Bank Gains Reflect Texas Prosperity

WINTER'S COLDEST BLAST IS DUE

BLUE NORTHER WITH SNOW FORECAST

MERCURY IS EXPECTED TO SINK NEAR ZERO IN NORTH TEXAS

(By The Associated Press)

The United States weather bureau forecast today biting chill for Texas tonight and tomorrow, probably by far the coldest wave of the winter.

Observers said temperatures in the extreme north portion of the Panhandle would sink to between 2 and 4 degrees above zero tonight and the entire northern portion of West Texas would be blanketed by snow.

FIRST BLAST HITS

(By The Associated Press)

Temperatures at Borger dropped 14 degrees in 45 minutes today from the first breath of a wave of chill expected to be the most frigid onslaught of the winter.

Borger thermometers registered 40 degrees at 7:30 a. m. and at 8:15 mercuries had sunk to 26.

Hard Freeze Forecast

Dr. J. L. Cline, meteorologist in charge of the Dallas bureau, forecast a hard freeze tonight for all of North Texas and said the frigid temperatures would creep into South Texas Thursday, bringing like conditions.

Temperatures in the northern portion of West Texas were expected to range between 6 and 14 degrees, and were expected to sink still lower Thursday.

The forecast did not mention a freeze in the Rio Grande valley, but unofficial opinions were that the chill would not spare that rich agricultural section.

Cline said the cold would be accompanied by strong north winds, and would be a typical Texas "blue norther."

Warmth prevalent over nearly all

TWO-GUN MEN STILL TOPS IN TEXAS RANGERS

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6 — Top horsemanship and the ability to draw fast and shoot straight — with two guns — are still the primary qualifications for membership in the Texas rangers, their chief said today.

Col. Horace H. Carmichael, director of public safety in the Lone Star state, explained in an interview "all our men have to know is how to ride and ride hard, how to carry two guns and use them both. That's traditional."

Methods Studied

Carmichael and Manuel T. Gonzuallas, chief of the bureau of investigation and scientific crime detection laboratories of the Texas division, are making a two-months tour of the United States and Canada to study crime detection methods.

The two Texans were guests of Maj. John A. Warner, superintendent of New York state police. They will tour New England, New Jersey and Pennsylvania and then will be guests of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the department of justice, at the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

DEPOSITS ARE MUCH HIGHER OVER STATE

HOUSTON AND DALLAS LEAD; REPORTS OF OTHERS GIVEN

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 6—Higher bank deposits reflected increased prosperity for Texans today.

State and national banks, answering a year-end bank call, throughout the state reported a healthier financial condition than a year ago.

Houston and Dallas paced the state with an increase of $23,000,000 each in the last six months. Dallas' total was $256,055,393 and Houston's $248,503,461.

Other Reports Made

Other deposit totals were reported as follows:

Port Worth $95,072,977, a gain of $12,696,422 over a year ago.

Here's Chance To Take Peek In Pay Envelopes Of Country's Big Wigs

HEARST KEEPS HIS POSITION AS TOP MAN IN EARNINGS; MAE WEST IS RUNNING SECOND

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A peek into the pay envelopes of some of the nation's big men and women, afforded by a treasury department report to congress, showed today that top salaries went to movie stars and captains of industry.

The voluminous document, made public by the house ways and means committee, answered at least some of the questions concerning what "the other fellow" made in 1935. Salaries of more than $15,000 were listed.

William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, maintained his position as the country's leading wage earner with pay checks of $500,000.

Mae West, the throaty-voiced siren of the screen ran him a close second with earnings of $480,833. She topped all film stars, including Janet Gaynor, last year's highest paid actress, whose 1935 income totaled $169,750.

Charlie Chaplin's salary was listed at $260,000. The late Will Rogers earned $256,000. Fred Astaire received $127,875; Ginger Rogers $74,483; Katharine Hepburn $121,572; Bing Crosby $318,907; Marlene Dietrich $368,000 and Joe E. Brown $173,438.

Nickels and dimes poured into the cash registers of the F. W. Woolworth company gave its president, B. D. Miller, an annual compensation of $309,880.

General Motors corporation paid President Alfred P. Sloan, jr. $375,505 and William S. Knudsen, director and executive vice-president $325,869. Ten other officials drew more than $200,000.

Edsel Ford got $100,376 as president of the Ford Motor company. Walter P. Chrysler, Chrysler corporation chairman, received $185,543.

One of the highest paid women executives listed was Blanche Green, president of the Spencer Corset company, inc., of New Haven, Conn., who received $57,629.

Seymour Weiss, one time treasurer of the late Huey Long's political organization, drew $92,396 as vice-president of the Win Or Lose corporation, a Louisiana oil concern. Former Governor James A. Noe of Louisiana received a similar sum as president.

COURTS ASKED TO HELP IN HUGE TASK

SAYS DEMOCRACY MUST HAVE FREE HAND TO MEET QUESTIONS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—President Roosevelt summoned the courts today to do their part "in making Democracy successful" within the framework of the constitution at a time when "militarism has lept forward" abroad.

Addressing a joint session of congress from the speaker's dais in the house chamber, the president said:

Need Enlightened View

"The vital need is not alteration of our fundamental law, but an increasingly enlightened view with reference to it. . . .

"We do not ask the courts to call non-existent powers into being, but we have a right to expect that conceded powers or those legitimately implied shall be made effective instrument for the common good.

"The process of our Democracy must not be imperiled by the denial of essential powers of free government."

Before the heavily Democratic congress, the chief executive asserted that "the broad objectives" of NRA were "sound" adding:

Problems Still Remain

"The statute of NRA has been outlawed. The problems have not. They are still with us."

The president did not mention the Supreme court by name, but he said at one point:

"Because all of us believe that our Democratic form of government can cope adequately with modern problems as they arise, it is patriotic as well as logical for us to prove that we can meet new national needs with new laws consistent with the historic constitutional framework clearly intended to receive liberal and not narrow interpretation."

Mr. Roosevelt confined his message to a broad outline of future problems, saying he would have specific recommendations later. But he said immediate action was needed to extend the neutrality law to

FARM TENANCY BILL IS UP

PROPOSAL IS OFFERED TO AID TENANTS IN BUYING OF FARMS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—On the anniversary of AAA's death, the administration centered its farm interests today on solving the tenancy problem.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) and Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee offered a bill to provide $50,000,000 annually for ten years to help tenants buy farms of their own.

Given 40 Years

Although tenants would be given 40 years to pay for their farms, they would not be allowed to resell the land as long as they owed anything on it.

A farmers' home corporation would buy land for lease or sale, but county committees, each composed of a farmer, a business man and a credit expert, would select tenants for assistance.

Tenant buyers would lease the land for five years on annual payments of at least five per cent of the purchase price.

SAFETY DRIVE IS PLANNED

GOVERNOR SAYS THAT TIME FOR ACTION IS AT HAND

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 6—Gov. Allred today called upon Texas to organize against "heedless squandering of lives and destruction of property" through traffic accidents.

He named a committee of 100, including members of the public safety commission and other civic and governmental leaders, to plan a safety drive, and announced a state-wide meeting likely would be called late this month.

Time For Action

"The time for action has come," Allred said. "Our streets and highways must be made safe for travel. Despite the commendable progress made in Texas safety work, there exists the definite need for state-

Lubbock Child Is Pneumonia Victim

Karl Lee Boles, seven-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack T. Boles of 610-A Avenue M, died of pneumonia at a local sanitarium Wednesday morning at 2:45 o'clock after an illness of about 9 days. The child was taken to a sanitarium Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

Funeral services will be held at Sanders chapel today at 4 p. m. Burial will follow in Memorial park with Sanders Funeral home in charge. Rev. Carl E. Hereford, pastor of First Baptist church, will officiate.

The child was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boles, and a two-year-old brother. Boles is a salesman for Sansom Paint & Paper company.

Children In City Being Vaccinated

About 100 children of scholastic age have been vaccinated against smallpox since the Christmas holidays began Friday, Dec. 18, figures from the office of Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, show.

About 20 more are to be immunized against the disease within a short time.

Immunization against smallpox for negro children of "The Flats" is to begin next week. About 100 are to receive the vaccination.

TAX ACT UPHELD

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP)—The third court of civil appeals upheld today the constitutionality of the intangible tax act, affirming a Travis county district court's action in a suit against R. B. Anderson, tax commissioner, by the Texas Pipe Line company.

Little Interest In Campaign Is Shown

Lubbock county Democrats have shown very little interest in the campaign to raise sufficient funds to liquidate the national party's deficit, County Chairman L. C. Ellis said today.

Only about $12 has been contributed since an announcement was made that Lubbock county's quota of the $500,000 deficit was about $330.

"The party was successful in the general election, and the administration already is in action," Chairman Ellis reminded. "It seems only wise to liquidate that past obligation."

CRIME WEAPON IS SOUGHT

LEGISLATION IS ASKED TO AID ENFORCEMENT OF NATION'S LAWS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6—Attorney General Cummings recommended to congress today legislation intended to make federal law enforcement easier.

At the same time, he said in his annual report for the year ended last June 30 that there had been a "gratifying decrease" in kidnapings and that "some of the country's most notorious criminals" had been caught.

Would Extend Law

He urged extension of the federal law for registration of machine guns and other heavy arms to pistols and revolvers, to "place a potent weapon against crime in the hands of law-enforcement officers."

Other proposals, aimed chiefly at speeding up judicial procedure, were:

Require notice of an alibi defense before trial.

Permit comment on the failure of

Banner Is Won By Lubbock CCC Camp

Banner for the best camp in the Lubbock area of the Civilian Conservation corps during December has been presented to the Lubbock camp, for the first time since the camp has been located here, said Everett D. Fairchild, educational director.

The banner was presented by Capt. Tom B. Martin, acting executive officer of the Fort Worth district. The camps are judged on sanitation, appearance, efficiency, and general excellency. There are eight camps in the area.

Capt. Charles M. Krausse is commanding officer of the camp and Lt. R. T. Farner is second in command.

Prayers Said Today For Kidnap Victim

STUDENTS IN SCHOOLS ARE CONCERNED FOR SAFETY OF CHILD

(By The Associated Press)

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 6—School children offered prayers today for the safety of frail Charles Mattson, whose kidnaper appeared to be ignoring the avenues left open for him to negotiate with the boy's agonized parents.

Of the 14 major kidnapings in the United States since 1933, in only five have the victims been held longer than has 10-year-old Charles, whose abductor left a demand for $28,000 ransom.

All Better Able

Authorities said all but June Robles, the little Arizona girl who turned up in the desert 19 days after she disappeared, were better able to stand captivity than Charles, who was thinly clad and suffering a cold when he was seized 10 days ago.

Pupils in 11 Catholic schools offered prayers for his safety while authorities remained inactive to let the kidnaper deal with the boy's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Mattson.

Early today, there was no indication the kidnaper might not delay the boy's return several more days. For more than 24 hours, no obstacles to ransom negotiations or

Wife Of Coach Is Claimed By Death

DALLAS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Jane Bridges, wife of the athletic director of St. Mary's university in San Antonio, died today at the family residence here.

Her husband, Frank B. Bridges, formerly was football coach at Baylor university in Waco.

NEUTRAL PLAN IS RUSHED

SWIFT ACTION BEING ASKED IN CONGRESS TO HALT SHIPMENT

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Congressional leaders raced to block shipment of more than $7,000,000 of munitions to the Spanish loyalist government today, striving to enact a special neutrality measure by tomorrow afternoon.

Chairman McReynolds of the house foreign affairs committee expressed hope the resolution could be passed—under a unanimous consent agreement—by the house today.

Passage By Tomorrow

Senate passage tomorrow was the goal of Chairman Pittman of the corresponding senate committee, which was called to meet this afternoon.

Their action was speeded by granting of a second license for the exportation of planes and other equipment to the Valencia socialists.

Even with this unprecedented parliamentary haste it looked as if congress might win only a draw in its race to maintain neutrality in the Spanish crisis.

Robert Cuse, whose license to export $2,770,000 of airplanes and engines inspired the legislative drive, loaded part of his shipment on a Spanish vessel in New York harbor. The work was halted late last night, but if the ship should depart before the resolution is pass-

PRAYER MEETING TONIGHT

WARNINGS SOUNDED AS INFLUENZA IN TEXAS SPREADS; MANY TOWNS SUFFER

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 6—Influenza was prevalent in Texas today but health authorities said the dangerous disease had not reached epidemic stage and the number of cases was "about normal."

Influenza and pneumonia, however, were claiming lives in many cities and maintaining their usual winter status as health menaces.

Medical sources at Plainview said if influenza spread any more there it would approach epidemic stage. One Plainview hospital had ten children under treatment, all less than three years old. At least a dozen deaths were attributed to the disease there.

Dr. Horace Duncan, Dallas county health officer, found influenza widespread.

"Care should be taken to avoid all unnecessary exposure to wet and cold, particularly after indulgence in alcohol," Dr. Duncan warned.

"Contact with crowds should be avoided as well as common drinking cups, towels and dishes and all objects used by those with the dis-

Elections Conducted By Study Clubs At Meetings Held Tuesday Afternoon

Study Of Play Is Completed By Club

Elections are highlights in meetings of clubs during the first days of a new year. Several women's organizations met Tuesday afternoon for business and program sessions.

The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Shakespeare club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. C. Jackson, 2113 Sixteenth street:

President, Mrs. John K. Wherry; vice-president, Mrs. E. J. Lowrey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. O. A. Terry; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. W. Kolb, and executive committee chairman, Mrs. J. A. Raley.

A series of programs on the play, "Antony and Cleopatra," was concluded at the meeting. Mrs. R. T. Campbell was chairman for the following program:

"Suicide From the Roman Standpoint," Mrs. J. D. Jones, "The Tombs of Egypt and Modes of Burial," Mrs. Raley, and "Poetry of the Play," discussion by the club, led by Mrs. Charles Whitacre.

Hear Travel Talk

The Readers Digest club, meeting in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway, heard Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson review her travels through Europe and the Holy Land. The following new officers were named:

President, Mrs. J. H. Hankins; vice-president, Mrs. Hutchinson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, and librarian, Mrs. J. S. Johnson.

The election of a librarian was conducted for the first time in the club's history. Mrs. Johnson has been the appointed librarian during the past six years.

Have Eighty Books

Mrs. Johnson said that the club now has 80 books which were best sellers at the time they were acquired. There are two means of placing books in the library, money from public rental and presentation of a book each month by a member who reviews it at a club meeting. The public may rent the books at the Johnson home, 2002 Broadway.

Among the newer books in the library are "Gone With the Wind" (Mitchell); "The Last Puritan" (Santayana); "Beyond Sing the Woods" (Gulbranssen); and "Education in Verdun" (Zweig).

1933 Club Elects

Mrs. G. H. Ater was elected president of the 1933 Study club at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Alex McDonald, 1120 Fourteenth street. Other officers named were:

Vice-president, Mrs. George R. Bean; secretary, Mrs. T. E. Hendrick, and treasurer, Mrs. W. S. McDonald. They will be installed in May.

Mrs. C. C. Webb read a paper on parliamentary law. Ten members were present.

The club will meet at 2:30 p. m., January 19, in the home of Mrs. John Morrison, 2021 Tenth street. Mrs. Annie Steele will be program leader.

Pre-School Children To Be Examined

Physical examinations of children entering school at mid-term are being urged by the City Parent-Teacher council, who have the cooperation of the county medical society in this project. Parents may secure examination blanks in principals' offices. Visits may be made to the family physician.

Parents unable to pay the medical examination fee of $2 are asked to telephone Mrs. Gordon Parkhill, chairman of the pre-school child health committee of the Parent-Teacher council, who will call for the children and take them to a doctor for free care.

Student Of College Is Married

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bowers of Lorenzo are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Aleene Bowers, to Clay Henry of Crosbyton, which took place in Crosbyton on December 24 at the home of the officiating minister.

Mrs. Henry has returned to Texas Technological college to finish requirements for a degree in the division of home economics. She is a senior student.

Mr. Henry is tax assessor and collector for Crosby county.

W. T. Hotman, Fort Worth, was here this morning on business.

Mrs. Hattie O'Hair has moved to Coleman to make her home.

Tunic Coat Is Perennial Fashion

Even if dresses get quite a bit shorter the finger-tip length tunic coat will look all right next winter. And right now it's a style leader. This version of the mode is in a smooth surfaced black wool suit trimmed with black persian. The dress is worn with elbow length sleeves, a bright red ascot scarf and two bright red stripes on the bodice.

Wesleyan Class Has Afternoon Party

Three members of the Awakened Wesleyan class of the Asbury Methodist church were hostesses with a party for other members Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. M. Robinson, 1111 Thirty-second street. They were Mesdames Robinson, S. C. Rawlings and T. A. Jarrott.

Devotional was by Mrs. B. L. Williamson. Others attending were Mesdames J. C. Arnett, H. C. Nott, E. D. Smallin, V. O. Jennings, P. B. Williams, H. M. McCullough, L. B. Hankins, J. E. Walter and T. L. Biggs.

Auxiliary, Husbands Meet For Social

Following a clinical session at Hotel Lubbock Tuesday night, approximately 20 physicians of Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society met at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Krueger, 2219 Broadway, for a social hour.

They met at the Krueger home with their wives, members of the medical auxiliary. Mrs. Krueger and Mrs. Fred W. Standefer were hostesses.

At the monthly clinical meeting, Dr. T. L. Morgan read a paper on "Fractures of the Lumbar," and general discussion of that subject was conducted afterward.

Triple Four Club To Meet On Friday

Triple Four club members will be the guests of Mrs. Vernice Ford Friday night at 7:45 o'clock at the F. R. Friend home, 2005 Broadway.

Word has been received of the birth of a son, Robert Don Lindley, to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil (Lefty) Lindley of Clovis, N. M., on December 30 in that city. Mrs. Lindley will be remembered as the former Miss Helen Storey and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Storey, 2419 Ninth street.

J. B. McCrory.

Attending were Mesdames McCrory, Rodgers, H. N. Wright, John Hart, J. A. Crawford, B. C. Linn, A. H. Gearhart and Luther Green.

The next club meeting will be with Mrs. Gearhart on January 18.

Tech Museum Will Sponsor Exhibits

Two exhibits are to be on display in the West Texas Museum building on Texas Technological college beginning Saturday and continuing through January 21. The displays are sponsored by the Tech Art Museum, which is to have a showing for members Friday night.

One of the exhibits will be a Guatemalan textile showing details of which already have been announced. The other consists of 30 canvases, five from each of six countries, showing trends in easel painting. Artists whose paintings will be shown are:

American: John Carroll, C. K. Chatterton, Arthur Frank, Arshile Gorky, Robert Philipp; English: Duncan Grant, Paul Nash, Winifred Nicolson, Walter Sickert, Edward Wadsworth; French: Benatov, Paul Charlemagne, Roger Chastel, Legueult, Tal-Coat; German: Max Beckmann, Max Kaus, Josef Scharl, Werner Scholz, Xaxer Fuhr; Hungarian: Zolton Borbereki, Bela Kadar, Bela Kontuly, Aba Vilmos Novak, Istvan Pekary; Mexican: Emilo Amero, Carlos Merida, Jose Clemente Orozco, David Siqueiros, Rufino Tamayo.

The club will elect officers on January 19 at a meeting with Mrs. Bill Hamilton, 1943-B Avenue N.

Landwers Are To Be Honored Friday

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Landwer, newlyweds, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, 2311 Eighteenth street, are to entertain with a reception in their home Friday night. Members of the biology department at Texas Technological college will make up the house party.

Mr. Landwer, Tech professor, and Miss Virginia Black, college student, were married during the holidays.

Poisoned Grain Is Sold Over Section

Nearly ten tons of poisoned grain, to be used in poisoning of prairie dogs, was sold by the Lubbock office of the U. S. biological survey, Floyd W. Dawson, agent in charge, reports. Total sales were 19,463 pounds.

Of this amount, 14,778 pounds went to the 6-county shelter belt in the eastern part of the Panhandle. Counties receiving grain included Childress, Wilbarger, Foard, Hall, Collingsworth and Hardeman.

These counties have had a heavy infestation of dogs. The loss to the shelter belt trees has been heavy, according to reports.

GERMAN DRINKERS WARNED

ELBING, Germany (AP) — Pay day will be prohibition day in East Prussia, the governor has warned, unless workers learn to resist the temptation to liquefy the jingling coins they start home with after a week's labor.

Mrs. H. J. Jarett will leave Thursday afternoon for Los Angeles and Hollywood markets to buy merchandise for Jarett Cinderella shop. She will attend the Biltmore style show and a millinery show. She will be the guest of Martin Jarett, a brother-in-law, former Amarillo and Lubbock merchant who now is a dress manufacturer.

Child Study Club Is In Business Hour

A business session of the Lubbock circle, Child Conservation League, was conducted in the home of Mrs. George M. Garrett, 2618 Twenty-second street, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. E. Boyd presided.

Attending were Mesdames John B. Rountree, Marlin R. Smith, jr., J. D. Hassell, Roy Furr, C. H. Hamilton, Boyd, W. D. Benson, jr., and W. H. Logan.

The hostess served coffee and pineapple roll.

It was announced that the club will meet at 3:15 p. m. January 19, with Mrs. Hamilton, 1913 Twenty-third street. The subject of discussion is to be "Menus For Children" and each member is asked to bring a recipe for a child's healthful dish which her child particularly likes.

Welfare League Is At Called Meeting

A nominating committee was elected at a called meeting of the Lubbock Junior Welfare league Tuesday night at the Hilton hotel. The committee, Mrs. Don Mitchell, Mrs. Ross McWhorter and Miss Frances Snyder, will meet with the board of managers in February to elect officers for the year beginning next month.

The league voted to continue next year as an assisting agency to the Lubbock County Welfare association. Members of the league have been doing case work under supervision of the association during the past several months. Next year the case work will be one of the league's main projects.

Relief Work Explained

Mrs. Viola Perkins of the Plainview office of the Texas Relief commission talked to the group explaining relief work in the state, city and county. She told of the lack of funds in state for meeting even minimum needs of its unfortunate citizens.

She appealed to the league for assistance, explaining that workers in the county welfare office are employed by local funds and are overworked in their tasks of caring for the local needy.

She pointed out that the Lubbock Junior Welfare league assistance is an experiment which is being watched with enthusiasm not only in state relief headquarters but also in national headquarters.

About 30 members attended the meeting.

PARTY IS POSTPONED

The party for the 1936 Forty-Two club, scheduled for the home of Mrs. C. W. Moses, 2109 Thirteenth street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, has been postponed until next Wednesday afternoon.

Child Dental Care To Be Undertaken

Members of the Lubbock Dental society are to conduct free teeth examinations for public school children beginning the week of January 25, it was announced Tuesday afternoon following a meeting of the City Parent-Teacher council, sponsor of the project. The examinations will be at the various school buildings.

A series of radio lectures on home and family relations was concluded with a talk at 9:35 o'clock this morning by Mrs. W. R. Weaver of Spur, district P.-T. A. president, over station KFYO.

New Series Planned

A series on spiritual education in the home will be conducted by Lubbock ministers, beginning January 13. A lecture will be given over station KFYO each Wednesday morning at 9:35 o'clock under auspices of the council.

Miss Mayme Alexander, elementary school supervisor, announced that several underprivileged children in the local school system needed clothing. A committee, Mrs. E. L. Pitts, chairman, and Mesdames Web Cammack and J. H. Stiles, was appointed to work with principals of Lubbock schools in determining the needs of the children and arranging for fulfillment of their clothing necessities.

It was announced that the Junior High P.-T. A. sponsored redecoration of the girls' rest room at that school and is giving noon lunches to several indigent school children.

The P.-T. A. cleared $48.00 from sponsorship of two picture shows, the finance committee reported. Mrs. Stiles presided for the meeting. Twenty-three members were present.

Popular Book Review Heard By Club

Book Reviewers club of Texas Technological college heard a review of Marjorie Hillis' "Live Alone and Like It" at a meeting in the lounge of the women's residence hall Tuesday afternoon. Miss Marie George was speaker, taking the place of Miss Evelyn Burnsides of Lamesa, who did not return to school after the Christmas holidays.

OES Plans To Visit Lamesa Chapter

Thirty-eight members of the local Order of the Eastern Star met at the Masonic hall Tuesday night for a business and social hour. Mrs. G. T. Adams received an attendance gift.

The organization accepted an invitation to visit the Lamesa chapter on January 11. Those interested in going are asked to telephone Mrs. Rafe Nabors, worthy matron, at 1131.

Fourteen Forty-Two Club Has Party

Two tables were in play at a meeting of the Fourteen Forty-Two club in the home of Mrs. W. G. Kent, 1608 1-2 Broadway, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. George Waters of Dayton, Iowa, mother of Mrs. B. E. Needles, was a special guest. Others attending were Mesdames V. L. McKinley, Rufus Bundy, Joe Swift, M. M. Marion, Ed Harvey and Needles.

TELEVISION IS ON THE WAY

LATE DEVELOPMENT IS OUT OF LAB BUT NOT READY FOR PUBLIC

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Seeing things by radio is on the way. The year 1936 was responsible.

The latest of developments for the ether waves — television — emerged from the laboratory but was not ready to be turned over to the public.

Engineers who have worked long behind closed doors had an opportunity to check up their gadgets under circumstances paralleling actual sight broadcasting conditions. But the engineers haven't expressed full satisfaction with their work nor advanced the belief that most of their problems have been solved.

Hardly had they got into the field with their pictures when it was decided to increase the detail of the images to agree with a generally accepted standard.

Image To Be Improved

This detail is measured in lines per image. Most of the current research has been with 343 lines. Now there will be an increase to 441, a gain of slightly more than 30 per cent. Years ago, say around 1928, 24 lines were thought to be pretty good.

Evidence, however, that the engineers have reached the point where they feel their work is good enough for outside observers to see, has been given by the fact that the year brought four rather important demonstrations on a semi-public basis.

Three of these were showings of the system developed at Camden, N. J., by engineers of the Radio Corporation of America and now under field test in New York through a transmitter atop the Empire State building and a special studio in Radio City.

The other was at the Philco laboratories in Philadelphia. Further progress also was reported by a third eastern research laboratory, that of Philo T. Farnsworth, at Philadelphia.

English See Tests

Television activity in America may have been stirred by the fact that England has been delving into the subject rather seriously. London has started program field tests that also are open to the public. So far the New York tests, other than the special demonstrations, have been available only on sets in the hands of technicians.

Germany, likewise, has been going into television. During the summer it tried out what was described as the first "long distance" television telephone.

In the United States there has been no definite indication or announcement of when the public will get television. Still there's a lot of talk to be heard that the fall of 1937 may see sets on the market, at least in such centers as New York.

FISH STORY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Fireman Andrew Hinds tells this one: He saw an angler pull an old slot machine, minus its back, from the Susquehanna river. The fisherman pulled the handle. Out came a bass.

SEEING THINGS BY RADIO, SHOWN IN 1936, MAY ARRIVE DURING 1937

'MISS TOMORROW' . . .
For television, make-up in shades of pale orange, red and brown is used. Even deep-voiced masculine announcers may need mascara, lipstick.

REHEARSES DEBUT . . .
Television cameras, equipped with an electric eye in place of film, turn sights into electrical impulses.

IN A NEW ART . . .
An engineer, watching the studio through a window and the image coming from it on a screen overhead, can brighten television pictures just as sound control men improve on radio noises.

FOR AMERICAN HOMES
A 1936-model television set receives the picture horizontally and a mirror reflects it to persons in the parlor.

WPA PROJECTS IN DISTRICT OPENED

Operation of every Works Progress administration project in the Lubbock district was under way today, most of them having been suspended because of lack of funds. All but eighteen of the projects were awaiting more funds.

Notice arrived at noon yesterday that the Lubbock district had now received its portion of the allotment for the first two weeks of January amounting to $24,273.00. Word was spread throughout the 15 counties of the district Tuesday afternoon that funds had arrived and work was available this morning after most WPA laborers of the district had been instructed not to report for work until the latter part of the week or the first of next.

Suspended This Week

Operation of the projects was suspended this week, but laborers will have ample time to make up lost hours. They will have time to put in the maximum number for the month before the deadline, Ben Jordan, chief examining engineer for the district office of the Works Progress administration, said last night.

The money, although expected, came earlier than officials had hoped for, Jordan said.

W. A. Fincher, superintendent of the sewing rooms at Slaton and Lubbock, announced last night that both would start at 8 o'clock this morning.

Funeral Services Being Held Today

Burial of A. Dunn, about 70, who died here of a heart attack about 11 o'clock Saturday morning, will be in a local cemetery at 3 p. m. today.

The aged carpenter lived in a hotel in the 1300 block of Avenue F. He came to Lubbock from Bonham several years ago. He had retired as an active carpenter and mechanic.

Services will be held at Sanders chapel by Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of the Cental Baptist church, with Sanders' funeral home in charge.

Dunn was survived by his wife and a daughter of Memphis, Tenn., and a step-son of Lamesa.

Local Men Chosen As Show Officials

Ray C. Mowery and K. M. Renner of Texas Technological college agricultural faculty have been appointed superintendents of the Panhandle-Plains Dairy show to be held in Plainview April 21-24.

Mowery will serve as superintendent of vocational judging contests. Mowery also is a member of the board of directors of the show. Renner will serve as co-superintendent of the dairy products division.

Renner and Mowery are members of the committee securing articles for an educational exhibit.

"The Celebrity," first book by America's Winston Churchill, brought him immediate success but perhaps his most widely-known book is "The Crisis."

BLACK-DRAUGHT

For Clean System Helps To Prevent Sickness

One of the advantages of Black-Draught is that, if it is taken at the first disagreeable feeling of constipation, one or two doses usually bring relief. Prompt relief, such as that, is well worth while. Constipation is too dangerous to be neglected.

"A clean system for health" plan has saved thousands of people much useless sickness. They keep a package of Black-Draught in the family medicine cabinet and take this purely vegetable laxative at the first sign of constipation. They say the relief it brings is mighty hard to beat.

Find out, by trying it, why so many people prefer Black-Draught when it comes to buying a laxative. Adv.

INCREASE NOTED IN WATER USAGE

Reports from the city engineer's office show an increase of 114,118,000 gallons of water consumed in 1936 over the amount consumed in the previous year. The percentage gain was 18.4 per cent.

Figures for the year just ended and 1935 are 735,044,000 gallons and 619,926,000, respectively.

The maximum day for 1936 was July 20 when 3,890,000 gallons were pumped, showing a decrease of 65,000 or 1.7 per cent gallons as compared with the maximum day of 1935, which was July 7 when 3,955,000 gallons were used. January 31 was the minimum day for 1936 with the consumption of 1,035,000 gallons, while the minimum day for previous year was November 21, with 863,000 gallons used.

August Maximum Month

During 1936, August was the maximum month with the total of 109,724,000, while the minimum month which was February averaged 39,290,000. The maximum month for 1935 was July with the total of 83,518,000 gallons used, and the minimum month, February, totaled 35,143,000.

Although the fiscal year in figuring the totals is from April to April, the foregoing figures are based on the reports of a regular year, from January 1 to December 31.

Roberts Is Named As Club President

Lubbock Technical club reelected Harry N. Roberts, civil engineer, as president Tuesday night at a first annual dinner conducted in Chimayo room at Hilton hotel.

O. V. Adams, dean of engineering at Texas Technological college, was elected vice president and G. W. Parkhill, Tech instructor, was reelected secretary.

A committee headed by J. C. Oliver was appointed to study water softening here.

R. M. Curry, chief engineer of West Texas Gas company, spoke on the natural gas industry; a discussion was conducted on a proposed engineers licensing law in Texas, a plan which will be presented to the next legislature; and there were reports from two committees: City planning, headed by O. R. Walker, and research, headed by Marlin R. Smith.

Twenty-nine persons attended.

THE FULLER THE TANK THE LESS WINTER GRIEF and why—

The helpful idea we're talking about will give you extra protection against a freeze-up in your car's gasoline system. The smart thing to do first is to have your carburetor drained—a quick, simple operation for whoever takes care of your car. He will also empty the little glass filter bowl, or "trap." And if you want to be real careful, you will have a certain amount drained from the bottom of the gasoline tank. Thus you get rid of any water that might freeze on the first cold day.

This water was not in the gasoline originally, if you are careful where you buy. But you know that the air always contains more or less moisture, which can gradually form water in your gasoline system. There is less chance of this when you keep too much air out of your gasoline tank, by having it filled close to the top. It is still just as important as ever to get a gasoline that always fires away lickety-split in any cold . . . not dripping and flooding wastefully . . . not draining your battery by a lot of "false starts" . . . not thinning your oil by needless choking. The most helpful thing you can do for yourself right there is to keep your tank full of sure-firing Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze. Continental Oil Company

CAPITAL DEBS STAGE WAR

FIGHT ON NEW DEAL BEING CONDUCTED IN WASHINGTON

BY SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP).—Under the capital's urbane social surface this year's 20 debutantes are waging one of those icy, unspoken social wars that only women know how to wage, over—all things—the New Deal.

If the buds had followed the half-century old rules for debutantes they each would have given at least one party, inviting the other 39.

Instead, four, whose papas have plenty of money, and who are not associated with the New Deal, are ignoring the invitations of the other 36 whose papas have not so much money, and many of whose papas are New Deal officials. Even the ranking deb, pretty Mary Senate Howes, daughter of W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, has been given the cold shoulder by the four rebels.

Mothers Protest

Tearful debs and protesting mothers have spilled their stories to Mrs. William Laird Dunlop, jr., who has brought out most of the town's buds for 11 years. But her attempt to straighten out matters brought only th eanswer, "we want nothing to do with those New Dealers."

"It's deplorable," says Mrs. Dunlop. "Tradition says that the season's debs should entertain in a group. It seems to me that a lady is a lady no matter to whom she speaks."

How are the boys taking it? Oh, the rebelling four have found, fortunately, a quartet of young beaus who like the exclusive atmosphere too.

Tech Directors To Gather This Month

Annual January meeting of the board of directors of Texas Technological college will be conducted this month, but date has not been decided, it was said at the college.

Consideration will be given principally to matters concerning Tech's requests before the legislature. The board likely will give Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president, authorization to make several requests which have been considered.

Material to be presented to the legislature in asking appropriations for the next biennium has been completed.

Fourteen Firemen Buried Under Roof

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 6 (AP)—Fourteen firemen were buried today when the roof and rear wall of an extension to a building on Noll street collapsed after it had been weakened by fire.

They were rescued and taken to hospitals. The condition of one man was reported critical.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Secretary Swanson of the Navy, who has been in uncertain health for some months, became ill last night at the White House, where he had gone to attend the cabinet dinner.

Man Arranges For His Own Services

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6 (AP) — Dr. Robert Andrew Woods, 74-year-old practicing physician, hasn't been sick for 30 years, but he has supervised building of his tomb and arranged for his funeral.

Dr. Woods said he wrote his own epitaph and chose his casket.

His body will be placed in a tomb beside that of his wife who also wrote her epitaph. She died in 1935.

The tomb is an ancient Arabic type patterned after one he saw in Egypt. It had two mummy chambers within an oblong structure with sloping sides.

He made a wooden model. The granite monument, completed a year ago, weighs 17 tons and has bronze medallions of Dr. and Mrs. Woods on the sides.

One of the reasons for the building of the tomb now, he explains, is because he has no relatives.

WAGES ARE HIKED

CUSHING, Okla., Jan. 6 (AP)—A four-day shutdown of the Cushing Refining and Gasoline company was ended today as company officials announced a five-cent hourly wage increase had settled all labor disputes between them and their 100 employes.

STRIKE STYLE ON DISPLAY

STRATEGY SAID GOOD BUT PERIL LOOMS FOR WORKERS

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Correspondent

The streamlined industrial strike, 1937 model, is already on display at the end of 1936. It has been thoroughly demonstrated and tried out on the proving-grounds of the closing months of this year. It has found such favor with labor that it seems sure to be the widely accepted model for the coming year.

It is the "sit-down," "stay-in," or "folded arms" strike.

Already the rubber, automobile, flat glass, and steel industries, and even the WPA, have been used as laboratories for trying out the "sit-down" strike, with spectacular results. It may have major effects in next year's labor relations.

The "sit-down" strike is exactly what the name implies. The striking workers do not "walk out" and leave the plant to picket it on the outside. They simply quit work and sit down by their machines.

They stay there, allowing no one to replace them or resume the production line work until the conditions are adjusted against which they are protesting.

Popular Overseas

While this plan of industrial protest is a new one in this country, it is not at all new. For many years it was the ideal of the French syndicalists, and the strikes which swept across France last summer, when the Blum government came to power, were of this type.

Nearly a million employes in factories all over France practically took over the premises where they had been working, not excluding the government's own dockyard at St. Nazaire.

Some of them stayed in for weeks, fed and cared for by their families and associates on the outside.

The "revolutionary occupation" of Italian factories in 1919-1922 was generally of this type until Fascism stopped the practice. And the "occupations" are closely akin, too, to the Gandhi civil disobedience program in India.

Follow Gandhi Plan

In one eastern strike, not strictly a sit-down, the strikers lay down on the pavement to prevent trucks from leaving the plant. This is exactly the Gandhi pattern. The "folded arms" strike was also an ideal of the I. W. W., but in practice the "wobblies" ran more to sabotage.

The "sit-down" is peculiarly adapted to mass-production or "belt-line" industries in which these strikes are breaking out daily. For it has often happened that as few as a dozen or a score of men, by halting a production stream at one point, could tie up not only all workers on later stages of the same product, but even those in industries dependent on the product but not otherwise related to the strike.

The "sit-down" strikes, as developed during the later months of 1936, are not so much a planned campaign as a spontaneous outburst. Union leaders in Akron, O. have actually been embarrassed by the frequency of such strikes in the rubber factories there, and have tried to limit them to officially-sponsored suspensions.

They Sit Down Often

But men of a single small department or division continued to "sit down" frequently whenever some grievance came along, spontaneously, doggedly, and often without any real previous effort to adjust their differences.

Their example was noted so carefully in Akron that clerical employes of the United Rubber Workers' Union office there "sat down" on demands for more pay and less work. Squirming union officials, victims of their own tactics, had to back down and grant the demands after the work of the office had been demoralized for nearly a day.

Thus far, the "sit-downs of 1936" have been accompanied by a minimum of violence, in marked contrast to the violent tear-gassing, clubbing, and brick-heaving of 1934 and 1935.

Any violence that happens must follow an attempt to throw the striking employes out of the plan. That is, the company must start it.

This tends to win or hold public opinion on the side of the strikers.

Oddly enough, the most violent "sit-down" strike of 1936 was against the government's WPA program in New York City. Certain cuts in the "white-collar" program drew protest, and several hundred WPA employes gathered in the art project headquarters.

When their demands were refused, they gathered in a corner, locked arms, and announced that they were staying.

Police were called to eject them, and there was a general melee, after which 219 were arrested. But the "sit-down" is most successful in a permanent production-line industry.

Generally, they have followed the pattern of the "stay-in" strike staged at the Bendix Products plant in South Bend in November. Eleven hundred members of the United Auto Workers' Union stood by their machines, demanding union recognition. It was refused.

Union officials and the wives and families of workers sent in food, bed-clothing and supplies. After eight days, the strike was settled and union recognition was won.

The Kelsey-Hayes Wheel strike which now brings layoffs to thousands in Detroit because of lack of brakes and parts, has lasted longer than that.

Glass Industry Hard Hit

The Akron rubber factories, especially the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., were swept by a series of "sit-downs," and today the window and plate glass industry is practically prostrate, threatening stoppage of the whole auto industry, Midland Steel in Detroit and J. I. Case Co., at Racine, Wis., were other victims.

Advantages of the streamlined "sit-down strike" from labor's point of view are: no violence unless the employer starts it; easier to get fellow-workmen to join even if they are lukewarm; direct negotiations by the men "sitting down" with employer, often without intervention of union officials; and a good time for all, with plenty of rest, card-playing, and good clean fun.

The difficulties of coping with a "sit-down" are obvious. It takes many police or guards to throw a thousand men out of a plant with which they are perfectly familiar. Any disorder may result in costly damage to machinery or plant.

The fact that men not working are technically trespassing means nothing, because of the difficulty of asserting the property right by ejecting them.

Danger To Labor

Danger of the sit-down strike is that it is almost too easy to instigate, and therefore it is a constant temptation to unofficial or local leaders who "feel their oats."

They are inclined to "start something" without making any effort to adjust differences through existing channels, without securing consent of a majority of those involved, or without considering the long-range results.

For instance, thousands of men not involved in the controversy, even union men working under contract, may be thrown out of work by lack of material, shut off by the arbitrary act of an irresponsible local leader.

And this may react in the long run against the general cause of labor.

That is why responsible union leaders have been scarcely less concerned than employers in watching "the sit-downs of 1936."

They realize that this new weapon is full of possibilities for 1937, a year certain to see much labor unrest, as business activity gains and the employe prepares to seek what he considers his share.

LABOR'S NEW WEAPON IS PROVING A POTENT ONE

Makeshift bunks nailed up in the plant of the Hercules Motor Corporation at Canton, O., provide comfort for 900 employes whose "sit-down" strike closed the plant. At right, one of the strikers cuts hair at 25 cents per copy. Amateur shaves are provided at 10 cents by one man who happened to have an electric razor with him.

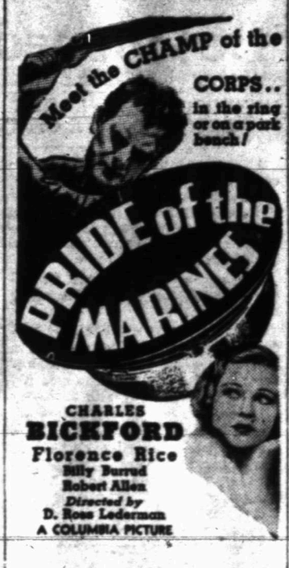

Life must go on and, as days pass, laundry facilities are devised. Here is one sit-downer hanging up his wash, while the men at the right bowl on the factory floor with equipment sent in from a friendly bowling alley. The plant is "policed up" every morning and kept in order so that work may be resumed promptly as soon as the dispute is settled.

Thousands Are To Get Federal Jobs

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6 (AP)—The PWA branch of the federal government will continue to furnish employment to several thousand persons in Texas until after March, Julian Montgomery, state PWA director, announced today.

No new projects are to be started as the PWA expires June 30 unless congress extends this agency.

TODAY WE BECOME DEALERS FOR DE SOTO & PLYMOUTH

A BRILLIANT NEW DE SOTO

Completely new... from its beautiful chromium radiator grille to the graceful streamline contours of its rear body panels . . . De Soto is priced just above the lowest.

A GREAT NEW PLYMOUTH

Again the Pacemaker of "All Three" in the lowest-priced field! It's the biggest, roomiest, safest Plymouth ever built. You'll like Plymouth's improved ride, too!

An Invitation to See and Drive These Two Great New Cars

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT of our appointment as dealers for De Soto and Plymouth climaxes a careful study of motor car values.

We believe that you, too, will share our enthusiasm for these two great products of the Chrysler Corporation . . . once you drive the New De Soto and New Plymouth.

The new De Soto is a completely new car from its one-piece seamless steel top to its safety-rib tires. Its new 93 h.p. "Economy Engine", airplane-type shock-absorbers, safety interior, genuine hydraulic brakes, bigger safety-steel body and dozens of other features combine to give you greater economy, safety, beauty, comfort and performance than has ever before been offered at prices just a few dollars above the lowest priced cars.

And the New Plymouth—priced with the lowest—is the biggest value of "All Three" contenders in the lowest-price field. It's bigger, roomier and more economical than its famous predecessors.

We want you to come in to see and drive these great new De Sotos and Plymouths, without obligation to buy. You'll like the way we do business.

Harridge Pleased At American League Record

Rollin' Along with Sports

SAILOR MORAN, the elderly Arkansan with a Texas Tech football haircut and a Joe Louis punch, is back in town but probably not so frisky as he has been of late.

The Sailor is more or less cheerful, in the dressing room that is, when he's about to tangle with one of the cleaner wrestlers. He is sullen and morose when the bill calls for an appearance against a guy who uses his dukes, too. He has a lot of fun making a punching bag out of the "gentlemen" grapplers, because he is pretty sure they won't fight back, consistently at least, and because he knows he can get by with it. He has the referees buffaloed.

But Dale Haddock also is in town, and not for a holiday. He is the bird Sailor Moran has to face tonight, and Haddock isn't one to hang helplessly on the ropes while an opponent bats him above or below the belt. You'll see the Sailor scramming for a lot of rope tonight, and it's a cinch he'll have trouble with his shoelaces.

The more timid fans should enjoy the semi-final, in which a couple of earnest, honest young men come to grips for a "legitimate" wrestling match. Andy Tremaine and Walter Stratton should make a pretty fair match.

"FOR ONCE I CAN'T blame it on the sports department . . . . It was all my fault, and I take the responsibility," obligingly said E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, business manager of Lubbock High school athletics, regarding the mix-up on the basketball games last night.

We make this form of explanation merely to demonstrate to our limited clientele that this department is not ALWAYS wrong — and not to make light of Pinkey's error. He thought he was saying the right thing when he asked that we announce a basketball series between Lubbock and Anton teams. So we did, and looked forward to seeing and hearing Master Freddie Rich rave and rant when a decision went against him.

It turned out that Sudan, rather than Anton, was the visiting team. And what a ball game that was! Barely do you see high school teams play like Lubbock and Sudan played last night. They threw caution to the winds, care to one side and the basketball at the hoop. They rushed and ran, passed long and short, charged and spilled in a contest as fast as the rules permit.

The large "house" might have been disappointed because Anton didn't play, but it couldn't have been disappointed in the game, or the games. The Cowhands and the Sudan "B" team played a lively preliminary.

Anton, by the way, will be host this week to its sixth annual invitation tournament. Twenty-three teams have registered and been scheduled for first round games, starting at 6 o'clock Thursday evening. Lubbock High is to play in this tournament, meeting Spade, a pre-tournament favorite, in the first round, 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

The Anton tournament has been rich in basketball action and interest each year, rivaling any other on the Plains for sustained interest. Rich believes this one will surpass all the others.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: They're "sand" greens at Lubbock Country club again, but you don't drag 'em . . . Over the less-than-a-year-old grass has been laid a protecting cover of sand . . . slows the putts down about 75 per cent, but, thanks to the balmy winter weather, lots of golf is being played daily . . . must have been 25 or 30 out yesterday . . . Joe Byrne, former pro at the club and at Meadowbrook, turned up yesterday and played the course. . . . He has been touring New Mexico since the fall . . . Looks healthy and chipper . . . was hitting his shots . . . Glad to see him back in town. . . .

Dutchy Smith, back from the conference meeting and the Sun Bowl festivities at El Paso, has little news . . . Says little out of the ordinary happened at the meeting . . . No important rule changes. . . . He says the change concerning spring football training cuts no ice. . . . except that it might prove beneficial . . . The conference fathers limited spring training to 26 sessions . . . putting no limit on the dates . . . Heretofore, spring training has been limited to six weeks, legally . . . Dutch points out that it's still the same . . . six times six equal 36. . . . Six work days in the week, six weeks . . . what's the dif? . . . Clubs are not required to take the 26 sessions consecutively, which allows for sand storms, track meets, fishing trips, etc. . . . Who's going to count 'em, anywho?

Within a day's drive of Lubbock there is a skiing slide, field, course, or whatever you call places where you ski. . . . It's at the Adams ranch, popular playground near Las Vegas, N. M. . . . We've never tried skiing . . . and there's another verse to that. . . . They say, to make a successful ski jump, one should be traveling at the rate of 90 miles per hour before the take-off. . . . We'll take sarsaparilla . . . or terrapin racing . . . But if you like to ski, you don't have to go to Lake Placid or one of New York's department stores. . . .

If you are withholding any fears concerning Lubbock's high school football plight as regards continuation as is, in District 1,

MANAGER BILL TERRY PLANS ON SHIFTS

OFFERS TO BET THAT HIS CLUB WILL BE ONE-TWO IN RACE

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—The old Giants may be scarcely recognizable when they take the field for the 1937 National league wars.

From what Manager Bill Terry says, Mel Ott may even be at third base for the league champions, instead of hit long time right field patrol.

Leiber In Center

Hank Leiber, who was somewhat in the doghouse last season, will be the white haired boy in center field. Jim Ripple, who held down center for much of '36, isn't placed yet, but may wind up at Ott's post in right.

Terry realizes finally his ailing leg has wound up his playing career. He will go on the voluntary retirement list and on first base in his place will be an importation from Newark of the international league, Jack McCarthy, which leaves the other first baseman, Sambo Leslie, still warming the bench.

Another rookie from the International will be Pitcher Cliff Melton, from Baltimore. Terry holds "high hopes" that this right hander, who won 23, lost 16 and pitched only 16 complete games for Baltimore last season, will do a lot toward helping Carl Hubbell bear the pitching burden.

Catcher Is Needed

Terry still is casting about for an experienced catcher to aid Mancuso, and another infielder.

As plans now stand, the team will line up with McCarthy on first, the ex-Phillies performer, Lou Chiozza, on third in place of Travis Jackson, who will manage the new Jersey City farm, and with Leiber at center field and Ott in right.

"Tough guy" of the major leagues, Terry was rolling in good cheer today. He was in town to see his pal Travis Jackson installed as manager of the Giants' new Jersey City farm, and he had more plans, predictions, and ideas than a Broadway press agent.

Finds No Takers

"I've offered to bet good hard cash we'll finish one-two, but I don't hear any takers," he said.

"We'll be faster, and younger, and I think we'll be better. In addition to the Cards, Cubs, and Pirates, the Reds should be knocking at the door this year. The Bees will also be improved, and the others should be about the same.

"I've suggested that each club in the majors be permitted to carry two promising first-year men in addition to their regular 23. These two must never have been in the majors before."

In the face of all this material, the army of news-starved reporters were amazed. Still Terry, usually reticent, rambled on.

"And I've figured out a new batting order too. I'm gonna lead off with Chiozza. Then Dick Bartell, Ott, and Leiber, and then Joe Moore, McCarthy, Burgess Whitehead, and Gus Mancuso."

Lou Ambers Meets Venturi On Friday

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers and potential challenger Enrico Venturi clash in a ten round non-title tilt in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Since he won the title from Tony Canzoneri several months ago, Ambers has been defeated twice in important starts—by Philadelphia's Eddie Cool and by Jimmy McLarnin.

Venturi, flashy Italian fighter who would like a lightweight crack, has an altogether different record: He hasn't lost a fight in the United States and he's had several.

Despite his recent setbacks, Ambers rules a 7 to 5 shot.

SCHEDULE SETTLED

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees will open their 33-game spring exhibition baseball schedule March 13 with the Boston Bees at St. Petersburg, Fla. and close with a three-game series against the Brooklyn Dodgers in Brooklyn, April 16-18.

etc., prepare to shed them now. . . . "No change in Class A setup contemplated for 1937," reads a wire received by Superintendent Kenneth Oberholtzer of Lubbock High in answer to his query. . . . There have been rumors, backed by authorized news stories, that a Class AA conference would be organized, including schools of the state with enrollments of over one thousand. . . . But the double-A league isn't for this year, if at all, if Roy Bedichek's telegram last night means anything. . . .

Writes Frexy Anderson in his Abilene News colyum:

"Texas Tech, whammed 28-19 by the Oklahoma Farmers in the semi-finals of the Oklahoma City basketball tournament, officially won third place by thumping Baylor, 38-28, so in reality was second best—in the field of 16. The Techs, therefore, should have quite enough and then some for Abilene Christian, in games at Bennett gymnasium Friday and Saturday. A good build-up for this series is the suits of the Matadors, which are a very, very pretty shade of red. (The entire collegiate citizenry of Abilene is requested to refrain from throwing eggs.)"

Anton Tourney Will Be Opened Thursday

UNEXPECTEDLY LARGE FIELD IS ENTERED IN CONTEST; FIVE GAMES SET ON FIRST DAY

ANTON, Jan. 6 (Special)—Because of an unexpectedly large field (23 teams have been bracketed) the sixth annual Anton invitation basketball tournament will begin a day ahead of scheduled time, announced Coach Fred Rich.

Five games will be played Thursday evening and night, beginning at 6 o'clock.

The first round will continue Friday evening and wind up with a hold-over game Saturday morning. Second, third and final rounds are booked for Saturday and Saturday night.

Spade Is Favorite

Among the favorites entered in the tournament are Spade, Lubbock, Bula and the Canyon Training school quintet, branch of West Texas State.

Spade has won 20 games, lost one, this season, copping two tournament first places and otherwise looking like a serious threat for district honors.

L. T. Barksdale, former Wayland college coach, will bring a strong team from the Canyon school.

The first round schedule:

Thursday evening:

6 o'clock—Anton "B" vs. Littlefield "B".

6:45—Littlefield vs. New Deal.

7:30—Spade vs. Lubbock.

8:15—New Deal "B" vs. Spade "B".

9—Pettit vs. Whitharral.

Friday evening:

5 o'clock—Spring Lake vs. Brownfield "B".

5:45—New Home vs. Muleshoe.

6:30—Canyon Training school vs. Brownfield.

7:15—Shallowater vs. Bula.

8:30—Anton vs. Amherst.

9:15—Frenship vs. winner of Lubbock-Spade game.

Saturday morning:

9:30 o'clock—Sudan vs. Meadow.

Fred Perry And Vines In Match

Prefers Pipe

Joseph Noon 3rd, 22 months old, learned to smoke his pipe three months ago and now uses it daily. The Fairview, N. J., youth recently was offered a cigar, chewed it awhile, then threw it away and reached for his pipe, his parents said. They said he recently switched to a new tobacco. (Associated Press Photo)

THOUSANDS TO WATCH TENNIS STARS IN BATTLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Fred Perry, who developed a lot of sales resistance in the past few years by turning down one fabulous offer after another to become a tennis professional, is expected to cash in on his amateur fame to the extent of about $15,000 tonight.

The British star, who refused to give up his amateur status until there was no doubt he was the world's best amateur player, faces Ellsworth Vines, rated the world's best pro, at Madison Square Garden in the first match of a long series.

First Meeting Since 1932

Lured by the first public meeting between the ranking stars since 1932, a capacity crowd of 16,000 fans is expected to pour around $55,000 into the pockets of the players and Promoters Frank Hunter and S. Howard Voshell. The ticket price scale ranges from $1.10 to $9.90.

Although the experts are almost unanimous in predicting Vines will win the opening encounter easily, Perry will get the larger share of the "gate." It is understood he is to get 37 1-2 per cent of the net receipts while Vines, whose income fell off last year because of lack of opposition, will take 12 1-2 per cent. The other players, Big Bill Tilden, making a one night stand, and Bruce Barnes and George Lott, members of the touring troupe, will receive flat salaries.

Freddie Steele Is Ready For A Fight

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (AP)—Freddie Steele, the middleweight king, breezed into town today ready to take on Babe Risko, or anyone else, for the first promoter who'll lay the money on the line.

Manager Dave Miller will open negotiations both with Madison Square Garden and the 20th Century sporting club for Steele's New York debut, probably in February.

Right now Miller's demands are far out of line with what New York promoters consider just, but James J. Johnston, Garden maestro, thinks this week's pow wows will bring about an agreement.

Emblem For Browns Club Being Sought

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6. (AP)—St. Louis baseball fans definitely settled the question some time ago of retaining the name of the Browns for the city's American league baseball club—but club officials still are not satisfied.

Thus a second contest has been inaugurated by President Donald Barnes and his associates to find an emblem for the team. "You can't put out a plain brown sticker," Barnes stated, in explaining that something along the same lines as the Cardinals' red bird emblem is desired.

Big Six sports writers, who overlooked the second-place University of Missouri eleven at the start of the 1936 season, are already picking the Tigers to lift the conference football crown from Nebraska in '37.

DALLAS PLANS FOR CHANGES

STEERS OF 1937 ARE TO BE FIGHTERS; MANY ARE LOST

DALLAS, Jan. 6 (AP)—Business Manager Robert S. Tarleton of Dallas' Texas league club said today the 1937 Steers would be an up and coming team despite the loss of half of last year's infield, two-thirds of the outfield, the first string catcher and two starting flingers.

Tarleton said he believed Manager Alex Gaston would have an aggregation that would make the fans forget George Rensa, Sal Gilatto, Vic Frasier, Bruce Connatser, Jim Stroner, Fred Tauby and Jimmy Mosolf.

High Class Team

"I don't say we'll have a better club than last year's," he said, "but we're going to have a high class team that will handle its end of any argument."

The present roster was announced as: Gaston, Bennie Warren, Frank Grube and Alfred Annunziato, catchers; Fred Marberry, Curtis Fullerton, Al Baker, Jim Parker, Euel Moore, Rudolph Woods, Chester Klaerner, Joe Dameron, Albert Blanche, Joe Radney, Cotton Ware and Tom Lanning, pitchers; first baseman Hal Humbracht, second baseman Les Mallon, shortstops Jimmy Levy and Lee Chandler, third baseman Mervin Connors, and outfielders Luther Harvel and Frank Narbut.

Dutton Brookfield of Kansas City, a 6-foot-7-inch center, is Missouri's tallest basketball player this season.

GREAT SEASON FOR COMING YEAR SEEN

SUCCESS FOR MINORS BIGGEST EVENT OF BASEBALL IN '36

(NOTE: This is one of a series of stories written for the Associated Press by outstanding sports leaders. They deal with 1936 developments and 1937 prospects).

BY WILL HARRIDGE

(President, The American League)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6. (AP)—Baseball shared in the prosperity of 1936. I would not say, "baseball has come back," for the reason it never went away. During the depression it suffered, of course, for the fans had to economize and amusements found no place in their budgets.

Will Harridge

Twenty-six minor leagues started the 1936 season and twenty-six not only finished, but went on to participate in post-season series. That feat probably is a record. Even in the banner years, when we had from forty to fifty minor leagues, not all weathered the storms and played out schedules. To me, the fact that the minor leagues enjoyed prosperity in '36 was the biggest event in baseball for the year. For, where would the major leagues be if it were not for minor circuits through which the players are developed?

A Star Tomorrow

The raw rookie of today down in the Evangeline, or up in the Northern league, may be the boy who draws the plaudits from the fans and the headlines in the papers because of his skill or prowess displayed in a World series contest two or three years from now.

Naturally, the American league has reason to be happy as a result of the events of 1936. True, our circuit lost the all-star game but, to make up for that, we won the World and Chicago city series.

Players in our league were not backward when it came to shattering records, some of which had stood for many years. In fact, they broke twenty-four and tied fourteen major league marks in addition to setting twenty-six new and tying eleven American league records.

As for making any predictions in regard to the 1937 campaign, I really should be content with resting on my laurels as a prophet a year ago when I said that New York would make trouble for Detroit and that Chicago and Washington would show marked improvement. Who will win? How will they finish? Your guess is as good as mine!

Cases Transferred In District Court

Criminal cases of 72nd district court have been transferred to the docket of 99th district court, as District Judge Daniel A. Blair of the 72nd district was district attorney at the time the indictments were voted. Because of his former connection with the cases, District Judge Blair would be disqualified to hear the trials.

Only two of the cases have been set, no arrests having been reported in the others.

The transfer will leave the 72nd docket clear of all criminal cases except trials of recent indictments, said Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

Settings in 99th district court have been posted, and show weeks of Jan. 18, Feb. 1 and March 8 designated for trial of criminal cases. Cases requiring special venires, of which there are five, were set for the week of Feb. 1. Three rape and two murder trials are included for that week.

Thirteen cases were set for the week of Jan. 18, and any cases not heard that week will be tried the week of March 8. In the week of March 8 are 10 cases set for trial.

Lubbock Is Victor Over Sudan Outfit

THRILLING BATTLE IS STAGED LAST NIGHT IN 28-26 WIN

One of those thrillers—a basketball game decided by a 2-point margin—Tuesday night saw Lubbock High school's Westerners break the tape ahead of a valiant Sudan quintet here.

If the Hornets were not the club expected to take the floor, they assuredly were representative of the kind of game played by Anton High school (the team that all and sundry had expected to see), and the game could scarcely have been more interesting had the 25-26 Anton losers to Lubbock Saturday night been here.

The Westerners broke a 26-26 tie when less than a minute remained to play and won the game when Virgle Simmons, husky football tackle and basketball guard, pushed in a field goal that ended the scoring and gave Lubbock High a thrilling 28 to 26 victory over Sudan High.

During the time that was left, the Westerners held the ball, passed it around, managed to keep the ever dangerous Hornets from stinging where it would have hurt the most.

Henry P. Ford, another footballer, gangly center on Goober Keyes' hooping outfit, had a scoring night. He made 16 of Lubbock's 28 points, all of them from field goals. His record easily was the best individual mark of the evening. He played a good game at center, controlled the tip-off over a taller Sudan foe, one Masten, then Shuttlesworth, and broke up numerous Sudan plays.

The hustling Hornets, featuring Stone, Ford and Shuttlesworth, were a bit slow to start, but when they did get going they made a ball game out of it, looked not as smooth on passing and on defense as the Westerners, but they played with one idea in mind—to put the ball through the iron hoop. And they did it. They also took a lot of Lubbock rebounds and scurried for the other end of the court like frightened rabbits.

Stone was hot in the first half, scoring four field goals in succession to give Sudan an 8 to 6 lead soon after the second quarter opened. A long shot by Ralph Letsinger, a shorter one from the side by Ford and a push-in by Venable gave Lubbock a 6-0 lead as the game opened. Stone poured in the first of his four field goals just before the first quarter ended, carried on in the second for three more in rapid-fire manner.

Letsinger found the goal with another long shot to tie the score, and Ford made another, but Masten of Sudan tied it at 10-all with a long field goal. Oden made a free shot, but Shuttlesworth shot a field goal for a 12-11 lead. Just before the first half ended, Ford made a field goal for a 13-12 lead.

Sudan took the lead as the third

VARIETY SHOW IS PROMISED MAT FANS

LOTS OF EXCITEMENT IS BEING EXPECTED FROM WRESTLERS

A wrestling show calculated to please everybody—if they come early enough and stay long enough—is billed for Sled Allen's Auditorium tonight—a show as full of variety and varied tempo as any symphonic overture ever syncopated by a swing band.

From Joe Bauer's unwitting comedy to Sailor Moran's uncontrollable, fiery temper, the first wrestling show of 1937 promises entertainment and excitement—and possibly a bit of wrestling. Walter Stratton, the Iowa strong man, and Andy Tremaine, the Arizona athlete, should provide the wrestling in the semi-final. Joe Bauer and a newcomer start the show, Sailor Moran and Dale Haddock wind it up.

Moran, who has adopted a wicked punch to the heart as his favorite weapon and who has been doing very nicely with it, thank you, much to the displeasure of the fans and the discomfort of the referee, may hit a blockade tonight when he attempts to pummel the cagy Dale Haddock, one of the circuit's favorite roughsters. Haddock is intensely unpopular when he's in there against a "clean" fighter, but he's the people's choice when he's matched with another villain.

Haddock and Moran are expected to observe no limits in their fight tonight. There won't be a large amount of wrestling, although each is an accomplished grappler. They prefer to slam-bang it out, wind up things as early as possible, bring as much suffering and discomfort to each other in as brief a time as possible.

Haddock has been visiting other circuits during the past several weeks. Until Walter Stratton took his measure here recently, Dale was the league's big boy. At present,

NELSON SEEKS LEGISLATION

UNICAMERAL BODY TO DIRECT AFFAIRS OF STATE PROPOSED

Armed with information on his proposal for a one-house legislature, on the child labor amendment, school legislation, information concerning Texas Technological college, labor legislation, and other questions to be considered by the 45th legislature, Senator G. Hobert Nelson of the 30th district, of Lubbock, will leave for Austin Sunday.

Support of Governor Allred's fight against legalized gambling was pledged by Senator Nelson.

May Be Labor Leader

Senator Nelson probably will become the leader in the placing of labor legislation before the senate. He has been invited by organized labor to take that position, an unusual invitation considering the fact that the 30th district has industrial labor centers only in Slaton and Big Spring.

The first legislator to offer a concrete proposal for a unicameral, or one-house legislature, in Texas, Senator Nelson declared yesterday he had obtained much additional support for his move.

"I have been assured a two-thirds majority in the house to submit some character of bill, and there is a chance of having it submitted by the senate," he said. "The amendment finally submitted may not be exactly what I want, but it will be a part of what I have proposed."

Proponents of a one-house legislature will meet in advance of the opening of the legislature to work out a resolution which will be supported both in the house and in the senate, the senator explained.

An intensive study of the proposed child labor amendment to the United States constitution has been made by Senator Nelson, who said Parent-Teacher associations, welfare groups, and others of the 30th district had urged his support of the proposal. The American Bar association, he said, is opposed to the amendment.

The child labor amendment has been ratified in 24 states and will be presented to the legislatures of 19 other states, including Texas, in 1937. Among Texas' neighbor states, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Colorado have ratified the amendment. Louisiana and New Mexico have not.

At present, independent school districts which have from 50 to 75 per cent enrollment from rural sections do not receive rural aid because they have more than 500 scholastics, said Senator Nelson.

"I will support legislation to equalize the burden of these districts," he explained.

President Bradford Knapp and representatives of the board of Texas Technological college have been in conference with Senator Nelson relative to proposals for that institution.

"I hope to increase salaries paid to professors and keep them in the college, rather than train them for industry," he said. "Not only industry, but other colleges in other states, paying better salaries, likewise are drawing heavily from our staffs.

"Industry is taking away our professors because of their theoretical ability and their practical knowledge," he continued. "They have proved their abilities as teachers, because none of the technically trained graduates of the college are on the waiting lists for jobs. That fact alone should stimulate boys and girls to attend this institution.

More Liberal-Minded

"I find that the people downstate realize we have the third largest enrollment in the state, and legislators are beginning to be more liberal-minded toward this institution," he said. "My cooperation with legislators from districts having colleges will assure Texas Tech a just share of appropriations.

"I have many facts concerning the possibilities of new buildings and equipment for Texas Tech," the senator said.

The senator expressed himself as emphatically opposed to taxing gambling operations to support the state.

Sure To Suffer Consequences

"When we sacrifice moral standards for monetary gain, we're sure to suffer consequences in demoralization of our people," he declared. "When we as a people succeed in finally breaking down all the moral standards which were established by our forefathers, then we have, in my judgment, broken the backbone of Democracy.

"It is true," he continued, "that we receive revenue from liquor, race tracks, and slot machines, and that temporarily pacifies us. But if we let the gambling instinct run away with us, we're sure to pay the price. It is wrong as a government policy: it is not for the best interest of the people. We either should do without the money, or get it from some other source."

Following in the steps of the late Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, Senator Nelson will support a delinquent tax law designed to bring in $30,000,000 in delinquent taxes and prevent such delinquencies in the future, he said.

As a former district attorney, he said he was interested in rewriting the criminal laws to provide quicker and surer justice for persons who are defendants in criminal courts.

Senator Nelson said he was continuing his work in the interest of improved highways in the 30th district. All-weather surfacing of gaps in highways 15, 84, and 24, among others, has his active support, he said.

period opened, Nichols scoring. Ford tallied for Lubbock and then made a free shot to tie the score at 15-all.

Lubbock scooted ahead then, Ford making a field goal, Allen a free shot and Ford another field goal. Sudan's Ford made one and Markham another, but Lubbock's Ford fired another to give Lubbock a 22-19 lead as the third period ended.

Ford and Shuttlesworth of Sudan tied the count with a free goal and a field counter, but Oden made it 24-22 with a long field goal. Ford of Sudan tied it up, Ford of Lubbock untied it, and Stone tied it again. Then came Simmons's field goal for the victory.

In the preliminary, the Lubbock Cowhands had to hustle to beat off the Sudan "B" team, 19 to 14, in a fast game. Led by Harold Parsons, Jarvis Wright, and Rusty Johnston, the Cowhands came from behind to tie the score at 13-all and go ahead in the last quarter to win. Parsons scored eight points, Wright and Johnston four each. White three.

WRESTLING

there isn't an undefeated man in the league except the newcomer, Dago Dorsetti who meets Jittery Joe Bauer tonight in the curtain raiser.

Advance notices indicate that Dorsetti is pretty much of a man's man when it comes to wrestling. They're trying him out against Bauer the workhorse to see if he has what it takes. Bauer seldom wins, but when he's still on his feet he can give the best of 'em a struggle.

Science and strength, a demonstration of clean wrestling mixed with legitimate rough stuff, comes up in the middle bout tonight. Walter Stratton, who bowed to no man until Sailor Watkins made a razzo through here recently, bumps into an ex-collegiate footballer who knows a thing or two about muscles and how to control them, too. Andy Tremaine, a nice fellow from Arizona, is hardly expected to survive Stratton's bear-hugs, full nelsons, et cetera, but he'll give a good demonstration of how to block for most of the man-killing holds Stratton will attempt.

Letsinger, Oden, Allen 3.
Missed free shots — Stone, Shuttlesworth, Masten, Markham 3; H. P. Ford, Letsinger, Oden, Allen.

SELF-ADVERTISED DOCTORS CASHING IN ON UNFORTUNATE DRUG ADDICTS

PEIPING, China, Jan. 6 (AP) — Scores of self-advertised doctors today were "cashing in" on fears of thousands of uncured narcotics addicts in North China cities that the government will begin to enforce its decree of death for them.

One so-called anti-narcotics hospital here advertised: "Barring exceptional cases we will cure anyone from addiction in seven hours." This place was doing a land-office business.

Columns of the Chinese newspapers blossomed with advertisements offering rapid cures, and self-styled physicians were reaping a golden harvest from panic-stricken narcotics users grasping at any chance to rid themselves of the habit before the executioners' guns begin to bark.

Authorities continued to debate when and with what severity they would enforce the orders addressed by the government to narcotics users late last year: "Be cured by New Year's or die!"

Marble Machines Are Being Seized

HOUSTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Captain J. J. Kuykendall, newly appointed head of the police vice squad, started seizing marble machines today.

A heavy moving van loaded with the nickel catching devices rolled up to police headquarters several times and the machines were stacked in the police courtroom.

Charges of operating marble tables were filed against each person connected with the machines.

GAINS WEIGHT; APPETITE IS GOOD! THIS LUBBOCK YOUTH LAUDS VAN-TAGE!

Edwin Ford, Of Ave. M, Was Losing Weight—Had No Appetite — Pep And Energy Gone—His Body Filled With Poisonous Wastes — Given Van-Tage, He Showed A Remarkable Improvement — Mother Says: "It's Worked Wonders!"

EDWIN FORD, Local Youth, Was Tired, Worn-Out. He Had No Appetite or Energy. His Mother Started Giving Him VAN-TAGE. Read Below of the Amazing Results!

Some of the Leading Druggists of Lubbock and throughout Texas now frankly say they have never seen anything like the way Widely-Known Local Residents continue to come forward day after day and publicly endorse the "Amazing New Medicine," known as VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced to crowds daily at the Marx Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway, Lubbock. These are all truthful, sincere testimonials, given by these men and women to help other poor, miserable people who suffer as they did, and some of the statements being received are Truly Remarkable. For instance, in the following testimonial, which was received recently, Mrs. M. A. Ford, of 208 Ave. M, Box 792, Lubbock, tells how she used Van-Tage to give her son, Edwin, new strength and energy. Read her interesting account.

Quick Van-Tage Relief Removes Body Poison

"I thought I would let you know what my son and I think of Van-Tage," says Mrs. Ford. "For the past few months, Edwin, my son, had been losing weight. His appetite seemed to be gone and we had difficulty getting him to eat even a small amount of food. His color was not good at all and, to tell the truth, he didn't seem to have any pep or energy. I decided he needed something to bring back his appetite and to remove the poisons in his system. We had been reading about Van-Tage in the local papers and decided to try it. Now we are glad we did for it has Worked Wonders on Edwin. He is now eating fine and his complexion is cleared up and he is gaining weight. He looks more like himself every day and he is full of pep. Nothing has done it but Van-Tage and I am certainly glad to be able to report such Remarkable Results!"

How The 21 Herbs In Van-Tage Help You

It is the Natural Herbs in Van-Tage which help to produce the relief described above by Edwin Ford's mother. Herbs have been used by the Human Race for Hundreds of Years. They act as a carminative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic, thus helping cleanse the bowels, bringing forth gas and bloat from stomach, assisting Nature in flushing excess impurity from kidneys and bladder and stimulating the activity of sluggish liver. Miserable people write us daily, praising the cleansing and invigorating properties of Van-Tage, and many say they feel like different men and women after taking it. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is Reasonable. So, if you suffer as outlined herein, get this New Medicine — TODAY!

VAN-TAGE is now being introduced to crowds daily at the Marx Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway, Lubbock.

That Girl on Broadway says by this time next month people will finally get around to remembering on their letters and check stubs that this is 1937.

SPEAKING of 1937, up to yesterday The Plainsman had his doubts about our really having entered a New Year.

We'd heard a lot of New Year's greetings being passed about and had received a few cards.

We'd noticed new calendars in the office, and all that.

But what puzzled us was that there'd been no handsome, leather-bound yearbook delivered courtesy of Charlie and Wesley Read, the investment and realty kids.

For quite a few years now, The Plainsman has limped through month after month leaning on the Read boys' yearbooks like a cripple on a cane.

Since becoming middle-aged, our brain hasn't functioned like it once did—or at least like we remember it as functioning—and without a little book to jot things down in we'd be lost.

Hence the arrival of a yearbook from Charlie and Wesley has become, like the robin is a harbinger of spring, a sort of official notification that another year has rolled around as years are wont to do.

However, everything's all right now.

We've got the book and are now fairly safe from missing such important dates as the wife's birthday, wedding anniversary and last income tax paying day, and such engagements as the Yaway Corners Chamber of Commerce banquet and acting as pallbearer, best man, or whatnot.

Gosh, what a relief to a tired—or should it be worn?—brain!

NOW that the Congress is in session and all eyes are turned to Washington, it is appropos—to use one of our best 83 words—to take a text from the national capital.

As a lad, with kinfolks in Baltimore, The Plainsman was fortunate in being able to go East about once a year and revel in the glories of the large and lovely city on the banks of the placid Potomac.

In later years, as a hartless newspaperman, he has had reason to go to Washington in a working capacity—or, at the worst, on combination business and sightseeing trips— and the capital has never failed to thrill him. But although it is the most beautiful and the most up-to-date of all World capitals, Washington has one great disadvantage. It's in the wrong place.

The capital of the United States should be in the general location of Topeka, Kans., where it would be more accessible to the nation as a whole.

When first located in what is called the District of Columbia, on land contributed by Virginia and Maryland, Washington was in the center of population. But the country grew. The tide went westward—and with it the accessibility of the capital.

Of course, the capital probably never will be permanently changed.

It might be changed temporarily, in case of an armed invasion, for it is notoriously vulnerable that way.

But with billions of dollars already spent on permanent buildings, landscaping and whatnot, Washington will—as far as any of us now sticking around are concerned—always be the capital and, of course, will always be where it's "at".

THE Plainsman has been pretty much all over, in, around and under Washington and it is a city of unsurpassed beauty and thrills. But neither the White House nor the monument packs the biggest thrill for your humble servant. Neither does the Lincoln memorial, Arlington cemetery, the capitol nor any of the great new buildings, including the ex-Mister Hoover's Department of Commerce monument.

Most interesting thing to The Plainsman is the little subway cars which transport short-winded, flat-footed U. S. senators from their office building to the senate chamber in the capitol.

They're swell!

Unknown to many people, senators and representatives do not have their offices in the big building with the dome on it.

Over to the right (as you face the capitol) is the huge senate building, about a block and a half removed. Over to the left, a similar distance awa, are the new and old house buildings. All three of these structures are connected by underground passages with the capitol where the senate sits in one wing and the house in the other.

Thus, our public servants can go from office to chambers—and, to be sure, back again—without getting hot, cold or wet, and without the necessity of taking hats, coats, canes, rubbers and umbrellas.

Since most members of the house are younger than most members of the senate; since representatives, while they draw the same pay do not rate one, two, three with their frock-coated brethren across the way, what we call "congressmen" have to walk in their underground passage. Senators, members of the most exclusive rich men's club in the world, can either walk or ride in the electrically operated scooters.

PROBABLY not one American in every 50,000 knows about those electric scooters but no American, no matter what a futile sense of humor he has, could ever forget them, especially if he has ever seen a pompous senator riding in one!

The scooters look a good deal like roller-coaster cars. They have no tops, are low and have narrow seats in rows of three. Put a big, important looking geezer in one of them and, as he overflows the seat, he looks all the world like a kid sitting on the edge of a church pew wondering how much longer the preacher is going to talk!

Incidentally the scooters are for senators and their guests and nobody else.

Democracy? Hey hey!

If you're away from home and a guy calls once, he may be trying to give you something. But if he calls three times, he's got something to sell you!

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says these new three-dimensional movies will be worth something if they only settle the long-standing argument about whether or not there's anything behind the ingenue's face.

* * *

Gordon Webb brought this in—a Wally-Davey story acceptable for the mails:

"Do you know M... Simpson's the world's champion checker player?"

"No. How'd she win the title."

"She jumped two men and capped the king!"

* * *

THE world know that John Barrymore is a washed-up has-been—done, through, finished and buttoned up—but apparently even his best friend won't tell him!

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie Moore, widowed when her husband disappeared while trying to fly the Pacific, works for Mark Albery, the London airplane manufacturer. Albery is interested in Laurie. Laurie is returning from Liverpool, where she had gone to see her dancer sister open in a new show, when a strangely brusque stranger saves her from falling from the train. He says he has been blind until recently.

Chapter Four
REX MOORE

"We're nearly there," the stranger said. "Do you live in London?"

"Yes, I work in London." Laurie spoke defiantly, and her blue eyes were brilliant, as she looked at him.

They accused him of his uncouth rudeness, which seemed so deliberate to her. Her little straight nose was in the air. Her red-brown waves of hair shone richly under the lamps of the carriage, that were now lit. Her vital face took on one of its beautiful moments, framed in the high dark collar of sable-dyed fur on her black coat.

The man's eyes blazed back his own strange defiance.

"So you work?" he said. "Taking a man's job, I suppose, like the rest of you girls!"

Laurie gasped at this deliberate insult. She could not answer it at the moment. She was struck dumb.

The train slowed down and entered the station.

"I don't suppose we shall meet again," the man said casually. "So I'll say good-bye."

Laurie found her tongue.

"Good-bye!" her voice trembled. "I think you are abominably rude and unfair. And I certainly hope we shall never meet again!"

She took up her suitcase and marched indignantly down to the other end of the corridor.

Mark Albery was alone in his library after dinner, just a week later.

When in London he occupied a spacious flat on the first floor of a building on the Chelsea Embankment. But the time when his presence was not actually needed in London, and he was not abroad, he spent in the country, in an old, roomy house not far from his factory in Cambridgeshire.

In spite of his sophistication and his eminently worldly tastes, he was happier in the country. He liked wide vistas and vast skyscapes. He was never tired of looking up at the sky, where the creations of his brain broke records and conquered distances, and were rapidly making of the world a much smaller place.

That was why he lived in Chelsea, where he could look out on the river and a stretch of sky. The slow movement of the Thames barges and lighters, compared with the speed of his red-winged birds that skimmed over them, that was the kind of sight that delighted his soul.

On this evening in late April there had been a lovely rose-pink sunset, and now filmy lilac veils were streaming across the sky in the West.

He could see the river from his big windows, with the lighted street lamps shedding a faint radiance, and the trees of Battersea Park opposite, like lace work, silhouetted against the sky.

But it was not of planes that he was thinking just then.

It was of young Mrs. Moore, whom he had seen only once since Easter, when she met him on the stairs of the office building and thanked him again for her holiday.

Miss Dixie was back at work. He was sorry for it. That girl with the blue eyes and the chestnut hair would stay in his thoughts. He could not upset the accustomed routine of the office. He had no fault to find with Miss Dixie. But—Still. . . .

His butler came into the room.

"A gentleman is asking to see you, sir."

"What name?"

"He wouldn't give his name, sir."

"What is he like? Anybody you know?"

"No, sir. A tall young gentleman."

"Anything special about him, Dawson?"

"He looks as if he had had an illness, sir, and he has rather peculiar eyes." Dawson was used to these questions. His master was apt to be pestered by all sorts of people who wanted something.

"Go and ask him, please, why he won't give his name."

The butler came back.

"The gentleman says he is quite willing to give his name, but he would rather give it to you, sir. And he says you know him."

"Rather cool," commented Albery, "but, all right, show him in, Dawson."

A tall thin youngish man, with a rugged face and rather startling pale grey eyes, walked into the room.

Albery stared at him for a few moments without recognition. Then a look came into his face as if he saw a ghost.

He started to his feet, exclaiming:

"Moore! Rex Moore! It's Rex Moore, isn't it? You're alive!"

"I'm alive all right," said the man. "Sorry to give you a shock."

"You've changed, Moore! I should hardly have known you. It's not only that you've shaved your moustache; you look so much older."

And, indeed, this man of thirty did look much older than his years; almost as old at this moment as the elegant, olive-skinned, sleek-haired man of forty-five.

"I've had a bit of a bad time," he said.

Mark Albery was recovering himself and grasping his visitor's hand.

"I can't tell you how glad I am, Moore. This is a great day for me—for all of us. Two years—a bit more, isn't it? But we've never forgotten you; we've always regretted you. Why didn't you let us know? Why did you leave us to think you were lost? It was unkind, my boy. The search for you went on for weeks."

"I couldn't help myself at first," the airman said. He spoke to the rich manufacturer, who had done so much for him in the past, in the same curt way as he had spoken to the girl in the train from Liverpool to London. He had always been a rebel, a young man who was a law unto himself. "I was blind for more than a year after the crash."

"Blind!" Albery gazed wonderingly at the strange, light eyes.

"I'm cured all right. But I suppose I look queer to people. It was some nervous disease—can't explain it to you. Don't understand it myself. It comes from shock. A specialist in California cured me."

Moore, tomorrow, is astonished at one of Albery's questions.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

WHERE THE PRINCIPAL TROUBLE IS "AT"

As is frequently the case between Congressional sessions and during national political campaigns, we heard a good deal a few weeks ago about the possibility of consolidating numerous federal departments, bureaus and agencies in the sweet name of economy.

But with our lawmakers back under the big dome in Washington, it appears, as it always does, at this stage, that remarks and plans having to do with economy were "just a lot of talk."

The trouble is not all with Representatives and Senators, although those worthies have never been known to overlook opportunities for patronage for "the boys back home." Most of it is with us "common fellows" who either do not know how much could be saved the taxpayer by abolition or consolidation of federal agencies, or who do not care.

A great executive of private business—say a man like Gerard Swope, or Bernard Baruch, or George Hill, for instance—could, if given a free hand, go into Washington and, in a year's time, save the taxpayers millions of dollars. Furthermore, by throwing out loafing brothers-in-law of big shots and cousins of other big shots, he would have a more efficient organization than Washington has ever dreamed of—much less seen.

The sad part of it is that we folks who elect the Representatives and Senators either have friends or kinsfolk of our own whom we want to get jobs for, or we're too busy with our private affairs to take active interest in "everybody's business"—the government.

And things will get no better quickly—if you know what we mean—until the soverign voter, in appreciable numbers, comes to his senses and demands sweeping reform.

A THOUGHT

Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity.—Habakkuk 2:12.

From Hollywood MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Behind The Scenes With The Stars Of Talkietown

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6 — All over the lot: There's disaster at the Walter Wanger establishment, but it's all a part of workaday movie magic. Director Frank Borzage is shooting a shipwreck for "History Is Made at Night," with Charles Boyer and Jean Arthur.

Occupying almost the entire sound stage is half of an ocean liner. The prow, ripped and crushed, is buried in an iceberg which has shattered and sent great cakes of ice ripping through the wheelhouse and into the superstructure.

Nearly 500 extras, who are passengers, are screaming, fighting over life preservers, and leaping into lifeboats which are being lowered through swirling fog down the sides of the stricken movie ship.

True, it's all made of cardboard, plaster, and wood, and the iceberg is a hollow wooden framework covered with canvas. But, even to an observer standing there on the set the scene comes to life with startling realism in the hands of technicians who know how to handle lights and synthetic fog and camera angles. Sometimes these experts are more important than the stars themselves.

Skid-Proof Dogs

Two bulldogs are causing trouble on the set of the new Marx Brothers' film, "A Day at the Races." The dogs are supposed to dash across the room and leap upon Chico, who is tied to a couch.

But when Director Sam Wood rehearses the scene, the dogs, eager to do their part, skid on the highly polished floor and sprawl in all directions. They can't run, or even jump from the polished surface.

An observing prop man comes to the rescue. He glues small sheets of rubber to the feet of the does. "That'll fix 'em," he says. And it does. The pooches scamper across the room and launch themselves on Chico for a perfect "take."

Tricks Of Trade

The interior of a hospital has been built at Paramount for the picture called "Internes Can't Take Money," co-starring Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea. Regular hospital equipment has been installed, and a real doctor, hired as technical adviser, has checked every detail.

But the scene differs in two ways from that in a real hospital. If you're seeing the set and not the actual picture. All the nurses, doctors, and their assistants are wearing pale blue costumes instead of the usual gleaming white ones. And two child extras, portraying patients, are wearing bandages made of bright yellow cloth.

Director Al Santell explains: "White reflects too much light, so we had to put the hospital staff in the blue uniforms. But they'll look white on the screen. The bandages on the little girls are for an important closeup. They wouldn't photograph well if they were white. The yellow makes them stand out better."

Synthetic Scene

Karen Morley and Warren William are taking a dangerous ride in one scene of "Happiness Preferred." The two stars are supposed to be in an automobile bumping along an icy mountain road in a snowstorm of blizzard proportions.

Photographing such a scene is duck soup for Hollywood's specialists. The body of a wheelless, engine-less automobile has been set up on a set of springs. A couple of workmen jiggle it to simulate the movement of a real car. The camera is mounted where the windshield should be, and only the interior of the car will be seen on the screen.

But through the car's rear window the receding road is visible. Back of it is a translucent, rear-projection screen, and on it is projected a film previously shot from a camera truck which was driven through a snowstorm near one of California's mountain resorts.

It's another combination of realism and illusion that makes for better movies.

ONE MAN BURNED

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6 (AP)—An early morning fire which had completely enveloped a three-story apartment and store building before it was discovered burned one man to death here today and left four other persons in a serious condition from the effects of inhaling smoke.

Three New Cabinet Posts Are Likely As FDR Looks Over Federal Setup, Sees Need For Changes, Dutcher Opines

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The most closely guarded secrets in Washington are those shared by the president and his experts on government reorganization.

Rough blueprints have been charted, however, for a thorough overhauling and rearrangement which will bring nearly all emergency agencies under federal departments and transfer many old-line bureaus. This much is certain at the time of writing:

Dutcher

The President will ask Congress to create two and perhaps three new executive departments of cabinet rank. He will ask for general authority to transfer and regroup federal agencies, authority under which he would build up the structures of the new departments along functional lines and make other additions to and subtractions from the old departments.

A Department of Public Welfare and a Department of Public Works are the ones which Roosevelt and advisers have definitely decided should be created.

Roosevelt agrees with Secretary Ickes that the name of the Department of Interior should be changed to Department of Conservation.

Possibility of a third new department has been discussed, largely because there are so many New Deal agencies to be fitted in under the departmental shelter. One proposal of the inner circle is for a Department of Economic Stabilization, which would include certain agencies and perhaps one or two new ones.

Only Outline For Congress

The President, practically on the eve of his message to Congress, hadn't decided whether to take up the question of reorganization at once or to wait three or four weeks.

It was fairly certain, however, that he would ask for creation of the new departments with only a general description of their functions and with no specific mention of individual transfers of bureaus, commissions and administrations.

The objection to laying down a detailed blueprint for Congress to chew on is based in a record of experience showing that such procedure leads to a chaos of intergovernmental lobbying and congressional blocs which effectively thwarts any reorganization program.

Administrator Harry Hopkins of WPA, Chairman John Winant of the Social Security board, and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Josephine Roche are being discussed as possible cabinet secretaries for the public welfare post. Hopkins is a 10 to 1 shot, although the president holds both Miss Roche and Winant in high regard.

Ickes Sure Of Berth

Ickes, according to the present dope, would be secretary of conservation rather than of public works. That's not entirely certain, but he will stay in the cabinet unless he is drafted to be comptroller general. Just who would be secretary of public works is still anybody's guess.

The Department of Public Welfare (it may be called something else meaning the same thing if someone thinks of a name in time) would certainly include WPA, Social Security board, U. S. Public Health service, Office of Education, Children's bureau, and certain other agencies.

The Department of Public Works would take in PWA, the Procurement Division of the Treasury, and presumably administration of any new federal housing program. Conceivably, it would also embrace TVA and Rural Electrification administration, but that's only speculative insofar as this dispatch goes.

White House Shakeup, Too

The presidential committee on reorganization, consisting of Louis Brownlow, Charles E. Merriam, and Luther H. Gulick, has also recommended a drastic reorganization of the White House secretariat. The present White House set-up is scarcely more than a stenographic secretariat.

The White House secretariat of the future will be headed by an executive assistant to the President, who will sit with the cabinet—perhaps formally designated as a cabinet member who can step in and settle disputes in the federal machine, and will be an all-around top grade man.

He would be assisted by three or four others, one of whom might serve as legal adviser to the president. They would keep track of what was going on in the government and the country and serve as trouble shooters.

Brownlow himself—although he has no part in it—is being proposed in some quarters for the executive assistant's job. He is an administrator par excellence, and a trainer of administrators who has furnished many non-political ones to the New Deal.

He is director of the Public Administration Clearing House and helped establish the administrative set-ups of FERA, AAA, CWA, WPA, PWA, and TVA.

He would be a handy man to have around in a position of authority during operation of the proposed huge rejiggering program.

College Slang Is Claimed Changing

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 6 (AP) — Research by Dr. E. L. Green discloses an evolution in student slang at University of South Carolina during the last century.

He finds students summoned before the faculty in the 1800's were "trained"—not "jacked up."

Nowadays a student "shines" when making a perfect recitation whereas in former days he "splurged."

"Wooling" a student to find out what he knows, or vice versa, is termed "picking" today.

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING

Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.

Doctors recommend an oily ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains soothing ingredients that aid healing.

Use Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, also a cake of Resinol Soap, at any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 1, Baltimore, Md.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxines. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

WOMAN JAILED IN SLAYING

SUSPECT IN MURDER OF POLICEMAN IS HELD IN TEXAS

HOUSTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—Tessie Wilson, alias Mrs. Loraine Simpson, alias Tessie Wilkinson, was arrested at her home here Tuesday on charges of murder in connection with the slaying of Policeman Clyde Appling at Northport, Ala., October 1, 1935.

Constable Neal Polk arrested the 22 year old woman on a warrant Sheriff Festus Shamblin of Tuscaloosa, Ala., sent Houston officers two weeks ago.

The woman waived extradition and Sheriff Shamblin said he was sending officers here to return her to Alabama.

Shot In Automobile

Sheriff Shamblin said Appling was found shot to death in his automobile on the streets of Northport, a Tuscaloosa suburb, about a year after the officer had killed Ledger Simpson. Alabama officers said Simpson was killed when he resisted arrest on charges of prohibition law violation.

The woman arrested here, police said, denied that she had anything to do with the slaying of the policeman.

"I didn't even know there was a charge against me," police quoted her as saying, "but I'm willing to go back and face it. I'm innocent."

Police quoted her as saying she was with Simpson when he was shot but that she was never questioned in connection with that shooting.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Buyers were timid in today's stock market and prices shuffled along indecisively.

Traders were still under the spell of automobile strikes, although prospects brightened as federal conciliators attempted to bring about a settlement of the General Motors Corp., controversy.

The activity slowed appreciably near the fourth hour while Wall street awaited the contents of the president's message to congress.

Steels and coppers exhibited a downward trend. A number of oils, rails and specialties edged forward.

Bonds emulated stocks and commodities moved unevenly.

Among stocks down as much as a point or so were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, Miami, Kennecott, Deere, International Harvester, Johns-Manville, Du Pont, Westinghouse, Shell Union Oil, Montgomery Ward, North American and American Water Works.

Pointing upward were Barnsdall, Seaboard Oil, Continental, Texas Corp., Public Service of N. J., Santa Fe, Union Pacific, American Locomotive, Westinghouse Air Brake, American Car & Foundry, Green Co., Sears Roebuck, Armour & Co., International Telephone, Consolidated Coal and Douglas Aircraft.

BLUE NORTHER

of the state during the last two days was expected to make the cold's onslaught harder to bear. El Paso reported Texas' lowest temperature today with 30 degrees. Amarillo had 32.

Thermometers at Dallas did not go below 50. Other minimums were Abilene, 48; Austin, 54; Corpus Christi, 60; Del Rio, 54; Houston, 60; Palestine, 54; San Antonio, 58, and Corsicana, 51.

Fogs blanketed much of the eastern portion of Texas early today bringing murky but warm conditions.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, 2 higher to 5 lower with easier Liverpool cables partly offset by active trade buying of near months. Jan. 12.35; March 12.32; May 12.19; July 12.07; Oct. 11.66; Dec. 11.71.

Absence of January notices stimulated covering in the spot position. Some active trade buying was attributed to improved demand for textiles and the fact the average spot price was below the proposed release basis of 12.75 for loan cotton. However, the market eased under Wall street selling.

Liverpool sold here on the differences and March reacted from 12.32 to 12.27 with prices generally showing net losses of 3 to 6 points after the first half hour.

Liverpool reported scattered liquidation owing to the disturbing European political situation.

Trading became quieter later in the morning but a somewhat steadier tone developed as trade buying appeared in March and May to absorb a moderate amount of liquidation.

More optimistic predictions from Washington regarding the possibility of an automobile strike settlement attracted attention. Rumors in the trade regarding a possible barter arrangement to dispose of loan cotton abroad interested cotton men here. March recovered from 12.27 to 12.33 by midday when prices were 2 points net higher to 3 lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6 (AP)—The cotton market held barely steady at the opening today with near months net unchanged and later options of a few points.

Foreign markets were easier, dipping a few points on apprehension over the loan program for American cotton, but domestic buying proved sufficient to hold prices up at New Orleans.

March opened at 12.27, May at 12.14, July at 12.04 and Oct. at 11.69. Little change from first prices occurred in the initial dealings.

With the government loan holdings forming a ceiling over the market at around the 12.50 cent a pound level speculative participation has been discouraged for the time being and no sustained advance was expected. On the other hand the extreme tightness persisting for spot cotton kept short selling in check.

Reports from spot centers said that lower grades were moving more freely in the past week or ten days. Shippers are finding increased difficulty in moving cotton abroad because of the scarcity of space on boats.

Uncertainty over the European situation and the ultimate disposal of government loan cotton kept prices in a dull and nafrow range during most of the morning. Many in the trade deserted the ring to listen to President Roosevelt's message to congress on the state of the nation.

Reports from domestic goods markets continued to be favorable with dealings comparatively active and prices holding strong.

Advices from abroad that England was sending more British warships to Spanish waters served to increase the tenseness over world political developments and keep active speculative trading limited.

Activity declined in spot cotton markets, according to reports from raw cotton centers. The possibility was that they will be able to obtain more purchasers out of the market at present. There has been no weakening in the basis reported, however.

KIDNAPING

return of the child had been put in his way.

A visit by two southwest Washington men to kidnap investigation headquarters today revived speculation the abductors of Charles may be hiding the boy near Shelton.

The pair were identified as a Shelton business man and a resident of Hoodsport, near Shelton in a heavily timbered and sparsely populated area southwest of Tacoma.

They visited the federal bureau of investigation's special office here early today and were closeted with agents for more than an hour and a half.

Neither would discuss publicly their reasons for driving 50 miles over icy roads through early morning fog and darkness. Their only words were:

"We can't talk."

Manhunt Started

G. R. Grubbe, watchman at a mill in Shelton at the south end of Puget Sound, touched off a great manhunt in that area Sunday night by reporting one of two "tough looking" men in a coupe ordered him to tell the stolen child's father, Dr. W. W. Mattson of Tacoma, "everything is well."

The hunt for the men and car was called off Monday upon Dr. Mattson's plea nothing be done that might endanger his smiling freckle-faced 10-year-old son.

SAFETY DRIVE

wide action in a sweeping campaign that will reduce to the barest minimum the number of street and highway tragedies."

He said U. S. department of commerce figures showed Texas auto deaths in 11 months of 1936 totaled 1,852, with 35,708 for the entire country.

"Statisticians of the department of public safety revealed that death struck in traffic accidents throughout Texas during the past year on an average of one for each four hours and 48 minutes."

He said he believed the solution lay in a traffic safety committee with members selected for their known interest in safety work.

BIG PROBLEMS ARE LISTED

FDR DELIVERS FIRST MESSAGE TO SOLONS IN MEETING TODAY

cover civil strife in Spain; to extend expiring statutes (such as his monetary powers and the Reconstruction corporation) and to make deficiency appropriations for relief purposes.

Among "far-reaching problems" needing solution, the president included:

A housing "menace" of habitations failing "to provide the physical benefits of modern civilization";

Aid for tenant farmers to become self-supporting;

Improvement and broadening of the social security system;

Unemployment.

To Discuss Unemployment

The president said he would discuss unemployment with congress later, adding:

"The broader task of preventing unemployment is a matter of long range evolutionary policy. To that we must continue to give our best thought and effort.

"We cannot assume that immediate industrial and commercial activity which mitigates present pressure justifies the national government at this time in placing the unemployment problem in a filing cabinet of finished business.

All Tied Together

"Fluctuations in employment are tied to all other wasteful fluctuations in our mechanism of production and distribution."

Mr. Roosevelt termed over production, under production and speculation the "three evil sisters who distill the troubles of unsound inflation and disastrous deflation," adding:

"It is to the interest of the nation to have government help private enterprise to gain sound general price levels and to protect those levels from wide perilous fluctuations."

In a brief discussion of NRA, the president said its difficulties arose "from the fact that we tried to do too much."

"For example," he said, "it was unwise to expect the same agency to regulate the length of working hours, minimum wages, child labor and collective bargaining on the one hand and the complicated questions of unfair trade practices and business control on the other."

Laws Were Needed

Federal laws were needed, he added, to supplement state laws to provide "decent conditions and adequate pay for labor" and a just return for agriculture.

Asserting the World war had set up many oligarchies in place of democracies, he said: "In oligarchies militarism has leapt forward, while in those nations which have retained Democracy, militarism has waned."

The president said the Inter-American peace conference which he opened last month at Buenos Aires improved existing peace machinery and "sent forth a message on behalf of all the Democracies of the world to those nations which live otherwise."

"It was high time for Democracy to assert itself," he added.

The president said the administrative machinery of government needed a "comprehensive overhauling" and notified the congress he would have a special message on reorganization shortly.

"Your task and mine," the president concluded, "is not ending with the end of the depression. The people of the United States have made it clear that they expect us to continue our active efforts in behalf of their peaceful advancement."

WAR CHARGES

Italy and Germany on their intentions to aid Spanish insurgents.

Berlin — Germany ordered the Palos incident closed but it was indicated would continue to patrol Spanish waters.

Bayonne — A three-day truce prevailed between German and Basque war fleets in the Bay of Biscay, pending expiration of nazi ultimatum.

BANK DEPOSITS

as compared with about $25,000,000 a year ago. Bankers said the 1935 total was affected by an abnormal fluctuation due to the $10,000,000 cash the Stanolind Oil and Gas company paid for the Yount-Lee Oil company and that otherwise there had been a general gain in deposits.

NEUTRAL PLAN

ed, congress could do nothing about it.

The state department last night reluctantly gave the second license to Richard L. Dineley of San Francisco for a $4,507,000 shipment of planes, rifles, machine guns and ammunition.

Dineley said his entire contract called for about $9,000,000 worth of goods, including gas masks.

Celebration Broken Up By Bombardment

MADRID, Jan. 6 (AP)—Fascist artillery and air attacks disrupted the capital's celebration of the feast of the magi today as insurgent gunners dropped six-inch shells into the central district and airmen bombed University City.

The shelling started shortly after 1 p. m. and broke up traditional observances of the epiphany.

IMPORTANT AGRICULTURAL MEETING WILL BE HELD IN TEMPLE; PROMINENT LEADERS ARE NAMED ON PROGRAM

Dr. Bradford Knapp John E. Owens Miss Julia O. Newton

TEMPLE, Jan. 6 (Special)—More than 50 men and women of state and national reputation will speak at one of the more important agricultural meetings of the year, the tenth annual meeting of the Texas Agricultural Workers' association here Friday and Saturday.

The address of John E. Owens, vice-president of the Republic National bank of Dallas, will be a feature of the forenoon program of the second day. Owens, one of the more liberal and progressive of Texas bankers, is known for his sympathy for farm people and knowledge of their problems.

Knapp Will Speak

"Men of Agriculture" is the subject of a paper by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, to be presented in the forenoon of the first day. Historically inclined, Doctor Knapp will give facts about great agricultural personages of earlier days.

Of interest to women will be a paper by Miss Julia O. Newton, chief of the Family Credit section of the Farm Credit administration at Washington, on Friday morning. Her subject will be "The Cooperation of the Farm Family in the Financial Program."

County agricultural and home agents, vocational instructors, experiment station workers, college faculty members, resettlement and soil erosion workers, farm people and many others interested in rural life problems will be present.

C. E. Russell, head professor of plant industry at Texas Tech, will speak in a section meeting on "Fruit Growing In Northwest Texas."

Former Blackface Star Now Is Dead

HOUSTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—Death in a small, back street hotel had ended today the comeback efforts of Ollie Debrow.

The 46-year-old comedian, once at the top of the blackface vaudeville field on Broadway, died in poverty of heart disease. Formerly a star on leading vaudeville circuits, he was able to obtain only bit parts with small-time shows in recent years.

Water Consumption For Lubbock Hiked

Water consumption in Lubbock in December, 1936, showed an increase of more than 5,000,000 gallons over the same month of 1935. It showed an increase of approximately 500,000 gallons over the preceding month.

A total of 43,730,000 gallons was used by the city. The maximum for any one day was 1,632,600 gallons consumed December 15, and the minimum was 1,171,200 on Dec. 27. The average daily consumption was 1,410,700 gallons.

Figures for December, 1935, are: total, 38,672,100; maximum, 1,420,800, Dec. 17; minimum, 914,100, Dec. 25; and average 1,247,500. Figures for November, 1935: total, 43,276,000; maximum, 1,979,200, Nov. 2; minimum, 1,239,600, Nov. 29; and average, 1,442,500.

Every figure, including average daily consumption, total minimum day and maximum day for December 1936, showed an increase over the same month for the preceding year.

The month of November, 1936, however, showed larger figures in every department except the total used.

Man Charged Here Will Be Returned

William E. Chandler, under charge here for burglary Oct. 31 of the J. H. Beasley residence, will be returned to Lubbock Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Parum Posey.

Deputy Sheriff Posey left this morning to transfer two negro juveniles to the state reform school at Gatesville. Returning to Lubbock, he will take Chandler in custody at Cisco, said Sheriff Tom Abel.

Complaint against Chandler was filed in Justice of the Peace S. E. McMillan's court Dec. 23 by Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer.

Jim Ferguson Will Conduct A Column

ATHENS, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Athens Review announced today former Gov. James E. Ferguson would conduct a weekly column in the paper under the title "Listen Folks."

R. T. Craig, Review editor, said the column would be syndicated and Ferguson expected it to appear in many Texas weeklies.

LOCAL BROKER BEING HELD

FORGERY OF CHECK ON M. AURA FOR $100 CLAIMED TODAY

After the reported forgery of a $100 check on M. Aura, a Lubbock man identified as a cotton broker was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter.

The check, drawn on a bank here, was passed in December and later was declared by Aura to have been a forgery.

The man under arrest was said by officers to have been charged with swindling by worthless check in county court last August.

Bond Set Today

Bond of $750 was set this morning for Austin Clowers, alias D. W. Ramsey, 23, of Lubbock who had been charged in Justice of the Peace S. E. McMillan's court with forgery. Bond had not been posted at noon.

A $12.50 check on Taylor Crim was basis of the charge, said Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer, who signed a complaint drawn by Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney.

A similar complaint was filed against L. O. Bates, who posted $750 bond also set by Justice of the Peace McMillan.

Clowers and Bates signed statements after questioning by Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

Attempt to pass the check to Montgomery Ward & Co. resulted in arrest of the men.

Judging On Today For Poultry Show

SLATON, Jan. 6 (Special)—Donning his long linen duster, Walter Burton, Arlington, licensed A. P. A. judge, began to judge the 350 birds entered in the seventh annual Panhandle-Plains poultry show this morning. He arrived on the morning train.

Birds were all cooped by 9 a. m. Show superintendents, C. Murphrey of Lubbock and W. T. Driver of Slaton, were busy getting the birds into the pens.

Good crowds have attended so far, said A. J. Payne, secretary-manager. He anticipates more during the afternoon and on Thursday, to watch the judging.

Man's Conviction Reversed By Court

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 (AP) — The court of criminal appeals today set aside the conviction of Special Ranger L. E. Trimble on a charge of murder of W. R. Tomlinson, Menard county commissioner. Last month the court ordered a new trial for H. B. Opp, likewise charged in the slaying of Tomlinson and assessed a 30-year term.

The killing occurred in Menard county November 27, 1934 after a dispute over a pasture lease. A Gillespie county jury imposed a five-year term on Trimble.

Six Men Enlisted For Army Service

Six men, including two brothers, have enlisted in the U. S. army through the Lubbock recruiting station and have been sent to Fort Bliss, at El Paso, to complete their enlistment, said Sergeant Rex Taylor, local recruiting officer.

Enlisting were: Jack T. and Lawrence L. Cagle, Cone, in Crosby county; J. D. Rudder, Lubbock; Richard R. Burnett, Hale Center; Dale Hewitt, Littlefield and Henry P. Fulbright, Ralls.

V. L. Cade Attends Meeting Of Board

V. L. Cade, Union, a member of the state agricultural conservation board, under the new AAA setup, left last night for College Station to attend a meeting of the group.

Before leaving he conferred with County Agent C. C. Jobson on problems pertaining to the work sheets of the new program. Lubbock county has had 1,425 out of the more than 1,960 work sheets signed.

DEPOSITS FOR BANKS HIGH

ALL-TIME RECORDS IN THREE BANKS HERE BEING BROKEN

Almost reaching the nine million dollar mark, deposits, cash resources and total resources of Lubbock's three national banks had set all-time records at the close of business Dec. 31. The total resources of $8,946,844.25 was $2,126,866.09 greater than the last composite statement on June 30 showed.

"Our assets are the most liquid we have had in the history of the bank," said a veteran banker in commenting on his statement. "We have more money on deposit, in this statement, than in any previous statement, although I think that earlier in December we had more money on deposit than we had on the last day of the month."

With the cotton season in this territory coming late, local bank deposits are larger in the fall and early winter, than in other cities down state where cotton crops are harvested in mid and late summer.

Debts Are Reduced

Farmers and others with debts to the banks, have paid off their indebtedness during the cotton season. The total was reduced $234,792.07, to $1,493,155.10, the lowest figures for all three banks in many, many years.

Cash and exchange items, not including warrants, bonds, etc., were $4,470,125.03, or $1,607,488.59 more than six months ago. At the same time all cash resources of the banks, including cash and due from banks, bonds, warrants, bills of exchange, etc., were $7,212,367.86. This figure was $2,349,333.31 more than six months ago.

Total resources of all kinds were, $8,946,844.25, compared to $6,819,978.86 last June 30.

Surpluses were increased from $65,000 to $92,500; undivided profits reduced from $79,920.40 to $32,000. This was due largely to a dividend declared by all three banks late in December.

Deposits increased from $6,303,277.52 to $8,436,249.02, a net gain of $2,132,971.50.

There was little change in several items, banking house values, furniture and fixtures, stock in the federal reserve bank and other items. Capital stock was the same $350,000.

HOLLEY SERVICES ARE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Cecil Holley, 23, of Wellington were set for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Wellington with Guy Wood, Church of Christ minister at Wellington, conducting.

Holley died in a local sanitarium at 2:10 Tuesday afternoon of meningitis following a skull fracture suffered in an automobile accident Christmas day.

He suffered severe lacerations of the face and head and a fractured jaw and skull in an automobile accident about 2 miles north of Abernathy at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Christmas day. He was in a 1935 Ford coupe driven by Albert Gilliland of Abernathy. Holley suffered injuries when the car in which he was riding collided with the bed of a truck. The accident happened when drivers of the coupe and another car tried to pass the truck at the same time.

Holley, whose home is at Wellington, was working for G. G. Gilliland on a ranch near Abernathy.

He was survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Holley; a brother, James; and a sister, Kathleene, all of Wellington.

TOO MANY VISITS

HINTON, W. Va., (AP) — Floyd Ayers made one visit too many to the county jail.

Justice of the Peace I. E. Byers said Ayers came to the jail and asked, under an assumed name, to see a prisoner.

Deputies standing nearby recognized Ayers as a man they had sought for three months to answer a charge of assault.

Second Juliana Is To Marry Thursday

LEYDEN, Holland, Jan. 6 (AP)—"The other Juliana" — the peasant girl who was born the same day and hour as the crown princess and who also will be married Thursday—received guests today in the kitchen of her little home.

The peasant girl, Juliana Van Der Meer, and her fiance, sailor Martin Van Stijn, who hopes for "a lot" of children, were busy moving in furniture and washing the brand new pots and pans for their cottage.

By the coincidence of birth, the peasant Juliana won special government permission to be the only other girl to be wed Thursday when the Crown Princess Juliana is married to Prince Bernhard Zu Lippe-Biesterfeld.

WHEN WE STOP GREASY INDIGESTION WE FEEL JUST FINE

Our stomach can't digest grease. Neither can our bowels. Only our pancreatic juice, working with our bile juice, can digest grease.

When we get bad taste, headache and that nasty grouchy feeling which comes from greasy indigestion, take 1 Carter's Little Liver Pill before each meal and 2 after.

Carter's Little Liver Pills bring a large flow of our pancreatic juice and bile juice into our bowels. The large flow of these juices digests the grease we have eaten. Then we burst into life and into our work like a joyous skyrocket.

But if you want this glorious relief from greasy indigestion, ask your druggist for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and stubbornly refuse to buy anything else. 25c.
