GREECE WITHDRAWS ITS MILITARY FORCES FROM NATO

Turks Renew Fighting In Cyprus

By The Associated Press

A broadcast from Cyprus in the name of the Turkish military commander said Turkish forces captured the Nicosia airport today and were encircling the capital.

The broadcast came as heavy fighting broke out on the island following the breakdown of peace efforts, and Greece announced withdrawal of its military forces from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The announcement was made on the previously Greek-controlled Cyprus Broadcasting Co. station, indicating the Turks captured it.

EXPLOSION

The station suddenly stopped broadcasting Greek Cypriot communiques and martial music, and appealed in Greek for Greek Cypriots to surrender.

It announced that Turkish forces were advancing to the southeast and southwest of the city, and said "The Timbou and the airport areas previously held by the Greek forces have been captured."

A military communique issued in Ankara said Turkish armored units had captured Timbou, eight miles east of Nicosia, and overrun its military air field.

The communique said the Turkish thrust was developing in the direction of the eastern port of Famagusta, and that Turkish air and ground forces continued to score "great victories."

Turkish planes, armor and infantry blasted their way through Greek Cypriot lines on the island, rocking Cyprus with heavy explosions and sending up huge columns of smoke from devastated buildings.

At least 41 persons were reported wounded in the first few hours of fighting, including 12 members of the U.N. peacekeeping force and one newsman. The Greek radio claimed four Turkish planes were downed.

Turkey said it wanted to gain control of only a "fair share" of territory for the Turkish Cypriots and not the whole island. This was an apparent reference to the northern part of Cyprus.

Greece announced its withdrawal from military participation in NATO as a result of the onslaught, and discussed the possibility of War with Turkey.

Witnesses in northern Greece reported new tanks on flat cars and trains moved through the night and early today in the direction of the Turkish border.

Representatives of the 15 NATO governments met urgently in Brussels and most of them told Greece they hoped its withdrawal from the military organization would be only temporary, a spokesman said.

In Washington, President Ford discussed the Cyprus situation with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. Details were not available, but Ford said he also discussed the situation with Kissinger Tuesday night by phone.

Turkey walked out of the Geneva peace talks, and the U.N. Security Council adopted a British resolution calling for a new Cyprus cease-fire and resumption of the conference.

Air space over Turkey, Greece and Cyprus was closed with the new outbreak of fighting on the island, and telephone and telex lines to Cyprus were cut off.

On Cyprus, the Greek Cypriots began falling back east and west of Nicosia, taking antiaircraft batteries with them as the Turkish tanks and artillery broke through their lines behind heavy air strikes and rolling artillery and mortar barrages, newsmen said.

IN APPARENT RUNOFF — Georgia State Rep. George Busbee of Albany meets with supporters at his campaign headquarters in Atlanta Tuesday night during the Georgia primary. Early today it appeared that Busbee had gained the spot for a Sept. 3 runoff with Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Vandals Rampage In Several Areas

The worst siege of vandalism in many months struck Big Spring during the night Monday with city police seeking information on the culprits.

Rocks were used to break windshields over several blocks in one area of town.

Charles Davis at 1308 Baylor reported a rock thrown through a windshield. W.P. Criswell at 1705 Alabama, reported $175 damage with a rock through the windshield.

Glynda Jones, 1504 Dayton Road, reported the air let out of her tires and shaving cream on the car. Emory Parrish, 1216 E. 15th, had the rear window broken on his pickup. Mrs. Jones' vandalism was not thought to be connected with the others.

Mrs. Perry Hall, 910 E. 14th, reported theft of a stainless steel whip antennae. Marion F. Hagan Jr., 200 Cactus, had $361.80 worth of damage to the vinyl top of his car.

Weather Research Will Be Explained

Persons interested in the weather modification research proposed for this area by the Bureau of Reclamation are invited to attend an explanatory session Thursday 7:30 p.m. at the TESCO Reddy Room, Fifth and Runnels.

Pat Hurley, Denver, Colo, assistant to Dr. Archie Kahon, chief of the division of atmospheric water resources management Bureau of Reclamation, and Lloyd Steubinger, meteorologist from Dr. Kahon's staff, will be here. Several representatives from the Texas Water Development board, including John Carr, Austin, director of weather modification, are expected, along with Ward Goesslin from the governor's office, and Bill Jankins from the lieutenant governor's office.

Bureau research is due to be directed at either or both the super-cooled clouds (cumulus or thunderheads) or warm clouds (lower moving nimbus types). The bureau may move in some of its own evaluative equipment and personnel by next Spring.

Its study area may be somewhat larger than that of the Colorado Water District, which has been conducting experiments in weather modification for the past four years.

Seize Rapist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Speeding along a freeway with a would-be rapist sitting beside her, a young woman deliberately drove her car down a 30-foot embankment and the man hurtled through the windshield, police say.

The man, who had held a makeshift knife against her neck, ran away bleeding from his injuries but was captured a few blocks away, police said.

Ford, Kissinger Mull International Crisis

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. government today warned Greece and Turkey that their military aid from the United States will be cut off if they go to war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Facing the first international crisis of his infant administration, President Ford conferred with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today on the new fighting in Cyprus and then met with a veteran Soviet diplomat.

The Oval Office session with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin followed an early morning White House meeting between Ford and Kissinger on the latest crisis in Cyprus.

It was unclear, however, whether the Dobrynin meeting was linked to the Cyprus development.

SELF-SACRIFICE

Turning to economic problems, the President also added a meeting with Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., to his crowded schedule, urging an "atmosphere of self-sacrifice" to help deal with inflation.

"Why can't everybody make a little sacrifice?" to cope with inflation, Ford said as he sat down with the senator.

The President and Kissinger met earlier in the wake of renewed fighting on Cyprus and the calling of an emergency session of the U.N. Security Council in New York.

OWN MAN

As he was leaving his Alexandria, Va. home this morning for the White House, Ford told reporters he also had conferred Tuesday night by telephone with Kissinger on the latest developments in Cyprus. The President did not elaborate.

It was the new President's first international crisis.

On domestic matters, a White House spokesman conceded for the first time that Ford may be growing attached to his new job and Ford served notice that he intends to be his own man in economics as well as politics.

White House Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorse relayed the word on Tuesday that there would be a "Ford program" to fight inflation, with the firm imprimatur of the new President.

One of Ford's economic proposals was to be revealed today when Budget Director Roy L. Ash appears before the House Banking and Currency Committee to outline recommendations for an anti-inflation agency.

Asked if the economic policies that former President Richard M. Nixon had announced only a month ago in a Los Angeles speech were under review and liable to change, terHorst said, "That would be a fair statment."

INFLATION

The question came after terHorst reported that Ford had told a private meeting of lower-level administartion officials that he did not expect to come up with any instant panaceas for the nation's inflation, but "at least there would be a Ford program."

Reminded that Ford had the same economic advisers who formulated Nixon's policies, terHorst said Ford "has told them that the country has a new Presidsent," who expects to have his own inputs and perhaps come up with some new ideas.

"He thinks the country expects it of him," terHorse said. "He thinks he has reason to believe that Congress would cooperate if he can offer programs that make sense on Capitol Hill."

TerHorst also let slip another change in Ford ideas when he conceded that Ford's previous "no" to a possible 1976 presidential candidacy is now a "maybe."

The press secretary was careful to explain at a news briefing that too much should not be made of Ford's remarks in his Monday night speech to Congress about making "at least" three State of the Union addresses during his presidency. More than three would mean a second term.

TerHorst said the comment should be taken in the same spirit as several lighthearted remarks in the speech. But when a reporter followed with the question, "Meaning that . . .?" terHorst finished the sentence, "that no decision has been made."

It was, only a passing slip, but it was a marked departure from the steady insistence since Ford was nominated as vice president last October that he was only interested in serving out the term and not becoming a presidential candidate in his own right two years from now.

Terhorst warned against the rash of speculation that Ford already has narrowed the field of vice presidential prospects while he still is receiving suggestions from congressional and other sources.

REPLACE U.S. AMBASSADOR TO ATHENS — The White House announced Tuesday that Jack B. Kubisch above, left, has been selected to replace Henry J. Tasca, right, as the United States ambassador to Athens. Following the overthrow of the Greek military junta, cabinet ministers in the new civilian government criticized Tasca for supporting the old regime and privately expressed their desire to see him replaced.

Extra Activities Set For Reunion

Preparations are under way for the Golden Anniversary reunion of the Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers here Friday.

Activities will begin about 10 a.m. in the Old Settlers Pavilion, near the totem pole in Comanche Trail Park. Tickets for the barbecue dinner will be available at the registration desk, said D. B. McCann, president. Those who want son-of-a-gun stew can get tickets for this at the stew table. The most elderly individuals will be guests of the association.

The Howard County Playboys will furnish music during the day, and for the traditional dance from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. in the pavilion. There will be extra activities including washer and horseshoe pitching, old fiddlers contest. Special awards go to the oldest old timers, those longest here, those coming the furtherest, the longest-married couple among the old timers, etc.

The Old Settlers group first assembled on the McKinney farm near Coahoma in 1924, later was moved to Parkish Park (or Ropers Grove) at the east edge of town, but for the past 30 years or more at the city park.

Special coins commemorating the 50th anniversary of the association have been struck and are moving rapidly, said McCann. Master of ceremonies for the Friday morning program will be Bill Birrell of KHEM.

Among those donating to the Old Settlers Reunion are Hartman Hooser, Wasson's Men's Store, Byron's Transfer & Storage, E. P. Driver Insurance, Wilson Auto Electric, Neel's Transfer & Storage, Harold Rosson, A. J. Pirkle Jr., Agency.

Lillian and Winnie Dell Rhoton, Thompson and Parchman Garage, Gibson's, Lorin S. McDowell III, Big Spring Savings and Loan, Coca Cola, Medical Arts Hospital, First Federal Savings and Loan, R & R Theatres, Freddy Watts, Highway Cafe and Barbership at Coahoma, Bill's Package Store, Bettie and Womack, Mr. and Mrs Clyde Angel, Coahoma State Bank.

The World At-A-Glance

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley, boss of the nation's biggest urban political machine for 20 years, has been away from City Hall for 100 days. But aides say he still firmly holds the keys to power. Daley was stricken May 6 by what doctors say was a minor stroke. He is now recuperating from major corrective surgery. On Monday he turned down an invitation to meet with President Ford and other big city mayors in Washington. Press aide Frank Sullivan said on Tuesday that the refusal did not mean Daley's condition had deteriorated. He said the mayor continues to convalesce.

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A band of pint-sized foresters is struggling to save the life of Little Brother, a mammoth, 200-year-old redwood tree in Northern California's Muir Woods. Last winter, flood waters from a nearby creek undermined the shallow roots of the 100-foot tree and it appeared in danger of toppling. The 125 children, ranging in age from 5 to 15, discovered the threat to the big redwood, which measures 20 feet in circumference, while on an outing from Mill Valleys Hillwood Academic Day School early last month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signaled his intention to stay out of any decision to prosecute Richard M. Nixon for Watergate crimes. The President indicated that he would leave it up to special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski to decide whether to seek an indictment against the former president, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said after a private meeting with Ford.

Last summer he was pelted with chocolate pies when attendance broke the century mark, and he isn't saying what he plans for next summer.

PRESIDENT FORD PROMISING QUIET STABILITY

Scandal, Upheaval Scar Justice Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is promising quiet stability for a Justice Department beset for three years with scandal and upheaval.

Ford has asked Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe to continue in office and the two agreed that the department must operate with freedom from political pressures.

Ford seems likely to lean heavily on Saxbe, Deputy Atty. Gen. Laurence Silberman and other Justice Department officials for his administration's crime-fighting strategy as he devotes his greatest attention to economic policy.

Saxbe told reporters after meeting with Ford on Tuesday that he expects no significant changes in departmental policy in the new administration.

He said Ford volunteered the promise "that he's not going to interfere in any manner — nor any of his people — with the orderly law enforcement and litigating activities of the Justice Department."

Saxbe said he told the President at a Cabinet meeting Saturday that "I felt that over the last several administrations, there has been a growing inclination for the Department of Justice to become involved in politics and that I felt it was not desirable."

Ford agreed, Saxbe said.

Saxbe was nominated by Nixon and sworn in last January.

He succeeded Elliot L. Richardson who, in his five months of office, presided over the prosecution of a vice president and acted as an uncomfortable mediator in the Watergate investigation of a president.

Richardson followed two Nixon attorneys general stained by the administration scandals — Richard G. Kleindienst, who pleaded guilty to a criminal charge based on his failure to tell a Senate committee about Nixon's role in the ITT case, and John N. Mitchell, under indictment for his role in the Watergate cover-up.

With the Watergate investigation firmly in the hands of special prosecutor Leon Jaworski, Saxbe is turning the department's attention to nuts-and-bolts issues.

These were among the issues Saxbe said he laid out to Ford:

—Pending legislation requiring greater government efforts to provide documents requested under the Freedom of Information Act.

WIRETAPPING

—Pending legislation designed to protect citizens from government invasions of privacy.

—Wiretapping. Saxbe said he assured the President he will allow no illegal tapping and bugging.

—Illegal aliens. Saxbe said he told Ford that the Immigration and Naturalization Service needs funds for more employes despite the President's request to cut spending.

—Immigration Service scandals. "We're going to root it out to the very bottom," the attorney general asserted. "I'm not convinced that the corruption is widespread, but what I'm worried about is whether there is a cover-up."

Morals Charges Hit Scout Leaders

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — Four men, including two Boy Scout leaders, have been arrested on morals charges concerning what an official called incidents involving "a vast number of small boys."

Dist. Atty. Richard McConnell said Tuesday a fifth man was being sought.

He said the arrests arose from a circuit court investigation of the death of bachelor Robert M. Jones, a hospital administrator at whose rural Genesee home several youths were allegedly victimized during a Boy Scout campout May 17-19.

Jones, 49, died of carbon monoxide poisoning in July in his garage the day after a party at his home involving about 30 men and boys. His death was ruled a suicide.

"He was a respected member of the community," McConnell said. "I respected him as a professional. Even many of his closest friends, I'm sure, will be shocked to learn of this dual life."

Four men were freed on bond of up to $15,000 on a variety of felony and misdemeanor charges, including exhibiting obscene films to children, sexual perversion, taking indecent liberties with a child and contributing to delinquency.

Complaints cite 16 alleged incidents involving 14 boys at the Genesee campout, McConnell said. Other incidents date back about a year, he said.

Boy Scout officials said the two scout leaders named in the charges are being dismissed from their scouting assignments.

"A vast number of small boys, from 8-10 years old, were victimized," McConnell said. The investigation, he said, shows "there is no such thing as a victimless crime."

Carter Trial Set For Next Monday

District Judge Ralph W. Caton scheduled the jury trial of Royce Carter, 22, charged with sale of marijuana, for Monday in 118th District Court.

Carter was arrested in November, 1972.

G. Ben Bancroft, attorney for Carter, was granted a continuance in another narcotic sale case against Thomas Wayne Brown. And Caton granted a continuance to George Thomas, attorney for James O. Whitefield because of the attorney's illness. Whitefield is charged with theft over $50.

Neither Dennis W. Jock, who is charged with sale of narcotics, nor his attorney, John Burgess, appeared for the Tuesday afternoon docket call.

Guilty pleas are anticipated in several other cases.

Pharmacy Loses Money, Drugs

Bell's Pharmacy, 1003 11th Pl., was burglarized during the night Tuesday or in the early morning hours today.

Reported missing in the break-in, in which burglars came through the roof, was $295 in cash, assorted jewelry and wallets, and an undetermined amount of drugs.

Investigating policemen reported there is damage to the roof, ceiling and two filing cabinets. It appeared that something had frightened the burglars away in the midst of the burglary.

Shrine Plans For Circus

The Big Spring Shrine Club is opening sales for tickets to the annual (Clyde Bros.) Shrine Circus, scheduled here Sept. 17.

There will be two productions, one at 3:15 p.m., the other at 8:15 p.m., both at the Rodeo Arena.

The circus, which benefits Shrine projects such as the Shrine Burns Center and the Shrine hospitals for crippled children, will have two dozen acts, including the traditional clowns, wild animals, elephants, acrobats, aerialists, wire walkers, etc.

Numerous business places have the tickets on sale, and any Shrine member will be pleased to help individuals acquire tickets.

Bargaining Rights For Cops Rejected

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Voters rejected on Tuesday a proposal to give Brownwood's police and firemen collective bargaining rights.

The proposal was defeated 612 to 442. Police and fire association spokesmen blamed the results on the light turnout.

The election was called after city council members were presented with petitions.

Morgan To Study For Doctorate

Says Guards Unqualified

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — A teenager who served as a Texas Department of Corrections guard this summer told a citizen's committee on prison reform Tuesday that guards need to learn how to deal with people and not just self defense and weaponry.

Lee Noelke, who said he received no advance training for his job, said guards are permitted to speak to inmates only about business matters.

He said a lot of abusive language is exchanged between guards and inmates and among inmates themselves.

"The men who are guards right now are unqualified," Noelke told the Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Joint Commission on Prison Reform.

Kennedy Still Paying Off Debts From '70 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is still paying off debts from his 1970 Senate campaign, according to a tardy report filed with the Senate.

Kennedy's campaign treasurer, Clifford J. Shaw, said in a telephone interview that a two-year delay in filing required reports had been caused by misinterpretaton of the federal campaign finance law. Shaw added that full disclosure had been made in reports filed on the state level.

BORROWED MONEY

Shaw said the Massachusetts Democrat had ended his 1970 Senate race owing about $40,000 for telephone bills and other expenses. The debts were paid by borrowing money from a few friends.

Kennedy delayed raising money to pay off the borrowings so as not to create the impression that he was preparing for a presidential campaign, Shaw said.

Finally, after a family crisis caused by his son's loss of a leg to bone cancer last year, Kennedy said "Let's get this thing off our necks," Shaw recalled.

According to the Senate report, filed last Friday, Kennedy raised some $38,000 at a lavish dinner party held at his home in McLean, Va., Feb. 4.

Most of the guests were well-to-do Massachusetts residents. The affair featured limousine service, a heated tent, an orchestra, $2,718 worth of food and drink from one of the capital's catering firms, $1,305 worth of flowers, and $767 worth of decorations.

KENNEDY COUSIN

The report said the proceeds went mainly to pay off debts, including interest, of $10,433 to R. D. Fitzgerald, a Kennedy cousin who is president of Boston's Harbor National Bank; $9,964 to Gerard Doherty, a Boston lawyer and close Kennedy associate, and $9,789 to a person identified only as H. Hoffman of Boston, another Kennedy friend.

Shaw said he recalled paying off a fourth debt, to an unnamed doctor, but the report made no mention of this.

Several thousand dollars also were spent to pay the expenses of the dinner and miscellaneous other expenses, the report said.

It said the Kennedy campaign committee had $2,000 cash on hand as of May 31, and still owed $10,021 to John T. Campbell, president of radio station WPLM, Plymouth, Mass.

Under a law that took effect April 7, 1972, the Kennedy committee was required to file a registration statement and periodic finance reports starting more than two years ago.

Shaw said he had misunderstood the law, and believed that no reports were required if a political committee was merely paying off old campaign debts.

TV Crew Films Robbery Episode

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Police say a suspect in a $2,800 robbery was captured during a chase by four youngsters while a television crew filmed the episode.

The FBI said George A. Thomas, 26, a participant in a work-release program at the Vanderburgh County Jail, was charged with bank robbery.

Agents gave this account:

A man entered United Savings and Loan Association on Tuesday and held up a teller with what later was discovered to be a water pistol. The robber fled in a stolen car, but it struck a tree three blocks from the savings institution.

Stumbling from the auto and clutching money to his chest, the driver told David Monks, 12, "Don't say anything. I just robbed a bank."

David rushed to a group of teen-agers playing baseball nearby and reported the conversation. Monks and three other youths chased the bank robber across a golf course.

Steven Grainger, 15, of Chicago, who is visiting his grandmother, tackled Thomas and then held him with the aid of the other youths until police arrived.

Meanwhile, David Berry, news director of WTVW, and cameraman Ernie Hicks arrived to investigate the auto crash. They saw Thomas sprinting ahead of the youths, scattering currency behind him. They filmed the chase.

An Evansville policeman quoted Thomas as complaining, "I'm jinxed. I try to hold up a bank and I get caught by a bunch of midgets."

Grainger is about 5 feet tall and David 4 feet.

CPAs Pick Ewing For State Post

DALLAS — James W. Ewing, Dallas, has been named to the newly-created post of Administrative Director of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants (TSCPA), effective Sept. 3.

The appointment was announced this week by William H. Quimby, Executive Director of the 8,500-member statewide organization, which is headquartered in Dallas. Quimby formerly was from Big Spring.

Ewing will be primarily responsible for planning and monitoring arrangements for the organization's annual meeting, supervising staff operations of the state office and working as liaison with various TSCPA committees.

Evers Faces U.S. Income Tax Raps

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP) — Mayor Charles Evers, who often had government support in his battles for civil rights for blacks, is now preparing to defend himself on federal income tax charges.

"I will repeat that I haven't done anything wrong," Evers said Tuesday after he and his former wife, Nannie Laura Evers of Jackson, Miss., were indicted on charges of tax evasion.

The federal indictment alleges that for the years 1968, 1969 and 1970, Evers paid $3,644 in taxes when he should have paid $56,237. The indictments said his three-year income was $179,556, instead of the $20,219 reported.

Evers' former wife, from whom he was divorced this summer, was named in the indictments for the 1968 and 1969 returns. Evers is the lone defendant in the indictment for 1970.

The indictment did not specify the source of Evers' income. He operates a small shopping center and a motel and adjacent lounge in Fayette.

The maximum penalty on each count of tax evasion is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Evers, 52, was elected mayor of Fayette in 1969, becoming the first black mayor of a biracial Mississippi town. He was re-elected last year, after an unsuccessful gubernatorial race in 1971.

His brother, Medgar, also a civil rights leader, was slain at Jackson 11 years ago.

Cost Of Buying A Home Pushes Up Relentlessly

(AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

30-DAY OUTLOOK — This is how the nation's temperature looks for the next 30 days, according to the National Weather Service.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of buying a home, particularly the crucial cost of borrowing money, is pushing upward relentlessly.

Rising interest rates for home buyers were reflected Tuesday in the government's decision to raise the maximum allowable rate on federally insured home loans to a record 9.5 per cent.

The rate had been 9 per cent for just more than two months. The increase was twice the government's usual quarter of a percentage point adjustment.

Meanwhile, the Senate Tuesday approved a compromise $11.3 billion housing and community development bill that, among other things, authorized $8.6 billion in block grants for urban renewal, model cities, open spaces and other community development programs over the next three years.

MORTGAGE LOANS

The bill also increases from $45,000 to $55,000 the maximum amount of mortage loans that federally chartered savings and loan associations can approve. It also increases the ceilings for FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed loans on single-family homes from $33,000 to $45,000.

The government's decision on the higher interest rate followed two other government reports detailing record interest rates.

The first showed that the effective rate on conventional loans — those not insured by the government — increased to 8.97 per cent for new homes in July and 9 per cent for previously occupied homes.

The higher interest rates, higher prices and more restrictive terms mean the average cost of buying a new home has increased from a purchase price of $36,700 with $8,400 down and payments of $220 a month in March 1973, when the current surge started, to an average price of $40,700 with $10,500 down and $241 a month in July

INTEREST RATES

The second report indicated interest rates would continue to rise for home buyers, probably to 10 per cent or so over the next four months.

The shape of things to come was in the results of the auction of home loan commitments reported by the government's Federal National Mortage Association.

The FNMA, known as Fannie Mae, commits itself periodically to buying a certin number of mortgages over the next four months, selecting from among the lenders who offer the best return.

Fannie Mae said the latest auction produced an average yield of just over 10 per cent for loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration and Veteran's Administration. The average rates for conventional loans was about the same.

COLD CASH

And at 10 per cent, that means FHA-VA home buyers and sellers would have to pay about 7.5 "points" to make up the difference between the 9 per cent in their loan agreement and the 10 per cent return the lender probably would be demanding.

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Hume Kennerly has left his post with Time Magazine to become the official White House photographer.

Kennerly, 27, won the 1972 Pulitzer Prize for photography for his Vietnam coverage for United Press International.

President Ford announced Kennerly's appointment on Sunday. Ollie Atkins served as White House photographer during the Nxon administration.

College Budget Hearing Scheduled For Thursday

Public hearing on the proposed Howard College budget for 1974-75 is set for Thursday 5:15 p.m. in the board room at Dora Roberts Student Union Building on the campus.

With the exception of personnel matters, this is the only item on the agenda since the fixing of an ad valorem tax rate is tied in with the budget adoption.

The budget outlay is proposed at $1,810,770, of which $1,660,763 is operational, the balance of $150,067 going for debt service and student housing maintenance reserve. This is up 3.56 over the present revised budget.

Chief sources of anticipated income are $35,000 balance; $707,656 state (of which $505,541 is in line appropriation); $27,874 federal; $630,053 local (of which $422,287 is tax and $198,566 is tuition and fees). Also, the student housing system is expected to yield $171,274 from operations. Debt service revenue and that marked for student housing reserve accounts for the remaining $150,810.

Here are the main breakdowns on proposed expenditures:

Educational and general $1,400,304; athletic $77,660; publications $10,875; intramural $510; student housing $171,274; and debt service and reserve $150,067.

Categories with education and general show:

General administration $158,612; student services $94,577; general instruction $131,785; staff benefits $65,648; resident academic $388,802; resident vocational $255,176; library $48,059; Webb PREP $43,285; plant operation and maintenance $204,005; contingency $8,525; repairs $1,910.

REHAB CENTER WILL OFFER KIDS' SCREENING PROGRAM

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center reminded once more today of the school screening program for children scheduled for Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the center.

Screenings for posture, speech, hearing, vision, dental condition will be done by qualified, registered personnel. Appointments may be made by phone or parents may bring their children to the center Friday. The checks require normally about 30-40 minutes. The fee is $5 per child or $12 for three or more children.

The school, which has a screening program in vision, speech and hearing, has endorsed the comprehensive screening process that covers more basic areas.

Fair Booths Going Well

Booth sales are going well for the Howard County Fair, and those interested in acquiring one should contact Ron McNeil, chairman, soon.

This year, booth operators can make sales, with exception of food and drink, from their booths, if they wish, he said. The food and drinks are covered under concessions which will be operated by the American Business Club.

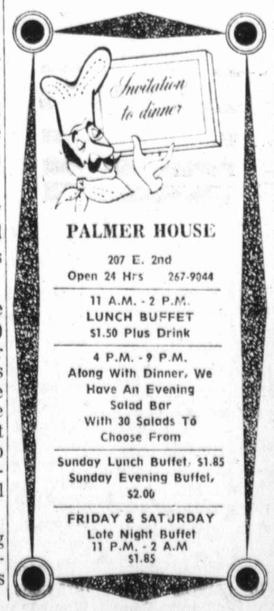

Some choice, outside display space also is available, said McNeil, although several areas have been booked.

The interior booths are due to be housed in the new 120x100 building given to the Fair Association by the Dora Roberts Foundation. Displays will be effected under much more favorable conditions than last year when the Fair had to provide for most of the commercial and institutional exhibits in a tent.

Those interested in obtaining a space should telephone McNeil at 267-5571 as soon as possible.

Don't Forget This

Now that much of the turmoil surrounding the changing of command for our government has subsided, it is time that the Congress got back to producing some meaningful campaign reform legislation.

The Senate has come to grips with the matter and has passed its own version, considered more potent and broader in scope than that proposed by the House, which only now is getting debate the matter.

Both have provisions for partial public finance of campaigns, although the House version would limit to presidential campaigns. The public finance issue will be hotly debated for opponents quote Thomas Jefferson that "to compel a man to furnish contributions of money for the propagation of opinions which he disbelieves and abhors, is sinful and tyrannical." Proponents argue that this is a fact of life geared to any governmental function, and even touches organizations and institutions in the private sector.

But one of the main things which needs to be done is to limit campaign spending, realistically and effectively. Concomitantly, a practical shortening of campaign periods would help, not only the public's pocketbook but its frayed nerves. It goes almost without saying that there sufficient enforcement power must be provided, something substantially more than a supervisory or occasionally an investigating committee.

If the tragic experience of Watergate tells us anything, it says that reform is needed, that the pressure of the pocketbook on candidates must be eased, that the overhaul extend to political parties and to the electoral college. Finally, the complement to this is to encourage men of integrity to seek office as well as make it possible for them to do so.

Toward Speedier Justice

The Senate has approved a bill co-sponsored by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, which provides that all criminal cases in federal courts be tried within 60 days of indictment (or 90 days from date of an arrest preceding an indictment). It would not be imposed instaneously, but phased in over a seven-year period.

This may have some pitfalls, and it may require provision for extensions in extraordinary cases. But if there is anything to the adage that "justice delayed is justice denied," it is worth a trial. As the senator pointed out, the innocent deserve to have the cloud of suspicion removed quickly from his head; the person guilty of an offense should begin serving his punishment as soon as possible. Citizens, victimized by crime, too often are forced to watch the accused avoiding trial month after month after month. Common sense tells us that if this drags on long enough, key evidence or witnesses become unavailable, the likelihood of even ultimate justice is eroded.

Speedier trials may well call for substantially more manpower, for more modern procedures and methods. Flaws will pop up here and there, but they can be faced when that happens. Perhaps if this does work, states can develop similar systems.

Inflation Weapon

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Once a friend told me how he solved the dilemma about his profligate wife and her charge accounts. "I just learned to earn more money than she spent," he confided.

IN SHORT, this is the answer many Americans have for coping with inflation. There was a time when Mama went to work to help balance the household budget or to provide income for a higher standard of living, but this long since has become SOP (standard operating procedure). Now, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics tell us, about 7 per cent of all employed men in America hold one or more jobs. Undoubtedly, were up-to-the-minute figures available, the figure would be much higher than that, and even so the instances of the woman of the house is taking a second job.

THE FAMILY Economics Bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance Company says that a new alternative has appeared on the scene, one that has escaped the notice of public and private agencies that watch the economy. This is the alternative of self-employment. Hence the rise of yard signs such as "Saw Sharpening," "Small Appliance Repair", "Picture Framing," "Vegetables," "Income Tax Service," "Beauty Shop." The "Cottage Industry" is flourishing in America, says the bureau.

In 1970, half a million people were self-employed in non-agricultural jobs, and another 600,000 regular workers also were self-employed part time in agriculture.

THAT THESE figures need drastic updating is shown by the 70 per cent jump in sales of laminating machines for one Chicago company. Another firm that sells knife and saw sharpening machines for home shops saw its sales jump 80 per cent in three years. A kiln maker had 100 per cent more sales.

On still another front, two metropolitan papers reflected a 47 per cent increase in three years on ads for these self-employed services.

The number of part-timers helping prepare income tax returns doubled between 1970-73.

MORE PROFESSIONALS are turning to a second source of revenue. For instance, day-time teachers often find a night instructional or tutoring job; professors serve as consultants; music teachers find they can sing for pay at night. All of this is what newspapers reports have known for years — serving as stringers or free lancing for features, pictures, etc.

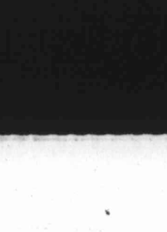

Economic pressures have stimulated ingenuity. One family makes animals out of colored marbles stuck together; another makes pyramidal lamp bases from colored marbles heated in the kitchen oven until they melt into flowing colors.

FARMERS LEAD in the multiple-job rate, and it is not uncommon for one to admit he works in order to support his farm. Protective service personnel — policemen, firemen, security guards — rank a close second.

But, say economics and psychologists, extra income to balance the budget is not the only motivation for an extra job. A lot of people enjoy being occupied or challenged by a different job. As the four-day week looms, there may be more and more who opt for additional vocations to escape boredom.

SO LONG as we have people who are willing to do something extra to keep their heads above the water, we take heart in that much of the good old American spunk is still with us.

Those Tall Gals

Robert E. Ford

This is the season of the beauty contests and it is quite evident that the winners are shooting so high that we may have a six-foot queen in a year or two.

YOU MIGHT conclude that this is bad news for short men. This is not the case as will be evident shortly. That is not an intentional pun, either.

Tracked down Sharai Banks. She is an articulate, beautiful brunette with blue-grey eyes who is very much a member of the young generation. She is 28.

She also is five feet eleven inches tall.

At the moment she was presiding over the store of her mother, Mrs. M. Banks, called the Village Tall Shop. It has just moved into new and larger quarters in a North Dallas shopping center.

ARE DALLAS girls becoming taller?

"Not really," Shar replied. "Most people think Texans are bigger. Big deal! All kids are getting bigger now. They're feeding them vitamins and things."

There was a time, she said, looking back over those mere 28 years, "When I would go out and I would be the only tall person there. Not any more!"

Some tall girls tend to be self-made wallflowers. They don't assert themselves. Were the tall girls avoiding parties?

Shar didn't know anything about that.

"I've never been conscious of it (her height). My mother is 5-9 and I've worked among tall girls all my life." She wears the new high-fashion platform heels of two and three inches without a second thought.

SURELY TALL girls have trouble getting dates.

That set Shar's waist-length hair swishing sometimes in anger and again in laughter.

"They can get the short ones all day long," she replied. She said she can't explain why tall women attract short men so much.

On the other hand, "The tall dingbats want—they want those little bitty things," she said with a tone of cynicism.

So there you have all these conflicts. Beauty contest judges pick tall girls as the ideal, tall men pick short girls, short men fall heavily for tall women.

There is no answer to the chemistry which turns people on.

Is there anything Shar dislikes about being tall?

"Little bitty short guys bugging the hell out of me" does disturb her.

"I don't mind talking to them and being friends, but if they ask me to dance, I tell them, 'You have to come above my (anatomy deleted).'"

NOT ALL the high males like short women, however.

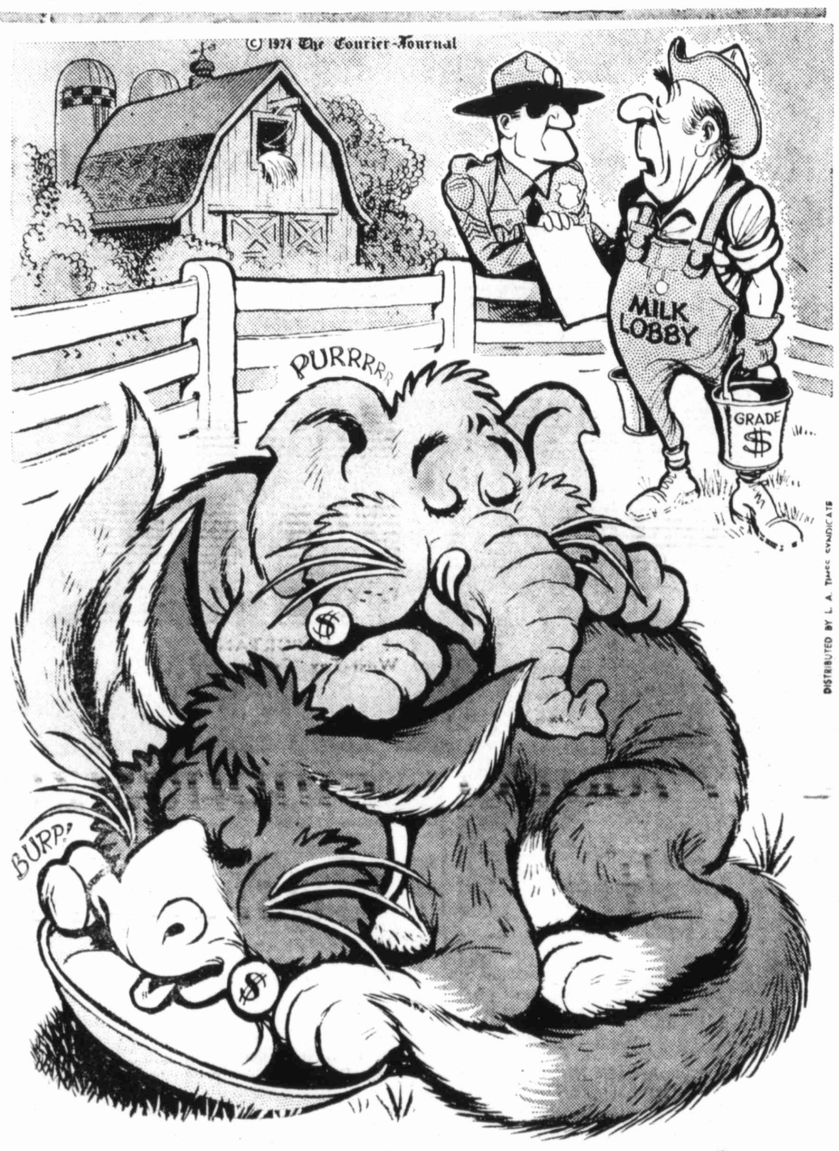

She was dancing the other evening with a 6-3 fellow and he gave a sigh of relief. "I'm sick and tired of riding those little bitty girls around on my knee," he confided.

Shar defines a tall woman as any 5-7 or more.

Over 6-2 and a woman has trouble being fitted. The shop does fit customers of 6-4.

"Strangely," she said, "Those over 6-2 don't like to go to a tall shop." She can't explain that. What do they do? "They get misfitted."

The Banks are quite pleased that the new 5-11 Miss Tall International, Gail Frantz, is a customer.

"Y'mean it's illegal t'feed them funny-lookin' ole tomcats?"

TV Fears Groundless

NEW YORK (AP) — Question: How much of a factor was national TV coverage of the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment debates in eroding what remained of former President Nixon's support in Congress?

The answer, says Elmer Lower, president of ABC News, is that it had no great effect in making the thinning ranks of Nixon backers in Congress even thinner.

WHEN NIXON resigned, he noted he no longer had "a strong enough political base in the Congress" to justify fight to continue his term.

But Lower, asked if he felt the live TV coverage of impeachment debate led to that loss of support, said, "No, even without television he'd be out of office today.

"I really think what brought everything to a head so quickly were the final three tapes and the Supreme Court decision which brought them out."

The tapes showed that six days after the 1972 Watergate break-in, the former President authorized an effort to steer the FBI away from investigating the full scope of the break-in.

Had Nixon not resigned, impeachment debate by the full House would have begun next week and run at least three days, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

THERE WERE initial fears that rules for live TV coverage would create problems of journalistic independence for the networks, particularly one informal proposal to restrict the TV view to the Speaker's rostrum and two tables.

But Lower, who with his NBC and CBS counterparts met with House Speaker Carl Albert and special four-member House committee to discuss TV coverage rules, said the fears proved groundless.

"The rules they showed us were something we could have lived with," he said. "For example, they didn't prohibit us from panning" — traversing the TV camera — "around the room or showing the galleries.

"And after the meeting, even when they knew we were just talking about an academic question, they said, 'We think we can work with you in the future on something when important legislation is before the House or a committee.

"THEY SEE THIS as a way for them to communicate with their constituents. They all told us, "You may have broken some ground here."

Lower, 61, has headed ABC News since 1963. He is moving out of that job and into a new one next month as vice-president for corporate affairs at the network's parent company, American Broadcasting Companies, Inc.

Name, Please?

LONDON (AP) — A reporter on the Daily Telegraph says that, when he moved recently, he received a letter from the North Thames gas board, with his name and address spelled correctly, asking for his name so that the board could send him money he is owed.

Ford's Choice?

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Powerful political advice is now feeding into the inner office of Gerald R. Ford that only one choice for his own Vice President meets the forbidding requirements of restoring the Republican party and conciliating the nation in its post-Nixon agony.

THE CHOICE: aging (66) but politically vigorous Nelson Rockefeller, who resigned as governor of New York six months ago in the middle of his record fourth term.

The move toward Rockefeller is strongly backed by Melvin R. Laird, Ford's long-time comrade whose vigorous intercession with Mr. Nixon after Spiro Agnew's disgrace almost surely prevented John B. Connally from being named Vice President instead of Ford. Advocacy by Laird, who commands unique respect and attention among virtually all ideological elements of his party, is one of Rockefeller's major assets.

Anti-Rockefeller sentiment is obvious on the Republican party's right wing and less obvious, but more important, inside Ford's own staff.

Nevertheless, Laird and other Rockefeller backers say no other Republican could so well restore confidence in government both here and abroad, and bring new talent into the executive branch rendered so squalid by the recent scandals.

MOREOVER, ROCKEFELLER'S age resolves one major political problem for Ford: In picking Rockefeller, Ford would not be naming an heir-apparent. The Ford-Rockefeller ticket would run in 1976. If elected Vice President, Rockefeller would call it quits in 1980 at age 72.

For Ford, whose politics are Midwestern and conservative, Rockefeller opens up the prospect of reviving a truly national Republican party with an anchor in the liberal East from the old and — since 1964 — discredited Eastern establishment.

Obstacles to Rockefeller's selection, though significant, are not overwhelming.

THE FIRST OBSTACLE is a feeling, no more, within Ford's inner political circle that Vice President Rockefeller would not be a team player and might try to overwhelm President Ford with the notorious Rockefeller staff and Rorkefeller money. "What new President would want Nelson breathing down his neck 24 hours a day?" asks one Replican operative.

THE SECOND OBSTACLE is undying hatred and resentment of Rockefeller by right-wing Republican fire-eaters. On Monday night, soon after President Nixon's imminent departure from the White House became an accepted fact, several conservative Republican Congressmen dined quietly at the Republican Capitol Hill Club. They agreed that Rockefeller was "absolutely unacceptable" as Ford's Vice President.

Ford's Action Too Weak

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — President Gerald Ford took what is widely viewed as tough, firm action in criticizing General Motors for raising its prices roughly 10 per cent. But firm as it was, it was too weak.

Jawboning, while probably of some value in restraining price increases, simply cannot overwhelm the facts, and the underlying fact, according to GM, is that expenses have been rising, necessitating higher prices.

Neither can jawboning invalidate the rules of economics. In wishing that other automotive manufacturers decline to follow GM's example, the President may, in effect, be asking them to accept smaller returns on investments and sales.

For any company willingly to accept such a situation is to commit a breach of faith with stockholders, risk a decline in its ability to attract capital with which to stay alive, and otherwise endanger its competitive position.

But, with inflation threatening to become even worse, the President probably had little choice but to speak out. He could do little else, even though he has declared inflation to be the nation's primary problem.

The next moves, since the President probably has no others at the time, appear to be left up to the automotive companies.

GM can resist, or it can cut back its increases, for which it conceivably made an allowance. The other manufacturers can raise their prices by 10 per cent also, or they can scale them down.

The most unlikely course, however, would be for GM to rescind its increase and for Chrysler, in the national interest, to forego any price changes they might have considered.

This still would leave Ford, which announced several weeks ago that average retail prices would rise more than $400 over 1974 models, also to consider whether it would retain or rescind its increases.

For these events to occur there would have to be a total commitment to the President's ability to turn back the tide of inflation.

When increases like GM's are announced, it is all but impossible for the administration quickly to ascertain if they are justified. Without any automatic probing machinery, it can only jawbone with dubious effect.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

How's this record? My husband abandoned me and the children five times in the last five years. Like a hurt child, he runs home to mother — and stays. My husband's psychiatrist says he has a fear of women. Maybe you can help me. J. L. S.

Apparently professional help has already been involved in your relationship, at least for your husband. I would think both of you could profit by counseling and legal advice.

Now the Bible is very clear about one's relationship to parents after marriage. Both the Old and New Testaments (Genesis 2, Ephesians 5) say that the man should "leave" his mother. It means a separation, not in respect to filial duty, but in terms of habitation and affection. This, your husband has not done.

To make matters worse, his parents seem to foster this dependence. Whatever his reason for the incompetence which makes him incapable of functioning as husband and father, it does mean you will have to compensate and become both parents for a while. Hopefully, he could be emotionally rehabilitated, and normal married life might be resumed. I hope you're securing legal counsel on finances as well.

Perhaps it is the responsibility that threatens him, or fear of failure. Whether your separation is temporary or permanent, be the most resourceful woman you can, so that whatever happens you can provide the leadership and love needed for the children.

Talk About Breast Feeding

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I didn't know breast-feeding a baby was so important till I read the enclosed article on it. Now I'm frightened. Have I harmed my two-year-old for life, leaving her to be devoured by every disease she comes in contact with, because I didn't breast-feed her?

Do you think mothers should breast-feed their babies? Is it that important? — Mrs. A.

The article enclosed says that Dr. Adewale Omololu, a World Health Organization nutritionist from Nigeria, says that many babies were dying because they were fed substitutes for mother's milk.

It doesn't quote him directly; I would prefer to know, word for word, what he said before commenting too directly on that. But the article also quotes him as saying, "Breast-fed children get fewer attacks of diarrhea, vomiting and stomach upsets than bottle-fed children."

With that last statement I most assuredly agree. It is true as well that the breast-fed infant acquires increased resistance to some (not all) diseases.

For these and also some psychological reasons, I certainly am in favor of breast-feeding unless for some reason a mother is unable to provide enough milk. The baby will be healthier.

But when it comes to implying that large numbers of babies die for lack of breast-feeding, I draw the line. It may be—and doubtless is—true that breast-feeding can make the difference in whether a feeble baby lives or does not. But by the time a baby has reached the age of two, there's no reason to think that he is in danger for not having been breast-fed.

Yes, I favor breast-feeding, but I regret that you've been unduly frightened by what you read.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with this or other rectal problems, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

A Devotion For Today . .

"The angel said unto him (Peter), Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me." (Acts 12:8)

PRAYER: Too often, Lord, we want to have You work for us when we are all mixed up and cannot know what is best. Help us to know that when our wills correspond with Your will, all things begin to work better. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Wes-Tex Telephone Is Serving Seven Counties

Wes—Tex Telephone Cooperative serves parts of Martin, Glasscock, Dawson, Howard, Reagan, Midland and Borden Counties and has many members taking advantage of the complete madern facilities.

The system is continually upgraded and improved by the cooperative with up to date equipment, additional circuits, miles of buried cable equipment and up to date equipment in eight autmatic dial exchanges.

The coop is constantly trying to take their cable underground to avoid damage from high winds and ice storms.

The old eight—party lines of years ago have long been a thing of the past with the new equipment. Private lines are now available to everyone served by Wes—Tex with a few persons preferring party lines because of the economy resulting from putting more than one telephone on a circuit.

Toll—free service to Big Spring or Stanton is provided for subscribers on the Luther, Ackerly, Lenorah, West Stanton and Lomax exchanges while members of the Vincent, St. Lawrence and Garden City exchanges pay a slight toll

The cooperative offers many types of special equipment. These include extension telephones available in a wide range of attractive styles and colors.

A list of available options includes such items as long charge to call other area towns. cords, outside bells, special ringing equipment, and devices to amplify sound to aid the hard of hearing.

Special telemetering circuits are available for use by oil and pipeline companies or others requiring this type of equipment.

The Wes—Tex cooperative is owned and operated by people in the service area. It was organized over 20 years ago and has shown a healthy and continued growth and progress and been of excellent service to people in the area it serves.

Shaklee Products Emphasize Good Health For Customers

Shaklee Products claim as their motto, "Yesterday's tomorrow is a reality today."

The Shaklee company claims that the time is ripe for nature's products to replace chemical cleaners, artifical food and synthetic skin treatments.

Mrs. Lambert Misek is one of the Big Spring dealers and she states, "Everywhere we go, we meet people with a need. Call us at 263-7276 for products to supply those needs."

Their dealership is located at 2307 Lynn.

Shaklee Products keep the household and commercial concern basically clean with such items Basic - H, Basic-D (dishwasher), Basic-R (rug), Basic I (industrial) and others, according to Mrs. Lambert Misek, local distributor.

"Basic H is not only excellent as a household cleaner but will kill that bathtub ring," Mrs. Misek added. "When used with SAC in a certain attachment on the shower head, Basic H will deter the growth of mildew in the shower stall, she further claimed.

The complete line of Shaklee Food-Supplements include such items as Instant Protein, Vita—Lea, Vita—E and others. Mrs. Misek pointed out that they are natural body builders prompting digestion, circulation, and "give energy for this fast life we all live today."

"To add the personal touch," Miss Misek stated, "We have a complete line of Louve Cosmetics for the ladies, Shaklee Golden Manor for men and Small—Wonder for the small fry." These biologically assimilated natural Shaklee products can be purchased from the following distributors: Mr. and Mrs. Lanbert Misek, telephone 263—7276, Mr. and Mrs. Manasco, 263—6573, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Newcomer 263—4578; Mr. and Mrs. Maxie Cole 267—7668; Mr. and Mrs. James Curry, 267—6489; and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Newcomer, 353—4891

DISCUSS PRODUCT — Mr. and Mrs. J. Don Manasco and Mrs. Lambert Misek discuss the importance for using Shaklee Algacidal Control in swimming pools, This is one of many available healthy Shaklee products. Call Mrs. Misek for additional information.

Goose Plucker Entrances Mob

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Crowds watch entranced as a woman in a bonnet and long flowered dress grabs a large goose, turns it upside down in her lap and gently plucks feathers and down from its breast.

Grace Ater of Chandlerville is demonstrating to Illinois State Fair visitors a folk art that has all but vanished in the nation.

She and other members of the Clayville Folk Arts Guild have skills and abilities once common in Illinois and other states.

LIVE BIRD

Her husband Charles cuts shingles by hand and demonstrates how early settlers lapped them to keep out wind and rain.

Other artisans demonstrate quilt-making, embroidery and candlemaking. Crowds cluster around a gunsmith making a flintlock rifle and another craftsman fashioning cane chairs.

But Mrs. Ater's demonstration, perhaps because it involves a live bird, appears to be the most popular.

"The secret is calming the goose so he doesn't bite or flap his wings," she explained. "I do that by petting him and talking to him softly."

She said geese molt every four to six weeks and about half an ounce of feathers and down can be picked from each bird. It takes 10 large geese to produce enough feathers for one pillow.

SO SOFT

Feathers and down from geese, as well as other waterfowl, make excellent pillows, quilts and mattresses because they are curved, said Mrs. Ater.

"It's like having a lot of tiny springs in your pillow," she said. "That's what makes it so soft."

Feathers from other birds are straight and undesirable for pillows.

SHE'S BIG IN THE MODELING BUSINESS — Katy Allen, who weighs 235 pounds and is very big in the nude modeling business, is pictured in the Victorian bedroom of her San Francisco home. Although most people have never heard of her, Katy has been baring her abundant bulk for individual artists and classes, sculptors and photographers for nine years, ever since a friend told her the Models Guild of San Francisco "needed a fat one."

TIPS SCALES AT 235 POUNDS

Katy Measures 48-35-49

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Most people have never heard of her, but Katy Allen is very big in the nude modeling business.

Katy, mistress of a Victorian mansion crammed with plants, dogs, birds, a stuffed elk and a parrot named Earthquake, measures 48-35-49 and tips the scales at 235 on a 5-foot-5 frame.

'NEEDED FAT ONE'

She has been baring her abundant bulk for individual artists and classes, sculptors and photographers for nine years, ever since a friend told her the Model Guild of San Francisco "needed a fat one."

"I auditioned, was accepted and I've been busy ever since," she said. "It's a fulltime, happy career."

Her fee for artists is $4 an hour; photographers pay 10 times that.

The house Katy lives in is as much in demand as the 28-year-old model herself. It once belonged to her grandmother and is straight out of another era, full of overstuffed furniture, floppy Victorian hats, fans and furbelows.

CLOTHES OFF

Artists, said the blue-eyed model, ask her to pose among her flora and fauna, where she has been painted, sketched and sculpted.

"Sometimes, when 50 people are sketching me, I think, 'What am I doing here with my clothes off?' However, generally, I enjoy inspiring artists. I don't make too many comments on their work. Ninety per cent of the things they draw are themselves. I am just the thing they start with and they go off 100 different ways."

She has no intention of shedding any of her money-making poundage since her physician has told her that she's very healthy.

"I've always been plump," she admitted. "When my doctor tells me the weight is affecting my health, I'll lose weight," she said.

Says U.S. Ready For Black Veep

MONTREAL (AP) — Los Angeles mayor Tom Bradley says the United States is ready for a black vice president.

Bradley, among the first black mayors of a large American city, was commenting on reports that Sen. Edward W. Brooke, a black Republican from Massachusetts, is on a list of possible successors to Vice President Gerald R. Ford when Ford assumes the presidency today.

Bradley, here to view Montreal's subway system, commented following President Nixon's resignation Thursday night.

Ford's Home Off Market To Prevent Speculation

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A vacant, battered home where Gerald R. Ford once lived for seven years has been taken off the real estate market by the Veterans Administration to prevent speculation.

Since Ford became President last Friday, real estate brokers showing the home have been deluged with offers.

Ford's family lived in the house from 1923 to 1930. It is now in a state of disrepair, with weeds growing in the walkway, windows broken and screens rusted. Broken bottles litter the lawn.

The VA took over the three-story frame house two years ago when its owner defaulted on the mortgage.

The house was for sale for $500 down and a $9,000 mortgage. A broker said Saturday the best bid had been $100, but after word of the home spread on Monday higher offers began rolling in.

John Bierce of the Westdale Co., handling the mortgage for the VA, said he thinks the house should be restored and moved.

"If I had the whole say, I think the Grand Rapids Public Museum still has some vacant land right downtown where it could be watched over more easily," Bierce said.

Weldon Frankforter, Grand Rapids Public Museum director, said moving the house would be a "tragic mistake."

But Bierce said restoring it and leaving it in the neighborhood would be difficult.

"If you put a brass plaque on the door, it would be gone within 24 hours," he said.

Steven Rays Return From Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Ray are residing at 1101 Lancaster following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. The couple was married in First United Methodist Church Aug. 2 with the Rev. C. A. Holcomb officiating. Music was by Mrs. Bob Spears, organist.

The bride, the former Katherian Ann Gross, is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Gross, 804 Willa. Her brother, James Gross, gave her in marriage. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray, who reside in the Coahoma area.

The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, carnations and pink roses joined with pink and white streamers. Candles were lighted by Charles Ray Gross, brother of the bride.

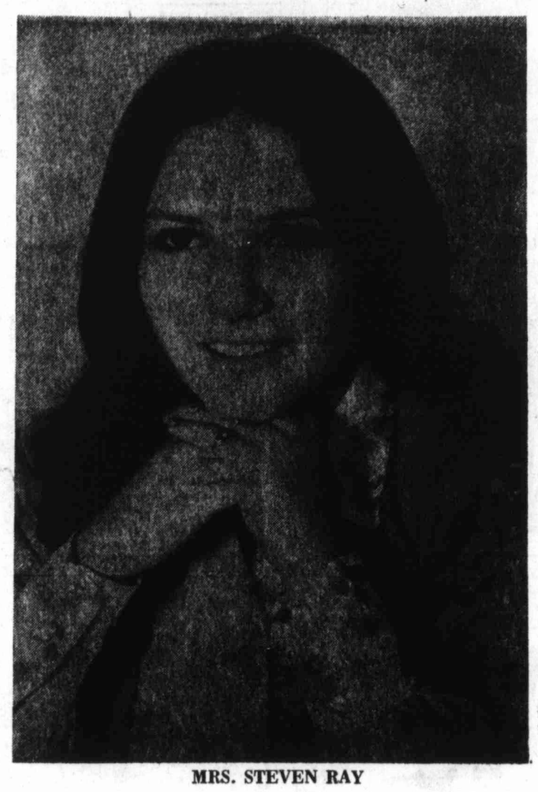

Carrying a bouquet of white roses tied with satin streamers, the bride wore a princess-style gown of white silk with petal sleeves and rounded yoke adorned with sequins.

The bride's mother served as matron of honor, and the father of the bridegroom was best man.

Prior to leaving on the wedding trip, the newlyweds were honored at a reception held in the ranch home of the bridegroom's parents. The bridal table was laid with a pink linen cloth and accented with pink satin ribbons and the couple's names and date of the ceremony.

The guests were registered by Miss Jami Ray, sister of the bridegroom, and those serving refreshments were Miss Darla Harrington, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Vonda Madry and Miss Terri Prater.

Among the relatives present were Mrs. C. M. Ray and Mrs. Myrtle McHenry, grandmothers of the bridegroom; and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hood, the bride's grandparents. Attending from out of town was Mrs. Loyd Ford of Georgetown, great-aunt of the bride.

MRS. STEVEN RAY

Affairs Are Held For Bride-Elect

Miss Mary Dirks was honored this past weekend with two events. The honoree's mother, Mrs. Henry B. Dirks Jr., were present at both events.

Miss Dirks is the bride-elect of Edward Quillin. The couple will be married Friday in First Presbyterian Church, Lubbock.

A kitchen and rice bag party was held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jack W. Lipscombe, 2404 Allendale, with Miss Elizabeth Lipscombe as cohostess.

The refreshment table was covered with white lace over red, and the centerpiece was white and blue flowers in a silver bowl.

The honoree, attired in a turquoise dress, was presented a white carnation corsage, as were her mother and sister, Miss Barbara Dirks.

A bridal shower was held Saturday in the home of Mrs. W. E. Gibson, 605 Apache. The hostesses were Mrs. L. B. Edwards, Mrs. Jim Layman, Mrs. Huey J. Rogers, Mrs. Joe Knight, Mrs. J. W. Tipton and Mrs. Eugene Peters.

Miss Dirks, attired in a red dress accented with a bow at the neckline, was presented with a corsage of white mums and daisies. Her mother was also presented a corsage.

The table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a lyre and arrangement of white mums, daisies and fern.

City Represented At Biennial Convention

Miss Movelda Rhine, business instructor at Howard College, participated in the biennial convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, international honorary organization for women educators, in Seattle, Wash., last week.

Among the 2,500 delegates were representatives from Canada, Mexico, Norway, Finland and Sweden. A convention spokesman said the international character of the convention was highlighted by the diversity of cultures in the port city of Seattle, gateway to the Orient, Russia, Canada, Hawaii and Alaska.

The convention focus of study was "The Woman Educator in Changing Times," including present status, goals and roles as agents of change.

A major project of the society is its scholarship program. Eighteen grants of $2,500 have recently aided outstanding women educators in advanced studies. A progarm of fellowships for foreign women to study in this country has also been provided.

Miss Rhine is a member of Beta Kappa Chapter which encompasses Howard, Glasscock, Martin and Sterling counties. She also attended the state convention at McAllen in June. Prior to the biennial celebration, she completed a seven-day tour of Alberta and British Columbia.

Studies Women Of Puerto Rico

A glimpse at Puerto Rican United Methodist Women was given by Mrs. W. E. Moren at a meeting Monday of the Workers Circle of First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Bert Affleck presided.

"With a membership of 1,200 women in a 2.8 million population where only 15 per cent are protestant, United Methodist Women held a celebration at the annual conference in May, 1973 in Ponce, Puerto Rico," says Mrs. Moren.

In recounting the progress of Puerto Rican women in the last 20 or 30 years, Mrs. Moren said that Puerto Rican United Methodist Women are, for the most part, middle class and devoted to their families and the church.

She said job opportunities are better for women because of many garment manufacturing plants, at which women are more proficient than men. Women now have a chance for an education and are working in secretarial jobs, teaching and nursing.

Women have gained a voice and active roles in government and education.

"In fact" said Mrs. Moren, "Puerto Rico proportionately has more women in government leadership than does the United States."

Lists Winners

Four tables were in play Monday evening at the Coahoma Bridge Club meeting in the home of Mrs. Jan East, 403 N. 5th, Coahoma. Winning high score was Mrs. Tommy Wyrick. Mrs. Norman Roberts won low score, and Mrs. A. V. Lewis won bingo. The next meeting will be Aug. 19 in the home of Mrs. Roberts on High School Drive.

Cruising Cop

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: While I was driving my car, a traffic officer suddenly appeared, and signaled for me to pull over. I promptly obeyed and asked him what I had done wrong.

He asked me to get out of the car, and when I did, he looked me over — but good. Then he asked me for my driver's license, which I gave him. Meanwhile, I was trembling like a leaf.

I noticed that he made a note of my name and address. Then he said: "You were exceeding the 35 mile-per-hour speed limit — but if you let me see you when I'm off duty, I'll call this a 'warning'." Then he smiled and told me his first name.

Abby, I was NOT going over the speed limit, and I was angry because he tricked me into stopping. Besides, I have a boyfriend and I'm not interested in seeing anyone else, but I didn't want a ticket so I said, "Okay."

Now, what if he calls me?

BLONDIE

DEAR BLONDIE: Tell him if he wants to charge you with "resisting an officer" to go ahead, because he's not all that irresistible.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago, you had something in your column about people who have a misdemeanor on their record and how to get it removed.

At age 18, I was wrongly accused of being an accomplice to a minor shoplifting offense. (Ten dollars.) Being very much upset by the whole thing, I didn't fight the charge. I just went to court, paid the fine and it was put on my record.

I am now 21, married and want to apply for employment, but the previous job (where the shoplifting incident took place) was the only one I've ever had, so I wonder if you can help me.

I don't think a person should be penalized the rest of his life for one minor mistake at an early age.

If it's possible to get this off my record, how do I go about it?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BE: If you have been in no legal difficulty for a year following the incident, go to the Probation Department and inquire about the possibility of "sealing" your records.

Once they are sealed, it is as though they never existed and you may apply for a job without mentioning the fact that at one time you had this on your record. Good luck.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Was I ever glad to see that letter in your column from "Foolish Question," whose mother kept insisting that she felt pain in her leg — which had been amputated.

It was not a foolish question, and I am glad you didn't tell her she was "nutty" as so many call me when I tell them that my toes itch when, indeed, I have no toes.

I had my leg amputated below the knee, and one day when I was all alone sitting on my bed, the stump started jumping up and down on the bed. I couldn't even hold it still with my hands!

By the time the doctor arrived, it had stopped jumping, but he explained that nature, which is a wonderful thing, was "rebelling." There should be more nerves in my leg than I had, and nature was letting me know it.

You did a lot of amputees a big favor by printing that letter. Now, when we tell people that some part of our anatomy that isn't there is itching or throbbing or giving us pain, they won't look at us like we're loony.

Gardeners See Film On Wind Erosion

A film on wind erosion was shown Monday evening at the Organic Soil Builders meeting in the home of Melvin McFall, 1710 State, with Preach Martin, president, presiding. The film showed scenes of the 1936 and 1955 droughts and damage done by wind.

Mrs. McFall displayed herbs from her garden. Shown were lovage, coriander, dill seed, sage peppermint, watermint, catnip, tarragon, sweet basil, marjarom, thyme and savory. Each herb has its own purpose in cooking and seasoning, has a distinctive flavor and can be made into tea.

Refreshments were cookies seasoned with sernel, coriander and orange peel. A date cake, sun flower seeds, grape juice, tomato juice, and alpha tea were also served.

The next meeting will be Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

'No Longer A Strike,' O. J. Says

By The Associated Press

"There is no longer a strike," said Buffalo running back O. J. Simpson. "I hope they can get the negotiations over within the next two weeks."

Simpson's opinion seemed prevalent Tuesday as National Football League players continued to pour into training camps across the country. The players association strike officially entered its 46th day Wednesday but it was fast becoming a skeleton strike.

The majority of players entering camps under the Association's 14-day cooling off period, which is supposed to start today, gave no signs of wanting to walk out again in two weeks, regardless of the outcome of talks with owners scheduled to resume Thursday.

"Maybe one or two individuals would leave," admitted Simpson, "but we won't leave en masse. I wouldn't leave."

If the players' strike appeared to be crumbling, the association got some support from an unusual quarter when 12 members of the House of Representatives threatened owners with a thorough inspection of pro football's antitrust status if they don't deal fairly with the players.

Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., whose subcommittee on commerce has jurisdiction in antitrust matters, said in a letter to the NFL Management Council that he hopes owners will play fair in dealing with the players union.

"If they do not or if the union is significantly injured, we want it known we will undertake a complete review of the National Football League's antitrust status, and if the facts warrant, introduce appropriate legislation."

A Management Council spokesman, in New York where an owners' group was meeting, responded to Moss' letter. "We know that the record of these negotiations will show that we bargained in good faith," he said. "We will invite Congressman Moss or any others to examine the record."

Most reported to camps without incident but there were exceptions in Fullerton, Calif., and Huntsville, Tex.

Twenty-two Los Angeles Ram veterans who showed up in Fullerton were greeted by General Manager Don Klosterman who had two questions for everyone — "Did you come of your own volition or because you were ordered to by the association? Do you plan to stay here?"

Klosterman said all 22 players, including player representative Tom Mack, said they had made their own decisions and would stay.

Los Angeles was apparently the only organization officially polling its players.

In Huntsville, Coach Sid Gillman, a hard-liner who among other things at first demanded that all returning veterans sign a pledge to stay in camp but later backed down, greeted 27 returning Oilers. After a 20-minute talk, he sent seven of them packing, including linebacker Paul Guidry who drove 26 hours straight from Buffalo to reach camp. Gillman declined comment.

TEXAS LEAGUE

Victoria Widens Lead

By The Associated Press

Victoria dug in a little deeper in first place Tuesday night in the Texas League East Division by beating Shreveport while the second-place Arkansas Travelers were idled by rain.

Victoria defeated the Captains 5-3 as the Toros' Brock Pemberton drove in three runs.

In other action Amarillo dropped El Paso 8-7 and Midland defeated San Antonio 5-3. Alexandria at Arkansas was rained out.

El Paso's John Balaz slugged two homers and doubled in the ninth to bring home four runs. Pitcher Bobby Nolan notched his eighth win of the year against three losses.

The Midland Cubs played catch-up in the sixth inning bringing in their five runs after trailing the Brewers for the first five innings. The Cubs' Tom Badcock spread out eight hits to raise his record to 2-5.

Tonight there are no games scheduled as the Texas League All-Stars prepare to meet the American League Texas Rangers Thursday night at Shreveport, La.

Feuding Rangers Fall To Brewers By 5-1

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Milwaukee Brewers and the Texas Rangers continued their feuding ways Tuesday night with Ranger third base coach Frank Lucchesi and Brewer outfielder Kent Berry featured in the main event.

Milwaukee defeated the Ranger 5-1 but the spotlight fell on a brief and bloodless altercation between Lucchesi and Berry in the bottom of the eighth inning.

Mike Hargrove slid into Tim Johnson breaking up a double play and spiked the Brewer shortstop.

While the injured Johnson was being treated, Lucchesi and Berry exchanged words and the fists flew. It was quickly stopped.

"I'm not going to back up for any punk," said Lucchesi. "He got personal with me and I invited him to come out there (the third base coaching box) and say that."

"It was more of a dance than a fight," said Brewer assistant coach Harvey Kuehn.

"It was a ——— move on my part," said Berry who later called Lucchesi and apologized.

The Brewers and Rangers were involved in a bean ball controversy last month and there were charges from both sides Monday night of brush back pitches.

"I don't know the reason for it, but both these teams are competitive and when they get together things just seem to happen," said Brewer Manager Del Crandall.

Crandall said "I don't think Hargrove deliberately spiked Johnson. He just missed him with his body and stuck his leg out in a desire to break it up. It was unfortunate but not deliberate."

Berry yelled at Lucchesi, "Why don't you teach 'em how to slide. It was a ——— slide."

Both benches emptied but nobody but Lucchesi and Berry threw punches. A fan who dumped beer on the Milwaukee dugout was escorted from the park by police.

Billy Champion scattered eight hits over seven shutout innings before he was relieved by Tom Murphy. It was Champion's seventh victory against two defeats.

"Billy got tired and I wanted to protect that one run lead," Crandall said.

Milwaukee knocked Ranger starter Jackie Brown out of the box in the eighth inning with a four-run outburst. Brown's record evened out 9-9.

Texas' Fergie Jenkins and Milwaukee's Clyde Wright tangle tonight in the season finale between the clubs.

BEAT CHICAGO 3-1

Houston Snaps Four Game Slump

CHICAGO (AP) — Tuesday was a bad day for the Chicago Cubs, and a worse for Manager Jim Marshall.

Cesar Cedeno tapped a lead-off triple opening a two-run ninth inning and led the Houston Astros to a 3-1 victory over the Cubs, Chicago's eighth loss in a row.

Marshall has amassed a 5-15 record since taking the Cubs' reins last month. And Chicago rests in the cellar of the National League East, with a 46-67 season tally.

The Cubs' only run came in the first inning when Jose Cardenal, Billy Williams and Andy Thornton stroked consecutive singles. Williams and Thornton pulled double steals, and Jerry Morales walked to fill the bases.

Dave Roberts, 6-10, pulled out of the jam with forceouts at home and second.

'Roberts has been pitching real good for us during the last six or seven games," Houston Manager Preston Gomez said.

"I was determined to go two or three more hitters with him because our pitching has been much better than our hitting."

"Besides," said Gomez, whose Astros ended a four-game losing streak with the victory, "I knew Roberts was all right because he always tells me when he hasn't got it."

In his last start, Roberts lost to Atlanta's Ron Reed 1-0.

Gomez also put in a word for outfielder Greg Gross as potential National League rookie of the year.

"I'll be most disappointed if he isn't among the first three because he's been hitting in a range of .320 to .330 all season," said Gomez. "He's done a hell of a job for us in the outfield."

Houston tied it at 1-1 in the fifth Tuesday after Bob Watson walked with one out, moved up on Doug Rader's infield out and scored on Tommy Helm's second single of the day.

Cedeno's triple was his fourth of the season. Oscar Zamora then relieved the Cubs' Bill Bonham, 10-15, and gave up singles to Watson and Rader, and a sacrifice fly to Helms.

Roberts yielded only five hits in the eight innings following the Cubs' initial hit burst.

Houston now has an 8-2 record over the Cubs this season.

SHOES ISSUED TODAY

Steers Get Shoes, Eye Drills

Coach Bob Burris' Big Spring Steers will take the first step toward the beginning of the 1974 grid wars here today and tomorrow as the coaches will be issuing shoes to the players.

Workouts will not begin until Monday, however, according to UIL rules and then only non-contact conditioning drills will take place.

Pads and equipment will be issued on Friday, August 23 and contact drills will begin on that day.

Shoes are to be issued today from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. and on Thursday during the same hours.

Coach Burris noted that he and his staff are planning a "Meet the Steers" night at Memorial Stadium on Thursday night, August 29. The night will include a football clinic for fifth and sixth grade Pee Wee Gridders who will get instruction from the Steer players.

Following the clinic, an intra-squad scrimmage will be held at the stadium, giving the public their first look at the 1974 Steers.

The Steers will scrimmage again, this time with Sweetwater in Sweetwater. The junior varsity scrimmage will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the varsity scrimmage will begin at 7:30.

In addition to Burris, Coaches Bob Glover, Tom Adams, Ron Freeman, Rex Scofield, Larry Horton and Tip Jacobson will be putting the varsity steers through their paces while the Junior Varsity squad will be coached by David Verner, Tommy Moss and Rod Carter, newly hired track coach.

The Steers will kick off the season in Andrews on September 6 as they clash with the Class AAA Mustangs.

Burris' staff is expecting 15 lettermen back, nine on defense and five on offense and the 1974 campaign will likely see a few changes from last year's pay.

They wil be looking to replace last year's aerial circus as they lost quarterback Tom Sorley and ace receiver John Thomas Smith to graduation.

Mark Moore, a starter on defense last year, is being groomed to replace Sorley at the signal calling position.

Burris expects much more depth than last year in his interior line Although he expects the Steers to be much improved, he adds that every school in the conference will also be improved, especially Abilene High and Abilene Cooper.

Burris listed several coaching changes at the Freshman and junior High levels.

He said that Ben Neel has been moved up from Goliad Junior High School to take over the Freshman head coaching job while Duke Atterbury was also moved up to the freshman squad from Goliad. They will be assisted by Sonny Monroe and James Griffin.

Rudy Montes was elevated to the head coaching job at Goliad High School with Corky Smith and two new coaches, Adron Welch and Robert Deweese assisting.

The staff for Runnels Junior High is unchanged with Billy Zellers, heading the staff with Ronny Jones, Mike Dixon and Roger Goertz, assisting.

Americans Hope To Stay Undefeated

By The Associated Press

The Birmingham Americans, the World Football League's only unbeaten team, hope to fatten up on the injury-riddled Hawaiians tonight before an expected turnout of 45,000 fans in Birmingham.

Coach Jake Gotta's Americans lead the league in offense but are last in defense. They have won all five games they've played but just barely, averaging only eight points a game more and 15 yards a game less than their opponents.

Birmingham kept its perfect record intact last week with a 28-22 victory over Detroit on the strength of a touchdown pass from rookie Matt Reed to Alfred Jenkins in the final 30 seconds.

The Hawaiians, 1-4, dropped a 21-14 decision to Jacksonville last week and lost several players along the way with injuries, including wide receiver Jerry Powell and offensive guard Jim Cadile.

"We really took a beating," said Coach Mike Giddings.

Philadelphia visits Chicago, Jacksonville is at Florida, New York hosts Portland and Detroit entertains Memphis is tonight's other WFL action.

Southern California is at Houston in Thursday night's television game.

The Chicago-Philadelphia game features a matchup of top quarterbacks. Virgil Carter of the Fire has thrown for 11 touchdowns and King Corcoran of the Bell has hit 10, four of them in a 45-21 triumph over Memphis last week.

Chicago is averaging 29 points a game and Philadelphia about 24.

Florida, leading the Eastern Division with four wins in five tries, boasts a one-two punch of veteran quarterback Bob Davis and rookie running back Richard James. Davis hit 10 of 17 tosses for 135 yards last week in a 46-21 victory over Chicago.

Jacksonville, 2-3, will go with Reggie Oliver or Kay Stephenson at quarterback in place of the injured Eddie McAshan.

New York has won three straight games after dropping the first two.

Trevino Goes For Second Win

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Lee Trevino, a notorious streak player, goes after a second consecutive victory this week in the Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

The flamboyant Trevino, winner of the PGA National Championship last Sunday in Clemmons, N.C., heads a strong field arrayed for the Thursday start of this $200,000 event that offers a $40,000 first prize.

"There's no reason I ought to have a let-down," Trevino said. "I've always been a streak player. When I get it going good, I usually keep it going for a while."

Last season he won twice — both within a three-week span. And, of course, in 1971 he achieved that unmatched, one-month sweep of the American, Canadian and British Opens.

"Besides," Trevino continued, "I usually play real good here."

Again, the record book supports him. He won this tournament in 1972 and tied for third last year.

And, while he's fresh off a victory in a major championship, he's taking a dead-serious approach to this tournament.

He made a hasty departure from North Carolina, got to the Wethersfield Country Club and practiced Monday and Tuesday.

His principal opposiiton in the 144-man field includes South African Gary Player, defending champion Billy Casper and Hubert Green.

Casper discounts himself. Player and Green are playing extremely well. Player has won the Masters, Bristish Open and another American tournament, collected more than $100,000 in prize-winnings and is enjoying the best season of his globetrotting career.

Green, a three-time winner this season, ranks second on the money-winning list, played well in this tournament last year and had a strong, third-place finish last week in the PGA.

Edwards Joins Cowboy Workouts

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Starting linebacker

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Starting linebacker Dave Edwards reported to the Dallas Cowboys training camp Tuesday, giving the club 34 veterans in harness.

Lee Roy Jordan, the All-Pro middle linebacker, suffered a strained tendon in his shoulder and will be held out of contact work for a week to 10 days. Rookie Ken Hutcherson is his likely replacement for Saturday night's game in Dallas with the Houston Oilers.

Fourth-year tackle Rodney Wallace missed both practices Tuesday after suffering spasms in his lower back. Trainers said they would have a further report Wednesday on Wallace.

The Cowboys waived David Korczykowski, a free agent offensive lineman from Temple.

Also men's 30 and over, singles and doubles; mixed doubles, husband and wife doubles.

Baseball Nuts Tour Major League Parks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mark Lewis, a 15-year-old, will go great distances to gain extra school credits.

He's a third of the way toward completing a trip that will make him the envy of many households.

The youthful Californian is in the midst of a 9,000-mile tour of all 24 major league baseball parks — in a five-week span.

It has been a lot of memories and miles for Mark, his father Bill and sister Lynn, 12.

"We're baseball nuts," said Bill, an instructor at Cerritos Junior College in Los Angeles.

"I got the idea about two years ago while watching a Dodger game in San Diego," Mark said. "I said to dad, 'wouldn't it be great to see all 24 major league parks?'"

Mark's father laughed and thought little of it, until he checked the map.

"When I realized it could be done, I got as excited as Mark," Lewis said.

They left Los Angeles July 25 in a gear-laden camper.

"The biggest disappointment was California's Nolan Ryan barely missing his third no-hitter," said Mark, before the trio departed for Detroit Tuesday.

"We saw Lou Brock steal two bases in a game and I got my picture taken with him," beamed the blond youth.

"The Texas Rangers really rolled out the red carpet," he said. "They gave us free tickets, baseballs, pictures and T-shirts.

"In Milwaukee, I talked to a Brewers publicity man who wanted to make the same trip when he was 19," said Mark.

"But he couldn't do it."

Mark is a student in a mentally-gifted minors program at La Mirada Junior High School. The specially approved undertaking calls for at least 60 hours logged on a chosen project.

"I've got 73 hours in already," said Mark, who also finds time to play second base on a Colt League team. His father is a league official. His mother manages a girls' softball team and pig-tailed Lynn is a second baseman.

Oilers Cut Six Veterans

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — It was a short season for Houston Oiler linebacker Paul Guidry — it lasted all of one hour.

Guidry said he drove 26 straight hours from Buffalo, N.Y., to report to the Oilers training camp today with other Oiler veterans under the National Football League Players Association NFLPA 14-day cooling off period.

Guidry arrived with 26 other veterans Tuesday about one hour before a meeting with Coach Sid Gillman. As the players left the meeting, Guidry and six other veterans were informed that they had been waived.

What had started out as cooling-off period in the 44-day old NFLPA strike suddenly was at boiling point again.

"Can you believe this?" fumed outspoken Oiler fullback Fred Willis. "Don't tell me they just decided to cut these players today. I can't believe they didn't have the courtesy to call them or let them know somehow beforehand."

Gillman gave no explanation for the sudden action. He described his brief session with the players as "amiable."

Guidry was more philosophical about the action than some of those who weren't cut. "This is the type of thing we're striking against," he said. "Oh, well, maybe it will all work out for the good."

Other veterans cut were: Dick Cunningham, linebacker; Larry Carwell, safety; Alvin Haymond, kick returner; Al Jenkins, and Levert Carr, both offensive linemen, and running back Bill Thomas, the Dallas Cowboys' No. 1 pick two years ago.

Gillman said earlier he intended to have all incoming veterans sign a statement saying that they would not leave camp if no settlement had been reached at the end of the cooling-off period.

Cardinals In Championship

The Semi Pro Big Spring Cardinal All-Stars will play in the championship game against the Odessa Angels Thursday at 8 p.m. in Odessa's American League Park.

The game was to have been played Sunday, but was rained out.

Orlando Olague and Dave Newman made it possible for the Cards to be in the championship as Newman pitched a no-hitter in winning the second game 5-0. Olague won the first games 13-3.

HOROSCOPE

CARROL RIGHTER

THURSDAY, AUGUST 15, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This can be an upsetting day if you allow yourself the luxury of feeling you are being imposed upon. So control any martyr attitudes. Don't make dramatic or sudden changes, but do your work well.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If an arugument begins between a partner and kin, remain neutral, or you become the goat, and the dispute soon ends. Show kindness to kin.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Use tact with co-worker who is trying to get out of doing work to get him or her back in line. Drive or walk with care to avoid trouble. Have insurance in order.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have some monetary matter that needs your immediate attention, so wait until the p.m. for the pleasure you want.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get that family member straightened out diplomatically today and have more harmony. Don't bring up any controversial subjects that could start arguments.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't permit some worry at home to keep you from going out and accomplishing the important things in business that are now possible.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget that social affair that a pal wants to take you to, or you could get into trouble. Get together with a clever businessman and progress.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't permit anyone to keep you from handling some important matter now. Decide on aims. Take no chances with one who is an old hypocrite.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study into various situations that are puzzling and come up with the right answers. Don't be inquisitive, and you avoid trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Listen to suggestions from an adviser and a good friend, then use your own good judgment to choose the best ideas given. Don't let others color your thinking.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An associate is trying to get you to lambast a higher-up, but don't. Handle worldly affair satisfactorily, even though it is rather difficult. Help a good friend.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Do your job perfectly despite your desire to be off to new and more interesting outlets. Once work is out of the way, then you can study new matters.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Don't spend money foolishly; save it for practical things. Don't permit others to take what belongs to you. Reach better understanding with mate.

Angered Mother Scares People

One irate mother put a scare into people in her part of town Monday afternoon.

She told one group who attempted to visit in her home, "I am going to shoot whoever has been selling dope to my daughter just as soon as I find out who it is."

An anonymous call to police complained that the "mother is threatening to shoot the dope pusher." Police officials were discussing the incident with the mother here Monday.

FORD APPOINTEE? — Dr. William Lukash, above, was reported Tuesday to be a possible choice for the appointment of White House physician for President Ford. Lukash was an acting assistant to former President Nixon's doctor, Dr. Walter Tkach.

Two Senate Panels Vote To Slice Military Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate units have voted to reduce military spending proposals despite President Ford's warning against "unwarranted cuts in national defense."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday the defense appropriations subcommittee has trimmed $5.59 billion from the Nixon administration request for military spending.

Meanwhile, the Foreign Relations Committee approved a foreign aid authorization bill that would phase out over the next three years the main category of military assistance, known as military-grant aid. It also gradually would close down U.S. militry aid missions, now in 45 nations including virtually every country in Europe.

TOUGH DECISION

In his address to a joint session of Congress Monday night, Ford called for "tough decisions to cut the cost of government" but indicated he would resist large slashes in the Pentagon budget.

McClellan said the defense spending bill would be considered by the full Appropriations Committee, of which he is chairman, on Friday.

AID TO LAOS

"This bill will not please everyone," he told the Senate. "Some would want to cut more, others would like to add to what we have done. But the bill represents our best judgment in today's perspective."

He said the $81.9 billion budget being recommended by the subcomittee is a 5.9 per cent cut from the request of former President Nixon. It is $1.4 billion less than the amount voted by the House.

The $2.5 billion foreign aid authorization bill is $775 million, or 22 per cent, below the Nixon administration request.

The measure, which now goes to the full Senate, imposes ceilings of $1.28 billion on aid to South Vietnam, $347 million on aid to Cambodia and $100 million on aid to Laos.

Last year, $1.57 billion was spent on South Vietnam, $688 million on Cambodia and $127 million on Laos.

The bill also wipes out the president's authority to grant arms credit to foreign countries at less than the U.S. government cost of borrowing money.

The biggest cut is in direct military aid to foreign countries, which the committee slashed $435 million, making the proposed appropriation $550 million.

Judge Not 'At Liberty' To Intervene In Demo Squabble

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge ruled Tuesday that he is not "at liberty" to intervene in the Democratic party squabble over whether it should hold a state convention during a Jewish holiday.

U.S. District Judge Adrian Spears in effect denied a request by 11 persons of the Jewish religion for a temporary restraining order that would stop the party from holding the convention Sept. 17-18. Sept. 17 is the Jewish High Holy Day of Rosh Hashhanah.

The plaintiffs had filed suit in Austin last wek requesting the State Democratic Executive Committee to hold the convention at some time other than the holiday. The suit listed committee, the State Democratic party, party chairman Calvin Guest and secretary Juliana Cowden as defendants.

In making the ruling, Spears said, "This court does not consider that it is at liberty to intervene in what is primarily an intra-party affair."

"This court is sympathetic with the dillemma in which the plaintiffs find themselves. However, indications are that the statuatory date for the convention would conflict very infrequently with Rosh Hashhanah," Spears said.

State law says the convention should be held on the third Tuesday in September, which is the reason for the conflict.

"It is difficult to see how the actions of the State Democratic Executive Committee . . . could rise to the level of a violation of constitutional rights," said Spears.

He added that in "the final analysis, the convention itself is fully authorized to make the ultimate decision as to whether or not it will recess or reconvene at a later time."

The judge said if the convention is not held at a later date the Texas laws and the Democratic Party rules delegates, as well as proxies where appropriate."

During the three and one-half hour hearing, Rabib Shimon Lazaroff testified that Rosh Hashanah "is the most important day of the year."

Caddo Matthews Seeks Office

COLORADO CITY — Caddo Matthews, former school teacher and coach at Colorado High School and now pastor of Plainview Baptist Church, Friday announced that he is a write-in candidate for the office of county school superintendent.

He is challenging Olson Sweatt, a retired teacher, who was unopposed in the Democratic primary for the office. Sweatt said he was seeking the position so that he could close the office as he believed it was not needed.

Several persons, including Westbrook Supt. L. M. Dawson, have claimed that the office should remain open.

Matthews is running on a platform of keeping the office open.

Lions Await 2 Meetings

Webb-Spring Lions Club is having two important meetings this week.

The first will be Thursday evening to install new members; the second Saturday evening will be to install a Leo Club, the first Lions-sponsored youth group in this area.

Three new members — Louis Brown, Charles Tate and Gene Forman — are scheduled to be inducted at the 7:30 p.m. Thursday meeting at the Lakeview YMCA. Guest speaker will be Joe Pond, past district governor.

H. B. Bancel, district Leo chairman, will be the speaker for the Saturday 7:30 p.m. program at Lakeview YMCA when the Leo Club will be activated. Both of the affairs are ladies night, and the Saturday evening program carries a $1.75 plate charge.

"The Leo Club is a high school-age organization for young men and women oriented with service objectives similar to Lions.

Patty Peugh Is New 4-H Prexy

At a recent Knott 4-H Club meeting the new officers were elected. Patty Peugh was elected president; Kay Hunt, vice president; Ann Nichols, secretary - treasurer; Ken Robinson, program chairman; and Connie Hughes, reporter.

The outgoing President, Kayla Gaskins, presided over the meeting.

The new adult leaders will be Mr. and Mrs. Repps Guitar and Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Peugh.

Three new member joined the club. They were Cole Hunt, Ronnie Long and John Guitar.

Refreshments were served. After the meeting was adjourned.

It is sound defensive technique to force declarer to win tricks before he wants to. This type of play occurs frequently when dummy has a long suit and the defenders refuse to allow declarer to duck a round of the suit. When the long suit is in the closed hand, the correct defense is far more difficult to find.

South had a difficult rebid problem. His hand was too strong to permit him to pass, so he compromised by raising partners suit. After North showed spade values, South decided that three no trump was the best chance of game.

West led the queen of hearts. Declarer allowed the defenders to win the first two heart tricks, holding up the ace until the third round. The contract was not a happy one. To have any chance of success, declarer would have to find a 3-3 diamond split and be able to duck an early diamond trick to West. In addition, communications between declarer's hand and dummy were a problem. If South crossed to dummy with a low spade to the queen to lead a diamond, West could win the diamond and return a club, forcing declarer to rise with dummy's ace and remove the entry to the ace of spades.

Declarer therefore decided to cash the king of spades before leading a spade to dummy's queen. Now, he led a low diamond. East was Paul Lukacs, who has represented Israel in world bridge competition and is a renowned problem composer. He rose to the occasion by inserting his queen of diamonds!

This brilliant stroke left declarer with no play for his contract. He could not allow East to hold the trick, for the defender had three hearts to cash. South had to win the trick, and even though he could set up his diamonds, he could not get back to his hand to enjoy the two extra tricks he developed.
