Talco Trojans Beat James Bowie 32-19 Friday

By C. PARR II
Talco Trojans stepped out of their losing streak Friday night by defeating James Bowie Pirates 32-19 under the spirited running of McCuller and Williams. Dewey Howard put his name on top by tucking two touchdown passes under his arm and racing over. The passes covered 60 and 80 yards. Robert Frye did a fine job of line backing by intercepting a Pirate pass and rolling their interference. Frye's rolling came to a halt in the fourth quarter when he rolled and came out with a broken shoulder. Neal Hahn proved to be a true Trojan by playing top ball at his guard and line backer spot.

The Pirates opened the ball game by kicking to the Trojans. The ball changed hands by a pair of fumbles, then James Bowie intercepted a Trojan pass and carried to the 2-yard line, where Jimmy Hefley carried over for the tally.

The Trojans took the ball for a march in the second stanza, gave to "Willie" Williams, who jaunted 8 yards for the tally.

James Bowie received the kick on the 20 yard line; threw a couple of passes, one of which Gene Cox intercepted and walked over for the tally and kicked the conversion.

Down in the third quarter Robert Frye made his spectacular catch and took 15 yards for a tally. James Bowie took a touchdown by Jimmie Williams' 20-yard jaunt in the third and the conversion was successful. The Trojans took the kick, marched up to the 40, where Freddy Rogers pulled the hammer and shot to "Dizzy" Howard for 60 yards and a tally.

James Bowie took the ball and marched for a TD behind Jimmy Williams again. Late in the fourth quarter Rogers found Howard again for 30 yards and Cox again kicked the conversion.

Minister Jones Goes to Cooper

W. R. Jones, minister of the Talco Church of Christ for the past three years, has tendered his resignation and with his family will go to Cooper the first Sunday in November. His successor has not yet been employed.

"I am taking advantage of this opportunity to tell you how much my family and I have enjoyed our stay in Talco," said Mr. Jones. "My work with the Church of Christ here has been a very pleasant one and as we have enjoyed it so do we leave it. It seems to me now that I shall never be blessed with so great a number of friends anywhere as I have here in Talco. In leaving we solicit your good will and best wishes. The best of luck to each one of you, in Christian love."

Mrs. A. V. Flanagan and Miss Merl Flanagan, Mrs. Ardell Flanagan and Mary Jo and little James Alford Shields spent the week end with relatives in Dallas and attended the State Fair.

Alford Heifer Gets Top Price

A black Angus Lamar County heifer brought the top price in that class Thursday in the National Aberdeen-Angus Sale at the State Fair in Dallas.

The heifer was Blackbird B. owned by Jess B. Alford of Paris. It was sold for $3,000 to the Elysian Farms at Falls Church, Va.

Grand Champion bull in the Aberdeen-Angus show was owned by an Illinois stock farmer, J. Garrett Tolan. Carlton Corbin of Ada, Ok., exhibited the champion Aberdeen-Angus steer. The reserve came from the ranch of Jess B. Alford of Paris.

Forrest M. Hall Jr., seaman, USN, of Talco, recently visited Rothesay, Scotland, as a crew member aboard the destroyer USS Borie, which is attached to the Northern European Task Force. The Borie will visit many ports and capitals throughout Northern Europe during the four-months it will be on duty there.

PETROLEUM INDUSTRY NOTING PROGRESS WEEK, OCT. 16-22

This is Oil Progress Week and Texas, where 54 per cent of the taxes are paid by oil and gas, has much for which to be thankful.

For the first six-month period of 1949, the State collected from the production of oil and natural gas, in taxes:

Oil Production $40,443,226.34
Natural Gas 4,408,693.56

Coming closer home, Titus and Franklin Counties are greatly indebted to oil. In Titus County oil pays 56 per cent of the taxes and in Franklin 73 per cent.

The Talco field in Northern

Titus and Franklin Counties produces more than ten million barrels of oil every year from its 800 wells.

Nearly one hundred and twenty million barrels of oil have been produced since the field was discovered in February, 1936.

Yes, Titus and Franklin Counties owe much to oil and to the men who produced it. This is oil's ninetieth birthday and it is well that we take stock of what oil has meant to Texas, and particularly to Northeast Texas during the past twenty years.

Second Well in Sight for Pewitt Ranch Testing

Confirmation is apparently in sight for the new Paluxy sand pay area opened recently by Morris Coats, Longview, on the Pewitt Ranch ten miles east of Talco.

Paul Pewitt, also of Longview, has set casing on bottom at 4,568 in his No. 1-A Pewitt, W. A. Dundals survey, 1,450 feet southeast of the Coats discovery. The well topped the Paluxy at 4,544 and has practically solid oil sand to total depth where it apparently still was in sand. Operators did not test formation with drillstem.

The Coats discovery, No. 1 Pewitt, Banks survey, was finished last week pumping 331 barrels daily from perforations at 4,506-36 and 4,538-42 feet.

In Franklin County, completion on pump is under way at Byars & Peveto No. 1-B Talley, SP survey, new producer prospect for the Lakeview Paluxy pool southwest of Talco. Casing was perforated at 4,417-18 feet. Same operators are near the pay in their No. 1 Horace Huggell, same survey, and 400 feet east and north of the No. 1-M Talley.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS SINGING SUNDAY

A large crowd attended the singing at the Church of Christ in Deport Sunday afternoon. Many visitors were present from Paris, Talco, Clarksville, Fulsbright, Pattonville, Reno and other nearby communities.

Topping Going on New F. M. Road

Oiling of the new F-M road from Wilkinson to Talco has about been completed and topping was expected to start on the road Thursday morning if weather permitted.

The new road will be 18 feet wide, except that portion that is laid on the city's concrete paving from the corner east to the Legion home, which will be 38 feet wide.

The City of Talco has contracted for an approach to the new road from the north, along the old highway and will get 200 feet there, which has always been a bad corner to keep in repair. The cost will be $490, according to Mayor Dick Rodgers.

Titus Co. to Issue $135,000 Script

Titus County Commissioners Court has approved the issuance of $135,000 in script to finance county road work, purchases of machinery, refunding of old script and for right of way work on farm to market roads.

The script will be issued as needed, and arrangements have been made to handle it.

If and when the full $135,000 has been issued the county's indebtedness will be increased by approximately one third.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. B. E. Overman called on her en masse, brought refreshments and presented her with a pair of table lamps. This was a surprise farewell party to Mrs. Overman since she will move to Gladewater soon.

Friends keep asking this editor if he expects to make his annual deer hunt this year. He does. Having made such trips for more than a third of a century, he sees no reason to quit as long as he can induce his party hunters to help him carry in bucks he has shot. And we're hoping for better luck from the weather man than was encountered two years ago. An article printed about that hunt read: "Bucks Wild, Weather Bad; Editor Objects to Sleeping in a Wet Bed." And one friend was so unkind as to suggest that wet bed was an "inside" job. No such thing—just a hole in the tent.

Juries over in Oklahoma do a little better than those in Northeast Texas when confronted by cattle thieves. In Northeast Texas they get suspended sentences. Last week at Hugo a six-year penitentiary sentence was imposed. Had it been in Southwest Texas three to four times that number of years would have been imposed. In other days a necktie party would have saved court cost and expense. Whether we realize it or not, this is now a cattle country and ranchmen in this area are entitled to more protection from cattle thieves than they have received the past few years.

It takes a lot of night work to make day dreams come true.

Slap on Taxes to Stop the Practice

In the first six months of 1949, the Federal Power Commission authorized construction of natural gas pipelines which will deliver 2,000,000,000 cubic feet of the fuel daily to 72 cities of 50,000 or more population in 17 states.

Most of the gas will come from Texas. Washington, Des Moines, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Salt Lake City, Louisville and several score other cities, in widely scattered parts of the country, will use Texas natural gas, when the lines are built. In all, they will use 2 billion cubic feet every 24 hours.

It is cheap fuel and convenient fuel, and there is a nice profit in the piping of it. One can't blame the cities for wanting it, or the pipeline builders for delivering it to them at a profit. If Texas awakes one day and finds itself required to burn coal, the fault will be that of Texas itself and of the Legislature which didn't even make it possible for this state to raise its voice in protest.

Texas has said to the Nation, in effect, help yourself. There needn't be any mistake about where the blame will rest when the consumat folly of Texas' attitude is realized.—Wichita Falls Times.

Cash for New Car Weighed 170 Lbs.

Spokane, Wash. — After saving for five years, Charles B. Hink of Spokane bought a new car with one "heavy" payment—2,600 silver dollars and all of them minted in 1921.

The dealer wrestled the 170 pound box to his car and spent the rest of the afternoon stacking the "cartwheels."

Hinks, a service station operator, started five years ago tucking away every 1921 dollar that came into his hands with the new car in mind.

Worried About Going Crazy?

If you fear that you're going crazy, you can forget it right now. Psychiatrists will tell you that worrying about a serious mental breakdown is one of the best indications that you won't have one.

"As a matter of fact," says an article in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, "the person who goes through life convinced that he is sane and the rest of the world is crazy may have more cause for worry about his mental condition than the one who is concerned over his sanity."

WELL SAID

Said Rep. Leland M. Ford of California:

You cannot bring prosperity by discouraging thrift.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

You cannot help small men by tearing big men down.

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

You cannot lift the wage earner by pulling the wage payer down.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.

You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred.

You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.

You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

Cotton Growers Asked to Find Other Crops for Five Million Acres

Washington.—The nation's cotton farmers may have to find a new use for slightly more than five million acres of their land next year.

The Agriculture Department—holder of a $550,000 cotton surplus—is asking them to reduce their 1950 cotton plantings by that amount.

To encourage individual farmers to cut cotton production, the department also proposed rigid marketing quotas on the 1950 crop which would be designed to reduce sales at least 20 per cent below this year's crop.

Quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum before they can be put into effect. The question will be submitted to a grower election Dec. 15.

The quota program could be expected to cut income from cotton perhaps as much as 20 to 25 per cent. This possibility is based upon the assumption that price supports on the 1950 crop will be kept at about this year's level.

Under the control program, the department will allot 21 million acres of cotton plantings next year. This is the minimum permitted by law and compares with 26,380,000 planted this year.

Each grower would be limited to sale of cotton grown on his allotted acres. If sold, cotton grown on extra acres would be subject to a penalty tax which probably would be about 15 cents a pound or slightly more than half the prospective market value.

In proposing the control program, the department said the current cotton supply is about 27 per cent larger than is needed for the market and for reserves. Much of this extra supply has moved into government hands under grower price support programs.

Quotas on cotton were last used in 1942, when they were approved by 93.9 per cent of grow-

To Book Lovers

The Book Lovers Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. L. Reed, with twelve members answering roll call. During the business session, plans were made for the Halloween Carnival Saturday night, Oct. 29, at the American Legion hall.

Mrs. Sue Thomas directed the program, "Texas," assisted by Mrs. E. W. Smith. In the game that followed, each member was asked to name the counties in the State of Texas. Mrs. B. L. Gieger won the prize for naming the most.

During the social hour, delicious refreshments were served to Mmes. J. L. Cato, W. L. Cox, Francis Dalby, B. L. Gieger, O. S. Goodloe, Joe Hall, Eva Jones, Jim Morris, Ed Nugent, E. W. Smith, Sue Thomas, and the hostess, Mrs. Reed.

Alcorn Worried Over Acreage Cut Like He Would Be Over Tax Cut

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur is expressing his own lazy views and not necessarily those of anybody else in his letter this week.

Dear Editor: From what I been readin and hearin out here lately, farmers all over the state are worryin about the government's program to restrict cotton acreage next year.

One farmer I know who hasn't gotten through worryin about the high price of pickin this year and the scarcity of hands is already worryin over the fact he may not get to plant as much of the stuff next year as he did this year. Says he planted 60 acres this year and they may cut him to 48 next year. Doesn't make sense to me. Just as soon worry over the prospect of havin fewer in-laws visit me next year. Just as soon worry over havin to fish more next year than this year. Just as soon worry over the fact somebody was tryin to cut my taxes.

As far as I'm concerned, they can restrict the cotton acreage all they please and you won't hear much squawk out of me. It's when somebody starts talkin about increasin my allotment that gets me.

In fact, over-expansion is the trouble with lots of folks. If a man makes a little profit on ten acres, he figures he could make twice as much on twenty, four times as much on forty, and so forth. If a man is doin well with a small store, he figures he'll do twice as well with a big one, but it don't always work out that way.

You can go busted from gettin too big as well as from bein too little. I know a farmer who figured if one tractor would make him a livin, four tractors would make him rich, and maybe it would, only today all four tractors are mortgaged and he ain't no nearer to bein rich than I am. Also, I know a groceryman who figured if one store would pay, he ought to get him a store in towns all up and down the road and clean up, but all it amounted to was an increase in worryin but not in profits. Some folks can expand, but others just explode.

Personally, I never could see any sense in me takin on more land when I ain't workin what I got like it ought to be.

I'm in favor of everybody workin as much as they want to, and maybe I ought to be worried too about restrictin cotton or anything else involvin work, but it just don't strike me that way. In fact, I'm head and shoulders above the government. Been restrictin my farmin out here for years. Yours faithfully, A. A.

Lower Insurance Rates Announced

State Board of Fire Insurance Commissioners announce that fire, hail and windstorm insurance rate reductions authorized to become effective October 7 would mean a saving of approximately $3,000,000 in premium fees.

Based upon 1948 premium payments, the board reduced fire and windstorm rates by $2,087,650 a year, effective on all policies written after Oct. 7.

Owners of farm dwellings outside of city limits will benefit most from a $1,101,033 cut in fire insurance rates. A favorable loss experience in this field caused the board to cut the rates 16 2-3 per cent, said Paul H. Brown, fire insurance commissioner. Reductions in fire insurance total $1,641,320 a year, partly offset by a $540,287 increase in special classes.

Reductions in hail and windstorm policies will apply to dwellings, farm and ranch buildings, all classes of brick and masonry structures, and mill construction.
