TOYS FOR TOTS BIGGER THAN EVER

The report from the Jaycee Toy Center is that the toys are coming in rapidly as Christmas nears. Several truck loads were unloaded at the Toy Center this past week and the Jaycees are working very hard to get them ready for distribution by Christmas.

Hubert Kidd, project chairman, reports that Mrs. H. G. Bobbitt is making doll clothes for the many dolls received and it looks like at this time there is going to be a great many more toys than last year.

If you have some repairable toys that you plan on giving to this worthwhile project, the Jaycees ask that you get them to the Toy Center by the end of this week or the first of next, so that they may be repaired in time for distribution.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Conservation Benefits

Benefits from conservation of our resources have been the factors elevating us from old ideas to new profitable ones. Conservation has proven valuable in the increase in yields which have indirectly increased our standards of living.

Through soil and water conservation, we have been able to control and hold the water where it falls along with controlling erosion. We have done this through terraces, ponds, improved cropping systems and improved range management.

It has been proven that an area which could properly handle 100 cows will produce more total pounds of beef than the same area running 150 cows. This reflects proper use of our range-land which allows us to produce more pounds of beef and still leave ample grass in case of a drought.

Conservation practices such as fertilization and irrigation resulting in direct benefits, have proven to be more accepted than indirect measures such as cropping systems, proper range use, and terraces. Many farmers and ranchers have stated that they believed in proper range use and deferred grazing, but couldn't afford to utilize these practices correctly; but, actually they can not afford to shove these practices to one side waiting for a convenient time to utilize them. This can be seen in the actual comparison of range proper use above where an area capable of

LES BEAUX ARTS CLUB CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Les Beaux Arts Club met December 6 with the president, Mrs. Gene Alderson, presiding. A Christmas program was presented by Mrs. C. C. Carman and Mrs. John Bass.

Mrs. Carman created the atmosphere and the excitement of the angels and cherubs of Heaven on that Holy Night when God sent his Son the Savior to earth as taken from the story of "Raphael, The Herald Angel." Carols from around the world were sung by Mrs. Carman, and Mrs. Bass played arrangements of "Bells of Christmas" and "O Holy Night."

The Pathfinder room was decorated with angels upon a golden cloud, lighted by votive candles. The dining table was centered with Michelangelo gold churles, placed on a red satin streamer extending down the length of the table, and lighted by red tapers.

Coffee and cake were served from a gold, holly trimmed coffee service and trays by the hostesses, Mrs. Forrest Sawyer and Mrs. Lee Palmer. —Rep.

GAMMA KAPPA CHAPTER DELTA KAPPA GAMMA

Gamma Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday, December 7, at Patching Club House in Clarendon for a luncheon and Christmas program.

A Christmas pageant, written and directed by Miss Inez Blankenship was presented. Soloists were Miss Blankenship and Mrs. Velma Weaver. Accompanist was Mrs. Charlotte Word. All members of the chapter participated in the pageant through group singing and responses to the narration of the Christmas story.

Gifts were made to the State Hospital at Wichita Falls, Boys' Ranch, and The Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas. Several suggested programs for future meetings were approved.

Luncheon hostesses were Miss Ruth Richerson and Mrs. Lucile Naylor. Miss Edgar Mae Mongole of Clarendon and Mrs. Marguerite Goodner of Amarillo served on the Christmas tree committee; and Miss Inez Blankenship, Mrs. Velma Weaver, and Mrs. Charlotte Word composed the pageant committee.

Clarendon members of the chapter attending were Misses Inez Blankenship, Edgar Mae Mongole, Ruth Richerson; Mesdames Velma Weaver, Charlotte Word, Lucile Naylor; and Mrs. Marguerite Goodner of Amarillo. Other members attending were from Memphis, Childress, and Wellington. —Rep.

GENERAL TELEPHONE OPERATORS' REUNION

The public may have forgotten the home-town operators who served them so long and well, but the operators proved that they have not forgotten each other when a good number of them got together Saturday night, December 7, for a reunion. Plans, contacts and arrangements were made by Ardath White of Clarendon and Margaret Lemon of Memphis.

The evening began with a candlelight dinner at Mrs. Bromley's. The dining room was beautifully decorated in the holiday theme and a delicious chicken dinner was served.

The party then moved to the home of Nina Mills for a Christmas tree and a real gossip session. It took a fast talker to get into the conversation as everyone brought out the pictures of children, now grown-up, new in-laws, and grandchildren.

This was the first time this group had all been together in the four years since the telephone office was closed and moved to Memphis.

Attending were Margaret Lemon, Memphis; Ardath White, Nina Mills, Joan Kidd, Velma Castleberry, Carol Hall, Eva Lee Swinney, Elaine Behrens, and Lavita Estes, all of Clarendon; Tina Eddings, Gladys Turner, and Bessie Thompson of Amarillo; Laverne Culver of Groom; and Lavonia Skidmore of Pampa. —Rep.

ASHTOLA NEEDLE CLUB MET DECEMBER 5

The Ashtola Needle Club met December 5 at the Community Center with 10 members present. The afternoon was spent fixing a Christmas box for the shut-ins at Inez Rest Home, and for our senior club members.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess, Alberta Odom.

The next meeting will be December 19. This will be our Christmas party. Hope everyone will be present. We will reveal polyanthus and draw names for next year. Rhoda Rattan will be hostess. —Rep.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY MEETS

The Clarendon Chapter of the National Honor Society met Wednesday, December 4, to discuss plans for sponsoring a Christmas assembly. Ten members were present. A short business meeting was held, and it was decided to have a sing-song and present a skit on December 19 at 10 o'clock. —Rep.

DECEMBER PLENTIFUL FOODS ASSURE AMPLE HOLIDAY SUPPLIES

COLLEGE STATION — Ample food will be the least among problems for Texans, this December, as they plan festive get-togethers. Producers and processors, together, are keeping trade channels full of holiday grocery needs.

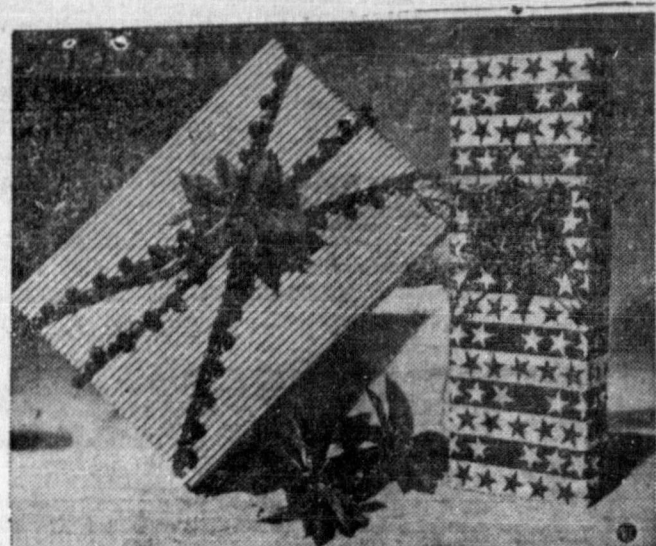

Seven foods are particularly abundant. They make up the U.S. Department of Agriculture's December plentiful foods list, points out the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Beef and pecans — two important Texas products — are featured on the list. Pork, turkeys and peanuts, also grown extensively in Texas, will be plentiful all month. Apples and cranberries complete the list for December.

Beef takes a top spot on the list because of its abundance and favorable prices for consumers. The all-time record pecan crop of 297 million pounds for the nation is 66 percent above the 1957-61 average; four times more than last year's small crop. Prices being paid to growers are lower, and therefore, more favorable for increased use by consumers.

Similar reasons stand behind the listing of pork, turkeys, peanuts, apples, and cranberries. USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, that keeps in constant touch with available supplies of all farm-produced foods, says consumers will find it to their advantage to shop the "plentiful route." Food markets regularly promote these items with special prices and a wide choice of quality.

FABRIC GIFT WRAP—Colorful, original-looking packages can be created with fabric scraps and trimmings. For a gift of sheets, use a length of striped cotton ticking and trim with red, white, and blue star print and accent with a star-shaped ribbon. Attach trimmings with household glue, cellophane tape, or a few stitches with needle and thread.

GAY CHRISTMAS APRON—For party-giving or gift-giving, a pretty apron is always appropriate. Here's a simple one you can make without a pattern. Use bright red Indian Head cotton and gather to waistband. Trim the oversize pocket with gift package appliques of green, white, and yellow tied with contrasting bows of baby cotton rickrack. Edge pocket with gold metallic rickrack.

If we can believe national statistics, the "average" American consumes 6 pounds of rice a year. Louisiana residents eat 30 pounds of rice a year, and South Carolinians rank next with about 27 pounds, a recent USDA study shows. Even these two states are pikers compared with Hawaii, where residents eat 113 pounds of rice a year.

The life expectancy of a new refrigerator or range is about 16 years for the "average" householder, says the USDA. Estimates for other new appliances are: automatic washing machine, 11 years; wringer type or spin-dryer, 10 years; dryer, 14; freezer, 15; vacuum cleaner, 15-18 years; sewing machine, 24; television set, 11 years.

MARTIN QUILTING CLUB MEETING

Cotton Harvesting Tempo Increased

Beautiful fall weather increased harvesting but there was also an increase in lower quality of cotton classed during the week ending Friday, December 6, according to K. E. Voelkel of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office in Memphis. A total of 22,625 samples were classed, which was the most for any week this season. A total of 101,876 samples have been classed compared with 72,932 as of the same date a year ago.

Gin yards are crowded with unginned cotton, and many gins are operating around the clock in this 17 county area. However, the window-rattling, dust-laden, 40 mile wind on Saturday briefly interrupted harvesting and ginning.

Early in the week we added two additional classers, bringing the number to eight, and also placed the third micronaire set-up into operation. We are able to class from 4,000 to 4,500 samples a day, and with the three teams of micronaire technicians, are able to handle about 4,500 to 4,800 samples a day. On Friday night we carried over 14,000 samples, but by working on Saturday and Sunday our back-log was reduced considerably.

The quality of cotton classed this past week, based on statistical estimates, was lower compared with any previous week this season. White grades represented 35 percent of the samples classed, with 20 percent Strict Low Middling. Fifty-nine percent of the grades were in the Light Spotted category, and six percent were Spotted. The predominating grade was Middling Light Spotted with 37 percent. About two percent of the samples classed were reduced in grade because of Bark, Grass and Preparation.

The staple length ranged from 13/16 to 1-3/32 inches. Eighty percent of the cotton was 15/16 inch in length; 11 percent was 29/32 inch; 8 percent was 31/32 inch, and one (1) percent represented other lengths. Less than 1 percent was classified as Wasty, but there was an increase, percentage-wise, in the lower micronaire readings, and as a result more Wasty cotton than any previous week this season.

Micronaire averages showed 15 percent of the cotton classed this past week reading 3.5 and lower. Other readings were: 32 percent, 3.5-3.9; 32 percent, 4.0-4.4; 19 percent, 4.5-4.9; and 2 percent, 5.0-5.4.

The fiber strength of cotton as tested by the Pressley instrument continued to show high readings. According to the latest report, the figures showed the cotton in this section of Texas to range from Average to Strong. The groupings were as follows: 75,000 to 84,000-64 percent, and 85,000 to 94,000-36 percent.

The market was a little more active than the week earlier. Average prices paid to farmers on some of the grades that moved into trade channels, based on uncompressed, mixed lots, in warehouses were: Middling, 15/16-30.80; Strict Low Middling, 15/16-29.65; Low Middling, 15/16-28.35; Middling Light Spotted, 15/16-29.85; and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16-28.95; micronaire readings on the above qualities were 3.5 and 5.0.

Cottonseed prices at gin points generally are $50.00 per ton today after having been $53.00 most of last week.

Custom stripping was 50c cwt. delivered to the gin, and pulling was $1.75 cwt. delivered to the gin.

Cub Scout News

At a meeting of the Pack Committee last Friday night Mr. Cecil McAfee accepted the position of Cubmaster for the Clarendon Cub Scouts. Mr. McAfee is assuming leadership of a very active and enthusiastic organization. As former Cubmaster Tommie Saye wishes to "thank everyone for their splendid cooperation in the past, and feels sure cooperation will be continued to be given to the new Cubmaster."

The December Pack Meeting will be held tonight, Thursday, Dec. 12, at the Lions Club Hall at 7:30 p.m. This will be our annual Christmas party. Mrs. Charles Carman will tell a Christmas story. Paul Hancock will lead in Christmas carols and Santa Claus will arrive to hand out the presents.

plan assures Texas of continued leadership over all other states in miles of interstate highways and completion of its super-highway goal by the 1972 congressional deadline.

BRANCH OFFICE OPENED — Increasing highway right-of-way condemnation work has forced the Texas attorney general's department to open a third "branch office" in Dallas.

Attorney General Carr already has men assigned to Houston and San Antonio to handle condemnation cases for the state. Within the last few weeks, he has assigned two to the Dallas area as the expressway building boom grows.

HIGHER EDUCATION — Six newly-appointed members of the 15-member Texas Commission on Higher Education attended their first meeting and got a short course in education.

New members are Sam Rayburn Bell of Paris, Joseph A. Chandler of Stephenville, J. C. Looney of Edinburg, Dan C. Williams of Dallas, Charles N. Prothro of Wichita Falls, and Dr. Joaquin G. Cigarroa, Jr., of Laredo.

When commission staffers outlined the budget requirements of the agency which guides the 20 state colleges and universities, many commissioners — including older members — were amazed to learn that the state will spend $112,550 this year to send to out of state schools Negro graduate students who, for one reason or another, cannot take their work in Texas state colleges.

Most of the money goes for the education of Negro dentists and physicians. But some is used for law-school education and the study of veterinary medicine.

SCREWWORM RATE REPORT — Federal and state animal health authorities reporting on activities for the four weeks ending October 26 indicated a rocketing of the screwworm infestation rate in Texas from 369 samples confirmed as "screwworms" in the preceding four weeks to 1,577 confirmed samples for the report period.

The upturn was not a surprise to Dr. John L. Wilbur, Jr., of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal Disease Eradication Division or to Dr. R. G. Garrett, director of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Both had warned that damp fall climates and animal wounds laid open by calving and shearing could cause a sharp increase in the incidence of screwworms unless livestock producers exercised extraordinary precautions.

During the four weeks ending October 26, federal and state agencies, together with Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation officials, moved swiftly to combat the screwworms by releasing 347,671,000 sterile screwworm flies below an overwintering line that extended as far north as Comanche

Fire Marshal Urges Caution During The Holiday Season

Geo. L. Green, local Fire Marshal, reminds everyone that it is time for our citizens to get their premises in shape for the Christmas Holidays. Dry grass and trash should be burned and the Fire Department will assist or stand by with one of the trucks to see that burning does not spread to property. The local Fire Department will not burn any grass lots without special permission. Contact your local Fire Chief, B. L. (Mutt) Graham, and he will see that you receive the assistance you need.

Citizens are also reminded to put your tree limbs and your leaves in paper cartons in the alley and the City will have one of their big trucks pick them up.

This is a good time to have your heating system checked in your home or business. A licensed plumber or electrician can do this.

We have not had any major fires in some time and we do not want any. These big fires help govern our insurance rates and the cost of operation of our local fire department.

Please clips this from your local paper and mail or bring to Fire Chief Mutt Graham or the City Fire Department if you have areas to be burned.

This will be your Authority to burn or assist to burn my vacant lot.

Fifth Rolling Plains Registered Bull Sale Averages Announced

The fifth annual sale of the Rolling Plains Registered Beef Cattle Association is over and it was one of the largest sales in the history of the Association. Flip Breedlove, County Agent and Secretary and Manager of the Association says that the bulls did not sell for as much money as in past years, but the price of cattle is not as good as it has been in the past few years.

The sale averages were well in line of other sales of this type over the state and in most instances the average was higher. Seventy-eight head of bulls sold for a total of $26,835.00, an overall average of $344.02. Fifty-one head of Hereford bulls sold for an average of $335.00 per head; eighteen head of Galloway bulls sold for an average of $420.27 per head, and nine head of Angus bulls sold for an average of $243.88 per head.

The Association wants to thank everyone who helped with the sale. Thanks to the Farmers State Bank for the free coffee and to the Chamber of Commerce for the meal tickets given to consignors and buyers at the sale. Plans will get under way in the near future for the sale next year.

OWEN, WIS., ENTERPRISE:

"Featherbedding is one of the two major railroad problems which threaten their existence as private enterprises, the other being excessive regulation. Both sorely weaken the railroads' ability to compete for business. The second can only be cured by Congress. The first is now up to the unions. The whole nation will be watching to see what happens."

Leader Out-of-County Rate — 3.50 a Year

Postmaster's Corner

People sending Christmas cards today at the 5c first class rate pay the same to mail Christmas greetings as Americans did well over a century ago. Research shows that in 1847 the Post Office issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepaid letter rate. And, of course, in those days a nickel could buy a meal where it usually can't even buy a cup of coffee today.

I strongly recommend the use of 5c postage on Christmas cards especially out of town. The 5c rate permits forwarding or return of the letter where necessary, allows the use of a handwritten message on the card, adding a personal touch — and also providing speedier handling and faster delivery. The real bargain is airmail, and it can be a real buy for late Christmas cards. On May 15, 1918, when air mail was first officially introduced in America, 6,600 letters were flown from Washington to New York City, about 200 miles, at a minimum cost of 24 cents a letter. Today, more than 1.5 billion letters and post cards are sent by air mail annually within the United States. Instead of the two flights a day in 1918, air mail is offered 10,000 flights daily now throughout the nation. For example, the late cards sent from Clarendon by air mail can reach Los Angeles or New York the next day. Another good emergency mailing measure is air parcel post, which moves at the same speed as airmail letters.

A NOTE OF WARNING TO PATRONS MAILING LETTERS AT THE DEPOT. The depot is unattended in the afternoon and evening, and the mail you leave there is highly susceptible to theft and vandalism. If you can get your mail to the Post Office by 7:30 p.m. and drop it in the outside letter box, it will still get on the train and in a pouch. We cannot be responsible for any mail deposited at the depot, and if you do so, it is at your own risk.

In spite of all the mail early campaigns, it looks like this Christmas is going to be no different from any other in so far as the last minute rush — so — at this stage of the game it would be well to consider the faster methods of mailing which include airmail first class, airmail parcel post, special handling, and special delivery. It would help us a great deal if you will mail as much as you possibly can early in the morning or before noon.

Weather Is Big Topic Of Week

People of this area have experienced the type of weather changes the past several days for which the Texas Panhandle has been noted for.

The weather Saturday brought back memories to many local residents of the old dust bowl days. The wind was strong and the air was saturated with dust that had been carried in from the northern plains area. Local blowing was at a minimum but the air was full of tons of soil which didn't settle out until around noon Sunday.

The duster was followed Tuesday by the first real nippy northern of the season which brought freezing light rain and turned to snow flakes Tuesday night. A low of 14 degrees was recorded by the official weather observer who also measured out .05 inches moisture, the first recorded for the month of December.

Friday: Beef and gravy, French fried potatoes, tossed salad, hot rolls, jelly, butter, milk, ice cream.

BRINKLEY RITES CONDUCTED WED.

Double funeral services for Mrs. Vera Stiles Brinkley, 38, and Dewey Lee Brinkley, 49, were conducted Wednesday afternoon in Polk Street Methodist Church. Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Dale Cain, pastor of Pantex Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Rowe Cemetery at Hedley.

Mrs. Brinkley was born in Hedley and at the time of her death was employed at the YWCA. Mr. Brinkley was born in Jacksboro and was employed by the City of Amarillo. The family formerly lived in Donley County residing in the Ashtola Community.

Surviving the couple is their son, Eddie Lyn. Mrs. Brinkley is survived by four brothers and three sisters. Mr. Brinkley is survived by his father, stepmother, and four brothers.

On October 28, 1919, the Volstead Act became law over the president's veto.

LIBRARY NOTES:

EDITH BARNES

A book and another memorial gift has been given to the library to be dedicated to the memory of Mrs. C. B. Morris.

There is a new copy of Erich Remarque's "All Quiet on the Western Front." The old one finally gave out. It is one of the few that school students can make a book report on yet like to read.

Remember Hitler's hatred of Remarque? When he came to power he not only expelled Remarque from Germany but had all of his books burned. Hitler wanted no one around who could present such an impassioned and logical case against war! Hitler and his henchmen know that when you are going all out to whip people up in to a frenzy of hatred you want them to forget logic, reason or any other emotion remotely approaching sanity.

Remarque has this to say in the preface of "All Quiet on the Western Front." "This book is to be neither an accusation nor confession, and least of all an adventure, for death is not an adventure to those who stand face to face with it. It will try simply to tell of a generation of men who, even though they may have escaped its shells, were destroyed by the war."

That it was written right after World War I, is in its fortieth printing, is still being read by even those who are not having to make a book report and Hitler having it burned speaks of its real worth.

"New York was an incredibly gaudy and seamy capital of Edwardian villainy. An almost magnificently debased Police Department presided benignly from Tammany Hall to the Tenderloin where what ever its gay nostalgic connotation today, innocent girls were snatched from the streets and the wages of sin poisoned the civic life blood of the whole city."

"Violence is abroad in the land. Crimes against person are rising sharply. The streets of our big cities are off-limits to women at night." Etc., etc.

What is the connection? The first is from Richard O'Connor's life of that fight lawyer, William Travers Jerome and in the year 1900. The second from Wes Izard's Column dated 1963.

A tragic parallel is in the former period we also lost our President from an assassin's bullet.

BLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

The tragic death of President Kennedy left all those about us dazed and perplexed. To think that in the joy and excitement of a typical downtown parade his life would be snatched away from his family and his fellow countrymen. When we read about such things happening in some far away country it seemed sort of what one would expect. But for this terrible thing to happen here in Christian America was something for which we were totally unprepared to think about.

In such a short time he had won his way into the hearts of the American people as perhaps no other person in our history. His warm personality, his sincere and honest way of stating his position on many issues, plus his undaunted courage to take a stand had won his way into the hearts of many who had not intended to like him. He was a master of the art of leading people. He seemed most at ease before the news cameras when the reporters were firing the questions thick and fast. In fact, it is our humble opinion that his appearances on television during the election turned the tide in his favor.

But if any one thing that happened during those sad days made an impression that will never leave our mind and heart it was the queen-like courage of Mrs. Kennedy. She bore the sadness with a courage and inner strength so deeply rooted that it seemed to reach out to everyone who watched. Even little Caroline seemed to possess this same queenly manner as they stood hand and hand facing this terrible crisis. We shall never forget those moments.

Let us pray, and hope, that because of this terrible tragedy the cancerous growth of selfishness and hate will be cured before it tears down the very foundations of our nation's existence. May God Grant.

There is an old Irish saying to the effect that; "God broadens the back to bear the burdens."

Let us hope that God will strengthen the character of our nation and cause us all to be more dedicated to preserving the great principles upon which our nation was founded. It seems that we are fast becoming a people who can not stand opposition. When someone disagrees with us we are inclined to become disagreeable almost at the drop of the hat. We see people almost ready to fight over a ball game. We read of folks murdering a neighbor over a dog. Fights and duels take place over elections. Folks often refuse to associate with those who vote differently.

This bitterness and hatred becomes a cancerous growth. It takes hold faster in the hearts of some. They see opposition as an obstacle to their well being. Pretty soon the growth has eaten away at their character until fighting and murder seems to be their only answer. It makes one wonder how much to blame we all would be if the accounts were impartially read. Freedom should mean to us that the other fellow must be free. Hate should mean that we hate the things that are bad, not everyone that makes a mistake according to our rules. Love should mean that we love others not our own self. We should not become bitter with each defeat.

No doubt more prayers were said, and more Bibles read during TEXAS TAXES HIGH — People who think they paying high state property and sales taxes will be interested to know they are! A study of state financing by the Legislative Budget Board reveals that the state tax burden in Texas is heavier than the national average.

A 10-year view of tax burdens — the term statisticians use to describe state taxes as a percentage of total personal income — shows Texan's "tax burden" has risen above the average for the first time.

Texans contributed only 3.7 percent of their total income to help run the state in 1952, when the average U.S. citizen chipped in 3.9 percent to his state.

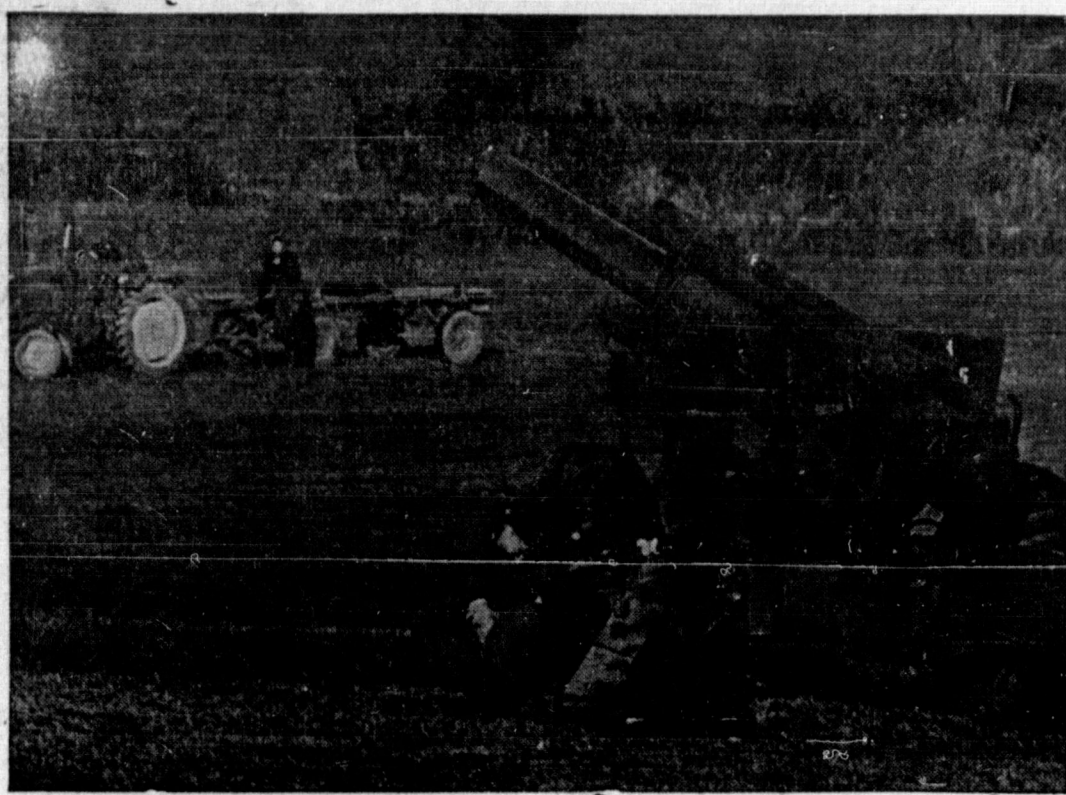

Last year, the average Texan paid 4.9 percent of his income for state taxes, while the average in other state doled out only 4.7 percent.

State taxes are climbing upward all over the country, but in Texas the climb has been quicker than in other states. This is due partly because the average Texan's income has not risen as fast as his taxes, or as fast as the average income.

In 1949, average per-person income of Texans was 92.8 percent of the national average. It was only 85.2 percent of the national average in 1962.

BORDER DISPUTE — Texas and Louisiana officials have agreed to work out the dispute over the boundary line in Sabine Lake soon, according to Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler. They hope to do it without a lawsuit.

Texas claims that the center line of the lake is the boundary, but Louisiana claims its land extends to the west bank. Oil companies are eying settlement measures closely.

during October, after a September lag.

Last month permits totaled a dollar worth of $21,814,814; a high jump over September's value of $12,701,583. Forty companies — including 11 Texas firms — were given permission to sell stocks in the state.

LOAN LICENSING EXTENSION SET — After a conference with Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell granted a 30-day extension of time in which some 250 finance company operators may be licensed to operate under the 1963 Texas Regulatory Loan Act. The 1963 act affords liberal interest rates for the lenders.

Licensing deadline was November 21. So many license applications were held up, due to bonafide technical omissions, that Miskell asked Carr if he could give those "of good faith" a little leeway. Copies of his extension order will serve in lieu of licenses until their applications are granted, or rejected.

On the deadline date, the Office of Regulatory Loan Commissioner had granted 1,300 licenses to loan companies. Any who now operate in violation of the law are subject to a fine of $500 to $1,000 and/or up to six months in jail.

GROUPS FORM — Two new non-profit corporations were granted charters by Secretary of State Crawford Martin last week.

"Save Our Shell, Inc." is dedicated to conservation of shell reefs and oyster beds in the Gulf Coast area and other conservation matters. The Coastal group is a client in a suit to set aside a Parks and Wildlife Commission order permitting dredging of shell close to live oyster reefs.

Second group, the Texas League of Political Research, Inc., of San Antonio, outlines a program of studying the voting system on officials and issues. Albert Fuentes, Jr., state executive secretary for the Political Association of Spanish Speaking Organizations (PASO), forwarded the TLPRI articles of incorporation to Martin.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas Employment Commission named a former assistant attorney general Ernest E. Fortenberry as its General Counsel.

Governor Connally appointed Clyde E. Whiteside of Seymour District Attorney of the 50th District; named Dr. Clarence Smith Kemp of Bryan to the State Board of Medical Examiners; and reappointed Mrs. Marie Hudson of Austin as Firemen's Pension Commissioner, only woman to head a State agency.

THE COURTS SPEAK — Abilene Christian College is the rightful owner of 41,824 acres in Pecos and Terrell counties, the State Supreme Court agreed.

High court refused to hear the appeal of heirs of the late William M. Edwards from an adverse ruling by the Court of Civil Appeals in El Paso. Appellate court concluded there was insufficient evidence supporting a Pecos County jury's verdict that Edwards transferred the land to the college under influence of its agents.

A Houston auto salesman, Charles R. Wilson, has asked the Court of Criminal Appeals to declare Texas' new Sunday closing laws unconstitutional. "It's vague and the title doesn't refer to the penal provision," says Wilson.

NEW APPOINTMENT — Governor Connally appointed Charles S. Coates, Sr., of Chappell Hill as Chairman of the State Board of Control, the purchasing and management arm of the state.

The former pipeline executive, now a Washington County rancher, succeeds L. H. Flewellen of Austin as a board member and replaces E. E. McAdams of Austin as chairman. McAdams remains on the board.

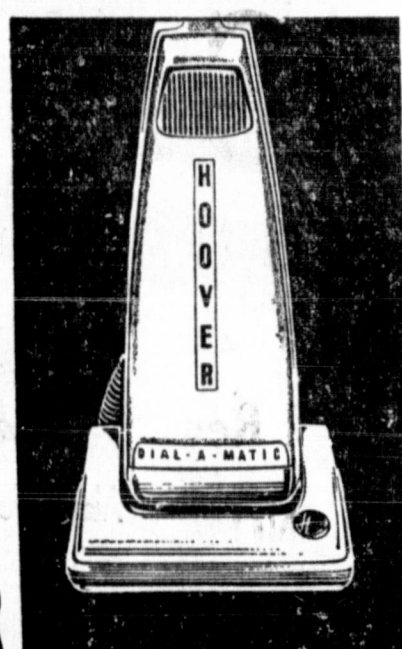

SHORT SNORTS — State offices in Austin now are operating under a complicated Capital Centrex telephone system, which means each phone has a separate number.

Audit for the 1963 fiscal year shows that Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont drew $2,400,000 of its operating funds from legislative appropriations, while papas and pupils paid close to $3,000,000.

Reliance HOMES by FOXWORTH-GALBRAITH

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Congress Will Follow Regular, Orderly Procedures

It is customary for a President of the United States, charged by the Constitution to "from time to time... recommend" to the Congress "such Measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient," to assign priorities to the legislative program proposed by his Administration. President John F. Kennedy placed top priorities on the tax bill and civil rights legislation. It was to be expected that President Lyndon Johnson, who had worked closely with the late President in formulating the Administration recommendations, would restate those priorities when he addressed the joint session of Congress last week.

But this does not mean that Congress, in the wave of reaction to President Kennedy's assassination, will put aside its traditional processes and rush to enactment those measures the late President so strongly advocated. By now it is clear that this will not happen. Congress will not do this for the very sound reason that it can't without abrogating the foundation strength of our legislative process.

Congress brings together 435 members of the House of Representatives and 100 Senators who, coming from every section of America, represent a diversity of views about what should be done in the exercise of legislative power granted by the Constitution. Reaching a consensus in such large bodies as the House and Senate is never easy. It is a most difficult process when legislation of sweeping impact — like the tax bill and civil rights bill — is laid before Congress for its deliberation and decision. Basically, the Congressional process requires that reasonable men find a way to reconcile their differences and decide upon a common course of action. In committee study and floor debates in the two Houses, the elected representatives of the people hammer out legislation that, if approved by a majority, is thus determined under our system of government to be acceptable to a majority of our citizens.

But under our system, the majority is not permitted to have its way until the minority has had its right to express its position. This system, traditionally so well respected in the House and Senate, permits those who dissent from a legislative proposal to exercise every last measure of their parliamentary right to be heard and to advocate another course.

In the wake of President Johnson's address to the joint session, editorial writers who understand and respect less well than the President the methods and means of Congressional action renewed their attacks on Congress for alleged "foot dragging." One editorial complained that Congress is "one of the most lethargic legislative establishments in the history of democratic government." Congress needs no defense from me or from any American who respects the responsibility imposed on Congress to deliberate fully before acting. Congress should be judged by the quality of its acts — not the quantity of them. There is often more significance in what Congress does not enact as in what it does pass into law, and I would assure everyone that it is often more difficult to keep bad bills from becoming law than it is to pass good ones. However, for those who are more interested in the quantity than the quality of Congressional action, I cite these statistics: Since January 9, when the First Session of the 88th Congress convened, through November 30th, 10,938 legislative measures were introduced in the House and 2,779 in the Senate; 858 bills were reported by House committees and 731 by committees of the Senate; and 189 public and 107 private bills enacted into law.

Criticisms arise because national attention falls on a few measures such as the tax bill, the civil rights bill, and appropriations bills. The tax bill merited the extended study it received in the House Ways and Means Committee, which amended it measurably before sending it to the full House for thorough debate before it was passed. It is receiving the same careful deliberation in the Senate. The civil rights bill was highly controversial when it was being considered by the House Judiciary Committee; it is highly controversial in the Rules Committee where it is now pending; it will be bitterly controversial when it is debated by the full House. Appropriations bills have required lengthy consideration because of the efforts of many to effect substantial cuts. None of these measures will clear the Congress because of emotional pressures. They will be handled in the regular and orderly manner, as they should be. If this is "foot-dragging," let those who would criticize it make the most of it.

Unlike the 2,500,000 men and women who man the agencies and departments of the government's Executive Branch, the 435 House members and 100 Senators (and the 7,000 or so men and women of their personal and committee staffs) are directly accountable to the people of the United States through the elective process. I would urge Americans to remember that only one form of government brings quick action directly applied as a result of any problem laid before it — a totalitarian dictatorship. I'll take, and I know you would, our system.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go—6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!
