Tahoka Rodeo Set To Open Thursday

A parade next Thursday afternoon will kick-off Tahoka's fifth annual rodeo for three performances, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30 and May 1, each show beginning at 8:00 p. m.

New stock, new specialty acts and new clowns, plus a lot of top cowboys are set for the big show, states Oran Short, president of Tahoka Rodeo Association, sponsor.

Stock of Western Rodeo Production Co. of Hagerman, N. M., will be wild and woolly. Short is formed, since this will be the first rodeo of the year for this stock.

Poses who have already indicated they will be in the parade and the first night grand entry include Terry County, Dawson County, Denver City, Lynn County, and O'Donnell Gauchos.

Merchants, organizations, school classes and bands are also being urged to participate in the parade at 4:30 p. m. Thursday.

Rodeo events this year will include bareback bronc riding, bull riding, wild mare race, calf roping, bulldogging, and also goat sacking for youngsters 12 and under, junior ribbon roping for youths 17 or under, and open barrel racing.

Roy Meadow of Carlsbad, N. M., who has been popular all the way out to the West Coast, will be the clown and he has a top assistant. He has been a crowd pleaser with his "bullfighting" antics, and also has a number of new specialty acts.

Jimmy Mackey Orchestra will play for dances following each performance at Tahoka Community Center.

Queen candidates have advance tickets on sale now which are also good for admission to the big Western Jamboree at Lynn County Fair Barn this Saturday night. Advance tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children, 25 cent reduction for the rodeo gate prices of $1.25 and 75 cents.

Candidates for queen are Pat Sartien, Jo Carol Nichols, Charlotte Mears, Jackie Burnett, Sharon Dempsey, Becky Swinson, Linda Hale, and Charlotte Warren.

Tahoka Jaycees, who will be helping at the rodeo grounds also, are selling "shaving permits" and will award a prize for the best beard following the parade next Thursday. There will also be prizes for top riding groups and floats.

Jamboree Set Here Saturday

Twenty string bands and other music groups are expected for the big Western Music Jamboree this Saturday night, April 24, beginning at 7:00 o'clock in the Lynn County Agricultural Exhibition building, according to E. L. Short.

Actually, there is no admission charge, but attendants will be required to have an advance Tahoka Rodeo ticket, on sale by queen candidates or at the Jamboree door for $1.00 to adults and 50 cents to children.

Free coffee, cold drinks, and possibly doughnuts will be served. Sponsored by Tahoka Rodeo Association, the affair is both for entertainment and to boost the rodeo.

There will be no dancing or drinking or carousing—just clean, wholesome entertainment, the sponsors declare.

Cary Green, three weeks old son of Principal and Mrs. M. L. Green of Wilson, was a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Lou Putman of O'Donnell was released from Tahoka Hospital Monday where she had been a medical patient for about two weeks.

Permits Issued For New Homes

Building permits since the first of January, 1965 total approximately $120,250, according to City Administrator J. M. Uzzle. This includes new homes, additions and commercial construction.

This total is somewhat lower than in the past few years and is probably attributed to "drought" conditions.

Permits have been issued to the following since Jan. 1:

Higginbotham Bartlett Co., new home for O. W. Meeks in North Tahoka.

Horace Rogers, home in Owens Addition.

John Anto, addition to home.

Junior Montemayor, home in Original Tahoka.

Murray Lumber Co., home for Gilbert Gonzales in Original Tahoka.

Knight Brothers, home for Clay Bennett in Lockwood Addition.

Higginbotham Bartlett Co., new building for lumber company on U. S. 380.

Don Smith, assistant coach at Monterey High School, has been named head football coach in Tahoka and will take over those duties on Aug. 1, according to Supt. Harold Reynolds.

He was elected at a meeting of the school board Tuesday night.

Coach Smith played high school football at Phillips, Texas on the state championship team under Coach "Chesty" Walker, now coaching at University of Washington. The new Tahoka mentor, who is 27 years old, received his B. S. degree from Texas A&M, playing football there three years under Coach "Bear" Bryant, now at the University of Alabama, and Coach Jim Myers, now with the Dallas Cowboys. Coach Smith played offensive and defensive end at A&M, where he was on the coaching staff for one year following his graduation.

Smith came to Monterey High School as varsity assistant in February, 1960. He is married and has a daughter, who is eight months old.

Clean-Up Set In Colored Section

Monday, April 26, has been set for a general clean-up of home premises, streets, alleys, and vacant lots in Northeast Tahoka by Colored citizens, who recently organized to promote civic pride in this area.

Mayor Meldon Leslie reports some of the citizens got started on the clean-up project this week, and others are being encouraged to get work underway.

City of Tahoka has offered help in the form of trucks and men to haul the trash, Alderman Jack Jaquess is furnishing a tractor, and the City proposes to put caliche on two streets to help get the area out of the mud.

Tommy Lee Graves is chairman of the general Civic Improvement Steering Committee composed of six members, and 25 others have been appointed to sub-committees to promote the program.

Rare Meteorite Found Near Redwine Is Sold

A rare meteorite found several months ago in Southeast Lynn county on the J. Weldon Martin farm about two miles northeast of Redwine has been sold to American Meteorite Laboratory of Denver, Colorado.

Glenn I. Huss, director of the American Meteorite Laboratory in Denver, told The News the Lynn county meteorite is of a rare type stony substance with droplets of nickel-iron, weighed nine and three-quarters pounds and is nine inches long. He judges that the meteorite fell from the skies about 100 years ago, and there may be other fragments with a radius of six or eight miles of Redwine.

The Laboratory paid Garza $3.00 a pound, plus a bonus, a total of about $85.00 for the find. This meteorite was worth a little more because of its rare nature, Huss told The News. It will be used for research.

Burglars Enter Tahoka Drug

Burglars broke into Tahoka Drug some time Tuesday night, stole $25.00 to $30.00 in cash and a quantity of pheno-barbital, wrecked but failed to break open a safe, and damaged the rear door.

L. C. Haney, owner, and local Sheriff's officers theorized the burglars were seeking principally the pheno-barbital, or "pep pills," and narcotics. However, they fail to get to the narcotics.

Worse damage was done to the steel safe, which they rendered almost beyond repair by beating off the combination, cutting loose the hinges and jimmieing the door. Entrance to the building was gained by battering open the heavily barred rear door.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Charolais Restaurant.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, the bride wore her wedding suit with black patent accessories, a wide brimmed hat of gathered pink chiffon. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Wood is a graduate of Willson High School and Texas Tech with a B.A. degree in English. She was a member of Phi Mu sorority, Tau Beta Sigma and Tech band. She was band sweetheart and in the Homecoming Queen's court.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Allen Will Observe Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Allen, formerly of Grassland and now living at 3317 26th street in Lubbock, will be honored with a reception on their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday, April 25, from 2:00 until 5:00 p. m. at First Church of the Nazarene, 46th and Ave. Q, Lubbock. The public is invited.

Rev. and Mrs. Allen moved to Lynn county in 1921 when they bought a 240 acre farm a mile south of Grassland, where they lived until 1943. Although they have been away much of the time since, they are still closely tied to Grassland community as their son-in-law farms their land.

While at Grassland, Rev. Allen began preaching, and over the years has held eight pastorates in the Church of the Nazarene and has held meetings in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. He has been pastor of churches at Grassland, Post, Tahoka, Merkel, Mount Zion of Fisher county, Lynn Chapel, and Tularosa, N. M., and currently is pastor of the church at O'Donnell.

Mrs. Allen is the former Miss Ola Wiley and was born in Blanco county, but moved at the age of five to Starkweather, a little community near Gouldsburg, Coleman county.

Mr. Allen, known as Cliff as a child, was born at Hillsboro and went with his parents to the Gouldsburg area when he was nine. The couple grew up together and were school-day sweethearts. Two or three years after leaving school, they were married on April 25, 1915. Mr. Allen farmed there before moving to Lynn county.

Their only daughter, LaVerne, met C. O. McCleskey at Mount

BE PROTECTED AGAINST—

HAIL

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO THE FARMER IN 1965!

Mr. Farmer, can you afford a partial or complete hail out? Can you meet your bills or loans or stay in business if this happens? Due to the rising cost of operating and decreasing crop income, it appears that it would be just good business management to protect your crop cost and expected income with a sound, sensible hail policy.

TEN REASONS WHY PANHANDLE MUTUAL HAIL ASSOCIATION IS ONE OF THE LARGEST CROP HAIL WRITERS ON TEXAS CROPS:

1. We offer three different types of cotton policies—Panhandle Special, FB-10, and FB-5.
2. The expiration date on all cotton policies has been extended to December 15th at no additional cost.
3. All policies will be adjusted on the old percentage method and not the Plant Population or space adjustment.
4. All policies are reinsured by the Lloyd's of London.
5. Approximately 5 millions dollars have been paid back to the farmers for losses in the last 6 years.
6. A-plus (excellent) Rating by Dunne's Fire & Casualty report.
7. Our wheat policy contains the "Extra Harvest Expense Award" benefits, also 10% reduction on Tascosa & beardless type wheat.
8. Our cash rate is 5% or more beneath the standard rates.
9. Required legal reserve (Policy Holders Surplus) is on hand and kept in banks throughout West Texas.
10. Your Panhandle Mutual Hail Association wants to serve you with "the thinking man's hail insurance."

Be sure and talk to your PANHANDLE MUTUAL AGENT now to compare and study the coverages and rates, because of the many coverages that are now being offered, you need to know which policy fits your West Texas farming conditions the best.

Boll Weevil Control Sought

Lubbock (Spl.)—Cotton farmers are seeking ways to get the boll weevil, the pest that eats up profits by the millions, to feed himself to death—but not on cotton.

A research grant for the work has been made to Southern Research Institute, Birmingham, Ala., according to Roy Davis of Lubbock and Jack Fung of Harlingen, Texas, trustees for the Cotton Producers Institute.

Scientists are working to isolate and identify a substance in the cotton plant which they know causes the boll weevil to feed. Next step will be to find a way to produce the substance, or feeding stimulant, artificially.

This would open up new approaches for farmers to use in achieving less expensive and more effective control of the pest.

With use of an attractant, also found in the cotton plant, for example, the boll weevil could be lured to a selected, non-cotton field area. There the feeding stimulant would cause the insect to consume insecticides or disease-producing organisms.

Another possibility would be use of the feeding stimulant with another recently discovered stimulant—one that would cause the weevil to lay eggs on other plants. Thus the larvae which normally feed only on cotton would starve to death.

Control methods based on attractants, feeding stimulants, and mating habits may eliminate the need for massive and widespread use of insecticides with their potential problems of toxic residues, increasing costs as resistance develops, and toxicity to non-harmful insects.

Long a destructive pest in many sections, the boll weevil in recent years has become an increasing threat to western cotton areas.

The Institute is supporting the project at a level of $31,750 annually. Matching funds are being provided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This and other Institute projects are serviced by the National Cotton Council.

FEDERAL BOONDOGGERY

Just take a gander at the latest in Federal boondoggery. Uncle Sam is offering college students substantial assistance to steer the brilliant minds into the medical schools. And how is Congress going to reward these youngsters who choose the paths that lead to M. D. degrees? Why, naturally, by adopting Medicare legislation that will socialize the profession, undermining any ambitions that might lead to a profitable profession for the scholarship winners.—Andalusia, Ala., Star-News.

Wells Pioneer Writes To Smith

Postmaster W. E. (Happy) Smith recently received a letter from a pioneer Lynn county citizen, Noble Wells, with whom he attended school 60 years ago at the first Wells school in Southwest Lynn county.

S. N. (Noble) Wells, who now lives at 1506 Fifth street, Tillamook, Oregon, had seen the "Zip Code" story about Tahoka which was published around the English speaking world telling about the U. S. Postoffice sample mail address to "Mr. W. B. Jones, 103 Trenton Place, His Town, State 78873" came to Tahoka, much of it by pranks.

Happy Smith recalls that the W. D. Wells family settled in the present Wells community northwest of O'Donnell in 1903, the farm later known as the Glenn Allen place.

Happy attended school first at T-Bar and the next year, either 1904 or 1905, Wells school was started and named for the W. D. Wells family. First teacher was a man named Murray.

Noble Wells was one of the children, and others were Beulah, Maude, and Henry Wells, his sisters and brother. His sister, Beulah, who lives in McAllen, sent him the Zip Code story clipping.

He writes Happy he was in the Postal Service until retiring in

E. R. EDWARDS RETURN FROM VISIT AT HOUSTON

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards returned home Friday from Houston, where they visited their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Deanie) Manning and two sons. The Mannings brought them home and remained for a visit here until Wednesday. Mr. Manning is an attorney.

Roy says they saw two games in the new domed stadium at Houston, both between the Yankees and the Astros, one in 12 innings won by the Astros and one in 14 innings won by the Yankees. He says the stadium is wonderful, almost beyond belief.

Fund Raised For Dave Hubbard

Tahoka thinks a lot of one of its citizens—Dave C. Hubbard, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal distributor here and owner and operator of a shoe repair store.

Local people will prove it, too, on Friday morning when Mr. Hubbard will be handed a check in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock from his friends, neighbors and customers.

Mr. Hubbard fell in his home back of his shoe shop several weeks ago and broke his leg, which had already been crippled many years ago. He has been in Methodist Hospital since that time.

On Wednesday morning a report to the News was that 34 workers had collected $776.51 from 266 people in town and checks were still coming in.

When the accident occurred in early April, no one expected their daily Avalanche-Journal the next morning, but so far as is known, no one has missed a single issue, thanks to Mrs. Hubbard and her daughters.

At first, they were doubtful as to the entire route and issued a plea through The News for those who might have been missed.

This is the kind of service for which Mr. Hubbard is known, however, and Mrs. Hubbard did not intend for it to change. He has always added a little extra—wrapped the paper in wax paper.

Pre-School Day Set Next Week

Next Friday, April 30, is Pre-School Day for all children who will be six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1965 and will attend the first grade next year.

This year's first graders will not attend school on that day.

Pre-Schoolers will register between 8:30 and 9:00 a. m. at South Elementary School, according to Principal J. B. Howell, and must be accompanied by a parent or other responsible adult.

Parents and children attending may eat in the cafeteria for 30 cents each, and children must be picked up at 11:40 a. m.

No bus room will be provided for the children and must not be left at the school after that time. Principal Howell points out that children should not ride the bus to school that morning expecting to stay all day and return home on the school bus.

during wet weather, and being a "pretty good shot", nearly always managed to throw the paper on the porch or other protected place in windy weather.

Their friends say the Hubbards are the "salt of the earth."

In the face of so many stumbling blocks, most people would be tempted to "give up," by not Mr. Hubbard. A few years ago he was ill for many months following the removal of a portion of his stomach. Last year, Mrs. Hubbard was hospitalized for several months and two operations.

As has been remarked around Tahoka so many times, "Mr. Hubbard may have difficulty walking, but there's no one who stands on his own two feet so well."

Workers who organized the drive and preferred to remain anonymous say the contributions were given simply because "every one appreciates Dave."

Jaycees Hear Talk By Mayor

Tahoka Jaycees had a very interesting program Tuesday night, attended by about 20 members, Binie White reports.

Mayor Meldon Leslie made an informative talk on a number of the City's problems and accomplishments.

Miss Jackie Burnett, the club's rodeo queen candidate, reported on plans for the Jamboree this Saturday night.

In a business session, the Jaycees made plans for three work nights prior to the upcoming rodeo next week on which they are helping. This Thursday night, Jaycees will complete their concessions trailer, and Monday and Tuesday nights will work at the rodeo grounds.

Two new Jaycee members are Rudy Johnson of Southwestern Public Service and Roger Purtain of the Lyntegar IBM billing department.

Meteorite . . .

nation in meteorite finds, there having been 110 finds in this state. Largest meteorite shower known was at Plainview, where 1500 pounds of meteorite specimens were collected.

H. H. Nininger of Denver, the world's outstanding authority on meteorites and father-in-law of Huss, established The American Meteorite Laboratory. He has visited Tahoka and The News several times in the past, thinking that there should be some meteorite finds in this immediate area.

By coincidence finds were made at Loop and Wellman of different types at about the same time.

Meteorites are usually much heavier than ordinary rocks, often are marked by shallow pits but are not porous, are not round or hollow, are either black or have turned brown from rust, contain nickel-iron or flecks of such metals.

A meteorite is described as "a natural particle of solid matter too small to be regarded as a minor planet, traveling in space, passing through the atmosphere, or having landed on the earth and still retaining its identity."

Many meteorites burn themselves out through friction with the air as they approach the earth in being caught in the earth's or hit from outer space.

Mr. Huss advised farmers particularly to watch for meteorites in their fields and to contact the Laboratory or The News if they have found a rock they think may be a meteorite.

Lubbock Police Captain Talks On Juvenile Crime

The growing juvenile problem and reasons why young people get into trouble was the theme of a talk by Capt. Bill Cox, juvenile officer with the Lubbock Police Department, at the Rotary Club last Thursday.

Boys 10 to 17 years of age and girls 10 to 18 are classed legally as juveniles in Texas, and this is the group with which he deals as an officer.

Of the 845 boys and girls in trouble in Lubbock this past year, 78 percent were boys and 22 percent girls, 40 percent were Anglos, 60 percent Latin and Negro. Although the crime rate among young people is growing at an alarming rate, during the first three months of this year only 273 young people out of about 33,000 juveniles in Lubbock had their names on the police blotter.

Juvenile crime in Lubbock includes principally vandalism, theft, burglary, truancy, affray, and sex offenses.

Capt. Cox then listed seven major causes, as indicated from his years of experience in dealing with juveniles, of crime growth among young people: practically all because of a lack of proper home environment, influence of supervision.

1. Parents. Children the first four to six years of life learn by seeing and hearing, and he thinks too many parents do not set the proper example. With parents so busy outside the home, they fail to give children the proper love and attention they need.

2. Automobile. Too many parents give the boy a car with the admonition that he must take care of it. Grades begin to suffer, and then that boy rides right out of school. Seventy-eight percent of school drop-outs own a car. Well-meaning parents think it won't happen to their boy, but it is happening every day. Soon, the boy needs gas or hub caps and there arises the temptation to steal. Soon, too many are on the road to crime.

3. Television. Mom and Dad, as well as the kids, get so interested in television, there is no time for family visiting, discussion of problems. All young have problems they need to discuss with parents, but the parents are too busy being entertained nights. Most television programs have improper themes for highest moral or character building. Some programs are not fit to watch.

He cited one continuing popular program which has played up adultery, birth out of wedlock, infidelity, and excessive drinking and portrayed the cast as average family members.

4. Association. Too many children, unknown to their parents who are too busy to find out, make the wrong associations. He declared parents should take the Police advice and ask the youths: Who, what, where, when, how?

5. Self-Discipline. Because of insufficient or improper home training largely, many young people get in trouble for the simple reason they don't want to be called "chicken".

6. Being afraid to make mistakes. Capt. Cox thinks proper parental attention includes teaching kids to make their own decisions. (Continued back page, Sec 2)

Post Will Host Masonic Meeting

A Workshop has been scheduled for officers and members of Masonic Lodges in this area at 7:45 p. m., April 29. The meeting will be held at the Lodge Hall in Post. Officers of Ralls, Crosbyton, Lorenzo, Southland, and Post Lodges are especially invited.

The Workshop is part of a statewide, semi-annual program authorized by the Grand Master of Masons in Texas, J. Carroll Hinsley of Austin. The program is conducted for nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic Lodges with a membership of 250,000 men. The Masonic Order is the state's largest fraternal organization.

The purpose of the Workshop is to enable Masons to study common problems of Masonic Lodges and their operations. The Workshop will be conducted by R. A. Paschall, Jr. of Lorenzo, Chairman of a Masonic Workshop area which includes eight counties.

Grand Master Hinsley stressed the importance of attendance by all Lodge officers and emphasized that other Masons are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie King and children of Archer City spent Easter Sunday in Tahoka visiting his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert King.

Be Eligible For Insurance 70 Lynn Veterans May

(Special to The News) New York—Some 70 ex-service men living in Lynn County have become the object of a search that is being conducted by the Veterans Administration.

They are the veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict who have service-connected disabilities that have been adjudged too slight to merit monthly compensation payments.

Because they are not on the books to receive such payments, the VA has not maintained contact with them and, as a result, doesn't have their current addresses.

However, it wants to reach them now because they stand to benefit from legislation, recently passed by Congress, that will make them eligible for low-cost life insurance, beginning May 1st.

National Service Life Insurance policies, in amounts up to $10,000, are to be made available to them.

The 70 ex-GIs in Lynn County with these low-rated disabilities comprise approximately 1 out of 11 of the 732 veterans of the two wars living in the local area.

Throughout the country, there are more than 1,500,000 veterans, similarly classified, who will benefit under the new legislation. The job is to find them, says the VA. It is enlisting the aid of service organizations and others in the search.

As to the cost of this insurance, it depends on the age of the applicant and on the type of policy he selects. He has a choice of four types.

If he is 30 years old, for example, the monthly premiums per $1,000 worth of coverage are 69 cents for Modified Life, 95 cents for Ordinary Life, $1.45 for 20-payment Life and $2.99 for 20-Year Endowment.

If he is 45 years of age, he will be charged $1.32 for Modified Life, $1.89 for Ordinary Life, $2.44 for 20-payment Life and $3.36 for 20-Year Endowment.

The rates are typical for those who meet the VA's "good health" standards. They will be somewhat higher for others.

For Lynn County veterans who are under age 50, no medical examination will be required unless their health is such that they would not be able to obtain life insurance on the open market.

Coach Hough Tells Of Richardson Job

Coach Gilbert Hough and family went down to Richardson, where he has been employed as Junior High coach for next year, and made arrangements for a home in which to live.

He said he was highly pleased with prospects for his new job there, and found that there are 1,200 students in junior high school of the Class AAAA system.

He also visited Don Gresham, former local teacher, who now has an excellent position with E&E cabinets.

Rev. John Pistone, pastor of the local Mexican Mission, returned home Sunday night from Kress, where he did the preaching in a revival.

Six Car Wrecks During March

There were six rural accidents in Lynn County during the month of March, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $2,945.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the first three months of 1965 shows a total of 21 accidents resulting in three persons killed, seven persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $9,018.00.

The final entry in the 1964 Texas Traffic book has been entered and closed with an astounding record. Yes, an all time record of 3006 persons were killed, 182,081 persons were injured, and there was $486,846,000.00 property loss. This compares to the 1963 record high of 2,729 persons killed, 161,543 persons injured, and an estimated property loss of $432,715,000.00.

Since the death count of 2,254 in 1960, Texas has gained each year steadily. The Sergeant stated, "If the death count increases during the last six years of this decade as it has during the first four years the death count will stand at 4134 in 1970." What is the remedy? Only you, Mr. Motorist, hold the answer.

Join the thousands of new Chrysler owners who have already made this discovery: 7 Chrysler models (out of a total 17) are actually priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. And, remember this: Chrysler still carries the longest, strongest warranty in its class—5 years or 50,000 miles of engine and drive train protection. Move up to Chrysler. It's smart. And easy.

CHRYSLER'S 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY WITH THIS COVERAGE: Chrysler Corporation warrants, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship, and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1965 automobiles, provided the owner has the engine oil changed every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the carburetor air filter cleaned every 6 months and replaced every 2 years, and every 6 months furnishes to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and requests the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.

Another new question now arises on reapportionment as a result of the Supreme Court one-man one-vote decision. What about Commissioners' precincts? Must they be reapportioned according to population?

Another problem is about to enter the local scene. If a school accepts Federal funds of any kind, and practically all do, the faculty will have to be integrated as well as the student body. With passage of recent Congressional bills and Supreme Court rulings and policies set up by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the day of locally controlled public school is nearing the end of the trail. Government control at the grassroots is standing on its last leg. Operation of a school for Colored is near an end. There will be Negro teachers in the Tahoka white schools within a short time.

Another thing you can look for in the near future: Local Federal agencies must employ some Negroes regardless of qualifications.

Tahoka's Colored people are due commendation. While much of the nation is torn by racial strife and certain groups are demanding top position and "gimme" programs, Tahoka's Colored citizens are launching a Civic Improvement program of their own—to clean up their part of town, create more pride and ambition among their own citizens, and to develop a better image with their white friends. This is as it should be. Wouldn't it be fine to have Tahoka known as the town where the Colored section was one of neat, clean homes and premises, decorated with paint and flowers and grass and trees? Wouldn't it be fine for all Tahoka to be so known?

Our Colored people deserve a pat on the back for this move, and it will succeed if the leaders are truly interested enough to work at the job. Our Mayor and City Council also deserve a pat on the back for helping the Negro people get the move off the ground.

Morton Tribune was one of the newspapers which reprinted from this paper the "other side of the Selma story." Last week, one Terry Ford answered the "other side" in a long dissertation. We did not say that the Negro had never been oppressed in Selma, or discriminated against. We did not say he had always been dealt with fairly in Selma, or has always had a vote. He has not always had a vote in Tahoka or Morton, either. What we did point out was that there are two sides to the story, not all Alabama is to blame for oppressing the Negro, news services have presented only one side, most qualified Negroes are now able to register if they desire, outsiders are causing most of the trouble, and the Government is approving and even encouraging mob rule to enforce Civil Rights. Virtually every statement in the article is verified by newspapers we have right here in The News office, even by a UPI reporter who was in Selma but whose true story was evidently vetoed by higher ups in the press association, by letters and by some photographs we have seen.

Take the politics and hypocrisy out of the race problem, and we venture everything would work out to the good.

We don't believe the government can force respect and love or even better race relations, by law and troops and bayonets.

Most people, white or black, have to put forth individual effort to earn their position in life.

Lewis L. Williams, Dallas attorney and husband of the former O'Gene Gill of Tahoka, passes some very much appreciated compliments on this column but poses a good question we'll try to answer soon.

When the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, a reporter asked them to what did they attribute their 50 years of successful married life. Mr. Ford replied, "The formula is the same formula I have always used in making cars—just stick to one model."

George Dolan tells this story in the Star-Telegram: George Kellum is the paper's outdoor editor. He gets paid to hunt and fish. Kellum felt poorly the other day, though, and went to a doctor for a checkup. The doctor examined and concluded that Kellum was suffering from nervous tension and fatigue. "What you should do," the doctor told him, "is take a few days off and go fishing."

A STEP IN THE DRY DIRECTION

Ministers' Tournament on Monday, May 3, open to all preachers of the area. Which reminds us of Rev. Levi Price, the one-armed preacher-golfer who used to be here. One day out on the old cow pasture course, Levi took a hefty swing at a ball, which sliced away out into the rough. He held his temper but was heard to remark, "I don't believe the Good Lord would hold it against a preacher—for using just one little by-word when something like that happens to him."

We recently received a packet of publicity and bluebonnet seed from Marlin Chamber of Commerce and Hubert Davis, former Tahoka boy, son-in-law of Mrs. Nettie Davis, Marlin C. of C. Board member, manager of Lone Star Gas Co., etc., etc. He and a group of other citizens of that Central Texas town had prevailed upon Governor John Connally to designate the month of April as Bluebonnet Month in Texas. The beautiful Texas State Flower now has that section clothed in beauty, and Marlin is this week end holding a Bluebonnet Photo Fiesta with cash prizes for outstanding pictures of the flower fields.

The following interesting information is taken from the Governor's official memorandum:

"The Bluebonnet was officially declared the Texas State flower on March 7, 1901, by the 27th Legislature. These clusters of blue, bonnet-shaped flowers, each spotted with white or red on the upper petal, blanket the Texas countryside each spring. Texans throughout the world have planted Bluebonnets as an appropriate reminder of their native state. "Also called Buffalo Clover, Wolf Flower, and 'El Conejo,' the flower is said to have received its popular name from its resemblance to a woman's sunbonnet, though there are various folk stories and legends as to the plant's origin.

"These famous flowers annually wrap our hillsides and fields in blue seas of beauty, and have long been a popular subject of artists and photographers.

"The Bluebonnet blooms annually in the latter part of March and all during April, creating a picturesque scene typifying the natural beauties of Texas."

MAN'S MEASUREMENT

A man's no bigger than the way he treats his fellow man.

This standard has his measure been since time itself began.

He's measured not by tithes or creed, nor by the gold that's put aside. Nor by his sanctity.

He's measured not by social rank when character's the test, nor his earthly pomp or show displayed wealth possessed.

He's measured by his justice right, his fairness at play, his squareness in all dealings made, his honest quiet way.

These are his measurements ever near to serve him when they can.

For man's no bigger than the way he serves his fellow man. —Clipped.

Two little boys kept after school for being naughty were ordered to write their first names five hundred times. "It isn't fair," one of them protested. "His name is Lee and mine is Schnickelfritzer."

John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" is said to be read more widely than any book in the English language except the Bible.

Seniority outranks ability as the basis for selecting chairmen for most of the important committees in the U. S. Congress.

FOLLY OF SOCIALISM

Over in Sweden, long said to be the showcase for socialism or welfare, the national sales tax now will be 9 per cent. Cigarettes, for instance, will cost 77 cents per package. The rich have been equalized. The average man, and the poor man, pay the taxes, and pay until it hurts. The United States is well down such a road. Our government and our leaders should have the courage to ask people to pay their way. Our citizens should demand such a course. Yet, here we are, with our politicians unwilling to ask such an equitable proposal, and the people apparently happy and contented to follow the present course. We have lost much of our moral fiber.—Le Roy, III., Journal.

PAYING NATIONAL DEBT

Congress could do one thing to help reduce the staggering national debt which President Johnson plans to increase next year. Legislation could be adopted to provide that whenever the federal government disposes of property the proceeds are applied against the national debt. The present practice is to put the money into the general fund for spending. It then is ready to be squandered on some new spending scheme. And in the meantime, the debt continues to grow. Something must be done about the debt eventually, and this would be a good place to start.—Ocala, Fla., Star-Banner.

Susan Thomas and Fred Hegl, students in Southern Methodist University, spent the Easter holidays at home.

PTA Forms True Cross Section Of Citizens

(Clipped from Levelland Daily Sun-News)

PTA stands for a true cross section of democratic America—the America that cares for every child, whoever he is, whatever he is, wherever he is.

PTA stands for responsible citizens who choose to invest in the future. Children are the future.

PTA is as familiar as baseball in July, pumpkin pie at Thanksgiving.

PTA stands for common aims shared by all men and women, homemakers, businessmen, teachers, farmers, office workers, factory workers.

The magnet that draws all these people together in the PTA is a deep and abiding interest in children and youth. Their common purpose is to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.

The organization was founded in 1897 in Washington, D. C. as the National Congress of Mothers, with a membership of a few hundred persons. But as men and teachers joined in increasing numbers, the name was changed in 1925 to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Today the membership stands at more than 11 million. More than three and one-third million of the members are men and 760,000 members are teachers and school administrators.

The members belong to 43,000 local PTA groups found in every state, the District of Columbia, and the European Congress composed of American parents and teachers on military bases in Europe, the United Kingdom, North Africa and the Middle East.

PTA organizations have also been set up by American parents on military bases in the Azores, Cuba, Labrador, Newfoundland, Okinawa, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Saipan, Scotland, Taiwan, Mexico, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, Venezuela, Virgin Islands and the island of Guam.

Parents, where ever their children go to school, know that the PTA will help to produce the kind of home-school cooperation that is essential for a child's well-being and security.

These PTA organizations are the local units of the National Congress. The membership of all units in a state combines to make up the membership of a state branch of the National Congress known as the State Congress of Parents and Teachers.

A person who joins a local unit becomes automatically a member of his state congress and of the National Congress. All-inclusive dues, which cover a five-cent payment to the National Congress, a specified amount to the state congress and the dues deemed necessary by the local unit, are paid only once a year to the local unit.

Membership in PTA is open to anyone, even if he has no children in school. He is welcome if he is interested in children and youth and is willing to uphold the policies of the organization and subscribe to its by-laws.

Pfc. Inman On Duty In Selma

Pfc. Wyndell Inman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Inman, recently served on Military Police duty in Alabama to protect Rev. Martin Luther King and his followers in the Federal government approved march from Selma to Montgomery.

While here on a recent trip he just barely missed his brother, Joe Phil, who had been home from Barstow, Calif., where he is attending Barstow Junior College and also holds a civil service job.

Wyndell confirmed some of recent article in The News telling "the other side" of Selma, Alabama, troubles.

He told his parents he was completely disgusted by the spectacle he saw. Most of the marchers, he said, were beatniks, intruders, and radicals of various nature, both white and colored, and presented a sorry impression. Although soldiers were there to protect them from aroused citizens and possible anti-integration radicals, the marchers cursed and spit on the Army men. But, most disgusting of all were wild parties they threw right along the line of march in broad daylight.

He said "Cap" Rowe, was correct in the fact that most people of that area, black and white, seemed to be decent people, were going about their business in normal fashion, and deliberately stayed away from the trouble spots.

cisions. Then, they are less likely to fall to temptations.

7. Broken homes. Broken homes don't always mean separated parents. Dissention among parents, or parents away at work leave children nowhere to turn for counsel and advice.

Capt. Cox, following his talk, displayed a large number of lethal weapons, many home made, taken from wayward children in Lubbock. He also displayed lewd magazines he said may be received by youths through the mails.

Wayne Waters arranged the program. He said Cox was reared at Ralls, joined the police department at Plainview, later moved to Lubbock, and has been in juvenile work since 1957.

Student guests, Terry Harvick and Jim Wells, were introduced by Harold Roberts and Steve Thompson, respectively.

President Wilson Payne announced this was a 100 percent attendance club meeting, the first the 47-member club has had in several months.

Among those fishing at Lake Whitney over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Clay Bennett, Mrs. Grady Lankford and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Dub Kenley and Paul Douglas and Ronnie Efrid.

Vegetated waterways are tailored to direct water into a low lying area without causing erosion. Water management is a most important part of farming in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District. The topography of each farm and its surrounding locality vary the requirements of managing its water. Many farms have outside water problems where terraces alone will not handle the large volume of water. Such situations require a carefully planned system to divert the water where it will not be destructive to crops or land. Water in large volumes will eventually make its way to low lying areas or the lakes that are present here in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District. Since containing such large amounts of water is not practical, water must be directed into the lakes as harmlessly as possible.

Diversion terraces to divert the excess water off the land and vegetated waterways directing water into lakes are very satisfactory in handling excess water.

Most systems are designed to spread the water out over the land until excessive amounts of water build up. At this point the system must be designed to help in controlling the otherwise damage dealing waters. The natural land cover, grass, is a most important part of the waterway, counteracting the force of the water.

The waterway itself should be designated by size and shape according to the drainage area and the rate of slope involved. In order to let the grass become well established in the waterway, it is recommended to block off the opening of the waterway until the grass has formed a dense turf.

This dense turf is the key to the success of the waterway. If irrigation is available, watering the grass to a good stand is very desirable. After the grass is well established the block at the opening of the waterway can be removed allowing water to flow into the waterway.

As previously mentioned, the size of a waterway may vary according to drainage area. In the case of large waterways some farmers are using the grassed waterways for hayland and pasture.

The construction of a waterway, when needed, can help to stop the eroding away of good cropland.

GET IT NOW!

"Better get it while the getting's good" is a philosophy growing in favor as the different federal assistance programs come forward. More and more people who used to stand flatly against the principle of paternal government now are saying that it's foolish not to apply for and get what's offered, because if they don't someone else will.—River-ton, Wyo., Ranger.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.
