Dallas' First Lady Saw Rifle

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Earle Cabell, riding in the presidential motorcade Nov. 22, saw the rifle of President Kennedy's assassin extended from the Texas School Book Depository building, she said today.

She heard the first shot and looked up, immediately seeing the rifle.

"Oh, Earle, it's a gun," she shouted to her husband, the former Dallas mayor, who was riding in the front seat of the convertible with Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney.

"Oh, no, honey, it must be ..." the mayor started to answer.

His assumption that the sound was a firecracker was cut short by the second and third shots in rapid succession, Mrs. Cabell said.

The Cabells, as official hosts, followed the presidential limousine in its dash to Parkland Hospital. Only at the hospital did they know Kennedy had been shot.

Mrs. Cabell and her husband, now Democratic candidate for Congress, were in the fourth car behind the President's.

Cabell was turned toward his wife and Roberts. Mrs. Cabell was behind the driver.

"I never saw a person or even a person's hand on the rifle," Mrs. Cabell said.

She told what she saw to Robert Storey, special Texas counsel to the Warren Commission.

Says Downward Trend Stopped

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that the "downward spiral" in the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam has been stopped.

He said "we will win" if the United States and the South Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies.

In his first major speech since returning from Saigon Monday, after resigning as ambassador, Lodge pictured the greatest threat to this confident outlook as an increase in "hostile outside pressures" from the Communist side.

If those pressures grow too great, he said in an address prepared for the National Press Club, then "we may be forced" to take other actions to deal with the new threat.

Lodge did not spell out what additional steps might be employed against Communist forces in Southeast Asia. There has been considerable talk from U.S. officials in recent weeks about possibly carrying the war to North Viet Nam by air strikes, but he did not mention that.

He did say, however, that one kind of "outside pressures" can come from neighboring land used as a "sanctuary" from which Viet Nam can be attacked and the Communist Viet Cong forces given assistance "with impunity."

"Obviously," Lodge said, "when one is engaged in a life-and-death struggle, such a 'sanctuary' must not go on forever." But he added: "it should be possible to deal with this problem by peaceful means."

Lodge declared the United States "must work for effective supervision" of South Viet Nam's borders with North Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos to stop the Communists from violating them in moving supplies and reinforcements into South Viet Nam and in making attacks on that country.

He said proper supervision of the borders is essential for ending aggression in Viet Nam and for achieving peace in Southeast Asia. He did not say how the supervision might be achieved. There has been speculation that the United States might ask the United Nations to undertake the task.

Lodge devoted his prepared address entirely to a report on the conflict in Viet Nam. He served there as ambassador for 10 months before his decision two weeks ago to come home and help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his fight against Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Lodge warned Americans against becoming discouraged about the struggle in Southeast Asia, declaring that they should emulate the "mole-like patience" of the Communists in what he said will be a long struggle.

"If we and the Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies, we will win—provided the hostile outside pressures stay as they were about last summer."

Disaster Blamed On Gas Pocket

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — A shallow pocket of gas puffed into a giant blowtorch, touching off the worst disaster in the history of offshore oil drilling Tuesday, leaving 20 men feared dead.

"There was fire everywhere," said L. C. Franks, one of the 25 survivors. "If hell is any worse, I don't want to go there."

The terrific pre-dawn explosion and fire collapsed the C. P. Baker, a $6-million floating oil rig and sent it plunging 180 feet to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico.

Two bodies were recovered. An intensive search found no trace of 18 men.

The 18 "are probably still aboard the Baker at the bottom," said Jack Bates of Reading and Bates Offshore Drilling Co., owner of the giant rig—actually two 360-foot hulls with a derrick mounted between them.

The rig had moved to its new drilling spot 72 miles off the Louisiana coast southwest of this fishing town last Sunday.

Half of the 43 persons aboard were asleep when the drilling crew encountered a shallow pocket of gas under high pressure at 4680 feet. Two others were in a service barge tied up alongside the rig.

The gas engulfed the giant apparatus and a stray spark touched off the explosion and fire.

The dead men were identified as Don Demars of Bayou Vista, La.; and Ernest J. Schadler of Lake Charles, La.

The missing men were from Louisiana and Mississippi and the survivors from Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Alabama.

Hayes Denounces Civil Rights Bill

"The civil rights bill should be known as the civil wrongs bill," said O. W. (Bill) Hayes, Republican nominee for candidate for Texas Congressman - at - large here this morning.

Hayes, an executive with a Belton school equipment manufacturing company, spoke to about 40 guests at a breakfast in his honor at the Country Club.

Commenting further on the civil rights bill, Hayes said that it was not a race issue at all, but rather a police - state issue. He said that it is used to buy bloc votes, but that the bill actually takes away the freedom from the people it is supposed to protect.

Hayes was introduced by Sterling Hulen, Scurry County Republican chairman. Hayes announced that Jonisue Bowden had consented to be his campaign chairman for this area.

When asked what the major issue of the campaign should be, Hayes said he believed it should be President Johnson's foreign policy, or lack of such policy. He stated that the United States is being slapped in the face by two-bit dictators all over the world.

He added that soldiers were allowed to die in Viet Nam, but not allowed to win.

Hayes added that the Democratic administration is helping, financially and in other ways, Communist countries in all parts of the world — that U. S. tax money was used to supplement the Russian wheat bill. He pointed out that wheat is actually a weapon of war, not only because of the various ways that wheat can be used, but also because in furnishing wheat to the Russians this will allow many Russion workers to be used in the making of missiles and other weapons.

Hayes further pointed out that his opponent for Congressman-at-large, Joe Pool, voted for the Russian wheat bill. He stated that Pool also voted for the seating of liberals on various committees, and even voted for the packing of the powerful rules committee with liberals.

Hayes also said that Pool voted for two pay raises for congressmen; one of $10,000 which did not pass and another of $7,500 which did pass. He reminded the group that Pool voted for these pay raises for himself, although he voted against a pay raise for lesser Federal employees.

An informal question and answer session followed his talk. When asked how he felt the Cuban problem should be handled, he said he favored a total blockade of Cuba, and a recognition and support of a government in exile.

Hayes said that in running for congressman-at-large, he was running for an office that should not exist, that Texas should have been redistricted after the 1960 census.

Hayes said that the Republican party is the party of and for the conservatives, that the most liberal Republicans are more conservative than 75 per cent of the Democrats.

Hayes commented that Norman Thomas, the Socialist Party nominee for president many times, recently stated that the Democratic party has implemented over 20 platform planks on which he ran for president.

Hayes will be the speaker at a fund - raising event in Odessa July 8. He will take time from his campaigning to attend the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

House Vote Due Today On Aid Bill

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes today on the $3.3-billion foreign aid appropriations bill with Rep. Otto E. Passman set to make a last-ditch attempt to cut the measure.

The Louisiana Democrat, who has led successful efforts to trim aid measures year after year, will try to cut the present bill to $3 billion before the final House vote.

Unlike years past, however, Passman will not have the support of the House Appropriations Committee, which has a new chairman, Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex.

Mahon asked the House Tuesday to support President Johnson in his first full fiscal year.

But Passman, in a speech with sweeping gestures, said, "I have no ax to grind. I'm very fond of my President. But you and I know he doesn't know anything about this bill."

So far, Johnson has been unusually successful with the bill, which often has been shredded in the appropriation stage. The votes today, however, will be the most crucial so far in the long legislative process that foreign aid moves through every year.

Winnie Takes Many Lives

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH

MANILA (AP) — Casualty figures from Typhoon Winnie soared today as reports of death and destruction from one of the worst storms ever to smash through Manila started trickling in from stricken areas.

The Philippine News Service and local newspapers reported 44 dead although the Red Cross listed only 11 fatalities. The Red Cross reported 275 injured and 376,897 homeless in cities and provinces of central Luzon Island hit by the typhoon.

Manila declared a state of calamity and began clearing rubble and debris. The city of two million still was without electric power and water 36 hours after the typhoon roared in from the Pacific with winds up to 90 miles an hour Monday night.

Public transportation was restored this morning. City streets were choked with cars and buses.

The Manila International Airport reopened to traffic after a 36-hour suspension.

The typhoon passed south of the big U.S. Clark Air Force Base, 45 miles north of Manila, but hit the U.S. Navy's Sangley Point Air Station across the bay from Manila. A Navy spokesman said there were no casualties. Aircraft were either lashed securely or flown to safer areas.

The Manila Weather Bureau said the typhoon, still packing 95 - mile winds, was churning across the South China Sea toward the Chinese mainland.

Tshombe Urged To Hold Talks

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu today asked Moise Tshombe, former secessionist leader in Katanga, to begin consultations with other political leaders on forming a new government.

Premier Cyrille Adoula and his Cabinet resigned Tuesday after nearly three years in office.

The Katangan's task will be to seek a combination of leaders to provide the Congo with a provisional government to prepare for new elections in about nine months.

Kasavubu's decision to call on Tshombe was announced by Leopoldville radio.

While the president's call to Tshombe does not insure the Katangan will be asked to form a government, political quarters felt the action increased his chances for the premiership by keeping the spotlight squarely on him.

Marshall Soldier Killed In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pfc. Freddy Dodson of Marshall, Tex., was among five men listed by the Army Tuesday as killed as enemy fire downed a helicopter in South Viet Nam. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guene Dodson of Marshall.

FOR SNYDER SCHOOLS

Little Change In Budget Proposal

A proposed budget of virtually the same amount as that presented a year ago for Snyder Public Schools prompted pleas for economy, but produced no full scale protests at a hearing last night in the high school cafeteria.

The total budget proposed for the 1964-65 school year is $3,037,058. The budget presented a year ago amounted to $3,013,797.

At the outset of the hearing, Supt. Robert Clinton told the group attending the hearing, mostly tax representatives of oil companies, that he felt that the school board and administration were committed first of all to a good school system. At the same time, Dr. Clinton said school officials realized that economies should be practiced wherever practical and that all funds spent should be justified.

Chief spoksman for the oil industry representatives was R. E. McBride, tax repfesentative of Standard Oil Co. of Texas. He said the oil companies were interested in good schools and that the budget is a vital part of the public education system. However, he said the oil industry must continue to push for economies wherever they can be effected without reducing quality.

McBride illustrated with slides his comments on problems of the oil industry, showing declines in production allowables and values of production, along with fiscal trends in the schools.

Dick Clark of Texaco, Inc., and Carlton Meredith, representing a group of independents, also spoke briefly, each pointing out decreases in production and income, etc.

Instructional salaries and debt service account for well over two-thirds of the proposed school budget. The total outlay proposed for instructional salaries amounts to $1,599,519, and requirements for bonded indebtedness amount to $696,851.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My very lovely sister-in-law is an art student, and she has just entered her [illegible] syndrome. Her efforts are so far to find out whether they resemble an explosion in a paint factory. She is now doing a portrait of my wife, and we both agree that it is an atrocity. When it is finished, must I hang it in the living room and suffer an aesthetic jolt every time I set eyes on it? Or should I risk a family donnybrook and send it to the attic, where it clearly belongs?

APPALLED

DEAR APPALLED: Prop it up somewhere downstairs for a reasonable length of time, then banish it to the attic. If the artist complains, tell her you couldn't bear to hang your wife in the living room.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who worries himself half-sick over what to buy his mother for Mother's Day, and then turns around and says to his wife, "Don't buy me anything for Father's Day because I am not buying you anything for Mother's Day."

BOILING OVER

DEAR BOILING: Your husband apparently feels that his mother eagerly anticipates a Mother's Day gift, and would avoid disappointing her — even though he disapproves of the idea generally. If you think he is discriminating, and it bugs you, tell him! Or would you rather just go on "boiling"?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I give a party, our invitations are "RSVP," which everyone knows requires an answer. We have about six or seven couples with whom we are quite friendly. Some of them assume that just because we are so close they need not respond. We are just supposed to "know" that they will be there. Abby, I am so tired of having to call up half a dozen invited guests the night of my party. Please state in your column the legitimate reasons one may use for ignoring an "RSVP."

READY TO SCREAM

DEAR READY: As far as I know, there is NO "legitimate" reason to ignore an RSVP. Even in illness, one can always have a telephone call made, expressing regrets.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago, when our teen-age son was unable to find summer work, we let him paint our house rather than contracting the job to regular painters. We made arrangements with a neighborhood paint store not only to supply the materials but also to provide him with instructions and periodic inspections and corrections. The results were amazing. In addition to spending a useful summer, our son earned money, and his paint job was first-class. So this is our suggestion for keeping a teen-ager busy and happy during summer vacation.

Police Seek Stab-Slayer Of Millionaire Banker

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Police sought today a killer who stabbed millionaire banker Jacques Mossler more than 13 times with a stiletto.

Mossler, 69, owner of banks in Indiana, Illinois and Florida, was found clad only in a nightshirt by his wife, Candace, 45, about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday.

An ornamental glass bird lay shattered on the floor and drapery in the plush ocean - front apartment was torn. Capt. Pat Gallagher, Miami homicide chief, said no murder weapon was found but "we assume it's a thin-bladed knife, something like a stiletto."

Mossler's dog Rocky, chained inside the door, was heard barking wildly about 2 a.m. A neighbor reported hearing someone shout, "Don't, don't do that to me."

The neighbor, a red-haired former model, Peggy Fletcher, said, "I heard someone close the door across the hall and walk down the hall. Then I heard him run down the concrete outdoor stairway." She said heavy footsteps convinced her it was a man.

About 2:45 a.m., before police knew of the murder, several officers questioned a man found cut and bloody near Mossler's apartment. He told officers three boys had beaten him up and stolen his car. A routine report was filed.

Police returned to the man later for more questioning, but it was halted after his lawyer obtained a court order demanding a stop to interrogation. He was not charged.

Mossler and his wife each had children by former marriages. Four adopted children were with Mrs. Mossler when she found the body upon returning from a morning drive.

Mossler owned interests in three Miami banks and others in Chicago, and South Bend, Ind., and was president of the Mossler Acceptance Corp. of Houston, Tex. the Mosslers had homes in Miami and Houston.

Mossler's daughter, Rita, 20, said about $600 in cash, a diamond wrist watch and a gold brooch were missing from Mossler's apartment.

"His room had been ransacked," she said. "So had mother's room been searched."

Fight Seen On Pay Hike For Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of a proposed $7,500 salary increase for members of Congress promised a floor fight today as the Senate opened floor debate on a $464 - million federal pay hike bill.

Sponsors of the legislation said they were confident they could beat off any major amendments, including those aimed at the congressional boost.

They said that if the House could go along with this increase, when all of its members are up for election this year, the Senate should be able to do so without difficulty. Only one-third of the senators must face the voters this fall.

The bill covers about 1.7 million classified civil service and postal workers and also all federal executives and U.S. judges as well as senators and representatives.

President Johnson has been pushing hard for prompt action on the measure, asserting the executive raises are essential to retain key personnel in his administration.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told a reporter he would like to see the bill amended to give a $10,000 raise to members of Congress, the same as that which would be granted Cabinet members.

He conceded that the chances for this seemed to be slim. Congressmen are now paid $22,500 annually.

Sens. William Proxmire, D., Wis., and Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, pledged a fight to knock out the congressional increases, arguing that a one - third pay raise was not justified.

To Nominate Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today he has agreed to nominate Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination at the party's convention opening July 13 in San Francisco.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, told a reporter he had advised Goldwater some time ago that he would give "serious and substantial consideration" to any such request.

Goldwater Plays Like Warmonger, Says Scranton

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today Sen. Barry Goldwater is "playing the warmongers game" in proposing use of military force to solve some international problems.

Scranton declared he believes Goldwater, the frontrunner for the Republican presidential nomination, "in his heart wants peace."

"Isn't he playing the warmongers' game when he proposes authorizing field commanders to use tactical nuclear weapons on their initiative, when he suggests sending Marines to capture the Guantanamo water?" he asked.

"These are reckless proposals," Scranton said. "They are the very opposite of the calm strength with which President Dwight D. Eisenhower for eight years maintained the world's peace."

Scranton returned to his attack on Goldwater after a respite Tuesday to appear before Illinois GOP convention delegates in his presidential bid.

The 58-vote delegation handed Scranton a setback—but one he said he had expected.

Despite gloom in the governor's party in the wake of the Illinois results, Scranton turned his campaign westward to woo delegations in Utah, Washington and Oregon.

Scranton said in a statement: "I do not agree with my opponent for the Republican nomination for president of the United States that within five or 10 years our country is going to be in a 'real nuclear war' or else be subjugated without war."

"I have not given up on freedom," said Scranton. "I have not given up on America and I have not given up on maintaining the peace of the world."

The Illinois delegation came out of a day-long meeting Tuesday, giving 48 of its 58 votes to Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Eight delegates remained uncommitted. Two declined to make a choice.

Scranton and Goldwater each had met with the delegation for an hour.

Scranton said his strategy in Illinois was aimed more at public reaction. The point, he said, was to arouse the public, who in turn would influence the Illinois group before it casts the first ballot at San Francisco.

Taylor's Appointment Confirmed Today

Johnson, who previously held the rank of career minister, is already on duty in Saigon as deputy ambassador under Taylor.

Snyder Early TOPS met Tuesday evening at Scurry County Boys Club. Members were weighed in by Jo Cotton, weight keeper.

Invocation was by Flora Stevens, and roll call was answered by number of pounds lost and gained. During the business meeting a new group contest was discussed, planned and organized, on a point system.

The regular monthly award was presented to Jo Cotton for having lost the most weight of any member for the month of June. She lost 7¾ pounds. Losing the most weight for the week was Mildred Clark, with 6 pounds.

Before adjournment, the Pigs for the week, numbering seven, sang their "Pig Song" as they marched to the pig bank.

Eighteen members were present, representing one turtle, 10 members lost 38½ pounds, and seven pigs gained 24 pounds. It was noted that as runnerups to the queen was Jo Cotton losing 32½ pounds, and Marie Aaron, losing 29, in the six month period.

Auxiliary In Session

The Ladies Auxiliary of Northside Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. E. L. Fikes, Jr., Big Spring Highway.

Mrs. Rob Robison gave the invocation and the program was presented by Mrs. Hardy Scarborough. Title of the program was "The Worth of a Woman in Christian Service."

A short business meeting was held and Mrs. Buck Byram gave the benediction. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Bobby Burney, Mrs. Buck Byram, Mrs. Hardy Scarborough, Mrs. Carl Stokes, Mrs. Rob Robison, Mrs. Don Harless, Mrs. Jim Bickel and the hostess.

Mrs. Jack Dean, Mrs. John Duke and Mrs. Don Snider attended the National Ladies Auxiliary meeting held in Chicago, Ill., as messengers from Northside Baptist Church. The posters of the local auxiliary placed first in judging at the national meeting.

Toperettes Start New Grouping

Snyder Toperettes met at 7:30 Tuesday evening in the clinic at Cogdell Center with approximately 26 members present. Roll call was answered by the number of pounds gained or lost. Nearly all members lost last week.

In the group contest Group 3 was the winner and therefore was treated to a salad at the Town House Restaurant. Group 3 had a total of 749 points with Group 6 close behind with 702. Other group totals were Group 1, 638; Group 2, 583; Group 4, 678; Group 5, 630, and Group 7, 497. Before going for salads members drew for a new group.

Members were reminded that next week would be time to pay club dues again.

Tips For Better Broiled Meats

There's more to broiling meat than just tossing a steak or chop on the rack. A few broiling tips can make the difference between broiled food that's good and broiled food that's perfect.

Follow these tips for better broiling from the Home Economics Institute:

— For juicier meat, salt after broiling, not before. Salt tends to draw juices out of the meat as it cooks.

—Turn meat only once and use tongs rather than a fork. Piercing the meat with the tines of a fork causes the loss of meat juices.

—When broiling frozen food, place it on the shelf one position lower than indicated in the guide to your range, advise home economists. Also allow about one and a half the suggested cooking time.

Steps To Prevent Food Spoilage If Power Fails

If a summer storm causes a power failure, don't open the refrigerator door unless it is absolutely necessary. Home economist recommend these steps to prevent food spoilage in your refrigerator; if the electrical failure occurs near the dinner hour, make a list of the items you'll need and remove them at one time from the refrigerator; if the shut-off threatens to last for several hours, obtain dry ice from a locker or ice plant and place in the freezer compartment.

NASA Spacemobile To Visit Camp Boothe Oaks

Campers and Staff at Girl Scout Camp Boothe Oaks will learn more about the Space age in a demonstration presented by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The camp will be visited by the Spacemobile at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, July 3.

Traveling throughout the United States and in foreign countries, the demonstration units provide an introduction to space science and to our nation's space activities.

The demonstration is presented by professional science educators who are authoritatively informed on the space sciences and the programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Models of launch vehicles and spacecraft, mechanical and electronic devices, and other audio-visual materials and experiments are a part of the Spacemobile demonstrating equipment. These aids are used in demonstrating basic scientific principles and how these apply to the program of NASA.

traces the history of rocketry—from the early efforts of the Chinese in the 13th century, liquid fuel rocket research of America's Dr. Robert Goddard, and to the more recent success of the Germans and their V-2 missile.

The scientific principles of orbits and propulsion are discussed along with the men whose discoveries and vision paved the way to our present day exploration of outer space.

The Girl Scouts will learn about the various projects of the NASA as the lecturer explains them by utilizing authentic scale models of scientific payloads now exploring outer space.

They will explore together the benefits of communications and weather satellites the scientific information derived from current scientific satellites, the hopes for those launched in the future and the aims of international cooperation through space research.

The imagination of the Girl Scouts will respond to the lecturer's discussion of man's flight to the moon. He will explain not only the mechanics of the flights of Projects Gemini and Apollo but will provide an insight into the biological problems of man in a space environment.

There will be approximately 100 Girl Scout campers and staff at Camp Boothe Oaks from June 30 - July 11 (Session III) to enjoy this special treat by the NASA lecturers. Miss Fane Downs, District Adviser in the West Texas Girl Scout Council, is Director of Camp Boothe Oaks, which is located 8 miles southwest of Sweetwater in Nolan County.

Rudi Makes Switch In Fashions

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After Rudi Gernreich's remarks favoring the birthday suit for swimming, decrying Victorian prudishness, predicting a more honest morality for the new generation and admitting weariness over the whole stir created by his topless bathing suit, everyone thought his models would bare nearly all.

Instead they emerged as covered up as Egyptian mummies — helmeted, veiled, wrapped, stockinged and booted with only a few nude noses and finger tips.

The real shock treatment, discovered fashion reporters here to preview the American designers series of fall styles, are the broad stripes combined with black stockings and shoes, the electric polka dots on dark backgrounds or the stark white makeup on the models.

But Rudi styles immodest? Well - meaning old ladies who have written him in protest to the 1,000 topless bathing suits currently in circulation should see his girls in their black knee bloomers, black stockings, or—shades of the Civil War pantaloons—knee pants under dresses.

Sure, the dresses are short, a few just managed to cover the thighs. But what grandmother could complain with all that leg covering plus tight suede zippered boots up to the knees?

The yashmak hat — a down-over-the-mouth helmet with a slit in it to avoid the need for a guide dog — is what Rudi calls his hat for the new non-smoker. With dressier dresses, his models hide under floppy veils.

Lest anyone conclude that he has reverted to an old-fashioned fuddy - duddy, Rudi sent one brave model onto the runway in that now famous bra evening dress designed to cover the cleavage. It lets the sides fall where they may.

"But where is the topless bathing suit?" asked photographers with cameras aimed.

"It's never been modeled publicly," retored Rudi virtuously. "At least not by me."

Ever Hear Of Pink-A-Boor Cookies?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

PRESCHOOLERS sometimes have their own secret language.

One little girl kept talking about the good pink-a-boor cookies she had at home. The neighbors who heard her were curious; on querying her mother they discovered that she meant peanut butter cookies!

Her mother also volunteered the information that she favored using wheat germ, that highly nutritious cereal, in the pink-a-boor cookies.

When we tried this recipe for wheat - germ peanut - butter cookies, we did so twice ways—once with the amount of baking soda suggested here, and once with twice the amount. We favor the half teaspoon, because it gives a crisper texture and a better flavor than does the larger addition.

PINK-A-BOOR COOKIES

1¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup wheat germ
½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup chunk - style peanut butter
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 eggs

Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt; stir in wheat germ. Cream butter, peanut butter, granulated sugar and light brown sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly. Gradually stir in the sifted dry ingredients. Shape dough into small balls using 1 tablespoon for each. Place a few inches apart on cookie sheets. Press down balls with a fork to make fairly thin. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned, about 10 minutes. Makes about 4½ dozen.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES made with wheat germ are nutritious fare for a young set's summer dessert.

A one-egg cake, or a cake made from a white or yellow mix, may be served fresh from the oven with a pudding sauce of lemon or orange flavor.

Dallas Civil Righters Seek Complete School Integration

DALLAS (AP) — Civil rights leaders say they will prepare a court suit seeking across-the-board desegregation of Dallas schools, now open to all races through the fourth grade.

The decision to put top priority on desegregated schools came Tuesday night at a meeting of the coordinating committee on civil rights, in which the spring and early summer's activities were reviewed.

Dallas schools began a peaceful integration in 1961, and last year 182 pupils attended integrated schools. The school board said recently however, it is reclassifying two schools with the heaviest Negro population from integrated to Negro.

"We lost two-thirds of the gains previously made, there's no other way to sum it up," said a white Presbyterian minister, The Rev. F. K. Mullendore.

The committee agreed to incorporate court action, demonstrations, and "education of the general public" in its fight to completely open the schools. No immediate demonstrations were scheduled and one leader said the most effective demonstrations will not come until school opens.

The Rev. Earl Allen, Negro Methodist minister, said the month-long picketing of the Piccadilly Cafeteria gave the Negro a cause to identify with and also brought support from many whites.

He estimated that 300 to 400 persons participated in the daily picketing. In addition to the Piccadilly agreement to integrate when the civil rights bill passes, Allen said at least 14 other establishments quietly desegregated.

Allen also called significant the fact that the agreement was reached without help from the bi-racial committee of the powerful Citizens Council.

The Citizens Council is composed of more than 220 of the city's most influential businessmen and is not connected with white racist groups of the South. Its bi-racial committee handled the school integration problem and has been active in bringing about desegregation of parks and some restaurants.

But Allen said in an interview that the keynote of the relationship between the Negroes and whites has been one of "paternalism" which has "promoted disorganization and lack of structure" on part of the Negroes.

"The Citizens Council has stifled interests of the whites in civil rights by pointing to its bi-racial committee and saying, 'Here we have a group that has the best interest of the city at heart, so leave them alone, don't rock the boat.'"

To the Negro, Allen added, "the Citizens Council says 'we've been able to do this much for you because there's been no fuss, no loud-mouth demanding things . . .'" and tells the Negro leader he must pacify his people if he is to get more for them.

The bi-racial group June 20 asked the demonstrators to stop picketing for two weeks and let the Citizens Council negotiate with the Piccadilly owners in Baton Rouge, La. The demonstrators refused when the group balked at issuing a public statement that it was entering the dispute, claiming the public would not understand such action.

Last Saturday's settlement came after a white engineer whose two teen-age boys had been picketing attended a meeting between the Picadilly manager and civil rights leaders.

The demonstrations proved that the race situation can be solved without the mediation of the committee of 14 and that direct action can bring about some very positive results without a great deal of hostility and animosity between the two parties," Allen said.

"The demonstrations also have been proven as a legitimate form of dramatizing grievances," Allen said, "and this is something the council's bi-racial committee has never wanted to admit."

Righters Arrested In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Police arrested about 50 demonstrators Tuesday in the third consecutive night of civil rights demonstrations on the South Side.

Among those arrested and later released on $25 bond were Lawrence Landry of Chicago, head of the recently formed ACT; Stanley Branche, 30, organizer of a school boycott in Chester, Pa.; and Charles Price, 18, of Chicago. They were charged with conducting an open air meeting without a permit.

Landry and 19 others were arrested at 47th Street and South Parkway where the group had apparently assembled preparatory to marching to police headquarters south of the Loop.

The group had planned to protest Landry's arrest Monday night at the same spot he was arrested Tuesday night.

While the group was in custody today, nearly 300 persons, mostly teen-agers, gathered in front of the building to taunt the police. They chanted and sang.

The latest arrests took place after some of the persons in front of the station became unruly, police said.

Then the demonstrators went to 48th and State streets where several of them attempted to block traffic, police said, and they, too, were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Texas Plant Is Picketed

PORT NECHES, Tex. (AP)—Pickets appeared at the Goodrich-Gulf chemical plant here at 7 a.m. after negotiations between the company and Pipefitters Local 195 failed early today.

About 550 employes are affected by the walkout of the 58 pipefitters.

Vernon Evans, business agent of the local, said picket lines are being honored by the other trade unions as well as the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' Union.

Evans said wages were not involved but there were five areas of disagreement. He would not elaborate.

The plant is continuing operation with supervisory personnel.

The chemical plant is part of a vast synthetic rubber complex here and has been described as one of the world's largest producers of synthetic rubber. It is owned jointly by Goodrich Rubber Co. and Gulf Oil.

Texas Oil, Gas Well Completions Reported

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas drillers completed 183 oil wells and 51 gas wells last week, the State Railroad Commission reports, bringing the year's totals to 4,291 oil and 1,144 gas completions.

Comparable totals last year were 4,407 oil and 1,263 gas wells.

The commission said Tuesday 17 wildcat gas wells and eight oil wildcats were brought in. Eight wildcat gas wells were in Dist. 6, four in Dist. 1, three in Dist. 4, and one each in Dists. 2 and 7-C. Two oil discoveries each were in Dists. 8 and 9 and one each was in Dists. 2, 3, 7-C and 10.

Crews plugged 165 wells, including 104 dry holes.

Average calendar day allowable Saturday was 2,667,490 barrels, an increase of 9,119 barrels from the previous week.

Waco Fires Manager

WACO (AP)—The Waco City Council voted 4-0 Tuesday to fire City Manager O. K. Armstrong Jr.

After the action, taken during a brief but explosive session, Armstrong said the city manager job in Waco appears "to be based on personal and political preference rather than on professional training and performance."

City Secretary Raymond Baker was named acting city manager.

Speculation at the city hall was that Elmer Roberts, who resigned last January as city finance director to enter private business, would be made city Manager.

Mayor Roger N. Conger said a decision would be announced within a week.

Famed French Conductor Dies After Long Illness

HANCOCK, Maine (AP) — French-born Pierre Monteux, 89, a commanding figure among orchestra conductors for half a century, died early today at his home after a long illness.

Monteux's sister, Mrs. David Michlin, said he had been confined to his bed for several months and died in his sleep.

Monteux's first conductorship was of the Ballet Russe in France in 1910. The company toured the United States in 1916 and Monteux stayed on to become conductor of the French repertory of the Metropolitan Opera for three years.

He then took over as conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra for five years and was conductor of the Concertgebouw of Amsterdam Symphony for nine years.

In 1934, he returned to the United States and picked up the pieces of the faltering San Francisco Symphony, directing it for 17 years.

Monteux and his wife, Doris Hodgkins Monteux, lived on an estate near her birthplace here for many summers. They moved here permanently in 1952 when Monteux stepped down at San Francisco.

Even in retirement he had made many guest conducting appearances.

Monteux once said he liked Brahms, Beethoven, Schumann and Wagner—"in that order."

"I don't like abstract music," he said; "Or abstract painting either. Modern is all right, but not abstract."

The nomad Tuaregs of the central and southern Sahara Desert are known as "blue men". The name derives from the indogo dye of their clothes which smudges off and stains their near-white skin.

CAP Joins In Search

DENVER (AP)—A dozen Civil Air Patrol craft joined in clear weather today to search for a plane missing with three and possibly four persons aboard.

Piloted by William Evans, 38, of McAllen, Tex., it left Aspen at 4 p.m. Sunday. No flight plan was filed.

The CAP reported Tuesday that Evans was accompanied by Ed Gorman, 38, of Dallas and Gus Theoklis, 29, of Los Angeles.

Today a CAP official said he was told a woman also was aboard. She was believed to be Mrs. Edna Allison of Williamsport, Pa.

Bernard Gebhardt of the CAP said Theoklis' wife told him Mrs. Allison accompanied the men to Aspen from Phoenix to look into a possible land purchase.

An attendant at the Aspen airport said he saw a woman board the plane shortly before it took off.

Thunderstorms kept search planes on the ground most of Tuesday.

Alaska's Problems Endless Three Months After Quake

By MURLIN SPENCER

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Alaska is an Aleut word which means "The Great Land." Today, three months after a great earthquake battered sections of it, Alaska also has a "great headache."

The nation's 49th state, seeking to recover from the disaster, is encountering problems and delays in reconstruction no one could foresee immediately after the south-central section stopped shaking that fateful March 27.

In Alaska, problems of soil stability have required time-consuming tests. Some sections have been found to have dropped as much as five feet, as the land tilted. The question of tides has not been settled completely. All these factors have slowed reconstruction in an area where construction work outdoors must end when the frost hardens the ground in mid-October.

And one prominent banker fears that the initial impetus to rebuild, so prevalent immediately after the quake, may have been lost.

The situation changes so rapidly in the hardest-hit areas of Anchorage, Seward, Kodiak and Valdez that an up-to-the-minute report is almost impossible.

But the picture one gains from a tour of the area is that the final road to reconstruction will be a long one.

"What has been done is small potatoes compared with what has to be done," said Lt. Col. Manley E. Rogers, Waterville, Maine, who heads the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers residency for the Anchorage area. If there is one villain in this drama of the Northland, it is the unstable soil which was greatly responsible for damaging slides in Anchorage, Seward and Valdez.

Aftershocks still were being felt when the Army Engineers moved in swiftly to restore essential public services, demolish badly damaged buildings, remove rubble and move undamaged buildings from unsafe land.

But in Anchorage, the state's largest city and financial center, water lines still run on top of the ground to furnish water to some areas. These must be buried before winter. Some major buildings still stand empty and others, obviously damaged beyond repair, have not been demolished.

The pie-shaped, devastated area of Kodiak —only a small part of the entire town — has been cleared of rubble.

An urban renewal program has been approved although some fishermen scoffed at a plan for a fish pond in a major fishing area and a covered mall.

At Seward, huge cranes are tackling the jack-straw piles of twisted rails, burned railroad cars and masses of concrete in the start of a cleanup program. Freight cars still lie in Resurrection Bay and must be removed if the town's position as an important seaport is to be restored.

Seward, too, is looking toward urban renewal although City Manager J. W. Harrison indicated the town felt the proposed plan was too ambitious. Estimated at up to $5 million, the plan provides for turning devastated dock areas into park areas. Residents point out that the town, with the snow-covered mountains reaching almost down to the water, has as much park area as it needs and wants industrial land.

GOP's Intra-Party Conflict Is Good News For Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up.

Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson who has to run against one of them, since nothing slows a runner like the inside of a box.

They have to climb over Viet Nam, civil rights, words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle.

Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

For 10 months Henry Cabot Lodge, as U.S. ambassador, was the Kennedy-Johnson administrations' chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam.

He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track.

And he said more: he doesn't see how Viet Nam could become a campaign issue.

But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

They criticized the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was "why win?"

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them, since as ambassador he was part and parcel of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart.

For a while it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizonan if he got the nomination.

This seems out the window now for Scranton has reached the point of saying Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How, now, could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile, Goldwater, by his vote against the civil rights bill, has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern Whites.

But if he should try to appease Northern Negroes, or help Northern Republican politicians, by saying if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose what he gained among Southern whites without persuading Northern Negroes. There's no indication he has anything like this in mind.

Upon his return Monday Lodge hinted he would try to get Dwight D. Eisenhower to come out for Scranton before the Republican convention opens July 13.

Monday he talked to the former president and later said he expected him to speak out on the nomination before July 13.

Goldwater has a carload of convention delegates in his pocket. He worked for them the hard way and looks like a man with a stranglehold on the nomination.

He owes nothing to such big Eastern Republicans as Scranton, Lodge, and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, since all of them opposed him.

If now Eisenhower joins them but Goldwater wins anyway, he'll owe even less. Almost certainly then the conservatives would control the party.

This might split the Republicans, although Goldwater would need all the Republican help around.

Johnson must be enjoying the show. News out of the White House says he won't be traveling much in July, the Republican convention month.

Junior Editors Quiz on LAKES

QUESTION: Lake Maracaibo is not completely surrounded by land—so why is it a lake?

ANSWER: A lake generally means a body of still water surrounded by land, but the word may also be used if such a mass of water has a connection with the sea. As our map shows, Maracaibo is situated near the coast of Venezuela, in the northern part of South America, and has an arm which is open to the sea on the north side, making the water on this side somewhat brackish. The southern part, fed by rivers, is fresh. This big lake, with an area of 6,300 square miles, is a waterway over which boats carry farm produce, but its chief importance to Venezuela is in the heavy deposits of petroleum which lie under the bottom and on the shores. In some places, Maracaibo is dotted with oil derricks built over the water. The wells pour out so much crude oil that it amounts to 90 per cent of the country's exports, making Venezuela one of the most prosperous of the Latin American countries. When the Spaniards first explored South America, they found an Indian village built on poles over Maracaibo's waters and this reminded them of Venice in Italy—hence the name, Venezuela.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check the location of Venezuela on a map and learn something more about this prosperous, troubled country and its people.

Some Folks Aren't Aware Of True Age

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people don't know whether they are young, middle-aged or old.

For these conditions aren't always a matter of physical age, emotional feeling or mental elasticity.

Here's a checklist to help guide you. The chances are that you're still young in heart, and perhaps in body, if—

Without thinking about it, you automatically yield a seat on the bus to an older person—instead of racing him for it.

The girls in the office call you by your first name, rather than address you as "mister."

When he's lonely, the kid in the apartment down the hall asks if you won't go out and play catch with him.

When you daydream at your office desk, your mind turns to thoughts of adventure in romantic lands — instead of how soon you'll get your pension.

There are so many things you'd like to do that the days seem too short.

Anything you eat agrees with you, and you're not at all finicky about what you put into your stomach.

You'd rather go water skiing than golfing. You'd rather play gin rummy than bridge.

You know you ought to read more good books, but there are so many other interesting things to do that you just don't find time.

When the phone rings, you don't jump three feet in the air in compulsive fear, wondering what problem it will bring.

You still like to sing in the shower. And if you drop the soap, you don't sigh and take a deep breath before bending over to pick it up.

You'd rather plan for the future than remember the past.

If all these things are true of you, you're still youthful.

Unbelievably youthful, in fact. For how can anyone that young be left in a mad, bad, moss-grown world?

Yankees, Cards Beat Braves, Sox

The Little League Cardinals jumped into a tie for the lead Tuesday night by edging the Braves 12-10. In the American, the Yankees shut out the White Sox 7-0.

The Cardinals are now tied with the Cubs with a 7-5 record while the Braves are just a game behind in 3rd place with a 6-6 record. The Cards made it look like it would be a runaway for a while, holding a 12-3 lead at one time. The Braves came back however, scoring 5 in the 4th and 2 in the 6th to make it close.

Tommy Faver led the Cardinal batters with a double and 3 singles, while Mike Blythe and Dennis Wolfe also doubled for the winners. For the Braves Juan Quiros and Roxy Small were the big batsman with 4 hits each. Quiros homered, doubled and hit 2 singles, and Small doubled and hit 3 singles.

Jim Patrick, winning pitcher for the Yankees, hit a home run, and Stewart Sims and Delbert Hurst doubled, also for the Yankees. Patrick allowed only 3 hits, all singles, and struck out 11 men.

Willie Smith Has Plenty Of Worries

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Smith, the rookie batting sensation of the Los Angeles Angels, has been hammering away at enemy pitchers as if he doesn't have a care in the world.

Actually, the weight in his heart is heavier than in his bat.

The youngster joined the Angels last April 28. Two weeks later he learned that his home in Anniston, Ala., had been burned to the ground. Smith said his family told him that suspected segregationists were involved.

In Anniston, Fire Chief James Ballard said no segregationists were involved and blamed the fire on apparent carelessness. Ballard said there was no evidence of foul play.

Smith, dubbed "Wonderful Willie" even before he created a stir with his batting exploits in the majors, kept this secret to himself until recently when a columnist brought the tragedy to light.

"I don't think I've had a good night's sleep ever since my wife called me six weeks ago to tell me what had happened," said Willie. "I'm just crazy with worry about her and the kids.

"They're staying with her mother now. I talk to my wife all the time and I keep pleading with her to bring the kids up to Los Angeles. But she's a home girl and doesn't care much for big city ways. She wants to stay with her folks."

Golfers Do Not Compete At Stamford

The winners and runners-up in Snyder's Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament last week did not enter the regional tourney in Stamford due to a recent territorial change in the Jaycee regions. Snyder is not now in the same region as is Stamford.

As near as can be determined Snyder was the only town in its region to hold a local Jaycee tournament. Dean Floyd, of the Snyder Jaycees, has sent a letter to Gorman Wiseman of Fort Stockton, regional vice - president, for information concerning the status of the Snyder winners and runners-ups. If Snyder is the only town in the region to stage a tournament, it is hoped the boys can by-pass the regional tourney and go directly to the state tournament in Harlingen July 16-18. If there were other tournaments held in our region, a regional tournament may be held to determine the representatives.

Snyder winners and runners-up were Don Copeland and Alex Le Feuvre in the novice division and Jimmy Featherston and Darrell Haney in the open division. Benny Ward and Jacky Weaver were winner and runnerup in the beginners division, but only the top two divisions can go beyond the local level in Jaycee tournaments.

They will be eliminated unless they place among the top three in the competition for the 1964 Tokyo games.

Tulsa Snaps Four-Game Loss Skein

By The Associated Press

Tulsa snapped a four-game losing streak by halting San Antonio's five-game winning streak Tuesday night in the Texas League. The score was 3-2 and the victory moved the Oilers to within a half-game of second place San Antonio.

The league-leading Albuquerque Dukes swamped Fort Worth 9-3 and Austin breezed by El Paso 4-1 in other action.

Tulsa cracked 10 hits. Rogers Robinson and Joe Patterson each collected two and between them they accounted for the three Tulsa runs. Charlie Harrison drove in both San Antonio scores, once with a single and then with his 19th home run of the year in the ninth.

Austin's Herb Hippauf, the league's earned-run leader, held El Paso to five hits. In the last eight innings, he scattered three singles. The lone Sun King tally was unearned.

Vince Ferguson blasted a three-run homer for the Senators in the first, following a walk by Sonny Kopacz and a single by Butler Powell.

Albuquerque blew a 3-2 affair wide open in the eighth when they pounded three Cat hurlers for six hits and as many runs. A Kid's Night crowd of 5,127 saw Bill Connors (7-3) take the loss. Albuquerque starter Jim Ward (8-6) got credit for the victory but Ken Page came in to work the last two innings.

Bob Cox powered a bases-empty home run for the Dukes in the sixth. So did Fort Worth's Moe Morhardt in the seventh.

In today's activity, it's again El Paso at Austin, Albuquerque at Fort Worth and San Antonio at Tulsa.

Sports, Yankees Gain Victories

The Colt League race was made almost a toss-up Tuesday night as the 3rd place Yankees upended the Red Sox 7-2. In the Pony League the Sports slipped past the Braves 3-2.

The Colt League now has all three teams battling for the league lead, and at the same time trying to stay out of the cellar. The Phillies have a 6-5 record, while that of the Red Sox is 5-5, and the Yankees are 5-6.

The Yankee-Red Sox affair was one of extra-base hits. Augie Garcia doubled twice for the Yankees and his teammate, Ray Kizer, doubled once. For the Red Sox Larry Anderson, Bob Ray, Raymond Valdez and Larry Stokes all doubled.

The Sports scored a single run in the 6th to break a 2-2 tie with the Braves. Lynn Wilson tripled for the winners.

Elusive Third Out Keeps Troubling Tribe Hurlers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mrs. Doubleday's little boy Abner decided the game ought to be played with three outs in every inning. Cleveland pitchers would be all right if they needed only two.

The Indians' staff wasn't having much trouble getting those first two outs Tuesday night against Chicago. The 12-2 White Sox romp came while the Indian staff was chasing that elusive third one.

Cleveland owned a 1-0 lead through four innings but with two out and two on in the fifth, the roof fell in. Three hits, a hit batsmen and a walk later the White Sox had seven runs. Then came out No. 3.

There were two out and a man on second in the sixth when three White Sox hits produced three more runs. And in the seventh, an error, two hits and a walk accounted for Chicago's final two runs—all after two were out.

The hitting heroes for the White Sox were Gerry McNertney, whose grand slam homer climaxed the seven run fifth, and Pete Ward who rapped three hits, driving in two runs. Ron Hansen also drove in a pair with two hits.

Juan Pizarro went the distance, winning his 10th although touched for John Romano's two-run homer.

In other AL action Tuesday, New York swept a twi-night doubleheader from Los Angeles 4-0 and 3-2, Minnesota topped Baltimor 3-1, Washington edged Detroit 6-5 and Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1.

In the National League, Chicago blanked Cincinnati 1-0 on Larry Jackson's one-hitter, Milwaukee whipped St. Louis 5-4, San Francisco shut out New York 5-0 and Philadelphia beat Houston 8-1.

The White Sox shelled four Indian pitchers for 13 hits, 10 of them coming after two were out.

The victory left Chicago five games back of the Orioles who saw their seven game winning streak ended by a five-hitter hurled by Gerry Arrigo and Al Worthington.

The Twins got all their runs on singles. Bob Allison drove in one in the first and then Jimmie Hall delivered the other two in the third after Steve Barber had wild pitched the runners into scoring position.

Roger Maris tagged five hits for the Yankees including the game-winning homer in the nightcap as New York swept two from the Angels. Jim Bouton fired a four-hitter in the opener and Al Downing, winning his first game in over a month, took the second game.

Mickey Mantle drove in two runs in the first game and Bouton never allowed more than one base runner in any inning. Clete Boyer's sensational game-ending catch bailed Downing out of a two-on spot in the nightcap.

Rocky Colavito drove in both Kansas City runs with a homer and a double and three Athletic pitchers combined for a two-hitter.

Moe Drabowsky and Wes Stock permitted just one Red Sox hit over the first eight innings but Carl Yastrzemski's ninth homer of the season broke the shutout in the ninth. John Wyatt came on to end it.

John Kennedy crashed a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth as the Senators came from behind to beat Detroit. Kennedy, who also singled home a run in the seventh, ruined Dave Wickersham's bid to become the major league's first 11 game winner.

Mickey Lolich came on after Ed Brinkman singled in the ninth and walked pinch hitter Chuck Cottier. Then Kennedy connected for the victory.

Sadler Opens New Beach

PORT ARANSAS (AP)—State Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, using an ancient spanish sword, slashed a satin ribbon Tuesday to officially open multi-million-dollar Mustang Beach.

The resort community is on Mustang Island, two miles from this fishing center.

"This project will be the beginning of the development of the entire Gulf Coast," Sadler said.

Mustang Beach stretches more than two miles along Mustang Island and eventually will include some 2,000 home sites. Two golf courses, a country club, a business center, and a landing strip also are contemplated.

July May Decide Trend To Steady Growth Or Boom

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—July may become a month of decision in crucial sectors of the American economy.

On trial are the government's guidelines for labor wage scales and management pricing policies.

The extent of the slump in steel output may give a better clue to the real strength of the factors feeding the business upswing.

The trends of retail sales and consumer debt this month may finally tell the story about how Americans are reacting to the federal income tax cut. At issue: steady and calm growth or quick boom and inflation.

The reaction to the civil rights bill, once signed, may foreshadow what's in store for the nation. Business has a big stake, both in what turmoil could do to trade and in how individual firms must realign policies to meet employment, sales, promotion and production policies and pressures.

The wage-price guidelines will get their most dramatic test this month in Detroit in the auto industry.

The government's controversial guidelines are designed to suggest in a general way the limits of wage increases and price advances that can be reached without upsetting the general price structure and setting off once more the old wage-price spiral that became the badge of inflation in the early postwar years.

In some industries, prices already have been creeping up—so far without setting off a general rise. Management in still others is talking of price increases if competitive conditions improve enough in coming weeks and months to make such hikes stick.

Labor leaders always watch the trends set by auto negotiations. And business this time more than ever eyes the Detroit talks for clues of what they may expect.

Steel isn't negotiating this summer. But if this proves wrong, the depths of the steel cycle may reveal just how strong is the over-all demand that is counted on to pull most industries to impressive heights after Labor Day.

There will be more things hot than just the weather. Civil rights, election campaigns, and attitudes of consumer, management and labor — all may heat up this month to spoil any anticipations that it's just a time for a sweet siesta.

First Reaction To Wheat Plan Is Lower Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration's new wheat stabilization program has exerted its first big influence on farm product prices by helping pull them down 1.3 per cent between mid - May and mid - June to the lowest level for the month since 1946.

An Agriculture Department price report states grower prices of wheat dropped from an average of $1.88 a bushel in mid-May to $1.40 in mid-June. This reflected a slash in wheat price supports from $1.82 for last year's crop to $1.30 for this year's production, under the new program.

But this decline in the farm price level does not indicate a drop in farm income, the departments said.

Farmers who have cooperated with the new program by reducing plantings 10 per cent from last year will get supplemental marketing certificates worth 47.5 cents a bushel on 90 per cent of the normal production of the allotment and acreage diversion payments averaging about $6 an acre.

The value of these certificates and payments was not reflected in the farm price level.

The department said farm prices in mid - June were at 74 per cent of the parity price goal of farm programs — the lowest since August, 1939.

The department emphasized, however, that if there had been no reduction in the wheat price support, prices of this grain in mid-June would have undergone only a harvest season decline of about 9 cents a bushel. Under this situation, it said, there probably would have been no decline in the parity level.

Fed. Aid For Transits Is Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a five-year fight, Congress has passed its first program of federal aid for commuter mass transit systems.

President Johnson had strongly backed the measure.

Final congressional action came Tuesday when the Senate voted 47 to 36 to accept House changes in the bill, which provides $375 million in grants to cities and states over the next three years.

Sponsors said it should help at least a few cities to rebuild or halt the decline of transit systems that have suffered from competition with the automobile. Opponents called transit a local problem, and contended it would cost $10 billion for the federal government to undertake to meet all needs in the field.

Under the legislation, Washington would put up two-thirds of the net cost of any project. The state or city would provide the remaining one-third.

The federal funds could be used to buy land, right-of-way, parking facilities, buses, rail cars, signal equipment, stations and terminals.

The Senate passed its first transit aid bill in 1960, but the House has been reluctant to enter the field. The present bill, with strong support from the late President John F. Kennedy, received Senate approval in April 1963 and passed the House last Thursday 212 to 189.

Snyderite Tours With Honor Band

Ann Patterson of Snyder was scheduled to appear with the United States of America High School Band in its first concert today at Rockefeller Center in New York.

The honor band assembled Sunday in New York and will spend eight days there. The second concert will be at 8 p.m. Friday at the giant band shell at the World's Fair, and another performance at the fair is scheduled for Saturday.

From New York, the band will go to Niagara Falls to present a concert and go on educational and sight - seeing tours. They will arrive in Toronto, Canada, on July 7 to participate in the Lions International Convention Parade where they will be seen and heard by delegates for every state in the union and 148 countries of the world.

The United States of America High School Band is uniformed in striking West Point style uniforms with white plume, red and white shako, red coat and blue trousers with red stripe. On parade they present a full color guard, drum major and majorettes. Selection for the band is made through "First Chair of America," an honor recognition organization of outstanding directors and bands throughout the United States.

Miss Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Patterson, is the third member of the Snyder High School Band to be honored as a member of the organization. Dale Cushenbery was a member of the United States of America High School Band which went to Nice, France, for the Lions International Convention, and Karen Elkins was a member when the group went to the Lions International Convention in Miama, Fla., last year.

Texas Trial Is Ordered

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — James Miller, charged at Houston, Tex., with smuggling heroin into the United States from Mexico, lost in federal court Tuesday in his effort to avoid going to Texas to stand trial.

The New Haven court held that the federal court at Houston has jurisdiction in the case.

Miller was indicted under the name of Frank J. Coppola by a grand jury in Houston. He and four Canadians were indicted on charges of smuggling heroin into the United States. The shipment was seized last October in Laredo.

Free under $100,000 bond, Miller contended that he was not the Frank Coppola named in the indictment. The court ruled Monday that he was.

Miller's second contention, that Texas did not have jurisdiction, was turned down Tuesday.

The debris of war still litters the beaches of many of the islands of Micronesia.

Mississippi Town Is Near Normal Despite Search

By PHIL ORAMOUS

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—This little town—cast into national prominence 10 days ago by the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers—is almost back to normal.

The search for the missing trio goes on.

There are no more anxious groups of residents crowding street corners. Discussion of the mysterious disappearance is limited to quick questions and occasional jokes.

A week ago today, a large force of FBI agents, state highway patrolmen and other investigators moved into Philadelphia to comb the hills and swamps of Neshoba County for clues in the disappearance of Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Negro from nearby Meridian.

Dungaree-clad sailors from the Navy's air field at Meridian joined the search by order of President Johnson.

The trio—part of a task force working on a summer-long Negro voter registration campaign in this racially troubled state—were last seen the night of June 21 after posting $20 bond when jailed on a speeding charge.

Residents of Neshoba — it means "wolf" in Choctaw—were at first resentful of the invasion by investigators and nearly 100 newsmen.

"We're not accustomed to large numbers of strangers descending upon us at once and asking a lot of questions," said a local businessman.

Last week it was difficult to tell if a warning to stay off the streets after dark was a warning or just friendly advice.

At Jackson, civil rights leaders announced they had dropped plans to send volunteer college students into parts of the state because of a "pattern of terror and vigilantism in the whole southwest and in the area northeast of Jackson."

Robert Moses, director of the Council of Federated Organization's summer project, said paid staff workers — more experienced in civil rights work than the volunteers—probably would be sent into southwest Mississippi to assess the situation.

COFQ is coordinating the civil rights drive by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Congress of Racial Equality, the Students Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and the Commission on Race and Religion of the National Council of Churches.

Oilmen, Businessmen Hold Meet

ABILENE (AP)—West Texas oilmen and business leaders discussed problems of the oil industry at a gathering in Abilene Tuesday.

All agreed oil imports was the biggest of the lot.

The meeting was sponsored by the oil and gas committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

George Straughan, president of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn., said "our main problem is oil imports."

He said imports had hurt the economy and threaten national security.

He added that "if the oil business was still good we would not have the present state sales tax."

Abilene banker Walter E. Johnson urged the oil industry to work to solve the import problem.

A suggestion was made that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Oil and Gas Committee sponsor a seminar on industry problems.

Chamber President Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth said that if such a seminar is held it must be carefully planned.

Tremors and earthquakes occur at faults or deep fractures in the earth's crust where one mass slips against another, causing it to vibrate.

Zoo officials who said they couldn't agree on a name for the newcomer, have invited suggestions from the public. Whoever picks the winning name automatically will become the chimp's godparent, said the officials. (AP Wirephoto)

Sister Of Castro Can Get Asylum

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)— Juanita Castro Ruz defecting sister of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, has not asked political asylum in Mexico yet but government sources said she would have no trouble getting permission to stay.

An Interior Ministry spokesman said Miss Castro entered Mexico on a diplomatic passport with an official visa.

"She has not asked for political asylum, but when she does we will study it with the best of good will," he said.

Castro's 31-year-old sister flew to Mexico some time last week, carrying 21 bags. In a dramatic television appearance Monday night she said she had had enough of Fidel and his communism.

All efforts to contact her Tuesday failed. She disappeared as mysteriously as she appeared the night before.

Her sister Emma, wife of Mexican oil engineer Victor Lomeli Delgado, also disappeared from her Mexico City home.

Cuban exile sources said Miss Castro made no effort to contact them. They said her defection was completely unexpected.

The U.S. embassy said Miss Castro had not requested permission to continue to the United States. A Cuban source said she was deported from the United States in 1958 for illegal entry from Mexico.

Barry's Confidence Grows For Early Ballot Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's smashing success with the Illinois delegation prompted his backers today to renew predictions of an early ballot victory for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater was jubilant after winning 48 of the 58 Illinois delegates to the Republican National Convention while Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton failed to pick up a single vote.

"This is the biggest boost for Goldwater's campaign since the California primary," said Hayes Robertson, a staunch Goldwater delegate and former Cook County GOP chairman.

Robertson and other Goldwater supporters said the strong Illinois vote for the Arizona senator would have national impact and "should result in an easy first-ballot victory" for him.

The poll of delegates was taken after Goldwater and Scranton made separate appearances before the group at closed-door sessions Tuesday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who had been uncommitted, started the momentum for Goldwater by casting the first vote for him.

Before the meeting, Goldwater's Illinois strength had been listed at 39 votes in surveys by The Associated Press.

The 10 delegates who did not support Goldwater in Tuesday's session declined to back any candidate.

Scranton, although obviously disappointed, contended his poor showing did not deal a fatal blow to his candidacy. He said his decision to address the Illinois delegation was intended to "arouse the public" and not to gain delegates at this time.

He said the overwhelming Goldwater support in the Illinois delegation "did not surprise me or shock me."

Goldwater, although elated over the outcome, would not claim the nomination was wrapped up.

Goldwater said he thought he has "maybe 690" delegates, or 35 more than required for the nomination, but added he would like a bigger insurance margin.

An Associated Press survey showed Tuesday that Goldwater now has 705 committed, instructed, pledged or favorable delegates, which is 50 more than needed for the nomination —if none of the delegates stray. Goldwater's closest pursuer, the survey showed, is Scranton with 145 delegates.

Allen Assumes Office As District Rotary Governor

H. Hicks Allen of Snyder today takes office as governor of District 573 of Rotary International, world - wide association of Rotary Clubs for 1964-65.

One of 276 men serving as Rotary district governor, Allen was elected at Rotary's convention in Toronto, Ont., Canada. His district comprises 45 Rotary Clubs in the Panhandle and South Plains.

To prepare for his responsibilities, Allen attended a nine-day meeting at the Lake Placid Club in upper New York state. With other district governors from all parts of the world, he participated in study sessions to further his knowledge of ways to implement the program of Rotary and was instructed in his administrative duties.

Also, at Lake Placid, Allen met Charles W. Pettengill of Greenwich, Conn., who today assumes office as president of the global Rotary organization. During his year as district governor, Allen will visit each club in his district to counsel with club officers on Rotary matters. He also will plan and preside at a district conference to be held in Lubbock on April 1-3, 1965.

At present, Rotary membership is at an all-time high, with 549,000 Rotarians belonging to 11,700 clubs in 125 countries.

A Rotarian since 1947, Allen has been a member of the Corpus Christi, Downtown Dallas and Snyder Rotary Clubs. He served as president of the Snyder club in 1956-57 and has held many high positions in both local clubs and at the district level. He has a 100 per cent perfect attendance with all three Rotary Clubs in which he has held membership.

A native of San Angelo, Allen graduated from high school there and received his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering at the University of Texas in 1923. He worked for a short time with the Texas Highway Department and then was employed by a major oil company as assistant civil engineer, Texas producing division. Shortly thereafter he was selected by management of the company for special training and was transferred to the production department to learn by actual performance all phases of the oil industry. He served in various departments for the next five years to complete his training and finally became production engineer in charge of large scale gas lift production. He also became co - owner and partner in a sizeable cattle ranch, serving as ranch manager, foreman and "just plain cowboy."

During the depression years of the thirties when oil industries curtailed their operations, Allen rejoined the Texas Highway department, serving as designs engineer, construction engineer, assistant division engineer, acting division engineer and assistant to the State Highway Engineer.

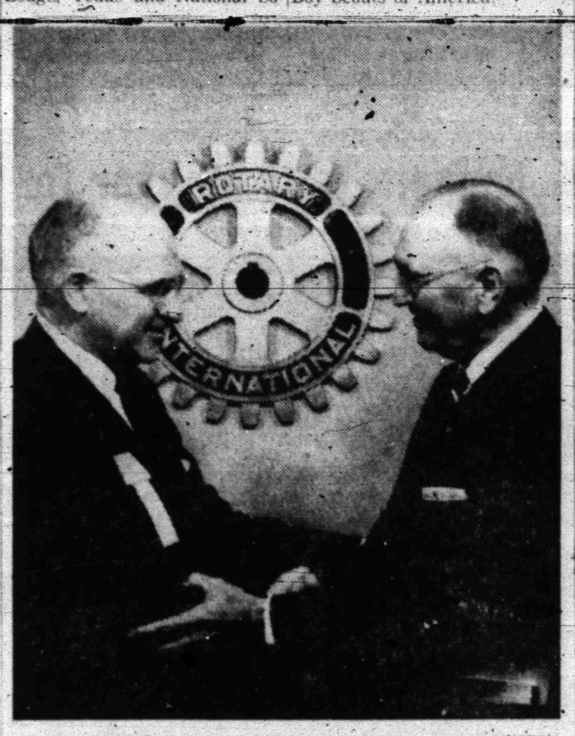

In 1918 Allen had received basic infantry training in Junior Company of SATC, at the University of Texas (now ROTC) and he served four years as an officer in the Corp of Engineers, U. S. Army, during World War II, about half of that time in foreign battle zones.

Subsequently he served as assistant chief - engineer, Fish Constructors, Inc., in Houston, in design and construction of a transcontinental gas pipeline from the Rio Grande Valley to New York City; general superintendent of Byrd - Frost Oil Co., Dallas; vice president, chief engineer and director, Utah Natural Gas Co., Salt Lake City, Utah; Rocky Mountain Manager, Three States Natural Gas Co., Salt Lake City; vice president and chief engineer, president and director, Featherlite Corp., Dallas. Some of these posts were held simultaneously.

From March 1, 1953 to May 1, 1962, Allen served as manager of the SACROC Unit, Kelley - Snyder Field in Snyder. After operation of the unit, largest project of its kind in the world, became more or less routine, the SACROC organization was consolidated and Standard Oil Co. of Texas became the operator on May 1, 1962. However, Allen has continued to serve as a consultant to the operators of the unit.

Allen is a member of the First Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge, Texas and National Societies of Professional Engineers, Texas Section and American Society of Civil Engineers, Society of American Military Engineers (past president of Dallas Post) ex-students association of the University of Texas, and Phi Gamma Delta.

He also is a former director of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, was charter vice president of the Scurry County United Fund, and still serves on the board of directors, member of West Texas and N.M. Oil Continent Oil and Gas Associations, and is on the board of directors of the Continental Fidelity Insurance Co. He also serves on the executive board of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America.

PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR — H. Hicks Allen, right, of Snyder, district governor of District 573, Rotary International, is greeted by Charles W. Pettengill, president of Rotary International as they prepare to discuss ways to further the program of Rotary in 1964-65. Both take up duties of their new offices today.

Study May Bring Results In 1965

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally says he thinks the 1965 legislature can act on some recommendations of his higher education study committee as well as the vexing issues of redistricting, teacher salaries and state spending.

The governor made the statement Tuesday at a news conference, his first since March 4. The committee's report is due on his desk Aug. 31. Last week Connally spent a full day reviewing with the group a preliminary draft of its report.

"I'm going to have to be selective in the recommendations I make to the legislature (on higher education)," he said. "I certainly have not made up my mind as to what I want to recommend." He said it is not certain yet what the committee's recommendations cost to put into effect.

Connally said, "I hope other issues won't force a delay in action" on the recommendations. "They're going to be submitted. I hope that with a lot of hard work and advance planning we can knock out a good many of these programs."

In other remarks, Connally said he believes there will be a surplus of from $75 million to $80 million in the general revenue fund by Aug. 31, 1965, the end of the present biennium. He said he hopes it will enable Texas to abandon eventually the state advalorem tax on property, which brings in some $40 million annually.

He said he hopes to make goodwill visits this year to Mexico's northern tier of states and South America. "We've had the governors of the Mexican states here. I think it's time for the governor of Texas to visit them," he said. "And I'm hoping for closer ties with Latin America."

He indicated he may ask the legislative council to study problems involved in reapportioning Texas House and Senate seats in view of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision that state legislatures must be apportioned only on a population basis.

At the present time he has no plans to recommend civil rights legislation for Texas, although "if making progress in that field indicates action on my part or by the legislature would help in a solution to a difficult problem, I might make some recommendation."

Chimps Aid US Spacemen By Undergoing New Tests

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS

HOUSTON (AP) — The chimpanzee, a space pioneer for the United States, is undergoing tests at Holloman Air Force Base, N. M., to make it easier for man in space flights.

The Manned Spacecraft Center has paid the 6571st Aerospace $70,000 to determine the effects on the body of sudden loss of pressure.

A small decompression chamber used for chimpanzee performance studies has been hooked to the 3,000 cubic foot vacuum chamber at Holloman.

A rapidly opening valve permits decompression from a simulated altitude of 35,000 feet to a pressure level approaching a vacuum in one second.

An oxygen supply system permits recompression to 35,000 feet altitude in five seconds.

The space agency said the aim of the study was to determine the behavorial, physiological and pathological consequences of decompression to a vacuum and back to recompression.

The findings of the chimpanzee study will tell engineers the necessary survival and safety procedures, and engineering designs to be incorporated into manned spacecraft to assure maximum chances of mission success for astronauts.

The chamber door is to be modified to include a large glass panel so the chimpanzee may be watched, but so constructed that he can't see out.

Nine chimpanzees will be used in the study, which is to be finished by October.

By studying the chimpanzee behavior, space agency scientists hope to determine how the human body will react to sudden loss of pressure.

The animals will be given visual, ... and shock tests immediately before the loss of decompression and after.

If any chimpanzees die from the experiment, the body will be examined by a pathologist to find out cause of death.

Holloman is where famous chimpanzees Ham and Enos were graduated before their historic flights into space.

Pure Studies Offer Of Purchase

DALLAS (AP) — President Robert L. Milligan of Pure Oil Co. says the offer of a Dallas oil company and a Delaware investment company to buy Pure Oil will receive careful consideration.

Mulligan gave the assurance in a statement in Chicago Tuesday after Jack Crichton of Dallas announced the firm of Crichton and Co. and Laird and Co., a Wilmington, Del., investment banking concern, had offered to purchase Pure Oil.

No price was mentioned, but it was assumed to be larger than the $700 million offered by three other companies last week. Milligan said that a condition of the offer is that "current Pure Oil management be available to operate the new company and the present employes be retained to the maximum extent possible."

Crichton said the offer would result in a distribution to present stockholders of Pure Oil a minimum of $65 per share plus the right to participate in ownership of a new company to be formed. The new firm would own all of Pure Oil operates four refineries.

In 1963 Pure Oil reported a net income of $29.7 million on revenues of $733.1 million. Its assets were valued at $678.8 million.

Announcement of the offer was made Tuesday after the close of the New York Stock Exchange, where Pure Oil closed at $50.87.

But after the announcement the stock advanced more than $6 per share on a rush of sales on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange in San Francisco.
