

JFK Orders Formation Of 2 Divisions

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy ordered today the immediate formation of two new Army divisions, expanding the service to 15 permanent divisions.

The Palm Beach White House said the activation of the two divisions would permit the release "later this year," with no time specified, of the 32nd and 49th National Guard Divisions, which were called to duty last Oct. 15 in the armed forces buildup precipitated by the Berlin crisis.

One of the new regular divisions, the 1st Armored, will be activated at Ft. Hood, Tex. The other, the 8th Mechanized Infantry, will be organized at Ft. Carson, Colo.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy approved the action at meetings Tuesday and this morning with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the nation's top defense officials.

He said it was the first item of business on this morning's agenda, after the joint chiefs of staff flew into Palm Beach from Washington for the preparation talks.

Qualified sources said the two National Guard divisions summoned to duty should not anticipate returning home for at least several months. The 32nd of Wisconsin, is training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 49th of Texas, at Camp Polk, La.

Kennedy called the Joint Chiefs of Staff from Washington to join preparation discussions that began Tuesday in the spacious living room of the beachfront estate where he has been spending the Christmas-New Year holidays.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the conferences would explore "the operational and strategic outlook for 1962."

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary of Defense George H. Decker, and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's personal military adviser, already were on hand.

Scheduled to fly in this morning were the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer; Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations; Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff; Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine Corps commander; and Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr., Air Force vice chief of staff. Smith is substituting for Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, who is ill with a cold.

At the start of the defense survey Kennedy went over the entire Army structure with Johnson, McNamara, Gilpatrick and Taylor.

Salazar Raps U. N.; Predicts Withdrawal

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar said in a speech prepared for delivery today Portugal "will surely be among the first countries to leave the United Nations organization."

"Even if we do not, I do not know yet whether we shall be the first country to abandon the United Nations, but surely we will be among the first. Meanwhile we shall refuse them our collaboration in everything that is not in our direct interest," he declared.

Reporting to the National Assembly today, the 72-year-old dictator criticized the United Nations, the United States and Britain for their failure to come to Portugal's support when India invaded Goa, Damão and Diu last month.

Referring to the U.N. mission of safeguarding peace, Salazar said he believed "we have the right to ask whether our presence and our collaboration are already useless in the United Nations."

"They were possible withdrawal from the United Nations, revocation of the century-old British-Portuguese alliance and refusal to renew the Azores Island air base agreement with the United States when it expires this year."

The premier spoke as security officers still hunted the remnants of a rebel band that launched an unsuccessful New Year's Day revolt against Salazar's government. The Army Ministry accused the underground Communist party of planning and leading the uprising.

"According to information and statements already collected from some participants in the Beja attempt at sedition, the conclusion is that it was an action planned and led by the Communist party, within a general plan of promoting unrest in Portugal," the communiqué said.

The communiqué said no other unrest or violence was reported from other military establishments.

At least 16 rebels who took part in the revolt attempt were still at large and the government pressed a hunt for them.

Indonesia Rejects New Dutch Offer

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Foreign Minister Subandrio today rejected the latest Dutch offer to negotiate their dispute over West New Guinea. He said Indonesia would negotiate only if the Dutch agreed in advance to transfer the area to Indonesian control.

Otherwise, said Subandrio, Indonesia will take the Dutch-controlled western half of the big island by invasion, as it has threatened.

"We do not object to bilateral negotiations with the purpose of the transfer of the administration of West Irian (West New Guinea) to Indonesia," Subandrio said. Subandrio thus replied within 24 hours to Dutch Premier Jan de Quay's unconditional offer to talk over the future of the 130,000 square miles of jungle and mountain territory claimed by Indonesia ever since it won independence from the Dutch in 1949.

Subandrio said De Quay's offer "seems to me to be a mere formality because he still emphasizes the basic policy of the Netherlands is self-determination for the people of West Irian."

In the Hague, the Dutch government refused to comment on Subandrio's rejection. It has no diplomatic relations with Indonesia. A spokesman said the government expected to be informed officially of the Indonesian reaction through the U.S. government or acting U.S. Secretary-General U. Thant.

Building In December Up

Building permits in the City of Snyder for the month of December, 1961, showed an increase over December of a year ago.

December permits in 1961 totaled $83,330 against a total of $68,600 a year ago.

Of this year's total new residences accounted for $40,500; additions to residences, $6,200; commercial building remodeling, $22,000; and the school remodeling job at Stanfield School, $34,000.

Threat Of War Over Berlin Fades, But New Tension Due

By EUGENE KRAMER

BERLIN (AP)—East-West war over Berlin appears less likely than a year ago but look for new periods of crisis and tension ahead.

That seems to be the feeling of both Berliners and some Western officials.

Two reasons are heard why war seems more remote than in 1961. One is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently takes more seriously than he did a year ago Western determination to defend West Berlin and its access routes. Khrushchev has withdrawn his deadline for signing a peace treaty with Communist East Germany and has not rattled his missiles recently.

The other reason is that the status quo in Berlin is more bearable to the Communists than the situation that existed a year ago. Then thousands of refugees each month, including many technicians, teachers and students, were pouring out of East Germany through West Berlin. The satellite regime was threatened with collapse.

The Communists raised their border wall through the heart of the city in August. That damned the tide of refugees to a trickle, solving their most critical problem.

Some quarters expect new tension over Berlin early this year, particularly if the Communists find the West firmly opposed to concessions in the diplomatic probe now starting.

Some observers believe negotiations over Berlin could be long delayed in starting or break down along the way.

The Communists then could be counted on to boost tension. The easiest way to manufacture a new crisis would be for East Germans to harass traffic along the access routes to West Berlin across East German territory, or to interfere further with traffic between East and West Berlin.

The Western Allies do not recognize the East German regime as a legitimate government. They insist that the Soviet Union take full responsibility for the satellite's actions. Moscow, in its campaign to get East Germany recognized, shows increasing reluctance to do this.

Some observers predict any new Berlin crisis will include a strong Communist pitch to the growing bloc of neutral and African nations. The Reds would try to shift complete blame for the new threat to war on the Allies and create new pressure for the West to make concessions to avert war.

Governor Submits 4-Point Program

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel laid before the Legislature's third special session today a four-point program concerning permanent bank accounts, loan sharking regulation, farm-road maintenance and more state spending.

The governor addressed a joint session shortly after both houses convened for their 176th day of the 57th Legislature. The second special session ended Aug. 14.

"I am not one who believes that a 30-day session cannot handle more than three or four bills," Gov. Price Daniel said. He promised to open the session to other measures, including so-called local bills; if the four original proposals are completed within the 30-day period.

Daniel's four proposals were:

1. "Enactment of legislation to include banking institutions in the new escheat enforcement (abandoned property) act... or any special act which will accomplish the same purpose."
2. "Enactment of a law regulating small loans so as to stamp out the loan shark racket which has existed too long at the expense and injury of our people. He did not recommend any specific interest rate maximum."
3. "Adjustment of the farm to market road program to provide that some of the presently earmarked funds may be used for maintenance as well as construction."
4. "A supplemental appropriation bill providing more adequate financing of the juvenile parole system ($100,000) and a tourist attraction program $300,000 sufficient to compete with the other states."

The governor added: "In my opinion any of them is of sufficient importance to justify this session."

He said the state comptroller has reported that sufficient state funds are in sight to cover the proposed supplemental appropriations.

The state comptroller estimated that about $15.4 million is available for "appropriation although the current state of the state's financial condition indicates a $6.3 million deficit at the end of the two-year fiscal period in 1963."

At a pre-session caucus, Sen. Charles Herring of Austin was selected to preside over the Senate in the coming session. He replaces Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, who was Senate president pro tempore in the interim following the second special session. As Senate president, Herring will act as lieutenant governor in the vacancy created when Ben Rainey resigned to accept appointment to the Railroad Commission. The vacancy will be filled in the November election.

The Senate opened promptly at 10 a.m. but it was 10:05 a.m. before Speaker James T. Van Laningham gave the House to order.

Shortly before the opening of the special session, state Comptroller Robert S. Calvert sent legislators his estimate of the state's financial position—a requirement before each legislative session. Calvert estimated that state income of $37.7 million in 1961-1962 and $39.7 million in 1962-1963 would be shy of the total $706 million appropriated by previous legislatures and the $60.3 cash deficit carried into this fiscal period.

Calvert estimated the cash condition of the state Aug. 31, 1963, would be a $6.3 deficit, which takes into consideration outstanding obligations.

However, a spokesman for Calvert explained, the so-called bookkeeping bill of the 56th legislature directs Calvert to ignore outstanding obligations, in making estimates of money available for appropriation. This would leave a total of $15.4 million available for appropriation by this special session.

The comptroller's department said the state financial position actually is about the same as it was following the end of the second special session last August.

The session opened with senators and representatives keeping an eye on the agenda and the other on the political calendar.

Castro Says Cuba Ready

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Backed by modern Soviet-bloc weapons and Latin America's fastest air force, Fidel Castro says his armed forces await any new invasion "with a smile on our lips."

The Cuban prime minister showed off his new military equipment Tuesday at a parade marking the third anniversary of his victory over the Batista dictatorship. He said that "Yankee imperialism" was the sole reason for Cuba's rearmament.

Highlights of the parade were the Communist-made MIG-15 jets which swept overhead in a flight of 18 MIG-15s or improved MIG-17s.

The three sweep-wing MIG-15s are the fastest planes known to be operating in any Latin American air force. A ripple of pride and excitement swelled through the crowd as the jets roared over Havana's Jose Marti Square.

The MIG-15s are believed to have been piloted by Cubans who recently completed flight training in Czechoslovakia.

Castro said his forces have been much improved since they defeated the Bay of Pigs invasion of July 1961.

"We are not a warmonger," he said. "We do not want to use these arms. But we shall fight if attacked with a fierceness imagined by our enemies. We will exterminate them. We await the invaders with a smile on our lips."

The Cuban leader assailed his critics in other Latin countries, especially Presidents Rongelo Betancourt of Venezuela and Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia, whom he called "murderers of workers, peasants and students."

Addressing himself to fellow Latin Americans, Castro said: "Brothers, mobilize against any eventuality. The stupider they (the United States) act, the faster the hour of liberation approaches." The crowd roared approval.

Castro announced he is calling a "national assembly" of hundreds of thousands of Cubans on Jan. 22, the date the American foreign ministers meet in Uruguay to consider the danger posed by Cuba to the Western Hemisphere.

He said the mass rally will proclaim a second declaration of Havana to "show the imperialists our decision to fight and show (Latin American) puppets this is a decisive and heroic people."

The first declaration approved by the ratification of a crowd in July 1960, repudiated Cuba's mutual defense treaty with the United States.

Kennedy To Discuss Major Proposals With Both Sides

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to sit down with leaders of both parties early next week to seek bipartisan support for some of the major proposals he will lay before Congress.

Chief topic at a breakfast now being arranged by the White House will be the President's forthcoming request for broad executive authority to negotiate trade agreements with the European Common Market.

Kennedy hopes for Republican as well as Democratic backing for this program. He also wants to enlist broad support for foreign aid, an issue sharpened by developments in India and the Congo.

The President apparently feels, too, that there is some basis to believe that he can get some Republican aid in his efforts to get Congress to approve a program of medical care for the elderly, financed through the Social Security System.

Kennedy's move to bring the Republicans in for a chat indicates that, despite the approaching congressional elections of November, he would like to avoid a cold and political fight in the second session of Congress.

House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana has given no sign that he would be a party to any peace pact with the Democrats.

Even if the President gains some bipartisan support, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., predicted in an interview that the biggest fight of the new session will come over the international trade program.

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, served notice that he is not satisfied with the way things are going now in American dealings with the Common Market nations.

"I don't think the State Department experts are protecting the agricultural interests of this country," he said. "The French and the Germans are getting together on proposals to keep U.S. exports out of the market. Our farmers are getting dealt out."

Humphrey said that products which may be shut out of the Common Market unless some steps are taken swiftly include rice, vegetable oils, feed grains, wheat, citrus and poultry.

He noted that U.S. exports of farm products to Western Europe reached $2 billion last year.

In another interview, House Majority Leader John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said he expected early congressional action on Kennedy's tariff proposals.

McCormack said he believes Congress also will approve legislation dealing with tax legislation, medical care for the elderly, urban of a department of urban affairs, manpower retraining and postal rate increases. He said a determined effort will be made to enact a general school aid bill.

HELD IN SLAYING—Mrs. Dorothy Howard, 54, left, of Brockton, Mass., is accompanied by police matron Mrs. Hazle McNamara as they leave police headquarters. Mrs. Howard is being held in connection with the strangulation slaying of her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Eldridge. # Burleson Says Nations Envy U. S., But Side With Soviet Snyder representative in Washington, Omar Burleson, spoke at the noon meeting of the Lions Club yesterday. He was introduced by J. Mark McLaughlin. It was noted by McLaughlin that in his 15 years of service in the House of Representatives he had compiled a perfect attendance record. This last fall Burleson was appointed by President Kennedy as one of two congressional delegates to the United Nations as an official observer. While there he worked with the U. S. group of career diplomats.

Burleson told the Lions that as a result of their seeing the well-fed, well-dressed and technically advanced peoples during World War II, the new nations being formed almost every day became envious and wanted a similar life for themselves. He described these new nations as "sleeping giants." There are now 104 nations in the United Nations—more than twice the number of members when it was formed. Burleson said that the new nations and the "neutral" nations seem to admire Russia even though the United States is the country which has done the most for them. The reasons for this he gave were that Russia is considered the enemy of colonialism, and colonialism is related only to those land holdings which are overseas. Russia's satellite nations are not counted since they join Russia. Also if there's a different race involved it automatically becomes a colony; even though the colonists prefer colonial status, as in Puerto Rico. Burleson also pointed out that the new nations admire Russia for their rapid reforms and technological progress. They can equate themselves more easily with the newer country. Another factor is that they fear the Soviets, while we have made it quite clear they have nothing to fear from us. The loss of prestige for the U. S. was a large factor in the last presidential elections. Congressmen Burleson said he didn't know how much prestige we had lost, but our influence is definitely down. He said we had failed in our policy of trying to show what good people we are. When we "turn the other cheek" it is interpreted as a sign of weakness. "We have thought because we had more of everything we were safe," Burleson said. "But Communism still flows on like the spread of lava while we watch it added. And the 'uncommitted' nations see us react instead of act. They see us always on the defensive," he said. The new countries are not interested in philosophies of government or ideologies. We need to see the world through their eyes rather than from our viewpoint, Burleson said. In speaking of the 200 million dollar bond issue proposed by the United Nations to finance the Congo operation, Burleson said that no attempt had been made by the United Nations to borrow the money from the World Bank or other international lending agency because "it would take more time." He said he felt that it may take longer to get congress to buy half of the issue of the 2 per cent bonds than to go through the World Bank. He noted that our government is paying about 3 per cent for the money it is using to run the government.

Burleson said he is afraid "the people are not serious about winning the cold war." He noted that we are trading with communist countries, including Cuba, by the simple rule of going first through Latin America. He plans to introduce a resolution in the next session of Congress which will call for all nations of the world to stand up and be counted as against communism. Those who do not stand up will be considered communist countries, Burleson admitted that he would not have too much help with his resolution because we are not yet afraid enough. He said there are still those who feel we can co-exist. But he felt that such a resolution deserves support because only in this way can we get away from the stupidity that characterizes our present international dealings. This resolution would, he feels, be a step toward regaining our influence in the world.

MEISTER WIENERS

Outside, cold winds are howling. Inside, the family is howling too, for dinner, and you've had a long day shopping. The happy answer, a piping hot meal to spell appetites, and mighty good eating. It's your old favorite kosher franks, and sauerkraut, with a few "strirring" tricks to give your easy-to-make supper a gourmet touch.

KRAUT 'N FRANKS

8 skinless kosher franks
1 quart sauerkraut
1 cup dry white wine
Chunk of butter
12 peppercorns
1 tablespoon caraway seeds
Slash franks diagonally, ready to use. Drain and wash kraut under cold water. Put into saucepan and add wine, chunk of butter and peppercorns. Simmer, covered, 1 hour. Add franks last 20 minutes of cooking time.
Remove franks, add caraway seed. Toss and put into oval baking dish. Arrange franks around top. Serves four.

APPLESAUCE SURPRISE

1 (No. 2) can applesauce
3 tablespoons horseradish
1/4 cup sour cream
Combine ingredients, adjust the seasoning, and chill. Serve with a crunchy endive salad, topped with your family's favorite salad dressing. Hot French bread completes this tasty, simple meal.

WOMEN

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Wed., Jan. 3, 1962 3

Mrs. L. D. Stone Speaker For Woman's Culture Club

The Woman's Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon at Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. M. L. Andrews as hostess. Mrs. R. L. Terry was leader for the afternoon. Fifteen members were present.

Mrs. L. D. Stone was guest speaker on the topic "Home Life in the United States". She said in part:

"In my own way, I am going to ask you to go back with me from our days of instant coffee and push button life, back to the early 1907 and 1921 century.

"Has it really been such a long time since the days when the privy, the player piano, and the pot bellied stove were common to American homes? Are the days of soap making at home and spinning and traveling by paddlewheel steamers and stage coaches really gone for good? How long has it been since you've seen a kerosene lamp, a sippy, a scarecrow?"

"When settlers first arrived here, they found only homes of Indians such as wigwags, huts of log and mud, and others.

"The story of American homes must start without a single house to illustrate the architectural beginning. Not one dwelling survives today which we can be sure was built before 1650, leaving the years running back to the days of Jamestown and Plymouth unaccounted for by any standing examples. While nothing remains, we do have fragments of information—a few foundations, written records, and plenty of surmises of what went on in the way of building.

"During the first few years after 1907 in Virginia and after 1650 in Mass. our Cavaliers and Pilgrim fathers kept house in the crudest kind of huts and caves. Emergency building was the only thing they could give immediate attention to for instance, caves were dug in the side of a hill, and lived in until the settlers could have time to chop down and cut up trees for log houses. Later, dugouts of four feet down in the earth with lumber and rocks four feet above were made. The homes of the Indians were copied by the English, being ready adaptations of natural and plentiful resources. Wigwags in the South were of deerkins pinned on a frame, of tree boughs crudely piled into a cover, and a three-sided log cabin.

"Though the settler had no saw-mills, brick kilns, or stone cutters, he had one noble friend—his broad-axe. With his axe, and his own hands, he took a long step in advance in American architecture, he built a log cabin. These logs were chinked with wood wedges and daubed with clay. Doors were hung on wooden hinges of straps of hide.

"These log houses did not satisfy these men and women for long, although in the winning of the West in 18 and 19th century they were used and many are still standing. They longed to have

English houses. A single room on the ground and a sleeping loft above. Eventually brick and stone were used in the houses.

"To the South, as prosperity came with the tobacco crops, huge mansions were made. Outhouses consisted of slave quarters, cook houses or kitchens, ice houses, smoke houses, spring houses.

"Inside the early homes, pine stools were used in fireplace, and stoves were used, and with the increase of cattle and domestic animals, tallow for candle making came to revolutionize lighting in these colonial homes. Matches were unheard of to light these with, for matches were introduced in American homes in 1827.

"The kitchens of early homes were the most cheerful of all, due to the fireplaces. Seats were here for family warming, reading, working, and in general the work center. Here could be found cooking equipment, some on swing bar cranes, spinning wheel for yarn making, weaving equipment, candle molds, etc. The tables were rough hewn, bench style and the seats were smaller benches fashioned like the table. Dishes were made of wood. Almost everything one ate or drank out of was of wood. Silver-smithing in America came a little later in the early 17th century.

"One of the most unique and interesting items found here was a vider—a deep wicker or wooden basket passed around the table and each person removed excess food and crumbs from his plate and on the table.

"The food, wild meat, vegetables, fruit, sugar, came from tapping maple trees and hoarded for sweets—wild honey of course, fish was a common food for those living along streams, rivers and oceanside. The Indians produced corn to these colonists, and this item probably saved them from starving.

"We have all heard of hasty pudding, which was made from corn. Pumpkins were used as a food and as bread and beans, were baked in clay pots much the way we do today. This the Indians taught them.

"Soon the English architects sent plans to America. With influences from all parts of Europe, houses were made in America with an English accent. Houses took on tones of the part of country they were in and of the way they lived."

Water Suit Trial Opens

LUBBOCK (AP)—A law suit opens in federal court today in an effort to prove that water under the southern High Plains of Texas is a natural deposit and is being mined just as oil, gold or any other natural deposit.

The suit, brought by a farmer and his wife, seeks a cost-depletion income tax allowance on all underground water used for irrigation farming.

Observers described it as one of the most far-reaching lawsuits ever tried here. Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley will hear the suit.

It was filed by Marvin and Mildred Shurbet of Petersburg, but it is actually a test case on behalf of the High Plains Water Conservation District.

It has been eight years in preparation and was filed last February.

The actual cash allowable figure sought by the Shurbets is for the tax year 1959 and involves only about $300.

There are about 20,000 irrigation farmers utilizing 60,000 miles of land in a 47-county panhandle-plains area. A precedent set by the Shurbets, would affect any one with a similar set of circumstances.

Pair Hurt When Tug Overturns

HOUSTON (AP)—A tug turned over in a bayou near the Houston ship channel Tuesday night, injuring two men.

Jack Caudle, 34, of Houston, skipper of the tug Switcher I, and Vern Erby, 24, of Pasadena, got out and bruisers and were admitted to a hospital after they were fished from the water.

The Switcher I and its sister tug, the Switcher II, were pushing an empty barge when the tug capsized. It did not sink.

Granddaughter Of Sgt. York Enlists

PALL MALL, Tenn. (AP)—A granddaughter of Sgt. Alvin C. York, the fighting man of World War I, steals some of the spotlight from her famous old grandpa today.

Mary Elizabeth York, 18, will be inducted into the Women's Air Force in a special ceremony at the bedside of the Tennessee mountain man who won the Medal of Honor for his legendary exploits.

"I hope I can make grandpa as proud of me as I am of him," says the girl, who is called Goldie by her friends.

Miss York is a 1961 graduate of Fulton High School in Knoxville, Tenn.

"She's just a nice, light-hearted girl," said Fulton Principal W. M. Davis. "She was well-liked by all the students."

Among her activities, Davis recalled, was participation in school plays and dramatics. Other than that, he said, Miss York stayed in the background.

That betrays something of her grandfather's tendencies. York was a conscientious objector, an "I don't want to fight" man who, nevertheless, did fight.

I was in the Argonne on Oct. 8, 1918, he killed 25 Germans and took 132 prisoners, including a battalion commander and three other officers.

Gen. John J. Pershing commended York as "the greatest civilian soldier of the war."

The Air Force sent Col. Robert G. Brown, area recruiting commander, from Charlotte, N.C., to direct the special induction ceremony.

White said. "The extra air in the loaf contributes to more rapid deterioration in the quality of the bread. It does not hold its freshness as long."

'Ballooned' Loaf Illegal

AUSTIN (AP)—State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White cautioned Texas housewives to keep a sharp eye out for "ballooned" bread.

White served official notice to all Texas bakeries Tuesday that the manufacture, packaging and sale of a "ballooned" loaf of bread is "a misleading trade practice, illegal under provisions of the Texas weights and measures law."

The commissioner defined a "ballooned" loaf as a one-pound loaf which has the same size and appearance as a 1½ pound loaf.

He said that side by side on a grocery shelf, there is no apparent difference between a one-pound loaf and the 1½-pound size.

"The weights of the bread are printed in very small type," White said.

Also, White said, "the extra air in the loaf contributes to more rapid deterioration in the quality of the bread. It does not hold its freshness as long."

He also enjoyed hunting and fishing and even after his retirement in 1938 continued to help SMU in fund-raising drives.

While he was bishop, he was assigned to church superintendent work in China, Japan, Siberia and Manchuria for four years.

He was executive secretary to the Board of Church Extension and was bishop of Methodist conferences in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Survivors included the widow and three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Penniman of Dallas, Mrs. Graham R. Hall of Little Rock, Ark., and Premies M. Terry of Washington, D.C., and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Boaz, a native of Kentucky, was president of the old Polytechnic College at Fort Worth when he persuaded Methodist leaders a major university was needed in North Central Texas.

He wanted to put the school at Fort Worth, but the committee chose Dallas and established SMU here.

He became the school's first vice president and served from 1911 to 1913 after raising $750,000 to get it started. Later, he served as president of Texas Woman's College, a successor to Polytechnic.

SMU called him as president in 1920 until 1922. He raised a million dollars in seven months for the debt-ridden school and was made a Methodist bishop and assigned to the Orient.

Boaz hired Ray Morrison as football coach of the SMU Mustangs. While he was president, Morrison introduced football razzle-dazzle and popularized the forward pass with the Ponies.

The bishop never missed an SMU football game after he established residence in Dallas until he passed his 94th birthday. He played golf almost daily until his final illness.

"We still have a chance to save Africa from communism but in 10 or 15 years it may be too late," said Ismael, who is 23. He and five other Somali students were expelled from Czechoslovakia last month.

Ismael said he had been attracted to communism while studying on a scholarship in London in 1957. He became a candidate for party membership and was offered a scholarship to study in Czechoslovakia.

"After studying economics and political planning for four years, I came to realize that communism has no place in Africa," Ismael said.

"In Somalia we fought the British and French imperialists but now I have learned that the Communists are the greatest imperialists. They are the worst."

Ismael said more than 200 young Somali Communists are studying in Moscow, 40 are in Peking, 38 in East Germany and 5 to 10 in Poland. These Communists, he asserted, are to form the cadre for Communist expansion in East Africa.

The West German government has granted Ismael's companion's one-year scholarships to study German and then give them further aid to study at a German university.

Ismael asserts he plans to go home to become an anti-Communist politician.

Jessie's Hair Fashions Is City's Newest Beauty Salon

Snyder's newest beauty salon opened its doors for business just two weeks ago today. And in that short time Jessie's Hair Fashions has attracted a following comparable to an old established shop.

The location is on Twenty-sixth Street just west of Avenue F. This location was chosen by Mrs. Jessie Hampton because of its central location, the abundant free parking, and the building itself which could so easily be adapted to an attractive beauty salon.

Mrs. Hampton believes an attractive and well-lit business place makes for more pleasure for the customer while she is there, and for more pride in their work by employees of a firm. And so the new Jessie's Hair Fashions salon is one of the cleanest, brightest, most up-to-date salons to be found in West Texas.

Five competent and licensed hair stylists are available at Jessie's Hair Fashions. As a special feature for busy ladies and working girls the shop is open until 9 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday evenings. All five of the hair stylists at Jessie's Hair Fashions have been trained at Jessie's Beauty College. There they learned the modern styles and methods, and are now utilizing this excellent training in the styling of their customers' hair.

Individual styling is stressed, and each patron's problem is approached from the personal standpoint. It is probably a combination of this personal approach and the friendly atmosphere that has caused Jessie's Fashions to become so popular almost overnight.

All beauty services are, of course, offered, with manicures and facials becoming increasingly popular. Appointments for any of the beauty services may be made by calling HI 3-3832.

waived examining trial on one set of charges involving concealment of two notes, one for $21,000 and the other, for $23,250. Earlier, he was charged with removing an $11,184 from the banks. The charges will be presented to the Jim Wells County Grand Jury Jan. 8.

Heaving is scheduled Friday in 7th District Court in Alice on a civil suit filed by the old state bank at Premont against Richardson. The suit asks that certain property of Richardson be turned over to the bank. The property includes 10 horses, a private plane, a house boat, a motor boat, 229 head of cattle and a 3,000-acre ranch.

Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of 7th District Court, for many years a Duval and Jim Wells County political figure, was president of the board of the old state bank at Premont and heads the new bank's board.

Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner said he was in Premont three days last week and helped the officials of the new bank prepare the necessary forms requesting a new charter.

"The capital was already paid in when the application was submitted," he said. Falkner said he helped the officials fill out the forms Saturday. "But we were unable to get the board together until Sunday."

Laredo attorney General Weatherly asked the attorney general Tuesday to look into the formation of the new bank. He said he represented the San Isidro Independent School District and a group of taxpayers.

"My clients are worried because the current salaries and current funds of the public schools may be endangered," Weatherly wired Wilson. He requested "a thorough investigation" of the new charter.

The new bank said Tuesday all checks written on accounts in the bank as of Dec. 30 would be returned. It said the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which guaranteed deposits in the old bank up to $10,000 per account, probably would begin paying off depositors in a few days.

The banking board comprises Wilson, Falkner and State Treasurer Jesse James.

Falkner said there was no advance notice of the board meeting nor of a hearing on the application.

"I think the board has a right to waive a hearing in an emergency situation like this," Falkner said.

Wilson said the commissioner talked by telephone with First Asst. Atty. Gen. Leonard Passmore, who was ill at his home here. The attorney general's department approved the application after Passmore talked with Wilson in Dallas, Wilson said.

7:30 CBS "Checkmate"—Benny essays his first straight dramatic role on television in "A Funny Thing Happened to Me on the Way to the Game." Benny appears as Jack Bowen, a famous American comedian, who is fiercely proud of his role of grand marshal and guest of honor at the 21st Annual Pioneer Bowl football game and parade. Otto Kruger and Tina Louise are seen in co-starring roles.

7:30 CBS "Circle Theatre"—presents "Window on the West," a dramatization of the operations and impact of Radio Free Europe on five satellite countries behind the Iron Curtain.

A-Machines In Demand

OTTAWA, AP—The Canadian government is in the business of making atomic machines—and business is good.

Forty salesmen seek markets for the Commercial Products Division of Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., owned by the people. Products are sold in 57 countries. Export sales this fiscal year are expected to exceed $4 million.

The main revenue producer is the cobalt-60 beam therapy unit, a machine developed in Canada in 1951 to treat cancer patients. Canada at one time had the world market to itself for these machines. It now competes with 30 producers, mainly in the United States, Britain, Italy, Japan and West Germany.

Since its establishment in 1952, the division has sold 258 therapy units in 39 countries. The United States has been the best customer, taking 92 machines. The main-hand Chinese have bought seven, the Soviet Union two and Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Poland one apiece.

Equipment for subjecting materials to gamma radiation also is sold, along with isotopes used in industry, medicine, agriculture and research.

Sea Lion Accepting Free Food

OCEAN CITY, N.J. (AP)—Candy, the capricious sea lion, has appeared—and disappeared—again.

The animal who has been playing hide-and-seek with humans since Christmas flapped its flippers at the dock of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noone Tuesday.

The Noones knew what the sea lion expected. It had first appeared at their dock last Thursday and eagerly accepted a fish handout.

They followed the same procedure Tuesday. They rushed out and bought $7.50 worth of fish for their voracious visitor. Then they made a quick telephone call to Al Sheridan of Island Park, N.Y.

Sheridan, a fisherman and boat builder, had read about the friendly sea lion and he said it was probably his pet, Candy. Sheridan said that Candy, whose appetite for fish is boundless, disappeared into the Atlantic Ocean two months ago when a school of his favorite food swam by.

He said his pet apparently has been wandering tramp-style up and down the Jersey coast accepting free lunches.

Sheridan climbed into his station wagon and headed for Ocean City as soon as he received the Noone's call. Back at the dock, the animal gulped through the fish dinner supplied by the Noones.

When Sheridan arrived, he took a handful of fish and went to the dock to try and persuade the happy-go-lucky sea lion to return to domesticity.

But Candy, if it was Candy, also is contrary. It took one look at Sheridan and plunged back into the salt water.

"It looked like my sea lion," Sheridan said.

The Coast Guard offered aid to the disconsolate Sheridan. It supplied a boat which carried Sheridan and the Noones up and down the lagoon, boating a searchlight under the docks. No sea lion was found.

Townpeople say the sea lion probably was the "Christmas seal" that arrived in North Wood, 15 miles south of here, the day before Christmas and accepted a fish handout before paddling away.

New Gnu Is Due

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Something new—a gnu—is due at the Jacksonville zoo today.

The gnu is an ox-beaked, long-maned, long-tailed, antlered animal. It will be the first gnu at the zoo.

Young Socialite Is Found Slain

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif. (AP)—Police sought clues today in the mysterious slaying of a pretty young socialite who was brutally beaten in her $100,000 home and then dumped into a well-furnished tub.

Dee June Bowman, 32, willowy honey-blond mother of three and a community leader in this swank Southern California seacoast town was found dead Tuesday. She was the wife of Dr. Frank Potter Bowman, 39, medical director for the Southern California Edison Co.

A neighbor who brought one of Mrs. Bowman's children home from nursery school shortly after noon found her fully clothed body in the tub. Dr. Bowman was summoned home from his office in downtown Los Angeles.

A watch on Mrs. Bowman's wrist was stopped at shortly after 10 o'clock. Neighbors said they had seen no strange during the morning, nor had they heard any sounds of a struggle in the house. The doors were locked and there was no evidence of forced entry.

There was speculation that Mrs. Bowman may have surprised a prowler bent upon burglary but homicide Sgt. Virgil A. Peterson, in charge of the investigation, commented: "We have no leads, no suspects and can find no motive for the crime."

Skip-Row Limitation Is Eased

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is giving up the four-row limitation on skip-row cotton planting.

Secretary Orville Freeman made the announcement Tuesday. In skip-row planting, rows of cotton are alternated with land left idle or are planted to another crop which does not compete with cotton for plant food, moisture or sunlight.

The land left idle or planted to other approved crops had to be the equivalent of four rows of cotton, at a minimum. If the skip rows are narrower than that, the entire acreage—that part planted to cotton as well as the part tilled or planted to other crops—was counted as planted to cotton under federal acreage allotment and marketing quota regulations.

Freeman said it is expected many growers will shift to a two-and-a-half row pattern—that is, two rows of cotton and two rows left idle as planted to other crops.

Lifting the four-row restriction, he said, will provide the cotton growers with more latitude in cropping operations.

He said it should also have an incidental advantage of further reducing the overproduction of feed grains, as much of the skip land has been planted to those crops.

Under new regulations, any land actually planted to cotton will be counted as cotton land in determining a grower's compliance with crop control programs.

Police Said an Intruder Apparently Hit Mrs. Bowman Several Times with a Blunt Object, Dragged Her 40 Feet from the Kitchen into the Bathroom and Put Her Body in the Tub. She was wearing blue capri pants and a black blouse.

Investigators said the house was not ransacked. Bloodstains and fragments of teeth found in the house showed that Mrs. Bowman had battled for her life. Bloodstains on the bathroom basin indicated the "killing" took place in the bathroom.

They were found in several places, including near the front door.

A watch on Mrs. Bowman's wrist was stopped at shortly after 10 o'clock. Neighbors said they had seen no strange during the morning, nor had they heard any sounds of a struggle in the house. The doors were locked and there was no evidence of forced entry.

There was speculation that Mrs. Bowman may have surprised a prowler bent upon burglary but homicide Sgt. Virgil A. Peterson, in charge of the investigation, commented: "We have no leads, no suspects and can find no motive for the crime."

WELCOME TO SNYDER—Shelby Coker (left) and Norman Fulks (right), Scurry County Boys Club board members, are pictured welcoming Herb Barnett to his new position with the Club. He has taken over the reins of the organization as executive director.

LOCAL BUILDING UNDERGOING CHANGES

Herb Barnett New Boys Club Executive Director

A facelift—and even of more boys an important new face—are both in evidence at the Scurry County Boys Club.

The new "face" is that of Herb Barnett, who has been named executive director of the Club and who has taken over his duties at the new post. Norman Fulks, president of the Club's board of directors, announced the appointment which will fill the vacancy created several months ago with the resignation of director Miché Bréas.

Barnett, 43, comes to Snyder from Wichita Falls, where he has been serving as the Boys Club program director. He and his wife, Sally, reside at 1902 Twenty-ninth Street and are the parents of six children—Lynne Louise, 10; Sherry, 8; Paul, 6; Herbie, 4; Danny, 3; and Becky, 1½.

He attended the University of Oklahoma two years before transferring to the University of Michigan, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He served as assistant director at the Phoenix (Arizona) Boys Club prior to being granted a scholarship to New York University, from which he went on to receive his Masters Degree in Education in the specialized field of Boys' Club work.

In addition to his work in Phoenix and Wichita Falls, he has directed his own Boys Club in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

In reference to the "facelift" job which is taking place at the local Club, Barnett—along with some member volunteer workers—has been giving the building a thorough "going over." Several boys have given him a hand in the operation, including Jerry and Jimmy Weaver, and Durwood Brunson. They have been especially instrumental in helping out with the cleanup following the remodeling work.

As a result of the remodeling,

GOP Solon Visits Here

Kenneth Kohler, new Republican representative from Amarillo, stopped here Tuesday to confer with Harold W. McKinnis, Scurry County Republican Chairman.

Kohler, who was on his way to Austin for the special session of the legislature, discussed plans with McKinnis for a dinner here Feb. 9 to honor Jack Cox of Breckenridge, a Republican candidate for governor. Kohler will introduce the main speaker at the dinner, and will spend the weekend in Snyder visiting his father-in-law, W. C. Tunnell.

Kohler, the first Republican elected to the Texas House since 1950, won a special election in November. He was joined a few weeks later by George Korkmaz of Galveston County, the second GOP winner in a special election. The special session thus marks the first time in history that more than one Republican has been in the House at the same time.

the senior games room is now located in the east end of the club building where the older boys will have their own recreational facilities. Work has been accomplished on all the other games rooms, also, and a pigmy room for youngsters nine years and under has been added.

Rearrangement and re-painting are in abundance throughout most of the interior. Also, a large area has been set aside for such activities as tumbling, gymnastics, and wrestling.

The crafts and shop facilities will be overseen by trained supervisors so that boys may gain knowledge and experience in such activities. Additional volunteer help is needed along these lines, however, and any qualified person wishing to help in the program is asked to contact Barnett at the Club.

Visitors to the Club are welcome at any time. A special informal "open house" is planned for Thursday from 5-7 p.m., however, and all local and area residents are extended a special invitation to come and look over the building at that time.

Regular weekday opening hours are expected to be 3:30-8 p.m.

Both the basketball and boxing programs are set to get underway at the Club in the near future, and all boys interested in taking part in those sports are urged to sign up for them as soon as

Light Snow Falls Again Across North

By The Associated Press
More light snow fell across northern areas from the Midwest into New England and rain dampened some western sections but generally clear weather prevailed elsewhere today.

It was chilly again in sections of the Southeast, including parts of Florida. A general warming trend was indicated for most of the eastern half of the country. Coldest weather again was centered in sections of the Northeast with zero and below temperatures in parts of northern New York State.

It was J in Farmington, N.M., and readings in the teens and 20s were reported in the Rockies and sections of the plateaus. Temperatures moderated over the Plains and into the Mississippi Valley with 30s and 40s in most areas and 50s in extreme southern Texas.

The 20s and 30s also prevailed in sections eastward with the mercury dropping to below freezing in parts of the Southeast and into the 40s in Florida. It was 45 in Miami but Key West reported 65.

possible. The need exists for volunteers to help out with the basketball phase of operation, also, and any prospects may make their availability known by contacting Barnett.

Tentative plans, subject to the approval of the board of directors which meets at the Club Thursday at 7 p.m., call for membership to be open to Scurry County boys of four age groupings—pigmy (6-9 years) at 25 cents per year, mid-set (10-12) at 50 cents per year, junior (13-15) at 75 cents per year, and senior (16-18) at one dollar a year.

Registration for club membership got underway January 1, and all boys desiring to join may do so by registering at any time during the hours in which the Club is open.

In assuming his directorship, Barnett commented that, "We intend to give the boys opportunities to accept responsibilities and develop leadership abilities in assisting in the various programs of the Club." He added that, "We want boys to know it's their Club and want it to be a place in which each boy may take pride."

Concerning club pride, he went further to state that he hopes the feeling may carry over into the board members and people of the community in addition to the boys themselves.

From me to you A DAILY VIEW

By Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"For the Grace of God has appeared for the salvation of all men, training us to renounce irreligion and worldly possessions and to live sober, upright, and godly lives in this world, awaiting our blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ." Titus 2:11-13 (read verses 2:11-3:8)

This scripture is especially good to meditate upon during the first part of a new year. We all feel like we are beginning again. We make resolutions to be better persons and to do better things. So often these good intentions fall by the way, though. What happens? Is it that the intentions were not good? No! Rather it is the fact that we have remained the same old persons. We have tried to sew a new patch on an old garment, and the first time we tried it out, the whole fabric gave way.

In order for resolutions to be kept, you must become a new person inside. Simply putting a new frosting on the old cake won't do. And the only way to become a new person is lose yourself in the person of Jesus Christ.
