If you passed by the McLean electric company building Monday night, you would have been entirely right in assuming that Howard Williams had the place "open" for business. The entire front of the building was torn out immediately on the construction of a new front. Williams said the interior of the building will also be refinished. A floor was laid Saturday prior to the tearing out of the front.

We don't know exactly how the building was guarded Monday night, but we noticed that late in the afternoon, it was still "open" for business.

Fun Nite for teen-agers will be held Friday night after the ball game at the American Legion. All teen-agers are invited to attend, sponsors said.

Paying one person, or perhaps more than one, who figure they need the money worse than the polio-stricken child.

For the miniature iron lung in the McLean's Chevrolet Gas Station, one of many distributed by the business houses in McLean, the March of Dimes Chairman, Larry Fuller, is missing. The container was gone when he went by to pick it up Sunday—the March of Dimes campaign closed Saturday night and Mantoosh has no idea when it was taken.

Dr. Cecil G. Goff of Dumas, pastor of the First Baptist Church in McLean, suffered a heart attack recently, and he died at his home for 30 days.

A fair-sized crowd was present Thursday night in the Municipal Building to watch the two basketball games sponsored by the McLean Parent-Teacher Association.

In the opening game, the P-TA team, led by Guy Hester, "out-shot" a team of McLean Lions to a score of 28-20. In the second game, Mrs. Jack Bailey's team won the P-TA team by a score of 31-21.

Proceeds from the games will be used by the P-TA to aid in buying a piano for the McLean elementary school.

Sale of the McLean Feed Store by A. E. Turner was announced last week by H. Longan, who owned and operated the store a number of years. The store located on east Highway 66, was taken over operation of the store this week.

Longan has been in ill health the past few weeks, and will be forced to "take it easy" for the time, it was explained. He had not announced any plans for the future.

Guest entertainer at the regular meeting of the McLean Lions Club Tuesday noon was Barbara Benson, who played several popular numbers on the accordion. Wayne Smith, high school boy, was introduced as the new Cub for the month of February. Only guest at the meeting was John Cooper of Tucuman, N. M., former McLean resident.

Both the boys and girls basketball teams won important district games against Clarendon teams at the Municipal Building here Tuesday night.

The local girls walked away with the game 46-23, while the boys won 54-39. The girls played well without the services of Anita Bailey, high-scoring forward, who may be out for the remainder of the season with an injured knee. The knee had been hurt in the Canadian game, but was re-injured in practice session Monday.

In games at Quail Monday night, the girls downed the Quail 41-14, but the boys were swamped by the deadeye shooting of the Quail. The games were non-sportsmanlike affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sargent spent several days last week in Dallas in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Graham.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Kritzer, Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Andrews, and Mrs. J. C. Claborn, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Windom Jr., and Mrs. Richard Back were in Amarillo Saturday night to attend the boxing matches.

Bids on Paving More on '66' To Be Opened

Bids for the building and paving of an additional five and two-tenths miles of four-lane Highway 66 through Gray County and a small portion of Donley County will be opened on February 17 in Austin, according to a report from the State Highway Department.

The work to be done will start at the west end of the paving now under construction—just the other side of Alanoed—and will extend west for the five and two-tenths miles. The roadbed has been completed for the past two or three years, but it will require some grading before it can be topped.

The contract to be let calls for grading, structures, flexible base, and double asphalt-concrete surface.

The road will, of course, be a divided road, with two lanes going east and two west, similar to that which now starts at the Oklahoma line and continues east to Alanoed.

Only about two-tenths of a mile of the road is actually in Donley County.

When this portion of work has been completed, many of the dangerous curves on the highway to Amarillo will be eliminated. However, the amount to be paved will not take care of all the crooks to Jericho, since that community is about 11 or 12 miles west of Alanoed.

Meanwhile, work continues on the road project through this part of the county. The south lane of the highway is completed, but signs still have not been erected and consequently it has not been formally opened to traffic. Many cars are using the new lane, though, despite the fact that it has not been formally opened. Shoulder work on the remainder of the already-paved portion west is still going on, as is grading on the portion yet to be paved.

Perryton Show Is February 10

Fifty-eight registered Herefords will be sold in Perryton on Tuesday, February 10, at the seventh annual sale of the North Plains Hereford Breeders Association. There are 43 bulls and 15 females from some of the outstanding Hereford breeders in the North Plains area.

The sale will follow the annual show to be held Tuesday morning. Ray Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Tech, will judge the Herefords.

Got Wolf at Door? Maybe Ross Collie Can Snare It

If there's a wolf at your door—and we really mean wolf—maybe Ross Collie can help you catch it, for he's had good luck trapping the elusive animals for the past two weeks.

In ten days time, Ross has trapped 25 wolves, catching four Monday night. And he has caught all the wolves in the same general locality.

Collie has 28 traps set in the weeds and brush alongside the road which leads south from the west side of McLean. The 25 wolves have been caught on roads near the Sitter and Lewis ranches, and there are plenty more in that neighborhood.

Collie has been using a special bait which formerly was put out by the Texas Extension Service at Texas A. and M. He is now trying to get some more of the bait, if the extension service still makes it available.

Legion Rodeo To Be Staged On April 17-19

The annual American Legion rodeo, sponsored by Floyd-Corbin-Florey Post 315, will be held April 17, 18, and 19, members of the post decided at a meeting held Monday night.

Spencer Sitter was named as Legion chairman for the show, and Tom Harlan was selected as arena director.

Three performances will be held this year, it was decided. The shows will be on Friday night, Saturday afternoon, and Sunday afternoon.

In addition, the Legion plans to hold two rodeo dances, one on the night of April 17 and the other the night of April 18. Truitt Johnson has been named by Commander Luke Henley as the chairman of the entertainment committee to handle preparations for the dances.

The annual rodeo, always one of the earliest to be held in the Panhandle, attracts a large number of cowboys. It is a strictly amateur affair, and prize money of about $1,300 is usually offered. Sitter has not yet worked out details for the prize money or the entry fees, but events will probably again include calf roping, ribbon roping, bulldogging, bull riding, and bronc riding.

A new plan of admittance is being worked out by Sitter and a committee he has named to help him. Included in the plans is the construction of some type of ticket office at the rodeo grounds, a better system of allowing entrance to the grounds, and a more efficient parking system for cars.

That is the most perfect government under which a wrong to the humblest is an affront to all. —Solon.

March Dimes Drive Closes; Total Is $1,250

A total of $1,250.06 was collected in McLean in the annual March of Dimes campaign which ended Saturday night, Larry Fuller, McLean chairman, reported.

The money will go to the Gray County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. A portion of the county's money which was raised in the campaign will remain in the county to be used to care for polio cases in Gray County; the remainder of the money is sent to the national foundation, to be used in emergency areas as well as in research work.

Breakdown on the contributions made in the local area is as follows:

Grade School	$ 63.00
Iron Lungs	148.69
Dime Coffee	58.00
Dance	167.00
Mothers' March	85.03
Street Donations	600.00
Cake Auction	9.56
Mail Donations	118.79

"As your local chairman, I want to thank each person who aided in any way in making the drive a success. The average raised is better than 86 cents for each person within our city limits, although many people who live outside the city made contributions. This per capita is very high in comparison with many areas, and we should all be glad that we have aided in helping those thousands of people stricken with the dreaded polio disease," Fuller said.

McLean Needs Wins on Friday

It will be a do-or-die game when the McLean Tigerette basketball team meets the Panhandle girls in a District 1-A game here in the Municipal Building Friday night.

The local girls must win the game to remain in the district play. The Tigerettes have lost only one game, that to Panhandle, while the visitors have no losses as yet. Should the McLean team win, the two teams will then be tied in the district race.

The boys, with no losses thus far, will probably be hard-pressed to whip the Panhandle boys again. McLean can stand one loss and still win the district title, but two losses would, in all likelihood, throw McLean into a tie with either White Deer or Lefors.

The two teams will journey to White Deer Tuesday night of next week for more district games. Following those matches, only games with Canadian, to be played there February 12, will remain on the district schedule.

Asks Residents To Visit, Inspect City Facilities

A special "open house" to allow all citizens to inspect the facilities of the City of McLean has been proclaimed by Mayor E. J. Lander. The week is next week, February 8 thru 14.

The open house is a part of a state-wide observance of "Government Open House" which has been designated by Governor Allan Shivers. Similar open houses are planned during the month by most of the cities and towns of Texas. Sponsor of the event is the State Bar of Texas and its Committee on American Citizenship, Mayor Lander explained.

A special invitation is issued to all citizens to attend the regular council meeting Tuesday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, Mayor Lander said. Visitors are welcomed at all meetings of the council, he explained, and the councilmen will appreciate your presence.

Every citizen of McLean, and the surrounding area, is urged to visit the City Hall at least once during the week, as well as the rest of the city's property. City Secretary D. A. Davis and Clerk Nadine Lee will be on hand at the City Hall to show any interested parties how the city's book-keeping facilities are arranged, and to explain any phase of the city's operations.

In addition, the city's various pieces of equipment, which are kept in the buildings behind the fire department building, may be seen. Included are the large maintenance, tractor, trucks, meter repair equipment, etc. Buildings which are used to house the equipment will also be open for public inspection.

Mayor Lander also said that anyone interested may inspect the fire department equipment. The firemen held an open house a few months ago and several hundred residents visited the new building at that time, but the mayor said there may be some who still have not seen the modern facilities of the fire department.

"We who are connected with your city government take pride and pleasure in administering to the needs of the local residents," the mayor said, "and we want you to know that you are welcome to inspect any of your city's facilities at any time."

"However, in line with the state-wide program, we urge you to pay a visit next week to the city's property, and see just how much fine and useful equipment we have with which to serve you. It is our aim at all times to aid in making our little city a better place to live, and it is our hope that you, too, are interested in the betterment of the community."

John Alden's wife's maiden name was Priscilla Mullins.

PROCLAMATION OPEN HOUSE

Because we at City Hall take pride and pleasure in administering to the needs of the residents of McLean who are welcome to visit us at any time, and;

Because we believe that every resident should be acquainted with the operation and facilities of his city at all times, and;

Because we would like to extend a special invitation to all residents to come and get acquainted.

Now therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of McLean, Texas, I, E. J. Lander, do hereby proclaim that the week of February 8th through February 14th shall be known as "Open House at City Hall." All residents are particularly invited to visit City Hall during this week as part of a state wide observance of "Government Open House" sponsored by the State Bar of Texas and its Committee on American Citizenship.

It is every citizen's duty to get acquainted with his government. You are cordially invited to attend meetings of your City Council.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I hereunto affix my official signature this 3rd day of February, 1953.

E. J. Lander, Mayor.

Steak Tops Students' Choices

What would you think is the favorite meat of students in the McLean elementary school? Or the favorite vegetables, or dessert?

If your first guess on the meats is steak, you're right. Second place went to fried chicken; other meats, in the order they are preferred by the students, are chicken and turkey, fish, roast and pork chops, ham, and hamburger.

Principal James A. Prock, and other members of the school staff, recently made a survey to determine better what to serve in the school cafeteria, and Prock states it is most surprising that the cafeteria menus have been running close to the students' choices.

The students put potatoes (fried and creamed) as the first vegetable. Others, in order of preference, are carrots, (raw and cooked), corn, tomatoes, brown beans, spinach and green beans, blueberry peas, lettuce and celery, and English peas.

Desserts? Why, ice cream is No. 1 choice, of course. Others run like this: cherry cobbler pie and banana pudding, cake, gelatin, pecan pie, and lemon and chocolate puddings.

The cafeteria serves about 160 lunches daily. The state has a cafeteria helping fund, which allows five cents per child's lunch to the local school, but oftentimes this allotment is pretty slow in coming through.

The lunchroom operates on a strictly non-profit basis. When a surplus shows up, the money goes back into the food fund to enable the cafeteria to serve better foods. Prices per lunch are 30 cents for students in grades 1 through 5, and 35 cents for the remainder of the students.

Three experienced cooks prepare and serve the meals. They are Mrs. Jack Bailey, who is in charge of the cafeteria, Mrs. J. R. McClellan, and Mrs. B. W. Smith. The only help they get is from a few of the students, who aid in washing the dishes, cleaning up in the cafeteria, etc.

"We wish to extend an invitation to everyone to come down and visit our lunchroom and see it in operation. We have three fine cooks who have, in very estimation, been preparing our very good meals. The children have been enjoying them, and going back for more, which is their privilege when they have cleaned their plates at any time, and we believe you would particularly enjoy coming by at the serving hour, beginning at about 11:30 o'clock each morning," the principal said.

A week's menu looks enticing, too. Yesterday (Wednesday), the meal consisted of turkey and dressing, gravy, cranberry sauce, candied yams, bread, and chicken pudding. Today at noon you'll find beanie wieners, fried potatoes, tomatoes, carrot sticks, milk, bread, and jelly-o.

Here's a rundown on the coming week's foods: Friday, fish, kraut, potatoes, lettuce, milk, bread, and ice cream; Saturday, meat loaf, green beans, peas, salad, milk, bread, and cake; Monday, macaroni and cheese, English peas, tomatoes, salad, milk, bread, and peaches; Tuesday, ham, potatoes, black-eyed peas, salad, milk, bread, and banana pudding; Wednesday, steak and gravy, corn, green beans, salad, milk, bread, and cake; Thursday, creamed turkey, candied yams, English peas, salad, milk, bread, and jelly-o; Friday, roast potatoes, carrots, salad, milk, bread, and cookies; Saturday, ham sandwiches, potato chips, beans, pickles and onions, milk, bread, and ice cream.

Miss June Ann Nix And Jim McDowell Wedding Held Here

Miss June Ann Nix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Nix of Shamrock, and D'Arcy D. (Jim) McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McDowell, also of Shamrock, were united in marriage last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in a ceremony held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Campbell in McLean.

Rev. C. W. Parmenter, pastor of the McLean Methodist Church, read the vows of the single-ring ceremony before an altar of white gladioli banked with fern, and flanked on either side by tall candelabra. A mantelpiece of white gladioli completed the floral arrangements.

Mrs. Paul Dodgin of Amarillo was matron-of-honor, and John McDowell of Shamrock, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Lester Campbell, in the absence of her father. Tom Salem, of Turkey, another cousin, was candle-lighter.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Cabot Brannon of Shamrock played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Always." Mrs. H. A. Gillespie, accompanied by Mrs. Brannon at the piano, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." To conclude the ceremony, Mrs. Gillespie sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a brown and gold suit, with brown accessories. She carried an 1851 Bible, owned by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Crow of Shamrock, topped with an orchid with satin streamers. Mrs. Dodgin was attired in a pink suit, with purple accessories, and carried a nosegay of purple carnations.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Nix, wore a powder blue taffeta dress, with sable mist accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. McDowell, was dressed in a dusty rose suit, with brown accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Campbell home. Mrs. Tom Salem of Turkey presided at the bride's book. Mrs. John McDowell served the cake, and Mrs. Lester Campbell poured the coffee. The table was centered with an all-white cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, and flanking candelabra completed the decorations in the dining room.

Present at the wedding and reception from Shamrock were Mrs. Nix, Mrs. Crow, Mrs. L. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tindall, Mr. and Mrs. John McDowell, Mrs. Brannon, Mrs. Gillespie, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Laycock; from Turkey, Mrs. Laura Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Salem and son Tim; from McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and daughter Chris, and Rev. and Mrs. Parmenter; and from Amarillo, Mrs. Dodgin.

"THE GREATEST BUSINESS MONOPOLY"

REPRESENTATIVE COUDERT of New York will ask the present Congress to investigate the possibility of returning more than 100 government operated commercial enterprises, with an estimated value of $20,000,000,000, to private ownership.

He declared that certain government activities today represent the "greatest business monopoly outside the Soviet Union," and that the purpose of his resolution is to attempt to "call a halt to continuing nationalization or socialization of American enterprises."

He cited a request of the chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority for an additional $5,000,000,000 to increase its plant, and added, "No private enterprise can walk into the Treasury of the United States to finance itself in this easy fashion."

Mr. Coudert's ideas seem to be similar to those of former mobilization director Charles E. Wilson, who proposed some months ago that government enterprises be taken over by a corporation in which the people could buy shares. Regardless of the method followed, here is one way that the national debt can be reduced by billions, and the drain on the treasury by these socialistic tax-free enterprises can be eliminated. Moreover, once they were owned and operated by private enterprise, they would go back on the tax rolls—to the direct benefit of every taxpayer in the country.

Probably the most flagrant example of destructive and unnecessary socialism has been in the field of government electric power plants. In every case, the service would have been provided by heavily-taxed, publicly-regulated utility companies. There has never been a demand for power so great that private enterprise could not provide the facilities to meet it.

Furthermore, government in business—any business—is socialism, and socialism is the enemy of freedom and true progress. Mr. Coudert and Mr. Wilson have the right idea and Congress should act on it.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bailey and family of Goodnight were visitors in McLean Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Mertel and girls visited in Pampa Sunday afternoon.

LES TALK

By LESTER

Take a look at this picture, folks. There now, see, Wayne, I told you we wouldn't lose any subscribers who might become plumb scared and quit taking the paper. Yes, folks, this is old Wayne McElroy, that genial butcherer at Cooper's. I've known Wayne every since I have been in McLean, and I have come to think most, most highly of him. He is a very, friendly sort of guy, tends to his own business, and manages to help in various activities about the town. At present, Wayne is first vice president of the McLean Jaycees, and he has been an important cog in the Jaycee machinery every since the organization was formed two years ago. It won't be too long until he will be too old in years to hold an office in the Jaycees, but I imagine he will still be active in it, just as are a lot of others here who are too old to hold office. Wayne has helped out in a lot of other civic work in the past, too, on the various drives which are always coming up, etc. Understand he is a good church man, too.

And you know, I haven't found anyone in this town yet who doesn't like Wayne McElroy. That's a pretty good recommendation for any man, isn't it?

I read in a Pampa paper the other day the story concerning the letting of the property valuation contract to the Pickett firm. And before I go any farther, it doesn't really matter to me what firm has the contract.

But the thing that struck me as peculiar was that Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. asked the representatives of the press to leave the commissioners court session—at least, that's what the Pampa Daily News said. Then while there were no representatives of the press remaining, the court came to a decision concerning the contract; but that decision was withheld from the public until the next morning.

Knowing as I do how some reporters make themselves obnoxious at times, it is a wonder to me how more of them keep from getting asked to leave various sessions. But apparently, there was no misbehavior on the part of the press at the commissioners court session.

Now, let's get this straight. I am not taking up for the press on this occasion, although I will quite often do that. I am taking up for the public in general this time. And I say that, if the story concerning the asking of the press representatives to leave the meeting is true, Judge Maguire was wrong.

You see, the press, as reporters are usually referred to, isn't around at these meetings, just for the fun of it. The newspapers and radios have assumed the responsibility of doing their utmost to keep the public informed about what their elected officials are doing. The public, over a period of years, has come to expect these same firms to keep them informed, so that they (the public) will not have to attend all these meetings to know what's going on.

In McLean, for instance, when the school or city officials figure something of real importance is going to come up, they usually give me a call and ask me to attend. They invite me frequently to their regular meetings, but since there is only one of me and quite a large number of such sessions which I might attend, I don't attempt to cover them all. If something of importance has been done by the school or city, as a general rule either Ed Lander of the city, or Charles Cousins or Paul Kennedy of the school will let us know so we can put it in the paper for the benefit of all.

In Pampa, and such cities with daily papers, however, the papers generally have staffs which are sufficiently large to cover the routine meetings in the courthouse, city hall, etc. These reporters do not make their presence just for the fun of it. They feel they have a job to do, a job of keeping the public informed to the best of the paper's ability.

Then, when they go to a meeting and are asked to leave, something is being said by those in attendance at the meeting which they do not wish the public to know about. Only on rare instances can this be for the good of the public. Perhaps military defense secrets is the most common—it would be foolish, indeed, to give out such secrets.

But in a county commissioners court meeting, where discussions are being held to employ a firm to evaluate property, I can't see why the members of the court couldn't say what they had to say, and couldn't make such a decision, too, in front of reporters as well as without them.

Judge Maguire, our commissioner, Oscar Tibbets, and the Lefors commissioner, Arlie Carpenter, are all friends of mine. I don't happen to know the other commissioners.

But when the press was asked to leave the meeting, I sincerely believe the court was wrong. Maybe I'm wrong, but I can't see the point. All such meetings should be open to the public at all times. Four of the five court members are new on the work, having assumed their duties January 1, but this fact can be no excuse for holding closed meetings.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1

Epileptics can now be greatly helped, and some cured. With the newer drugs certain types of epileptics can have the period between the attacks materially lengthened, and sometimes the attacks completely eliminated. The epileptic child needs, besides drugs, the sympathetic care and understanding of parents and all others with whom he comes in contact. Because of the continued advance made in treatment, individuals afflicted with this disease should keep in close touch with their physicians.

Answer to Question No. 2

Hookworm (ankylostomiasis) is usually found in warm climates, especially where sanitation is poor and where people walk around barefooted. There have been about 15 to 16 thousand cases reported annually in the United States during recent years, mostly in our southern states. Improved sanitation and better living conditions can eradicate the disease.

Answer to Question No. 3

Severe pain, usually limited to one side of the head, is the typical discomfort of a migraine headache. This pain is often accompanied by vomiting and general prostration and will last anywhere from a few hours to several days. Medical treatment is now combined with psychiatric care of the patient's personality. A great deal has been done by medical science to relieve the discomforts of migraine. Complete success in dealing with these headaches has yet to be realized. (Copyright 1952 by Health Information Foundation)

Rice for Grand Warden

Local Odd Fellows are bestirring themselves just now in a far-reaching move to place the name of our fellow townsman, C. S. Rice, before the Grand Lodge, which convenes at Houston early in March, as a candidate for the office of Grand Warden. This campaign must of necessity be handled with care as wholesale electioneering for any brother is against the rules of the order, but silent and efficient work is being done, not only here but at other points where Mr. Rice is known for his loyalty to the principals and efficiency in the knowledge of the lodge and the great purpose for which it is maintained.

At the last meeting of the Panhandle Odd Fellows Association at Amarillo, Mr. Rice's name was placed before that body for president, and he was elected by an overwhelming majority over all other candidates on the first ballot. At the same time this association practically endorsed his candidacy for the office of Grand Warden. While it is hardly hoped that he will get the desired post at the next meeting, yet if his name can be gotten before the lodge in a substantial way it will practically insure his election in 1914.

The gentleman is thoroughly qualified, both as an Odd Fellow and a citizen, to fill this important office, and his friends all over the Panhandle and at other points of the state will recognize in him a man who will bring to the office efficiency and honesty, reflecting credit upon himself and the lodge that has launched him into this race.

Here's hoping.

Three million or more self-employed people will have new insurance protection when they file their income tax return for 1952 and include their self-employment report. For those who have been continuously in business since 1950, this report will put on record two full years of coverage under social security and will make each of them fully insured, at least until July, 1953. As they continue in business and continue to report these earnings once every year, their fully insured status will be maintained.

By fully insured we mean that these persons or their survivors have a measure of protection against loss of earned income due to old-age and death—that benefits can be paid in the event of their retirement after age 65, or to their survivors in case of death at any age. In most cases, these benefits are substantial and are an important source of income. Care should be taken by all self-employed persons to report their earnings properly.

Last year many reports were received without a social security account number anywhere on the return. We are still contacting people to obtain their social security account number, for without it we cannot give credit on a wage record. We must have the social security number before the wages can be posted.

The self-employed who are required to report for 1952 should have their account number ready for income tax time. If the social security card has been lost or destroyed, a duplicate card should be obtained from the social security field office now. All self-employed persons who make a net profit of $400 or more in an occupation covered by the law, must file a return and a profit statement (called Schedule C). This must be done even if their income is not high enough to require income tax payment.
