Galveston Bay Homes Flooded By High Tides

.09 HERE
First Rains Measured, Still Needed

The first measureable rains of February moved into Howard County Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. In Big Spring the U.S. Experiment Station reported only .09 inch, but elsewhere in the county and adjacent counties, the rainfall was heavier.

The heaviest reports were in the Luther community, where gauges showed from .60 to .70 inch. Knott had half an inch. Lomax had a good shower, and the estimated fall was .25 inch.

Garden City had .40 inch, and there were some reports of heavier rain in parts of Martin County. Colorado City reported .20 inch, mostly acquired from a heavy mist which persisted through Thursday afternoon and this morning. Apparently the showers were general over the area.

The moisture rode on the heels of a heavily clouded Thursday afternoon. There were frequent light spells of mistiness. The county is in bad need of rain, and while the half inch reports were hailed with pleasure, the need for moisture is not even dented, farmers said.

In Big Spring, the .09 inch Thursday night brought to a skimpy .13 inch the combined rains of January and February. The only other dampness so far in February was a "trace" reported Feb. 1.

The temperature dropped to 42 degrees Thursday night. High Thursday was 58 degrees. The cloudy skies held on Friday morning with occasional recurrences of drizzle. The temperature had not warmed up to any extent by midmorning. It was 44 degrees at 10 a.m.

But their wedding is for real — and on Valentine's Day too.

Nixon Picks Photos

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has selected three official photos of himself — two smiling and one more serious.

The unsmiling one will be displayed in government offices in the United States and abroad and in post offices, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Thursday.

The photos were taken on Nixon's 56th birthday, Jan. 9, in New York by Philippe Halsman. Ziegler said Halsman, 62, was selected "because of his reputation as a fine commercial photographer." He has contributed to such magazines as Vogue, Life and Look.

It's Complex

After midnight tonight, calling for an ambulance will be a bit complicated, and in any case, you won't get an ambulance. If you are in the city and need an ambulance, call the police department, which will send a station wagon manned by firemen. If you are out in the county somewhere, call the sheriff's office, which will dispatch an Explorer Scout unit manned by volunteer firemen. See Page 6-A.

New Oil Leak Bubbling Up Off West Coast

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—A new leak has sprung from sands around an undersea oil well while efforts were under way to scoop up sections of a slick that at one time covered 800 square miles.

Union Oil Co. officials said the new leak that began at their well Thursday was at the rate of about 240 gallons a day, compared to 21,000 gallons a day in the original leak. It was enough to form a thick slick eight miles long. State officials pegged the new leak at closer to 2,000 gallons a day.

Some equipment brought in to clean up oil from the 12-day leak had to be put to work trying to halt the new flow.

A Union spokesman said the new leak in the well, plugged with cement Saturday, came "from a bleeding off from upper sands which have gas pressure."

Peruvians Fire On U.S. Boats

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Peruvian gunboat fired on two U.S. fishing boats 23 to 40 miles off the Peruvian coast today, Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., reported on the basis of radio messages.

One boat was captured after being damaged and was being taken to a Peruvian port, he said. A second boat, with damaged windows, stern and radio, was chased 15 miles into waters off Ecuador, Pelly added.

The congressman said he has asked the State Department to arrange for Navy protection of the U.S. citizens aboard the two boats and six others reported racing seaward to avoid similar attack.

Pelly said radio messages from the tuna boats were picked up in California and relayed to him.

Pelly identified the captured boat as the Mariner and the second boat as the San Juan.

Vicious Storms Pound Over State

By The Associated Press

High tides sent water surging into homes and a tornado whipped through the Galveston Bay area on the upper Texas coast today.

Vicious thunderstorms pounded from one end of the state to the other.

A tornado, stirred by violent weather, destroyed a barn at Arcadia, 21 miles west of Galveston about 7:45 a.m. today. This was 45 minutes after a tornado watch for the area had expired.

MOVE OUT

The Weather Bureau in Houston said the violent weather should move out of Texas into Louisiana and the Gulf of Mexico by about 10:30 a.m. today.

Winds clocked unofficially at up to 83 miles an hour hurled sea water into low areas, hitting hard at Baytown and other points east and southeast of Houston around the Manned Spacecraft Center.

At Baytown, Civil Defense director Fletcher Hickerson reported water rose about two feet deep in 100 homes on the west side of town in the Brownwood addition. He said workers using amphibious vehicles and high-wheeled trucks had taken out at least 300 persons.

High tides ran to eight feet above normal and were expected to go up another foot—the highest level since 18-foot tides hit the same area during Hurricane Carla in 1961, Hickerson said.

Authorities reported the same tides forced scores of persons to wade from Seabrook, where the wind kept trees bent to the ground all night, and Kemah, both next door to the space center.

The highway between Sabine Pass and High Island on the Bolivar Peninsula below Beaumont was reported closed to traffic.

Some houses near the main east-west road past the space center stood five feet deep in water. The runaway tides blocked Texas 146 at Seabrook.

BREAK LOOSE

Mighty winds caused an undetermined number of yachts to break their moorings and deposited a shrimp boat squarely in the middle of Farm Road 517 at one point.

The Coast Guard in Corpus Christi reported three men were missing off the fishing boat Kit Kat, abandoned after high winds and heavy rains sunk it near the mouth of the Colorado River between Port O'Connor and Freeport.

Rains up to five inches caused flooding at Sinton and Odem near Corpus Christi early today.

With many lowland areas flooded, officials said there appeared to be no immediate threat of drowning if residents stayed calm.

A runaway barge hit a drawbridge on Texas 146 between Kemah and Texas City, knocking out pilings and possibly damaging railroad track.

HIGH WINDS

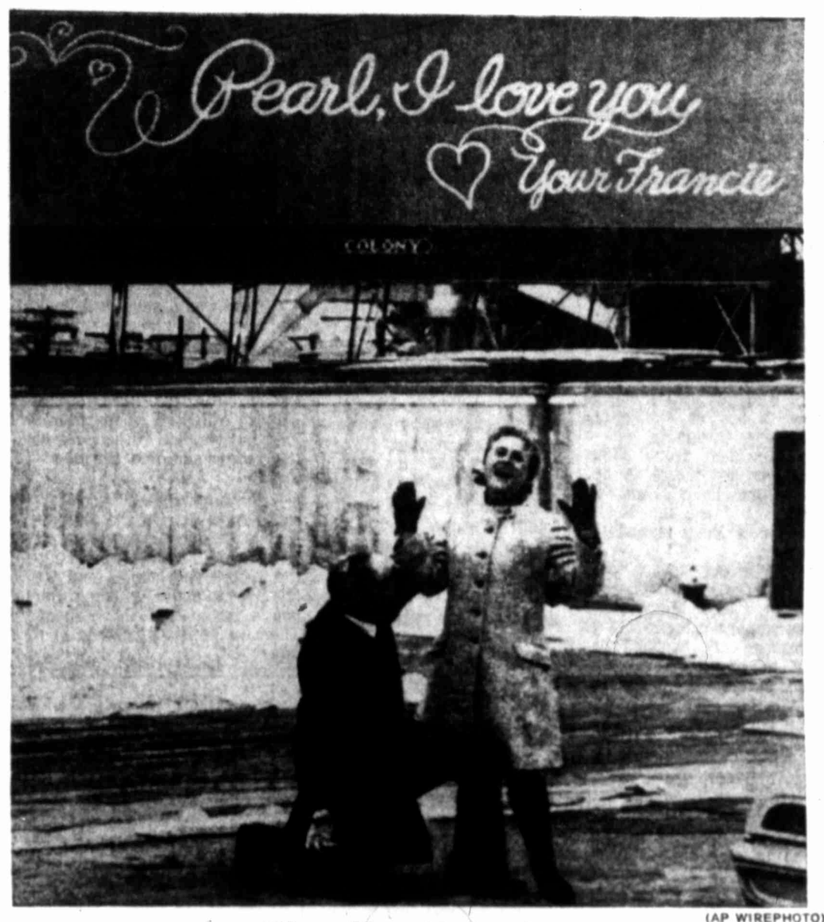

Winds gusting up to 55 m.p.h. officially flipped over and damaged three planes at Houston's Hobby Airport. Damage was reported also to a number of light planes at a private airport between Kemah and Dickinson.

In downtown Houston the powerful wind knocked a huge signboard down atop 15 parked cars, inflicting an estimated $30,000 loss.

Elsewhere over the state, turbulent weather disturbed the slumbers of thousands of Central and East Texas residents while menacing thunderstorms and threats of tornadoes spread from Southwest Texas all the way across the state.

One of the heavier downpours brought 1.46 inches of rain in an hour at Alice in South Texas.

Prior to the evening turbulanc Freezing rain mixed with snow peppered the Panhandle, Thunderstorms placking hail flailed other sections of West Texas and fog and drizzle cloaked the south half of the state.

Even Sophisticates Turn Sentimental On Feb. 14

By The Associated Press

A small Connecticut town waives the marriage license fee today. An Aztec, N.M., couple celebrates a very special anniversary. And even sophisticates turn sentimental. All because of Valentine's Day.

EIGHTH YEAR

For the eighth straight year, the town clerk in Windsor, Conn., is waiving the $5 marriage license fee for any couple who comes in on Feb. 14. "We have to take care of Cupid," said the assistant clerk, Mrs. Ann S. Lee.

Cupid struck a long time ago for Clyde and Fannie Ransom of Aztec. They were married on Valentine's Day 73 years ago in a northern New Mexico lumber camp. They are the town's oldest valentine sweethearts. Ransom is 94, his wife 93.

Junior valentines haven't been forgotten, however. Students at the Markham Grade School in Portland, Ore., can get a singing valentine delivered anywhere in the school for only 15 cents.

The singers are members of teacher Floyd Riley's class who are supporting a seven-year-old Vietnamese orphan. In addition to the singing offer, the students made comic valentines for sale to schoolmates. They made $11 in one day.

Across the country, an advertisement appeared under public notices in the New York Times. It read: "Mrs. B. Hudes. A very happy and healthy Valentine's Day from all of us. Class 5-2 P.S. 173 Queens."

Valentine's Day is the end of a busy round of activities for Warren Thompson. He's the postmaster of Loveville, Md., one of several appropriately named cities throughout the country which get requests for special postmarks for cards and letters.

Israelis Jordan Blast Pocket

By The Associated Press

Two Israeli jet fighters struck a suspected Arab guerrilla pocket inside Jordan today, the Israeli army announced.

BACKED UP

Israeli ground troops backed up the 25-minute air assault with firing across the border. A spokesman said the guerrillas at the Qatef outpost, inside Jordan just south of the Sea of Galilee, had fired bazookas and small arms at an army patrol.

Jordan reported two attacks by Israeli jets, one lasting 30 minutes and another an hour later. A spokesman said napalm bombs were dropped but Jordanian forces suffered no losses.

Another Israeli patrol came under light fire as it moved down a street Thursday night in the occupied town of Hebron, south of Jerusalem. The patrol returned the fire.

The army said there were no Israeli casualties in either incident.

Israel's second largest political group, the Gahal party, voted early today to remain in the coalition government headed by Premier Levi Eshkol, ending three days of political uncertainty.

The Gahal party was angered by Eshkol's statement in an interview with Newsweek magazine that his government was willing to give up much of the territory seized in the 1967 war. The Gahalites want Israel to keep all of the occupied areas.

DEFEATED

Eshkol's office said portions of the interview were not for publication, but a no-confidence vote was brought in the Knesset Tuesday. It was defeated 75-4, but the Gahal still threatened to quit the government.

Probes Aimed At Planet Mars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A pair of Mariner spacecraft will be launched toward Mars on Feb. 24 and March 24 to take pictures and gather scientific data that might establish whether life could exist on the red planet.

The twin 900-pound probes are to investigate the physical, chemical and thermal properties of the Martian surface and atmosphere as they fly within 2,000 miles of Mars. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration emphasized the vehicles could not detect life itself.

Cong Orders Units To Step Up Tempo Of War

HONG HONG (AP) — The Viet Cong's military command today ordered its troops and guerrillas in the lunar new year starting Monday to "launch new simultaneous attacks, increase military pressure on all fronts, kill all pacification teams, and liquidate the criminals and traitors that make up the puppet regime."

The order, broadcast by the Viet Cong Radio and rebroadcast by Radio Hanoi, said the war effort against the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces "must be intensified to insure that the new year is the most glorious and most victorious in our history."

The order called on Viet Cong units to "smash, kill, wipe out and liquidate" officials and administrators for the Saigon government.

It also ordered field commanders to "kill and wipe out" all Pacification teams, which are trying to win the peasantry over to the Saigon government.

Students Of Many Schools Clash With Troops, Police

By The Associated Press

A midwinter contagion of student protest gripped several campuses across the country today and National Guardsmen stood by to control any further disorders at two major universities.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles brought in 1,000 more guardsmen to relieve the 900 already on duty after four days of disorders at the University of Wisconsin's Madison campus. Also on hand were 600 policemen.

BATTALION

A battalion of 500 riot-trained guardsmen was billeted near the Durham, N.C., campus of Duke University where student demonstrators clashed with police and state troopers Thursday.

At the University of California campus in Berkeley police arrested 36 persons, including 22 students, after protesters overturned tables in a cafeteria and scattered catalogue cards in the main library.

A detail of 50 state troopers broke up a sit-in demonstration at the administration building of the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, Thursday night, arresting 34. They were protesting Dow Chemical Co. recruiting.

At the University of Chicago students who seized the administration building two weeks ago to protest the dismissal of an instructor voted overwhelmingly early today to end their sit-in, unofficial sources said.

In Madison an estimated 10,000 marchers led by Negroes walked from the campus to the state Capitol Thursday night where they chanted freedom songs and sang "America." The march ended back on campus without incident.

GAVE 'EM HELL

In previous demonstrations, the ranks of protesters had never numbered more than 5,000. "We gave the police hell," Willie Edwards, a Negro leader said afterward. "And we will come back tomorrow and give the police hell again."

Earlier the protesters and law officers clashed twice and police and guardsmen used tear gas to break up pickets who blocked one major thoroughfare. Six students were arrested.

The demonstrations began as an attempt to force the 33,000-student university to accept 13 Negro demands including establishment of a black studies center. The Students for a Democratic Society have since joined in.

At Duke the demonstrators were backing Negro demands for a black studies program under Negroes' control and an end to what they called the 8,000-student Methodist-supported university's "racist policies."

The clash between students and police came after 30 to 40 of the school's 100 Negro students ended a 10-hour occupation of the administration building.

Police fired tear gas to disperse the protesters and 20 students were treated later along with four policemen and a trooper injured by rocks and missiles pitched by the crowd.

In Berkeley Thursday's clash marked a continuation of an effort by a coalition of minority student groups which has been trying to close the campus for more than a month. They demand a minority studies college be established.

ELSEWHERE

Elsewhere there were these protests:

—In New York about 100 City College students, demanding a separate school of Negro and Puerto Rican studies, occupied the administration building, kicked in three doors, drank some liquor in the President's office and then left voluntarily after 4½ hours.

—About 200 male students at the University of Miami in Florida smashed several doors, windows and vending machines in a charge through dormitories early today after an abortive panty raid.

—At the University of Florida in Gainsville, 125 students marched on he home of President Stephen O'Connell Thursday night demanding his support for a professor who said publicly that a strong teachers union and militant students should combine to take over the university at the right moment.

—In Chicago, groups of 10 to 20 Negro students at Roosevelt University took control of two classes and said the tactic would continue until the administration grants demands for more classes on Negro culture. The school has about 6,200 students, including 900 Negroes.

TIE UP LINES

—At the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana, protesting students made hundreds of telephone calls to tie up lines to the administration building. They ask that Negro enrollment be upped to 10 per cent of the 30,000 student body. There are currently 900 Negroes enrolled.

—At Mississippi Valley State College 90 per cent of the 2,500 students stayed away from classes to back demands for course in Negro history, more political speakers and relaxed curfew hours for girls at the Itta Bena, Miss., campus.

Explosion Closes Canadian Exchange

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges were closed today after a time bomb wrecked the trading floor and injured 27 persons.

The blast Thursday ripped open walls, ceilings and windows, showering 300 persons on the floor and 50 persons in the visitors gallery with debris and shattered glass. Five of the injured received serious cuts and were kept in the hospital.

Several minutes before the explosion, which occurred about 40 minutes before the 3 p.m. closing, police received an anonymous tip that an explosive device had been planted in the 47-story building housing the exchange on Victoria Square, in the heart of the financial district.

It was the third explosion in Montreal this week and the eighth this year. During similar incidents several years ago, separatist groups seeking the secession of Quebec from Canada usually scrawled the letters of their organization at the site, but there have been no such clues this year.

Explosions Monday and Tuesday were directed at Canadian armed forces buildings. Three weeks ago a bomb was discovered in a building across the street from the stock exchanges outside the offices of a firm involved in a language dispute in a northern Quebec mining town. A guard threw it down a stairwell just before it exploded.

Charles Neapole, president of the Montreal exchange, said business would resume Monday. In the meantime, he said, brokers could switch their orders to the Toronto stock exchange.

Neapole said damage was extensive, especially to the big board that displays quotations and was "so highly sophisticated it required dust and humidity control."

"God knows what it will cost us," Neapole said. "It could easily be a million dollars."

The blast occurred in a corner of the visitors' gallery over the fourth-floor trading area the two exchanges share.

Charles Stanbury, an exchange employe who was showing about 50 women around, said he was about 10 feet from where the bomb seemed to explode.

"There was a very loud bang and a mass of smoke rolled over the trading floor," Stanbury said. "Huge chunks were ripped out of the walls and ceiling. In offices near the blast scene, ceilings collapsed on the people inside. Everyone rushed out of the rooms and into the elevators."

"We were stunned," said Raymond Aube, one of the 300 persons on the exchange floor at the time. "Our ears were ringing. There was smoke and we tried not to panic too much. But people began to run and shout. Then we huddled together in a bunch."

Five Pro Cowboys Add Texas Loot

DENVER, COLO. — Five professional cowboys won more than $1,000 each at the Southwestern International Rodeo in El Paso, Tex., which ended Sunday. More than $20,000 went to contestants, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said here today.

The El Paso All Around Cowboy (winning the most in two or more events) was Doug Brown, 22, Silverton, Ore., who pocketed $1,820 in saddle bronc and bull riding.

Dean Oliver, 39, Boise, Idaho, co-holder of a record seven world calf roping crowns, is well on his way to a record eighth championship with early season's winnings of $8,303. He won $674 at El Paso. Bud Farris, Las Cruces, his nearest rival, has earned $4,947. Oliver currently shares the record of most championships with Toots Mansfield, Big Spring.

Flapjack Supper Set This Evening

One of the Webb AFB student pilots who graduated this past week — and who leaves today for his next training assignment — told the Big Spring Kiwanians Thursday how the Webb training program was carried on.

He illustrated his talk with exciting color motion pictures made at Webb and in the skies overhead. He was Lt. David Parsons.

He thanked the community for its kind treatment and its hospitality and said he had many friends here he regretted to leave.

Dr. Dawson DeViney introduced the lieutenant to the club.

All Kiwanians were instructed to be at the Student Union Building at HCJC as soon after 2 p.m. Friday as possible for their part in the Friday night serving of the 17th Annual Kiwanis Club Pancake supper. The place is the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College. Serving begins at 5 p.m. and ends at 8 p.m.

Advance ticket sales have been fairly good, and all Kiwanians were asked to bring their tickets and money they have collected to the Student Union Building, said J. C. Pickle, ticket sale chairman.

The bacon cooks are the first scheduled to begin work and the chairman, Henry Thames, stressed the need for the entire crew to be present at 2 p.m.

Tickets for the pancake supper are to be available at the SUB door on Friday evening. The price is $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

These annual pancake suppers are one of the Kiwanians projects to raise money for work with underprivileged children.

Hundreds of people show up each year to take part in these annual suppers. The club is hopeful it will have a record turnout Friday night.

Dear Abby

The Mixed-Up Daughter

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter (I'll call her Mary) now in her upper twenties, after a brilliant scholastic career and two years of teaching at the university level, has "flipped out."

She hates "the establishment," the news media, our foreign policy — and is a real "hippie."

Mary is living with a college dropout, a boy of 20. Neither is employed, though he gets a small allowance from home. Their debts are piling up and their debtors have been contacting us because the boy is a minor and Mary signed the leases, etc.

They admit they smoke "pot" and my husband thinks the boy is pushing, though Mary denies it. (She stopped using L.S.D. at our urging.) My husband has offered to pay all their bills and buy Mary a car if she will leave this boy, get a job, and live conventionally. She refused with thanks.

My husband now wants to cut her off completely. He says that she's an adult now and we should refuse to have anything to do with her until she conforms to the conventional norms of society. I feel Mary is going through a delayed adolescence and I want to be available if she wants to communicate with us. What do you think?

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If your daughter "stopped using L.S.D." at your urging it indicated that you still have some influence with her. Don't be a crutch. Be a "net." Let her know you'll be there if she needs you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and have been dating this fellow who is 24 for about two months. He tells me he cares a lot for me, and I really like him a lot, too, but we have this problem about his hair.

He combs it straight down on his forehead and he looks like a teenager.

I told him in a nice way I didn't think that hair style suited him, and asked him to try combing it back.

Well, he did, and he looked like a distinguished young senator.

After a while he changed it back to the old way. When I asked him to please comb his hair back the way I liked it, he said, "I've been wearing it down for a long time and never had any complaints. If you really liked me, it wouldn't matter how I combed my hair."

Abby, we get along just fine — until it comes to his hair. This seems to be our only disagreement. Am I wrong to keep bugging him about it?

IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: It all depends upon what role you want to play in his life. If you'd like him "for keeps," keep quiet.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: That man who hasn't come near his wife since her hysterectomy because he finds the scar "repulsive," ought to be ashamed of himself.

My wife also has a scar on her body. But you know, Abby, I'm glad it's there because every time I see that scar it reminds me that if she didn't have the operation, she wouldn't be alive today. Sign me

Fat Pay Hike Becomes Effective For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Salaries of senators and representatives went up from $30,000 a year to $42,500 today, biggest increase in the history of Congress and a far cry from the one-time scale of $6 a day.

The raise took effect automatically as sort of Valentine's Day present that Congress bestowed upon itself by doing nothing to turn it down.

Besides the biggest raise in history for the lawmakers, it also was the first time they didn't have to take the political risk of actually voting on it.

Under a provision Congress put into a 1967 pay bill, the President recommends congressional salary increases which take effect automatically 30 days later unless the House or Senate vetoes them.

The raises were recommended by President Johnson just before he left office. The Senate rejected a veto attempt, but in the House the Rules Committee kept a similar motion from reaching the floor.

Under the same law, varying increases also went into effect for Cabinet members, federal judges and other high federal office-holders.

Although some members will no doubt complain that the current boost is not enough and others that it is too much, there's little question that the $42,500 will go farther than the meager wages paid the first congressmen.

"In Congress there are about five persons who look like gentlemen. All the rest come in the filthiest dress and are well indeed if they look like farmers," a British diplomat wrote home in 1805.

The scale then was $6 a day, an amount set in 1789 and unchanged until 1818.

Congressmen also got an allowance of $6 for every 20 miles they had to travel to get to Washington and back home—once. Now representatives are paid in full for one trip home each month Congress is in session, plus an extra one, and senators get seven.

The first congressional pay raise voted in 1818, increased the daily rate to $8. It lasted for 38 years.

In 1856 the members were finally put on an annual rate — $3,000. The authors of the legislation tried to cling to the no-work, no-pay concept of the daily wage by adding a provision that there would be a deduction for each day a member was absent for any reason other than illness.

Either the attendance in those days was remarkable, the excuses ingenious or the bookkeeping too difficult. At any rate the deduction provision was rarely if ever, used and quickly fell into disuse.

Salary legislation began to come a little quicker after that. In 1866 the rate was boosted to $5,000 and seven years later to $7,500. The second step proved to be too quick.

The financial panic of 1873 touched off a slump that caused the public to look with disfavor on the Congressional wallet-fattening and in 1874 the raise was repealed, dropping the salary back to $5,000.

The public wrath must have been intense. It was 33 years before Congress raised its pay again, then, in 1907, it eased up to $7,500 and made it stick.

'Soak The Other Guy' Letters Flood Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being flooded with mail on how to straighten the maze of the federal tax structure with "soak the other fellow" leading the list of suggestions.

Who the other fellow is differs, of course, depending on the status of the letter writer, but in most cases the advice is to soak millionaires, tax-exempt foundations, churches or married couples.

The volume of mail has taxed the answering-capacity of Congress since the House Ways and Means Committee announced that it would start tax hearings next Tuesday.

The suggestions are mainly from low and middle income people who won't be heard during the committee hearings unless they request a hearing. Very little mail is from business and other interests whose spokesmen already have been scheduled to testify.

Typical of the complaints and suggestions are these excerpts from letters sent to members of Congress and released to a newsman with the stipulation that no names nor hometowns would be used:

From Illinois—"We are struggling along to make a living and are forced to pay a surtax because of a deficit—yet our representatives have the gall to vote themselves an increase" in pay.

From Tennessee—"The income tax mess is now a scandal. The way it works out, the more you earn the less taxes you pay. How about some loopholes for the little fellow?"

From Alabama—"We taxpayers may revolt before long. It would be good for you to listen to the cries and screams from home from the people who pay for all those no good programs that squander our tax money."

From Kentucky—"Close the loopholes that enable millionaries to escape paying any taxes."

From California—"The middle class cannot afford to carry the full burden of the cost of government. See that we get equitable reform."

From Ohio—"The income from church property and business operated for a profit should be taxed. Members of religious groups who take a vow of poverty and then teach in public schools or hold other positions outside the church should be taxed the same as others."

From Texas—"You experts in Washington should find some way to relieve retired persons and salaried persons who now carry most of the tax load."

From Oregon—"It is past time that something be done to close the loopholes only the moneyed know anyway and make everyone pay, thus relieving the burden on John Q. Average Working Citizen."

A Devotional For The Day

Christ suffered on your behalf, and thereby left you an example; it is for you to follow in his steps. (I Peter 2:21, NEB)

PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, help us to remember that we can use obstacles as steppingstones to Christian maturity. As Thy Son Jesus suffered, may we in our suffering find fellowship with Thee. This we pray in His name. Amen.

Storm Warning For Foreign Trade

The steep 1968 drop in the United States' foreign-trade surplus cannot help but sharply affect both domestic and foreign economic policies. But there is no pat answer as to how and in what ways.

The value of U.S. exports in excess of imports last year was only $726 million, lowest since the Great Depression era. From 1941 through 1967, that excess ran between $4-$7 billion, and this was what largely covered the cost of foreign aid and military operations abroad. And even so, the United States has been accumulating serious balance-of-payments deficits since World War II, draining the gold reserves supporting the dollar.

The 1968 falloff cannot be blamed on inflation, because exports rose nine per cent, a good showing. But if the current inflation rate continues it is likely to depress export trade, even to the point of converting the trade surplus into a deficit. This is a major reason why inflation simply must be checked.

Last year's trade surplus squeeze is mainly attributable to a whopping 23 per cent increase in imports. The Commerce Department does not consider prices the big factor here either, but a reflection of the buying power of higher U.S. incomes.

This will undoubtedly intensify the congressional demand for import quotas and other protective trade barriers. But that could only lead to foreign retaliation against U.S. exports, a squeeze on our foreign trade surplus from the other direction.

Ending the Vietnam war and pushing for reform of the international financial system are ultimate ways out of the dilemma now posed. Meanwhile the struggle is to continue the exports rise while improving domestic competitiveness with imports by vigorous private enterprise.

State Minimum Wage Bill

Prospects are that during this session of the Legislature Texas will join the 32 states that have minimum wage laws to cover workers not reached by the federal law. The measure failed last session in a welter of controversy, but the tide now seems to be running strongly for the legislation.

Gov. Preston Smith surprised many of his supporters by recommending a minimum-wage law in his opening address to the Legislature. It also has the promised support of Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. The bills already introduced follow the form approved by the Interim Committee on Employment and Wage problems, and they have strong House and Senate sponsorship.

As now drafted, they would provide a minimum wage for non-farm workers of $1.25 in 1970, $1.40 in 1971 and $1.60 in 1972. The farm workers' minimum would be $1.10 in 1970, 20 cents less than the federal farm minimum but to rise with it in future.

Nonfarm exemptions would include domestics, apprentices, students under 18, the handicapped and the aged, and some others. There are special adjustments for boarded and piecework farm workers.

A state minimum-wage law should not only help combat poverty to achieve social progress, but should also strengthen the Texas economy by improving personal income and consumer markets. And it would not appreciably harm Texas' competitige position in business, industry and agriculture, not with similar laws already on the books federally and in a majority of the states.

Hunger In Our Own Country

WASHINGTON — How to translate words into action, the best of intentions into deeds — that is President Nixon's challenge in every field and nowhere more than confronting the cancer of hunger in affluent America.

He spoke the words when he visited the Department of Agriculture. He talked about wiping out hunger with America's abundance on the farms as a great bounty.

THE NEW PRESIDENT was addressing the top level of a bureaucracy of some 107,000 employes, a bureaucracy as deeply entrenched as any in this sprawling, self-proliferating government. They have been engaged for nearly 35 years in enforcing a system of scarcity, paying producers — many of them the big farmers — to take land out of production.

THE PERMANENT civil servants, the managers of the bureaucracy, work in a cozy, interlocking directorate with the agriculture committees of Senate and House. The committees are under the iron control of Southerners who perpetuate the cotton-tobacco culture of their region. Cracking this tight little ring, which he must do if he means to free America's bounty from the chains of scarcity, Nixon will have a head-on collision with forces in the Deep South where tender Republican susceptibilities are involved.

HAVING SPOKEN the good words, Nixon acted to revoke a Johnson budget gimmick which would have cut back advance payments in the feed-grain program, and to a minor degree in cotton, from 50 per cent to 25 per cent. The advance was restored to 50 per cent. This may have no real significance in a long-term struggle to break the producers' hold, yet it does indicate their power.

The struggle, it is hardly necessary to add, cannot be confined to the narrow arena of Washington. Aroused public opinion is an all-important factor.

WE HAVE for so long hidden our poor that those of us on the other side of the poverty line do not want to believe that up to 10 million Americans suffer from hunger. These hungry people live down the back roads and in the slack shanty towns of Southern communities. They exist in a kind of half-life on the fringes of Northern towns. They eke out an existence in big-city slums. Most of us don't want to believe that, in a period of high prosperity, malnutrition on a large scale can mean mental and physical retardation, with symptoms like those found in underdeveloped countries in Asia and Africa.

A SENATE subcommittee touring Mississippi two years ago dramatized the appalling evidence of hunger there. Senators, even conservatives like George Murphy of California, were shocked at what they saw and heard. It was the hidden America just around the corner from the razzle-dazzle of our chromium-plated affluence.

The committee's findings led to formation of a Citizens' Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Malnutrition. The Board of Inquiry came up with a dramatic report, "Hunger U.S.A.," refuting the claims of the Department of Agriculture and the Office of Economic Opportunity that the hungry in Mississippi were getting any significant help through the distribution of surplus foods. The report showed that, while Congress was appropriating billions for farmers who took their land out of production and for food to be sent overseas, it was only after seven months of haggling that $185,000,000 was voted for food stamps.

THE MOMENTUM of aroused public opinion began to make an impact. A quiet crusader, Robert B. Choate, marshalling all the facts, contributed perhaps more than any single individual to what is, hopefully, the next stage in the attempt to blast through the entrenched interests on Capitol Hill and in the Department of Agriculture. The coming phase is critical, for it will determine whether the momentum is sustained or whether most people, having got over the shock of widespread hunger, will say, "Sure, we know all about that."

Billy Graham

I can't agree on many doctrines of the church of which I am a member. Would you suggest a transfer to another church? K.M.

You probably will never find a group of people who hold every belief that you do. In fact, we all have points of view that differ slightly from others. This does not seem to be sufficient reason for separation from a people who are engaged in winning people to Christ. If you are in agreement in essentials, then have charity in non-essentials. If the differences are so great that they hinder a spirit of love and restrict your service, then that is another matter. Paul once said: "As much as lieth in you, live at peace with all men." This does not mean compromise but rather understanding. The important thing is to have the Bible as our authority and to glorify Jesus Christ as our motive.

Inflation Persists

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation persists, and it isn't difficult to measure it directly. The rising cost of living casts a spotlight on the issue. But reflected light, as demonstrated by wage increases, illuminates the situation also.

INCREASES in wages and benefits through collective bargaining averaged 4.5 per cent in 1966. A year later the increases were 5.6 per cent and last year the figure rose to 6.6 per cent.

The question now is, "How much in 1969?" With most contracts still to be negotiated a precise figure is impossible to give, but a good guess is that raises are likely to average at least 5 per cent.

The reason: Inflation simply has not been conquered by the 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes or the reduction in government spending. And the rather recent tightening of monetary policy may not take hold until late 1969.

THE PRESSURE for wage increases, therefore, is likely to remain strong throughout the year, for wage demands are the result not only of present inflation but of anticipated increases in living costs.

The continuation of this inflation—living costs increased at the rate of 5 per cent a year in the fourth quarter of 1968 compared with 2.8 per cent for all of 1967—points up the critical need for coordination of fiscal and monetary policies.

Fiscal action in 1968, consisting of reduced government spending and the surtax on incomes, has been partly compromised by a monetary policy that permitted a swift increase in the supply of money.

THE IMPLICATION here is not that one or the other was right, but that their efforts were poorly coordinated. The President and Congress tightened fiscal policy. The Federal Reserve permitted money supply to expand.

The net result of this dichotomy was a slowdown in the rate at which purchasing power increased, but nevertheless a plentiful supply of money that made purchases possible regardless of rising costs.

In the opinion of perhaps a majority of economists, such an ineffective anti-inflation policy cannot be permitted to continue or else the wage-price spiral will generate a really destructive storm this year. This is likely to be a year of memorable action, primarily from the monetary people.

IT MIGHT BE recalled that the first attempts at controlling persistent inflation, of curing the patient, was through doses of advice, or guideposts as they were called. But most patients tend to ignore advice.

When last year it was deemed necessary to raise taxes and cut spending the action was referred to as economic surgery, a term meant to convey not only the sense of danger to the patient but that the recovery also might be painful.

Now at least one economist, Leif Olsen of the First National City Bank, is referring to the required action as an economic transplant.

The transplant Olsen refers to is a reconsideration of how to deal with inflation, an application of more effective methods, including more emphasis on monetary policy.

THE JOB OF the monetary authorities nevertheless is not clear cut. It is a tricky one, for a crash program of restricting credit might cure the illness by killing the patient. Inflation can always be ended by destroying businesses and jobs.

He Was A Real Swinger

By JOE WING
(Subbing for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — When old friends from the valley of Salt Creek come to town, they sometimes give me the third degree on the sin in the suburbs that they read so much about.

That's only natural because I've lived for years in Port Washington, a commuters' town on Long Island's old Gold Coast —just the sort of place where suburban sin is supposed to thrive.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, the town does have its sinners; until rather recently we had one in our own home.

We called him Tiger, although his fashionably shaggy black hair and bumbling good nature were not in the least tigerish.

In practical matters, Tiger wasn't much good. He wouldn't fetch the paper or do tricks or bark at the right people. His IQ seemed definitely below par. But when it came to matters of the heart, he could outsmart us all.

He must have memorized the name, address and telephone number of every eligible female on our side of the Long Island Rail Road tracks. As soon as one of them became recpetive, Tiger made ready to take off.

NO MATTER HOW carefully we guarded the door, Tiger would somehow get out. Given a six-foot lead, there was no catching him. Ordinarily obedient within the capacity of his limited intelligence, he knew no master when in the throes of love.

It was no easy matter either to track him down. If he started west, it was likely as not he would swing around later to the east. If he headed south, he wouldn't be surprised when the dog catcher picked him up on the north side of town.

Tiger liked dog catchers. They would open the door of their Black Maria, and he would walk right in. His favorite dog catcher got tired of hauling him to the pound and started returning him to us instead.

NOT MERELY an ardent chaser, Tiger was an effective lover. Of all the dogs that used to gather at Dooley Schneider's house when Minnie was in heat, only Tiger was welcomed. We wish now we had accepted one of the pups that came along later.

As Tiger grew older, his adventures were spaced more widely, and he spent more time drowsing on the front hall rug. But even at the age of 12 the old excitement would sometimes come upon him.

He would tremble and abstain from food until he could get out and away.

His last fling therefore caused us no immediate alarm. Tiger was out on the town for the night, so what? It had happened scores of times before. But when morning came, we found him lying on his side at the end of the front walk. He had barely made it home, after a heart attack.

WE BURIED TIGER in the vacant lot by the side of our house. There was no service, but Dooley Schneider provided the epitaph. She said:

"He was the sexiest dog in town."

There Are Hormones—And Hormones

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it true that all hormone pills are the same as the birth control pill? I have a friend who says so, but I always understood that some are different. — Mrs. W.R.

You are entirely right. The birth control pills are a combination of two types of female hormones (different brands use different proportions, and there is research work now in progress which indicates that further improvements may be in the offing).

However, the body contains a considerable variety of hormones besides those used in "the pill." Among others that are given in pill form (and sometimes in other forms) are male hormones (testosterone), adrenal hormones (cortisone and its derivatives) and thyroid hormones. So your friend is mistaken.

• • •

Dear Doctor: Would you discuss the advisability of taking cortisone shots for bursitis while taking birth control pills? Is there any connection between the hormones? — Mrs. J.H.C.

Technically, it is probably true that all hormones have some relationship to others, although this can be quite remote and indirect.

In the instance you ask about, cortisone is injected into the affected bursa or joint, and the effect is strictly local, and confined to that area. There would be no conflict with the taking of birth control pills at the same time.

• • •

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it true that intra-uterine devices can be left in the uterus indefinitely? If so, the thought occurs that these contraceptives, worn constantly, could protect women against rape and its possible aftermath of a terrible disease. What is your opinion? — Mrs. R.J.M.

These devices are intended for continuous use — some women can tolerate them, but others can't.

But their purpose is to prevent pregnancy. They do not in any way prevent venereal disease.

• • •

You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and with no gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. How To Keep The Great Humble

A Big Springer who shall remain nameless was in a crowd leaving a concert recently when he overheard an elderly woman say to her companion:

"Oh, she's the loveliest thing I've heard since Jeanette MacDonald was here the first time!"

HE COULD hardly wait to repeat it to a friend who treasures such quaint comments.

But the friend, who knows the real purpose of friends is to keep each other humble, replied, "I can top that." And he did.

Jascha Heifetz once got into an elevator at Radio City Music Hall carrying his violin.

The operator looked at the case distastefully and said, "You'll have to take that up in the freight elevator."

"But I'm Jascha Heifetz," Jascha Heifetz protested.

"I don't care if you're Runinoff," the elevator operator replied. "You'll have to take the freight elevator."

He looked at me blankly.

"You don't know about Elbert Hubbard?" I asked.

He looked at me painfully, and said, "No, but I've heard about the problems his old mother had."

I wouldn't even look at him.

Do We Stand Against Communism?

WASHINGTON — Although the United States recently stopped bombing North Vietnam as a gesture to help make peace, the Hanoi government now is known to be planning a big offensive against South Vietnam.

This development has more significance than what the negotiators are saying to each other in Paris. For it means that North Vietnam has about made up its mind that the United States is ready to get out of the war at any price, and that this is what American public opinion today is supposedly demanding.

THE COMMUNIST tacticians have access to all American publications. They surely have noted the trend of thought of many of the so-called "intellectuals" who keep on saying that America "escalated" the war in Vietnam, and that the South Vietnamese aren't worth protecting because there is some corruption and mismanagement in the government at Saigon.

THE REAL STORY of why the United States has gone to such lengths to defend South Vietnam actually hasn't been emphasized. Indeed, former President Johnson, in an interview in "True" magazine with Peter Lisagor, Washington bureau chief of the Chicago Daily News, says the disagreement with our policies in Vietnam by young people in America might have been avoided "if we had opened the process of decision-making on the war more fully to the public."

Mr. Johnson adds that perhaps he was so busy "trying to bring about the peace we so deeply desired that we didn't spend enough time making sure the public understood the reasons for our decisions."

THE TRUTH IS the United States never openly named the Soviet Union and the Red China regime as the primary adversaries of this country and did not formally proclaim that a "state of war" existed in Southeast Asia. Meanwhile, both Moscow and Peking supplied billions of dollars worth of arms and equipment, as well as military advisers, to help kill 31,379 Americans and wound 198,374 in the Vietnam war.

The question now is whether American public opinion can be truly described as inclined toward a virtual surrender and toward a disregard of the sacrifices made by American and allied troops and by the hundreds of thousands of South Vietnamese soldiers.

THE BASIC ISSUE today is how the provisions of any agreement reached at Paris can be guaranteed unless the United States is willing to keep an adequate military force in South Vietnam to convince the Communists that any violation of the pact will not be ignored.

Too many Americans have been told that the United States had no business assisting South Vietnam in the first place despite the commitments made by this country in the Southeast Asia Treaty, and that America should not be sending any troops abroad no matter what the Communists may do. This is precisely the reasoning used by the "isolationists" who, by their attitude, helped to convince the German imperialists before World War I and the Nazis before World War II that they could send their armies across Europe and that America would not do anything to help the free peoples to preserve their independence.

THE FUNDAMENTAL principles involved haven't changed. What the critics should do is to re-read the tragic pages of history and recognize the dangers of a third world war which can arise from a wrong assumption in Moscow that misguided dissent by an uninformed minority represents the alleged will of the American people to get out of the Vietnam war by any means, regardless of consequences.

'Sufficiency' Is Not Enough

WASHINGTON — Is it sloppy workmanship by Labor? Is it government-be-damned, greed in the executive suites? Aside from the defects exposed by Ralph Nader in autos and drugs, the record in weapons-disasters is one to shake the stoutest heart:

AN APOLLO capsule burned up on its pad; the carriers Forrestal and Enterprise exploded at sea, the submarines Scorpion and Thresher broke up in the ocean depths, the F-111 failed in the air and the U-2 and the Pueblo were incapable of their missions. The list is incomplete, and official secrecy hides many more failures.

THERE ARE numerous studies which indicate we are becoming also-rans to the Russians. The aviation trade journals report that the Soviet Union has beaten us into operational use of a supersonic passenger plane, and that Aeroflot is seizing supremacy in commercial airlift. The House Armed Services committee, using "unclassified sources only," finds the U.S.S.R. overcoming the U.S.A. in "strategic naval balance." The Senate Preparedness committee warns that we are about to be surpassed by Soviet nuclear weaponry. Again, the list is incomplete. Again, the things we don't know would worsen the publicly-acknowledged loss of American foremostness.

WHAT TO DO about it? There are right remedies and wrong ones. President Nixon has vowed to make us second to none, although regrettably he has quibbled between "sufficiency" and "superiority." Sen. Stennis, more right than the President is in this instance, has pulled a power-play in order to confront our unreadiness problem. Stennis will remain chairman of Preparedness, now that he's in the catbird seat as chairman of Armed Services. He will work closely with Sen. Russell, who has become chairman of Appropriations, while remaining a senior member of Armed Services. There will be a ruthless investigation of weapons-reliability and weapons-cost, with the full partnership of Defense Secretary Laird. This is the right way to go about it. Together, the White House, the Senate, the House and the Defense Department will find out what ails our vaunted industrio-military complex, but there will be no "doctors' plot" to kill the patient.

THE WRONG WAY, the "doctors' plot," is to criticize this complex to death. It will be done in the name of reform, naturally, to take the profits-incentive out of weapons-making. And in the name of "peace," you see, to settle for second-best, or "sufficiency," which is a stealthy way toward unilateral disarmament.

Flocculation basins at the Big Spring water filter plant have been drained and are undergoing repair and maintenance. Metal parts within the vats are being painted, and new gears are being installed to turn the paddle-wheels, which stir the water so that chemicals put into the water will coagulate impurities into larger particles. When the particles become large enough, they settle to the bottom of other tanks, taking the trapped chemicals with them.

Warren Commission Version Under Attack In Shaw Trial

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The official version of John F. Kennedy's assassination was under courtroom attack today by prosecutors armed with pictures and a toy-size model of Dallas' Dealey Plaza where the President was shot.

Clay Shaw, 55, the retired businessman charged with conspiring to murder Kennedy, became a spectator at his own trial Thursday as the state began trying to show that more than one gunner killed Kennedy.

"The second and third shots were fired almost back to back," testified Buell Frazier of Irving, Tex., who gave Lee Harvey Oswald a ride to work on the day Kennedy was shot.

"You mean simultaneously . . ." began Asst. Dist Atty. James L. Alcock.

"Objection," boomed chief defense lawyer F. Irvin Dymond.

Criminal Dist. Court Judge Edward A. Haggerty sustained Dymond. But earlier he had overruled him on a major legal issue — the defense contention that the conspiracy trial should not go into the assassination itself.

"There is no question that the state can overprove its case," ruled Haggerty. "I feel that what is being offered now about what happened in Dallas is relevant evidence."

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison rarely seen since his opening statement, said at the outset of testimony that the state would show Kennedy was hit by bullets fired from different directions.

The Warren Commission report said Oswald was a lone sniper, with no credible evidence of a conspiracy.

Shaw's indictment said Oswald and David W. Ferrie, both now dead, were among his coconspirators. Shaw said he never laid eyes on either man.

In shifting the focus of testimony to the plaza where the President was shot Nov. 22, 1963, Garrison's assistants opened with repeated screenings of the Abraham Zapruder film.

City Manager Given Ideas For Various New Projects

By KEN LEACH

Eight people spoke up Thursday night to tell City Manager Larry Crow of programs they would like to see incorporated into the city's upcoming budget. Eighteen attended the meeting, including Mayor Arnold Marshall, and Commissioners Jimmy Morehead and Garner McAdams.

The meeting was called by Crow to give citizens an opportunity to be heard while the budget is in the planning process.

Jerry Worthy, Snyder Highway, speaking as president of the Howard County Historical Society, asked that $500 be included into the budget to buy a state-approved historical marker to be placed at the site of the "big spring" in city park and four markers at the entrances to the city.

Mrs. Harold Davis, 1615 Indian Hills, praised the city for its participation in developing the spring site and urged more development of park areas.

Jack Sheppard, 1417 Wood, suggested that since the sales tax would bring in more money than originally expected, a cut in the city's ad valorem tax could be considered. Crow said that because the upcoming budget only covered a six-month period, no taxes would be levied by it. Any tax levy will come with the budget prepared for October, according to Crow.

Jack Watkins, 1200 Pennsylvania, suggested any surplus money from the current budget should be saved. He also praised the city's new purchasing manual and Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson, who prepared it.

Worthy, speaking as chairman of the Traffic Commission, said that the city needed more sidewalks in school areas. He suggested that as new paving is put down on streets, the right of way be prepared to receive sidewalks as money is available.

Watkins said he liked the joint city-school effort to put parks on school play grounds. He felt that the schools should pick up a larger portion of the total cost of developing the parks.

Mrs. Mary Thomas, 805 Edwards, suggested that all water used by city departments be metered and charged to them at regular rates.

Jim Baum, 608 W. 16th, speaking as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Board, made several requests. He asked that the city hire a parks and recreation director, and said that most cities the size of Big Spring have such a director. Baum said the average salary would be $8,500 a year. Other suggestions by Baum included a $2,500 fishing barge at Moss Lake. He said an enclosed heated barge would pay for itself. He said a mini-park at the site of the Crawford Hotel would cost about $3,500.

Mrs. Davis, speaking as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce cultural affairs committee, urged consideration of Baum's suggestion for the parks director.

Dr. J. E. Hogan, 509 Westover, suggested that the city undertake a program of beautifying the school grounds. He said that the city should install and maintain watering systems. He said that such a program would reduce injuries to children, who now play on the rocky playgrounds. He said it would not matter who paid for the system, since the taxpayers would be paying for it regardless of which agencies picked up the tab. He pointed out that the school grounds are public, and therefore everyone's responsibility.

Ken Leach, 405 Donley, said that the city should use its equipment and hire a man to remove junk cars from the city. The man hired could be a temporary employe and used just until the problem is brought under control, he said.

ACTED ALONE

Case Against Sirhan Outlined By Prosecutor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I did it for my country:"

That, claims the prosecution, is what Sirhan Bishara Sirhan said after the assasssination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June.

But in outlining the state's first-degree murder case against Sirhan Thursday, prosecutor David N. Fitts did not identify the country in the quotation. Sirhan, 24, was born in Jordan, but has lived in the United States since age 12. He has been pictured as an ardent Arab nationalist.

Emile Zola Berman, one of the three defense attorneys, was to make his opening statement today. In it, Berman was expected to pave the way for a defense of diminished responsibility aimed at saving Sirhan from the gas chamber.

Such a defense—a California practice that recognizes a defendant may be legally sane yet not fully responsible for his actions—would mean heavy reliance on psychiatric testimony.

Kennedy was shot in a kitchen hallway of the Ambassador Hotel early last June 5 after addressing a victory celebration. He had just won the California presidential primary.

"The evidence will show," Fitts said, "that the defendant, Sirhan Sirhan, alone was responsible for this tragedy . . . that he acted alone without concert with anyone."

Fitts said Rafer Johnson, the former decathlon champion, helped disarm Sirhan and then asked, "Why did you do it, why did you do it?" Sirhan's reply, Fitts said, was, "I will explain."

The question was asked again, Fitts said, by Jesse Unruh, Democratic leader of the California State Assembly who rode with the policemen taking Sirhan to jail.

"I did it for my country:" the prosecutor quoted Sirhan.

"Why him, he was trying to help?" Fitts continued the narrative and added that Sirhan replied: "It's too late, too late."

And when the question was put for the third time by policemen, Fitts said Sirhan answered: "Do you think I'm crazy, so you can use it in evidence against me."

While Fitts, a distinguished looking gray-haired man addressed the jury, Sirhan sat with his chin cupped in his right hand. He paid rapt attention, smiling occasionally, seemingly relaxed. Several times he arched his eyebrows, as if to question a point.

His tiny, gray-haired mother sitting in the front row, wept softly when the prosecutor's chronology came to the slaying. She sat with 21-year-old Munir Sirhan, another of her five sons. In her lap was a small notebook in which she made notes in Arabic.

Fitts said the state will prove that Sirhan:

—Obtained the pistol for $25 from a coworker of his brother;

—On June 2 visited the kitchen area of the Ambassador—while a pre-election party for Kennedy was going on in another room—and was seen "leaning or lounging;"

—"Spent hours firing the pistol" at a range the afternoon before the shooting and said he was going to use it "to kill a dog;"

—Was in the hallway 1½ hours before the shooting and asked bus boys whether Kennedy would pass that way.

When the senator came through, shaking hands with kitchen help, Fitts said, "the defendant, who had been standing on a tray rack, stepped quickly from it and strode a few feet to the New York senator.

Misleading Advertising By Insurance Firms Reported

AUSTIN (AP) — Some insurance companies have been guilty of misleading advertising, a state Senate committee reported today.

The Senate Insurance Investigating Committee recommended that the state Board of Insurance be given authority to control all insurance advertising.

In a report to the legislature, the committee said:

"We found that the complaint of false and-or misleading advertising by some companies most certainly had merit. It must generally be said that misleading advertising far exceeds plain false advertising.

"We have examined carefully many of the written advertisements and find that an average layman, unskilled in insurance language and terminology would have a most difficult if not impossible task of determining the coverages and exclusions thereon."

The committee recommended that the insurance board hold a public hearing to determine what rules and guidelines it should issue on insurance advertising. The board also should be given the power to enforce such rules by both civil and criminal court action against the violators, the committee said.

The committee said it was fully aware that many insurance companies and individuals want federal control of the insurance industry.

The committee opposed federal control, saying it would injure Texas companies and "The insurance buying public would suffer immeasurably."

Members of the committee are Sens. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, chairman; Jack Strong of Longview, Joe Christie of El Paso and Murray Watson of Waco.

Other recommendations made by the committee included those:

—Requiring agents who sell hospital, health and accident insurance to pass a written examination.

—Establishing a blue ribbon committee to investigate "all the facts concerning reserves of every kind and character and determine if there are any valid reasons why every type of insurance company should be required to maintain minimum and equal reserves. This committee should make an "in-depth study of the insurance industry in Texas."

—Requiring that the insuring clause of a policy should be in bold letters and that immediately after this clause "all exclusions and waiting periods" should be set out in plain language in bold type. This will help solve the nagging problem of using a pre-existing condition as a ground to deny a claim, the committee said.

—Increasing the salary of all insurance board personnel, including members of the board and the commissioner. Board members now make $21,000 a year, the commissioner $19,500.

—Hiring more field investigators.

—Continuing the Senate Insurance Investigating Committee at the conclusion of this legislative session.

Marker Is Dedicated

COLORADO CITY (SC) — More than 150 spectators attended the dedication Thursday at 2:30 p.m. of the historical marker honoring the First State Bank of Loraine.

The major portion of the program was held in the First United Methodist Church with Loraine mayor, Dr. Bruce Johnson, as master of ceremonies.

Benton Templeton, Stephenville, reviewed the early day history of Loraine and noted that his father, J. M. Templeton, was one of the bank organizers in 1908, shortly after the organization of the City of Loraine in 1907.

Fred Brown, Dallas, gave the history of the bank. Brown was the first president of the bank. Herbert Mearse, present president of the bank, spoke briefly on the bank today.

Mrs. K. L. Taylor, widow of the immediate past president of the bank, unveiled the marker and Mitchell County Judge Elmer Martin read the inscription. Mrs. Hal Bennett, Loraine, planned the program.

Fringe Benefits

Gov. Preston Smith made a brief appearance in the House Chamber Thursday and performed what he termed a "fringe benefit" of his new job as governor — introducing Carol Ann Bass, 18, the Blueberry Queen of North Carolina, who called on the governor during a goodwill tour.

Explorer's Unit To Be Ambulance

Howard County will have an emergency ambulance service until commissioners court can find a substitute for Alert Ambulance, Inc., which will cease making emergency calls tonight.

Howard County Judge Lee Porter said today that Explorer Post 136 of Sand Springs has volunteered the use of its emergency rescue unit until another ambulance service can be found. Commissioners will tackle the problem Monday.

"The unit will be strictly for emergency service, and will not make transfers of persons to hospitals, unless there is an emergency," he said.

Lee Roy Wright, of the Explorer Post, said the rescue unit is used as a training device for post members, but added that it could be used as an ambulance. The unit is under direction of the Howard County Sheriff's Department, and is sponsored by Cosden Oil and Chemical Co.

The unit is a panel truck equipped with a radio on the sheriff's office frequency, a cot, portable powered jack assembly, and first aid equipment.

The Sand Springs Volunteer Fire Department will operate the car for emergency use, Wright said, and it will be dispatched through the sheriff's office.

"We have the unit for our own use, but will make it available to the county as long as it's needed," Wright said.

Minor Mishap

A driverless car, owned by Hamlin Elrod, Forsan, and a parked car, owned by V. C. Melton, Andrews, were in collision in the Highland Shopping Center parking lot Thursday.

Bike Is Stolen

Mrs. John Syrios, 3703 La Junta, reported to police Thursday that a bicycle belonging to one of her children had been taken from the playground at Marcy Elementary School.

County To Be Represented At Park Talks

Howard County Commissioner Bill Crooker said this morning that he will attend the park discussion meeting Wednesday between city commissioners and school district trustees. Crooker said that he will urge other commissioners, at their meeting Monday, to join him at the meeting.

The meeting between the city and school officials was called so the two agencies could work out plans for a city-school park at Airport Elementary School. The plan has been in the mill since the city budgeted money in April for developing the park.

"I think it would be interesting for the three (city, county and school) to sit down together," Crooker said. He said that at present he did not have anything to say at the meeting, but he would like to be there in case either of the other two agencies has anything it would like to bring up with the county.

Investigation Is Continuing

There were no new developments today in the police investigation of the death of a four-month-old baby boy here Wednesday.

"At present, an intensive investigation is being made," Chief of Police Jay Banks said this morning.

A local doctor notified police after the baby was brought by a baby sitter to a local hospital for care. An autopsy was performed upon the body of the infant, Banks said Thursday.

Firemen To Make Ambulance Calls

After midnight tonight, the City of Big Spring will be in the emergency ambulance business until arrangements can be made for an ambulance service here.

Bruce Frazier, manager of Alert Ambulance Service, notified the city Tuesday that his company could no longer furnish emergency ambulance service after today. He cited recent rulings from the Department of Labor and the Texas Department of Public Welfare as his reasons for terminating his service here.

Under the city's operation, as approved by the city commissioners, the fire department will provide one station wagon equipped as required by the state for ambulance service, plus a resuscitator, City Manager Larry Crow said this morning.

"Until further notice when other means may be available, emergency ambulance transportation for injured or the seriously ill, where warranted, will be provided by the fire department," Crow said.

This service will be provided within the city limits and will be dispatched through the police department, Crow said. Police officers will encourage people to use private transportation where feasible and call upon the fire department only where, in their judgment, an ambulance is required, he said.

Meanwhile, the city is seeking sealed bids from anyone interested in providing the city with 24-hour emergency ambulance service and a transfer service. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Feb. 24.

Alert Ambulance Service will continue to provide a transfer service, until the new franchise is awarded, according to Frazier. The commissioners voted Tuesday to allow Frazier's company to continue operating the transfer service within the city until some other arrangement can be made.

Railroads Want Federal Aid For Passenger Runs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad industry today proposed a joint government-industry program to sustain passenger train service and avert what it termed a "public transportation crisis."

The Association of American Railroads said the proposal had been approved unanimously by its board of directors as the only logical solution to the passenger train problem. Historically, passenger train service has been allowed, sometimes encouraged, to disappear.

Thomas M. Goodfellow, president of the association, said railroads are "willing and anxious to do what they can" to keep passenger trains in operation.

"But we're forced to operate money-losing trains," he said. "We feel the government should assume the obligation to share in the cost."

Goodfellow asserted, however, that the railroads "still believe as firmly as ever in the free enterprise system."

"But we also believe," he said, "that the public should support public services required of a public industry just as they support services provided by the Post Office and police and fire department."

The railroad plan, he said, would not affect those passenger runs now paying their own way.

But those money-losing trains that the government decides must be continued would remain in operation with the government making up any deficits incurred, he said.

The government support would be determined by cost procedures formulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission within the framework of necessary legislation, he said.

Tot Charged In Jaywalking

DENVER (AP) — Five-year-old Leigh G. Barron of Denver is scheduled to appear in county court Monday on a charge of jaywalking.

Patrolman Louis N. Vecchiarelli gave the youngster a ticket Jan. 18 after he ran into the street and was struck by a car. Police said at the time the ticket was issued to protect the driver, who was not at fault.

They said they decided to go through with the court action against the boy "to impress traffic safety on his mind."

Leigh said he is going to tell the judge he was in the wrong.

Grayson Acquires Monahans Station

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission announced Wednesday its approval of these applications:

Monahans, Tex. — Transfer of license of KVKM-TV from John B. Walton, trading as Tri-Cities Broadcasters, to Grayson Enterprises, Inc., for $530,000, less an amount due on a contract with General Electric. Grayson operates KLBK-TV, Lubbock, and KWAB-TV, Big Spring.

Bob Galbraith, manager of the local station, said the approval would not be effective for 30 days, at which time further announcements would be made.

W. A. Laswell Undergoes Surgery

W. A. Laswell, 111 E. 16th, is in Room 408-D in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock recovering from head surgery Thursday afternoon. He became ill here Monday with what was apparently a light stroke and was taken to Lubbock where operation showed a blood clot. Mrs. Laswell is with him as well as their children, Mrs. Tommy Gage of Big Spring, her twin sister, Mrs. G. C. Graves, Hereford, and sons, Richard Laswell, who lives near Lubbock, and Bob Laswell, San Antonio. Mr. Laswell is reported to be doing well.

Sgt. Johnson Wins Honors

S. Sgt. Robert F. Johnson, an instructor in the physiological training unit at Webb's 3560th USAF Hospital, has been named the Instructor of the Year for the 3560th Pilot Training Wing.

The award is another in a series of honors the sergeant has received since his arrival at the base in December, 1967. Earlier he had been named Wing Instructor of the Quarter, Wing Non-Commissioned Officer of the Quarter, Hospital NCO of the Quarter, and was the hospital's nomination for Webb Airman of the Year.

Sgt. Johnson serves as a parasail instructor in the physiological training unit at Webb. He trains more than 600 student pilots at Webb annually. In addition, he gives classroom instructions and teaches survival techniques and ejection seat procedures.

In 13 years of Air Force service, the sergeant has almost earned a college degree through continuing his education during after-duty study. He has also attended George Washington University and the University of Maryland.

His primary interest is psychology, although he has amassed more than 30 hours in foreign languages. He would like to attain both a bachelor and master's degree in either psychology or education before 20 years of military service is completed.

Sgt. Johnson is an avid sport parachutist. He has recorded more than 300 free fall jumps — 30 of which are military jumps. Currently he is in the process of forming a sport parachute club in the area. He is also a member of the Webb Aero Club.

Sgt. Johnson and his wife, Christl, have four children. He is president of the Marcy PTA. She is a member of the NCO Wives Club.

Over 200 Dogs Caught

More than 200 dogs have been picked up within the city since police started a concentrated effort Saturday to clear the city of the animals, Chief of Police Jay Banks said this morning.

"In most cases, the owners or people who have seen the dogs have called us to pick them up," Banks said.

An extra pickup truck, equipped with a makeshift cage, was pressed into service earlier in the week to help animal warden Bob Baker cage the stray animals, he said. The animals are kept at the city pound for 72 hours, and if no one claims them, they are destroyed, according to Banks.

He said his men are issuing citations to owners who let dogs run loose. Those owners must appear in corporation court to take care of the ticket, Banks said.

"I believe we have made a good start, and if we keep up the effort, we may make a dent in the stray dog population," Banks said.

Find Comes In Handy For Patient

HASTINGS, Minn. (AP) — A $3 money order dated June 23, 1922 was cashed Wednesday by Dick Dobrick, business manager at Hastings State Hospital.

Dobrick said the money order was discovered when hospital employes were looking through dusty files of former patients.

The patient to whom the money order was sent is now dead as is his wife, but finding the heir was easy.

The couple's daughter, now 57 and unmarried, is a patient at the hospital and the money order was cashed on her behalf.

Coahoma Methodists Find Homes For Six Children

Six abandoned children from Coahoma found new homes Friday, thanks to the efforts of the Rev. Linwood Harrison and members of the Coahoma Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ruby Phillips, Howard County Welfare Department director, said that through the efforts of the pastor five of the children were placed Friday in the Methodist Home, an orphanage in Waco. The other member of the family is now in Abilene State School.

Mrs. Phillips explained that the children were originally referred to the county welfare department in July when their mother, a divorcee, left them with their grandmother in Coahoma. The mother has not been seen since.

COULD NOT SUPPORT

The grandmother of the children was already caring for two afflicted children, and could not support an additional six, Mrs. Phillips said. The youngsters then became entirely supported by the county welfare department in October.

In November, when the welfare department began looking for persons to "adopt" needy families in the area to help during Thanksgiving, the children were aided by the Coahoma Girl Scouts. That brought attention from the Methodist Church, who gave help at Christmas.

Mrs. Phillips said that the children's mother had requested last summer that a home be found for them, but she wasn't interested in having them adopted. County welfare tried to place the children in an orphanage, but it seems that children's homes across the state were overcrowded.

However, Rev. Harrison began a diligent effort to place the children in the Methodist Home in Waco, and finally succeeded.

DECLARED DEPENDENT

Last week the children were declared neglected and dependent through the courts and were taken to Waco on Friday by Rev. and Mrs. Harrison and members of the Methodist Church.

"The night before they left the Harrisons invited the children into their home and gave them baths, while I gave the boys haircuts," Mrs. Phillips said. "The welfare department also purchased clothes for them to travel, and the Salvation Army bought shoes for each."

When the children arrived in Waco, the Methodist Home purchased more clothes for them.

"Those new clothes must have been the first the children had ever owned," Mrs. Phillips said.

She noted that the Rev. Harrison made a big effort to get the children into the home where they could be adequately cared for. She praised Rev. Harrison for his compassion and tenacity.

CHRIST COMMISSIONS HIS WORKERS TO DO HIS WILL

Sunday's lesson will apply to all workers for Christ today, and that should mean all Christians, for all have been commissioned by Christ to take the gospel to others and serve Him in all that they do. Christians should see their obligation of service.

The scripture selection for Sunday's lesson is Mark 6:7-13, 30-34.

The verses about trusting the Lord and having power from Him should serve as a reminder that it is still true that without His blessing our efforts are futile. We should trust in the Lord for power and results where both have been lacking.

Mark 6 begins by saying: "And he went out from hence (Capernaum) and came into his own country." This was evidently Nazarath, His home.

The people there were astonished at His teaching. They knew that He had had a limited education with no formal theological training in the rabbinical schools. Where did He get His wisdom and power? After all, He was merely the village carpenter, and His family still lived there.

The sad results of their disbelieving attitude was that Jesus "could there do mighty work," except that He healed a few sick people. He marveled at the unbelief of His own toward His ministry.

Rio Grande Preacher Fired By Texas Church Council

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The churches hired him to work with the poor. Soon he was taking their side in protests against the prevailing system. The churches fired him. Demonstrations flared. An inquiry began. He kept at his cause.

It's a common pattern, in many areas, as the predominant religious institutions seek to re-channel their energies to serve the long-neglected, often alienated underdogs of society.

This week, the conflict emerged in the Rio Grande Valley and involved the Texas Council of Churches, on the eve of its reconstitution as a more fully inclusive body of interdenominational cooperation.

"It's a problem that is confronting the church everywhere and its role in social change," said Dr. Harold Kilpatrick, of Austin, Tex., executive secretary of the statewide organization.

BASIC ISSUE

At issue basically, there as elsewhere, was the extent to which supporting organizations should control activities among the needy to improve their lot.

The friction came to a head in action to dismiss the Rev. Edgar A. Krueger, 38, as director of the council's Valley Ministry among the Mexican-American poor along the Rio Grande.

Claiming he was insubordinate and refused to work through established churches and other civic institutions in the valley area, Dr. Kilpatrick said, "We need to enlist these groups in the effort rather than fight them."

On the other hand, the Rev. Grueger maintained that it would compromise the program to subject it to dominant community structures. He blamed his ouster on his rejection of the "paternalistic patterns which tend to keep people in servitude."

"We have tried to build leadership among the poor so they can speak and act for themselves," he said in a telephone interview from his residence in Pharr, Tex. "Certainly their voice needs to be heard a lot more throughout the entire community, and also the nation."

DEMONSTRATIONS

A national interdenominational group, the Council on Spanish-American Work, dispatched a four-member fact-finding committee to Texas to check into the dismissal.

Demonstrations and rallies protesting it erupted among several Mexican-American groups.

Focus of the special ministry is a river delta region of four counties, Hidalgo, Starr, Cameron and Willacy, where "colonias"—shantytowns of families of farm and other day laborers—lay outside about 200 communities.

The "colonias" lack sewage systems, running water and other ordinary facilities. The Rev. Mr. Krueger estimates about 90,000 Mexican-Americans live in such impoverished environments in the region with a population close to 400,000.

The Rev. Mr. Krueger's dismissal was made effective Feb. 24, the date set for dissolving the Texas Council before its reconstitution the next day as the Texas Conference of Churches, embracing 10 Roman Catholic dioceses, the Greek Orthodox diocese, and 27 Protestant denominations.

REV. ALLAN J. HUGHES

Methodists Hear Hughes

A dynamic minister, the youngest to be named a superintendent-minister in England, will lead a preaching mission at the First United Methodist Church starting Sunday.

He will be here for both services Sunday, and Sunday evening at the 7 o'clock worship he will deliver the first of a series of four sermons for the mission.

These will include (Sunday) "Can Human Nature Be Changed?"; Monday, "The Non-conformist"; Tuesday, "Footprints"; and Wednesday "What is a Christian?" These will all be at 7 p.m.

In 1960 he was ordained and appointed to South Yorkshire coal field as the first industrial chaplain to mining. He also served as district ministerial youth secretary until he was named in 1963 as superintendent of Grimsby Central Hall. During the past six years he has led an aggressive program of evangelism and social work.

Expanded Domestic Role To Be Outlined For Spiro

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to issue an executive order very shortly, detailing the expanded role Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will play in the administration's domestic policies.

The order is expected to formalize what Nixon has said will be the vice president's significant duties in coordinating activities among several federal agencies and between the administration and state and local governments.

The executive order, it was learned, is likely to include establishment of the office of intergovernmental relations through which Agnew hopes to formalize and clarify lines of communications between the federal government and other levels.

The creation of the agency, with its own staff responsible to the vice president, formalizes for Agnew the role divided in the Johnson administration by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, and the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Agnew is said to be especially interested in his role as chief coordinator of federal-state-local relations because of his prior experience as governor of Maryland and Baltimore County executive.

Those close to the vice president say they are pleased with the way his role has developed since the Nixon administration took over last month.

While he has spent considerable time presiding over the Senate and establishing good relations with individual senators, Agnew has also been a regular at the high-level meetings of the Cabinet, National Security Council and Urban Affairs Council.

He presided over the latter group twice last week in Nixon's absence.

Like other vice presidents, Agnew has a Capitol Hill staff, and another staff in the executive office building adjoining the White House.

But the vice president himself is quartered in the White House, right next to Nixon's presidential office.

"He and the President have a pair of working offices, back to back, with an open door policy between them," an aide said adding that "his ideas have been sought right along."

Walter Mote and Frank Da Costa, two key Agnew aides, say that one of the vice president's main concerns in the first month has been to establish good relationships in the Senate. He is the first vice president since Henry Wallace in the early 1940s to come from the post without prior Senate service.

As for whether Agnew will become the chief voice in Congress for Nixon's forthcoming legislative proposals, Mote says "we'll have to play it by ear." But he added that "everything indicates it will be a team effort."

South practiced a false economy in his handling of the trump suit, and the result was that his four heart contract ended up on the rocks.

The first round of bidding was routine; however, North was reluctant to offer an immediate raise of partner's response with only three trumps, so he rebid three clubs. When South persisted to three hearts to indicate a five card suit and a willingness to go on, North raised to game in hearts.

West opened the five of diamonds and East put up the ace. He returned the suit, South played the jack, West the king and dummy ruffed with the six. The king of hearts was cashed on which West dropped the queen. The jack of hearts was continued which declarer permitted to hold the trick as West discarded a diamond.

A small club was led from dummy to South's ten and West won the trick with the king. He returned a diamond and East trumped with the five of hearts. A spade put West in to give his partner another diamond ruff, and South suffered a two trick setback.

Declarer could have averted defeat and actually scored two overtricks on the deal, if he had ruffed the heart return at trick two with the jack of hearts instead of North's six. Now when the king of hearts drops West's queen and the six of hearts is returned, declarer can finesse the seven in his hand, then pick up the remaining trump with the ace and ten. He follows up by taking the club finesse thru West and subsequently discards his spades on North's long clubs.

South was still in position to recover even after he failed to unblock in the trump suit—provided he overtakes the jack of hearts with the ace and then cashes the ten. Even tho this play establishes East's nine of hearts, South regains the trick by virtue of being in his hand to take the club finesse. East will ruff in on the third round of clubs; however, South discards a diamond from his hand, and the defenders may be restricted to one spade trick, one heart, and one diamond.

A LOVELIER YOU

Beautify Yourself With Adequate Care

By MARY SUE MILLER

Trying to beautify one's looks is by no means a modern development. Books from centuries past relate the cosmetic procedures of beauties in every age. Then-and-now differences lie in the cosmetics — in the one-time use of nettles to clear the skin, let's say, and present day medicated formulations.

Still, in spite of the tremendous scientific strides in skin care, there is proof that women past 40 take insufficient care of their complexions. What a pity, for it is then that dryness, lines and wrinkles are on a rampage.

Surely, no woman would take an apathetic approach were she to inform herself of the simple, quick and resultful remedies available. A routine that calls for nothing more than cleansing and moisturizing does wonders to keep the skin resilient.

Cleansing is merely a matter of gentle daily sudsings and of cream or lotion cleanser to remove cosmetics. Advances in moisturizers make possible day-long treatments that lie invisible on the skin.

Of course other, more expensive programs are at hand. These include night-care preparations toners and masks. But the one given makes a good starter. Once a woman finds out what a little care will do for her skin, how can she resist more?

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

4th and Scurry Big Spring, Texas

MR. AND MRS. M. C. LAWRENCE

Valentine Sweethearts Mark Anniversary

By RHODA LEMONS

On Valentine's Day, 49 years ago, Miss Mary Pierson and M. C. Lawrence exchanged wedding vows in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Stephens, 400 Jack Street, now known as Lancaster.

The year was 1920. The economy in Big Spring was relatively good and three streets were paved. Scurry Street was the main highway, and there were a few cars traveling the roads, although hitching posts were still to be found in a number of places. The population was around 4,000. Central Ward School was the only elementary school in town, and it was located at the old post office site downtown.

The Texas and Pacific Railway was a vital factor in the town. Miss Pierson had been making her home with her stepfather and mother, the late Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Van Open. Van Open worked in the railway shop, and his young assistant was M. C. Lawrence.

Van Open was injured on the job, and Lawrence was assigned the task of notifying the family. It was in this manner that the young couple met.

They 'kept company' about one year before their marriage. For the wedding, Miss Pierson chose a royal blue velvet dress, about mid-calf in length, and high button black shoes. She wore a black beaver hat and a cameo necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. This piece of jewelry was subsequently worn by their daughter, Mrs. Joe Cotton, at her wedding, and by their granddaughter, Mrs. Michael Bryant, at her wedding in 1967. On the couple's 25th wedding anniversary, Mrs Lawrence was gifted with matching cameo earrings by Mrs. Cotton, the former Mary Evelyn Lawrence.

Following their marriage, the Lawrences made their home with his sister for about three months before they rented a small home on the northside, equipped for "light housekeeping."

"We have lived at our present address for 42 years," said Mrs. Lawrence. "We have remodeled a couple of times and put on siding and a new roof.

"Our daughter was married on St. Valentine's Day, also," said Mrs. Lawrence. "She had asked us to be married, and I kept putting her off, until one day without thinking, I told her she could marry if she would wait until Feb. 14. She did, and was married on that date in 1944."

Mrs. Lawrence began working after Mary Evelyn was married. She worked for Cunningham and Philips, Mead's Cake Shop and Hemphill Wells Company (for 12 years in the gift wrapping department.)

Mr. Lawrence retired from Texas and Pacific Railway in 1953 and has been in ill health for the past 13 years. He served in the first World War and moved to Big Spring from Longview after his discharge. His hobby was fishing, which he is unable to do now.

Mrs. Lawrence loves to cook and bake cakes for her friends. She enjoys crocheting, collecting recipes and walking. She was born in Belgium and came to the United States in 1913. She moved to Big Sprng in 1909 from Marquette, Mich., where her family settled after arriving in America.

Both the Lawrences feel they have had a good life in Big Spring, and have been "blessed" in their marriage.

"Valentine's Day is a good day to start off a happy marriage," said Mrs. Lawrence, and her husband smilingly agreed.

Dramatize Walls With Pictures

Massed groupings of pictures — prints, oils, watercolors — are often an effective way to dramatize a wall above a sofa or mantel.

But you can make the effect even more appealing if you include some deep-dimensional wall plaques in the grouping.

The plaques will add variety of shape, texture, and color to the otherwise staid rectangular look of pictures alone.

Seniors To Be Honored At Banquet

STANTON (SC) — The First United Methodist Church will honor all graduating seniors of Stanton High School at a banquet at 7 p.m., Feb. 21, in the fellowship hall at the church.

Dr. Virgil Bottom, chairman of the Physics Department of McMurry College, will be the guest speaker. "The Passersby," who are two young men, Jim Newton and Lee Ferris, students at the college, will provide the entertainment. Decorations will follow the western motif.

Holiday Tea Held By Church Group

The Missionary Society of the First Church of God held a valentine tea Sunday in the home of Mrs. Truett Thomas, 1608 George. Calling hours were from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth, and the centerpiece was a honeycomb heart flanked by red carnations. The crystal punch service was complimented with crystal appointments.

During the tea, Mrs. Richard Ragan was presented a gold pin denoting her life membership. The presentation was made by Miss Anna Smith. Mrs. Paul Chappell directed the choosing of prayer partners for the year.

Stanton Students Lead Discussion

STANTON (SC) — A group of Stanton High School students presented a panel discussion, "Teenagers and the Generation Gap," at Tuesday's meeting of the Stanton Study Club in the Cap Rock Auditorium. Mrs. Bob Cox, program chairman, introduced the group. It included Claude Straub, David Adkins, Mary Fern Powell and Frances Deavenport. Mrs. Ralph Caffey and Mrs. James Eiland were hostesses.

Program Heard By Church Circle

The program, "Two in a Tussle," was presented at Tuesday's meeting of the Martha Foster Circle of Wesley United Methodist Church. Mrs. J. B. Hollis was hostess at her home, 108 Air Base Road. Those on the program were Mrs. J. C. Ray, Mrs. T. C. Richardson, Mrs. W. B. Morris and Mrs. Janie Cofer. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Gertie Wescott, 1010 E. 15th.

Hears Program Of Folk Music

Miss Helen Ewing directed the program, "A Parade of American Folk Music," at Wednesday's meeting of Big Spring Music Study Club in the home of Mrs. G. R. Robinson, 2719 Crestline.

Mrs. Star Warford sang five folk songs, and a vocal duet composed of Mrs. Thomas Kessler and Mrs. Richard Cook sang "An Indian Lullaby." The club ensemble presented "Deep River," accompanied by Mrs. Aubrey Hyden and directed by Mrs. Charles Beil.

The meeting scheduled which is for 7:30 p.m., Feb. 22, is open to the public. Mrs. Merle M. LeRoy presided.

NCO Wives Honored At Membership Tea

Mrs. Chandler B. Estes urged members of the NCO Wives Club to assist the "Family Services" program at Webb Air Force Base when she spoke briefly at the club's membership coffee, Wednesday, in the NCO Open Mess. Mrs. Chandler is the wife of the base commander.

Mrs. William C. McGlothlin, wife of the wing commander, encouraged all eligible women to join the wives club so that they may take edvantage of its services.

Mrs. Robert W. Carter presided and introduced the honored guests, along with officers and chairmen. Mrs. William Doyle was in charge of the coffee.

Others speaking briefly were Mrs. Ernest Saiz, Mrs. Harold Barksdale and Mrs. Louis Rodriguez. They explained that money derived from the Thrift Shop is spent on welfare and told procedures for gaining help in this area when needed. Toastmistresses Meet For Dinner

Mrs. David King discussed the qualities of loyalty and faith at Tuesday's dinner meeting of Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club in the Officers' Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base.

To illustrate the topics, Mrs. King told the story of a man, threatened by an angry mob, who by speaking with the strength of his convictions, calmed the group and prevented them from doing him harm.

Table topics concerned "a test of faith." Mrs. Richard Shaver presided and introduced Mrs. Charles Tuttle, a guest.

It was announced that the local speech contest will be held at the Feb. 25 meeting.

One hears that Dubby Malaise may be on the griddle at South Plains College in Levelland for failure to produce a Western Conference basketball challenger, despite an exhaustive recruiting program.

South Plains lost six of its first ten league starts. One of the Texans' most recent defeats was a galling 78-76 verdict suffered at the hands of New Mexico Military Institute at home.

Dr. Marvin Baker, president of the Levelland college, wants no truck with defeat. On the other hand, he's great to work for when you produce.

Jerry Walsh, the Arthritis Foundation official who had a promising career in baseball ended by the dreaded affliction, recalled here last week that he was doing a promotional TV film for the agency at a Boston Red Sox camp in Arizona a few years ago when he spotted the great Ted Williams and suggested to the director that Williams be called to the scene.

Williams' name didn't ring a bell with the TV director and when Walsh reminded him that Ted was once the greatest baseball hitter in all Christiandom the television character replied:

"Oh, is he still alive?"

Dizzy Trout, the one-time pitching great for the Detroit Tigers, likes to recall the time he fanned Williams for the final out in a game against the Red Sox. He then was bold enough to venture to the Red Sox clubhouse and ask Williams to autograph the ball.

The next time the two men faced one another, Williams hit a Trout pitch into the center field stands. As he trotted to first base, Ted called out to Dizzy:

"If you get that one back, I'll autograph it, too . . ."

A hundred football games, no less, were played on the Astroturf at Seattle the past season. The artificial turf looked as good after the action ceased as it did when it was pronounced ready for play.

Compare that with the way natural grass goes, after some abuse, and you can understand why most bigtime stadiums are going to the ersatz grass.

The playing area in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas toward the end of the season looks more like a city street.

Williams To Manage Senators

Ted Williams, the Boston slugger who once said "you couldn't pay me enough to manage" a major league baseball team, has been named manager of the Washington Senators. Williams, 50, was the last of the .400 hitters in the majors. He replaces Jim Lemon who was replaced as manager after one season.

Senators Hire The Splinter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowly Washington Senators, seeking to counter-act the magic name of football's Vince Lombardi, have come up with a storybook name of their own and hired headline-making slugger Ted Williams as manager.

"I cannot immediately deliver a new team, but it is possible to get a storybook manager," said Bob Short, the Minneapolis millionaire who purchased the team last December and took full control of it two weeks ago.

Williams could not be reached for comment, but a source close to the scene told The Associated Press Thursday night Williams signed a long-term contract at a price "he just couldn't afford to turn down."

Short told the Washington Post, "There has not yet been a meeting of the minds that could be reduced to a writing."

The hiring of Williams was just as fantastic, and as shocking as the Washington Redskins' recent coup of grabbing Lombardi. A few years ago, the last of baseball's .400 hitters had said, "You couldn't pay me enough to manage." He said then he had turned down two offers to manage, presumably from the Boston Red Sox.

In Boston, where Williams still is a vice president of the Red Sox, the team for which he starred from 1939-60, General Manager Dick O'Connell confirmed Short had received permission to talk to Williams.

During a brilliant but stormy career, interrupted twice for almost five years of service as a Marine pilot, Williams compiled a lifetime batting average of .344, hit 521 home runs and won the American League batting title six times, hitting .406 in 1941. He was elected to the Hall of Fame the first year he became eligible.

Williams retired for the first time after the 1954 season but came back a month into the 1955 season and played through 1960. He then devoted most of his time to his fishing enterprises, while also serving as a hitting instructor for the Red Sox.

His career was marred by feuds with fans and writers in Boston. He was fined for spitting incidents on the field and also made headlines with his blasts at "gutless" draft boards and "phony" politicians concerning his recall to active Marine duty in Korea.

Davis Given Meet Title

Harold Davis, who served as chairman of the highly-successful Region V Basketball Tournament here last year, has been given a new title.

HAROLD DAVIS

Davis was appointed a co-ordinator of this year's meet, although he is no longer a member of the sponsoring organization, the American Business Club.

As co-ordinator, Davis will work closely with J. D. Jones, who will serve as tournament director, and other members of the ABC team.

The 1968 meet was acknowledged to have been the most successful in the history of the region.

This year's tournament is scheduled March 6-7-8.

Play was resumed in the YMCA Adult Basketball league last night and Tompkins Oil emerged as the team to beat in the second half race.

Tompkins remained undefeated by toppling Big Spring New Car Dealers, 102-79. Delnor Poss tossed in 48 points for Tompkins while Johnnie Wright had 35 for the losers.

In other games, First Federal Savings and Loan trounced Furr's Foods, 77-41; while First National Bank turned back the Civitan Club, 69-43.

Cleveland Gossett banged in 20 points and Mike McCracken eight for First Federal. Roland Fryar had 14 for Furr's.

Eddy Nelson led First National Bank with 27 points. Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle paced the Civitans with 10.

The loss suffered by the Civitans was their first in second half competition.

Baltimore Colts Each Get $9,265 From Title Game

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baltimore Colts are receiving $9,265.58 each for winning the National Football League championship, NFL President Art Modell announced today. With $7,500 as the losing share in the Super Bowl, each Colt picked up $16,765.58 for the two games.

The Cleveland Browns, who lost to Baltimore 34-0, will get checks for $5,937.08 for each loser's share.

Detroit got $10,936.66 for winning the World Series. St. Louis got $7,078.71.

Both payoffs are the second highest in NFL history. Green Bay's 1966 cut of $9,813.63 for beating Dallas was the highest. The Cowboys' losing share in that same game set a record at $6,527.85.

The Colts voted 51 shares and Cleveland 53 shares for the Dec. 29 game witnessed by 78,410 at Cleveland. The receipts for the game were $1,389,708.74 and the players' pool, representing 70 per cent of the net, came to $972,796.12.

The second-place teams in the Eastern and Western conferences split $100,000 and the third-place teams split $75,000.

Dallas, winner of the Capital Division, voted 54 shares worth $917.43 each and Minnesota, winner of the Central Division, voted 51 shares of $980.39. In addition, each Cowboy and Viking, and each Colt and Brown received one-fourteenth of a regular season salary for playing in the Eastern and Western conference title games.

Dallas also received $1,200 per man for winning the Miami Playoff Bowl and Minnesota got $500 each as the loser's share.

St. Louis, third in the East, voted 63 shares worth $595.24 each and Los Angeles, third in the West, voted 50 shares worth $750 each.

Texans Triumph Over Odessans

LEVELLAND — South Plains improved its chances for a respectable finish in Western Conference standings by defeating Odessa College, 76-70, here Thursday night.

Both teams are now 5-6 in the standings. Odessa is 11-9 over-all while South Plains is 16-10.

Jayhawks Roar Past Badgers

By TOMMY HART

Howard County blitzed a doggedly-determined Amarillo College team, 103-76, here Thursday night to strengthen their position atop the Western Conference standings.

The game marked the seventh time this season the Big Spring Collegians have gone over the 100-point mark. It represented their tenth victory in 11 league assignments and their 21st success of the season, compared to three reversals.

Amarillo put up maximum resistance for a long time and led the locals several times early in the milling. The Hawks poured on the coals after the intermission, however, and the Badgers began to tire.

Toward the end, the Hawks were executing some plays with uncanny timing and remarkable shooting, the likes of which have rarely been witnessed here.

Robert Jackson, nearing the end of a tremendous career for the local school, had one of his best nights ever in an HCJC uniform. He settled for 33 points and many of them came the hard way, from immediately under the basket where the traffic is unusually heavy.

Jackson was being fed well by such worthies as Sammy James, George Tilley and Mikey Wilson and made the most of it.

The Hawks hit 22 of 54 shots from the floor the first half for 41 per cent and warmed to 65 per cent after the half, making good on 22 of 34 opportunities.

Jerry Phillips reported to duty late and made up for lost time, canning eight buckets and a gratis pitch for 17 points. Tilley settled for 13, James 11 and Wilson 10.

Jackson also came down with 11 caroms while James captured nine.

Bob Dickerson impressed the near-capacity house with some tremendous outside shooting. He led the victors with 26 points. John Krill banged in 17 and Rod Ellis 14 for the Badgers, who have just about lost all chance to gain an invitation to appear in next month's Region V tournament here.

Amarillo is 5-7 in the league chase and 8-13 over-all.

The Jayhawks have a rough one coming up next Tuesday. They go to Hobbs to try and tame the Thunderbirds. In a game here Jan. 10, the Hawks beat NMJC by two points.

Mustangs, Raiders Vie In Practice Game Here

Local fans get an opportunity to see two of the two successful Class B teams in the area at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the HCJC gym, when the Sands Mustangs play a practice tilt with Lueders-Avoca.

Both teams are conference champions and are marking time for their bi-district contests.

Indications are Sands, which is coached by James Blake, will oppose Barstow in the first round of the playoffs.

Sands, the 13-B titlist, brings a 22-2 won-lost record here. The Mustangs were undefeated in conference.

Lueders-Avoca, coached by Milton Martin, finished with a 14-0 record within its district.

The Raiders are members of 25-B and wound up regular season play earlier this week by thumping Hawley, 68-58. Hawley wound up two games back of Lueders-Avoca in the standings.

Vic Wilhite, Bob Doty, Royce Burkman and Mervin Warrack are among the Lueders-Avoca standouts.

In a practice series with Westbrook earlier this season, Lueders-Avoca won one of two starts.

Sands has lost only to Coahoma and Union-Terry this year and avenged the Coahoma loss.

Kynn Maxwell, Lance Hopper, Steve Herm, Claude Fryar, Ronnie Taylor, Ike Lewis, Johnny Peugh and Larry Newcomer are among Sands standouts.

Bovines Venture To Abilene High

Big Spring makes its last road trip of the season tonight venturing to Abilene for an 8 o'clock joust with the Abilene High Eagles.

The Steers gained a lot of confidence in their 10-point victory over Midland earlier this week and could give Harold Wilder's Eagles a lot of trouble.

The Longhorns, who jumped into an early lead and led practically all the way in the Midland game, wind up their business for the year here next Tuesday against double-tough Odessa Permian.

When the two teams met previously, Abilene won by a score of 87-64.

Abilene is 20-9 over-all and 3-3 in the second half. The Eagles have lost all chance to overtake Permian in the race.

Big Spring had lost 17 straight games going into the encounter with Midland.

Abilene likely will go with a team consisting of James Brown, their most consistent performer in recent games; Richard Little, Lawrence Young, Ken Neel and Joe King. Wilder platoons a lot, however, and could start John Surratt, Chris Smith, Vic Ponder, Jack Carter and Van Jones or Doug McCorkle.

Coach Kirby Pugh of Big Spring is apt to go with Snake Tucker, Tommy Butler, Danny Parchman, James Brown and Bruce Hutto. Randy Womack, Gary Grissam and Lee Harris can expect to see action, too.

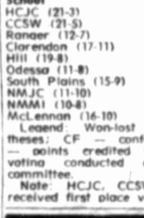

Junior varsity teams of the two schools square off at 6:15 p.m.

Carpet Of Bombs Aimed At Threat

SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers laid a carpet of nearly 5,000 bombs along a huge arc northwest to northeast of Saigon in a second day of heavy blows at Viet Cong and North Vietnamese bases threatening the capital, military spokesmen reported today.

Anticipating that the Communist command might try to pull off a spectacular attack to coincide with the Tet celebration of the lunar new year Monday, the U.S. Command gave top priority to the Saigon approaches. More than 1,200 tons of bombs were dropped on base camps, troop concentrations and supply depots, spokesmen said.

The targets ranged from 28 miles northeast of Saigon to 75 miles northwest of the capital. The heaviest concentration of bombs crashed down along the jungled corridors leading from the Cambodian frontier. Some of the strikes were only six miles from the border.

In the past 48 hours since noon Wednesday, the giant saturation bombers have dropped 2,520 tons of explosives on suspected base sites from which the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese could mount attacks on Saigon or military installations around the capital.

Although the Viet Cong is scheduled to begin a week's cease-fire at 7 a.m. Saturday (6 p.m. EST Friday) for Tet, Radio Hanoi today broadcast a battle order for the new year calling on Viet Cong troops and guerrillas to "launch new simultaneous attacks, increase military pressure on all fronts, kill all pacification teams and liquidate the criminals and traitors that make up the puppet regime."

The order from the Viet Cong's military command said the war effort against the United States and the South Vietnamese government "must be intensified to insure that the new year is the most glorious and most victorious in our history."

Despite the approaching enemy cease-fire, U.S. and South Vietnamese commanders were taking no chances. Increased enemy activities this week heightened speculation that the Viet Cong might try something spectacular during Tet, although senior U.S. officers said earlier in the week that major enemy units were not in position to repeat last year's holiday offensive against Saigon.

However, the American commander of the Saigon headquarters area command called attention to an increase in terrorist attempts as Tet approached and issued new security orders for the 25,000 American servicemen in the area.

"All personnel will be armed at all times when going to and from their billets and place of duty," said Col. George I. Taylor of San Antonio, Tex." All personnel will remain in billets except for meals or activities incidental to the performance of their duties. All personnel will travel in pairs where practicable when out of their billets or place of duty during hours of darkness."

Three more terrorist incidents were reported in the city.

U.S. headquarters said a security guard at a Navy supply compound spotted a half-pound plastic bomb attached to the side of a generator, and a demolition team disarmed it.

Terrorists riding motorbikes threw grenades at two home guard offices, killing one guardsman and wounding four others. The terrorists escaped.

U.S. headquarters also announced that another small American observation plane with four men aboard crashed into Cambodian territory after being hit by ground fire. A spokesman said the fate of the four men was not known.

The Cambodian government radio announced Thursday its "air defense force" shot the plane down Wednesday afternoon. The broadcast said the pilot, Laird Osburn, was captured but did not mention the other three men.

U.S. headquarters also announced that enemy gunners shot down and destroyed an unarmed medical evacuation helicopter marked with red crosses as it was making an approach to pick up wounded Americans 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Two of the crewmen were wounded.

The U.S. Command also issued a revised tabulation of aircraft losses which said that a total of 2,366 helicopters have been lost in the war due to enemy action and all other causes. This includes five helicopters not previously announced.

The report also said 2,552 fixed-wing U.S. aircraft have been lost in the war.

Any Doubts About 'Soft On Desegregation' Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration appears to be taking no chances of any lingering doubts—spawned by Nixon campaign statements and earlier federal action—that it will be soft on school desegregation.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare capped a week of rapid-fire action Thursday by cutting off federal funds to three Southern school districts until they come up with long-delayed plans to integrate their schools.

The Justice Department filed suit for the same purpose Monday against three Louisiana districts and followed it up the next day with a suit against the Houston, Tex., system, sixth largest in the nation and biggest in the South.

The HEW and Justice Department actions represented the two main weapons. The administration has to settle the scores of school desegregation cases inherited from the Democrats.

Court action is usually, but not always, the result of a suit or complaint filed by a parent.

The flurry of activity this week was the first involving school desegregation since HEW took its initial steps into the field Jan. 29 when it left the distinct impression that its policy would be to go slow.

On that day, HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch, cut off federal funds to five Southern districts. But he said then it was a last-resort action, that funds would be held in escrow hopefully to be returned in 60 days and that he was sending special teams to help the districts work out new plans.

He told newsmen his policy would be one of "negotiation, fairness, and flexibility."

Such a policy, Finch said, would be "consistent with the interpretation the President repeatedly expressed in the campaign."

When asked by a newsman what specific remarks of Nixon's he referred to, aides spent 15 minutes looking over the files and then cited comments by the candidate at a Sept. 19 news conference. They were:

"When the Office of Education goes beyond the mandate of Congress and attempts to use federal funds not just for the purpose of avoiding segregation but for the purpose of integration in positive ways—busing and the like—with that I disagree. And I do not believe federal funds should be used for that purpose."

In a television interview Feb. 2, Finch repeated his view, and referred to withholding of funds as the "ultimate" weapon.

In cutting off funds Thursday to Greenwood County in South Carolina, Emmett School District in Arkansas and Chester County, Tenn., Finch sent no special teams although he said he would provide "whatever HEW technical assistance may be required." He also said the "funds involved will not be held in escrow for the districts."

The secretary acted against the districts under Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibits federal assistance to any program or activity that discriminates on the basis of race, color or national origin.

Each of the districts adopted so-called "freedom of choice" desegregation plans that allow each pupil within the district to attend the school of his choice, white or Negro.

The government maintains that the "freedom of choice" plans adopted in the districts resulted only in token integration without eliminating the traditional Southern dual school system.

A major radio speech Oct. 20, two weeks before the election, was devoted to education. Without mentioning integration at all, Nixon called for federal support of schools by bloc grants to the states "administered at the state and local levels."

"What our communities want from Washington," he said, "is not dictation but constructive counsel and sorely needed assistance."

This week's actions, however, followed Nixon remarks at a Feb. 6 news conference when he spelled out clearly what the policy would be.

"If freedom of choice is found to be simply a subterfuge to perpetuate segregation, then funds should be denied to such a school system," he said. "If a freedom of choice plan, however, is found to be one which actually is bringing an end to segregation, then a freedom of choice plan, in my opinion, is appropriate and should receive funds."

VITO GENOVESE
Notorious Underworld Leader Dies In Prison

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vito Genovese, a diminutive Italian who became the nation's most notorious underworld figure of the 1950s, died today at the medical center for federal prisoners in Springfield, Mo.

The Justice Department said death at 2:30 a.m. EST resulted from congestive heart failure for which the 71-year-old Mafia chieftain had been undergoing treatment for more than two months.

Genovese was serving a 15-year sentence for trafficking in narcotics— the only major charge on which the government was ever able to convict him despite numerous arrests. He was indicted 13 times.

But even in prison, Genovese's power in La Cosa Nostra, or the Mafia, was so immense that federal agents suspected him of continuing to run the far-flung crime syndicate.

Once called "King of the Racketeers" by former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, he emerged as the Mafia's dominant figure in the mid-1950s after reputedly ordering the assassinations of two major rivals, Frank Costello and Albert Anastasia.

An attempt on Costello's life failed, and Genovese's bodyguard, tried for attempted murder, was acquitted after Costello testified he had never seen the accused assailant before.

Treasury Department agents arrested Genovese and 14 others in 1958 on charges of conspiring to import narcotics. He was found guilty the following year.

Since 1960, the Bureau of Prisons has attempted to curtail Genovese's Mafia contacts by systematically transferring him from one federal institution to another.

While in the Atlanta prison, however, he was assigned to a cell with Joseph Valachi, a New York hoodlum who was a trusted Mafia member.

In the apparently mistaken belief that Valachi had turned informer, Genovese gave his cellmate the "kiss of death," La Cosa Nostra's notification to a member that he has offended its rules and will be slain.

It was then that Valachi decided, according to the Justice Department, to tell federal agents—and later a Senate committee—about internal workings of the super-secret crime society.

Born in Resigliano, Italy, Genovese came to the United States as a teenager and became a naturalized citizen in 1936. His citizenship was lifted in 1955 on grounds that he failed to list his criminal arrests on the original application.

Relief Cargo To Be Loaded Up

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Longshoremen agreed to load relief cargo bound for Biafra aboard the Del Campo Thursday and to unload a shipment of crude rubber.

The ship, owned by Delta Steamship Lines of New Orleans, has been at the Beaumont docks since Wednesday morning. L. C. Gayle, New Orleans director of labor relations for Delta, said Wednesday that loading crews had been requested with no success.

Some 1,800 tons of foodstuffs make up the cargo headed for starving Biafrans. Another ship of the Delta line, the Del Monte, has already left for Africa.

Wilson Reaffirms Berlin Support

BERLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson came to West Berlin today reaffirming Britain's duty to see that the city's freedom is preserved.

The British leader arrived from Bonn as the Soviet Union and East Germany put on more pressure in their attempt to force transfer of the West German presidential election out of this surrounded city.

"We shall continue—you can count on this—to do all that is in our power to ensure that your freedom is preserved," he told a luncheon in Charlottenburg Castle.

"I would like to take this opportunity to renew once again the British commitment to Berlin. Britain stands and will stand firmly by its pledge to guarantee the continued freedom of the city and its inhabitants and it will continue to support all the efforts which are being made to alleviate, to temper, the human problems caused by the division of your city."

Wilson called the Communist wall dividing the city "perhaps the most dramatic of all demonstrations of the bankruptcy of the system it represents."

The luncheon was given by Mayor Klaus Schuetz.

President Nixon is scheduled to visit West Berlin Feb. 27.

Fishing Boat Sinks Off Coast

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—The Coast Guard said a fishing boat sank early today in torrential rains and high winds.

The Coast Guard said three men aboard the Kit Kat abandoned ship and a search is underway in the Gulf. The Kit Kat went down near the mouth of the Colorado River between Port O'Connor and Freeport.

Another fishing boat, the Little Ochie, was taking on water and sinking in the Gulf 10 miles east of Corpus Christi, the Coast Guard said.

A cutter has been sent to rescue the three men on board.

At least six other fishing boats have run aground north and south of Corpus Christi, the Coast Guard said.

LETTER
Wants Talks To Continue

Dear Sir:

This letter is in regards to the proposed park-playground at Airport School.

I cannot understand the difficulties the City and School are having about the time for talks on this project. If it continues to be postponed from day to day and week to week, it will soon be too late to plant and must be delayed until next year. Then possibly it might not be brought up again. Is this what one or both agencies want? It would seem so to me.

As I understand it the main issue is the watering and maintenance of the grounds. As it will be a city park and be used as such, even though it is on school grounds, why shouldn't the city maintain it? The water will cost them less. And if they can spend so much money to tear down buildings to make parking lots, why can't they agree to a park-playground that will benefit our children and community more as the years pass and beautify our city much more than parking lots do?

Thank you,
MRS. CARL LAMBERT
801 Anna Street

(The city has not spent money to tear down buildings. It will take title to two lots on which it will provide for public parking.—Ed)

Scouters Take Aim On Quantity, Quality Gains

The Lone Star District for Scouting is aiming at boosting quality and quantity of program this year, Col. Wm. C. McGlothlin, district chairman, said Thursday. Col. McGlothlin, who had been a Scout as a lad, said he became involved in Scouting as a volunteer when he returned from Vietnam.

"I was convinced that Scouting was one of the things which could make a real contribution to preserving our nation," he said. He challenged district committeemen, and the scoutmasters, cubmasters and den mothers to see that a quality program gets to the boys.

A goal of 1,324 boys by the end of the year was established, along with one for 48 units, a gain of four. Other goals included 23 newly trained leaders, and at least 17 units reaching national standard. For packs, the standard is 50 per cent of boys reregistering, 50 per cent advancing and two summer activities; for scout troops it is 55 per cent reregistering, 50 per cent advancing, six consecutive days in long-term camp, and four days of other camping; Explorers, 55 per cent reregistering, a high adventure activity and 20 meeting in a year.

Leroy Hollingshead, chairman, announced plans for the Scout exposition March 15 in Highland Center. As units sign to participate, they will be issued tickets. Boys selling 10 tickets will get exposition patches; those selling 30 will get $2.50 in Scout apparel or merchandise; the top one on the district, plus top in the council will get trips to the Astrodome.

Gene Vaughn, Midland, member of the council staff, said that the new long-range program of Boypower-Manpower '76 is aimed at reaching one out of three boys by 1976 with a quality program. He also said that the commissioners staff in this district has the best record on holding charter lapses to a minimum. The meeting was held in the Scout hut at Webb AFB.

May Retire

J. Edgar Hoover plans to step down as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on his 75th birthday next Jan. 1, the Miami Herald reported today. A Herald correspondent in Washington quoted an unnamed source at the National Association of Attorneys General as saying: "It's my understanding Mr. Hoover will voluntarily step down on Jan. 1 and has said so."

Cubs, Scouts Are Welcome At Films

All Cubs, Scouts or Explorers of the community are welcome to see the series of Scout films to be shown at the base theatre Saturday, it was announced today. The showing of these films will follow the regular Saturday morning matinee. Films to be projected for Scouts will be taken from "Adventures of Valley Forge in 1964," "Scout Trail," "Boy on Hickory Street," "Footsteps of the Pioneers," and "Beyond the Tooth of Time."

Despite Rebuff, U. S. Keeps Its Hopes Up

PARIS (AP) — Despite a public rebuff from the North Vietnamese, American peace negotiators in Paris indicate they are still hopeful the Vietnam talks will soon enter a phase of secret contacts.

After a fruitless six-hour session Thursday, U.S. chief negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge told newsmen: "I don't expect much to come out of these public meetings."

Asked about a Communist report that at least one secret contact took place on American initiative last week, U.S. delegation spokesman William Jorden grinned and repeated his long-standing rule never to comment on secret talks.

He urged newsmen not to insist on detailed replies to all their questions "to permit the art of quiet diplomacy to work its way." Many of the newsmen felt this remark and his grin constituted an unspoken confirmation of the report.

Nguyen Thanh Le, spokesman for the Hanoi delegation, accused the Americans of deliberately "spreading rumors of private meetings like straws in the wind." If the United States has anything it wants to discuss, he added, it can do so at the weekly formal conference sessions.

The Thursday meetings have become a regular Thursday propaganda battle at which the opposing sides bombard each other with invective and restate their entrenched positions. The fourth such session Thursday was no exception.

Jorden said Hanoi and the National Liberation Front repeated their "negative positions which amount to an ultimatum, namely, a demand that we abandon South Vietnam and that South Vietnam surrender to them."

Lodge said he was "disappointed but not disheartened" by the Hanoi-NLF attitude.

Lodge repeated the U.S. proposal to begin a gradual military de-escalation by re-establishing the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam.

Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam and the NLF's Tran Buu Kiem again rejected the proposal, saying once more that the conference cannot separate military and political issues. But later in the meeting Kiem called on Lodge to answer "two fundamental questions," whether the United States intends to withdraw its troops and to dismantle its military bases.

More Texans Are Lost In Vietnam

Pfc. Jose M. Trejo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urelio Trejo, 4325 Yolanda, Corpus Christi.

Married, Wants To Remain Priest

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — "I wish to remain a priest," the Rev. John Picacio, a Roman Catholic priest, said as he unfolded his marriage certificate and looked at it with his wife.

"I do not wish my actions to be taken as some kind of revolt, protest, one-up-manship or whatever," he said. "It is merely a living of my belief."

Rev. Picacio, 30, broke Roman Catholic church law Monday by marrying the former Miss Patricia Jean Aguilar, 25, who once studied to be a nun, in a simple civil ceremony.

As they talked to newsmen Thursday afternoon, their marriage license arrived in the mail.

The San Antonio natives met about six years ago while conducting a parish census of Roman Catholic Church members. He was a seminarian. She was a high school graduate.

He later became assistant pastor at St. Ann's Catholic Church here and she entered the Divine Providence Convent at Our Lady of the Lake College, also in San Antonio. She remained in the convent for a little more than three years but never took her final vows. She left it 13 months ago.

This is believed to be the second marriage involving a priest in San Antonio in less than two years. In June, 1967, the Rev. James Malone, 37, married Miss Penelope Cole, 20. They moved to Arizona.

Now a senior history major at Our Lady of the Lake, Mrs. Picacio was shy and had little to say to newsmen Thursday. The petite brunette's husband was lively and talkative.

He said he has not petitioned Rome to become a layman as some other married priests have done. He said he wants to remain a priest and will continue to live here.

"I wish to remain in sight and in mind," he said.

His parents have met his wife, he said. "They knew we were going together. They trust me to do what I think is right."

Soon to become an employe at Goodwill Industries here, Rev. Picacio said his marriage was a matter of living his faith and conviction.

"To live otherwise would have been hypocritical and possibly detrimental to my salvation," he said.

"We have not forsaken our commitments or our devotion to the church," he said.

Salve Reduces Burn Deaths

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has approved for marketing an Army developed salve that dramatically reduces the chances of death from burns.

Called Sulfamylon, the antibacterial cream was developed by the Army Institute of Surgical Research at Brooke Army Medical Center.

The internationally recognized institute, the armed forces' only burn treatment and study unit, pioneered the use of the cream. It is applied directly to the burn itself.

In announcing the FDA approval Thursday, officials said the cream has been highly successful in preventing "invasive infection" in severely burned persons during four years of clinical use.

Bacterial "invasions" of the burns are a major cause of death in burn patients.

Before the use of Sulfamylon during 1962-1963, 44.4 per cent of the patients with burns over 30 to 40 per cent of their bodies died.

The mortality rate of the same percentage group fell to 10.5 per cent during 1964-1968, when Sulfamylon came into use.

For those with burns over 40 to 50 per cent of the body, the mortality rate dropped from 61.1 to 22.9 per cent. For patients with burns over 50 to 60 per cent, the death rate fell from 78.3 to 34.7 per cent.

Sulfamylon will be produced and marketed by Winthrop Laboratories of New York.

Plays Classic Role Nude For Famed Company's Tour

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Was this the face that launched a thousand ships and burnt the topless towers of Ilium?"

When Maggie Wright walks onstage as Helen of Troy in the Royal Shakespeare Company's production of "Dr. Faustus," it is not her face that music center audiences watch. She appears on the well-lighted stage nude. Completely.

"There is always the same sound when I enter," says the well-formed (36-24-36) English beauty. "It is a sort of mass sucking in of breath, like this: 'Oooioishhh.' It happened the first time I did it in London, it happened in New York, and it happens here."

It is likely also to happen in San Francisco, Detroit, Baltimore and New Haven, which will also be visited by the famed English acting company on its American tour. That is, if the police don't intervene.

"That's always a consideration," Miss Wright admits. "We were actually breaking the law in London when the play opened there; that was when the Lord Chamberlain was still censoring the theater. I believe we are also breaking the law here. But so far nobody has complained."

Maggie may be the only method nude in show business. Like Marlon Brando, Rod Steiger and other method actors, she prepares for her role by contemplating the character's motivations.

"I'm just as nervous now as I was the first time I stood with my clothes off before an audience," she remarked. "If it ever comes easy to me, I'll know it's time to quit.

"I go through an entire ritual in my dressing room, starting with makeup on my feet. Then I carry on a conversation with Helen herself, trying to figure out what kind of a woman she was. 'You're not a whore, no matter what people say,' I tell her."

Maggie Wright at 24 is well-schooled in the entertainment world. She danced for a year and a half in Japan with England's famed Bluebell Girls, appeared on the stage and television in England, and in such films as "Goldfinger," in which she played one of the girl pilots. Nothing in her background quite prepared her for the unclad Helen in Christopher Marlowe's Elizabethan classic.

She didn't think it odd when she received a call to audition for the Royal Shakespeare Company, even though she had no classical training. Nor did she take seriously the proposal by the director, Clifford Williams, that she play her speechless scene sans clothing—"After all, Liz Taylor had last played the role (with Richard Burton on the stage and in a film) fully clothed. Besides, there was the Lord Chamberlain—"

Maggie went through her scene in rehearsals and tryouts wearing filmy costumes.

"But it just wasn't working," she related. "The audience didn't react the way it should have. Finally, just before the opening I said, 'Oh, hell, I'll do it in the nude. I did it and the scene was just right. There were no sniggers or laughs; that would have ruined the whole thing.

"The director had done just the right thing: he let me make up my own mind."

Obstetrics, Gynecology Meeting Here Saturday

Some 30 out-of-town physicians are expected to join several here for a meeting of the West Texas Obstetrics and Gynecology Society this evening and Saturday.

All programs will be held at the Big Spring Country Club. This evening's program will be non-clinical, but all of Saturday's functions will be technical in nature, said Dr. M. A. Porter, Big Spring, president of the society.

Dr. Howard Ulfelder, professor of gynecology at Harvard Medical School and chief gynecologist at Vincent Memorial Hospital in Boston, will be one of the panelists, as will Dr. L. C. Powell, professor of gynecology at the University of Texas medical school at Galveston. Also appearing on the program is Dr. Charles Stephens, Odessa specialist in gynecology.

In his talks, Dr. Ulfelder will deal with bio-mechanics of pelvic support, stress incontinence, cancer of the vulva and of the cervix. Dr. Powell will discuss problems of oral contraceptives, modern management of the Rh problems, and endometriosis. Dr. Stephens will talk on breech deliveries, and will have a follow-up regarding retarded children.

There will be a brief business meeting at 11:30 a.m. Saturday. The meeting is due to terminate at 4:30 p.m. Saturday. In addition to doctors from the Big Spring, Midland and Odessa areas, others are expected from Lubbock, San Angelo, Amarillo, Wichita Falls and Dallas.

Hardeman Rests Comfortably

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A spokesman for the University of Texas Medical Branch hospitals said Thursday former state Sen. Dorsey Hardeman, 66, of San Angelo was "resting comfortably."

Hardeman was admitted Wednesday. His condition was listed as good, the spokesman said.

The former lawmaker was recently appointed to a six-year term on the State Insurance Board by Gov. Preston Smith.
