Cleveland Racial Crisis Brings Violence, Riots

Gemini Shot Resounding US Success

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —An unmanned Project Gemini capsule rocketed into orbit today, scoring a resounding success for the United States on the opening shot of its second man-in-space program.

The flight marked a major milestone in the program, and bolstered hopes that the first team of two Gemini astronauts will ride side by side into orbit late this year.

A second, more sophisticated unmanned shot scheduled in the summer will be a determining factor in reaching that goal.

The nation's 29 astronauts and many key space officials observed today's critical firing.

A powerful Titan II rocket, which, until today, was fired only in military weapons tests, provided the thrust to hurl the two-seat spacecraft into orbit.

It blasted away from its launching pad, after a perfect countdown, at 11 a.m. EST on the 430,000-pounds of thrust generated by its first-stage engine, and pitched over gradually on a southeast heading.

Its hypergolic fuels emitted a rose-colored glow of hot gases, instead of the tail of bright flame characteristic of most rockets.

The launching was the first of two unmanned missions planned to perfect the rocket and spacecraft for a three-orbit flight by two astronauts late this year. They will ride together in a capsule duplicating, in weight and exterior features, the one tried out today.

The 90-foot-tall Titan 2, making its first start as a space booster, burst away from its launching pad at 11 a.m. (EST) and climbed skyward on the 430,000 pounds of thrust generated by its first stage engine.

The rocket's assignment was to hurl the spacecraft into an orbit ranging from 99 to 183 miles high at a speed of 17,400 miles an hour.

Minister Is Killed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland faced its second racial crisis in less than three months today in the wake of a civil rights demonstration that left a Presbyterian minister dead and touched off an all-night wave of rioting and violence.

Civil rights leaders, whose demonstration Tuesday halted construction at an East Side school site, scheduled a noon demonstration at the Board of Education's downtown office building.

The Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, 27-year-old white minister, was crushed to death under a bulldozer during the demonstration at the school site in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Fifteen other persons, 10 of them policemen, were injured. Car and store windows were smashed. Police arrested 26 persons, including four juveniles accused of throwing rocks.

Police and civil rights leaders appealed without success to the crowd, which swelled to more than 3,000, to disperse.

Time and again during the afternoon and early evening, mounted police charged into groups that gathered to hurl taunts and missiles, sending demonstrators scurrying behind buildings along Lakeview Road.

A grim Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who attends the Church of the Covenant where the Rev. Mr. Klunder was assistant minister, said the city would use injunctions and fences to block further demonstrations at school sites in the Glenville area on the east side.

Civil rights leaders, on the other hand, called for greater militancy in speeches at a rally at Cory Methodist church Tuesday night. Ruth Turner, executive secretary of the Cleveland chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, told the rally plans would be made for a school boycott.

A few hours before he threw himself into the mud behind the bulldozer, the Rev. Mr. Klunder had told another minister he was prepared to risk his life for civil rights.

He was one of about 150 demonstrators and spectators on the scene when the Lakeview demonstration began. Police were posted along Lakeview Road to keep demonstrators out of the construction site, but four persons threw themselves under the wheels of a cement truck entering the project. Police pulled them out and carted them away.

TAKING OVER NEW JOBS at last night's school board meeting were J. L. Browning, newly elected president of the board, and Harold Bennett and Clifford Terry, new board members.

New Parking Plans For City Proposed

A proposal by the Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce which would have as its ultimate goal the elimination of parking meters in the Snyder business district got an enthusiastic reception at a meeting of the city council Tuesday night.

The proposal, which a delegation from the Merchants Committee said might be coordinated with the city's clean-up campaign, would involve an extensive survey to locate possible off-street parking facilities at the outset. The chamber group suggested that such an undertaking could easily become part of a "master plan" to improve the city.

Bill Dryden, spokesman for the Merchants Committee delegation, said the chamber group already had devoted considerable study to the proposal, and in fact had looked over some possible sites for parking areas near the square. They came to the council, Dryden said, to seek support in further studies and in an effort to determine the proper procedure for drawing up firm plans to initiate some action.

T. Jay Rogers and Dean Floyd of the Merchants Committee, joined Dryden in making the presentation.

They said merchants around and adjacent to the square were pretty well in agreement that such a proposal was worthy. They envisioned a plan where sufficient off-street parking could be provided for merchants and their employes, leaving the on-street parking spaces for customers. Removal of the "all-day" vehicles from parking spaces would leave enough on-street parking facilities for normal business traffic, they suggested.

Members of the council expressed intense interest in the proposal, and Mayor John Hamblen appointed a committee to work with the chamber group "to find out just what we can do."

Named to the study committee were City Manager George Patterson, City Attorney Joe Carroll and the mayor-elect, J. Mark McLaughlin. Hamblen suggested that they work with Dryden, Rogers, Floyd and A. Z. Glover, the merchants sub-committee.

Hamblen noted that parking meters had long been a subject of controversy, but that the current proposal is the "first concrete" presentation on the issue that had been brought before the council during his four-year tenure as mayor.

Chamber Has Board Meet

The problem of informing the general membership of the activities of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce was discussed by the chamber's board of directors in their meeting Tuesday evening.

The board decided that a general membership meeting was needed in the near future to keep members informed, not only on the programs that were underway, but also on the costs involved in these programs. It was noted that presently the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce is working on three industrial propsects for Snyder, and that considerable expense is involved, even in this type of program.

Definite recommendations on the type of program and time and place are expected to be made shortly.

It was also reported to the board that a secondary site for the proposed state hospital had been selected in Snyder. It was the feeling of the board that at least two sites should be offered.

At least one, and possibly two members of the state's three-man site selection committee are expected to visit Snyder this month in connection with the placement of the state hospital.

Also meeting with the board of directors was A. Z. Glover, head of the chamber's Retail Merchants Committee. Glover reported that the Christmas Decoration fund was some $800 short of what was needed. The chamber board authorized the executive committee of the Retail Merchants Committee to made what arrangements they could to clear this deficit.

Accuses China Of Border Violations

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union accused Red China today of systematically violating the Soviet-Chinese border.

A statement issued by the government news agency Tass said:

"The Chinese side has for some time continuously and systematically been violating the Soviet-Chinese border, often in a crude and provocatory form."

City Vote Draws Write-In Flurry

Snyder's uncontested city election produced a write-in flurry, but all four candidates whose names were on the ballot were elected.

There were write-in votes in all but one race, the heaviest for Councilman Place 6 in which Guy Sullivan, the incumbent and only announced candidate polled 98 votes and Scott Casey, a write-in candidate, polled 76.

J. Mark McLaughlin, unopposed for mayor, received 173 votes; Jack Lawrence, incumbent and unopposed for Councilman Place 2 polled 167 votes, and H. A. Johnson, incumbent and unopposed on the ballot for Councilman Place 4, got 174 votes.

A total of 178 voters cast ballots in the election.

The Councilman Place 4 post was the only one which did not draw a write-in vote.

Bernard Longbotham Jr. received write-in votes for three different posts, three for mayor, one for Councilman Place 2 and three for Councilman Place 6. Harold Bennett received one write-in vote for mayor, Fred Bullard and Odell Cox got one each for Councilman Place 2, and Gene Dulaney got one for Councilman Place 6.

The new mayor and the three councilmen elected Tuesday will be sworn in for two-year terms at a special council meeting next Monday afternoon.

McLaughlin will succeed Dr. John Hamblen as mayor. Hamblen has served for the past two terms.

Members of the council who still have a year to serve on their respective terms are M. L. Broman, Marshall Erwin and Billy McCormick.

The council canvassed returns of the election at its regular meeting last night, which began half an hour after the polls closed.

Coliseum Committee Appointed

A five-man committee was appointed Tuesday by the county judge and members of the commissioners court to act as a Coliseum Committee.

Appointed were Stanley Noah, Fickas Bell, John Boren, W. A. McGlaun and Cullen Toombs.

The board was appointed "to assist the court in obtaining information and facts concerning construction of the Scurry County coliseum."

The board, along with the members of the commissioners court, are making plans to visit and inspect coliseums of the type planned for Scurry, which are already in operation. Their first meeting together and trip is expected to be made within the next few days.

Snyderite Is Mishap Victim

Cecil Kennedy, 47, of 2106 Forty-first Street, was killed in a two-truck mishap Tuesday night near Perryton.

A trucker by profession, Mr. Kennedy was employed by the E. L. Farmer Trucking Co. He had been a resident of Snyder for the past 14 years.

Born Mar. 13, 1917 in Red River County, Mr. Kennedy is survived by his mother, Mrs. Perry Kennedy of De Kalb; his wife, the former Miss Alma Johnson; one daughter, Louise, 12; two sons, Danny Ray, 17, and Dennis, 15; one sister, Mrs. Johnny Collier of San Leandro, Cal.; and seven brothers, Lester of Portsmouth, Va., Alton of Hawaii, Doc of Andrews, Onis and Gilbert of Avery, Tex., Jack and Chester, both of De Kalb.

The accident victim was a veteran of World War II and was a member of the VFW.

Funeral services for Mr. Kennedy are pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Family Has 3rd Set Of Twins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The third set of twins for the James Strehlo family since early 1961 arrived Tuesday at University of Minnesota Hospital.

The two boys, 6 pounds, 4 ounces, and 5 pounds 10 ounces, bring the family to a total of eight children, all under 6.

Strehlo, caretaker of a cemetery in Mankato, Minn., said he and his wife, 32, had been hoping for girls, "but we don't really care as long as they're healthy."

Browning Is School Board President

J. L. Browning, Snyder builder and developer, was elected as the new president of the Snyder school board Tuesday night, replacing W. J. Schiebel who had been president for two terms.

Elected as the new vice president of the board was Ray Martin.

Doug Flynn, business manager of the schools, was elected "temporarily" as secretary. Schiebel, who made the motion that Flynn's election to the office be for an indefinite time, explained that Dr. Robert Clinton might wish to make changes when he assumed the job of school superintendent on July 1.

The elections of the new officers were held after the results of the Saturday balloting in the school board election had been read and approved. New board members Harold Bennett and Clifford Terry were formally named the winners and were seated on the board to replace outgoing members Dr. R. H. Hargrove and Dr. B. J. Weaver.

Dr. Hargrove, who was present at the meeting, received the thanks of the remaining board members for his service on the board.

Mrs. Elmo Crowder and Mrs. J. C. Massingill, officers of the PTA City Council, met with the board to discuss the frame buildings on various school campuses which had been turned over to the PTA for use by Boy Scout troops.

The question of who was responsible for maintaining the buildings had come up at last month's school board meeting.

Nationwide Rail Strike Seems Near

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's railroads said today they will put into effect Friday new work rules and labor leaders predicted a nationwide tieup of rail transportation.

J.E. Wolfe, chairman of the national railway labor conference, said in Washington that the rules changes, center of a five-year controversy, were being enforced in response to a strike begun early today by four operating unions against the Illinois Central Railroad.

Informed of the announcement, A. F. Zimmerman, spokesman for the unions, said, "This would amount to a national lockout and we have only one defense — to cease working.

"The employes won't work under these rules."

CONCERT SET BY SCHOOL MUSICIANS

The annual concert by the organizations of the Snyder High School Instrumental Music Department will be presented Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Featured on the program will be the Symphonic Band under the direction of Melvin Montgomery. This group consists of 70 selected members of the marching band and has won superior ratings at contests throughout the state and out of state for the past eleven years. The group will be performing at the Regional Contests on April 17th and at the Buccaneer Music Festival on May 1.

Also featured on the concert will be the 60 - piece Concert Band under the direction of Associate Director Charles Shaw. This is the first year of existence for this group which is made up of the remaining members of the marching band. The Concert Band made a good showing for itself this year at the Lamesa Band Festival.

Closing out the program will be the state championship Stage Band. This group specializes in popular and jazz music and has always had tremendous acceptance wherever they play. The Stage Band has won the Class AAA championship at the Brownwood Stage Band Contest ten of the past eleven years.

Tickets are now on sale by all members of the band. Adult tickets are priced at $1 and student tickets are priced at 50 cents. Tickets will also be available at the door the afternoon of the concert. Proceeds from the concert will be used to help defray expenses of the groups to the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi in May.

Belgium Plans To Mobilize Doctors

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The Belgian government readied plans today to call the nation's striking doctors into the army if their eight-day-old walkout continues much longer.

Informants said Premier Theo Lefevre was not anxious to draft the 12,000 strikers but believed he must plan for such an eventuality in the national interest.

Most of the younger doctors hold commissions in the army reserve.

The nation's 10,000 doctors and 2,000 dentists struck April 1 against legislation changing the state health insurance plan to limit their fees and open their medical treatment records to government inspectors. The insurance fund has a $20-million deficit.

The strikers demanded that the government scrap the legislation, which they claim would prevent adequate performance of their professional duties and make them and their patients the prey of government snoopers.

The doctors also complained because they would not be allowed to stay out of the government plan, as British doctors can abstain from their country's nationalized health program.

There were signs of some confusion in the strikers' ranks. Newspaper editorials and comments of ordinary Belgian citizens revealed that the doctors were losing popularity.

In Brugge, the doctors decided to resume house calls. In other urban areas, doctors still refused to make such visits.

The strikers are participating in an emergency system under which serious cases are taken to hospitals for treatment.

They threatened to discontinue the emergency system if doctors were victimized or if hostility against them increases.

US Seeks European Aid In Fight Against Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is determinedly pressing its divided European allies to provide more backing and support for its fight against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia and Latin America.

The diplomatic strategy being followed by the Johnson administration on this and other disputed issues within the alliance is to bypass countries like France or Britain on questions where major disagreements exist and to form a united front with all the countries which are willing to cooperate.

These points of U.S. policy and strategy toward the North Atlantic Treaty Organization emerged clearly from a speech delivered to the Overseas Press Club in New York Tuesday night by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk also sharply reminded the European allies who have tended to pull apart among themselves and from the United States as cold war tensions eased, that "massive Soviet ground and nuclear forces are still arrayed against Europe."

The Soviet Union, in fact, has "many more missiles" aimed at Western Europe than at the United States, he said. In these circumstances, he declared, "it would be foolhardy to dismantle the military strength of NATO."

Rusk did not give missile figures but a highly authoritative estimate puts the total of Soviet intermediate and medium-range ballistic missiles at 800, most or all of which are believed to be targeted on European objectives.

Against the United States the Russians have an estimated 100-plus intercontinental missiles, and up to 100 seaborne missiles. The United States has about 670 ICBM's in place and 192 seaborne Polarises.

Rusk said that on the military side NATO should increase its non-nuclear capacity for fighting limited wars. That is a frequently stated U.S. objective which the European allies usually ignore. Europe should also join in forming a strategic nuclear force, he said.

He reported the U.S. government and some other allies have in fact made "substantial and encouraging progress" in working out the problems involved in forming a seaborne fleet of 200 Polaris missiles. France has rejected this whole project and the British government is cooperating reluctantly. However, Britain is working with the other interested allies in a testship project.

What is needed beyond shoring up the military defenses, Rusk said, are "new patterns of collective action," especially for dealing with Communist expansion campaigns in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

"I have in mind," he said, "especially such countries as Laos and South Viet Nam, which are targets of aggression by Hanoi, with the support of the Chinese Communists, and Cuba, which is engaged in the export of arms, subversive agents, and guerrilla leaders to other Latin-American nations. We believe that the North Atlantic nations should recognize a common interest in seeing that these aggressions are brought to an end."

Mrs. Crowder said that the PTA is prevented by its charter from spending any money in this area.

Vernon Rannefeld and Harold Lacik, also visitors to the board meeting, both said that the Boy Scouts were financially unable to spend any money on maintenance.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent of schools, noted that the buildings had been made available to the Scouts in order that they would have a place to meet other than in the school buildings proper. The school board felt that this was still advisable, and voted to maintain the buildings. They also set up a committee composed of Bennett and Martin from the school board, and Lacik and Rannefeld from the Boy Scout District Council to look further into the problem and to set a policy agreeable to both the school board and the Scouts.

Dr. Clinton asked the board to call a meeting in the near future to hear candidates for the position of high school principal. McCollum also said that a meeting was necessary before the next regular meeting in order to review the elementary schools' 1964-65 budgets. The board voted to meet Apr. 16 to consider both of these items of business.

Bids were received on three new pickup trucks to replace old equipment in use by the maintenance department. The low bid of $4,666.67 submitted by Wilson Motors was accepted. Other bids were Lamb Chevrolet, $4,770; Wellborn Motors, $4,785, and Snyder Truck and Tractor, $4,800.

Bids were also opened on a new sound system for Travis Junior High. Six bids were entered. The bid of Jay Huckabee of Snyder was accepted. The bid on the console was not the low bid, but with the other work which also will need to be done, and the fact that no travel or "overnight" expense was involved in the Huckabee bid, the board felt that it was the "best" bid of those received.

The board also instructed the business manager to make arrangements for purchasing a used tractor to be used in the vocational agriculture program. The tractor recommended by Billy Bob McMullen, vocational agriculture instructor, is expected to cost about $1,700 complete with planter, cultivator, and blade.

The board also accepted the recommendation of Dr. Clinton that bids be advertised for on the replacement of the grey curtains on the high school stage, and that other maintenance work be done on the stage facilities. Clinton said he felt the work needed to be done for safety's sake as well as the appearance of the stage.

McCollum reported to the board that over $500 had been donated to the Rose Ann Lemons fund in memory of her mother, a Snyder teacher. The board approved McCollum's plan that the fund be administered by the principal of Lamar Junior High School and the school's business administrator and that the money be spent on Miss Lemon's college expenses.

The school board set June 30 as the date for meeting with the tax representatives of the various oil companies which have production in the Snyder school district, and also set July 28 as the date of the tax equalization hearing.

opened bids for seal coating city streets and for radio equipment for the new fire and police station and Civil Defense center.

Contract for the seal-coating, which will involve about 150 blocks of city streets, went to L. A. Purfell of Lubbock, who submitted the lowest of six bids. The Lubbock firm proposed to do the seal coating for $18,090 plus $26 per ton for applying patching materials.

Jay Huckabee of Snyder was awarded the contract to erect a galvanized tower equipped with antennas and to provide radio equipment at the new fire and police station and Civil Defense center. Huckabee's bid on the tower and antennas was $3,698. Another bid of $3,680.39 was received, but a study of the proposals revealed that the tower bid by Huckabee was of slightly heavier construction. Three other higher bids were received.

Huckabee's bid of $869 was the lowest of three received for furnishing the radio equipment.

The council approved a new 10-year contract with Texas Electric Service Co. for furnishing electric power for street lighting, waterworks pumping and sewage disposal. Rates for the service are unchanged.

One bid of $100 was received on Lot 6, Block 15, Gross Subdivision which the city had advertised for sale. The lot is a small triangle adjacent to the Lubbock Highway. The council voted to offer E. D. Walton, the bidder, a quit claim deed to the property.

Turks Vow To Remain In Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Turkish troop commander on Cyprus today defied ouster attempts by Greek Cypriot President Makarios and vowed his 650 soldiers will remain unless ordered home by the Turkish government.

"We are on duty in Cyprus," said Col. Hassan Saglam, whose garrison is isolated on a wedge of land north of Nicosia, "and if our government gives an order to us we will move. But we are staying here now."

Makarios announced Tuesday he was cutting off the garrison's facilities because he said it lost the right to remain when he abrogated the 1960 treaty of alliance with Turkey on Saturday.

The Greek archbishop president said if the troops were not pulled out, he would take the matter to the U.N. Security Council.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inou countered that Makarios had no authority under the Cyprus constitution to abrogate the treaty, which permits the stationing of 650 Turkish and 950 Greek troops on the island. Turkey also warned that any move against the garrison would be considered aggression against Turkey itself.

Doctors Say Sellers May Survive Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Specialists attending British actor Peter Sellers agree that his condition is critical but that he may survive the heart attack that hospitalized him Monday.

A medical bulletin issued by Cedars of Lebanon Hospital during the night indicated that physicians were planning further use of a device to send electrical impulses to the heart in an effort to restore a rhythmic beat.

Stewart Ends 10 Years In Schools Here

Superintendent of Schools T. E. McCollum announced at the school board meeting Tuesday that he had received a letter of resignation from James H. Stewart, Jr., assistant principal of Travis Junior High School.

Stewart, who has held his present position at the school for the past five years, is resigning to take a two-year teaching fellowship at North Texas State University at Denton. Stewart will teach in the university's School of Education, and will also work on his doctorate in school administration.

Stewart presently holds a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Education degree from North Texas. He came here in 1954 as a teacher and coach in the Snyder school system.

During his time in Snyder, Stewart was active with the National Guard for six years, and still holds a reserve commission in the US Army. He is a member of the First Methodist Church.

Stewart and his wife, also a former teacher in Snyder schools, and their sons, Bryan, who will be three in June, and Wade, who will be one in June, will move from Snyder at the end of the school year.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Several days ago a letter came to our home addressed to a 15-year-old boy our daughter knows. It was sent in care of our daughter. My husband saw it and started to question her. He wanted to know what right the boy had to instruct someone to send him mail in her care. She said she didn't know anything about it, and didn't see where it was any of her father's business. I sided with my daughter. Her father allowed her to give the letter to the boy, but he instructed her to tell him that it was not to happen again. What is your opinion on this? We can't judge the boy as we hardly know him.

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I think your husband was right. But he didn't go far enough. He should have asked his daughter to bring the boy around so he could become acquainted with him, gain his confidence and learn why the boy can't receive mail at home. Fifteen-year-olds need all the help and understanding they can get.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the person asking what you thought about folks whose Christmas cards arrived after Christmas, I was pleased with your reply: "Better late than never. Who counts?"

Bravo, Abby! What has happened to the spirit of Christmas? I shall never forget a Christmas gift I once received. It was a bottle of home-made perfume that smelled strangely like vanilla extract. It was crudely wrapped in Christmas paper that had obviously been used on another gift, and tied with a second-hand red ribbon. But there was so much love in its manner of presentation I almost wept. It was from a ten-year-old girl whose family was on relief. How I cherished the thought!

A SCHOOL TEACHER'S MEMORY

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I want to get married. Should I ask the girl first, or should I ask her father? Some say I should ask the girl first, and if she says yes, I should ask the father. It seems to me that I should ask the father first, because if he says no, it wouldn't make any sense to ask the girl. Will you kindly advise me? I thank you.

ABOUT TO

DEAR ABOUT: Ask the girl first. If she says no, you've had it, boy!

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HER TEACHER": I want to write to the little blind girl who wrote me a sweet letter in Braille. Please send me her name and address.

• • •

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Winner of the stamps contest was Anna Greer. Dell Smith and Betty Wooldridge were the other two contenders.

This Saturday in Lubbock TOPS Clubs of Texas are having an annual recognition day event at the Pioneer Hotel. Mrs. Lieb has asked that all who are planning to attend, meet at her home at 7 a.m. Saturday morning. Those who have decided they will be unable to attend should contact Mrs. Lieb before Saturday. It was reminded that your money for the event would be refunded.

For entertainment at the meeting, several pigs sang the pig song and paid the pig.

'Hero' Has More Money Than Sense

PERDITA, GET LOST. By Alan R. Jackson.

There was a time when the English had a monopoly on describing, against a background of London's smart set, the very foolish adventures of various young men — usually called Bertie or Freddie — who were endowed with more lucre than logic. So amusing, old chap.

Perhaps there is a Manhattan offshoot of this gente in Jackson's novel. For one of the three central figures is Jerrold (Jerry) Blake, a fortyish bachelor who keeps making shoals of money without trying, and divides his time between archeology and cafe society. (He has a butler, too.)

The others are Chan Cumings, a sweet (blonde) young thing who is a receptionist for an advertising agency, and Teddy Maitland, a copy apprentice for the same agency. The fun begins when they succeed in getting fired on the same day.

Teddy becomes involved with a predatory fashion designer, Carla Fabricant, by the simple device of walking into her chauffeur - driven limousine. Chan, meanwhile, is taken for a whirl by "Uncle Jerry."

There is a bit of farce about a seven-foot statue shipped from Greece as a thank-you for Blake's financing of a dig. The rest of the comedy develops from Blake's misguided notion that he has to become a 20-year old playboy to impress Chan.

Jackson is clever, adroit and inventive with his dialogue and situations. In one of his wittiest scenes he sketches, in a few swift lines, a whole zoo of characters in a fashionable cafe.

So amusing, old chap.

A wooden mallet is a handy kitchen gadget: use it for flattening chicken breasts (for Chicken Kiev) or for veal (for Veal Scaloppine.)

If the top of that chocolate cake roll cracks after filling and rolling, cover it with a frosting or sift cocoa (regular or a sweetened beverage mix) over it.

MacArthur Story Will Be Intergral Part Of History

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the definitive biography of Gen. Douglas MacArthur is finally written it will be one of the fascinating stories of American history.

By his very nature—the drive for success and domination, the sensitivity to criticism, the intense opinions, the sense of drama—he was born to attract and repel. And he did.

He had admirers and critics all his days, some of them intense, too.

His command of the language was probably better than that of any other military figure of his time. But even here, in the use of it, he forced people to choose sides.

Among other things he diluted his rhetoric with sentimentality. Example: When he told Congress, after being dismissed from his Korean command, that old soldiers fade away and he was about to. Some wept. Some felt distaste.

More than one person thought he dramatized himself. Even Lord Alanbrooke felt this. Alanbrooke, chief of the British general staff in World War II and a MacArthur admirer, called him the greatest general of the war.

But he also said he saw the "tinge of actor" in him.

MacArthur, after saying he would fade away, did the opposite. He toured the country attacking the administration of President Harry S. Truman who had fired him. An aide said this was a crusade to save representative government.

But a Princeton historian, Eric F. Goldman, saw it otherwise, called it the noisiest "fading away in history" and described MacArthur thus: "In city after city MacArthur was the unabashed symbol of home and motherhood and what he delighted in calling the 'simple, eternal truths of the American way.'"

(Goldman is now President Johnson's special assistant assigned to pick ideas from America's brainiest men.)

Nevertheless, MacArthur got thunderous ovations everywhere. But if he had presidential hopes—he said he didn't—he soon found the acclaim he got was for his heroic military services and went no further.

He was a controversial figure at a time when Americans were getting sick of controversy: sick of the Korean war and sick of the divisions wrought by McCarthyism with all that meant in distrust, anger, hate.

There was talk of MacArthur for president but not much at that particular time, which was 1951, a year before the 1952 presidential race.

In 1948, MacArthur had said he would accept the Republican nomination if it was offered to him. He let his name be entered in the Wisconsin primary and was badly beaten. After that he said he had no political aspirations.

Truman said MacArthur told him in 1950 the politicians had made a "chump" of him in 1948. But at least at that particular time MacArthur didn't have the kind of personality that appealed to politicians.

Instead, in 1952 the Republican politicians turned to a completely different type: the placid, friendly, extroverted Dwight D. Eisenhower. Nevertheless, MacArthur's name was put in nomination.

Like McArthur, Eisenhower was a war hero but, unlike MacArthur, he would make an ideal smoother of the troubled waters of those times. MacArthur has been quoted as calling him derisively "the best clerk I ever had."

But, while MacArthur got only four convention votes, Eisenhower got 845 and the nomination.

Burl Ives Happy Over New Diet

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Burl Ives, who used to be as wide as a forest, has slimmed down so much that now he can hide behind a single full-grown redwood tree.

"I've lost 75 pounds in the last four months, and I expect to drop another 75 pounds by the end of the year," said the big genial actor and folk singer.

After completing his latest film, a fantasy in which he plays a fat Arabian nights genie, Burl decided to peel off some of his 300-plus poundage. He went to Duke University in North Carolina to try its famous rice diet treatment.

According to Ives, the fat melted from him magically.

"For 10 or 15 years I was on a high protein diet—and I kept gaining weight," he said.

"I can walk 10 miles a day now and never get tired. Before that I'd puff like a steam engine when I went a hundred yards."

"I used to have hot pipes"—his term for stomach upsets—"and colds before I went on this diet. Since then I haven't had hot pipes or a cold," Ives said.

"I used to have to put down a pound of steak before I went to make a recording. Now I can eat a few grains of boiled rice and sing like a bird."

Ives started plucking out tunes on a guitar as a 5-year-old farmboy. Becoming bored on a summer day during his junior year in college, he walked ou of an English class on a sudde impulse to see the world. All h took along was his guitar an 15 cents in cash.

In the years since then Bu has appeared in seven Broa way plays, given hundreds concerts, recorded 32 albums songs, made 15 films and wr ten four books.

He is one of the most famou "pack rats" in show busines His nine-room, old-fashione apartment on the upper We Side here is crowded with sou venirs of his travels — ever thing from battleship flags t African battle spears.

"I think I'm happier now than I've ever been—and I'm 54. When I was younger, I didn't have enough sense to be happy" Ives said.

"I recommend nothing to any body, but life is pretty complicated and I think it helps to try to simplify it. That's what I did with my food problem by going on the rice diet.

"I do as I always have: I play life by ear, and live it day by day.

"If something comes along and I want to do it, I do it. If not, I go sailing and spit in the water.

"What keeps us from joy is mostly ourselves. We have too many cobwebs in our minds.

"At this point in my life my feeling is to follow my instincts, to move as things happen rather than according to plan or to achieve any set goal.

"I have found that you have to move pretty much as life presents situations to you. I'm pretty happy-go-lucky. I'm not a worrier."

The earth's water content always remains the same — about 326 million cubic miles.

Junior Editors Quiz on ETIQUETTE

QUESTION: Why do we need etiquette?

ANSWER: Etiquette simply makes living with other people more comfortable. The word etiquette comes from an old French word meaning ticket. It later came to mean a particular routine of behavior, especially at the courts of kings. Charles I and II of England copted the rules from the French and these rules then spread to the rest of the world.

Most rules of etiquette have good reasons behind them, but in some cases the reason has disappeared, such as in shaking hands. In the Middle Ages, when two men met, they extended their right hands and shook hands to show they would not use their swords. Today the handshake remains as a gesture of courtesy. Etiquette between men and women is also based on good reasons, some of which also disappeared with time. When women wore long flowing skirts, it was difficult for them to get out of a carriage. Today it is polite for a man to be ready to help a woman out of a car, even though she doesn't have a long skirt. Other rules are based on so-called "good taste." These are things which we do not do because they would offend other people. Many table manners are based on good taste—we don't talk with our mouths full or eat with our fingers.

Tigers Defeat Ponies In Loop Opener, 9-2

Locals In Best Form At Plate

The Snyder Tigers spanked the baseball around the Towle Memorial Park diamond in their most consistent hitting splurge of the season Tuesday afternoon to open their 1964 conference season with a 9-2 victory over Sweetwater's Mustangs.

The Bengals went to work early, scoring a pair of runs in the first inning on the strength of two Mustang miscues and a hit. They resumed their offensive activity in the third with two more tallies accomplished via a couple of hits and two walks to put the game out of reach.

Leslie Brown, shortstop and cleanup hitter, had a perfect day at bat for the Tigers, cracking a triple and two singles in three official trips to the plate. Four other Tigers, Drew Bullard, J. N. Wall, Jim Marcum and Martin Benitez, had two hits apiece as the locals combed the offerings of two Sweetwater pitchers for 12 safeties.

Brown and Marcum were the "money" hitters of the game, each driving in three runs.

Brown's triple in the fourth was the biggest blow of the game and sent two runs across the plate.

Marcum's single in the third plated a pair for the Tigers, and he bashed another one-baser in the sixth to cap a three-run splurge.

Wall gave up eight hits, but the Mustangs were unable to score until the seventh inning when they bunched two singles after a base on balls.

The Tiger defense sparkled most of the afternoon, particularly in the fifth inning when Sweetwater loaded the bases before a man was retired. The Mustangs were prevented from scoring in that frame when Drew Bullard scooped up Benny Pace's sharp grounder and cut down the lead runner at the plate. Brown caught Kenney's fly and Wall sent Butts back to the dugout on strikes.

The Tigers will continue their league slate Friday when they go to Lamesa to take on the Lamesa High Tornadoes.

HOPES TO REPEAT—Jack Nicklaus, defending Masters champion, sits in the clubhouse at the Augusta National Golf Club and ponders his chances of doing something no other player has done — win back-to-back Masters titles. (AP Wirephoto)

Odds Are Increasing On Palmer, Nicklaus

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "On a dry course we spot them six strokes. When it's wet, it's eight."

So estimated Billy Casper, former Open champion and one of the golfers rated a chance to cut down long-hitting Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the 28th Masters Golf Tournament beginning Thursday.

Casper finished his first practice round over the Augusta National Course Tuesday and said: "If ever a golf course was built for Nicklaus and Palmer, this is it. And when it's wet it's more so."

The course was soaked Monday. A muggy, overcast Tuesday didn't do much to put any roll back in the fairways. More showers were expected today.

Anything can happen for the tournament, since the locals say "we usually get one day of rain, one day of sun, one day of wind and one nice one, but not necessarily in that order."

Under the best of conditions the course, which is just a short chip shot under 7,000 yards, is a hacker's nightmare and a short hitter's Hades. When it's wet, the bunters might as well stay home.

The tees are usually placed so that drives must carry uphill. On a dry day, the short hitters hit, and hope the ball will roll to the top. On a wet day they just hope.

The big, straight hitters—meaning Nicklaus and Palmer—can paste the ball to the top of the hill on the fly. And they get extra roll when they get there.

An invited field of about 90 players will tee off Thursday in pursuit of Nicklaus, the defending champion. The big, blonde Ohio Golden Bear is aiming to be the first player ever to repeat.

He was the youngest player ever to win the Masters last year. If he repeats at the age of 24 he will be the second youngest, too.

Byron Nelson won in 1937 at the age of 25.

For the first time in many years, all the living past champions are on hand. Ralph Guldahl, the 1939 winner and one-time undisputed king of golf, is on hand for the first time since 1947.

Old Sam Snead, 51, runner-up to Guldahl in 1939 and winner in 1949 and 1952, is rated a genuine chance. He shot a 69 in a Tuesday practice round.

Palmer had a 72, and admitted he hit some drives farther than any he ever hit before. Nicklaus had a 71, as did Casper.

Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who is a possible title threat, also had a 69.

Yanks Could Win In Record Time

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As impregnable as Fort Knox and almost as rich, the New York Yankees are so far superior to the rest of the American League it is conceivable they could wrap up their fifth consecutive penhant in record time.

The big battle figures to be for second place. Four teams—Minnesota, Baltimore, Chicago and Detroit — will probably knock each other's brains out for the runner-up spot.

Of the others, only Cleveland appears to have a chance to sneak into the first division. The immediate future bodes ill for Boston, Los Angeles, Washington and Kansas City.

How can the other clubs stop the Yankees with a healthy Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris? Even without them for half a season, the Yankees ran off with the 1963 championship by 10 games.

The possible order of finish:

1. New York
2. Minnesota
3. Baltimore
4. Detroit
5. Chicago
6. Cleveland
7. Boston
8. Los Angeles
9. Washington
10. Kansas City

Yogi Berra, the new manager, claims the Yankees are stronger than last year. His argument is simple and direct.

"Our outfield is the best, our infield is the best and our catching is the best," he said. "And our pitching is better than it was last year."

The Yankee outfield trio of Mantle, Maris and Tommy Tresh, and the infield of Joe Pepitone, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Clete Boyer rank tops in the league.

Catcher Elston Howard, the league's Most Valuable Player of 1963, is in a class by himself.

The Twins compare favorably with the Yankees in power. They have good, if not outstanding pitching, but lack the tight defense so vital to a pennant winner. They were eighth in fielding last year and the switch at first from Vic Power to Bob Allison doesn't figure to eliminate that weakness.

Manager Hank Bauer has instilled some aggressiveness in the Baltimore line-up, which figures to be strengthened by newcomers Norm Siebern and Willie Kirkland. The pitching is strong and could rate with the best if Chuck Estrada's apparent recovery following an elbow operation is no myth.

Al Lopez, manager of the White Sox, maintains his perennial optimism but Pete Ward, his slugging third baseman, continues to suffer from a chronic back ache, diagnosed nosed as a pinched nerve.

Detroit has improved its infield and outfield by the acquisition of second baseman Jerry Lumpe and center fielder Don Demeter. Frank Lary, the ailing right-hander, has pitched encouragingly this spring but Manager Charlie Dressen has been unable to come up with a replacement for the departed Jim Bunning.

The Longhorns are 6-0. Rice (5-1) is in second place. TCU fell down to 5-7 with its loss to Texas and is in third place.

Jerry Walters beat Ken Roach 6-1, 6-1, Jack Kamrath beat Pat McDavitt 6-0, 6-2, Eddie Strayhorn beat Bob Farmer 6-3, 6-3 and Kenny Wickett beat Mike Wolff 6-4, 6-4 in the singles.

Bears Move Into Tie For Loop Lead

By The Associated Press

Baylor moved into a tie for the lead and Texas A&M hung in there close in the Southwest Conference baseball race Monday.

Baylor nipped Texas Christian 3-2 in 11 innings while the Aggies beat Southern Methodist by the same score in makeup games. They were playoffs of contests postponed because of rain.

Baylor brought its season record to 10-3—best in the league—and its conference mark to 3-1, which tied Texas.

The Aggies became 3-2 and were only a half-game out of first place.

Southern Methodist was losing its second conference game and had a 1-2 record.

Texas Christian was 1-3 and like Rice was virtually out of contention.

John Tatum singled in the winning run in the 11th inning as Baylor nosed out Texas Christian Monday. Meanwhile Henry Perkins was going the distance and notching his fifth victory with a six-hitter.

Frank Stark and George Hargett hit back-to-back doubles in the ninth to give Texas A&M its triumph over Southern Methodist. Between them the two batted in all the Aggie runs. Sophomore lefthander Steve Hillhouse worked a seven-hitter to bring his conference record to 2-1.

Texas jammed nine runs across the plate in the eighth to beat St. Mary's 12-5 in a non-conference game. Butch Thompson's two-run homer highlighted the uprising.

Rice and Texas Lutheran play at Seguin today and there will be no more conference action until Friday when all the clubs start a two-game series, with Texas playing Rice at Houston, Southern Methodist and Baylor battling at Waco and Texas Christian meeting Texas A&M at College Station.

Williams Is Impressive

HOUSTON (AP) — Cleveland Williams got by tough Tommy Fields impressively enough Tuesday night to start looking toward the top ranked boys in the heavyweight division—and a chance at the championship.

The fifth-ranked Williams earned a unanimous decision over his lighter foe—the 192½-pound Fields from Los Angeles—but never could add the visitor to his knockout list that has reached 49.

For that the crowd of 4,000 had mixed emotions. But Fields figured Williams did well enough. "He's the strongest I ever fought," said Fields. "As far as I am concerned he's the tops."

The judges and referee had Williams as much as 11 points ahead at the finish of the 10-round fight. Referee Jimmy Webb made it the closest—100 to 95.

Hollywood Park's 1963 racing season averaged 32,309 patrons daily. The daily mutuel handle averaged $2,692,492.

Baseball 'Law' To Cause Delay In Season For Law

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh right-hander Vern Law, a respected elder in the Mormon Church, has run afoul of baseball law.

Continuing his impressive pitching in a comeback bid, the Deacon hurled six innings of perfect ball Tuesday in the Pirates' 3-2, 10-inning exhibition loss to St. Louis, an effort that should have thrown Law into the spotlight for one of the game's biggest plums—an opening day assignment.

But the big book of baseball law has thrown him a curve.

The one-time 20-game winner and hero of the Pirates' 1960 World Series triumph decided last year to retire—temporarily at least. In accordance with that decision, Law was placed on the voluntary retired list.

That move made him ineligible for reinstatement to the active roster until six days after the 1964 season opens.

Besides Law, Kansas City's Diego Segui and Detroit's Mickey Lolich turned in solid pitching performances.

Segui hurled shutout ball in his eight-inning stint, allowing only six hits, but the A's had to hold on once he left before nailing an 8-5 victory over the New York Mets. Lolich scattered nine hits, striking out 11, as he went the route in the Tigers' 4-1 victory over Houston.

Lee Thomas drove in his 29th run of the spring in the Los Angeles Angels' 3-2 triumph over Cleveland, Bob Allison singled home the winning run as Minnesota edged Washington 5-4 and Harry Bright's two-run double led the New York Yankees to a 4-3 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jim Maloney pitched eight innings and stroked three singles as Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 6-4, the Chicago White Sox took advantage of Norm Siebern's error and went on to defeat Baltimore 3-1 and the Chicago Cubs rode four unearned runs to a 4-2 victory over Boston.

115 MILES FROM CAMP

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Manager Harry Craft of the Houston Colt .45s had an easy task finding the new field, Cocoa Colts Stadium, on Highway 520 before he checked into a home 14 miles east on Cocoa Beach. Craft lives at Inverness, 115 miles due west of here. Last year his team trained at Apache Junction, Ariz.

Cardinals Picked To Break Drought

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been 18 long, dry years since the St. Louis Cardinals won a National League pennant. The drought is over. Despite the retirement of Stan Musial, they will scramble home first this season in another typical cutthroat struggle.

The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers will be in it. So will San Francisco, Philadelphia and Milwaukee. Cincinnati could be a factor. Even Pittsburgh and Chicago are possibilities. Only Houston and the poor old New York Mets appear outclassed.

Nobody has repeated in this well-balanced league since Milwaukee in 1957-58. Four different teams have won in the last four years starting with Pittsburgh in 1960. With the exception of the Colts and Mets, only the Cardinals, Phils and Cubs have failed to make the grade in the last six years.

It is about time for another pennant for the Red Birds who haven't been in a World Series since 1946 when Enos Slaughter made his famous dash home from first base while Johnny Pesky of the Boston Sox hesitated.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. St. Louis
2. Los Angeles
3. San Francisco
4. Philadelphia
5. Milwaukee
6. Cincinnati
7. Chicago
8. Pittsburgh
9. Houston
10. New York

In the American League you start with New York and work down. In the National you open with New York on the bottom and work up. Not even the plush Shea Stadium can rescue the Mets from a third straight year in the cellar. Houston may be a bit better but not enough to catch the rest.

LUCKY STICK?

DENVER (AP) — When the Denver Invaders of the Western Hockey League held a "shoot a goal" contest between periods, a fan, Bob Nelson, asked to borrow forward Lou Jankowski's stick.

Nelson hammered the puck into the net and collected the $25 prize. He returned the stick to Jankowski, who went scoreless for the night.

Texas Education Group To Hear Californian Speak

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — The governor's higher education study committee, whose members and staff frequently have praised California's public higher education system, hears the chairman of University of California regents today.

Dr. Don McLaughlin, the chairman, was scheduled to speak to the 25-member committee in open session at 1:30 p. m. The morning session was to be closed to reporters.

Tuesday a subcommittee, headed by Dallas industrialist Gifford Johnson, recommended reorganization of the state system of higher education. Johnson, president of Ling-Temco-Vought, said the proposal is similar to California's system.

The Johnson group recommended:

"(1) A system of state universities restricted in first year enrollment to the upper 15 per cent of the high school graduating class, based on academic standards.

"(2) A system of senior colleges restricted in first year enrollment to the upper 35 per cent of the high school graduating class.

"(3) A system of junior or community colleges available to all graduates of accredited high schools who desire further education."

Students could transfer after their academic ability was proven, the subcommittee indicated. Such a reorganization, the report said, "would accommodate all candidates, would provide education to meet each individual's capabilities, would accommodate the slow starters by providing access to the top as the capability is demonstrated (and) would eliminate the present system of "admit and flunk out' . . ."

Also recommended for committee consideration were these proposals:

1. Establishment of more junior colleges. "Such colleges should be located within a 50-mile radius of the majority of our potential student population."

2. Uniform scholastic standards for all high schools, with a state board examination required for a high school diploma.

3. Tuition and fees at public colleges and universities should be competitive with neighboring states and compatible with the state tax structure.

4. State scholarships for deserving students.

The proposals were advanced only for the full committee's consideration. They may or may not become part of the final committee recommendations to the governor and the legislature. They were discussed primarily in closed session, although newsmen were present when Johnson made his report.

The Johnson subcommittee said Texas faces a severe gap between the economy's need for college-trained and other skilled persons and those expected to enter the labor market in the next 10 years.

"We're supplying about half the engineers we need and it's getting worse," said Johnson. "We're getting by by using non-engineering graduates and by living off the rest of the country."

The subcommittee report showed a lag of about 10,000 each year for the next 10 years between the state's predicted needs for new college graduates and the forecast of new graduates ready to go to work.

New Officials Assume Offices

By The Associated Press

New councilmen and mayors took office today after widespread elections Tuesday throughout Texas.

Dallas voters overwhelmingly approved a $52.5 million capital improvements program to take care of the city's street, park, waterworks, sewage and bridge construction for the next two years.

At Marshall voters set two political first.

W. H. Hendren, a realtor, and A. D. McPahil Jr., hardware store manager, will enter an April 21 runoff election for city commissioner, the first runoff in the city's history.

And the city had its first woman commissioner, Mrs. Kenneth Abney, who defeated Alton Jordan. W. R. Palmer defeated Ellsworth Kingery for a third commission spot.

Wichita Falls elected a new mayor, Winston Wallander, by a 5,448 to 4,973 margin over former Mayor K. C. Spell. The incumbent, John Gavin, did not run. Voters also elected councilmen Kenneth Hill, Leroy Daniel, Cletus Schenk and incumbent Pete Slaytor in a record vote of 10,521.

Runoffs were forced in Brownwood for city council and chief of police positions. Mayor W. C. Monroe was re-elected unopposed. Bill Donahoo and Jack Pike will enter the city of police runoff, after getting more votes than the incumbent chief, George Calder. Eddye Farren and Charles Parker will meet each other in the councilmen race.

Another runoff was scheduled for the mayor's position in Lubbock. Candidates are W. D. Rogers and Max Tidmore, who ran ahead of the incumbent, Jack Strong.

In the Lubbock councilmen race, Jack Kastman and W. E. Medlock were elected with majority votes.

A record vote at Alpine returned incumbent Mayor W. I. Winters to office. His ticket, aldermen John O'Donnell and Kenneth Stucke, was also elected.

At San Marcos, three city councilmen were elected. They were Alex Tuttle, Ellis Serur and Mark Whittenburg.

Bastrop elevated former councilman Jack Griesenbeck to the office of mayor.

Llano had four candidates for three council positions. Three incumbents were re-elected including Gordon Donop, Taylor Virdell, and Joe Ratliff.

At Smithville, incumbent Mayor George Woodress was re-elected.

Cameron elected a new mayor in Bassell Wilson.

Bartlett Mayor T. A. Crittendon defeated former mayor Cy Young. Four persons sought three council seats and they went to incumbent Wilson Framc, Elmer Cryer and Ralph Jackson.

Mason, with a record vote turnout of 712, elected Victor Kothmann, a physician, mayor over two opponents. Aldermen elected Included Elroy Schreiber, an incumbent, and Grover McDougald, who defeated incumbent Jack Walker by 92 votes.

The Austin suburb of West-lake Hills elected Robert Allen who ran unopposed, mayor.

At Rockdale, L. C. Mehaffey was unopposed for mayor and M. N. Stricker was unopposed for an alderman's post.

Round Rock elected Haskell Bradley, Carroll Harding and Raymond Sellstrom to council offices.

Court Is Criticized

EL PASO (AP)— County Republican Chairman Alan Rash Tuesday criticized the El Paso Commissioner's Court for designating April 10 as Ralph Yarborough Day.

The recognition marked the El Paso visit of the Texas senior senator. He will address a meeting of the Highway 180 Association and take part in unveiling ceremonies of a statue of Abraham Lincoln in Juarez, Mexico.

Rash protested the honor being paid "a candidate seeking re-election" and said the court should be non-partisan since it was elected to "serve all of the people."

In reply, County Judge Glenn Woodward said "Let's not be naive, gentlemen. This is a Democratic court and it will honor those who have best served El Paso."

John C. Ross, a candidate for the commissioners court, challenged the court's authority to make the designation and then demanded equal treatment for Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.

Steel Co.s Hear Antitrust Charge

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight steel companies—including U.S. Steel, the industry's largest—have been indicted by a federal grand jury on antitrust charges.

They are accused of conspiring to fix prices in the $3.5 billion carbon sheet steel business.

Two steel company executives also were named in the indictment, made public Tuesday.

The indictment traces to the clash between major steel companies and the late President John F. Kennedy in April 1962. When the companies posted an across-the-board increase of $6 a ton, Kennedy angrily denounced the move as inflationary and the companies rescinded the increase.

After the clash, the Justice Department—headed then and now by the late president's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—started a grand jury investigation of the steel industry's pricing methods. The original grand jury investigation died out. But the job was taken over last October by a new grand jury—the one that reported the indictment Tuesday.

Inland and Kaiser—only major steel firms that opposed the 1962 price hike—were not named in the indictment. The grand jury, however, had subpoenaed their records.

A spokesman for one of the firms — Armco — said: "Apparently, these allegations arise out of efforts to promote the use of steel in traditional markets for steel and to combat the inroads made by competitive materials such as aluminum, glass, plastics, cement and others."

Conviction could bring the eight defendant firms fines up to $50,000 each. The two indicted executives, if convicted, could be sentenced to jail for one year and fined $50,000 each.

Sheet steel—the product covered in the indictment—is used in making about one-third of all finished steel mill products. The alleged price-fixing, the government charges, increased prices to consumers for such items as auto bodies, washing machines, kitchen cabinets, refrigerators, office furniture and other widely used products.

Rights Test Appears Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — Important civil rights bill test votes appeared today to be within reach at last, as the marathon Senate debate entered its 25th day.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen unveiled on Tuesday the general nature but few details of amendments he will offer to the bill's equal employment opportunity provisions. He said he would ask his GOP colleagues at a conference Thursday to support them.

Dirksen said they involved about 40 changes, many just "technical," and only eight or nine of major importance.

Declaring they are intended neither to "water down nor emasculate" the bill, Dirksen announced plans to call up some of the amendments next week for Senate consideration.

The move would mark the first real break in the often repetitive debate and would set the stage for test votes expected to give some clue to the bill's ultimate fate.

A. Harriman Gets New Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has tagged W. Averell Harriman with special responsibility for African affairs in event of any crisis in that turbulent continent.

This, according to State Department sources, is the reason why the trouble-shooting undersecretary of state recently went on a survey trip to West Africa and will probably travel next to East Africa.

Persons close to both Harriman and G. Mennen Williams, former Democratic governor of Michigan, denied Johnson's action will undercut Williams in his post as assistant secretary for African affairs. Rather, they said, it will mean more support for Williams from a high level.

As the State Department now operates, Secretary of State Dean Rusk reigns with his two chief lieutenants, Undersecretaries George W. Ball and Harriman, who have regular duties as well as special assignments in crises.

In explaining Harriman's new duties, State Department officials said they know of no plans by Williams to resign.

Leaves Hospital After Heart Stops

TALLAHASSE, Fla. (AP)—Benjamin Burch, 48-year-old machinist whose heart stopped beating for 90 minutes on the operating table last month, left the hospital Tuesday.

"I've been rushing around all my life," said Burch, "I guess I've got to make up my mind to just take it easy."

When Burch's heart stopped, circulation was maintained artificially. A device called a defibrillator was used to shock his heart into action again.

Sheik Is Freed After 11 Years

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Sheik Mohammed Abdullah, Moslem leader of the independence movement in Kashmir State, was set free today after 11 years of imprisonment by Prime Minister Nehru's government.

Abdullah, the "Lion of Kashmir" who had been prime minister of the state until Nehru integrated it into India, was released in the town of Jammu, in the southwestern section of Kashmir, the government radio said.

Also set free were 13 other men arrested in 1953 on charges that they worked to break the state away from India and join it with Moslem Pakistan or to form an independent state.

A huge cheering crowd welcomed the 14 freed men, throwing garlands around their necks and shouting, "Long live Moslem-Hindu unity," the radio said.

Abdullah languished in jail nine years before he was brought to trial. The trial dragged on inconclusively and Abdullah's case became a cause around which neighboring Pakistan and dissatisfied elements within Kashmir rallied.

The Indian government announced on April 1 the charges against the imprisoned nationalists would be dropped and that they would be released to stabilize the tense political situation in Kashmir.

Nehru is thought to have gotten a firm guarantee from Abdullah that the nationalists will not resume their agitation against India. Nehru has invited Abdullah to visit him in New Delhi.

Assassination Led To New Safety Measures For LBJ

EDITOR's NOTE—The security around the President has been increased since the assassination of John F. Kennedy. But the problem of protecting Lyndon B. Johnson will become increasingly difficult as the election campaign tempo quickens. In the following article the difficulties of protecting chief executives is discussed by an Associated Press newsman who has been covering the White House since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson walked in the funeral procession of President John F. Kennedy against the advice of the Secret Service and reportedly told an agent:

"I'd rather give my life than be afraid to give it."

This profession of courage points up an ever present, insoluble security problem — a problem that becomes increasingly difficult now that an election campaign is under way.

Precautions have been increased since the assassination of Kennedy. But the Secret Service, as one veteran put it, can only provide the safeguard. It cannot compel the President to use them.

When Johnson was asked in a television interview March 15 whether he always follows instructions of the security agents he said:

"Yes, with rare exceptions now and then, like marching in the funeral procession and occasionally, they prefer to have two or three policemen between me and the crowds, and I ask them to move out, so I can see some of the people.

"I want to be a people's President, and in order to do so, you have to see the people and talk to them and know something about them and not be too secluded.

"I think they would feel better if the President kept 100 yards distance from every human being, but that is not practical."

Besides, human beings vote. And, increasingly, Johnson will be making political expeditions. Already he is pushing into crowds and grabbing hands every chance he gets—even at church, although he contends he should be allowed to worship in private.

Kennedy was on a political trip to Texas Nov. 22. He wanted to see and be seen by throngs of people. His motorcade route was advertised in advance for the people of Dallas—and for cused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

A week before, Kennedy had insisted on driving through New York without the customary police escort and with stops at every red light.

Things changed after Dallas.

In New York and in all cities, swarms of police turn out along streets and peer down from windows, rooftops and bridges. Helicopters hang overhead. For the President, himself, there is far more reliance on helicopters than on motorcades to get him into the centers of cities.

When Johnson does move by car in urban areas, it is in a four-ton armored car with bulletproof glass on loan from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The Lincoln bubbletop limousine in which Kennedy was shot is being overhauled and having armor added before it comes back to the White House fleet.

In motor processions now, motorcycle police form a tighter cordon around the President. The White House physician is only a car or two away. In the open Secret Service car right behind Johnson an agent sits backward on one of the jump seats, since Kennedy was hit by shots from behind.

The White House Secret Service detail hasn't been increased substantially, because manpower isn't a guarantee of presidential safety. A determined, crafty crackpot can kill any man.

Furthermore, on occasion, Johnson gives the Secret Service no notice where or when he intends to go some place—as was the case also with Kennedy at times. Unlike Kennedy, he also banishes Secret Service men from his car on occasion.

He did this while scorching the roads with a car full of newsmen during his Easter vacation in Texas. He did it here when he attended church with his family last Sunday.

But then Franklin D. Roosevelt used to go dashing off in his Ford touring car alone, cutting through swamp areas on the family estate, at Hyde Park, N.Y., and chuckling merrily when a heavy Secret Service car bogged down.

Presidential protection in some ways was easier in those days. Because of his crippled legs, Roosevelt couldn't get out and mingle with crowds. He couldn't make sudden, unannounced moves.

President Harry S. Truman was somewhat more of a problem, with his morning walks. But few people were out then, and routes changed. Security was tightened around him, too, after an attempted assassination while he was occupying Blair House during the renovation of the White House.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower had that warm smile and friendly wave but he didn't often mix with crowds, either, the way Kennedy did and Johnson does.

Eisenhower's Secret Service driver crashed the legal speed barrier at times on the way to the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

The question of presidential speeding has drawn attention once again—especially with a vacancy in the vice presidency.

Minuteman On Target

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman intercontinental-range missile registered its 11th straight test-flight success Tuesday night, streaking 5,000 miles from Cape Kennedy to a target in the South Atlantic Ocean.

The Air Force reported the silo-launched weapon performed flawlessly.

Says Talkathon To Be Renewed

AUSTIN (AP) — The city council rested today after a four hour filibuster by civil rights demonstrators whose talk has stymied regular council business.

The demonstrators, meanwhile, assured newsmen they will be ready to resume the talkathon when the council meet Thursday. The recess allows the Rev. Wesley Sims to retain his right to address the council.

Sims, another Negro and a white instructor at a local predominantly Negro college alternated reading and extemporaneous speaking at council sessions Thursday, Friday, Monday and Tuesday. They seek a city ordinance to provide penalties for racial discrimination.

The other Negro is Volma Overton, president of the local NAACP chapter. The instructor is Claude Allen, English teacher at Huston-Tillotson College.

Overton said after the council recessed late Tuesday he will interpret council delay as "failure to take steps to insure the dignity of man. We still want our freedom." He said the demonstrators will return Thursday "with our same enthusiasm."

Sims read from the Bible and a book, "What's Right with Race Relations," Tuesday and drew some critical remarks from one observer, former State Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson, now an Austin resident.

"I know you are afraid," Hill said to the council. "You haven't got any guts. You ought to be impeached."

When Sims said he didn't appreciate the remarks, Hill said: "What are you going to do about it?" Hill later left the meeting.

The council, acting on demands of civil rights proponents appointed a committee several months ago to study race relations. The committee recommended a permanent agency to resolve racial disagreements, but made no recommendation on a proposed anti-discrimination ordinance.

The council voted 4-1 March 19 to adopt a policy statement opposing racial discrimination but declined to act on the committee's proposal for a permanent human relations commission.

Europeans Praise NTS Singing Group

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—The North Texas State University choir continues to draw much praise as it nears the end of its European tour.

The group was to appear today in Iceland's second largest town, Akureyri.

About 700 persons attended the choir's initial appearance in the country Sunday at Reykjavik. Choir singing has always been extremely popular in Iceland.

The U. S. State Department sponsored the trip, which ends Sunday with a concert at the U. S. Naval Station at Keflavik.

Tuesday the choir performed on Iceland's West coast, at Isafjoerdur, and Thursday was to be in southern Iceland at Akranes.

DRYDOCKED FOR FACELIFTING—The N. S. Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, is shown in drydock at Galveston, Tex., where she will undergo a week-long facelifting to strip barnacles from the hull. The encrustments have caused the ship to slow from maximum speed. The vessel will start on a tour in May that will take her to New Orleans, Baltimore, New York, Boston, Germany and England. Forage Testing Available Locally

Forage testing pays big dividends. Texas cattlemen now have such a service available to them through the local Extension Service Office, according to county agent Billy Roach. The Texas A&M University Forage Testing Service operation has just been initiated, says Roach.

Beef cattle producers, feeders and dairymen can take advantage of the new service — and they should. Research shows there are vast differences in the nutritive value and quality of forages used in feeding programs throughout the state. A ration cannot be properly balanced when the nutritive value of a forage is not known. If the forage is not properly utilized and supplemented according to its feeding value, this will be quickly reflected in beef and milk production — an ultimate profits.

The Texas A&M Forage Testing Service is available to anyone who desires to have dry forage or silage tested. Tests cannot be made of other types of feed such as grain or concentrates.

Tests will be made for protein content only if the producer prefers. Protein test charges are $2 per hay sample and $3 per silage sample. When more complete information is desired, the charge is $6 for each hay and pelleted or wafered forage sample. Each silage sample analysis will cost $7. The more complete analysis will consist of determining crude protein and crude fiber, calculation of digestible protein, total digestible nutrients and net energy. Moisture in silage will also be determined.

As an added benefit — with the more complete analysis — balanced feeding program suggestions will be given those requesting it. Suggested feeding programs will be offered for three types of operations — for beef breeding cattle, fattening beef cattle and dairy cattle feeding.

As with the present Extension Soil Testing Service; all forms, mailing bags, instructions and other information are available from the county agents office.

Asks Federal Aid Against Screwworms

AUSTIN (AP) — A federally financed, $5.5 million program to prevent re-infestation of southwestern livestock with screwworms from Mexico has been asked by Gov. John Connally.

The governor requested the program in a letter Tuesday to U. S. Reps. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo, and Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss, and the House Appropriations Subcommittee for Agriculture.

Connally said the eradication of screwworms in the southwest is now complete "and the feasibility of a barrier along the Mexican border to prevent re-infestation of the areas of the United States free of screwworks has been proven."

He asked elimination of the requirement set up in 1961 for matching of federal funds by states in the screwworm eradication program.

Connally said Texas would continue to provide surveys, inspections, and other assistance, "but it would be most difficult to spend a great amount of state funds in Mexico, where the problem now lies, to protect a great area of the United States."

The original $12 million eradication drive was aimed at ridding the southwestern states of screwworms that caused livestock destruction estimated at $100 million annually.

D. D. HARDEE

Snyderite Earns Ph.D. At Cornell

D. D. Hardee, son of Mrs. R. A. Hardee of 3214 Avenue U, was recently awarded his Ph.D. in Entomology from Cornell University in Ithaca, New York.

Hardee, a 1956 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1960 graduate of Texas Tech, received his Master of Science degree from Cornell in 1962. His graduate research at Cornell was concerned with insecticide residues on forage crops and in milk, and with the biology, ecology, and control of forage grasses and legumes. While at Cornell, Dr. Harde was Chairman of JUGATAE, the Eptomological Club of Cornell, and was elected into Sigma Xi, the Society devoted to the advancement of research in the physical and biological sciences. He is the author or co-author of 14 scientific publications and has spoken at scientific meetings in Ithaca, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and St. Louis.

While in Ithaca, Dr. Hardee and his wife, the former Patricia Ann Gage, a 1958 graduate of Snyder High School, were managers of Fairview Manor, one of the largest apartment buildings in Ithaca. In addition, Mrs. Hardee was bookkeeper and receptionist for the concern. The Hardee's have one son, Steve, age 4.

Following a brief visit with friends and relatives, Dr. Hardee and his family will travel to Starkville, Mississippi where he has accepted a position at the U. S. Department of Agriculture Boll Weevil Research Laboratory. This laboratory, which was finished in 1962 at a cost of over a million dollars, is the only one in the world devoted to the study of a single insect, in this case the destructive cotton boll weevil.

Sheriff Charged With Embezzlement

GLEN ROSE (AP) — Embezzlement charges were filed against Paul Bone Tuesday after a court order was issued suspending him as sheriff and tax collector of Somervell County.

County Commissioner Cecil Parker was appointed interim sheriff after Dist. Judge Penn Jackson entered the order temporarily suspending Bone from office.

The action came after the commissioners court was told by an auditor that a shortage of $22,790 exists in Bone's accounts. At least a part of the shortage had existed since 1962, the auditor said.

Seabees Prove No Match For Midway Gooney Birds

By MALCOLM BARR

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—Midway Island's gooney birds have taken to jay-walking since the Seabees bounced them out of their nests.

The comical gooneys on the mid-Pacific atoll—whose ranks were thinned by a recent extermination program—now are sending out scouts to oversee paving operations aimed to keep them off Navy runways.

The scouts, crossing in front of or marching slowly ahead of heavy Seabee equipment, are keeping Navy men hopping. Sailors are detailed to walk ahead of graders, tractors and heavy shovels. Their job is to pick up the waddling gooneys and carry them out of harm's way.

For years, a colony of about 250,000 gooneys—the Blackfoot or Layson albatross—have held squatter's rights on Midway. Their habit of building nests beside Navy runways and of cruising gracefully in take-off and landing patterns caused thousands of dollars damage to planes when they collided with the large birds. The Navy also became concerned about the danger to airmen.

Earlier this year, after years of study by scientists and biologists, the Navy initiated a two-pronged program to get the gooneys out of their hair.

They gassed and killed 20,000 birds in nests beside the runways, then began hardtopping the area so other gooneys could not take their place.

The project won the blessing of Audubon Society officials.

The plan has gone well, although the curious gooneys that insist on walking in front of equipment have slowed the job slightly.

Navy men are hopeful, however, that they've at last found a way of keeping their runways and aircraft approaches clear.

When the Seabees finish the paving—and if the gooneys run true to form—birds returning to their original nesting ground will be unable to build nests. These normally consist of loose sand and ironwood needles, no longer available on the hard-topped surface.

Thus, the Navy is crossing its collective fingers that it finally has conquered the lovable gooneys, some of which are household pets among the 3,000 servicemen and their families on lonely Midway.

But knowing the gooney as the Navy knows the gooney, those responsible for the current project aren't yet counting their—er—chickens.

Blind Girl's Composition Is Played

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "I think I've got the jitters," Peggy Smith whispered to her parents as they sat in the darkened Phoenix Star Theater Tuesday.

It was just before Guy Taylor, conductor of the Phoenix Symphony, rapped his baton on the stand and announced to hundreds of Phoenix school children the symphony would play a composition by Miss Peggy Smith, a 6th grader.

Peggy leaned forward, straining toward the first sounds of "Peaceful Forest."

"Incredible," someone whispered. "Did you know that child puts the entire thing together in her little blonde head before it is transcribed to music?"

"Yes," another voice whispered. "I understand her mother or her teacher, that Dr. Jean London over there—they write it down for her on papyr."

Peggy smiled as bright as the sun she will never see. She is blind.

Man's Title Unsuitable

MAIDSTONE, England (AP) — Richard Hulbert has been appointed assistant matron at Maidstone's Oakwood Hospital.

Michael Curtiss is Oakwood's new night sister, as British hospitals call their head ward nurses.

"I'm not really upset about being called matron, said Hulbert. "But I suppose I could be called something more suitable."

"People find it a bit hard to explain that a man is a sister," said Arthur Akers, general secretary of the Health Service Union, "but it really isn't easy to think of anything new."

Akers said most British hospitals give their nurses badges showing their rank.

"We've now reached the stage," he said, "where they need badges to say whether they're men or women."

Especially in Oakwood. It's a women's hospital.

Hidalgo Ballots Are Impounded

EDINBURG (AP) — All ballots, equipment and supplies used in Tuesday's city election at Hidalgo were ordered impounded Tuesday by Dist. Judge Mangus Smith of Edinburg.

Judge Smith said he issued the order at the request of Allyn Zollicoffer, assistant Hidalgo County district attorney.

The petition was based on an affidavit signed by two Hidalgo residents who said they expected irregularities to occur in the election.

Eleven candidates were seeking five seats on the city council. The mayor, Ed G. Vela, was unopposed.

Mexican Oil Sees Need For Capital

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican oil industry will need new capital investments of at least $160 million yearly to keep its present expansion plans, the general director of the government-operated oil monopoly of Mexico, "Pemex," said Tuesday.

Speaking after his weekly meeting with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, director Pascual Gutierrez Roldan said special emphasis is being set on new petrochemical plants. Mexico needs at least twice as many as it now has.

Private and official investment sectors should enter mutual agreements to develop Mexico's oil industry needs, he said.

During the next ten years our oil needs will double and we should be adequately prepared to meet them," he said.

Barbara Hutton Takes 7th Mate

By JACK RUTLEDGE

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP) — Barbara Hutton is a bride for the seventh time and a princess for the third. She married Vietnamese-French Prince Doan Vinh Tuesday night.

The 51-year-old Woolworth heiress wore a green Southeast Asian gown with gold trimmings and had her feet painted red in deference to her bridegroom, a tall, 48-year-old chemist and artist.

About 30 guests were invited to the twilight ceremony at Miss Hutton's $3-million, Oriental-style home at nearby Jiutepec, an Indian village about 60 miles south of Mexico City.

The bride's son, Lmance Reventlow, 27, came from California for the wedding.

Mayor Felipe Castrejon of Jiutepec conducted the civil rites.

The only news photographer allowed inside the estate said the blue-eyed millionairess, who was known in childhood as the poor little rich girl, looked "lovely and young." She has been plagued by ill health in recent years.

The couple reportedly plans to leave next week for a honeymoon in Honolulu, where Miss Hutton has another mansion.

Doan, a lean, athletic-looking man, said he had been married and divorced once but gave no details. Miss Hutton was divorced from husband No. 6, german-born Gottfried von Cramm, in 1960.

The bridegroom's mother was French and his father a Vietnamese viceroy in what was French Indochina. He said his title of prince came through adoption into the family of former Laotian Premier Prince Boun Oum Na Champassak.

A Buddhist, he said his bride "is very favorable to this religion."

Doan said he met Miss Hutton at an exhibition of his paintings two years ago in Tangier, Morocco. Miss Hutton has a villa there also.

Miss Hutton has never wed an American in her seven marriages spread over 31 years. Her other six marriages all ended in divorce.

She was 20 when she married her first husband, Russian Prince Alexis Mdivani, in Paris on June 20, 1933, a few months before she inherited $20 million of the five-and-dime fortune left by her grandfather, F. W. Woolworth.

Her other husbands were Danish Count Kurt Haugwitz-Reventlow, British actor Cary Grant, Lithuanian Prince Igor Troubetzkoy, Dominican playboy Porfirio Rubirosa, and Von Cramm, the tennis star.

Miss Hutton's longest marriage—six years—was to Count Haugwitz-Reventlow, the father of her son. The briefest was 73 days to Rubirosa.

Jewelry Stolen From Tobacco Heir

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jewelry valued at $100,000 was stolen Tuesday from the apartment of tobacco heir Richard J. (Josh) Reynolds, whose Doberman Pinscher watchdog was in a hospital for a tonsillectomy.

The daylight burglary occurred at the exclusive Racquet Club where gunmen slugged actress Eva Gabor and robbed her of $25,000 in diamonds three months ago.

Reynolds and his wife discovered the burglary when they returned home about 6 p.m. Reynolds said only two pieces, valued at about $15,000, were insured.
