Gemini Set For More Test Flights

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States today moved confidently ahead on its second manned space program, Gemini, following the success of the first unmanned flight.

A Titan 2 rocket propelled a two-seat Gemini spacecraft into orbit in an almost perfect launching. The rocket lifted off only one second behind scheduled, but a launching official claimed the range clock must have been wrong because the countdown was completed without even a one second delay.

Project Director Charles Mathews of the Manned Spacecraft Center said the flight gave the Gemini team confidence to proceed toward a second unmanned flight and a manned orbital trip this year.

The second flight, set for late August or early September, is to hurl a spacecraft on a ballistic flight to test all systems, atmospheric re-entry and recovery.

The first manned mission calls for two astronauts to ride a Gemini capsule on a three-orbit flight, hopefully in November or December.

The opening Gemini shot tested structural integrity of the spacecraft, ability of the Titan 2 to place the capsule in a precise orbit, and aerodynamic compatibility of the rocket-capsule combination.

Brazil Passes Law To Purge Leftists

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Military and congressional leaders agreed today on a sweeping law to purge extreme leftists from Brazil's Congress, government and armed forces and sent it to Brasilia, the capital.

The new law was demanded by the generals who overthrew President Joao Goulart last week. It was reported that, as drafted after a series of meetings in Rio de Janeiro, the law would temporarily suspend rights guaranteed by the constitution.

Election of a new president was delayed until Friday or Saturday because of the negotiations on the antisubversion measure.

Emergency Sessions Held In Rail Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz pressed emergency negotiating sessions today in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike at midnight.

After a night session running into the early morning hours, Wirtz met with union representatives again at 10 a.m. Railroad negotiators were scheduled to join the session later.

The labor secretary indicated that he planned to keep negotiations going right on through to the strike deadline if no agreement was reached.

He had reported no progress when the night session ended at 3:15 a.m.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, absent from Wednesday's sessions, came to the 10 a.m. meeting.

Gilbert declined comment on the prospects of averting a strike. "I just got here," was his answer to questions from newsmen.

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was expected this afternoon.

Five unions and nearly 200 railroads are involved in the dispute.

As the all-night sessions ended, Wirtz indicated that President Johnson was gravely worried about the prospect that a rail strike might seriously damage the nations' economy.

"The ability or failure to reach agreement will determine whether there is or is not a major disruption in the nation's present encouraging economic advance," Wirtz said.

Wirtz earlier had announced he would hold the union and management negotiators in continuous sessions but a snag developed when two union presidents were unable to arrive here in time for the hastily called conference.

The recess came at 3:15 a.m. after about seven hours of talks.

Wirtz said that when the discussions got down to the specific points in dispute, the absence of the two union chiefs became important.

"It is a complication that I had not fully anticipated," the secretary said.

The two absent union presidents, Charles Luna of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and H. E. Gilbert of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen are expected to arrive in time for today's session.

Facing the government—and the railroad-riding public—was a 12:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday strike deadline.

That's when — J. E. Wolfe, chief management negotiator said after the Illinois Central walkout nearly 200 railroads will post new work rules.

And that's when the unions say some 200,000 workers will walk off their jobs.

The dispute centers on the railroads' proposed changes in wage structure, job classifications, length of train runs and other working conditions.

The rules changes have been under negotiation on a national level since their consideration last year by the courts and Congress.

The unions tried to bypass the stalled national negotiations by seeking talks with individual railroads, but this was balked as the industry maintained a united front.

Each side blamed the other for stirring up the new crisis.

Wolfe labeled the Illinois Central strike as "continued irresponsibility" on the part of the unions.

Spokesmen for five operating unions replied that if there is a coast-to-coast strike it will be the fault of the railroads for imposing the rules changes on a nationwide basis.

The railroads maintain that obsolete work rules are costing them millions of dollars a year unnecessarily.

House Oks Cotton Bill

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — From the sometimes fractious House of Representatives, President Johnson had two legislative plums today.

They were:

The big and controversial wheat-cotton subsidy bill; a top priority election year measure on his desk and ready for his final signature.

House approval of the food stamp program, a key part of his declared "war on poverty." This goes to the Senate, where it must await action in the dim future after the civil rights bill is disposed of.

The House acted on both measures after a hot, bothered and bewildering session that began at 11 a.m. Wednesday and didn't end until 12:44 a.m. today.

The food stamp plan passed handily by a 229-189 margin in spite of a long campaign of delaying action by Republican opponents. It got the support of 216 Democrats and 13 Republicans, while 163 Republicans and 26 Democrats were opposed.

But the wheat-cotton bill was a cliffhanger, approved 211 to 203. A switch of five votes would have changed the outcome. That vote came well after midnight under a procedure that limited debate to one hour and banned any amendments.

A tense hush came over the chamber as the last stragglers were being recorded in the "well" of the House, a circular area in front of the speaker's chair. Suddenly, Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana demanded that the well of the House be cleared, a rule seldom invoked.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts replied mildly that the Democrats should get a turn after a group of Republicans had recorded their votes. He told the remaining Democrats to step back a pace and continue.

A torrent of boos came from Republicans, a measure of the feeling that had built up during the long session. Veteran observers in the press gallery could not recall a similar occurrence.

Republicans charged that big city Northern Democrats had entered into an "unholy alliance" with Southern conservatives, trading their support for the food stamp bill to return for support of the cotton-wheat bill.

The food stamp program expands and makes permanent a pilot operation. Under it, needy families would buy food stamps with the portion of their income they would normally spend for food.

The stamps would be redeemable at the grocery for more than the cash paid in, and would buy just about any food item. The idea is to increase the variety and food value for poverty stricken families, some of which are now getting a direct dole of surplus food stocks owned by the government — powdered milk, dried eggs and the like.

Mishap Pins Youth In Cab Of Pickup

Leroy Guillen, 2203 Avenue Z, a 17-year-old Snyder student, was in "satisfactory" condition this morning at Cogdell Hospital following a near-fatal mishap at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue X at 10:22 p.m. Wednesday.

Snyder police reported that a Ford pickup driven by Guillen, and an International semi-trailer truck loaded with cotton seed, driven by Bartolo Lopez, 33 of Brownfield, were both traveling east on Twenty-fifth Street. The pickup apparently attempted to turn north on Avenue Z, and turned in front of the large truck, which struck the cab section of the pickup.

THE OPERATOR of the winch truck which was used to raise the large truck from the pickup received minor injuries in a mishap as he was going to get the truck. He is Jimmy Lee Wylie, an employe of Musslewhite Trucking. Although injured, he finished his assignment. Occupants of the other car, Edith Sue Lock and Billie Jean Lock were taken to Cogdell Hospital by Bell Ambulance for treatment.

The pickup was crushed under the front of the truck, and was rolled over at least twice as it was pushed along, police said. The two trucks came to rest in the front room of a house on the north side of Twenty - fifth Street. The house, which is owned by A. R. Clardy, was occupied by the R. E. Walker family.

Lee Walker, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walker, reportedly had just left the room to get a drink of water, and was possibly saved from serious injury.

The point of impact of the two vehicles was some 150 feet from the Walker home.

City police who investigated, immediately called for a large A-frame winch truck to lift the truck from the pickup, although at the time there was little hope for the driver of the pickup.

Jimmy Lee Wylie, 108 Browning Street, was sent to get the truck but was involved in a mishap at Sixteenth Street and

Settlement Hopes Raised In Belgium Doctors' Strike

By TOM OCHILTREE

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium's striking doctors made contact with the government today for the first time since the walkout, raising hopes that a solution might be on the way.

Interior Minister Arthur Gilson sat down with leaders of the 12,000 physicians and dentists. Both sides minimized the importance of the meeting, saying it dealt primarily with emergency medical arrangements that are functioning during the strike.

The government radio said, however, that something is moving and that the two sides might get to the heart of the dispute.

Some strikers, particularly general practitioners in rural Flemish areas, resumed house calls and seeing patients in their offices.

Strike leaders in Brussels declared, however, that the doctors would fight on to prevent implementation of changes in the socialized medical law which would set a scale of fees for treatment of persons covered by the state health insurance system and open doctors' treatment records on such patients to government inspection.

Each side waited for the other to make the first move to reopen negotiations.

Premier Theo Lefevre's Catholic-Socialist coalition government was so confident of eventual victory that it began looking for some way to save the faces of the doctors and not leave them permanently embittered.

Government sources said the Cabinet was bound to stand fast because it would risk a general strike if it surrendered to the doctors.

One government spokesman said:

"The government waits now for the doctors to come around to a more realistic view of the situation. The era of social paternalism is over.

"Doctors by and large are fine citizens, but they want to decide themselves who has a right to free or inexpensive medical care.

"We do not agree. Everyone in this day and age is entitled to medical care as a right and not as a charity."

Some striking physicians have taken up temporary residence in France, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

A few have threatened to stay away if the controversial act is not watered down or scrapped.

The strike is in its ninth day.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

dear abby thursday jo

DEAR ABBY: In 1959 my husband lent a man $500. He was so sure that he was good for it that he didn't ask him to sign a note or anything. This man has made no effort to pay back one cent of it. Now get this. This deadbeat's sister is married to one of the richest and most prominent men in the state. Everybody knows him. He has given away millions, yet his own brother-in-law has owed a man $500 for four years. I told my husband to get in touch with this rich brother-in-law and ask him for the money. It would be like five cents to him, but it is a lot of money to us. My husband refuses to do it. I am tempted to contact him myself. Would that be wrong?

C'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes. No man, rich or poor, is responsible for his brother-in-law's debts. In cases such as this, it is probable that he has already given his brother-in-law all the help he intends to, and has washed his hands of him (which is his privilege). Stay out of it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband started accusing me of things I never thought of doing. My hand on a Bible, Abby, I never looked at another man in the 34 years we have been married. He kept at me and kept at me until I finally "confessed" just so he would leave me alone. Now he is worse than ever. I have tried to tell him that I am not guilty, and I only said I was so I could get some peace and quiet, but he doesn't believe me. Life is not worth living any more. If it weren't for our children and grandchildren. I wouldn't know what to do. Can you help me?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Try to get your husband to your family physician for a "checkup." If he refuses to go, call your physician and tell him your problem. Excessive suspicion, without cause, is a common sympton of mental illness.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: On the subject of whether the clergyman should be paid extra for services that are a part of his "duty," may I add my remarks? Many couples who can afford only a small ceremony in the parson's living room forget that even the smallest wedding costs something. The last one cost us $15. We were offered $5, but we refused it because the couple were struggling students. But at some of the more elaborate church weddings when the cake, which is NOT essential, costs $75, and the preacher, who IS essential, costs nothing, it makes one wonder where the value system went.

Wallace Returns To Duty, Pleased With Vote Results

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace returned to his state duties today pleased with his showing in the Wisconsin presidential primary and looking toward upcoming contests in Maryland and Indiana.

Some 3,000 cheering well-wishers greeted the governor by waving Confederate flags Wednesday night as he stepped from the state-owned plane that brought him home from Wisconsin.

Wallace said the more than 260,000 votes he received in the Wisconsin primary—about 25 per cent of the total—were not for him but "for the people of Alabama and the people throughout the country who stand up for constitutional government."

He also said the results was "not a vote against any people," despite opponents' charges of racism. "We are only fighting," Wallace said, 'to give the people the right to run their homes and their businesses as they want to do and should do."

Wallace's next presidential primary is in Indiana May 5—the same date Alabama holds its democratic primary in which the governor is sponsoring a slate of unpledged elector candidates.

He appealed for support of his slate—which has refused to promise to support the Democratic presidential nominee.

Judge Brown Cites Need Of New Law

DALLAS (AP) — Judge Joe Brown said today some new law may have to be written to deal with the problem of television and rules of evidence in the courts.

Brown, who presided over the Jack Ruby murder trial, referred specifically to prospective jurors who see crimes committed on television, such as Ruby's slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Lawyers for Ruby said they would file a detailed amended motion for a new trial today.

Ruby was sentenced to death March 14 for the Oswald killing. An original motion for a new trial was filed several days after the verdict.

Brown noted that most jurors in the Ruby trial witnessed the shooting either on live television or on tape.

Texas law specifies that witnesses to a crime cannot sit as jurors in the matter. This point will form one of the key arguments in the Ruby appeal.

"I decided on the television-witness issue during the trial," Brown said. "I didn't disqualify prospective jurors who had seen the crime on TV if they aid they could lay it aside when determining Ruby's guilt or innocence."

Former Ruby defense chief Melvin Belli of San Francisco maintained that all persons who saw the television scenes of the killing should be disqualified as jurors.

Robot Described To Check Water

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An automatic device for checking the purity of water sources in remote areas was described today at the 147th national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

The robot machine makes and records five kinds of measurements for a period of 30 days without attendance, Prof. C. E. Borchers, of the University of Arkansas, reported.

Dr. Borchers said the monitor will be used to check on pollution in streams and to record background data on water quality in unpolluted streams for future reference.

Pictured with Pope, second from right, are city manager George Patterson, District Judge Sterling Williams, and Joe Carroll, right, local attorney and local bar association president. The state bar association, and the local lawyers, have given their support to Pope in a state-wide balloting. Education Group Ponders Report

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's Higher Education Study Committee is pondering today a firsthand report on the success of a similar committee in California.

Connally and his "Committee of 25" conferred Wednesday with Dr. Donald McLaughlin, chairman of the board of regents of the University of California system. The Texas committee is to report to Connally by Sept. 1 with recommendations to improve the state's public higher education system.

McLaughlin told how the California legislature adopted the recommendations of a study commission as the state's master plan for higher education from 1960 to 1975 and ended what he termed a "rather chaotic situation."

"In California we have gone through somewhat similar problems to those you are going through now in Texas," he said. "I was part of the negotiations for a master plan for higher education in California."

He said all public senior colleges are now under a single board of regents, as are all state supported universities. Junior colleges were left under the state board of education. A coordinating council was set up to handle disputes to prevent overlapping of functions and to veto unnecessary institutions and programs.

The Texas committee is considering revamping the state's higher education system along lines similar to California's and establishing a state coordinating agency.

Newsmen heard McLaughlin's presentation. Afterwards, newsmen were "excused" by chairman H. B. Zachry of San Antonio while Connally and McLaughlin remained with the committee.

The California coordinating council reviews institutional budgets in general terms and makes recommendations concerning them to the governor and the legislature. McLaughlin said, No new schools can be established without its approval, he said.

On the study commission's recommendation, he said, the legislature defined general functions of the arts of the higher education system.

"The universities are the only part of the system with the right to grant the PhD. Also, they have primary responsibility for research and exclusive responsibility for legal and medical education," he said.

Evaporation Is Slowed

AUSTIN (AP) — By using chemicals, farmers and ranchers can reduce the loss of water through evaporation from small ponds on their land, says a report released Wednesday by the Texas Water Commission.

The report, prepared by Dr. Wilmon M. Menike, head of the Texas A&M Chemurgic Research Laboratory, says two chemical compounds that have been especially effective in slowing down evaporation losses are hexadecanol and octadecanol, which were spread on the surface of the water.

The cost of the water saved ranges from $1.02 to $2.45 per 1,000 gallons, said the report, based on a study of small reservoirs from 1958 to 1963.

More than half of Texas has high evaporation rates, the report said, with the range from about 10 inches per year in the Sabine River area to 100 inches per year in the Big Bend area.

For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thriftier in the long run. They're built for total performance.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

WOMEN

Family Living Committee Organized For County

A group of women representing many interests in Scurry County met in the County Home Demonstration Agent's office Tuesday to discuss the family living situation in the county and to prepare a program of opportunities for betterment of family living in the county.

Mrs. Nolan Von Roeder who is temporary chairman of the group called the meeting to order and explained the purpose of the meeting. Miss Ruby Butts, County Home Demonstration Agent, introduced Miss Patsy Reynolds, specialist in Family Life, and Mrs. Eula Newman, specialist in Home Management. Both are from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and have their headquarters in College Station, Tex.

Miss Reynolds and Mrs. Newman gave some interesting information about our county, most of which came from the County Program developed in the local County Extension Office. Scurry County and much of West Texas has a very young population in comparison to many areas, they told the group. Only 6.6 per cent of the population of Scurry County is over 65 years; 42.6 per cent is under 19 years. This leaves 50.8 per cent in the main wage earning age group (20-64 years). The median age level in the county is 26 years and 35.7 per cent of the families have children under 6.

About 50 per cent of our population in 1960 (as compared with about 60 per cent in 1950) are in their main wage earning years and must earn enough in the approximately 44 years of their employment to support themselves, the 42.6 per cent who are under 19, plus some older family members, and set aside money by some means to provide for their retirement years.

Census figures tell that 12 per cent of Scurry County's families receive less than $2000 per year, 20 per cent under $3000, 56 per cent under $6000, 78 per cent under $8000, leaving 22 per cent who earn more than $8000 per year. National research has shown that families receiving less than $6000 per year will find it difficult to provide three very important things for their families; (1) adequate medical care, (2) adequate recreational opportunity, and (3) adequate higher education or training opportunity.

Young women growing up today can expect to work outside their homes about 20 years of their lives. Miss Reynolds asked the women to consider what this meant to the girl who drops out of school before finishing high school, to the girl who receives adequate training for a job that pays well, and what it means to the families of these young women. No ready answers are available, Miss Reynolds said, for the answer depends on the individual, but in general the girl who is better trained for home making, money management, and a better paying job will feel more adequate and will give her family more security.

Other things the group discussed included the opportunities for training for women, both in the school and outside the schools, in Scurry County. The possibility of gathering information on the cost of different types of training, and of different colleges for presentation to high school student and to parents long before their children are ready for college; the importance of nutrition to the health of families; some special problems of the young home maker and of the older homemaker, and some of the things that have been done in other communities or our own, to meet these needs.

The last section of the discussion was a look at "where to from here." Those members of the committee who represent other organization will present the material gathered at this meeting to their clubs and encourage them to work some of these situations into their schedule of programs for next year. The group will meet again in the County Home Demonstration Agent's office at 1:30 on May 12.

A mimeographed resume of the information gathered and a list of the statements concerning the family living situation in Scurry County will be prepared by this committee, including their recommendations for the areas that need to be given first consideration. These will be available to interested groups when they are ready.

Members of the group were: Mrs. Nolan Von Roeder, Chairman, Mrs. Opal Robinson, Public Health Nurse, Mrs. A. D. Dodson, Martha Ann Woman's Club, Mrs. Ted Billingsley, Mrs. Joe Williamson, Food and Nutrition Committee, Mrs. Floyd House, County Home Demonstration Council, Mrs. Bogtie, Business and Professional Womens Club, Mrs. L. N. Hataway, Fluvanna Community, Mrs. Welden [illegible], Mrs. W. F. Meade, Mrs. W. E. McMillan, Pyron Community, Mrs. [illegible], Pyron Community, and Mrs. George R. Watts, Home Demonstration Club.

Golf Greats Launch Play In Masters

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Nearly 100 of golf's greatest players teed off today in the 28th Masters Tournament over the Augusta National course that days of steady rain have turned into a links built for two—defending champion Jack Nicklaus and three-time winner Arnold Palmer.

Nicklaus, the 24-year-old Ohio Golden Bear who is the youngest winner ever, was a 4-1 choice to repeat—something no Masters winner ever has done.

Golf's longest driver, Nicklaus has the length to handle the nearly 7,000 water-logged yards of the course that Bobby Jones designed.

Palmer, 34, winner in 1958, 1960 and 1962, is the only other player in the field of 96 who can hit the ball far enough to get it to the top of the hills that loom up in front of nearly one-half the holes.

The other pros have complained the course's roll is gone and it will take plenty of sunshine and wind to bring it back before the tournament ends Sunday.

Open champion Julius Boros, the 44-year-old smooth swinger, had the best practice round, a 66 on Tuesday.

Boros won the Greater Greensboro Open last Sunday.

Nicklaus has won only one tournament all year, and Palmer none, but they still rank first and fourth on the money list.

Top prize at the Masters is usually $20,000. The payoff, based on gate receipts, runs in the $100,000 neighborhood.

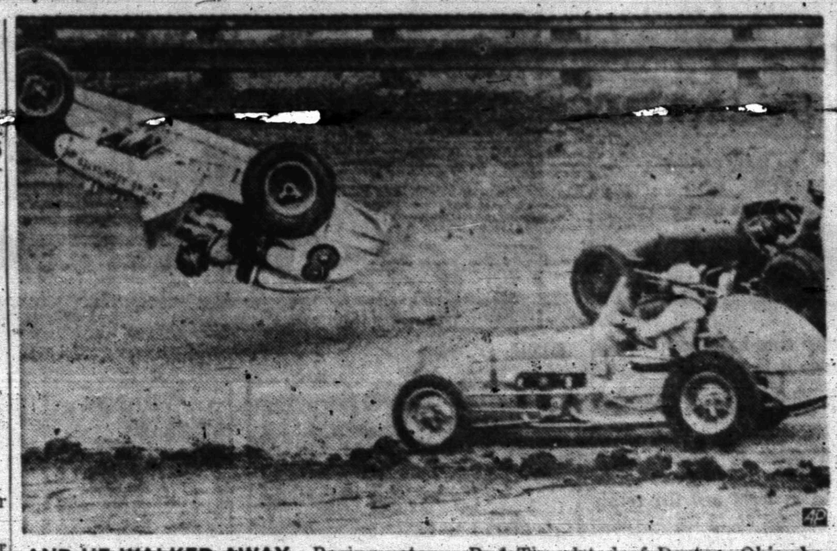

Nicklaus also listed former Open champion Billy Casper, Tony Lema, who was the runner-up last year, and 1961 Masters winner Gary Player of South Africa among the leading threats to his title.

AFL Franchise Is Sought For Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A syndicate of Chicago businessmen has applied for an American Football League franchise for Chicago.

Bob Nussbaum, investment broker who heads the eight-man group, estimated the capitalization of the syndicate at about $3 million.

He said the application, mailed to AFL headquarters in New York, also included plans for remodeling Soldier Field for the games to provide a seating capacity of 59,800.

AND HE WALKED AWAY—Racing veteran Bud Tingelstad of Dayton, Ohio, became involved in this spectacular flip on the second lap of the 30-lap feature race at Eldora Speedway, Rossburg, Ohio. The car came to rest upside down but Tingelstad walked away uninjured. (AP Wirephoto)

NBA Owners Forego 1964-65 Expansion

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Basketball Association owners have decided to forego expansion for the 1964-65 season, President Walter Kennedy announced Wednesday.

The unanimous vote by the board of governors, made up of the club owners, came despite firm offers by Kansas City, Chicago and Pittsburgh for a franchise. Two cities in the Southwest also expressed interest.

The board also instructed Kennedy to continue negotiations with a major network to televise weekend games next season.

Minoso Is Signed For 14th Season

By The Associated Press

Minnie Minoso, a 41-year-old graybeard who possibly has been shaving almost that long, has survived baseball's unkindest cut.

As the Chicago White Sox trimmed their roster Wednesday to get down to the opening day limit of 28, Minoso was signed to a contract for his 14th season in the major leagues.

Generally presumed to be older than his announced 41, Minoso will be back for his third tour with the White Sox, this time as a spare outfielder and the club's No. 1 pinch-hitter. He had been working out with the White Sox as a free agent.

The White Sox first acquired Minoso from Cleveland in 1951, ultimately traded him back after the 1957 season, reacquired him from the Indians following the 1959 campaign and then traded him to St. Louis in 1962. Last year, Minoso was at Washington, hitting .229 in 109 games.

While Minoso was added to the roster, three players were cut—pitchers Tom Hoagland and Bob Guzek and catcher Gary Mykkanen.

The New York Mets surprised by cutting first baseman Bill Haas, picked off the Los Angeles Dodgers' roster last winter in a special National League draft designed to aid the Mets and Houston Colts. Haas hit .322 in exhibition games.

The Mets also cut outfielder Duke Carmel, infielder Pumpsie Green and pitchers Dick Selma and Ron Locke.

Other players cut:

Houston—Pitchers Jerry Morawski and Jay Dahl, outfielders Ivan Murrell, John Paciorek and Howie Goss and infielder Ernie Fazio.

New York Yankees—Pitcher Tom Metcalf, outfielder Elvio Jimenez and catcher Bill Madden.

Milwaukee — Pitchers Ron Piche, Frank Funk and Dan Schneider.

Philadelphia — Pitcher Gary Kroll and first baseman Costen Shockley.

Black Hawks, Canadiens Are Favored

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks are favored to advance to the Stanley Cup finals with victories on home ice tonight.

Both the Montreal-Toronto and the Chicago-Detroit series are tied 3-3. The finals in the National Hockey League competition will be in Chicago Sunday night, if the Hawks eliminate Detroit. Otherwise, they will start Saturday night in either Montreal or Toronto.

The Canadiens, regular season titleholders, will be bolstered by the return of Jean Beliveau, their veteran center and captain. Big Jean hurt his knee in the fourth cup game and did not suit up for the next two.

Ralph Backstrom, a center, and Jacques Laperriere, a rookie defenseman, will play for Montreal despite minor injuries. Backstrom has a charley horse and Laperriere a sore wrist.

The spotlight in the Chicago-Detroit game will be on the goaltenders, for more than one reason. Both Terry Sawchuk of Detroit and Glenn Hall of Chicago have had their troubles.

Sawchuk missed one game and part of another because of a pinched nerve in his left shoulder while Hall complained of a stomach disorder and sat out the final period in Tuesday night's 7-2 setback.

Frisco Team Evens Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — San Francisco evened its National Basketball Association playoff with St. Louis in a "dog-eat-dog" battle Wednesday night, and taking the biggest bite out of the Hawks was Nate Thurmond.

"Thurmond did it all — defense, offense, rebounds," said Warrior Coach Alex Hannum after his club had whipped the Hawks 111-109.

The victory tied the Western Division best-of-seven final playoffs at two games each and returned the home-court advantage to the Warriors.

The next game will be played in San Francisco Friday night with the teams returning to St. Louis Sunday. The final contest, if needed, will be played on the West Coast.

Boston can wrap up the Eastern Division playoff tonight when the Celtics and Cincinnati meet in Boston. The Celtics lead their series, 3-1.

Thurmond didn't start the game, but when Wayne Hightower's ankle began to trouble him, the 6-foot-11 inch reserve entered and scored 17 points and pulled in 15 rebounds in 42 minutes.

Thurmond teamed with Wilt Chamberlain, who notched 36 points and gathered 23 rebounds, to push the Warriors to a 109-100 lead with 2:52 remaining.

Allen May Solve Phils' Big Problem

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Allen of Wampum, Pa., promises to be a lucrative rookie for the Philadelphia Phillies in their bid for greater riches this season.

The Phils expect the 22-year-old Allen to end their six-year search for a regular third baseman. Based on Allen's spring performance, the Phils may wind up with even more than that.

The right-handed slugger slammed his seventh home run and increased his runs batted in total to 23 Wednesday as Philadelphia trampled the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-4. He had three hits and four RBIs and is by far the team leader in both departments.

As a rookie for Arkansas in the International League last season, Allen led all hitters with 12 triples, 33 homers, 97 RBI and 299 total bases. He batted .289. Then in 10 games with the Phils at the end of the season he hit .292.

Allen's home run Wednesday was only one of many that dominated exhibition baseball action. Cleveland got three of them in trouncing San Francisco 14-4 for the first time in 10 spring games.

Willie Mays was struck on the right wrist in an attempted pickoff throw in that game and may be sidelined until Saturday or Sunday.

Julian Javier's two-run homer in the eighth gave St. Louis a 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees while pinch-hitter John Goryl gave Minnesota a 5-4 triumph over Houston with a two-run homer in the ninth.

Baltimore crushed Cincinnati 8-1, the Chicago Cubs nipped Boston 7-6 in 11 innings, the New York Mets downed Kansas City 11-9 and Milwaukee beat Washington 5-2.

Poll Favors Bums, Yanks

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers will again win the National League pennant after a tight, three-way struggle with San Francisco and St. Louis while the New York Yankees run still another American League pennant up the flag pole with considerable ease.

That's the script authored for the 1964 season by the 294 sports writers and broadcasters voting in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

The voting indicates the Dodgers will nip the Giants and Cardinals, becoming the first National League champion to repeat since Milwaukee in 1957-58. At the same time, the Yankees will be emphasizing their supremacy over Minnesota and Chicago en route to their fifth consecutive American League pennant.

The mixed opinions about the pennant chances of the Dodgers, Giants and Cardinals were reflected in a tight vote that left only 300 points separting the teams after they drew some 7,500 in the balloting on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

The Dodgers edged the Giants for the top spot by only one first place vote and a mere 62 points.

The Dodgers were named the top team on 102 ballots and drew 2,634 points. The Giants received 101 first-place votes and 2,572 points.

The Cardinals, without Stan Musial for the first time in 22 years, nevertheless received solid support with 52 first-place votes and 2,318 points.

In the American League, the Yankees re-emphasized the respect they command. The Yankees rolled up 205 first-place votes and 2,826 points.

That was some 400 points more than Minnesota's homer-hitting Twins, who grabbed 39 votes for the top spot and 2,375 points. The Chicago White Sox finished third with 28 first-place ballots and 2,276 points.

The predicted final standings:

Tigers Going To Lamesa Friday

Snyder's defending champions, off to a good start in the 1964 District 3AAA baseball race, will take their campaign to Lamesa tomorrow.

The Bengals will square off with the winless Tornadoes of Lamesa High at 4:15 p.m. on the Lamesa diamond.

In their only conference outing this season the Tigers decisioned the Sweetwater Mustangs, 9-2 here Tuesday afternoon.

The Tornadoes have gone to the post twice in district play and have a pair of losses to show for their efforts. The Lamesans dropped their opener to Brownfield, 13-4, and then sustained an 11-3 shellacking at the hands of the Colorado City Wolves.

The Colorado City team is leading the district race so far with a record of two victories in as many starts. Snyder and Brownfield have perfect records, but they have played only one conference game each.

The Wolves defeated Sweetwater in their opener, putting the Mustangs in a tie with Lamesa for the league cellar.

Black Arm Bands For Colts In Memory Of Jim Umbricht

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Colts will wear black arm bands during the National League baseball season in memory of Jim Umbricht.

The big right-handed relief pitcher died Wednesday of cancer, 13 months after it was discovered. He was 33.

The Chicago native underwent surgery a month before the baseball season started last year and made a remarkable comeback with a 4-3 record.

During the second half of the 1963 season he was one of the National League's leading relief pitchers with a 2.61 earned run average for 76 innings while appearing in 35 games.

Russ Kemmerer, a former teammate now with Houston's Oklahoma City farm club, will give the eulogy at funeral services Friday afternoon. The body will be cremated.

Colt Manager Harry Craft, Coach Luman Harris, infielder Bob Lillis and pitcher Ken Johnson will fly to Houston from the Colts' Cocoa, Fla. spring training camp for the services.

Houston's scheduled exhibition game Friday with Milwaukee at Cocoa was canceled.

George Kirksey, Colt executive vice president, said Umbricht remained in good spirits until the end and said he was determined to get back into uniform.

Colt General Manager Paul Richards said Umbricht was "one of the finest competitors I've ever known on or off a baseball field."

Colt officials said the players will wear black arm bands on opening day and the remainder of the season.

Last year's operation involved what doctors called a rare but lethal "black mole" tumor, a form of cancer which starts with a black mole on an arm or leg.

DIES—Jim Umbricht, 33-year-old pitcher for the Houston Colts of the National League, died in a Houston hospital of cancer. Umbricht had made a comeback from a massive cancer operation on March 7, 1963 to pitch one more season. He had returned to the active list in less than three months after the surgery. During the off-season the disease reappeared and he was hospitalized on March 16. (AP Wirephoto)

The disease began to appear in the chest area last season but Umbricht and Colt officials kept the development a closely guarded secret.

The cancer continued to spread and Umbricht, who weighed 210 pounds and stood 6-4, entered the hospital again March 16.

Umbricht was honored at a Philadelphia dinner early this year as the most courageous athlete of 1963.

In accepting the award, he said "some of us don't have time to slow down and take stock of ourselves."

"But six weeks in a hospital bed gives you time to think. . . and come out a better human being. I'm sure everything will come out all right."

Umbricht did not go with the Colts to spring training in late February. The Colts had signed him to a scout's contract. The National League gave special permission for the contract to be signed.

Umbricht was captain of the baseball and basketball teams at the University of Georgia. He broke into pro baseball in 1953 with the Waycross of the Georgia-Florida League.

He was traded to Pittsburgh from the Milwaukee organization in 1959. Houston obtained him from Pittsburgh for $50,000 in the 1961 player pool.

In five years at Pittsburgh and Houston, Umbricht pitched 194 innings in 88 games for a 9-5 record and a 3.06 earned run average.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eduard Umbricht and a brother, Ed, all of Houston.

Desire For Better Goulash Fosters Caution In Krush

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev's desire for goulash explains why a man in this country can be radical at 19 but conservative at 45.

He had nothing to lose at 19, but a lot at 45: A house, wife, kids to put through school, ambitions to be company president and a pension if he lives long enough.

As Khrushchev said in a jibe at the war-minded Red Chinese who defame him for not being war-minded enough: "We didn't fight the revolution in order to live worse."

Goulash was his way of saying he prefers prosperity to revolution. It's a reflection of Russia's growing affluence, which is a good, practical reason for being less belligerent and reckless.

Like the man of 45, Khrushchev isn't anxious to risk a nuclear war which would wipe out all the Russians have struggled to achieve—a better life—since the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

This makes the Russian-Red Chinese split in a very deep sense a difference between the haves and the have-nots of communism.

The Russian masses in their revolutionary days, like the Chinese now, didn't have much to lose but their lives and must have felt, as their acceptance of communism showed, that anything was better than nothing.

In time this may prove true with the poor of Latin America and elsewhere for, where there are impoverished millions and the wealthy few resist reforms, communism has an excellent talking point.

Now after two generations of work and privation the Russians, as a nation and individually, through the acquisition of possessions have won a sense of domestic security, a condition that can dampen revolutionary ardor.

At least it can by this reasoning: Revolution disturbs, peace preserves.

This doesn't mean, and Khrushchev's words can't be interpreted as meaning, the Russians have become too placid to encourage revolt where it suits them if the revolt doesn't risk all-out war.

While he has preached all-out war, he considered as acceptable the so-called "liberation movements" which can take in everything from guerrilla wars to uprisings.

The Soviet leadership has to feel, by its doctrine, that the best world is a Communist one, and the sooner the better. But even here the leaders must have some misgivings about believing it totally.

They have learned from their unhappy experiences with those renegades from Soviet control—Yugoslavia, Albania, Red China—that a Communist world might not necessarily be a peaceful one after all.

Such divisions in a Communist world might put Moscow in a new jeopardy, but this time from its ideological brothers instead of from capitalism.

This is what Red China would like, judging from its hostility to Moscow now, and what she apparently has been seeking in her attacks on Khrushchev and her appeals to the Russian satellites to cut loose.

This condition has its own irony: If Red China became the center of a Communist world, no doubt, judging from Russia's troubles with her one-time allies, there would be fresh divisions and hostility to Peking.

The reason: Nationalism has been a stronger force than communism, even within the Communist states. So long as this is true, and it shows no signs of diminishing, it will assert itself to the disadvantage of Red harmony.

The Red Chinese, being now in the position of the Russians of 1917, can afford to be cantankerous, adventuresome and reckless, since they have less to lose in worldly goods than their prosperous Russian neighbor.

When To Sleep Is A Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

When to stay awake, when to go asleep—that is one of the biggest problems of human living.

I, for one, have been unable to solve it to my complete satisfaction. Most of the people I know complain of the same disability.

The mark of eternal childhood is the unwillingness to go to bed at night and the reluctance to get up in the morning—the stubborn wish to hold on to today, the best we know, and the reluctance to face tomorrow, the most we have to fear.

To a child sleep is a form of death, one he fights with all the violence of his being, the violence of his awareness, as far as he can. He yields to sleep only as a warrior pauses from struggle when he is completely exhausted by endeavor and can march no farther.

The child unconsciously says of any day: "This is the only forever I know. I must not let it go."

The grownup says: "Oh, to the devil with this day — I've had enough of it. I'll rest now, and try again tomorrow."

Can you remember as a child how you lay awake in the dark and watched the reflected lights of cars passing by on the streets make strange hobgoblin patterns on the wallpaper of your bedroom? What worlds of newness of imagination they illuminated!

Have you ever watched an infant asleep—how it lies upon its back widespread, fists clenched in sighful desperation?

It is the infant that still wants to get up and go, a Marco Polo interrupted in the still unfulfilled exploration of the geography of the day.

It is the older person, made cowardly by the defeats of many days, who half curls himself, his arm around the solace of the pillow, and assumes again the cuddled posture of the unborn, when the womb was his world.

As one ages and the conflict between his remaining duties and his gathering uncertainties wistfully confuses him, sleep becomes more of a problem.

"I find I don't need as much sleep as I did before," many an old person says.

This isn't really quite true.

The truth is that a child is altogether awake while it is awake and it is usually fully asleep when it is asleep.

A middle-aged or elderly person, on the other hand, lives in a kind of twilight world. He is half asleep when he is awake, and he is half awake when he is supposed to be asleep. He is caught between the daze of experience and the necessary doze his system requires.

He sleeps better sitting up than lying down. The best tranquilizer for him isn't a chemical pill but an after dinner speaker.

The other evening I went to a banquet and heard a fellow outline our foreign policy. When I awoke I felt better than I had in years.

Anybody over 40 who can't get a full night's sleep out of a four-hour banquet is in serious trouble.

Junior Editors Quiz on MT. EVEREST

QUESTION: Who was first to climb Mount Everest?

* * *

ANSWER: Since the beginning of recorded time until May 29, 1953, the summit of Mount Everest, 29,028 feet high, had remained unvisited by man. This point, had been the target for the most daring climbers, but toward Evefest's summit, the air becomes so thin that it makes it difficult and dangerous to continue. Seven major expeditions had attacked Everest without success; 16 men lost their lives in the effort.

In 1953 a new expedition was organized by an expert mountaineer, Sir John Hunt. This group tackled the mountain on the south side, which former mountaineers had declared impossible to scale. Hunt set up a series of camps. Camp VIII, at 25,000 feet, was pitched on May 24. From here, supplies were carried still higher. Then a two-man assault team tried for the summit and failed. Now it was the turn of the second team of Sir Edmund Hillary and the experienced native Sherper Tenzing. Up, up they went and finally Hillary saw a little mound of snow ahead from which everything sloped down. It was the summit, and soon they were standing where none had stood before. It was May 29, 1953.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: The first victory was by a British expedition, but on May 1, 1963, the American flag was flown from the summit by an American and a native Sherpa. Three weeks later 4 other Americans duplicated this feat. Find and read the thrilling story of the American Mount Everest Expedition.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — When it comes to railroading Mrs. Cora Van Milligen is extremely narrow minded. Because she won a curious battle with officials here to preserve a narrow gauge railroad which is one of the world's most unique operations.

The line has been known only as the Cuautla Line. It being an antique link connecting Mexico City with Cuautla in the Cuernavaca country.

The little train toots along on Disneyland-type tracks for the six-hour jaunt. Through the Valley of Anahuac, winding around the base of the big snow covered volcanoes, through villages and market places in a technicolor ride.

In the revolutionary days, Gen. Emiliano Zapata reportedly tied Federals he caught to the track and watched the train go by.

So all of a sudden a railroad official looked in the files one day and said, "Hey fellers, that midget train is still chugging to Cuautla."

Offocials said it ought to be discontinued in the interests of progress.

Enter Mrs. Cora Van Milligen, an English lady who resides here and staunchly defends the preservation of tradition.

Mrs. Van Milligen began pointing out many things to the railroad gentlemen. She said look at the way this little rattler rattles through quaint villages and stops right in the middle of markets. Rural ladies trade the engineer several tomatoes for a bucket of Saturday night hot bath water from the locomotive.

The railroad gentlemen winced and said it was a shabby example.

Then she said look at the engineer. He wears white cotton suits that look like pajamas, a straw hat and sandals.

Some of the railroaders began getting out their tranquilizers. For this is not an example of Modern Mexico.

And she said sometimes the engineer stopped the train to visit friends living along the way and passengers got off to wander around and pick flowers.

Everybody set up a terrible commotion and declared the railroad would go because it was obsolete.

"Obsolete?" inquired Mrs. Van Milligen (British subjects do not shout the way we do). "It is historical and what you have in mind would be like ripping up part of the nation's heritage."

The railroad gentlemen said bah! They would put in a standard gauge line with diesel equipment. Progress must be maintained.

Mrs. Van Milligen said oh well, it was only a million dollar tourist attraction. They began looking at each other. And she added that the ancient Colorado and Western, a narrow gauge touriest gimmick out of Denver, sold 50,000 tickets in three months last summer.

Officials said, "Howzat again now?"

So she said there are 400,000 railroad fans in the U. S. of A. and half of them would be interested in riding this choo choo.

The government took an oath to preserve its historic past and keep the show on the road. Right through the villages and markets.

AFS Student Is Speaker

Mike Koenig, foreign exchange student from Hanover, Germany, presented the program at Wednesday's Kiwanis Club luncheon

He told the group about his home town and showed color slides.

The program was introduced by Bob Crowell, in whose home young Koenig makes his home while attending Snyder High School.

In observance of National Boys' Club Week, Herb Barnett, director of Scurry County Boys' Club, was a guest at the meeting. The club heard a short talk by a Boys' Club member, Carroll Marsh, who told what the Boys' Club has meant to him.

Norman Fulks, Kiwanis president, presided at the meeting, and luncheon music was presented by Nancy Meador, club sweetheart.

USDA Ends Lard Buying

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department lard purchase program inaugurated last September has been ended with buying over the period totaling 109.9 million pounds at a cost of $13,480,000.

The lard helped bolster hog prices and supplied the school lunch program and needy persons.

Under a new beef purchase program—designed also to bolster sagging cattle prices—the department has bought 31.3 million pounds at a cost of $16,845,000. These purchases represented about 3.2 per cent of the beef produced under federal inspection since the buying began early in March.

Like the lard, the beef is being donated the school lunch program and needy persons.

The lard buying program was ended when hog prices improved.

Goldwater Plans Tour In Texas

By The Associated Press

U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is trying to work in a Texas appearance before the May 2 primary elections, state Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell says.

O'Donnell predicted Goldwater's drive for the Republican nomination will draw a record 300,000 Republicans in the primary.

"People's thinking is coming our way. There is a growing disenchantment with Democrats," O'Donnell said in Austin at a news conference. He said the GOP is taking advantage of the trend by holding primary elections in all 254 counties.

In Victoria, gubernatorial candidate Don Yarborough of Houston said he was "gaining daily" on Gov. John Connally and was now within "shooting distance of victory" in the Democratic primary.

Yarborough accused Connally of pulling Gordon McLendon into the U.S. Senate race merely to work for a Connally victory in the primary. He accused them of "a conspiracy to urge Republicans to vote in the Democratic primary."

Yarborough also attacked Connally's record and said the governor had failed to accomplish promised "great strides in education."

Connally was in his Austin office Wednesday. In the afternoon, he appeared before his Committee on Education Beyond the High School Level.

McLendon, a Dallas Democrat, said in Brownsville that U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, no relation to the Houston candidate, was over-impressed with the federal government. McLendon said Yarborough believes the way to make people happy and prosperous "is to concentrate more and more power in the national government — in short, to treat them like sheep tended by federal shepherds."

Another Senate candidate, Republican Jack Cox, predicted Senator Yarborough 'will do absolutely nothing to halt the passage" of the civil rights bill. Cox spoke to the Tyler Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Yarborough planned to return to Texas today after the Senate quit work for the weekend.

Dan Sullivan, a former aide of Senator Yarborough and now Democratic candidate for congressman at large, took up for Yarborough in a statement at Seminole. He said the attempts by one of his opponents, Robert W. Baker, to rob Yarborough of credit for the Padre Island National Seashore area was a 'crude stunt."

In a Texarkana speech, Baker, a Democrat, said education is the key to success in the struggle against communism. Yet, he added, "the incumbent (U.S. Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex) consistently votes against everything except a $10,000 pay raise for himself."

Robert Morris, Republican candidate for Senate, told Dallas and Richardson audiences that U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevenson and Sen. J. W. Fulbright have made "fantastic utterances" on foreign policy and the communist danger. "It should become crystal clear that the Republican party today is the only effective instrument of resistance to the tide that is now running against us," Morris said.

Another GOP contender for the Senate, Milton Davis, said in Fort Worth he is the only true economic conservative in the race. Davis said he particularly favors a "liberty amendment" to the U.S. Constitution to ban personal income taxes.

Junior Members In Angus Association

Evelyn Starnes, 16, and Royce Starnes, 13, Snyder, have been granted junior memberships in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Mo., announces Glen Bratcher, secretary.

Their new junior memberships entitles the members to register purebred Angus at regular membership rates and to the privileges of the Association until the age of 21. At that time junior members are eligible to convert to lifetime memberships in the Association.

The Starnes' were among the 303 young people in the United States to receive junior memberships last month.

Burleson Makes Active Campaign

Omar Burleson, veteran Congressman from the 17th District, is conducting a vigorous, active campaign for the Democratic Primary nomination for re-election.

In seeking reelection, Burleson states he is basing his campaign on his record of nearly 18 years service in Congress.

"In that time, I have never been a rubber-stamp, but have fulfilled my responsibility to vote on each issue for the best interest of my County, my State, and my District," Burleson said.

"I do not think the people of the 17th District want or deserve anything less."

REP. OMAR BURLESON

Burleson, at 58, is already one of the senior members of the U.S. House of Representatives in point of service.

His seniority has carried him to the Chairmanship of the potent House Administration Committee, and to the third ranking position on the powerful House Foreign Affairs Committee. In addition, Burleson serves on two important Joint Committees formed from senior members of the House and Senate, as Chairman of one and Vice Chairman of the other.

"In all my years in Congress," Burleson said, "I have followed two guiding principles. First to know the views of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest degree possible in my actions as their Representative. Second, to inform and advise as closely as I can on those issues which affect my District, my State, and the Nation.

Burleson termed his approach to government as one of "common sense," gained through his years of public service.

A former Special Agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Burleson is former County Attorney and County Judge of Jones County, and served three years during World War II with the Navy in the Pacific.

As a leader in Congress, Burleson has consistently urged the return to a sounder fiscal policy, and the cutting of unnecessary and extravagant federal spending.

"I have tried to see that your tax money is spent as wisely, and as frugally as you would have spent it had you been in my place," Burleson said. "The record will definitely show that on many occasions I have found myself in the minority - especially on needless spending of the taxpayers' money. I am proud that I have never failed to exercise the right to vote and to do as I thought best."

"At every session of Congress, I have voted for expenditures below that recommended by the Executive Department, and far below that actually appropriated by the Congress, except in the field of National Defense," Burleson said.

"When it comes to the defense of this Country, I have always voted for those things calculated to make and to keep our Nation stronger than any other in the world," he said.

Burleson has been an implacable foe of the constant encroachment of the Federal Government into the area of State and local affairs.

"As the Federal Government has grown to its colossal proportions, and threat of centralized power in Washington has increased," Burleson pointed out, "To this, I am opposed, as my actions have proved."

"Big Government and high taxes are the result of many activities of the Federal Government which should be reserved to the States. Big government with its far-flung operations has created needless waste and extravagance."

Burleson stated he was proud of the "trust and the confidence placed in me by the people who send me to Congress — and to violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable."

He urged residents of the 17th District not familiar with his background of service to investigate the record he has made — and if you believe I have been faithful to duty and worthy of your continued support, then your active participation in my campaign will be greatly appreciated."

Well-known throughout Texas, Burleson is a native of the 17th District. He was born and raised on a farm betwen Anson and Stamford in Jones County. He attended rural school, and graduated from Anson High School. Following graduation, Burleson attended Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, and graduated from Cumberland Law School. Later, he studied postgraduate law at the University of Texas.

Burleson married Ruth DeWeese, daughter of Reverend R. D. DeWeese, who pastored Baptist Churches in West and South Texas.

Judges Charged In Tax Evasion

By GAYLORD SHAW

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —Federal indictments have charged two prominent judges, who together have served 56 years on the Oklahoma Supreme Court, with evading payment of $25,000 in income taxes.

The indictments returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury named Justice Earl Welch, long a leader in Oklahoma Indian affairs, and supernumerary Judge N. S. Corn.

U.S. Dist. Atty. B. Andrew Potter said both said they would appear before a U.S. Commissioner today and post $5,000 bond. The judges were not taken into custody after the indictments were returned.

Welch, 72, is senior member of the state's highest court with 32 years continuous service. Corn, 80, went into semiretirement in 1958 after 24 years as a Supreme Court justice. As a supernumerary judge, he is assigned by the Supreme Court to hear a few cases a year.

Both judges are Democrats.

Welch was indicted on five counts and faces a maximum prison sentence of 25 years and a $50,000 fine. Corn was named on three counts of tax evasion and two counts of wilfully filing an incorrect tax return. He faces up to 21 years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

Neither judge would comment on the indictments. Corn said: "I had a heart attack some time ago. I don't want to be bothered." A spokesman at Welch's home said the judge would have nothing to say.

The indictments accused Welch of evading payment of $13,462 in federal income taxes from 1957 through 1961.

Corn was indicted for evading $11,763 in taxes from 1957 through 1959.

MIDLAND (AP)—Two Shreveport women were killed early today when theft car hit a heavy oil equipment truck, went under it and traveled another 404 feet.

The women, thrown from the car, were Sandra Phillips, 21, and Zela Ranier, 36.

Police Lt. John Farrell said the truck, driven by John Johnson, 27, of Odessa, had pulled out onto U. S. 80 from a crossroad. Farrell said the women's car hit it dead center and the top of the car was sheared off as it passed underneath.

Statue To Symbolize Friendship

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—A bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln will be unveiled here Friday as a symbol of friendship and cooperation between the United States and Mexico.

U. S. Senators Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Wayne Morse of Oregon are scheduled to be on hand, along with other legislators from both sides of the border.

The 18-foot-tall statute stands in the Programa Nacional Fronterizo (ProNaF) project site in Ciudad Juarez.

ProNaF is a $14 million project designed to show American visitors the Mexican way of life, the country's attractions and its merchandise. The site is less than a mile from the Rio Grande bridge linking this city with El Paso.

Ciudad Juarez and El Paso are the two largest cities on the Texas-Mexican border.

The ceremonies will coincide with a three-day meeting beginning today of the U. S. Highway 180 association and the Mexican Highway 45 Association.

The meeting will encourage two - way travel through the Juarez - El Paso gateway.

Among speakers will be New Mexico Gov. Jack Campbell and U. S. Boundary and Water Commissioner Joseph Friedkin.

The Lincoln statue, commissioned by the Mexican government, is the sculpture of Angel Terrac of Mexico. It is adjacent to the Museum of Mexican Culture and History at the beginning of Avenido Abraham Lincoln.

The statue will also symbolize the friendship between Lincoln and Benito Juarez, the Mexico revolutionary hero for whom this city is named.

Protocol Has Queen Busy While Visiting In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Protocol ceremonies today are scheduled to keep Netherlands Queen Juliana fairly busy on the second day of her Mexican tour which has taken on the air of a family vacation with old friends rather than a formal state visit.

"More than an official tour, this is a pleasant reunion of families who like each other very much," a high Mexican official commented.

And it looked like it Wednesday when, after formal welcome ceremonies were concluded at the airport, there was a flurry of embraces and kisses exchanged between Queen Juliana, Prince Bernhard, Princess Beatrix and Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, his wife, and their daughter.

Another indication of the informality of the visit by the Dutch royal family came when officials revealed that no communique would be issued as customary following meetings of heads of state.

Queen Juliana, the first ruling monarch ever to visit Mexico, quickly won the hearts of Mexicans with her gracious manner and her obvious delight with the colorful reception prepared by the Mexicans.

Showers of flowers, confetti and gay Mexican troubadour music filled the air.

This morning the queen and the prince will start their protocol activity by placing a wreath at the monument to Mexican independence.

They are then scheduled to visit the National Institute for the Protection of Infancy which is directed by Mrs. Lopez Mateos. One of the principal activities of the institute is the preparation and delivery of school lunches.

Next they are to receive the keys to the city from the governor of the Federal District Ernesto P. Uruchurtu.

President and Mrs. Lopez Mateos will give a luncheon for the Dutch royal family at the National Palace.

In the afternoon they will be taken on a tour of the National Museum of Anthropology.

Tonight Mexican Foreign Minister Jose Gorostiza will give a formal reception for the royal visitors.
