Dr. James Howard Set To Open Medical Practice In Knox County

James Howard, M.D., is opening his practice in Knox County on October 11. Dr. Howard and Shirley Barretto, M.D., will rotate between the Munday and Knox City Clinics of the Knox County Hospital, according to Stephen Kuehler, hospital administrator.

"Securing the services of Dr. Howard for our community gives us a new dimension in health care offered locally," Kuehler said. "Dr. Barretto just signed a two-year contract, assuring us of continued medical coverage. With the addition of Dr. Howard, we can more easily provide medical coverage for residents of Knox County."

Dr. Howard has been working for Southwest Medical, the contract firm that supplies physician coverage for the Emergency Room at Knox County Hospital. "Although Dr. Howard has never actually worked in our Emergency Room, it was through Southwest Medical that we were able to contact him and recruit him to our community," Kuehler said.

Dr. Howard, as an Emergency

Room physician, has courtesy privileges at the hospitals in Huntsville, Snyder, and Bowie. A Texas native, he is a graduate of the University of Texas Medical School at San Antonio where he received his Doctor of Medicine degree. He served a combined internship and residency at Children's Hospital in Columbus, Ohio, in pediatrics.

Dr. Howard, who is single, plans to move to Knox County in the next few weeks, Kuehler said.

A photograph of Dr. Howard was unavailable at this time.

Houndette Volleyball Team Enters District Competition

By Coach Linda Haragan

The Knox City Houndettes finished pre-district play with a 2-2 record in regular matches and a 4-5 record in tournament play. They won Consolation at the Colorado City Tournament with junior Christie Manning being selected to the All-Tournament team. In the regular bracket play at the Wichita Falls Rider Tournament, the Houndettes finished sixth out of 12 teams.

District play began on September 21 at Aspermont. It did not turn out like we wanted because we lost to Aspermont 0-2. The week prior to our first district match saw several of the Houndettes fighting illness, with one of the players spending time in the hospital. We also had a player dealing with a sore arm so that was unable to give her best effort. Naturally, we are hoping those factors contributed to the loss, but we will find out when the Lady Hornets come to Knox City later in the season. We sure do not want to take anything away from the Aspermont players because they played well against us, but we hope we can get it back together and pull out a victory the next time the two teams meet.

Rochester is the next district opponent and we will lay them on Tuesday, September 28 at Rochester. From what we can find out, the Lady Steers - under a new coach - have been giving some area teams pretty good competition. But we hope that they will not have the same kind of luck in their competition with the Houndettes.

The first district home match will be Tuesday, October 5 with Goree. The Junior Varsity will play against Rotan's Varsity at 5:00 p.m. with the varsity match against Goree scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m.

The Houndettes are in a rebuilding year with all varsity players from last year being seniors. It has been tough trying to find the right combination of players to get where we want to be, but we have confidence that we are getting things together if we can keep everyone healthy. It makes it hard on varsity players that have had no varsity experience to go head to head with varsity teams that have several players with experience. But one thing for sure, the Houndettes are winners and they will fight hard to come out on top.

The Houndettes would appreciate your support in District play.

Sorry . . .

The photographs that were supposed to appear in this edition of the NEWS did not turn out when the roll of film was developed. For some unexplained reason, the entire negative roll was black. So, if we took your picture, we apologize!

State Representative David Counts Praised By Colleague In Texas House

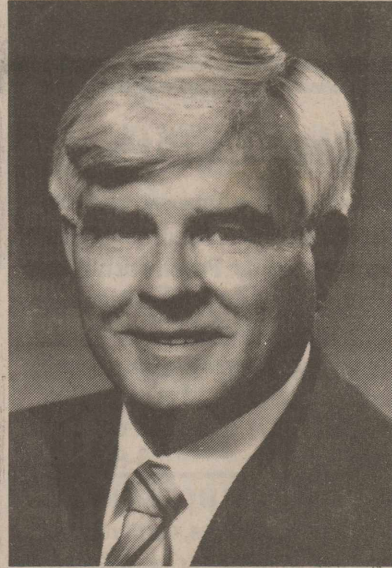

From State Rep. Dr. J. Bernard Erickson of Cleburne, Texas: At the end of a legislative session it's easy to look back and remember the accomplishments. What is hard is remembering all the people who helped make it a success. During the past session, Speaker of the House, Pete Laney did a fine, masterful job. In addition, in my opinion there were several other lawmakers who showed a tremendous amount of leadership and courage.

While it is impossible to recognize each individual who made an important contribution to the session, I would like to take this opportunity to send a special message to the constituents of Representative David Counts, whom I think deserves a pat on the back. He is at the top of my TEN BEST LEGISLATOR'S list!

David Counts was a strong leader always working hard to accomplish the job we came to do. His focus was always where it should be. Unless you were actually there, you wouldn't know this because of the professionalism and correct manner in which he carried it out. His strong efforts helped us keep down unnecessary discussions and arguments that would have wasted time. It takes these kind of efforts to have a successful session and what is sad is that many times they go unnoticed. Thanks David!

Again, as I end this letter, I just wanted to say to the constituency of Representative David Counts, "thanks for sending the best to Austin! It meant a lot to me as a freshman legislator and to the state of Texas." To sum it up, regardless of whether or not I return for another session, I'm very happy to have shared the 73rd legislative session with such a courageous man!

The City of Knox City will be conducting a smoke test throughout the city, beginning Tuesday, September 28 and running through Friday, October 8, 1993. The smoke test is designed to aid the city in detecting any possible leaks of sewer gas. When smoke is pumped through the city sewer lines, it should only escape where there is a location that sewer gas is already leaking. The test will aid not only the city, but home owners and business owners as well. Any place the smoke leaks out is a place that needs to be fixed to prevent sewer gas from leaking out. During the test period, if you notice smoke coming out in or around your home or place of business, please notify the alternate number for the 911 system by calling 658-5057. A member of the Knox City Volunteer Fire Department will be sent out to determine if it is the sewer smoke test, or smoke from an actual fire. The city thanks you in advance for your cooperation.

Benjamin News

By Gladene Green

Saturday morning broke very cool and cloudy. Quite a welcome relief from the few hot days we had earlier in the week.

Our sick friends reports are varied this week. Togo Moorhouse returned home Thursday after surgery and several days stay in a Wichita Falls Hospital. He's feeling fine and hopefully will be out and about very soon.

Darlene Benson underwent the angio plasty procedure Friday afternoon in a Wichita Falls hospital. Reports from her family are that she's doing well and maybe able to come home the first of the week.

Pat Barton was released from the Seymour Hospital Thursday and re-admitted on Thursday night with a heart problem. At last report, she was in ICU in the Seymour hospital and was waiting to go to either Wichita Falls or Lubbock for further heart tests.

Shirley Brown was in Houston last week and her report is good. She returned home Friday and except for being tired, she's making it fine. She is in the process of getting copies of her records sent to an oncologist in Lubbock so she can take her next chemo there. Would be a lot better for her and not having to make the trip to Houston so frequently. She will continue to go to M.D. Anderson for her regular appointments with her doctor there.

Our friend, Grace Snailum is having some difficult days but remains in good spirits. She still enjoys her county paper and the hometown news and I'm sure she would enjoy a note from her friends. He address is: Grace Snailum, 7181 Crestway Dr., San Antonio, TX 78239. Surely, our best wishes and our prayers go out to all our friends.

GRANDSON DIES

Era Brown received word Thursday of the death of her grandson, Terry Wells. Terry was the son of the late Lois Brown Wells. Memorial services for Terry were Sunday p.m. in Arlington. Graveside rites will be here at Benjamin early in the week. We extend sympathy to all of Terry's family in their time of sorrow.

HERE 'N THERE

Friday guests of Earlene Meinzer were her cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hammons of Lovington, New Mexico.

Ruth Ressel visited relatives in Littlefield the first of last week. Enroute to Littlefield, she was an overnight guest of her son and his wife, Ronnie and Wanda Ressel in Dickens.

Visiting his parents, Jane Gideon and Weldon Gideon the first of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gideon and family of Playas, New Mexico.

"Dutch" Jones of Hawley is here for a few days visit with her mom, Era Brown.

Dan, Marilyn and Amanda Ervin visited in the metroplex during the weekend and attended an Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at Denton on Sunday. Gary, JoAnn and Jeremy Hamilton also attended the assembly.

DeeAnn Lamb's sister, Brenda Gallaher gave her a real treat for her birthday. Tickets to the Garth Brooks concert in Dallas. They attended it on Thursday night and said it was fabulous. Brenda got as much pleasure from seeing and talking to Troy Aikman as she did the concert. All in all they think it was time well spent. Dee Ann returned home to a surprise birthday party given for her and her brother Mike, by her son, Anthony and her parents, Dutch and Imagean Young. Brenda was also on hand for the family get-together.

Oleta Welch of Gorman visited her brother, Bill Rutledge and friends here during the weekend. As always, it was good to see Oleta. She seems to be doing quite well.

Calvin and Thelma Brown of Perryton are here for a few days visit with the Stanton Browns. On Sunday, Calvin and Stanton attended memorial services for their nephew, Terry Wells in Arlington.

Recent guests of Odessa Cox have been Larry and Glenda Bearly of Erie, Colorado; Charlie and Reba Morrill of Humble, Harry Cox of Prairie Hill, Don Morrill of Charleston, South Carolina; Jim Cox of DeSoto and Dale Cox of Bartlett. Linda Cox who has been working out of town was here for a weekend visit with her family. They all got their hammers and saws out while here and helped get Charlie's woodworking shop almost completed. Charlie and Reba plan to retire here someday and he will have his shop ready for his hobby when the time comes.

Mrs. Cox said there were no real problems while they were all working together. About the worst thing was when Glenda broke Larry's foot when she dropped a board on it. They are still speaking so guess he realized it was an accident. They said they all had lots of fun and got lots of work done.

Rex and Maretha Patterson spent several days last week with her sister and her husband, Johnny and Katherine Hertel in Fillmore, Oklahoma, and with other relatives.

REVIVAL SLATED

A revival will begin Sunday, October 3 at the First Baptist Church in Benjamin. Rev. Monroe Teeters of Big Spring will be bringing the message. Weldon and Carolyn Koepf of Benjamin will direct the music. Services are 7:00 p.m. nightly through October 10 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

A new book called The Longevity Factor by Lydia Bronte details a five year study of people in their 70s, 80s, and 90s who continue to work. Three quarters of those described growing older as a positive experience.

Retirement facilities often attract residents who are somewhat older than the planners anticipated. The average person entering a retirement facility is between 78 and 80, is female, and widowed.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES

'A Glimpse of Europe'

By Stephanie Pepper
Part Two

VIENNA, Austria (September 28, 1993) -- Ok, so maybe I went a little overboard shopping in Prague. Not really, I just wanted to see if I could hear my Dad's reaction halfway around the world!

I loved Prague. On one hand, it was such a humbling experience. To know that I was walking freely in a city that only four years ago was still under communist rule amazed me. Buildings were still left in some parts of the city from obvious bombings. As a reminder of the Communist rule, a huge looking television tower is left standing in the middle of the city. It was used to jam any type of western reception so no one would be "influenced". On the subway cars, a sign, written in Russian, was signed "CCCP". Citizens were still inside their first five years of freedom.

On the other hand, Prague is a beautiful city. We took a walking tour through the "old city" where we saw St. Vitus' Cathedral and Hradcany Castle. We walked across Charles Bridge, where peddlers lined the street, into the "new city". More peddlers lined the streets and we found postcards and stamps - ten for only about $3.50.

The highlight of our trip, better than shopping, better than English MTV in our hotel rooms, was our walk Friday night. We went into the Opera House. They had just ended an opera but that didn't matter. As people dressed in suits, ties and dresses pushed for the exit, we headed for the entrance wearing t-shirts, shorts and tennis shoes. Initially, we were just going to look around, but for some reason we all ended up in the main auditorium. What happened next could have probably never happened before 1989. We started singing devotional songs! We were down in the front where the orchestra played. People started looking in, and some even stayed to listen. There we were praising God in the middle of Czech! What a trip!

My first lesson with Ragaa went smoothly. She is from the Sudan, speaks German, and knows a little English. She did a great job reading from the book of Mark. When we started, I could tell she was nervous, so were we. As we read, we became more comfortable. She knows about God, and asks many questions. She, too, wanted to know what temptation meant. She also didn't understand evil, the devil, and what obey meant. Words that are so easy to us. David, my partner, and I slowly explained each word, and by the end of the hour, she was giving us a summary of each division. All of our English/Bible studies are going well -- keep praying!

Monday I went and worked at the EEM. I loved it. I did many things. First I packaged World Bible lessons in Romanian and Hungarian. Then I went through and graded Bible lessons people had sent in from Poland, Romania, Lithuania and many other countries. On the back of each lesson, there were spaces for questions. One student wanted to know what the verse meant to "take up your cross and follow me." Another wanted to know if the God people use in different countries and by different names (God, Buddha, etc.) was the same God. Students' questions are sent to their correspondent teachers. I also entered several Romanian addresses into the computer so Bibles could be sent to them. One letter that touched my heart was from a 17 year old Romanian girl. She wrote about how she was eager to learn about God -- "Please send me a Bible, I am eagerly waiting."

I must add, that one small highlight of the day was my surprise glass of ICE WATER. Yes, with ICE CUBES! I savored every minute of it!

The best news of the week the whole trip came Sunday night. That's when I found out Lezlee was home. That is just awesome!

It's one thing to be here and see God work, but to see Him work at the same time, at home, is just wonderful! Welcome home Lez! Miss You!

Bobbie Bullock, from Mississippi, spoke to our group Monday morning at the college about AIDS. Her husband died from AIDS in 1992 because of an unscreened blood transfusion in 1984. Her talk was very educational and motivating. One thought of hers that stands out in my memory was her point about being "scared" of AIDS patients. Did you realize that they are actually more at risk being around you than you are being around them? You cannot "catch" the disease through personal contact, but they can catch many diseases that our immune system easily fights. A striking point she made was as Christians it is our duty to go to the aid of these people and others ailing -- didn't Christ? On the lighter side, our whole group is in a mad state of depression. Tichy Eis, the world's best ice cream, officially is closed. We licked our last cone, Wednesday, September 29, 1993. It was a sad day for us all. Several members of our group, myself included, are experiencing horrible Tichy withdrawals. After all, what is life without TICHY EIS?

Early Friday morning our U-rail passes begin for two months of free travel. Our first trip we explore Budapest, Hungary. From there we are going to Italy, Greece, Salzburg and many other countries. I can't wait.

Since I've already had the privilege of experiencing the time change, I would like to give everyone an early reminder for the fall time change. Several of us woke early Sunday morning and frantically hurried to get ready for Church only to find that we had a whole hour to indulge in the lovely Kolpinghaus breakfast before Church!

Thursday is our first official German test. I can write it, but speaking it is another question, I think Frau Ehlers has given up on me, too. When I speak, she doesn't even try to correct my accent, she just laughs!

O'Brien News

By Audie Johnston

"My 70-year old father prides himself on his youthful appearance. Taking my mother to the movies one evening, he decided to save a few dollars on admission. He told the ticket clerk his age and then offered to show her his discount card as proof. 'No, sir, that's okay,' she said cheerfully. 'You've got your face.'"

Several from our church attended the Sunday School convention at Haskell last Monday night. The program was good, fellowship was great, and the food was good. "Thank you, sweetheart," I replied, 'but I think you mean that I look like Vanna White.'

'No, Mom,' he said. 'I mean you look like the wheel.'"

Save Hot Water Cost

AUSTIN, TX--September 27--A water heater fueled by propane could save the average Texas family nearly $200 a year compared to the cost of heating water electrically, while at the same time benefiting the environment and creating jobs in Texas.

That's the message of the Railroad Commission's new newspaper and radio advertising campaign that kicks off statewide this week. The campaign is part of the Commission's legislative mandate to educate Texans about propane's benefits as an environmentally beneficial alternative fuel.

Commission studies show the initial expense of installing a propane-fueled water heater is no higher than other types, but the return on investment is much faster. According to Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent, fuel-cost savings recoup the initial purchase price in about two years. "That's about a 50 percent annual return on investment," Nugent said, "which is considerably more than you get at the bank." Assuming typical delivered costs of 82 cents per gallon for propane, savings over the ten-year life of the water heater could total more than $2,000, Nugent added.

A major reason for propane's economy is its efficiency compared to other methods of energy production. More than two-thirds of the energy generated by oil- or coal-burning electric utility companies literally goes up in smoke, and is therefore lost at the source. Propane, a clean-burning primary fuel, is nearly 2 1/2 times as efficient, delivering 87 percent of its energy directly to the burner tip.

Propane is widely distributed and readily available throughout Texas. "More than a third of the nation's propane comes from Texas," noted Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers. "Texas had a statewide propane production and distribution network in place, and the more people take advantage of propane as a domestic and commercial heating fuel, the more jobs that network creates." Nabers added that a new market worth $65 million a year to the Texas economy would arise if the 60 to 70 percent of all propane-heated Texas households that heat water electrically switched over to propane.

Propane technology has also become more efficient in recent years. Today's propane water heater uses one third less fuel than heaters manufactured as recently as five years ago, which contributes to the fuel's economy. Advanced burner design, energy-saving temperature controls and better insulation make the most of every gallon of fuel.

Texas' environment also benefits from using propane to heat water, according to Commissioner Barry Williamson. "Air pollution concerns all Texans, in both urban and rural areas," Williamson said. "Gallon for gallon," Williamson added, "it takes nearly three times as much fuel, generating nearly three times as much ozone-depleting greenhouse gas, to heat water electrically as it does to heat it directly with propane."

Quick recovery is a primary benefit of propane water heaters. Anyone who has ever run out of hot water in the middle of a shower, especially in cold weather, will appreciate the prospect of having plenty of hot water on tap. In a comparison of the first-hour recovery rates of typical 40-gallon water heaters, the propane model provided nearly twice as much hot water over the same period of time as a comparable electric model.

As part of the Commission's latest educational consumer campaign, look for newspaper ads touting "Pay less per fill up" in 386 newspapers across the state and statewide radio commercials illustrating the economic and environmental benefits of propane water heating. FHA NEWS.....By Rhonda Parker
The Knox city FHA hosted a leadership workshop last Monday. The theme was FHA/HERO - Spotlight on You.. The workshop was held in the cafeteria where registration took place and refreshments were served. The General Session was also held in the cafeteria. Presiding was Sammie Jo Munoz. The opening ceremony was performed by Knox City Officers. Jessica Eaton led the chapters in the Pledge of Allegiance preceding Virginia Bernal's welcome. Following the welcome Rhonda Parker announced that there were 74 FHA members and seven chapter advisors attending the workshop. The chapters that attended included Knox City, Munday, Haskell, Hamlin, Guthrie, Aspermont, and Rochester.

After the General Session was over, we were off to our workshops. There were two workshops held, one on leadership skills and the other on body-language. The workshops were a lot of fun.

Members from Knox City who attended were Sammie Jo Munoz, Virginia Bernal, Jessica Eaton, Rhonda Parker, Lisa Russell, Erin Frost, Tanya Larned, Heather Tilson, Amy Christian, Sheri Wilson, Laurie Casillas, Laurie Nevez, Alisha Vasquez, Terra Dever, Derek Stonewall, and LaTarsha Birdow.

The FHA members would like to thank the people who helped serve the refreshments and those who registered the chapters as they entered. To end the Leadership Workshop, Heather Tilson and Tanya Larned led the closing ceremonies.

SENIOR NEWS.....By Amy Christian

We're back! And not only that, we have a brand new senior class. The seniors of ninety-four are off to a roaring start with class officers just recently elected. They consist of: Lisa Russell as president, Trisha Roberts as vice-president, Jessica Williams as secretary-treasurer, and Sammie Jo Munoz and Amy Christian sharing responsibilities as reporter. Senior class favorites have also been selected and they include: Gilbert Casillas, Virginia Bernal, and Amy Christian.

The anticipation of the senior class was obvious as they took senior group pictures at David Albus's home on Monday, the 20th.

As far as sports are concerned, the varsity volleyball girls team, consisting of eight seniors, has delivered a proud showing so far this year. The Greyhound football team, including a number of senior boys, also had a very good showing at the Haskell - Knox City game where the Hounds tied with the Indians.

SOPHOMORE NEWS.....By Sarah Vacek

Hello? Yes, it's school time again and the sophomore class is already rolling! This last week, we had six weeks tests and hopefully everyone went home happy. This year's football team, consisting of a few sophomores, did exceptionally well against Haskell, overcoming their losing streak! The girls' volleyball teams are coming along well also. In our class meeting we elected officers, and as it turned out: Clint Hacker is president, Wes Grimsley, vice-president; Mark Rocha, secretary - treasurer; Sarah Vacek, reporter; and the class favorites were David Dudensing, Lance Dever, and Sarah Vacek. We're off to another six weeks, and I'll meet you here again next week. Till then
