Dakota's McGovern Hopes To Inherit Kennedy Delegates

NEXT WEEK

Back-To-Back Launchings Of Missiles

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Defense Department announced Saturday that it will conduct back-to-back launchings here next week of America's newest strategic missiles, the multi-warhead Poseidon and Minuteman 3.

The firings will initiate lengthy test programs aimed at developing the multiple warhead concept in which a single land-or sea-based rocket can hurl several nuclear payloads to widely-scattered targets or saturate one area with bombs.

The poseidon launching was scheduled for Thursday, with Minuteman 3 to follow Friday. They will be the first major new missile systems tested at Cape Kennedy in four years.

Poseidon is being developed for deployment aboard Polaris submarines. Minuteman 3, a silo launched weapon, is an advanced version of the Minuteman 2 intercontinental range missile.

The Defense Department, presumably with President Johnson's blessing, said the tests would be conducted as planned despite urgings by some Washington officials that they be delayed because of upcoming strategic arms limitations negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Instead, defense officials have chosen to put the spotlight on the launchings by announcing them in advance and opening them to full news coverage.

Last Tuesday, the Air Force barred newsmen from Cape Kennedy for the launching of a secret military satellite, the first such news blackout here in four years. Officials said this marked the beginning of a tighter security policy for military firings.

For awhile, it was believed the Poseidon and Minuteman 3 launchings also would be closed.

Ike Bouncing Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, nearing the end of the always dangerous week-long critical period following any heart attack, was reported Saturday to be continuing "constant improvement" from the major seizure he suffered Tuesday.

His gains have been such that the five-star general's physicians at Walter Reed Army Hospital reported they have stopped continuous administration of oxygen.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

Not all of the week was spent by everybody looking at the televised Republican convention, or looking at the skies for a favorable cloud. For the midsummer days of August, there was considerable activity on the local front.

In the business area, a bright skyrocket was fired off with the announcement of formation of a local corporation, Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., which will be starting work on a plant to produce fiber glass pipe and fittings for the oil field market. This new concern is financed 100 per cent in Big Spring, local businessmen investing a quarter-million dollars as venture capital.

The people at Webb were marching tall, too, with just cause. The Pilot Training Wing there Friday received the Outstanding Unit Award from the Air Force. There is no higher recognition for organizations, and the award speaks volumes for a tremendous spirit of teamwork toward excel-

Airliner Crash Kills 32 Of 37

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) —A twin-engine Piedmont Airlines plane slammed down just short of a mile-long runway at Charleston's mountaintop airport Saturday, killing 32 of the 37 persons aboard.

Piedmont officials said the plane a Fairchild turbo-prop FH227, was making an instrument approach to the 982-foot high airport when it crashed and burned.

FOG, SMOKE

The five survivors were rushed to local hospitals by the more than two dozen ambulances which raced to the scene. All but one was described as in "very critical condition."

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the airport visibility at the time of the crash—pinpointed at 8:56 a.m. (EDT)—was one mile due to fog and smoke.

Another 50 yards higher and the airliner would have cleared a 300-foot ravine before the runway on which the plane was attempting to land.

As it was the plane hit below the crest of the deep ravine, skidded to the top and continued onward for 75 yards about 50 feet to the right of the 150-foot wide concrete strip.

NO WARNING

Piedmont officials said the plane was en route from Louisville, Ky., to Norfolk, Va. It had stopped earlier in Cincinnati, Ohio, and scheduled for stops at Roanoke, Richmond and Newport News, Va., after leaving Charleston.

Col. Ralph Cowgill of the West Virginia Air National Guard said the plane burned for "less than 15 minutes" after the crash. Two big National Guard pump trucks stationed less than a half-mile away from the crash site quickly brought the fire under control.

"There wasn't any warning . . . nothing . . . nobody sensed anything," cried 19-year-old Barbara Schiller—one of the survivors —from her hospital bed. Miss Schiller, a resident of Cincinnati, said she was flying to Virginia Beach, Va., on a holiday weekend with two friends.

BAD DREAM

"I thought it was all a bad dream, just a bad dream," she sobbed. "I wasn't even looking out the window when it happened. I blacked out and when I woke up they were throwing foam all over us."

Miss Schiller said she wasn't anxious to make the flight because her sister-in-law's parents were killed in a plane crash last year.

Ted Armbrecht, a Charleston department store official, said he was sitting in a private plane with pilot Ralph Stone waiting for the Piedmont craft to land.

"All of a sudden there was a whoomp," Armbrecht said. The two men said they looked out of the window of their plane and saw wreckage hurtling through the air as flames spewed from the stricken airliner.

GRIM TASK

"Three or four persons were stumbling around outside the wreckage and we helped them into ambulances," Stone said. "We couldn't do anything for the others. The fire was too bad."

A cavernous National Guard hangar was quickly utilized for the grim task of identifying the victims. Piedmont officials said the dead included the pilot, Gene Sugg, and copilot John F. Messick, both of Winston-Salem, N.C.

Satellite Shot Fails

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Rocket failure Saturday night ruined an attempt to place an Applications Technology Satellite into a high stationary orbit from which its weather-watching camera could keep an round-the clock track of hurricanes and other storm systems.

An Atlas-Centaur rocket blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 6:33 P.M. EDT and propelled the 864-pound ATS4 satellite into a preliminary orbit ranging from about 115 to 460 miles above the earth.

An hour later, the Centaur upper stage was to have restarted its engines to shift the orbit to an elliptical path ranging out to 22,300 miles.

But shortly after that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported, "We have an indication that we did not get a second burn of the Centaur engine."

Nor could the agency confirm separation of the spacecraft from the Centaur stage.

Thus, the satellite will remain in a low earth orbit where the majority of its weather, communications and advanced technology experiments will be lost.

The experiments were designed to operate at the satellite's intended final orbit, a stationary outpost 22,300 miles above the Equator, some 400 miles west of Quito, Ecuador.

HHH In Texas Still Silent About Derby

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey stirred campaigning and sightseeing into a recipe of hot Texas chili Saturday. The pot was spiced by a call from the Texas White House and a new opponent.

Searing 95-degree-plus heat beat down on the candidate for Democratic nomination for president as he moved from a lake dedication to the San Antonio World's Fair.

NO MENTION

The new opponent is Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota. Humphrey remained silent on the senator's Saturday announcement as a candidate. Neither did he mention Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, his other opponent.

McGovern, like Humphrey, is a native of South Dakota. Both McGovern and McCarthy were political proteges of Humphrey.

Finally, after a long day and running more than two hours behind schedule, the vice president's plane took off for Washington from San Antonio International Airport.

The Humphrey aides made public a telegram from the vice president to Jesse Unruh, head of the California Democratic delegation which held a caucus Saturday.

The late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy won the California Democratic primary. Since his assassination, there has been a question of how the delegation will break down in voting at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Humphrey telegraphed regrets that he was unable to address the West Coast caucus because of his long standing commitment to be at the San Antonio fair.

MIXUP

However, Humphrey told the Californians, "I have set aside the whole day of Tuesday in the hope that I can meet with you and your delegation at any time and any place within the state."

McGovern sought to telephone Humphrey Friday presumably to tell him of his decision to enter the race but Humphrey aides said the two had been unable to talk about McGovern's decision.

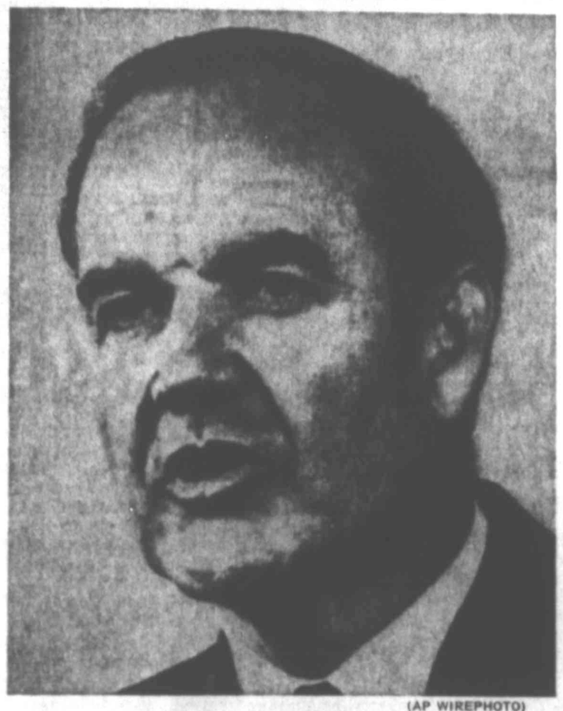

Persons close to Humphrey see McGovern's entrance into the nominating derby as an attempt to get the support of the Kennedy delegates.

However, Humphrey aides said the entrance of McGovern will have no effect on the outcome of the Democratic convention.

CONVINCED

Close Humphrey workers appear convinced he has enough delegates to win the nomination on the firs tballot.

The vice president had a long lunch with Governor Connally, often mentioned as a possible vice presidential candidate, and Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., the local congressman.

New Candidate

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota Saturday announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. The 46-year-old senator told newsmen at a news conference held in the caucus room of the old Senate Office Building that he was committing himself to "the goals for which Robert Kennedy gave his life."

Announces Candidacy For Top Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern formally declared his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination Saturday and set out to rally supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy around him on a get out of Vietnam "now" plank.

TWIN GOALS

The 46-year-old South Dakota senator, going before television-radio microphones and cameras in the ornate Senate Caucus Room, said "I make no claim to wear the Kennedy mantle," but then asserted:

"I believe deeply in the twin goals for which Robert Kennedy gave his life—an end to the war in Vietnam and a passionate commitment to heal the division in our own society."

Among the first to publicly endorse McGovern were close associates of Kennedy, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Pierre Salinger and Frank Mankiewicz.

But the senator said he had not sought the endorsement of "those best able to speak" for Kennedy, his widow, Ethel, and his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. "I would not anticipate anything other than their quiet understanding of what it is I seek to do," McGovern added.

WEAK ON WAR

While he indicated some divergence from the views of the two other declared candidates for the Democratic nomination on domestic issues, McGovern laid his stress on a belief that both Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy are too weak on the issue of ending the Vietnam war quickly.

His wording in his formal statement and in the question-and-answer period afterward both suggested a strong plank on that point in the Democratic platform is at least as much of a goal as promotion of his personal aspirations. He plans to offer such a plank to the platform committee next week.

"I hope that in Chicago we shall go on record for a foreign policy of restraint and peace," he said. "Not one that would make us the world's policeman, banker and judge."

END THE DRAFT

McGovern only touched briefly on his stand on questions aside from peace saying:

"It is imperative that we scale down the waste in our military establishment beyond what is needed for our defense so that those excess resources may be diverted to long—neglected areas of our national life —the reconstruction of our cities and the strengthening of rural America.

"We should end the draft of our young men now and replace that unfair and wasteful system with a voluntary program in which those who serve the nation are reimbursed sufficiently to attract a competent volunteer force.

"Finally, we need to harness the full spiritual and political resources of this nation to put an end to the shameful remnants of racism and poverty that still afflict our land. Just as brotherhood is the condition of our survial in a nuclear world, so is it the condition of peace in America."

RALLY AROUND

The caucus room where McGovern made his announcement is the site where Kennedy and his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy announced their candidacies for the presidency.

Watching McGovern once more make the Democratic presidential sweepstakes a three-man race were his wife and five children—four daughters and a son.

Some of the onlookers gathered with newsmen frequently interrupted McGovern, especially during the question and answer period with applause.

Rockefeller Calls Midnight Curfew

LITTLE ROCK Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller declared a countywide midnight curfew Saturday as an uneasy racial quiet returned to Little Rock, where National Guardsmen and police quelped an outbreak of violence Friday night.

BAN BOOZE

Rockefeller said he ordered the curfew because of "serious unconfirmed rumors," which he did not describe, and at the request of Pulaski County authorities and the mayors of Little Rock, North Little Rock and nearby Jacksonville.

Rockefeller, who said Friday night's disturbances were caused by "a misdirected few. . . to accomplish their won selfish objectives," said the curfew would end at 6 a.m., CDT Sunday.

Police Chief R. E. Brians also ordered all Little Rock liquor stores and taverns to close Saturday evening.

About 100 National Guardsmen who joined city police and state troopers in enforcing peace in the troubled central section of the city following incidents of gunfire and window smashing Friday night were pulled out Saturday. They remained on alert. City police continued a close watch.

"We're pleased and I think the people should be pleased with the way it's quieted down," said Police Capt. D. M. Cox.

AREA TOURS

One Negro was wounded by gunfire and a policeman suffered a collarbone injury at the outbreak of the violence as about 300 Negro marchers returned to a Negro community center after attending a memorial service for a young Negro beaten to death at the county penal farm a week ago.

Twenty-four Negroes and one white man were arrested during the night.

The governor, who said he would not tolerate lawlessness, met early Saturday with representatives of several civil rights organizations and Black United Youth (BUY), a militant organization which sponsored the memorial service. He later toured the troubled area.

Rep. Burleson To Visit In Big Spring Tuesday

Rep. Omar Burleson, congressman for the 17th district of Texas, will be in Big Spring Tuesday and spend most of the day here meeting his constituents.

The congressman will address the Rotary Club at its regular Tuesday luncheon at the Settles Hotel, and Rotary members are to be joined by members of the Lions Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are changing their weekly meeting days for the joint club affair. In addition, members of the public who wish to attend on a self-paid basis are cordially invited to attend, said Joe L. Price, Rotary president.

Burleson is to make a call at Webb AFB Tuesday morning, and also will visit the VA Hospital, to talk with patients and employes. He plans also to make informal calls during the day.

Rep. Burleson is back at home during the congressional recess, and is spending this weekend at his farm in Jones County. Monday he plans to visit Robert Lee, Bronte, Sterling City and Garden City before coming on to Big Spring.

OMAR BURLESON

He will go from here Tuesday afternoon to Meadow, where he will visit his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Burleson, and he has dates later in the week at Haskell, Throckmorton, Albany and Abilene.

POLITICIANS HOTFOOT IT TO TEXAS

For Wildest Week

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

Texans could walk into the kitchen Sunday morning, pour a cup of coffee with a shaky hand and begin relaxing after the wildest political week Texas ever underwent.

It wasn't enough that their eyes stayed glued to the television or roamed their newspapers to find that neither Sen. John Tower nor Rep. George Bush got tapped by the GOP as a vice presidential candidate.

For immediately after the Miami Beach GOP convention closed just about the cream of the nation's politicos hotfooted it to Texas, all but one dropping in to visit the No. 1 man, President Johnson.

MASS INVASION

The President, who had been in Texas for several days, made news on his own by having his annual physical checkup at Brooke Army Medical Center. His staff said for the first time that he suffers from diverticulitis, protusions in the colon, and has suffered since 1960. No one seemed badly worried about it.

As sort of a tune-up for the mass invasion, Houston was host Tuesday to George Wallace, the chief of the American Independent party.

Two major concrete matters came out of all the politics.

Texas will have a chance to vote for a Republican of proven strength for the presidency with the nomination of Nixon. The state came within about 46,000 ballots of presenting him with Texas' electoral college votes in 1960. This was out of about 2.3 million votes cast.

ENEMY

Possibly contributing to Nixon's defeat in the state eight years ago was the fact that favorite son Lyndon B. Johnson was the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Texas, although voting Democratic in most races, has broken away from that party at times, notably supporting Al Smith in

POST OFFICE CORNERSTONE PUT IN PLACE

Mementoes Of Today

A small copper box with a tight, fitting lid reposes beneath the rectangular granite cornerstone which Friday was formally set in its place in the new Big Spring Federal Building.

Three former postmasters, and the man who now fills the post, supervised placing inside this small box an assorted collection of mementoes of the day. These will remain beneath the stone until the building is torn down sometime in the decades to come.

The participants in this portion of the brief ceremony were H. L. Bohannon, who served as postmaster for about a year in 1932 and 1933; Nat Shick, who was postmaster from 1933 through 1955; and Elmer Boatler, who retired when Frank Hardesty, present postmaster, took over the post.

Only a small crowd braved the hot sun and 99 degree weather to watch the placing of the box in its niche in the front entrance wall.

The exercises brought no stop to the construction work, and the busy crew which is pushing ahead with the million dollar structure paid no heed to the visitors. The big building is slated for completion in November — nearly three months ahead of the date as set up in the contractor's agreement.

The items in the box run the gamut, from coins of current date to commemorative stamps. Newspapers with the story of the cornerstone laying were inserted. Letters the former postmasters had kept advising them of their appointments, photographs, clippings and other articles were dropped into the box.

One special contribution was a "hammer" stamp cancelling device which was used under all four of the postmasters who were at the dedication. It was dated Friday, Aug. 9, 1968.

The Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of First Baptist Church (the old Baptist church building occupied part of the block on which the new post office is located) offered a prayer at the outset of the ceremonies.

Hardesty presented the former postmasters and also introduced a number of other postal workers who formerly worked at the office or who are still employed there.

He presented Edd W. Staub, new member of the post office staff, as the "man who will have charge of maintaining this building when it is completed."

Several city commissioners, representatives of the chamber of commerce, the school board, and some of the personnel from the county courthouse, and other governmental agencies were in the small crowd which attended the exercises.

Hardesty said that the "open house" for the new federal building will be arranged and staged sometime in the winter, after the post office has taken possession of the building.

Olen Puckett, architect who designed the structure, was also in attendance at the cornerstone laying.

Downtown Saigon Vibrates As B52s Rain Explosives

SAIGON (AP) — Buildings in downtown Saigon vibrated to the rolling thunder of bombs Saturday as American B52 Stratofortresses rained explosives on enemy bases and infiltration routes within a 30 mile radius of the capital.

The eight-jet bombers flew seven missions Saturday morning, west, north and east of Saigon. The shock of exploding bombs was clearly felt in the city, although some of the raids were far north in the central highlands.

U.S. spokesmen said atmospheric conditions and the intensity of the strikes made them appear much closer.

SHOT DOWN

U.S. fighter-bombers also flew 130 missions over North Vietnam Friday amid rumors from Washington and Saigon that a complete halt in the bombing of North Vietnam may be ordered soon.

An Air Force F105 Thunderchief was reported shot down just north of the demilitarized zone, the 878th U.S. plane lost over the North.

Radio Hanoi claimed that two men from the downed plane were captured, but the Air Force listed only the pilot as missing. F105s usually fly with a two-man crew.

MOPPING UP

On Saturday government spokesmen reported that South Vietnamese fighter-bombers strafed suspected enemy troop concentrations northwest of Saigon along the Cambodian border. Infantrymen sweeping the area later reported finding 35 enemy bodies and two destroyed antiaircraft positions.

In the ground war, the U.S. Command reported allied troops were mopping up after two major cordon operations Saturday.

In one, five miles northeast of Hue, paratroopers of the 101st Air Cavalry Division teamed up with Navy personnel and Vietnamese units to seal off a populated coastal area heavily laced with Viet Cong tunnels and bunkers.

ROUND UP 98

The allied force used hovercraft to round up 98 Viet Cong suspects trying to flee to the sea. Forty-six Viet Cong were reported killed.

Twenty-five miles north of Saigon another allied force surrounded the village of Chanh-Luu, on a suspected Viet Cong infiltration route. The allies killed 17 enemy soldiers, captured 67 suspects and seized more than three tons of food and weapons.

The U.S. commander in South Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, visited the village while the sweep was in progress.

"This is the kind of thing we should be doing," he said. "This was a remarkable effort by the South Vietnamese."

Native Of City In College Post

BEEVILLE — New director of information and journalism instructor at Bee County College in Beeville is Don P. Adams, who assumed his duties Aug. 1.

A native of Big Spring, Adams has had five years experience in newspaper work in both weeklies and dailies in Texas and New Mexico. He was book page editor and feature writer for the Galveston News, and acting state editor, feature writer, photographer, and copy editor for the Austin American-Statesman.

He has also written several magazine articles for Texas Parade, Texas Observer, Quill and Scroll, Scholastic Editor, and others.

A collection of his poetry appeared in the recent winter issue of Texas Quarterly.

Adams received his bachelor's and master's degrees in journalism from the University of Texas at Austin, where he was the second annual recipient of the Gail Borden Graduate Scholarship in Journalism.

Two Fire Alerts

Firemen answered two fire reports Friday. The minor fires were quickly doused. A fire was reported on a vacant lot at Twenty-third and Johnson at 1:50 p.m. and a grass fire was sighted in the 1500 block of East Second at 10:21 p.m.

Tito Sets Stage For Cooperation

PRAGUE (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito, the first Communist ruler to break away from Moscow, met Saturday with Czechoslovak leaders to set the stage for increased cooperation between their reform-minded Communist movements.

Talks were held behind closed doors at historic Hradcany Castle, formerly the seat of Bohemian kings, where Tito was an honored guest.

Official statements said the participants "evaluated the present stage of their cooperation" and discussed "bilateral cooperation between the two countries."

WON'T CHANGE

During a break in the talks, Tito received a group of Czechoslovaks who fought in his anti-Nazi partisan movement in World War II, and a delegation from a Czechoslovak factory where he worked briefly before World War I.

"The sympathies between our nations are deep and permanent and they won't change," Tito told his visitors.

He reminded them that thousands of Yugoslavs volunteered to fight for Czechoslovakia when this country was threatened by the Nazis before World War II.

The 76-year-old chief of state, who came out firmly on the side of Czechoslovakia when its liberalization movement raised a threat of Soviet military intervention, said: "I would like to assure you that our support for the development of Czechoslovakia will also in the future be as great as possible.

"Our current talks are progressing in the best possible spirit of friendliness, in an atmosphere of mutual understanding."

LIVE—LET LIVE

The Russians and other followers of the orthodox Communist line were obviously keeping an eye on operations of the Prague Communist hierarchy, headed by Alexander Dubeck, despite the live - and - let - live agreement reached at Bratislava Aug. 3.

New Commissioners' Desk

R. E. Neill, city maintenance worker for 23 years, works at getting the new desk for the City Commission Room ready for Tuesday's commission meeting. The desk is on a platform which will raise the commissioners slightly above the audience, and a new individual-microphone sound system has been installed.

Jack Ivy Recalls Early Big Spring

Visitors atop Scenic Mountain are impressed by the numerous names laboriously carved in the ancient rocks. Great pains went into the sculptural efforts in many cases.

Like most such names, all memory of the person who thus sought to perpetuate himself has gone.

". . . On Sunday, after church, we go for a walk out to a flat-topped mountain with a solid rock top. We would take along a chisel and hammer and carve our names. Lots of names were carved on that mountain top . . ."

So writes Jack C. Ivy, 5016 W. Slauson Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., in a note to the Big Spring Herald. He was recalling the days, more than a half century ago, when he was a boy in this town. Apparently Ivy has not been back to his old haunts in all the years since 1915. His note was to ask that copies of the Herald be sent him "so I can read a little about my old home town."

"Big Spring . . . a good place," writes Ivy. "I do not know why all of these memories came to me today. I was just sitting here waiting for my wife to call me to breakfast and I got to thinking about my boyhood and Big Spring."

"I lived in Big Spring years ago — from 1900 to 1915," Ivy relates. "I may return on a vacation trip there this fall . . .

"I have fond memories of your city as a small lad. And I knew some of the good old timers like Shine Philips, Alvin Bates, . . . and Mrs. Morrison, who was my Sunday school teacher.

"We lived next door to Sheriff Jim Baggett. One night some one called to him to come outside. He did and a shot sounded and Jim fell. He recovered and I bet he caught his man. A real man, this Jim Baggett. . . . I also remember the Stokes boys — their father had a hardware store. And the Fishers where my folks did the family grocery shopping . . . and paid the bill once a month. and my dad would get a big black cigar, and I would get a stick of candy free!

"Shine Philips, a real fine man, who worked for B. Reagan. Shine liked everyone and all liked Shine.

"Also there was Pope Pool —his father was the town's big banker with his name on the door in gold.

"One day some one passed the word that an airplane was enroute to Big Spring. Everyone went out to the old ball park west of town to see the first plane come to Big Spring."

Capturing Horned Toads For Profit In Texas Illegal

Capturing horned toads for sale, barter or commercial exploitation is illegal in Texas, according to K. W. Lundsford, game warden with the Parks and Wildlife Department.

"It is unlawful for any person to capture, trap, ensnare, willfully kill or injure, take or have in possession for the purpose of sale, barter or commercial exploitation, horned toads in the state of Texas except for the propagation and scientific purposes as provided by law," he said.

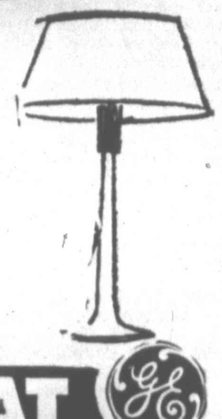

A penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $200 is provided by law, and each horned toad constitutes a separate offense. The Texas Tortois, "Gopherus berlandieri," a land turtle, is protected by law with the same penalty imposed, he said.

SHE'S TRYING TO REACH FIVE POUNDS

Angel Has Weight Problems

By SAM BLACKBURN

Angel Edwards has a weight problem.

Her problem, however, is much different from that of most folk. What Angel is trying very hard to do is attain a weight of five pounds.

Angel, at the ripe age of one month and 15 days, has managed to reach the point where the scales show four pounds. And that's anything but bad for a gal who started out at two pounds, four ounces.

Angel is a "preemy" baby at the Cowper Hospital and Clinic.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin Edwards, Sterling City Route. Angel was born two months too early on June 27. She was placed in the Cowper hospital incubator and has been fighting her weight problem ever since.

Reaching five pounds is very important to little Angie, her parents, and six husky brothers and sisters. When Angel tips the beam at five pounds, she gets to leave the hospital where she has spent her entire life so far, and go home.

When will that be?

Well, the nurses and the doctors are uncertain. If all goes well, Angel should get that other pound within a few weeks. Of course, like all dieters, she might lose ground and have to stay longer.

"Of course we haven't spoiled her," protested Mrs. June Hutchings, director of nurses. "It's just that all of the nurses are interested. That's why they always stop when they pass the nursery and look at her and that's why they ask every day about her weight."

This may very well be true.

However, any time that Angel is being bathed or otherwise attended to there's usually a sizable audience of nurses who have the time to spare to act as sidewalk superintendents.

And Mrs. Hutchings did admit that the staff was not looking forward to the day when Angel will go home.

"We will miss her," said the nurse, wistfully.

Mrs. Edwards, on the other hand, said that it would be a great day when her latest child is able to come home.

"All of my other six youngsters weighed 7 to 7½ pounds when they were born," she said.

Her husband is a driller for the Duncan Drilling Co. Mrs. Edwards is a native of Howard County.

The other Edwards kids are Frankie, 19, John, 17, Susie, 13, Henry, 11, Geneva, 9, and Crystal, 2.

Bus Smashup In Panhandle Kills Woman

TULIA, Tex. (AP)—One passenger was killed and all the other 34 persons on board suffered at least minor injuries as a Denver-to-San Antonio bus plunged into a six-foot ditch Friday night.

State police said US 87 was wet from a shower as the Greyhound bus skidded across the wrong side of the divided four-lane highway, smashed a tree and partly overturned three miles south of here in the Texas Panhandle.

The woman crushed to death under the heavy vehicle was identified by the Texas Department of Public Safety as Mrs. Herman R. Junco of San Antonio.

Attendants said the driver, John P. Gist, 63, of Lubbock, required surgery but none of the others was in serious condition. Gist and 16 others were kept in hospitals overnight.

Among the passengers were about a dozen Boy Scouts en route back to Texas homes from the Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimarron, N.M.

The bus, being operated by Texas, New Mexico & Oklahoma Coaches, had left Amarillo, 51 miles north of Tulia, about an hour before the accident happened at 11:10 p.m. A bus company employe said it was running an hour behind schedule.

James Pate Jr., 13, of Richmond, Tex., one of the Boy Scouts, said he was sleeping but awoke as the bus started to skid.

"It went across the median and overturned in the northbound lane," young Pate said, "and then it skidded into the ditch on the other side of the road. While the bus was on one side it hit a tree and nearly went on over, but the tree kept it from going all the way."

The crash battered a big hole in the bus and ripped off part of the top.

Of the injured, 32 were taken to Swisher Memorial Hospital in Tulia and the other two, including Gist, to Plainview Hospital, 24 miles south of here.

THE WEEK

lence, in which every officer and enlisted man on the Base has participated.

* * *

There was action a-plenty at the rodeo arena, too, where thousands for three nights watched the excitement of contests in the annual Junior Rodeo. There were well over 200 contestants, and they were providing a thrilling show.

* * *

Ceremonies at the new post office building, too. The cornerstone was laid Friday afternoon. That's the first time that's been done in more than 30 years, and no telling when there'll be another such ceremony. Work progresses well on the facility, which may be in use this Fall.

* * *

Agriculturists were eyeing the skies, hoping for "just another shower or two" which could assure a fine yield of cotton and grain. A Lubbock estimate put the Howard County cotton crop for this year at 47,000 bales, but locals in the know say this is some 10,000 too high. Even so, a 35,000 bale year would be a lot better than the 15,000 bale disappointment of 1967.

* * *

While August crept on, school opening dates began to loom large, and much school-year information is in today's Herald. School budget hearings are ahead, too; Coahoma's on Aug. 12, Big Spring's on the 13th.

* * *

Welcome news was that which announced a $12,000 allotment by the State Highway Department to build arbors at the rest areas in Howard County, one west of the city, the other east of Coahoma. The areas are handy things, but they've been might barren. Some shelters will help.

* * *

The city carried on its street seal-coating work, too. A lot of loose gravel is flying now, but we'll soon have better driving surfaces.

* * *

Many friends paused in tribute at the passing of Mrs. Mary O. Debenport, a woman of intelligence and grace who was so close in work, as well as spirit, to her husband, the late Judge H. R. Debenport, one of the most outstanding attorneys and county judges this county has produced.

* * *

It took only a few days, thanks to generous people, for that needy family to obtain all the clothing needed for young children to go to school. County Welfare Officer Ruby Phillips sounded an appeal about the woman with five children and expecting a sixth, who had no funds to clothe her brood. Shortly she was saying "that's enough; there will be others we'll have to help."

* * *

There has been friendly assistance, too, for the family of Bobby Glenn Lepard, the lad who underwent a kidney transplant in a Denver Hospital. He has had some complications, but last reports were that he was making slow progress.

* * *

News personalities of the week would include our own Connie Edwards who has spent months piloting World War II aircraft in Spain and England for the filming of "The Battle of Britain." Connie got a special citation from the Royal Air Force for bringing down a damaged and burning Spitfire on an unused airfield. He and his passenger walked away from the crackup, which made it a good one. And it emphasized this Confederate Air Force colonel's great daring and skill.

* * *

Newcomer: Eddie Earl Trice, who on Sept. 1 will become director of physical education at the YMCA. He is graduating from McMurry College at the end of the summer term. The Y, incidentally, closed out its summer swim classes with 81 youngsters getting certificates in various categories, from "minnows" to "life-savers."

* * *

County commissioners named election judges, most of the old reliables being called on again. Wouldn't it have been nice if some of the bigger boxes had been divided, so that election returns could be completed at a reasonable hour?

Thieves Snatch Bike And Stereo

Theft of a bike and a stereo and a case of vandalism are under investigation by the police department.

Maria Robles, 905 N. Scurry, reported Friday morning to police that a four-track stereo valued at $50 and three tapes estimated at $15 had been taken from her car while it was parked in the Bennett House parking lot between 11 p.m. Thursday and 5:30 a.m. Friday.

Anna Marie Butler, 318 NE 12th, reported that a bike had been taken from the front porch.

Police officers discovered a glass kicked in at the Quick Queen Laundry, 1208 Gregg. However, none of the coin-operated machinery had been tampered with, officers said. A witness gave the license number of a car seen leaving the scene, but no offense report was filed.

Trustees Plan Busy Tuesday

The regular meeting of the board of education will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to S. M. Anderson, superintendent of schools.

The time has been moved up because of the public hearing on the 1968-69 school budget planned for 8 p.m. that same evening, he said.

Humphrey Takes Triple Bogie On Trevino Yarn

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Vice President Hubert Humphrey took about a triple bogie Saturday on a golf story about Mexican-American links professional Lee Trevino, but came back to about par with a line about Lyndon Johnson and his birdies.

Humphrey, speaking off the cuff to a crowd at the San Antonio World's Fair, referred to Trevino as a great golfer and a native of San Antonio.

Trevino is of Dallas and El Paso has been identified with San Antonio only once—that last month for his losing effort in the PGA golf championship.

Humphrey quoted Trevino as saying after his U.S. Open victory, that he was so popular he may run for President.

Humphrey joked that he might try to arrange a Texas golf match between Trevino, a local hero despite his non-residence, and fellow Texan Lyndon Johnson.

Humphrey evened the score card by saying, "You'd better be careful when you play golf with President Johnson because he brings his own birdies."

Helbigs Schedule Return To Dominican Republic

Herb Helbig, former county agricultural agent here, and his family spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. Harold Coleman and her daughter, Dixie, before returning to the Dominican Republic.

The Helbigs left here 20 months ago when Helbig took a post as agricultural advisor to the Dominican government. He has now completed his contract and has signed up for an additional 10 months in the island republic.

He will return to the island very soon to pick up the work where he left off. Helbig said that he and his family have enjoyed their say in Dominica and that their experiences there have been most rewarding.

His work has given him an opportunity to visit many of the Caribbean islands and also to make trips to several South American republics.

At the end of the new hitch, the Helbigs plan to return to the States.

Bond Set In Defraud Case

Bond was set at $2,000 Friday for Collin G. Payne, arrested in a case alleging use of a credit card to defraud.

Robert Curtis Litton, 39, Coahoma, charged with DWI, entered a plea of guilty in Howard County Friday and was sentenced to three days in jail, fined $50, and assessed costs in the case.

Children's Dental Clinic Soon To Begin Operation

By BRENDA GREENE

The children's dental program, which has been on the drawing board for about a year and a half, is one step away from opening its doors. The program is awaiting approval by the State Department of Health.

Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse, said the clinic for underprivileged children should be completed by Sept. 9. The last order of dental equipment has already been mailed.

INSPECTOR

"When it arrives, an inspector from the State Department of Health in the Dental Division will inspect the clinic, and we can get the program off the ground," she said.

The clinic will be available for school age children who are considered indigents by the city and county, and they will be eligible for dental examinations, X-rays, extractions, and fillings. The program will not provide for braces.

The goal of the dental program is to give more school age children better dental care than has been possible before, Miss Bowen said.

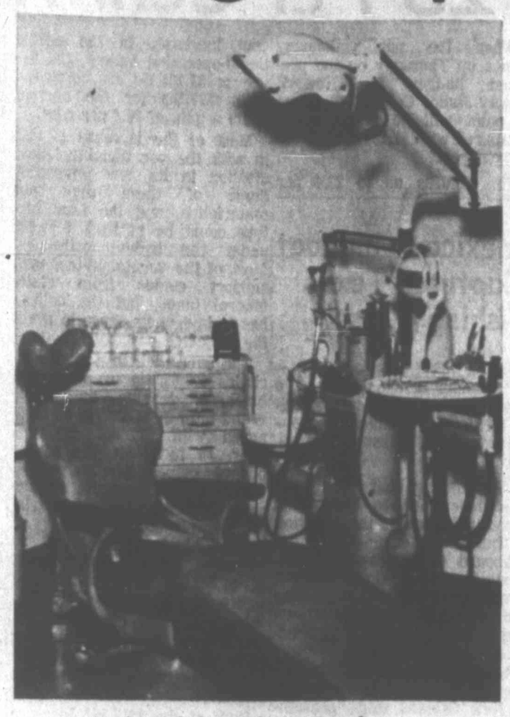

"In the long run, we hope to expand the program to include adults. This, of course, is only a projected idea," she said.

The children will be referred to the clinic from the public school nurses who give dental examinations each year in the public schools. If the child qualifies for aid from the clinic an appointment will be set up.

GARRETT

The dental program, initiated by the late Horace Garrett some years ago, was begun when Dr. W. B. Hardy donated a dental chair and other equipment to the health unit upon his retirement. Other donations, purchases and trades have been made in the past year, and now the unit has sufficient equipment to begin the program.

The clinic also has an X-ray room for use in the program. At the present time, it is under rennovation, but it should be ready for use by Sept. 9, Miss Bowen said.

Awaiting Inspection

The children's dental clinic at the health unit has been completed and is awaiting approval by the State Department of Health. The tentative date for opening the clinic is Sept. 9.

Five area dentists have indicated an interest in participating in the program. They are Dr. Glenn Allen, Dr. Robert H. Johnson, Dr. Charles Rainwater, Dr. J. B. Sackett, and Dr. Douglas Smith.

How the dentists will schedule clinic hours has not been determined, Smith said. The program will begin on a half-day basis each week unless more time is required, he said.

FIRST TIME

This is the first time for a dental clinic for the Big Spring area. Previously the state has appropriated $100 per month for dental care or for clinic conferences for underprivileged children.

Miss Bowen said she did not know whether the city-county would receive the $100 under the new program or not. "Whether we do or not, we will more than likely apply for more state aid in the program," she said.

The dentists participating in the previous program alternate caring for the underprivileged dental patients. The dentist fee was set at $25 for two hours. Smith said he did not know how the charges would be handled in the new program, but that it would be determined sometime this month.

Some 20 cases are on file at the health unit now which need dental attention, Miss Bowen said. Under the present dental program, 14 children were examined in four months, February through May. Miss Bowen said examinations are nearly one-third less in the summer months, but she said she hoped the program would increase when school starts.

FINANCES

The dental program will be financed through the dental fund, set up several years ago. The fund now stands at $2,300 which is being used to purchase equipment and necessary supplies. Recently Mrs. Horace Garrett boosted the fund by some $2,000.

"When the fund has been exhausted," Miss Bowen said, "we will have to apply for financial aid from the state."

TEXAS CROPS ROUNDUP

Rain Is Needed East Of Pecos

COLLEGE STATION Tex. (AP) — Hot and dry weather, except for continuing scattered showers mostly in coastal areas, gave farmers a chance to get a lot of work done. The need for moisture is general from Central Texas westward, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Rapidly developing crops and the sustained heat are fast depleting the once bountiful supplies of moisture, he noted. Ranges across the state continue to furnish good grazing and livestock are in good condition and the fly and mosquito problem is lessening in the upper coastal counties, he said.

LUBBOCK COTTON

Showers in the coastal area slowed harvesting of cotton, grain sorghum and rice, he said. Some early sorghum has been harvested north to the Rolling plains, he said.

District agents at midweek reported their situations:

South Plains (Lubbock) cotton is fruiting heavily and early fields are being irrigated. Insects are light. Some sorghum needs rain and considerable acreage is still infested with green-bugs. Soybeans are blooming and are being irrigated. Castorbeans are making good progress. Range grass is generally good but lack of rain in some areas is slowing growth.

Half of the 22 counties in the Rolling Plains (Vernon) have adequate moisture. Cotton was making good growth and fruiting with early fields in the boll stage. Boll weevils are present in several counties. A small acreage of sorghum has been harvested and aphid damage is reported. Watermelons and cantaloupes are being harvested. Labor is short.

WEST TEXAS

In far West Texas, rain is needed in all counties east of the Pecos River. Counties to the west generally have adequate moisture. Ranges generally are in good condition but some in Glasscock, Sutton and surrounding counties are dry enough for fires to be hazard. Livestock were doing well and irrigated crop growth is excellent.

Hot and dry winds in West Central Texas are rapidly depleting moisture and rain is needed all through the district. Sorghum is about ready to harvest. Cotton was making good growth. Mildew is widespread on pecans but the hot weather may prevent extensive damage.

Dear Abby

To Invite Or Not To Invite

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle something for us? What do you think about sending wedding invitations, announcements of same, graduation invitations, birth announcements, etc. to out-of-town relatives who live great distances and would never make the trip? We are having a difference of opinion at our house. BOB AND BARBARA

DEAR B AND B: Those with invitations and announcements to send should know their own relatives and try to anticipate their reactions.

Some relatives would interpret such invitations and announcements as a hint for a gift. Others would feel genuinely hurt to have been overlooked. Everyone has BOTH kinds of relatives. The trick is to know which is which.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry a widower in the near future. I have a lovely diamond from my deceased husband which I have never worn in the presence of my fiance because I didn't want to upset him. But HE still wears his wedding ring from his deceased wife.

I once hinted that I thought he should put his wedding ring away, but either he did not hear me, or he chose to ignore me.

This man claims he loves me very much. Do you think he does if he continues to wear his wedding ring? Or is he living in the past? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Yes, he could love you very much and continue to wear his wedding ring. If it bothers you, don't "hint" — TELL him.

Whether he is living in the past is something only he knows. I would advise a woman to think twice before marrying a man with whom she cannot speak frankly.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a small business and employs four men. One of these men lives in our block with his wife and four young children. They aren't the nicest or neatest family on the block, but my husband has always thought the wife was tops.

I have suspected for quite some time that something was going on between the wife and my husband but I tried to overlook it. Her husband didn't seem to see this, or else he just didn't care. I do care!

Now something has to be done and I don't know where to turn. They have finally admitted what has been going on between them. She is pregnant and my husband is the father of this baby. She also admitted that the last baby she had — two years ago — was my husband's.

We have three teenaged children, and I don't want them to find out about this. I don't know where I failed as a wife. I thought I was doing a good job. I've never been unfaithful to him. I know, no matter what he says, he will continue to see this woman. He has made promises like that before, and they don't mean anything.

What should I do? I know I have grounds for divorce and wouldn't have any trouble getting one. I just haven't the money for one now.

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: If you can't afford the services of a lawyer, go to your local legal aid society. No woman has to live with a man who has fathered another woman's children.

YOUR MONEY

By CHARLES E. BEIL

There's a lot more to buying a home than finding the perfect house. For instance, where you live makes quite a difference . . . perhaps the difference between happiness and dissatisfaction with your home.

Take the neighborhood. You should ask if it is going up or down . . . declining or appreciating in value. Are the houses nearby well cared for? Is there shopping conveniently close . . . and transportation? How about schools for the children, now and in the future? Is the location in the heart of town or the suburbs, and which would you really like better?

These are just a few of the questions you need to answer. We can help you with many of your problems about a home purchase, and give you a sound estimate on how much you can (and should) finance. Because so large a part of our business is arranging home financing, we can help you avoid mistakes. When you do find the right home in the right location, we can arrange financing to suit your needs. Stop in and talk it over.

Junior Rodeo Champs Picked

By TEX ROGERS

The 23rd annual Howard County Junior Rodeo closed with a bang with cowboys and cowgirls vying for the all-around titles down to the final wire.

More than 2,500 persons were on hand as some of the best times and scores of the show were turned in at the final performance.

Diane Absher of Rankin made a strong bid for all-around cowgirl honors, the prize a handmade saddle, by finishing third in the 12 years and under barrel race, and second in 12 years and under breakaway roping.

Debbie Ferguson, Petersburg, captured the 13-15 years barrel racing competition with a two-run average of 35.82 seconds, and Kathy Bruton, San Angelo, won the 16-19 years barrel racing event in 36.06 in two runs. Winner of the 12 and under barrel race was Lisa Jo Mann, Hobbs, N.M.

Mike Carter, Coahoma, caught his calf in the final round in 11.2 and took the average in the senior calf roping with a two-calf average of 22.8.

Kathy Greenwood, Carlsbad, N.M., turned the quickest time in breakaway roping Saturday with a 4.0 seconds effort, and finished fourth in the senior class with 18.8, but Linda Blackburnt, St. Vrain, N.M., won the class with a combined time on two loops of 8.9.

In the ribbon roping, top time was made by Jesse Chesser, Riswell, Okla., while best time in pole bending was made by Jo Poarch, Hereford, in 17.30.

Bareback riding competition was finally won by Ken Welch, Roscoe, who marked a 59 late Friday, while Robert Taylor of Sweetwater had a 52.

Bull riding competition was not complete Saturday night, but James Ward, Odessa, was leading in the 13-15 years class with a 65, and Dennis Smith, Madill, Okla., and Lewis Brooks, Sweetwater, who tied with 50 points each in the senior class.

U.S. Fire Kills GIs

SAIGON (AP) - A U.S. Air Force F100 fighter-bomber accidentally strafed American troops in the A Shau Valley Saturday, killing eight men and wounding 50 with rockets and cannon fire, U.S. Headquarters reported Sunday.

It also reported that a newly arrived unit of the mechanized 5th Infantry Division "probably" fired a 50-round artillery barrage that wounded four U.S. Marines Friday and caused minor damage to a Marine logistics base two miles southwest of Dong Ha on the northern frontier.

The reports were the second and third of mis-directed U.S. fire in four days. Thursday, river forces accidentally killed 16 South Vietnamese soldiers and civilians and wounded 120 while fighting out of two Viet Cong ambushes at separate but nearby locations in the Mekong Delta.

McCarthy Refuses To Vow Support

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy refused Saturday to promise California delegates he would support the Democratic presidential nominee "no matter who he may be."

But then he came closer than he ever has to indicating he will probably support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey or another candidate if the Democratic National Convention passes him by.

NO DEAL

"I would have to examine this when we finish with the convention," he said, but added:

"I think the selection of Richard Nixon to head the Republican party is going to make my choice a lot easier."

After a half-hour session with California's 174 delegates, the Minnesota Democrat went away no more certain than when he arrived of the depth of his support within the delegation.

State Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, head of delegation, closed the meeting by announcing that the delegation "remains uncommitted and will go to Chicago as such."

The California delegation was pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. After Kennedy's assassination, the delegates pledged themselves to pursue his ideals and remain uncommited before the convention.

ISSUES

McCarthy, who finished second to Kennedy in the California primary, made no mention of the slain New York senator before the Kennedy delegates.

Asked whether he would support anyone the party nominated, McCarty told the delegates:

"For six months I've been raising certain issues across the country, prepared to divide the party if necessary. Having done that, I have the reservation that unless the position of my party and the candidate comes reasonably close to the positions I've been advocating, I'd have to reserve judgment."

McCarthy said Sen. George McGovern's candidacy, announced Saturday, would have little if any impact on the convention.

If it has any effect, McCarthy said it will be to hold his own bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Flying into Sacramento to court the state's 174 uncommitted convention delegates, McCarthy told a news conference:

"I would of course rather have had (McGovern's) endorsement than the announcement that he made. But I don't see it as having any very significant effect upon the convention or upon my chances."

Beer Barrel Blues

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Police here are investigating the case of the missing brew. Workers loading beer kegs at the Hurd Distributing Co. here Friday discovered an empty beer keg.

They checked and discovered 200 empty kegs in the warehouse —more than 3,000 missing gallons. Police said the beer apparently was taken from the kegs over a period of time. They are questioning employes of the company.

Calm Follows Miami Riots

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami officials and angry Negroes Saturday reached a truce, calling for the release of some prisoners and treatment for tear gas victims, as calm followed earlier violence.

The streets of Miami's major Negro communities, where three were killed and 18 wounded during a frenzy of gunfire, burning and bottle and rock-throwing, were quiet.

Top public officials met with residents, many of them teenagers wearing T-shirts, in a vacant grocery store on Northwest 62nd St. There an accord was reached.

Officials said the agreement called for the release from jail without bond, pending court appearances, of all those persons held on minor disturbances who do not have prior records. Those persons charged with felonies would remain in jail pending bond hearings Monday.

Also, police and National Guard were to send medical vans into the area to treat residents suffering from the effects of tear gas which hung over much of the Liberty City area Thursday and Friday.

A third point to the agreement was that National Guardsmen will remain in the area indefinitely, and enforce an 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew at least through Saturday morning.

Wakefield Tells Club Of Work

Bob Wakefield, Howard County juvenile officer, Thursday told the Big Spring Kiwanis Club of his work and of the problems he meets in dealing with youngsters who run afoul of the law. He was guest speaker and was introduced by Jim Thompson, program chairman. Thompson also presided in the absence of the president, Roscoe Newell, who is out of town.

Newell has appointed a nominating committee to select a slate of candidates for the club offices. He named John Coffey, Bill Johnson and J. C. Pickle to draw up the list. The club will elect officers for 1969 sometime in September.

Local DeMolays will be competing in bowling and golfing at the State Conclave in Galveston today through Wednesday, according to Theodore Abbott, chapter dad.

The group of 19 boys and two advisors were scheduled to leave on a chartered bus at 10 p.m. Saturday night and will return to Big Spring about midnight Wednesday, he said.

Degree and athletic competitions are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday. A noon beach party will be held Monday and a Grand Ball will be Tuesday night. Workshops and seminars will be held Tuesday morning and a business session will be held that afternoon.

Head-On Crash Injures Two

Two men were injured in a head-on collision in the 2500 block of US 80 at 1:19 p.m. Saturday.

Alert Ambulance took the two drivers to local hospitals. Beurl Wayne Braggs, 1600 Robin, was taken to Hall-Bennett Hospital where officials reported his condition as critical Saturday evening.

Bennie Eugene Hatfield, a Webb airman, was taken to Webb AFB Hospital and later air-evacuated to Lackland AFB where his condition was not immediately known.

Landowners Asked To Attend Meet

COAHOMA — All landowners with property on North First Street here have been asked by Mayor Joe Swinney to attend a "pre-construction" meeting, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the City Hall here.

The street, starting at IS 20 and extending to the north city limits, is to be widened from 30 to 60 feet, paved and curbed by the Texas Highway Department.

Right-of-way has already been obtained. Steel pole street lights will be included in the project.

Swinney said the purpose of the session was to inform the landowners what would be done. The project would likely be completed within 90 days after it is started and construction likely will begin by next weekend.

Wallace Defends RFK's Opposition To Viet War

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Third-party presidential candidate George Wallace Saturday defended the late Sen. Robert Kennedy's opposition to the Vietnam war as legitimate dissent against the administration's policies.

"Sen. Kennedy said we ought not to be in the war," Wallace told an outdoor rally, "but he didn't come back the next day and say the Communists ought to win.

"There's certainly a difference in dissent and an overt act of treason."

The former Alabama governor reiterated that if he is elected president he will order his attorney general to indict anyone who openly advocates Communist victory over U.S. forces.

A crowd estimated by newsmen at from 4,000 to 4,500 turned out to hear Wallace.

He spoke later in Winston-Salem to end a two-day fund raising and campaigning visit to North Carolina. He was in Raleigh and in Burlington Friday.

HEARING SET THURSDAY

College Budget Jumps 23 Per Cent Higher

When the public hearing comes up Thursday on the proposed budget for Howard County Junior College, the issue at point will be $1,431,346 as compared with $1,159,828 for the current year.

This figures up to 23.4 per cent increase. In the educational-operation budget, the figure is $1,195,154 as compared with $877,592 for the current year, a gain of 36.2 per cent.

Most of the increase is tied in with the vocational-technical division in its new programs. Some of these may not materialize, and the final picture could be at least $150,000 under the budget estimates. Most of the vocational-technical support comes from state-federal funds, but the college has to budget its share in event the projected programs do go.

The over-all budget figure includes $30,632 in transfers and balances, leaving an active grand total of $1,426,714 as compared with $121,465 for this year. In turn, $146,764 of the budget comes wholly out of revenues that the activities generate (dormitories, cafeteria, bookstore, etc.), leaving a general budget involving ad valorem taxes in the amount of $1,279,950. The comparable figure for this year is $869,126.

Again, debt service requirements for the next year will be $84,796, leaving the education-operation budget of $1,195,154.

Bulk of the $317,562 increase in the education-operation budget is in equipment for the vocational-technical division, $246,586 compared to $57,417 for this year. But, as mentioned above, some of the courses may not materialize.

One, involving most of the expense, is plastics technology, which is down for $212,000. There is no assurance this will get off the ground this year, although the state and industry have agreed to underwrite most of the expense.

The heavy end of any budget is in salaries, and the proposed document proposes a payroll of $688,198 as compared to a current $604,602. Of this, $17,000 is in salary adjustments for the regular faculty. The other is in vocational-technical positions, some of which may not actually come to pass.

The only major changes in projections of revenue come from vocational-technical state-federal investments of approximately $154,000 as against $58,000 this year; and local tax funds of $355,451 as compared with $256,000 this year. This is due to increasing the ad valorem assessment base from 20 per cent of actual value to 25 per cent. In taking this step, in conjunction with the county, HCJC trustees also eliminated the three per cent discount for October payments.

Mexican Gunboat Captures Texas Fishing Vessel

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A Mexican gunboat seized a Texas fishing vessel in the Gulf of Mexico for unknown reasons Saturday, the Coast Guard reported.

"The fishing boat "Stingray" was understood to have been taken under tow in the direction to Tampico, Mex.

Aboard the Texas boat, according to the Coast Guard, were skipper James Sylvester and crewmen Ernest Botiscue and Troy Osborn, all of Brownsville.

A spokesman at Eighth District Coast Guard headquarters in New Orleans said "presumably the Texas boat would have been fishing in Mexican waters, but we don't really know how far they were from shore—only that they said they were 30 miles south of Brownsville and in 17 fathoms."

Canadian Mail Being Accepted

The office here has not been able to handle Canadian mail for several weeks due to a postal workers strike in Canada. The strike apparently has been ended, Hardesty said.

HemisFair Or Political Fare?

Gov. John Connally of Texas and Vice President Hubert Humphrey find time for a serious discussion during a tour of the HemisFair in San Antonio Saturday. Gov. Connally has been mentioned as a possible running mate for Democratic presidential hopeful Humphrey. The HemisFair visit is part of a two-day Texas campaign by Humphrey, following a visit with President Johnson at the LBJ ranch.

1928 and Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

A second major development of the week was the endorsement of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., for Democratic nomination for president.

Yarborough did this as McCarthy spent most of the day and all night at Houston seeking support and campaign funds. It was almost a foregone conclusion that Yarborough would endorse McCarthy, if anyone, since the senator's long-time political enemy, Gov. John Connally, is the favorite son of the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention.

ROUSING RALLY

How much effect Yarborough's endorsement will have is a question since the delegation contains a preponderance of Humphrey votes, including that of Gov. Connally.

McCarthy attended a rousing political rally and then watched a rally of another sort in the Astrodome. The Houston Astros were behind 1-0 when McCarthy sat down, then surged ahead to beat Pittsburgh 2-1.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, running for Democratic nomination for president, made a two-day affair of it.

His visitation began Friday at the Johnson Ranch, billed first as merely a courtesy call. But it turned into a briefing on recent foreign affairs, an economic report and talk about legislation pending in Congress.

From there, Humphrey flew to Corpus Christi for a rousing welcome, particularly from Mexican-Americans. But there were some McCarthy demonstrators, too. It was billed as a non-political visit but Humphrey acted like a candidate.

It was 11:25 p.m. when Humphrey reached San Antonio an hour late yet an estimated 2,500 persons waited up for him at the airport.

REPUBLICANS

Saturday in San Antonio, the candidate attended several meetings, toured the San Antonio World's Fair and went to a picnic featuring Mexican food.

Republican presidential nominee Richard Nixon and his vice presidential running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, flew into San Antonio with their families from Miami Beach en route to San Diego, Calif., for 10 days of campaign strategy sessions.

As per arrangement, Nixon and Agnew took off by helicopter for the LBJ Ranch. Because of the illness of Nixon's younger daughter, Julie, the womenfolk remained behind in San Antonio.

TOMATO GROWERS—EAT YOUR HEARTS OUT
Mrs. Franklin McDonald and samples of home-grown Missouri tomatoes

Giant Tomatoes Are Welcome Gifts

By SAM BLACKBURN

Speaking of tomatoes — how about the ones that Mrs. Franklin McDonald, 2506 Central gets from her father-in-law?

Folk hereabout are often quite proud of the tomatoes their plants are yielding — particularly this year. They even call up the newspaper and ask that a photographer come out and make a picture of their product.

MISSOURI GROWN

But the tomatoes which 76-year-old J. W. McDonald, of Springfield, Mo., grows are something else again.

The old gentleman recently shipped Mrs. McDonald a carton of tomatoes from his small garden with an apology.

These, he explained, were not quite all he had hoped for. Soon, he said, he would ship Mrs. McDonald some really big ones.

Until these "really big ones" arrive, Mrs. McDonald figures the samples sent will do. She took five of the tomatoes at random and they weighed around seven pounds. Four are all that she can hold in both hands.

Her father-in-law has only 40 tomato plants, but from the samples he sent, he stands to raise tons of tomatoes. He said the plants are the Winsall variety. He has been specializing in these plants for six years. Each season he ships Mr. and Mrs. McDonald several parcels of the gargantuan tomatoes.

"We eat what we can and we keep our neighbors and friends pretty well supplied," said Mrs. McDonald.

The big tomatoes are irregularly shaped and marked by deep ravines. However, when they are peeled, not a bit of luscious red interior is lost. They are described by those who have sampled them as most delicious tasting.

The McDonalds make no effort to produce Howard County tomatoes to compete with those grown by McDonald's green-thumbed father.

IN BOTTLES

The elder McDonald's other hobby, gardenwise, is growing monster cucumbers inside bottles. These, when they have filled the bottle, are immersed in vinegar and sealed. They keep for years and are as much a conversation piece as the old "ship-in-the-bottle" so often seen in the gay '90's.

Only Pride Can Wipe Out Litter

By JEAN FANNIN

Elimination of litter is a matter of civic pride rather than police enforcement, and it takes the will of the people to accomplish anything on an anti-litter campaign, according to Larry Crow, city manager.

Prosecution of a litter case requires positive identification by a witness, and the accused is guaranteed all the rights of a person accused of any other criminal offense — including trial by jury, Tom Huckaby, city attorney, said.

"Complaints are rarely filed because of the private citizen's apathy," Huckaby said. "I cannot remember ever having a private citizen complain about litter — other than complaints about vacant property or businesses allowing trash to blow onto neighboring property."

An L-Squad, working on the same principles as the T-Men, was planned by the Public Health and Safety and the City Planning committees of the Chamber of Commerce, but never materialized.

"We looked at the possibilities but unless it was handled as a city-wide program we felt that we could not go ahead with it," Joe Price said. "Without a concerted effort and well-defined goals we didn't feel it would do much good," he said.

The L-Squad would include private citizens, principally members of garden clubs suggesting the program, who would report violations of city litter ordinances. Violators would then be sent letters reminding them of the litter ordinances and asking them for co-operation.

Big Spring has a regular litter ordinance of a general nature as well as several of specific nature and it is these which are enforced most rigidly, Huckaby said. Owner requirements are the easiest to enforce; general litter ordinances are almost impossible to enforce, he said.

The city keeps the streets cleaned and individual property owners are responsible for keeping the accumulating litter cleared off their property. City crews are kept busy clearing public and private vacant property, Ernest Lillard, director of public works, said.

Neighborhood Youth Corps workers assisted city crews in a city-wide clean-up campaign during June and cleaned 468 blocks, using three flat bed trucks to haul 317 loads of trash, according to the monthly report.

Crews picked up 103 loads of trash in March, 167 regular loads and 35 loads on special request in February, and 403 regular loads and 32 loads on special request in January, Lillard said. In May the street sweeper swept 445 miles to remove 521 cubic yards of trash, he said.

Main enforcement of city litter ordinances concerns alleys and usually comes from sanitation workers in the city-county health unit, Huckaby said.

Penalties range from $1 to $200 fines, depending on the type of offense. Cases are handled in corporation court under Judge W. H. Eyssen.

DEMAND GROWING FASTER THAN SUPPLY

Farm Agencies Snap Up College Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relatively few farm youth today go to college with the intention of later becoming farmers, but thousands enter fields associated with agriculture and the demand is growing faster than the supply.

Industry estimates of job openings in this expanding field range up to 20,000 annually, but government surveys show only about 7,000 young men and women are graduating annually from agricultural schools.

The Department of Agriculture is a major competitor for the yearly college crop and so far has had no trouble recruiting top graduates, says Carl B. Barnes, director of personnel for the department.

Barnes' job includes supervision of the department's hiring practices and keeping an eye on the expanding needs of the future.

1,350 OVERSEAS

On June 30 the department employed 122,715 persons, including 104,391 on a full-time basis. About 13,000 work in the Washington area, and approximately 1,350 are overseas.

Most are scattered throughout the country and include accountants, forest rangers, meat inspectors, engineers and veterinarians.

The department has a highly developed and successful recruiting program aimed at bringing top college people into the government fold, Barnes said. Of about 10,000 persons hired annually, around 3,000 are of college-graduate level.

At the heart of the department's recruiting is the land grant college system which provides most of the agriculturally-oriented graduates.

Department agency people are represented on most of the 66 land grant campuses and are in excellent positions to recruit likely students to be soil scientists, agricultural engineers or whatever job positions are available, Barnes said.

"The result is that we have sort of a lock-up on these land grant colleges for the best students they can produce," Barnes said. "We are always able to supply our needs. This isn't to say, though, that we couldn't use more young, bright people with certain specialties."

RECRUITING

The department's Soil Conservation Service has people located on 24 of the land grant institutions: the Agricultural Research Service operates on 41, and the Economic Research Service is located on 35, Barnes said.

The SCS—which provides technical assistance to farmers on soil and water conservation—has pioneered a recruiting system that is catching on with other agencies.

When an SCS employe spots a likely candidate, the student is offered a summer job after his freshman year. If he works out, the student is given a furlough from employment to return to his studies in the fall.

The process is repeated each year, with appropriate wage increases, so that by graduation both the SCS and the student knows much about the other. This system is "very effective" in recruiting top talent, Barnes said.

One of the "critical elements" now and for the immediate future, he said, is to find replacements for thousands of employes who are due for retirement.

CHANGING PATTERNS

Also, he said, the changing patterns of American life and the aims of government to meet the challenges of urban - rural balance are complicating needs for future employment.

Rural community planning is an important part of tomorrow's problem, Barnes said.

"We don't have people who can do this," he said. "We have part of them—people who are skilled at solving part of the problem—and this is one of the things we are working with colleges on, trying to get them to offer more courses and to encourage students to enter the field."

Employes Of County May Get Raises

Howard County Commissioners Court will consider a pay hike for elective and appointive county officials and workers when it gets around to its drafting of the 1968 budget.

The court is supposed to begin work Monday on the budget which must be completed and ready for its public hearing by Sept. 9.

The proposed wage increases will be discussed, and it was felt that some adjustment of salaries upward would be made in the new budget.

No general pay raise has been made for county officials and workers in a decade. It is argued that the cost of living has gone higher and higher, and that the low salaries make it extremely difficult for the officials to keep competent workers.

The county officers, with the exception of the county treasurer and the county commissioners, are now paid $600 a month which is said to be well under the officer salary bracket in other counties in this area of comparable population and income to Howard County.

The $275 average pay for deputy clerks in the offices, falls well under the average pay for similar work in private employment, officials said.

Reports are that the county will have enough funds next year to make pay adjustment, if the court elects to do so.

ARE YOU A QUICK EATER?

A major Agricultural Department report shows that diets at all income levels are, nutritionally speaking, much worse now than they were ten years ago. Hurried breakfasts and lunches are leaving little time for well balanced meals. A hamburger and a bottle of soda-pop are not enough to supply all the necessary vitamins and minerals.

Teenagers and college students are usually careless about their meals. Just one good vitamin capsule can insure that they get a daily supply of the needed vitamins and minerals. We have them in stock.

CHARLES BAILEY SURVIVES TEST

Medalist Is Ousted

By NATE MITCHELL

Charles Bailey shot a sizzling 68 to defeat Novis Womack, 4-3, in Championship Flight first round competition in the annual City Open Golf Tournament now in progress at the Municipal Golf Course here Saturday. Both Bailey and Womack birdied holes Four and Six, but Bailey's hot putter sizzled throughout the match. Womack carded a 75 for the afternoon.

"It was just one of those days when everything seemed to fall in place," Bailey said later, "but the tourney is still a long way from being over."

Bailey's game received a shot in the arm earlier in the week when he shot a hole-in-one at the same course.

Medalist Bob Waters failed in his bid for victory, when Phil Howe fired a 71 to defeat him, 5-3.

In other action in the kingpin flight Saturday, Jackie Thomas upset Ted Gross, 4-3; Marvin Williams edged Ronnie Broadrick, 4-3; and Jimmy Newsom nipped Rich Pachall, 1-up.

Defending titlist Don Lovelady challenges Jerry Barron today at 1 p.m., as does Bernard Rains when he takes on Ken Chadd. Earlier, Adam Ramos nipped Spot Cockrell, 3-1, in the opening round of the same flight.

In the Fourth Flight, Ernest Welch decked Rich Arnold, 2-1, to advance to the semi-finals. In the opening round, Welch had defeated Jack White, 5-4.

In other action Saturday, E. S. Morgan measured R. D. McCullough, 2-up; Jimmy Stewart defeated Mike Treadaway, 6-5, in the Fifth Flight; and Milton Jones outlasted Bill Crooker, 9-7, in the kingpin group of the Junior Division.

Awards valued at $77 will be presented the winner, runner-up and consolation winner in each of the eight flights at the meet's end Aug. 25. The prizes will be $40, $25 and $12 in gift certificates redeemable at the pro shop at the Muny course. Entry fee was $5 per entrant.

The pairings for the second round in the Championship group show Bailey meeting the winner of the Lovelady-Barron match; Ramos challenges Williams; Howe takes on Thomas; and Newsom locks horns with the winner of the Rains-Chadd bout.

In the First Flight, Randy Nicholson meets Jim Welch; R. P. Nicholson plays Buck Buchanan; Bob Smoth tackles Chub Moser; and Bob Rogers tries his luck against Jimmy Smartt.

Dewey Byers vs. the winner of the G. F. Wilkerson-Tom Mills match; John Ed Brown vs. Buddy Clinton; B. M. Butler vs. J. C. Self; and Nile Cole vs. Dexter Pate are opponents in the second round of the Second Flight.

In the Third, Paul Soldan meets the winner of the Jim Petty-Bob Nobles match; Ken Griffin plays Ralph Walker; Tom Rutledge challenges Lonnie Clanton; and Don Hale vies with the winner of the O. A. Madison-Luther Thompson match.

The Fourth Flight matches J. P. Allen against the winner of the J. P. Gordon-Charles Mastrand match; Miller Harris vs. the victor of the John Hill-Danny McCrary match; and Jack Mundell vs. Hershell Harris. (Ernest Welch has already downed Richie Arnold, 3-1, in his second round bid of this flight).

Pairings in the Fifth Flight find Jim Tidwell going against the winner of the Omer Decker-J. D. Campbell match; Charles Dunnam vs. M. D. Newton; Fred Brown vs. Jim Williams; and R. D. McCullough taking on E. S. Morgan.

Bies Scorches Akron Course To Take Lead

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Part-time player Don Bies made a shambles of the treacherous Firestone Country Club layout Saturday, shooting a course record six-under-par 64 for the third-round lead in the $125,000 American Golf Classic.

The 30-year-old Seattle pro, who never has won a tournament, charged into a two-stroke lead over Bill Campbell and Arnold Palmer with a 54-hole total of 206. He was four-under-par for the distance.

Bies, describing his performance as "the finest round I've ever had," blitzed the rugged 7,180-yard Firestone layout with six birdies in a near flawless exhibition of golf.

Campbell, the 1964 U.S. amateur champion and Palmer shared second place with 208s.

Palmer, who has won the classic twice and never finished worse than fourth in this tournament, posted a 68.

Four strokes behind at even par 210 were Bert Yancey, who shot a 69; Frank Beard, 69; Rod Funseth, 70; Art Wall, 70; Canadian George Knudson, 72, and Lee Elder, 72.

Jack Nicklaus, who finished with a 72, was in a seven-way tie at 211 with PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters champ Bob Goalby, Ray Floyd, John Schlee, Bob Lunn and Johnny Pott.

Mets, Giants Split Pair

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bob Bolin fired a four-hitter and Bob Barton's run-scoring single in the fourth inning gave the San Francisco Giants a 1-0 victory over New York Saturday for a doubleheader split with the Mets.

The Mets won the first game 3-1 behind the five-hit pitching of rookie Jerry Koosman.

Bolin struck out nine Mets in the nightcap in outpitching New York rookie Jim McAndrew for his sixth victory against three setbacks.

It was the third major league start for McAndrew, 0-3, and the Mets have yet to score a run for him.

Jesus Alou opened the Giants' fourth with a single, took second on a ground out and scored the game's only run on Barton's single to center.

The Mtes struck for three runs in the sixth inning of the opener, breaking up a scoreless duel between Koosman, 15-7, and loser Gaylord Perry, 10-11.

Ed Kranepool beat out an infield hit, Ed Charles singled and Kranepool scored the first run on a throwing error by second baseman Bob Schroder. Phil Linz then stroked a two-run single, capping the decisive rally.

Willie McCovey, who had three of the Giants hits, ruined Koosman's shutout bid in the ninth by blasting his 29th homer.

Yanks Lose Despite Two Four-Masters By Mantle

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Merritt fired a four-hitter and survived two Mickey Mantle home runs, pitching the Minnesota Twins to a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees Saturday.

Merritt struck out 11 and allowed only two base runners after the fourth inning, picking up his eighth victory in 20 decisions.

The Twins hopped on loser Stan Bahnsen, 10-8, for two runs in the second when Bob Allison opened with a double. Allison went to third on a ground out and with the Yankee infield drawn in, Bruce Look bounced a hit off Horace Clarke's glove for a run. Mickey Mantle's error and a single by Cesar Tovar drove in another run.

Mantle lined his 12th home run of the season and 530th lifetime in the fourth inning. It was his first since June 29. He tagged No. 13 leading off in the ninth.

Look singled in the seventh, moved to second on Merritt's sacrifice and scampered home on Tovar's hit, restoring Minnesota's two-run edge.

Bruins Shock Cincy, 8-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — Reliever Ted Abernathy forced in the go-ahead run with a bases-loaded walk in the seventh inning and the Chicago Cubs went on to trim the Cincinnati Reds 8-5 Saturday night.

The Cubs broke a 3-3 deadlock with two runs in the seventh and added three more in the eighth. Winner Phil Regan, 9-2, survived a two-run homer by the Reds' Lee May in the bottom of the eighth.

Glenn Beckert's single, a double by Billy Williams and an intentional walk filled the bases in the seventh before Abernathy walked Dick Nen and Randy Hundley followed with a run-scoring single.

Ron Santo singled in two runs and Nen's single delivered another in the eighth.

Don Kessinger's two-run single and Williams' bases-empty homer staked Cubs starter Joe Niekro to a 3-0 lead, but the Reds countered on a run-scoring pinch double by Jim Beauchamp in the bottom of the fifth and Tony Perez' two-run single in the sixth.

Cash Smashes 17th Homer; Tigers Win

DETROIT (AP) — Norm Cash smacked his 17th homer of the year in the eighth inning snapping a tie and carrying the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 victory over Boston Saturday and ending a five-game Red Sox winning streak.

Cash connected leading off against reliever Bill Landis in the eighth after clutch relief pitching by Mickey Lolich had stifled a Boston threat in the top half of the inning.

Lolich stranded two runners, striking out pinch hitter George Scott and getting Jerry Adair on a fly ball to end the eighth. He picked up his ninth victory.

Lolich struck out the side in the ninth, wrapping up the victory for the first place Tigers.

Streaking O's Triumph, 1-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Don Buford's third inning sacrifice fly and Gene Brabender's two-hit pitching carried the streaking Baltimore Orioles past California 1-0 Saturday night in a game halted by rain after five innings.

Dave Johnson singled, Mark Belanger walked and Brabender sacrificed before Buford delivered the only run with a fly to left, giving the Orioles their fifth consecutive victory.

Brabender, 4-3, limited the Angels to singles by Ed Kirkpatrick in the first inning and Tom Satriano in the second before the rains came at the start of the sixth.

Johnson's single and two singles by Buford were the only hits off losing pitcher Tom Murphy, 4-5.

Forsan Launches Drills Aug. 19

FORSAN — Coach Oscar Boeker has requested that candidates for the 1968 Forsan High School football team gather at the Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital in Big Spring at 4 p.m. Wednesday to undergo physical examinations.

Boeker is expecting about 30 boys when the Buffaloes launch workouts next Monday morning. More will likely report as the opening of school nears.

Boeker has a tentative scrimmage lined up with Roseville here the night of Aug. 30 and the Buffaloes will go against Imperial in another scrimmage here Sept. 6.

The Bisons expect to improve upon a 3-6-1 record and will benefit from graduates of B and junior high units.

Larry Tolson, a senior who confined his play to the B team last year because he was a transfer from Moab, Utah, likely will quarterback the Bisons this fall.

Tolson's presence on the squad means that Clayton McKinnon, a regular at the post the past two seasons, will perform at fullback. McKinnon is considered a powerful runner, the kind that excels at the fullback spot.

David Myers, another hard runner, likely will play the tailback spot for the Buffaloes but Boeker is still seeking a wingback to round out the starting backfield. It could be Bobby Davis, Doyle Wetsel or Jeff Williams.

William Barnes, who has taught at Butterfield the past two years, has been hired to help Jack Adams with coaching duties on the junior high level.

Don Stevens, the head basketball coach, is back to assist Boeker with varsity duties.

The Buffaloes will work out twice daily until school starts, from 8 until 9:30 a.m. and again from about 6:30 until 8 p.m.

Forsan opens its 1968 season against Abilene Central Catholic at home the night of Sept. 13. The Bisons, now members of District 6-B, play their first three contests in the local stadium.

Montreal Planning On Improving Park

NEW YORK (AP) — Construction work on the temporary home of Montreal's new baseball team can start almost immediately after the club's financial backers make their first payment to the National League, Warren Giles, the NL president, said Saturday.

"We're sticking to the Aug. 15 deadline," said Giles, referring to the due date of the initial payment to the league of $1,120,000. "I am confident about the financing."

Jarry Park, situated in North Montreal, is to be used by the team representing the Canadian metropolis until 1972 when a permenant Astrodome-type dome stadium will be ready, Giles said. "We are hopeful that the permanent site will be completed even before that," he added.

Giles explained that the Autostade, originally selected as the new team's temporary home, was inadequate. "I saw it and was not too happy with it," he said. "It is primarily a football field and the Montreal Alouttes of the Canadian Football League have a lease to play there this year.

"This would have delayed construction work which wouldn't have been able to start until the real cold weather set in."

The NL president explained that Jarry Park's present 3,000 seating capacity would be increased by about 30,000 seats.

"The park and its playing field will be fine as an interim facility," Giles said.

Giles added that he had "great confidence in the future of Montreal as a baseball city."

Montreal and San Diego were awarded franchises in the NL last May 27 as the circuit expanded from 10 to 12 teams. Since then, there have been intermittent reports about financial difficulties being run into by the Montreal owners.

In Washington, Rep. Henry S. Reuss (D-Wis) said he wired Eckert urging the commissioner to call a meeting of the National League as soon as possible to reverse the decision granting Montreal the franchise.

"Milwaukee is ready to resume its rightful place as a major league city in 1969," Reuss said in the telegram. "Apparently, Montreal is not."

Fun In Store For Fans In Contest Here Today

A lot of fun and a lot of baseball are on tap at Steer Park this afternoon when the Big Spring Cardinals attire themselves in women's clothing and play the first game of a doubleheader at 1 p.m.

According to co-managers Chico Rubio and Benny Marquez, the opening four-inning farce is planned to warm up the fans for the rematch between the local Cards and the visiting Lamesa Cardinals, which gets under way around 2:30 p.m.

In last Sunday's imbroglio at Lamesa, Big Spring's representatives unloaded on the hosts, 9-1. The Lamesa team, comprised mostly of high school boys, will be out to put up a better showing today.

Starting line-up for the locals includes Felix Martinez at second; Jessie Zapata in center field; Pano Rodriquez at first and Tony Martinez at shortstop.

Also, Jimmy Wilson at Tony's old position of third base; Charlie Rodriquez in left field; Johnny Olaque in right and Abel Ramirez behind the plate. Either Jim Newman (4-0) or Tom Hamm (4-1) will get the mound call.

In reserves will be Mingo Rubio, Andy Gamboa Jr., and Joe Martinez, along with Marquez and Rubio.

Members of the Red Bird aggregation will combine with standouts from the Big Spring Tigers squad for a tournament in Snyder later in the week.

A Leap In Time

Dave Nelson, Cleveland, leaps out of the way of the flying spikes of Walter Williams, Chicago, who is forced out at second base Saturday in Chicago. Williams got on by a single, but was forced out at second when teammate Luis Aparicio grounded to Indians shortstop Chico Salmon, who flipped to Nelson. Cleveland won, 3-2.

More Scoring Likely In College Football

By The Associated Press

Watch for more scoring in college football's 100th season.

The rules-makers have set it up that way.

It's not that the offensive team will get a special advantage. There just will be more plays per game this year and therefore more opportunities to score.

The rules changes include a stipulation there will be an officials' time out every time a team makes a first down. Result: There will be about 20 more times out per game, each time preserving valuable seconds which used to evaporate as the clock kept moving.

LONGER GAMES

longer. In an effort to prevent them from getting out of hand, the time out was reduced in length from two minutes to a minute and a half each.

"That new rule is going to be a big factor this season," say Boston College. "You can get in a lot of extra plays." Nearly all of his coaching fraternity brothers agree.

"That new rule is going to be a big factor this season," says Joe Yukica, new head coach at Boston College. "You can get in a lot of extra plays." Nearly all of his coaching fraternity brothers agree.

The most dramatic application of the rule will come, of course, when a team makes a first down near the opponents' goal line in the final seconds. Even if the offensive club has used up all of its times out it can still get in at least one more play.

Punt coverage will revert to traditional form this year. The 1967 rule which said interior linemen could not cross the line of scrimmage until after the ball had been kicked has been revoked.

There was much ado about the provision last fall, some coaches turning crimson at their distaste for it. Facts prove there were more yards gained on punt runbacks as a result of it.

Southern California's Mike Battle led the nation with 570 yards returning punts in 1967. The previous fall the major college leader was Wyoming's Vic Washington with 443 yards.

It is doubtful if the rule was as disasterous as some quarters made it out but things are now status quo again in the kicking game.

The rest of the rules changes won't be noticed at all by the average fan.

CAN'T BLOCK

A player signalling fair catch of a punt can no longer block anyone. Previously he could fake a fair catch, normally inside his 10 yard line and then block out an opponent to prevent him from downing the ball before it reached the end zone. The player can still fake the fair catch but can't throw a block afterward.

Pros Gave Actor A Rugged Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Once, doing a movie scene, actor Alan Alda had to dive into a bay swarming with man-eating sharks.

"Believe me, that was child's play compared with scrimmaging with those football monsters," the young Pennsylvanian said, recalling his tribulations as a fill in for a substitute replacing a fourth-string quarterback for the Detroit Lions.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

ALAN ALDA

Alda was chosen to pretend he was author George Plimpton, who pretended he was a pro signal-caller while researching material for his best-selling book, The Paper Lion, now made into a movie.

If Plimpton was a Paper Lion, Alda has to be classified as a tissue-paper Lion, and he's happy to still be alive.

"They picked me because Plimpton didn't look enough like Plimpton," Alda, a slim six-footer, said. "My dad (Robert Alda, also a well-known actor) had me on the stage at 16. I never got to play any sports.

"While filming the movie in Florida, I had five quarterbacks showing me how to throw a football—a coach for each finger.

"Milt Plum told me that to throw the ball successfully I had to get a callous on my first finger. The only callouses I got was where I sit down.

"I was on my back so much I think I did post-graduate work in astrology."

Most of the football scenes were shot last February at St. Andrews Prep School in Boca Raton, Fla., where the Miami Dolphins also operated a summer camp. All the Lions played themselves—much to the discomfort of Alda.

"They tried to be gentle with me but these guys don't have power brakes," Alda explained. "Imagine fellows like Alex Karras (245 pounds), Darris McCord (250) and Roger Brown (300) coming at you head-on.

"If they just fall on you—gently—it's like a building coming down in an earthquake. Karras kicked me accidentally once and I hobbled for days. I had bruises and bumps all over me. But it was interesting."

In playing Plimpton, a Walter Mitty character, Alda also had to pitch against the Yankees and box Sugar Ray Robinson.

"Robinson bloodied my nose and I got a little shaky when a funny look came into his eyes—a sort of hypnotic glaze," Alda said. "As for baseball, I had never thrown a ball in my life. I threw a ball too close to one of those guys' head. I don't know his name. He didn't duck. He just glowered. I thought I'd get a bat wrapped around my head."

HE'S BELIEVER IN STATUS QUO

Phil Bengston Is Man On Spot With Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Phil Bengtson is a man on the spot.

For the new Green Bay Packers' coach, there seems to be only one way to go, and that's down. But the sages who are predicting the demise of the Packers aren't taking into consideration Bengtson's philosophy. He believes in the status quo.

"We won't be satisfied with anything less than No. 4," Bengtson says, referring to the Packers' three consecutive National Football League championships.

Vince Lombardi stepped out of the coaching post after leading the Packers to six NFL titles and to two consecutive Super Bowl crowns. In nine years, Lombardi's teams won 141 games, lost 39 and tied four, including both preseason and postseason clashes.

Bengtson, who came to Green Bay with Lombardi as his top assistant, has been the quiet man in the background who has shaped the vaunted Packer defense. Last season, the Pack led the NFL in seven defensive categories, not to mention over-all team defense.

Willie Davis, 6-foot-3 and 245 pounds, and Lionel Aldridge, 6-4 by 245, anchor the defensive line. Ron Kostelnik at 6-4, 240, and Henry Jordan, 6-3, 250, provide an agile, mobile and hostile interior.

Top draft choice Fred Carr, 6-5, 240, will get a shot at tight end

The linebackers, considered the finest trio in football, are Dave Robinson, 6-3 and 245; Ray Nitschke, 6-3, 240, and Lee Roy Caffey, 6-3, 250.

Both Herb Adderly, 6-1, 210, starting his eighth year, and six-year veteran Bob Jeter, 6-1, 205, have been All-Pro picks at cornerback. Willie Wood, 5-10, 190, is another All-NFL performer at safety, aided by five-year veteran Tom Brown, 6-1, 190.

Offensively, the Packers are just as strong.

Jets Likely To Leave One Frosh Behind

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Jets have been taking a close look at a free agent this past week, but it's a sure bet he'll be gone by Monday.

The free agent has been working out diligently and has been listening closely to Coach Weeb Ewbank at team meetings, at least most of the time. There's only one problem — his size is against him.

He's Swifty Sample, more formally known as Barkley Eugene Sample, and he's the five-year-old son of Johnny Sample, veteran defensive back for the American Football League club.

PART OF CAMP

Swifty has been enjoying a unique vacation before he has to start school in September, spending a week in the Jets' camp with his father.

The vacation, however, will end Monday when his father and the rest of the Jets go to Houston for an exhibition game. Instead of going to Houston, as he would like to, he will go home to Philadelphia.

While here, Swifty has been attending workouts and meetings. He eats with the team, he rooms with his father and he is the envy of the multitude of youngsters who crowd into Jets' practice sessions.

While his father works out, Swifty keeps busy throwing a football around, diving over tackling dummies and chewing bubble gum.

LIKE BIG FELLOWS

Before one of the practices, young Sample consented to stand still long enough to be interviewed. He was carrying his father's helmet and his wrists were tapped in the best tradition of football players.

Q. How old are you?

A. I'm five years old, and I have a three-years- (sic) old sister. I'm fast because I have the fas sing sneakers. I have two pairs of them. I got them in New York.

Q. What do you do here?

A. I work out here. I play football and go on the field and I go to meetings.

Odessa Angels Host Bengals

The Big Spring Tigers journey to Odessa this afternoon to tangle with that city's Angels in a semiprofessional baseball game. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

In last Sunday's action, the Bengals split a twinbill with the San Angelo Lions here in Steer Park. The visitors won the opener, 8-1, but succumbed to the no-hit pitching of fireballer Bob Griffin (3-1) to the tune of 5-0 in the nightcap.

Next Thursday through Sunday, the Tigers combine their better players with those of the Big Spring Cardinals and compete in the annual Snyder Interdivisional Baseball tournament at Snyder. The Bengals are the defending champions.

In today's scrap, manager Tom Arista, Sr., will open the action with Rod Roberts at shortstop; Pogie Rodriquez at second; Billy Weatherall at first and Boo Boo Pineda at third base.

Tom Arista Jr. in left, Jody Flores in center and John Renteria in right field round out the back up for either Gary Miears (4-1) or Tony Fierro (4-1) on the mound and Jimmy Fierro behind the plate.

The Tigers are 13-4 in the won-lost department for the season.

Sens Stopped In One-Hitter

WASHINGTON (AP) — John "Blue Moon" Odom and two relievers combined for a one-hitter and Oakland defeated Washington 4-1 Saturday.

Frank Howard's run - scoring double in the first inning against Odom was Washington's only hit. Diego Segui and Jack Aker hit the last two outs after a walk and a hit batsman in the ninth.

Reggie Jackson's 19th homer broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth inning and sent Frank Bertaina to his 11th defeat against four victories. The A's scored in the first on Bert Campaneris leadoff double and two outfield flies.

The A's wrapped it up against Bertaina in the sixth. Ric Monday walked, and stole second and scored on Jim Pagliaroni's single.

Mike Hershberger hit into a double play but Odom was hit by a pitch, took second on a passed ball, third on Jim French's throwing error, and scored when Hank Allen dropped Campaneris' liner for an error.

Briles On Mound In Card Victory

ATLANTA (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals broke open a tight game with a five-run ninth inning burst Saturday and blasted the Atlanta Braves 7-1 behind right-hander Nelson Briles for their fourth consecutive victory.

The victory gave the National League leaders a 12-2 bulge over the Braves in season play.

Briles, the losing pitcher in the only two games won by Atlanta, scattered nine hits in bringing his season mark to 15-7.

The Cardinals scored twice in the first inning when Lou Brock and Curt Flood laced doubles and Bob Tolan followed with a run-scoring single before Milt Pappas, 8-8, could retire a batter.

Orlando Cepeda belted his 12th homer in the ninth off reliever Cecil Upshaw and the Cards added four more runs on a walk and singles by Mike Shannon, Julian Javier, Dal Maxvill, Briles, Brock and Flood.

Luis Tiant Ends Indian 5-Game Losing Streak

CHICAGO (AP) — Luis Tiant registered his 18th victory with a five-hitter Saturday, pitching Cleveland to a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox that ended a five-game Indian losing streak.

Tiant, who has seven losses, yielded three hits in the first inning when the Sox scored a pair of runs. Duane Josephson singled home one and another counted on center fielder Jose Cardenal's bad throw.

After that, Tiant choked off the Sox effectively. He struck out 10.

Wilbur Wood, 8-6, relief knuckleballer making his second start of the season, checked the Tribe on two hits until the sixth inning when Cleveland produced three runs on a double by Cardenal, successive singles by Lou Johnson, Tony Horton and Joe Azcue, and Chico Salmon's sacrifice fly.

In Church League softball here Friday night, Heart of Mary Catholic swarmed all over Kentwood Methodist, 13-3. Marvin Williams collected the only safe blow for the Methodists, while the Catholic team smashed six safeties to bolster their big run output.

The Catholics scored four runs in the opening stanza, collected four more in the fourth and salted away the victory with a five-run outburst in the fifth. Kentwood scored all of its runs in the final fifth inning.

In the nightcap, Salem Baptist edged Berea Baptist, 4-3, by rallying for all of its runs in the final inning — over-coming a three-run deficit. For the victors, Rod Brooks, Ray Walker and Carroll Walker smashed two safeties each, while Darrell Pittman managed a similar feat for Berea.

Many Ex-Spartans In Pro Football

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Wherever you might travel around the country to watch a pro football game, or if you are a television viewer of the sport, you're likely to spot a player from Michigan State.

As near as the MSU coaches can figure it out, the Spartans have 18 regulars playing on National Football League teams and nearly a dozen with the American Football League.

This is not counting the rookies from last year's crop.

The list supplied by the coaches has to be tentative of course. It could change rapidly.

Especially before the start of the regular season, players are traded as actively as stocks on the New York Exchange.

They are dropped off teams, sometimes kicked off and sometimes walk out.

In the National Football League, however, it is figured that Michigan State has supplied more material than any other college team.

Al Dorow, MSU offensive backfield coach, is an old pro himself and played in both leagues.

Dorow has some pretty sound reasoning when he talks about why so many Michigan Staters are picked up for the play-for-pay leagues.

"Duffy Daugherty is probably the dean of the college recruiters," Dorow said of the head football coach.

"That's one of his strong points. He has been able to recruit some of the best high school super-stars from all around the country."

Dorow said good coaching has a lot to do with it too.

"And Michigan State plays top competition in the Big Ten. Outside the conference, we play some strong teams too — like Notre Dame," he said.

At latest tabulation by the coaches, here are the former Spartans reporting back as regulars this year in the two leagues:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Detroit Lions—Ron Goovert, Jerry Rush.
Minnesota Vikings — Clint Jones, Gene Washington.
Baltimore Colts — Bubba Smith.
Dallas Cowboys — Pete Gent, Dave Manders.
St. Louis Cardinals — Ernie Clark, Lonnie Sanders, Buddy Owens.
Philadelphia Eagles — Gary Ballman.
New York Giants — Earl Morrall.
Washington Redskins — Jim Ninowski.
Cleveland Browns — Jim Kanicki.
Green Bay Packers — Herb Adderley.
Pittsburgh Steelers — Fran O'Brien.
Chicago Bears — Dick Gordon.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Houston Oilers — George Webster.
Oakland Raiders — Dave Behrman.
New York Jets — Dave Herman, Paul Rochester, Jeff Richards.
Kansas City Chiefs — Fred Arbanas, Ed Lothamer, Ed Budde.
Buffalo Bills — George Saimes.
Denver Broncos — Drake Garrett.

Don Currie, who has been in the pros nine years, still is trying to make a connection after being dropped. Currie wants a 10th year to be eligible for pension rights and may be picked up yet.

Not included on the list are the graduates from last year's team that lost seven and won only three.

Baseball Is Thriving In Land Of Castro

HAVANA (AP) —A woman using empty toilet paper rolls for hair curlers was on her feet screaming as the ball bounced off a sign promoting armed revolution and fell behind the fence for a home run.

The broad shouldered Cuban outfielder found his teammates waiting at the plate after breaking up still another game with his bat and 15,000 Havana baseball fans went home happy. The woman, who has to use toilet paper rolls because hair curlers can't be purchased here, bought a tiny bag of popcorn to munch as she waited for a bus.

IS GROWING

Baseball, adopted by Cubans long before Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Communist revolution nine years ago, is the national sport in this island nation and getting bigger all the time.

Cuban baseball has, in fact, outpaced the U.S. major leagues in expansion by doubling itself in two years with 12 teams now competing in the five month season which ends April 3.

Professional football would still be a game played by oversized college dropouts in vacant lots if Americans took baseball as seriously as do the Cubans.

The nation almost went into mourning when a team of Cuba's best players lost to the United States in the Pan American Games baseball finals last summer.

It seems as if every Cuban, starting with a pitcher named Fidel Castro, is a baseball fan. Castro has removed the "capitalistic exploitation" from the game by making players and umpires amateurs. He did away with tickets so everyone could get in free.

He expanded the league and built several new parks to get the game closer to the countryside and give more residents of the interior hometown teams to root for. He made umpires servants of the state. That means they aren't to be argued with.

Havana's three remaining newspapers, restricted to four pages each because of paper shortages, still carry reports on each game, standings and individual statistics daily.

NO ADVERTISING

There are no commercial advertisements on the outfield walls at Havana's Latin American Stadium now. The advertisements are of a different sort —promoting armed revolution, exhorting Cubans to do voluntary labor in the sugar fields, praising the late guerrilla fighter Ernesto "Che" Guevara, expressing Cuban support of North Vietnam.

Games played in Havana are televised nationally. Local games in other cities get radio coverage. There is no seventh inning stretch and the rapidity with which the teams change sides would make Baseball Commissioner William Eckart blink in wonder.

MAN IN EXILE

Umpires are now "men of honesty and decency" but in the pre-Castro days were often "capitalist merchandiese," the Communist party organ Granma explained recently. A catcher who lost his head in January, and slugged an umpire, also lost his uniform. He hasn't been reinstated despite a public, written, apology to the umpire and Cuban fans.

All the equipment—bats, balls, gloves, uniforms and even spikes—is manufactured in Cuba now. But there still is no surplus. Balls fouled into the stands are promptly returned. A guy keeping a foul ball could go to jail.

Expansion cut down the caliber of play a bit but Cubans feel this is offset by the chance for more young men to play and more fans to see the action.

All-America Team Named

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., and Dotty Fothergill of North Attleboro, Mass., headed the men's and women's 1968 all-American bowling teams named Saturday by the National Bowlers Journal.

Stefanich, 26, wo had a spectacular 1967-68 season, was named captain of the six-man honor team which also included Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla.; Dave Davis, Phoenix, Ariz.; Bill Hardwick, Louisville, Ky.; Dave Soutar, Detroit, and Pete Tountas, Tucson, Ariz.

Miss Fothergill captained the feminine all-American squad, also including Loa Boxberger, Russell, Kan.; Millie Martorella, Rochester, N.Y.; Phyllis Massey, Alameda, Calif.; Betty Mivelaz, Tujunga, Calif., and Bev Ortner, Galva, Iowa.

Stefanich, holdover from the 1967 all-American squad, won the All-Star Tourney at Garden City, N.Y., and the American Bowling Congress Classic all-events title in Cincinnati. He also won six tourneys on the pro bowlers tour.

Davis, winner of the PBA national championship and Tournament of Champions, is a four-time all-American. Allen and Hardwick made the team once before, in 1964, while Soutar and Tountas were honored for the first time.

Browns Run Near-Perfect Play

Rams' Surge Cheers Coach George Allen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "That comeback might be the spark that could take us on to the championship," declared Los Angeles Rams Coach George Allen after his club reversed the tables so fast it left them spinning.

With five minutes to go Friday night, the Rams trailed the Cleveland Browns 21-7 in their National Football League exhibition. For the first 36 minutes in fact, Los Angeles hadn't made a first down.

Final score: Los Angeles 23, Cleveland 21, preserving of the Rams' pre-season game winning streak at 10 dating back to 1966.

SECONDS LEFT

The final two decisive points came with 52 seconds left as Dave Pivec burst through from a nine-man line and blocked an attempted punt by rookie Don Cockroft out of the end zone for a safety.

Young Jim Hart clicked on touchdown passes of seven yards to Bobby Joe Conrad and 33 yards to Jackie Smith — both in the second quarter — and led the Cardinals to a 24-7 victory over Pittsburgh at St. Louis in the only other Friday night game.

It was the opener for both the Cardinals and Steelers.

Remember 1967 when the Rams beat Green Bay 27-24 with a final minute touchdown following a blocked punt? This time the play went much the same before the crowd of 64,020 at the Coliseum.

Shortly before, the Rams had scored touchdowns on passes by Roman Gabriel of 16 yards to Pat Studstill and 33 to Mike Dennis, the latter following a pass interception by Ed Meador.

"That was the turning point," commented Allen.

Blanton Collier of the Browns said, "You can't give up the ball like we did and expect to win."

BROWNS SURGE

Cleveland grabbed a 14-0 lead on Bill Nelsen's 11-yard pass to Eppie Barney late in the second quarter and rookie Charlie Leigh's 94-yard return of the second half kickoff.

Los Angeles battled back to score on a four-yard pass from Gabriel to Jeff Jordan but it appeared the game was out of reach when Frank Ryan hit Gary Collins on a 40-yard scoring pass as the fourth period opened.

The Rams, the 1967 winners in the Coastal Division, surged back to catch and pass the defending Century Division kingpins.

Sunday's schedule includes Detroit at Philadelphia nationally televised game CBS-TV that was rescheduled from Mexico City.

The others are Dallas at San Francisco and Miami vs. Buffalo at Rochester, N.Y.

Blizzard Winner Of Batting Title

By collecting three hits in his final start, Jack Blizzard of Morton's Foods won the batting championship of the City Softball league with an average of .444.

Blizzard beat out runnerup Herb Sorley of Austin Enco by 22 percentage points. A third .400 hitter in the league was Wayne Posey of Sterling City, who wound up with a mark of .412.

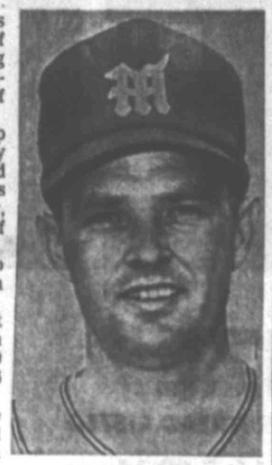

Jimmy Roger of Austin Enco paced the home run hitters with four on the year.

The top pitcher in the circuit was Thelbert Camp of Austin Enco, who wound up with a 9-0 won-loss record and an 0.56 earned run average.

Billy Paul Thomas of the same team finished at 6-0 and his earned run average of an impressive 0.61.

Austin Enco won the league championship without suffering a defeat in 15 games.

Cowboys Take On 49er 11

SAN FRNACISCO (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys and the San Francisco 49ers, both defeated last week in exhibition games, will be looking for their first wins Sunday in National Football League exhibition play.

The game gets under way at 1 p.m. (CDT) pitting Coach Tom Landry's Cowboys against a team coached by their ex-defensive coach Dick Nolan.

Landry says, "I think I know pretty much what to expect defensively." His and Nolan's defensive philosphy are similar as Nolan helped develop the Cowboys into one of the strongest defensive teams in the game.

Landry intends to give Jerry Rhome an opportunity to vie for the number-two quarterbacking spot. Last week in Canton, Ohio, against the Chicago Bears, Craig Morton split duties with number-one thrower Don Meredith. This week in San Francisco, Meredith will play the first half while Rhome takes over in the second half.

In exhibition play with the 49ers, Dallas is even at 4-4, having won four of the last five games, including a 30-24 victory last August.

Pro Netters Are Booked For Fort Worth Tourney

FORT WORTH (AP) — Wimbledon king Rod Laver and his professional colleagues invade Fort Worth this week for the $20,000 Colonial Tennis Tournament.

Laver, the nation's top-ranked player, is the defending champion of the National Invitation, as the four-night festival is called.

To offset the Texas heat, the players will make their run for the $3,000 top prize in nighttime action, beginning Thursday.

Ken Rosewall, ranked second nationally, goes against host pro Tut Bartzen in the opener, followed by a Pancho Gonzalez-Fred Stolle duel.

England's Ann Haydon Jones faces France's Franchoise Durr in the women's opener. In doubles, Rosewall-Stolle meet Bartzen and Mal Anderson.

Laver moves into action Friday night against Anderson while Roy Emerson tests Spain's Andres Gimeno. The lone women's match sends Wimbledon champion Billie Jean King against Rosemary Casals.

Laver - Emerson take on Gimeno - Gonzalez in the other set doubles match.

In addition to the single prize of $3,000, the men will be playing for $850 in doubles. The women collect $1,000 for first in singles, and $200 in doubles.

Most of the men have played here before. Emerson won the first Colonial's singles crown in 1962 as an amateur. Stolle and Laver took the doubles title here last year.

Bartzen said the Colonial courts lend themselves to more exciting play than the courts the pros are used to playing on.

"They ordinarily play on very hard courts which favor powerful serving games of players like Laver," he said.

"The Colonial courts are softer, slightly spongy, and will allow the players to more often return the smashing left-handed serve of Laver for instance."

Renfro Won't Play Today

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys will take on the San Francisco 49ers today without the services of all-pro safety Mel Renfro.

Coach Tom Landry said Thursday that Renfro is suffering from a charley horse. He's the third Cowboy due to miss the exhibition game because of injury.

Center Dave Manders still is recovering from a foot infection. Guard Leon Donohue hasn't recovered from a knee operation.

Landry said he is confident that Dick Daniels can fill in for Renfro. The Dallas coach described Daniels, signed as a free agent, as a "pleasant surprise."

Hart Leader In Card Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jim Hart fired second period touchdown passes of 33 and seven yards as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Pittsburgh Steelers 24-7 Friday night in a National Football League exhibition.

Hart laced his second touchdown pass to Jackie Smith with just 12 seconds left in the first half. Pittsburgh had marched to the St. Louis 25, but a field goal attempt was blocked and the Cardinals took over with 26 seconds left.

The 24-year-old Hart tried a long pass to Dave Williams. The pass fell incomplete but interference was called against the Steelers. Hart then went to Smith down the middle for 33 yards and the tight end toppled onto the goal line to make the score 21-7 for St. Louis.

St. Louis went 57 yards in eight plays for a touchdown with 11.

St. Louis went 57 yards in eight plays for a touchdown with 11 seconds gone in the second period. With 4:20 left in the first period Hart took the Cardinals from their own 43 to a score. He hit Conrad on the 32-yard, third-down pass and Willis Crenshaw then ground out 14 yards to set up Bobby Joe Conrad's touchdown.

The Steelers got that one back as flanker Roy Jefferson beat the Cardinals' secondary on long passes. Quarterback Kent Nix hit Jefferson on passes of 12 and 13 yards, each for a first down, then hit Jefferson in the end zone at 6:02 of the second period. The series covered 71 yards in 10 plays.

St. Louis piled up 54 yards for their first touchdown in the first period. Hart took over on the 46 and mixed his passing with short runs up the middle. Crenshaw bucked over from the one to cap the five-minute drive.

Jim Bakken hit a 26-yard field goal with eight minutes gone in the third period after Charley Johnson took over for Hart in the second half and moved the Cardinals into range.

Ex-TCU Great Dies In Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — Wilbert (Cotton) Harrison, 55, an All-Southwest Conference guard at Texas Christian in 1943, died Friday of an apparent heart attack.

Funeral services were set at 4 p.m. Sunday in Weed-Corley Funeral Home in Austin. Burial will be in Austin.

Harrison, a roommate of quarterback great Sammy Baugh in College, was an all-state fullback at Temple.

He had been in the real estate business the last 15 years. Harrison was a former freshman football coach at TCU and high school football coach at Mexia and Orange.

Top Pro Netters In McAllen Show

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Six top pro tennis players are to appear for a special exhibition Monday at the McAllen Country Club.

Rod Laver, considered the top tennis pro, meets Pancho Gonzalez, ranked as one of the top four tennis players of all time, in singles.

Other singles matches are between Andres Gimeno of Spain and Roy Emerson; and Billie Jean King, considered the top in women's tennis, playing Ann Hayden Jones.

Gonzalez and Gimeno team up for a doubles match with Laver and Emerson.

Haskell Tourney Is Called Off

HASKELL — The Haskell Invitational Golf tournament has been cancelled due to the poor condition of the greens on the course. The four-day meet was slated to end on Labor Day, Sept. 2.

It has been announced the meet will probably be resumed in April of next year.

Oilers Host New Yorkers Monday Night

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers will be shooting for their second straight exhibition football victory of the year Monday night when they meet the New York jets in the Astrodome.

The Oilers and Jets battled down to the wire for the 1967 American Football eastern division championship. The Oilers won the crown by a narrow margin of one game over the New Yorkers.

The Oilers moved into the Astrodome this season and in their initial appearance in the domed structure Aug. 1. They whipped the Washington Redskins of the National Football League, 9-3, before 41,868 fans.

The Oiler defensive unit choked off the Washington offense without a touchdown and it is expected to have its hands full against the Joe Namath-led Jets. Namath led the AFL in 1967 in passing offense and total offense. He passed for 4,007 yards and 258 completions last year.

The Jets' receiving corps is headed by George Sauer, Don Maynard and Pete Lammons.

Oiler Coach Wally Lemm said he was pleased with the passing of quarterback Pete Beathard in the Washington game. The young signal caller hit 16 of 26 passes for 158 yards including a nine yard scoring strike to flanker Mac Haik for the Oilers' only touchdown.

Harlingen Scene Of Aug. 29 Meet

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP)—Officials of the Rio Grande Valley Championship Golf Tournament said Saturday the annual tournament will be held Aug. 29-Sept. 2 at the Harlingen Municipal Golf Course.

The tournament is scheduled each year during the whitewing dove season and play is set up to not interfere with the afternoon hunting hours Sept. 1-2, the first two days of the four-day season in the Valley.

Jim Dooley Lusts For Good Start

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The Chicago Bears have two distinctive changes this season, which—plus the incomparable Gale Sayers—could menace the domineering Green Pay Packers in the National Football League race.

Energetic, intense and shrewd, Jim Dooley seems bursting at the seams to make a successful debut as head coach, succeeding Bear owner George S. Halas, who retired May 27 after 40 coaching years.

OPEN AT HOME

The other noteworthy Bear change is a Sept. 15 NFL season opener against the Washington Redskins at Wrigley Field, the first time in history the club has not played four or five road games before enjoying the home field advantage.

Dooley, handpicked by Halas from his staff, seems cut from the same football cloth as George Allen, another top Halas aide, who ired Papa Bear by leaving the Bears to become an instant head coaching success with the Los Angeles Rams.

Dooley, apparently given free reins by Halas, already has put to work his strategeo of gung-ho, canny football. As the Bears whipped the Dallas Cowboys 30-24 in an exhibition opener last Saturday, Dooley blended the old tightn double wing and balanced T.

He also has overhauled the Bear signal calling system which he said put too much burden on the quarterbacks and often "dominated their thinking."

The new system for signal callers Jack Concannon, who should be a top NFL gunner this season, Larry Rakestraw and Rudy Bukich, will reduce the mental work load about 50 per cent, Dooley says.

"New blocking procedures also are tied in with the new signal calling routine in the huddle and scrimmage line audibles," said Dooley. "Putting this together with new shifts out of new formations, you can see we are only getting started," said Dooley.

The experimenting with various formations is aimed mainly at enhancing the running threat of Sayers, perhaps pro football's most thrilling ball carrier.

"We hope to find a way to keep the defenses from stacking on Sayers," explained Dooley. "Previously, when he ran from the slot, everybody could unload on him. Now, using Gale as a middle man behind the center, a man-in-motion, or a flanker, we may keep the defense honest."

SUPERSTAR?

The victory over the Cowboys indicated the Bears may have come up with another superstar find in Cecil Turner, track ace flanker from California Poly.

Fourth Annual Big Lake Tournament Is Upcoming

BIG LAKE — The fourth annual Big Lake Invitational Men's Softball tournament will be staged here Aug. 26 through Aug. 31.

Two games are scheduled nightly for the first three nights of the tournament. Three contests are booked for Thursday and Friday evenings. The last day of competition will get under way at 1 p.m.

Teams are expected from such places as Big Spring, San Angelo, Iraan, Rankin, Sterling City, Midkiff and Midland, as well as from Big Spring.

Wherever possible, the teams traveling the greatest distance to the meet will not be booked for early evening games.

Two defeats will be required to eliminate a team. Tournament officials are making plans for a 12-team tournament. Entrance fee will be $15 per team. Deadline for entrance is Tuesday, Aug. 20.

Entries should be mailed to Ralph Havenhill, 806 Pennsylvania, Big Lake, or to Norman Guess, c-o Glasscock Chevrolet, Big Lake.

Since this will not be an ASA-sanctioned tournament, no roster of players will be required of any team.

Tournament officials say this kind of meet is designed primarily for fun and entertainment. For that reason, few rules governing the qualification of players will be observed.

Trophies will go to the championship team, runnerup and to the club adjudged the "best sport." In addition, trophies will go to members of the all-tournament squad.

Six Local Boats Are Fort Worth Entries

By NATE MITCHELL

More than 40 sailboats from around the country are expected at the Eagle Mountain Lake near Fort Worth today when the Big Spring Sailing Club meets other such organizations in a racing competition there.

ED PARKER

The Fort Worth waterway has been designated the site of the 1968 National Championship Races, both junior and senior divisions. The Fort Worth Boat Club is serving as host of the meet.

Eagle Mountain Lake is located on FM 1220 (Boat Club Road) — north of the Jackson Highway (Texas 199) which meets US 80-180 at the US 377 junction.

The local contingent consists of six watercrafts, owned and captained by Fred Davis and Ed Tyler of Big Spring; and Ron Matik, Tom King, Bob Barker, Jon King, Faye Deibler and Ed Parker — all of Webb Air Force Base. Tom King, Matik, Deibler, Barker and Parker will compete at Fort Worth today.

Following the meet at Eagle Lake, the local aggregation plans to hold regular competitions at Moss Creek Lake here. These meets will stretch into the early winter months, with several sailing clubs throughout the region being challenged by the locals — either here or on the road.

The local club was recently organized, featuring the $500 fiberglass sailboats which are of the same moulds and boast identical specifications.

The key to winning any competition in the sport is the art of handling the craft, with a scoring system of one point for the winner and a point each for each boat beaten in the event. In the most recent competition of the local club, Matik's 17 points took first place — just three digits better than runner-up, Parker's 14. The meet was held at Moss Creek Lake.

The boats sail a triangular course, with the wind being the sole means of propulsion. The sailors usually run either one or two laps around the designated gauntlet before the points are tallied.

Perhaps the staunchest supporter of the sport in the local area is Ed Parker, who is chief of the 3560th Medical Group at the local air base. Parker grew up on the Mississippi Gulf Coast (Gulfport) and began sailing at the age of nine.

He used to keep his boats anchored in front of the family home. Parker regularly participated in the functions of the Gulf Yachting association in his early years in the sport; later belonged to similar clubs around the world — including Hawaii.

In "star class" of the Starfish Class Association, a national organization, Dr. Parker has kept pretty busy in the sailboat racing sport. When he arrived at Webb just over a year ago, he got his first chance in nine years to get back into sailboat racing.

"Sailing is a fine way to show one's acumen with a watercraft," Parker says, "and interest among local buffs seems to be on the upswing since we formed the Big Spring club."

Along with his job as head doctor at Webb's hospital, Parker makes all of the sailing competitions. Currently, he is teaching his wife, Sally, and their six children how to sail. His wife became interested during their stint in Hawaii and is progressing so well that their neighbors may soon see a second sailboat parked on a trailor in front of the Parker home at 2704 Crestline.

Trophies in today's events at Fort Worth include the Fillup Perpetual Trophy, awarded to high point skipper for all five races, and 20 permanent awards given for senior and junior championship places and individual races.

Today's schedule:
9:00 a.m.—Skippers' meeting.
9:30 a.m.—Fourth race.
11:00 a.m.—Fifth race.
1:00 p.m.—Trophy presentation.

"See You In September"

The sights and sounds of another summer are fading into yesterday's silence as thousands of Big Spring's young people put away their bathing suits, drift from the tennis courts or get ready to leave their jobs. Only one turn of the calendar page – a few short days – and they can get on with the business of education.

There is much to learn. In the high school alone, there are 69 courses offered which include the various levels of English, math, science, social studies, foreign language, fine arts, business and vocational education. From first grade to graduation, students will be counseled and advised by an administration and staff that recognizes their individuality and respects their capacity for achievement.

GIRLS HAVE GOT TO KEEP their strength up when they take the first step on that long road to higher education. Picking out the fanciest lunch boxes they can find are Terrie Jan and Kerrie Ann Morrow, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrow, 1506 E. 17th. The girls will be first-graders at Washington Elementary School.

THE ROAR OF THE CROWD will soon be spurring on these high school football players who will soon begin practice for the game with Lubbock on Sept. 14. They are Robert Domino, halfback; Ricky Peurifoy, halfback and flanker; Randy Morgan, tackle; and John Patton, quarterback.

THE SCHEDULING OF classes is a time-consuming chore that begins long before the summer days are done. Mrs. Harold Rosson and Morris Molpus, both counselors at Big Spring Senior High School, are shown as they worked this week on the more than 2,000 schedule cards that must be completed within the next three weeks. They are being assisted by, from left, Linda Stewart, Beth Ann Ross, Lila Williams, Wanda Porter and Linda Massey.

THE SCHOOL BELL WILL TOLL for two in this family as September signals another busy year at the Herman Smith home. More time than ever will be spent in their extensive library as Mrs. Smith continues her role as a teacher at Big Spring Senior High School and daughter, Sue, searches the shelves for help with her homework.

TRENDS OF THE TIMES are reflected in the fashions that teenagers claim for their own as their fresh, gay spirits bring life to high school campuses. The early bird gets the best buys, so these young ladies are doing some early shopping. Catherine Dawson, left, likes a brief, brown suede skirt to wear with a dainty ruffled blouse, while Linda Key prefers orange polka dots on a green cotton frock. Standing is Jan Toland whose good taste shows in her choice of suits. This one teams a double-breasted teal blue jacket with companion plaid skirt and white tie blouse.

MR. AND MRS. JACK POWELL, ANN AND PAT

VA Quarters Taking On New Personality

By JO BRIGHT

Every few years, as with most institutions of its kind, the local Veterans Administration Hospital is assigned a new administrator. However, the director's living quarters remain the same — a roomy brick home a few hundred yards from the hospital — which takes on a new personality with the change of families for which it serves as home.

The fresh paint is dry now, as Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Powell complete the small changes that make the home into one that accommodates their furnishings and fits their style of living. The transition is not yet complete, but the family will soon be ready to open the door to new friends in Big Spring.

The Powells are parents of four children, only two of whom are here with them now. Spec. 5 John D. Powell is stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. He and his bride Mary will visit in the Powell home the last of this month while en route to Houston where they will establish their home when he leaves the service. In returning to civilian life, John will work in Houston while attending the University of Houston. The other Powell young people are Jim, 19, who entered Texas A&M last fall and is now attending the summer term at Texas Tech; Pat, 18, a graduate of Bonham High School who is now attending Howard County Junior College; and Ann, 15, who will enter Big Spring Senior High School as a sophomore this fall.

OKLAHOMANS

Mr. and Mrs. Powell are both native Oklahomans. He was born in El Reno, and her home town is McAlester. His mother, Mrs. H. J. Powell, still resides in El Reno. After graduating from high school in Geary, Okla., Powell earned a BA in Business Management at the University of Oklahoma, where he had the opportunity of joining Pi Kappa Alpha — and the pleasure of meeting his future wife. Mrs. Powell, a graduate of Monte Cassino High School in Tulsa, received a BA in English and Teacher's Certificate from the university where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Her mother, Mrs. S. J. Doyle of Wewoka, Okla., was recently widowed and will soon move to Big Spring to make her home with the Powells.

The Powells' first home was at Barksdale Army Air Force Base near Shreveport, La. He entered flight training in 1940, graduating as a lieutenant in 1941. He was stationed at several bases in the United States before becoming director of training for the 42nd Wing, 8th Air Force, in England until V-E Day. Immediately after the war, he served at Colorado Springs, Colo., with the 20th Air Force, retiring as a lieutenant colonel. Powell was manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Houston for 20 years, and took his hospital management training at the hospital there before going to the Veterans Administration Center at Bonham. He remained in that assignment until moving here in July. Powell was a member of the Houston Downtown Rotary Club, the Bonham Rotary Club and took an active interest in Scouting and Little League when his sons were younger.

SORORITY

Mrs. Powell taught elementary education in the Wewoka School System for three years prior to her marriage. She is deeply interested in Kappa Alpha Theta which she is now serving as alumnae district president (District 12, which includes all of Texas and Louisiana.) Mrs. Powell owns a cleaning and laundry business in the Sharpstown area of Houston, and still keeps a close watch on its management. Claiming she has little time for hobbies, Mrs. Powell, nevertheless, expresses an interest in sewing and painting. She will begin traveling in September, as the sorority duties begin, so the family will quite often by saying "hi" and "bye" to the lady of the house.

Pat is planning a future in architecture but is uncertain about where he will study for the degree. Being a "natural" mechanic, he is in charge of the family's transportation system and keeps the cars in fine running form. He works with leather craft, also, and enjoys golfing. His sister, Ann, advanced to a senior in Campfire Girls and was a member of the Horizan Club. An outdoor type, she likes to swim and participates in the "pitch and put" area of golfing. Presently, she is taking orientation for the Candy Striper orientation corps at the hospital.

SOON READY

Yes, the Powells are getting their house in order. The furniture is in place, the drapes have been ordered, and soon, they will be entertaining their new-found friends.

Michael Clay Hulls To Reside In Midland

STANTON (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Michael Clay Hull are on a wedding trip to San Antonio and the HemisFair following their marriage Friday evening in the Belvue Church of Christ.

The bride is the former Sandra Lynn Merrifield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Merrifield of Midland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Pat Hull and the late Carlton Hull.

The couple will reside at 3125 DeLano, Midland. Both are graduates of Stanton High School, and he is employed by Mobil Oil in Midland. Mrs. Hull is a secretary for Grace Hoffman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of peau de soie overlaid with silk organza. The Empire-silhouetted bodice featured a Chantilly lace scalloped neckline re-embroidered with sequins and pearls, and the long tapered sleeves were accented with tiny covered buttons. The A-line skirt flowed into a chapel train attached at the shoulders with peau de soie bows. Her bouffant veil of English illusion was attached to a cluster of silk organza petals and rosettes sparkled with sequins and tear drop pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar graced with baskets of gladioli and candelabra holding votive candles.

Miss Mary Merrifield, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmatrons were Mrs. Larry Merrifield, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Pat Hall, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride's brother, Larry Merrifield of Lubbock was best man, and ushers were Pat Hall of Midland and Gary Reid, Darla Merrifield of Midland, sister of the bride; Sabrina Huse of Midland and Cynthia Huse of Big Spring, served as flower girls.

A reception was held in the Cap Rock Electric Co-Op with members of the house party being Mr. and Mrs. Alvey Bryant of Midland and Pug Deavenport, Cathy Hazlewood, Scherry Avery and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Morrison.

Baby Shower Held For Mrs. J. White

STATON (SC) — Mrs. Johnny White was honored with a baby shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. A. G. Morrison. Cohostesses were Mrs. H. P. Morrison, Mrs. Floyd Huckaby, Mrs. George Dowden, Mrs. Stanley Barnes, Mrs. R. P. Odom, Mrs. Stanley Berstrom and Mrs. Ronnie Gilbreath. The honoree was presented a corsage of pink baby socks. A miniature baby carriage centered the serving table, and a gift of lingerie was presented by the hostesses. Approximately 25 attended.

Gavel Club Has Dinner Meeting

Mrs. Bill Griese and Mrs. Ollie McDaniel served as hostesses at the dinner meeting Thursday of the Past Matron's Gavel Club, Laura B. Hart Chapter, No. 1019, Order of Eastern Star. The group met in the Silver Star Restaurant.

Mrs. M. C. Lawrence led the club prayer, and Mrs. Ode Green gave the devotion.

The table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with baskets of summer flowers, and place favors were tiny umbrellas.

Six attended. Mrs. Jimmy Felts and Mrs. Lawrence will be hostesses at the September meeting.

CHARLES KEENE

Selected As Scholarship Recipient

Charles Keene has been named recipient of a scholarship to Howard County Junior College which is provided by the Big Spring City Council of Parent and Teachers. Charles, who will be 18 this month, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Keene, 1421 Tucson.

A May graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, he plans to major in law and take a minor in art. In high school, he was a member of the History Club, Spanish Club and Future Teachers of America. As a talented artist, he designed program covers for the "All-School Sing" and "The King and I," as well as serving as set designer and artist for the latter production.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The most colorful thing about the Republican convention was the balloons, and if your set was not for color you missed that. I never saw anything or anyone as pretty as Mrs. Ronald Reagan when her husband was being nominated. She was proud and thrilled and pretty as she took in the proceedings and watched the beautiful mass of bright baubles float down from the nets . . . For beauty in the White House, the country couldn't do better than the distaff side of the Richard Nixon family . . . . Mrs. Nixon is even more beautiful than when her husband was riding the same band wagon several years ago . . . . It must be a hard life . . . . Imagine having to smile for that long at a time!

Many here will remember the three nieces of MR. and MRS. ALBERT SMITH who came from Dimmitt each summer to stay with their aunt and uncle. Now they are grown and the eldest is now DR. KEITHA KAY DAVIS who is a senior in the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. Presently, she is practicing in Heidelberg, Germany, where she went the forepart of June and will be there until she returns for her final year in school in September.

In the hospital where she is now working as a pediatrician she is one of two who speak English, but she is fluent in German.

The RAYMOND MOORE family divided their vacation by spending the first half seeing the HemisFair and visiting the Astrodome in Houston. The latter half was a camping trip on the shores of Lake Brownwood where they were joined by former residents, the WAYLAND YATESES of San Angelo.

Recent overnight guests of the REV. and MRS. ROBERT POLK were the REV. and MRS. BILL CUMBY and their four children whose home is in Fairfax, Va. The Cumbys were down this way to attend sessions at the Baptist Glorieta Encampment in New Mexico and drove here to see their friends. They were hosts to the Polks last summer when the local First Baptist pastor and his wife attended a national meeting and school in Washington, D. C.

The ALBERT HOHERTZES were in Ruidoso, N.M., last weekend and enjoyed the cool and rainy spell that fell upon the mountain resort while they were there . . . . Wish they had brought some of it back with them.

Would you believe that after all that planning to see the HemisFair I didn't get to go? But I am anxiously waiting a full report on the goings on in San Antonio and Houston from the men in the family who checked back to the home base yesterday.

MR. and MRS. J. H. EASTHAM have returned from Glorieta, N.M., where they took part in the Home Mission Week studies and also had the opportunity to visit their son-in-law and daughter, the REV. and MRS. Rouge is one of the most difficult of all make-up to apply but properly used it can be your most charming adornment. Rouge should be applied over a rather large area on the highest part of the cheek and brought down to the level of the lip line — Blend so it fades into the tone of the make-up base and shows no outline — Experiment with your rouge, make it enhance the size and brightness of your eyes. It will make your face look alive and pretty. Hairdressers, remember the month of August is the time to renew your license.

MRS. LAURAN BOSWORTH PAINE JR.

Wedding Solemnized In Church Sanctuary

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Kay Lyn Statser and Lt. Lauran Bosworth Paine Jr. Saturday evening in the Webb Air Force Base Chapel.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Statser, 608 Baylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Lauran Paine, Ft. Jones, Calif.

Chaplain John Darcy performed the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before an altar flanked by twin pedestal arrangements of white gladioli and fern illuminated by cathedral tapers in branched candelabra. Family pews were marked by white satin bows.

Mrs. Harold Talbot sang "Panas Angelicus" and "Ave Maria," accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Green at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of silk organza veiled by peau de soie and venise lace. Sprays of white violet-patterned venise lace enhanced the bodice and circled the batteau neckline and cap sleeves of the organza A-line slender silhouette. The Watteau train was accented with identical lace sprays from the center back to the hemline of the chapel train. Her veil of illusion fell from a cluster of organza roses and leaves encrusted with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis, centered with orchids, atop a white pearl-covered prayer book.

Mrs. Donald P. Newell of Plano, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Tricia Ann Statser, sister of the bride, and Miss Sally Wade, Cincinnati, Ohio. They wore frost blue silk organza cage dresses fashioned over taffeta. Their headpieces were blue Dior bows, and they carried nosegays of pastel feathered carnations tied with evergreen ribbon.

Lt. Bill Nicholau of San Jose, Calif., was best man. Groomsmen were Lt. Paul Contreras, Reese Air Force Base, and Lt. John E. Long, Las Vegas, Nev. Ushers were Donald P. Newell, Plano; Lt. Art Intemann of Webb AFB; and Lt. Richard Castle of Williams AFB.

Linda Beth Statser, sister of the bride, and Cindy Burgess served as flower girls. They wore dresses designed with Empire bodices and short, puff sleeves and carried baskets of white rose petals.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left on a wedding trip to the West Coast. For traveling the bride chose a white and green A-styled linen dress with matching green double-breasted coat and white patent accessories. The couple will be at home at Casa de Barcelona Apts., Apt. 621, Abilene.

The bride graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College, where she was a member of Theta Kappa honorary scholastic fraternity and served as cheerleader. She was recently employed by Creative Visuals Division of Gamco Industries.

The bridegroom is a pilot in the 917th Air Refueling Squadron at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene. He is a graduate of San Jose State College in California.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Miss Susan Lewis presided at the guest register, which was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a single white rose in a crystal vase. Those in the house party were Miss Linda Cochran, Miss Beverly Peters, Mrs. Bill Laster, San Angelo; and Miss Sheryl McLaughlin of Dallas.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of summer flowers flanked by blue tapers in silver holders. A miniature choir of imported glass angels highlighted the refreshment table. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

REHEARSAL DINNER

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Officer's Open Mess at Webb AFB Friday evening by the parents of the bridegroom. The tables were laid with white cloths and decorated with summer flowers and miniature plane and pilot figurines. The honored couple presented gifts to their attendants, and approximately 20 attended.

'Doesn't Hurt A Bit'

An apple a day keeps the doctor away, according to an old saying, but Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse, has more faith in a booster shot. Norma's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ascencio Hilario, 205 N.E. 8th, agree.

HERE ARE REQUIREMENTS

Schools Require Lots Of Shots

(Photos by Frank Brandon)

The sound of school bells isn't far off with classes scheduled to begin Sept. 3, and many students have not yet made arrangements to fill the requirements necessary to gain admission to the public schools, according to S. M. Anderson, superintendent of schools.

All first grade students have to have proof of age and immunization records when they enroll, he said.

The immunization policy is based upon the policies of the Board of Education and in accordance with the 1964 Red Book of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

POLICY

Immunization for poliomyelitis and smallpox is required for entrance of pupils into all grades, Anderson said. Either Salk or Sabin polio vaccine (series of three) is acceptable and the smallpox vaccination should not be more than five years old.

Diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus (DPT) vaccinations (series of three) are required for all pupils through the eighth grade and strongly recommended for all pupils.

For most parents the above requirement will merely necessitate securing a certificate of immunization from their local family doctor, however others will have to complete their immunizations, and some will need to write to out-of-town doctors for records.

Free immunizations are given each Tuesday 9-11 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. at the City-County Health Unit, according to Miss Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse. The health unit is located in the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center at 201 Lancaster.

"Many students merely need booster shots," Miss Bowen said, "but it is shocking the number of children who have had no immunization shots."

SERIES

Since the shots are given usually in series of three, children need to get these shots begun, she said. She also warned parents not to become lax in polio immunization since the State Health Department has said that this year may be a bad polio year in Texas.

Anderson said requests for waiver of immunization policies for personal and-or religious beliefs must be obtained from the respective schools.

Dentists recommend checkups every six months and ophthalmologists recommend eye checkups for the pre-schooler, followed by examinations every two years, according to local doctors.

All children entering grade one must be six years old on or before the first day of September of the current school year, with minor exceptions, Anderson said.

The date of birth of every child enrolling in the first grade shall be established by presentation of a birth certificate to the principal of the respective school. If such authority cannot be secured, the date may be established by a Baptismal Certificate, hospital certificate, adoption papers, passport, or an insurance policy over one year old.

Anderson said that if such authority is later disclosed to be false, during the first year of attendance, the parent will be asked to immediately withdraw the child from school. If the parent does not produce proof of age within four weeks after a child is enrolled, the school may drop the child from enrollment, he said.

REGISTER

High school and junior high school students who are new to Big Spring this year should register during August at the school they will attend. The schools are open 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Registration should be made as early in August as possible because principals are now preparing schedules and classes may be filled, Anderson said.

Big Spring Schools Due To Enroll Over 7,500

Big Spring school officials are expecting minor increases in enrollment for the 1968-69 school year, according to S. M. Anderson, superintendent of schools.

Secondary schools' enrollment projections based on preregistration of students last spring have been estimated at 3,394. Breakdown of that figure gives 565 students to Runnels Junior High, 714 to Goliad and 2,115 to the senior high school.

Last year at the end of school, 1,893 students were enrolled at BSHS, 576 at Runnels and 653 at Goliad.

"We have more students entering high school from the junior highs than graduated," Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent of instruction, said to explain the jump in enrollment at the high school.

The number of students entering junior high is about the same as the number leaving junior high, "so there is little fluctuation in enrollment there," Hise said.

"In fact, since the largest number of drop-outs occur between the sixth and seventh grades, enrollment usually falls below our projections," he said.

Projections for the elementary schools are based on the census report made each year. The total elementary projection is 4,129, only slightly higher than the 3,952 which elementary schools had enrolled the last week of school this spring.

Projected enrollments are: Airport, 425; Bauer, 497; Boydstun, 266; Cedar Crest, 252; College Heights, 451; Gay Hill, 102; Kentwood, 272; Lakeview, 213; Marcy, 640; Moss, 207; Park Hill, 333, and Washington, 471.

Only 730 first graders are expected this year and, if expectations are fulfilled, this could be the third year in a row that first grade enrollment will fall below that of the year before, Hise said, laying cause to today's smaller families and tighter economic situations.

The peak enrollment in first graders last year came Sept. 29 with 733 enrolled.

A slight increase is expected in the special education classes, Hise said, although figures are not yet available. The local classes have asked and got permission to add a unit concerning minimal brain injury.

"We will be adding a teacher and taking these students out of the classes in which they have been enrolled," Hise said. In the past, he said, many of these students have been attending regular classes in which special help was impossible due to lack of facilities.

Classes will begin Sept. 16 for an expected 1,100 students at Howard County Junior College, according to Dr. W. A. Hunt, president.

Dormitories open at 10 a.m., Sept. 10, and registration will be held Sept. 11-13. College faculty and officials will greet the freshmen students at 9 a.m., Sept. 11, in the auditorium during a short orientation.

LAST YEAR

The college registered 1,016 students last fall and Dean Ben Johnson estimated an eight to ten per cent increase for this fall, based on the increased number of applications for admission and the trend that has been set in the past.

Four instructors and an assistant librarian have been added to the personnel, Dean Johnson said. James C. Doerr and Mrs. Emily D. Elrod have been added to the math department with the appointment of L. L. Lewis, former chairman of the math department, as registrar.

Doerr has a BS degree from the University of Texas at Arlington and his masters from North Texas State University. Mrs. Elrod has her BS and masters degrees from Southern Methodist University and has taught at Forsan High School 14 years.

Tommy Buckner, an HCJC graduate, will take over as agriculture instructor. He holds his masters degree from Texas Tech and taught at South Plains College before coming to HCJC.

Mrs. Joy Burnsed, who received her degree from Texas Women's University, will be assistant librarian.

No major changes in curriculum have been announced except in the technical vocation program, Dean Johnson said. The program has been increased and several instructors have been added.

Classes to be offered under this program include Drafting and Design Technology, Electrical Technology, Electronic Data Processing Technology, Machine Tools Technology, Mid-Management Technology, Police Science Technology, Vocational Nursing and Welding Technology.

New personnel include Dallas Nash II and Mrs. Mary Deats, electronic data processing; Doyle Holder, mid-management; R. E. Daniel, police science, and James Banks, welding technology.

To apply for admission to the college a prospective student should request an application for admission and a transcript request and return the completed forms to the registrar's office. The transcript request authorizes the college to receive high school or college transfer records.

Applicants will be notified by mail of their acceptance and can determine date of registration, fees etc. from the college catalog.

Sands And Gail Release Schedules

Two area schools have released their calendars for the coming year, Sands and Gail.

Sands School at Ackerly expects some 350 students for classes the first day, Aug. 26. The students pre-registered last spring, but new students will register the first day of classes.

James McElroy, superintendent of the Borden County Independent School District at Gail, announced the first day of classes will be Aug. 26. The general faculty meeting is slated for Aug. 23. The students pre-registered last spring.

'Say Ahhhhh'

A complete physical examination is recommended for getting off to a healthy start in school and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Knight, 3205 Drexel, are well aware of this fact. Cindy is shown being examined by Dr. Louise Worthy.

A Devotional For The Day

(Samson) called on the Lord and said, "Thou hast granted this great deliverance by the hand of thy servant; and shall I now die of thirst?" (Judges 15:18, RSV)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, that our deepest instincts anchor us to Thee; that in the hours of lack we cannot help crying out to Thee. Help us to believe Thou art our help in time of trouble. So may we trust and not complain. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Building Our Own Industry

A group of Big Spring men have taken rather a bold venture in bringing into being a new corporation, known as Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., which will be engaged in the manufacture of fiber glass pipe and fittings of various sizes, directed toward the oil field market.

The proposition represents what many of the industrial experts say over and over again: If you can find a way to create your own industries and payrolls, this is the best means to add to the economic well-being of your community.

This has been proven to an extent in Big Spring, largely through the talents of George McAlister, who put together the Gamco complex and made a success out of it, while at the same time becoming a major employer in the city.

There are other examples here and elsewhere, and they are heartening.

It is so axiomatic that it hardly bears repeating, but let's face it: There is not a town or city in the nation which does not strive to improve its economy through investment of new capital and creation of more jobs. There probably is no fiercer competition than that between such towns when a prospect comes into distant view. Manufacturing and processing enterprises of any nature are wooed with all manner of incentives, with some communities going so far as to present free properties, offer tax remission or other measures equally impressive.

Even states hold out the lures, and all those bordering on Texas have special statutes which permit communities to authorize special revenue bonds to help attract industry. (Texas has a similar program on the November ballot as a constitutional amendment).

In their eagerness for the payrolls, some towns have, literally, given away too much.

Although there are some who find fault with a lack of tangible results, in the way of an impressive industry, it must be said that the industrial leadership affiliated with the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is constantly working. Much activity in negotiating with prospective firms cannot be made public, so the hard work, and the frustrations, get no publicity. Sometimes an effort comes to fruition years after it was started.

The Chamber of Commerce, its industrial team and the Industrial Foundation, all led by civic-minded men, explore every avenue they can find. They are due credit.

But there comes an opportunity, as did the Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., enterprise, when leaders of the community must make up their mind to act, rather than to grumble, or to do wishful thinking, or to dream impossible dreams.

Quick and enthusiastic response was apparent in this project, to the extent that no less than a quarter-million dollars was paid in as capital funding in a matter, actually, of hours.

The investors, naturally, hold confidence that they will build a successful business and will realize a return on their money. But at the same time, they are looking toward the creation of another company here which will add to employment, enhance the industrial picture of the city and in general be a major addition in the local economy.

This sort of thing does not come along every day (neither do the outside concerns which might be interested in a West Texas location). But when it did come, there were enough people ready to act. This is the sort of foresight, the sort of risk, the sort of expenditure of effort and business administration which helps build communities.

Around The Rim

The Delegates Are Right On The Ball

There were, at the recent political convention, more hungry and sleepy delegates than there were alert ones. However, from time to time they made their contribution when summoned forth by the television interviewers, who did more work than even the Richard Nixon team. Or so it seemed from a few hours in front of the tube. For example:

* * *

TV MAN to delegate: "What do you think of the platform?"

Delegate: "Why it looks nice from here; well-paneled, not so cluttered up as in past years."

TV man: "I don't mean the speaker's rostrum. I mean the party platform."

Delegate: "Oh, that. Yeah, yeah, it looks nice, too. 'Course, I haven't had time to read it all. But I know we're against war, against crime in the streets and against the federal government taking over private business. Isn't that good?"

TV man: "Yes sir, and I thank you for this enlightening interview."

* * *

TV MAN to state chairman: "Sir, there are rumors that your delegation will switch on the first ballot. Could you confirm that?"

Chairman: "Let me say to you what I have said many times since this convention started. We are steadfastly bound to that famous American, that peerless leader, the governor of our state, who is not only our favorite son, but our only choice for the presidency. You may be sure that our state will stand fast, even if the balloting goes through 54 rounds."

TV man: "But I understand your governor just recently released your delegation so that you could get on the bandwagon on the first ballot."

Chairman: "Oh? Well, in that case we may change our plans."

* * *

TV MAN to big-wig politico: "We are hearing that you will have the last word on the selection of a vice president. I see you have a little slip of paper there with several names on it. Do you mind telling us your top three choices?"

Big-wig: "That happens to be a list of the choice night spots in the city. And I couldn't be so presumptuous as to say I would have the last word. This, naturally, is the presidential nominee's prerogative."

TV man: "But you will be consulted?"

Big-wig: "I haven't received an invitation to the nominee's rooms yet, but I would presume that there would be some meaningful dialogue in due course."

* * *

ONE DELEGATE to another: "How many more famous sons are there?"

Second delegate: "That's favorite son, not necessarily famous. And there are only 14 more to go."

First delegate: "In that case, let's go get something to eat."

Second delegate: "What! And not be here if they call a caucus? Who can afford to miss a caucus?"

First delegate: "Nudge me if they do call one." — BOB WHIPKEY

The Valiant Will Go On To Chicago

MIAMI BEACH — As the sun sinks slowly into the west and the Republicans board their private planes to carry their message back to the American people, all thoughts are now turned toward the Democratic convention which will be held in Chicago on Aug. 26.

For Democratic delegates as well as members of the press, people talk about going to Chicago with the same excitement and enthusiasm as if they were going to Vietnam.

Whether Mayor Daley likes it or not, Chicago as a political convention city is being compared with Khe Sanh and Dien Bien Phu.

A GROUP OF battle-hardened correspondents were arguing in a bar here over whether Chicago could become another Dien Bien Phu.

"It's impossible," said one correspondent. "For one thing, we've got air cover, which they didn't have at Dien Bien Phu. And for another, the roads leading to the stockyards will be mined."

"That's all well and good," a pessimistic TV floor reporter said, "but how is anyone going to get to the convention hall to attend the proceedings?"

"THERE WILL BE armed convoys leaving every half hour from downtown Chicago, and Daley has artillery zeroed in on every highway. Anyone who tries to block the intersections will pay a high price for his aggression."

A syndicated columnist added, "Since the convention is being held in the stockyards, there is no chance of them starving us out."

"I'm scared," a young reporter blubbered.

A GRIZZLED AP wire service man put his arm around the reporter's shoulder. "We're all scared, kid. There are no atheists going to Chicago this summer. But you got to look at this way. If we don't go, the Democrats won't be able to nominate a presidential candidate and that's what the demonstrators are hoping for. We've got to show that we can't be intimidated."

"Gosh," said the kid reporter, "if you're scared, too, then I don't feel so bad. I think I'll write my mother before I go."

"You do that, kid," the grizzled AP man said.

THE POLITICAL analyst for a news weekly said, "I don't think we can hope for a quick military solution in Chicago. This is going to be a dirty, drawn-out convention and the only way the Democrats can achieve their goals is if they win the hearts and minds of the Chicago people."

"That may be true, but Daley says you can't win the hearts and minds of the people unless you're successful militarily. You've got to prove to the militants they can't win at the negotiating table what they haven't been able to win in the field."

One of the reporters who hadn't said anything finally screamed hysterically.

"I SAY DALEY be damned. He'll be holed up in his air-conditioned offices at city hall, but it's us poor suckers who are going to have to do the fighting. I'm too young to go to Chicago."

The grizzled AP man slapped him in the face. "Get a hold of yourself, boy. You're going to Chicago like everybody else. None of us asked for this assignment, but we were given it. President Johnson has decided this is where the Democrats must make their stand, and by heaven, boy, we're not going to let him down."

Steel Price War Flickers Out

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel price war flickered out this past week—at least for the time being — under White House pressure and competitive demands.

The armistice found some major steel companies backing down from a general price boost of about five per cent and the federal government indicating that it would not resist raises of about half that much.

STRUGGLE BROKE

The struggle broke out last week after the 11 major steel companies and the United Steel Workers of America signed an agreement that would cost the producers about $1 billion in higher wages and fringe benefits over three years.

Bethlehem Steel, the No. 2 producer, started the ball rolling with a five per cent general price increase.

Joining in raising the prices of most of their products were Inland Steel, Armco Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Pittsburgh Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

President Johnson deplored the increases as inflationary and directed government agencies to buy steel from companies which had not imposed across-the-board boosts.

U.S. Steel became a hero — as far as the government was concerned — through an oblique move on Wednesday. It raised its price of cold-rolled sheet steel — a big volume product used in automobiles and major appliances — by $5.50 a ton, compared with Bethlehem's hike of $7.50. U.S. Steel's increase on a broad range of products averaged about 2.5 per cent.

FELL IN LINE

Bethlehem and most of the other producers quickly fell in line for the announced purpose of maintaining a competitive position.

The government was pleased. "It is gratifying," said Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, "that the U.S. Steel action significantly reduces the threat of a large and general inflation in steel prices."

"Compared to the threat last week," he added, "American consumers have been saved a half billion dollars inflation."

But there was little promise that the steel price situation would lie dormant.

President Johnson's press secretary, George Christian, commented: "The success of our continued efforts to combat inflation depends on renewed price stability in steel in the months ahead."

Meanwhile, steel production last week slumped 12.7 per cent to 2,235,000 tons from 2,561,000 tons the previous week as hedge buying against a possible strike evaporated.

DWINDLED

Automobile production dwindled almost to a standstill, with only an estimated 15,300 passenger car assemblies this week due to the annual model changeover doldrums.

The Labor Department reported that the unemployment rate dropped 0.1 per cent to 3.7 per cent of the labor force in mid-July. An unusually large influx of teenage jobseekers in June had pushed the rate up to 3.8 per cent from 3.5 per cent in May.

The Commerce Department said construction spending in June slipped to the lowest level since last December. The annual rate of construction outlays fell 2.8 per cent to $81.3 billion from $83.6 billion in May.

Major Firms Back Down

- Consumers saved from inflation
- Possible strike evaporates
- Unemployment rate drops
- Spending slips to low level
- Auto production at standstill

Navajo Blessing

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Corn pollen, an eagle feather, a ceremonial basket and a drum went to New York with Mrs. Kay Bennett, New Mexico's 1968 "Mother of the Year."

Mrs. Bennett, a Navajo from Gallup, said she needed the items to open the Wonderful World of Mothers pageant with a Navajo ceremonial blessing.

Mrs. Bennett is the first Indian to become New Mexico's Mother of the Year.

She is known in New Mexico as a Navajo singer, doll maker and author. She wrote a book about her girlhood on the Navajo Reservation, where she was born in a hogan.

Nixon's Unifying Work Is Ahead

MIAMI BEACH — Richard Nixon is the master of the craft of politics. In 20 years of triumph and disaster he has perfected the techniques of the office-seeker within the system of professionalism prevailing today.

The strategy of the Rockefeller opposition was to represent him as hiding out, fearful of making a boo-boo on the eve of the great decision. But when he emerged on the second day of the convention, his press conference performance was flawless. His manner, supreme assurance tempered by smiling modesty, could hardly be faulted.

THE FRAME in which he has operated is, it must be said, a narrow one. And he has had one great advantage not always obvious in this spiritless convention. His opposition was divided between Gov. Nelson Rockefeller on the left of center and Gov. Ronald Reagan on the right. If they had had a common aim, if they had not been separated by ideology and geography, Nixon would have had a more difficult task.

THE FRAME of reference in which Nixon has worked was defined by the delegates to this convention. They might have been picked by Central Casting — most of them — for the party scenes in the movie "The Graduate." The majority came from the country clubs of America rather than from the wards that have been cut up by the freeways. Their views, it is a fairly safe assumption, coincide with those of Nixon.

NOW TO MOVE out of the frame of the convention, which for most practical purposes is irrelevant to turbulent, troubled America. Here is a reckoning with the temperament of the master technician.

The master technician can foresee that a principal role will be to help the Democrats cut themselves up not only in their convention but in the campaign to follow. This will be the kind of role in which Nixon has starred brilliantly in the past. And with the blood already flowing as the clashing goes on in the Democratic civil war, a little encouragement will go a long way.

YET HIS MORE objective strategists must ask themselves whether the furious sounds of the Democrats' internecine war can cover up the deep divisions in his own party.

A public promise to the South in those terms will carry hazards in the North. Granted that the shorthand of crime in the streets — embracing riots, the Negro militants and lawlessness — will be the big issue, there are limits. Pushed too hard, it sounds like repression and even the remedy of the locked and barricaded ghetto as posed in the Kerner commission report.

ROCKEFELLER'S words in his furious last stretch drive will not soon be forgotten. Over and over he has said that Nixon cannot carry the big-city states and that, therefore, he cannot win in November. Success in the South, in the Rockefeller view, will be disaster in the North, where elections are won or lost.

Yet, unifying the Republican party — superficial unity at least — promises to be a lot easier than unifying the Democratic party.

Billy Graham

Something evil erupts in me and I use God's name in vain and swear. How can I get rid of this bad habit? H.J.

God's name is used in profanity and it is used in praise. Those who are not attuned to God use His name wrongly to give vent to their anger and hate. A person who uses God's name in vain, however, is conscious of God, else he would not bring his name into his conversation.

A well-known psychologist says that the mention of hell, God and Jesus Christ, in conversation is an unconscious evidence that those who use these words wrongly, are firmly convinced that the very things exist which they profane. When one becomes angry, he brings up from the subconscious the names that mean the most to him, even though he uses them profanely. Wrong? Of course it is wrong! Not only because the person has profaned the sacred name of God, but because he has done himself great physical and psychological damage.

You say, "Something evil erupts in you." At that moment the devil possesses you, and it is his business to discredit the name of God.

You can overcome this by asking God to give you a grateful heart for a hateful heart, and lips of praise for lips of profanity. Since speech is a habit, you can develop the habit of praise, by God's help, and then you will experience peace rather than the remorse you speak of.

What Others Say

Doomsayers have always used the rise and fall of the Roman empire as a classic example of a decay of a civilization.

Nearly two centuries ago, an 18th century Scottish historian and judge, Alexander Fraser Tytler, had in mind the fate of the Roman republic when he said:

"A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can only exist until the voters discover that they can vote themselves largess out of the public treasury. From that moment on the majority always votes for the candidate promising the most benefits from that public treasury, with the result that a democracy will always collapse from a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship."

To Your Good Health

Why Does He Pull His Hair At Naptime?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to know what causes my 4-year-old to pull his hair out when he is having his nap or at bedtime.

I have tried keeping his hair cut short, tried gloves and hats, and even letting him take some toys to bed to keep his mind off pulling his hair.

Is there a way to break this habit, if it is a habit? — Mrs. K.M.

It falls into the same category with nail biting, nose picking, lip chewing, and other quirks that children acquire—and so do adults.

Sometimes such children are hyperactive, a problem that I've discussed before. Such children are under some inner compulsion to be doing something, not necessarily constructive, all the time. This trait in children, we are learning, is far more prevalent than heretofore suspected. It would not surprise me if eventually we find that so far we have been recognizing only the extreme cases of it and not identifying the mild ones.

Where to draw the line between hyperactivity and the various nervous tensions under which a child may be laboring is a hard question. Perhaps there isn't any line. Perhaps (and I think it is a fair hypothesis) these nervous quirks seldom if ever can be ascribed to any single factor.

Some of the possibilities, however, can be such things as undue pressure on the child—such as the parents expecting too much or exerting too much discipline. Or there may be discord in the family which the child may not actually see but still can sense.

There may be nervousness because of a feeling of being in competition with other children in the family. Or parents may not have the knack of expressing affection and a child feels insecure or unloved.

Adults have various ways of reacting to nervous pressures. They smoke too much or drink or lose their tempers or sulk or go on spending sprees or have sick headaches or—well, they do all sorts of pointless things.

So children have their ways of reacting, too.

Keeping a youngster's hair cut so short that he can't pull it out is important because, for one thing, sometimes youngsters swallow the hair which can form a hair ball in the stomach and in extreme cases may have to be removed surgically.

But if you break one habit, what's to prevent some other habit from taking its place?

Security, regularity of activity, affection, plenty of sleep, reasonable discipline but not excessive pressure on a child—all of these are important in letting a child grow up without tensions that he relieves by nervous quirks. So analyze the household and your youngster's environment.

And I would not think it amiss to see what your doctor thinks about medication for hyperactivity, if that happens to enter this case.

Dear Dr. Molner: Will one natural Vitamin B-12 (25 mcg) tablet per day be harmful or of any help to children between the ages of 8 and 16?—Mrs. S.V.

It won't hurt them—but they ought to be getting enough meat, eggs, and dairy products in their daily diet so they don't need supplementary Vitamin B-12.

Agnew Familiar With City's Problems

MIAMI BEACH — Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, pulled a big surprise but hit the bull's-eye when he picked Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland to be his running mate.

It was a conspicuously different method than presidential nominees have hitherto used. Mr. Nixon consulted the principal Republican leaders at the Miami Beach convention and listened carefully to their recommendations. In the back of his mind all the time, however, was a particular formula or set of qualifications that the vice presidential nominee would have to possess.

WHAT MR. NIXON was seeking was someone whose candidacy would not offend the South or any other section of the country. He also wanted a man who would stand out as fully equipped to deal with the many problems at state, county and city levels which are plaguing the federal government today.

Mr. Agnew, who is 49 years old, is an expert in municipal affairs, and for five years was chief executive of Baltimore County. As governor, he has dealt with racial problems firsthand, particularly in Baltimore, which has a large Negro population. As he stated at his press conference after he was picked by Mr. Nixon, he is in favor of "civil rights," but he doesn't think President Johnson was well advised in allowing the "poor people's" demonstration at "Resurrection City" to be held. The Maryland governor said that the efforts were futile and that they did not represent a wise approach to the issues involved.

UNQUESTIONABLY, one of the biggest problems that the White House must deal with today is that of the cities. The federal government's involvement is a matter of great controversy, but certainly the financial assistance of the national government will continue to be a factor in trying to solve the troubles of the municipalities. What Mr. Nixon sought was a man experienced in these subjects and also with a knowledge of the many federal projects that now are being applied to the states, some of which Gov. Agnew thinks are overlapping and do more harm than good.

IT SO HAPPENS that Gov. Agnew was an original sponsor of a Rockefeller candidacy, and is well liked by the New York governor. Mr. Agnew switched to the Nixon camp when the announcement was made earlier this year that Rockefeller would not be a candidate. When the latter changed his mind and entered the race, Mr. Agnew had already begun to lean toward Nixon.

The Maryland governor does not regard himself as either a "conservative" or a "liberal," but says he is a realist who seeks the facts and the truth about controversial issues and then reaches a decision without asking whether it conforms to a "conservative" or "liberal" philosophy.

THE SELECTION of Gov. Agnew means that, from the political standpoint, Mr. Nixon has chosen a candidate who agrees with the desire of many voters for fair and objective dealings with racial problems and with the other difficulties that have arisen as a result of riots and disorders.

THOSE WHO are intimately familiar with state affairs say that Gov. Agnew has a record of accomplishment, and has put through the state legislature many useful programs. Since he was an early supporter of Nelson Rockefeller, he certainly is not regarded negatively by the followers of the New York governor. Also, he is not likely to antagonize the South, and he seems to have a firsthand knowledge of the many controversial questions that are emerging between the federal government and the states. Because of the many millions of voters who are directly and indirectly affected by the problems which the Republican platform hopes to solve, the selection of Gov. Agnew as vice presidential nominee will doubtless be a vote-getter for the Republican ticket.

ALLOCATION EXPECTED TO BE $381,000

Program Backed By Federal Aid

By JEAN FANNIN

Big Spring schools will receive federal aid totalling $381,000 during the 1968-69 school year, according to Keith D. Swim, director of special programs.

Extra personnel will be employed under the Title I — Elementary and Secondary Education Act under which Big Spring was allocated $91,013 as of July 1, 1968.

"However, changes in Congress could easily cause this appropriation to be changed," Swim said.

Under this proposal the school system will employ three elementary librarians at Lakeview, Cedar Crest and Bauer, 11 teachers' aides to give teachers more time to spend with children who are having trouble with their studies, elementary counselors for Lakeview, Cedar Crest, Bauer and the special education school and a full-time nurse for those schools.

The allocation will also provide $1,100 in lunches free to children in the city and pay Swim's salary as director of special programs.

The money is allotted per child in families with incomes of $2,000 or less per year according to the 1960 census, Swim said. Big Spring received funds for 773 children, "about $120 per child," Swim said.

"We try to spend this money where it will do these families the most good," he said. "According to our figures the money is being spent in schools in areas of the highest concentration of low-income families."

Swim said the allocation had been cut five per cent from last year by the presidential economy move.

Title II of the same act provides money to buy library books and materials and is allotted per capita enrollment. Big Spring will receive $6,675, or approximately 90 cents per child this year, which is a 60 per cent decrease from last year, Swim said.

"We plan to buy some 2,225 library books to be divided according to enrollment," he said. The senior high school would get the largest percentage, he said.

Funds totalling $2,861 have been allocated to Big Spring under Title III — National Defense Education Act to help buy materials for schools. Title 5A of the same act entitles the local school system to receive $8,654, also for school materials.

Classes at the Big Spring State Hospital and local adult education classes will be operated by $10,788 from the Adult Basic Education Act, the only program which was not cut this year.

The State Hospital will receive $3,248 to operate classes there for the second year in a row. Swim said $7,540 would go to adult education classes for anyone more than 18 years old with less than an eighth grade education.

Under this program the school offers basic knowledge of reading and writing in three levels. Level one offers fundamentals, level two is based on a third-fifth grade reading ability and level three on a sixth-eighth grade reading ability.

The program offers no degree as such, Swim said, but participants in the classes are encouraged to test for a GED, an equivalency diploma, which is almost universally accepted by employers requiring high school educations for their employes.

The Head start program has approximately $217,000 under which to operate during the coming year, Swim said. The money comes from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"Our program operates as a unit at Kate Morrison School for the purpose of giving children of low income families a 'headstart' toward being better equipped to compete in the first grade," Swim said.

Approximately 200 children between five and six years of age are enrolled. "To be eligible the child has to be able to show proof that he or she will be five years old on or before Sept. 1," Swim said.

An enrollment breakdown shows 70 per cent of the children of Spanish descent, 17 per cent of Anglo descent and 13 per cent of Negro descent.

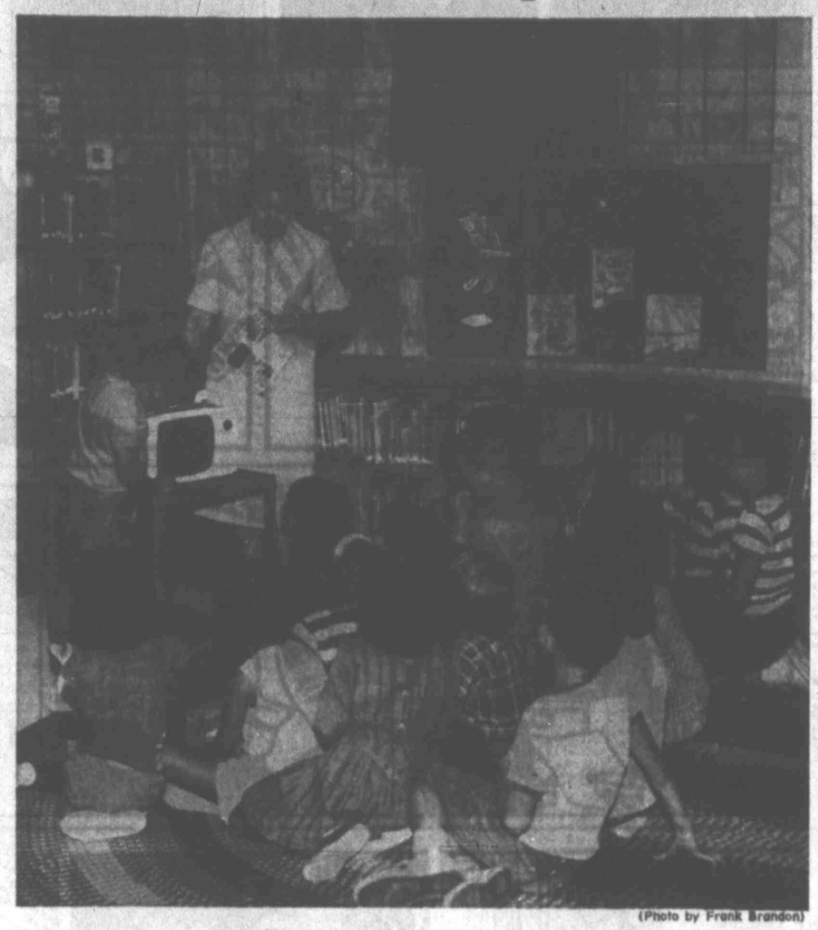

"Approximately half of the children of Spanish descent do not communicate well in English," he said. Forty per cent of the teachers in this program are bilingual, and 70 per cent of the teachers aides are bilingual, he said.

The program employs 10 teachers, 10 teachers' aides, a nurse who serves as a social worker and an assistant, a secretary and a director. Free lunches are provided and $60 is allocated per pupil for medical services. Pupils are also allocated $2 per month for supplies.

Classes are held 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday during the regular school months. Students are bused from Airport, Cedar Crest, Lakeview and Bauer.

"It is hoped Headstart will begin Sept. 3, but we have not yet received final approval," Swim said.

The vocational education program has been allocated $43,931 under a vocational education act of Congress. This includes the VOE program, auto mechanics, and other classes of this type now being taught at Big Spring High School, Swim said.

To be eligible for bus transportation, the pupil must live two miles or more from the nearest school housing the grade he is in. Eligible pupils are also transported to College Heights Elementary.

I Quit School When I Were 16

. . . And Are I Ever Sorry!

You're young . . . probably between 15 and 18. You're enthusiastic and confident about the future. You're sure you can make out without a lot of education. And besides, it's not much fun. So you figure you'll quit and get a high paying job so you can live it up a little.

DON'T DO IT! When you're some 30 years old and still taking home the same sized paycheck, you'll regret it — and regret it for the rest of your life. Today's industrial and business world demands highly-skilled, fully-educated young people. At least high school and preferably college.

SO what's in it for you? Big pay, better job, nice cars, newer home. And the knowledge that your children will look up to you and respect you more for having the good sense to get an education that will provide them with the things you want them to have.

Eastwood Returns As A Gunfighter

CLINT EASTWOOD

It looks like Director Sergio Leone knew what he was talking about all along. Trouble is nobody gave him the chance to prove it.

A western character, he insisted, one who could be wholeheartedly and enthusiastically taken to their bosoms by the world's movie audiences didn't have to have a square jaw and a dimpled chin. Nor did that chin have to be TV-commercial smooth. Nor did he have to wear a white hat. Or spend all his time doing noble works, confident that he was carving an empire out of a frontier for which future generations would bless him.

Given a strong central figure, Leone claimed, one with the fascination of a rattler and the enigma of the Sphinx itself — a strong man who knew what he was about and went about it in his own way, such a hero — call him anti-hero if you like — could actually have more appeal — or fascination — than all the rest of the horse-riding heroes in the business put together.

He could even wear a black hat, Leone persisted. And a beard, And his manly shoulders could be draped with a poncho such as the Mexican peons effect. He could even chew on a stogie in the presence of ladies and still fascinate beyond the wildest dreams of a movie producer.

People told Leone he was crazy. This did not deter him. Somehow he got the green light to make a picture centering around his anti-hero — and he made history with it!

The picture was the phenomenally successful "A Fistful of Dollars." The strong, enigmatic central figure called simply "The Man With No Name" was played by Clint Eastwood. Critics throughout the world have hailed it as a new — and refreshing — kind of western. It made more money than its producers had even dared believe possible.

Martin Back As Matt Helm

The role of Matt Helm, America's super-spy, who makes his second screen appearance in "Murderers' Row," spy adventure thriller at the Jet Drive-In in color by Technicolor, fell naturally to Dean Martin — who else? It is, as his first film, "The Silencers," showed, the sort of role that happily combines tongue-in-cheekiness with rugged action drama.

Based on the scrappy — but suave — hero of Donald Hamilton's novels, Matt Helm emerges as a urbane, sophisticated type, ready with a wisecrack or a wallop — be it with an enemy agent or a beautiful girl. Martin, who has all of these qualities in his makeup, also has a physical side of him that makes his Matt Helm believable.

Dean, is seldom if ever, ruffled. But the star is also a man who, despite his relaxed demeanor, goes where the action is; especially the outdoor kind. He wields a mean golf club and knows his way about the fairways as well as any man, but he also likes the more robust type of action as well, which explains his enthusiasm for roles in western and other action films, and his special delight in "Murderers' Row" and its Matt Helm predecessor.

Martin is an all-around sportsman. He rides horseback, is an excellent swimmer and a skilled motorcyclist. And, liking anything on wheels, he's a sports car fancier. He enjoys nothing better than to take his favorite speedster out in the desert flats and really let her rip. A skilled and resourceful driver, he knows every trick in the book in keeping a car hugging the road.

Another thing that fits Martin for the Matt Helm role, is his splendid physical condition. A former professional pugilist, Martin is naturally endowed with quick reflexes that make his physical combat sequences in "Murderers' Row," wholly credible. Martin has studied judo and karate.

'THE ODD COUPLE'
Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau

Success Came On A Rugged Road

"I feel very grateful about the wonderful course my career has taken since I picked up an Oscar for my role in "The Fortune Cookie," Walter Matthau said. I teamed with Jack Lemmon to do "The Odd Couple" which opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. He talks further:

"It hasn't been an overnight thing. The road to the Oscar was pretty rough and rugged as I reflect upon the past. I lived in cold-water flats until I was 28, and had guilt problems about being a success. But acting is a form of self-expression and social adversity frustrates you. So you need to express yourself. Had I grown up in a palace I doubt I would have made much of an actor.

"As a kid in New York I used to lock myself in the bathroom reading Shakespeare for hours at a time. I just liked the sound of words. My father was a sensitive, intelligent man who was completely crushed by the competitive system. He left the family soon after I was born. My mother worked in the garment industry as a seamstress to support my brother and me. I remember always being cold as a kid. Even now I like places that are warm.

"In 1940 I went to work for the WPA as a boxing coach. I had had a lot of fights as a kid but I don't know much about boxing. The WPA instructors showed me a couple of principles like keeping your chin down and your right up. Then they said: "Don't get into a fight with any of these kids. They'll lick hell out of you."

"When Brando was in 'Streetcar,' I saw 186 performances — but only the last two acts. I'd wander inside at intermission and when the buzzer rang, I moved with the crowd into the standing room section and watched Brando. He was one of the great actors of our time.

"It is the actor's job to say what the author has written and to play it the best way he knows how — not to try to bring it into his own squalid little area of experience.

"Every good actor for centuries has used the Method. The Method is simply coming onstage from some place the character might have been — a New York bar, a rail-road track. Most actors coming onstage are just actors coming in from offstage. They have no density, no dimension. They are bad actors.

"When Mike Gordon was directing me on 'One Bright Day' I told him there was a line I couldn't say because I didn't feel it. He said, 'What if you were playing Othello and you just didn't feel like killing Desdemona?' I got the point. I never said that again.

"I am afraid when I ride the subway. I usually try to project the image of a detective, and often it works.

"I don't want my son Charlie to become an actor. There are too many losers in the profession.

"I think I have worked more than any actor in the world — TV shows, skits and sketches and religious shows my name wasn't in, in settlement houses, YMCA's and YMHA's. In 20 years I took two weeks off. I love to act.

"The future? I'd just like to have these nice parts in movies like "The Odd Couple" and stay healthy. Garson Kanin advised me that in the future I should do romantic parts, something to do with the girl, even if I kill her.

Broadway Prices: Onward, Upward

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Where does all the money go to make a Broadway show?

Back in 1949, when the big musical "South Pacific" cost $225,000, an orchestra seat went for $6.

Now there's nothing unusual about a production going over $700,000. Down-front locations range from $9.90 to $11.90—with two in-bound exhibits already posting a $15 weekend scale.

In addition to the upsurge in basic show financing, the weekly operating expenses have risen. In 1957, "The Music Man" broke even at $36,000. Just 10 years later, "Hallelujah, Baby!" had to take in $53,000 before starting to show profit.

100 PLAYERS

A closeup look at the first musical of the new season, "Her First Roman," provides an introduction to all the fiscal complexities that go into turning an idea into an enterprise employing over 100 players, musicians, stagehands and sundry creative talents. Its top price will run $9.90-$11.90 on weekends.

The show, based on Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra" is due at the Lunt-Fontanne Oct. 8, by which date a budget of $500,000 will have been approximately deployed as follows:

Physical production, including sets, costumes, lighting, shoes, wigs, props and furniture, $200,000; union bonds and theater rent guarantee, $85,000; "front" costs including script rights, travel, auditions, legal fees, $80,000; rehearsal payroll, $65,000; moving show to Boston for tryout run, $30,000; advertising and posters, $25,000.

"Ninety per cent of production costs are labor charges," says Joseph Cates, coproducer with Henry G. Fownes of the show that stars Leslie Uggams and Richard Kiley. The combined weekly salary of the two headliners is five figures.

In contrast to the uniform advance of musical productions into the over-$500,000 bracket, the price tags on straight drama and comedy vary widely. Cates brought "Joe Egg" in last season for $70,000. Other recent projects have isted at $150,000.

Like their song-and-dance rivals, straight plays need increasingly alert cost accounting to succeed. Their top tickets now go for $7.50, which means a smaller weekly gross. Theater owners usually take 30 per cent of the gross as rent, compared to 25 per cent for musicals.

The salaries that stars get are a constant source of interest to showgoers. They come in two types—"ordinary" stars and "money" stars whose very name can sell tickets.

To the professional, a star is a performer whose name goes over the show title. An "ordinary" may get $1,500 to $2,000 weekly, a "money" draw may be paid a guaranteed $2,500 to $5,000 against a full 10 per cent of the gross.

Trying to balance outlays against boxoffice rates is a matter of growing concern for producers, even though one recent trade survey showed that while the general cost of living in the United States went up 16.5 per cent in the past eight years, the price of Broadway tickets rose 12.3.

"Tickets are too expensive now for most people," says Cates. "The line has to be held or all we'll end up with is an expense account audience."

Coahoma Will Begin Sept. 3

COAHOMA — Classes will open Sept. 3 in Coahoma schools, according to W. A. Wilson, school superintendent. Buses will run and the lunch room will be open.

A faculty meeting will be held Aug. 29 with students to register Aug. 30. Thanksgiving holidays are set for Nov. 28-29, and Christmas holidays will be Dec. 20 - Jan 2.

Classes will not meet Jan. 20, the end of the first semester, while teachers record grades. The District TSTA meeting will be March 7, Easter holidays will be April 4-7, and May 28 will be the last day of classes.

Two new courses will be offered in high school for the coming year, Wilson said. They will be mechanical drawing and vocational office training. Eight new classrooms, four in the high school and four in the junior high, will be ready for students Sept. 3.

Lunch room prices will be 35 cents for grades one through six, and 40 cents for grades seven through 12.

Lamesa Classes To Begin Sept. 3

LAMESA — Superintendent Alvin R. Cannady predicted enrollment to reach 3,500 in the school system here. Classes will begin Sept. 3 following registration Aug. 29-30. A teacher workshop has been slated for Aug. 26-28.

All Work Complete For School Opening

For the first time in about five years Big Spring students will be starting classes in essentially construction-free building Sept. 3, according to Don Crockett, business manager.

The newley-remodeled high school is complete and landscaping the grounds is now under way. Workmen have hauled in new dirt for Memorial Stadium and completely turned the old grass under.

"The stadium should be in real good shape for the first game Sept. 20," Crockett said.

Officials have made provisions for moving one temporary building onto a campus as yet undesignated. However they may not find it necessary.

"All our campuses are in good condition to handle a normal load," Crockett said, "and so far we have no reason to expect anything other than a normal load." He said both junior highs are adequate and the high school is more than adequate. Should any housing trouble develop, it would most likely be at one of the elementary schools, he said.

Crockett anticipates only two needs for capital outlay in the immediate future.

"The high school and two of the elementary schools are air conditioned, the others are not," he said, foreseeing the possibility of air conditioning other schools.

New innovations in science and language equipment which bring stiffer requirements from the Texas Education Department are also constantly calling for minor construction in those laboratories, he said.

"Actually we have just about completed all the construction allocated under the bond issue," Crockett said, pointing out that any major outlay of funds would require another bond issue.

Summer maintenance crews have been busy readying the schools for September. Goliad Junior High has been painted inside and out and Crockett hopes to have Airport and Park Hill painted also before school starts. Workmen are now painting the exterior of Park Hill.

All boilers have been drained, checked and repaired and all gas lines have been air-pressure checked. Plumbing has also been repaired.

Six Private Schools List Calendars For New Year

Six Big Spring private schools and kindergartens have announced calendars for the coming year.

Berea Baptist Kindergarten will begin classes Sept. 3, according to Mrs. Wanda Hill, principal. Infants through children 5 years old are eligible to enroll in the school. Expected enrollment is 80.

Big Spring Christian Day School begins its fourteenth year of operation Sept. 3 with curriculum for kindergarten and first grade. Operated by Mr. and Mrs. Omer A. Williams, the school is limited to 25 students per class. Students may register at any time before Sept. 3.

College Baptist Kindergarten also begins Sept. 3 with registration any day before the first day of classes. Pastor of the church, the Rev. Byron Orand, is principal. Enrollment has been estimated at 30 students.

Registration for enrollment in the Immaculate Heart of Mary School was set for Friday, 9-11:30 a.m.-1:30-4 p.m. for parishioners. Others registered 9 a.m. until noon Saturday. The school offers study for kindergarten, and first grade through sixth grade. Classes are limited to 35 students.

Mrs. Arah Phillips, principal of Jack and Jill Kindergarten and First Grade, announced that classes will begin Sept. 3. Enrollment has been estimated at 150 students.

St. Mary's Episcopal Church school will begin classes Sept. 9 according to Mrs. Fred Doelp, principal. Nursery school, kindergarten, and first through fourth grade are offered. Mrs. Doelp said she expects some 150 students.
