Will Rogers Writes He Would

Like To Have a "Calf-Stealing Interest" in Famous JA Ranch

In a letter written to the Editor of The Clarendon News on February 28th, Will Rogers, noted humorist and film star, kept up his running-fire of wit along with the friendly content of its paragraphs.

Among other things Will wrote, "I didn't want you newspaper guys to get the idea I was dodging you out around the ranch, but to be honest with you, I did come there to see cows and cowboys, and I could do without editors for a day or so, but you were all darn considerate."

Speaking of the JA Ranch, he wrote: "I was in hopes that Ewing (Halsell) would buy it and I would get him to let me gnaw off a little part, and I would have a sort of a calf-stealing interest in it."

Again he wrote concerning the JA outfit: "I want to come there sometime at branding time—I can miss a calf more ways than anybody" . . . "I always wanted to be on a big outfit where they still run a wagon, and I will, I expect wind up with a California dairy—and run a wagon to town with the milk."

Will sent his best regards to the JA boys, and to Wesley Knorpp, whom he wanted to see in California, but whom he guessed had come back to Clarendon by now. He thinks a lot of Wesley, and wants him to drop him a line.

The News suspects that it owes Will a couple of hundred dollars for quoting his rich humor in these columns, but it homes he will charge, if for the present, and let the Editor feed him a real old West Texas dinner of red beans when he drops in to see the JA outfit again.

Fort Worth Party Visits Clarendon Monday Afternoon

POSTMASTER IS LIONS PROGRAM

LIONS VOTE TO SUBSTITUTE
BUGBEE FOR DR. TAYLOR.
RADIO SPEAKER.

Members of the Clarendon Lions Club had a jolly time Tuesday in spite of the Mother-in-Law sandstorm that raged over the Panhandle, and their spirits were set off by the humorous address of Lion Chas. H. Bugbee, who, as the sole member of the program committee present, proceeded to apologize for the previous engagements of the other two members, saying that they had only known of their program assignment for the last sixty days.

Continuing Lion Bugbee proceeded to bid various members of the club, recalling that many had spoken on the Lions program from time to time under this or that title, and since it was in order to mention titles Lion Bugbee said he had worn titles of "Judge"—although with no legal standing, having merely judged certain Fourth of July races—"Colonel" which was gratuitous, having never had a regiment; "Postmaster," being now the sole incumbent of that dignified office in Clarendon. Lion Bugbee remarked that he had rather be a "Postmaster" with a little postoffice down the street, than a "Colonel" with no regiment.

So enjoyable was the discourse of the speaker that Lion Link made a motion that the Lions Club suggest to Radio Station WFAA at Dallas that Lion Bugbee be substituted for Dr. Joe J. Taylor, who speaks on a well-known program every Monday evening from that city. Just here Lion Merchant called the club to its feet and the roof resounded with "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon you" as the membership sang tribute to the entertaining address of the day.

District Clerk Walker Lane was the guest of Lion Joe Goldston who introduced him to the club. Lion Mulkey reported on the crippled child's case the club now has under sponsorship and said the child would be taken to Oklahoma City for treatment in the next few days.

Lion Patman commented on the improved appearance of the "Leograpahs," the weekly club bulletin, and asked for greater activity from the various committees of the year.

Mrs. Rundell, serving her first meal to the Lions as manager of the Antro Coffee Shop, was introduced and the appreciation of the club for improvement in the food was voiced. Mrs. Rundell responded and said she hoped not to be judged by the first meal since she had hardly gotten installed in her new quarters, and promised better service hereafter.

SHERIFF ISSUES WARNING AGAINST COUNTERFEITERS

Sheriff Pierce issued a warning this morning to merchants and citizens of Donley county concerning counterfeit half-dollars, quarters, and dimes which have been circulated in Donley during the past two or three weeks.

Has Anybody Seen Teddy?

Teddy is lost and a little orphan boy is grieved.

Teddy is a little white Spitz dog, with his eyes circled in black, who is the pet of a small orphan boy of this city. Apparently, the little dog was picked up in town Saturday by someone who thought Teddy was a homeless creature. But that is not true; Teddy has a home with a little orphan lad who greatly desires to have his pet back.

If anyone should know where the dog may be found please notify the News Office. If found by someone who wishes to return him, the little dog will find his master if turned loose on Kearney Street or at the South Ward School.

Alleged Car Thief Jailed Here Sunday

John Murphy of Quanah was brought to this city Sunday and lodged in the County Jail under charge of stealing a '31 Chevrolet coupe from S. V. McKee of this city on February 8th. His brother, Howard Murphy, also charged with thievery, evaded Quanah officials. The car had been wrecked when the youth was caught, but the engine, five wheels, the radiator, and the steering wheel were alleged to be still in the possession of Murphy and were returned to the owner. The body of the coupe, according to report, has been located in a Quanah Wrecking Yard and will be returned shortly to this city.

It is alleged the car was stolen from the McKee home by the youth and his brother and driven to the farm of George Naron, who lived Southeast of Quanah on the Pease River. After the car had remained at the house for one week, the farmer suspected the youths of hiding stolen goods and notified Deputy Sheriff Mosley of Crowell, giving the license number and engine number of the machine. Deputy Mosley immediately notified Sheriff Pierce, and by additional communication, Sheriff Pierce ascertained from Quanah officials that the youths were residents of that city.

Quanah officials arrested Murphy Sunday in the Brown Wrecking Yard, of which Murphy is a part owner. Murphy was placed in the County Jail here Sunday and his bond set at $1,500.00. However, he was returned Tuesday morning to Quanah where he will appear before the grand jury in session to indict members of an auto ring of which Murphy is alleged one of the leaders. Unless bond is made in Quanah, it is said Murphy will be returned to the local jail.

has been received by merchants, the Donley County State Bank receiving three pieces this morning.

Sheriff Pierce asked merchants and citizens to cooperate with him in exposing the source. Officials asked that anyone meriting suspicion by passing the money or other ways should be reported at once.

LEGION SHOW IS MUSICAL COMEDY

"A BOLD FRONT" INCLUDES
THIRTY IN CAST, SONGS, AND CHORUSES.

Having sponsored two of the most successful shows ever staged in Clarendon, the Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion steps out this year in the second annual show with a "Bold Front," a two-act musical comedy to be presented Thursday and Friday, March 14th and 15th at 7:45 p. m. at the College Auditorium, benefiting Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Dancing, singing, romance, and loads of comedy herald this as the most outstanding presentation of the year.

"A Bold Front," under the direction of Mrs. Ira Merchant, proves that a poor clerk from a five-and-ten-cent store can put on a bold front, break into fashionable society, and have himself mistaken for the son of a multi-millionaire. Joseph Williams Reynolds, played by Ira Merchant, is the young man with large ideas who finds a million dollar baby at an exclusive beach club in California, where he becomes a social lion overnight, more entertaining than those of the five-and-ten.

Sally Pembroke, Marjorie White, is the daughter of Jefferson Pembroke, Chas. Trent, and Mrs. Pembroke, Norma Rhodes. Sally becomes quite infatuated with Joseph but changes from just a round in the social ladder for him when he discovers she, or no other, can be his ladylove.

Jerome Stocking as Hamilton Webster, a leader in the financial world, and his wife, Mrs. Ruth Teat, is a rival magnate of Mr. Pembroke, both of whom angle for the financial support of Joseph in a big deal. Meanwhile the real son of the multimillionaire, John Wesley Roberts, a shy and shrinking youth played by Carroll Hudson arrives at the club house and Joseph finds himself in a more preplexing situation than any of his venturesome career.

Lois Parker, Eunice Johnson, is a young college girl who has a summer job at the club, and a tender affection between Lois and young John Wesley furnishes much comedy.

Priscilla Bodkins, Rhoda Wiedman, as a social gadfly and Sam McGraw, Winfred Gattis, as the negro porter have roles that add much to the cleverness of the play.

This gay story is enlivened by smart lines and snappy, up-to-date songs and dance specialties. Besides those named in the main cast, thirty people are in the play.

The chorus girls, colorful in costumes designed by Mrs. Ira Merchant, are under the direction of Miss Mary Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. George Green had as their week-end guests, their daughter, Miss Lodi and Mr. Green's brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Green, all of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ray returned Monday from their wedding trip to Mineral Wells and Fort Worth.

WORST SANDSTORM MANY PRESENT AT IN YEARS SUNDAY CHURCH SATURDAY

LAYER OF SMALL HAIL-
OF FIVE MINUTE STORM.

BRYAN DICKSON, SUPERVISOR, OR, ADDRESSES RURAL SCHOOL STUDENTS.

A sandstorm mixed up with a hard shower and hail driven by a hard wind swept into the city last Sunday afternoon late, from the Southwest, to inflict slight damage to several buildings. The conglomeration of elements as appeared Sunday was a spectacle never before seen in this part of the State according to several old timers.

The sand had been blowing for several hours, when in the West appeared a black cloud rolling and boiling Northeastward to make the sandstorm more intense. Coming into the city through the Southwestern residential section, the storm struck a barn belonging to M. M. McCracken, completely demolishing it.

When the storm traveled down Kearney Street where visibility was naught it tore into the roofs of the First National Bank and the Farmers State Bank, inflicting damage to the roofs sufficient allowing the hard rain to pour into the Masonic Hall, A. N. Woods' and Judge W. T. Link's offices located in the Farmers State Bank, causing plaster to fall from the ceilings of the offices and one-half of the Masonic hall to be drenched with water.

The front porch of the old Denver Hotel was lifted by the high wind to be tilted over onto the main roof of the building and into the back yard. The Federal Transit Bureau boys housed in the old hotel were somewhat scared by the noise of the crash, but no personal damage was received by the occupants.

The fierce looking cloud caused many to seek shelter in storm cellars or other strongly built buildings. The city became dark as evening dusk, and many turned on the electric lights in homes and business houses.

The hard wind and rain was all over in approximately five minutes, with the rain measuring four tenths of an inch of moisture in the weather man's gauge. The denseness of the sand continued throughout Monday and in the afternoon street lights were turned on.

CHANGE IN LANDLORD, TENANT, MUST SIGN CONTRACT

Cotton contract holders must visit the office of the county agent, H. M. Breedlove, to sign certain papers if there has been any change in the past year in the tenants or landlords who signed the contracts, Mr. Breedlove said Monday.

If such changes are not made, the checks will be made out to the same persons who received them last year.

A full house attended the Sing-Song of the rural school Centennial Pageant, arranged by County Superintendent Sloan Baker and Miss Virginia Wisdom, Saturday morning at ten o'clock at the Methodist Church.

County Superintendent Sloan Baker presided over the program, and the choir, led by the principals of the various schools, was composed of two of the best singers from each community.

Following the "Welcome Song," sung by a chorus of forty under the direction of L. H. Earthman, the principal of each school was introduced and made a short talk in behalf of his exhibit.

First to be introduced was Dennis Smith of Midway, followed by Dave Waldron of Sunny View, Joe Baker of Giles, Clarence Jackson of Windy Valley, Gene Estlack of Fairview, Jimmie Milsap of Goldston, and Robert Weatherly of Jericho. Mrs. C. W. Howard of Bray spoke in place of her husband who did not attend the meeting, and Miss Pauline Shelton, in the absence of Robert Dillard, explained the Ashtola exhibit. Mrs. Jim Baker due to the absence of George Kavanaugh, represented Martin. Mrs. Arnall White, in the absence of her husband, spoke for the McKnight school. Other principals introducing their exhibits were E. V. Cooper of Chamberlain, Frank Behringer of Hudgins, Clyde Slavin of Glenwood, and Miss Marjorie Harlan of Bairfield.

"We're Here for Fun" and "Dear Old Donley School Pals" were heartily joined in by the group, led by Dennis Smith, principal of the Midway school. The color bearers, led by principal Frank Behringer of Hudgins advanced, followed by the invocation by the Reverend E. D. Landreth.

"America" and "Texas, Our Texas" led by principal E. V. Cooper of Chamberlain prefaced the address of the morning, "The Spirit of Texas" which was delivered by supervisor Bryan Dickson of Childress.

Mr. Dickson, supervisor of rural schools for twenty-six Panhandle counties, expressed his appreciation for the schools of this county for being the first to celebrate the Centennial of Texas. The speaker congratulated the students on their earnest efforts, saying that he had never before had the opportunity of attending such a meeting.

In explaining the spirit of Texas, Mr. Dickson said it meant

REFRESHING ACTION OF MODERN YOUTH

Pampa is a modern young city of the Southwest, and its people, old and young, have been morally lax in about the same proportion of other such centers the nation over—not much worse, very little better.

In this interesting Texas city, last week transpired an event participated in by over two hundred young people, which is worthy of notice and is certainly most refreshing in a day when serious thought along lines of moral standards is noticeable by its paucity.

After a program of worship and discussion along the lines of personal responsibility in moral conduct, the group heard the following resolutions and each and every participant solemnly signed the pledge of acceptance of its provisions.

Read the high resolve of these modern, clear-thinking young Americans of Pampa:

"BE IT RESOLVED: We, the young people of Pampa, want a cleaner, better town; we ask the older citizens to provide wholesome entertainment, such as an open gymnasium or recreation center, properly supervised with places for games, meeting other young people, etc., to help us carry out the following resolutions:

"1. We pledge our daily efforts to be Christian citizens in every sense of the word.

"2. We hereby resolve to check up on our own personal habits to avoid harmful and dissipating pastimes; bad associates, drinking, carousing and the like.

"3. We solemnly resolve to boycott questionable places of amusement.

"4. We will not keep over-late hours without our parent's knowledge and consent.

"5. God helping us, we resolve from this hour to be young people who bring joy and comfort to our homes and not disgrace and regret.

"6. In these solemn resolutions we seek partnership with Christ the Savior for without Him we can do nothing."

Such a standard set by young folk in their own conclave, brings a challenge to the older citizens of Pampa. Such a situation faced in Pampa, brings a new idea and a challenge to other communities, all of whom have similar problems.

LET THERE BE NO MOCKERY

Tomorrow—Friday, March 8th—has been designated by Governor Allred on request of the Texas legislature as a day of fasting and prayer, and the Governor asks the people "to keep the spirit of this proclamation that we may know the sovereign will of God for us during the reconstruction days ahead, and prepare ourselves to the last degree possible to hear and obey His voice."

In all the centuries of God's dealing with man there has come times when man bowed down by the judgements of Almighty resulting from man's sin and forgetfulness, humbled himself and repented of his waywardness. In every such extremity God heard, forgave and healed, for He never fails to respond to sincere humility and repentance.

The proclamation, then, is most timely and worthy of full acceptance and obedience by all our people, but it is worse than useless to us unless we approach it in humility, penitence and strong resolve to reform our lives and the evils about us. Less than that, it is mockery.

Tomorrow—Friday—let there be no mockery. No man can "kid" God Almighty.

FERA Students Do Higher Class Work

Canyon. — Government aided students at West Texas State Teachers College are continuing to do a higher class of work than the general college group. This has been shown by a study of the grades made during the first half of the year.

110 F. E. R. A. students have 17.2 percent A's as against the usual 10 percent. They have 45.7 percent B's against the expected 30 percent. Their C's totaled 30.2 percent as against the expected 40 percent and 11.5 percent D's as against an expected 20 percent.

Out of the total of 291 grades recorded for the FERA students during the past nine weeks there were 281 passing grades and 10 conditions and failures.

DONLEY COUNTY RURAL SCHOOLS FEATURE CENTENNIAL EXHIBITS

Epochs of State's Colorful History

Theme for Window Exhibits Shown

Rural schools of Donley were represented one hundred percent at the Centennial Pageant celebrating Texas' ninety-ninth birthday Saturday.

Business houses devoted their display windows to the rural schools for exhibits, and each school portraying a different phase of the colorful history of Texas together with some phase of the modern industry of Texas. Ashtola was awarded first prize among the four teacher group. This exhibit, occupying Kerbow & Son's display windows, portrayed manufacturing in the state and the lives of ex-governors, Richard Coke, Richard Hubbard, and Oran M. Roberts.

Starting with manufacturing in the home, the first method, the school students constructed a small farm house typical of the machineless age, with its stone for grinding corn, its old crock churn, and its card and spinning wheel for producing cloth. The second step toward the modern manufacturing system, that of the small village, was constructed with a saloon, a mill turned by the water wheel, a store house with its feed in home-spun sacks, and other stores such as the general merchandise and blacksmith shop. The last method of manufacturing was portrayed in a four-story modern windowed factory of cement, standing at a height of three feet.

In the background were charts showing the steps used in manufacturing textiles, cotton, by-products of cattle, and sugar in this state. Notebooks and art work of the students were on exhibit, as well as replicas of the Alamo and a San Antonio Mission, both of which were constructed of cement and some two and one-half feet in height.

Goldston school, exhibiting scientific developments in Texas and colonization of the State to the Texas Revolution, received second place in this group. This exhibit in the rear of the Thompson Hardware Company, showed earnest efforts of the part of the students and the faculty. An exhibit of San Antonio in 1836, a covered wagon with dolls dressed as pioneer women, a windmill complete with pump and storage tank, log cabins, horse drawn trains, stage coaches, and airplanes were highlights in this exhibit. Much students work was used as a background.

The winner of the third prize, Martin, occupied the Rathjen Shoe Store window. Texas ranching and the lives of ex-governors John Ireland and Lawrence S. Ross was exhibited by this school. The most outstanding feature of the display was a cowboy busting a broncho, the bronco bucking and rearing through the use of an electrical motor. Range cattle, buffalo, a chuck wagon, and a clay-plastered log cabin depicted ranch life. The flag, made of tiny rings of paper sewed together, made a most unusual background for the dindow exhibit.

The interior of the Rathjen Shoe Store exhibited student work and projects during the year. The winners of the first prize in the three teacher group was the Chamberlain school. This exhibit, occupying the Headrick Hardware Store window, was of the Texas Panhandle and the lives of John S. Sayre, Charles S. Culberson, and Samuel T. Lanham. Miniature cowboy boots carved of wood, a corral, white-face cattle carved from wood, hand-carved chuck wagons, bear-grass, small ponds, and other suggestions of the Panhandle. Centering the exhibit was a map of the Panhandle with the products of each county shown. Oil wells, constructed of wire and wood, bundles of feed, bales of cotton, cattle, and all products of the Panhandle were exhibited on the interesting map.

Bray took the second prize in this group, having their exhibit in the Greene Dry Goods window. The battle of San Jacinto to the peace treaty and literature of Texas was the subject of this prize-winning exhibit. A small battle ground was constructed on a sand table with Buffalo Boyou of glass and the bridges of wood. Tents of brown, soldiers, some in running position, some fallen; and trees of cedar made this exhibit quite realistic in effect. Neatness was the outstanding point in the literature exhibit.

Excerpts from Texas literature and State songs were written in pen and ink by the students and illustrated in pencil sketches. Especially worthy of note were the two drawings of Santa Anna's men cutting away the bridge and the fall of the Alamo. Two braying donkeys in the rear of the exhibit announced the name of the school.

Windy Valley, winners of third place, had a most interesting exhibit in the Clarendon Furniture Store of the French in Texas and railroads of this State. On a sand table in the center of the exhibit was a French fort complete with log cabins, log fence, and cannons. Outside the fort were Indian tipis, canoes, and camp fires, illustrating the friendship of the Indians to the French. A background of excellent student work and a map showing railroad lines in the state completed the exhibit.

In the two-teacher school group, Midway, with the exhibit in the window of the Norwood Pharmacy, received first place. This was perhaps the most unique of all exhibits, having many phases of Texas history portrayed with soap carvings. Centennial and Texas rangers being the subject chosen to exhibit. Wood-carved Texas Rangers, soap carvings of Lincoln, Stephen F. Austin, the old monument of the Alamo, the battle ground of San Jacinto with soap carved soldiers and cannons, the governor's mansion in 1854, the president's home in 1837, the old stage coach placed by the side of the modern stream lined car, a one horse cart, a wagon, soap carved horses, cattle, and modern artillery all had a place in this exhibit.

Second place was awarded the Fairview school with its display in the Donley County Leader office. Pirates, filibusters, and minerals of Texas were interestingly displayed on charts, and compositions and note books told the history of these three subjects. Neatness and originality were the outstanding features of this exhibit.

Sunny View received third place, with a display of Texas Indians and Agriculture in the Watson & Antrobus Hardware Company. The main feature of this exhibit was an Indian village, with the tipis, camp fires, canoes, pottery, and poles of meat hung to dry before the wigwags.

In the one teacher school group, the "Believe It or Not School," Bairfield, received first. This exhibit occupied the West Texas Utilities Office, and received its name from the well-known "Believe it or Not" newspaper feature where the school gained much publicity last year as being the only known public school with only one pupil.

This exhibit was a replica of the school made by the students, clippings from many newspapers about the only one pupil public school, and letters received by little Miss Wiedman, the only pupil, from all over the United States.

Glenwood school, in the heart of Donley's fossil beds, had an exhibit of remains of pre-historic animals which have recently been unearthed by the local relief workers. This interesting exhibit which received second place was displayed in the window of Stocking's Drug Store. Fragmentary remains of limb bones of the mammoth mastodon, Rhino, three-toed pony, and many other specimens which were secured from the plicocene beds of the county fossil field, together with a map showing the beds in this county, made a very interesting display.

Judges of the three and four teacher schools were Mrs. Ed Teer, Mrs. Basil Kirtley, and Miss Jo Ella Stewart, while Mesdames R. S. McKee, C. C. Powell, and W. C. Stewart judged the one and two teacher group. Prizes for first places were silk sets of the six flags which Texas has been under, while second and third places were awarded pictures for the classrooms.

Ashtola won the three prizes awarded for music note books, the winners being Misses Inetha Collier, Vera Baker, and Floy Dewey and Jessie Tomlinson. Mesdames J. L. McMurtry, Ralph Kerbow, and J. W. Howze judged the music books.

Many other schools had exhibits of much interest other than the prize-winning exhibits. In the window of Hanna-Pope & Company, Highways and Spanish in Texas were exhibited in drawings. Crayon drawings depicted the Spanish and pencil sketches of signs used on the State highways for safety made an interesting display.

Smith school, in The Clarendon News Office, offered for inspection a replica of the Alamo surrounded by grass and flanked by crossed flags. Paintings by Harold Bugbee were used as illustrations of Texas art, and excellent student work was exhibited.

Whitefish outlined a Texas plantation at the beginning of the civil war. Cleverly constructed with a plantation house, fields of cotton, darkey huts, pickaninnies playing around the huts and darkeys bending down with cotton sacks, this exhibit caused much disconcert among the judges.

Bryan Clothing Company used the Skillet exhibit in its display window. A building modeled after that of the Skillet school centered the window, and the miniature playground equipment surrounded the building. Student work in art and health posters completed the display.

Hudgins school, in the H. W. Taylor & Sons Hardware, had music and the lives of Ferguson, Colquitt, and Campbell as its subject, using illustrated music notebooks, histories of Texas' leading cities written and illustrated by the students, and caricatures of the three governors together with the life history of each.

In the Clarendon Hatchery, McKnight presented for inspection, biographies of Hobby, Neff, and Miram A. Ferguson. Amusements popular in each county or section of Texas were exhibited with cut-outs on a large map. Especially interesting was the student work in drawing, clay, and crayons from this community.

The Adult School, whose purpose was clearly explained in literature and posters, exhibited much of its work in art, arithmetic, English, and Home Economics in the display window of W. C. Stewart & Co.

Most of Martin community turned out Saturday to enjoy the Pre-Centennial celebration in Clarendon. The sing-song was especially enjoyed and we hope there will be many more such gatherings in the future. Our county superintendent, Mr. Sloan Baker, deserves much credit for the manner in which the celebration was carried on.

Brother Brister will be here to fill his appointment this week-end (2nd Sunday). In case you haven't heard the story about what happened to the man at Turkey who was struck by three drops of rain, you might get him to tell you about it.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kavanaugh attended the singing convention at Windy Valley Sunday afternoon.

The tenderfoot thought he could ride, and mounted a pony in front of a lot of cowboys. The pony soon threw him. A cowboy, helping him up, said: "Well! What threw you?"

"What threw me? Why she bucked something fearful! Didn't you see her buck?" cried the tenderfoot.

"Buck!" said the cowboy.

"Thunder! She only coughed!"

Georgia Lawler (to colored prisoner): "Well Rastus, so you want me to defend you? Have you any money?"

Rastus: "No suh, but I got a 1922 model Ford car."

Lawyer: "Well, you can raise some money on that. What do they accuse you of stealing?"

Rastus: "A 1922 Ford car."

Fannie McGowan spent the week-end in Lelia Lake.

"I don't like to say anything that might embarrass the summer boarders," said an old farmer to his new hired man. "If I frown at you when we are at the table, that means for you to quit eating."

"All right," replied the hired man. "I don't like to say much myself. I frown back at you that means I ain't goin' to stop."

"Get my kit ready quickly," shouted the doctor. "Some fellow has phoned that he can't live without me."

"Oh, that call call is for me," said his daughter as she seized the phone and glued her ear to it.

CHURCHES

At The First Baptist Church

There is always Worship—Fellowship—Service

Sandstorms, sandstorms! And hail and sleet, and wind and cyclones. No rain. Well, what are we going to do about it? What can we do? I quote you two scriptures from God's word without comment. In the book of Nahum first chapter and third verse we have this picturesque language. "The Lord is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked; the Lord hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of His feet." The other scripture is Second Chronicles, seventh chapter and fourteenth verse. "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, AND WILL HEAL THEIR LAND." We can do that, and God will do what he has promised.

That is exactly what Gov. Allred has asked us to do March 8th. Spend the day in fasting and prayer for spiritual recovery. The great apostle Paul in Titus 3:1, urges us to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work. I am expressing the hope that every citizen in Clarendon shall heed the call of our Governor to this day of fasting and prayer for a better day in our land. That is all we can do, but we can do that.

I am happy to announce that Mrs. J. E. Leigh, corresponding secretary of the W. M. U. of Texas will be with us Sunday morning to climax the week of prayer for Home Missions. Don't miss this service. Mrs. Leigh is one of the very best in all the land. She will inform, inspire and enhearten every one who hears her.

Why Southwestern Life Registers Every Policy It Issues

INSURANCE laws of the State of Texas provide how a life insurance company of Texas may register its policies. A registering company must deposit approved securities in an amount adequate for the protection of policyholders.

The Registration Law requires the segregation of policyholders' funds, thus preventing substitution of assets without the knowledge and consent of the State Insurance Department. Experience of the last five years has demonstrated the effect and value of registration laws.

The Registration Law makes mandatory the valuation of the required securities at the current market. A company which elects to operate under a market valuation law evidences the intention to invest policyholders' funds with added caution.

Many good companies do not elect to register their policies, and we urge policyholders of such companies to maintain their insurance in force.

MOTHER OF MRS. HENRY WILLIAMS OF CLARENDON DIED FRIDAY.

Mrs. Theda Ellexson, mother of Mrs. Henry Williams of this city, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Holman in Dalhart Friday morning. The deceased, 82, was laid to rest in the Liberal Cemetery Saturday afternoon beside her husband and daughter.

Miss Theda Elizabeth Curtis was born April 21, 1853, in Madison, Wisconsin. She was of pioneer stock and came with her family to Kansas when 16 years of age. The Curtis family had three horses and two of them were used to pull the wagon while the third was led behind the wagon. When one of the working horses gave out it was placed behind the wagon and the fresh horse was hitched up. By this means they pushed on and made the best time possible.

The family settled at Abilene, where on November 17, 1870 she was united in marriage with Lewis N. Ellexson, who preceded her in death by 12 years. Ten children were born to this union, eight of whom survive; Mrs. Henry Williams of Clarendon, Texas; Mrs. George Holman of Dalhart, Texas; Mrs. John Bledsoe and Mrs. William Wilson of Jasonville, Indiana; Mrs. Theda D. Tepner of Pratt, Kan.; J. A. Ellexson and F. A. Ellexson of Turpin, Oklahoma; and L. B. Ellexson of Hinton, Kansas. Surviving also are 19 grandchildren and five great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Slagel of Tacoma, Washington; Mrs. Jennie Gordon of San Francisco, Cal., and one brother, Jim Curtis of Barron, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Ellexson with her husband joined the Christian Church in El Dorado, Kansas, in 1881. Ice was chopped from the river in order that they be baptized. The trip to and from the ceremonies was made in a wagon. Mr. and Mrs. Ellexson have traveled over a dozen or more of the Southwestern states in a covered wagon. They were intimately familiar with the Santa Fe trail and other now historic things of that early day. They were traveling in a covered wagon throughout this section in the days of the Redman's highest highest settlements upon the white settlers. Such characters as Buffalo Bill and others were known by this couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellexson moved from Texas to Beaver county, Okla., some 36 years ago, where they made their home. After the death of Mr. Ellexson 12 years ago, Mrs. Ellexson remained at home there until four years ago. During this four years she had made her home with her daughters, Mrs. Henry Williams of Clarendon and Mrs. George Holman of Dalhart.

Mr. Ellexson fought through the Civil War and Mrs. Ellexson was a member of the G. A. R.

Her numerous friends, scattered through the country, showed their appreciation of her friendship by the numerous beautiful floral offerings in view at the last rites held in Dalhart and Liberal.

All of her surviving children and many of the grand children were present at the funeral.

Misses Dorothy White and Laree Hamm spent the week-end as guests at the Blocker Ranch.

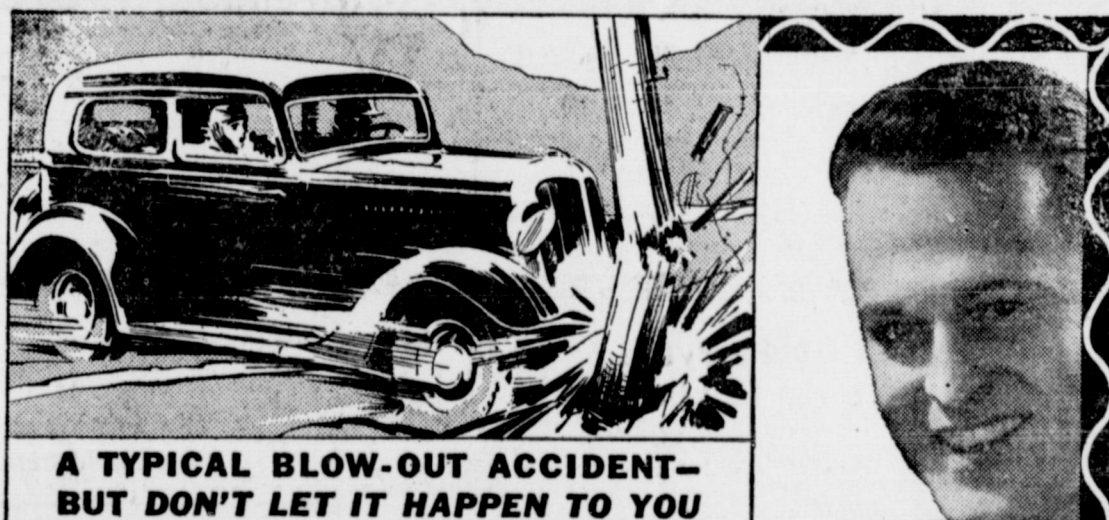

Mr. and Mrs. John Blocker spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Amarillo attending the Cattlemen's Convention.

Cheerful Chatter

From what I gather, some boys who did not rate dates for the college banquet were successful in enticing the waitresses for a date afterwards. It pays to be even a waitress these days.

One morning an order was issued for all boys who did not have tests to report in assembly; passing several empty rooms I found only one boy diligently answering questions, and he was in the History department.

Several students became alarmed last week about the office door being closed. A group of girls speculated that perhaps the interior was being re-decorated, and I heard one boy bet that some flunkers were being lectured. Feature the surprise when someone discovered the state inspectors were in the office and closed the door to prevent a draft.

Judging from the bulletin boards, and bulletins are usually authentic, the programs posted by the two societies of the college show a sharp contrast. Lately the Alpha Delta Psi has had a poor list of members on their programs and once I noticed the meeting was called off. According to some tale-bearing Alpha Deltas, half of the members do not show up, so they have resorted to ping-pong, which isn't a bad resort. But the Palo Duro, largely composed of high school seniors, has been posting and enjoying some unusually interesting programs. The brains of the society, the erstwhile janitor, heads an ambitious program committee. Can it be that the seniors, who had a hard time at first, are gaining prestige over their college fellows?

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

The group of students who will graduate from Clarendon High School in May merits some special recognition by the readers of the school page. Therefore, the editors are compiling descriptions of each Senior, and a few will be published each week.

Bobby Boston, son of a prosperous grocer and a prominent club woman, is a fine young fellow whose chief delight is playing his clarinet. Bobby's little yellow Ford is a favorite among school friends, and it is seen at many places of merrymaking with various pretty girls therein. Bob was one of the best football players in the Broncho lineup last Fall, and his being a graduate will take from Clarendon High School a promising pigskin star. Following the recent Junior-Senior banquet, Bobby played the perfect host with a dance for his classmates.

Rosalyn Bass is a popular Senior girl who is gifted in several ways. She reads with unusual expression and likes to play her guitar and sing cowboy songs. Rosalyn's artistic talent has benefited her in making the winning fire prevention poster this year. Her poster was chosen from a group of high school entries as the best in the lot. She is characterized by her lovely blue eyes and dark complexion, and has a likable personality.

Sam Barrow is a nice looking Senior who won the part of leading man in this year's senior play. He is noted for his extremely dry jokes and his aloft manner. Sam is a person who would be called versatile in social and business matters. He likes to debate, and he and a Junior are working diligently on their subject, preparing for the Interscholastic Meet. Sam's tall build gives him an impressive stage presence so helpful to a public speaker.

Home Ec Report

If you see some of the Home Ec I students creeping around the campus looking pale and weak don't be surprised. They have to eat what they cook, regardless of the results; however, the muffins, hot cakes, oatmeal, apples, and other concoctions turned out to be surprisingly good. A muffin was found on the sidewalk the other day. Some student was probably seeing if it affected the sidewalk as it does the stomach.

COLLEGE BANQUET IS GREAT SUCCESS

AIMS OF COLLEGE OUTLINED IN ADDRESS BY DEAN DRENNAN.

The college banquet is now only a memory, but it is a pleasant memory for all those students, ex-students, teachers, members of the school board, and guests who attended the affair given at the Baptist Church last Friday evening.

Bob McKee, as toastmaster, presided at the head of an attractive table decorated in green and white. Before him stood the model of Clarendon College made of cardboard and surrounded by realistic grass and trees. The tiny building was completed with fire escapes, steps, and flag, and the correct number of windows and doors were drawn. This remarkable replica of the school is a product of genius of Ardis Patman, Geraldine Pratt, and Arthur Chase. The folders containing menu, program and songs were outlines of the school buildings, and the place cards were green pennants with C. J. C. on them.

A delicious warm dinner of baked ham, fresh beans, potatoes, candid apple, gelatine salad, hot rolls, cherry pie a la mode, and coffee was served by the Baptist ladies.

The program:
Toastmaster—Bob McKee.
"Texas, Our Texas"—Group.
Invocation—Rev. J. Perry King.
Vocal Trio—Wilma Dee Smith, Louise Smith, Hulda Jo Cauthen.
Toast to Faculty—Cynthia Mae Eller.
Address—Dean R. E. Drennan.
Skit—Wanda Mayfield, Robert Nichols.
Toast to Freshmen—Bob Word.
Toast to Sophomores—Mary Frances Powell.
Toast to Ex-Students—Robert McKee.

Response—Glenn Allison.
"Eyes of Texas"—Group.
After the banquet Mary Frances Powell was hostess to a group of students at her home. Dancing and table tennis were the main diversions of the evening.

THROUGH THE BOOKSHELF

"That Year at Lincoln High" "Jim Davis" was "The Cheer Leader." He went "Through College on Nothing," then came the war. He met the "Crisis" and left for "Mexico" in the "Cover Wagon." He had only "A White Monkey" and some "Leaves of Grass" "To Let," so he traded them for "Three Black Pennies." Then "The Spy" went "Over the Border" by the "Bridge of San Luis Rey." He drove through "The Valley of the Moon" and spent the night in a "Cathedral" to keep "Far from the Madding Crowd." Next day he felt "So Big" in escaping the guards he told "A Daughter of the Middle Border," he was "Innocent Abroad." They went into "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to rest, and she wired "Three Boy Scouts in Africa" to take him "Back Home." On the way the "Three Musketeers" threw "The Spy" into the sea, and he is still "On the Bottom."

The next food to be prepared is biscuits. We only hope they will not resemble "bride's biscuits," for the home ec girls should have no particular enemies. Hulda Jo Cauthen and Avis Lee McElvany have made the game of "cat" their favorite pastime. When Miss Berry rebukes them, Avis Lee makes some remark to Hulda, both laugh, Miss Berry joins in, and a lecture is avoided.

Mary Lois Hayter seems to enjoy chewing the paraffin off the top of jelly, much to the amusement of the remainder of the class.

CHEMISTRY INCIDENTS

The inimitable Callie Walters donates the following article on happenings in the Chemistry lab. The excitement started the other day when the barometer fell. A match flared up, and the thermometer, getting hot, rose to go. Boiling with anger, he hissed loudly. A test tube spoke with a loud retort, and a graduate was broken while trying to take Flourine's measure. In the excitement, Arsen-ate of lead and Iodine of Potassium so that Bury'em (Barium) had a job on his hands.

Centennial Pageant Gala Event Saturday

In costumes representative of some phase of the colorful history of the State, students from each rural school in the county marched in the gala parade at noon Saturday, the day of the rural school Centennial Pageant.

Starting from the Methodist Church following the morning program, the group marched down Kearney to the headquarters at the Antro Hotel.

The parade was led by Drum Major Phillips Gentry, II, followed by the Sons of Legionnaires Drum and Bugle Corps. Members of the county board and visiting county superintendents followed the band.

Next in line were students from Midway dressed as Texas rangers, followed by Sunny View students as typical redmen in blankets and sporting feathers in their hair.

Fairview students masqueraded as pirates, and the rhythm band dressed in red and white from Jericho followed. Mexican soldiers and Santa Anna, preceded by Sam Houston and his soldiers from Sunny View, were succeeded by the Glenwood school students bearing a sign on which was painted a pre-historic animal.

Nearly forty horses mounted by students in riding togs interspersed the parade, and a covered wagon of fiddlers who played Texas songs as the procession paraded was seen for the first time in many years on Kearney Street.

Scouts on bicycles patrolled the street, and an automobile of members of the adult education dramatic class concluded the parade with "Happy Birthday, Texas" painted on the car.

Juniors Select '36

Class Rings of Gold

The Junior class held a meeting Wednesday with the president, LaVerne McMurtry, presiding. An exhibit of different kinds of rings was shown, and the Seniors of 1936 chose the most suitable design. After much deliberation, discussion, and arguing, the class finally decided on a plain gold ring with a pretty design. The type selected will be very serviceable as well as attractive.

From all appearances, the Senior play is going to be a success. With the help of the Juniors it will be well attended as they are aiding in selling tickets.

Back Stage of the Senior Class Play

Sam Barrow, that man of sentiment, rehearses his part off stage, for is he not in real life the sweetheart of the leading lady? Dorothy Powell's heart melts at the beautiful music of Sam's lazy brogue.

Willard Skelton will perhaps be seen parading about in an attempt to acquire that "Mae West swing." He is said to make a charming young bride. Harold McDaniels spends all his time practicing the art of "eyeballing" so that he may woo the old bachelors.

Dorothy Phelps has formed the habit of waiting until half her part has been read then catching her cue and hurriedly finishing it. Frank Holtzclaw answers all questions in a "New Zealand by cracky" way.

Linwood Betts sits calmly by with ears and eyes wide open until Sarah Virginia and Peggy, everywhere all the time, run upon the stage and yell at him to come on for it is time for their entrance. Vivian Taylor passes the time away laughing and talking in a very Southern (negro) way with Willard and Frank.

Lowell LaFon sits around playing with a baby's toy telephone and trying to say "Mon dieu, Mon dieu." Wilson Kutch sits back chewing an unlighted cigar trying to assume a tough look. Woodrow Bulls stands with his hand on the curtain waiting to pull it at any moment, and is his face red when he pulls it in the middle of a scene?

Billy Johnson has been trying since the beginning of play practice to persuade Peggy Taylor that she should go with him rather than with Willard. Careful, Lightning.

All of which means to the rest of the Seniors that Senior Day is April 1, and enough tickets must be sold to pay the expense for a holorious time as Uncle Isaac says.

Girls Volley Team

Shows Improvement

Noticeable improvement in the game played by the high school girls' volleyball team has been shown recently. The girls are practicing faithfully on the excellent indoor court in the South Ward gym. A match with Hedley, a very strong team, was scheduled for last Monday night, but the sandstorm kept the girls at home. Miss Berry, volleyball coach, believes that the team will make a good showing in the county meet this spring.

SOUTH WARD AND JUNIOR HIGH REPORT

The first grades had a flag parade, sang patriotic songs, and gave the salute to the flag in commemoration of Texas' Independence last week. All the rooms have started work on their declamations, and the lower grades are busy working on story-telling for the Interscholastic Meet. Miss Stevens' room has been making replicas of the Texas flag, and the children have decorated their room with them. Miss Mongole's room is studying Holland and also making a detailed study of birds.

The fourth and fifth grades have over sixty declaimers this year. May the best man win.

In Junior High there are quite a few entries in spelling and dec-lamation. Several industrious boys last week got a scraper and hitched up a T-model and started fixing our tennis courts. However, the work has not been continued this week. Junior High's Choral Club is also expecting to enter the Interscholastic contest. Uniform making is now under way.

Students who attended a league meeting in Hedley Sunday afternoon were Wesley Hastings, Ardis Patman, Thayer Acord, Walter Gormen, and Wesley Powell.

The editor-in-chief attended the Mother-in-Law celebration in Amarillo Tuesday.

Avis Lee McElvany was sick the first part of the week.

CHAMBERLAIN

Filora Peabody

Mr. Cooper, principal of the Chamberlain school, informs your correspondent that he wishes to thank all the patrons and friends of the school who contributed articles for the school Panhandle exhibit. These kindness made it possible for the school to win first place in the three teacher school.

Chamberlain school took a holiday last Friday while the teachers went to decorate their booth for the school fair.

Chamberlain school won certain honors at the Donley County Fair Saturday. They were assigned the topic of Panhandle exhibit and this won first prize. Some of the things displayed in the exhibit was an old saddle used by Dr. Stocking's father when he rode the plains in 1885; two covered wagons, saddle and equipment.

A Panhandle product map made of Panhandle scenes, a stuffed Bobcat head and various kinds of horns, a buffalo skull and several old Panhandle pictures, a large tall flag and a salt map of Western Texas, covered wading boots, sow heads, several maps were made by the children, especially the map showing the Chamberlain school very good. The color scheme was in red, white and blue. It was one of the few booths which stood by the subject assigned them.

We had a large crowd as Sunday School—62 present. Mr. H. Reid complimented the teachers and officers on their ability and the fine way they were co-operating in their various ways; for the splendid way the entire community was helping build up the Sunday School.

A BANK'S STRENGTH

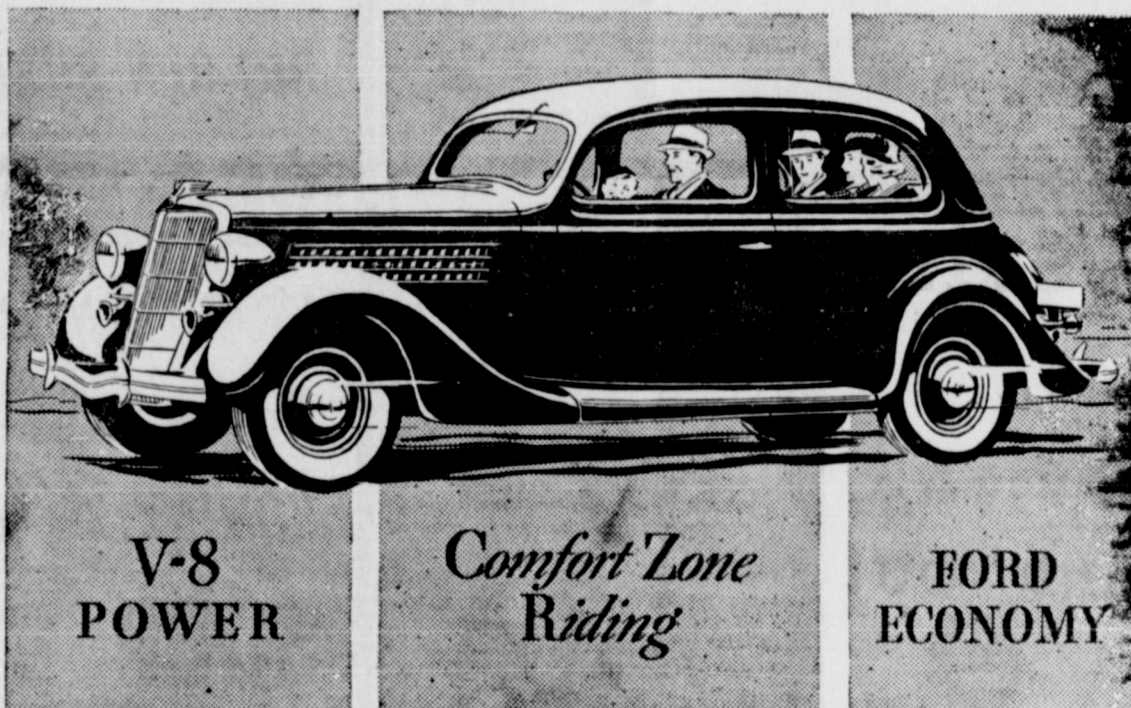

Banking strength is the combination of, a sound ratio of assets to liabilities, capital sensibly invested and a conservative policy of skilled management.

True banking strength is none of these things alone, yet all of them.

No single attribute alone makes for financial impregnability. That results, rather, from a fusing of them into the structure, direction and operation of a given bank.

Do You Want To Win $5.00 In Cash?

All you have to do is enter the Proverb Contest which will begin in THE CLARENDON NEWS next week, and run for six weeks.

The rules are simple and the results are educational, interesting and entertaining.

You will be astounded at the ease of the contest, and YOU MIGHT BE ONE OF THE LUCKY WINNERS.

HERE ARE THE RULES!

Each week for a period of six weeks The Clarendon News will print one of a series of cartoons representing some well-known proverb or saying.

Contestants solve the picture puzzles by writing the proverb that the cartoon suggests or illustrates in the blanks below the picture. It is simple.

The prizes, totaling $10 in cash, will be awarded those sending in complete or near complete picture sets with the best and most appropriate answers to the pictures published, and either paying their own subscription for a period of one year or securing one new one year subscription to The Clarendon News.

Cartoons should not be sent to the paper until the series is complete.

Only one answer may be given to a picture.

Only one member of a family will be given a prize, the award going to the person in that family submitting the best set.

The answers may be written in pen, pencil, printed or typewritten.

In case of a tie, neatness and spelling will be the deciding factor.

The judges will be announced at a later date and their decision must be accepted as final.

BURTON ASKS CO-OPERATION IN TAKING CENSUS

We are taking the school census this month and it is very important that we get every child in the Clarendon Independent School District who will be six years old before the first of September, 1935, and every one whether married or single who will not be eighteen before the first of September, 1935. Every one we miss is a loss of $16.50 to our public schools. It is very difficult to get every pupil unless the public will help us. We shall appreciate anyone who will phone or send us word of any pupil who has been overlooked.

The new editor had been connected with The Clarendon News for a number of years until 1932 when he bought the Forney Messenger. Having sold that paper in late 1933 he went with the state highway department, with headquarters at Amarillo and still later at Claude. Since the first of the year he has been assisting in the News office, and goes to his new post with full equipment and experience to handle the varied duties of the position.

Sam is the third Clarendon man to move to Dimmitt in the last few years. Chas. H. Dean, Jr., was first several years ago, and Meade Haile moved there last year, having bought a drug store in that thriving Plains county seat.

The Clarendon News is starting an interesting new educational cartoon series in next week's issue, offering subscribers of the paper $10 in cash awards for solving the proverbs best represented by the weekly cartoons.

All the family can enjoy this interesting game. It is educational, entertaining and profitable.

Six cartoons will appear, one each week for a period of six weeks, and the prizes will be awarded at the end of that time. Besides solving the proverbs best represented by the weekly cartoons, subscribers must either renew their own subscription for a period of one year, or secure one new one year subscription to The Clarendon News. The prize schedule and the rules appear in another column of this issue.

Everybody knows what a proverb is. Some of the more famous, perhaps, are: A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush, A Rolling Stone Gathers No Moss, Birds of a Feather Flock Together, etc.

Now go to it! Get the members of your family together for a few minutes each week, and see who can get the answers first.

School Rally—

to him the attitude, and ideals of the men, women, boys, and girls, of the state toward the period in which they lived.

Following a short review of the colorful and glorious history of Texas, the speaker said a challenge had been laid down to the modern youth by such ancestors as Houston, Crockett, and Austin. Allred, governor, and Woods, State Superintendent of schools, according to the speaker, have caught the inspiration which was set down by these brave builders of Texas. In conclusion of his most interesting address, Mr. Dickson entreated the boys and girls to catch the vision of the Texas that is to be in the future and be prepared to become citizens worthy of the great State.

Three visitors from Hemphill county, Judge E. L. Helton and ex-officio County Superintendent; Superintendent Dyer of the Canadian schools; and principal Turner, were introduced and gave short talks on the schools in Hemphill county and congratulated Donley on her wide-awake, active rural schools. Others to be introduced at this time were W. A. Poovey, president of the county board, who announced a holiday for the meeting of the Canyon conference on March 22nd, and W. M. Pickering, member of the county board, made a short talk. Sid Thomas, last year principal of the Ashtola school and who now lives in Canyon, was introduced together with W. C. Payne, superintendent of the Hedley schools.

"The Eyes of Texas," led by principal Jimmy Milsap of Goldston, was followed by "Beautiful Texas" a quartette from the Goldston school under the direction of the principal.

Most interesting was the play-lette in which the signing of the treaty between Houston and Santa Anna under treaty oak was dramatized by seven students in fitting costumes from the Bray school.

"Old Black Joe," "Old Folks at Home," and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" were sung in unison under the direction of Jimmie Milsap.

One of the most interesting parts on program were three selections rendered by the rhythm band of the Jericho school. Every pupil of the school was present and played in the band. Suits of white and capes of red satin and caps of white and red were worn by each of the youngsters.

Under the direction of Messrs. Behringer, Cooper, Jackson, and Milsap, the entire group enjoyed a round singing of "Row, Row Your Boat," "Sweetly Sings the Donkey" and "Little Tom Tinker."

Little Miss Duella Woods charmingly recited "The Fall of Santa Anna," followed by "The Red River Valley" led by Clarence Jackson, principal of the Windy Valley school.

Of special interest on program were two numbers, "Going Back to Texas" and "Sleepy Rio Grande" played by the T-Anchor Cowboys, West Texas State Teachers College quartette.

Concluding numbers on program were "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" sung by the choir and "The Old Rugged Cross" sung by the Goldston quartette, followed by the benediction by O. L. Jacobs.
