers for showing today at the "Telerama of Fall," third annual flower show of the Brownfield Garden Club. The event was held in The Party House. Largest of the pink "spider" mums was measured 9½ inches across. Mrs. Blackstock has been growing the chrysanthemums for 14 years, and she gives much credit for her success to Mrs. Clarence Lewis, another reputable mum grower. Marie is the taller daughter, and she's 5 years old. Her sister is Billie, 4. Mrs. Blackstock has some 40 blue ribbons which her flowers have gained for her in previous showings. (Staff Photos)

A lot of persons are asking about our Community Chest. The truth is this: It requires a lot of diligent work to head this organization and an enormous number of individuals to make it succeed. Ike Bailey did a remarkable job last year getting the Chest under way. What we need now is someone to carry the ball this year.

Several Brownfield men have been contacted and, with some encouragement, will assume this big job. Do you, as a citizen, want one big fund raising compaign this year, or do you want 10 separate money-raising drives scattered throughout the year?

instructional and personal flying.

A request for federal aid dated May 24, 1956, for construction of a paved runway on Brownfield Municipal Airport was received from the City, and consideration was given to adding this project to the 1957 FFA Program.

Total tentative allocations in the State of Texas exceed the state apportioned funds and include discretionary funds, which means that a relatively higher priority, or justification, is required for inclusion in the Texas Program than would be true if surplus funds were available in the state apportioned funds.

Based upon past experience, we anticipated that some programmed projects have not been able to withdraw an appreciable amount of tentative allocations to date.

We still anticipate that funds may become available from this source and that Brownfield certainly will be one of the those locations considered for addition to the program.

Project requests now are being received for the 1958 FFA Program for which federal funds will be availbale in July 1957, and which will be tentatively formalized in December 1956 for released in January, 1957.

The request of the City of Brownfield will, of course, be considered for the 1958 program. However, a final selection cannot be made until all requests have been received and the aeronautical necessity of each location has been evaluated in accordance with current programming standards.

We are in agreement that Brownfield Municipal Airport, a sod field with 45 based aircraft, needs a paved runway, and a federal aid project will be programmed to accomplish this work as soon as we are able to justify the need within available federal funds.

IOWA TEST TESTS THEM — Pictured above are some of the Brownfield High School students who took part last week in a period of "self-analysis," background of which was the Iowa Test of Educational Development. Under the supervision of Dr. Robert Hoey, guidance counselor in the Brownfield schools, the students ground their way through 56 pages of tests requiring some eight hours to complete. "The purpose of the Iowa Test," explained Dr. Hoey, "is to determine, as accurately as possible, just what and how much students have learned throughout their school years — in as well as out of the classroom." QBC Plans Meeting of Cub Fans at Pecos

The Brownfield Quarterback Club, at regular Monday night meeting, decided against attempting to form a caravan of cars to attend the football game between Brownfield and Pecos, at Pecos, because of the distance of the trip.

However, club members did vote to meet upon arrival in Pecos at the Federal Building and parade through the downtown district in order to demonstrate that the Cubs would be represented by hometown fans. All local fans going to Pecos are asked to meet at the Federal Building at 7 p.m. and join the parade.

Quarterback Joe Satterwhite addressed the club members briefly, and asked that a 100 per cent membership appear at the pep rally to be held in the high school auditorium Friday at 8:50 a.m.

The Cubs will leave for Pecos immediately following the pep rally and Satterwhite said, "I think it would be appropriate for a 100 per cent membership of the QBC to be present to wish the boys well and to give them a rousing send-off for their first conference game."

The showing of a film of the Brownfield — Colorado City game and a scouting report on Pecos were included in last Monday's meeting of the club.

The next regular meeting of the Quarterback Club will be in the Fireman's Hall at 7:30 next Monday night and all members are urged to be present.

Club President L. J. Richardson conducted the meeting.

N FOOTBALL EVENT

Contest Winners Are Revealed

Mary (Mrs. John) Jennings of 1201 East Broadway and Ted Hardy, who resides at 415 East Buckley, were awarded prizes this week for being winners in the NEWS weekly football contest.

Mary and N. L. Mason of 901 East Broadway tied for this week's prize, but since Mason was a previous winner the prize went to Mrs. Jennings.

Mrs. Mike Barrett was second place winner with 18 correct answers and she was awarded the prize because of her exact guess of the Brownfield-Colorado City score. Four others, Jimmy Rogers, Mrs. Bill Williams, Rex Black and J. O. Rodgers, also had 19 correct answers.

Jimmy Moore of 712 East Oak was this week's winner for low with only 11 right guesses.

NEWS Gives Tickets

Ted Hardy is the winner of two tickets to the Nov. 3. Texas Tech game, courtesy BROWNFIELD NEWS, for scoring the highest number of points over the past three weeks. Here again a tie prevailed.

Hardy and Buddy Gillham were tied with 52 points each but in the final analysis Hardy's score predictions were nearer correct than Gillham's.

ATTEND REUNION — Shown above are many of the guests who took part Sunday in a family reunion of the John Burnett family. Meeting in Coleman Park, the 80-plus members, some from as far away as San Tome, Venezuela, ate a barbecue luncheon. Oldest member present was John Burnett, 83, of 217 South Third. Youngest person attending was Cindy Marchbanks, 6-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Marchbanks of Lubbock.

By DONNA CHRISTOPHER

Royalty reigns in B. H. S.! Last Thursday, Janith Spears was crowned Harvest Festival Queen at the climax of the day's activities. Due to the rain, which resulted in several alternations in the parade, the festivities were transferred from the football stadium to the new high school auditorium. Various local groups performed during the afternoon, and the 1102 seat auditorium was filled and over-flowing for the evening appearances of the rock 'n' rollin' "Four Teens", the "Bowman Brothers", and Bernie Howell and his Trio. Kay Kessinger and Sarita Serenil were the runner-up candidates, and Kay was the only candidate to "brave the elements" and ride in the parade despite the rain. Even more recent queenly news is the election of the queen of B. H. S. The senior class selected Claudia Tuttle to try for the top honors against the junior's candidates, Dianna Adams. The sophomores chose Delma Fox and Brenda Fenton as candidates for their duchess, and Jerry Trout and Bobbie Bailey are the freshmen duchess candidates.

Last Friday's game resulted in a very decisive victory for the Cubs over the Colorado City Wolves, 27-0. This Friday Brownfield's first conference game will be played at Pecos.

What's What: In addition to the goings-on at the auditorium last Thursday, there was a party at the party house and after the crowning Jo Bess Boston, Reudell Bradey, and Carma Cole had a slumber party.

Gerald Jenkins and Le Nora Turner joined the ranks of steady couples in B. H. S. last week.

Monday morning Rev. Jimmy Tidwell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, spoke in assembly. He was the first scheduled speaker in the new auditorium.

Class pictures were issued Tuesday morning, and the trading began almost immediately.

Eddie Foshee, a member of Uncle Sam's Navy, is home on leave . . . He arrived Tuesday afternoon.

The F. T. A. Club is under the leadership of these officers for the current year; president, Donna Sue Nelson, vice president, Sherry Don Spears, secretary, Sue Shewmake, and student council representative, Barbara Knox. The club meets on second and fourth Mondays at 6:30 p.m.

Several seniors took a scholarship qualifying test under the direction of Dr. Hoey, counselor at B. H. S.

A brief glance at classroom doings would show the government students assigned a 20 to 30 page thesis, by Dec. 14, and in the physics class some of the students, while working with mercury in an experiment, got some of the silver element on their gold rings and found that it turned them to a bright, shiny silver. .

Cub 'B' Team Downs Lamesa

The Brownfield Cub "B" team showed a surprising brand of football last Saturday night when they downed the Lamesa Tornado "B" team, 13-6, at Cub Stadium. The "B" Cubs were a much improved team since the last meeting with Lamesa, a game that the Tornado "B" won easily. Coach Elroy Payne said the "B" team was showing more and more improvement each week and would give a good account of themselves throughout the remainder of the season.

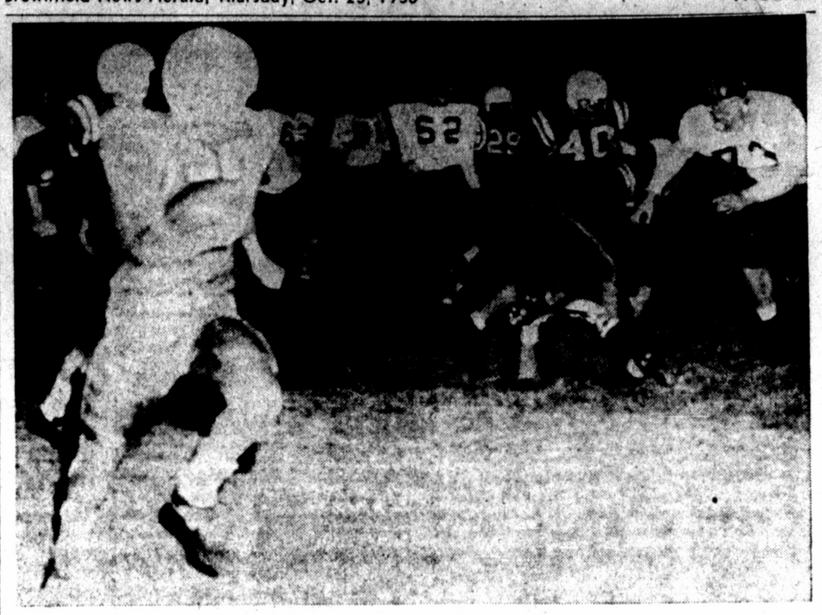

Lonnie Bartley scored both Cub touchdowns Saturday night and Don Godwin hit one for two in the extra point division. Godwin made his first attempt good, in first quarter and missed in the final stanza.

The Tornado's picked up their lone tally in the final period.

The Cub "B's" travel to Martin this week to meet the Martin "B" team tonight.

While the "B" team was winning from Lamesa, the ninth grade team dropped a one-sided decision to the Tornado's, 27-6.

In other action this week, the seventh grade team travels to Andrews while the eight and ninth grade teams play here.

NO CARAVAN PLANNED FOR TRIP SOUTH

Brownfield Cubs Face Undefeated Pecos Eleven Friday Nite

The Brownfield Cubs get their first taste of conference play Friday night when they journey southwestward to meet an undefeated Pecos eleven. The Cubs, playing .500 football, with three wins and three losses, have four games remaining on their 1956 schedule — all Conference games.

Next week the Cubs enjoy an open date but after that, and in order, they meet Monahans, Andrews and Kermit to close out the season.

The Cubs will be glad to see fullback Jackie Meeks return to action this week. Meeks has missed play for the past two weeks because of a knee injury. Coach Doug Cox said earlier this week that Meeks had shown fast improvement and definitely would be back in action against Pecos.

Jenkins, Cloe out

However, Gerald Jenkins will not see action this week because of an injury suffered in last week's game against Colorado City and at this writing it is doubtful that Bob Cloe will be in the lineup at Pecos Friday night. Cloe, along with his parents, was called to California, where Bob's grandfather suffered a heart attack. Coach Cox stated that he had no word from Bob or his family.

No caravan is planned for the game trip to Pecos.

Last Friday night Brownfield combined a power laden ground attack with an occasional aerial display to defeat Colorado City, 27-0, at Cub Stadium. Although both teams marked 13 first downs, the Cubs showed power aplenty as they racked up 305 yards rushing.

Scoring in every quarter, Brownfield had things under control throughout although the Wolves from Colorado City did manage to put together a sustained drive that resulted in their only scoring threat during the game. This fizzled when the Wolves fumbled on the Cub 20 and the Cubs recovered.

Brownfield Scat-back Mike Browning provided the outstanding thrill of the game when he took a Wolf punt on the Wolf 40 and scampered, untouched, into the end zone for the score.

Mike Hamilton, Larry Meeks and Ellis Cox also provided running and passing thrills for the some 1,500 fans present in Cub Stadium.

Lubbock Ring Card Scheduled Saturday

The George S. Berry Post of the American Legion, in Lubbock will present its second feature boxing card of the season Saturday night in the Fair Park Coliseum.

According to Commander O. L. Head, this card will feature fast action between two featherweights in the 8-round main event. Jesse Rodriquez of Kansas City will meet Tony Cristy from Pittsburgh.

The winner of this bout has been assured of a match with Willie Pep. The match has been set tenatively for the Christmas season in Lubbock and proceeds will go toward a Christmas Toy Fund for the needy.

Fritize Zivic will be the guest referee for Saturday's matches and prices have been set at $1, $2, and $3. The first match is set to get underway at 8 p.m.

6-Man Tag Team To Top Wrestling Card

Brownfield weekly wrestling matches will make history this Monday night when, for the first time, a six person tag-team match is slated.

The unusual thing about the match is this. There will be two men and one girl wrestler on each team and all six wrestlers will be in the ring at one time. This type of event is considered one of the most unusual and interesting in the wrestling world.

Featured in the event will be Kathy Starr of Chicago and her partners, Wild Red McKimm and Gorgeous Klondike Ike. Their opponents will be Mexico's Laura Martinez teamed with Poncho Valdez and Vince Montez.

This week's event is slated to be the concluding card of the current season and will be held at the baseball park, starting at 8 p.m.

Union High Wallops Three Way 59-7 To Break Up Deadlock

Union had things much their own way in the victory, with Howard Hungerford, Gene Hungerford, Alfred Newsom and Jimmy Howell all contributing outstanding performances.

Jim Reeves scored the lone touchdown for Three Way and Johnny Sandler added the extra point.

Summary: Union — touchdowns, Newsom 2, H. Hungerford 3, G. Hungerford 2, Howell 1. Extra Points: H. Hungerford, 2, Newsom, Kay and Herring.

Babe Ruth Circuits Show Big Increase

The Babe Ruth League, Inc. announced this week that Charles Spangler, mayor of Marshall, has been elected state director of the Babe Ruth League youth baseball program.

Spangler, who succeeds Jimmie Farrell of Austin as the 1957 director of the organization in Texas, has been active in the Babe Ruth program since 1953, serving as local league president. Formerly a president of the Little League in Marshall, he helped organize the Babe Ruth circuit there.

Under his direction, the Babe Ruth program is expected to continue its mushrooming growth in Texas. This year, 11 new loops were added to the program as it almost doubled its numbers in the state. In 1955, the Babe Ruth World Series was held in Austin.

Savings Bonds Sales Increase

The Terry County savings bond chairman, J. O. Gillham of Brownfield State Bank, said this morning that Series "E" Bond sales for September had increased nine per cent above the same period of last year.

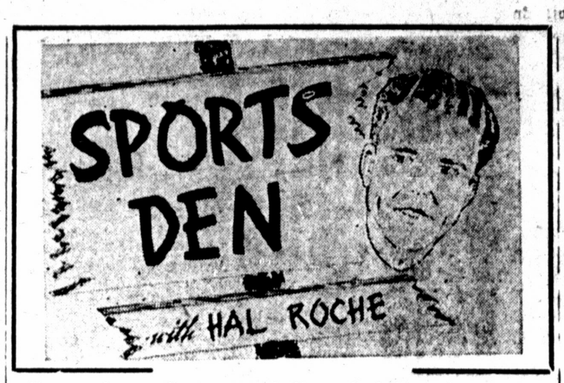

The "E" sales for last month were $12,853,819. Series "H" sales were $1,811,000. These figures compare with $11,716,088 and $2,378,000, respectively, for September 1955.

Sales in Terry County for September were $3,187. Sales here for the nine months total $118,940. This represents 39.6 per cent of the 1956 quota for Terry County, the chairman explained.

Gillham stressed the importance of the savings bonds program to the individual, the community and the nation.

"More than 2 million Texans have $2 billion invested in savings bonds," said the banker. "That much stored-up buying power is reasuring for the future of our economy," he concluded.

Paul Revere made George Washington's first set of false teeth.

Two weeks ago it was stated here that should names be singled out for thanks, a whole paper would be needed. Since the entire paper is not at the disposal of this column, may I say Thanks, Thanks, Thanks, to all who had a part in the Little League's participation in the Harvest Festival. Janith Spears, who was the Little League's entrant won the impressive title of HARVEST FESTIVAL QUEEN, as you know. Janith was a happy and thankful young lady and wears a crown befitting her charm, personality and beauty.

Janith's opponents in the contest, Kay Kessinger and Sarith Cerenil, are both beautiful young ladies and, too would have worn the crown with honor and dignity and in a manner that would have made all members of the Rotary Club, who sponsor the event yearly, proud to say, "There is our Queen." Again, thanks to everyone.

The Cubs go into conference play for the first time Friday night, and everyone regrets the fact that Gerald Jenkins will not be able to play. There is also some doubt as to whether or not Bob Cloe will return in time to do in uniform.

Bob and his parents were called to California after his grandfather had suffered a heart attack. From here, Bob, we offer a prayer for your grandfather's recovery and this reminder to you—"Don't let the sunny climes of the Pacific state bury too deep. We do want you and your family to return".

The pep rally in the high school auditorium Friday morning has all the makings of the biggest to date. Members of the Quarterback Club have said they hope for a 100 per cent turnout. That would be good. For one thing the boys would leave knowing that although the distance is such that a great number of supporters won't be able to make the trip they will be behind the team all the way.

The Cubs will leave for Pecos immediately following the pep rally. They are travelling by chartered bus and should have a comfortable ride. The band and pep squad will leave later in the day.

Let's take note of the fact that the Cub "B" team is playing some good football on Thursday and Saturday night. Many fans attest that last Saturday's game with Lamesa was as good as any seen to date. Coaches Elroy Payne and Charlie Keese are pleased with the progress shown by the "B" boys and say there is some good material for next year's varsity.

Marvin Bradford was in town for a couple of days last week. Marv, as he likes to be called, is the Region 7 director of Little League baseball and a member of the national board of directors of that organization.

He was here to take part in the Harvest Festival. Brownfield, as a city, highly impressed Marv and he was more than generous in his praise for the citizens of our town. He was particularly impressed and extremely delighted with the Little League program here.

Too much cannot be said about that and too much praise cannot be given to men like Bill McGowan, Arlie Lowimore, Ike Isaacs, Keith Snedeker, Taylor Holland, Burton Hackney and Jerry Stoltz, to mention a few.

And, there we mention just a very few because there are many, many more who deserve the credit and praise for the organization of Little League baseball in Brownfield. All of you have done a super job and I know that you will continue to do as well in future years.

IT'S REALLY DONE THIS WAY — The trio shown above was among some 20-25 women who took part Monday and Tuesday in a basic clothing workshop sponsored by Terry County Home Demonstration Council. From left: Miss Lydia Morales of El Campo, visiting friends in Brownfield; Mrs. Lynn Smith of 1303 North A, and Mrs. W. O. Miller of 1302 East Lons. The two-day event was held in the Party House, and was in preparation for a tailoring workshop this fall, explained Miss Shirley Holbrooks, Terry County home demonstration agent. (Staff Photo)

Standing before arrangements of white gladiolus backed with woodwardia palms, and flanked with white tapers in candelabra, Miss Martha Francell Fitzgerald became the bride of Jack Mancil Palmer at 4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 21, in the First Baptist Church at Plains.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fitzgerald and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Palmer, all of Plains.

The Rev. Howard Smith of Brownfield performed the double ring rites.

Mrs. Roland Johnson, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Linda Fitzgerald as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning".

Father Escorts Bride

The bride was escorted by her father down the aisle marked with small white satin bows and lighted white tapers. She wore a white gown of imported Chantilly type lace and nylon tulle over net and satin. Designed with high neckline framed with a queen's collar, the fitted lace bodice had a sheer yoke enhanced with lace applique, long sleeves terminating in points over the hands, and center point at the waistline.

From this stemmed a voluminous waltz length skirt, made with lace yoke, fully shirred, and joined to an inset of shirred tulle. A wide band of lace encircled the skirt and the lower hipline, and held an immense ruffle of tulle outlining the bottom edge. Her veil of silk illusion net depended from a tiara type cap of irridescent sequins and seed pearls, and she carried a snow white orchid atop a white pearlized Bible.

MRS. JACK PALMER

Mrs. Bob Loe attended her sister as matron of honor, and Miss Kittie Parks of Brownwood, Miss Laverle Caldwell of Lubbock, and Mrs. Charles Eaks of Las Cruces, N.M., were bridesmaids. Misses Linda Fitzgerald and Judy Palmer lighted candles.

The honor attendants were identical dresses of pink crystablette over taffeta, fashioned with scalloped necklines and tiny sleeves, with princess style skirts. They wore matching pink headbands, and carried bouquets of darker pink carnations.

...Down Wellman Way...

Hi!

The football boys played at Pettit last Friday night and won by a score of 31-6. The boys played a good game for the first time in a number of weeks.

They are looking forward to a rough week during work out periods while getting ready for the homecoming game against Three Way at the Wildcat stadium this Friday night at 7:30. Come and see the "Wildcats beat Three Way!"

The Wellman home-coming will be Friday, Oct. 26. All ex-students, teachers, and parents are invited. Coffee will be served during the afternoon at the high school. The football queen and the pep-squad sweetheart will be crowned at the half. The names of the football queen and pep-squad sweetheart have been kept secret; but the candidates are: Foxie Oliver, senior; Barbara Bishop, sophomore; and Pat Runnels, sophomore. The pep-squad sweetheart candidates are: Kenneth Taylor, junior; Donnie Pinson, sophomore; and Jerry Carmichael, senior.

Union and Three Way played on the Wildcats' football field, Friday at 2:30 because the Union Field was under water. School was dismissed here and everyone went to see the game. Union defeated Three Way by a score of 57-7.

The Seniors had their pictures made Tuesday, Oct. 23, by the Marquise Studio of Enid, Oklahoma.

There will be a Southern Assembly program presented Tuesday, Oct. 30, at 9 a.m. in the Wellman auditorium. Torrini and Phyllis Madcap, wizards of Hocus-Pocus, will feature the magic show.

The Wellman P. T. A. met Thursday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 p.m.

Special prizes were awarded rooms having the largest number of parents present.

We are sorry that Mr. Keeling, our high school custodian, is ill.

Pat Runnels, Foxie Oliver, Buddy Hawkins, Joe Roy Golden, and Winston Livesay are really working on homecoming committees.

Mrs. Akers' pep-squad girls are planning a new routine for Friday. They have been getting ready for home-coming for weeks.

We were taken by surprise early Tuesday mroning about the schedule change. Some of us had to be careful-we were afraid we would be meeting ourselves in the hall.

This seems to be a week of "Ifs." For instance, we wonder if—

Dixie will get the date?

Can Joe Roy Golden manipulate the convertible he promised for the Queen at Homecoming?

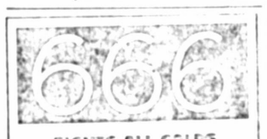

How is "Mrs. Looe" going to use all that long history period?

Where do those cute sophomores get all that energy? We wonder if they ever sleep?

And the biggest "If" is can (am I able?) to make this next honor roll?

See you at 1956 Home-coming.

FOUR HEADLAMPS DRAW ATTENTION

Dean Motor Co. Displays 1957 Nash

Dean Motor Company showed its Brownfield friends the 1957 Nash Ambassador today at the firm's 701 West Main address.

The Ambassador was revealed to be two inches lower than its 1956 predecessor, featured by a new V-8 engine developing 255 horsepower, "Lightning Streak" styling, increased maneuverability and more luxurious interiors.

Said Dean: "The new headlight system, with two lamps mounted vertically in each fender, is the greatest advance in automobile lightning since the advent of sealed-beam units. It also gives the new Nash an attractive styling area."

Dean also displayed the 1957 Nash Rambler.

Viewers saw that the 1957 Nash styling changes begin at the front, with the chrome-encased headlights set in the fenders. The grille's center is a wide-spread golden "V" above which is the Nash emblem.

The roof has been lowered 1-¼ inches this year and the new models have 14-inch wheels, instead of the customary 15-inch wheels. The tire sizes has been increased to 8.00 by 14, resulting in a net reduction in overall height of two inches. The car now is only five feet high.

On the sides, the front fenders have full wheel cutouts, which reduces the turning diameter from 44 feet-4 inches to 42 feet. This changes gives the new Nash maneuverability comparable to that of much smaller cars, Abernethy said.

Steering also has been improved with a new 18 to 1 ratio gear box. The new ratio offers more responsive handling qualities. The steering gear box incorporates new bearings, thereby reducing steering effort.

The new side "Lightning Streak" color spear results in a feeling of motion. A single chrome molding is used on the side of Ambassador Super models.

All 1957 Nash models are powered by the new, larger AMC V-8 engine, rated at 255 horsepower. Nash Motors' top horsepower in 1956 was 220. This new engine has compactness and balance between performance and economy. Its modern design and overhead valve arrangement permit free-breathing and maximum efficiency. Abernethy said. In addition, its size-to-weight ratio results in long engine life, he added. A four-barrel carburetor is standard equipment.

"The new Nash V-8 engine gives better fuel economy than is usually found in high-powered engines, to performance, compactness, and ease of accessibility for service," said Abernethy.

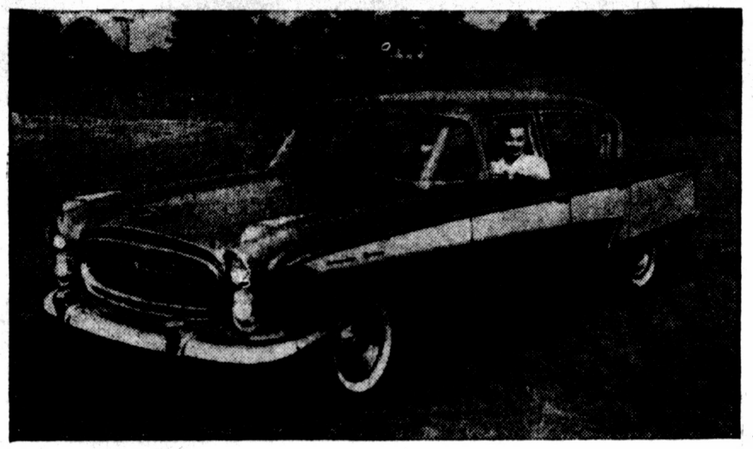

Its compression ratio of 9 to 1, displacement of 327 cubic inches and torque rating of 345 foot-pounds contribute to the engine's outstanding performance, he said. The engine has a large bore and short stroke, 4 inches by 3¼ inches, plus three-ring pistons to give low-friction operation and resultant economy of operation.

away Hyrda-Matic, overdrive, and synchromesh — are available with the V-8 powerplant. Selecto-Lift starting is used on cars with Flashaway Hyrda-Matic. The shift lever is lifted to activate the starter. The car can be started only in N (neutral) or P (Park).

Tail-pipes on the standard twin-exhaust system are point downward and are hidden by the rear bumpers.

Four models are available in the 1057 Nash line. They are the Ambassador Custom Country Club hardtop, Ambassador Super Country Club hardtop, Ambassador Custom four-door sedan, and Ambassador Super four-door sedan.

Nash Introduces 1957 Models

The 1957 Nash, which is two inches lower than the 1956 model, is highlighted by a revolutionary four-headlight system. Powered by a new 255-horsepower V-8 engine, the new model also has "Lightning Streak" styling, a reduced turning diameter and "living room" interiors. Shown is the Nash Ambassador Custom four-door sedan. The new models go on sale in Nash dealerships across the nation on October 25.

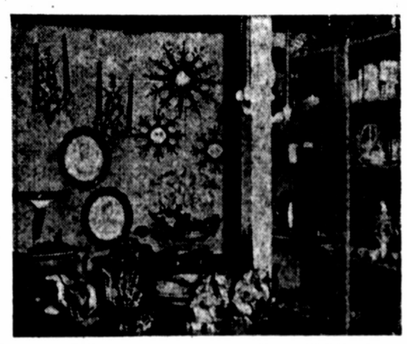

Interiors have been redesigned and color keyed to the exteriors. Upholsteries, in a wide variety of metallic fabrics and vinyl or leather bolsters provide "living room" comfort and beauty, Abernethy said. Many of the fabrics are hand-plaited. Seats on the 1957 Nash measure 6 5inches, the widest in the industry.

John Adams was the first U. S., ambassador to England.

GEE GEE'S Chit Chat!

First, I want to thank Furr Food Store for donating the ten bucks worth of food that Sam got at Harvest Festival.

Friends of the Library will meet Nov. 1 at the Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse at 7:30 p.m. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Jane (Mrs. George) Wade, who owns the Palomino Gift Shop on the Seagraves highway is having a doll style show all day Friday, Oct. 26, and is serving punch and cookies. This will be an excellent opportunity for you to see her large collection of beautiful dolls, with old Santa Claus in mind. While you're there, look over Jane's varied collection of gifts.

And speaking of dolls, I was rather surprised to learn this week that one of my neighbors down the street, Rita (Mrs. O. R.) Williams, makes doll clothes to order. With Christmas just around the corner, I know you'll want to see Rita and have her custom-make a wardrobe for your daughter's doll. By getting your orders in now, Rita will have plenty of time to make any type of wardrobe you have in mind for your dolls. For more details, phone 3441.

Halloween is just around the corner and all the spooks and goblins will be out "trick or treat"ing. Our Richie is really looking forward to it (the rather fat skeleton banging on your door will be him, if he doesn't outgrow his costume within the next few days). He missed last Halloween's fun, due to the fact that the Privitts decided at 4 p.m. that afternoon to drive to Brownfield from Longview. And incidentally, someone very closely related to me is having a birthday that day. Sister Helen is having her UH birthday.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Redford Smith is having a bout of illness in the T-D hospital. Hope you'll remember to send her a card.

Precinct 1, Box 12, voting place has been changed from the old high school gym to the party house in Coleman Park. So all you fellers who have been voting at the gym, remember to go to the party house on that very important day, Nov. 6. No matter what candidate you plan to vote for, just be sure you exercise your rightful privilege and get out and vote.

Incidentally, the senior Girl Scouts Troop 1 will have a nursery in operation at the Presbyterian Church on Nov. 6 from 12 noon until 7 p.m. for the convenience of mothers who wish to go vote. This is a wonderful project for these girls to undertake, because, aland they're willing to devote exercise their rights, they realize the importance of the vote and tehy're willing to devote their time to keeping your children while you mothers exercise yours. Please feel free to take your children and let these capable senior scouts watch them for you while you vote.

The local Rainbow Assembly plans another businessman's breakfast Saturday, Oct. 27 (this Saturday) and they urge everyone to get their tickets NOW. When you buy a ticket from these girls, you're helping a worthy cause besides getting a good sturdy breakfast, to boot.

Madeline (Mrs. Woody) Frymire over at the new Montgomery Ward emporium says that they still have plenty of Fall and Winter catalogues to pass out, so if you haven't gotten yours, drop by their place on Main Street and pick it up . . . gratis.

Don't know whether you're aware of the fact or not, but the kids at BHS have a good rousing pep rally every Friday morning at 8:45 a.m. and everybody, is plumb welcome. If you want to find out how really old you are, just make one of these!) Believe it or not, the kids notice whether or not there are townspeople at these rallies, and Mary Jo Christian was telling me this week that the cheer leaders, as well as everyone else, love to have us civilians present. Since this week's game is at Pecos and there may not be too large a crowd from here attend, let's all make a very special effort to make the pep rally and wish our Cubs the best of luck in this, their first conference tilt.

Never before in history has anything

built by man traveled so far in so short a time

—by land or sea!

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before – in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

ife of Sprinkler Irrigation Systems Is rolonged By Maintenance, Says Expert

The useful life of sprinkler rigation equipment can be xtended through proper main- enance. Bob Thurmond, ex- ension irrigation specialist, ays as soon as the irrigating eason is over, it is time to o some of the maintenance obs.

He says the engines should be checked by a qualified mechanic and if the pumping units are left in the field over winter, they should be covered by a waterproof tarpaulin or a suitable structure. Special care should be taken to see that no moisture enters the exhaust pipes of internal combustion engines.

Impellers and seal rings on centrifugal pumps should be checked. Sprinkler heads should be removed and checked for excessive wear and repairs made if needed. Gaskets should be inspected and all sand or packed soil removed.

He advises storing pipe on racks well above the ground and in the colder areas of the state prefers indoor storage. If pipe is left in the field during freezing weather, it should be completely drained after use. Buried line must have complete draining facilities in colder areas unless they are buried below the frost line.

If fertilizer is applied through sprinkler systems, he says make sure all equipment is thoroughly flushed and is clean before shutting down. Should corrosion be detected in any part of the system, he advises getting in touch immediately with the supplier. If corrosion is detected early, several remedial steps can be taken to stop the damage.

The investment in a properly equipped sprinkler is a heavy one and deserves to be protected not only for extending its useful life but also to get the most efficiency from its use, says Thurmond.

New Cotton Variety Passes First Tests On the High Plains

Blightmaster, a new stormproof and tolerant to angular leaf spot variety of cotton, is performing well under field conditions this year. It was developed by plant breeders of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Substation at Lubbock.

Lee C. Coffey, extension agronomist, report that bacterial blight, commonly called angular leaf spot or blackarm, has been widespread this fall in the cotton fields of the High Plains. While the disease, unless severe, may not greatly cut yields, boll infection causes boll rot and fiber staining which in turn causes bales to be graded as "spotted".

Weather conditions on the Plains have favored the disease this fall. Bacterial blight is worse when frequent showers occur.

Coffey says the contrast between Blightmaster and nonresistant blight varieties in some instances is very striking. Blightmaster was still green and growing a month ago while one lower leaves of non-resistant blight varieties appeared to have been defoliated. Bacterial blight also causes leaf shedding which may cut yields.

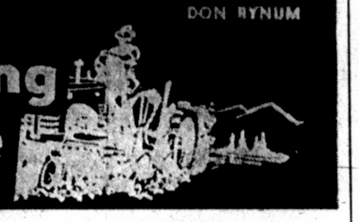

Foundation seed were released this year to 14 seed growers and they will have the only seed available for 1957 plantings, says Coffey. Seed supplies in 1958 should be sufficient to plant a sizable portion of the Plains cotton acreage.

Blightmaster also is a high-yielder, its staple length is slightly longer than most presently grown stormproof varieties, lint percentage is equal to the better stormproof varieties, it is medium in maturity and is suited to machine harvesting.

Blightmaster is recommended in the areas of Texas where a stormproof variety is desired.

the farming angle

By DON RYNUM

Cotton acreage allotments, soil bank payments, drouth relief, price supports and the farmer's cost-price squeeze likely are to get top billing when the Texas Farm Bureau holds its 23rd annual convention Nov. 11-14 in Houston.

Terry County Farm Bureau will try to have at least 11 votes at the Houston session. Strength of the county voting delegations is determined by the number of members in the county bureaus.

TCFB's votes, like those from all other county farm bureaus, will be used at the Houston meeting to approve or disapprove various resolutions which will be submitted in December to the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Logical outcome of many of the resolutions is their enactment into national law by the U. S. Congress. Many of the resolutions which find their way into the law books by reason of AFBF efforts evolve from local county meetings such as the annual barbecue-convention which TCFB will hold Nov. 2.

Sorghum almum, the new grass which has caused some stir here, has cropped up in the news again, this time from Wellington.

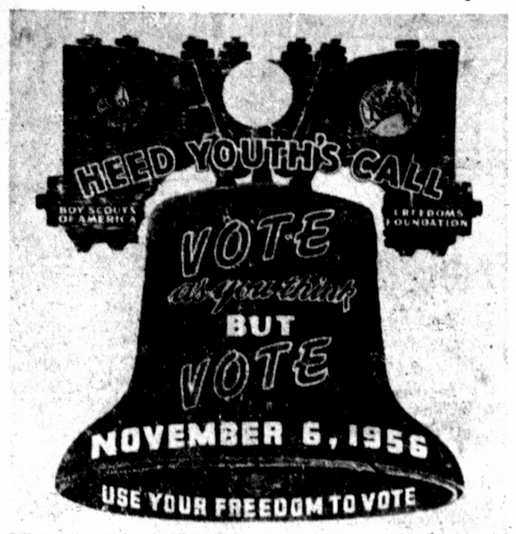

John Coleman of Wellington, calling the grass a "lifesaver in time of drouth," is said to have introduced sorghum almum into this country, getting his original seed from New Zealand.

Of the few acres planted last spring in Texas, five of them are on the Joe Dale Doak farm east of Meadow. Doak got five pounds of the seed last spring from his brother-in-law, who also lives in Wellington. The Meadow farmer planted, and his yield was some 4,000 pounds of seed. The seed is for sale, says Doak.

Wheat Acreage Is Placed in Reserve

Texas wheat farmers signed 12,116 agreements and placed 919,985 acres under the winter wheat Acreage Reserve program of the Soil Bank through October 5. The figures were released by the state office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation to A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Wooten said if the farmers who have signed agreements comply with the requirements of the program, they will be eligible for a maximum of $14,067,075 in Acreage Reserve payments on the acreage pledged.

Aimed primarily at reducing price-depressing surpluses of wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts, the Acreage Reserve program of the Soil Bank is available only to producers having acreage allotments of these crops or a Soil Bank corn base acreage, said Wooten. Program details for 1957 have been made available so far only for winter wheat seeded this fall for harvest next year.

The 1957 Acreage Reserve program goal for the nation for both winter and spring varieties of wheat is 15,000,000 acres. Nationally, through September 28, wheat farmers had signed 106,485 agreements placing 4,335,555 acres under the 1957 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program. The final date for signing agreements was October 5.

Water Conservation Is Responsibility of All

During periods when drouth stalks the land, water problems are highlighted. But actually, says Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist, every man, woman and child in the state has a continuous responsibility in water conservation — even in wet seasons.

What is water conservation, asks Barton? Does it mean that we will hold and hoard water regardless of the cost or consequences?

He defined water conservation as sensible use of necessary water and the prevention of waste. Water flowing unused into the ocean is, in a sense, wasted. Water impounded without reason or used is wasted. Excess water flowing through the faucets at home is wasted.

Farmers who hold rainfall on their land are getting maximum use but those who let rainfall flow freely into the streams and rivers carrying with it valuable top soil which will silt up reservoirs and cause downstream flooding are letting water waste.

So is the irrigation farmer who fails to keep ditches in good repair so that water obtained at the source is delivered to the field. Irrigation water lost to seepage, evaporation or that which ends up in road ditches is wasted.

City dwellers, when watering lawns, flowers or shrubbery, who allow water to run down the street instead of using only what is needed are water wasters. Also water heaters which are located too far from the spot where the hot water will be used cause a great deal of water to be wasted. Leaving the faucet open when shaving or washing dishes also is wasteful.

Industrial and municipality users are urged to constantly study water uses and to control and save this precious resource whenever possible.

Barton says it is time to take stock of ourselves and our water. Understanding, sound thinking and planning, unselfish use and cooperation, he believes, can go a long ways toward solving water use problems in Texas.

Motors Can Replace Expensive Labor On Farms, Says Expert

Substituting a motor for manpower releases that help for other jobs, cuts operating expenses, gets the work done faster and generally better says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer.

With labor scarce in many areas and expensive in all, any labor saving practice that can be used on today's farm or ranch is worth considering, says the specialist.

For example, he points out that a quarter-horsepower motor can handle any operation designed for hand power with energy to spare. A normal man at hard work exerts about one-tenth of a horsepower but a motor can run the small cement mixer, grindstone, post drill, pump and deliver the water, run a small shop saw or grind 40 pounds of feed an hour.

Operating costs, according to Allen, amount to only a penny or two an hour—a considerable saving when compared with what it would cost to perform the same jobs by manpower.

Latest figures show that about 99 per cent of all Texas farms are now electrified, reports Allen and he believes that many agricultural production costs can be further reduced through the utilization of more motor power.

He suggests to farmers and ranchmen that study be given to various jobs involved in all operations with the thought in mind of letting motors help make the operations more efficient and less expensive.

SEED PRICE ADVANCES

The third price advance for cotton seed was posted last week by area gins—$60 a ton.

The price a year ago was $45 a ton.

- This Experiment Was On 4 Different Plots
- All The Land Was Irrigated
- The Burrs Were Dry Burrs Applied Before Listing
- These Results Were Over The Three Year Average

491 Lbs. of Lint Was Produced On The Same Kind of Land Without Burrs
593 Lbs. of Lint Was Produced On 2 Tons of Burrs
643 Lbs. of Lint Was Produced On 4 Tons of Burrs
717 Lbs. of Lint Was Produced On 6 Tons of Burrs

- The Average Cost To Apply Burrs Is $5.00 Per Ton

WHICH NEW DEAL FOR YOU?

Both Parties Loaded With Promises

There is truth — half a truth, at least — in the recent words of Presidential Aspirant Adlai Stevenson at San Francisco. "We must face the fact," he said, "that every four years the Republican candidates talk like Democrats." But he goes on to complain that the Republicans "don't keep them (Democratic ideas) long enough."

Millions who voted Republican four years ago, in the conviction that GOP candidates really believed it was "time for a change", and would —if elected— clean up "the mess in Washington" were a little deaf, perhaps, to the New Deal-Fair Deal something-for-everybody overtones. Since inauguration, however, there have been few spokesmen who did not "talk like" Democrats". New Dealish ideas have not only been retained, but augumented and expanded. The Republican platform talks piously of states' rights, but the program it outlines calls for the further centralization of authority in Washington — the Fereralization of health, education and welfare, of housing and highways.

But, however much like Democrats the Republicans may talk, the Democrats will talk even more so. Their promises are not only more expansive and explicit but include the pledge to reduce taxes while increasing the spending.

In his San Francisco address to the convention of the International Association of Machinists — which went over better than his Los Angeles speech to The American Legion — Mr. Stevenson invited all Labor to "march with the Democrats along the road to the new America."

But, like as not, there will still be some stubborn cusses who, in spite of all the oratory, will still be thinking rather fondly next November of the old America. Just what such characters will do about voting is another problem.

POST OFFICE DEFICIT

Since 1926, it is reliably stated, parcel post has piled up an accumulated deficit — borne by all taxpayers — of more than $1,200,000,000. It's no wonder that the Hoover Commission pointed to parcel post, as now constituted, as a needless drain on the taxpayers — and an example of unfair competition with taxpaying private enterprise.

THE AMERICAN WAY

NIAGARA NONSENSE

By George Peck

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

The six-year old controversy continues as to who is to develop further hydro electric power at Niagara Falls—Federal Government, the State of New York or a combination of five already-established investor-owned electric companies.

George Peck

Temporarily, at least, the Federal Government has bowed out of the picture, leaving the contest to N. Y. State and the investor-owned companies.

Senator Herbert H. Lehman (Dem.-N. Y.) introduced a bill providing for construction and operation of the $405 million Niagara hydro plants to the New York State Power Authority. This bill was passed by the U. S. Senate this year, but has not yet been acted upon by the House.

This bill gives first call on the power to tax-avoiding co-operatives and city-owned power systems which represent less than 5 per cent of the area. As Representative William E. Miller (Rep.-N. Y.) states, these preferences "discriminate most viciously against the great bulk of the people in the project who are served by private enterprise . . . The obvious purpose is to inspire condemnations by municipalities of local investor-owned distribution systems to further the expansion of public ownership."

Representative Miller is attempting to counter the Lehman Bill with one of his own that would let the investor-owned companies develop the Niagara. A bill to permit investor-owned companies to develop the Niagara was passed by the house in 1953, but died in the Senate.

Robert Moses has gone on record with the Public Works Committee of both Houses of Congress, supporting development of Niagara by N. Y. State. Says he:

"The Power Authority will produce and sell Niagara power for about 3 mills while the corporation which would be the beneficiary of the bills sponsored by the utility people, would charge upwards of 4½ mills per kilowatt hour . . . "

Mr. Alexander M. Beebe, Chairman of the Board, Rochester Gas & Electric Co., (one of the five investor-owned companies) has this to say in rebuttal to Mr. Moses:

"Now when you realize that the Niagara Redevelopment involves a production of approximately 8 billion kilowatt hours each year, you will see that Mr. Moses is talking about a saving of some 12 million dollars a year. But what Mr. Moses did NOT say is even more significant. He DID NOT point out that this 4½ mills per kilowatt included taxes (local, State and Federal) and water rentals to the State totaling 23 million dollars annually. He gives great emphasis to the 12 million dollar saving to the consumer, but fails to tell him that someone will have to pay $23 million dollars annually. He gives great emphasis to the 12 million dollar saving to the consumer but fails to tell him that someone will have to pay $23 million more in taxes. Where is there any public interest in benefiting certain groups to the extent of $12 million a year and then penalizing these same people and others to the extent of $23 million a year?"

In this columnist's humble opinion, Mr. Beebe wins on that exchange of statements. He leaves Mr. Moses with no leg to stand on. Development of power at Niagara by N. Y. State would penalize the taxpayers of that State.

The Niagara Redevelopment involves nothing but power development — as has been the case with most of the Public Power programs, the red herrings of flood control, navigation and irrigation cannot be dragged in. It is solely and simply, first and last, an electrical energy project.

Now it may seem to some of the readers of this column that this Niagara proposition is only of concern to the citizens of N. Y. State. Such is far from the case. If N. Y. State is permitted to launch a counterpart of the Socialistic TVA, you can bet your last farthing that it will prove the entering wedge for socialistic development of power in all of the other 47 States. It will constitute an avoidance of taxes in a fully-developed area justifying the Government in business, when Free Enterprise stands ready to develop Niagara in a way that will treat all citizens the same, regulated in the public interest by the Public Services

AUSTIN — Gov. Allan Shivers again is heading the ranks of Texans for Ike. After killing a 1,000-pound bear in Alaska, the governor came home gunning for Adlai Stevenson.

Shivers is to make three out-of-state speeches for Eisenhower this week. He said he is ready to make more "any time, any place."

He criticized scheduled appearances in Texas of out-of-state U. S. senators who voted against the tidelands bill.

In reply Sen. Lyndon Johnson said that the Governor was "being discourteous and insulting" to visitors to Texas. "The tidelands issue," he said, "is as dead as Allan Shivers."

SPECIAL ELECTION DANGLES—Campaigners for Price Daniel's U. S. Senate seat are in for more tortuous waiting.

Governor Shivers has said he will have no announcement on calling an election until after Nov. 6. A special senate election, he added, "has no place being mixed up with a presidential election."

COTTON REFERENDUM SET — Texas cotton farmers will vote Dec. 11 on whether to extend federal marketing quotas to the 1957 crop.

Two-thirds approval of farmers voting nationwide is required to put quotas into effect. Continuation of wheat quotas has already been voted.

USDA also announced that each Texas county's 1957 cotton acreage allotment will be within at least one percent of its 1956 level. This decision apparently was aimed at quelling a prolonged rivalry between East and West Texas counties for increased acreage.

Total Texas cotton acreage for 1957 is to be 7,410,893 acres, slightly higher than 1956.

ELECTION INVALIDATED —Local option elections held in an area less than a justice precinct are illegal, say the courts.

Texas Supreme Court has upheld a Civil Appeals Court decision to this effect. As a result, a section of Austin considered "dry" since 1935, is now legally "wet."

Local option elections, said the appellate court, can be held only county-wide, city-wide or in an entire justice precinct.

STATE GROWTH FORESEEN — Texas' need for state office space will be tripled by 1980.

So say planning consultants for the state building program. They estimate that Austin alone will have some 11,500 state employes 24 years hence. Statewide the total is set at 24,000 to 30,000.

Planners say the 200,933 sq. feet of floor space in the Capitol should be augmented to make a total of 1,720,000 square feet. To accomplish this, four new office buildings would be built. Capitol grounds would be extended north six blocks to 19th Street.

"Broad estimate" of the $87,000,000.

Another recommendation in the recently completed Capitol area master plan is to sell or abandon four older state-owned buildings dotted over Austin.

GAS TEST CASE SET—Whether the state should refund some $4,000,000 in natural gas taxes will be considered by the Third Court of Civil Appeals on Feb. 6.

District court ruled for the gas company in the test case.

Hybrid Sorghum Yields Cause Favorable Reports Over State

Grain sorghum hybrids produced 10 to 25 per cent more grain an acre than pure varieties in 155 field demonstrations in 1956 from the Lower Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle.

The farmer-demonstrators cooperated with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to obtain information on the performance of grain sorghum hybrids under a wide range of growing conditions and how the grain combines.

One of its most enthusiastic endorsers is R. J. Purtell, farming southwest of Brownfield. Purtell says that he sees a whole new phase of South Plains agriculture coming into being with the introduction of the hybrid.

Twenty-five thousand pounds of seed were furnished for the demonstrations by certified seed growers from their crossing blocks of 1955.

Seed of sorghum were developed and released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in 1954 for increased production in 1955.

"Two types of demonstrations were conducted," said Ben Spears, extension agronomist who headed up the tests. "The 'package type' included packets of seed of several different hybrids and pure varieties which county agricultural agents distributed to farmers. Both hybrids and pure varieties were grown under the same conditions and harvested by hand to compare yields"

The second type, field demonstrations, was conduced on larger acreages under farmer's growing conditions and the grain was combined.

In general, Texas 610 appeared to have the widest range of adaptation, Spears pointed out. However, where soil moisture conditions were favorable at harvest several farmers reported Texas 610 was slower in drying than Martin, the most widely planted variety in Texas. In most demonstrations farmers also reported that Texas 610 was as satisfactory as Martin for combining.

In Central Texas, McLennan County Agricultural Agent Edwin N. McKay said: "In our demonstrations hybrids outyielded pure varities. Texas

Companies which paid under protest were repaid shortly after the law was declared unconstitutional.

ALCOHOLICS INCREASE — A sharp rise in alcoholism among Texans during 1956 is indicated.

Twice as many patients have been admitted to alcoholic wards this year as last, reports the State Hospital Board.

Total number of alcoholics in the state is estimated at 155. 100. This is almost twice the 1940 estimate of 83,304, represents about 3 per cent of total population.

FARM INCOME UP — Texas cash farm income for 1956 is running slightly higher than 1955, despite the drought

But, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, the figures reflect desperation, not prosperity.

High income, it is explained, comes from sale of production materials, such as breeding stock. Specialists compare it to the situation of a factory which keeps income up by selling its machinery.

Total through August was $927,000,000, compared to $925,000,000 a year ago.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES CONFER — Texas school board members talked all around their integration problems, finally settled on a resolution urging each district to approach the question with "dignity."

Only one dissenting vote was heard among the some 200 attending the Texas Association of School Boards convention in Austin.

One speaker declared integration should be handled strictly on a local basis. Another deplored that school boards have been made the "goats" in the controversy.

Short Snorts — Number of Texas factories increased 25 per cent from 1947 to 1953, according to the Dept. of Commerce. Value of manufactures rose to $1,780,600,000 or 103 per cent. It put Texas industrial growth well ahead of the nation as a whole . . . Children in 17 Texas counties will seek funds for Christian Rural Overseas Program instead of candy on Hallowe'en night. Last year the state's youngsters brought in $39,000 from their holiday rounds . . . Texas schools received nearly $84,000,000 in federal funds last year, according to the U. S. Office of Education. Texas' share was the second largest in the nation. . . . A $5,000,000 pecan harvest this fall is expected to boost the sagging fortunes of Texas farmers and ranchers. This year's crop is estimated at 25,000,000 pounds, 34 per cent less than last year, but still considered a "good" harvest . . . Texas has had 487 more citizens leaving the armed forces than entering so far in 1956. Entries total 33,014 separations 33,501, says State Selective Service Headquarters. Of those entering, 28,203 enlisted voluntarily, 4,811 were drafted. . . . Payments to Texas farmers under the 1956 soil bank says the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Citizens across the nation, when given an opportunity to express their will by ballot, have indicated in no mistakable manner that Government (Federal, State, or local) shall not have unlimited control over such a vital phase of our economy. They do not want an "All-Powerful State," which Government-in-business involves.

Let's have done with this Niagra Nonsense! Let's pin down our Congressional candidates on this Public versus Private Power issue, and irrespective of the political tags they wear, vote on November 6 for those candidates who pledge themselves to vote against any further invasion of Government into affairs that constitutionally belong to private endeavor.

Doleful Senators Due Shock When Ike Wins, Fears Doc

One of the strongest Eisenhowermen in our town is Doc Brown. Doc says he just can't put up with Stevenson's socialized medicine program; there are a lot of other things he doesn't like about Adlai, but that one is enough for him, he says. Doc is a pretty outspoken cuss, but he's a good doctor. At least, he's the best one in town, being the only one, and our people always call him when they get sick whether they like his politics or not.

The other day several of us were standing around in front of the post office, talking politics—some Eisenhower men and some for Stevenson—when Doc walked up looking glum. One of the Stevenson men said: "Hey, Doc, what's the trouble, did Ike just call you in some bad news?"

Doc Brown said no, he hadn't heard from Ike this week, but he was worried.

"Not about Ike, you understand," he told the Stevenson fellow. "Ike has got it made. Even the Stevenson people are beginning to admit that. Poor old Adlai isn't going to get any farther in this race than he could throw Kefauver's coonskin cap with the tail cut off.

"The ones I am worried about are these out-of-state senators who are coming down here to Texas to tell us how to vote. I sure feel sorry for those boys. It must be tough to face life with their attitude.

"To hear them tell it, this country is in a terrible shape. All the farmers are starving, all the businessmen are going broke, and all the working people are just barely making enough to keep body and soul together. The only reason some little country doesn't step in and whip us tomorrow is that they know they can just wait a few days and the United States will fold up of its own accord. That's what I understand from listening to the visiting senators.

"Of course, they know how to correct the situation overnight. Elect Adlai, and let him abolish the draft and do away with the H-bomb, and let Estes establish the Atlantic Union which he has made speeches about all over the country, and everything will be all right.

"These things are too important, of course, for these senators to waste time telling us Texans why they voted against the Texas tidelands bill.

"As a medical man, I am worried about the great shock these senators are going to get, after the election is over and Ike is re-elected and this country keeps on being peaceful, prosperous and progressive. It's liable to put them all in bed."

And Doc Brown walked on off, shaking his head. Of course, the Stevenson man caught on that Doc was hurrahing him, and he didn't like it much, but he'll still have to call him the next time one of the kids gets the croup, because like I said he's the only doctor in town.

Yours Truly,
Tex

History's Worst Drouth Calls for Some Really 'Tall' Figuring, Says Specialist

Records from the 27 agricultural experiment stations and field laboratories of the Texas A&M College System show that none received normal rainfall for the crop year, Sept. 1, 1955 through August 1956 and several got less than half their normall fall.

Statewide, A. H.Walker, extension range specialist, says this is the worst drouth situation in history because most areas in the state have had several years in succession of below normal rainfall. It has made the job of keeping grass supplies ahead of livestock a tough one.

Walker says drouths are common to the state and ranchmen must include in their management plans provisions to take care of them, but when 6, 7 or 8 years of prolonged drouth must be reckoned with, some really "tall" figuring must be used.

He suggests steps which ranchmen can take during drouth periods. If some forage is left on the range, distribute the livestock so as to obtain uniform use of all forage.

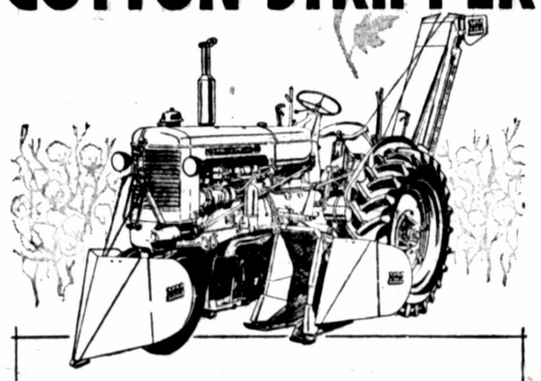

A thorough job of culling and selection should be done in an effort to balance feed and livestock numbers. For the foundation herd, which is about all that remains on many ranches, Walker suggests feeding for the best possible calf or lamb crop.

It takes a good calf or lamb crop to pay off loans so protein and vitamin A should be provided. In some areas phosphorus supplements are needed.

Walker suggests that low value roughages such as cottenseed hulls, oat straw, peanut hulls and others be used to replace a part of the more expensive roughages.

MYSTERY FARM NO. 55 — The MF of last week remains unidentified. So . . . here's No. 55, located in Terry County. Two tickets to anyone of the Jones theaters await the first person correctly telling us the owners of the farm. Telephone number of the News-Herald is 2188.

Blightmaster, a new storm-proof tolerant to angular leaf spot variety of cotton which was developed at the Lubbock Experiment Station, is performing well under field conditions this year, say Lubbock officials.

Three additional experts in textile engineering and plant pathology have accepted invitations to attend the Plains Cotton Growers Short Staple Cotton Research Conference, to be held in Lubbock on Nov. 1-2.

The three acceptances were from Dr. Henry D. Barker of the Plant Industry Station, U. S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md.; Dr. Thomas Kerr, also of the Beltsville station, and R. K. Fiege, head of the Texas Tech Textile Engineering Department and research laboratories.

Pullers were streaming back to Terry cotton fields this week as the weather dried plant and soil after last week's rain. Observers believe that about 50 per cent of the county's cotton has been harvested. If such is correct, the 1956 yields will be about 80,000 to 90,000 bales. Yield last year was some 58,000. Year before, 68,000 bales.

Hybrid—

660 was definitely the best performer".

Soil moisture conditions were poor in most of the McLennan County demonstrations, and for the state as a whole hybrids gave a better comparative performance under inadequate soil moisture conditions than pure varieties.

In an irrigated demonstration in Central Texas, Walter Manske of McGregor harvested 1,480 pounds of Texas 610 an acre compared with 990 of Martin.

Manske commented that Texas 610 was more difficult to combine than Martin because the moisture content was higher at the time of combining. Also, 610 had a chaff disagreeable to the combine operator.

He was the only farmer who reported a disagreeable chaff.

All hybrids were considered early—time from planting date to blooming stage compared with late varieties such as Plainsman and Caprock which require 70 days or more.

Some Produced Less

"It's well to point out that under extreme drouth conditions mid-season maturing type hybrids such as Texas 610 in several fields produced less grain than an early variety such as Combine 7078," said Spears.

Tests also show that Texas 650 and Texas 660 performed better under irrigated conditions than one dryland, as compared with the other hybrids, he added.

A Williamson County farmer, Raymond W. Maizer, harvested 35 per cent more grain an acre from Texas 610 than Martin, 1,678 pounds compared with 1,098.

Higher Yields Made

Higher yields from Texas 620 were made than from pure varieties under the same conditions, and it was as easy to combine as any variety. However, indications were that Texas 620 may lodge or fall worse than other hybrids, especially where soil moisture conditions are favorable for early growth but unfavorable when the grain reaches maturity.

Durwood Miller near Bishop in Nueces County harvested 4,800 pounds of Texas 610, 4,196 pounds of Texas 601 and 3,914 pounds of Texas 650 an acre compared with 4,028 pounds of Martin.

This demonstration compared favorably with other tests made in the Coastal Bend and Lower Rio Grande Valley areas.

In a South Plains demonstration by G. L. Williams of Garza County, Texas 601 produced 3,133 pounds an acre compared with 2,833 pounds for Combine 7078.

Williams said he noted little difference in harvesting either sorghum. The hybrid tested 15 per cent moisture and the Combine 7078 contained 13.45 per cent moisture at harvest. A 12 to 13 per cent, or lower, moisture content is desired in sorghum grain for combining and storing.
