Distribution of Cheese Begins Here July 6

Distribution of cheese to needy persons in Collingsworth County is slated to begin Monday, July 6, with the designated distribution points being the Community Action center at the corner of East Avenue and 7th Streets, and the Senior Citizens center, 702 East Avenue. Time of distribution has not been set and this should be asked by those making application at the various churches.

Announcement of the distribution was made by County Judge Zook Thomas, who is in charge of the program.

Assisting in the distribution program are all the churches of the county, who have application forms and will assist those who need help or information.

The cheese distribution program is made available to the counties through the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation, according to Argus A. Burnett, executive director, acting for the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Burnett indicated distributions will be made monthly through the remainder of the year.

Those receiving the cheese must meet specific guidelines relating to age, physical and income or their participation in assistance programs such as aid to families with dependent children, food stamps, free school lunch program, Medicaid, and rental subsidy.

WHS VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Wellington High School varsity cheerleaders won two of thirteen spirit sticks awarded to the squad showing the most enthusiasm and spirit at Texas Tech Cheerleading Camp June 20 -24. They competed against 65 other groups. The group also received three excellent ratings and one superior rating. Cheerleader sponsor Linda Johnson accompanied the cheerleaders to school. '82-'83 varsity cheerleaders, above, are back row, from left, Belinda Crelia, Sandi Cobb and Tina Bawcom. Front row, from left, are Amy Williams, Cathy Crelia and Lori Lacy.

5-Day Tennis Tourney Slated

Five full days of tennis will be featured in the annual Wellington Open Tournament, with some of the outstanding student and young adult players in the southeast Panhandle, South Plains and western Oklahoma due to participate.

Play will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 7, and if all brackets are filled, the tournament could end around 9 or 10 p.m. Sunday, July 11, according to Ronny Williams, tournament director.

Forty-two trophies, along with special trophies for the two high point champions, will be awarded during the tournament.

The defending point winners of the 1981 tournament are due to be back. They are Caron Hood of Lubbock, formerly of Wellington, who is returning from a European study tour just in time to participate, and Jamie McKay of Wellington High School.

The tournament will be played on Ellison Park Courts, regarded area-wide as ideal from the standpoint of tournament play and spectator comfort.

Although this is one of the younger tournaments of the lower Panhandle, it has gained quick popularity.

New this year will be the concession stands at the park, eliminating the necessity of leaving the grounds for refreshments. Mrs. Earl L. Bartlett and Mrs. Tommy Powell are in charge of concessions.

Assisting Williams with the tournament are Garell Forehand and Lynn Bartlett.

Williams reviewed tournament rules:

There will be a limit of 16 entries in each event and no player may enter more than

Wheat Harvesting Returns to Full Swing; Cotton Planting at Deadline

Collingsworth cotton growers have gone back to their fields to replant a cotton crop that from this point on is going to depend entirely on the weather.

J.N. Glasgow of Farmers Co-op Gin estimates that 90 percent of the cotton crop in the Wellington area in the last few days has been hailed out, washed out or blown out.

Some farmers are reporting that they have gone over their crops 8 to 10 times, with planting, re-planting, two to three times, then going over the crop with some type of sand-fighting equipment to cut down loss from top soil that dries quickly and then blows.

Norwood Future Farmers To be Honored at State

Three Samnorwood Future Farmers and a member who has graduated will be honored at the 54th Annual Texas State FFA Convention in Ft. Worth, July 14 through 16.

Stan Tate, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tate, is the state winner of the Soil, Water and Air Management Award, one of the National FFA proficiency awards.

The National FFA Foundation provides cash incentive awards to Texas FFA members in 22 agricultural proficiency categories. First place winners receive $100 cash.

Two members who graduated this spring will receive Lone Star Farmer degrees, the highest given on the state level. They are Dale Tarver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Tarver, and Steve Knoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Knoll.

Lynn Tate is due to receive state approval of his application for the American Farmer Degree and this will be sent to the national FFA office. He should receive the degree at the national convention in October. Tate, also the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tate, will be a sophomore in Texas Tech University.

In other Samnorwood chapter activities, Stan Tate attended the Area I leadership conference held at Clarendon June 16, 17 and 18.

Two Samnorwood residents were chosen recently as Honorary chapter farmers, Mrs. Noah Stice, owner of the store at Samnorwood, and Kenneth Martindale, high school principal. Both were honored for the service and assistance they have rendered to the chapter and its individual members.

Chapter officers were elected before the end of school.

President for the 1982-83 school year are Stan Tate, president; Jackie Kidd, vice president; Tony Carter, secretary; Scot Martindale, treasurer; David Kidd, reporter; Tommy Barker, sentinel; and Le Ed Oswalt, voting delegate. Becky Barton was selected the chapter Sweetheart.

Oswalt was named Star District Greenhand and Jackie Kidd the Star District Chapter Farmer and represented the chapter and Greenbelt District at the Wellington area netters take to the courts next week in an open tennis tournament at Ellison Park beginning Wednesday, July 7 and continuing through Sunday, July 11. Holding a few of the trophies that will be awarded during the tournament are, from left, Lisa Powell, coach Ronny Williams and Ashley Williams.

TENNIS TROPHIES

NOSESPRINTING

Extension Agent Don Reeves nose prints a 4-H Club calf to provide life-long identification. This record, along with ear tagging and photographs, provides verification required for entry in major livestock shows.

Steers Get Nose Prints Tues.

Validating steers which 4-H boys and girls will exhibit in the major shows next spring was completed Tuesday, June 29, according to Don Reeves, extension agent.

In this process, the calves are nosed printed, ears tagged and photographed. Each bovine animal has its own nose print, and no two are alike, Reeves explained. It is a method of positive identification of an animal, similar to the use of fingerprints for humans.

All first and second place steers at Dallas, Ft. Worth, San Antonio, Houston and other major shows are nose printed a second time when they are exhibited, and the two nose prints are compared.

Proof of ownership and signature of the 4-H or FFA member is required.

Validating the steers must be completed by July 1 throughout the state, Reeves said.

Approximately 25 steers, candidates for the spring 1983 show circuit, were noseprinted Tuesday.

Street Dance to Be Held July 2

Wellington Texas Twisters Square Dancers will have a special street dance on the east side of the square Friday, July 2, to help celebrate the Fourth of July weekend.

"Everyone is invited to come to watch or to dance with us," said a club spokesman.

"We welcome everyone to waltz or join in on a two-step with us in between our square dance tips.

Nicky Boone, the club caller, will be calling.

"This will also give the ones interested in taking square dance lessons in the fall a chance to get acquainted with us and to sign up."

Lone Star Gas Files for Full Gas Cost Recovery

DALLAS - Stating that the economic vitality of the utility's service area depends on an assured gas supply, Lone Star Gas Co. Senior Vice President Douglas W. Williams announced the utility applied to the Texas Railroad Commission today for an increase in its city gate rate. The company's application requests $90 million in increased revenues for its Transmission Division, including 100 percent recovery of the increased cost of gas purchases. Using a monthly average consumption of six thousand cubic feet (Mcf) per month, a Texas residential customer's bill would increase about $4 per month.

The city gate rate is the amount that the company's Transmission Division is permitted to charge the Distribution divisions for gas delivered for sale to residential and commercial customers and for Distribution company-used and unaccounted for gas. The Transmission Division buys gas from producers and transports it to 536 cities and towns served in Texas by Lone Star Gas Co. The point at which city distribution systems purchase the gas from the Transmission Division for customer consumption is the city gate.

Since February 1980, the Texas Railroad Commission has allowed the company to recover only 95 percent of its increased cost of gas. This partial recovery has resulted in Lone Star being unable to recover $13.5 million in gas costs through April 1982 and unable to earn the return granted by the Commission in 1980. For the same period, the average cost of purchased gas increased from $1.85 per Mcf to $3.38 in April of this year, an 83 percent increase.

"To compete successfully for new gas supplies, we must recover the increased costs of buying and providing our customers this premium fuel," said Williams.

"Only with full cost recovery can we pay these increasing prices and hope to meet successfully the intense competitive pressures that now exist to secure additional supplies which our customers rightfully expect. I am certain, Williams added, that the Railroad Commission fully recognizes the complexities in today's natural gas market."

The requested increase seeks to recover the higher cost of gas, inflation-related increases in operating expenses and a reasonable return on increased amounts of property used to serve the gas utility's 1.2 million customers.

ers, on the other hand, soared as they were able to get in their fields with combines in something that resembled a normal operation Tuesday, June 29.

Bill Lowe of Singley Mill said:

"We had a real good day Tuesday, with a run like a normal wheat harvest.

But rain that has fallen since the wheat ripened has lowered the weight on some of the grain, to an average of 59 pounds. At the same time wheat that might, in reality, be of No. 1 quality, will be considered No. 2 for purposes of the long range government loan program, Lowe indicated.

Despite the harvesting operations under way county-wide, much of the ground is soft--some of it almost too soft to hold up heavy combine equipment.

Yields remain "pretty good," Lowe said, and most of the best wheat is already in. He estimated that the wheat being cut now averages 16-18 bushels per acre.

"If we can have three to four more days of this same kind of weather, we'll be on top of the crop," he added.

Price of wheat is fluctuating, "and no one knows why," Lowe commented.

The market closed Tuesday evening at $3.41, off 11 cents from the opening price that morning.

One worry that has emerged is getting the crop out before the weeds take it.

Another worry is the shortage of combines that has developed. "It looks like it will be a long drawn-out harvest. There's not too many locally owned combines and the customs just don't stop," the Singley manager said.

Just as there is a combine shortage for wheat growers, some of the faster maturing varieties of cottonseed are in short supply. "We have a hard time keeping seed in varieties our people want. The situation is worsened because Collingsworth growers must compete for desirable seed with those throughout the South Plains and Western Oklahoma who have weather disasters, said Glasgow.

James Shepard, Co-op gin manager, pointed out that cotton which did survive has a thin stand. "But we can make lots of cotton on a thin stand," he added.

A hot dry fall with a late frost can mean this county will still make a good crop. A cold, wet fall and early frost is another question.

Glasgow recalled an old saying in this part of the cotton growing southwest: "When we have a hard time getting a crop planted, we will have a good harvest."

"If that's the case, we ought to have a bumper crop," he commented.

Most farmers and town residents who have rain gauges have given up checking them, but in some part of the county there has been rain on most of the days of the last week.

Estimates range from 10 and 11 inches for the wet spell to higher readings, due to the spotted nature of the rains.

Rodney Myrick, Wellington vocational agriculture teacher said Tuesday he has poured 21.95 inches of water from his rain gauge during this wet spell.

He added that rain has scoured the bottom of a creek through his farm north of town, deeping it in spots by two to three feet.

Tommy Powell, Soil Conservation Service says there has been little land damage in view of the amount of rain that has fallen. This, he said, is due to most of the rains falling slowly. There have been few hard, washing rains.

LAWN FERTILIZING

Homeowners who use too much nitrogen fertilizer on their lawns may be covering up some lawn problems.

Grass invaded by weeds or showing the effects of thatch accumulation may be boosted temporarily by nitrogen fertilizer. However, if the primary problem is not discovered and solved the addition of nitrogen will only add to the problem.

Excessive nitrogen stimulates growth which adds to thatch accumulation. Water requirements also increase when too much nitrogen is applied.

Apply nitrogen fertilizer conservatively and only when the grass shows symptoms of nitrogen deficiency. This deficiency can be diagnosed by a pale color, very slow growth and abundant seed heads.

Comptroller Officers Visit Flea Markets

AUSTIN, Tex.--State Comptroller Bob Bullock said today Comptroller enforcement officers are visiting flea markets across the state to make sure all Texas retailers are treated equally.

"We have received complaints from taxpayers about competitors who don't charge or don't pay sales taxes. The business people who have made these complaints are only asking for what they deserve--to be treated just exactly like their neighbors and their competitors," Bullock said.

Bullock explained the enforcement officers now visiting flea markets aren't looking for the once-a-year garage sale a family might hold to clean out the overflow from their attic.

four events unless approved by tournament officials.

Matches will include two out of three sets, no add scoring used up to the finals and with 12 point tie breakers at 6 games each.

Trophies will go to first and second place finishers, as well as the individual point champion in the boys and girls brackets.

Starting at 9 a.m. Wednesday, July 7, boys and girls singles for 14 years and younger, will be played until all matches are finished.

Doubles 14 and under begin at 5 p.m. Wednesday, with divisions for both boys and girls. These will go over into Thursday.

Singles, boys and girls divisions, 17 years and under, begin Thursday, July 8, at 1 p.m.

Doubles, boys and girls, 17 and under start at 7 p.m. Thursday, and continue into Friday.

Open division singles, again with boys and girls brackets, begin Friday at 4 p.m., and doubles open division starts at 11 a.m. Saturday, July 10.

Mixed doubles, open division, will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday, July 11, and if the event has the full 16 teams, play will continue until after dark, Williams predicts.

Because of comfort of shade trees in the park, and the new concession stand, the public is urged to watch as many matches as they wish.

With added emphasis on high school and junior high tennis in this area, the game has become one of the fastest growing spectator sports in the southwest. At Wellington, these students are now the young adults who will be playing.

A week remains to enter. Those interested in taking part should contact Lynn Bartlett, 1600 Corsicana, Wellington, Texas 79095; or phone Bartlett at 806-447-2612; Williams, 806-447-5149; or Forehand, 806-447-2481.

Entry fees are $3.50 for singles and $7 for doubles. Checks should be made payable to Ronny Williams and no one can begin play until the entry fee is paid.

A name and the events entered must accompany each fee paid.

Proceeds from the tournament will go to update the courts and make necessary repairs. This is looking toward the possibility that Wellington may host the District 2-AA UIL tournament next year. With Quanah and the Panhandle moving into the district, Wellington becomes the center of the district.

This Guys and Dolls tournament will go down in club history for the conditions under which the players performed, in rain, wind, and lightning, then an hour or so before the competition ended, the sun broke through.

Placing second in the championship flight were Gary and Linda Brewer, with 146; while Willie Gragson and Karen Caison were third with 148.

Coming in first in the first flight were Charles and Virginia Allen of Canyon, with 150; second, Vic Bates of Quanah and Vicki Parker, 151. Third place drew a fourway tie with 150. Jerol and Martha Morris were the winners in the tie breaker, and others were Cal and Lyna Hurst, Billy and Freida Hughes of Childress and Teddy Martin and Kristy Cox.

Panfork Opens Month-long Session

Panfork Baptist Encampment opens its month-long series of camps for boys and girls in Baptist Churches of the Top of Texas area on Monday, July 5, and the last of the four camps closes Friday, July 30.

Panfork has already been the site of two youth camps, opening with the Mexican Church Camp Monday through Thursday, June 21-24. This formerly was the last camp held. The Abundant Life Fellowship has a camp under way this week, which is scheduled to close July 1.

The camp format will in general follow the pattern of other years, with Bible and mission study, preaching, devotions and planned recreation for the children and young people.

At the same time, several new concepts have been introduced.

First of the four will be the girls camp, Monday through Thursday, July 5-8, to be followed by the boys camp Monday through Thursday, July 12-15.

These will be "Summit" camps, dealing with the fact that it is for the boys and girls participating, it is a mountain-top experience with the Lord.

Spectrum I, the first youth camp, will be held Monday through Thursday, July 19 to 23 and it will be followed by Spectrum II, the second youth camp. The two will be identical as to preaching and teaching.

In the meantime, Panfork Day Camp for younger children will be held Friday, July 16.

Walker Moore, Associate pastor for youth of Central Baptist Church, Pampa, heads the program committee this year. Camp president is the Rev. Alvin Hiltbrunner, pastor of Central Baptist Church.

Preachers for the four camps, will be the Rev. Bruce Chesser, pastor, First Baptist Church Spearman; the Rev. Ralph Chapman, First Baptist Church Canadian; Rev. Hiltbrunner; and the Rev. Larry Smith, First Baptist Church, Gruver.

Camp missionary for the first two weeks will be Becky Messer a former missionary to Venezuela and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Mike Hughes, 101 8th Street, and of the Rev. Jeff Messer, pastor of Eleventh Street Baptist Church, Shamrock and former Quail pastor.

She has spent most of her life in Venezuela, where her parents are missionaries.

She and her husband Randy Messer live at Kansas City, where he attends Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Missionary for the Spectrum I and II camps will be the young man who was missionary to the Winter Olympics.

There will be approximately 75 teachers in the four camps.

The changes are part of an upgrading program in both content and physical facilities that will continue over the next few years, Rev. Moore explained.

Panfork Baptist Camp administrator is the Rev. S.L. Yielding and Mrs. Yielding assists her husband. Camp nurse for the last 6 years has been the Rev. Aaron Laverty, pastor of First Baptist Church, Mobeetie. His son, Richard Laverty, is the swimming pool life guard.

Mrs. Delores Birkey is in charge of preparing and serving the food.

Others on the permanent staff are Tony Carter, Tim Tramel, Toni Tramel, Wanda Wood of Shamrock, Shannon Filgrim of Hartley and Russell Laverty of Mobeetie.

Construction is nearing completion on the new building for First Baptist Church, Pampa, at a cost of $120,000. Although it is not finished, the building will go into use Monday.

The all-metal structure, with a gold and brown exterior color theme, will house at least 80 persons and includes private living quarters for the director, a large living-dining area, kitchen, sleeping quarters, with central heating and air conditioning.

In other work at the camp, Lutie Chapel, the old Lutie Baptist Church, has been remodeled since the last camp 1981 encampment.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

Notice to El Paso Area Customers

Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell adopted the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to merge the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting new rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en la cual Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.

Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso

Con vigencia a partir del 1o de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas de Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone unir las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se apliçan al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que resulta de ésta union se ha archivado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission), al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y está disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio tambien afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañias proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para larga distancia, cualquier cambio en las mismas tambien afectaría a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

Pioneer Farmers Honored at Gala

Pioneer Collingsworth farming families, along with others from the Panhandle, were recognized during the "TEXAS" Gala Opening Wednesday, June 16 in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

After George Lokey, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation introduced the honored guests, Mrs. Clyde Drake thanked the TPHF on behalf of the honorees.

The 17th Gala Opening of TEXAS began at 7:30 p.m. with a reception near the statue of Quanah Parker, adjacent to the theatre entrance. This was hosted by the Golden Spread CowBelles and the Associate Milk Producers. Dedication of the bust of Margaret Harper, a moving force in the establishment and growth of the production, "TEXAS" followed.

A dozen pioneers who engaged in agriculture in Collingsworth County prior to 1900, who were honored at the opening of TEXAS along with the name of a descendant invited to attend the gala, were:

In "The Good Land," he pays tribute to the farmer, who feeds the world, and traced the changes in agriculture from the wooden-handled turning plow to the rotary combine that harvest more than 35 acres of wheat per hour and "Eli Witney would probably be equally amazed that one huge cotton planter can plant 50 rows at a time and that a mechanical cotton gathering machine can reap 7 bales of cotton per hour," he wrote.

Colene Barton of Wellington Retired Teacher of the Month

When Colene Barton retired in May 1978, she had been in the classroom since starting the first grade at Vinson, Oklahoma. Her aunt was her first teacher, so the other students would not think she was partial to her niece and her daughter, Mrs. Barton said that the two of them spent the first grade under the teacher's desk and behind the big hooded stove.

This experience made a big impression on Colene Barton. In all of her 36 years of teaching, she tried to make each child feel that he or she was wanted and needed; that each of them in their own way had something to offer to their group.

Mrs. Barton was the fourth child of seven.

"We lived on a 160 acre farm. Six of us attended college. Four received master's degrees. I worked hard to go to school. Some of my jobs were ironing shirts, cleaning house, baby sitting, working in the college cafeteria and working as a teacher's aide," she says.

Mrs. Barton's first year of teaching was in Oklahoma, in a one-teacher school in Greer County. It was in a ranching area and the 5 students rode horseback to school. At Christmas time she planned a community Christmas program. She laughs at how her school house changed. After the program, Santa Claus delivered gifts and before you could believe your eyes, the people pushed the seats aside. The fiddler and other music makers struck up a happy tune. The president of the school board began calling a square and the people from ages 6 to 60 sang and danced. The amazed teacher had been accepted.

Since Mrs. Barton played on a softball team that won the state high school championship for three years, and played on a college AAU state-winning basketball team, she was asked to coach at Westview, Ok. It didn't take long for her to realize that playing for fun and coaching were entirely different.

In 1942, when she married Gus Barton, who was raised in the Crossroads Community, Mrs. Barton was asked to teach there. However the school moved into Wellington and Mrs. Barton moved with it.

"My 34 years in Wellington schools were a delight. I made so many friends. Even last week one of my superintendents, Dr. C.T. Roberts, came by to visit.

"I know every teacher, doesn't reach every child, but I like to think that maybe I touched some of their lives and made things a little better for them.

"Many sad things happened during my school years, and many humorous things happened. One student told me a predicate was when a mother was going to have a baby.

"One student greeted me after being in my room the year before. She threw her arms around me and said, 'Oh, Mrs. Barton, you smell just like you did last year.'"

When Colene Barton retired, the children kept a big secret. Each student, with mother's help, made a Dutch Doll Quilt piece with the students name embroidered on it. Some of the mothers collected the pieces and put them together and the quilt top was presented to the teacher at a party. It was a complete surprise. The Senior Citizens quilted it. Mrs. Barton proudly displays it and says, "The beautiful 36 squares symbolizes my 36 years in the classroom, each one as exciting and different as the one beside it.

Henry Martin Descendants Hold Two-Day Reunion Here

The descendants of the late Henry and Annie Martin, who settled in the Loco Community many years ago, met for a two-day reunion Saturday and Sunday, June 26 and 27 in the Farm Bureau Building.

Although the reunion has been held annually for a number of years, this was the first time for Wellington to be the location. Next year it will be in Cushing, Ok.

Hosts were Ralph and Barbara Hicks and LaQuita Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin raised their family here until they moved to Cushing in 1925. Their 9 children attended school in Fresno and Wellington, and most, if not all, of the boys played football.

Mr. Martin was one of the first deacons of Fresno Baptist Church. He recalled in later years that one of his great pleasures was to meet with farmer friends gathered around the court house square to visit on Saturday afternoons.

Dinner was served at noon Saturday and in the evening homemade ice cream was the treat. There was visiting, games and showing family photographs.

On Sunday, besides the noon luncheon, family members visited their home place at Fresno.

Three of the 5 living Martin children were present with their spouses: Clint and Avis Martin of Denver City, Orville and Rubye Martin of Corpus Christi, and Roy and Inez Martin Johnson of Sandia. Those unable to be here were Mrs. Bertha Teague of Las Vegas, N.M. and Roy Martin of Oklahoma City. Deceased sons are Harry, Clyde, Cecil and Arthur Martin.

Wives of two deceased sons were here, Mrs. Harry (Dorothy) Martin of Cushing, and Mrs. Clyde (Dovie) Martin.

Grandchildren, great grandchildren and other descendants present were Ralph and Rene Martin and Ralph and Barbara Hicks; Laudine Johnson of Austin, Wanda Dunn and Deanna of Clovis, N.M.; Mary Ann O'Banion and Donny of Arlington; Travis and Jimmie Britt and their grandson, David Deal of Ft. Worth; Sharon Rosson of Oklahoma City; Larry and Margie Patterson with Jimmy and Larry of Amarillo; Ernest Benton; Tonda Bryant of Littlefield and Davida Thompson, both of Littlefield; Elsie Hicks; Natalie and Greg Bowen of Bryan; Mike and Cindy Larned of Childress; La Quita Bowen and Barry Bowen;

Friends visiting were Mrs. Maude Vaughan, Mrs. Mattie Lindsey, Mrs. Minnie Benton, Mrs. Florence Tingle, Doris Tingle and Troy and Myrtle Stallings.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tarver with Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Shane Tarver with Micha and Toby and Mrs. Wilma Gibbs spent Father's Day with the B.F. Tarver's in Vernon. The 20th was also the Tarver's 67th wedding anniversary.

Quick And Easy Vegetable Casseroles

Summer Squash Casserole is a quick and easy way to prepare this popular vegetable. A topping of pecans adds eye and taste appeal and also extends the nutritional value of this dish, as well as other vegetable casseroles.

Right now when vegetables are plentiful, you may be searching out new and different ways to prepare them. These tasty vegetable casserole recipes are the answer; they'll have even non-vegetable lovers coming back for more.

Nobody has to tell you that vegetables are nutritious, but did you know you can extend their nutritional value by adding pecans? Pecans are a good source of protein and several important vitamins and minerals, including iron, calcium and the B vitamins. They are also rich in potassium and phosphorus. What's more, they provde fiber, an important ingredient in our daily diets.

And when it comes to taste, pecans add a crunchy texture and a rich flavor that's so appealing with cooked vegetables.

Both of these vegetable dishes take little time to prepare and only a few minutes in the oven. Summer Squash Casserole, with its topping of pecans, is pretty enough for company fare. And Festive Eggplant is a favorite dish, even among those who dislike this vegetable.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORTS

DIET AND ARTHRITIS

Despite what some persons believe there is no such thing as an "Arthritis Diet". No special diet or specific food will cure arthritis. Food has nothing to do with causing it and food is not effective in treating or curing it.

Arthritis is a chronic inflammatory process of unknown origin which causes discomfort in the joints. In an attempt to alleviate the pain, many with arthritis become victims of food experts who advocate miraculous cures with bizarre diet plans.

One claim has been that you can eat your way into arthritis and then eat your way out. Such mixtures as cod liver oil and orange juice, honey and vinegar or alfalfa tea have been recommended as treatments. Research had failed to show that the abesnce or presence of any food or vitamin causes or cures any form of arthritis.

The importance of a nutritionally balanced diet cannot be over emphasized. A balanced diet includes a variety of foods in amounts necessary to furnish essential nutrients and energy. Nutritionally balanced meals eaten daily benefit anyone's overall health, muscle tone and of special importance to the arthritic-build ability to resist the wear and tear of disease.

A good diet for anyone is based on a selection from the five food groups. They are the vegetable and fruit group; bread and cereal group; milk and cheese group; meat, poultry, fish and beans group, and fats and sweets. Food choices within each group vary enough to allow for normal calorie needs. Use caution with the fats and sweets groups. They provide relatively low levels of vitamins, minerals, and protein compared to calories.

Diet and arthritis involves following a balanced diet by choosing foods from each food group. Avoiding fad diets. Following your doctor's advice. Finally, maintaining normal weight to avoid strain of the involved joints.

C.C. Terry Family Comes From Four States to Reunion

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Terry held their annual family reunion Saturday, June 26, at the Heritage Room.

The family came from Arkansas, California, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, with the reunion lasting all day.

A family tree has been prepared, and members are working on a second volume. Work is also starting on Volume III.

A basket lunch was served, and taking pictures, and looking at old pictures provided entertainment.

Approximately 50 family members attended.

This is the first time the Terry family has had a reunion in Wellington. It was also the 82nd birthday celebration for the last surviving child of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Terry, Mrs. Ted (Love) Drake of Charleston, Ark.

Wellington will be the host town for the 1983 Terry Family reunion, which will be held on the last Saturday of June in Bura Handley Community Center.

Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Terry came to Collingsworth County in 1890 and filed on a farm northeast of Wellington, which has remained in the family continuously. The present owners are Herman Claude Terry of Kermit and Donald Joe Terry of Amarillo, sons of Mrs. Joe Terry and the late Mr. Terry.

Besides his farming interests, C.C. Terry helped to organized the Wellington State Bank, where his son, Joe Terry, was an officer for many years.

Descendants of Early Vinson PreacherHold2-DayReunion

The White family reunion, including descendants of the late Rev. and Mrs. Richard Henry White of the Vinson community, gathered for a family reunion Saturday and Sunday, June 19 and 20, in Bura Handley Community Center.

This is an annual affair, but it is only the second year it has been held in Wellington. The 1983 reunion will be at the community center also, on the third weekend of June.

Mrs. C.E. Francis the hostess, who is 90, and her sister, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lamkin, 93, of Roswell, N.M., were the oldest family members present. Their sister who is 88, Mrs. Pearl McClure of Lodi, Calif., could not attend.

The group visited, sang and played games.

Rev. White was a Methodist Minister who preached in rural and small town churches for 54 years.

His children and grandchildren recall that he preached regularly at Independence, Madge and Vinson, and if there was no church in a community, he preached at the school.

He often walked from one church to another, no matter how many miles, to hold services.

Those who registered were Curtis and Jane Turner with Kenneth and Mike Turner all of Calera, Ok.; David, Debra and Aaron Michelle Turner and Jack and Clarette Turner all of Durant, Ok.; P.E. and Jane Turner of El Paso; Stella Hawkins of Clearlake Park, Ca.; Gayle Hernandez and Johnny Morris of Oklahoma City; Vera White Kellison of Pauls Valley; Virginia Aline Peacock with Gary, Pam and David, all of Oklahoma City; Ethel Guerra and Becky Dudley both of North Highlands, Ca.; Mary and Gene Martin of Rockford, Ill.; Henry and Lennie White of Levelland; Chester and Jewell White of Ft. Worth; Bill Turner; R.H. Keesee and Jerry of Amarillo; James H. White and Joyce of Durant, Ok.; Marion and Beverly White of Mountain View, Ca.; Bill and Carol White of Sunnyvale, Ca.; Iva Parson of Roswell, N.M.; Flora Price of Savoy; Mary Elizabeth Lamkin of Roswell, N.M.; Carroll White of Howe, Burl and Kathleen Mitchell of Modesto, Ca., Mrs. Lula Francis; Ray Turner; Margie Wolf of Amarillo; C.L. and Janie Tyson with Joanie, Cynthia and Rebecca; Henry and Una Reynolds of Vinson; L.O. and Lois Tyson; and Minetta Francis of Vinson.

Do Not Panic When Freezer Fails

Once you learn how to properly prepared and package food for frozen storage, your freezer can be like a faithful friend. But what happens when it breaks down or the power goes out?

First of all, try to find out how long it will be before your freezer is working again, says Dr. Al Wagner, food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A fully loaded freezer will stay cold enough to keep food frozen for two days, notes Wagner, while one half-full will only keep food cold for a day. The main thing is to keep the freezer closed and not to check the food regularly.

Meats that still contain ice crystals or that have been kept at 40 degrees F. or below for less than two days may be safely refrozen. Some quality may be lost but the product is still wholesome, points out Wagner. However, throw out foods which have an unusual or off-odor, and never refreeze ice cream.

It it looks like the power will be off for a long time or your freezer cannot be repaired for several days, use dry ice. If dry ice is placed in the freezer soon after the power goes off, 25 pounds should keep the temperature below freezing for two to three days in a 10-cubic-foot half-full freezer and three to four days if the freezer is full.

If using dry ice is not possible, move food to a locker plant in insulated boxes (ice chests) or thick layers of paper or other wrapping to prevent thawing, suggests Wagner.

Youths Go to Camp Hoblitzelle

Two boys from Wellington will be invited to attend The Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle July 5 to 10. It was announced today by Judge Zook Thomas, Camp Chairman for the Wellington Salvation Army Service Unit Committee.

Each summer for over 25 years deserving boys between the ages of 8 and 13 have been invited to spend a week at the 380 acre camp near Midlothian. The participants from Wellington this year are Heath Neeley son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Neeley and Brandon Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Porter. These boys, joining with others from around the state, will be afforded an opportunity to enjoy the pleasures of camping in a beautiful natural setting with facilities to rival those of the most expensive boy's camps. The Service Unit division of The Salvation Army conducts 3 week-long outings every summer. This year over 700 boys are expected to take part. "Each boy's trip will be financed by the Wellington Service Unit Committee with donations from private citizens in our community," Judge Zook Thomas said.

The campers are housed in modern cabins with attached counselor's quarters. All activities are overseen by trained coaches and counselors who are responsible for the welfare and safety of the boys as well as supervision of the various programs. In addition a nurse is stationed at the well-equipped dispensary.

At Camp Hoblitzelle the daily schedule includes worship services and Bible study to augment the physical activities. A list of the recreational programs includes: horseback riding, archery, swimming, boating, water skiing, baseball, volleyball, hiking, handicrafts, and fishing.

One of the greatest pleasures available to the Wellington boys is the opportunity to make new friends. In the Camp Hoblitzelle atmosphere the boys will be encouraged to share their interests and develop new ones.

JAMES H. DAVIS

Davis GTE Operations Center Head

SAN ANGELO - James H. Davis, Memphis Division manager for General Telephone, has been named operations manager of the newly formed Memphis Operations Center, according to William J. (Jerry) Crowley, newly named general manager - Western Division Operations, which is headquartered in Hobbs, N.M.

The appointment is effective July 4. In his new position, Davis will report to Crowley and will be responsible for directing the combined operating functions in the Memphis Operations Center's service area.

The operations center in Memphis will include all exchanges now served by the Memphis Division office. The change in title in no way dimishes the operating role or the economic impact of General Telephone operations in Memphis.

The operations centers were developed to provide for those service areas which are a substantial distance from the division operations headquarters or which have very heavy customer concentration, according to E.L. "Buddy" Langley, General Telephone Company of the Southwest president. They will provide yet another vehicle through which service-affecting decisions will be brought nearer to the company's customers.

There will be 18 operations centers located throughout General Telephone's four-state service area in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Each of these will report to one of the 11 new general managers - division operations. Restructuring the company from five areas and 24 divisions to the new organization of 11 division operations and 18 operations centers is being done to make the company more responsive to individual customer needs and particular operating environments, Langley said.

Bombs Bursting In Air

Wellington National Guardsmen will spend most of their Fourth of July weekend camping out. Camping out at summer National Guard camp, that is.

While we've been slurping homemade ice cream and shooting off firecrackers, they've been eating Army chow and exploding deafening rounds of mortar fire. While we've been sitting in front of the air conditioners, they've been going on 4-mile hikes and scratching chigger bites.

The service rendered by our citizen-soldiers is valuable to all of us. They provide a trained and organized reserve for our armed services at a fraction of the cost that would be necessary to maintain those forces on a full-time basis. They help maintain our military strength and reduce our tax burden at the same time.

When our fireworks explode this weekend, they should serve as a reminder to us of the larger shells that have been bursting at Ft. Hood for the past two weeks and as a reminder of the time and effort sacrificed by the men and women of our National Guard.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Last week at the State Capitol, the state of the economy was a theme woven into various political fabrics: some state agencies are asking for more money, a telephone company requested for a record rate hike, Texas wants more federal dollars for alien education costs.

And various candidates are gearing up to make the economy perhaps the most important issue in the November general election.

Whether right or wrong, the Democrats plan to hang the recession and high jobless rate around the necks of Reagan and other assorted Republicans. And right or wrong, the GOP is saying the recession was inherited and caused by liberal Democrats.

Complicating matters for state government candidates is the fact that Congress is expected to approve a new budget containing over $21 billion worth of new taxes and a $100 billion-plus deficit. Federal lawmakers of both parties may have to violate party dogma when they vote on this budget, which may lead to embarrassment of many folks down along the line.

State Agencies

Budget requests from state agencies are expected to be increased and highly competitive, with some agencies asking for 100 percent hikes.

Anticipated increases for some agencies are: Department of Human Resources, $500 million increase; State Health Department, $150 million; Texas Rehabilitation Commission, $92.8 million; Texas Department of Corrections, $638 million; Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, $700 million; state colleges, junior colleges and universities, $600 million; Department of Public Safety, $8 million; Department of Highways and Public Transportation, perhaps over $1 billion.

Agency officials are saying that cutbacks in federal funding are forcing them to ask the state for more money.

Whether the state takes up some of the financial burden and allows some increases will be seen in September, when the budget board makes its recommendations.

Alien Education

Governor Bill Clements last week asked the federal government for impact aid to educate children of illegal aliens. Days earlier, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled Texas must pay to educate any of these children who are attending Texas public schools, and not charge tuition.

Speaking to a Mexican-American group in San Antonio, Clements said he has no problem with the court ruling. Clements, who has long gone out of his way to court the Hispanic bloc vote, said if his plan to document illegal aliens is approved, the "children issue" will fade away.

Phone Rate Hike

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has filed a $471.5 million rate hike, the largest proposed increase in state history, with the Public Utilities Commission.

The increase would come mostly from residential rate increases, and also from local business service. Rates for service connections and directory assistance would also go up.

Insanity, DWI

Soon after the jury found John Hinckley, Jr. innocent by reason of insanity in the attempt on Reagan's life, a Texas senator has announced he will introduce a law to amend the insanity plea in this state.

State Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, said he believes the insanity plea is used too often to undermine the criminal justice system, and its use needs to be modified.

He suggested several options are open to lawmakers, including adopting a verdict of "guilty but mentally ill," as used in four other states.

Another state senator is pushing for stiffer DWI penalties while the Department of Public Safety director is asking the Legislature to raise the legal drinking age back to 21.

The director, Col. Jim Adams, also wants to amend other DWI related laws, perhaps barring open alcoholic beverage containers from vehicles.

State Sen. Bill Sarpalius, who authored the bill raising the legal age from 18 to 19, is also pushing for such stronger DWI penalties.

The anti-DWI bandwagon is shaping a program which includes increased penalties and increased difficulty in avoiding penalties, and the movement appears to be gaining strength.

Democrats, Republicans

The Democrats last week nominated State Dist. Judge Bill Kilgarlin of Houston for the Texas Supreme Court. He replaces Associate Justice James G. Denton, who died of a heart attack two weeks ago. There is no Republican candidate.

The Republican National Committee voted unanimously last week to select Dallas as the site of the 1984 GOP national convention. State party officials immediately promised the grandest convention ever.

Dallas, which gave the Reagan-Bush ticket its biggest majority of any major city in 1980, was also the first choice of the President.

Rep. Charles Wilson, D-2 did not vote.

HELPING SMALL BUSINESSES By a vote of 118 for and 290 against, the House rejected a substitute plan for assuring that small businesses get a larger share of federal research and development grants and contracts.

Members voting "nay" wanted small businesses, particularly innovative technological and scientific firms, to be assured of a fixed share of federal spending for research and development.

Sam Hall, Collins, Mattox, Archer, Fields, Wright, Hightower, Patman, Stenholm, Leland, Loeffler, Paul, Kazen and Frost voted "nay."

Wilson did not vote.

BUDGET By a vote of 210 for and 208 against, the House approved the conference report on the fiscal 1983 budget blueprint that anticipates a deficit of $103.9 billion, outlays of $769.8 billion, new taxes of $20 billion, slow growth in domestic social spending, rapid growth in defense outlays, and authorization for the national debt ceiling to rise from its present level of $1,079 billion to $1,290 billion in 1983. Thirty-two Republicans voted against the Administration-backed budget plan and 54 Democrats voted for it.

SENATE

VOTING RIGHTS The Senate rejected, 31 for and 65 against, an amendment eliminating the requirement that federal judges in the District of Columbia hear litigation brought under the Voting Rights Act. This was an attempt to permit local federal judges, in the 22 southern states covered by the act, to rule on proposed changes in election laws and on efforts by states and localities to exclude themselves from the law. The bill (S 1992), which the House also has passed, later was approved 85-8 by the Senate.

Senators voting "nay" wanted to retain the D.C. federal district court as the sole venue for litigation brought under the Voting Rights Act.

Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, D, and John Tower, R, voted "yea."

THE NATIONAL DEBT The Senate passed, 49 for and 41 against, a resolution (HJ Res 519) raising the national debt ceiling to $1,143 billion through next Sept 30. This raises the current ceiling of $1,079.8 billion, and it gives the government the borrowing authority it needs to pay its bills. The House previously approved the higher ceiling.

Bentsen and Tower voted "yea."

1983 BUDGET By a vote of 54 for and 45 against, the Senate gave final congressional approval to the fiscal 1983 budget blueprint (see House vote above.) The measure (S Con Res 92) did not require President Reagan's signature and it took effect immediately.

Senators voting "yea" supported the 1983 budget resolution.

Tower voted "yea."

Bentsen voted "nay."

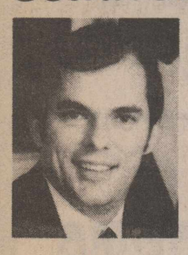
Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports



TOO IMPORTANT TO RISK

AUSTIN – Approximately ten years ago, there were about 1,500 field technicians working for the federal Soil Conservation Service in Texas. Now, there are only about 1,100.

The need for these technicians is just as great now, if not greater, than ever. Furthermore, if there is a set-aside in the new farm program, which seems likely, our shortage of field technicians will be severe.

We have special needs for these technicians in the Panhandle and South Plains areas. We need people who not only understand soil conservation, but understand water conservation as well.

These field technicians, ideally, should be able to tell farmers the best ways to conserve water, to impound and divert water and to advise where and how to build dams. They should be familiar with native grasses, and be able to recommend what grass should be planted for maximum soil and water conservation.

The realities of the federal budget dictate that we may not be able to reach the level of technical assistance from Washington we need. However, we may be able to make up for the shortage by beefing up the state Soil and Water Conservation Board. The Board could hire technicians to assist in these functions, and more.

There is a natural relationship between soil conservation and water conservation, particularly as they apply to agricultural uses. Neither soil nor water alone is much use without the other.

While we think the federal technicians have done an excellent job, the trend in all government these days is toward more local control. We think this is a good idea. Also, our soil and water are too valuable to risk with a game of "pass the buck." If Texas loses topsoil or water, it hurts us. It won't do us any good after the damage is done to blame the federal government for not supplying enough technicians.

We want to make sure we have the field technicians we need to preserve our soil and water. During the next session of the Legislature, we will be asking for an appropriation for these field technicians. We need some information from you to decide how many and what kind of technicians we might need, if any. We would like to know what services you need, what services you have found helpful in the past and what areas of soil and water conservation you think are important. Please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711, to help us preserve soil and water wisely.

For what does a man profit if he gains the whole world and loses his own soul? Or, what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

D-Day Survivor Visits Invasion Landing Site

(Editor's Note: Clyde Hall, aerial engineer on the first plane over Omaha Beach on D-Day in World War II, recently returned to the invasion landing site. Hall, a former State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is a brother of Melodese Wauer and of the late Kermit Hall, and an uncle of Bill Hall.

By GERRY BURTON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Fiery red tracer bullets split the black sky above Omaha Beach, searching for invaders coming through the air. It was D-Day, 38 years ago today and the Allied invasion of German-held Europe was on.

In the lead plane, Clyde Hall of Lubbock "was scared to death," but he did his job - hauling the static line back into the doorless C-47 after paratroopers had jumped into Normandy.

By the time the Black Sparrow, destined to be lead plane in seven major invasion spearheads before World War II ended in Europe returned from England with another load, it was daylight.

Below, the ground was dotted with black columns of smoke and explosions as ground combat waged. And, in the air around, P-38 Lightnings and P-47 Thunderbolts defended the unarmed troop carriers from German planes.

The next day, the Sparrow ferried two more loads of paratroopers to Normandy. On the third day, it landed 25 miles inland on a portable landing strip to pick up wounded.

Even then Hall didn't set foot on Normandy.

'A truck backed up to the plane and we loaded stretchers and went back to England," Hall recalled.

Thirty-eight years later, lacking a couple of weeks, Hall did stand on Omaha Beach. He and Mrs. Hall have just returned from a tour of the area where a museum opens daily to a packed house.

"I had to stand up to see a part of the simulated movie of the invasion. And, looking at the bunkers that are still there, I can see why it was so hard to get the Germans out of them."

Before returning home, the former commander of the state Veterans of Foreign Wars visited the Benjamin Franklin VFW Post in Paris which has 250 members.

"It was beautiful. I wasn't scared this time."

That first trip, as a master sergeant with the U.S. Army Air Corps, came after a two-week period of confinement to a single building while weather cleared. Precautions were so rigid that an MP accompanied each individual to restrooms outside the building.

"Then, it came over the speaker that the weather man had cleared us for take-off."

As line chief, Hall had flown with hundreds of pilots, but when he went into combat, he flew with the squadron commander in the Black Sparrow.

After Normandy, they dropped men and supplies anywhere they were needed, landing wherever the portable mats were placed.

"We landed on the corrugated strips when we took gasoline to (Gen. George) Patton. He couldn't have done all he did if we hadn't got the gasoline to him."

Sometimes the Black Sparrow would be loaded with paratroopers and pulling a gliderfull of soldiers behind. Going back to England, it often picked up gliders from the ground and ferried them back for re-use.

While stationed in northern Italy, Hall and his pilot-commander would load a jeep into the C-47's tail section to fly south and drive all over, swapping for green vegetables for the troops.

Other times, they flew to France, sawed up trees and flew the wood as far as 500 miles for troop cookstoves.

The Sparrow itself got one minor flak hit, but no soldier that ever rode it into combat was so much as nicked.

TEE-BALLERS

PIRATES

Little League Play Near End

Although scheduled games and make-up games have been finished, play continues in Little League, Billy Wilkerson, president said.

The Astros are undisputed winners of the second half of the season, but winner of the first half is still to be decided.

Because so many games were rained out and had to be made up, the game to break the tie between the Astros and Dodgers to decide the first half winner was postponed from time to time.

A date for that tiebreaker game was due to be decided Wednesday, June 30.

If the Astros, coached by Danny Gray, are the winners of both first and second halves, then they will be the Little League champions without any more games.

If the Dodgers, coached by Jimmy Black, win the game to determine first half winner, they will still have to play the Astros for the overall championship.

Only at this point can the Wellington Little League All-Star team be selected, Wilkerson reported.

He said Wellington Little League officials have not been notified of the date or place when the All-Star game will be played.
