BUSINESS NEEDS NEW CAPITAL

Europe Again Faces Crisis In Warfare

Great Britain Sends Out Four Destroyers To Hunt Sub As Result Of Attack On Ship

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—Eight hundred representatives of the nation's small business men, gathering tomorrow to formulate suggestions for President Roosevelt, will report that their most urgent need is a source of new capital.

Spain's civil war again extended to Mediterranean sea lanes, reviving the danger-laden problem of confining the conflict to Spain. A British merchantman, torpedoed, went down with the loss of eleven lives. The Spanish government blamed insurgents for the sinking.

Locked In Battle

In the Orient Japanese and Chinese armies battled for the corridor separating the areas Japan has conquered in nearly seven months of undeclared warfare.

Force became an issue even in councils of peace.

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's foreign commissar, warned the League of Nations that "without coercive measures" it "cannot retain its being.

His reference was to action by representatives of small nations yesterday against obligatory sanctions.

Destroyers Hunt Sub

Great Britain rushed four destroyers armed with depth charges to find the submarine which sank the 887-ton Endymion off Spain's southeast coast Sunday.

Under the Nyon "anti-piracy" accord of September, 1937, which prescribed that any such submarines be "counter attacked and if possible destroyed," European powers had curbed an outbreak of submarine attacks on the Mediterranean last summer.

Conflicting Chinese and Japanese reports of the battle along the

Accidents Cost Nation 106,000 Lives In '37

All-Time Record Of 39,700 Deaths Set For Traffic Field

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 1—Accidental deaths cost the nation 106,000 lives in 1937, the National Safety Council computed today, including an annual all-time high of 39,700 in the traffic field.

The permanently injured were estimated at 375,000, temporarily injured at 9,400,000.

Huge Bill Run Up

This "gruesome jamboree of carelessness," the council said, ran up a bill of $3,700,000,000.

It was broken down into $2,550,000,000 in wage loss and medical expense, $870,000,000 for property damage in traffic accidents and $285,000,000 property loss in fires.

Despite a 4 per cent drop from 1936 in total deaths, the toll was higher than for any preceding year. Council statisticians attributed the decrease largely to a mild summer which reduced heat deaths by approximately 4,500.

Encouraging Phase

An "encouraging phase" was a sharp decline in the child accident death rate. It plunged 13 per cent for children under 15, from 16,200 deaths in 1936 to 15,000. Adult accidental deaths decreased 3 per cent.

Major disasters had little effect on the grand totals. Notable, however, were the schoolhouse explosion in New London, Tex., in March, which claimed 294 lives, and the Hindenburg dirigible explosion, in which 35 passengers were lost.

"Accidental deaths," the council said, "occur mostly in ones and twos."

Traffic Deaths Increase

Traffic deaths increased by 1,600, or 4 per cent, over the council's 1936 figure but it was explained in part by a 9 per cent increase in motor travel.

On a mileage basis, the motor vehicle death rate declined from 16.6 deaths per 100,000,000 miles in 1936 to 15.9. Total reduction since 1925 was estimated at 20 per cent.

The 1937 traffic death rate per 100,000 population was 30.7 compared with 29.7. The rate was 62 per cent higher than 1925 and 30 per cent higher than 1933.

Traffic accident costs to the nation were estimated at $1,740,000,000—fairly evenly divided between property damage on one hand and wage

Uncle Sam Tuning His Fighting Forces For Action Over Entire Pacific Front

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1. — The United States deployed units of its fighting forces over a wide area of the Pacific front today and moved toward strengthening its vital Hawaiian defenses with more men and bombing planes.

The activity touched units as widely separated as Alaska, southern California and China and involved all three defense arms, the army, navy and marine corps.

Ninety-eight warships and 260 fighting planes launched five days of intensive war games off southern California in the fleet's initial test by its new commander-in-chief, Admiral Claude C. Bloch.

Five planes of the naval bombing squadron VP-16 were at Sitka, Alaska after a 1,000-mile flight from Seattle via Prince Rupert, B. C. Naval authorities described the flight, during which a sixth plane was lost in a forced landing off Goose Island, B. C., as a "routine maneuver." Five men aboard the wrecked plane were rescued.

Fifteen hundred marines stationed in Shanghai were under transfer orders to Hawaii, defenses of which will be augmented by the addition of 13 big army bombing planes from Hamilton field, Calif. The marines will be transferred this month. The 30 officers and 180 men making up the army bombardment squadron sail today from San Francisco for Honolulu.

The fleet armada moved out to sea at dawn in the longest sortie ever held from Los Angeles harbor. Under sealed orders, the warships will engage in various tactical exercises aimed at defending the harbor from an attacking fleet. Problems of search and tracking will be worked out with the fleet split into theoretical attacking and defending units.

Naval department officials, in announcing the transfer of marines did not disclose whether the force would permanently augment the Pearl Harbor garrison.

Eight Hundred Delegates To Offer Plans

Unemployment Is Ranked As Second Vital Question To Be Discussed In Parley

(By The Associated Press)

Warfare, continuing on the widely separated battlefields of Spain and China, spread to the seas and today confronted Europe with a new crisis.

Earnest G. Draper, assistant secretary of commerce, said today that topic was the theme of hundreds of letters sent to administration officials from all over the country.

Problem Not Solved

The best banking brains in the government, Secretary Morgenthau commented, have been studying the question for years but have not solved it.

The small business men put unemployment as the second most vital question they will discuss in an open meeting at the commerce department before sending a delegation to the White House.

Unemployment, however, headed the discussion list of a group of United Automobile Workers' officials calling on Mr. Roosevelt today.

To Present Ideas

Homer Martin, president of the auto union; Richard T. Franensteen, vice president, and William Munger, research director; came here to give the president their ideas on how to regularize employment in auto plants and assure a larger annual income for the workers.

The meeting with small business men is the last in this group which has been announced. Besides the need for new capital, they are expected to consider;

Fair trade practices, prices and monopolies; social security, government research, wages and hours, housing, installment selling, and development and location of small industries.

Legislation Is Favored

"Strange as it may seem," Draper said, "most of the letters say they favor wage and hour legislation, although some people say such legislation would hurt small business men."

To assist in the discussion of the loan question, the commerce department asked Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation to be present.

The RFC has loaned about $180,000,000 to industry in the three years it has had such authority. The 12 federal reserve banks added $150,000,000 more.

Those skeptical of the idea of new

APPROPRIATION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—United Automobile Workers officials urged President Roosevelt today to recommend an immediate federal appropriation of $130,000,000 to provide employment and direct relief for unemployed automobile workers and their families in Michigan.

Hot Political Fight Brews In Kentucky

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky accepted today the challenge of Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic floor leader, to a political battle.

"If I read the signs aright," Chandler said, "the people of Kentucky will retire Barkley at the next election.

Strong Opposition

"He is going to have an opponent—strong opposition — in the campaign," added the governor, who said he would not announce until his return home whether he himself would seek the senatorial nomination.

The public break between the governor and Barkley, President Roosevelt's lieutenant in the senate, created a stir from the White House to Capitol Hill.

Chandler called on Mr. Roosevelt yesterday. Later two anti-Chandler Kentuckians, John Young Brown and Thomas S. Rhea, visited the White House. When they left, they declared the president had left no doubt that he favored Barkley's re-election.

Statement Is Issued

Then Barkley issued a formal statement saying:

"For months I have been threatened from Frankfort (capital of Kentucky) with opposition in my race for re-elec-

Senate Revolt Is Threat To Housing Bill

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Democratic leaders in the senate worked anxiously behind the scenes today to quell a bi-partisan revolt which threatened indefinite delay in enacting the administration housing bill.

Senator Lodge (R.-Mass.) gained such strong support for his proposal to return the measure to a conference committee that administration lieutenants staved off a vote in order to round up their forces.

Wants Prevailing Wages

Lodge was trying to reinstate a requirement that prevailing wages be paid on all home building projects financed by government-insured mortgages. This provision was in the bill approved by the senate in December, but a conference committee reconciling that measure with the house bill knocked it out.

The housing legislation is intended to encourage private investment in small home construction by permitting the owner to put up in cash only 10 per cent of the cost. A government-insured mortgage would cover the remainder.

Long Dispute Feared

If the measure should go back to the conference committee, there might be a long dispute, for the house approved the committee's action in eliminating the Lodge amendment.

Feeling engendered by the senate battle over the anti-lynching bill, temporarily sidetracked, added bitterness to the new Democratic split. A number of southern senators were resentful over the fight waged for the anti-lynching measure by Senator Wagner (D.-N.Y.), author of the

Students Like Their Music To Be Hot; Sit-Down Strike Is Staged On Stately Waltzes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—Students at Roosevelt High school like their music hot.

When the orchestra at a school dance limited its selections last night to stately waltzes—by faculty orders—200 guests sat down on the dance floor.

Fifteen minutes later the chaperons capitulated, and a lively swing tune ended the "strike."

Cash Needs Of Navy Causing House Debate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Some members of the house naval committee, questioning ranking naval officers, expressed doubts today that American foreign policy requires an $800,000,000 fleet expansion.

Rep. Maas (R.-Minn.), ranking minority member of the committee, and Rep. Kniffin (D.-Ohio) were especially critical of some aspects of the 20 per cent increase recommended by President Roosevelt.

Where Is The Danger?

"In what way is our national policy endangered and by whom?" Maas repeatedly asked Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations. Leahy testified at hearings on a bill to authorize construction of 47 additional warships and 22 auxiliaries.

Kniffin told the committee he was opposed to using the fleet as "a police force" or as "a subsidiary for some organization that wants to exploit people on the other side of the globe."

Leahy replied that the proposed building program contained nothing that would permit of "aggressive action, of policing the world, or of projecting an attack against the territory of any other naval power."

Senator Johnson (R.-Calif.) raised the foreign policy question in

Special Plans For Corn Are Drafted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. — Corn is receiving special treatment under the proposed "ever-normal granary" program, congressional farm leaders said today, because "most of it is marketed on the hoof."

These leaders estimated 85 to 90 per cent of the corn crop is fed to livestock. Consequently attempts to set up federal controls, with penalties on excess production for marketing on a bushel basis, presented a peculiar problem.

Difficulty Is Not

Senator Pope (D-Idaho), a member of the committee drafting the crop control legislation, said this difficulty was met by a "storage approach" and specific loan values regulated by indicated supplies.

Thus, Pope explained, when a corn surplus is indicated and corn growers vote marketing quotas, the secretary of agriculture can require all farmers to store a certain per cent of their crop.

If corn supplies were 20 per cent above indicated needs, for example, the secretary could require all farmers growing corn to store 20 per cent of their crop.

Would Face Penalty

If they failed to do this, they would face a penalty of 15 cents a bushel on corn not under seal.

Because it obviously would be impossible for the government to collect the bushel penalty from corn fed to livestock that was marketed, Pope said, the storage system was devised.

Quotas on the other crops in the program — wheat, cotton, rice and tobacco—were put on a basis of what could be marketed.

Prisoners To Be Returned

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Feb. 1 — Federal officers left today for Fort Worth with a man and a woman arrested here for questioning in the disappearance of approximately $29,000 from a railway mail car.

Judge E. Marvin Underwood signed a court order yesterday for their removal from the county jail here.

Examination Waived

They waived examination before U. S. Commissioner E. S. Griffith, who said they gave the names of Sidney Miller, 30, and Helen Miller, 23. They were arrested at the Atlanta airport a few minutes before a plane was due to leave for Texas. Postoffice inspectors said they had $4,300 in their possession.

They denied any connection with the disappearance of money-laden mail pouches between Dallas and O'Donnell, Tex., early last November. Four other Texans are under federal charges in the case.

C. W. B. Long, postal inspector for the Fort Worth division, came to Atlanta to return the couple to Texas.

Increase In Consumption Said To Be The Key To Recovery

KEENE, N. H., Feb. 1. (AP)—Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, thinks increased consumption is the key to business recovery.

CIO Drive Halted By Vigilant Cops

(By The Associated Press)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 1 — The Committee for Industrial Organization quickly halted a new unionization drive in the bailiwick of Mayor Frank Hague today after vigilant police had stopped four organizers seeking to distribute CIO circulars to workers.

None of the quartet was arrested but all were ordered to "get hopping" by plainclothesmen who also took away their pro-union pamphlets.

Campaign Called Off

Their activity interrupted, Sam Macri, CIO official, called off the unannounced campaign less than an hour after it began. No announcement of future plans was made.

One man at a time was dispatched from the union's headquarters to the American Home Products company, cosmetic manufacturers, about two blocks away.

Circulars Are Seized

The first, Al Barkan, textile workers organizing committee organizer, was quickly halted by two plainclothes officers of police department. His circulars were taken from him and he was told to "get hopping."

The second, Robert Oliver, aluminum workers organizer, received the same treatment.

Macri, said others would be sent to the scene, one at a time at 10-minute intervals.

Big Fees Paid To McDonald

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 1.—A senate committee investigating Land Commissioner William H. McDonald brought out today that he received $6,400 in fees during the approximately four and one-half months between his nomination and inauguration in 1936.

McDonald said he was given two fees of $2,500 each for a trip to California in behalf of the Texas receiver of the Great Republic Life Insurance company and $1,400 for four months' work as appraiser for the receiver of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company.

Received $500 Per Day

He told the committee that in the Great Republic matter he was asked to go to California in an attempt to straighten out serious difficulties between California officials and officials of the Texas receivership. One fee was allowed by District Judge W. F. Robertson of Austin and the other by the Texas receiver, he testified.

McDonald said he was able to straighten out everything in ten days although he had to do "a lot of arguing during that time." He agreed with questioners the fees amounted to $500 a day for the time he had to spend in California.

Strange Tale Related At Bar Of Justice; Man Jailed Here On Indictment Is Game Warden

Sam Belyeu, 42, tall and honest-looking, stood before Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court this morning.

Sam had said he wanted to plead guilty of a grand jury indictment voted here in 1936, charging him with theft of a trailer from Xen Brown.

"I'm through with lawlessness; I'd like to pay my debt."

Judge Pitts assessed a term of two years in the penitentiary.

Stanton, also holding a grand Jury indictment naming him, is expected to demand his transfer there, said court attaches.

Entering pleas before the bar of justice was not new to him. Twice he had gone to the penitentiary, the last time for forgery-burglary from Hale and Crosby counties, he said, and the first time for forgery, from Brownwood.

Sam represents an anomaly frankly problematic to enforcement authorities. The last two years, for instance, when a fugitive from the law he calmly, and under his own name, was a game warden on San Jose island, just off the coast near Rockport.

Authorities said he had stolen "everything he could get his hands on," charges including tractor parts from the then sheriff of Crosby county, Elmer Reed, now federal probation officer here; fencing from a county commissioner of that county; a cow from Wayland college at Plainview, and 55

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT, if you are cross, lifeless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls.

Youth Organization Of Church Will Refuse Aid In Event Of War

FDR's Policy Being Flayed

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP) — The executive committee of the national council of Methodist youth asserted today it would not support the government in a far eastern war.

The executive body, headed by Thomas Pendell, Los Angeles, who made a letter to President Roosevelt public, said:

"We express the opinion of the national council of Methodist youth through this committee, Mr. President, when we say: If you lead us into war in the far east, we will not support your administration in that war."

Policy Is Protested

The group protested "the provisional 24 hour foreign policy of your administration; particularly in the state department."

"Our further indictment against you, Mr. President," they wrote, "includes your recently announced naval expansion program. . . . We condemn, as two steps in the militarization of America, your program for the increase of the navy by 20 per cent, and the further extension of the army."

The committee protested to the president also "the manner in which you defeated the Ludlow war referendum measure in congress."

The youth council consists of 150 members, elected from the 86 conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, and represents all of the youth of the denomination.

Revival Being Planned Here

Methodist pastors and lay leaders, inspired by a well-attended Aldersgate Institute at First Methodist church Monday, today were shaping plans in the 29 churches of the Lubbock district, for a district-wide revival. Approximately 200 men and women attended the institute.

Meantime, Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of the First church; Rev. C. A. Bickley, Abilene presiding elder; Rev. W. E. Hamilton, Northwest Texas conference Christian education secretary and Rev. C. L. Smith, a missionary from Brazil, left early today for Colorado. They were to assist in a similar institute there for the Sweetwater district.

Others To Be Held

Wednesday they hold another for the Abilene district at Anson, Jones county and Thursday at Stamford for that district. They will make a total of nine, one for every district of Northwest Texas conference.

Every pastor of the district was present yesterday, said Dr. O. P. Clark, presiding elder, who was in charge. Besides 15 scheduled talks made by 14 men and women, a number of others talked. Only one speaker was unable to fill his engagement, Rev. Tom W. Brabham, Abilene, president of McMurry college. Mrs. C. R. Matthews took the place of Mrs. J. D. Peters on the afternoon program.

At the close of the meeting a resolution suggesting that the Friday before the first Sunday in each month, for the next six months, be set aside as a day of fasting and prayer, was unanimously adopted.

Presiding Elder O. P. Clark announced a one-day district conference, tentatively set for April 21 in the Tahoka First church. It will open with a preaching service at 9 o'clock, followed by roll call.

Laymen will work towards a plan for each rural pastor to receive not less than $1,000 a year salary. Lubbock district leads Northwest conference in number of churches contributing to McMurry college, Abilene.

Topics Are Discussed

R. T. Breedlove, Brownfield pastor, presented the church study book, "Out of Aldersgate." Rev. T. C. Willett, Lamesa, gave a symposium of the plan; Rev. A. W. Gordon, Crosbyton discussed "Aldersgate Cultivation pastors and membership." Four phases were discussed of Aldergate, the laymen's side by Joseph R. Griggs, district lay leader; the women's side by Mrs. Matthews; the church school's side by Dr. A. W. Evans, Texas Technological college; the pastor's side by Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, Ralls; Rev. W. E. Peterson, Lubbock Asbury church, spoke on the personal worker and the revival; Rev. J. W. Hendrix, Levelland, the conservation and Reverend Breedlove, the missionary cultivation and the benevolence.

Lunch was served at noon by ladies of the church.

Missionary Speaks

In the morning Rev. C. L. Smith, for 33 years a missionary to Brazil, spoke on the mission field and its relation to the Aldersgate commemoration. He is head of the Methodist publication work at San Palo, Brazil, the concern turning out some 20,000,000 pages of Christian literature annually for the church and for all but two of the evangelican churches working in that country.

Rev. W. E. Hamilton, conference Christian Education secretary, spoke on making the congregation "Aldersgate Conscious." He also talked on literature for churches to forward the celebration.

HE SELLS TOBACCO TO THEM ALL

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies...

"AT AUCTIONS in my warehouse in Farmville, North Carolina," says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "Lucky Strike buyers know what tobacco they want and they'll keep bidding right up until they get it.

"Well—in a cigarette—it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for over five years now."

Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

HAVE YOU HEARD "THE CHANT OF THE TOBACCO AUCTIONEER" ON THE RADIO? When you do, remember that Luckies use the finest tobacco. And also that the "Toasting" Process removes certain harsh irritants found in all tobacco. So Luckies are kind to your throat.

Fame And Fortune Are Awaiting Right Young Man In Fight Game

Mike Jacobs Looking For Heavyweight

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—"Wanted: Young man between 19 and 24. Must be strong, fearless and over 190 pounds. Killer instinct appreciated but not necessary. Apply Mike Jacobs, 20th Century Sporting club, New York."

Don't be nonplussed, as they say on Jacobs' beach, if Czar Mike starts a string of advertisements in that tone. His heavyweights, the pay ore in the prize-fight business, are running low. Unless Mike can pop up with an able and willing young man, the class is headed for the doldrums.

Could Earn Big Dough

The young man who is to save the business apparently isn't fighting now. But if he drops his plow, packing case or pickaxe and comes a runnin' he can earn himself a tremendous wad and the lasting affection of Uncle Mike and the rest of the industry.

Mike might add to his ad that the novice will get a strict examination. No comedians need apply. Likewise the market is glutted with second Louises, Dempseys and Tunneys. What the class needs is a first Joe Smith, some hardy young fellow who can punch, box and take it in a manner entirely his own.

On the surface Jacobs isn't worried. As for instance, his comment on the retirement of Jim Braddock:

Plenty Of Others

"What of it? We got plenty of other heavyweights."

Jacobs might be accused of a slight exaggeration. He has Joe Louis, the champion, Max Schmeling, the ever verdant challenger, Tommy Farr and a host of fellows named legion. Also Tony Galento. But no one wants to fight Tony. He is too rough.

Louis has proved he is not the combination of nasty-tempered tiger and sly fox he was first acclaimed. He has in fact slipped so far from his rating in the bright spring of 1936 that the boys are underrating him. The shuffler is the hardest and fastest puncher in his class, but he cannot take a punch and he is no whirlwind against an unorthodox fighter.

Schmeling is preparing for his meeting with Joe sometime this summer, somewhere in the United States. The Uhlan apparently has been unhorsed in the last six months. He couldn't flatten Ben Foord in Hamburg Sunday and Foord has lost to such worthies as the elder Baer and Maurice Strickland.

He's Still No. 1

However, on the strength of his K. O. win over Louis in 1936, Max is still the No. 1 challenger. But he is 33.

There is a large gap between the shuffler and Max and the rest of the pachyderms. The class is back where it was before Louis started to hammer out a career. They're even talking about reintroducing Max Baer to the customers.

If there's a potential great heavyweight in the crowd—boy, front and center.

Patrons Demand That Coach Be Reinstated In School

DOTHAN, Ala., Feb. 1 (AP)—Dan Cupid held the upper hand today as Houston county's board of education considered a demand from patrons of Rehobeth consolidated school that Hugh A. Wynn be reinstated as teacher-coach. Wynn was dismissed reportedly because of "dates" with girl students.

Solomon Baxter, Houston county superintendent of education, and Principal B. L. Ward, of Rehobeth, had not commented on the demand. "Out of the city," was the report given at their homes.

Principals in the controversy — Wynn and his fiance, pretty brunette Mary Grubbs, 18-year-old Rehobeth senior — awaited developments. He claimed she was the only student he had "dated," and that school authorities knew of their engagement.

Don Budge Declares He Will Consider Pro Tennis Offers

ADELAIDE, Australia, Feb. 1 (AP)—Don Budge, red-headed hero of America's Davis cup victory over whose intentions rumors of professionalism have swirled, disclosed today he would give serious consideration to pro tennis offers when he returns home.

"I can't live forever on Wimbledon and Davis cup victories," Budge declared.

Westerners Hoping To Strike Back After Six Losses In Seven Starts; Tackle Plainview

The "comeback trail" has been nominated by the Lubbock Westerners as the route to follow tonight when they clash with the Plainview Bulldogs in another Big Five league contest. Weary but not broken over their record of six losses in their last seven starts, the Westerners hope to strike back on their home court tonight.

There'll be two games at the Lubbock senior high school gymnasium tonight, one starting at 7 o'clock between the "B" clubs of Lubbock and Plainview, the main event beginning approximately at 8 o'clock.

Ford Back At Center

Coach Goober Keyes said last night that indications were brighter for a Westerner victory tonight than they have been in the last four games due to the return to service of the lanky Henry P. Ford, regular center who has been ill. Ford, the team's high scorer in last year's pennant victory race, is expected to prove "the difference" between a Lubbock team which has looked lost and sluggish during the recent games, and a real threat to any team in the District 1 race.

Plainview defeated the Westerners here last week, and made it two in a row by taking Coach Keyes' men by a close score at Plainview the following night. From there the Westerners went to Amarillo to divide a league series.

"I believe the boys will be boiling mad from now on and try to get back some of their lost prestige," Coach Keyes said. "Plainview is favored to take us, but it's pretty sure to be a battle."

Coach Keyes said he probably would start L. D. Venable and Bob Allen at forwards, Ford at Center, Harold Parsons and Dutchy Cawthon at guards against the Bulldog regulars tonight.

In the first game, Moxley and Foster will start at forwards, Fertsch at center, Day and Hill at guards.

"We haven't much right to ask the fans to come out and see us, having lost so many," opined Coach Keyes, "but we'd sure like to play before a good home crowd. The bigger the crowd, the better the boys might play."

As an added attraction tonight, Boxing Coach Ross Ayers will present two of his favorite sluggers, "Izzy" Leva, and Howard "Pea Patch" Alford in a three-round set-to between halves of the final game.

He Pours 'Em In But Can't See 'Em Fall

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1 (AP)—One of the best shots on the basketball team — yet when he shoots he's so near-sighted he can hardly tell whether the ball goes through.

That's the strange case of Gerry Seeders which came to light today at the University of Pennsylvania.

"The rest of the fellows wonder how I do it," said Seeders, a sophomore. "But it's all luck. When I get set for a shot, all I can see is a black blur where the string should be so I let fly."

To date, Seeders has scored 41 points, 23 of them against such tough opposition as Syracuse and Dartmouth.

Women Stars Launch Play In Florida

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP)—Leading women golfers on the Florida winter circuit entered match play in the Miami Biltmore women's tournament today.

Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, last year's winner, shared medal honors with Mrs. Jane Cothran Jameson of West Palm Beach and Marion Miley, registered from Fort Pierce, Fla., in yesterday's qualifying round, each scoring a 78, two under par.

Miss Berg drew as an opening day opponent Freeda Nolan, of New Castle, Pa., who required 97 to qualify.

Mrs. Jameson drew Mrs. Leo Walper of Washington, who qualified with a 98, and Miss Miley faced another 98-stroke qualifier, Blanche Fitzgibbon, of New York.

Three strokes behind the leaders in the qualifying round were Jean Bauer, of Providence, R. I., and Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S. C.

They started match play with Mrs. Harvey Mack, Easton, Pa., and Gladys Durand, East Williston, L. I., as opponents.

State commissioners of the national semi-pro baseball congress made that decision yesterday and on March 1 will announce details on the playing of state, regional and district tournaments.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1. (AP)—General Manager Warren C. Gilles said last night George Watkins, formerly with the St. Louis Cardinals, had turned down an offer to become coach of the Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds' management previously had announced completion of negotiations for the former National league outfielder who played last year with Houston of the Texas league.

Shreveport Baseball Fans Get Chance To Purchase Stock

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 1. (AP)—Shreveport baseball fans will be given an opportunity tonight to purchase stock in the company being formed to take over the Galveston franchise of the Texas league.

Henry A. O'Neal, president of the chamber of commerce, has called a mass meeting and says that stock will be offered to the general public at $10 per share.

Reds Delaying Publication Of Spring Roster In The Hopes Of Pulling Off A Big Deal

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — The Reds have delayed publication of their spring roster in the hope of pulling off a big deal any day now. . . . Giants are said to be involved, with Gus Mancuso changing uniforms with Ernie Lombardi, among others.

Two young fellows who are going places in baseball are Oliver French of the Cardinal organization and Ray Kennedy, first lieutenant to George Weiss at Newark . . . Both these lads have plenty on the ball and their employers realize it. . . . Branch Rickey will be in personal charge of the baseball school the Cardinals will operate at Winter Haven, Fla., beginning Feb. 21. . . . Mebbe it was just a coincidence the Cards decided to hold their school for beginners in the town where the Phillies hold forth.

Ed Wallnau, of the Hotel Picadilly, official host to the West Pointers when they come to New York, has just been presented the football they used in last fall's Army-Notre Dame game. . . . It bears the signature of every member of the army team. . . .

Jimmy Braddock is worth $100,000 and if anybody tells you differently, he is only kidding. . . . Also Braddock may open a restaurant soon and if he does the name will be "Inn Braddock's corner." . . . Say, is something big about to pop at dear old Duke? . . . Don't be surprised, boys.

Keep It A "Kid League!"

By Collier Parris

Basketball tonight at Lubbock High gymnasium. The Westerners play the Plainview Bulldogs in a Big Five League game, starting about 8 o'clock. The Westerners are out of the Big Five race, being generous boys who don't mind passing the title around, but when they're hustling, they play a fast game of ball. They deserve fandom's support tonight.

"BASEBALL IS DOING MORE than its bit," pointed out kindly old Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis last night at the annual dinner of the New York Baseball Writers association, "to keep the country from going to the dogs."

And that, we deduce, is a fair way of starting off a few paragraphs about baseball, which the most honest and best supervised and handled of all sports.

Baseball spirit rode high here Sunday when about 40 men, representing 8 towns, gathered here for the annual "check up" meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

We have attended a lot of baseball meetings here and there and around and about but that one Sunday had 'em all beat. The men now connected with the West Texas-New Mexico league are a level-headed, conscientious group of unselfish, baseball minded gentlemen, to whom baseball of this type is more of a sport than business, but a sport that must be founded on a business-like basis.

They are a far cry from some of the petty, selfish, hard-bitten promoters who have tried to snatch at baseball, like a straw in the wind, for personal gain and advantages. Baseball, as such, meant no more to them than basement boxing shows or one-night dog racing stands — just something from which to take the easy pickins, then desert. They fooled some of us but, thank goodness, not all of us, and the result was no organized baseball.

But the right men came along last year, or enough of them to do some good, and they made a start in this section that led to the resumption of organized ball. A few failures cropped out, but not enough to discourage the league, which finished the season. Failures have been replaced by successes, additional "right guys" are coming in, and it appears that last year's beginning will be continued, on a progressive scale.

The latter was brought out at Sunday's meeting. Nobody is coming into the league unless he has reasonable assurance that he'll stay in the league until the schedule is completed. Five clubs are ready, and a sixth, Clovis, which has already been granted a franchise, is on the verge.

No owner or sponsor of any club in the league entertains any illusions about the money to be made from baseball in a league of this size. If he doesn't lose too much, he's glad; if he breaks even, he's tickled; if he makes money, he demands a recount.

But three of the clubs which weathered the first year's storms last season came out ahead of the sheriff, and the fourth ran a dead heat, which ain't bad.

THE TWO-FOLD purpose of league men, it appeared at Sunday's meeting, is to give young athletes opportunities to develop themselves and be developed as baseball players, and to give the fans the benefit of entertainment that only hustling, trying youngsters can provide.

Youth is the keynote of the league.

"Let's make it a kid league," was the enthusiastic demand of every manager and club owner attending the meeting here.

So a "kid league" it'll be, with

United States Is To Defend Court Trophy

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — Thursday afternoon a formal group of high-ranking diplomats will gather in the patio of the Pan-American building at Washington to pull some slips of paper out of a big silver bowl.

That will open the 1938 Davis cup tennis campaign which finds 25 nations, one more than the number that competed last year, trying to capture the historic trophy from the United States.

Entries Are Closed

Entries closed yesterday with four challengers, headed by Australia, in the American zone and 21 in the European zone. The draw was set for 3 p. m. Thursday with Secretary of State Cordell Hull officiating and the envoys of each challenging nation invited to attend.

That is about all the United States will have to do until the time comes for Don Budge and Co. to defend the cup lifted from England last year against the survivor among these 25 starters.

From early indications, Australia, which lost to the United States in the American zone final last year, is the likeliest challenger, but Great Britain, Germany and perhaps a few others may have something to say about it.

Cinch To Come Through

The Aussies decided to challenge in the American zone this year and they're a cinch to come through that competition. Their rivals will be Canada, challenging for the first time in several years, Japan and Mexico. None of the three has a set of players who can touch Jack Crawford, Adrian Quist, Vivian McGrath and Jack Bromwich.

Germany's two-man team of Baron Gottfried Von Cramm and Henner Henkel, European zone winner in 1937, again looks like the team to beat on that side with England as its leading rival.

England has faced the task of rebuilding ever since Fred Perry turned pro.

Experience Is Given

Their young players, Charles Edgar Hare and Frank H. D. Wilde will have the benefit of another year's experience, including a visit to Forrest Hills last fall, and should show improvement. George Patrick Hughes, forced out by illness, likely will be back again and so will Bunny Austin.

Dark horses in the European zone race may be Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, which have forged to the front in the past few years while such old standbys as France, Italy and Ireland failed to make progress.

Tech Raiders Take Victory Over Miners

EL PASO, Feb. 1.—Coach Berl Huffman's Texas Tech Red Raiders opened their invasion of Border conference basketball strongholds last night with a stirring 41-to-36 victory over the Texas School of Mines Muckers. It was Tech's second conference victory. The Raiders previously had divided a series with the University of New Mexico.

F. M. Sasche, chunky guard, was the one-man team for the Lubbock collegians, looping in eight field goals and six free tosses for more than half of Tech's points. Meanwhile Salvadore Mora, Mucker forward, kept his mates in the game with 16 points.

The Miners, although trailing by a slight margin throughout remained a constant threat until Mora was ejected from the game on personal fouls. John Henderson, Tech guard, and Dudley Akins, who replaced him, also were ruled out of the game in its closing minutes.

The quintets play the second game of their series at the Miner gym tonight.

Baylor Is Favored Tonight In Clash With Froggies

FORT WORTH, Feb. 1 (AP)—Baylor, deadlocked with Arkansas for first place in Southwest conference cage percentages, comes here tonight the favorite in a clash with tail-ender Texas Christian.

The Christians, at the bottom of the standings, are given small chance to stop a Baylor team which took its first three conference starts.

Tonight's encounter is the only game scheduled until Friday, when Texas Christian goes to Fayetteville for a two game series with Arkansas, and Baylor entertains a strengthened Texas team at Waco.

John Tarleton Plowboys Cop 84th Victory Last Night

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 1. (AP)—The win streak of the John Tarleton Plowboys was raised to 84 here last night as they pulled away from the San Angelo college Rambling Rams and came out with a decisive 34-to-23 victory.

Tommy Tinker, spearhead of the Plowboy attack this season, again proved his worth as he hit the hoop for eight tallies. McConachie, at center, equalled his scoring with three field goals and two free tosses.

Champions Are To Climb Into Ring

Indications yesterday that Laverne Guthrie, hard-hitting little southpaw featherweight from Plainview, would return to defend his District Golden Gloves championship lent impetus to the district tournament scheduled at the Auditorium next Monday and Tuesday nights.

The whacking left-hander won district laurels here last year and went on to Fort Worth and the state tournament. His entry brings to four the number of 1937 district champs lined up for next week's battles.

Others who will be defending their district titles in the District tournament at the Auditorium next Monday and Tuesday nights are Babe Ritchie, heavyweight; Harry Hennington, welterweight and Jack Lovin, lightweight. One of them, Ritchie, went ahead to win the state tournament and competed in the tournament of champions at Chicago. With him went Lewis Terrell, flyweight champ, who sailed through district and state tournaments but who, on account of health problems, is not defending his title.

Still another champion is listed with the Avalanche-Journal District Golden Gloves entries—the popular John Buck of Crosbyton, who did not compete in the Golden Gloves, but who won district and state A. A. U. titles as a middleweight. He comes to the Golden Gloves tournament as a light heavyweight, and with him will no doubt come a large band of followers.

Other district champions of last year who are not defending their championships are Dixie White, Tech footballer who won the light heavyweight crown, and Wynell Cox, defending middleweight champ.

Guthrie, it will be remembered, defeated Rudy Russell, Lubbock lad who won the recent City Golden Gloves title.

At present, about 50 entries have been reported for the District joust—and more entries are invited.

Boxers wishing to compete should file entries at once, so that AAU membership blanks and release blanks may be properly filled and returned before tournament time.

GOLDEN GLOVES TICKETS

Ringside tickets for both nights of District Golden Gloves tournament fighting are reported selling fast at three downtown agencies, and fans who wish to reserve choice seats should see about that little matter immediately. They may be purchased outright at the Hub Clothiers, Hilton Hotel desk, or Hotel Lubbock Drug, or they may be reserved or purchased through mail orders by writing or calling Golden Gloves Editor, Avalanche-Journal, Lubbock, Tex.

The entry list will remain open until Saturday noon, but boxers are urged to return them earlier if possible.

All entries will gather at the Auditorium here at 4:30 o'clock, Monday, Feb. 7, for weighing in, medical examinations and final instructions. The tournament will be conducted along the same lines that made the City tournament successful from every standpoint.

Golden Gloves boxers who have not filled out AAU membership and release blanks are urged to write for these at once. They are available at the Avalanche-Journal sports desk.

Boxers are also invited to take advantage of the opportunity to train and work out this week at the Tech gymnasium, where equipment of all kinds is available.

Approximately $100 in trophies will go to City and District champions at the close of the District tournament next Tuesday night. Winners of the City tournament will receive heavy satin boxing trunks, suitably trimmed and decorated. Winners of the District tournament will receive, in addition to boxing trunks, gold belt buckles, appropriately decorated and engraved.

The trophies are on display in the Sherrod Bros. show window.

Contract For Three Years Given Oliver

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1 (AP) — Tex Oliver, whose University of Arizona football team trounced University of Oregon last December, found himself the Webfeet's new coach today.

Tex Oliver

He signed a three-year contract yesterday after a short conference with Anson B. Cornell, Oregon graduate manager. He replaces Prink Callison, who resigned after the 1937 season.

Oliver's salary was not disclosed, but it was understood it was more than $6,000.

The new coach will take up his duties around March 1.

Former Sparring Partner To Face Featherweight Champ

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1. (AP) — They're going to toss his former sparring partner into the ring here tonight in a ten-round bout with Henry (Homicide) Armstrong, the featherweight champion of the world.

If dark-skinned Chalky Wright has his way, Armstrong's string of 29 knockouts in 30 fights will be snapped tonight, but most of the betting among fans involves the question of whether Wright can even go the route.

EVERY once-in-awhile in one of the excellent speeches he delivers, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, strikes a blow for the type of learning in which students are instructed not only by professional teachers but also by individuals who are engaged in the actual subject being studied.

As a result, Texas Tech students are being lectured not only by trained professors, but also by individuals who are not teachers but who have gleaned their knowledge by actual experience.

Embryo newspaper men and women who are now students in the college department of journalism, are doing laboratory work in the newsrooms of Avalanche-Journal papers — and have been for almost two years. Staff members instruct the youngsters just as young reporters are trained.

Also teaching in the journalism department is Culver Hill, Hemphill-Wells advertising man and window trimmer. Mr. Hill, who blushes every time he is referred to as a "professor," is passing along to journalism students "on the hill" much of the information his actual work has brought him.

BELIEVING that a system which works in the journalism department will work in other departments, too, Doctor Knapp has recently called in from downtown Lubbock two other men. One instructs in the field of business administration; the other in the field of law. These newest additions to the teaching field are W. W. Condray, a public accountant, and James I. Kilpatrick, a lawyer. Both are greatly interested in the college and doubtless are serving as part-time teachers because they like to do so, rather than because of the scant honorarium connected with the work.

It seems to The Plainsman that Doctor Knapp has a very fine idea in, wherever possible, exposing his students to the thoughts and the ideas of men who are practicing in the workaday fields toward which students are pointing their futures.

We do not believe it would be wise ever to do away with professional teachers — even if that were possible.

But we do believe testimony by persons actually making their living in any chosen kind of work is valuable to students.

A DECADE ago it was very popular all over this Western country for men and women to give considerable time, thought and approbation to matters of community building.

Then came the depression, and people became too worried over their own personal affairs to give much thought to their community, or to the trials of the other fellow.

Community building—chamber of commerce work, if you please—fell in somewhat ill-repute and a lot of harsh things were said about the matter.

Now, however, things have again reached an even keel and most of us are again thinking about our communities—our home towns and our neighbors' home towns—and how to make them better.

That, to The Plainsman, is a very fine sign.

Although some readers may describe as "a lot of hokum" some remarks which we are today reproducing, we believe most of those who study them will agree that they are well worthwhile.

Accredited to Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, these remarks were sent in by an anonymous reader who winds up "use your judgment—if any—about publishing these thoughts."

I BELIEVE in my community, my state and my country.

"I thank God I am an American and a Texan.

"I believe that men play a bigger part in town building than natural resources and that cities are what men make them.

"I am willing to give my time, thought, energy and money to help advance the welfare of my community, in return for the great blessings I enjoy.

"I am not afraid that my competitor will make more money than I will as the town grows.

"I will not be a sponge, taking all I can get and giving as little as possible.

"I want to live in my town so that I can leave as a heritage the memory of some service for the benefit of the community.

"I believe that my record on earth will be largely my record as a citizen of this town.

"I believe in the success of my community and want to have it said of me that I played my part well.

"I believe in the sincerity of other citizens, and will not indulge in back-biting, slander or 'knocking' against my town, or my neighbors.

"I am proud of my town and want to live so my town will be proud of me.

"I will advance the fame of my town by doing my job the best I can—and perhaps better than it is being done anywhere else.

"I will invest my life where I make my living."

If you'll take the above paragraphs and "break them down," you'll find they compose a pretty good sermon.

An individual cannot follow them and fail to live a pretty good sort of a life.

MR. JUSTICE STANLEY REED, who now has officially taken his seat on the all-highest legal bench, doesn't go in for much show and is not excitable.

Witness this story:

Mr. Reed was going over some work with his then chief, Attorney-General Cummings, when the telephone rang.

The voice on the other end of the wire explains that Mr. Roosevelt has nominated Mr. Reed to the Supreme court.

Mr. Reed smiles slowly.

"I'm deeply grateful," he said, quietly—and then he went back to work without further delay.

A half hour later Mrs. Reed, who was resting in her hotel suite, was interrupted by the telephone. It was not her husband, who was too busy to think about his appointment. It was a friend, telling her the news.

Still an hour later, one son called from New York; another called from Boston. Both had heard the news from sources other than their Dad.

Four hours pass from the time he was told of his appointment until Mr. Reed saw his wife.

Then he simply verified the report and prepared to go out for dinner—to go to dinner, incidentally, with Chief Justice Hughes whom had invited Mr. Reed long before there had been any thought of his becoming a Supreme court associate justice!

ACCORDING to the current number of the magazine "Better English," "If you're not a politician, you're an idiot!"

Here's the explanation given by the magazine:

"It was the ambition of every citizen of Ancient Greece to hold office or serve the state in some official capacity. Some men preferred, however, to live as private citizens. These private citizens were known as 'idiotai'. Their modest tastes were set down to an inferior intellect. Gradually the word 'idiotai' came to mean 'men of low intelligence'!"

Richest Girl In The World

CAST OF CHARACTERS

CONSTANCE CORBY—heroine; richest girl in the world.

BRET HARDESTY—hero; bridge builder.

RODNEY BRANDON — Connie's fiance.

KATIE BLYN—Connie's "double."

Yesterday: Relieved of her cash when the bus is robbed, Katie or Connie is forced to fall on Bret Hardesty for help. And, she reflects, fate was not so bad at that.

CHAPTER VIII

They were to change busses at Asheville. Over a delicious breakfast of ham and eggs and coffee, they discussed "ways and means," as Bret expressed it.

"Are you good at figures?" he asked. "I could use a girl at the camp. Old Pop Walters is the only one in the office now and has more work than he can handle since the job's in full swing. You'd be doing me a real favor, Miss Blyn, if you'd like to try it."

Connie thought how fine it was of him to put it that way. She said she would like to, very much. Thanks to Uncle Tippy, she was prepared for an opening like this. He had seen to it that his niece had acquired sufficient business training that would enable her to understand and handle her large inheritance.

"Of course it's rather a rough place for a girl." Bret spoke a shade dubiously. "Though I promise I'll look after you. You can room at Mrs. Parson's in the village. Everyone calls her Aunt Bertha," he added, his eyes twinkling. "You will, too, after you've sampled her biscuits and corn bread."

Connie did not think there was any doubt but that she would be protected. Besides, the setup was ideal. Who would ever think of looking for the richest girl in the world in a crude construction camp deep in the heart of the Blue Ridges?

"I don't know how I can ever thank you," she said, her blue eyes shining; she had discarded the inevitable dark glasses now that there was less fear of recognition. This was going to be an adventure such as she had never dreamed would come to her. "I don't know why you should do this for me."

If she had hoped he would say it was because he had liked her, or found her different from any girl he had known, she was to be disappointed. "I'd do as much for anyone who was up against it," he assured her. "As for thanking me, please don't try. Didn't I tell you, you'd be helping me out too?"

When they arrived at Charleston the following day Bret hired an automobile for the 100 mile trip to the little town near which he was building his bridge. He explained he had driven his own car down south to leave with his folks for the winter. "They're getting old," he said. "I'm glad I can make their last years the best."

"I don't remember my father or mother," Connie told him, thinking that his must be proud of him. Then she remembered that she was Katie Blyn! "But there are eight of us," she added quickly. "Too many in one small house. That was one reason I started out on my own."

Bret's attention was focused on the road, which was becoming steep and narrow, now that they were in the hills. But he managed a side glance at her. "I expect there was more than one — perhaps you had a quarrel with your sweetheart!"

It was her turn to glance sharply at him. "What makes you ask that?"

"Oh, a girl as young and as attractive as you are is bound to have a sweetheart," he said lightly. "She would hardly start out, not knowing where she was going, unless she had quarreled with him. Though eight of you—well (that would be a few too many! Still, won't you miss them? This town is only a little over a thousand. I hope you won't find it lonely."

Connie assured him that she would not. Almost she had added, "Not if you are there." The thought stayed with her; kept her silent.

She wondered what it was about this man that made her feel she could put her trust in him and not be mistaken, ever. She only had known him a few days; yet time did not seem to matter. It was as though the comradeship of the open road, their mutual experiences, had bridged that gulf.

"Now we're getting into real country," Bret said, later on. "See those big boys looming up in the distance? They're the Shenandoahs; 6000 feet, some of them. Feel the difference in the air? Take a breath and fill your lungs. It will wash away all your troubles, make you new once more."

"You love your country, don't you?" Connie's voice was soft with understanding. She who had five homes, a villa on the Riviera, a 6000-acre country estate, a town house, a winter palace and a summer one, had never called any one of them "home." She knew that, too, was something she had missed.

"Every tree, every blade of grass," Bret said. "I always come back to it no matter how far I roam." His words were ones Connie was to recall many times.

He said, "I hope you'll learn to love it, too. One thing I can guarantee," he flashed her a grin, "you'll have plenty of elbow room! You'll be as free as the birds that have the whole heaven for their own."

"How did you know," she asked, "that freedom is what I want more than anything, a chance to try my own wings for awhile?"

"Isn't that what everyone wants? Though after you've tried them you'll be glad to fly back to your nest —and your sweetheart—again."

"No," Connie shook her head, took a deep breath of the air that, as he had told her, seemed to wash all the past away, making her reborn again. "I don't believe I'll want to go back. Certainly not because of any one person! When I do, perhaps I'll always wish I could return—as you have." She did not know then, either, how true her words would prove.

Bret said he thought they had better stop at the McCallys' cabin, which they would reach soon, to get warm and have dinner. It would be dark by the time they reached their destination. Already it was growing dusk.

The cabin, like most of those they had passed, was built of logs, cemented with mud, but inside it was neat and clean. The old couple welcomed Bret as though he were a relation, though like the

THE GREATEST AMONG IMPROVEMENTS

Probably no improvement possible on the South Plains will contrast more vividly the new with the old than will the project of South Plains Electric Cooperative, inc., which involves, in the words of an official of that organization, the "spreading of light where there is no light."

The purpose of the cooperative, in brief, is to distribute electrical power to rural areas of Lubbock and four adjoining counties which now are without even the prospect of such service from any other source.

Most people of adult years, including the residents even of the largest South Plains towns and cities, can recall the time when they had no electricity; when filling, wick trimming, chimney shining of kerosene or "coal oil" lamps was a daily chore. It is difficult for them to realize now that approximately 90 per cent of the area—not the population—of the South Plains still has that as an every-day task.

But progress is about to catch up with them. Soon it will be as much a habit with most of the farm people as it is with those in the city to get light and power for much of the household drudgery and farm work simply by pushing a button or turning a switch. Thus will be provided a deserved convenience for South Plains farm people whom The Journal regards as being of as high class as to be found in rural areas any where on earth.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 1 — Close-ups from behind the screen:

Beatrice Lillie: This darling of the intelligentsia, who can name her own salary on anybody's stage, has flopped twice in movies — first in the silent days of 1926, in "Exit Smiling." She did. She stayed away until 1930 when Fox hired her for a little item called "Are You There?" She wasn't.

The comedienne has brighter hopes for her current flicker with Bing Crosby because the American public now knows her on the radio.

Miss Lillie, who is Lady Peel, has a 16-year-old son in school in England, and is thinking of knocking a couple of years off his age. Here in Hollywood she lives with Fannie Brice, Sophie Tucker and Gypsy Rose Lee, and the place is a madhouse.

Else Argal: The stunning French actress, wife of the celebrated playwright, Jacques Deval, is back in town quietly shopping around for a role. She was under contract to 20th-Fox for six months but nothing happened except a lot of tests.

"In each test," she said, "they made me up to look like a cinema star. One day it would be Dietrich, the next Crawford, and I was wondering when I would be Shirley Temple. Never did they let me look like myself."

Her Feet Hurt

Joan Marsh: She's the sort of girl who instantly puts you at ease. When she sits down to lunch she kicks off her shoes and calls attention to it by asking everyone's pardon.

Kicks 'em off when she drives her car, too, and would dance in stocking feet if she dared.

Miss Marsh entered movies at the age of 9 months, so now, at 23 years, she's really a veteran.

Buster Keaton: Today he's Joseph B. Keaton, director.

"I'll never act again," he said, "because actors have too much to worry about." What he most wants to do is direct a remake of his most popular picture, "The Navigator."

Only this time, instead of himself and Marceline Day being adrift alone on an ocean liner, he'd have Myrna Loy and William Powell. Keaton owns the story.

Claire Trevor: When people begin gushing about her small but poignant part as Francey in "Dead End", Miss Trevor is annoyed. To friends she complains:

"I worked exactly a day and a half in that picture. The role was so beautifully written and directed that I did it without effort. And yet for five years I've been struggling through the feminine leads of 23 Class B pictures, taking unconvincing roles and working my heart out trying to make something of them. But nobody ever says anything nice about those."

Thinks He Could Emote

Cary Grant: Newly arrived at prominence in light comedy, he's already worrying about being typed. He wants a good, fast action role, a character part, and most of all a casting as an "all-wrong guy." Look what "Night Must Fall" did for Robert Montgomery.

Grant wants to be a heavy, too; even a psychopathic fiend. He has an eye on a promising part in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse." So has Humphrey Bogart.

Mary Garden: She's 60, red-headed and peppy, but a talent-scout now and no longer a singer.

"I haven't sung a note except in the bathtub since 1931, and don't intend to," she said. "My job is finding and training young singers for the screen. We'll have opera in pictures within three years."

Miss Garden doesn't even warble opera in her bathtub — just popular songs such as "I've Got You Under My Skin."

They Cured Her

Sally Eilers: She's one of the sweetest-tempered actresses in Hollywood, but admits that her movie-wise family cured her temperament by ribbing her out of it.

When she'd come home raving about a tough day at the studio, her brother would sigh, "Ah, the great emotional artiste — how she suffers!"

And her producer-husband, Harry Joe Brown, occasionally still asks, "Listen, Toots — do you want me to get a camera and set it up here in the living room?"

Hugh Herbert: "The way I started this woo-woo business was in a Wheeler and Woolsey picture called 'Diplomaniacs' about seven years ago. There were a lot of Indians in the picture, and for one scene I'd been sitting up in a tree — out on a limb, you might say — for hours.

"I got to clowning and hollering woo-woo-woo, like in a war dance. For some reason it was funny, because even the Indians laughed. Well, it's a sort of trade mark, and I guess I can't kick."

Will He See His Shadow?

First Slap From SEC Gives Stock Exchange An Idea Of What It Can Expect---Dutcher

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Now the New York Stock exchange knows what it is likely to get from the Securities and Exchange commission as operated under Chairman William O. Douglas.

The SEC has just whammed down on bear raiding and short selling by ordering that short sales be made only at a price above the last transaction in the stock concerned. SEC did this, however, on no more information than that which the exchange itself already had gathered.

Rodney Dutcher

Here's the story behind the ruling:—

After studying short sales for two sample weeks last fall, the stock exchange made a statement which appeared designed to dress up facts and figures to make them prettier than they really were and to bury some of the most significant phases.

Finally, the stock exchange statement said, the figures would be turned over to the Twentieth Century Fund for analysis, and the SEC could look at them if it so desired. SEC members looked on that as a back-handed slap and promptly went to work on their own analysis.

Rule Carries Penalty

The result was the first trading rule which SEC actually has promulgated for the stock exchange. The rule carries penalties for violation and in this punitive feature differs from rules imposed by exchanges "in co-operation" with the SEC.

Although the SEC doesn't say so, it concluded that 11 members of the New York exchange were bear raiding in a distressed market, pushing down the whole list by concentrating on bellwether or leader stocks day after day. It isn't suggested that there was any concerted effort to discredit the administration, but it has been demonstrated that bears pushed the market well below points where it could have been held by public support.

Short selling is sale of stock which the seller doesn't own, in expectation of decline to a price at which the seller can buy and deliver. A parallel would occur if A were to sell an automobile to B for $1500 in anticipation that automobiles would be cheaper. A would then borrow a car from an automobile company, deliver it to B and collect the $1500, buy a similar car for $1000 if the price dropped to that point, give it to the automobile company and pocket $500 profit. Of course that sort of thing doesn't occur in the automobile business. But it used to go on in the stock market.

Trade Treaty Hits Japan

Consummation of a reciprocal trade treaty with Great Britain is now virtually certain and so is the fact that its terms will be of no comfort to the Japanese.

Tariff concessions made in such treaties by the contracting nations at once become applicable to the goods of other nations, although they're made on commodities which the two signatory countries are most interested in exporting, and those which they can most expedientiy import from each other.

But pains are being taken to see that no provisions in the Anglo-American treaty open the way to any discernible quantity of Japanese products. Lower duties, will not be stated as applying only to given items manufactured in Birmingham, Manchester or Leeds, but that's more or less the general idea. Definitions of imports upon which this country grants them will be closely restricted to British types.

The most important increases of American exports as a result of the treaty will be in wheat, barley, fruits, lumber, tobacco, canned goods and rice. The British will be shipping us, in return, more manufactured goods, primarily specialties in cotton, wool, silk and rayon and in iron and steel items.

Following the treaty with England and a supplemental treaty with Canada, the State department and Tariff Commission expect to negotiate trade treaties with the British dominions of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

Will Your Marriage Lead To Happiness Or Divorce?

Ask The Master Psychologist
Dr. La Rose, Ps. D.

Are you blue, discouraged and unhappy . . . and you do not know why? Are you in doubt about your love affairs . . . and you do not know how to change it? Is there some mysterious trouble in your home . . . and you cannot solve it? Do you worry because you cannot accomplish and be successful like other people? Do you feel that your mate in life is interested in someone else? So if in doubt ask the man who knows.

southern border of the 190-mile-wide corridor in North China said heavy toll had been taken of enemy lives.

Japs Hurled Back

Near Mingkwang, about 230 miles northwest of Nanking on the Tientsin-Pukow railroad, Chinese told of hurling back Japanese after repeated bayonet charges.

Japanese, however, said they had pushed Chinese northward toward Pengpu, next objective in the Japanese drive from Nanking to Suchow, junction point on the Lunghai, China's main east-west railroad.

The northern border of the corridor, where a half million Chinese and Japanese troops were massed, apparently was quiet.

Vacancy Exists

A vacancy exists on the sixth federal circuit court, which serves Kentucky. There had been talk that Logan might be appointed and that Chandler then might succeed him in the senate.

Logan declared, however, that he would not accept the appointment if it were offered and that he would support Barkley for re-election.

"I have never requested Senator Barkley, Senator Logan or the president to do anything for me," retorted Chandler.

Two Persons Slightly Injured In Collision Of Automobiles

Two men suffered facial cuts when their automobiles were in collision late Monday four miles south of Seagraves, according to investigation made by the Texas Highway patrol.

Much property damage resulted to a light sedan driven by J. D. Hurley, 25, of Amarillo and a heavy sedan by L. R. Simmons, 45, of Hobbs, N. M.

Simmons was fined $123 in county court at Seminole, records showed.

housing bill.

Republicans, leading the demand for the prevailing wage amendment, expressed the belief they had enough Democratic support to return the bill to committee.

Hope For Quick Action

Administration leaders hoped to send the housing bill to the White House quickly as the first major legislative accomplishment since the 1937 session of congress adjourned last August.

Wagner said the measure could have little immediate effect on the industrial situation, however. He estimated it would take six months to bring about the hoped-for housing bill.

Informed senators said the administration would attempt meanwhile to speed up industrial activity by increased government spending.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—Further recovery signs appeared in today's stock market as leading issues successfully surmounted numerous profit taking handicaps.

While activity was small throughout, it was noted the ticker tape was a trifle brisker on buying flurries than in offering periods. Gains running to 2 points or so were plentiful near the fourth hour.

In view of yesterday's rally, the first in nine sessions, many in-and-out traders did not linger long with commitments bought at last week's lows. There was little in spot news to arouse loud cheering, but here and there omens were seen as constructive. Another advance in secondary rail bonds, with an upturn in major commodities, helped brighten the speculative horizon.

Tilting forward the greater part of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible, National Steel, Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro De Pasco, American Smelting, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, J. I. Case, Oliver Farm, Westinghouse, Du Pont, American Can, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Johns-Manville, Canada Dry, U. S. Gypsum, Allis Chalmers and Celanese.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 1 (AP) — Cotton continued its advancing tendency in early dealings here today in response to strong foreign markets, trade buying and covering.

March 8.58, May 8.66, July 8.73, Oct. 8.82 and Dec. 8.87.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP) — Cotton futures opened 4 to 6 points higher in response to firmer Liverpool and Bombay cables and commission house and foreign buying. March 8.47; May 8.55; July 8.63; Oct. 8.74; Dec. 8.77; Jan. unquoted.

Contracts were supplied by a little liquidation and southern selling. May, which had reacted from 8.56 to 8.53, was selling at 8.54 and shortly after the first half hour the list was 3 to 5 points net higher.

May, which had advanced to 8.56, was selling at 8.55 around midday when the list was 4 to 6 points net higher.

Girl Being Held On Charges Of Assault

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 1. (AP)—Isabelle Messmer, 21, pleaded innocent today to a charge of atrocious assault and was held in $1,000 bail for the grand jury by Police Court Judge Carl J. Duveneck.

Police charged her with running down a detective who sought to question her and then driving police on an 80-mile-an-hour chase. Judge Duveneck fined her $25 on each of three counts: leaving the scene of an accident, failing to obey a traffic signal and speeding.

Deputy Police Chief Philip Sebold said Detectives George Eschenfelder and James Madden went to Miss Messmer's apartment Friday after a 10-day investigation. Sebold said they sought to question her as she got into an automobile with a man and that she started the car, knocking Eschenfelder down. Madden arrested her after a half-mile chase.

Miami, Fla., police said Miss Messmer had been arrested there on robbery, concealed weapons and vagrancy charges, and the records showed other arrests at Washington, Pittsburgh, Houston, Texas, and Jacksonville, Fla.

barrels of gasoline from the Petersburg area, to mention a few.

His wife occupies a responsible position with a South Plains city government, Belyeu said.

"It is hard for her. She doesn't make much. I bid out long enough for our oldest daughter to finish school, if she could. Then I planned to give up and satisfy my debt to society."

But the law's outstretched arm beat him to it. Gulley Cowsert, inspector for the Sheep and Goat Raisers association was here Dec. 1. Sheriff Tom Abel told him he had information the man was in South Texas and to keep a lookout for him.

A few days ago, Cowsert wired the sheriff to meet him at San Angelo and accept custody. He had located Belyeu.

Belyeu, who said he worked on a ranch near Clarendon two years, for S. W. Richardson of Fort Worth, likes to talk of San Jose island. Evidently an authority on livestock, he said deer, Hereford cattle and quail run on the isle, 38 miles long and 18 wide.

He talked freely in the courtroom to a newspaper reporter, telling how 5-year-old stock when brought to this section from the island "puts on several hundred pounds."

"But they do better when they get their start there."

Tax Payments End In City

Issuance of approximately 1,800 poll taxes Monday by the office of H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector, at Lubbock and by the Slaton sub-office boosted the total issued up to the midnight deadline to approximately 8,000, a few hundred less than the 1932 record of 8,517.

Tired clerks this morning promised a more official announcement tonight.

Including exemptions, Bryan said the voting strength of the county would be between 8,500 and 9,000.

After midnight all assessed taxes on the 1937 rolls became delinquent with the passing of the limits prescribed by laws.

It was indicated several days possibly would be required before the exact amount of collections paid before midnight could be determined. Stacks of unopened mail contained checks ranging from less than a dollar to hundreds of dollars.

"Pleased" At Collections

A. C. Jackson, collector of taxes for the Lubbock Independent School district, said he was "fairly well pleased" with this year's intake and said the increase for this entire season over the corresponding period of last year would show "at least a slight increase."

Ed C. Young, assessor and collector for the City of Lubbock, closed his office late Monday night, commenting that the day's total would not be made up until today. He, too, described Monday as a "mighty big day," and said collections there had been satisfactory.

All taxes, city, county, state and school not paid before midnight Monday became delinquent with a penalty added and interest began to accrue.

Tax officers promised near-exact totals today.

Enrollment At Tech 2,554

A total of 2,554 studenjts had thronged into the gymnasium at Texas Technological college in the one and one-half day registration period up to noon and that number exceeded that for any former two days of registration in history of the college, President Bradford Knapp said at noon.

The number who had obtained permits to register at the end of the second day last year totaled 2,444.

Large Total Expected

The college president announced expectations for at least 2,800 students this semester and for a total of 3,400 individuals for the long session, including both fall and spring semesters.

Upperclassmen and stragglers were registering today. Monday was devoted to registration of freshmen and sophomores.

Classes will begin at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. Students registering after today may receive directions at the registrar's office. The entire faculty was on duty Monday and today in the gymnasium to assist students in registering.

Greatest Long Session

The greatest long session enrollment in the college history was in the 1936-37 session, when 3,010 students were enrolled. The total enrollment for the year is reached by adding the number of new students for the spring term to the total for the preceding fall term.

A total of 1,854 students obtained permits to register Monday, which exceeded the number for the first day last year by 213. The registration procedure is not completed until fees are paid.

New Evidence For Defense

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1. (AP)—The defense finally introduced Monday medical evidence that Paul A. Wright underwent a sterilization operation for the sake of the wife he is accused of murdering.

In a deposition, Dr. Charles B. Huggins testified he treated the defendant's wife, Evelyn, and that her ailment, in his opinion, made it inadvisable for her to have another child.

Submits To Operation

Doctor Huggins said that Wright then offered to submit to a sterilization operation so his wife would not be endangered.

"I think that a man who had undergone such an operation would be more likely to suffer shock if he suddenly saw his wife being unfaithful."

This testimony was in support of the defense argument that Wright was so upset when he found his wife and friend, John Kimmel, embracing that he was temporarily blinded with rage and shot them both to death.

Testimony that for days after Wright shot his wife and friend to death he could not remember details of the tragedy was given.

Visited Him In Cell

Dr. Charles H. Cowan testified he visited Wright in his jail cell several times and that Wright continually repeated:

"I found my wife cheating and I guess I went nuts. I'm trying to figure out what happened."

The state charges that Wright, former manager of the busy union air terminal, killed his wife and Kimmel last November 9 deliberately and after premeditation.

Defense Attorney Jerry Giesler introduced testimony intended to show that the shooting was done in a fit of jealous anger; that when Wright came upon his wife and friend embracing he was so upset that he blindly killed them.

Florida's area is 58,666 square miles.

Former Guard Is Questioned

ARDMORE, Okla., Feb. 1. (AP)—An Ardmore filling station owner who as a McAlester penitentiary guard once watched over a boyhood friend doing a 25-year term for armed robbery was questioned last night in the slaying of the ex-convict.

E. W. Schenk, Carter county attorney, said witnesses told him the ex-convict, Frank Criner, 40-year-old Indian, walked into the filling station of Tom Hutchins, former prison guard.

"Tom, you were a guard in the pen when I was there," Schenk said the ex-convict, who was intoxicated, shouted. "You did me wrong."

Did Best He Could

"No I didn't," Schenk said Hutchins replied. "I did the best I could for you."

Schenk said an Indian, John Hattensty, who had brought Criner to the station tried to get his companion to leave, and failing, went outside to his car. He heard two shots.

Sheriff Floyd Randolph, whom Hutchins called, said he found Criner's body slumped over a counter. Beneath his body was a clasp knife.

First Juvenile Bond Required

A 15-year-old juvenile arraigned this morning before Judge E. L. Pitts on a hog theft charge occupies an inauspicious position, said authorities—but he was accorded a place "never given another juvenile so far as a check of the records was concerned."

He was placed under bond—of $1,000.

Two youths were in jail similarly charged. They, 17, live in Lynn county, said authorities.

One was charged with theft of two hogs from H. M. Meadows, of one mile north of Hurlwood, the other with theft from Charlie Boyd, of 10 miles southeast of Lubbock. Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, signed the complaints.

Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, swore to a complaint before Burton S. Burks, district attorney, charging swindling, naming E. R. Piegley of Oklahoma City in connection with a $50 check given Hanna-Pope & Co.

Harrist and Mabray found clothing bought with forged checks on Thomas Bros. gin at Grassland, when they searched a residence Monday at Post. Three persons recently were arrested in connection with the checks, 19 of the 24 having been passed at Lubbock or having showed up here for collection.

The sheriff's department said Kelly Hooper, Plainview sheriff, and two deputies had transferred six men here for the state prison transfer agent and that, when he arrives, there will be seven to be sent from Lubbock, as well.

Slash In Insurance Rates Authorized

AUSTIN, Feb. 1. (AP)—The insurance department today announced fire insurance key rate reductions, effective immediately, for Hondo, Gonzales, South Houston, Columbus and Lampasas.

Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall said the reductions, rewards for improved fire prevention and fighting facilities, were as follows:

Hondo, 85 to 83 cents, for proper fire department drill work.

Gonzales, 26 to 22 cents, for waterworks improvements.

South Houston, 95 to 93 cents, for arson reward ordinance.

Columbus, 48 to 45 cents, for proper enforcement of fire marshal ordinance.

Lampasas, 45 to 44 cents, for waterworks improvement.

He explained the key rate was computed scientifically by department engineers and with two other factors, fire loss record and individual hazards in communities, determined the actual rates for each locality.

Hall added preliminary figures showed 1937 fire losses would be approximately $6,900,000 in Texas but the loss ratio compared with premiums had not been determined.

So flustered was the bridegroom he forgot to kiss the bride goodbye as he was led away to a cell.

No Verdict In Death Given

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 1. (Special)—A young woman who was found Sunday in the tourist camp cabin in which lay the dead body of Alvin Elliott, 25, of Levelland had gone to Lubbock to be with her mother and the death verdict still was pending report from the state toxicologist's office at Austin, said M. W. Brewer, justice of the peace.

Although she will remain available for possible further questioning by officials, the 25-year-old woman is otherwise free and officials are convinced of truth of her story that she does not know the circumstances of Elliott's death, said Brewer.

Arsenic Found In Car

In Elliott's car had been found a bottle of arsenic and a bottle of whisky, and part of the contents of each were gone, officials said. Elliott's viscera was sent to Austin. The arsenic had been purchased in Levelland January 22. The woman, who had been employed in Levelland, told officials Elliott said he was ill when they were en route from Levelland to a dance at Lubbock Saturday night and had gone to the tourist camp to rest. She had gone to sleep and did not awaken until entrance of the tourist camp operator Sunday afternoon, and did not know until then Elliott was dead, she was quoted by officials as saying.

Funeral services for Elliott were conducted at Levelland Monday afternoon.

France's 1938 Naval Program Enlarged

Swift Action Being Sought

PARIS, Feb. 1 (AP) — The navy ministry disclosed today France's 1938 naval building program was being enlarged as a result of the rapidly growing world armament race.

William Bertrand, minister of the navy, said he would place the new program before the cabinet at the earliest opportunity and recommend its approval.

To Swing Into Action

"As soon as a decision is taken and the necessary appropriations voted," he declared, "we are in a position to swing immediately into action to re-establish our threatened naval position."

The present program, calling for 58,000 tons of new fighting ships to cost 4,460,000,000 francs ($144,000,000), was described by the navy minister as risking "irredemediable compromise" for France's maritime and colonial interests.

He said he could not give details of the new program, but that the plans called for immediate replacement of "certain over age ships."

Asks Early Construction

The chamber of deputies naval committee recently urged earl construction of two 42,000-ton battleships to outclass Italy's two 35,000-ton ships to be started soon. Reports Japan was building ships greater than 40,000 tons also worried the naval committee.

Since the World war, France's policy has been to keep a fleet equal to the combined fleets of Germany and Italy. Former Navy Minister Cesar Campinchi warned last fall this policy would fail by 1941 unless navy budgets were increased sharply.

just enough experienced ball players on the club to temper the youths and keep them advised.

And you have, it from old ball players and men long in the game, men who have been associated with major and big minor league ball nearly all their lives, that "kid baseball," as it obtains in Class D leagues, provides more honest-to-goodness fun and thrills than any other kind. Bob Tarleton, graying veteran of many major and minor league campaigns; Josh Billings, the old Dallas-and-other-places catcher; Harry Faulkner, who has been around baseball and kids long enough to know, and Sled Allen, who ought to know, all rose and commended the younger men in the league for their desire to "give the kids a break."

A youngster, they pointed out, even if he's not getting much pay for it, will hustle his heart out because he's trying to make good and go up, whereas a veteran, his job fairly safe, is inclined to loaf.

The "rookie rule" was altered somewhat as the league made changes to fit the 1938 season, but each club must still carry at least six players who have never competed in professional baseball. Last year a club had to carry ten, but in fairness to last year's freshmen who were not sold up the river or otherwise didn't "get the breaks," it was decided to permit each club to carry five or more reserves, or sophomores — youngsters with not more than one year of experience. There may be five, six, seven or eight "reserves," but at least that many, provided no more first year men are carried.

A maximum of three "class" men, or players with unlimited professional experience, will be the rule this year instead of four, thereby giving another rookie a chance to make good.

Judging from the attitudes expressed by club owners and managers Sunday, there'll be few fusses or arguments regarding the rookie rule or the salary limit, all of the magnates being in accord along those lines. They realize that success or failure of a club or the league rests upon close observance of the rules, and we'll be fooled if any of them gets out of line.

Plans For Project Discussed In City

Indications were favorable for installation of a resident work and training course at Texas Technological college, but definite understanding had not been reached, said J. C. Kellam of the NYA for Texas, before leaving his morning for San Angelo after conferences with Dr. Bradford Knapp, college president.

The plan would provide that boys of this section who are unable to complete their education may get instruction under competent agriculture teachers.

Kellam foresaw installation of the work "within 60 days."

Housing Chief Problem

Chief problem discussed in the Monday conference was that of housing boys for the four-month course. Due to lack of sufficient housing at the college makes it necessary to provide new structure in which boys might stay.

The Texas Tech board of directors recently approved cooperation with the NYA in building a dormitory for that purpose. Final approval will come from officials in Washington to the grant necessary for the structure.

Parallels Other Work

While meeting a fundamental need for boys of the section, the program is an ideal parallel to other work of the NYA in providing both work and training for youths, Kellam pointed out. Problems of the South Plains, being different to any in any other part of the state, may be solved by boys through help of the Texas Tech agriculture faculty.

Youths to take part in the program are those from families approved for aid under the NYA.

A similar program is to be instituted at Southwest State Teachers college at San Marcos this week, Kellam said.
