Raskob Gives $100,000 To 'Victory Fund' As Smith-Roosevelt Breach Opens

BIG DONATION CONDITIONAL ON TOTAL GOAL

John W. Davis Has Praise For Action of Committee Chief

Smith Takes Sharp Issue With Roosevelt On Forest Plans

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—While political interest was centered today in the disagreement between former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt over the latter's reforestation program, John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, put another $100,000 in the party's coffers.

Latest available figures show the Democratic organization owes Raskob $295,250 for loans.

The $100,000 contribution, however, was an outright gift. Just one string was attached to it.

Must Attain Goal

"I am glad to contribute $100,000 to the victory fund," Raskob wrote to John W. Davis, general chairman of the drive for funds, "conditioned on $1,500,000 being raised."

The goal for the drive had been set at $1,500,000. Five hundred Democratic supporters representing all states are on the committee sponsoring the campaign.

Raskob, in a letter to Davis wrote:

"This represents my full and final contribution to this fund. It is given gladly because of my belief in the cause to which I have already contributed very heavily in time and money."

Davis Lauds Gift

The letter said that during the last two and a half years he had "personally assumed responsibility for seeing to it that the national committee should be able to function effectively."

In announcing the gift, Davis, who was the Democratic candidate for president in 1924, said:

"Mr. Raskob's gift is a challenge to every friend of the party to become a party stockholder for 1932."

The disagreement between Smith, who ran for president in 1928, and Governor Roosevelt, who is being boomed for the 1932 presidential nomination, was brought into the open by Smith himself at a Tammany hall rally last night.

Smith Gives Stand

During his address he told how he would vote on the six constitutional amendments at the state election this fall.

Amendment No. 3 would create a reforestation reserve from which the state in years to come would be permitted to sell timber. It has the backing of Governor Roosevelt and his conservation commission.

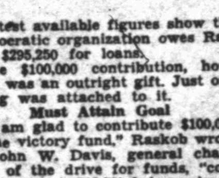

Mr. Smith urged New York citizens to throw it "out the window" and characterized the amendment as reactionary. He said it would give the timber "which belongs to us" to lumber merchants and paper kings.

Governor Roosevelt, on his way home from his southern tour, made no reference to the former governor's speech.

DUDLEY, Mass., Oct. 15. (UP)—A flamingo, one of its wings injured, landed here recently and was captured.

Game wardens believed the bird, indigenous to semi-tropical climes, may have lost its bearings in the hurricane which struck Belize, Porto Rico and other Caribbean points.

Death Believed Near as Edison Slips Into Coma

By DOROTHY ROE

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 15. (US)—Thomas A. Edison was pronounced in a state of coma this evening from which he probably will not rouse.

Dr. Hubert S. Howe, who was in communication with the Edison home at 8:45 o'clock this evening said:

"I would call Mr. Edison's present condition a coma. I cannot say just when he entered it, as the change has been so gradual. The fact that he has not roused for the last 26 hours leads me to believe that this is the final coma.

"We have not tried any drastic means to rouse him, as that would do little good. But I doubt if he could be aroused now.

"It is not possible to say just when the end will come. It is undoubtedly near, but patients have been known to live for days in a coma.

"His state is not like that of a person under an anaesthetic. When

Passenger Plane Doubles Back Half Of Route to Carry Man to Dying Son

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15. (US)—"There's a little boy in Los Angeles, terribly sick—they think he's dying. His father missed the plane at Las Vegas . . ."

Passengers in a Western Air Express Salt Lake-Los Angeles airliner today did not wait for Pilot H. B. Frith to finish.

"Go back and get him—never mind us."

Frith swung the big ship and headed eastward.

"Tell him to wait—we're on the way," tapped the radio key.

At Las Vegas, Nev., waited Philip Taplin, haggard with anxiety. His 2-year-old son, Allen, lay in a hospital in Los Angeles, 250 miles away, desperately ill. A telegram had come an hour before. If Taplin could reach the hospital in time for a blood transfusion, the child might live.

And—Taplin missed the plane by 10 minutes.

The Las Vegas airport officials heard his story. They rushed a message to United airport in Los Angeles. Back over the air waves went a radio order to Pilot Frith.

"Tell the passengers. Ask them if they are willing to go back."

The big airliner was nearly halfway to Los Angeles. Men and women on board were in a hurry to reach their journey's end—but a little boy was dying.

They went back.

The plane arrived here this afternoon. A fast car with a police escort waited for Taplin.

There was good news for the frantic father at the hospital. The little boy was better. He had rallied. While Taplin prepared to submit his blood to tests, a tiny voice whispered:

"Daddy!"

OKLAHOMA OIL DEMAND SET AT 545,000 BBLS.

State-Wide Committee Estimates Yield Needed For Market

QUOTAS SUGGESTED

Operators Refuse to Tell Everything Discussed At Conference

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 15. (AP)—The state-wide proration committee, meeting here this afternoon, fixed the "probable demand" for Oklahoma oil from Nov. 1 through Dec. 31, at 545,000 barrels daily and advocated taking of new potentials for the Seminole field.

The committee recommended that Oklahoma City production for the period be fixed at 180,000 barrels daily, the Seminole area at 155,000 barrels, class "A" pools, the stripper areas, 191,000 barrels and class "C" pools, which include Chandler, Orlando, Tatums, West Perry and Wewoka townsite, 19,000 barrels.

"Grapevine" Reports

While "grapevine" reports were that the committee discussed considerably more than the question of daily production for the last months of the year those attending refused to divulge the nature of any other discussions.

With reference to the Seminole field, the committee reported it would be "advisable to take 10-day gauges as soon as possible and, if the results of such gauges approximates estimates of potentials now made, the market demand from that area can be supplied from an allowable of 50 per cent of potential."

Report to Commission

"Every effort should be made to allocate to Oklahoma City any additional market demand that may arise," the report added.

The committee's report will be made to the Oklahoma corporation commission, which has scheduled a hearing for Oct. 26 on the question of production for the remainder of the year.

ETEX PRODUCTION 571,000 BARRELS

KILGORE, Texas, Oct. 15. (AP)—Production in the East Texas oil field, Wednesday, on the second day of the 165 barrel per well proration order, was 371,000 barrels, Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, commandant of the martial law zone, announced today.

Total number of wells reported in the field as completed was 2,407. Nineteen reported no production.

Texas rangers and national guardsmen were keeping a tight clamp on the five wells of the Brock-Lee Oil company, holding them within the proration limit. The company obtained a temporary federal injunction Tuesday restraining the militia, railroad commission and the attorney general from interference with the flow of oil from the five wells. General Wolters said he was acting under orders of Governor Sterling.

The hearing for a permanent injunction comes before three federal judges at Beaumont, Oct. 19.

Texas Committee On Jobs to Meet Today

AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (UP)—Two hundred leaders in church clubs, professions and general business will meet with Gov. Ross Sterling here tomorrow to plan to keep every man in Texas working this winter.

A two-day conference has been called by the governor. During its program he said, he will name a working committee of 100.

"Our plan is to provide work, not charity," said the governor.

Meeting with the governor's committee will be members of a legislative unemployment committee. It already has had preliminary meetings and will propose a program for the two-day conference. Major among its proposals is reform in the state's own attitude as an employer. The committee plans to ask that married women on state pay rolls be removed if their husbands are employed.

City Teachers To Draw Half Month's Salary Saturday

School Board Fails to Secure $220,000 Loan; Closing of Classrooms to 8,000 Students Possible Unless Wichitans Pay 1931 Taxes

Wichita Falls is unable to pay its school teachers and may be compelled to close the public classrooms to more than 8,000 girls and boys of this city.

This was the bald statement given out Thursday afternoon by the Wichita Falls school board at the end of a special meeting at which it developed that a requested loan of $220,000 had failed to materialize because of legal technicalities.

The board announced at the meeting that it had secured a small temporary loan of sufficient amount to pay teachers a half month's salary and had authorized the issuance of checks for this amount Saturday. There are no other funds available in the school treasury.

"If the taxpayers of the city do not come to the aid of the schools within a short time, we have no alternative—we cannot continue to operate the schools without funds," the school board said.

Difficulties of the school system have been brought about, it was said, by the failure of property owners to settle their CURRENT school taxes. The hiatus caused by changes in the state tax laws, together with a court suit contesting the most recent law, has resulted in a general failure of the public not only to pay delinquent taxes, but those due for the current year.

In addition to the serious consequences of the failure of this city to provide educational facilities for children, there are 351 employes of the school board who face distress unless some remedy is found for present conditions. Many of these teachers are without funds because of the delay in their checks, it was said, and are without extended credit facilities. Teachers recently voluntarily reduced their own salaries 10 per cent, and now find the school system unable to pay this lower amount.

"There is only one way in which we can continue to operate," said the school board, "and that is for taxpayers to pay the taxes due THIS YEAR, 1931.

"We have given as little publicity as possible to the financial difficulties of the school system because we hoped it would be possible to meet our temporary difficulties through a loan. This loan cannot be floated, and it is time for the public to know the full facts.

"There are scores of residents here who have money set aside for taxes, but are delaying because of the present controversy over interest and penalties. We appeal to these people to pay their current school taxes so that the schools may continue to operate.

"While the payment of delinquent taxes as soon as possible is highly desirable to retire the overdraft from last year's operations, it is essential that 1931 taxes be paid now if we are to keep the schools open."

School taxes for 1931 became due on Oct. 1.

Approximately $10,000 in 1930 school taxes was paid into the office of City Tax Collector W. R. Hyer Thursday, bringing the total paid for last year up to $363,618. This leaves a balance of approximately $204,000 unpaid, which became delinquent at midnight Thursday night and now draws a penalty of five per cent. These unpaid 1930 taxes, however, have been pledged to cover the school system's overdraft from last year, and none of the money received from 1930 taxes can be used for current expenses, it was stated. The fact that the delinquent taxes already have been pledged leaves the school board only 1931 taxes upon which to operate.

'Governors' Multiply In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 15. (AP)—Louisiana is like the old woman who lived in a shoe. She has so many "governors" and "lieutenant governors" she doesn't know what to do.

As darkness fell, the count stood three "governors" and two "lieutenant governors" a third applicant for the lieutenant governorship and one who has taken both the governor's and lieutenant governor's oaths.

During it all, Huey P. Long, who said he is "governor, by the right of the people," sat in the governor's mansion "just laughing my head off," to quote him.

But it was no laughing matter to Paul N. Cyr, present or ex-lieutenant governor, who said he was making a serious fight to unseat Long either as governor or United States senator and that Long could not hold both positions simultaneously.

Cyr said he took the oath as governor in Shreveport Tuesday since Long had vacated the governorship by becoming elected to the senate and Cyr was next in line of succession under the constitution. He said he would file an ouster against Long within a few days.

Leaders of the Cyr movement said they saw the canny hand of Huey Long in the oath-taking by two jobless men, one for governor and the other for lieutenant governor.

The new aspirants said they were out of work and could use the jobs that "apparently were vacant." A grocer in Shreveport said that since times were sort of hard he planned to take the oath as lieutenant governor. Anyway, he added, each of the three "governors" should have a "lieutenant governor."

The status of Dr. Cyr was uncertain. He declined to discuss it, but Long said he had closed the door against Cyr stepping back into the lieutenant governorship by swearing in Senator Alvin O. King, president pro tempore of the senate and

CAPONE RESTS TAX DEFENSE

U. S. Lawyers Open Attack In Arguments

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Oct. 15. (AP)—The United States government began today the final step in its three-year battle—the most far reached war ever waged against an underworld character—to put Al Capone behind prison bars through conviction on income tax evasion charges.

With a barrage of objections and motions, Capone's legal defense staff rested its case today, leaving in the court record of the scar-faced gangster's trial the testimony of a dozen race horse gamblers who said they won $375,000 from Capone over a five-year period.

Then began the government's closing address to the jury—an ad-

RAINS BRING NEAR-FLOOD STATE HERE

Hail and Rain at Davidson Injure Homes And Business

LAKE WICHITA RISES

Water Runs Nine Inches Higher But Still Below Spillway

A beating rain measuring almost two inches, coming on the heels of four days of intermittent showers, brought near-flood conditions to Wichita Falls and the adjoining territory Thursday morning.

The only damage to homes and business was reported from Davidson, Okla., but everywhere streams were rising, roads were almost impassable, and cotton fields were flooded. At Davidson, hit by wind, hail, and rain, six families were driven from their homes, power lines were down, and business houses damaged by hail.

Creek Rises

Sheets of rain that fell here beginning at 8:30 Thursday morning added 1.80 inches to the total precipitation before the downpour abated. The total rainfall for the week was 4.06 inches.

Holliday creek was full to its banks Thursday night, and water overflowed the lake road where traffic was slowed up. The private lake on the grounds of the J. J. Perkins home on the fringe of the Country Club estates overflowed and blocked passage along the street.

Lake Higher

Lake Wichita, still three feet below the spillway, rose nine inches Thursday, according to G. N. Norris, maintenance superintendent. The total rise since Wednesday was 11 inches and Mr. Norris expected a rise of another foot before morning.

At Lake Kemp the rise was estimated at slightly under one foot late Thursday evening. Roads to the lake were reported still passable, the hard rain having beaten the soil to a passable hardness.

Rain General

Dispatchers for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad reported hard rains, similar to the one here, all the way from Childress to Fort Worth and west on the Valley as far as Dundee. Between Dundee and Seymour light falls were reported.

It rained hard along the Katy line from Whitesboro, through Wichita Falls and on up to Supply, Okla., Katy dispatchers said.

Iowa Park received an additional 1.93 inches rain today, bringing the total to more than five inches and producing near-flood conditions.

STORM DAMAGES DAVIDSON HOMES

Special to The Record News.

DAVIDSON, Okla., Oct. 15.—Six families were driven from their homes, business houses were damaged and power lines washed out in a terrific wind, rain, and hail storm here early Thursday morning.

Davidson was in darkness through the early evening while workmen replaced 20 Southwest Light and Power company lines blown down in the storm.

Uncompleted drainage ditches on either side of the Davidson-Altus highway, freshly graded, caused a flooded condition on the western edge of Davidson. Water rose and spread over the adjoining territory, standing six inches deep in half a dozen homes.

Hailstones damaged the roofs of business houses and water injured stocks.

Roads were impassable and crops were seriously damaged.

LABOR CASTS VOTE FOR BEER

Federation Defeats Motion For Dry Repeal

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15. (UP)—The American Federation of Labor swung its powerful support today behind a stand for legalization of 2.75 per cent beer at the next session of congress.

Action came without debate and without a record vote, the convention, however, defeated two motions which sought to give labor's support for repeal of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

As the convention drew near its close, it unanimously re-elected William Green president by acclamation in a burst of cheering. All other officers of the federation also were re-elected.

Cincinnati won over Washington, D. C., as the site of the 1932 convention. The vote was about 2 to 1.

The federation's executive council was condemned for its work in opposing the cancellation of war debts until foreign countries accomplish something to merit such cancellation. A report of the resolutions committee was adopted which pledged the convention to support bituminous coal mine workers in their search for a universal wage rate.

The resolutions on the liquor question handed in a report.

COUNCIL VOTES INVITATION FOR U. S. DELEGATE

Japan Still 'Loyal Member' Of Body, Spokesman Declares

FINAL ACTION TODAY

Step, As Precedent, Strikes Tokyo as 'Unfair And Irrational'

TOKYO, Oct. 16. (Friday) (UP)—While the cabinet met in special session today to consider the entrance of an American observer into the League of Nations meeting at Geneva, a spokesman of the government denied any possibility of war between Japan and China.

"Japan positively has no intention of declaring war on China and if China declares war, Japan will simply ignore it," the spokesman said.

Asked if Japan would withdraw from the League of Nations, provided the council continues its strong attitude, he replied:

"I can't say. There is a possibility of grave consequences."

TOKYO, Oct. 16. (Friday) (AP)—Ambassador Debuchi cabled today from Washington that he believes it advisable for Japan to reconsider her attitude regarding proposed American participation in the League of Nations' discussions on the Sino-Japanese controversy. The cabinet met this morning to consider the proposal.

GENEVA, Oct. 15. (AP)—The council of the League of Nations overwhelmed Japanese opposition tonight by voting, 13 to 1, to invite the United States to participate in its discussion of measures to bring peace between Japan and China in Manchuria. The council's action revived hope that the league, with the support of the American government, would be able to bring about a pacific settlement of the Manchurian controversy.

"We are still loyal members of the league and have been from the first," Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japan's spokesman, told questioners at the end of the long secret session at which the position maintained so persistently by him and the Tokyo government was overruled.

Judicial Objection

"We objected on judicial grounds alone in inviting America, a non-member of the league. I have acted in close conformity with my government's instructions and now must inquire again from Tokyo for directions as to my future attitude."

Tomorrow morning the council will hold a public session at which the invitation to the United States will be ratified and the relation between the council and America's spokesman will be defined. The invitation will not be communicated to the Washington government until after tomorrow's public sitting.

While Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, and his colleagues argued long and ardently with M. Yoshizawa, an anxious crowd packed the league secretariat lobby and corridors, awaiting the result of their deliberations.

Test for League

The feeling that not only war in the Far East but also the very life of the league was at stake had been growing, and each hour of delay increased fear on the part of the league proponents that the institution might show weakness in a vital test.

The result, therefore, was welcomed with gratification and relief in international circles which regarded the council's determination to override Japanese opposition as their eagerly desired token of vitality.

JAPAN URGES HANDS-OFF POLICY

TOKYO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Japan firmly enunciated today its desire that the United States pursue a hands-off policy regarding Manchuria.

The Japanese delegation to the League of Nations council meeting at Geneva was instructed to "use every effort" to secure abandonment of proposals that an American observer participate in the council's Manchurian discussions.

A foreign office spokesman explained Japan was contending for the principle involved and this move was "most assuredly not due to any unfriendliness" of Japan for the United States.

"Precedent" Is Nub

An informal statement from the foreign office said if America had "any intention of making the present participation in the league's debate serve as a precedent and accordingly attend the league's ses-

MURRAY BILLS ARE PREPARED

Legislative Program Ready For Meetings

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15. (UP) Gov. William H. Murray's program of seven measures was ready for action by "firebell" meetings today.

Printing of the bills was completed. A week from the coming Saturday, they will be initiated at state-wide meetings and a special election will be held, the governor said, as soon as possible.

The four bills and constitutional amendments would:

1—Reduce ad valorem taxes.

2—Tax individual and corporate incomes on a new scale, shifting the burden to higher income brackets.

3—Prohibit corporations owning land other than for charter purposes.

4—Provide free text books and new education commission.

5—Establish a state relief commission and extension of the extra one-cent gasoline tax for a relief fund.

6—Reduce cotton and wheat acreage to conform with regional curtailment programs.

7—Revise the budget officer system.

Text Book Measure

A complete revision of the method of handling text books is provided in Governor Murray's proposed state text book bill which abolishes the present state board of education. Details of the bill were announced today by the governor.

The bill provides for a new nine-member state board of education to replace the present group headed by State Superintendent John Vaughan.

The new board would be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. Each term is for six years.

The bill provides that the new board will assume all duties of the present board and the present text book commission.

A textbook committee of seven experienced and active educators will be provided by the board to discuss with the commission all questions relating to the adoption of uniform textbooks.

"Trusts" Barred

An interesting provision of the bill is that forbidding the purchase of any books from persons or firms who are members of a "book trust."

The text book committee, appointed by the board, is to read and examine books submitted to them, make a written report on each book to the board of education. The bill gives the governor the right to discuss with the commission all questions relating to the adoption of uniform books and the purchase of free books.

If an attempt is made by the book companies to balk the governor's proposal to provide free books by charging high prices, the bill gives the governor power to use the appropriation to print text books for the state.

Changes Limited

Frequent changes of text books will be banned in Oklahoma if the proposal is passed at the special election Governor Murray has said he will call for early November.

The bill provides text books on mathematics shall remain uniform for 15 years and the readers shall not be changed for 10 years or copy books for six years.

Result of passage of the bill will be to put the expenditure of the $2,000,000 appropriation in the hands of a committee named by the governor.

The board will be all-powerful. Text books adopted and recommended by the board must be used exclusively in the public schools.

Naval Budget Reduction Made Without Major Hurt to Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Efforts to slash the naval budget for the next fiscal year were characterized today at the White House as both vigorous and successful.

Secretary Adams, with Admiral Pratt, chief of naval operations, and head of various naval bureaus, it was said at the White House, have brought about this reduction without a major injury to the efficiency of the navy.

Secretary Adams conferred for some time this afternoon with President Hoover.

Afterwards it was said the proposed cuts in the budget were not complete, in that details have yet to be worked out by Director Roop of the budget bureau and the budget officer of the navy.

Several weeks ago it was learned on the highest authority that the president considered the proposed navy budget of $401,000,000 as far too high. Returning it to the navy department he sought a reduction hoped by him to cut the fund requested to $340,000,000.

Officials at the White House today, however, would not say whether the $61,000,000 hoped-for reduction had been obtained.

Many Witnesses Called in Probe Of Tillman Jury

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 15.—More than 30 witnesses have been examined by the Tillman county grand jury now in session, some of them being called two or three times. The examination of witnesses will probably last several days and at its close, the county attorney, who is now in attendance, will be excluded and the jurors will deliberate in secret.

If they decide there is sufficient evidence against one or more individuals, indictment will be returned to the court clerk. Names of the person or persons indicted will be disclosed until after the arrest and furnishing of bond. The defendants will then be tried in the next term of district court.

Hall County Dismisses Two Fa[illegible]ork Agents

Special to The [illegible]ews.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 15.—At a special meeting of the Hall county commissioners court it was decided to dispense with the services of the county agent and the county demonstrator. The reason that was given for this action was the scarcity of county funds to pay the salaries of these two officers.

"The county will greatly miss the work of these two officers and we are sorry to let them go," Judge Hoffman stated, "but it is impossible to do otherwise at the present condition of the county."

NEW RAILROAD IS PROJECTED

South Texas Plan Before I. C. Commission

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Another railroad for Southern Texas today was proposed to the Interstate Commerce commission.

The Del Rio and Northern railroad company applied for authorization to construct 132 miles of line running from Del Rio in Val Verde county through Edwards county to Sonora in Sutton county and from Del Rio through Kinney county to Quemado in Maverick county.

The proposed line would serve the Maverick county water district which is spending between $4,000,000 and $6,000,000 for an irrigation system.

County Council P.-T.A. Will Discuss Leading Objectives

Standards of excellence and the health of the child will be themes for discussion when the Wichita County Council Parent-Teacher association meets for the day Thursday, Oct. 22, in the auditorium of the First Methodist church of Burkburnett, with members of the Burkburnett P.-T. A. unit as hostesses.

At the San Angelo state convention in the spring, nine standard associations were reported from Wichita county and many other units are working toward this much desired end.

Mrs. Walter Taylor, standard of excellence chairman for Wichita county, is on the program for the all-day meeting and will give full details and definite requirements for attaining the standard.

Mrs. Frank Creighton, past president of the 13th district, will discuss the theme from the standpoint of the progress which the state office is anxious each unit should show. Mrs. H. R. Cloughley will talk on parental education study club work, a recently added required point on the standard of excellence. Mrs. Cloughley, who was president of Austin P.-T. A. last year was unusually successful in this phase of the work.

An address on "The Five-Point Child" by Mrs. Virginia Troup, county health nurse for Wilbarger county will be a feature of the afternoon session. Mrs. Troup is an expert in her line and did an outstanding piece of work last winter when health surveys were conducted in Wilbarger county schools.

In view of the fact that Wichita county council has health for its objective for the coming year, this address is especially timely and will be looked forward to by members of every association desiring to free its particular community from contagious diseases. The subject is particularly applicable at this time because the state program also embraces the study of health for the coming year. Maximum attention is always given this phase of parent-teacher activities, but health is being especially stressed by the Texas congress this year, it is announced.

Delegates planning to be in attendance at the meeting of the council are asked to communicate with Mrs. S. E. Cropper, Box 32, Burkburnett, so that arrangements can be made for an adequate number at the luncheon at noon in the First Methodist church.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

When I was introduced to Mrs. Ross Sterling at the Forum clubhouse Wednesday morning, I asked if Mrs. Witt came with her. She shook her head, smiling. "Why we were so sure that she was coming," I said, "and so afraid you would not be here." Her eyes twinkled behind the spectacles; "I am the unknown quantity," she said.

Through the day she proved herself the unknown quantity in many women's expectations. I have a dear friend in Mississippi who has the best mind, the clearest understanding, the biggest heart—with no sentimentality—and the noblest spirit I know in woman. I remember being made furiously angry one day when a rattle brained little fashion plate said to me, "Mrs. W. is so popular, but it is a strange thing to me, she never cares about her clothes." "She's so beautifully equipped within herself," I retorted, "that she doesn't have to worry about what she wears like less fortunate people."

Mrs. Ross Sterling reminds me of my Mississippi friend. So many women put in prominent public places, seem to feel it incumbent on them to change their manner of living, to dress up to the public. It is a feminine failing noticeable at state and district conventions. Hats, gowns, costumes, jewelry and shoes harmonize expensively on a woman you knew in simple dignity at home.

One would imagine Mrs. Sterling as she was Wednesday—quiet, dignified, dressed in a frock and hat that would cause comment in any place, as just the same sort of womanly woman at home; all round woman; wife; mother; member of church and club; seeing life with clear, undazed eyes; facing bad conditions with an unclouded mind; wearing simple, handsome garments with good taste and putting on no more frills than in her simplest home.

I think there were many women glad to get the intimate glimpse of Mrs. Sterling that was given at the clubhouse Wednesday. Bluebonnets were mentioned; she knew about bluebonnets and immediately in my mind's eye, I saw the tulips that bloomed like stately, red coated sentinels each side of the walk up to the governor's mansion last spring.

Two things for which I would ask Mrs. Sterling's pardon in the preceding paragraph. Why should one say always "the governor's wife?" To the slender, erect figure we met Wednesday, there's quite enough personality to stand alone. Let's make it Mrs. Sterling's husband—on the woman's page.

Then why the "governor's mansion?" What would it mean to the governor if it were not home, and it was the homemaker whom we met. A maker of hooked rugs and needle point; a woman who stays at home when her husband is coming to lunch; a lover of nature and of home and of her state and people. That mansion in Austin seems to us to belong to Mrs. Sterling at the present time.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Actress Holds American Women Are Best Dressed

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15. (INS)—American women are the world's best dressed because they have the figures to which clothes take kindly," Constance Bennett, slender golden princess of the silver screen declared today.

Miss Bennett, regarded by many fashion arbiters as the best dressed woman in pictures, declared that "the ultimate in chic is French lines on an American woman's figure."

Drawn into the style war that has raged on the Hollywood front since Florenz Ziegfeld, theatrical producer, attacked French fashions, Miss Bennett said that "Ziegfeld can get only half an argument from me."

Miss Bennett recently returned to Hollywood from Paris with several trunks full of gowns.

"Fashion supremacy has ceased to be a matter of geography," she said.

"For medium and lower priced gowns, American fashions are incomparably above those in Paris. For the more expensive creations I believe Paris lines are slightly superior and I know they are comparatively less costly.

"Every American girl can be smartly dressed because of the numerous chic models obtainable at moderate prices," continued the actress.

"American women are the world's best dressed because they have the figures to which clothes take kindly. They are taller, have slightly wider shoulders and are narrower in the waist and hips than European women. Their carriage also is superior."

Mysterious Phantom Identified at Store

The local man who has been mystifying the public for the past two days with his disguise as "The Phantom of Paris," was recognized unmasked in Saul's store at 3 o'clock Thursday, when J. D. Yeakley, 109 Walnut street, tapped him with a Record News and said "You are the phantom."

Mr. Yeakley was awarded the three months pass for two offered by the State theater, and will use it for the first time to see the play which opened at the State Thursday at 12 o'clock.

John Gilbert, Lelia Hyams and Lewis Stone are principal characters in the play. It promises the thrill of many mysteries and the lure of romance.

"The Phantom of Paris," will show at the State theater through Saturday.

BLAST ENDS OIL WELL FIRE

Oklahoma Producers Run Wild After Explosion

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15. (INS)—Fire which had raged in the Empire Gustin Oil well here since Monday, was extinguished today by a charge of nitroglycerin. The blast was set off by Floyd Kinley, Tulsa oil fire expert.

Following the explosion which extinguished the blaze, the well ran wild, a plume of oil shooting from it several hundred feet into the air. It was believed the well could be capped without difficulty.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas will have in the elections of 1932 a potential voting strength of 3,195,296, according to the census bureau—a gain of almost 1,000,000 over the 1920 total. The actual vote, however, will be tremendously less than the potential, as in the hotly contested election of 1928 with an estimated 3,000,000 potential voters, only 720,040 or considerably less than 25 per cent, cast their ballots.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Further accretions to the 84 per cent of surfaced highways come in the announcement that the state highway commission will let contracts for improvement of 218.9 miles of road Oct. 19-20 at an estimated cost of $2,000,000. The projects—in 22 counties—include 21.8 miles of concrete, 106 miles of base and surface and 91.8 miles of grading and drainage structures. Seven bridge contracts at an estimated cost of $229,000 are to be let at the same time. The new $95,000 bridge on state 67 at South Bend, southwest of Graham is open for traffic, ending a long detour. State No. 66 was opened for traffic a few days ago from Alice to San Antonio, opening a new and shorter route to the Rio Grande valley . . . Contract is to be let this month for a concrete and steel bridge over Red river in Childress county at an estimated cost of $300,000 . . . Six hundred thousand dollars is available to eliminate the gap in state 34 between Wolfe City and Ladonia, giving a new connection between Dallas and state No. 5. . . . Tom Green county will vote on $80,000 road bonds with which to build 13 miles of state 70 to connect state 30, east of San Angelo, to the Coke county line, there to connect with the new paving Coke county district No. 2 is building from the proceeds of its recent $175,000 bond issue, 31 miles of No. 70 and seven miles on No. 158 from Bronte westward toward Robert Lee, the county seat.

Wellington Clubs Hear Business Hope

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Oct. 15.—"The United States is definitely on the upgrade, but at the same time we are approaching the critical period of the depression." This statement was the theme of a thoughtful talk made by Dr. W. C. Dickey of Memphis, president of the Hall County National bank, before the Wellington Kiwanis club Wednesday, at which time the Memphis Rotary club conducted the program.

"Just as a patient suffering from a long spell of fever approaches the critical stage just when he begins to mend, so is the country approaching a critical time as it starts to rebuild its devitalized economic structure," Dr. Dickey declared. "It is a time when we should unite our efforts to preserve the integrity of our communities and our country. It is up to us to determine the worth while principle which motivates our community and to work for its further stability."

Other Memphis Rotarians and their guests who had places upon the program were Miss Vernadine Jones, Mrs. Margaret Morgan-Andrews, Miss Dorrace Powell, Miss Annie Laurie Carter, David Fitzgerald, Dr. T. L. Lewis, J. Henry, Read and E. C. Throop.

Prisoners in Fort Leavenworth hooted all night because they were locked up before hearing their favorite radio programs. Might kill two birds with one stone by putting in the radio stars too.

In order to be a success, a Chicago party must start with a bang.

Roving Young Men

ALTHOUGH one ordinarily supposes that it is the old men who are most in need of charity in a time of depression, the head of a "wayfarers' lodge" in a large middle western city revealed the other day that most of the wanderers helped by his organization lately have been young men—men under 30, in the vast majority of cases.

Perhaps this is just another reflection of youth's restlessness. When hard times come the old man is apt to find some sort of haven and stick to it. Being wise in the ways of adversity, he lets well enough alone. But the young man is likely to go adventuring and see if he can't better himself by going to some distant field.

In the very nature of things a young man is a rover. A depression simply accentuates it. If his own town has no jobs for him, the next town probably will; if that fails, there are other towns, and in one or another of them, given any luck at all, there will be something doing.

So, after a while, the young man finds himself a long way from home, and has to hunt up a breadline and free flop-house.

This, at the present time, simply means an added strain for the charitable organizations. Yet this eternal tendency of youth to look for something better on the other side of the next hill can occasionally bring about mighty convulsions in the history of a nation, and no nation has more reasons to know it than the United States.

Who broke through the wilderness and peopled the great west? The young men, restless and dissatisfied in a narrow eastern world where jobs were few and opportunities were hard to grasp. From the beginning of the 19th century onwards, the empty land toward the sunset was a beacon for these "men under 30" who couldn't make a go of it at home.

Like their brothers of 1931, the young men went roving. They were illogical, foolish very often, poorly prepared for the change; but they created a tremendous empire, and today we speak of them as pioneers, and honor them.

Their spirit is moving the young men again. The empty West is gone, and there is no frontier for them to pass. But when they land in the breadlines of strange cities we needn't wag our beards too solemnly. They are simply pioneers in a land that needs pioneers no longer.

Approval for Governor Sterling

THE efforts of certain oil operators to upset the conservation laws of the state of Texas through a federal court injunction have been checked temporarily at least through Governor Sterling's martial law order in the East Texas oil fields.

Whether a district federal court order can prevail over the martial law order of the governor of a state is now a question for the judiciary and it is probable that the question will not be decided this side of the United States supreme court.

Governor Sterling through his representative, Gen. Jacob Wolters, seems to have the nine points of law that are said to go with possession and control. Aside from any question of state rights it is hoped that Governor Sterling and the state of Texas can maintain the conservation law by which oil production is restricted in East Texas. For if this law is once broken down the way is open for incalculable waste and bankruptcy and ruin for the oil industry, and especially that part of the industry which is still called independent. It would mean not only ruin for the oil industry, but for industries that are dependent upon this industry and in every section and community where oil is produced. It would seriously affect every school district in the state of Texas and would greatly impair the state's revenues.

Governor Sterling has been criticized in times past for his slowness of action. Our governor is a conservative and cautious man and if he has been lacking in promptness of decision and speed in action he has made up for it in stolid courage.

Many oil operators from this section and from all sections of the state have sent telegrams of approval to Governor Sterling for his action in maintaining martial law. If all who approve his action were to attempt to send telegrams there would not be enough wires to transmit them.

Politics And the Dole

FOR some time the newspapers have printed stories in which it was charged that Detroit's famous "dole" system of providing for the victims of unemployment has been grossly mismanaged and extravagantly conducted.

It is a little bit difficult, from this distance, to say whether the charges may be true or not. But evidently a substantial number of Detroit's citizens feel that the job has been conducted pretty well.

At any rate, Mayor Frank Murphy, responsible for the "dole," had very little trouble in winning renomination. Running some 70,000 votes ahead of his closest competitor, the mayor apparently will go into the November election a favorite.

Extravagant or otherwise, the mayor has won the approval of at least a large part of Detroit's voters—and he will be a pretty hard man to beat.

Quotations Worth Noting

Giving me the rank of commander (in the Legion of Honor) did not seem strange to me.—Mayor James J. Walker.

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the theater in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary to Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Miss Galbraith, Brilling's fiancee is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

Nollie accompanies Mrs. Judson to a garden party and meets Rhoda Vane.

CHAPTER XXX

There was silence in the little coppice by the lake, except for the occasional cry of water fowl, and a faint breeze in the tree tops.

Beautiful it all was.

A setting for romance.

Romance was here. A man and a maid . . . shy of each other.

"D'you mind if I smoke?" And from a pocket of his shabby fishing coat Tony produced an old brier.

"Oh, do," said Nollie nervously, "I like the smell of a pipe—especially in the open."

There was a homely feeling in that smell. Curiously enough, it reminded her of Uncle Cyrus.

What would Tony think were he to know from where she came? Would he have given her a second thought had he met her in the shabby, bickering house in Yapahunk? Or seen her as the drudge in uncle's paint shop?

Nollie felt mean—contemptible, because she'd let him think that she was some one else—had sailed under false colors.

But she'd tell him now. She'd tear illusions from herself.

Extraordinarily handsome Tony looked here in the sunshine! He had slid down from the logs and was sitting with his back to the pile, his long legs stretched out before him.

Nollie sat there, too, on the bright moss that was soft as a cushion.

Her blue dress matched her eyes, and made a vivid patch in the greenery.

She drew a long breath. How to begin her story?

"I'm not Mrs. Judson at all," she said in a stifled little voice. "I told you twice I wasn't—that night we were in the theater."

To her relief he turned and grinned at her, just like a boy. "I was to blame," he said, "for being deaf, dumb and blind to any explanations, because I was so carried away by you—"

She laughed and flushed. There was a lilt now in her voice as she went on: "I was deputizing that night—just as you were. Mrs. Judson said it would be a favor to her if I'd take her place at the very last minute."

"The almighty, blessed favor was to me," Tony interrupted fervently.

She laughed again. "I'd a wonderful time myself. I didn't think I've ever had such a gorgeous evening. D'you know—you'll never believe—it was the first time I was ever in a New York theater? In the audience, I mean."

For Nollie had remembered the ill-fated "audition" that had ended in her fainting.

Ah! So she'd been on the stage? thought Tony. Some how his heart fell.

She guessed his thought. She said, briefly: "I've never played. I did try once. It wasn't my—line."

She paused again. He looked at her—saw that on her forehead was a worried little frown.

He took his pipe out of his mouth, and with his engaging frankness said: "Look here, my dear, I don't want to put you through the third degree, or anything like that, but at the same time anything you wish to tell me about yourself is bound to interest me—awfully."

She smiled gravely, sweetly.

"I don't know why—" she paused, stared out over the water—"you should be so interested in me."

He bit his lip, "That isn't true, because you know darn well the why's and wherefore's."

That thrilled her. He did—he must care for her.

Incredible it seemed. It was like heaven opening.

She was afraid to shatter this bright dream that was descending on her.

"My life's been awfully humdrum. I lived in a little town 'way up in Pennsylvania for 10 years, with an aunt and uncle."

"A—ah!" He drew the exclamation out. "Then that accounts why I haven't seen you till quite recently."

She said to herself: "Still he doesn't understand that I'm not of his world. I must make him see the difference between his life and mine."

She said slowly: "I was never in New York until this time." She lowered her eyes. "I ran away from home."

His hand shot out and gripped hers sympathetically. "You mean they weren't kind to you, is that it, Gloria?"

She hesitated. "I suppose in a way they were. I'm sure my uncle meant to be. But I—I just hated it."

"And why?"

She fenced. She said, avoiding his eyes: "You don't know what it's like—that 'small town' life."

"You grew tired of it? But hadn't you friends—amusements—fun? And—I hate to ask you, but I must, for I'm a jealous cuss—any number of beaux?"

She flushed. "No, Tony, it may seem funny to you, but—I had none of those things."

He looked amazed. "Then the wicked uncle must have shut you up like the sleeping beauty in the castle—or was it a dungeon?"

"It was neither the one nor the other." She had a mental picture of the shabby, bickering little house on South street, with its lack of comfort, love or sympathy. "Tony, let's not talk about that time."

He stared at her kindly but anxiously. He visualized all sorts of backgrounds.

"So you ran away to New York, Gloria?"

"Yes. Not long ago." Again she hsitated.

"And you knew Mrs. Judson back in your home town? Is that so?"

"No, I met her here. Recently."

Oh, tell him now just how they'd met. Let him understand her exact status in the Judson household.

"And Mrs. Judson asked you to take her place that night at the theater with old Mr. Hiram?"

"Yes."

"Well, it was a lucky break for me that the old boy sent me in his place, otherwise fate might never have thrown us together!"

"You're glad of it? You're glad we met?" Her voice quavered.

"Of course I am. You looked a dream. I thought you weren't real at first. You took my breath away, Gloria."

And both of them were thinking of that gown and cloak . . . and suddenly a nagging query jerked at Tony's mind . . . (he knew the cost of clothes like that) . . . who had given them to her?

'SCHOOL' FOR SOLONS OPENS

Venerable Clerk of House To Coach 'Greenies'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (UP)—One of the world's unique schools—dedicated to the task of taking the kinks out of green congressmen—will open here late in November.

The educational institution will be presided over by William Tyler Page, clerk of the house of representatives.

Page will be remembered as the gentlemen who recently all but defied contempt proceedings in the district court here by at first refusing to produce election accounts filed with him by Bishop James Cannon Jr., the embattled cleric. Page capitulated when Justice James Proctor held the law took precedence even over a venerable rule of the house of the vintage of 1789.

Has Long Experience

Page, urbane and distinguished, is steeped in the tradition and practice of the house. His knowledge is fortified with nearly a half century of experience.

Many congressmen coming to Washington for the first time are unfamiliar with legislative practice and precedents of Washington.

As one recently put it, "I knew all the rules when I came here. My mistake was in not knowing the exceptions."

To save these newcomers embarrassment page has established his school. Matriculation and commencement are the same night. It holds forth but once in two years, when a new congress convenes. There are no diplomats but a jovial supper is scheduled after the class adjourns.

Page does not call it a school. He does not like to have it called a school. "Symposium" is his word for it.

Hundred May Attend

Attendance is by invitation. Those who respond, and they probably will number close to 100 this year, are greeted at the door of the class room—the majority caucus room in the house office building—by Page. They are given a badge such as delegates to a convention receive, with their names on them.

As the meeting gets under way the school boy spirit prevails. Each member stands up and is introduced.

Page, a master of oratory, addresses them, describing the rules and practices and the established procedure for addressing government officials. He distributes literature informing them of their privileges, particularly allowances for mileage, clerk hire, stationery, the franking privilege and a host of other matters.

That done, he is open to questioning by the members, but he makes no effort to explain the unique social etiquette of the capital. That, he explains, is something for wives and daughters to pick up at the congressional club. It is too controversial—oh, very controversial, at times.

Average Span of Life to Reach 70 Years, Says Mayo

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Prediction that man's average life is about to be increased to 70 years, because of a "new type of medicine," was made at the American College of Surgeons' meeting today by Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., one of the foremost medical authorities.

This new phase of healing is a combination of medical care with the aid of the individual efforts and intelligence of the patient, Dr. Mayo made these statements in a general interview with the press.

"The average expectation of life is 58 years," he said. "Within 25 years it is my belief that this expectation should be advanced to 70 years.

"The added span will come about through education, teaching people that they must care for themselves and how to do it."

Students Prepare For Big Rally

By BILL JENKINS

The student body of the Wichita Falls High school and Junior college await with anticipation the giant pep rally to be held the night of Oct. 23 at the Memorial auditorium. This rally, called "Let's Go Athletic" will take place on the eve of the first conference game on the home field.

An enthusiasm that is unknown to the high school for many years can be detected among the students as they go from one class to another. This enthusiasm is a direct result of the support that the student body is receiving from the people of the city.

In the meetings of each organization and club in the school some mention is made of the coming grand rally on the night before the most important game of the season with the strong Quanah Indians. Miss Davida Olinger is practicing her 100 strong pep squad in anticipation of the rally and the game. Tom McCarty, band director, is holding practice for his 40-piece band every afternoon.

The student body has adopted the name of this play as their slogan, and is the prevailing subject on the tongues of the faculty members and the students. The high school and Junior college has decided to do what the rest of the city is doing, and "go athletic" in a big way.

Arguments Open In Capone Trial

dress in which Prosecutor Jacob I. Grossman invited the 12 middle aged farmers, merchants and tradesmen to go with him on a tour which government under-cover operatives took in tracing the gangster's alleged ill-gotten wealth.

"We'll take a little trip to Florida and there find him living like a be-jeweled Indian prince in a palatial $40,000 home," said the prosecutor. "We find him receiving thousands of dollars in telegraphic money orders from Chicago. We return to Chicago and visit his headquarters at the Metropole hotel. Silent men who used assumed names refuse to answer your questions."

Grossman referred to the racing gamblers who he said "came a-running to testify when Capone ordered them to do so."

Grossman reviewed the government's evidence concerning Capone's expenditures—his purchase of $135 suits by the dozen, $30 shirts by the dozen, $275 be-jeweled belt buckles by the score for friends. He said there was no doubt that Capone owned the wide open gambling houses of suburban Cicero which figured so prominently in the evidence.

"There can't be the slightest bit of doubt that this man had an enormous, a fabulous income, and that he did not want to pay a tax or deal with the government."

The possibility of sending the case to the jury by tomorrow night arose when, at the defense suggestion, Judge James H. Wilkerson ordered tomorrow's session to start a half hour earlier than usual to enable both defense attorneys to speak during the day.

KNIVES FOR SAFETY

BANTOUL, Ill. — Some people won't carry knives for safety's sake, but for the same reason student parachute jumpers at Chanute field here do carry them. They are carried in event the jumper's first 'chute fouls the plane. If this happens he can cut himself loose and use his emergency parachute.

Pep Squad Makes Money for Games

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 15.—The "Red Peppers," Electra High school girls' pep squad, and the boys' band sponsored a country store Wednesday afternoon in the high school auditorium. The proceeds will be used to pay admission fees of the pep squad and the band into the conference football games between Electra and other schools.

The program presented included a march, "I Want to Sing About You," and "Rocky Mountain Rose," by the orchestra under the direction of Miss Ruth Smith. Solo numbers were given by Sanderson Warden and Richard Smalley. Misses Frances McDannald, Faye Andrews, Veta Katherine Hopkins, accompanied by Miss Norma Andrews, gave popular song numbers.

Lucille Hodge was presented in acrobatic stunts, Coach Harvey Stanford of the Tigers sang two numbers, one of which was a pep song he recently composed. The girls glee club under the direction of Miss Ruby K. Price sang "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," "Who Am I?", and "Elegy." Dorothy Parr gave a tap dance, and Lucille Hodge gave a toe dance.

Wilbur Presson was in charge of the country store which furnished much amusement for the audience. A large crowd was in attendance.

Indiana Town Will Have No Tax Levy in 1932

SIDNEY, Ind., Oct. 15. (UP) — Sidney has a reputation envied by every city in the country. It has no tax levy for 1932.

Inquiries as to how Sidney, with a population of more than 250, has succeeded in clearing its taxes have been received from all parts of the county, according to James Palmer, treasurer.

Palmer explained that street lighting and repairing were the chief expenses of the town. Strict economy during the past year left a balance in the treasury which will make it possible to dispense with a levy this year, Palmer said.

third in constitutional succession.

Counsel for Cyr said the lieutenant governor's office had not been vacated by their client unless he was allowed to move up into the governor's office. Senator King said he would function as lieutenant governor and the state paymaster said he already had entered the senator on the books for the salary.

Jobiesk men were attracted to the positions after Walter L. Aldrich of Shreveport took the oath as governor with the explanation that he had "as much right to it as Cyr." Then L. D. Smith of Benton, took the oath as lieutenant governor on the claim "he was as much entitled to it as King." E. H. Reed, grocer of Shreveport, said he would take the oath for lieutenant governor because "the third governor ought to have a lieutenant governor."

Dr. Cyr has taken both oaths of governor and lieutenant governor, but is not now on the pay roll for either place and his status probably will remain undetermined until the courts act.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare, costs little, and saves money, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Doctor's THREE RULES

Big Help to Bowels

WHAT a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

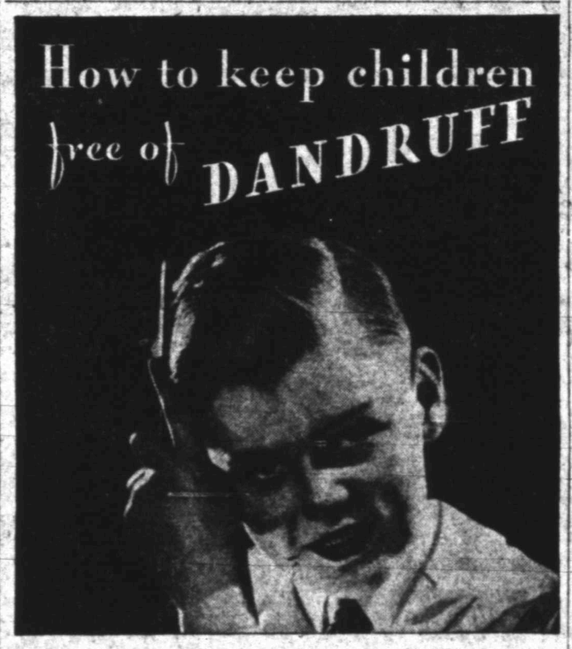

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour daily.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other mild ingredients that could not hurt even a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

Clean up that coated tongue, sweeten that bad breath, and get rid of those bilious headaches. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will soon free the bowels from waste. You'll eat better and sleep better, and feel better all over. Generous bottles at all druggists.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN

A Doctor's Family Laxative

Youngsters usually get loose dandruff at school; promiscuous use of combs, towels, etc., brings it on. At the first sign of it, go after it with Listerine, the safe antiseptic.

To combat loose dandruff you simply douse it on full strength and massage the scalp vigorously. Keep the treatment up systematically. Unless the case is a very serious one, requiring the attention of a physician, you will note improvement within ten days.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them, as well as horny scales. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blouts up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

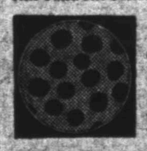

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Why you should be interested in your Blood Count

It is a great protection to health and physical well-being to keep the red-blood-cell count up to normal. These cells build and sustain—they also remove impurities.

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to the cubic millimeter. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

Don't let them count you out!

... take S.S.S.—a splendid Tonic for restoring the appetite and for rebuilding the red-blood-cells

"DEAR, here is good news for you."

"Let me read you a message I found in the papers today * * * then I want you to start on your first bottle which I brought home for you tonight."

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality, when lowered in count, render the body weak and deprive you of an appetite.

You cannot be low in strength and be happy—let's be happy.

S.S.S. is especially valuable in aiding the system to recuperate after the specific cause of a disease has spent its force.

Its Tonic properties will help the body restore to normal a low red-blood-cell count and by so doing many ailments may be avoided—body resistance increased and conditions of a low blood count corrected.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

RITCHIE PLEADS FOR COURAGE

Real Leadership Needed, Governor Says

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15. (AP)—Calling for "leadership in a leaderless world," Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, in an address at Founders' day exercises of Carnegie institute here today, pleaded that "a united and courageous front by the men of light and leading now will do much to check the wave of hysteria and fear which has been sweeping the people off their feet."

"What we need today," he said, "is a mobilization of the constructive brains of the country and a demobilization of political oratory. It is time to see both politics and economics realistically."

"The day for meeting a crisis by beating the political tom-toms has passed," the governor said. "The scientific and trained mind of the nation must be drafted and must be listened to. This is always a hard thing for politics to do.

"It may be bad politics to say it, but there is no magic remedy. All the things which created the wealth of our past, we still have. The foundations on which real prosperity must build are still here. He must have little faith in his country or little vision of the future who cannot foresee at last a prosperity greater than ever.

"Of little use can political leadership be when, with a surplus of cotton and a deficit of clothes, the most it can tell the planter who has stood the cost of growing his cotton, is to stand now the cost of plowing up and destroying every third row of it. It seems almost as if a panic was required to make us see—if indeed we do see—that the law of supply and demand still works.

"The question of forced industrial employment is upon us. I believe it to be true that a nation's supreme obligation is to protect its citizenship. If its citizens are threatened or attacked, government must guard them or defend them. Both social justice and its own material welfare demand that industry should plan some provisions for its labor when enforced idleness comes, just as it does for the upkeep of its plant, for interest to its bondholders and dividends to its stockholders, and for its injured workmen."

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

"If I were you," he said during a lull in the domestic storm, "I would have more sense."

"Of course you would," she responded sweetly.—Pathfinder.

Japanese School Boy Starts Move Resulting in Slab for Flight Hero

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15. (AP)—A movement unknowingly started by a school boy in Japan brought diplomats and army officers together here today to honor the memory of Lieut. William W. Caldwell, American aviator who was killed just a year ago while escorting the Japanese instrument of artification of the London naval treaty across the United States.

Representatives of Japan and America gathered to unveil a bronze plaque in the form of a wreath in the San Francisco presidio.

Caldwell met death near Laramie, Wyo., Oct. 15, 1930, when his plane crashed in a snowstorm while escorting another army plane carrying the Japanese document from the Pacific coast to New York on its way to London.

The school boy, Shigeyoshi Fukushima, upon being told of the death of Williams, set aside a part of the money his father had given him for an educational trip and sent it to the Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun with the request that it be used to buy flowers for the aviator's grave.

Later, another contribution came from an unnamed student of the Imperial University of Japan. The ultimate result was the erection of the plaque.

Government Deficit Goes Over Half Billion For Quarter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Cold figures emphasized the difficult financial position of the government anew today, the deficit passing the half billion dollar mark.

For the first three and a half months of the fiscal year, which began July 1, the treasury books show the government to be $502,106,600 in the red.

Even as this was revealed, fiscal experts of the department were pondering over how to adjust the situation—whether taxes should be increased.

MERGER CANCELED

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel corporation, today announced the merger contract between Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company had been canceled.

SAVANT FINDS ELEMENT '87'

Missing Link in Atomic Chain Isolated

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (INS)—Dr. Jacob Rapish, professor of spectroscophy in Baker laboratory of Cornell university, has discovered element 87.

His discovery was announced today by L. M. Dennis, director of the chemical department of the university.

Element 87 has been missing from the atomic chain ever since the chain itself was compiled. Its discovery leaves only one other, element 85, still undiscovered.

Element 87 is the heaviest known. It has been concentrated in actual form as yet because it is non-colubie and cannot be liquidised under 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Dr. Papish has it imprisoned in a sulphate.

Dr. Papish found element 87 among its brother elements, cesium and rubidium by following along his new theory of the evolution of the element which he has not yet published. In finding 87, he finally disproved the theory that it belonged among the radio-active group of elements.

Element 87, Dr. Papish declared today, is the most sensitive element known to life. It cannot be isolated and will explode when it is exposed to air. Its discovery has added five new lines to the spectrum. One of its benefits will be to render more sensitive photo-electric cells.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause—

Does your baby have nights when he fusses, tosses and seems unable to go quickly, quietly to sleep? Look for one common cause, doctors say. A constipated condition.

To get rid quickly of accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria.

Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics of any kind.

It is mild and gentle enough to relieve a young infant's colic pains, yet is an effective regulator for children of school age.

When your baby is upset and unable to sleep, or has a little cold or fever, it is a wise precaution to give him the gentle but sure regulative help of Castoria. With regulation come relaxed comfort and restful sleep.

Keep a bottle always on hand. Children like the taste of real Castoria—which always has the name, Chas. H. Fletcher, on the package.

RECIPES

Sausage Rolls

twelve sausages.
Milk.
Baking powder biscuit dough.

Cook sausages in a frying pan until tender but not crisp. Meanwhile prepare baking powder biscuit dough and roll it one-fourth inch thick. Cut into oblongs three inches long and two inches wide. Roll one sausage in each oblong of dough, press sides together and leave ends open. Lay in a greased pan whole side up. Brush surface with milk and bake in a hot oven of 450 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Serves six.

Baking Powder Biscuits

Two cupfuls flour.
Four tablespoonfuls shortening.
Four teaspoonfuls baking powder.
Two-thirds cupful milk (about).

Cut shortening into sifted dry ingredients. Add liquid to make a soft dough. Roll lightly or pat into a sheet about one-half to 1 inch thick, cut into rounds and place on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven of 450 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes.

Steamed Capon With Supreme of Cauliflower

Capons are as tender as hens and you get more flesh and less bone. Truss and stuff the bird, and steam for 20 to 30 minutes to the pound, or until tender. Brush over with butter or bacon fat, and brown under the gas flame. Serve on a hot platter, with the cauliflower supreme poured around it.

Supreme of Cauliflower

Make a sauce by thickening a pint of the liquid from the steamed capon with one-fourth a cup, each, of flour and butter, season with one-half a teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth a teaspoonful of pepper. Cook until the mixture boils, stirring carefully. Remove from fire, and stir in, very quickly, two well-beaten eggs and the juice of a small lemon. The mixture should be hot enough to cook the eggs, otherwise careful heating with stirring will be needed. Lastly, mix with a small cauliflower that has been divided into flowerets after cooking.

Pimiento Cracker Stuffing

One-half cupful pimientoes.
Three tablespoonfuls butter.
Two-thirds cupful hot water.
One cupful cracker crumbs.
One-eighth teaspoonful pepper.
One-fourth teaspoonful sage.
One-fourth teaspoonful poultry seasoning.
One-half teaspoonful salt.

Drain the pimientos thoroughly and chop them fine. Add, with butter, to the water, and heat. Pour over the crumbs and seasonings, which have been mixed. This dressing swells considerably. It may be used for stuffing any poultry or meat.

Grapefruit, Stuffed Celery and Tomato Salad

Remove the outside skin from one grapefruit; separate the pulp into sections and discard all seeds and thin skin between; with care the sections can be retained whole. Let chill. Fill tender stalks of celery with a mixture of cream cheese and stuffed olives. Peel and slice fresh tomatoes. Arrange the prepared fruit and vegetables on heart leaves of lettuce and serve with French dressing in a separate bowl.

Praline Parfait

Make a rich, soft custard with one cup and one-half of milk, three beaten eggs, six tablespoons of sugar, and one-half a cup of strong, black coffee, and freeze for about 30 minutes or until firm. Whip a pint of cream, adding while whipping one-half a cup of sugar and one-half a pound of almond rock candy, crushed with a mallet, four heaping tablespoonfuls of blanched almonds that have been baked until brown, then crushed or grated, and the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Beat this mixture into the frozen custard, then mold and freeze until firm—about 45 minutes more—unmold before serving and sprinkle over with four more tablespoonfuls of almonds that have been blanched, baked and crushed. This unusual and very rich and delicious dish may be served in parfait glasses with two tablespoonfuls of caramel sauce over each portion.

Spindled Kidney

Instead of "spindled" the French term "en brochette," is often used for things cut in pieces and cooked on skewers. The kidneys should have the thin skins pulled off, be parboiled, then cut almost but not quite through, so that the two halves are held together. Cut apples that have been cored and pared in thick slices and fill the cavities with steamed prunes. Thrust a skewer through one slice of apple, prune and all; then impale a kidney and flank with another prune-stuffed slice of apple. Prepare in this manner as many skewers as needed, then rest the ends of the skewers on the edge of a dripping pan, and cook in a hot oven for eight minutes or until apples are soft and kidneys are done. Pour a little water into the pan and use for occasional basting. Serve each skewer on a slice of buttered toast or bread dipped into hot stock and garnish the plates with sweet pickled apricots and parsley. When food is served in this way it is eaten by using knife and fork as though the skewer were a bone.

Cabbage Salad

Mix three cups of shredded cabbage, one cup of apple (cut in small cubes), one-half a cup of sliced celery, and a cup of grated pineapple with the desired amount of boiled salad dressing.

Boiled Salad Dressing

Mix one-half a teaspoonful of mustard, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, and one-fourth a teaspoonful of paprika. Add the yolks of two eggs and mix thoroughly. Add one-fourth a cup of butter and one-fourth a cup of vinegar. Set the saucepan over hot water and stir until the mixture becomes smooth and thick. Then remove from the fire and beat in the white of one egg, beaten dry. Return the saucepan to the hot water to set the egg. Beat the mixture constantly while it is in the hot water. When the mixture is cold, fold in one-half a cup of thick cream, beaten solid.

Rich coffee cakes with their brown or white topcoats are not difficult to make, even though their luxury seems to belie this truth.

The ingredients needed are really few in number and are likely to be at hand almost any time. The number of hours required for the process depends mainly upon the amount of yeast that is used. But the yeast plant, being a very willing worker, especially when several million of them are compressed in one small cake. These plants respond quickly when they are given food, heat and moisture.

The flour is its food and sifting this just before using introduces air, whose oxygen the yeast is very eager to have. Yeast takes cold easily, the best temperature being 80 degrees F. for its good health and growth. Having the liquid and flour at 80 degrees F. helps the yeast to start happily.

"Rising" is the common household term given to the time in which fermentation by the yeast is taking place in the bread mixture. If the temperature is much above 80 degrees F. the bread is apt to taste yeasty and undesirable flavors may develop. A longer time is necessary if the temperature is lower for the fermentation proceeds much more slowly.

It is also well to keep drafts away from the yeast mixtures. The air, too, is apt to be dry and the yeast mixture may form a crust. A warm moist atmosphere may be provided by using the oven of a range for a rising cabinet. An uncovered teakettle of boiling water may be placed on the floor of the oven to provide heat and moisture. A kettle with a tight fitting cover also may be used.

With dry yeast, a sponge is always made of the yeast, fat, liquid and enough of the flour to make a batter. When this is light, the sugar, salt and remaining flour are added. With compressed yeast, the sponge may or may not be made.

How tempting they look—how fragrantly golden! Break one open—it's light and fluffy as a cloud. Then watch your family go for them! And you, too, will be praising Calumet's Double-Action for life.

What do we mean—Calumet's Double-Action? How can it make such a difference in baking? . . . Listen Calumet acts twice. The first action, in the mixing bowl, begins the leavening. Then, in the oven, the second action continues the leavening. Up! . . . up! . . . it keeps raising the dough or batter and holds it high and light. Biscuits, cakes, quick breads—everything you bake turns out perfectly—beautifully!

AND SEE WHAT A SAVING!—The easy, tested recipe given here is a Calumet recipe—specially designed for the Calumet proportion—only one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour. That's the usual Calumet proportion and should be followed for best results—a splendid economy! And remember, it's the perfect efficiency of Calumet's Double-Action that makes this economical proportion possible.

And when you see the transformation Calumet's Double-Action causes in your baking—you'll know it's the real bargain baking powder. A bargain—because it prevents disappointing failures, wasted time and ingredients. A bargain—because it brings you unfailingly the kind of baking you can take real pride in. And that's the bargain that counts most in baking! Get Calumet at your grocer's to-day. See why it is the world's largest-selling baking powder! . . . SWEET BREAD RECIPES GIVEN

Rich Coffee Cakes Easy to Make, Says Expert

However, in making a rich mixture, it is desirable even with compressed yeast to make a simple sponge first as fat, sugar and eggs, used in proportions to make a cake or dessert-like type of bread, slows up the growth of yeast.

Yeast uses for its structure the gluten formed from substances in the flour when liquid is added. Bread flour contains more gluten than pastry flour and for that reason should be used in bread-making. Both the quality and quantity of gluten are very important in making good bread; in fact, so much so that commercial bakers have studied its properties extensively. Gluten, being very elastic, sticks together and in absorbing moisture swells and swells. Bakers, with the chemist, have learned that they can alter these qualities which make the resulting flour mixtures very different. Acid, for instance, makes the gluten more tender, causing it to swell more and making its framework very, very thin and almost transparent, provided other conditions and handling of the mixture are kept the same. For this reason, biscuits that are made with sour milk are more tender than those made with sweet milk. Gluten, by absorbing much moisture and being developed by the handling of the dough, builds up threads throughout the mixture. These lace-like fibers, when once formed, are very sensitive. Careful touch in handling the light dough insures a tender bread. Of course the bubbles of gas must be broken up and the bread "worked down," but to use discretion is the better part of wisdom at this point. A bread mixture may seem to be too soft when first combined, but the gluten, as it swells, tightens and holds together. A good bread flour takes up about 65 per cent water, and a loaf of greater volume and thinner cell walls results. A crisp, tender crust, a creamy-white crumb of soft satiny luster and fine texture, even slightly moist and elastic, are thus likely to be achieved.

Swedish Bread

One cupful sponge.
One-fourth cupful melted fat.
Three tablespoonfuls sugar.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One-fourth teaspoonful almond extract.
One egg, reserve one tablespoonful white for glazing.
Two and one-fourth cupfuls bread flour.

To light sponge add fat, egg, sugar, almond extract and salt. Beat well. Add flour to make a stiff dough. Knead on a floured board until elastic. Stand in a warm place to rise, about one hour. When double in bulk, shape into a loaf. Put in a greased pan. Glaze top with white of egg, sprinkle with sugar. Let stand one hour to rise. Bake in moderate oven of 375 degrees F. for one hour.

Nut Rolls or Filled Bread

Prepare dough as for Swedish bread and let rise. Shape dough by rolling into oblong sheet one-fourth inch thick. Make a filling by mixing the following ingredients together and cooking until thick:

One-half cupful chopped figs or dates.
One tablespoonful flour.
Two tablespoonfuls chopped candied ginger.
One-fourth cupful chopped walnuts or cocoanut.
One-fourth cupful sugar.
One-fourth cupful water.
One-eighth teaspoonful salt.

Cool and spread on dough. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in one-inch pieces. Lay flat slices on a greased sheet to rise. When light, bake in a hot oven of 400 degrees F. for 20 minutes. The whole roll may be baked in a bread pan for one hour if preferred.

Philadelphia Cinnamon Bun

Prepare dough as for Swedish bread, omitting almond extract, and let rise. Shape dough by rolling into oblong sheet one-fourth-inch thick. Spread with two tablespoonfuls softened butter; sprinkle with one-fourth cup brown sugar, mixed with one-fourth teaspoonful cinnamon, one cup cleaned currants and one-fourth cup chopped raisins. Roll lightly with rolling pin to press in fruit. Then roll like a jelly roll. Cut in slices two inches wide. Lay flat slices in greased muffin pan. Cover and set to rise until double in bulk. Make a sirup of one cup sugar and one-fourth cup water and boil to 310 degrees F. Pour hot syrup over raised buns and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for one hour.

Swedish Braid

Prepare dough as for Swedish bread and let rise. Reserve one teaspoonful eggyolk for glazing instead of egg white and mix with one teaspoonful cold water. Cut dough into three pieces of equal size and roll into long strips. Then braid. Put on greased sheet, cover and let rise. Brush over with egg yolk mixture and sprinkle with one-fourth cup chopped blanched almonds. Bake in hot oven of 400 degrees F. for one hour.

Swedish Tea Ring

Prepare dough as for Swedish bread and let rise. Shape dough by rolling into oblong sheet one-fourth inch thick. Spread with two tablespoonfuls softened butter. Sprinkle with one-half cup brown sugar mixed with one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth cup chopped blanched almonds, one-fourth cup raisins, one-fourth cup citron slivers. Roll lightly with rolling pin to press in fruit, then roll up like a jelly roll. Cut a piece from each end and join ends to form ring. Cut gashes with scissors and pat into shape. Glaze top with egg white. Let rise and bake in hot oven of 400 degrees F. for 30 minutes.

Sponge for Sweet Breads and Rolls

One-half cupful scalded milk.
One-fourth cupful cold water.
One-half teaspoonful salt.
One-third yeast cake.
Two teaspoonfuls sugar.
One cupful bread flour.

Soften yeast in cold water; add to lukewarm milk with sugar, salt and flour. Beat with egg beater until smooth. Set in warm place to rise until light and fluffy, about three hours or overnight in a cool place. Makes one cupful of sponge.

Polish Baba

One cake compressed yeast.
Four tablespoonfuls sugar.
One-half cupful shortening.
Five tablespoons lukewarm water.
Two cupfuls flour (sifted before measuring).
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
Four eggs.
Two tablespoons chopped almonds.
Two tablespoons chopped citron.
One-fourth teaspoonful powdered mace.

Crumble yeast cake, add one tablespoonful sugar, one tablespoonful flour, and lukewarm water and allow it to rise for 10 minutes. Add remainder of flour, salt, remainder of sugar, almonds, citron, mace, eggs (beaten till light in color), and melted shortening. Beat mixture well with a large spoon. Pour into a well-greased tube mold (special care should be taken to see that the tube is well greased; otherwise it may be difficult to remove the baba). Allow to rise until batter doubles in size. Bake 45 minutes in a hot oven. While baba is still hot, pour over it apricot syrup made from one and one-half cupfuls sugar and one and one-half cupfuls canned apricots and juice (pressed through a sieve to remove skins), boiled together for about six minutes. Sprinkle with powdered sugar before serving. This is a delightful dessert served either hot or cold. The second day it is delicious toasted.

$1,000,000 GEM THEFTS TRACED

Pair Identified as Robbers Of Home

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Police said today they believe they will be able to trace nearly $1,000,000 in jewel robberies to two men under arrest who came to their victims like the ancient Greeks—bearing gifts.

James Brady and Arthur Rose were partially identified, police said as the men who stole $300,000 worth of jewels from the home of Mrs. H. Stanwood Kenken, socially prominent wife of a New York attorney, after they entered on the pretext that flowers were being delivered. Mrs. Kenken and several servants were bound and gagged while the "delivery boys" ransacked the apartment.

Mrs. Kenken said one thief looked like pictures she had seen of Al Capone, Chicago gang chief. Rose, the police explained, bears a resemblance to Capone.

Brady and Rose have been identified by two actresses as having engineered another jewel robbery in the same manner as the Kenken theft.

Don't Go to Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores. —Adv.

Farm Wages Lowest In 15-Year Period

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Farmers, faced with an abundant supply of help and the necessity of cutting production costs, are paying their hired men the lowest wages in 15 years.

The agriculture department's index Oct. 1 was 113 per cent of the pre-war average as compared with 150 per cent a year ago.

The usual seasonal trend of higher wages from January to October, the end of the harvest, has been reversed this year. The index fell from 129 Jan. 1 to 113 in October.

This formula for skin diseases is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of eczema, tetter, ringworm, itch and athlete's foot. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Infected Tear Gland

Question—Miss W. writes: "I have been having trouble with a swelling under and at the corner of my left eye. If I press on the swelling, there is a slow discharge which seems to come from a pin-point opening in my lower eye lid just as though a hair had been pulled out. I am not pained much by it, but I am afraid that it may be something serious."

Answer—It is possible that you have some infection of the laychrymal or tear gland. It would be advisable for you to have an examination by a doctor to find out the cause of the trouble. If you wish my suggestions regarding the treatment, be sure to send me this diagnosis.

Beginning of Arthritis

Question—O. U. writes: "For some months now my knees have been swollen, giving a sharp twinge when I move. There is also a creaking noise in the joints. Is this serious, and will you advise me what to do?"

Answer—You are developing a case of articular rheumatism and should take a fruit fast to clease your system of the gathering of rheumatic toxins.

Acataphasia

Question—Mr. Y asks: "Will you please tell me what 'acataphasia' means?"

Answer—The disorder you ask about is caused by an injury to the central nervous system, and part of the brain is affected by either disease or the breaking of a blood vessel. Loss of speech results for varying length of time, depending upon the seriousness of the injury to the brain membrane.

Collingsworth Gins Handle 13,632 Bales

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Oct. 15.—The 23 gins in Collingsworth county had handled 13,632 bales of the 1931 cotton crop at noon Wednesday of this week.

It is estimated that Collingsworth this year will produce between 40,000 and 45,000 bales, and if this estimate proves correct, approximately one-third of the county's crop has been gathered and ginned.

Wellington is leading in cotton ginnings in the county, the 10 gins here having handled 5,672 bales of the present total. The four gins at Dodsonville account for 4,217 bales at this time, while the remainder of the 13,632 bales comes from the nine gins located at Rolla, Quail, Abra, Dozier, Plymouth and Lutie.

Cotton ginnings at this time are substantially higher than at a similar date last year. This county had ginned 10,952 bales on Oct. 9, 1931, and had ginned only 12,821 bales as late as Oct. 22, 1930.

A total of 35,068 bales was ginned in this county from the 1930 crop, while ginnings in 1929 amounted to 42,931 bales.

EAGLES MIX WITH WILDCATS TODAY; COYOTES PLAY TONIGHT

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Today's Dope

A Coyote victory tonight at Fort Worth against the Polytechnic Parrots would be as surprising as the return to prosperity. Everything is against the Pack. The first thing against them, of course, is a powerful Parrot team. Second, the Coyotes will be playing at night, something they have never done before. But even if they lose, it will be good experience for the team.

We can't dope out a score, because we never saw the Parrots or ever heard of them much.

We will, however, venture some wild guesses on a few games closer to home:

Chillicothe 26, Crowell 12.
Archer City 20, Seymour 6.
Burkburnett 14, Munday 0.
Weatherford 30, Graham 13.
Bowie 21, Bridgeport 7.
Jacksboro 25, Nocona 6.

More From Pat

Pat Nolan of Burkburnett, as you know, submitted a poem in 20 cantos the other day, as his entry in the poetry contest now raging. Well, we didn't have room enough to print it. We culled the last verse, printed it, and threw the rest away. We are sorry we did throw it away now, for Mr. Nolan demands that we print it, or else be classed as a poor sport.

The poem had lots to say about how good a bunch of losers the Burkburnett town square boasts, but Mr. Nolan, still protesting that he is a good loser, writes a lengthy letter of about four pages protesting that "the verbal barrage that you laid down on me was more than I could bear." Well, all I told him, mates, was that he had lost.

But we will let Mr. Nolan state his own case. "So I lost, eh," he says. "Well, that's not the first time I ever lost, and anyway I didn't expect to win. Ha! ha! (That one was up my sleeve). I did the customary thing, as Burkburnett always does lose, but I say did you ever hear a gripe from over here? No, you didn't and we keep playing clean sports over here, too. Now don't misconstrue, Rambler, I am not complaining about losing but that verbal barrage that you laid down at me was more than I could bear. Boy you could have sure whipped me with silence, that is, ignoring that 20-stanza whatever it was, as only one man over here saw it before I mailed it to you. If you hadn't ever mentioned it I surely wouldn't have, but you proceeded to pick perhaps the worst stanza of the whole thing and utilized it to your cause and spank me publicly with all your power of the press.

"A few fans over here read your column Wednesday morning and immediately your grand slam toward me spread like wildfire and as I would meet them they would say, 'You lose, but how come you lost and what is it all about?'

"All I could tell them was that I contributed what I thought was poetry to your contest and that you either didn't think it was poetry, or else that you was prejudiced against me and Burkburnett. The inquisitors besieged me with questions of all sorts, which finally prompted me to write and express my feelings toward you and your column.

"Now Rambler, you might whip me with your egotism on your column, but you can't do it with public opinion over here. The truth is that you don't rate so hot over here as a sportsman. I can't find a word to express your unpopularity. I will quote some of them: 'Poorest sport I ever saw.' 'Not even popular in your own home town.' One compares you to Bloody Cross—that is, you wouldn't even make an intelligent spectator at an athletic contest.' And still another of our most prominent sportsman said that he never read your stuff any more unless he just couldn't get anything else to read . . .

"That poem or rhyme or rot or whatever it was, was a narrative of what has been going on in your column ever since you have been the czar of The Record News sporting page. I say czar because you rule it with an iron hand, you bloke. I have just awakened to the fact that you pick fights with your fan correspondents or egg them into attacking some of their neighbor sportsmen, that's a racket with you, part of your living, but I see no harm in it, if you are smart enough to pull the wool over some people's eyes, that's o. k. with me. But Rambler, you could have laid off me. I would have known I lost if you had never published a line.

"So draw your battle lines, the fight is on. I realize that I am fighting a losing battle; the best I can do is lose but I enjoy any kind of fight. As a counter-attack to that assault that you made on me, first, in order to satisfy inquiring fans over here I do, and several of them do, DARE you to print the poem I sent to you, in an early edition of The Record News. You made mention that it was too long, and one fan over here said you spent 40 lines in riding me in Wednesday's edition and didn't say anything comprehensibe except a vague 'you lose.' You could easily let that poem do a column at an early date, while you journey over to Henrietta to have a council of war with Miss Milner. You will need some intelligent help before you win this fight, if you fight fair, and not resort to any of your cheap John stuff. Second, I am showing this letter to all the fans over here before mailing it to you and as I told them that you had the one and original copy of my poem, they insist that you print it or return the original to me so they can see it. Unless you do one or the other, you will lower yourself more in these fans' estimation.

"So my dear Rambler, let us see what kind of player you are, show your colors, and take or take not advantage with your power of the press. That will show what kind of sportsman you really are, or whether you will show the white feather and try to beat me with silence. Alas! I think that is too late now for if you quieten down now you are a beaten man as far as Burkburnett is concerned."

We beg pardon if we caused you any embarrassment, Mr. Nolan. As stated, I heaved your gift of poetry in the wastebasket after copying the last, and what I considered the best verse, and hence will not be able to take you up on your dare. However, if you care to write another ode, shoot, and I'll print it, gladly. But make it shorter than your first poem, please.

As for this racket of starting contests, etc., I never started but one in my life, and that was in 1930, when I sponsored a contest to see whether Lavey or Burns could get down to first the quickest. As for the current poetry contest, it was suggested by my good friends, the Electra Shavers, in Electra, Texas, U. S. A.

From Nocona

Our friend, the Nocona bard, writes in prose today, as follows:

"This late firm established at Archer City, known as Old Soaks Inc., is to be reprimanded severely if they put out cawn likker graded down to a level with the poetry that they brew. I fear if this rythmic verse was run through the worm of their still, all the machinery will become corroded and cause a bust-down. I hasten to advise that this 'all wet' firm be injected with a small decoction of the 18th amendment, a few drops of the Volstead act and then dilute by adding a quart or so of the Wickersham commission. Apply in same manner as rubbing alcohol. Never take internally.

"That little junior partner Lotta Weinbrix may be outlawed on account of being too near related with 'near beer-in-ski,' which would be worse and worse on the demmyjohn corporation.

"Freddy, you have my undying gratitude for not suffering any more of that Pat Nolan giration to be printed, if the lines that were printed are a fair sample. To hear that verse recited would sound like a Chinaman trying to eat rice with only one stick. Now Mr. Rambler man, you surely must be joking about reading 20 cantos of that ethyrium in lyrics, wet from the pen of this Burkburnett poetrical giant. I am far from signifying that you would think of prevaricating, but I simply cay't believe you read all those 20 what-you-call-ems and live, unless you have a cast iron constitution and a backbone made of reinforced concrete. Please, please don't make such claims again.

"Mr. Jolley of Quanah appears to be adverse to our opinion regarding poetry. Well, let him read the Rambler's Corner down to the poetry, then direct his attention elsewhere. As ever, that 'Wild and Wooly' football fan of Nocona."

PACK JOURNEYS TO FORT WORTH

Crowell-Chillicothe Game Center of Interest

There will be both matinee and evening attractions today for football fans of this section.

The night game that will interest Wichita Falls in particular will be the Coyotes' clash with the Fort Worth Polytechnic High school eleven in Fort Worth this evening. However, the battle is a practice encounter, and most of the enthusiasm hereabout is likely to be expended on the afternoon contests among class B schools.

The outstanding game of the day will be Crowell's invasion of Chillicothe in a district No. 3 conference game. It is a game that will have a distinct bearing on the outcome of the title race. Chillicothe, Crowell and Olney being the strongest teams in the district, today's battle will leave only two real contenders in the field, and the winner of today's game may be counted upon to meet Olney in the district finals.

Chillicothe is the favorite to win. Crowell is undefeated, like Chillicothe, but the Crowell boys had to go some last week to whip the Wildcats of Archer City, 13 to 0.

Seymour at Archer City

The game ranking next in interest in district No. 3 is Seymour's game at Archer City. The only other league battle scheduled will find the Munday team at Burkburnett. Neither Olney nor Megargel will play league games.

Interest will be divided in district No. 4. The defending champion Nocona team will get its 1931 test when it engages Jacksboro on its home gridiron. Nocona whipped Jacksboro on the latter's field last year, 34 to 0, so the Indians may expect to meet a team seeking revenge. Neither team has played a conference game to date.

Weatherford, which appears mighty strong, will play Graham in another outstanding game. Meanwhile Masonic Home of Fort Worth, another strong contender, will play Decatur. The other league game will find Bridgeport playing at Bowie. Bellevue was scheduled to play Bryson and Newcastle was scheduled to play Handley, but Bryson and Handley withdrew from the conference.

Teams Ready

The Eagles of Chillicothe and the Wildcats of Crowell Thursday rounded out their practice sessions and announced themselves ready for the great battle today. Both teams will enter the scrap in the best of physical condition, it is reported, and each is determined to make the best showing possible. A large crowd is expected to be on hand. Chillicothe has one of the best playing fields in the league.

While the class B teams are hogging the spotlight in the afternoon, Coach Barry Holton's Wichita Falls Coyotes will be rolling into Fort Worth. The team planned to leave here Friday morning. The game will be played at La Grave field tonight, and will be the first night game for the Pack. The Coyotes will go into the scrap as underdogs, as the Parrots are reputedly very powerful this year.

Other games on today's card:

Grandfield, Okla., at Temple, Okla.
Bellevue at Iowa Park.
Haskell at Merkel.
Waurika, Okla., at Walters, Okla.
Rotan at Stamford.
Fort Worth North Side at Breckenridge.
Alvord at Bryson.
Altus, Okla., at Mangum, Okla.
Hobart, Okla., at Frederick, Okla.
Saint Jo at Graford.
Gould, Okla., at Tipton, Okla.
Wellington at Shamrock.
Turkey at Memphis.
Olustee, Okla., at Duke, Okla.
Miami at Clarendon.

Crippled Longhorns Leave Today For Oklahoma Game at Dallas

AUSTIN, Oct. 15. (AP)—Winding up the training grind without serious mishap, the University of Texas football squad, consisting of approximately 35 players, accompanied by Head Football Coach Clyde Littlefield and Line Coach Bill James, will leave here tomorrow noon for Dallas, where the Steers will meet the Oklahoma Sooners Saturday in their second intersectional contest of the season. The Longhorn band will arrive in Dallas Saturday morning.

The Longhorns will take the field against Oklahoma with a badly crippled tackle corps. Herschel Moody, regular right tackle, who received a broken nose in the Rice game last week, will probably play part of the contest, but it is believed doubtful he will be able to display his best form. Arthur Niebuhr, big second string tackle, was left at home with a fractured wrist, leaving Hill Holdges and Tom Birdwell to alternate with Moody at the right tackle post.

Capt. Maurice Baumgarten, who was out of the Rice game with an injured knee, will start against the Sooners.

The Steers, nettled by their first setback of the season at the hands of the Owls, are in a fighting frame of mind, which observers believe, bodes ill for the Sooners.

SOONERS STRONG IN RESERVE STRENGTH

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 15. (AP)—Fortified with the heaviest reserve list it ever has had, the Oklahoma university football squad packed its togs tonight and prepared to entrain for the annual game with the Texas Longhorns at Dallas Saturday.

Even the oldest fan can't remember when 32 men have been taken on a road trip. That number leaves tomorrow to establish tactical headquarters at Denton.

Capt. Guy Warren will join the team Saturday, remaining here tomorrow to make up scholastic work. Final practice today bore out predictions that Coach Lindsey's starting backfield would be Dunlap, Ellstrom, Massad and Maloney.

HOGS EN ROUTE TO BAYLOR BATTLE SITE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 15. (AP)—The Arkansas university football squad, including 23 players and a pair of optimistic coaches, was en route to Waco, Texas, today for a Southwest conference game Saturday with the Baylor university Bears.

Coach Fred Thomsen pinned his offensive hopes on the following backfielders: Homer Ledbetter, Oliver Holmes, Elwin Karr, Tom Murphy, Winton Kyle, Henry Phillips, Joe Biddle and Alvis Fuller.

OWLS WORK HARD FOR PONY CLASH

HOUSTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Showing much drive, Rice's varsity gridsters went seriously about their work of preparing for Saturday's advent here of the S. M. U. Mustangs.

The Owls have the warmest respect for the ability of Morrison coached teams and are unanimous in realizing their hardest test of the year will take place here Saturday.

To make sure that the Rice skull work was up to par, Coach Meagher drilled his men tonight on S. M. U. formations and the tricks the Ponies may pull out of the bag.

Class at the guard position has been exhibited daily this week by Bob Schulze, who may get into action against the Mustangs. Schulze is one of a number of strong Rice guardmen. Harris, Rice center, showed to advantage in breaking up passes.

PASSING MAY DECIDE AGGIE-FROG GAME

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15. (AP)—With both teams due to show stubborn resistance against line attacks because of staunch forward walls, respective effectiveness of their passing game may decide which way victory will go in the Southwest conference clash between the T. C. U. Horned Frogs and Texas Aggies here Saturday.

Neither team has shown any brilliance on long aerial thrusts and it may be those short flips across the line that will sweep one of the opposing elevens down the field and across the goal.

"Passing, punting and the breaks are likely to decide the game," said Coach Francis Schmidt of the Frogs this afternoon.

Tillman Sues Hotel for Erroneous Assessment

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 15.—Suit was filed in district court this week against the Frederick Community Hotel company for erroneous assessment. The petition states that on May, 1931, upon an erroneous assessment affidavit being filed the county commissioners reduced the taxes from $3,672.20, as levied by the county assessor, to $319.34 for the 1930 taxes. Upon a group of tax paying voters protesting the action it was set aside Aug. 20, 1931, at the request of the county attorney.

Continuing, the petition recites that a hearing was held before the commissioners, O. C. Ball, John W. Williams and Frank Patterson on Sept. 9, 1931, when all former motions were set aside and the case was appealed to the district court.

ANOTHER AIR RECORD

NEW YORK.—Passenger traffic on American lines broke all previous monthly records in July of this year, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce reports. During that month 35,782 passengers were carried, which is an increase of about 10,000 over the previous monthly peak set in Aug. 1930. It was larger than the total for the whole year of 1928.

IRISH TO PLAY WELLINGTON

Peppy Pre-season Battle Is Booked for Shamrock

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Oct. 14.—Pepped up by their first win of the season which they earned last Friday from Sayre, Okla., the Shamrock Irishmen will do battle tomorrow with the Wellington Skyrockets on the Shamrock gridiron in a non-conference clash.

Wellington is doped to have a strong team despite the fact that all latter men were lost from last year by graduation and only two men on the present team had ever played prior to this season. Out of four games played the Skyrockets have lost only one, this to the strong McLean Tigers who held the Shamrock Irishmen to a 6-6 tie. They have tied Quitaque and beaten Estelline and Hedley, thereby making a better record than the Irishmen have.

The Irishmen have played five games and won only one, that from Sayre, have lost to Wheeler and tied Canadian, Erick and McLean. Only last Friday did the Irish gridsters hit their stride but from the performance that day they will go a long way toward district honors. They were put through a strong workout this week in anticipation of the Wellington clash which will be one of the hardest of the pre-conference clashes.

First conference tests for the Irishmen will be Oct. 30, when they journey to Memphis to settle the argument as to who shall win the right to try the winners of the eastern section for district honors.

Chicken Production Drops U. S. Survey Indicates

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (UP)—Fewer chickens are being raised on United States farms, due to drouth and resultant low prices, according to the department of agriculture. There has been a reduction of about 10 per cent, according to the department's estimate.

State Deaths

J. A. MOSLEY

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 15.—J. A. Mosley, 75, retired farmer who settled three miles southwest of Duncan in 1891, died at his home here Wednesday afternoon after an illness of a week.

Mr. Mosley was born in South Carolina and came here from Montague county, Texas. He is survived by his widow, whom he married more than 50 years ago. Mrs. Sid Jones, wife of a Duncan dairyman, is the only surviving child. A brother, Luke Mosley of St. Jo, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. Mollie Hardy of Houston, Texas, also survive.

The funeral was held here Thursday afternoon with burial in the Duncan cemetery.

Additional Colleges Volunteer To Play Games for Unemployment Aid

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Given impetus by the decision of eight leading eastern elevens to engage in two football rodeos at New York and New Haven early in December, the campaign to mobilize the nation's gridiron forces in the cause of unemployment relief took on fresh vigor today.

From every section of the country came reports that indicated the various conferences and colleges were prepared to suspend their rules relating to post-season play and strike a lick for President Hoover's committee. The response was remarkable, considering the fact that Owen D. Young, chairman of the committee, broached his plan only yesterday.

The "tournament" idea, which originated with E. K. Hall, chairman of the national football rules committee, also promised to prove popular. Its novelty, members of the president's committee felt, was certain to attract capacity crowds.

Yale, Brown, Dartmouth and Holy Cross have agreed to clash in a four-cornered carnival at New Haven, Dec. 5, while Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell will hold their battle royal four days later at the Yankee stadium. In each instance there will be three 20-minute jousts, the winners in the first two meeting in the final.

Among those offering their gridiron services today were the University of Tennessee and the University of Dayton. Officials of both institutions began seeking suitable opponents. A post-season game at Denver Dec. 5 was announced as "reasonably certain," with expectations of a crowd of 30,000. Possible pairings included the Universities of Colorado and Wyoming, Denver university and an intersectional rival, or the Utah All-Stars against an eastern Rocky mountain picked team.

Plans were under way for a game at St. Louis between the University of Missouri and the winner of the Thanksgiving day game between Washington university and St. Louis university. Members of the "Big Six" were said to be generally willing to enter any kind of post-season competition, but awaited permission from the faculty council, which meets Saturday.

Members of the western, or "Big Ten" conference, were marking time pending a decision from the ruling body. The movement was gaining in all the small mid-West conferences.

"Your morning shave is badly shopworn at midnight"

"I'M not trying to sell razors or razor blades. I don't shave and I don't give testimonials. But I'd like to tell you what I think of men who don't shave carefully. I believe my opinion really means something because I'm a hostess in a night club and we girls must take them as they come. So we learn as much about men in a week as the average girl learns in a lifetime.

"Of course it really doesn't make much difference to me, but you'd be surprised at the number of men who think their morning shaves will last until midnight and later. Along about 11 o'clock they're nobody's bargain and I wouldn't dance with them if I didn't earn my living that way.

"My experience has taught me that a man can't be attractive along about the time the milkman starts delivery, unless he takes a clean shave before he steps out for the evening. And speaking of milkmen—what I've said doesn't apply to night club customers alone. Most men aren't as particular about shaving as they should be. To get along with women a man should be clean shaven all the time."

Yes, few men shave as frequently or carefully as they should. Until now shaving may have been a somewhat disagreeable task. Now Gillette is manufacturing a fine new razor blade that can be used morning and night without discomfort.

It never irritates or roughens the tenderest skin. Every blade is equally keen. Try the new Gillette on our guarantee. Buy a package and use a blade or two. If you don't agree every shave is cool and pleasant, return the package to your dealer and get your money back.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—An early decline in cotton today was followed by rallies, but prices eased off again in later trading.

December contracts, after advancing from the early low prices of 6.13 to 6.26 sold off to 6.12 and closed at 6.13. The general market closed steady at net declines of 4 to 9 points.

The opening was steady 3 points higher on October but generally unchanged to 7 points lower under overnight selling orders which appeared to come partly from the south. There may have been a little buying in response with selling here at the start and prices worked off later.

Closing quotations were within a point of the lowest for the day.

The interest in October contracts seems to have been liquidated, as there were only a few sales in that position during today's trading, with the price relatively steady. Weather conditions and prospects were considered more favorable following recent rains which delayed picking and the movement of cotton, particularly in the southwest. It was thought that recent weather conditions may have lowered the grade of some cotton in the field, as well as helping to account for the tapering off of southern hedging.

Liverpool cables attributed relative steadiness in that market to covering and trade calling and reported a sustained demand for cotton cloths and yarns in Manchester. Exports today 28,350 making 1,092,970 so far this season. Port receipts 45,225. U. S. port stocks 3,883,770.

Futures closed steady, 4 to 9 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 6.20.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15. (AP)—Although cotton was comparatively quiet most of today's session, prices ruled steady. Following a slight improvement at the start of 2 to 5 points mainly on good Liverpool cables, prices eased off during the first part of the morning on hedge selling, dropping 4 to 9 points from the opening figures, but later rallied well on buying and covering induced by firmness in the stock market and recovered 8 to 14 points from the earlier lows to levels 6 to 10 points above the previous close.

After ruling quiet within the earlier range most of the afternoon, the market weakened near the end, making new lows for the day 12 to 15 points below the highs and closed steady at net declines for the day of 5 to 7 points. Liverpool is due tomorrow 4 to 5 penny points down on New Orleans.

Liverpool came in 5 to 7 penny points better than due and private cables reported that the trade called and shorts covered. Manchester cabled that demand for cloth and yarns was sustained. After the opening gain hedge selling soon developed.

The market turned easy in the late trading in sympathy with a last hour break in stocks and prices made new lows at 6.12 for December, 6.22 for January and 6.42 for March, 12 to 15 points below the highs and closed at the bottom with the three active months 5 to 6 points net lower for the day.

Port receipts 44,993; for week 315,223; for season 2,332,571; last season 3,414,024. Exports 23,300; for week 146,788; for season 1,063,458; last season 1,631,594. Port stock 3,900,765; last year 3,161,126. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 162,398; last year 139,431. Spot sales at southern markets 56,414; last year 50,527.

Stocks Close Higher After Session Marked Mostly by 'Mixed' Activity

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (US)—The stock market closed higher today. Bond prices were irregular. Trading in stocks was decidedly mixed throughout the day, yet the closing net gains in majority were evidence that technical conditions were somewhat more favorable toward the constructive side. Under prevailing conditions of continued restriction upon speculative trading, it doesn't require material change in the short account to improve technical conditions for temporary influence on quotations. It was reported here today that there has been noticeable a tendency toward some expansion of short selling and while this has not assumed sizeable proportions it nevertheless affords opportunity for intermittent rallies. This seemed to be the case today, when without external influence the market entered into a rally almost from the opening of trading. The German news may have had a calming effect upon sentiment but the Sino-Japanese developments were closely observed with market decision reserved on its prospects.

All in all, the market is in a watchful waiting mood, with vast investment funds awaiting more concrete cheer before reentering the purchasing side with substantial commitments. Whatever buying now is taking place is extremely discriminatory and patient. Some of the speculative buying yesterday was induced by reports from Washington that the White House would have something optimistic to report on the railroad bond situation, but this hope proved false. The very number of such unfulfilled promises tends to make the investment community skeptical.

Nevertheless, there is daily increasing evidence that the New York banking fraternity is more solidly aligned in constructive endeavors than at any other period of the entire depression. For one thing, the banks are watching the international gold movement, with the view to checking at its inception any dangerous tendency in that direction.

A modest rally was in progress during most of the day, later transactions reflecting some profit-taking and perhaps advance knowledge of the impending advance in the federal reserve rediscount rate. Most stocks, however, were able to retain some net advance to the close. Among rails the improvement amounted to above a point on the average and almost as much among utilities. Industrials were close to the previous day's final prices.

Announcement of abandonment of the Youngstown-Bethlehem Steel merger evoked little response in the market. The harassing opposition which carried the deal into the courts presumably make it desirous for all parties concerned to abandon the plan. It relieves Bethlehem of possibly embarrassing cash payments.

Another 1 per cent advance in the federal reserve rediscount rate, marking the second successive jump of this amount in two weeks, represents another demonstration that the American banking fraternity is keenly alive to the fact that it possibly has been too lenient in its gold policy. The official explanation for the action is that it marks "a further adjustment of the rate to world money market conditions" and in this respect the reserve directors are fully warranted in taking the action. Furthermore, the higher rates will benefit the banks through permitting larger earnings, and indirectly, it is hoped, encourage the maintenance of deposits in the banks.

For the stock market, the action can have no direct relationship, since money rates have been abnormally low throughout the entire bear market without having beneficial influence. The bond market, especially the highest-grade bonds, may be adversely affected for the time being. This was shown in heaviness of certain prominent issues.

The liquidation in the securities market, however, has reached proportions which the most profound bear could not have visualized. During the past week an additional $73,000,000 decline occurred in brokerage loans, bringing the aggregate amount of such loans below a billion dollars for the first time on record.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Fresh upturns in grain prices, despite active profit taking sales, went hand in hand today with renewed attention to the warlike strain between China and Japan.

Indications were the Orient had been a good purchaser of wheat on the Pacific coast, and it was announced China had bought three cargoes today in Canada.

Liverpool advices said the maximum pressure of wheat supplies had now probably been experienced, and that more than half of the world's wheat requirements were still to be obtained from North America.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅛c off to ⅝c up, corn unchanged to ¼c higher, oats at ⅛@⅜c decline, and provisions unchanged to 5c advance.

At the start, the wheat market was affected bearishly by enlarged shipments from Black sea territory, including Russia. This influence was later more than counterbalanced by word of a sharp decrease in Argentine wheat exports. Meanwhile, bullish aspects of the China-Japan conflict acquired special interest again, heightened by suggestions that transpacific demand for wheat had broadened out. Comparative strength of securities was also an aid to wheat prices which at one stage amounted in some cases to fully a cent a bushel.

North American wheat export business continued to be largely in Canadian wheat. Domestic milling trade was more active. Weather conditions in the Southwest remained chiefly dry, and the failure of rains to bring relief was causing anxiety relative to likelihood of material curtailment of domestic winter crop seeding.

Strength of wheat was the main bullish influence as to corn. Oats were inclined to lag in the absence of any special demand.

Covering by shorts was a feature of the provision market.

Colgate Company Started Business 125 Years Ago

One hundred and twenty-five years ago in a small brick residence at 6 Dutch street in New York City began the romantic growth of one of America's most picturesque and oldest manufacturing concerns—the house of Colgate, the anniversary of which is now being celebrated by the druggists of this city. For several generations these local merchants and their predecessors have been intimately associated with this development, truly American in its every phase. Its history has been also that of the development of the drug store from the small general store and apothecary shop.

In 1806 William Colgate, who was 23 at the time, the son of an old English family who had come to America because of political differences and opinions, began his ambitious program. Young Colgate was alone. He was the entire manufacturing staff. He was buyer, salesman, bookkeeper and proprietor. His conviction was that unvarying quality and honesty would bring recognition and his foresight was rewarded.

Same Occupants for 106 Years

It was not until 1910 that the little two-story brick building was relinquished by the company, although the plant has completely surrounded it and has extended to John street, where William Colgate had lived for years before in a little furnished room. The 104-year tenancy of the original plant is said to be the longest in the records of New York real estate.

In 1910 all manufacturing was transferred to Jersey City, where the eastern plant of this great company covers seven city squares. Other plants were added, the principal one being at Jeffersonville, Ind.

In 1928 the house of Colgate merged with two of the outstanding Middle Western companies, whose history is equally romantic—the Palmolive company of Milwaukee and the Peet brothers of Kansas City—to form the present Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company. Several of the members of the original family are still active in the business.

First Award of Dental Seal

In keeping with his policy of unvarying quality and honesty, when the house founded by William Colgate decided to make a tooth paste, they made one whose solo claim was that it would clean the teeth and that efficiently. There were no medical claims nor has there ever been. It is this product that is being given to the people as an anniversary gift in this 125th year.

This gift is particularly fitting at this time because the 125th anniversary is also marked by the acceptance of the product by the recently formed Council on Dental Therapeutics of the American Dental association. Colgate's Ribbon Dental cream has been given permission to bear the seal of acceptance of the council. This seal indicates that the composition of the product has been submitted to the council and that the claims made for it have been found acceptable.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Cotton goods continued in fair demand in the gray goods division today with prices firmer. Finished goods were selling moderately. Viscose rayon yarns were quiet. In acetate cellulose and a few other protected lines some business was passing. Wool goods were generally quiet. Canton silks were active, others quiet. Canton failles were selling well. Burlaps were quiet and easy.

Quality plus fashion at a fair price . . . and everybody knows you can't get something for nothing. We have quality merchandise at the right price. P. B. M.—Adv.

OIL INDUSTRY LESS FIDGETY

Reopening of Oklahoma Producers Proves Balm

By WILLIAM VOIGT JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 15.—A restive mid-continent oil industry, soothed at last by a flow from Oklahoma fields, had ceased its troubled fidgeting and was taking stock of the new situation.

Questions as to what the immediate future might bring still remain unanswered, but on the whole a markedly different and more optimistic atmosphere pervaded this region as the first week under renewed production from flush fields of the state reached the half-way point.

That persistent query, "when will we get 'higher prices for crude?" still came with monotonous regularity from producers, principally the small ones with only a few wells from which to draw the fluid called "liquid gold."

"Will the reopening of Oklahoma fields, closed two months under martial law, result in a firmer price structure?" they asked.

And from those conversant with the whims and vagaries of this precocious industry came indirect assurance that such probably would be the case.

But it was not alone the somewhat less remote prospect of obtaining more money at the wells that fitted into the picture of optimism that prevailed. Other factors bore a distinctly closer relationship to the new outlook.

Industry Reawakens

The principal one was the cheery bustle of reawakened industry, the hiss of escaping gas and the gurgle of oil flowing through Oklahoma pipe lines—definite assurance for the small refiner and distributor that his source of supply again was functioning.

The opening has resulted in the dusting off of long dormant plans for construction and employment. The smaller operator knows "what's what."

He knows that if even prices remain at approximately their present top of 70 cents per barrel it is not likely that the flow again will be choked off by military control. It is generally conceded that Gov. W. H. (Dollar Bill) Murray, after two months of wrangling with purchasers for higher prices, will indeed be driven to an extremity before invoking martial rule to shut down Oklahoma wells.

The Sept. 11 conference of regulatory bodies and oil leaders in Oklahoma City fixed the amount that would be produced when all known areas again were in operation. It set the maximum that the nation might produce, and assured that it would be less than the actual consumption of petroleum so a certain quantity would be withdrawn daily from overtaxed storage.

Business and plans were at a standstill because none could prophesy when the Oklahoma wells would be opened and what supply of crude oil would be forthcoming. Now the wells are open. Now they are proven to be little if at all impaired from their long inactivity. Purchasers and refiners are sure of their source of supply.

Gasoline Stronger

Already the gasoline market has been strengthened. Only a few days ago the market was at the low level of 2½ to 2¾ cents per gallon at refineries. By rapid, steady marches the prices climbed to 3⅜ to 3⅝ cents per gallon for U. S. motor standard, and indications were that the strengthening process would continue.

While none of the major purchasers has made any moves, it is not improbable, in the opinion of a number of industry leaders, that an increase of another cent or cent and a fraction in refinery prices will bring about the higher price for crude oil for which producers have clamored so long.

But however important a higher schedule of posting looms in the minds of small producers, royalty holders, refiners and distributors, the mid-continent area, and Oklahoma particularly, looked more avidly this week to the renewed employment and the release of frozen funds for its greatest relief from conditions as they were.

Approximately 3,000 persons were put back to work on part or full time when Oklahoma wells were reopened. Their salaries, and the distribution through the channels of business of this money, was held as the first aid to business generally from the governor's action in lifting the state army rule. Next in importance was the renewed activity and strengthening of the state's banks and the consequent easing of credits through the passing of oil money.

Now if crude price increases come, from the conversation that goes the rounds where men gather in this oil center, smiles will be general once more.

Chain Stores In New Attack Upon Special State Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Chain stores renewed in the supreme court today their campaign to prevent states from regulating them by taxes.

Having failed at the last term of the court by a five-to-four decision to invalidate the graduated tax imposed by Indiana, they now attack the North Carolina law which imposed a straight $50 tax on each store of two or more operated under one ownership.

As counsel for the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, John W. Davis contended the North Carolina case presented issues not passed on by the court in the Indiana case. He denounced the North Carolina tax as discriminating against chain stores, because imposed solely on the basis of the ownership of two or more stores.

Attorney General Brummitt of North Carolina, in support of the tax, maintained a state can impose such a license fee for the privilege of engaging in the business of merchandising, and require each place of business to pay the tax.

PLOT TO MAIL ARMS STALLED

Tulsa Officials Avert a Prison Fight

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 15. (AP)—County officers and federal postoffice inspectors said today they had forestalled a plot to send arms and ammunition to Tulsa desperadoes in the Florida penitentiary and arrested a man and a woman today on charges of sending forbidden matter through the mails.

The two arrested were Jack Oglesby, 22, and Mrs. Zelma M. Woodmansee, brother and sister of Bert Oglesby, who with three companions was arrested and imprisoned in Florida last March after a wild ride across northern Florida that resulted in the abduction of two men, the shooting of two possemen, robbery of several motorists and theft of an automobile.

Young Oglesby and Mrs. Woodmansee pleaded not guilty when arraigned today and were released under $5,000 bond. Preliminary hearing was set for Oct. 28.

Young Man Arrested For Arkansas Shooting

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 15. (AP)—A young man suspected of shooting Claude Pilgreen to death yesterday near Fouke, Ark., was in custody here today. The man surrendered after the shooting.

Officers also detained a 23-year-old woman for questioning. She was reported to have been an eye-witness to the slaying.

Two rifles were found today in a burning stump near the place where Pilgreen's body was discovered.

Pilgreen's body had six bullet wounds, several of which had apparently been inflicted at close range after he had fallen to the ground.

Officers said no motive had been established for the slaying. Pilgreen was 35 years old.

Oil Station Operator Served With Injunction

TEXARKANA, Texas, Oct. 15. (AP)—Preston Bobo, Texarkana independent company operator, was served with an injunction today closing his establishment and ordering him to appear in court at Austin to face a charge of operating without a permit.

Bobo was a leader in the recent price controversy between independent and major gasoline distributors here.

The injunction ordered Sheriff Henry Brooks to take possession of Bobo's plant, his trucks and a 10,000 barrel storage tank. The injunction was issued following an investigation by Assistant Attorney General R. G. Waters.

THIEF RAIDS PASTOR'S HOME

Boy Uses Ladder to Enter Wood Residence

A house prowler escaped his pursuers in a fast foot race early Thursday night after he had made a daring entrance to the home of Dr. H. T. Wood, 907 Travis, where he obtained a small sum of money from a purse.

The prowler, said to be a youth of 17 or 18 years, secured a ladder from the rear of the home, carried it to the front and climbed to a second story balcony. From there he entered a bedroom. Ransacking the chamber, he discovered a purse belonging to Mrs. Wood and containing about $4. He overlooked another purse in the room containing more than $35, it was said.

Discovered as he was making his exit, the boy fled with R. E. Shepherd and W. P. Killingsworth on his heels. He outdistanced his elders, however, before police arrived.

Dr. Wood, pastor of the First Christian church, was conferring with church officials, including Mr. Shepherd and Mr. Killingsworth, when the youth entered the home. The home was well-lighted from the outside, to give a clear view of the youth as he boldly carried out his plan.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 18, at 7:30 a chapel in the educational building of the First Presbyterian church will be dedicated to the memory of Judge and Mrs. J. H. Barwise, charter members of this church.

At this time a beautiful bronze tablet in memory of these Presbyterian pioneers will be presented by the Lucy Hansell Missionary society and unveiled by a great-grandson, Howard Demere.

Short tributes will be given by Mrs. J. A. Kemp, J. C. Hunt, Frank Kell, Dr. N. F. Grafton and R. E. Huff, pioneer friends associated with them in their church life.

Many interesting church relics have been collected and will be presented by Mrs. A. H. Carrigan and Miss Kate Haynes.

The favorite old songs, "Rock of Ages," "The Church in the Wildwood," and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" will be sung by the congregation.

Judge J. H. Barwise Jr. of Fort Worth will be present and give a short response.

Members of the church are looking forward with pleasure to having many of the old friends present.

EDISON SLEEPS IN FINAL COMA

Inventor Not Expected To Awaken Again

you move his hand he moves it back, and the motion seems to be voluntary.

"His circulation is showing the signs of strain.

"I do not expect to come out to the Edison home tonight, but I am ready to start at any moment, in case of an emergency call."

The following bulletin was issued at 10 o'clock tonight by Charles Edison, the inventor's son:

"Dr. Howe does not feel that Mr. Edison's condition necessitates his coming from New York tonight.

"Mr. Edison is sleeping quietly and there is only a slight change in his heart action."

Mr. Edison has had no fluids for 10 days, and only a few spoonsful of stewed fruit in 144 hours.

Mrs. Edison, who has watched at the bedside of the stricken genius almost constantly, night and day, since his collapse last July, appeared for a short walk in the gardens today. She was accompanied by Dr. Howe and Mr. and Mrs. John Eyre Sloane.

The first bulletin of the day, signed by Dr. Howe, read as follows:

"During the past 24-hours, Mr. Edison has not roused. He shows no signs of discomfort, simply resting quietly. There is no evident emergency."

As the old scientist grew steadily weaker, the panoply of death which must attend the demise of such a world-famous figure was completely planned, down to the last detail. President Hoover, Cardinal Hayes, Henry Ford, and Harvey S. Firestone were to be the first persons outside the family to be notified when the crisis came.

The grand old man's four sons and two daughters stayed close to the stately Edison home, Glenmont, and an air of ever-growing tenseness was preceptible throughout the far-reaching grounds of Llewellyn park.

Liquor 'Informer' Seeks Protection

A man said to be an informer here for dry agents sought the protection of police early Thursday night after two men, believed to be liquor dealers, threatened him with a gun at his home.

According to his story, the two men came to his home on Twenty-fifth street, one armed with a .45 caliber gun. Seeing the men approach, the informer said, he fled to another home a few doors away. The pair followed him and again he fled through the rear door.

In the meantime, police had been called. On the arrival of Tom Poe and Bob Miller, detectives, the informer eagerly joined them in the protection of a police car.

Officers sought the gunman and his companion Thursday night. The pair were said to have been intoxicated.

Food That Killed Cat Cited in Alimony Suit

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15. (AP)—On the grounds that the food she prepared for him killed the family cat, Samuel Sherman in domestic relations court today sought exemption from supporting his wife.

"Judge," said Sherman, "she prepared a meal for me but the cat ate it by mistake and passed out."

Vehement denial was entered by Mrs. Sherman and the court granted an allowance of $5 a week for the support of an 8-year-old child.

TAX RUSH

$10,000 Collected on Last Day Before Penalty Takes Effect

Holding the tax office open Thursday night until midnight for the accommodation of Wichita county taxpayers on the last day for payment without penalty, Tax Collector Arthur C. Howard reported the receipt of approximately $10,000 on 1930 taxes during the day.

Payments made Thursday brought the total paid for the year to about 70 per cent, Mr. Howard said. The original roll for the year showed a total of $979,964.32.

All taxes remaining unpaid at midnight Thursday will draw a 5 per cent penalty, 10 per cent interest from Feb. 1, 1931, to date of payment, and a $2 delinquency cost, according to Mr. Howard. These additions will be made in accordance with the law passed governing 1930 taxes only, it was said.

Franklin resides here with his mother, Mrs. Mary C. Franklin, 212 Brook street.

Franklin, according to information received here, was asleep atop a truck load of cotton when the truck skidded into a ditch and overturned. He and his brother, John Franklin, and Clyde Timmons had charge of the cargo being transported from Honey Grove to Galveston.

LEAGUE STANDS JAPAN'S TEST

U. S. Participation in Parley Voted

sions in the future, surely there is cause for congratulations, but if American participation is exceptional and limited to far eastern troubles only, there appears to be something unfair and irrational regarding such a step."

The Japanese viewpoint was outlined here to Edwin Neville, the American charge d'affaires, and in Washington to the American secretary of state.

In these informal conversations Japan sought to convince the American officials that her military operations in Manchuria, to which China has protested so vigorously, were solely for the protection of Japanese lives and property, and that the ensuing controversy was merely a neighborhood quarrel in which no world intervention is needed, or wanted.

U. S. to Explain

Japan's reaction to announcement that the league council had invited the United States to participate in the Manchurian discussions was so sharp that Mr. Neville, lost no time in arranging an interview with the Japanese vice minister of foreign affairs, Ryutaro Nagai, to explain America's position concerning the proposals. He pointed out the role of the United States at Geneva must continue to be that of an observer.

Vice Minister Nagai, on his part, explained that Japan's attitude in the matter rested upon three main points: the principle involved, determination to settle the controversy without outside intervention, and belief that intervention by America would generate anti-American public sentiment in Japan.

The Japanese public, he explained, was particularly sensitive to any intimation that the United States was inclined to interfere with Japan's affairs.

To Inform Stimson

The foreign office revealed it had instructed the ambassador to the United States, Katsugi Debuchi, to inform Secretary of State Stimson of the reaction here to the league's proposals.

The government was said to feel an unfavorable impression already had been created among the Japanese people by Secretary Stimson's message Oct. 9 to Secretary-General Sir Eric Drummond of the League of Nations, advising the league not to fail "to assert all the pressure of authority within its competence" to bring about a peaceable settlement in Manchuria.

AMERICA "WILLING" TO ENTER COUNCIL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—In spite of Japanese objections, America tonight indicated it was willing to sit with the League of Nations in efforts to prevent a war in the orient.

Much depends, however, on the nature of the invitation extended by the league's council, which for several days has been considering means of bringing China and Japan to terms.

The state department's position was to ignore so far as possible reports that Japan had flatly rebuffed the efforts of the United States to help preserve peace in Manchuria.

Attitude Misrepresented

Japan's attitude as shown through official diplomatic channels, it was said, bore little resemblance to the strong stand which news dispatches from Tokyo reported a government spokesman as having announced.

In friendly fashion, Secretary Stimson conversed with Katsuji Debuchi, the Japanese ambassador. Out of their discussion the secretary hoped had come a full understanding of the position of this government for transmittal by the ambassador to Tokyo.

The Japanese position outlined by the ambassador is that Japan will withdraw its troops in Manchuria to the railway zone when guarantees are given for the safety of Japanese lives and property in the occupied areas; that military steps taken so far are merely defensive and that war with China is unthinkable.

U. S. Unswerving

The secretary carefully emphasized that the only interest of this country in the controversy is to see that force shall not be used. The American government is determined not to be swerved from its intention to throw the full weight of its influence toward a peaceful settlement.

Not only is the present peace of the orient at stake, but also the entire structure of peace preservation methods reared too hopefully since the world war.

Department officials were at a loss to account for a report from Tokyo that two notes sent there by this government had been withheld from publication because of a fear they would inflame public opinion against this country.

Only one note has been sent to Tokyo, although there have been other written communications of a nature which are always regarded diplomatically as strictly confidential. The note was sent in identical language to both China and Japan and previous indications were that it had been received with satisfaction at both capitals.

It urged the nations to cease hostilities to pave the way for an amicable solution.

WEST TEXAS WINS PRIZES

Six Counties Sweep Awards At State Fair

West and Northwest Texas counties took not only first, second and third prizes in the agricultural exhibit at the state fair of Texas in Dallas but of the first seven places six were in the western area, states Fred L. Haskett, who is up from Dallas to attend two committee meetings to be held in Wichita Falls Friday morning and afternoon.

"Eastland county won the first place. Second and third prizes went to Randall and Hartley counties. Three other counties above the caprock won fourth, sixth and seventh places," said Haskett. "The agricultural show at the fair is the best ever shown and Western Texas won the awards because of their diversified farm programs.

"Wichita county and the irrigated valley exhibits are attracting plenty of attention by the thousands of visitors who pass through the agricultural hall. Both exhibits are located near the main entrance to the hall.

"Hundreds of West Texans were in Dallas Thursday for the breeder-feeder banquet. The champion fed calf is a shorthorn from the Singleton farms in Ellis county. The calf is 16 months old and weighed short of 1,100 pounds. The animal is on exhibition in the lobby of the Adolphus hotel. It sold to Dallas market for 20 cents a pound on foot.

"The fair has had bad weather since its opening and attendance has been lower than in past years. However, with good weather through the remainder of this and next week attendance will be large. The Texas-Oklahoma football game will draw a record attendance Saturday."

Program Completed for Junior C-C Luncheon

Arrangements were complete Thursday for the staging of the Junior chamber of commerce "bigger and better" luncheon program at the Wichita club Friday noon.

Wichitan Accused Of Buying From Boy Thief

The alleged purchase of stolen golf balls and a stolen fountain pen from a 10-year-old boy resulted in the filing of two misdemeanor complaints in the county court at law Thursday against a local man.

Each complaint charges the defendant with contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile, and with receiving and concealing stolen property. The boy was released to his parents last week after being declared a delinquent by Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court. He admitted at that time having stolen the articles and having sold them to the man in question.

Tillman Farmers Ask Moratorium On Sale of Land for Taxes

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 15.—Following an informal meeting of the Tillman County Farm council, held Wednesday afternoon in the office of the chamber of commerce, a program was adopted for the coming year and new officers elected.

Dan Diehl of Stillwater, farm extension agent, was present and spoke briefly. W. S. Drumm was re-elected president and Ray Bryant was re-elected secretary. W. L. Hutcheson was named vice president.

In view of the fact that some 1,200 farms are being advertised to be sold for taxes, Edwin Brown made a motion that the council notify the governor and seek to get him to declare a moratorium on the sale for at least a year. This was amended providing that a resolution be prepared and signatures procured asking the governor to postpone the sale for a year.

Upon suggestion of Louis H. Beaty the following major program was adopted for the ensuing year: Terracing, crops and soils, poultry and dairy farming.

Numerous minor activities will be given consideration including farm record books and insects. Half of the time of the agent will be spent on 4-H club work.

Beaty gave a brief review of some of his work of the past year, including 15 terrace demonstrations resulting in 1,150 acres being terraced and four or five ponds built. Recently some time was spent by him in viewing proposed county-state lake sites.

Dan Diehl suggested that more attention be given the coming year to a "live-at-home program." It is his idea that demonstrations be held in remote parts of the county when a special effort would be made to get people to attend who need to learn to can vegetables and meat and to otherwise conserve food.

L. M. Wagnon, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said this body is willing to cooperate in helping to industrialize the farm.

ARMOUR PLANT TO REOPEN

Market Offered for Poultry, Eggs and Cream

The dressing and distributing plant of Armour Creameries here will be reopened at full capacity in the next few days, it was announced Thursday by R. C. West, Wichita Falls manager for the concern.

The plant at 504 Tenth street has been operated for the last year as a buying station but with the resumption of full operations it will again become one of the most complete buying, dressing, concentration and shipping units in the Southwest, Mr. West explained.

The plant will employ about 20 men in normal times and during the turkey dressing season between 50 and 75 persons will be employed. One to two cars of fowls will be shipped to northern and eastern markets per week.

The concern purchases from producers cream, eggs, poultry and turkeys running into thousands of dollars every month.

Expert Concludes Tubercular Clinic

Three active cases of tuberculosis were found out of 30 examinations made by Dr. E. E. Darnell, Ponca City tuberculosis specialist, who concluded a three-day clinic here Thursday with an all-day clinic at the Highland Heights Christian church.

Dr. Parnell was brought here by the Wichita County Tuberculosis society with funds raised through the sale of Christmas seals last December. The specialist conducted a clinic in Wichita Falls the first day of his visit here, Tuesday. Tuesday afternoon a clinic was held at Burkburnett. Clinics were held at Electra and Iowa Park Wednesday.

Miss Mary Quinn, executive secretary of the association, supervised registrations and records during the clinic. She was assisted by Mrs. H. T. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Hartsook, Miss Elizabeth Carrigan and Miss Pearl Rorabaugh, nutritionist for the American Red Cross.

The Martin Linen supply furnished towels used at the clinic. The Bailey-Moline Hardware company loaned scales for the weighing of those examined.

It is estimated that a bushel of wheat contains 556,000 grains, a bushel of rye 888,000, and a bushel of clover 16,400,000.

JURY AWARDS WOMAN $13,000

Jury Returns Verdict In Damage Suit

Mrs. Pearl Tedford was awarded $13,000 damages from the Wichita Traction company and Albert Leimkuehler by a jury which returned its verdict before Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court Thursday afternoon at the conclusion of a trial which opened Monday morning.

Answers given by the jury on several of the issues presented in the court's charge may have a material bearing on the final ruling in the case, however, according to attorneys in the case. It was predicted that the court's decision, based upon the jury's findings, will not be given for several days.

The plaintiff sought damages for permanent injuries said to have been received on July 6, 1930, when she was thrown from an ambulance when it collided with a street car at the corner of Thirteenth and Holliday streets. The case has been tried twice formerly. In the first hearing, held in the 89th district court, the plaintiff won an award of $15,000. That verdict was set aside, however, and a new trial granted. The second trial, held several months ago before Judge Cook, resulted in a hung jury.

Arguments in the current trial of the case were completed late Wednesday afternoon. E. W. Napier represented the plaintiff, as in the two earlier trials.

Boys Club Members To Select Motto

Approximately 100 members of the Boys club have agreed to enter a contest which opens Monday for the selection of a club motto, it was announced Thursday by Marvin Robertson, club director.

Merchants of the city are contributing three prizes for winners. Beginning Monday on each day a card bearing a model motto will be found in the show windows of Saul's store, Wages store, the Hub, Perkins-Timberlake company, J. C. Penney company, P. B. M. company or W. B. McClurkan & Co. Each day a card will be found in the window of a different firm. Searchers for the cards are required to copy exactly the motto found in the show window.

At the completion of the contest words used in any two model mottoes may be used to form a motto to be adopted by the club.

An ordinary hen's egg will withstand a pressure of about 500 pounds per square inch.

Rotarians Hear Tuberculosis Talk

Confinement of all persons suffering from tuberculosis in advanced stages was urged as an important measure of public health by Dr. E. E. Darnell of Ponca City, Okla., before members of the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker criticised the Texas state plan which, he declared, permits the treatment in state institutions of incipient cases only. Both the good of the patient and the protection of the public, he said, demand that the advanced case be placed in a hospital.

Brought here by the Wichita County Medical society, Dr. Darnell is to conduct clinics in Iowa Park, Electra, Burkburnett, and Wichita Falls. Sales of Christmas seals made possible the clinics now being held, it was said.

R. E. Shepherd was chairman of Thursday's program, and led those present in a singsong.
