$123,800 In Airport Improvements Voted

Improving and remodeling the Aransas County Airport at a cost of $123,800 was approved at a special meeting of the Commissioners Court last Friday. Execution of the plan is contingent upon obtaining federal and state funds for much of the program, according to County Judge John D. Wendell who presided at the meeting.

The master plan for the airport for 1969 was presented in detail by M. W. Cochran, consulting engineer to the Commissioners Court. It was adopted unanimously by the Commissioners, and Judge Wendell was authorized to make application to the Texas Aeronautics Commission for a grant of $28,560. Later a grant covering 50 per cent of the program will be requested from the Federal Aviation Agency.

In stressing the need for immediate action to improve the airport, Cochran cited the growth of traffic at the county airport with the resulting for more paved parking space for planes and better lighting as well as a longer runway to take care of larger planes and jets. He urged that a study be made on extending the northwest-southwest runway from its present length of 4,500 feet to, 6000 feet at a later date.

Cochran reported that company owned planes made a total of 952 landings and take-offs from June 20 to July 26. During the five-week period from May 15 through June 19 there were 1,186 landings and take-offs, 946 of them by company operated aircraft, including jets and turbo jets as well as heavier conventional propeller aircraft.

He pointed out that this record of 1,898 landing and take-offs by company planes makes the Aransas County Airport eligible for federal and state assistance in maintaining and additions to drainage, Runways, taxiways, aprons and communication devices.

Cochran's recommendations with the estimated costs follow:

Repairing and enlarging field drainage systems, $5,-300.

Construction of two concrete surfaced tie-down areas for planes, $31,500.

Repairing and resurfacing runways and taxiways, $47,-500.

Constructing an additional 8,000 square feet of warehouse floor space adjacent to the present service hangar for storage of airplane parts, $8,-750.

Repair of northwest-southeast runway lighting equipment, $4,000.

Lighting main entry taxiway, $10,000.

Miscellaneous items, including direct telephone to Corpus Christi weather station, application of weed killer to hangar aprons and other paved areas, surface cover to stop wind erosion of sand areas, extension of water service to the terminal area, relocation of the caretaker's house, replacement of wood markers around lighted cone with concrete markers at a total cost of $5,500.

Engineering and contingency costs, $11,250.

Completion Date For Harbor Oaks Set For Fall

Construction work on Unit 1 of Harbor Oaks, Rockport's newest waterfront residential development is nearing completion with a target date of early fall according to James E. McCord, executive vice president in charge of the project.

More than 8,000 linear feet of reinforced concrete bulkheading have been installed on waterways and the margins of central Canoe Lake, all of which have a minimum depth of eight feet.

All storm and sanitary sewers and city water lines have been installed. Conduits are in place to receive underground gas, telephone and electric lines.

Concrete curbs and gutters have been completed throughout the development. Streets have been graded and foundations laid on almost all of them. Next step will be paving the streets with hot-mix asphalt, McCord said.

Some grading remains to be done on the residential lots whose building sites will have a minimum elevation of 7½ feet. The lots of which there are 63 in Unit 1 average 80 by 90 feet. An additional 11-acre bulkheaded tract has been set aside for condominium construction.

A 14 by 80 foot boat launching ramp for the use of Harbor Oaks residents is nearing completion. The underwater section, approximately 24 feet long, has been finished and work is proceeding on the remainder of the ramp and the paved parking and turn-around area at its head.

The Vermillion Construction Co. of Fulton has the general contract for Unit 1 of Harbor Oaks.

Construction of a 120-foot high-level concrete bridge on the Rockport-Fulton Beach Road which will span a boat channel from Harbor Oaks to Little Bay and Aransas Bay is proceeding on schedule McCord said.

Reinforced concrete caps are being poured on the four rows of supporting piling in preparation for setting the prestressed hollow-core concrete panels with which the bridge will be floored. The larger panels for the center span over the boat channel will be approximately 50 feet long, four feet wide and a foot and a half thick. A pavement of hot-mix asphalt will be laid on the panels. The Austin Bridge Co. has the contract.

Coach Bloomer Cites Benefits of Football

Benny Bloomer, Pirate football coach, gave a preview of the season with emphasis on the physical, scholastic and leadership aspects of gridiron training at the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Rockport Rotary club at Corky's restaurant.

He acknowledged that players and coaches alike are hoping, even expecting, to win the district championship this year. Coach Bloomer explained that he will have all but one of last year's starting players on the squad this year, and that most of them have been playing together since they were in the seventh grade.

"Never before have I seen so much seriousness at practice sessions. Determination and desire to be characteristic of this year's squad," he said. "Every player, and there are 92 boys out to make the team, seems embued with a determination to make this the district championship for Rockport-Fulton High School. They are a no-nonsense group," he added.

Coach Bloomer declared that the training, dicipline and leadership experiences gained on the football field help make players better students and better prospects for responsible roles in later life.

City Council Approves $433,523 Budget Total

A budget totaling $433,523 for the 1969-1970 fiscal year was adopted by the Rockport City Council meeting in City Hall Monday night. The curent year's budget totals $337,-525.

Mayor Delmar R. Hiller said that the increased budget would not require any additional municipal taxes. The city's one per cent share of the state sales tax and increased income from city services will cover the additional cost, the mayor said. It is estimated that the city's sales tax revenue for the year will total approximately $41,000.

Breakdown of the new budget is as follows:

General Fund, $88,990; street maintenance and drainage, $46,020; principal and interest on $400,000 in general obligation bonds, $30,980; water and sewer service revenue account, $229,033; garbage revenue account, $38,500.

The new budget provides for a salary increase of approximately six per cent for the city's 24 employees effective Oct. 1. It also will permit hiring a third member of the police department, effectve Oct. 1, as well as the city's participation with Aransas County in the employment of a radio dispatcher, to provide 24-hour service.

The general fund covers expenses of all city departments, offices and services other than water and sewer services and garbage collection, the two revenue producing departments.

Included are cost of police and fire departments civil defense, tax department, city attorney, insurance, election expenses health officer, parks and street lighting.

Council ordered an ordinance prepared for presentation at the next meeting, officially adopting the 1969-1970 budget.

Area's Economy Population And Land Use Plan

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles about the Comprehensive Plan for the city developed by Harland Bartholomew and Associates and local advisory committees.

* * *

Details of the Plan

One of the major considerations in the plan is involved with major transportation facilities in the planning area. State Highway 35 at present crosses the Copano Causeway and extends southward touching the western portion of the Fulton area and then passing through Rockport on the way south to Aransas Pass. The plan proposes to move the alignment of Highway 35 into the central portion of the peninsula for all weather access. This new alignment would extend westward from the present highway just south of the Sandollar Motel north of Fulton. This change in the traffic pattern would enable the coastal areas to be less encumbered with through traffic movements. It would also provide a more direct access from the larger urban centers in San Patricio and

At present the district is using treated water purchased from the Reynold's Metals Co. In turn, Reynolds has been buying treated water from the city of Corpus Christi.

Water already is circulating through the new plant on an experimental basis and as soon as some laboratory equipment has been received and installed the plant will be ready for operation.

Pirates Looking For Grid Title

With Pirate football practice underway this week, players and fans alike are convinced that this is the year for Rockport-Fulton School to take the district 28AA championship.

Coach Benny Bloomer thinks he has the material and his players have the spirit to turn the trick this year after more than 10 years of disappointment.

And the coaches appear to agree with him. Ray Collins reports in the Corpus Christi Caller that the Pirates received all but one first-place vote in the coaches' poll, with George West and Calallen tied for second. Taft, defending champion, was rated fourth by the coaches, with Woodsboro fifth and Ingleside and Mathis tied for last.

Last season was a frustrating one for the Pirates, when they sufferel upsets at the hands of Woodsboro and Yoakum and a one-point loss to Taft.

This year Coach Bloomer is blessed with a wealth of veterans with 15 lettermen returning, including 10 defensive and nine offensive regulars. Of these, four are expected to be in the starting lineup for the third successive year.

Veterans around whom Coach Bloomer is expected to build his team are Ruford Huff, 180-pound halfback; Andy Crawford 205-pound tackle; Richard Anderson, 205 pound all-district guard; and Glen Davis, 194-pound fullback. Huff has gained almost 1,000 yards in each of the past two seasons.

The team will scrimmage with Flour Bluff, there, at 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 29.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

OMINOUS SIGNS: ARE CATS LIVING TOO HIGH?

Just when we were beginning to feel a bit more optimistic, we came across not one but two reports indicating a reversal of the natural order of things.

One comes from Naples, Italy, where hundreds of hungry rats recently streamed out of the sewers and began chasing the Napolitean cats.

The other is from Tokyo, where, noting a similar occurrence in Northern Japan recently, the director of the Ueno Zoo Hospital, Dr. Shiro Nakagawa, explained grimly that Japanese cats have been living so high off the hog that they are becoming satiated, soft and over-civilized.

In ancient days, superstitious men might have seen these things as signs of heavenly displeasure. We, of course, are not superstitious. But we do feel a bit uneasy.—Anderson (S.C.) Independent.

CHURCH MILITANT

A man trying to gain unlawful entry into the vicarage of Emmanuel Church in West Hampsted, England, recently was set upon by the Rev. Jack Wellman by brandishing a ceremonial sword. He backed the intruder against a wall and held him there. As he shouted, "In the name of the Queen stand there," Mrs. Wellman was crying out loud, "Run him through."

The would-be thief concluded, wisely we feel, that the atmosphere was dangerously hostile and made a break for it. The lady caught up, got her left arm around his neck and beat him with her right hand until the police arrived. The officers reported that the miscreant appeared "petrified" as they led him away and we can understand that.

The behavior of the Wellmans indicated that they believe in the church militant and proved beyond question that they do not mind becoming involved in law enforcement. — Memphis Commercial Appeal.

KILLING THE COLLEGE GOOSE

A man in advanced years told us the other day that he's always been very generous and kind in making contributions towards educational institutes. But, he said, "the type of student in our higher levels of education by their actions has turned my generosity sour and I'll not contribute financially as long as the conditions exist."

You can hardly blame the man. We would guess that thousands of supporters to the financial cause of education are taking a dim view of past and present happenings in our universities. — Harrow (Ont.) News.

LET'S SUPPOSE

Let's suppose. —Suppose your city government is considering an ordinance for establishment of a paving district, which happens once in a while. Suppose your city government is considering an ordinance requiring sidewalks in certain areas of town.

Suppose you had to go to city hall or other points determined by the city to find posted copies of these ordinances. And suppose this is the only way you could see them?

Would you think the city's communications system was seriously outmoded? Would you be a little cranky about the inconvenience?

Believe it or not, Wyoming's cities are going to try and do this, and for the usual reason, reduction of expenditures. We agree, it would be a regressive move.

Right now cities, as required by law, must publish ordinances in full in a newspaper of general circulation. The city pays for them. Publishing ordinances in full is a small price to pay for a public service, for public confidence, and for a public which is well informed.—Sheridan (Wyo.) Press.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT

The new science of anthropometry (studying man's ever-changing anatomical measurements and applying them to products and equipment) is trying to do something about bathtubs. And about time, too. A protest is long overdue. Come to think of it, what better place for a sit-in?

There must be an enormous reservoir of irritation for someone to tap, so to speak.

The number of man-hours that anthropometric experts have spent inside experimental bathtubs is incalculable. But bathroom plumbing has stubbornly resisted the idea of conforming to the human frame. —Vancouver (B.C.) Province.

Miss Lewis Honored With Kitchen Shower

Miss Elizabeth Lewis, bride-elect of Larry Iles, was honored with a kitchen shower Monday, Aug. 25, at the home of Miss Sandie Peters with Miss Linda Harris and Kathy Haggerton as co-hostesses.

The gift table was covered with a deep rose linen cloth and centered with a pink flower covered parasol. The luncheon table was covered with a crocheted cloth over pink and centered with an arrangement of pink flowers set in a large crystal bowl.

The cake was designed in the shape of a kitchen window with pink ruffled flowers and several potted plants.

The bride elect was given a bride's book by the hostesses. Special guest was the bride elect's mother, Mrs. John Lewis of Rockport and the bride-elect's sister, Miss Carolyn Lewis of New Orleans.

Miss Elizabeth Lewis was presented a corsage of daisies and Mrs. Lewis a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Charles Walters of the Sun Fun Shoppe in Fulton and Miss Kay Sparks were in Dallas over the weekend. They attended the apparel market where holiday and early spring wearing apparel was shown.

Chinese are generally credited with using the abacus with which to count but Greeks, Romans and Egyptians, as well as Hindus, also used it.

New Gulf Reef Attracting Fish

Local fishermen are already reporting large schools of fish near an artificial reef which was established about a week ago off Port Aransas.

Four old steel barges, each 110 feet by 30 feet by seven feet, were sunk in 72 feet of water Aug. 16.

The new reef is located at 27 degrees, 41 minutes, five seconds north latitude and 96 degrees, 58 minutes, five seconds west longitude. This is 6¼ nautical miles on a magnetic heading of 177 degrees of the Whistling buoy, or 9¼ miles on a magnetic heading of 149 degrees off the end of the Port Aransas jetty. The site is marked with a lighted buoy which will be maintained by the Parks and Wildlife Department.

The barges were purchased in a cooperative effort by the Port Aransas Boatman's Association, the Port Aransas Rod and Reel Club and the Lone Star Brewing Co.

The Parks and Wildlife Department put the barges in floatable condition, moved them to the site, and sank them.

New Motor Inspection Act Effective Sept. 1

Austin—The most sweeping changes ever to be made in the state's Motor Vehicle Inspection Act will become effective Sept. 1 according to Col. Wilson E. Speir director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The amended act, will place Texas on a 12-month inspection period. The measure increases the inspection fee from $1.75 to $2, and moves location of the inspection sticker from the right of the windshield to the left. It also adds exhaust emmission systems on 1968 or later vehicles, and exhaust systems on all vehicles to the list of items to be inspected.

Speir said that vehicles subject to inspection must be taken to an approved inspection station between Sept. 1, 1969, and April 15, 1970. Upon Satisfactory completion of the inspection, the mechanic-inspector will replace the old sticker with the new one.

"The new stickers will expire 12 months from the date of inspection, and will contain a large number tab showing the month of expiration," Speir noted. "For example, a sticker issued in September will show a number "nine", and will expire on the last day of September, 1970. A sticker issued in January show the number "one" and will expire at the end of January, 1971," he added.

In addition to the new items to be inspected, inspection stations will check brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, and front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle. The inspection also includes steering and wheels and rims.

BALLET INSTRUCTION PLANNED FOR CHILDREN

Ballet classes for children, age 5 to 12, will be conducted by Mrs. Lillian Cain Cox of Victoria and Fulton, starting Sept. 20 at the Paws and Taws Square Dance hall on Fulton Beach. Registration will be Sept. 13 from 10 a.m. until noon at the dance hall. Instruction will be in rhythm, coordination and dance movement, according to Mrs. Cox.

Mrs. Cox who has conducted a school of dancing for more than 20 years, is past president of the Texas Association of Teachers of Dancing, and is a member of the Dance Masters of America and Dance Educators of America.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cox are residents of Victoria, they spend vacations and weekends at their home in Fulton.

Area's Economy

Nueces Counties to destinations north of Aransas County. Present alignment of State Route 35 would remain as an alternate route connecting with Aransas Pass, Port Aransas and Padre Island. The coastal portion of this highway would then become utilized primarily for internal circulation within the community and as a scenic route along the coastal areas of the southern portion of Aransas County. The scenic portion of this route would become a part of the Hug-The-Coast Highway System as well as the Texas Tropical Trail.

With slightly more than 7,500 acres anticipated to be needed for urban purposes by 1990, the plan identifies those areas which should come into urban development by the end of the planning period. Residential uses would be the largest single land use category with residential areas extending westward from the coastline to the proposed new alignment of State Route 35. Much of these land areas will be suitable for residential use once satisfactory drainage provisions are made.

Drainage Facilities

The plan proposes to extend two large channels to provide drainage and water access into interior areas. These channels would serve a dual purpose as major drainageways, allowing runoff waters to reach water level without passing through developed portions of the surrounding area. These channels would also permit boat access and recreational advantages for surrounding urbanizing areas. The plan proposes to extend the north channel west from Canoe Lake, then south around the northwest portion of the city, terminating approximately ½ mile north of Market Street. The south channel would enter the peninsula just north of Cove Harbor. This channel would extend west and north, terminating approximately one-half mile south of Market Street. The land use plan identifies only the major channels in this system. Off of the main channels, a series of local channels into subdivisions and properties could be developed solving at the same time serious drainage problems in these surrounding areas and, in effect, increasing the water frontage now found on the peninsula by about one-half.

Existing platted subdivisions in these areas would have to be replatted to accommodate such an improvement. Main channels would pass through land areas with elevations of up to 15 feet above water level. These channels would be from 100 to 200 feet wide with major openings at points of intersection. This inland waterway system would accommodate pleasure craft, sailing vessels, and would provide major new inland water areas which could be used for recreational activities within the future neighborhoods. Proper sloping, bulkheading, and preservation of existing vegetation would be an important aspect of such an improvement Low-lying marsh areas would be raised with spoil materials extracted from these channels. This method of disposing of the spoil would also serve to correct existing drainage deficiencies. In those areas where waterfront developments might take place, a substantially greater portion of the total land mass would be required for public access facilities. This simply means that in addition to streets, these subdivisions would also have public easements dedicated for drainageways and water access.

In the South Austin and Magnolia Streets area a proposed drainage improvement would correct existing problems and create new waterfront properties. This would be accomplished by dredging channels on Lamar Street to the rear lot lines between Austin and Magnolia and Magnolia and Live Oak Streets. Street right-of-ways would be narrowed to 60 feet and channels dredged to 80 feet. The Lamar channel proposal would create more than two miles of waterfront lots and correct existing drainage problems. This improvement would be coordinated with drainage improvements in the downtown area.

Art Guild Gatherings

By JAN WENDELL

(Note: Columnist Jan Wendell is in the hospital. This week's column was written by Art Association member Shirley Farley.)

Rest is a word that is heard a lot around the gallery, but no one ever seems to get any. Things keep popping so fast members hardly have a chance to catch their breath between new and exciting projects.

It seems we've just finished the Brigl seminar and here it is show time again. New paintings are already appearing in the gallery in preparation for the Association's annual Labor Day sale, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The show will be in the gallery at 105 S. Austin and open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. all three days. There will be sketches, watercolors, acrylics, oils, framed and unframed, many at once-a-year bargain prices.

It is early to mention Christmas, but I'm one of those who in spite of good intentions, finds myself in a mad dash on Dec. 24. The Labor Day sale is an excellent opportunity to shop now for Christmas, save money, and avoid all that last minute wear and tear.

Speaking of bargains, the gallery now has a permanent "Goodie Bar" thanks to the suggestion of Mr. and Mrs. Wedgeworth. (New members, formerly with the Helotes Art Association) The "Goodie Bar" offers unframed work and small fun items. The most notable fun items so far are by another new member, Nancy Stair of Rockport and San Antonio. Nancy's happy paintings on wood are ideal for patio pieces as they are done with the new indestructible acrylics. I was unable to resist one, and it has withstood the sun, wind, dust and rain without a sign of wear. Nancy's paintings also add a spot of cheer to any room in the house.

Another bright spot in the gallery is the Artist of the Month section, occupied this month by Estele Turner. Estele, who has walked away with awards from every one of our judged shows took the ultimate award, "Best in Show," last July. She has studied with several of the countries outstanding painters, and this background is evident. Mrs. Turner's paintings are consistently good. It is a great deal more difficult than most people realize to turn out 10 good paintings rather than two good ones three fair, and five duds. When a painter reaches the point of consistency he can then honestly lay claim to professional status.

Estele has a unique style, using very, very soft edges and mixing color directly on her canvas which leaves sparkling flecks of pure color slightly reminiscent of a Leon Franks still life. She has a marvelous talent for turning mundane subjects into exciting paintings. One of my favorites is an old lantern and bleached cow skull done very freely and impressionistically. There are Katchina dolls combined with indian corn, white eggs and a bowl of milk on a white tablecloth, an old anvil with weathered boards.

Estele is by no means limited to still life. On display is a painting of shore birds which took a blue ribbon in the Art Association's first judged show. Although impressionistic, the painting captures the "feel" and character of our local beach. Her portraits have also won awards, and as if that weren't enough talent, Mrs. Turner also sculpts. Three pieces of sculpture are included in the display.

When gallery sitters and visitors aren't saying nice things about Mrs. Turner or talking about rest they're buzzing about something called the Border Banditas. The Banditas hope to do crafty items for the Goodie Bar and Fun Corner. President Jan Wendell has been painting wooden purses like mad (the first batch is already spoken for), Sis Harper has been seen picking up rocks to paint for paper weights and decorations, (watch your rock gardens!) and Gallery Manager Estelle Stair has turned out some delectible mushrooms on driftwood in addition to her colorful owls and roadrunners. So, be prepared, the Banditas are coming.

For those who aren't still trying to sort out all the information we gained during the Brigl seminar, regular classes with Robert Garden will begin right after Labor Day. Garden is a well known area artist and teacher. His classes are open to beginners and advanced students and are tentatively scheduled for Tuesdays from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. Interested persons should contact Estelle Stair at the gallery soon, as enrollment must be limited.

Noted Artist May Visit Here

The widely acclaimed artist, E. M. (Buck) Schiwetz, may visit the Rockport area sometime during September.

Schiwetz, 71, whose fame is firmly established by sketches and paintings of Texas scenes, said recently at his summer place near Kerrville that "I hope to re-visit Rockport, maybe next month, to again enjoy seeing bay scenes, shrimp boats, leaning oaks and other things of beauty in that area."

Many art lovers, here and elsewhere, have seen and enjoyed the first volume of "Buck Schiwetz' Texas," a collection of the artist's drawings and paintings in book form.

Among the water colors, oil paintings and drawings are three scenes from the Rockport area: the Fulton Mansion, the Mathis house and Aransas Bay.

Schiwetz held a show, starting Aug. 7, at the Meredith Long Galleries in Houston. The showing of 60 works, all done since March, was highly successful.

He is now working on the second volume of "Buck Schiwetz' Texas," five years overdue, he says, which he hopes to have completed by next spring.

Schiwetz was born in Cuero. His mother, an artist, taught him to draw before he could write. He got a bachelor of science degree in architecture at Texas A&M and almost completed work for a master's degree.

His first real job was with the Dallas architectural firm of Thompson and Swain, which hired him to to do architectural renderings. His architectural knowledge is readily apparent in his drawings today in which the viewer can "almost feel the materials" of which the structures are built.

Schiwetz was getting glowing notices as an artist when he joined a Houston advertising firm in 1929 as art director. The firm became Franke - Wilkinson, Schiwetz, Inc., with clients that included Anderson Clayton & Co. and Humble Oil & Refining Co.

During World War II, Schiwetz' partners, all younger men than he, were called into service from the officers' reserve, and Schiwetz had to run the company. Fifteeen years ago the advertising firm was absorbed by McCann-Erickson. Schiwetz stayed on a while as art director and then retired with his wife, Ruby Lee, to a retreat they had built near Hunt, overlooking the headwaters of the Guadalupe River.

Looking back on it now, Schiwetz believes moving so far into the backwoods was a mistake. 'It is a good place to visit," he said.

Around the walls of Schiwetz' retreat are a dozen prints he drew for the Humble Oil & Refining Co. magazine, "The Humble Way." They show cotton pickers in a Pecos field, a tug with gulls swooping over the bow, an oil derrick framed by Spanish moss.

A Schiwetz original the size of the prints on the wall sells for $500 and the demand exceeds the supply.

Buck said he never had any formal art lessons "except in technique," although he taught art at the University of Houston. He works fast and sure.

Although he has no set hours for his work, he says he avoids drawing very early or late in the day. 'I don't care for sunrises or sunsets," he said. "You do better with that in photography."

Schiwetz likes to talk to the people who live in the areas he draws, "especially for anything of historical content, I like to talk to the owner."

Speaking German has been a help, too, making it easy for Schiwetz to visit with many people in German- populated centers.

"History is very vital," he says with emphasis.

His favorite artists?

"Andrew Wyeth. He was superb as a draftsman. And Edward Hooper." He also admires the works of Norman Rockwell. "He's not in the fine arts realm but I really like him. I have a stack of his works."

Advice to beginning artists: "Work, work, work, says this man who works at art every day. "You have to learn the basic fundamentals first. There are no short-cuts to fame. And you have to learn to be honest with yourself about your work."

"SLOW POKE" LAW IN EFFECT SEPT. 1

Austin — "Slow-poke" drivers—a longtime hazard and source of irritation on the state's high-speed roads—will soon have to speed up or keep right when traveling on divided highways in the Lone Star State, the Texas Safety Association noted today.

Under a new law, going into effect Sept. 1, vehicles traveling at less than normal speed of traffic on divided highways must be driven in the right-hand lane or as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway — except when passing.

In commenting on the new law, the Safety Association expresses hope that the traffic measure will be a practical solution to the mounting problem of slow drivers who tie-up traffic on heavy traveled roads and are frequently a contributing factor in traffic accidents.

The new law should also ease the tension of drivers who use the high-speed inside lanes on divided highways and not only find it mechanically difficult but also emotionally difficult to cope with such drivers, the Safety Association continued.

Many drivers become quite irritated when there is no safe way to pass a slow driver. They often take risks that they would not ordinarily take and wind up in trouble.

Another provision of the new traffic law calls for all moving traffic to stay right of the center line on roadways having four or more lanes of traffic—except when authorized to go to the left by traffic control devices, or when making left turns into or from an alley, private roads or driveways, regardless of whether there is a double yellow stripe or not.

Question and Answer Column

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I was billed additional income taxes. Can I pay this off in installments?

A—A full payment is due by the date stated on the bill. There is no provision in the law for paying these taxes on an installment?

Q—I lost my refund check and filled out a form for a new one over a month ago. What is holding it up?

A—Before another refund check can be issued, a thorough search must be made of Treasury records, the Post Office and other sources to see if the missing check can be located. When this search is completed, another check can be issued.

Q—I made a profit when I sold my vacation home. Can I postpone paying tax on this if I put all the money into another summer place?

A—No, the provision in the tax law that permits the postponement of tax on the profits from the sale of a personal resident only applies to the taxpayer's principal residence. A second home, or vacation home, is not covered.

Q—I sold some standing timber on my farm to a lumber company. Is this regular income or capital gain?

A—Such a sale of timber is treated as a capital gain, obtain a free copy of Publication No. 544, "Sales and Exchanges of Assets," available at all IRS offices.

The Department of Agriculture also has a publication on this subject. It is Handbook No. 274, "The Timber Owner and his Federal Income Tax," and is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, for 35c a copy.

Q—When my father died, I inherited the sports car he had. If I sell it, will I have to pay income tax on what it brings?

A—Probably not. There would be no Federal income tax to pay on the sale of the car unless it has increased in value during the time you owned it.

There would be a gain to report if you received more for the car when you sold it than its fair market value at the time of your father's death.

They'll find the tanbark and spangles alive and well in the free Dr Pepper State Fair Circus. Among its top featured performers are the Zoppes, whose fabulous Indian spectacular is billed as America's finest and fastest resinback riding act. The whole fast, hour-long circus, presented several times daily, packs enough action to thrill all generations.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

CARELESS CLOTHES

What to wear? Choosing your costume for a particular occasion is not just a matter of fashion, but also a matter of law. Should you be injured, careless clothing may jeopardize your right to collect damages by pinning a "negligent" label upon you.

Consider this case:

A young woman, going for a walk on a wintry night, knew that the sidewalks were slick with ice. Yet, she chose to year very high heels. Sure enough, she skidded, fell, and suffered assorted injuries.

But, when she sued the city for damages, the jury decided she herself was guilty of negligence in her choice of footwear.

On the other hand a woman who stumbled on a hotel stairway was held not negligent. The heels she was wearing were only moderately high—and the process of walking down steps did not demand any special precautions.

Even choosing an unwise color, if not negligence all by itself, may at least tip the scales in that direction.

Was a hunter accidentally shot by a companion? It may count against the victim, legally, that he was wearing a grey hat exactly the color of a grey squirrel.

Was a motorist, changing a flat tire on a dark highway, struck by a passing car? It may be held against him that he was wearing a hard-to-see black jacket instead of an easy-to see white shirt.

In addition to choosing your clothing with care, you are expected also to wear it with care. For example:

A woman passenger, emerging from a friend's car, shut the door on her own sleeve. Unaware of her predicament, the driver started forward, hurling the woman to the pavement. But a court later found no fault with the driver. The woman herself was negligent, said the court, for letting her sleeve get caught.

In another case, a man with foot troubles sued a shoe dealer for selling him shoes that were too tight. But the court turned thumbs down on his claim. The judge commented:

"He is the best judge of whether the shoes fitted or pinched. If the customer persists in wearing the shoes and allowing the pinching, he has himself to blame and one other."

New Federal Acts Will Aid Alcoholism Fight

Alcoholism has been called the fourth greatest health problem, ranked only by heart disease, cancer, and mental illness.

Nobody knows how many alcoholics there in the U.S., but some estimates indicate from four to five million.

Only in recent years has there come recognition that alcoholism is a disease and should be approached with prevention and treatment programs rather than only by shuning or punishing its victims.

Alcoholism is now considered as a chronic disease — a serious behavior disorder. Alcoholism is a sign and symptom of personality or character problems.

Strangely enough, realization that alcoholism is a disease and a major individual and community health problem has been slow in coming, although the facts have been known a long time.

But public concern over misuse of alcohol, as in the case of narcotics and other dangerous drugs, has now take a humanistic turn. Social attitudes have been changing from a demand for punishment to a demand for prevention, control, and treatment.

The result has been translation of new approaches to alcoholism into public policy through Federal legislation.

Until last year, no Congressional legislation had ever been adopted to prevent and control alcoholism. The Volstead Act and the resultant 18th Amendment prohibited the use of alcohol. but that was all.

Under amendments enacted in 1968 to the Community Mental Health Centers Act, however, there are now Federal law provisions to assist the communities financially in the development of programs to control narcotic addiction and alcoholism.

This marks the first time that the need of local communities in the field of alcoholism has been specifically aided by Federal acts.

The National Institute of Mental Health will adminster the support programs along with other major efforts aimed against alcoholism.

The Institute's National Center for the Prevention and Control of Alcoholism has been established to support research, training, services, and other programs in a broad-scale attack. The long-range goal is to find effective, acceptable, and practical ways of preventing and treating alcoholism.

The immediate goal is to make the best treatment and rehabilitation services of today available to all who need them through developing resources. The new Federal Acts will help the Nation's communities move toward this goal.

Teal Hunters Warned About Identification

Austin—Hunters must keep a sharp lookout during the early teal season Sept. 13-21.

If they shoot any species of waterfowl other than teal during the season, they are subject to charges of taking game out of season which could mean a fine from $25 to $100. And game management officers will be out in force to keep a close eye on the hunt.

For this reason, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is encouraging the hunters to study waterfowl identification before taking to the field. Although the blue-winged teal is recognized as the "early bird" among fall migrating waterfowl, there may be other early arrivals among the various species including pintails, shovellers, baldpates, mallards, gadwalls, and possibly scaup, redheads, and canvasbacks, all of which could get the uninformed hunter in trouble.

There are three species of teal native and common to the United States. The smallest is the green-winged teal, averaging less than three-quarters of a pound in weight. The blue-winged teal and cinnamon teal are of comparable size, both larger than the green-wing, averaging about three-quarters of a pound.

Few greenwing and cinnamon teal are expected to come to Texas during the special season, so a thorough familiarity with blue-winged teal should serve the hunter adequately.

The bluewing is much smaller than other waterfowl which may be found in Texas during the early season.

It will be in eclipse plumage; however, the large light blue patch on the forewing of both male and female blue-winged teal will be noticeable.

The white crescent in front of the eye, prominent in most color paintings of the bluewing drake, may be obscured in eclipse plumage. The general appearance will be that of a small mottled brown and gray duck that decoys readily and leaps vertically from the water as it takes flight.

The blue patch on the forewing, which may appear while at a distance, is not noticeable when the ducks are at rest on water. However, a small white patch should be discernible on the flank of the male.

On the wing, the male bluewing's call is soft, lisping whistle or "peep." Females voice a faint, muted "quack."

Teal fly with great speed (accentuated to the observer by their small size), usually in close flocks with much seemingly erratic twisting, turning, and darting.

An information sheet on the early teal season is available and may be obtained by writing the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan, Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

You devote much of your paper to public service so I thought I'd offer the following in hopes it will help someone. Thank you.

The subject is vandalism.

Our children are raised and we thank God they are honest and law-abiding. That was no accident, it took day by day guidance and it really paid off. They have rewarded us many times by making us proud of them.

Once years ago in another small town where we lived, we heard that some boys we knew had been caught for vandalism. They were classmates of one of our sons.

I asked our son, "you didn't have anything to do with this did you?"

He gave me an exasperated look and said, "Mother, don't you think I have any sense at all?"

Then, scrambling for an answer to cover my insulting question, I said, "well, sometimes a boy might be along when someone else does something wrong."

He answered, "I have more sense than to go anywhere with them too."

The shame and the sadness and disgrace the other boys brought upon their mothers and fathers was always remembered. In addition the parents had to take the responsibility of paying for the senseless destruction of property and it was a hardship for them.

Rockport has some trouble now with vandalism. Nothing good can come of it for anyone, only trouble.

Parents: Get reassurance from your offspring that they are not involved.

Children: Let your parents know they have succeeded in raising you for the University and not for the penitentiary.

This is a Trespass-to-Try Title suit involving the title and right to possession of the following described lands in Aransas County, Texas:

Being that certain Piece or parcel of land out of the William M. Carper Survey No. 3, Abstract 47, Aransas County, Texas, sometimes known as Water Front Lots Nos. 6, 7 and 8 East of Block 51 of the Townsite of Fulton (formerly Aransas City), Aransas Cunty, Texas, as more particularly described by metes and bounds as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the East boundary line of the 60-foot right-of-way of Beach Street, sometimes known as Fulton Beach Road, which point is the point of intersection of the Easterly prolongation of the South boundary lines of Lots Nos. 6 and 11 in Block No. 52 of the Townsite of Fulton (formerly Aransas City), Aransas County, Texas, with such aforementioned East boundary line of the 60-foot right-of-way of Beach Street, for the Southwest corner of this tract;

THENCE North 12° West along the aforementioned East boundary line of such 60-foot right-of-way of Beach Street a distance of 153.36 feet to a point, such point being also the point of intersection of the Easterly prolongation of the North boundary lines of Lots Nos. 8 and 9 in said Block No. 52 of the Townsite of Fulton with the East boundary line of such 60-foot right-of-way of Beach Street, for the Northwest corner of this tract;

THENCE East along such Easterly prolongation of the North boundary lines of said Lots Nos. 8 and 9 in Block No. 52 of the Townsite of Fulton a distance of 50 feet, more or less, to the point of intersection thereof with the West boundary line, that is, the shore line, of Aransas Bay, for the most Westerly Northeast corner of this tract;

THENCE along the meander line of the shore line of Aransas Bay in a general Southeasterly and Easterly direction, passing the most Easterly Northeast corner of this tract, and continuing along such meander line of the shore line of Aransas Bay in a generally Southerly direction to the point of intersection thereof with the Easterly prolongation of the South boundary lines of said Lots Nos. 6 and 11 in Block No. 52 of the Townsite of Fulton, for the Southeast corner of this tract:

THENCE West along the South boundary line of the Easterly prolongation of said Lots Nos. 6 and 11 in Block No. 52 of the Townsite of Fulton a distance of 290.4 feet, more or less, to the Southwest corner of this tract and PLACE OF BEGINNING; including all riparian, littoral and other rights, including rights of accretion, appurtent to such property resulting from its fronting on the waters of Aransas Bay, Aransas County, Texas;

Wherein Bernard Clare DeForest, Independent Executor of the Estate of Thomas Emil DeForest, deceased, as plaintiff alleges that Thomas Emil DeForest as the owner of such aforedescribed property was dispossessed from such property by said Defendants and such possession was still withheld from him on January 5, 1969 and thereafter, and this notwithstanding his good and perfect title thereto under the 10-Year Statute of Limitations under the State of Texas as he, and those whose title he holds, had used, occupied and enjoyed said property openly and notoriously, adversely and continuously for in excess of ten years after Defendants' alleged cause of action and claim to such property, if any, arose.

Plaintiff in such suit also seeks damages from the Defendants in the amount of $500.00 for wrongfully dispossessing and withholding possession of such property by the Defendants and for reasonable rental value thereof computed on the basis of $100.00 per annum.

Accordingly, Bernard Clare DeForest, Independent Executor of the Estate of Thomas Emil DeForest, deceased, seeks judgment of the Court in such suit against said Defendants, and so prays, for title and possession of said property, for damages for dispossession, for reasonable rental value of said property, for costs of court and for such other and further relief, in law and in equity, he may show himself entitled to receive, all as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Original Petition on file in this suit.

The Officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to the law and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Rockport, Texas. this the 4th day of August, A.D., 1969.

LETTER TO THE MAYOR

Ashville, N.C. 28806

Dear Moyor Hiller:

We just returned from a vacation in Texas, spending two days at Goose Island. While camping, we visited your beach and enjoyed your lovely pool. It was the nicest place we found to swim. Whilewe were enjoying our day there your police chief came by and asked if he could be of service. This was very unusual and we appreciated it.

I just thought I would write this note in appreciation of Rockport's hospitality. Texas is a lovely state and you have much to be proud of.

Yours truly,
Mrs. F. W. Alexander

One day the devil called up St. Peter and challenged him to a baseball game. "Okay," St. Peter said, "But you know we have all the great players up here."

"You'll lose anyway," the devil said.

"Don't be foolish," St. Peter replied. "We're sure to win. Why, we have Christy Mathewson, Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, and . . . "

"I know," the devil interrupted, "but we have all the umpires down here." — Phil News.
