United Fund Elects New Directors

The directors of the Scurry County United Fund met Tuesday for the final report meeting of the 1964 campaign.

It was reported that $25,297.-00 in gifts and pledges had been received. The goal this year was $32,500.

New board members were elected for a three - year term. They were E. H. Williamson, Joe Williamson, Bill Starnes, R. C. Patton, John Boren, Lyle Deffebach, Roy McCloskey, "Sis" Jones, Mark McLaughlin and Bob Crowell. H.F. Clark was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Bill Brown who moved from the city.

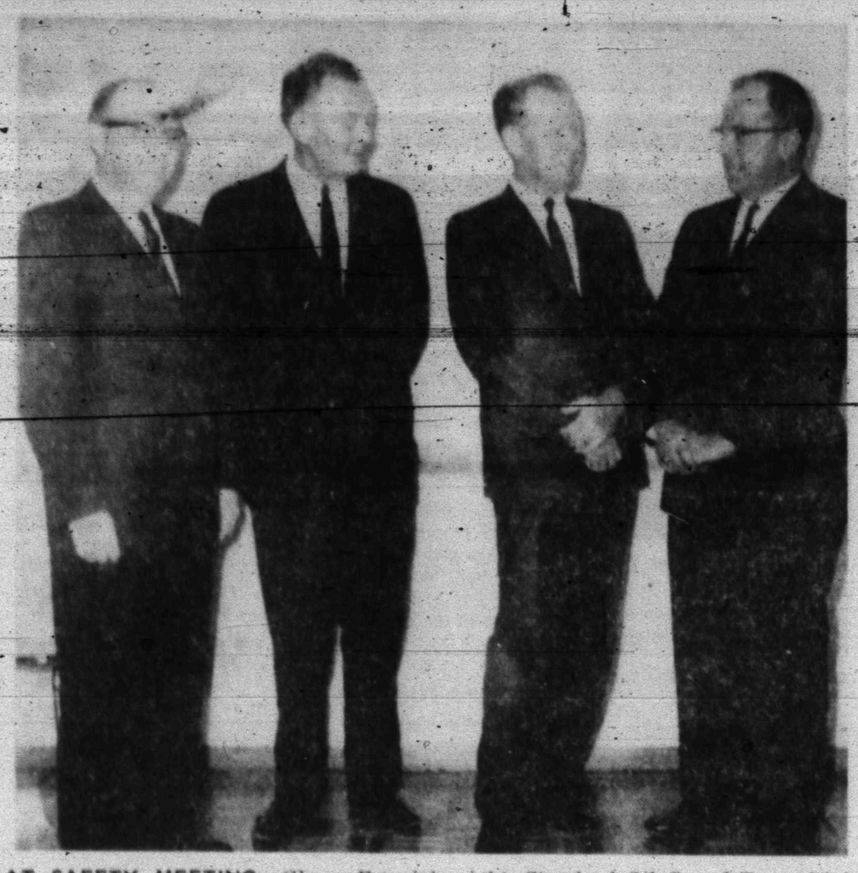

The present slate of officers, which had served for only about two months, were all re - elected for a full year. They are Bud England, president; Bill Seale, first vice - president; Gene Thompson, second vice - president; Woody Forrester, secretary, and Martin Brooks, treasurer.

Seale, who was general campaign chairman this year, also accepted that position for the 1965 drive with the understanding that a co - chairman would be named. It was the board's feeling that co - chairmen to serve for two years each, with staggered terms, would give continuity to the drives.

A planning group consisting of H. A. Johnson, Jr., John Boren and Bill Butler was named to select a co - chairman and to make plans for next year's drive.

Seale said that he felt confident that next year's drive would be far more successful than this year's since the planning and arrangements could be done well in advance rather than at the last minute as was the case this year.

The amount of money collected this year was slightly less than last, but since no professional fund raiser was employed, the amount to be distributed to the various participating agencies is expected to be at least as much as they received from the 1963 drive.

AT SAFETY MEETING—Glenn Emerick, right, Standard Oil Co. of Texas Division Safety Engineer from Midland, is shown congratulating personnel of the SACROC District on their completion of eight years without a time-lost accident at a banquet Tuesday. From left are Jim Mathis, SACROC District Engineer and Safety Engineer; Norman Phillips and James Thompson, production foremen of the SACROC District.

It will probably happen this year that in many homes on Christmas morning someone will say "I hope everyone is having as happy a Christmas as we are!"

Those folks who gave to the Goodfellows will know that they did their part, and they'll feel good about it. Those who just never got around to helping the Goodfellows will wish they had — but it'll be too late.

Now is the time to help. Will you be a Goodfellow?

SACROC Logs Eight Safe Years

On Sept. 6 the SACROC District of Standard Oil Co. of Texas set a company - wide safety record when they completed eight years without a time - lost accident.

In recognition of this outstanding safety record, all 56 personnel of the District were honored Tuesday evening with a banquet at the Snyder Country Club.

As of Dec. 1, the eight and one - quarter years free of a lost - time accident represented a total of 696,473 man - hours working time logged by the SACROC District.

M. L. Broman, District Production Superintendent of the SACROC District, was to have presided at the banquet, but was unable to do so on account of illness. In his absence, R. H. Melton, Office Services Supervisor, presided and brought a message from Broman in which he stated that all personnel of the District should be complimented for this outstanding safety accomplishment.

Broman's message particularly praised the operating and mechanical personnel who are supervised by Production Foremen J. A. Thompson and N. H. Philips, and by Gang Foremen R. H. Crawford and Jerry Hardin.

W. Mathis is District Engineer, and also serves as Safety Engineer for the SACROC District.

G. M. Emerick, formerly of Snyder and now Lead Production and Construction Engineer of Standard's Western Production Division and Division Safety Engineer in Midland brought official congratulations to the SACROC District from the Standard of Texas management.

George R. Killam, County Attorney of Scurry County, brought an address in which he pointed out that industrial safety must parallel the fantastic technological advances which are being made today. Good safety habits, practiced by today's workers, will help the coming generation develop good safety attitudes in the future, the speaker said.

Wilson Claims Talks Completely Successful

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today his talks with President Johnson have been completely successful in setting objectives for the formation of a nuclear weapons force in NATO and laying guidelines for Allied consultation.

Wilson also declared at a news conference winding up his Washington conferences that "we are prepared to go forward with all proposals" including a U.S. plan for an Allied jointly owned and mixed-manned nuclear surface fleet.

West Germany would be a central member of this force.

Wilson expressed hope that the French government of President Charles de Gaulle will be interested in the new, broadened approach to a solution of the nuclear weapons problem in NATO which has been worked out here.

Wilson declined to be drawn into a detailed discussion of the proposals which he made to Johnson, saying he will deal with them and with his policy toward the U.S. multilateral force plan in a speech in the House of Commons next week.

He would not say at this time whether Britain would be willing to be an active member of the mixed-manned force, or would help pay for it.

Britain's primary interest, however, is in getting creation of the nuclear force to which the British would assign their bomber and prospective nuclear submarine units with Allied sharing of the costs as well as the strategic control.

In two days of conferences ended Tuesday night, Wilson and Johnson agreed that the United States and Britain will start urgent consultations with other nations this week aimed at working out the broadened NATO nuclear program in more concrete detail.

The two leaders reportedly stopped short of trying to agree on a formula embracing the new, broader approach, but officials said they had reached accord on the general guidelines to be followed in the consultations.

A communique, released at the White House, bore out the evidence of accord on next steps, saying:

"They agreed that the objective in this field is to cooperate in finding the arrangements which best meet the legitimate interests of all members of the alliance, while maintaining existing safeguards on the use of nuclear weapons, and preventing their further proliferation."

Wilson scheduled a midmorning news conference at the British Embassay, and it was expected that he would provide further information on the results of his sessions with Johnson.

Johnson was to meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in late afternoon, and this meeting offered the President an opportunity to inform the Soviet government that, in his view, the prospective NATO nuclear organization will be a barrier to the spreading of nuclear weapons. The Russians claim that such an organization would place nuclear weapons in West German hands.

Board Approves Textbook Panel

Snyder School Trustees appointed a faculty textbook committee and instructed the administration to proceed with plans for a citizens conference at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Robert Clinton, superintendent, and Pat Falls, assistant superintendent, were authorized to appoint some citizens to serve with faculty members on the textbook panel.

The first week in March, which will be Texas Education Week, was named tentatively as the date for a citizens conference. A similar conference was held here in 1956, and Dr. Clinton said records revealed that many worthwhile suggestions came out of the session and many of them had subsequently been put into practice.

Faculty members named to the textbook committee include LaNelle Rambin, Central, and Johnnye Bishop, East, elementary math; Jimmy Lynch, Lamar, 8th grade government; Charley Sparks, Travis, driver education; Harry Newton, Travis and Al Ray Young, Lamar, 7th and 8th grade science; Haskell Beard, Lamar and Virginia Grove, Senior High, Math I; Ronald Foy, Senior High, woodworking; Katherine Northcutt, Senior High, 12th grade government; Bob Cole and Ben Brock, Senior High, biology; Carol Davis, Travis, and Martha Zeck, Lamar, 7th and 8th grade readers.

The board approved a 12 per cent increase in rates for Blue Cross hospitalization insurance. Blue Cross had asked for an 18 per cent increase last summer, but the school administration had asked a delay until the end of the year with the hope that the local utilization rate would decrease during the intervening months. The rate will increase by 48 cents per month for an individual, $1.20 for an individual with one dependent and by $1.35 for a family.

Falls gave a brief report on a textbook audit. He said that due to a request by the state that some surplus textbooks be returned there might be shortages in some areas where books have been in use over a period of several years due to year-to-year attrition. He said no pupil was without texts, but that in case of additional enrollment in some areas it might become necessary for the school to purchase a few books.

"I've only got to look at a boy I like, and I break out in spots."

Toppling of Canyon Drive-In screen makes change in Snyder skyline

SAWS AND AXES were used as a crew cut away the poles under the huge Canyon Drive-In tower Tuesday. Fourteen poles held the building.

THE SCREEN tower fell fast following a gentle tug from a giant winch truck after the last two supports were cut almost in two.

DOWN ON THE GROUND the wreckage seemed larger than the screen had been. The tower was built in 1950, and featured a mural by the late R. H. McBride. The cowboys in the 30 by 70 foot scene had the faces of Gregory Peck and Lionel Barrymore.

"TAKE 'ER UP" signals Buzz Wyhe, Musslewhite Trucking employe, as the quick truck is used to pull the cut-off posts from their deep holes.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorcee 29, with two children and am considered attractive. About a year ago I spotted an eligible bachelor in town, so I moved into his apartment building hoping to make his acquaintance. I made his acquaintance, all right, but that's about all. He says hello pleasantly when we meet in the hall, but I've never been able to get him into my apartment. I telephoned him one evening to tell him my bedroom window was stuck (it really was) so he sent a janitor up with a hammer. He's not going with anybody special and he's not a goody - goody because I've seen him entertain women in his apartment. None of them is as attractive as I. How can I get him interested without having it look like I'm chasing him?

GETTING NOWHERE

DEAR GETTING: It's not easy to chase a man without having it "look like" you're doing what you're doing. Face it. He's not interested in you. And any more moves in his direction will make your scheming so obvious that he's apt to hide when he sees you coming.

DEAR ABBY: I was one of nine children in a very poor family so I had to quit school in the 6th grade. I always wanted to get a better education but I never had the chance. I feel so bad when my 8th grade son asks me to help him with his homework and I am too dumb to help him. My husband can't help him either, as he never got through the 7th grade himself. I asked around and found out there is a night school for grownups. I could go four nights a week from 6 to 8. My husband laughed at me and said he never heard of a 32-year-old woman going back to school. My heart is broken. Please tell me what to do.

WANTS TO LEARN

DEAR WANTS: Your husband should quit laughing long enough to learn a few things. Adult education has been a lifesaver to many who have decided to complete their educations in their 40's, 50's and 60's. You are to be commended.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a very nosy neighborhood. Yesterday, the woman next door ran to her window the minute she heard a car pull up in front of my house. I saw her peeking through her Venetian blinds. And she saw me, too. Then she called me on the phone and said, "I didn't mean to be nosy. I just wanted to see who it was, and by the way, I didn't recognize him. Who WAS he?" Another neighbor stopped me in front of my house and said she had heard I was collecting Social Security and she was curious to know if I got it by the month or by the week and how much was it.

I have always minded my own business and have never seen the equal of such nerve. I am not able to cope with it. What do you suggest?

FLABBERGASTED

DEAR FLABBERGASTED: Go on minding your own business and ignore those who insist on helping you do it.

DEAR ABBY: How can my husband and I invite friends for dinner, but tactfully ask them not to bring their children? Abby, we love children, and have three of our own, but we never drag them along to the homes of friends when we are invited for dinner. Would it be rude if I said specifically please to leave their children at home?

MRS. H. IN ONTARIO

DEAR MRS. H.: If you don't want people who "bring their children," don't invite people who "bring their children."

Bid For Two-Ton Hippo Just Isn't Taken Lightly

NEW YORK (AP) — "What in the world are they going to do with it?" the city's purchase commissioner said when he discovered that three Smith College girls had entered the high bid of $400 for a surplus 4,000-pound hippopotamus.

"A 10-year-old hippopotamus is nothing to toss around lightly," Commissioner Roger J. Browne said Tuesday after the bids were opened.

He said the girls must prove they can take care of Betsy, described as less than friendly. A good idea, he said, would be to donate the animal to a zoo.

At the college at Northampton, Mass., the girls said that they entered the bid "sort of out of pity" for the unwanted hippo.

Browne said he must have a formal letter and a deposit before the bid can be considered. The next high bid was $150.

A Smith College spokesman didn't think too kindly of the idea by Nancy Horner, 20, of Worcester, Mass.; Ann Longfellow, 19, of Wayzata, Minn., and Ellen Emerson, 19, of Concord, Mass.

"The college is not prepared to handle a hippopotamus on campus," the spokesman declared in a neat understatement.

Betsy, the subject of the fuss, rested in Brooklyn's Prospect Park Zoo. The head keeper there, R. Ellis, said: "She'd just as soon eat you as look at you."

The girls shuddered a bit when told of the hippo's demeanor. But Miss Longfellow said bravely: "We wanted a hippopotamus and if this is what a hippopotamus is like, we'll take what comes."

There's something else the Smith trio must know about the hippo is not coming; they'll have to go get her.

"They will have to take her as is where she is," the commissioner declared. "We don't deliver."

A TROPHY representing seven years of work without a disabling injury was presented Tuesday to the Texaco Cogdell Unit employes by George N. Wilson of Midland, third from left. The dinner was in recognition of these employes having worked for a period of seven years without a disabling industrial injury.

G. N. Wilson, Sr., Assistant General Superintendent, Midland, presented a safety award trophy to Watkins.

Other speakers included T. P. Drew, District Superintendent; S. P. Kent, Assistant District Superintendent; and R. C. Gray, Employe Relations Assistant, all of Midland.

Local safety officers include R. J. Walker, First Aid Instructor, who acted as master of ceremonies; V. L. Fleming, Safety Meeting Chairman; and F. C. Payne, Safety Meeting Secretary.

Engineers Study Info From Glider

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Engineers began today evaluating data radioed from a Project Asset glider which rocketed over a searing 8,800-mile-an-hour suborbital course Tuesday night.

The information could aid in the design of future spacecraft that will maneuver and land like airplanes.

The six-foot-long black metal glider raced 33 miles into space atop a single-stage Thor rocket and then plunged back through the earth's atmosphere as temperatures up to 2,000 degrees fahrenheit scorched its delta-wing underside.

British Guiana Votes Anti-Red

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — An anti-Communist coalition government appears in prospect for this racially divided British colony on the northeast coast of South America.

With returns nearly complete from Monday's national election, Marxist Premier Cheddi Jagan had the most votes, but he failed to win the majority necessary to retain control of the National Assembly.

Returns representing 91 per cent of the vote gave Jagan's People's Progressive party 103,222 votes, opposition leader Forbes Burnham's People's National Congress 87,448, and industrialist Peter Daguiar's United Force 20,846.

On this basis, Jagan's party will get 24 seats, Burnham's 22, and Daguiar's 6 or 7. The opposition parties thus could outvote Jagan's forces.

Gov. Sir Richard Luyt is expected to call on Burnham, a pro-Western Socialist, to form a coalition government from his party and the United Force.

Burnham, 41, a massively built Negro lawyer, has his chief strength among the Negro population. Jagan's strength is among the colony's East Indians, who outnumber the Negroes 2 to 1. Terrorism and clashes between the two races during the past year have taken 167 lives and caused $1.3 million in property loss.

Jagan's failure to retain the legislative majority he won in 1961 resulted from a new system of proportional representation devised by the British to drive him from office. With the assembly's seats allocated according to the total vote won by each party, he needed more than half the total vote to get a majority of the 53 assembly seats.

American officials feared that Jagan, a Castro admirer, would turn British Guiana into another Cuba once it gained independence.

Britain has postponed any decision on independence, and the past year's upsurge of racial strife makes the prospect for an end to British rule uncertain.

Hearing Set For Sheriff

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Deputy Cecil Price confer with attorneys today on the eve of a hearing for them and 19 other white men charged in connection with the killing of three civil rights workers.

At a preliminary hearing at nearby Meridian Thursday, the Justice Department must show U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter enough evidence to continue charges against the 21 until a grand jury hears the cases.

Informed sources said the FBI's information will be made available to Dist. Atty. W. H. Johnson for possible state murder and conspiracy charges after the hearing.

The 21 were arrested last week in a sweeping FBI raid. Nineteen were charged with violating the rights of Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney, who disappeared in Neshova County five months ago while working on a civil rights project.

Two other men were charged with criminal knowledge of the slayings. The FBI identified at least eight of the 21 as Ku Klux Klansmen.

Pleas Are Heard In County Court

In county court Tuesday afternoon Joe Marvin Simmons entered a plea of not guilty through his attorney to a charge of aggravated assault. A bond of $500 was posted in the case.

Red Guerrillas Lose Viet Battle

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces won the Battle of An Lao today by recapturing a strategic hill from Communist guerrillas. But fighting erupted at a dozen other places in cenral Viet Nam and another American was killed.

A U.S. infantry officer died in a Viet Con ambush in coastal Phu Yen Province.

The toll of Americans killed in combat in South Viet Nam in the last three years rose to 231. Deaths from other war-related causes are listed at 95. Nearly 1,500 Americans have been wounded. Ten are missing and nine are detained by the Communists.

About a dozen Americans have been wounded in various parts of South Viet Nam this week.

The An Lao Valley was the scene of a hard, three-day action.

One U.S. soldier was killed, another was missing and two were wounded at the end of the fierce fighting in the valley 300 miles northeast of Saigon. More than 50 Vietnamese government soldiers were believed killed.

The Communists suffered at least 30 dead but captured two 4.2-inch mortars—the largest in general use in Viet Nam—and 300 rounds of ammunition. They also destroyed or damaged five armored amphibious personnel carriers.

A Vietnamese division commander said American air power saved the day. "Except for the helicopters, I'm sure the district headquarters would have been lost," he declared.

Novel Of Social Comment

LOOK AWAY, LOOK AWAY
By Ben Haas

In fictional form, this is a thorough exploration of the crosscurrents that make the Deep South's racial tensions so much a part of the current news.

The setting is a mythical state called Muskogee and there are two main figures limned in contrast — Cary Bradham, white, and Houston (Huse) Whitley, black. They had been playmates at 16, friends in their teens, and then had drifted apart. Cary had been a bomber pilot and Huse a truck driver in World War II.

Cary's father was a First Family, prideful, old political autocrat who had been forced in depression days to form a distasteful alliance with Hoke Moody, a cheap demagogue; it was his plan to groom Cary for the governorship and then doublecross Moody for the good of the state. He still thought of it as a Confederate state.

Huse came out of the service with a notion that a new day had come in race relations. Disillusioned on this point, he had become a bitterly silent conformist. But the pressures of segregation and the birth of a son aroused him to take over leadership of the local civil rights movement, bringing him into direct conflict with Cary, who had reached the lieutenant governorship.

There are many character - types in this novel, written by a North Carolinian. There is a Negro who treasures his near-white skin, and his beautiful daughter, who becomes an actress in the North, passing as white. There is a liberal editor, making a sacrifice. There is a superpatriotic, retired officer running a private anti - Negro army. There is a glib, money-catching Negro evangelist, and an ignorant bus driver who becomes a figure in the Klan.

Haas' novel is less literature than social comment. There are times when ideology gets in the way of drama, but there are many things in the book that illuminate our troubled times.

The author has created a vivid character in Huse Whitley, a tortured man who is forced by fate to find his dark way through tragic circumstances that are not of his own making.

Oxtail Stew

3½ to 4 pounds disjointed oxtails
¼ cup flour mixed with 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper
2 medium onions, pared and quartered
4 large carrots, pared and quartered
¼ cup minced parsley
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
Water (about 1 quart)

Coat the oxtails with the seasoned flour; brown them in a heavy kettle with a little fat if necessary. Add the onions, carrots, parsley, tomato sauce and 2 cups water. Bring to a boil; simmer until oxtail meat is very tender, about 3 hours, adding more water (½ cup at a time) during or toward end of cooking period. With a slotted spoon, remove oxtails and vegetables; cover and refrigerate. Cover and refrigerate gravy. At serving time, remove fat from top of gravy; reheat with oxtails and vegetables; add salt and pepper if needed. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Stretch that leftover turkey for sandwiches by adding thin slices of boiled ham; make the sandwiches as usual adding lettuce and mayonnaise spiked with lots of prepared mustard.

Sen. Fulbright's Comments Often Bring Acid Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright has a habit of making statements which rub against the American grain, for a time, and he gets criticized for them.

They are not self-righteous statements for he is an examiner of the American conscience and self-consciousness, a gadfly on this country's view of the world.

Nor are his statements original in the sense of proposing something new or unheard of. Rather, he acknowledges realities that are not being talked about or justifies policies that exist but on a small or hesitant scale.

At times he is a tart critic of American policy. Added together his statements are among the most thoughtful coming out of American public life, even if they are not all adopted.

Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat and chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, made another talk Tuesday at Dallas, this time about building bridges to the Communist world.

It was not popular for him during the 1961 Berlin crisis to say the West was not entirely blameless for Soviet pressure on the German City.

He said at the time: "We bear heavy responsibilities for the stupidities of this situation, which is to my shame, as it is to anyone in the West. Certainly it was not just the fault of the Russians."

The Russians then were demanding permanent division of Germany and Allied abandonment of Berlin. They didn't get what they wanted and adjusted to the reality that they couldn't.

The Allies themselves had made concessions to the Russians in 1959 negotiations on Berlin. In short, both sides began years ago to accommodate themselves to the realization that neither side can compel the other to submit to its will without a war which would annihilate both. Their problem, then, is to learn to live together.

This was the main theme of Fulbright's speech Tuesday. It was certainly not original. But his talk was well-reasoned and realistic. Just because it was realistic, it will probably bring him some criticism.

He angered a number of people last March when he suggested, in effect, that President Johnson stop playing to the gallery in his handling of foreign affairs by yielding to the "malady of chronic and excessive caution."

He said then: "An effective foreign policy is one which concerns itself more with innovation abroad than with conciliation at home. It is sometimes necessary for leaders to do unpleasant and unpopular things."

How long will this country and communism have to accommodate themselves to the idea that neither is going to disappear and both will have to live side by side?

"As far into the future," Fulbright said Tuesday, "as we can see we shall be living in a world of diverse and often conflicting interests and ideologies."

And he added: "I do not think there is reason for despair in this state of things. Compromises often turn out to be very much more tolerable than they seem when they are being made and victories even more often turn out to be bitter disappointments. Democracy itself is built on this view of human nature."

He suggested this country try to build bridges to the various countries of communism — but not to Red China until some day its fanatics disappear and it ceases aggression and subversion — but he would vary the kind of bridges, depending on the particular Communist country.

Helpful Ways To Recognize The Sexes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell the sexes apart?

They have become more and more alike, as the result of the modern cult of togetherness, the campaign for equal rights, and the present passion for conformity.

Recently I listed some remaining differences between the sex that would enable a close student of the subject to tell one from the other. Since then a number of readers have sent in suggestions on other ways that the sexes are differentiated — although no one knows how long this will hold true.

Here are a few you may find helpful:

If it complains bitterly about its luck while winning in a poker game, it is a man. If it hums to itself when it is 25 cents ahead in a gin rummy game, it is a woman.

If it takes exercises to take off a pot belly, it is a middle-aged male. If it gives up desserts in order to remove weight from around the hips, it is a middle-aged female.

If it likes to burn steaks in the backyard until they turn to charcoal, it is a husband. If it has to clean up the mess afterward, it is a wife.

Does it hold an umbrella over itself? Put it down as a lady. Does it hold an umbrella over the one it is with? Mark him as a gentleman.

If it hates to remove its hat in the theater, it is feminine. If it hates to remove its hat in a crowded elevator, it is masculine.

When you see it help an old lady across the street, you can be sure it is a Boy Scout. When it rings your doorbell and asks how many boxes of cookies do you want, it is a Girl Scout.

If it frets about losing its hair, it is a man. If it frets about losing its looks, it is a woman.

If it can't remember where it left a needle, it's a wife. If it can't remember an anniversary, it's a husband.

By these signs you can usually tell a him from a her.

On the other hand, if it wears toreador pants, it may be either a young lady or a bull fighter. And if it wears skirts above the knees, it could be either a young lady or a visiting Scotsman.

Sometimes you just can't be sure. The gender of the sexes is getting more mysterious every year.

Dallas Serviceman Killed In Blaze

BUNKER HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Ind. A(P) — Capt. Manuel Cervantes Jr., 29, of Dallas was killed Tuesday when a B58 jet bomber caught fire.

The craft carried an unarmed nuclear device and was making a practice taxi run at this Strategic Air Command Base.

Cervantes was the navigator.

Capt. Robert L. Hall, 29, of El Paso, Defensive systems operator on the plane, was one of five men injured. He suffered minor burns.

The base commander, Col. Paul Carlton emphasized there was no danger of a nuclear explosion or of radioactivity.

Junior Editors Quiz on DAYS

QUESTION: How were the seven days of the week named?

ANSWER: In the book of Genesis in the Bible, we read of the seven days of the week, and we know the Hebrews used this time division early in their history. The ancient Romans knew of 5 planets, and gave the names of each to one day in the week, adding the sun and moon to complete the seven. So we have the moon's day, shortened to Monday, as the second day in the week, and Saturn's day, which we call Saturday, as the seventh. Saturn was the name of a Roman god of the harvest, so this day was associated with a holiday spirit and still is. Sunday, the day set aside by Christians for rest and worship, received its name from the wide worship of the sun by the ancients. The picture shows the Greek sun god Apollo driving his chariot, and this day was also reserved for sun worship by the ancient Teutons. Names of the other days come from Norse gods. Tuesday is from Tyr's day—Tyr being the Norse god of war. Wednesday is derived from Woden, or Odin, the chief Teutonic god—it was once called Woden's day. Odin's oldest son, Thor, god of lightning and thunder, gave his name to Thor's day or Thursday, and Odin's wife Frigga lent her name to Friday, which used to be called "Frigedaeg" in Anglo-Saxon.

FOR YOU TO DO: Are you Friday's child, or Saturday's child? Try to find out on which day of the week you were born.

Tigers Strike Late To Win; Reef Meet Near

Cliffhanger Pulled Out By Locals

You could call it a spine - tingler, a cliffhanger; a heart-stopper or just plain shocker and still not adequately describe the spectacular 61-60 victory of the Snyder Tigers over the Seminole Indians last night in Tiger Gym.

It was one of those "last - second affairs", and although the Tigers got the winning basket in the nick of time, those last seconds seemed like an eternity to local fans.

That's the kind of ball game it was from the opening whistle

The outcome was decided with four seconds left on the clock when Leslie Brown leaped up between two Seminole defenders and bucketed a bank shot from close range. With just 10 seconds showing, Seminole was shooting a free shot and leading 60-59. The free shot was missed, the ball bounded off to the right side and Jimmy Featherston gathered it in. He headed toward the Tiger goal, spotted Brown already down court and made an amazingly accurate pass.

Brown's two - pointer stunned everybody but the Seminole team. With four seconds left, they completed an end-to-end pass of their own and actually got off a shot before a merciful buzzer put an end to the proceedings. The final Indian field goal attempt hit the rim and bounded away.

The game was a stemwinder from start to finish, as both teams jockeyed for the lead that changed hands repeatedly in the first half. Seminole led by 19-17 at the end of the first period, but the Tigers had gone out front by 34-29 at half-time. The Bengals managed to hold their five-point margin in the third quarter, going into the final stanza with a 47-42 advantage.

Then, whammo! The Indians struck with deadly precision, and to cap it off the Tigers hit a brief cold spell midway in the fourth period. What had been a five - point lead suddenly turned into a five - point deficit, and Seminole still held that margin with just a minute and 10 seconds left to play. The Tigers cut it to three with 40 seconds left and then to a single point, to set the stage for the finish that brought bedlam to Tiger Gym.

Once again the Tigers had four men scoring in double figures. It was Jerry Vestal's time to lead the pack and he did it with 17 points. Brown had 12, Drew Bullard and Leslie Anderson 10 each.

Jimmy Nelms scored 28 points for Seminole. Danny Price, with 10, was the only other Indian in double figures.

The Bengals were on the short end of things in both rebounding and shooting percentage. They hit 25 of 53 tries from the field for a 47 per cent average, while the Indians hit 28 of 55 for 51 per cent. In rebounding the taller Indians pulled in 28, while the Tigers were getting 18.

The victory avenged the only loss by the Tigers, since Seminole had won, 81-67, over the locals last Saturday night in the finals of the Seminole tournament. The Tigers now have won 5 and lost 1 as they prepare for play in the Canyon Reef Tournament which opens here Friday.

Seminole won the B game, 63-48. Sandy Wellborn led Snyder in that one with 21 points, while Malone was Seminole B's top scorer with 13.

Tournament Play Opens Here Friday

Two days of solid basketball action is on the menu in Tiger Gym this weekend as eight West Texas High School teams battle for the Annual Canyon Reef Tournament title.

Heading the field will be the Big Spring Steers, last year's Reef champions. The Steers edged the powerful Seminole Indians, 62-61 in the tournament finals last year.

The Big Spring outfit will be the only Class AAAA team in the meet this year. All others will come from Class AAA schools, except Phillips, a former AAA power which now performs in the AA ranks.

Others in the meet are Andrews, Brownfield, Brownwood, Kermit, Breckenridge and host Snyder.

Andrews and Brownfield will launch tournament play at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

The remainder of the Friday card will match Big Spring and Phillips at 3 p.m., Brownwood and Kermit at 4:30 p.m. and Snyder and Breckenridge at 6:30 p.m. — all first round games — plus the losers in the Andrews-Brownfield and Phillips - Big Spring games at 8 p.m.

Saturday's action will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue until the championship finals at 7:30 p.m.

Brown Says He'll Sign With Frogs

Snyder High's star halfback, Leslie Brown, has told Texas Christian University Coaches that he plans to accept an athletic scholarship at TCU.

Brown made his intentions known to TCU Coach Allie White who was here earlier this week on a recruiting voyage.

Although no formal signing can take place until February, the Snyder grid star said he already knew he wanted to play for the Horned Frogs.

Brown was known to be an avid TCU fan from back in his junior high days when such Snyder luminaries as Jack Spikes and Milton Ham were performing for the Frogs.

Although the recruiting season is barely underway, Brown already had been the object of a number of "contacts" by college coaches over a wide area of the nation. Included were schools in the Atlantic Coast and Big Eight Conferences, along with other Southwest Conference schools. Also he had received an inquiry from the U. S. Naval Academy about the possibility of taking tests which would qualify him for an appointment there.

Brown's activity at Snyder High is now concentrated on basketball. He is a starter on Coach Ned Underwood's quintet which has a record of 5 wins and 1 loss. He also is a two-year letterman on the SHS baseball team.

Red Raiders Back In Football Drills

LUBBOCK (AP)—Texas Tech is back hard at work getting ready to meet Georgia in the Sun Bowl Dec. 26.

Full scale drills were resumed Tuesday with all players who completed the regular season on hand.

Guard Doug Young, who underwent a knee operation in mid-season, was back but won't take part in contact work. He is not expected to play in the Sun Bowl.

End Tommy Doyle, who had a similar operation in early November, was a spectator only.

Offense Is Best Guide

NEW YORK (AP) — The total offense figures in the National Football League are an accurate reflection of the team standings. Baltimore is first with 4,421 yards. Then comes Cleveland with 4,079 yards, followed by St. Louis with 4,052 yards.

The Colts already have clinched the Western Conference title and Cleveland leads St. Louis by one-half game going into the final round in the Eastern Conference.

If defense is the real story of pro football, it doesn't show up in the standings. Green Bay is way out front in total defense, having allowed almost 600 yards less than Dallas, the second-place team. Cleveland is far down at the bottom of the heap in 14th place in total defense.

Fluvanna Sweeps Pair

FLUVANNA—Fluvanna swept two basketball victories from Noodle here Tuesday night. The Fluvanna girls edged the Noodle girls, 33-30, and the Fluvanna boys galloped past the Noodle boys, 53-38.

Oralia Ynguanzo paced the Fluvanna girls with 21 points, while Caron Carter roped 28 points for Noodle, accounting for all but two of the visitors' points.

Bobby Hall led Fluvanna boys with 19 points, while Myron Cockerham and L. Hunter scored 8 each for Noodle.

Austin's Robertson Is Signed By Rams

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP)—Bill Robertson, who caught 49 passes for 748 yards this season at Austin College, signed a contract with the Los Angeles Rams Tuesday.

He was the Rams' 14th draft choice. Harley Sewell, former Detroit Lions star lineman who's now a scout for the Rams, got Robertson's name on a contract.

Irish Cagers On Comeback Trail

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just as they did on the gridiron this year under new coach Ara Parseghian, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame are on the comeback trail in college basketball under new coach Johnny Dee.

Dee's boys made it three straight victories against no defeats by downing Michigan State 100-93 Tuesday night. The Spartans, down by 11 points at halftime, rallied to lead at 65-64, but the Irish were equal to the occasion.

They tied the score at 72-72 then went ahead for good on two free throws by Walt Sahm. Don Reed led the Irish with 30 points on 12 field goals and six free throws.

All three of Notre Dame's victories have come at home. After another home game Thursday against Detroit the acid test will come for the Irish. They will play five straight road games starting Saturday at Evansville.

Four teams in this week's Top Ten won Tuesday night and kept their records clean. Third-ranked Vanderbilt beat Western Kentucky 94-79; San Francisco, No. 5, whipped San Francisco State 93-72; Minnesota, No. 6, downed Marquette 78-59, and St. John's of New York, No. 10, edged Holy Cross 77-74.

The Commodores, Dons and Gophers won on their home courts while the St. John's Redmen survived their first road test. Holy Cross put on a spectacular rally on John Wendelken's shooting in the last 36 seconds provided the winning margin after the Crusaders had pulled to within 74-72. Houston then made the first of his three foul shots and iced the victory with his last two after Tom Greely's basket put Holy Cross within one point at 75-74. Wendelken finished high for the game with 27 points, 19 in the second half.

Ollie Johnson led San Francisco with 21 points. Clyde Lee's 28 points sparked Vanderbilt while Mel Northway and Archie Clark each threw in 16 for the Minnesota as the Gophers won their fourth straigmt.

East Texas Tackle Signs With Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bob Burrows, East Texas State tackle who was drafted in 1963, has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Eagles.

Burrows, who would have another year of eligibility in college also was a future selection of the Kansas City Chiefs in the American Football League.

Ira Takes 2 Victories

HIGHLAND — Ira's boys team won a 54-48 overtime victory over Highland here Tuesday night after the Ira girls had decisioned Highland's girls, 69-35.

Melvin Crawford paced the Ira boys attack with 18 points. Johnny Lindsey had 11, Larry Holladay 8, Jack Payne 7, Larry Wiggins 4, Dennis Grizzle, Bill Alexander and Aaron Crawford 2 each. For Highland boys, Ronnie Aucutt had 16 points, Ronnie Krejci 14, Lynn Millhollon 6, Belcher 10 and Brown 2.

Pat Jones was top scorer for Ira girls with 35 points. Janice Bishop scored 15, Renoka Hooker 8, Connie Sterling 3, Sue Sorrells, Linda Wiggins and Muffet Kimbrell 2 each, and Jan Williams and Pam Sallee 1 each.

Linda McRae had 14 points for Highland girls, Katherine Morris 11, Maxie Wright 6 and Cherry Muncie 4.

Colts, Green Bay Top Selections

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore and Green Bay each placed five men on the annual All-National Football League team selected today for The Associated Press.

The selections were made by a 42-man committee of three from each of the 14 league cities.

Quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Colts, and fullback Jim Brown of Cleveland were unanimous choices for the offensive team.

Johnny Morris, the Chicago Bears' record-breaking pass catcher, was an overwhelming choice for flanker back. Lenny Moore, Baltimore's big touchdown punch, scored decisively as the running back.

Frank Clarke of Dallas took over the split end job, won by the ailing Del Shofner of the New York Giants in the previous three years. Mike Ditka, the Bears' powerful tight end, was one of seven repeaters.

Dick Schafrath of Cleveland and Forrest Gregg of Green Bay again were the offensive tackles, although Gregg moved to guard in mid-season when Vince Lombardi shuffled his Packer line.

Jim Parker of Baltimore, a hardy perennial, was an all-star guard again, but Ken Gray of the St. Louis Cardinals took over the other guard job, held for two years by Green Bay's Jerry Kramer, who recently underwent surgery.

Mick Tingelhoff, signed by the Minnesota Vikings as a free agent in 1962, took over the first-string center job, beating out Jim Ringo of Philadelphia, the incumbent, Bob DeMarco of St. Louis and Mike Pyle of the Bears.

Green Bay put four men on the defensive unit, including Willie Davis at end, Henry Jordan at tackle, Ray Nitschke at middle linebacker and Willie Wood at safety. Gino Marchetti, veteran Baltimore end who came out of retirement just before the season started, and Bob Boyd, a corner back, were the Colts' contribution to the defensive team.

Bob Lilly, Dallas giant who is regarded by many as the best lineman in the NFL, made the club at defensive tackle.

Jim Fortunato, the consistent Chicago Bears' left linebacker, and Maxie Baughan, who had a fine year for the Philadelphia Eagles, were the corner linebackers.

The only rookie to make the first team was Paul Krause, Washington's fine safety from Iowa whose 12 interceptions lead the league. Pat Fischer, at 5-foot-9 the smallest man to play regularly, won the other corner back job on his great season as a pass interceptor and defender for the Cardinals.

Farm Bureau Offers Plan For Crop Rights 'Buy-Out'

By OVID A. MARTIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—If an American Farm Bureau Federation plan is tried out, the government may seek to solve the problem of surplus crops by buying out farmers who help produce the excessive supplies and insist on high price supports.

This new approach to crop stabilization is being offered by the big group in its efforts to get government out of the control of prices and production of farm commodities.

The bureau suggests that the "buy-out" approach be tried out first on cotton—a crop plagued for years by exeessive supplies despite controls.

The control programs give farmers a right to grow and market cotton in amounts determined largely by their past production history.

The Farm Bureau would, in effect, buy up these rights over a three-year period. Payments would be spread over such a period, at the end of which the farmer could no longer grow the crop unless he paid a heavy cash penalty.

Advocates of this plan figure that many small cotton growers in the Southeast —particularly those with high production costs —would jump at the offer. They would earn total payments of upwards of $75 to $100 an acre for their planting allotments.

With marginal producers out, it would be much easier, the farm organization officials say, to adjust cotton production to market needs. They say that those remaining in production would tend to be the more efficient. They could operate at a somewhat lower price than has been maintained over the years to help keep the small and marginal producer from going under.

With cotton prices at lower levels, it would be possible to sell more of the crop at home and abroad, with the resulting necessity for less assistance from the government and with small if any oversupplies.

As things stand now, the cotton planting allotments which belong to individual farms tend to have a monetary value. That is, a farm with an allotment is more valuable than one without. But farmers must grow a cotton crop at least one year in every three to maintain the production right.

Thus many farmers continue to grow cotton in order to hold their allotment. But should they be able to sell this production right, many farmers would be happy to abandon the crop, say advocates of the plan.

It is contended this plan would, over the long pull, save the government much money in buying and storing the surpluses which otherwise would be produced.

One provision of the plan might greatly reduce its effectiveness.

Allotments bought by the government would be subject to reallocation to other farmers, first in the county, next to other counties and later to other states if they wanted them. To the extent that they were reallocated to others, the degree of reduction in production would be lessened.

Pictured are Fred Overman, assistant water and sewer superintendent at Big Spring and secretary of the association; Bill Aaron, chief operator of water and sewage treatment in Snyder; and Bob Wilson, water and sewer superintendent in Meadow and president of the association as they looked over the program for the evening. About 130 persons were at the meeting which featured a discussion of pumps. Officers for the coming year were also elected at the meeting.

Barry Says Rift Damaging Party

By WALTER MEARS

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen Barry Goldwater is ready to tell a Republican summit conference today he thinks the struggle over GOP leadership is tearing the beaten party apart.

That was the word from a source close to the defeated Republican presidential nominee as Goldwater prepared to talk politics with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M Nixon.

Precise arrangements for the New York conference were cloudy. There was no word as to exactly when or where the meeting would be held. An Eisenhower aide said the three would meet in the afternoon, but that details had not been worked out.

"There is no agenda," said Republican National Chairman Dean Burch. He is here to attend at least part of the discussions that will bring together the three men who have carried the Republican colors in the last four presidential elections.

"This is a very informal conference," Burch said.

The embattled party chairman, hand-picked by Goldwater, said he does not expect the Arizona senator will specifically ask Eisenhower and Nixon to back Burch's continued service as GOP chairman.

The Republican National Committee meets in Chicago Jan. 22-23 to decide whether Burch will retain his post.

A source close to Goldwater said the Republican nominee who lost in a landslide to President Johnson, wanted to talk with Eisenhower and Nixon about the struggle now going on within the party.

The source said Goldwater would explain his views on the battle which pits his conservative followers against GOP moderates.

"He will explain that as far as he is concerned, this is tearing the party up," the source said.

Eisenhower met twice with Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania at Gettysburg, Pa., Tuesday. The talks were described as social with no political significance.

Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio said in a telephone interview he is not interested in becoming party chairman. He brushed aside as "rumors" reports that some Republicans are rallying behind him as a replacement for Burch.

Taft called for a reorganization of party machinery and said he thinks differences between Republicans have been exaggerated.

NEW DISTRICT ENGINEER of the Snyder District of Standard Oil Co. of Texas is E. W. McCants who assumed his new position Tuesday after being transferred here from the Southern Production Division in Houston. A previous resident of Snyder in 1951-52, McCants replaces R. B. Wacker who was transferred to Gainesville.

Faculty Hopes Resolution Will Bring Peace To Cal

By CLAUDE V. BURGETT

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California faculty's Academic Senate has adopted a resolution it hopes will bring peace in the prolonged studen-administration battle over political activities.

Leaders of the Free Speech Movement — the group which staged four massive sit-in demonstrations, one resulting in 814 arrests — proclaimed victory immediately after the vote Tuesday night.

They called off their strike until Dec. 18, when the university's Board of Regents meet in Los Angeles to consider the Academic Senate's five-point proposal. Regents must accept the resolution before it is effective.

Rebel students Tuesday night celebrated the Senate's vote and the 22nd birthday of Mario Savio, leader of the dissident group.

University President Clark Kerr, a member of the Board of Regents and one of the main targets of the movement's attack, declined immediate comment on the 1,200-member faculty group's resolution, which went further in meeting student demands than a proposal endorsed by the administration on Monday.

Savio, Manhattan-born philosophy student, said free speech members now would concentrate on trying to get charges against those arrested at the Dec. 2-3 demonstration dropped.

Savio termed the Senate's action "magnificent."

A crowd of about 2,000 students, waiting outside Wheeler Hall, erupted with wild screaming when the Senate's vote was announced.

The Free Speech Movements' steering committee issued a statement praising faculty members for their stand.

Only 939 Academic Senate members attended Tuesday's session, but all voted. Proponents won out, 824 to 115.

The resolution would, in effect, give the faculty — rather than the administration — final authority over disciplining students who violate university regulations.

Gas Hearing Nears End

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—El Paso Natural Gas was expected to finish presentation today of a plan to divest itself of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Co.

Lawyers for the gas company and the Justice Department then were due to deliver opening arguments.

U.S. Dist. Judge Willis Ritter ruled Tuesday that 21 prospective intervenors would not be allowed to enter the case. He said details of his ruling would be made available later.

The hearing was resumed after a weekend layoff. Last week El Paso presented its plan to set up Pacific Northwest as an independent company.

The U.S. Supreme Court ordered El Paso last April to divest itself of the pipeline company because their merger in 1959 violated anti-trust laws.

Moscow Hot Line Becomes Link For Cultural Tid-Bits

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Moscow-Washington hot line has developed a sort of cultural exchange.

In testing the circuit, U.S. military operators sometimes send excerpts from encyclopedias across the 5,200-mile Teletype link to the Soviet capital.

And, as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko said at the United Nations, the Russians transmit sections of Ivan Turgenev's first novel, "Notes of a Hunter."

The U.S. and Soviet operators occasionally have exchanged greetings on special occasions.

They swapped Happy New Year wishes for 1964 and there was another exchange on the first anniversary of the hot line last September.

The hot line was set up during the Kennedy administration as a device for instantaneous emergency communication between the Soviet and U.S. heads of state.

President Johnson has retained the link and the Defense Department said there has been no change in procedure since the recent Soviet government turnover which ousted Nikita Khrushchev as premier.

There is a great reluctance in the Pentagon to say anything about the hot line's operation.

The Teletype machines at the Washington end of the circuit are in the tightly guarded National Military Command Center in the Pentagon. When necessary, the link can be extended to Johnson's ranch or other places the President may be.

The hot line complex in the center is manned by five teams, each made up of one officer and two noncommissioned officers. All services are represented. The teams work eight-hour shifts around the clock.

The line is tested every hour, day in and day out. A bell sounds and the teletype connection between the Pentagon and the Kremlin comes alive.

The Pentagon said the U.S. test messages consist basically of the standard "quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back."

"This sometimes is varied with the transmission of various random unclassified writings depending upon the discretion of the operator," the Pentagon said.

Informants said encyclopedia excerpts were used in the tests, but they did not disclose what subject matter was covered.

In an apparent joking vein Gromyko said the Turgenev texts aroused "great interest toward Russian classical literature on the part of the American operators."

How did the Americans react to this flow of Russian literature?

"They merely observed it," the Defense Department said.

A&M Plans Expansions

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M plans to buy an advanced electronic instrument to expand chemistry department facilities with the help of a $37,600 National Science Foundation grant.

President Earl Rudder said Tuesday the new instrument can probe molecules with an uneven number of electrons and produce "fingerprints," or electronically recorded peaks of intensity.

The instrument is an electron paramagnetic resonance spectrometer.

A&M has used for three years a nuclear magnetic resonance instrument, which with the new instrument grew out of World War II radar work.

"With these two instruments we will have one of the finest setups in this type of spectroscopy work in the Southwest," said Dr. Bruno Zwolinski, head of the chemistry department.

Newly elected sponsors of the club are Bob Rigsby and R. L. Grimmett.

Bonus Mailed By Anthony's

C. R. Anthony, president and founder of the C. R. Anthony Company Department Stores, announced that the annual Christmas Bonus Checks were mailed out Dec. 1.

The number of employees participating this year is 2,550 and the total amount of the bonus is $76,780. This annual Christmas Bonus is based on the years of service with the company.

In addition to this Christmas Bonus there are many other company benefits such as the Profit Sharing Plan, Group Insurance Plan, Employees Stock Plan and the Pension Plan.

The Christmas Service Bonus was inaugurated in the early thirties when the total amount of bonus was only about $5,000 for approximately 57 stores.

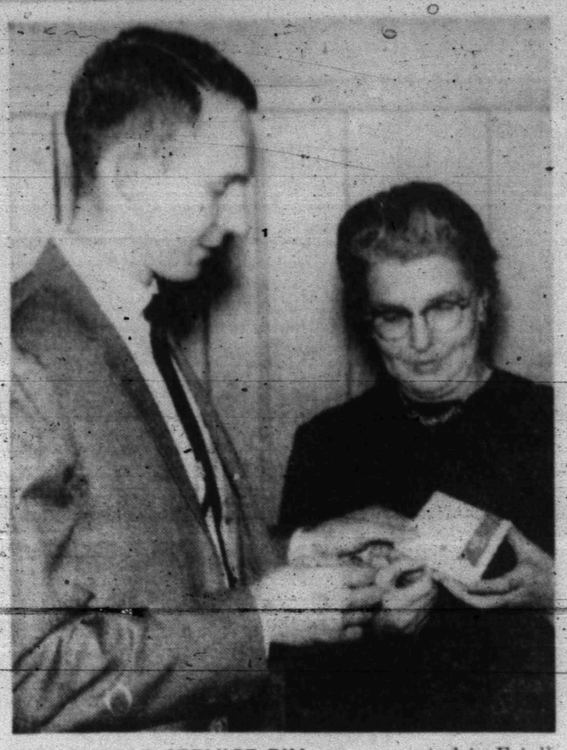

The Company now has grown to over 300 stores in 22 states, and these Christmas Bonus Checks are sent early enough for the employees to use them for their Christmas shopping.

Sen. Aiken Asks Rural Citizens To Rise, Fight

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., called today for a session-long fight in Congress, if necessary, to set aside a judicial ruling on makeup of state legislatures. Aiken said the recent U.S. Supreme Court reapportionment ruling would turn the nation over to big city political machine control.

It is time, the New Englander said, for citizens, especially those in rural areas, to "rise on our hind legs and fight this infringement of our democratic rights."

Aiken, in a talk prepared for the American Farm Bureau annual convention, referred to a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court that membership in state legislative bodies must be based on population alone.

He said that this ruling would turn all governmental decision-making to urban areas, many of which, he said, are controlled by political machines. Rural areas, he said, would lose out in government services such as roads, education and the like and would be subjected to taxes they could not pay.

Aiken called upon Congress to adopt a resolution submitting a proposed amendment to the Constitution to continue the practice of basing membership in one state legislative body on population and the other on other factors, including area.

In one of the strongest attacks ever made on the high court by a member of Congress, Aiken appealed for action to curb powers of the tribunal, particularly in the area of ruling on the constitutionality of acts of Congress.

The Republican lawmaker said a Senate filibuster this year prevented the submission of a proposed congressional amendment which would give the states sole power to determine the makeup of their legislatures.

"If we could spend five months in breaking a filibuster against legislation that affects the rights of only a part of the people, we should spend all the next session, if need be, in breaking any filibuster aimed at restricting the right of all the people," he said.

He said the next Congress should "settle once and for all the question of the powers and limitations of the Supreme Court." He said he does not agree with the court's premise that it has a constitutional right to rule on the constitutionality of acts of Congress.

"Make no mistake about it — this is a battle for the political control of the nation and with that control goes the power to tax, the power to spend money and the power to enact programs that affect the lives and welfare of every living person for generations to come," the senator said.

The real blow to rural representation in Congress would come, he said, after the 1970 census and the resulting redistricting of congressional seats by what he called city-controlled state legislatures.

Littlefield Papers Go To Texas U

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas has received a collection of personal papers of George W. Littlefield, who gave the school more than $2 million in his lifetime and founded the town of Littlefield on the South Plains.

W. W. Heath of Austin, chairman of the university's board of regents, accepted the papers Tuesday. R. L. Wroe Jr., president of the American National Bank here, made the presentation on behalf of the Littlefield family and the bank.

Littlefield founded the bank and was a wealthy cattle rancher and landowner.

Among 32,000 items in the collection are a handwritten autobiography of Littlefield, a canceled Littlefield check to the university for purchase of the Wrenn library, and his appointment in 1911 as a university regent.

A Mississippi native and civil War veteran, Littlefield served as a regent from 1911 to his death in 1920 at the age of 78.

Littlefield established the LIT Ranch near Tascosa in 1877, selling it four years later for $25,000. In 1901 he bought the Yellow House Ranch of about 286,000 acres — the southern division of the famed XIT Ranch.

He established the town of Littlefield on his ranch, and it later became the Lamb County seat.

Littlefield's red brick home is now part of the university campus. A memorial foundation and a dormitory there bears his name.

Softwood plywood production in the United States in 1963 was estimated at about 16 billion square feet. Hardwood plywood production was slightly more than 1.5 billion square feet.

Johnsons Get Many Letters Of Sympathy

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Animal lovers from 7 to 70 have written to President Johnson and his family by the hundreds to extend sympathy on the death of the White House beagle puppy named Her.

About 400 letters have come in since Her died almost two weeks ago. Included were about 300 offers of dogs or other animals — even a calf.

Her and Him, brother and sister, belonged to Luci, the 17-year-old daughter of the President. Johnson showed delight in walking them around the White House lawn, and they received widespread publicity when he held them up by their ears.

Her swallowed a stone the day after Thanksgiving and died.

"We have a beagle, too, so we tied a black string around our beagle's collar and will keep it on for 30 days to show mourning," 8-year-old Dean Long in McHenry, Ill., wrote the White House.

In the careful hand of a child, on lined paper, Joanne Long of Markesan, Wis., wrote that her family had named two Angus calves after the Johnson beagles.

"I'll send you our calf named Her to you if you like. But you may not want her on the white-house (sic) lawn," Joanne wrote.

Laurie Kay Meacham of Seattle, Wash., wrote that she had eight hamsters and would like to send Luci one. Margaret Delaney, 7, of Oak Park, Ill., wrote that she had renamed her beagle Her so "you can come to see her and I will come to see you."

The White House has declined all offers of pets, following a policy set soon after Johnson became President.

Tuesday after again explaining the policy, it returned a female beagle puppy sent by E. D. Hollstein of Rushville, Neb. It sent Hollstein a picture of the President and the two beagles, autographed "from one dog lover to another."

About half the sympathy letters have come to Luci, the rest to Johnson or to him and the family.

Dr. Stanton Proposes New Election Hours

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, proposes a uniform 24-hour voting day for national elections, with all polls opening and closing simultaneously throughout the country.

Stanton made his suggestion Tuesday to 600 life insurance executives at the annual meeting of the Institute of Life Insurance.

Lynda Bird's Ring Not Engagement-Type

WASHINGTON (AP) — That's not an engagement ring on the third finger of Lynda Bird Johnson's left hand.

In response to questions, the press office of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said Tuesday the 20-year-old daughter of President Johnson wears a heavy signet-type ring on her right hand. When she shakes hands frequently, the ring hurts her fingers and she switches it to her left hand.

Asks Spans For East-West Gaps

DALLAS (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., outspoken commentator on U.S. foreign affairs, urges idealistic Americans to concentrate on bridging East-West differences rather than on wiping communism from the face of the earth.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Tuesday a reconciliation between the free and Communist countries "is not liable to occur in our lifetime."

At the same time, however, he said a fundamental U.S. goal should be "building bridges, opening contacts across the chasms of misunderstandings."

Such other bedrock policies as maintaining the world's most powerful nuclear war deterrent and supporting a strong Atlantic alliance bring no dissent among Americans, only on the are more like the rest of the world, more subject to external pressures and nationalistic accommodating Communist desires.

countries might mean a peace without victory, or at least these changes.

without the kind of total victory for American ideals and values that was so much in the recent election campaign." Fulbright acknowledged. But he said there "is no acceptable alternative in the nuclear age."

He spoke at a Southern Methodist University convocation.

Former President Eisenhower's policy to liberalize Eastern Europe failed, the Arkansas senator said, "because it purported to roll back the Iron Curtain by force—and it came up against the realities of the nuclear age," particularly when faced with the East German or Hungarian uprisings.

"Communist bloc countries have shown a diversity of changes recently, he said, mostly "in a direction favorable to the West's security. They
